ੴ ਸਤਿਨਾਮੁ ਕਰਤਾ ਪੁਰਖੁ ਨਿਰਭਉ ਨਿਰਵੈਰੁ ਅਕਾਲ ਮੂਰਤਿ ਅਜੂਨੀ ਸੈਭੰ ਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥

(ਅੰਗ 1) Ikk (or Ek) Onkar Sat Naam Kerta Purakh Nirbhou Nirvair(u) Akal Moorat(i) Ajooni Saibhun(g) Gur Persad(i).

Word Meaning: Ikk (Ek) = single. Sat(i) = True (Eternal Waheguru or God). Naam = synonymous with Waheguru; existence; His Huqam (Command); Laws of Nature. Kerta = Creator. Purakh = Living Power. Nirbhou = fearless. Nirvaiyr(u) = bears no enmity. Moorat(i) = His persona. Ajooni = never takes any life form. Saibhun(g) = self-illuminating. Gur Persad(i) = with the grace of the Guru.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being (Ek Onkar), His existence (Naam or His Huqam) is everlasting, He is the Creator, and is the Living Supreme Power, He is without fear, which means He has no superior, or He is above all the laws of nature and is above the effects of Maya. He bears no enmity with anyone, because He has no rivals (equals), and is perfectly just (has no biases or prejudices). Time has no effect on Him personally, so He never changes in any way over time. He never takes any life form and is self-illuminating. He can be realized only by the benevolence of the Guru.

NOTE 1: Even though Naam normally implies the name of something, Naam is also synonymous with Waheguru (God); and Naam or Naoun has also been used in Guru Granth Sahib to mean His Huqam (Command) and Laws of Nature. A couple of examples are given below.

✓ ਆਸਾ ਦੀ ਵਾਰ, ਪਉੜੀ 1 (463)॥ ਆਪੀਨੈ ਆਪੁ ਸਾਜਿਓ ਆਪੀਨੈ ਰਚਿਓ ਨਾਉ॥ ਦੁਈ ਕੁਦਰਤ ਸਾਜੀਐ ਕਰਿ ਆਸਣੁ ਡਿਠੋ ਚਾਉ॥------

Aapinaiy Aap(i) saajiyo, Aapinaiy ruchiyo Naaou. Dooyee kudrat saajiyaiy kur(i) aasun dittho chaaou. -------

MEANING: After self-creating Himself, Waheguru created His Huqam (Laws). He then created nature with His Huqam, and is now enjoying His nature with zest (free from all worries).

☐ ਸੁਖਮਨੀ ਸਾਹਿਬ (284) ਨਾਮ ਕੇ ਧਾਰੇ ਸਗਲੇ ਜੰਤ॥ ਨਾਮ ਕੇ ਧਾਰੇ ਖੰਡ ਬ੍ਰਹਮੰਡ॥ ਨਾਮ ਕੇ ਧਾਰੇ ਸਿਮ੍ਰਿਤਿ ਵੇਦ ਪੁਰਾਨ॥ ------

Sukhmani Sahib (284): Naam kay dhaaray suglay junt. Naam kay dhaaray khund brahmund. Naam kay dharay Simrit(i), Vayd, Puran. --------

MEANING: All living beings are supported (created) by the Huqam (laws) of Waheguru, and so are all the earths and the universe. Even the Simritis, the Vedas and the Puranas were created (written) by the Huqam of Waheguru (His Laws). See also Paurri 2 of Jap(u) Ji.

NOTE 2: Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru, and Guru could be in the form of a human, or simply Waheguru's Word (Huqam).

Sikhs label this small set of Waheguru's basic qualities (traits) 'Mool Mantar', which means the Mantra to realize Waheguru. Mantra is a very old idea, a short composition with the underlying belief that its repeated recitation enables one to please a god. Hindus have many mantras to please different gods.

However, Sikhs do not believe in any such mantras. According to Sikhism, one must cleanse one's mind by incorporating the Guru's Teachings into one's everyday life and remember Waheguru at all times. When one does this, they can overcome the attraction to Maya and connect with Waheguru. For this reason, Guru Granth Sahib as a whole is the Mool Mantar.

The Bani JAP(U) follows the Mool Mantar.

॥ ਜਪੁ ॥

JAP(U). This is the name of the holy Bani that follows.

ਆਦਿ ਸਚੁ ਜੁਗਾਦਿ ਸਚੁ॥ ਹੈ ਭੀ ਸਚੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਹੋਸੀ ਭੀ ਸਚੁ॥

Aad(i) Sach(u) Jugaad(i) Sach(u). Haiy Bhee Sach(u). Nanak hoasi bhee Sach(u).

This is a sloak in reverence of Waheguru, and also to represent the main gist of the holy Bani.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) = from the very beginning; The source of everything. Sach(u) = Eternal Waheguru. Jugaad(i) = before the eons (joogs or yugas).

MEANING: Waheguru, which is the source of all creation, has been there ever since, and was there even before the yugas. (Guru) Nanak says that Waheguru is there even now, and will always be there.

ਸੋਚੈ ਸੋਚਿ ਨ ਹੋਵਈ ਜੇ ਸੋਚੀ ਲਖ ਵਾਰ॥ਚੁਪੈ ਚੁਪ ਨ ਹੋਵਈ ਜੇ ਲਾਇ ਰਹਾ ਲਿਵ ਤਾਰ॥ਭੁਖਿਆ ਭੁਖ ਨ ਉਤਰੀ ਜੇ ਬੰਨਾ ਪੁਰੀਆ ਭਾਰ॥ ਸਹਸ ਸਿਆਣਪਾ ਲਖ ਹੋਇ ਤ ਇਕ ਨ ਚਲੈ ਨਾਲਿ॥ ਕਿਵ ਸਚਿਆਰਾ ਹੋਈਐ ਕਿਵ ਕੂੜੈ ਤੁਟੈ ਪਾਲਿ॥ ਹੁਕਮਿ ਰਜਾਈ ਚਲਣਾ ਨਾਨਕ ਲਿਖਿਆ ਨਾਲਿ॥ 1॥

Soachaiy soach(i) na hovuyi jay soachi lukh waar. Chooppaiy choop na hovuyi jay laayay ruhhan livtaar. Bhookkhiyaan bhookh na ootri jay bunnah pooriyan bhaar. Sehs siyanpaan lukh hoyay, ta ikk na chullaiy naal(i). Kiv sachiara hoyiyay kiv koorraiy tootaiy paal(i). Huqam rajayee chulna Nanak likhiya naal(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Soach(i) = purity; bathing. Livtaar = meditation (full concentration). Pooriyaan = galaxies. Bhaar = weight (of all riches). Sehs = thousands. Siyanpaan = cleverness. Sachiara (pure; fully detached from worldly attractions). Koorr = false; untrue; perishable or not lasting forever; attraction for the mundane. Paal(i) = curtain. Huqam = Waheguru's Will, His Command, laws of nature; Rujayee = His Will. Naal(i) = comes with birth.

MEANING: You cannot cleanse your mind by washing your body, even if you take millions of dips at holy places. You cannot quieten your mind by keeping quiet for any length of time or by simple concentration. One cannot overcome his greed for Maya by staying hungry (and thus from Maya) for some time. The appetite for wealth of those who are greedy for it is never satisfied, even if they are offered limitless amounts of wealth from all the galaxies. None of your millions of smartness accompanies you to Waheguru's court to defend your deeds. In that case, how can one break the curtain of falsehood and realize Truth (overcome the effects of Maya)? (Guru) Nanak says that the only way to do so is to gladly accept the Will of God and obey His Command, which is a prerequisite to realizing Waheguru, and this requirement comes with the birth of the man. 1.

NOTE: Earlier, the truth seekers believed that they could achieve truth by cleansing their minds through pilgrimage, by staying quiet (so as not to engage in needless conversations), by avoiding food and wealth, and by acquiring wisdom through reading their religious books. Guru Nanak Sahib did not believe that any of these efforts enables one to be "one" with Waheguru (God). He preached that the only way to be one with Waheguru is to accept Waheguru's Will gladly (along with acquiring many other qualities).

Huqmi hovun(i) aakaar, Huqam na kuhhiya jaayee. Huqmi hovun(i) jea, Huqam milaiy vudiyayee. Huqami ootum(u) neech(u) Huqam(i) likh(i) dookh sookh paayiyay. Iknaa Huqmi bakhsheesh ikk Huqami suda bhuvaayiyeh(i). Huqmaiy undar(i) subh(u) ko baahur Huqam na koyay. Nanak huqmaiy jay boojhaiy ta houmaiy kuhhaiy na koyay. Word Meaning: Aakaar = bodies. Vudiyayee = honour; recognition. Ootum(u) = superior; respectable. Neech(u) = lowly; ignoble. Huqam(i) = by His Command (Laws). Bakhsheesh = Waheguru's kind favours. Bhuvaayiyeh(i) = is kept unsettled; subject to reincarnation. Haumaiy = selfishness; ego.

MEANING: All bodies are created by Waheguru's Huqam (natural laws), but Huqam cannot be explained (it is beyond our comprehension). (For example, how the universe came into being, or how the first human being appeared on the earth). Living bodies also come into being by Natural Laws, and people get recognition or respect by Waheguru's Will. It is by Natural Laws (Waheguru's Will) that some people are accorded respect or recognition, while others are considered lowly and are looked down upon. We also get comforts and discomforts according to natural laws. It is again due to Natural Laws that some are content and at peace (and get salvation), while others are discontent and cannot settle down, and are perpetually in the birth-death-birth cycle. Everybody is governed by Natural Laws without exception. (Guru) Nanak says that whosoever understands this secret (that everything happens according to the Laws) no longer remains selfish or has any ego. 2.

(PAGE 2): Gaaaiy ko jaapaiy disaiy door(i). Gaavaiy ko vaikhaiy haadra hudoor(i). Kuthna kuthi na aavaiy toat(i). Kuth kuth kuthi koti kot(i) kot(i). Daynda dayh lainday thuck(i) paah(i). Joogaan jooguntar(i) khaahi khaah(i). Huqami Huqam(u) chulaayay raah(u). Nanak vigsaiy vaypervaah(u). 3.

Word Meaning: Taan(u) = force; ability. Daat(i) = gifts; largesse. Neeshan = symbol; identity. Char = beautiful. Vikhum(u) = difficult; complicated. Saaj(i) = having created. Haadra Hudoor(i) = omnipresent. Kuthna = describe. Huqami = who issues commands (Waheguru). Raah(u) = path; routine (of managing the universe). Vigsaiy = blooms; is happy; enjoys. Vaypervaah(u) = care free; dissociated from the world.

MEANING: (To please Waheguru) some people sing His praise (if they have the ability to do so) thinking that He is all-powerful, while some others sing His praise with the belief that all the natural gifts (water, air, light, fire, food, shelter, etc.) are provided by Him. Some sing His praise because of His good innate qualities (like being the provider, kind, merciful, the creator of natural beauty, etc.) while others sing His praise using their thoughts (knowledge) about complicated natural phenomena (for example movement of stars and planets and other heavenly bodies and the changing phases of the moon). Some people sing His praise because He creates bodies and then destroys them, while others sing His praise because He controls death and regeneration. Some people sing His praise because He appears to be far, far away, while others sing because they think that He is omnipresent. There is no end to the number of people who describe Him in countless ways. Waheguru's generosity is limitless, so much so that living beings get tired of receiving His gifts (because there are too many and they do not have the capacity to enjoy them all. For example, too many kinds of food items, too many ways to adorn their bodies. Also, sometimes there is too much rain, too much sunshine, etc. The Creator of the Natural Laws (Waheguru) governs the universe through His Laws, yet He remains carefree (dissociated from the world) and always enjoys His creation.3.

Nanak aivaiyn jaaniyaiy subh(u) aapay Sachiyar(u). 4.

Word Meaning: Saacha = eternal; pure truth; just. Naayay = justice. Bhaakhiya = language. Bhaou = affection. Apaar(u) = infinite. Dataar(u) = the provider (Waheguru). Darbaar(u) = His Court (glimpse). Amrit Vayla = wee hours of morning. Kupprra = clothes; human body; noble qualities and love for Waheguru. Moakh(u) Dooaar(u) = the door of salvation. Sachiyar(u) = the source of all the noble qualities (Waheguru).

MEANING: You are perfectly just, and so is Your justice, oh limitless, and the eternal Waheguru! Affection is Your language (you listen to, and communicate with anyone who recites Your Naam with affection). All living beings ask You for their needs, and You kindly fulfil their needs. (So, everything is Yours, and nothing is there we can lay claim on). Given this reality, what should one offer You to have Your kind glance? (No material substance is fit for Your offering because they are all Your creation). What should one say to You so as to win Your affection? The only befitting action that one can perform is to ponder on Your magnanimity and Your eternal Naam in the early hours of morning (Amrit vayla). (Guru) Nanak says that one must recognize that Waheguru (Sachiyar) is present in every heart and everything is controlled by Him. Noble qualities and love for Waheguru (kupprra) are given to us based on our previous deeds, but we achieve salvation only by His benevolence. 4.

NOTE 1: Even though early morning hours are very effective to recite and concentrate on Waheguru's Naam, you can worship Him at any time of the day.

2. "Kupprra" normally means fabric or clothes; in some situations, it also means the human body. But in the holy Pauri above, its more appropriate meaning is the noble qualities or the love for Waheguru. This meaning is supported by the last Paurri, 27, of Majh Dee Vaar on page 150 of SGGS, which is composed by Guru Nanak Sahib, and is given below, and also by a Shabad in Perbhaati Raag(u). Focus on the underline sentence in Gurmukhi, or the bold holy line in the Roman version in each Shabad.

Guru Nanak Sahib is already in the human form, so "Kupprra" cannot imply human form in this situation. In this case, the appropriate meaning of the word will be the noble qualities and love for Waheguru. So, in Paurri 4 above, the appropriate meaning of "Kupprra" should be noble qualities (and love for Waheguru), and not the human body.

Guru Sahib espouses the same idea of Kupprra in another Shabad as well.

Jay Houn jaana aakhaan naahi kehna kuthan na jaayee. Gura ikk dayh boojhayee. Subhna jeeyaan ka ikk(i) Daata so mein vissar(i) na jaayee. 5.

Word Meaning: Thaapiya = installed; framed. Nirunjun(u) = the one who is beyond the effects of Maya – Waheguru. Sayviya = served (worshipped). Gooni Nidhaan(u) = the treasure of virtues. Perhur(i) = by dispelling; getting rid of. Ghur(i) = in the mind. Gurmukh(i) = by surrendering to the Guru; by becoming a staunch devotee. Naadun(g) = is the shabad of the yogis. Vedun(g) = is the Vedas. Boojhaayee = wisdom; enlightenment. Vissar(i) = forget.

MEANING: Unlike the Hindu gods whose idols are installed in the temples, and as per the Hindu belief, they are brought to life by special rituals, Waheguru (Niranjun) cannot be installed in any form as He is self-illuminating. You can only serve Him (recite His Naam and be a good human being as per the Teachings of the Guru). Whoever serves Him gets honoured in His Court. (Guru) Nanak says that we should sing and listen to the praise of Waheguru, who is the treasure of all the noble qualities (virtues), and we must harbour respect and affection for Him. When we do that, our discomforts are dispelled, and comforts take root in our hearts. A staunch devotee comes to realize that Waheguru is omnipresent, and for him Waheguru's Naam is the shabad (music) of the yogis (trumpet that the yogis blow into), and is also the Vedas. (In other words, a devotee of Waheguru or a true Sikh does not need to follow the practices of the yogis, and he does not need to follow the Hindu Vedas. Waheguru's Naam is the only important thing for a Gur Sikh, and he does not need to believe in Shiva, Gorakh (the founder of the Yoga faith), Brahma or goddess Parbati. (Guru) Nanak maintains that even if I (Guru Nanak) knew all the secrets of Waheguru, I would still be unable to describe Him. I only pray to Waheguru - the provider for all - that He enlightens me so that I never forget Him. 5.

NOTE: Unjun(u) (kohl or darkness) is a common name for Maya in Guru Granth Sahib. So, Nirunjun means Waheguru, who is above the effects of Maya.

ਤੀਰਥਿ ਨਾਵਾ ਜੇ ਤਿਸੁ ਭਾਵਾ॥ ਵਿਣੁ ਭਾਣੇ ਕਿ ਨਾਇ ਕਰੀ॥ ਜੇਤੀ ਸਿਰਠਿ ਉਪਾਈ ਵੇਖਾ ਵਿਣੁ ਕਰਮਾ ਕਿ ਮਿਲੈ ਲਈ॥ ਮਤਿ ਵਿਚਿ ਰਤਨ ਜਵਾਹਰ ਮਾਣਿਕ ਜੇ ਇਕ ਗੁਰ ਕੀ ਸਿਖ ਸੁਣੀ॥ਗੁਰਾ ਇਕ ਦੇਹਿ ਬੁਝਾਈ॥ ਸਭਨਾ ਜੀਆ ਕਾ ਇਕੁ ਦਾਤਾ ਸੋ ਮੈ ਵਿਸਰਿ ਨਾ ਜਾਈ॥6॥

Word Meaning: Teeruth = Hindu holy places (pilgrimage). Tis(u) = Him

(Waheguru). Bhaavaan = liked by. Vin(u) = without. Sirtth(i) = world; universe. Kerma = mercy; noble deeds. Ruttan, Jawahar, Maanik = rubies, jewels, pearls = noble qualities; virtues. Sikh = advice.

MEANING: (Hindus undertake pilgrimage to take a dip in holy waters with the belief that such a dip washes away their sins). (Disapproving of such beliefs) Guru Nanak Sahib says that I will undertake a pilgrimage only if it pleases Waheguru; otherwise, it is useless. Without Waheguru's mercy, I do not see anyone in the whole universe who has spiritually benefited from meaningless rituals. However, if you listen to the Teachings of the True Guru (and act on them), your thinking will be as precious (pure and noble) as the highly valuable stones, pearls, and diamonds. I only pray to the Guru, to please enlighten me so that I may never forget Him. 6.

Tayha koyee na soojhyee j(i) tis(u) goon(u) koyay kuray. 7.

Word Meaning: Aarja = age. Nuvaan Khundaan = the nine regions of the earth. Tis(u) = Him (Waheguru). Keet = worm. Goonvuntiyaan = people with noble qualities. Soojhuyee = cannot think of.

MEANING: If I am known all over the world, and everybody considers it a privilege to accompany me because I am able to have an unusual life-span equal to the length of all the four yugs (millions of years) and even ten times that, and even if I earned fame because of my good deeds and everybody praises me, it is all useless if I am ignored by Waheguru because nobody will pay attention to me in His Court. Actually, I will be considered a culprit (a felon) and be labelled as such. I will be treated just like a worm among worms. (Guru) Nanak says that only Waheguru is capable of imparting good qualities to people with no qualities at all, and of enhancing the qualities of those who already have some good qualities. No one can impart good qualities to Waheguru (because He has no superiors or even equals). 7.

NOTE: Some yogis have been known to extend their lifespans to a few centuries through yogic practices. Guru Sahib is referring to such yogis.

ਸੁਣਿਐ ਸਿਧ ਪੀਰ ਸੁਰਿ ਨਾਥ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਧਰਤਿ ਧਵਲ ਆਕਾਸ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਦੀਪ ਲੋਅ ਪਾਤਾਲ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਪੋਹਿ ਨ ਸਕੈ ਕਾਲੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਭਗਤਾ ਸਦਾ ਵਿਗਾਸੁ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਦੂਖ ਪਾਪ ਕਾ ਨਾਸ॥8॥

Word Meaning: Soor = gods. Naath = an accomplished yogi; master; king. Soor(i)

Naath = the king of gods, Indra. Dhuval = a mythical ox that supports the earth. Deep = island (earth). Loe = world (sky). Pataal = worlds beneath the earth; abysm. Poh(i) = affect. Kaal(u) = death. Vigaas(u) = blooming of mind; blissful.

MEANING: By listening to (comprehending and believing in firmly) Waheguru's Naam, one can acquire the same level of spirituality as a Sidh yogi (who is able to acquire some supernatural powers through meditation), as a Peer (Muslim holy man) or Indra, the king of gods (mythical Hindu gods). By listening to Waheguru's Naam, one can come to know the secrets of the universe, such as the power that supports the earth and the sky. (Before Guru Nanak Sahib, most people believed that the earth is supported by a dhuval – an ox). By listening to Waheguru's Naam, one can dispel the fear of death. (Guru) Nanak says that when we listen to Waheguru' Naam, all sins and discomforts are destroyed (because they are all mostly mental constructs), and Waheguru's devotees are always blissful, so they do not feel any discomfort. 8.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib strongly disapproved of the use of supernatural powers.

Sooniyain Isher(u) Brahma Ind(u). Sooniyain mookh(i) slahanmund(u). Sooniyain jog joogat(i) tun(i) bhayd. Sooniyain Shaast Simrit(i) Vayd. Nanak bhugtaan suda vigaas(u). Sooniyain dookh paap ka naas(u). 9.

Word Meaning: Isher = Shiva. Ind(u) = Indra. Slahanmund(u) = appreciative; praising. Joogat(i) = technique. Tun(i) = of the body. Shaast, Simrit(i) Vayd = these are all Hindu religious books. Bhagtaan = of the devotees.

MEANING: By listening (comprehending and believing in firmly) Waheguru's Naam, one can acquire the same spiritual level as the mythical Hindu gods - Shiva, Brahma, and Indra. The listener of Waheguru's Naam is inspired to sing Waheguru's praise. (Yogis use many different and painful techniques to purify their bodies so as to connect with God), But a person who listens to Waheguru's Naam understands all these secrets without actually exercising them (meaning that a devotee does not need any of the painful techniques to connect with God). By listening to Waheguru's Naam, a devotee is able to master the principles of the Hindu holy books like the Simritis, Shastras and the Vedas (again, which means that a person who listens to Waheguru's Naam does not need to study such books and follow them). (Guru) Nanak says that all sins and discomforts are destroyed when we listen to Waheguru's Naam, and Waheguru's devotees are always blissful, so they do not feel any discomfort. 9.

Truth; high moral character. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Giyaan(u) = Divine Knowledge. Utth-sutth(i) = 60+8 = 68 (there are 68 Hindu holy places in India). Sehj(i) = stage when mind quits wandering; is peaceful; blissful.

MEANING: By listening to (comprehending and believing in firmly) Waheguru's Naam, a man acquires the noble qualities and high moral character, contentment, and Divine Knowledge. Also, one does not need to undertake the pilgrimage of the sixty-eight Hindu holy places and take dips there (with the belief to cleanse the mind), because if one listens to Waheguru's Naam, not only his mind becomes pious, but his body also becomes pious (he begins to do noble deeds with his body). By listening to Waheguru's Naam, one earns the respect of a highly knowledgeable person; and by listening to Waheguru's Naam, one easily gets focused on Him with one's mind completely at peace. Guru Nanak says that all sins and discomforts are dispelled when we listen to Waheguru's Naam, and Waheguru's devotees are always blissful, so they do not feel any discomfort. 10.

ਸੁਣਿਐ ਸਰਾ ਗੁਣਾ ਕੇ ਗਾਹ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਸੇਖ ਪੀਰ ਪਾਤਿਸਾਹ॥ ਸਣਿਐ ਅੰਧੇ ਪਾਵਹਿ ਰਾਹੁ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਹਾਥ ਹੋਵੈ ਅਸਗਾਹੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਭਗਤਾ ਸਦਾ ਵਿਗਾਸੁ॥ ਸੁਣਿਐ ਦੂਖ ਪਾਪ ਕਾ ਨਾਸੁ॥11॥

Sooniyain suraan goona kay gaah. Sooniyain sheikh Peer patshah. Sooniyain undhay paavh(i) raah(u). Sooniyain haath hovaiy usgaah(u). Nanak bhagtaan suda vigaas(u). Sooniyain dookh paap ka naas(u). 11.

Word Meaning: Suraan = oceans. Goona = noble qualities. Gaah= to search carefully; acquire. Sheikh = a highly learned Muslim. Peer = a Muslim holy man. Raah(u) = path (to righteousness). Haath = to reach the end or the limit; fathom. Usgaah(u) = ocean (in Gurbani, usgaah has also been used as a metaphor for the world). Vigaas(u) = blooming of the heart; blissful MEANING: Listening to (comprehending and believing in) Waheguru's Naam enables a person to dive deep into the ocean of noble qualities, and acquire them, thereby enabling the devotee to get connected with the King of the sheikhs and the peers (Allah, Waheguru). By listening to Waheguru's Naam, even a blind person (of wisdom) can find the path of righteousness (to unite with Waheguru). By listening to Waheguru's Naam, one can fathom the world-ocean of life, i.e., what causes comforts and discomforts, and how to be unaffected by them. (Guru) Nanak says that all sins and discomforts are dispelled by listening to Waheguru's Naam, and Waheguru's devotees are always blissful so they do not feel any discomfort. 11.

ਮੰਨੇ ਕੀ ਗਤਿ ਕਹੀ ਨ ਜਾਇ॥ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਕਹੈ ਪਿਛੈ ਪਛੁਤਾਇ॥ ਕਾਗਦਿ ਕਲਮ ਨ ਲਿਖਣਹਾਰੁ॥ ਮੰਨੇ ਕਾ ਬਹਿ ਕਰਨਿ ਵੀਚਾਰੁ॥ ਐਸਾ ਨਾਮੁ ਨਿਰੰਜਨੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਮੰਨਿ ਜਾਣੈ ਮਨਿ ਕੋਇ॥12॥

Munnay ki gut(i) kuhhi na jaayay. Jay ko kuhhaiy pichhaiy puchhtaayay. Kaagud(i) kulm na likhunhaar(u). Munnay ka beh(i) kern(i) veechaar(u). Aiysa Naam(u) Nirunjun(u) hoyay. Jay ko munn(i) jaanaiy mun(i) koyay. 12.

Word Meaning: Munnay = one who has firm belief (and obeys Waheguru's Will); a true devotee. Gut(i) = spiritual level. Pichhaiy = afterwards. Kaagud(i) = paper. Likhunhaar(u) = writer. Munn(i) Jaanaiy = accepts to obey (a true devotee). Mun(i) = in mind.

MEANING: The high level of spirituality of a true devotee (who internalizes Waheguru's Naam, and obeys Waheguru's Commandments of high moral values) cannot be described. If someone tries to do so, he later realizes his blunder, and feels guilty (because he would not able to do so). There is no such paper, no such pen, and no such writer who can describe the actual high spiritual level of a true devotee. People can only jointly ponder on such a high level of spirituality. Such is Waheguru's (Nirunjun's) Naam if someone believes firmly in it, and obeys it. 12.
NOTE: Anjun (or Unjun) means kohl or darkness and is used for Maya in Guru Granth Sahib. Nirunjun means which is not dark or which is unaffected by Maya – Waheguru.

ਮੰਨੈ ਸੁਰਤਿ ਹੋਵੈ ਮਨਿ ਬੁਧਿ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਸਗਲ ਭਵਣ ਕੀ ਸੁਧਿ॥ਮੰਨੈ ਮੁਹਿ ਚੋਟਾ ਨਾ ਖਾਇ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਜਮ ਕੈ ਸਾਥਿ ਨ ਜਾਇ॥ਐਸਾ ਨਾਮੁ ਨਿਰੰਜਨੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਮੰਨਿ ਜਾਣੈ ਮਨਿ ਕੋਇ॥ 13॥

Munnaiy soorut(i) hovaiy mun(i) boodh(i). Munnaiy sugal bhavun ki soodh(i). Munnaiy moonh(i) choataan na khaayay. Munnaiy jum kaiy saath(i) na jaayay. Aiysa Naam Niranjun hoyay. Jay ko munn(i) jaanaiy mun(i) koyay. 13.
Word Meaning: Soorut(i) = deep understanding; enlightenment. Boodh(i) = wisdom; Divine Knowledge. Sugul Bhavun = the whole universe. Choataan = sufferings. Jum = angel of death.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such that if someone internalizes it and obeys it, his mind and wisdom (thinking) are enlightened, and he acquires Divine Knowledge. Such a devotee understands the functioning of the universe (that everything is controlled by Waheguru and His Laws). Such a devotee does not have to face the Angel of death (Jum) and suffers no shame on his face (is not punished for his deeds because he does no bad deeds, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court). 13.
NOTE: Guru Sahib repeats the idea of Soorut(i), Mun(i) and Boodh(i) again in Paurri 36 of Jap(u) Ji.

ਮੰਨੈ ਮਾਰਗਿ ਠਾਕ ਨ ਪਾਇ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਪਤਿ ਸਿਉ ਪਰਗਟੁ ਜਾਇ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਮਗੁ ਨ ਚਲੈ ਪੰਥੁ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਧਰਮ ਸੇਤੀ ਸਨਬੰਧੁ॥ ਐਸਾ ਨਾਮੁ ਨਿਰੰਜਨੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਮੰਨਿ ਜਾਣੈ ਮਨਿ ਕੋਇ॥14॥

Munnaiy maarug(i) tthaak na paayay. Munnaiy putt(i) siyoun pergut(u) jaayay. Munnaiy mug(u) na chullaiy punth(u). Munnaiy dherm saytee sunbundh(u). Aiysa Naam Niranjun hoyay. Jay ko munn(i) jaanaiy mun(i) koyay. 14.
Word Meaning: Maarug(i) = path (to be one with Waheguru). Tthaak = obstruction; obstacle. Putt(i) = dignity. Pergut(u) = appear with dazzle. Mug(u) = religious path. Dherm = righteousness. Saytee = with. Sunbundh = relation; connection.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such that a devotee who obeys it firmly suffers no obstacles in his path of righteousness (to realize Waheguru). Such a devotee shines in Waheguru's Court (is honoured). He does not need to follow any sectarian religious path. Such a devotee gets strongly bonded (sticks) to righteousness and is honoured in Waheguru's Court, where he is given special recognition. 14.

ਮੰਨੈ ਪਾਵਹਿ ਮੋਖੁ ਦੁਆਰੁ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਪਰਵਾਰੈ ਸਾਧਾਰੁ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਤਰੈ ਤਾਰੇ ਗੁਰੁ ਸਿਖ॥ ਮੰਨੈ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਾਨਕ ਭਵਹਿ ਨ ਭਿਖ॥ ਐਸਾ ਨਾਮੁ ਨਿਰੰਜਨੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਮੰਨਿ ਜਾਣੈ ਮਨਿ ਕੋਇ॥ 15॥

Munnaiy paaveh(i) moakh(u) Dooaar(u). Munnaiy pervaaraiy sadhaar(u). Munnaiy turaiy, taaray Gur(u) Sikh. Munnaiy Nanak bhuveh(i) na bhikh. Aiysa Naam Nirunjun hoyay. Jay ko munn(i) jaanaiy mun(i) koyay. 15.

Word Meaning: Moakh(u) = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Dooaar = (Waheguru's door i.e. Court). Sadhaar (u) = improves; enables (to achieve a high spiritual level). Turraiy = swims across the ocean of Maya. Bhuveh(i) = wanders from door to door of different religious guides. Bhikh = alms; spiritual guidance.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such that whoever internalizes it and obeys it strictly, achieves complete freedom from the bonds of Maya, thereby breaking his birth-death-birth cycle. Not only does he find salvation for himself, but he also leads his family members (associates, companions) to worship Waheguru and follow the path of righteousness to be emancipated. He becomes like the true guru himself, who remains connected to Waheguru and leads others to salvation. Such a devotee does not need to seek spiritual guidance from any religious sect. 15.

Vaariya na jaavaan aik vaar. Jo Toodh(u) bhaavaiy saayee bhulee kaar. Tu suda slaamut(i) Nirunkaar. 16.

Word Meaning: Punch = an individual who has acquired a high spiritual level by "listening" to and obeying Waheguru's Naam. Pervaan = accepted; recognized. Perdhan(u) = spiritual leader. Sohay = held in esteem. Dhaul(u) = the mythical ox of Hindu books which supports the earth. Dherm(u) = justice; duty; responsibility. Duyya = mercy. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Soot(i) = laws; Kay = many. Voorrie Klaam = the continuously running pen. Laykha = account. Kayta= how much?

i.e.infinite. Sooalihou Roop = admirable beauty. Daat(i) = gifts, largesse. Pusaao = expanse. Kuvaao = Word; Shabad; Huqam. Duriyaao = rivers (of worlds and life).

Nirunkaar = fromless. Koodrut = nature; ability. Slaamat = safe; dependable.

NOTE: 1. Meanings will start with the last lines. For coherence of real meaning, it may be more helpful not to follow the sequence strictly.

Meaning: (Guru Nanak says) that what ability or power do I have to comprehend Your secrets, and describe them, oh Waheguru! You are so Great, and so benevolent that one life for me is not enough to sacrifice (to appreciate) Your favours. I need countless lives to do so. Whatever You do to Your liking, is for our good. You are always safe (slaamat) (ready to help us), oh formless Waheguru!

The only thing that I (Guru Nanak) can say for sure is that Your devotees who believe firmly in You (Punches) get Your acceptance, and are honoured by You, oh Waheguru! They also become spiritual leaders to guide others in seeking Your approval. Such Punches are honoured in Your Court, and they are also accorded respect in the courts of worldly rulers. The Punches have only the "One" (Waheguru) in their mind (and have faith only in their Satguru) who is enshrined in their memory.

If someone, other than the Punches, thinks about Nature, and then states a few things about You, he will readily admit that there is no limit to Your Creation and the way You manage it, oh Waheguru! {For example, talking about how the earth is supported in the universe, people have believed all the time that there is an ox (dhuval or dhaul) that carries the earth on its horns, but how can that be possible!} The ox himself needs something to stand on; so there should be another earth underneath him which needs another ox for support, and the chain continues {dherti hoar(u) purraiy hoar(u) hoar(u)}. How will the last ox bear that entire burden? (So, the idea of the ox supporting the earth is absurd). If someone thinks, and understand this secret, he will realize the truth (hovaiy sachiaar) that the support for earth (ox or dhuval) is, in fact, provided by the innate responsibility (Laws) of Waheguru which is born out of His mercy for the universe, and which provides contentment for all living beings (they are never worried about the stability of the earth).

On the other front, there are countless living beings of many different kinds and colours, whose accounts (births, deaths, deeds, etc.) are kept continuously by Waheguru's running pen (voorrie klaam). Think about that, who else can keep such limitless records (laykha)? No one has such an ability. Also, who can value Waheguru's power, the beauty of His Creation, and His endowments? He created the universe with a single Command which resulted in millions of rivers (of life and worlds).

What power do I have to describe Your grandeur? He is so kind that my one life is not enough to sacrifice for Him (to thank Him for His largesse). Whatever You do is for our good, and You are always safe (we can count on Your help), oh Waheguru. 16.

Word Meaning: Asunkh = countless. Jup = recitation of some holy mantras (paatth). Bhaou = affection, reverence. Tup Taau = endure physical suffering to please god (or Waheguru). Sutee = of high moral character. Daataar = donors. Soor = brave; gallant. Bhukh = eat; endure. Saar = iron or steel (weapons). Moan(i) = stay quiet. Nirunkar = without any physical form (Waheguru).

MEANING: (Talking about good people) there are countless of those who recite some mantras to please You or some gods, oh Waheguru! And countless show affection and reverence for You. Countless people worship You or some other power, while countless people meditate and endure physical suffering to please some power. Countless people memorize the Vedas or some other holy books and recite them with their tongues. There are countless yogis who renounce Maya in their thoughts. There are countless devotees who use their knowledge to ponder on Your noble qualities. There are countless people with high moral values, and countless people who donate to charities. Countless valiant receive injuries on the battlefield, and countless people use deep concentration and go speechless for long periods to please You or some other power. (Guru Nanak says) What power do I have to think or say anything about You, oh Waheguru? One life is not enough for me to sacrifice for (or to describe) Your kindness and noble qualities, oh Waheguru! I need several lives to do so. Whatever You do to Your liking, is good for us. You are always there to help us, oh formless Waheguru! 17.

Tu suda slaamat(i) Nirunkar. 18.

Word Meaning: Undhghor = in complete darkness (completely devoid of knowledge and wisdom). Hraamkhor = parasites (dishonest) who live on others' earnings. Gulvaddh = killers; blood-suckers. Koorriaar = who rely on lies. Mulaychh = people with low mentality. Mul = unclean (earned by dishonest means). Ninduk = malicious critics; vilifiers.

Meaning: On the other hand, there are countless fools who are in complete darkness, i.e., they are completely devoid of any common sense. There are countless thieves who steal and rob others. There are countless people who forcibly exercise control over others. Countless killers kill others, and countless sinners commit sins. Countless liars live their lives based on lies, and there are countless low characters and greedy people who eat unclean (earned by dishonest means) food, as they will never get the next meal. Countless malicious people criticize others, thereby carrying more debt of sins on their heads. (Guru Nanak says) I am also one among them, but I do know that your benevolence is immeasurable, and I cannot pay that debt just in one life. I need countless lives to sacrifice for You (to thank You). Whatever You do to Your liking is good for us, and You are always there to help us, oh formless Waheguru! 18.

Koodrut(i) kuvun kuhaan veechar(u). Vaariya na jaavaan aik vaar. Jo Toodh bhaavaiy saayee bhuli kaar. Tu suda slaamat(i) Nirunkar. 19.

Word Meaning: Agumm = unreachable. Loe = worlds. Akhreen = using words. Salaah = praise. Baan(i) = language; speech. Sunjog(u) = union; connection. Vakhaan(i) = explained. Sir(i) Naah(i) = not his doing; cannot take credit. Foormaayay = dictates; orders; enlightens. Paah(i) = receives. Jayta = however much. Tayta = as much. Naaoun = Laws; existence.

MEANING: Your creation is so vast that there are countless worlds beyond our reach, oh Waheguru! Assigning even the largest number to Your creation is a sin. Because of the countless worlds, there are countless places where you are remembered or worshipped, and people do so using countless names for You. (No one can put any number on Your creation) However, they can use words to name You, and they sing Your praise with words. They acquire Your knowledge (Giyan) through words and ponder on Your kindness and favours, or count Your blessings also in words. It is only through words that people express their ideas, whether in writing or speech. Also, it is through words that union with You can be described or achieved, oh Waheguru! The writer (Guru Nanak) does not claim any credit for this writing because He does (writes) only what He is enlightened about by Waheguru to do. Your Command (laws) prevails all over Your creation; there is no place without Your Command (or existence). What ability or power do I have to think and describe Your magnanimity, oh Waheguru! One life is not enough for me to sacrifice myself for You (for Your favours). I need countless lives to do so. Whatever You do to Your liking is good for us. You are always there to help us, oh formless Waheguru! 19.

Word Meaning: Bhurriyay = get loaded (polluted). Dayh = body. Khayh = dirt. Moot

Pleeti = unclean because of urine. Mut(i) = thinking; mind. Sung(i) = with. Rung(i) = with affection. Poonni = philanthropist; man with good deeds; Aakhun(u) Naah(i) = not just in words; constructs. Beej(i) = sow. Aavhou = born. Jaahou= Die Meaning: Just as dirt from our hands, feet or body can be washed away with water, and just as dirt from clothes can be washed away with soap, a mind which has become filthy with sins (evil thoughts) can be cleansed with Waheguru's Naam. Noble deeds and sins are not just a construct; they are real. Your deeds accompany you in Waheguru's Court. You reap whatever you sow. (Guru) Nanak says that you take birth or you die, by Waheguru's Will (and future life form, whether you will reincarnate as a human or as some animal), and comforts or discomforts of your next reincarnation, are governed by Waheguru's Laws, oh man. 20.

Word Meaning: Tup(u) = suffer hardships to please some deity. Dut(u) = given. Daan(u) = donations (especially to Brahmans). Til = the size of a sesame seed (negligible). Maan(u) = recognition, respect. Bhaaou = affection (to obey). Untergut(i) = internal. Soust(i) = having eternal existence; glory to thee (see Sloak M:1 page 467). Aath(i) = Maya. Baani = language; creation; heavenly bodies.

Burmaou = Mythical Hindu god Brahma who is supposed to be the creator of all life.
Soohaan(u) = majestic; comforting. Mun(i) Chaao = always cheerful or gleeful. Qadi = Qazi (a Muslim religious leader). Vukhat(u) = time. Sirtthi kuaou Saajay = creates the universe. Vudda = supreme. Naayee = justice Meaning: (Hinduism believes that salvation can be achieved by pilgrimage, self-torture to please gods, special kindness towards some select animals, like cows, monkeys, rats, etc., and by donations to Brahmans), but Guru Nanak maintains that such acts or deeds find little recognition in Waheguru's Court. He professes that the real holy place is the human mind, where Waheguru resides invisibly. So, the real place to take a dip (to cleanse your mind) is the human mind, which you should use to listen to (comprehend and believe firmly) to internalize and believe in Waheguru's Naam and recite it with reverence. (To receive Waheguru's approval for salvation, you need to acquire noble qualities) which no one can acquire by one's own efforts because only Waheguru possesses noble qualities, and the man can acquire them only by worshipping Him.
(Hindus believe that god Brahma creates living beings, and the whole world is made up of life, Maya, and the heavenly bodies; but the fact is that it is all Your Creation (You have created the whole world, Brahma, and Maya), oh eternal Waheguru! You are everlasting, beautiful (majestic) and always cheerful. Hail thee, oh Waheguru! Nobody knows exactly the time, date, day of the week, month, or season when the universe was created. Had the pundits known that the Puranas would have mentioned it, and had the Qazies known this, the Koran would have mentioned it (but there is no such mention in either the Puranas or the Koran). Even the founder of the Yoga sect, or anybody else, does not know the date and time of the creation of the universe. Only the Creator Himself knows that. How can I know and say anything about, or describe the time of the creation? (I have no ability to do so). I do not even know how to praise Waheguru on this subject. But everybody wants to say something just for the sake of saying, and to prove that they are more intelligent than the others. (Guru) Nanak says Supreme is the Master-Waheguru (beyond our comprehension), and so is His justice (Naayee). Everything is controlled by Him. If someone else shows himself off to claim that he knows the secrets of Waheguru, he finds no respect in Waheguru's Court. 21.

Word Meaning: Pataal = worlds beneath the earth; abysm. Orruk = limits; end. Bhaal(i) = search. Sehs Atthaarah = eighteen thousand (the Western religious Books believe that God has created the universe in eighteen thousand different forms). Usloo Ikk(u) Dhaat(u)

= there is only one reality (that there is no limit to the creation of Waheguru. Vinaas(u) = destroyed.

MEANING: (Waheguru's creation is so expansive) that there are countless underworlds and countless skies. Even the Vedas admit that countless people have exhausted themselves in finding the limits of Waheguru's creation but have failed. The Western religious books (Bible, Torah, Koran, etc.) claim that God created the universe in 18000 different forms (including both living and nonliving), but even this number is not accurate. The fact is that no number can describe the limits of creation because the account is destroyed (humans run out of numbers), and no one can keep track of it. (Guru) Nanak says that only Waheguru is Supreme, and only He knows how large His creation is.

ਸਾਲਾਹੀ ਸਾਲਾਹਿ ਏਤੀ ਸੁਰਤਿ ਨ ਪਾਈਆ॥ ਨਦੀਆ ਅਤੇ ਵਾਹ ਪਵਹਿ ਸਮੁੰਦ ਨ ਜਾਣੀਅਹਿ॥ ਸਮੁੰਦ ਸਾਹ ਸੁਲਤਾਨ ਗਿਰਹਾ ਸੇਤੀ ਮਾਲੁ ਧਨੁ॥ ਕੀੜੀ ਤੁਲਿ ਨ ਹੋਵਨੀ ਜੇ ਤਿਸੁ ਮਨਹੁ ਨ ਵਿਸਰਹਿ॥ 23॥

Word Meaning: Saalaheen = admirers. Salaah(i) = admired, praised. Soort(i) = wisdom; knowledge; information. Vaah = creeks. Girha = residence; treasure.
Keerri = an ant (a very poor and humble person). Tool(i) = equal.

MEANING: (Talking about the limits of Waheguru), many admirers praise Waheguru, but just like rivers and creeks, which flow into the ocean, but can never find its limits, they (the admirers) are never able to determine the limits of Waheguru (or His creation). (The only thing for humans to do is to worship Waheguru with full dedication rather than trying to find His limits). (As far as recognition in Waheguru's Court is concerned), a mighty ruler who rules over the oceans and has mountains of wealth, does not come even close to an ant (a very humble and poor person) if he harbours Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and never forgets Him. 23.

Word Meaning: Sifteen = of praises. Mun(i) Munt(u) = thoughts in the mind. Akaar = creation. Paaravaar = outer limits (beginning and the end). Kaytay = many.

Billaah(i) = struggle to the extent of crying. Oocha = high; transcendent.
Nudree = kind sight. Kermi = kindness; benevolence.
MEANING: There is no limit to the praises (of noble qualities) of Waheguru, and they cannot be described in words. There is no limit to His products, and no limits to His largesse. You can find no such limits even by seeing (if you could see that far) or by listening (if someone was able to tell). The size of His creation (universe) is limitless, and one cannot find its beginning or its end. Nobody knows what is going on in Waheguru's mind (His plans). Millions have struggled to the extent of crying to find His limits, but have failed to succeed. Nobody can find the limits of Waheguru's creation. The bigger they are described (or thought to be), the bigger they still get. The Lord is supreme and higher, and above our approach is His residence. Higher still is His Huqam or Laws (Naoun). Only that person can know the secrets of the unknowable (transcendent) Lord, who is as transcendent as He is. (Guru) Nanak says that only Waheguru knows how big He is, or how big His creation is. His largesse is showered only by His kind sight. 24.

Word Meaning: Bahouta Kerm = much of the largesse. Til(u) = the size of the sesame seed. Tamaayay = desire; greed. Jodh = gallant. Apaar = without limit. Khup(i) Tootay = struggle to exhaustion. Vekaar = without any success. Mookker(u) = refuse to admit. Daat = gift. Khalaasi = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Khaayik = idiot. Jaytiyaan = however many. Bukhshay = endows. Sift(i) Salaah = praise.
Meaning: Much of the largesse of Waheguru cannot be expressed even in writing because He endows so much without the knowledge of the man, and without the littlest (the size of a sesame seed) expectation of any gratitude. Countless valiant souls with vast resources ask for more and more from Waheguru, and their numbers cannot be counted or even imagined. On the other hand, countless struggle to the point of exhaustion to acquire wealth (and other comforts) without success. Also, countless ungrateful people do not even acknowledge the invaluable gifts of Waheguru, even though they receive and enjoy plenty of them. Countless foolish people live only to eat, and all they do is eat. At the same time, there are countless who always suffer from discomfort and hunger, which may turn out to be a boon for them (because they remember You in their difficult times), oh Waheguru! Whether humans are able to break the bonds of Maya or become more engrossed in it depends on what You decide for them, oh Waheguru. Nobody else has any such power. If some idiot claims to do so, only he knows what punishment he receives on his face from Waheguru. A few wise people do acknowledge that Waheguru knows their needs and fulfills them. But the individual, who is motivated or enabled by Waheguru to sing His praise, is the real king of kings. 25.

NOTE: In the last Pauri, Guru Nanak Sahib espouses that the individual who is kindly motivated by Waheguru or is gifted with the ability to sing His praise is the real king of kings. In this Pauri, Guru Sahib develops that idea further.

Word Meaning: Amooll or Amooll(u) = priceless. Vaapaar = business. Vaapaariyay = traders. Bhundar = treasure. Aaveh(i) = come to this word. Bhaayay = liked by. Smaah(i) = absorbed in. Dherm(u) = justice; righteousness; Deebaan(u) = court; support. Tool(u) = weighing scale. Pervaan(u) = standard weight. Bukhsheesh = largesse. Neeshaan = stamp of approval; identity. Kerm = benevolence. Phoormaan(u) = huqam; command; will. Live laayay = full concentration. Vakhiyaan = explain. Gopis = cow girls who were friends with Krishna. Ootth, Ootth Jaaheh(i) = leave this world. Boal Vigaarr(u) = a big mouth one who does not know how to talk or who distorts reality. Gavaaraan Gavaar(u) = the top uncivilized.

MEANING: Priceless are the noble qualities of Waheguru, and so are the traders in them who strive to acquire such qualities. His treasures (of noble qualities) are priceless (meaning they cannot be bought for any price at all; only acquired by singing His praise). Priceless are the individuals who come to this world to buy (acquire those qualities), and so are the ones who actually buy them. Priceless are the individuals who are liked by Waheguru, and priceless are the ones who are completely absorbed in His praise to the extent of forgetting themselves. Waheguru's justice is priceless, and so is His Court or His support. Priceless is the scale (to weigh the efforts of an individual), and so are the weights (the noble qualities) against which the effort is balanced. Priceless is the largess of Waheguru, and so is the stamp of His approval or recognition of an individual. Priceless is the benevolence of Waheguru, and so is His Word or Command. No one can describe the priceless Waheguru even though countless people have tried to do so using their practised concentration.

The reciters of the Vedas and of the Puranas try to describe Him, and so do many others who study the holy books and explain them. Many Brahmas and many Indras try to describe Him. Also, many Krishnas and the Gopies tried to do the same. Many Shivas, and many Sidh yogis, tried to describe Waheguru, and so did many Buddhas created by Waheguru. All gods and demons tried to describe Waheguru, and so did many men with godly qualities (Soor nur). Many holy men who remain quiet for a very long time (muni) and many others who serve Waheguru try to describe Him. Many more who wish to describe Waheguru try to do so, and many say something about Him and leave this world. But even if another equal number of individuals created by Waheguru tried to do so, they would never succeed. Waheguru can be as large as He chooses. Only the True (eternal Waheguru) knows how big He is. If some big mouth claims to be able to describe Waheguru, he is labelled as the leader of the most uncivilized.
NOTE: The following Pauri has special significance, as it appears thrice in Guru Granth Sahib – in Jap(u) Ji Sahib, Rehras Sahib, and Raag Assa.

Word Meaning: Dur(u) = door; entrance. Smaalay = looks after. Vaajay Naad = music produced by musical instruments. vaavanhaaray = musicians. Raag Purie = varieties of music. Baisuntur(u) = fire. Raja Dherm(u) = Dhermraj = angel of justice. Suvaaray = decorated. Jutee = celibate. Sutee = with high moral character. Suntokhi = content. Veer Kraaray. = gallants. Mohiniyaan = mind-captivating; pretty. Muchh = this world. Pyaalay = worlds beneath the earth. Ruttan = jewels; noble qualities. Khaani Chaaray = the four sources of production of life (live birth, eggs, vegetation, from air under ripe conditions). Khund, Mundal Verbhunda = parts of universe. Ruttay = imbued. Ruchna = creation. Rungi Rungi Bhaanti = of different kinds.

NOTE 1: Every religion has its own beliefs about Waheguru's residence and the entrance to His residence, where He looks after His creation. For example, Muslims believe that there are 14 skies in the universe – seven above and seven below the earth. And Allah resides in the Seventh Sky, while other saints and holy men reside in the sixth sky, and common men reside in the fifth or lower skies. Christians have a similar belief that God lives somewhere high in the sky in paradise with pearly gates.

You might have seen pictures of Jesus' resurrection on the third day after the crucifixion, showing Him being taken up into the sky, His hand held by God, out of the clouds. The idea in the picture is a reflection of the Christian belief that God lives in the sky. Hindus do not believe in a single God; rather, they believe in a multitude of gods and goddesses who are all shown to live on the tops of mountains or in some mythical paradise. The Hindus also believe that there is a god for everything, including air, water, fire, precious stones, and metals. The king of all gods, Ind (or Indra), lives in paradise somewhere in the sky.

However, Sikhism does not believe in any such paradise. In this Paurri, Guru Nanak Sahib clarifies His idea of the residence of Waheguru. He professes that Waheguru is present in each part (even in each particle) of the universe invisibly, but shows His presence only where His praise is sung (or where He is remembered) and has no particular residence. However, no one can describe His mysterious ways by which He controls the whole universe and looks after His creation.

NOTE 2: Since Waheguru is the Master of the entire universe, He is revered as the King of kings. Usually, kings have musicians in their courts, so most people believe that there must be many, many musicians in Waheguru's Court or Paradise. Hindus also believe that there are two accountants – Chit(u) and Goopt(u) – riding on the shoulders of each human being to keep continuous written records of their deeds. The mythical god Indra (Ind) is believed to be the king of all gods and therefore the ruler of paradise. But the Guru Granth Sahib does not recognize any gods. As you can read, all the gods and goddesses, if there are any, sing Waheguru's praise as the Supreme Being. They have no power in running the universe.

NOTE 3: Singing Waheguru's praise also implies obeying His Command, Will or His Laws. Guru Amar Dass Ji clarifies this in the following Shabad.

- ਰਾਮਕਲੀ ਕੀ ਵਾਰ ਮਹਲਾ ਤੀਜਾ, ਪਉੜੀ (948)॥ ਇਕਿ ਆਪਣੀ ਸਿਫਤੀ ਲਾਇਅਨੁ ਦੇ ਸਤਿਗਰੁ ਮਤੀ॥ --- ਪਉਣੁ ਪਾਣੀ ਬੈਸੰਤਰੋ ਹੁਕਮਿ ਕਰਹਿ ਭਗਤੀ॥ ਇਹਨਾ ਨੋ ਭਉ ਅਗਲਾ ਪੂਰੀ ਬਣਤ ਬਣਤੀ॥3॥
- Meaning: Waheguru puts some people to His worship by providing them Satguru's Advice. The air, the water, and the fire also worship Him by obeying His Huqam (Command). They have great fear of Waheguru, and this is how the whole universe has been created. 3.

MEANING: (Guru Nanak says), Oh Waheguru, people wonder what kind of entrance your Residence has, and what kind of residence You reside in where You look after all Your Creation. Even though I am unable to describe the exact nature of Your residence, You are omnipresent, and there are countless musical instruments and countless musicians who play them to produce many different types of lilting tunes (naad). There are many different types of lyrics and their subcategories (purees), and countless singers to sing them. (The gods of) air, water, and fire, all sing Your praise, and so does the Angel of justice on Your doorsteps. Chit(u) and Goopt(u), who are believed to keep written records of the deeds of humans, sing Your Praise with their recordings being analyzed by Dherm Raj - the Angel of justice at Your door. Many Shivas, and many Brahmas, etc., and many Parbatis sing Your praise, as a result of which they are decorated (find respect) in Your Court. Sitting on their thrones, many Indras (Ind), along with other gods, also sing Your praise at Your door. The Sidh yogis sing Your praise in their meditation, and the holy men (sadh) sing by pondering on Your magnanimity. The celibate, men with high character, and the content (santokhi), the gallant, all sing Your praise. In all eras (yugs) the learned (pundits), the great sages (rukheesur), and the Vedas sing Your praise. Even the beautiful fairies of the paradise, of the earth (muchh) and of the underworld (payaal), having charming beauties, sing Your praise. Gods of jewels created by You, sing Your praise, and so do the sixty-eight holy places believed to be made holy by the gods. The powerful valiant (jodh) and the intrepid (maha bal soora) sing Your praise, and so do the living beings from all four sources (mammals, eggs, vegetation, and the ones which grow under optimum conditions) of reproduction.
The skies, the galaxies, and the whole universe, supported by You, sing Your praise. Only those devotees sing Your Praise (are approved by You) whom You like, and who are imbued in Your affection, and enjoy singing it. I do not know, and cannot imagine how many more sing Your praise. Only the Master, Waheguru, is eternal (Such Sahib Saacha) and so is His magnanimity, and His justice (naayee). The Creator has always existed, will exist in future, and will never go away (will live forever). He has created the universe with countless varieties of different living beings and bodies, and has created attractions of different types (Maya) for them. He enjoys and looks after His Creation as He pleases. He will do whatever

He chooses, and nobody has the power to suggest any modifications (huqam na kerna jaayee). (Guru Nanak Sahib advises) That rather than wasting time and energy to find the secrets and the limits (because nobody will ever be able to do so) of Waheguru, who is the real Emperor of emperors, the man should simply sing His praise and obey His Will (rajaayee). 27.

NOTE (YOGIS): The next two Paurris (28 &29) are addressed to Sidh Yogis. This Faith was very popular in northern India, especially in Punjab, until the masses were won over by the simple and ritual-free Divine Message of Guru Nanak. The leading Yogis had several debates with Guru Nanak and tried to prove the superiority of their ideology, but they failed badly every time. They were devotees of Shiva and had a particular way of life. They would leave their homes to live in remote places (mountains, forests, etc.), but would return to towns or villages to beg for food and clothing. Their belief was to renounce worldly comforts or Maya. They would live in groups – big or small. They had their own dress code and wore very little. They would cover their bodies with ash so as not to look attractive to women, wear big glass earrings, a quilted cover (called khintha), a shallow pot called khupper or put(u) to collect alms, and a loose cloth on their shoulder to make a kind of sack (called jholie) in which to collect dry food. They would also carry a stick (baton). Sometimes, they blow a small trumpet to produce a musical note (naad) to show their presence. They referred to their spiritual leader as Nath (Master). Most of them practiced celibacy, but a few had families, too. They had acquired some supernatural powers through meditation using yoga practices. With those powers, they would impress and threaten the masses into giving them large donations for their daily needs (contradicting their own claim of having no attraction to Maya). However, unlike Guru Nanak Sahib, union with God was NOT their objective. During discussions or debates, Guru Nanak Sahib tried to explain to them the real purpose of human life (a life of high moral values and union with Waheguru), but they refused to admit it, even though they were convinced that Guru Sahib had a very strong rationale for His Message. There are many holy Shabads in Guru Granth Sahib addressed to Yogis.

Guru Nanak Sahib had His last meeting with the top Yogis (Bhangar Nath, Cherput, and Lohareepa etc.) in Feb 1539 at Achchal near Batala, at Yogis' annual gathering there. There is a Shiva temple in the village of Achchal, and a large number of people used to attend the annual gathering of the yogis, which was a carnival. Because of Guru Nanak Sahib's presence at the gathering this time, people had come to Achchal in unusual large numbers. This was also the last opportunity for the Yogis to defeat Guru Sahib, and win back the masses who had all gathered around Guru Sahib showing a total disregard for the Yogis. The frustrated Yogis displayed numerous supernatural powers to impress the masses in general, and Guru Sahib in particular. They displayed many magical tricks turning into tigers, snakes, birds and so on, but, were unable to impress the masses as Guru Sahib had convinced them not to be afraid of (or be captivated) by their tricks.

When the Yogis failed miserably in their efforts to impress the people, and were exhausted after having wasted their energies in the display of their magical tricks, they decided to defeat Guru Sahib in debate. They had a long session with Guru Nanak Sahib, and even tried to convert him to the Yoga Faith. But, as always, they failed badly to win the debate, and finally had to surrender. From that day on, the masses lost all their fear of the Yogis, and the Faith almost vanished from Punjab. Now you can see a lone Yogi in months only, who comes to visit Punjab from other parts of the Country. For our guidance, Guru Nanak Sahib has written this whole discussion with the Yogis in detail in Raag Ramkali, which is enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib on pages 938-46, and is called Sidh Gosht(i)

NOTE: Guru Granth Sahib does not give any credit to supernatural powers which can be acquired through concentration. Holy men of a high spiritual level get such powers without any special effort. However, they use them only rarely, and that too only to show the magnanimity of Waheguru. They never use to boost their own ego.

ਮੁੰਦਾ ਸੰਤੋਖੁ ਸਰਮੁ ਪਤੁ ਝੋਲੀ ਧਿਆਨ ਕੀ ਕਰਹਿ ਬਿਭੂਤਿ॥ ਖਿੰਥਾ ਕਾਲੁ ਕੁਆਰੀ ਕਾਇਆ ਜੁਗਤਿ ਡੰਡਾ ਪਰਤੀਤਿ॥ ਆਈ ਪੰਥੀ ਸਗਲ ਜਮਾਤੀ ਮਨਿ ਜੀਤੈ ਜਗੁ ਜੀਤੁ॥ ਆਦੇਸੁ ਤਿਸੈ ਆਦੇਸੁ ਆਦਿ ਅਨੀਲੁ ਅਨਾਦਿ ਅਨਾਹਤਿ ਜੁਗੁ ਜੁਗੁ ਏਕੋ ਵੇਸੁ॥ 28॥

Moonda suntokh(u) sherm(u) put(u) jholie, dhiyan ki kureh(i) bibhoot(i). Khintha kaal(u) kuvaari kaayaan, joogat(i) dunda perteet(i). Aayee punthi sugal jamaati, mun(i) jeetaiy jug(u) jeet(u). Aadays Tisaiy aadays. Aad aneel(u) unaad(i) anaahut(i) ,joog(u) joog(u) aiko vays(u). 28.

Word Meaning: Moonda = earrings. Suntokh = contentment. Sherm(u) = hard labour. Putt(u) = a shallow pot. Bibhoot(i) = ash. Khintha = a small quilt. Kuvaari Kaayaan = virgin body (high moral character). Joogat(i) = technique; way of life.

Aayee Punthi = One of the 12 sects of yogis. Sugal Jamaati = equality of all. Joogat(i) = way of life. Perteet(i) = faith. Aadays = bowing; show deep reverence. Aad(i) = from the very beginning; the source. Aneel(u) = unblemished (perfectly pure) Annahut(i) = non-perishable.

MEANING: (Addressing a yogi, Guru Nanak Sahib advises) rather than wearing meaningless glass earrings, make contentment your earrings (be content) oh yogi! And rather than carrying a shallow pot (putt) and a jholie to collect alms, and thus living off others, work hard (sherm) to earn your livelihood. Similarly, rather than covering your body with ash to look unattractive to women, meditate deeply (dhiyan), concentrating on Waheguru's Naam (which automatically takes your mind away from lust). Wearing a khintha (a quilted cover of rags – a sign of renunciation) does not make a man spiritual, and does not increase his longevity (which you always wish for), so rather than wearing a khintha, remember death (kaal) all the time that you have to die sooner or later. Do not use your body for unholy deeds; keep it morally clean. Full faith in Waheguru should be the stick in your hand so as to keep the evil away. You believe that your path to spirituality- Aayee Panth- is superior to others; this may be true only if you treat all human beings as your equals (being the children of the same Waheguru. Moreover, control your mind from chasing evil ideas; if you do that, you can control the whole world. This should be your way of life. And rather than bowing to some deity, bow to the Supreme Being, who is the root (origin) of the whole universe, is unblemished or perfectly pure, and has been there from the very beginning (i.e. you cannot find His beginning), is non-perishable, and is never changing over the eons (joog, joog aiko vays). 28.

Bhoogut(i) Giyan(u), duyya bhundaaran(i) ghut(i) ghut)i) vaajeh(i) naad. Aap(i) Nath(u), naathi subh Ja ki, ridh(i) sidh(i) uvra saad. Sunjog(u) vijog(u) dooyay kaar chulaaveh(i) laykhay aaveh(i) bhaag.

(PAGE 7): Aadays Tisaiy aadays. Aad(i) aneel(u) unaad(i) anaahut(i) joog(u) joog(u) eiko vays(u). 29.

Word Meaning: Bhoogat(i) = food (pershaad). Giyaan(u) = Divine Knowledge; connection with God. Duyya = compassion. Bhundaaran(i) = cook. Ghut(i) = in the heart. Naad = the bugle of the yogis. Nath(u) = Master. Naathi = stitched. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Uvra = different (causes of attraction for Maya). Sunjog(u) Vijog(u) = union and separation. Kaar = functioning. Bhaag = fortune.

Meaning: Distribute the Divine Knowledge with compassion as the pershad (the sweet dish that you distribute among the gathering as the gift of your Guru). The realization that God resides in every heart, should be the note of music (naad) that you produce by blowing your bugle. The Lord Himself is the Master (Nath) of the whole world, and everybody is stitched to (connected with) Him. In other words, nobody has any existence without Him. Supernatural powers and the glory associated with them (for which you strive) have their own attraction (they push you deeper into the gimmicks of Maya) and are a barrier to connecting with Waheguru (as their use boosts one's ego). Union and separation (from Waheguru, from family, relatives and mundane materials including Maya) are the two Natural forces that run the whole world, while fortune (based on man's deeds in past and present life) also play a role in this regard. So, rather than bowing to a deity, bow only to the Supreme Being which is the root of the whole universe, is unblemished or perfectly pure, whose beginning cannot be determined (anaad), is non-perishable and which never changes over the eons. 29.

ਏਕਾ ਮਾਈ ਜੁਗਤਿ ਵਿਆਈ ਤਿਨਿ ਚੇਲੇ ਪਰਵਾਣੁ॥ ਇਕੁ ਸੰਸਾਰੀ ਇਕੁ ਭੰਡਾਰੀ ਇਕੁ ਲਾਏ ਦੀਬਾਣੁ॥ ਜਿਵ ਤਿਸੁ ਭਾਵੈ ਤਿਵੈ ਚਲਾਵੈ ਜਿਵ ਹੋਵੈ ਫੁਰਮਾਣੁ॥ ਓਹੁ ਵੇਖੈ ਓਨਾ ਨਦਰਿ ਨ ਆਵੈ ਬਹੁਤਾ ਏਹੁ ਵਿਡਾਣੁ॥ ਆਦੇਸੁ ਤਿਸੈ ਆਦੇਸੁ॥ ਆਦਿ ਅਨੀਲੁ ਅਨਾਦਿ ਅਨਾਹਤਿ ਜੁਗੁ ਜੁਗੁ ਏਕੋ ਵੇਸੁ॥ 30॥

Aika maayee joogut(i) vihayee tin(i) chaylay pervaan(u). Ikk(u) sunsaari, ikk(u) bhundaari, ikk(u) laayay deebaan(u). Jiv Tis(u) bhaavaiy tivaiy chalaavaiy jiv hovaiy foormaan(u). Oh(u) vaykhaiy, ohna nudr(i) na aavaiy bahouta eh(u) vidaan(u). Aadays, Tisaiy aadays. Aad(i) aneel(u) unaad(i) anaahut(i) joog(u) joog(u) eiko vays(u). 30.

Word Meaning: Joogt(i) = technique; somehow. Viyahhi = became pregnant. Chaylay = disciples. Sunsari = creator. Bhudaari = provider. Deebaan(u) = Court (destroys). Bhaavaiy = desires. Chulaavaiy = runs (manages) the universe.

Vidaan(u) = amazement.

Meaning: Hindus believe that Maya (Maayee) somehow got pregnant and gave birth to three sons or disciples – Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Brahma is believed to be the creator of all life, Vishnu the provider, and Shiva the destroyer. But Guru Nanak Sahib does not believe in this myth. He professes that Waheguru alone is the controller of the universe and runs it in the ways He wishes, using His Command. He does not even need any assistance from anyone. The amazing thing is that even if any such gods do exist, they cannot see Waheguru, whereas Waheguru sees everybody. (Guru Nanak Sahib says) that I salute the Supreme Being who is the origin of everything, who is unblemished (perfectly pure), whose beginning cannot be determined, who is non-perishable, and is uniform (never changing) over the eons. 30

ਆਸਣੁ ਲੋਇ ਲੋਇ ਭੰਡਾਰ॥ ਜੋ ਕਿਛੁ ਪਾਇਆ ਸੁ ਏਕਾ ਵਾਰ॥ ਕਰਿ ਕਰਿ ਵੇਖੈ ਸਿਰਜਣਹਾਰੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਚੇ ਕੀ ਸਾਚੀ ਕਾਰ॥ ਆਦੇਸੁ ਤਿਸੈ ਆਦੇਸੁ॥ ਆਦਿ ਅਨੀਲੁ ਅਨਾਦਿ ਅਨਾਹਤਿ ਜੁਗੁ ਜੁਗੁ ਏਕੋ ਵੇਸੁ॥ 31॥

Aasun(u) loyay loyay bhundaar. Jo kichhu paaya so aika vaar. Kur(i) kur(i) vaykhaiy Sirjunhaar(u). Nanak Sachay ki Saachi kaar. Aadays, Tisaiy aadasy. Aad(i) aneel(u) unaad(i) anaahut(i) joog(u) joog(u) eiko vays. 31

Word Meaning: Aasun = seat; residence. Loyay Loyay = in every world. Bhundar = (treasures) of food and other necessary materials. Jo Kichh(u) Paaya So AIka Vaar = He filled the treasures just once forever. Sirjunhaar(u) = the Creator. Kaar = business; arrangement for looking after the universe.

Meaning: Waheguru resides in and has treasures to meet the needs of all living beings in every world. He has filled those treasures once, and for all, to the extent that they will never run out. Now the Creator simply looks over them. (Guru) Nanak says that the arrangements of the Perfect Waheguru are also perfect. I salute the Supreme Being who is the origin of everything, who is perfectly pure, is nonperishable, and whose beginning cannot be determined. He remains uniform (never changes) over the eons. 31.

ਇਕ ਦੂ ਜੀਭੌ ਲਖ ਹੋਹਿ ਲਖ ਹੋਵਹਿ ਲਖ ਵੀਸ॥ ਲਖੁ ਲਖੁ ਗੇੜਾ ਆਖੀਅਹਿ ਏਕੁ ਨਾਮੁ ਜਗਦੀਸ॥ਏਤੁ ਰਾਹਿ ਪਤਿ ਪਵੜੀਆ ਚੜੀਐ ਹੋਇ ਇਕੀਸ॥ ਸੁਣਿ ਗਲਾ ਆਕਾਸ ਕੀ ਕੀਟਾ ਆਈ ਰੀਸ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਦਰੀ ਪਾਈਐ ਕੂੜੀ ਕੂੜੈ ਠੀਸ॥32॥

Ikk doo jeebhoun lukh hoh(i), lukh hoveh(i) lukh vees. Lukh(u) lukh(u) gayrra akhiyeh(i), aik(u) Naam(u) Jugdeesh. Ait(u) raah(i) Put(i) puvrriyaan, churriyaiy hoyay ikees. Soon(i) gullaan aakaash kee, keeta aayee rees. Nanak nudri paayeeyay koorreen koorraiy tthees. 32.

Word Meaning: Jeebhoun = tongue. Doo = from. Gayrra = repeat; times. Jugdeesh = the Master of the world (Waheguru). Put(I) = husband; master (Waheguru). Puvrriyaan = ladder; stairs. Ikees = one with Waheguru. Aakaash = sky (individuals who have become one with Waheguru). Keeta = ant (ignoble). Nudri = His kind sight; benevolence. Koorreen = fake; imperfect; (engrossed in Maya). Tthees = false claim.

Meaning: I wish the number of my tongues increased from one to a hundred thousand (lakh) and further increased twenty lakh times. I further wish that I could recite Waheguru's Naam a hundred thousand times with each tongue, because recitation of Waheguru's Naam acts like a ladder which enables one to reach the otherwise inaccessible Waheguru (which has a very high spiritual state; is transcendental), and become "one" with Him (ikees). When they hear about the level of bliss of such holy people. As a result of their connection with Waheguru, some Maya -engrossed people begin to copy them. But the self-praise of their efforts (tthees) is fruitless, because their efforts are as fake (hollow) as they themselves are. They cannot please Waheguru by their fake efforts (which are just show-offs).

Waheguru can be reached only with His kind sight after one puts in his honest efforts.
NOTE: My interpretation of this holy Shabad is completely opposite to that of some highly respected scholars who profess that reciting Waheguru's Naam with tongue is useless. This may be so for people who do so only to show off, but not true for the real devotees. There are many, many Shabads in Guru Granth Sahib which reiterate again and again that one must recite Waheguru's Naam with one's tongue as much as one can before it begins to take root in one's heart (mind). I will quote only a few Shabads out of hundreds.

- ਸਿਰੀ ਰਾਗ ਮ:1 ਅਸਟਪਦੀ (59)॥ ------ ਇਕੁ ਤਿਲੁ ਪਿਆਰਾ ਵਿਸਰੈ, ਦੁਖ ਲਾਗੈ ਸੁਖੁ ਜਾਇ॥ ਜਿਹਵਾ ਜਲਉ ਜਲਾਵਣੀ ਨਾਮੁ ਨ ਜਪੈ ਰਸਾਇ॥ -----

Meaning: All my comfort is lost, and discomforts start taking root in my heart if I forget my dear (Waheguru) even for a single second. The tongue, which does not recite Waheguru's Naam while enjoying it, deserves to be burnt, and should burn. ----------

- ਕਲਿਆਣ ਮਹਲਾ 4 (1320)॥ ਮੇਰੇ ਮਨ ਜਪੁ ਜਪਿ ਜਗੰਨਾਥ॥ ------ ਰਸਨਾ ਏਕ ਜਸੁ ਗਾਇ ਨ ਸਾਕੈ, ਬਹੁ ਕੀਜੈ ਰਸਨਥੇ॥ ਬਾਰ ਬਾਰ ਖਿਨੁ ਪਲ ਸਭ ਗਾਵਹਿ ਗੁਨ ਕਹਿ ਨ ਸਕਹਿ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਤੁਮਨਥੇ॥

Meaning: Recite the Naam of the Lord of the world (Waheguru), oh my mind. -------- I have only one tongue which is not enough to sing the full praise of Waheguru, so I beg Him to give me many more tongues. (Waheguru has so many noble qualities) that even if all the tongues sing His praise repeatedly every single moment, they still cannot sing all Your qualities, oh Waheguru. ----------

- ਸੂਹੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5 (780)॥ ਕਰਿ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਮੇਰੇ ਪ੍ਰੀਤਮ ਸੁਆਮੀ ਨੇਤ੍ਰ ਦੇਖਹਿ ਦਰਸੁ ਤੇਰਾ ਰਾਮ॥ ਲਾਖ ਜਿਹਵਾ ਦੇਹੁ ਮੇਰੇ ਪਿਆਰੇ, ਮੁਖਿ ਹਰਿ ਆਰਾਧੇ ਮੇਰਾ ਰਾਮ॥ ------

Meaning: Please be kind to me so that I could have a glimpse of Yours with my eyes, oh my dear Lord, Waheguru. Bless me with millions of tongues so that I may recite Your Naam with each of them. ----------

- ਆਸਾ ਨਾਮਦੇਉ ਜੀ (485)॥ ਮਨੁ ਮੇਰੋ ਗਜੁ ਜਿਹਬਾ ਮੇਰੀ ਕਾਤੀ॥ ਮਪਿ ਮਪਿ ਕਾਟਉ ਜਮ ਕੀ ਫਾਸੀ॥ 1॥ ਕਹਾ ਕਰਉ ਜਾਤੀ ਕਹ ਕਰਉ ਪਾਤੀ॥ ਰਾਮ ਕੋ ਨਾਮੁ ਜਪਉ ਦਿਨ ਰਾਤੀ॥ ------

Meaning: I use the concentration of my pure mind as the yard (to measure), and my tongue (with which I recite Waheguru's Naam all the time), as scissors to cut the noose of the angel of death (death can cause me no harm). My low caste and my low clan in the society cannot act as impediments to my reciting Waheguru's Naam day and night. ----------

ਆਖਣਿ ਜੋਰੁ ਚੁਪੈ ਨਹ ਜੋਰ॥ ਜੋਰੁ ਨ ਮੰਗਣਿ ਦੇਣਿ ਨ ਜੋਰੁ॥ ਜੋਰੁ ਨ ਜੀਵਣਿ ਮਰਣਿ ਨਹ ਜੋਰੁ॥ ਜੋਰੁ ਨ ਰਾਜਿ ਮਾਲਿ ਮਨਿ ਸੋਰੁ॥ ਜੋਰੁ ਨ ਸੁਰਤੀ ਗਿਆਨਿ ਵੀਚਾਰਿ॥ ਜੋਰੁ ਨ ਜੁਗਤੀ ਛੁਟੈ ਸੰਸਾਰੁ॥ ਜਿਸੁ ਹਥਿ ਜੋਰੁ ਕਰਿ ਵੇਖੈ ਸੋਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਉਤਮੁ ਨੀਚੁ ਨ ਕੋਇ॥33॥

Aakhun(i) joar(u) choopaiy neh joar(u). Joar(u) na mungan(i) dayn(i) na joar(u). Joar(u) na jeevan(i), mern(i) neh joar(u). Joar(u) na raaj(i) maal(i) mun)i) shoar(u). Joar(u) na soorti giyaan(i) veechaar(i). Joar(u) na joogti chhootaiy sunsaar(u). Jis(u) huth(i) joar(u) kur(i) vaykhaiy soyay. Nanak ootum(u) neech(u) na koyay. 33.

Word Meaning: Joar(u) = ability; control. Raaj(i) = on governing. Maal(i) = on property and wealth. Mun(i) shoar(u) = desires or wishes of the mind. Soorti = the one on which you focus your mind (Waheguru); wisdom. Joogti = technique. Chootaiy Sunsar(u) = freedom from the worldly attractions. Ootum(u) = superior. Neech(u) = inferior.

MEANING: (Based on the deeds of a man's previous life, and as per the Will of Waheguru based on His Laws, the man is born with some traits such as kindness, honesty, helpfulness, reliability, fear of God, etc., on one hand, and cruelty, cheating, trouble-causing, lies, antagonism and malice etc. on the other. Also, the man is born in an environment where his traits are reinforced and become unchangeable, and cannot be changed by his own efforts unless he takes shelter of the Guru.

So, we can say that he has no control or freedom over any of his behaviours.

With this background, let us now discuss the meaning of the holy Shabad. The man has no control all the time about what he says (good or bad) because he may involuntarily say something for which he may have to regret later, or he may be prompted to say something appropriate which he never intended to say, but as a result of which he may be rewarded later. Likewise, he may be forced to stay quiet in a situation, as a result of which he may lose a chance to defend himself.

Similarly, the man has no control over his demands or wishes all the time (he may wish for things he doesn't want and has no control over what he may have to give up, because the conditions may be such that things may happen against his wishes). Man has no control as to when and where he will be born or what type of future life he will have; and he has no control over when and how he will die. Man has no control over whether he will govern some state, or he will be wealthy, and man has no control even over the wishes of his mind. Man has no control over concentrating on Waheguru, or over using his knowledge to ponder Waheguru's gifts and His noble qualities. All such qualities are given to the man by Waheguru. Man has no control over acquiring the technique required to break the worldly bonds. All the controls are in Waheguru's hands, and He is using them to create and look after the living beings. Because nobody has any control (and everybody seems to be a puppet in Waheguru's hands), nobody can be superior or inferior to others.

NOTE: There are many holy shabads in Guru Granth Sahib which support this idea that Waheguru controls everything. We will quote only one such Shabad which will clearly prove this point. However, Waheguru's judgment is based on a person's own deeds – past and present.

- ਸਲੋਕ ਮਹਲਾ 1 (952)॥ ------ ਸਭਿ ਘਟਿ ਮੇਰੇ, ਹਉ ਸਭਨਾ ਅੰਦਰਿ, ਜਿਸਹਿ ਖੁਆਈ (ਖੁਆਰ ਕਰਾਂ) ਤਿਸੁ ਕਉਨੁ ਕਹੈ॥ ਜਿਸਹਿ ਦਿਖਾਲਾ ਵਾਟੜੀ ਤਿਸਹਿ ਭੁਲਾਵੈ ਕਉਣ॥ ਜਿਸਹਿ ਬੁਲਾਈ ਪੰਧ ਸਿਰਿ ਤਿਸਹਿ ਦਿਖਾਵੈ ਕਉਨੁ॥ 1॥

Meaning: -------- (Waheguru says) All the hearts are mine, and I reside in each one of them. If I want someone to suffer, who can help him? If I guide someone (or show him the right path), no one can mislead him, but if I misguide someone right at the start, nobody can guide him to the right path.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib has defined five spiritual stages (or states) of a man's spiritual development on the path to realizing Waheguru. These stages are called Khunds, and are named Dherm Khund (Stage of Responsibility), Giyaan Khund (Stage of Knowledge), Sherm Khund, (Stage of Dedication and Hard Work), Kerm Khund (Stage of Benevolence) and Such Khund (State of Union with God or His Residence). The next four Paurris define and explain the duties and the achievements of the man for each stage or Khund.

Raati rooti thiti vaar. Puvan paani ugni paataal. Tis(u) wich(i) dherti thaap(i) rukhi dhermshaal. Tis(u) wich(i) jea joogat(i) kay rung. Tin kay naam anayk ununt. Kermi kermi hoyay veechaar. Sacha Aap(i) Sacha Durbaar(u). Tithaiy sohun(i) punch pervaan(u). Nudri kerm(i) puvaiy neeshaan(u). Kuch pukayee oathaiy paayay. Nanak guyyaan jaapaiy jaayay. 34.

Word Meaning: Rooti = seasons. Thiti = days based on the phases of the moon. Thaap(i) = established; framed. Dhermshaal = place to learn and to perform noble deeds. Kay = many; infinite. Kermi = depending upon their deeds. Sacha = just. Sohun(i) = look distinguished; are recognized. Nudri Kerm(i) = the sight of kindness of Waheguru. Neeshaan(u) = identification; stamp of approval. Kuch Pukayee = unacceptable (bad) or acceptable (good) deeds; under-accomplishments and accomplishments. Jaapaiy = realize.

MEANING: Before creating life on this planet, Waheguru created conditions suitable for life, and for life to flourish. He created nights, days, seasons, and the changing phases of the moon. He also created air, water, fire, and the underworlds (pataal). After having created all these conditions, Waheguru has made the Earth a place for humans to learn and develop a character of righteousness. There are many kinds of living beings with diverse lifestyles on Earth. There are countless names for different life forms. Each living being (especially humans) is closely watched for their deeds, which are evaluated by Waheguru. Waheguru is perfectly Just and so is His Court. The Punches (spiritually accomplished holy men. See Paurri 16) look distinguished in Waheguru's Court. The kind Waheguru's generosity puts the stamp of approval on their deeds. (Guru) Nanak says you come to realize this only when you are in Waheguru's Court, where accomplishments and underachievements are carefully evaluated. This early stage of performance, or of righteousness, is called Dherm Khund. 34.

NOTE: When a noun ends with a (u) at the end, it represents a male. But male nouns without a (u) at the end signify plural form.

Word Meaning: Dherm(u) = expected high-moral behaviour; responsibility. Kerm(u) = description of happenings. Vaaisuntar = fire. Gharrut(i) Ghurriyeh(i) = construct beautifully. Kerm Bhoomi = earth-like places where humans perform deeds as in Dherm Khund. Mayr = A mythical mountain of precious stones. Mundal Days = solar systems; galaxies. Dayv = gods. Daanuv = demons. Ruttan Smoond = seas of precious stones (all mythical). Khaani = sources of reproduction. Baani = language. Narind = king. Soorti = different forms of concentration.

MEANING: Explained above is the description of the Dherm Khund (or the stage of Responsibility or Righteousness). Now follows the description of Giyaan Khund (stage of Knowledge). There are many, or countless, types of puvun or air (gases), water (liquids), and fire (energy), and countless gods like Krishna and Shiva. (According to Hindu Granths, Brahma is believed to be the creator of all living beings) However, there are countless Brahmas who create bodies of many looks (roop), colours and dresses (meaning varieties). (The qualifier "countless" implies that there is no power other than Waheguru in the universe to assist Him in any way. He alone is the creator, the provider, and the destroyer). There are countless earths (kerm bhoomi) for humans to develop the noble quality of righteousness.

(Continuing the description of Giyaan Khund, Guru Sahib says) that there are countless Dhroovs with similar advice or similar stories. There are countless types of clouds (Indra is considered the god of rain), countless moons and suns, and countless solar systems (mundal days). There are countless Sidh Yogis with limited degrees of supernatural powers, countless enlightened holy men like the Buddha, countless accomplished yogis, and countless goddesses with different ideologies (vays or dresses). There are countless other gods, countless demons, countless hermits (mooni) and countless mythical seas of precious stones. (It is generally believed that there are four khaanis or sources of reproduction of life – live births, eggs, vegetation, and from seeds or eggs in air which come to life under favourable conditions. Likewise, it is believed that there are four kinds of ways of communication. But Guru Nanak Sahib professes that the above is NOT true. There are countless sources of reproduction (which scientists are certifying now) and countless ways by which living beings - including vegetation - communicate, and countless rulers (in all four sources of reproduction). There are countless devotees who meditate with varying degrees of deep concentration. Guru Nanak says that there is no end to the wonders of the Creator!! 35.

NOTE 1: (Dhoo or Dhroov was the son of a mythical king who lived hundreds of thousands of years ago. The King had several queens, but Dhroov's mother was the very first or the prime wife. One day, Dhroov was sitting in his father's lap, when his step mother pulled him out of the King's lap. Dhroov was hurt deeply at this "step- motherly" treatment, but, at the advice of his mother he went to the nearby forest to worship God).

NOTE 2: From this Paurri, it is clear that how deep knowledge of the universe did Guru Nanak Sahib possess!!

ਗਿਆਨ ਖੰਡ ਮਹਿ ਗਿਆਨੁ ਪਰਚੰਡ॥ ਤਿਥੈ ਨਾਦ ਬਿਨੋਦ ਕੋਡ ਅਨੰਦੁ॥

Giyaan khund meh(i) giyaan(u) perchund. Tithaiy naad binoad koad anund(u).
(PAGE 8): Sherm khund kee bani roop(u). Tithaiy ghaarrut(i) ghurriyaiy bahout(u) anoop(u). Taa keeyaan gullaan kuthiyaan na jaah(i). Jay ko kuhhaiy pichhaiy puchhtaayay. Tithaiy ghurriyaiy soorut(i) mut(i) mun(i) boodh(i). Tithaiy ghurriyaiy sooraan sidhaan ki soodh(i). 36.

Word Meaning: Giyan Khund = Stage of Knowledge. Perchund = very bright.
Naad= music. Binoad = amazing. Koad = uncanny. Anund(u) = bliss. Sherm Khund = Stage of dedication and hard work. Bani = development. Gharrut(i) = shape; design. Ghurriyaiy = to mould; to create. Anoop(u) = beautiful. Kuthiyaan = described. Soorut(i) = concentration; wisdom. Sooraan = of gods. Soodh(i) = enlightenment.

MEANING: Divine Knowledge (Giyan) shines brightly in the Stage of Knowledge (enlightens the mind) to the extent that one begins to feel the bliss of lilting music, and amazing and uncanny performances. Simply put, the Stage of Dedication and Hard Work is the stage of development for the beauty (roop) of the mind. In this Stage, man's mind and thinking are moulded with unparalleled beauty. The mental or spiritual level of such accomplished holy men is beyond description. If someone tries to describe that, he begins to feel stupid because of his futile (unsuccessful) effort. In that Stage, new concentration, new thinking, and new wisdom are created in the mind of the devotee who has already attained the Second Stage. Also, such a devotee is bestowed with a high level of enlightenment like that of the gods. 36.

NOTE: Compare the last two sentences with the idea in Paurri number 13.

Nanak kuthnaa ker-rraw saar(u). 37.

Word Meaning: Kerm Khund = Stage of Benevolence. Baani = construction; development. Jodh Mahabul Soor = gallants (who have controlled their minds). Bherpoor = full to the brim.

Seeto seeta = firmly stitched (connected). Mehma = praise. Tthaagay = robbed; cheated. Kay loe = of many worlds. Nihaal = fully satisfied and blissful. Verbhund = galaxies. Ker-rraw= tough. Saar(u) = iron; steel.

MEANING: When a man reaches the Stage of Benevolence, his soul develops to the level where his mind becomes extremely strong (perfectly stable; no effect of Maya), and he feels nothing other than Waheguru in his mind. The devotees who attain that level of soul development are the true gallant and valiant. At that level, the devotees are completely connected to Waheguru and sing His praise. Their spiritual beauty (roop) is beyond description. Being "one" with Waheguru, such devotees have always Waheguru in their mind, and they neither die (because they are "one" with Waheguru), nor are they robbed of their spiritual development. At that level, the devotees "see" that there are many other devotees at that level from other worlds who feel blissful with Waheguru (Sacha) in their mind, which becomes a dwelling for Waheguru. The next higher level is the Sach Khund, where the devotee can "see" how Waheguru looks after His Creation with a kind sight, and is always blissful. The devotee can "see" that there are countless solar systems and galaxies in Waheguru's creation that nobody can find their end. In all these countless worlds, the living beings do exactly what Waheguru's Will (His laws) dictates. (Guru) Nanak says that it is as difficult to describe that "view" as to chew steel with teeth (of wax). However, Waheguru thinks of and looks after His Creation happily (without any stress on Him), and enjoys it. 37.

Jut(u) pahaara dheeraj(u) sooniyaar(u). Ehrun(i) mut(i) vayd(u) huthiyaar(u). Bhuou khullan ugun tup taao. Bhaanda bhaaou amrit(u) tit(u) dhaal(i). Ghurriyaiy shabad(u) Sachi tuksaal. Jin kuou nudr(i) kerm(u) tin kaar. Nanak Nudri nudr(i) nihaal. 38.

Word Meaning: Jut(u) = control on sensual pleasures. Pahaara = machine shop. Dheeruj = patience. Suniyaar = goldsmith. Ehrun(i) = anvil. Vayd = knowledge. Huthiyaar(u) = weapon (hammer). Bhuou = fear (of God). Khullan = leather (wind pipe); bellows. Tup = hard meditation or perseverance (on Waheguru's Naam). Bhaanda = vessel (mind). Bhaaou = affection and respect for Waheguru. Dhaal(i) = by moulding. Shabad = expected behaviour; duty. (see the note below). Sachi Tuksaal = the True mint (of high moral values). Nudri = the one who casts kind sight.

Nudr(i) = kind sight. Nihaal = eternal bliss.

Note the difference between Nudri and nudr(i).

NOTE: In most cases the word "Shabad" means Guru's Advice or Waheguru's praise. But occasionally, the word also means expected behaviour or duty. Pay attention to the following holy Shabad.

- ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:2 ਆਸਾ ਦੀ ਵਾਰ (469)॥ ਜੋਗ ਸਬਦੰ ਗਿਆਨ ਸਬਦੰ ਬੇਦ ਸਬਦੰ ਬ੍ਰਾਹਮਣਹ॥ ਖਤ੍ਰੀ ਸਬਦੰ ਸੂਰ ਸਬਦੰ ਸੂਦ੍ਰ ਸਬਦੰ ਪਰਾਕ੍ਰਿਤਹ॥ ਸਰਬ ਸਬਦੰ ਏਕ ਸਬਦੰ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਜਾਣੈ ਭੇਉ॥ ਨਾਨਕੁ ਤਾ ਕਾ ਦਾਸੁ ਹੈ ਸੋਈ ਨਿਰੰਜਨ ਦੇਉ॥ 4॥

MEANING: The expected behaviour of the yogis is to acquire knowledge of their faith, and that of the Brahmans is to read the Vedas. The expected behaviour of the Khattris is to be warriors, and that of the untouchables (low castes) is to serve the upper classes. However, the expected behaviour of all human beings is to worship the "One" (Waheguru). I would be the slave of the individual who realizes this secret (achieves this objective), oh Nanak. Such an individual becomes like God. 4.

MEANING: At the end, Guru Nanak Sahib advises that (concisely) the path to raise the level of your soul so that it can be "one" with Waheguru is that you need to follow the recipe as described next, oh man! (Compare your present state of mind to a nugget of raw gold, and your elevated soul to a beautiful ornament). Just as a goldsmith works with raw gold in his machine shop to refine the nugget to give it the shape of the desired ornament, you need to do something similar with your mind (soul). The goldsmith heats the nugget with a small blowpipe, then melts it and places it in the die to give it the desired shape. Finally, he strikes the still rough ornament with a small hammer using his skill, wisdom, and patience to refine it. Now the beautiful ornament is ready.
To refine your soul, you also need a shop which requires your control over your sensual pleasures, oh man! Patience should act as the goldsmith. Guru's wisdom or His teachings should function as the anvil (to shape or soften your mind), and knowledge acquired from the Guru should be the hammer. Respectful fear of Waheguru should be the windpipe to control the size of the flame (to melt your mind so that it can be shaped as desired), and your perseverance should be the fire or temperature (taao) to melt the raw mind. Respect and love for Waheguru (bhaaou) should serve as the die that shapes your mind. Such noble characteristics constitute the eternal mint in which the expected noble behaviour (approved by Waheguru and which leads to union with Him) is shaped. However, only those lucky individuals follow this recipe to whom the Kind Waheguru (Nudri) casts His kind sight, and the individuals attain the level of eternal bliss (nihaal).

Puvun(u) guru paani pita maata dhert(i) meht(u). Divus raat(i) dooyay daayee daaya khaylaiy sugal jugat(u). Chungiyayiaan booriyayiaan vaachaiy Dherm(u) hudoor(i). Kermi aapo aapni kay nayrraiy kay door(i). Jinhee Naam(u) dhiyayaa, guyyay mashukut(i) ghaal(i). Nanak tay mookh oojlay kaytee chhootti naal(i).

Word Meaning: Puvun = air. Meht(u) = of great significance. Daayee Daaya = female and male nannies. Khaylaiy = plays, enjoys. Sugal Jugat(u) = whole world. Vaachaiy = evaluates. Hudoor(i) = In Waheguru's court. Kermi = based on one's deeds. Kay = many; some. Mashukut(i) ghaal(i) = successfulful in their hard work or efforts. Chhootti = salvaged. Naal(i) = with (in their company)

MEANING: [As explained in Paurri 34, the kind Waheguru has created the necessities of life on this planet (and on many others) for living beings to enjoy]. For example, (oxygen) in the air (puvun) purifies the blood just as the Guru purifies the soul. Water acts like father and is needed to sustain and nourish life. Earth is the great mother. The day and the night play the role of nannies, providing opportunities for rest and work, as well as for fun and eating. Thus, the whole world is enjoying life. The noble (chungiyayiaan), or the evil deeds (booriyayiaan) of the people are being constantly recorded, which the Justice of deeds (Dharma) evaluates (vaachaiy) in the Waheguru's Court (hadoor). Based on an individual's deeds, some get close to Waheguru (get connected with Him) while others get farther away (disconnected) from Him. However, those who worked hard to worship Waheguru (Naam dhiyayaa) They are successful in their efforts. (Guru) Nanak says that their faces shine (they are honoured) in Waheguru's Court, and many others also swim across the ocean of life or find salvation in their company.

NOTE: In addition to air, Puvun has been used in Guru Granth Sahib to carry a few more meanings. Air also means breathing (or breath), and it has also been used to mean the human mind because it is very fickle, like the changing direction of the wind. Air has also been used to imply Shabad.

Air is important for our living, but it does not have the same function as the Guru; so, it cannot mean breath in this Sloak. Air could mean mind because most people do follow the advice of their mind, like that of the Guru; however, mind is not one of Waheguru's basic gifts like water, earth, and fire; so again, it is not the likely implication of air in this holy Sloak. For the same reason, Shabad does not seem to be the appropriate meaning of air. For these reasons, we chose the highly deep meaning of air to be its oxygen component, which cleanses our blood the way the Guru cleanses our souls.

Such a deep knowledge of nature forces us to bow to the Great Guru Nanak!! We salute Him.

NOTE: It is the same holy Shabad as Paurri number 27 in Jap(u) Ji with very minor changes in spellings of some words with no change in the meaning as a whole. So, for more detail, see the meaning of that Paurri.

Word Meaning: Dur(u) = door; entrance. Smaalay = looks after. vaajay Naad = music produced by musical instruments. vaavanhaaray = musicians. Raag Purie = varieties of music. Baisunter(u) = fire. Raja Dherm(u) = Dhermraj = Angel of justice.
Suvaaray = decorated. Jutee = celibate. Sutee = with high moral character. Suntokhi = content. Veer Kraaray. = gallants. Mohiniyaan = mind-captivating; pretty. Muchh = this world. Pyaalay = worlds beneath the earth. Ruttan = jewels; noble qualities. Khaani chaaray = the four sources of production of life (live birth, eggs, vegetation, from air under ripe conditions). Khund, Mundal Verbhunda = parts of universe. Ruttay = imbued. Ruchna = creation. Rungi Rungi Bhaanti = of different kinds.
MEANING: (Guru Nanak says), Oh Waheguru! People wonder what kind of entrance Your Residence has, and what kind of Residence You reside in, where You look after Your whole Creation. Even though I am unable to describe the exact nature of Your Residence, You are omnipresent, and there are countless types of musical instruments, and countless musicians who play on them to produce many different types of lilting tunes (naad). There are many different types of lyrics and their subcategories (purees), and countless singers to sing them. (The gods of) air, water, and fire all sing Your praise, and so does the Angel of justice on Your doorsteps. Chit(u) and Goopt(u), who are believed to keep written records of the deeds of humans, sing Your Praise with their recordings being analyzed by Dherm Raj, the Angel of justice at Your door. Many Shivas, and many Brahmas, etc., and many Parbatis sing Your praise, as a result of which, they are decorated (find respect) in Your Court. Sitting on their thrones, many Indras (Ind), along with other gods, also sing Your praise at Your door. The Sidh yogis sing Your praise in their meditation, and the holy men (sadh) sing by pondering on Your magnanimity. The celibate, men with high character, and the content (santokhi), the gallant, all sing Your praise. In all eons (yugs), the learned (pundits), the great sages (rukheesur), and the Vedas, sing Your praise. Even the beautiful fairies of the paradise, of the earth (muchh) and of the underworld (payaal), having charming beauties, sing Your praise. Gods of jewels (Kuber) created by You, sing Your praise, and so do the sixty-eight holy places believed to be made holy by the gods. The powerful valiant (jodh) and the intrepid (maha bal soora), sing Your praise, and so do the living beings from all the four sources (mammals, eggs, vegetation, and the ones which grow under optimum conditions) of reproduction. The skies, the galaxies, and the whole universe, supported by You, sing Your praise. Only those devotees sing Your Praise (are approved by You) whom You like, and who are imbued with Your affection, and enjoy singing it. I do not know, and cannot imagine, how many more sing Your praise. Only the Master, Waheguru, is eternal (Such Sahib Saacha) and so is His magnanimity, or justice (naayee). The Creator has always existed, will exist in future, and will never go away (will live forever). He has created the universe with countless varieties of different living beings and bodies, and has created attractions of different types (Maya) for them. He enjoys and looks after His Creation as He pleases. He will do whatever He chooses to do, and nobody has the power to suggest any modifications (huqam na kerna jaayee).
(Guru Nanak Sahib advises) That rather than wasting time and energy to find the secrets and the limits (because nobody will ever be able to do so) of Waheguru, who is the real Emperor of emperors, the man should simply sing His praise and obey His Will (rajaayee). 27.

Word Meaning: Deettha = on seeing. Keemut(i) = value. Smaayay = absorbed. 1 Gehir = deep. Ghumbeera = never changing (without any emotion). Gooni Guheera = source of noble qualities. Kay vudd = how large. Cheera = Huqam(u); creatioin.

Ruhaou= pause.

Soorteen = meditators. Soort(i) = meditated (to determine the secrets of God). Keemut(i) = evaluators. Keemut(i) = value (of the size) Giyani = scholars. Dhiyani = concentrators. Gur Gur Haayee = recognized gurus. Til(u) = sesame seed (extremely small). Vudiyaayee = greatness. 2. Sut = high moral character, noble deeds. Tup = physical suffering (to please some god). Sidhaan Poorkhaan = of the Sidh yogis. Kerm(i) = kindness. Tthaak(u) ruhayeeyan = kept restrained. 3.

Vaychaara = poor; unable; helpless. Bhundaara = treasures. Chaara = compete.

Sach(u) = God; Waheguru. Svaarunhaara= decorator; refiner.

MEANING: After hearing from different sources, everybody says that Waheguru (God's creation) It is very large. If someone were actually able to see Him (His creation), how large would he find Him!! Nobody could actually evaluate (find the size) of His creation, and thus nobody can describe His vastness. Those who try get simply absorbed in You (are captivated by and lost in your magnanimity, and still cannot find any limits), oh Waheguru! 1.

Your splendour is unfathomable. You are a treasure of all good qualities and never change; nobody knows how large Your creation is, oh, my great Master! Pause. All the meditators meditated (to find Your ends), and all the evaluators tried to evaluate You, and find your limits (but to no avail). The scholars, the people with deep concentrations, and the recognized gurus tried, but could not describe even a little amount of Your greatness. 2.

All the noble deeds, all sorts of self-afflicted suffering to please You, and other religious rituals (do not result in any success to find Your limits). All good qualities, including the glory (due to limited supernatural powers) of the Sidh yogis, come from You, by Your kindness. If You do not want someone to have those, they will stay undelivered. 3.

You are the treasure of all the praiseworthy qualities, oh Waheguru! And nobody can describe them. Everybody is helpless. If you impart Your good qualities to someone, nobody can match him. Only You have the ability to adorn individuals (of Your choice with noble qualities), oh Nanak. 4.2.

(PAGE 10): Jin(i) din kur(i) kaiy keetee raat(i). Khusm(u) visareh(i) tay kumjaat(i). Nanak naavaiy baajh snaat(i). 4.3.

Word meaning: Visraiy = on forgetting. Bhookh = appetite; urge; desire. Oot(u) = bhookhaiy = because of that urge. Dookh = discomforts. 1

Visraiy = lose from memory. Saache Sahib(u) = (union with) the True Master.

Saachaiy Naayay= by (reciting) the True NaaM. Pause.

Til(u) = (the size of a) sesame seed. Aakh(i) tthukkay = exhausted describing. Keemut(i) = value. Ghaat(i) = loss (in greatness). 2

Soag(u) = mourning (causing grief). Chookaiy = miss (discontinue). Bhoag(u) = food. Goon(u) = good quality; ability. Ehou = (only in) Waheguru. Hoar(i) nahi koyay = nobody else. 3

Jay vudd = as large (great). Tay vudd = the same size. Daat(i) = largesse.

Khusm(u) = Master. Visareh(i) = forget. Kumjaat = Snaat(i) = low caste, ignoble. 4.

MEANING: Even though it is very hard to recite the True (Waheguru's) Naam (with full concentration and dedication), I am spiritually alive only when I recite Waheguru's Naam, and experience spiritual death when I forget it. I wish that I experienced the appetite (strong desire) for Waheguru's Naam all the time, because this appetite eats away (kills) all the discomforts. 1.

How can I (I cannot afford to) forget the True Naam of Waheguru, oh my mother! The True Master can be realized only by reciting His Naam (singing His praise). Pause.

Many people have exhausted themselves in evaluating (describing) the splendour of God, but they have not been able to describe even a small part of Him (have been badly unsuccessful). Even if everybody joined together to describe Him, there will be no change in Him – He will become neither bigger nor smaller. 2.

The Master never dies, and thus does not cause any grief to anyone. He never stops being the provider. Only He has this unique ability; nobody else will ever have it. 3.

His largesse is as great as He Himself is. (It is His kindness) that He has created nights after days. Anybody who forgets such a benevolent Master is ignoble. Also ignoble is the person who does not recite His Name (sing His praise), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Hur(i) kay Jun = devotee. Sat Purkha = Manifestation of God (Satgur). Binou = humble request. Keeray Kirm = worms (filthy; engrossed in Maya). Shernaayee = shelter; refuge. Kur(i) Duyya = be kind. Naam(u) purgaas(i) = enlighten with Naam. 1 Meet = friend. Gurmut(i) = advice (teachings) of the Guru. Praan sukhaayee = friend (supporter) of life. Hur(i) keerut(i) = praise of God. Rehras(i) = prayer; routine. Pause. Vudbgaag = good fortune. Sherdhaa = (respectful) wish. Piyaas = thirst (longing). Triptaaseh(i) = satisfied. 2
Rus(u) = (sweet) taste. Tay = those. Bhag-heen = unlucky. Jum paas(i) = prisoner of the agent of death. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Jeevaas(i) = future life. 3.
Mustuk(i) = on the forehead (luck). Likhiya = written. Dhunn(u) = great. 4.

MEANING: Oh, the devotee of God, Satguru - the manifestation of Waheguru – I have a humble request to make. We are like worms (who lead a filthy life), and seek your refuge. Please, be kind and enlighten our hearts with Waheguru's Naam. 1.
Please enlighten my mind with Waheguru's Naam, oh my friend, Satguru. The Naam is the support of my life, but can be realized only by the Guru's Shabad (advice). I pray to You, that singing praise of Waheguru becomes my daily routine. Pause.
Those devotees are fortunate who have the thirst (longing) and wish for Waheguru (His Naam). They feel content only when they are enlightened with noble qualities and recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy men. 2.
On the other hand, those who have not enjoyed the taste of Waheguru's Naam are very unlucky. Such people become the subjects of the agent of death. Their present and future lives are condemnable who do not take refuge in Satguru. 3.

Only those people seek Satguru's refuge and enjoy His company who have their fortune prewritten on their foreheads (are predestined) by Waheguru. The company of the holy men (Satguru) is great, in which an individual can enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam. (Guru) Nanak says that He, too, seeks such company where His mind is enlightened. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Chitveh(i) Oodum = think about putting in effort; worry about. Aahur(i) = (has the) responsibility. Saiyl = Puththur = rocks. Junt = living beings.
Rijuk(u) = food. Aagaiy = before. Dhuriya = placed; arranged. 1.
Madho = God. S(i) = that. Turiya = salvaged. Perm Pud(u) = spiritual state above Maya. Sookay Kaasht = dry wood; dead trees. Huriya = (became) green; came to life. Pause. Junun(i) = mother. Loak = people; daughtes (because they leave their parents' home and become members of other's family). Soot = sons. Bunita = wife. Dhuriya = support; dependence. Sir(i) Sir(i) = everybody. Sumbaahay = delivers. Rijuk = food; necessities of life. Kaahay = why. Bhuou = afraid of. 2. Oodaiy = (Koonj) flies. Saiy = hundreds. Koas = a unit of length (1 koas = 2.2 km). Pachhaiy Chhuriya = leaves behind. Buchray = young ones. Choogaavaiy = pick food. Simrun = remember. 3.
Nidhaan = trasures. Dus Usht = ten and eight = 18. Siddhaan = supernatural powers. Ker = hands. Tul = palms. Bul(i) = sacrifice life. Paaravuriya = measure; beyond limits. 4.

NOTE: Koonj is a white bird which visits India from Russia in the winter months and returns in the summer. It flies for several hundred km, leaving her young ones behind, with no one to feed them. It is believed that when she picks food, she keeps her young ones in mind, and that is how they are fed by nature.

MEANING: Why should you worry about your food when Waheguru has that in His mind as His innate responsibility, oh man? He has created life even in the rocks (where there is no exit or entrance), and has supplied food even before life began there. 1.
(The more important thing for the man is to get detached from Maya, and unite with Waheguru). Waheguru salvages the individual who attends the holy congregation of Satguru (and acts on His Advice). There, the devotee attains the spiritual level above Maya by the grace of the Guru, and his spiritually dead mind comes to life. Pause. Why should you be afraid of anything (worry about food, etc.) when Waheguru provides food (and other necessities of life to everybody? You commit many immoral acts to earn wealth for your relatives), but nobody will be able to protect you from punishment for your immoral deeds in Waheguru's Court), be it your mother, father, daughter, son, or wife. 2. Look, the koonj travels several hundred km and leaves her young ones behind who have nobody to feed them. But when the koonj picks food, she keeps her young ones in mind. (This is a wonder of Waheguru that the food that the koonj picks, is fed to the young ones)! 3.

All the treasures and the 18 supernatural powers lie in the palms of Waheguru (which He can gift to anyone). I am a slave of Waheguru, and am always ready to sacrifice my life for Him. His wonders can never be known, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Purakh(u) Nirunjun(u) = Waheguru, who is above the effects of Maya. Agumma = beyond reach. Aparaa = with no ends; limitless. Dhiyaveh(i) = recite Naam (remember). Sirjunhaara = creator. Jea = living beings. Dataara = provider. Sant-hou = oh, holy men. Visaarunhaara= one who causes to forget (destroy of) all suffering (Waheguru). Tthakur(u) = Master; Lord. Sayvuk(u) = personal attendant. Junt = living being. Vichaara = helpless. 1.

Ghut unter(i) = in everybody. Niruntar(i) = continuous; without any gap. Smaana = mixed completely; be a part of. Choaj Vidaana = amazing acts. Bhoogta = user; one who enjoys. Uver(u) = somebody else. Jaana = recognize. Parbrahm = beyond reach. Bayunt(u) = limitless. Vakhaana = describe. Kurbaana = self-sacrifice. 2. Joog(u) Meh(i) = in the world. Sookhvaasi = live in comfort. Mukut(u) = free from the bonds of maya. Jum ki Phaasi = the noose of the angel of death. Nirbhuou = fearless (Waheguru). Bhou = fear. Guvaasi = eliminate. Hur(i) Roop(i) Smaasi = be one with Waheguru. Dhunn(u) = great; worthy of praise. Bul(i) = sacrifice myself. 3.

Bhugut(i) Bhundaar = treasures of worship. Slaahun(i) = sing praise. Unik = Unayk = countless. Pooja = worship. Tup(u) Taapeh(i) = meditate by torturing self. . Simrit(i) Shaast = Hindu holy books. Khut(u) Kerm = six deeds (to study and to teach; to perform yagna and to motivate others to do the same; to donate and accept donations). Bhulay = approved. Bhaaveh(i) = liked. Bhugvanta = Waheguru. 4. Aad(i) = from the very beginning; the origin. Uprumpur (u) = farther and farther (with no end). Kerta = Creator. Jayvud(u) = as large. Nihchul = everlasting. Bhaavaiy = to Your liking (as per Your wishes). Vertaiy = happens; takes place. Srishut(i) = universe. Sirj(i) = after creating. Goyee = destroys. Jaanoyee = one who knows. 5.

MEANING: The Living Supreme Being, Waheguru, is above the effects of Maya. The limitless Waheguru is beyond limits. Everybody thinks of you (recites Your Naam), oh, the perfect creator, Waheguru! All living beings are Yours (created by You), and You are their provider. Always remember Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all discomforts, oh holy men! (Being present in all life) Waheguru Himself is the Lord, and Himself the server. The living being is helpless (has no control). 1.

You are present in each and every body all the time, and thus are mixed with the entire universe (everything is a part of Yours). But it is Your amazing (strange) ways, oh Waheguru, that some people are providers (limited donors), while some others are beggars. (Being present in everybody) You Yourself are the provider and yourself the user, oh Waheguru! I do not recognize anybody other than you (who can play these roles), oh my Lord! You are the greatest of all, oh limitless Waheguru! I am unable to describe all Your noble qualities. I simply wish to sacrifice my life for those who remember You (sing Your praise). 2.

Those who sing Your praise lead a comfortable life in this world, oh my Lord! They are able to break the bonds of Maya, thereby escaping the noose of the Angel of death (they become free from reincarnation). Those who recite the Naam (sing praise) of the fearless Lord get rid of all their fears, and they are absorbed in Waheguru to become “one” with Him. They are worthy of praise, and I wish to sacrifice my life for them. 3.

There are countless treasures full of Your worship (there are countless devotees who have been enabled by You for Your worship), oh my Lord! And there are countless devotees who sing Your praise for Your countless forms. And there are countless who worship you in various ways, meditating and self-afflicting (enduring hardships). There are countless others who study the Hindu holy books and perform the six recognized rituals – to study the Vedas and teach; to perform yagna and motivate others to do the same; to donate and to accept donations. However, only those devotees are approved by my Lord whom He likes. 4. You are the origin of everything, and are the creator, oh my limitless Waheguru! Nobody else can rival You. You are the only one who has always been there through the eons, and You are the everlasting creator. Only those events take place in the universe which you desire, and only that happens, which You cause (to happen). You create the entire universe, and You destroy it at Your Will. The devotee, Nanak, simply sings the praise of the Creator who knows everything. 5.

Word Meaning: Kerta = creator. Sachiyaar = the home of Truth (noble qualities); everlasting. Mainda = my; mine. Saayeen = Lord. Bhaavaiy = like; wish. Soyee = the same. Theesee = will happen; takes place. Houn = I. Paayeen = I receive.
Pause.
Subhnee = everybody. Dhiyaya = remembered; recited Your Naam; worshiped. Kirpa = kindness. Naam Ruttan = valuable as a precious stone (invaluable Naam). Gurmukh(i) = devotee; fully dedicated to the Guru. Laadha = found; achieved.

Munmukh(i) = follower of one's mind as opposed to Guru's teachings (non-believer) Guvaaya = lost. Vichhorriya = separated; disconnected. 1.
Duriyaaou = (like a) river. Toojh Maah(i) = contained in you. Bin(u) = without. Jea Junt = living beings. Khayl = enjoyment (creation). Vijoag(i) = (due to) separation.
Sunjoagi = (as per the destiny of) union. Mayl(u) = union. 2.
Jaanayeh(i) = enable. Soyee = that (person). Hur(i) Goon = noble traits of Waheguru. Vukhaanaiy = describes. Sayviya = served; remembered; kept in mind. Sehjay = without much effort. Smaaya = got absorbed; mixed completely. 3.
Uver(u) = somebody else. Kur(i) Kur(i) Vaykheh(i) = create and watch (look after). Gurmukh(i) = through the Guru. Purgut(u) = appear; reveal; unfold. 4.2.
MEANING: You are the source of noble qualities, are everlasting and the creator of the universe, oh my Lord, Waheguru! Only that happens that you wish; and I receive only that which You provide. Pause. The whole creation is Yours (You created everything), and everybody worships You. But only that individual realizes Your invaluable Naam, to whom You are kind. Your faithful devotees realize Your Naam while the non-believers lose it (the opportunity to realize). But it is Your own Will that some are disconnected from You while You connect with some others. 1.
You are like a river of life, oh my Lord! Everybody is contained in You (is Your part). There is nobody without You. All the living beings are Your creation. As per Your law of separation (disconnection), those who are disconnected are reconnected with you as per their destiny for reunion. 2.
Only those people know You (Your secrets) who are enabled by You. Such people always describe (disseminate) Your noble traits. Those who serve You are always absorbed in Your Naam without any special effort and lead comfortable lives. 3.
You alone are the creator, and everybody is Your creation. There is nobody other than You (as the creator and the provider). You create, and watch Your creation (look after it). You reveal Your existence through the Guru. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Titt(u) = that. Surve-rrraiy = pool. Bhuyeelay = taken place. Nivaasa = residence. Paavuk(u) = fire. Tineh(i) = Him (Waheguru). Punkuj(u) = mud. Moh = attachment. Pug(u) = foot; step. Doobiyaylay = is drowning. 1. Aiyk(u) = One (Waheguru; God). Moorr Munah = stupid (ignorant) mind. Bisrut = forgetting; ignoring. Gulliya = rotted. Pause.
Juttee = celibate. Suttee = of high morals. Moorukh = Moogdha = foolish; ignorant. Bhuyya = taken palce. Prunvut(i) = humble request. Shurna = refuge (in the service of). Vissuriya = forgotten; ignored.

MEANING: We have taken birth in such a pool (of life) which Waheguru has filled with the fire (of wanton desires such as lust, greed, attachment, etc.) rather than water. Living beings cannot take a step out of the mud of attachment, as a result of which, they are drowning in the pool (they are getting entangled more and more in their desires) as I am watching. 1. All this is happening because you have forgotten the kind Waheguru, as a result of which all your good qualities are rotting away, oh my stupid, and ignorant mind! Pause.

Neither do I have any good qualities, such as celibacy and good moral character, nor am I an educated person. My life is just like that of an ignorant, stupid person. I (Guru Nanak) humbly request my Lord to kindly give me the refuge of the holy men who have not forgotten Him. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Bhuyee Praput(i) = have acquired (been given). Manookh dayhuriya = human body. Gobind = Waheguru; God. Buriya = turn, chance, opportunity. Uver(i) = other. Kaaj = tasks. Kitaiy na Kaam = of no use. Saadh Sungat(i) = holy congregation. Bhuj(u) = recite; sing the praise. Kayvul Naam = only Waheguru's Naam. 1. Srunjaam(i) = make effort (arrangements). Bhuvjul = sea of Maya. Birthaa = empty (wasting away). Rung Maya kaiy = love for the colourful world of Maya. Pause. Jup(u) = recitation of Naam. Tup(u) = hard labour (to realize Waheguru). Sunjum(u) self-restraints (on sensual desires). Dherm(u) = noble deeds. Kmaaya = earned. Sayva Saadh = served the holy men. Raaya = remembered (recite Naam). Neech Kerma = ignoble deeds. Shern(i) = in refuge. Shermaa = dignity. 2.

MEANING: You have been given the body of a human being, which is your opportunity to realize Waheguru, oh my friend! No other task (rituals and the like) is of any use to you (in the path of spirituality). So, sing Waheguru's praise in the company of holy men. 1. You are wasting away your time enjoying the colourful world of Maya, oh my friend. Make arrangements to swim across the sea of Maya (break the worldly bonds to attain emancipation), oh my mind. Pause.

I have not recited Waheguru's Naam, or done any hard labour to realize Him. Neither have I any control over my sensual desires, nor have I performed any noble deed. I have not even learned to serve the holy men, and have not worshiped Waheguru. I (Guru Nanak) admit that all my deeds are ignoble; I humbly request You (my Lord, Waheguru), to please save my dignity as I have come to seek Your refuge. 2.4.

Suddunhaara simriyaiy Nanak say dayh aavun(i). 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sohila = a song of joy that uplifts the spirit.

NOTE: It is also the name of a new composition comprising of five holy Shabads.

Jaiy = in which. Ghur(i) = house (holy congregation; holy book). Keerut(i) = praise. Beechaaro = (noble qualities and kindness) are discussed. Titt(u) = in that. Siverihou = meditate on; worship. Sirjunhaaro = the creator. 1.

Nirbhuou = the fearless (Waheguru). Houn vaari = wish to sacrifice myself. Pause.

Nit nit = everyday (all the time). Jearray = living beings. Smalliun(i) = looked after. Dayvunhaar = the provider. Tayray = you. Daanaiy = of gifts (largesse). Shumaar = count; evaluation. 2. Sumbut Saaha = the year and date (of some event). Paavhou tayl = perform a custom or ritual at a wedding ceremony. Sujjan = friends. Asseesrriyaan = blessings. Jioun = by which. Mayl(u) = union. 3.

Paahucha = (a wedding) message. Sudrray Nit puvun(i)= invites (calls) are sent everyday. Suddunhaara = one who calls. Say deh = that day (time). 4.

MEANING: Sing the song of joy and worship the Lord in the congregation of the holy men where the praise of the Lord is sung, and the acts of kindness of the Creator are discussed, oh, my friend. 1.

Sing the song of joy that uplifts your spirit (so as to) worship the fearless Lord, oh my friends! I will gladly sacrifice my life for such a holy song which provides eternal happiness (bliss). Pause. The Provider looks after all His creation and fulfills all its needs. You cannot even count His blessings; so, how can you find His limits? 2.

The day and the year of your wedding with death is predetermined (which is also the opportunity to be one with Waheguru). Perform the rituals of the wedding ceremony, and bless me so that I may be connected to Waheguru; oh, my holy friends. 3.

The invitations of the wedding of the human bride with death (as the groom) are sent (by the Lord) all the time to the people (when their time comes, and that time will come to all of us. So, we should remember (and worship) the Lord to be one with Him when our time comes. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Chhay Ghur = six Shastras (religious books) of the Hindus. Gur = teahers (authors). Oopdesh = philosophies. Vayse = dresses (forms). Anayk = unlimited. 1.

Jaiy = in which. Raakh(u) = keep; follow (the philosophy). Vudayee = praise; honour. Toye = to you. Pause.

Visuyay chusiyan ghurriyaan pehiraan thiteen vaareen mah(u) hoa. These are all measures of time, from smaller to larger. Root(i) = seasons. Kaytay = many. 2.2.

MEANING: There are six Hindu Shastras, and six are their authors with six different philosophies. However, all of them have the same Great Guru – the Supreme Lord, who has countless forms. 1.

But you follow the philosophy (teachings) of that book or faith in which the praise of the Lord is written; that will earn you honours, oh my friend. Pause.

The amazing thing is that, even though there is only one Sun, there are so many different seasons and measures of time (that make up the seasons). Just in terms of time and seasons, it is wondrous that the Creator has many different forms, oh Nanak.2

Word Meaning: Thaal(u) = platter. Gugganmaiy = sky-like. Ruv(i) = sun. Chund(u) = moon. Taarika Mundul = galaxy, full of stars. Junuk = take for; imagine. Moti = large pearls. Dhoop = incense. Mulyaanlo Puvun(u) = wind from the Mullya Mountain. Chuvro Kurray = fanning respectfully. Sugal bunraayay = the whole vegetation. Phoolunt Joti = light (fragrance) of flowers. 1.

Kaisi = how wonderful! Aarti = a Hindu ritual of prayer. Bhuv-Khundna = the destroyer of the birth-death-birth cycle. Unhuta Shabad = the never-changing Shabad (a manifestation of Waheguru). Vaajunt = is playing. Bhayri = clarinets. Pause.

Sehs = thousands. Naiyn = eyes. Nun = none. Toh(i) kaou= yours. Moorut(i) = forms. Bimul pud = clean (holy) feet. Gundh = noses. Ivv chult = such enchanting feats. Mohi = charmed (to be His devotee). 2. Jot(i) = light (a part of the Lord); consciousness. Soyay = same. Chaanun(i) = with the light. Saakhi = Teachings.

Purgut(u) hoyay = appears; is realized. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. 3.

Churn Kunvul = lotus-like soft feet. Mukrund = pollen dust. Lobhit = Greedy. Undin(ou) = day and night. Pyaasa = thirst (desire). Saaring = rainbird: a bird that is believed to drink the first drop of falling rain that it receives in its open beak.

Kirpa – jul(u) = Kindly give the special water to this rainbird. Jaa Tay = by which. Naaye = in the Naam. Vaasa = make home. 4.

Aarti = a Hindu ritual in which a platter containing incense, flowers, a few earthen lamps, vermilion, and a coconut is rotated in a vertical circle in front of a deity or anybody else worthy of respect. Guru Nanak Sahib visited a famous Hindu shrine (the Temple of Jagannath) in Odisha (southeastern India) and joined in the Aarti that the priest performed for the deity. After the ritualistic aarti, Guru Sahib recited this holy Shabad to educate the people about the true Aarti of the Supreme Lord. The ritualistic aarti is performed before an idol with a face, bust, arms, and hands, which the performer covers. When the priest asked Guru Sahib about the various body parts of the Supreme Lord who is formless, Guru Sahib replied as above. (The meanings of the holy Shabad follow).

MEANING: (The ritualistic aarti of gods is fruitless, oh my friend!) because the real Aarti of the Lord is taking place all the time. (You have a platter in which you place earthen lamps (and may be some pearls), incense, and flowers for the ritualistic aarti), But look, the sky is like the platter on which the sun and the moon are two lamps, with millions of bright stars replacing your artificial pearls. The wind from the Mallya Mountain, which is filled with the fragrance of sandalwood, acts as incense, and the entire vegetation serves as flowers. (Mallya Mountain is in southern India, and has sandal trees grown on it, which are the source of a very sweet fragrance, thereby serving as incense). 1.

The Divine music of never-changing Waheguru's Shabad (in His praise) serves as the music of clarinets. So, how wonderful Aarti of the Lord – the destroyer of the birth-death-birth cycle – is taking place in nature! Pause.

(If you ask about the body parts of the formless Lord, even though He has no formal eyes, body, nose, or feet, yet being present in all living beings, He has thousands of eyes, bodies, noses, and perfectly clean feet. Such enchanting feats of Waheguru spell charm on me. 2. The Lord is present in all living beings, and everybody is enlightened by His Light. He reveals Himself through the Guru's Teachings. Only that aarti is approved by Him which is to His liking. 3.

Just like the bumblebee which loves flowers for their pollen-dust, I long for the lotus like soft Feet of the Lord (His Naam); and just like the rainbird, which waits for the first rain drop (and does not drink water from anywhere else no matter how thirsty he is), I am thirsty day and night for Lord's water of kindness, and humbly request that He bestows me that so that I may reside in His Naam (always worship Him), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Unjooli = (beg) with folded hands. Poon(u) = noble deed to reap good rewards.
Vuda = big. Dundout = to show respect by laying flat on the feet. Pause.
Saakut = devotee of Maya. Rus = juice (sweetness). Saad(i) = taste. Haumein = selfishness; ego. Kunda = thorn. Choobhaiy = punctures; pinches. Jumkaal(u) = of the angel of death. Suheh(i) = bears; endures. Dunda = baton (punishment). 2.
Smaanay = absorbed; lost in the Naam. Khunda = cut into pieces; destroyed. Abinaashi = non-perishable. Purakh(u) = omnipresent Lord. Sobh = win laurels.
Khund Brehmunda = in the whole universe. 3.
Greeb = poor; helpless. Muskeen = humble. Jun = devotee. Adhaar = Tayk = support. Sookh(u) = comfort. Munda = adorn; acquire. 4.

MEANING: The human body is a house full of lust and rage, etc. Such evil desires can be destroyed (overcome) in the company (shelter) of the Guru. However, only those individuals who are predestined to meet the Guru will do so. The Guru connects the individual with Waheguru (God) so that his mind is adorned with (stays focused on) God's omnipresence. 1. Kneel before the Guru, and pray with folded (clasped) hands, oh man! It is a noble deed. Pause.
A money-gripped individual cannot enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam as he is suffering from the thorn of haumein (selfishness). As such individuals move in life (as time passes by), the thorn of haumein pricks them more and more, and they suffer. Also. The fear of the Angel of Death always hangs over their heads. 2.

The devotees of God are in tune with Him and have thus overcome the fear of death and rebirth. Such individuals internalize Waheguru, and their noble fame spreads throughout the world. 3. We, the powerless and humble, are Your devotees, oh Waheguru! You are the greatest of all; save us, oh Waheguru! Your Naam is our support, and we acquire great comfort from it, oh Nanak. 4.

Nanak Dass ihaiy sookh(u) maangaiy mo kuou kur(i) suntun kee dhooray.4.5.

Word Meaning: Baynti = request. Meeta = friends. Sunt = Guru; holy men. Tehl = serve. Bayla = time (human life). Eehaan = in this world. Khaat(i) = earn. Laaha = profit; benefit. Aagaiy = next world. Bussun(u) = lifving. Soohayla = comfortable; pleasant. 1. Aoudh = life span. Kaaj = task; purpose; objective. Gur Mil(i) = taking refuge of the Guru. Svaaray = improve (achieve the objective). Pause.
Sunsaar(u)= world (life). Bikaar(u) = worthless. Sunsay = doubts; worries. Turiyo = swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation). Brahm Giyaani. = knowledgeable about Waheguru (connected to Waheguru). Piyavaiy = feeds. Ehou rus(u) = the sweet taste (of Naam). Ukuth = indescribable. Katha = story (facts). 2.
Ja ko aayay = for the purpose you have taken birth (purpose of human life). Bihaajhou = do business. Muneh(i) = in mind (memory). Busayra = take residence. Nij Ghur(i) Mehl(u) = in own mind. Sehjay = without any special effort. Phera = return to human life (rebirth). 3. nterjaami Purakh Bidhaatay = Omniscient, omnipresent and the carver (architect) of our fate (Waheguru). Sherdha = wish; desire. Suntun kee Dhooray = the dust of Guru's feet (an expression of reverence). 4.4.

MEANING: I make a request; listen to it carefully, oh my friend! It (the human life) is the opportunity for you to serve the Guru. Earn Waheguru's favour in this life, so that your next life becomes comfortable. 1.
Your life is slipping away by day and night, oh my mind! Get connected to the Guru so as to achieve your objective (of being "one" with Waheguru). Pause.
This world (life) is passing by in vain, consumed by meaningless worries and hesitations. Only a staunch devotee finds salvation. Only those who enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam are awakened by Him, and only they realize the secrets of the indescribable Waheguru. 2.

Engage only in that business for which you have come into this world (to get connected to Waheguru). The Guru can connect you with Waheguru, and you will be able to make your heart the house for Him (internalize Him). Thus, you will have everlasting comfort in your mind and will not be reborn. 3. I, Nanak, always long for the dust of the Guru's Feet (devotion to Him); please fulfil my wish (of connecting with You), oh omniscient, omnipresent, and the architect of my fate, Waheguru! 4. 5.

Word Meaning: Moti = pearls. Mundar = mansion. Ruttni = jewels. Jurraaou = inlaid. Kustoor = musk. Koongoo = saffron. Agar(i) = a tree with a very pleasant fragrance. Chundan = sandalwood. Leep = coating. Chaou = zest. Mut(u) = lest. Bhoolaan = Veesraiy = forget. 1. Jeeou = soul. Uver(u) = other. Thaaoun = place; shelter. Pause. Heeray = diamonds. Laal = rubies. Plungh(i) = bed. Mohini = attractive woman. Munie = a jewel that glows. Sohaiy = looks attractive. Rung(i) Pusaou = seductive behaviour. 2. Sidh(i) Laayi = in meditation. Ridh(i) = supernatural powers. Goopt(u) = hide; disappear. Pergut = appear. Bhaaou = love. 3. Sultan = rajah. Lushkur(i) = army. Tukhut(i) = on the throne. Haasul = acquire. Vaaou = worthless. 4.

MEANING: My mind burns (suffers badly) without remembering Waheguru. I have checked with my Guru; there is no other place (or situation) as comfortable (heavenly) as remembering Waheguru. Pause. If I could build a mansion of pearls with jewels inlaid in that and with a coating of agar, saffron, and sandalwood, and feel highly zestful to see all that, it will still be insignificant for me, because I am afraid that I may forget You, and Your Naam from my mind, oh Waheguru. 1.

If the whole ground under me, has a floor of diamonds and rubies, and my bed has pearls inlaid in it, and a mind-captivating beautiful damsel with her face glowing like a jewel, and with a seductive behaviour, is sitting on the bed, it is all worthless for me, because I am afraid that I may forget Waheguru to see all that (which I do not want to). 2. If I were an accomplished Sidh yogi in meditation, had the power to call all supernatural powers, and could appear or disappear as per my will, and the masses had love for me, even all that will be meaningless for me, because I am afraid that I may forget my dear Waheguru. 3.

If I were a king and had the command (authority) to raise a large army, sit on the throne, and issue orders to everybody, all of that would still be worthless for me, because I do not wish to forget my dear Waheguru under any circumstances, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Koat(i) = millions. Aarja = age. Peeun(u) = to drink. Apiyaaou = food. Goofaiy = in the cave. Bhee = still. 1. Nij Thaayayn = absorbed in self. Tumaayay = wish; longing. Pause. Kusaan = kill mercilessly. Kuttiaan = cut into pieces. Peesun(i) = in the grinding mill. Sayti = with. Bhusm = ash. Rul(i) = mix well. 2. Punkhi = bird. Saiy = hundreds. Asmaani = skies. 3.
Kaagud = paper. Munaa = 40 kg; 0.4 quintal. Keechaiy Bhaaou = show love. Mussoo = ink. Toat(i) = shortage. Laykhun(i) = pen. Chulaaoun = move; write. 4.
MEANING: The eternal and the formless Waheguru stays worry-free, absorbed in His own self. (Nobody knows the true worth of Waheguru). Listening to others, people describe Him in their own way, but only that individual acquires a longing for Him whom he exhorts. Pause. If I could live for multimillion years, and depended only on air as my drinks and my food (waste no time to prepare them), and locked myself in a cave so that I did not see the moon and the sun, and did not even dream about sleeping (and spent all that time to evaluate Waheguru), I still would not be able to find the greatness of Waheguru as to how large (powerful) His command (Huqam is). 1. (Some people torture themselves physically to please some deity with that belief in mind), If I kill myself mercilessly, cut myself into small pieces, grind myself in the grinding mill, or burn myself to ashes, I will still not be able to find the limit of the greatness of Waheguru as to how powerful His Huqam is. 2.

If I could become a bird, and fly to hundreds of skies, and be invisible to anyone, and did not have the need to eat or drink anything (and spend the whole time finding the limits of Waheguru), I would not be able to do so, no matter how hard I tried. 3.
If I had thousands of tons of paper to read about Waheguru, and foster love for Him, or if I had a similar amount of paper to write on, used air as my pen, and if there was no shortage of ink to write about the magnanimity of Waheguru, I would still not be able to describe His vastness and the power of His Command, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Laykhaiy = in account; as per prewritten destiny. Vaat Chulayiya = journey of life; his way of life. Saah = breaths. K(i) = what. Baba = oh wise man. 1. Ruchna = creation. Dhoh = deceit; not forever. Eh(u) = Maya. Oh(u) = Waheguru. Pause.
Jeevun Merna = from birth to death. Jaayay Kaiy = after taking birth. Khaajay = about food. Kaal(i) = (all) the time. Jithaiy = where. Tithaiy = there. Pund Praal(i) = bay of paddy stalk; worthless. 2. Loe = worlds. 3. Neech = ignoble. Rees = comparison. Smaaiun = looked after. Bukhsheesh = kindness. 4.

MEANING: Blinded by the gimmicks of Maya, the man does not realize that its creation by Waheguru is deceitful (short-lived); He is so captivated by it that he forgets Waheguru's Naam, with the result that he neither enjoys the gimmicks of Maya forever, nor does he acquire Waheguru's Naam. Pause. (Man may be captivated by Maya, which is his natural inclination – but in reality, he has no independent control over his actions, which are predetermined by Waheguru for Him). So, all his talking, his eating, his lifestyle, his listening, his explanations, and the number of breaths he takes (his lifespan) are predetermined for him. There is no need to consult any learned person on these issues. (See Paurri 33 of Jap Ji). 1. From his birth to his death, the man eats (and enjoys life) all the time, but none of the luxuries accompany him where his deeds are explained to him (in Waheguru's Court). All the crying of his relatives at his death is useless to him. 2.
Everybody says that Waheguru's creation, the universe, is very large, and nobody says any less than the others; but nobody can determine the actual size of the universe (of Waheguru's largess), and simply by saying, it gets no bigger than its actual size. Only Waheguru is the eternal Master, while there are countless perishable worlds and the living beings. 3. Among the low-castes, I also belong to the low-caste – in fact, lower than the lowest, oh Nanak. I am from a lower caste and have no comparison with the higher castes. I know, You cast a kind sight where the low castes are looked after, oh Waheguru. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Lub(u) = gluttony. Koorru(u) = deceit; lies. Choohrra = ignoble. Moordaar(u) = usurping the rights of others. Per = of others. Ninda = vilification. Mul(u) = filth. Soodhi = entirely. Chundaal(u) = merciless; cruel. Rus Kus = enjoyable tastes. Aap(u) Salaahna = self-praise. Kerm = deeds. 1. Baba = Oh, wise man. Boaliyaiy = utter (words of praise for God). Put(i) = dignity. Ootum = superior. Say = those. Neech Kerm = with ignoble deeds. Pause. Rus(u) = habitually irresistible tastes. Rooppa = silver. Kaamun(i) = woman. Permul = fragrant. Vaas(u) = fragrance. Sayja = bed. Mundar = mansions. Ghut(i) = heart. Nivaas(u) = dwelling. 2.
Pervaan(u) = approved. Fikka = impolite; rooted in Maya. Vigoochna = suffer humiliation. Ajaan = ignorant. K(i) = what? Vukhaan = describe. 3.
Pullaiy = in possession. Smaayay = present. Sooaaliyo = beautiful. Nedri Baahray = devoid of Waheguru's kind sight. Raachay = absorbed; rapt. Daan = largess. 4.

MEANING: I possess only ignoble qualities and perform ignoble deeds, oh my Waheguru. I have dog-like gluttony, and deceitfulness is another ignoble quality of mine. I earn my living by cheating others and usurping their rights, which is like sucking their blood. Vilification of others is pure filth on my tongue, and merciless rage is the fire burning in my mind. Enjoying different tastes of food and self-praise are my contemptuous deeds, oh my Waheguru. 1. One should speak only those words which can earn him respect (in Waheguru's Court), oh wise man. Only those are superior who are considered so, in Waheguru's Court. The individuals with ignoble deeds have to cry there. Pause. Wearing of gold and silver, love for women, fragrance of flower-extracts, riding horses, enjoying the comfort of luxurious beds and big mansions, enjoying the tastes of sweets and meats, are all habitually irresistible habits of the man; so, with all such bad habits, where is the room for Waheguru's Naam in his heart? 2. Only those spoken words are approved in Waheguru's Court which earn one respect. One suffers humiliation in Waheguru's Court if his spoken words are impolite and cause hurt to others, oh my foolish and ignorant mind. Only those are noble people who are liked by Waheguru; what else needs to be said? 3.

Only those who have true wisdom, dignity, and wealth have Waheguru dwelling in their mind (are connected with Him). How much can you praise such devotees, and who else has a more beautiful mind than those? Those who are deprived of Waheguru's kind sight stay absorbed in Waheguru's largess rather than His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Uml = intoxicant. Guloala = nugget. Koorr = (attractions of) Maya. Dayvunhaar = the Donor; Waheguru. Mutee = in wisdom (thinking). Visaariya = forgot. Din Chaar(i) = four (a few) days. Sofiyaan = sane. 1. Sach(u) = eternal. Maan(u) = pride. Pause. Suraa = liquor. Goorr Baahra = without jaggery. Kheeva = intoxicated; in high spirits. Mehleen = in (Waheguru's) Palace. 2. Naaoun Neer = the Naam-Amrit. Sat(u) = high morality; service to mankind. Permul = fragrant. Vaas(u) = fragrance. Oojla = clean; pious. Ikk Daat = the single gift (Waheguru's Naam). Tiseh(i) Peh(i) = to Him (Waheguru). 3. Upvittar = unholy; immoral. Bhaavaiy = liked. Pervaan(u) = approved. 4.

MEANING: Attachment with the perishables (attractions of Maya) is such an intoxicant which Waheguru has given to all the living beings. For the enjoyment of a few days (a short time), the man forgets Waheguru in the middle of his love for the perishables. The lucid and the sane acquire Waheguru's eternal Naam in their mind, because of which they get connected with Him. 1. Believe in the eternity of Waheguru, worshipping whom one attains blissfulness, and arrives at Waheguru's Court with pride, oh Nanak. Pause.

Waheguru's Naam is such an eternal intoxicant which has no sugar as an ingredient. I am a sacrifice for all those who listen to it and describe it to (share with) others. Only that mind (human) is considered eternally intoxicated who gets room in Waheguru's Palace (gets connected with Him). 2. Waheguru's Naam is the best gift among millions, as the Naam-Amrit is that water with which one's face shines (his mind is purified), he acquires all noble qualities, high morality, and his body begins to give off sweet fragrance (of politeness and noble deeds). One should share his suffering only with Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts. 3. Why should one forget Waheguru, who has given us life and soul? All wearing and eating is unholy without His Naam. Only those individuals are approved in His Court who are liked by Him. Everything else is false (worthless). 4.5.

NOTE: The spelling difference for "Mehla" in this Shabad.

Word Meaning: Jaal(i) = burn; destroy. Moh(u) = worldly attachments. Ghus(i) Muss(u) = graze (grind) to make ink. Saar(u) = superior. Bhaaou = love (for God). Chit(u) = mind. Paravvaar = ends. 1. Neeshaan(u) = identification. Pause.
Chaou = zest; high spirits. Tikkay Nickleh(i) = foreheads anointed; honoured. Vaaou Doovaou = worthless talk. 2. Ikk(i) = many; countless. Salaar = chief; leader. Vakaar = worthless. 3. Bhaiy Tayraiy = being afraid of You; staying away from God. Ugla = much. Khup(i) = worthless efforts. Chhijjaiy = weakens. Khayh = dust. Ootthi Chulliya = leave the world. Koorraiy Nayh = short-lived love. 4.

MEANING: Write that account of deeds (perform those deeds) so that where such an account is required (examined), the identification of Waheguru's approval is with you, oh wise man. Pause. To do that, burn the worldly attachments, and grind them (destroy them completely) to make ink, and use your supreme (improved) wisdom (thinking) as the paper to write on. Use love for Waheguru as the pen, your deep mind as the writer, and write down the account of deeds to be performed as per the Teachings of the Guru. Write the Naam of Waheguru, His praise, and the fact that Waheguru's limits can never be known. 1.

Those who have Waheguru's Naam in their heart, attain the spiritual state in which they always feel blissful, zestful, and earn respect, and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. However, one acquires Waheguru's Naam only with His benevolence; otherwise, all talking about Him goes worthless. 2. Countless people are born, and many of them are known as chiefs, but all of them die (without attaining a high spiritual state). (With the Will of Waheguru), Some are born beggars, while some are born to have big courts (to rule). But the truth (whether one is a beggar or a ruler) is determined in Waheguru's Court. Everybody is worthless without Waheguru's Naam. 3.
Without making any connection with God, the man feels hugely afraid of worldly fears, and his bodily (and mental) strength weakens in worthless affairs. Even those known as Khans and Rajahs are seen to mix with the dust. All one's false (short-lived) attachments with the world come to an end when he leaves the world, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Rus = enjoyable tastes. Saloanay = salty. Khut Toorsi = sour and tangy. Maarun = spices. Naad = Shabad (Waheguru's praise). Chhuteeh Amrit = the 36 accepted kinds of delicious foods. 1. Khooshi Khooaar(u) = destroying the enjoyment. Peerriyaiy = discomfort; suffering. Vikaar = vices; immoral thoughts. Pause. Rutta Pehnun = wearing red. Rutta = imbued. Soopaydi = white. Sat(u) = high morality. Neeli = blue. Siyaahi = ink = darkness (filth) of the mind. Kuda Kerni = finish; remove. Pehrun(u) = coak. Paiyr Dhiyaan = focus of mind with love. Kumebund = waste-band. Suntokh = contentment. Jobun = youthfulness; beauty. 2. Paakhur = saddles. Saakhut(i) = an adornment tied to the tail of a horse, which is connected to the saddle. Boojhun(u) = wisdom. Tayri Vaat = path leading to union with You (Waheguru). Terkush = quiver. Teer = arrows. Kmaan = bow. Saang = spear. Teghbund = scabbard. Goon Dhaat(u) = efforts to acquire virtues. Nayja = javelin. Put Siyoun Pergut(u) = appear (be approved) with honour. Kerm = benevolence. 3. Churrhna = riding. Pause. Mundar = mansion. Pervaar(u) = family. Bhaavsi = liked. Aakhun(u) = orders. Apaar(u) = beyond limits; useless. 4.

MEANING: (People work hard all their life to enjoy foods of different tastes), but a devotee, who listens to Waheguru's Naam, feels as if he has enjoyed all the salty tastes, and all the sweet tastes when he obeys the Teachings (Shabad) of the Guru (in Waheguru's praise). He enjoys the sour and the tangy tastes when he recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue, and he enjoys all the spices when he sings His praise. He feels he has enjoyed all the 36 accepted varieties of food when he fosters love for the "One" (God) with His benevolence. 1. Eating anything else (without Waheguru's Naam), which causes discomfort in the body and generates immoral thoughts in the mind, kills one's joy and zest, oh, wise man. Pause. (People wear outfits of different colours either for religious reasons or otherwise, to please their minds), But a devotee, whose mind is imbued red with Waheguru's love, feels as if he is wearing a red outfit; and a devotee with high morality and with selfless service to humanity feels as if he is wearing a white (pure) outfit. If one kills the filth of the mind, he feels as if he is wearing a blue colour, and focusing one's mind on Waheguru's Feet (Naam) is like wearing a cloak. One's contentment is like wearing a waistband, and Waheguru's Naam is his wealth and youthfulness. 2. Wearing anything else (without Waheguru's Naam), which causes discomfort, and which generates evil ideas in the mind, kills one's joy and zest, oh, wise man. Pause. Comprehending the path leading to union with Waheguru is like riding horses with saddles and saddles of gold, and efforts to acquire virtues (by singing Waheguru's praise) are like wearing a quiver full of arrows, a bow, a spear, and a sword in a scabbard, for a devotee. Waheguru's benevolence toward me feels like the high-caste earning of respect in society and the playing of music with the throwing of javelins (like the salute of guns) in my honour. 3. Riding on anything else (without Waheguru's Naam), which causes discomfort in the body, and generates evil thoughts in the mind, kills the joy and zest, oh, wise man. Pause. Waheguru's Naam is the joy of home and mansions, and His kind sight is the family for a devotee. Only those of my commands that are approved by Waheguru are meaningful; any other order is beyond my limits. The True Lord does not consult anyone for His decisions, oh Nanak. 4. Sleeping (enjoying comfort) of any other type (without Waheguru's Naam), which causes discomfort, and generates evil ideas in the mind, kills the joy and zest, oh, wise man. Pause. 4.7.

Khayhoo = dust-like body. Jeeou = soul. Juliyaan = burned; destroyed. 4.

MEANING: The human body, which is pure like saffron (free from all vices), which recites Waheguru's Naam with its tongue, and which has sweet fragrance in its breaths (is very polite to others in its dealings), and has been anointed by the 68 holy places (has no filth of jealousy or deceit as if it has been washed away by the holy places) acquires the pure wisdom to sing praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues. 1. Any other type of wisdom leads one's mind in many different directions (related to Maya). The efforts of a Maya-engrossed individual (to acquire Waheguru's Naam) are all hypocritical, even if he tries them hundreds of times. Pause. If an individual begins to worship Waheguru (or Allah), people may start calling him a "Peer", and the whole world may come to visit him (with their wishes to be fulfilled), and he may earn a good name to be included among the accomplished Sidh yogis, but, if his worship is not recognized in God's Court, all his efforts become worthless. 2. Nobody can undo the exaltation of the individuals who have been exalted by Satguru, because they have the treasure of Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, because of which they become famous. One becomes an eternal part of Waheguru by worshipping Him, and by obeying His Huqam. 3. One cannot guess what happens to his soul when the dust-like body of a Maya-engrossed individual becomes dust after death and mixes with the dust of the earth. All types of his wisdom get destroyed, and he cries hard when he leaves the world. One cannot imagine what happens to the individual in Waheguru's Court when he forgets Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Koor(i) = fake ness; deceit. Toolhurra = crude raft. 1. Adoal = with firmness; carefree. Atoal = immeasurable. Pause. Maanuk Laal = pearls and rubies (noble qualities). Moti = pearls. Nirmula = pure. Kunchun Koat = fort of gold. Reesaal = source of all tastes. Paurri = ladder. Gurrh = fort. Kiyoun = how? Nihaal = blissful. Sur(u) = pool = sea = Saagur. Bohitho = ship. Jay = which; if. Oojli = clean; pure. Satsur(i) = gathering of holy saints. 3. Pooro = perfect. Soohavnay = attractive; dignified. Pooraiy = the perfect (omnipresent) Waheguru. Niraas = detached from worldly attractions. Taas = his.

MEANING: A virtuous woman (human) shares her virtues with (preaches them to) others, while the one lacking them simply cries in repentance. If she wishes to connect with Waheguru, she cannot do so through falsehood. The Maya-engrossed individual cannot have access to Waheguru, who resides far away on the other side of the sea of Maya (above its effects), and the individual has no boat or raft to swim across the sea to reach Waheguru. 1. My Lord (Waheguru) sits majestically (carefree) on His throne; a devotee, who has been made perfect (has acquired noble qualities like Waheguru) in the shelter of Satguru, acquires (gets connected with) the immeasurable Waheguru. Pause.

Waheguru's Palace is beautiful as if it is a fort built of gold, and which is full of priceless qualities of purity like pearls, rubies, and diamonds; and which is the source of all tastes. How can I reach the tall fort of Waheguru without the appropriate ladder? But one can be blissful (to get connected with Him) by focusing one's mind on the Guru, Waheguru. 2. The Guru, which is the source of Waheguru's Naam, is everything - the ladder, the boat, and the raft – He is also the ship in the sea of Maya. In addition, the Guru is also the holy river, a dip in which washes away all one's sins. If Waheguru wishes, He connects His devotees with a gathering of holy saints, which is like a holy pool, and a dip in which purifies the devotees. 3. Everybody says that Waheguru is perfect, and so is His throne where He resides. All places are holy with His presence, and with hope (faith) in Him, His devotees become detached from worldly attractions. If such devotees get connected with Waheguru, why would there be any loss in their noble qualities, oh Nanak? 4.9.

Word Meaning: Unk(i) Suhaylurriyaan = bosom (dear) friends. Sumruth = omnipotent. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Augun = ignoble qualities. 1.
Joar(i) = under control. Shabad(u) = Naam. Pause. Sohaagni = married to (connected with) Waheguru. Raaviya = enjoyed the love of. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Suntokh(i) = with contentment. Seegaariya = adorned with. Pir(u) = husband. Resaaloo = source of all tastes. 2. Koodruteen = powers. Daat(i) = largess. Sift(i) = praise. Ajaat(i) = low caste. 3. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Oopjaiy = appears. Soort(i) = awareness. Buchni = words. Bhuou Khaayay = kills his fears. 4.

