MEANING: Recite all the time the Naam of the kind, light-like, and the compassionate Waheguru in the shelter of the holy saints who have noble qualities like patience, service to others, impartiality, and the like, oh my mind. Pause.
(To elaborate on these qualities, I will quote some examples next), oh my mind.
A tree is cut down by a sharp tool, and is felled, but it shows no resentment. It rather allows the cutter to achieve his objective (fulfil his needs) and does not blame him in the least (the holy saints are patient and generous like a tree). 1.
(If a fully exhausted traveller has to cross a mighty river by boat) He pushes it down by stepping on it and settles down. All his tiredness disappears, and the might of the river does not cause any discomfort, and he lands on the bank on the other side in a short time. (The holy saints also ferry humans across the world sea.) 2.
If someone gives a coating of sandalwood extract, the cologne of the agar tree, or camphor, the earth shows no love for the individual and no resentment toward the individual who passes his feces or urine on it, or even if he digs it bit by bit. (Such is also the nature of the holy saints who help everybody, whether one treats them with kind words or shows hostility. 3.
Like the sky, which stretches its canopy on everybody the same way, be it someone noble, of low caste, an evil person, or a godman. It does not consider anyone its friend or foe and treats everybody the same way. The holy saints provide shelter to everyone without discrimination. 4. When the sun rises, its blazing brightness dispels all darkness, and its rays touch every object – holy or unholy – without letting its feeling get hurt. 5.
The cool (comforting) and fragrance-laden wind blows at a low speed everywhere, picking up good or bad smells without hesitation when it touches different things, with no discrimination. (Like the sun and the wind, the holy saints also render service to everybody without any discrimination). 6.
Any individual who comes near a fire, with good or bad intentions, has their coldness removed. The fire does not change its nature and treats everyone the same, without any feeling of closeness or strangeness (the same goes for the saints). 7.
I have come to the shelter of, and have a guardian in the form of Waheguru. I am imbued in His deep love, and sing His praise all the time with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Anjulee = pray with folded hands. Buhout(u) = too much (wealth). Chinta = worries (not to lose, and to earn more). Thori = not enough. Phiray Bhermunta = wanders around; looks around. Bivustha = conditions. Mookta = free. Soohayla = comfortable. 1. Greh(i) Raj = enjoying luxuries in the family. Nerk(u) = lead to hell. Oodaas = detached from the world. Kurodha = short-tempered. Sodha = analyzed. Dayhi Meh(i) = in body (mind). Alipta = detached. Poorun = successful. Ghaaliyaiy = hard labour. 2.
Vigoota = suffers humiliation. Huoun Bundhun = bonds of haumein. Nihaaliyaiy = see. 3. Bundha = gets trapped in more bonds. Ninda = gets vilified. Mugun = absorbed in. Viyaapiya = overpowered by. Chinda = worry. Sum = equal. Hiyaaliyaiy = see. 4.

MEANING: The members of the house who have too much wealth are always worried about their loss. or about earning more of it. And, the master of the house who does not have enough of it always wanders around worried (in making plans) to earn more of it. Only that household leads a life in comfort (is free from worries), which is free from both these situations (has just enough money but is fully contented). 1.
The family folks, who enjoy the luxuries (sensual pleasures) of life, are on their way to hell. And, those who leave home with the belief that they can break the worldly bonds, suffer from short temper, even if they might have read and analyzed the Vedas. Only that individual's hard labour is recognized (by Waheguru) who remains detached from worldly affairs of the mind, while still working hard to earn his living by honest means. 2.

The man stays unaware of the reality (immoral effects of Maya) even though he is visibly awake, and he suffers humiliation (in Waheguru's Court) because of his misgivings (about Maya) and its resulting consequences. Nobody can find emancipation without the Guru, oh my friend. The bonds of one's haumein are broken only in the shelter of the Guru when he sees Waheguru, and only Waheguru, everywhere. 3.
If a man performs the prevalent religious deeds, he is trapped deeper in the net of the bonds of Maya; but if he does not perform them, he suffers taunting by the society. Engrossed in the worldly attractions, the man is overpowered by worries. However, if he comes to Guru's shelter, he accepts comforts and discomforts the same way (feels fully contented) and sees Waheguru in everybody's heart. 4.

Word Meaning: Sehsa = doubts; worries. Akuth = indescribable. Kutha = description of virtues; praise Agoachur = incomprehensible (Waheguru). Nuhhi Jaapaiy = cannot see. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. Vaangi = like. Paaliyaiy = raises. 5.
Chhoad(i) Buhhaiy = if renounces. Sinchaiy = accumulates. Put(i) = dignity. Chaur Dhaaliyaiy = is honoured as if royal whisk is fanned (waved) over his head. 6.
Soora = valiant. Merna = kill sensual desires. Bhaagaiy = runs away from battle against senses. Vertaayay = implements His Laws. Bhul Maanaiy = accepts as good for him. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. 7.
Juchna = His likings. Smaaliyaiy = remember; recite (Naam). 8.
MEANING: Doubts and worries do happen to people in the world, as a result of this, they do not see (get connected with) the incomprehensible and the indescribable Waheguru, and cannot sing His praise. Only that individual realizes the worth of Waheguru, whom He gives the wisdom to understand; He then raises him like a child. 5.
If someone leaves home to relinquish Maya, he cannot do so by mind (which is still engrossed in it), but if he accumulates it, he suffers from the fear of losing it. But if Waheguru protects his dignity (from the attacks of Maya) even in such a situation, he is a real holy saint, and he feels as if a royal whisk is being waved over his head. 6.
He is a true valiant who fights against his sensual pleasures and kills his desires, but the one who flees from this battlefield (fighting against desires) is taken through many, many life forms. The man should accept all that is given by Waheguru as good for him, and burn his evil thoughts by recognizing Waheguru's Will. 7.
But we cannot blame anyone because everyone has to do whatever Waheguru wishes for them as per their prewritten fortune. Waheguru does what he likes and watches His actions. My Waheguru is the perfect source of comforts, and I would like to recite His Naam if He kindly grants me, oh Nanak. 8.1.7.

Word Meaning: Birkhaiy Haytth(i) = under the (world) tree. Ikk(i) = some. Tuttay Bolun(i) = talk very impolitely. Ust(u) = sunset. Oudoat(u) = sunrise. Aoudh = life. Vihaaniya = is spent. 1. Kurayndurr = doing; committing. Surpur = for sure. Mootthay = are robbed. Ajrayeel = Angel of death. Kootthay = kills slowly. Dojuk(i) = in hell. Sirjunhaaray = the Creator. Laykha Mungaiy = demands the account of deeds. Baaniya = the Angel of justice. 2. Bhuyya = brother. Bayba = sister. Maal(u) = properties. Jobun(u) = youthfulness. Vunjaysa =will leave. Kern = the Creator . Kureem = provider of everything. Jaato = recognized (made connection). Til Ghaaniyaan = load of sesame. Peerray = crush. Jiyoun = like. 3. Khoos(i) = by snatching. Puraayi = of others. Khoodaayi = God. Lub(i) = greed of different tastes. Khaat = pit. Ugli Gull = future conequences. 4.
Sujaayay = punishment. Days(u) = country; journey. Lummaaiy = long. Jaani = learns; make connection. Puraaniya = man. 5.
MEANING: Just like the birds gather together on a tree to spend the night, the world is a tree for human beings to spend the night of life. Some of them are very impolite, while many are very sweet. As the birds leave the tree when the night is over, and the sun rises, the humans leave the world when the night of their lives is spent. 1.
Those who commit sins are robbed of their noble qualities and are punished mercilessly by the Angel of Death. The Angel of justice demands the account of their deeds, and the Creator throws them into hell (of rebirths). 2.
At the time of death, none of the deceased's brothers or sisters accompanies him, and he leaves behind all his property, his youthfulness, and his wealth. He never made any connection with the Creator (Waheguru), which provides him with all the necessities of life as a result of which he is punished like a load of sesame seeds is crushed in the crushing mill. 3. The man acquires belongings of others by snatching them without realizing that God is always with him and watches all his actions, and even listens to his plans (thoughts). With the greed to enjoy the world's different tastes, he falls into a deep pit of sin without realizing the future consequences of his actions. 4.

(As a consequence of his actions), He is set on a long journey of punishment through rebirths, taking birth and dying again and again. The (spiritually) blind man does not make any connection with his Creator, as a result of which, he suffers as he gets punishment. 5

Word Meaning: Khaaluk = Lord of the world. Thaavhoun = from place (objective). Bhoolla = missed. Moottha = robbed. Khayl(u) = drama. Booraa = bad. Rootth = displeased. Toottha = pleased. Siduk (u) = contentment. Suboori = patience. Vuttaiy = wanders aimlessly. Aapun Bhaaniya = to his own liking. 6.
Maula = Waheguru. Kuddhay = pulled out of the sea of Maya. Lehr(i) = waves; impulses. Kirt = consequences of previous deeds. Vihaaniya = as the life goes on; shows it effects. 7. Geetaan = songs. Vukhaaniya = sing. 8.
MEANING: The man forgets his objective of getting connected with Waheguru, and is thus robbed of his spirituality. The drama of life is very tough to play; sometimes he is unhappy in it (when things do not go his way), and sometimes he becomes happy when he achieves something. Led by his mind, he wanders around aimlessly and does not seek shelter with the Guru to attain contentment and patience. 6.
But again, it is Waheguru who makes the man do what He wants him to do. He pulls out some from the waves of the ocean of worldly desires, while others are overpowered by such waves. Based on their previous deeds, the humans dance as the puppets at the hands of Waheguru. 7.
The man, whom Waheguru is kind to, worships Him. One does not go to hell in the company of the holy saints. I beg for His Amrit-like Naam in donation so that I may sing songs of His praise, oh Nanak. 8.2.8.12.20.

Giyan(i) = source of Divine Knowledge. Soora = sun (source of enlightenment). Jum = Angel of death. Joh(i) = keep an evil (watchful) eye. 4.

MEANING: Only Waheguru, and none else, is everlasting in the universe. The universe is created and also destroyed by Him. We have to live the way You please (wish us to live); we have no ability to defy Your Will, oh Waheguru. 1.

Waheguru, Himself creates the universe, and Himself destroys it, and Himself puts everyone to perform worldly tasks of nature based on their prewritten destiny. He is the source of all noble qualities, is thoughtful, evaluates the deeds performed by everybody, and puts them on the path of righteousness. 2.

He is very wise, knows everything about His living beings, and creates them as He pleases. Air, water, and fire (energy) are His own forms, which He puts together to create the world. 3. He is the perfect source of patience (contentment), and of enlightenment. He, Himself, is the source of Divine Knowledge and of concentration, and is the Guru. The Angel of death cannot cast an evil eye, and cannot spread his net on those who meditate on the eternal Lord (get connected with Him). 4.

Servur (u) = pool; body of water. Muchh(u) = fish. Kuchh(u) = turtle. [Incarnations of Vishnu. Once the demons stole all the four Vedas and hid them in the ocean; god Vishnu incarnated as a fish and retrieved them. When the gods and the demons churned the ocean to retrieve the 14 “jewels”, the Vishnu incarnated as a turtle to support the churner]. Kernikur(u) = creator of the universe. Roop = looks; appearances. Lukhna = comprehend. 6. Dinus(u) = day. Raiyni = night. Putejaiy = is pleased. Baiyni = Words (Shabad). Aad(i) = from the very beginning. Joogaad(i) = from the beginning of the eons. Anahud(i) = non-perishable. Rujaayi = the Lord of His Will (Waheguru). 7.
Ruttan = jewel. Anoop = unparalleled. Amolo = priceless. Purkhaiy = evaluates. Poora Tolo = perfectly just. Kuss(i) = by examining. Bukhshay = forgives; bestows. Day = gives (His Naam). Laiy = requires (high morality; acceptance of His Will, etc.). 8.
MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the male, and Himself the female (is equally present in both); Himself is the game of dice for the world, and Himself is the pawns. He has created this world as a playground for people to play their roles, in which some win while others lose, like the pawns in a game of dice. He Himself evaluates them. 5.
Waheguru Himself is the bumblebee, the flower, the fruit, and the tree (is present in all of them; plays their roles). He is present in the waters of the oceans and of the lakes, and present on the land. He is the creator of the whole universe, and is present in god Vishnu, who incarnated as the fish and the turtle. His beautiful looks cannot be comprehended. 6.
He Himself is the day and the night, and is pleased with Guru’s Shabad. He is immortal, was present at the beginning of the universe, before the eons, and is present in every heart where the Huqam of the Lord of His will prevails. 7.
He is the beautiful jewel, priceless, and has none like Him. He evaluates the performance of everybody with complete impartiality. After testing, He kindly bestows His Naam to some of them, when He requires noble qualities and acceptance of His Will in them. 8.

Word Meaning: Dhunukh = bow. Serbaana = arrow. Sooghur = wise. Sroop(u) = very attractive. Bukta = advises. Bunut Bunaayi = Laws governing the world. 9.
Pit = father. Jaata = is considered. Oodur Sunjogi = because of its role as mother's womb. Daayi Daaya = female and male nannies. Jug(u) = world. 10.
Muchhuli = fish. Jaala = net. Guoou = cow. Rukhvaala = guard. Jot(i) = enlightenment. Foormaayi = ordered; decided. 11.
Bhogi = who enjoys the worldly luxuries. Rusiya = enjoys the sweet tastes. Perm Sunjogi = because of the supreme union. Vaybaani = detached. Nirunkaari = formless. Nirbhuou = fearless. Taarri = deep meditation. 12.

MEANING: Waheguru is perfectly wise and highly attractive, and it was He who was present in god Rama when the latter broke the bow of Shiva while loading an arrow on that, and He Himself was the bow. He has created the world in such a way that it is He who says (orders), advises, and listens to the needs of His living beings. 9.
The living beings are enjoying in the lap of the days and the nights which act as nannies in the world in which the air plays the role of the Guru (the Guru purifies the mind of the humans, while the air purifies their blood and keeps them alive), the water nourishes them like the father, and the earth acts like the mother which produces everything from its womb. 10.
Waheguru Himself is the fish, and the net (fisherman), Himself, the cow and Himself its guard (is present in all of them). Everybody in the world has some degree of enlightenment in them, as granted (decided) by Waheguru. 11.
(Because of His supreme presence everywhere) Waheguru, Himself, is the yogi (detached from the world), Himself enjoys the luxuries of the world, and Himself enjoys all the tastes. He is present in all the sanyasis who live in forests to stay detached from the world. He is formless, and fearless, and Himself sits in deep meditations (is present in the yogis). 12.

Word Meaning: Khaani = all living beings of all sources. Baani = ways of communication; creation. Aavun Jaani = come and go; birth and death. Sayee = those. Shah = wealthy. Boojh Boojhaayi = given the understanding. 13.
Serb Kulaa = all skills; all powers. Bherpoora = omnipresent. Afuriyo = which cannot be controlled. Vaypervaah = care-free. Til(u) = a negligible amount. Tumaayi = desire. 14.
Kaal(u) = death. Bikaal(u) = birth. Dayvaanay = crazy; confused. Sehj = blissful spiritual state. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Maanay = enjoys. Mookut(i) = of emancipation. Tripit(i) = of contentment. Ver-Daata = Lord of blessings. Bhaayay = spirit; with love. Bhaayi = is liked. 15. Niraalum = detached from the worldly attractions. Gur Gum Giyana = which can be acquired through the Guru. Smaana = to be absorbed (perishable). Neech(u) = ignoble. Bhikhiya = alms; donation. Jaachaiy = begs. Vudaayi = greatness. 16.

MEANING: Ultimately, all the living beings from all sources of reproduction, and the other creations get absorbed in You (are destroyed and become Your part), oh Waheguru. All that is visible comes and goes (is perishable). Satguru has given the understanding that only those are truly wealthy who deal in Waheguru's Naam. 13.

With His Shabad, the Perfect Guru explains that the all-powerful Waheguru is present everywhere. He further explains that Waheguru, which has absolutely no desire of any kind, is care-free and cannot be contained (controlled) by any means. 14.
Waheguru is the Lord of all blessings, contentment, and emancipation. Birth and death go crazy (have no effect) on the devotee who enjoys the sweet taste of Guru's Shabad in mind, attains a high spiritual state, and worships Waheguru with the spirit of love and devotion, which pleases Him. 15.
Waheguru is fully detached from the world and can be realized only through the Guru. Every visible thing is perishable and is eventually absorbed in Him. I am an ignoble beggar at the Door of Waheguru, and I beg for His Naam as the greatest honour for me, oh Nanak. 16.1.

Word Meaning: Dhaul(u) = the mythical ox that is believed to support the earth. Pergaasun(u) = enlightening. Jutee = celibate. Sutee = high morality. Suntokhi = contented. Kaar = hard work (to acquire noble qualities). 1.
Jis(u) = which (Waheguru). Maytaiy = erase; obliterate. Laykhaiy = prewritten. 2.

Punch Choar = the five demons. Chunchul = capricious. Chit(u) Chaaleh(i) = guide the mind. Joheh(i) = watch with evil eye. Ghur(u) = own home (peace). Bhaaleh(i) = look for. Kaaya Nugur = body. Dhuhhaiy = collapses. Dhayri = pile (of dirt). Put(i) = dignity. 3. Boojhaiy = get advice (ability). Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Soojhaiy = understands. Munsa = desires. Munaiy = mind. Loojhaiy = fights. Baal = childlike; clean-hearted. Sukhaayi = friend. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself is the earth, the support for the earth and the sky, and Himself enlightens the people with His virtues. He Himself is the celibate, Himself the individuals with high morality, the contented, and Himself works hard to achieve these qualities (is present in all of them, and makes them follow the path to achieve such virtues). 1.

He is the doer, and watches whatever He does. Nobody can obliterate His written plans. He does everything himself, makes others do whatever He wishes, and gives credit to those who deserve it. 2.

The five capricious demons (lust, greed, etc.) guide (or control) the human mind, which keeps an evil eye on the houses of others (their wealth, and women), and does not look after its own house (mind to stabilize). Finally, the human body collapses, becomes a pile of rubble, and without Guru's Shabad, the man loses his dignity in Waheguru's Court. 3.

The man, who seeks Guru's advice, struggles with his mind to overcome his evil desires and comes to understand the secrets of the universe. Those who serve Waheguru become like Him, and the fearless and pure Waheguru becomes their friend. 4.

Word Meaning: Soorg(u) = paradise; sky. Muchh(u) = the world. Puyyaala = the underworld. Jot(i)-Sroopi = light-like. Baala = great; supreme. Jutaa = tangled hair. Bicket = dreadful. Bikraal-Sroopi = having frightening looks. Roop Raykhiya = physical features. Kaayi = any. 5. Kutaybeen = the western religious books (Bible, Quran, Torah etc.). Bhayd(u) = secrets. Jaata = came to know. Soot = sons. Saiyl = rocks; mountains. Alukh(u) = invisible; incomprehensible. 6. Thaaki = got tired. Meet = friends. Ghunayray = immense; many. Uvgoon = vices; bad qualities. Soor(i) = gods. Nath(u) = accomplished yogis. Sahib(u) = Lord. Bhaayay = with love. Bhuou = fear. 7.

Bhoolay Chookay = misguided. Maarug(i) = on the path (of righteousness). Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mit(i) = measurements; size. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru is present in the sky, on the earth, and in the underworld. The light-like and the supreme Waheguru may appear in many different and frightening forms, some of which may include figures with dreadful tangled hair, and other frightening looks; and yet He has no physical features. 5. The Vedas and the Western holy books like the Bible, the Torah, and the Quran could not find the secrets of Waheguru, which has no mother, father, sons, or brothers. He creates huge mountains, and then eliminates them. But the invisible Waheguru cannot be comprehended. 6.

I have made many friends, but none of them has been able to rid me of my vices (bad qualities). But, Waheguru, which is the Lord above all the gods, humans, and the accomplished yogis, can be accessed with love whereby all one's fears (and bad qualities) run away. 7.

Waheguru shows the path of righteousness to the misguided. But it is also Him who misguides some individuals on purpose (because of their repeated bad deeds) while guides some others. One can comprehend the high transcendence and the vastness of Waheguru only by reciting His Naam; I cannot see any other way than His Naam with which one can connect with Him. 8.

Word Meaning: Kayl = places where Krishna enjoyed (Brinda Bun). Kaanshi = Banaras (now Varanasi). Poori Dooaara = Dwarka Puri. Baiyni Sungum = Allahabad (confluence of Ganga, Yamuna, and Sersvati Rivers). Utth-sutth(i) = the 68 (holy places). Unk(i) Smaayi = absorbed in the heart (of Waheguru). 9.
Sidh = accomplished yogis. Saadhik(u) = practising yogism. Veechaari = evaluator. Raajun(u) = Emperor. Punchakaari = appoints assistants. Tukhut(i) = on the throne. Udli = judge. Bherm(u) = misgivings; illusions. Bhayd(u) = gap; separation. Bhuou = fears. 10. Qazi = a religious leader in Islam who also acts as a judge. Moolah = a Muslim preacher. Abhooll(u) = infallible. Na Kubhoon = never. Mehr = kindness. Duyya-Put(i) = Lord of mercy. Daata = provider; source. Baiyraayi = enemy. 11.
Bukhshay = bestows; kind to. Vudiyaayi = honour. Til(u) Na Tumaayi = not even a miniscule (the size of a sesame seed) desire. Bhrpoor(i) = omnipresent. Dhaar(i) Ruhhiya = providing support. Nihkayvul = pure; pious. Goopt(u) = hidden. Pergut(u) = visible. 12.
MEANING: All the sixty-eight holy places, including the Rivers Ganga, Yamuna, and their confluence at Allahabad, where the underground Saraswati also joins them, and the cities of Banaras, Kaanjiverm, Dwarka Puri, and the places where Krishna spent his childhood, are all present in You (the recitation of Your Naam subsumes all of them), oh Waheguru. 9.
Waheguru Himself is present in the accomplished yogis and in the yogis, and evaluates them. He, Himself, is the emperor, and Himself appoints His assistants. Waheguru sits on His throne as the judge, and clears all the misgivings, separations from Him, and the fears of the people (whom He connects with Him). 10.
He, Himself, is the Qazi and the Moolah; He is infallible, and never makes any mistakes. He is the Lord of kindness and of mercy, and bears no enmity with anyone. 11.
He honours those whom He is kind to, and endows them with gifts, but Himself has absolutely no desire. The pious and omnipresent Waheguru supports the whole universe and is present everywhere, whether hidden or visible. 12.

Word Meaning: Salaaheen = sing praise. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaaraiy = without limits. Sirjunhaar = creator. Mooraaraiy = a name for Waheguru. Malay = unites. 13.
Bishan(u) = Vishnu. Mahesh(u) = Shiva. Oobhaiy = standing; with alertness. Kayti = much. Bil-laandi = crying for help. 14. Saachi = everlasting. Keerut(i) = praise. Bani = Guru's Shabad. Poonji = wealth. Dhur(i) = support; shelter. 15.
Hosi = will be there. Mersi = will die. Neech(u) = ignoble. Liv Laayi = deep meditation. 16.
MEANING: How can I praise (have no words to praise) the inaccessible, the limitless, the eternal, and the Creator Waheguru? He connects the devotee with Him whom He is kind to. Such a devotee stays connected with Him with His benevolence. 13.
The popular gods, Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva, wait at the door to serve Waheguru, which is incomprehensible and limitless. I cannot count the many others who cry at His door for help. 14. Recitation of Guru's eternal Shabad is the everlasting praise of Waheguru (which accompanies the man even after his death). No such praise of Waheguru can be found in the Vedas and the Puranas. Singing praise of the eternal Waheguru is my everlasting wealth; I have no other support (do not need any). 15.
Waheguru is there in every eon, is here at present, and will be here even in the future; everything else is perishable. I am an ignoble myself (lack noble qualities), but will make a request to all of you that you can "see" Waheguru's Door by meditating deeply on His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.2.

Word Meaning: Dooji = the other (Maya) Doormut(i) = ill advice (immoral thinking). Boali = deaf. Kaam = lust. Kroadh = rage. Kuchi Choli = perishable body. Vur(u) = Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Chhohur(i) = ignorant. 1. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Bhurrkaaray = with huge flames (with full force). Koondaan = directions. Vudaayi = honour. 2.
Nivaaray = get rid of. Tuskur Punch = the five thieves (demons). Sunghaaray = kill. Giyan = Divine Knowledge. Khurrug(u) = sword. Loojhaiy = fights. Munsa = desires. 3.
Rukut = blood; egg. Bind(u) = sperm. Dhaara = (mixes) to create. Soorut(i) = good looks. Daat(i) = largess. Kerta = Creator. 4.

MEANING: The human body is perishable and is home to lust and rage (different forms of Maya). Thoughts about Maya make a person blind and deaf (he fails to see and to listen to the truth (about God and spirituality), and lead to immorality. The ignorant human bride does not realize that her Waheguru-Husband is present in her own heart, and cannot enjoy good sleep (life of peace and contentment by forgetting Him). 1.
The Maya-worshipper has the fire of desires burning with full force in his heart, and he seeks peace in all four directions. But how can one find comfort without Satguru (which is the source of Waheguru's Naam)? The honour of peaceful life rests with Waheguru (as His Naam is the source of all comforts). 2. To have a blissful life, one needs to kill (get rid of) their lust, rage, ego, and the control of the five demons on them; all of them can be controlled with the Guru's Shabad. When a devotee fights with his mind using the sword of Divine Knowledge, all his desires get buried in his mind. 3.
The limitless Waheguru combines the mother's egg with the father's sperm in the mother's womb and creates the good-looking human body. All the souls and the natural gifts are given (created) by Waheguru, and He is present everywhere. 4.

Dhaavut = rushing; wandering fast. Tthaak(i) Ruhaaya = controlled. Kumul = lotus-like heart. Bigaas = blooms. Huray = green; thrive with new spirit. Sur = pool; senses. Soobhur = full to the brim (with Naam-Amrit). Aatum Ram(u) = God. Sukhaayi = friend. 6.
Mundul = world. Kiyoun = how? Chulna = (have to) leave. Pur Thhaayayn = the other place; next world. Sacha Amar(u) = Waheguru (His Laws) are immortal. Amrapur(i) = the eternal place. Vudaayi = honour (of union with God). 7. Siriya = created. Dhundhaiy Laaya = put in the business of Maya-related affairs. Keemut(i) = worth. 8.

MEANING: I have come to learn from the Guru that life and death are created by Waheguru, so what should I be afraid of (when He controls death)? All one's discomforts and sufferings run away from his body when Waheguru casts a kind and merciful sight on him. 5.

A devotee, who controls His ever-rushing mind with Guru's Shabad, and stays focused on that in his peaceful mind, kills all his fears; and all his sense-pools get filled with Waheguru's Naam Amrit, and his lotus-like heart blooms with new life (spirit). All his fears are destroyed, and Waheguru becomes his friend. 6.
The man is born in the world with his death prewritten. So, how can we live in this world forever when we know that we have to leave for the next world? Waheguru's Laws are eternal, and so is His Palace (Court). Those who acquire Waheguru's Naam in their heart also become Truthful (holy and pure) and are honoured in His Court. 7.
Waheguru has created the world and has put it in the business of Maya-related affairs. There is no one to be seen who is above Waheguru. He knows His own worth. 8.

Sehsa = worries; doubts. Dooyaiy Teeyaiy = in dealing about others (Maya). Nirunjun(u) = above Maya (God). 12.
MEANING: The world is a short-lived drama in which all the living beings are visitors and ignorant players (actors) who play their roles like a man who makes some unintelligible sounds in his dream at night. 9.
Those who acquire the fearless Waheguru, which is omnipresent in the universe, in their heart by fully focusing their mind on Him, are honoured in His Court. 10.
Waheguru's Kingdom is eternal, and so is His throne. The individual, who enshrines Waheguru in his heart in the shelter of the Guru, attains blissfulness. Such devotees have their accounts of their misdeeds erased because their haumein is destroyed, and they become like Waheguru and are honoured in His Court. 11.
If one keeps account of his noble and ignoble deeds as established by religious norms, he suffers from doubts and worries. How can one enjoy peace and contentment while dealing in Maya-related business? Only the Provider Waheguru is pure and above the effects of Maya. One can achieve the honour of enshrining Him (His Naam) in the heart in the shelter of the Guru. 12.

Rusaayin(i) = (in Waheguru's Naam which is the source of all sweet tastes). Raati = imbued. Sungi = companion. Bhuraanti = restiveness. Servun = ears. Sroat = listening to. Rujjay = contented. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 14.

Untkaal(i) = at the time of death. Bayli = friend; supporter. Salaaheen = sing praise. Baiyraagi = in love with God. Nij Ghur(i) = in own mind. Taarri Laayi = deep meditation. 16.
MEANING: Some rare devotee realizes Waheguru (gets connected with Him) in the shelter of the Guru in each eon. The devotee, whose mind is imbued in Waheguru's love, sees Him present everywhere. By taking Waheguru's shelter, one gets complete rid of the filth of his body and mind (does not think of immoral deeds by mind, and does not do them with his body), and enjoys blissfulness. 13.
Waheguru becomes the companion (friend) of the devotee whose tongue is imbued with Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all sweet tastes, and he does not suffer from any fear or restiveness. His ears become satisfied by listening to Guru's Shabad (do not want to listen to anything else), and his soul merges with the Supreme Soul. 14.
Such a devotee treads the path of his life very carefully (takes no step leading to immoral acts), and finds himself in Waheguru's shelter everywhere. I love you whether I suffer or enjoy comforts, and You are my only friend, oh Waheguru. 15.
There is no supporter at the time of one's death. I have learnt in Guru's shelter (that You are the true friend even then), so I sing Your praise, oh Waheguru. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are truly in love with God and are detached from the world. They stay in deep meditation, remembering Waheguru, oh Nanak. 16.3.

NOTE: Contrary to the beliefs of Hindu religious books that there were different characters of people, and different ways to realize God in different eons, Guru Nanak Sahib preaches emphatically in this holy Shabad that there is only one approach to realize Waheguru, no matter what the eon is. He further explains that the yugas do not shape the character of the people, it the character of the people which defines yugas.

Saachi Durgeh, Saach(u) nivaasa, maanaiy Huqam(u) rujaayi hey. 4. -------

Word Meaning: Apur Apaaray = which needs no external help; omnipotent. Nirunjun = on which Maya has no effect (Waheguru). Khusm = Lord. Saachay = the eternal Waheguru. Joag Joogut(i) = the means to union with Him. Taarri = deep meditation. 1.
Kayturriyaan = for many. Dhoondhukaara = darkness (the state about which nothing is known). Sirjunhaara = the Creator. Vudiyaayi = greatness; majesty. 2.
Sut(u) = high morality. Sreera = in human bodies. Sat(i) = eternal Waheguru. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheera = never changing. Perkhaiy = tests; evaluates. 3.
Soora = valiant. Nivaasa = dwelling. Rujaayi = Will. 4.

MEANING: Our eternal and omnipotent Lord, Waheguru, which is the origin of the universe, which has been there before the eons, and which has thought out the means to connect humans with Him, had been in deep meditation (before the creation of the universe). 1.
It was complete darkness for an infinite time over which the creator, Waheguru, had been in deep meditation. Waheguru's Naam (His laws) are eternal like Him, and so is His Majesty, His throne, and His praise. 2. The Hindu Granths believe that in Satyug, the first eon, the humans had high morality and were fully contented, but according to Guru Nanak Sahib, it was not universally true. It was still the eternal, unfathomable, and never-changing Waheguru that operated everywhere. The eternal Lord ran the universe with His own Huqam (Laws), and He evaluated everybody very fairly for their deeds, and only those were living in true Satyug who had Waheguru in their mind, and obeyed His Huqam. 3.
The perfect Guru is the one who has high morality and is fully contented. Whoever obeys His Shabad (His Advice) is a true valiant. Waheguru makes the heart of the devotee, who obeys His Huqam and His Will, a dwelling for Him, and the devotee is honoured in His Court. 4.

(PAGE 1024): Gurmukh(i) virla cheenaiy koyee. Dooyay pug Dharam(u) dhuray dhernidhur, Gurmukh(i) Saach(u) tithaayee hey. 8. -------

Word Meaning: Mun(i) = in mind. Mukh(i) = in mouth; on the tongue. Bherm-Bhuou-Bhunjun = destroyer of all doubts and fears (Waheguru). Sukhaayi = friend. 5.
Traytaiy = the second eon. Dharam Kulaa = one of the four religious powers; one of the four legs of the mythical ox which is believed to support the earth. Churn = feet; legs. Chooki = lost; removed. Doobidha = indecisiveness; discrimination. Shooki = become effective. Puchaiy = suffers. Avaayi = in obstinacy. 6.

Seejhaiy = successful. Reejhaiy = pleases. Baandhay = attached to worldly attractions. Sojhi Boojh = understanding. 7. Duyya = compassion. Dooaapur = the third eon. Uddhi = half. Virla = rare. Cheenaiy = recognizes. Dooyay = two. Pug = feet. Dhernidhur = support of the earth. Tithaayee = there (In Waheguru's Naam). 8.
MEANING: According to the Hindu Granths, everybody told the truth in Satyug, but according to Guru Nanak, no matter what the eon is, it is true Satyug for the individuals who recite Waheguru's Naam, and believe firmly that it is the eternal Waheguru which operates everywhere. With the Advice of the Guru, they have Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all misbeliefs and of all fears in their mind and on their tongue when Waheguru becomes their friend. 5. Again, according to the Hindu Granths, in the following eon, Trayta, the mythical ox that supports the earth, loses one of its four powers, when it is left with only three feet (legs), and indecisiveness overtakes people's minds (find it hard to choose between Waheguru and Maya). But again, no matter what the eon is, the devotee of the Guru recites Waheguru's Naam, and the Maya-worshipper suffers in his own obstinacy. 6.
The follower of his mind (worshipper of Maya) never becomes successful in Waheguru's Court (never receives approval). How can his mind be pleased (become blissful) without the Guru's Shabad? Such individuals have no enlightenment, and are born with their attachment to Maya, and leave the world still attached to Maya. 7.
According to Hindu Granths, in Dooaapur, the third eon, the degree of compassion among humans was reduced to half, and the ox under the earth was left with only two feet. But some rare Sikhs of the Guru realize that there is no such ox (and that support is provided by Waheguru). 8.