MEANING: Everyone is under Your control, oh, the Creator (Waheguru). When we ponder on Your Shabad (in Your praise), we realize that there is no one else who has the ability to support us when You are there (to support us). Pause.
The True Lord possesses all virtues, and we possess only ignoble qualities. So, let all of us dear friends join with affection, and discuss the stories of the omnipotent Waheguru (sing His praise). 1. If we ask the devotees who are married to Waheguru (are connected with Him), with what qualities they have enjoyed union with the Lord, their response is that one must be adorned with the high spiritual state, contentment, and sweet language. Besides, one must listen to Guru's Shabad (and obey that) to get connected with the Dear Husband (Waheguru), which is the source of all enjoyable tastes in life. 2.
Nobody knows the countless powers, the unlimited gifts of Waheguru, and the countless living beings which sing His praise. Nobody has any idea about the countless forms and colours of the Lord, and His high and low castes. 3. Waheguru is present in every living being, and Waheguru appears in the heart of the devotee who gets connected with Him. If one acquires the awareness (becomes enlightened) with the Guru's Words (His Shabad), he is able to kill his worldly fears and earn respect in Waheguru's Court. The eternal Waheguru Himself connects His devotees with Him, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Jinhi Sach(u) vunjiya, Gur Pooray shaabaas(i). Nanak vust(u) puchhaansi, Sach(u) sauda jis(u) paas(i).

Word Meaning: Bhulee Suree = it was great. Oobri = salvaged. Ghuraah(u) = from home (the root). Doot = the five demons. Chaakri = in service as slaves. Vaysaah(u) = full faith in. Kulp = imaginary; not real (useful). Baad(i) = worthless. 1. Theeyaiy = become. Pause. Aakhun(u) = pleas to beg. Daata = provider. 2. Baaji = drama. Sunjogi = with predetermined union. Aiksay = one (family). Vijogi = separation. Bhaana = is liked by. 3. Vust(u) = thing (Waheguru's Naam). Vaysaahiyaiy = buy; deal in. Vukkhur = merchandise. Raas(i) = capital. Vunjiya = dealt in. Shabaash(i) = accolades. Puchhaansi = will recognize. Sauda = merchandise. 4.

MEANING: With full faith in Satguru, it was great for me that my haumein (selfishness and ego) was destroyed from my mind (from the root), and I was salvaged with His benevolence. Now, the five demons (lust, rage, worldly attachments, etc.) are serving me (are under my control). Realizing that religious debates carry no worth in Waheguru's Court, as He does not care about them, I have abandoned them as my imaginary (ill-conceived) beliefs. 1.

All one's worldly fears disappear when one gets connected with Waheguru. One cannot become fearless without being afraid for Waheguru in mind. The Guru's Sikhs stay absorbed in His Shabad in His shelter. Pause. There are countless people who beg for their needs, but there is only one Provider (Waheguru). It does not matter how many times people beg for their necessities, Waheguru fulfils the just needs of everybody, and there is never a shortage in His largess. However, one feels blissful (content) only when one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in one's heart, who has given us the body and the life. 2.

Like a dream, the world is a short-lived drama, in which the living beings are actors who complete their roles in a short time as per the Will of Waheguru. With the predestined union, they come together to become one family, while they leave the world with their predestined separation. Only what Waheguru likes happens, and there is nothing else anyone can do. 3. Guru's Sikhs deal in the eternal Naam of Waheguru, which becomes their eternal wealth. Those who deal in the eternal Naam earn accolades from the Guru, and Waheguru recognizes their true merchandise of His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Dhaat(u) = metal. Phoon(i) = again. Sifti = worthy of praise; God. Gulaal = red like a rose. Gebura = dark; deep; never fading. Suntokhiyaan = the content. Aikaiy Bhaayay = love for the only "One." 1. Rayn(u) = dust of the feet. Mookt Pdaaruth = emancipator; Waheguru. Dhayn = Kamdhenu. Pause. Oochou Thaan = the high place (above the effects of Maya). Soohaavna = blissful. Mooraar(i) = Waheguru. Sach(u) Kerni = holy deeds. Aatum Ram = God. 2. Tribidh Kerm = deeds under the influence of the three effects of Maya. Undaysa = worries. Tirkooti = three effects of Maya. Chhootsi = get rid of. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Nedr(i) = kind sight. Mul(u) Dhoyay = wash filth of. 3. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Tiyaagaiy = abandon. Bulihaari Jaas(u) = offer to sacrifice. 4.

MEANING: Just like a metal which melts, and mixes uniformly with another metal having the same properties, a devotee, who sings praise of Waheguru, acquires the same qualities as Waheguru, and his mind is dyed with the deep red colour (which never fades) with Waheguru's love, and he merges with Him. With the recitation of the Naam of the "One" (Waheguru), the content devotees acquire Waheguru (His Naam) in their hearts. 1. Become humble like the dust of the feet of the holy men, oh my brother. The gathering of the holy saints is like the mythical cow, Kamdhenu, which is believed to grant all wishes, and one acquires the Guru (Waheguru's Naam) in the holy gathering and attains emancipation. Pause. The spiritual state above the effects of Maya is highly blissful, and so is the Palace of Waheguru; so, the devotee, with deeds of high morality and with love for Him, reaches the Door and the Palace of Waheguru (gets connected with Him) in that state. So, one needs to teach (purify) his mind in the shelter of the Guru by pondering over Waheguru (His Naam). 2. To fulfil his hopes, the man performs deeds under the influence of the three effects of Maya, but suffers from worries. So, how can one rise above the effects of Maya to attain a high spiritual state where he can enjoy real bliss by connecting with the Guru? One recognizes the dwelling (presence) of Waheguru in his own heart in that state when he washes away the filth of his mind with His kind sight. 3. One's filth of his evil thinking does not come off without the Guru, and he cannot implant Waheguru's Naam in his heart. So, abandoning all other hopes, one should ponder only on the Guru's Shabad. I am a sacrifice for the devotee who "sees" Waheguru, and "shows" Him to others, oh Nanak. 4.12.

Word Meaning: Dhrig =reprehensible. Dohaagni = ditched by husband; disconnected with Waheguru. Kullur Kayri = of saltpetre. Kundh = wall. Ehinis = day and night. Dheh = collapse. Theevaiy = happens. 1. Moondhay = oh, young woman. Sheengar = adornments. Dhoyee = shelter. Khooaar(u) = humiliation. Pause. Soojaan(u) = wise; know-all. Kirsan = farmer. Dherti = field (of heart). Saadh(i) = make suitable. Daan(u) = donation; seeding. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine treasures. Neeshaan(u) = stamp of approval. 2. Jaan(i) = recognize. Chujj(u) Achaar(u) = manners; character. Undhulay = blind. Goobaar(u) = darkness. Chookyee = ends. 3. Chundun = sandalwood. Anaaya = brought. Maang = central part. Sundhoor(u) = vermillion. Choa = extract of flowers. Paan = betel-leaf wrap. Kupoor = camphor. Adummbur(u) = decorations for show off. Koorr(u) = false; worthless. 4. Rus = tastes. Bhogun = to enjoy. Baad(i) = useless = Vikaar. Bhaydiyaiy = pierced.

MEANING: The living of the woman (human) who is robbed of her good qualities due to her love for worldly attractions, and as a result of which she is disconnected from God, is reprehensible. She is like a wall of saltpetre, which can crumble at any time, day or night. There is no comfort without Guru's Shabad, and one's suffering does not go away without union with Waheguru-Husband. 1. What is the use of any adornment without the (Waheguru) husband, oh young woman? You cannot find shelter at Waheguru Door or at His court, where you will suffer humiliation due to your falseness. Pause. Waheguru is omniscient and is a great farmer who never forgets His responsibilities. First, He prepares the field of His devotee's heart with noble qualities to make it suitable (for His Naam to sprout), and then He seeds His Naam in there. When Waheguru's Naam, which is like the nine mythical treasures (source of all comforts), sprouts in the devotee's heart, he receives Waheguru's stamp of approval with His benevolence. 2. What kind of (pathetic) manners does a woman have who, knowing well that there is no comfort without Waheguru's Naam, still does not make any connection with Him? Engrossed in Maya, the man lives in complete darkness in the realm of spirituality, and the blind man forgets Waheguru. His cycle of births and deaths never gets broken, and he suffers humiliation due to his rebirths. 3. Such a man is like the bride who buys sandalwood extract, adorns herself immensely with the extract of sandalwood and flowers, with camphor and saffron, and puts vermilion in the central part of her hair, and chews wraps of betel leaves. But all the big show of her adornments goes to waste if her husband does not like her. 4. All one's enjoyments of different tastes in life, and all his adornments are worthless unless his mind is pierced with Guru's Shabad to look dignified in Waheguru's Court (to be honoured there). Those women are highly fortunate who love their Waheguru-Husband, oh Nanak. 5.13.

Word Meaning: Soonjeen = empty. Duraavni = scary; frightening. Jeeou = soul. Bhaayay Bulundi = burning fire (of life). Vijhvi = put out. Dhooun = smoke. Punchay = the five (demons). Roonnay = cried. Binsay = destroyed. Doojaiy Bhaayay = with love for sensual pleasures. 1. Moorray = oh, foolish. Saar(i) = by remembering. Mohni = captivating. Mootthi = robbed. Pause. Doobidha = in indecisiveness. Puch(i)

= in suffering. Trishna = desires. Oobray = salvaged. Dhundaiy Tthug(i) = deceitful (short-lived) worldly affairs. 2.
Viroadh = opposition. Kerm(i) = with benevolence; fortune. Nirodh(u) = unattached. 3. Kaaraiy = deeds. Pullaiy = acquire. Nur = man. Paiyndha = robe of honour. 4.
MEANING: The dead body, after the soul leaves it, becomes frightening to everybody. The fire of life, which was alive in the body, is put out, and no smoke (sign of life) is visible. All five demons (lust, greed, rage, etc.), which enjoyed sensual pleasures, do cry in suffering as their enjoyments are destroyed. 1. You are being robbed of your noble qualities by the captivating Maya of selfishness, ego, worldly attractions, and your pride, oh, the foolish man. So, (to protect your noble qualities), recite Waheguru's Naam remembering His virtues. Pause. Those who forget Waheguru because of the fire of desires in their mind, and work hard to acquire worldly comforts, suffer in that fire. Only those who are protected by Satguru attain salvation; the others are robbed of their good qualities through their dealings in worldly affairs. 2. (At the time of death) All one's love and affection for the perishables, and his enmity and opposition against others, come to an end. His worldly affairs exhaust (end), and his attachment to Maya and the resulting rage become dead. It is with the benevolence of Waheguru that one comes to know the reality and gets fully detached from the world in the shelter of the Guru. 3. One acquires Waheguru's Naam by following the path of truthfulness (high morality with Waheguru's Naam at heart) with the advice of the Guru. Such a devotee neither dies nor takes rebirths (becomes immortal by merging into Waheguru). Such individuals become (spiritual) leaders and are honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.14.

Word Meaning: Munoor = burned (brittle) iron. Augun = ignoble qualities. Laagoo Bhuyyay = on the attack. Vujaavaiy Toor = play loud music; make much noise; begin to prevail. Bhermaayiyaiy = misled in misbeliefs. Doobhida = indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya). Poor = groups. 1. Turhou = swim across. Boojhiya = realized; made a connection with. Pause. Soocha = pure. Raati = imbued. Dayhoori = body. Sooaaou = taste. Nihaaliyaiy = see; cast. Taaou = heat of the womb. 2. Puvna = air; gases. Tirbhuvun = three-dimensional (solid); universe. Nirmul = clean; pure. Theeyaiy = becomes. Put(i) = dignity. 3. Saach(i) = with the Naam. Suntokhiya = contented. Punch Bhoot = the five demons. Bhaiy Ruttay = imbued in love-filled fear. Taah(i) = of those. 4.

MEANING: Without the Guru's Shabad, huge groups of people (countless people) are misled by the attractions of Maya and drown in its sea because of their indecisiveness. Man's body burns in the fire of desires (which are not always fulfilled) to become cheap like dirt, and his mind becomes like burnt (brittle) iron (he loses his morality and patience). His ignoble qualities attack him like an enemy, and the falsehood (lies and deceit) begin to prevail. 1. Swim across the sea of worldly attractions by focusing on Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. Those who do not realize Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru die and are reborn again, and again. Pause. The human body is considered pure, with Waheguru's eternal Naam enshrined within it. Such a body (man) is imbued in Waheguru's love-filled fear, and the tongue enjoys the taste of His Naam. Waheguru casts kind sight on such an individual, who never suffers the heat of the womb again (is never reborn). 2. Waheguru created gases from Himself, which were converted into water, and then into solids to create the universe. Waheguru's Jot(i) (Soul) is present in every heart. The minds of those who are imbued with the love of the Guru's Shabad get purified, never to gather filth (of immoral deeds) again, and they earn respect everywhere. 3. Such devotees find full contentment with Waheguru's Naam, who always casts a kind sight on them. With their minds enlightened with Waheguru, their five demons also get imbued with the fear of Waheguru (and stay within their limits). All their ignoble qualities disappear, and the Guru protects their dignity, oh Nanak. 4.15.

Word Meaning: Sach = Waheguru (His Naam). Poor = large groups; countless people. Mun Hutth Mutee = thinking with persistence of mind. Boodiyaiy = drown 1. Aagaiy = future; death. Duou Julaiy = burning of fire; heat of womb; rebirths. Angoor = new sprouting (births). Oopjaiy = comes into being. Binsay = is destroyed. Bherpoor = fully present. MIllavhi = connects. Hudoor(i) = near; present. 2. Summlaan = remember. Visaarayoun = forget. Dhunee = Lord. Nivaar(i) = removing. 3. Tirbhuvun = three-layered universe. Aakaar = size. Chaanun = enlightenment. Moogudh = foolish. Goobaar = darkness. Niruntri = of the omnipresent (God). Saar(u) = supreme. 4. Shabaash = accolades. Sayti = with. Pergaas(i) = enlightenment. 5.
Suntokhiya = made content. Jeeou = soul; life. Pind = body. Paas(i) = in; with. 5.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam, which is realized by acting on the Advice of the Guru (by pondering on His Shabad), is the ship to ferry across the sea of Maya, which one should recite to find (attain) salvation. But, because of their ego, countless people are born, and countless of them die. Those who use the persistence of their mind (have no love for God, but rely on rituals), drown in the sea of Maya, while those who realize Waheguru with the grace of the Guru, swim across. 1.
One cannot swim across the world-sea and attain blissfulness without the Guru. I pray to the Guru that He protect me (against the attacks of Maya) in whatever way He deems appropriate, as I have no one else to go to. Pause. When I look into the future, I see the heat of the womb (rebirths) for most, while the new births are following them. Waheguru is present in everybody, and it is He from whom everybody comes into being, and who destroys them. Waheguru is not far away; He is close to us (lives in every heart, which is His dwelling). He Himself connects people to Him through the Guru. 2.
I wish to remember You with every breath, and never forget You, oh Waheguru. In the shelter of the Guru, as the Lord appears more and more, in my mind, I drink the Amrit of His Naam. 3. Waheguru, who has created this world in the form of a three-layered universe, can be realized when the Guru enlightens one's mind, while it is all darkness of Maya for the Maya-engrossed foolish. Even though the Supreme Light (Waheguru's Soul) is present in every heart, one realizes it only with the advice of the Guru. 4. Those who make a connection with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru must be praised. One's mind is enlightened with the noble qualities of Waheguru, because of which, he merges into Him. One's life and his body are controlled by Waheguru, and His Naam is the source of all contentment, oh Nanak. 5.16.

Word Meaning: Vayla = time; opportunity. Eh = this; human life. Jub Lug = as long as. Jobun = youthfulness. Tub Lug = till then. Dayh = body. Dheh(i) Dhayri = collapses into a pile. Khayh = dust. 1. Laiy Laaha = earn the benefit. Ghur(i) = Waheguru's Palace. Nivri = is removed. Haumein Bhaah(i) = fire of selfishness and ego. Pause. Gundhun Gundhiyaiy = try to build a bond (with Waheguru). Bhaar(u) = load of books. Trishna = appetite for (fire of) worldly attractions. Ehinis = day and night. Uglee = very much. Vikaar(u) = of vices. Oh(u) = God. Atoalvaan = immeasurable. Keemut(i) Saar(u) = find worth. 2. Lakh = hundred thousand. Siyaanup = smartness. Milaap = meeting with people. Dhuraapiya = find contentment. Suntaap = suffering. Chhoottiyaiy = get freedom from Maya; emancipation. Cheenaiy = analyze. Aap(u) = self. 3. Vaychiya = sold. Dhundholiya = searched. Khoaj(i) = search. Nihaal = blissful. 4.

MEANING: This (the human life) is your opportunity to meet (get connected) with Waheguru, oh my mind-friend. Your body (and mind to realize Waheguru) is with you only as long as you are young and have breath in it. Without acquiring virtues (by reciting Waheguru's Naam), your body will be worthless, as it will eventually collapse, and become dust, oh man. 1. Acquire the benefit (wealth of Waheguru's Naam), and go to your eternal home (merge into Waheguru), oh my mind. Sing praise of Waheguru's Naam (recite it with devotion) in the shelter of the Guru, whereby the fire of your haumein (selfishness and ego) will be put out. Pause. Many people try to comprehend and bond with Waheguru by listening to others and by reading and writing tons of books (without any love for Him). But they deeply suffer from their boosted ego, which is a serious disease, and have even greater desires for worldly attractions and immoral thoughts. Let alone bonding with Waheguru, by acquiring any bookish knowledge, such individuals cannot even comprehend the true worth of Waheguru, who is immeasurable, and who does not care about such knowledge. So, try to understand His true worth in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. 2.

If one uses millions of different kinds of smartness and is a part of a circle of millions of learned people, he cannot find contentment without the company (shelter) of the Guru, and suffers serious discomforts without Waheguru's Naam. One can attain emancipation only when one recites Waheguru's Naam and analyzes oneself (as to what one's real objective is and what type of qualities one has) in the shelter of the Guru. 3. I have sold my body and my mind, along with my head (wisdom), to the Guru (have lost claim on all my rights). I searched for Waheguru in the whole universe, but was blessed only to acquire Him when I searched for Him in Guru's shelter. My Satguru connected me with Waheguru, who is with me now (has appeared in my heart), oh Nanak. 4.17.

Word Meaning: Chinta = worry. Aas = wish. Pritpaalhi = nourish and raise. Laykhaiy = in account. Giraas = bite. NIrjaas(i) = test; decide. 1. Untar Laagi = fire of desires. Jul(i) Boojhi = burned to the end. Pause. Gut(i) = situation; condition. Shunk = doubts. Mur(u) = death. Unhud Shabad(i) = with the Divine Shabad = Waheguru's Naam. 2. Taas(u) = his; for him. Khurr(i) = take to. Pehnaayiyaiy = to honour. 3. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Shiv = Waheguru. Shakti = Maya. Trihu Goon = the three effects of Maya. Bundhi = bonded to. Dayhoori = body. Khayl(u) = plays; enjoys. Vijogi = separation; disconnection. Munmukh(i) = Maya-engrossed. Luhhaiy = acquires. 4. Bairaagi = with love (for Waheguru). Ghur(i) = in its own place; peaceful. Muhha Rus = supreme taste. Bhogvaiy = enjoy. Bhookh = appetite; desire. Bhee = again. 5.

MEANING: One's mind gets convinced (about the omnipresence of Waheguru) when he recites His Naam, oh my soul (mind). By acquiring the Divine Knowledge in the shelter of the Guru, one's internal fire (of worldly desires) is put out. Pause.

(Being connected with Waheguru), Such a devotee has no worries about death, and does not care if he lives any longer (to enjoy worldly attractions). He is confident that Waheguru nourishes all living beings and that everyone's number of breaths and their needs for food are in His account (He ensures all of that). When Waheguru dwells in one's heart with Guru's grace, one becomes confident that Waheguru makes His decisions as He chooses. 1. Divine Knowledge, which is highly blissful, is acquired by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. One realizes his internal situation (the presence of Waheguru within) when he surrenders to the Guru, clears all his doubts (with full faith), and kills the fear of death. 2. One's haumein is destroyed by acquiring the Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam). Those who have Waheguru's Naam on their tongue are taken to Waheguru's Court, where they receive the robe of honour. I am always a sacrifice for those who serve the Satguru. 3.

I see the combination of Waheguru and Maya (worldly attractions) everywhere (Maya is the creation of Waheguru). The human body is bound to the three effects of Maya, so whoever comes to this world plays their part to enjoy the worldly attractions. (With the love for Maya), Those who are disconnected from Waheguru suffer from His separation and cannot unite with Him. 4. But, the mind, which is imbued with the love-filled fear of Waheguru, stays in itself (does not wander any more), and enjoys the great taste of the Divine Knowledge (union with Waheguru) and never experiences the appetite for worldly desires. When a devotee kills his mind (his desires), he merges into Waheguru, and never suffers again, oh Nanak. 5.18.

Hur(i) sujjun(u) Gur(u) saynvda, Gur kerni perdhaan(u). Nanak, Naam(u) na veesraiy, kerm(i) Sachaiy neeshaan(u). 4.19.

Word Meaning: Lobhiya = greedy. Lobhaan(u) = engrossed in greed. Bheejaiy = get imbued. Saaktaa = Maya-worshippers. Doomut(i) = immoral thinking. Aavun Jaan = coming and going; rebirths. Gooni-Nidhaan(u) = the source of all virtues; Waheguru. 1. Goomaan = pride. Servur(u) = pool (of Naam-Amrit). Pause. Kookur = dog; doglike. Koorr(u) = falsehood. Puchaiy Puchaa(u) = burns (suffer badly). Ghuno = immense. Khoolhaan = pulverize. Soobhaan = amazing. 3.
Aiythaiy = here; in this world. Dhundh Pitaayiyaiy = perform worldly affairs. Sach(u) Likhut(u) = Waheguru's written Huqam. Saunvda = serves. Kerni = performance of (noble) deeds. Perdhaan(u) = main. Neeshaan = identification; approval. 4.

MEANING: The minds of the Maya-engrossed people do not get imbued in the Guru's Shabad, and due to their immoral thinking, they continue to take births and die. (Like those people) you are also engrossed in Maya out of greed, oh, my foolish mind. But one can realize Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, in Satguru's shelter. 1.

To earn respect in Waheguru's Court, get rid of your selfishness, ego, and your pride, and serve the Guru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, and is a pool of all virtues, oh my mind. Pause. Recognize the wealth (great worth) of Waheguru in the shelter of Satguru, and recite His Naam day and night. Acquire (enshrine) Waheguru's Naam in your heart in the holy congregation of the saints (Satguru), and enjoy all the comforts and all the great tastes of life. Those who are given Waheguru's Naam by Satguru serve Waheguru (recite His Naam) day and night. 2.
The vilifiers of Satguru lie about Him, and are like dogs (which bark at everyone), as a result of which they suffer badly in the fire (of jealousy). Lost in their misbeliefs, they suffer immensely, and the Angel of justice pulverizes them (punishes them severely). The vilifiers of Satguru never enjoy peace, while Guru's Sikhs enjoy amazing bliss. 3.
The man performs Maya-related tasks here (in this world), but only they are approved by Waheguru, who obeys His Huqam (Will) (even while performing worldly affairs). Performing deeds as per the Teachings of the Guru is the main objective for the man, and such a devotee serves the Guru and Waheguru and becomes their friend. With the benevolence of Waheguru, the devotee who never forgets Waheguru's Naam receives the stamp of His approval, oh Nanak. 4.19.

Word Meaning: Til(u) = very short time. Kiyoun = how. Put(i) = respect. Ja = with which. Ugun = fire (of desires). 1. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Saar(i) = remember. Khin = Pul = very short moment. Tay Jun = those. Virlaiy = rare; very few. Pause. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. Soorti = the subject of focus (God). Soort(i) = focused mind. Sunjog(u) = union. Hinsa = cruelty. Gut(u) Guyyay = ran away. Sehsa = worries. Soag(u)

= grief. 2. Kaaya = body. Kaamun(i) = (loyal) wife. Bhogunhaar = one who enjoys (Waheguru). Nayh = love. Chullunhaar = perishable. Ruveh(i) = enjoys. Sohaagni = married; beloved. Sayj = bed. Bhutaar = husband. 3. Chaaray Ugun(i) = the four fires: cruelty; attachment; greed; and rage. Nivaar(i) = remove. Mur(u) = kill worldly desires. Pergasiya = blooms. Aghaayay = contentment. 4.

MEANING: I feel a deep affliction of the mind if I forget my Dear (Waheguru) for even a short moment. To earn respect in Waheguru's Court, one needs to enshrine His Naam in one's mind. One acquires noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru due to which the fire of his worldly desires is killed, and he enjoys blissfulness. 1.

So, remember Waheguru's Virtues (sing His praise) day and night, oh my mind. But there are very few such individuals who do not forget Waheguru for even a moment. Pause.

If a devotee focuses his mind on Waheguru (His Naam) with full devotion, he gets united with Waheguru, and his soul merges into the Supreme Soul; his cruelty and haumein vanish, and he never suffers from worries and any grief. Satguru unites (connects) the devotee with Waheguru, who gets Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart with the grace of Satguru. 2. One should not have love for the perishable to satisfy one's sensual pleasures. (So, rather than enjoying worldly pleasures), if I make my body an obedient wife of Waheguru, then Waheguru will enjoy union with me (His Naam will be enshrined in my heart). With Guru's grace, such a devotee becomes married to Waheguru (gets connected with him), and the Waheguru-Husband comes to the bed of the devotee's heart. 3. Make Satguru your friend, and with His grace, sprinkle the water of Naam-Amrit on the four fires (of cruelty, attachments, greed, and fury) smouldering in your mind, and kill your desires. Then you will notice that the lotus of your heart will bloom (your mind will be enlightened), you will be fully contented with the Naam Amrit, and will be united with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.20.

Word Meaning: Jupou = recite (the Naam). Boal(i) = utter; say. Kusvutti = touchstone; yardstick. Tooliyaiy = weighed. Toal(i) = standard weight. Rid = heart. Maanuk = pearls.

Amoal(i) = priceless. 1. Maah(i) = with; in possession. Salaah(u) = praise. Pause. Vukkhur = merchandise. Dhun(u) Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Pergaas(i) = enlightenment. Trishna = fire of desires. Jundaar(u) = evil-spirited. Bhoujul(u) = the world-sea. Tyraiy Turaas(i) = swim across with confidence. 2. Koorr(u) = falsehood; hypocrisy. Bhaayay = with love. Saakut = Maya-engrossed. Sach = Waheguru. Koorri = false. Paayayn = ability; thinking power. Sach(i) = with the Naam. 3. Laal(u) = ruby. Ruttan Pdaaruth = valuable jewels. Heer(u) = diamond. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheer = never changing (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise with the Advice (Shabad) of the Guru, oh my dear friend. One's mind is tested on the scale, which assesses one's virtues against those required for union with Waheguru, and one is approved for the union only if one meets the required standard. Nobody can determine the spiritual worth (transcendence) of such a devotee who has met the requirement of pearl-like noble qualities for the union. 1. The diamond-like Waheguru's Naam is in the control of the Guru (only He can implant the Naam in the devotees' hearts). One can meet with the Guru in the gathering of the holy saints when he needs to sing Waheguru's praise day and night. Pause.
When a devotee's mind is enlightened by the Guru, he acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, and the desire of his fires is put out like water puts out the common fires; also, the devotee becomes so humble as if he were the slave of Waheguru's slaves. The evil Angel of death cannot touch him, as he swims across the world-sea (to merge into Waheguru). 2. Imbued in the love of Waheguru, the Sikhs of the Guru do not like falsehood (hypocrisy and love for the perishables) while the Maya-engrossed hypocrites do not like Waheguru (His praise), because their thinking power is maligned by their hypocrisy. The devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru's love, get connected with Satguru and get absorbed in Waheguru with His Naam. 3. The unfathomable, and the never-changing Waheguru is present in every heart, and His Naam is the devotee's eternal wealth. With the Naam at heart, the devotee acquires all the noble qualities like those of pearls, rubies, jewels, and diamonds. When the diamond-like Waheguru becomes benevolent to someone, he acquires His Naam in his heart in the shelter of Satguru, oh Nanak. 4.21.

Word Meaning: Bhermaiy = by roaming around. Bhaayay = fire (of desires). Vijhvaiy = put out. Disuntar Days(u) = faraway lands. Dhrig(u) = reprehensible. Vays(u) = religious outfit. 1. Nivaar(i) = remove. Kuhhiya = Words; Shabad. Maar(i) = kill.
Pause. Nirmoal(u) = priceless. Put(i) = respect. Liv Laayay = meditate. Aap(u) = haumein (selfishness and ego). Sulul = water. 2. Chatiyo = remember. Su = that. Augun(i) = bad qualities. Bhaytiyo = meet with. Puchaiy Puchaayay = suffers badly. Kaudi = a worthless cowrie shell. Budlay = in exchange. 3. Rus(i) = with affection. Pooray = perfect. Soojaan = wise. Oojlay = shiny; unblemished. Dhoon(i) = sound (of Waheguru's praise). Neeshaan(u) = identification. 4.

MEANING: (Some people leave their homes and roam around with the belief that they will get detached from worldly attractions. But Guru Nanak Sahib has the firm belief that one's fire of desires is never put out, no matter how far away lands he roams around. Leading life with such misleading beliefs is reprehensible, and so is wearing such religious garbs. No other worship than the Teachings of Satguru is approved (by Waheguru). 1.
Put out the fire of your desires in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. One's haumein (selfishness and ego) are destroyed when Satguru's Shabad is cultivated in his mind.
Pause. The mind, which has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in it, becomes invaluable and pure like a pearl and earns respect everywhere. One acquires Waheguru's Naam in the holy gathering when he meditates on Guru's Shabad; (by doing so, he gets rid of his selfishness and ego, attains blissfulness and merges in Waheguru like water in one container mixes fully with water in another container. 2. Those who do not remember Waheguru cannot rid themselves of their ignoble qualities, and as a result, they continue to take rebirths. Likewise, those who do not seek Satguru's shelter suffer badly in the world-sea. The human life of such individuals, which is otherwise priceless, is wasted, as if traded for a worthless cowrie shell. 3. Those who seek the shelter of Satguru with love and respect are truly wise (acquire His wisdom). One swims across the sea of Maya in the shelter of Satguru and is respected in Waheguru's Court. The sound of Waheguru's praise arises in the mind of such devotees, which becomes their identification to be honoured in Waheguru's Court, where their faces radiate due to their purity of mind, oh Nanak. 4.22.

Word Meaning: Vunuj Kurhou = deal in. Vunjaariyo = businessmen. Vukkhur = merchandise (of Waheguru's Naam). Smaal(i) = keep safely; deal carefully. Vust = the valuable matter. Visaahiyaiy = purchase. Nibhaiy Naal(i) = lasts till the end. Shah(u) = the Master. Soojaan = know-all; 0mniscient. Laiysi = will. Smaal(i) = examine. 1. Chit Laayay = deep from the heart; with full devotion. Hur(i) Jus(u) = Waheguru's praise. Shuhou = Master. Putiyaayay = pleased. Pause. Sach(u) Raas(i) = wealth of Waheguru's Naam. Khota = impure; dishonest. Phaahi Phaathay = snared; trapped. Mirg = deer. Ghuno = immense. Nit = always. 2. Poataiy = into the treasure. Jaat(i) = high status. Seejhus(i) = successful. 3. Ruttiyaan = imbued. Bhaar(u) = burden (of immoral deeds). Bherm(u) = doubts. Laaha = benefit; wealth. Ugla = much. Nirbhuou = fearless. 4.

MEANING: (Everybody in this world is a businessman (a dealer) where Maya and Waheguru's Naam are the merchandizes to deal in; some people deal in Maya (worldly attractions, while a few in Waheguru's Naam. Guru Nanak Sahib advises that) one should be careful in dealing in the merchandize so that it lasts with him till the end (is carried over to the next world). The Master in the next world is omniscient and will examine it well. 1.

So, recite Waheguru's Naam with full devotion, and deal in His praise, which will accompany you to Waheguru's Court, and He will be pleased to see I, oh brothers. Pause.

How can those who do not have the wealth of Waheguru's Naam enjoy comforts? The mind and the body of those who engage in dishonest dealings also become dishonest, and like a snared (trapped) deer, they suffer immensely and cry always. 2.

The dishonest cannot have Waheguru's glimpse and cannot find room in His treasure (cannot merge into Him). Such people enjoy no status or respect and cannot succeed (find approval in Waheguru's Court). The dishonest deal in dishonesty, lose respect in Waheguru's Court, and stay in the birth-death cycle. 3.

One should teach (educate) their mind to sing Waheguru's praise with the Guru's Shabad. Those who get imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam have no burden of immorality and no misbeliefs, oh Nanak. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, one earns the great wealth that the fearless Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart. 4.23.

Pubbun = a brush by water with clover-like leaves, and which dies down quickly without water. Kayray = of. Put = leaves. Dhul(i) Dhool(i) = by wilting away. Joommunhaar(u) = perishable. 1. Rung(u) Maan(i) Laiy = enjoy the beauty. Nuohoola = fresh; at peak. Thukkay = exhausted; near the end. Chola = gown; body. Pause. Rungulay = colourful. Jeeraan(i) = graveyard. Humbhi = me too. Vunjaan = will go. Doomni = indecisive. Jheeni Baan(i) = softly. 2. Kee Na = why not? Goriyay = oh, the wise woman. Soyay = news. Lugi Aaveh(i) = will travel to. Sahooray = in-laws' home; next world. MEANING: Like the pubbun brush of which the leaves wither away quickly in absence of water, wealth, youthfulness, and flowers are like visitors for a short time. 1. (Forgetting Waheguru), One can enjoy the luxuries of life for a short time only, as long as one is not old. Human life is short, and as one ages, they have no energy left to enjoy life's luxuries. (So, why not remember Waheguru to achieve eternal bliss)? Pause. Some friends, who enjoyed the luxuries of life (and did not remember Waheguru), are now lying dead in the graveyard. Now, I am crying softly (to myself only) that if I do not remember Waheguru and stay indecisive (do not make a firm choice between Waheguru and Maya), I will also meet the same fate (stay disconnected from Waheguru and end up in the graveyard). 2. Why don't you listen with your own ears to the news (of the fate of the people who ignore Waheguru), oh, the "wise" young woman? You cannot live in your parental home (In this world) forever; you have to go to the next world one day (so, remember Waheguru). 3. Word Meaning: Rusiya = source of all sweet tastes. Rus(u) = sweet tastes. Raavunhaar = one who enjoys. Cholrra = outfit; woman. Sayj Bhutaar = husband on the bed. 1. Rung(i) Rutta = imbued in love. Sahib = Lord. Bherpoor(i) = omnipresent. Pause. Maachhi = fisherman. Munkurra = the heavy iron balls to keep the net underwater. Laal = the red piece of meat used as bait. 2. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many different ways. Sukhiyay = oh, my friend. Laal(u) = beloved. Nit = always. Sohaagni = married to (connected with); fortunate. Haal(u) = (pathetic) condition. 3. Pernvaiy = prays. Baynti = request. Servur = pool; lake. Hus(u) = swan. Kaul(u) = lotus. Kuvviya = water-lily, a small flower that blooms in moonlight. Vigus(u) = feel blissful. 4.

MEANING: (Being omnipresent) Waheguru Himself is the source of all sweet tastes, Himself, the sweet taste, and Himself enjoys all the tastes. Likewise, He Himself is the wife, and Himself the husband, on the bed of her heart. 1. Full of love, my Lord is present everywhere. Pause. Waheguru, Himself is the fisherman, Himself, the fish, and Himself the net in the water. He, Himself, is the heavy iron balls (to keep the net under water, and Himself the bait for the fish. 2. My dear Waheguru is colourful, who enjoys His creation in many ways, oh my friend. He always enjoys His union with the fortunate devotees, but look at my pathetic situation (I am separated from Him)!! 3.

I humbly state the fact that Waheguru Himself is the pool of water, and Himself the swans in it. He Himself is the lotus flower, Himself the kuvviya, and feels blissful to see all His creation, oh Nanak. 4.25.

Word Meaning: Tun(u) = body. Kerma = deeds. Sulil Aapaou = irrigate with water. Saringpani = God. Kirsan(u) = farmer. Jumaayay Laiy = cultivate. Iyoun = like this. Pud(u) Nirbani = the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 1. Gerbus(i) = feel conceited. Sooto = sons. Sugul = all. Kaluttar = wife. Sukhaaya = friends. Pause. Bikhaiy Bikaar = immoralities. Doosht = evil; enemies. Kirkha Kuray = pull out. Tuj(i) = abandoning. Aatmaiy = with soul; from the bottom of the heart. Jup(u) Tup(u) = hard labour to worship Waheguru. Sunjum(u) = control on senses. Raakhay = guards. Kumul Bigsaiy = heart blooms. Madh(u) = honey (like sweet Amrit). Aasermaayi = oozes. 2.

Bees = twenty (ghurees; 8 hours). Suptaahro = week. Baasro = days. Sungreh(i) = accumulate. Teen(i) Khorra = the three stages of life (childhood, youth, and old age).

Kaal(u) Saaray = keep death in mind. Thus = ten (the four Vedas and the six Shastras). Atthaarmaiy = 18 (Puranas). Uprumpro = Waheguru. Cheenaiy = look for. 3.
MEANING: Why are you conceited about your wealth, oh foolish man? All your relatives, including your father, sons, wife, and mother (for whom you earn this wealth by working very hard), will be of no help at the end, oh foolish man. Pause.
If you make your mind a farmer, think of your body as a field, and plant the seeds of your noble deeds in there, irrigating the body field with the water of Waheguru's Naam, then His Naam will sprout in your heart (will make your mind His dwelling), and you will attain the spiritual state which is above the effects of Maya (will be salvaged) oh my friend. 1.
(Your true friend is Waheguru), So, pull out the evil thoughts about sensual enjoyments from your mind, get rid of them and recite His Naam with full devotion. When hard labour to recite Waheguru's Naam (to obey His Will), and your control on senses becomes your guards (against the attacks of Maya), your lotus-like heart will bloom, and honey-like sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam will ooze out in your mind. 2. When you accumulate the wealth of Waheguru's Naam eight hours per day (excluding sleep, work etc.) all the seven days of the week, remember death in all the three stages of life (childhood, youth, and old age), and look for (recognize) Waheguru's Naam in all the religious books, like the Vedas, the Shastras, and the Puranas, then the "One" Waheguru salvages you, oh Nanak. 3.26.

Word Meaning: Uml(u) = deeds. Aab = shine; splendour. Eemaan = faith; reverence. Jummayay Laiy = cultivate. Bhist = paradise. Dojuk = hell. Aiv = like this. 1.
Mut Jaanseh(i) = do not think. Maal = wealth. Maanaiy = in pride. Roop = beauty. Sobha = praise; fame. It(u) Bidh(i) = in this way. Pause. Aib(u) = vices. Chikkrro = mud. Meendko = frog. Dileh(i) = in heart. Pusinday = to like. 3.
Teeh = 30 (Rozsa). Punj = five (Nivajes; Muslim prayers). Mut = maybe. Sunjiaahi = accumulate. 4.

MEANING: Like a farmer, if you make your deeds (thinking; mind) the field, plant the seeds of Satguru's Shabad (your deeds should be according to the Guru's Teachings), in the mind filed, and irrigate the field with the splendour of Waheguru with full faith, His Naam will sprout in your mind field, and you will know what paradise and the hell (connection with, and separation from Waheguru) are, oh my friends. 1.

Never, ever believe that you can realize Waheguru just by talking (about Him). (With this misbelief), The man wastes away his precious human life in his conceit of Maya and the fame of his handsomeness. Pause.

The human body is full of the mud of vices, and the mind is like the frog in that mud, which does not understand the worth of the lotus growing in that mud (Waheguru, which is present in the same body). The bumblebee hovers around the lotus flower with the musical sound of its flapping wings, but the frog does not recognize the worth of the lotus flower (Satguru delivers His Teachings, but the frog-like mind does not listen to that). Actually, how can the Maya-engrossed human mind understand that until Waheguru exhorts him to do so? 2.

With his mind imbued in his love for Maya, Satguru's Shabad is simply words in the air for the man. But those who remember the "One" (Waheguru) with devotion, love simply a kind sight of Waheguru. 3. A Muslim observes the thirty Rozas, and offers prayers five times a day with the belief that his name will be dropped from Satan's list (he will be a good human in the eyes of Allah, and will be approved by Him); but all such holy deeds are spiritually worthless because) he is still imbued in Maya, and accumulates it. The only way to realize Waheguru (Allah) is to tread the path of righteousness, oh Nanak. 4.27.

Word Meaning: Maula = bloom; Lord. Mauliya = cause to bloom; energize. Aab(u) = water. Khaak = dust. Dhunn(u) = great; praiseworthy. 1. Kartaroun = from Waheguru. Pause. Bhuriyaiy Paayi = when the time is up. Paayi = an old device to measure time. A standard bowl with holes at the bottom was placed on the surface of water. Water would enter the bowl through the holes, and when the device was full, it would sink. The time for the bowl to sink was called a "Ghurri" which was equal to 24 minutes. 2. Aap(u) = one's selfishness and ego. Tujiya = abandoned. Adhaaro = made the basis. Sirjunhaaro = the Creator (Waheguru). 3. Goar = grave. 4.

MEANING: Everybody has to die one day; so, you must be afraid of Waheguru (Allah), oh Moolah (because only His Naam can destroy the fear of death). Pause.
The Lord (Waheguru), who has bonded water and dust together to create the world, which is the source of all life, and which causes the world to bloom and energizes it, is great. (So, sing His praise). 1. Only then you are a true Moolah or a Qazi, if you enshrine Allah's Naam in you heart. Nobody stays in this world after his allotted time is up – no matter how highly literate he is. 2. The eternal Creator (Waheguru) is here, will always be here, and will never go away. So, only that individual is a true qazi who has rid himself of selfishness and ego and has made Allah the basis of his life. 3. Moonh Daysaan = show my face. Doosht(u) = evil. Choar(u) = thief. 4.
MEANING: (Please be kind to me; I have to make the following confession, oh my Waheguru.) I lead a contemptuous lifestyle as I have doglike greed, and female-doglike hopes and desires in my mind, which make loud demands starting early in the morning, every day. I have the knife of deceits and lies in my hand (to defraud others), and am being robbed

(of my good qualities, if I am left with any) by my evil deeds of robbing others. 1. I do not listen to the advice of the Master (Satguru) and do not perform the noble deeds as per His Advice. I have become frighteningly twisted in my thinking. My only hope and my only basis are Your Naam, which salvages the whole world. Pause.
I am so ignoble and so low-caste that I maliciously criticize (vilify) others day and night, and keep an evil eye on the homes of others. (On top of those), Ruthless lust and fury keep occupying my mind. Such is my contemptuous lifestyle, oh my Waheguru. 2.
Even though I don an outfit of holy-looking men, trapping others in my net of deceit, is always on my mind. Indeed, my mind is a home of treachery, and I deceive the world. I consider myself very smart, but carry a heavy load of sins, oh my Waheguru. 3. I am hugely ungrateful to You as I do not acknowledge Your favours and benevolence for me. I am such an evil thief, that I cannot show you my ugly face. After deep thinking, I, Nanak, have realized that I am an ignoble, and such contemptuous is my lifestyle, oh Waheguru. 4.29.

Word Meaning: Soort(i) = awareness. Vihoona = without; devoid of. Raah(u) = lifestyle. Laykha Ikko = the same account (rules). 1. Kaahay = what for? Chuturaayi = play smart. Layvaiy = takes away. Dhill = delay. Pause. Roh(i) = anger. 2. Boal-Vigaarr = bad-mouthed. Boal = words. Toleh(i) Toal = weigh; evaluate. Kerni = (noble) deeds. Baajhoun = without. Prunvut(i) = suggests humbly. Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = self-analysis. Boojhaiy = understands; unlocks (the secrets). 3.

MEANING: Waheguru has infused awareness in every living being – albeit to varying degrees and in different forms – and there is no one without awareness. However, everyone chooses their lifestyle based on the level of awareness they have. Waheguru keeps account of everybody's deeds using the same principles, as a result of which, they come to the world and leave (take birth, and die). 1. Why do you use your smartness to acquire worldly things, when Waheguru gives His gifts, and takes them away according to your deeds, and does not delay even for a short moment in doing so, oh man? Pause.

Everybody belongs to Waheguru, and Waheguru belongs to them, so how can the Lord be angry at them? Waheguru is forgiving, so if He does get angry at someone, it is for their benefit, because even he has been created by Him. 2. On the other hand, we (humans) are bad-mouthed, and we harm our interests by our foul language, whereas the munificent Waheguru evaluates us with His kind sight. An individual whose performs noble deeds (as per the Advice of the Guru), has perfect (noble) wisdom (to attain high spirituality); whereas, there is always a loss in spirituality) without noble deeds. 3.
Who is considered to be a giyani (enlightened devotee), asks Nanak humbly. (The answer is) That a giyani is a devotee who analyses the self (to determine his objective in life and his strengths and weaknesses) and connects with Waheguru. Such a giyani ponders on Guru's Shabad, and is approved in Waheguru's Court. 4.30.

(But I know one thing for sure), I have no other shelter to go to. I consume only that which You give me. I humbly admit that my body and soul are controlled by You. 3.

You are close to some, while far away for some others, and also in-between for some. You have created the world with Your powers, and watch and listen to everything (that we do). I accept (obey) everything that happens according to Your Huqam (Will), oh Nanak. 4.31.

Word Meaning: Keeta = created. Kuhaa = where; how? Maan(u) = take pride (credit). Dayvunhaaray = the Provider. Daan(u) = gifts. Bhaavaiy = whether. 1.
Sach(u) = eternal; source of all virtues. Kucha = weak in qualities. Pause.
Rookh Birkh = trees; vegetation. Aaraaou = adornment. Dhaat(u) = basic nature. Bhaaou = affection; intent. Phul = result; reward. Likhiya = in fortune. 2.
Kundh = wall; body; human character. Raaj(u) = (the mind architect). Alooni = without salt (distasteful). Fikka Saad = tasteless. Aanay = (if He) brings (causes). Raas(i) = successful. Shabaash(i) = praise; approval. 3.

MEANING: The eternal Waheguru is the creator of the universe, and is the source of all virtues, and he likes virtues (purity of mind) only. The Maya-engrossed individual is blinded by its attractions and lacks virtues; as a result, he is totally unreliable. Pause.
So, how can the man created by Waheguru (and with many weaknesses) take credit for something? All gifts (natural resources) are controlled by Waheguru. What can the man, who was created by Waheguru, acquire by saying (wishing for that)? It is completely up to Waheguru to grant or not to grant him his wishes. 1. The Guru has adorned the world with trees and vegetation, and they are named according to their nature (sweet, sour, bitter, fragrant, distasteful, medicinal, or harmful, etc.). Like the trees, the man bears different kinds of flowers and fruit (good or bad nature) as per his predetermined intent (by Waheguru). One sows the seeds of his choice and reaps their resulting rewards. 2.
One's mind is the architect of his body house. If the mind (thinking) is impure, so will be his body (his deeds). With tasteless thinking, his deeds will also be tasteless (useless for others, and for himself too). One achieves spiritual success only if Waheguru is kind to him (he recites His Naam). One earns no praise in Waheguru's Court without His Naam, oh Nanak. 3.32.

Word Meaning: Achhull = undeceivable. Chhalaayi = try to deceive. Ghaaou = wound. Kataara = big knife. Lobhi = greedy. Jeeou = mind. Tulpulaiy = gets tempted. 1.
Tayl = oil (Waheguru's Naam). Deeva = lamp (to enlighten the mind). Pause.
Pothi = book of Teachings of the Guru. Kmaayiyaiy = lead life by. Bhuou = fear of God. Vutti = wick. Sach(u) Boojhun(u) = comprehending Waheguru (making a connection with Him). Aan(i)= by bringing. Julaayiyaiy = light up. 2. Baania = Guru's Shabad. 3. Baisun(u) = seat. Baanh Loodaayiyaiy = walk with confidence; feel blissful. 4.

MEANING: Maya is so undeceivable (its attractions are so strong) that no one can deceive it (resist the temptations of its attractions) even if he tries very hard to do so. No knife can cause any wound to it (weaken its effects). Actually, it is Waheguru's Will that man's greedy mind becomes weak in its temptations. So, we have to live by His will. 1.
Just like an oil lamp cannot be lighted without oil, one's mind cannot be enlightened without the oil of Waheguru's Naam. Pause. To light up the lamp of mind, one should lead his life according to the Teachings of the Guru, which should be his reading of the Puranas; and a love-filled fear of Waheguru in his mind should serve as the wick of the lamp. Comprehending Waheguru (making a connection with Him) enlightens the lamp-like mind of the devotee. 2. (Waheguru's Naam) Is the oil to light up the lamp of the mind? One connects with Waheguru when one's mind is illuminated by the lamp described above. Pause. Everybody comes and goes in this temporary world. One feels blissful only when one enshrines the Guru's Bani (His Shabad) in one's mind. 3.
One should serve humanity in the world, to earn a seat in Waheguru's Court (to be approved by Him) when he can walk with pride (feel blissful), oh Nanak. 4.33.

Word Meaning: Houn = I. Sayveen= serve (obey Him). Bhaayay = with affection (respect). Mun Kaamna = mind's wishes. Boojhayay = enlightens. Mun Chindya = as wished. Vur(u) = blessing. Sehj = stage of mental contentment. 1. Chaakh(u) = to taste. Tikh = thirst (of desires). Pause. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Ruv(i) ruhhiya = present. Chooka = ends. Hirdaiy Kumul(u) Purgaasiya = lotus of mind blooms (state of bliss). Nirmul(u) = clean. 2. Virlay = rare (only a few). Mumta = attachment with family. Oordhaar(i) = acquire (embed) in mind. Bulihaarnaiy = offer to sacrifice life. Ch-houn joogeen = in all the four eons (in all times). Ukhoot(u) = inexhaustible. Upaar(u) = limitless. 3.
Moh piyaas. = thirst of attachment. Oodaas(u) = detached. Nudri = kind sight. Goontaas(u) = source of all noble qualities (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being who can be realized with the Guru's grace.
Taste the sweet juice of Waheguru's Naam to quench your thirst of desires, oh my mind! Those who have tasted it by the grace of the Guru acquire the state of bliss where the mind wanders no more. Pause. I serve (obey) my Satguru with undivided attention, and with respectful love for Him. The one who has been enlightened by the Guru realizes that the Guru is the real holy place where all one's wishes are fulfilled, and one receives the blessings of one's choice. He can have any of his wishes and desires fulfilled. (However, when one has that kind of faith in the Guru), he requests begs) for Waheguru's Naam only; and recites the Naam, whereby he acquires mental contentment. 1.
Those who serve Satguru acquire the Naam-treasure. The sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam fills their mind, and their selfishness and ego are eradicated. The lotus of their mind blossoms, and they find contentment. Waheguru appears in their clean (pure) mind, and they are honoured in His Court. 2. There are only a few who serve Satguru in this world. They overcome their selfishness, ego, and affection for their family, and cleanse their hearts so that Waheguru may reside there. I am a sacrifice for those who keep Waheguru's Naam in their hearts (minds). Those, who make Waheguru's Naam - which is an inexhaustible and unlimited treasure - their sole support, find happiness and contentment in all the four eons (no matter what the eon is). 3.

Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru, as a result of which one's thirst for worldly attachment is lost. When one's mind is imbued with Waheguru's Naam, he becomes detached from worldly attractions while still living in the family. I will gladly offer my life to those who keep Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. However, Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all noble qualities, can be acquired only by Guru's grace, oh Nanak. 4.1.34.

Word Meaning: Bhaykh = religious garbs. Bhurmaayiyaiy = wander around (with the misbelief that one's mind gets rid of evil thoughts by running away from home). Kupt(u) = dishonesty. Mehl(u) = palace (residence). Vishta = crap (Maya). 1. Oodaas(u) = state of no desires. Sach(u) Sunjum(u) = control on desires. Pause. Jeetiya = won (controlled). Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mut(i) = wisdom; thinking. Ghuraiy meh(i) = inside the house (mind). Mayl(i) = union. 2. Isturiyaan = women. Nuv Khund = the nine regions of earth (the whole earth). Phir(i) phir(i) = again and again. Joni paahay = takes different life forms. 3. Haar(u) = necklace. Kuntth(i) = (around the) neck; on the tongue. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Til(u) = (the size of) a sesame seed. Tmmayay = desire. 4. Bhaavaiy = likes. Theeyaiy = happens. Uver(u) = anything else. 5.

MEANING: If a man dons religious garbs and wanders around (to give the impression of an ascetic), but harbours dishonesty, and other evil thoughts in mind, never has access to Waheguru's residence (cannot be "one" with Him); to the contrary, he dies a spiritual death, and gets engaged again in the crap (Maya). 1. So, rather than leaving home, get detached from worldly attractions while living with the family, oh my mind! Such a person remembers Waheguru all the time, has control over his senses, and is enlightened by the Guru. Pause. He controls his mind by the Guru's Shabad and attains a high spiritual level and noble wisdom while still living with his family. If we remember Waheguru all the time, He Himself connects us with the Guru, who in turn connects us with Waheguru. 2. If an individual enjoys millions of women and rules the whole earth, he will not have real happiness without the Guru and will keep taking rebirths. 3. The individuals who wear Waheguru's Naam necklace around their neck (recite Waheguru's Naam all the time) by taking refuge in the Guru, have absolutely no worldly desire left in their mind, and they do not care for supernatural powers even though they beg them for acceptance. 4. Only those things take place in the world which Waheguru wishes, and nothing else can be done (to thwart them). (Guru) Nanak says that He is a staunch devotee of Waheguru and survives only by reciting His Naam. I beg Waheguru to kindly give me His Naam so that I may have mental contentment in His affection, oh Nanak. 5.2.35.

Ghur(i) = house (heart). Vaasa = residence. 1. Ram (u) = a name for God. Uver(u) = other. Nirmula = clean. Milaava = united. Pause. Doojay = other (Maya). Bhaayay = in love. Aavaiy jaayay = comes and goes (reborn). Vertda = operates; serves. Smaayay = present (mixed uniformly). Duyaal = kind. 2. Jotki = fortune teller. Vaad = debate. Boodhi = wisdom. Bhuvee = turned around. Boojhyee = figure out. Lobh = greed. Vikaar(u) = evil thoughts. Lukh chauraasee = 8.4 million (Hindus believe that there are 8.4 million life forms in the world). Bhurmday = go through 8.4 M life forms. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation without any success. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten, predestined. Kmmavna = perform deeds. Maytunhaar(u) = eraser; remover. 3. Gakhrri = difficult. Aap(u) guvaayay = get rid of selfishness. Paarus(i) = with touchstone. Pursiyaiy = by touching. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. 4. Bhookha = hungry. Mut = warn against doing something. Siri = created. Adhaar(u) = support (food). Nirbhou = fearless (Waheguru). Dyaal(u) = kind. Saar = looks after. Mokh = freedom from Maya. Dooaar(u) = door. 5.

MEANING: Everybody belongs to Waheguru, who governs the universe (nobody is outside His control). (So, the only thing to do is) to act on Guru's advice, as a result of which Waheguru appears in one's heart. The individuals who harbour Waheguru in their hearts become like Him (Sachay), and their fame becomes real (everlasting). Those who are connected to Waheguru never experience separation from Him because Waheguru makes their heart His dwelling. 1. I have no faith in anybody other than You, oh my Waheguru. A pure (pious) Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru, who can be realized through His Shabad. Pause. Waheguru Himself connects the individuals with Him who use Guru's Shabad (sing Waheguru's praise) to connect with Him, and they always stay connected. There is no other way to realize Waheguru – people who use other means are never successful in attaining freedom from Maya and take rebirths again and again. God alone looks after everyone, and He alone is omnipresent. The individual, whom Waheguru is kind to, recites His Naam by taking refuge in the Guru, and becomes "one" with Him. 2. Pundits and fortune tellers read the holy books only to participate in discussions and debates. Their twisted wisdom and intelligence cannot find Truth because their minds are full of greed and evil thoughts. They go through the 8.4 million life forms and suffer in vain. However, they cannot be fully blamed because they are doing just what has been predestined for them, and which nobody can erase. 3. It is very difficult to serve Satguru because one has to get rid of his selfishness and his wisdom first, and offer his head (thinking) to Satguru. If one seeks shelter of Satguru and obeys His Shabad (Teachings), he realizes Waheguru, and all his service to the Guru becomes successful. By touching the touchstone (taking shelter of Satguru), one also gets transformed into a touchstone (becomes like Him), and his soul becomes "one" with the Light Source – Waheguru. But one connects with Satguru only if it is predestined for him. 4. Do not ever cry (complain) about your hunger, and do not ever pray for food; Waheguru, who has created 8.4 million life forms, provides food to each and every one (without asking). The fearless Waheguru is kind and looks after everyone. But one realizes this fact only after taking the Guru's refuge, when he also gets rid of the shackles of Maya, oh Nanak. 5.3.36.

Word Meaning: Munniya = obeyed. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Vaas(u) = residence. Goontaas(u) = source of all good qualities (Waheguru). Ruttay = imbued. Nirmlay = pure minds. Bulihaaraiy = sacrifice life. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Ghut(i) = in the heart. 1. Dhoor(i) = from the source (Waheguru). Mustuk(i) = (on the) forehead. Liv = concentrating mind. Pause. Suntou = oh, holy men. Nudr(i) Kur(i) = look carefully. Nicket = nearby. Bhrpoor(i) = filling the entire space; omnipresent. Puchhaniya = recognized. Hudoor(i) = present close by. Augoonvuntiyaan = having bad qualities. Baahray = without.; devoid of. Bin(u) = without. Jhoor(i) = repent. 2. Koorra = not real; short-lived. Ksoombh = a pretty flower that withers quickly (used as a metaphor for Maya). Binus(i) = vanishes. Thir(u) = stable. 3. Junum Pdaruth = objective of life. Chaytaiy = remember. Liv laayay = with deep concentration. Pug(i) khisyaiy = slipping of foot (time). Tthaur = rest; peace. Vayla = time. Huth(i) na Aavyee = lost moments cannot be recalled. Oobraiy = salvaged. Saytee = with. 4. Daykha Daykhi = copying (following) others. Hirda soodh = clean heart. Puyee thaayay = recognized; rewarded. Bani = language; conversation. 5.

MEANING: The minds of those who listen to Waheguru's Naam and then obey it quit wandering and find contentment. Following Guru's advice, they sing Waheguru's praise and realize Waheguru, who is the source of all the noble qualities. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam have clean (pure) hearts. I will gladly offer my life for them. Those hearts are enlightened which bear Waheguru's Naam. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam to have a clean (pure) heart, oh my mind! Those who are predestined remain fully connected to Waheguru by following the Guru's advice. Pause. If you search carefully, you will find omnipresent Waheguru very close to you, oh devotees of Waheguru! Acting on Guru's advice, those who realized Waheguru always find Him around them. Those who possess noble qualities find Waheguru always residing in their hearts, while those who are devoid of noble qualities find Him far, far away from them (find Him inaccessible). Those who follow their mind lack all the good qualities, die a spiritual death, and repent. 2.

Those who listen to the Guru's Shabad and obey it, worship Waheguru with a focused mind. Because they are imbued in Waheguru's Naam day and night, their mind and body become clean. Maya has its big attraction, but it vanishes quickly like the Ksoombh flower, causing grief and crying. On the other hand, a man whose heart is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam finds eternal peace of mind. 3. Human life is a priceless gift (opportunity to realize Waheguru because no other life form is able to do so); if a man does not recite Waheguru's Naam with focused mind now, he will waste this opportunity (of human form), because he has to die eventually, and he will not find any room in Waheguru's Court (he will suffer the consequences). He cannot recall the missed opportunity and leaves this world repenting. But, whom Waheguru is kind to, gets connected with Him (by singing His praise with a focused mind), and finds salvation. 4. People do copy others (to serve Waheguru), but the followers of their mind do not understand the Truth. The service of those who cleanse their mind by taking refuge in the Guru is successful, and they find salvation. Those who sing Waheguru's praise and recite His Naam every day become "one" with Waheguru. (Guru) Nanak says the daily conversation of those who are connected with God revolves only around Him. 5.4.37.

Word Meaning: Ikk Mun(i) = with full concentration. Oojlay = gleaming (are honoured). Tit(u) = His. 1. Put(i) = dignity. Mul(u) Haumein = the filth of selfishness and ego. Pause. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Vishta = crap (metaphor for Maya). Keerray = germs. 2. Suful(u) = successful. Bhaayay = (what Satguru) likes. Kool(u) = clan; associates. odhaaray = salvage. Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Rujaayay = as per His Will. 3. Aap(u) guvaayay = killing self-identity (selfishness and ego). Sachay = pure. Sach(i) = in the Pure Waheguru. Purvaan(u) = acceptable. 4.

MEANING: The faces of those who ponder on Guru's Shabad, and recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration, gleam (due to the purity of their mind and they are honoured) in Waheguru's Court. Having been connected with Waheguru by their dedication, they always enjoy Amrit - the life sustaining Naam-water. 1. Those who obey the Guru's advice are always honoured, oh my friend! If we remember Waheguru all the time, the filth of our selfishness and ego is washed away. Pause. The follower of his mind does not realize the worth of Waheguru's Naam and thereby loses his respect. Because of their attraction for Maya, such individuals do not enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam. They are worms of crap (sensual pleasures), and fall into its trap, and get completely engrossed in Maya. 2. But those who follow the Guru's wishes (Teachings) become successful in life (find salvation). They also find salvation for their clan (the people who come into contact with them). Their mothers are praiseworthy who bore them. But, remember, only those worship Waheguru, whom He is kind to as per His own wish. 3. Those who act on Guru's advice, overcome their desires, and worship Waheguru with a pure mind, are pure inside and out, and become "one" with the Pure Waheguru. Those who act on Guru's advice, recite Waheguru's Naam are acceptable to (approved by) Waheguru, oh Nanak! 4.5.38.

Word Meaning: Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Vaapaar(u) = trading. Vukkhur(u) = merchandize. Adhaar(u) = support. Drirryaaya = reinforced. Utoot(u) = inexhaustible.

Bhundaar(u) = treasure. 1. Aalus(u) = laziness; indolence. Dhiyayay = ponder on, and recite (with concentration). Pause. Pakhund(i) = by faking. Doobidha = difficulty in choosing between Maya and Waheguru. Khooaar(u) = suffer in vain; be discomfited. Bibayk = knowledge; ability to analyze. Beechaar(u) = thinking. 2. Sayvuk = devotee. Ooridhaar(i) = implant in mind. Sounpay = offer. Dhuray = place. Haumein = selfishness; ego. Dhun(u) = praise worthy. Purvaan(u) = acceptable. J(i) = if. Kuday na = never. 3. Kerm(i) = through kindness (as a favour). Vin(u) = without. Lukh Chauraasee = 8.4 million (life forms according to Hindu belief). Tursday = dying to have something. 4.

MEANING: For the devotees, Waheguru's Naam is their wealth and capital; they seek the advice of the Guru to trade in the business (of Waheguru's Naam). They always praise Waheguru, which is their merchandize, and His Naam is their support. The perfect Guru makes sure that the Sikhs recite Waheguru's Naam repeatedly, which is an inexhaustible treasure. 1. Question your mind as to why it is so indolent, oh my friends! It should be reciting Waheguru Naam as advised by the Guru. Pause. If you seek Guru's advice, you will learn that unconditional love for Waheguru is His real worship. One cannot worship Waheguru simply by faking (hypocrisy). Duality of mind (indecisiveness to choose between Waheguru and Maya) leads one to worthless suffering (humiliation). An individual who has the ability to think and analyze will never be part of the group that engages in Maya and will never put on a false show of love for Waheguru. 2. Only a person who always keeps Waheguru in mind can be called a real devotee. He kills his selfishness and ego, and offers his mind and body to Waheguru. Such a devotee of the Guru, who never loses battle against the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego), is praiseworthy and is acceptable to Waheguru. 3. One cannot realize Waheguru's Naam with his own efforts, no matter how hard he tries; only that individual internalizes it, whom God is kind to. All the 8.4 million types of living beings kill themselves (try very hard) to acquire Waheguru's Naam, but only those connect to Him whom He connects, Himself. You realize Waheguru only by Guru's grace, but once connected, you become "one" with Him, oh Nanak! 4.6.39.

Word Meaning: Sookh Saagur(u) = the sea (source) of comforts. Undin(u) = day and night. Sehjay = in the state of a stable mind. Smaayay = is absorbed. Ruchaiyy = get absorbed. Siyoun = with. Rusna = tongue. 1. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love with the other (Maya). Surnayee = refuge. Luhhay = get; acquire. Pause. Maiyl(u) = filth (of evil thoughts). Nirmul = clean. Puchhaaniyaiy = recognize. Giyan = Divine knowledge; connection with God. Purchund = bright light. Ugiyaan = ignorance. 2. Munmukh = followers of their own mind (who have turned away from the Guru). Trishna = desires. Vikaar(u) = evil deeds. Bin(u) = without. Dhaatur = running around for Maya. Baaji = game (not reality). Pulch(i) = entangled. Oorvaar(u) = this (the near) side of the bank or shore. Paar(u) = the other side of the bank or shore. 3. Jup = recitation of some mantra to please some god. Tup = self-suffering to please some god. Sunjmi = control over sensual pleasures. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is the sea (source) of all comforts, but can be realized only by the benevolence of the Guru. Remember Waheguru's Naam day and night and enjoy the bliss of being "one" with Him. One should be internally connected to Waheguru and sing His praise with the tongue. 1. The world is suffering because of its love for Maya, oh my friend! But, by taking the refuge of the Guru, and by reciting Waheguru's Naam day and night, one can acquire all comforts (real blissfulness). Pause. A mind which has become pure by reciting Waheguru's Naam never gets filthy again. By taking refuge in the Guru, one recognizes the importance of the Shabad and is soaked in the life-sustaining holy water (Amrit) of Waheguru's Naam. The Guru lights up the bright lamp of Divine Knowledge in the devotee's mind by which the darkness of ignorance is dispelled. 2.

The followers of their mind are filled with the filth of haumein, desires, and other evil thoughts. Such filth cannot be washed away without Waheguru's Shabad, and the individuals suffer even after death. They are entangled in the short-lived attractions of Maya, and are not happy either on this side of the sea of Maya (this world) or on the other (next world). 3.

A person who seeks the Guru's shelter to remember Waheguru with full devotion is fully content and does not need any jup, tup or any special effort to control his senses. A real devotee of the Guru recites the Naam of Waheguru alone all the time. (Guru) Nanak also recites Waheguru's Naam, which is the support (provider) for all the living beings. 4.7.40.

Word Meaning: Munmukh(u) = follower of his mind. Viyapiya = under the influence. Bairaag(u) = smitten by love. Oodaasi = detached. Cheenaiy = recognize; evaluate. Khoyay = lose. Durgeh(i) = Court. Ruttay = imbued. 1.
Ehinis(i) = day and night. Purjulaiy = burned (killed) completely. Ghur = heart. Pause Kerm = (noble) deeds. Bigsaiy = blooms. Anund(u) = bliss. Nichund(u) = worry-free. Vuddaiy Bhaag(i) = with great luck. Sehj(i) = stability (purity) of mind. 2.
Sadhu = devotee. Soyee = that (person). Taamus(u) = ignorance; fire of desires. Moolay = even a bit. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Aghaayay = fully satisfied. 3.
Jin(i) Kinaiy = whoever. Phireh(i) = with mind turned away (not having faith in Guru). Rungaayay = coloured their mind (imbued). Laag(i) = attachment; affection. 4.

MEANING: The follower of his mind is so much under the influence of Maya that he does not foster any love for Waheguru, and cannot detach himself from Maya. He does not ponder on Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, he always suffers and loses respect in Waheguru's Court. One can get rid of his haumein by taking Guru's shelter, and once he is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he enjoys eternal bliss. 1. You are wishing for material things day and night, oh, my mind. You can kill (get rid of) your worldly attachments completely by serving the Guru (obeying Him), whereby you will be completely detached from Maya while still living in the family. Pause. When one performs deeds as per the Will of the Guru, his mind blooms, and he enjoys bliss in Waheguru's (God's) love. He worships Waheguru day and night, and becomes worry-free by killing his haumein (selfishness). With good luck, he joins the company of holy men and realizes God with a pure mind, and enjoys bliss. 2. One is the real devotee, and has real affection for Waheguru, who has made his heart a residence for God. An individual who has overcome his selfishness does not suffer even a bit from the fire of desires. The Guru shows him the treasure of Naam-Amrit, which he drinks with great taste to his complete satisfaction. 3. Whoever realizes Waheguru does so only in the company of the devotees, which he finds by his good fortune and with his deep affection for Waheguru. But, the follower of his mind does not recognize the Guru, and spends his life in ignorance with haumein in mind. But without some respectful fear of God, there is no affection for Him to colour one's mind with Guru's Shabad; and his mind cannot be imbued in the love of the Guru and Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4. 8.41.

Word Meaning: Ghur = house; heart. Sauda = merchandize (Naam). Vuth(u) = the real article (objective of human life - Waheguru's Naam). Khin(u) khin(u) = each moment. Smaaliyaiy = remember; recite. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Ukhoot(u) = inexhaustible. Praaput(i) = acquire, receive. 1. Tuj(i) = quit. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Hur(i) Jeo = Waheguru. Pause. Oojlay = shiny (unblemished). Hult(i) = this world (present life). Pult(i) = next world (after death). Jup(i) = reciting (Naam). Ridaiy = in the heart. Mooraar(i) = a name for (god) Krishna (Waheguru). Mehl(u) = palace; residence (of Waheguru). 2. Muthay = forehead (face). Nit = always. Johay = watches. Jum = angel of death. Jaalay = net; noose. Chinta = worry. Purjaalay = burns completely (tortures). 3. Daata = provider. Bukhsh = rewards. Bhaavaiy = likes. Tis(u) = him. 4.

MEANING: The real merchandize (Waheguru's Naam) can be realized from within one's mind (because He is present in our hearts). We should remember Waheguru each moment, but there are only a few who do so in the shelter of the Guru. The treasure of Naam is inexhaustible, but can be acquired only by good fortune. 1. Get rid of malicious criticism (vilification) of others, your selfishness, and ego, oh my mind! Taking Guru's shelter (acting on His Advice), always worship Waheguru, who is pervading the whole universe uniformly. Pause. The faces of the true devotees of the Guru are shiny (unblemished and worthy of honour) because they ponder on the Guru's Shabad (and obey it). By remembering Waheguru at all times, they enjoy comfort in both this world and the next. They realize Waheguru in their heart by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. 2.

Those who turn their faces away from the Guru have black faces (suffer disgrace in Waheguru's Court). They earn discomfort only, and are constantly watched by the Angel of Death with a noose in his hand. Too much worry torments them, and they find no comfort even in their dreams. 3. The Provider for everyone (Waheguru) is benevolent and the same. He rewards everybody (provides for their needs) because of His own kindness (no one needs to ask for them). Our requests make no difference; He gives to whomever He likes. But we realize this fact only in Guru's shelter that Waheguru knows everybody's needs, oh Nanak. 4.9.42

Word Meaning: Sucha Sahib(u) = the True Lord (Waheguru). Saviyaiy = serve. Vudiyaayee = honour. Dhaavut(u) = wandering. Aapay = (Waheguru) Himself. Nudr(i) = kind sight. 1. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Vusaiy = takes residence. Mehli = in Waheguru's Palace. Thaaoun = shelter; seat. Pause. Munmukh = follower of the mind. Tthaur = shelter. Bhaunda = wanders (in circles). Soonjaiy ghur(i) = in an unoccupied (deserted) house. Ghut(i) = in the heart. 2. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya (no significant degree of awareness, some awareness, and significant awareness). Bikhiya = poison (a metaphor for Maya). Gober = darkness. Un = other (Maya). Saynvday = serve; show regard. Pookaar = preach loudly. Puch(i) = suffer. Oorvaar(u) = this side (of the sea of Maya). Paar(u) = on the other side (of the sea of Maya). They cannot swim across the sea of Maya and drown in it. 3. Visariyaa = forgot. Pritpal(i) = one who looks after and raises (Waheguru). Achayt(u) = unaware. Jum Kaal(i) = (noose of) the angel of death. Oobray = salvaged. Smaal(i) = sing Waheguru's praise. 4.

MEANING: If we serve the True Lord, He confers the eternal honour on us. By Guru's benevolence, He destroys our haumein and makes our heart His residence. Our wandering mind finds peace only if He puts His kind sight on us. 1. Come to Guru's shelter to worship Waheguru, oh my friend. (As a result), you will acquire the Naam-treasure, and find room in Waheguru's Palace (will merge into Him). Pause. The mind and the body of the follower of his mind are completely dark; he has neither peace nor stability. He goes through countless life forms, and attains no peace (contentment like a crow in a deserted house (where it finds nothing to eat). With Guru's advice, one's heart is enlightened, and one acquires Waheguru's Naam by acting on Guru's Shabad. 2. Under the three effects of Maya, a man is blind, and attachment to Maya creates complete darkness in his mind. The greedy pundits serve Maya even when they are preaching the Vedas loudly. Engrossed in Maya, they die suffering and enjoy neither on this side of the sea of Maya (this world) nor the far end (in the next world). 3. In the greed of Maya, people forget Waheguru – the Father of the universe – who nourishes the whole world. Without the Guru, they are unaware and are prisoners of the Angel of Death. Those who follow Guru's advice are salvaged; so, you too recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak! 4.10.43.

Word Meaning: Traiy Goon Maya = the three effects of Maya (see the previous Shabad). Chautha Pud(u) = the fourth level above the effects of Maya (complete detachment from Maya). Kirpa = benevolence. Maylaayun(u) = are connected. Potaiy = treasure; repertoire; in possession. Poonn(u) = donations; noble deeds. 1. Saach(i) = (with) Waheguru. Saacho Saach(u) = pure Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Kmaavna = earn. Pause Puchhaniya = recognized. Vitoun = over; to. Bul(i) = gladly sacrifice (serve in every which way). Aap(u) chhod(i) = disregarding self. Bhaayay = (as they) like. Laaha = gain; benefit. Sehjay = easily (without much effort). Smaayay = be part of. 2. Mehl(u) = (Waheguru's) residence. Praaput(i) = get; acquire. Lorr(i) Luhou = seek. Jiddoon = from whom. Asoor = demons. Sunghaaraiy = kill. 3. Jayha = as. Tayho Jiha = like that. Sehsa = skepticism; doubts. Moolay Naahi = not at all. Bhaaou = affectionate respect. Jun = devotee. Jot(i) = light. Moorti = figures. Milaava = union. 4.

MEANING: Maya, with its three qualities, attracts all of us, but we can attain the pure spiritual state where Maya has no effect by taking the Guru's shelter. With His grace, the Guru connects one with Waheguru, and His Naam takes residence in one's heart. Those who have amassed noble qualities in their repertoire, the Guru connects them with Waheguru in the congregation of holy men. 1. Taking the Guru's advice, stay connected with Waheguru, oh, my friend. Following Guru's Shabad, if you perform only the deeds of truthfulness (obey Waheguru's Will), you will be "one" with Waheguru. Pause.

I am glad to sacrifice my life for those who recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam. Disregarding my own self (selfishness and ego), I will touch their feet (be at their service), and do whatever they like me to do. In return, I will have the benefit of acquiring Waheguru's Naam without any special effort and of being "one" with Him. 2. But, without the Guru, we cannot reach Waheguru's residence and acquire His Naam. We should seek out the Guru who can guide us in connecting with Waheguru. (As a result), All five demons are destroyed (controlled), and our belief is affirmed that only that happens to us which Waheguru likes, and all comforts take root in our heart. 3. One acquires the kind of comfort (or discomfort) depending upon the way one perceives the Guru. If a person develops real love for the Guru, he is left with no doubts or suspicions. Acting on Guru's Shabad, one gets connected with Waheguru, and the two entities (the individual and Waheguru) may look distinct, but they will have the same internal light (the devotee's soul merges with God's Soul) 4.11.44

Word Meaning: Amrit = life-sustaining water (Waheguru's Naam). Doojay = the other (Maya). Vidaani = of a stranger (others). Dherm(u) = religion (principles, obligations). Boojhaiyy = realize. Undin(u) = day and night. Vihaani = passes by. Chayt-hee = remembers; cites (Naam). Doob(i) Mooyay = die by drowning. 1. Bhujou=worship Waheguru. Shernaayee = in the shelter. Vissar(i) = forgotten. Pause. Pootla = puppet. Dooshti = evil. Put(i) = honour. Joti = Waheguru's light in man. Jot(i) = the source of light (Waheguru). 2. Ut(i) = extreme. Sookhaali = comforting. Ichhaiy = wishes. Ful(u) = fruit (result). Jut(u) = control on lust. Sut(u) = high moral character. Tup = self-torture to please some god. Pvit(u) = pure. Anund(i) = in bliss. Preetum = dear (Waheguru). 3. Sheenaagtee = in the shelter of. Bul(i) = sacrificial. Dur(i) = door. Vudiyaayee = honour. Nudri = kind sight. 4.

MEANING: Those who forget Waheguru's Naam, and are engaged in Maya, are serving a stranger (from whom they will draw no spiritual benefit). They do not realize that they are losing their religiosity (spirituality or noble qualities). They spend their entire life in suffering. The follower of his mind is blind (ignorant) and drowns without water in the sea of Maya. 1.

Seek Waheguru's shelter and worship Him all the time, oh my mind. (As a result) Waheguru will take dwelling in your heart, and you will never forget Him. Pause.
The human body is a puppet of Maya and harbours evil, selfishness, and ego in the mind. (Consequently), He is caught in the birth-death cycle and loses his honour (in Waheguru's Court). Serving the Satguru provides the eternal comfort and connects man's light (soul) with the Super-Soul (Waheguru. 2. Service to the Satguru (obeying Him) is extremely comforting, and one is conferred with whatever one wishes. When Waheguru's Naam takes residence in one's heart, his mind and body are purified, and he does not need to torture himself or do ritualistic hard labour to control his sensual pleasures. Being one with God, one is always blissful and enjoys all comforts. 3.
I will gladly sacrifice my life for those who come to Waheguru's shelter. In the court of the True Lord, one receives real honour and becomes "one" with the dear Lord without any special effort. However, you get connected with Waheguru only through the Guru, and that too only when He casts His kind sight on you, oh Nanak. 4.12.45.

Mehl(u) = (God's) palace; residence (union with). 1. Ikk mun(i) = with a focused mind. Pause. Sohaagni = married and loved by her husband. Oor = heart. Dhaar(i) = acquired. Praput(i) = acquired. 4.
MEANING: The deeds performed by the follower of his mind are (spiritually) as worthless as the body adornment of the woman who has been condemned by her husband, because of which, he will not come to her bed, and she will suffer humiliation every day. Similarly, the follower of his mind will never get close to Waheguru's residence or His door, let alone have union with Him. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam with full dedication in the company of the true devotees, and acquire all the comforts, oh my friend. Pause.

Those who obey the Satguru acquire Waheguru's Naam in their heart, and stay always married (enjoy Waheguru's union). They always use sweet language and are humble. They enjoy union with Waheguru just as a woman enjoys it with her husband in bed. Those who have unlimited affection for the Guru earn praise and are always married to Waheguru (enjoy His union). 2. When a person's good fortune lights up (shows its arrival), he meets the Guru; all his doubts in mind disappear, his discomforts disappear, and he acquires all comforts. Those who lead their life as preached by the Guru suffer no discomfort. 3. Obeying the Guru leads to the acquisition of the immortalizing holy water (Waheguru's Naam-Amrit), which can be tasted only by those who have attained the highest spiritual level (above all the effects of Maya). Those who are able to taste it, have their haumein destroyed. To have union with Waheguru, we should recite Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 4.13.46.

Word Meaning: Ja = if. Uggaiy Dhuray = offer. Sohaagni = married. Kerm = deeds. Sayee = same. Sehjay = (in a high spiritual state). Vudaayee = honour. 1. Loachaiyy = wishes; longs. Pause. Lukh-Chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu belief). Fayr(u) = rebirth-cycle. Kaamun(i) = human bride. Doojaiy Bhaayay = affection for the other (Maya). Neend = sleep; peace of mind. Raiyn = night (of life). Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Birtha = useless (without any gain). 2. Houn = selfishness. Sumpaiy = amassed wealth. Undhi = blind (ignorant). Chatyee = keeps in mind (recite Naam). Baandhi = shackled. Jum Kaal(i) = angel of death. Dhun(u) = wealth (Waheguru's Naam). Ridaiy = in the heart. 3. Nirmulay = clean; pure. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual level (with pure mind). Soobhayay = in affection. Raata = imbued. Rung = affection. Rusna = tongue. Rusn Rusaayay = enjoys the sweet taste. Dhoor(i) = from the source (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: If a man thinks Waheguru as his own (has full faith in Him), he offers his body and mind to Him, and performs the same deeds as the other married women do (accept His Will, and lead a life of high morality). With a pure mind, he can achieve union with the True Lord, who confers great honour on him. 1. No one can worship God without the Guru's grace, oh my friend. Even though everybody longs for it, one cannot attain spiritual transcendence without the Guru. Pause. If a human bride (a person) is engrossed in the love of the other (Maya), she goes through the cycle of 8.4 million life forms. Without the guidance of the Guru, she cannot sleep peacefully (cannot find peace of mind), and her life is spent in discomfort. Without Guru's Shabad, one cannot have union with the Husband (Waheguru), and his life goes to waste (without any spiritual gain). 2.
People spend their lives pursuing their selfish interests, but at the time of death, no wealth or property accompanies them. The ignorant do not remember Waheguru's Naam; they are all the prisoners of the Angel of death. But when someone connects with the Guru, he carefully saves (enshrines) Waheguru's Naam in his heart, which is his true wealth. 3.
In Pure (holy) Guru's love, those, who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, become clean and pure. Their mind and body are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and their tongue enjoys the sweetness of His Naam. The colour of their love for Waheguru, in which they were dyed right from the beginning, never fades, oh Nanak. 4.14.47.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) = through devotion of the Guru. Bhagat(i) = worship; devotion. Boojhaiyy = recognizes. Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Sacha = eternal. 1.

Bhugut(i)-heen(u) = devoid of worship. Kaahay = for what? Birtha = useless. Pause. Jugjeevun = the source of life in the world (Waheguru). Sookhdaata = the source of all comforts (God). Bukhsh(i) = forgive; gift; kindness. Jea Junt = living beings. Vachhaaray = powerless. Vudiyaayee = honour. Sayv = service. 2. Kootumb(u) = family. Lobhaana = captivated. Chuldiyaan = at the time of leaving (death). Goon Nidhaan(u) = treasure of noble qualities (God). Keem = keemut = value. Sukha = Meet(u) = friend. Untaiy = in the end. Sukhayee = helpful. 3. Chit(i) = in the mind. Aap(u) = self (selfishness). Bhgut(i) Vuchhul(u) = lover of worship (devotion). Sobha = fame; praise. Soort(i) = understanding; wisdom. 4.

MEANING: When Waheguru is kind to someone, He connects him with the Guru, and the devotee begins to worship Waheguru (recite His Naam). No one can worship Waheguru without the Guru's grace. Waheguru connects the individual to Him who becomes pure, and then realizes Him. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His Bani (Shabad or Huqam); an individual gets connected with Him by obeying His Huqam (Command or Will). 1. What is the purpose of a person coming to this world if he is devoid of Waheguru's worship, oh my friend? Without serving the perfect Guru, he simply wastes away his precious human life. Pause. The source of life, Waheguru Himself, is the provider of all comforts, and He Himself connects people with Him by His kindness. What can the powerless living beings say to, or tell Him? (He provides without asking). God Himself honours some by connecting them with the Guru, and Himself makes them obey His Will. 2. Living in the family, one is captivated by the affection of the family members, but none of them accompany him when he leaves this world. One's real friend is Waheguru, who becomes his true saviour (helper) at the time, but the man does not recognize the worth of His friendship, and does not take Guru's shelter to realize Him, which is the source of all noble qualities. 3. A man may sing Waheguru's praise in his mind (in his own way) and may also make others do the same, but he cannot get rid of his selfishness without the Guru's advice. Waheguru loves His devotees, and He connects them with Him by His own kindness. God Himself confers the wisdom of praising Him (obeying His Will) on his devotees, and honours them through the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.15.48.

Word Meaning: Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Jun-nee = mother. Jaaya = gave birth. Purdhaan(u) = leader. Goomaan(u) = ego. Conceit. Dur(i) = at the door (always in service)). Gooni-Nidhaan(u) = treasure of noble qualities (God). 1. Gurmukh(i) = through the Guru (taking His shelter). Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Pause. Ghur(i) = house; heart. Rungay = imbue. Sehj Soobhaayay = with pure mind and love. Such(i) = through God (His Naam or praise). Vichhurr(u) = separation. 2. Uver(u) = else. Chirreen = since long. Vichhoonnay = separated. Punnaiy = in His account; through Him. Kaar = (desired) deeds. 3. Rutta = imbued. Rung = love. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Vikaar = evil thoughts or deeds. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Ruv(i) = is present; appears. Nirbhou = fearless. Nirunkar = formless (Waheguru). Appar = beyond reach.

MEANING: Worthy of respect is the mother who gives birth to, and worthy of respect is the leading father of the devotee, who serves the Guru, and enjoys all the comforts (blissfulness) by getting rid of his ego and selfishness. Such devotees are always in the service of the Lord and acquire Him, which is the treasure of all noble qualities. 1. Worship Waheguru by taking shelter of the Guru, oh my mind! (As a result), your mind and body will become pure, and Guru's Shabad will take up dwelling in your heart, oh my mind. Pause.

He (Waheguru) kindly appears in the heart, and connects the devotees of His liking (those who deserve) with Him. This happens when one sings Waheguru's praise using Guru's Shabad, and is imbued in His Naam with his love for Him (Waheguru) in his purified mind. One becomes "one" with Waheguru by singing His praise, and once connected with Him, one never suffers from His separation. 2. Waheguru does what He wishes, and nothing can be done to thwart it (by anyone else). He connects the ones with Him who had been separated from Him for a long time through the Guru, and makes them do the deeds He likes, and nothing can be done (against His Will). 3. At that stage, one conquers his haumein and evil thoughts (and deeds), and his mind and body get completely imbued in Waheguru's Naam. The fearless and formless Waheguru's Naam appears in the mind of the devotee forever. Waheguru, who is beyond our reach, Himself connects the devotees with Him through the Shabad of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.16.49.

Word Meaning: Govind(u)= a name for God. Gooni Nidhaan(u) = treasure of noble qualities. Unt(u) = limits. Kuthni = by saying (describing). Budni = with mouth. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Bhaiy = (respectful) fear. Ruchaiyy = engaged. 1. Boojhaiyy = recognizes. Koyay = rare. Junum(u) Pudaruth = objective of human life. Pause. Chaakhiya = tasted. Saad(u) = taste; enjoy. Bherm(i) = in superstitions. Bhoolayay = lost. Peevut Hoo = right after drinking. Purvaan(u) = approved. Smaayay = becomes one with. 2. Daat(i) = gift. Gurudwaraiy = through the Guru. 3. Jut(u) = celibacy. Sut(u) = high morals; service to mankind. Sunjum(u) = control over desires. Vin(u) = without. Nirmul(u) = pure. Rung(i) = in love. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is the treasure of all noble qualities, but nobody can find His limits. He cannot be realized simply by describing, or by words of praise by mouth (without real love for Him), unless one gets rid of his haumein. However, when one connects with the Satguru and acts upon His advice gladly all the time, (his haumein is eradicated) and Waheguru Himself makes the devotee's heart His residence. 1. But, only some rare devotee of the Guru realizes this fact, oh my friend. A person who just performs the accepted rituals without any spiritual knowledge wastes his precious human life. Pause.

Waheguru's True (everlasting) Naam is the Amrit (immortalizing holy water); no words can describe its taste. Only those who have tasted it enjoy it; without tasting it, one is lost in doubts and superstitions. Those who taste it are approved (by Waheguru) as soon as they finish drinking it, and they become "one" with Him. 2. We can acquire Waheguru's Naam only if He bestows it on us; otherwise, no one acquires it on their own. This special gift is in the hands of the Provider – Waheguru only - and can be acquired only through the Guru. But one only reaps the rewards of what he sows (what type of deeds he performs). 3. Celibacy, high moral character, and control over desires are all subsumed (included) in Waheguru's Naam, without which the mind never becomes pure. But Naam takes up residence in one's heart only if one has good fortune, as a result of which one becomes connected with Waheguru. Only that individual acquires Waheguru's noble qualities who leads his life with a pure heart, and with love for Him, oh Nanak. 4.17.50

Word Meaning: Kaayan = body. Saadhaiy = cleanses. Oordh = upside down. Tup(u) = torture oneself to please some god. Adhiyatum = spiritual. Jeevut(u) Muraiy = overcome selfishness and Maya. 1. Bhuj = run quickly. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Bhuvjul(u) = sea of life (Maya). Pause. Traiy goon = three effects of Maya. Dhaat(u) = pursuit; efforts. Dooja Bhaao = love for the other (Maya). Vikaar(u) = evil thoughts (or deeds). Bundhun = bonds. Trikooti = the three effects of Maya. Chautha Pud(i) = the fourth spiritual stage (above the effects of Maya). Mookt(i) = freedom from Maya (union with God). 2. Maarug(u) = (true) path. Moh(u) = worldly attachments. Goobaar(u) = darkness; ignorance. Oodhraiy = is salvaged. 3. Munooa = mind. Ut(i) = extremely. Subl = strong; overwhelming. 4.

MEANING: Rush to take shelter of Satguru's feet, oh my mind. The only way to overcome your haumein and swim across the sea of Maya is to obey Satguru's Shabad with His benevolence. Pause. Some people cleanse their bodies (by taking a dip at holy places or by yogic techniques), and meditate by suspending themselves upside down (torture themselves to please some god), but cannot get rid of their haumein by any of such means. They may also perform some spiritual deeds simply as a show off to impress people, but they will never cultivate Waheguru's Naam in their mind. However, if they overcome their selfishness and love for Maya by obeying the Guru's Shabad, Waheguru will take up dwelling in their hearts. 1. Pursuit of Maya is a worthless effort, and one achieves no spiritual gain in its love. Pundit reads his religious books but is still bound to Maya and does not understand the real objective of life. But when one connects to Satguru, he conquers the three effects of Maya and attains the fourth level of spirituality, where he achieves union with God. 2. It is the Guru who guides one on the right path (to connect with God), whereby one's darkness caused by worldly attractions is dispelled. If he kills (overcomes) his selfishness by Guru's Shabad, he is able to swim across the sea of Maya, and attain freedom from it to be "one" with Waheguru. By Guru's benevolence, he stays connected with the True Naam of the Creator. 3. The desires of the mind are highly overwhelming, and the mind cannot control them on its own. As a result of his weak mind, the man receives punishment (from Waheguru) and suffers immensely because of his love for Maya. Only those individuals who overcome their haumein who recite Waheguru Naam by the Guru's Shabad. Such individuals are able to swim across the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.18.51.

Word Meaning: Drirraayay = reinforces; emphasizes. Kinaiy na = nobody. Birtha = without achieving the objective. Guvaayay. Wastes. Munmookh = follower of the mind. 1. Dooja Bhaao = love for the other (Maya). Chookayay. = end. Pause. Bani = Guru's Word. Ja = if; when. Krodh(u) = rage. Nivaar(i) = overcoming; getting rid of. Nirmul = pure; holy. Mokh = freedom from (Maya). 2. Jug(u) = world. Binusda = vanishes; wastes life. Jaasun(i) = will leave. Put(i) = dignity. Naaoun = (Waheguru's) Naam. Smaayay = merged. 3. Munniyaiy = obeying. Aap(u) = self (selfishness). Liv = full concentration. Pdaruth = (valuable) article. Smaayay = merge (becomes one with)

MEANING: When Waheguru is kind, He connects you with the Guru who instills and reinforces Waheguru's Naam in your mind. Nobody ever connects with Waheguru without the Guru's mediation, and disconnected people waste away their lives. They perform deeds following their own mind, because of which, they are punished in Waheguru's Court. 1. Serve the Guru, and renounce your love for Maya to enjoy bliss, because then Waheguru (the source of bliss) makes your heart His abode, oh my mind. Pause.

When one fosters love for Waheguru in His mind, he realizes that Guru's Bani, Guru's Shabad, are eternal like Waheguru. Acting on Guru's Shabad, one overcomes his haumein and rage, and Waheguru takes residence in his mind. When one recites Waheguru's Naam with a pure mind, he breaks all the bonds of Maya and enters Waheguru's door (becomes "one" with Him). 2. The world vanishes because of haumein, and keeps taking rebirths. The follower of his mind does not realize the importance of the Guru's Shabad and leaves this world, losing his dignity. Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by serving the Guru, and one also stays connected with Waheguru. 3. One connects with the Guru when he obeys His Shabad and rids himself of his selfishness. Such an individual always keeps Waheguru in mind and recites His Naam with full concentration. The priceless Naam takes residence in his heart, and he attains the state of bliss through his union with God, oh Nanak. 4.19.52.

Word Meaning: Purakheen = men (people). Saviyo = serve (worship). Ghur(i) = in mind. Purakh = Waheguru. Mootthay = robbed. Phitkiyaaan = condemned. 1. Hudoor(i) = present close by. Purhuraiy = remove; dispel. Bhurpoor(i) = full to capacity; present everywhere. Pause. Slaahun(i) = sing praise. Adhaar = support. Kaar = work; service. Shahou = banker; (source of everything - Waheguru). Vertda = operates. fulfills His responsibility. Maytunhaar(u) = eraser; destroyer. Koorr(i) = short-lived worldly attractions. 2. Ghor = dense; deep. Vissariya = forgotten. Sookhdaata = source of all comforts (Waheguru). Oobreh(i) = safely swam across the sea of Maya; salvaged. Oordhaar(i) = acquired in the heart. 3. Nirmula = clean; pure. Tuj(i) = quit. Vikaar = evil thoughts or deeds. Dhunda = worldly business. Dhaavut = running around. Ruttay = imbued. Oojlay = shiny; clean (blame-free). Durbaar(i) = in the Court. 4. Munniyon = believed in; obeyed. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love with the other (Maya). Khooaar(u) = suffering humiliation. Smaal(i) = take care of; foster. Hayt = love. 5.

MEANING: The people who do not serve the Guru (do not obey His Command) suffer in each eon (no matter which eon it is). They do not recognize the Waheguru residing in their heart, and are robbed (of their spiritual wealth) because of their ego and conceit. Condemned by the Guru, they exhaust themselves wandering around for their worldly needs, but do not obey the Will of the Guru, who can fulfil all their wishes and needs. 1. Feel Waheguru always around you, which is pervading the whole universe in the form of Shabad (His Command or Laws), and end your suffering of the birth-death-birth cycle, oh my mind. Pause. Those who sing praise of Waheguru and make His True Naam the basis of their life become "one" with Him. They love Waheguru, and all their deeds are based on honesty and truth. The True Lord controls the world (looks after His creation), and nobody can erase (or undo) His largesse. The followers of their mind do not have access to Waheguru's residence (cannot connect with Him), and the perishable are robbed (of their spiritual wealth) in their pursuit of the mundane. 2. Without the Guru, there is dense darkness, and the world is dying in selfishness and ego. In the love for Maya, the world has forgotten the Provider and the Source of all comforts (Waheguru). Those who serve the Satguru and foster Waheguru's Naam in their heart are salvaged. But one can acquire Waheguru only by pondering on the Guru's Shabad - and that too only because of His benevolence. 3. Serving the Satguru purifies one's mind, and he abandons his haumein and evil deeds. By pondering and acting on the Guru's Shabad, one kills his selfishness and his attachment with Maya (this is called dying alive). All his efforts to earn more wealth become a matter of the past, and he develops love only for Waheguru. Such individuals are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and their faces shine (they are honoured) in Waheguru's Court. Those who do not recognize (obey the Will of) the Satguru, and develop no love for His Shabad, suffer humiliation in the love for Maya, no matter how much pilgrimage they undertake, and how much wealth they donate (to the Brahmans). However, if Waheguru is kind to them, they foster love for Waheguru's Naam in their heart. You too foster Waheguru's Naam with love, oh Nanak! 5.20.53.

Word Meaning: Houn = I; me. Jup(u) = recite. Bhaana = Will; Huqam. Aap(u) = selfishness. Chaakri = free service. Soohayay = pleasing; blissful. 1. Chayt = remember; meditate on. Khayti = crop; spiritual wealth. Koonj = a bird that feeds on grain; will rob spiritual wealth. Pause. Ichhaan = wishes; desires. Bhurpoor(i) = full to capacity. Bhaiy = respectful fear. Bhaayay = with love. Hudoor(i) = present close by. Raata = imbued. Bherm(u) = doubtfulness. Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Guheer(u) = deep; unfathomable. 2. Oobray = salvaged. Moohaayay = robbed. Vihaayay = gone by. Soonjay = empty; deserted. Paahoona = guest; visitor. Birtha = empty (without any achievement). Daysi = show. 3. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Kehn = say; praise (Waheguru). Laagoun Paayay = touch feet (show deep respect). Suchiyaar = fosters Truth. 4.

MEANING: Stay alert, and worship Waheguru (remember Him) day and night, oh my mind, and thus save the crop of (your spirituality) in your mind-field, otherwise this crop will be attacked by the crop-destroying bird of Maya. Pause. (If you do not know) Whom to serve and whose name to recite and enshrine in mind, go and seek the Guru's advice, oh my mind. But you must overcome your selfishness, and obey Guru's Will. (Obeying the Guru) is the real service to Him; besides, Waheguru's Naam takes root in your heart. You will enjoy all the comforts by fostering Waheguru's Naam in your heart by obeying the blissful Shabad of the Guru. 1. By obeying the Guru's Shabad, one finds that Waheguru is pervading the whole universe and fulfils all your wishes. A man who worships Waheguru day and night with respectful fear and love finds Him close (everywhere). Such a man is always imbued with Waheguru's Naam, and all his doubts (and superstitions) are cleared. He internalizes the pure Waheguru, who is very deep (unknowable), and is the source of all noble qualities. 2. Those who stay alert (against the attacks of Maya), swim across the sea of Maya (to be "one" with God), but those who are unaware and careless are robbed (of their spirituality) by Maya. They do not recognize the Guru's True Shabad, and their life is spent like a dream (without achieving any objective), and like a person who visits a deserted house. The follower of his mind wastes away his life (without any spiritual gain); so, what kind of face will he show to Waheguru (he will not be able to face Waheguru)? 3.
Those who think only about themselves are victims of haumein (selfishness and ego) and cannot sing Waheguru's praise. But, when one ponders on Guru's Shabad, he recognizes the Truth, and is able to overcome his suffering from haumein. I touch their feet (respect them) who serve the Guru, oh Nanak. But, only the bearers of Truth become "one" with Waheguru; I wish to sacrifice my life for them, oh Nanak. 4.21.54.

Word Meaning: Vayla Vukht(u) = time. Kit(u) = what; how? Ruttiyaan = imbued. Soyay = fame. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed (very small). Knayhee = what kind of? Seetul = cool (peaceful). Birtha = empty; useless. 1. Sehjay = with a controlled mind. Raahiyaiy = sow the seed. Ugli = very much; healthy. Munooa = mind. Rujja = satisfied. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with a peaceful mind and love. Tikh(u) = thirst. Smaayay = merged; become one with. 2. Bani = Guru's Shabad. Vujji = is heard; paid attention to. Ch-houn = in all four. Joogeen = eons. Mayra = selfishness. Hudood(i) = present close by. Liv = deep concentration. 3. Nudri = kind sight. Vin(u) = without. Kerma = kindness; luck. Luhhaiy = acquires; gets. Bhaytaiy = meets; connects. Bikhiya = poison (Maya). Milaavrra = union. 4.

MEANING: If one believes that Waheguru can be worshipped only during particular times (a Hindu belief), then what time will one worship Him (there will be no appropriate time)? Those who are imbued in His Naam day and night are the Truth bearers (have pure minds, and are "one" with God), and true (everlasting) is their fame (reputation). What kind of worship is that in which the Dear (Waheguru) is forgotten even for a short moment? One's mind and body are blissful when they are connected with Waheguru with every breath. 1.

Recite Waheguru's Naam, and always remember Him, oh my mind! The worship is real only if Waheguru's Naam is embedded (enshrined) in your heart. Pause. (In order for Waheguru to reside in your heart), You need to sow the seed of truthfulness (Waheguru's Naam) in the ground of your mind, which needs to be at peace (and not wandering after the mundane). (As a result), a healthy crop (of Waheguru's Naam) sprouts, and your mind achieves contentment without any special effort. The real Amrit (immortalizing water) is the Guru's Shabad, which quenches your thirst (for worldly things). When the mind is imbued with Waheguru's Naam, it connects with Him and remains connected all the time, oh Nanak. 2. When one is merged with Waheguru, all his talk, his looking around, and his conversation are about Waheguru. Guru's Shabad is heard (is spread) over all the four eons as it disseminates nothing but the Truth. (When one obeys the Guru's Shabad), he overcomes his selfishness and feeling of possessiveness, and is connected with Waheguru. Those who meditate on Waheguru with full dedication have easy access to His Palace (get united with Him). 3. But one worships Him only when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him; without His benevolence, no one can worship Him. With good fortune, one finds the company of holy men where he is connected with the Guru. When one is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, his suffering caused by the poisonous Maya is dispelled. Remember, the union with Waheguru is achieved through the Guru's Shabad, and the individual stays connected with Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh Nanak. 4.22.55.

Word Meaning: Bhuou = fear; respect. Saar(i) = by remembering, by pondering on. Doobhida = duality; indecisiveness. Chookaayiun = cleared. Oordhaar(i) = fostered in mind. 1. Bhurnaal(i) = in the sea of Maya. Nirmul(u) = pure. Svaarunhaar(u) = one who grooms (Waheguru). Pause. Mohiya = captivated. Ruttiyaan = imbued. Joti Jot(i) Smaayay = merge your light (soul) in Waheguru (Joti). Jaapda = is discernible; visible. Poorub(i) = predestined. Bhaytiya = met; connected. 2. Vin(u) Naavaiy = without Waheguru's Naam. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love with the other (Maya). Khooayay = suffer in worthless efforts. Vihayay = is spent. Bherm(i) bhoolaana = lost (misguided) in doubts.

Aavaiy Jaayay = takes rebirths. 3. Mooker(i) = refuse to admit; disavow. Pucheh(i) = suffers. Boojh = comprehend. 4.

MEANING: (Waheguru) instils respectful fear for Him in the minds of those who ponder on (act on) Guru's Shabad, and remember it. By keeping Guru's Shabad in mind, they stay connected with Waheguru in the company of the holy saints, and wash away the filth of duality (whether to pursue Waheguru or Maya). Acting on the True (everlasting) Shabad of the Guru, their minds are purified, and they cultivate love for the eternal (Waheguru). 1. The world sea is full of the filth of Maya, oh my mind. (To wash away this filth) Obey Guru's Shabad to acquire Waheguru in your heart, who is always pure, beautiful, and who fulfils all your needs and wishes. Pause. Waheguru connects all those with Him whose minds have been captivated by the Guru's Shabad. Imbued in Waheguru's Naam day and night, their soul (joti) merges with the Supreme Soul of Waheguru (Jot(i). God is discernible from His soul (in nature), but one cannot recognize that without the Guru's shelter. The Guru connects only those with Him who are predestined for it. 2. Everybody is caught in duality without the Guru and suffers because of their love for the other (Maya). I cannot survive without Waheguru even for a short moment, and the night of my life is spent in discomfort. (Without the Guru), the ignorant man is blind, and is lost in doubts and indecisiveness, and is trapped in reincarnation. But, when Waheguru is kind, He Himself connects individuals with Him. 3. The man hears and watches everything (about the generosity of Waheguru), so, how can he refuse to admit His benevolence and His largesse? (He still does not believe in Him)? The man continues to commit sins and suffers constantly because of them. The follower of his mind cannot discern and recognize Waheguru. Only that individual "sees" Him, to whom He shows "Himself" by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.23.56.

Word Meaning: Tootyee = breaks; disappears. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Peerr = pain. Smaayay = absorbed; merged. Bherm(i) = duality; doubtfulness 1.

Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Vaasa = take residence. Pause. Vertda = controls; operates. Uver(u) = else; other than. Sehjay = mental state where there is no effect of Maya. Nedri = kind sight. Bhaavaiy = likes. Taiy = to him. 2. Gunut = calculations; worries. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Kaar = job; service. Smaahay = absorbed. Tthaur(u) = stability; peace. Jumpoor(i) = in the city of the angel of death (in his prison). Suhaahay = endures. 3. Jeo Pind(u) = soul and body. Aadhaar(u) = support. Boojhiyaiy = recognize; comprehend. Mokh = freedom from the bonds of Maya; salvation. Paaravar = limits. 4.

MEANING: The disease of haumein, and the accompanying suffering, do not go away without the Guru. Because Waheguru takes residence in one's heart by the grace of the Guru, the individual stays connected with Waheguru with the Guru's grace (and this is the cure for the disease of haumein). One realizes Waheguru when he obeys Guru's Shabad; without Guru's Shabad, people are lost in doubts and superstitions. 1. Praise Waheguru so that His Naam is implanted in your heart, and your birth-death-birth cycle is broken, oh my mind. Pause. Waheguru is the only provider, and He alone controls the world – there is nobody else. He purifies the hearts of those who praise Him by obeying the Guru's Shabad in His shelter, and as a result, they enjoy bliss (with no effect of Maya). Even though He casts His kind sight on everyone, but Waheguru confers His Naam only on some chosen people. 2. The man performs some accepted rituals with the belief to please some god, and keeps account of his so-called noble deeds, but there is no peace of mind in such calculations (because Waheguru is not pleased with them). When one engages in tasks involving the poisonous Maya, he stays engrossed in that, and without Waheguru's Naam, he does not find peace and endures suffering at the hands of the Angel of death. 3. The human body and the soul belong to Waheguru, and He is our only support. The individual, who recognizes this fact by the grace of the Guru, is salvaged at Waheguru's door. Acting on Guru's Shabad, sing praise of Waheguru whose limits can never be determined, oh Nanak! 4.24.57.

Word Meaning: Anund = blissfulness. Aadhaar(u) = support. Sach(u) = Truth (God). Dit-on(u) = He has given. Bhundaar(u) = treasure. 1. Laal(u) = red colour (represents a deep relationship). Theeya = became. Sehj(i) = in the state of a stable mind. Mohiya = captivated. Jihva = tongue. Rus(i) = extract; essence; Amrit. Rujaayay = by His own Will. 2. Sunsa = doubts; duality. Vihaayay = spends. Kudh(i) = pull out. Vudayee = honour. Boojhaayay = given knowledge; enlightened. 3. Daata = provider. Bhulliyaan = misled; gone astray. Khooyaayiun = misled; cause to suffer. Doojay = (in) Maya. Laayay = attached to. Jot(i) = Source of enlightenment (Waheguru). Undin(u) = day and night. 4.

MEANING: Those who have made Waheguru's Naam their support are always blissful and enjoy all the comforts. Following on Guru's Shabad, they realize Waheguru, who is the destroyer of all discomforts. They love Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise all the time. Waheguru, kindly confers upon them all the treasures of bhakti (devotion). 1.

Waheguru's praise is the source of all bliss, oh my mind. Waheguru is realized through reciting the Guru's Shabad, and one always remains connected to Him. Pause.

With true devotion, one's mind is coloured red (meaning the mind is imbued permanently in Waheguru's love) in the mental state above the effects of Maya. When one's mind gets captivated by the Guru's Shabad, he becomes speechless (has no words to describe his blissful state of mind). One's tongue is also imbued with the recitation of the eternal Shabad, and he enjoys the taste of Amrit when singing Waheguru's praise. The individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, has his mind coloured with His affection by the grace of the Guru. 2.

The world is caught in duality (doubt and superstition), and their lives slip away in sleep (unaware of the Truth). However, some are pulled out of their slumber (by Waheguru), and are connected with Him. Waheguru takes up residence in their mind, thereby ending their attraction to Maya. Having been enlightened by the Guru, they are honoured by Waheguru. 3. The provider for all is the same Waheguru; He guides the ones who are on the wrong path (of Maya). But also misguides some to the allurement of Maya. Waheguru can be realized only by taking the Guru's advice, as a result of which the soul (light) of the individual merges with the source of light (Joti) – Waheguru. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam all the time become "one" with Him, oh Nanak. 4. 25.58.

Word Meaning: Goonvunti = having noble qualities. Sach(u) = eternal truth (Waheguru). Trishna = worldly desires. Tuj(I) = by giving up (overcoming). Vikaar = immoral thoughts and deeds. Ootraiy = goes away. Jichur(u) = as long as; until. 1. Bhaanaiy = as per the Will (Command). Nij ghur(i) = in your own house (mind). Vuseh(i) = resides. Mehl(u) = woman (human being). Pause. Aougoonvunti = devoid of noble traits. Hudoor(i) = near Waheguru; in His presence. Puchhaaniya = recognized; made a connection. Baydhiya = pierced; deeply affected. 2. Raas(i) = capital. Soyay = fame. 4.

MEANING: Individuals, possessing noble qualities, overcome their immoral thinking and deeds, and realize the source of all truth – Waheguru. By reciting Guru's Shabads with love and respect, their minds are imbued with Guru's Shabad. If one thinks deeply, one will realize that no one ever realizes Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru. The filth (of immoral thinking) is not washed away from a person who follows his mind, until he ponders on the Guru's Shabad. 1. Lead your life as per the Will (Advice) of the Guru, oh my mind. When you do that, you will drink Amrit (of Guru's Shabad); your mind will quit wandering and will find peace. Pause. The individuals lacking noble qualities cannot enjoy union with Waheguru. The followers of their mind do not pay any attention to the Guru's Shabad, and thus lack good qualities; as a result, Waheguru is far away from them. Those who realize the Truth are imbued in Waheguru's Naam and find Waheguru everywhere. Their mind is pierced (is deeply affected) by Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru Himself connects them with Him. 2. Waheguru Himself imbues their minds with His love and connects with them through the Guru's Shabad. The colour of (love for) Waheguru's Naam is everlasting, and never wears off for those who are always connected with Him with full dedication. The follower of his mind runs in all four directions in pursuit of Maya; as a result, he never finds the Truth (never connects with the Guru or Waheguru). Only those are connected with Waheguru who take the Guru's shelter and stay focused on the Guru's Shabad. 3.

I made many friends with the hope that someone would eradicate my pain (of separation from Waheguru), but my pain was gone only when I got connected with Waheguru through Guru's Shabad. For the devotee, Waheguru's Naam is his true capital and true wealth; he also earns an everlasting praise. Those, who are connected to Waheguru in Guru's shelter, never suffer separation from Him, oh Nanak. 4.26.59

Tript(i) = satisfaction; contentment. Sungruhaan = assemble; acquire. Kuddhaan = pull out; kick out. Dhoyay = by washing or cleansing. Jidoon = from whom. 4.

MEANING: Obey Guru's Will (Teachings), oh my mind. As a result, Waheguru's Naam will take up dwelling in you, and your body and mind will be at peace. Pause.
Waheguru, the source of all basic materials, Himself plans and creates the world, and looks after it. He alone controls and provides for everybody, but the formless Waheguru is beyond comprehension. Waheguru is kind and enlightens the world Himself. He takes dwelling (appears) in people's hearts when they obey the Guru's advice and stay focused on His Naam. 1. Waheguru, which is the cause of support for the entire world, also looks after His creation. We realize His existence with His kindness, and by acting on the Guru's Shabad. Those who obey the Guru's Shabad stand out (are recognized) in Waheguru's Court. Such devotees are imbued with the Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru Himself connects them with Him. 2. Taking Guru's shelter, one should sing Waheguru's praise, which has no end to His limits. With His own sweet Will, he resides in everybody's heart and looks after the world. Taking Guru's shelter, if one sings praise of Waheguru, his selfishness and ego are eradicated. But those who lack noble qualities remain devoid of His Naam and suffer badly. 3. By singing Waheguru's praise, one gets connected with Him and attains contentment. I pondered on His noble traits, accumulated (acquired) noble qualities for myself, and washed away the filth of my ignoble qualities. As a result, Waheguru Himself connected me with Him, and I never experienced separation from Him. I sing praise of my Guru, who connected me with Waheguru, oh, Nanak. 4.27.60.

Word Meaning: Kaam(i) Guhayliyay = overpowered by lust. Baanh loodayay = with arm swinging (with conceit). Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Puchhaanhi = recognize. Kunt(u) = husband. Thee Ruhhaan = become. 1. Kiyoun = why; how. Vihaayay = spends. Gerb(i) Uttiyaan = trapped in conceit. Trishna = desires. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love with another (Maya). Ruttiyaan = imbued. Sohaagni = loved by husband. Raaveh(i) = enjoy. Tinha = theirs. 2. Vihooni = without. Mootiyaan = condemned. Pirm(u) = (union with) husband. Ugiyaanmuti = without knowledge. Undhayr(u) = darkness. Smaayay= merge. 3. Say = those. Suhiyaan = female friends (women). Khusm = master; husband (God)
Vur(u) = bridegroom. Sobhavunteeyaan = who earn praise (with their virtues). 4.

MEANING: Listen carefully, oh young woman gripped by lust! Why are you walking with your arms swinging (what are you so conceited about)? You do not recognize your own (real) husband (Waheguru); what kind of face will you show to Him? I touch the feet (show respect for) of those friends who recognize their husband (Waheguru). I, too, can be like them when I connect with Waheguru in the company of such devotees. 1. Those who deal in the mundane (are engrossed in Maya), are robbed (of their spirituality) by their false (short-lived) dealings in Maya, oh, young woman. The true and attractive husband is Waheguru, who can be realized by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. Pause. What kind of life do the followers of their mind (Maya-engrossed) have who do not recognize their real husband? They are gripped by conceit and are full of worldly desires; consequently, they suffer because of their love for Maya. But those who are imbued in Guru's Shabad are the true brides (loved by Waheguru-husband) as they have overcome their selfishness and ego. They always enjoy union with their Husband, and their lives are spent in full comfort (bliss). 2. The ignorant (without any spiritual awareness) are condemned by their Husband (Waheguru), and cannot enjoy His Company. The ignorant are in darkness; they cannot find contentment without seeing (realizing) the Husband. Please, let me join your company, oh my devotee friends, and connect me too with Waheguru. One gets connected with the Guru only because of his good fortune, and once the Guru connects the devotee with Waheguru, he attains complete union with Him. 3. Those, on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight, are the ones who are truly married (to Waheguru). They recognize their true Husband and offer their bodies and minds to Him. They overcome their selfishness and ego, and realize their Groom in their own heart. Such married women worship Waheguru day and night, and their fame spreads around in the world, oh Nanak. 4.28.61.

Word Meaning: Ikk(u) = many. Raaveh(i) = enjoy. Bhaaou = with love. Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Oopaayay = created. Sungay = with; in the company. 1. Moondhay = pretty young woman. Bhaayay = in love (as per His will). Sehjay = in the blissful spiritual state. Smaayay = merge; become one with. Pause. Ryttiyaan = imbued. Seegaar(i) = make up; adornment. Vur(u) = bridegroom. Ghur(i) = in the house (heart). Hayt(i) = love. Sayj = bed (heart). Rung(i) = in love. Ruvaiy = enjoys. Bhundaar = treasures. Preetum(u) = dear. Aadhaar = food. 2. Sud = always. Bulihaaray = be a sacrifice. Urpeen = offer. Dooja Bhaou = love for (Maya). Chookaayay = finished. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. Smaayay = merge with. 3.

MEANING: Lead your life as per the Will of the Guru, oh beautiful young woman (human being). If you do that, you will enjoy the love of your husband (Waheguru), and will be “one” with Him in the blissful state of mind. Pause. Which door should I go to (whom should I ask) to find out how some women (devotees) enjoy union with their husband (Waheguru). (Eventually, I find out) That if I serve the Guru with dedication, He will connect me with God. Waheguru Himself looks after everybody whom He has created, but for some, He is very close to, while for some others, He is far away. Whoever gets connected with Him, enjoys His union all the time. 1. Adorned by the Guru’s eternal Shabad, they are imbued in the Guru’s love, and are truly married to (loved by) God. With love and affection for the Guru, they realize Waheguru as the bridegroom in their own hearts. The treasures of worship are full for them, and imbued in Waheguru’s love, their heart-beds become very enjoyable when they enjoy Waheguru’s Love. Waheguru, who provides food to everybody, takes residence in their heart. 2. I would gladly sacrifice my life for those who sing the praises of their husband (Waheguru) and have recognized the only “One” by terminating their love for Maya. I will offer my body, my mind, and my head (will get rid of my wisdom to accept theirs), and touch their feet. (But remember), Waheguru can be recognized (realized) only by the grace of the Guru, when one becomes “one” with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.29.62.

Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Cheeraiy = in His Huqam (Command). Lukh Chauraasee = 8.4 million (according to Hindu belief, there are 8.4 million life forms). Tursday = long for; wish for badly. Bin(u) = without. Bhaytay = have a meeting with. Bukhshay = endows. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. Gehir = deep (unfathomable). Gumbheeraiy = never changing; unemotional. 1. Ruttay = imbued. Gurmuti = taking Guru's advice. Uver(u) = else. Pause. Dherm raayay = (mythical) angel of justice. Doosht(u) = sinner; merciless. Surkaar = subject. Adhiaatmi = devotees. Goontaas(u) = treasure of noble qualities. Mooraar(i) = another name for Waheguru (the killer of the demon Mooraar - Krishna). Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Svaarunhaar = one who embellishes; grooms (Waheguru). 2. Bikaar = ignoble deeds or thoughts. Tujaiy = quit. Chookaiy = ends. Moh(u) = attachment. Aatamraam(u) = God. Sehjay = blissful state of mind. Smaan(u) = merge with; union. Mookt(i) = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Divaan(u) = with lost mind; insane. Cheenaiy = recognize. Kuthni Budni = fruitless talk. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. 3. Braham(u) = (about) Waheguru. Smaal(i) = take care; remember always. 4.

MEANING: One enjoys the real comfort (bliss) when his mind is imbued in the Naam of Waheguru, oh my mind. However, one can sing praise of the Naam (Waheguru) by taking refuge only in the Guru, and nobody else's. Pause. You are the only eternal Truth, and everybody is under Your Huqam (Command), oh my Waheguru. But nobody can realize You without taking the Guru's shelter, and for that reason, even though living beings of 8.4 million life forms are dying to see You, they are not successful. At the same time, when Waheguru forgives our shortcomings and grants us His sight (connects us with Him), we enjoy all the comforts. However, the unfathomable and never-changing God can be served (His Naam is enshrined in the heart) only by the grace of the Guru. 1.

Waheguru has ordered the Angel of justice to deliver pure justice (as per the Divine Principles). The lovers of Maya are sinners and are the Angel's subjects (punishable). (On the other hand), The devotees always keep Waheguru, which is the treasure of noble qualities, in mind, and worship Him alone. Waheguru, which embellishes his devotees with noble qualities, is great and worthy of worship; His embellished devotees are accorded respect by the Angel of justice. 2 When one gets rid of his desires, of his worldly attachments, and his conceit, he recognizes (realizes) Waheguru, and gets imbued in His Naam in the blissful state of mind. (On the other hand), The follower of his mind does not seek the Guru's refuge to achieve freedom from Maya, and spends his life like an insane person. He does not realize the importance of the Guru's Shabad, and engrossed in Maya, he engages in fruitless conversations. 3. God Himself controls everything and has no rival. We speak (and act) as He wishes us to do, and He Himself makes us sing His praise. The routine conversation of a devotee is about God and His praise. He connects us with Him by Guru's Shabad. So, foster Waheguru's Naam in your heart, because one achieves comfort (blissfulness) by serving Him alone, oh Nanak. 4.30.63.

Word Meaning: Jug(i) = world. Maiyl(u) = filth. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Mul(u) = Maiyl(u) = filth. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many various ways. Kerm = ritualistic religious deeds. 1. Gur shern(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Pause. Jaasun(i) = will leave. Put(i) = dignity. Mun(i) Vusaiy = (Waheguru) takes residence in the heart (of the devotee). Smaayay = merges; becomes one with. Jioun = just as. Tioun = like that. Ugiyaan = lack of knowledge. Tujaayay = quits. 2. Gavaar = unrefined; foolish. Oordhaar(i) = acquire in mind. 3. Bulihaaraiy = sacrifice life. Ruttiya = imbued. Nij = personal. Thaoun = place (at peace). Jihva = tongue. Smaaoun = merge in; get absorbed. 4.

MEANING: The only way to cleanse your mind is to take the Guru's protection, oh my mind. The followers of their mind exhaust themselves by uttering Waheguru's Naam, but only to give the false impression of their religiosity to the people. They cannot wash away the filth of their mind by simply pretending to be what they really are not. Pause.
The world is suffering from the filth of selfishness and from the love for Maya. The filth of haumein does not go away, no matter how many dips at holy places one takes. To wash away the filth, people perform various ritualistic religious deeds, but they do not realize that they actually add twice the filth they believe they washed away, because such deeds further boost their ego. The learned (enlightened) people will also tell you that this filth does not go away simply by reading religious books. 1. (It is important to cleanse your mind because) One cannot worship Waheguru with a filthy mind or realize Him. The followers of their mind are filthy; they lose their dignity, and they die filthy. (However), By Guru's grace, the filth of haumein can be washed away, and the person becomes "one" with Waheguru. Just as a lamp is lighted to dispel darkness, the wisdom of a devotee, who is connected to Waheguru, dispels the darkness of ignorance. 2. In his love for Maya, the ignorant forgets Waheguru's Naam, and the idiot boasts of his achievements and takes credit for everything. There is no other discomfort as big as worrying about Maya, because the lover of Maya exhausts himself while pursuing it around the world. The real comfort is attained when one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart by taking shelter of the Guru. 3.
Only those individuals are connected with Waheguru whom He connects Himself to; I would gladly sacrifice my life for such lucky people. When the mind is imbued with Waheguru's Naam, the eternal Shabad of the Guru takes residence in the heart, which attains peace. By singing Waheguru's praise, one's mind and tongue get imbued with Waheguru's Naam. One should never forget Waheguru so as to stay connected with Him, oh Nanak! 4.33.31.64.

Word Meaning: Birhou = pain of separation. Ugla = very much. Kiyoun = how? Preetum(u) = dear (Waheguru). Ghur(i) = in the heart. Kit(u) = which. Bidh(i) = way; process. 1. Moogdh = fool; ignorant. Shernaagti = refugee; in Your shelter. Pause. Daata = source. Boojhiya = realized. Dheh(i) Puvaan = drop at the feet. 2. Hutth(i) = stubbornness; obstinacy. Opaav = means; arrangements. Thukkay = exhausted. Sehs = thousand. Koraiy = undyed; blank. Koorr(i) = deceits; dishonesty; show off. Kupt(i) = cheating; fraud. 3. Raas(i) = capital; source of everything. Shaabash(i) = accolades; receive praise. Bikh Bhoujul = sea of Maya. Jun = slave; devotee. 4.

MEANING: I do not have anybody else (as my support) without You, oh my Satguru! I am an ignorant fool, and have come to Your shelter. Please, be kind, and connect me with Waheguru. Pause. I am suffering mentally and physically from the pain of separation; how can I have my darling (Waheguru) come and stay in my heart? All my pain goes away when I see (spiritually) my dear Waheguru. I will approach my devotee friends and seek their advice on how to get connected with Waheguru. 1 Satguru is the source of Waheguru's Naam and can connect you with Waheguru. Satguru has realized Waheguru (is "one" with Him); no one else is as great as Satguru. I will (humbly) drop at the feet of the Satguru, and He will kindly connect me with Waheguru. 2.

Many people exhaust themselves with different approaches, but no one has ever realized Waheguru through their own stubborn efforts. Thousands have tried their wisdom, but a blank mind cannot be dyed in Waheguru's love (just as fabric requires a base before it can be dyed, the human mind also needs Guru's Shabad before it can be dyed in Waheguru's love). Also, nobody has ever realized Waheguru by deceitful methods and by cheating; they reap the rewards of their own sowings. 3.

Everybody has their hopes on You, as You are the source to fulfil all their needs, oh Waheguru. Nobody is without You (You are present in everybody), but only those who follow the Guru's teachings earn respect in Your Court. I, Nanak, a devotee of Yours, pray that we human beings, drowning in the sea of Maya, be kindly saved, oh Waheguru. 4.1.65.

Word Meaning: Triptiyaiy = is contented. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Jeevaas(u) = life. Goontaas(u) = treasure of noble qualities (Waheguru). Chaukhunniyaiy = cut into pieces. 1. Preetuma = darling. Theeyaiy = happen; exist. Drirraayay = reinforce. Pause. Amoluk(u) = priceless. Ruttun(u) = precious stone. Purgaas(i) = enlighten. Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Vudbhaagi = very lucky. 2.
Bhaytiyo = met; connected with. Vus(i) Kaal = die spiritual death. Bhuvaayeh(i) = made to go through. Vishta = crap (Maya). Vikraal = scary; frightening. Paas(i) dooaas(i) = near; close. Bhitiyaiy = meet; go near. Chundaal = butcher; vicious. 3.
Amritsar(u) = pool of life-sustaining water (ambrosia). Ootum Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Liv = meditate with full concentration. 4.

MEANING: I survive only if I recite (remember) Your Naam, oh my darling Waheguru. There is no life without Your Naam; my Satguru reiterates Your Naam. Pause.
My mind finds contentment when I acquire Waheguru's Naam; life is condemnable without Naam. I am looking for a devotee friend who can lead me to Waheguru, the treasure of all noble qualities. I will cut myself into pieces (be an unconditional slave) for him who enlightens me with Waheguru's Naam. 1. The perfect Satguru possesses (is the source of) Waheguru's Naam, which is priceless like a jewel. When one serves Satguru, He confers Naam-Rattan on him, and enlightens his mind. Those who get connected with Satguru are the luckiest of the lucky. 2. (On the other hand, those who do not get connected with Satguru), are prisoners of (spiritual) death. (Disconnected from the Guru), They are trapped in the crappy Maya and are made to suffer in the frightening cycle of reincarnation. One should never get even close to those who harbour the butcher-like rage. 3.

Satguru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, is a pool of life-sustaining water (Naam-Amrit); the lucky ones take a dip in it. Their filth of many lives is washed away, and they recite Waheguru's Naam repeatedly with a clean mind. I, a devotee of the Satguru, have also attained the highest spiritual level by concentrating on the Naam, oh, Nanak. 4.2.66.

Word Meaning: Vithraan = explain with detail; preach. Goonkaariya = possessing noble qualities. Sujjan = (devotee) friends. Heeraiy = diamond (Satguru). Heera = human mind. Baydhiya = pierced (affected deeply). Chloolay = deep red shiny colour (red colour represents deep devotion for God). Naayay = with Waheguru's Naam. 1. Govinda = Waheguru. Triput(u) = content. Toos(i) = pleased to be kind. Pause. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Psaaou = blesses. Drirrayay = reinforces. Rung Siyoun = with love. Bul(i) = sacrifice self. Lukh Koti = millions. Kerm = religious rituals. Kmaaoun = perform. 2. Ghur(I) = in the heart. Nikt(i) = near; close by. Ugiyaan = ignorance. Bherm = doubts; wavering mind. Purrdah = curtain. Puyiaas = is drawn. Kunchan = (pure like) gold. Theeyaiy = becomes. Loh = (like) iron; stone-hearted. 3. Bohith(u) = ship. Naav = boat. Kit(u) bidh(i) = in what way; how. Bhaanaiy = as per His Will. Chullaiy = leads his life. 4.

MEANING: My mind finds contentment when I sing praise of Your noble qualities, oh my Waheguru! There is a thirst in my mind for Waheguru's Naam; the Guru kindly connects me with Him (thereby quenching my thirst). Pause. I sing Waheguru's noble qualities, explain them to others, and my routine conversation is also about His noble qualities, oh my mother! My friend is a devotee of the Satguru and possesses all the noble qualities; I sing Waheguru's qualities in his company. After connecting with the Guru, who is like a diamond, my mind has been pierced (deeply moved) and has also become like a diamond, imbued with the deep red, shiny colour (which never fades) of the Naam. 1. The Guru is very kind and pleased (to connect you with Waheguru). Be fortunate, and take Guru's shelter to be imbued in the deep red colour of His love, oh my friend! I am a sacrifice for the Guru who fosters and reinforces Waheguru's Naam with affection. Without taking Guru's shelter, no one can acquire Waheguru's Naam on their own, no matter how many ritualistic deeds they perform. 2. Even though Waheguru is always close to you, residing in your heart, without good fortune, you cannot realize Him. Normally, there is a curtain of ignorance and doubts drawn between the individual and Waheguru, as a result of which, his mind stays away from Waheguru. Without connecting to the Guru, the mind of the individual is hard like iron, and never becomes soft and pure) like gold; (with the mind being hard like iron, it does not melt in Waheguru's love), and the individual drowns (in the sea of Maya) even though the boat (Waheguru) is close by on the shore. 3. Satguru is the ship, and Waheguru's Naam is the boat, but one does not know how to get on to the Naam-boat (to be ferried across the sea of Maya). Those who lead their lives according to the Guru's Will get to ride on the boat and earn respect when connected with the Guru (and Waheguru), oh Nanak! 4.3.67.

Word Meaning: Punth(u) = (spiritual) path. Dusaayeen = I enquire. Nit = every day; always. Raaviya = enjoyed (His union). Laag(i) = following. Jodrri = beg; request. Chaaou = zest: gusto; enthusiasm. 1. Bhaayee Juna = brothers and friends. Vitoun = for. Vaariya = sacrifice. Pause. Nimaana = without ego; humble; powerless. Dheh(i) = drop on feet. Maan(u) = confers honour. Shabaash(i) = applauds. Rujoun = satisfied; tired. 2. Loachda = strongly wishes for. Jayta = however much; all. Jugat(u) = world. Bhaagaan = luck. Theeyaiy = happens. Bhaana = Wish; liking. Dhoor(i) = from the source. Maytaiy = erases; stops. 3. Duyya = kindness; mercy. Peechaiy = behind; follow. Jugjeevun(u) = God. Jul = water. Juleh(i) = in water. Smaayay = merges. 4.

MEANING: Would one of you, please, connect me with Waheguru, oh my dear devotee friends! I am a sacrifice to my Satguru, whom I know shows (connects with) You, oh Waheguru. Pause. I am always waiting to ask for the path (to union with Waheguru); I will humbly approach the individual who can show it to me. I will follow those who have enjoyed union with the dear Waheguru. I am very zealous to connect with Waheguru, so I will request them, beg them, to connect me with Him. 1.

Shedding all my ego, I will drop at the feet of the Satguru (surrender myself). The Guru applauds and confers dignity on those who have no ego and are humble. I never get tired of singing the praises of my Guru, who connects me to Waheguru. 2.
Everybody in the world wishes (yearns) to connect with Satguru but cannot do so without good fortune. The unlucky simply laments over his helplessness. (But even such people should not be blamed) because only God's will prevails, and nobody can erase what has been predestined for them. (So, until Waheguru is kind, they cannot connect with Him with their own efforts). 3. Satguru is a manifestation of God, who Himself connects individuals with Him through Satguru. When Waheguru is kind, He connects the individuals with Satguru (for them to follow His Teachings). Waheguru is the life of everybody in the world, and He is blended with everyone indiscernibly just as a small body of water mixes with a large body, oh Nanak. 4.4.68.

Word Meaning: Rus(u) = a sweet extract to enjoy. Ut(i) Bhula = extremely beneficial. Kit(u) Bidh(i) = how; in what way. Sohaagni = married (connected with God). Vaypervaah = indifferent; do not care (about publicity). Mul(i) = rubbing well (affectionately). 1.
Sujjan(u) = (devotee) friend. Saar(i) = remember; sing. Purakh = manifestation of God. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Pause. Vuchun(u) = Shabad; Teaching. Ruttan(u) = precious stone. Bhaayay = in love. 2. Vun(i) Tin(i) = in forest and in vegetation. Bhaag-heen = unlucky. Pullaiy = to have (in possession). Bil-laayay = desperate to have. Niveh(u) = kneel down; surrender. Blaayay = demon; uninvited (trouble or problem). 3. Choayay = drips. Huriya = becomes green (blooms or feels blissful). 4.

MEANING: Sing praise of (remember) Waheguru's qualities in the company (shelter) of the friend - Satguru. Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru who dispels one's discomfort by eradicating one's haumein. Pause. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit – an immortalizing sweet extract as a mental food to enjoy – and is highly beneficial. But, how to acquire it to enjoy (there is no simple way)? We need to ask the married human brides (who have been connected with Waheguru) how Waheguru came to reside in their hearts (how they got connected). But they do not tell you easily (because they do not want to make their relationship with Waheguru public to avoid any publicity or public praise). So, I will need to wash their feet by rubbing them well (gently and with affection), i.e. I need to overcome my ego and serve them to please them (to seek their guidance). 1.

The devotees of Satguru are the real brides (connected with Waheguru); they take pity on you (and advise you) that Satguru's Shabad is priceless like a jewel; whoever obeys it, enjoys the taste (of Waheguru's union). They are lucky who enjoy this extract (Waheguru's Naam-Amrit) by obeying the Will of Satguru. 2. This extract (Waheguru's Naam) is present in the forests, in the vegetation, and in the whole world, but the unfortunate cannot enjoy it. They cannot acquire it without Satguru, and the followers of their mind (engrossed in Maya) simply keep lamenting. They have the demon of rage (or ego) in them, and do not surrender to Satguru. 3. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit (immortalizing liquid), and He makes it available to the people through Satguru when He is kind. The body and mind of the recipient bloom when Waheguru takes residence in his heart, oh Nanak. 4.5.69.

Word Meaning: Aathvaiy = evening. Aav = span of life. Moosa = mouse (of time). Laaj(u) = a long rope tied to a bucket to draw water from a well; thread of life. Tookayay = chews off. Goorr(u) = large nuggets of raw sugar; jaggery. Pusriya = has spread (its fragrance). Maakhee = house fly. Puchaiy = suffers. 1. Klut(u) = wife. Moh(u) = attachments. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Bayli = friend. Pause. Liv = meditation with concentration. Oobray = salvaged. Ulipt(u) = detached. Shernaayay = in the shelter of. Chullun(u) = way of life. Nihaliya = watched carefully Khurch(u) = expenses for the journey. Put(i) = dignity. Munniyay = approved; recognized. 2. Purgta = lighted; clear. Tthaak = obstacle.

Unhud = uniformly (pleasant); play automatically. Dhooni = notes (of musical instruments). Sobha = praise; honour. 3. laahiya = sang the praise. Shabaash(i) = win praise. Sungat(i) = company. Jaachik = wisher; beggar. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is your only friend and pal, oh my brother. Attachment to your son and your wife is all poisonous Maya, as nobody helps in the end (at the time of death). Pause. We start our daily routine with sunrise (the time goes by), the sun sets, and the night is over. The man does not understand that his life shortens (with every moment) and the mouse of time keeps on chewing the thread of his life. Maya is like sweet jaggery, and the follower of his mind sticks to it like a housefly and suffers because it gets stuck to it (and cannot escape from its bonds). 1. (On the other hand), those who come to the Guru's shelter and follow His Wisdom (Teachings) are protected as they stay detached from Maya. They carefully tread on the path of righteousness and do the business of Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which they are honoured. The followers of the Guru are hugged by God Himself and are honoured in His Court. 2. The path of life is lighted up for the followers of the Guru, and there is no hurdle in their way to union with Waheguru. They always keep Waheguru's Naam in mind, praise Him, and stay connected. They are applauded in Waheguru's Court, and they feel as if Divine music is playing for them automatically. 3. Everybody praises those who sing Waheguru's praise in the Guru's shelter. I beg for their company, oh Waheguru; it is my beggar's prayer to You. Those devotees of Satguru, whose minds have been enlightened, are lucky, oh Nanak. 4.6.70

Word Meaning: Rutta = engrossed; mind fully occupied. Kluttar = wife. Seegaar = adornments. Rus = sweet taste; love. Bhogeh(i) = enjoys. Maaneh(i) = enjoy. Rung = colour; attractions. Apaar = limitless; many. Phoormayayshi = demands; orders. Afaar = full of ego. Kerta = Creator. Undh = blind; ignorant. Guvaar = unrefined. 1.
Sookhdaata = source of comforts (Waheguru). Kerm(i) = kindness. Praaput(i) = acquire. Pause. Luptaaya = clung to; engrossed. Roopa = silver. Khaak(u) = dust; of no value. Haiyvur = pricy horses. Gaiyvur = pricy elephants. Ruth = chariots. Athaak = never tiring. Bisriya = slipped out of mind. Saak = relatives. Napaak = unholy. 2.
Bud-dooaayay = curse. Ikut = accumulate. Putiyayaynda = please. Sun(u) = including. Anit = perishable. Viyaapiya = happens; performs; living life. 3.
Purakh(I) = with Waheguru. Ikko = the only one. Maanus = human being. Phayr = return; rebirth. Rung(i) = in the affection. Jug = world. 4.
MEANING: Hey, foolish, ignorant, and unrefined follower of your mind, for what have you completely forgotten the Creator (Waheguru), and are you fully engrossed in the attachment of relations like your sons, and your adorned wife? You also enjoy different foods and activities of many kinds; issue many orders (have too many demands), and deal with people with big egos in your mind (without realizing their dreadful consequences). 1. The only source of all comforts is Waheguru alone, oh my mind. However, He can be realized only by His kindness, and by the grace of the Guru. Pause. The man is gripped in his enjoyment of clothes, gold, silver, etc., but is unaware that all these things have no (spiritual) value and are like dust. The man enjoys riding expensive horses, elephants, and various kinds of chariots, and never gets tired of it. He does not care about anyone (ignores them) and even forgets his relatives. He forgets the Creator and is unholy without Waheguru's Naam. 2. You earn the curse of many people while you accumulate wealth (because you usurp their rights), without realizing that all those (your relatives), whom you try to please, are perishable just like you. The egoist follows his mind and deals with others guided by his ego. (But he is not completely to blame) because Waheguru Himself has misguided him; and his upper caste, and his respect in society, carry no worth in Waheguru's Court. 3. Satguru connects some individuals with Waheguru, who is their only real friend. He is the guard of His devotees, and nobody can cause them any harm. However, the egoist suffers because of his ego. Waheguru listens to His devotees and grants them what they wish, and they suffer no reincarnation. One who is imbued in Waheguru's Naam serves as a beacon of enlightenment for the whole world, oh Nanak. 4.1.71.

Word Meaning: Bilaas(u) = happiness; gusto. Rung(u) = colour; variety of comforts. Ghuna = deep; immense. Chhutardhaar = having canopies on their head (emperors). Sehsay = worries. 1. Bidhaataiy = the controller of your destiny (God). Mit(i) = removed. Pause. Jaytay = however many. Thaan Thnuntra = different places (of significance). Taytay = all those. Bhuv(i) = visited. Dhunpaati = wealthy. Vudbhoomiya = big landlord. 2. Nisung = shamelessly. Vertaiy = deals. Afuriya = in big ego. Vusgut(i) = in control. Kur (i) Luyayon = brought under (control). Khaak(u) = dust. 3. Kot(i) taytees = 330 million (Hindus have 330 million gods and goddesses). Sayvka = servants. Sidh = accomplished yogis. Sadhik = those who purify their bodies by yogic exercises. Dur(i) Khuriya = waiting on the door. Girumbaari = household (a large estate). Vud Sahibi = high-level control. Theeya = happened. 4.

MEANING: The real peace of mind is attained only in the company of the devotees of Waheguru, oh my friend. If Waheguru writes good fortune for an individual, he is connected with a holy gathering, and all his worries and discomforts are eradicated. Pause. (Forgetting Waheguru), If an individual happily enjoys different colours of life, and even if he becomes a ruler of some state with a royal canopy over his head, he will still be suffering from many worries (without Sadh sangat(i)). 1. If one is very wealthy, a big landlord, and has visited all the important places (to enjoy life), he will still be suffering from his ego (without Sadh sangat(i)). 2. Without Waheguru's Naam in mind, if a man conquers everybody and issues orders shamelessly (without fear), he will still be treated like a particle of dust (will be humiliated) in Waheguru's Court. 3.
If he owns a large estate and has control over many people, so much so that all the 330 million gods and high-level Sidh Yogis and body purifiers are attendants on his door, all those will be like a lost dream (without Waheguru's Naam), oh Nanak. 4.2.72.

Word Meaning: Pupoliyaiy = nourish. Moogdh = foolish. Ujaan(i) = ignorant. Baybaan(i) = deserted place (graveyard). Saytee = with. Rung = colour (colourful life); blissfulness. Maan(i) = enjoy. 1. Laaha = earn profit (achieve the objective of spirituality and be "one" with God). Koophukkrray = worthless (ignoble) deeds. Pause. Koodum(u) = jump around carelessly; have fun. Kaal(u) = death. Otay = the same. Phaatha = trapped.

Mooktay = free from the bonds of Maya. Bhaaliyeh(i) = search; are considered. Smaal(i) = take care of; remember. 2. Jay = Jo = which. Ghur = house; life. Vertna = have to deal with. 3. Koondaan = directions. Bhaal(i) = search. Shernayay = (Guru's) shelter. 4.

MEANING: You came to this earth to achieve an objective (of being "one" with Waheguru), oh man. But you are busy pursuing worthless deeds without realizing that the night of your life is slipping away. Pause. Without the realization (of what the real objective of life is), the foolish and the ignorant man is only nourishing his body, starting early in the morning. He never thinks of Waheguru (despite the fact that eventually), his dead body will be thrown in the graveyard. To enjoy eternal happiness (blissfulness), the man should focus his mind on Waheguru. 1. Just like animals and birds, which jump around (have fun) carefreely unaware of the impending death, the ignorant man also enjoys life trapped in the net of Maya. Only those are free from the bonds of Maya who are fostering Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. 2. The man has only the household's interests in mind, which he has to leave behind anyway, but shows no concern (completely unaware) about his future home, where he will go (after death). Trapped in the net of Maya, only those get free from it who take shelter at the Guru's feet. 3. Nobody else (other than the Guru) can guide (enlighten) us and save us from sins. So, after searching in all four directions (everywhere), I have come to the refuge of the Guru. The True King (Waheguru) has saved me from drowning in the sea of Maya (and connected me with Him), oh Nanak. 4.3.73.

Word Meaning: Mohut = a very short period of time. Paahouna = guest. Svarunhaar = finish the task. Kaam(i) = in lust. Viyapiya = trapped; indulged. Gavaar(u) = unrefined (uninformed). Vus(i) = in the control. Jundaar = unkind. 1.

Kundhee Paayay = near the bank of a river (which can cave in at any time). Poorub(i) = predestined. Buchan = Word (Shabad). Kmaayay = deal in; act on. Pause.

Dudduri = half-ripe. Vudhanhaar = ready for cutting (harvesting). Daat = sickles; a curved and toothed blade with a wooden handle to cut crops. Laavaiy = farm helpers. Kirsaan = farmer (landlord). Loon(i) = cut; harvested. Khaytaar = field. 2.

Pehr = one quarter of (night or life). Dhundhaiy = routine work; daily affairs. Jhaakh Jhkhaaya = fruitless conversation; enjoying sensual pleasures. Bhor(u) = early morning; time of grey hair (old age). Kud Hee Na = never. Chit(i) = in mind or memory. Pind(u) = body. 3. Vaariya = offer life to sacrifice. Jeo = mind. Sojhee = enlightenment. Purakh = (Waheguru). Soojaan = Wise. Dittha = saw; realized. Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.

MEANING: (You do not realize that) your life is very short, like a tree near the bank of a river (which can cave in any time), oh, blind (ignorant) man! However, those who are predestined act on the Guru's advice (to make life worthwhile). Pause. (It is ridiculous) For a guest visiting for a short time, to start finishing the house he is visiting, as if he owned it. Gripped in lust, the uninformed man does not realize that he is here on the earth as a visitor only. Upon death, he repents his actions when he becomes a prisoner of the unkind (Angel of death). 1. (Human life is like a crop) which can be cut whenever the landlord wants, regardless of whether it is still green, half-ripe, or fully ripe. On his orders, his farm helpers arrive at the field with sickles in hand, cut the entire field, and measure it. 2. (After spending the day in his routine business of earning wealth), The man spends the first quarter of the night eating and chatting with the family, and enjoys deep sleep in the second quarter. He enjoys sensual pleasures in the third quarter, and then morning approaches in the fourth quarter (to start a new day). Thus, He gets no time to remember Waheguru, who has given him the soul and the body. 3. I would gladly offer my life to (in the service of) the Sadh-sangat (congregation of the holy devotees) where my mind was enlightened, and I became "one" with the Super-wise Waheguru. Now I find the omniscient Waheguru always with me, oh Nanak. 4.4.74.

Mushuktay = hard work (in Guru's service). Tootthaiy = at (Your) pleasure. Vusgut(i) = in control. Sahibaiy = the Lord. Krave = does. Bulihaarnaiy = glad to sacrifice myself. Munsa = wishes of the mind. 3.
Samugree = all materials. Reet(i) = tradition; rules. Siyoun = with. Maaniya = convinced; content. Nihchul Cheet(u) = stable mind. Tayk = support. 4.
MEANING: Sing praise of the Creator (God), oh my mind. Keeping all your wisdom (ego) aside, fall on the Guru's feet (obey Him with humbleness). Pause.
My Guru has enlightened me and explained to me the real objective of life – (by singing Waheguru's praise to be "one" with Him); so, forgetting everything about daily routine, I am reciting Waheguru's Naam. My only wish is that I may forget everything else, but not the One - (Waheguru's Naam). All other hopes (wishes) are unimportant; the only important wish that one needs to achieve is (Waheguru's Naam), and one should work hard for that. Those who serve the Guru get the eternal seat (union with Waheguru) in the next world. 1. The suffering of discomforts and of hunger (for Maya), does not impact an individual who keeps the source of all comfort – Waheguru – in mind. No job (worldly attraction) causes any stress on you if you have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in your heart. No one can kill you (or no worldly attraction can rob you of your spirituality), when Waheguru is protecting you and providing His coverage. We should serve Satguru, who is the source of all comfort; He washes away (the filth of your ignoble deeds), and roots out all your ill qualities. 2.
I beg to serve those who serve You, oh Waheguru. If you please, allow me to serve You in the company of Your devotees. Everything is under Your control; in fact, You do everything Yourself and get others to do as You please, oh Waheguru. I wish to sacrifice my life for Satguru, who fulfils all my needs (and wishes). 3.
I see only one true friend, one brother, and one pal (Waheguru). He owns the whole universe, and it is only His tradition (laws) that operate everywhere. My mind found contentment when it was convinced (that only Waheguru is the source of all comforts). Now, He is my support, and I remember Him while eating and wearing (all the time), oh Nanak. 4.5.75.

subha. Dhoyee tis hee nu milaiy jin(i) poora Guru lubha. Nanak buddha ghur(u) tuhaan, jithaiy mirt(u), na junum, juraa. 4.6.76.

Word Meaning: Thoak = things. Praaptay = acquire. Ikk(u) = one (Waheguru). Junum(u) Pdaruth = (valuable) article for life; objective of life (union with Waheguru). Suful(u) = successful; is achieved. Kuth(i) = recite. Mehl(u) = God's abode. Likhiya hovaiy Muth(i) = written on the forehead (fortune); predestined. 1. Aikus = One (Waheguru). Dhundh(u) = Maya related. Mithiya = false. Pause. Nimkh = a moment. Seetal = calm; peaceful. Poorub(i) = predestined. 2. Moorut(u) = Ghurree= moment. Suntaap(u) = suffering. Adhaar = support. Ootriya Paar(i)= made to the far end of the sea of Maya (salvaged). 3. Soohaava = pleasing; comforting. Pvit(u) = holy. Sunt Subha = holy congregation. Dhoyee = shelter. Buddha Ghur(u) = built residence; controlled mid; attained the highest spiritual level. Mirt(u) = death. Juraa = old age. 4.

MEANING: Concentrate (meditate) only on Waheguru, oh my mind! Other than the One (Waheguru), everything else is just daily routine work involving Maya, and attachment with Maya is short-lived (and hence, of no spiritual value). Pause.

If one is able to acquire (Waheguru's Naam), he automatically acquires everything else he wishes for. The objective of life is achieved if one recites the True Shabad (of the Guru) (with dedication). If one is predestined, he will achieve union with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru. 1. If Satguru casts His kind sight on someone, he enjoys the bliss which is better than millions of happiness and kingdoms. My mind finds peace (feels blissful) if Satguru fosters Waheguru's Naam in my mind – even if only for a short moment. But one seeks the shelter of Satguru only if one is predestined to do so. 2. That moment, that time, is successful when you love the eternal Waheguru. The individual who makes Waheguru his support does not suffer from any discomfort or painful situations. (His mind becomes so strong that he does not feel any discomfort. Whoever is held by the arm by Waheguru (is supported by Him), swims across the sea of Maya. 3.

The place where a holy congregation is held becomes very comforting and pious. Only that individual finds shelter (attains relief from all sorts of miseries) who connects with the Guru. With Guru's kindness, I have built the place (attained the spiritual level) where there is no death, rebirth, or old age (have become "one" with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.6.76.

Word Meaning: Dhiyayiyaiy = remember; worship. Jeeurray = oh, mind. Sir(i) = above. Vaysaah(u) = trust; faith. Siyaanupaan = all wisdom. 1.

Sehj = stable or peaceful mind. Saytee = with. Aatth Pehr = 24 hours; day and night. (pehr is a unit of time and is equal to three hours). Gobind = a name for Waheguru. Nit = every day (all the time). Pause. Jayvud = as expansive. Uver(u) = else. Simrut = remembering. Ghuna = very much. Na Moolay = not at all. 2.

Sadh Sungat(i) = holy congregation (of the Guru or the devotees). Nirmula = clean; purefied. Jum Kee Phaas = noose of the angel of death. Bhaiy = fear. Bhunjno = the destroyer (Waheguru). Mehrvaan(u) = kind; munificent. Kaaruj = task. Raas(i) = suitable; successful (the objective is achieved). 3. Vkhaaniyaiy = say; explain. Ooho oocha = higher and higher (unreachable). Thaaon = place; residence. Verna = colours (of the skin). Chihna = physical features. Baahra = beyond. Muyya = kindness; mercy. 4.

MEANING: Remember (keep in mind) only (Waheguru) who is the King of all kings, and seek His shelter who has won the faith of everybody, oh my mind. Forgetting all your wisdom, drop on the feet of (surrender to) the Guru. 1. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam with a peaceful mind (above the effects of Maya) is the only source of comfort, oh my mind. So, recite His Naam 24 hours, and sing His praise all the time. Pause.

Take the refuge of only the "One" which has no equal (rival), oh, my friend. Worshipping Him provides great comfort, and one suffers no pain or discomfort. 2.

Mind is purified in the company of the Satguru, and the noose of the Angel of death is cut free. Pray before the source of all comforts and the destroyer of all fears (God), oh my mind. The objective (of being "one" with Waheguru) is achieved if the kind (Waheguru) shows His benevolence. 3. People say that Waheguru is more and more expansive, and He is higher and higher; but nobody can evaluate Him fully (describe Him) because He has no skin colour and no physical features. I only pray to Him that He kindly implants His Naam in my heart, oh Nanak. 4. 7. 77.

Word Meaning: Dhiyayay = remember. Oojul(u) = clean; pious. Pergut(u) = appears; shows self. Loyay = worlds. 1. Suhayee = helpful. Sung(i) = accompanies. Aagaiy = next world. Pause. Vudiyaayiyaan = praise; honours. Kuvnaiy = which; what. Fikka = tasteless; light (colour) which wears off fast. Binus(i) = vanishes. Nidaan(i) = at the end. 2. Raynuka = dust (of the feet); ego-free. Oopaav = efforts; arrangements. Praaput(i) = aquire. Ruttan = valuable like a jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Mustuk(i) = (on the) forehead. Bhaag(u) = fortune. 3. Binsaiy = vanish. Taap = heat; suffering. Bhaytiya = met. Suntaap = suffering. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh my mind. Waheguru's Naam is always a great support that accompanies you into the next world and frees you from the clutches of the Angel of Justice. Pause. The person who always remembers Waheguru's Naam, enjoys comfort, and his face glows (with the purity of his mind), and is known (respected) all over the world. However, Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only from the Guru, as the eternal Waheguru resides in the Guru (and His devotees). 1.

The honours conferred by the world on a man are of no use in the spiritual world. The colour of (love for) different attractions of Maya is short-lived and wears off eventually, but a man who harbours Waheguru's Naam in his heart is respected everywhere. 2.

Overcome your ego and be humble as if you are the dust of the Guru's feet, and, quitting all your wisdom, take the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. The individual, who has good fortune on his forehead, acquires Waheguru's Naam, which is invaluable like a precious stone. 3.

However, only that individual acquires His Naam whom Waheguru confers on with His own volition. And only that individual serves the Guru who has overcome the illness of ego. Luckily, I got connected with the Guru, and all my suffering has gone, oh Nanak. 4.8.78.

Word Meaning: Puchhaanoo = one who recognizes (knows well). Rukhunhaar(u) = saviour. Adhaar(u) = support; provider. Shernayee = in shelter of. Parbrahm = God. Kartar(u) = the Creator (Waheguru). 1. Sugul = all. Oopaav = efforts; approaches (like rituals). Tiyaag(u) = quit; discard. Aaraadh(i) = worship. Nit = every day. Liv = concentration.

Pause. Mit(u) = friend. Tayk = support. Jeo = soul. Pind(u) = body. Vus(i) = control. 2. Thaan Thnuntar = different places (everywhere). Aatth Pehr = day and night. Jaap(i) = recite (Naam). Ruttiyaan = being imbued. Soag = grief. Suntaap = suffering. 3. Bhaavaiy = as per Will. Poora bhuyya = became complete or perfect (like God). 4.

MEANING: Discarding all other efforts and approaches (all prevalent religious rituals), worship (recite the Naam with full dedication to) only the Perfect Guru (Waheguru) day and night, oh my mind! Pause. Waheguru is the only Supreme Being who knows your needs and wishes, and who is your saviour. Remember, He is the only support of mind and life (fulfills your spiritual and worldly needs). There are all comforts in Waheguru's (who is also the Creator) shelter, oh my mind. 1. Only He is your real brother, friend, mother and father. Only He, who has given us soul and body, is the real support of your mind (to fulfill its needs and wishes). The Waheguru, which controls everything, should never be forgotten, oh man. 2. Only He is present in one's heart, and everywhere outside in the whole world. Recite His Naam day and night, who has created all the living beings. When one is imbued in His Naam, he does not experience any grief or suffering (his mental level becomes so high spiritually that he does not feel any suffering). 3.
There is only one Supreme Being, and none other (He has no rival). Our body and mind belong to Him (are given by Him), and only those things happen in the world which He wishes. The Perfect Guru connects one with Waheguru, and one merges with Him by worshipping Him (by reciting His Naam and obeying His Command), oh Nanak. 4.9.79.

Word Meaning: Chit(u) = mind. Perdhaan = honourable. Duyaal = kind. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Giyan = Divine Knowledge (enlightenment). Mustuk(i) = forehead. 1.
Dhiyayay = recite (with love and concentration). Serb Sookhaan Sookh = supreme comfort. Oopjeh(i) = sprouts. Paidha = wears (robe of honour). Pause.
Bhuou = fear. Bhaao = (respectful) love. Gopal = who nourishes the earth (God). Nirmula = clean; pure. Pritpaal = nourish and nurture. Mul(u) = filth. MEANING: Recite the Naam of the only “One” (Waheguru), as a result of which you will experience the supreme comfort, and will wear the robe of honour (be honoured) in the Court of Waheguru, oh my mind. Pause. Those whose minds are connected to Satguru are truly honourable. Divine Knowledge (enlightenment) sprouts in the minds of those whom Waheguru is kind to. But only those who acquire Waheguru’s Naam (get connected with Him) who have good fortune on their foreheads (are predestined for). 1.
Those who worship Waheguru with love (and dedication) lose the fear of birth and death. Their mind becomes pure in the company of the Guru, and Waheguru Himself nourishes and nurtures them (fosters noble qualities in them). One’s filth of sins of many lives is washed away, and he is blessed when he internalizes Satguru. 2. Waheguru is present everywhere, and He is the only provider for everybody - there is none other. One gets freedom from the bonds of Maya (is salvaged), and he acquires whatever he wishes for when he comes under the shelter of Waheguru. 3. Those are truly honourable who have made their hearts a residence for Waheguru. Their holy fame spreads all over the world. I am a sacrifice for those who recite Waheguru’s Naam, oh Nanak. 4.10.80.

Word Meaning: Vusiya = took residence. Jot(i) = Waheguru’s light (enlightenment). Purgasiya = lighted up. Liv = concentration; connection. Sadhu = Satguru. Oojla = gleam; shiny; pious. Poorub(i) Likhiya = predestined. Nit = every day. 1.
Chaakri = personal tending. Birtha = empty; without. Na Koyay = nobody. Pause.
Ichhaan = desires; wishes. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Untarjaami = omniscient. Sung = with. Kurnaiyhaar(u) = the Creator. Daan(u) = service to humanity; giving the gift of Waheguru’s Naam. Ishnaan = washing (the mind). Kaam(u) = lust. Lobh = greed. Binsiya = disappeared. Tujiya = quit. Abhimaan = ego. 2.

Laaha = Laabh(u) = profit. Poorun = complete. Kaam = task; objective. Aavun Jaana = birth-death-birth cycle. Reh(i) Guyya = left behind (came to an end). Mehl(u) = Ghur(u) = (Waheguru's) residence; union with Him. Puchhaan = recognizing. 3.
Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = the next world. Saar(i) = taking care of; remembering (the noble qualities of Waheguru). Aatth Pehr = 24 hours. Ruttay = imbued. Rung(i) Apaar = limitless. Sookh Saagro = sea of comforts. Bulihaar = sacrifice. 4.
MEANING: You get the real comfort when you follow the Guru's Teachings, oh my mind. Nobody leaves empty (without Guru's blessings) when you serve the Guru as His personal attendant (obey His Will). Pause. When one is connected with Satguru, all his discomforts go away, and the source of all comfort – Waheguru- takes residence in his heart. Concentrating on Waheguru, one's mind is enlightened. When one gets connected with the Guru, his face begins to glow (his mind becomes pure); but only those get connected with the Guru who are predestined to do so. One's mind becomes pure by singing His praise and reciting Waheguru's Naam every day (all the time). 1.
All his wishes are fulfilled when one acquires the treasure of Waheguru's Naam. The omniscient Waheguru is always with you, but you need to recognize the Creator. One can do that (recognize Waheguru) when he recites His Naam by Guru's grace, and gives the gift of Waheguru's Naam to others (fosters the Naam in them). At that level of spirituality, his lust, rage, greed, and ego all disappear, and his mind becomes pure. 2. One's objective of life (union with Waheguru) is achieved as he internalizes Waheguru's Naam – this is the benefit (wealth) he earns. Waheguru becomes very kind and fosters His Naam in the heart of the devotee. With the kindness of Waheguru, the individual's birth-death-birth cycle is terminated. With Guru's Shabad, one's mind is enlightened, and one reaches Waheguru's Palace (merges into Him). 3.
As a result of the devotees' singing His praise, Waheguru protects them (from the attacks of Maya) by His kindness, and they are honoured in His Court. The devotees are imbued in Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise twenty-four hours. Waheguru is the sea (unlimited source) of all comforts; and (Guru) Nanak is always a sacrifice for Him. 4.11. 81.

MEANING: Come to the shelter of Waheguru, oh my mind. Worship only the Naam of God, as there is nobody else (equal to Him). Pause. If one is able to connect with the Perfect Satguru, he acquires the treasure of the Shabad (fosters Waheguru's Naam in his heart). (I pray to Waheguru that) He is kind to me so that I may worship His Naam, which is the real Amrit (otherwise a mythical liquid which makes a person immortal). (When one worships Waheguru's Naam), his mind gets focused on the Naam (quits wandering), and the suffering of rebirth is eliminated. 1. Waheguru is a fathomless sea of noble qualities, and nobody can evaluate Him fully (cannot describe Him). One can only deal in the noble qualities (acquire them) in the company of the devotees. One needs to serve Waheguru (lead one's life according to the Guru's teachings), which is the source of all comforts and the Supreme King above all worldly kings. 2. There is no other support than Waheguru whose Feet are as soft as the lotus flower (an expression of devotee's love for God). You are my only support, oh Waheguru, and I survive on Your power (support). Waheguru confers honour on the weak, and I pray that I may be fully absorbed in Him by singing His praise. 3. One should always worship and remember Waheguru, who kindly supports our breathing, our bodies, our wealth, and our lives. Waheguru is kind and forgiving, and removes all our sins, oh Nanak. 4.12.82.

MEANING: Make Waheguru your friend, oh my brothers. Love for Maya is condemnable because no one seems happy in it (it does not last, and its loss causes grief). Pause.

I have developed a love for the eternal Waheguru because (unlike Maya) he never dies or leaves you. He is an integral part of everyone, and (once connected), He never separates from you, even if some people may try to do just that (to weaken your faith in Him). If a devotee has pure love for Waheguru, He eradicates all his troubles as He is kind to the humble (who overcome their ego to seek His shelter). He appears in many amazing forms, and the Guru has connected me with Him, oh my mother. 1. God knows everyone's needs and diligently looks after His creation. He is the provider, very calm, perfectly pure, and of limitless beauty (in His nature). He is one's real friend and helper, extremely expansive, and very high, beyond reach (by our senses). He is never-changing (he was never a child, young and will never be old), and has eternal Court (will never cease to be the Lord). He is the support for all those who are otherwise without support, and with His kindness, one acquires whatever one wishes. 2. The man needs to worship the "One" (Waheguru) with full dedication as He destroys all his sins as soon as he gets connected with Him; and He removes all one's doubts, as a result of which one's mind and body become pure, and find peace. The treasure of all noble qualities (God) is always fresh, and His largess is perfect. One should worship Him all the time and should never forget Him. 3. Waheguru is the friend of all those who are predestined (to have Him as their friend). One should offer Him all - one's body, mind (wisdom), and wealth, etc. - and should sacrifice one's life for Him. Waheguru pervades every heart; He is always close to us, and He sees and listens to everything. He always forgives us for our sins and nourishes even the ungrateful, oh Nanak. 4.13.83.

MEANING: There is nobody other than God (to protect you), oh my mind. No trouble or discomfort can even come near if one stays in His shelter all the time. Pause.
One should always worship and keep in mind Waheguru, who has given him mind, body, wealth, and has groomed him well (kept him in good shape) without any special effort. The creation of man, and placing His light in him, is a perfect art of God. 1.
The animal-like, unholy man does not recognize Waheguru, who has created him and given him everything. The animal-like (ignorant) man does not realize that all the wealth, including the precious stones, gold, and silver, is like dust (which has no value in Waheguru's Court), and all the relations like mother, father, and other relatives are false (temporary). 2.
(The ignorant man does not realize) that Waheguru is pervading inside and out (everywhere); he rather thinks Him to be somewhere far, far away. The man is full of ego and is absorbed in fulfilling his desires involving Maya, all of which are temporary. Without devotion to Waheguru, the load of passengers on the shore of the sea of Maya keeps coming and going (the world is caught in the cycle of reincarnation). 3. Please show kindness and save the world (from the suffering of Maya, and of reincarnation), oh, the Creator of the world (Waheguru). Without Waheguru, no one can save a man from the fear of the harsh agent of death. I pray to Waheguru to be kind so that I never forget His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.14.84.

He also believes that he owns his sons, his wife, and various kinds of clothes, and that he enjoys many kinds of pleasures. What he does not realize is that if he has not fostered Waheguru's Naam in his heart, all these things are worthless, and of no account (consideration) (in Waheguru's Court). 1. One should worship the treasure of Naam (God), so as to have good fortune on his forehead for his future, and one should seek the Guru's shelter to achieve his important objective (to be united with Waheguru). When one worships Waheguru, all his doubts and sufferings are gone, and he does not come and go in this world (is not reincarnated). 2. Sach(u) = True (everlasting). Amur(u) = rule; command. Koodrut(i) = nature. Dhaariun = is supporting. Sirjioun = He created. Koorbaan(u) = sacrifice. 4.

MEANING: Service to the Guru (obeying His Teachings) is supreme, oh my mind. I pray to Waheguru that, with His kindness, I should not lose Him from my mind for even a single moment. Pause. With His kindness, I took shelter of the Guru, whose Teachings (my mind was enlightened), and all the bonds of Maya were broken. My mind got connected with Waheguru, and with His sweet and kind sight, I felt blessed. 1.
We should sing Waheguru's praise all the time, who destroys all our ill qualities. I have achieved many things with money, but I have found that there is no real comfort without Waheguru's Naam. One can easily swim across the sea of Maya when one's wandering mind finds peace and is imbued with Waheguru's praise. 2.
When one overcomes his ego to become humble like the dust of the Guru's feet (shows deep respect and obeys Him), one does not need any pilgrimage, undertakings of any hardships, or thousands of tough body controls. God is present everywhere, and is filling the whole space; so how can a man commit some misdeed when Waheguru is watching him all the time from close by? 3. Waheguru's Kingship is eternal, and so are His Huqam (Command, or Will), and His Throne. The nature He is supporting is also true (eternal), and the eternal Waheguru has created the whole universe. We should recite His Naam all the time, and I am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 4.16.86.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. (When you do that) you will reap the desired results, and all your griefs and sufferings will be eradicated. Pause.

Make an effort to recite Waheguru's Naam, and be fortunate to earn the wealth of His Naam. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru, and all the filth of your mind accumulated over many, many incarnations, will be washed away. 1.

With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the purpose for which man has been given the human life (to be "one" with Waheguru) is achieved, and you see Him (with the eyes of your mind) within you. (When you recite His Naam), Waheguru, which is present in water, on the land, and in the sky (meaning everywhere), casts His kind sight on you to "see" Him, and you feel blissful. 2. When one gets attached to the eternal Waheguru, one's mind and body get purified, and one does not need to recite some ritualistic mantras or suffer the hardships of forcibly controlling one's sensual pleasures - the hardships that some people endure to please some god. 3. Waheguru's Naam is the real wealth, including precious stones, pearls, and other valuables. There are all sorts of comforts like peace of mind, blissfulness, and enjoyment of different tastes, in His Naam. So, Waheguru's devotee, Nanak, affectionately recites His Naam. 4.17.87.

Sugul = all. Ghutaan = hearts. Aadhaar(u) = support. 4.

MEANING: Worship Waheguru with love, which is pervading every heart, is present everywhere, and is always with you to help you, oh my mind. Pause.

Only that book can be considered a Shastra or a Saoun by which one can sing Waheguru's praise. The Guru has kindly given me the wealth of the Naam of Waheguru, which has Feet soft like a lotus flower, as a result of which, a homeless (support-less) person like me has found a home in Waheguru's Palace (I am connected with Him). Singing Waheguru's praise all the time is the eternal wealth, and the control of your sensual pleasures (stability of mind). The Guru has kindly connected me with Waheguru, and now I will not suffer the pain of reincarnation. 1. When a person worships Waheguru, there is no limit to the comforts that he experiences. Only those people enjoy the bliss of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit who taste it and feel contented. The dear Waheguru is forgiving and takes residence in your heart when you are in the company of His devotees (to sing His praise). Those who serve Waheguru are the real rulers and kings. 2. Human life is an opportunity to sing praise of Waheguru; even millions of dips in holy places do not match the praise of Waheguru. And no ritualistic donation can match the fortunate tongue that sings the praise of Waheguru. The kind Waheguru takes residence in the body and the soul of His devotee with His kind sight. The life, the body, and the wealth belong to Waheguru (are given by Him), and I (Guru Nanak) am always a sacrifice for Him. 3. Once Waheguru has connected someone to Him, that person does not get separated from Him. The eternal Creator cuts the bonds of Maya for His devotees. After that, Waheguru does not consider the individual's good or bad qualities; instead, it sets him on the right (spiritual) path. I am in the shelter of Waheguru, who is the support for every heart, oh, Nanak. 4.18.88.

MEANING: Serve the eternal Waheguru (worship Him) as long as you breathe, oh my mind. Without Waheguru's Naam, everything else is short-lived and vanishes at the end (of your life). Pause. One should recite Waheguru's Naam with the tongue, as a result of which, his mind and body are both purified. There are many relatives in the world, including your mother and father, but nobody, other than Waheguru, can help you at the end. When God is kind to someone, he does not lose God from his mind for even a moment. 1.

My Lord is perfectly pure (just and impartial); I cannot survive without Him. I am very, very hungry for his sight, oh my mother; I pray to all if someone can connect me with Him. I searched everywhere in all four directions for peace of mind, but realized that there is no other place (for comfort) without my Lord, Waheguru. 2.

I pray before that individual who can connect me with the Creator (God). (I know) Satguru is the only provider of Waheguru's Naam whose treasure is full (there is never a shortage in His treasure, even if He distributes Waheguru's Naam to millions of people). We should always sing Satguru's praise, who is a manifestation of the limitless Waheguru. 3.

We should sing praise of the Creator and the Provider (Waheguru), who performs countless amazing feats. The only supreme wisdom is that by which we worship God all the time. However, only those find Waheguru sweet to their body and mind, who have the good fortune prewritten on their foreheads, oh Nanak. 4. 19.89.

Accumulate (enshrine) Waheguru's Naam in the company of Waheguru's devotees, and acquire the expenses for your soul's journey to Waheguru, oh my mind. The wealth of Waheguru's Naam is your companion here (in this world) and in the next. You acquire Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Guru when Waheguru blesses you with His kind sight. But only those who acquire Waheguru's Naam are kind to Him. 1. Those who come to "see" the Guru (with the eyes of their mind) acquire all the needed things (have all their wishes fulfilled or become contented), oh my mother. They are highly fortunate who are imbued with the love for the Feet of the Guru (His Shabad or Teachings), because, being a manifestation of Waheguru, the Guru is the provider, omnipotent, and pervades everywhere, and He salvages people who are drowning in the sea of Maya. 2.

With what mouth (tongue) (how) can one praise the Guru, who is a manifestation of the omnipotent God, who is also the creator of the universe? Those foreheads (minds) stay stable (quit wandering) on which the Guru puts His hand (protects them). The Guru feeds you the Amrit of Naam, which prevents rebirths. If you serve the Guru, who is a manifestation of God and the destroyer of all suffering, all your fears run away. 3. The Satguru is unfathomable (His noble qualities cannot be measured), never- changing, a sea of all comforts, and the destroyer of all sins. Those who serve their Guru are not subjected to the punishment of the agent of death. Nobody can match the Satguru, even if you search the whole universe. Jis nu rukhaiy so ruhaiy, sumruth(u) Purakh(u) apaar(u). Hur(i) jun Hur(i) liv oodhray, Nanak sud bulihaar(u). 4.21.91.

Word Meaning: Kaurra = bitter. Oopjiya = produced; resulted in. Soorid = endear. Bikhiya = poison (Maya). Baad(u) = fruitless debate. Bilm = delay. Bismaad(u) = amazement. 1. Vinsuna = vanish. Tiyaag(u) = abdicate; quit. Pause. Kookur(u) = dog. Hurkaaya = mad. Dhaavaiy = heads aggressively. Deh Dis = in every direction. Junt(u) = living being (man). Bhukh(u) = suitable for eating. Ubhukh(u) = unsuitable (immoral) for eating. Mud(i) = under intoxication. Biyaapiya = affected (by). Joni = different life forms. 2. Psariya = spread. Bheetar(i) = inside. Choag = bait. Trishna = desire (for Maya). Punkhi = bird. Phasiya = trapped. Tiseh(i)) = Him. 3.
Anik = countless. Mohiya = enchanted. Bidh(i) = different ways. Sumruth(u) = capable of doing anything; omnipotent. Purakh(u) = pervading everywhere (God). Hur(i) Jun = devotees of Waheguru. Liv = fully focused. Oodhray = salvaged. 4.

MEANING: Start serving the Satguru (by obeying and following his Teachings), oh my mind. Quit following yourself (and chasing Maya), oh my mind, because every visible thing has to vanish eventually. Pause. Maya tastes very sweet, but its use results in very bitter effects. (Under the influence of Maya) you endear your brothers and friends, but they start engaging in unpleasant, destructive discussions (quarrels over a share of the pie). Excepting Waheguru's Naam (everything else is perishable), one is amazed to see that it does not take long before all his wealth is gone. 1. Just like a mad dog that runs amok in every direction for food (and makes no distinction between good and bad), the greedy person does not realize and eats everything, morally or physically right or wrong. Under the intoxication of lust and rage, he is reborn repeatedly. 2. Maya has spread its net in which sensual pleasures are the bait. The desire to enjoy sensual pleasures has snared the human bird, which cannot get free, oh my mother. The ignorant man does not recognize (make a connection with) the Creator (God), as a result of which, he is reborn again and again. 3. The world has been enchanted (by Maya) in various ways; only those who are protected by the omnipotent and limitless Waheguru are saved. The devotees are salvaged because of their full devotion to Waheguru. I will gladly sacrifice myself for (offer my body and mind to serve) such devotees, oh Nanak. 4.21. 91.

Word Meaning: Goyil(i) = a temporary visit (in Punjab, people used to take their cattle near the banks of rivers to graze when there was not enough grass in their homeland in hot seasons. Such meadows were called goyils). Goyili = a temporary visitor (the caretaker of the cattle in a goyil). Dumf(u) = a temporary show. Psaar(u) = sprawl; enlargement. Mohlut(i) = the given time. Pooni = finished; completed. Summul(u) = take care. 1. Thorrurri Baat = small affair; short life. Goomaan(u) = conceit; flaunting. Pause. Raiyn(i) = night. Prahounay = guests. Perbhaat(i) = early morning. Rutta = indulged. Grist = family. Bagaat(i) = gardens. 2. Lorr(i) = wish for; find out. Surpur = for sure; definitely. Otthi Chulna = have to leave. Lukh krorr(i) = millions. 3.
Lukh chaurasee = the believed 8.4 million life forms. Bhermtiya = having wandered through. Doolubh = precious; difficult to have. Smaal(i) = remember (Naam). 4.

MEANING: (Man does not realize that) this world is a temporary stay for him, like a cowherd who has taken his cattle to a meadow by a riverbank to graze for a short period of time and has to return to his home once the lack of greenery is over in his home village. So, why is he expanding his fake show, a temporary ownership? When your given life is over, you have to leave everything behind, but you are still worried about looking after your household, oh man. 1. Sing praise of God by serving Satguru with true affection, oh my mind. What are you conceited about for a short span of life? Pause. Like a guest for a night, who leaves early in the morning, you will leave this world at the end of the night of your life. So, why are you so indulged in the family, which is just like a flower garden (the flowers live for a very short period of time)? 2. Why are you claiming that everything is yours (when it is not yours forever)? You need to wish for Waheguru (get connected with Him), who has given you all these things. You have to leave this world for sure, and all your belongings will be left behind, even if they are worth millions. 3. You have been given this precious (so difficult to acquire) human life after you had wandered through the 8.4 million life forms; so, remember Waheguru, as it is your short opportunity (to be "one" with Him) because your death is approaching fast, oh Nanak. 4.22.92.

Word Meaning: Tichur(u) = till then. Soohaylurri = with comfort; while enjoying. Jichur(u) = as long. Saathi = companion (soul). Dhun = woman (human body). Khaakoo = dust. Raal(i) = mix with. 1. Bairaag(u) = lack of attachment with the mundane (and love for Waheguru). Bhuyya = taken place. Chaaou = zest; excitement. Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Tayra = yours (Waheguru's). Pause. Vusiya = resided. Kunt(u) = husband (soul). Kuhaat(i) = called (with love). Otthi chulsi = leave (this world). Poochhaiy Baat = care about. 2. Payiurray = in this world. (In Guru Granth Sahib, the present world is compared to the parental house, while the next world is compared to the in-laws' house). Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Sahururray = in-laws' house (where God is the husband). Chujj Achaar(u) = desirable manners. Toodh(u) = you. 3. Vunjunaa = (have) to go. Mooklaavunhaar = (waiting) to join the husband. (It was the custom in India to marry off girls at a very young age, but they were sent to their in-laws after a few years. (That sending off was called mooklaava). Sohaagni = truly married. 4.

MEANING: The human body enjoys comforts (and affection) only as long as its companion (soul) is with it. Once the soul leaves the body, it becomes a part of dust. 1 (Realizing this bitter fact), I have come to love Waheguru so much so that I have a great yearning to "see" Him now. Even the place where He resides has become worthy of worship for me. Pause. As long as the husband (soul) resides in the body, everybody shows respect and affection; but as soon as the soul leaves the body, nobody cares about the corpse. 2. If you serve your real husband (Waheguru) in your parental home (this world), you will enjoy all the comforts in your in-laws' house (the next world), where Waheguru is the husband, oh my friend. To do that, you need to seek the shelter of the Guru to learn the desired manners (values) for the next world, and you will never suffer any discomfort, oh my friend. 3. Everybody has to go to the in-laws' home (Waheguru's Court), and everybody is in line for the next world. (Some may not be able to enjoy the love of Waheguru because of their ill deeds); but those married human brides, who earn Waheguru's love, are truly "one" with Him, and are worthy of our respect, oh Nanak. 4.23. 93.

Word Meaning: Kern Kaarun = The Creator of the universe (God). Aakaar(u) = creation. Dhiyavou = worship (keep in mind). Aadhaar(u) = support; provider. 1.
Gur kay Churn = feet of the Guru (a metaphor for the Shabad or the Teachings of the Guru). Siyanpaan = wisdom. Liv = fully focused. Pause. Klaysh(u) = unnecessary disputes. Bhuou = fear. Biyaapaiy = affects. Muntar = Shabad; Teaching. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Kot(i) = millions. 2. Sadhaaraiy = finds blissful support. Bulihaarnaiy = sacrifice life. J(i) = who 3. Sadh Sungat(i) = in the company of the Guru. Bhaao = affection. 4.

MEANING: Only He (Waheguru) is the creator of the whole universe, oh my mind. Worship Him alone (remember and recite only His Naam all the time), as He alone is the support and the provider for all. 1. Worship Guru's Feet (act on His Teachings), oh my mind-friend. Surrendering all your wisdom to the Guru, focus on His Shabad with full dedication. Pause. When you internalize Guru's Shabad, no trouble (discomfort), unnecessary disputes, and fear of any kind can affect you (your spiritual level gets so high that you do not feel them). Millions of people have tried different ways, but nobody has ever been able to swim across the sea of Maya (cut the bonds of Maya) without the Guru's shelter. 2.
When one has a sight of the Guru (sees Him with mental eyes), he attains a blissful state, and all his sins are washed away. I wish to offer my life to those (serve them humbly) who take Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 3. The eternal Waheguru's Naam takes residence in one's heart in the company of the Guru (or His devotees). Word Meaning: Sunch(i) = accumulate. Pooj(i) = worship. Vikaar = sensual desires or ignoble deeds. Saaj(i) = created. Svaariya = groomed with noble qualities. Simer = remember. Oodhaar(u) = salvation. 1. Jup(i) = recite. Apaar(u) = limitless. Praan = life. Riday = heart; mind. Aadhaar(u) = support; basis. Pause. Kaam(i) = lust. Maatay = intoxicated; inebriated. Viyapiya = influenced. 2. Sut(u) = high moral character. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Kurni = worth doing. Saar = supreme. Aap(u) = self (selfishness). Rayna = dust (of the feet) – a metaphor for humbleness. Nirunkaar(u) = formless (Waheguru). 3. Sugul = all. Pusriya = spread out. Paasaar(u) = expansion; creation. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of the “One” and the limitless Waheguru, who has given you the gift of life, mind, and the body; and is also the support for your heart (soul), oh my mind. Pause. Conquering your sensual desires, worship Satguru, and accumulate the wealth of Waheguru’s Naam, oh my mind. To be salvaged, keep Waheguru always in mind, who has created you and instilled noble qualities in you, oh man. 1. The whole world is intoxicated under the influence of lust, rage, and conceit. Mookta = free from. 3. Gut(i) = go. Uvgut(i) = come. Nudr(i) = in sight. Raiyn = dust (of the feet); serving the Guru and His devotees. Daan = donation. 4.

MEANING: The functioning of the whole world is being carried out under the influence of Maya, and it ranges between bad and noble deeds. There is a rare individual who is above these two kinds of deeds (above the influence of Maya); such an individual is recognized as the real devotee of Waheguru. 1. The Lord, Waheguru, is present everywhere. What can I say, or listen to, about Him? He is the wise Supreme Being. Pause.

An individual who is sensitive to respect and disrespect is not a devotee. There is only one among millions who views everything as created by Waheguru. 2.
To say things about Waheguru, and have others say something about Him (debating) has become the only accepted - albeit fruitless - path of praising Waheguru; only some rare individual is free from such worthless discussions. 3. Word Meaning: Kutiyurra = cut; finish off. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Voottha = came to reside. Khusm(u) = husband; Master. Bhaytiya = met (took shelter). Binsiya = vanished. Junjaal(u) = undesired responsibilities. 1. Toodh(u) = you. Vitoun = on; for. Koorbaan(u) = Bulihaarnaiy = sacrifice life; be a slave. Toos(i) = pleasingly; kindly. Pause. Bhaao = respectful affection. Purakh = men. Soojaan = wise. Pichhaiy = behind; by following; because of. Chhootiyaiy = become free (from all bonds). Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Jayvud(u) = as great. Daata = donor; provider. Aatum = for soul. 2.
Purvaan(u) = approved; successful. Soobhaayay = (because of) affection and dedication. Ruttiyaan = imbued. Durgeh = (Waheguru's) Court. Jaayay = place; room. Kertay = Creator. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written; predestined. 3.
Sach(u) = eternal. Kernhaar(u) = Creator. Vukhaaniyaiy = say; describe. Boodh(i) Bibayk = wisdom to make distinction (between good and bad). Niruntar(i) = without any gap; uniformly. Ruv(i) = (is) present. Aik = One (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: I feel zestful to sacrifice my life for You, oh my Satguru. I will gladly sacrifice my life to have a holy sight of Yours, as You have delightfully gifted me Waheguru's immortalizing (Amrit-like) Naam. Pause. My saintly brothers (devotee friends) have dispelled my fear of the Angel of death. The True Lord (Waheguru) has been kind to me and has made my heart His home. I have internalized the Perfect Guru, and all my undesired responsibilities have ended. 1. Those who serve You with respectful affection are the real wise people. Because of those individuals who harbour Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, many people find salvation in their company (because they follow their footsteps). Nobody else equals the Guru who gives the gift (of Waheguru's Naam) for our souls. 2.
Those who have realized the Guru by their respectful affection are respected in this world. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam find a respectful position in Waheguru's Court. However, such honour is in the hands of the Creator, and only those receive it who are predestined to do so. 3. True (eternal) is the Creator, True is the Lord, and True is His support. True (everlasting) is the description of the Lord, and so is the wisdom that can differentiate between the good and the bad. I survive on reciting the Naam of the "One" who is present everywhere without any exception, oh Nanak. 4.28.98

Word Meaning: Permayshur(u) = the Supreme Being. Daata = donor; provider. Adhaar(u) = support; food. Buchan = words (Shabad; Teachings). Kmaavnay = act on. Sacha = everlasting. Ruttiyaan = imbued. Chhaar(u) = (like) dust. 1.
Saajun = friend. Smaal(i) = take care; keep in mind. Ghaal(u) = hard work. Pause.
Sumruth(u) = capable of doing anything. Apaar(u) = limitless; incomprehensible. Agochur(u) = intangible; ethereal. Soyay = fame. Lorray = wishes. 2.
Paarjaat = a mythical tree that fulfills all your wishes. It is one of the five trees in the Paradise. The other four are: Kulp, Mundaar, Suntaan, and Hari-Chundan. Paarjaat was one of the 14 precious articles retrieved from the Kheer Sea when it was churned by the gods and the demons. Munsa = wish. Poorunhaar(u) = fulfiller. Oodhraiy = is salvaged. Nirunkaar(u) = formless. Agum = physically unreachable. Mehma = praise; greatness. Kuthunhaar(u) = describer. 3. Ful = results (wishes). Baanchhiyeh(i) = wish for. Titrray = all those. Poorub(i) Likhay = pre-written; predestined. Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Sherni = shelter. Bahoorr(i) = again. Binaas(u) = destruction (death; rebirth). Visrou = forgotten. Pind(u) = body. 4.

MEANING: Keep Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time, oh my friend. He comes to reside in your heart when you take shelter of the Guru, and all your hard labour is rewarded. Pause. Worship the Guru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, with deep love from your mind and body, oh my friend. Satguru is the provider for the body and soul, and provides food to everybody. To act on the advice of the Guru is the True (everlasting path) to unite with Waheguru. Without getting imbued in the love of Satguru's Teachings, all Attachments with Maya are useless (in the spiritual realm) and are just like ash. 1.
The Guru (a manifestation of Waheguru) is fully capable of doing anything but is not comprehensible; only a few lucky people get to "see" Him (with mental eyes). The Guru is unreachable physically. He is pure, and nobody can equal Him. (Being a manifestation of Waheguru), He is the Creator, and also the source (provider) of everything. His devotees, who realize this, have everlasting fame. There is nothing beyond the control of the Guru, and whatever He wishes, happens (right away). 2.

The Guru Himself is the holy place, the Parijaat Tree, and the fulfiller of all the wishes. The Guru delivers Waheguru's Naam, because of which the whole world is salvaged. The Guru is omnipotent; He is formless, above Maya, intangible, and limitless (unreachable physically). The greatness of the Guru is beyond description, so what can a person say about Him? 3.
The Guru has all those rewards that a person wishes for. He gives Waheguru's Naam as the capital to His devotees, but the fulfillment of the wishes and connection with Him are predetermined by Waheguru. When a person comes to the Guru's shelter, he becomes immortal (is never born again). I beg the Guru that I should never forget Waheguru, who controls the life, the body, and our breath (life), oh Nanak. 4.29. 99.

Word Meaning: Chhootun = freedom (from the bonds of Maya); emancipation. Gur Kay Churn = feet of the Guru (His Shabad or Teachings). Srayvnay = serve (obey Guru's Teachings). Teeruth = holy places (pilgrimage). Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. Munniyeh(i) = acknowledged (honoured). Nithaavaiyn = homeless (no support). 1.
Toothaiy = pleased to be kind. Alukh = intangible. Abhayv = enigmatic. Pause.
Vitoun = on; for. Vaariya = be a sacrifice. Undin(u) = every day; all the time. Slaahna = Goon Gaaoun = sing praise. Pehnuna = wearing; dress up. 2.
Giraas(i) = (with every) nibble. Suful = successful. Moorut(i) = persona. Jayvud = as great. Uver(e) = else. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Jaap(i) = recite (His Naam). Goontaas(i) = treasure of noble qualities. 3. Permayshur(u) = Supreme Being. Smaayay = get completely absorbed in. Poorub(i) Likhiya = predestined. Dhiyayay = recite Naam. Shernangti = in the shelter. 4
MEANING: Hey, lovers of God, hey, my brothers, listen carefully: the bonds of Maya can be broken only by fostering Waheguru's Naam in your hearts. Rather than visiting holy places, keep Waheguru's Naam in your mind, because Naam is the real holy place; and rather than worshiping any god, worship the Feet of Satguru (obey His Word). By doing this, you will be recognized in Waheguru's Court, as a result of which, even a homeless (having no support) person finds a permanent home (becomes “one” with Waheguru). 1. Service to the Guru is only True service (the sweetness of) which lasts forever. When the Guru is pleased, he connects us with Waheguru, who is incomprehensible and enigmatic. Pause. I am a sacrifice to the Satguru who gifts us the Naam of the eternal God. Waheguru should be praised, and His noble qualities should be discussed all the time. The Naam of the eternal Waheguru is also eternal. So, His Naam should become our food and our dress (one should remember Him even while eating and dressing). 2. One should not forget Waheguru, which should be remembered with every breath and every bite, because Waheguru (in the form of Satguru) is capable of fulfilling all your wishes. Satguru should be remembered all twenty-four hours; there is no one else equal to Him. If Satguru casts a kind sight on someone, he cultivates the Naam of Waheguru, which is the Treasure of all noble qualities, in his heart. 3. Satguru and Waheguru are one and the same (Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru), and both are present everywhere. But only those who recite His Naam are predestined to do so. I have come to the shelter of Waheguru/ Satguru, who is never born and never dies, oh Nanak. 4.30.100

Word Meaning: Ashatpudi = a Shabad with eight stanzas.

Vaavna = agonize; torment. Jaapaiy= understand; realize. Vaayay = speak; describe. Kayvud = how expansive. Kit(u) = which; what. Jayturray = however many. Liv laayay = with full focus. 1.

Agum = physically unreachable. Apaar = limitless (with unknowable qualities). Paaki = holy. Naayee = magnanimity. Purvidgaar = raiser and nourisher. Pause.

Huqam = Command; Will; Laws. Kayturra = how big. Saou = hundreds. Shaayir = poets. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed (very small). Poojaaveh(i) = deliver. Royay = cry (regret their inability). 2.

Paikaamar = prophets. Saaliq = saints. Saadiq = contented. Shohday = ascetic. Shaheed = witnesses; martyrs. Musaayik = many sheikhs (learned persons). Mullah = a Muslim priest. Dervaysh = holy men who also go door to door and beg. Dur(i) Raseed = reveived at the door (approved). Berkut(i) = enhancement. Ugli = much. Drood = prayer after nivaj. 3

Saajay = creates. Dhaahay = destroys. Kern(u) = worth doing. Bhaavaiy = likes. 4.
Thaavaan = places. Naav = Huiqam; Laws. Vusaiy = reside. Umburr(i) = reach. 5.
Vern-avern = high or low classes. Bhaavni = likes. Vudyayiyaan = honour. Svaaray = grooms; embellish with (noble qualities). Chusa = a moment. Dhill = delay. 6.
Shoomaar(i) = limit. Bayshoomaar(i) = unlimited. Toat(i) = shortage. Bhundaar = treasures. 7.1.

NOTE: The use of many Muslim words in this holy Shabad suggests that Guru Nanak Sahib is addressing some Muslim.

MEANING: Allah is incomprehensible and physically beyond our reach, oh my friend. Allah is our real provider, and nourishes us all; His magnanimity is great, and so is His residence (we cannot describe them fully). Pause.

So, saying (something about God without any knowledge) is simply to agonize one's mind; and the more one says, the more he realizes that his utterings are meaningless. One does not realize how Great Allah is, and where He resides, which he is talking about. All those who meditate and describe Allah (simply with the intent to describe Him) have failed badly in their efforts. 1.

No one knows how expansive (indescribable) Your Huqam is, oh Allah. So, how can anyone write about You? Even if hundreds of poets assemble to describe You, they cannot deliver any information at all – not even the size of a sesame seed – and they simply regret their inability. Everybody says only what they have heard from others, and nobody knows Your secrets, oh Waheguru. 2.

All the holy men, the prophets, the saints, the contented, the martyrs (who suffered in the name of Allah), learned people, qazies, and mullahs - all describe You - but only those are approved by You, who, rather than describing You, sing Your praise like a beggar at Your Door, oh, Allah. 3. However, He (Allah) does not consult any of those to create, to destroy, to grant, or to withdraw anything. He knows His nature, and Himself is the source and the creator. He has His kind sight on everyone, but grants (His Naam) only to those whom He chooses. 4.

Nobody knows anything about His residences and His Huqam, and the magnanimity of His palace where He resides. Whom should I approach to ask about this information, because nobody can reach Him. 5.

If Allah wants to honour someone, He does not care about their caste, whether it is high or low. All types of honours are in His control; He can confer them on anyone of His choosing. He can adorn anyone with noble qualities by His Command, and there is not a delay of even a short moment when He chooses to do so. 6.

With the intent to receive certain favours, everybody praises Him, and asks for more and more, but how great and large the Provider must be that He keeps giving and yet (His treasures) are unlimited in capacity. There is never a shortage in His treasures, which are full over the eons, oh Nanak. 7.1.

Word Meaning: Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Muhayliyaan = (human) wives. Sugliyaan = all. Sheengaar(u) = make up; beautify (wear religious symbols to show their false spirituality). Gunut gnaavun(i) = to be counted (included) or considered. (They are not honest and their makeup is just a show off). Sooha vays = pink dress (pink colour is representative of Maya). Vikaar(u) = sensual pleasures. Paakhund(i) = dishonest act. Khota = false; counterfeit. Paaj(u) = show off. Khooaar(u) = discomfiture; suffering because of no achievement. 1.

Iyoun = like this (as follows). Raavaiy = enjoys (the union). Naar(i) = woman. Toodh(u) = You. Bhaavun(i) = are liked. Sohaagni = married (loved by husband).

Svaar(i) = grooming; embellish with noble qualities. Pause.

Doyay Ker(i) jorr(i) = (with) both hands folded. Laal(i) Rutti = imbued in the love of the dear. Bhaiy = fear. Bhaayay = affection. Rung(i) Raas(i) = filled with the love of. 2. Chayri = disciple; obedient. Kaandhiyaiy = is considered. Laali = (like a) slave. Vaydhiya = pierced (affected deeply). Bulihaaraiy = be a sacrifice. 3.

Sa Dhun = that woman. Rund = widow (devoid of husband’s love). Baiysyee = stays; lives. Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Resaaloo = full of love. Noutuno = new (whose love never lessens). Saachou = eternal. Nit = every day. Ruvaiy = enjoys (the union). Rujaayay= with obedience. 4

Dhurri = braids. Maandiyaiy = adorn; beautify. Chundun(u) = (pleasant fragrance of) sandal wood (Waheguru). Cheet(i) = in mind. Dusvaan Dooaar(u) = tenth door = Human body has 9 visible doors in the body. The tenth door is the state of being one with Waheguru. Vigaasiya = blooms. Oor = heart. Haar(u) = necklace. 5.

Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Muni = a rare shining stone (anointment of recognition).
Sobha = fame; admiration. Soort(i) = wisdom. Sohaavni = pleasant. Purakh(u) = (some other man). Hayt(i) = with; for. 6.
Nis(i) = night. Undhiyaari = dark. Raiyn(i) = night. Vihayay = spends. Unk(u) = heart. Julou = may burn. Bul(i) = burn. Kunt(i) = husband (Waheguru). Birtha = empty; devoid of. Jobun(u) = youthfulness. 7.
Sayjaiy = on the bed. Boojh = understand. Bhaiy vusi = lived in obedience. Sukhaayay = of the friend (Waheguru). 8.
MEANING: All humans are Waheguru's brides, and all of them adorn themselves (by wearing religious symbols) to be approved by Waheguru. However, their true dress is pink (they are all engrossed in Maya; the pink colour has been used as a metaphor for Maya in Guru Granth Sahib, because pink, though very attractive, fades away quickly like Maya), and they are indulging in sensual pleasures. So, their adornments are a farce, and they just hope to be approved by Waheguru. But they cannot win Waheguru's affection through hypocrisy, and their false show-off brings them shame alone. 1.
Only those human brides enjoy Your union to whom You are kind (who have deep respect and affection for You), oh Waheguru. You can adorn them with noble qualities by Your kindness, and that is how the Husband (Waheguru) enjoys the lucky human brides. Pause.
Such devotees have been adorned by the Guru's Shabad and have offered their body and mind to the Husband (Waheguru). They are waiting for Waheguru's Command with folded hands, and pray before Him. Imbued in the love of the dear (Waheguru), such devotees always keep respectful fear of Waheguru in mind, and being imbued in His love, they are fully content. 2. That devotee is considered a true disciple of the Lord (God), who obeys His Command like a slave. Once Waheguru has connected with an individual through the Guru, their bond of True love is never broken. I am always a sacrifice for the individuals whose minds have been pierced by Guru's Shabad and are imbued with His love. 3.
Such a bride (devotee) who has become "one" with the Guru is never a widow again (never loses His love). The source of all tastes, Waheguru, is always young, and He neither dies nor goes away (is not separated). With Waheguru's kind sight, such a devotee always stays married and enjoys the union with Waheguru. 4. Such a devotee is always adorned with the braids and beautiful clothes of Waheguru's love. She has fostered Waheguru's Naam in her heart, and Waheguru, with the fragrance of Sandalwood (of noble qualities), resides in the temple of her Tenth Door (mind). Enlightened by the lamp of Guru's Shabad, the heart of such a devotee blooms, and she wears the necklace of Waheguru's Naam in her heart. 5.
Such a human bride has a beautiful (pious) heart, and she wears an anointment of a shiny stone (a pleasant glow) on her forehead. Because of her love for Waheguru, she is spiritually very wise and enjoys a holy fame. And because of her love for the Perfect Guru, she does not acknowledge any other person than Waheguru as her master. 6. Sleeping in the darkness of night (ignorance), how does your night (of life) spend without the Husband (Waheguru), oh my friend? Let such a heart burn; set such a body, as well as the mind, and the wealth, on fire, which is without Waheguru's Naam. If a human bride is not loved by her Waheguru-Husband, then her youthfulness is wasted. 7.
If a bride always stays sleeping (engrossed in Maya, and separated from her Waheguru)-Husband, she does not realize that He is not with her. Who can she ask about the joy of union with the Husband who is awake all the time (who fends off the attacks of Maya) while the former is always sleeping? However, those who are connected with Waheguru by Satguru lead their life under respectful fear of their Husband and enjoy their life in the love of Waheguru- riend, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Bohitha = ship. Paar(u) = on this side. Apaar(u) = on the other side. Vaat = path; journey. Soojaan(u) = wise; flawless. Nideriyaan = fearless. Goobaar(u) = dark. 3.

Usthir(u) = stable; never changing. Kayti = too many. Bundhi = bonded. Dhundhaiy = mundane tasks (Maya). Oobray = salvaged. Liv = concentration. 4.

Puchhaaniyaiy = recognize (realize). Gur Vaak(i) = Guru's Word (Shabad). Such Ghur(i) = God's residence. Otaak(u) = living. Saak(u) = relations. 5.

Joog Chaar(i) = (in the) four accepted eons. Trishna = desires. Oordhaar(i) = fostered in the heart. Laaha = profit; benefit. 6. Vukkhur(u) = merchandise. Laadiyaiy = carry load (deal in). Such Raas(i) = everlasting capital (Waheguru's Naam). Baiysyee = given place (honoured). Bhugat(i) = worship. Put(i) = with dignity. Laykha = accountability. Nibrraiy = settled. 7. Oocha Oochou = higher and higher. Jot(i) Niruntar(i) = (Waheguru's) light without any gap (continuous). Sehj(i) = with a peaceful mind. Soobhaayay = with affection. 8.

NOTE: Being present in everybody, it is Waheguru Himself who prompts people to do whatever they do. There is a lot of freedom to make choices, but the traits and wisdom to make them are gifts from Waheguru.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is (the source) of all noble qualities; He Himself describes, listens to, and ponders on them. Waheguru Himself is the precious stone (His Naam), its evaluator, and Himself the immeasurable worth of (His Naam). Waheguru Himself is the real pride (support) of everybody, such that they can depend on Him for all sorts of support; and He is the only provider. 1. You are the creator and the source of everything, oh my Waheguru. I pray to You to please protect me (from the attacks of Maya) in whatever way You wish and grant me Your Naam as the guide for my life, oh my Waheguru. Pause.

God Himself is the pure diamond (without any filth of Maya), and Himself the colour of madder (which is representative of deep love or full devotion, and which is fostered by His kindness). He Himself is the shiny pearl (beacon of enlightenment), and Himself the mediator (as the Guru) between the devotees and Himself. The otherwise invisible Waheguru, which is present in every heart, becomes visible (with mental eyes) when one sings His praise by the Guru's Shabad. 2. Waheguru Himself is the sea of Maya, Himself the ship to carry people across the sea, Himself, on the near shore of the sea, and Himself, the far side of the sea. The perfectly wise Waheguru Himself is the True path, while Guru's Shabad is the means for people to tread that path and swim across the sea of Maya. Without the Guru, people are in complete darkness, ignorant of the damaging effects of Maya, and fearless of Waheguru; but when the Guru enlightens their mind, they realize the truth of Maya and become fearful of Waheguru. 3. Only God is immortal, while countless people take birth and die. Only Waheguru is pure (without any effect of Maya), while everybody else is indulged in the filth of Maya. Only those are salvaged who act on the Guru's advice and always focus their mind on Waheguru (keep Him in mind). 4.

Waheguru is realized by Guru's Shabad when a devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam. The body (mind) of an individual who resides in Waheguru's Palace (keeps Waheguru in mind all the time) never gets filthy (due to indulgence in Maya). A devotee realizes Waheguru when He casts His kind sight on him; there is no other (permanent) relative in the world than Waheguru's Naam. 5.

Those who realize the eternal Waheguru live in comfort in all the four eons (no matter what eon it is). They overcome their haumein (selfishness and ego), and desires, and keep Waheguru always in their heart. There is only one thing to earn in this world - and that is Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized by pondering on (obeying) Guru's Shabad. 6.

When one deals in the true merchandise (Waheguru's Naam), he earns the Naam as the benefit in his wealth (of noble qualities). With honest prayer with devotion, one gets room (is honoured) in Waheguru's Court. The account (of good and bad deeds) of such a devotee is settled with dignity, as his heart is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam. 7.

People say that God is higher and higher, but He cannot be seen just by saying that. However, when Satguru shows Waheguru to someone with his mental eyes, He alone is visible in every direction. One can realize continuous light (of Waheguru) with control over his mind and with affection, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Sur(u) = pool of water; ocean. Khaara = salty. Usgaah(u) = unfathomable. Ut(i) = extremely. Vaysahou = trust. Kaarun(i) = because of. Kaal(u) = death. Tulaiy = avoid. Sirahou = loomimg on the head. 1.
Maansa = humans. Uchinta = sudden. Jaal(u) = net. Pause.
Baadho = tied; trapped. Afaar(u) = uncontrolled. Ruttay = imbued. Oobray = salvaged. Doobidha = doubtfulness; wavering mind. Vikaar = ignoble sensual desires (or deeds). Sachiyaar = bearers of Truth; full of virtues (pure). 2.
Seechaana = a bird of prey. Budhik = hunter. Faathaiy = snared; trapped. Choagaiy = bait. Saath(i) = with. Choon(i) = selecting; Sungi = companion. 3.
Sacho Sacha = True and True; pure Truth (Waheguru). Sachay = of the True. Thaan(u) = residence. Soochay = clean; pure. Jaaniyeh(i) = recognized. 4.
Saajun(u) = friend (God). Jumdoot = agents of death. Bikh(u) = poison. Houn = I. 5.

Baajh(u) = without. Goobaar(u) = darkness (of ignorance). Boojh(u) = understanding. Gurmuti = advice of the Guru. Purgaas(u) = light (enlightenment). Liv = focus of mind; connection with God. Tithaiy = there. Sunchraiy = reach. 6.
Tuhaiy = You are. Soojaan(u) = wise; omnipotent. Maylunhaar(u) = connector.
Paaravaar(u) = limitless. Apaar(u) = incomprehensible. 7.
Huqmi = with the Huqam (Will, Command). Oopjeh(i) = takes birth. Kaar Kmaahay = carry out business. Vus(i) = under the control. Theeyaiy = takes place. Junt = living being; humans. 8.
MEANING: While enjoying life in the deep, salty ocean, the fish feels safe and forgets death. As a result, she fails to recognize the dangers of the net and gets trapped. The fish are considered very beautiful and wise, but why do they trust the net (that there is no danger there)? Because of this unawareness, they get caught and killed. The death looming over their heads cannot be avoided. 1.
Remember, a similar death is looming over your head, oh my brother. Like the fish, the man is caught unaware by the net of death. Pause.
Everybody is trapped in the net of (is a prisoner of) death, which is uncontrollable. Only the Guru can enlighten our minds (so that our concept of death changes, and we look forward to the opportunity to be “one” with God). The Guru clears all our doubts (about Waheguru and Maya), thereby making our mind stable and enabling us to control our sensual pleasures. The Guru connects us with Waheguru, and we are imbued with His Naam and are saved. Guru Nanak says He gladly wants to sacrifice His life for the devotees who are honoured as the bearers of Truth (having noble qualities) in Waheguru’s Court. 2.
Just as a Seechanna (a bird of prey) or a hunter with a net in his hand is dangerous to birds, the net of Maya causes spiritual death for humans. Those who are enlightened by the Guru are saved, but the others are trapped by Maya's bait. Those who are without Waheguru’s Naam in their heart are selectively rejected (in Waheguru’s Court), and there is no friend to help them. 3. One should always recite the Naam of the eternal Waheguru, whose throne is also eternal. Those who believe (have full faith) in the eternal Waheguru, always keep Him in mind. Also, those who have been enlightened by the Guru are connected to Waheguru and are pure in mind and in speech (they speak truth only). 4.
One should pray to the Guru, begging to connect him with the real Friend (God). When one is connected with Waheguru, he enjoys all the comforts, and for him, the agent of death is dead as if he had taken poison. I live in Waheguru’s Naam (always remember Him), and He lives in me, oh Nanak. 5. Without the Guru, there is darkness of ignorance (caused by Maya), but one does not realize this until enlightened by the Guru. When enlightened by the Guru, one stays focused on Waheguru’s Naam. In that state, the human soul becomes “one” with Waheguru, and (the fear of) death does not reach there. 6.
You are my friend, are omnipotent, and You Yourself, connect people with You, oh Waheguru. The inaccessible Waheguru can be praised only by the Guru’s Shabad. The fear of death cannot reach there where the incomprehensible Guru’s Shabad is present (is internalized). 7. All life is born with the Huqam (Laws) of Waheguru, and all humans spend their life as per the Huqam of Waheguru. Some people are subject to death (for rebirth) while some become part of Waheguru as per His Huqam. Only that happens in the world that Waheguru wishes; nothing is in the control of humans, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Joottha = unclean; dirty. Jihva = tongue; language. Kiyoun Kur(i) = how? Soocha = clean; pure. Ubh = heart; mind. Maanjiyaiy = clean by washing (or by scrubbing). 1. Moondhay = oh, young woman (human). Goonheeni = without good qualities. Kayh(i) = which; how? Ruliyaan = mixed with; connected. Rus(i) = tastefully. Maansi = enjoy. Nayh(i) = in love. Pause. Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Theeyaiy = happen, become. Dhun = woman. Vaandhi = separated. Jhooray = laments; grieves. Kern Plaav = implore; supplicate; feel restless. Bhaavaiy = likes. 2.
Sukhi = suhayli = (female) friends. Mohiya = enchanted; having magical effect. Rutti = imbued. Rung(i) = in love. Nihaal(i) = blessed. Svaari = adorned (with noble qualities). 3. Kaamun(i) = woman. Kaam(i) = of use. Khoti = fake; dishonest. Uvgunyaar(i) = having bad qualities. Payiyaiy = (in) parents house (this world). Sahooraiy = (in) in-laws' house (next world). (In Sri Guru Granth Sahib the relation between humans and Waheguru is thought of as between a wife and her husband. All humans are thought of as God's wives with God as the husband). Vaykaar(i) = in sensual desires or acts. Aavun = coming; birth. Vunjun = leave; death. Daakhrro = very difficult; painful. Kunt(i) = husband. Visaar(i) = forget. 4. Pir(u) = dear; husband. Naar(i) = woman; wife. Mooti = separated; disconnected. Kit(u) = what? Saad(i) = taste; interest. Faadil(u) = Baad(i) = meaningless. Dhoyee = shelter. Luhaiy = get; obtain. Doojaiy Saad(i) = in interst of the other (Maya). 5.

Vaacheh(i) = read casually. Pothiyaan = religious books. Boojhaiy = understand. Veechaar(i) = ponder; think deeply. Un-kuou = to others. Mutti = advice. Vaapaar(u) = trade. Kuthni = sayings. Bhuvaiy = wander; straggle. Rehni = lead life. Saar(u) = supreme. 6. Jotki = fortune tellers. Vaad(i) = (fruitless) discussion. Viroddh(i) = in opposition. Gur Kerm = Guru's Kerm = deeds as per Guru's Advice. Vukhaan(u) = explain. 7. Goonvunti = possessing good qualities. Vur(u) = husband. 8.

MEANING: When the mind is dirty, the body is also dirty (with ignoble deeds), and so is the tongue (because it criticizes others maliciously, and tells lies). A liar tells lies with his mouth (tongue), so how can he be clean (pure)? The mind can be cleansed with the water of Guru's Shabad; only Waheguru is the source of Truth. 1.

What kind of comfort can a young woman (human) enjoy when she lacks all the noble qualities? Only those wives (individuals) enjoy the love of the husband (Waheguru) which are connected with Him by Guru's eternal Shabad, and by devotion. Pause.

If the husband becomes foreigner (leaves his wife), the separated wife grieves in separation, and feels restless just like a fish in less water. But she feels perfect comfort when her husband casts a kind eye and begins to like her. 2.

One needs to praise the husband (Waheguru) in the company of the devotee-friends. When the mind of a human bride is enchanted by Waheguru, and she is imbued in His love, she feels blessed, and her body looks pretty (she does noble deeds with her body). Adorned by Guru's Shabad and good qualities, she becomes very attractive and enjoys union with Waheguru. 3. The human bride, who is devoid of good qualities and fakes love for Him, is not worthy of Waheguru (and is ignored by Him) and enjoys no comfort either in this world or the next. She burns (suffers badly) in her false show off. She is forgotten, and disowned by the husband (Waheguru), and is trapped in the painful cycle of rebirths. 4.

Only that human bride is pretty who is loved by the husband (Waheguru); but, the one who has been disowned by Him, spends a tasteless life. She talks useless (about her mundane wishes and desires), and is unworthy for the husband (Waheguru). She finds no support at Waheguru's door, and is ignored because of her interest in the other (Maya). 5.

Pundits do study religious books (for debates only), but do not understand the depth of ideas. They preach others as a business to earn wealth only. Their preaching is false, and misguides the world. Living as per the Shabad of the Guru, is supreme. 6.

There are many pundits and fortunate tellers who ponder on the Vedas. They earn praise for their ability to debate and oppose others, but they keep taking birth again, and again because of their misguided approach to attain high spirituality. They narrate, and explain the ideas to others, and listen to them too, but they can never cut the bonds of Maya without the grace of the Guru. 7. Everybody is thought to have some noble qualities, but I do not have any such quality. Waheguru's wife (the devotee connected to Him) is pretty (has beautiful mind); I wish Waheguru liked me too. Once one is connected to Waheguru by Guru's Shabad (Teachings), she will not suffer any separation again, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Jup(u) = recitation of some Mantra to please some god. Tup(u) = self-torture to please some god. Sunjum(u) = control sensual pleasures. Sadhiyaiy = cleanse (body). Poonn = accepted good deeds. Daan = donations (especially to Brahmans. Sachay = Waheguru. Taas(u) = of that. Raadhay = sows. Loonaiy = reaps. Vinaas(u) = perishes; is wasted. 1. Moondhay = oh, young woman. Goon-Daasi = qualities of slave. Uvgun = bad qualities. Tiyaag(i) = by quitting. Smaayiyaiy = be “one” with. Poora = perfect. Pause. Raaseen = capital. Koondaan = directions. Mool(u) = source; root. Vust(u) = the Article (Waheguru’ Naam). Vin(u) = without. Vukkhur = merchandise (God’s Naam). Ugla = much. Mootthi = got robbed. 2.
Laaha = profit, benefit. Ehinis(i) = day and night (always). Noutuna = fresh; young. Putkhay = examines. Ruttan = precious stone (Naam). Luhhaiy = obtains; acquires. Kaaruj(u) = task; objective of life (union with God). Saar(i) = by achieving. Vunjaariyaan = with the traders (who trade in Waheguru’s Naam). 3. Maylunhaar (u) = one who connects (God). Jot(i) Apaar = light of the incomprehensible (Waheguru). Aasun(i) = seat; throne. 4. Aap(u) = self. Ghur meh(i) = inside the heart. Soothayaiyn = beautiful place. Pullaiy = a piece of cloth to hold something (pocket); to receive a gift. Tirbhuvun(i) = all over the universe. 5. Sa Dhun = that woman. Khuri = pure; very much. Mehli = the master of the Palace (Waheguru). Raavay = enjoys. Soohaagun(i) = loved by husband. Mohi = enchanted. Sung(i) = with. 6. Bhooli = lost; misled. Thul(i) = on the ground. Doogur(i) = on the hill. Gur = guide. Boojh = figure out; understand. Aavoun Jaoun = come and go (birth and death). 7. Pudhaooaan = travelers. Chaakur = personal attendant. Rajun = king (God). Tthaak = obstacle; barrier. Ruv(i) = pervading; present. Uver(u) = else. 8.

MEANING: The human bride, who possesses the qualities of a slave (obeying orders of Waheguru, without questioning), enjoys the real comfort of life, oh young woman. Only that bride is perfect who gets rid of all the bad qualities by acting on Guru's advice, and gets connected with Waheguru as a result. Pause.
(To have their wishes fulfilled) Some people recite some mantras, or torture themselves physically, or live in some holy place (to please some god); but no such act, or even accepted noble deeds, donations (to Brahmans), or other acts of kindness, result in any enhancement in their spiritual level without singing praise of) Waheguru. One reaps rewards only for what one sows; without acquiring noble qualities, one's life goes to waste. 1.
Like a trader who has no capital but looks for profit everywhere, most pundits are looking for spiritual gain outside (without any devotion to Waheguru), and do not realize that the invaluable object they are looking for (source of life - Waheguru) is inside them (in their mind). Without this merchandise (Waheguru's Naam), they experience heavy suffering. The fraudsters are robbed (of spirituality) by the false show of their religiosity - their knowledge of the Vedas and their ability to debate. 2. However, if one always examines the Rattan (precious Waheguru, which is always fresh) by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, he earns a huge spiritual gain. He can achieve the real objective (Waheguru's Naam) in his own heart, and will thus leave the world having achieved the purpose of life. One should come to Guru's shelter, and deal in the (Naam) with the traders (real devotees) by discussing Waheguru's noble qualities (sing Waheguru's praise in their company). 3.
Waheguru can be realized in the company of the Guru (or saintly devotees), provided He wants to connect someone with His kindness. Once one is connected to Waheguru and has been enlightened, he will never experience disconnection. With true devotion and love, a man can be "one" with Waheguru, and enjoy the eternal Residence of Waheguru as an integral component (part) of His. 4. Those who have recognized the self (as a component of Waheguru) and have cleansed their minds to be a place for Waheguru to reside are imbued with Waheguru's Naam, receiving it as a gift. With His eternal Naam in mind, one "sees" Waheguru everywhere in the three-layered universe. 5.
That woman (the bride) becomes very beautiful when she realizes Waheguru within her. She is invited to His Palace by the Master (Waheguru), and she enjoys His love. She is a truly married bride (loved by the Husband), and a pretty woman (with noble qualities), who has been enchanted by Waheguru because of His noble qualities. 6.
(Not realizing that God lives in their heart) Many people, rather than searching Him in their hearts, leave their homes in search of Him. They wander on earth, on mountains, and in forests, but still cannot find Him because only the Guru can lead them on the right path. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, if one keeps wandering unguided, he continues to be born again, and again. 7. (To know the real path so as to be "one" with Waheguru) Ask the travellers for guidance who have actually walked the path for union with Him, oh my friend. They will tell you that (to connect with God) one has to have the qualities of a personal attendant (full devotion with faith). He should recognize the King (Waheguru) as his own Master (serve Him diligently), when he will experience no hurdle or barrier to reach Waheguru's Palace. Then he will also realize that there is only "one" God pervading the whole universe, and no one else, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Trishna = sensual desires. Nirmul = Oojlay = clean; pure. 8.
MEANING: Just like a dip in clean water cleanses your body, a dip in the holy water of Waheguru's Naam cleanses the filth of sensual pleasures from your mind, oh my brother. Only Waheguru is eternally clean; all other places (human hearts) are full of filth of evil desires. Pause. However, one gets connected with the Pure Waheguru only by the grace of the Guru, whereby one's mind and body also get pure. (Body becomes pure when no evil deed is done by it). When the mind becomes pure, Waheguru, who knows the pain of your heart (because of separation from Him), takes residence in your heart. When the mind is pure, one feels great comfort (blissfulness), and the fear of death is gone. 1.
Even though the Creator (Waheguru) is present in every heart imperceptibly, He enlightens the hearts of His devotees only and makes their hearts a place to reside. In such beautiful (pure) hearts, the sun of Divine Knowledge destroys the darkness of ignorance, and the moon of coolness puts out the fire of burning desires. The devotee then "sees" God everywhere in the three-layered universe. The heart of such a devotee becomes a shop, a city, or a fort wherein only the "True" merchandise of Waheguru's Naam is traded (the devotee spends most of his time in the company of other devotees, where only Waheguru's praise is sung). 2. If one is fortunate to connect with the Guru who imparts Divine Knowledge in his mind which acts like kohl for the eyes to "see" the destroyer of all fears – Waheguru- who is above the effects of Maya, and fosters love for Waheguru in the mind of the individual, he attains the spiritual state where mind finds peace, and can "see" Waheguru which is present visibly and invisibly (in nature). 3. Like a goldsmith who tests gold for its purity by grazing it on a touchstone, Waheguru examines His humans very carefully, but with kindness. Like counterfeit money, the fake (hypocrite) finds no place in Waheguru's Court, while the true devotees (like real money) become part of Waheguru's treasure. The filth of all the doubts and of the worldly hopes of such devotees is removed, and they become "one with" God. 4. Of course, everybody wishes comforts, and nobody wants discomforts; but they do not realize that comforts are followed by huge discomforts. The follower of his mind does not recognize this fact. The true comfort is attained when a man's mind is pierced with the Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, he makes no distinction between comforts and discomforts. 5. Sage Biyas kept reading the Vedas loudly (preaching them with vigour), but to connect with Waheguru, one needs to ponder on the Guru's Shabad (which praises God). The sages who stay quiet for a long time, the devotees, and the ones who try different ways to purify their minds, are successful only if they are imbued with Waheguru's Naam. I am a sacrifice for all those who are successful in their objective (swim across the sea of Maya) by being imbued in Waheguru's Love. 6. Those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam by their tongue have the filth of Maya, no matter what eon it is. Those who are devoid of the love for worship of God, lose respect in (Waheguru's Court), and their faces are blackened (they are humiliated). The individuals who ignore Waheguru's Naam are robbed (of spirituality) by their ignoble qualities, and they have to repent. 7.
Individuals who have Waheguru's respectful fear in mind and search for Him are connected with the Guru by Waheguru's kindness and are guided by the Guru to be connected with Waheguru. They recognize themselves, overcome their selfishness, ego, and worldly desires, and find peace in their minds. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are pure (in every way), oh Nanak. 8.7.

Word Meaning: Bhoolay = misled. Baavray = crazy; insane. Jum(u) = Angel of death. Ghuno = too much. Dohaagni = disowned by husband. Kiyoun = why? how? Thir(u) = stable. Soohaag(u) = husband. 1. Uver(u) = else; other. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Bul(i) = sacrifice. Pause. Put(i) = honour. Shabaash(i) = bravo; big applause. Tayk = shelter. Tiki = stable; settled. Ghur(i) = mind. 2.
Chaylay = disciples. Tthaoun = shelter. Sooaao = objective (of life). Soonjaiy = deserted. Kaaoun = crow. 3. Dayhoori = body. Kullar = saltpetre. Bheet(i) = wall. Mehl(u) = God's palace (union with Waheguru). Cheet(i) = in mind. Rupaiy = imbued. Ghur(u) = (Waheguru's) house. Nirbanee Pud(u) = stage of spirituality above the effects of Maya.

Neet(i) = every day; forever. 4. Kaar Kmaaoun = work toward the objective. Milaavrra = union (with God). 5. Nirmulay = pure. Tuj(i) = by abandoning. Oordhaar(i) = bear in mind. Visaariyaiy = forget; drop from mind. Aadhaar(u) = support. 6. Shabad(i) Muraiy = kill desires by Guru's Shabad. 7. Vudhou Vudayri = greater than the greatest. Aap(u) Cheeniyaiy = self-analysis. 8.

MEANING: Listen, oh, my misled and crazy mind; take shelter of the Guru and recite Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which, the Angel of death will be afraid of you, and all your discomforts will also run away from you. Those who have forgotten Waheguru, and are thus devoid of the love of their husband, Waheguru, suffer a great deal. How can they enjoy the protection of their husband (Waheguru), when they have forgotten Him? 1.

I have no other support (than Waheguru), oh my brothers. Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of wealth for me, which has been kindly given to me by the Guru, and I am always a sacrifice for Him. Pause. I am highly thankful to my Guru, and wish to be in His company (shelter), because His guidance brings me honour. I cannot live without the Guru for even a moment, because I experience spiritual death without Waheguru's Naam (and the Guru gives me the Naam, i.e., connects me to Waheguru). I am blind (completely ignorant), and pray to the Guru that I must not forget Waheguru, and wish to stay always in this state of mind (connected with Waheguru). 2. If a guru himself is blind (has no Divine Knowledge), his disciples will have no support or guidance either. One cannot acquire Waheguru's Naam without the guidance of the Guru, and life is purposeless without the Naam. Like a crow, which goes to a deserted house where it finds nothing to eat, the man does not achieve anything spiritually valuable without the Naam. Those who are without the Naam are caught in the birth-death cycle and then feel remorseful. 3. Like a wall of saltpetre, which crumbles soon, the human body suffers a lot without Waheguru's Naam. As long as one does not acquire Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he cannot reach His Palace (merge into Him). One attains the spiritual stage where Maya has no effect, only when he is imbued in the Guru's Shabad, and then reaches Waheguru's Palace. 4. I will seek my Guru's advice and then perform the deeds accordingly. When we praise Waheguru after the Guru's Shabad, Waheguru takes residence in our hearts, and our pain of haumein is eradicated. With the mind at peace (above the effects of Maya), one gets connected with Waheguru by singing His praise. 5. Those who are imbued in the Guru's Shabad are able to overcome their feelings of lust, rage, and ego and attain purity. They keep Waheguru in mind at all times and sing His praise. Why should one forget Waheguru, who is the provider and the shelter for all living beings? 6. Those who have controlled their mind and killed their worldly desires stay in the high spiritual state and do not experience death again (because being "one" with Waheguru, they become immortal). One can realize Waheguru only by acting on the Guru's Shabad, which fosters love for Waheguru in one's mind. Without Guru's Shabad, the world is misled, and is lost (about the real objective of life), as a result of which, it takes birth, (and it dies) again, and again. 7.

Everybody praises themselves and considers themselves greater than others. But, what does he achieve spiritually by saying and listening to others in his praise, unless he analyzes himself by taking shelter of the Guru? When one recognizes himself through the Guru's advice, he shows no ego, oh Nanak. 8.8.

Word Meaning: Dhun = woman (human bride). Sheegariyaiy = make up; adornment. Jobun(u) = youth. Baad(i) = worthless. Khooaar(u) = suffer without achieving anything. Maanay = enjoy. Sayjurri = sayj = bed. Ghuno = too much. Dohaagni = devoid of husband's love. Bhutaar(u) = husband. 1.
Jup-hou = recite. Rung(u) = love; enjoyment. Pause. Vur(u) = husband. Goohrra = dark; deep fast (colour). Hayt(u) = love. Jaan(i) = recognizing; connecting (with God). Sinjaaniyaiy = develop an acquaintance (make a connection). Chaar(u) = beautiful; noble (qualities). 2. Kaamni = woman. Mohi = captivated; enchanted. Vigsiya = blooms. 3. Munooa = mun = mind. Raavaiy = enjoys. Ikut(u) = same. Taagaiy = thread; bond. Rul(i) Milaiy = mix together. Oopjaiy = is produced 4.
Khin = a moment. Khupaiy = disappear; die. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Suntayaiy = causes trouble; hurts. Sahib(u) = Lord. Atool(u) = which cannot be weighed (measured). Kuthan(i) = by describing. 5. Vaapaari = Vunjaariya = traders; dealers. Vujhou = income (fortune). Kaar = business (work for living). Laaha = profit; benefit. Rujaayay = (according to) the Will. Poonji = capital. Til(u) = sesame seed. Tmaayay = desire; greed. 6. Tol(i) = amount; weight. Tolayaysi = will enable you to have the needed amount. Traaji = weighing scale. Aasa = wishes; hopes. Munsa = desires of the mind. Mohni = captivating. Tthaaki = stopped; controlled. 7.

Chhootiyaiy = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Bhaar = huge amount. Kaaya = body. Soch = cleanliness. Kartar = the Creator (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: If you want comfort (peace of mind), recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. However, love for Waheguru cannot be fostered in the mind without the shelter of the Guru. One can connect with Waheguru only by following the Guru's Shabad, for true enjoyment follows. Pause. A woman, who adorns herself with makeup, but has no union with her husband, fails to enjoy the comfort in the bed of her heart with her husband, and all her makeup goes to waste. Just like that woman, a human bride who wears all the religious symbols without connecting with God, has her life going by worthlessly, and suffers a lot. A wife, who has been disowned by her husband, suffers badly as she has no husband to enjoy on the bed of her heart. 1. Serving the Guru enables the human bride to have the adornment of a high spiritual state above the attractions of Maya so as to get connected with God, and to enjoy the comfort of union with Him. A human bride enjoys the bed (union) with Waheguru when she is connected with Him because of her full affection and devotion for Him. In Guru's shelter, the human bride acquires noble qualities, as a result of which, she comes to recognize Waheguru (get connected with Him). 2.

Captivated by Waheguru, when a human bride is connected with Him, she enjoys the bliss of His love. Because of Waheguru's light in her heart, her body and mind become pure and priceless, and nobody can evaluate her (can describe her) spiritual level. The beloved bride has her Husband (Waheguru) in her mind all the time, and her heart blooms because of the Naam in her mind. 3. If the mind of a human bride is dead towards Maya (has killed all her worldly desires), the Husband (Waheguru) enjoys such a bride (loves her), and they are close to each other like the pearls in a necklace that stick together on the same thread. For a devotee of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam is his support, and he enjoys comfort in the company of the holy men (other devotees). 4. Without the Guru's shelter, a Maya-engrossed individual experiences joy at a birth in the family and grief at a death in the family; the same goes for a gain or a loss in his wealth. At one moment, his heart is buoyed, and the next, it sinks because of changes in his financial situation. On the other hand, an individual who is connected with the Guru's Shabad is always content and feels blissful. The fear of death never bothers him. However, a devotee never claims that he has found the limits of the limitless Waheguru; he only realizes Him, which cannot otherwise be realized simply by claims. 5. All human beings are traders here in this world (who trade in good or bad values), and come here with pre-determined qualities or traits (abilities). Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam earn the benefit of leading their life as per the Will of God. However, only those who earn the capital (wealth) of Waheguru's Naam are connected with the Guru, who has absolutely no greed for His fame, or any other desire for personal gain of any kind. 6. When humans are weighed (evaluated or tested) for their success in Waheguru's Court for their spiritual levels, the scale and the standard weight are only the Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Those who have been enlightened by the Guru meet the requirements because the Guru has enabled them to control the captivating lure of hopes and wishes by making them recite Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's requirements for human success never change, and He Himself enables individuals to meet those requirements. 7.

If someone believes that he can break the bonds of Maya simply by reading books or making claims, he is seriously mistaken because the mind's purity (which is essential to break Maya's bonds) cannot be achieved without worshiping Waheguru with love. Only those get connected with the Guru and Waheguru, who never forget Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.9.

Naardaiy = from Narad (was a son of Brahma who was born out of Brahma’s thigh. He was a musician and a messenger. He loved to create problems between gods and demons). Biyasaiy = from Biyas. (He was a sage who is supposed to have reorganized the Vedas which are attributed to Brahma as their author). Pause. Ukuth(u) = indescribable (Waheguru). Giyaan(u) = (to acquire) Divine Knowledge (connecting with God). Dhiyan(u) = to focus thoughts (on Waheguru). Dhoon(i) = sound; concentration of mind.
to meditate. Sufliyo = fulfiller of your wishes. Laal, Juvayhur. Maanki = all precious jewels or stones (represent Waheguru’s Naam). Bhundaaraiy = (in) treasures. 2.
Saacho Vukkhur(u) = true merchandise (Naam). Sunchiyaiy = accumulate. Kerm(i) Apaar(u) = by kindness of the incomprehensible (Waheguru). Asoor = demons. Sunghaar(u) = killer; destroyer. 3. Bhuvjul(u) = sea of life (Maya). Bikhum(u) = difficult (to cross). Kundhi = shore. Toolhurra = raft; a crude float. Vunjh(u) = oar. Mulaar(u) = boatman. Bohitha = ship. Nedri = kind sight. 4. Til(u) = sesame (a moment). Visraiy = forget; drop from mind. Jihva = tongue. Rusayaiy = tastefully. Ghut(u) = heart. Binsaiy = gets destroyed; is dead. 5. Klut(u) = wife. Dhun(u) = woman (human bride). Baad(i) = worthless. Aath(i) = Maya. Kaath(i) = recite; describe. 6. Bhuvaayiyaiy = put through the cycle of birth and death. Puyya Kirt(i) = mental inclination based on one's deeds of previous lives. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-destined. Rujaayay = Waheguru's Will (Huqam). Gurmut(i) = guidance of the Guru. 7. Jeo = life. Praan(u) = breathing. Haumein = selfidhnes and ego. Mumta = motherly affection. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Gooni Nidhaan(u) = treasure of noble qualities (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: You cannot acquire Divine Knowledge without the Guru, oh my brothers; (you will get the same response even if) you ask the wise people like Brahma, Nard, the Vedas, or (sage) Biyas. Pause. If you are lucky enough to connect with the Guru, only then will you learn to discuss the Divine qualities of Waheguru, which are priceless, like jewels. If you offer your mind to the Guru (to acquire His wisdom), you can realize Waheguru, who loves everybody. Waheguru is the destroyer of all evil qualities and is the source of His Naam, which frees you from the bonds of Maya. 1. The Guru enables you to acquire Divine Knowledge (connect with the source – Waheguru), to focus your mind, and to meditate on Him. The Guru is like an evergreen fruit tree which provides tasty fruit (fulfils all your wishes) and provides good shade (shelter) too. All the noble qualities, which are priceless like some jewels and pearls, are in the treasure of the Guru. 2. The love for the holy Naam (of Waheguru) can be acquired only from the treasure of the Guru. This everlasting merchandise (Waheguru's Naam) can be had only by the kindness of the incomprehensible (Waheguru). Satguru is the source of all comfort, the eliminator of all discomforts, and the destroyer of all evil. 3. The sea of life (of Maya), which has no shore either on this side (this world), or on the far side (the next world), is very frightening and extremely difficult (to cross). (Other than the Guru), There is no boat, not even a crude raft, no oar, and no boatman (to take across the sea). Satguru is the ship which kills all your fears and ferries you across the sea, just by His kind sight. 4. If I drop my dear Waheguru from my mind even for a moment, all my comforts disappear, and discomforts entrap me. Such a tongue, which does not recite Waheguru's Naam tastefully, deserves to be burnt, and must be burnt. When the heart fails (the body takes its last breath), the Angel of Death takes the individual into his possession and causes him a great deal of misery; at that time, the individual feels remorse. 5. The man lays claim to all his belongings, but when he dies, nobody - including his own body, his wealth, or even his wife – accompanies him to help his soul. The man is misguided (by his desires) and pursues the path for Maya without realizing that worldly wealth is worthless without Waheguru's Naam. The man should serve Waheguru by taking Guru's shelter, who makes him recite the Naam of the indescribable God. 6.
However, the man is also helpless because he pursues the path of life for which he is predestined. His prewritten destiny cannot be erased, which has been written according to Waheguru's Will. At the same time, the man cannot cut himself loose from the bonds of Maya without Waheguru's Naam, which can be worshipped only by acting on the Guru's advice. 7. There is nobody else who is mine other than Waheguru, who is the Master of my life and breaths. I wish my selfishness, my attachment with the family, my greed, and my ego were burnt down, because to attain union with the source of all the Divine qualities (Waheguru), all the evil qualities must be gotten rid of by pondering (and acting) on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.10.

Word Meaning: Kumleh(i) = (of) lotus flower. Lehri = waves. Puchharriyaiy = hit; pushed. Bhee = still; even more. Vigsaiy = flourishes; thrives. Usneh(i) = (with) love. Jea = living beings. Oopaayay = produced; created. 1. Chhooteh(i) = freedom from Maya. Ruv(i) = pervading; present. Bukhshay = gifted. Bhugat(i) = of bhugti. Bhundaar = treasures. Pause. Neer = water. Udhkuou = more. Ghuno = too much. Shaant(i) = peaceful (satisfied). Ghurri = 24 minutes; a short period of time. Ubh = heart. Peer = pain. 2. Chaatrik = rainbird; a bird that is believed to drink the first drop of rain water which falls during a mythical Swanti sub-planet. Mayh = rain; cloud. Sur = bodies of water like lakes, ponds etc. Bhur(i) = full. Thul = ground. Kayh = to what use? Kirt(i) Puyya = pre=written destiny. 3. Aavtun(u) = boiling. Khuvaiy = endures. Khupan = suffer. Vichhooniyaan = the separated. Vudiyayee = honour. 4.

Chukvee = (Greek Partridge) another bird which gets separated from its companion after sunset, and meets again with sun rise. So chukvee waits all night for the sun to rise and keeps calling her companion throughout the night. Soor = sun. Khin(u) Pul(u) = a single moment. Hudoor(i) = Hujoor(i) = present close by. Sojhi = understanding. 5.
Gunut gnaavni = a show off (to be included among the devotees). Lochaiy = longs.6.
Nayhou = affection. Bhaytaiy = connects with. Pdaruth = invaluable objective. Tirbhuvan = three-layered universe. Sojhi = understanding. Gaahuk = customer. 7.
Khayl(i) guyay = their game is over. Punkhnoo = birds. Choogday = feed themselves. Sur = pool of water. Moohut(i) = short period of time. Ujj(u) = today.
Sacha Pirr(u) = everlasting play ground (the game of life). Mull(i) = winning. 8.
Sohun(g) = I am that (part of Waheguru). Aap(u) = self. Bhayd(i) = by piercing. Putiyayay = convinced; bring around. Uver(u) = else. 9.
Munmukh(i) = follower of own mind. Vichhurr(i) = by separating. Choataan Khayay = gets hit; suffers badly. Dur(u) = door. Ghur(u) = home = shelter. Jaayay= place. 10.
MEANING: One cannot break the bonds of Maya without the love for God, oh my mind. By Guru's grace, Waheguru takes residence in one's heart and is present there all the time. The Guru confers the treasures of Waheguru's worship on the devotee. Pause.
So, love God just as the lotus flower loves water; even though the flower is hit by the water waves, it thrives even more. Other living beings, which have been created by God to live in water, die without it. 1. Love Waheguru the same way as the fish love water. The more water there is, the more comfort the fish get, and their mind and body feel at peace. They do not survive without water for even a moment. So, one should love Waheguru, who knows the pain of our heart (provides comfort) the same way (as fish does for water), oh my mind. 2. Love Waheguru the same way as the rainbird loves the rain drop during the Swanti sub-planet. Even though all the water bodies may be full to the brim, and the land may be green due to rain, all these waters mean nothing to the rainbird if he does not get that particular raindrop. But everybody is limited by the consequences of his deeds in previous lives; one only receives that which is given to him by the kindness of Waheguru. (Even union with Him depends on His kindness). 3. Love God the same way as water loves milk, oh my mind. Water endures the heat of boiling and protects milk from the heat (water boils off while the milk stays behind). (Like water, if someone yearns to connect with God), Waheguru Himself unites such separated individuals with Him and honours them. 4.
Love Waheguru the same way as the Chukvee loves the sun, oh my mind. She cannot sleep even for a moment and keeps calling her companion all night, thinking he is far away, even though he is still close by. She loves the sunlight and waits for the sun to rise. Likewise, the follower of their mind thinks God to be somewhere far away, while for a Gurmukh, Waheguru is always around him. 5. The followers of their mind try to be included among the religious people by showing off, but only what the Creator does (or makes people do) happens. However, nobody can find the limits of God's qualities - no matter how hard they try or wish for that. But when one comes to Guru's shelter, he can appreciate Waheguru's qualities and enjoy bliss by connecting with Him. 6. If God connects one with the Guru, his true affection for Waheguru never fades. (In Guru's shelter), One acquires the invaluable Divine Knowledge (connection with Waheguru) and realizes that Waheguru is present in the entire three-layered universe. When one begins to deal in the Divine qualities by taking the Guru's shelter, he never forgets the holy Naam of Waheguru. 7.

The birds which used to pick food by the pool of water have completed their enjoyable games (people have completed their lives and are dead). Everybody has to leave this world shortly – maybe today or tomorrow – but only those who are connected with Waheguru are connected with Him through His own kindness. Such lucky people leave this world achieving the true objective of life (union with Waheguru). 8. Love for Waheguru does not develop in people's mind, and the filth of selfishness does not wash away, until they come to Guru's shelter, whereby their mind is pierced with Guru's Shabad, and they are convinced about the existence of God (and love for Him), and one recognizes self, and realizes that he is a part of Waheguru. One recognizes oneself only by taking the Guru's shelter; nobody can recognize oneself on their own, or with help from others. 9.
Those who are convinced by the Guru's Shabad about Waheguru become connected to Him and do not need to be united again because they never get separated from Him. But the followers of their minds do not attain enlightenment about Waheguru and remain separated from Him, and as a result, they suffer greatly. There is only one door and one support – Waheguru –, and there is no other place in the universe for human support, oh Nanak. 10.11.

Word Meaning: Tthaur = shelter. Pdaruth = valuable article. Khoya = lost. Tthugiya = Moottha = defrauded; swindled. 1. Baba = elderly (wise) man. Bherm(i) = misled; deceived. Dohaagni = disowned by husband. Unk(i) = (in the) heart. Smaayay= mixes completely; becomes one with. Pause. Disunited = foreign countries. Grehou = home. Tuj(i) = relinquish. Doongur = hill. Thul = desert; ground. Dolaayay = uncontrolled; wavering (mind). Dhooroun = right from the source. Vichhooni = separated. Gerb = ego. Billayay= wails. 2. Vichhoorriyaan = separated. Rus(i) = with taste. Sehj(i) = mental state above the attractions of Maya. Sobha = fame; praise. Ghuni = very much. Adhaar(i) = support. Bhutaar(u) = husband. 3. Akkhur = letters; teachings of holy books. Bhaykheen = symbols of different faiths. Abhimaan = Goomaan = conceit. Sultan = a Muslim ruler. 4. Pdaruth = valuable item. Tut(u) = the root; source (Waheguru). Sa Dhun = that woman. Aap(u) = self. Seegaar(i) = adornment. Hayt(u) = (by) live. 5.
Chaakri = personal tending. Nirmul = pure. Haumein = selfishness and ego. 6.
Kerm(i) = by the grace. Ruttiyaan = being imbued. Pullaiy = in account. 7.
Abhool = infallible. Apaar(u) = incomprehensible. 8.

MEANING: (Maya's effects on man are very powerful), and under its influence, the man is misled from the real path of life (to get connected with Waheguru), oh, wise man. A misled human bride (man) is like a wife who has been disowned by her husband and cannot enjoy his love (Waheguru). Pause.

The follower of his mind is misled (under the influence of Maya) from the real path of life and has no shelter (for spiritual gain). Nobody, other than the Guru, can show him the real path (to connect with God), and the blind (ignorant man) leaves this world trapped in the birth-death cycle, because he has been cheated of the valuable Divine Knowledge by Maya. 1.

Misguided (but still desirous of connecting with Waheguru), the man leaves home (in search of God), and wanders in different territories, on the mountains, and on earth, but due to the non-clarity of his mission (caught between Maya and the search for God), his mind does not find peace. But such men are not fully to blame because those who are pre-destined to be engrossed in Maya are deceived by their ego; they only wail about their misfortune. 2.

However, the Guru can connect such people to Waheguru by fostering in their minds the love and the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam. (Acting on Guru's advice), When an individual becomes imbued in Waheguru's Naam and makes Waheguru his only support, he attains a spiritual level above the attractions of Maya, remains connected to Waheguru, and earns praise in the world. Hey Waheguru, I pray to You to kindly protect me, too, from the attacks of Maya, in whatever way You please; I have no other husband (Lord) than You, begs Nanak. 3.

Some people read holy books, but (without the proper guidance of the Guru) they are misled and may join a faith group and wear its symbols, yet they still suffer from their false ego (of being religious). Pilgrimage, too, does not serve any purpose if the mind has the filth of ego on it. Their mind is the ruler for them (controls all their actions); the mind can be enlightened only by the Guru, and nobody else. 4.

By taking Guru's shelter, one ponders on the Divine qualities of the root (Waheguru), and acquires love for Him. With the mind adorned by the Guru's Shabad, such a human bride is able to kill her selfishness. With pure love for the Guru, she realizes the incomprehensible God in her heart (and does not need to leave home). 5.

Service to the Guru as a personal attendant purifies one's mind, and one realizes and feels all comforts. One's ego is eradicated when the Guru's Shabad takes residence in his mind, and he permanently earns the valuable Naam (it stays in his mind forever). 6.

However, nobody can acquire Waheguru's Naam by their own efforts; only the kindness of the Guru makes that possible. Therefore, the man should always take Guru's shelter to get rid of his selfishness. When one is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he acquires Him (becomes "one" with Waheguru). 7. Everybody is fallible; only the Guru and Waheguru are infallible. So, the individual, who takes shelter of the Guru, develops love for Waheguru, and his mind is enlightened. Guru's Shabad connects one with the incomprehensible Waheguru, and he never lets the Naam slip from his mind, oh Nanak. 8.12.

Word Meaning: Trishna = desire for Maya. Mohni = captivating. Soot = sons. Bundhup = relatives. Tthugiya = defrauded; deceived; duped. Lub = lobh = greed. Tthugaouli = a substance that causes temporary unconsciousness (usually used to rob people). Houn = I; me. 1. Uver(u) = other; else. Bhavyee = like. Pause. Rung = affection. Siyoun = with. Suntokh = contentment. Koorra = false; temporary. Vaat = path. Vutayoo = visitor. 2. Aakhin(i) = just to quote. Vudayee = praise. Ruppaiy = imbued. Khota = fake; impure. Khura = real; pure. 3. Shernaayee = (in the) shelter. Raas(i) = capital; investment. Asht Dhaat(u) = eight ingredients that make up human body (blood, bones, veins, skin, fat, muscles, semen and hair). Ghurriyaiy = moulded. Vigaas(i) = blossoms; feels blissful. Purkhay = examines; evaluates. Paarkhoo = examiner. 4.

Tthok(i) Vujaayay= (tested) from all aspects. Tikaiy = stays. 5.
Vaad(u) = arguments; struggle. Bikhiya = poison. Dooja = Maya. Feeka = tasteless. 6.
Aasaa = hope (wish or desire to achieve). Kus = salty and sour. Moohay mooh(i) = on the face again, and again. Uvgun = ill qualities and deeds. 7. Bhulo = good; noble. Put(i) = dignity. Saath(u) = companion. Bhaakh(u) = utter. 8.
Tirbhuvun(i) = three-layered universe. Smaayay= present. Bhaao = affection. Bhaavaiy = (as He) pleases. Rujaayay= Will (Huqam). 9.
MEANING: I have no other support than You, oh My dear (Waheguru). I do not like anybody else; I feel blissful to like You. Pause. Sons, relatives, wife at home, and desires are all forms of Maya, which is captivating. The world is being defrauded by wealth, youthfulness, greed, and ego. I am also a victim of the deceiving worldly attachments (which induce temporary unconsciousness); in fact, the whole world is their victim. 1.
(To escape from the captivating Maya), I sing praise of Naam (Waheguru), taking Guru's shelter because of which I find contentment. One must realize that everything visible is perishable, and love for them is false (short-lived). So, one should not pay any attention to them. Watching people leaving this world all the time, one can realize that he is here on this earth like a visitor, and life is just a short journey. 2.
If we were to count, there are countless people who talk (about God), but they get no enlightenment without the Guru. If one gets enlightened about the greatness of the Naam, he earns respect by getting imbued in Waheguru. We cannot judge people and label them as good or bad; only those are good whom You like, oh Waheguru. 3.
One can get freedom from the bonds of Maya only by the grace of the Guru; the capital (spiritual investment) of a follower of his mind is fake (not acceptable to Waheguru). The eight-elemental human body belongs to Waheguru, and it feels blissful when it is moulded in Guru's Shabad. The adjudicator Waheguru Himself examines individuals, and those who have the investment in spirituality, succeed and become part of Waheguru's Treasure. 4.
People have tried to examine You from every angle, and no one can evaluate You, oh Waheguru. (Let alone evaluating You), Nobody can achieve anything spiritually simply by saying things about You; only those are honoured who keep You in mind all the time. You can only be praised in the shelter of the Guru; other than that, nobody is qualified to say anything about Your magnanimity. 5. The mind, which has no liking for the Naam, is a home for haumein and tussle (lack of peace). No one can get enlightenment without the Guru, and the love for Maya is like a poison (which kills spirituality). Without noble qualities, nothing is acceptable (in Waheguru's Court) as Maya has no place in spirituality. 6.
The man is born with some hopes and desires, and he lives his life experiencing tasty and sour foods (good and bad results of his deeds). Engrossed in hopes and desires, he leaves this world and suffers continuous punishment on his face (mental torture). Man receives punishment because of his ill qualities, but is salvaged in the shelter of the Guru when he worships (Waheguru's) Naam. 7.

You are omnipresent; please protect me (from the attacks of Maya) in whatever way You please, oh Waheguru. When the True Naam takes residence in the heart of a person in the Guru's shelter, goodness and respect automatically come with it. By reciting the Naam of the only Truth – Waheguru – by Guru's Shabad, the disease of haumein is cured (and man becomes "one" with Waheguru). 8. You are present everywhere - in the sky, in the underworld, and in the whole universe – oh Waheguru. You yourself are the love for devotion, and You connect with people through the Guru. Please, Waheguru, be kind to me so that I may not forget Your Naam, and may live my life as per Your Huqam (Will), oh Nanak. 9.13.

Ghut(i) Ghut(i) = in every heart. Kinguri = a musical instrument – fife. Undin(u) = day and night. Soobhaayay= in affection. Vitlay = rare. Sojhi = understanding. 8.
NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib discusses the futility of self-torture, donations to undeserving people, and other prevalent rituals to please Waheguru. He emphasizes the important role of the Guru in the union with God.
MEANING: Leading one's life according to the Will (of Waheguru) is the only true path to connect with Him, oh my mind. Concentrate on the Naam (of God) who has not just given the (human) body and mind, but has also refined it. Pause.
When my heart is pierced with Waheguru's Naam, I do not need to think about anyone else. Acting on Guru's Shabad and concentrating on it produces comfort in one's mind, and imbuing the mind with Waheguru's Naam results in the supreme comfort (mental bliss). Please, Waheguru, protect me in whatever way You like, because Your Naam is my sole support. 1. If someone burns himself alive, or cuts his body into small pieces, the size of a Rutti, or offers his mind and body as fuel for a yug day and night, or performs millions of other prevalent rituals (to please some god), there is no spiritual gain, because all such acts of self-torture are fruitless as nothing comes even close to Waheguru's Naam as far as union with God is concerned. 2.
If someone cuts his body into two pieces, or has his head cut by the saw (in Banaras- now Varanasi), or exposes his body to the ice on Himalayas for freezing (again to please some god), all such gory acts are useless because one's ego does not go away (in fact it is enhanced) (the destruction of which is a prerequisite to the union with God). We have tested from every angle, and nothing comes close to the recitation of Waheguru's Naam. 3.
If someone donates forts (mountains) of gold, many excellent horses and elephants, or gives land, and many, many cows, such donations are useless because they produce more ego and conceit. The real donation (that counts for union with Waheguru) is getting one's mind pierced with His Naam, which is given (fostered in mind) by the Guru. 4.
Many people use obstinacy (continuous but misdirected effort), or their wisdom, or ponder on the Vedas, or put constraints on their mind (to please gods); but all such approaches are useless to please Waheguru, who is pleased only when people take the Guru's shelter, and cut the bonds of Maya by His advice. Every other approach is lower than the worship of God, which is higher than even high living. 5. We should treat everybody as belonging to the high class, and nobody is lower, because the same God has created everybody as equal, and it is His light which is present in all the three worlds (three-layered universe). One receives His Naam (gets connected to Him) only by His mercy, and nobody can erase His gift, which He gives to individuals right from the beginning. 6.

Holy men keep company with other holy men only, and the contentment is achieved when one lives their life as per the Guru's Dictum. That way, the man becomes "one" with the Guru, and ponders on the story of the indescribable Waheguru (His traits) as enlightened by the Guru. One achieves complete contentment in Guru's shelter as he drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 7.
In love with Guru's Shabad, each heart feels as if soothing music of the fife is playing there day and night. But only a rare person is enlightened in the Guru's shelter who can educate (control) his mind. One should not forget Waheguru's Naam because the bonds of Maya can be broken only by following the Guru's Teachings, oh Nanak. 8.14.

Artfully painted houses with beautiful white gates, which are built with great zest in the love for Maya, look very pretty from the outside. But if they are empty inside, they collapse into rubble. Just like such houses, if a mind is empty of the love for Waheguru, it turns into dust upon death. 1. Just like God is pure, His Naam-wealth is also pure, and its bearer can easily become "one" with Him. But, Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru. The bearers of Waheguru's Naam go through no checking (scrutiny) in Waheguru's Court, as the Guru and Waheguru are his friends (supporters). One can find salvation only if Waheguru Himself helps him, because He is the only one who is the source of such gifts. 2. The follower-of- his-mind considers his daughters and sons to be his own, not realizing that he got them only because of his prewritten destiny (Will of Waheguru). His mind blossoms to see his wife, but along with this joy, he also feels depressed because of the possible fear of losing them. But the devotees of the Guru are always imbued in His Shabad, and enjoy the delicious food of Waheguru's Naam (and never feel sad or overjoyed). 3. When a money-minded man loses some wealth, he also loses peace of mind and his mental strength. He tries to find peace of mind in the outside world, and does not realize that the peace lies in his heart (in the form of Waheguru's Naam), which is occupied with the desire for wealth (so, the Naam lies dormant in his heart). The follower of his mind is defrauded by his haumein, whereas the devotee of the Guru acquires Waheguru's Naam. 4. Recognize your roots (origin), oh, devoid of noble qualities, and money-minded, man. (You are conceited of your body, oh man), But remember, that it is made up of the egg of your mother and the sperm of your father (by Waheguru's Huqam) and eventually has to burn down (die). It is the eternal Huqam of Waheguru on the forehead of every man that the body functions only as long as he breathes (which God controls). 5.
Everybody wishes for a long life, and nobody wants to die. However, only that life is considered comfortable (worth living) which has taken Guru's shelter, and which has made its mind a home for Waheguru to live in. (Without Waheguru's Naam), an individual, who has not had a holy "sight" of the Guru and Waheguru, is not worth even as a statistic. 6.
Just as a sleeping man is misled by various situations in his dream, which lasts only for as long as his sleep, (and sees the reality upon waking up), a man who ponders on Guru's advice, realizes that this world is also just like a dream (and not a reality). Under the influence of Maya, the human mind considers this world to be real, as a result of which, he has both haumein and prejudice in his mind. 7.

Just as the fire of the appetite of a child is put out when his mother feeds him milk, the fire of desires is put out by the Naam-water. Just as a lotus does not live, and a fish dies without water, a Waheguru's devotee cannot live without Him, and survives only when he sings praise of Waheguru, and enjoy its taste, oh Nanak. 8.15.

Word Meaning: Doongur (u) = mountain. Payiurraiy = parents' home (this world). Duriaas(u) = get scared. Gaakhrro = difficult; challenging. Tit(u) Taas(u) = in that. 1. Bhuvjul(u) = world-sea; sea of Maya. Bikhum(u) = tough; difficult. Draou = scary; intimidating. Rus(i) = with affection. Pause. Chullaan, Chullaan = (remember) we have to leave this world. Amar(u) = immortal. Sachay Thaan(u) = true place (company of holy men). 2. Hustee = elephants. Paakhray = saddles. Lushkur = soldiers. Khup(i) Khup(i) = exhaust by trying very hard, but without much success. Usaar = ignorant 3.

Roopa = silver. Sunchiyaiy = accumulate. Junjaal = bonds; net of Maya. Dohi = public announcement. Pind = body. Purraiy = falls down Jeao khaylsi = the game of life (is over). Budfaili = immoral acts. 4. Vigsiyaiy = feel overjoyed. Bhutaar = husband. Choa = perfume from rose etc. Chundan = extract from sandalwood. Roop(u) = beautify. Khayh = dust. 5. Mehur = Chaudhary = chief. Mlook = sultan. Rao = ruler of a small state. Duv(i) = forest fire. Dudha = burnt. Kaan(u) = reed (a plant of the bamboo family). 6. Kaajul = kohl (which is black – another metaphor for the darkness of Maya). Kotthrri = a small room. Nivaari = put out. Bhaah(i) = fire. 7.
Ruttan = precious stone. Vaysaah(u) = business; investment. Bhoujul = world-sea. Puch(i) = struggling without much achievement. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. 8.
NOTE: Even though Waheguru is omnipresent and lives in every heart, we are unable to see Him because there is a thick curtain of Maya between Him and us. This curtain is called the sea of Maya or the world-sea. So, Gurbani professes that we have to swim across this sea to be one with Him. Another construct used in Gurbani is that Waheguru resides above the effects of Maya; since the visible world is Maya, God is thought to live way up high in the sky above all the visible universe. So, to reach Him, we have to rise very high too (above the effects of Maya). So, for our understanding, Guru Sahiban have used the analogy of climbing up a mountain to reach Waheguru. However, the reasoning of some religions that believe God lives somewhere up in the sky differs from that of Gurbani. Because God is inaccessible, they think He must be living high up in the sky. For example, Muslims believe there are seven skies above the earth, and that God lives on the seventh. Similarly, Hindus believe that their gods live in paradise, which is believed to be somewhere in the sky. So, please note the difference in reasoning.
MEANING: The sea of Maya is very scary because it is very difficult to swim across it, oh my brothers. However, if one can connect with the Perfect Guru by virtue of one's love for Him, He can foster Waheguru's Naam in his heart, which can take him across this sea. Pause.
Looking at the tough and challenging climbing of mountain-high path (to the residence of Waheguru), the human bride feels intimidated in this world because the tall mountain path is tough, and the bride has no ladder to climb. However, because of the Guru's union with Waheguru, the devotee of the Guru realizes that God is in his mind and is thus able to swim across the sea of Maya. 1. If I realize that I have to leave this world because I am mortal (and so is the rest of the world) and only God and the Guru are immortal, the best thing for me to do is to sing Waheguru's praise in the company of the devotees to become "one" with Waheguru, which is the objective of human life. 2. A man may have beautiful mansions, thousands of fortified forts, many, many horses, and elephants with (decorated) saddles, and countless soldiers, none of these accompany him (at death), even though the ignorant man might have experienced lots of hardships to acquire them. 3.
One accumulates gold and silver (with great effort); and he may be well known for his riches in his area, but he does not realize that all the wealth becomes a bigger net for immoral activities because of his further attraction for Maya, and the sword of death is always hanging on his head without Waheguru's Naam. When the body collapses, the game of the mind is over, and he must suffer the consequences of his ignoble deeds. 4.
One feels overjoyed to see his sons and his wife on his bed. To look attractive, one wears nice clothes and sprays perfumes, like the extract of roses and sandalwood, but the individual has to leave his house and the belongings at his death, and the body is made of earth, mixed with dust (thus all adornments become useless). 5.
During one's life, one may be called a chief, a king, the ruler of a small state, or a chieftain, but all such titles become a source of conceit, due to which the individual suffers loss of peace of mind. The follower of his mind forgets Waheguru, and looks like a reed burnt in a forest fire (short- tempered – burnt by the fire of desires). 6.

This world is black like kohl due to the darkness (ignorance) (caused by Maya). Anybody who falls in the trap of Maya will turn black by body and mind due to his haumein, and will leave this world as such (full of haumein) (and will be punished in Waheguru's Court). Only Guru's Shabad can put out the fire of desires (for Maya), and salvage people. 7.
The followers of their mind die in the world-sea suffering needlessly from the effects of Maya, but the devotees swim across this unfathomable sea. I pray that I may not drop Waheguru's Naam from my mind, and continue to deal in the Naam, which is precious like a jewel. Waheguru is the King of kings, and one can swim the sea of Maya with His True Naam, oh Nanak. 8. 16.

Word Meaning: Mookaam(u) = permanent (stay). Dhokh = impending fear. Nihchul = which does not move; stable. Loak = people; world. 1.
Kais(i) = how? Siduk(u) = contentment. Kerni = deeds. Khurch(u) = expenses (for the journey to the next world); Waheguru's Naam. Bandhou = collect. Pause.
Yogi = a disciple of Gorukh Nath (yogis try to control their sensual pleasures by forcible discipline). Aasun(u) = to sit in a particular way for a long time. Vukhaaneh(i) = explain. Pothiaan = religious books. Sidh = followers of Shiva (their main objective is to acquire supernatural powers by the concentration of mind). Dayv sthaan(i) = place of gods (temples). 2 Soor = gods. Gun = special assistants of Shiva. Gundhurb = musicians of gods (their origin is defined in a few different ways in different books). Moon(i) = sages who vow not to talk for long periods of time. Slaar = a chief. Sheikh = a learned man. Kooch = to leave. Uveray = others. Chullunhaar = destined to leave. 3.

Sultan = Mlook = rulers. Oomray = rich. Moohut(i) = a short period of time. 4.
Shabadah mah(i) = in words. Virla = rare. Vukhaanaiy = says. Muhiul = sky. 5.
Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Agum = unreachable. Kaadur(u) = Creator. Kreem = benevolent; provider of all gifts. Rheem(u) = compassionate. 6.
Sis(i) = on the forehead. Laykh(u) = accountability. 7.
Ruv(i) = sun. Nis(i) = night. Sus(i) = moon. Lukh Taarika = millions of stars. Puloyay = will disappear. Bugoyay = say 8.
MEANING: (When every visible thing is perishable), how can this world be called a permanent place to live, oh, man? (If you want to be immortal and want to live forever, you need to be "one" with God because only He is immortal). (To be one with Him) You need to have faith in Him, do noble deeds, and stay connected with Waheguru (His Naam). This Naam-wealth will serve as your expense for the journey to Waheguru's. Pause.
One cannot think of this world as his permanent place, because he is aware of the fear of impending death, which always haunts him. Man's stay here can be thought of as permanent only if the whole world is permanent (and it is not). 1.
(Disregarding the fact that the world is not permanent, people still act as if this were so, and they forget God completely. For example, to acquire supernatural powers, the yogi sits in a special position for a long time, and the mullah sits on his designated seat to preach to others. Likewise, the Pundits explain their religious books to people, and the Sidhs preach in temples (as if they are going to live forever). 2. The gods, the Sidhs, assistants of Shiva, Gundherbs, the Moonies, Peers, the learned men, and the chiefs, all leave this world turn by turn, while the others have to leave (sooner, or later). 3.
The rulers – big and small, the chiefs, and the rich, all have left the world. You have to understand that you too have to leave in a short time, oh my mind. 4.
Many tell you that (this world is not permanent), but that is only in words, because only a few really understand this fact. (Guru) Nanak respectfully submits that only God is eternal, present in water, on earth, and in the sky. 5. The whole world is a temporary stay because living beings come and go; only incomprehensible, unreachable, compassionate, the creator of the entire universe, and the source of all gifts – Waheguru - is permanent (eternal). 6.
The only permanent entity in this universe is the one that has no accountability (the burden of immoral deeds) on its head (in other words, which is like Waheguru). Even the sky and the earth are perishable; only the One (God) is eternal. 7.
The sun, the days, the moon, the nights, and millions of stars will all disappear; the truth is that the only eternal power is Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8. 17.

MEANING: (The real objective of human life is to be “one” with Waheguru by worshipping Him). So, what for did the individual, who is devoid of Waheguru’s worship, come in this world, oh my brother? He does not serve the Perfect Guru and wastes away his precious life for nothing. Pause. (But we cannot entirely blame such an individual because), A man cannot worship Waheguru on his own. Only those serve (worship) Him whom He kindly connects with the Guru. And only that individual recognizes this fact whose mind has been purified by Waheguru after he has been connected with Him (through the Guru). God is Pure, and so is Bani or His praise, (which can be sung by) Guru's Shabad only, and which connects the individual with God. 1. Waheguru Himself is the life (support of all kinds) of the world, and it is because of His kindness that He connects people with Him; otherwise, the poor living beings have no power (to connect with Him) and are unable to explain anything about Him. Waheguru Himself honours people (by connecting with Him) and enables them to serve Him. 2. On seeing his family, the man is entangled in (possessed by) its affection, which does not accompany him at the moment of his death. He does not recognize the value of union with Waheguru, the source of all noble qualities, which can be realized only by serving Satguru. God is the only friend who can help one at his death. 3.

While living in this world, the follower of his mind does not remember Waheguru (which is the source of life of the whole world), and loses his respect (in Waheguru's Court). Without Satguru, the blind man does not know the real path (of union with Waheguru) and does not find shelter (peace of mind). The source of all comfort, Waheguru, does not take residence in his heart, and he leaves the world repenting. 4. (On the other hand) A man who takes Guru's advice in this life gets Waheguru to make home in his heart. By worshipping Waheguru day and night, he gets rid of his haumein and worldly attachments. Being imbued in His Naam, he acquires the same traits as Waheguru, and thus becoming pure, he merges with the Pure God. 5. When God is kind to someone, He connects the individual with the Guru, who ponders on the Guru's Shabad, and develops affection for Waheguru. By serving Satguru, one can overcome one's haumein and sensual desires, thereby attaining the spiritual level (Sehj) where Maya has no effect. In that state, Waheguru, which is the source of all the noble qualities, takes residence in his heart, and the individual always preserves His Naam in his heart. 6. Waheguru is always pure and can be realized only with a pure mind. The treasure of Naam (Waheguru) begins to reside in the pure heart, and all the pain (suffering) of haumein of the individual is gone. Satguru kindly guides people with His Shabad; I love to sacrifice my life for the Satguru. 7.
One may think to himself and may make people believe he has overcome his selfishness, but nobody can overcome selfishness without the Guru. Waheguru, the source of all comforts, who loves being worshipped (and loves His worshippers), kindly implants His Naam in the hearts of His devotees. Waheguru gifts the wisdom to praise Him, and honours individuals by connecting them with the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.1.18

Word Meaning: Haumein = selfishness and ego. Kerm = deeds. Dund(u) = punishment. Oobray = rose above (the attractions of Maya); salvaged. Saytee = with. Liv = concentrate. 1. Naam(u) Dhiyayaiy = recite the Naam with devotion. Dhoor(i) = from the source (God). Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written. Kertaiy = the Creator. Smaayay= merged with. Pause Bin(u) = without. Purteet(i) = have faith. Bhaao = affection. Suvaiy = sleeps. 2. Keechaiy = do; utter. Lochiyaiy = long for. Kirt(u) = result of previous deeds. Maytiya = erased. Bhaana = Will (Huqam). Thaayayn = room in Waheguru's Court (approved by Waheguru). 3. Dirraavaiy = reinforce. Rung Siyoun = with love. Suou = hundreds. Neeriyaiy = irrigate; feed. Bhee = still. Bikh(u) = poison. Kartar(u) = Waheguru. 7. Aur = other Kerm(i) = by the kindness. Praput(i) = acquire. 8.

MEANING: Those who perform tasks to satisfy their ego suffer the punishment of the Justice of deeds. Those who serve Satguru and concentrate on Waheguru's Naam are salvaged. 1. So, take Guru's shelter. and recite Waheguru's Naam (with dedication), oh my mind. Those who are predestined by the Creator act on the Guru's advice and stay imbued in Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Without Satguru, one does not develop faith and love for God's Naam. They do not find comfort even in their dreams, and spend their night (life) gripped in discomfort. 2. Even if someone wants to recite Waheguru's Naam with his own efforts (he is not successful), because his bad nature due to the results of his deeds of previous lives, cannot be changed (on his own). However, the devotees who obey Waheguru's Huqam (Will) are recognized for their dedication in God's Court. 3. No one can worship Waheguru without the grace of the Guru, who reinforces His Shabad in praise of Waheguru in the heart of the Sikhs. The follower of his mind is like a poisonous tree which aggressively bears poisonous fruit, even if it is watered with amrit (of hundreds of noble qualities). 4. Those who have honest affection for Satguru are truthful and pure. They obey Satguru's Will by relinquishing all their selfishness, ego, and evil deeds. 5. Nobody can overcome the attractions of Maya by exercising self-control with his own efforts; even the Simritis and the Shastras will tell you that. The only way (to break the bonds of Maya), is to follow the Guru's Shabad in the shelter of the Guru, or His devotees. 6.

Waheguru's Naam is an inexhaustible treasure, but one can acquire the Naam only by taking shelter of the Guru with His kindness. Such devotees look honourable (are honoured) in God's Court. 7. There is only one Provider (Waheguru) and none else, oh Nanak. One can realize Him only by the benevolence of the Guru and of Waheguru. 8.2.19

MEANING: Lead your life as per the Teachings of the Guru, oh my mind. If you obey Guru's advice, you will stay connected with Waheguru's Naam all the time. Pause.

(Human mind is unstable, and takes flights like) a bird perched on a tree, which can fly freely in any direction to pick food. A human mind is pretty (has noble qualities) if it picks the food of Truth (Waheguru's Naam) with love for the Guru. He enjoys the juice of Waheguru's Naam and attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya, as a result of which he is not caught in the rebirth cycle. Such an individual's mind becomes stable, and he stays connected with Waheguru's Naam. 1. But the human mind, which takes flights in every direction in pursuit of Maya, does not become stable, and as a result, he suffers severe discomfort, and his mind burns (becomes restless and suffers), and he wails in suffering. Without the Guru, he cannot acquire the Amrit–fruit (life-sustaining Waheguru's Naam), and cannot reach Waheguru's Palace. 2. In His love, a true devotee of the Guru attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya and becomes "one" with Waheguru. He becomes like an evergreen tree, providing shade and fruit (for the needy) in every season. By being imbued in the Guru's Shabad, he overcomes the three known effects of Maya. Waheguru is the only source of the Amrit-fruit, and He Himself feeds it to His devotees. 3.

The followers of their mind become like leafless trees which bear no fruit, and have no shade (they have nothing positive to offer to anyone). One should not join a company because they have no home (stable mind, and definite objective). Since they do not act on Guru's Shabad, they do not have Waheguru's Naam; as a result, they always suffer like a dead tree that is cut and burned. 4. But they are not fully to blame because (based on their deeds of previous lives) they are predestined to perform deeds of haumein (selfishness and ego). They have to obey Waheguru's Huqam whether they are allowed to have a "sight" of Waheguru, or to do other deeds. It is with Waheguru's Huqam that a man makes his heart Waheguru's residence, and merges with Him (or not). 5. The ignorant do not understand Waheguru's Will, and the unrefined wander around, misguided. They perform deeds guided by their mind and suffer all the time without any success (spiritual gain). They do not develop any affection for Waheguru, and as a result, find no peace of mind. 6.

In the love for Guru, His devotees have pretty faces (internal peace because of high moral values). With true devotion, they are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and are honoured in Waheguru's Court as the bearers of Truth. Their deeds are approved by Waheguru, and along with them, their clan (other devotees in their company) is also salvaged. 7.

Everybody performs deeds under Waheguru's supervision, and nobody can escape His supervision. A person acquires the character as it is moulded under Waheguru's supervision. Waheguru's Naam earns respect, which one can acquire only by the benevolence of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.3.20

MEANING: It is a rare individual who realizes that the true service to the Guru is worshipping Him (obeying His Teachings). So (to earn Waheguru's approval), act like a slave of His slaves (serve the devotees of the Guru), oh my brother. Pause.
The follower of his mind does not realize that Waheguru's Naam can be worshipped only in the shelter of the Guru. The faces of the devotees of the Guru are always shiny (honourable with the confidence of noble qualities) because they have made their heart a residence for Waheguru. With the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, a devotee remains connected to Waheguru and enjoys all comforts. 1. If a human bride leads her life as per the Will of the Guru, she always enjoys the company of the Waheguru-husband and stays married (connected with Him) all the time. Waheguru-husband is eternal, and He never dies or leaves. Once connected with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad, the devotee never experiences separation from Him and clings to His heart (his soul merges into the Supreme Soul). 2. Waheguru is pure and cannot be realized without the Guru. Ritualistic recitation of mantras does not enlighten anyone; they wander, misguided, wearing symbols of different faiths. All those who take Guru's advice (act on it), realize Waheguru, and their tongue is always imbued in the taste (love) of His Naam. 3. Acting on Guru's advice, they routinely overcome the attractions of Maya without any special effort. Without Guru's Shabad, people are in pain (they suffer), and Maya swallows the followers of their mind (it kills their spirituality, robbing them of good qualities). We can recite Waheguru's Naam and become "one" with Waheguru only through the Guru's Shabad. 4. Even the Sidhs (yogis who meditate to acquire supernatural powers) are misguided by Maya, and cannot concentrate on any power with dedication. Maya is affecting people in all three worlds (earth, the underworld and the sky) in a big way. One cannot overcome the fickleness of the mind and get freedom from the bonds of Maya without the Guru. 5. What is called Maya, and what kinds of deeds does one perform under the influence of Maya? (Under the influence of Maya), A man commits deeds of selfishness and ego, including the acquisition of comforts and freedom from discomforts. But man's misgivings are not cleared without the shelter of the Guru, and he is not able to overcome his selfishness and ego. 6.
Also, one cannot worship Waheguru without love for Him, and his efforts are not recognized without the Guru's Shabad. Man's haumein can be eradicated by Guru's Shabad, and his doubts about the futility of Maya are cleared. By taking Guru's shelter, one attains the spiritual state where one feels no effects of Maya and acquires invaluable Naam. 7.
Without the Guru, one does not recognize the noble qualities without which one cannot worship God. With the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), Waheguru, which loves his worship (devotees), takes residence in the devotee's mind, and the latter becomes "one" with Him. Waheguru can be praised by Guru's Shabad - that too only by the benevolence of Guru, oh Nanak. 8. 4. 21

Word Meaning: Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misguided by internal conflicts. Kerm = deeds (tasks). Boojhay = understand; solve riddle. Birtha = uselessly. Chaanun = light. Kerm(i) = benevolence. 1. Sehj(i) = mental state above the effects of Maya. Pause.
Bherm(u) = worthless running around. Bhuou = fear. Chit(u) = mind. Mehl(i) = Waheguru's palace; Waheguru. Jum kaal(u) = agent of death (his fear). 2. Naama and Kabir = are two very well-known and respected Bhagats (devotees); Their holy compositions are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib. Chheemba = washerman (Namdev Ji). Jolaaha = weaver (Kabir Ji). Gut(i) = high spiritual level (enabling union with God). Braham = God. Baytay = knowledgeable. Puchhaaneh(i) = realize (get connected with). Shabad = Bani = holy composition in praise of God. Soor = gods. Nur = men. Maytaiy = erase; remove. 3. Daiynt Poot(u) = son of a demon (king Hernakush or Hernkushyup) = Prehlad. Prehlad was a devotee of God and recited His Naam constantly. On the other hand, his father, Hernakush, who had acquired some supernatural powers with the blessing of a god, wanted his subjects to worship him alone. So, he was gravely offended by his son's worship of God. He first tried to persuade Prehlad to desist from worshipping God, but when Prehlad refused to comply, the king tried to punish him in many different ways, even to kill him; but nothing worked, and Prehlad continued to recite God's Naam. Finally, Henakush tried to kill his son, himself. As he was about to attack Prehlad with a sword, a lion-headed god with a human body appeared, and tore Hernakush apart with his lion-like, sharp paws, and saved Prehlad.

Kerm Dherm Sunjum = prevalent rituals to please gods. Dooja Bhaaou = love for someone else (Maya). Bhaytiyaiy = connect with. Vukhaanaiy = utter; describe. 4.
Khut(u) = six. Dershun = philosophy; ascetics of six different faiths (Yogi, Sanyasi, Jungum, Budhist, Bairagi, and Jains). 5. Vaad(u) = destructive debates. Lukh Chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu faith). Phayr(u) puyya = go through (those life forms). Chaytaiy = remember. 6. Soobhayay = noble intentions. Urpeen = offer. Aap(u) = self. Vitoun = from. 7. Binday = recognizes. Saytee = with. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. Nicket (i) = close. Ghut = hearts. Virlaiy = some rare. 8.
MEANING: If you want to enjoy comfort, recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Praise the Perfect Guru, and you will realize Waheguru in the higher spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause. One needs to realize that Waheguru Himself has created attraction for Maya in the mind of humans, thereby misguiding them (from the path of righteousness) by creating doubts. The follower of his mind does not realize it and performs deeds (under the influence of Maya) and wastes away his precious human life. Gurbani is the real light (to guide the world) in this darkness (of ignorance) in the world, and takes residence in one's heart (enlightens his mind) by the grace of the Guru. 1. When one connects with God's Feet (His Naam), all his doubts are cleared, and he becomes fearless (of death and of any other suffering). When a devotee acts on the Guru's advice, Waheguru takes residence in his mind, and the devotee becomes "one" with Him, and his mind finds peace; no fear of death comes near him. 2. (God loves his devotees no matter what social status they have in society). Remember well-known Bhagats Naam Dev Ji, and Kabir Ji - Naam Dev Ji was a washerman, while Kabir Ji was a weaver (both were from low classes in the Indian system of castes) – but both achieved the spiritual state above the effects of Maya by taking shelter of the Guru. They acquired Divine Knowledge (got connected with Waheguru) through the Guru's Shabad, and destroyed (overcame) their haumein. Now, humans and even gods sing their Bani, and nobody can erase this honour of theirs. 3. Prehlad, the son of the demon king Hernaksh, did not know any prevailing religious rituals or practices, or even ways to control sensual desires, but did not have love for anyone else (Maya). But when he got connected to the Guru, his mind became pure, and he recited Waheguru's Naam day and night. He recited only One (Naam), and realized the only One (God), and acknowledged nobody other than God. 4. With the guidance of the Guru, all six main faiths of ascetics, the Yogis, and the Sanyasis (who leave their homes in search of God), are misled in their pursuit of God. Like anyone else, they can achieve a higher spiritual level by serving the Guru (acting on His Advice), thereby making their heart a place for Waheguru to reside. Thus, they imbibe the True Bani of the Guru and are able to break the cycle of rebirth. 5. Without the guidance of the Guru, the pundits study the Vedas with a view to taking part in religious debates. This approach does not result in any enhancement of their spirituality; rather, they suffer from their haumein and go through the cycle of 8.4 million life forms. They cannot break the bonds of Maya (and thus cannot get out of the rebirth cycle) without the Guru's Shabad. With Guru's kindness, when they get connected with Waheguru, they keep Him in mind all the time and attain a high spiritual state. 6.
With love for the Guru, when one gets connected with Him in the company of the devotees, Waheguru's Naam takes root in his heart. I will lead my life according to the Guru's advice, and will offer my body and mind to the Guru. I am a sacrifice to my Guru who connects my mind with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 7. Only he deserves to be called a Brahman who gets connected with Braham (God), and is imbued in His Naam. Waheguru is close by and resides in everybody's heart, but a rare person realizes Him. One is honoured if he bears Waheguru Naam in his heart by acting on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8. 5. 22

Word Meaning: Sehjaiy = mental state above the effects of Maya. Loachdi = longs for. Jotki = fortune tellers. Bhaykheen = symbols of different sects. Bherm = doubts. Bhaytay = meeting with. Rujaayay = Will. 1. Tay = from. Oopjaiy = is produced; takes birth. Pause. Thaayaiyn puvaiy = finds the right place; is recognized. Kuthni = saying (about spirituality). Baad(i) = fruitless. Bairaag(i) = no attraction for Maya. Shaant(i) = peace (of mind). 2. Smaadh(i) = meditate with full concentration. Oochraiy = utters. Liv = concentration. Rusna = tongue (which tastes). 3. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Vidaariya = killed. Shernaayee = shelter. Kaar Kmaayay = work towards the objective (union with God). Vudbhaagi = fortunate. 4. Doojay Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Chookyee = ends. 5. Trihou Goon = three effects of Maya (see Ashtpudi 3, stanza 3, Mehla 3). Moondhoun = right from the beginning. Ghootha = missed opportunity. Chautha Pud = the fourth level above the three effects of Maya. It is also called the level of freedom from Maya. Pullaiy Paayay = receives. 6.

Nirgoon = formless; above the three effects of Maya (Waheguru). Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Sojhi = enlightenment. Goonvunteen = possessing noble qualities. Milaava = union. 7. Goobaar(u) = darkness; ignorance. Appar(i) = of limitless; incomprehensible. Bukhsh(i) = through kindness. 8. Adisht(u) = invisible. Nirbhou = fearless (having no rival). Nirunkaar(u) = formless. Daata = provider. Milaavunhaar(u) = connector. Na Paaravaar(u) = limitsless. 9. Vapaar(u) = trade. Undin(u) = day and night. Laaha = earnings, benefit. Akhoot = inexhaustible. Bhundaar = treasures. Tot(i) = shortage. 10.
MEANING: Without the shelter of the Guru, one cannot attain the high spiritual level (Sehj) where Maya becomes ineffective, oh my friends. Guru's Shabad enables one to attain the Sehj stage and have union with Waheguru. Pause.
Everybody longs to attain the Sehj stage, but it is not achievable without taking shelter of the Guru. The Pundits and the fortune tellers exhaust themselves reading their holy books (without any success). Likewise, the ascetics of different faiths are misguided with belief in the symbols of their faiths (as they believe that just wearing the symbols makes them holy). When Waheguru is kind to someone, He connects the individual with the Guru on His own Will, whereby the individual can attain the Sehj state by acting on the advice of the Guru. 1. Singing His praise is recognized by Waheguru only if it is done in the Sehj state; otherwise, the simple uttering of words of praise is worthless (as it is only ritualistic). The real worship of Waheguru arises from the Sehj state when an individual becomes indifferent to Maya and fosters love for God. Also, one attains comfort and peace only in the Sehj state, and without it, life goes to waste. 2. One can meditate with full devotion to Waheguru in the Sehj state and sing His praise. Waheguru's noble qualities are sung (to be approved by Him) in the Sehj state only, and full concentration (on His Naam) is also attained only in the Sehj state. (In the Sehj state) man's tongue relishes the taste of Waheguru's Naam, and Waheguru takes residence in the devotee's heart. 3.
One attains the Sehj state by taking shelter of the Guru, and his fear of death (or of rebirth) is dispelled in that state. One performs noble deeds (as per the Guru's guidance) in the Sehj state, as Waheguru makes one's heart His residence. They are fortunate who realize Waheguru in the Sehj state, as they remain merged with Him. 4.
The Sehj state cannot be attained as long as one is attached to Maya, because attachment with Maya is contrary to the Guru's Teachings, and takes one farther away from Waheguru. The deeds of a Maya-gripped man revolve around his haumein, as a result of which, he suffers in its fire; his rebirth cycle never ends, and he takes births again, and again. 5.
As long as a man is under the influence of the three effects of Maya (Tumo, Rujo, and Suto), he cannot attain the Sehj state, because the three effects misguide the man, and he is unsure about the right path (for union with God). What can a man read, ponder on, or describe anything (about Waheguru), when he has missed the opportunity right from the beginning (to serve Waheguru)? As far as the Sehj state (also called the fourth level of spirituality) is concerned, one attains it by rising above the three effects of Maya, in the shelter of the Guru. 6. When one realizes that the Naam of the formless Waheguru is the source of all comforts, (he works hard to connect with Him), and rises above the three effects of Maya to attain the Sehj state. The bearers of noble qualities (true devotees) praise the eternal Waheguru, and earn eternal praise for themselves as they become "one" with Him. When the misguided lucky individuals connect with the Guru's Shabad, they attain the Sehj state and become "one" with Waheguru. 7. Without attaining the Sehj state, there is ignorance all around because Maya creates a wall of complete darkness (between the man and God). By following on Guru's Shabad, one attains the Sehj state, and understands (connects with) the incomprehensible Waheguru. The Creator Waheguru's kindness connects the individual with Him through the Perfect Guru. 8.

The invisible light of the fearless and formless Waheguru is realized in the Sehj state. There is only one Provider for everybody who connects individuals (who are a part of His Light) with Himself (the source of all Light). The incomprehensible Waheguru can be praised by the Shabad of the Perfect Guru. 9. The true wealth of a devotee is Waheguru's Naam, and he deals in it in the Sehj state. He earns the benefit (wealth) to recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, of which Waheguru has inexhaustible treasures. There is no shortage of Waheguru's Naam, of which the Provider has His treasures full, oh Nanak. 10.6. 23.

Aapay kuray kraayay Aapay, ikna sootiyaan dayay jugaayay. Aapay mayl(i) milaayaynda, Nanak Shabad(i) smaayay. 8. 7. 24.

Word Meaning: Fayr(u) = return; rebirth. Pooraiy = perfect. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Smaayay= merged; connected. 1. Siyoun = with. Nuvtuno = new; refreshing. Pause. Shernaayee = (in) shelter. Jeevut (u) merna = kill mind (control) from the attractions of Maya. Bhuvjul(u) = the sea of Maya. 2. Vuddaiy Bhaag(i) = with good luck. Soohayee = pretty (life); to Waheguru's liking. Sehjay = in the Sehj state (where Maya has no effect). 3. Ikna = some. Bhaavaiy = like. Bundhun(i) = (in) bonds; restrictions; societal obligations. Bundh(i) = tied. Bhuvaaya = recycled; reincarnated. Lukh cahuraasee = 8.4 million life forms, according to Hindu belief. Birtha = fruitless. 4. Anund(u) = bliss. Rung(i) = (in) love. Raatay = imbued. Undin(u) day and night. 5. Atum Ram(u) = God. Aiko = One and only (Waheguru). Sayvun = serve; worship. Araadheh(i) = worship; recite (Naam). Akuth = indescribable. 6.

MEANING: Attach (connect) yourself to the Satguru, oh my mind. (With Satguru's grace), Waheguru's pure Naam will take residence in your heart. Pause.

By connecting with Satguru, one does not take rebirths, and one's suffering due to the birth-death cycle is terminated. One's mind is fully enlightened by the Perfect Shabad of the Guru, and he stays connected with Waheguru's Naam. 1.

I pray to God that He keep me in His shelter, and I obey His Will to spend my life happily (as per His Will). The followers of the Guru are able to kill their mind (control it) as far as attractions of Maya are concerned, and swim across the sea of Maya. 2.

Highly fortunate people acquire Waheguru's Naam by following the Guru's advice, which makes their life highly blissful. The Creator Himself takes residence in their heart, and they remain connected to Him in a higher spiritual state (above Maya). 3.

There are some who follow their mind and do not like the Guru's Shabad. Such people are prisoners of Maya, and they are taken through the birth-death-birth cycle. They waste away their precious human life and go through 8.4 million life forms. 4.

Being imbued in Perfect Guru's Shabad, the devotees feel blissful. They sing praise of the pure Waheguru day and night, and stay connected with Him in the higher spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 5. They sing the Amrit (life-sustaining) Shabad of the Guru in His shelter, thereby acquiring Divine knowledge. In Guru's shelter, they remember and worship the one and only Waheguru, whose qualities are indescribable. 6.

When one remembers the True Lord in the shelter of the Guru, He (Waheguru) takes residence in his heart. He is always imbued in His Naam, and the Kind God absorbs him into Himself. 7. Waheguru does everything by Himself, and also makes people do whatever He wishes (them to do). He awakens the sleeping people (enlightens the ignorant), and connects them with Him by imbuing them in Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.7.24.

Word Meaning: Sayviyaiyn = by serving (obeying). Bhuyay = became. Pvit(u) = holy; pure. Aanund = blissful. Bhaytiya = met with. Gehr = very deep. Gambheer = never changing; unemotional. Dheer = support; peace. 1. Nisung(u) = openly; without hesitation. Ptung(u) = a very small amount. Pause. Put(i) = honour. Puchhaaniya = recognized; made a connection. Bulihaaraiy = sacrifice self. Tthaur = Thaoun = shelter; peace. Kut-houn = somewhere. 2. Vaas(u) = Nivaas(u) = residence. Aatum Ram(u) = Waheguru; God. Nij = own. 3. Saakhi = Oopdaysh(u) = advice; teaching. Soyay = fame; praise. Visaariya = dropped from mind; ignored. Chulay = leave the world. 4. Kook = cry loudly; calling. Pookaar = begging; praying; implore. Birtha = fruitless. 5. Dirraaya = reinforced. Sunjum = control over sensual pleasures. Bohitha = ship. Bhuvjul(u) = world-sea; sea of Maya (between man and God). 6. Lukh-chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms as per the Hindu belief. Mookt(i) = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Moani = sages who stay silent for long periods of time. Doojaiy bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Uver(u) = other; else. 7.

Sachaiy = eternal (Waheguru). Kaar = business; work. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Sachaiy Mehl(i) = in Waheguru's Palace. Ruchun(i) = get absorbed. 8.17.8. 25.

MEANING: Serving (obeying) the Satguru, one's mind is purified, his body becomes pious (the body does not perform ignoble deeds), and one gets connected with the unfathomable, and never-changing Waheguru, as a result of which, one is always blissful. Such an individual stays in the company of true devotees, and his mind is peaceful because he bears the eternal Naam in his heart. 1. Serve Satguru publicly (without the fear of being labelled as weak by the ritualists), oh my mind. Serving Satguru results in Waheguru taking residence in one's heart, and the mind does not get even a slight amount of filth. Pause.

Following on the Guru's eternal Shabad, one is honoured in both worlds and acquires the pure Naam of the Pure Waheguru. I am a sacrifice to those who get connected with Waheguru by overcoming their haumein. The followers of their mind do not recognize the Truth (God), and find no peace or support anywhere. 2.

The eating, wearing, and living of the devotees is all about remembering Waheguru (they stay connected with God even when they are doing their routine business). They always praise the eternal Waheguru and keep the eternal Shabad in mind. Acting on the advice of the Guru, they have control over their mind and realize Waheguru (stay connected with Him). 3.
With their bodies and minds pure, whatever they see or talk about is about Waheguru. They become “one” with Waheguru, and receive only True advice, and preach Waheguru’s Naam only; and they earn true (eternal) fame. Those who forget Waheguru leave this world unhappy and repentant. 4. What for those who come into this world, who do not serve Satguru (they waste away their life)? Shackled, they are punished by the Angel of Death, and there is nobody to hear their cries or prayers. They waste their precious human life, and keep taking birth again and again. 5. Watching the suffering of this world, I got concerned and ran to take shelter of Satguru. Satguru reinforces Waheguru’s Naam and preaches living by high moral standards with control over sensual desires. Satguru is the ship (treasure) of Waheguru’s Naam, and one swims across the sea of Maya by following His Shabad. 6.
Man may go through the 8.4 million life forms, but cannot find salvation without Satguru. The pundits and the moanies (sages who stay quiet for long times) exhaust themselves by reading books, but cannot free themselves from the bonds of Maya, and thus lose respect in the next world. Satguru reveals the Truth that no one other than God can free man from Maya. 7.
But only those who follow the path of righteousness are guided by Waheguru Himself, and they lead their life as guided by the Guru. They find Waheguru in their own mind, and live in Waheguru’s Palace (become “one” with Him). The devotees are always absorbed (imbued) in the True Naam, and are always blissful, oh Nanak. 8.17.8.25.

Word Meaning: Ut(i) Mooshkul(u)= extremely difficult situation (trouble). Dhoyee = shelter; support. Laagoo = on the attack. Saak = relatives. Chookaiy = ended. Parbraham = God; Waheguru. Tutti Vaao = hot air (India, being a hot country, experiences a very hot climate that becomes unbearable in the summer months, especially at the time of Guru Sahiban, when no fans or air-conditioning were available). So, hot air was synonymous with big discomfort and has been used as a metaphor for troubles. 1. Taan = force; power. Nitaaniyaan = powerless; downtrodden. Thir(u) = uniform; never changing. Pause. Doobla = weak. Peer = Peerr = pain; discomfort. Dumrra = a very small unit of money. Pullaiy = in possession. Dheer = comfort; support. Sooaaruth(u) = Sooaao = needs. Kaaj(u) = task. Nihchul(u) = stable; everlasting. Raj = rule. 2. Viyapaiy = happens; attacks. Grist(i) = Kootumb(i) = in family (affairs). Hurkh(u) = happiness. Soag(u) = grief. Gaoun = travel. Koont = directions. Seetal(u) = calm; peaceful. 3.
Kirpun = money-minded. Chaaray Kilvikh (Ugh) = all the four recognized sins (killing of a Brahman, and a cow; killing or selling a daughter; and donations from an immoral person). Asoor = demon. Sunghaar(u) = deserving death. Pothi = religious book. Kvit = (religious) poem. Na Kurn(i) dhuriya = turned no ear; paid no attention. Nimkh = a moment. Turiya = swam across (the sea of Maya); salvaged. 4.

Shast, Simrit(i), Bayd (Vedas) = Hindu religious books. Mookhaagur = from memory. Bichray = explains. Tupay = Tupeesur = self=torturers. Teeruth Guvun(u) = pilgrimage. Khut(u) Kerma = six accepted deeds (for Brahmans: receive and deliver education; perform yugna for self and for others; give and receive donations. For other Hindus: bathing; recitation of some mantras; peforming huvans; idol worship; pilgrimage; and meditation). Rung = love. Surpur = for sure. 5.
Milk = Milkh = estate. Sikdariyaan = leadership. Bisthaar = expansion. Afaar = (of the) conceited. Bidhi = of different kinds. Chaayay = gusto; zest. 6.
Dhunaadh(i) = rich. Achaarvunt(u) = disciplined; strict follower of expected norms. Lushkur = soldiers. Turkush = quiver (for arrows). Bund = Bundna = to bow before.
Khurr(i) = take to. Rusatul(i) = underworld (hell). Deet(i) = is sent; thrown. 7.
Kaayan = bodily. Chhider = shortcoming; weakness; bad habit. Kaarra = suffering. Soag(u) = grief. Mirt(u) = death. Ehinis = day and night. Bhoagaiy Bhoag(u) = enjoys luxuries. Shunk = doubt. Jum Kunkur = deputies of the angel of death. 8.
Rung(u) = love; affection. Khusm(u) = Lord; Master. Uver(u) = other. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. 9.
MEANING: The Lord is the power behind the powerless (downtrodden), oh my friend. (Not only that), He is eternal, and never comes or goes (dies or leaves); one can realize Him by the Guru's Shabad. Pause. If someone is in big trouble, and has no shelter or support, his enemies are on the attack, all his relatives have left him, and all the doors of support are shut on him; he does not suffer even a slight trouble if he remembers Waheguru with full faith. 1. If someone is weak, is suffering the pain of poverty and hunger; has no money, and there is nobody to solace him; nobody helps him in his needs, and he is unable to achieve anything; he will attain (a spiritual state where he feels that he has) an eternal reign if he thinks of Waheguru (prays to Him) with full faith. 2 If someone is suffering from some bodily disease, and is overwhelmed by several worries; and he is so engrossed in the family affairs, and experiences some happiness and some grief; and runs around in all the four directions to meet his needs, and cannot rest even for a moment; he will find bodily and mental peace if he thinks of God (prays to Him) with full faith. 3. If someone is fully controlled by lust, rage, worldly attachments, greed, and love for money; and the demon has committed all the four big sins for which he deserves death; and he has never paid any attention to the praise of Waheguru in the form of a religious book, a song, or a poem; he can be salvaged in a moment if he remembers Waheguru (prays to Him) even for moment with full faith. 4. (On the other hand) If someone is able to read the Shastra, the Simritis, and the four Vedas from memory, and undertakes pilgrimage like the well-known yogis, tortures himself, or performs twice as many as the six recognized rituals, takes early morning baths, and performs idol worship, he is bound to go to hell if he has no love for Waheguru. 5. If someone owns huge tracts of land, is a popular leader, or even a ruler, has a huge expanse of enjoyable luxuries, has beautiful orchards, and the conceited can issue big orders, can afford too many different and colourful activities which he enjoys zestfully, he will be incarnated in a snakelike form if he does not remember God. 6.
If someone is very rich, leads a disciplined life as per societal norms, and enjoys fame because of his clean behaviour; and his mother, father, sons, brothers and friends all love him; and if a number of soldiers with quivers loaded with arrows bow to him, and obey his orders; he is still thrown in hell if he does not remember God. 7.
If someone does not suffer from some bodily disease, has no shortcoming, or no suffering due to some grief, has never thought about death, and enjoys luxuries of life day and night; has control on everything, and never doubted his ownership of all his properties; becomes a prisoner of the deputies of the Angel of death if he has not remembered God. 8.

If Waheguru is kind to someone, he gets connected with the Guru, and the more he stays in touch, the more he is imbued in Waheguru's love. Waheguru is the Lord of both the worlds (present and the next after death), and there is no place beyond His control. I have realized such Waheguru's Naam by the benevolence of Satguru, oh Nanak. 9.1.26

Word Meaning: Bhaavaiy = likes. Baata = wording; deeds. Khoj(i)= search. Pause. Dhiyani = meditator. Kmaveh(i) = earns; works toward. Kin = some rare person. 1. Bhugaouti = devotee. Joogta = (in) discipline. Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya. Tupsee = self- torturer. Raata = imbued. 2. Moani = an ascetic who stays silent for a long time. Sanyasi = an ascetic who renounces the world. Brahmchaari = celibate. Oodaasi = turned away from Maya. 3.

Worship of Nuvaiy Parkaara = Hindu books have listed nine forms of worship as follows:

1. Listen to the praise of one's deity. 2. Singing praise. 3. Remembering the deity. 4. Wash the feet. 5. Offering flowers etc. 6. Kneeling before. 7. Friendly behaviour. 8. Personal tending. 9. Offer self. Gristi = family man.

Vayd(u) = Vedas. Pookaara = reads aloud. Gristi = family man. Dhermaata = discharges his responsibilities. 4. Ikk-sahabadi = ascetics who utter only one word at the doors to collect food. Buhouroop = who changes appearances frequently. Uvdhoota = naked sadhus. Kaaprri = one who covers his entire body with clothes. Kautay = poets; entertainer. Jagoota = who does not sleep. 5. Nirhaar = who does not eat. Verti = those who take vows not to do certain things. Aapursha = who don't touch others. Look(i) = keep hiding. Giyaata = knowledgeable. 6. Ookut(i) = logic. Oopaava = arrangements; use different techniques. Praata = fallen (on feet). 8.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Arjun Dev Ji explains the different approaches people follow to connect with God. Everybody believes that their approach is successful (pleases Waheguru). But, worshipping Waheguru by taking Guru's shelter is the only way to please or connect with Him.

MEANING: I don't know which religious path (approach) pleases (is approved by) Waheguru for connecting with Him. So, search for the right approach, oh my mind. Pause.
The meditators believe in meditation alone; the (divine) knowledge seekers believe in acquiring knowledge, but no one has realized Waheguru (or made a connection with Him) using such approaches. 1. The devotees of god Vishnu worship as per their belief - a special anointment on the forehead, wearing a necklace of basil, and pilgrimage, etc. The Yogis believe that their path leads to freedom from Maya, and the people who torture themselves believe that their approach is right. 2. The ascetics who stay quiet for long periods of time practise their belief; the Sanyasi and the celibates believe in their respective approaches, and the people who believe in turning their minds away from Maya, follow their own path. 3. Some believe in the nine types of worship; the pundits read the Vedas aloud to the people, and the family man is busy with his family obligations. 4. There are some who go from door to door to collect food, and utter only one word (Aulukh, Nirunjun, etc.) to draw the attention of the families. Some believe in wearing no clothes at all, while some others keep changing their appearances. On the other hand, some believe in covering their whole body with clothes; some people are poets, and some entertain people with different acts, and there are some who believe in having no sleep. There are still others who believe in pilgrimage. 5. Some eat no food, some live by certain self-imposed restrictions, while others do not let people touch them. Some stay in hiding and remain invisible, while others consider themselves highly knowledgeable. 6. Nobody believes that his path is less effective than others, and everybody claims that they have realized God, but only he is the real devotee whom Waheguru Himself connects with Him. 7. I have relinquished all these logics and approaches and have fallen at the Guru's feet (taken His shelter) to be connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak(u). 8.2.27.

Word Meaning: Bhogi = family man. Soorg(u) = paradise = sky. Muchh(u) = this World. Puyaal = under world. 1. Vaari = Koorbaan = offer to sacrifice. Pause. Siray Sir(i) = everybody (given responsibility as He deems fit). Dhundhay = worldly business. Paasa Dhaal(i) = throw dice.