Word Meaning: Purthaayay = for some cause (personal gain). Aasa Bubdhay = hoping to have some wish fulfilled. Kerm Kmaayi = performing rituals. 9.
Kerm Dherrm = religious rituals. Mungaahi = beg for. Pdaaruth(u) = (valuable) thing. Perpunch = the drama of the world. Bhermaayi = captivated; misguided 10.
Mumta = attachment. Chhodi = give up. Sach(u) Kaar = Waheguru's praise. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Ruttay = imbued. Veechaari = thoughtful. Bun Aayi = have love for. 11.
Jup = recitation of some mantras. Tup = enduring hardships to please some god. Toodh Bhaayaiy = as You please. Chulaaveh(i) = give life style. Hutth(i) Nigreh(i) = control senses by persistent efforts. Upteej = which cannot be pleased (mind). Bheejaiy = imbues. Kin = who? none. Put(i) = honour (in Waheguru's Court). 12.
MEANING: In Dooaapur, the rajahs performed the accepted religious rituals as per the Hindu Granths to achieve some personal objectives. They would make donations in the hope of becoming wealthier and also being emancipated. But according to Guru Nanak Sahib, no one can achieve emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, even if they get exhausted by performing such rituals. 9.
The rajahs perform the religious rituals to get emancipation, but do not realize that the valuable thing that leads to emancipation is to sing praise of Waheguru. Waheguru has created illusions in people's minds through the drama of the mid-captivating Maya. Emancipation from the bonds of Maya cannot be achieved without the Guru's Shabad. 10.

One cannot overcome their attachment to Maya; only those who make Waheguru's praise their daily routine and work hard for it get emancipated from its bonds. Such thoughtful devotees are imbued in Waheguru's worship day and night, and they are liked by Waheguru for their love for Him. 11.
Some people read mantras, endure hardships, and take dips in holy places to please their gods. But the never-pleasing mind cannot achieve blissfulness by one's sheer obstinacy to control his senses. No one can receive any honour in Waheguru's Court without reciting His Naam in the shelter of the Guru. But we cannot really blame anyone, because it is Waheguru which controls everybody's lifestyle. 12.

Word Meaning: Kulee Kaal = Kaliyuga. Bhaakhi = explained. Koorr(u) = in perishable. Vertaara = dealings. Bherm(u) = doubts; illusions of Maya. 13.
Vaypervaah(u) = care-free. Sirunda = creator. Kaan(i) = subservience; owes. Chhunda = expectation. Bunda = humans. Tis(u) = Him (Waheguru). Abinaashi = immortal. Suntaayay = tortures. 14. Kartaaray = Waheguru. Koat(i) = millions. Asunkh = countless. Oodhaaray = salvaged. Jugjeevun(u) = soul of the world. 15.
Jaacheh(i) = beg for. Bhundaari = treasurer; Lord of the treasure (of Waheguru's Naam). Alukh = invisible; incomprehensible. Rujaayi = (with the) Will. 16.
MEANING: According to Hindu Granths, the mythical ox was left with only one leg to support the earth in the present eon of Kaliyuga. The follower of his mind, deals in the perishable things rooted in Maya, and such are his daily dealings. But only the Perfect Guru explains that the illusions of Maya do not go away without (Waheguru's Naam). 13.
Satguru also explains that the Creator, Waheguru, is always care-free, and the devotee, who serves Him, also becomes immortal by merging into Him, and the fear of death does not torture him. Such a devotee owes nothing to the Angel of death and has no expectations of other men. 14. Waheguru, which is perfectly pure (has no filth of Maya), is fearless, is the provider for all, and is the soul of the world, has placed Himself (His Light) in the Guru, which salvages countless individuals. 15.
The Guru, which is a manifestation of the invisible and the limitless Waheguru, and which is above the effects of Maya, is also the Lord of the treasure of Waheguru's Naam, while all humans beg for it (the Naam). I, Nanak, also beg for Waheguru's Naam so that I may recite it. Kindly grant me it at Your Will, oh Satguru. 16.4.

Word Meaning: Bhaana = Will; likes. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state. Tirbhuvun = the universe. Dhuree = placed. Uver(u) = other. Bhaayi = oh brother. 1.
Chaakur = servants. Puteejaiy = is moved (pleased). Abhayva = whose secrets cannot be known. Goonkaari = source of virtues. Bukhsh = forgive. 2.
Toat(i) = shortage. Mookur Paunday = deny. Kaachay = followers of own mind; ungrateful. Mool(u) = origin; root. Saach(i) = in Waheguru. Reejhaiy = pleased. 3.
Jaag(i) Ruhhay = stay alert. Liv = focus on. Lootay = robbed. Saabut(i) = do not lose. 4.

MEANING: With His Will, Waheguru connects His devotees with Him when they recite Guru's Shabad (sing Waheguru's praise), and stay in the high spiritual state. Waheguru has placed His Light in the whole universe (is omnipresent). There is none other like Him. 1. The incomprehensible Waheguru, whose secrets cannot be known, is pleased with Guru's Shabad. It pays only if a person serves his master (provider), so, the man should serve (sing Waheguru's praise) who is the true Provider for all. The Creator (Waheguru) is the source of all the noble qualities for His devotees, and it is an honour for the devotees who acquire such qualities. 2. Waheguru never experiences any shortage in His largesse to the living beings, but the ungrateful deny receiving them (they believe that they acquired them with their own efforts). They do not realize the root (the source) of all the gifts (Waheguru), are not pleased (impressed) with Him (His gifts), and are misled by the illusions of Maya. 3. Guru's Sikhs learn to meditate on Waheguru's Naam from the Guru, and stay alert day and night against the attacks of the five demons, and do not lose their noble qualities, whereas the Maya worshippers are negligent and are robbed of their good qualities. 4.

Word Meaning: Koorraiy = dealers in the perishables. Raati = imbued; intoxicated. Paiyndhay = are given the robe of honour. Soort(i) = mind. 5.
Mootthi = robbed = Tthuggi. Tthugg = robbers (the five demons). Vaarri = crop. Oojaarri = plundered. Saad(i) = tasty. Bisriyaan = forgetting. 6.
Aghaayi = contentment. Cheenaiy = recognizes; analyzes. Soyee = Waheguru. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Soul. 7. Choataan Khaayay = is punished; suffers. Siyaanup = cleverness. Bherm = illusions. Puch(i) Puch(i) = in suffering. Achayt = negligent. Chayteh(i) = remember. Ujgur Bhaar(i) = python (heavy load). 8.

MEANING: Those who are imbued with the love for the perishables work for them, and keep taking births and dying. But, the minds of the Guru's Sikhs stay focused on Waheguru's Naam because of which they get connected with Him, and are honoured in His Court. 5.
Like a crop in the wilderness (unguarded), which is plundered by others, the dealers in perishables are robbed of their qualities by the five demons as robbers. The man suffers by forgetting Waheguru, and does not find anything spiritually tasteful (enjoyable). 6.
However, one becomes fully contented when he takes the food of Waheguru's jewel-like Naam, which is the everlasting honour for him. The man, who analyzes himself, also recognizes Waheguru (gets connected with Him), and his soul merges with Him. 7.
On the other hand, the man who forgets (ignores) Waheguru's Naam suffers in life. The wiser he thinks of himself, the more he is misled by the captivating Maya. The unaware (ignorant) does not remember Waheguru, and burdens himself with sinful deeds, and suffers from spiritual death. 8.

Word Meaning: Baad = disputes. Birodheh(i) = opposition. Urp(i) = offer. Bunut Bunaayi = created system. 9. Gut(i) = transcendence. Mit(i) = measurements. Vudaayi Khaayay = feeds on his ego. Dateen = in His largess (endowments). Sugli = the whole world. 10.
Vaypervaahay = the care-free God. Daan = gifts. Smaahay = delivers. Sehj(i) = in peaceful state. Rujaayi = with His Will. 11.
Ikk(i) = many. Sogi = suffering in grief. Roag(i) Viyaapay = gripped by ailments. Bhaaou = love. Unhud(i) = in the immortal Waheguru. Lukhaayi = shows self. 12.

MEANING: There is no one in this world who is not involved in disputes and in opposing others. I will sing praises of such an individual if you show me one. Waheguru, which is the soul of the world, has created such a system for union with Him that He can be connected with Him only when the devotee offers his mind (wisdom) and his body in His service. 9.
Nobody can find the transcendence and the size of Waheguru. If someone considers himself great, he feeds on his ego (and ignores Waheguru). But, Waheguru, which has created the whole world, keeps giving His gifts (even to the egoists) without experiencing any shortage. 10. It is an amazing greatness of Waheguru that He creates the world, delivers food and other gifts (like coal, gas, metals, etc.) to the living beings, and is yet care-free. The compassionate Waheguru is not far from us, and we can be connected with Him in the high spiritual state as per His Will. 11.

Some suffer from grief, while others are gripped by many ailments, but it is Waheguru who controls everything. Waheguru reveals Himself to the devotee who worships Him with love and with the perfect Advice of the Guru, and the devotee feels as if auto-playing Divine music is playing in his mind. 12.

Word Meaning: Naangay = without clothes. Bhuvveh(i) = wander around. Bhuvaayay = made to wander by Waheguru. Hutth(u) = obstinacy. Mureh(i) = die (spiritually). Gut(i) = high spirits. Uvigut(i) = in low spirits. Saar = worth. Boojhaiy = understand. 13.
Unn(u) = food. Khupaaveh(i) = cause suffering for. Kit(u) Bidh(i) = by what means. Paar(i) Lunghaayi = go across (the world-sea). 14.
Oojhurr(i) = in wilderness (lost far away from the destination). Avaayi = unfortunate. Puch(i) Puch(i) = in suffering. Boodeh(i) = drown; fail. Koorr(u) = falsehood. Koorr(i) = in falsehood. Kaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Baiyraayi = enemy. 15. Kaar = business of the Naam. 16.
MEANING: (Strange things happen in the world), Waheguru makes some people wander around hungry and unclothed, while some invite spiritual death because of their obstinacy (and ego), for which they get no recognition in Waheguru's Court. They do not know the worth of the high and low spirits (in spirituality) which can be understood (realized) only by acting on the Advice of the Guru. 13.
Some people take dips at holy places and do not eat grain foods, while others torture themselves by building fire around them on hot days to please some god, but cannot achieve emancipation. There is no other way to swim across the world-sea (get emancipation and merge with Waheguru) without His Naam. 14. Those who do not follow the Guru's Advice are misled away from their destination (of union with Waheguru). The worshippers of Maya do not recite Waheguru's Naam because of their obstinacy (ego), and suffer by drowning in the world-sea (get strongly trapped in Maya), and work harder and harder for the perishables, which become their enemy, and lead to their spiritual death. 15.
The man comes to the world with Waheguru's Huqam, and leaves it with His Huqam. Those who understand Waheguru's Huqam merge into Him. One connects with Waheguru when he loves Him and leads his life following the Guru's Advice, oh Nanak. 16.5

Word Meaning: Purakh(u) = Living Power. Bidhaata = the carver of our fates. Puchhaata = recognizes; looks after. Srisht(i) = world. 1. Nayrraiy = close. Boojheh(i) = understand. Pooray = perfect (full of noble qualities). Ehinis(i) = day and night. Laaha = benefit. 2. Bhulay = noble; acceptable to Waheguru. Rusn = tongue. Rusayray = with sweetness. Oostut(i) = praise. Purhur(i) = push away; get .rid of. Daalud(u) = poverty; laziness. Chint Puraayi = worry; concern (that they may be ridiculed by others). 3.
Oye = they. Kool = all. Preeseh(i) = disseminate. Kulmul = sins. Tay = those. Nirmul(u) = pure. Liv Laayi = stay connected. 4.

MEANING: The Supreme Being Waheguru, who is also the carver of our fates, creates the world by Himself and looks after it. He Himself is the eternal Guru, and being present in everyone, He is also the devotee. He Himself has created the world. 1.
He is very close to us and not far away. Those who internalize this fact in the shelter of the Guru become perfect (possess all the God-like noble qualities). One benefits spiritually in their company; this is the greatness of the Guru's shelter (His guidance). 2.
There have been such noble devotees of Yours in every eon, who sing Your praise with the tongue while enjoying its sweetness, oh Waheguru. Not worrying about any negative criticism by others, they sing Waheguru's praise whereby all their sufferings, and their laziness (poverty of mind) disappear. 3. They always stay alert against the attacks of Maya, and are never seen to be negligent. They disseminate Waheguru's Message, and salvage all those in their company. They are pure at heart and have no filth of vices. They worship Waheguru by staying connected to Him. 4.

Koorr(u) Kubaarra = talks about Maya. Kaal(u) = death. Oochhaahrra = with enthusiasm (vigour). Saakut = worshippers of Maya. Koorr(i) = in thoughts of perishables. Pucheh(i) = suffer. Doohoon Maarug(i) = on two paths – love for Maya, and haumein. 6.
Chhodihou = give up. Ninda = vilification. Taat(i) = jealousy. Puraayi = of others. Dujheh(i) = burn at heart; suffer. Shaant(i) = peacefulness. Slaahou = praise. Aatum Ram(u) = God. Sukhaayi = friend. 7. Booriyaayi = bad deeds. Dhundh(u) = tasks rooted in Maya; greed. Lumptaayi = lust. Ooburhou = find salvation. Bhuvjul = the world-sea. 8.

MEANING: Understand (internalize) Satguru's Bani, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. The youthfulness of today will change into old age, and you will have difficulty in breathing, and you can die anytime, oh man. So, recite Waheguru's Naam from the core of your heart, now. 5. Forget all your talking about Maya (the perishables). (Spiritual) death kills such people with vigour. Full of ego, the Maya-worshippers suffer because of their pursuit of the perishables. These two paths – love for Maya, and haumein – cause huge suffering and humiliation (in Waheguru's Court). 6.
Quit vilification and jealousy of others, oh my friends. Pundits read the holy books, but never attain peace of mind. Sing praise of Waheguru in the company of the holy saints, when Waheguru will be your friend forever, oh my friends. 7.
Quit (control) your lust, rage, and bad deeds. Get rid of your haumein, lust, and greed, and take Satguru's shelter, oh my friends. This is how you can swim across the world's seas and find salvation. 8.

Word Meaning: Aagaiy = on the path. Bimul Ugun(i) = pure fire. Bikh(u) = poisonous worldly desires (sensual pleasures). Jhayla = large flames. Bhurr Bhurr = roaring flames. Lehri = mind-captivating waves. Purr(i) Taayeen = falling on. 9.
Peh(i) = with; in possession. Mookut(i) Daan(u) = donation of emancipation (Waheguru's Naam). Bhaanaiy = with own Will. Bidh(i) = ways; means. Sayv Kmaayi = serving the Guru (obeying His Advice). 10.

Oorjh(i) = trapped in. Baykaara = vices. Khooaara = causes humiliation. Baandhay = trapped. Ninduk = vilifiers. Puraayi = of others. 11.
Puchhaanhou = recognize. Nundar(i) = deep sight. Bighun(u) = impediment. Tur(u) = swim. Paar(i) Lunghaayi = ferries across. 12.
MEANING: (Without taking Satguru's shelter), there is a river of pure fire (of worldly desires), and huge flames of poisonous attractions of Maya on the journey of life of the Maya-worshippers. The man is all alone on his journey, and there is nobody to help him, as the roaring flames in the ocean of mind-captivating worldly attractions engulf him, and he suffers from the burning of his soul (mind). 9.
The Guru is the source of emancipation, and He gives (Waheguru's Naam) as donation at His Will (to whom He likes). Only those who know the means (how to acquire it) receive it. If you ask them, they will tell you that one acquires blissfulness by serving the Guru. 10.
Without the Guru's shelter, trapped in immoral activities, one suffers spiritual death. The Angel of justice hits him on the head, and the individual suffers humiliation. Trapped in their own behaviour (nature), the vilifiers of others, drown in the world-sea and do not get salvation. 11. Recite Waheguru's Naam, and recognize Him in your heart. If you watch carefully, you will see that He is not far from you. If one learns how to swim across the world-sea in the shelter of the Guru, he experiences no impediment to go across (and be united with Waheguru). 12.

Word Meaning: Dayhi = body; heart. Nivaasi = resident. Abinaashi = immortal. Kur(i) Daykhaiy = creates, and looks after. Shabad(i) = Huqam. Rujaayi = the Lord of Will. 13. Undhiyaara = darkness. Sachiyaara = source of pure truth. Koorraiy = dealers in falsehood. Aayi Jaayi = come and go. 14. Tutt(u) = the essence (Waheguru) Luhheh(i) = acquire. Untargut(i) = in the heart. 15. Pitraan = ancestors. Taaray = bring credit to. Laala Goala = slave. Liv Laayee = are connected with Waheguru. 16.
MEANING: The eternal Waheguru is the creator of the universe, and His Naam (Soul) resides in everybody's heart. (Because man's soul is a part of the Supreme Soul), it never dies, and cannot be killed. It is Waheguru, which creates the world with His Huqam, and looks after it as per His Will. 13. Waheguru is perfectly pure, and there is no darkness of any ignorance in His presence. The source of pure Truth (Waheguru) reigns over the universe. The worshippers of the perishable Maya are tied up and taken through many life forms as a result of which, they keep taking births and dying. 14.
Guru's devotees are dear to Satguru (Waheguru). They occupy the throne of their heart (have full control on their mind) and acquire Waheguru in their heart by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. Guru's Shabad is used to sing Waheguru's praise in the holy gathering. 15.
A true devotee finds salvation for himself and brings credit to his ancestors. Those who join their company (and recite the Naam) are ferried across the world-sea. I am a slave of the devotee who stays connected with Waheguru in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 16.6.

Aapay choaj kuray rung Mehli, hoar Maya moh pusaara hey. 4. -------

Word Meaning: Kaytay = many. Vertaiy = operated; passed. Goobaaraiy = in darkness. Taarri = deep meditation. Apur Apaaraiy = which needs no external help; omnipotent. . Dhoondhukaar(i) = in darkness. Niralum = unaffected by Maya. Dhundh(u) Pusaara = expanse of worldly business. 1. Chhuteeh Joog = 36 eons. Tinaiy = Him (Waheguru). Bhaana = as He liked. Chulaayay = ran the affairs. Sreek(u) = rival. 2. Gooptay = hidden. Boojhou = understand. Chutooaaray = four. Oodhur Mujhaaray = in the belly (heart). Aika Aikee = alone. 3. Bind(u) = male sperm. Rukut = blood; female egg. Pind(u) = body. Suriyaa = created. Jeeya = living beings. Rung Choaj = amazing feats of different kinds. Mehli = the Master of His Palace (universe). 4.

MEANING: There was complete darkness for many eons before the creation of the universe, when the omnipotent and limitless Waheguru was in deep meditation. There was no expanse of Maya, and worldly affairs were yet to come. 1.

Thirty-six eons (a Hindu belief) went by in such darkness, and Waheguru did whatever He liked (stayed in darkness). The Supreme and the limitless Waheguru have no rival. 2.

After the creation of the universe, Waheguru has been, and is, operating hidden in the minds of the people for the last four eons. (Regardless of what the people thought about the supreme power which controls the universe), A devotee learns in the shelter of the Guru that it is only Waheguru which controls the universe, no matter what the eon is. 3.

Waheguru has created the human body from the union of male sperm and female egg, and all living beings by assembling the basic ingredients – air, water, and fire, etc. Waheguru, which is the Lord of the whole universe, performs amazing feats of different colours, and has created the expanse of Maya, which captivates the living beings. 4.

Maya kaarun(i) royay vigoocheh(i), dhrig(u) jeevun sunsaara hey. 8.--
Word Meaning: Gerb Koondul = in the womb. Oordh = upside down. Dhiyaani = meditating. Untarjaami = omniscient. Saas(i) = breath. Smaalay = remembers. 5.
Chaar Pdaaruth = the four wished things – morality, wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and salvation. Shiv Shakti = Waheguru's Maya. Aik = Waheguru. Visaaray = forget. Pirr Haaray = loses the rink (game of life). 6. Baaluk(u) = child. Leela = lovely games (naughtiness). Rungeela = colourful. Bhoola = mistaken 7.
Bhur(i) Jobun(i) = in the prime of youth. K(i) Keejaiy = what can be done. Kaarun = for the sake of. Vigoocheh(i) = suffer humiliation. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. 8.
MEANING: The fetus, which grows upside down in the mother's womb, is believed to focus its mind on Waheguru and to recite His Naam with every breath. The omniscient Waheguru knows the truth. 5. The man becomes attached to Maya from the moment he is born and wishes for four things in life: morality, wealth, the fulfillment of wishes, and emancipation. But he loses the game (purpose) of life if he forgets Waheguru's Naam, which the blind (ignorant) man exactly does. 6.
It is also one's attachment to Maya (worldly bonds) that makes him cry at the death of a relative. If a child dies in the family, the family cries to remember their lovely and colourful naughtiness. However, they are mistaken to cry over the loss, because he entered the family as per the Will of Waheguru, and He took him back with His own Will. 7.
What can the man do if a relative dies in the prime of his youth? (He is helpless and cannot do anything about that. The family again cries that he was theirs (which, actually, he never was). Such a life is condemnable (not approved by Waheguru) in which people cry due to the loss of worldly attachments (things which are not their true possessions). 8.

Word Meaning: Phoon(i) = then. Dhaulay = grey hair. Guth(u) = initial capital (spirituality). Guvaayay = loses. Doormut(i) = immoral thinking. Binaasaiy = is destroyed. Mootthay = robbed. 9. Rovaiy = cries; repents. Bujjur Kpaat = (indestructible) doors of concrete guarding the mind. Nistaara = salvation. 10. Birdh Bhuyya = becomes old. Chheejaiy = weakens. Dayhi = body. Snayhi = loving; friend. 11.

Koorriyaaro = deales in falsehood (the perishables). Sir Chhaaro = dust on the head (are disgraced). Sahoor-rray Ghur(i) = in the next world (Waheguru's Court). Vaas(i) = stay. Payiurraiy = this world. Sir Maara = suffer humiliation. 12.
MEANING: Man's black hair (youth) turns into grey (old age); but without Waheguru's Naam, the blind of spiritual wisdom, leaves the world, losing even his original spirituality (he was born with). Robbed of his noble qualities because of his immoral thinking, such an individual invites spiritual death and then cries for help. 9.
Nobody repents for (realizes) his own mistakes with his own thinking. He comes to realize them only in the shelter of the Guru. The strong doors closing his mind to reality do not open without taking the Guru's shelter. One achieves emancipation only with the Guru's Shabad. 10. When the man gets old, his body becomes very weak, and he cannot recite Waheguru's Naam, which is one's true friend at the time of his death. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, he leaves the world disgraced, and the dealers in falsehood (worldly attractions) suffer humiliation in Waheguru Court. 11. The dealers in perishables leave this world without remembering Waheguru and suffer disgrace by undergoing a long birth-death cycle. They suffered even in this world and are not accepted in Waheguru's Court. 12.

MEANING: The man spends his life eating and wearing well, and enjoying other luxuries of life, but one cannot enjoy true bliss without Waheguru's worship, and suffers spiritual death. They do not know the importance of the appropriate and the inappropriate times, as a result of which the Angel of death punishes them, against which they have no ability to fight. 13.
The true devotee of the Guru understands the significance of the extent of involvement in worldly affairs and of staying detached from them; by singing the Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's praise) in His shelter, he finds his real home (union with Waheguru). Such a devotee with noble qualities leaves this world calling no one bad, and is found to be pure (is honoured) in Waheguru's court. 14.
Nobody is approved (is successful) in Waheguru's Court without His Naam; but the devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise, is given the robe of honour in His Court. Waheguru forgives His favourites eradicate their selfishness and ego, and salvage them. 15.

The true devotee recognizes Waheguru's Huqam with the grace of the Guru, and understands the path which the devotees have followed for eons to get connected with Waheguru. The path (means) to swim across the world-sea is to recite the Naam of the eternal Waheguru which ferries the devotees across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 16.1.7.

Durgeh mookut(i) kuray kur(i) kirpa, bukhshay uvgoon keena hey. 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Sa = like. Meet(u) = friend. Soort(i) = awareness. Smoyee = injected. Pritpaal(i) = raise and nourish. Smaalay = looks after. Daana = wise; provider. Beena = know-all. 1. Servur = pool (ocean) of water. Huns = swans. Ruttan, Laal = jewels and rubies (noble qualities). Moti, Maanuk = pearls. Heera = diamond. Jus(u) = praise. Bheena = imbued. 2. Agumm = inaccessible. Aghaa(u) = which cannot be searched for. Aghaadh(i) = unfathomable. Niraala = unique; detached. Rung(i) = in love. Leena = absorbed. 3. Kinayhi = of what kind? Aad(i) = from the beginning. Sunayhi = loving. Uvgoon Keena = the ignoble deeds performed. 4.

Meaning: There is no friend like Waheguru, who gives you a body and mind and infuses them with awareness. The wise and the know-all Waheguru, which looks after all the living beings, and which raises and nourishes them, is present in your mind. 1.
Satguru is like an ocean full of jewels, pearls, rubies, and diamonds (noble qualities), whereas we are like swans which feed on and can pick the noble qualities from the Satguru ocean. One's mind gets imbued with love for Waheguru when he sings His praise. 2.
Waheguru, which is inaccessible and unfathomable, is also detached from the world, and nobody can find His ends. The captain, Waheguru, ferries us across the world-sea when we act on Guru's Advice, and connects us with Him when we get absorbed in His love. 3.
What kind of emancipation is that without Satguru (there is no emancipation without Him)? His devotees are very dear to Waheguru, who has been here from the very beginning, and before the start of the eons. He forgives our ignoble deeds and grants us emancipation in His Court. 4.

Word Meaning: Daata = provider; Lord. Rus(u) = sweetness. Jagaati = taxman for ignoble deeds. Kur(i) = tax. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Tthur(u) = cool; peaceful. Seena = heart; mind. 5. Kaaya = body. Huns = swan; human soul. Dhaari = maintain. Yogi Purakh(u) = wandering like a yogi. Ehinis = day and night; always. Bhogaiy = enjoys. Choaj Binodi = enjoying different tastes of life. Ootth(i) Chullay = when leaves. Mutaa = consultation. 6.
Chhaajaiy = keeps cover on; protects. Gaajaiy = roar; provide shield. Munooa = mind. Dolaiy = wavers. Doot = the five demons. Keena = (result of the) deeds done. 7.
Doakh(u) = blames. Suhhiyaiy = endure. Bhuyya = happened; issued. Koop = deep well. Gotay Khaavaiy = submerges; suffers. Meena = fish. 8.
Chaurassih Nerk = the hell-like conditions in the womb for 8.4 million births in different life forms. Kirt Bandha = result of the deeds done. Grus(i) = trapped in. 9.

MEANING: The Lord of emancipation, Satguru, rids us of our mental (spiritual) ailments, and feeds us the sweet-tasting Waheguru's Naam-Amrit because of which the Angel of justice can impose no tax (punishment for ignoble deeds) on us; our fire of desires is put out, our mind becomes calm (quits wandering), and we get emancipated. 5.
The soul loves the body very much, as if it were a beautiful woman. But the soul is like a yogi, who does not stay at any one place for a long time. The man enjoys the different tastes of life day and night, but the soul does not even consult the body when it leaves it. 6.
After creating the world, Waheguru protects it with the air, water, and fire (energy), which act as a shield. But man's weak mind does not become peaceful under the effect of the five demons; so, it has to suffer the consequences of its deeds. 7.
The man suffers from the accusations of his ignoble deeds, and endures them, and he has to leave the world at the Orders of Waheguru. He suffers in the dark well of hell like a fish out of water. 8. The Maya-worshipper is taken through the hell of the mother's womb in 8.4 million (countless) life forms. He reaps the results of his own doings. He gets trapped in the routine of his ignoble deeds and cannot find emancipation without Satguru. 9.

Word Meaning: Khundaydhaar ------ Bheerree = the narrow path like the edge a sharp dagger. Laykha = account of the deeds done. Til ---- Peerri = like the crushing of sesame seeds in the mill. Kluttar = wife. 10. Sukhay = friends. Kaytay = many. Puraayin = support. Undin(u) = everyday; always. 11. Koorr(u) = falsehood; love for the perishables. Choad(i) = by giving up. Dhaavhou = rush to. Ichhou = as wished. Vukkhur = merchandise. Vapaari = traders. Virlay = rare. Laaha = benefit. Sauda keen = strike deal. 12. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Mehlou = Lord of the world. Waheguru. Khoaj Luhheh(i) = acquire by searching. Sumdershi = unbiased. Iyoun = like this. Cheena = recognizes. 13.

MEANING: The path to the next word is extremely narrow, like the sharp edge of a dagger (the soul has to go through a very tough scrutiny), and the Angel of justice demands the account of the deeds done by the man, and the guilty are punished like the sesame seeds which are crushed in the crushing mill. There is no friend (to help the man) there, including one's mother, father, wife, sons, or any other relative. Without the recitation of Waheguru's sweet Naam, no one gets emancipation. 10.

One may make many close friends in the world, but there is none other than Waheguru to help in His Court. Only service to the Guru (obeying His Advice) supports emancipation, so I sing Waheguru's praise every day. 11. So, quit your love for perishables, and rush to connect with Waheguru whenever your wishes are fulfilled, oh my friends. But only a few individuals deal in the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam and benefit (spiritually) from it. 12. A devotee, who appears in Waheguru's Court with Waheguru's Naam as his merchandise (wealth), gets to have a sight of the Lord of the World (Waheguru) in the high spiritual state. They acquire Waheguru by searching for Him in the shelter of the Perfect Guru; that is the way to recognize (realize) the unbiased Waheguru. 13.

Word Meaning: Bayunt = limitless. Aatum Raamaiy = Waheguru. Leena = absorbed. 14. Nard = a son of Brahma. Shard = Sharda Devi (Saravati, wife of Brahma, goddess of fine arts). Sayvuk = servants. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Vudhou Vudayray = great (the well known) sages. Kaarun Keena = creation. 15.

Durd = pain; suffering. Vunjaayay = lose; get rid of. Paiyndhay = are honoured. Bubdhun = bonds. Chit Chunchul = fickle mind. Chullun(i) = wander. 16.

Cheenou = recognize. Bidh(i) = means. Gunut = account of deeds. Maar(i) = by killing. Rung(i) = in love. Bheena= imbued. 17.

MEANING: Waheguru is limitless; some rare devotee realizes Him by acting on the Advice of the Guru when he convinces his mind with His Shabad. Believe in Satguru's Bani as the Divine truth; that is how you will realize Waheguru, oh my friends. 14.
Even the well-known sages like Nard and goddesses like Sarasvati, who are believed to be great in the universe, are Waheguru's slaves. You have created the whole universe, and it is all Your nature (power) that You are the provider for everybody, oh Waheguru. 15.
Some devotees serve Waheguru at His Door (obey His Will diligently) and get rid of their mental suffering. Emancipated by Satguru, they are honoured in Waheguru's Court. Satguru breaks the bonds of their haumein and enables them to control their capricious mind. 16.
The means to realize Waheguru is to come to the shelter of Satguru, where one gets connected with Waheguru, and nobody asks for the account of his deeds. Kill your haumein, and serve the Guru; that is how you will get imbued in Waheguru's love, oh Nanak. 17.2.8.

Word Meaning: Asoor = demons. Sughaarun = destroyer. Rumuyyiya = attractive; present. Naalay = with. Alukh = invisible; incomprehensible. Lukhiyaiy = comprehend. Na Moolay = not at all. 1. Sadhu = Guru. Paar(i) Ootaari = ferry across. Ugun(i) Paani = water of fires (of desires). Ut(i) Gehra = extremely deep. 2.
Sojhi = understanding. Mityee = erase; obliterate. Khooaara = humiliation. 3.
Ghur(i) = in own heart. Vaas(u) = live; stay. Kirt Kay Baandhay = under the influence of the previous deeds. Lobh(u) = greed. 4.
Seegaara = adornment. Pur Pir = another lover (Maya). Raati = imbued in the love of. Visaara = forgotten. Baysooa = prostitute. Phokut = useless. 5.

MEANING: Dear Waheguru, which is present in every heart, is the destroyer of the (five) demons. Even though the invisible Waheguru resides with us, we cannot see him. One can only write His Naam on his heart in the guidance of the Guru, and ponder on the Naam (by which he can "see" Him). 1.
Those who take Waheguru's shelter with the guidance of the Guru are ferried across the world-sea (are salvaged) with His kindness. The world-sea, which is full of fire (of worldly desires) rather than water, is extremely deep; only Satguru can ferry us across it. 2.
The followers of their mind (disconnected with Waheguru) are (spiritually) blind, suffer spiritual death, and keep taking births and dying. The consequences of their previous deeds cannot be obliterated (and they continue performing ignoble deeds) as a result of which, the blind suffer humiliation at the door of the Angel of justice. 3.
Many people keep taking births and dying, and do not find peace of mind (and salvation); they keep committing sins under the influence of the effects of their previous deeds. The blind (ignorant) still do not realize that greed and conceit are bad for spirituality. 4.
What is the good of the adornment of a woman if she is not loved by her husband? She forgets her husband because of her love for some other person. Likewise, who can be called the father of the child born to a prostitute? Similarly, what is the use of decorating the body with religious symbols and performing religious rituals to a Maya-worshipper who ignores Waheguru, the real Lord? All such deeds are the root of immoral deeds. 5.

Kullur = saltpeter (worthless things). Lunghus = go across. Bohith = ship. Aad(i) Joogaadi = from the beginning of the universe; in every eon. Nistaara = salvation. 8.
Kluttar = wife. Hayt(u) = love. Pasaara = expanse. Phaahay = noose. Tutt(u) = the root; Waheguru. 9.
MEANING: The body in which the soul is possessed (is in the control) of the five demons, suffers a great deal in hell-like conditions, and the individual, who forgets Waheguru's Naam in the darkness of ignorance, is called in by the Angel of justice as he owes a debt for his bad deeds. 6. The poisonous fire of worldly attractions burns with huge flames (with a great intensity) in the heart of the Maya-worshipper as a result of which, he acts like an animal, and is out of step with the reality of life, and is disgraced. With big hopes and desires, he deals in falsehood (the perishables) and suffers from the bad illness of greed and ego. 7.
Like a farmer sowing a crop in the field covered with saltpetre (which does not carry any worth), the Maya-worshipper carries the burden of worthless dealings. So, how can he swim across the world-sea with such a worthless and heavy burden? He does not realize that Satguru is the ship in every eon to ferry one across the world-sea if he keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind. 8.
The man is strongly bonded to his love for his sons, his wife, and the worldly possessions, which are just an expanse of Maya. It is Satguru who severs the noose of the Angel of death when His Sikhs ponder on the root of the universe (Waheguru). 9.