[NOTE]: Humans in the world are like pawns in a game of dice. They are struggling to reach the destination by swimming across the sea of Maya. Most of them drown in the sea, while a few swim across successfully. 2. Pergut = visible. shop; in the world. Jaapda = seems. Pertaapda = longs for. Mohi = enchanted. 3. Bul(i) = sacrifice life. Perm Gut(i) = highest spiritual state. Soor(i) = gods. Nur = men; humans. Moon(i) = ascetics who keep quiet for long periods of time. Loachday = long for. Boojhayay = explained. 4. Satsungat = congregation. Vukhaniyaiy = explained; pondered on. 5. Bherm(i) = doubts; non-clarity of the real objective. Bhoolaaya = Khooaaya = misguided. Pertaap(u) = suffering. Dohaagni = condemned by husband. 6. Ghoothiyaan = missed opportunity; separated. Nimaniyaan = without respect. Maiylaiy Vays = dirty dresses; unattractive. Kaamni = women. Raiyn(i) = night; life. Vihayay = is spent. 7. Sohaagni = loved by husband (Waheguru). Kerm Kmaaya = deeds performed. Poorub(i) = pre-destined. Ful(u) = consequence. Nudr(i) = kind sight. 8. Munaaya = made to obey. Vusayaa = fostered. Suheeyaan = female (friends). 9. Bhaanay = Will (of Waheguru). Rus(u) = (enjoy) the taste. Chookaaya = cleared. Jaaniyaiy = recognize; consider. 10. Uhunkern = ego; conceit. Doormut(i) = bad advice. Mustuk(i) = (on) forehead. 11. Baaniya = (Guru's) Shabad. Ridaiy = (in) heart. Smaaniya = take residence. Nistaar(i) = salvation. 12. Subh = the whole world. Thukki = exhausted. Kerm Kmaayay = perform rituals. 13 Houn = I; me. Vitoun = from. Ghoomaayaa = sacrifice. Bherm(i) Bhoolla = lost in doubts (of rituals). Maarg(i) Paaya = set on the right (spiritual) path. 14. Smaaya = mixed; part of. Tin(i) = that. Kertaiy = Creator. Aap(u) = self. Lookaaya = hide. Pergut(i) = visible. Jot(i) = light; enlighten. Kartaar(i) = God. 15. Nivaajiya = honoured. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Paiyj = dignity. Kur = hands. 16. Sunjum = efforts (to control sensual pleasures). Pertaap(u) = magnanimity. Vertaayo = spread. Jaikaar(u) = praise them. 17. Goon = virtues. Uvgoon = vices. Bird(u) = Eternal nature of forgiving and showing kindness. Kuntth(i) = neck; embrace. Tutti Vaao= slight discomfort. 18. Ichhirriyaa = as wished. Ful(i) = result; reward. Khusm(u) = Lord. 19. Oopaaya = created. Dooja Khayl(u) = game of Maya. Sacho Sach = Waheguru alone. Vertda = doing (His business). 20 Gur Persadi = by the benevolence of the Guru. Smaayay = absorb. 21. Gopi = cow-girls. Naiyn = river (Yamuna). Goaaliya = herdsman (Sri Krishna). Goyay = earth (Goverdhan Mountain). Bhaanday = utensils (human bodies). 22.

NOTE: Guru Sahiban have used many stories from Hindu books to emphasize the greatness of Waheguru. Sri Krishna used to graze a herd of cows on the bank of the Yamuna with cowgirls as his companions. It is said that once it rained so heavily in the area that everything was flooded, but the rain would not come to stop. Krishna lifted the nearby mountain (Govardhan) on his little finger to use that as umbrella to protect the people from rain.

Dooja Bhaao = love for the other (Maya). Chookaaya = cleared; ended; gotten rid of. Nirmul = clean; pure. Jot(i) = light; soul. Chullay = leave (the world). 23. Chungiyayiyaan = kindnesses. Vudiyayiyaan = (sing) praise. Unmungiyaa = without asking. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Small(i) = take care of (remember). 24.1.
MEANING: (Being omnipresent) You are a Yogi among the yogis, and a family man among the family men, oh Waheguru. Nobody has ever found Your limits in the sky, on the earth, and in the underworld. 1. I wish to sacrifice myself for Your Naam (magnanimity). Pause. You created the whole world and gave everyone responsibility (putting everyone in worldly affairs) according to their suitability. Now, You are watching your creation, in which humans are acting like pawns in a game of dice. 2. You are visible in the world through Nature, and everybody longs for Your Naam. However, the whole world is enchanted by the gimmicks of Maya, and no one can acquire Waheguru's Naam without the Guru's benevolence. 3. One should offer one's life to the Guru with whom one connects and attains a high spiritual level. Satguru enlightens the individuals to realize Waheguru, whom the gods, men, and the Moanies long for. 4. (If someone asks) What a holy congregation should be like, (then Guru Sahib's response is): it is a gathering where only Waheguru's Naam is explained and discussed. Satguru has declared that only Waheguru's Naam is the command (of Waheguru) to be followed (for union with Him). 5.
This world has been misled in doubts (caught between Maya and Waheguru), and Waheguru Himself has misguided it. The unfortunate human-wives (souls) who have no good fortune inscribed on their foreheads and have been discarded by the Husband (Waheguru) suffer gravely. 6. How can a dohaagun(i) be recognized? They are disconnected from their Waheguru- Husband, and spend their lives in disrespect. Their dresses (bodies) are dirty (they are unattractive because of their ignoble deeds), and the night of their life is spent in suffering. 7. Q: What kind of deeds do the individuals perform to be a sohaagun(i) (to enjoy the love of the husband)? A: They reap the rewards of their virtuous deeds of previous lives, as a result of which, Waheguru Himself connects them with Him by casting His kind sight on them, and they are loved by Him. 8.
Waheguru fosters His Naam in the hearts of the human wives whom He makes to obey His Will. Those friends (devotees) who win Waheguru's love are sohaaguns. 9.
Those who enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Will have their doubts cleared. The Satguru is the one who connects everybody with Waheguru. 10.
As a result of connecting with Satguru, the individual's ego disappears. Good fortune appears on his forehead, and his suffering from the ill-advice is destroyed. 11.
Guru's Shabad in Your praise is Amrit, and it takes dwelling in the heart of Your devotees, oh Waheguru. I feel great comfort when You keep me in Your service; You salvage people by Your kind sight, oh Lord. 12. An individual's connection with Satguru is meaningful only if he worships Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru. Nobody can realize Waheguru without the shelter of Satguru, no matter how many other rituals he performs, or even exhausts himself performing accepted deeds of kindness. 13.
I am a sacrifice to the Satguru who clears all our doubts and guides us on the right path (to union with Waheguru). Waheguru Himself connects some lucky individuals with Him if He casts His kind sight on them. 14. Even though the Creator, Waheguru, is present in everyone, He is invisible. He appears in the heart of only those fortunate individuals who come to Satguru's shelter and in whom Waheguru places His light. 15.

The Lord Himself creates humans, neatly giving them body and life, and Himself confers honour on His devotees. He protects their dignity (against Maya's attacks) and rescues them by placing His kind hands on their foreheads. 16.

NOTE: God is formless. “Placing both His hands” has been used by Guru Sahib for our understanding only.

All wisdom and all efforts to control sensual feelings become insignificant for the devotees because Waheguru knows their intentions and protects them. Waheguru spreads the fame of His devotees in the world, and everybody sings their praise. 17.

Waheguru did not consider my virtues or vices; He simply exercised His eternal nature of kindness. He took me in His embrace and did not let me suffer even a little. 18.

I worshipped Waheguru with my mind and body, and reaped the fruit of my wishes. God is the Lord of all kings and emperors; I survive only by reciting His Naam. 19.

God creates Himself, and Maya (to sustain living beings' interest in the world). It is Waheguru, which is operating everywhere, but only those few people of His choosing understand this fact, whom He enlightens. 20. Waheguru is realized only by Satguru’s benevolence; Satguru enlightens individuals so that they lose all interest in Maya. Waheguru then unites those individuals with Him by His kindness. 21. (People worship Sri Krishna, who used to graze cows by the banks of the River Yamuna, in the company of cowgirls, and who later lifted Mount Govardhan on his little finger to use that as an umbrella to protect the masses from incessant rain), but (being omnipresent), it was You, oh Lord, who did all that. The Lord Waheguru creates all bodies and destroys them, reshaping them for their spiritual improvement. 22. Those who fall in love with Satguru lose all interest in Maya. Their souls become pure, and they leave this world clean. 23.

You are always very kind and forgiving, oh Waheguru. I sing Your praise day and night for Your noble qualities. Waheguru fulfils all your needs even without you asking for them, so man must remember Him at all times, oh Nanak. 24.

MEANING: I drop on the feet (of Satguru) to win His affection. Satguru connected me with the Primal Being (Waheguru), who has no equal. Pause. My Lord of the world is very sweet – sweeter than even my mother and father. Nobody - sister, brother or other relative (friend) - is like Him. 1. It is like the month of June-July (the sowing season) for me. So, (to sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam), I am ploughing the land of my heart with the tiller of high moral character. I am sowing the seed of His Naam with the hope that with His kindness, I will have a bumper crop (of His Naam). 2.

In the shelter of the Guru, I recognize only the "One" (Waheguru), and I will never think of any other power as my Guru. Waheguru has sent me (given me human life) for only one business (of His Naam); now I request Him to please finish this business successfully the way He pleases. 3. Satguru has conferred the robe of honour on me in His Court. Now, I am the ruler of my body-village and have made the five opposing demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and rage) my prisoners. I ask my devotee brothers to enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam –juice. 4. I have come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. Now the five demons are my farm assistants (they help me in growing the Naam-crop in my heart). None of them can raise their head (to harm the Naam-crop), and the village of my heart has been densely inhabited with noble qualities (virtues). 5. I am a sacrifice to You, oh my Lord, and recite Your Naam continuously. You have re-inhabited the ruins of my deserted heart-village (with virtues), oh Waheguru. I wish to lay down my life for You. 6.
I recite Your Naam with love and respect, and reap the fruit of my wishes (Your Naam). You have fulfilled all my wishes and satisfied the appetite of my mind, oh Waheguru. 7.
I have dropped all other worthless deeds and worship only the True Lord of the world. I have realized that the real treasure is Waheguru's Naam, and have firmly entrenched this fact in my mind. 8. I have fostered Guru's Shabad in my mind, and have acquired the best of all comforts. Satguru has shown me Waheguru by placing His kind hand on my forehead. 9. The Guru has founded a place (holy congregation) for the Sikhs to attain a high level of spirituality. He asks His Sikhs to look around to find other Gur Sikhs. He washes their feet, fans them to provide comfort from the heat, and bends down to touch their feet (to set an example of humbleness). 10.
Hearing such great things about the Guru, I, too, went to His shelter. Satguru reinforces
The importance of Waheguru's Naam, service to the masses, and purity of mind.
(Following the Guru's advice), The whole world has achieved freedom from the bonds of Maya, because the Guru enabled them to board the ship (of Waheguru's Naam) which carries them (across the sea of Maya) to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 11.
The entire world is serving You day and night; pay attention to their prayers, oh kind Waheguru. Everybody has examined thoroughly from every aspect, and found out that when You are pleased with someone, You cut him free from the bonds of Maya on Your own, oh Waheguru. 12. It is Your Law (that when people are cut loose from the bonds of Maya), no demon (of sensual feelings) troubles them, oh Waheguru. Such people have a life of blissfulness, and this is what you may call the kingdom of humbleness. 13. (In this state of spirituality) There is a drizzle of Amrit in their minds; they speak what they are told to (by the Lord), meaning they obey Waheguru's Command. They have full pride (faith) in Waheguru, which values their dedication and connects them with Him. 14.
Waheguru's devotees are always hungry for (desirous of) His sight. He fulfils all their wishes. Kindly grant me Your sight, and take me in Your embrace, oh, the source of all comforts! 15.
I have searched, and have not found anybody as magnanimous as You are, oh Waheguru! You are present in the islands (earth), in all fourteen worlds, and in the underworld. You are present everywhere, oh Lord! Waheguru is the support for all His devotees, oh Nanak! 16. I am a wrestler of the Lord of the world, and fight against my evil sensual pleasures. With the Guru's support, I am the winner (against the five demons). Everybody is a wrestler

In the world-rink, and the kind Waheguru Himself is watching them fight against the five demons. 17.

NOTE: Guru Sahib has used “Chhinjh or Wrestling Match” as a metaphor for the struggle humans are facing against the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment and ego).

(Like music is played in traditional matches where scores of wrestlers take part), different types of musical instruments of sensual pleasures - like the ones that are played with the mouth, small and big drums, etc. – are being played in the human mind. The human-mind and the five demons have entered the wrestling ring for the match, and each is displaying its confidence. Devotees of Waheguru are able to disarm the five demons, and the Guru pats their backs in admiration! 18.

Everybody is fighting this battle in the world (some will win and some will lose), and following different paths, they will leave this world to go to the next world to face the consequences! The Gurmukhs will leave this world with profit (higher spiritual levels) while the followers of their mind will leave with the loss of even their capitals (the virtues they were born with, if they had any). 19.

You are without any colour or facial features, yet you are still visibly present (in nature), oh Waheguru! Hearing about Your wonderful qualities, Your devotees worship You, and are imbued in You Naam, oh the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru. 20.

I have been in the service of the kind Lord through the eons (there have been devotees of God in all the eons). The Guru has cut my bonds of Maya; I got this opportunity (human life) to serve Waheguru, and as a result, I won’t have to struggle against the demons any more (I won’t be born again), oh Nanak. 21.2.29.

NOTE: (1) As per Guru Granth Sahib, human life is an opportunity given to man to unite with Waheguru, but the enchantment of Maya is a big hurdle in the path to uniting with God. Humans struggle to overcome the allure of Maya, but in most cases, they lose the battle to its deceit. Guru Sahib compares the role of man in the world to a trader who trades his merchandise for money; a man mostly trades his virtuous qualities for the gimmicks of Maya.
(2) Pehr is a unit of time and equals three hours. Man's life is compared to the night, which he spends in darkness (of ignorance). On average, one per hour is a quarter of a night (or a quarter of a life).
(3) It is a Hindu belief that the fetus does tup(u) (recites God's Naam) in the womb.

Word Meaning: Raiyn(i) = night (life). Vunjaara = trader. Gerbhaas(i) = (in the) womb. Oordh = upside down. Khusm = Lord. Saytee = for. Vukhaanaiy = says. Liv Laaga = fully focused (on God's Naam). Na Merjaad = uncustomary (naked). Kul(i) = (world of) of darkness (ignorance). Bahourr(i) = again. Kulm = pen. Voorri = moved (wrote). Mustuk(i) = forehead. Praani = man. 1.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being, which can be realized only by the benevolence of Satguru.
Humans, who are here in this world as traders in Waheguru's Naam, do not realize that the first quarter of their life starts in their mother's womb as per the Huqam (Law) of Waheguru. (As per the Hindu belief) They recite Waheguru's Naam (they are connected with Him) while they are hanging upside down in the womb, and pray to the Lord. Upside down, they are connected with God and pray to Him (to get them out of the unfavourable situation). They come naked in the world (without any wealth), and will leave naked again. The individual inherits the disposition according to what has been inscribed on his forehead by Waheguru's pen. The first quarter of one's life starts with conception in the mother's womb as per Waheguru's Laws, oh Nanak. 1.

(PAGE 75): ---------- Doojaiy pehraiy raiyn(i) kaiy vunjaariya mittra vissar(i) guyya dhiyaan(u). Hutho huth(i) nuchaayiyaiy vunjaariya mittra, jioun Jashoodha ghur(i) Kahn(u). Kuhou Nanak doojaiy pehraiy, vissar(i) guyya dhiyaan(u). 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Vissar(i) = lost (from mind). Dhiyaan(u) = focus. Nuchaayiyaiy = toss around. Jasoodha = the godmother of Krishna, who raised him in Gokul. Kahn(u) = Krishna. Praani = oh, man. Soot(u) = son. Chayt(i) = remember. Achayt = unaware. Moorr = foolish. Bheetar(i) = inside. Giyaan(u) = (Divine) Knowledge. 2.

MEANING: In the second quarter of life, the trader of Waheguru's Naam loses the focus on Waheguru's Naam, which he was having in his mother's womb. His focus shifts to the love and attention he receives when he is tossed affectionately from one of his relatives to another, just as (Sri) Krishna was being raised by his godmother, Yashoda, in her house. As the infant is quickly taken from one relative to another, the mother claims that he is her son (everyone makes the same claim as a sign of affection). Remember (Waheguru), oh, my ignorant and foolish mind, because (despite all the love you receive now), nobody will be there (to help you) when your end comes. The man does not make any connection with his Creator (Waheguru), which he must maintain. In the second quarter of life, man loses his focus on Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jobun = youthfulness; beauty. Chit(u) = mind. Chayt-hee = remember. Budha = shackled (in the chains of Maya). Jit(u) = with which. Bikul(u) = crazy; insane. Rutta = imbued. Mutta = intoxicated. Ehila = precious. Dherm saytee = of high moral values. Kerm = (noble) deeds. Mitt(u) = friend. 3.

MEANING: In the third quarter of his life, the trader in Waheguru's Naam gets attached to wealth and beauty. He does not recite Waheguru's Naam, which can cut him free from the bonds of Maya. The man does not recite Waheguru's Naam as he goes crazy after Maya. Imbued in, and under the intoxication of wealth and beauty, the man wastes away his precious human life (the opportunity to unite with God). He did not trade in the high moral values, and made no friendship with noble deeds (did not perform them). In the third quarter, the man is attached to wealth and beauty, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Laavi = harvester (Angel of death). Khayt(u) = field (human body). Jum = Angel of death. Chayt(u) = mind; knowledge; information. Roodan(u) = crying; wailing.

Khin = moment. Bhuyya = became. Praaya = stranger; disconnected. Hayt(u) = attachment. Looniya = harvested (finished off). 4.

MEANING: In the fourth quarter of life, the Angel of death appears (to be) close. When the Angel of Death takes control of the individual and takes him away, nobody knows the secret (where the soul of the individual is taken). Nobody gets any information about the secret place where the human trader is taken by the Angel of Death. The fake crying and wailing (which does not produce any results) takes place around the dead body, which becomes stranger in a moment. One reaps the results of his deeds, performed during his lifetime, to achieve what he loves. The Angel of Death harvests the field of the human body in the fourth quarter of life, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Baaluk = child. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Achayt(u) = unaware. Kheer(u) = milk. Soot = son. Nayhou = affection. Ghunayra = deep. Moh(u) = attachment. Subaayee = all; the whole world. Sunjogi = by destiny. Kirt(u) = the result of the deeds (done in the previous lives). Kerni Kaar = deeds. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Boodi = drowned. Doojaiy Hayt(i) = in the love of Maya. Chhootehinga = will get freedom from the bonds of Maya. 1.

MEANING: In the first quarter of life, the wisdom of a child is not developed yet, and he is unaware of the real objective of life. He is fed milk, and his parents play with him affectionately. The mother and father love their son deeply, as everyone loves Maya (including family). Man comes into this world as per his destiny based upon the deeds of his previous lives, and continues to perform similar deeds in this life as well. But he does not realize that emancipation is not possible without Waheguru's Naam, and the whole world is drowning in the sea of Maya. (Guru) Nanak advises that the man must remember Waheguru in the first quarter of his life to cut the bonds of Maya. 1.

Ghut = heart. Kus = sour. Sunjum(u) = control on sensual desires. Jhootthay = which is not true (everlasting; perishable. Vert = vows (to do or not to do certain things). Sooch(i) = purity (of mind). Dherm Kerm = deeds of high morality. Pooja = worship. Bhaayay = affection. Nistaara = salvation. Doobidha = doubts (caught between love for Maya and God). Viyaapaiy = influences. Dooja = Maya. 2.

MEANING: In the second quarter of life, the man is in the prime of his youth, and is in the inebriated state of mind under the influence of Maya. The trader in Waheguru's Naam is possessed by lust day and night, and the blind of wisdom does not remember God. Waheguru's Naam is not in his mind while he enjoys all other sweet and sour tastes. He makes no connection with Waheguru, and does not ponder on His Naam; he makes no effort to control his sensual desires, and as a result of all these, the perishable man is caught in the rebirth cycle. (Even though they are worthless), But, he does not even perform Hindu religious rituals like pilgrimage, commitments to do or not to do certain things, purity, control of sensual desires, idol worship or other religious deeds. However, the only way to find salvation is to remember Waheguru; otherwise, Maya exerts its powerful influence, and the man spends his life in misgivings. 2.

Word Meaning: Huns = swan (white hair). Ooluthrray = landed. Jobun(u) = youth. Jurooa = old age. Jinaiy = wins; takes over. Aav = span of life. Unt(i) Kaal(i) = at the end. Jum(i) = the Angel of death. Khin = in a moment. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Visurji = went away. Uvgun = evil deeds. Puchhtaayay= repents. Chaytou = remember. Liv Laayay = with full dedication.

MEANING: White hair grows on the head (the man becomes old) in the third quarter of life, oh the trader of Waheguru's Naam. Youth begins to recede, and old age takes over; and the life becomes shorter with every day gone by. At the end of life, the blind man repents (because he did not remember Waheguru) when the Angel of death controls him, and takes him away. He had thought that everything belonged to him, but all those become strangers to him in a moment. His wisdom leaves him, and all his shrewdness is lost (rendering him helpless in front of the Angel). He repents for the evil deeds he had done. (Guru) Nanak advises that the man should worship Waheguru with full dedication in the third quarter of his life. 3.

Word Meaning: Birdh(i) Bhuyya = becomes old. Kheen(u) = weak. Vaiyn = wails loudly. Ruhhay = left behind. Praakou Taana = force; energy. Khurr(u) = the dried stem of crops like wheat. Koorr(i) = crunch. Bhujaiy Binsaiy = broken and destroyed. Maan(u) = pride. Shabad(u) Puchhaan(u) = Recognize Guru's Shabad. 4.

MEANING: In the fourth quarter of life, man gets old, and his body becomes weak. He is almost blind and cannot see with his eyes, and cannot hear with his ears, so he cries loudly (for help). He is almost blind and cannot enjoy tastes with his tongue. He is left with no energy. How can he have comfort when he has no good quality (virtue) in him? The follower of his mind is caught in the birth-death-birth cycle. Like the stem of a wheat crop, which is ready for harvesting, and which is brittle and loses its crunch to be easily destroyed, the bones of an old man become brittle, which can break easily. So, what can he take pride in? One should recognize Guru's Shabad (make connection with Him) in the fourth quarter of life, oh man, advises (Guru) Nanak. 4.

Uvgun = bad qualities; vices. Khurrsun(i) = will take away. Bunnh(i) = tied up. Choat = punishment. Joh(i) = watch. Bhaiy = Bhuv = the world sea. Put(i) = dignity. Sehj(i) = highest spiritual state where Maya has no effect. Suglay = all. 5.

MEANING: The end of life (last moment) finally arrives in the form of powerful (and cruel) old age. The man did not acquire even a minuscule of virtuous qualities during his lifetime. Tied up, his evil qualities take him away (accompany him to the next world). If a man leaves this world with control over his sensual desires, he will not be punished and will never be reborn. The net of Maya, the fear of death, or the Angel of death cannot even come close to him. Having attained the highest spiritual level, such an individual is freed from all suffering and enters the next world with dignity. Man can break the bonds of Maya only by taking shelter of the Guru, and is honoured by Waheguru, oh Nanak! 5.2.

Sursay = felt joyed. Theeviya = became. Vust(u) = article. Chaytou = remember. Praani = oh man. Hirdaiy = in the heart. 1.

MEANING: The first quarter of life begins with Waheguru implanting the seed of life in the mother's womb, oh, the trader of Waheguru's Naam. (According to the Hindu belief) The fetus survives and matures by remembering and reciting Waheguru's Naam in the womb. The fetus endures the high temperature of the womb and survives by reciting Waheguru's Naam and worshiping Him. When the baby is born, the parents are overjoyed to see him. (However, they ignore Waheguru, who gave them the baby), But one must keep Waheguru in mind (who gave them the baby), and taking Guru's shelter, remember Him. (Guru) Nanak says that in the first quarter of life, the man should recite Waheguru's Naam with His kindness. 1.

MEANING: In the second quarter of life, man's mind is attracted to Maya (family, wealth, etc.), oh, the trader of Waheguru's Naam! The parents hug their child and raise him, thinking that he is theirs, and with the expectation that he will earn and feed them (when they get old). The ignorant man does not remember the Provider but clings to the gifts given by Him. Some rare individual thinks about this reality, and taking the Guru's shelter, recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration. Such a devotee never suffers spiritual death, oh, Nanak.

MEANING: In the third quarter of life, man's mind gets busy in worldly affairs (which do not support spirituality), oh trader in Waheguru's Naam. Man's mind thinks about wealth, and about accumulating it, and does not remember Waheguru's Naam. He never remembers Waheguru and His Naam, which is of great help at the end. The wealth and property are not real (do not last forever), and the man leaves them behind repenting. MEANING: In the fourth quarter of the life of the human trader, who comes to this world to trade in Waheguru's Naam, the time to leave this world arrives by Waheguru's Huqam. So (before death), the man should serve the Perfect Guru (without any delay) because life runs out quickly. Serve Waheguru every moment without any delay at all, to be immortal through the eons. Enjoy union with Waheguru all the time, and get rid of the suffering of the rebirth cycle. Kuhou Nanak praani pehlaiy pehraiy, dhur(i) paayayta oodraiy maah(i). 1. ----------

Word Meaning: Oodraiy Maah(i) = in the womb. Maanus(u) = human. Moohlut(i) = time limit. Kerm = deeds. Dhoor(i) = from the beginning. Soot = son (children). Bunita = wife (spouse). Sunjoya = mixed; bonded. Sookerm = noble deeds. Juntaiy = living being. Vus(i) = in control. 1.

MEANING: The first quarter of the life of the trader of Waheguru's Naam starts with the conception in the mother's womb as per the Will of Waheguru. In ten months, the fetus is born a human, given a time limit to perform deeds. Within that time limit, the man performs deeds as per his predetermined nature (character) based on the deeds of his previous lives. As per his predetermined destiny, Waheguru bonds the child among his parents, children, and spouse. Waheguru Himself makes the individual perform good or bad deeds; human beings have no control on the nature of deeds they perform. The first quarter of a man's life starts with conception in the mother's womb, oh Nanak. 1.

Kuhou Nanak doojaiy pehraiy praani, bhur(i) jobun(u) lehreen dayay 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Bhur(i) Jooaani = in the prime of youth. Lehreen = waves of desires. Puchhaanyee = recognize. Mutta = intoxicated. Ahumay = ego. Punth = journey. Kraara = tough; difficult. Kubhoon na = never. Tthandhay = standing; watching. Jundaara = unkind. Dhermroy = justice of deeds. Buvray = ignorant. 2.

MEANING: In the second quarter of life, one is in the prime of his youth, and the waves of sensual desires rise strongly in his mind. Intoxicated with ego, the man does not make any distinction between good and evil. One performs deeds indiscriminately, unaware that the journey to the next world is very difficult. One never worships the Perfect Guru and does not realize that the unkind Angel of death is looming over his head (watching him closely). How will the ignorant respond when the Justice of deeds questions him (about his evil deeds)? (Guru) Nanak says that in the second quarter of one's life, the waves of sensual desires arise strongly. 2.

Kuhou Nanak teejaiy pehraiy praani, bikh(u) sunchay undh(u) ugiyaan(u). 3. ----------

Word Meaning: Bikh(u) = poisonous (Maya). Sunchaiy = accumulates. Ugiyaan(u) = ignorant. Klutar(i) = wife (spouse). Luptiya = clung to. Lehr(i) = wave. Lobhaan(u) = greed. Chit(i) = in mind. Sadhsungat = holy congregation. Sung(u) = company. Joani = life forms. Sirjunhaar(u) = the Creator. Visariya = dropped from memory. Soaami = Lord. Nimukh = moment. Dhiyaan(u) = mind. 3.

MEANING: In the third quarter of life, the blind and the ignorant trader of Waheguru's Naam, accumulates poisonous Maya. With the waves of worldly attachment in his mind, the greedy clings to his children and the spouse. With waves of desires in mind, Waheguru does not come in his thoughts. He does not join any holy congregation, as a result of which, he suffers through many life forms. The Creator and the Lord (Waheguru) has been forgotten, and he does not focus his mind on Him even for a short moment. In the third quarter, the blind and ignorant accumulates (only) wealth, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Din = the day (of death). Bayli = friend. Sukhayee = friend (supporter). Moh(u) = attachment. Sung(i) = with. Sugli = whole. Channun(u) = light (enlightenment).

MEANING: In the fourth quarter of the life of man, the day of death approaches near. So, you should recite Waheguru's Naam by taking shelter of the Guru, which will be your supporter and your friend in Waheguru's Court, oh, the trader of Waheguru's Naam. Love for Maya will not accompany you, which is purely temporary. The whole night of your life is spent in darkness (ignorance); serve the Satguru to enlighten your mind. (Guru) Nanak says that the day of death approaches near in the fourth quarter of life, oh man. 4.

Kuhou Nanak bhugut sohay Durvaaray munmukh suda bhuvaat(i). 5.

Word Meaning: Govind = (a name for) Waheguru. Kmaana = deeds done. Rutti = a very small unit of weight or time. Bilum = delay. Doohaylay = suffer in discomfort. Soohaylay = blissful. Bovaiy = sows. Khaat(i) = eats; reaps. Bhuvaat(i) = taken through (various life forms).

MEANING: When Waheguru's written Huqam (about a man's death) is implemented, a man's deeds done during his life accompany him (to the next world). The agents of the Justice of deeds grab the man with powerful hands and give him no time at all before taking him away. As per the written orders of Waheguru, the agents grab the man and take him away; the followers of their mind always suffer discomfort. On the other hand, the devotees, who serve the Perfect Guru, are blissful in Waheguru's Court. The human body is the ground for man to plant deeds in this world; the man reaps the results of what he sows (the kinds of deeds he performs). The devotees look dignified (are honoured) in Waheguru's Court, while the followers of their mind are cycled through various life forms, oh Nanak. 5.1.4.

NOTE: There are no documents written by Waheguru. His Will is everything. Such language is used for our understanding only.
NOTE: CHHUNT: Chhunt or Chhund is a form of lyric which follows a specific metre. Even though there may be exceptions, a typical chhunt has four verses, each with six sentences. The above four Pehrays are also chhunts. They are given a special name, Pehray, simply because they describe the four quarters (Pehray) of life.

Moondh iyaani payiurraiy, Gurmukh(i) Hur(i) dershun(u) dikhaiy. 1. ----------
Word Meaning: Moondh(u) = young woman (human). Iyaani = ignorant. Payiurraiy = (in) parental house (this world). Pikhaiy = see; have sight of. Saahur-rraiy Kumm = responsibilities of in-laws' house (of next world; Waheguru's home). Suhiyaan = (devotee) friends. Soohayli = enjoying comfort. Baanh loodayay = walk with arms swinging (with pride). Laykha Baaki = account balance. Kirkhaiy = pulls out.
NOTE: Even though the holy Shabad is written in the first person, it applies to the whole world; therefore, the meaning will be explained in the third person.

MEANING: Like a young girl, who is ignorant about her future responsibilities, and her behaviour in her in-laws' house while she is still at her parents' house; living in this world, human beings are ignorant about their responsibilities about Waheguru as to how to achieve union with Him who will be their future husband; so how can they have a glance of Waheguru in this life? However, if Waheguru is kind to some devotee, he is connected to the Guru, and under His shelter, the devotee can learn the behaviour with which he can unite with Waheguru. Such an individual (human bride) learns that reciting Waheguru's Naam all the time is the way to get connected with Him. She exudes confidence and enjoys comfort (blissfulness) among her devotee-friends and feels proud (is honoured) in Waheguru's Court. If there is any balance of bad deeds in her account with the Justice of deeds, she pulls it out (pays it off) by reciting Waheguru's Naam. By doing so (reciting Waheguru's Naam) in the Guru's shelter, the ignorant young woman can have a glance of Waheguru even in this world. 1.

Word Meaning: Gurmukhay = in the shelter of the Guru. Perchund(u) = very bright. Blaaya = lighted. Binsiya = disappeared. Rattan Pdaruth = highly valuable matter (Waheguru's Naam). Laadha = found; acquired. Laatha = removed; receded. Aap(u) = self (selfishness). Abinaashi = immortal. 2.

MEANING: The ceremony of marriage (union) with Waheguru is completed with the guidance of Satguru, oh my father. The darkness of ignorance is dispelled by the blaze of Divine Knowledge lighted by the Guru. In the bright light of Guru's Knowledge, the darkness of ignorance is cleared, and the precious Naam of Waheguru is realized. Along with the discomfort caused by it, the disease of haumein is gone, and one eats away (kills) his selfishness by the Guru's advice. The immortal and omnipresent Waheguru-husband is realized, who never dies or goes away. The marriage ceremony with Waheguru is completed by the Guru's kindness, oh my father. 2.

Word Meaning: Sat(i) Satay = eternal. Babola = father. Hur(i) Jun = one who is connected with God (Guru). Junj = marriage party. Sohundi = looks pretty (dignified). Soohayli = successful. Khuri = very much. Pasha Dhaaliya = threw the dice; perform noble deeds. Kaaruj = (noble) task. Vur(u) = husband. Purakh(u) Anundi = source of bliss and omnipresent (Waheguru). 3.

MEANING: The marriage party of the immortal Waheguru-husband becomes very impressive (highly noble) with His supreme devotees joining Him, oh my father. The human bride, who worships Waheguru, is successful in her mission in this world, and by virtue of her reciting Waheguru's Naam, she looks very pretty (dignified) in the next world. All those who are able to control their mind and perform noble deeds by taking refuge in the Guru make their life successful, just like a player at the game of dice who throws the dice with full concentration and achieves victory. In the company of holy men, such devotees have their noble goal achieved, and acquire the source of bliss and omnipresent Waheguru as their husband (achieve union with Him). The husband, Waheguru, is immortal, and His marriage party becomes very dignified with His supreme devotees joining Him, oh my father. 3.

Hur(i) Prubh(u) mayray babola Hur(i) dayvhou daan(u) mein daajo. 4.
Word Meaning: Daajo = dowry. Sunvraiy = adorned; end successfully. Kaajo = task (of union with Waheguru). Soohayla = successful. Khund = earth. Vurbhund = universe. Na Rulaiy Rulaaya = unmatchable. Koorr(u) = fake. Paajo = show off. 4.
MEANING: The human bride requests her father, Satguru, to give her Waheguru's Naam in the dowry in her marriage with Waheguru as the husband. She requests that her father give her Waheguru's praise as clothes (to save her dignity), which will lead her to success (in marriage with Waheguru). The dowry of Worship of Waheguru makes the task of (union with Waheguru) successful; however, this donation can be received only by the Guru's kindness. Nothing else can match this dowry (Waheguru's praise), and such a dowry is appreciated in this world and the whole universe. Any other kind of dowry - like the religious symbols and garb - which the Maya-engrossed gurus give to their disciples publicly, is not only worthless, it is simply a display of ego and show off. Please give me the dowry of Waheguru's Naam in my marriage with Waheguru, oh my father, Satguru. 4.
NOTE: While discussing the dowry given by the parents, Guru Sahib is not talking about the dowry in worldly marriages, which people also display; here, Guru Sahib is discussing the dowry only in the marriage with Waheguru. So, He is talking only about the dowry that can be given in such a holy marriage with Waheguru. Here, a Sloak of Guru Nanak Sahib will be very appropriate.
ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:1 (1286)॥ ਕੁਲਹਾ ਦੇਦੇ ਬਾਵਲੇ ਲੈਦੇ ਵਡੇ ਨਿਲਜ॥ ਚੂਹਾ ਖੁਡ ਨ ਮਾਵਈ ਤਿਕਲਿ ਬੰਨ੍ਹੈ ਛਜ॥

Meaning: The gurus who pass on their guruship to their disciples by putting a special cap on their heads are insane, and the receivers are big-time shameless. Such an act swells the heads of both parties; it is like the situation where a mouse with a huge item tied to his back cannot enter his small hole. -----

Word Meaning: Dhun = woman. Vaiyl = vine; clans; future generations). Vdhundi = expands; grows. Joogeh Joogo = through the eons. Peehrri = lineage. Binsaiy = perish. Svaaya = multiple times. Sohundi = looks pretty.
MEANING: The union between the human bride and Waheguru-husband results in growth, producing more and more devotees, oh my father. Such a clan of Waheguru continues through the eons when the devotees recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. The omnipresent Waheguru neither perishes nor goes away; He always bestows the gift of His Naam, which multiplies continuously. By reciting His Naam, the devotees are adorned (with noble qualities), and as holy men, they become "one" with Waheguru, and are not distinguishable from Him. The union between the human bride and the Waheguru-husband results in the growth, producing more and more devotees, oh my father. 5.1.

Word Meaning: Gobind = a name for Krishna = Waheguru. Smaalay = remember. Nibhaiy = accompanies; supports all the way. Suhaayee Sung(i) = supports and accompanies. Birtha = without; empty. Chinday = desired. Ful = (reap) consequences. Churn Kumal = lotus-like soft feet (of Waheguru). Chit(u) = mind. Thul = land. Bunvaari = another name for Krishna = Waheguru. Ghut = heart. Nihaalay = nihaaray = sees. Sikh = advice. Bherm = doubts; skepticism. 1.

MEANING: Remember Waheguru's Naam, oh my dear friend, my mind. It is Waheguru's Naam that accompanies you (supports you) all the way. Nobody goes without support if he recites Waheguru's Naam, which always supports him. Whosoever focuses his mind on the Naam of Waheguru, which has Feet as soft as a lotus flower, has all his wishes fulfilled. Waheguru, which is present in waters and on the land, casts his kind sight on every heart (body). My advice to you, oh my dear mind, is to seek the company of the Guru (or his devotees) to clear (dispel) your doubts, says (Guru) Nanak. 1.

---------- Mun piyariya jee mittra, Hur(i) bin(u) jhootth(u) pusaaray. Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, bikh(u) saagur(u) sunsaaray. Churn kumal kur(i) bohith(u) Kertay, sehsa dookh(u) na biyapaiy. Gur Poora bhaytaiy vudbhaageen, aatth pehr Prubh(u) jaapaiy. Aad(i) joogadi sayvuk soaami, bhugtaan Naam(u) adharay. Nanak(u) sikh dayay mun preetum bin(u) Hur(i) jhootth pusaaray. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Jhootthay = not real; perishable. Pusaaray = expansions; developments. Bikh = poison. Sunsaaray = world. Bohith = ship. Sehsa = worry due to unknown outcome. Biyapaiy = happen; affects. Bhaytaiy = meets. Vudbhageen = with great luck. Aad(i) Joogadi = from the beginning of time. Sayvuk = personal attendant; devotee. Adharay = support. 2.

MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam, all expansions (extensions) involving Maya are perishable (therefore are useless in the spiritual world), oh my dear mind. The world is a sea of poisonous (Maya); and Waheguru, which is the Creator, and has lotus-like Feet, is that ship which ferries you across the sea of Maya, oh my friend. if you board the Waheguru-ship, no discomfort and worry will haunt you. When one connects with the Perfect Guru, with great fortune, he worships Waheguru for all twenty-four hours. Waheguru's Naam is the spiritual food for all His devotees in each eon (and the Lord loves His devotees). (Guru) Nanak advises the man that without Waheguru Naam in mind, all expansions involving Maya are meaningless as they are perishable. 2.

---------- Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, Hur(i) ludday khayp suvulli. Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, Hur(i) dur(u) nihchul mulli. Hur(i) dur(u) sayvay Alukh Abhayvay, nihchul(u) aasun(u) paaya. Teh junum na mern(u) na aavun jaana, sunsa dookh(u) mitaya. Chittar Goopt ka kaagud phaarriya, jumdootaan kuchhoo na chulli. Nanak sikh dayay mun preetum Hur(i) ludday khayp svulli. 3. ----------

Word Meaning: Ludday = load up. Khayp = merchandise. Svulli = resulting in success. Nihchul = everlasting. Alukh = incomprehensible. Abhayvay = unknowable. Aasun = resting place. Sunsa = doubts. Chitter Goopt = according to Hidu Granths, these are two invisible bodies which record the deeds of each individual. Kaagud = the paper on which the account is kept. Jumdoot = the agents of the angel of death. Kuchoo Na Chulli = cannot do anything.

MEANING: Load up your mind with the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam to be successful (in achieving union with God), oh my dear mind. (By doing so) You will be able to occupy an eternal spot at Waheguru's Door (achieve eternal union with Him). Whoever worships the incomprehensible and unknowable Waheguru at His Door (focusing fully on His Naam), acquires an eternal seat (becomes a permanent part of Waheguru). Such an individual gets rid of his doubts and discomforts, as well as his birth-death cycle. For him, all accounts of his deeds kept by the invisible agents - Chitter and Goopt - are erased, and the agents of the Angel of death are left with no power to hurt him in any way. (Guru) Nanak advises the dear mind that it should load up the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam to achieve success. 3.

--------- Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, kur(i) suntan sung(i) nivaaso. Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, Hur(i) Naam(u) jupt pergaaso. Simer(i) Soami sookheh gaami, ichh sugli pooniyaan.

Word Meaning: Sung(i) = with. Nivaaso = live with; keep company. Simer = recite (Waheguru's Naam). Sookheh Gaami = provider of comforts. Ichh = wishes. Sugli = all. Pooniyaan = fulfilled. Poorbay Kmaayay = earned in previous lives. Sri = Maya Siri Rung = (Maya's husband) Waheguru. Chireen = for along time. Vichhooniyaan = separated. Ryviya = present. Oopjiya = sprouted; develops. Bisuaaso = faith. 4.

MEANING: Stay in the company of the holy devotees (of Waheguru), oh my dear friend, my mind. Mind is enlightened by recitation of Waheguru's Naam. By remembering the Lord, who is the source of all comforts, all your wishes are fulfilled. Because of the (noble) deeds performed in the previous lives, one realizes Waheguru, from whom he had been separated for a very long time. At that spiritual stage, one realizes that Waheguru is present within (the heart) and without (the universe), and one develops full faith in Him. (Guru) Nanak advises that one should keep company with holy devotees. 4.

---------- Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, Hur(i) praym bhagat(i) mun(u) leena. Mun piyariya jeeo mittra, Hur(i,) jul mil(i) jeevay meena. Hur(i) pee aaghanay, Amrit baanay, serb sookha mun(i) vootthay. Sridhar paayay, mungul gaayay, ichh pooni Satgur tootthay. Lurr(i) leenay naoun nidh(i) paayay, Naoun serbus(u) Tthaaku(i) deena. Nanak sikh sunt sumjhaayee, Hur(i) praym bhugut(i) mun(u) leena. 5.1.2.

Word Meaning: Praym bhagat(i) = love-filled devotion. Leena = fully absorbed. Meena = fish. Aaghanay = satisfied; contented. Baanay = Bani; Shabad. Vootthay = settled; took residence. Sridhar = support (creator) of Maya (Waheguru). Mungul = songs of happiness. Ichh = wish. Pooni = fulfilled. Tootthay = pleased to be kind. Lurr(i) leenay = taking refuge (of Satguru). Naoun Nidh(i) = the nine treasures (Hindu Ggranths believe that there are nine different treasures of god, Kuber). Serbus(u) = of all. Tthakur = Lord. 5.

MEANING: My dear friend's mind is fully absorbed in the affectionate worship of Waheguru (and like the fish, which cannot live without water, my mind cannot live without Him). Whoever drinks the Shabad-Amrit of Waheguru's Naam gets fully content, and all comforts come to stay in his mind. When Satguru is pleased, all one's wishes are fulfilled with His kindness, and one feels blissful as if the music of happiness is playing in one's heart. If one seeks Satguru's shelter, the Lord of all (Waheguru) is pleased and gives His Naam to him, which is the source of all happiness, and one feels as if he has acquired all the nine mythical treasures of Kuber. (Guru) Nanak says that Waheguru's saints advise that Waheguru takes residence in one's heart by worshiping Him with affection and devotion. 5. 1.2.

Siri Raag Kay Chhunt Mehla 5: Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i):

Dukkhna: Hutth mujhaahoo ma Piri, pusay kiyoun deedar. Sunt shernaayee lubhnay, Nanak pran adhaar. 1.

Chhunt: Churn kumal siyoun preet(i) reet(i), suntun mun(i) aavay jeeo. Dootiya bhaao bipreet(i), uneet(i), dasaan neh bhaavay jeeo. Dasaan neh bhaavay, bin(u) dersaavay, ikk khin(u) dheeruj kiyoun kuraiy. Naam bihoona tun(u) mun(u) heena, jul bin(u) muchhuli jiyoun muraiy. Mil(u) mayray praan adhaaray, goon Sadhsung(i) mil(i) gaavay. Nanak kay Soami dhaar(i) anugreh(u), mun(i) tun(i) unk(i) smaavay. 1.

Word Meeting: Dukknna = Southern (dialect). Hutth = heart. Mujhaahoo = inside. Piri = Husband (Waheguru). Pusay Deedar = to have Sight. Lubhnay = find. Praan Adhaar = basis of life (God).

MEANING: Sloak in southern dialect: My dear husband (Waheguru) resides in my heart invisibly; so, how I can have his sight (see him). (The only way) to "see" the basis of my life (Waheguru), is to take refuge of the holy devotees (or Satguru).

Chhunt: Word Meaning: Chhunt = a type of lyric (see the beginning note). Churn Kumal = lotus-like Feet. Reet(i) = (noble) custom; lifestyle. Dootiya Bhaao = Love for the other (Maya). Bipreet(i) = against custom. Dasaan = slaves (humble devotees). Bhaavay = to the liking. Desaavay = sight; visitation. Khin(u) = moment. Dheeruj = patience; peace. Bihoona = without. Heena = weak. Anugreh(u) = kindness. Unk(i) = heart. 1.

MEANING: As their natural custom (routine), the devotees have love in their mind for Waheguru, who has Feet which are soft like a lotus flower. Love for anyone else (Maya) is against their customary routine and is not to their liking. Without the holy sight of Waheguru, they do not like anything else, and cannot have peace (comfort) even for a moment. Like a fish, which does not survive without water, the body and mind of the devotees become weak (lifeless) without Waheguru's Naam. They sing praise of Waheguru's kind virtues and request that they be connected with Him. (Guru) Nanak also requests Waheguru to be kind to Him so that He becomes a part of His mind and body. 1.

(Sloak) Dukkna: Sohundrro hubh ttaayay, koyay na disaiy doojrro. Khoollhurray kpaat Nanak Satgur bhayt-tay.
Word Meaning: Sohundrro = looks very pretty (majestic). Hubh = subh = all. Tthaayay = places. Kpaat = doors (of mind). Bhayt-tay = (upon) meeting.
MEANING: Connecting with Satguru, the doors of my mind have opened (my mind is enlightened). Now I find You looking very majestic everywhere, and I do not see anybody without You (You are present in everybody), oh Waheguru.
Chhunt: Tayray Buchan anoop apaar, suntan aadhar, Bani beechaariyaiy jeeo. Simrut saas giraas, poorun bisooaas, kiyoun munhoun bisaariyaiy jeeo. Kiyoun munhoun bisaariyaiy, nimukh nuhee taariyaiy, Goonvunt praan humaaray. Mun baanchhut ful dayt haiy Soami, jee kee birtha saaray. Word Meaning: Anoop = unparalleled. Apaar = without limits. Giraas = (with every) nibble. Bisooaas = faith. Bisaariyaiy = drop from mind (memory). Nimukh = moment. Taariyaiy = put off; delay. Goonvunt = source of virtues. Baanchhut = desired. Birtha = condition. Saaray = looks after. Anaath = orphan. Naathay = Master. Jooyaiy = in gamble. Bhuvjul = world sea (sea of Maya). Taariyaiy = take across (have different pronunciation).
MEANING: Guru's words in Your praise are of unparalleled beauty, oh the limitless, and the basis (support) of the spiritual life of Your devotees, Waheguru. One must ponder on Guru's Shabad (to worship) Waheguru. Waheguru should never be forgotten from one's mind; He should rather be remembered with every breath and with every bite with full faith. The treasure of virtues (God) is the support of our life, and one cannot afford to forget Him even for a moment; remembering Him should not be delayed. Waheguru fulfills all wishes and desires and looks after everybody according to their needs and according to their mind. He is the Lord of the spiritually orphans (who have no guru to guide them), and one should recite His Naam for spiritual life; and should not waste this (precious human) life in gambling (mental struggle between Maya and God). (Guru) Nanak requests the Lord that He should kindly carry Him (Guru Nanak) across the sea of Maya. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhoorri = dust (of the feet). Mujun = bath. Khay = of. Saayeen = Lord. Theeyay = became. Kirpal = kind. Luddhay = found; acquired. Hubbay = all. Thoakrro = articles (of use). Maal = wealth.

MEANING: God becomes very kind when one takes a bath in the dust of Satguru's Feet (obeys His advice). As a result, one acquires everything useful to him because the real wealth is Waheguru's Naam. 1.

Chhunt(u): Soondar Soami dhaam, bhugtah bisraam, aasa lug(i) jeevtay jeeo. Mun(i) tunay gultaan, simrut Prubh Naam, Hur(i) Amrit(u) peevtay jeeo.

(PAGE 81): Amrit Hur(i) peevtay suda thir(u) theevtay bikhaiy bun(u) feeka jaaniya. Bhuyay kirpal, Gopal Prubh mayray, Sadh sungat(i) nidh(i) maaniya. Serbso sookh aanund ghun piyaray, Hur(i) ruttan(u) mun untar(i) seevtay. Ikk(u) til(u) nuhee visraiy praan aadhara jup(i) jup(i) Nanak jeevtay.

Word Meaning: Soami = God. Dhaam = residence. Bisraam = peace. Aasa = hope; faith. Gultaan = inebriated. Suda Thir(u) = never changing; immortal. Theevtay = became. Bikhaiy = of poison (Maya). Bun(u) = forest; world. Feeka = tasteless. Gopal = God. Nidh(i) = Treasure (God). Serbso = all. Ghun = very much. Til(u) = (the size of a) sesame seed (tiny amount of time). 3.

MEANING: The devotees find peace of mind while reciting Waheguru's Naam, and live with the faith that they will be "one" with Him who has a beautiful Residence. Remembering Waheguru's Naam, they drink the life-sustaining Amrit and feel inebriated in mind and body. By drinking Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, they find the world of Maya to be tasteless, and as a result, they attain emancipation and become immortal. With the grace of the kind Waheguru, one connects with Satguru and realizes Waheguru, the treasure of everything. Such individuals, stich precious Waheguru's Naam in their minds, thereby acquiring great comfort and bliss. They do not forget Waheguru even for a tiny moment of time, and live by reciting the Naam of Waheguru which is the basis of their life, oh Nanak. 3.

(Sloak) Dukkhna: Jo Tuou keenay aapnay, tinha koon miliohay. Aapay hee Aap(i) mohiyo, jus(u) Nanak Aap(i) sooniohay. 1.

Word Meaning: Koon = to; with. Mohiohay = captivated. Jus(u) = praise. 1.

MEANING: God connects with them whom he has made His own. (Being present in everyone) He captivates Himself (other living beings) and listens to His own praise.

Chhunt(u): Praym ttugaouri paayay reejhaayay, Gobind mun(u) mohiya jeeo. Suntun kaiy persaad(i), aghaad(i), kuntthay lug(i) sohiya jeeo. Hur(i) kuntth(i) lug(i) sohiya, doakh subh(i) johiya, bhagat lukhan kur(i) vus(i) bhuyay. Mun(i) serb sookh vootthay, Govind tootthay, junum merna subh(i) mit(i) guyya. Sukheen mungalo gaaya, ichh poojaaya, bahoorr(i) na Maya hoya. Ker(u) geh(i) leenay, Nanak Prubh piyaray, sunsaar saagar nuhee pohiya. 4.
Word Meaning: Tthugaouri = charm. Reejhaayay = charms. Mohiya = enchanted. Aghaadh(i) = beyond reach. Kuntth = neck. Sohiya = looks pretty. Doakh = opposing (the five demons). Johiya = warned. Lukhan = qualities. Vus(i) = controlled. Vootthay = take residence. Govind = Krishna = Waheguru. Tootthay = pleased to be kind. Sukheen = female friends (senses). Mungalo = song of happiness. Ichh = wish. Bahoorr(i) = again. Kur(u) = hand. Geh(i) = by holding. Na Pohiya = do not even come close.
MEANING: Waheguru enchants our mind by captivating us with the charm of His Love. By the kindness of His beloved devotees, the otherwise unreachable Waheguru hugs His devotees to the neck, and they look very pretty (exalted) (because of their virtues). When a devotee is adorned (honoured) by being hugged by Waheguru, all his opposing demons (evil qualities) are warned (to stay away) – actually, they come under control because of one's newly acquired noble qualities. With Waheguru pleased, His kindness causes all comforts to settle in the devotee's heart, and his birth-death cycle comes to an end. All the wishes of the devotee are fulfilled, and he feels as if all his senses are singing a song of happiness; and he is not deceived by Maya again. Dear Waheguru holds the devotee by the hand, and the sea of Maya does not affect him at all. 4.

(Sloak) Dukkhna: Saayeen Naam amoal(u), keem na koyee jaando. Jinnah bhaag muthahay, say Nanak Hur(i) rung(u) maando. 1.
Word Meaning: Saayeen = Lord. Amoal = invaluable. Keem = value. Bhaag = luck. Muthahay = on the forehead. Rung(u) = love. Maando = enjoy. 1.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is invaluable, and nobody knows its true worth. The individuals who have good fortune on their forehead enjoy His love (but even they do not know the worth of His Naam).
Chhunt(u) : Kehtay puvittar soontay subh(i), dhunn(u) likhteen kool(u) taariya jeeo. Jin kuou Sadhu sung(u), Naam Hur(i) rung(u), tinhi Braham beechaariya jeeo. Satguru duyaal kirpal bhaytut Huray, kaam(u) krodh(u) loabh(u) maariya. Kuthun na jaayay Akuth(u) Soami, sudkaiy jaayay Nanak(u) vaariya.
Word Meaning: Puvittar = pious. Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Likhteen = writers. Kool(u) = clan (devotees around). Sadhu Sung(i) = company of the Guru. Braham = Waheguru. Svaariya = made successful. Poorun = full. Kur(u) = hand. Geh(i) = by holding. Juso = praise. Joan(i) = rebirth. Bhaytut = meeting; connection. Kaam(u) = lust. Kuthna = describe. Akuth = indescribable = Waheguru. 5.
MEANING: The devotees who recite, and all those who listen to Waheguru's Naam, are pious (holy); and those who write His praise are worthy of respect. Not only do they find salvation, but they salvage their whole clan (those who come in contact with them) too. Those who stay in the company (shelter) of the Guru enjoy Waheguru's love and ponder on Waheguru Naam (make a connection with Him). Because of their connection with Waheguru and His kindness, they make their lives a success. Waheguru holds their hand, and gifts His praise (Naam) to them, as a result of which they (become "one" with Waheguru), and never suffer death again, and do not have to take birth again. The kind and the munificent connect the devotees with God, and their lust, rage, and greed are eradicated. Nothing can be said about the indescribable Waheguru (no one can say anything); I am a sacrifice to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.1.3.

Hur(i) Hur(i) ootum(u) Naam(u) haiy, jin(i) siriya subh(u) koyay jeeo. Hur(i) jea subhay pritpaalda, ghut(i) ghut(i) Rumuyiya soyay. So Hur(i) suda dhiyayiyaiy, Tis(u) bin(u) uver(u) na koyay. Jo moh(i) Maya chit(u) laayaynday, say chhoad(i) chulay, dookh(u) royay. Jun

Nanak Naam(u) dhiyaya, Hur(i) unt(i) sukhayee hoyay. 1. Mein Hur(i) bin(u) uver(u) na koyay. Hu(i) Gur shernayee paayiyaiy vunjaariya mittra, vudbhaag(i) praput(i) hoyay. 1. Ruhaou. ----------

Word Meaning: Vunjaara = trader (in Waheguru's Naam). Ootum = supreme. Siriya = created. Pritpaalda = raises and nourishes. Ghut = heart. Rumuyiya = one who is present everywhere (God). Uver(u) = other; else. Sukhayee = friendly. Praput(i) = acquire.

MEANING: The Naam of Waheguru, who has created everybody, is supreme, oh my friends. Waheguru, who is present in every heart, raises and nourishes every living being. Such Waheguru should always be remembered; there is nobody else who can rival Him. Those who keep Maya in mind leave this world without any wealth and cry as they leave it behind. I remember Waheguru's Naam, which helps at the end, oh Nanak. 1. I have nobody else to worship. However, Waheguru can be realized only by taking the Guru's shelter if one is lucky, oh, the trader of Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

(PAGE 82): ---------- Sunt junaa vin(u) bhaayiyaan, Hur(i) kinaiy na paaya Naoun. Vich(i) haumein kerm kmaanvday, jiyoun vaysooa poot(u) ninaoun. Mun Hur(i) Hur(i) luhaan chaaou. Gur(i) Pooray Naam(u) Drirryaya, Hur(i) miliya Hur(i) Prubh Naoun. 1. Ruhaou. ----------

Word Meaning: Vin(u) = without. Kerm Kmaanvday = perform tasks. Vaysooa = prostitute; whore. Ninaoun = without (family) name. Jaat(i) = name of clan. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Pusaao = kindness. Ehinis = day and night (always). Bhaaou = affection. Keerut(i) = praise. 2. Luhaan = acquire. Chaaou = gusto. Drirryaya = reinforced. Pause.

MEANING: Nobody has ever realized Waheguru's Naam without being in the shelter of the Guru, or his devotees (who are already connected with Waheguru). Most people perform all tasks under the influence of haumein, and like the son of a prostitute, who has no identity (the clan-name), are without the father (Waheguru). One can acquire identity with Waheguru only if the Guru is pleased, and becomes kind so as to connect him with Waheguru. With good fortune, one connects with Waheguru when he fosters an affection for Him day and night. By performing the deeds of praise for Waheguru (like reciting His Naam with devotion, and obeying Him), I have realized Him, oh Nanak. 2. I realize Waheguru with zest, oh my mind. The perfect Guru reiterated Waheguru's Naam; as a result, I became connected to Waheguru and realized His Naam, oh Nanak. 1. Pause.

---------- Jub lug(u) jobun(i) saas(u) haiy, tub lug(u) Naam(u) dhiyayay. Chuldiyaan naal(i) Hur(i) chulsi, untay luyay chhudaayay. Huoun bulihaari tin kuou, jin Hur(i) mun(i) voottha aayay. Vudbhaageen Gur(u) paaya, Gur Shabadi paar(i) lunghaayay. 1. Ruhaou. ----------

Word Meaning: Jobun(i) = youthfulness (has enough energy). Untay = in the end. Bulihaari = sacrifice. Voottha = made residence. Chaytiyo = remember. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. 3.

MEANING: As long as man breathes and has energy, he should recite Waheguru's Naam. At the time of leaving this world, Waheguru's Naam accompanies one to His Court and gets him salvation. I am a sacrifice for those who have made their hearts home for Waheguru. Those who do not remember Waheguru leave this world repenting (because they had ignored Waheguru). Those who are predestined to worship Waheguru do recite His Naam.

3. Love Waheguru (obey His Commandment), oh my mind. The lucky people get connected with Waheguru, and swim across the ocean of Maya (find salvation) by the Guru's Shabad. Pause.

---------- Hur(i) aapay aap(u) oopaayaynda, Hur(i) aapay dayvaiy layay. Hur(i) aapay bherm(i) bhoolayaynda, Hur(i) aapay hee mut(i) dayay. Gurmukhaan mun(i) pergaas(u) haiy, say virlay kayee kayay. Huri(i) Gur shernaayee bhuj(i) puou, jidoon subh kilvikh dookh purhuray. 1. Pause. ----------

Word Meaning: Bherm(i) = in doubts. Bhoolayaynds = misguides. Pergaas(u) = light. Virlay = rare. Kumal(u) = (mind) lotus. Vootthrra = made residence. 4. Jupan(u) = recitation of Naam(u). Jidoon = from whom. Kilvikh = sins. Purhuray = dispelled. Pause.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the creator, and Himself gives and takes away life. He Himself misleads people, and breeds doubts in their minds (about His existence), and Himself enlightens some of them. The devotees of the Guru acquire enlightenment in their minds, but there are only a few of them. I am a sacrifice for those who realize Waheguru by acting on the advice of the Guru. My lotus-like mind has been enlightened, and Waheguru has made my heart His residence, oh Nanak. I am a slave of Waheguru. 4. Man should recite Waheguru's Naam with a focused mind, and should rush to take shelter of the Guru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, and who dispels all the sins and suffering. Pause.

---------- Ghut(i) ghut(i) Rumuyiya mun(i) vusaiy, kiyoun payiyaiy kit(u) bhut(i). Gur(u) Poora Satgur(u) bhaytiyaiy, Hur(i) aayay vusaiy mun(i) chit(i). Pause. ----------

Word Meaning: Rumuyiya = who is omnipresent (God). Kiyoun = how. Kit(u) = which. Bhut (i) = kind; type; strategy. Bhatiyaiy = meet with. Dhur = adhaar(u) = basis; support. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Visahou = investment. Jut(i) = caste. Put(i) = honour; dignity. Rung = love. Rutrra = imbued. 5. Sat(i) = the eternal Truth; everlasting. Ootput(i) = production.

MEANING: Even though Waheguru resides in every heart imperceptibly, but what strategy one should use to realize Him. (The answer lies in the fact that) if someone can get connected with the Perfect Guru, Waheguru automatically takes residence in his mind and heart. Waheguru's Naam is the basis for my wisdom (to guide me), and for my high spiritual state. Waheguru's Naam is my business (investment); His Naam is high caste and dignity for me. Nanak, the devotee of Waheguru, is imbued in His Naam(u), and recites His Naam all the time. 5. Recite the Naam of the eternal Waheguru, oh my friends. One realizes Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad and also comes to realize that the whole universe is Waheguru's creation. Pause.

Word Meaning: Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Bhaayay = (with) affection. Vunjaariya = hey trader (in Waheguru's Naam). Pergaas(i) = enlightenment. Dhunn = worthy of respect. Vunuj = trade. Vukkhur(u) = merchandize. Ludiurra = loaded. Raas(i) = capital; investment. Oojlay = shiny. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Goontaas(i) = treasure of virtues (Waheguru). 6. Saas(i) Giraas(i) = with every breath and every bite. Rehraas(i) = routine. Pause.

MEANING: Those, who are predestined, get connected with the Guru. Their minds are enlightened with Waheguru's Naam because of their love and devotion for Him, oh the trader of Waheguru's Naam. The business of the traders, who load up the merchandize of Waheguru's Naam, and invest in it, is worthy of respect. The devotees of the Guru become "one" with Waheguru, and their faces shine in His Court (they are honoured). 6. Waheguru should be remembered with every breath and every bite. Those devotees of the Guru, who recite Waheguru's Naam as their daily routine, develop love for Him. Pause.

Siri Raag kee Vaar Mehla 4, Sloakaan Naal(i)

VAAR: Vaar is a type of lyric (Ballad) used to describe battles. They aroused valour among people. Vaars were very popular in Punjab at the time of Guru Sahiban. Since the human mind is also engaged in a battle between the good and the evil (between the worship of God and the attractions of Maya), Guru Nanak Sahib used vaars in the spiritual realm for the first time to stir feelings of Waheguru's worship. A typical vaar in Guru Granth Sahib has between 20 and 30 verses called paurris, and about twice as many sloaks. The vaars were written in paurris only to begin with, but later appropriate sloaks were also added.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:3॥ ਰਾਗਾ ਵਿਚਿ ਸ੍ਰੀ ਰਾਗੁ ਹੈ ਜੇ ਸਚਿ ਧਰੇ ਪਿਆਰੁ॥ ਸਦਾ ਹਰਿ ਸਚੁ ਮਨਿ ਵਸੈ ਨਿਹਚਲ ਮਤਿ ਅਪਾਰੁ॥ ਰਤਨੁ ਅਮੋਲਕੁ ਪਾਇਆ ਗੁਰ ਕਾ ਸਬਦੁ ਬੀਚਾਰੁ॥ ਜਿਹਵਾ ਸਚੀ ਮਨੁ ਸਚਾ ਸਚਾ ਸਰੀਰ ਅਕਾਰੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਚੈ ਸੇਵਿਐ ਸਦਾ ਸਚੁ ਵਾਪਾਰੁ॥ 1॥

ਨੋਟ: ਮ:3 ਦਾ ਭਾਵ ਹੈ ਮਹਲਾ 3, ਅਤੇ ਇਹ ਭਾਵ ਇਸਤਰ੍ਹਾਂ ਹੀ ਚੱਲੇਗਾ॥

Sloak M:3: Raagaan vich(i) Siri Raag(u) haiy, jay Sach(i) dhuray piyaar. Suda Hur(i) Sach(u) mun(i) vusaiy, nihchul mut(i) apaar(u). Ruttan(u) amoluk paaya, Gur ka Shabad(u) beechaar(u). Jihva sachi mun(u) sacha, sacha sreer akaar(u). Nanak Sachaiy sayviyaiy , suda Sach(u) vaapaar(u). 1.

NOTE: M:3 means Mehla 3, and this will continue throughout the rest of SGGS.

Word Meaning: Sach(i) = for the ternal (Waheguru). Nihchul = stable; unwavering. Mut(i) = wisdom; thinking. Ruttan = precious like jewels (Waheguru's Naam). Vapaar(u)= business. 1.

MEANING: (Even though Siri Raag is an important Raag), it is meaningful only if it arouses love for Waheguru in the devotee's mind (when he recites His Naam with Guru's Shabad); if Waheguru takes permanent residence in the heart of the devotee, and he acquires a stable thinking (to stay connected with Waheguru). But, Waheguru's precious Naam can be realized only by pondering on Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, Waheguru's Naam is not only on the tongue of the devotee, but also in his mind, as well as in his whole body (with which he performs noble deeds acceptable to Him). Serving Waheguru is the True business of the man, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਹੋਰਿ ਬਿਰਹਾ ਸਭ ਧਾਤੁ ਹੈ ਜਬ ਲਗੁ ਸਾਹਿਬ ਪ੍ਰੀਤਿ ਨ ਹੋਇ॥ ਇਹੁ ਮਨੁ ਮਾਇਆ ਮੋਹਿਆ ਵੇਖਣੁ ਸੁਨਣੁ ਨ ਹੋਇ॥ ਸਹ ਦੇਖੇ ਬਿਨੁ ਪ੍ਰੀਤਿ ਨ ਊਪਜੈ ਅੰਧਾ ਕਿਆ ਕਰੇਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਜਿਨਿ ਅਖੀ ਲੀਤਿਆ ਸੋਈ ਸਚਾ ਦੇਇ॥ 2॥

M:3: Hoar(i) birha subh dhaat(u) haiy, jub lug(u) Sahib preet(i) na hoyay. Ehou mun(u) Maya mohiya, vaykhun(u) soonan(u) na hoyay. Sheh daykhay bin(u) preet(i) na oopjaiy, undha kiya kuray. Nanak Jin(i) ukheen leetiyaan, soyee Sacha dayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Birha = pain of separation; pangs of love. Dhaat(u) = attraction for Maya. Mohiya = captivated. Sheh = Shah = king = Waheguru. Oopjaiy = arises. 2.

MEANING: Love for anything else is not more than running around for Maya unless there is love for Waheguru. Captivated by Maya, the human mind does not see or listen to (anything about Waheguru). (Because Waheguru is formless, and one cannot see him), man is blind to His existence; so how can he love Him because love for Waheguru's Naam does not take root in his mind unless he sees Him. However, the same Waheguru gives the "eyes" to the devotee (enlightens their mind), who had taken them away in the first place, by instilling love for Maya in their mind, oh Nanak. 2.

ਪਉੜੀ॥ ਹਰਿ ਇਕੋ ਕਰਤਾ ਇਕੁ ਇਕੋ ਦੀਬਾਨੁ ਹਰਿ॥ ਹਰਿ ਇਕਸੈ ਦਾ ਹੈ ਅਮਰੁ ਇਕੋ ਹਰਿ ਚਿਤਿ ਧਰਿ॥ ਹਰਿ ਤਿਸੁ ਬਿਨੁ ਕੋਈ ਨਾਹਿ ਡਰੁ ਭ੍ਰਮੁ ਭਉ ਦੂਰਿ ਕਰਿ॥ ਹਰਿ ਤਿਸੈ ਨੋ ਸਾਲਾਹਿ ਜਿ ਤੁਧੁ ਰਖੈ ਬਾਹਰਿ ਘਰਿ॥ ਹਰਿ ਜਿਸ ਨੋ ਹੋਇ ਦਇਆਲੁ ਸੋ ਹਰਿ ਜਪਿ ਭਉ ਬਿਖਮੁ ਤਰਿ॥1॥

Paurri: Hur(i) ikko kerta Ikk(u), ikko deebaan(u) Hur(i). Hur(i) ikksaiy da haiy amar(u), ikko Hur(I) chit(i) dhur(i). Hur(i) tis(u) bin(u) koyee nahay, dur(u) bherm(u) bhaou door(i) kur(i). Word Meaning: Kerta = creator. Deebaan(u) = court; judge. Amar(u) = Huqam = command. Chit(i) = in mind. Bherm(u) = doubts. Bikhum(u) = difficult (to swim the world-sea).

MEANING: Waheguru is the only creator (of the universe), and He is the only judge. Waheguru is the only King who is commanding everywhere; so, keep only Him in mind, oh man. There is none other than Waheguru (that has powers like Him), so, clear all your fears and doubts about Him, oh man. Praise only Waheguru, who protects you outside (in the world) and inside (in your mind). Those who are kind to Waheguru swim across the difficult (sea of Maya) and are salvaged. 1.

Sloak M:1: Daateen Sahib sundiyaan kiya chulaiy Tis(u) naal(i). Ikk jaagunday na lehun(i), ikkna sootiyaan dayay ootthaal(i) . 1.

Word Meaning: Daateen = gifts; largesse. Sundiyaan = of. Kiya Chulaiy = what power (one has). Lehun(i) = receive; acquire.

MEANING: All the gifts (especially His Naam) are in the control of Waheguru (provided by Waheguru); man has no power to argue with Him (about receiving the gifts). Some are awake (visibly) yet (mentally asleep), so they do not receive them (His Naam); while He awakens (enlightens) some sleeping (unaware of His gifts) individuals, and gives (the gift of His Naam) to them. 1.

ਮ:1 ॥ ਸਿਦਕੁ ਸਬੂਰੀ ਸਾਦਿਕਾ ਸਬਰੁ ਤੋਸਾ ਮਲਾਇਕਾ॥ ਦੀਦਾਰੁ ਪੂਰੇ ਪਾਇ ਸਾ ਥਾਉ ਨਾਹੀ ਖਾਇਕਾ॥2॥

M:1: Siduk(u) suboori saadikaan, subur(u) toasa mlaayaykaan. Deedaar(u) Pooray payay sa, thaoun naahi khaayaykaan. 2.
Word Meaning: Siduk(u) = faith. Suboori = contentment. Saadikaan = having faith. Subur(u) = patience. Toasa = food and money for journey. Mlaayaykaan = devotees; holy men. Sa = they. Khaayaykaan = those who just talk big.
MEANING: Faith, contentment, and patience are the food and money for the journey (to union with Waheguru) for the faithful devotees; they get the sight of the Perfect (Waheguru) (achieve union with Him), whereas those who only talk big find no room in Waheguru's Palace. 2.

ਪਉੜੀ ॥ ਸਭ ਆਪੇ ਤੁਧੁ ਉਪਾਇਕੈ ਆਪਿ ਕਾਰੈ ਲਾਈ॥ ਤੂੰ ਆਪੇ ਵੇਖਿ ਵਿਗਸਦਾ ਆਪਣੀ ਵਡਿਆਈ॥ ਹਰਿ ਤੁਧਹੁ ਬਾਹਰਿ ਕਿਛੁ ਨਾਹੀ ਤੂੰ ਸਚਾ ਸਾਈ॥ ਤੂੰ ਆਪੇ ਆਪਿ ਵਰਤਦਾ ਸਭਨੀ ਹੀ ਥਾਈ॥ ਹਰਿ ਤਿਸੈ ਧਿਆਵਹੁ ਸੰਤ ਜਨਹੁ ਜੋ ਲਏ ਛਡਾਈ॥ 2॥
Paurri: Subh aapay Toodh(u) oopayaykaiy, Aap(i) kaaraiy laayee. Toon aapay vaykh(i) vigsuda,, aapni vudiyayee. Hur(i) toodhoun baahur(i) kichh(u) naahi Toon Sacha Saayee. Toon aapay hee aap(i) vertda, subhnee hee thaayeen. Hur(i) Tisaiy dhiaavhou sunt junhou jo luyay chhudayee. 2.
Word Meaning: Oopayaykaiy = having created. Kaaraiy = in (worldly) business. Vigsuda = feels elated. Vertda = operates. Luyay Chhudayee = frees from the bonds of Maya; salvages.
MEANING: Having created the world, You put everybody in worldly business (involving Maya), oh Waheguru. You feel elated to watch the world, which is your wonderful creation! There is nothing beyond Your control; You are the eternal Lord, oh Waheguru. You alone are operating everywhere. Recite the Naam of Waheguru, who protects you from the bonds of Maya, (salvages you), oh holy men. 2.

Sloak M:1: Phukkurr(u) jaati phukkurr(u) naoun. Subhna jeaan ikka chhaoun. Aap-houn jay koyee bhula kuhaayay. Nanak ta pur(u) jaapaiy, ja put(i) laykhaiy paayay. 1.
Word Meaning: Phukkurr(u) = joke; baseless. Naaoun = status in society. Chhaoun = protection; support. Put(i) = dignity.
MEANING: The pride of caste, or of the status in society, is a joke (is baseless) because all human beings have the support (protection) of the same God. Self - proclamation of being kind or respectable, is again a joke, because one is respectable only if he is recognized as such (in Waheguru's Court), oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ: 2॥ ਜਿਸੁ ਪਿਆਰੇ ਸਿਉ ਨੇਹੁ ਤਿਸੁ ਆਗੈ ਮਰਿ ਚਲੀਐ॥ ਧ੍ਰਿਗੁ ਜੀਵਣੁ ਸੰਸਾਰਿ ਤਾ ਕੈ ਪਾਛੈ ਜੀਵਣਾ॥ 2॥
M:2: Jis(u) piyaray siyoun nayhou, tis(u) aagaiy mur(i) chulliyaiy. Dhrig(u) jeevun(u) sunsaar(i), ta kaiy paachhaiy jeevna. 2.
Word Meaning: Siyoun = with. Nayhou = Love. Dhrig(u) = condemnable.
MEANING: The true test of love for someone is to offer everything, including one's life, to the beloved. It is condemnable for the person claiming love to live in the world without caring for the beloved.
NOTE: It appears that Guru Angad Dev Ji is referring to Guru Nanak Sahib.

ਪਉੜੀ॥ ਤੁਧੁ ਆਪੇ ਧਰਤੀ ਸਾਜੀਐ ਚੰਦੁ ਸੂਰਜੁ ਦੁਇ ਦੀਵੈ॥ ਦਸ ਚਾਰਿ ਹਟ ਤੁਧੁ ਸਾਜਿਆ ਵਾਪਾਰੁ ਕਰੀਵੈ॥ ਇਕਨਾ ਨੋ ਹਰਿ ਲਾਭੁ ਦੇਇ ਜੋ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਥੀਵੈ॥ ਤਿਨ ਜਮਕਾਲੁ ਨ ਵਿਆਪਈ ਜਿਨ ਸਚੁ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤੁ ਪੀਵੈ॥ ਓਇ ਆਪਿ ਛੁਟੇ ਪਰਵਾਰ ਸਿਉ ਤਿਨ ਪਿਛੈ ਸਭੁ ਜਗਤੁ ਛੁਟੀਵੈ॥ 3॥

Paurri: Toodh(u) aapay dherti saajiyaiy, Chund(u) Sooruj(u) doyay deevaiy. Dus- chaar(i) hut Toodh(u) saajiya, vapaar(u) kreevaiy. Ikkna nu Hur(i) laabh(u) dayay, jo Gurmukh(i) theevaiy. Word Meaning: Saajiyaiy = has created. Dus-chaar(i) = ten plus four = 14 (layers of the universe – a Muslim belief). Hut = shops; business centres (worlds). Kureevaiy = to do (business). Theevaiy = became. Jumkaal = Angel of death. Viyaapyee = affects. Pervaar = family (devotees in contact). Siyoun = with. 3.

MEANING: You alone created the Earth, the moon and the sun, as two lamps, oh Waheguru. You created fourteen worlds as business centres (for humans) to do business in Waheguru's Naam. Those whom You guide to take the Guru's shelter earn the benefit (wealth of Your Naam). Those who drink the Amrit of Your Naam are not tormented by the Angel of death. They find salvation along with their families (devotees who sing Waheguru's praise in their company). In fact, the whole world can benefit from them to find salvation. 3.

Word Meaning: Vusiya = is present. Vukht(u) = time; opportunity. Veechaaray = makes good use of. Bunda = servant (devotee). Shureh Shreeut(i) = Muslim way of life. Bin(u) Boojhaiy = without understanding (enlightenment). Siduk(u) = faith. Sijda = bowing. Mukhsood(u) = aim. Dhir(i) = direction. Moujood(u) = present.

MEANING: Having created the universe, God makes it His home (is present everywhere). The man, who realizes that human life is an opportunity to be "one" with Waheguru (and recites His Naam), is the real devotee (successful in his objective). Nature is certainly there, but we do not value (fully appreciate) it. Even if someone values it, they cannot describe it. A Muslim who simply follows the rituals of the Religion (does not gain anything spiritually); so, how can he swim across the sea of Maya? Rather than simply bowing to Him in a ritualistic way, the real Muslim is the one who has full faith in Allah, and who also is able to control his mind - the aim of his life. At that point, he will find Allah in every direction wherever he looks. 1.

M:3: Gur subha ayve na paayiyaiy, na nayrraiy, na door(i). Nanak Satgur ta milaiy jay mun(u) ruhay hudoor(i).

Word Meaning: Gur Subha = Guru's company (shelter). Hudoor(i) = close to.

MEANING: One does not realize Guru's shelter (connection with Him) by simply being physically close to Him (physical nearness or separation makes no difference). One realizes the Guru only by being mentally close to Him (focusing the mind on Him).

Word Meaning: Supt = seven. Nuv Khund = the nine regions of the earth. Dus-asht = ten and eight = 18. Vertda = operates. Bhaana = is liked. Saarungpaana = who holds a bow in his hands (a name for Waheguru). Choaj Vidaana = amazing feats.

MEANING: You are operating in all the seven continents, the seven oceans, the nine regions of the earth, in the four Vedas, and the eighteen Puranas; and are liked by everyone, oh Waheguru. All the living beings worship You. I am a sacrifice to all those who worship You under the guidance of the Guru. It is an amazing feat of Yours that You operate imperceptibly everywhere. 4.

Word Meaning: Kulou = pen. Musaajni = inkpot. Sudayiyaiy = call for.

MEANING: Do not call for a pen and an inkpot; write (Waheguru's Naam) on your heart, oh man. Love for Waheguru never fades if one leads their life imbued in His love. Pen and inkpot are perishable, and so is the writing on it; but love for Waheguru is never lost that He has written on someone's mind right from the beginning, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Viopaayay = verify. Drirraya = reiterate. Pullaiy Paayay = receives.

MEANING: You can confirm by testing that nothing visible accompanies you (when you leave the world). (To be accepted in Waheguru's Court), One should focus one's mind on Waheguru's Naam as reiterated by Satguru. Sach(u) (Waheguru) can be realized by the Guru's Shabad, which one receives (implants in mind) by His kindness. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhayt(u) = secrets. Vigsayt(u) = blissful. Sacha = just. Niyayoun = judgment. Kayt(u) = why; what for. Sach(i) = in the True (Waheguru). Rulayt(u) = mix completely; become one with.
MEANING: You are present outside (in the world), and inside the minds of people; so. You know all the secrets of their minds, oh Waheguru. Whatever a man does (even thinks of doing) is known to Waheguru, so recite His Naam, oh my mind. The sinner has to be fearful of Waheguru; a devotee on the righteous path is blissful. When Waheguru is just and delivers justice, why should one be afraid? Those who recognize the Just Waheguru (connect with Him) become "one" with Him, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Sun(u) = including; along with. Dooja Bhao = love for the other (Maya). Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Uver(u) = other; else.
MEANING: The pen, the inkpot, and the paper should all burn down, including the writer who writes love for anything else (Maya) (other than Waheguru). (But no one can be blamed for his bad deeds) because he does only what he is predestined to do, oh Nanak. 1.
NOTE: A man's thinking (mind-set) is predetermined based on his deeds of previous lives. One cannot change that on his own. Only the Guru can change that.

Word Meaning: Koorr(u) = worthless (for spirituality). Vin(u) = without; except. Thir = stable; immortal. Khooaar(u) = suffer without any achievement.
MEANING: Whatever one reads or talks about is useless if it involves love for Maya. Nothing lives forever except Waheguru's Naam. Reading about anything else causes only humiliation for the reader (in Waheguru's Court), oh Nanak. 2.

Hur(i) kee vudiyayee vudi haiy, ja na soonyee kuhiya choogal ka. Hur(i) kee vudyaayee vudi haiy, apoochhiya daan(u) dayvka. 6.
Word Meaning: Vudiyaayee = adulation; magnanimity. Dherm Ka = based on noble principles (righteousness). Jea Ka Ful(u) = result of one's deeds (or thoughts). Choogul = slanderer. Apoochhiya = unasked.

MEANING: Adulating Waheguru and singing His praise are supreme. Waheguru's magnanimity is supreme because His justice is based on noble principles. Waheguru's magnanimity is supreme because He rewards one based on his deeds or thoughts (and there is no injustice). Waheguru's magnanimity is supreme because He does not listen to a slanderer. Waheguru's magnanimity is supreme, because He provides (fulfils the needs of everybody) even without asking. 6.

Word Meaning: Houn, Houn = I and only I (selfishness). Sumpou = wealth. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Johi = warned. Jumkaal(i) = Angel of death.
MEANING: The whole world is dying in selfishness, yet wealth accompanies nobody. The world suffers because of its love for the other (Maya), and is being warned (being watched closely) by the Angel of Death. The devotees are saved because of their worship of Waheguru's Naam in the Guru's shelter. 1.

Word Meaning: Aachaareen = character wise. Kusoodha Kaaliyaan = impure; black; evil-minded. Chitviyaan = polished; noble-looking. Reesaan = emulate. Tinaarriyaan = of those. Dur(u) khurriyaan = waiting at the door (with dedication). Ruttiyaan = imbued. Nitaaniyaan = powerless. Nimaananiyaan = without ego. Skaartha = successful. 2.
MEANING: We are good at conversation, but are bad character-wise. We look noble from the outside, but are evil at heart. We try to emulate those devotees who serve (Waheguru) with dedication. Imbued in the love of the Lord, the devotees enjoy the comfort of being with Him. The devotees have all the power, but act as if they are powerless, and stay humble (have no ego). Word Meaning: Meena = fish. Vutaayaynda = cast; throw. Saybaal(u) = green algae (bait for the fish). Ulipt = unaffected. Saiy Huthaan = in hundred and fifty feet (in deep waters); among countless attractions of Maya. Goolaal(u) = beautiful flower. Mookt(i) = free (from the bonds of Maya). Nimukh= ghurree = a moment. Nihaal(u) = blissful.

MEANING: (Being present in each and every thing) You are the water, the fish, and the net, oh Waheguru. You cast the net Yourself, and Yourself are the green algae (bait for the fish), oh Waheguru. Like the lotus flower, which stays unaffected by many other living things in deep water, You stay majestically unaffected by countless attractions of Maya. You Yourself cut the bonds of Maya for those who think of You even for a moment, oh Waheguru. There is nothing beyond Your control. Word Meaning: Huqam = Will; Command; Laws. Dhokha = dhookh dhookha = unrest. Dhun = human bride. Rujaayee= according to the Will. Dur(i) = Ghur(i) = Mehl = Waheguru's residence. Kermeen = kindness; blessing.
MEANING: Those who do not recognize the Will of Waheguru suffer a lot. There is unrest in their mind, and they cannot sleep well. If the human bride leads her life by the Will of God, she is invited to Waheguru's residence (gets connected with Him), and is praised (loved) by Him. But one acquires such wisdom (to obey Waheguru) only by His benediction. With the Guru's blessings, the individual becomes "one" with Waheguru. 1.

Word Meaning: Manmukh = follower of mind; Maya-engrossed. Vihooniya = devoid of. Kusoombha = an attractive, colourful flower which dies out quickly (it is used as a metaphor for Maya, which is also attractive but short-lived). Chhoccha = of no value. Puch(i) = suffering. Bishta = crap. Keet = tiny worms. Vaaro Vaar = again and again. Rungulay = pretty; lovable. Sehj(i) = high spiritual state. Soobhayay = in love.
MEANING: Do not make the mistake of falling in love with the attractive kusoombha flower (Maya), oh, the follower of your mind, and devoid of Waheguru's Naam, man. Its beauty lasts only for a short while, and it has no value (other utility). (Maya is just like the ksoombha flower, which lasts for a short time) So, those who indulge in Maya are foolish, ignorant, unrefined, and suffer again and again like the tiny worms in crap. Those who are imbued in the Naam are truly pretty people (in the mind); in the love of the Guru, they enjoy the bliss of a high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Their love of devotion never dies, and they always stay in a high spiritual state. 2.

Word Meaning: Sist(i) = world. Rijk(u) = daily needs. Sumbhaaya = delivers. Vul(u) Chul(u) = by deceitful methods; by hook or by crook. Koosutt(u) = lies. Dhaaya = controlled; made their business. Bhaavaiy = as per (His) wish. Ootaiy = the same. Atoot Bhundaar = inexhaustible resources. Chayt(i) = remember. Achayta = do not remember. Tudaaya = spread hands to beg.

MEANING: You have created the world all by Yourself, and You deliver the necessities to fulfil the daily needs of Your creation, oh Waheguru. Many people acquire wealth by deceitful means and by telling lies, which has become their routine business. However, they do only those things for which they are predestined by Your Will (based on the deeds of their previous lives). Those who have been enlightened (by the Guru) enjoy unlimited resources (they reach a state of contentment where they feel the bliss of every comfort). Word Meaning: Vukhaneh(i) = explain. Sooayay = for the purpose of. Doojaiy bhaayay = in love for the other (Maya). Visariya = dropped from mind. Pind(u) = body. Kubhoon Na = never. Phaha = noose. Aavaiy Jaayay = comes and goes (is born and dies). Soojhaiy = realize. Poorub(i) Likhiya = predestined. Vihaayay = is spent.

MEANING: The pundit studies and explains the Vedas for the sole purpose of acquiring money. He drops Waheguru's Naam from his mind in his love for Maya, as a result of which, the foolish follower of his mind is punished. He never remembers Waheguru, who has given him life and body, and who provides him with food and other necessities. The noose of the Angel of Death is never cut from around his neck, and he is reborn again and again. The mentally blind follower of his mind does not understand reality and keeps following the predestined path of life. However, with good fortune, one is connected with Satguru, who is the source of all comfort, and with whose grace, Waheguru's Naam takes residence in his heart. Then he enjoys all the comforts in every situation, so much so that he feels comfortable even in wearing low-quality clothes, and his whole life is spent in such comfort. I pray that I should never forget Waheguru's Naam, which earns respect in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Goontaas(u) = treasure of all virtues (God). Puchhaniya = recognized; realized. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Vuday = the Supreme (Waheguru) Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Sift(i) = praise. Nivaas(u) = residence. Sunjum(u) = control on desires. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Vinaas(u) = destruction. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's eternal Naam is the treasure of all virtues, and can be acquired by serving (obeying) Satguru. One recognizes oneself by following the advice of the Guru when his mind is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam. Man's duty is to lead an honest life, keeping Waheguru in mind all the time; however, the recognition of one's deeds is in the hands of the supreme Waheguru. Waheguru has given life and body to us; our main objective should be just to sing His praise, which can be sung by Satguru's Shabad only, and because of which the individual's life is spent in comfort. Such an individual needs no ritualistic rendering of any mantras, self-torture, or need to put in any special effort to control his desires, as the devotee is already exercising them in his mind (they are subsumed in Waheguru's Naam). Life is condemnable without Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized by following the advice of the Guru, but the spirituality of the follower of his mind is crushed in worldly attachments. Kindly protect me from worldly attachments as You please, oh Waheguru, prays Your slave, (Guru) Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Baajhoun = without. Nirjaas(u) = verify.

MEANING: Everybody is Yours, and You belong to everybody, and Your Naam is the capital for investment (to acquire noble qualities), oh Waheguru. Everybody prays to You all the time for the fulfillment of their needs. You are close to some and far away from others; the individual whom You choose to give to receives everything. There is no place other than You from where one can ask for (the fulfilment of their needs); if someone does not believe it, he can verify it himself. Everybody praises You, but only the true devotees are enlightened at Your Door (in Your shelter), oh Waheguru. 9.

Word Meaning: Kookda = reads in very loud voice. Cheenyee = recognizes. Gaavaar = unrefined. Perbodh-da = preaches. Birtha = empty; useless.

MEANING: In the love for money, the pundit reads the Vedas to the people in a very loud voice. The foolish and the unrefined do not recognize Waheguru inside them. In the love for Maya, he preaches the world, but does not realize the reality (Truth) himself. He wastes away his precious human life and is reborn again and again. 1.

Word Meaning: Boojhou = find out. Shaant(i) = peaceful. Chookaiy = ends. Kook Pookaar = beg loudly for help. Ruttay = imbued. Mookt(u) = emancipation. Hayt(i) = for.

MEANING: Careful searching reveals that only those who realize Waheguru's Naam serve Satguru. They are always at peace and are blissful in mind; all their loud prayers and begging are over. By pondering (and acting) on the Guru's Shabad, one is able to kill his selfishness when his mind becomes pure. Those who are imbued with Guru's Shabad and have love for Waheguru attain freedom from the bonds of Maya (attain emancipation), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Suful = bears fruit; results in success. Paavaiy Thaayayn = is recognized (rewarded). Mun Hutth(i) = obstinacy of mind; stubbornness.

MEANING: Service to Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru bears fruit and is rewarded. Those who love Waheguru are connected to the Guru and recite Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru is realized by acting on Guru's Shabad, who (Waheguru) ferries them across the sea of Maya. Nobody has ever realized Waheguru with the stubbornness of his mind (with his own efforts), even the Vedas testify to this fact. Only those serve Waheguru who are prompted by Him to do so, oh Nanak. 10.

Nanak bin(u) Naavaiy subh(u) dookh(u), sookh(u) visariya. 1.

Word Meaning: Soora = Vuriyam(u) = valiant; gallant. Doosht(u) = evil. Ahunkern(u) = conceit; ego. Suvaariya = made virtuous. Kool(u) = clan; accompanying devotees. Nistaariya = salvaged. Sohun(i) = look attractive; look dignified. Khusm(u) = Lord (Waheguru). Visaariya = forgotten.

MEANING: The real valiant is the one who eradicates (overcomes) his evil ego, oh Nanak. The devotee of the Guru makes his life beautiful by praising Waheguru's Naam. Not only does he become free from the bonds of Maya, but he also salvages all those devotees who join his company. In love with Waheguru's Naam, they are highly exalted in Waheguru's Court (honoured there). The followers of their mind die in conceit, thereby defiling (ruining) their death too (because they will be punished). But such individuals cannot be solely blamed for their acts because they are helpless against Waheguru's Huqam which is prevailing everywhere (they are predestined to follow the path of love for Maya). They indulge in Maya, and forget Waheguru completely. It is all discomfort without Waheguru's Naam; the comfort forgets (by-passes) them, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Drirraaya = reinforced. Bherm(u) = doubt; uncertainty. Chookaaya = removed. Keerut(i) = praise; adoration. Mug(u) = path. Liv = connection; concentration on. Joh(i) = watch (critically). Khin(u) = quickly.

MEANING: The Perfect Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam among the devotees, whereby all their doubts are cleared. The Guru lightens up the path (for union with Waheguru) by singing praise of Waheguru's Naam. He kills selfishness and ego from the minds of His Sikhs, as a result of which, they get connected with Waheguru, and the Naam takes residence in their hearts. Following the advice of the Guru, the devotees get absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and the Angel of Death cannot keep a watchful eye on them. The Creator, Waheguru, is everywhere, and He makes His favourites recite His Naam. I live (spiritually) only as long as I recite Waheguru's Naam; the moment I am without His Naam, I experience (spiritual) death, oh Nanak. 2

Word Meaning: Deebaan(u) = court; ruler. Siyoun = with. Miliya = honoured. Soorkhroo = clear; cannot be questioned for anything. Pervuriya = transformed. Kilvikh = sins. Hiriya = removed. usthir = immortal MEANING: The individual, who is honoured in Waheguru's Court, is honoured in all other courts. Nobody questions him, no matter where he goes, and the sinners are salvaged by his holy sight (they are so enchanted by his preaching that they start to recite Waheguru's Naam). He is completely transformed into a holy man because of the treasure of Waheguru's Naam inside him. We, too, should worship Waheguru's Naam and obey Him so as to get rid of all our sins. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration become immortal in the world. 11.

Nanak maiyla oojul(u) ta theeyay, ja Satgur maah(i) smaayay. 1.

Word Meaning: Aatma Dayo = light of soul (Waheguru). Sehj (i) = blissfulness state of mind; high spiritual state. Soobhayay = with love. Perteet(i) = full faith. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Percha = gets attracted to. Udoal = unwavering. Utth-sutth(i) = sixty-eight (Hindu hoy places). Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Oojul(u) = clean.

MEANING: One should worship God with an unwavering mind and with love for the Guru. When one acquires full faith in the Supreme Soul (Waheguru), he gets attracted to (and makes a connection with) Waheguru in his own mind. With love for the Guru, one's soul (mind) becomes blissful, and one's mind does not waver. One's filth of greed does not go away without the Guru, and his mind does not acquire peace. If Waheguru's Naam is implanted in one's mind even for a short moment, he does not need to take dip in any of the sixty-eight Hindu holy places. The human mind becomes filthy only when it has love for Maya; a devotee who is "one" with Waheguru never has the filth of greed on his mind. And the filth of the mind can never be washed by pilgrimage, even if one takes a dip in all the holy places. The follower of his mind performs deeds under the influence of the ego, thereby earning discomfort all the way. A filthy mind can be cleansed only if one surrenders to the Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

Gur Persaadi mun(u) jinaiy, Hur(i) sayti liv laayay. Nanak Gurmukh(i) Sach(u) kmaavaiy, munmukh(i) aavaiy jaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Kud-houn = when? (never). Rulaiy = mingle with. Puyya Kirt(i) = character based on previous deeds. Liv = focus (on Waheguru's Naam); Dhaat(u) = love for Maya. Kusvutti = touchstone. Jhuggrra = struggle. Suth company; co-operation. Munjh = in. Luhaiy = acquires. Soobhaayay = with good intentions. Bhoonchiyaiy = enjoy. Loojhna = fight. Hutth(i) = stubbornness. Koorr(u) Koosut(i) = lies; mundane stuff. Jinaiy = win over. Sayti = with.

MEANING: If a follower of his mind is given advice (to do noble deeds), he will never accept the advice. Even if you try hard, such a man will not mingle with Waheguru's devotees and will keep following the predestined path of life. There are two ways to live – connecting with Waheguru and running around for Maya. Everybody follows the path as per the Will of God for them. A devotee controls his mind by following the Guru's Shabad, which serves as a touchstone for his mind. A devotee struggles with his mind, seeks its co-operation, and gets absorbed in it (i.e., conquers it.) Following on Guru's Shabad with a clean mind, a man can acquire anything he wishes for. If a man spends his life as per the Guru's advice, he always enjoys the taste of immortalizing Waheguru's Naam. An individual who fights over mundane things rather than using his mind wastes away his precious life. The followers of their mind lose because of their stubbornness, and deal only in lies and mundane stuff. The only way to win over the mind (control it) is to concentrate on Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. A devotee deals in Truth (and becomes "one" with Waheguru), while the follower of his mind is reborn again, and again, oh Nanak. 2.

Udisht(u) Agochar(u) Alukh(u) Nirunjun(u), so daykhiya Gurmukh(i) aankhi. 12.

Word Meaning: Sunt = saint; holy people. Saakhi = advice. Dhoor(i) Bhaag(u) = predestined fortune. Mustik(i) = forehead. Amrit = immortalizing. Srayshut = Ootum = supreme. Sehjay = with a peaceful mind. Chaakhi = tasted. Kiraakhi = pulls out. Udisht(u) = invisible. Agochar(u) = unreachable. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Nirunjun = beyond the effects of Maya.

MEANING: Listen to the advice of the Guru, oh holy men - the devotees of Waheguru. Those who have fortune prewritten on their forehead keep the advice of the Guru safely in their mind. The immortalizing story of Waheguru (His praise) is supreme, and one can taste it with a peaceful mind (above the effects of Maya) in the form of Guru's Shabad. The darkness of such a mind is pulled out (dispelled) by enlightenment just as the sun pulls out the darkness of night. A true devotee can "see" the otherwise invisible, unreachable, and incomprehensible Waheguru, which is beyond the effects of Maya. 12.

Word Meaning: Laykhaiy Laayay = considered worthy. Rehn(i) = stay. Sach(i) = (with) Waheguru. Liv Laayay = focused mind. Birtha = empty; waste.

MEANING: Only the mind that serves Satguru is considered worthy. Such individuals overcome selfishness and stay connected with Waheguru with a focused mind. Those who do not serve Satguru waste away their human life. But they cannot be blamed completely, because they do only what the Will of Waheguru dictates, and nobody can do anything about that (change it), oh Nanak.

Jup(u) tup(u) sunjum(u) bhaana Satguru ka, kermi pullaiy paayay. Nanak sayva soort(i) kumaavni, jo Hur(i) bhaavaiy so thaayayn paayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Vakaareen = in immoral affairs. Vayhrriya = gripped by. Ugiyani = ignorant. Aatum Dayo = Waheguru. Boojh = understanding. Jup(u) = ritualistic recitation of some Mantra to please some god. Tup(u) = self-torture to please some god. Sunjum(u) = stubborn effort to control desires. Pullaiy Paayay = receive; acquire. Thaayayn Paayay = is credited with; is rewarded.

MEANING: Man's mind is gripped by immoral deeds. The ignorant worships (some deity) for the love of Maya, and is consequently punished in Waheguru's Court. The only power to worship is Waheguru, but we do not get this realization without Satguru. There is no need for any jup(u), tup(u) or sunjum(u) if one obeys Waheguru's Huqam; but that happens only by the benevolence of Satguru. One's duty is to recite Waheguru's Naam with full dedication, but only those are rewarded who are liked by Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Simrut = recitation (of Naam). Kikvikh = Paap = sins. Luhaati = removed. Daalud = poverty. Bhookh = appetite; desires.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam, which produces comfort day and night, oh my mind. Recite Waheguru's Naam, which removes all the sins, all poverty, all discomforts, and all desires, oh my mind. Recite Waheguru's Naam by the tongue in Satguru's shelter, which will produce love for Waheguru, oh my mind. Only those who recite Waheguru's Naam with the tongue for whom Waheguru has prewritten fortune (to recite His Naam). 13.

Word Meaning: Lukh Chaurasee = the 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu belief). Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Kerm(i) = by the benevolence of the Guru. Soyay = God.

MEANING: Those who do not serve Satguru (obey His advice), and do not ponder on His Shabad, are ignorant, and are (spiritually) dead in the world. They suffer after death and go through the 8.4 million life forms. However, only those who serve Satguru are prompted to do so by Him. Satguru is the treasure of Waheguru's Naam, but only those who are kind to Waheguru have access to it. Those who are imbued with the Guru's eternal Shabad are truly connected with Waheguru. Those who are connected to Him by the grace of God remain in a high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), and they never get separated from Him. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhugouti = devotee. Bhugvantaiy = God. Dhaavut(u) = fast running - around mind. Ikutt(u) Ghur(i) = stable mind. Jeevut(u) muraiy = dead (for worldly desires). Vukhaanaiy = explains; recites. Ootum(u) = supreme.
MEANING: A true devotee is the one who realizes Waheguru and recognizes the self by the benevolence of the Guru. He recites Waheguru's Naam and controls his wavering mind so strongly that it seems to be dead from worldly desires. Such a devotee is supreme, and becomes "one" with God, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Untar(i) = inside. Kupt(u) = deceit; guile. Pakhund(i) = by faking; by hypocrisy. Ninda = unwarranted malicious criticism. Mul(u) = filth. Jootth(i) = slop; filth; treachery. Baad(u) = destructive discussion. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Ruchaayay = deal in. kerm = rituals. Moakh(u) = salvation. 3.
MEANING: There are some who call themselves devotees, but have deceit in their minds. They cannot realize Waheguru by such hypocrisy. They acquire filth in their minds by maliciously criticizing others. They can't wash off their bodily filth by taking a dip in water or otherwise, but the filth of their mind cannot be washed away by water (even if it's holy water). Their dealings are for the love of Maya, so they engage in destructive discussions with the holy congregation and suffer day and night. They perform many rituals (to show off) but never remember Waheguru. However, the prewritten nature of individuals cannot be erased; without serving Satguru, one cannot get salvation, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Dhiyaya = worship; recited (the Naam); obeyed. Kurrh(i) = grumble; get irritated; complain in dissatisfaction. Na Svaahi = Na Subaahi = not in early morning; never. Triput(i) Aghaayee = contented. Kirpal(u) = kind. Aithaiy = here (in this world). Oathaiy = there (next world). Paindhay = are robed (honoured).
MEANING: Those who worship Satguru do not grumble (get irritated) in the early mornings of the day (any time). Those who worship Waheguru are content and have no fear of the Angel of Death. Those who take shelter of Satguru are kind to Waheguru. Their faces shine

(with piety of mind) in this world and the next. They are honoured in the next world (Waheguru's Court) upon arrival. 14.

Word Meaning: Saayeen = Lord (Waheguru). Nivaiy = bow; kneel down. Daar(i) = cut and throw. Pinjur = skeleton; body. Birha = pain of separation. Jaar(i) = burn.

MEANING: The head that does not bow to the Lord deserves to be cut and thrown away. The human body, that has no pain of separation (from Waheguru), deserves to be burned down, oh Nanak. 1.

M:5: Moondhoun bhooli Nanaka, phir(i) phir(i) junum(i) mooya su. Kustoori kay bholrray gunday doom(i) puyaa su. 2.

Word Meaning: Moondhoun = from the very start. Bhooli = misled. Su = that. Kustoori = musk. Bholrray = mistakenly. Gunday = dirty. Doom(i) = deep water pit.

MEANING: A man, who is misled right from the start (birth) (loves Maya rather than Waheguru), is like the one who jumps into a pit of dirty water, mistaking it for musk, and takes birth, and dies, again and again. 2.

Word Meaning: Aisa = such; that. Dhiyayiyaiy = recite; worship. Untee= last; at the end. Ausur(i) = time. Chhudayay = gets free. Trishna = desires; appetite to acquire more and more. Ninduk = malicious critics. Doosht = evil people. Aaradh(i) = worship.

MEANING: Worship the Naam(u) of such Waheguru who rules over everybody, oh my mind. Worship the Naam (sing praise) of that Waheguru which gets you free (from the bonds of Maya) at the end, and which kills your appetite for the worldly desires (discontentment), oh my mind. The highly lucky individuals worship the Naam of such Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, which forces all the malicious critics and the evil to drop on their (devotees') feet. Worship the Naam of the Waheguru, which is the greatest of all, and which forces everybody to bow to the Naam, oh Nanak. 15.

Word Meaning: Vays Kuraiy = dons different religious garbs. Kuroop(i) = ugly. Kulukhni = having evil qualities. Khotaiy = deceitful; devious. Koorriaar(i) = liars; dishonest. Bhaanaiy = Will. Nivaarunhaar(i) = remover; dissipater. Mayt(i) = erase; remove. Dhoor(i) = from the beginning. Sounpaiy = offer. Ridaiy = in heart (mind). Sooaliyo = pretty. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Sulukhni = virtuous. Raavi = enjoyed union; became connected. Sirjunhaar(i) = the Creator (Waheguru).

MEANING: The individuals who have deceit in their mind, but don a religious garb (to fool) people, are in fact ugly (unattractive), have evil qualities, and are liars and dishonest. They do not lead their lives according to the Will of Waheguru, and the unrefined order leads others to follow their own minds. But everybody's actions are controlled by their predestined fate as written by Waheguru; nobody can erase His Will. Those who follow the Guru's advice have all their troubles eradicated. They offer their mind and body to the husband, Waheguru, and develop love for the Guru's Shabad. Anyone who ponders deeply can realize that no one can connect with Waheguru without reciting His Naam. Only that human being is pretty and virtuous, whose dedication is enjoyed by (is connected to) Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Moh(u) = attachment. Goobaar(u) = darkness. Oorvaar(u) = the closer side. Paar(u) = the farther side. Ugiyani = ignorant; without knowledge. Maha = big. Visaar(i) = by forgetting. Bhulkay = early morning (everyday). Kerm = rituals. Kmaaveh(i) = perform. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Bhoujul(u) = the world sea. Sach(i) = in the eternal. Smaaveh(i) = get absorbed; merge into. Oordhaar(i) = by acquiring in mind.

MEANING: The attachment with Maya is such darkness that neither its closer side, nor its far side, is visible (has no end to it). By forgetting Waheguru (His Naam), the ignorant followers of their mind suffer a great deal, and drown in the world sea. Starting early in the morning, they perform a number of rituals, but all in the name of Maya (which pushes them even farther from God). But those who serve their Satguru get ferried across (the sea of Maya). The Gurmukhs acquire Waheguru's Naam in their mind, and become "one" with Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Muhiul(i) = sky. Bhurpoor(i) = filling completely. Koorriaar = lover of Maya; dishonest; deceitful. Kudhoyay = took out. Sachiyaar = pure-hearted; followers of the Guru. Niyaoun = justice. Dherm = based on high morals. Oostut(i) = praise. Anaath = orphans. Jaikaar = hail to. Dund(u) = punishment.
MEANING: Waheguru is filling all the oceans, the earth, and the sky with His presence (He is omnipresent), and there is none other like Him. Waheguru Himself does justice, and all dishonest people are killed spiritually and pulled out. (On the other hand), The honest people (Waheguru's devotees) are praised (honoured) because this is His justice based on the high moral principles. Everybody should sing Waheguru's praise, which protects the powerless and the orphans (who have no support). The virtuous are hailed, and the sinners are punished. 16.

Word Meaning: Mailee = filthy. Kaamni = woman. Kulukhni = having evil qualities. Koonaar(i) = bad (unfaithful) wife. Pir(u) = husband; Lord. Pur = other. Poorkhaiy = male; master. Trishna = appetite for desires. Juldi = burning; suffering. Kuroop(i) = Kusohni = ugly; unattractive; not worthy of love or liking. Bhataar(i) = husband.
NOTE: All human beings (male or female) are considered females, with Waheguru being the only male (Master or Lord) to express human love for God, or vice versa.
MEANING: A follower of his mind is like an unfaithful wife who is filthy with evil qualities, and who has left her own husband in love with some other male. Her desires are never fulfilled, as a result of which, she has a burning heart and raises hue and cry in suffering. Without Waheguru's Naam, she is unattractive and unworthy of Waheguru's love, and is like a wife who has been condemned by her husband. 1.

MEANING: An individual, who is imbued in Satguru's Shabad with deep love for Him, is the one who is truly married to Waheguru (connected with Him). Such an individual always enjoys the union with Him because of his true love for Waheguru. Such an individual is extremely beautiful and a praiseworthy wife. With Waheguru's Naam in the heart, she is connected with Waheguru with His grace, and is always loved by Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Oostut(i) = praise. Phaathay = caught in the net (of Maya). Kaadhiya = took out; cut free. Nimaaniya = prideless; powerless. Daadhi = tough; strict. Dadhiyaan = oppressors; tyrants. Moorr = foolish. Sadhiya = set straight; fixed. Anaathiya = orphans.

MEANING: Everybody sings Your praise because You cut the bonds of Maya, and free the devotees, oh Waheguru. Everybody bows to You because You protect the devotees from committing sins. Waheguru bestows dignity on the powerless, but is tough with the tyrants. Waheguru forces the conceited to bow, and fixes the foolish followers of their mind. God bestows honour on the poor and the supportless. 17.

Word Meaning: Bhaanaiy = as per His Will. Vudiyayee = respect; praise. Ootum(u) = supreme. Mayt(i) = erase; remove. Kerm(i) = benevolence. Kaarun(u) = resources. Vus(i) = (in His) control.

MEANING: The individual, who leads his life as per the Will of the Guru, earns great respect because Waheguru's supreme Naam(u) takes residence (is implanted) in his heart, and nobody can remove that respect for him. But only those individuals earn such respect who are blessed by Waheguru with His benevolence. Only a rare devotee realizes that Waheguru is the controller of all resources, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Aaradhiya = worshiped. Liv Taar = (with full) concentration. Bundi = slave. Khusm = master; Waheguru. Kmaavaiy Kaar = obeys command. Pooraiy = perfect (Waheguru). Svaarunhaar = perfectionist (Waheguru). Boojhiya = realized. Mokh = freedom from Maya. Jum Jundaar(u) = unkind angel of death. Bhoujul(u) = the world sea. Aougun = ill qualities. Bukhshunhaar = forgiving. 2.

MEANING: Those who worship Waheguru's Naam day and night with full concentration, enslave Maya, which obeys their command, oh Nanak. With His Command, the Perfect Waheguru makes such devotees perfect too. Those who realize this fact in the shelter of the Guru get freedom from the bonds of Maya. The followers of their mind do not recognize Waheguru's Will, and are punished by the unkind Angel of death. Those who worship Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru swim across the world-sea. All their bad qualities are replaced by noble qualities by the benevolence of the forgiving Waheguru. 2.

MEANING: The devotees have full faith that Waheguru is omniscient. Nobody is as great as Waheguru is; He always delivers justice. Why should anyone have heartburn due to any doubt, because Waheguru delivers no injustice. The perfect Lord delivers perfect judgment, and the sinners lose (are punished). Sing praise of Waheguru with folded hands, oh devotees; He always salvages His devotees. 18.

Word Meaning: Preetum = beloved. Oordhaar(i) = hold in heart. Hayt(i) = for. Soohaagun = married; beloved.
MEANING: I wish to be connected with my beloved (Waheguru) and hold Him in my heart. I wish to sing His praise constantly, with deep love for the Guru. However, Waheguru connects only those individuals whom He is kind to; and such an individual is a beloved of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nudr(i) = kind sight. Maanus = humans. Huray = Hur(i) = Waheguru. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Smaayayun = become one with.

MEANING: Those, on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight, serve the Guru and become "one" with Waheguru. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam(u) are transformed from humans to gods (Godlike). By following Guru's Shabad, their selfishness and ego are destroyed, and they swim across the sea of Maya, thereby becoming "one" with Waheguru. Because of Waheguru's benevolence, they attain a spiritual state above the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vaykhaaliun = shows. Purteet(i) = faith. Sayv Ghaaliun = performs tough service. Anund(u) = blissfulness. Thir(u) = stable. Ghureen = in hearts. Ghor(i) Nerk = torturous Hell. Ung(u) = favour. Nistaariun = salvages.
MEANING: Waheguru reveals His grandeur when He motivates people to worship Him. Being present in everybody, it is in fact Waheguru Himself, who shows faith in Him, and performs tough service (of worshiping Waheguru). He enables His devotees to control their minds, whereby they enjoy blissfulness. He does not provide the sinners the opportunity to stabilize their minds, as a result of which they are taken to a torturous Hell. Waheguru favours His devotees with love and salvages them. 19.

Word Meaning: Kooboodh(i) = evil thinking. Doomni = low caste. Kooduyya = ruthlessness; cruelty. Kusaayan(i) = butcher. Ninda = malicious criticism; to vilify. Ghut = heart. Choohrri = lowest caste. Mootthi = deceived; robbed. Krodh(i) = rage. Chundaal(i) = butcher; savage. Kaari = lines drawn. Sunjum = effort to control sensual pleasures. Naavun(u) = dip in holy waters. Ootum = superior. Pund(i) = advice.
NOTE: Brahmans, who considered themselves to be the elite (highest) class in society, observed some meaningless rituals to impress people with their cleanliness. Such rituals included pilgrimage, cleaning some area for their own cooking, drawing boundary lines for the area where nobody was allowed to enter, and so on. Guru Nanak Sahib ridiculed such hollow beliefs and advised them about what was really meaningful.
MEANING: Evil thinking is the true low caste, and cruelty is like being a butcher. Likewise, unwarranted, malicious criticism (vilification) of others is the lowest class in society, while rage is like a butcher who robs one of good qualities. So, what is the significance of rituals like taking a dip in holy places, and drawing boundary lines around the kitchen area when all four (above-mentioned) evil qualities accompany you, oh Brahman? (Guru Sahib advises that) Living a life of high morality is the real effort to control your sensual pleasures; noble deeds should serve as the boundary lines, and recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the true holy dip. Only that individual is considered superior (holy) in Waheguru's Court, who, unlike Brahmans, does not give evil advice to people, oh Nanak. 1.

M:1: Kiyya huns(u), kiyya bugula, ja kuou nudr(i) kuray. Jay Tis(u) bhaavaiy Nanaka, kaag-houn huns(u) kuray. 2.

Word Meaning: Huns = swan (an individual who follows the Guru's advice). Bugula = a heron (an imposter) because a heron looks like a swan from a distance. Kaag = a crow (a munmukh, who only follows his mind like a crow that makes no distinction between filth and good food).

MEANING: It does not make any difference whether it is a Gurmukh (a swan) or an imposter (a heron); if Waheguru wishes, He can transform even a crow (a manmukh) into a swan (a Gurmukh), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Lorriyaiy = wish. Aakhiyaiy = say to; pray to. Kaaruj = task. Svaar(i) = complete to perfection. Sakhiyaiy = advice. Bhaiy Bhunjun = destroyer of fears (God). Mehrvaan = kind (Waheguru). Ulukh(u) = incomprehensible.

MEANING: If you wish to have a task successfully completed, pray to Waheguru for it. Satguru's perfect advice leads to a perfect completion of the task. Taste Waheguru's Naam, which is the treasure of Amrit, in the company of the holy men, and pray to Waheguru as follows: protect your slave (from the evil bonds of Maya), oh the destroyer of all fears, Waheguru. One can realize the incomprehensible Waheguru by singing His virtuous qualities, oh Nanak. 20.

Word Meaning: Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Adhaar(u) = food; support. Dataar(u) = provider. Bulihari = sacrifice. Nirunkaar(u) = formless. Oojlaiy = shiny.

MEANING: The life (soul) and the body are all His (Waheguru's) gifts; He provides food to all living beings. So, we must serve (worship and obey) the eternal provider Waheguru, in the shelter (guidance) of the Guru, oh Nanak. I wish to sacrifice my life for those who worship the formless Waheguru. Their faces are always shiny (they are unblemished) and the whole world bows to them. 1.

Word Meaning: Oolti bhuyee = (mind) is turned around. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of Kuber (a mythical Hindu god). Attharah Sidhi = the 18 believed supernatural powers. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Unhud Dhooni = spiritual state in which a special type of uniform music is believed to be heard. Oonmun(i) = high spiritual state. Liv = complete focus. Dhoor(i) = from the beginning.

MEANING: When one is connected with Satguru, his mind is turned around (from Maya to Waheguru), as a result of which, all the nine (mythical) treasures of Kuber become available to the Sikh for spending and eating. All eighteen supernatural powers follow him (become his slaves), but he does not care for them as his mind stays within itself (quits wandering after worldly luxuries). In the high spiritual state, he can “listen” to the auto-playing divine music when fully connected with Waheguru. However, only those who are predestined to do so acquire Waheguru’s Naam in their hearts, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhaadhi = bard. Khusm = Master; Lord. Pookaar = loud request. Mookh(i) Laaya = allowed to “see”. Urth(i) = purpose. Pehnaaya = robed; honoured.

MEANING: I am a bard (singer of praise) of the Lord, Waheguru, and came to His Door (to beg). Waheguru heard my loud request inside and granted me the “see” of Him. He called me in and asked me the purpose of my visit. I begged, “Please, give the gift of Your Naam so that I may recite it all the time, oh kind God.” The kind Waheguru honoured me by giving me His Naam to recite, oh Nanak. 21. Verified.

Jun-ni = mother. Soot(u) = son. Avdh = age (life). Moar = mine. Paykhut = on seeing. Jumraou = the powerful Angel of death. 1. Bherm(i) = doubts; misbelief. Mohiya = enchanted; deceived. Bikhiya = poison; Maya. Pause.

Nihchou = for sure. Rummuyiya = pervading the universe (Waheguru). Anunt Jeevun = immortal. Bidh(i) = way. Bhuv Saagur = the world sea (attractions of Maya which cause the man to be born again, and again). 2. Bhoolaava = misleading. Sehj(u) = spiritual state where the mind does not wander. Liv = full concentration. 3.

MEANING: The mother thinks that her son is growing big, but she does not realize that his life span is actually getting shorter by the day. She loves him a lot by saying, "he is mine", but, watching all this, the Angel of death smiles (sarcastically). 1.

This is how You have led the world to misbelieve the reality, oh God! But how can the world realize the fact when it is under the spell of Maya? Pause.

Quit enjoying the tastes of poisonous Maya, because you will experience spiritual death for sure in their company (while enjoying them), oh man, says Kabir. Worship Waheguru, which is pervading the whole universe, for immortal life, because this is the way to swim across the sea of Maya, and being "one" with Him, oh man. 2.

However, man's love for God is possible only when He wishes it. (With love for Waheguru) A man clears his doubts and misbeliefs. His wisdom (mind) regarding Divine Knowledge is enlightened, and he attains a high spiritual state in which Maya has no effect. By Guru's grace, he connects with God with full concentration. 3.

Following this path, one does not experience spiritual death as one recognizes Waheguru's Will and becomes "one" with Him. Second pause. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Aaglurra = too much. Juraa = old age. Bhuou = fear. Kootumb = family. Bigseh(i) = overjoyed; blooms. Kumla = lotus flower. Johay = watches with evil eye. Kupt = deceitful. 1.

Jumeh(i) tuna = sons of the Angel of death (his agents). Aaglurraiy = before; in front of. Koyee, Koyee = someone rare. Beetthula = God. Baanhrri Vulaayay = with arms spread. Rummuyiya = pervading the universe (God). Pause.

Anik = countless. Bhog = enjoyments. Bisray = forgotten. Amar = immortal. Moottha = deceived; cheated. Chaytus(i) = remember. Aalsiya = lazy. 2.

Ghor Bikhum = very difficult; tough. Punth(i) = path. Ruv(i) = sun. Sus(i) = moon. Pervayshun(g) = enter. Tujilay = quit. 3. Pergut(u) = appeared. Bhuyya = happened. Paykhiulay = saw. Dul = crush. Mahabuli = great warrior. 4.

Moon = to me. Oopdaysh = advice. Vun = forest. Trin = vegetation. . Ruttrra = imbued; saturated with. Narayana = God. Budut(i) = says. 5.

MEANING: The man has so much love for Maya, and is so engrossed in it, that he has lost all fear of old age and death. He is overjoyed, and his mind blooms like a lotus flower to see his family. And the deceitful man keeps an evil eye on the houses of others. 1. Some rare devotee realizes that the agents of death are coming running towards him and he prays, “I am helpless before them, come and protect me from them, oh my God. I am waiting for you with my arms spread.” Pause.

Among the countless enjoyments of Maya, the man forgets Waheguru and acts as if he is immortal in this world. Captivated by Maya, he forgets Waheguru, and the lazy man wastes away his precious human life. 2. The journey to Waheguru’s Court is very difficult, and you will not even have the necessities of daily life - like the sun (warmth and light) and the moon (for comfort). And when you leave the world, your love for Maya will be gone too (Maya will not be with you). 3.

I have realized now that when you are face-to-face with the Angel of death, you cannot survive before him, as he is so powerful that he can crush you with his hands in a moment. 4. When some holy man (like the Guru) enlightens me, I can see that You are present everywhere – even in the forest and the creeping grass – oh Waheguru. You are omniscient, oh omnipresent Waheguru, says Tirlochan. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Achurj = strange; amazing. Soor(i) = gods. Gun = assistants of gods. Gundherb = musicians of the gods (there are more definitions). Mohay = bewitched. Tirbhuvan = three-layered universe. Maykhuli = string (tied with string) = made prisoner (slaves). 1. Kinguree = a single-wire musical instrument. Naad = Shabad. Liv = focus. Pause. Bhaatthi = kiln; still (to distil). Gugun(u) = sky; brain (higher level of awareness). Singiya and choongiya = the two pipes for distilling - one to collect the distillate, and the other to reject the excess water (to collect virtues and to reject bad qualities). Kunuk = gold. Kulus = container for the distillate (heart). Kunuk Kulus = heart of gold (pure heart). Chooyay = dropping (collecting). Nirmul = pure. Rus = extract. 2. Anoop = beautiful; incomparable. Puvun Piyala = cup of air (made the breath the cup to drink). Yogi = connected (with God). Raja = greater. 3. Poorkhotum = sureme human (Waheguru). Dooni = world. Bherm(i) bhoolaani = lost in misbeliefs. Rusayin = source of all the extracts (God). Maata = intoxicated. 4.

MEANING: With full concentration on Him, a devotee gets connected with Waheguru, with His kind sight, as a result of which, a uniform and sweet melody of His Naam begins to play automatically in his mind, oh pundit. Pause.

The amazing thing about Waheguru, which has made the whole universe (living beings) slaves of Maya (they have been bewitched by it), is that nothing can be said about Him. (He is indescribable). 1.

(The only thing I can say about Him) is that I have made my brain (my higher spiritual state, and concentration on His Naam) the still, to get the essence of His Naam (like in a distillation process to get the extract of some herb, or even to make alcohol, in which two pipes are used – one to receive the essence and the other to reject water), I am getting rid of my bad qualities on one hand, and collecting the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, on the other hand, is in my pure heart. A thin stream of the best among all the essences is now dripping in my mind. 2 Another beautiful thing that has happened is that my every breath has become the cup to drink the Naam Amrit, and now I see Waheguru everywhere in the three-layered universe, and it is not difficult to say that Waheguru is the greatest. 3. Imbued in His Naam, Kabir can only say that such Divine Knowledge has sprouted in my mind with which I have realized that the whole world is misguided in doubts, but I am intoxicated with the Naam-Amrit of Waheguru, which is the source of all essences. 4.

Word Meaning: Pehriya Kaiy Ghur(i) Gaavna = to sing with the same tune as the Pehray in the same Raag starting on page 74.

Gerbh Koondul = in the mother's womb. Aachhut = (you) were. Oordh = upside down. Mirtuk Pind(i) = half-alive body. Pud = existence. Mud = intoxication; conceit. Naanga = without any bad quality. Summul(u) = remember. Maha Kusht = big discomfort. Pusaariya = expansion. Mirt Mundul = mortal world. Nurhur(i) = Waheguru. 1.

Moorriya = oh foolish. Koomut(i) = bad thinking. Chayt(i) = remember. Jumpur = home of the angel of death. Bichraiy = live in the world. Unraadha = uncontrolled. Pause. Binoad = (children's) games. Chind = worry; attention. Khin(u) Khin(u) = every small moment. Mis(u) = excuse. Maydhu = pious; alcohol (which is a more appropriate use in the present context). Bikh = poison. Punch = the five (demons – lust, rage, etc.). Pergut = clearly. Suntaapiy = begin to bother (cause trouble). Sookirt = noble deeds. Oochhliya Kaam(u) = the lust sprouted. Kaal Mut(i) = wisdom that blackens one's face (earns him disgrace). Shakut(i) = woman. 2.
Troon = youth; beauty. Tayj(u) = forceful impression; glamour. Triya = woman. Johay = keeps an evil sight. Sur(u) Upsur(u) = appropriate and inappropriate time. Oomut Kaam(i) = under the influence of lust. Maha Bikh(u) = great poison (Maya). Soot = sons. Sumput(i) = wealth. Gerbiya = conceited. Uver mert = at the death of others. Bhug Mookh(i) = with good fortune. Vigoya = wasted away. 3.
Poondar Kays = white hair like a lotus flower. Koosum = flower. Dhaulay = grey hair. Supt Pataal = (as if coming from) the seventh underworld. Loachun = eyes. Sermeh(i) = watery. Kaam Madhaani = mind churner (inciting for lust). Paavus(i) = rain. Koomlana = wilted. Uvgut(i) = invisible; incomprehensible. Baan(i) = Shabad (of Waheguru's praise). Mirt Mundul(i) = mortal world. Paachhaiy = after; later. 4.
Nikooti dayh = small body (children). Dhoon(i) = attention; affection. Maan Kert = feeling proud. Jeevun Pud Kaarun = existence for (longer) life. Tayj(u) = energy. Aangun(i) = in the yard. Na Sookhayee = becomes uncomfortable. 5.
MEANING: Remember the day (time) when you were in a big (troublesome) uncomfortable position in the womb of your mother where you were suspended upside down, had no conceit of the existence of your half-alive body, and were fully connected with the "One", God, day and night, and had no awareness or evil quality, oh man! Now that you are out of your mother's womb and are in the mortal world, you have forgotten Waheguru completely and have plans for big expansions. 1.
Under what ill-advice are you leading a life full of doubts and misbeliefs, oh foolish man? Remember Waheguru's Naam, you will repent later because, as a result of your bad deeds under the influence of your uncontrolled mind, you will be taken to the court of the Angel of death. Pause. As a child, the man is drawn to the joy of games and grows increasingly attached to the world with every moment. As life goes on, he begins to use Maya as if it were amrit, and abuses the poisonous Maya to enjoy other tastes of life, including alcohol, when all the five demons (lust, rage, greed, etc.) begin to visibly trouble (overpower) him. He does not practise even the ritualistic recitation of mantras, and self-torture to have control over sensual pleasures; and totally forgetting the wisdom of noble deeds, he does not remember Waheguru's Naam. When lust sprouts in his mind, and his poor thinking begins to prompt him to evil deeds, he brings in a woman to hug her tightly. 2.
Under the forceful impact of youth, the man begins to keep a close eye on other women as well, with total disregard for the appropriateness of the time. Under compete intoxication of lust, and completely misguided by poisonous Maya, the man cannot tell sin or crime from noble deeds. Seeing his sons and the wealth, the man feels conceited and forgets Waheguru's Naam completely. At the death of a relative, he begins to guess how much wealth he will inherit, and (because of such greed and lack of empathy), he wastes the human life he was given by his good fortune. 3.

Even when the hair of the man turns white like a lotus flower, and his voice becomes so soft (weak) as if it is coming from the seventh underworld, and even when his eyes are watery all the time, and his energy and his conniving wisdom have left him, lust still churns his mind i.e., he is still lustful. The lotus-like body has wilted away, but evil ideas are still dropping in his mind like rain. Quit thinking about the mortal world, and recite the Naam of Waheguru; otherwise, you will repent later, oh man! 4.

Seeing the little grandchildren, his heart fills with affection. And he still does not realize the reality (of the imminent death). He has the greed to live longer, even though he can hardly see with his eyes. When his energy is exhausted, and his soul leaves his body, his dead body causes discomfort in the house and in the yard (among the family members). Listen, hey devotees, who gets salvation after death (nobody does), says Bayni. 5.

NOTE: The heading of this holy Shabad does not reveal the author's name, but the last line makes it clear that Sri Ravidass Ji is the author.

Word Meaning: Tohi = you. Mohi = me. Untar(u) = difference. Kunuk = gold. Kutick = bracelet. Trung = wave. 1. Ununta = limitless (Waheguru). Putit = degraded. Paavun = purifier. Pause. Nayak = leader; guide. Aachhou = (you) are. Untarjaami = all-knowing; omniscient. Jun = servant (devotee). Jaanijaiy = is known. Soami = Master; Lord. 2. Aaradhaiy = recite (Naam). Sum Dul = equal everywhere (omnipresent). 3.

MEANING: Now, (that I am connected with You), the difference between You and me is just like the difference between gold and a bracelet made from gold, or between water in the ocean and a wave on its surface (i.e., there is no difference), oh Lord! 1.

If we (human beings) had not committed any sin, how would You have been called the Purifier? Pause. You are omniscient, and our guide (to show us the path of righteousness). Also, a devotee is known by God, and God is recognized by his devotees. (God and His devotees are important to each other). 2.

Please, enlighten me so that my body may recite Your Naam. I wish someone could educate (enlighten) me that You are omnipresent, begs Ravidass. 3.

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = a Shabad with four stanzas.
Sat = eternal. Naam(u) = Waheguru's existence (Waheguru and His Naam are synonymous). (See the first sentence of the following Shabad); His Laws. Bhaaya = cherish; revere. Vudbhaageen = highly lucky. Sidh(i) = success; perfection. Virla = rare. Gurmat(i) = Guru's advice. 1. Khurch(u) = expenses. Bunnh(i) Pullaiy = garnered; gathered. Sukhayee = close friend. Dirraya = reinforced. Nihchul = everlasting. 2. Preetum(u) = dear. Raaya = royal; king. Praan Jeevaaya = basis of (spiritual) life. Neer(u) = water (tears). Vuhaiy = flows. 3. Baal sukhayee = friend from childhood (life-long friend). 4.

NOTE: Jeeo is simply an expression of respect; it is used very frequently in the Shabads of this Raag.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being and His existence is eternal; He is a living power (Purakh); the creator of the whole universe and is pervading it; He is fearless (is above all the Laws of nature); He bears no enmity with anyone (his justice is perfect); He is not affected by time (always stays the same). He never takes any life form; is Self-Illuminating and is realized only through the Guru (The Guru is a manifestation of God).

I cherish Waheguru and His Naam, but only the very lucky recite His Naam. One can be successful in reciting Waheguru's Naam (connecting with Him) only by taking the shelter of the Perfect Guru. But, again, only a rare devotee follows the Guru's advice. 1.
I have garnered Waheguru's Naam as the expenses for the journey of my life. Waheguru's Naam is my life-long friend and will always be with me (even in the next world). The Perfect Guru has reinforced Waheguru's Naam in me, which has become my everlasting possession. 2. Waheguru King is my darling friend; I am looking for some holy man (Guru) who can connect me with Him, who sustains my (spiritual) life. I cannot survive without "seeing"

Him and my tears are flowing uncontrollably (in His separation). 3.
Satguru is also my lifelong friend. I cannot live without “seeing” Him, oh my mother! Please, Waheguru, be kind and connect me with the Guru so that I may acquire Waheguru’s Naam-wealth, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Madhusoodun = Waheguru (a name for Krishna because he killed a demon named Madhu). Uver(u) = other; else. Sujjan = friend. Sunt(u) = saint. 1.
Khojeen = search for. Bhaal(i) Bhulayeen = search and have searched. Kiyoun = how? Khoj(u) dusayeen = I ask for His location. 2. Rukhvaala = protector; guard. Baarik = children. Deen = powerless; ignorant. Kumal(u) = lotus flower, which thrives in water. Vigsaiy = blooms. 3. Vaydun = pain. Birhoun = pain of separation. Rehsaiy = feels blissful. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru is my mind, body, and soul. I do not acknowledge anybody else other than my Waheguru. I wish I were very lucky so as to meet a holy friend who could advise me on how to reach Waheguru. 1. I search for Him in my mind and body, and beg others to search Him for me. How can I find my dear and loving (Waheguru), oh my mother! I am advised to go to the congregation of holy devotees and seek their advice, as Waheguru is believed to be present there. 2. My dear and loving Satguru is my guard. We are Your ignorant and powerless children; please nourish us, oh Satguru! My Perfect Satguru is my mother and my father; He is like a pool of water, and we are like lotus flowers that thrive in that water. 3. I cannot sleep without “seeing” the Satguru. Word Meaning: Gooniyaiy = ponder on. Kutha = story; explanations (of virtues). Bhuojul = sea of life; the world-sea. Dootar(u) = difficult; almost impossible to swim across. 1. Sukhee = female friends; devotees. Kurayha = (let us) do (make the connection). Soonayha = message. Nurhuriyaiy = Waheguru. 2. Baydun = pain (of separation). Poora = perfect. Vukhanaiy = utter; sing. Aoukhudh = medication. Mantar(u) = a collection of some special words (called mantra) the recitation of which is believed to cure some specific diseases (a Hindu belief). Oodhariyaiy = find salvation. 3. Chaatrik = (rainbird); a mythical bird who survives only if he drinks the first raindrop on a special occasion. Deen = powerless (pride-less). Boond = drop. Julnidh(i) = treasure of water – sea. Meenay = fish. 4.

MEANING: Let us read and ponder over the virtues of Waheguru as a congregation, oh my friends! Let us listen to the explanations of Waheguru's Naam. Let us sing the virtues of Waheguru in the congregation, which will enable us to swim across the world-sea, which is almost an impossible task to perform. 1. Let us join together to plan ways to connect with Waheguru, oh my friends! Maybe we will get some message (advice) about our dear Waheguru. He will be my dear friend, my darling brother, who tells me (the way to connect with) Waheguru. 2. The Perfect Guru knows my pain (of separation from Waheguru) that I cannot survive without reciting His Naam. Please, dear Perfect Guru, give me the Mantra as medication so that I may recite Waheguru's Naam by means of which one can find salvation. 3. We, human beings, are powerless like the mythical bird, chaatrik, and have come to Your shelter, oh Satguru. Please give us a drop of Waheguru's Naam-water so we can survive (spiritually). Waheguru is like the ocean, and we are like fish, and cannot live without Waheguru-ocean, oh Nanak. 4.2.

NOTE: As discussed under word meanings, Sikhs do not believe in any mantra – the only Mantra is Waheguru's Naam, which is the panacea for all diseases. Even as a chaatrik, Guru Ram Dass Ji asks for a drop of Waheguru's Naam-water.

Vudbhaagi Hur(i) sungat(i) paaveh(i). Bhaag-heen bherm(i) choataan khaaveh(i). Bin(u) bhaagaan Satsung(u) na lubbhaiy, bin(u) Sungat(i) maiyl(u) bhureejaiy jeeo. 3. Mein aayay milhou Jugjeevun piyaray. Hur(i) Hur(i) Naam(u) duyya mun(i) dhaaray. Gurmat(i) Naam(u) meettha mun(i) bhaaya, jun Nanak Naam(i) mun(u) bheejaiy jeeo. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Hur(i) Jun Sunt = devotees of Waheguru (holy men). Sherdha = faith; wish (to connect with God). Jugjeevun = (source of) life of the world (God). Hur(i) Dershun = sight of Waheguru. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. 1. Bani = words of praise. Kutha = explanation (of virtues); story. Bhaani = I cherish; revere. Bhaavaiy = to my liking. 2. Bhaagheen = unlucky. Bherm(i) = in doubts; hesitations. Choataan Khaaveh(i) = suffer. 3.

MEANING: I wish to meet with some holy devotees of Waheguru who would guide me to connect with Waheguru, as I have a big appetite (longing) to connect with Him. Please, fulfill my wish and show me Your kind sight so that I may be imbued in Your Naam, oh the source of (spiritual) life, Waheguru. 1.

I wish to sing Your praise in the holy gathering, oh Waheguru. I like and revere explanations of Your virtues. Waheguru is the real Amrit (the mythical liquid of immortality), and I love it, which can be tasted only in the company of the Satguru. 2.

Only a lucky few are able to join the holy congregation, while the unlucky ones suffer greatly from doubt and hesitation (because of their love for Maya). One cannot access the holy congregation without luck, and the mind gathers filth without the holy congregation. 3.

Please, Waheguru, kindly connect me with You, and give me the gift of Your Naam. With the advice of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam tastes very sweet, and I love it. The mind of Your slave, Nanak, has been imbued in Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4. 4.

Majh Mehla 4: Hur(i) Gur Giyan(u) Hur(i) rus(u) Hur(i) paaya. Mun(u) Hur(i) rung(i) raata, Hur(i) rus(u) peeyaya. Hur(i) Hur(i) Naam(u) mookh(i) Hur(i) Hur(i) boaleen, mun(u) Hur(i) rus(i) tooll(i) tooll(i) paunda jeeo. 1. Aavhou Sunt mein gul(i) maylaayiyaiy. Mayray Preetum kee mein kutha soonaayiyaiy. Hur(i) kay Sunt milhou mun(u) dayvaan, jo Gurbani mookh(i) chaunda jeeo. 2. Vudbhaageen Hur(i) Sunt(u) milaaya. Gur(i) Pooraiy Hur(i) rus(u) mookh(i) paaya. Bhaag-heen Satgur(u) nuhee paaya munmukh gerbh jooni nit paunda jeeo. 3. Aap(i) duyaal duya Prubh(i) dhaari. Mul(u) haumein bikhiya subh nivaari. Nanak hut puttan vich(i) kayaan Hur(i) laiynday Gurmukh(i) sauda jeeo. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Giyan(u) = (Divine) Knowledge. Rus = essence. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in His love. Tooll(i) Tooll(i) = overflowing with zest. 1. Kutha = story (of virtues). Chaunda = utters; recites. 2. Vudbhaageen = highly lucky. Sunt = Guru. Gerbh Jooni = different life forms. 3. Duyaal = kind; benevolent. Mul(u) = filth. Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). Nivaari = dispelled. Hut = bazaar. Puttan = cities. Kayaan = human body; mind. Sauda = merchandise (of Waheguru's Naam). 4.

MEANING: I have realized the Knowledge delivered by the Guru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, and have tasted Waheguru's Naam–essence. Now my mind is completely imbued in Waheguru's Naam. Now I recite Waheguru's Naam with my mouth (tongue), and it has become my routine conversation, and my mind is overflowing with the zest of Waheguru's Naam. 1. Now I wish to hug the holy men tightly and listen to the virtues of my dear Waheguru from them. I wish to surrender my mind to the holy man who recites Gurbani (Waheguru's praise) by his tongue. 2. With great luck, Waheguru has connected me with the Guru, and the Perfect Guru has given me the dose of Waheguru Naam-essence in my mouth (so that my tongue recites Waheguru's Naam). The unfortunate followers of their mind do not connect with the Guru, and as a result, they go through all the different forms of life. 3. The benevolent Waheguru has kindly washed away all my filth of haumein and of poisonous Maya. The followers of the Guru deal in Waheguru's Naam in the bazaars and cities of their mind, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Huoun = I; me. Govind = Waheguru. Agumm = beyond our physical reach. Agoachar = incomprehensible. Rus(i) = sweetness. 1. Dhun(u) = worthy of respect. Jun = devotees. Jaata = who have realized Waheguru. Mulovaan = massage. Mul(i) = rub (gently). Peechaiy = drink. 2. Daataiy = donor; provider. Dirraaya = reinforced. Amrit = life-sustaining. 3. Sat Purakh(u) = eternal Waheguru. Kutha = description of virtues (of Waheguru). Preechaiy = (come to) like. 4.

MEANING: I recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing praise of His virtues (kindness). In the company of the holy men, I have made my heart a residence for Waheguru. Even though Waheguru is beyond our reach (physically) and beyond our comprehension, one can enjoy the essence of His Naam in the shelter of Satguru. 1. Those devotees who have made a connection with Waheguru are worthy of our respect. I wish to visit them and ask them about the noble qualities of Waheguru. I wish to massage their feet and wash them, gently rubbing, because one relishes Waheguru's Naam-essence in their company only. 2. I have had the holy sight of the Guru because of my good luck; the kind Satguru has reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my heart. Now, I enjoy the eternal life-sustaining Waheguru's Naam and recite it all the time. One can acquire the Naam-Amrit only by the grace of the Perfect Guru. 3. One can get connected with Waheguru only in the company of a holy congregation where one recites His Naam, listens to His virtues, and recites them with one's tongue. One comes to like (and love) Waheguru's Naam only by following the advice of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4. 6.

Gur Persadi Ikk(u) nudri aaya, huoun Satgur vit-huoun vutaaya jeeo. 3. Jun Nanak bolaiy Amrit Bani. Gur Sikhaan kaiy mun(i) piyari bhaani. Oopdaysh(u) kuray Gur(u) Satgur(u) Poora, Gur(u) Satgur(u) per-oopkaariya jeeo. 4.7. Sat Chaupuday Mehlay Chauthay kay.

Word Meaning: Vaariyaan = glad to offer life. Ludha = found. Sujjan = friend. Vit-houn = for; from. Ghoomaayiyaan = sacrifice life. 1. Jeh Jeh = wherever. Teh Teh = there. Ghut(i) Ghut(i) = in every heart. Ruvviya = present. Untarjaami = one who knows everything. Sud = always. 2. Maati = soil; earth. Jot(i) = light (of God). Subayiya = in all. Bhin(i) Bhin(i) = different. Rulyee = mixes. Vutaaya = sacrifice. 3. Oopdaysh(u) = advise. Peroopkaariya = one who does selfless favours to others. 4.

MEANING: Let us join together (to sing praise of Waheguru), oh my dear friends! I will gladly sacrifice my life for the friend who explains to me the greatness of my dear (Waheguru). I am a sacrifice to my Satguru, who connected with me in the holy congregation, where I realized my dear friend, Waheguru. 1.

Wherever I look, I find the omnipresent Waheguru present there in every heart. I am always a sacrifice for my Perfect Satguru who “showed” me Waheguru inside me. 2.

Everybody is made from the same soil and same air with Waheguru’s light in them. Even though the same light (of Waheguru) is lighting all the different bodies, yet one light does not match with the other, no matter how hard one tries (because everybody has a different degree of awareness and wisdom). I wish to be a sacrifice for my Satguru, with whose benevolence one can still “see” the single light of Waheguru present in everybody. 3.

Waheguru’s slave, Nanak, utters the life-sustaining Bani (praise of Waheguru), which is loved by all the Sikhs of the Guru. I am a sacrifice to the selfless Guru who gives the same advice to everyone and always performs acts of kindness for others. 4.7.

Seven Shabads of the Fourth Mehla.

Hoon(i) kud miliyaiy Priyay Toodh(u) Bhugvunta.

(PAGE 97): Mohay raiyn(i) na vihavaiy, neend na aavaiy, bin(u) daykhay Gur Durbaray jeeo. 3. Huoun gholi jeeo ghol(i) ghoomayee tis(u) Sachay Gur Durbaaray jeeo. 1. Ruhaou. Bhaag(u) hoya Gur(i) Sunt(u) milaya. Prubh(u) abinashi ghur meh(i) paaya. Sayv kureen pul(u) chusa na vichhurraan, jun Nanak Daas Toomharay jeeo. 4. Huoun gholi jeeo ghol(i) ghoomayee, jun Nanak Dass Toomharay jeeo. Ruhaou. 1.8.

Word Meaning: Lochaiy = longs; pines. Bilp = cries due to the pain of separation. Chaatrik = rainbird; a mythical bird which drinks only the first drop of rainwater during a special period. Niyayeen = like. Trikha = thirst. 1.

Gholi Jeeo Ghol(i) Ghoomayee= (wish) to offer life. Sunt = Guru. Pause.

Soohaava = beautiful; comforting. Sehj = a higher spiritual state where the mind quits wandering. Bani = words of praise. Saringpaani = bow-bearing (Waheguru) (a name for Vishnu). Mooraray = Waheguru (enemy of the demon, moor; a name for Krishna because he killed the demon). 2. Ghurri = a very short period of time. Kalyug = dark (very bad and hostile) time. Bhugvunta = God; Waheguru. Raiyn(i) = night. Vihaavaiy = spend. 3. Bhaag hoya = luck has come to being. Sunt = source of peace (Waheguru). Abinashi = non-perishable (eternal). Ghur(i) = Meh(i) = in my own heart. Pul, Chusa = both denote very small periods of time; a moment. 4.

MEANING: My mind craves for, and cries like a rainbird to have a sight of the Guru. My mind does not find peace, and my thirst for His sight is not quenched until I see Him. 1.

I am gladly willing to sacrifice my life for the sight of the dear Guru. Pause.

Your face (sight) is highly comforting and Your sweet praise leads me to higher spiritual state (where Maya has no effect), oh dear Guru Ji! The place (heart) is worthy of respect where You are residing, oh my dear friend, Waheguru! 2.

I wish to sacrifice my life for my dear friend, Waheguru. Pause.

It was a dark time for me whenever I was away from You; when will I be able to see You, now, oh my dear God (Satguru)! I cannot fall asleep, and my night does not seem to be over without having a sight of Your Court (You), oh Guru Ji! 3.

I wish to sacrifice my life for the eternal Court of the Guru. Pause.

My good luck has materialized, and the Guru has connected me with Waheguru, and I have realized the eternal Waheguru in my heart. Now, I will serve Him like a slave and will never separate from Him, oh Nanak. 4.

I am glad to sacrifice my life for Waheguru, oh Nanak. Pause.

NOTE: This is the only Shabad in this set which has “Ruhaou” in it – and not just once, but as many times as the number of stanzas, 4. Each stanza is followed by “Ruhaou,” implying that there is a different idea in every stanza. That way, this holy Shabad is unique in the set. There is a story associated with this Shabad that Guru Ram Dass Sahib sent His youngest son, Arjun Dev Ji (later the Fifth Guru), to Lahore to attend a family marriage and told Arjun Dev Ji not to return to Amritsar to the Guru until he was invited back. Arjun Dev Ji had always treated his father, Guru Ram Dass Ji, more as his Guru. Quite some time passed, but Guru Sahib sent no message to Arjun Dev Ji inviting him back to Him in Amritsar. The long separation from the Guru caused unrest in Arjun Dev Ji's mind, so he began writing letters to Guru Sahib expressing his anguish over it. His letters were spiritual in nature, and each letter contained only one stanza. The first three letters were intercepted by Arjun Dev Ji's selfish elder brother, Pirthi Chand Ji. The fourth letter was delivered directly to Guru Sahib. When Guru Sahib read the affectionate letter, He called Arjun Dev Ji back immediately and passed on the Gurushipto Him. Even though the Shabad's uniqueness suggests the story is likely true, it still requires further investigation.

Nanak Daas Tayraiy buliharaiy, subh(u) Tayra khayl(u) dusahra jeeo. 4.2.9.

Word Meaning: Sa = that. Root(i) = season. Smalleen = I remember. Soohayla = fruitful; comforting. Tayri Ghaali = in Your service. Rida = heart. Voottha = reside. 1.
Saanjha = common; shared. Naou Nidh(i) = the mythical nine treasures. Ukhoot = inexhaustible. Bhundara = treasures. Triput Aghaavaiy = completely contented. 2.
Tayri Aasaiy = have hopes on You. Ghut Ghut = every heart. Voottha = reside. Saanjhivaal = having a share of You. Sudayin = are called. Bahra = outsider. 3.
Mookt(i) = salvage. Junum(i) Bhuvahayn = put through rebirths. Bulihaaray = a sacrifice. Dusahra = visible. 4.

MEANING: Only that season is worthwhile (comforting) in which I remember You, and only that task is comforting (successful) which is in Your service; likewise, that heart is beautiful (peaceful and helpful) in which You reside, oh, the provider for all, Waheguru! 1.
You are the common father of us all. All your nine treasures are inexhaustible; whoever You provide is fully contented, and only he deserves to be called Your devotee, oh Waheguru! 2. Everybody is hopeful of You (depends upon Your support) as You are residing in every heart. Everybody claims to be part of You, and You do not seem separate from anyone. 3. You, Yourself, salvage the devotees of the Guru, and You put the followers of their own minds through different life forms. The whole visible world is Your drama (creation). Your slave, Nanak, is always a sacrifice for You, oh Waheguru. 4.2.9.

Word Meaning: Unhud = automatic and uniform divine (music). Sehj(i) = higher spiritual state. Kayla = blissful. Goofa = cave (mind). Taarri = meditate with concentration. Aasun = sitting (position, place, pose). Ooch = transcendental (Waheguru). 1.
Phir(i) Ghir(i) = returns again. Greh(i) = mind. Lorreenda = needed. Triput Aghaayay = fully contented. Unbhou Purakh(u) = fearless and omnipresent Waheguru. 2.
Raajun = ruler; king. Loga = public; subjects. Nirbani = non-existence of any desire. Bhoga = one who enjoys. Niyayeen = judge. Chooki = disappeared. Kook Pookaariya = cries and imploring; complaining. 3. Dittha = saw; noticed. Tayho = the same. Rus(u) = enjoyed the taste. Bhayd(u) = secret. Joti = light (of Wheguru) in individuals. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Pusaariya = spread out (present). 4.

MEANING: (By Guru's benevolence) I am feeling as if an automatic and uniform divine music is playing in my mind, which is producing comfort, and I am feeling blissful in my higher spiritual state. Adorned (with noble qualities) by Waheguru, I have found a high place (at His feet) where I am completely imbued in His Naam. 1.
After wandering for a long time, my mind has returned to its real home, having realized whatever it needed (i.e., Waheguru's Naam). Now it is completely content as the Guru has shown it the fearless and the omnipresent Waheguru, oh holy men! 2.
Waheguru, Himself is the King, and Himself His subjects. He is completely without any desire, but being present in everybody, he enjoys all the luxuries of life too. A person who believes that Waheguru is the True (impartial) Judge who sits on His eternal throne, finds all his complaints to be baseless (his doubts are cleared). 3.
I have described exactly what I have experienced, and whoever has uncovered this secret enjoys the essence of Waheguru. When the light of an individual merges with the light of Waheguru, his life becomes very blissful, and he realizes that it is solely Waheguru that pervades the whole universe. 4. 3. 10.

(PAGE 98): Thir(u) soohaag(u), Vur(u) Agumm(u) Agochar(u), jun Nanak praym sadhaari jeeo. 4.4.11

Word Meaning: Jit(u) = in which. Ghur(i) = heart. Pir(i) = husband (Waheguru). Sohaag(u) = (performed the) marriage (got connected with the individual); enlightened the heart. Sukhiyay = oh friend! Mungal Gaaya = sang songs of happiness (became blissful). Anund = bliss. Binoad = enjoyment. Titaiy = in that. Sohay = look very good. Dhun = human bride. Kunt(i) = husband (Waheguru). Shingaari = beautified; adorned. 1.
Goonvunti = having good qualities. Sealvunt(i) = calm; sweet-natured. Sohaagun = beloved. Roopvunt(i) = pretty. Sooghurr(i) = wise. Bichukkhun = wise; a leaned person. 2.
Achaarvunt(i) = having good manners; cultured. Purdhanay = leader. Shingaar = adornments. Giyaanay = due to (Divine) knowledge. Koolvunti = of good clan. Subhrayee = having good brothers. Rung(i) = in love. 3. Mehma = praise. Ung(i) = with heart. Thir(u) = eternal. Vur(u) = husband. Agumm = (physically) unreachable. Agochar(u) = incomprehensible. Sadhaari = having support. 4.

MEANING: The heart, which has been enlightened by Waheguru, feels as if the music of divine happiness is playing in it, oh my friend. Such a heart, which has been adorned (with noble qualities) by Waheguru-husband, enjoys bliss and happiness. 1.
That human bride is very lucky, acquires all the virtues, and is regarded highly in society like a woman who has many sons (has enlightened many others), is wise, and a learned person, and is loved by her husband. She is considered gorgeous, good-hearted, wise, and beloved by her husband. 2. She is considered cultured and a leader. All these adornments are due to her Divine Knowledge. The human bride, adorned with her husband's (Waheguru's) love, is considered to belong to a good clan and to have many brothers (which is a great support). 3. The praise of the human bride, which has been connected to her husband (Waheguru) by heart, is beyond description. She has an eternal husband who is physically inaccessible and incomprehensible, and she always has His support, oh Nanak. 4.4.11.

Word Meaning: Khojut Khojut = searching for. Bhaant(i) Bhaant(i) = of many different kinds. Uvgaahay = treaded. Nirgoon(u) = formless. Surgoon(u) = present in nature (the entire visible universe is His Surgoon form). 1.

Khut(u) Shast = the six Shastras of the Hindus. Bichrut = ponder on. Tiluk = anointment. Nivli kerm = an exercise of yoga. Aasun Chaurasee = 84 different sitting positions in yoga. Shaant(i) = peace. 2. Jup Taapa = Hindu rituals of reciting mantras and of self-torture. Guvun(u) = travel; journey. Khin(u) = moment. Buhoorr(i) Buhoorr(i) = again and again. Dhaavay = rushes to. 3. Sadh(u) = Guru. Seetul = peaceful; calm. Dheeruj(u) = patience. Abinashi = non-perishable; eternal. Ghut = heart. Mungal(u) = song of happiness. 4.

MEANING: Many people tread many different forests in search of Waheguru for His holy sight. (I am also searching for the same Waheguru), Is there someone who can connect me with the formless Waheguru, which is otherwise visible in His creation (the whole universe)? 1. Some (Pundits) ponder on the six Shastras, and deliver their knowledge by explaining to people. Besides, they also anoint their foreheads, worship idols, and travel to their holy places. But like the yogis, who perform their yogic exercises and sit in eighty-four different positions to meditate, they never find peace of mind. 2.

Some others recite mantras and torture themselves to please gods for years, while some others travel around the world in search of God, but do not find mental peace even for a moment, and then again run to do the same. 3.

But Waheguru was benevolent to me, connecting me with the Guru, as a result of which my mind and body have become peaceful, and I have acquired patience (no evil thoughts bother me anymore). The eternal Waheguru has taken residence in my heart, and my heart is singing the song of happiness (I feel blissful), oh Nanak. 4.5.12.

Gurmukh(i) Naam(u) jupiyaiy tit(u) turiyaiy, gut(i) Nanak virleen jaati jeeo. 4

Word Meaning: Uprumpur = limitless. Dayva = source of light. Agumm = physically inaccessible. Alukh = which cannot be understood (described). Abhayva = whose secrets are not known. Deen = powerless. Gopal = Gobind, which nourishes the earth; (Go = earth). Gaati = higher spiritual state. 1. Mudgsoodun = Waheguru. Nistaaray = salvaged. Sungi = companion. Diyaal = kind. Damodar = Waheguru (another name for Krishna). Horut = other. Bhaanti = way; means. 2. Nirhaari = which does not need food. Kayshav = having long hair (Waheguru). Kot(i) = millions. 3. Amogh = which never fails (which fulfills all wishes). Bayunt = Apaara = limitless. Sumruth = fully capable. Dataara = provider. Tit(u) = by which. Virleen = some rare person. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is limitless and is the source of enlightenment. He is beyond our physical reach, incomprehensible, indescribable, and unknown in terms of His deep secrets.

The nourisher of all living beings is very kind to the powerless (humble); let us remember Him at all times, in the shelter of the Guru, to enhance our spiritual level, oh my friends! 1. Waheguru salvages (protects from evil attractions) all the devotees of the Guru, and He becomes a permanent companion of the Guru's devotees. The only way to realize the kind Waheguru is to recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru; there is no other way (to realize Him). 2. The long-haired Waheguru does not need any food; He does not bear any enmity with anyone, and countless people worship His feet (Him). Taking Guru's shelter, a person who bears Waheguru's Naam in his heart, is the real devotee of only a single power – Waheguru. 3. The limitless Waheguru's sight results in the fulfillment of all one's wishes as He is capable of achieving any and everything. He is a great provider. We should recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru by which we can swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation). But some rare devotee attains that level of spirituality, oh Nanak. 4.6.13.
NOTE: Since Waheguru is formless, He cannot have long hair, nor can we see Him with our physical eyes. These are just expressions of love and faith, or the flight of ideas, of Guru Sahib as a poet.

Dershun(u) paykhut mun(u) aghaavaiy, Nanak milun(u) soobhaayee jeeo. 4.7.14.
Word Meaning: Kuhhiya = whatever (we are) told (ordered). Anathaan = orphans (without any support). Koodrut(i) = nature; magnanimity. Bul(i) = offer life. 1.
Bhaanaiy = as per (Waheguru's) wish. Oojhurr = misled from the path; directionless.
Bherm(i) = misled; no clear direction. Bhuvaiy = travels (goes) through. Buhou Jooni = many life forms. Tisaiy = His (Waheguru's). Rujayee = Will. 2.
Vertaiy = operates; happens. Agumm = (physically) inaccessible. Agochur = incomprehensible. Athaaha = unfathomable. Keemut(i) = value; magnanimity. 3.
Khaak(u) = dust (of feet); humbleness. Paykhut = on seeing. Aghaavaiy = feels contented. Milun(u) = union. Soobhaayee = with noble intentions. 4.
MEANING: Living beings obey Your Huqam (Will), and receive whatever You provide, oh Waheguru! (The rich and powerful may use unfair means to get what they want), But the poor and the powerless take pride only in You (You are their sole support). You are everything for us, oh my dear Waheguru! I gladly offer my life for sacrifice for Your magnanimity. 1.
As per Your Will, some people are misled from the path of righteousness, while some others tread the right path. As per Your will, You make some people sing Your praise in Guru's shelter. Again, it is Your Will that some people are misled by the attractions of Maya, and suffer rebirth in many life forms. 2. There is no foolish or wise individual by his choice; all that happens is Your Will. You are incomprehensible, physically unreachable, limitless, and unfathomable; nobody can describe Your worth (magnanimity). 3.

I have come to Your door, and wish to have the dust of the holy people to put on my forehead (obey their Huqam like a slave). The “sight” of Waheguru causes complete contentment as far as the worldly attractions are concerned, but such sights happen only to the devotees who have noble intentions in their mind for Waheguru. 4. 7.14.

Word Meaning: Vissar(i) = forgotten. Bhookh(u) = appetite (for worldly attractions) Viyapaiy = exerts; affects strongly. Bhidh(i) = ways; means. Dhaavaiy = moves quickly. Soohayla = comfortable. 1.
Vud = great. Sumrutha = capable. Jeeyay = in mind. Smaleen = remember. Huoun = haumein (selfishness and ego). Pritpaala = nourishes; looks after. 2.
Baarik Vaangi = like a child. Toat(i) = shortage. Munayeen = (I) bring around; win over. Deen Diyaal = kind to the powerless. Gopala = Waheguru. 3.
Bulihaari = sacrifice. Bundhan = bonds (of Maya). Nirmul = clean (of all evil thoughts). Rung(i) = in love. Rusaala = sources of all tastes (enjoyment). 4.
MEANING: When a person forgets Waheguru’s Naam, he begins to suffer (spiritually). Worldly desires begin to overpower him, and he tries many different means to satisfy them as quickly as possible. On the contrary, a person to whom the Kind Waheguru inspires to recite His Naam enjoys comfort all the time. 1.
My Waheguru is perfectly capable (of doing everything); all my troubles go away when I remember Him (keep Him in mind) with love, all my worries and the discomfort of my haumein are all dispelled because He looks after me in every which way. 2.
I ask Him for everything like a child; He keeps giving me, and there is never a shortage in his bounty. Countless people beg at the feet of the Kind and the Provider Waheguru, and try to win Him over for His gifts. 3. I offer my life to the Perfect Guru who has cut all my bonds to Maya and who has cleansed my mind by giving Waheguru’s Naam; now I am enjoying the bliss of Waheguru’s love, oh Nanak. 4. 8.15.

Word Meaning: Laal = ruby; dear. Gopal = Waheguru. Rungeelay = performer of uncanny feats; source of bliss. Gehr = deep; unknowable. Gumbheer = unemotional; never changing. Govinday = Waheguru. Ooch = higher (above the effects of Maya). Athaah = unfathomable. 1. Dookh Bhunjun = destroyer of discomforts (troubles). Nidhaan = treasure (of). Amolay = priceless. Akal Moorut(i) = unaffected by time. Ajooni = which never takes a life form. Sumbhou = self-illuminated. 2. Sungi = companion. Rung = situation. Pritpaala = nourishing. Rusaayin = source of all tastes (comforts). Triptaayin = providing contentment. 3. Dhiyayeen = I worship. Soomut(i) = noble advice. Dhur = support. Rung(i) = in love. Paar(i) preevaan = swim across (the sea of Maya). 4.

MEANING: Dear Waheguru is invaluable like a ruby. He is kind, a performer of uncanny feats, unknowable, never-changing, and limitless. The Lord is above the effects of Maya, unfathomable, and limitless. I survive only by reciting His Naam. 1.

He is the destroyer of all troubles, and His treasures are priceless. He is without fear, bears no enmity to anyone, is unfathomable, and immeasurable. He is unaffected by time, does not take on life forms, and is self-illuminating. I become completely peaceful when I recite His Naam. 2. The source of bliss, Waheguru, is always our companion who nourishes (looks after) all the low and high-class people. His Naam is the source of all enjoyment and of contentment; I drink His Naam-Amrit in the shelter of the Guru. 3.

I worship Him in comfort and in discomfort as advised by the guru. You are my support, and I can swim across the sea of Maya in Your love, oh Nanak. 4.9.16

Word Meaning*:* Dhunn(u) = good luck (for me). Suful(u) = blissful; comforting. Paykhut = on seeing. Moorut, Chusay, Pul, Ghurriyaan = they denote very short periods of time. Sunjoga = predetermined union. 1. Oodum(u) = enthusiasm; vivacity. Bherm(u) = misbeliefs; doubts. Khoya = lost; went away. Nidhaan(u) = (source of all) treasures. Mit(i) = erased; are removed. 2. Bani = Shabad; Huqam. Kuthi = uttered; declared. Vukhaani = explained. Uver = other. 3. Rus(u) = essence; taste. Pehnan(u) = clothes (to wear). Bhojun = meals. Rung(i) = enjoyment. Choaj Tmaashay = entertaining activities. Bhoga = source of enjoyment. 4.

MEANING: I feel very lucky for the moment when I got connected with Satguru. His sight is blissful and I got freedom from the bonds of Maya at His sight. That moment, that time was highly lucky for me, and so was the predetermined union with Him. 1.

My vivacity (to act on Guru's advice) resulted in cleaning my mind (of any evil thoughts), and all my misbeliefs were cleared when I began to follow the path advised by the Guru. As Satguru narrated the treasure of Waheguru's Naam to me, all my mental troubles were gone. 2 Satguru explained to me that Your Huqam is prevailing everywhere – inside and out. You have declared Your Huqam and explained it too. Satguru explained that there is only one Supreme Being, and that is You, and there will be none other, oh Waheguru. 3.

I acquired the essence of Naam-Amrit from Satguru. He advised me that Waheguru's Naam is like wearing costly dresses and enjoying rich foods. Not only that, Waheguru's Naam brings you the fun and enjoyment of all the activities of entertainment. Waheguru's Naam is like all the tastes of life for me, oh Nanak. 4.10.17

Word Meaning: Sugal = all. Peh(i) = from. Vust(u) = article; thing. Tiyaagoun = (I) give up. Vaar(i) = offer to sacrifice. Lukh vuriyaan = countless times. Dhoora = dust of the feet. (an expression of love and respect). 1. Daatay = provider. Bidhatay = carver of fate. Sumruth = capable of doing anything. Sookh Daatay = source of comfort. Versaavaiy = blessed; profits from. Aousur(u) = time; opportunity; objective of human life. 2.

Bhuvan = mansions; hearts. Pooneeta = holy; free of all evil. Atum Gurrh = the fort of soul (human mind). Bikhum(u) = very difficult. Jayvud = as great as. Uver(u) = other; else. Soora = gallant; hero. 3. Rayn(u) = dust (of feet). Doormut(i) = evil wisdom. Binsi = ended; destroyed. Koobudh(i) = evil mind. Abhaagi = unlucky. Koorra = mundane distractions. 4.

MEANING: With all the humbleness, I beg only one thing from all the devotees of Waheguru that please, donate me the dust of your feet (I surrender all my pride and wisdom, and wish to act on your advice). I am gladly willing to offer my life to you (serve you as your slave) (if you connect me with Waheguru). 1. You are the provider, and you are the carver of the fate of everybody, oh omnipresent Waheguru! You are capable of doing everything (are omnipotent) and a source of comfort. Everybody is blessed by You; kindly help me achieve the objective of my human life, oh Waheguru. 2.

Your sight purifies the hearts of individuals, and they are able to conquer the fort of the human soul (mind), which otherwise is impossible to conquer. You are the provider, and the carver of peoples' fate; nobody else is as great a gallant (hero, who looks after everyone) as You are! 3. I am lucky to put the dust of the feet of Your devotees on my forehead (serve them that they have connected me with You) as a result of which all my evil thoughts have been eradicated, and the unlucky bad wisdom has run away from me. When a person's mind quits wandering, and he sings the virtues of Waheguru, all his mundane distractions leave him alone, oh Nanak. 4.11.18.

Word Meaning: Vissar(u) naahi = (please) do not be forgotten. Aivud = that great. Raatay = united completely. Dhiyaayeen = (I) remember (You). 1.
Maati = soil; earth (the body of a fetus). Undhi = completely ignorant. Soorut(i) = awareness. Bhuliya Jaayee = comfortable place. Anund = enjoyment. Binod, Choj, Tmaashay = activities for entertainment. Bhaavaiy = as per (Waheguru's Will). 2. Chhuttee Amrit Bhojun = old Indian granths recognize thirty-six (amrit-like) delicious foods. Sayj = bed. Seetul(u) Puvna = cool air. Sehj = peaceful mind. Kayl, Rung = entertainment; enjoyment. 3.
Sa = that. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Visreh(i) = forget. Oat = support. 4.

MEANING: Please, do not allow me to forget You, oh great Waheguru! It is Your kindness that Your devotees are imbued in Your Naam. I, too, beg You that kindly give me the gift (enable me) that I recite Your Naam day and night. 1.
(You are so kind) that You grant the awareness to the fetus, which is nothing more than an ignorant piece of mud (earth), and You put him in a comfortable position (in the womb), and provide all the necessities for his survival and growth. (For the future), All enjoyment and activities of entertainment are there for him as per Your Will. 2. Whatever the living beings receive in life is all provided by You. Your kindness provides 36 kinds of delicious food, comfortable beds, cool air (a comfortable environment), a peaceful life, and other amenities for the man to enjoy. 3. Please give me the wisdom so that I may never forget You, and always recite Your Naam, oh Waheguru! I wish that I may sing Your virtues with every breath in the shelter of the Guru, which is my support, oh, Nanak! 4.12.19.

Word Meaning: Sift(i) Salaahun = sing praise. Rujayee = (to obey Waheguru's) Will. Bhaayee = to (Your) liking. Jup(u) = recitation (of some mantras). Bhaanaiy = Will. Poor Giyana = complete Divine knowledge (unity with God). 1. Mun(u) Maana = mutual liking for each other. 2. Pritpaala = raising and nourishing (looking after). Gopaala = Waheguru. Khuray = very much. Praana = life. 3. Jaata = understood (made a connection). Bhaanay = liked. Triput(i) Aghaana = complete contentment. 4.

MEANING: To obey Your Huqam gladly is You real praise, oh Waheguru! Only that knowledge and meditation are meaningful that are to Your liking. Only that recitation of mantras is worth which You approve, and only that knowledge is perfect which You provide, oh Waheguru. 1. Only that individual sings Your Amrit-Naam whom You like, oh Waheguru! The devotees (who are fully connected with You) belong to You, and You belong to them; You and Your devotees like (enjoy) each other. 2. You look after Your devotees, and the devotees enjoy Your company (shelter), oh Waheguru. Your devotees are very dear to You, and You are the life of the devotees (they cannot live without You). 3. I wish to sacrifice my life for the devotees who have fully recognized You (are fully connected with You), and whom You love. Their company is always comforting, and I am fully content with Your Naam-essence in their company, oh Nanak! 4.13.20.

Hur humra, hum Hur(i) kay daasay, Nanak Shabad Guru Sach(u) deena jeeo. 4.14.21.

Word Meaning: Julnidh(i) = source of water (ocean). Meen = fish. Boond = drop (the mythical first drop of the rain water for which the chaatrik laments for). Tikh-haaray = thirsty. Leena = fully absorbed. 1. Kheer(u) = milk. Aghaavaiy = contented. Trikhvunt = thirsty. Bheena = imbued. 2. Undhiyaaray = in darkness. Bherta = husband. Chitvut = having thoughts about. Preetum = beloved. Anunda = blissful. Rungeena = dyed. 3. Kirpal(i) = kindly. Rung(i) = in love. Gijhaaya = got used to; instilled. 4.

MEANING: If You are like the ocean, then we are like fish (who cannot survive without water), oh Waheguru! We are like the mythical rainbird, chaatrik, who is thirsty for- Your Naam, which is like the first rain drop for us. We are thirsty for You, and You are our hope, and our mind is imbued in Your Naam. 1. Just like a hungry child who feels satisfied after drinking milk; and just like a poor man who is overjoyed to receive money; and just like a thirsty man who is happy (satisfied) to drink cold water (on a hot day), we feel blissful to be imbued in Your Naam! 2. Just like the light of a lamp is a boon in the darkness, and just like the arrival of the husband fulfils the wish of a waiting wife, and just like the bliss that a person feels on meeting his (long separated) dear friend, my mind is completely permeated with the love of God. 3. The holy men put me on the path to Waheguru, and the kind Guru instilled love for Waheguru in me. Now, God belongs to me, and I am His slave; Guru's Shabad has connected me with the Truth (eternal Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.14.21

Word Meaning: Nirmuliya = purifier. Dookh Bidaarun Huriya = the destroyer of discomforts (worries), Waheguru. Uver(i) = other. Saad = tastes (n); delicious dishes. Chukh(i) = taste (v). 1. Triptaavaiy = becomes content. Amar(u) = immortal. Nidhaan = treasure. Praput(i) = available, is acquired. Voottha = reside. 2. Triput(i) = Aghaana = contented. Doolaana = lose faith (or self-control). Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Bhaagittha = good luck. 3. Ikkus(u) Huth(i) = in the hand of only one person (Guru). Vursaanay = those who benefit from. Ghunayray = very many. Virleen = some rare person. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam always purifies one's mind because the source of all comfort, Waheguru, is the destroyer of all troubles (evils). I have tasted all other delicious dishes, but Waheguru's Naam is the sweetest of all. 1. Whosoever drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit becomes fully content and becomes immortal (not bodily, but spiritually as he becomes one with Waheguru). However, the treasure of Naam-Amrit (Waheguru) is available only to those who have made their heart the residence for Guru's Shabad. 2.

Those who are able to acquire the essence of Waheguru's Naam are fully contented, and their faith is never shaken. However, only those who have acquired Waheguru's Naam have good luck carved on their forehead. (It is a belief that one's luck is revealed on one's forehead. 3. Waheguru's Naam is given only to one individual – the Guru – but there are countless who can benefit from that. By obeying the Guru, many, many people have found salvation. The Naam-treasure can be had only through the Guru's benevolence, but only a few rare individuals actually realize it, oh Nanak. 4.15.22

Gur bundhun tin kay suglay kaatay, jun Nanak sehj(i) smaayee jeeo. 4.16.23.

Word Meaning: Nidh(i) = (nine) treasures of the mythical god, Kuber. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = (eighteen) supernatural powers. Junum(u) Pdaruth(u) = the objective of human life (Waheguru's Naam). Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheeraiy = unemotional; never changing in any way. Laakh kot(i) = millions. Rung Raavaiy = enjoys. 1.
Paykhut = on "seeing". Pooneeta = holy, pious. Oodhaaray = salvaged. Agumm = (physically) unreachable. Agoachar(u) = incomprehensible. 2.
Ooch = High (above the effects of Maya). Apaar = limitless. Thaana = residence. 3.
Mookut(i) bhuyya = became free from the bonds of Maya. Vusayra = residence. Bundhun = bonds of Maya. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.

MEANING: I have Waheguru's Naam in my heart, which is like having all the nine treasures of Kuber and all the 18 supernatural powers, because the unfathomable, and never-changing Waheguru, is the source of bliss, and connecting with Him is the objective of human life. For this reason, an individual who takes shelter at the Guru's feet feels blissful as if he is enjoying countless happy occasions. 1. He becomes completely free of all evil thoughts on "seeing" (connecting with) the Guru, and not only that, but he also enables his brothers and friends (his companions) to find salvation. The physically unreachable and incomprehensible Waheguru can be worshiped (and realized) only by the benevolence of the Guru. 2. Waheguru, which is searched for by all His creation, is realized only by some rare, lucky individual. The residence of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, is unreachable and incomprehensible, and is shown by the Guru. (The Guru connects with Him). 3. Your Naam is the real life-sustaining liquid (of immortality), oh unfathomable and never-changing Waheguru! Whosoever makes his heart a residence for Your Naam becomes free from the bonds of Maya because the Guru cuts his bonds, and the devotee attains the higher spiritual state which is above the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.16.23.

Saas(i) saas(i) Hur(i) gaavaiy Nanak(u), Satgur(i) dhaak(i) leeya mayra purrda jeeo. 4.17.24.

Word Meaning: Mungal = songs of happiness (or of praise of Waheguru which produces bliss). Averda = life. 1. Aoukhudh(u) = cure; medicine. Sadhu = Guru. Kilbikh = sins. Nirmul = clean (of all evil). Theeya = became. Anund = bliss. Binasay = destroyed. 2. Ung(u) = favour; support. Mookta = free (from the bonds of Maya). Sat(i) Kuray = acknowledge to be True (have full faith). Puchhaata = recognized (made a connection). 3. Jub Tay = since. Bhaytut = on meeting. Bulaayay = evil spirits; worries; troubles. Purrda = secrets (weaknesses). 4.

MEANING: I recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His blissful praise only because of His benevolence. One should recite Waheguru's Naam all his life, no matter what he is doing – standing, sitting, asleep or awake. 1. The Guru has given me Waheguru's Naam (connected me with Him), which is the cure for all (mental problems, which also give birth to physical ailments). Now all my sins are gone, and I am completely clean (of all evils). I am blissful now, and all my ailments and troubles are gone. 2.

An individual, who has the support of my dear Waheguru, is salvaged in this world. Those who have recognized the Guru (get connected with Him) have full faith in the existence of Waheguru, and are not afraid of anyone or anything. 3.

Ever since I have been connected with the Guru, all my worries and troubles have disappeared at the sight of Him. Now, I recite Waheguru's Naam with every breath, and the Guru has covered (removed) all my weaknesses, oh Nanak! 4. 17. 24.

Word Meaning = Oat(i) Poat(i) = the cross threads of fabric (weft and woof). Raata = mixed; imbued. Pritpaalay = looks after. Sookhdaata = source of all comfort. Paani, Pukkha, Peesoun = fetch water, fan (v), and grind wheat (all such services were needed before mechanization). Aahur = task; service. 1. Silk = bonds (of maya). Bhaaya = liked. Kmaavaiy = does (things). Untar(i) Baahur(i) = inside and out (mentally and physically). Maahur(u) = expert; alert. 2. Daana = wise; respectable. Bidh(i) = ways (n); possibilities; alternatives. Maaneh(i) = enjoy. Jaahur(u) = famous; revealed. 3. Pehiraaya = robed; honoured. Laykha = accountability; questions. Gehr = deep (who does not disclose his secrets). Gumbheera = not affected by conditions. Gouhur(u) = a valuable stone (of great qualities).

MEANING: The source of all comfort, Waheguru, is mixed (blended) with His devotee just as the cross threads in fabric, and He looks after his devotee in every way. I wish to serve such a devotee who is serving Waheguru all the time by fetching water for him, fanning him, and grinding flour for him. 1. Waheguru cuts all the bonds of Maya for His devotee, and the devotee gladly obeys the Huqam of His Lord. The devotee does only those things that are to the liking of the Lord, and he serves Him enthusiastically by mind and by body. 2. You are wise and know every possibility (inner feelings of the devotee), oh Waheguru! The devotees of Waheguru feel blissful under all conditions. Everything that belongs to the Lord belongs to the devotees as well, and the devotees are made prominent (famous) by Waheguru. 3. Once the Lord robes (honours) His devotee, He never questions him again. I wish to offer my life to such a devotee who has become "one" with Waheguru, and like Him, which is unfathomable, never changes and is invaluable, oh Nanak! 4.18.25

Kuhou Nanak bherm kuttay kivarra, buhourr(i) na hoyiyaiy jaoula jeeo. 4.19.26.

Word Meaning: Ghur = heart. Tolaiy = searches. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayee= lost in doubts and misbeliefs. Soohayla = in happiness; content. 1. Jhim(i) Jhim(i) = dropwise; drizzle. Anund Binoad = enjoys bliss. Kayla = detached; blissful. 2. Sadh = Guru. Sooka Huriya = dead (hopeless) and barren mind came alive. Soomut(i) = noble wisdom. Mayla = union (with Waheguru). 3. Trung = wave. Smaaya = became "one" with. Kivaarra = doors; walls. Jaoula = separate. 4.

MEANING: Everything (Waheguru's Naam) resides in man's heart, and there's nothing outside in the world. Those who search for Him in the world are lost in doubts and misbeliefs. Those who have found (got connected with) Waheguru in the shelter (guidance) of the Guru are happy and content internally and in the outside world. 1. The Naam-Amrit slowly drips into the minds of those who are connected with Waheguru (slow dripping is more effective than a flood). They drink it tastefully when they ponder on Guru's Shabad (i.e.

pondering on Guru's Shabad is equivalent to drinking Amrit). Being connected with God, which is always blissful, such individuals also feel blissful and enjoy day and night. 2. They have been united with Waheguru, from whom they had been disconnected for many lives (Sikhism strongly believes in reincarnation), and with the benevolence of the Guru, their barren mind (which never thought about Waheguru) came alive (begins to have holy thoughts). With Guru's noble wisdom, they begin to remember Waheguru, and thus get connected to Him. 3. Just as a wave on the surface of water mingles completely with water again, Waheguru's Light in humans (human soul) becomes one with His own Light (Waheguru Himself). All the walls of their doubts are smashed, and they never get separated from Him again, oh Nanak! 4.19.26.

Word Meaning: Koorbani = Bulihaari = Vaar(i) Jaayeen = to offer life. Rusna = tongue. Bhuniya = recited. Vitoun = from; for. Aaradhay = worship. 1. Churn = feet. Pukhaaleen = I (wish to) wash. Maarug(i) = path. Nihaaleen = see; have sight. Purakh(u) Duyyalay = kind Waheguru. Laadhay = found; connected. 2. Vudbhaagi = very lucky. Mudhay = in the middle; among. Aliput = unaffected by Maya. Nirbaanaiy = having absolutely no worldly attachment or desire. Bhoujul = world sea. Doot = demons. Saadhay = fixed (controlled). 3. Shern = shelter. Taan = force; power. Tuj(i) = quit. Moh undhayra = darkness of attachment. Agumm = inaccessible. Agaadhay = unfathomable. 4.

MEANING: I wish to offer my life to those who listen to You (obey Your Huqam), and to those who recite Your Naam by the tongue, and also to those who worship You by mind and body, oh Waheguru! 1. I wish to wash the feet of those who follow the path leading to You. I also wish to "see" the kind Waheguru who is pervading the whole universe. I will gladly surrender my heart (mind) to the friend who is connected with Waheguru by taking shelter of the Guru. 2. They are very lucky who have realized You, oh Waheguru! Even though You are present in everybody, yet You are unaffected by Maya, and have no worldly attachment. They have controlled all the demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment and conceit), and swim across the sea of Maya in the company of the Guru. 3.
I have taken refuge in such fortunate individuals and have gotten rid of all my ego, power, and the darkness of attachment. (I beg of them only) for fostering of Waheguru's Naam, who is inaccessible and unfathomable, oh Nanak! 4.20.27.

Word Meaning: Payd(u) = tree. Shaakh = branches. Sookhum(u) = minuscule. Asthooli = huge. Julnidh(i) = treasure of water (ocean). Phayn(u) = suds. Boodbooda = bubble. Uver(u) = other than. Bhaaliyaiy = find. 1. Soot(u) = (thread of) cotton. Muniyay = beads. Guntthi = knot. Mayr(u) = supreme (bead in the centre). Aad(i) = beginning. Mudh(i) = middle. Unt(i) = (in the) end. 2. Nirgoon = formless (invisible). Surgoon = The visible universe (is His visible form). Nirbaan(u) = without any desire (above the effects of Maya). Rusiya = source of all tastes. Kertub = amazing feats. Smaaliyaiy = look after; remember (worship). 3. Tthaakur = Master; Lord. Phoon(i) = again; too. Goopt() = hidden. Pergut(u) = visible. Bhoari = a little. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Nihaaliyaiy = cast sight.4.

NOTE: Mayr(u) is a mythical mountain of gold and all the precious stones. (Hindu Granths).

MEANING: If You are compared to a tree, then the whole universe is like Your branches, oh Waheguru! You have transformed from minuscule to huge (the universe). You, Yourself, are the ocean, and Yourself the suds-bubbles on the surface; no one else can be seen like You. 1. You are the thread, and also the beads in the rosary. You are the knot, and you are the main supreme (Mayru) bead. You were at the beginning of the universe, are there now, and will be there at the end; nobody else can be seen like You. 2.
You are formless, and You are in the whole universe, oh, the source of all comforts, Waheguru! You are the source of all essences, imbued with love for Your Creation, yet You are completely detached from the world. Only You know all Your amazing feats of how You look after Your Creation. 3 You are the Lord and also the devotee. You are hidden, and You are visible (in Your Creation). Please cast a kind sight on me, even if it is for a very short period of time, so that I may always sing Your virtues, begs Your slave, Nanak. 4.21.28.

MEANING: Only those words are worthwhile which are in Waheguru's praise. But only a few rare individuals have realized (made a connection with) such Bani by the Guru's grace. Wonderful is the time when one sings, or listens to the praise of Waheguru; such individuals are recognized in Waheguru's Court. 1. Those eyes are lucky (worthy of respect) which have had the "sight" of Waheguru. Those hands are lucky which write praise of Waheguru. Those feet are pretty (lucky) which walk on the path leading to Waheguru. I offer my life to those in whose company I may get connected with Waheguru. 2.
Listen to me, my dear friend; Waheguru salvages individuals in the company of the Guru in a moment. Their minds become pure, and all their sins are destroyed, and they are never born again. 3. With folded hands, I beg You, oh Waheguru, "save me - the stone-like heavy rock (with the weight of my sins); I am sinking in the sea of Maya (Worldly attractions)". MEANING: You are my father, and You are my mother, oh Waheguru! You are my friend, and You are my brother; when You are my guard everywhere, why should I be afraid of anything, and why should I have any worries or irritations! 1.

I realize You (connect with You) with Your kindness. You are my shelter, and You are my pride. There is no other power than You, and the whole world is Your sport, and the sports ring (You enjoy Your Creation just as a sportsman enjoys his sports), oh Waheguru! 2.

You have created all the living beings, and they do exactly what You wish them to do, oh Waheguru. Whatever happens in the world happens according to Your Huqam; we have no control over it. 3. I attain great comfort by reciting Your Naam (remembering You), and my mind finds peace when I sing Your virtues. Because of the kindness of the Perfect Guru, my mind is overjoyed, and I have won the most difficult battle (fighting against the demons and the attractions of Maya) of my life, oh Nanak. 4.24.31

Word Meaning: Jea Praan = soul; life. Adhaara = support. Apaara = (of) limitless (Waheguru). Nidhaan = treasure. Dhiyayay = remembering (God's Naam). 1.
Munsa = wish. Dhaar(i) = conceive; decide. Munoruth(u) = objective. Bhaytut = (on) meeting. Dersaaya = sight. 2. Agumm = unreachable. Agochar = incomprehensible. = Mit(i) = measurements; value. Saadhik = those under training to focus their mind. Sidh = Yogis who have acquired some supernatural power by focusing their mind. Giyaani = having Divine Knowledge. Khoodi = selfishness; ego. Bholaava = doubts; misbeliefs. Pergtaaya = made visible; enlightened (the mind). 3.
Anund Mungal Kalyan = blissfulness; joyful mind. Nidhana = treasure; source. Sehj = spiritual state where Maya has no effect. Vukhaana = recite. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru is the support for life and the mind. His devotees survive (spiritually) by singing the virtues of the limitless Waheguru. His Naam is the treasure of virtues and of Amrit; one finds huge comfort in reciting His Naam. 1.
In the company of the Guru (or His holy congregation), all one's conceived wishes are fulfilled, and the cycle of reincarnation is broken. On seeing and meeting the Guru (spiritually connecting with Him), all one's wishes and objectives are realized. 2.
Even though the followers of the Yogic path, the Sidh yogis, and the Giyanis recite His Naam, nobody can determine the value (magnanimity) of the unreachable and the inconceivable Waheguru. But the Guru has enlightened my mind, and all my doubts and misbeliefs have been cleared. 3. Waheguru is the treasure of all the comforts and bliss; one achieves all the comforts and the higher spiritual state (where Maya has no effect) by reciting His Naam. With His benevolence, I have acquired His Naam in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.25.32.

Word Meaning: Soyay = (Sobha); fame, praise; information. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Ut(i) = extremely. Bhaari = great. Kertub = amazing feats. Oat = shelter. 1.
Huriya = green (comes to life). Kutha = narration (of virtues). Mul(u) = filth. Sugli = all. Khovaiy = lose; wash away. Bhaytut = on meeting (in the company). 2.
Smaaroun = remember. Dhaaroun = acquire; adopt. Pergaasa = enlightenment.
Muyya = kindness. Pritpaala = raising, looking after. 3.
Sat(i) = True; eternal. Chulit = bewitching (captivating) feats. Pergut = visible; appear. Nihaala = blissful. 4.

MEANING: I survive (spiritually) only by listening to Your praise, oh Waheguru! You are my magnanimous darling, Lord. Only You understand Your captivating feats; I am only in Your shelter, oh the provider for the world, Waheguru! 1. My mind blooms when I sing Your praise, and all the filth of my mind is washed away when I listen to the narration of Your virtues. I recite You Naam in the company of the holy saints, oh kind Waheguru! 2.
I recite the Naam of my Waheguru with every breath. I acquired this wisdom through the Guru's kindness. My heart is enlightened with Your grace, oh the provider for the whole world, Waheguru! You are kind to everybody. 3.
Only Waheguru is eternal, and He alone is there all the time. His amazing feats are visible everywhere, and I feel blissful on seeing them, oh Nanak! 4. 26.33.

Poorun aas kurie khin bheetur(i), Hur(i) Hur(i) Hur(i) goon jaapay jeeo. 4.27.34.

Word Meaning: Versay = rain (of Waheguru's Naam) falling. Mayha = cloud. Seetal = cool. Shaant(i) = peaceful. Sehj = higher spiritual state. Tthaandh(i) = coolness; peace. 1.
Rujaaya = fed to satisfaction. Daat = gift; largesse. Dhraapay = overfed. 2.
Naayee = greatness. Moha = attachment. Binsay = ended. Suntaap = troubles; tough times. 3. Phaahay = bonds; shackles. Khin = moment. Bheetur(i) = inside. 4.

MEANING: When all the devotee friends recite Waheguru's Naam together with dedication, it feels as if His Naam begins to rain in the hearts of the devotees by His Huqam (pleasure). The mind (suffering from the heat of vile, lust, etc.) begins to feel calm and peaceful, and the comfort of the higher spiritual level (where Maya has no effect) begins to be felt with His kindness. 1 The kind God has created an excess of everything so that all the living beings are completely satisfied. The provider Waheguru bestows such great largesse that all living beings are fully content. 2. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His magnanimity; one should always remember Him in Guru's shelter. With recitation of Waheguru's Naam, all the fear of reincarnation, attachment with worldly things, and all the troubles and grief are completely eradicated. 3. I remember Waheguru with every breath as a result of which all the worldly bonds are cut, oh Nanak! When a person sings the virtues of Waheguru, all his wishes are granted in no time. 4.27.34.

NOTE: Punjab has always been an important agrarian state, but at the time of Guru Sahiban, there were no canals to irrigate the fields. The farmers depended mainly on rainfall for growing their crops. Not only that, rains also brought relief from the intense heat of May and June. In this Shabad, Guru Sahib uses the analogy of rain's importance to living beings to emphasize the importance of Waheguru's Naam.

(PAGE 105): Kur(i) kirpa Prubh(u) bhugti laavhou, Sach(u) Nanak Amrit(u) peeyay jeeo. 4.28.35.

Word Meaning: Saajun = Meet = friend. Agumm = (physically) inaccessible. Apaaray = limitless. Mooktay = free from the bonds of Maya. 1. Kilbikh = sins. Chinday = desired. Rijuk = food and other necessities. 2. Binsaiy = destroyed. Paargiraami = able to swim across the sea of Maya. Kaaruj = tasks; objectives. Theeyay = became; completed. 3. Shernaayi = shelter. Bhaavaiy = (as You) deem appropriate. Sach(u) = eternal. 4.

MEANING: Come, all my devotee friends; let us sing praise of the unreachable, and the limitless Waheguru together. All those who sing and all those who listen to the praise of our Creator, Waheguru, are emancipated. 1. When one recites the Naam of Waheguru - who nourishes all His Creation, and fulfills all other needs - all his sins of many lives are destroyed, and all his conceived wishes are granted. 2. One enjoys all the comforts, and all his fears go away when he recites Waheguru's Naam. Whoever serves Waheguru can swim across the sea of Maya, and all his tasks are realized (his noble wishes are granted). 3. I have come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru! Please connect me with You in whatever way You please. Kindly enable me to serve You (recite Your Naam with dedication) so that I (Guru Nanak) may drink the True Naam - Amrit. 4.28.35.

Naam(u) juput mun(u) tun(u) huriyavul(u), Prubh Nanak nudr(i) nihaaray jeeo. 4.29.36.

Word Meaning: Bhuyay = became. Govind = Gosayeen = provider for the earth = Waheguru. Maygh(u) = clouds. Tthaandh(i) = coolness; peace. 1. Jea Junt = living beings. Pritpaaray = provides for; looks after. Bhunjun = destroyer. Saagar = sea. Aahaaray = food. 2. Bulihaar(i) = Koorbaana = offer for sacrifice. Raiyn(i) = night. Khin = moment. 3. Soag = grief; sorrow. Suntaapay = troubles; hardships. Huriyavul(u) = blooms; joyful. Nihaaray = sees; looks kindly at. 4.

MEANING: With the kindness of Waheguru, it is raining Naam everywhere. Waheguru, who is always kind to the poor and the powerless, has brought calmness and peace to the world, which burns (suffers) with the heat of vices. 1. He looks after His creation just the way a mother looks after her baby. The Lord Waheguru, who is the destroyer of all discomforts and is the source of all comfort, provides food and support to all living beings. 2.
The kind Waheguru is present everywhere – on the land, in the waters, and in the sky - we should sacrifice our lives for Him, and must worship Him day and night. He can salvage all of us in a moment (in the twinkling of an eye). 3.
Waheguru protects all of us, and all the sorrows and troubles are eliminated. The body and mind bloom (feel blissful) when we recite Waheguru's Naam, which happens only when He casts His kind sight on us, oh Nanak. 4.29.36.

Word Meaning: Usthul = barren land; desert; deserted place. Chaubaaray = mansion. Oojaarri = uninhabited (deserted) place. 1. Rookhee = uncoated chapati without any dish (subsistence food). Smaalay = remembers Waheguru's Naam. Nihaalay = Nihaaray = sees. Budphaiyli = evil deeds. Visoo = poison. Vaarree = garden. 2.

Rung(u) = love; respect. Saakut = worshipper of wealth. Vikurm = ignoble deeds. Doolubh Dayh = priceless human life. Ugiyani = ignorant. Jurrh = root. 3.
Shern(i) = shelter. Deen = powerless; weak. Sherm = honour; self-respect. 4.
MEANING: A deserted place feels like a mansion of gold where Waheguru's Naam is recited; and a town where Waheguru's Naam is not recited feels like a deserted place. 1.
If a poor person, who has very little to eat, recites Waheguru's Naam, he has Waheguru's kind sight on him everywhere; but a person, who has very rich food to eat, but does evil deeds, is growing a garden of poison (in Waheguru's eyes). 2.
An individual who develops no love or respect for the holy devotees (of Waheguru) and, on top of that, commits ignoble deeds in the company of lovers of money is an ignorant person who uproots (destroys) his own base and wastes away his precious human life. 3.
I have come to the shelter of the Waheguru, who is kind to the powerless, is the source of all comfort, is the Guru, and is the provider for the whole world. Please be kind to me (Your slave Nanak), so that I may sing Your praise to save my honour in Your Court (to achieve my objective of being "one" with You), oh Waheguru. 4.30.37.

Word Meaning: Churn Tthaakur Kay = Lord's feet (His Naam). Ridaiy = (in) heart. Kul(i) = Kulyug (an era of time considered to be unholy in Hindu Granths. (Sikhism does not believe in any such stipulated time periods). Klaysh = bitterness; hostility. Door(i) Puyiyaanay = went away; removed. Shaant(i) = peace. Sehj = peace of mind. Dhoon(i) = concentration. Nivaasa = reside; in the company of. 1. Na Moolay = absolutely not; not at all. Bhurpooray = filling completely. Simer(i) = remembering (Waheguru). Jum kee Phaasa = noose of the angel of death. 2. Verkhaiy = drops; rains. Unhud = Divine music which plays automatically. Shaant(i) = peace; calmness. Tiput(i) Aghaayay = contented completely. Dilaasa = encouragement; support. 3. Ful(u) = success; achieved the object. Aavun Jaan = reincarnation. 4.
MEANING: A man who stays in the company of the holy men (and recites Waheguru's Naam) makes his heart the place for Waheguru's Naam to stay. All his worldly troubles and hostility towards him are eliminated, and he attains peace of mind, comfort, a higher spiritual state, and concentration of mind. 1. Once one is connected to Waheguru through his love and devotion, his connection is never broken, and he "sees" Waheguru present everywhere. I can also cut the noose of the angel of death by singing the virtues of Waheguru. 2. The rain of the Divine music of Bani (words of Waheguru's praise) is falling everywhere as a result of which peace and calmness prevail in one's body and mind. With Satguru's support, the devotees acquire full contentment in the Naam-rain. 3.

When a man surrenders to Waheguru and becomes dependent upon Him (has full faith in Him), he achieves the objective of his life. With His kindness, Waheguru connects His devotee to Him as a result of which all his wishes are fulfilled, and his reincarnation comes to an end, oh Nanak! 4.31.38.

Word Meaning: Meenh(u) = rain. Jea Junt = living beings. Sookhi Vusaaya = settled in comfort. Klaysh(u) = hostility; bitterness. 1. Pritpaaray = raised; looked after. Rukhvaaray = guard. Ghaali = hard work. 2. Jul Thul Muhhiul = water, land, and sky = the whole world. Triptaanay = contented. Churn Pukhaali = wash feet (an expression of profound love and respect). 3. Ichh = wish; desire. Poojaavunhaara = fulfiller. Bulihaara = offer life for sacrifice. Rusaalee = the source of all essences (Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: With the kindness of Waheguru, the rain of His Naam is coming down as a result of which all the living beings are having comfort in their life. By remembering Waheguru's Naam, all the troubles, and hostility against one another go away, and the everlasting comfort is achieved. 1. Waheguru, to whom all the living beings belong, looks after them, and He becomes their guard. The Lord has answered my prayers, and my efforts have been successful (in achieving the objective of human life). 2. Waheguru is the provider for all the living beings, and can be "seen" (realized) only by the grace of the Guru. I wish to wash the feet of the Guru (serve Him by obeying His advice gladly) with whose grace all the living beings in the waters, on the land, and in the sky get fully satisfied. 3.
Waheguru fulfills the wishes of the mind. I wish to sacrifice my life for Him all the time. The destroyer of all the discomforts, Waheguru, has bestowed me with the gift (of union with Him); so now I am fully imbued in the love of the source of all essences (Waheguru), oh Nanak! 4.32.39.

Word Meaning: Tthaakur(u) = Soami = Lord; Master. Pind(u) = body. Raas(i) = capital. Joar(u) = force (behind). 1. Kaar Kmaavaan = do just that. Jay Toodh Bhaavaan = by which You may like me. 2. Lehna = to receive. Gehna = ornaments; wealth. Baikoontth(u) = paradise. 3. Munoruth = objectives. Dookhaala = source of discomfort. 4.

MEANING: You are my Master and my Lord, oh Waheguru! My mind, my body, and my wealth all belong to You (are given by You). My life and by body are Your capital for me (I can use my mind and my body for noble or ignoble deeds), and You are the force behind me, oh the Provider for the whole world! 1. You are always the source of comfort; I wish to kneel down to touch Your feet (obey Your Command or Will, gladly). I wish to do only those deeds that You kindly ask me to do so that You may like me. 2.

I have to receive everything from You, and You are my wealth, oh Waheguru. Whatever you bestow on me, is for my comfort. You look after everybody, and in whatever situation You keep me in, is paradise for me. 3.

I sing Your virtues day and night, and I get all the comfort when I recite Your Naam. All my objectives in life (including the one to be “one” with You) have been fulfilled, and I will never experience any source of discomfort, oh Nanak! 4.33.40.

Word Meaning: Maygh(u) = cloud (Guru). Putthaaya = sent. Muhiul = sky. Deh Dis(i) = ten directions (in every direction). Versaaya = dropped. Shaant = calmness; peace of mind. Trishna = worldly desires. Anund = bliss. Bhuyya = happened; became. Subh Tthaayeen = everywhere. 1. Bhunjunhaara = destroyer. Bukhsh(i) = kindly forgive. Saara = looks after. Pritpaalay = raises and nourishes. Munaayeen = I ask for forgiveness; win over. 2. Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Tthaakur(i) = Master; Lord. Jaayee = places. 3. Maan(u) = pride. Taan(u) = force; capability. Gooni Guhayra = limitless (source of) virtues. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours (all the time). 4.

NOTE: India, being a hot country, welcomes clouds, unless people have very poor shelters or the rain is damaging to crops. In addition to providing respite from hot days and alleviating water shortages, thereby spurring crop growth, the rains also wash the trees and other vegetation clean, and as a result, they begin to look very pretty. There is a lot of poetry written about clouds and rain. People need rain for food to satisfy their appetite, but there is another kind of rain they also need badly for their mental food: the rain of Waheguru's Naam, caused by the Guru-cloud. In this, and many more Shabads, you will find the rain to mean Naam-rain and the cloud to mean Guru-cloud.

MEANING: Just as all the living beings in the water, on the land, and in the sky are satisfied when it rains, Waheguru has sent another cloud in the form of Guru, which causes rain on the hearts of all human beings everywhere, as a result of which calmness and peace have prevailed, and all their desires for worldly possessions are satisfied. 1.

Not only is Waheguru the source of all comfort and the destroyer of all troubles, but He is also forgiving. He ignores our weaknesses, looks after His creation, and raises and nourishes them all. I, too, drop on His feet to seek forgiveness and win His favour. 2.

We should worship Waheguru (recite His Naam) with each breath whose shelter raises our spiritual level to the degree where Maya has no effect. There is no other lord to rival Waheguru, who has created all the places (the whole universe). 3.

All my pride and capability are Your gifts, oh Waheguru. You are the real Lord, and the limitless source of all virtues. Your slave (Guru) Nanak prays to You that "I should recite Your Naam all the time." 4.34.41

Nanak daas keeyay Prubh(i) apunay, Hur(i) keertun(i) rung maanay jeeo. 4.35.42.

Word Meaning: Tootthay = pleased to be kind. Churn = feet (Shabad). Vootthay = took residence. Smaadh(i) = meditate with full concentration. Liv = make connection. Rus(u) = taste; bliss. 1. Agumm = (physically) unreachable. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Ghut = heart. Nayra = nearby. Aliput = unaffected by Maya. Virla = rare. Aap(u) = self. 2. Nishaani = recognition. Sehj(i) = in a higher spiritual state. Suntokh = contentment. Triptaasay = fully satisfied. Anund = bliss. Bhaanaiy = as per the Will. 3.
Hutheen Ditti = gives Himself (Naam). Nivaaray = dispels. Rung = enjoyments; bliss. Maanay = enjoy. 4.

MEANING: When Waheguru is pleased to be kind, all the comforts are realized, and the holy Shabad of the Perfect Guru takes residence in the heart (appears in the heart). As a result, the individual attains the higher spiritual level (above the effects of Maya), and with full concentration, he is connected to Waheguru; and only he enjoys that blissful feeling. 1.

My Lord, Waheguru, is physically unreachable and incomprehensible. He is present in every heart and is close by. The provider of all living beings, God, is above the effects of Maya, but some rare individuals recognize Him within themselves. 2.
If one wants to know how to recognize a devotee who has realized Waheguru, the answer is: that individual has only Waheguru at heart and recognizes His Will. He is always satisfied and content, and Maya has no effect on Him. He is blissful to accept Waheguru's Will. 3.
The provider Waheguru bestows (His Naam) Himself, and kills the discomfort of reincarnation. The devotees, who have been adopted (connected to Him) by Waheguru, enjoy the bliss of singing His praise, oh Nanak! 4.35.42.

Word Meaning: Duyya = benevolence; compassion. Gopal = Gosaayeen = the provider for the earth = Waheguru. Churn = feet (Shabad). Maaheen = in. Ungikaar(u) = hugged (expressed love and kindness). Dayra = home. Dhaaya = demolished. 1.
Vusiya = took residence. Bikhrra = difficult; insurmountable. Doot = demons (lust, rage etc.) Aahiya = wished for. 2. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Jaapaiy = visible; evident. Bherm Bhoolaava = misled by doubts and misbeliefs. Laahiya = removed. 3.
Churn Kumal = lotus-like feet (Shabad). Aadhaaro = support; prop. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours (all the time). Vaapaar = deal in. Sehj = higher spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Anund = bliss. Smaahiya = mixed with; present. 4.
MEANING: Because of the kindness of Waheguru - the provider for the earth – Guru's feet (His Shabad) has flourished (ingrained) in my heart. The Creator did me a huge favour and demolished the home of all my discomforts. 1. Waheguru has taken residence in my body and mind, and nothing seems to be insurmountable now. By wishing only for Waheguru, all the demons (lust, rage, greed, etc.) have become my friends. 2.
Whatever Waheguru does, He does it alone, and nobody else's wisdom or intelligence is needed. He supports His devotees and clears all their doubts and misbeliefs. 3.
Waheguru's lotus-like feet are (His Naam is) the basis of the life of the devotees, and they deal in His Naam all the time. By singing the virtues of Waheguru, they enjoy a blissful state in which Maya has no effect. Waheguru is omnipresent, oh Nanak! 4.36.43.

Word Meaning: Mundar = temple; mansion. Rida = heart. Soohayla = blissful; peaceful. Soohaavi = providing comfort; pretty. Vit-houn = from; for. 1. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Vudaayee = greatness; magnanimity. Keem = value. Koodrut(i) = nature; capability. Kurm(u) = deeds; tasks. Maano = enjoy. 2. Saalahun(u) = praise. Vudbhaageen = with great luck. Rung(i) Ruttay = imbued in love. Bhaaveh(i) = are liked. Nishaano = recognition. 3. Unt(u) = limits. Thaan(i) Thanuntar(i) = (in) every place. Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.

MEANING: Only that temple is real where only Waheguru is worshipped. Only that heart is blissful which sings the virtues of Waheguru. That piece of land is a source of comfort where His devotees reside, who are always ready to sacrifice their lives for Waheguru. 1. Waheguru's magnanimity is eternal, but nobody can evaluate it. His capability and His deeds cannot be described. However, His devotees experience bliss by reciting His Naam and meditating on His Shabad (Huqam). 2. One can sing Waheguru's praise only if one is very lucky, and sing Waheguru's virtues only by the grace of the Guru. Waheguru likes those who are imbued in His love. They are recognized by the fact that they always recite Waheguru's Naam (sing His praise). 3. Nobody can find the limits of Waheguru as He is present in all the countries and beyond. We should recite His Naam all the time (no matter how isolated in some faraway place we are) because the omniscient Waheguru is everywhere, and knows everything about us, oh Nanak. 4.37.44.

Word Meaning: Raiyn(i) = night. Soohaavrri = Soohayla = pleasant; providing comfort. Mayla = together; in the company. Ghurree = Moorut = moment. Vunjeh(i) = spend; go by. Tithaayee = (only) that. 1. Doakh = allegations; sins. Laathay = removed. Saathay = with. Bhaiy = bhuou = fear. Bherm = doubts; misbeliefs. Khohiya = lost; removed. Jaayeen = places. 2. Sumruth = fully capable; omnipotent. Naun Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of god Kuber. Luvaiy na Laayee = equals; matches. 3.

Deen Duyaala = kind to the powerless. Jaachik(u) = beggar. Jaachaiy = begs. Sadh Ruvaala = dust of Guru's feet (an expression of love and respect); favour of the Guru. Jun(u) = devotee. 4.
MEANING: When a person recites Waheguru's life-sustaining Naam in the company of the Guru, both his night and day become very pretty (comforting) for him. When every moment of life is spent in reciting Waheguru's Naam, it becomes successful (one achieves the objective of life, i.e. becomes "one" with Waheguru). 1. All the sins of the individual are washed away by reciting Waheguru's Naam, and Waheguru is always with Him inside and out. The perfect Guru dispels all his fears and misbeliefs, and the individual "sees" Waheguru all around. 2. God is omnipotent, great, transcendent (above the effects of Maya), and limitless. The treasure of Waheguru's Naam is like having all the nine mythical treasures of Kuber. Waheguru has been here since the beginning, is here now, and will always be here till the end, and no one else can rival Him. 3.
Please be kind to this beggar (me) as You are always kind to the powerless (humble), and grant me the dust of the feet of the Guru (His Shabad) which I beg of You. Your slave, Nanak, begs for Your Naam, which He wishes to recite all the time. 4.38.45.

Word Meaning: Aithaiy = here (in this world). Aagaiy = ahead (in the next world after death). Jea Juntar = living beings. Thaapay = created. Uver(u) = other. Kurtray = oh Creator! Dhur = Oat = support. 1. Rusna = tongue. Parbrahm = Prubh = God. Untarjaami = omniscient. Jooaiy = in gamble (earn wealth at the cost of Waheguru's Naam). Haari = lose. 2. Uvkhudh(u) = cure; medication. Jun = devotee. Kaari = Kaaruj = deed. 3. Drisht(i) = (kind) sight. Dhaar(i) = cast. Svaariya = made perfect (flawless). Ghut = heart. Vin(u) = without. Saari = supreme. 4.
MEANING: It is Your Huqam that is working in this world, as well as in the next, oh Waheguru! All the living beings have been created by You. There is none other (like You); I survive with Your support and in Your shelter, oh, Waheguru. 1.
I survive spiritually by reciting Your Naam with my tongue; (and You know that) as You are omniscient, oh Waheguru. Whoever serves You (obeys Your Huqam) lives in comfort (has mental peace), and he does not lose the precious human life in a gamble (risking Waheguru's displeasure while evil deeds). 2. The devotee, who implants Your Naam in the heart as the panacea for all diseases, gets the suffering of rebirth eliminated. Everybody should sing praise of Waheguru day and night because this is the only deed to perform for success (to find salvation). 3.

Waheguru makes His devotee flawless with His kind sight. Such a devotee salutes (obeys) Waheguru, which is present in every heart. This (to obey Waheguru) is the supreme wisdom to follow because there is none other than Him (who deserves praise), oh Nanak. 4.39.46.

Nanak Naam(u) vusiya jis(u) untar(i), pervaan girust oodaasa jeeo. 4.40.47.
Word Meaning: Rutta = imbued. Serbus(u) = everything. Vaaray = sacrifice. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Bisur(u) = forget. Saasa = breath; moment. 1.
Saajun = Meet(u) = friend. Sung(i) = with. Beechaara = ponder on. Treejaiy = swim across. Saagur = (world) ocean. Phaasa = noose. 2.
Chaar(i) = four. Pdaruth = invaluable articles: (1) Dherm (high morals), (2) Arth = wealth, (3) Kaam = wishes, success. (4) Moakh = salvation (according to Hindu Granths).
Paarjaat = a mythical tree in paradise which fulfills all one's wishes. Alukh = inconceivable. Abhayva = enigmatic; whose secrets cannot be known. Kilbikh = sins. 3.
Poorun Bhaag = maturation of luck. Bhuyay = became. Saaringpaani = Waheguru (a name for Vishnu for holding a bow in his hand). Girust = in family. Oodaasa = to renounce the world and live away from the family in some forest, etc. 4.
MEANING: An individual, whose body and mind are imbued with dear Waheguru's love, is gladly willing to sacrifice his life and all his belongings for Him. We should also sing Waheguru's virtues day and night (keep Him in mind), and should not forget Him even for a moment. 1. Only that individual is my friend, my pal, who ponders on the virtues of Waheguru in the company (shelter) of the Guru. It is only in the company of the Guru that one can swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation) and cut the noose of the angel of death. 2. Serving Waheguru (obeying His Huqam and reciting His Naam) is like having acquired all four invaluable articles (see above). Worshipping the inconceivable and enigmatic Waheguru is like having the mythical Paarjaat tree in your possession. The Guru rids the devotee of his lust, rage, and all sins, and all his wishes are granted. 3.
An individual whose luck matures is connected with Waheguru in the company of the Guru. An individual who has stored Waheguru's Naam in his heart is approved by Waheguru, regardless of whether he is a family man or has renounced the world to live a lonely life, oh Nanak. 4. 40.47

Gur bohith(u) paaya kirpa tay, Nanak dhoor(i) sunjoga jeeo. 4.41.48.

Word Meaning: Pergtaaya = revealed; made visible. Binsay = dispelled. Aalus = laziness; indolence. Roaga = ailments; bad habits. 1. Greh(i) = in the house (heart). Nav Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of Kuber. Poorb = in a previous life. Giyaan = knowledge. Dhiyaan = full concentration; meditation. Joga = capable. 2. Khin = moment. Thaap(i) = after creating. Oothaapunhaara = destroyer. Ikunti = all by Himself. Psaara = expansion. Layp(u) = effect of Maya. Jugjeevun = (source of) life of the world. Lehn(i) = remove; come off. Vijoga = (pain of) separation. 3. Unchul(i) Laayay = taking under wings (in Indian Culture a custom to bond a couple together by a piece of cloth (scarf) to indicate their unwavering love. Sisht = world. Traayee = salvaged. Bohith = ship. Dhoor(i) = from the very beginning. Sunjoga = predestined union. 4.

MEANING: When one remembers Waheguru's Naam, he feels comfort at heart (feels blissful). By Waheguru's grace, such devotees, who worship Him, become well known in the world. They sing Waheguru's praise in the company of the Guru, as a result of which their bad habit of laziness is gone. 1. A person who has made his heart the residence for Waheguru (has stored Him in his memory), feels as if he has acquired all the nine mythical treasures. But Waheguru takes residence only in that heart which had worked hard to connect with Him in his previous life. Waheguru Himself is the perfect knowledge and the concentration for his devotees (a person who has been connected with Waheguru acquires all the Knowledge and concentration without any special effort), and He is capable of doing anything (is omnipotent). 2. Waheguru is capable of creating anything and destroying it in an instant. He is all by Himself (aloof from the universe), and yet pervading the whole universe. The source of life of the world, Waheguru, is totally unaffected by Maya, and all the pain of separation disappears when one "sees" Him. 3.
He can salvage the whole world by taking it under His wings (with His support). He Himself motivates and enables people to recite His Naam. Guru is the ship (to ferry people across the sea of Maya), but only those who are connected with Him with Waheguru's benevolence get to be predestined for union with Him, oh Nanak. 4.41.48.

Word Meaning: J(i) = Jo = whatever. Jithaiy = wherever. Bhulee = comfortable. Jaayay = place (situation). Putivunta = respectable. 1. Proyee = attached to; stitched to. Ikutt(u) = one and the same. Dhaagaiy = thread. Churnee Laagaiy = touches feet (makes connection). Oondh = upside down (away from Maya and towards God). Kuvul = lotus (heart). Oondh Kuvul = the heart which is turned away from Maya and is attracted to Waheguru. Pergaasa = enlightened. Serb = everywhere. Nirunjun = Unaffected by Maya (God). Deettha = sees. 2. Mehma = greatness; magnanimity. Tuhaiyn = only You. Puchhaaneh(i) = recognize. Bulihaari = sacrifice. Peettha = grinded; crushed. 3. Nirvaiyr = bear no enmity (because You have no rival) and are perfectly just. Nirmul = clean (at heart). Kulmul = sins. Binsiya = destroyed. Dheettha = stubborn. 4.

MEANING: To obey Waheguru's Huqam, and do whatever He wants us to do, and to accept gladly in whatever situation He puts us in, is in the best interest of human beings. Only that individual is wise and respectable (in the eyes of Waheguru) who accepts Waheguru's Huqam as being sweet. 1. (Just like the beads in a necklace have a common thread), All the living beings (beads) are connected to the same thread, Waheguru. However, only that individual makes a connection with Waheguru, who is prompted to do so by Waheguru Himself. A person who has turned his mind away from Maya and towards Waheguru is enlightened by the Divine Light, and he sees (finds) Waheguru everywhere. 2. Only You know Your own magnanimity, and recognize Yourself, oh Waheguru! I (do not know anything about Your greatness), but will gladly offer my life to Your devotees who have crushed (overcome) the evils like lust, rage, and greed. 3. Because You bear no animosity against anyone (You deliver perfect justice), Your devotees too, have clean hearts (bear no enmity for anyone); whosoever "sees" them (joins their company), has his sins washed away. I survive (spiritually) only by reciting Waheguru's Naam as a result of which, all my stubborn misbeliefs and fears have been dispelled, oh Nanak! 4.42.49.

Word Meaning: Jhoottha = perishable; mundane. Mungun = thing wished for. Sayvaiy = serves (obeys Huqam). Nihchul(u) = eternal (Waheguru). 1.

Undin(u) = day and night. Nit(i) = every day. Jaagi = awake (alert; watchful). Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Lehna = to receive. 2. Churn Kumul = lotus-like feet of (Waheguru). Vootthay = took residence; stored in memory. Vin(u) = without. Mootthay = got deceived. Baanchheh(i) = long for. Gehna = ornament; adorned with (virtues). 3.

Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). Nihchul(u) = eternal. Sehna = endure (gladly). 4.

MEANING: It is of no use for a person to wish for mundane things because they are perishable, and can be gone in no time. (On the other hand), A person who serves Waheguru all the time will ask only for things which last forever (Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of the Guru. 1.

A person who has developed love for Waheguru's worship, sings His virtues day and night, and is alert (against all evils) all the time. A person whose fortune is engraved on his forehead to receive (Waheguru's Naam) is held by the arm by the Lord and connected with Him. 2.

Waheguru's lotus-like feet (His Naam) take residence in the heart of the devotees (is stored in their memory). Without Waheguru's Naam, all get deceived (by the captivating Maya). I long for the dust of the feet of the devotees (wish to serve them because they connect one with Waheguru). Waheguru's Naam is the real wealth of virtues which adorn a person (spiritually) just like ornaments adorn a woman. 3.

We should recite Waheguru's Naam whether standing or sitting (all the time) because by reciting His Naam, one acquires the eternal husband (Master) – Waheguru. Waheguru has been very kind to me, who has enabled me to accept His Will, oh Nanak! 4.43.50.

Word Meaning: Rungaayay = imbued. Subaayay = all. Durgeh = Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Court. Deen = humble. Duyaal = kind. Sachay = with Waheguru's Naam; with pure heart. Putiaavniya = is pleased. 1. Vaari = sacrifice. Soohaavniya = become pretty (with virtuous qualities). Sookhdaata = source of comfort. Vusaavniya = stay in memory. Pause. Tirbhuvun = in the three-layered universe. Ghunayri = many, many. Uvgoon = vices; ignoble qualities. Puchhotaavniya = repents. 2. Puchhaanay = recognizes. Vukhaanay = utters; explains. Nishaanaiy = gets recognition. Laykha = account (good and bad deeds). Chhootus(i) = gets freedom from the bonds of Maya; finds salvation.
Soohaavniya = pretty; providing comfort. 3. Bhoola = lost (from the true path). Tthaur = shelter; peace. Jum dur(i) = at the door of the angel of death. Choataan = gets beaten up; suffers. Bin(u) = without. Sung = company. Mooktay = free from the bonds of Maya. 4. Saakut = worshipper of Maya; money-minded. Koorray = who indulges in mundane things. Doobidha = caught between Naam and Maya. Aavaiy jaavaiy = is born again and again. Likhiya laykh(u) = pre-written destiny. Maytay = erase. 5. Payiurraiy = in paternal house (this life). Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Jhootth(i) = engaged in worldly attractions. Vichhoonni = disconnected (from Waheguru). Dhaheen = wail. Mootthi = deceived. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's residence. 6. Boojhaiy = understands. Tut(u) = reality; essence. Beechaara = by pondering on. Tthaak(i) = stop; put an end to. Smaavniya = can merge. 7. Akuth = indescribable (Waheguru). Kuhaavaiy = makes others recite. Bhaavaiy = likes. Baynti = request. Sach(u) = Waheguru. 8.

MEANING: By obeying Waheguru's Huqam, those who have imbued their minds in the love of Waheguru are called to the Residence of Waheguru (are connected with Him). My Lord, Waheguru, is always kind to the humble, and His eternal Naam instils faith among the devotees (whose thinking turns from Maya to Waheguru). 1.

I will gladly offer my life for the blissful Shabad in Waheguru's praise. Waheguru's immortalizing Naam is always a source of comfort, but can be embedded in the mind only by the advice of the Guru. Pause. Nobody is mine, and I belong to nobody but Waheguru, which is pervading the whole universe. (Only Waheguru is the real companion of man; all other relations are short-lived). Countless people leave this world after performing deeds of haumein, and then repent for their ignoble deeds. 2.

An individual who recognizes Waheguru's Huqam recites His virtues (Naam), and he is recognized (in Waheguru's Court) for having the Guru's Shabad at heart. Everybody's account of his deeds is maintained in Waheguru's Court; only those who have Waheguru's Naam at heart go unchecked (become "one" with God). 3.

The follower of his mind is misled and can find no shelter; he is punished in the prison of the Angel of Death. Without Waheguru's Naam, there is no friend or companion; only those are above all misdeeds who recite Waheguru's Naam. 4.

A money-minded person deals in perishable goods and does not like the Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Caught between Waheguru's Naam and Maya, he is born again, and again. The prewritten destiny (based on his deeds in previous lives) cannot be erased by anyone (he continues to commit evil deeds); only by acting on the advice of the Guru can a person be set free from the bonds of Maya. 5.

An individual who does not recognize Waheguru (makes no connection with Him) in this life, and is disconnected with Him because of his dealings in mundane things, wails profusely (suffers badly). Having been cheated by vices, he cannot access Waheguru's Residence (make a connection with Him). Vices can be forgiven only by acquiring virtues (by reciting Waheguru's Naam). 6.

Those who realize dear Waheguru in this life by pondering on Guru's Shabad in His shelter are not subjected to rebirth; they become "one" with Waheguru. 7.

Taking Guru's shelter, the individual who realizes the indescribable Waheguru, makes others recite His Naam too. The eternal Lord likes Truth (recitation of His Naam). I make an honest submission that Waheguru can be realized only by singing His virtues, oh Nanak! 8.1.

Word Meaning: Kerm(u) = benevolence. Sayva = service; obeying His Will. Soort(i) = concentration. Chit(u) = mind. Chookaavniya = is ended. 1.
Vaari = Bulihaarniya = offer self for sacrifice. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Pause. Khojay = search. Dhaavut = fast wandering (mind). Tthaak(i) = control. Undin(u) = day and night. Sehjay = peaceful mind; mental state above the effects of Maya. 2.
Kaayaan = body; mind. Vust Asunkha = The source of countless virtues (Waheguru). Naun Dervaajay = nine doors (the nine openings of the body). Dusvaiyn = tenth door (higher state of mind where you can “see” Waheguru). Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya. Unhud Shabad = Auto-playing Divine Music that is supposed to be heard when fully connected with God. 3. Naayee = (niyayay) justice; greatness. Vusaayee = stored in memory. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love (for God). Dur(i) Sachaiy = at the door of Waheguru. Sojhi = enlightenment; realization. 4.

Poonn = virtuous deeds. Saar = understanding; seek information. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Bherm(u) = doubts; confusion. Ugiyani = ignorant. Mug(u) = (real) path. Aavun Jaavuniya = is reborn. 5. Sayva = service (obey Him). Haumein = selfishness and ego. Tthaak = stop or control (mind). Saakhi = advice. Undhiaara = darkness; ignorance. Bujjur = stone. Kpaat = doors. 6.
Gur Churni = Guru's feet (Shabad). Nirmul = clean (without prejudice). 7.
Toodhaiy Taayeen = to You. Bukhshyay = forgive; approve. Vudiyayee = honour. Svaarniya = is adorned; made perfect. 8.
MEANING: A devotee gets connected with Satguru with the benevolence of Waheguru, as a result of which, the devotee focuses his mind on Guru's Shabad, and serves Him (obeys His Will). By overcoming his haumein, the devotee leads a comfortable (blissful) life, and all his attachments with Maya are terminated. 1.
I offer myself as a sacrifice to the Guru. My mind has been enlightened by Guru's advice, and now I sing the virtues of Waheguru day and night. Pause.
One acquires Waheguru's Naam by searching (analyzing) his body and mind. He controls his fast-wandering mind and recites Guru's Bani (Shabad) day and night, thereby achieving the spiritual state beyond the effects of Maya and worshipping Waheguru in that state. 2. The human body is a dwelling for the limitless Waheguru; however, one "sees" Him only when he takes Guru's shelter (acts on His advice) and realizes Him. Even though the human body has nine doors (openings), Waheguru cannot be heard, seen, smelled, tasted, or felt through any of them. He can be realized only in the higher mental (spiritual) state, called the Tenth door, in which the devotee is believed to hear an auto-playing Divine Music, and finds salvation. 3.
Waheguru is eternal, and so is His magnanimity; His Naam is enshrined in one's mind only by the grace of the Guru, when the lucky individual is always imbued in His love, and is enlightened at His (Waheguru's) Door (by Him). 4.
The world has no knowledge of sinful and virtuous deeds, and being engrossed in Maya, is misled by its captivation. The ignorant and blind (of reality) do not follow the path of righteousness, as a result of which, they continue to take rebirths. 5.
Service to the Guru (obeying Him) is always blissful because one is able to control one's selfishness and ego. The Teachings of the Guru open the stone-like (impenetrable) doors of his mind to enlighten him and dispel all the darkness of his mind. 6. If one applies his mind to the Feet of the Guru (His Shabad), his haumein is eradicated, and his heart becomes a home of Waheguru. By the grace of Guru, he recites Pure Waheguru's Naam, and his body and mind also become pure. 7. (When someone is born or dies), It is Your birth and death (because You are present in every living body), oh Waheguru! The individual whom You approve is honoured everywhere. Recite Waheguru's Naam to make your birth and death worthwhile (perfect), oh, Nanak! 8.1.2.

Word Meaning: Nimul = pure (without prejudice). Agumm = inaccessible. Apaara = which has no end (limitless). Tukkrri = weighing scale. Toalaiy = weighs; assesses. Boojhaiy = realizes. Gooni = the source of virtues (God). 1.
Vaari = offer self for sacrifice (or services). Vusaavniya = make to reside in the heart; store in memory; connect with Him. Undin(u) = day and night. Jaagay = stay alert; watchful. Dur Sachay = at the door of Waheguru. Sobha = praise. Pause.
Nudr(i) = kind sight. Laykhaiy = is approved (declared successful). Kmaavniya = earn Truth (connect with God). 2. Bhoolaayay = misguides. Huth(u) Paayay = lay hand; seek support. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written (fortune) based on the deeds of previous lives. Maytna = erase. Vudbhaagi = very lucky. Kurm(u) = kindness. 3. Payiurraiy = parents' house (this life). Dhun = woman (human being). Sooti = unaware (about Waheguru). Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Vissari = forgotten; ignored. Mooti = deceived (robbed of good qualities). Bil-laandi = wail; complain; never content. Pir = husband (Waheguru). 4. Jaata = Puchhaata = recognized (connected with). Sayj = bed. Soohaavi = comforting. Raavay = enjoys. Seegaar(u) = adornment. 5. Lukh Chauraasee = 8.4 million life forms (A Hindu belief). Oopaayay = created. Kilvikh = sins. Dur Sachaiy = at Waheguru's door. 6. Laykha = account of good or bad deeds. Phoon(i) = again; also. Dooyaiy Teeyaiy = the other, (involving) Maya. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. 7.
Kur(i)rayay = makes others do. Vudiyaayee = respect. 8.

MEANING: My Waheguru is pure (without prejudice), inaccessible and limitless. He weighs (evaluates) the world without using any scale. But only that individual realizes this fact who has surrendered to the Guru, and is able (is qualified) to merge with the source of virtues (Waheguru) by singing His praise. 1. I will sacrifice my life for those individuals who have made their hearts a place for Waheguru to reside (those who are connected with God). Those who are connected with God are alert (against the attacks of evil desires) day and night, and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. Pause. He Himself listens to and looks after the needs of His creation, but only that individual is successful on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. Only those individuals who put in effort to connect with Him are prompted by Waheguru Himself to do so. Those who follow Guru's advice earn (acquire) Waheguru's Naam. 2. What support (or shelter) can one have if he is misled by Waheguru Himself? Pre-written destiny (based on the deeds of previous lives) cannot be erased (by the individual with his own efforts). However, those are very fortunate who get connected with the Guru by the kindness of Waheguru. 3. A woman (human bride), who is always unaware of Waheguru in her present life, is robbed (of her spirituality) by her ignoble qualities (due to worldly attractions) and ignores Waheguru. She cannot enjoy a peaceful sleep (life) and wails (complains and suffers) all the time. 4. (On the other hand), a woman (human being) who recognizes (make connection with) the source of all comfort, Waheguru, in this life, overcomes her haumein by acting on the Shabad of the Guru. She adorns herself with virtues to be connected with Waheguru, and the bed of her heart becomes a source of bliss all the time, as she enjoys her husband's (Waheguru's) company. 5. Waheguru has created 8.4 million life forms, but He connects only that individual with the Guru, on whom He casts His kind sight. Such an individual gets rid of all his sins; becomes completely pure, and with Waheguru's Naam at heart, he looks exalted (honourable) in Waheguru's Court. 6. Humans indulge in sensual pleasures, but there is no joy in such deeds (as they are not approved by Waheguru). So, who can (no one can) pass Waheguru's test for His approval when the account of one's deeds is examined? But the eternal Waheguru forgives some of us (who deserve it), and absorbs them into Him (connects them with Him). 7. Waheguru Himself does, and makes His creation do, whatever He wishes it to do, and connects some with Him by making them act on the Guru's advice. Waheguru Himself connects individuals with Him by first connecting them with the Guru, who implants Waheguru's Naam in them, thereby honouring them in His Court, oh Nanak! 8.2.3.

MEANING: It is only Waheguru which operates hidden in the world. My mind gets imbued in His love when I “see” Him in the shelter of the Guru. One can realize Waheguru in his heart (which becomes Waheguru’s residence) by getting rid of all his desires, and attain the bliss of the higher spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). 1.

I wish to sacrifice my life for those who have only the “One” Waheguru in their mind. When one obeys the Guru’s advice, his mind comes to rest in itself (quits wandering) and he gets imbued in Waheguru’s love. Pause.

This world has been misled by You (for being engrossed in Maya), oh Waheguru! It has forgotten You, and has been captivated by Maya. It is lost in misbeliefs day and night, and suffers as a result. 2. Those who are imbued with the love of the creator of our fortunes (Waheguru) come to be recognized all over the world due to their serving (obeying) the Guru. Those who are honoured by Waheguru become “one” with Him. 3.

In the love for Maya, those who do not remember Waheguru suffer in the court of the Angel of justice. They are blind and deaf as far as the worship of Waheguru is concerned, and cannot see the reality; such followers of their mind suffer because of their sins. 4. Some, who are prompted by You, are imbued in Your love; and You like Your worship which is performed with love, oh Waheguru! Those who serve Satguru, which is the source of all comfort, have all their wishes fulfilled by You, oh Waheguru! 5. You forgive and honour (Your devotees), oh Waheguru! I am always in Your shelter. The Angel of death does not come even close to those who recite Your Naam. 6. Those who are liked by Waheguru are always imbued with His love. Waheguru connects them with Him through the Guru. I am always in Your shelter; You, Yourself, enlighten Your devotees, oh Waheguru! 7. Those who recognize (get connected with) Waheguru become “one” with Him. They discuss Waheguru’s virtues and recite His Naam. Those who are imbued in Waheguru’s Naam are the real renouncers of Maya, and they meditate on Waheguru with full concentration in their own mind, oh Nanak. 8.3.4.

Sojhi = enlightenment. 6.
Apiou = Amrit. Bherm = doubts; misbeliefs. Mookt(i) = freedom from Maya. Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Bairaagi = who has broken connections with the world. 7. Dhundhaiy = (in worldly) business. Rijuk(u) = food and other needs. Uprraayay = delivers. Su = that. Kaar = deeds. 8.

MEANING: An individual who kills his desires by the Guru's Shabad is recognized (honoured) in the world. The fear of death does not affect him, and no discomfort causes him any suffering (his mind becomes so strong that he does not feel any discomfort). Reciting Waheguru's Naam, his soul merges with Waheguru's Light (Soul), oh my mind. 1. I wish to sacrifice my life for those who earn praise by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Whoever serves Satguru and focuses his mind on Waheguru attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause.
The human body is perishable, and deals in perishable things involving Maya. Because of one's indulgence in the other (Maya), he cannot reach Waheguru's Residence. Without the Waheguru-husband, such human brides suffer greatly and find no peace, day and night. 2. The body, and one's caste (status in society), do not go to the next world (before Waheguru, where one's account of deeds is examined); he is set free (from rebirths) there, if he has Waheguru's Naam in his account (enshrined in his heart). Those who serve the Guru are spiritually wealthy in this world and the next and are always connected with Waheguru. 3.
Those who adorn their bodies with the fear of, and love for God, reach Waheguru's Residence, and their minds are coloured deep, like the deep red colour of madder (which never fades) with Waheguru's love, and enjoy Him, day and night. 4.
The husband, Waheguru, always resides hidden in everybody's mind, but some rare person "sees" Him with Guru's grace. My Waheguru is higher and higher (unreachable), but when He is kind, He connects His devotees with Him. 5.

The world is in slumber in the love for Maya. Forgetting Waheguru, it ultimately suffers. But Waheguru Himself awakens it and enlightens it through the Guru. 6.
One can dispel his misbeliefs by drinking the Amrit (of Waheguru's Naam). With Guru's grace, he can achieve the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. A person who is imbued in Waheguru's worship is a true renouncer of Maya and becomes "one" with Waheguru by killing his desires. 7.
Waheguru creates the world, and then puts it into the business involving Maya. He delivers food and fulfills the needs of all living beings, including 8.4 million life forms. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's love recite His Naam; Waheguru makes individuals do whatever He wants them to do, oh Nanak! 8.4.5.

Word Meaning: Undar(i) = in the heart (mind). Heera, Laal(u) = (precious like) a diamond and ruby (noble qualities which connect with Waheguru) (see Paurri 6 of Japuji. Perkh(i) = tested (assess the worth). Pullaiy = in possession. Vukhaaneh(i) = utter; recite. Kusvutti = touchstone. 1.

Vusaavniya = is harboured in mind. Unjun = kohl (Maya). Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (God). Joti = light (human soul). Jot(i) = Light (Waheguru). Pause. Kaaya = body. Psaara = expansion. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaara = limitless. Bukhsh(i) = by forgiving. Milaavniya = is connected. 2.
Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Drirryaayay = reinforces. Vertaiy = operates. 3.
Vaypervaah(u) = carefree; indifferent. Kilvikh = sins. Uvgun = vices. Bhaiy Bhaayay = (with respectful fear and respect). 4. Bhaavaiy = is liked (approved). Shabaday Maar(i) = (after) killing vices by Guru's Shabad. Jeevalniya = is given (spiritual) life. 5. Baajhoun = without. Savyeen = (I) serve (obey). Kurm(i) = kindness. 6. Jayha = like. Seejhus(i) = succeeds. Dayha = body. Saar(i) = inquiring. Smaal(i) = looking after. Sehj(i) = in a higher spiritual state. 7.
Jayvud = as great. Sirjee = created. Goyee = destroyed. Ghurr(i) = build artfully. Bhunn(i) = break. Svaareh(i) = refine. Soohaavniya = is adorned. 8.
NOTE: Maya's effects are compared to the black colour of kohl because attraction for Maya creates darkness in the minds, as far as awareness about God is concerned. Nirunjun = without (above) the effects of Maya = Waheguru.
MEANING: Those who obey the Guru's Shabad are able to assess (appreciate the worth of) the noble qualities, which connect them with Waheguru in the company of the devotees (holy saints). As a result, they enshrine Waheguru's Naam, which is highly valuable like a diamond or a ruby, in their mind. Those who possess (have acquired) Waheguru's Naam in their heart after testing it in the company of the devotees as the touchstone, discuss Waheguru's virtues all the time. 1.
I am a sacrifice for those who harbour Waheguru's Naam in their mind. While living in the world of Maya, they acquire the Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and become "one" with Him. Pause. Because of the presence of the inaccessible and limitless Waheguru in the human mind, the human body is also a home for Waheguru's vast expansion, but only those who take the Guru's shelter when the forgiving Waheguru connects them with Him. 2. My Lord reinforces Truth (His Naam), and the devotee applies his mind to Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Guru. It is only Waheguru who operates everywhere; one can become "one" with Him by reciting His Naam. 3. My dear Waheguru is carefree and is the destroyer of all sins and vices. One should always recite His Naam with love and respect, because this is what the Guru preaches: worship Waheguru with love and some fear. 4. Waheguru's worship is true (successful) only if it is approved by Waheguru. He Himself gifts such worship (to the deserving, and never has to repent (that He made a wrong choice). There is only one Lord of all the living beings, and He grants the high spiritual life to His devotees by enabling them to kill the worldly desires by the Guru's Shabad. 5. I have none other than You (as my support), oh Waheguru! I serve only You, and sing only Your praise. Waheguru, Himself, connects His devotees with Him with His own benevolence. 6.
There is none like You for me. Your kind sight makes my body (life) successful. Waheguru always protects His devotees by being aware of their needs and looking after them. The devotees take shelter of the Guru and attain a spiritual state beyond the effects of Maya. 7. There is none other, as magnanimous as You are, oh Waheguru! You create the world, and then destroy it Yourself. You beautify the lives of Your devotees by destroying their vices and adorning them with virtues. Waheguru's Naam beautifies the life, oh Nanak! 8.5.6.

Word Meaning: Ghut = heart. Bhogunhaara = one who enjoys. Alukh = inconceivable. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaara = limitless. Sehjay = in a higher spiritual state. 1. Vusaavniya = make heart a residence for Waheguru; is embedded (in mind). Soojhaiy = understands (is connected with). Siyoun = with. Loojhaiy = fights. Munsa = desires. Pause. Punch doot = five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and conceit). Moheh(i) = are deceiving (robbing people of spiritual qualities). Soodh(i) = wisdom. Saara = knowledge. Ghur = (good qualities of) heart. Raakhaiy = protects. 2. Ikk(i) = many. Raatay = imbued. Maatay = intoxicated; imbued; focused. 3. Aikum = firstly. Aikaiy = only Him. Oopaaya

= created. Doobidha = difficulty in making a decision. Tribidh(i) = having three effects (Maya). Chauthi Paurri = fourth (spiritual) level, where Maya has no effect = Sehj. 4. Bhaavaiy = likes; approves. Jaata = recognized (made a connection). Kerni = performance of (worthy) deeds. 5. Baajhoun = without. Uver(u) = other. Doojaiy = (in) Maya. Khup(i) Khup(i) = try hard (suffer) without any success. Sayv(i) = serve. 6. Shern(i) = shelter (dependence on). Saari = pawns in the game of dice. Kaar = deeds. 7. Vakheh(i) = sees; looks after. Hudoor(i) = in the presence. Bhurpoor = filling completely; omnipresent. Vertaiy = operates. 8

MEANING: The inconceivable, the inaccessible, and the limitless Waheguru operates everywhere and enjoys every heart. Waheguru is worshipped with Guru's Shabad when one attains a higher spiritual state above the effects of Maya; he then becomes "one" with Waheguru. 1. I offer my life for sacrifice for all those who make their hearts a place for Waheguru (His Naam) to reside. An individual who recognizes the value of the Guru's Shabad (makes a connection with Him), fights with his mind (evil desires), and becomes "one" with Waheguru after killing (overcoming) his desires. Pause. The five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego) are cheating the world (robbing it of spiritual wealth). The followers of their mind are blind (ignorant) and do not have any wisdom or knowledge to realize this. However, those who obey and act on the Guru's Shabad are able to overpower the demons and thus protect their house (wealth of virtues). 2. Some devotees of the Guru are always imbued in Waheguru's love, and serve Waheguru (recite His Naam) in a high spiritual state, and are always intoxicated with His Naam. They sing the virtues of Waheguru in the company of their dear (Guru), and as a result are honoured in Waheguru's Court. 3. First of all, Waheguru created Himself, and then He created the second (Maya) with three (accepted) effects, which result in dichotomy and cause difficulty for people in choosing between the captivating Maya and Waheguru's Naam. Above the three effects of Maya is the highest spiritual state, which is called the Fourth Level (state). Waheguru's devotees deal in pure Truth (Waheguru's Naam) and attain the Fourth Level. 4. Anything is true (everlasting) if it is liked (or approved) by Waheguru. Those who recognize the real Truth (Waheguru) merge into Him in the Fourth State. The real deed worthy of performing for the devotees is to serve Waheguru so as to become "one" with Him. 5. There is none other than Waheguru (worthy of worship). People indulge in Maya, and are suffering badly (spiritually) because they do not gain any spirituality (and no peace of mind). A devotee recognizes only one Waheguru, serves only Him, and enjoys all the comforts. 6.
All living beings are in Your shelter (depend on You), oh Waheguru! You alone examine each of them like the pawns in a game of dice, and decide which pawn (human being) will succeed (in merging with You), and which will not – at least not just yet. Waheguru always makes them perform the deeds He wishes them to perform, and connects them with Him through the Guru. 7. Waheguru is present everywhere (is omnipresent), and He observes the living beings for their deeds in His own presence (under His supervision) and connects the deserving with Him. He operates alone, and one is enlightened by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.6.7.

Word Meaning: Virlaiy = some rare. Chukh(i) = by tasting. Deetthi = saw; observed. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Maha Rus(u) = great essence (taste). Dur(i) = door. Shabad(u) Vujaavniya = (music) of Shabad plays (captivates). 1. Amritsar = pool (source) of Amrit. Mayl(u) = filth of evil thoughts. Chookaavniya = is removed; washed away. Pause. Unt(u) = limit. Rujjaan = (I am) fully satisfied. Na Kubhoon = never. Bhookh = appetite. 2. Uver(u) = other. Beeya = second. Tikha = thirst. Nivaari = removed. 3. Ruttan(u) Pdaruth(u) = highly valuable article like precious stones = Waheguru's Naam. Tiyaagaiy = give up; let go; trade in. Pullar(i) = crushed dried stems of certain crops like canola (a worthless thing). Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Beejaiy = sows. Ful(u) = result. 4. Soyee Jun(u) = that devotee. Bhaiy = fear. Bherm(u) = misbelief. 5. Perm Pud = the supreme (spiritual) level. Nirmul(u) = pure; clean. 6. Simrit Shast = Hindu holy books. Bayd = the Vedas. Vukhaanaiy = utter; discuss. Tut(u) = reality. Dookho Dookh(u) = suffering, and suffering only. 7. Kis(u) = to whom. Kuraayay = makes others do. Naamay = by Naam. Naam(i) = in Naam (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: The Amit (immortalizing) Bani of the Guru (in Waheguru's praise) is very sweet. But some rare devotee of the Guru tastes it. Whoever drinks the great essence of Bani (gets imbued in it) is enlightened, and the Divine music of Guru's Shabad seems to play continuously in his mind at the Door of Waheguru (Waheguru's Naam is always fresh in his mind). 1. I am a sacrifice to those who focus their mind with full devotion with Guru's Feet (Shabad). Satguru is the eternal pool of Amrit; if the mind takes a dip in the pool (recites Waheguru's Naam), all its filth (of evil thoughts) is washed away. Pause. Some rare individual applies his mind to Your Feet (makes connection with You) by the grace of the Guru; but nobody has ever been able to find Your limits, oh Waheguru! I pray to You that I may always have an appetite for Your Naam, and should never be tired of singing Your praise, oh Waheguru. 2.
By the Guru's grace, I have tasted the Amrit of Your Naam, and now I "see" only You everywhere, and nobody else, oh Waheguru. I have killed my thirst for worldly desires, and now I am enjoying blissfulness without any special effort. 3.
(On the other hand), a follower of his mind is blind (of wisdom about Waheguru) and indulges in Maya; he trades the precious Waheguru's Naam for worthless short-lived things involving Maya, which are like the crushed stems of dried crops. He reaps what he sows, and does not get mental peace even in his dreams. 4.
Only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam, and enshrines Guru's Shabad in his mind to whom He is kind. Such an individual always fears God, but gets rid of all other worldly fears and also his misbeliefs. 5. An individual who has all his misbeliefs cleared is always blissful and attains the higher spiritual state (above Maya) with the Guru's grace. With the Pure (Holy) Bani (of the Guru), his mind is also purified, and he always sings praise of Waheguru in the high spiritual state. 6.
Those who explain the Hindu holy Granths, such as the Shastras, the Vedas, and the Upanishads, to these people are lost in misbelief; they do not know the truth. They enjoy no comfort without serving the Guru, and suffer in discomfort. 7.
Waheguru Himself makes the living beings do whatever they are doing (Waheguru guides or misguides them based on their deeds of previous lives). So, nobody can be fully blamed for doing immoral things. Waheguru Himself does as He pleases and makes others act on His Will. However, one becomes "one" with Waheguru only by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.7.8.

Word Meaning: Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = higher spiritual state and love. Rung churraayay = dyes. Rutta = imbued. Rusna = tongue. Chlooli = thickly dyed. Bhaayay = (with) love. 1. Nirbhuou = fearless (Waheguru). Vusaavniya = is secured (stored) in memory. Bikh(u) = poisonous. Bhuoujul(u) = the world sea (of Maya). Traavniya = ferry across. Pause.

Munmukh = follower of his own mind. Moogdh = foolish. Naata Dhota = bathed and dressed (religious rituals to show off). Thaayayn Na Paayee = does not get any (respectable) place in Waheguru's Court; is not considered worthy. Jayha = as. Tahya = the same. Uvgun = evil deeds. Puchhotaavniya = repents. 2.

Soojhaiy = think of. Likhayay Aayay = born with pre-destiny. Boojhaiy = understand. Kerm = deeds. Nuhee Paayay = gains nothing (spiritually). 3.

Sach Kerni = performance of True (noble) deeds. Saar(u) = supreme. Mokh = freedom from Maya. Raatay = imbued. Rung(i) = (in) love. 4.

Sacho Sach(i) = pure Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Pteejaiy = is pleased; brings faith. Undar(u) = inside; mind. Bheejaiy = is imbued. Baiys = sit (in meditation). Soothaan = a clean, attractive place; a pure mind. Aapay = Waheguru Himself. Sat(i) = True; right. Munaavniya = convinces; inspires. 7.

Nudr(i) = kind sight. Paayay = receives; acquires (Naam). Vusaiy = makes home; stored in memory. Sobha = praise. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself dyes the hearts of His devotees with love for Him by the Guru's Shabad. The devotee's mind, body, and tongue are deeply imbued (in His love) because of his fear and love for Waheguru. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who make their hearts a place for the fearless Waheguru to reside (enlighten their mind). The fearless Waheguru is worshipped by the grace of the Guru, and the Guru's Shabad ferries the devotee across the sea of poisonous Maya. Pause.

The foolish follower of his mind considers him very clever. (In trying to fool others) He adorns himself with ritualistic symbols and pretends to be religious, but such acts do not earn him recognition from Waheguru. He leaves this world with the same bad qualities with which he was born, and repents at the end. 2.
The blind (ignorant) follower of his mind cannot think of anything right in the realm of spirituality, and does not understand that a man is born to die eventually. He performs only the rituals which cannot connect him with God, and wastes his precious human life without Waheguru's Naam in mind. 3. The real, and the supreme thing for a man to do, is to act on the Guru's Shabad. The freedom from the bonds of Maya can be achieved only by taking shelter of the Perfect Guru. The Perfect Guru preaches the Shabad of Waheguru's praise day and night, by which the devotees get imbued in His love (and are salvaged). 4. The tongue, imbued in Waheguru's Naam, also dyes one's mind with Waheguru's love; as a result, his peaceful mind and the body are captivated by Waheguru's love. The dear Waheguru is acquired (realized) in the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), and the devotee always stays connected with Waheguru. 5. The individual, who has love for Waheguru at heart, sings His praise by Guru's Shabad, and enjoys the bliss of a high spiritual state. I offer my life to those who apply their mind to the service of the Guru (recite and obey His Shabad). 6. Waheguru is pleased only by the true devotees (who obey His Will), and whose mind has been imbued with His love by the Guru's grace. Such devotees sing Waheguru's praise with a pure and focused mind. Waheguru Himself inspires and guides them that (obeying His Huqam) is the right approach for union with Him. 7. Only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam, to whom He is kind. With Guru's grace, he overcomes his haumein, and Waheguru comes to reside in his heart (his heart is enlightened) and such a devotee is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 8.8.9.

Word Meaning: Savyiyaiy = serving (obeying His Huqam). Achint(u) = without any special effort. Sufliyo = laden with fruit (noble qualities). Birkh(u) = tree. Tikha = thirst (desires). Luhaavniya = quench; remove. 1. Vaari = offer to sacrifice. Mayl(i) = by connecting. Pause. Soohaaya = pleasant; comforting. Nirmal(u) = pure (without any flaws). 2.
Bin(u) = without. Sidh = accomplished yogis. Sadhik = who purify their bodies to achieve the level of a Sidh yogi. Bil=laayay = (trying hard to achieve success but badly frustrated to the extent of) crying. Pooraiy bhaag(u) = with full luck. 3.
Aarsi = mirror. Morcha = rust (filth of evil desires). Sokhaiy = absorb to dry up (remove). Unhut Bani = Guru's Shabad that leads to a higher mental state where it is believed that auto-playing Divine music is heard. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. 4.
Kihou Na = from none else. Aapay Aap(i) = Waheguru Himself. Sehjay Sehj(i) = higher spiritual state where mind is at peace and quits wandering after Maya. 5.
Ikkus(u) = with One (God). Liv Laayay = focuses the mind. Bherm(u) = misbelief. Kaayaan = body (mind). Vunuj = Vaapar = deal in. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. 6.
Kerni = deed (worth performing). Keerut = singing praise. Saar(u) = supreme. Mokh = salvation (freedom from desires). Rung(i) Rutta = imbued in love. 7.
Milaaya = connected (by Waheguru's grace). Vudiyayee = respect. 8.9.10.

MEANING: The great recognition (reward) of serving Satguru (acting on His Shabad) is that, Waheguru makes one's heart a place for Him to reside (enlightens his mind and stays in his memory) without any special effort on the devotee's part. Waheguru is like a fruit tree which is laden with (Amrit-like) virtues. Whosoever drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit has his thirst for all worldly desires quenched (is left with no desires). 1.
I wish to gladly sacrifice my life for Waheguru, which connects us with Him by first connecting us with the holy congregation. He Himself connects with the holy congregation where His praise is sung with the Guru's Shabad. Pause.
We serve (worship) Satguru when we act on His blissful Shabad (Advice), which pleases Waheguru, who then comes to reside in our heart. The Pure Waheguru (without any feelings) destroys the haumein of the devotee, as a result of which, the devotee is honoured in His Court. 2. One cannot acquire the Naam (connect with Waheguru) without the Guru; that's why the accomplished Sidh yogis and the yogis suffer frustration to the point of crying, because their efforts are not succeeding. There is no comfort (mental peace) without the Guru, and one connects with the Guru only if one has great fortune (based on one's deeds in previous lives). 3.

By taking Guru's shelter, some rare devotee realizes that the human mind is like a mirror in which he can see his good or bad intentions (the external physical appearances can be seen with the eyes in the mirror, but you need to analyze your mind to see your interior qualities). When one's haumein is controlled, his mind does not get the filth of evil thoughts (and deeds). Guru's holy Bani leads to the high spiritual state where the auto-playing Divine music is believed to be heard, and one merges into Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. 4 Without the Guru, one cannot "see" Waheguru; the Guru Himself kindly "showed" me Waheguru in my heart when I realized that He is actually hiding (present imperceptibly) in everyone's heart, and one connects with Him in the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). 5.
When one comes to Guru's shelter, he concentrates his mind only on Waheguru, and burns away (gets rid of) his misbeliefs about the other (Maya). He deals only in (thinks about) activities that are related to Waheguru in his body and mind, and acquires the eternal treasure of Waheguru's Naam. 6. A devotee's supreme task is to sing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru, whereby he reaches the door to freedom from the bonds of Maya. Imbued with Waheguru's love, he sings His praise day and night when he is called into His Residence (permanently connected with Him). 7. The provider Waheguru first connects the devotee with the Guru before the devotee gets connected with Him. With perfect fortune, the devotee gets the Guru's Shabad embedded in his heart. One is respected if he has Waheguru's Naam at heart, and sings His praise, oh Nanak! 8.9.10.

Word Meaning: Aap(u) = selfishness. Vunjaayay = get rid of. Vunjeh(i) = Vapaar = (do business (deal in). Sungreh(i) = gather; accumulate; acquire. 1. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Vudiyayee = respect. Pause. Vayla Vukht(u) = time. Soohaava = pleasant; comforting. Jit(u) = at which. Bhaaya = liked. Sayviyaiyn = (by) serving. 2. Bhaaou = respectful love. Bhojun = food. Tootthaiy = (when) pleased. Raas(i) = investment (deeds). Pasaara = expanse. Koorr(u) = perishable; worthless. Bhaara = heavy; huge. Bhermaiy = in misbeliefs. Bhoolay = lost. Junum(u) = (precious human) life. 7. Sahib(u) = Lord; God. Ut(i) = extremely. Adhaara = support; dependence. Sum = the same; equal. 8.

MEANING: One can achieve something worthwhile (Waheguru's Naam) only when he gets rid of his selfishness and focuses his mind on Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. He then deals in Truth (Waheguru's Naam) and accumulates the wealth of His eternal Naam as his main business (daily routine). 1. I am a sacrifice for those who sing Waheguru's virtues day and night. You are my Lord, and I am Your servant, oh Waheguru. You honour those who recite and act on the Guru's Shabad. Pause. All those times or occasions were pleasant (auspicious) when I began to like Waheguru. One gets true respect when he serves the eternal Waheguru. However, one gets connected with Waheguru only by the grace of the Guru. 2. One acquires the food (for the mind) of love for Waheguru only when the Guru is pleased to be kind. At that time, all worldly tastes (enjoyments) become meaningless, and the bliss of Waheguru's Naam settles down in the devotee's heart. Guru's eternal Bani is the source of contentment and is the bliss of a high spiritual state, but can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru. 3. The foolish, unrefined, and the blind (ignorant follower of his mind) do not serve the Guru; so, how can he find the door to salvation? Such people take birth, and die again, and again, and are punished in the prison of the Angel of death. 4. An individual who enjoys (obeys) the Guru's Shabad is able to recognize (analyze) himself. He sings Waheguru's virtues by discussing the holy Bani and Guru's Shabad. He makes his heart a place for Waheguru's Naam to reside, which is like having the nine mythical treasures, and he stores Waheguru's Naam in his mind and stays blissful all the time. 5.

That heart becomes pretty (with good qualities), which pleases Waheguru. Such a heart (the individual) sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the holy devotees. He praises the eternal Waheguru day and night, as a result of which, he enjoys the blissful melody of the holy Shabad all the time. 6.
(On the other hand), The follower of his mind makes investments in fake (perishable) goods (unworthy in the realm of spirituality), and his huge wealth expansions are also false (short-lived). He earns only short-lived comforts, but suffers greatly in the future (the next world). The money-minded people are lost in misdirected investments, waste away their precious human life, and are reborn again and again. 7.
The True Lord (Waheguru) is very dear to me, and I have earned His support by acting on the Guru's Shabad. One earns respect if he is imbued in the Naam, and accepts comfort and discomfort the same way, oh Nanak! 8.10.11.

Word Meaning: Khaani = sources of reproduction for all sorts of life. Bani = creation. Bherm(i) Bhoolaani = lost in misbeliefs. 1. Hindu granths believe that there are four sources of reproduction – live births, eggs, vegetation, and conducive conditions for certain kinds of bacteria and small creatures to grow and flourish. But Guru Nanak Sahib professes that there are many more ways for reproduction. Sayti = with. Sehjay = in a higher spiritual state. Pause. Munsa = wish; desire. Laagaiy = engage; get connected. Vutthoo = things. 2. Ikk(u) = one Waheguru. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Tut(u) = banks of a (holy) river. Teeruth = holy places. Disuntar(i) = foreign countries. Mul(u) = filth (of evils). 3. Jeevut(u) Muraiy = kill desires (when alive). Siyoun = with. Nirmul = pure; clean. 4. Baajh(u) = without. Undh Goobaara = complete darkness. Ugiyani = ignorant. Bishta = feces. Keerray = worms. Puchaavniya = burn; suffer. 5. Mooktay = one who is free from Maya (emancipated). Mumta = love for the family (and the mundane). Khovaiy = loses; gets rid of. Undin(u) = day and night. 6. Bukhshay = forgives. Nidh(i) = treasure. 7. Huzoor(i) = present close by. Puchhaanhou = recognize. Vudiyayee = respect. 8.

MEANING: All the sources of reproduction of life, and everything else, have been created by You, oh Waheguru! Those who do not realize this (and think that many things have been created by them, and not by God) suffer from misbeliefs. Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by serving the Guru; no one has ever realized Naam without the shelter of the Guru. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who focus their mind on Waheguru's Naam. The eternal Waheguru can be realized by worshipping the Guru who enables the devotee to attain the highest spiritual state when Waheguru becomes a permanent resident in his heart. Pause. If one serves the Satguru, he can acquire whatever he chooses. Satgur is the provider (source of everything), but one can connect with Him only if one has perfect fortune (based on the deeds of one's previous life). 2. The human mind is filthy (with evil thoughts), and (for lack of faith), does not worship a single power (Waheguru). In love with the other (Maya), his mind is very filthy (wishes to enjoy sensual pleasures). He is full of conceit, and (in search for the fulfilment of his desires) he visits holy river banks, holy places, and even foreign countries, which, rather than doing any good to him spiritually, further boost his ego, and he gets more filth on his mind. 3.

The filth of one's mind can be washed away only by serving the Guru, whereby his mind gets connected with Waheguru, and he overcomes his evil desires. Waheguru is pure Truth, and is perfectly clean because Truth is never filthy; so, one can also wash away his filth by connecting with the Pure Waheguru. 4.

It is complete darkness without the guidance of the Guru. The ignorant (follower of his mind) is blind to Truth and is in complete darkness. The followers of their mind are like the worms in feces, which live in filth, enjoy filth, and earn filth (bad qualities) and suffer there. 5. (It is believed that a devotee becomes just like his deity), So if one serves (Waheguru), which is above the effects of Maya, the devotee will also achieve that spiritual level (above the effects of Maya) where he will get rid of his selfishness, ego, and his affection for the family. A perfectly lucky person comes to the shelter of the Guru and serves Waheguru day and night. 6.

Waheguru, Himself, forgives his devotees and connects them to the Guru to be connected with Him. The devotees acquire Waheguru's Naam, which is like acquiring all the nine mythical treasures, by the grace of the Perfect Guru. A devotee, who acquires the eternal Naam, has the eternal Waheguru in his mind all the time, whom he serves, and thus gets rid of his misery. 7.
Waheguru is always with you (in your heart); do not think that He is far away from you, oh my friend. The only thing you need to do is to recognize Him inside you by acting on the Guru's Shabad. A man gets resect if he has Waheguru's Naam in his heart; but Waheguru can be acquired only by the grace of the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 8.11.12

Word Meaning: Aithaiy = here (in this world). Sachay = pure; detached from Maya. Aagaiy = there (in the next world). Raachay = absorbed. Kmaaveh(i) = earn; acquire. 1. Munn(i) Vusaavniya = make mind the home (for Waheguru). Smaaveh(i) = merge with; become "one" with. Pause. Saad(u) = (enjoy) taste. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Bhermaveh(i) = captivates. Moh(i)= in attachment. Soodh(u) = awareness; wisdom. Uvgun = ignoble deeds. Puchhotaavniya = repent. 2. Tut(u) = reality (Waheguru's Naam). Muraiy = die (as far as Maya is concerned); kill desires. 3. Kilvikh = sins. Krodh = rage. Nivaaray = get rid of. Oordhaaray = bear in heart. Ruttay = imbued. Bairaagi = detached from Maya. 4. Ruttan = precious stone (Waheguru's Naam). Tribhidh(i) = having three qualities. Munsa = desires. Moani = ascetics who stay quiet for long periods of time. Chautha Pud = the fourth (spiritual) state above Maya, which has three effects. Saar = knowledge; value. 5. Rungay = dyed. Say Jun = those devotees. Raatay = imbued. Ut(i) Apaara = extremely dark (fast). Rus(i) = while relishing. 6. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Sunjum = efforts to control desires. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Kaar = business; deeds. 7. Thaapay = creates. Oothaapay = destroys. Put(i) = respect; dignity. 8.

MEANING: Those whose minds have been purified (detached from Maya) in this world are also pure in the next world. They are imbued with the love for Guru's Shabad, and have the eternal Waheguru in their heart. They serve Waheguru, acquire His Naam, and stay connected with Him by singing His praise. 1.

I am a sacrifice for those who keep Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time. They serve the eternal Waheguru, merge in Him (get fully connected), and sing His virtues. Pause.

The pundits do read (their religious books), but find no taste for Waheguru because Maya, which they love, captivates them. With attachment to Maya, they lose all their wisdom and awareness (of Waheguru) and repent for their unholy deeds. 2.

One realizes truth (becomes pure) only if he is connected with the Guru, who enables him to have Waheguru appear in his heart (mind). One overcomes his worldly desires by following the Guru's Shabad and controls his mind, whereby he finds the door to emancipation. 3. An individual who bears the Guru's Shabad in mind washes away his sins and gets rid of his rage. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's love are always detached from Maya and merge in Waheguru by overpowering their haumein. 4. Waheguru's highly valuable Naam is always there in the human mind, but one can access it only by connecting with Him. The human mind always craves the pleasures of Maya, which has three effects. The Pundits and the sages exhaust themselves by reading their holy books, but do not enjoy them because their minds are always wandering around the three effects of Maya; so, they have no knowledge of the Fourth spiritual state, which is above the three effects of Maya. 5.

Waheguru Himself colours His devotees' minds with His love. Following Guru's Shabad, they get imbued in Waheguru's love. The colour of Waheguru's love on their mind is so strong that they sing His praise, enjoying its full taste. 6.

A devotee, who takes the Guru's shelter, realizes that Waheguru is everything for him, including the supernatural powers, truthfulness, and control over sensual pleasures. Such a devotee realizes that it is the Divine Knowledge acquired through Waheguru's Naam that results in his freedom from Maya. So, the devotee's routine is to stay connected with Waheguru to become "one" with Him. 7.

Such a devotee realizes that it is Waheguru who creates, and then destroys (the world). For the devotee, Waheguru is his caste (status in society), his dignity, and everything else. The devotee recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, whereby he is completely absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 8.12.13

Word Meaning: Ootput(i) = Oput(i) = production; creation. Perlou = destruction. Shabaday = Waheguru's Huqam. Vertaiy = operates. Smaavniya = merge into. 1. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. Gooni = the source of virtues (Waheguru). Pause. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Khalaiy Vidaani = does amazing things. Nigura = without Guru. Aavun Jaavniya = comes and goes (takes birth and dies). 2.
Tin(i) = that. Kertaiy = creator. Khayl(u) Ruchaaya = Created world like a play (amazing thing). Kaayaan = body. Bhayd(i) = piercing of the mind so as to unlock secrets. Mehlay = the Lord of the mansion. Mehl(I) = in the mansion (of Waheguru). 3. Shah(u) = money lender; ruler (Waheguru). Vunjaaray = traders. Vunjeh(i) = (deal in). Hayt(i) = for. Kmaaveh(i) = do business. Sacho Sach(u) = pure Truth. 4. Raas(een) = capital; investment; hard work (of singing Waheguru's praise). Ko = anyone. Vuth = (precious) article (Waheguru's Naam). Kiyoun = why; how. Khaali = empty (handed). 5. Ikk(u) = some. Vunjeh(i) = deal in. Tureh(i) = swim across (the sea of Maya). Kool = clan (associates). Say = those. Pervaan = approved; honoured. 6.

Vust = Vuth= (precious) article (Waheguru's Naam). Moorra = foolish. Bhaalay = searches for. Baytaalay = out of step (lost). Tithoun = from there. 7.
Boolaayay = calls in (connects with). Mehli = the Lord of the residence (Waheguru). Sehj Sookh(u) = the bliss of the higher spiritual state. Vudiyaayee = respect. 8.
MEANING: Waheguru creates and destroys the universe with His Huqam (Laws) and recreates it with His Huqam again. A true devotee of the Guru believes that Waheguru is everywhere and present in His creation. 1.
I am a sacrifice for all those who make their hearts a place for the Perfect Guru to reside in (are connected with Him). They acquire mental bliss in the Guru's shelter, and worship Waheguru day and night. One merges with Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, only by singing the praise of His virtues. Pause.
The devotee of the Guru has the firm belief that the earth, the water, the air, and the fire are under the control of Waheguru, which enables them to perform amazing feats. (In addition to doing all the favourable things for life, they also do some unusual things. For example, the Earth experiences earthquakes and undergoes major changes; water causes floods and huge waves in the oceans, etc. A non-believer in the Guru and in the amazing feats of Waheguru is born again, and again, and will continue to do so. 2. The creator has done an amazing thing: he has put everything in the human body (the ability to know the secrets of the universe). Someone who is able to unlock these secrets by deeply pondering on Guru's Shabad gets access to Waheguru's Mansion (gets connected with Him) when the Lord Himself calls him inside His Mansion 3. The eternal Waheguru is like a banker (owner of a business), and all the human beings are like traders who trade in His eternal Naam. They do so with love for the Guru (in His shelter). They do business in the eternal Truth (Waheguru's Naam), and eventually, merge in Him. 4. How can anyone acquire the precious thing (Waheguru's Naam) without the right investment (reciting Waheguru's Naam and obeying His Will)? All the followers of their minds are completely misguided. Without the right investment (recitation of Waheguru's Naam), everybody leaves this world empty-handed (without any spirituality) and suffers as a result. 5.
Some deal in Waheguru's Naam by following the Shabad of the dear Guru. They swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation), and also ferry all their associates across. They are approved by Waheguru and enjoy bliss in their union with their Dear (Lord). 6. Waheguru is present in one's mind, but the foolish looks for Him outside (in isolated places). The followers of their mind are blind (completely ignorant), and spend their lives like a singer who is completely out of tune. The follower of his mind is lost in misbeliefs, and does not look for the desired thing (Waheguru's Naam) where it is present (inside his mind). 7. Waheguru Himself invites (inspires) the individuals of His choice, and bestows His Naam in the form of Guru's Shabad. They enjoy the bliss of the high spiritual state in their union with Waheguru. Waheguru Himself listens (pays attention) to His devotees when they sing His Naam, and honours them, oh Nanak! 8.13.14.

Word Meaning: Saachi = eternal. Sikh = advice (teaching). Chaytoh = remember (keep in mind). Sukhaayee = friend; supporter. Agumm = beyond (physical) reach. Agoachar(u) = incomprehensible. Anaath = orphan (because nobody creates Him). Ajoni = who does not take any life form. Bhaayay = love for. 1.
Aap(u) = self; selfishness. Nivaarniya = get rid of. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above Maya. Pause. Poorub(i) Likhiya = pre-written destiny (based on the deeds of previous lives). Kerm = deeds. Shabadaiy Maiyl(i) = by connecting with the Guru's Shabad. 2. Aliput(u) = disconnected (with Maya). Tukiyaiy = Adhaaray = with the support of (on the basis of). Zoar(u) = (external) force or pressure. Khup(i) = much effort without any gain; meet frustration; feel humiliation. 3.

Soodh(i) = awareness; knowledge. Atumghaati = suicidal. Ksaayee = butcher. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Mujoori = fare charges. 4.
Vaarri = garden. Maali = gardener. Smaalay = looks after. Vaasna = desire. Vertaiy = operates. Vaasoo = the outcome of the desired deeds. 5.
Visriya = is forgotten. Apaara = limitless. Bil-laanday = crying (complaining) because of unfulfilled desires. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. 6.
Keetay = created. Bidh(i) = situation; condition. Aap(i) Kuray = (when) Waheguru Himself guides. Baahur(i) = outside world (world of Maya). 7.
Baajhoun = without. Nirmul(u) = pure. Ghut = heart. 8.

MEANING: Satguru has delivered the eternal Advice (Teaching) that remember Waheguru all the time, which will be your friend (supporter) in the end, oh my friends! Waheguru is physically unreachable, incomprehensible, an orphan (because nobody creates Him), and never takes any life form. Such a Waheguru can be realized only with love for Satgur(u). 1. I offer my life to those who get rid of their selfishness. One can realize Waheguru only by getting rid of one's selfishness and becoming “one” with Waheguru in the high spiritual state (above Maya). Pause.
One performs only those deeds for which his character has been prewritten (based on the deeds of his previous lives) by Waheguru. Those who serve (obey) Satguru are always blissful. However, one can connect with the Guru only with great fortune. One achieves union with God only by obeying the Shabad of the Guru. 2.
With the support of the Guru and Waheguru’s Naam, the devotee of the Guru remains disconnected from Maya in the world. Nobody can force the devotee of the Guru to yield to his wishes (make him do something that the devotee does not like); on the contrary, the aggressor suffers humiliation (as a result of his failure). 3.
The blind follower of his mind has no awareness; actually, he is a butcher who commits (spiritual) suicide. With malicious criticism of others, he adds to his own burden; he is like a labourer who carries the burden of others for free and gets no payment. 4.
This world is like a garden, with God as the gardener who always looks after every plant (human being), and none is left without His care. However, like every plant is different in character (different flowers, different vegetables, fruits, and so on), He puts in different characters in each human being. Human beings do things according to their individual character, and are recognized as such by their deeds. 5.
Because he has forgotten the inaccessible and the limitless source of comforts, Waheguru, the follower of his mind in the world is (mentally) sick. He finds no peace of mind without the Guru, and roams around (spends his life) complaining and crying in suffering. 6. Waheguru, who has created the world, knows the mental state of the people (and knows how to deal with that). The individual, guided by Waheguru, realizes His Huqam (and connects with Him). However, individuals are guided by their behaviour and traits as designed by Waheguru, who Himself has created an attraction for Maya among living beings. 7.
I do not believe in anybody else, oh Waheguru! An individual, whom You motivate to recite Your Naam, gets purified, and Your Naam stays in his mind. But only those do so whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak! 8.14.15.

Word Meaning: Munn(i) Vusaayay = embed (enshrine) in heart. Mayra = mine. Amrit Bani = the immortalizing (eternal) Shabad (in God's praise). Amrit(i) = through Amrit (Gurbani). 1. Amrit Naam(u) dhiyaavniya = recite Waheguru's Naam which makes one immortal. Vainy = Bani. Purkhaiy = tests. Naiyni = with eyes. Kutha = story (Waheguru's virtues). Uveraan = others. 2. Rung(i) Rutta = imbued in love. Live Laayay = meditates with full concentration. Rusna = tongue. 3. So Kichh(u) = that. Chit(i) = (in) mind. Mayt(i) = erase; remove. Vertaiy = operates. 4. Ujab = strange; unbelievable. Kertay Kayray = of the Creator. Pharay = turns around. Siyoun = with. Vujaavniya = has a big impact. 5. Khotay = fake; impure. Khuray = pure. Perkhay = tested. Khuzanay = in the treasure (Waheguru Himself). Bherm(i) = in doubt (inability to choose). 6. Kiyoun = why; how? Bhaanay = Will. Vusaiy = resides; is controlled. 7. Sayviyaiyn = by serving. Riday = (in the) heart. Bhookh = appetite (desires). 8.

MEANING: All the discomforts due to haumein and selfishness disappear when one enshrines Waheguru's immortal Naam in the heart. Waheguru's immortal Naam is acquired by singing the Guru's immortalizing Bani (Shabad) with dedication. 1.

I am a sacrifice to all those who enshrine Waheguru's immortal Bani in their heart. They enshrine the immortal Bani in their minds and recite His Amrit Naam all the time. Pause. They sing Waheguru's praise all the time, see Waheguru in everything, and assess His worth (admire Him) in them. They discuss Waheguru's immortal virtues day and night, and share them with others. 2.
The individual, who is imbued in Waheguru's immortal Naam, focuses his attention on His Naam, which he acquires with Guru's grace. His tongue utters His immortal Naam day and night, and he drinks the Naam Amrit with his body and mind. 3.
Waheguru does things which a man can never even think about, and nobody can erase His Will. His immortal Shabad (Huqam) is prevailing everywhere, and He implants His Amrit-Naam in His devotees' hearts by His own sweet Will. 4.
Waheguru's deeds are amazing. He turns around the misguided minds of some so that they apply their minds to Waheguru's immortal Bani, and the immortal Shabad has a deep impact on them. 5. You, Yourself, have created the pure and the impure minds of people, and Yourself test (evaluate) them, oh Waheguru! The pure are deposited in Your treasure (are approved by You and merge in You), while the impure stay misguided in doubts (and are subjected to reincarnation). 6.
How can I "see" You and how can I appreciate You, oh Waheguru? (The answer is):
One can appreciate Him and "see" Him by singing His praise with the Guru's Shabad. Your Naam–Amrit is in Your control, and You can serve it to anybody by Your Will, oh Waheguru! 7. Waheguru's Shabad (Huqam) and His Bani are immortal. His Naam can be enshrined in the mind by serving (obeying) Satguru. Waheguru's immortal Naam is the source of all bliss, and all one's appetite (wishes and desires for Maya) is satisfied by drinking the Amrit of His Naam, oh Nanak! 8.15.16.

Word Meaning: Amrit = (Waheguru's) eternal (Naam). Versaiy = rains (is available). Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love (for the Guru) and in high spiritual state; naturally. Virla = rare. Jun = devotee. Triptaasay = is contented. Trishna = (sensual) desires; hunger for Maya. Boojhaavniya = is quenched. 1. Rusna = tongue. Chaakh(i) = by tasting. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Pause. Doobidha = indecisiveness because one is caught between two options. Ikkus(u) Siyoun = with One (Waheguru). 2. Ghunayri = very much. Sojhi = understanding; awareness. 3. Tut(u) = reality. Beechaara = pondered on. Bhundaara = treasures. 4. Sohaiy = looks impressive (honourable); shiny. Smaavniya = merges in. 5. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love for Maya. Khooyayay = suffers without any gain. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Vishta = feces (evil deeds and thoughts). 6. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Liv Laayay = concentrate on (Waheguru's Naam). Poorun = perfect. Poor(i) = is filling completely. Nudri Aavniya = is "seen". 7. Nirunjun = unaffected by Maya (God). Sirjee = created. Goyee = destroyed. 8.

MEANING: When an individual meditates on Waheguru with pure love and in a high spiritual state, His Amrit-Naam rains on his mind (his mind gets fully imbued with love for Waheguru). However, some rare devotees attain this state in the shelter of the Guru. Such devotees are fully contented, and all their desires for Maya are satisfied (go away) with the grace of the Guru. 1. I am a sacrifice for all those devotees who drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in the shelter of the Guru. By tasting the Naam-Amrit, their tongue is always imbued with Waheguru's love, and they sing His praise with a peaceful mind. Pause. A rare person attains a high spiritual state with the grace of the Guru. His indecisiveness goes away, and he concentrates his mind only on Waheguru. With Waheguru's benevolence, he sings His praise and merges into Him. 2. Waheguru casts His kind sight on everyone; it is a different matter that the degree is low for some and very high for some others. A devotee realizes this fact in the shelter of the Guru that nothing happens without the Will of Waheguru. 3. A devotee realizes the fact that Waheguru's treasures are full of His Naam-Amrit, but nobody has access to them without serving the Guru, and one can access them only with His grace. 4. Those devotees who serve Satguru shine (look dignified) everywhere; the Amrit-Naam inside them captivates people. Their mind and body are imbued with the Guru's Shabad, and they recite it to others with a blissful mind. 5. The follower of his mind is lost in the love for Maya, and suffers (has no peace of mind). He does not recite Waheguru's Naam and deals in activities involving the poisonous

Maya. He lives in the filth of Maya (leads a lustful life) day and night, and wastes away his precious human life without serving the Guru. 6.
Only those who drink the Naam-Amrit (are imbued with Naam) who are motivated by Waheguru Himself. With the Guru's grace, they attain the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. The Perfect Waheguru is pervading everywhere, but can be "seen" only in the shelter of the Guru (obeying Him). 7.
Waheguru alone is operating everywhere. He creates the universe, and then destroys it (at His own Will). You'd better take care of Waheguru's Naam (always remember Him) to attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak! 8.16.17.

Word Meaning: Say = those. Sach(i) Laagaiy = deal in Waheguru's Naam. Bhaayay = liked. Sehj Soobhaayay = with love and a peaceful mind; without any special effort. Salaaheen = sing praise. 1. Sach(u) = the eternal Truth (Waheguru). Sach(i) = with Waheguru's Naam. Vusaayeen = embed in mind. 2. Munsa = wishes and desires. Deetthi = saw; observed. Aavun Jaani = born and dying. Nihchul = stable; non-wandering. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. 3. Ridaiy = in the heart. Moh(i) = attachment. Julaaya = burned away. 4. Raatay = imbued. Liv Laagi = full concentration; got connected. Smaaleh(i) = take care; keep in mind. 5. Laykha = description (of His magnanimity. Agumm(u) = physically unreachable. Agoachar(u) =incomprehensible. Soodh(i) = awareness; knowledge. 6. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. Trishna = burning desires. Jaalay = burned by. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Bihaajhay = deal in. Moh(i) Piyaasay = thirsty of attachment. Koorr(u) = lies. 7. Aiko = only One God. Jaana = recognize. Dooja Maar(i) = by killing (desire for) Maya. Vertaiy = operates. 8.

MEANING: Only those start dealing in Your Naam whom You like, oh Waheguru! They serve You with love and with a peaceful mind. Waheguru is praised by the eternal Shabad of the Guru, which leads to union with Him. 1.

I offer my life for sacrifice to those who sing Waheguru's praise. They recite His Naam, are imbued in His love, and merge with Him by acquiring virtues like His own. Pause.

I find Waheguru present everywhere I look. His Naam can be embedded in the mind with the benevolence of the Guru. (With Waheguru in mind), one's tongue and body are imbued with His Naam, and his body becomes truthful (pure). He "listens" to Him and explains (His virtues) to others. 2. The devotee overcomes his wishes and becomes "one" with Waheguru. He realizes that everything comes into being, and then dies away; and the permanent stability of mind (and hence union with God) can be achieved only by serving Satguru when his mind quits wandering and stays in its own home (in itself). 3. I "saw" Waheguru in my own heart by Guru's Shabad when I was able to burn my attachment with Maya. When one realizes Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, he "sees" Him everywhere and sings His praise. 4. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's love are pure of mind (selfless) and focus on Waheguru's Naam (without expecting any reward). They are highly fortunate who always keep Waheguru in mind. Waheguru Himself connects those individuals with Him who recite Guru's eternal Shabad, and sing His virtues in the company of holy saints. 5. We can read (or hear) about Waheguru's magnanimity only if that can be described, but He is incomprehensible and physically unreachable (so nobody can know His grandeur). Any knowledge about Him can be had only by connecting with Him through the Guru's Shabad. One can sing His praise day and night only by the Guru's Shabad, but there is no way that He can be evaluated. 6. Some people do read about Him; they may exhaust themselves trying to find His limits, but find no peace of mind (because they cannot find them). Burned by the fire of their appetite for Maya, they have no knowledge about Waheguru, and deal only in poisonous Maya. Because of their attachment to Maya, they are always thirsty for that, always tell lies (to acquire it), and consume the poison (deal in Maya, which has ill after-effects). 7. With the grace of the Guru, I recognize only the "One" (Waheguru), and by killing my desire for Maya, I stay connected with Him. Only the Naam of Waheguru operates in my mind, which can be realized only by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.17.18.

MEANING: There are countless living beings of different colours and different looks (physical features) in the world, oh Waheguru! But, in reality, they are all Your colours and features because You are present in each one of them, oh Waheguru. All these living beings have fixed life spans – they are born, and they die as their turn comes, and the cycle continues indefinitely. On the other hand, You are immortal, physically inaccessible, and limitless, oh Waheguru. (Not everybody understands this fact. You enlighten people through the Guru's Teachings. 1. I offer my life to those who make their hearts home for Waheguru (and embed His Naam in their hearts). You have no physical features or looks, but You use Guru's Shabad to enlighten people, oh Waheguru. Pause. It becomes evident to the devotees who serve the Guru that it is Waheguru's Light that is operating, hidden and visible, everywhere. His Light is present in every living being. 2. The whole world is burning (suffering) in the desire for Maya, and yet it has greed, conceit, and too much ego. The man loses his respect by being caught in the birth-death cycle, and is wasting away the precious human life (which is an opportunity to unite with God). 3.
A rare individual, who is able to overcome his selfishness, gets enlightened by the Guru's Shabad and can unlock the secrets of the universe. Then he does not die to be reborn; he merges with Waheguru in a higher spiritual state (above Maya). 4.
He loses all interest in Maya and stays absorbed in Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. He sings praise of Waheguru, which is present in every heart, and looks adorable by becoming like Waheguru (by acquiring virtues like Him). 5.
I sing Waheguru's praise with the firm belief that He is around. When one concentrates on Guru's Shabad, he can "see" that Waheguru is filling the whole space. With Guru's grace, one can "see" Waheguru and enjoy the bliss when connected with Him. 6.
Waheguru is present in our body; He is immortal, and neither comes nor goes (is not born, nor does He die). Those who work hard to connect with Waheguru are absorbed in Him through the Guru's advice. 7. I praise Waheguru and nobody else, because one gets the eternal bliss by serving Him alone. The thoughtful people are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and deal only in His Naam, oh Nanak! 8.18.19.

Word Meaning: Nirmul = pure; purifying. Jot(i) = God's Light (Soul). Smaani = mixed with; present. Salaaheen = (I) sing praise. Jup(i) = by reciting (Naam). Nirmul(u) = pure; holy (Waheguru). 1. Tisa = thirst (for Maya). Mitaavniya = is eradicated. Pause. Vusiya = takes residence; embeds. Moh(u) = attachment. Nit(u) = every day. Naad = auto-playing music which the yogis believe is heard in a higher spiritual state. 2. Aap(u) = selfishness. Tithaiy = there. Dhiyan(u) = concentration. Ut(i) = extreme. 3. Nirmul(u) = Pure (Waheguru). Unhud Dhoon(i) = Divine Shabad (Music). Dur Sachaiy = in the Court of Waheguru. Sobha = praise. 4. Munooa = mind. Provaiy = stitch together. Soohaavniya = look dignified. 5. Mohaiy = captivates. Mul(u) = filth (of evil desires). Oojul(u) = clean; pure. 6. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for Maya (sensual desires). Chaunka = kitchen; mind (where thoughts are cooked). Maiyla = filthy (cooked with dishonest means). 7. Huqam = Waheguru's Will. Chookaavniya = removes. 8.

MEANING: Guru's Shabad and His Bani are pure (holy), and they purify the mind. Waheguru's holy Light is present in everybody. I sing praise of Waheguru by reciting the holy Bani, and thus washing away the filth of my mind (purifying it). 1.

I offer my life to those who embed the source of all comfort, Waheguru's Naam, in their mind. I sing praise of the holy Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, and listening to Guru's Shabad quenches all my thirst (desires) for Maya. Pause.

The mind-purifying Naam has made my heart its dwelling, as a result of which, my attachment for Maya has been killed, and my mind and body have been purified now. My mind now sings the virtues of the holy Waheguru, and it feels as if I am listening to the auto-playing Divine music which the yogis believe in. 2.

I have acquired the holy Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) by the grace of the Guru; now my selfishness is gone, and I have no attachment to Maya. Ever since Waheguru's holy Naam has been embedded in my mind, I have acquired the holy Divine Knowledge, and the concentration of my mind has been purified. 3. Whoever serves the Holy (Waheguru) becomes holy too, as he washes away the filth of his mind by the Guru's Shabad. The so-believed, auto-playing Divine music is produced by the holy Bani, and the devotee listening to it is respected in Waheguru's Court. 4.

Anybody who gets connected with the Holy (Waheguru) becomes holy too. The purified mind stitches itself with Waheguru's Shabad (connects his mind with Waheguru). Those connected with the holy Naam are lucky and look respectful everywhere. 5. An individual adorned with the Guru's Shabad leads a holy life. His body and his mind are captivated by the purifying Naam (are fully imbued in Naam). With the eternal Naam in mind, the individual's mind never catches the filth of sensual desires, and the eternal Waheguru makes his face shiny (pure; holy). 6. The human mind is filthy because of its love for Maya. His kitchen (mind where evil ideas are cooked) is filthy, and so is his whole body (thaayayn). He feeds on filthy ideas, which add more filth to his character. The followers of their filthy minds suffer badly. 7. Whether one is filthy or pure, it is all by the Huqam of Waheguru. Only those are pure who are liked by Waheguru. The devotees of the Guru wash away their filth, and Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in their mind, oh Nanak! 8.19.20.

Word Meaning: Govind(u) = the provider for the earth (Waheguru). Oojul(u) = clean; pure. Hunsa = human soul (mind). Nirmul = clean; pure. Munsa = wishes. Soheh(i) = dignified; respectful. Ut(i) = extreme. 1. Vaari = sacrifice. Gobind = Waheguru. Pause. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = (in) higher spiritual state and with love. Anund(i) = in bliss. 2. Munooa = mind. Naachay = dances (in high spirits). Drirraayay = reinforce. Saacha = True. Taal pooray = move steps synchronously. Nirt(i) = dance. 3. Oocha Kookay = make a high-pitched sound. Tuneh(i) = (with, to) body. Puchhaarray = hit against; push back. Johiya = watched closely. Jum Kaalay = angel of death. Muneh(i) = mind. Kupt = deceit. 4. Vujaiy = plays Thaayayn paavniya = gets full value; is rewarded. 5. Vaajay vujaayay = plays musical instruments. Pirr Bundh = build a (dancing) ring. Doojaiy Bhaayay = for the love of the other (Maya). 6. Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya (is salvaged). Inderi = senses. Vus(i) = to control. Sunjum(i) = efforts to control senses. Joogta = technique. Bhaavniya = is liked. 7. Joog Charay = the four accepted eons (Hindu belief). Horut(u) = somewhere else. Gur Churni = Guru's feet (His Shabad). 8.

MEANING: Since God is pure, the individuals who serve Him (recite His Naam and obey Him) also become pure-minded (no evil thoughts originate there). With the recitation of holy Bani, my mind has also been purified of its desires. Those. Those who recite the Naam have extremely pure minds, and they look exalted everywhere. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who sing the virtues of Waheguru. They recite His Naam day and night, and look dignified by singing Waheguru's praise by Guru's Shabad. Pause. They recite Waheguru's Naam with love and in a high spiritual state; with a love-filled fear of Waheguru, they rid themselves of their haumein and become pure in mind. They worship Waheguru day and night, and sing and listen to His praise, and stay blissful. 2. They reinforce Waheguru's worship to the extent that their mind begins to dance (in bliss), and with Guru's Shabad, they keep their mind under control so that it does not wander. Just like a professional dancer who synchronizes her moves, the devotee synchronizes his mind with the Naam, and his mind dances with the Shabad, whereby it overcomes his attraction for Maya. 3. The hypocritical devotees of gods worship them publicly by dancing, just to impress people. They actually are strongly attached to Maya, and the Angel of Death watches them closely. They dance just for the love of Maya, recite mantras loudly, and fall to the ground (as if kneeling before the deity), all as a show-off to receive money. But, because of deceit in their mind, they suffer badly at the end of the day. 4. On the other hand, the devotees of Waheguru worship Him when He inspires them. Their body and mind are imbued with His love, and their mind feels blissful. Guru's Shabad, Guru's Bani, produce heavenly music in their mind (they attain the state of blissfulness), as such worship of Waheguru in Guru's shelter is appropriately rewarded by Waheguru. 5. The hypocrites dance in synchronicity with music to please some gods, but nobody honestly listens to them or gives room to their mantras in their hearts. For the love of money, the fake devotees dance among people who form a circle around them just to enjoy their dances, which they perform for the sake of money. Such fake devotees suffer deeply because of their love for money. 6.

But a devotee, who fosters love for God, finds salvation. He controls his sensual desires, and rather than putting in efforts to control sensual pleasures by mind's sheer stubbornness, his efforts are directed to worship Waheguru. He always recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and this is the kind of worship which Waheguru likes (and approves). 7. (Hindu Granths espouse that the worship of gods takes different forms in different eons) (But Guru Sahiban preach) that it does not matter what eon it is – the only kind of worship that Waheguru likes, is to recite Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter; and no other kind is acceptable. Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by taking Guru's shelter and worshipping Him, oh Nanak! 8.20.21.
NOTE: Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru; so, Waheguru's worship is the same as Guru's worship.

Word Meaning: Sacha = the eternal (Waheguru). Sayveen = (I) dedicate myself. Salaaheen = (I) sing praise. Sayvun(i) = serve (obey Command). Munn(i) Vusaavniya = is embedded in the mind. 1. Sehj(i) Smaadh(i) = concentrate with a peaceful mind. Soheh(i) = looks respectable. Soorut(i) = attention; concentration. Pause. Sach(u) Bani = eternal Shabad (Waheguru's praise). Toodhay = You (Waheguru). Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. 2.
Chookay = ends. Phayra = rebirth. Naayayn Ruchaveh(i) = get them connected with Naam. Jupaavniya = make them recite. 3. Hurkh(u) = joy; happiness. Soag = sadness; grief. Ikkus(u) = only One (God). Liv = concentration of mind. 4. Chaayay = zest; gusto. Nau Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. 5.
Duyyal(u) = kind. Jaata = recognized. Vudayee = praise; respect. 6.
Aikus siyoun = just with One (God). Smaayay = absorbed. Munniyaiyn = convinced; satisfied. 7. Tthaakur(u) = the Lord. Vaypervaahay = carefree; indifferent. 8.

MEANING: I serve (obey His Huqam), and sing praise of the eternal Waheguru. One never suffers if he keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind. Those who serve Waheguru, which is the source of all comfort, and embed His Naam in their mind by Guru's grace, enjoy comfort. 1. I offer my life (services) to those who concentrate on Waheguru's Naam and attain the blissful state of mind in which Maya has no effect. Those who serve Waheguru with full dedication are respected and praised. Pause. Everybody calls himself Your devotee, but only those are the real devotees who accept Your Will, oh Waheguru! They sing Your praise by the eternal Bani, and imbued in Your love, recite Your Naam. 2. Everybody is Yours (has been created by You), but they merge into You only by the grace of the Guru; at which time, their reincarnation comes to an end. You inspire some select people whom You like to recite Your Naam. 3. They embed Your Naam in their mind by the advice of the Guru, and get rid of their overjoy, sadness, and worldly attachments. With only Your Naam enshrined in their minds, they always remain focused on Your Naam (connected to You), oh Waheguru. 4. Imbued in Your love, Your devotees are always zestful. Your Naam, which is like acquiring all the nine mythical treasures, gets enshrined in their heart. Only the highly fortunate get connected with the Guru, and then get connected with You by the Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 5.
You are always very kind, and a source of all comforts, and connect some fortunate individuals with the Guru so that they may recognize You (connect with You). You, Yourself, honour people for reciting Your Naam, and those who are imbued in Your Naam, enjoy blissfulness, oh Waheguru! 6. I wish I could sing Your praise all the time. By Guru's grace, I have realized that there is none other like You. When one's mind is focused only on Waheguru, he is convinced about Him being the Supreme power, and his soul gets united with Him. 7.
One sings praise of Waheguru, who is otherwise carefree (indifferent). only in the shelter of the Guru. With Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in one's mind, and he becomes "one" with Him, oh Nanak. 8.21.22

Untar(i) = inside (the body). Laykhaiy = in record (approved). Vudiyaayee = respect.8

MEANING: Adorned with Your Naam by Guru's Shabad, Your devotees look exalted in Your Court, oh Waheguru. They merge into You by singing Your virtues, and stay blissful day and night. 1. I offer my life to those who listen to Your Naam and embed it in their mind. Eternal Waheguru is very, very high (way above the effects of Maya), and can be reached only by those who have gotten rid of their haumein. Pause. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His magnanimity. A rare person connects with Him by the Guru's grace. Those who connect with Him through the Guru's Shabad never get separated from Him again and merge with Him by attaining the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 2. Nothing happens outside Your Huqam; You create bodies, and know what You do about them, oh Waheguru! You do things Yourself, and make living beings do (whatever You wish), and connect with some of them by making them act on Guru's advice. 3. The virtuous woman (human being) gets connected with Waheguru. She adorns her mind with the noble qualities of fear and love for Waheguru, and by serving the Guru, she always stays married (loved by Waheguru – husband). She merges with Waheguru by acting on Guru's eternal Teachings. 4. Those who ignore Waheguru find no shelter and no support in the spiritual world. They are misled by misbeliefs, and, like a crow that goes to an uninhabited house (and finds nothing to eat), they do not achieve anything spiritually. They waste away (spiritually ruin) both the worlds – the present and the next – and their life is spent in deep suffering. 5. The money-minded people may write something in praise of Waheguru, but do not gain anything spiritually blissful just by writing, even if they write so much that they run out of paper and ink, because all their writings are rooted in Maya, and they look for) material things in their writings. They write about material things, deal in them, and eventually get heart- burning (suffer gravely) because their mind always thinks only about money. 6.
(On the other hand), A devotee writes only those thoughts that relate to Waheguru. Such pure-minded devotees find the door of salvation. Their paper, their pen, and their ink pot are all about Waheguru, and they merge with Him by writing His praise. 7. Sitting in every heart, my God is watching everything that people do. Only that individual's account (balance sheet of good and bad deeds) is approved (rewarded) who gets connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru. And, only those people are honoured who have Waheguru's Naam at heart, which is acquired only through the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 8.22.23.

Word Meaning: Atum Ram= Lord of soul (Waheguru). Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Haumein maiyl(u) = filth of selfishness and ego. Khovaiy = lose; get rid of. Nirmul = clean; pure. Bhugti Raata = imbued in worship. 1. Uveraan = others. Tinah = them; those. Numskaar = bow to. Pause. Kerta = Creator. Kaarun(u) = creation. Jit(u) = whomever. Kaaraiy = in the task (of worship of Waheguru). Pooraiy Bhaag(i) = complete luck. 2. Mur(i) Jeevaiy = live after killing sensual desires. Kichh(u) = something (Naam). Mookt(u) = free from the bonds of Maya. Sehj(i) = in the higher spiritual state. 3. Kerm = rituals. Daysuntar(i) Bhuvaiy = wander around in foreign countries. Khooaayay = suffers without any achievement. Kupti = deceitful. 4. Dhaavut = running (wandering) fast. Raakhaiy = control (mind). Tthaak(i) = restraint; stop. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Preetum = beloved. 5. Koor(i) = in false (perishable) stuff. Ful = result. Suglay Kool = all clans (associates). Bikh(u) = poison (anything involving Maya). 6. Ko = some rare. Bhaayay Bhagat(i) = in the love for worship. Sokhaiy = absorb; destroy. Sadhik = those who purify their body by yogic exercises. Maondhaari = hermits (who stay quiet for a very, very long time); sages. Liv laayay = meditate. 7. Naamo = from Naam. 8.

MEANING: The enlightenment About Waheguru is achieved by the grace of the Guru, as the filth of haumein is washed away by Guru's Shabad. Imbued with the spirit of worship day and night, one's mind is purified, and he internalizes Waheguru. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who worship God themselves and cause others to do the same. Those devotees who sing the virtues of Waheguru day and night deserve to be bowed to (respected). Pause. The Creator creates everything Himself and puts the individuals He likes to work (to recite His Naam). One serves the Guru only with perfect fortune, and enjoys all sorts of comfort as a result. 2.

A person achieves something (spiritually) only if he kills his sensual desires and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart by the grace of the Guru. When he gets Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, he becomes permanently free from the bonds of Maya, and easily attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya. 3.
(A money-minded) A person performs rituals (to give the impression of being religious), but never achieves emancipation. He wanders through foreign lands (for wealth), but suffers greatly without achieving anything spiritually. The deceitful wastes away his precious human life and suffers without the Guru's Shabad. 4.
(On the other hand), A devotee controls his fast-wandering mind, restrains it, and attains the highest spiritual state by the grace of the Guru. Satguru Himself connects the devotee with Him, and then with Waheguru; at that spiritual state, he enjoys the bliss of union with his beloved Waheguru. 5. Some are engaged in material things and reap the false (short-lived) material rewards. With love for Maya, they waste away their human life. They consume poison (of worldly attractions) by telling lies (and by deceit), and as a result, drown in the sea of Maya, taking down their associates with them as well. 6. Some rare devotee of the Guru gets rid of his haumein by worshipping Waheguru with devotion, and is able to "see" (analyze) his mind in the body. Accomplished Sidh yogis, sages, yogis, do meditate, but they too are unable to "see" their mind in the body. 7.
The Creator Himself prompts His devotees (to sing His praise), and nobody else can do that. Only those individuals acquire Waheguru's Naam in their mind who are prompted to do so by Waheguru Himself, Oh Nanak! 8.23.24.

Word Meaning: Goofa = cave; human body. Akhoot = inexhaustible. Bhundaara = treasures. Tis(u) = that. Vusaiy = resides. Alukh = inconceivable. Apaara = limitless. Goopt(u) = hidden. Pergut(u) = become visible. Aap(u) = selfishness. Vunjaavniya = to destroy. 1. Munn(i) Vusaavniya = embed in mind. Maha Rus(u) = great juice (essence). Pause. Bujjar = stone-like. Kpaat = doors. Amoluk = priceless. 2. Unjun(u) = kohl (mascara). Naytreen = in eyes. Joti = light (human soul). Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Sobha = praise; respect. 3. Bhaalun = search. Luhaiy = acquire. Vaygaar(i) = to perform somebody else's task without any compensation. Soojhaiy = cannot think of. Phir(i) Ghir(i) = return (after getting tired). Vuth = valuable article (Waheguru's Naam). 4. Vaykhaiy = examine. Haumein Maiyl(u) = filth of selfishness and ego. Baiys = sit down (meditate). Soothaan(i) = clean place (with pure mind). 5. Nau dur = nine doors of the human body (sensual pleasures). Tthaakay = restrain. Dhaavut = running uncontrolled (mind). Dusvaiy = the tenth door (spiritual state of high awareness). Nij ghur(i) = own mind. Unhud Shabad = auto-playing Divine music that the yogis believe they hear in a higher mental state. Vujeh(i) = plays. 6. Aanayra = hunayra = darkness. Vust = invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam). Chookay = ends. Fayra = revisit (in the world); rebirth. Koonji = key. Hoarut = some other. 7. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. 8.

MEANING: The inconceivable and the limitless Waheguru, which is the source of inexhaustible treasures, resides in everybody's heart. Waheguru is present, hidden as well as visible (in nature), but can be realized only when one kills (overcomes) his selfishness by obeying the Guru's Shabad. 1. I offer myself for sacrifice to those who embed the immortalizing (Amrit)-Naam of Waheguru in their heart. The Naam-Amrit is very, very sweet, but can be tasted (realized) only by the Advice of the Guru. Pause. When one overcomes his haumein (selfishness and ego), he gets his stone-like hard door of a higher spiritual state (called the Tenth Door, where one merges with Waheguru) opened, and realizes Waheguru's invaluable Naam by the grace of the Guru. Nobody can realize Waheguru's Naam without Guru's Shabad; it is only by the grace of the Guru that one can enshrine the Naam in his heart. 2. When one applies the kohl of the Guru's Divine knowledge to his mental eyes, his mind is enlightened, and the darkness of his ignorance is gone. He is convinced of Waheguru's existence, and his soul merges with Waheguru, and he is honoured in His Court. 3. (Note: women apply kohl to their eyes not only to beautify them, but also because they believe that it enhances their eyesight. Similarly, Guru's Advice enhances devotees' spiritual awareness.