Satgur baajhoun, preet na oopjaiy, bhugut(i) ruttay, putiyaara hey. 13.
Word Meaning: Koorr(i) = attractions of Maya. Mootthi = robbed. Chaalaiy = spends life; plans. Daajhaiy = burn; suffer badly. Purr(i) = getting involved. Bhaahi = fire (of desires). Daana = wise; provider. Saara = supreme. 10.
Toottha = pleased to be kind. Dri-rraya = reinforces. Maytay = eradicate. Maarug(i) = path of righteousness. Kunda = thorn. Na Moolay = not at all. Guddyee = pricks. 11.
Khayhoo = dust. Chheejaiy = weakens. Saiyl = stone (hearted). Bheejaiy = imbues. Kern Plaav = wailing and begging. Avtaara = incarnations; births. 12.
Bikh Bhooyungum = poisonous snake. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Ghur = heart. Gaalay = ruined. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Putiyaara = is pleased. 13.
MEANING: Robbed (captivated) by the attractions of Maya, the human mind makes plans for many things, and the Maya-worshippers burn in the fire of desires. The Guru is the great provider of Waheguru's Naam, which is the true Amrit. One should recite Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of supreme comfort. 10.
Pleased with one's efforts to recite Waheguru's Naam, the Guru becomes kind to him and reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his mind. He shows the devotee the path of righteousness and removes all his sufferings. The devotee, who is protected by the Guru, does not suffer even from the prick of a thorn in his foot. 11.
The Maya-worshipper is like a rock whose mind does not get imbued in Waheguru's love, even though his body might have become very weak, and he might be close to death, whereby his body will become a pile of rubble and mix with dust. He may wail and pray a lot, but because of his bad deeds, he continues to reincarnate in hell or in paradise-like conditions.

12. The snake-like Maya is always with the man (influencing him), which causes indecision (between Waheguru and Maya) in his mind and leads to the ruin (pollution) of many minds. One cannot foster love for Waheguru in his mind without Satguru; the devotees are convinced of Waheguru's favours and are always imbued with His love. 13.

Word Meaning: Shaakut = money-worshipper. Dhaaveh(i) = rush to. Trihou Goon = the three effects of Maya (complete darkness; some awareness; good awareness and good qualities). Khupeh(i) = suffers; struggles. Paar Ootaara = salvation. 14.
Kookur = dog. Sookur = swine. Kooriyaara = dealer in falsehood. Bhaunk = bark; complain about trivial things. Haara = loses (the battle of life). Doormut(i) = with evil thinking. 15. Taykaiy = becomes peaceful. Praykaiy = who has taken the shelter. Amoluk(u) = invaluable. Jus(u) = praise. 16. Buchnee = Shabad. Gut(i) = transcendence. Mit(i) = measurement. Maylunhaara = connector. 17.

MEANING: The money-lover rushes to make more of it, but how can he enjoy any comfort with money alone when he ignores Waheguru's Naam (which is the real source of comfort)? He struggles, and suffers (and also causes suffering for others) under the three effects of Maya, and cannot find salvation. 14.
The dealers in falsehood can be compared with dogs (for their greed), and with pigs for enjoying the filth (of Maya). They complain about trivial things and invite spiritual death by complaining too much. They are impure by body and by mind, and deal in the perishables. Because of their immoral thinking, they lose in Waheguru's Court. 15.
However, one's mind finds peace in the shelter of the Guru who grants him Waheguru's Naam, because of which his mind becomes peaceful. The Guru gives the invaluable wealth of Waheguru's Naam (His praise) to His devotee, which is dear to Waheguru. 16.
Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only from the Guru in His shelter when the devotee realizes the high transcendence and the limits of Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad (that He is limitless). I advise my mind to recite Waheguru's Naam whereby the connector Waheguru connects the devotee with Him, oh Nanak. 17.3.9.

Word Meaning: Ghur(i) ruhou = stay in yourself. Moogudh = foolish. Iyaanay = ignorant. Untargut(i) = with full focus. Laaluch = greed. Ruchou = mix (connect) with. Uprumpur(i) = (Waheguru) which does not need any external help (omnipotent). Iyoun = like this. 1. Johun(i) = keep a close eye. Phoon(i) = then. Jeaurraiy = oh my mind. Perm Tutt(u) = the supreme essence (Waheguru). 2. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Deettha = sees; realizes. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Tup(u) = enduring hardships. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Saara = supreme. 3. Buchnee = Shabad. Tolhou = search; look for = Khoaj. Ghur(u) = permanent dwelling. Buhourr(i) = again. Gerbh = womb. 4.

MEANING: Stay inside yourself (do not take meaningless flights, i.e., do not make worthless plans), oh, my foolish and ignorant mind, and recite Waheguru's Naam with full focus. Give up your greed and connect with the omnipotent Waheguru. That is the way to reach the door of emancipation. 1. Recite the Naam of the Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, forgetting whom, the Angel of justice begins to watch you closely, and you lose all the comforts, while discomforts lie ahead for you. This is the way to ponder on the Supreme Essence (God), oh my mind. 2. Recite Waheguru's sweet-tasting Naam, which one can realize (enshrine in mind) in his heart in the shelter of the Guru. Stay imbued in the love of Waheguru day and night; this is the true recitation of mantras, self-torture, and the efforts to control one's senses (which are spiritually worthless, but many people use them to please their deities). 3.

Recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad in His company (shelter) where you can search for (acquire) the sweetness of the Naam. Find your permanent dwelling (union with Waheguru) with Guru's Advice, and you will not have to go in mother's womb again. 4. Sing Waheguru's praise which is like having a dip in the true holy place. Meditate with full focus, to ponder on the root (origin) of the universe – Waheguru. If you recite the Naam of the dear Waheguru, the Angel of death will not be able even to cast a sight on you at the time of your death (you will become immortal by merging with Waheguru). 5.

Word Meaning: Purakh(u) = Supreme Being. Daata = donor; provider. Daana = wise; know-all. Saach(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Chooka = goes away; ends. Bhaiy Bhaara = huge fear. 6. Tutt(u) = the fundamental ingredients. Kaaya = body. Laiy Cheeni = recognize. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. 7. Sat = high moral. Suntokh = contemtment. Khima = forgiveness. Guhou = adopt. Praatum = Waheguru. Nistaara = decision; conclusion. 8. Kuput = deceitfulness. Tayka = belief; dependence. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Anayka = countless times. 9.
MEANING: Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru, is the provider (of Waheguru's Naam), and knows everything about us. The individual who has Waheguru's Naam in his heart gets absorbed in Him with Guru's Shabad. The individual who Waheguru connects with Him through the Guru loses the huge fear of the Angel of death. 6
Waheguru creates the human body by assembling the five basic ingredients (earth, water, etc.) and also places His jewel-like Soul (Naam) in there, by which one can recognize Him (make a connection with Him). Waheguru, and His Soul, are the same; Waheguru can be realized by contemplating on the Guru's Shabad. 7.
Take Satguru's shelter (surrender to Him) to live with high morality and in contentment, and practise forgiveness. Analyze yourself to recognize (make a connection with) Waheguru. You can arrive at this conclusion in the company of the Guru. 8.
The money-lover depends on falsehood and deceit; he vilifies others countless times day and night. Without the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, he keeps coming and going by going through the hell of his mother's womb. 9.

Word Meaning: Shaakut = money-worshipper. Kaan(i) = owings; debt. Chookaiy = paid off; ends. Dund(u) = punishment. Na Kubhoon = never. Mookaiy = ends. Baaki = balance. Dherm Raayay = the Angel of justice. Afuriyo = conceited. Afaara = unbearable. 10. Turiya = salvaged. Bhuvjul(i) = in the world sea. Paar-Ootara = ferry across the world sea; salvation. 11.

Daat(i) = donation; largesse. Soyee = the same (God). Apur Apaara = with no ends. 12. Bhoolay = miss the opportunity. Phoon(i) = again. Moor = foolish. Achayt = unaware; negligent. Chayteh(i) = remember. Pookara = call on; pray to. 13.

MEANING: The debt of misdeeds owing to the Angel of justice by the Maya-loving individual is never paid off, and his punishment never ends. Such a conceited individual carries an unendurable burden of misdeeds, and the Angel of justice recovers the balance of debt of his misdeeds (by punishing him appropriately). 10.

Because of his ego, the money-lover is caught in the world-sea, and no such individual has ever found salvation without the Guru. One can swim across the world-sea only by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 11. Nobody can prevent the donation of (Waheguru's Naam) to a devotee; whoever is bestowed with Waheguru's Naam, is ferried across the world-sea by Him. Waheguru has no ends (is limitless), and the suffering of reincarnation does not even come near the devotee who has acquired His Naam in his mind. 12.

Those who miss the opportunity to take the Guru's shelter keep taking births, dying, and committing similar sins again. The foolish Maya-lover is unaware of the worth of Waheguru's Naam, and does not remember Him; he prays for His help only in suffering. 13

Word Meaning: Poorb Junum = of previous life. Doash = blame. Praani = oh, man. Suhou = endure. Kuraara = strong; really bad (deeds). 14.

Mumta = attachment. Chulaaya = taken away. Bikh = poisonous results. Laaday = loaded with. Chaar Bikaara = dust-like immoral deeds. 15. Akuth(u) = indescribable (Waheguru). Kuthou = discuss; sing praise. Muneh(i) = in own mind. Ootth(i) Chulta = rushing. Tthaak(i) Rukhou = keep in control. Kattunhaara = the destroyer. 16.

Oat = shelter. Puraati = took. Jaati = understand; realize. Ootum = superior. 17.

MEANING: One's comforts or sufferings are the result of his deeds of previous life, but only Waheguru, who has given those to the individual, knows this fact. So, whom can the individual blame for his suffering? He has to endure the result of his deeds. 14.

The man has been suffering from his ego and worldly attachment from the very beginning, and bonded strongly to his hopes and wishes, he is taken away (by the Angel of death). (Even close to his death), The man believes everything to be his, and laden with the poisonous dust of his immoral deeds, he is taken away. 15.

Worship the indescribable Waheguru, and sing His praise with full concentration, oh my brothers. Control the fast-wandering mind so that it stays in itself (in Waheguru's Naam) and the destroyer of all suffering, Waheguru, will eradicate all your suffering. 16.

The Sikhs of the Guru seek the shelter of the Perfect Guru, and Waheguru, and learn how to meditate on Waheguru's Naam with a focused mind with the guidance of the Guru. Waheguru bestows superior (noble) thinking to the devotee who recites His Naam, and ferries him across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 17.4.10.

Aad(i) Joogaadi = from the very beginning. Pritpaala = raising and nourishing. Roop(u) Anoop(u) = having no equal in attractiveness. Chulaaveh(i) = run the lives of. Kumaata = performs deeds. 2. Goopt = hidden. 4.

MEANING: You are fully capable of doing anything, are merciful, and are the destroyer of all demons (lust, greed, etc.), oh Waheguru. I have come to Your shelter, oh, the great God. Nobody knows Your amazing feats; You are the carver of our fates, oh, the Perfect Lord. 1.

You have been raising and nourishing Your living beings ever since the beginning of the universe. The kind Waheguru with unparalleled beauty is present in every heart. You make the humans do whatever You wish them to do; everybody performs the kind of deeds which You have planned for them. 2.
Waheguru's kind Soul is present in every heart where He enjoys all tastes, and drinks His own sweet Naam-Amrit. He gives His gifts, and takes them back from some of them. He is the father-like provider in the whole universe. 3.
Assembling the basic ingredients of air, water, and fire, etc., He has created the drama of the world. He has created the human body with nine doors, and has kept the Tenth door hidden (through which one gets enlightenment). 4.

Word Meaning: Chaar(i) Nudee = four rivers: violence (aggression), greed, worldly attachments, and rage. Usraala = frightening. Niraala = detached. Doormut(i) = evil. thinking. Daajheh(i) = burns; suffers. 5. Up(u) = water. Tayj(u) = fire. Vaayay = air. Punch Tutt(u) = the five ingredients. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Bhuraanta = indecisiveness. 6. Bhejaiy = imbues. Puteejaiy = is pleased. Tayk = support. Tikeejaiy = stabilize. Choar(u) = thief (Maya-captivated mind). Inn(i) = this. Moohaiy = robs. Doot(u) = demon. Jaata = recognized. 7. Doondur = make much noise. Doot = the five demons. Bhoot = (invisible like) ghosts. Bheehaalay = frightening. Khinchotaan(i) = pull in opposite directions (compete). Baytaalay = unsynchronized. Soort(i) = awareness. Put(i) Khoyee = lose respect; are disgraced. 8.
MEANING: There are four rivers (sources) – aggression, greed, worldly attachments, and rage – which, along with the fire of desires, rob the man of his spirituality. But some rare individual realizes this fact with Guru's Shabad, and stays detached from (unaffected by) them. Because of his ill thinking, the money-lover burns in the fire of desires, and drowns in these rivers. But the Guru protects those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam and stay focused on it. 5. Everybody is made up of the same five basic ingredients – water, fire, air, earth, and awareness – (but each has a different nature), Waheguru's devotees get rid of their selfishness, ego, and indecisiveness, and stay imbued in Waheguru's love with Guru's Shabad. 6. The individual, whose mind is pleased (convinced) with Guru's Shabad, gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam. What is the source of support of the mind without Waheguru's Naam? Without Waheguru's Naam, the money-lover does not realize that his Maya-captured mind is the demon-like thief in his body, robbing him of his spirituality. 7. Without the focus of the mind on Guru's Shabad, the five ghost-like (invisible) and frightening demons in one's mind make too much noise (exhort the man to commit immoral deeds), and unsynchronized, they pull his mind in different directions, resulting in the man losing his respect in Waheguru's Court, and taking rebirths. 8.

Word Meaning: Koorru(u) = falsehood. Kullur(u) = saltpetre (a harmful substance). Bhusmaiy = of dirt. Dhayri = pile. Baandhay = trapped (in the affairs of Maya). Joog Chaaray = in all the four eons. Kunkur(i) = assistants. Kaal(i) = of death. Puraata = arrested; trapped. 9. Sujaayay = punishment. Upraadhi = sinner. Gut(i) = condition. Kern Pulaav =pleading and praying. Bil-laavaiy = wails. Koondi = hook. Meen(u) = fish. 10.
Doohayla = in great discomfort. Soojhaiy = think of. Aaj(i) Kaal(i) = today and tomorrow; everyday. Puch Jaata = gets tortured. 11. Bayli = friend. Aithaiy = here (in this world). Oathaiy = there (next world). Raakha = guard. Sulul = water. 12.

MEANING: Dealings in Maya (the perishables) are worthless, like purchasing saltpetre (and enjoyments from them are short-lived), because eventually the human body becomes a pile of dirt. Without Waheguru's Naam, even the worldly respect (if any) because of them is of no use for the man. Without Waheguru's Naam, one does not attain freedom from the bonds of Maya, no matter what eon it is, and he is arrested by the agents of the Angel of Death. 9.
Tied up at the door of the Angel of justice, such a sinner gets severe punishment to be in a highly miserable condition where even his wailing and pleading do not help him, and he suffers like a fish on the hook. 10.
Under the full control of the Angel, the blind (ignorant) suffer in great discomfort when they are alone (helpless) and hanged (punished). Without Waheguru's Naam, he gets (mental) torture every day, and cannot think of emancipation from the bonds of Maya. 11.
There is no real friend without Satguru in the world. Only Waheguru is one's guard in this world and the next. He (Satguru) gives Waheguru's Naam with his benevolence when the devotee's soul merges into Waheguru's soul as water from one vessel mixes well with water from another vessel. 12.

Word Meaning: Bhoolay = misled. Oojhurr(i) = astray. Maarug(i) = path (of righteousness). Dookh-Bhunjun = destroyer of suffering (Waheguru). Sung(i) = with. Sukhaata = Sakha = friend. Praani = man. Mahesh = Shiva. Kiyoun = how? Lukhiyaiy = comprehend; "see". Puchhaata = recognize. 14. Praaput(i) = acquires. Dershun(u) = (holy) sight. Persun(u) = touch (of Waheguru's Feet). Ehinis(i) = day and night. Nirmul = pure. Subaayee = in the whole universe. Ghut(i) = in the heart. Deepuk = lamp (of Waheguru's Light); enlightenment. 15. Bhojun = food (for soul). Chaakhiya = tasted. Deettha = saw. Baiyraagi = devotee; detached from the world. Munsa = wishes. Smaata = gets absorbed. 16. Perdhaana = respected. 17.

MEANING: Satguru advises (enlightens) the Sikhs and puts the misled on the path of righteousness. Serve the Guru day and night when the destroyer of all suffering – Waheguru – will become your permanent friend, oh my friends. 13.
What can the common man know about the importance of the Guru's worship when His worth is not known even to the gods like Brahma, Indra, and Shiva? How can one see (comprehend) Satguru, who is a manifestation of the incomprehensible Waheguru? Only those who are bestowed with the ability to do so recognize Him (connect with Him). 14.
Those who have love for Waheguru get to have His holy sight, and those who can touch His feet (get connected with Him) who have love for Gurbani (Satguru's Shabad). Waheguru's pure (holy) Light is present in the whole universe, but only those who recognize the lamp (the source of the Light – Waheguru) in their heart, who come to the Guru's shelter. 15.
Knowledge about Waheguru (singing His praise) is extremely sweet; those who taste it get to have His sight (get connected with Him). Such a devotee, who loves Waheguru, is truly detached from the world, and gets rid of his desires and wishes, "sees" Waheguru, and gets absorbed in Him. 16. Those devotees who serve Satguru "see" Waheguru in every heart and earn respect everywhere. I beg Waheguru for his praise to sing, and for the company of those holy devotees who have recognized (made connection) with Satguru, and Waheguru, oh, Nanak. 17.5.11.

Word Meaning: Sirjunhaaray = the Creator. Dhur = of the earth. Chukur = orbits. Veechaaray = very carefully. Vaypervaaha = carefree. 1. Vayki, Vayki = of different kinds. Junt = living beings. Pundi = teachers. Dooyay Raah = two paths – love for God, and love for Maya. Chulaayay = started; set. Laaha = (spiritual) benefit. 2. Boojheh(i) = understands. Bherm Bhoolaana = misled by illusions. Bidh(i) = (the correct) way. Vuddhi = bribery. Oogaahi = depose; bear witness. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. 3. Vaad Vukhaana = debates. Tutt(u) = essence; truth; God. Soochay = pure at mind. 4.

MEANING: The immortal Lord (Waheguru), who is the creator of the universe, has placed the earth in its orbits with great thought. He looks after His creation all the time, yet He is carefree. 1. He created many kinds of living beings, guided by two types of teachers (thoughts), as a result of which they follow two different paths (lifestyles) – love for Waheguru or love for Maya. One cannot get emancipation without the guidance of the Guru, who explains that one can benefit spiritually only by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 2.

The Maya-worshippers do read religious books, but they do not follow the right spiritual path. They do not understand the worth of Waheguru's Naam and are lost in the illusions of Maya. With the net of evil around them, they accept bribes to stand as witnesses to lies and deceit. 3. Such people may read the religious books like the Shastras and the Puranas, but only to take part in worthless discussions, and do not realize the truth (Waheguru's Naam). Without the guidance of the Perfect Guru, one cannot acquire the eternal Truth (Waheguru). Those who recite Waheguru's Naam follow the path of righteousness and get their minds purified. 4.

Word Meaning: Salaahay = praise. Daana = wise. Puraakhaiy = tests; judges. 5. Kayti = much of the world. Alukh(u) = the invisible (God). Lukhaayay = shows. Akuth = indescribable. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Taaha = his. 6. Vaajeh(i) = play music Vadhaayay = congratulations. Sohilrray = songs of joy. Surpur = for sure. Kirt Puyya = based on deeds. Saaha = the date (of death). 7. Sunjog(u) = union. Vijog = separation. Niraalay = unaffected. Seel(u) = calmness; sweet nature. Sunaaha = armour. 8.

MEANING: After listening to others, everybody begins to sing Waheguru's praise, but the wise Waheguru tests them for their genuineness. Those, on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight, sing His praise with Guru's Shabad. 5.

By listening to the importance of Guru's Shabad, many people recite it, but one cannot find His limits by simply reciting the Bani. Only that individual acquires the wisdom to sing praise of the indescribable and the incomprehensible Waheguru, who reveals Himself. 6.

When a boy is born in a family, the ignorant play music and sing joyous songs, and people congratulate them. They do not realize that whoever is born must die for sure on the day already determined by Waheguru, based on his deeds performed earlier (in his previous lives). 7.

Unions of the souls with the bodies are determined by Waheguru. He creates the world and causes people enjoyment and suffering. But, the Sikhs of the Guru wear the armour of sweet nature all the time, and stay above (detached from) comforts or discomforts in life. 8.

Word Meaning: Neekay = in blissfulness; pure. Sach(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Sauda = merchandize. Pullaiy = in possession. Omaaha = zestfulness; high spirits. 9.
Kaacheen Saudeen = dealings in the perishables. Tota = loss. Vunuj = business. Poonji = Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Saabut(u) = complete. Slaamut(i) = safe. Chooka = ends. 10.
Aapun Bhaanaiy = as per one's liking. Doojaiy Boal(i) = other words (in Waheguru's praise). Boali = deaf. 11.
Oopjaiy = comes into being; takes birth. Binsaiy = is destroyed; dies. 12.
MEANING: With the advice (wisdom) of the Guru, His Sikhs deal in Waheguru's Naam, and enjoy bliss. Those who have the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in their possession (heart) feel highly zestful by reciting the Guru's eternal Shabad. 9.
Quite often, one suffers monetary losses in his dealings in perishables, while the Sikhs of the Guru deal in those things which are liked by Waheguru; their wealth (of Waheguru's Naam) does not suffer any loss, is always safe, and their connection with the Angel of death comes to an end (they never experience spiritual death). 10.
Everybody talks about things which they like. The followers of their mind do not talk about anything other than their selfishness and ego. Such people are blind and deaf to reality, and their thinking is likewise (they do not listen to anything good for spirituality). They suffer badly from being born and dying again and again. 11.
Such people are born in discomfort, and die in suffering. Their troubles (due to their attractions for Maya) do not go away without taking Guru's shelter. They come to this world due to their bad deeds, and die committing sins; so, what did they gain by taking birth as humans, and what will they leave with (other than bad deeds)? 12.

Word Meaning: Sachi Kerni = life of purity. Sir Kaara = top (supreme) deeds. Dhaara = acquirement; accountable. Daal = branches (attractions of Maya). Tuttt(u) = Waheguru. Mool(u) = the origin (root). Puraata = get attached to. Saacha = everlasting. Omaaha = zestfulness. 13. Punth(i) Kuraaraiy = on the tough path. Kaaha = opposition. 14.

Oarr(u) = end. Kuthnaiy = description. Sujaayi = beautified (with words). Rujaayi = in Will. Soohaylay = with comfort. 15. Ghunayray = many. Vudday Vudayray = the so-called great gods. Put(i) = dignity. 16.

MEANING: Leading a life of purity with the Guru's advice is the topmost service to Him. Such Sikhs of the Guru do not take rebirths, and are not accountable to the Angel of death. They disconnect themselves from the attractions of Maya, get attached to the root of the universe (Waheguru), and feel highly zestful at mind. 13.

The Angel of death cannot kill (or punish) Waheguru's devotees (because they merge with Him), and they do not experience any trouble on the very tough journey of life. With Waheguru's worship on their heart, they experience no attacks by the five demons. 14.

There is no end to the praise of the beautified (loaded with virtues) Waheguru. His devotees stay happy in His Will - whatever He likes. With the Huqam of the eternal Emperor (Waheguru), they reach His Court with ease and are honoured there. 15.

There are countless people who describe Your virtues, so what can I say about You, oh Waheguru? But even the great gods could not find the end to Your virtues. Waheguru is the Emperor of all the worldly kings, and I have only one request to make to Him that He grant me His Naam so as to protect my dignity in His Court, oh Nanak. 16.6.12.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Gurrh = forts. Vaasa = dwelling. Gugnundar(i) = in the sky (the tenth door). Usthir = eternal. Nirmaayil(u) = pure; holy. 1. Chujjay = porch. Hutnaalay = bazars. Vust(u) = merchandize (Waheguru's Naam). Smaalay = controls. Bujjur = concrete; strong. Kupaat = doors. Jurray = anchored. 2.
Bheetar(i) = inside. Goofa = cave. Jaayi = place. Nuoun Ghur = the nine body outlets. Alayp(u) = detached. Apaari = limitless. Alukh(u) = invisible. Lukhaayaynda = reveals. 3. Khayl(u) Tumaasha = dramas. Buldi = the burning fire (of desires). Niveraiy = removed; put out. Julnidh(i) = ocean; water, source of life 4.
MEANING: The fort-like human body has the tenth door (in the brain) where the eternal Waheguru resides. This is the permanent residence of the pure (holy) Waheguru, which He has created for Himself. 1.
The human body can be imagined as a city with bazars adorned with porches where the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam is traded (Waheguru takes one's bad qualities and gives His Naam), which He fully controls (not everyone can have it). Waheguru has anchored very strong doors to the human brain, which open only with the Guru's Shabad. 2.
Waheguru, the Lord of His Huqam, has created the human body with nine visible doors and a cave-like tenth door where, detached from the world, the limitless Waheguru resides. With His own Will, the invisible Supreme Being reveals Himself. 3.
With the union of air, water, and fire, Waheguru has created the drama and the show of the world, in which the fire of desires is burning in the minds of the people. This fire can be put out with the holy water of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of life; Waheguru Himself pours this water on the minds of His devotees. 4.

Akuthi, kuthoun, chihun nuhhi koyee, poor(i) ruhhiya, mun(i) bhaayaynda. 8.
Word Meaning: Dhermsaala = place to acquire noble qualities. Ootput(i) = creation. Purlou = destruction. Niraala = detached. Kulaa = power. Khinch(I) = pull out. Dhuhaayaynda = demolishes. 5. Bhaar Utthaarha = the whole vegetation. Maalun(i) = gardener (to offer flowers). Chaur(u) = the royal whisk. Dhoollaiy = fans. Phayri = moving. Sus(i) = in the moon. Soor(u) = sun. Smaayaynda = is absorbed. 6.
Punkhi = birds. Punch = the five senses. Oodur = fly. Dhaavaiy = rush. Sufliyo = laden with (Waheguru's Naam-Amrit) as fruit. Birkh(u) = tree. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. Ruvvaiy = recites Naam. Choag = bird food. Choogaayaynda = feeds. 7.
Jhilmil(i) = shimmer. kirn(i) = ray. Gaiynaara = in the sky. Akuthi = indescribable. Chihun = physical feature. Poor(i) Ruhhiya = present everywhere. Bhaayaynda = loveable. 8.
MEANING: Waheguru has created the earth as the place to acquire and to practise noble qualities (high morality). He creates and destroys the world, but stays detached from it. The air sustains life everywhere, and He destroys the world by pulling out His power 5.
(People worship their deities and perform aarti for them by placing flowers and lamps in a platter), But the whole vegetation is there to offer you flowers, and the sun and the moon are the lamps (in the platter of the sky), with the moon acquiring brightness by absorbing the sun's rays in it. The moving air serves as the royal whisk to fan you, oh Lord (So, His aarti is taking place all the time). 6.

The Guru is like a tree laden with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit as the fruit. The Sikhs of the Guru recite the Naam and sing Waheguru's praise in the high spiritual state, as a result of which their five bird-like senses do not take flight (think about sensual pleasures). Waheguru feeds these birds with His sweet Naam as their mental food. 7.
The high spiritual state of the Sikhs cannot be described, as it has no physical features; yet no rays of the sun, the moon, sparkling stars, or lightning equal the brightness of their enlightened mind. They see Waheguru's presence everywhere. 8.

Aiko Aik(u) su Apurprumpur, perkh(i) khujaaanaiy paayaynda. 12. -----
Word Meaning: Pusree = spread. Kirn(i) = ray. Oojiyaala = enlightens. Unhud = auto-playing Divine music. Roonjhoonkaar = sweet and soft. Dhoon(i) = tune; sound. Nirbhuou = fearless. Ghur(i) = state. Vaayaynda = plays (music). 9. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Bhuou = fears. Biyaap(i) Ruhhiya = influencing (omnipresent). Chhaajaiy = protects. Sohaiy = looks attractive (respectable). 10. Aad(i) = origin. Nirunjun(u) = unaffected by Maya (Waheguru). Bhaavaiy = is liked. Gerb(u) = conceit. Guvaayaynda = gets rid of. 11. Jaana = acknowledge. Dooaa Teeya = second and third; any other. Apurprumpur = omnipotent (who does not need any external help). Perkh(i) = by testing. Khujaanaiy Paayaynda = deposits in the treasure (absorbed in Him). 12.
MEANING: With the benevolence of Waheguru, when a human heart is enlightened by the ray of His Light, it begins to feel as if a sweet and soft auto-playing Divine music is playing in his mind. Such a sweet tune becomes a permanent source of music, and he attains the state of fearlessness. 9. With the Divine Shabad in mind, all his illusions and fears disappear when the omnipresent Waheguru becomes his guard. Waheguru is the Lord of the whole universe and is realized in the shelter of the Guru. The Sikh of the Guru looks very attractive (earns respect) singing praise of Waheguru at His Door. 10.
I recognize only the "One" Supreme Being, Waheguru, who is the origin of the whole universe, is perfectly pure, is above the effects of Maya, and is none other (like Him). When Waheguru takes dwelling in a devotee's heart, the devotee loves Him, and his haumein and ego are eradicated. 11. I took in the Naam-Amrit with the grace of the Guru, and I do not acknowledge anybody else. The omnipotent Waheguru is the only power in the universe, and He absorbs the devotees in Him after carefully examining them. 12.

Nanak(u), Saach(u) kuhhaiy baynunti, hur(i) dershun(i) sookh(u) paayaynda. 16.1.13.
Word Meaning: Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheera = unaffected by conditions. Cheera = Huqam. Jayti Haiy = all the (creation). Jaachaiy = begs for. Kerm(i) = with benevolence. 13. Haath(i) = in (Your) hands. Akhhott(u) = never running out. BHundaaraiy = treasures.

14. Dikhaavaiy = shows self; reveals. Thaap(i) = creating. Oothaapay = destroys. Jorr(i) = connecting. Vichhorraiy = separates. 15.
Toodh Undar(i) = under Your control (in Huqam). Bij = concrete; eternal. 16.
MEANING: The unfathomable, and the never-changing Waheguru is the source of all knowledge and of concentration of mind. Nobody knows how His Huqam (Laws) work. The whole world, which has been created by Waheguru, begs (longs) for His Naam, but only that individual gets His Naam (connects with Him) whom He is benevolent to. 13.
People perform many different religious rituals, but the real deed is to recite Waheguru's Naam, which He controls (whom to give and whom not to give). Waheguru is carefree, and all His treasures are always full which never run out. The eternal Waheguru is always kind, and compassionate. He, Himself connects His devotees with Him. 14.
Waheguru looks after His creation, and reveals Himself. He creates the world and destroys it at His Will. He connects the soul with the appropriate body, and disconnects them. He kills (severs) the worldly bonds of some people, and gives new spiritual life to them. The whole world is under His control, and He watches it from His eternal Residence. I have to make one humble suggestion to everyone, which is ever true, that one attains blissfulness only by having a holy sight of Waheguru (by connecting with Him), oh Nanak. 16.1.13.

Mookut(i) Bhuyyay = became emancipated. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. 2. Easher = Shiva. Tupay = self-torturers. Moon(i) = hermits. Jutee = celibates. Sutee = of high morality. 3. Jaanaayay = giving understanding. Bhaanaiy = Will. Saah luvaayaynda = allows to breathe. 4.

MEANING: I can sing Your praise with love and with the spirit of a dedicated devotee, and have Your holy sight (get connected with You) only if You like (approve) it, oh Waheguru. It is only with the sweet Will that I can love You, and sweeten my tongue with the recitation of Your Naam, oh the Creator. 1. Waheguru's slaves (supreme devotees) are exalted (honoured) in Waheguru's Court as they are salvaged. Imbued in Waheguru's love, they recite His Naam all the time and get rid of their selfishness and ego. 2.

All the gods and goddesses - including Shiva, Brahma, Indra - the hermits, the devotees who torture themselves, the celibates, the people with high morality, and countless forest dwellers whose number is not known to anyone, are in Waheguru's service. 3.

Without Waheguru's understanding, nobody knows that whatever happens in the world happens only by Waheguru's Will. All the 8.4 million life forms which He has created breathe only with His Will. 4.

Amrit(u) = sweet; good. Peevaiy = drinks; accepts. Baahoorr(i) = again. 6. Saadoun = from tastes (luxuries). Praaput(i) = acquire. Bhog-hou = enjoy; endure. Roag = ailments; suffering. Vigovaiy = suffers humiliation. Hurkhoun = from enjoyments. Soag = griefs. Mityee = go away. Na Kubhoon = never. Vin(u) = without. Bhermaayaynda = is misled. 7.

Vihooni = devoid of; without. Bhuvaiy = wanders aimlessly. Subaayi = the world. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Nirbhuou = fearless. Jaata = recognized. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. 8.

MEANING: Whatever Waheguru wishes, happens for sure. The follower of his own mind brags about his own achievements, for which he has to cry (suffer) later. Disconnected from the Source (Waheguru), such an individual finds no shelter and suffers in his continuous rebirths and deaths. 5. The human body, which is pure and has a pure soul in it, becomes home to Waheguru's Naam. Such a devotee accepts all suffering as a sweet gift from Waheguru and has never suffered again. 6.

One invites ailments (suffering) from enjoying too many luxuries, and gets humiliated while enduring suffering from such ailments. His griefs resulting from his enjoyments never go away, and without accepting Waheguru's Will, he continues to be misled. 7.

By focusing on Waheguru's Naam, one realizes that Waheguru is present everywhere, and without the enlightenment, the whole world wanders aimlessly (in the dark). With Guru's Shabad, one realizes the fearless Waheguru, and his soul is connected with Him. .8.

Sojhi = enlightenment. Veechhur(i) = disconnected. 12.

MEANING: Waheguru is eternal, firm, and limitless. He can demolish things instantaneously and rebuild them. He has no physical form or features, and His worth cannot be measured. He can be pleased only when one's mind is pierced with the Guru's Shabad (he enshrines the Shabad in his mind). 9.
The devotees, who search for ways to get connected with Waheguru and ponder on His virtues, are noble (are approved by Waheguru). I am a slave of such dear slaves of Waheguru. Those who obey Waheguru's Naam (His Will) win the battle of life, but it is Waheguru Himself who reinforces His Naam in the minds of His devotees. 10.
Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam acquire the Naam in their mind and become like Him. Waheguru likes those who recite the Guru's Shabad, which is dear to Him. The devotees realize that Waheguru has created and supports the universe with His power; they are pleased (feel blissful) with His Naam. 11.
Everybody says that Waheguru is very large (and great), but nobody gets the real understanding without the Guru. Those who connect with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad are liked by Him; they never suffer separation from Him again. 12.