If an ignorant person searches for Waheguru (which resides in the body) outside (in the wilderness), not only will he not realize the Naam, but he will also suffer like a person who suffers for doing a fag task (somebody else's task without any compensation). The ignorant fool does not realize what he is doing, but after getting exhausted, returns to the shelter of the Guru, where he can realize Naam. 4.
One can realize Waheguru only by the Guru's grace when he examines his body and mind (what kind of deeds does the body do and what the mind thinks), and gets the filth of haumein washed away. Then, with a clean mind, he sings praise of Waheguru with full concentration and stays connected with Him by the Guru's eternal Shabad. 5. When one controls all the nine doors of the body (sensual pleasures), he attains the spiritual level where his mind stays in itself. With Guru's advice, at that level, he feels as if the auto-playing Divine music is playing in his mind day and night. 6. Without the Guru's Shabad, the mind is in complete darkness. Such an individual neither connects with the Guru's Shabad nor has his cycle of rebirths broken. Only Satguru has the key to the door of Waheguru's Naam, and there is no other way to open the door. Also, one gets connected with the Guru only if one has great fortune. 7. You are everywhere – hidden or visible – oh Waheguru! But one realizes You only by Guru's grace. Sing Waheguru's praise, and have His Naam embedded in your mind in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak! 8.24.25.

Nanak Naam(u) milaiy vudiyaayee, Pooray Gur tay paavniya. 8.25.26.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru; a Sikh (spiritually connected with the Guru). Kaal(u) = death. Johaiy = warns. Suntaapy = cause suffering. Bundhan = bonds. Soohaavniya = is decorated (with virtues). 1. Sayti = with. Chit(u) = mind. Pause. Muraiy = kills mind (turns away from Maya). Arja = (the effect of) age. Chheejaiy = weakens (spirituality). 2. Sobha = praise; respect. Aap(u) = selfishness. Turaiy = swims (across the sea of Maya). Suglay = all. Kool = clans (associates). 3. Chookaiy = is lifted (gone); is eradicated. Sehj(i) smaavniya = attains the spiritual state above Maya. 4. Vudiyaayee = respect; praise. Anund(i) = (in) bliss. 5. Raata = imbued. Joog Chaaray = (in) all the four (believed) eons – Satyug, Trayta, Doaapar, and Kulyug. Jaata = recognized; honoured. Nirmul(u) = pure. 6. Baajh(u) = without. Jumkaal(u) = angel of death. Grutthay = gripped. Pookaara = cries for help. Bishta = feces; Maya (ignoble deeds). Keerray = worms. 7. Aapay = (Waheguru) Himself. Hirdaiy Voottha = takes residence in heart. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru can be realized only by the grace of the Guru, but one is connected with the Guru only by the Will of Waheguru, oh my friends. When one connects with the Guru, fear of death and discomfort can no longer affect them. His life is adorned (with noble qualities) with Guru's Shabad, and by controlling his haumein, he breaks all the bonds of Maya. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who adorn their life with Waheguru's Naam. The mind of the individual, who applies his mind to Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, sings His praise, and (his mind) dances in high spirits. Pause. An individual, who kills his mind (controls it) from worldly attractions, and leads a life of purity, is approved by Waheguru. He recognizes (evaluates) himself with Guru's Shabad, and advancing age does not weaken his spirituality. In the shelter of the Guru, the devotee becomes "one" with Waheguru, and he never dies or becomes a victim of death. 2.

A devotee of the Guru overcomes his selfishness and ego, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. He adorns his life with virtues, and not only does he swim across the sea of Maya himself, but he also ferries his associates across the sea. 3.

A devotee's suffering of haumein is eradicated, and he never suffers any mental ailment. His pure mind never catches filth (of sensual pleasures), and he stays absorbed in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.

A devotee of the Guru is honoured because of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and he is respected for singing praise of Waheguru's virtues. (While working for an honest living), A devotee's only task is to sing Waheguru's praise day and night, as a result of which he stays blissful. 5. A devotee is imbued in the Guru's Shabad day and night, and no matter what the eon, he is always recognized (respected). The devotee is always pure because of his singing of Waheguru's praise, which he does by Guru's Shabad. 6. It is complete darkness (no awareness of Waheguru) without the Guru. Gripped by the Angel of death (the fear of death), the world cries for help. The people are (mentally) sick, and like the worms in feces, they suffer day and night due to the problems caused by Maya. 7.

Waheguru Himself comes to reside in the heart of the Guru's devotee, who realizes that it is Waheguru Himself who does everything, and makes the people do (whatever they do). Respect is accorded to Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized only by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.25.26.

Word Meaning: Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Keeton(u) = (He has) done. Ghut = hearts. Bunut = creation; design. 1. Baajh = without. Sehj(u) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause. Soheh(i) = look impressive (majestic). Moheh(i) = captivate. Proveh(i) = string together (like beads in a necklace). 2. Kerta = Creator. Munn(i) Vusaayay = embeds in mind. Bani = words in praise of Waheguru. 3. Bhoogta = the one who enjoys; receive the rewards or punishment. Bundhan = bonds. Mookta = free from bonds. Alukh(u) = inconceivable. Likhaavniya = shows; enlightens. 4. Chhaaya = shadow (effect on living beings); darkness (ignorance). Jugat(u) = world. Oopaaya = created. Goondaata = source of all virtues (Waheguru). 5. Thaap(i) = (having) created. Oothaapay = destroy. Kaaray = (put to) work. 6. Sayva = service (obey Huqam). Sehj(i) = (in) higher spiritual state. 7. Oocha Oocho = higher and higher (above Maya). Ghut = heart.8.

MEANING: Only Waheguru's Light is the light (soul) in everybody; the Perfect Guru shows this Light with His Shabad. (Even though, it is the same Light in everybody, yet everybody has his different characteristics). Waheguru Himself has created such differences among human beings. 1. I am a sacrifice for all those who sing praise of Waheguru. Nobody can attain the spiritual state above the effects of Maya without the Guru; only those devotees attain such a state who take shelter of the Guru. Pause. You look very majestic and captivate the whole world, oh Waheguru! Like the beads of a necklace that stay attached to a common string, You keep the world under Your control with the single thread of Your Huqam. You, Yourself, cause comforts and discomforts for the living beings, and "show" Yourself to the devotees who take the Guru's shelter. 2. The Creator Himself does everything and makes the living beings do whatever He wishes. He implants Guru's Shabad Himself in devotees' minds. Guru's Shabad is the word of praise of Waheguru, which the devotee recites and shares with others. 3. You, Yourself, are the creator of the universe, and Yourself enjoys it (by being present in them). At the same time, You are always free from all the bonds because You are above the effects of Maya, and have no bonds to break. As you are always above the effects of Maya, it is impossible to discern You, but You reveal Yourself (to the devotees through the Guru), oh eternal Waheguru! 4. Waheguru, Himself is Maya, and Himself its effect on living beings. He, Himself, has implanted feelings of attachment in the world. He is the source of all virtues, and (being present in living beings), Himself sings His praise and recites to the people. 5. He does everything himself and makes the living beings do whatever He wishes them to do. He creates the universe Himself, and destroys it too. There is nothing that happens outside Him (which He is not in His control), and He Himself puts the world to business (worldly chores). 6. Waheguru Himself gives and takes away life. He Himself connects individuals to the Guru and then to Himself. A true devotee of the Guru always enjoys comfort by serving Him and Waheguru, and attains the state of blissfulness. 7. Waheguru is higher and higher (above the effects of Maya), so it is impossible to "see" Him; some rare person "sees" Him to whom He "shows" Himself. He, Himself, implants His Naam in the heart of His devotees and "shows" Himself for them to see, oh Nanak! 8.26.27.

Word Meaning: Bhurpoor(i) = omnipresent. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Srayveen = serve with devotion. Ikk mun(i) = with full concentration. Sach(i) = in God. 1. Jugjeevun(u) = life of the world (Waheguru). Nirbhou = fearless; perfectly Just. Sehj(i) = in a mental state above the effects of Maya. Pause. Dhaul(u) = the mythical ox which supports the earth. Ptaala = the underworld. Baala = child–like; pure–minded. Anund(i) = in bliss. 2. Kaayaan = body. Mayra = mine (ego). Na Chookay Fayra = the rebirth cycle is not broken. Sacho Sach(u) = pure Truth (Waheguru only). 3. Poonn(u) = virtuous deeds. Srisht(i) = world. Ikutt(u) = One (Waheguru). Ghur(i) = in the heart. 4. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Anayraa = Hunayra = darkness. Chaanun = light. Chhodaiy = quit. Mayra = mine (selfishness). Pergut = visible. 5. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Paasaara = expanse. Saakhi = Teaching. Kumal = lotus flower; heart. Bigaas(i) = blooming. Joti = light (soul). 6. Mehl = mansion; heart. Ruttani Bhuray = full of precious virtues (Guru's Shabad). Bhundaara = treasures. Apaara = limitless (Waheguru). Vunjay = deals in. Laaha = profit; benefit. Sud = always. 7. Vuth = desired precious item (Waheguru's Naam). Raakhaiy = retains; does not share. Kayee Kay = only a few. Nudr(i) = kind sight. 8.

MEANING: (Even though) Waheguru is omnipresent, He can be realized only by the grace of the Guru. Taking Guru's shelter, one should serve Waheguru (sing His praise) all the time with full devotion, as a result of which, he will merge into Him. 1.
I offer my life to those who make their heart home for Waheguru to reside there (embed Him in mind). One can unite with Waheguru, which is the life of the whole world, is fearless, and is the provider for the whole world, in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya (with a peaceful mind). Pause.
Once an individual has Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he comes to know the secrets of the earth, the mythical ox that supports it (a Hindu belief), and the underworld (which they believe is controlled by Waheguru). The devotee attains the spiritual state above Maya through the Guru's advice and always remains in a blissful state. 2.
The man also has big haumein and ego in his mind because of which his reincarnation cycle never breaks. A devotee overcomes his haumein in Guru's shelter, and recites the Naam of Waheguru only. 3. The mind also contemplates virtuous and ignoble deeds, which are like brothers (living in the same house – human mind), and both are the cause of reproduction (reincarnation) of the whole world. A true devotee overcomes both of them with the grace of the Guru, and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.
Because of the love for Maya, there is complete darkness in the human mind; but once the mind is enlightened (by the Guru), it gets rid of all its selfishness and ego. With the enlightenment by Guru's Shabad, which is the source of all comfort, the individual recites Waheguru's Naam day and night. 5. With Guru's Teachings, the human mind is enlightened, whereby all its darkness is dispelled, and the individual can "see" the whole expanse of the universe. His mind blooms like a lotus flower and merges into Waheguru to stay blissful all the time. 6.
There are invaluable hidden treasures of virtues (seeds of Waheguru's Naam) in the human mind, but Waheguru's Naam can be realized only by the Guru's grace. A devotee of the Guru always deals in the virtuous qualities and realizes Waheguru's Naam as the benefit (spiritual wealth). 7.
Waheguru keeps the invaluable thing (His Naam) away from some, and gives it to others (as per His Will). But only a few devotees, who have the kind sight of Waheguru, deal in His Naam, and get it enshrined in their mind by His grace, oh Nanak! 8.27.28.

Word Meaning: Bhaao Dooja = love for Maya. Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Goondaata = source of virtues. Smaavniya = is mixed with (present). 1.
Hirdaiy = in the heart. Munn(i) Visaavniya = is embedded in mind. Pause.
Kerm Bidhaara = writer of fate. Jaata = recognized; connected with. Jun = devotees. Soheh(i) = look dignified; are adorned. Rus(u) = taste; essence. 2.
Goofa = cave (heart). Thaan(u) = place (heart). Bherm = misbeliefs. 3.
Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (unjun); Waheguru. Mooraray = God. 4.
Jum = angel of death. Jagaati = the tax collector (punishes). Kur(u) = tax (punishment for bad deeds). Ghurri Moohut = every moment. Laykha = account. Rutti Maasa = very small units of weight for precious metals. Toal =weight. 5.
Payiurraiy = parents' home (this life). Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Chaytay = remember. Mootthi = deceived. Rovaiy Dhaahi = wail; cry aloud. Khuri = much. Kooaaliyo = of bad clan. Kuroop(i) = ugly. Koolukhni = having bad qualities (vices). Soopnay = (in) dreams. 6. Hudoor(i) = right in front. Kuntth Laayay = hold tightly to the neck (remember always). Raavaiy = enjoys. Sayj = bed (of heart). 7.
Sud Boolaayay = call in. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, connects some devotees with Him and makes them serve Him (recite His Naam). Such devotees lose their love for Maya with the Guru's Shabad. God is always pure (Perfect), and is the source of all virtues – actually, He is present in virtues (where there is virtue, there is God). 1.
I am a sacrifice for all those who have embedded His eternal Naam in their heart. Waheguru's eternal Naam is always pure and is embedded in the mind by the Guru's Shabad. Pause. Waheguru, Himself is the Guru, and the writer of the fate of living beings. The devotees serve the Guru and come to recognize Waheguru (get connected with Him). The devotees always look dignified with Waheguru's Naam at heart, and enjoy the essence of His Naam in the shelter of the Guru (with His guidance). 2. The human mind in the body is adorned when the Guru dispels the doubts and misbeliefs of the individual. Imbued in the love of Waheguru, such devotees sing His praise day and night with the grace of the Guru. 3. One analyzes his mind with Guru's Shabad, when Waheguru's Naam comes to dwell in his mind. With the pleasing (comforting) Shabad of the Guru, he sings Waheguru's virtues and feels blissful to connect with God. 4. The individuals who love Maya and have forgotten Waheguru's Naam are heavily taxed (given punishment) by the tax collector, the Angel of justice. He strictly demands the account of every moment like a goldsmith who weighs gold to the last rutti. 5. A human bride, who does not remember her husband (Waheguru) in the present life, cries loudly as she is robbed of good qualities by her love for Maya. In the judgment of Waheguru, as husband, she is like a wife of a very low class, ugly, and with bad qualities, and who can never enjoy the company of her husband, even in her dreams. 6.

The Guru "shows" the presence of Waheguru clearly to the devotee who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart. With Guru's Shabad, such a human bride keeps Waheguru close to her heart all the time, and enjoys the company of the husband (Waheguru) on the bed of her mind which is adorned by virtues now. 7.
Waheguru calls such a devotee in and gives His Naam for the devotee to embed in his mind. Waheguru's Naam wins respect when a devotee sings His virtues day and night, oh Nanak! 8.28.29.

Word Meaning: Ootum = superior. Soothaan(i) = beautiful place; clean (pure) heart. Ghur Maah(i) = in the house (heart). Oodaasa = detachment from Maya. Rung(i) = in love. Raatay = imbued. Triptaavniya = is contented. 1.
Boojh(i) = understand; unlock secrets. Munn(i) Vusaavniya = embed in mind. Dur(i) Sachay = in Waheguru's Court. Pause. Alukh = inconceivable. Abhayo = whose secrets cannot be known. Opaayay = means. Na Kiti = not by any. Bhaytaiy = connect with. 2. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for Maya. Tribidh(i) = having three (effects). Kaarun(i) = because of. Loojhaiy = struggles. Bundhun = bonds. Tootaiy = are broken. Mookt(i) = free (from Maya). 3. Chunchul = fickle; unsettling; wandering. Vus = control. Doobidha = caught between two choices (spiritual and Maya); indecisiveness. Dehdis = in ten (every) directions. Dhaavaiy = runs fast. Bikh = poison (Maya). Keerra = worm. Raata = imbued. Puchaavniya = suffer. 4.
Houn Houn = I am, I am (self-praise); egoist. Junaayay = shows off. Kerm = rituals. Thaayayn Na Paayay = finds no support; is not approved; not even acknowledged. 5. Oopjaiy = is born. Puchaiy = suffers; dies. Birtha = empty. Unt(i) = in the end. 6. Pir(u) = husband. Perdays = in other country; far away. Sigaar = adorn. Kerm = deeds. Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = the next world. Dhoyee = shelter, support. 7. Virlaiy = rare. Puchhaata = recognized; made a connection. Sehjay = without effort. 8. Vertaiy = operates. Aiko Soyee = only one Waheguru. 9.

MEANING: A devotee, who serves (obeys) the Guru, becomes detached from Maya. His heart becomes a beautiful (virtuous) place, and his life becomes much superior. Such devotees are always imbued in Waheguru's love, and are contented enjoying the taste of Waheguru's Naam. 1. I offer my life to those who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart by reading about Him, and getting enlightened. A devotee of the Guru, who reads about Waheguru and sings His praise, finds respect in His Court. Pause. The inconceivable Waheguru, whose secrets cannot be known, is omnipresent, but cannot be realized by any means at the personal level. The only way to realize Him is by taking the Guru's shelter, that too, if Waheguru casts a kind sight on an individual, and kindly connects him with the Guru, who then connects the individual with Him. 2. If a money-minded individual does read about Waheguru, he cannot realize Him (because his mind is not pure), and he still struggles against his love for Maya. The bonds of the Maya, which have three effects, are broken only with the Guru's Shabad. 3. The human mind is highly fickle and difficult to control. It wanders very fast in every possible direction. Imbued in the love of poisonous Maya, the individual suffers like a worm in poison, which jumps in pain. 4.

A money-minded person shows himself off everywhere, and the egoist indulges in self-praise. He does many deeds to show off, but finds no recognition. Nothing happens outside of Waheguru, who forgives and refines His devotees with Guru's Shabad. 5.
A Maya-engrossed individual is born and dies without recognizing (making a connection with) Waheguru; he wanders day and night in the love for Maya. The spiritual life of the money-minded person goes to waste, and he leaves this world repenting. 6.
The follower of his mind is ignorant and performs some worthless rituals. His efforts are like those of a married woman who beautifies herself when her husband is far away (for whom does she beautify herself?) Such a person gets no praise in this world, and no shelter (support) in the next; his life goes completely to waste. 7.
A rare person makes a connection with Waheguru's Naam by the Guru's Shabad. He worships Waheguru day and night, and enjoys bliss without any extra effort. 8.
Taking Guru's shelter, some rare devotee realizes that it is Waheguru alone which operates everywhere. The devotees imbued in Waheguru Naam find respect, and Waheguru Himself connects them with Him by His Grace. 9.29.30.

Word Meaning: Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). Maatay = intoxicated; state of rapture; delight. Soojhaiy = think of. Jooni = different life forms. 1. Mun(i) Vusiya = embeds in mind; appears; enlightens mind. Sehj(i) = (in) the state of peaceful mind. Pause.
Rus(u) = essence; taste. Vaad(u) = aggressive discussion. Vukhaaneh(i) = utter; explain. Ugiyaanmuti = ignorant. Boojh(i) = by understanding. 2.
Akutho = indescribable. Kuthiyaiy = describe. Soohaavay = comforting. Ruveh(i) = recite (Waheguru's Naam). Rungaavniya = imbue; dye. 3.
Bhaavaiy = is liked. Puchhotaavaiy = repents. Jaata = realized. 4.
Koorr(u) = lies; false (worldly attractions). Koosut(u) = lies. Jaagaiy = awake; watchful. Bheetar(i) = in side. Ghut = heart. Joti = soul. Jot(i) = Waheguru. 5.
Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Tut(u) = reality. Moolhoun = (from the) base; source. Bhoollay = lost; misled. Biyaapay = affects. 6.
Vayd(u) = Vedas. Tribidh(i) = (having) three affects. Boojhaiy = know the truth. 7.
Thaap(i) = create; adorn with virtues. Sehsa = doubts; misbeliefs. Chookaayay = remove; get rid of. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. 8.

MEANING: The Brahman reads religious books to people and calls himself a pundit (a highly learned man), But in reality, he is no religious man; all his acts are just a show off, and he is a lover of Maya. As a result of his ritualistic acts, he suffers a lot. Intoxicated in the thoughts of Maya, he cannot think of anything worthy and is reborn again, and again. 1. I offer my life to those who overcome their haumein, and become "one" with God. By serving the Guru (obeying Him), Waheguru appears in their heart, and they enjoy the taste of union with Waheguru in the high spiritual state, above Maya. Pause. A money-minded individual (Brahman) does read the Vedas, but never enjoys the taste of Waheguru's union because his reading is just for the sake of discussions, prompted by his love for Maya, which robs him of his good qualities. The mind of such an ignorant person is always dark; on the other hand, the mind of a devotee is enlightened, and he sings Waheguru's praise. 2.
With the mind-enlightening Shabad of the Guru, we can discuss the traits (virtues) of the otherwise indescribable Waheguru. With Guru's Teaching, one develops love for Waheguru. He recites Waheguru's Naam day and night, and his mind is imbued with Waheguru's love. 3. Of course, those who are imbued with Waheguru's love, like Him. Waheguru Himself gives His Naam to His favourites, and never repents. One comes to recognize Waheguru (connects with Him) by the Guru's Shabad, and experiences real comfort. 4. Such devotees never catch the filth of attraction for the perishables and of falsehood. They are watchful day and night with Guru's Shabad. The pure (holy) Naam stays in their mind, and their souls merge with Waheguru. 5. Those who read religious books but love Maya, which has three qualities, do not realize the reality of Waheguru. They are misled from the beginning and do not understand the importance of the Guru's Shabad. Worldly attachments overwhelm them, as a result of which, they cannot think that Waheguru can be realized with the Guru's Shabad only. 6. The Vedas also discuss the three effects of Maya, but the Maya-loving individual does not realize this. He still reads the Vedas, but only for the love of Maya. But, without realizing the reality of the "One" (Waheguru), he suffers a lot. 7. When Waheguru likes, He, Himself, connects individuals with Him, and dispels their discomfort due to their misbeliefs, with Guru's Shabad. The real respect is earned by Waheguru's Naam, and the comfort of mind also comes from the Naam, oh Nanak! 8.30.31

Word Meaning: Nirgoon = formless (no visible traits); above the three effects of Maya. Surgoon = manifesting (hidden) in nature, with the three effects of Maya. Tut(u) = reality. Puchhaanay = recognize; have a deep understanding. Pundit = knowledgeable. Turaiy = find salvation. Kool = clan (associates). 1.

Rus(u) = essence; taste. Chukh(i) = to taste. Saad(u) = taste. Jun= devotee. Pause. Nihkermi = one who does not indulge (unaffected). Giyaan(i) = having Divine Knowledge. Pdaruth = highly valuable article (Waheguru's Naam). Nau Nidh(i) = the nine mystical treasures. Mayt(i) = erase. 2. Bibayk(u) = knowledge; ability to tell right from wrong. Aap(u) veechaaray = self-analysis. 3.
Sur(i) = body of water. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Sunt = devotee. Choogeh(i) = pick up food (for soul). Ishnaan = bathe (cleanse mind in Naam-water). Haumein Maiyl(u) = filth of selfishness and ego). 4. Hunsa = swan-like (clean soul). (The swan is considered to be a clean animal in the Hindu Granths). Vusaiy = reside. Ehinis(i) = day and night. 5. Bug(u) = bugula = heron (imposter). Bugula is considered a mean imposter because he looks like a swan but catches fish or toads, giving the impression of a swan which does not eat fish. Jeevut Muraiy = lives in the world but kills his worldly desires. 6. Ruttan Pdaruth = invaluable article like precious stones (Waheguru's Naam). Undhiyara = darkness (ignorance). Ghut = heart. Chaanun = light (enlightenment). Aap(u) = self. 7.
Oopaayay = created. Vakhaiy = looks after. Lakhaiy = in the record (of successful people); approved (by Waheguru). 8.
MEANING: Waheguru manifests Himself in two forms – (Nirgoon) (above the effects of Maya), and (Surgoon) in nature with the effects of Maya. Only that individual deserves to be called a pundit who understands (internalizes) this reality. By embedding Waheguru's Naam in mind, not only does such an individual find salvation for himself, but he also gets salvation for his clan (associates). 1.
I offer my life to all those who enjoy (union with) Waheguru by tasting His Naam. Those who taste Waheguru's Naam have a pure mind as they recite Waheguru's pure Naam. Pause. Only that individual is considered not to indulge in Maya (is above its effects) who ponders on the Guru's Shabad, and overcomes his selfishness and ego with the enlightenment of his mind. He acquires the invaluable Naam, which is like having all the nine treasures, and merges with Waheguru by overcoming the effects of Maya. 2. A man, who is gripped by haumein, cannot be above the effects of Maya. He has to get rid of his haumein by the grace of the Guru. A man who analyzes his mind all the time acquires the wisdom to tell the right from the wrong and sings Waheguru's praise by Guru's Shabad. 3. Waheguru is pure and is like the sea of all virtues; the holy devotees of the Guru feed on these virtues all the time. They take a dip in Naam-Amrit day and night, and thereby wash away the filth of their haumein. 4. With dedicated love for God, man's soul is purified. Such an individual gets rid of his haumein, and always resides in the ocean of Waheguru (stays absorbed in Him). With day and night love for Waheguru's Shabad; he resides in Waheguru-sea (stays connected with Him). 5. The follower of his mind is an imposter, like a heron who is very different inside from his (innocent) looks, and always carries the filth of haumein. He may take dips in the waters of holy places, but the filth of haumein never goes away. Of course, if he kills his sensual desires and leads his life as per the Guru's Shabad, his filth of haumein is washed away. 6.

If one “listens” to Guru’s Shabad with dedication, he can acquire invaluable Waheguru’s Naam in his mind. With Guru’s grace, the darkness of his mind disappears, and he recognizes himself with the enlightened mind. 7.
Waheguru creates the world Himself, and looks after it too. A person who serves Waheguru gets the account of his bad deeds obliterated, and is honoured because Waheguru’s Naam enlightens his mind by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak! 8.31.32.

Word Meaning: Maya Moh(u) = attachment for Maya. Subaaya = the whole world. Traiy goon = affected by the three effects of Maya (living beings). Mohiya = captivated. Virla = some rare. Chauthaiy Pud(i) = the fourth (highest) level of spirituality above the effects of Maya. Liv = focus; concentration; connecting with Waheguru. 1. Julaavniya = is burnt. Siyoun = with. Chit(u) = mind. Dur(i) = door (court). Pause. Mool(u) = basis. Simrit Shast = Hindu Granths. Kaam(u) = lust. Pusriya = is spread (has gripped). Aavay Jaayay = takes birth and dies (rebirths). 2.

Tis(u) Vich(i) = in that (heart). Ruttan = precious like a precious stone. Jut(u) = celibacy. Sat(u) = service to man kind. Sunjum(u) = contro on sensual desires. Sach(u) = truthfulness. Kmaavaiy = works for. Pooraiy = perfect. 3.
Payiurraiy = in paternal house (this world). Dhun = woman (human being). Bherm(i) Bhoolaani = lost in doubts. Hult(u) = this world. Pult(u) = the next world. 4.
Kunt(u) = husband (Waheguru). Smaalay = look after; remember. Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state where Maya has no effect (mind quits wandering). Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Shingaar(u) = adornment. 5. Sufl(u) = successful. Dooja Bhaao = love for the other (Maya). Aiko = only God. Ruv(i) Ruhiya = is present. Ghut = heart. 6. Kaahay = what for? Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Birtha = empty; uselessly. 7. Sisht = Srishti = world. Saaji = created. Puchhaanaiy = recognize (get connected with). Dhoor(i) = from the root (source). Mustuk = forehead. Laykh(u) = destiny. 8.

MEANING: The whole world is in the grip of mind-captivating Maya. All the living beings are affected by the three qualities of Maya, and are captivated by it. A rare person realizes this when he attains the fourth level of spiritual awareness (above the effects of Maya) by the grace of the Guru. 1. I am a sacrifice for all those who burn down (overcome) their attachment to Maya by the Guru's Shabad. An individual who overcomes his attachment to Maya applies his mind to Waheguru (gets connected with Him) and wins the praise of Waheguru at His door, in His court, and in His mansion (they all mean the same). Pause. The basis of all the gods and goddesses is Maya, as discussed in the Hindu Granths, the Simritis, and the Shastras. Lust and rage are rampant in the world, and as a result of that, living beings take birth, die, and are born again. 2. Waheguru has placed a precious thing - Divine knowledge (His Naam) - in the human mind, but it lies dormant. It appears in the mind of the devotee only with the grace of the Guru. Some people try to observe celibacy, to have their sensual desires under control, and to have high moral character by the stubbornness of their mind, but fail to make any connection with God, even if they are able to control their desires. On the other hand, a devotee of Waheguru does not need to put in any special efforts to control his desires because they are controlled automatically when he recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 3.
In love with Maya, a human bride is misled by her misbeliefs, and forgets her husband, Waheguru, and has to repent at the end. She wastes away both the worlds – the present, and the next – and gets no comfort even in her dreams. 4.
If a human bride remembers her husband (Waheguru) in the present life, and "sees" him around by the grace of the Guru, she adorns her life (with virtues), and stays always imbued in the love of her husband – Waheguru. 5.
Those who have made a connection with Satguru and burn down their love for Maya with Guru's Shabad make their life a success. Waheguru alone is present in their heart, and they sing His praise in the company of the holy congregation. 6.
What is the use of taking birth as a human if one does not serve Satguru? His life is condemnable because he wastes away his precious human life. The follower of his mind does not remember Waheguru's Naam, and suffers big time without it. 7.
Only Waheguru, who has created the world, knows all this (how to connect people with Him). He connects them with Him by making them recognize (love) the Guru's Shabad. However, only that individual gets to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart who has had this (union with Waheguru) prewritten on his forehead, right from the beginning, oh Nanak. 1.32.33.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) = the original source; root of all. Purakh(u) = living power. Uprumpur(u) = limitless; who does not need any help from anybody. Thaap = to create. Oothaap = to destroy. Vertaiy = operates. Sobha = praise. 1. Nirunkaar = formless; without any shape. Raykhiya = physical features. Ghut(i) = heart. Alukh = invisible; indescribable. Likhaavniya = to show; describe. Pause. Duyaal(u) = Kirpal(u) = kind. Uver(u) = other; else. Naamay = with Naam. 2. Sirjunhaara = Creator. Bhundaara = treasures. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. Sehj(i) = (in) spiritual state above Maya. Smaadh(i) = to be fully connected. 3.

Undin(u) = day and night. Jaachaan = wish. 4. Agumm(u) = (physically) inaccessible. Agoachar(u) = inconceivable. Mit(i) = measurement; limit. 5. Rusna = tongue. Goonvunti = virtuous. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Rung(i) Raati = imbued with (Waheguru's) love. Sobha = praise. 6.
Kerm = deeds; rituals. Ahunkaari = full of conceit; egoistic. Joovaiy = in gamble. Baaji = game. Maha Goobaara = extreme darkness (ignorance). 7.
Kerta = Creator. Vudiyaayee = honour; respect. Likhut(u) Dhoor(i) = pre-written from the Source. Bhuou = fear; worries. Bhunjun = destroyer. 8.
MEANING: Living Power Waheguru, which is the origin (source) of the universe, and which does not need anybody's help, creates the universe all by Himself, and then Himself destroys it. He operates in everybody's heart, but only those who take the Guru's shelter are honoured (by Waheguru for realizing Him). 1. I am a sacrifice for all those who recite the Naam of the formless Waheguru. Even though Waheguru has no physical features, He is present in everybody's heart; but the invisible Waheguru can be "seen" (understood or realized) only by taking the Guru's shelter. Pause.
You are very kind and compassionate, and there is nobody other than You (like You) in this universe, oh Waheguru. If the Guru is kind and gives Your Naam to someone (connects with You), the recipient can merge into You by reciting Your Naam. 2.
You are eternal, and the creator of the universe, oh Waheguru. Your treasures are always full of worship (there is never a shortage, no matter how many people receive Your Naam). One's mind is imbued with Your Love if the Guru kindly gives Your Naam to him; he meditates on Your Naam and attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 3. I wish to sing Your praise day and night, oh Waheguru! I wish to sing Your virtues only, my dear Waheguru, and do not wish for anyone else. (I also realize that) One can connect with You only by the grace of the Guru. 4.
Waheguru is physically inaccessible and incomprehensible, and nobody has ever found his measurements. One can only connect with You with Your kindness, (but will still never know Your limits). You are worshipped by Guru's Shabad, and one attains blissfulness when he serves You with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 5.
The tongue, which sings His virtues, itself acquires those virtues, and those who recite His Naam, are liked by the eternal Waheguru. The devotees of the Guru are always imbued with Waheguru's love and earn praise by connecting with Him. 6.
The followers of their mind perform deeds only to boost their ego (which is a gamble, as they hope to win Waheguru's favour by doing a few perceived good deeds of their vested interests), and thus lose the game of their precious life. Because of greed, their minds are in deep darkness (ignorance), and they continue to stay in the cycle of birth and death. 7.
Waheguru Himself bestows honour on some individuals for whom He had preordained it from the beginning. By Guru's Shabad, such individuals acquire the Naam, which is the destroyer of all fears (worries), and they enjoy blissfulness, oh Nanak. 8.1.34.

MEANING: The invisible God in the form of His Naam, resides hidden in every heart, but cannot be seen with our eyes. The physically inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru is the highest of all (much above the effects of Maya) but can be "seen" or realized only with the Guru's Shabad. 1.

I offer my life to all those who recite Waheguru's Naam in this world. The supreme devotees are dear to God, and are supported by Him; but only the highly lucky people get to see them (make a connection with them). Pause.

Waheguru, which is being searched for by the accomplished Sidh yogis and the yogis and whom gods like Brahma and Indra worship, and the 330 million other gods search for Him, can be worshiped only by connecting with the Guru (in His shelter). 2.

The air worships Waheguru (is at His Command) all the twenty-four hours, and the earth is a slave at His feet. Waheguru resides in the hearts of, and is liked by, all the living beings of the four sources of reproduction, and by those which have different ways to communicate. 3. The True Lord is revealed in the shelter of the Guru, and can be recognized (can be accessed) by the Shabad of the Perfect Guru. Whoever tastes Waheguru's Naam-Amrit becomes fully content and can achieve complete satisfaction by being "one" with Him. 4.

An individual who attains the state of high spirituality above the effects of Maya enjoys all comforts. (Even while living in the family) He stays detached from worldly attractions, is always zestful and blissful. That individual is rich in the real sense, and is a huge banker (mine of virtues), who stitches his mind to the Feet (Shabad) of the Guru. 5.

Waheguru makes arrangements for the food for each kind of living being before He creates them. Nobody else is as great as the Lord Waheguru, and no one can equal Him. 6. Only those individuals worship You whom You are pleased to be kind to, and they act on the Shabad of the Guru, oh Waheguru! They swim across the sea of Maya (get emancipated), and find salvation for their associates as well, and there is no restriction for them in Waheguru's Court. 7. You are huge, and higher and higher; You are limitless and larger and larger, oh Waheguru. I offer my life to (serve) You, and I (Nanak) am a slave of Your slaves, oh Waheguru! 8.1.35

MEANING: Q: Who is free (from the bonds of Maya), and who is connected (with Waheguru)? Who has Divine Knowledge (connected to Waheguru) and who is a good orator (to describe Waheguru's virtues)? Who is a real family man, and who is detached from Maya? Who can evaluate Waheguru (know His magnanimity)? 1.

Q: How does a man get bonded to Maya, and how can one get freedom from it? How can a man break the cycle of reincarnation? What are the noble deeds, and who is detached from Maya (while living in the family)? Who sings the praise of Waheguru and makes others do the same? 2. Q: Who enjoys comfort (bliss), and who is in discomfort (is worrisome)? Who keeps his face towards the Guru (eager to obey Him), and who faces away from the Guru (disregards Him)? How can I connect with Waheguru, and how can one get disconnected from Him? Who can explain such means (or causes)? 3. Q: What mantra is effective to restrain the fast-wandering mind, and what is the advice by which one can accept comfort and discomfort the same way (be a stoic)? What lifestyle is most effective to remember Waheguru, and to sing His praise? 4.

Answers to these questions:

It is the supreme devotee of the Guru (a Gurmukh) who is free from the bonds of Maya, and he is the one who is connected with Waheguru. The Gurmukh is the bearer of the Divine Knowledge, and he is the perfect orator to describe Waheguru's virtues. A Gurmukh is worthy of respect whether he is a family man or lives alone. A Gurmukh knows the virtues (magnanimity) of Waheguru. 5.

Man's haumein is the cause of his bonds with Maya, whereas the Gurmukh is free from all such bonds. The reincarnation cycle is broken for the Gurmukh. The deeds of a Gurmukh are noble because all his deeds are selfless, and whatever he does is with love and respect for the Guru. 6. The Gurmukh is blissful, while the follower of his mind is worrisome. The Gurmukh faces towards the Guru (obeys His Command), while the follower of his mind faces away from the Guru. The Gurmukh is connected with Waheguru, while the follower of his mind is disconnected. Gurmukh's lifestyle illustrates the path (to connect with God). 7.

Obeying the Guru is the mantra by which one controls one's fickle mind, and one accepts comforts and discomforts the same way, by the advice of the Guru. The lifestyle of the Gurmukh is the one to copy to remember Waheguru and to sing His praise. 8. The whole creation is carried out by Waheguru Himself. He alone does everything, makes the humans do whatever He wishes, and establishes them (in their lifestyles). From being One, Waheguru transforms Himself into countless, and everything eventually merges into Him, oh Nanak! 9.2.36.

MEANING: (If you have faith in) the eternal Waheguru, then why would you have any worries? A devotee, who has faith in Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, enjoys bliss. You are my life, my soul, my pride, and you are the source of all my comforts; everything You do for me is a source of bliss for me, oh Waheguru! 1.
I offer my life to all those who like You in their mind and body in the shelter of the Guru. You are the mountain of shelter for me, and are my support; nobody can rival You, oh Waheguru! Pause. A supreme devotee, who finds Your Will to be sweet, sees You in every heart (human being). You are omnipresent, and You alone operate everywhere. 2. You fulfill the objectives (needs) of all. The treasures of Your worship and of Your love are always full. Individuals who stay connected with You are protected kindly by You (from the attacks of Maya). 3.
You cast kind sight on Your devotees, and pull them to the top from the dark well of Maya. They sing praise of the Perfect and eternal Waheguru. (They can only sing the virtues), But there are so many virtues in Waheguru; no matter how long they sing and narrate to the people, there is never an end to His virtues. 4.
You are my guard in this world and the next. You also protect and nourish (the fetus) in the mother's womb. The burning desires of Maya do not even come near the devotees who sing Your praise imbued in Your Love. 5. What virtue of Yours must I recite so as to "see" you in my body and my mind? You are my friend, my pal, and my Lord; I do not acknowledge anybody else, other than You, oh Waheguru. 6. A devotee, whom You support (protect), never suffers even from a minor discomfort. You are the Lord, provider of shelter, and source of all comforts, oh Waheguru. You become "visible" when worshipped in the company of the holy congregation. 7. You are very high (transcendental), unfathomable, limitless, and invaluable (no one can find Your true worth). You are the True Lord, and I am Your slave (personal attendant). You are the real King, and Your Kingship is eternal. I (Nanak) offer my life to You, oh Waheguru. 8.3.37

Word Meaning: Nit, Nit = every day; always. Duyyou = (loving) God. Smaaliyaiy = remember. Mool Na = absolutely not; never. Visaariyaiy = forget. Pause.
Jum = angel of death. Punth = path. Toasa = journey expenses (to the next world). Kooleh(i) = (to the) clan. Gaal(i) = get blamed; discredited. 1.
Simrunday = worship. Saayee = Lord. Tutti Vaao = hot air; discomfort. Voottha = make home; come to live; appear. 2. Behnaiy = keep company; socialize with. Dhun(u) = wealth. Sunjiya = accumulated; earned. Gumbheer = very patient. Apaar = limitless. 3. Amiyo Rusaayin = Naam-Amrit, which is the source of all enjoyable tastes. Ditthaiy = by seeing. Jun = supreme devotee. Kaaruj = tastes.

Svaar(i) = adorn; complete successfully. Poojhou = worship. Paanv = feet (Shabad). 4. Gosaayeen = provider for the earth (God). Soora = valiant. Perdhaan = leader. Mustik = forehead. Bhaag = good fortune. 5.
Mundhay = in. Uvgaahiya = looked for carefully. Bhogun = enjoy. Munda = bad. Oopjiyo = sprouts. Sachi Kaaraiy = the true business (Waheguru's Naam). 6.
Kerta = the Creator (Waheguru). Ful = result; achieve success. Bhaavunda = as wished. Kunt(u) = husband (Waheguru). Thir = stable; long-lasting. Sohaag = married life. 7. Atull Pdaruth = eternal article (Waheguru's Naam). Bhaiy Bhunjun = fear destroyer. Laayay Unchal = by providing support. Jitta = won (achieved success). 8.
MEANING: Loving Waheguru must be remembered all the time, and should never be forgotten. Pause. To avoid the path to the Angel of death (to avoid deeds that make us sinners), one should connect with the Guru to realize Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam is like journey expenses (a ticket for the next world), meaning no one can question one on the way to unite with Waheguru. Also, the clan of such a devotee cannot be discredited for ignoring Waheguru. 1.
Those who recite Waheguru's Naam will never be sent to hell. Those whose hearts become home for Waheguru to reside never suffer even a slight discomfort. 2.
Those people are pretty and attractive to Waheguru who stay in the shelter of the Guru. Those who accumulate the wealth of the Naam merge with Waheguru, which is highly patient (unchanging in situations) and limitless. 3. Having the sight of the Guru (obeying Him) injects spiritual life in the devotee when he drinks the Naam-Amrit, which is the source of all enjoyable tastes. We should serve Guru's Feet (obey Him) at all times to successfully complete our tasks (of uniting with Waheguru). 4.
Those who are connected with Him recite His Naam. Such devotees have good fortune written on their foreheads, and they are the real valiant and leaders. 5.
Those who searched (and found) Waheguru in their mind enjoy the real kingship in that spiritual state. No immoral thought ever crosses their mind, and they swim across the sea of Maya by performing deeds which are approved by the Guru. 6.
Those who embed the Creator (His Naam) in their mind achieve the objective of human life (union with God). Such human brides get the husband of their choice (Waheguru) and live an eternal married life. 7.
When one takes shelter of the fear-destroying Waheguru, he acquires the eternal Naam. Waheguru salvages the devotee by taking him in His embrace, and the individual wins the toughest game of life (becomes "one" with Him), oh Nanak. 8.

Word Meaning: Mun Dheeray = mind becomes calm and patient. Pause.
Gurdayo = (source of enlightenment) Guru. Bhaiy = all fears. 1.
Ta Phir(i) = then. Kaahay = what for; why. Jhooray = repent for failure. 2.
Sunt Sadh = Guru. Munoruth = objectives. Pooray = achieved. 3.
Ghut = heart. Vertda = operates. Muhiul = sky. 4. Paap Binaasun = destroyer of sins. Puvitar = holy; pious. Dhooray = dust of feet. 5.
Subh = the whole humanity. Chhudaayee = freed. Tthurooray = cool; calm. 6.
Tupaavso = justice. Doosht = cruel; sinners. Mooray = taxidermy (stuffed hide) of a young one of a cow so that it appears to be alive; visibly alive but actually dead. 7.
Rutta = imbued. Naayay = Naam. Hujooray = right in front. 8.

MEANING: There is only one Waheguru, which can be realized by the grace of the Guru. One gets calmness of mind by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
By reciting the Naam of the source of enlightenment, Guru, all the fears (worries) are dispelled. 1. Why would one need to feel repentant for his failures when he comes to the shelter of Waheguru? 2. All the objectives of life are achieved by serving the Guru's Feet (obeying Him). 3. Waheguru is present in all the living beings, whether they are on the land, in water, or in the sky; and He operates alone. 4. The destroyer of all sins, Waheguru, is worshipped by taking the holy dust of the Feet of the Guru (obeying Him). 5.
The whole world is set free from the bonds of Maya by Waheguru Himself, and its mind (of the world) becomes peaceful by worshipping Waheguru. 6.
The Creator delivers perfect justice, and the sinners and the cruel die of spiritual death. Like a stuffed hide (taxidermy), they are alive on the surface, but dead spiritually. 7.
I am imbued in Waheguru's love and see Him around me all the time, oh Nanak. 8.5.39.

(PAGE 133): Barah Maah (The Twelve Months) Majh Mehla 5 Ghur(u) 4

Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i)

INTRODUCTION: Hindu Granths strongly believe in the importance of the timing of events. They believe that the relative positions of the planets affect the fortune of individuals, and there are auspicious and inauspicious moments for important events in their lives. To avoid the negative effects of the planets, the Hindus perform many rituals – for example, give donations to Brahmans; not to eat on certain days; make some unusual offerings to gods; certain dos and don'ts during eclipses; undertake pilgrimages – and so on. The Hindus believe in the importance of the first day of every month and of the different phases of the moon. With such misbeliefs, they become increasingly lost in doubt and superstition and forget Waheguru completely. That is totally contrary to the Principles of Guru Granth Sahib, which promotes full belief in Waheguru and total disbelief in the importance of certain days and moments. For Sikhs, only those moments are auspicious in which one remembers Waheguru, and those in which one forgets Waheguru are inauspicious. Please pay attention to the following holy Shabads:

- ਮਾਰੂ ਮਹਲਾ 1 (1015)॥ ਸਭੇ ਰੁਤੀ ਚੰਗੀਆ ਜਿਤੁ ਸਚੇ ਸਿਉ ਨੇਹੁ॥ ਸਾ ਧਨ ਕੰਤੁ ਪਛਾਣਿਆ ਸੁਖਿ ਸੁਤੀ ਨਿਸਿ ਡੇਹੁ॥
- Maru Mehla 1 (1015): Subhay rooti chungiyaan jit(u) Sachay siyoun nayhou. Sa dhun Kunt(u) puchhaaniya, sookh(i) sooti nis(i) dayhou.

MEANING: All the seasons are delightful in which one loves God. That woman (human bride), who recognizes (makes connection with) the Waheguru-Husband, sleeps (spends life) with comfort, night and day.

- ਸਲੋਕ ਮਹਲਾ 5 (318)॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸੋਈ ਦਿਨਸੁ ਸੁਹਾਵੜਾ ਜਿਤੁ ਪ੍ਰਭੁ ਆਵੈ ਚਿਤਿ॥ ਜਿਤੁ ਦਿਨਿ ਵਿਸਰੈ ਪਾਰਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਫਿਟੁ ਭਲੇਰੀ ਰੁਤਿ॥
- Sloak Mehla 5 (318): Nanak soyee dinus(u) soohaavrra jit(u) Prubh aavaiy chit(i). Jit(u) din(i) visraiy Parbrahm, phiitt(u) bhulayri roott(i).

MEANING: Only that day is pleasant (comforting) on which one remembers Waheguru; and that season is condemnable when one forgets Waheguru, oh Nanak!

- ਬਿਲਾਵਲੁ ਮਹਲਾ 3 ਵਾਰ ਸਤ (842)॥ ------ ਆਪੇ ਪੂਰਾ ਕਰੇ ਸੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਏਹਿ ਥਿਤੀ ਵਾਰ ਦੂਜਾ ਦੋਇ॥ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਬਾਝਹੁ ਅੰਧੁ ਗੁਬਾਰੁ॥ ਥਿਤੀ ਵਾਰ ਸੇਵਹਿ ਮੁਗਧ ਗਵਾਰ॥
- Bilawal(u) Mehla 3, Seven Days of the Week (842): ---------- Aapay Poora kuray su hoyay. Eh(i) thiti vaar dooja doyay. Satgur baajhoun undh(u) goobaar(u). Thiti vaar sayveh(i) moogudh guvaar.

MEANING: ---------- Whatever the Perfect Waheguru wishes to do, will certainly happen (superstitions about the timing are baseless). Superstitions about different phases of the moon and the days of the week sink the believer deeper into the darkness of Maya and create conflicts in the mind (between believing in Waheguru and the fortune tellers about auspicious and inauspicious times). Without the Satguru, there is complete darkness of ignorance, and only the foolish and the ill-informed believe in the effects of different phases of the moon and the days of the week.

As you can see, Guru Amar Dass Ji calls those people foolish and ill-informed who believe in the importance of certain days and phases of the moon.

How much more can be said to clarify the meaninglessness (unimportance) of timings of important events in life!! Nobody can stop events (sad or happy) from happening if Waheguru wishes them to, no matter what rituals one performs. Most Hindus consult fortune tellers to guide them on auspicious or inauspicious times for important events like marriages, buying property, entering a new home, opening a business, and so on. But their events are as successful or unsuccessful as anybody else's who do not believe in the importance of certain days or moments. (With the exception of a few, most of the Westerners have no belief in timings, but they are the most advanced on the planet. So, why believe in timings? In fact, it is a sin for a Sikh to believe in timings.

In addition to the few holy Shabads given above, there are many more such Shabads in Guru Granth Sahib. In fact, there are many long holy compositions which explain in more detail the insignificance (in fact, negative effects) of believing in the superstitions of timings. Guru Nanak Sahib has written on "twelve months" and the "phases of the moon". Guru Amar Dass Ji has written about the seven days of the week, and Guru Arjun Dev Ji on "twelve months" (the composition under discussion), "day and night", "phases of the moon" and the six seasons. Kabir Sahib has also written on the phases of the moon and the seven days of the week.

The twelve months in India correspond to the Julien Calendar (J.C.) as follows:

Month	Chayt	Vaisakh	Jaytth	Assaarr	Saavaun	Bhaadon
J.C.	Mar-April	April-May	May-June	June-July	July-Aug	Aug-Sept
Month	Assoo	Kutik	Mugghar	Poh	Maagh	Phuggun
J.C.	Sept-Oct	Oct-Nov	Nov-Dec	Dec-Jan	Jan-Feb	Feb-Mar

The first day of the Indian month falls between the 13th and the 17th of the corresponding month of the Western Calendar, as listed under J.C.

Now, let us go back to the main holy composition.

(ਅੰਗ 133)॥ ਕਿਰਤਿ ਕਰਮ ਕੇ ਵੀਛੁੜੇ ਕਰਿ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਮੇਲਹੁ ਰਾਮ॥ ਚਾਰਿ ਕੁੰਟ ਦਹਦਿਸਿ ਭ੍ਰਮੇ ਥਕਿ ਆਏ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਕੀ ਸਾਮ॥ ਧੇਨੁ ਦੁਧੈ ਤੇ ਬਾਹਰੀ ਕਿਤੈ ਨ ਆਵੈ ਕਾਮ॥ ਜਲ ਬਿਨੁ ਸਾਖ ਕੁਮਲਾਵਤੀ ਉਪਜਹਿ ਨਾਹੀ ਦਾਮ॥ ਹਰਿ ਨਾਹ ਨ ਮਿਲੀਐ ਸਾਜਨੈ ਕਤ ਪਾਈਐ ਬਿਸਰਾਮ॥ ਜਿਤੁ ਘਰਿ ਹਰਿ ਕੰਤੁ ਨ ਪ੍ਰਗਟਈ ਭਠਿ ਨਗਰ ਸੇ ਗ੍ਰਾਮ॥ ਸ੍ਰਬ ਸੀਗਾਰ ਤੰਬੋਲ ਰਸ ਸਨੁ ਦੇਹੀ ਸਭ ਖਾਮ॥ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਸੁਆਮੀ ਕੰਤ ਵਿਹੂਣੀਆ ਮੀਤ ਸਜਣ ਸਭਿ ਜਾਮ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਕੀ ਬੇਨੰਤੀਆ ਕਰਿ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਦੀਜੈ ਨਾਮੁ॥ ਹਰਿ ਮੇਲਹੁ ਸੁਆਮੀ ਸੰਗਿ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਜਿਸ ਕਾ ਨਿਹਚਲ ਧਾਮ॥ 1॥

(PAGE 133): Kirt(i) kerm kay veechhurray kur(i) kirpa maylhou Ram. Chaar(i) koont deh dis(i) bhermay, thuck(i) aayay Prubh kee saam. Dhayn(u) doodhaiy tay bahri, kitaiy na aavay kaam. Jul bin(u) saakh koomlaavti oopjeh(i) naahi daam. Hur(i) Naah na miliyaiy saajnaiy kut paayiyaiy bisraam. Jit ghur(i) Hur(i) kunt(u) na pergutyee bhutth(i) nagar say graam. Serb seegaar tumboal rus, sun(u) dayhi subh khaam. Prubh Soami kunt-vihooniya meet sujjan subh(i) Jaam. Nanak kee baynuntiya kur(i) kirpa deejaiy Naam(u). Hur(i) maylhou Soami sung(i) Prubh, jis ka nihchul dhaam. 1.

Word Meaning: Kirt(i) = done. Kerm = deeds. Veechhurray = disconnected. Chaar(i) Koont = the four major directions. Dehdis(i) = ten sub directions (8 at 45^{o} angles plus vertically up and down). Bhermay = wandered (without any achievement). Saam = shelter. Dhayn(u) = cow (considered sacred by the Hindus). Baahri = outside of. Saakh = vegetables; crops. Koomlaavti = wilts. Daam = money. Naah(u) = Lord; Master (husband). Kut = where, how. Bisraam = rest; peace of mind. Ghur(i) = home; heart.

Pergutyee = appears. Bhutth = kiln; hell. Seegaar = adornment. Tumbol = a chewable roll of betel leaves with tobacco in it. Sun(i) = including. Khaam = weak; insufficient. Kunt = husband. Vihooniyaan = without; devoid of. Jaam = Jum = angel of death. Nihchul = permanent; eternal. Dhaam = residence. 1.

MEANING: We have been separated from You because of our previous ignoble deeds; please be kind and reconnect us to You, oh Waheguru! We have exhausted ourselves while wandering in every possible direction in search of happiness, and have finally come to Your shelter. Just like a cow which does not produce milk, or like a crop which withers away without water and is unable to result in any money, we are worthless without the dear Lord, Waheguru. How can we find peace without You? The heart, in which Waheguru does not appear, is like a town which is burning like hell. Without You, we are just like a married woman whose husband is away; all beautifications and luxuries, like betel wraps, are useless for her, including her own adorned body. All the friends and relatives seem like agents of death without You, oh our Lord-husband Waheguru! I, (Guru) Nanak, make a humble request to You to kindly grant me Your Naam. Kindly connect me with the Lord whose Residence is eternal, oh Waheguru! 1.

NOTE: Even though Guru Sahib advises certain dos and don'ts for certain months, they apply to each and every month, in fact, to each and every moment.

ਚੇਤਿ ਗੋਵਿੰਦੁ ਆਰਾਧੀਐ ਹੋਵੈ ਅਨੰਦੁ ਘਣਾ॥ ਸੰਤ ਜਨਾ ਮਿਲਿ ਪਾਈਐ ਰਸਨਾ ਨਾਮੁ ਭਣਾ॥ ਜਿਨਿ ਪਾਇਆ ਪ੍ਰਭੁ ਆਪਣਾ ਆਏ ਤਿਸਹਿ ਗਣਾ॥ ਇਕੁ ਖਿਨੁ ਤਿਸੁ ਬਿਨੁ ਜੀਵਣਾ ਬਿਰਥਾ ਜਨਮੁ ਜਣਾ॥ ਜਲਿ ਥਲਿ ਮਹੀਅਲਿ ਪੂਰਿਆ ਰਵਿਆ ਵਿਚਿ ਵਣਾ॥ ਸੋ ਪ੍ਰਭੁ ਚਿਤਿ ਨ ਆਵਈ ਕਿਤੜਾ ਦੁਖੁ ਗਣਾ॥ ਜਿਨੀ ਰਾਵਿਆ ਸੋ ਪ੍ਰਭੂ ਤਿਨਾ ਭਾਗੁ ਮਣਾ॥ ਹਰਿ ਦਰਸਨ ਕੰਉ ਮਨੁ ਲੋਚਦਾ ਨਾਨਕ ਪਿਆਸ ਮਨਾ॥ ਚੇਤਿ ਮਿਲਾਏ ਸੋ ਪ੍ਰਭੂ ਤਿਸ ਕੈ ਪਾਇ ਲਗਾ॥ 2॥

Chayt(i) Govind(u) araadhiyaiy, hovaiy anund(u) ghuna. Sunt junaa mil(i) paayiyaiy rusna Naam(u) bhunaa. Jin(i) paaya Prubh(u) aapna, aayay tiseh(i) gunaa. Jinhi raaviya so Prubh(u) tinnah bhaag(u) munaa. Hur(i) dershun kuoun mun(u) loachda, Nanak piyaas munaa. Chayt(i) milaayay so Prubhoo tis kaiy paayay lugaan. 2.

Word Meaning: Chayt(i) = in (the month of) Chayt(u). Anund = blissfulness. Ghuna = immense. Rusna = tongue. Bhuna = utter. Guna = consider (worthy of). Khin(u) = a small moment. Birtha = empty. Junaa = consider. Muhiul(i) = in the sky. Pooriya = has filled. Ruviya = present. Vuna = forests. Raaviya = enjoyed. Munaa = shine of fortune on the forehead. Loachda = longs for. Piyaas = thirst. 2.

MEANING: If one remembers Waheguru in the month of Chayt(u), he enjoys bliss. Waheguru can be realized by reciting His Naam with the tongue in the company of the Guru. Only those who are considered to have really been born (their lives are successful) are those who connect with Waheguru. To live without Him even for a moment is like wasting one's whole life. If one does not remember Waheguru, which is present in waters, on the land, and in the sky, he suffers countless troubles (sufferings). But only those who enjoy union with Waheguru have good fortune on their foreheads. My mind is thirsty for the sight of Waheguru and longs to see Him. I will drop on the feet (serve him like a slave) of the holy devotee (Satguru) who connects me with Waheguru in the month of Chayt(u) (any time). 2.

Word Meaning: Dheerun = pick up courage; find peace. Klyoun = how? Vaandhiyaan = disconnected with Waheguru. Bichhoh(u) = pain of separation. Visaar(i) = forget. Dhoh(u) = deceit. Kluttar = wife. Sung(i) = with. Avinaashi = non-perishable; eternal. Pulch(i) = entangled. Jhootthaiy Dhundhay = false (spiritually worthless) tasks. Uggaiy = next world. Khoh(i) = snatch. Duyyou = loving Waheguru. Vigoochna = suffer without any achievement. Biin(u) = without. Uver(u) = other. Soyay = praise. Soohaava = pleasant; providing comfort. Praaput(i) Hoyay = is acquired (get connected with). 3.

MEANING: How can those human-brides find peace in the month of Vaisaakh who are disconnected from their Waheguru-Husband, and are suffering from the pain of separation? By forgetting Waheguru, they are getting attached to the deceitful Maya. However, they should realize that the sons, the wife, and the wealth are all perishable (will not live with him all the time); the only real friend is Waheguru, which is eternal. The whole world is dying (spiritually) by being entangled in the false (short-lived) tasks of worldly attachments (Maya). The world does not realize that when a man has to appear before God after death, only His Naam accompanies him, and he is stripped of everything else before that. The man suffers greatly from forgetting Waheguru, as no one else can help him. Those who serve Waheguru earn real praise. I, Nanak, pray to You that You connect me to You, so that I may enjoy Your union. Even though the month of Vaisaakh is very pretty in terms of the fresh beauty of nature (it is springtime), the devotees of Waheguru enjoy it only if the Guru connects them with Waheguru. 3.

Aapun leeya jay milaiy, vichhurr(i) kiyoun rovunn(i). Sadhu sung(u) praaptay Nanak rung maanunn(i). Hur(i) Jaytth(u) rungeela tis(u) dhuni ja kaiy bhaag(u) muthunn(i). 4.

Word Meaning: Joorunda = connect with. Lorriyaiy = wish; need to. Daavun(i) = seeking support; taking shelter of. Bunnh(i) = hurdle. Maanak Moti = pearls. Sunnh(i) = break-in. (Until about 60 years ago, it was quite common for thieves to drill a big hole in some outside wall of a house to gain entry to steal. Drilling of the hole was called sunn). Rung = colour; love; amazing feats. Naraayinaiy = of Waheguru. Bhaavunn(i) = mind-captivating. Lorraiy = wishes. Dhunn(i) = worthy of praise. Mannunn(i) = enjoy. Rungeela = colourful; blissful. Dhuni = rich; lucky. Muthunn(i) = on the forehead. 4.

MEANING: In the month of Jaytth(u), one needs to connect with Waheguru before everyone kneels down. If one takes shelter of Waheguru, who is a friend of everybody, nobody (including the Angel of death) can erect any hurdles in his way to salvation (unite with God). Pearls and other costly items can be stolen, but Waheguru's Naam is such a pearl which nobody can steal. Waheguru manifests Himself in many different ways (does some amazing feats), which captivate our minds when we have His Naam at heart. Waheguru does whatever He wishes to do, and the living beings also do what He wants them to do. Those are worthy of our respect whom Waheguru connects with Him. But nobody can achieve anything (including Waheguru's Naam) on their own (without Waheguru's Will); if people were able to acquire whatever they wished for on their own, they would not need to cry when they lost it (because they should be able to get it back). Waheguru's Naam can be realized only in the company of the Guru, and the devotees enjoy the bliss of union with Him. The month of Jaytth(u) is blissful for individuals who have good fortune on their foreheads (to connect with Waheguru). 4.

Word Meaning: Tupunda = sizzling hot. (Aassarr(u) is the hottest month in India).
Naah(u) = Lord; Master. Jugjeevun = Life of the world (Waheguru). Purakh(u) = Living Waheguru. Maanus = man. Sundi = of. Dooyaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Vigoochiyaiy = suffer without any achievement; discomfit. Phaas = noose. Loonaiy = cuts; reaps. Raiyn(i) = night (life). Vihaani = is spent. Ootth(i) Chulli = leaves the world. Niraas = disappointed. Sadhu = Guru. Bhaytiyaiy = met; got connected. Khulass = (declared) free of any sins. Soohunda = pleasant. 5.

MEANING: The intense heat of the month of Asaarr(u) causes suffering to those who do not have Waheguru's Naam at heart, and, ignoring Waheguru, they seek the support of someone else. They suffer in vain because of their love for Maya, and the noose of the Angel of Death awaits them (they are caught in the rebirth cycle). As per their pre-written fortune, they reap the (bad) results of what they had sown. When their life is over, they leave the world disappointed and in repentance. On the other hand, those who connect with the Guru are declared free from any sins in the Court of Waheguru (are salvaged). I pray to You that, please, be kind to me so that I (Nanak) too, may have longing for Your sight (get connected with You), because there is none other like You, oh Waheguru! Even though the month of Asaarr(u) is sizzling hot, those who have embedded Waheguru's Naam in their heart find it very comforting, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Sersi = blissful; blooming of heart. Kaamni = woman (human bride). Siyoun = with. Rutta = imbued. Sach Rung(i) = in the love of God. Adhaar = support. Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). Koorraviya = false (short-lived). Chhar(u) = ash. Boond = drop. Soohaavni = pretty; comforting; soothing. Trin(u) = vegetation. Mauliya = bloomed; zestful. Sumruth = omnipotent; capable of doing everything. Loachda = longs for. Kerm(i) = kindness; benevolence. Sukhiyaiyn = (female) friends. Muyya Kur(i) = be kind; be benevolent. Svaarunhaar = complete successfully. Sohaagni = married woman, (loved by her husband). Oor = heart. 6.

MEANING: Like the rainy months of Saavun(u) and Bhaadon, which bring respite from the sizzling heat after the hot and dry months of Jaytth and Asaarr, and infuse new life in nature, and among the living beings, the heart of the woman (human being), who has love for Waheguru with lotus-like soft Feet, begins to bloom in bliss. Her body and mind are imbued with the love of God, and Naam alone is her support in life. She realizes that the enjoyments of Maya are temporary and no more worthy than ash. The really worthy thing is the drop of Naam-Amrit, which can be tasted in the company of the Guru. The limitless Waheguru is omnipotent, and all the forests and vegetation bloom because of Him. My mind also longs to connect with Waheguru, but only His benevolence can do so. I wish to offer my life any time to those friends who have realized Him. I (Nanak) pray to Waheguru that He be kind, and adorn my life with Guru's Shabad, so that I may connect with Him to make my life successful. Women wear necklaces of gold or other precious metals around their neck to look pretty, but the month of Saavun is blissful to those who have the necklace of Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 6.

Word Meaning: Bherm(i) Bhoolaaniya = misled by misbeliefs. Doojaiy = Maya. Hayt(u) = attachment; love. Seegaar = beautification. Kaaruj(i) = useful; helpful. Kayt(u) = nowhere. Dayh = body. Binus-si = will be destroyed. Tit(u) vaylay = at that time. Prayt = belonging to past; dead. Doot Jum = agents of the Angel of death. Bhayt(u) = secret. Khinaiy Maah(i) = in a moment. Murorraiy = twist. Kupay = trembles. Siahou = from black. Sayt(u) = white. Loonaiy = cuts; reaps. Sundrra = of. Khayt(u) = field. Shernaagti = seeking shelter. Bohith = ship; boat. Hayt(u) = love. 7.

MEANING: Those who follow their minds and get attached to Maya in the month of Bhaadon (or any other month for that matter) are misled by their misbeliefs (in the realm of spirituality). No matter how hard they try to look attractive to Waheguru by adorning themselves (by wearing religious garb and performing rituals), it is of no use. (Rather than getting any recognition in Waheguru's Court after death), Their relatives call them "dead" when their soul leaves their body. The agents of the Angel of Death take control, and take them away, and disclose no secret about their destination. All the loved ones leave them alone in a moment (and move away). With the body trembling, the dying individual twists his hands, and his colour changes from dark to white (as if there is no blood there). Human life is like a field; one reaps only what one sows in the form of deeds. I (Nanak), am in the shelter of Waheguru whose "Feet" (Naam) serve as the ship to carry us across the sea of Maya. People who come to Waheguru's shelter (connect with Him) never see hell (in the month of Bhaadon or any other time*)* because the loving Guru becomes their guard. 7.

Prubh vin(u) dooja ko nuhi Nanak Hur(i) shernaayay. Assoo sookhi vusundiyaan jinha muyya Hur(i) Raayay. 8.

Word Meaning: Oomaaharra = zestful; dances. Kiyoun = how. Piyaas = thirst; longing. Ghuni = much. Suhaayee = helpful. Vin(u) = Bin(u) = without. Jaayay = place. Chaakhiya = tasted. Triput(i) = Aaghaayay = fully satisfied; contented. Aap(u) tiyaag(i) = relinquishing selfishness. Lurr(i) Laayay = (please) make your own; provide support. Vichhurr(i) = separate from. Kuteh(i) Na = nowhere. Shernaayay = in the shelter of. Muyya = kindness. 8.

MEANING: (Normally, the month of Assoo (Assun) is very pleasant in Punjab as it is neither hot nor cool yet, and every living being seems to enjoy it). In this pleasant climate, the hearts of devotees begin to feel a zest for the love of Waheguru, and they look for ways to connect with Him. There is a great thirst (longing) in my body and my mind to "see" Waheguru, and I wish that someone could connect me with Him. I know that the holy men would be helpful in my love for Waheguru, so I would better drop on their feet (request them) to connect me with Waheguru, because there is no other place than Waheguru where my mind can find peace. Those who have tasted the essence of Waheguru's love (in His Naam) become fully satisfied and contented. Relinquishing selfishness, we too, should pray to Waheguru that He kindly makes us His own (patronizes us, or connects us with Him). Those women (human brides) who are once connected to Waheguru-Husband never get separated to seek support from anyone else. There is none other than Waheguru (for support). So, I (Nanak) too, have sought the shelter of Waheguru. For those who are kind to Waheguru, the month of Assoo is very delightful. 8.

Word Meaning: Kerm = deeds; rituals. Doash(u) = blame. Na Kahoo = nobody. Viyaapun(i) = happen; attack. Vaymookh = turn face away from (ignore). Vijoag = (pain of) separation. Bhoag = enjoyments. Vich(u) = the role of the middle man. Roaj = personal problems. Likhiya Dhoor(i) Sunjoag = the relation between the body and the character (soul), is written right from the very beginning. Ootreh(i) = go away. Bundi Moach = the destroyer of all bonds. Binseh(i) = are destroyed; come to the end. Soach = worries. 9.

MEANING: (Kutik is a month of rituals for the Hindus. They perform many spiritually worthless rituals which, as you will find soon, are not approved by Guru Sahiban). The deeds you perform in the month of Kutik are worthless, but you cannot blame anyone else for your inability to deliver the expected results, because you invite many troubles by forgetting Waheguru. When one ignores Waheguru, he gets disconnected from Him for many lives (and suffers). Even the enjoyments of Maya, for which one forgets Waheguru, become painful in a moment (due to their loss or other issues). And, the sad thing is, that there is nobody to share the troubles with, as nobody can help. Moreover, one's character is prewritten, and nobody can change that with his own efforts. However, if by good fortune one connects with Waheguru, things can change, and all the troubles caused by disconnection from Waheguru are eradicated. I (Nanak) request You, please save me from the attacks of Maya, oh Waheguru - the terminator of all bonds of Maya (emancipator). If one can join the company of the Guru in the month of Kutik, all his worries are gone. 9.

Word Meaning: Munghir(i) = in the month of Mugghur. Sohundiyaan = look pretty; are successful. Pir = dear; husband. Sung(i) = in the company of. Sobha = praise; level of bliss. Mauliya = bloomed. Suhaylurriyaan = friends (female). Bahhri = without. Jum kaiy vus(i) = under the control of the Angel of death. Raaviya = enjoyed. Nit = everyday; always. Khurriyaan = alert; watchful. Kuntth(i) = around the neck. Baanchhaiy = wishes for; longs for. Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet. Buhourr(i) = anymore; again. Junumurriyaan = (re) birth. 10.

MEANING: Like a married woman wants to sit with her husband (enjoy his company) in the cold month of Mugghar (Munghir), a human bride (devotee) loves to have the comfort of the company of her Waheguru-Husband in this month. Their praise (fortune) cannot be measured who have been connected with Waheguru. In the company of the holy friends, their body and mind bloom (enjoying the love of Waheguru). But those, who stay away from the company of the holy devotees, remain alone (disconnected from Waheguru). Those who have enjoyed the love of Waheguru are always watchful against Maya's attacks. Rather than a necklace of precious stones like rubies, around their neck for beautification, the devotees have the necklace of the priceless Naam of Waheguru around their neck (heart) (which keeps all the evils away). (Guru) Nanak says that he longs for the dust of the feet of the devotees (a sign of extreme respect) who have taken shelter of Waheguru. If one worships Waheguru in the month of Mugghar, he never takes birth again. 10.

Word Meaning: Tookhaar = extreme cold. Viyaapyee = affects. Naah(u) = Lord; Master. Baydhiya = pierced. Churnaarbind = (Churn +Aarbind) = lotus-like feet. Shah(u) = king; Waheguru. Oat = shelter. Govind, Gopaal, Raayay = all names for Waheguru. Laah(u) = benefit; in the bargain. Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). Poh(i) Na Sukyee = cannot even touch. Sadhu = Guru. Oopji = came into being. Smaah(u) = Absorbed. Ker(u) = hand. Geh(i) = by holding. Buhourr(i) = again. Bayriaan = times. Agumm = unreachable. Agaahou = unfathomable. Sherm = accepts responsibility. Naraayin = Waheguru. Dur(i) Puyeeahou = shelter seeker. Soohunda= comforting; enjoyable. Bukhshay = to gift. Vaypervaah(u) = indifferent; carefree. 11.

MEANING: Even though the month of Poh (Pokh) is the coldest month in northern India, yet the individuals who have Lord Waheguru's Naam on their tongue do not feel any effect of the extreme cold. Their minds are pierced (stitched) with the lotus-like feet (expression of love and respect) of Waheguru (His Naam), and they long to have a sight of the King – Waheguru. They take the shelter of Waheguru and get to serve the Lord as an added benefit (spiritual wealth). They sing Waheguru's praise in the company of the Guru, as a result of which the poisonous Maya cannot even come near them. Because of their pure love (devotion), they merge into the same Waheguru who instilled that love for Him in them. Waheguru holds them in His hand and connects them to Him so they never get separated again. I wish to sacrifice my life millions of times for Waheguru, who is otherwise unreachable and unfathomable. When an individual seeks Waheguru's shelter with a pure mind, Waheguru accepts His innate responsibility and absorbs the individual in Him, oh Nanak(u). The otherwise cold month of Poh becomes enjoyable for those individuals who are given the Naam by the benevolence of Waheguru, who is indifferent to Maya. 11.

NOTE: Nanak is the common name used by all Guru Sahiban in Guru Granth Sahib, which means that their writings are in complete agreement with Guru Nanak Sahib's philosophy. But Nanak(u) is used for the specific Guru.

Word Meaning: Mujun(u) = bathing. Sung(i) = with. Dhoorri = dust of the feet. Daan(u) = donation. Kerm = deeds. Mohiyaiy = captivates. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Loabh(u) = greed. Sooaan(u) = dog. Maarug(i) = path. Oostut(i) = praise. Utth(i) Sutth(i) = 8+60 = 68 (holy places of the Hindus. Poonn(u) = noble deeds, including donations. Pervaan(u) = approved. Soojaan = wise. Soochay = clean (minded). Kaandhieh(i) = are called.
NOTE: The month of Maagh is considered very holy by Hindus. They consider it a great virtuous deed to take a dip at holy places, especially, Prayag (Allahabad, which is on the confluence of the Rivers Ganga and Jamuna), on the first day of this month, and give donations to Brahmans.
MEANING: (Rather than taking a dip at the so-called holy places), one should take a dip (in Waheguru's Naam-Amrit) in the company of, and in the dust of the feet of holy men (their Shabad; an expression for deep reverence). Recite and listen to Waheguru's Naam, and donate it to others (motivate them to recite the Naam). By taking a dip in the Naam-Amrit, one's filth of misdeeds gathered over many lives is washed away, and one's ego is eradicated. Lust and rage cannot captivate (attract) the devotee, and his dog-like greed is destroyed. The world praises those who follow the path of truth. (The Hindus consider pilgrimage to the sixty-eight holy places as a highly virtuous deed), But taking pity on a needy human being (helping him) is much more acceptable to Waheguru. That individual is really wise who is blessed with virtuous qualities by the benevolence of God. I would love to offer my life to those who are connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak. Those are considered pure (without any vice) in the month of Maagh, to whom God is kind. 12.

Phulgoon(i) nit slaahiyaiy jis nu til(u) na tmaayay. 13.

Word Meaning: Phulgoon(i) = in the month of Phulgoon (or Phuggun). Pergutay = appeared (in heart). Suhayee = helpful. Sayj = bed. Soohaavi = comforting. Jaayay = room. Ichh poonni = the wish has been granted. Vur(u) = husband. Mungul(u) = song of bliss. Allayay = recite. Uver(u) = other; else. Luvaiy = equal; rival. Hult(u) = this world. Pult(u) = the next world. Svaarioon = He adorned (with virtues). Nihchul = stable (eternal). Buhourr(i) = again. Til(u) = (the size of a) sesame seed. Tmaayay = wish; expectation.

MEANING: (if one remembers Waheguru in the first eleven months of the year) then in the twelfth month of Phuggun, Waheguru appears in the heart of the devotee, who begins to feel blissful. It is the supreme devotees of Waheguru who kindly connect individuals with Waheguru. The bed (of the heart) of the devotee becomes a source of comfort, and there are comforts everywhere, and there is no room for discomfort now. The wish of the lucky devotee is fulfilled, and she becomes Waheguru's wife. She sings the blissful song of Waheguru's praise in the company of other devotees, and is convinced that there is none other like Him (who can rival Him). Waheguru adorns (makes successful) both the worlds – the present and the next – for His devotees, and gives them an eternal place in His Mansion (connects them with Him permanently). He protects His devotees from the sea of world (Maya), and they are never born again (as they merge into Him). Waheguru has countless virtues; how can we sing His praise with only one tongue! However, one can find salvation by taking shelter of His Feet (Naam), oh Nanak. In the month of Phuggun, we should always sing praise of Waheguru, who has absolutely no expectation of any kind – not even the size of a sesame seed, oh Nanak. 13.

Word Meaning: Jin(i) jin(i) = whosoever. Kaaj = tasks. Suray = achieved successfully. Khuray = pure (no evil qualities). Nidh(i) = treasure. Bhuoujul(u) = sea of world (Maya). Bikhum(u) = tough. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Juray = burns (causes suffering). Koorr = false (short-lived). Doobidha = conflicting situations. Moorut = believed to be an auspicious time. Bhulay = enjoyable. 14.
MEANING: Whosoever recites Waheguru's Naam gets all his tasks completed successfully (achieves the objective of human life). By worshipping the Perfect Waheguru, the devotee is found to have achieved perfect purity of mind in the Court of the eternal Waheguru. Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) are the treasure of all comforts, and one swims across the tough sea of Maya by taking His shelter. He acquires the worship of love (for Waheguru), and the poisonous Maya cannot burn him (cause any suffering). All the false beliefs of the devotees go away, and the conflicting ideas in the mind are cleared, and they acquire complete Truth (Waheguru) now. They serve only Waheguru. For the individual who has Waheguru's kind sight on him, all the days, months, and so believed auspicious occasions, are comforting and blissful. (Guru) Nanak begs a glimpse of Your sight, please be kind and grant my request, oh Waheguru! 14.1.

Word Meaning: Din = day. Raiyn(i) = night. Sayveen = I serve. Aap(u) = selfishness. Tiyaag(i) = relinquish. Vaiyn = words; language. Vichhurriya = separated. Sujjan(u) = Saiyn = (dear) friend. Bhaiyn = oh, sister (friend). Pir = dear; husband. Chaiyn = peace of mind. Khoaj(i) = search. Gaiyn = skies; galaxies. Kmaanaiy = deeds done. Doash(u) = blame. Kahoo = somebody. Khaakoo = dust. Roolna = devalued. Soorjun = God-like; Supreme Being. Naiyn = eyes. 1.
MEANING: I wish to serve my Satguru and recite his Shabad day and night. Overcoming my selfishness, I wish to drop on His feet, talk sweetly with my tongue, and request that He connect me with the real friend – Waheguru - from whom I have been separated for many lives. Those who are disconnected from Waheguru do not enjoy real comfort (bliss), oh my friend! I have searched all the skies (wandered everywhere) for peace of mind, but there is no peace (blissfulness) without dear Waheguru. However, I cannot blame anyone for my separation, because it is the result of my own evil deeds. I beg Waheguru to kindly protect me (from the attractions of Maya so that I may connect with Him) as there is no one else who can do that for me, or make someone else do the same. It is like getting degraded to dust without You, oh Waheguru! There is no one else I can narrate my sad story to. My (Nanak's) request is to "see" You with my own "eyes", oh Waheguru. 1.

Mun(u) tun(u) untar(i) vus(i) ruhay Nanak nuhee shoomaar(u). Din raiyn(I) j(i) prubh kuoun saynvday, tin kaiy sud bulihaar(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Jea = heart. Birtha = condition; problems. Sumruth = omnipotent. Apaar(u) = without any end. Aadhaar(u) = support; basis. Payiyaiy = this world (life). Susooraiy = next world. Kunt = husband. Agumm = unreachable. Agaadh(i) = unfathomable. Bodh = wisdom. Sa = that. Bhaavsi = is liked. Chhaar(u) = dust. Deena = powerless. Nath = Lord; Master. Dayv = source of enlightenment (Guru). Putit = unholy; degraded. Aad(i) = from the very beginning. Joogaad = before the start of the eons. Keemut(i) = worth. Toalunhaar = one who weighs. Shoomaar(u) = limit. 2.

MEANING: Only the omnipotent, unreachable, and omnipresent Waheguru listens to the problems of one's heart. Therefore, He should be worshipped from birth to death (the whole life), which is the basis of all living beings. A woman (human being) who worships Waheguru, who has a big family (the whole humanity), is very high (transcendental), unreachable, unfathomable, omniscient, and limitless, all her life, belongs to the Waheguru-Husband in both worlds. Waheguru likes the service of the devotee who considers himself the dust of the feet (humble and obedient) of Waheguru's supreme devotees. The Lord of the powerless, and the source of enlightenment, Waheguru, is highly compassionate and is the saviour of the downtrodden. Waheguru's eternal Naam protects us, and has been protecting us right from the beginning (of the world). However, nobody knows the real worth (degree) of Waheguru's compassion, and nobody can measure it. Even though He is present in our body and mind, we do not know His limits, oh Nanak. I always offer my life to all those who serve Waheguru day and night. 2.

Word Meaning: Bukhshind = forgiving. Jeao = life. Pind(u) = body. Ditioon(u) = He gave. Munt(u) = mantra. Bhugvunt = lucky. Loacha = wish. Doakh = vices; sins. Hunt(u) = are destroyed. Huriya = blooming life like green vegetation. Junt(u) = living being.

MEANING: The supreme devotees always worship Waheguru, who is forgiving to everybody. Waheguru creates body and mind, and kindly puts life into it. We should worship Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, which is the holy Mantra (to please Him). (But worshipping Waheguru does not mean that one can find His limits). Nobody can find His limits as He is beyond any measurement. Yes, that individual is lucky who embeds Waheguru in his heart. One's wish is fulfilled when the mind is connected with the Lord-Husband. I survive by reciting Waheguru's Naam, which destroys all my vices (sins), oh Nanak. The heart of an individual who does not forget Waheguru day and night blooms with bliss. 3.

Word Meaning: Kula = powers. Poorno = full of. Munj(u) = me; mine. Nimaani = humble; without any ego. Thaaoun = shelter. Oat = support. Guhee = caught; acquired. Jun = supreme devotee. Sung(i) = with. Smaaoun = get absorbed. Oodum(u) = initiative; vivacity. Jaayay = place. Soojhyee = cannot think of. Kookun = pray loudly. Ugiyaan = lack of knowledge (ignorance). Binasun = destroy. Tum = darkness (ignorance). Amaao = immeasurable. Sooaao = objective. Kuliyaana = well-being; comforts. Perseen = I touch. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is complete with all powers (is omnipotent), and I am powerless with no ego at all; He is my shelter. I have taken His shelter in my mind, and survive by reciting His Naam. I pray to Waheguru that He connect me with the Guru, and make me so humble that I should feel like a part of the dust of the Guru's feet (serve Him with full humility). I should be happy and content in whatever situation You put me in, and be happy to eat and wear whatever You provide. Also, it is You who provides me with the inspiration to sing Your praise and to remain absorbed in Your Naam in the company of the Guru. I cannot think of anyone else to whom I may go and loudly narrate my wish. The transcendent (above the effects of Maya), unreachable, and immeasurable Waheguru is the only one who destroys the ignorance and the darkness (of the mind). My (Nanak's) only objective in life is for Waheguru to connect my disconnected mind with Him. All the comforts are achieved on the day (at the time) when I touch the feet of the Guru (get connected with Him). 4.1.

Sloak M:1: Gur(u) daata, Gur(u) hivaiy ghur(u), Gur(u) deepuk(u) tihou loyay. Amar pdaruth Nanaka mun(i) maaniyaiy sookh(u) hoyay.

Word Meaning: Hivaiy = ice; coolness; never gets angry. Tihou loyay = three-layered universe. Amar Pdaruth= immortal invaluable article (Waheguru's Naam)

MEANING: The Guru is the provider, and is a source of peace and calmness (patience). He enlightens the whole universe. Waheguru's Naam is an eternal, invaluable thing, and one acquires all comforts by embedding it in the mind. 1.

(PAGE 138): Aaya guyya mooyiya naaoun. Pichhaiy puttal(i) sudihou kaav. Nanak munmukh(i) undh(u) piyaar(u). Baajh Guru dooba sunsaar(u). 2

Word Meaning: Thun = breasts. Soodh(i) = ability. Bayb = sister. Oopunni = is born. Dhaat(u) = pursuit; interest. Sunj(i) = by accumulating. Oobhay Saah = difficulty in breathing. Dudha = burned. Sigeet = close friends. Dhaah = a very loud cry (a ritual performed by Hindus). Huns = soul. Dusaayay = asks. Puttal(i) = another Hindu ritual in which they distribute some edible items served on big leaves (puttal) of a tree with the misbelief that the food will reach the dead on their way to the next world. Dooba = drowned (in the sea of ignorance or Maya).

MEANING: (The human life can be divided into ten stages). Love for mother's breast milk is the first developmental stage of a child to manhood, and to the end of his life. He acquires the ability to recognize his parents in the second stage and his brothers, their wives, and his own sisters in the third stage of development. In the fourth stage, he begins to love playing. Enjoying food becomes his pursuit (interest) in the fifth stage. In the sixth stage, he is so overwhelmed with lust that he does not even care for the caste (of the girls). Accumulating wealth and establishing his own home is the seventh stage of development. In the eighth stage of development, rage destroys his health. He experiences difficulty in breathing in the ninth stage and is burned to ashes in the tenth stage. Some close friends take him to the cremation ground and make a loud cry. His soul leaves the body and embarks on a journey to the next world. He takes birth, dies, and only his name is left behind after his death. According to Hindu custom, his relatives serve some food on large leaves, believing it will reach the dead person, who will need it on his journey to the next world. However, that food never reaches the dead person, but birds like crows feast on it. The love of the follower-of-his-mind is of pure ignorance, and the world is drowning in the sea of Maya without the Guru, oh Nanak! 2.

Word Meaning: Ruvun(i) = (urge to) enjoy (lust). Pur(u) = compete (peak of life). Pug(u) = foot; step. Khisaiy = recedes; gets weak. Viohaar(u) = routine dealings (self- care). Sihjaasni = bed-ridden. Mool(i) Na = not at all. Apbal = own ability. Dhundolim(u) = search. Ditth(u) = observed; found out. Dhuvulher(u) = white-polished house.

MEANING: The first ten years of a man's life are spent in childhood, while at twenty, a man becomes lustful. At thirty, he is considered handsome, and at forty, he attains the peak of his life. At fifty, his step (ability) begins to slide, and he is considered old at the age of sixty. At seventy, he is considered to have lost his wisdom, and at eighty, he is unable to do even the routine things, including self-care. At ninety, he becomes bedridden and does not recognize his own strength. After searching extensively, I have found that the world is like a white house of smoke (which is not real forever). 3.

Word Meaning: Srisht(i) = world. Oopaarjuna = creation. Bidh(i) = ways. Bhaanti = types; kinds. Toomaati = Yours. Ikk(i) = many. Ootth(i) Jaah(i) = leave the world. Chulooliya = deep (dark) colour. Raati = imbued. Nirunjuno = Waheguru (who is above the darkness of Maya). Bidhaati = writer of fortune. Soojan = noble. 1.

MEANING: The creator of the universe, the omnipresent, and the unreachable Waheguru, created the world all by Himself, which has been created in a variety of colours; in many ways; and has many different kinds of living and non-living entities (mountains, oceans, glaciers, and deserts, etc.). Only Waheguru knows the exact details of the world as it is His sport (drama). Many living beings are born, and many die without acquiring Waheguru's Naam (die in mental suffering). But the devotees of the Guru are imbued deeply in Waheguru's love. We should serve the eternal Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and is the writer (designer) of our fate. Waheguru is the greatest of all and is omniscient; I am a sacrifice to all those who worship Him with full devotion. 1.

Nanak Gur bin(u) naah(i) put(i), put(i) vin(u) paar(i) na paayay. 1.

Word Meaning: Jeao = soul. Bunut = shape; design. Soorut(i) = (ability) to hear. Smaayay = absorbed; stays. Ttheekur = pieces of a broken earthenware. Ghaarrut = design; structure. Put(i) = respect. Paar(i) = on the other shore of the sea of Maya (salvation). 1.

MEANING: Waheguru created the human body, infused it with life, and gave it a specific shape. He gave eyes for the man to see, a tongue to talk, and the ability to hear with the ears. He gave him feet to walk on, hands to work with, food to eat, and the material to make clothes to wear. However, the blind (ignorant) man does not acknowledge the Creator and performs tasks blindly. When he dies, his body becomes like broken earthenware, which cannot be restored to the original living man. There is no respect (in Waheguru's Court) without taking shelter of the Guru, and one cannot find salvation without that respect, oh Nanak! 1.

Word Meaning: Thaavoun = instead of; rather than. Soorut(I) = ability. Chuturaayi = cleverness. Ta Kee = his. Vukhaaniyaiy = be said; explain. Koondi = directions. Kmaavaiy = deals in; works. Khayl = game; working of the world. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Joti = human soul. Siyaaniyaiy = recognize. Sooghurr = Soojaan = wise; noble. 2.

MEANING: A person who appreciates the gifts rather than the provider (God), has his face turned away from the Guru (is really the follower of his mind). What (nothing) can be said about his ability, wisdom and cleverness? He tries to hide his (bad) deeds from the world, but they are known in all four directions (everywhere). An individual who performs virtuous deeds is known as a religious (noble) person, while one who commits sinful deeds is known as a sinner. However, nobody can be blamed for his evil deeds, because that is the way of the Creator – He exhorts individuals to do whatever they do; there is nobody else with such powers. As long as individuals have Your Light inside them, it is You, who speaks in them (guides them), oh Waheguru! Show me if there is someone else to recognize who can do things without Waheguru's Light in him. If one takes Guru's shelter, he will "see" only the "One" wise and noble Waheguru everywhere, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhunday Laaya = put to worldly affairs involving Maya. Tthugauli = deceiving agent. Khoovaaya = misled (got interested in Maya). Tishna = appetite for Maya. Ugun(i) = fire; burning desire. Tiptaiy = satisfied. Sehsa = worries. Kerm = rituals. Kool(u) = clan; ancestry.

MEANING: You have created the world Yourself, and put it into the routine business (involving Maya), oh Waheguru. By subjecting people to the captivating worldly attachments, You have misled them and caused the world to suffer (because of their disconnection from You), oh Waheguru. They have burning desires in mind, and their appetite for more and more never gives them satisfaction. The man dies in worries and takes rebirths; his cycle of coming and going continues. The world has exhausted itself in finding satisfaction by performing rituals to overcome its attachments, but the bond of attachments cannot be broken without the Guru. We should recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and we will get the comfort of satisfaction only when Waheguru likes us. The mother who gives birth to the individual liked by Waheguru is worthy of respect; in addition to finding salvation for himself, he also finds salvation for his clan. The wisdom and praise of the individual who connects his mind with Waheguru are great and sweet. 2.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:2॥ ਅਖੀ ਬਾਝਹੁ ਵੇਖਣਾ ਵਿਣੁ ਕੰਨਾ ਸੁਣਨਾ॥ ਪੈਰਾ ਬਾਝਹੁ ਚਲਣਾ ਵਿਣੁ ਹਥਾ ਕਰਣਾ॥ ਜੀਭੈ ਬਾਝਹੁ ਬੋਲਣਾ ਇਉ ਜੀਵਤ ਮਰਣਾ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਹੁਕਮੁ ਪਛਾਣਿ ਕੈ ਤਉ ਖਸਮੈ ਮਿਲਣਾ॥ 1॥

Sloak M:2: Ukheen baajhoun vaykhna, vin(u) kunna soon-na. Paiyraan baajhoun chullna, vin(u) huthaan kerna. Jeebhaiy baajhoun bolna, iyoun jeevutt merna. Nanak Huqam(u) puchhaan(i) kaiy tuou Khusmaiy milna. 1.

Word Meaning: Baajhoun = without. Jeevut Merna = kill (overcome) worldly desires and connect with Waheguru.

MEANING: Waheguru cannot be seen with these eyes, nor can it be heard with our ears. We cannot walk to Him with these feet and cannot serve Him with our hands. However, we can still connect with Him if we overcome our worldly desires, at which time we can communicate with Him without our tongue, "see" Him without our eyes, and serve Him without our hands. In other words, we can connect with Him by recognizing (obeying) His Huqam. Such living is called dying (killing desires) while still alive. 1.

NOTE: The following holy Sloak further clarifies the meaning.

- ਮ:2॥ ਦਿਸੈ ਸੁਣੀਐ ਜਾਣੀਐ ਸਾਉ ਨ ਪਾਇਆ ਜਾਇ॥ ਰੁਹਲਾ ਟੁੰਡਾ ਅੰਧੁਲਾ ਕਿਉ ਗਲਿ ਲਗੈ ਧਾਇ॥ ਭੈ ਕੇ ਚਰਣ ਕਰ ਭਾਵ ਕੇ ਲੋਇਣ ਸੁਰਤਿ ਕਰੇਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕੁ ਕਹੈ ਸਿਆਣੀਏ ਇਵ ਕੰਤ ਮਿਲਾਵਾ ਹੋਇ॥

M:2: Disaiy sooniyaiy jaaniyaiy, saaou na paaya jaayay. Roohla, toonda, undhula, kiyoun gul(i) luggaiy dhaayay. Bhaiy kay churn, ker bhaav kay, loyin soorut(i) kuray. Nanak(u) kuhaiy siyaaniyay iv Kunt milaava hoyay. 2.

Word Meaning: Saaou = (enjoy) taste. Roohla = lame. Toonda = a person who is missing his one or both hands. Dhaayay = with zest. Bhaiy = fear. Bhaav = respectful love. Loyin = eyes. Soorut(i) = concentration. Kunt = husband. 2.

MEANING: The man sees Waheguru in nature, hears about Him from the devotees and tries to understand, but does not enjoy the taste of His existence. The reason is that he is lame (does not have the kind of feet to walk to Him), has no hands (the kind needed) to serve Him, and is blind (does not have the kind of eyes to see Him). So, how can he hug Him with zest? However, (Guru) Nanak advises that if we use His fear as our feet, respectful love for Him as our hands (to serve Him), and concentrating on His Naam as our eyes, we can connect with our Husband (Waheguru), oh wise person. 2.

Word Meaning: Dooja Khayl(u) = the game of Maya. Gerb = ego. Loabh(u) = greed. Bhaavaiy = like. Ikkna = some. Bukhsheh(i) = forgive Khurray = with alertness. Chaakri = personal tending. Kaar = tasks. Vaykaar = worthless. Klut(u) = wife. Kootumb = family. Alipt(u) = detached. Nirmulay = clean; pure. 3.

MEANING: You are the only eternal Supreme Being in the universe, and You have created the drama (world) of Maya (for the living beings), oh Waheguru! You have injected haumein, ego, and greed into the minds of living beings. You keep them under Your Huqam as You like, and they do exactly whatever You want them to do, oh Waheguru. You forgive (disconnect them from Maya) some of them and make them follow the advice of the Guru. Some of them serve You with alertness (being watchful of the attacks of Maya) and do not like anything other than Your Naam. You have put some in the True business (of reciting Your Naam) to connect with You with Guru's Advice (because all other routine tasks are worthless (in the spiritual world). All relations, including the son, the wife, and the family, are just Maya, but You keep some, whom You like, detached from Maya. They are pure inside and outside (while dealing with the world), and are always imbued in Your Naam. 3.

Na hhoun, na mein hoavaan, Nanak Shabad(u) veechaar(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Goofa = cave (some people worship their deity in isolation, like in a cave). Kaiy = or. Puyaal(i) = (of) underworld. Oordh(i) = (suspended) in the middle. Poor(u) = complete; full. Bugga = white. Rutta = red. Pookaar = narrate. Koocheel = filthy = Muldhaari. Doormut(i) = bad advice. Vikaar = vices. 1.

MEANING: (Like some misguided people who believe in self-hardship, and go to some isolated places to worship their deity, or perform some other rituals), if I am able to build and live in a cave in a mountain of gold, or in the waters of the underworld, or suspend myself upside down somewhere in the middle of the sky, or cover myself from head to toe with clothes, wash myself all the time (stay physically clean); or wear red, yellow or black clothes (which are the colours of various sects), or read the Vedas aloud; or stay filthy (like the followers of Jainism) is all ill-advice, and leads to lust and other sensual pleasures. I do not wish any of these. My only wish is that I should have no haumein and selfishness, and should ponder on Guru's Shabad only, oh Nanak 1.

Naamay sookh(i) smaavaiy. 2.

Word Meaning: Vustar = clothes. Pukhaal(i) = wash. Kaaya = body. Sunjum(i) = effort to control sensual pleasures. Jum Jaalay = net of the angel of death. Puraayee = somebody else's. Ghaalay = endures. Smaavaiy = gets into. 2.

MEANING: (To please their deity), some individuals wash their clothes and bodies, and claim that they have control over their sensual pleasures. However, they do not realize that their minds are still filthy, even though they wash their bodies repeatedly by rubbing them well. The blind (ignorant) is completely misguided, and is preparing himself for the net of the Angel of death. He believes that (the life), which actually belongs to someone else (Waheguru), is his, and suffers badly because of his conceit about his body. One can recite Waheguru's Naam effectively only if he first gets rid of his haumein, oh Nanak. One enjoys comfort (bliss) only if one recites Waheguru's Naam and worships Him. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Huns(i) = of soul. Sunjoag(u) = union. Vijoag = separation. Bhoag(u) = luxuries (necessities) of life. Hurkhoun = (from) happiness. Soag(u) = grief. Khupaaya = caused to suffer. Gunut Gunaayay = puts forward his claim of his misunderstood noble deeds. Jhugrra Paaya = becomes argumentative. Nibayrr(u) = final judgment. Na Chulaiy Chullaya = no (cleverness) works.

MEANING: After fixing the union of the body and the soul, Waheguru connects the two, but the Waheguru, which causes the union, also causes the separation of the two. But, not realizing this truth, the foolish man enjoys all the luxuries of life. The comforts that the foolish man enjoys are actually rooted in sins and result in discomfort. Such sinful happiness turns into grief when the soul leaves the body, and the man is subjected to suffering. The foolish claims credit for his misbelieved noble deeds, and becomes argumentative defending his record. (But who listens to his hollow claims? The final judgment rests with Satguru, who decides the fate of the individual. Individual's efforts do not succeed; only Waheguru's Will prevails in the end. 4.

Word Meaning: Koorr(u) = lies. Moordaar = dead body (rights of others). Moottha = robbed; deceived. Saathaiy = companions. Jaapaiy = seems; such is (are).

MEANING: A person who tells lies and usurps the rights of others, but preaches morals to others, is not only himself robbed of noble qualities by the lure of Maya, but causes his associates also to be robbed. Such are our leaders, oh Nanak! 1.

tis(u) bulihaarnaiy jo aap(i) jupaiy, uveraan Naam(u) jupaayay. 2

Word Meaning: Alayay = utters; speaks. Maarug(i) = path. Teeruth = holy water. Chhuppurr = dirty pond. Sugvi = all. Kootumb = family; associates. Srisht(i) = world. Chhudaayay = gets (them) free from worldly bonds. 2.

MEANING: A man, who bears Waheguru's Naam in his heart, utters His Naam with his tongue, treads the path leading to union with Waheguru (performs noble deeds), and exhorts others to do the same. Most people mistake a dirty pond (an immoral guru) for the holy pool of water (the real Guru), and do not realize that filth (of mind) cannot be washed away in such a dirty pond; it is removed only by taking a dip in the holy pool (Satguru). In fact, a dip in a dirty pool deposits more dirt on the body (mind) of the person taking a dip in there. The Perfect Satguru is the real holy pool because He recites Waheguru's holy Naam day and night. Not only is the Guru and His family free from all bonds of Maya, but He is also capable of freeing the whole world from Maya. I am a slave of Waheguru, and wish to sacrifice my life for all those who recite His Naam, and make others do the same; oh Nanak. 2.

Paaurri: Ikk(i) kund mool(u) choon(i) khaaheh(i), vun khund(I) vaasa. Ikk(i) bhungvaan vays(u) kur(i) phireh(i), yogi suniyaasa. Undar(i) trishna buhout(u), chhaadun bhoajun kee aasa. Sacha Shabad(u), Sach(u) mun(i), ghur(i) hee maaheh(i) oodaasa. Nanak Satgur(u) sayvin aapna, say aasa tay niraasa. 5.

Word Meaning: Ikk(i) = some. Kund Mool(u) = vegetables that grow beneath the surface of the ground, like carrots, radishes, and potatoes, etc. Vun Khund(i) = part of a forest. Bhungvaan = orange-yellow. Trishna = burning desires. Chhaadun = clothes. Bhoajun = food. Girhee = family man. Oodaasa = detached from the world. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Tribidh(i) = three-pronged (Maya). Munsa = desire. Ghur = heart.

MEANING: Some people live in some part of a forest (in search of Waheguru), and eat only vegetables that grow beneath the surface of the earth. Some others, like the yogis and the sanyasis, roam about wearing orange-yellow clothes. But whether they belong to one sect or the other, they all have big desires, and wish for good clothes and good food. So, such people are neither family men nor detached from Maya, and thus, they waste away their precious human life. They have desires of Maya, which have three effects, and the Angel of (spiritual) death always keeps an eye on them (watches their deeds). Those who give up their ego and become very humble devotees by taking the Guru's advice never experience spiritual death. They have Waheguru and Guru's eternal Shabad at heart and are detached from Maya while living in the family. They serve their Satguru and free themselves of all desires, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Rutt(u) = blood. Jaama = robe; (dress). Pleet(u) = contemptuously filthy; unholy. Maansaan = of humans. Divaajay = show-offs.

MEANING: If a robe (or clothes) has blood stains on it, it is considered degraded (unholy). So, how can an individual who sucks the blood of other human beings (usurps their rights) be considered clean-minded? (To have a pure heart) One needs to recite Waheguru's Naam with an honest mind; all other deeds (rituals) are a simple show off, and are false.

Nanak undha hoyay kay dusay raahaiy, subhus(u) moohaayay saathaiy. Ugaiy guyya moohay moohay paaheh(i) su aisa aagoo jaapaiy. 2.

Word Meaning: Houn Naahi = I am a non-entity. Bhuriya = loaded (with bad qualities). Boojhaan = realize. Aagoo = leader. Moohayay = get robbed (deprived). Saathaiy = accompanying. Paaheh(i) = beating with shoes. 2.

MEANING: If I am a non-entity, what can I say about myself - that this is what I am, and this is what I am not? All my deeds and my utterings are full of vices, and I keep trying to wash them off. I am a type of leader who does not understand (any morality) himself, but preaches to others. If a blind (ignorant) man (religious leader) leads others on the path (of spirituality), all his companions get (spiritually) robbed, and they suffer, oh Nanak! Such a leader gets a shoe-beating on the face (suffers big humiliation) in Waheguru's Court (and there are many leaders like this). 2.

Jis da jeeo praan(u) haiy, untar(i) Jot(i) Apaara. Sacha Shah(u) ikk(u) Tu, hoar jugut(u) vunjaara. 6.

Word Meaning: Ghurri = 24 minutes. Moorut(i) = auspicious time. Guntaiy = calculations; business-type behaviour (I have done good deeds, so I deserve that). Alukh = inconceivable. Apaara = endless. Sachiyara = bearer of Truth (having noble qualities). Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Shaah(u) = King. Vunjaara = trader. 6.

MEANING: You are present in every month, every season, and in every day; so, it is stupidity to worry about particular timings – that this time is auspicious, and that is not, oh, the eternal, incomprehensible, and the limitless Waheguru. Nobody can realize You by keeping a record of his deeds performed at particular times. The educated, who have gluttony, greed, and ego, are the real fools. One ought to read Waheguru's Naam, understand it, and ponder on it in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru's treasures of worship are always full, but one can earn the Naam-wealth only with the Guru's Advice. One is recognized (honoured) as the bearer of noble qualities in Waheguru's Court only if he has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart. The endless Waheguru, who gives soul, life, and His Light (enlightens our minds) is the True Lord, whereas the rest of the world is only a trader (in noble or ignoble qualities). 6.

Word Meaning: Mehur = compassion; kindness. Museet(i) = mosque. Siduk(u) = faith. Moosulla = rug on which a Muslim offers nivaj. Huq(u) Hulaal(u) = honest living. Sherm = shame (Control on lust). Soonut(i) = circumcision. Seel(u) = patience; politeness. Roja = fasting. Kerni = (noble) deeds. Kaaba = A historical and sacred temple of Muslims in Mecca. Peer(u) = spiritual leader. Kulma = the holy Mantra of the Muslims. Nivaaj = Muslim prayer. Tusbee = rosary. 1.

MEANING: (Guru Nanak Sahib is advising Muslims who have great faith in the Koran, mosque, circumcision, and rosary, etc.) saying that make kindness to others your mosque; faith in Allah the rug on which you sit to offer nivaj; and let honest living be your Koran, oh my Muslim friend. Rather than having a circumcision, have control over lust; let patience and politeness be your fasting during the month of Ramzan – this is how you can be a real Muslim. Let your deeds be Kaaba, the holy Mantra, and the nivaj; and let Allah be your guru. Accepting Allah's Will gladly should serve as your rosary, and He will protect your dignity (you will be honoured in His Court), oh Nanak!

Maarun paah(i) hraam meh(i), hoyay hulaal(u) na jaayay. Nanak gulleen koorryeen koorro pullaiy paayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Huq(u) = rights. Praaya = belonging to others. Soour(u) = pork. Haama = vouch for. Moordaar(u) = dead body (sucking blood of others). Bhisht(i) = paradise. Maarun = spices (clever talk or baseless justification). Huraam = dishonest; immoral. Hulaal(u) = honestly (earned income). Koorryee = false. 2. Koorro = only falseness; bad name. Pullaiy Paayay = acquires.

MEANING: Usurping the rights of others is as evil as (eating) pork for Muslims and (eating) beef for the Hindus. A guru or peer can vouch for an individual only if he does not suck the blood of others. One cannot go to Paradise by simply preaching morality; one finds salvation only by leading an honest and moral life. One cannot change dishonesty into honesty by clever talk. Dishonest talk is baseless and earns a person a bad name. 2.

Kerni kulma aakh(i) kaiy, ta Musalman sudaayay. Nanak jaytay koorriyaar, koorraiy koorri paayayn. 3.

Word Meaning: Nivaajaan = Muslim prayers. Sach(u) = (belief in) Allah. Hulaal(u) = honesty. Khaiyr Khoodaayay = pray to God for the welfare of all. Neeut(i) Raas(i) = noble intentions. Snaayay = praise. Kerni = deeds. Kulma = the basic mantra of the Muslims. Sudaayay = called. Koorryaar = dealers in falsehood (dishonesty). Paayayn = moral strength; trustworthy. 3.

MEANING: Muslims offer five nivajes at five different times of day, each with a different name. (They end up becoming a routine ritual. According to Guru Nanak Sahib, the real nivajes should be like this) - The first one should be a strong belief in Allah, and the second should be honest living. In the third nivaj, a Muslim should pray to Allah for the welfare of all humanity; and the fourth should be based on noble intentions in mind, and finally, the fifth nivaj should be praise of Allah. Noble deeds should be his final Mantra, and that is how he deserves to be called a real Muslim. On the other hand, dishonest dealers are not trustworthy, as they lack moral strength. 3.

Word Meaning: Ruttan Pdaruth = precious articles (noble qualities; Waheguru's Naam). Kuchay = short-livid mundane stuff. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. Ruttan = virtues. Ludhiya = found. Bhaunk(i) = complain aloud; cry in vain for help. Doojaiy = Maya. Puch(i) = suffer. Boojhaiy = understand. Ikkus(u) = One (Waheguru). Toojaara = treasures. Bikhiya = poison. Chhaara = ash (worthless). Svaarunhaara = adorns (with virtues). 7.

MEANING: Some people deal in the precious stones (virtuous qualities; Waheguru's Naam) while some others deal in worthless (Maya-related) business. There are treasures full of good qualities in the human mind, but they can be realized only by Satguru's grace. Without the guidance of the Guru, the ignorant blind cry aloud for help to acquire such noble qualities, but are unable to do so. The followers of their mind suffer spiritual death because of their love for Maya, and do not understand the means to spirituality. They do not realize that there is none other than Waheguru to whom they can pray. There are many poor people who loudly complain about a lack of money, while others have treasures full of wealth. However, there is no real wealth without Waheguru's Naam; Maya-related wealth is all worthless, like ashes, in the realm of spirituality. Waheguru does everything Himself and makes people do whatever He wants. He adorns some people with virtues by His Huqam, oh Nanak. 7.

Tuou Nanak serb jeean mihrehmut, hoyay ta Musalman(u) kuhaavaiy. 1.

Word meaning: Uvel(i) = first. Oul(i) = of the First (Waheguru). Deen(u) = faith. Mittha = sweet. Muskul = wire brush to remove rust. Maana = like. Moosaavaiy = let be robbed (share wealth with the needy). Moohaanaiy = on the front. Bherm(u) = doubt; misbelief. Rujaayay = Will. Aap(u) = self(ishness). Mihrehmut = kind. 1.

MEANING: It is difficult to be a real Musalman for which one needs some noble qualities as follows: First of all, the Muslim should find the religion of Waheguru (love and equality for all humanity created by Him with no discrimination) to be sweet; and purify his mind of all the filth of discrimination, just like rust is removed with a wire brush. He should also share his wealth with the needy. On the front of new faith, he should clear all his doubts about the religion and the caste of others, and how they lead their life, and what happens to them after death. He should gladly accept the Will of Allah, have faith in His omnipotence, and kill his own ego. Moreover, he should be kind to all humanity; only then can he be called a true Muslim. 1.

Word Meaning: Purhur(i) = relinquish; quit; overcome. Ninda = malicious criticism. Tuj(i) = forego. Kaamini = woman. Unjun = Maya. Nirunjun = Waheguru (above the effects of Maya). Soot = son. Daara = wife. Piyaas = thirst (of Maya). 2.

MEANING: To be one with Waheguru, one needs to overcome his lust, and relinquish his rage, lies, malicious criticism (vilification) of others, love for Maya, and his ego. He also needs to relinquish lust and attachment for other women, only then he can realize Waheguru which is above the effects of Maya. I addition, he should also get rid of false pride, ego, and love for his sons and wife. He should overcome his thirst (desire), and any wishes to acquire worldly materials, and should connect with Waheguru with full dedication. If he does all those things, then Waheguru will come to stay in his heart, and he will always be absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib had previously advised Muslims in the Shabad. Thinking that people might not assume the advice was meant only for Muslims, Guru Ram Dass Ji clarified that it was equally applicable to Hindus and Sikhs.

Word Meaning: Ruyyiut(i) = subjects; public. Sikdaar = leader. Rehsiyo = will remain. Puttan = city. Dhehsiyo = will be demolished. Bunk = beautiful. Derb(i) = wealth. Reetay = empty. Khunaiy = moment. Taaji = of Arabic origin. Tookhaar = camels. Paakhray = saddle (seat) on an elephant. Sraayaychay = fabric side walls under canopy. Shinaakhut = recognizing. 8.
MEANING: No ruler, no chief, and no subjects will remain here forever. Even the big shops, bazaars and cities will be demolished with His Huqam. The concrete and beautiful gates (buildings), and the treasures full of valuables, which the foolish considers his ownership, will become empty in a moment. Where are the Arabic chariots (horses), camels, and elephants with attractive seats on them, and estates of orchards, and big houses which the foolish once claimed to be his own? And where are the tents with walls of plush, and the beds woven with cotton strips? The only eternal power is Waheguru, which is recognized in its nature, oh Nanak! 8.

MEANING: If all the rivers were milking cows (had milk rather than water in them) and if all the springs produced milk and butter-oil, and if all the earth were rich in raw sugar so that I could enjoy life all the time. And if I had mountains of gold and silver with inlays of diamonds and rubies (all these goodies mean nothing to me in comparison to You, oh Waheguru), I would still wish to praise You without ever losing my enthusiasm. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhaar Attharah = all the vegetation. (It is an old belief that if one leaf of each plant, tree, and vine is weighed together, it has a mass of 18 weights. One weight = about 92 kg). Mayva = raisins (fruits). Guroorra = sweet cooked rice, so tasty that it dissolves in the mouth. Nihcul(u) = immovable; permanent.
MEANING: If all the vegetation were fruits which melt in mouth like cooked rice, and if I could control the motion of the moon and the sun, and if I had a permanent (eternal) place to live, I will not care for any of these luxuries, I will still wish to praise You without any decline in my zest, oh Waheguru! 2.

Word Meaning: Dayhaiy = (to) body. Greh = possessed by. Rah(u) = a demon with two bodies – Rah(u) and Kayt(u). Jaapaiy = seems; appears. Bhaao = situation; condition.

MEANING: If my body is suffering in the grip of the two demons – Rahu and Kaytu – and if I were in a situation where blood-sucking kings were always breathing on my neck, (I would not care about such deep troubles), I will still sing Your praise and my enthusiasm will never fade, oh Waheguru!

NOTE: (According to Hindu mythology) Rahu was a demon who participated in the churning of the ocean alongside the gods when Amrit was retrieved, but the gods controlled it. When it was being served, Rahu transformed into a god and managed to take some amrit, after which he became immortal. When Vishnu learned of this deceit, he severed his head. But, because he had become immortal, he reappeared as two demons – Rahu, and Kaytu.

Word Meaning: Ugeen = fire (intense heat). Paala = cold. Mohniyaan = captivating (beauty). Jaao = perishable.

MEANING: If I had intense heat and intense cold as my only clothes to wear, and only air for food, or if I had fairies of paradise with captivating beauty to enjoy, I would not care for such suffering or enjoyment because they are all short-lived. I shall only praise my Waheguru and will never lose my enthusiasm. 4.

NOTE 1: From the above holy Sloaks, it is clear that Guru Nanak Sahib loves Waheguru so much that no worldly luxury or any bodily suffering could lessen His love for Him.

Puvrri: Budphaiyli gaiybaana, Khusum(u) na jaanyee. So kuhiyaiy dayvaana, aap(u) na puchhaanhi. Kuleh(i) boori sunsaar(i), vaaday khupiyaiy. Vin(u) Naavaiy vaykaar(i), bhermay puchiyaiy. Raah dovaiy, Ikk(u) jaanaiy, soyee sijhsee. Koofergo koofraanaiy puyya dujhsee. Subh dooniya soob-haan(u) Sach(i) smaayiyaiy. Sijhaiy Dur(i) Deevaan(i) aap(u) guvaayiyaiy. 9.

Word Meaning: Budphaiyli = immoral or sinful activities. Gaiybaana = hidden; secretly. Khusum(u) = The Lord (Waheguru). Dayvaana = crazy; lunatic. Kuleh(I) = destructive disagreement. Vaaday = futile discussion. Khupiyaiy = exhaustive arguments. Vaykaar(i) = useless. Bhermaiy = (in) doubts or misbeliefs. Puchiyaiy = useless suffering. Sijhsee = successful. Koofergo = liar; pursuing acts involving Maya. Koofraanaiy = (in) lies; acts of deceit. Dujhsee = will burn (suffer badly). Soob-haan(u) = beautiful; wonderful. Aap(u) = self; selfishness. 9.

MEANING: If a person commits some sinful deeds secretly and believes that God does not know about them, he is a lunatic who does not recognize himself. (Some people believe that debating religious subjects pleases gods), But all such debates are destructive disagreements, and are really bad because there is nothing spiritual, and only suffering in such fruitless arguments. Any discussion without Waheguru's Naam is useless, as one gets only heart - burning in doubts (because opposing views lead to doubts in the mind of the loser about his ability). There are only two choices in life – acting on the Guru's advice and doing noble deeds resulting in union with Waheguru, or indulging in Maya. But only that individual is successful who follows the first choice (obeying Waheguru's Huqam). The individual, who pursues Maya (accumulation of which is based on lies and deceit), suffers badly in this pursuit (because of his immoral acts). The whole world is very attractive, but to connect with God, one has to overcome all worldly attractions and follow the path of Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Only that individual succeeds (becomes acceptable) in Waheguru's Court who overcomes his selfishness (and ego). 9.

Word Meaning: Jeeviya = alive (spiritually). Uver(u) = other. Put(i) = dignity. Huraam(u) = immoral. Rung(u) = love; enjoyment. Nung(u) = shameless. Tthugiya = Moottha = robbed; deceived. 1.

MEANING: Only that person is (spiritually) alive who has embedded Waheguru's Naam in his heart; nobody else is (spiritually) alive. If one does seem to be alive (without Waheguru's Naam at heart), he loses his dignity, and whatever he eats is all immoral. He loves (enjoys) to rule and to have wealth; intoxicated by his power and riches, he becomes shameless in his enjoyment. He is robbed of noble qualities by deceitful Maya, and without Waheguru's Naam, he leaves the world with the loss of his dignity. 1.

Kiya lushkur, kiya nayb khuvaasi, aavaiy mehli vaas(u). Nanak Sachay Naam vin(u) subhay toll vinaas(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Kiya Hoyay = what is the achievement? Mayva = raisins (fruits). Maida = white flour. Sayj = bed. Sookhaali = comforting. Bhog bilaas = enjoying lust. Lushkur = army. Nayb Khuvaasi = assistants. Toll = things of enjoyment. 2.

MEANING: What does one achieve spiritually by eating well and wearing well if he does not have Waheguru's Naam at his heart? What is the worth of fruit, butter-oil, sweet jaggery (raw sugar), (delicious products made from) white flour, or meat; rich clothes, a comforting bed to enjoy lust, owning armies and assistants, and living in palaces? (They are all spiritually worthless). All these things of enjoyment are short-lived. The permanent joy is in Waheguru's Naam only, oh Nanak. 2.

ਪਵੜੀ॥ ਜਾਤੀ ਦੇ ਕਿਆ ਹਥਿ ਸਚੁ ਪਰਖੀਐ॥ ਮਹੁਰਾ ਹੋਵੈ ਹਥਿ ਮਰੀਐ ਚਖੀਐ॥ ਸਚੇ ਕੀ ਸਿਰਕਾਰ ਜੁਗੁ ਜੁਗੁ ਜਾਣੀਐ॥ ਹੁਕਮੁ ਮੰਨੇ ਸਿਰਦਾਰੁ ਦਰਿ ਦੀਬਾਣੀਐ॥ ਫੁਰਮਾਨੀ ਹੈ ਕਾਰ ਖਸਮਿ ਪਠਾਇਆ॥ ਤਬਲਬਾਜ ਬੀਚਾਰ ਸਬਦਿ ਸੁਣਾਇਆ॥ ਇਕਿ ਹੋਏ ਅਸਵਾਰ ਇਕਨਾ ਸਾਖਤੀ॥ ਇਕਨੀ ਬਧੇ ਭਾਰ ਇਕਨਾ ਤਾਖਤੀ॥ 10॥

Phoormaani haiy kaar, Khusum(i) putthaaya. Tubalbaaj beechaar, Shabad(i) soonaaya. Ikk(i) hoyay usvaar ikkna saakhti. Ikkni budhay bhaar, ikkna taakhti. 10.

Word Meaning: Perkhiyaiy = test. Muhoura = poison. Chukhiyaiy = (if) tasted. Sirkaar = administration (Huqam). Dur(i) = Deebaaniyaiy = (Waheguru's Court). Phoormaani = obey (the Huqam). Kaar = task; duty. Putthaaya = sent. Tubalbaa= musician (of Waheguru); Satguru. Usvaar = riders; controllers of their senses. Saakhti = getting horses ready; getting ready to control the mind. Buddhay Bhaar = burden of sins. Taakhti = running around to earn more wealth. 10.

MEANING: (People take pride in their high caste or status in society), but caste has no power in nature, and can be tested easily. For example, if a person of high caste tastes poison, he too will die. It is Waheguru's Huqam that is prevailing all through the eons, and whosoever obeys His Huqam is acknowledged as the leader (honoured) in Waheguru's Court. The Guru is sent to the world by the Lord to preach that Waheguru's Huqam must be obeyed. This is the path the Guru is preaching aloud for the public to follow. To follow this path, some are already ready (they have controlled their minds), and others are preparing to do so. On the other hand, some have added the burden of their sins, while others are making arrangements to earn more money. 10.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:1॥ ਜਾ ਪਕਾ ਤਾ ਕਟਿਆ ਰਹੀ ਸੁ ਪਲਰਿ ਵਾੜਿ॥ ਸਣੁ ਕੀਸਾਰਾ ਚਿਥਿਆ ਕਣੁ ਲਇਆ ਤਨੁ ਝਾੜਿ॥ ਦੁਇ ਪੁੜ ਚਕੀ ਜੋੜਿ ਕੈ ਪੀਸਣ ਆਇ ਬਹਿਠੁ॥ ਜੋ ਦਰਿ ਰਹੇ ਸੁ ਉਬਰੇ ਨਾਨਕ ਅਜਬੁ ਡਿਠੁ॥ 1॥

Sloak M:1: Ja pukka ta cuttiya, ruhee su pullar(i) vaarr(i). Sun(u) kisaaraan chithiya, kun(u) luyya tun(u) jhaarr(i). Doyay poorr chukki joarr(i) kaiy, peesun aayay behtth(u). Jo dur(i) ruhay say oobray, Nanak ujub ditth(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Pukka = ready to harvest. Pullar(i) = stems of the wheat crop. Vaarr(i) = fence. Sun(u) = including. Keesaar = shells. Chithiya = thrashed; whipped. Kun(u) = wheat grains. Jhaarr(i) = by beating. Poorr = grinding stones of a flour mill (quern). Peesun = grinders. Dur(i) = door; close to the axle. Oobray = survived. 1.

MEANING: When the wheat crop is ready for harvesting, it is cut and swathed, leaving the stubble and the fence behind. Next, it is thrashed and beaten to separate the shells from the grain. Finally, the grinders grind the grain manually in the mill. But the amazing thing to watch is that the grains that stick close to the axle (take shelter under the base support) survive completely. (Similarly, the humans that take the shelter of the base support, Waheguru, escape the punishment of the Angel of death). 1.

ਮ:1॥ ਵੇਖੁ ਜਿ ਮਿਠਾ ਕਟਿਆ ਕਟਿ ਕੁਟਿ ਬਧਾ ਪਾਇ॥

Word Meaning: Mittha = sweet (sugarcane). Khoondhaan = crushing mill. Mull = wrestlers; strong men; crushers. Kus = cleaning chemicals. Tuuttar(i) = large wok. Vil-laayay = cries; boils off as if shuddering in pain. Phoag = juiceless remains. Putriyaiy = is shamed.

MEANING: Watch the sweet sugarcane as it is cut, bundled, and punished by strong crushers when it is put through the jaws of the crushing mill to extract the juice. The juice and some cleaning agents are placed in a huge wok and heated vigorously, and it suffers badly, boiling violently as if crying for help. Even the useless residue of the sugarcane is not discarded; it is used to make fire. (Guru) Nanak says, "Watch, oh folks, how the lover of sweetness (sugarcane) is being put to shame!"

NOTE: Sugarcane is punished not because it is sweet, but because it loves sweetness (stores the sweet juice). The same is true of humans who love wealth and other sweet (attractive) things.

Word Meaning: Ikkna = some. Chit(i) = in mind. Ghunayriya = immense. Nit = everyday (always). Kariya = of; belong to. Hayriya = saw; observed. Loon Haraam = unfaithful; ungrateful. Kiya = given (by Waheguru). Budhay = under compulsion. Bhaaniya = liked. Kersun(i) = (they) do. Likhiya Paavsi = in their prewritten fate.

MEANING: Some people have big hopes or wishes (for achievements) in life, and never think of death (as if they are going to live forever). They die (spiritually) and are reborn (have fresh energy to deal in Maya) every day (all the time). They think they are doing the right things. Such money-lovers are watched closely by the Angel of Death. The money-minded people are, in fact, ungrateful because they are not thankful for what they are given by Waheguru, and are never content. Even if they show some respect for God, they are not liked by Him because their respect is not genuine; it is forced, motivated by wanting something in return. However, those who recite Waheguru's Naam and enshrine it in their heart are liked by Waheguru. They bow to the throne of Waheguru and are rewarded with whatever has been pre-written for them. 11.

Word Meaning: Taaroo = deep water in which one must swim to cross it. Paala = coldness. Khoosra = eunuch. Chundun = extract of sandalwood. Dhaat(u) = nature; character. Chauna = herd of cattle. Maarun(i) = spices (chemicals) to enhance quality. Dhuhaiy = wilt down; change into. Vinaas(u) = destructive; rubbish. 1.
MEANING: (Living and non-living bodies have certain characteristics which do not change); for example, water, no matter how deep, can cause no harm to the fish (depth of water is irrelevant to the fish), and so is the vastness of the sky for a bird. Likewise, the degree of coldness does not affect a rock. A eunuch cannot produce children to have a family, and a spray of sandal extract does not change the basic nature of the dog. A deaf person cannot be taught by reciting the Simritis, and a blind person will not be able to see even if fifty (many) lamps are lighted near him. If a herd of cattle is served gold, it will eat only grass. If some chemicals are added to iron, it will not turn into cotton. Like all these non-compatible situations, a foolish person will not change, and will always talk rubbish (unspiritual) (a fool and wisdom are non-compatible), oh, Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Kaiynha = bronze. Saar(u) = iron. Gundh(u) = patch up differences; bind together; fix the problem. Lohaar = blacksmith. Gori = beautiful (wife). Sayti = with. Bhutaar = husband. Pooteen = with sons (children). Kaalaan = famines. Meenh Jhoal = heavy rain. Baydaan = the Vedas. Nayki = kind deeds. Sut(u) = service to mankind. Ait(u) = this. Vertaiy = operates.
MEANING: If a piece of bronze or iron is broken, the blacksmith can patch the pieces up with heat. If a husband breaks up with his wife, children can keep them bonded together in the world. The subjects stay connected with the king by paying taxes. A hungry man needs food to fix the problem, and losses from famines can be repaired if rivers and heavy rains provide water. Love can be won by sweet talk. A man is connected with the Vedas if he speaks truth (the Vedas and truth are related). Dead people maintain a connection with the world if they had done some kind deeds to serve humanity. Such are the connections on which the world operates. A foolish can be fixed (corrected) if he gets beatings on the face (is advised with some force). The gist of all these examples is that one connects with Waheguru only by singing His praise, oh Nanak! 2.

Sachi Durgeh munniun(i) Gur kaiy praym piyaar(i). Gunut tinah dee ko kiya kuray jo aap(i) bukhshay Kartaar(i). 12

Word Meaning: Saaj(i) = create. Khotay = imperfect. Khuray = perfect; pure. Perkhunhaar(u) = examiner. Khujaanaiy = in the treasure (approved). Pookaar = cry for help. Saar(u) = supreme. Gunut = account (of virtues and vices). 12.

MEANING: Waheguru creates the nature (world) Himself, and Himself looks after the living beings. He also evaluates them and finds that some of them are imperfect, while others are perfect (pure). The perfect are deposited in the treasures (become “one” with Him) while the imperfect are thrown out in Waheguru’s Court to decide their fate for the future. There is nobody before whom they may cry for help. The best thing to do is to run after Satguru for help. The Satguru adorns their life with His Shabad and transforms them from imperfect to perfect. Because of their love for Satguru, they are approved in the Court of Waheguru. Who else can check the accounts of their deeds when Waheguru has already forgiven them? 12.

Word Meaning: Aap(u) guvaayay = get rid of selfishness. Puchhaaniya = recognized; made a connection with. Nishaaniya = symbol; recognition. Smaaniya = merge into.

Koorriyaar = dealers in false (perishable) materials. Bherm(i) = in doubt. Vishta = feces (Maya). Paarukh(u) = evaluator.

MEANING: Your Huqam is eternal, but can be realized in the shelter of the Guru only, oh Waheguru. One can realize (connect with) You only when one gets rid of their selfishness. Your kingdom is eternal, and Guru's Shabad is Your recognition (how You are realized). One can merge into (become "one" with) You by pondering (acting) on the eternal Shabad of the Guru. The followers of their mind are always in the falsehood (Maya), and are lost in doubts (indecisiveness). Being engaged in Maya, they cannot enjoy the taste of Your Naam. They suffer badly without Waheguru's Naam, and continue in the cycle of rebirths. Waheguru Himself is the evaluator who can tell the impure apart from the pure, oh Nanak! 13.

Word Meaning: Sheenh = lion. Baaj = hawk. Churg and Koohee = are both birds of prey. Raah = path; way; law. Tibbay = mounds. Thuleen = on the land. Usgaah = sea. Keerra = worm (a powerless, humble man). Paatshaahi = kingdom. Lushkur = armies. Sooaah = ash; dust. Asaah = without breath. Girah = bites of food. 1.

MEANING: (Waheguru is omnipotent and does some unbelievable things). For example, lions, hawks, churgs and koohees, are all carnivores, but if Waheguru wants, He can force such animals to eat grass; and on the other hand, He can force the vegetarian animals to eat meat. Such are the ways of God. He can create mounds (small islands) in rivers and seas on the land. If He so chooses, He can enable a powerless and humble man to become a king who can destroy large armies to dust. All living beings live by breathing, but if He wishes, then even breathing is not necessary (He can keep a living being alive without breath). (In a nutshell), Waheguru provides food to His creation in whatever way He wishes, oh Nanak! 1.

Word Meaning: Maas-haari = carnivores; predators. Trin(u) = grass. Chhuteeh Amrit = thirty-six delicious foods. Paun Shoomaari = surviving on air; practising yoga who can hold their breath for a long time. Nirunkaari = connected with Waheguru. Aadhaar(i) = based on; food. Mootthay = robbed; cheated. 2.

MEANING: (Waheguru has created) some animals to be carnivores, while others to be vegetarians. He bestows some with the thirty-six delicious foods, while some living in mud live on (survive on) mud (like earthworms). Vegetation and some Yogis survive only on air for a long time, and some, who are connected with God, do not need to eat for long times, and survive only on His Naam. (Being part of the eternal Waheguru) Those who are connected to the eternal Waheguru do not die. But those who do not have Waheguru in their heart are cheated by (Maya), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaar = task; service. Kerm(i) = by the kindness (of the Guru). Aap(u) Guvaayay = eradicate selfishness. Dooji Kaaraiy = in the business of Maya. Vis(u) = poison. Paiyjhaiy = wearing clothes. Nivaas(u) = living. Khoti = impure. Raas(i) = investment. Koorr(u) = false; perishable. Khura = pure. Salaah(i) = sing praise. Put(i) = dignity. 14.

MEANING: It is only by the benevolence of Waheguru that one gets to serve the Perfect Guru. One can recite Waheguru's Naam only if one gets rid of one's selfishness by acting on the Guru's advice. On the other hand, if one serves Maya (deals in affairs based on Maya), he wastes away his precious human life. Wearing and eating rich foods is all poison without Waheguru's Naam. One can merge into the eternal Waheguru by singing His praise by the eternal Shabad of the Guru. One cannot have peaceful living without serving the Guru (acting on His advice), and continues to be reborn again and again. Dealing in worldly affairs is not the true investment (in the realm of spirituality), as we deal in perishable goods only. If we sing praise of the Pure Waheguru, we will leave this world with honour, oh Nanak. 14.

Word Meaning: Toodh(u) = You. Bhaavaiy = like. Vaaveh(i) = play musical instruments. Bibhoota = cover body with ash. Singi = a kind of trumpet. Kutaybaan = religious books of the West – Bible, Koran, Torah etc. Sheikh = a learned Muslim. Rus Kus = delicious foods. Tayg = sword. Vugaaveh(i) = operate valiantly. Moondi = head; neck. Daysuntar(i) = foreign lands. Soon Gullan = learning the reality. Ruchaaveh(i) = get interested (in Naam). 1.

MEANING: It is all with Your Will that the man plays musical instruments, sings praise of some deity, or bathes (in holy waters to please gods), oh Waheguru! If You wish, he covers his body with ashes and plays the trumpet, as the yogis do. If You wish, he reads the holy books of Western religions and declares himself a mullah (a Muslim priest) or a learned man. If You wish, he would be a ruler and enjoys all kinds of rich foods, (and life). If You wish, he uses sword with such a great energy that it would sever head and neck. If You wish, he visits foreign countries and returns home after learning the harsh reality. If You wish, he engages in Your Naam, and if You wish, he begins to like You. I have only one request: that, other than Waheguru's Naam, everything else (no matter how much respect a man earns in society) is false, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ja = if; when. Vudda = great. Koorra Koyay Na = not false at all. Dhaat(u) = character; nature. 2.

MEANING: When You are great, everything done by You is also great because a noble power will do only noble things, oh Waheguru! When Your existence is real, Your creation is also real, and no one's existence is false (as some people claim that the world is only a dream, and not for real). However, Your created nature (Maya) is so attractive that man's talking, seeing, speaking, and walking are all about Maya, which causes him to take birth and to die again, and again. Only God is eternal, and everything else is created by Him in His Huqam, and is controlled by Him, oh Nanak.2.

Word Meaning: Nisung = without any reservation. Bherm(u) = doubt. Kaar = service. Duyaal(u) = kind. Koorr(u) = falsehood. Goobaar = darkness; ignorance. Chuvaayiyaiy = speak; tell. Sach(u) = eternal (Waheguru). Sachiyaar(u) = bearer of truth; just. 15.

MEANING: If we serve Satguru without any reservation (with full dedication), all our doubts are cleared. We should serve the Guru (obey His advice) in whatever way He tells us to do. One recites Waheguru's Naam when the Satguru is kind. By seeking Satguru's shelter, one earns the supreme benefit (wealth) of Waheguru's worship. The followers of their mind are in deep darkness of falsehood (the perishability of things), and that is what they earn. If one recites the Naam of the eternal Waheguru, he is able to have access to His door (connects with Him), and because of the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, he is invited inside Waheguru's Palace (he merges into Him). Waheguru is always just, and one merges into Him by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak.15.

Word Meaning: Kul(i) = Kulyug = the dark (unjust) world. Kaati = knife. Kasaayi = butcher. Dherm(u) = morality. Punkh = wings. Koorr(u) = lies; dishonesty. Amaavus = new moon (darkness). Keh = where. Bhaal(i) = search. Vikoonni = bewildered; frustrated. Bidh(i) = means; ways. Gut(i) = improved fate; higher spiritual state.

MEANING: The darkness (of injustice) in the world is acting like a knife, and the rulers are the butchers (who suck the blood of people). It seems as if morality has flown away from the world. The darkness of lies and dishonesty is everywhere, and the moon (light) of truth is nowhere to be seen. I am frustrated searching for honesty and morality, and can see no way out in the darkness. People's selfishness and ego are also causing suffering. What means can one use to improve their fate, oh Nanak? 1.

Word Meaning: Keerut(i) = praise (of Waheguru). Pergut(u) = visible; powerful. Ootraiy Paar(i) = swims across the sea of Maya; salvation. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Ruttan = precious, like jewels (Waheguru's Naam). 2.

MEANING: In the dark world, praise of Waheguru is the clear (powerful) source of light. (However, not everybody takes advantage of this light), And some rare individual comes to the Guru's Shelter to achieve salvation. Only those lucky individuals avail of this opportunity to whom Waheguru is kind; they receive the invaluable Naam in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sunsaari = family men. Joarr(u) = friendship; compatibility; similarity of views. Ubhooll(u) = infallible. Khooyaayiun = misled to suffer. Koorr(u) = lies. Bikh(u) = poison. Saar = value. Vis(u) = poison. Chaakri = slavery. Dass = personal attendant. Oojlay = shiny; respectable. 16.

MEANING: Waheguru is infallible and cannot be misled by anyone. His devotees obey His Will (and do not indulge in Maya), while the family men love Maya. Therefore, the family men and the devotees of Waheguru do not share the same views. Waheguru connects His devotees who practise Truth, and only Truth, with Him, while He purposely misleads the family men to indulge in Maya; they lie (act dishonestly) to earn more and more wealth, (as a result of which they suffer). They do not recognize the value of spirituality and get more and more involved in lust and rage. The devotees, on the other hand, serve Waheguru by reciting His Naam day and night. By being humble and slaves of Waheguru's slaves (devotees), they get rid of their ego and selfishness. They are decorated with Guru's eternal Shabad, and are honoured in the Court of the Lord, Waheguru. 16.

Word Meaning: Sbhaahi = early morning. Shah = kings. Vukhtaiy = at the right time. Lurr(i) Mooyay = kill selfishness fighting against desires. Muti = thoughts. Khindiyaan = scattered. Usgaah = sea (of world); worries. Goatay = submerge. Girah = bites of food. Bhaunkiyaan = complain loudly. Sooah = dust; waste. Bhee = again. Oongh = urge to sleep. Puvaar(i) = next world; as if dead. Ruchiyon Vaad(u) = engage in worthless discussions. Pirr budhi = built the ring; guaranteed to live. Uttheen Pehreen = 24 hours. Bhuou = fear (of God). Naavun(u) = bath.

MEANING: Only those are the real kings who rise early in the morning to recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration, and fight against their sensual desires to overcome them at the right time (in the first quarter of the day). In the second quarter of the day, the mind begins to think on many fronts, and the thoughts get scattered in worldly affairs. The man is submerged in the sea of Maya and cannot escape his worries. In the third quarter, appetite and thirst begin to complain aloud, and the man puts food in his mouth. In due time, the eaten food becomes waste, and one feels the need for food again. In the last quarter, the man feels the urge to go to sleep, and he looks like a dead body when he shuts his eyes. When he wakes up, he gets into arguments with others on petty matters as if he were guaranteed to live for centuries. All times are auspicious if one has fear of God, all twenty-four hours. Embedding Waheguru's Naam in the heart is the real dip in holy waters, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Shah = kings. Poora = perfect (Waheguru). Uttheen = 8 pehr = 24 hours. Vaypervaah = care free; idifferent. Ikutaiy Rung(i) = in the love of only One (God). Athaah = unlimited. Virlay = rare. Kerm(i) = by kindness. Boal(u) = Shabad; Huqam. Toal(u) = measurement.

MEANING: Those who realize the Perfect (Waheguru) are the real kings. They are indifferent to the world and remain imbued in the love of only "One" (Waheguru) all twenty-four hours. Only a rare few get to see (the Waheguru), which is of immense beauty. The Perfect Guru with the Perfect Shabad can be realized only with the benevolence of Waheguru. If the Guru makes an individual perfect, his qualifications for being "one" with Waheguru never fall short, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Ja = when; if. Mootthi = deceived; robbed of noble qualities. Dhundaiy = worldly affairs. Choar = thief Mehl(u) = (Waheguru's) residence. Chit(i) Kutthoar (i) = with heart of stone. Ghut = heart. Bhunn(i) Ghurraayiyaiy = beaten (melted) to redesign; rebirth. Pooraiy Vutt(i) = standard weight (requirements). Beenaayiyaiy= (Waheguru's kind) sight. Sauda = merchandise (Waheguru's Naam). Ikutt(u) Hut(i) = at only One Shop (Satguru's). 17.

MEANING: When I sing praise of Waheguru alone, nobody else matters to me. The thief of Maya (worldly attractions) robs the man of good qualities, as a result of which he cannot have access to (Waheguru's) Palace. All the services (rituals and some accepted noble deeds) of a man who has a stone-like hard heart (which never softens) are worthless (not recognized by Waheguru). The heart, which never remembers Waheguru, is melted down and redesigned (recycled through rebirths). So, how can one acquire the qualities needed to meet the requirements to be "one" with God? Nobody will tell you that there is some qualification lower than the total eradication of haumein to be "one" with Waheguru. (Eradication of haumein is the minimum qualification). The pure (who have overcome their haumein) are tested (approved) by the kind sight of Waheguru. But the medication to eradicate Haumein (Waheguru's Naam) is available only in Satguru's shop, and can be acquired only through Him. 17.

Word Meaning: Utth(u) Pehr = 24 hours. Khund = region. Nau Nidh(i) = nine mythical treasures. Bhaaleh(i) = searches. Gooni = possessing good qualities. Guheer = very deep. Kermvunteen = blessed. Subah = early morning. Soortiyaan = meditators. Chaaou = zest; enthusiasm. Kermi = fortunate. Pusaaou = benevolence. Kunchan = gold. Kaaya = body. Kussiyaiy = examined and refined. Sraaf = goldsmith (Waheguru). Taaou = heat. Raas(i) = capital. Shabaash(i) = praise; bravo. Faadul = useless. 1.

MEANING: If we think of the earth as divided into eight regions rather than the accepted nine, and think of the human body as the ninth region, then the human mind keeps looking for the comforts of all the eight regions of the earth all the time. Only a few lucky ones take Guru's shelter to praise Waheguru, which is fathomless, and is the source of all the virtues, to search for His Naam, which is invaluable and is like all the nine mythical treasures, in his body. In the early hours of the morning, the meditators (on Waheguru's Naam) feel zestful and look for a quiet place to focus on Waheguru's Naam and recite it with their mind and body. They share Guru's Naam-Amrit with others, and the fortunate receive (acquire) it. Just like gold is treated with heat and refined to purify it, the human mind is purified by Waheguru's Naam. Just like the goldsmith does not heat the purified gold anymore, Waheguru's devotees do not have to suffer anymore if Waheguru casts a kind sight on them. If an individual spends the rest of his time in the company of enlightened devotees, it is very helpful in boosting his morality (spirituality). In such a holy company, sins and noble deeds are discussed, thereby lowering the interest in the false worldly affairs. The impurities are shed, and the noble qualities are fostered there. It is useless to complain to the Lord because He has all the accounts of our comforts and discomforts, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Mehut(u) = great. Daayee Daaya = nannies. Vaachay = studies; evaluates. Hudoor(i) = in attendance. Kay = some. Mushukut(i) = Ghaal(i) = hard work. Oojlay = shiny; are honoured. Chhootti = are salvaged. 2.
MEANING: Air is the guru for the living beings because just as the Guru purifies our mind, the air purifies our carbon dioxide-carrying blood. Water acts like a father, nourishing us, and the earth is like our mother, as everything grows from it. The Angel of justice watches the account of noble and ignoble qualities in the presence of Waheguru (in reality, Waheguru Himself is the judge). Based on their deeds, some are close to Waheguru while others are farther from Him. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam with dedication get rewarded for their hard work. Their faces shine (are honoured in Waheguru's Court) and many of their associates are also salvaged, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhojun = meal. Bhaaou = respectful love. Putiyaayaiy = please; win over. Vigsiya = blooms. Koat(i) = (in the) fort. Giraayay = (in) village. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. Rehsiya = feels blissful. Deebaan(i) = court. Koorr(i) = with falseness. Vukhaan = describe. Su = they. Neeshaan(i) = identity; approval. Tthaak = hurdles. Boojh(i) = unlock the secret; internalize. Khooyayiyaiy = suffer.
MEANING: The Satguru has revealed that respectful love (for Waheguru) is the real meal (for the mind). The mind blooms when it comes to like Waheguru. The real fort or village for Waheguru to reside is the human mind, where He comes to dwell when an individual loves Him. When Satguru is pleased to be kind to someone, his mind begins to bloom with the love of Waheguru's Naam. We cannot have access to Waheguru's Palace with falseness (with love for Maya). Those who tell lies suffer in His Court. With Guru's eternal Shabad as the identity of approval, no one can erect any hurdles in the path of the individual to his union with Waheguru. Those who listen to Waheguru's Naam, internalize it, and recite it, are invited inside Waheguru's Palace (to become "one" with Him). 18.

Word Meaning: Hivaiy = ice. Saar(u) = iron. Haak = command. Taraaji = weighing scale. Umbar(u) = sky. Tunk(u) = a very small weight to weigh gold. Vudhaan = become huge. Maavaan = to be contained. Nuth(i) = put a string through the nose of any animal to control it. Kuraayeen = order others. Daateen = largesse. Rujaayee = Lord of Will (Waheguru). 1.
MEANING: If I am able (have the power) to wear fire while living in a house of ice, and be able to eat only iron as my meal; and if I am able to drink all my troubles like water (enjoy them), and could move the earth by my command; and if I have the ability to put the whole sky in one pan of the scale and balance it with an extremely small weight in the other; and if I increase my size to be so huge that there is no place to contain me; and if I am able to control everybody like a domestic animal which is controlled by a rope through his nose; and if I have the power to force people to do whatever I wish them to do (they will all be meaningless for me) because the True King is Waheguru whose largesse are as large as He Himself is. The real honour lies in His Naam, which is acquired only by those to whom He is kind, oh Nanak! 1.

Word Meaning: Aakhun(u) = mouth. Rujjiya = satisfied; tired. Gaahuk = customer. Vunn = kind. Gooni = the Lord of virtues (God). 2.
MEANING: The mouth never gets tired of talking about others, and the ears never get tired of listening to the back-biting of others or filthy songs. The eyes never get tired of seeing the beauty. Each of these three is a customer (deal with) of only one kind of trait (even with a single trait, they are never satisfied) (So, how can a man) with a big appetite (with many desires) be satisfied just by talking? The only way to get contentment is to sing praise of the source of virtues (Waheguru), thereby becoming a part of Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vin(u) = without. Koorr(u) = falseness. Bunn(i) = bound; shackled. Chhaar(u) = dust. Paiyjhaiy = wear. Khooyayiyaiy = made to suffer. Tthuggiyo = is cheated. Thugg(i) = the cheat (Maya). Trishna = desires. 19.
MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam, whatever we deal in, is all false (short-lived Maya). Without Waheguru's Naam, the dealers in Maya are shackled and taken away. Without Waheguru's Naam in it, human body is just dust, and eventually mixes with dust (without any gain in spirituality). Without Waheguru's Naam, nothing that we wear and eat, satisfies our mental appetite (desires). Without Waheguru's Naam, and with love for worldly attractions, we cannot have access to Waheguru's Court. With greed for Maya, we suffer in Waheguru's Court. The whole world has been cheated by the thug, Maya, as a result of which the world is reborn again and again. The fire of desires in the body can be put out only by the Guru's Shabad. 19

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:1॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰੁ ਸੰਤੋਖੁ ਰੁਖੁ ਧਰਮੁ ਫੁਲੁ ਫਲ ਗਿਆਨੁ॥ ਰਸਿ ਰਸਿਆ ਹਰਿਆ ਸਦਾ ਪਕੈ ਕਰਮਿ ਧਿਆਨਿ॥ ਪਤਿ ਕੇ ਸਾਦ ਖਾਦਾ ਲਹੈ ਦਾਨਾ ਕੈ ਸਿਰਿ ਦਾਨੁ॥ 1॥

Word Meaning: Suntokh(u) = patience; contentment. Rookkh(u) = tree. Dherm(u) = high morality; virtues. Giyaan(u) = Divine knowledge (union with Waheguru). Rusiya = full of juice (sweetness). Huriya suda = evergreen; bears fruit all the time. Pukkaiy = ripens. Kerm(i) = kindness; favour. Put(i) = of the Lord (Waheguru). 1.

MEANING: The Guru is like a tree of contentment which bears flowers of virtues and fruit of Divine Knowledge, oh Nanak. He is an evergreen (always bears fruit) and full of sweetness. The fruit (of Divine Knowledge) ripens when, with the benevolence of the Guru, a devotee focuses his mind on Waheguru with full dedication. Such a devotee enjoys the bliss of union with Waheguru, which is the supreme donation (gift) of all, from the Guru. 1.

Word Meaning: Birkh(u) = tree. Pervaala= pinkish-red precious stone. Jvayhur = pearls. Laal = rubies. Ruttan = jewels. Mookh(i) Bhaakhit = words (of the Guru). Nihaal(u) = blessed. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Visaykh(u) = special. Huns(u) = cruelty. Hayt(u) = attachment. Lobh(u) = greed. Koap(u) = rage. Dujheh(i) = burn.

MEANING: The Guru is like a tree which has leaves of precious pinkish-red stone (His Word), and flowers of jewels and rubies (Guru's advice), and which bears fruit of pearls (Guru's invaluable Message). The Guru is always cheerful (in high spirits). If a devotee has good fortune written on his forehead, and with the Guru's benevolence, he worships the Guru's Feet (His Word), treating them more holy than even the sixty-eight holy places. Cruelty, worldly attachment, greed, and rage are like four streams of fire; whosoever falls into them is burned (involvement in them causes severe suffering), but those are lucky who take Guru Guru's shelter and swim across the world sea safely (are salvaged). 2.

Gur persaadi boojh(i) Sach(i) smaayiyaiy. 20.

Word Meaning: Mur(u) = death. Puchhotayiyaiy = repent. Kin(i) = some rare. Dhundhaiy Dhaayiyaiy = rushes to do daily business (earn maya). Kaal(u) = death. Khaiy = destroyer. Jundaar = unkind. Daayiyaiy = catches unaware. Mohut(u) = Chusa = moment. Vilm = delay. Bhuriyaiy paayiyaiy = when the time is over.

NOTE: In those days, time was measured by means of a simple device called a pie, which was a metal bowl with holes in it. It was placed on the surface of water in a container, where water would enter the bowl through the holes. As soon as the bowl would sink, it would indicate one Ghurri (24 minutes).

MEANING: If a person can kill the fear of death (by overcoming his desires), he does not have to repent (for his noble deeds which do not earn him any money, though). Some rare individuals realize that this world is not real in the long run. Not realizing this reality, most people do not develop love for Waheguru and rush to their daily tasks rooted in Maya. But the destructive death is hanging over the heads of the world. With Waheguru's Huqam, the unkind Angel of death kills the people unaware. However, Waheguru bestows some people with love for Him who embeds His Naam in their minds. But there is no delay in death when the time is over. With Guru's kindness, those who realize the reality merge into Waheguru. 20.

Word Meaning: Toomi = Tooma = an extremely bitter fruit which resembles a cantaloupe in colour and shape, but much smaller in size. Vish(u) = poison. Ukk(u) = another bitter plant (Calotropis procera). Dhutoora = thorn-apple (a bitter and poisonous plant). Nimm ful = fruit of the neem tree (very bitter in taste). Vuseh(i) = dwells. Hundhun(i) = spend life (aimlessly). Kerma Baahray = deprived of benevolence.