Word Meaning: Dhoorhoun = from the source (Waheguru). Vichhoonnay = disconnected. Dhaahi Roonnay = wail loudly. Moohlut(i) = span of life. Poonnay = is over. Bukhshay = bestows; forgives. Puchhotaayanda = repents. 13. Bhoogta = who receives and enjoys.

Tripta = contented. Mookta = free from all bonds. Mooktisur(u) = the Lord of emancipation. Mumta = attachments. Moh = love. Chookaayaynda = eradicates; ends. 14.
Daana Kaiy Sir(i) Daan(u) = the supreme donation (gift). Veechaara = thinking; wisdom. Kern Kaarun = the creator. Sumruth(u) = fully capable. Apaara = with no ends. Kerni Kaar = deeds worth performing. 15.
Say = those. Smaaveh(i) = are absorbed. Baynunti = humble suggestion. 16.
MEANING: Those who are disconnected from the Source (Waheguru) wail with loud screams. They die when they reach the end of their life span and are born again. But those who are forgiven by Waheguru get honoured by Him, and He never repents to connect them with Him (because they stay connected with Him). 13.
Waheguru, Himself creates things, and (being present in the living beings), Himself enjoys them. He, Himself, is content, and Himself detached. He is the Lord of emancipation, and gives the donation (gift) of emancipation to people when He severs their bonds of love for their families, and for other worldly attachments. 14.
The limitless Waheguru is the creator of the universe and is capable of doing anything. He grants pure and noble thinking to His devotees, which is the best donation of all. He watches His creations and makes people do deeds that are worth performing. 15.
Only those devotees sing Waheguru's praise whom He likes. You created them, and they get absorbed in You, oh Waheguru. I have only one humble suggestion to make: that one enjoys bliss only by connecting with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 16.2.14.

He created the universe at His own Will, and put everything in place without any visible support. He created Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, and generated increasing love for Maya. 14. He narrates Guru's Shabad to a rare few so as to reveal that He creates and looks after the whole world with His Huqam. He began creating the parts of the universe (galaxies) and the underworlds, which began to appear from their hiding places (out of nowhere). 15. Nobody can find Waheguru's limits; only the Perfect Guru enlightens the minds of the people about the majesty of Waheguru. Alukh Apaaraiy = of the incomprehensible and the limitless (God). Saayir Suput = the seven pool-like parts (five senses, mind, and wisdom). Jul(i) Nirmul(i) = pure water (of Waheguru's Naam). 2. Ruv(i) = sun. Sus(i) = moon. Deepuk = lamps. Jot(i) = light. Subaayi = everywhere. Vudiyaayi = grandeur. Sachay = Waheguru (His Naam) Sobha = praise. 3. Gurrh = fort of body. Haat = shops. Puttun = cities. Vunjaara = trader (God). Ruttan = Naam. Visaahaiy = buys. 4.
Vaypervaahay = carefree (God). Pooraiy = full. Bhundaaraiy = treasures. Kulaa = powers. Kisaiy = some rare. Boojhaayaynda = gives wisdom (enlightens). 5.
Bhaytaiy = connects with. Jundaar = evil. Phaytay = whips. Bigaasi = blooms. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru has created the universe Himself, but stays detached from it. By combining air, water, fire (energy), etc., Waheguru has created the human body, which is the permanent place for Him to reside. 1.
The incomprehensible and the limitless Creator has created nine visible doors in the human body, but He resides in the Tenth Door (in the brain). The devotee, who takes Guru's shelter (follows His Advice), gets all his five senses, his mind, and his wisdom full with the pure water of Waheguru's Naam because of which, he never acquires the filth of immorality. 2.
The sun and the moon, which are the lamps to light up the whole world, owe their light to Waheguru, who watches (enjoys) His own grandeur (wonders). The light-like Waheguru is always the source of comforts, and the devotee who recites His Naam is praised (honoured) by Him. 3. The human body is like a city with shops to deal in Waheguru's virtues and His Naam, and where the trader Waheguru charges full price for His Naam in terms of devotee's dedication and his acquirement of noble qualities. This price is never lowered. Being present in everybody, Waheguru Himself buys the invaluable noble qualities and decides their worth (what degree of spirituality to inject in the devotee-trader, and how much more work the devotee needs to put in to be fully approved for union with Him). 4.
Waheguru is carefree, but His treasures are always full. He decides the worth of His Naam. He gives some rare individuals the understanding (enlightens) that He is supporting the whole world with His powers and is present everywhere. 5.
Waheguru connects the individual, on whom He casts His kind sight, with the Guru because of which the evil Angel of death cannot whip him (punish him in any way). Just as a lotus flower blooms in water, Waheguru feels very happy to recite His own Naam while sitting in the mind of his devotee (He exhorts His devotee to recite His Naam). 6.

Ghaatus(i) = lessens. Tolo = weight. Sacho Sauda = eternal merchandize; Waheguru's Naam. 8. Virla = some rare. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. Smaayaynda = gets absorbed. 9.
Soorg(u) = paradise; sky. Muchh(u) = the earth. Puyyaala = underworlds. Kulaa = power.10. Dhaul = the ox that is believed to support the earth. Gaiynaarun(g) = sky. Shiv Shuktee = Maya. Khayl = drama; amazing things. 11.

MEANING: The limitless Waheguru showers the stream of His Naam-Amrit, which is invaluable like jewels and rubies. But one can realize the dear, beloved, and the Perfect Waheguru through the Guru. 7.
Once a devotee acquires the invaluable Naam of the beloved Waheguru, its worth never decreases, and his Love for Waheguru's Naam for which he paid the full price (by acquiring the required noble qualities) never lessens. The dealer in Waheguru's Naam acquires the eternal merchandise of His Naam (he merges into Him). 8.
But a rare person acquires the eternal Naam of Waheguru in the shelter of the Perfect Guru who connects him with Waheguru. Guru's Sikh recognizes Waheguru's Huqam, and merges with Him by accepting His Huqam. 9. The man comes to this world with Waheguru's Huqam, and merges with Him with His Huqam, and the whole world that we see comes into being with His Huqam. The universe with the earth, the sky, and the underworld, was created with Waheguru's Huqam, and is supported with the power of His Huqam. 10.
The earth and the mythical ox, which is believed to support the earth, were created with His Huqam. The air, the water, and the sky came into being with His Huqam, and it is with Waheguru's Huqam that the man finds his home in Maya (he lives for Maya). The whole drama of the world is being played with His Huqam. 11.

MEANING: The skies came into being with Waheguru's Huqam, and so did the water, the land, and the whole universe in which He resides. The living beings breathe, and have bites of food with His Huqam. He looks after the world with His Huqam and also reveals Himself through it. 12. The ten incarnations of god Vishnu, countless other gods, and the demons, were created with Waheguru's Huqam (Laws). Those who obey Waheguru's Huqam are honoured in His Court and are connected with Him (they merge into Him). 13.
It was with His own Huqam (Wish) that Waheguru spent 36 eons without creating the universe, and He creates accomplished yogis, yogis, and other wise people with His Huqam. He is the Lord, and everyone else is under His control. He emancipates some with His benevolence. 14. In his fort-like body, man's mind is the raja with his senses as his courtiers. The tenth door is noble through which the mind can connect with Waheguru, and stay in itself (quits wandering). But because of his falsehood, his greed, and the man's gluttony, his mind keeps taking flights (does not become peaceful), and he keeps committing sins for which he has to repent. 15.
Noble qualities like high morality, contentment, control over lust, service to others, and control over senses begin to prevail in the body-city of those who take Waheguru's shelter. One attains a high spiritual state with the Guru's Shabad and becomes connected with Waheguru, the source of life of the world, and is honoured by Him, oh Nanak. 16.4.16.

Word Meaning: Soonn(u) = absence of the universe; time when there was no universe yet, and Waheguru was in meditative state; Waheguru alone. Kulaa = power; state. Uprumpur(i) = omnipotent (who does not need any external help). limitless Waheguru. Dhaari = acquired. Niraalum = fully detached. Appur Apaari = with no ends. 1. Saajay = created. Kaaya Gurrh = fort-like body. Rajay = mind as the raja. Soonnay = in Himself. 2. Vertay = operates. Pud = spiritual state. Chookaayaynda = ends; is cleared. 3. Suput Surovar = the seven sources to run the human body (five senses, mind, and awareness). Sut Sur = the pool of holy gathering. Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter. 4. Gaiynaaray = skies. Alukh = invisible, incomprehensible. Taarri = deep meditation. 5.

MEANING: Before He created the universe, the omnipotent Waheguru was in a state of deep meditation, and was fully detached from the world (above the effects of Maya). He created everything purely from Himself and now looks after His creation. 1.

He created air and water from Himself, and He created the universe; He created the fort-like human bodies in which the mind rules the body. Waheguru's Light (Soul) is present in fire, in water, and in all life, and He keeps everything in its position by His power. 2.

Waheguru created Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva from Himself, and His power operates in every eon. A devotee, who ponders on this unique state of Waheguru (internalizes it), becomes perfect, and all the illusions and doubts of the individual, who seeks the advice of such a holy devotee, get cleared. 3. Waheguru created the seven sources to run the human body (five senses, the mind, and awareness) from Himself, and keeps all His created living beings in mind (looks after them). The man who takes Guru's shelter and takes dips in the holy pool of His devotees never takes any life form again. 4.

Waheguru created the moon, the sun, and the sky from Himself, and His Light is present in the whole universe. The invisible and the omnipotent Waheguru stays detached from the world, and goes into deep meditation. 5.

Suput Pataal = seven underworlds. Bhuvun = the universe with three layers. Rukhay = protects. Liv Laayay = with great care. Kaarun Keeya = created. Kumaayaynda = lives accordingly. 10. Ruj, Tum, Sut = the three effects of Maya. Kul = power. Chhaaya = reflection. Goon(i) Chauthaiy = the fourth state (above the three effects of Maya). Mookut(i) = free from the bonds of Maya. 11.
MEANING: Waheguru created the earth and the sky from Himself, and the eternal Waheguru has placed everything in position with His power without any visible support. Having created the universe, Waheguru has bonded it with Maya; He creates the universe, and destroys it at His own accord. 6.
Waheguru created the sources of reproduction, and the different ways of communication from Himself, and everything created by Him gets absorbed in Him (is destroyed). The creation of life is a mesmerizing feat of Waheguru, which He brought into being with His Huqam. 7.
Waheguru created days and nights both, from Him, and made production, destruction, comforts, and suffering as parts of life. But a devotee, who takes the Guru's shelter, stays detached from worldly attractions and finds his eternal home (union with Waheguru). 8.
The four Vedas, which are believed to be uttered by Brahma and which discuss only the three effects of Maya, are also created by Waheguru's Huqam. Nobody can tell the worth of Waheguru's Huqam; everybody describes His worth to the extent restricted by Waheguru. 9. Waheguru created the 7 underworlds (and the seven heavens – a Muslim faith) from Himself, and looks after them with great care. The omnipotent Waheguru created the world Himself, and everyone performs according to his preordained fate. 10.
All three effects of Maya are Waheguru's reflection (created by Him). He has created birth, death, comforts, and discomforts for the living beings. He puts those whom He is kind to in Guru's shelter, where they attain the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, and are emancipated. 11.

Sunjogi = with the union of the five elements. Kerm Abhiyaasa = perform deeds. Boora = bad. Bhulaa = noble. Beejaayaynda = sows the seeds. 14. Ootum = superior. Niraalay = detached. Mutvaalay = intoxicated. Ridh(i) = supernatural powers 15.
Nayhou = love; attachment. Ghunayra = immense. Giyani = enlightened person. Nibayra = decision. Sehsa = worries; doubts. Nur(u) = man. Lobhi = greedy. 16.
Soonn(u) = beyond he effects of Maya. Baara = doors. Nirmul(u) = pure. Dhoon(i) = focus of mind. 17.

MEANING: Waheguru created the world and expanded the universe. He created the ten incarnations of Vishnu and the other gods, demons, devotees of Shiva, and the musicians of the gods. But all of them perform the kinds of deeds prewritten in their fate by Waheguru. 12. The devotee, who gets the understanding in the shelter of the Guru (is enlightened by Him), does not suffer any mental trouble. Some rare devotees realize that the Guru's Teachings are the stairs leading to the union with Waheguru. Guru's Teachings have been the support for emancipation over the eons, and the individual who follows them is emancipated and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 13.
Waheguru created the five basic ingredients to form the human body, united for the man to do his tasks. Man's ignoble and noble deeds are recorded on his forehead, which serve as the seeds for his future sins and noble deeds. 14.
Satguru is the superior human being who stays detached from the world. Those who get imbued in Satguru's Shabad are always intoxicated in Waheguru's sweet Naam. One acquires supernatural powers, wisdom, and Divine Knowledge from the Guru, but it is only with great fortune that one gets connected with Satguru. 15.
The human mind is greatly attached to Maya. But some rare enlightened person understands this and draws this conclusion. On the other hand, a greedy person, who has high hopes and great desires, suffers from ego and worries and deals in falsehood. 16.
One acquires noble thinking from Satguru, and by meditating on Waheguru (His Naam), he stays connected with the eternal Lord. With focus on Guru's Shabad, his mind becomes pure, and he stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 17.5.17.

MEANING: I see Waheguru, which is very kind to the weak, in every direction. The compassionate Waheguru does not come or go (does not take birth, or dies). He has infused the means (taught them) to live life into living beings, yet the Emperor, Waheguru, is fully detached from the world. 1.
The world is a reflection (a manifestation) of the Waheguru, which has no father and no mother. He has neither a sister, a brother, nor an assistant. He is neither created nor can be destroyed, and has no clan or caste. The Supreme God of gods is my favourite. 2.
The Supreme Being is unaffected by time, and no death looms on His head. The Supreme Waheguru is indescribable, inaccessible, and fully detached. The devotee, who, with Guru's Shabad, meditates on Him with love and in a high spiritual state, lives in contentment, serves humanity, and stays extremely calm (in a blissful state). 3.
Waheguru has placed the world under the three effects of Maya, but He lives in the fourth state (above those effects). He has full control over life and death as if He has consumed (controlled) them in a single bite. With His Divine Shabad, the Guru shows (reveals) the pure Light of Waheguru, which is the Soul of the whole world. 4.
Waheguru's saints are superior (exalted), are dear to Him, and always work for the goodness of the masses. Intoxicated in the love of Waheguru, they salvage the people. I have acquired

The immortal, firm, limitless, and priceless Waheguru is perfectly Sovereign (does not require any support of any kind) in the universe, and looks majestic in His eternal Palace (everywhere). He ensures that His devotees' tasks are completed successfully. 2. The body of the holy saints, who are connected with Waheguru (which is supreme and above everybody) in their meditative state above the effects of Maya, becomes a holy place. 3.

The Creator Waheguru has created the human body with nine visible doors, but the incomprehensible Waheguru, detached from the world, resides in the tenth door (in the brain), through which He reveals Himself. 4.

The Court of the indescribable Waheguru is also eternal, from where He runs the universe with His eternal Huqam, which is also His identification (Waheguru and His Huqam are the same). Waheguru's Naam is present in everybody's mind; one needs to search for Him in his own heart by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 5.

Connected with Waheguru, such a devotee's mind (which is highly capricious otherwise) does not wander or take flights for Maya. Guru's Divine Shabad plays Divine music in his mind. He feels as if all five kinds of auto-playing musical instruments are playing melodiously in his mind at the command of Waheguru. 8.
A devotee, who is stung with Waheguru's love and His fear, overcomes his haumein, and, imbued in Waheguru's love, he attains a high spiritual state. Waheguru Himself is the Lord, and Himself the trader. The evaluator Waheguru evaluates the deeds of everybody. (Like a goldsmith tests the purity of a gold sample by grazing it on the touchstone) Waheguru tests the purity of His humans and determines their worth (level of purity). 12.
Waheguru is present in every heart, but He connects His devotees with Him with His benevolence through the Guru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru. 13.

One needs to take the Guru's Advice to meditate on Waheguru so as to swim across the world-sea. Why would a devotee, who sings praise of Waheguru, which has no clan, have any fear of the Angel of death? I see Waheguru wherever I look, and I do not sing praise of anybody else. 3. Waheguru's Naam is eternal, and so is His shelter. Guru's Shabad is also eternal, by the recitation of which one swims across the world-sea (finds salvation). A devotee, who sings praise of the indescribable Waheguru, "sees" (gets connected with) the limitless Waheguru, and is never born in any life form again. 4.
One cannot acquire virtues like serving humanity and contentment without Waheguru's Naam. He cannot get emancipated without the Guru, and keeps taking rebirths (and dying). Waheguru's Naam is the basis of all mantras, and is the source of all sweet tastes (enjoyments); one gets connected with the Perfect Waheguru by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Bhuvjul = the world sea. Smoond(u) = sea. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. Muhaa Bikh(u) = severe poisons (captivating worldly attractions). Ateet(u) = detached. Oopur(i) = above. Nirbhuou = fearless. 6. Hit = love; attachments. Jhootthi = false = short-lived. Chuturaayi = shrewdness. Bilm = delay. Abhimaani = conceited. Oojaiy = comes into being; is born. Binus(i) Khupaaya = suffers in destruction (death). 7. Bundhun Bumdhay = tied in bonds. Phundhay = shackles of Maya. Jum Pur(i) = the city (court) of the Angel of death. 8. Moakh = Mookut(i) = emancipation. Kiyoun = how? Dhiyaayiyaiy = remember; recite. Bhuv = world sea. Dootur(u) = extremely difficult to swim across. 9. Krishan(i) Govardhun Dhaaray = it is believed that Krishna once lifted Govardhun Mountain on his little finger to provide cover for the people during an incessant rain. Saayir = sea. Paahun = rocks (it is believed that Rama built a bridge across the sea between India and Sri Lanka by floating rocks bearing his name to attack Lanka). Perm Pud = the highest spiritual state. 10.

MEANING: One cannot swim across the unfathomable world-sea (to get connected with Waheguru), which is full of extremely poisonous worldly attractions, without Waheguru's Naam. The devotee, who acts on the Guru's Shabad, stays detached from and above the effects of the worldly attractions and lives with (merges into) the fearless Waheguru. 6. One's shrewdness and his love of worldly attractions are short-lived because worldly enjoyments do not take long to disappear, and the man is caught in the cycle of rebirths. The egoists leave the world without Waheguru's Naam and suffer by taking births and dying. 7. Tied in the bonds of worldly attractions, the man is caught in the shackles and chains of Maya around his neck, and keeps taking births and dying. The individual, who does not receive Guru's Advice to recite Waheguru's Naam, is tied up and taken to the court of the Angel of death. 8. One cannot recite Waheguru's Naam or find emancipation without the Guru. One needs to receive (act on) the Guru's Advice to swim across the world sea, which is otherwise extremely difficult; on being emancipated, one becomes blissful. 9. *Krishan Ji is believed to have lifted Mount Govardhan on his little finger to provide cover to the people in an incessant rain; but one thing is certain, that a devotee can lift the mountains of loads of his sins from His mind with Guru's Advice. *Also, Ram Ji is believed to have floated stones on the surface of the sea to build a bridge to link Lanka with India to attack Lanka. But a devotee can swim across the world sea with the Guru's Advice even if he had a stone-like heart before. 10.

NOTE: As explained below, Guru Nanak Sahib is not certifying these two events to be true in this holy Shabad for two reasons. He is only emphasizing the importance of the Guru's Wisdom (Advice).

(1). Guru Nanak Sahib does not support or promote the use of supernatural powers for personal achievement to impress others. He only uses such examples to glorify the greatness of Waheguru and the Guru.

(2). As you will note in the following holy Shabad by Guru Nanak Sahib in Raag Assa, He disapproves of such performances by these two gods. As you know, Ram Ji is believed to have killed Ravan, the king of Lanka, when the latter kidnapped Sita, the wife of Ram Ji. Krishan Ji is believed to have overpowered a huge serpent, Kaali, that lived in the River Yamuna and terrorized the people. Guru Nanak Sahib has commented on these two events in the following Shabad.

- ਆਸਾ ਮਹਲਾ 1 (ਅੰਗ 350)॥ ਪਉਣੁ ਉਪਾਇ ਧਰੀ ਸਭ ਧਰਤੀ ਜਲ ਅਗਨੀ ਕਾ ਬੰਧੁ ਕੀਆ॥ ਅੰਧੁਲੇ ਦਹਸਿਰਿ ਮੂੰਡ ਕਟਾਇਆ ਰਾਵਣੁ ਮਾਰਿ ਕਿਆ ਵਡਾ ਭਇਆ॥ 1॥ ----- ਜੀਅ ਉਪਾਇ ਜੁਗਤਿ ਹਥਿ ਕੀਨੀ ਕਾਲੀ ਨਥ ਕਿਆ ਵਡਾ ਭਇਆ॥ ----- 7॥

Meaning: After creating, air, water, and fire, Waheguru created the earth, and supported it. The blind (foolish) ten-headed Ravan had his head severed because of his misdeed; so, what greatness did Ram Ji achieve by killing him? --------- Waheguru has created the living beings, but controls their lifestyles (how they live and survive); what greatness did Krishan Ji achieve by overpowering the serpent, Kaali?

For these reasons, this slave interpreted the holy Shabad differently.

------- Gurmut(i) layhou, turhou Sach(u) taari. Aatum cheenou, ridaiy Mooraari. Jum kay phaahay kaateh(i) Hur(i) jup(i), Akool Nirunjun(u) paaya. 11. Gurmut(i), punch sukhay Gur bhaayi. Servuni Naam(u) soonaiy Hur(i) Bani, Nanak Hur(i) rung(i) rungaaya. 15.3.20.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) Taari = swimming to get connected with God. Aatum = soul. Mooraari = Waheguru. Phaahay = noose. 11. Punch = the five noble qualities (service to mankind, contentment, compassion, high morality (religiosity) and patience) (See Assa M:5 page 430: Punch manaayay, punch roosaayay). Sukhay = close friends. Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Nivaar(i) = remove. Mun(i) = by mind. Mukh(i) = by tongue. Lukhaaya = shows; reveals. 12. Puteejaiy = is pleased. Oostut(i) = praise. Ninda = vilification. Jugunath = the Lord of the world (God). Bhaaya = liked. 13. Brehmund(i) = in the universe. Khund(i) = part of the universe; earth; mind. Boojhou = understand. Bhogay = enjoys. Bhogunhaara = who enjoys (Waheguru). Subaaya = everywhere. 14.

Soocha = purifying. Oocha = transcendent. Servuni = with ears. Bani = Shabad. Rung(i) = in love. Rungaaya = dyes his mind. 15.3.20.

MEANING: One needs to take Guru's Advice to analyze his soul, and to enshrine Waheguru's Naam in his heart, which will be his real swim across the world-sea and his connection with Waheguru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, the devotee gets the chains of the Angel of death severed, and merges into Waheguru, which has no clan, and which is above the effects of Maya. 11. With Guru's Advice, the five noble qualities (service to humanity, contentment, compassion, high morality, and patience) become his close friends as if they are his disciple-mates of the same Guru. One eradicates (puts out) the fire of worldly desires with the Guru's Advice, and merges into Waheguru. When one recites Waheguru's Naam with his mind and his tongue, the incomprehensible Waheguru shows Himself (appears) in his heart. 12. In the shelter of the Guru, one realizes that Waheguru is pleased with the Guru's Shabad. In that spiritual state, he neither showers undeserved praise on anyone nor vilifies anyone. When an individual recognizes himself by reciting Waheguru's Naam, he begins to love Waheguru, who is the Lord of the world. 13.

One realizes in Guru shelter that Waheguru, which is present in the whole universe, is also present in its parts (in his heart too), and makes a connection with Him with Guru's Shabad. Being present in every heart, Waheguru enjoys the different tastes of life, and yet remains fully detached from the whole world. 14.

If an individual sings the mind-purifying praise of Waheguru with Guru's Advice, he sees the transcendent Waheguru with his eyes. His mind is dyed with Waheguru's love when he listens to Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad with his ears, oh Nanak. 15.3.20.

MEANING: A devotee, who gives up (controls) his lust, rage, vilification of others, gluttony, and greed, becomes free from all worries. He breaks the chains of all misgivings and illusions, and stays detached from the world; he realizes Waheguru in his mind, and enjoys the sweetness of His presence there. 1.

Just like one sees brightness in the flash of lightning at night, he sees the Light of Waheguru everywhere, day and night. The Perfect Guru shows (reveals) Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss, and which has unparalleled beauty, to such a devotee. 2.
Just like the moon in the sky absorbs the rays of the sun, and becomes a lamp like the sun, the devotee absorbs Waheguru's Light (His Naam) in his heart in the shelter of Satguru, and becomes like Him (Waheguru). Such a devotee "sees" the invisible Waheguru to be present everywhere in the universe, and stays focused on Him. 3.
When a devotee gets rid of his selfishness and ego by acquiring the sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, all his worldly desires and his fears get eradicated, and he attains the spiritual state of fearlessness. By working on Guru's Shabad (following His Advice in real life), his mind is purified, and he attains the highest spiritual state. 4.
The Naam(u) of the invisible, and the incomprehensible Waheguru is extremely sweet, and is very dear to the devotees. I beg for the sweet praise of Waheguru in every eon (in every life), but nobody can find His limits by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 5.

Bahourr(i) = again. 6. Hayt(i) = for. Trunga = waves; zestfulness. Pdaaruth(u) = the valuable article. Bhaavaiy = likes. 7.

Shaakut = Maya-worshipper. Soort(i) = focus of mind. Kiyoun = how? Puraayin(u) = support; means. 10.
MEANING: With Waheguru Naam at heart, a devotee gets the diamond-like Waheguru to appear in his heart. One's mind finds peace in itself (quits wavering) when he recites Waheguru's Naam, and he gets connected with Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all fears, and which makes the very tough journey of life easy for him. Such a devotee is never born again. 6. Guru's Shabad generates waves (zestfulness) in the mind of the devotee to worship Waheguru, and he begs for the invaluable Waheguru's Naam to sing His praise from the Guru. With Waheguru's Will, the Guru connects the devotee with Him, which can salvage the whole world. 7. The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Advice, receives the assistance of the Angel of Death, who becomes his slave and drops at his feet. In the superior (holy) company of the holy saints, the spiritual state, and the spiritual knowledge of the devotee also become very superior (of high quality), which become the vehicles to ferry him across the world-sea. 8.

One can kill his indecisiveness internally with Guru's Shabad, and swim across the world-sea. Such a devotee can kill the fear of the Angel of death with the arrows of the five noble qualities (service to mankind, contentment, compassion, high morality, and patience), loaded on the bow of Guru's Shabad, and aimed at the tenth door (connected with Waheguru). 9.
How can a worshipper of Maya (egoist disconnected with Waheguru) focus his mind on the Guru's Shabad and realize God? Without focus on Guru's Shabad, one keeps taking births and dying. The Shelter of the Guru is the means for an individual to attain freedom from the bonds of Maya, but Waheguru connects one with the Guru only through his great fortune, oh Nanak. 10.

Laykha = account of deeds. Alaykh = indescribable. Ateet(u) = detached. Ajoani = does not take births. Sumbhou = self-illuminated. 12.
Gut(i) = situation. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes; makes connection. Nituntur(i) = the continuously present (God). Unut = for something else. Dolaaya = weakens; falls for. 13.
Ubh Untar(i) = in the heart. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Rusiya = sweetens the mind. Sehjay = without any special effort. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. 14.
Uliput = detached. Chultay = wavering mind. Ghur(i) Aanaiy = comes to stabilize. Oopur(i) = above. Aad(i) = the origin (root) of everything (God). Tihou Loyee =in the three worlds (universe). Rus(u) = sweetness. 15.
MEANING: The fearless Satguru is the guard of the devotees, and grants them (implants in their mind) the worship of Waheguru. With Guru's Shabad, the devotees acquire Waheguru in their minds and feel as if a blissful Divine music is playing a melodious tune there. 11.
Waheguru, which is fully detached from the world, does not take any life-form, is self-illuminated, incomprehensible, and is seen in nature, can be realized with the Guru's Advice. A devotee, who acquires Waheguru in his heart, becomes fearless, and no account of his deeds is kept anywhere. 12.
Satguru knows the internal situation of His devotee's mind, and the devotee who makes a connection with Waheguru through the Guru's Advice becomes fearless. He sees the omnipresent Waheguru in his heart and understands Him. His mind does not fall for anything else. 13. The devotee, who gets Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart, becomes fearless and enjoys day and night the sweetness of the Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. A devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the holy saints, gets connected with Waheguru in the high spiritual state without any special effort on his part, oh Nanak. 14.
Such a devotee recognizes Waheguru within and without, and remains detached from the world. His fickle and wandering mind comes to stabilize in itself. I have acquired the Amrit-like sweetness of the Naam of Waheguru, which is the origin of the whole universe, is present everywhere, and is above everybody else (rules over everybody), oh Nanak. 15.4.21.

Chullunvaara = at the time of death. Moh Pusaar = expanse of attachments. Bayli = friend. 4.
Soora = valiant. Srayvhou = serve. Bhoola = misled. 5.

MEANING: There is no limit to the abilities of the Creator of nature (the universe). He creates the living beings and provides them with food and other necessities of life. He controls the life of everybody, and the created living beings have no power or option (other than to obey

His Huqam). 1. Controlling the universe with His Huqam, Waheguru is present everywhere. So, how can I say that He is close to some and far from others? He can be seen in every heart, hidden or visible. He runs the universe all alone. 2.
The individual, who Waheguru connects with the Guru, recites His Naam with the Guru's Shabad with a fully focused mind. When the Guru connects the devotee with Waheguru, who has unparalleled beauty and is the source of all bliss, all his doubts disappear. 3.
The devotee finds Waheguru's Naam, which is his supporter at the time of his death, to be dearer to him than his own mind, body, and wealth. None of one's expanse of worldly attachments is helpful at the time of his death. Nobody has ever achieved any comfort (blissfulness) without Waheguru and the Guru. 4.
The devotee, on whom the Perfect Guru casts a kind sight, stays connected with the Guru's Shabad with His Advice, and the devotee becomes a valiant to fight against the evil demons. One should serve the Feet (obey the Advice) of the Guru who puts the misled on the right path (leading to union with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Jus(u) = praise. Jaachik = beggar. 6.
Mehl(i) = in His Palace. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Put(i) = honour. Shaakut = worshipper of wealth. Tthaaur = shelter. Mundar(i) = palace. 7.
Smoond(u) = ocean. Athaaha = unfathomable. Ruttan Dhun = wealth of jewel-like (Naam). Laaha = benefit. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Mul(u) = filth. Amritsar = in the pool of Naam-Amrit. Gur-Sur = pool of the Guru (His Shabad). Suntokh(u) = contentment. 8.

Vudiyaayay = honours. Dooja = other. Moorut(i) = persona. Bhaaya = liked. 10.
MEANING: The holy saints enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart with the Advice of the Guru; and they love Waheguru's Naam and His praise, which is their real wealth. The beggars (seekers) of Waheguru's Naam serve at the Door of Waheguru and sing His praise in His Court (in their heart, which is the Court of Waheguru). 6.
A devotee is called in by Waheguru to His Palace if he gets connected with the Guru (takes His shelter), where he attains the high spiritual state, and is honoured. But there is no shelter in Waheguru's Palace for the Maya-worshipper. He (the Maya-worshipper) keeps suffering from taking births and dying. 7. Serve Satguru, which is like an unfathomable sea of jewel-like noble qualities (and of Waheguru's Naam) and get the benefit of Waheguru's Naam wealth, oh my friends. Take a dip in the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with Guru's Shabad (remember, the city of Amritsar did not exist at the time of Guru Nanak Sahib; it was founded by Guru Ram Dass Ji, the Fourth Guru, in 1574) to wash away the filth of poisonous Maya (sins). One also achieves contentment in the holy Pool of Guru's Shabad. 8.
Serve Satguru without any doubt (about His manifestation of Waheguru), and stay detached from the worldly attractions while living in the family, oh my friends. Serve (recite the Naam of) Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all doubts, and all suffering, when you will never suffer from the disease of doubts, worries, and sins. 9. Waheguru honours the devotees He likes. There is none other who can make any suggestions to Him. Satguru and Waheguru operate in this world as one entity. I like (love) Waheguru and the Guru, oh Nanak. 10.

Word Meaning: Vaacheh(i) = studies. Beh(i) = by setting (with full devotion). Kaana = ears. Ujgur = (very strong like) Python. Kuput(u) = door. Tutt(u) = the root (Waheguru). 11. Bibhoot = Bhusmaiy = (coat body with) ash. Kroadh(u) = rage. Chundaal(u) = savage. Paakhund = hypocrisy. Joag(u) = union with Waheguru. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible (God). 12. Vert = commitment (fasting etc.) Naym = with full discipline. Oodiyaana = wilderness. Jut(u) = celibacy. Sutu) = high morality. Sunjum(u) = control on senses. Kutheh(i) = discuss. 13. Niyoli Kerm = to shake the veins violently to keep the stomach clean (one of the many yogic exercises). Bhooyungum = a (snake-like) coiled vein which connects the bottom to the tenth door. It becomes active with yogic exercises whereby the yogis feel blissful. Bhaatthi = the tenth door. Raychuk = exhale. Koombhuk = hold the breath for a long time. Pooruk = inhale. Mun Haatthi = with persistence of mind. Siyoun = with. Muhaa = great. 14. Aatum Ram(u) = Waheguru. Subaaya = everywhere. Lukhaaya = showed. 15.

MEANING: Some people study the religious books like the Vedas and the Puranas, while others listen to them with their ears with full devotion, and share them with others. But the very heavy (strong) doors closing their minds, cannot open without the guidance of the Guru, and they cannot realize the root of the world – Waheguru. 11.
The yogis make ash and coat their bodies with it to look unattractive, but they have savage rage, selfishness, and ego in their minds. One cannot realize the incomprehensible Waheguru with hypocrisy, and without the shelter of Satguru. 12.
Some others visit holy places, observe fasting, follow certain principles strictly, live in wilderness, exercise celibacy and high morality, try hard to control their senses, and preach knowledge, but they cannot get rid of their misgivings (illusions of Maya) without Satguru, and without Waheguru's Naam, and cannot enjoy bliss. 13.
The yogis perform all their yogic rituals with dedication, but do not have real love for Waheguru in their hearts. One cannot realize Waheguru by hypocrisy. One enjoys the great sweetness of connection with God, only with the Guru's Shabad. 14.
When one recognizes Waheguru everywhere with Guru's Shabad, his mind is convinced (pleased) when he sees Him in nature. Waheguru is omnipresent, and Satguru reveals Him, oh Nanak. 15.5.22.

Word Meaning: Sehjay = without any special effort. Vudiyaayi = greatness. Smaayi = present. 1. Goobaara = darkness (of ignorance). Veechaara = to ponder on. 2. Keemut(i) = worth; grandeur. Bil-laandi = wailing in desperation. Khooyaayi = suffers humiliation. 3. Put(i) = dignity. Raachaiy = gets imbued. Saachaiy = by connecting with God. 4.

Tay = from. Munsa = desires. Khayl = dramas; amazing feats. Boojhaayi = understanding. 5. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Raata = imbued. Sehj(i) Mutay = wisdom of high spiritual state. Bun(i) Aayi = liking for each other. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru created the world without any effort, and now watches His own greatness in His creation. He does (creates) things all by Himself, and makes the living beings do what He wishes. He is present in the whole universe by His own Will. 1.
The whole world is in the darkness of ignorance, but a devotee, who ponders on the Guru's Shabad in His shelter, gets enlightened. But only that devotee gets connected with the Guru, and gets enlightened, on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. 2.
Waheguru accords the honour to the individual whom He connects with the Guru, who (the devotee) realizes His high worth with the grace of the Guru. On the other hand, the Maya-worshipper suffers humiliation for his love for Maya, and wails in desperation. 3.
Waheguru created haumein (selfishness and ego) in living beings, and also Maya when He created the world; followers of their own mind are easily misled by Maya's gimmicks and lose respect (in Waheguru's Court). But a devotee of the Guru gets imbued with his love for Waheguru's Naam and stays absorbed in the Naam. 4.
One acquires the jewel-like Naam and the Divine Knowledge from the Guru, and his mind stays in itself (quits wandering) when he kills his worldly desires by the Guru's Shabad. It must be stressed that it is Waheguru who creates every drama of life, and Himself gives their understanding to His devotees. 5. A devotee, who serves the Guru, overcomes his selfishness and ego, and gets connected with his Dear (Waheguru) with the Guru's Shabad, and enjoys blissfulness. With love for Waheguru in his mind, such a devotee remains imbued in Waheguru's worship in his high spiritual state, and because of this, each (the devotee and Waheguru) has a liking for the other. 6.

Word Meaning: Dookh(i)-Nivaarun(u) = remover (destroyer) of troubles (God). Jaata = recognized. Jugjeevun(u) = soul of the world (Waheguru). Daata = provider; Lord. Laayay = connects (with His Naam)/ Bhuou = fears. Bherm = illusions. 7. Juraa = old age. Joh(i) = keep an evil eye. 8. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Khupaiy = suffers without any gain. Vikaara = immoral activities; vices. Tthaaur = shelter. Na Kubhoon = never. 9. Liv Laagi = deep meditation. Nihkayvul = above the effects of Maya. 10.
Virlaiy = rare. Puchhaani = recognized. Baiyraaagi = disconnected with the world; Waheguru-loving. Ruhaayi = comes to stop; is terminated. 11.
MEANING: One recognizes and makes a connection with Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all troubles; in fact, Waheguru Himself, who is the soul of and the provider for the whole world, connects the devotee with Him. The devotee, whom Waheguru exhorts to recite His Naam, understands Waheguru's Will, and all his fears and illusions are dispelled. 7.
The devotee, whom Waheguru connects with the Guru and gives the gift of His Naam, serves Him (the Guru) by reciting His Shabad (singing Waheguru's praise). He comes to love Waheguru so much, and Waheguru loves him so much, that he becomes "one" with Him, and no fear of old age or of the Angel of death can affect him. 8.
The world burns (suffers) in the fire of worldly desires, and uselessly suffers more because of its immoral activities. The follower of his mind finds no shelter anywhere, while the devotee is advised by the Guru (and recites Waheguru's Naam). 9.

Those who serve Satguru (obey His Advice) are fortunate and stay deeply meditated on (connected with) Waheguru. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, the devotee puts out the fire of worldly desires with Guru's Shabad and stays above the effects of Maya. 10.
Some rare devotee realizes in the shelter of the Guru that His Shabad, His Bani, is eternal (always connected with Waheguru no matter what eon is). The devotee, who loves Waheguru and is imbued with the Guru's eternal Shabad, gets his birth-death cycle terminated. 11.

Word Meaning: Sud Hee = always. 12. Soojhaiy = gets the understanding. Vihoona = empty; devoid of. Kuth(i) = discuss. Loojhaiy = burns (suffers) in the fire of jealousy and desires. 13. Daat(i) = gift. Vujaayi = enjoys (the Divine music). 14.
Dhoor(i) = from the source, by Waheguru. Kerm Kmaaya = perform deeds. Foormaaya = ordered. Vaasa = stay; become part. 15.
Taarri = deep meditation. Bheekhiya = alms. 16.
MEANING: The devotee, who understands the importance of the Guru's Shabad, washes the filth of his sins with it, and Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in his pure mind. He always serves His Guru, and overcomes his haumein with Guru's Shabad. 12.
With the Advice of the Guru, he gets the understanding about Waheguru's Door (how to connect with Him), but the follower of his mind, who is devoid of Waheguru's Naam, may discuss Waheguru with others for selfish reasons, but burns in the fire of desires. It is the greatness of serving Satguru that one's appetite for worldly desires is quenched. 13.
When one gets connected with self (analyzes self), he understands the worth of Waheguru's Naam; but the individual, who is devoid of Waheguru's Naam, cannot get that understanding. With Guru's gift of Waheguru's Naam always in his mind, he enjoys the bliss of the Divine music of Guru's Shabad in his mind. 14.
One performs the same kind of deeds which have been prewritten by Waheguru, in his fate; nobody can erase the Orders written for him by Waheguru. Only those become a part of the holy gatherings who have it prewritten in their fate. 15.
Only those get the gift of Waheguru's Naam on whom He casts his kind sight. They stay meditated on (connected with) Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. I am a slave of Waheguru, and beg at Waheguru's Door for the alms of His Naam(u), oh Nanak. 16.1.

Word Meaning: Virla = rare. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Uver(u) = other. 1. Lukh Chauraasih = 8.4 million (life forms). Jea = living beings. Dhiyani = meditators. Rijk(u) = food and other necessities. Smaahay = delivers. Keemut(i) = assess the needs. Hoar = other. 2. Undhaara = darkness. Pusriya = spread; visible. Pasaara = expanse. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Shaant(i) = peace. 3. Jorr(i) = putting together. Vichhorraiy = separates. Thaap(i) = create. Oothaapay = destroys. 4. Laayay = connects; makes to do. Boojhaiy = understands. 5. Poorub(i) LIkhiya = prewritten. Maytna = erasing. 6.

MEANING: Some rare devotee recognizes in the shelter of the Guru, that it is Waheguru alone that is operating in the universe. He alone is present in everybody, and there is none other than Him. 1. All the spiritually knowledgeable people and the meditators explain that Waheguru, which has created the 8.4 million kinds of living beings, assesses their needs, delivers food to them, and meets their needs. There is no one else who does that. 2. Because of the attachments in Maya, the world is completely enveloped in ignorance, and the expanse of selfishness, ego, and possessiveness is visible everywhere. The whole world is burning constantly in the fire of selfishness, ego, and jealousy, and it cannot find peace without the Guru. 3. Waheguru connects the soul with the appropriate body, and separates them as he wishes; He creates and destroys with His own Will. His Huqam and His expanse (creation) are eternal; nobody else has the power to issue any orders. 4. Only that devotee gets attached to Waheguru's Naam whom He stimulates. With Guru's grace, the devotee's fear of the Angel of death is dispelled. Some rare individual realizes in the shelter of the Guru that the source of all comforts, Waheguru, which is present in his heart, can be realized (acquired) with His Shabad. 5.

Waheguru Himself connects the devotee of His choice with Him through the Guru. Whatever is prewritten by Waheguru in one's fate cannot be erased. The devotee serves Waheguru (recites His Naam constantly) under the guidance of the Guru. 6.

Word Meaning: Jaata = realize; acquire. Daata = provider; Lord. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Nivaari = removed; extinguished. Cheen(i) = pondering on; making connection; reciting. 7. Kaaya = body. Kootumb = family. Moh(u) = attachment. Boojhaiy = understands. Aakhee = the said (Guru's Word); with eyes. Soojhaiy = understands; realizes. Ruvaiy = remembers; recites. Preetum = Dear (Waheguru). 8. Dhaat(u) = Maya. Laaga = is attached. Junmut = right at birth. Kee = why? Mooyo = died. Abhaaga = unfortunate. Aavut, Jaat = birth and death. Birtha = worthless. Guvaaya = wasted. 9. Koosoodh = impure. Dhopaiy = wash. Huchhi = good; pure. Mool(i) Na = not at all. 10. Punch Doot = the five demons. Sunghaaraeh(i) = ruins. Goobaara = darkness. Soodh(i) = understanding. 11.
MEANING: When a devotee serves Satguru, the Lord of all, Waheguru, connects the devotee with Him on His own, and he acquires the everlasting bliss. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, the devotee kills his selfishness and ego, extinguishes the fire of his desires, and acquires all comforts. 7. Because of his attachment to his body and family, the man does not realize the value of Waheguru's Naam. But with Guru's Word (Advice) and with faith in Him, he understands the importance of Waheguru's Naam, and by reciting Waheguru's Naam day and night, he gets connected with Dear Waheguru, and enjoys blissfulness. 8.
(On the other hand), The follower of his mind is attached to the other (Maya), because of which, he wastes away his precious human life, and keeps taking births and dying. Why does not such a person die right after his birth? He cannot get salvation without the Guru. 9.
Man's body (mind) accumulates the filth of selfishness and ego, which cannot be washed away even if he washes his body countless times. However, if he washes it with Guru's Shabad, it gets purified, and then never gets filthy again. 10.
The five demons (lust, greed, etc.) ruin one's body (and mind); he does not ponder on the Guru's Shabad, and keeps taking births and dying. With the darkness of Maya's attachment in mind, he cannot think clearly and spends his life in dreams. 11.

Oor(i) = in the heart. Dhaaray = enshrines. Aikus = the "One" Huoun = I; me. Jaana = acknowledge. Sehjay Hoyay = happens naturally. 14. Khoyee = lose; get rid of. 15. Goon-Daata = source of virtues (Waheguru). Pukki = successful. Saari = the pawn in the game of dice. Put(i) = dignity. 16.

MEANING: Some people kill (control) their five demons (lust, rage, etc.) by reciting Guru's Shabad with love when Satguru Himself connects such fortunate devotees with Him. With Waheguru (His Naam) in their mind, they remain imbued with His love and absorbed in Him in a high spiritual state. 12.

Guru's philosophy is revealed by His lifestyle, and the perfect devotee is known by his recitation of Guru's Shabad. Such a devotee tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam by his tongue (by reciting it), and his life is guided by Guru's Shabad. 13.

He kills his haumein (gets rid of it) by Guru's Shabad, and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart. I do not recognize anybody else other than Waheguru, and accept whatever happens naturally. 14. Nobody can attain the high spiritual state without the Guru; a devotee of the Guru understands this fact and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. He gets rid of His haumein with Guru's Shabad, and serves the eternal Waheguru by reciting Guru's eternal Shabad. 15. The source of all virtues, Waheguru, thinks about (evaluates) His devotees, and gives them the gift of His Naam through the Guru. Such devotees become successful in life like the pawns in a game of dice. Such devotees get absorbed in Waheguru with His Naam, and earn respect everywhere, oh Nanak. 16.2.

Undin(u) julut ruhheh(i) din raati, bherm(i) bhaykh(i) bhermaayi hey. 6. ---------

Word Meaning: Jugjeevun(u) = the soul of the world (Waheguru). Puchhaata = recognized; get connected. Amar(u) = Huqam. Paatshahi = kingdom. Sir(i), Sir(i) = for everybody. Kaar = deeds to perform. 1. Sookh-Daata = the source of all comforts (God). Rutti = imbued. Put(i) = dignity. 2. Vudiyaayi = honour. Ninduk(i) = vilifier. Perm Huns = supreme swan (extremely pure devotee). Baiyraagi = detached from the world. Taarri = deep meditation. 3. Muraiy = kills desires. Poora = perfect. Amritsar(u) = the pool of Waheguru's Naam. Bhaayay Soobhaayi = with love. 4. Uvraan = others. Khubur = information. Thaakay = exhausted. Shaant(i) = peacefulnes.5. Ikk(i) = some. Bhusm = ash. Bhaykhdhaari = in religious garb. Jult ruhheh(i) = keep burning (in the fire of desires). Bherm(i) = in illusions. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru alone is the eternal provider for (Lord of) the world. One can realize Him by serving the Guru with His Shabad (by acting on it). There is only the Huqam of the "One", and only one kingdom (of Waheguru) in the world. He has created such a system that He makes everyone perform certain kinds of deeds. 1.

The mind of the individual, who recognizes himself (that he is a part of Waheguru, and what his objective in life is), becomes pure; and Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, connects the devotee with Him on His own. Such a devotee sings praise of Waheguru with his tongue, which is imbued in His love, and is honoured in His Court. 2.

A Sikh of the Guru, who recites and acts on the Guru's Shabad, is honoured everywhere, but the follower of his mind (Maya-worshipper) vilifies others and loses his respect. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are His supreme devotees, and, detached from the world, they remain meditating on Waheguru with a focused mind. 3.

The valiant Guru has clearly explained that the individual who kills his desires with the Guru's Shabad becomes perfect. The human body has the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in it, and the devotee drinks it (takes it in) with love for Him. 4.

A learned Brahman reads the holy books and explains that to others, but knows nothing about his own heart, which is burning in the fire of desires. People exhaust themselves reading the holy books (without any spiritual gain); they do not know that no one can acquire Waheguru's Naam without the Guru and cannot attain peace of mind. 5.

Many people coat their bodies with ash and wander around wearing religious garbs, but nobody can kill their haumein without the Guru's Shabad. Misguided by the illusion of their "holy" garbs, they wander around burning in the fire of desires and jealousy. 6.

--------- Ikk(i) greh(i) kootumb(u) meh(i) sudaa oodaasi. Shabad(i) mooyay Hur(i) Naam(i) nivaasi. Undin(u) sudaa ruhheh(i) rung(i) raatay, bhaiy bhugut(i) chit(u) laayi hey. 7. Saachaiy Shabad(i) ruttay Ikk rungee, Saachaiy Shabad(i) milaayi hey. 11. --------

Word Meaning: Greh(i) = in households. Kootumb(u) = family. Oodaasi = detached. Mooyay = killed desires. Nivaasi = dweller; stay absorbed. Bhaiy Bhugut(i) = worship with fear (love) in mind. Chit(u) = mind. Laayi = attached. 7.
Vigoota = suffers humiliation. Lobh(u) = greed. Bhaunkaiy = barks; makes much noise. Puchhutaayi = repenting. 8. Aiysi Bunut = such system. 9.
Saadhik = one who follows the Yogic path. Veechaari = thinkers; debaters. Nirunkaari = in formless (Waheguru). Boojhaiy = understands. Bhaayay = in the spirit of; with love. 10. Ishnaan = dips at holy places. Munooaa = mind. Maar(i) = by controlling. Loojheh(i) = fight. Ikk Rungee = in love with only the "One" (God). 11.

MEANING: (On the other hand), there are some who stay detached from worldly attractions while living at home with their families. They kill their desires with Guru's Shabad and stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. They remain imbued in Waheguru's love day and night, and keep their minds attached to Him with respectful fear in His worship. 7.
The follower of his mind suffers humiliation for the vilification of others, and the dog of greed in their mind, barks aloud (their greed prods them strongly) to commit immoral acts. The Angel of Death never spares him, and he leaves the world repenting. 8.
One earns everlasting respect with the Guru's eternal Shabad, but nobody can attain emancipation without Waheguru's Naam. Also, Waheguru has created a system in which no one can acquire His Naam without the Guru. 9.
There are many Sidhs (accomplished yogis), many yogis, and many thinkers who take part in religious debates (without any gain in spirituality); while there are many, who stay imbued in Waheguru's Naam day and night. But only that individual understands the worth of Waheguru's Naam whom He connects with Him. All the fears of such a devotee are dispelled when he worships Waheguru with love and dedication. 10.
Many people take dips at holy places and make big donations, yet still do not understand the worth of Waheguru's Naam. But there are many who fight (struggle) with their mind and kill its desires. They imbibe the love of the "One" (God) through the Guru's eternal Shabad and connect with Waheguru. 11.

Pooraiy Bhaag(i) = with perfect fortune. Puchhata = gets connected; learns. Vichhoorray = get separated. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. 14.
Maiyl(u) = filth. Dooja = the other (Maya). Bhaaya = liked. Liv = meditate. 15. Kersi = will do. Aap-houn = by self (the man). Na hosi = will not happen. Vudiyaayi = honour. 16.
MEANING: Waheguru creates the world, and Himself confers honour on some of the lucky individuals by connecting them with Him by His Will. It is with His Huqam that God appears in the hearts of some individuals on whom He casts His kind sight. 12.
The minds of the individuals who serve Satguru are purified. The worshippers of Maya are weak-minded and do not know the worth of serving Satguru. Waheguru looks after His creation and creates attachment among His living beings for different types of deeds (intentions) as He pleases. 13.
With good fortune, one learns in the shelter of the Guru with His Shabad that Waheguru is the lone Provider (Lord) for the entire world, no matter what the eon is, and gets connected with Him. Once connected with Waheguru with Guru's Shabad in the high spiritual state, and with the kind sight of Waheguru, the devotee never gets separated from Him. 14.
Those who acquire the filth of haumein and other forms of Maya keep taking births and dying because of their love for Maya. One can verify, by meditating on the Guru's Shabad, that no one can attain salvation without serving the Satguru. 15.
Waheguru does what He likes; the man cannot do anything on his own and will never be able to do so. One earns respect with Waheguru's Naam, and is honoured at Waheguru's door, oh Nanak. 16.3.

Pir ka saaou na jaanaiy moorukh(i), bin(u) Gur boojh na paayi hey. 6. -----

Word Meaning: Aaya = comes; is born. Jaasi = will go; die. Baandha = tied. Jun = devotees. Oobray = salvaged. Saach(i) = with Waheguru's Naam. 1.
Laykhaiy = is counted (considered); given credit. Giyan(u) = Divine Knowledge. Soojhaiy = understands. Ugiyani = ignorant. Undh(u) Kmaayi = performs worthless deeds. 2.
Sehsa = doubts; worries. Sehjay = easily. 3. Dhundhaiy = in Maya-related tasks. Dhaavut = rushing. Bhuyya = became. Munoora = hard and brittle like burnt (scrap) iron. Kunchun = gold. Bhaytaiy = gets connected. Bukhsh(i) = endows. 4.
Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Jhootthi = dishonest. Booriyaar(i) = source of immorality. Aougunaari = full of bad qualities. Kuchee = weak-minded. Pheeka = tasteless. 5.
Kunt = Pir = husband; Waheguru. Bhaavaiy = liked. Jootthi = impure. Kmaavaiy = works for. Saaou = taste; bliss. Boojh = understanding. 6.

MEANING: Everybody who comes to the world (takes birth) must leave (someday). But, for his love for Maya, he is trapped in the noose of the Angel of Death. However, those protected by Satguru are salvaged and merge into Waheguru through His eternal Naam. 1.
The Creator creates and looks after His living beings, but only those are given credit for spirituality on whom He casts His kind sight. The devotee, who acquires Divine Knowledge in the shelter of the Guru, understands everything, whereas the (Maya-engrossed) ignorant continues to perform spiritually worthless deeds. 2.
The follower of his mind suffers from doubts and worries, and does not understand the worth of spirituality, and wastes away his precious human life, as a result of which he continues to take births and to die. But Guru's Sikh is always imbued in Waheguru's Naam. He enjoys bliss and merges with Waheguru in a high spiritual state. 3.
The mind of the man who pursues Maya-related tasks becomes hard and brittle (merciless and weak) like scrap iron, but can become pure like gold if he is lucky to come to the shelter of the Perfect Guru. Waheguru forgives him for his misdeeds, and he enjoys all comforts and connects with Him through the Guru's Shabad. 4.
The woman (human being) with evil thinking is bad and dishonest, and is a source of immorality. She has bad qualities and is also the source of bad qualities. With a weak mind (which changes quickly), she uses tasteless (Maya-related) language; no one can ever acquire Waheguru's Naam with evil thinking. 5.

Waheguru does not like people with bad qualities because a man with an impure (dishonest) mind (thinking) performs dishonest deeds. Without the Guru, she does not know the worth of Waheguru's Naam, and the foolish cannot enjoy union with Waheguru. 6.

---------- Doormut(i) khoati, khoat(u) kmaavaiy. Sheegaar(u) kuray, Pir, Khusm, na bhaavaiy. Goonvunti sudaa Pir(u) raavaiy, Satgur(i) mayl(i) milaayi hey. 7. Aapay Huqam(u) kuray, subh(u) vaykhaiy. Satgur sayva tay sookh(u) paaya, Hur(i) kay Naam(i) smaayi hey. 11. ------

Word Meaning: Khoati = impure. Khoat(u) = impurity. Sheegaar(u) = adornment; religious symbols. Khusm = master; husband. Goonvunti = having noble qualities (virtuous). Raavaiy = worships; recites Naam. 7. Ikkna = some. Bukhsh(i) = forgives. Dhoor(i) = prewritten by Waheguru. Laykhaiy = accounts of bad deeds. 8.
Dhaat(u) = Maya. Moh = attachments. Rus(i) = in the sweetness of. Laayi = attached to. Saachi Liv = honest attachment; deep meditation. 9. Ikk(i) = many. Jaagay = enlightened; stay alert. Abhaagay = unfortunate. Kerna = ability to do. 10.
Maar(i) = kill; control. Nivaaray = remove; take off. Oordhaaray = acquire in the heart. 11.

MEANING: The ill-advised man has an impure mind and carries out his daily business rooted in dishonesty. He wears religious symbols with the false belief to be religious, but is not liked by the Lord. (On the other hand), A virtuous man always recites Waheguru's Naam, which connects the devotee with Him through the Guru. 7.
Waheguru looks after everybody with His Huqam (Will), and forgives some (connects them with Him) as per their prewritten fate. Always imbued in the love for Waheguru's Naam, such devotees get connected with Waheguru, and the Naam keeps them connected with Him. 8.
Waheguru has created love for Maya, selfishness, and ego among living beings, who enjoy their (false) sweetness. However, the Sikhs of the Guru remain absorbed in a high spiritual state through their honest attachment to (meditation on) Waheguru's Naam. One does not realize that, without the Guru, Waheguru Himself connects the devotees with Him; He watches (and enjoys) His own performances. 9.
Some people always stay alert (against the attacks of Maya) by pondering on Guru's Shabad, while some unfortunate are unaware of the worth of Waheguru's Naam, and sleep away their life in the attachment of Maya. But it is Waheguru which does everything, and makes others do whatever He wishes. Nobody else has the ability to do anything on his own. 10.
The devotee, who kills the fear of death, his selfishness, and ego, with Guru's Shabad, keeps Waheguru's Naam at heart. By serving the Guru, and with Waheguru's Naam, he gets absorbed in Waheguru, and enjoys bliss. 11.

Word Meaning: Doojay Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Dayvaani = crazy. Smaani = trapped in. Bhaykh = religious garbs. 12.

Raah(i) Chulaayay = puts on the path (make perform deeds). Mehrvaan(u) = kind to do favours. Sookh-Daata = provider of comforts. 13. Bhoogta = receiver; one who enjoys. Sunjum(u) = self-controller. Joogta = mixed with (present in) everything. Madhusoodun(u) = destroyer of demons (lust, ego etc.). Maytiya = erase; undo. 14.

Jaata = recognized; made connection. Ikuthaiy = at one place. Goopt(u) = hidden. Pergut(u) = visible. 15. Puchhaata = recognized. Vudaayi = respect. 16.

MEANING: Crazy in love with Maya, people go around doing their business. Trapped in Maya's attachments, they suffer greatly. One cannot realize Waheguru simply with religious garb, and cannot enjoy the comforts (peace of mind) without the Guru. 12.

But whom can we blame when Waheguru is making people do the types of deeds they perform? He puts people on the path He chooses for them (based on their previous deeds). Even though the source of all comforts, Waheguru, is very kind, yet He makes people do the type of deeds that He decides for them. 13. Waheguru Himself is the creator and (being present in the living beings), Himself enjoys His endowments. He, Himself, is connected with everybody, and Himself lives within means. He is perfectly pure, compassionate, and the destroyer of the demons (evil), and nobody can undo His Huqam. 14. Those who recognize only (believe in) the “One” are lucky. The soul of the world, and the provider, Waheguru, is present in every heart. The man learns in the shelter of the Guru that Waheguru is present as hidden at one place, and as visible at another. With this understanding, the devotee becomes free from any doubts and fears (that people are different, so he treats them the same way). 15.

With Waheguru’s Naam at heart, the Sikhs of the Guru acknowledge only the “One” and make a connection with Waheguru through the Guru’s Shabad. However, only that devotee acquires Waheguru’s Naam at heart, whom He grants with His kindness, and one earns respect with His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.4.

Word Meaning: Salaaheen = I sing praise. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheeraiy = never-changing. Cheeraiy = in His Huqam. Bhogvaiy = enjoys. Sookh-Nivaasi = stays in comforts (in blissfulness). 1. Naayee = greatness; majesty. Vussiya = comes to stay. Ghut = heart. 2. Sayveen = serve. Ootum = superior. Kumul(u) Pergaasi = blooming of lotus-like heart. 3. Kaachi = perishable. Kaagud Mikdaara = paper-like. Boond = drop of rain (water). Binsaiy = is destroyed. Dheht = collapsing. Na Baara = in no time. Kunchun Kaaya = gold-like pure body. Nivaasi = residing. 4. Sacha = love for Waheguru (His Naam). Chaunka = outdoor kitchen. Soort(i) = focused mind. Kaara = boundary lines drawn around the kitchen. Bhojun(u) = meals. Adhaara = support. Triput(i) = contented. Puvittar = Paavun = holy. Jit(u) = which. 5. Bulihaari = sacrifice. Laagay = attached to. Jaagay = awake; alert. Rusna = tongue. Raasi = sweetened with (the Naam). 6.

MEANING: I sing praise of the unfathomable Waheguru, which never changes, no matter what the conditions are. The whole world is under His Command. Sitting in every heart, he enjoys His gifts day and night, and is always blissful. 1. The Lord is eternal, and so is His majesty; one can embed the Great Waheguru in his heart with the grace of the Guru. Waheguru, Himself, comes to reside in a devotee's heart with His own kindness whereby the noose of the Angel of death is severed (the devotee merges with Waheguru). 2.
Whom should I serve, and whose praise should I sing? (A)I should serve Satguru and sing Waheguru's praise with His Shabad. One's thinking becomes superior (highly pure) with Satguru's eternal Shabad, and his heart blooms like a lotus flower. 3.
The human body is perishable like paper, which gets destroyed by raindrops and dissolves quickly. But the body of the devotee, who has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart with Guru's Advice, becomes pure like gold. 4. (For the sake of purity, the Brahmans cook their own food by building a temporary outdoor kitchen during their travels, and draw contour lines to mark the boundary. Disapproving of such meaningless practices, Guru Sahib says: a true devotee builds the kitchen with Waheguru's Naam at his heart and focuses his mind on the Naam, which serves as the contour lines; he cooks the meal of Waheguru's Naam, and takes shelter of Waheguru. The devotee, who has Waheguru dwelling in his heart, is always contented and is pure and pious. 5.

I am a sacrifice for all those who are attached to Waheguru, sing His praise, and stay awake (alert) day and night against the attacks of Maya. With their tongue sweetened with Waheguru's Naam, they always enjoy the eternal bliss in their mind. 6.

Word Meaning: Chaytaan = I remember (recite). Poojaan = worship. Sayveen = serve. 7. Bherm(i) Bherm(i) = wandering through. Joani = in life forms. Bhoola = misled. Cheenaiy = recognizes; makes a connection. Abinaashi = immortal. 8.
Kaam(i) = lust. Apraadhi = guilty. Kiyya Mooh(u) = with what face? Saadhi = performed. Paathur = (heavy like) stones (with sins). Abinaashi = immortal. 9.
Kernaiy Joga = able to perform. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. Nivaai = stays. 10.
Apaara = the limitless God. Sayti = with. Vunuj(u) Vupaara = dealings. Jummiya = sprouted. Toat(i) = shortage. 11.
MEANING: I remember Waheguru (recite His Naam) only, and worship no one else. I serve only the "One" and nobody else. The Perfect Guru has shown me that Waheguru is present everywhere, and I have enshrined His Naam in my heart. 7.
The man wanders through many life forms again and again, but it is not known if he is misled on his own or by the Lord. With Waheguru's grace, the devotee realizes the worth of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and recognizes (gets connected with) the immortal Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. 8.
We are full of lust and rage and are guilty of such evil thoughts. With what face can I pray to the Guru, since I have no noble qualities and have not rendered any service to Him? Loaded with sins, we are heavy like a stone, and are drowning in the world-sea. We pray to You that You be kind to us and connect us to You through the Guru's eternal Shabad. 9.
Nobody has ever done (achieved) anything on their own, nor are they able to do anything. Only that happens which Waheguru does Himself, or makes others do the same. Only that individual enjoys blissfulness whom He grants His Naam to enshrine in his heart. 10.
Treat your body like a field, and sow the seed of Guru's Shabad in there, and deal only in Waheguru's Naam. When you do that, Waheguru's Naam will sprout in your heart to stay there forever, and you will never feel a shortage of this wealth, oh my friends. 11.

Word Meaning: Uvguniaaray = having bad qualities. Put(i) = dignity. Ikkut(u) = of the "One". Sumjh = understanding; enlightenment. Koyee = some rare. 13. Unul = fire (of desires). Vaaou = air; storm of vices. Bherm(i) = in illusions. Bhoolaayi = misled. Soodh(i) = awareness of spirituality. Kaayi = any. Soojhaiy = think of. Pergaasi = enlightened. 14. Sootay = in deep slumber. Unt(i) = at the end. Ghur(u) = house; heart. Vigootay = suffer humiliation. Chinta = worries. 15.

Kaar Kuraayi = makes do things. Boojhaayi = understanding. 16.

MEANING: I have all bad qualities; kindly inject noble qualities in my mind, oh dear Waheguru. Forgive me for my bad qualities, and implant Your Naam in my heart. The Sikh of the Guru earns respect when he enshrines the Naam only of Waheguru in his mind in the shelter of the Guru. 12.

The man has the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, but does not realize it; some rare individual realizes this fact with Guru's grace. One acquires this wealth in the shelter of the Guru when Waheguru's Naam is embedded (enshrined) in his heart forever. 13.

With attachment to Maya, the man has no awareness of spirituality; overpowered by the fire of desires and storms of vices, he is misled by his misbeliefs and illusions. The (spiritually) blind follower of his mind cannot think of spirituality, whereas the mind of the Sikh is enlightened with the Advice of the Guru and with Waheguru's Naam. 14.

Because of their love for Maya and their ego, the followers of their mind stay asleep (unaware of the loss of their spirituality). They do not keep their own house (heart) in order, and suffer humiliation at the end. They maliciously criticize others, and burn (suffer) in worries. Their whole life is spent in suffering. 15.

(But they cannot be blamed entirely) because it is Waheguru, which makes the followers of their mind perform such ignoble deeds, and gives the understanding to the devotees of the Guru. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam have pure hearts, and Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in their hearts forever, oh Nanak. 16.5.

Word Meaning: Sudaa Thir(u) = Saacha = eternal; immortal (Waheguru). Laaga = attached. Kaacha = weak-minded. Puteejaiy = is pleased. 1. Jaata = recognized. Bheejaiy = imbues. 2. Lehr(i) = wave; impulse. Nivaari = removes; crushes. Sehjay = in peaceful state. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. Rusna = tongue. Ruveejaiy = recites. 3. Vihaani = is spent. Iyaani = ignorant. Ghurree Mooht(u) = every moment of life. Nihaalay = watches. Arjaa = lifespan. Chheejaiy = becomes weaker; is shortened. 4. Lobh = greed. Sir Oopur = above the head. Aiythaiy = here (in this world). Kmaana = deeds done. Uggaiy = in the next world. 5.
Soyay = praise. Doohaan Siryaan = of both ends (the two worlds). Bheejaiy = is pleased. 6.

MEANING: I serve (worship) only the eternal Waheguru. The whole world is attached to Maya, which makes it weak-minded. I always sing praise of the eternal Waheguru with Guru's Advice, and my mind enjoys bliss by reciting his Naam. 1.
You have too many noble qualities, but (because of my ignorance) I do not recognize even a single one of them, oh my Waheguru. It is the great kindness of Waheguru, who is the provider for and the soul of the world, that He makes His devotees get attached to His Naam. With the Advice of the Guru, a devotee's mind gets imbued with Waheguru's love, and the Lord honours His devotees by granting them His Naam. 2.
Such a devotee crushes the impulse of Maya with the Guru's Shabad, and his mind gets purified when he gets rid of his haumein. Imbued in His love, the devotee sings Waheguru's praise by reciting His Naam with his tongue in the high spiritual state. 3.
But the follower of his mind goes around in ignorance and does not understand the worth of Waheguru's Naam. His whole life is spent claiming everything to be his while his lifespan goes on decreasing with every passing day and night; at the same time, the Angel of Death watches every moment of his life. 4. With greed inside him, the man does not understand the worth of Waheguru's Naam, and does not realize that the Angel of death is watching him over his head. He has to face the consequences in the next world for the deeds he performed in this world. So, what can he do about them at the time of his death? 5.
Those who are attached to Waheguru's Naam enjoy a noble reputation, but the follower of his mind has to cry (suffer consequences) for his attachment to Maya. Waheguru is the Lord at both ends (He controls one's deeds in this world, which are based on his previous deeds, and gives His judgment for his deeds in the next world); He is pleased with his role for both the worlds. 6.

Word Meaning: Sohaiy = earns praise. Rusaayin = the source of all sweetness. Mohaiy = captivates. Moh = attachment. Putung(u) = a very small amount. 7.
Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Pergut(u) = appears. Naayay = with the Naam. 8.
Kilbikh = sins. Nivaarunhaara = destroyer. Sayviya = served; worshipped. 9. Shaant(i) = peace; calmness. 10. Indraasun(i) = on Indra's seat. Chhoadaiy = spares. 11.
MEANING: With the Guru's Shabad in his mind, a devotee always earns respect. His mind is captivated by Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all sweet tastes. He gets absolutely no filth from the attractions of Maya, and with Guru's Advice, his mind gets imbued in his love for Waheguru's Naam. 7. Waheguru alone operates hidden in everybody, but appears in the devotee's mind with the Guru's Advice. Such a devotee drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam and enjoys eternal bliss by destroying (controlling) his selfishness and ego. 8.
By pondering on Guru's Shabad, the devotee serves Waheguru, who is the destroyer of all sins and all suffering. With the Advice of the Guru, the devotee realizes that it is Waheguru which operates everywhere, and his body and his mind get imbued in Waheguru's love. 9.
The world suffers in the fire of desires for Maya, but the Guru's Sikh extinguishes such fire by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. He recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Advice, and attains peace of mind and everlasting bliss. 10.
Even the gods like Indra, sitting on their thrones, do not find them safe and are afraid of the Angel of death, which does not spare them even if they perform many religious rituals. One can get salvaged only if he takes Guru's shelter (surrenders his mind and body to His service) where he drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with his tongue. 11.