MEANING: Tooma, ukk(u), thorn-apple, and the neem fruit are well known to be extremely bitter and poisonous; however, still bitter and poisonous are the words and the thoughts of an individual who does not have Your Naam in heart, oh Waheguru! To whom should one describe the situation of such unlucky people who spend their life aimlessly without the benevolence of Waheguru (without His Naam), oh Nanak! (There is none other than Waheguru who can improve their lot). 1.

(PAGE 148): Kub chundan(i), ukk(i) daal(i), kub oochi preet(i). Nanak Huqam(i) chulaayiyaiy Sahib luggi reet(i). 2.

Word Meaning: Punkhayroo = bird. Kirt(u) = the performed deeds. Kub = sometimes. Ootum = flying high. Neech = feeling depressed. Ukk(i) = calotropis procera (a poisonous plant which has an awful smell). Daal(i) = branch. Reet(i) = custom; tradition.
MEANING: Man's past deeds shape his thinking, and his thoughts wander in different directions like a bird. As a result, sometimes a man's thoughts fly very high (he is in high spirits) while at other times he feels depressed. Sometimes his bird-like mind feels as if he is sitting on a branch of a sandal tree (feeling blissful), while at other times he feels as if he is sitting on the branch of a very bitter ukk plant. Sometimes he feels a strong love for God. (But nobody controls his own destiny) Everything happens with Waheguru's Huqam; such is the custom (laws) of God. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaytay = countless. Vukhaan = explain. Bhayd(u) = secret. Boojhiyain = realizing (connecting with Him). Khut Dershun = the six accepted types of mystics: Yogis, Sanyasis, Jains, Bairagi, Jungum, and Srayvrray. Bhaykh(i) = codes (symbols and dresses). Kissaiy = barely any. Alukh(u) = formless; invisible. Bisunkh = infinite (Waheguru). Khaaluk = the Lord of the world (Waheguru). Dhaadi = bard. 21.
MEANING: Countless people try to describe Waheguru, and leave this world (without any success). Even the Vedas can find no end to God's magnanimity, though they explain it as well. The secrets of God cannot be known by reading the Vedas or any other religious books; they can be known only by realizing (connecting with) Him. No one, wearing the symbols of any of the six popular sects of mystics, has ever found the secrets of Waheguru. The eternal Waheguru is invisible, but one can adorn oneself with virtues by the Guru's Shabad (and be "one" with Him). Whoever has full faith in Waheguru's Naam gets access to Waheguru's Residence (becomes "one" with Him). I am a bard of the Lord; I bow to Him, and sing His praise, oh Nanak. I have embedded (enshrined) Waheguru's Naam in my mind that never changes over the eons. 21.

Word Meaning: Muntrie = a person who is believed to tame some animals and make their poison ineffective by some mantra. Atthoohaan = scorpion. Naag = snake. Koocha = flame; fire. Utti = extremism. Dhukka = push; shock. Urraiy = oppose; causes trouble for. Huk(i) = of God. Doobbay = sinks very low in morality and suffers. Viopaayay = destruction and creation. 1.

MEANING: If a multitude of scorpions tries to tame a snake (meaning if an unqualified person undertakes a very risky task), he plays with fire. It is the law of the Lord, from the very beginning, that a person who goes to extremes gets a big shock. It is the justice of Waheguru that if a follower of his mind purposely causes trouble for a devotee of the Guru, he sinks very low in morality and suffers gravely (and is punished in Waheguru's Court). Waheguru is the Lord of both worlds and watches them by destroying and creating them. One must understand that whatever happens in one's life is controlled by the Will of God. 1.

Ugaaiy oh(u) Agumm haiy, vahayndurr(u) jaan(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Perkhay = analyze. Paarukh(u) = assessor; evaluator. Boojhaiy = understands. Vaiyd = physician. Soojaan = wise. Vaat(u) = journey. Maamla = business. Mehmaan(u) = guest; visitor. Mool(u) = the source (Waheguru). Haan(u) = same age; people with similar views or qualities. Lub(i) = greed. Visht(u) = mediator. Sur(u) = arrow. Sundhay = aims. Agumm = unreachable. Vahayndurr(u) = the shooter.

Meaning: (In the world of spirituality), only that individual can be considered a judge who judges (evaluates) himself, oh Nanak. Only that physician is wise (capable) who recognizes both the disease and the treatment. Likewise, that individual is wise who realizes that he is only a visitor on the earth, and does not expand his business to accumulate unlimited wealth in the journey of life. He realizes that the source of all life is Waheguru and talks about Him (sings His praise) in the company of other devotees. Such a person has no greed, always stays with truth, and becomes an approved mediator to connect others with Waheguru. A person who shoots an arrow aiming at the sky gets hit himself because the sky is unreachable; so, how can the arrow reach there? 2.

Word Meaning: Seegaariyaan = adorned. Vaariyaan = prevented, restrained. Munjh(i) = in. Sidhaariyaan= arrived at the destination. Sukhi = (female) friends; devotees. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Phitt(u) = condemnable.
MEANING: The human brides, who are in love with Waheguru, stay adorned (attractive to Waheguru) with their love. They worship Waheguru day and night and cannot be prevented (from worshipping) even if someone tries to stop them. They are adorned by Guru's Shabad, as a result of which they live in Waheguru's Palace (stay connected with Him). Being thoughtful, they beg only for things which are not perishable, but are eternal (like love for Waheguru). With Waheguru's Will, they have achieved their destination (union with Waheguru) and look very attractive next to Him. They are true devotees who pray to Waheguru with deep love in their hearts. Without Waheguru's Naam, life is condemnable, and the person without the Naam deserves to be cursed. Those whose life has been adorned (by Waheguru) with Guru's Shabad, drink the real Amrit (become immortal by merging into Waheguru). 22.

Word Meaning: Maaroo = desert. Triptiya = satisfied. Saayir = sea. Sook = dryness. Kayti = however much. Poochh = inquiry (seek information or knowledge).
MEANING: A desert never gets satisfied (saturated) with rain, and fire is never satisfied, no matter how much fuel is fed to it. A king is never content with his length of kingship, and dryness cannot reduce the amount of water in the ocean. (Waheguru is like the ocean, but, rather than water, He is full of virtues; no matter how many people receive (acquire noble qualities from Waheguru-ocean, there is never a shortage of noble qualities in Him). So, no matter how many rituals one performs, or how much knowledge one acquires, one never achieves contentment or bliss without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nihflun(g) = fruitless; waste. Tus(i) = of those. Braham = Waheguru. Bindtay = recognize; make a connection with. Kay = many. Kern Kaarun = the Creator. Sumruth(u) = omnipotent. Kaarun(u) = creation; world. Vus(i) = in control. Kul = power. Dhaar(i) = providing support. 2.
MEANING: The life of those who do not make a connection with Waheguru goes to waste (they do not acquire any spirituality, and therefore drown in the sea of Maya). However, there are many who are able to swim across this sea (are salvaged) by the benevolence of the Guru. (Guru) Nanak offers a word of wisdom: the Creator (Waheguru) is omnipotent (capable of doing anything and everything). The world is under His control, which is supported by His power. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhaadhi = bard. Vusiya = caused rain of His praise. Klaan(i) = singing praise. Kumal(u) = lotus; heart. Vigsiya = blooms. Rehsiya =overjoyed. Poora Payay = achieving the perfect (spiritual) state. Sersiya = thrive. Kaal(u) = death. Vidhousiya = destroyed. Akhuth(u) = indescribable (Waheguru). Geh(i) = by holding; accumulating. Raas(i) = capital; wealth.

MEANING: I am a bard in the Court of Waheguru to sing His praise; my heart blooms when I sing praise of the True Lord. The Lord has kindly granted me the perfect spiritual state as a result of which I feel blissful at heart. All my enemies (evil qualities) have been destroyed, and my friends (virtues) are thriving now. My virtues have guided me on the right path, and I serve my perfect Satguru. Pondering over the eternal Shabad of the Satguru, I have killed the fear of death. Adorned by Guru's Shabad, I am able to spread the Word of the indescribable (Waheguru). By accumulating the wealth of virtues, I have been able to connect with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 23.

Word Meaning: Khutay = fault; sins. Bukhshay = forgive. Paahi Paah(i) = beaten with shoes; shamed; punished. 1.

MEANING: The man is reborn because of his sins of his previous lives; he again commits sins in his life, and it becomes his character, so he continues to commit them. The filth of his sins cannot be washed away by taking dips in holy waters, even if one does that hundreds of times. His sins can be forgiven only by Waheguru, if He does; otherwise, the sinner is punished in His Court, oh Nanak! 1.

Word Meaning: Jhukhna = wasteful talk; gibberish. Dur(i) = (from Waheguru's) door (treasure). Haariyaiy = lose.

MEANING: It is meaningless talking (with no reward) when a man begs Waheguru to replace his troubles with comforts, oh Nanak. Comforts and discomfort are like clothes given to a man by Waheguru, which he wears throughout his life. It is better to remain quiet where we know we are going to lose by talking. 2.

Word Meaning: Chaaray Koondaan = all the four directions. Undar(u) = (in) the heart. Bhaaliya = searched for. Purakh(i) = the Supreme Being (Waheguru). Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Sirj(i) = having created. Nihaaliya = saw; looked after. Oojhurr(i) = wilderness. Vaah(u) = bravo; praise worthy. Ruttan = precious stone (Waheguru's Naam). Ghurahoun = within the heart. Gerb(i) = conceit. Gaaliya = suffer (in the womb). Baytaliya = out of tune; like a ghost; aimlessly.

MEANING: Having tried in every direction (everywhere), I searched for (and found) (Waheguru) in my own heart. After creating the world, the eternal, and the invisible Waheguru looks after it. The Guru shows the right path (to connect with Waheguru) to the man lost in the wilderness (the darkness of worldly affairs). It is the greatness of the Guru because of whom one remembers the eternal Waheguru. The Guru enlightens our mind, as a result of which we find the precious Waheguru in our heart (mind). By singing the praise of Waheguru through the eternal Shabad of the Guru, an individual connects with Waheguru and lives in comfort (feels blissful). On the other hand, the conceited individuals do not fear Waheguru, but are fearful of worldly situations, whereby they suffer in the womb (are reborn). Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, the world is living a ghostly (aimless) life. 24.

Word Meaning: Duyaal(u) = kind. Sherdha = respect; wish. Jhooriyaiy = repent. Rung(u) = colour; love. Dayha = body. Nuvnidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. 25.

MEANING: If Satguru is kind, all your wishes are fulfilled, and you never have to repent (complain). If Satguru is kind, you enjoy His love and never feel any discomfort. If Satguru is kind, there is no fear of the Angel of Death, and your body is always in a blissful, comfortable life. NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib has described the religious practices of Jains who have taken the principle of non-violence to the extreme, avoiding the killing of any life, including harmful lice and poisonous insects. To avoid the growth of any life, for example, lice, they pull out their hair and do not bathe so as not to harm any life in water. They do not even cook their own food; they beg for it, which, in most cases, is leftover or scraps of already-eaten food.

Word Meaning: Sir(u) khohaayay = hair pulled out from the head. Mulvaani = dirty water, like wash. Joottha = left over food; pieces of scrap food. Phoal(i) = open; scatter. Phdihut(i) = feces. Bhurraasan = (bad) smell. Sugaahi = feel shy (avoid). Sooaahi = (with) ash. Maaoo Pioo = mother father. Kirt(u) = profession. Tubbar = family. Pind(u) Puttal(i) Kiriya = are Hindu rites on the death of a person. The family put out a few balls of cooked food on big leaves with the belief that the food will be used by the dead person on his journey to his ancestors. Kithaahoon = where? Dhoyee = support. Koocheel(u) = filthy. Tikkay = anointment; expression of happiness. Jhoondi = with drooped heads; sadly. Durr(i) Deebaan(i) = congregation. Kaasay = cups. Phoomman = pompoms. Duyyay = source of kindness (Waheguru). Vigoyay = deprived of. Vigootay = humiliated; in suffering. Phitta = condemned. Vuttaiy = goes; wanders about. Gulla = herd; the whole clan. Vunjay = deprived. Bhus(u) = ash. Sir(i) khoothaiy = bald. Ruttan = precious stones (valuable items). Mayr(u) = a mountain in the Himalayas. Madhaani = churner. Thaapay = established. Poorbeen = holy days. Baani = religious songs. Soojaani = wise people. Gut(i) = better condition (stay clean). Shaitaani = followers of Satan (of their mind). Bhaani = to their liking. Vootthaiy = when it rains. Bilavul(u) = zest; gusto. Joogut(i) = way of life. Purrda = cover. Sadhun = lady. Soorhi = cows. Vilovaiy = churns. Sohaiy = looks ceremonial. Smoond(u) = ocean. Vudiyayee = honour. Chuttay = fistfuls. Chhaayee = ash.

MEANING: The Jains pull out their hair, drink unclean water (like washing), scatter their feces (to prevent the growth of any life), and inhale its repulsive smell. They shy away from water (so as not to cause any trouble for the living organisms), pull out their hair to look like the sheep that have been shaved to the skin, while their hands fill with ash. They abandon the profession of their forefathers (to earn their own livelihood), and wail at the death of a family member for which they do not even perform the prevalent Hindu rites (even though they have no spiritual value) like, putting out food balls on large leaves, and do not put any lamp on the hand to show the path to the dead body in the dark journey to his destination (all Hindu beliefs) about which nobody knows where he goes. They get no support from any of the sixty-eight holy places (because they do not visit them), and the Brahmans do not eat their food (because they do not cook). They sit with their heads drooped as if they are mourning the death of some of their relative every day (all the time), and never go to any holy congregation.

They have cups around their waists, hold pompoms in their hands to fan away any insects, and travel in a single line to avoid hurting any life.
They are neither Yogis, nor Jungums, nor Qazies, nor Mullahs. They have no connection with God, and misled by their irrational belief, the whole condemnable clan wanders in humiliation. (They do not realize that it is Waheguru, and nobody else, that kills the living beings or keeps them alive). They do not give or receive any donations, and do not undertake any pilgrimage; they get ash in their bald heads (are degraded). They do not realize that water (which they avoid) is vital to life. They should know that it was water in the ocean which spat out the fourteen valuable items when the ocean was jointly churned by the gods and the demons using the Mountain Mayr(u) as the churner (Hindu mythology). The sixty-eight Hindu holy places (which have water in the form of pools or rivers) were established for the gods (and goddesses) where special days are celebrated, and religious songs are sung. The Muslims offer nivaj only after bathing, and the Hindus perform their pooja also after bathing; all wise people bathe too. Throughout our lives, we wash our heads (bodies) to stay clean. But, the bald-head (Jains) are followers of Satan (their own mind) and do not believe in such things.
Also, all living beings feel joy when it rains because their lives depend on water. All kinds of grain crops, sugarcane, and the cotton plants which provide fabric to cover us, feel healthy when it rains. The grass thrives with rain, which the cows graze on, and provides milk and yogurt for the house lady to churn to get butter and ghee. The ghee is used in huvuns, yugs, and for worship, as well as for other happy occasions to make them pleasant.
(if they shun away from water), There is another kind of water which should be used by everyone; It is the Guru, which is the ocean of wisdom, and all His Sikhs (supreme devotees) are rivers of virtues; whoever takes a dip in the Guru-ocean or the Sikh-rivers, is honoured in Waheguru's Court. If the bald-headed Jains do not bathe in Guru-ocean (disregard Waheguru), they receive seven fistfuls of ash in their head (are humiliated) in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 1
NOTE: When disapproving of the practices of Jains, Guru Sahib writes that they do not follow Hindu rites. That, in no way, implies that Guru Sahib approves Hindu beliefs. This is made clear in all His compositions, especially in Assa Dee Vaar. Guru Sahib is simply saying that the Jains have gone so far in their blind faith of non-violence that they do not even follow any of the prevalent customs of Hindu, Muslims, or other faiths.

Word Meaning: Paala = (extreme) cold. Cheeji = gift to please. Put(i) = dignity. 2.
MEANING: What can cold do to fire (meaning cold cannot restrain fire), and what does night matter to the sun? Darkness cannot stop the moonlight, and the caste of a person does not change the nature of air or water. And, just as we cannot please the earth by offering anything to it because everything is born out of the earth, we cannot please Waheguru (and thus seek His approval or respect in His Court) by offering Him any material things, including money, because He is the infinite source of everything. One can earn respect in His Court only if He is pleased by his noble qualities, oh Nanak.

Nanak(u) mungaiy daan(u), jo Toodh(u) bhaaya. 26.

Word Meaning: Soob-haan(u) = wonderful; amazing. Klaaniya = have praised. Deebaan(u) = ruler; king. J(i) = Jo = whoever. Foormaan = Huqam. Sohiya = looked pretty. Kerm(i) = because of kindness. Neeshaan(u) = stamp of approval; identity. Na Chullay = does not move; cannot be erased. Churreh(i) = rises; increases. Svaayaa = one and a quarter times (many times). Bhaaya = liked. 26.

MEANING: I have always sung Your praise, oh the eternal, and the wonderful Waheguru! Only Your Kingship is eternal, while everybody else comes and goes. Whoever begs the eternal Truth (Your Naam) in donation, becomes just like You. Your Huqam, in the form of Guru's Shabad, is eternal and majestic. Whosoever obeys Your Command, acquires the Divine Knowledge (gets connected with You), and the concentration from You. With Your benevolence, one receives the stamp of Your approval which nobody can erase. You are the True donor Who gives donations which increase every day, oh Nanak. But, I (Nanak) beg for only that donation which is to Your liking, oh Waheguru. 26.

Sloak(u) M:2: Deekhiya aakh(i) boojhaaya, sifteen Sach(i) smayo. Tin kuou kiya oopdaysiyaiy jin Gur(u) Nanak Dayo. 1.

Word Meaning: Deekhiya = advice. Boojhaaya = explained. Sifteen = with praise. Smayo = merge into. Oopdaysiyaiy = preach. 1.

MEANING: What can I preach to those who have been advised by Guru Nanak Dev! However, if I have to, then the advice to offer is, that an individual becomes "one" with Waheguru by singing His praise. 1.

ਮ:1॥ ਆਪਿ ਬੁਝਾਏ ਸੋਈ ਬੂਝੈ॥ ਜਿਸੁ ਆਪਿ ਸੁਝਾਏ ਤਿਸੁ ਸਭੁ ਕਿਛੁ ਸੂਝੈ॥ ਕਹਿ ਕਹਿ ਕਥਨਾ ਮਾਇਆ ਲੂਝੈ॥ ਹੁਕਮੀ ਸਗਲ ਕਰੇ ਆਕਾਰ॥ ਆਪੇ ਜਾਣੈ ਸਰਬ ਵੀਚਾਰ॥ ਅਖਰ ਨਾਨਕ ਅਖਿਓ ਆਪਿ॥ ਲਹੈ ਭਰਾਤਿ ਹੋਵੈ ਜਿਸੁ ਦਾਤਿ॥ 2.

Word Meaning: Boojhaayay = gives the understanding. Soojhaayay = gives the ability to think. Kuthna = describe. Loojhaiy = struggles. Akhur = inerasable. Ukhiyo = non-perishable. Bhraant(i) = doubts; misbeliefs.

MEANING: Only that individual understands the secrets of Waheguru who is given the understanding by Waheguru Himself. Whom Waheguru gives the ability to think, can think of everything. One who only says and explains to others is simply struggling and arguing for the sake of Maya. All bodies come into being by Waheguru's Huqam, and He has all the plans. His Word (Huqam) is inerasable (eternal), and so is He, oh Nanak. A person, to whom He is kind, gets all his misbeliefs cleared. 2.

Paurri: Huoun dhaadhi vaykaar(u), kaaraiy laaya. Raat(i), dihaiy kaiy vaar, Dhoorhoun foormaaya. Dhaadhi Sachaiy Mehl(i), Khusm(i) boolaaya. Sachi sift salaah kupprra paaya. Sacha Amrit Naam bhojun(u) aayaa. Gurmuti khaadha ruj(i) tin(i) sookh(u) paaya. Dhaadhi kuray pusaao, Shabad vujaaya. Nanak Sach(u) salaah(i) Poora paaya. 27. Soodh(u).

Word Meaning: Dhaadhi = bard. Vaykaar(u) = worthless. Kaaraiy = in true business. Vaar = special day. Salaah = praise. Kupprra = clothes (to protect dignity); noble qualities; love for Waheguru. Bhojun(i) = meal. Rujj(i) = to satisfaction. Pusao = spread (the Word). Poora = Perfect (Waheguru). 27.

MEANING: I was a worthless person before the Lord put me to the True business of a bard - to sing His praise. The Lord called me in His eternal Palace and issued me the direct order to (spread His Message), be it day, night, or some special day. He bestowed me with the noble qualities and love for His eternal praise. I received His eternal Naam as the food for my soul. Whoever takes this holy food (Waheguru's Naam) with the advice of the Guru, becomes fully content and blissful. Now I am disseminating His Huqam that one can acquire union with the eternal Waheguru by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 27. Verified.

NOTE: Kupprra normally means 'fabric' or 'clothes'. In some situations, it also implies the human body. But Guru Sahib has already been given the human body. So, the appropriate meaning of "Kupprra" in this holy Paurri is the noble qualities (same as Waheguru has) and love for Him.

Ek Onkar Sat Naam(i) Kerta Purakh(u) Nirbhuou(u) Nirvair(u) Akal Moorut(i) Ajooni Saibhun(g) Gur Persaad(i).

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = Shabads with four stanzas. Doopuday = Shabads with two stanzas

There is only one Supreme Being (living power), which has eternal existence, is the creator, and is pervading the whole universe. (Because He has no rival and is above all the laws of nature and the effects of Maya), He is fearless and bears no enmity (is perfectly just). Time has no effect on Him, and he is self-illuminated. He can be realized only by the grace of the Guru (Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru).

Word Meaning: Bhuou = (respectful) fear (of Waheguru). Mooch(u) = huge. Toal(u) = weight; effect, power. Hauli = light, low quality. Boal(u) = talk (about self). Sir(i) Dhur(i) = put into the head. Suhiyaiy = endure. Nudri Kermi = (with) the kind sight. 1.

Lunghus(i) Paar(i) = swim to the other end. Bhaayay = love; affection. Svaar(i) adorned; enhanced. Ruhaou = Pause. Ugun(i) = fire; energy; enthusiasm. Bhukhaiy = gets heated up; energized. Ghurriyaiy = designed (beautifully). Ghaarrut = moulding; design. Kuch(u) Nikuch = weak; pliable. Sucha = mould. Sutt = beat (with hammer). 2. Boodhi = wisdom. Baaji = playful; unstable. Sehs = thousands. Taao = heat; enthusiasm. Vaao = air; worthless. Ukkhur = talk. Dooaao = prayer. 3.1.

MEANING:

Respectful fear of Waheguru in mind is huge and very heavy in weight (lends great strength to mind), but the wisdom of mind is very weak and thinks very low (does not realize the importance of Waheguru's fear). If one bears Waheguru's fear in mind and leads his life under the fear, he ponders on Guru's Shabad with the kind sight of Waheguru (makes a connection with the Guru). 1.

Nobody can swim across the sea of Maya without Waheguru's fear in mind, and Waheguru's fear is enhanced (strengthened) with the love for Him. Pause.

The fire (enthusiasm) in the mind heats up (gains strength) further with Waheguru's fear in mind. With Waheguru's fear and Guru's Shabad, one's mind is moulded beautifully (becomes strong with virtues). Without Waheguru's fear, the moulding of mind is weak (it changes quickly) because the mould is blind (has no strength or provides no clear direction), and so is the hammering (wisdom). 2.

(Without Waheguru's fear) man's wisdom is playful under the influence of his ego, and he thinks of sensual enjoyments only; even thousands of his crafty plans do not generate any enthusiasm or love (for Waheguru). All the talk of a Maya-engrossed man is worthless, oh Nanak. Even his prayer is worthless because his words are blind (ineffective due to Maya's influence). 3.1.

NOTE: The number 3.1. Implies that this holy Shabad has 3 stanzas, and this is the first Shabad of this set.

Word Meaning: Dur(i) = having fear (faith in God). Ghur(u) = home; heart. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Dur(u) = worldly fears; worries. Kayha = what kind? Jaayay = place; shelter. Vertaiy = operates; happens. Rujaayay = Will. 1. Keeya = Created. Kuraiy = looks after. Aagaiy Paachhaiy = everywhere. Smaayay = is working. 2. Huns(u) = cruelty; viciousness. Hayt(u) = attachment. Aasa = hopes. Asmaan(u) = ego. Bhookh = appetite (for desires). Naiy = river. Saan(u) = like. Aadhaar(u) = basis. Gvaar = uncivilized (lacking all spirituality). 3. Koyay, Koyay = rare; very few. Junt = living beings. Maal (u) = wealth. Bikhum(u) = very difficult. 4.2.

NOTE: How a change in the vowels changes the meaning of the same word.

MEANING: If a man's mind operates under Waheguru's fear, and has fear of Waheguru in mind, he overcomes all the worldly fears (worries). What kind of fear (of anybody other than Waheguru) is that by which one still suffers from worldly affairs? Such fear is useless. There is no place (where one can escape to) other than Waheguru, and everything is happening as per His Will. (So, if we have His fear in mind, things will seem to be very different, as all the worldly fears are gone). 1.
If one has other (worldly) fears in mind, he is bound to be afraid. However, the worldly fears are only the constructs of the mind. Pause.
The man has no control over whether he dies (spiritually), or whether he drowns in the sea of Maya or swims across it. The Waheguru, who has created the world, controls it. The man comes to this world by His Huqam, and leaves this world by His Huqam. His Huqam is working everywhere. 2. (Without Waheguru's fear), man has a strong appetite for burning desires (like a flood in a river), which result in cruelty, worldly attachments, hopes, and ego. Waheguru's fear can save the man from such undesirable qualities. So, just as we live on eating and drinking, if a man lives on Waheguru's fear as the basis of his life, he can enjoy blissfulness. Without experiencing Waheguru's fear, man experiences spiritual death, and is like a totally uncivilized man. 3. People have the support of very few friends and relatives in life, but Waheguru is the support for everybody and for all the living beings; all wealth and everything else belongs to Him (are given by Him). However, to describe Waheguru and His largesse is extremely difficult, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Mut(i) = (Guru's) wisdom. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Sat(u) = high morals; service to mankind. Visaykh(u) = special. 1. Sherm = control on sensual desires; hard work. Soort(i) = concentration of mind. Susoor = in-laws. Kerni = (noble) deeds. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. 2.
Saaha = the date and time (for wedding). Sunjog(u) = union (with Waheguru). Vijoag(u) = separation; dissociation. Suntut(i) = offspring. Joag(u) = union. 3.3.
MEANING: I wish to say something about the magnanimity of Waheguru, but am unable to say anything because Waheguru's greatness and His largesse cannot be evaluated in any way. Pause. (However, we can connect with Him) If we make noble wisdom (of Satguru) as our mother (who guides us) and treat contentment as our father (just as we obey our father, we obey contentment, and never have any greed). We also need to make noble qualities like high moral character, our special brothers. 1. (According to societal expectations, women show respect and give special treatment to their in-laws) So, like the in-laws, if we pay special attention to hard work (strict self-discipline to obey Waheguru's Will), and a higher level of concentration (to ponder on Waheguru's multi-faceted kindness), and perform good deeds in life, we will connect with Waheguru. 2.
With these virtues, the time for union with Waheguru is fixed, which automatically disconnects us from worldly attractions, and an eternal relationship is born out of this union. 3.3.

na mooa, mayri mooyee blaayay. Oh(u) na mooa jo ruhiya smaayay. Kuhou Nanak Gur(i) Braham dikhaaya. Merta jaata nudr(i) na aaya. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Mayl(u) = combination. Chunchal(u) = fickle; unsettling. Chupal = cunning; crafty. Dusvaan Dooaar(u) = hidden tenth door (for spirituality). Boojh(u) = find out. 1. Kuthta = Bukta = explains; talks about. Aap(u) beechaaray = self-analysis. Pause. Paun = Guru's Shabad. Mooa = dead. Soorut(i) = awareness. Baad(u) = discussions to boost self-ego. Daykhunhaar(u) = the one who is watching. 2. Jaiy = for which. Tut(i) = banks of rivers. Ruttan Pdaruth = Waheguru's priceless Naam. Bheetur(i) = inside (the heart). Vust(u) = article (Naam). 3.
Houn = me; I. Blaayay = evil vices. Smaayay. = pervading. 4.4.

MEANING: A person who analyzes himself (as to what his origin is, and what the purpose of life is) becomes spiritually knowledgeable (Giyani). He then realizes that it is Waheguru, who is present in everybody, and it is He who talks, explains, and listens to (the prayers of the living beings). Pause. He also realizes that the human body comes into being by the combination of air, water, and fire (energy), in which the fickle and crafty wisdom plays its games. The body has nine visible doors and a hidden door called the "tenth door," which represents the spiritual state in which the mind becomes one with Waheguru. 1.
When an individual is connected with Satguru, all his desires, selfishness, and ego are eradicated, and only the (perishable) earthen-body is left with Guru's Shabad guiding it. The Giyani knows what has died in the body. He realizes that only the bad thinking and worthless debates, which further boost the ego of man, have died, but the Soul of Waheguru, present in the human body, has not died. 2. He further realizes that Waheguru's priceless Naam, for which people go to river banks and holy places, is actually present in the human heart. The pundits read the holy books and get into worthless debates (hoping to realize Waheguru), but they don't recognize that Waheguru is present in their own hearts (and that such debates are spiritually worthless). 3.
The Giyani also realizes that it is not the soul (a part of Waheguru that pervades everywhere) that dies; it is the evil vices that die. The Satguru "showed" me Waheguru, whom you never see dying, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Dukhni = southerner (a subcategory of the Raag). Boojhaiy = comprehend. Sud = always. Bulihaaray = offer life (self). Tthaur(u) = shelter. Thaaoun = room. 1. Mein Naal(i) = accompanies me. Baandhi = in the grip of. Kaal(i) = death. Pause.

Khayti = farming. Vunuj = business. Oat = support. Paap(u) = sins. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Beej Kee Poat = bag of seed. Jea = soul. Choat = hurt. Visaar(i) = forgetting. Khoat = treachery; dishonesty. 2.
Seekh = Advice. Seetul(u) = calm; peaceful. Preekh = evaluate; test. Jul Pooraayin = a clover-leaf-like plant which survives only in water. Eekh = sugarcane. 3.
Sunjogi = union (as per the Will of Waheguru). Gurrh(i) Dus Dooaar = fort with ten doors = human body; strong human mind. Punch = holy men. Jot(i) Apaar = Waheguru's light. Toolaiy = weighs; evaluates. Vunjaar = trader (in virtues). 4.
MEANING: I am glad to offer my life to those who listen to Waheguru's Naam and then comprehend it (get connected with Him). But those who are misled by Waheguru Himself find no shelter or room in the spiritual world. However, those who are guided by Waheguru are connected with the Guru, who in turn connects the devotees with Waheguru. 1.
Waheguru's Naam is one's real companion that accompanies him all the way to Waheguru. But all those without Waheguru's Naam are destined for spiritual death. Pause. It does not matter how one earns their living – by farming or doing some business – all are approved by Waheguru as long as they are done with honesty and with Waheguru's Naam in mind. But, ignoring Waheguru's Naam, the rituals people perform based on the belief that they are either noble or evil simply become a bag of seeds for their future life (which will also be full of lust and rage). Ignoring Waheguru's Naam, such people leave this world with a dishonest mind. 2. The True Guru imparts True advice. Those who evaluate and act on that have peace in their body and mind, and their minds bloom just like the way the jul-pooraayin and the lotus flower thrive in water. Those who are imbued in the Guru's Shabad are sweet like the juice of sugarcane. 3.
With Waheguru's Huqam of predestined union, the holy men (supreme devotees) are always connected with Waheguru, and live in the ten-door body, which they have fortified like a fort which cannot be attacked by any vile desire. Residing in the hearts of living beings, Waheguru Himself is the businessman and also the evaluator of their deeds. Waheguru's Naam adorns (purifies) the mind, oh Nanak! 4.5.

Word Meaning: Jaato Jaayay = (how to) find out. Baandhiyo = tied up; engrossed in desires (enjoyments). Abinaashi = immortal. Sehj = spiritual state above Maya. 1.

Nurhur = Waheguru. Nihkaam(u) = without any desires. Pause.

Sehjay = without any effort or warning. Oopjaiy = originates. Smaayay = get absorbed; disappears. Mookto = free from the bonds of desires. 2.

Turvur = tree. Punkhi = bird. Nis(i) = night. Vinaas(u) = destruction. Saanjh = evening. Bihaag = sunlight; morning. Dhaaveh(i) = fly away quickly. 3.

Naam Sunjogi = connected with Naam. Goyil(i) thaat = temporary setup. Phootaiy = breaks. Bikh(u) maat(u) = pot of poison. Vukkhur = merchandise. Soono = empty. Haat(u) = store. Bujur = rocky. Kupaat = doors. 4.

Sadh(u) = Guru. Poorub sunjog = predestined union. Rehsay = blissful. 5.

NOTE: A goyil is a grassy meadow along the river where people used to take their cattle for grazing when there was no food on their home farms due to drought or other factors. This was a short-term arrangement. Guru Sahib compares man's visit to the world to a goyil, which is a temporary shelter.

MEANING: An individual who has Waheguru's life-sustaining Naam in his heart and on his tongue becomes desireless like Waheguru. Pause.

How can we find where the desires (lust) come from, i.e., what their origin is, and where they get lost at the end? How man gets trapped by desires, and how he can attain and maintain the eternal spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 1.

(Answer): Lust originates naturally without any warning signs and goes away the same way. It originates in the mind and eventually disappears there (with spiritual advancement). The devotee of the Guru is free from such evil desires and does not become their prisoner. The devotee becomes free of desires when he recites Waheguru's Naam by pondering on the Guru's Shabad (and acting on it). 2.

Like the countless birds that take shelter in the trees at night and leave them for the sky in the morning (the man is also a short-time visitor in this world). Some of them enjoy comfort, while others face troubles. They suffer spiritual destruction (death) because of their attachment to Maya. As their luck (based on their deeds of previous life) dictates, they rush in every direction as time demands. 3.

Those who are connected with Waheguru's Naam think of their visit to the world as in a goyil. For them, the poisonous pot of lust and rage breaks into pieces. Without Waheguru's Naam, the heart is empty, like a store without any merchandise. But when they meet the Guru, He opens the rock-hard doors of their minds (enlightens their minds). 4. Individuals get connected with the Guru because they are predestined to do so based on their previous deeds. They are completely devoted to Waheguru, and being connected with Him, they are always blissful. They offer their bodies and minds to Waheguru and, in turn, attain a spiritual state above Maya through their love for Waheguru. (Guru) Nanak wishes to touch their feet. 5.6.

Tthaakay bohith Durgeh maar(u), Sach salaahi dhunn Gurdooaar(u). Nanak dur(i) ghur(i) Ekunkaar. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Cheet(u) = mind. Vikaar = evil deeds (or thoughts). Jaagaiy = is awake; sharp. Hit = for. Poonji = wealth. Tur(u) = a crude boat. Taari = boat. Soocheet = purifier of mind 1. Vaah(u) = praiseworthy. Tayk = support. Houn = I; me. Nirmul(u) = pure. Pause. Ugun(i) = fire; hot. Paani = water; cool. Bhurrvaao = foul words. Indari = senses. Sooaao = taste; character. Disht(i) = vision. Vikaari = evil. Bhaao = love; affection. Aap(u) Maaray = kill self(ishness). 2.

Mern(u) = (spiritual) death. Poora = complete; perfect. Purpunch(i) = made up of the five basic ingredients (world). Viyaap(i) = busy in. Doyay = duality (indecisiveness) of mind. Thir(u) = stable; eternal. 3.

Bohith = ship (to cross the sea of Maya). Tthaakay = restrained; prevented. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. Maar = punishment. Dhunn = worthy of respect. 4.

MEANING: My mind is always occupied by the thoughts of lust, rage and Maya; and is sharp in lies and evil thoughts, oh my Waheguru. I have accumulated the wealth of sins and greed. (How can I swim across the sea of Maya with all these ignoble traits)? However, if I get Your Naam in my heart with Your benevolence, I can swim across the sea because Your Naam, which purifies the mind, will serve as a boat for me. 1.

You are great! You are great, oh Waheguru! I am a sinner, while You are pure and the purifier of mind (of sinners like me). Pause. I get fired up sometimes and become cool at other times; as a result, I use foul language. My tongue and all my other senses are busy satisfying their individual tastes. My vision is evil, and I have no fear or love for You. But, You Naam can be realized only if I kill my selfishness. 2.

If a man kills his desires with Guru's Shabad, he will not have the fear of death anymore, but he will not be perfect without killing his desires. The mind, that is engrossed in worldly affairs, is always in doubt (has misbeliefs), and wanders around. It can become stable only with Waheguru's kindness. 3.

I can jump onto the Guru-ship to cross the ocean of Maya whenever it is my turn (when He is kind to me), but if I am prevented from getting on the ship, I will be punished in Waheguru's Court (because of my bad qualities). Guru's door (shelter) is supreme. It is only in Guru's shelter that I can worship Waheguru. You can connect with Waheguru only at Guru's door, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Ooltiyo = turned upside down. Kumal(u) = lotus (heart). Dhaar = stream. Guggan(i) = sky; brain. Dus Dooaar(i) = tenth door (spiritual state of high awareness). Tirbhuvun(u) = three-layered universe. Bhaydhiya = pierced; stitched to. Moorar(i) = Waheguru. 1. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Maaniyaiy = acknowledge; have faith. Pause. Junum jeet(i) = Winning over life (having achieved the objective of human life. Aap(i) = self. Ghur(u) = home; heart. Jaaniya = recognized; realized. 2. Jut(u) = celibacy. Sat(u) = high morals. Mujun(u) = bathe (in holy waters). Adhik = more. Bithaar(u) = expansion. Kis(u) Kaam(i) = for what? Nur Narayan = Waheguru. Untarjaam(i) = omniscient. 3.
Aan = someone else. Jaachoun = wish for. Sehj(i) = spiritual state of bliss. 4.

MEANING: Do not have any misgivings (about Waheguru), oh my mind. When you have faith in Him, you will enjoy the taste of His life-sustaining Naam. Pause.
When I pondered on Waheguru (recited His Naam with full faith) my mind turned around (away from Maya and towards Waheguru), and a thin stream of Naam-Amrit began to drop onto my brain converting it into the Tenth door (the spiritual state of enlightenment and bliss), and I realized that the whole universe is stitched to Him i.e. Waheguru is omnipresent. 1.
(On attaining this spiritual state), I have achieved the objective of human life, and all the worldly desires (and selfishness) are dead from my mind now, and my mind has realized its real objective. With the kind sight of Waheguru, my heart has realized its real home (Waheguru). 2.
Waheguru's Naam is everything for me now, and as a result, all my senses are under my control. I have acquired noble qualities, and I do not need any pilgrimage; in fact, any show of such rituals is worthless now. Waheguru is omniscient, and He is not impressed with such a show of rituals. 3. If I bring faith to someone else, I am knocking at some stranger's door. There is no other place which I can wish for. I can attain the state of bliss with Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Mern(u) = death (from Maya). Rus(u) =essence; sweet taste. Bhaayay = is liked. Gerb(u) = ego. Guggan Pur = city in the sky (union with Waheguru). 1. Doobhidha = duality; misgivings. Kumul Bigaas(i) = blooming of the heart. 2. Sunjum(i) = control on senses. Soocha = clean (no evil attribute). Moocha= over; ended. 3. Unk(i) = heart. Smaaya = merged into. Mehl = Waheguru's residence. 4.
MEANING: Everybody has to die (this is the law of Waheguru), and nobody stays here forever. However, by reciting Waheguru's Naam, one can find eternal life (become immortal) in the Guru's shelter. Pause. If one can connect with Satguru, He "shows" the death of desires (attachments to Maya) (and makes one realize this death). One enjoys the bliss of life after such death. He overcomes his ego and becomes one with Waheguru. 1. When one is connected with Satguru, the duality of his mind is (all his misgivings are) dispelled, and his mind is attached with Waheguru, and the lotus of his heart blooms. Thus, even though he leads his normal life, his mind is dead as far as Maya is concerned, and he experiences the great bliss of such a life. 2. When one is connected with Satguru, he acquires Truth (realizes God), has control over his senses, and is clean (pious). With the ladder of Guru's Shabad, he rises higher and higher (in spirituality). But such a spiritual state can be attained only by the Guru's grace, and the fear of death for the individual ends. 3. On connecting with Him, the Guru eradicates the ego of the individual, and "shows" him Waheguru's Residence (connects him with Waheguru) and the individual becomes a part of Waheguru's body (merges into Him), oh Nanak. 4.9.

Taan(u) = force; power. Vudiyaayee = greatness. 4.
MEANING: Nobody can obliterate the effects of the past deeds (with his own efforts). I have no idea what will happen in my future life. Only that will happen which Waheguru likes; no one else can influence the future. 1.

I am not proud of my past deeds, (but You are very kind, and disregarding our evil deeds, You bestow unlimited gifts on us), and I am nobody to evaluate Your blessings on me, oh my kind Waheguru! Your Naam is the origin (source) of all noble deeds and the expected moral behaviour. (But my objective is Your Naam, and not the noble deeds and morality). Pause. You are a great provider, and there is never a shortage of the gift of worship in Your treasures, oh Waheguru! Someone's ego (of his deeds, or of his religiosity) does not help him because you have the account of the soul and the body of everyone (their thoughts and deeds). 2.
You can forgive anyone, kill his worldly desires, give him a new life and then connect him with Yourself. You can make him recite Your Naam as You please. You are the provider, and You know everything about me; (I have no worries because) I am under Your great care, oh Waheguru. You guide me through the Guru, and I lead my life with full faith in You (I am dependent on You). 3.
Now, my mind is fully imbued in Your love, and my body has no filth (of ignoble deeds). I have realized the Truth (Waheguru) through the Guru's Word, the Guru's Shabad. You are the source of my energy, and Your Naam is my praise (source of my honour). I live in the shelter of Waheguru's worship, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Nanak Ram milay bherm dooray. 4.11.
Word Meaning: Akuth(u) = indescribable (Waheguru). Apiyo = which is not easily accessible for drinking (Naam-Amrit). Un = others. Visraiy = forgotten. Smaaya = got absorbed into. 1. Der(u) = worldly fears (worries). Dereh(i) = in the fear of Waheguru. Pause.
Raas(i) = wealth. Sehj Soobhaayay = in the blissful spiritual state. Shaabaash(i) = praise. Svaaraiy = svaalaiy = puts to sleep. Sanjh = evening. Biyaal = early morning. It oot = here and there (everywhere). Kaal = death. 3.
Ehinis(i) = day and night. Pooray = complete; perfect. Bherm = misgivings. 4.
MEANING: Once one realizes (gets connected with Waheguru) through the Perfect Guru's Shabad, he is not afraid of anything else because all the worldly fears (worries) are soaked (destroyed) by his faith in Waheguru. Pause. Whosoever recites Waheguru's Naam (drinks the Naam-Amrit) himself, and inspires others to do the same, is fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and all his worldly fears (worries) are eradicated. 1. A man who has Waheguru's Naam in his heart and has made it his wealth attains the spiritual state of blissfulness and wins Waheguru's praise with his love for Him. 2. On the other hand, if Waheguru puts an individual into sleep day and night (makes him unaware of Waheguru because of his indulgence in Maya), he becomes a prisoner of (spiritual) death everywhere. 3.
Those who harbour Waheguru's Naam in their heart day and night are complete or perfect (free from all evil deeds and thoughts), and they get connected with Waheguru as all their misgivings are dispelled, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Gaurri Mehla 1: Junum(i) muraiy traiy goon hitkaar(u). Chaaray Bayd kutheh(i) aakaar(u). Teen(i) avustha kuheh(i) vukhiyaan(u). Toori Avustha Satgur tay Hur(i) jaan(u). 1. Ram bhugut(i) Gur sayva turna. Bahoorr(i) junum(u) na hoyay, haiy merna. 1. Ruhaou. Chaar(i) pdaruth kuhaiy subh(u) koyee. Simrit Shast pundit mookh(i) soyee. Bin(u) Gur urth(u) beechaar(u) na paaya. Mookut(i) pdaruth(u) bhugut(i) Hur(i) paaya. 2. Ja kaiy hirdaiy vusiya Hur(i) soyee. Gurmukh(i) bhugut(i) praaput(i) hoyee. Hur(i) kee bhugut(i) mookut(i) aanund(u). Gurmut(i) paayay Permanund(u). 3. Word Meaning: Traiy Goon = the accepted effects of Maya – state of low awareness (misgivings, confusion, low self-esteem); state of average awareness (less confusion, average self-esteem); and state of higher awareness (individual is more knowledgeable, has higher self-esteem). However, these states are not permanent for an individual; they keep changing with circumstances. Hitkaar = in love with. Aakaar(u) = characteristics. Avustha = situation. Vukhiyaan = explain. Toori Avustha = spiritual state above the three effects of Maya. It is also called the Fourth State. 1.

Ram = Waheguru. Turna = swim across the sea of Maya. Bahoorr(i) = again. Pause. Chaar Pdaruth = wealth; high morality; wishes (success); and salvation. Simrit Shast = Hindu granths. Urth(u) = meaning; objective. Mookut(i) Pdaruth = salvation. 2. Soyee = that (Waheguru). Praaput(i) = acquirement. Permanund = supreme bliss (union with Waheguru). 3.

Aasa = hopes; desires. Niraasa = above the worldly desires. Boojhaaya = explained; illustrated. Deena Nath(u) = Lord of the powerless (weak). Raata = imbued. 4.

MEANING: From birth to death, the man leads his life in love with (under the influence of) the three effects of Maya, the characteristics of which are explained by all four Vedas as they explain the three situations of influence of Maya. The Fourth State (above the effects of Maya) is explained by Satguru only, which is attained by connecting with God. 1. One swims across the sea of Maya by worshipping Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, after which one never gets into the birth-death-birth cycle. Pause. Everybody, including the Simritis, the Shastras and the pundits (learned persons), talks about the four special (desired) objects – wealth, high morality, wishes (success), and salvation – but, without the Guru, one does not understand the real meaning and the objective of life. (The Guru explains) that salvation can be achieved only by worshipping Waheguru. 2.

Waheguru's worship can be acquired only by taking shelter of the Guru when Waheguru starts to dwell in the heart of the devotee. Waheguru's worship frees the individual from the bonds of Maya, and the devotee experiences a state of bliss. With Guru's advice, one enjoys supreme bliss (union with Waheguru). 3.

The Guru, who is "one" with Waheguru and has "seen" Him, "shows" Waheguru to the devotees too and shows them how to lead a desire-free life in a world where everyone has many wishes (while living in a family). Waheguru is the Lord of all the humble and powerless, and is the source of all comfort. My mind is imbued with love for His feet (for His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.12.

NOTE: The number: 6.1.13. implies that this holy Shabad has 6 stanzas, it the first (1) Shabad of Raag Gaurri Chayti, and there are 13 Shabads of Mehla 1 so far.

Word Meaning: Amrit = immortal. Kaayaan = human body. Sookhaali = in comfort. Baaji = game; drama. Lub(u) = greed for eating. Mooch(u) = much; big. Koorr(i) = falsehood (lies; dishonesty etc). Bhaaro = weight (of evil deeds). Rooldi = degraded; disgraced. Chhaaro = dust. 1. Sikh = advice. Sookirt(u) = noble deeds. Rehsi = accompany you. Buhourr(i) = again. Aavaiy vaari = get opportunity. Pause. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Chinda = think about. Puraayee = of others. Laitbaari = which causes loss of trust (back biting). Vayl(i) = vine; woman (just like vines which need some support to grow tall, women also need support of men to grow). Joheh(i) = watch; keep an evil eye on. Booriyaari = evil deeds. Huns(u) = soul. Chhootturr(i) = a woman condemned by (separated from) her husband. 2.

Soopnuntar(i) = in dreams (asleep); unaware. Kerm = deeds. Bhula Bhayaa = liked it. Hult(i) = this world (present life). Sobha = praise. Pult(i) = (in) next world.
Dhoyee = shelter. Ehila = valuable. Guvaaya = wasted. 3.
Khuri = very much. Doohayli = in discomfort. Baat = care about. Pause.
Taaji = horse. Toorki = from Iraq. Roopa = silver. Jhurr(i) = drop. Guvaara = oh, fool. Kooja = crystalized sugar. Mayva = fruit. Chaakhiya = tasted. 4.
Neev = foundation. Divaal = wall; mansion. Bhus = ash; rubble. Dhayri = pile. Sunchay = treasure. Sunch(i) = accumulate. Sumpaiy = wealth. 5.
Ajaana = child; ignorant. Hoag(u) = will happen. Bhaana = Will. Pause.
Shah(u) = king. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Vunjaaray = traders. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Raas(i) = capital; ownership; property. 6.

MEANING: The man thinks that his body is going to live forever, so life should be lived in comfort. He does not realize that, like a drama, it has a short life span. To enjoy all comforts, it (human body) has a big greed to eat (gluttony), and greed of all other kinds, due to which it engages in lies and dishonesty, as a result of which it carries a big burden of evil deeds. But, oh my greedy body, I have seen many like you, who are disgraced to ashes on the earth (suffer humiliation). 1. Listen to the advice carefully, oh my body; only the noble deeds will stay with you, and you may not get this chance (human life) again (to elevate your spiritual state). Pause.
I am telling you, oh my body, to listen carefully to my advice. You are engaged in vilifying others, and because of such lies, you are losing your trustworthiness. You watch other women with evil thoughts in your mind, and commit thefts and other evil deeds. When the soul leaves you, you will be left alone, just like a woman who has been condemned by her husband. 2. My body (soul), you have been in dreams so far (asleep from reality) and do not realize what kind of (despicable) deeds you have committed. If I stole some stuff and brought it home, you liked it. Because of such evil deeds, you are not earning any praise in this world, and there will be no shelter for you in the next world; you are wasting your invaluable human life. 3.
I am suffering badly, and there is no one to enquire (worry) about me, oh Nanak. Pause.
You want Iraqi horses, gold and silver jewellery, and a lot of (beautiful clothes), but (you do not realize) that none of such things accompany you after death, and everything gets dropped (is left behind) here, oh my foolish body (soul). I have tasted the sweet crystallized sugar and different fruits, but the sweetest of all is Your Amrit-Naam, oh Waheguru. 4.
The man builds mansions on strong foundations, but they become a pile of ash (rubble) with time. He accumulates treasures of wealth, and the blind (ignorant) man thinks that all of that belongs to him (forever), so he does not share with anyone else. (He does not realize that even the powerful rulers like Ravan (of Lanka), who had his palaces of gold - and in fact, the whole country of gold - left empty-handed (and you are not special, oh my body). 5.
Listen to me, my foolish and ignorant mind, only the Will of Waheguru shall prevail. Pause.
The Lord is like an immensely rich money-lord (Who owns the treasures of Naam), and we are the traders (of His Naam). Our soul and body are His property; He can kill us and give new life again, oh Nanak. 6.1.13.

Word Meaning: Uver(i) = others. Punch Juna = five demons. Kiyoun = how. Ghur Baar(u) = whole house; body and mind. Maareh(i) = punish. Looreh(i) = loot. 1

Jum Dul = army of the angel of death. Bikhum ghuna = very tough. Pause.

Oosaar(i) = build. Murroli = hut; human body. Bheetar(i) = inside. Sa Dhuna = woman; human soul. Kayl = enjoy lustful life. Kaamun(i) = woman (human). 2.

Dhaheh(i) = demolish. Dayhoora = body. Jum Dunda = the baton of the angel of death (unkind treatment). Sungal = chain. 3.

Lorraiy = wishes; asks for. Khadhaata = articles to eat. Tin Kaarun(i) = for them. 4.

MEANING: I am alone, and they are five demons (lust, rage, etc., to rob me of my noble qualities); how can I protect my body and soul from them, oh Waheguru? They punish me by robbing me of my noble qualities all the time. Whom should I beg for help? 1. The only way to protect yourself) is to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind; otherwise, you will have to face the very tough army of the Angel of death. Pause. Waheguru creates the hut-like human body with nine doors in which the soul dwells. Thinking the body to be immortal, she (the soul) is enjoying a lustful life, allowing the five demons to rob her freely of noble qualities. 2.

When death comes, the body hut is demolished and robbed, and the soul is held all alone. The unkind Angel of death puts chains around the neck of the soul, and the five demons run away. 3. The wife wants gold and silver, while the friends want tasty things to eat. The man commits sins for them, as a result of which he is bound (arrested, handled roughly) and taken to the court of the Angel of death, oh Nanak. 4.2.14.

NOTE: This holy Shabad has been addressed to some yogis who wear glass earrings, shave their heads - especially on the banks of the River Gunga – cover their bodies with ash, wear a quilt, hold a baton, and eat only vegetables that grow inside the ground, like radishes, carrots, turnips, etc.

Word Meaning: Moonduraan = earrings. Ghut = heart. Kaayaan = body (free from evil deeds). Khinthaata = quilt. Punch chaylay = the five senses. Vus(i) = control. Raawal = hey, yogi. Dundaata = baton. 1. Joogut(i) = technique; the way to do something. Paavista = acquire. Naasut(i) = is not (there). Kund Mool(i) = vegetables that grow inside the ground. Pause Moond = head. Moondaaiyn = shaving. Gungaata = Ganga. Tirbhuvun = universe. Taarunhaara = salvager. Chaytus(i) = remember. 2. Ptumb(u) = deceit; show off. Sunsa = misgiving; worries. Dhaavista = rushes to. 3. Jupus = recite Naam. Nirunjun = Waheguru which is above Maya. Ruchus(i) = get interested; entranced. Kaahay = for what? Kupt = deceitful. Ghuna = very much. Pause. Kumli = unwise. Huns(u) = soul. Iyaana = child-like; ignorant. Bihaneeta = spends life. Prunvut(i) = requests humbly. Naagi = naked; exposed. Daajhaiy = burns; suffers. Paachhaiy = afterwards. Puchhutaneeta = repents. 4.

MEANING: Rather than wearing the rings in your ears, wear them in your mind so that you are reminded of Waheguru; and rather than wearing a quilt to protect your body from cold, protect it from evil deeds, oh yogi. And use your mind as the baton, which you hold in the hand, to control your senses, oh yogi. 1. You have applied your mind (adapted to) eating vegetables grown under the surface of the ground with the belief that you live a simple life, and can please Waheguru (but that is a misbelief); there is no other way than to act on Guru's Shabad (to realize Him). Pause.

If one could realize Waheguru by shaving his head – especially by the bank of the river Ganga – (everyone could do that). For me, my Guru is the River Ganga. The blind man (with darkness in mind) does not remember Waheguru, who is the Lord of the whole universe and can salvage anyone. 2. You try to please yourself by deceitful talk and show off, but your doubts and worries do not leave you alone at all. If you apply your mind to the feet (Naam) of the One Supreme Being, you would not have to rush to satisfy your greed of all kinds. 3. Get your mind entranced in the worship of Waheguru, and you will not have to engage in highly deceitful talk, oh man. Pause. Man's body is unwise, and the soul is ignorant like a child; so, he spends all his life in selfishness. (Guru) Nanak humbly requests (pleads) that the man repents afterwards when his soul burns (in hell) exposed (of its ill-deeds). 4.3.15.

Gaurri Chayti Mehla 1: Aukhudh muntar mool(u) mun aikaiy, jay kur(i) drirr(u) chit(u) keejaiy ray. Junum junum kay paap kerm kay, Kaatunaara leejaiy ray. 1.

Tin kee punk hovaiy jay Nanak(u), tuou moorra kichh(u) payee ray. 4.4.16.

Word Meaning: Aukhudh = medication; cure. Mool(u) Muntar = (Waheguru's Naam). Drirr(u) = reinforce (with full faith). Kaatunhaara = the eradicator (Waheguru). 1.
Teen Goona = the three effects of Maya. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Pause.
Shukkar = raw sugar. Pund = bale; package. Soojhus(i) Naahi = cannot think of anything. Lujj = a long rope to which a bucket is tied to draw water from a well; rope of life. Moosa = mouse (time). 2. Munmukh(i) = the follower of one's own mind; engrossed in maya. Kureh = perform (deeds). Tayta = the same (in size). Vudayee = praise. Tin(i) = that (Waheguru). Kirt(u) = the effect of the past deeds. Maytiya = erased; obliterated. 3. Soobhur Bhuray = full to the brim. Oonaiy = partial empty. Raatay = imbued. Punk = dust. Moorra = foolish. Paayee = acquires. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the only panacea for all ills, provided one reinforces it in his mind with full faith. The destroyer (Waheguru) then takes away (removes) all the committed sins of many, many lives of the individual. 1.
Because the whole world is absorbed in (is operating within) the three qualities of Maya (created by Waheguru), it has no time to comprehend (recognize the virtues of) the incomprehensible Waheguru. But, realize that there is only one Lord (to support you everywhere), oh my mind! Pause. Maya, which is sweet like sugar, is liked by the man, as a result of which we all are carrying the bale of sins; being completely in the dark (of ignorance), we are unaware of the fact that the time-mouse is gnawing on the life-supporting rope. 2. The deeds done by a Maya-engrossed individual are mostly sinful, so as a result, he suffers in proportion to the sinful deeds done. On the other hand, a Gurmukh(i) (faithful devotee of the Guru) is praised (honoured) everywhere. However, we cannot entirely blame a munmukh(u) (follower of his own mind) because whatever happens takes place as per the Will of Waheguru (which is based on the previous deeds of the individual), and the effect of the past deeds cannot be erased by the individual with his own efforts. 3. But, the hearts of the devotees, who get imbued with Waheguru's affection, are always full of affection for Waheguru and never experience any loss in that. If a Maya-engrossed individual becomes the dust of the feet of such devotees (becomes very humble by overcoming his ego in their company), then the ignorant too can achieve some spirituality, oh Nanak. 4.4.16

Prunvut(i) Nanak(u) Huqam(u) puchhaanaiy, sookh(u) hovaiy din(u) raati. 6.5.17.

Word Meaning: Kut Kee = since when. Kayra = of. Kidoo = from where. Ugun(i) = warmth (of womb). Bimb = Jul = water (placenta). Nipjay = started; took root. Kaahay Kumm(i) = for what purpose. 1. Kaytay = how many? Rookh = Birkh = trees; vegetation. Cheenay = recognized (were born as). Pusoo = animals. Naag Kooleen = clans of snakes (reptiles). Punkh = wings (birds). Oodaayay = flew as. 2. Hut = shops. Puttan = cities. Bij Mundar = very strong mansions. Bhunnay = broke into. Ug-houn Pichhoun = front and back (every direction). Chhupaavaiy = hide. 3. Tut Teeruth = (Hindu) holy places. Nuv Khund = nine regions of the earth. Tukkrri = weighing scale. Toalun(i) = weigh. Ghut = heart. Vunjaara = trader; vendor. 4. Jayta = as much. Neer(i) = water. Taytay = those many. Augun = vices. Duyya = Mehr = kindness. Doobday = sinking. Puththur = (heavy like) a rock because of the load of sins. 5. Jeaurra = soul (heart). Braabur = like. Tupaiy = is hot. Kaati = knife. Prunvut = requests humbly. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. 6.5.17.

MEANING: Your virtues are beyond description, and my vices cannot be counted, oh my Waheguru! Pause. Because of our vices, we are born again and again, and cannot know since when we had our mothers and our fathers, and where we have come from (what was our previous life form before we are born as humans). We started our life in the warm placenta of a mother's womb, but we do not know what we have been created for (what the purpose of our life is). 1. We do not know how many times we were born as different forms of vegetation, and as animals, or in the clans of snakes, or as birds. 2. Even in this life, we are committing sinful deeds; we break into shops, cities and very strong (fort-like) mansions, and return home after committing thefts. We watch in every direction to make sure no one is watching us, but how can we hide our evil deeds from you, oh Waheguru? 3.

To atone for our sins, we visit many holy places, roam all over the nine regions of the earth (as per the belief of some sects), begging at the shops and in the bazaars of the cities. Finally, some lucky individual begins to weigh his sins as a vendor in noble or ignoble qualities in the weighing scale of his heart, and realizes how many sins he has accumulated. 4. (I have found out) that I have as many sins as the unlimited amount of water in the ocean. I cannot wash away my sins on my own, so I beg You to be kind to me and ferry this drowning person (me), who has become very heavy with the load of sins, across the ocean of life, oh Waheguru. 5.

(Without Waheguru's Naam at heart) The man's heart is burning with the fire of desires, and he feels as if he has a knife in his mind (to cut the throats of others) (has no contentment and peace of mind). (Guru) Nanak humbly prays (suggests) that if the man recognizes Waheguru's Will, he will always enjoy comfort (bliss). 6.5.17

NOTE: The numbers at the end – 4.1.18. "4" implies that this holy Shabad has four stanzas. "1" signifies that this is the first Shabad of Gaurri "Baiyraagun" and there are 18 Shabads of Mehla 1 in Gaurri Raag so far.

Word Meaning: Raiyn(i) = night. Guvaayee = wasted. Heeray Jaisa = precious like a diamond. Kaudi = a small sea shell; cowry shell. Budlay = in exchange. 1.
Anunta = unlimited. Anunt = infinite (God). Chaahiya = wish for; motivation. 2.
Bhaagutth = lucky; wealthy. Nibbrraiy = is determined. Loachaiy = longs for. 3.
Kerna = creation. Saar = looks after. Jaapi = visible; evident. 4.

MEANING: The man wastes away his night sleeping, and his day in eating (and drinking); thus, he is trading his diamond–like valuable human life (which is an opportunity for the man to connect with God) for a worthless object like a sea-shell (Maya). 1. The foolish man does not realize the importance of Waheguru's Naam for which (not remembering Him) he will have to repent later. Pause.

When a man has unlimited wealth buried in the ground (for safety), he has no motivation to think of Waheguru. So those who leave home in search of wealth return with the loss of wealth of Waheguru's Naam. 2.

Also, if one could acquire wealth with one's own efforts, everybody would be wealthy. But even though everybody longs for (more and more) wealth, the outcome is determined by his fate (which depends upon his previous deeds). 3.

Waheguru, which has created the world, also looks after it. Nobody knows the Huqam (Will) of the Lord as to who will be honoured by Him. 4.1.18

NOTE: The number "1" in the middle implies that this is the 1st Shabad of Mehla 1 in Gaurri Baiyraagun.

Nanak suda sohaagni, jin joti Jot(i) smaayay. 4.2.19.

Word Meaning: Herni = female deer. Kund Mool = vegetables growing under the surface of earth, like carrots, reddisnes, turnips etc.; and grass, bushes, fruit etc. Shuhou = Dear; Husband (Waheguru). Vaar(i) Jaoun = offer life for sacrificing. 1.
Bunjaarun(i) = trader (dealer in). Vukkhur = merchandize. Vaapar = trading. Pause.
Kokul(i) = cuckoo (a bird). Sehj(i) = in the state of bliss. Soobhaayay= with affection.
Dershun(i) = have sight. Roop(i) Apaar(u) = unlimited beauty. 2.
Saar(i) = know the condition. Oorvaar(i) = the near shore. Paar(i) = the shore on the other side. Baanh(i) Pusaar(i) = with open arms. 3.
Naagun(i) = snake. Dhur = live on the earth (and not fly in the sky); ego-free. Bhuou = fear. Sohaagni = married. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. 4.
MEANING: I wish to trade in (deal in) Waheguru's Naam, and have His Naam as the merchandise for my business. Pause.
If I am able to earn Waheguru's affection by the grace of the Guru, I will sacrifice my life for Him many times. I could live in a forest like a deer, away from the distractions of the world, and be happy like her, who has no worries. Just like the deer, which feeds on the grass and the bushes in the forest, I, too, will be happy to live on a simple diet of vegetables and the fruit available in the forest. 1. If I could get a charming sight of Waheguru with unlimited beauty in the blissful spiritual state with my affection, I would feel happy the same way as a cuckoo does sitting on the branch of a mango tree for which it has a mythical attraction. 2. Just as a fish cannot survive without water, I want to have the same degree of love for Waheguru, like an ocean (in which everyone lives). The fish feels very happy to live in the ocean, where it swims freely everywhere to learn about the other living beings. I, too, wish to be free like a fish, to have access to Waheguru, who is omnipresent, and to meet Him with open arms. 3. Snakes live in simple burrows and are afraid of people who want to kill them. But I would not mind to be like a snake and live a humble life (just like a snake which lives in a humble burrow), and will not be afraid of the possibility of people not liking me (as long as I am able to earn Waheguru's love) because when Waheguru's Shabad takes root in the heart, all kinds of fears are dispelled. Those human brides are always married (loved by their husband – Waheguru) whose souls merge into the Supreme Soul (Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.2.19

Word Meaning: Jaiy = which. Ghur(i) = home of holy congregation; holy book. Keerut = praise. Kertay = Creator (Waheguru). Tit(u) = in that. Sohila = lyric of joy; blissful praise of Waheguru. Siverhou = remember. Sirjunhaar = the Creator. 1.

Nirbhuou = fearless. Houn = I; me. Vaari Jaoun = offer for sacrificing. Pause.
Smaaliun(i) = are looked after. Daanaiy = largess. Shoomaar = limit. 2.
Sumbut = year; time. Saaha = the date of wedding (union with Waheguru). Paavhou Tayl(u) = perform a pre-wedding custom in which the family and friends of the bride and the groom gather (in their respective homes) and sing happy songs and bless the bride and groom for a happy union. Aseesurriyaan = blessings. 3.
Paahoocha = invitation of wedding. Sudrray = calls. Nit = every day (all the time). Puvun(i) = are made. Suddunhaara = the caller (Waheguru). Say Dih = that day. 4.
MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being, which is eternal and which can be realized only by the grace of the Guru.
Join the holy congregation where Waheguru's praise is sung, and His virtues are discussed, and recite the Naam (sing praise) of the Creator, which is the source of all bliss, oh my friend.
1. Sing the blissful praise of the fearless (Waheguru), oh my friend. I wish to sacrifice my life for the blissful praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all comfort. Pause.
The Provider (Waheguru) always looks after His creation. You cannot even evaluate the gifts of the Provider; how can you find His limits, oh my ignorant friend! 2.
Just like the date and time, which is fixed for the ceremony of worldly weddings, the date and time to appear before Waheguru (which may or may not result in union with Him) is also fixed for each of us, so perform the pre-wedding ceremony by giving your blessings to me by which I may achieve union with Him, oh my devotee friends. 3.
The messages of such a subject (appearing before Waheguru) are sent all the time to each heart (individual) by Waheguru, and such calls have to come for all of us; so, let us remember the Sender of such messages (Waheguru) (so as to have union with Him), oh Nanak. 4.1.20.

puchhanaiy koyay. Jeevaiy Daata dayvunhaar(u). Nanak Hur(i) Naamay lugaiy piyaar(u). 4.1.21.

Word Meaning: Hur(i) Mayla = union with Waheguru. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Bidh(i) = all approaches; alternatives. Puchhaanaiy = recognize. 1.

Bhaiy = with (respectful) fear = Bhuou. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Raachaiy = get deeply involved; absorbed. Rung(i) = (with) affection. Pause. Vusaiy = dwells. Soobhaayay = with affection. Bhaara = heavy (loaded with virtues). Paaravaar(u) = limits. Bukhshay = forgives. 2. Boodh(i) = wisdom; awareness. Soyay = that (Waheguru). Saachi = pure; honest. Kaar = Kerni = tasks; daily routine; dealings. Ootum = superior. 3. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. Koyay = some rare. Daata = donor; provider. 4.

MEANING: When one connects with the Guru, the latter connects him with Waheguru. In fact, Waheguru connects the individual (of His choosing) with the Guru, and then the Guru connects the individual with Waheguru. My Waheguru knows all the different approaches; He connects individuals with the Guru with His own Will (Huqam), and the individuals recognize Him (get connected with Him) by the Shabad of the Guru. 1.

With Guru's fear (respect) in mind, the individual gets rid of all his misgivings and fears. With the deep fear (respect) of the Guru in mind (respect for the Guru guides his behaviour), the individual gets imbued with love for God. Pause.

When an individual is connected with the Guru, Waheguru begins to dwell in his mind because of the individual's love for Him. However, one cannot fully value all His virtues, for Waheguru is loaded with them. The individual can only sing praise of the infinite Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. My God is forgiving, and He forgives all the weaknesses of His devotees. 2.

When one connects with the Guru, he acquires pure wisdom (his mind is purified) and higher awareness. Waheguru takes residence in the pure heart. With Waheguru dwelling in his heart, all the routine tasks of the devotee become pure and honest. By pondering on the Guru's Shabad, one's dealings become superior (honest). 3. The Guru teaches how to serve Waheguru (obey His Will). But only a rare, lucky individual realizes Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. When an individual loves Waheguru's Naam, he becomes confident that the Provider (Waheguru) is always alive (is there to look after), oh Nanak. 4.1.21

Kirpa kuray Shabad(i) milaava hoyee. Mil(i) Preetum Saachay goon gaavaan. Nanak Sachay Saach(i) smaavaan. 4.2.22.

Word Meaning: Giyaan(u) = Divine Knowledge (enlightenment). Koyay = some rare. Boojhaiy=comprehends; internalizes (Waheguru's Naam). Seejhaiy = succeeds. Sehj(i) = spiritual state of blissfulness. Mookt(i) = freedom from Maya. 1.
Pooray Bhaag(i) = (with) complete luck. Saachaiy = eternal. Sehj(i) = the state of bliss (above the effects of Maya). Saach(i) = (in) Waheguru. Pause.
Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. Vusaiy = dwells (attains). Puvit Paavun = pure (mind). Sooch = purity. Milaava = union (with Waheguru. 2.
Baajh(u) = without. Bherm(i) = misbeliefs. Bhoolaayee = misled; lost. 3.
Kuhiyaiy = complain. Saach(i) = in the eternal (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: If a person gets connected with the Guru with great luck, he attains the eternal spiritual state of bliss, which is above the three effects of Maya, and stays merged with Waheguru. Pause. But some rare individuals become enlightened by the Guru (and get connected with Waheguru). However, whosoever internalizes (Waheguru's Naam) succeeds (in his objective of life – union with Waheguru). He acquires the state of bliss, Truth (union with Waheguru), and pure thinking. He also finds the door of salvation in the shelter of the Guru. 1.
One's fire of desires is put out in the company of the Guru, and he attains peace of mind. He achieves purity of mind and body as well as the ritualistic purity observed by Brahmans in the shelter of the Guru. He also gets connected with Waheguru by Guru's Shabad. 2.
The whole world is lost (misled) in misgivings and suffers greatly without the Guru. But a Guru's devotee recites Waheguru's Naam (and is above all the misgivings and superstitions). With the holy "sight" of Waheguru (by internalizing Him), one receives eternal honour (in Waheguru's court). 3.
There is no one else to complain to; there is only one provider – Waheguru. With His grace, one gets connected with Him through the Guru's Shabad. I wish to sing praise of Waheguru in the company of my dear Guru, and stay absorbed in the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.2.22.

Nanak Sach(u) bhaanda jis(u) Shabad piyaas. 4.3.23.

Word Meaning: Su = that. Thaaoun = place (gathering). Nivaas(u) = residence. Joog Chaaray = all the four eons. Jaapaiy = seems; is True; has effect. 1.

Kerm(u) = kindness; benevolence. Satsung = holy congregation. Su thaayain = that place. Pause. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Chaakhaiy = taste. Feeka = tasteless. Alaayay = talks. Bhoojhaiy = comprehending. Chuliya = leave the world. 2. Rusna = tongue. Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state of blissfulness. Soobhaayay = (with) affection. Raati = imbued. Nirmul Dhaar = clean (pure) stream. 3. Bhaanda = vessel (heart with right side up); pure heart. Oondha Bhaanda = upside down vessel; heart turned away from the Guru and towards Maya. Tikaiy = stays. Nivaas(u) = dwelling. Piyaas = thirst (longing). 4.

MEANING: With good fortune, a man gets connected with the holy congregation by Waheguru's grace. The individual sings His virtues among the members in that holy place. Pause. That place (the holy congregation) is an eternal place (is always the source) where the mind is purified. Waheguru Himself resides in such an eternal place. The eternal Shabad of the Guru is valid (purifies the mind) in all the four eons (no matter what the eon is) because the eternal Waheguru pervades the whole world all the time. 1. May the tongue that affectionately sings praise of someone (or something) else (Maya or worldly tastes) burn away; the tongue that does not taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, talks tasteless (is unholy and deceitful). Without comprehending (Waheguru's virtues), the body and mind are tasteless (displeasing), and the individual who does not taste Waheguru's Naam leaves the world in suffering, and crying (repenting). 2.

The individual, whose tongue tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with love and in the state of bliss, merges into Waheguru with the benevolence of the Guru. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, the tongue of the devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and he enjoys the bliss of the thin stream of pure Naam-Amrit in his brain. 3.

Only that heart merges with Waheguru, which is receptive to Waheguru's Naam (has been purified by the Naam), while nothing (spiritual) stays in the heart which is turned away from the Guru. Waheguru's Naam takes residence (is embedded) in the heart that follows Guru's Shabad. The heart which has thirst (longing) for Guru's Shabad becomes an eternal (part of Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.3.23

Word Meaning: Ikk(i) = some. Saad = taste (of spirituality). Haumein = selfishness and ego. Gaavun(i) = the real song (Waheguru's praise). 1.
Bhaavaiy = is liked. Raata = imbued. Soohaavaiy = adorning; beautifying. Pause.
Bhugut(i) = ritualistic worship (simply for a show off). Usnayh = (real) love. Pir(u) = dear; husband. Oodhaar(i) = kept in heart (mind). 2.
Aap junaaveh(i) = brags; swaggers. Tupeh = jumps. Muraiy = dies (kills own desires). Jun(u) = devotee. Soyay = that. 3. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of worship (Waheguru). Aap(u) self (selfishness). Khoyay = loses; gets rid of. Bidh(i) = ways; alternatives. Bukhshay = gives the gift. 4.
NOTE: Devotees of some Hindu gods believe they can unite with their deities through singing and dancing.
MEANING: Some people do sing the ritualistic songs of worship just to show off, but enjoy no taste (of spirituality) in them. All their devotion goes to waste because they sing only to boost their ego. Only those who sing the real praise of Waheguru, who have an honest love for the Naam, ponder on the eternal Bani (Guru's Shabad). 1.
Only those songs are worthy which are liked by Satguru and which imbue the body and mind with the adorable Naam. Pause. Some people sing, and some others worship (some deity), but they cannot enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts without love for Him. The real worship is the love for Guru's Shabad, and to have the Naam of the dear Guru (or Waheguru) in the heart all the time. 2.
Some people do worship, but only as a show-off, to boost their ego. The foolish dance and jump (and think it is devotion), but they only suffer (because they do not achieve anything). Dancing and jumping are not worship; only the worship of those is recognized who kill (overcome) their ego and selfishness by the Guru's Shabad. 3.
Waheguru, who loves His worship, Himself inspires His devotees to worship Him. True worship is when one gets rid of their selfishness. My Waheguru knows all the different ways of worship (so, cannot be pleased by fake means). An individual, to whom Waheguru gives His Naam as a gift, recognizes Him (connects with Him), oh Nanak. 4.4.24.

Word Meaning: Mun Maray = kill (overcome) the mind (desires). Dhaat(u) = attractions of Maya. Daaroo = medication. Boojhaiy = gets enlightened. 1.
Bukhshay = forgives. Vudiuyaayee = honour. Vusaiy = dwells. Pause.
Gurmukh(i) Kerni = to lead life as per the Guru's advice. Sojhi = understanding. Maiy = liquor. Mut(i) = intoxicated; inebriated. Maigul = elephant. Mikdaara = like. Ankush(u) = the weapon with a sharp hook to control an elephant; ankus. Jeevaalunhaara = life giver. 2. Asaadh(u) = incorrigible; incurable. Saadhaiy = fix; set right. Achur(u) = which cannot be eaten (consumed); almost impossible to control. Churaiy = eats; removes; overcomes. Tujay = quits; gets rid of. Vikaar = sensual pleasures. 3. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Raakhiun = protected by Him (Waheguru). Smaayay = absorbed in. Kula = power. 4.
MEANING: Without killing one's desires, Waheguru cannot be realized. And if one is able to control his desires, his attachment to Maya is automatically killed. But some rare person knows the secret to kill (overcome) his desires (that they can be overcome by Guru's Shabad). 1. The individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, gets the honour, and with Guru's grace, Waheguru comes to dwell in his heart. Pause.
The individual, who leads his life as per the advice of the Guru, comes to understand the secrets of the mind. (He realizes) The human mind is like an intoxicated elephant, whereas Guru's Shabad is the ankus for such an elephant, which kills the sensual desires of the mind, and gives a new life to the individual. 2.
The mind is incorrigible, and some rare devotee of the Guru can fix it (keep it under control). If one is able to eat the uneatable (overcome the desires which are almost impossible to control), his mind becomes pure. A devotee is able to kill his ego in the shelter of the Guru and get rid of his evil sensual pleasures, whereby his mind is purified. 3. Those who have been protected (from evil thinking) right from the beginning by Waheguru are connected with the Guru and then with Waheguru Himself. They stay absorbed in Guru's Shabad and never get separated from Waheguru. Waheguru alone knows His powers (unlimited abilities); a devotee recognizes His Naam (makes connection with Him) in the Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 4.5.25.

Word Meaning: Haumein = selfishness and ego. Bauraana = crazy; insane. Bhaayay = (in) love. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Bhoolaana = lost; misled.
Chinta Chitvaiy = worries; makes plans. Puchhana = recognize. Dhundha = routine chores. Vihaana = is spent. 1. Ram = Waheguru. Rumou = remember. Rusun = (with) the juice (sweetness). Rusaayee = sweeten. Pause.
Puchhata = realized; connected with. Jugjeevun = the life of the world (Waheguru). Jaata = is known; becomes famous. Kerm Bidhaata = the writer (designer) of the destiny (God). 2. Sachay = the bearers of Truth (having Divine qualities). Dhaavut = rushing (fast wandering). Verjay = disallowed. Tthaak(i) Ruhaayay = keep under control. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of Kuber. Vusaiy = takes residence. 3. Shaant(i) = peaceful; blissful. Jum Peer = the pain (suffering) of the angel of death. Sahib(u) = Lord. Vujeer = minister. Guheer = very deep; ocean. 4.
MEANING: The whole world is insane in its ego and selfishness. People are misled by their misgivings because of their love for Maya. The man has many worries in life and makes plans (to deal with them), but does not recognize himself (the source of worries and what his real objective in life is). His day and night are (all his time is) spent in routine chores (worldly affairs). 1. Remember Waheguru's Naam in heart, and sweeten your tongue with His sweet Naam, oh my brothers. Pause.
The devotee, who realizes Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, becomes famous (popular) in all the four eons by serving Waheguru, which is the life of the whole world. With the benevolence of Waheguru, which is the designer of his destiny, the devotee overcomes his selfishness and ego with the Guru's Shabad, and realizes Waheguru (makes a strong connection with Him). 2. Those devotees are the bearers of Truth (acquire Divine qualities) who are connected with God by the Guru's Shabad. They disallow their mind to pursue immoral activities, and keep the wandering mind well under control. The Guru bestows them with Waheguru's Naam, which is like having all the nine treasures of the world. God becomes very benevolent and comes to reside in their heart. 3. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, one acquires peace and comfort; and with Waheguru in his mind, he has no fear of any pain (suffering) from the Angel of death because Waheguru is the Lord and the minister (of everything). Serve Waheguru, which is the ocean (rich source) of all the virtues, all the time, oh Nanak. 4.6.26.

Word Meaning: Visraiy = forget; ignore. Praana = breath; life. Smaana = present; pervading. Sayvivaiyn = serving. Pervaana = approved. 1.
Vit-houn = from; for. Bul(i) = sacrifice life. Pause. Tin = those. Toodh = You. AGiyani = ignorant. Joani = in womb; rebirth. 2.
Ikk = One (Waheguru). Toottha = pleased to be kind. 3.
Poataiy = treasure; in account. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Ruttay = imbued. 4.
MEANING: How can we forget Waheguru, which has given us life and the soul? How can we forget Waheguru, who is pervading everywhere, and serving whom one receives honour and approval in His Court? 1. I can sacrifice my life gladly for Waheguru's Naam; I will be dead (spiritually) if I forget Him. Pause.
Only those forget You who have been misled by You, and are engrossed in Maya. The ignorant followers of their minds undergo many rebirths. 2.
Those, to whom Waheguru is pleased to be kind, are guided to serve the Guru, and in the Guru's shelter, they embed Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 3.
Those who have credit of noble deeds in their treasure (repertoire), ponder on Waheguru's virtues, and kill their ego and selfishness. I will gladly sacrifice my life for those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.7.27.

Pooray Satgur siyoun luggaiy piyaar(u). Nanak Naam(i) ruttay kuou jaiykaar(u). 4.8.28.
Word Meaning: Akuth(u) = indescribable. Kuthiya = described. Maarun(u) Mun = killer of mind (sensual desires). Anayk = countless. 1.
Bani = Shabad. Smaani = causes to be absorbed. Kutha = story; facts of. Pause.
Jeh = where. Sehjay = (with) peaceful mind. 2.
Mehli = Waheguru's residence (union with Him). 3.
Daat(u) = gifts; largesse. Ruttay = imbued. Jaiykaar = hail (them). 4.
MEANING: You are indescribable; how can anyone describe You, oh Waheguru? You have countless virtues; no one can put any value on them. However, with Guru's Shabad, which kills the desires of the mind, one can embed (enshrine) Your Naam in the heart, oh Waheguru. 1. Recitation of the holy Bani causes the reciter to be absorbed in its Author (become one with Him). Your indescribable story can be narrated by Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. Pause.
A holy congregation comes into being wherever Satguru is present, and the virtues of Waheguru are sung there in the blissful state (with a peaceful mind), and the haumein of the devotees is burned away (eradicated) with Guru's Shabad there. 2.

In the shelter of the Guru, a devotee is able to embed Waheguru Naam in his heart, and is enabled to have access to Waheguru's Residence (become part of Him), and with worship of Waheguru, he is fully absorbed in His Naam. 3.
But love with the perfect Satguru is a gift of Waheguru Himself (nobody can develop it on their own). I hail those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.8.28.

Word Meaning: Aikus tay = from the One (Waheguru). Roop Runga = shapes and colours. Baiysintar(u) = fire. Sehlunga = mixed with; a collection of all. Bhinn Bhinn = different. 1. Achurj(u) = wondrous. Virla = rare. Pause.
Sehj(i) = without any special effort. Goopt(u) = hidden. Pergut(u) = visible. 2.
Kuthun = description. Smaavaiy = absorbed in. Boojhaiy = comprehends. 3.
Vuddi = big. Vudiyaayee = praise; appreciation. Ruttay = imbued. 4.
MEANING: All the basic elements (ingredients), like air, water, and fire, have been created by Waheguru alone, and the collection of all these basic elements is present in all the bodies of different shapes and colours. Waheguru looks after all these different amazing bodies. 1. There is one and only one wondrous (Waheguru), but some rare devotee realizes this in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.
Waheguru has created the universe in such a way that He roams everywhere (is omnipresent) without any special effort; He is hidden in some places while clearly visible in others. Also, He awakens the sleeping (enlightens the unaware). 2.
Everybody talks about the gifts of God to different degrees, but nobody can put real value on Waheguru's largesse; only the devotee who is fully absorbed in Guru's Shabad comprehends Waheguru (unites with Him). 3.
Waheguru listens to the needs of His creation, looks after it, and connects some of His creation to Him through the Guru's Shabad. Those who serve the Guru (obey His advice) receive great honour in Waheguru's Court. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam stay absorbed in the Naam, oh Nanak. 4.9.29.

Kuli ka junum(u) chundaal kaiy ghur(i) hoyee. Nanak Naam bina ko mookt(i) na hoyee. 4.10.30.

Word Meaning: Soota = asleep; engrossed. Jun = devotees. 1. Sehjay = in state of bliss. Boojhaiy = understands; is enlightened. Pause. Asunt(u) = unholy; lustful. Anaarri = without control over the mind. Kuthni = only talks. Loojhaiy = struggles. Ugiyani = unknowledgeable. Seejhaiy = succeeds. 2. Joog = eon. Nistaara = success; salvation. Kool = clan (associates). Oodhaara = enlightened; put on the right path. 3. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Kuli = Kulyug (eon of disputes); of evils. Chundaal = wicked; immoral person. Ghur = home; heart. 4.

MEANING: The follower of his mind is in deep slumber in the love and attachment for Maya (and is ungrateful to Waheguru for His gifts). But the devotee of the Guru is fully awake because of his pondering on the Guru's Shabad, which is rich in Waheguru's virtues. Those who are awake (appreciate Waheguru's kindness) have love for Waheguru's Naam. 1. The one who is in the state of bliss is always awake (alert against the attacks of Maya) and never goes to sleep (becomes careless). Pause. A lustful man, who has no control over his sensual desires, never realizes the truth (value of spirituality). He does talk about spirituality, but still struggles with Maya. Such a blind (from reality) and ignorant man never succeeds in the real objective of life. 2. Waheguru's Naam is the only means in this eon to swim across the sea of Maya, but some rare individual acquires Waheguru's Naam by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. Not only does such a devotee find salvation for himself, but he also enlightens the whole clan, which enables its members to find salvation as well. 3. (Contrary to the prevalent belief), no religious ritual can wash away the sins of an evil man in this world. Actually, the heart of a wicked man is the place where the unpopular Kulyug eon seems to have taken birth. Nobody can find salvation without Waheguru's Naam oh, Nanak. 4.10.30.

Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Amar(u) = immortal; Huqam. Raatay = imbued. Vaypervaah(u) = care-free; worry-free. Smaah(u) = get absorbed. 1.
Ram = Waheguru. Bhuvjul(u) = the sea of Maya, which keeps the living beings in the birth-death cycle. Ooturhou Paar(i) = swim across to the far end. Pause.
Bhermay = in misgivings. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Bhaayay = love; attachment. Chaitaiy = remembers. Aavaiy Jaayay = comes and goes; is reborn. 2.
Vidaani = somebody else's. Chaakri = service; slavery. Khuttay = earns. Birtha = empty; without any gain. Guvaaya = wasted. 3.
Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru is the eternal Lord of the universe, and His Huqam is also eternal. Those whose minds are imbued with the love of Waheguru get connected with Him, stay fully absorbed in His Naam, and become part of the worry-free God. 1.
So, you too, listen to me, and ponder on Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. Recite Waheguru's Naam so as to swim across the sea of Maya (rise above the effects of Maya to be one with Waheguru). Pause. Those who are engrossed in Maya are born because of their misgivings, and they leave the world in misgivings. In fact, the world is reborn because of its love for Maya. The money-minded person does not remember Waheguru, as a result of which he continues in the cycle of birth and death. 2. Is the man misled because of his own volition, or is he misled by Waheguru, who has made him the slave of the other (Maya)? (And he is not working for his own good to achieve freedom from Maya). As a result (of his slavery to Maya), he is causing himself a lot of trouble and is wasting away his precious human life. 3.
If (with good luck) Waheguru is kind to him, he is connected with the Guru. He then recites only Waheguru's Naam and dispels his misgivings. By reciting His Naam, he embeds Waheguru in his heart, which is like having all the nine mythical treasures of the world, oh Nanak. 4.11.31.

Ghaal = hard work (worshipping Waheguru). Thaayayn paayay = is rewarded. Pause. Puchhaanaiy = recognize; self-evaluation. Jeevun Mookt(i) =

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam again and again, oh my brothers. Your hard work (of worship of Waheguru) in the shelter of the Guru is appropriately rewarded (you become "one" with Waheguru). Pause. I also seek the advice of those devotees who recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, as your mind acquires faith for Waheguru by serving the Guru. Those are truly wealthy who acquire Waheguru's Naam. But enlightenment comes only from the Guru. 1.
When one recognizes the self (his origin and the purpose of life), his mind becomes pure, and such an individual achieves freedom from the bonds of Maya while still living in the world (family). As he sings Waheguru's virtues, his thinking becomes superior (pure), and he attains the spiritual state of bliss without any special effort. 2.
One cannot serve Waheguru as long as he is in love with Maya because love for Maya results in haumein, and both are big poisons against love for God. Such a person is captivated by his love for his sons, family, and household. The blind and the ignorant Maya-engrossed individual is caught in the cycle of rebirths. 3.
Waheguru gives His Naam to those who worship Him day and night with the Guru's Shabad. But some rare individuals recognize this truth with the Guru's advice. Such an individual stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.12.32.

Word Meaning: Joog Chaaray = in all the four eons. Poora Jun = perfect devotee. Akhoot = inexhaustible; never-ending. Toat(i) = shortage. Dur(i) = Waheguru's Door (Court). Sobha = praise; applause. 1. Bherm(u) = misgivings; doubts. Amrit-Rus(u) = sweet immortalizing Naam. Pause. Say = those. Oodhray = are salvaged. Kool Sugal = the whole clan (all the associates and followers. Nistaaray = got salvaged. Oordhaaray = keep in the heart (mind). Ruttay = imbued. Bhuoujul = the world sea. 2. Daasa = humble servant. Kumul = lotus; heart. Pergaasa = blooms. Unhud(u) = auto-playing music that the yogis claim to hear during meditation; Divine music (Guru's Shabad). Nij Ghur = (in) own heart. Vaasa = residence (mind stays in itself). Ghur Maah(i) Oodaasa = detached from Maya while living in the family. 3. Sachi Bani = Guru's immortal Shabad. Bhugteen = bhuguts (devotees). Vukhaani = explained to people. Saarungpaani = Waheguru. Nihkayvul Nirbani = detached from Maya. 4.

MEANING: (Contrary to the popular belief in Hindu Granths that there are different ways to reach Waheguru for each eon), no matter what the eon is, service to the Guru is the only acceptable way to be "one" with God. But some rare perfect devotee follows this path even though Waheguru's Naam is an inexhaustible source of Naam-wealth, and there is never a shortage of this wealth (countless people can acquire Naam without any loss to the Naam-treasure). With Waheguru's Naam in mind, an individual enjoys bliss in this world (in present life) and earns praise in Waheguru's Court. 1.

So, do not be a victim of any misgiving, and enjoy the eternal sweetness of Waheguru's Naam by serving the Guru, oh my mind. Pause. Those who serve Satguru are respected as great souls worldwide. Not only do they find salvation for themselves, but they also enable their associates and followers to be saved. They always keep Waheguru's Naam at heart, and imbued in the Naam, they swim across the sea of Maya. 2. They serve Satguru, always considering themselves to be His slaves. They overcome their haumein, as a result of which the lotus of their mind blooms. Imbued in the Naam, their mind stays in its place (quits wandering), and they feel as if the auto-playing Divine music is playing in their mind. They stay detached from Maya while living in the family. 3. They serve Satguru by reciting His eternal Shabad, which is recited by all the devotees in every eon. They worship Waheguru day and night, and imbued in Naam, they are detached from Maya, oh Nanak. 4.13.33.

Word Meaning: Vudbhaag(i) = with great luck. Sunjoag = pre-destined union. Hur(i) Rus = (the taste of) essence of Waheguru's Naam. 1. Praani= man. Junum(i) jeet(i) = securing a win over life (Maya). Laaha = profit. Pause. Giyaan(u) = knowledge (for debates). Dhiyaan(u) = concentration (meditation). Chukh(i) Deettha = tasted. 2. Kerm Kaand = religious rituals. Achaar = character; civility. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Ahunkaar = conceit; ego. 3.

Bundhun(i) = bonds of Maya. Phaas = trapped. Pergas = enlightenment. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, whereby you will secure victory over the desires of life, and acquire the wealth of the Naam, oh man. Pause. However, union with Satguru occurs through predestined great fortune. When that happens, the lucky individual has Waheguru's Naam at heart, and he always enjoys the sweetness of the Naam. 1. Such an individual finds Guru's Shabad to be very sweet; acquiring knowledge of Hindu Granths for debates and meditations becomes meaningless for him. However, a rare person tastes Guru's holy Shabad (the Naam) with His grace. 2.

The Maya-engrossed individual performs many rituals and shows off his (fake) good character, which only boosts his ego. But, without Waheguru's Naam, all such rituals for personal ego are condemnable. 3.
Such an individual is tightly bonded to Maya; the freedom from such bonds is achieved only when he gets enlightened by the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.14.34.

NOTE: The Upanishads state that Maya is independent of God, so the man has full independence in performing his deeds. But, in this Shabad, Guru Amar Dass Sahib explains that there is absolutely nothing in this universe that is independent of God. Using the example of waters in the clouds and in the ground, which are the same, Guru Sahib espouses that the human soul and Waheguru are just different forms of the same power, and the man does only what he is made to do by God; he has no independence in the nature of the deeds he performs. Also, Maya is not independent of Waheguru.

Word Meaning: Oopur(i) mayghula = the clouds above. Bersut(u) = causes rain. Mudhay = inside. Pergaasiya = shows its presence. Bin(u) pugaan = without feet. 1.
Bherm(u) = misbeliefs; doubts. Chookaahee = get rid of. Kert(u) haiy = is made to do by Waheguru. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Taiysay Jaayay Smaahi = leaves the world with the same nature. Pause. Naana = different. Roop = forms. 2. Bhool(i) puray = were misled. Ja Paaya = when (Waheguru) was realized. 3. Shabad(u) = Huqam. Tut(u) = the origin (Waheguru). Tut = human soul. Poonrup(i) = again. 4.

MEANING: (Guru Sahib advises): Get rid of all your misgivings, oh man. Whatever the man does is predetermined by Waheguru, and he leaves this world as such (carries the effect of his deeds to his next life). Pause.
Also, to explain the fact that the human soul is a part of Waheguru (they are the same), Guru Sahib uses the example of water in the clouds and in the ground: just as the clouds above the earth cause rainwater on the earth, there is similar water in the ground. (They may have different sources) But is the water in the ground any different from the water in the clouds? (Of course, not). Just like the water present in the ground (which moves around freely), the water in the clouds also moves around (without any feet). Just like the amount of rain shapes the nature of the earth below, the degree of benevolence of Waheguru, which resides hidden in every heart, shapes the characters of human beings. 1. So, what kind of deeds can the women and men perform (independent of Waheguru)? They are all different forms of Waheguru, and eventually get absorbed in Him. (So, they have no independence in performing their deeds). 2.

The man has been misled for many lives, but Waheguru is kind and knows everything about man's salvation. When He connects a man with Guru's Shabad by His grace, the man is no longer misled and becomes connected to God. 3.
Guru's (Waheguru's) Shabad, and Waheguru are one and the same, so with Guru's Shabad, when man's soul merges into the Supreme Soul (Waheguru), he becomes immortal, and is not born again. 4.1.15.35.

Gaurri Baiyraagun Mehla 3: Subh(u) jug(u) kaalaiy vus(i) haiy, baandha doojaiy bhaayay. Haumein kerm kmaanvday, munmukh(i) milaiy sujaayay. 1. Mayray mun Gur Churni chit(u) laayay. Gurmukh(i) Naam(u) nidhaan(u) laiy, Durgeh luyay chhudaayay. 1. Ruhaou. Lukh chauraasi bhermday, munhutth(i) aavaiy jaayay. Gur ka Shabad na cheeniyo, phir(i) phir(i) joani paayay. 2. Jun Nanak kermi paayiun Hur(i) Naama bhugut(i) bhundaar. 4.2.16.36.

Word Meaning: Kaalaiy = of death. Vus(i) = in control. Baandha = tied up; bonded to. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). 1. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. Pause. Lukh Chauraasi = 8.4 believed life forms. Bhermday = misled. Munhutth(i) = with sheer obstinacy of mind. Cheeniyo = recognized. 2. Perteet = have faith. Tujaiy = quits; gets rid of. Vikaar = evil desires like lust. Kermi = by the benevolence. Bhundaar = treasures. 4.

MEANING: The whole world, which is bonded to Maya for its love, is subject to the justice of the Angel of death. The Maya-rapt people commit all deeds which boost their haumein, and are therefore punished. 1. So, focus on the feet (Shabad) of the Guru, oh my mind. A devotee of the Guru, who takes His shelter and acquires the treasure of Waheguru's Naam, is declared free from the bonds of Maya, (and is honoured) in the Court of Waheguru. Pause. The Maya-engrossed man does not recognize the importance of Guru's Shabad (and makes no connection with Waheguru), as a result of which he takes rebirths again and again. He performs spiritually worthless deeds (including the religious rituals, if any) by the sheer obstinacy of his mind, and takes rebirths to go through all the 8.4 million life forms. 2.
The devotee of the Guru (when connected with Him) recognizes (analyzes) the self. As a result of his day and night worship, Waheguru's Naam takes residence in his heart. He stays imbued in the love of Waheguru and enjoys the bliss of the Naam. 3. Pondering on Guru's Shabad, a devotee brings faith in Waheguru, and is able to kill (control) his sensual desires, and get rid of all his vices. But nobody can acquire Waheguru's Naam, which is a treasure of wealth, with his own efforts; it can be acquired only by Waheguru's benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.2.16.36.

Word Meaning: Payiurraiy = parents' home (this world). Din Chaar(i) = a short time. Sobhavunti = praiseworthy. Sahoor-rraiy = in-laws' house (next world). Vaas(u) = (dignified) stay. Sehj(i) = the state of spiritual bliss. Bhaaya = liked. 1.
Kit(u) bidh(i) = by what means. Nirunjun = above Maya (Waheguru). Alukh(u) = incomprehensible (Waheguru). Pause.
Dhiyayiyaiy = recite (Naam). Vudbhaageen = with great luck. Doobidha = duality; indecisiveness. Binus = destroy; end. Vertda = operates. Naayay = Naam(u). 2.
Gerb = conceit; ego. Ugiyaan = lacking knowledge; in the dark. Iaanay = ignorant (child-like). Gerbh = womb. Gul Jaanay = rot (suffer). Aivaiyn Bhaanvda = this is what He likes. Bhermaanay = continue to travel (through many life forms). 3.
Laykh Likhaaya = written fortune. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning (birth). Mustuk(i) = (on the) forehead. Bhaytiya = met; got connected. Soora = fearless. Bundhup = relative. Beera = brother. Keera = Keerra = worm. 4.

MEANING: It is a written law of Waheguru that the man lives in this world only for a short period of time. (So, we should not waste our short life, and worship Waheguru) That woman (human being) earns praise who sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru. A woman who remembers (recites) Waheguru's virtues in this world gets a warm welcome to the next world. The devotees of the Guru love Waheguru in their minds and stay blessed. 1. How should we acquire (connect with) the husband-Waheguru, who is present in both the worlds (this life and the next)? (Well, we do not need to worry), The incomprehensible Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, (knows everything), and He Himself arranges to connect the devotee with Him. Pause.

Waheguru Himself gives the advice to (prompts) the individual to recite His Naam. With great fortune, a connection is made by Satguru who gives the Naam-Amrit in the mouth (on the tongue) of the devotee to recite, as a result of which, one gets rid of his haumein and his indecisiveness, and acquires the bliss of the high spiritual state. Waheguru alone operates everywhere, and He makes the individuals recite His Naam. 2.
The Maya-rapt individual is ignorant and is in the dark; he cannot realize Waheguru because of his conceit. He does not serve Satguru and repents again and again (when he takes rebirths). He stays in the womb and rots there (takes births again and again). It is the Will of my Creator that the followers of their mind go through many life forms. 3.
Right from the beginning, my Waheguru has prewritten the full destiny of every individual on his forehead. However, when an individual gets connected with the fearless Guru, he begins reciting Waheguru's Naam. My Waheguru is everything for me, including my father, mother, close relatives, and my brother. Waheguru forgives even worms like me, and connects with Him, oh Nanak(u). 4.3.17.37.

Word Meaning: Tay = from. Tut(u) = the origin; the root (Waheguru). Muleen = filthy. Pergut Bhuyee = appeared; regained its shine. Mooraara = a name for Waheguru. Shiv(i) Shukt(i) = (the darkness) of Waheguru's Maya. Chooka = got lifted. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning (birth). Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. 1. Kit(u) Bidh(i) = by what means? Sunt Junhou = holy people. Chusa = the twinkling of the eye. Hur(i) Rus = the sweetness of the Naam. Pause. Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Leeni = got absorbed. Sat Purakh = (the manifestation of) Waheguru. Keeni = accepted. 2.

Goondaata = the source of virtues. Uvguniaaray = having unholy qualities. Shernaaguti = shelter seekers. Moorr = incorrigible. Moogudh = complete idiots. Nistaaray = ferried across (the sea of Maya). 3. Anund(u) = bliss. Sujjan = friend. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Sohila = song of happiness. Duyya = kindness. Dhaar(i) = take; use. Baynti = request. Chaytaaya = made to remember. Dhoorr(i) = dust of feet (show deep respect). 4.

MEANING: How can I realize Waheguru whose sight gives me life, oh devotees of the Guru? I cannot survive even for a moment without Waheguru; please connect me to the Guru so that I may drink the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

Divine Knowledge (connection with Waheguru) can be acquired through the Guru only when one also ponders on the origin of everything (Waheguru). By reciting the Naam of Waheguru, the filthy mind regains its shine (after the filth is removed) and the darkness due to the effects of Waheguru's Maya is dispelled. But only those who love Waheguru's Naam have it prewritten on their foreheads right from the beginning. 1. I wish to sing Waheguru's virtues, and listen to them because it is Waheguru's praise by which one attains a high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). I have acquired the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam from the Guru, and now my body and mind are fully absorbed in the Naam. The Guru (who is a manifestation of Waheguru) is worthy of our respect, who has bestowed the worship of Waheguru on me. I have found the Guru who has connected me with Waheguru. 2. The King, Waheguru, is the provider (source) of all the virtues, whereas we are full of vices. We sinners, heavy like a rock with our sins, are saved from drowning in the sea of Maya by the Guru's advice. Waheguru, the source of virtues, is pure (without any vice), whereas we are sinners. We, the incorrigible idiots, are in Your shelter; please save (salvage) us, oh Waheguru. 3. When an individual recites Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter, he enjoys the bliss of the higher spiritual state; he realizes the Waheguru-friend, and feels as if the song of joy is playing in his heart. It is my prayer to Waheguru that He be kind and gift me His Naam, which I wish to recite all the time. The slave, Nanak(u), begs for the dust of the feet of those who have realized Waheguru. 4.4.18.38.

NOTE: The word “Chautha” following the digit 4 in the heading of the Shabad explains how to pronounce “4”. It is Not to be pronounced four, but “fourth”.

Word Meaning: Shast, Simrit = Hindu Granths. Gorukh(u) = the name of the founder of the Yoga sect. Moorukh = ignorant (in the eyes of the world). 1. Gut(i) = condition; situation. Bhuj(u) = recite the name. Bhuoujul(u) = the world-sea. Taari = boat. Pause. Bibhoot = ash. Dayh = body. Svaari = adorned; modified. Triya = woman. Tiyaag(u) = renouncing; staying away. Brahamchaari = celibacy. Aas = hope; dependence. 2. Khuttri = an upper caste warrior. Soortun(u) = chivalry. Shood(u) = the untouchable (the lowest caste in Hinduism). Vaiysh(u) = the second lowest class, including farmers and traders. Per Kirt(u) = service to others. 3. Srisht(i) = world. Smaayee = pervading. Tayk = support. Tikaayee = based. 4.

MEANING: (To please the gods of their choice), the Brahmans read their religious books like the Shastras and the Simritis, while the yogi recites the name of Gorakh – the founder of their sect. However, (in the eyes of the people, I am ignorant) because I recite Waheguru’s Naam only. 1. I do not know (do not care) what people think of my situation, oh Waheguru, but I will recite Your Naam in my mind, which is the boat for me to swim across the sea of Maya. Pause. The Sanyasi adorns (according to his own belief) his body by covering it with ash, and practises celibacy by staying away from other women. (People may think of me as an ignoramus), But I depend only on You, oh my Waheguru. 2. The warrior displays his chivalry and is honoured for that. The untouchables and the farmers serve others as their duty to the upper classes; (people may think that I am ignorant), but Waheguru’s Naam is my only support, which gets one freedom from all bonds in Waheguru’s Court. 3. The whole world is Yours, and You are pervading everywhere, oh Waheguru! The devotees of the Guru are honoured by Waheguru, oh Nanak. Waheguru’s Naam is the real support for me, the ignorant. 4.1.39.

Tay jun Nanak Naam(i) smaayee. 4.2.40.

Word Meaning: Nirgoon = formless; above the effects of Maya. Kutha = saga; narrative. Bhuj(u) = recite (the Naam). Bhuoujul(u) = sea of Maya. 1. Gobind = Waheguru. Rusna = tongue. Pause. Daasun(i) Dass = servant of slaves. Jun = supreme devotee. Ootum = superior. 2. Jun Pug Rayn(u) = dust of the feet of the devotee. Vudbhaagee = lucky. 3. Likhiya Dhoor(i) = prewritten right from the beginning. 4.

MEANING: Of all the sagas, the saga of the Waheguru, which is formless and above the effects of Maya, is supreme. Recite Waheguru’s Naam in the company of the Guru and His congregation, and swim across the sea of Maya by listening to the narrative of the indescribable Waheguru, oh my friend. 1. Connect me with the congregation of the holy devotees so that I may sing Your sweet praise with my tongue, oh Waheguru. Pause. Please make me the slave of slaves of those who recite Your Naam, oh Waheguru. Serving the devotees of Waheguru is the noblest deed. 2.

I like the narrator of the saga of Waheguru. But, only a highly fortunate individual gets to touch the dust of the feet of such a supreme devotee. 3. Only those lucky individuals who are predestined right from the beginning develop love for the supreme devotees of Waheguru. Such individuals stay absorbed in the Naam, oh Nanak. 4.2.40.

Jun Nanak preet(i) Sadh pug chaatay. 4.3.41.

Word Meaning: Preet(i) = affection; blissfulness; overjoyed. Meenay = fish. 1. Buchhray = young calf. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Ja = when. 2. Saaring = rainbird; a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain, and that too only during a special period of time. Juldhaara = clouds. Nurput(i) = king. Pusaara = expansion. 3. Nur Praani = man. Khaatay = earn. Gulaatay = by the neck; hug tightly. Sadh pug = feet (Shabad) of the Guru. Chaatay = lick; kiss. 4.

MEANING: A mother feels overjoyed when her son is fed. The fish feels happy when she swims in water, but Satguru feels blissful when His Sikh is fed. 1.
Connect me with those dear devotees of Yours, meeting with whom, all my discomforts (and worries) go away, oh Waheguru. Pause. A cow feels happy to express her affection when she is connected with her calf; a wife feels overjoyed when her husband gets home. But a devotee feels blissful when he sings Waheguru's praise. 2. The rainbird feels happy when it rains, and a king feels happy to see the expansion of his wealth (or territory). But a Waheguru's devotee feels blissful when he recites the Naam of the Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. 3.
A man feels happy when he earns wealth, and a Gur Sikh feels overjoyed when the Guru hugs him tightly. The slave, Nanak, feels blessed when he licks the dust of the feet of his Guru (humbly serves Him by obeying His Advice). 4.3.41

Jun Nanak preet(i) triput(i) Gur(u) Saacha. 4.4.42.

Word Meaning: Bheekhuk = beggar. Preet(i) = affection; satisfaction; happiness. Bheekh = alms. Unn(u) = food. Aghaayay = content. 1. Dershun(u) = respectful word for “seeing”; sight. Loach = longing. Pause. Chuckvee = ruddy duck; ੳ bird that is believed to call her mate all night, which gets separated at night, and meets her after sunrise. Tiyaagaiy = dispelled. Mookh(i) Laagaiy = see face- to-face 2. Buchhray = calf. Kheer(u) = milk. Hirdaiy = at heart. Bigsaiy = feels very happy. 3. Kaacha = weak; short=lived. Koorra = not real; short-lived. Kuch Paacha = half-cooked; temporary. Triput(i) = contentment. 4.

MEANING: A beggar feels very happy when his prayer to God is answered, and he gets alms; a starving man feels happy when he gets food to eat. But a Gur Sikh loves meeting the Guru and feels very happy when it happens. 1. Please fulfill my longing to see You, I am waiting with the hope that You will show me Your holy Sight, oh Waheguru! Pause. Separated from her mate, the ruddy duck stays awake all night in his love, and waits impatiently for the sun to rise so that she can connect with her dear, when all her pining would be gone. But a Gur Sikh loves to see his Guru face-to-face. 2.
A calf feels satisfied to have his mother’s milk in his mouth, while his mother’s heart blooms to see him. But a Gur Sikh wishes for the Sight of his Guru (and is pleased when he gets that). 3. Any affection other than for the Guru is weak (short-lived), and the fake and temporary attachment ends soon. But the affection for the Guru is eternal, and is the source of bliss, oh Nanak. 4.4.42.

Krishan(u) Bulbhudur(u) Gur pug lug(i) dhiyaavaiy. Nanak Gurmukh(i) Hur(i) aap(i) turaavaiy. 4.5.43.

Word Meaning: Suful = leading to success; rewarding. Dhuni = Lord; (source of everything to fulfill our needs); Waheguru. Chooti = freed from all bonds. Ghunee = very many. 1.

Vus(i) = under control. Dhaavut = rushing in different directions. Punch = the five (senses). Undin(u) = everyday; always. Nugree = town; heart. 2. Pug Dhoor(i) = dust of the feet (show respect by obeying). Koorr = not real; worthless activities. Tiyaagay = abandoned. Liv = connected with full concentration. Oojul Mookh = radiating faces exuding love for God. 3. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Bulbhudur(u) = Bulram (elder brother of Krishna).4.
MEANING: Recite Waheguru (His Naam) which dispels all the sins, oh my Gur Sikh brothers. Pause. Service to the Guru is always rewarding as one recites the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of everything to fulfill our needs, in His (Guru's) Company. Whosoever worships Waheguru, enables a large number of other people to get freedom from the bonds of Maya, and find salvation. 1. I was able to control my mind after connecting with the Guru when all my five senses, which were rushing in different directions, quit wandering. My whole body and mind began to sing the virtues of Waheguru all the time. 2. Those, who put the dust of the feet of Satguru on their face (obey his advice) abandon the short-lived comforts of life, and stay connected with Waheguru. Their faces radiate in Waheguru's Court (they are honoured there). 3.
Waheguru likes service to the Guru. Krishan Ji, and his elder brother Balram, also worshipped (Waheguru) sitting at the feet of their Guru. Waheguru, Himself grants salvation to the devotees of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.5.43.

Hur(i) aapay Nanak paavaiy paara. 4.6.44.
Word Meaning: Dundadhaari = holding baton (of yogis) in hand. Ruv Ruhiya = pervading. Banvaari = a name for Waheguru). Tup(u) Taapaiy = meditator, and endurer of self-imposed hardships. Taari = taarri = deep meditation. 1. Bhurpoor(i) = filling completely. Nicket = close by. Pause. Soorut(i) = attention; awareness. Dhoon(i) = devotion. Vigsaiy = blooms. 2. Saaring = rainbird; a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain, and that too which happens only during a special period of time; desirous of Naam-Amrit. Nistaara = deliverance (from bonds of Maya). 3.
Toolha = a crude flat boat; raft. Taara = ferry. Paavaiy Paara = ferries across. 4.
MEANING: My Waheguru is such that He is pervading everywhere; therefore, he is very close to everyone, and not far away. Pause. Being omnipresent, Waheguru is present in the yogis too; so He is also the one who holds the yogis' baton in His hand, endures physical hardships, and settles into deep meditation. 1.
Waheguru Himself is everything – the Shabad, devotion and awareness. He watches His creation and feels joyful. Waheguru Himself inspires people to recite His Naam, and being present in them, it is also He who recites His Naam. 2. Waheguru Himself is the rainbird, and Himself causes rain, which is like a stream of Amrit (life-sustaining liquid) for the rainbird. He also serves Naam-Amrit to the devotees. Sitting in the living beings, it is Waheguru who does everything; and He Himself salvages the people by emancipating them (from the bonds of Maya). 3. Waheguru Himself is the ferry, the raft, and the boat for the people to cross the sea of Maya by prompting them to take Guru's shelter. Waheguru Himself takes the people to the other end of the sea, oh Nanak. 4.6.44.

Jun Nanak Shah(u) Hur(i) sayviya, phir(i) laykha mool(i) na layee. 4.1.7.45.

Word Meaning: Shah(u) = money lender (source of virtues). Dhuni = Lord; rich in virtues. Raas(i) = capital (of virtues); character (nature). Vunjeh = do trading; deal in. Rung = affection. Siyoun = with. Duyaal(u) = kind. 1. Vunjaaray = dealers in. Vunuj(u) = trade. Pause. Laaha = profit; benefit. Khuttiya = earned. Bhaaya = liked. Vukkhur(u) = merchandise. Luddiya = loaded. Jum Jagaati = the taxman of the Angel of death. 2. Anunt = countless. Trungeen = waves; attractions of Maya. Ful(u) = result. 3. Laykha = account (of deeds). Mool(i) Na = not at all. 4.

MEANING: We are the traders of Waheguru's Naam. He gives us the character (qualities) as capital to do business in His Naam. Pause. You are our Lord, and the wealthy source of virtues, oh Waheguru. Whatever qualities You give us to shape our character, we inherit just those. We can deal in Your Naam with affection only if You instill that in us with Your kindness. 1. The eternal source of virtues, Waheguru, likes us dealing in His Naam, and we earn His worship as an added benefit (to swim across the sea of Maya). We have loaded the merchandise of His Naam to worship Him, as a result of which the taxman (demanding account of our vices, which we do not have any more) of the Angel of death cannot even come near us. 2. Other kinds of dealings involve Maya, which attracts humans in countless ways, and the dealers in such dealings suffer greatly. They reap the rewards of the dealings to which they have been put by Waheguru. 3.
Only those individuals deal in Waheguru's Naam who are (prompted by) Waheguru's benevolence to do so. Nobody checks the deeds of those who serve the eternal source of virtues – Waheguru – oh Nanak. 4.7.45.

Word Meaning: Jun-nee = mother. Gerbh(u) = pregnancy. Paalti = nourishes. Soot = son. Ker Bhog Bilaasa = to enjoy life. Raakhda = protects. Day Huthaasa = giving hand; by supporting. 1. Goosuyyiyaan = Lord of the world (Waheguru). Oopma = praise. Vuduyiya = praise; credit; greatness. Pause. Mundar(i) Ghur(i) = heart. Anund = bliss. Jus(u) = praise. Rus = juices; essences. Parvaar Sudhaar = refiner (saviour) of the clan. Ikkih Kooleen = twenty-one generations. (It is a Hindu belief that a devotee salvages his 21 generations). This number has been used in Guru Granth Sahib many times to underscore the importance of worshiping Waheguru, but generations do not mean ancestors or future generations. It means associates and the followers. 2.
Vertda = operates. Bhugut(i) Bhundaar = treasures of worship. Luhayaynda = provides (makes available/ Vertaayee = serves. 3. Laala = slave. Haat(i) Vihaajhiya = (as if) bought at a shop; paid for. Chuturaayee = cleverness. Ghaasi = one who makes his living by selling grass. Kudhaayee = is free from the possible punishment for bad deeds; receives salvation. 4.

MEANING: Just as a mother nourishes her pregnancy (fetus) with the hope that a son would be born who will provide her the necessities to enjoy life, Waheguru protects (sustains) the love of His devotee by providing support. 1. I am ignorant, protect (help) me (so that I may worship You), oh my Waheguru, oh the Lord of the earth. The praise of Your devotee is Your praise, oh Waheguru. Pause. The individual, who cherishes Waheguru's praise, enjoys bliss in his mind-home. He enjoys all tastes when he sings Waheguru's virtues with his tongue. The supreme devotee of Waheguru is a strong support to his family of associates and enables their many clans (associates) to attain freedom from the bonds of Maya. 2. If an individual performs noble deeds, the credit and praise go to Waheguru, because He is the one who does all that (inspires the individual to do so). Waheguru owns all human beings, and He operates in all of them; He makes them worship Him. He is the source of all the treasures of worship, and serves it (makes it available) (His worship) to everybody. 3.
I am a bought slave (like an item bought at a store of which the buyer is the master) of Waheguru (I have no claim on my life now), so what cleverness can I be proud of? If Waheguru puts me on a royal throne, I will still be His slave, and if He makes me a grass-seller (being His slave), His Naam will protect me from all attractions of Maya (I will be salvaged). It is Waheguru's greatness that I am His slave, oh Nanak. 4.8.46.

Gaurri Gooarayri Mehla 4: Kirsaani, kirsaan(u) kuray, loachaiy jeeo laayay. Hul(u) jotaiy oodum(u) kuray, mayra poot(u) dhee khaayay. Word Meaning: Kirsaani = farming. Loachaiy = longs for; wishes. Jeeo Laayay = with full dedication. Hul(u) = (manual) tiller. Jotaiy = operates. Oodum(u) = effort. Unt(i) = in the end. Chhudaayay = gets freedom from Maya (provides salvation). 1.
Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Kaam = deeds (of spirituality). Pause.
Tooray = horses. Saugari = for trading. Dhaavaiy = rushes. Khutaiy = earns. 2.
Bikh(u) = poison; Maya. Sunchaiy = accumulates. Hutvaania = shop-keeper. Jhootth = temporary. Pusaara = expanse. Luptaayay = clings to. 3.
Kootumb(u) = family. Bhaayay = in the love of. Phaas = snare; shackled. Turaiy = swims across. Daasun(i) Dass = slave of slaves. Pergaas = enlightenment. 4.

MEANING: A farmer works with full dedication and wishes for a good crop. He puts in a lot of effort and operates the tiller to provide food for his son and daughter (his family). Exactly the same way (with the same dedication), a devotee of Waheguru recites His Naam, which gets him salvation in the end. 1. I am highly ignorant, please raise my spiritual state (enlighten me), oh my Waheguru. Please, put me in the service of the Guru which is the real deed (objective) of human life. Pause. A trader rushes to trade his horses with the hope that he will make a big profit, which further enhances his attachment with Maya. Exactly the same way, the devotee of Waheguru recites His Naam and enjoys the bliss (of union with Him). 2. A shopkeeper accumulates wealth by running his shop, and even though his expansion of business and his love for money are false (short-lived), he still clings to the false things. Exactly the same way, the devotee of Waheguru accumulates the wealth of His Naam which serves as his journey expenses (to the next world where he will be honoured). 3. The attachment to the family and money is the love for the other (Maya), which serves as a snare for the individual (and keeps him disconnected from Waheguru). Only that individual finds salvation with Guru's advice who becomes very humble like a slave of slaves. I am a devotee of Waheguru, and have recited His Naam in the shelter of the Guru who has enlightened my mind, oh Nanak. 4.3.9.47.

Word Meaning: Laaluch(u) = greed; voracity. Bhermaiy = runs around aimlessly. Bhermaaya = misled. Vaygar = forced labour (with no compensation). Otthaaya = carries. Ghur Kaiy Kumm(i) = working for self interest (union with God). 1. Nur = Praani = man. Chaakri = service. Urth(i) = for (the sake of). Kaiy = either; or Daan(i) = tax; punishment. Dhunn(u) = worthy of worship (respect). Suful = rewarding. 2. Nit = everyday. Sauda sood(u) = trading; business. Buhou Bhaant(i) = of many diferent ways. Taayeen = for. Laaha = profit. Munay = feel. Toataiy = loss. Saanjhi = share; gets. Siyoun = from. Nit Nit = everyday; always. 3. Jitnee = as much. Un Rus Saad = taste of other sweet substances. Titnee = the same. Vaychay = sells. Triptiya = contented. 4.

MEANING: Please, free me from the bonds of Maya, and put me in the real business (objective) of life, which is to sing Your virtues and get fully absorbed in Naam, oh my Waheguru. Pause. Misled by his greed, the man runs around aimlessly day and night carrying a heavy load of misdeeds. (In the realm of spirituality), his deeds are like forced labour for which there is no reward. On the other hand, an individual, who serves the Guru, has been put to work for his self-interest (union with God) by Waheguru. 1.

A man may join the services of a king for money; but it is possible that the king may imprison him, or give some other punishment (if he gets mad for some reason), or the king may even die (leaving the man without any service benefits). (So, such service is risky). However, serving the Guru is always rewarding. The Guru gives His Sikh the gift of Naam, which he recites and enjoys its bliss. 2. For the sake of money, the man runs various businesses every day. When he makes a profit, he feels good, but when he loses, he feels like he has died. But the virtues, which he acquires from the Guru, are always comforting. 3. The more the appetite for the enjoyment of other tastes that one has, the more he longs for them, and he never gets contented. But, the individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, sells his head (mind; thinking) to the Guru (he takes Guru's advice) as a result of which the individual gets fully content with Waheguru's Naam-juice, and never feels hungry again, oh Nanak. 4.4.10. 48.

Word Meaning: Chit(i) = in memory (mind). Ders(s) = (holy) glimpse; sight. Koorbani = offer to sacrifice. Vichhurriya = separated. Sirjunhaara = Creator. 1. Shern(i) = (seek) shelter. Dooaar(i) = door. Mut(u) = may be; hopefully. Nirgoon = devoid of virtues. Kubhoon = sometime. Pause. Uvgoon = vices. Gunut(u) = counting. Goonvunta = rich in virtues. Duyyaal = kind. Bukhsh = forgive. Bhaaaiy = liking. Upraadhi = sinner, guilty. Oopdaysh = advice. Chhudaayay = gets free (from any sin and bonds of Maya). 2. Bisum = mesmerized; enthralled. Bundhup = close relative. Sukha = friend. 3. Bidh(i) = situation; condition. Sa = that. Rooltay Phirtay = degraded; insulted everywhere. Keeray = worms. Thaapay = gave dignity. Chookay = ended. Soag = grief. Suntaapay = sufferings. 4.

MEANING: I am a sinner, and have come to Your Door to seek Your shelter with the hope that maybe You will be kind sometime, and connect an unwise person like me, who is devoid of virtues, with You, oh my Waheguru. Pause. I wish it, but do not know how to have a holy glimpse of Yours, oh Waheguru. Waheguru, which has instilled this affection for Him in me, knows all about my desire that I love Him very much. I wish to sacrifice my life for my Guru, who has connected me to my Creator, from whom I had been disconnected. 1. I have so many vices that they cannot be counted even if I try again and again; but You are full of (source of) virtues, and are so kind that You forgive people like me at Your pleasure, oh Waheguru. Sinners like me are saved in the company of the Guru, who teaches us that Waheguru's Naam is the real saviour. 2. How can I describe Your virtues when I get mesmerized while describing them, oh my Satguru? Who else can save a guilty person (sinner) like me the way my Satguru has saved me by freeing me from the bonds of Maya? You are my father, my mother, my close relative, and my friend, oh my Satguru. 3. You know the (pathetic) condition I would have been in, oh my Satguru. I would have been degraded and insulted everywhere, and nobody would have even talked to me. But You have given dignity to me –to this worm – oh my Satguru. My Guru is worthy of my worship in whose company all my griefs and sufferings have vanished, oh Nanak. 4.5.11.49.

Word Meaning: Kunchun = gold. Jeeo = mind. Loobhut(u) = greedy of; engrossed; occupied. Mundar = mansion. Un Rus = other tastes. Chhootaan = get freedom from Maya. Hur(i) Raaya = Waheguru-King. 1. Neech Kerm = ignoble deeds. Goonvunta = rich in (source of) virtues. Bukhsh = forgive. Uvgun = ill=qualities; vices. Pause. Roop = beauty; good qualities. Jaat(i) = (higher) caste; status in society. Dhung = civility to deal with others. Kiya mooh(i) = with what face. Goon-bihoon = devoid of good qualities. Oobray = salvaged. Poonn(u) = kindness; noble deed. Kayra = of. 2. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Vertun Kuou = for use. Unn(u) = food. Painun(u) = clothes. Un(i) = other. Bhogaani = to enjoy. Pusoo = animal. Huoun = mine. 3. Vertda = operates. Untarjaami = omniscient. Junt = living beings; creatures. Vichaaray = helpless. Khayl(u) = drama. Soami = Lord. Haat(i) Vihaajhiya = bought from the market. Goolum Goolaami = slave of salves. 4.

MEANING: My mind is fully engrossed in the love for my wife and gold (wealth), and I find the attachment with Maya to be sweet, oh my Waheguru. I feel zestful to see my mansion and horses, and my mind is enjoying the tastes of many other sweet (attractive) things. You never come to my mind, so how will I find salvation, oh Your Majesty, my Waheguru? 1. Such are my ignoble deeds, oh my Waheguru. You are the source of all virtues, and are kind; please, forgive me for all my vices, oh my Waheguru. Pause.

I have no good looks, no high caste (status in society), no civility in my dealings with others, and no other good qualities. I have not even recited Your Naam, so with what face can I talk to You, oh my Waheguru? It is Satguru's kindness that a sinner like me has found salvation in His company. 2. (The kind) Waheguru has given us life, a body (and important organs like the mouth and nose), and water to use. He also gave us food to eat, clothes to wear, and many other tasty things for us to enjoy. But the thankless man never brings such kind Waheguru in mind, and the animal thinks that everything belongs to him. 3. Everything, that is operating (happening) in the universe, is Your creation, and You are omniscient, oh Waheguru. What can we helpless creatures do? It is all Your drama, oh God. I am a slave of Waheguru's slaves who has been bought in the market (I have no independent existence), oh Nanak. 4.6.12.50.

Untee Ausur = at the time of death. Chhudaaya = salvages.4.

MEANING: Just as a mother raises her son after giving him birth, and always keeping him in her sight and feeding him with affection inside and out all the time; the Satguru nurtures His Sikhs with the spiritual food of love and affection for Waheguru. 1.
We, the children of God are highly ignorant; but the Satguru-Teacher is great, is great, who has made us wise (enlightened us) by his advice, oh Waheguru. Pause.
Just like the white-coloured koonj which flies in the sky away from her chicks, but still feeds them by keeping them in mind while picking food, the Satguru always keeps His Sikhs in mind to deliver the love of Waheguru to them. 2. Think of the amazing thing how Waheguru protects the tongue, which is made of flesh and blood, from the sharp knife of the 30-32 teeth in the mouth. Someone may think that the tongue and the teeth have some control; no, not at all; it is all in the control of Waheguru. Just as Waheguru protects the tongue in the mouth, He protects the dignity of His supreme devotees from any harm from their malicious critics. 3. Let no one ever think that he has control over the happenings in everyday life, oh my brother. Humans do only what they are made to do by Waheguru. Even sufferings like old age, death, fever, headache, curses, etc., are under the control of Waheguru, and nobody else can cause them. So, recite Naam of such Waheguru with body and mind all the time which emancipates you in the end, oh slave, Nanak. 4.7.13.51.

Gaavaahi = makes to sing. 4.
MEANING: How can I connect with my dear Satguru? I wish to kneel before Him every moment; but I do not know how to connect with Him. Pause. Satguru is the one in whose company the mind feels blissful, and the indecisiveness of the mind due to any doubts vanishes; and one attains the highest spiritual state (where the mind becomes one with Waheguru). 1. Waheguru kindly connected me with my Perfect Satguru, as a result of which my wish was fulfilled, and I was able to get the dust of His feet (show my affectionate respect). 2. My Satguru reiterates and explains the importance of worshiping Waheguru, which never experiences any shortage. Actually, we earn the benefit (favour of Waheguru) by constantly remembering His worship in our minds. 3.

The Satguru, who has no love for Maya, and whose heart is always blooming (blissful), makes us sing Waheguru's praise, and we find salvation on meeting with Him. Oh Nanak. 4.8.14.52.

NOTE 2: Note the difference in spellings of "Nanak". "Nanak(u)" specifies that Guru Ram Dass Ji is talking about Himself.
Word Meaning: Duyaal(u) = kind. Ut(i) = extremely. Goohrra = deep. Choali = cloak; heart. 1. Houn = I. Golli = slave. Sayti = with. Maaniya = won over; liked. Amoali = without any payment. Pause. Bibayk(u) = ability to distinguish. Khoaj(i) = by searching. Dhundholi = search. Roop(u) = forms; manifestations. Nickut (i) = close by. Koali = nearby. 2. Vusaiy = dwells; is present. Jug = world. Uprumpur = without limits. Atoli= which cannot be weighed (evaluated). Pergut(u) = appear; visible; lighten up. Vaychiyo Moali = sold and received the price (so left with no control). 3. Shernaagut(i) = seeking shelter. Vudoali = with a huge lap in which everybody can be accommodated. Vaychoali = mediator. 4.
MEANING: I am a slave of my Waheguru. Ever since my mind was won over by Waheguru's love, He made the whole world my slave for which I did not have to pay even a single paisa (cent). Pause. The kind Waheguru did a favour to me as a result of which, my mind, my body, and my tongue, all are reciting His Naam. My love for Him has become extremely deep in the shelter of the Guru, and my body and mind are imbued in His love. 1. The supreme devotees of Waheguru have enlightened me with the ability with which I searched for Waheguru in my own heart, and found out that Waheguru resides very close to me (in the heart), and all the visible bodies of different shapes and colours are His own forms, and He dwells in all of them. 2. The infinite and immeasurable Waheguru is pervading the whole world and is close to everybody. Waheguru is made to “appear” by the Perfect Satguru to whom I have sold (surrendered) my head (wisdom) with full price (the Guru has given me the life-sustaining Naam in return). 3.

I have sought the shelter of Waheguru, which is present inside and out (pervading the whole universe) and so vast that He can provide shelter to the whole world. I am a slave of Waheguru, and sing His virtues day and night in the company of Satguru, who is the mediator (the one who connects with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.1.15.53.

MEANING: Oh, my infinite, and the Lord of the world, Waheguru! You are the life of the world, and the author of the fate of living beings. We follow only the path You motivate us to follow. 1. My heart has been imbued in Your love, oh Waheguru. I have realized the sweetness of Your Naam in the company of the holy congregation of Your devotees, and I am fully absorbed in Your Naam. Pause. Waheguru’s eternal Naam is the panacea of all diseases in the world. All the sins and the vices of those who taste Waheguru’s sweet Naam by the advice of the Guru, are washed away (vanish). 2.
Those who have their destiny pre-written on their forehead right from the Source (are predestined to do so), take a dip in the pool of contentment of the Guru (they get contented). All the filth of the ill thoughts of all those who are imbued in Waheguru’s Naam is washed away. 3. You alone are the Lord of the world, and nobody is as great a provider as You are, oh Waheguru. MEANING: My body and my mind have been pierced (impacted deeply) by You, oh my Waheguru. Whereas the whole world is in the grip of (spiritual) death, I have been saved by the advice of the Guru, my Satguru. Pause.
Please be kind, and inspire me so that my mind is fully absorbed in Your Naam, oh, the life of the world, and the provider for the whole world, Waheguru. Please connect me with Satguru so that my mind is fired up to recite Your Naam with His pure and holy advice. 1. Those men who are money-minded and have no affection for Waheguru are foolish and weak-minded. They love Maya, as a result of which they rot in the big suffering of reincarnation. 2. You are very kind and protect all those who seek Your shelter, oh Waheguru. Please give me the gift of Your love so that my mind may long for You. Please make me the slave of Your slaves so that my mind may dance in bliss with love for You. 3. You are the source of all virtues, and I am the trader for them. Maasa and Toala = very small weighing units for gold. Ghutiyaiy = lose; become less.

MEANING: You must realize that Waheguru is always with us, oh my mind; so, where can we run away from Him (where can we hide our misdeeds)? Only the eternal Waheguru can forgive us for our ill deeds, and He is the only one who can save us from the bonds of Maya. 1. We must always remember Waheguru by reciting His Naam, and to do that, rush to take the refuge of Satguru because we can escape the bonds of Maya only by following His advice, oh my mind. Pause. Seek the refuge of Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, and recite His Naam by means of which you will stay in your own home (attain peace and quit wandering), oh my mind. Just as sandalwood gives off fragrance when it is rubbed against a rock, to produce the fragrance of Waheguru's sweet Naam, rub yourself with Waheguru, oh my mind. 2. Singing Waheguru's praise, and only Waheguru's praise, is the best and the most profitable business as it produces bliss, oh my mind. But you cannot do it on your own; you can taste the Amrit-Juice only by the benevolence of God. 3. People who indulge in Maya rather than Waheguru's Naam are strangulated by the Angel of death. Those money-minded people who have dropped Waheguru's Naam from their hearts are thieves (who steal Waheguru's gifts because they do not even thank Him); you should not even get close to them, oh my mind. 4.
You should serve the incomprehensible Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya so that nobody asks any question about the account of your deeds, oh my mind. Waheguru makes His devotees perfect to the extent that they are not short (of the standards set by Waheguru for His approval) even by a very small amount, oh Nanak. 5.5.19.57.

Word Meaning: Vusgut(i) = control. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Durs(u) = (holy) sight. Loach = longing; wish. Ghunary = deep; very much. 1. Kayri = of. Kinchut(i) = a little. Pause. Chit(i) = in mind. Sa = that. Bidh(i) = condition. Undin(u) = every day. 2. Daatay = provider; benevolent. Punth = path (to connect with Waheguru). Anund = blissfulness. Bhuyya = happened. Pooji = fulfilled. 3. Jugun-Nath = Jugdeeshur = Lord of the world. Kertay = the creator. Paiyj = dignity. Jun = slave; devotee. 4.

MEANING: My life is in Your control, and my body and my mind are given by You, oh my Waheguru. Please, be kind, and let me have a glimpse of Yours; my body and my mind long for Your Sight, oh Waheguru. 1. My mind and my body have a strong yearning to connect with You, oh my Waheguru. The benevolent Guru was very kind to me as well, and He connected me with You, oh my Waheguru. Pause. Whatever is in my mind, You know all that, oh my Lord. I wish to recite Your Naam every day (all the time), and I enjoy bliss simply by hoping to connect with You. 2. The benevolent Satguru showed me the path (to connect with You), and I did connect with You. With great luck, my hope (wish) as a devotee has been fulfilled, and I am feeling blissful all the time. 3. Everything is under the control of Waheguru, the creator and Lord of the world. The slave (Guru) Nanak has come to Your shelter; kindly save my dignity (save me from the bonds of Maya), oh Waheguru. 6.20.58.

Hum bhool chook Gur kirpa dhaarhou, jun Nanak kootray kaandhay. 4.7.21.59.

Word Meaning: Munooa = fickle mind. Khin(u) = a moment. Tikaiy = stabilize. Deh Dis(i) = ten directions (every direction). Haanday = wanders aimlessly. Muntar(u) = mantra. Tthaandhay = stops; stabilizes. 1. Laalay = slaves. Kaandhay = are called; are known as. Pause. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Daag(u) = scars. Dugaana = branded. Kurj = debt (of favours). Saandhay = accumulated. Peroopkaar(u) = selfless favours to others. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Bhuou = Bhuvjul(u) = the world-sea. Dootur(u) = very difficult to cross. Taar(i) puraadhay = ferried across. 2.

Kooray = perishable; fake (show off). Gaandhun Gaandhay = bondings. Kaagud(u) = paper. Binus(i) = is destroyed (dissolves). Gerbh(i) = in the womb. Glaadhay = rot. 3.
Jaaniya = realized. Aagaiy = next world. Tthandhay = stay (accept His Will). Bhool Chook = mistakes and omissions. Kootray = puppies (pets); humble servants. Kaandhay = are called. 4.
MEANING: The fickle mind does not stabilize even for a single moment, and wanders in every possible direction seeking to enjoy different colourful attractions of the world. But, when a highly fortunate individual connects with the Perfect Guru, his mind finds stability with the advice of the Guru and by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 1. I am known as Your slave, oh my Waheguru. Pause. I have accumulated too many favours (kindnesses) of the Guru for which I am His slave, and have been branded on the forehead as such (it is a show of respect for the Guru). The Guru has done a huge favour to me, which is a highly noble deed on His part, that I have been ferried across the world sea, which is otherwise next to impossible to swim across (the Guru has freed me from all evils). 2.
Those who have no affection for Waheguru have made very weak (temporary) connections with the world. The money-minded people rot in the womb (going through many life forms, thereby losing their permanent identity) like paper dissolves in water (and loses its identity). 3. I have realized that the man does not know anything about his future and must accept Waheguru's Will. (Guru) Nanak says that we are like a puppy in training, which makes mistakes; please be kind to us, oh my Waheguru. 4.7.21.59.

Jun Nanak Naam(u) adhaar(u) tayk haiy, Hur(i) Naamay hee sookh(u) munda hay. 4.8.22.60.
Word Meaning: Kaam(i) = lust. Nugur(u) = human body; world. Khundal Khunda = cut into pieces; destroyed. Poorub(i) Likhut = pre-written; predestined. Liv = connected with full concentration. Mundal = halo of light. Munda = adorned; decorated. 1.
Anjuli = bow down with folded hands. Poonn(u) = noble deed. Dundout = lie down flatly on the belly as a mark of respect. Pause. Saakut = Maya-engrossed; disconnected from God. Saad(u) = taste. Kunda = thorn. Choobhay = pierce. Jumkaal = (fear of) death. Dunda = baton (punishment). 2. Smaanay = absorbed. Bhuv = birth and death. Khunda = destroyed. Abinaashi Purakh = immortal Waheguru. Sobh = praise.

Khund Brahmunda = a part of the universe (world). 3. Greeb = poor; weak. Muskeen = humble. Adhaar(u) Tayk = support. Munda = source; realized. 4.
MEANING: The human body is full of lust and rage, which can be destroyed only in the company of the Guru. However, one cannot connect with the Guru on one's own; it happens only when one is predestined to meet with the Guru. With Guru's advice, one focuses his mind with full concentration on Waheguru, as a result of which his mind is enlightened and is adorned with virtues. 1. We must bow to the Guru with folded hands and even lie flat at His feet (to respect and obey His Commands); this is a (spiritually) noble deed. Pause. A Maya-rapt individual does not have any idea of the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam, and has a thorn of haumein in his mind which pierces him when his ego is hurt in his routine work. As a result of his ego and his separation from Waheguru, he endures the baton (punishment) of death (reincarnation). 2. On the other hand, the devotees of Waheguru are fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and their suffering of reincarnation is terminated. They realize the immortal Waheguru and earn praise in the world. 3.
We are humble and poor servants of Yours, oh Waheguru. You are great, great, oh Waheguru. Please protect us from Maya's attacks. His slave, Nanak, has the support of Waheguru's Naam alone, and the Naam is the source of all comfort. 4.4.22.60.

Word Meaning: Gurrh = fort (human body). Saad(u) Paavaiy = enjoy taste. Dheettha = shameless. Deen Duyyal = kind to the powerless. Anugreh = kindness. Chukh(i) = taste. Deettha = saw; experienced. 1. Keertun = singing praise. Liv = connect with full concentration. Pause. Agumm = beyond reach. Agochar = inconceivable. Laag(i) = connected with. Buseettha = mediator. Buchun = Word (advice). Sookhaanay = comforting. Hearaiy = in heart. Aan(i) = brought. Preettha = served. 2.
Munmukh = money-engrossed. Heara = heart. Ut(i) = extremely. Kutthoar = stone - hearted which does not soften. Kaar Kreettha = very dark (with evil thoughts). Bissiur = snake. Bikh = poison. Phoal(i) Phooleettha = thorough search. 3.
Ghus(i) = by grazing. Groorr(u) = a mantra which is believed to remove (destroy the effect of) the poison of snakes (Hindu Granths). Leettha = took away; removed. Laalay goalay = slaves. Kurooa = bitter. Meettha = sweet. 4.
MEANING: Even though the King Waheguru dwells in the human body, the shameless (money-engrossed) individual does not taste His Naam. However, when Waheguru, who is munificent to the powerless (humble), shows some kindness, the lucky individual enjoys the taste (of His Naam) with Guru's Shabad. 1. Concentrating on Your Naam, and singing Your praise in the shelter of the Guru, is very sweet, oh Waheguru. Pause. Waheguru, which is otherwise unreachable and incomprehensible, can be realized (connected) with the benevolence of the Guru, who serves as the mediator. The Guru delivers Waheguru's Naam to those who find the Guru's Word to be highly comforting. 2. The hearts of the money-engrossed individuals are hard like stone, and are filled with the darkness (filth) of misdeeds. They are like the snakes found to have venom when searched, no matter how much milk is fed to them. 3.

Please connect us with the Guru whose Shabad is like the Groorr(u) Mantra, which can soak the venom (evil thinking) of the money-engrossed individuals, oh, Waheguru. I am a slave of the Guru in whose company the bitter (poisonous) nature of the money-engrossed individuals becomes sweet, oh Nanak. 4.9.23.61.

Word Meaning: Urth(i) = with the objective of. Daatay = provider; kind. Drirraaya = reinforced. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Bhaag Subhaagay = good luck. 1.
Ghut(i) Ghut(I) = in every heart. Rumuyiya = Waheguru = Ram Raayay. Rumut = is present. Liv = connection with full dedication. Bherm(u) = misbelief. Bhuou= fear; worries. Bhaagay = is dispelled. 2. Undhiyaaraiy = in the dark. Deepuk = lamp. Julaayay = lighted. Binus(i) Binaasiyo = destroyed completely. Vust = (the desired) invaluable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Luhee = acquired. Jaagay = awakens. 3. Budhik = hunter; prey (in the claws). Jum = angel of death. Johun = watches closely. Abhaagay = unlucky. 4. Binou = request. Shern = shelter. Luj Paat(i) = dignity. 5.
MEANING: With Guru's advice, one is enabled to concentrate fully on Your Naam, oh, Waheguru. Pause. So, with the objective of connecting with Waheguru, I have sold my whole body (as a slave on which I have no claim now) to the Perfect Guru. The kind Guru has reinforced Waheguru's Naam in me, as a result of which, my great fortune has appeared on my forehead. 1. The Emperor-Waheguru is present in every heart, and one gets connected with Him only with full dedication to the Guru's advice. I would love to cut my body and mind into pieces, and offer to the Guru (this is just an expression of love and respect) who has dispelled all my misbeliefs and worries with His Word. 2.

Guru's Divine Knowledge is a powerful lamp that enlightens the dark (ignorant) minds and connects them with Waheguru. The darkness of ignorance vanishes completely, and the mind is awakened as the desired, invaluable Waheguru's Naam is acquired in the heart. 3.
The individual, disconnected from Waheguru, loves money and is its prey (prisoner), as it acts like a hunter. The Angel of Death begins to keep a close eye on him. They do not sell their head (wisdom) to the Guru (do not listen to His advice); such individuals are unlucky who are caught in the birth-death cycle. 4. Please, Waheguru, my Lord, kindly listen to my request; I wish to seek Your shelter. My Guru is the saviour of my dignity; I am His slave and have sold my head to Him, oh Nanak. 5.10.24.62

Word Meaning: Ugiyaan = lacking knowledge (ignorant). Aap(u) = self; selfishness. Roag(u) = illness. Dhunn(u) = worthy of worship. Raaya = royal. 1. Buchun(i) = Word; advice. Pause. Hearaiy = in the heart. Maarug = Punth = path (to spirituality). Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Vichhurriya = separated. Gul(i) Laaya = hugged tightly. 2. Hirday Naal(i) = in the heart. Sehj Anund = bliss of the higher spiritual state. Bhuyya = happened; became. 3. Upraadh = crimes. Paap = sins. Dooshti = evils. Ub = now. Shernaagut(i) = in the shelter. Bhaaya = if (as) You please. 4.

MEANING: I realized You by the Word (Advice) of the Guru, oh Waheguru. Pause.
I was highly conceited, egoistic, and ignorant in my thinking, but was fortunately able to overcome my selfishness upon meeting the Guru. My Guru is Great, is Great (worthy of respect), because of whom I fully recovered from my illness of ego and selfishness, and felt blissful, oh my Royal Waheguru. 1. I had a deep affection for Waheguru in my heart (but did not know how to connect with Him); the Guru showed me the path (to connect with Him). I offer my body and mind to the service of the Guru who enabled me to hug my separated Waheguru tightly (made a strong connection). 2.
I had a great affection (yearning) to "see"' Waheguru; my Guru "showed" Him in my heart. Now, I am enjoying the bliss of the high spiritual state for which I am fully sold to my Guru (have no right on my mind). 3. I committed many crimes and sins, and on top of that, I committed the evilness of trying to hide them (from Waheguru) like a thief. Now, I am in Your shelter, kindly save my dignity (protect me from the attacks of Maya) in whatever way You please, oh Waheguru. 4.11.25.63.

Word Meaning: Shabad(u) Anahud(u) = the auto-playing Divine music which the yogis believe to hear in their meditation. Munooa = mind. Vudbhaageen = with great luck. Dhunn(u) = Great; worthy of praise. Liv = connection with full concentration. 1. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Kaar = deeds. Mul(i) Mul(i) = by rubbing well. 2. Rusaayin(u) = source of all enjoyment. Rusuk(i) = enjoying the taste. Rus = the Amrit of the Naam. Aghaanay = contented. Bhookh = appetite; desire. 3. Oopaav = make plans to deal with something. Anayk = countless. Gurmut(i) advice of the Guru. Drirraavaiy = reinforce. 4.

MEANING: One can connect with Waheguru with full concentration on His Naam in the shelter of the Guru (by His guidance). Pause. With Guru's advice, my mind dances to sing praise of Waheguru, and I feel as if I am listening to the auto-playing Divine music. My Guru is Great, by whose grace I have been connected with Waheguru with my full dedication, and I have had a glimpse of Him. 1. The Perfect Satguru is a manifestation of the Lord, Waheguru, and my mind is performing the deeds as per His advice. The Guru tells me the story (deep secrets) of Waheguru, and I love to wash the feet of the Guru by gently rubbing them (an expression of love and respect). 2.

I have my Guru's advice at heart that inspires me to sing praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all enjoyment, and my tongue sings His praise. My mind is fully content by enjoying the Amrit of the Naam, and I will never feel the appetite (desire) of Maya again. 3.

No matter how many plans one thinks of to acquire Waheguru's Naam, he cannot do so without the benevolence (of the Guru). Waheguru has been very kind to this slave, Nanak, that I am repeating (reciting) Waheguru Naam (all the time) now. 4.12.26.64.

Word Meaning: Jindoo = soul; mind. Kerma = deeds. Mut(i) = wisdom. Jeeo = life. Suntokh = contentment. Ajunma = who never takes birth. 1.
Jogi = connected with God. Maani = enjoy. Rung(i) Rutrra = imbued with love (of God). Nirbaani = detached from Maya. Sooghurr Soojaani = wise and respectable. Bhinna = imbued. 2. Jupaaha = we recite (Naam). Laaha = profit. Mookh(i) Paaha = we put in the mouth. Dhoor(i) Kerma = prewritten luck. 3.
Saavun(i) = in the month of July (rainy season). Moar(u) = peacock. Koohokiurra = make happy sounds. Vootthrra = dropped. Ruttanaa = imbued. 4.
MEANING: Perform the noble (most profitable) deed of reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my soul. Let Guru's wisdom be your mother (to nourish you), and Waheguru's Naam on your tongue be the support of your life. Let contentment be your father (to build your character) and let the Guru, which is the manifestation of Waheguru, which never takes birth, be your guide. By doing so, you will have great luck and be connected to Waheguru. 1. I have connected with (come to the shelter of) the Guru who is always "one" with God, and am enjoying the love of Waheguru and feeling blissful. With great luck, I have connected with the wise and the respectable Guru who is always imbued with Waheguru's love and is fully detached from Maya. My body and mind are fully imbued with Waheguru's Love. 2. Come on, you holy devotees, let us join together to recite the holy Naam. You earn the (immortal) benefit (of spirituality) in the holy congregation. Let us feed ourselves the Naam-Amrit by serving the Guru. Because of the prewritten fortune right from the source (Waheguru), we can connect with God. 3. Just as rain (after the hot and dry season) in the month of July gives new life to all vegetation, Waheguru's immortal Naam gives new life to mankind. And just as the peacocks express their joy of rain by making loud dancing sounds, the human heart also begins to sing in blissfulness when it recites the Guru's Shabad. With the Naam-Amrit in the mouth (on the tongue), I have been connected with Waheguru, and the slave, Nanak, is fully imbued in His love. 4.1.27.65.