Word Meaning: Bhugut(i) = worship. Puvittar = Paavun = holy; pious. Bani = Guru's Shabads. 12. Bishan(u) = Vishnu. Mahesh(u) = Shiva. Traiygoon = the three effects of Maya. Budhuk = trapped in. Niraari = away from. Ruveejaiy = recite. 13.

Bayd = the Vedas. Boojheh(i) = recognize. Loojhaiy = fight; get irritated. Dootur(u) = difficult to swim across (the world sea). Treejaiy = swims. 14.
Vukhaaneh(i) = describe; explain. Bheejaiy = imbues. Drirraaya = reinforce. 15.
Sacho, Sach(u) = only the immortal (Waheguru). 16.
MEANING: The follower of his mind cannot worship Waheguru (because Maya and Waheguru's worship cannot coexist), but the devotee of the Guru acquires peace and comfort with Waheguru's worship. Guru's Shabad is always holy and pious, and the devotee's mind gets imbued in Guru's and in Waheguru's love. 12.
If you consider the popular gods, Brahman, Vishnu, and Shiva, even they were trapped in the three effects of Maya, and emancipation was far away from them. With the Divine Knowledge of the Guru, a devotee recognizes only the "One" (Waheguru), and recites His Naam day and night. 13. The pundit studies the Vedas, but does not understand the worth of Waheguru's Naam. He reads them to the people just to earn money and gets irritated (if he does not get enough). The ignorant and spiritually blind have the filth of Maya on their mind, so how can they swim across the world-sea, which is so tough to swim across? 14.
One may read and explain the Vedas to others, but neither his mind gets imbued in Waheguru's love, nor does he recognize the worth of the Guru's Shabad. The Vedas simply discuss the importance of noble deeds and the bad consequences of sins, but (disregarding all that) the Guru's Sikh drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam. 15.
Waheguru is the only Eternal Being in the universe; there is none other like Him. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam become like Him. So, one should recite only His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.6.

Word Meaning: Tukhut = throne. Ruchaaya = created. Nij Ghur(i) = in own heart. Vussiya = made dwelling. Tithaiy = there. Kerni = performance. Saari = supreme. 1.
Sauda = merchandize. Vapaara = dealings. Pasaara = expanse; system. Khuttiyaan = earning. Toat(i) = shortage. Veechaari = thoughtful 2. Laayay = attached. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead (in fortune). Vud Bhaagay = highly fortunate. Veechaari = thinkers. 3. Paurri = ladder. 4. Bhaaya = liked; approved. Tikha = thirst (of desires). Nivaari = removed. 5. Cheena = recognized. Kmaavaiy = works towards. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru has established His eternal throne (the whole universe), where He resides above the effects of Maya and is detached from worldly bonds. A devotee, who performs supreme noble deeds under the guidance of the Guru, gets Waheguru (His Naam) enshrined in His heart forever. 1.
Dealing in Waheguru's Naam is the true (everlasting) merchandise, and the true business. There is no room for any illusions about Maya and for any expanse of (wish for) Maya in such a devotee's heart. One never experiences any shortage in Waheguru's Naam-wealth when he earns it. But some rare individuals think about (realize) this fact. 2.
Only those devotees who are prompted by Waheguru become attached to Waheguru's Naam. Such devotees are highly fortunate who have Waheguru's Naam at heart. Imbued in Waheguru's Naam, they ponder on Guru's Shabad, and sing Waheguru's praise all the time.3.
I sing praise only of the immortal Waheguru, and "see" only the "One" and no one else. The jewel-like (precious) Divine Knowledge (of the Guru) is a ladder to reach the inaccessible Waheguru (become "one" with Him) as one can kill his haumein with Guru's Shabad, and become pure like Waheguru, to be one with Him. 4.
One burns his attachment for Maya with Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru takes dwelling in his (the devotee's) mind when He likes it. All the performances of such a pure devotee are also pure, as he destroys his haumein and his thirst for Maya, with Guru's Shabad .5.
Some rare devotee, in the shelter of the Guru, realizes that Waheguru Himself has created attachment for Maya among the living beings. A Sikh of the Guru deals in Waheguru's Naam, which is the supreme dealing of all. 6.

Saachay = truthful; pure, holy. Nudri = the kind (Waheguru). Suvaari = adorned (with noble qualities); made successful. 8. Subaaya = all; everywhere. Jaapaiy = realize; feel. Bhaari = huge. 9. MEANING: Only the performance of those deeds is worthwhile which are liked (approved) by my Waheguru - that too only when one kills away his haumein (selfishness and ego) with Guru's Shabad. With Guru's Advice in his mind all the time, such a devotee enjoys the calmness (bliss) of mind. 7. Those who are attached to Waheguru (recite His Naam with love) accept everything that happens to them. With Waheguru's Naam, and with Guru's eternal Shabad, they get respect everywhere. Those who are pure in this world are also pious in Waheguru's Court, as they are adorned (approved) with His kind sight. 8.
Those who are attached to Maya stay devoid of Waheguru's Naam and suffer badly for their love for Maya. Without the Guru's guidance, they suffer in life and find no comfort, as Maya inflicts immense suffering. 9. Those who like the Guru's eternal Shabad do so because of their prewritten fortune. They serve Waheguru, recite His Naam, and, imbued in His love, they ponder on Him (with Guru's Shabad). 10.
Those who find it sweet to serve the Guru, stay in the comforting (blissful) meditation of Waheguru's Naam all the time. One's mind is purified by reciting Waheguru's Naam, and they love to serve the Guru. 11.

Dayh(i) = grant. Bhundaari = treasures. 15.
Chulaayay = runs (the world). Bhaana = Will. Baiyraagi = detached. Suvaari = adorned.16.

MEANING: Those devotees who are attached to Waheguru's Naam by Satguru are blissful. Waheguru connects devotees to Him by His own Will. Those devotees, who are protected by Satguru, are salvaged; the others who are attached to Maya suffer humiliation. 12
With Guru's Shabad in mind, His Sikh recognizes (gets connected with) Waheguru only, which has no mother and no family, and which is present in everybody, and is the basis of all living beings. 13. With his attachment to Maya, the man suffers from haumein and possessiveness. But the man is also, to a great degree, helpless because he cannot do anything against what has been preordained in his fate from the very beginning by Waheguru.

With the guidance of the Guru, a devotee performs noble deeds and gets rid of all his discomforts with Waheguru's Naam. 14.
The devotee, whom Waheguru gives (implants in the heart) His Naam, enjoys blissfulness, and deals in Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad. Waheguru's treasures of His worship are always full, so with Waheguru's Naam at heart, the body and the mind of the devotee are purified with His worship at any time. 15. Waheguru runs the world with His Huqam and looks after it. He makes the world obey His Will. Those devotees, who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, are fully detached from the world, and with Waheguru's Naam on their tongue, their mind and body are adorned with noble qualities, oh Nanak. 16.7.

Word Meaning: Oopunna = came into being. Perchhunna = hidden. Saar Kuray = looks after. Puchhaata = recognized (full worth). 1. Sir(i) Sir(i) = respectively. Dhundhaiy = tasks rooted in Maya. Maylay = connects. 2 AavaGaun(u) = birth-death cycle. Chitaiy = thinks of; dream about. Bikaara = lustful acts. 3. Thir(u) = eternal. Mool(i) = root; origin (Waheguru). Daali = branches; Maya. Amrit Baata = Guru's life-sustaining Words. 4. Toleh(i) Toal = evaluates and delivers full justice. 5. Bhaana = like. Kaariy Laayay = put to work. Uvgun = ignoble qualities. Smaayay = absorb; embrace. 6.

MENING: Waheguru became visible (in His nature) when He illuminated Himself. He operates hidden in everybody. Waheguru, which alone knows His worth, looks after everybody. 1. Waheguru, which created Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, puts everyone into the business of Maya. Waheguru connects those with Him whom He likes, and who recognize only Him (make a connection with Him), with the Guru's guidance. 2.

People dream about many immoral acts, as a result of which they keep taking births and dying. But those who recognize the worth of the eternal Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad, always sing His praise. 3.

Some people are attached to Waheguru (recite His Naam with love) and enjoy bliss, while those who are attached to Maya waste away their precious human life. But only those are rewarded with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit who recite Guru's Amrit-like sweet Shabad. 4.

What can I, who has no quality, say about Waheguru? But the kind Waheguru looks after everybody, evaluates their deeds carefully, and delivers full justice. We have to live by His decision, but the Sikh of the Guru has full faith in Waheguru's judgment. 5.

Waheguru causes the devotees of His choice to perform noble deeds when they kick out their bad qualities and embrace noble ones. With Guru's Shabad and noble qualities, such devotees become connected to the pious Waheguru. 6.

Word Meaning: Jeh = where. Doomut(i) = evil thinking. Aikus(u) = in the "One" (His creation). Rung(i) = in love. Raata = imbued; lost; happy. 7. Koomlaana = wilt; wither; feel dejected. Kaar Kuray = performs deeds. Subaayay = all. Dur(i) = (at Lord's) Door. 11.

MEANING: I see only Waheguru wherever I look. I have gotten rid of my evil thinking with Guru's Shabad. It seems that Waheguru is fully mixed into (uniformly present in) His creation. He seems fully happy with Himself (carefree). 7.

The lotus-like human body has to wither (die) eventually, but the ignorant follower of his mind does not realize it, and does not understand the worth of the Guru's Shabad. But with His Shabad, a Guru's Sikh searches Waheguru in his body, and realizes the Lord, and the soul of the world, Waheguru, in there. 8. A devotee, who has enshrined Waheguru's Naam in his heart, is freed from the grasp of many sins committed by his body. Like the never-fading fast colour of madder, the devotee who is imbued with the never-decreasing love for Waheguru is rewarded with the fulfilment of all his wishes. 9.

A money-worshipper may discuss the virtues of Waheguru, but is unable to acquire Him in his mind. He takes birth again and again, but finds no shelter (in Waheguru's Court). But, a Sikh of the Guru sings praise of Waheguru's Divine Knowledge all the time, and believes that Waheguru is the Lord in each eon. 10.
The follower of his mind performs deeds which all become a source of trouble for him. How can he reach Waheguru's Court when he does not have Guru's Shabad at heart? A Guru's Sikh has Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, and he always serves (obeys the Will of) Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts. 11.

Sehj(i) = in blissful state; without any special effort. 14. Nugur = city (human body). Dhuhhaiy = collapses. Dhayri = pile. Phayri = return to the world; rebirth. 15.
Nudr(i) = kind sight. Nirunkaari = devotee of the formless Waheguru. 16.
MEANING: The perfect Guru has given me the understanding (wisdom) because of which I find You present everywhere, wherever I look, oh Waheguru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam all the time, my mind is imbued with His Naam now. 12. The body (and mind) of the devotee, who is imbued with Waheguru's Naam, becomes pure and pious. Without Waheguru's Naam, the man gets drowned in the world-sea, which has (fire of desires) rather than water. Some make a connection with Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, while those who do not realize (make a connection) with Waheguru's Naam keep taking births and dying. 13. The Perfect Guru imparts the understanding (wisdom) that no one can find salvation without Waheguru's Naam. One earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam, and, imbued with love for Waheguru's Naam, he remains in a high spiritual state. 14.
The body-city of the man eventually collapses to become a pile of dirt, and without Guru's Shabad, his birth-death cycle does not end. But those who realize Waheguru in Guru's shelter, sing Waheguru's praise, and merge into Him. 15.
But only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam on whom He casts His kind sight when Guru's eternal Shabad gets enshrined in his mind. Those who get imbued in Waheguru's Naam become like Him, and are recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court as such (like Waheguru), oh Nanak. 16.8.

Word Meaning: Kerna = has to do. Sherna = shelter; dependent upon. Goopt(u) = hidden. Vertaiy = operates. Puchhaata = recognize; make connection. 1. Bhugut(i) = of worship. Veechaara = pondering on. Kurseh(i) = does. 2. Amolo = invaluable. Nudree = who casts kind sight. Tolay Tolo = examines. 3. Dhoor(i) = from the source (beginning). Chookaiy = ends. Phayri = return to the world (rebirths). Soag(u) = sadness; grief. Bhaara = huge. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru does everything Himself that He has to do. All the living beings are dependent upon Him. He operates hidden in everybody, but is recognized (can be connected) with Guru's Shabad. 1.

Waheguru's treasures are full of His worship, but He grants the ability to ponder on Guru's Shabad only to those whom He likes (to have access to His treasures). When a devotee's mind is imbued with His love, he realizes that Waheguru does only that which He likes. 2.

Waheguru is priceless, like some diamonds and jewels. He evaluates the deeds of everybody with His kind sight. All the living beings are dependent upon Him; He recognizes (evaluates) their needs with His kind sight. 3. The birth-death cycle of the individual on whom Waheguru has kind sight from the very beginning is terminated, and he does not take birth or die again. Such a fortunate individual sings Waheguru's praise day and night and realizes that Waheguru alone is the Supreme Being in every era. 4.
Waheguru has created an attachment for Maya among all living beings in the world. Even Brahma, Vishnu, and other popular gods were strongly influenced by Maya. But those whom You like get attached to You and connected with You through the Guru's Advice, oh Waheguru. 5. The world performs sinful or noble deeds (without making any connection with Waheguru), as a result, they experience happiness or huge suffering in grief. But a Sikh of the Guru connects with Waheguru's Naam and enjoys bliss. 6.

MEANING: Nobody can undo the results of the deeds he had performed previously. But one can reach the door of emancipation through the Guru's Shabad, as a preordained result of his noble deeds, and he connects with Waheguru by killing his selfishness and ego. 7.
One cannot feel attachment with Waheguru while he is deeply attached to Maya. Huge suffering lies ahead in the next world for the individual who is engrossed in Maya at present. The follower of his mind is misled by his false belief that he can please Waheguru by wearing religious garbs, but he has to repent at the time of his death. 8.
With Waheguru's Will, a devotee sings Waheguru's praise when all his sins and all his suffering are eradicated. He realizes that Waheguru is perfectly pure (pious), and so is Guru's Bani, and his mind gets imbued with his love for Waheguru. 9.
The individual on whom Waheguru casts His kind gaze controls his selfishness, ego, and possessiveness and connects with Him. But some rare devotee realizes in the shelter of the Guru, that Waheguru is the Lord of both - the noble and the ignoble qualities (It is Waheguru's choice as to who gets which qualities). 10. My limitless Waheguru is extremely pure, and connects the devotees with Him with His own Will when they ponder (act) on the Guru's Shabad. He kindly grants (implants) His Naam in the devotee's heart, and reinforces it in him as a result, the body and the mind of the devotee get imbued in His love. 11.

Nanak, Naam(u) milaiy vudiyaayi, joog(i), joog(i) Aiko jaata hey. 16.9.

Word Meaning: Maiyla = impure; filthy. Jot(i) Apaara = Light (Soul) of Waheguru. Boojheh(i) = unserstands; unravels. Rusna = tongue. Sayv(i) = serve; recite Naam. 12. Gurrh = fort. Kaaya = body. Hutt = shops. Sohaiy = looks honourable (is honoured). 13. Amoluk = priceless. Vaychaara = poor in noble qualities. 14. Simrit(i) Shastar = the Hindu religious books. Bisthaara = expanse. Pusriya Pasaara = spread; expanse. 15. Kuray = does. Kuraayay = makes others do. Drirraayay = reinforces. Vudiyaayi = respect; praise. 16.

MEANING: An individual, who ponders on Guru's Advice, realizes that Waheguru's Jot(i) (Soul) is present even in the hearts of the people who have filthy bodies and minds. By reciting the Naam of the Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, with his tongue, such a devotee kills his haumein and gets his mind purified forever. 12.

The fort-like human body has many shops and bazars (trading centres) to trade for the Naam of the limitless Waheguru. A devotee, who uses Guru's Shabad (acts on it) to trade his bad qualities (haumein) for Waheguru's Naam, gets rid of his haumein, and gets connected with Waheguru, and is honoured in His Court. 13.

The inaccessible, limitless Waheguru is like a priceless jewel. How can a poor (devoid of noble qualities) man know the worth (transcendence) of Waheguru? However, he can evaluate the worth of Waheguru's Naam through the Guru's Shabad when he connects with Waheguru. 14. The Hindu holy books, the Srimad Bhagavatam and the Shastras, discuss the effects of Maya extensively and explain that attachment to Maya is widespread (but offer no solution for connecting with Waheguru). The foolish man reads them, but does not understand the worth of Guru's Shabad; some rare devotee realizes the worth of Guru's Shabad in His shelter. 15.

But the Creator, Waheguru, controls everything, implants Guru's eternal Shabad in the minds of some, and reinforces it (while others remain attached to Maya). Waheguru is recognized as the Supreme Being in every eon, and one earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 16.9.

Word Meaning: Sayvihou = serve (obey His Huqam). Nivaarunhaara = eradicator. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Athaaha = unfathomable. 1. Sach(u) = blissfulness. Vertaayay = is a source of blissfulness. Kmaaveh(i) = deal in. Smaaha = absorbed; attain the state of. 2. Dhoor(i) = with the prewritten fortune. Laaha = benefit; reward. 3. Vunuj(u) = business. Suvaaray = adorns (with noble qualities). Saajay = creates. Paajay = puts into. Undh(u) = dark (immoral) deeds Jayvrra = chain; noose. 6.

MEANING: The Creator (Waheguru) is the only eternal being; so serve only Him, oh my friends. He eradicates all your troubles with Guru's Shabad. But nobody can tell the worth of the inaccessible, and the incomprehensible Waheguru; only the unfathomable God knows His worth. 1. Waheguru is always blissful and is the source of bliss. He connects some with Him, who serve the eternal Waheguru (recite His Naam) and attain the state of blissfulness with His Naam. 2.

He connects His devotees, who have it prewritten in their fortune with Him on His own, and makes them recite His eternal Naam. The real benefit (wealth) of human life is to sing Waheguru's praise with the Guru's eternal Shabad. 3.

Guru's Sikhs recognize (analyze) themselves (to determine their good and bad qualities) with His guidance and deal in Waheguru's Naam. They do not acknowledge anybody other than Waheguru. The Lord is perfectly pure, and Guru's Sikhs become like the Lord by dealing in Waheguru's Naam, which is their true wealth. 4.

Waheguru Himself creates the world, and enlightens some rare devotees with Guru's Shabad that those who serve Satguru (sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad) become like Waheguru, and the noose of the Angel of death for them is severed. 5.
Waheguru destroys, creates, and beautifies the world. He puts some in the business rooted in the attractions of Maya. The money-lovers go around performing dark (immoral) deeds, and the Angel of death tightens His noose around their neck. 6.

Word Meanings: Bukhshay = forgives; endows; with kindness. Vusaayay = enshrines. Laaha = benefit; wealth. 7. Naayi = greatness; praise. Soheh(i) = are adorned; honoured; approved. Kaaha (kerza) = loss; debt (negative account of bad deeds). 8. Goon-Daata = the source of virtues. Laykha = account of deeds. Mungay = demands. Taaha = his. 9. Roodar = Shiva. Alukh = invisible; incomprehensible. Abhayva = whose secrets cannot ne known. Lukhaaha = shows; reveals. 10.
Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Jupeen = recite. Gaaha = sing. 11.
MEANING: With His kindness, Waheguru makes some lucky people serve Him (recite His Naam with full faith) with the guidance of the Guru, and implants His Naam in their mind. They recite eternal Waheguru's Naam all the time. The recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the greatest wealth in the world. 7. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His praise (Naam), which He endows to His devotees in the shelter of (through) the Guru when the Naam is enshrined in their minds. The debt of all sins of the devotees with Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their minds is completely paid off, and they are approved in Waheguru's Court. 8. Nobody can know the worth (greatness) of the inaccessible, and incomprehensible Waheguru; only His Naam can be enshrined in the mind with Guru's grace. Nobody can ask the account of the deeds of the devotee who always sings praise of the source of all virtues, Waheguru, with the Guru's Shabad. 9.
Even the gods like Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva serve the invisible Waheguru, whose secrets cannot be known, yet they do not know the end of His limits. However, the Guru reveals the incomprehensible Waheguru to the devotee whom Waheguru favours. 10.
The devotee, whose mind is enlightened by Satguru, embeds only Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and reaches the Residence of Waheguru (gets connected with Him) by reciting His Naam and singing His praise. 11.

Word Meaning: Sayvuk = devotee. Saara = worth. Vaypervaaha = carefree. 12. Dhaavut = rushing (mind). Raakhaiy = control. Ikutt(u) Ghur(i) = in the same house (heart). Aanaiy = brings. Baiyraagi = detached from the world. Taaha = theirs. 13. Pergut(u) = appears. Nij = own. Vaasa = dwelling. 14. Dhiyaaha = recites. 15. Bhaavaan = be liked. Baynunti = request. Dayvhou = grant (Naam). 16.
MEANING: A devotee serves Him when he obeys the Huqam of the limitless Waheguru. But, the follower of his mind does not know the worth of Waheguru's Huqam, and does not realize that it is because of obeying Waheguru's Huqam that one is respected in society, earns praise, and becomes carefree like Waheguru. 12.
A devotee, who recognizes Waheguru's Huqam with the grace of the Guru, is able to control his ever-rushing mind so that it stays in itself; imbued in his love for the Naam, he is always detached from the world, and the jewel-like precious Naam is embedded in his mind. 13.
Waheguru alone operates hidden in the whole world, but appears in the devotee's mind with Guru's grace. A devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, gets his mind purified, which stays in its own home (quits taking flights). 14.
The devotees of the inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru always stay in His shelter, yet do not know His full worth. They recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and are always content in the conditions in which He keeps them. 15.
I pray to Waheguru that He grants me His eternal Naam so that I always sing His praise, and that He likes me, and I always stay absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.1.10.

Word Meaning: Sayvun(i) = those who serve. Liv = deep meditation. Ruvviya = present. Omaaha = gusto; zest. 1. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Sookh – Daata = Waheguru. 2. Mumta = worldly attachments. Ikk Rungee = in the love of the “One”. Kaaha = disagreement; quarrel. 3. Ghor Undhaara = deep darkness. Paara = the other end. Muhaa Baiyraagi = completely detached. Laaha = benefit; wealth. 4. Dhoor(i) = from the beginning. Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Vertaaya = created; instilled. Alipto = detached. Vaysaaha = relying on. 5. Bhaiy = fear. Saar = worth. Saaha = breath. 6.

MEANING: Those who serve Satguru are fortunate. They stay in deep meditation on Waheguru’s Naam all the time. They always feel the presence of the source of all comforts, Waheguru, in their mind, and are always zestful with Satguru’s Shabad in God’s s praise. 1.
When Waheguru is kind to a devotee, He connects him with the Guru, which implants Waheguru’s Naam in his heart. When the source of all comforts, Waheguru, takes dwelling in the devotee’s heart, he feels highly zestful with Guru’s Shabad. 2.
When Waheguru is kind to a devotee, He connects him with Him through the Guru (with His benevolence), and the devotee burns away his selfishness, ego, and worldly attachments with the Guru’s Shabad. With love for Waheguru in mind, he always stays detached from the attractions of Maya and has no quarrel with anyone. 3.
It is complete darkness without Satguru. No one can swim to the far side of the world-sea without Guru’s Shabad. Those who are imbued in the Guru’s Shabad stay completely detached from the world. Getting connected with Waheguru with Guru’s Shabad is the real benefit (wealth) for the devotee. 4. Comforts and discomforts are prewritten by Waheguru in the fate of the individuals, and He, Himself, has created love for Maya in the minds of the living beings. The Sikhs of the Guru spend their lives detached from Maya, but the followers of their mind cannot be relied upon (they have fickle minds). 5.
The followers of their mind do not connect with the Guru’s Shabad and do not know the value of fear (respect) for Waheguru. No one can acquire the fearless Waheguru without the fear of the Guru in their mind, and the Angel of death kills them. 6.

Sirkaara = reign. Vichaara = helpless. Bunda = servant. Kmaavaiy = obeys. 8.

Akaara = creation; world. Pusriya = spread out. Pasaara = expanse. Taaha = him. 9

Jaata = recognized (got connected with). Kerm(i) Bidhaata = the carver of our fates. Smaaha = absorbed in. 10.

Salaahay = sings praise. Oodhaaray = salvages. Visaaha = bought; acquired. 11.

MEANING: The unstoppable Angel of death cannot be killed (defeated), but He does not go even near the devotee who recites Guru's Shabad. He runs away even from a distance when he hears Guru's Shabad afraid of being killed by the carefree Waheguru. 7.

It is the reign of Waheguru in the universe, so, what can the poor (helpless) Angel of death do? He is a slave of Waheguru, and simply obeys His Huqam. It is with Waheguru's Huqam that the Angel stops the breathing of an individual. 8.

A devotee realizes in the shelter of the Guru that it is Waheguru who has created the world, and the whole expanse of the universe. It is in the shelter of the Guru that a devotee realizes that His Shabad in praise of Waheguru, is the source of all comforts. 9.

A devotee makes connection with Waheguru which is the carver of our fates, in the shelter of the Guru only, and no matter what the eon is, one realizes Him only with Guru's Shabad. A devotee (Sikh) of the Guru gets absorbed in Guru's Shabad (and merges into Waheguru); so, he does not die, and does not take birth again. 10.

Waheguru is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and carefree; a Sikh of the Guru recites His Naam with Guru's Shabad. One finds salvation with Waheguru's Naam only in any of the four eons, and Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only with Guru's Shabad. 11.

Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in the mind of the Sikh of the Guru, and he stays absorbed in it as a result of which, he does not take rebirths and does not take any life form. Such Sikhs stay imbued in Waheguru's Naam all the time, and earn huge spiritual benefit (wealth). 13. Adorned with Guru's eternal Bani and His Shabad, Guru's Sikhs are honoured in Waheguru's Court. They sing Waheguru's praise day and night, and merge into Him in the high spiritual state. 14. The Perfect Satguru advises His Sikhs through His Shabad to worship Waheguru continuously with full focus of mind. As Waheguru is the Emperor (source) of all noble qualities, the devotee, who sings His praise, also gets his mind purified. 15. Some rare individual, as a Sikh of the Guru, realizes that Waheguru is the only source of noble qualities. Such a devotee always recites Waheguru's Naam as a result of which his heart blooms, and the Naam leads to his union with the carefree Waheguru, oh Nanak. 16.2.11.

MEANING: My Waheguru has created the drama of the world in such a way that nobody resembles completely with someone else (even the identical twins have different irises-amazing!!). Waheguru's mind blooms (He enjoys) watching the differences He has created. He has given the senses the ability to enjoy different tastes in the body. 1.
One breathes because He created the mechanism for breathing. He has also created senses (attractions) for Maya in the human body. However, one's thinking is reversed by Guru's grace, and he acquires the jewel-like, precious Divine Knowledge with Guru's Shabad. 2.
The darkness of ignorance and the enlightenment of spirituality, too, have been created by Waheguru, and one realizes that it is Waheguru alone who operates in the world, and there is none other like Him. When one recognizes the self (that he is a part of Waheguru) in the shelter of the Guru, he acquires the wisdom by which his mind blooms like a lotus flower. 3.
Only Waheguru knows His high transcendence; others just describe Him by listening to others. A spiritually wise devotee learns in the Guru's shelter that one should sing praise of the eternal Waheguru. 4.

Vukhaanaiy = recites. Chookaaha = is removed; ends. 8. Guvaayay = loses; gets rid of. Sookh-Daata = source of all comforts (Waheguru). Soha = is adorned; earns respect. 9. Sayvuk = servant; devotee. Bukhshay = endows. Permul Vaas = fragrance of sandalwood. 11.
MEANING: One takes in the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, but no one can enjoy its blissfulness without tasting it. By taking in the Amrit of the Naam, one attains the spiritual state of immortality and keeps enjoying the blissfulness of the Guru's Shabad. 7.
The devotee, who analyzes his inner self, acquires all the virtues, and recites Waheguru's

Naam with the Guru's Shabad. Imbued in Waheguru's Naam day and night, such a devotee severs all his bonds with Maya. 8.
Such a devotee acquires everything with his service to the Guru, and gets rid of his selfishness, ego, and possessive nature. When Waheguru becomes kind to Him, he adorns the devotee with Guru's Shabad (to be approved by Him). 9.
Guru's Bani, His Shabad, is the real Amrit (immortalizes the devotee) who recites Waheguru's Naam day and night with the Shabad. The heart of such a devotee becomes perfectly pure for Waheguru to take dwelling in there. 10. Imbued always in Waheguru's love, the devotee serves Waheguru by singing His praise with Guru's Shabad. Waheguru Himself endows the devotee with the Guru's Shabad and connects him with Him, and the devotee feels as if his mind has been fragranced with sandalwood. 11.

Word Meaning: Akuth(u) = indescribable. Kuthay = discuss. Salaahay = sings praise. 12. Tthaur = shelter. Kerm Kmaayay = performs those deeds. Bikhiya = poisonous sensual pleasures. Khojaiy = looks for. 13. Maahay = inside. Alukh(u) = invisible; incomprehensible. Athaaha = unfathomable. 14. Daatay= source of benevolence. Lukh Koati = millions. Vussiya = takes dwelling. 15. Dhoor(i) = from the beginning; with Waheguru's Will. Sohaayay = adorned (to be acceptable). Gooni = the source of all virtues (Waheguru). Smaaha = absorbed. 16.
MEANING: Praise of my eternal, indescribable, and carefree Waheguru can be sung only with the Guru's Shabad. The source of all noble qualities, Waheguru, connects His devotees with Him, who enjoy the blissfulness of the Shabad. 12.
The follower of his mind is misled by the attractions of Maya and finds no shelter (peace of mind) anywhere. He performs only those deeds that have been preordained by Waheguru in his fate. Intoxicated with the poisonous sensual pleasures, he keeps looking for them, and as a result, he suffers in rebirths and deaths. 13.
Waheguru Himself implants Guru's Shabad (in His own praise) in the minds of His devotees, so that He sings His own praise. Waheguru Himself is the source of all virtues. The incomprehensible and the unfathomable Waheguru is eternal, and so is Guru's Shabad. 14.
But nobody can acquire the noble qualities of Waheguru without the benevolence of the Guru, even if they perform millions of prevalent rituals. It is with Guru's Shabad that a devotee sings Waheguru's praise, which takes dwelling in the devotee's heart with the benevolence of the Guru. 15. Only those devotees get connected with Waheguru, whom He connects with His own Will, and who are adorned with Guru's eternal Shabad. Such devotees sing Waheguru's praise all the time and get absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 16.4.13.

MEANING: A devotee gets the enlightenment from the Perfect Guru that Waheguru alone is non-perishable and everlasting. Patience is the armour of such a devotee, and imbued in the blissfulness of Waheguru's Naam, he always recites His Naam. 1.

With love for Waheguru in mind, his mind is always pure (has noble qualities), and he recites the Naam of the dear Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all the nine treasures, takes dwelling in the devotee's heart who rises above all the (false) benefits of Maya. 2.

The kings and their subjects both suffer from ignoble thinking and indecisiveness (duality of mind). They cannot have the firmness of their mind without serving the Guru. They always enjoy blissfulness when they serve the "One" whose reign is everlasting. 3.
No one can save them from rebirths; only Waheguru controls births and deaths. One should recite Waheguru's Naam all the time in the shelter of the Guru because one acquires emancipation and a high spiritual state from Waheguru. 4.
Permanent control over the senses can be acquired only at the Guru's Door, where one kills (gets rid of) his selfishness, ego, and rage with the Guru's Shabad. One acquires ongoing bliss, patience, and contentment by serving the Guru. 5.
Haumein and worldly attachments take root and flourish in the world, which is destroyed by them when people forget Waheguru's Naam. But without serving the Guru, one cannot enshrine the Naam, which is the real wealth of human life. 6.

MEANING: One understands Waheguru's Huqam through the Guru's Shabad, finds it comforting, and feels as if the five kinds of musical instruments are playing in his mind. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, such a devotee finds every task in life to be comfortable. Without the Guru's Shabad, no task provides any spiritual comfort to the individual. 7.
(Without Guru's Shabad), The human mind does not find peace, and the man feels happy at one moment, and sad in the next; and because of his love for Maya, his evil-thinking mind is not contented with any type of job (and he cannot achieve union with Waheguru). Union and separation (with Waheguru or with worldly things) are prewritten by Waheguru in one's fate based on his previous deeds. No one has the ability to change their fate, no matter how hard they try. 8. One becomes emancipated while still living in the world by following the Guru's Shabad as he stays absorbed in Waheguru's love. With Guru's grace, he does not suffer from the ailment of selfishness and ego and earns respect. 9.

Without the Guru's Shabad, one indulges in enjoying the different tastes of life and enlarges one's belly. He does wear religious garbs, but does not live by the Guru's Shabad (His Advice). He stays absorbed in the filth of sensual pleasures and suffers heavily from this serious disease. 10. He reads the Vedas, but only to take part in spiritually useless discussions, and does not recite the Guru's Shabad to recognize the Supreme Being, which is present in his heart. The Sikh of the Guru, ponders on His Shabad to acquire Waheguru's Naam and enjoys the sweet taste of Guru's Shabad by reciting it with his tongue. 11.

Davunhaara = the Provider (God). Chaara = ability to resist or take away. Shabad = Huqam. Athaaha = unfathomable; incomprehensible. 15.
Jeeou = soul. Pind(u) = body. Kayra = of. Tthaakur = Lord. Smaaha = absorbed. 16.

MEANING: The ignorant, and the spiritually blind follower of his mind, does not recognize the blissfulness of the presence of the real invaluable thing (Waheguru's Naam) in his heart, and rushes to the forests in His search. Imbued in the tastes of other things in life, he talks about spiritually tasteless things, and enjoys absolutely no sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam. 12. The Maya-worshipper's mind is guided by his misbeliefs and his illusions. He dies a spiritual death and suffers humiliation all the time. Because of his lust and his rage, his mind is attached to Maya, and he gets no comfort (peace of mind) even in his dreams. 13. But a devotee, whose life is guided by Guru's Shabad, becomes pure at heart like gold, and enjoys blissfulness with love for Waheguru's Naam all the time. He finds Waheguru present in his heart, and stays absorbed in Him by understanding His Will. 14.
However, the benevolent Waheguru bestows His Naam only to those whom He likes, and nobody has the ability to force Him to change His decision. He connects His favourite devotees with Him with Guru's Shabad, and His Huqam is incomprehensible. 15.
My Waheguru is eternal, and our bodies and souls are given by Him. One acquires Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and gets absorbed in Him by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.5.14.

MEANING: The Sikh of the Guru acquires Divine Knowledge with the focus of his mind on the Guru's Shabad, and unlike the yogis or some other faiths, he does not need to play on any musical instrument, or to ponder on the Vedas (they are subsumed in the Guru's Shabad). A Sikh of the Guru performs only those deeds that are liked (approved) by Waheguru, and he becomes connected with the Perfect Waheguru. 1.

A Sikh of the Guru reverses the thinking of his mind from Maya towards Waheguru, and plays the music of the Guru's Shabad. Imbued in Waheguru's love, the Guru's Sikh is fully detached from the world, and makes his mind a dwelling for Waheguru's Naam (his mind stays focused on Waheguru's Naam). 2. The Guru's Teachings are life-sustaining and are in praise of Waheguru. The Guru has uttered His holy Shabad in Waheguru's praise with deep love. With Guru's Shabad, my mind is imbued with the love for Waheguru, and one can merge into Waheguru with Guru's eternal Shabad. 3.

The Sikh of the Guru purifies his mind by taking a dip in the holy pool of Guru's Amrit-like Shabad; his mind does not catch any filth again, and he gets absorbed in Waheguru. He reinforces Waheguru's eternal worship in his mind, and always deals in His Naam. 4. The conversations of a Sikh of the Guru are about Waheguru, and he sees Him everywhere with his eyes. The daily dealings of the Sikh of the Guru are also rooted in Waheguru's praise. He always keeps Waheguru in mind day and night and makes others recite His Naam. 5.

The Sikh of the Guru recites the supreme and eternal Shabad of the Guru and shares only Waheguru's Naam with others. The Sikh serves Waheguru alone and sings Waheguru's praise by reciting the Guru's Shabad for others. 6.

MEANING: A Sikh gets enlightenment by the Teachings of the Guru, and he overcomes his selfishness, ego, and illusions of Maya. Guru's Teachings are like a ladder which leads the Sikh to have union with the high (transcendent) Waheguru. The Sikh always sings Waheguru's praise with his mind focussed at Waheguru's Door (Naam). 7.
The Sikh has an exemplary high level of morality in his daily performance, in which he keeps control of his sensual pleasures, recites Waheguru's Naam, and attains emancipation. Imbued in the love of Waheguru's worship, he kills his selfishness and ego, and gets absorbed in Waheguru. 8. Waheguru takes dwelling in a devotee's heart when He likes, and the devotee stays always imbued in His love with the Will of Waheguru. Waheguru implants His Naam in the devotee's heart with His own Will. 10. An individual who unwillingly performs rituals out of persistence suffers from a weakened spirituality. His mind does not get imbued in Waheguru's love, even by wearing religious symbols. On the contrary, intoxicated with poisonous sensual pleasures, he slips into troubles and stays in bigger and bigger troubles. 11.

With Guru's Shabad, the Sikh recognizes life and death as Waheguru's Will. So, when such a Sikh of the Guru dies, he is approved by Waheguru and is honoured in His Court. The mind of the Sikh does not wander around, and stays in itself, and he does not suffer from rebirths. 13. Those who are highly fortunate get connected with the Guru (take His shelter); they overcome their haumein and the worldly attachments. Their purified mind does not get filthy with evil thoughts again, and they are honoured in Waheguru's Court. 14.
Waheguru does everything Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes. He creates the world, looks after it, and destroys it with His Will. Waheguru likes the service of a devotee to the Guru, and rewards the devotee when He listens to him reciting His Naam. 15.
The Sikh of the Guru deals only in Waheguru's Naam, and he does not catch the filth of immoral activities. Imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he always ponders on His Naam, and stays absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.1.15.

Word Meaning: Srisht(i) = world. Saaji = created. Nivaaji = adorned; made beautiful. Niyaayoun = justice. Saachay = purified. Saach(i) = with the Naam. 1. Kaaya Koat(u) = fort-like body. Akaara = world. Pusriya = spread out. Pasaara = expanse. Bhusmaiy = of dust. Dhayri = pile. Khayhoo = dust. 2. Kunchun = gold (pure). Apaara = the limitless (God). Ruvviya = is present. Preetum = Dear (Waheguru). 3.
Mundar(u) = palace. Suvaaray = adorns. Mooraaray = the destroyer of demons (God. Vunjun(i) = do business. Vapaari = businessmen. Nudree = with kind sight. 4.
Soocha = pure. J(i) = Jo = which. Nivaaray = gets rid of. Kerta = creator (Waheguru). 5. Niraali = detached from Maaya; severer of worldly bonds. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru created the world with His Huqam (laws), and beautified it with its nature. The eternal Waheguru delivers perfect justice and connects the purified devotees with Him with His Naam. 1. The affairs of the whole world are run by the expanse of Maya, and the fort-like human body is attracted to its illusions. Without the Guru's Shabad, the human body is nothing more than a pile of dust, and will mix with dust at the end. 2.
But the body that has the Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) enlightening it is pure like gold. The Sikh of the Guru always sings the virtues of Waheguru, and enjoys the bliss of union with Him. 3. The body, which Waheguru chooses for His dwelling, is adorned by Him, and the destroyer of the demons, Waheguru, takes His dwelling in there. The devotee-traders deal in His Naam when He connects them with Him with His kind sight. 4.
The devotee, who realizes the worth of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and adorns his soul with noble qualities, gets rid of his rage, and becomes pure in mind. But it is Waheguru, who does everything, and makes His devotees (exhorts them to) recite His Naam, and Himself takes dwelling in their hearts. 5.
Waheguru's worship is mind-purifying and severs devotees' bonds with Maya as he washes the filth of evil thoughts from his mind and body by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. With His benevolence, Waheguru makes His devotee worship Him (sing His praise) because of which, the devotee stays imbued in His love day and night. 6.

Word Meaning: Munooaa = mind. Dhaavaiy = rushes. Pullar(i) = (trade noble qualities) for chaff (worthless qualities). Tiyaag(i) = abandoning; giving up. Bhaytay = meeting with.

Tthaur = shelter; peacefulness. Khayl(u) = drama. 7. Uprumpur = endless. Veechaari = contemplator. Kerni = Kaar = performance of deeds. Saari = supreme. Bukhsh(i) = by bestowing. 8. Poora = Perfect. Muhha Bul = immensely powerful. Soora = valiant. 9. Virla = rare. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Rusna = tongue. 10. Disuntar(u) = many foreign places. Bhaalay = searches for. Baandha = tied up. Jum Kaalay = Angel of death. Phaansi = noose. Bhermaayaynda = taken through. 11.

MEANING: In the palace-like human body, the human mind rushes in every direction, and suffers heavily when the individual trades his noble qualities for the worthless (harmful) vices. He cannot find peace anywhere without Satguru's shelter. But it is Waheguru again who creates such dramas in life. 7. The limitless Waheguru Himself ponders, makes decisions, and connects the individuals with Him who have supreme performance of noble deeds. The individuals are incapable of performing any noble deeds or of connecting with Waheguru; it is Waheguru who connects them to Him through His benevolence. 8.
Waheguru Himself connects His devotee with the Perfect Satguru who becomes an immensely powerful valiant (to fight against the evil demons). Waheguru connects the devotee, whose mind gets attached to Him, with Him, and accords him honour. 9.
However, some rare individuals realize in the shelter of the Guru that Waheguru is present in their own hearts. When the devotee recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue, the treasure of the Naam, Waheguru, takes residence in his heart. 10.
The Maya-engrossed man wanders around in foreign lands in search of Waheguru, but does not search for Him in his own heart. With deep attachment to Maya, he is caught in the net of the Angel of Death. Because of his love for Maya, the Angel's noose is never cut off, and he is taken through many different life forms. 11.

Ikk(u) = some. Gerb(i) = conceit. Viyaapay = happens; influences. Aapay = themselves. Khubur(i) = news; information. Unt(u) = at the end. 15.
Bidh(i) = the means. Daas(u) = slave. Baynunti = request. Chit(u) = mind. 16.

MEANING: So long as one does not work (perform deeds) according to the Guru's Shabad (His Teachings), no recitation of mantras, self-torturing and efforts to control one's senses work to have union with Waheguru. One achieves union with Waheguru only with the Guru's Shabad and gets absorbed in Him. 12.
The world is overpowered by powerful lust and rage; one keeps suffering from them, no matter how many religious rituals one performs. One enjoys blissfulness by serving the Guru when he gets connected with Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. 13.
All bodies are made up from the natural elements of air, water, and fire, but everybody is still attached to Maya. But one's love for Maya is eradicated when he connects with Waheguru, who created the man and the Maya. 14.

Many are overpowered by their love for Maya and by their conceit, so much so that only selfishness and ego operate in their bodies and minds. They are totally unaware of the Angel of Death and repent as they leave the world. 15.
Only the Creator knows the ways to avoid recurring death, and the Sikh of the Guru makes a connection with Waheguru with His Shabad. Nanak makes this humble submission that such a devotee gets attached to Waheguru's Naam. 16.2.16.

MEANING: With Guru's Shabad, one can connect with Waheguru, which is the source of mercy (compassion), which has been here from the very beginning and before the eons, and which is the provider for the whole world. Those who serve Waheguru become like Him, and Waheguru Himself connects them with Him. 1
All the living beings are dependent upon Waheguru for their survival, but nobody knows the worth (greatness) of the inaccessible and incomprehensible God. Waheguru runs their life the way He wants, and puts them on the path of righteousness. 2.
Waheguru, which is here now and will be here in the future, creates the universe all by Himself, and there is none other like Him. The source of all comforts, Waheguru, looks after everyone and provides them with food and other necessities. 3.
Nobody knows the limits of the inaccessible, incomprehensible, and the limitless Waheguru. Only He knows His greatness and reveals Himself with the Guru's Shabad. 4.
His powerful Huqam operates in all the underworlds, in centres of populations, and in all parts of the universe. He creates and destroys things with His Huqam, and connects His devotees with Him with His Huqam. 5.
The individual, who understands His Huqam, praises it (accepts it gladly). One acquires the kind of wisdom (thinking) that the inaccessible, incomprehensible, and the carefree Waheguru injects in him, and enlightens him with Guru's Shabad. 6.

Kutthoar = hard like stone. Abhaaga = unfortunate. Kerm(u) = good fortune; Waheguru's benevolence. Sehjay = without any special effort. 10. Lulh Chauraasih = 8.4 million (life forms). Maanus = human. Junum = life. Bishta = filth of sensual enjoyments. 11
MEANING: Night and day are the witnesses (are proof) that one's life span goes on decreasing all the time. The blind and the foolish follower-of-his-mind does not remember this fact (does not realize) that frightening death looms over his head (and still does not remember Waheguru). 7. The mind and the body of the individual, who comes to the shelter of the Guru, become peaceful as all his misconceptions and his fears are eradicated (by the Guru). Singing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Bani (Shabad), he is always blissful. 8.
The highly fortunate devotee, who makes a connection with the carver of our fates, Waheguru, with Guru's Shabad, gets rid of his haumein, and Waheguru, which becomes the caste and the clan for the devotee, absorbs him (makes him a part of His). 9.

The individual, who is attached to Maya, becomes stone-hearted (loses compassion for others), and the unfortunate is misled by his misgivings. However, he connects with the Guru when Waheguru becomes benevolent toward him, and he enjoys bliss. 10.
Waheguru has created 8.4 million different life forms (a Hindu belief), but it is in the human form that He is worshiped (only humans can worship Waheguru). Without Waheguru's worship, the man keeps enjoying the filth of sensual pleasures, and takes rebirths to enjoy the same filth. 11.

Dhundhaiy Laayay = dealings in Maya. Thaap(i) = by creating. Oothaapay = destroys. 14. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheera = never changing. Dheera = becomes peaceful (contented). 15. Niraalum = detached. Loyee = world. Ghut Untar(i) = in the heart. 16.
MEANING: If one is fortunate, the Guru reinforces Waheguru's worship in his mind; no one gets motivation to worship Waheguru without good fortune. Waheguru does everything Himself, and makes others do whatever He wishes – He runs the affairs of the world, the way He wishes. 12. The Simritis and the Shastras do not know the limits of Waheguru; the foolish and the (spiritually) blind man reads them, but does not recognize the real root (origin) of the universe (Waheguru). But it is Waheguru who makes people do whatever He wishes, and He Himself misleads them through misconceptions. 13.
Waheguru makes individuals do whatever He wishes, and puts them in Maya-related affairs. He creates, demolishes, and looks after the world, and reveals Himself to the devotee in the shelter of the Guru. 14.
The eternal Waheguru is unfathomable and is never-changing; the man becomes peaceful (contented) when He sings Waheguru's praise all the time. Nobody knows the real worth (magnanimity) of the inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru, but He takes dwelling in the mind of the devotee who is in the shelter of the Guru. 15.
A rare individual in Satguru's shelter understands that Waheguru is fully detached from the world, but He still involves people in Maya-related affairs. With Guru's Wisdom (Advice), Waheguru takes residence in the heart of the Guru's devotee, and connects him with Him, oh Nanak. 16.3.17.

Nobody else has the ability to know Your secrets, so what can they say or explain? Only You know Your greatness. 1. Waheguru has created the drama of the whole world, which is His greatness. The eternal Waheguru has created all the different varieties of living beings and other things, and creates and destroys them. 2. The devotee, who obeys the Guru's Shabad, realizes that the creation of the world is like an acrobatic show of an acrobat. Such a devotee attaches his mind to Waheguru and stays detached from the world. 3.

MEANING: The whole world suffers without Waheguru's Naam. People perform many, many rituals in the belief that their sins will be washed away, so they feel safe to commit more evil acts. How can they enjoy comforts (peace of mind) without Waheguru's Naam? Actually, they suffer more troubles without the Naam. 7.
Some rare individual is enlightened by Guru's grace that Waheguru does everything, and makes people do things of His choice. The Sikh of the Guru breaks all the worldly bonds and attains the spiritual state of emancipation. 8.
The individual who calculates wealth burns in the fire of worry. His doubts and worries about his immoral acts never go away. The Sikh of the Guru gets rid of his doubts and worries with Waheguru's Naam, and gets absorbed into Him. 9.
One acquires Waheguru's Naam only if He grants it to him (implants in the devotee's heart) and Waheguru appears in his mind with Guru's grace. With the grace of the Guru, and imbued in Waheguru's love, the Sikh sings Guru's praise, and enjoys blissfulness. 10.
Waheguru's Naam subsumes the recitation of all mantras, self-torturing, and efforts to control one's senses (the devotee does not need them), as all the sins of the devotee are eradicated by Waheguru. The devotee's mind acquires peace of body and mind with Waheguru's Naam, and he easily gets absorbed in the high spiritual state. 11.

The dishonest man deals in dishonest things and suffers badly by telling lies. 12. Some rare individuals embed Guru's pure Bani in their hearts and, with Guru's grace, dispel their doubts and worries. He obeys Waheguru's Will in his life day and night, and enjoys bliss by remembering (reciting) Waheguru's Naam. 13.
Waheguru is the creator of the universe, and He Himself creates and destroys things. The Guru's Sikh always sings Waheguru's praise (in happiness and in sadness), and enjoy bliss by connecting with Him. 14.
A man may try countless different approaches, but he cannot control his senses, and everybody burns in the fire of lust and rage. But he can control his mind (and his senses) by serving Satguru, kill his desires, and attain complete peace. 15.
Waheguru Himself has created the feeling of discrimination about others in the minds of all His living beings. One should always remember Waheguru's Naam, which gets enshrined in his mind with the Advice of the Guru, oh Nanak. 16.4.18.

Word Meaning: Til(u) Na Tmaayay = Has no desire – not even the size of a sesame seed. Vaypervaaha = carefree; indifferent. Uppurr(i) = reach. 1. Nihchou = for sure. 2. Chaudaah Bhuvun = 14 skies and the underworlds (A Muslim belief). Hutnaalay = bazars (for dealings in Waheguru's Naam). Untar(i) = inside. Naalay = with. Vapaari = dealer. Ko = some rare. 3. Sehj Anunda = blissfulness of the high spiritual state. Voottha = takes dwelling. Govinda = Waheguru. Sehjay = in peaceful state. 4.
Vichhurray = disconnected. Maariyeh(i) = punished. Subaaya = all. Muthay = forehead; face. Kaalay = disgraced. 5. Vudbhaagi = fortunate. Sehj Bhaayay = unfaltering love. Liv Laagi = deep focus. Kmaaveh(i) = deals in. 6.

MEANING: The provider Waheguru is inaccessible and unfathomable. He is so indifferent that He has no worldly desire at all – not even the size of a sesame seed. Nobody has access to Him on their own; He connects devotees through His own Will with the Guru. 1.
Whatever Waheguru plans to do, happens for sure. There is no other provider like Him. Only that individual acquires His Naam whom He endows to, and He connects the devotee with Him with the Guru's Shabad. 2. Satguru explains that the fourteen layers of the universe are the trading centres for Waheguru's Naam, which is always with us. A dealer in the Naam acquires it with Guru's Shabad. 3.
When a devotee serves Satguru, Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart, and he enjoys blissfulness in the high spiritual state. Waheguru Himself makes him worship Him (recite His Naam), and the devotee worships Him day and night. 4.
Those who are disconnected from Satguru (do not follow His Advice) suffer heavily as they are punished (for their misdeeds). With disgraced faces, they cannot access Waheguru's Residence (cannot unite with Him), and continue to suffer all the time. 5.
Those who serve Satguru are highly fortunate, and their minds stay focused on Waheguru's Naam with unfaltering love for Him. Such devotees always deal in Waheguru's Naam because of which Waheguru connects them with Him. 6.

Word Meaning: Bherm(u) = misgivings; illusions. Chookaayay = gets rid of. Sachaiy = Waheguru's Naam. 7. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding; enlightens. Bukhshay = endows; bestows. 8. Guvaaya = wasted. Aagaiy = in Waheguru's Court. Chookaiy = is not eradicated; does not leave behind. Til = sesame seeds. Ghaani = batch; a lot. Peerraayaynda = to crush. 9. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Jumkaal(u) = the Messenger of death 10. Tayray Huth(i) = in Your control. Vudiyaayi = honour. 11.

MEANING: But only that lucky devotee acquires His Naam in mind whom Waheguru grants Himself. With Waheguru's Naam in his mind, the devotee gets rid of all his misgivings. Waheguru Himself is the provider of His Naam, and only that devotee gets it implanted in his mind, whom Waheguru gives Himself. 7. Waheguru is the creator of everybody, but the mind of only that devotee is enlightened who Waheguru is kind to. Waheguru honours some individuals by bestowing His Naam on them and connects them with Him. 8.

The man wastes away his precious human life in his selfishness and ego. His bonds with Maya are not broken in this world, and he takes his attachment with Maya to the next world, where the Angel of death demands the account of his deeds, and punishes him severely as if he is being crushed like the sesame seeds in the crushing mill. 9.

With Waheguru's benevolence, a rare and highly fortunate devotee gets to serve the Guru. The Angel of Death does not even go near him, and he enjoys blissfulness in Waheguru's Residence (he merges into Waheguru). 10.

But only those devotees enjoy such bliss who Waheguru likes, and who He puts in the service of the Guru. Only Waheguru has the power to honour a devotee with His Naam, which he receives (acquires). 11.

Word Meaning: Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Pudaaruth = invaluable article. Chaanun = light. 12. Doojaiy Laagaiy = get attached to Maya. Abhaagay = unfortunate. Chulldiyaan = at the time of death. Ghur Dur = Waheguru's Residence. Jum = Angel of death. Baandha = tied up. 13. Mumta = worldly attachments. Liv = deep focus of mind. Vunjeh(i) = deal in. Vapaari = dealers. Laaha = benefit. 15.

Mookta = emancipated. Naamo Naam = only Naam. Dhiyaayaynda = worships. 16. 5.19.

MEANING: When a devotee's mind is enlightened by the Guru, he embeds the invaluable Naam of Waheguru in his mind. With the jewel-like precious Naam, his mind is enlightened, and the darkness of ignorance is expelled from his mind. 12.

The spiritually ignorant and blind man gets attached to Maya, and the unfortunate drowns in the world-sea, which has no liquid water. Attached to Maya, he cannot see (think of) Waheguru's Residence and His Door on his journey of life; so, tied up in the court of the Angel of death, he suffers badly after death. 13. You can check with any spiritually knowledgeable person or a holy man who meditates on Waheguru's Naam to find out that no one can achieve emancipation without serving Satguru. A devotee who serves Satguru earns respect everywhere and earns praise in Waheguru's Court. 14.

Satguru severs the bonds of His devotee with Maya, and instills love for Waheguru in his mind. Waheguru Himself connects such a devotee with Him. Such a devotee always deals in Waheguru's Naam and benefits spiritually from it (acquires Naam-wealth). 15.
But it is the Creator, Waheguru, who does everything and makes others do whatever He wishes. Only that devotee is emancipated who kills his worldly desires with the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in his heart, and he recites only, and only Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 16.5.19.

Word Meaning: Toodh(u) = You (Waheguru). Bhaanay = His Will (Huqam). Virla = rare. 1. Bhaavaiy = likes. Sehjay = easily; routinely. Lochiaye = longs for. Buhoutayri = much; many. 2. Kisay = some rare person. 3. Pudaaruth = the invaluable article. Srisht(i) = world. 4. Chuturaayi = over cleverness; slyness. Ghur Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence; connection with Him. 5.
Dhoor(i) = from the Source (Waheguru). Foormaayi = ordered; predetermined. 6.
MEANING: Some rare devotee realizes Waheguru's Will (Huqam) that He has created whatever He had to create. Whoever obeys (gladly accepts) Waheguru's Will (Huqam) acquires blissfulness. 1. Guru's Sikhs accept Waheguru's Huqam and routinely perform deeds of high morality, and enjoy blissfulness. Many people long to obey His Huqam, but only those who obey it whom He makes to do (whom He is kind to). 2.
Those who gladly accept Your Will are connected to You and merge with You, oh Waheguru. One earns great respect by accepting Waheguru's Will, but Waheguru makes some rare (deserving) devotees accept His Huqam. 3. When Waheguru likes some devotee, He connects him with Satguru in whose shelter (with whose grace) the devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam in his mind. Waheguru has created the whole world with His own Will (Huqam); the devotee whom Waheguru enables to obey His Will, loves His Will too. 4.
The Maya-lovers are spiritually blind, try to be over-clever, and do not accept Waheguru's Will, because of which they suffer badly. Misguided by the illusions of Maya, they keep taking births and dying and never get connected with Waheguru. 5.
Waheguru honours only those devotees of Him by connecting them with Satguru for whom the connection with Satguru is prewritten in their fate, also by Him. The devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam only if he serves Satguru (obeys His Huqam), and enjoys blissfulness by reciting the Naam. 6.

Word Meaning: Naavoun = with the Huqam. Oopjaiy = came into being. Chheejaiy = weaken; die. Rus(i) = sweetness of Naam; blissfulness. Bheejaiy = get imbued. 7.
Mehlaiy Undar(i) = in the body. Mehl(u) = Waheguru. Chit(u) = mind. 8.
Kmaaya = acquired. Kooshti = leprosy. Nerkay = in hell. Vaasa = dwelling. 9.

MEANING: Everybody comes to this world with Waheguru's Huqam, and dies with His Huqam as well. One's mind and body get imbued with love for Waheguru with the grace of the Guru. When one's tongue recites Waheguru's Naam, it gets imbued with its sweetness, and he enjoys blissfulness with the sweetness of the Naam. 7.

A rare person attaches His mind with Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, making his body a dwelling for Him (Waheguru). But only that devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam in his mind, whom Waheguru endows, whereupon the devotee gets connected with Him. 8.
The man suffers from forgetting Waheguru, and invites the disease of love for Maya (disease, because it causes his spiritual death). Without Waheguru's Naam, man's mind and body are sick as if suffering from the incurable disease of leprosy, and as if living in hell. 9.
With love for Waheguru in His mind, the soul (mind) of the devotee is always blissful, and being imbued in Waheguru's Naam, his body is pure like gold. With the praise of Naam in his mind, the devotee enjoys blissfulness all the time and stays connected with Waheguru, which (union with God) becomes his eternal home. 10.
Everybody does some kind of business in life, but without Waheguru's Naam, the whole world suffers from spiritual loss. The man comes to this world empty-handed and leaves empty-handed, and suffers more without Waheguru's Naam. 11.

Appara = (of) the limitless God. Beh(i) = by sitting. Niyaaoun = justice. Niihchul = everlasting. 14. Bunkay = beautiful. Thaan(u) = place. Soohaaya = attractive. It(u) = in this. Nibhaiy = lasts till the end. 15. Bunut Bunaayi = created a system. Subh Vuth = everything. Vunheh(i) = deal in. Gurmukh(i) = Guru's Sikh. 16.
MEANING: Only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam whom Waheguru Himself endows with, and the devotee enshrines it in his heart with Guru's Shabad. With Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart with Guru's grace, the devotee recites only His Naam. 12.
All those who come to this world long for Waheguru's Naam, but only those acquire it who have earned and deserved it from the very beginning because of their previous noble deeds. They are highly fortunate who acquire Waheguru's Naam, for they are connected with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad. 13. The fort-like human body is a place for Waheguru to reside, where He sits down to make His decisions. Dealing in Waheguru's Naam is the true business for which He delivers His perfect justice, that the dealer in His Naam becomes an eternal resident in Waheguru's home (he becomes a part of Waheguru). 14.
The place where Waheguru's praise is sung (the gathering of holy saints) becomes very beautiful (source of blissfulness) and highly attractive. But some rare individual, as a Sikh of the Guru, comes to such a beautiful place and sings Waheguru's praise, which lasts with him till the end. The devotee enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart by singing Waheguru's praise. 15. My Creator (Waheguru) has created a system in which He has placed the highly valuable thing (His Naam) in every human heart. But there are very few who, imbued in His love, deal in Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 16.6.20.

Word Meaning: Kunchun = (pure like) gold. Tithaiy = there. Paaravaara = ends. Sachi Bani = Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's praise). 1. Chaytay = remember. Bulihaaray = sacrifice. Dhoor(i) = dust of feet. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Satsungut(i) = gathering of holy saints. 2. Soohaavaan = look pleasant (pure). Chuhoun Koondi = in all the four directions. 3. Saacha = true (successful) devotee. Untar(u) = inside. Bhaalay = searches for. Nihaalay = sees. Unjun(u) = kohl (as medication). Nudree = the kind Waheguru. 4. Maanus Junum(i) = in human form. Chit(u) = mind. Kiseh(i) = some rare. 5. Ikk(u) = some. Kit(u) = for what purpose? Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Vayla = time; opportunity. Pug(i) Khisiyain = slipping of feet; at the time of death. 6.

MEANING: The human body, which ponders on Guru's Shabad, becomes pure like gold, and the limitless Waheguru takes dwelling in there. The man should serve Waheguru (sing His praise) all the time with Guru's Shabad; Waheguru connects the devotees with Him with Guru's Shabad. 1. I am a sacrifice for those who remember Waheguru (recite His Naam). I will connect with them through Guru's Shabad. I will put the dust of their feet on my forehead (show reverence for them) and sing Waheguru's praise in their holy company. 2. But I can sing Waheguru's praise only if He likes me. I will look elegant (pious) with Waheguru's Naam in my mind. Guru's Shabad can be listened to in all four directions (Waheguru's praise/Naam is sung everywhere), and one merges into Him with His Naam. 3. That individual is the true devotee who searches for Waheguru inside him. Waheguru casts a kind sight on such a devotee who recites the Guru's Shabad. The devotee puts the kohl (medication) of Divine Knowledge in the eyes of his mind with the Guru's Shabad when the kind Waheguru connects him with Him with His kind sight. 4.
One acquires a human body with great fortune because it is only in the human form that a man can attach his mind to the Guru's Shabad. It is complete darkness of ignorance without Guru's Shabad; It is some rare individual whose mind is enlightened with Guru's Shabad by Waheguru's benevolence. 5.
The Maya-worshippers love the short-lived attractions of Maya. What purpose do such people achieve when they waste away their precious human life by ignoring Waheguru? They cannot recall this opportunity (human life) again, and repent when death approaches them. 6.

Vuth(u) = (the valuable) article (Waheguru's Naam). Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. Nirmul(u) = pure. 10. Kaaya = body. 11.
MEANING: The human body becomes pure (pious) with the Guru's Shabad, and the source of all virtues, and the unfathomable Waheguru takes dwelling in that. Such a devotee sees only Waheguru everywhere and enshrines His Naam by listening to it. 7.
With Guru's Shabad in mind, he gets rid of his different plans to boost his ego and keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time. He sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, and enjoys blissfulness by connecting with Waheguru. 8.
However, only that individual remembers Waheguru, whom He makes to do so, and Waheguru dwells in his heart through Guru's Shabad. Waheguru is present everywhere; He watches everybody, and understands their wishes (needs). 9.
Only Waheguru knows that He has placed His Naam in every heart – but the devotee recognizes that with Guru's Shabad. The devotee, who recognizes the presence of Waheguru's Naam in his heart with Guru's Shabad, is pure (pious), and he sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad for himself and for others too. 10.

The body of the devotee, who remembers the unfathomable Waheguru (recites His Naam), which is the source of all virtues, becomes pure. Imbued in His love, the devotee sings Waheguru's virtues all the time, and merges into Him. 11.

Word Meaning: Mool(u) = root. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for Maya. 12. J(i) = Jo = those. Pervaan(u) = approved. Huns(u) = soul. Jaan(u) = recognized; honoured. 13. Bin(u) Bhaagaan = without good fortune. Bil-laayay = wail. 14.
Pukkay = very strong. Hutnaalay = bazars (for demons to attack). Vust(u) = Vuth(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Smaalay = protect. Ootum = superior. Pudvee = level; state. 15. Sookh-Daata = provider (source) of comforts. 16.
MEANING: Maya is the root of the rebirths of humans (they are reborn because of their attraction for Maya), and the man is misled by its illusions. Without remembering Waheguru, the man always suffers from his attraction to Maya. 12.
The individual, who serves Waheguru, is approved (loved) by Waheguru. Because of the purity of his body and soul (mind), he is recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court. By serving Waheguru (obeying His Huqam, and singing His praise), he enshrines Him in his heart, and looks elegant (is honoured) when he sings Waheguru's virtues. 13.
One cannot serve the Guru without good fortune. The Maya-worshippers are misled and wail for their spiritual death. But Waheguru connects those with Him who have the Guru's kind sight on them. 14. Those Sikhs of the Guru, who have very strong walls of their body fort against the attacks of the demons, acquire the invaluable Naam of Waheguru in Guru's shelter, and protect it from the demons. They recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, and attain the superior spiritual state. 15.
Waheguru is the eternal source of all comforts with whom a devotee can connect with the Guru's Shabad. But some rare devotee, with great fortune, sings Waheguru's praise, and gets connected with Him, oh Nanak. 16.7.21.

Word Meaning: NItunkaar(i) = the formless (Waheguru). Aakaar(u) = universe. Oopaaya = created. Khayl = drama. Saacha = Waheguru's Naam (His virtues). 1. Maayee = mother. Traiy-Goon = with three effects of Maya. Persoot(i) Jumaaya = gave birth; produced. Foormaaya = ordered; allocated. Vurhay = years. Maah = months. Vaar = days of week. Thiti = phases of the moon. 2.
Kerni = performance. Saar = supreme. Verti = operates; supreme. 3.
Vaad = discussions. Chaytaiy = keeps in mind. Buddha = in the net of. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayaynda = misled in illusions. 4. Aikus Siyoun = with the "One". Tribidh(i) = of the three effects of Maya. Munsa = desires. Muneh(i) = within the mind. Mookta = emancipated. Chookaayaynda. = gets rid of. 5.
Dhoor(i) = predestined (by Waheguru). Raatay = imbued. Hoon(i) = now. Maatay = intoxicated. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru created the universe with His Huqam and instilled love for Maya in the minds of the living beings. He has created this drama of the world, but one can enshrine Him in his mind by listening to His great virtues (His Praise/Naam). 1.
With Waheguru's Huqam, Maya plays the role of the mother and produces living beings as its offspring (Maya's attraction for them is the root of their reincarnation), which are heavily influenced by its three effects. He created even the gods and the four Vedas, which are attributed to Brahma as their author. Waheguru created the years, subdivided them into months, weeks, and phases of the moon, and enlightened the world (through the Guru). 2.

Serving the Guru is the supreme service in life, and one should keep Waheguru in mind at all times. Guru's Shabad is supreme in the world; one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart with Guru's Shabad. 3. Some people study the Vedas all the time, but only to take part in useless discussions. They do not recite Waheguru's Naam, and are caught in the net of spiritual death. With love for Maya, they are misled by its three effects and suffer badly. 4. Guru's Sikhs focus their minds only on Waheguru and kill their desires regarding the three effects of Maya within their minds. With the eternal Shabad of the Guru in mind, they overcome their attachment to Maya and remain always emancipated. 5.
Those who are predestined to be imbued in Waheguru's love get imbued in His love now, and with Satguru's grace, feel intoxicated in the high spiritual state. They are always blissful to serve Satguru, and Waheguru Himself connects them with Him. 6.

Word Meaning: Sooha Rung = pink colour (which looks pretty but fades away quickly). Attractions of Maya are compared with the pink colour. Thorraiy = a few. Bilm = delay. 7. Bhaiy = fear (of God. Bhaayay = love. Itt(u) = this. Rung Churraayaynda = dyes. 8. Abhimaan(u) = conceit. Kub Hee Na = never. Maan(u) = respect. 9.
Lookaaya = hid. Sach = eternal. Amoluk = priceless. 10. Keemut(i) = worth. Tthaakur(i) = Lord. Bunut Bunaayee = created the system. Sodhaiy = improves; purifies. 11.
MEANING: Guru's Sikhs are not misled by the love for Maya, but those who are attached to Maya suffer badly (do not get peace of mind). Like the beauty of the pink colour, which fades away quickly, the enjoyments of Maya are also short-lived, and it does not take long before they disappear. 7. The individual, who dyes his mind with the colour of fear and love for Waheguru, merges into Him with this colour. But only a highly fortunate devotee acquires this colour with the Advice of the Guru. 8. The followers of their mind are highly conceited and never win respect in Waheguru's Court. Without the enlightenment of the mind, they waste their precious human life through attachment to Maya. They suffer heavily because of their lack of understanding (enlightenment). 9.
My Waheguru has hidden Himself in the human mind, but one connects with Him through the grace of the Guru. The dealings in the eternal Waheguru are everlasting (accompany the man even after his death) as the devotee acquires the priceless Naam of Waheguru. 10.
My Lord has created this world in such a way that no one knows the real worth of the human body (which can connect with Waheguru only in human form). The Sikh of the Guru knows this secret, and he purifies his body (and mind) as a result of which, Waheguru Himself, connects him with Him. 11.