Word Meaning: Sukhi = female friends. Goon Kaamun = captivating qualities. Kreeha = let us acquire. Rung(u) Ruliyaan = affection and happiness. Maaneh(i) = enjoy. Toothaiy = pleased to be kind. Dhool(i) Dhool(i) = with zest (gusto). 1. Dholay = darling; husband. Vaycholay = mediator. Vittarrhoun = for; from. Gholay = love to the extent of giving life. 2. Vus(u) = take dwelling. Govinda = Waheguru. Chindiurra = as wished. Ful(u) = reward. Vigus(u) = feel blissful. Laaha = earned profit. Hus(u)= feel blissful. 3. Sohaagni = married woman, loved by husband. Undin(u) = every day; always. Anund = Rehus = blissfulness. Oopaayay = creates. Vaykhaiy = looks after. Kaaraiy Laaya = put to work (of reciting Waheguru's Naam. Ikk(i) = many. Bukhsh = largess. Toat(i) = shortage. Phukka = a very small amount, just enough to fill the mouth once. Tukhut(i) = throne. Bhikh = begging for alms. Shabad = Huqam; Command; Law. Vertda = operates. Dhiyaaya = recites. 4.

MEANING: Let all of us friends join together, and acquire the captivating (noble) qualities to please the Satguru so as to enjoy the love and bliss of union with Waheguru in the company of the holy devotees. The lamp of the Divine Knowledge of the Guru enlightens our minds. If Waheguru is pleased, we can connect with Him with great zest. 1.

My body and my mind have fallen in Love with dear Waheguru. I pray to Him that He connects me with the mediator friend, Satguru. I will offer my mind (obey His will) if Satguru connects me with Waheguru. I will gladly sacrifice my life for Waheguru. 2.

Oh, my dear Waheguru, please be kind and come to dwell in my heart. I have realized the desired reward, and my heart is blooming at the sight of the Perfect Guru, oh my Waheguru. With great luck, I have realized Waheguru and have earned (acquired) blissfulness in my mind. 3. Waheguru Himself creates the world, Himself looks after it, and Himself puts everybody to daily business (according to their previous deeds). Some enjoy Your largess and never experience any shortage, while some others get only a mouthful to eat. Some rulers occupy the throne and live in comfort, while others beg for alms. The same Huqam is operating everywhere; the slave Nanak recites Your Naam only, oh Waheguru. 4.2.28.66.

Word Meaning: Maahi = dear; husband. Rung(i) = love. Lukhiyay = “see”; feel. Alukh(u) invisible; incomprehensible. Lukhaahi = “shows”. Pergaasiya = enlightened. Daalud = poverty. Leh(i) = removed; eradicated. Hur(i) Pud(u) = spiritual state where the mind is fully connected with Waheguru. Ootum = superior. Smaahi = fully absorbed. 1.
Naini = with eyes. Kinaiy = some rare (none). Ditthrra = saw. Baiyraagiya = pines in separation. Baajhoun = without. Dhun = woman. Koomlaiyni = wilted; feeling unwell (weak). Sujjan(u) Saiyni = close friend. Jugjeevun = life of the world. Vihaani = is spent. Raiyni = night; life. 2. Bhookh = appetite; strong desire. Preetum = dear. Birhoun = pain of separation. Jeevayiya = came to life. Pooriyaam = fulfilled. Vadhaayiyaan = zestful. 3. Glad to sacrifice life. Vittarroun = for; from. Pirum = dear. Poonji = capital (of noble qualities). Raakh(u) = protect. Vishut(u) = mediator. Raiybaari = guidance. Duyya = kindness. 4.

MEANING: My mind is imbued with the love of my dear Waheguru. Waheguru’s love (loving Waheguru) is always with us, but we do not “see” Him. However, the Perfect Guru “shows” us the otherwise invisible Waheguru. Waheguru’s Naam enlightens the heart by which all the suffering (even caused by poverty) is eradicated (one becomes fully contented). With great fortune, one can attain a higher spiritual state in which one becomes fully absorbed in Waheguru’s Naam, oh my Waheguru. 1. Nobody has ever seen Waheguru with these eyes, oh my Govinda (Waheguru). My mind and body were feeling the pain of separation, and this woman (myself) had wilted down without You, oh Waheguru. However, I have realized that my dear friend, Waheguru, is now in the company of the holy devotees. The life of the whole world, Waheguru, has come to meet me (I have been connected to Him), and now the night of my life is being spent in comfort. 2. My mind and body are feeling a big appetite for the sight of my dear friend, Waheguru. I beg the holy devotees to get me connected with Him because I am suffering badly due to His separation, and cannot live without Him. If the Guru will connect me with my dear friend, the King-Waheguru, my mind will come alive. Then all the wishes of my body and my mind will be fulfilled, and my mind will feel blissful on meeting (getting connected with) my Waheguru. 3.

I always wish to sacrifice my life for you, oh my Waheguru. My body and my mind have deep affection for my dear Waheguru, so please save the wealth of my love for you by absorbing me in You. Please connect me with the mediator Satguru, who will guide me to connect with You. This slave, Nanak, is in Your shelter, please be kind and grant me Your Naam, oh my Waheguru. 4.3.29.67.

Buhou Rungeen = in different colourful ways. Ikkna = some. Bhog = luxuries of life. Nugun Nung Nungi = completely naked. Daan = donations (for necessities of life). Mungi = ask for. Aadhaar = support. Kutha = description (of Waheguru's virtues). Chungi = good; to the liking. 2. Loach = longing; wish. Vertda = operates. Ruv Ruhiya = is pervading; is present. Bhurpoori = filling completely. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. Pusaariya = has expanded. Hudoori = in His own presence (from close). 3.

Vaaja = musical wind instrument. Tiyoun = like that. Nidhaan = treasure. Gaajay = roars (shows its presence). Puvaayaynda = makes them (do). Laajaiy = dignity (from the attacks of lust, etc.) Sungteen = a holy congregation. Sidh(i) Kaajaiy = achieve objective successfully. 4.

MEANING: My dear Waheguru does some amazing things! Waheguru Himself creates Krishnas, and Himself searches for the cowgirls (just like Krishna did). (Being present in everybody) Waheguru enjoys all the hearts and (therefore) enjoys all the enjoyable material things. (Despite the fact that He enjoys the world while sitting in the bodies of people), Waheguru is both very wise and infallible. He is the Satguru and is completely detached from the world. 1. Waheguru Himself creates the world, and expresses Himself in many different colourful ways. He makes some people enjoy material things, while making some others wander around naked, absolutely naked. Waheguru creates the world Himself (without any outside help) and provides for the needs of living beings as they ask for. However, His Naam is the support of life for His devotees who ask for the best thing – description of His virtues (sing His praise). 2. Waheguru fulfills the wish of His devotees who wish for His worship, and He bestows them with His worship. Waheguru is very close and not far away, as He is pervading the land and the waters. Waheguru is filling the whole space, and He is everywhere – inside and out. Waheguru is spread out, yet looks after His creation from close. 3. Human soul, which is a part of Waheguru, is like a wind musical instrument which is controlled by Him; the soul (humans) behaves the way Waheguru makes it to do. There is the treasure of Waheguru's Naam in the human body (but humans do not realize it). He appears in the hearts only by the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru protects the dignity of His devotees from the five demons by making them come to His refuge. The slave, Nanak, says that the lucky individuals join the congregation of the holy devotees and successfully achieve the real objective of life (union with God). 4.4.30.68.

Word Meaning: Birhoun = love; pain of separation. Mittar(u) = friend; supporter. Maayee = mother. Sukha = friend. 1. Kayray = of. Bhaag Vudayray = great luck. Praan = life. Buhourr(i) = again. Bhuvjul phayra = return to the world sea (rebirths). 2. Kiyoun = how? Chaao = excitement. Bhaao = fear; unsure. 3. Vuddrri = big. Aasa = hope; wish. Paasa = near; close. Pergaasa = enlightenment. Pooriurri = fulfilled.4.

MEANING: I am suffering from the pain of disconnection with Waheguru's Naam; I will feel comfortable only when I get connected with my dear friend – Waheguru. I can live only if I "see" my God, oh my mother. Waheguru's Naam is my friend, my brother. 1.

Sing the virtues of my Waheguru, oh His holy devotees. It is a great fortune to recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru's Naam is my life, and reciting it terminates the cycle of rebirth. 2. I have a great excitement in my body and mind to "see" Waheguru, but I do not know how to "see" Him. I am unsure (if I will be able to "see" him on my own), please connect me with Waheguru, oh, the holy devotees. (I am told) that I can connect with the dear King, Waheguru, through the Guru's Shabad. One recites Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad) only with great luck. 3. I have a great wish in my mind and body to connect with Waheguru. Please connect me with Waheguru, which is supposedly very close, oh, the holy devotees. With Satguru's advice, the mind is always enlightened, as a result of which the wish of this slave, Nanak, is fulfilled. 4.5.31.69.

Word Meaning: Birhi = dear. Jeevaan = I live. Leevaan = receive; acquire. Rung(i) Ruttrra = imbued in love. 1. Baan(u) = arrow. Soojaan(u) = wise; know-all; omniscient. Sooghurr(u) = wise. Vit-houn = for; from. Koorbaan(u) = offering for self-sacrifice. 2. Dusaayeen = I ask for. Khoaj(i) = search. Tootthrra = pleased to be kind 3. Vaydun = pain; ache. Sherdha = respectful wish. Rus(u) = sweetness. 4.

MEANING: I survive only if I get my dear (Waheguru's) Naam, which is the real Amrit for the mind, and which can be acquired only with Guru's advice. Naam is the sweet Amrit, and I drink it, with which my mind gets imbued in Waheguru's love. I survive when I connect with Waheguru. 1. I have been pierced in body and mind with the arrow of Waheguru's love. My dear Waheguru, which is omnipresent and omniscient, is my (best) friend. I will gladly lay down my life for His Naam (Him). 2. I ask for Waheguru (how to connect with Him), who is my friend. Tell me (how to connect with Him), please search for Him for me, oh, the holy devotees of Waheguru. When my Satguru is pleased to be kind, He will guide me to connect with Waheguru when I am fully absorbed in Him by reciting His Naam. 3. My love for Waheguru has caused me to pine because of His separation. Please fulfill my wish to feed myself with the Naam-Amrit, oh my Satguru. Please, be kind so that I may recite Your Naam, oh Waheguru. The slave, Nanak, wishes to have the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. 4.6.20.18.32.70

NOTE: The long chain of numbers at the end of the holy Shabads implies:

In(i) bidh(i) kooshul hoat mayray bhaayee. Iyoun paayiyaiy Hur(i) Ram suhaayee. 1. Ruhaou dooja.

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = Shabads with four stanzas. Kin bidh(i) = in what way? How? Kooshul(u) = wellbeing; mental happiness. Kiyoun = how? Ram = Waheguru. Suhaayee = supportive. Pause. Greh(i) = household. Mundar(u) = mansion. Chhaaya = built up. Jhootthay = mortal; temporary. Laaluch(i) = (in) greed. Guvaayuyaa = wasted away. 1. Hustee = elephants. Vigaasa = fees overjoyed. Lushkar = armies; soldiers. Jorray = gathered. Nayb Khuvaasa = assistants. Jayvurri = rope. Phaasa = bonds; traps. 2. Deh Dis Saari = in every direction. Maanaiy = enjoy. Rung = colourful entertainment. Naari = women. Nurput(i) = king. Bhaykhaari = beggar. 3. Bhaaya = liked that. Smaaya = got fully absorbed. 4. In(i) Bidh(i) = in this way. Second pause.

MEANING: What are the means by which we can achieve wellbeing (mental happiness)? How can we connect with Waheguru, who is supportive of us? Pause.

There is no mental happiness in having beautiful, tall and well-built mansions, lots of household stuff, and all the wealth. The man wastes away his precious human life in the greed for temporary possessions. 1. The man feels overjoyed to see his elephants, horses, soldiers, and assistants that he has hoarded over time. But they all serve as bonds for haumein (which erodes his spiritual level). 2.

Even if a man rules over a large territory in all directions and enjoys a colourful life with many women, it is like a dream of a beggar who becomes a king. (In reality, all luxuries of life are short-lived like a dream). 3. The Satguru has revealed to me that there is only a single real mental happiness which the devotees of Waheguru attain by gladly accepting His Will. This slave, Nanak, has listened to the Guru and has been fully absorbed in the Naam by killing his haumein. 4. This is the way to achieve mental happiness, and this is how one gets connected with the supportive Waheguru. Second pause.

NOTE: The final number count at the end of the holy Shabad is missing. It should have been: 4.1.71.

Gaurri Gooarayri Mehla 5: Kiyoun bhermiyaiy, bherm(u) kis ka hoyee? Ja jul(i) thul(i) muhhiul(i) ruviya Soyee. Gurmukh(i) oobray munmukh put(i) khoyee. 1. Jis(u) raakhaiy Aap(i) Duyaara. Tis(u) nuhee dooja ko puhoochunhaara. 1. Ruhaou. Subh meh(i) vertaiy aik(u) Anunta. Ta tu sookh(i) soyo hoyay achinta. Ohu subh(u) kichh(u) jaanaiy, jo vertunta. 2. Munmukh mooyay jin dooji piyaasa. Buhou joni bhuveh(i) dhoor(i) kirut(i) likhiyaasa. Jaiysa beejeh(i) taiysa khaasa. 3. Daykh(i) ders(u) mun(i) bhuyaa vigaasa. Subh(u) nudri aaya Braham pergaasa. Jun Nanak kee Hur(i) poorun aasa. 4.2.71.

Word Meaning: Bhermiyaiy = have misbeliefs. Muhhiul(i) = in the sky. Ruviya = pervading; present. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Oobray = escaped from drowning (in the sea of Maya); salvaged. Put(i) = dignity. Khoyee = lost. 1. Duyyara = kind. Puhoochunhaara = one who can reach (to cause harm). Pause.
Vertaiy = operates. Anunta = who has no end; infinite. Achinta = worry-free. 2. Dooji Piyaasa = thirst for Maya. Joni Bhuveh(i) = go through many life forms. Dhoor(i) = right from the Source (Waheguru). Kirut(i) Likhiyaasa = prewritten based on one's deeds of previous lives. Beejeh(i) = sow the seeds (perform deeds). Khaasa = eat; reap. 3. Durs(u) = sight. Vigaasa = blooming of heart; overjoyed. nudri Aaya = became visible; saw. Braham Pegaasa = light of Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: Why should we be caught in any misbelief when it is clear that Waheguru (which enlightens us) is present on the land, in the waters, and in the sky (He is omnipresent). The followers of the Guru are saved from drowning (in the world-sea), and are salvaged; on the other hand, those who are disconnected from the Guru (Waheguru), lose their dignity (in Waheguru's Court). 1. Nobody can reach (attack) the individual (or attain the spiritual level that he has attained) who is protected by Waheguru, Himself, oh my friend. Pause. (Once one has the confidence that) The infinite Waheguru is operating in everyone; he leaves them with no worries and allows them to enjoy a restful sleep. Waheguru knows everything that happens (in the world). 2. The money-hungry individuals, who have a thirst for the other (Maya), experience spiritual death. Based on their deeds in previous lives, they have a preordained fate from the source (Waheguru) that they must go through many, many lifetimes. They eat whatever they have sown (reap the rewards of their deeds). 3. The wish of the slave, Nanak, has been fulfilled when He is overjoyed to have a holy glimpse of Waheguru and see His Light (enlightenment of mind). 4.2.71.

NOTE: The numbering at the end. It should have been: 4.2.72. The error persists until Shabad 106.

Word Meaning: Keet = worms. Ptunga = moths. Guj = elephant. Meen = fish. Koorunga = deer. Punkhi = birds. Haiyvur = superior quality horses. Birkh = oxen. Joyo = put to farm work. 1. Jugdeesh = Lord of the world (God). Buriya = turn; opportunity. Chrinkaal = after a long time. Sunjuriya = put together; acquired. Pause. Saiyl = rocks. Gir(i) = mountains. Hir(i) = by stealing; taken through. Shaakh = vegetation; plants. Lukh Chauraaseeh Joan(i) = 8.4 life forms (Hindu Granths). Bhermaaya = made to go through. 2. Sadh = Guru. Junum Praput(i) = life objective to be achieved. Bhuj(u) = recite (Naam). Gurmut(i) = Guru's advice. Tiyaag(i) = renounce; quit. Abhimaan(u) = mistreatment. Jeevut mureh(i) = kill (control) desires while living in the world. 3.
Hoa = happening. Toojh Tay = by You (Waheguru). Joag(u) = capable. 4.
MEANING: You have been given the human body after a very long time, oh man. Now (human life) is your opportunity to connect with God, so do that, oh man. Pause.
(Before this) You had been through many life forms like worms, moths, elephants, fish, deer, birds, snakes, superior quality horses, and oxen, which are used in heavy farm work. 1.
For countless times, you were given life in the rocks and mountains, and were taken through the womb (had many rebirths). Many other times, you were taken through the life of plants. In fact, you were taken through 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu belief). 2.
(Now, that you have been given the human form) achieve the real objective of human life (to unite with God). So, with the advice of the Guru, serve the congregation of the holy devotees, and recite Waheguru's Naam in their company. Quit (overcome) your false ego and any perceived mistreatment, oh my friend. An individual who overcomes his sensual desires while living in the family finds approval in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Whatever is happening is happening by God's Will, and no one else is capable of doing anything like that. No one can connect with Waheguru on their own; only those individuals get connected with Him who He connects Himself. (Guru) Nanak advises to sing the virtues of Waheguru, oh man. 4.3.72.

Goon Jaas = virtues; praise. 1. Oor(i) = heart. Dhaar(i) = Implant; embed. Sheeghur = quickly. Kaaruj = task; objective of life. Svaar(i) = complete successfully. Pause. Siyoun = with. Saavdhaan = alert; pay attention. Dergah = Waheguru's Court. Ookut(i) = argument; debating. Siyaanup(i) = wisdom. Tiyaag(u) = quit. 2. Haath(i) = in control. Vichhurraiy = gets separated; leaves them. Oopaav = arrangements. Guhou = hold; seek. Oat = protection; shelter. Nimukh = in a moment. Chhoat(i) = freedom (from the bonds of Maya). 3. Nicket(i) = close. Aagiya = Command. Sat(i) = eternal. Buchun(i) = Word; advice. Mitaavhou = eradicate. Aap(u) = haumein (selfishness). 4.

MEANING: Implant Waheguru's Naam in the field of your heart to quickly achieve your objective (of uniting with God), oh my friend. Pause. Treat your heart (mind) as the seeding ground for noble deeds, and sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam in that to achieve the objective of life. Always sing praise of Waheguru, as a result of which the fear of the Angel of death will be dispelled. 1. If you stay alert for your Waheguru (stay connected with Him), you will be honoured in His Court. Quit arguing about Waheguru and about your wisdom, and seek shelter of (start serving)) The holy devotees, oh my friends. 2. Waheguru controls all living beings, as He resides in everyone and never leaves them alone. Quit (forget) all other arrangements (plans), and take His shelter, and you will get freedom from the bonds of Maya in a moment. 3. Always think of Him as being close to you, and accept His Command as being eternal. Abandon (overcome) your selfishness with Guru's advice, and recite Waheguru Naam, oh Nanak. 4.4.73.

Word Meaning: Buchun = Word; advice. Abinashi = eternal. Jum Phaasi = noose of the angel of death. Sung(i) = with. Ruchaiy = gets absorbed (imbued). 1.
Atull = eternal; never changing. Achhayd = cannot be cut into pieces; inerasable.
Kutaiy = not at all. Bherm = misgiving. Bhayd = make distinction; discriminate. 2.

Anaath = orphan. Naath = Master. Rusna = tongue. Amrit = life-sustaining Naam. Ruvaiy = sings; recites. 3. Pergut(u) = appears; becomes well-known and respectable. Sunsaar(i) = in the world. Haar(i) = (suffer) defeat; always a winner. 4.

MEANING: Guru's Word (Shabad or Advice) is eternal (it is valid over times immemorial). If a man acts on the Guru's advice, the noose of the Angel of Death for him is destroyed. Guru's advice is always with you (protects from the attractions of Maya). If a man follows Guru's advice, his mind gets fully imbued with love for God. 1.

Whatever the Guru (His advice) has given is for the benefit of our soul (it elevates the soul's spiritual level and brings one closer to Waheguru). Whatever the Guru does for you, accept it as eternal truth, oh man. Pause. Guru's Word is eternal, and is inerasable (nobody can undo its effect). Guru's advice eradicates all misgivings and applies to all without discrimination (based on caste, colour, gender, age, etc.). Also, individuals who obey the Guru's advice overcome their feelings of discrimination. Guru's Word never loses its worth, and the individuals following Guru's advice begin to sing Waheguru's praise. 2.

Guru's advice is always with us (protecting us from evil temptations) and serves as the guardian of orphans (who have no one to guide them). Individuals following the Guru's advice sing Waheguru's Amrit-Naam, and they never go to hell. 3.

Guru's Word is like a beacon of light for the world, and those who follow Guru's advice never lose the battle against evils. An individual whom Waheguru is kind to also enjoys the benevolence of Satguru at all times, oh Nanak. 4.5.74.

Word Meaning: Maati = earth. Ruttan(u) = (valuable like) a precious stone (beautiful human body). Gerbh = womb. Jutun(u) = effort; laws. Sobha = fame. Vudiyaayi = respect. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. 1. Rummuyiya = oh Waheguru. Rayn(u) = dust of the feet. Khusm(u) = Lord. Pause. Moorr = foolish; uncivilized. Bukta = good orator. Baysoorut = lacking sense. Nuvaiy Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Bisrut = forget. 2. Nithaavaiyn = homeless. Nimaanay = enjoying no respect (recognition); powerless. Simroun = remember; keep in mind. Giraasa = (with every) bite. 3.

Maya Silk = bonds of Maya. Bikh Khaati = bitter poison (Maya). Iss Tay = (by) Maya. Raakhunhaara = saviour. Salaahi = sing praise. 4.

MEANING: Remember always Waheguru, who has given you a beautiful and invaluable human form, converting it from earth, and who protected you in your mother's womb with His laws, and who has given you fame and respect, oh man. 1. Please, fulfill my wish that I may get the dust of the feet of the Guru (serve Him with all dedication) and worship You in His company, oh my Waheguru. Pause. I pray that I should never forget the kind Waheguru who turned me from an uncivilized fool into a good orator, from senseless to sensible, and by whose benevolence I realized His Naam, which is like the nine mythical treasures to me. 2. I wish to remember the kind Waheguru day and night, and with every breath and every bite who gave me, the homeless, room at His feet (provided shelter), and who gave respect to this powerless slave, and who fulfilled all my wishes. 3. I wish to sing praise of my saviour, Waheguru, who cut the bonds of Maya for me. With His benevolence, the Guru converted the bitter poison of Maya into Amrit for me (Living in the world, I am completely detached from Maya with the Guru's benevolence). I cannot do anything on my own; it is all due to Waheguru's kindness, oh Nanak. 4.6.75.

Word Meaning: Tis = that (Waheguru). Shern(i) = shelter. Bhuou = fear. Soag(u) = grief. Baahur(i) = outside. Hoag(u) = happens. Tujee = quit; give up. Bul = force; power. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Bikaar = vices. 1. Rung(i) = with love. Sung(i) = with; accompanies. Pause. Tayk = support; shelter. Chaakh(u) = taste. Jutun = efforts. Kaaj = purpose. 2. Kiya Manookh = What is a man (good for)? Joar = force. Shoar(u) = noise. Kern = (capable of) doing. Sugul = all. Ghutaan = of hearts. Untarjaami = omniscient. 3. Saacha = everlasting. Oopdaysh(u) = Teachings. Layhou = acquire. Live Laagi = got connected with. Dhunn = is worthy of praise; great. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam with deep love, who is always with you inside and outside, oh my mind. Pause. There is no fear or grief in Waheguru's shelter because nothing happens outside of Him. I have given up all my wisdom, power and vices (and am fully dependent on Waheguru) because I am confident that he protects the dignity (from the attacks of vices) of His devotees. 1. Always have faith in the support of Waheguru in mind, and taste the Amrit of Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. Think, what purpose do all other efforts of yours serve when the kind Waheguru Himself protects your dignity? 2. Think, what the man is capable of doing, and what the power of money can achieve, about which we hear so loudly (basically nothing); because being omniscient, Waheguru knows everything about all the hearts (living beings), and thus needs no assistance; so, He alone does everything (and makes people do things He likes). 3.

Embedding (enshrining) the Guru's Teachings in the mind is the source of eternal comfort. The man who connects with Waheguru with full concentration is a highly fortunate person, oh Nanak. 4.7.76.

Word Meaning: Kutha = story; narrative. Maiyl(u) = filth (of vices). Muha = great. Pooneet = pious; pure. Saiyl(u) = (large like a) mountain. Vudaiy Bhaag(i) = with great luck. Siyoun = with. Rung(u) = affection. 1.
Juput = by reciting. Jun(u) = devotee. Taariyo = ferried across the sea of Maya; salvaged. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Pause. kur(i) Keertun = by singing praise. Seetul = calmness of mind. Bhuyay = became. Kilvikh = sins. Nidhaan = treasures. Dhoondhun = search. Kaahay = what for? 2. Poorun hoyee = completed; fulfilled. Ghaal = hard labour. Simer Simer = remembering Waheguru repeatedly. Goontaas = treasure (source) of virtues. 3. Subh Tthaayay = everywhere. Poorun Poor(i) = filling completely. Jaayay = places. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Chookaaya = removed; cleared. 4.8.77.
MEANING: The kind Guru ferried me across the sea of fire (of burning sensual desires), and salvaged me by making me recite Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
With great luck, I was able to get the company (shelter) of the Guru, wherein I developed love for Waheguru. I was able to wash away the filth of my evil deeds by listening to the narrative of the virtues and kindness of Waheguru from the Guru, whereby my mind achieved great piety, and I began to enjoy the comfort of a mountain. 1. I achieved calmness of mind by singing praise of Waheguru, and all my sins of many, many lives were washed away. I found all the treasures (of virtues and comfort) in my mind, so why would I go to any place now to search for them? 2. When Waheguru became kind to me, all the hard labour of this slave was successful (fully rewarded). When I repeatedly remembered the treasure (source) of virtues (Waheguru), He embraced me as His slave and cut all my bonds with Maya. 3. Waheguru, which is present in my mind, is also everywhere and completely fills the whole space. The Perfect Guru has cleared all my misgivings, and I am feeling blissful by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.8.77.

Word Meaning: Uglay Mooyay = who died before. Paachhaiy Puray = left behind (thing of the past). Oobray = those who came up (next generation). Luck Bundh(i) Khuray = ready to go (have higher motivation). Dhundhay = business. Luptaayay = embraced. Doogun(u) = twice as much. Dirri = reinforced; earned; accumulated. Maayay = money. 1. Oh baiyla = that time. Binus(i) jaayay = which is perishable. Taahoo = with the same. Pause. Aasaan Bundhi = built on hopes. Dayh = body (life). Kaam = lust. Luptiyo = clings to. Usnayh = affection; attraction. Tthaandho = standing; watching. Dherm Raayay = the angel of justice. Bikhiya = poisonous (Maya). 2. Bundhoun = tie up. Saadhoun = fix; punish. Baiyr(u) = Baiyri = enemy. Bhoom(i) = land. Ghaalaiy = place; put. Pundit = learned person. Chatoor = clever. Boojhaiy = recognize; acknowledge. Bigaana = lacking knowledge; ignorant. 3. Gut(i) = high spiritual level; magnanimity. Mit(i) = measurements; capabilities. Vukhaanaiy = describe. Jit(u) Jit(u) = whatever deeds. Tit(u) tit(u) = the same. Bhula = wellbeing. 4. Kernaiyhaara = the doer; Creator. Unt(u) = end. Paaravaara = limits. Kubhoo Na = never. Visraiy = forget; lose from mind. 5.

MEANING: (Even though the people see with their own eyes that when others die, they do not take anything with them to the next world), yet they forget that reality easily. The next generation has even higher motivation (to earn more money). They pursue the same business as their predecessors and earn twice as much. 1. They do not recall the time when their predecessors left this world without a thing and continue to cling to perishable, mundane things. Pause. The idiot man bases his life on hopes and clings to lust, rage, and love for the family. He does not realize that the Angel of justice is watching him very closely, yet continues to enjoy the taste of poisonous Maya as if it were sweet. 2. (Guided by his ego) He barks loudly, “Who can set foot on my land? I will tie up and punish my enemy. I am a learned person, and am very clever.” The ignorant does not realize that the Creator who controls everything (is watching Him). 3. Waheguru alone knows His own magnanimity and His capabilities. What can anyone say about, or describe Him? Living beings do whatever Waheguru wants them to do, and everybody prays to Him for their own wellbeing. 4. You are limitless, are the creator of the whole universe, and everything belongs to You (is under Your control), oh Waheguru. Your slave, Nanak, begs for a gift that I should never forget Your Naam. 5.9.78.

Word Meaning: Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Chhootaara = freedom from Maya (worldly bonds). Aagul = very much. Bhaara = weight (of evils). Nirmul = pure. Hayt = love; dedication. Sobha = honour. Sayt = with. 1. Guhou = hold; seek. Ohla = support; shelter. Jhola = whirlwind; gust. Pause. Bohith(u) = ship. Bhaiy Saagur = dreadful sea. Deepaah(i) = gives light. Seet = intense cold. Laahus(i) = takes away, removes. Juput = by reciting. 2. Ootur(i) jaayay = is removed. Piyaas = thirst. Aas = hope; wish. Dolaiy = waver; dodder. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Meet = friend. 3. Aukhudh(u) = medication. Vusaiy = is embedded. Tih = his. 4.10.79.

MEANING: If you seek (come to) the shelter of Waheguru's Naam, you will not suffer even a small gust of warm wind (no discomfort at all), oh my mind. Pause.

No matter how hard a man tries, he cannot break the bonds of Maya on his own. The wiser he thinks he is, the bigger the burden (of evil deeds) that he will carry. On the other hand, if he serves Waheguru (obeys His Will) with pure love and dedication, he goes to Waheguru's Court (gets connected with Him) with respect. 1. When a man recites Waheguru's Naam, he accomplishes a great comfort of mind which is like a ship for a person who is drowning in a dreadful sea, or like a man in darkness who suddenly gets the light of a lamp, or like a man freezing in cold who gets the warmth of fire. 2.

So, recite Waheguru's Amrit-Naam in the shelter of the Guru, which will remove the thirst for Maya from your mind, oh my friend; your mind will quit doddering (become peaceful), and all your wishes will be fulfilled. 3. However, only that individual can receive the medication of Waheguru's Naam who is given by Waheguru Himself with His kindness. The heart, which becomes a dwelling for Waheguru's Naam, gets all its discomforts and sufferings eradicated (by the Naam medication), oh Nanak. 4.10.79.

Word Meaning: Derb = wealth. Aghaana = contented. Putiyaana = win over; convinced. Kluttar = wife. Oorjhiyo = entangled; trapped. Binsaiy = ends; vanishes. Bhusmaiy Dhayri = pile of dirt. 1. Bil-laatay = crying; complaining due to suffering. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Pause. Bigaari = forced labour. Daam = money. Khusmaiy Kaiy Greh(i) = house of the master. Oon = that (labourer). Suhaam = endured. Baiysut = became. Naytur = eyes. Pusaaraiy = expanded; opened. Niraaruth = meaningless; worthless. Kaaja = task; position. 2. Raakha = guard. Khayt = field; crop. Puraayay = somebody else's. Ootth jaayay = leaves (empty handed). Kaarun(i) = because of that. Kurraiy = suffers. Paalaiy = in possession. Purraiy = goes into. 3. Jis = Waheguru. Trishna = burning desire for. Bihaanay = destroys. Raas(i) = befitting; suitable. 4.

MEANING: I have seen many people complaining, crying, and suffering because they are without Waheguru's Naam (do not recite it). Condemnable is the body and the wealth of the people who (forgetting Waheguru's Naam) are imbued in (are indulged in) Maya. Pause. The human mind is not content with accumulating wealth (there is always a desire to have more and more). Nor is man's mind content to enjoy different forms of beauty. He is completely entangled in the love for his son and his wife, believing they are his forever. However, wealth and other enjoyments are perishable and leave him; his family members die and become a pile of dirt (so he loses all of them, and nothing stays with him forever). 1. Man's love with the perishable is just like that of a forced labourer who is carrying a load of someone else's money on his head; the money is delivered to the house of the owner, and the labourer simply suffers under the weight because he does not get anything in return. (Another relevant example about love with perishable things) Is that of a man who becomes a king in his dream? When he wakes up and opens his eyes, he realizes that his kingship was all meaningless. 2. Another example is that of a person who is guarding (grain in) someone else's field for which he endures suffering (sleeplessness and the danger of attack from thieves or wild animals). The owner pockets the sale proceeds, but the guard leaves without any reward. 3. (The only everlasting thing is the Naam of Waheguru). It is a natural law that a man dreams of what he wishes for. So, when Waheguru gives wealth, He also instills the fire of desires in the human mind. Waheguru Himself destroys, and Himself creates situations which are suitable for individuals (based on their character). Always pray to Waheguru only (for your needs), oh Nanak. 4.11.80.

Word Meaning: Bidh(i) = different ways. Paykhi = saw. Kaagud = paper. Mehr = leader. Mulook = king. Khan = wealthy. Triptaan = contented. 1. Trishna = burning desire. Boojhaiy = put out. Pause. Us(u) Puvun = horse as fast as wind. Hust(i) = elephant. Usvaari = ride. Choa = perfume; rose essence. Chundun = sandalwood. Sayj = bed. Nut = stage actor. Naatik = plays; dramas. Akhaarra = a ring for activities where the audience gathers in a circle. Suntokh = satisfaction; contentment. 2. Tukhut = throne. Subha = gathering. Mundun = decorations. Doleechay = carpet of plush. Mayvay = dry fruit; fruit. Bageechay = orchards. Aakhayrr = hunting. Birt(i) = fondness. Leela = hobby. Soohayla = comfortable; blissful. Perpunch(u) = world. Heela = make arrangements. 3. Anund = blissfulness. Luhiya = acquired. Keertun = praising (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: Oh, holy devotees of Waheguru, please advise me how to acquire the state of bliss where the fire of all desires is put out, and the mind gets contentment. Pause.

I have seen many colours and many forms of captivating Maya, which also captivates writers (in the form of haumein) because of their wise writings. The leaders, the kings, and the wealthy are all captivated by Maya, but nobody has ever found any contentment in it. 1.

Many people ride elephants and horses, which can run at the speed of the wind; others enjoy the company of beautiful women on beds perfumed with sandalwood. People entertain themselves by watching actors perform on stage and listening to their songs, but nobody finds lasting mental contentment in either. 2.

Sitting on the thrones, the kings may enjoy large gatherings, a variety of decorations and plush carpets, may have all kinds of fruits in their orchards, and may feed their hobbies of hunting, or making other arrangements to enjoy the world, but they still do not have the comfort (peace) of mind. 3. The holy devotees of Waheguru have kindly revealed the eternal truth that to have the supreme bliss of the mind, we should sing Waheguru's praise in a holy gathering. However, only lucky people can join such a gathering, oh Nanak. 4. Only that individual is blissful who is connected with the holy congregation by Waheguru to earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. Second Pause. 12.81.

Kuvun = which. Bidh(i) = means. Turaiy = swim across. Maayay = Maya (sea of). Pause. Bhulaayee = favourable; good for. Boora = bad. Jaanaiy = thinks of. Bikhaiy = poison. Sumaanaiy = like; comparable. Vaalayvaa = dealings. Saakut = disconnected from God. 2. Hulaahul = forbidden. Baura = crazy. Lukh Chauraaseeh = 8.4 million (life forms). Bhermta = travels through. Phuhaayay = trapped in. Punkhi = birds (humans). Rus(i) Rus(i) = tastefully. Bhog Kureh(i) = enjoys. Bhuyay = becomes. Jaal = net (bonds). 4.

MEANING: The man thinks that his body is here forever, so he clings to it (loves and nourishes it) again and again. Also, he is bonded very tightly with his son, wife, and family. Under such conditions, he cannot become a devotee of Waheguru. 1.
By what means can one sing praise of the virtues of Waheguru, and with what wisdom can he swim across the sea of Maya? Pause. (The unfortunate thing is that) The man considers what is actually good for him to be bad. If someone tells him the truth (reality), it hurts him like poison. The ignorant does not know where his gain or loss is. This is how the money-minded person (disconnected from God) deals in the world. 2.
The crazy person drinks what is forbidden for him (does forbidden or evil deeds), while the Naam-Amrit is bitter for him. He has no nearness (no connection) with the holy congregation, as a result of which he is cycled through the 8.4 million life forms. 3. All the human-like birds are caught in the same net (of love for Maya), who enjoys the attractions of life with great taste. The bonds of Maya of the individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, are cut by the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 4.13.82.

Word Meaning: Tuou = Your. Maarug = path (of Truth). Bundhun = bonds (of Maya). Chhootaiy = get freedom. 1. Sayv = serve. Dayv = Waheguru. Pause.
Bhaavaiy = like. Vukhaani = describe; explain. Muyya = kindness. 2.
Nirmul = pure; pious. Kerma = deeds. Dherma = high living; noble deeds. Nidhaan Goon = treasure of virtues. Sahib(u) = Lord. 3. Rung(i) = with love. Raata = imbued. Kulyaan(u) = wellbeing. 4.

MEANING: We are incapable of doing anything on our own; we serve You only when You prompt us to do so, oh Waheguru. Pause. We get on the right path (of connecting with You), and recite Your Naam only with Your kindness, oh Waheguru. The bonds of Maya are broken only with Your kindness; also, our ego and selfishness can be eradicated only if You are merciful, oh Waheguru. 1. I can recite Your Naam and describe Your virtues only if You like (enable me to do so). Satguru is kind to me only if You approve that, and I enjoy all comforts only when You are kind, oh Waheguru. 2.
Only those deeds are pure (holy) which You approve; and only that living is high (those acts and thoughts are noble) which are as per Your Will. You own (You are) the treasures of all the virtues; You are the Lord, and I am only Your slave who can only pray to You, oh Waheguru. 3. My mind and body are purified in Your love, and I enjoy all the comforts in the company of the holy devotees. Word Meaning: Aan = other. Rusa = rus = tasty (enjoyable) things. Chaakhay = tasted; enjoyed. Nimukh = moment. Tishna = desires. Laathay = removed. Saad(u) = taste. Bismaad(u) = amazement; mesmerization. 1. Rusna = tongue. Triptaari = contentment. Pause. Jihvay = tongue. Kut-houn = wherever. 2.
Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Araadh(i) = worship. Tthaakur = Lord. Aagaadh(i) = unfathomable. Eehaan = here (this life). Oohaan = there (next world). Amoli = priceless. 3. Bnusput(i) = vegetation. Mauli = bloomed. Payday = on the trees. Raati = imbued. Luaiy = compare; come even close. Suhaayee = supportive. 4.

MEANING: No matter how many different tastes you have enjoyed, your thirst (desire) for such tastes is not quenched even for a moment, oh my tongue! But if you taste Waheguru's Naam (recite it), you will be mesmerized as soon as you taste it. 1.

Taste the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, and you will be completely contented by its sweetness, oh my dear tongue. Pause. Sing praise of the virtues of Waheguru, and recite His Naam every moment, oh my tongue. One should not listen to other (filthy) songs (than Waheguru's Naam) and must not visit any place (where Maya may captivate one) other than the holy congregation, which, however, can be accessed only with great luck. 2.
Waheguru is the unfathomable Lord, (to connect with Him) recite His Naam all the twenty-four hours, oh my tongue. The tongue which sings the virtues of Waheguru becomes priceless and is blissful in both the worlds – the present and the next. 3.
There is no doubt that there is tremendous beauty in nature – the trees bloom, and bear flowers and fruits, which attract us; but a person who is imbued in the essence of Waheguru's Naam never quits reciting His Naam to enjoy other things. When the Guru becomes kind to someone, he feels that no other taste or source of enjoyment can rival the taste of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.15.84.

Shah(u) = source of everything; provider (Waheguru). Bapaari = trader; dealer (in His Naam). Oohaan = there. Visaah(u) = trust. 1. Ruttan = precious like a ruby. Biyohaari = dealer. Bhojun = meal. Aahaari = one who eats. Pause. Urpeen = I offer. Joogut(i) = means; technique. Jit(u) = by which. Bheejaiy = melts; falls in love. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Mayra Tayraiy = discrimination. Sauda = merchandise (Waheguru's Naam wealth). Joraiy = accumulates. 2. Shah = king (Waheguru). Bidh(i) = means. Bheetur(i) = inside. Boolaavaiy = calls in. Vud = big; great. Koat(i) = millions. Dikhlaaya = showed. 4.
MEANING: The human mind (soul) is like a temple with the body as a fence around it to protect it. The limitless Waheguru dwells in there; the source of everything, Waheguru, is said to be present there. What kind of dealer can earn trust there? 1.

Some rare individuals deal in the Naam, which is highly valuable like a precious stone, and use the Naam-Amrit as their mental food. (This is the kind of dealer who earns the trust of Waheguru). Pause. By what means can the stonelike hardness of an individual's mind melt (develop love for Waheguru)? Who is the individual who accumulates the wealth of Waheguru's Naam? I will offer my mind and body to serve him and will drop at the feet of such a great individual without any hesitation (with total disregard for my ego and his identity) if he can connect me with Waheguru. 2. By what means can one reach the Palace of Waheguru? What can one do to be called inside by Him? Waheguru is the source of everything, and countless people trade for His spiritual gifts. Is there a philanthropist among them who can take me and deliver at Waheguru's door (connect me with Him)? 3. The kind Waheguru connected me with His trustworthy Guru, who made me search my own mind, and after a hard search, I found Waheguru there. The Guru showed me the priceless, eternal Waheguru in my own heart, oh Nanak. 4.16.85.

Word Meaning: Ikk Runga = in the love of Waheguru alone. Sunga = with. Vertun(i) = dealings; regular routine. Tript(i) = Aghaavun(u) = contentment. 1.
Raatay = imbued. Huray = healthy; blissful. Sherni = shelter. Pause.
Aatum Aadhaar = support of life; food for the soul. Nihaaray = see. Aik = one (Waheguru). Aagyakaar = obedient. Bunuj(u) =Biyohaa = trade; dealings. Uver(u) = any other. Bin(u) = without. Nirunkaari = formless (Waheguru). 2. Hurkh = happiness. Soag = grief. Mooktay = free from. Uliput = detached. Joag = connected. Joogtay = moral life style. Oye = those (devotees). Dhertay = keep in mind. 3. Mehma = greatness. Kuvun = which one. Vukhaanou = I describe. Aghaadh(i) = unfathomable. Boadh(i) = Wisdom. Mit(i) = measurements. 4.

MEANING: Taking the shelter of the Perfect Guru, those devotees who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, are blissful by body and mind. Pause.
(Because of their love for Waheguru), Such devotees enjoy the same (peaceful) state of mind day and night, and think Waheguru to be with them all the time. Waheguru's Naam is their normal way of dealing, and they feel fully content to "see" Waheguru. 1.
Waheguru's lotus-like feet (His Naam) is the food for their soul. They "see" only Waheguru everywhere, and are obedient to Him (accept His Will gladly). They do not recognize any other power than Waheguru, and they deal only in one thing - Waheguru's Naam - which is their only business. 2. They are free from (are above) both happiness and grief.

They are detached from the world, are connected with Waheguru, and have a high moral lifestyle. They can be seen among everybody (lead normal life), yet they are detached from everything and keep Waheguru in mind. 3.
How can I praise the holy devotees? Their greatness is immeasurable and beyond my ability. Please, be kind and give me, Nanak, the dust of the feet of the holy devotees (opportunity to serve them), oh Waheguru. 4.17.86

Word Meaning: Biyaaput = exerts influence. Hurkh = happiness. Soag = grief. Bisthaar = expansion; development. Avatar = birth. Paykh(i) = on seeing. Sobha = praise. Mool Biyaadhi = root of all ills (evils). 1. Buhou Perkaari = in many different ways. Jeeveh(i) = live. Oat = support. Pause. Uhunboodh(i) = thoughts of ego. Maata = intoxicated. Raata = too much attached. Hust(I) = elephants. Busta = clothes. Roop = beauty. Jobun = youth. Mud Musta = unmindful under intoxication. 2.
Bhoom(i) = landlord. Runk = pauper. Runga = wealthy. Geet = songs. Naad = music. Sunga = among friends. Seegaar = beautification. Punch Doot = the five demons. Undhiyaar = creating darkness (blinding rational thinking). 3.
Kerm = religious rituals. Houn Phaasa = trapped in ego. Grist = family man. Oodassa = detached from the world. Aschaar Biyohaar = life style. 4.
Bundhun = bonds. Raayay = King. Kuhaan = where? How? Sunt Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet of the Guru. Nicket = near. Maayee = Maya. 5.

MEANING: Maya exerts its influence on human beings in a variety of ways. The holy devotees lead their life with Your support, oh Waheguru. Pause.
Maya exerts its influence during happiness, grief, and during expansion (increase in wealth, business, family, etc.). Because of its influence, people go to hell, heaven, or take rebirths. It influences the rich, the poor, and individuals who earn fame (by boosting their egos or by oppressing others). Its attraction makes people greedy, and greed is the root of all ills (evils). 1. It influences the people so that they get intoxicated in their ego, and causes people to get too attached to their sons and wives. It influences people to love their elephants, horses, and clothes, and to feel intoxicated by the intoxication of beauty and youth. 2. Maya influences the landlords, the pauper, and the wealthy, and it makes people enjoy (Maya-related) songs and music with their friends. It influences by causing attraction to comfortable beds, mansions, and decoration, while the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and conceit) blind their rational thinking. 3. It influences people to do deeds that trap them in ego and selfishness. It influences the family man, and those who think they are detached from the world (such a false show of detachment leads to haumein). It influences people's dealings based on their caste or social status. (In a nutshell), It influences everyone except those imbued with Waheguru's love. 4.
The bonds of Maya are cut by Waheguru for His devotees; so how can Maya influence them?

Maya cannot even come close to those who are able to get the dust of the feet of the holy devotees (serve them), oh Nanak. 5.19.88.

Word Meaning: Pur = others. Drisht(i) = sight. Vikaar = evil, immoral thoughts. Servun = ears. Nind = malicious criticism. Rusna = tongue. Bismaad(i) = captivated. 1. Greh(i) = house (heart; mind). Saabut = complete. Vust(u) = high morality; virtues. Luhaiy = acquires; protects. Pause. Suhayli = friend; senses. Rus = enjoyment. Maati = imbued. Moosunhaar = robbers. Punch Butvaaray = five robbers (demons). Soonay Nugar(i) = empty house; unguarded mind. Tthug-haaray = deceiving. 2. Oon Tay= from them (the demons). Derb(i) = money. Rehtay = prevented. Dooshut = evil. Vus(i) Hoatay = are controlled. 3. Saaringpaan = a name for Waheguru. Suntun Dhoor(i) = dust of the feet of the holy devotees (service to them). Serb Nidhaan = all treasures. Saabut Poonji = wealth of noble qualities. Jaagaiy = stays awake (alert). Rung(i) = in the love of. 4.

MEANING: If the mind is alert (against the attacks of Maya) in the human body, it protects its wealth of virtues (which lead to union with God). Pause.

But man's eyes are asleep (from morality) and cast an evil sight on others' wealth and women. His ears are asleep (from hearing Waheguru's Naam and other moral values), and he rather enjoys listening to malicious thoughts about others. The tongue is asleep (not watchful) in the greed of sweet tastes. The mind is asleep in enjoying the captivating Maya. 1.

All the friends (senses) are imbued in their respective tastes, and have no knowledge about their mind-house (that it is being robbed of virtues). The five demons are attacking the unguarded mind and robbing it of its virtues. 2.

None of the man's father, mother, friends, or brothers can protect his mind from the demons' attack. The demons cannot be prevented from attacking, even by one's wealth or wisdom (the wealthy and wise are as likely to be attacked by the demons as anyone else). The evil demons can be controlled only in the company of the holy devotees. 3.

Please, be kind to me, oh Waheguru, and connect me with Satguru so that I may preserve my wealth of noble qualities. For me, the dust of the feet of the holy devotees (serving them with full dedication) is all the treasures. I stay alert in the love of God, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Vus(i) = (in) control. Sugul = entire. Baahur(i) = outside. 1.
Paah(i) = to; before. Kaaj = tasks. Nibaah(i) = discharge responsibility. Pause.
Ooch = high. Derbaar = Court; justice. Adhaar(u) = support; food. Biyaaput(i) = is present. Poorun Dhunee = Perfect source of everything (Waheguru). 2.
Dookh Dayra = house of suffering. Dhuhaiy = is demolished. Sookay = dry; stone-like heart. Huray = green; come alive (soften). Doobut Paahun = sinking rocks. 3.
Sunt Subha = holy congregation. Jaikaar = wishing “long live”. Praan Adhaar(u) = support of life. Nivaas(i) = dwelling. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru controls all the wealthy, the kings, in fact, the entire world; and all activities are caused by Him (He controls everything), and there is nothing beyond Him (His control). 1. So, make your requests before your Satguru, who will discharge (fulfil) His responsibility, and enable you to complete all your tasks successfully. Pause.
Waheguru, whose Court is higher than any other (delivers full justice without any favouritism or discrimination), and whose Naam is the support of life of all the devotees, and whose praise is being sung by every heart, is the perfect source of everything and is present everywhere. 2. Remembering Waheguru demolishes the house of all suffering, and forces the Angel of death not to utter even a single word (of disrespect to the devotee). Remembering Waheguru brings life to the dry (stonelike) heart, and enables the sinking rocks (stonelike hearts) to float (swim across in the sea of Maya) (attain salvation). 3.
Waheguru’s Naam is the support of the life of this slave, Nanak, who wishes a long life for the congregation of the holy saints, where my request was heard, and by whose kindness, my soul has found dwelling in the Naam. (I always live in Naam). 4.21.90.

Word Meaning: Dershun(i) = glimpse; holy sight. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Nivaari = removed; put out. Bhaytut = on meeting with. Dolaiy = wavers. 1.
Sach Meh(i) Raatay = imbued in Waheguru's love. Seetul Saant(i) = cool and peaceful. Gur Tay = from the Guru. Jaatay = came to know. Pause. Sugul = all. Mitay = eradicated. Bundhun Tay Chhootay = all bonds are broken. 2. Bherm = misgivings. Sadh = Guru. Rayn Mujun = bathing in the dust of the feet. Dherm = moral obligations; religious rituals. 3. Nidh(i) = treasure. Ta = only then. Baiytthun Paaoun = achieve mental peace. Nirgoon = lacking all virtues. 4.

MEANING: The fire of my desires has been put out by a holy glimpse of Satguru, and my haumein (selfishness and ego) has been eradicated on meeting with Him. My mind has quit wavering, and I am reciting Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter. 1.
One "sees" Waheguru everywhere when he is imbued in His love. The calm and peaceful Waheguru is known (the devotee's mind is enlightened) through the Guru. Pause.
I recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise by the benevolence of the Guru. All the suffering vanishes, and one gets freedom from the bonds of Maya by the benevolence of the Guru. 2. The worldly attachments and all the misgivings disappear by the Guru's kindness. Bathing in the dust of the feet of the Guru (serving Him with full dedication) incorporates all the religious deeds (rituals). Waheguru becomes kind to you through the Guru's benevolence. The Guru is the support of my life. 3. I pray to the treasure of kindness, Waheguru, that I may be given the opportunity to sit in (be connected with) the holy congregation of the devotees. Even though I lack all the virtues, Waheguru has been very kind to me, and now I am reciting His Naam in the company of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.22.91.

NOTE: Glimpse of the Guru does not mean seeing the Guru superficially with eyes. Glimpse implies mental enlightenment.

Word Meaning: Bhugvunt(u) = Waheguru. Kayvul = only. Munt(u) = mantra. Tuj(i) = giving up. Abhiman = ego. Nirvaiyr = having no enmity. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. 1. Binsee = vanished. Dooshut = evil. Bigaani = which is not yours. Pause.
Sehj = mental peace. Aanund = blissfulness. Nidhaan = treasure. Raakhunhaar = protector. Nidaan = at the end. Bhaiy = fears. Bherm = misgivings. Aavun Jaan = rebirth. Kerm = kindness. 2. Paikhaiy = sees. Aap(i) = God Himself. Jaap(i) = recite Naam. Bhuyyo = happened; occurred. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Poor(i) Ruhay = filling all space. Goontaas = treasure of all virtues (God). 3. Puvittar = Pooneet = holy; pious. Nit Neet = everyday; always. Kirpaal = kind. Ghaal = hard labour. 4.

MEANING: Ever since I have heard Waheguru's praise with my own ears, my evil thinking (with which I praised others, not Waheguru) has been eradicated. Pause.
The Guru advised me that only Waheguru's Naam is the real Mantra (to please Him). So, now I am reciting Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru, and worshipping the Guru's feet (singing His praise) all twenty-four hours. My entire ego is gone, and I have become completely free of all enmity (and discrimination). 1.
Now I enjoy the comfort of mental peace (my mind does not wander), which is a treasure of bliss. The saviour, Waheguru, protects you at the end, and all my suffering, pains, fears, and misgivings have vanished. Waheguru kindly saves you from the cycle of rebirths. 2.
Being present in every heart, it is Waheguru Himself who sees, talks, and listens. He is always with you, so recite His Naam, oh my mind. My mind has been enlightened by the benevolence of the Guru, and now I see that the source of all the virtues, Waheguru, is filling the whole space. 3. Those who sing Waheguru's praise, and those who listen to His praise (with full faith and concentration), are holy (pious), and they sing His praise all the time. The individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, has his hard labour (service) recognized (rewarded) by Him, oh Nanak. 4.23.92.

Word Meaning: Bundhun = bonds. Saach(u) = Waheguru. Klaysh = problems; disputes. Daata = donor; benevolent. 1. Sookhdaata = source of bliss. J(i) = who. Tis(u) = God. Sung(i) = with. Pause. Duyaal(u) = kind. Nidhaan = treasures. Aap(u) = selfishness. Tiyaag(i) = by giving up; getting rid of. Mitaiy = erasel; end. Aavun Jaana = rebirth. 2. Jun = devotee. Bhuyay = became. Tayk = support. Liv = full concentration. Bhaao = affection. 3. Siyoun = with. Kerni = deeds. Reet(i) = custom (routine dealings in life). Maytiya = removed. Undhiyaara = darkness. Appur Apaara = infinite. 4.

MEANING: The (saint, Satguru), who makes you recite Waheguru's Naam, and kindly connects you with Waheguru, is the real source of bliss. Pause.

The real Satguru is such a benevolent saint who breaks all your bonds with Maya, and makes you recite Waheguru's Naam so that your mind is focused on Him. As a result, all your problems and mental conflicts are eradicated. 1. Waheguru Himself connects the individual whom He is kind to, with Satguru from whom he can acquire all the treasures. Such an individual recognizes (gets connected with) Waheguru in the shelter of Satguru, and by getting rid of his selfishness, he puts an end to his future rebirths. 2.

Waheguru becomes kind to His devotees who depend solely on Him for support. The devotees love Waheguru only, and they focus their minds fully on Him. For the devotee, Waheguru's Naam is all the treasures. 3. When a devotee develops affection for Waheguru, all his deeds become pious, and his daily dealings are based on truth (honesty). The Perfect Guru eliminates the darkness of the mind, and the devotee finds the infinite Waheguru present everywhere, oh Nanak. 4.24.93

Word Meaning: Vusaiy = dwells; is embedded. Turaiy = swims (across the sea of Maya). Kerm(i) = by kindness. Praput(i) = receive; acquire; realize. Bhuou = fear. Biyaapaiy = attacks; happens. Ridaiy = in the heart. 1. Kern Kraavunhaar = creator of the universe. Pritpaal = nourishes; raises. Agumm = unreachable. Agoachar = incomprehensible. Munta = mantra (Guru's Word). 2. Serb Nidhaan = all treasures. Maan(u) = recognition; respect. Tehl = looking after; service to. Birthi = waste; unrewarded. 3.

Untarjaami = omniscient. Alukh = invisible; incomprehensible. Soami = Lord. Shernaayee = shelter. Vudiyaayee = honour. 4.

MEANING: An individual, who, by the benevolence of Waheguru, is able to embed His Naam in his heart, swims across the sea of Maya (finds salvation). No suffering, disease, or fear can afflict him, and he recites the Amrit-Naam in his mind. 1.

We acquire the wisdom to recite Waheguru's Naam from the Perfect Guru. Pause.

The kind Waheguru is the creator of the universe, and looks after all His living beings. The unreachable and incomprehensible Waheguru is always limitless (His treasures never run out), remember Him all the time with Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. 2.

Service to Waheguru is the treasure (source) of all happiness, and the man earns respect by worshipping Him. We must always sing the virtues of Waheguru, service to whom never goes unrewarded. 3. (Guru) Nanak prays: Oh kind, omniscient, invisible, and the source of all comforts, Waheguru, please be kind to all the living beings in Your shelter, and bestow them with Your Naam, which earns them honour. 4.25.94.

Word Meaning: Jea = living beings. Joogut(i) = way of life; provision for living. Anaath = orphans. Nath = Guardian. Chit(i) = in mind. Bhaiy = fears. Binseh(i) = vanish. Naayay = by the Naam. 1. Bin(u) = without. Maaneh(i) = acknowledge. Bisrut(i) = forgetting. Kaahay = how. Jaaneh(i) = realize. Pause. Dhaaray = supporting. Dhern(i) = earths. Agaas = skies. Jot(i) = light. Bukhsh = largesse. Mataiy = erase; undo. Nirbhuou = fearless. 2. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Anik = countless. Mujun(u) = bath. Sherni = shelter. Koat(i) = millions (countless). Klunk = blemishes; sins. Khin = moment. 3. Baymoohtaaj = sovereign; supreme. Vaysaah(u) = full faith. Raakhay = protects. Sumraath = omnipotent. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of Waheguru, who is the Guardian of all of us orphans (who are without any spiritual guide), and who controls all the provisions of life for the living beings, oh man. All the suffering goes away when you remember Waheguru in your mind, and all the fears vanish with His Naam. 1. With Waheguru's fear (in mind), the man does not have any other fear; and what kind of comfort can one have if he forgets Waheguru? Pause. Become fearless by reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which is supporting many earths and skies; whose light is enlightening all the living beings; and whose largesse cannot be obliterated by anyone, oh my mind. 2. Reciting Waheguru's Naam for all twenty-four hours is like taking a dip in countless holy places. Millions of blemishes (sins) are eradicated in a moment by taking shelter of Waheguru. 3.

Waheguru is a fully sovereign King and omniscient (He depends on no one for anything, as everyone and everything is under His control). His devotees have full faith in Him. The Perfect Guru protects His devotees (from the attacks of Maya) by extending His hand. 4.26.95.

Word Meaning: Soya Jaaga = awoke from slumber (came to realize). Oochraiy = recites. Soomut(i) = noble wisdom. Praani = man. 1. Kooshul = wellbeing. Sehj = state of blissfulness. Subbaayay = all. Pause. Puchhaata = recognized (by connecting with Him). Oopaaha = created. 2. Tuntar(u) = magic. Aukhudh = medicine; treatment. Poonehchaar = deeds done for atonement of sins; penitence. Saacha Dhun(u) = eternal wealth (Waheguru's Naam). Rung(i) = in love. Dootur(u) = almost impossible to swim across. 3. Baiysou = sit; live. Khutiyo = earn. Shoomaar = limit. Praput(i) = possesses. Birtha = without; deprived of. Hay = is. 4.
MEANING: With Guru's benevolence, my mind has fallen in love with Waheguru's Naam, and my dark mind has been enlightened; it feels as if I have woken up from a deep slumber of many, many lives. Now, I am singing the immortal virtues of Waheguru by Guru's Shabad. This is the advice of the Perfect Guru, oh man. 1. One achieves all wellbeing (bliss) by remembering Waheguru, and enjoys all comfort inside (mentally) and outside (in the world). Pause. With Guru's kindness, I have recognized (been connected with) Waheguru, which has created us. Waheguru Himself kindly connected me with the Guru who adopted me by extending His kind hand, and now I am reciting Waheguru's Naam and His virtues constantly. 2. If one develops faith in Waheguru as the support of his life, he does not need to recite any mantra, perform any magic, use any treatment, or perform the deeds (rituals) of atonement to please some god. With Guru's grace, one gets imbued in Waheguru's love, which is the eternal wealth, and he swims across the sea of Maya, which is otherwise almost impossible to swim. 3.
Waheguru's Naam is limitless wealth, and is the source of all comfort (bliss). Earn this wealth, and attain bliss, oh all the holy people, my friends, and my family. However, only those individuals earn this wealth who receive it from the Guru's kindness. No such devotee leaves without it (the Naam-wealth), oh Nanak. 4.27.96

Word Meaning: Hust = hands. Pooneet = holy; pious. Tutkaal = right away. Binus(i) = vanish. Junjaal = bonds of worldly dealings. Rusna = tongue. Rumhou = recite. Neet = everyday; always. 1. Laykhin(i) = pen. Musvaani = inkpot. Pause.
Kaaruj(i) = in this task. Bikaar = vices; immorality. Jum Maar = punishment by the angel of death. Dherm Raayay = angel of justice. Doot = agents. Johaiy = warn; watch closely. Maya Mugun = lost (absorbed) in the thoughts of Maya. Mohaiy = captivates; fascinates. 2. Oodhreh(i) = Turaiy = find salvation. Kmaaou = earn; work on. Uvraah = others. Oopdaysh = advise. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Pervaysh = enters; is embedded. 3. Maathaiy = on the forehead. Nidhaan = treasure. Purukh(u) = gentle man. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours; always. Bul(i) = offer self for any sacrifice (service). 4.

MEANING: With the concentration of your mind as pen, your mind as paper, and your thoughts as the inkpot, write the Amrit-Naam, and sing praise of Waheguru, oh my friend. Pause. When you do this, your hands become pious right away, and all the bonds of worldly dealings vanish. Recite Waheguru's Naam with your tongue, and thus enjoy bliss, oh my friends and dears. 1. All your vices are eradicated, and there is no fear of the Angel of Death punishing you when you recite Waheguru's Naam. The agents of the Angel of justice will have no reason to watch you closely, and you will not be lost in the thoughts of Maya again, and nothing else will fascinate you. 2.
By reciting Waheguru's Naam, not only will you find salvation, but you will also enable the world (your associates) to be salvaged. When you work hard to realize Waheguru (embed His Naam in your heart) and advise others to do the same, Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in your heart for sure. 3. However, only those who recite Waheguru's Naam have it in their destiny, which is prewritten on their foreheads. I love to sing Waheguru's virtues all the time, and I will be glad to sacrifice my life for Him. 4.28.97.

MEANING: How can one connect with God when he loves everything which has been forbidden to him? Pause. The man considers everything his own, unaware that nothing is really his, for everything will be left behind when he dies. He indulges in things which he is bound to leave behind. 1. He considers perishable things as being immortal, and does not like the eternal Truth (Waheguru's Naam, and virtuous qualities) even a little bit. 2. He is taking the wrong and difficult path (away from spirituality), which is akin to an individual knitting something inside out (weaving a web of problems for oneself). 3. Waheguru is the Lord of both worlds; only those individuals who are connected to Him are freed from the bonds of Maya. 4.29.98

Word Meaning: Kuljoog = Kaliyuga; in the world (of troubles). Sunjog = (predestined) connection. Jichur(u) = as long as. Aagiya =order; Will. Tichur(u) = the same length of time. Bhogeh(i) Bhoag = enjoy the luxuries. 1. Julaiy = by burning self. Ram = Waheguru. Snayhi = loving. Kirt(i) Sunjog(i) = with the hope of reunion with her dead husband. Pause. Daykha Daykhi = copying others. Munhutth = stubbornness of mind. Buhou Joan(i) = many life forms. Bhuvaayiyaiy = taken through. 2.
Seel = cool-mindedness. Sunjum(i) = control on sensual desires. Priyay = of the dear. Aagiya = command; wish. Jumaanaiy = of the angel of death. 3.
Priyou = dear. Permayshur(u) = Waheguru. Dhunn(u) = worthy of praise. Dergah = Waheguru's Court. Pervaaniya = approved. 4.

NOTE: The Custom of Sutee: It still exists in some parts of India, but the custom of "Sutee" in which a widow would burn herself at the pyre of her husband if he died before her, was prevalent at the time of Guru Sahiban throughout India among the Hindus. If she did not want to perform the custom voluntarily, she was forced to do so by the priests and her family. This highly inhumane and cruel custom was called “Sutee” which actually means high moral character. The “sutee” to be, was given the misleading (false) allurement that she would be loved by God, and would be reunited with her parted husband. Guru Sahiban condemned this highly barbaric custom and preached strongly against it. The Third Master, Guru Amar Dass Ji, even exerted pressure on Emperor Akbar and persuaded him to pass a law against this inhumane custom. There has been a significant decrease in the practice, but it has not been eradicated completely. This holy Shabad is intended to educate supporters of the custom against it.

MEANING: The husband and wife get bonded in matrimony due to their predestined relationship in this troublesome world. They enjoy the worldly facilities for as long as God allows. 1. With the (false) hope to reunite with her dead husband, and to please God, a young woman burns herself on her husband’s pyre, but she cannot unite either with her husband or with Waheguru. Pause. Women immolate themselves by copying others, and by the false determination of their minds. But they do not get to unite with their husband; they are rather taken through many life forms as a punishment for their barbaric act. 2. (Waheguru is not pleased by such foolish practices), He is rather pleased if the would-be “sutee” obeys Waheguru’s Will with a cool mind, and by controlling her desires. Such a woman should have no fear of the Angel of death. 3. *The “sutee”, who loves Waheguru and obeys his Will as she would do for her husband, is worthy of praise, and is approved (honoured) in Waheguru’s Court, oh Nanak. 4.30.99.

NOTE: According to Guru Granth Sahib, there is only one way to unite with Waheguru – by enshrining Waheguru’s Naam in the heart in the shelter of the Guru. There are hundreds of holy Shabads in Guru Granth Sahib that testify to this statement. To blend (mix well) two substances so that the resulting mixture is identical to the original ingredients without any change, it is a basic requirement that the two ingredients in the mixture have identical properties. So, for a man to be one with Waheguru, it is the basic requirement that he has the same virtues as Waheguru Himself. When one embeds Waheguru’s Naam in his heart, he acquires the same virtues as Waheguru.

For a woman to serve her husband and obey him under all conditions does not, in itself, earn her the pleasure or approval of Waheguru. What if the husband is an evil man and the wife supports him in all his evil activities? Will she be honoured by God and reunited with Him? There are many examples of such women in History. Many of you may know the story of Sajjan – the robber and killer at Guru Nanak Sahib‘s time. He had a woman associate*, Khemi,* who fully cooperated with him and obeyed him like a highly dedicated wife. When Guru Nanak Sahib visited Sajjan in his inn near Toolumbha (now in Pakistan) where he looted the suspected wealthy guests and killed them, Guru Sahib reprimanded Khemi as well for her part in the evil deeds. Being always kind, Guru Sahib forgave them and completely changed their characters.

So, we cannot translate the last two stanzas of the holy Shabad to imply that if a woman obeys her husband obediently and treats him like God (serves him like a slave), she is liked by Waheguru. It is completely untrue. With that idea in mind, I translated the holy Shabad differently. Many more examples could be given, and many holy Shabads could be quoted, but that will make the explanations very lengthy.

Word Meaning: Dhunvunt = wealthy. Bhaagutth = lucky. Sehj(i) = with a peaceful mind. Soobhaayay = with love. Pause. Peeyoo Daada = forefathers (the first four Guru Sahiban). Khujaana = treasure of their holy compositions. Bhuyya = happened; acquired. Nidhaana = treasure. 1. Ruttan Laal = precious stones. Bhundaar = treasures. Akhoot = inexhaustible. Atoal = immeasurable. 2. Toat(i) = shortage. 3.
Mustuk(i) Laykh(u) Likhaayay = prewritten luck on the forehead. Ait(u) = this. Luyya Rulaayay = made part of; is given a share of. 4.

MEANING: We are really wealthy and lucky when we sing Waheguru's praise with a peaceful mind, and love, and embed Waheguru's Naam in our heart. Pause.
When I (Guru Arjun Dev Ji) checked the treasure of Divine poetry (in Waheguru's praise) written by my forefathers (from Guru Nanak Sahib Ji to Guru Ram Dass Ji), I was mesmerized and felt as if I had acquired all the treasures of the earth. 1. No amount of the precious stones (jewels) can pay the price of this treasure, which is inexhaustible and immeasurable (in value). 2. (As opposed to the other treasures, which decrease with usage), This treasure keeps growing - the more we use and share, the more it grows, and there is never a shortage. 3.
However, only those are given a share of this invaluable treasure who have it in their destiny, which is prewritten on their forehead, oh Nanak. 4.31.100.

Kuhou Nanak Gur Muntar(u) chitaar(i). Sookh(u) paaveh(i) Saachaiy Durbaar(i). 4.32.101.

Word Meaning: Jaaniyaiy Door(i) = think of (Waheguru) as being far away. Chooka = dispelled. Bhurpoor(i) = filling the whole universe (omnipresent). 1.
Bulihaaraiy = can sacrifice my life. Surpur = for sure. Taaraiy = salvages. Pause.
Soag(u) = grief. Bisraiy = forgotten. Anund(u) = bliss. 2.
Kuheejaiy = say; label. Maan(u) = ego. Guheejaiy = hold; seek support. 3.
Gur Muntar(u) = Guru's advice. Chitaar(i) = refresh in mind. 4.

MEANING: I wish to sacrifice myself for my Satguru, who never leaves you helpless (unprotected), and salvages you for sure. Pause. As long as we think of Waheguru as being far away, we die of fear of (discomfort and suffering), but once Satguru shows you the omnipresence of Waheguru, all the fears are dispelled. 1.

One experiences suffering, illness, and grief when one forgets Waheguru's Naam; however, one always enjoys bliss when one sings Waheguru's virtues (praise). 2.
Do not call (or label) anyone either as bad or as good (if they do not deserve it); just quit (overcome) your ego, and drop on Waheguru's feet (seek His shelter). 3.
Always remember Satguru's advice (act on it) and recite Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which you will be honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4. 32.101.

Nanak ta kuou suda sookh(u) hoyay. 4.33.102.
Word Meaning: Sumiya = uniformly present; close. Ka Kee = of what? Kumiya = shortage. 1. Siyoun = with. Derd(u) = suffering. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Pause.
Rus(u) = taste; sweetness. Un = other. Luptaayo = clings; pursues. 2.
Kuhiya = word; wish. Nedr(i) = sight. Tulaiy = under; in 3.
Ta Ka Hoyay = surrender to Him. 4.
MEANING: What kind of shortage (weakness) can a man face if the omnipresent Waheguru is his friend? 1. All the discomforts, sufferings, and misgivings of the individual who has developed affection for Waheguru run away from him (vanish). Pause.
A person who has enjoyed the taste of Waheguru's Naam does not pursue any other taste. 2. A person, whose wish is honoured (fulfilled) in Waheguru's Court, does not bring anything else under his sight (does not look for other attractions). 3.
If one surrenders to Waheguru, who controls everything, he always enjoys comfort (bliss), oh Nanak. 4.33.102.

Kuhou Nanak ta kaiy sugal nidhaana. 4.34.103.
Word Meaning: Sum = the same. Kaarra = worry; agitated mind. Biyaapaiy = happen; affect. 1. Sehj = peaceful mind; in blissful mind. Anund = blissfulness. Aagiyakaari = obedient. Pause. Achint(u) = without any special effort; all of a sudden. Vusaiy = dwells. Kut-houn Naah(i) = not at all. 2. Binsiyo = vanished. Bherma = doubts; misgivings. Juma = angel of death. 3. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Sugul Nidhaana = all treasures. 4.

MEANING: An individual who accepts comfort and discomfort the same way does not experience any worry. 1. Waheguru's holy devotees enjoy the bliss of the high spiritual state (where the mind is at peace), and they are very obedient to Waheguru. Pause. Those who have Waheguru dwelling in their mind without any special effort suffer from no worry at all. 2.
An individual, all of whose misgivings have been cleared, has no fear of the Angel of death. 3. An individual, to whom the Guru has given (enabled to acquire) Waheguru's Naam, feels blissful as if he has acquired all the treasures of the earth, oh Nanak. 4.34. 103.

Word Meaning: Agumm Roop = inaccessible Waheguru. Thaana = dwelling. Virlaiy = rare. Jaana = realized. 1. Sehj Kutha = the description of the state of blissfulness. Koonta = springs; pool. Praput(i) = predestined. Bhooncha = taken in; enjoyed. Pause. Unhut Bani = Waheguru's word, which can be realized in a higher spiritual state. Niraala = unique (above the effects of Maya). Dhoon(i) = music (sweet sound) Mohay = captivates. Gopala = Waheguru. 2. Teh = in that spiritual state. Akhaaray = holy gatherings. Anayk Anunta = countless. Sungi = companions. Sunta = holy devotees. 3.
Hurkh = happiness. Anunt = unlimited. Soag(u) = grief. Beeya = other. Ghur(u) = spiritual State. 4.
MEANING: The inaccessible Waheguru actually resides in the human heart, but some rare individuals realize it with the grace of the Guru. 1. The higher spiritual state where the mind is completely blissful can be described as the springs (pools) of Amrit; however, only that individual enjoys this bliss who is predestined to do so. Pause.
Waheguru's Bani (Word) is heard in this unique spiritual state (which is above the effects of Maya), and the sweet sound of the Word captivates even Waheguru (Even Waheguru loves Guru's Shabad in His praise). 2. In that spiritual state, the individual sees countless gatherings of holy men in similar spiritual states who are the devotee-friends of Waheguru. 3. The Guru has gifted me with the same spiritual state: unlimited happiness, but no grief (sadness), oh Nanak. 4.35.104.

Word Meaning: Kuvun = which one? Araadhoun = worship; serve. Joag = type of yoga. Saadhoun = fix; cleanse. 1. Goon(u) = virtue. Boal = words. Reejhaavoun = please; get Him to like me. Pause. Bidh(i) = method; means. Bhuvjul = the world sea (of Maya). 2. Tup(u) = self-torture. Tupiya = who does tup(u). Haumein Mul(u) = filth of selfishness. Khoyay = lose; wash away. 3. Giyaan = Divine Knowledge (connecting with God). Dhiyaan = concentration. Ghaal = hard labour. Duyaal = kind; compassionate. 4.

MEANING: (You are present in countless forms in nature), so in what form of Yours should I worship You, oh Waheguru? (Yogis cleanse their bodies through different types), What type of yoga should I practice to cleanse my body (and mind), oh Waheguru? 1.

What virtue of Yours should I focus on to sing Your praise, and what words should I use to please Waheguru? Pause. What type of worship should I use for You, and what method should I adopt to swim across the sea of Maya, oh Waheguru? 2.

What kind of self-affliction should be used to be called a tupiya (to be approved by You, oh God? And with which naam can I wash away the filth of my selfishness and ego? 3.

(The answer to all these questions is that no approach is good enough to please Waheguru at man's own initiative). However, any effort of focusing on any virtue, any type of worship, any amount of knowledge, and any form of concentration on Waheguru's Naam of an individual are acceptable to Waheguru, who is connected with Guru by His kindness, oh Nanak. 4. That individual has all the good qualities, and is able to realize Waheguru (gets connected with Him), who is listened to, and is recognized (honoured) by Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, oh Nanak. Second Pause. 36.105.

Word Meaning: Gerba = conceit. Milkh = estate. Derba = wealth. 1.
Ka Kuou = with what? for what? Luptaayo = cling to (engrossed in). Pause.
Soot = sons. Bunita = wife. Isht = deity; dears. 2. Roopa = silver. Phoon(i) = also. Daam = money. Haiyvur = superior horses. Gaiyvur = superior elephants. Kaam = worthy for you. 3. Bukhsh(i) = by forgiving; by being kind. Raaya = King. 4.

MEANING: The body, which a person is conceited of, is not his forever. None of the reign, the estate, or the wealth is ours (in the long run). 1. When nothing is truly his, why is the man still engrossed in the mundane? The only thing that can really be yours is Waheguru's Naam, which can be acquired through Satguru, oh my friend. Pause.
None of the sons, wife, brothers, dear friends, father or mother is yours (forever). 2.
Gold, silver, money. Superior horses and elephants cannot work for us (be useful to us) (in Waheguru's Court). 3. But everything belongs to the individual who surrenders to the King, God, (has been connected with God) by the kindness of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.37.106.

Word Meaning: Ta Tay = from there (because of that). Laathay = got rid of. 1. Koorbaani = offer for sacrifice. Aatum = soul. Cheen(i) = by analyzing (searching). Perm Rung = supreme enjoyment (bliss). Maani = enjoy. Pause. Churn = feet. Rayn(u) = dust. Tin(i) = that. Ahunboodh(i) = thinking of ego. Sugul = all. Tiyaagi = gave up; quit. 2. Moh(i) = I. Deettha = saw. 3. Sookhdaata = provider of comforts. Kartar = creator. Praan = life. Aadhaar = support. 4.

MEANING: By placing my forehead on Guru's feet (completely surrendering to Him), I have gotten rid of all my troubles. 1. I wish to sacrifice my life for the Guru who enabled me to analyze my inner self (who I really am). Now I am enjoying the supreme bliss (by connecting with God). Pause. Those who put the dust of the Guru's feet on their face (fully follow His Advice), get rid of their selfish thinking and ego. 2.
I have found Guru's Shabad to be sweet, as a result of which I have been able to "see" Waheguru (got connected with Him). 3. Guru is the source of all comfort and is a manifestation of Waheguru. Guru is the support of my life, oh Nanak. 4.38.107.

Nanak(u) gaavaiy Gur mil(i) soyay. 4.39. 108.

Word Meaning: Aah(i) = wish for. Oona = less than full; missing something. 1. Sa = like. Praan Adhaar(u) = support of life. Cheet(i) = in mind. Pause.
Sayv(i) = serve. Aad(i) = the origin (source). Purakh = living power; omnipresent. Uprumpur = limitless. Dayv = Guru. 2. Aad(i) = right from the beginning. Joogaad(i) = from the beginning of the eons. Bhervaasa = faith; dependence. 3.

MEANING: Wish for the (Waheguru) who is Perfect, and who is not lacking (short in) anything, oh my mind. 1. Make friends like Waheguru, who is the support of your life, and keep Him in mind all the time, oh my mind. Pause.
Serve the omnipresent and limitless Waheguru, which is the origin of everything, oh, my mind. 2. Place your hope on (Waheguru), in whom people have been having faith (depended upon Him) from the beginning of the eons. 3. In the company of the Guru, I sing praise of Waheguru, love for whom provides comfort all the time, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Meet(u) = friend (Waheguru). Maana = obeyed; welcomed. Kertub = amazing feats. Kooshul = wellbeing. Smaana = equal to; like. 1. Tayk = support. Cheet = mind; memory. Pause. Vaypervaaha = worry-free. Usnaaha = love. 2. Untarjaami = know-all; omniscient. Sumruth = capable of doing anything; omnipotent. Parbrahm(u) = Waheguru. Soami = Lord. 3.
Daasay = slaves. Tthaakur = Lord. Maan(u) = respect. Meht(u) = honour. 4.
MEANING: I obey all that which my friend (Waheguru) does; His amazing feats are a source of comfort for me. 1. (Waheguru), Who does everything (capable of doing everything) is my friend, and I have full faith only in His support in my mind. Pause.
(His system to run the whole universe is perfect), So, my friend (Waheguru) has no worries. I have developed a love for Him with the Guru's benevolence. 2.
My friend Waheguru is the Lord, omniscient, omnipresent, and omnipotent. 3.
Waheguru is the Lord, and I am His slave; any respect and honour that I enjoy is because of Him, oh Nanak. 4.40.109.

Ta kuou sehsa naahi koyay. 2. Ja kuou Toom deeni Prubh dheer. Ta kaiy nicket(i) na aavaiy peer. 3. Kuhou Nanak mein so Gur(u) Paaya. Parbrahm poorun daykhaaya. 4.41.110.
Word Meaning: Bhuyay = became. Sumruth = omnipotent (Waheguru). Unga = supporter. Kalunga = blemish of immorality. 1. Maadho = husband of Maya (Waheguru). Sunsaari = of the world. Pause. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Sehsa = doubts. 2.
Dheer = encouragement; comfort. Nicket(i) = near. Peer = pain. 3.
Parbrahm = Waheguru. Poorun = perfect. 4.
MEANING: A person, whose supporter is the all-omnipotent Waheguru, gets no blemish of any immoral act. 1. An individual who has full faith in Waheguru does not need to depend upon the world for any of his needs. Pause. A man who has enshrined the (Naam of the) Lord, Waheguru, in his heart never has any doubts (about His existence or dependence on Him). 2. An individual, who is comforted by Waheguru, has never suffered, even close to him. 3. I (am lucky) to have connected to the Guru, who has shown me (connected to) the Perfect Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.41.110.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Doolubh dayh payee vudbhaageen. Naam(u) na jupeh(i) tay aatumghaati. 1. Mur(i) na jaahi jinha bisrut Ram. Naam-bihoon jeevun kaun kaam? 1. Ruhaou. Khaat peet khaylut hust bisthaar. Kuvun urth mirtuk seegaar. 2. Jo na sooneh(i) jus(u) Permanunda. Pushoo punkhi trigud joan(i) tay munda. 3. Kuhou Nanak Gur(i) Muntar(u) drirraaya. Kayvul Naam(u) rid maah(i) smaaya. 4.42.111.

Word Meaning: Doolubh = not readily available; priceless. Vudbhaageen = with great luck. Aatumghaati = Murderer of the soul; one who commits suicide. 1. Bisrut = forget. Bihoon = without. Kaun Kaam = of what purpose? Pause. Hust = laughter. Bisthaar = spread; expanse. Mirtuk = dead person. Seegaar = decoration. 2. Jus(u) = praise. Permanunda = the source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). Pushoo = animal. Punkhi = bird. Trigid joan(i) = animals that crawl. Munda = worse. 3. Muntar(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Drirraaya = reinforced. Kayvul = only. 4.

MEANING: The man is given the priceless human body with great fortune; if he does not recite Waheguru's Naam, he is the murderer of his soul. (The purpose of human life is to recite Waheguru's Naam so as to unite with Him). 1.

Why are the individuals who do not recite Waheguru's Naam not simply dead? What is the purpose of life without Waheguru's Naam? Pause. If a man spends his life eating, drinking, playing (enjoying luxuries), laughing, and expanding his business, it is all useless, just like the adornment of a dead body (which will never be useful because it will not come back to life). 2. An individual who does not listen to the praise of Waheguru, which is the source of supreme bliss, is worse than the animals, birds, and the creeping creatures. 3. My Guru has reinforced the Mantra (Waheguru's Naam) in me, as a result of which Waheguru's Naam has taken dwelling in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.42.111.

ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5: ਕਾ ਕੀ ਮਾਈ ਕਾ ਕੋ ਬਾਪ॥ ਨਾਮ ਧਾਰੀਕ ਝੂਠੇ ਸਭਿ ਸਾਕ॥ 1॥ ਕਾਹੇ ਕਉ ਮੂਰਖ ਭਖਲਾਇਆ॥ ਮਿਲਿ ਸੰਜੋਗਿ ਹੁਕਮਿ ਤੂੰ ਆਇਆ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਏਕਾ ਮਾਟੀ ਏਕਾ ਜੋਤਿ॥ ਏਕੋ ਪਵਨੁ ਕਹਾ ਕਉਨੁ ਰੋਤਿ॥ 2॥ ਮੇਰਾ ਮੇਰਾ ਕਰਿ ਬਿਲਲਾਹੀ॥ ਮਰਣਹਾਰੁ ਇਹੁ ਜੀਅਰਾ ਨਾਹੀ॥ 3॥ ਕਹੁ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰਿ ਖੋਲੇ ਕਪਾਟ॥ ਮੁਕਤੁ ਭਏ ਬਿਨਸੇ ਭਰਮ ਥਾਟ॥ 4॥43॥112॥

Gaurri Mehla 5: Ka kee maayee, ka ko baap? Naam dhareek jhootthay subh(i) saak. 1. Kaahay kuou moorukh bhukhlaaya? Mil(i) sunjoag(i) Huqam(i) tu aaya. 1. Ruhaou. Aika maati aika Jot(i). Aiko puvun(u). kuhaan kaun(u) roat(i)? 2. Mayra mayra kur(i) bil-laahi. Mernhaar(i) eho jea-ura naahi. 3. Kuhou Nanak Gur(i) khohlay kupaat. Mookut(u) bhuyay binsay bherm thaat. 4.43.112.

Word Meaning: Ka Kee = whose? Naam Dhareek = only in the name. Jhootthay = short-lived. Saak = relations. 1. Bhukhlaaya = talking rubbish (making false claims). Sunjoag(i) = predestined relations. Pause. Maati = earth. Jot(i) = (Waheguru's) light. Kaahay = where; why? Roat(i) = cries. 2. Bil-laahi = cry with complaints. Mernhaar(u) = destined to die. Jea-ura = soul. 3. Kpaat = doors (of brain). Mookut Bhuyay = became free of the bonds of Maya. Binsay = vanished. Bherm = doubts. Thaat = home; source. 4.

MEANING: Whose mother, and whose father (are you talking about)? (There is no mother or father, or any other relation for that matter, forever). All these relations are false (short-lived) and are in the name only. 1. Why are you making any false claims, oh foolish man? You have come into this world with Waheguru's Will (Laws), and are born into the family predetermined for you based on your deeds in previous lives. Pause.

Everybody is made of the same basic elements - earth, air, etc., and Waheguru's light; and when the man dies, all these elements get separated. So, why should anyone cry when they understand the reality? (There is no use in crying). 2. The ignorant people cry at the death of a relative, claiming that he was theirs. In fact, he never was theirs – he was there only like a visitor who had to leave. Moreover, the human soul never dies (it takes rebirths). 3. When the Guru opens the door of the brain of a lucky person (enlightens him), he becomes free from the bonds of attachment, and all the sources (roots) of his misgivings are destroyed, oh Nanak. 4.43.112.

Chhoad(i) chulaiy, trishna nuhee boojhaiy. 2. Kuhou Nanak eho tut(u) beechaara. Bin(u) Hur(i) bhujun naahi chhootkaara. 3.44.113.

Word Meaning: Vuday Vuday = rich and famous. Biyaapaiy = happens; suffer from. Chinta = worries. 1. Vudiyaayee = gets respect. Liv = full concentration. Pause. Bhoomiya = landlord. Loojhaiy = fights. Trshna = fire of desires. 2. Tut(u) = reality; truth. Beechaara = thought on; realized. Bin(u) = without. Bhujun = singing praise. Chhootkaara = freedom from the bonds of Maya. 3.

MEANING: All those rich and famous people, who are well known around, are in the grip of (suffer from the illness of) worries. I. Nobody is really respectable; wealth earns them respect in society. Actually, only that individual is respectable indeed who is connected with Waheguru with full concentration. Pause. A landlord fights for his land all the time to acquire more and more, which he has to leave behind, but the fire of his desire is never put out. 2. I have realized that one cannot free oneself from the bonds of Maya without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.44.113.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Poora maarug(u) poora ishnaan(u). Subh(u) kichh(u) poora hirdaiy Naam(u). 1. Poori ruhee ja Pooraiy raakhi. Parbrahm kee shern(i) jun taaki. 1. Ruhaou. Poora sookh(u) poora suntokh(u). Poora tup, poorun raaj(u) joag. 2. Hur(i) kaiy maarug(i) putit pooneet. Poori sobha poora loakeek. 3. Kernhaar(u) sud vusaiy hudoora. Kuhou Nanak mayra Satgur(u) poora. 4.45.114.

Word Meaning: Poora = perfect. Maarug(u) = path. Ishnaan = bath; cleansing. 1. Pooraiy = Perfect (Waheguru). Taaki = sought. Pause. Suntokh = contentment. Tup(u) = self-torture; tough labour (to please some deity). Raj(u) Joag = detached from Maya while living in the family. 2. Putit = fallen from morality; sinner. Pooneet = holy; pious. Sobha = praise; fame. Loakeek = among the people. 3. Kernhaar(u) = the creator (God). Hudoora = along with; close by. 4.

MEANING: (People follow many different paths, including dips in holy water, to realize Waheguru. But Guru Sahib advises that if a person has Waheguru's Naam in his heart, everything he does is perfect for him. For such an individual, the path he follows (to have union with God) is perfect, and he does not need to take dips in holy waters because a dip in the Naam-Amrit is perfect. 1. When a person takes Waheguru's shelter, the Perfect Waheguru protects his dignity everywhere. Pause. Such an individual enjoys complete comfort and is fully contented. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam is perfect hard labour for him (to please Waheguru), and he is fully detached from Maya while living in the family. 2. An individual who follows the path to unite with Waheguru (by embedding His Naam in the heart) is perfectly holy and pious. He even enjoys respect among the people. 3. The creator, Waheguru, is always close to him; my Satguru is Perfect, oh Nanak. 4.45.114.

Word Meaning: Sunt = Guru. Dhoor(i) = dust of the feet (obeying or serving the Guru). Mitay = removed. Ugh = sins. Koat = millions. Chhoat = freedom. 1.
Ders(u) = holy sight. Poorun = real. Ishnaan(u) = dip at a holy place. Pause.
Mitiya = removed; eradicated. Ahunkaar(u) = conceit. Drisht(i) aavaiy = is seen. 2.
Soopersunn = pleased (to be kind). Vus(i) = under control. Puncha = the five demons. Ridaiy = in the heart. Suncha = gathered. 3.
Poora = complete. Kerm = benevolence. Bhaytay = met; have access. 4.
MEANING: Serving the Guru (obeying Him with dedication) eradicates millions of (all) his sins. Such a devotee becomes free from the bonds of Maya, and the cycle of birth and death is broken for him by the Guru's benevolence. 1. The man recites Waheguru's Naam by Guru's benevolence, and the holy sight of the Guru is the real bath in holy waters (he does not need to go to any holy places). Pause. By Guru's benevolence, the conceit of the devotee is eradicated, and he "sees" Waheguru everywhere. 2. When the Guru is pleased to be kind, the devotee is able to control his five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment and ego), and he irrigates his heart with the Amrit of the Naam. 3. But only that individual gets access to Guru's Feet (is lucky to serve the Guru) whom Waheguru is very kind to, oh Nanak. 4.46.115.

Binsay = vanished. Bhaytiya = got connected. Liv = fully absorbed. Pause.
Visooray = repentances; regrets. Chint = worries. 2.
Anund = blissfulness. Jum Jaal = net of the angel of death. 3.
Ta Tay = because of that. Buhour = any more. Biyaapaiy = influence; afflict. 4.

MEANING: Giving up all my wisdom and my cleverness, I have put all my faith in the support of the Perfect Guru (surrendered myself completely to Him). 1.
Waheguru has connected me with the Perfect Guru, and now I concentrate fully on Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which all my irritants have vanished, and I am enjoying comfort while singing praise of Waheguru. Pause.
The Guru has given me Waheguru's Naam (enabled me to embed Waheguru's Naam in my heart) as the Mantra because of which all my regrets and worries have vanished. 2
On connecting with the benevolent Guru, I am feeling blissful, and have been able to cut the net of the Angel of death (he cannot do anything to me now that I am connected with Waheguru). 3. I have realized the Perfect Guru, as a result of which Maya can no longer afflict me, oh Nanak. 4.53.122.

Word Meaning: Anik = countless. Rusa = tasty foods. Dhoar = animal. Jayvuri = chain; thread. Choar = thief. 1. Mirtuk Dayh = dead body. Bihoona = without. Joani = in different life forms. Kheena = weak; low. Pause. busttar = clothes. Pehraaya = wore. Durna = scarecrow. Draaya= scares. 2. Sugaul Sreer = all other bodies. Nihful = worthless. Manookh = man. 3. Duyaala = kind; benevolent. Goopaala = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: The man is a thief because he steals (without being thankful) the gifts given by Waheguru to satisfy his own greed, and expresses his affection for his family as he is tied to the family members by the thread of attachment. He enjoys a wide variety of tasty foods and overeats like an animal. 1. Without the Guru's company, he is like a dead body, and suffers taking rebirths, and goes through many, many different life forms, as a result of which his spiritual level becomes very low. Pause. He wears countless beautiful clothes, but (in the eyes of Waheguru), he is no more than a scarecrow in the fields, which scares the birds away. 2. All other bodies (animals) are useful in some ways, but a money-minded individual does not recite Waheguru's Naam without which he is useless to everybody (without Waheguru's Naam, man becomes selfish and egoistic, and thus hurts others). 3. The individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, recites His Naam in the company of the holy devotees, oh Nanak. 4.55.124.

Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with peaceful mind and affection. Aatth Pehr = always. 3.
Jum(u) = angel of death. Nayrr(i) = near. 4.
MEANING: With the kindness of Waheguru, I was connected with Him after many lives of separation; and I achieved (the spiritual level of) all the comfort. Pause.
All the irritants that caused burning of my heart, were eradicated by the kindness of Waheguru, and He gave me the gift of calmness, and of peace of mind. 1.
With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the source of all my ills was eradicated. 2.
You should always recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise with peaceful mind (in high spiritual state) and with deep affection, oh man. 3. An individual, who sings Waheguru's virtues, gets his troubles and sufferings eradicated, and the Angel of death does not even go near him, oh Nanak. 4. 59.128.

ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਭਲੇ ਦਿਨਸ ਭਲੇ ਸੰਜੋਗ॥ ਜਿਤੁ ਭੇਟੇ ਪਾਰਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਨਿਰਜੋਗ॥ 1॥ ਓਹ ਬੇਲਾ ਕਉ ਹਉ ਬਲਿ ਜਾਉ॥ ਜਿਤੁ ਮੇਰਾ ਮਨੁ ਜਪੈ ਹਰਿ ਨਾਉ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਸਫਲ ਮੂਰਤੁ ਸਫਲ ਓਹ ਘਰੀ॥

Jit(u) bhaytay Sadhu kay churn. 4.60.129.

Word Meaning: Bhulay = good; auspicious. Sunjoag = time of union (with Waheguru). Nirjoag = completely unattached. 1.
Bayla = time. Bul(i) = offer to sacrifice (complete dedication). Pause.
Suful = successful; lucky; auspicious. Moorut(u) = Ghuree = moment. Rusna = tongue. 2.
Maatha = forehead. Numuskaarus(i) = bows to the Guru. Pooneet = holy. 3.
Kerm = luck; fortune. Jit(u) = by which. Bhaytay = got connected.

MEANING: Auspicious are the days, and pleasant is the time when one gets connected with Waheguru, which is completely unattached to everything. 1.
I wish to sacrifice myself gladly for the time when my mind recites Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Auspicious is the moment when the tongue recites Waheguru's Naam. 2.
Fortunate is the forehead which bows to the Guru, and holy are the feet which follow the path as wished by Waheguru (so as to unite with Him). 3. It was my good fortune that I got connected with the Feet (Shabad) of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.60.129.

Mitay undayshay, Nanak sookh(u) paaya. 4.61.130.

Word Meaning: Chinta = worries. Jaah(i) = goes away; is eradicated. 1.
Bhugvunt = Waheguru. Un = other. Soyay = same (Waheguru). Pause.
Churn = feet (Word). Oor(i) = in heart. Dhaar(i) = implant. Ugun(i) = fire (desires for Maya). Saagur(u) = sea. Ootreh(i) Paar(i) = land on the other side (swim across). 2.
Moorut(i) = picture; image; Shabad. Eehaan Oohaan = in this world and the next. 3.
Tiyaag = give up; renounce. Mitay = eradicated. Undayshay = misgivings. 4.

MEANING: Keep Guru's Shabad in mind all the time, oh my friend. All your worries will be gone by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 1. There is none other than Waheguru (who controls the world). He is the only one who controls death and life. Pause.
Implant Guru's Word in your heart, and swim across the sea of fire (Maya) by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 2. If you concentrate on Guru's Shabad, you will get respect in this world, as well as in the next, oh my friend. 3.
Giving up everything (selfishness, ego, attachment, etc.), I took Guru's shelter, who cleared all my misgivings; now I enjoy all the comforts, oh Nanak. 4.61.130.

Goon gaavaiy Nanak(u) Untarjaami. 4.62.131.

Word Meaning: Simrut = remembering. Ruttan = priceless like a precious stone. Vusaiy Mun(i) = (to) dwell in mind. 1. Govind = Waheguru. Sadhu Jun = holy devotees. Vukhaani = recited. Pause. Ikkus Bin(u) = other than the One Waheguru. Drisht(i) = (kind) sight. 2. Ker(i) = make. Aik(u) = the One Lord. Laykh(u) = write. 3.
Ruv Ruhiya Serbut = omnipresent. Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Shabad of Waheguru, which has been revealed to us by the holy devotees (the Guru) as they explain to us, oh my friend. Pause.
It is Waheguru's Shabad, the recitation of which causes the priceless Naam to take dwelling in our heart, and which eradicates all our troubles (discomforts). 1.
There is none other than Waheguru whose kind sight provides comfort to all of us. 2.
Write Waheguru's Naam on your mind, and make only Him your friend and pal. 3.
I sing praise of Waheguru, who is omnipresent and omniscient, oh Nanak. 4.62.131.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Bhaiy meh(i) ruchiyo subh(u) sunsaara. Tis(u) bhuou naahi jis(u) Naam adhaara. 1. Bhuou na viyaapaiy Tayri sherna. Jo Toodh(u) bhaavaiy soyee kurna. 1. Ruhaou. Soag hurkh meh(i) aavun jaana. Tin(i) sookh(u) paaya jo Prubh bhaana. 2. Ugun(i) saagur(u) muhaa viyaapaiy Maya. Say seetul jin(i) Satgur(u) paaya. 3. Raakh(i) layay Prubh raakhunhaara. Kuhou Nanak kiya junt vichaara. 4.63.132.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy = (worldly) fears. Ruchiyo = created. Adhaara = support. 1.
Viyaapaiy = afflicts. Sherna = shelter. Bhaavaiy = as per the Will. Pause.
Soag = grief; sorrow. Hurkh = happiness. Aavun = birth. Jaana = death. Bhaana = Will (of God). 2. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Muha = huge (difficult to swim across). Seetul = cool; peaceful. 3.
Raakhunhaara = guard; saviour. Junt = living being. Vichaara = helpless. 4.63.132.

MEANING: The world has been created in such a way that the living beings are afraid of many different things (for example, death, discomfort, loss of wealth, disputes and so on). But, the individual, who has the support of Waheguru's Naam, becomes completely fearless (he knows the reality of life and has full faith in Waheguru). 1.
No fear can affect (come near) in Waheguru's shelter, and I wish to pursue only those things which are according to His Will (approved by Him). Pause.
Birth and death bring happiness and grief in life, but those who accept Waheguru's Will stay happy all the time. 2. The fire of Maya's desires is like a sea that is very difficult to swim across, but those who connect with Satguru are peaceful (content). 3.
The saviour Waheguru protects us from all evils; otherwise, what can a weak and helpless man do to protect himself, oh Nanak! 4.63.132.

ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਤੁਮਰੀ ਕ੍ਰਿਪਾ ਤੇ ਜਪੀਐ ਨਾਉ॥ ਤੁਮਰੀ ਕ੍ਰਿਪਾ ਤੇ ਦਰਗਹ ਥਾਉ॥ 1॥ ਤੁਝ ਬਿਨੁ ਪਾਰਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਨਹੀ ਕੋਇ॥ ਤੁਮਰੀ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਤੇ ਸਦਾ ਸੁਖੁ ਹੋਇ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਤੁਮ ਮਨਿ ਵਸੇ ਤਉ ਦੂਖੁ ਨ ਲਾਗੈ॥ ਤੁਮਰੀ ਕ੍ਰਿਪਾ ਤੇ ਭ੍ਰਮੁ ਭਉ ਭਾਗੈ॥ 2॥ ਪਾਰਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਅਪਰੰਪਰ ਸੁਆਮੀ॥ ਸਗਲ ਘਟਾ ਕੇ ਅੰਤਰਜਾਮੀ॥ 3॥ ਕਰਉ ਅਰਦਾਸਿ ਅਪਨੇ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਪਾਸਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਾਮੁ ਮਿਲੈ ਸਚੁ ਰਾਸਿ॥ 4॥64॥133॥

Toom mun(i) vusay tuou dookh(u) na laagaiy. Toomri kirpa tay bherm(u) bhuou bhaagaiy. 2. Parbrahm uprumpur Soami. Sugul ghutaan kay untarjaami. 3. Kuroun ardaas(i) apnay Satgur paas(i). Nanak Naam(u) milaiy Sach(u) raas(i). 4.64. 133.

Word Meaning: Kirpa = benevolence. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. 1. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Bhuou = fear. Bhaagaiy = runs away; is dispelled. 2. Uprumpur = farther and farther; infinite. Ghut = heart. Untarjaami = omniscient. 3. Sach(u) = the eternal Truth (Waheguru). Raas(i) = capital; wealth. 4.

MEANING: We can recite You Naam only by Your benevolence, and occupy a respectful place in Your Court, oh Waheguru. 1. There is none other than Waheguru whose kindness can provide comfort. Pause. When You take dwelling in our heart, no discomfort can cause any harm, and all the misgivings and fears go away with Your benevolence, oh Waheguru. 2. The infinite and the Lord, Waheguru, is omniscient and knows all the secrets of our hearts. 3. I pray to my Satguru to give me the eternal wealth of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.64.133.

ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਕਣ ਬਿਨਾ ਜੈਸੇ ਥੋਥਰ ਤੁਖਾ॥ ਨਾਮ ਬਿਹੂਨ ਸੂਨੇ ਸੇ ਮੁਖਾ॥ 1॥ ਹਰਿ ਹਰਿ ਨਾਮੁ ਜਪਹੁ ਨਿਤ ਪ੍ਰਾਣੀ॥ ਨਾਮ ਬਿਹੂਨ ਧ੍ਰਿਗੁ ਦੇਹ ਬਿਗਾਨੀ॥1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਨਾਮ ਬਿਨਾ ਨਾਹੀ ਮੁਖਿ ਭਾਗੁ॥ ਭਰਤ ਬਿਹੂਨ ਕਹਾ ਸੋਹਾਗੁ॥ 2॥ ਨਾਮੁ ਬਿਸਾਰਿ ਲਗੈ ਅਨ ਸੁਆਇ॥ ਤਾ ਕੀ ਆਸ ਨ ਪੂਜੈ ਕਾਇ॥ 3॥ ਕਰਿ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਅਪਨੀ ਦਾਤਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਾਮੁ ਜਪੈ ਦਿਨ ਰਾਤਿ॥ 4॥65॥134॥

Gaurri Mehla 5: Kun bina jaisay thothur tookha. Naam-bihoon soonay say mookha. 1. Hur(i) Hur(i) Naam jup-hou nit praani. Naam-bihoon dhrig(u) dayh bigaani. 1. Ruhaou. Naam bina naahi mookh(i) bhaag(u). Bhert-bihoon kuhaan sohaag(u). 2. Naam(u) bisaar(i) lugaiy un sooayay. Ta kee aas na poojaiy kaayay. 3. Kur(i) kirpa Prubh apni daat(i). Nanak Naam(u) jupaiy din raat(i). 4.65.134.

Word Meaning: Kun = kernel; grain. Thothur = empty. Tookha = shell; husk. 1. Bihoon = without; devoid of. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Dayh = body. Bigaani = which is not yours; belonging to someone else. Pause. Bhaag(u) = fortune. Bhert = husband. Sohaag(u) = marriage; love of husband. 2. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. Un = other. Sooayay. = tastes; objectives. Poojaiy = fulfilled. Kaayay = any. 3. Daat(i) = gift. Jupaiy = recites. 4.

MEANING: Just as a husk of grain is empty (and useless) without the kernel in it, the mouth of the man without Waheguru's Naam is empty (it enjoys no taste), and is worthless. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh man. The human body, which is not really yours (as it is going to die, eventually), is condemnable without Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Just like a woman who cannot get married without a husband (or enjoy His love), a man is without luck if he does not have Waheguru's Naam in his mouth. 2. Those who forget Waheguru's Naam and enjoy other tastes have none of their wishes fulfilled. 3. I, Nanak, pray to You, please be kind and give me the gift of Your Naam so that I may recite it day and night, oh Waheguru. 4.65. 134.

(ਅੰਗ 193)॥ ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਤੂੰ ਸਮਰਥੁ ਤੂ ਹੈ ਮੇਰਾ ਸੁਆਮੀ॥ ਸਭੁ ਕਿਛੁ ਤੁਮ ਤੇ ਤੂ ਅੰਤਰਜਾਮੀ॥ 1॥ ਪਾਰਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਪੂਰਨ ਜਨ ਓਟ॥ ਤੇਰੀ ਸਰਣਿ ਉਧਰਹਿ ਜਨ ਕੋਟਿ॥ 1॥ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਜੇਤੇ ਜੀਅ ਤੇਤੇ ਸਭ ਤੇਰੇ॥ ਤੁਮਰੀ ਕ੍ਰਿਪਾ ਤੇ ਸੂਖ ਘਨੇਰੇ॥ 2॥ ਜੋ ਕਿਛੁ ਵਰਤੈ ਸਭ ਤੇਰਾ ਭਾਣਾ॥ ਹੁਕਮੁ ਬੂਝੈ ਸੋ ਸਚਿ ਸਮਾਣਾ॥ 3॥ ਕਰਿ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਦੀਜੈ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਦਾਨੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਿਮਰੈ ਨਾਮੁ ਨਿਧਾਨੁ॥ 4॥66॥135॥

Nanak simraiy Naam(u) nidhaan(u). 4.66.135.

Word Meaning: Sumruth = capable; omnipotent. Untarjaami = omniscient. 1. Poorun = complete; perfect. Jun Oat = support for the devotee. Oodhray = salvaged. Koat(i) = millions; countless. Pause. Jaytay = However many. Taytay = all those. Ghunayray = very much. 2. Vertaiy = happens. Bhaana = Will. Boojhaiy = finds out; understands. Sach(i) = in the immortal Waheguru. Smaana = merges with; becomes part of. 3. Daan(u) = gift. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. 4.

MEANING: You are omnipotent, oh my Lord, Waheguru. You are omniscient, and You control everything that happens. 1. Waheguru is Perfect, and is the support for his devotees. Countless people are salvaged in His shelter. Pause.
All living beings are His creation, and enjoy deep comfort with His benevolence. 2.
It is all His Will that is operating, and the individual who realizes Waheguru's Huqam, merges with Him (becomes His part). 3. Please, Waheguru, be kind to Your devotee, Nanak, and grant me the treasure of Your Naam so that I may recite it (all the time). 4.66.135.

Word Meaning: Ders(u) = sight. Liv = absorbed; connected with Waheguru. 1.
Nidhaan = treasures. Jun Maah(i) = in the devotee. Kilvikh = sins. 2.
Mehma = praise; greatness. Kuthi = expressed. Smaayay = merged in. 3.
Binou = request. Daas Kee Dhoor(i) = the dust of the feet of the devotee. 4.

MEANING: It is only with great fortune that one gets to have a sight of the devotee who is fully absorbed in Waheguru (is connected with Him). 1. An individual who has Waheguru (His Naam) embedded in his heart does not experience any suffering - even in his dreams. Pause. Waheguru has placed all kinds of treasures in His devotees (has given the ownership to them), in whose company all the sins get washed away. 2.
Like Waheguru, the praise of such a devotee cannot be expressed in words because he is fully merged in Waheguru (has become Waheguru's part). 3.
Please, be kind and listen to the request of (Guru) Nanak to give Him the dust of the feet of (opportunity to serve) such a devotee, oh Waheguru. 4.67.136.

Gur Pooray ka nirmul munta. 2. Chhoad(i) oopaav Aik tayk raakh(u). Muhaa Pdaruth(u) Amrit rus(u) chaakh(u). 3. Bikhum saagur(u) tayee jun turay. Nanak ja kuou nudr(i) kuray. 4.68.137.

Word Meaning: Blaayay = troublesome Maya. Serb = all. Kulyaan = wellbeing; comfort. 1. Jea = soul. Aavaiy Kaam = helps (to achieve the objective). Pause.
Anunta = endless; infinite. Nirmul = pure; holy. Munta = mantra. 2.
Chhoad = disregarding. Oopaav = plans; thoughts. Tayk = support. Muha = great; supreme. Pdaruth = matter. Rus(u) = sweetness. Chaakh(u) = taste. 3.
Bikhum = difficult. Saagur = sea (of Maya). Tayee = those. Turay = swim across. 4.

MEANING: If you recite Waheguru's Naam, you will be able to get rid of the troublesome Maya (attraction for it), and you will enjoy all the comforts, oh man. 1.
Recite the Naam of Waheguru only, which will help your soul to achieve its objective (of union with Waheguru), oh my mind. Pause. Acting on the Perfect Guru's holy Mantra (His Teachings), sing praise of the infinite Waheguru day and night. 2.
Disregarding all other plans (or thoughts), depend on the support of the "One" (God), and thus taste the sweetness of the supreme matter (Waheguru's Naam). 3.
However, only that individual is able to swim across the tough sea of Maya (find salvation) on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, oh Nanak. 4.68.137.

Nanak daas Hur(i) kee shernaayay. 4.69.138.

Word Meaning: Churn Kumul = Waheguru's soft feet (His Naam). Dhaaray = implanted; acquired. Nistaaray = salvaged. 1. Doolubh = available with great difficulty; priceless. Dayh = body (soul). Pervaan = approved. Neeshaan = recognition. 2.
Poorun Pud = perfect spiritual state. Bhaiy = fear. Bherm = misgiving. 3.
Jut Kut = wherever. Tut = there. Smaayee = present. Shernaayay =shelter. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise in the company of the Guru, oh my brothers. Pause. Get connected with the Perfect Guru who will enable you to implant Waheguru's Naam in your heart, and because of which you will find salvation, oh my friend. 1. Connecting with Satguru enables one to acquire Waheguru's Naam in the heart, which is one's recognition (ticket of approval) in Waheguru's Court, where the priceless human body gets Waheguru's approval (to merge with Him). 2.

I eradicated all my fears and misgivings in the company of the Guru and attained the highest spiritual state by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3. The slave, Nanak, has come to the shelter of Waheguru, and now I find Him present everywhere I look. 4.69.138.

Word Meaning: Dershun = sight. Bul(i) = offer to sacrifice. 1. Praan Adhaari = support (basis) of life. 2.

MEANING: I would gladly sacrifice my life to have a glimpse of my Satguru Ji. I survive by reciting His Naam. 1. Oh, dear Waheguru, hey Perfect Satguru, please be kind, and allow me to serve You. Pause. Satguru is the basis of my mind, my body, my wealth, and my life (Satguru is everything for me). I have implanted the lotus-like Feet of the Guru (His Naam) in my heart. 2. Think of Waheguru to be very close to you, as a result of which your deeds (objectives) will be approved by Waheguru, and your life will be a success, oh my friend. 3. Connecting with the Guru caused me to focus my full concentration on Waheguru (got connected with Him), but one gets the dust of the Guru's Feet (connection with Him) only with great luck, oh Nanak. 4.70. 139.

Word Meaning: Doohkerm = evil deeds. Dikhaavaiy = shows. Hoar(u) = other; different. Baandha = tied up. Choar(u) = who hides things. 1. Rumaiy = recites. Ramaana = devotee of Ram (Waheguru). Jul(i) = in waters. Thul(i) = on land. Muhiul(i) = in the sky. Smaana = present. Pause. Bikh(u) = poison (evil thoughts). Amrit(u) = glib (sweet) talk. 2. Anik = countless; many. Purrday Meh(I) = behind the curtain; hidden from others. Vikaar = immoral acts. Khin = moment. Pergut = becomes infamous. 3. Rus(i) = sweetness. Raata = imbued. Bidhaata = the carver of your fate. 4.

MEANING: The man plans evil ideas in his mind, but shows the opposite side to the world (pretends to be a beneficent). Such a thief (because he hides things) is tied up (is punished) in Waheguru's Court. 1. Only a person who recites Waheguru's Naam deserves to be called His devotee. Such a devotee "sees" Waheguru present everywhere - in the waters, on the land and in the sky. Pause. An individual who is poisonous inside, but talks sweetly to the people, is imprisoned and punished in the city (court) of the Angel of justice. 2. An individual who performs countless immoral acts behind the scenes (curtain) becomes infamous in a moment (in Waheguru's court). 3.

(On the contrary), a man, who is imbued within Waheguru's eternal Naam, earns the kindness of the Carver of our fates (Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.71.140

Word Meaning: Rung(u) = colour; love. Ootur(i) = come off; fade away. Gur(u) Poora = the Perfect Guru. Boojhaayay = enlightens. 1. Raata = imbued. Saacha = like Waheguru. Laal Rung = red colour (is very fast and does not fade away. It implies a strong relationship and dedication). Purakh = The Living Power (Waheguru. Bidhaata = the carver of fortune. Pause. Aan Rung = other colours. Pheekay = fade away fast; come off easily. 3. Nihaal = blessed. Duyaal = kind; benevolent. 4.

MEANING: The love for Waheguru in the heart of the man who has been enlightened by the Perfect Guru never fades. 1. The heart, which is fully imbued with Waheguru's love, is pure (like Waheguru). With deep red colour (deep love for Waheguru), such an individual merges with (becomes a part of) Waheguru, which is Perfect, omnipresent, and the carver of the fate of all. Pause. An individual who sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the holy devotees never has his love for Waheguru fade away. 2. Without reciting Waheguru's Naam, nobody enjoys real comfort because all different colours (attractions) of Maya fade away fast (are short-lived). 3. Word Meaning: Aalus(u) = laziness; indolence. Bunaiy = afford. 1. Khusm(u) = Lord. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. Aan = other. Kaudi = a small sea shell that has no worth (Maya). Ruttan = a highly valuable jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Tiyaageh(i) = gives up; trades Pause. Daas(i) = slave (Maya). Slaam = salute (accord honour). Kut = when? 2. Amrit Rus(u) = delicious foods. Jaaneh(i) = acknowledges. Sooaan = dog. 3. Loon Harami = ungrateful. Bukhsh = forgive. Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.
MEANING: How can the man be indolent to reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which is the (sole) provider for his clothing, food, and all other needs? 1.
A man who forgets Waheguru and engages in other tasks involving Maya trades a precious jewel (Waheguru's Naam) for a worthless sea-shell (Maya, which is short-lived). Pause.
A man who forgets Waheguru and engages in tasks of greed is like a man who salutes (accords respect to) the slave (Maya) rather than the master (Waheguru); he cannot earn any praise (in Waheguru's court) or even worldly benefits. 2.
We are like ungrateful (disloyal) dogs, who enjoy the rich, delicious foods and drinks, but do not acknowledge the master (Waheguru) who bestows us with all such gifts. 3.

Word Meaning: Prubh Kay Churn = Waheguru's Naam. Sugul = all. Mujun = dip; bath. 1. Kutha = story; description of virtues. Baanchhut = wished for. Ful = result. 2.

Pervaan(u) = approved. 3. Jun = devotee. Pooray = complete; perfect. Praput(i) = have in store; get. 4.
MEANING: An individual who focuses his mind on Waheguru's Naam with full concentration needs no pilgrimage to any holy place to take a dip there, as all holy places are subsumed in Waheguru's Naam. 1. Keep Waheguru's Naam fresh in mind all the time because all the filth of ill deeds of many lives is washed away, oh my brother. Pause.
If one implants Waheguru's virtues in his mind, all his wishes are fulfilled. 2.
A man, who kills (overcomes) his desires for Maya while living in the family by enshrining Waheguru's Naam in mind, has his living (deeds) approved by Him. 3.

Word Meaning: Mookur(i) = denies; does not acknowledge. Joheh(i) = watch closely; warn. Doot = agents. Dherm Raayay = angel of justice. 1.
Siyoun = with, from. Baymookh = turn face away (do not obey). Jeeo = soul. Pind(u) = body. Koat(i) = countless. Bhermeh(i) = is taken through. Pause.
Saakut = disconnected with God. Reet(i) = custom; routine; daily dealings. Bipreet(i) = against the expected norms. 2.
Praan = life. Dhaariya = supported. Bisaariya = forgotten. 3.
Budhay = increased; multiplied. Bikaar = evils. Kaagur = papers (of bad deeds). Oodhur(u) = find salvation. Sookh Saagur = sea (source) of comfort (Waheguru). 4.
Shernaayay = shelter. Bundhun = bonds. Pause second.
MEANING: A man who does not acknowledge Waheguru as the provider of all the gifts, despite the fact that all that he eats and wears is given by Him, is watched very closely by the agents of the Angel of justice. 1. A person who turns his face away from Waheguru (disregards Him), who has given him the body and soul, is taken through countless life forms. Pause. The daily dealings of the money-minded person who has been disconnected from Waheguru are totally opposite to the expected norm (the dealings of devotees). 2. The Lord, who supports (sustains) the soul, the life, the mind, and the body, is totally forgotten from the mind of the money-minded person. 3.
The account of the evil deeds of such a money-minded person becomes so extensive that many papers can be covered in writing them, but those who, to whom Waheguru, which is the source of all comfort, is kind, swim across the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.
Those who take Waheguru's shelter get their bonds (of Maya) cut by Waheguru's Naam, and they swim across the world-sea. Second Pause. 78.147.

Suful dershun(u) Gobind(u) humaara. 4.79.148.

Word Meaning: Loabh = greed. Sugul Munoruth = all objectives. Mookut(i) Pud(u) = the state of complete freedom from Maya. 1. Meet(u) = friend. Birtha = empty; without having wishes fulfilled. Pause. Apunaiy Sooaayay = for selfish objective. Bidaariya = eradicated. 2. Rusna = tongue. Geedhi = got used to. Poorun = successful. 3. Anik Baar = countless times. Bulihaara = wishes to sacrifice. Suful = fruitful; rewarding. 4.

MEANING: Even if a person makes friends with Waheguru (recites His Naam with love) for selfish reasons, not only does he achieve all his objectives, but Waheguru also frees him from all the bonds of Maya (so that he can merge into Him). 1. So, everybody should befriend such Waheguru who leaves nobody with unfulfilled wishes. Pause

If someone embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart for some selfish reasons, Waheguru eradicates all his sufferings, pains (irritants) and sickness. 2.

Once an individual's tongue becomes accustomed to reciting Waheguru's Naam, it continues to do so, and as a result, all his objectives are achieved. 3.

The holy sight of my Waheguru is highly rewarding; I love to sacrifice my life countless times for Him, oh Nanak. 4.79.148.

Word Meaning: Koat(i) = millions. Bighun = obstacles; obstructions. Hiray = removed; dismantled. Khin = moment. Soonaah(i) = listen to. 1.

Jaas(u) = praise. Khoodh(i) = appetite. Taas(u) = thirst; desire. Pause.

Kulyaan = wellbeing. Sehj = peace of mind. Nidhaan = treasure. 2.

Aukhudh = medication. Muntar = mantra (repeated recitation of a few words to please some god). Tunt = magic. Chhaar(u) = ash; dirt. Kernaiyhaar(u) = God. 3.

Tuj(i) = overcome. Bherm = misgivings. Bhujiyo = worship. Atull = immortal. 4.

MEANING: If a person listens to all the great traits of Waheguru in the company of the holy devotees, millions of his obstructions in life are dismantled in a moment. 1.

If an individual drinks the sweet essences of the life-sustaining praise and virtues of Waheguru, all his appetite and thirst (of desires for Maya) vanish away. Pause.

A man who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart acquires the treasure of all comforts, peace of mind, and wellbeing. 2. (Many people believe in and use some kind of mantras, medications, and magic to treat their mental or physical problems), But all such approaches are like dirt (useless, as they do not solve the problems). The real solution to all such problems is the Naam of the Creator, which we should embed in our hearts. 3. Overcome all your misgivings and recite Waheguru's Naam only. This is the only eternal faith and duty of the man, oh Nanak. 4.80.149.

Paykh(u) Nanak pusray Parbrahm. 4.81.150.

Word Meaning: Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Tit(u) = that. Bul(i) = force; power. Roag(u) = disease. Biyaapaiy = afflicts. 1. Ram = Waheguru. Rumun = by reciting. Turn = swimming across. Bhaiy Saagur = the world sea. Shern(i) = in the shelter of. Soor = valiant (Waheguru). Phaaray = tore away; destroyed. Kaagur = papers (accounts). Pause. Aasur = support. Poorun Bhuyay = completed successfully. 2. Jup = recitzation of mantras. Tup = self-affliction (to please some god). Sunjum = to restrain desires. Kirpaal = kind. Suhaayee = supportive. 3.
Maan = ego. Moh = attachment. Bherm = misgivings. Khoyay = removed; eradicated. Paykh(u) = see. Pusray = the expanse of. 4.

MEANING: With His kindness, only Waheguru connects an individual with the Guru, and because of that internal power (of Waheguru's Naam), no disease of any kind can afflict the individual. 1. One can swim across the world-sea only by reciting Waheguru's Naam. When an individual comes to the shelter of the Valiant Guru, all the accounts of his deeds as recorded by the Angel of death are destroyed by Waheguru. Pause.
The Satguru has given me Waheguru's Naam as the Mantra, and I have achieved all my objectives with the support of the Naam. 2. With the benevolence of the Guru, I sing Waheguru's praise, and do not need to recite any ritualistic mantra, undertake any self-affliction, or exercise any special control on my senses (to please any god). 3.
My Guru has destroyed my ego and all my misgivings, and now I see the expanse (presence everywhere) of Waheguru everywhere, oh Nanak. 4.81.150.

Mil(u) Nanak Hur(i) Untarjaami. 4.82.151.

Word meaning: Bikhaiy Raj = where the sensual pleasures rule. Undhula = blind; ignorant. Bhaari = takes an active part; indulges. Chitaari = thinks about. 1.
Vudiyaayee = honour. Mugun(u) = fully absorbed. Nerk = hell. Pause.
Roag girust = gripped by sickness. Bikh(u) Maata = fully engrossed in Maya (sensual pleasures) . Tthaur = support. Tthaoun = shelter. 2. Churn Kumul = lotus-like soft feet (of Waheguru) (His Naam). Aan = other. 3. Simroun = I recite. Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.
MEANING: The blind (ignorant) man indulges in sensual pleasures to enjoy life, but when he begins to suffer as a result of that enjoyment, he begins to think about Waheguru's Naam.1 The Maya-engrossed men are taken to hell, whereas Waheguru's Naam alone is the source of dignity for His devotees. Pause. The man thinks of Waheguru's Naam only when he is clenched by some disease (or trouble), but when he is worry-free, he is so engrossed in enjoying sensual pleasures that he does not care about any shelter or support (of Waheguru). 2. On the other hand, the man, who is in love with Waheguru's Feet (His Naam), does not think of any other comfort. 3. I recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, requesting that I be connected to the omniscient Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.82.151.

Kur(i) kirpa Nanak goon gaah(i). 4.83.152.
Word Meaning: Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Sungi = companions. Butvaaray = robbers; the five demons. Nivaaray = removed; get rid of. 1.
Rumuou = recite. Serb Kula Poorun = complete in every way; perfect. Pause.
Muha Tupt(i) = extremely hot; causing great suffering. Khin = moment. Ootaarunhaar(u) = capable of ferrying to the other side. 2. Anik = countless. Bundhun = bonds. Mookut(i) ful = the fruit of freedom. 3. Ookut(i) = logic; argument. Siyaanup = wisdom. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru kindly enabled me to get rid of the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and conceit) which otherwise always accompany the man (rob him of his virtues). 1. Everybody should enjoy the sweetness of the Perfect Waheguru by reciting His Naam. Pause. The world-sea is a source of great suffering, but Waheguru can ferry us across this sea of fire (troubles) in a moment. 2. The man cannot break the countless bonds of Maya with his own efforts, but he can get the reward of freedom from Maya by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3. The man has no ability to achieve any spirituality by his logical arguments or by his wisdom; the only way to acquire spirituality is to sing praise of the virtues of Waheguru by His kindness, oh Nanak. 4.83.152.

Praym bhugut(i) bhuj(u) gooni nidhaan(u). Nanak Durgeh paayiyaiy maan(u). 4.84.153.

Word Meaning: Thaati = small bag (of wealth). Bichur(u) = while living in (dealing with) the world. 1. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Dhaar(i) = store in. Bhuv Saagur = the world sea. 2. Sadhu = Guru. Sung(u) = company. Kulyaan = wellbeing. 3. Praym Bhugut(i) = worship with love. Gooni Nidhaan = Treasure of virtues. 4.

MEANING: A man who acquires a bag of wealth of Waheguru's Naam has all his objectives achieved successfully while dealing with the world. 1.

But one has no control over whether he can sing Waheguru's praise; it is only with great fortune that the man gets to sing it with the kindness of Waheguru. Pause.

Implant Waheguru's feet (Naam) in your heart, oh man. Waheguru's Naam is the ship, boarding on which, you will cross the tough world-sea. 2.

Everybody should join the company of the Guru, as a result of which one does not suffer any discomfort again; it is blissful all the time. 3. If we worship the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru, with love, we are honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.84.153.

Word Meaning: Thul(i) = on the land. Muhiul(i) = in the sky. Poorun = complete; perfect. Meet = friendly; loving. Bherm = misbeliefs. Binsay = vanish. 1. Sung(i) = with; accompanies. Pehrooa = guard. Jum = angel of death. Pause.

Churn Kumul = lotus-like feet of Waheguru (His Naam). Nivaas(u) = dwelling. 2.

Aasa = hope; wish; support. Maan(u) = pride. Taan = force; power. Aik = One (Waheguru). Saach Shah = the true King. Tayk = support. 3.

Anaath = orphan. 4.

MEANING: The loving Waheguru is present everywhere – in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. All one's misgivings are cleared by always singing His praise. 1.

There is no fear of the Angel of death when we recite Waheguru's Naam because He is always with us as our guard, whether we are awake or asleep. Pause.

All discomforts vanish when we make our heart the dwelling place for Waheguru's Naam. 2. Once a man has faith in the True King, Waheguru, in his mind, he has firm belief that only Waheguru is his real support (source) for his pride, power, and wealth. 3.

Waheguru's devotees are so humble that they consider themselves extremely poor (as they are completely detached from Maya) and orphans (without any worldly support). They have full faith in Waheguru that He will support them everywhere by extending His hand. 4.85.154.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Hur(i) Hur(i) Naam(i) mujun(u) kur(i) soochay. Koat(i) grehn poonn ful moochay. 1. Ruhaou. Hur(i) kay Churn riday meh(i) busay. Junum junum kay kilvikh nusay. 1. Sadh sung(i) keertun ful(u) paaya. Jum ka maarug drisht(i) na aaya. 2. Mun buch kerm Govind adhaar(u). Ta tay chhootiyo bikh(u) sunsaar(u). 3. Kur(i) kirpa prubh(i) keeni apna. Nanak jaap(u) jupay Hur(i) jupna. 4.86.155.

Word Meaning: Mujun(u) = bath. Soochay = pure. Koat(i) = millions. Grehn = eclpses. Poonn = donations to Brahmans. Moochay = very many. Pause.
Hur(i) Kay Churn = Waheguru's feet (Naam). Busay = dwell. Kilvikh = sins. 1.
Keertun = singing praise of Waheguru. Jum Ka Maarug = path to the angel of death. Drisht (i) = sight; see. 2. Buch = words. Kerm = deeds. Govind = Waheguru. Chhootiyo = detached; break away. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Sunsaar(u) = world. 3.
Keeno = made; accepted. Jupna = worthy of recitation; a must. 4.

NOTE: To fleece the innocent people, the Brahmans had created many false beliefs among them. Hefty donations to them during the eclipses were another. They had concocted many false stories about the mythical gods and demons. They made people believe that eclipses occur when a couple of bottomless demons – Rahoo and Kaytoo – grab the gods, the sun, and the moon in their jaws and swallow them. To free the gods from the demons' jaws, the people must donate generously to the Brahmans so they can bribe the demons to set the gods free. Donations to Brahmans were considered a deed of huge religious value. However, being bottomless, the demons could not hold the gods for too long in their mouths, and the gods would eventually come out of the other end.

MEANING: If a man purifies himself by taking a dip in Waheguru's Naam-pool, he is rewarded with a million times the reward of the so-called noble deed of donations to Brahmans at the time of eclipses. Pause. If one embeds (enshrines) Waheguru's Naam in his heart, all his sins of many, many lives are washed away. 1.
A person who sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the Guru reaps the fruit (reward) that he will never tread the path which leads to the Angel of death (he gets connected with Waheguru and his soul becomes part of Waheguru). 2.
A man, who makes Waheguru's Naam his support for his mind, for his words (of praise) and for his deeds, he gets detached from the world of poisonous Maya. 3.
With His benevolence, Waheguru has accepted me as His own; now I recite His Naam, which is a must for (union with Him), oh Nanak. 4.86.155.

Word Meaning: Jaatay = realized; got connected with. Seetul = calm; peaceful. Raatay = imbued. 1. Bhaiy Bhunjun = the destroyer of fear. Busaahi = embed. Derput, Derput = being farful. Jaahi = go through. Pause. Munoruth = Kaam = objectives. 2. Jura = old age. Vaas(i) = under control. Giraas(i) = with every bite. 3. Meet = Saajun = Sukha = close friend. Soami = Lord. Tayk = support. 4.

MEANING: Seek the shelter of those holy devotees who have realized Waheguru, oh my friend. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's love attain peace of mind and body. 1 Those who do not embed Waheguru's Naam, which is the destroyer of all fears, in their mind, spend their life in many, many worldly fears. Pause. (On the other hand), Those who embed Waheguru's Naam in their hearts achieve all their objectives and tasks successfully. 2. Recite the Naam of the omnipotent Waheguru with every breath and every nibble of food, which controls birth, old age, and death, oh my friend. 3. Waheguru alone is my close friend, and the Lord is my only support, oh Nanak. 4.87.156.

Word Meaning: Baahur(i) = while dealing with the world. Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Govind = Waheguru. 1. Raata = imbued. Rung(i) = love of (Waheguru). Pause. Kilvikh = sins. Hiriya = vanished; washed away. 2. Sobha = fame; praise. Soorut(i) = concentration of mind. Nirmul = pure; holy. 3. Jaap(u) = recite. Paykh(i) = to see; to notice. Pertaap(u) = magnanimity. 4.

MEANING: When an individual recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of holy devotees, his mind and body get imbued with Waheguru's love. Pause.

With the support of the holy devotees, an individual who keeps Waheguru's Naam fresh in his mind while dealing with the world gets His Naam enshrined in his mind as well, forever. 1. With Guru's grace, all the sins of many, many lives of such an individual are washed away, and he swims across the world-sea (finds salvation) easily. 2. Acting on the holy advice of the Perfect Guru, the devotee realizes that Waheguru's Naam is the basis of his fame and of the concentration of his mind. 3. With Waheguru's Naam always fresh in my mind, I see His magnanimity everywhere, and survive by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.88.157.

NOTE: The grand total should have been 158 here, NOT 157. This error started with the start of the Shabads of Mehla 5.

Word Meaning: Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Thaan = place; congregation; heart. Kooshul = Khaym = wellbeing; happiness. Busaayay = bestows. Pause.
Biput(i) = trouble; suffering. Koat(i) = millions; countless. Anund = bliss. 1.
Bisriyain = by forgetting. Ghunayray = too many. Nayray = near. 2.
Nihchul = stable; unwavering. Thaan(u) = minds. Kayvul = only. 3.
Naal(i) = with. Untarjaami = know-all; omniscient. 4.

MEANING: The heart, the place, and the congregation, where Waheguru's virtues are sung, are highly fortunate and worthy of our respect. Waheguru Himself bestows all happiness and bliss there. Pause. There are millions of blissfulness where Waheguru's virtues are sung, but trouble and suffering are experienced where His Naam is ignored. 1.
Many discomforts and diseases befall those who forget Waheguru, but the Angel of Death (fear of death) does not come even close to those who serve Waheguru (His Naam is recited with love). 2. Those people (holy congregations) are lucky, and their minds become stable (quit wavering) where Waheguru's Naam is recited with full faith. 3.
I have realized the omniscient Waheguru, who is with me all the time now, no matter where I go, oh Nanak. 4.89.158.

Word Meaning: Praani = man. Dhiyaavaiy = remembers. Perm Gut(i) = highest spiritual state. 1. Sadhu = Guru. Gopaal = Waheguru. Jhoottha = false; short-lived. Pause.
Roopvunt = handsome. Chatur(u) = intelligent. Bhaana = Will. 2.
Pervaan(u) = approved. Ghut(i), Ghut(i) = in every heart. Jaan(u) = recognize. 3.
Poorun Bhaag = perfect luck. Churni = feet (Naam). 4.

MEANING: A person who recites Waheguru's Naam attains the highest spiritual state, no matter whether people think him as being educated or uneducated. 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my friend. Without Waheguru's Naam, all the wealth and property are false (short-lived). Pause.
The individual, who gladly accepts Waheguru's Will, is a truly handsome, intelligent, and wise person. 2. A person who recognizes that the Lord, Waheguru, is present in every heart (and treats all human beings equally as created by the same God), is approved by Waheguru as a successful man (who has achieved union with Him) in this world. 3.

However, only that individual takes Waheguru's shelter (loves His Naam) who is highly fortunate, oh Nanak. 4.90.159.

Simer Soami Hur(i) sa meet. 4.91.160

Word Meaning: Saakut = money-worshipper; disconnected from God. Bikhuyee = lustful. Rung(u) = love; affection. Pause. Mun Asvaar = rider in mind only (unfit rider). Toori = mare. Sigaari = decorated; very fast. Kapurakh(u) = non-masculine; impotent. Poochaaray = displays love. 1. Baiyl = ox. Naytra = ties rear legs. Doohaavaiy = to milk. Guoo = cow. Singh = lion. Paachhaiy Paavaiy = chases. 2.
Gaadur = sheep. Kaamdhayn = mythical holy cow. Pooji = worships. Sauday = merchandise. Dhaavaiy = rushes to. Bin(u) = without. Poonji = capital. 3.
Jup(i) = recite. Cheet = in mind. Simer(i) = remember. Meet = close friend. 4.

MEANING: An individual who is disconnected from Waheguru cannot have friendship with a devotee of Waheguru, because the former is lustful, whereas in total contrast, the devotee is imbued with Waheguru's love. Pause. Their friendship between them is like that between a man who is an untrained rider, and an uncontrollable mare which runs amok, or like an impotent individual who displays passion for a woman. 1.
Or, their friendship is like a man who tries to milk an ox by tying its hind legs, or a man who rides a cow to hunt a lion. 2. Or, their friendship is like a man who worships a sheep, taking her for the mythical holy cow, Kaamdhayn. Or like a man who rushes to buy some merchandise without any money. 3. A man should keep Waheguru in mind all the time, and recite His Naam only, to earn His friendship (favour), oh Nanak. 4.91.160.

Nanak jaachaiy Sadh ruvaal. 4.92.161.

Word Meaning: Mut(i) = wisdom; thinking. Nirmul = pure; clean. Dheer = patience. Rusaayin(u) = the treasure (source) of all enjoyments. Beer = brother. 1.
Oat = shelter; support. Chhoat = freedom. Pause. Oopjaiy = produce; give birth. Rung(i) = love. Pertaap(u) = magnificence. 2. Mit(i) = erase; eradicate. Bikaar = sensual pleasures. Oopkaar = favour. 3.
Raatay = imbued. Jaachaiy = wish; beg. Sadh ruvaal = dust of Guru's feet. 4.

MEANING: That thinking is said to be pure (holy), and a source of patience by which a man drinks the juice of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all tastes, oh my brother. 1.

Take shelter of Waheguru's feet (His Naam) in the heart, and you will be free from the cycle of birth and death, oh my brother. Pause. That human body is pure, which does not spawn (give birth to) sins, and which enjoys the holy magnificence of Waheguru in His love. 2. All evils of a man are eradicated in the company (shelter) of the Guru (who implants Waheguru's Naam in his heart), which is His greatest favour to His devotees. 3. I wish for the dust of the feet of the Guru (the opportunity to serve Him), and to be imbued in the love of worshiping Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.92.161

Nanak kay Prubh praan adhaar. 4.93.162.

Word Meaning: Aiysi = such. Maiyl luyay = got connected. Vudbhaageen = with great fortune. Pause. Bherta = husband. Paykh(i) = on seeing. Bigsaiy = blooms; overjoyed. Chitaari = thinking about; remembering. 1.
Oat(i) Poat(i) = the cross threads in fabric (weft and woof). Raata = imbued. 2.
Loabhi = greedy. Anund = overjoyed. Dhuna = money. Muna = mind. 3.
Bissur(u) = forget. Til(u) = (the size of) a sesame seed (very short time). Dataar = the provider, Waheguru. Praan Adhaar = basis of life. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru connects some devotees with Him who, with great fortune, develops love for Him in their hearts. Pause. Just as a woman is overjoyed to see her husband, a devotee survives by remembering Waheguru's Naam. 1.
Just as a mother survives (becomes very happy) to see her son, a devotee is blissful to be imbued in Waheguru's love, and merges with Him like the cross threads (weft and woof) in fabric. 2. Just as a greedy person is overjoyed to see money, a devotee feels blissful when his mind is connected with the lotus-like Feet of Waheguru (His Naam). 3. You are the basis of my life, oh Waheguru; so, please, do not be away from my mind even for a moment, begs (Guru) Nanak. 4.93.162.

Word Meaning: Rusaayin(i) = source of all enjoyment (bliss). Geedhay = are used to; addicted to. Beedhay = pierced; stitched with. Pause.
Aan = others. Rusa = tastes. Chhaar(u) = ash; dirt. Nihful = fruitless. 1.
Undh Koop = dark well (of Maya). Uchurj = strange; amazing. Pertaap= grandeur. 2.

Vun = forests. Trin = vegetation. Tirbhuvun = universe. Poorun = filling completely. Pusaar(u) = expanse. Sung(i) = with. Duyaal = the kind (Waheguru). 3.
Kuthni = description; words (in praise of Waheguru). Saar(u) = supreme; best. Maan(i) Layt(u) = acceptable to; approved by. Sirjunhaar(u) = the Creator, God. 4.
MEANING: Those individuals who are addicted to enjoying the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss, get stitched to (connected with) the lotus-like soft Feet of Waheguru (His Naam) through their worship with deep love. Pause.
Without Waheguru's Naam, the world is fruitless (one does not gain anything in spirituality); all other enjoyments are worthless like dirt. 1. (However, one cannot develop love for Waheguru with one's own efforts). Waheguru Himself pulls individuals out of the deep, dark well of Maya with His kindness. (Ordinarily, the man is so engrossed in Maya that he becomes blind to Waheguru). An individual who sings Waheguru's virtues sees His amazing grandeur. 2. Waheguru is present everywhere – in the forests, in the vegetation, in the entire universe - and the kind Waheguru is always with you in His entire expanse (no matter where you go). 3. Only those words in Waheguru's praise are supreme which are acceptable to Him, oh Nanak. 4.94.163.

Word Meaning: Nitprut(i) = everyday (always). Ram Sur(i) = Waheguru Naam's Pool; Naam-Amrit. Jhoal(i) = by mixing well. Muha Rus(u) = the great juice. Pause.
Ooduk(u) = water. Mujun(u) = bathing. Poorun = complete. 1. Goasht(i) = dialogue; union. Kilvikh = sins. 2. Sadh = holy devotees. Anund(u) = feel blissful. Ruvuiya = mixed in; present. Permanund = the source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). 3.
Praaput(i) = acquired. Nidhaan = treasure. Koorbaan = offer to sacrifice. 4.
MEANING: Take a dip in the pool of Waheguru's Naam (Naam-Amrit) every day (all the time), and drink the great-tasting juice (Naam-Amrit) by shaking it well (fully enjoying it), oh my friend. Pause. Waheguru's Naam is holy water; taking a dip in it lets you achieve all your objectives successfully. 1. All the sins of many lives are washed away in the company of the holy devotees, and one gets united with Waheguru. 2.
There (in the company of the holy devotees) one feels the presence of the source of the supreme bliss – Waheguru- in his body and mind, and enjoys that by reciting His Naam. 3. I will gladly sacrifice my life (offer all my services) to the devotee who acquires the treasure of the Waheguru's Feet (His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.95.164.

Kuhou Nanak jin(i) tujay bikaar. 4.96.165.

Word Meaning: Jit(u) = with what. Maiyl(u) = filth. Jaagaiy = stay alert. Pause. Dooja = other. Bhaao = love. Kayvul = only. 1. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Naym = principle; structured. Jaan = acknowledge. 2. Poorun hoyee = became successful. Ghaal = hard labour. 3. Baishno = a devotee of god Vishnu (Waheguru). Apar Apaar(u) = limitless. Tujay = quit; overcame. Bikaar = sensual pleasures; evils. 4.

MEANING: Perform only those deeds which do not cause any filth or evilness in your mind, oh my friend. Your mind should be awake (alert) in praise of Waheguru. Pause.

Worship only the "One" (Waheguru), and have love for none other; and recite only Waheguru's Naam in the holy congregation. 1. Do not recognize (acknowledge) anybody other than Waheguru, and you won't need any religious rituals, fasting, or any structured worship of some deity (they have no spiritual worth). 2.

An individual who has developed love for Waheguru (by reciting His Naam all the time, and by controlling his senses) gets his hard labour approved (rewarded) by God. 3.

An individual who overcomes his sensual pleasures and other evils is the real devotee of Waheguru and becomes like Him, oh Nanak. 4.96.165.

Ram Naam Nanak aaraadh(i). 4.97.166.

Word Meaning: Dayvaanay = oh, foolish (crazy). Mooyaan = after death. Ko = who? Versaanay = take advantage; benefit from. 1. Dhoor(i) Likhiya = is the Huqam from the Source (Waheguru). Kahoo Kaaj Na = of no use; serves no purpose. Bikhiya = poison (Maya). Pause. Bikhaiy = sensual pleasure. Tthugauri = defrauding. Jin(i) Jin(i) = whoever. Khaayee = enjoyed. Trishna = appetite of desires. Kubhoon Na = never. 2. Daarun = unbearable; excruciating. Dootur = difficult (to swim across). Ootrus Paar(i) = land on the other side. 3. Doyay Kool = both the clans (lives) - the present and the future life. Saadh(i) = improve; make successful. Aaraadh(i) = worship. 4.

MEANING: Who can benefit from Maya after death, which leaves the man even during his lifetime, oh foolish man! 1. (To achieve union with God), remember Waheguru with your mind and body, oh man. This is the prewritten Law right from the beginning (source), oh man. Maya serves no purpose in the realm of spirituality. Pause.

Whoever enjoys the defrauding sensual pleasures, never gets contented, and desires more and more. 2. The world is a sea of unbearable suffering, and it is extremely difficult to swim across. So, how can one land on the other side without the shelter of Waheguru's Naam? 3. Word Meaning: Greeb = poor; powerless. J(i) = Jo = which. Daahrri = beard. Khinjaiy Daahrri = one who touches his beard (twirls his moustache) to show off his muscle power. 1. Kartaar(u) = Waheguru. Raakhunhaar(u) = protector; guard. Pause.
Aad(i) = from the beginning of the universe. Joogaad(i) = from the beginning of the eons. Pertaap(u) = magnificence. Ninduk = malicious critic; evil person. Oopuj(i) = production. Vud Taap(u) = big suffering. 2. Tin(i) = that (Waheguru). Aagaiy Paachhaiy = everywhere. Mundi Soyay = infamy; ignominy. 3.
Kuntth Laayay = hold to the neck; hug. Shern(i) = in the shelter of. 4

MEANING: An individual who shows off his unwarranted muscle power to the poor and the powerless is severely punished by God. 1. Waheguru delivers perfect justice and protects His devotees. Pause. Waheguru's grandeur has been evident since the beginning of the universe and the eons, and the malicious and evil person dies (moral death) with huge suffering. 2. Nobody can save an individual who has been (morally) killed by Waheguru. His ignominy spreads quickly everywhere because of his evil deeds. 3. Waheguru protects His devotees by holding them to His neck (by hugging them with deep love). I have come to His shelter, and I recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.98.167.

Word Meaning: Mehjur = litany of complaints. Aap(i) = Waheguru Himself. Suntaap = torture; anguish. 1. Koorr(u) = complete lies. Haath puchhoarraiy = rubs hands in repentance. 2. Biyaapay = afflicts; troubles. Udlee = judge. 3.
Kmaayaiy = earned (the result of his deeds). Baandhay = bags in (become his sole property). Derb(u) = wealth (result of ill deeds). Jea = life. Saathaiy = with. 4.
Derbaar(i) = (Waheguru's) Court. Paiyj = dignity. Kartaar = the Creator 5.

NOTE: It seems that Guru Arjun Dev Ji wrote this Shabad in response to a complaint lodged by a Khatri named Goanda of Goindwal (in Amritsar district) against the Third Master, Guru Amar Dass Ji, to Emperor Akbar when he visited Lahore. The emperor found all the complaints baseless and reprimanded the Khatri, who returned home after suffering humiliation. In this Shabad, Guru Arjun Sahib highlights the magnificence of Waheguru and the victory of Truth against evil.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself proved the litany of the complaints (against Guru Amar Dass Ji) to be completely false, and the sinner Khatri suffered humiliation. 1. Even the Angel of Death does not come near the devotee whom Waheguru supports. Pause.

An ignorant and foolish person who tells lies in Waheguru's Court (a trial watched by Waheguru) has to suffer humiliation, and he rubs his hands and shakes his head in repentance. 2. Such a sinner has to suffer the consequences of his sins because Waheguru Himself acts as the judge. 3. The results of the evil deeds done by a man become his sole property (nobody else can be held responsible for his evil deeds), and they accompany his soul after his death. 4. Waheguru protects his devotees who take His shelter. I have also come to His shelter, oh Nanak. 5.99.168.

Anik Jula = countless holy waters. Tayhi = with that 2. Bhatiyo = met; got connected. Bhuou = fear. Kaal = death. 3. Mookut(i) = freedom (from Maya); salvation. Bhoogut(i) = food. Joogut(i) = logic; lifestyle. Praym Bhugut(i) = worship with love (reverence). 4.

MEANING: Those who have good fortune written for them right from the beginning (based on their deeds of previous lives), come to like the dust of the Feet of Waheguru's devotee (Guru's Word) in their mind, oh man. Pause. The wisdom of selfishness and ego is greasy filth on one's soul, which is scrubbed off to purify it by the dust of the feet of the Guru (by His advice). 1. If a man takes a dip in countless holy waters to wash off sins from his body, he cannot cleanse his body of that filth with those waters. 2.

(The only way to cleanse your mind) is to take shelter of the kind Guru, and recite Waheguru's Naam repeatedly, with which, not only your mind will be purified, but you will also lose any fear of death, oh man. 3. I sing Waheguru's virtues with full reverence because His Naam is the only source of salvation, of mental food, and of a holy lifestyle, oh Nanak. 4.100.169.

Word Meaning: Naytur = eyes. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Bherm = misgivings. Poorun Bhuyee = became successful. Sayv = service. Pause.
Seetla = smallpox. Bihaari = source of bliss (Waheguru). 1.

Jeevaiy = lives (spiritually alive). Sadh Sung(i) = in Guru's company. 2.
MEANING: The Great Guru has approved my hard labour (of serving Him) as successful, and enlightened the eyes (of my mind) as a result of which all my misgivings are gone. Pause. The source of bliss, Waheguru, became very kind and protected child Hargobind from smallpox. 1. Whoever recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru (holy congregation), drinks the immortalizing Amrit (Waheguru's Naam), and stays (spiritually) alive, oh Nanak. 2.103.172.
NOTE: Hargobind Ji (later the Sixth Guru), the only child of Guru Arjun Dev Ji, was born in 1595 when the area between Amritsar and Lahore was under serious attack of smallpox - a deadly disease. Guru Arjun Dev Ji was touring that area to provide physical and moral support to the suffering humanity. Guru Ji had to keep Hargobind Ji with Him for safety reasons, as child Hargobind Ji's life was under threat from Guru Sahib's elder brother, Pirthi Chand. Hargobind Ji also suffered a severe attack of the deadly disease. In those days, the general masses believed strongly that every disease had a god or goddess behind it. It was believed that the goddess Seetla controlled smallpox, and that a patient would survive only if the goddess was pleased by performing certain rituals. A large number of sympathizers, especially women, advised Guru Sahib to perform the prevalent rituals to save Hargobind Ji's life. But, how could Guru Arjun Dev Ji, a manifestation of Guru Nanak, and hence of Waheguru, believe in such a baseless belief!! So, He never agreed. When the child Hargobind recovered fully, Guru Sahib thanked Waheguru and, to instil love and faith in Waheguru in the minds of the masses, He wrote many holy Shabads, which are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib. This is one of those Shabads.