Word Meaning: Toata = loss. Laaha = gain. Vaypervaaha = the carefree (God). Vunuj(i) = business; dealings. 12. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Bhundaara = treasures. Davunhaara = Provider. 13. Vust(u) = the (priceless) article (Waheguru's Naam). Vudiyaayi = respect. Hutt(u) = shop; trade centre. Puchhotaayaynda = repents. 14. Sehj(i) = in the blissful spiritual state. 15. Bherm(u) = illusions. 16.

MEANING: When an individual deals in Maya, he sometimes suffers losses and makes gains at other times; But the Sikh of the Guru searches for the carefree Waheguru (which never causes any loss in spirituality). He always enjoys bliss while dealing in Waheguru's Naam and easily gets absorbed in a high spiritual state. 12.

Waheguru's Residence (His existence) is eternal, and His treasures are always full. The Provider delivers everything Himself. The Sikh of the Guru always sings praise of the source of blissfulness, Waheguru, and keeps Him in mind as he realizes the worth of His largesse. 13. Waheguru's Naam is there in the human body, but the man does not realize its worth. But Waheguru honours Guru's Sikhs by bestowing His Naam to them. Waheguru, which owns the trading centre of His Naam, knows the worth of His Naam. He grants it to Guru's Sikhs (who earn it), and never has to repent. 14.

Waheguru is present in everybody, but can be realized only with the grace of the Guru. Waheguru Himself connects the Sikh with the Guru, who is easily absorbed in the high spiritual state through the Guru's Shabad. 15.

Waheguru connects His devotees with the Guru's Shabad, who get rid of their illusions (about Maya) with the Guru's Shabad. One earns respect with Waheguru's Naam, and enjoys blissfulness with the Naam too, oh Nanak. 16.8.22.

Word Meaning: Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Vaypervaahay = carefree. Mehrvaan = compassionate. Athaahay = unfathomable. Uppurr(i) = reach. 1. Toodh(u) = you. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. Ruveh(i) = remember. Rusna = tongue. Rus(u) = sweetness. 2. Mern(u) = death. Suvaareh(i) = beautifies. Oordhaaray = enshrines in the heart. Suful = successful. Bhaaou = love for. Chookaaya = finished. 3. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Raatay = imbued. Laaha = benefit; gain. 4.
Kuhaan = describe. Paara = ends. Duyya = mercy. Gooni = who has acquired virtues. 5. Pasaara = expanse. Ugiyani = ignorant. Undh(u) Undhaara = complete darkness. Dhundhaiy = Maya-related tasks. Dhaavut = rushing for. 6.

MEANING: The benevolent Waheguru is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and unfathomable. No one can reach (match) Him; He can be accessed only with the Guru's Shabad. 1.
Only those can serve You, whom You like, oh Waheguru. They merge into You with Guru's Shabad. They sing Your virtues day and night when their tongue enjoys the sweetness of Your Naam, oh Lord. 2. Those who kill their desires with Guru's Shabad, and enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart, make their death beautiful (because their souls merge into Waheguru). Those who get attached to Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) terminate their love for Maya and make their life successful. 3.
Those who kill their selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad become connected with Waheguru through His own Will. Imbued in Waheguru's worship day and night, they acquire the benefit (wealth) of their union with Waheguru in the world. 4.
I sing Your virtues, but am unable to do so completely (because there are too many of them). There is no end to them, and I do not know their true worth. It is with Waheguru's benevolence that the devotee, who sings Waheguru's virtues, gets absorbed in Him. 5.
This world is an expanse of worldly attachments. The Maya-worshipper is ignorant (about spirituality), and is in complete darkness. He wastes away his precious human life rushing to complete Maya-related tasks and suffers greatly without Waheguru's Naam. 6.

Amoluk(u) = priceless. Apaara = with no ends. Tolunhaara = one who weighs; assessor. 9. Jut(u) = celibacy. Sut(u) = high moral character. Sunjum(u) = control on senses. J(i) = if; who. Sach(u) Kmaavaiy = follows Guru's Advice. Bikh(u) = poisonous world of Maya. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. 11.

MEANING: If one is fortunate, he gets connected with Satguru and burns away the filth of his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad. His mind is purified and enlightened with the jewel-like Divine Knowledge, whereby his darkness of ignorance is dispelled. 7.
You have countless names, yet no one knows Your true worth. Nobody can tell Your worth, but individuals can embed Your Naam in their hearts through Your benevolence and get absorbed in You in a high spiritual state, oh Lord. 8.
The Naam of the inaccessible, and the limitless Waheguru, is priceless, and no one can assess its real worth. Waheguru Himself assesses His worth and enables His devotees to do the same when He connects them with Him through the Guru's Shabad. 9.
The devotee serves Waheguru and prays to Him when He connects the devotee with Him, and makes him sit with Him (honours him). The source of all comforts, Waheguru, is the provider for everybody, and people worship Him with His benevolence. 10.
A person becomes a celibate, acquires high morality, and is able to control his senses without any effort if he follows the Guru's Advice. It is the Will of my Waheguru that the mind of the devotee is purified when he sings His praise, and he acquires Waheguru's Amrit-Naam even in this poisonous world of Maya (of immorality). 11.

Word Meaning: Boojhaayay = enlightens. Boojhaiy = gets the understanding. Soojhaiy = acquires the wisdom. Tthaak Ruhaayay = keeps under control. 12.
Ghunayri = too much (many). Chookaiy Na = does not end. Phayri = return to the world; rebirth. Bikh(u) = poisonous sensual pleasures. Kmaavaiy = pursues them. Na Kubhoon = never. 13. Bhaykh = religious garbs. Bhaykhdhaari = hypocrites; impersonators. Kin = who? (nobody). Jeevut Muraiy = kills desires while living in family. Naayay = with the Naam. 14. Trishna = appetite for (fire of) desires. Tuneh(i) = body. Boojhaiy = is put out; is killed. Seetul(u) = peaceful. Nivaaray = removes; eradicates. 15.
Sachi = everlasting. Virlaiy = rare. Baynunti = humble suggestion. 16.

MEANING: Only that individual realizes the worth of Waheguru's Naam whose mind is enlightened by Waheguru, Himself. He sings of Waheguru's virtues and internalizes spiritual wisdom. He is able to control his senses and acquire Waheguru's Naam without any special effort. 12. There are countless people who wander around without Waheguru's benevolence (do not recite His Naam). They keep taking births, and dying, and their return to different life forms (reincarnation) never ends. Intoxicated in sensual pleasures, they continue to stay in that cycle and never attain peace of mind. 13.
People who wear different religious garbs are actually impersonators, but no one has ever been able to kill their haumein without Waheguru's Naam. A person who kills his desires with Guru's Shabad while living in the family finds emancipation and gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 14. Lack of spiritual knowledge, and the fire of worldly desires burns the human body (causing mental suffering for him). Only that person is able to put out this fire who follows Guru's Shabad whereby his rage is destroyed (is controlled), and his body and mind become peaceful, and by overcoming his haumein, he gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 15. Waheguru is eternal, and the honour He bestows on His devotees is also everlasting. But a rare individual is accorded such honour with the Guru's grace. I have only this humble suggestion: one gets absorbed in Waheguru only with His Naam, oh Nanak. 16.1.23.

Word Meaning: Nudreen = with kind sight. Oobreh(i) = are salvaged. 1. Soohaavi = comforting (blissful). Bhaayi = liked by. Chit(u) = mind. 2. Julaiy = burns; suffers. Kerm(u) = benevolence; good fortune. Ugiyan(u) = ignorance. Boojhaayay = eradicates. 3. Kmaayay = deals in. Sunkut = suffering. Joani Bhermaayay = is taken through many life forms. Javrra = rope; noose. 4. Aavun Jaana = taking birth and dying. Nivaaray = is terminated. 5. Perj = masses. Vigoyee = suffers humiliation. Thir = immortal (by merging with Waheguru). Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru's devotees always sing His praise with full devotion, and with His kind sight, Waheguru connects them with Him. The Creator, Waheguru, connects His devotees with Him through the Guru, and they find salvation in His shelter. 1.

Waheguru's worship becomes comforting (blissful) with Guru's Shabad because Waheguru likes it, and the devotee acquires blissfulness in his mind. When a devotee attaches his mind to Waheguru, his body and mind get imbued in His worship. 2.

Man's body suffers constantly because of his selfishness and ego, but he connects with the Perfect Guru if he is fortunate. Satguru's Shabad eradicates the darkness of his ignorance, and he acquires blissfulness in His shelter. 3.

The Maya-engrossed individual is spiritually blind, and he deals in Maya-related affairs, which increase his blindness even more, and he suffers badly as he is taken through many different life forms. The noose of the Angel of spiritual death never loosens, and he suffers badly. 4.

Man's birth-death cycle gets terminated with Guru's Shabad when he keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time. When one kills his desires with Guru's Shabad, his haumein is also killed, and he gets absorbed in Waheguru. 5.

The masses suffer humiliation due to their continuous rebirths, and no one becomes immortalized (achieves union with Waheguru) without the Guru. With Guru's Shabad, one acquires Waheguru's Light in his mind, and he enjoys eternal bliss when his light (soul) merges into the Supreme Soul of Waheguru. 6.

Word Meaning: Punch Doot = the five senses (demons). Chitveh(i) = think about. Vikaara = sensual pleasures. Pasaara = expanse. Vuss(i) = under control. 7.

Baajh(u) = without. Goobaara = darkness. Phir(i), Phir(i) = Vaaro Vaar = again, and again. Drirraayay = reinforces. 8. Dur(u) = Court. Durvaaja = Door. Sachi Dhoon(i) = with full focus of mind (full devotion). Mah(i) = in. 9.

Ghuraiy = in the heart. Ghur(u) = permanent dwelling (union with Waheguru). Sehj Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Oathaiy = in that spiritual state. Soag(u) = grief. Vijoag(u) = separation. Viyaapaiy = affects. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. 10.
Dooshtaan = evils. Vaasa = thoughts revolve around. Bhaunday Phireh = roam around. Buhou = much. Moh Piyaasa = thirst of worldly attachments. Koosungut(i) = evil company. Buhheh(i) = joins; friends with. Dookho Dookh(u) = only suffering. 11.
MEANING: This world is an expanse of Maya (people are strongly attached to the attractions of Maya), and the five senses of man always think about the evil sensual pleasures. However, the five senses can be controlled by serving the Guru (following His Advice) once a man becomes emancipated. 7. Without the Guru, it is complete darkness (of ignorance) in the world due to the attachments of the man with Maya, and he drowns in the sea of Maya again and again. But when the man gets connected with Satguru, He (Satguru) reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and the man comes to like it (the Naam). 8.
Those who serve the dear Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, realize that Waheguru's Door and His Court are eternal (one can have access to Him any time, and His justice is Perfect). I, too, wish to sing His praise with full devotion to become "one" with Him. 9.
It is rare for an individual to acquire his permanent residence (union with Waheguru) in his own mind through love for Guru's Shabad. When the devotee attains that high spiritual state (union with Waheguru) without any special effort, no grief or separation from Waheguru occurs in that high spiritual state. 10.
When one loves the attractions of Maya, his thoughts revolve around evil activities, and he wanders about seeking to quench his thirst for such sensual pleasures. He seeks the company of like-minded evil friends and performs deeds that only bring him trouble. 11.

Word Meaning: Paar = (swim to) the other end. Ruveh(i) = remember; recite. 12.
Birkh(u) = tree. Punkhi = bird (mind). Choogeh(i) = picks up. Nivaasa = dwelling. Oodeh(i) = take flights. Na Moolay = not at all. Nij Ghur(i) = in own house (mind). 13.
Sodhe(i) = purifuies. Tthugauri = mind captivating. Bherm(u) = illusions. Nivaareh(i) = get rid of. 14. Nayrraiy = close by. Jaanhou = think; believe. Nujeek(i) = nearby. Bigsaiy Kumul = the lotus like heart blooms. Kirn Pergaasaiy = in sun's rays. Pergut(u) Kur(i) = show. 15.
Maar(i) Jeevaalay = injects new life after killing desires. Uver(u) = other. Vudiyaayi = praise; respect. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego 16.
MEANING: There is no holy gathering without the Guru (His Shabad), and nobody can swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation) without the Guru's Shabad. A devotee, who sings Waheguru's virtues (His praise) in the high spiritual state day and night, gets his soul merged into that of Waheguru. 12.
The soul (mind) in the human body is like a bird on a tree. If the mind chooses Guru's Amrit-like Shabad as its food, it stays on the tree (in itself). Unlike the bird, it takes absolutely no flights (does not wander around), and does not take rebirths. It stays in its permanent home (achieves union with Waheguru). 13.

The devotee purifies his body (and soul) by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, and overcomes his illusions of the captivating Maya. The source of all comforts, Waheguru, becomes benevolent to him and connects the devotee with Him on His own. 14.
Waheguru is always close to us, so do not think Him to be far away from you, and make a connection with Him with Guru's Shabad. Just like the lotus flower, which blooms in the sun's rays, the Guru shows Waheguru to the devotee with the light of His Shabad. 15.
The eternal Waheguru is the creator of the universe, and there is none like Him. He, Himself, kills the worldly desires of the devotee, and injects a new spiritual life into him. When the devotee kills his selfishness and ego with Waheguru's Naam, he is respected everywhere and enjoys blissfulness, oh Nanak. 16.2.24.

Word Meaning: Suvaarunhaara = decorator (with noble qualities). Soojhus(i) = think of. Beeji = other. Kaara = things to do. Gurmukh(i) = by Guru's grace (Advice). 1. Maahi = inside. Kert = by doing (uttering). 2. Pooja = worship. Dhun(u) = wealth. Bhaayi = is liked. 3. Jo = those. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Abhaagay = unfortunate. Gut(i) = high spiritual state; salvation. Shernaayi = in the shelter. 4. Saachi = pure; everlasting. Maangoun = beg for. Ajaachi = immeasurable. 5.

Chooaaya = squeezed; poured; administered. Dusvaiy Dooaar(i) = the spiritual state when one gets connected with Waheguru. Pergut(u) = appears. Unhud Shabad = Divine Music. Dhoon(i) = the sweet tune. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself adorns His devotees (with noble qualities) so that they do not contemplate any Maya-related business, but with Guru's grace, Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in their heart, and they get absorbed in Waheguru without any special effort. 1.
Waheguru is present hidden in every heart, but it is only with the Guru's grace that a devotee attains a high spiritual state (stays above the effects of Maya). The devotees always enjoy blissfulness by reciting the Guru's Shabad and attaching their mind to His Shabad. 2.
For a devotee, Satguru (His Shabad) is the (source of) Divine Knowledge, and acting on His Shabad is the worship (of Waheguru). I will serve only Satguru, and no one else. One acquires the wealth of Waheguru's jewel-like Naam from Satguru. I love serving Him. 3.
Those who are attached to the other (Maya) are unfortunate. They die a spiritual death because of their misconceptions, and keep taking births and dying. They can find salvation only if they seek the Guru's shelter and stay there. 4.
The love of the Sikh of the Guru for Waheguru is pure (honest). I beg for Waheguru's Naam from Satguru, the worth of which can never be known. Please, be kind to me, and keep me in the shelter of the Guru, oh Waheguru. 5. Satguru squeezed the sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in my mind (implanted the Naam in my mind) because of which Waheguru appeared in my Tenth Door (I attained the highest spiritual state). Now I feel as if the auto-playing Divine Music with the sweet sound of Guru's Shabad is playing in my mind. 6.

MEANING: Those who have their good fortune prewritten by Waheguru spend their life reciting the Guru's Shabad all the time. Nobody can achieve success (get connected with Waheguru) without the grace of the Guru; so, I have attached my mind to the Guru's Feet (His Shabad). 7. Waheguru grants His invaluable Naam to the devotees of His liking through the Guru. Those who are given Waheguru's Naam by His benevolence get absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 8. It is the greatness of Satguru, and I am always a sacrifice for my Satguru, with whose grace, the devotee acquires the invaluable Naam of Waheguru in the high spiritual state, and the jewel of Divine Knowledge appears in his mind. 9.

Just like the darkness of the night disappears with the rise of the sun, the darkness of ignorance disappears with the jewel-like Guru's Shabad in the praise of the limitless Waheguru. The jewel of Satguru's Knowledge is extremely powerful (source of comforts); one acquires it with great fortune, and enjoys blissfulness. 10.
No matter in what part of the world a devotee is, and what eon it is, Waheguru's Naam purifies his mind everywhere. The devotee, who is imbued only in the Naam, enjoys all comforts and stays absorbed in it. 11.

Waheguru's devotees have Amrit-like Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) on their tongue, and the Guru's Sikhs recite and explain Waheguru's Naam. A devotee's mind blooms when he recites Waheguru's Naam, and he keeps his mind attached to His Naam. 13.
I was foolish, who lacked Divine Knowledge, but I acquired the Divine wisdom from Satguru. Waheguru was very kind to me, who put me in the service of the Guru with His munificence. 14. Those who connect with Satguru recognize Waheguru as well (connect with Him), the source of all comforts, present everywhere. The devotee attains the highest spiritual state by searching for Waheguru in his soul, and service to Him is always there in his mind. 15.
Those who have the honour (to acquire Waheguru's Naam) preordained in their fate receive Satguru's Shabad enshrined in their minds when they meditate on it. The soul of the world, Waheguru, comes to dwell in their mind, and they get absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 16.1.

MEANING: The inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru is ever immortal. He is omnipresent and resides in every heart. There is no other provider like Him; He is the only one to be served, oh man. 1.

No one can kill (cause any harm to) the individual who is protected by the Guard, Waheguru. So, serve Waheguru whose Naam purifies the human mind, oh holy saints. 2.

Where it seems that there is nothing there, the Creator Waheguru is fully present even there. Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which performs amazing feats, and which injects fresh life in the spiritually dead, oh man. 3. I am a sacrifice to the Lord who knows the pain (problems) of the living beings. One should pray to the Lord, who is the provider (source) of all comforts. 4. Do not pray before anyone who does not know the situation of your mind, oh the ignorant man. Do not argue with the foolish, but recite the Naam of Waheguru to attain the highest spiritual state. 5.

Do not worry about your needs because Waheguru provides for all the living beings everywhere – in waters and on the land. Waheguru delivers food even in unexpected places, like the microbes in rocks. 6.

Tup = worship with self-torturing. Bhaani = is liked. 11.
MEANING: Do not expect any help from any friend, sons, your brothers, a moneylender, or from any other business in the field of spirituality, oh man. There is no real friend in spirituality other than Waheguru's Naam; so, recite His Naam. 7.
Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which fulfils all your wishes and desires, oh my friends. Waheguru's slave, Nanak, recommends that you should recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the eradicator of your birth-death cycle, so that you may spend the night of your life blissfully in the high spiritual state. 8.
Those who serve Waheguru experience bliss as they become absorbed in His Naam in a high spiritual state. You can check the Vedas and the Puranas to see that Waheguru protects the devotee's dignity (against the attacks of Maya) when the devotee takes His shelter. 9.
But only that devotee begins to serve Waheguru whom He motivates; all misgivings and fears of the devotee run away with Guru's Shabad. Like the lotus flower, which thrives in water yet stays above its surface, such a devotee stays detached from the worldly attractions while living in the family. 10. If one serves Waheguru for selfish reasons or ego, his service is not recognized (not rewarded). Such a person stays trapped in the birth-death cycle. Only that worship, including the one that involves self-torture, is recognized that is liked (approved) by my Waheguru. 11.

MEANING: Which of Your virtues can I sing praise of, oh my Lord? (I am unable to sing Your full praise), But you are omniscient (and know my feelings). I beg only one donation from You, oh the Creator; kindly give me Your Naam so that I may recite it all the time. 12.
Some people are conceited about their ability to lecture (or discuss things forcefully), while others are conceited about the strong support of their wealth. I have no other support or shelter than that of Waheguru; I have nothing to be proud of; kindly protect my dignity, oh my Creator. 13. If You wish, You, can accord honour to the humble, oh my Waheguru. Many people come and go who talk meaningless (complain and grumble) and suffer humiliation; but You make others listen to what Your favourite devotees have to say, oh my Lord. 14. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam all the time attain the highest spiritual state with Guru's grace. Those who serve Waheguru enjoy blissfulness, but those who do not serve Waheguru repent at the end. 15.

Saadha = performed. Rus = sweet taste. Til(u) = miniscule; the size of a sesame seed. Laadha = acquire. Satsungay = in the holy gathering. Oolaasa = blissfulness. 5.

MEANING: The wife (human body) and the soul-husband (which, being a part of the Supreme Soul, should be detached from worldly attractions) are tightly attached to each other, and engrossed in Maya, enjoy its luxuries together. Based on the previous deeds of the soul (as husband), it is connected with the appropriate body (as wife), and they enjoy the luxuries together. 1. Whatever the soul-husband does (thinks), the body-wife accepts to do that right away, and the soul adorns the body and keeps her with it with love. The soul supports the body, and the two live together day and night. 2.
The soul (mind) rushes in many directions (makes different plans) to fulfil the wishes of the body, and shows its plans to her. But there is one thing (their union forever) that the body cannot have control over, and stays hungry and thirsty (dissatisfied) for that. 3.
The body-wife implores with folded hands to the soul-husband that he should not leave her to go away to the foreign land (to acquire Waheguru), and requests to carry out some kind of business (to connect with Waheguru) while staying in her home (in the body for ever) so that she no longer feels hungry and thirsty (worried about that). 4.
The soul explains the body-wife, that people have tried all sorts of religious rituals in the world, to purify their soul (to become immortal), but no one ever finds any comfort, not even the size of a sesame seed, without the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. (Guru) Nanak also clarifies that it is only in the company of the holy gathering that the body and the soul can enjoy blissfulness. 5.

Word Meaning: Chupul = clever. Siyana = wise. Punch Tutt(u) = the five basic elements (ingredients). Ruchun Ruchaana = the creation; world. Vukkhur = merchandize (Waheguru's Naam). 6. Vuss(u) = reside. Sukhvaasi = living in comfort. Baal Goopalay = the child-like (pure) Waheguru. Kit Na Laykhaiy = have no importance. Vuchun = word; promise. Chhoad(i) = leave. 7. Aagiya = Huqam. Boolaaya = called in. Mutaa Pukaaya = made a consultation. Chhootur(i) = widowed. Maati = body. Mithun = false. Mohaasa = of attachments. 10.

MEANING: The body is ignorant, but the soul (mind), even though capricious, is yet wise, and realizes that this world, which is created by Waheguru with the five basic elements (ingredients) (earth, water, air etc.), (is very attractive, and traps the man in its illusions); but the real merchandize (Waheguru's Naam) for which the soul is given the human form) It is available only from Satguru. 6. The soul finds comfort (blissfulness) in the union with the child-like (pure-hearted) Waheguru, but the body insists that he (the soul) stay with her because she is worthless without the soul; so, she asks the soul to make a promise that he would never leave her. 7. The soul explains that he is only a slave to the Huqam of Waheguru, who is the powerful Lord, and who does not owe anyone anything (so, His Huqam cannot be denied). I (the soul) can stay with you (the body) as long as Waheguru keeps us together; I have to leave when Waheguru calls me. 8.
When the soul tells the truth about their limited union, the capricious and unwise body does not understand it fully, and asks for the continuous union again and again, while the soul considers its insistence a joke. 9.
When Waheguru's Huqam arrives, the soul does not even tell or consult the body and leaves her. Watch this false worldly attraction of the soul leaving the widowed body of dust behind, oh Nanak. 10.

MEANING: Listen, oh my greedy mind, serve Satguru day and night. Without Satguru, the Maya-worshippers burn in the fire of worldly desires, and the noose of the Angel of death is tightened around the neck of the Guru-less individuals. 11.
The follower of his mind keeps taking births and dying, and suffers this punishment again and again. The follower of his mind goes through the hells of births of all life forms, but Maya has absolutely no effect on the Sikh of the Guru. 12.
But only that individual becomes a Sikh of the Guru whom Waheguru likes. Who can erase the honour of the Sikh who is honoured by Waheguru? The fortunate individual, who is given the special robe of honour by Waheguru, enjoys permanent bliss. 13.

Word Meaning: Bukhshinda = forgiving; provider. Shast = Shastras. Khut Kerma = the six rituals that the Brahmans are required to perform (to learn and to educate others; to perform yugs and make others do so; give and accept donations). Puvittar Asthaana = holy place (source of holiness). 1. Kilvikh = sins. Sung(i) = with. Phaaseh = caught in net. Upmaana = disrespect; insult. 2. Jea Daana = gift for the soul (Waheguru's Naam). 3.

Bhayt(i) = on meeting with. Bhuniyaiy = utter; sing. Klaysh = quarrels; disputes. Maana = respect. 4. Bighun = obstacle; impediment. 5.

MEANING: The Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru, and He is always kind and forgiving. The Guru is a source of holiness (purifying the hearts), and for the Sikh, He is like the Hindu holy books and the six rituals expected of the Brahmans (the Sikh does not need any of them). 1. All one's sins are washed away when he remembers the Guru (recites His Shabad), and he is not caught in the net of the Angel of death (he merges into Waheguru). One's mind is purified when he remembers the Guru, and he does not face any disrespect (in this world, or the next). 2. The devotee of the Guru worships Waheguru, and he does not go to any hell. The Guru always gives the gift of Waheguru's Naam to his devotees when they seek His shelter. 3. Waheguru's praise is sung at the Guru's Door (His place), where one can listen to that, and can also sing with their tongue. The Guru eradicates all quarrels (internal struggles) of His devotees, and gets them respect (in Waheguru's Court). 4.

The Guru "shows" the inaccessible, and the incomprehensible Waheguru to His devotees, and puts the misguided on the path of righteousness. The Guru reinforces the full Divine Knowledge in the mind of His Sikhs, who never experience any impediment in their worship of Waheguru. 5.

Word Meaning: Drishtaaya = showed. Poor(i) Ruhhiya = fully present. Gosaayeen = Lord of the world (Waheguru). Ooch = high. Oona = less than full; low. Aik Smaana = equal. 6. Trishun = fire of desires. Boojhaayi = put out. Johaiy = keep an evil eye. Maayee = Maya. Sat(u) = high morality; service to humanity. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Pea = to drink. Paana = drink-worthy. 7. Smaani = capable of staying. Vukhaani = sing for others. Nisturay = salvaged. Nihchul Thaana = permanent home; at Waheguru's Feet. 8. Mehma = greatness. Bhaanaiy = Will. Jaacheh(i) = beg for. 9.

MEANING: The Guru "shows" Waheguru, to be present everywhere - in the waters, and on the land. When one meditates on Waheguru with love, he finds that He is present equally in the high and the low. 6. One's fire of worldly desires is put out in the company of the Guru, and Maya cannot cast an evil eye on him (cannot affect him). The Perfect Guru feeds the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, which is worthy of taking in, to His devotees who acquire high morality and contentment as a result. 7.

Guru's Shabad can stay in any devotee's mind who recites it for himself and for others to listen. All those who recite Guru's Shabad get salvaged and acquire a permanent place at Waheguru's Feet (merge into Him). 8.

Only Satguru knows His greatness (high transcendence), and whatever He does, he does so by His own Will. Waheguru's devotees beg for the dust of the feet of the Guru (long to serve Him with respect). I am always a sacrifice for Satguru, oh Nanak. 9.1.4.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) = the origin. Nirunjun(u) = unaffected by Maya. Nirunkaara = formless. Vertaiy = operates. Niraara = detatched. Vern = the four major castes. Jaat(i) = subcaste. Chinh = physical features. Srisht(i) = world. 1. Lukh Chauraaseeh Joan(i) = the 8.4 million living species. Subaayi = all. Maanus = human. Vudiyaayi = honour. Paurri = ladder; rank. Chookaiy = misses opportunity. 2. Keeta = created. Luhhiaiy = acquire. Bhoolaayay = misleads. Boojhaiy = understands. 3. Herkh = haapiness. Soag = grief. Nugur = city; world. Oobray = salvaged. Put(i) = dignity. 6.

MEANING: The formless Waheguru, which is the root of the universe and is unaffected by Maya, operates in everybody, but is Himself fully detached from the world. He has no caste, no subcaste, and no physical features. He creates the world with His Huqam. 1.
Waheguru has created 8.4 million living species, but has given man the honour of being superior among them (the ability to merge into Him). If the man misses this special opportunity, he will keep suffering from being reborn over and over. 2.
What can be said about the man who is created by Waheguru (he has no power of his own)? A Sikh of the Guru acquires the invaluable Naam of Waheguru with His grace. Only that individual is misled who is misled by Waheguru, and the individual who is enlightened by Waheguru understands it (the importance of Waheguru's Naam). 3.
Waheguru has created this world where happiness and sadness both occur. Those who take Satguru's shelter are salvaged. The Sikh of the Guru, which stays above the three effects of Maya (with Guru's Shabad), is honoured everywhere. 4.
(Human life is given as an opportunity to unite with Waheguru by reciting and internalizing His Naam, and not to perform rituals). Like a seed that is sown out of season, it does not sprout well. Not only does any number of rituals performed in life become shackles for the man, but he also loses any spiritual benefit along with his original spirituality. 5.
Singing praise of Waheguru is the supreme thing to do in Kalyug (in the world), and one should sing it with full concentration. Not only does such a devotee find salvation for himself, but he also gets his associates saved, and goes to Waheguru's Court with dignity. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru has put the worlds, the underworlds, the islands (continents), and the galaxies under the control of death (destruction) (they are all perishable). Only Waheguru is imperishable and eternal. Those who remember Him also become imperishable (by merging into Him). 7. Like the waves of water which rise on the surface of water, and then merge back into the main body of water, Waheguru's devotee also becomes like Him . Do not make any distinction between Waheguru and the devotee simply because he is in a human body. 8. I am a beggar at Waheguru's Door and beg for His sight, which makes me content and stabilizes my mind. 9.

But He becomes munificent in granting my request only when He likes it. Even though it is almost impossible to control (please) the handsome (attractive) Lord, yet He does all that His devotees want. The devotees get what they need from Waheguru, and nobody can erect any obstacles in their way to reach His Door. 10.
When one faces a difficult situation, one should remember Waheguru. Where there is no son, wife, or friend to help you, Waheguru, Himself frees (helps) you there, oh, man. 11.

Word Meaning: Athaaha = unfathomable. Kiyoun = how? Vaypervaaha = carefree. Silk = bonds; traps. Maarug(i) = (the right) path. Vaasa = dwelling. 12. Boojhaiy = understands; obeys. Booraa = bad. Bhulaa = good. Dooyay = both. Sumsur(i) = equal. Suhhiyaiy = endure; accept. Sehj(i) = blissful state. 13. Baal Soobhaayay = child-like nature. Uteet = Oodaasi = detached. Rung Kureh(i) = enjoy. Buhou Bhaanti = of many different kinds. Ludaayaynda = shows love. 14. Pergut(u) Bhuyya = appeared. Dhoor(i) = from the Source (Waheguru). Laykh = writing. 15. Kaarun Kerna = the basis (creator) of the universe. Dhuree = paced. Dhurna = earth. Laaj = dignity. 16.
MEANING: The Great Lord is inaccessible and unfathomable. So, how can one connect with the carefree Waheguru? The individual, whose worldly shackles (bonds) are severed by Waheguru, gets to be a part of a holy gathering to stay in there. 12.
That individual is considered a true devotee who understands (and obeys) Waheguru's Huqam. Such a devotee accepts the good and the bad the same way. One understands (gets connected with) Waheguru when he overcomes his selfishness and ego in Guru's shelter, and gets absorbed in the blissful spiritual state. 13.
Waheguru's devotees always live in comfort (are always blissful), and with child-like nature (pure-minded), they stay detached from the world. (With Waheguru's Naam at heart), they enjoy in many different ways like a child who is loved by his father. 14.
Nobody knows the worth (transcendence) of the inaccessible, and the incomprehensible Waheguru. One can only get connected with Him, when Waheguru connects him on His own. Waheguru appears only in the mind of that devotee in Guru's shelter, who has the union with Waheguru prewritten by Him on his forehead (in his fate). 15.
Waheguru is the origin of the whole universe, and has created, and placed the earth (in its orbit). I have taken shelter at Waheguru's Door, He will save my dignity (protect me from the attacks of Maya) if He is kind to like me, oh Nanak. 16.1.5.

MEANING: It is You, who is present in every visible thing in the world, and we listen to Your Bani (words in Your praise) with our ears, oh, Waheguru. There is none other like You which can be seen. You are supporting the whole world. 1.
You think about (look after) Your creation, and You, and only You, are present everywhere. You have created and expanded a world, and are looking after everybody. 2.

You have created some individuals to be great rulers, others who are fully detached from the world, and yet others who live in families. Some are always dissatisfied with their lot, while some are fully content, but You support all of them. 3.
You alone are immortal forever, and are closely mixed with Your creation. Your devotees are "one" with You, like the cross threads (warp and weft) in a fabric. You are hidden, as well as visible (in nature), and the whole universe is Your extension. 4.
You are highly transcendent, inaccessible, unfathomable, limitless, and have eternal existence. You fill the empty, and empty the full; such are Your amazing feats, oh God. 5.
I sing Your praise with my mouth (tongue), oh my eternal King; and see the inaccessible and unfathomable Lord with my eyes (in His creation). My mind and my body come to life when I listen to Your praise with my ears, oh the Lord, who salvages everybody. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru looks after His creation with great care, and all the living beings ought to recite His Naam. He alone knows His nature (creation), and casts His kind sight on it (all the living beings). 7. The gathering of the holy saints is the place where one can sit with Waheguru (get connected with Him), and blissfully enjoy the stories of His amazing and entertaining feats. Waheguru's devotees sing His praise with Guru's Divine Shabad with deep concentration (and love). I also wish to sing his praise as His slave, oh Nanak. 8.
Birth and death are all Waheguru's amazing feats; the limitless Waheguru creates things and enjoys His drama. The Creator, Waheguru, creates the universe and looks after (raises) His creation. 9. I live by listening to Your praise, and am always a sacrifice for You, oh, Waheguru. I wish to remember You day and night with folded hands (with full reverence), oh my inaccessible, and endless Lord. 10. Who else, other than You, is there to sing praise of (there is none); I recite the Naam of only the "One" Lord in my mind. The service of Your devotees to You is to obey Your Huqam, and feel blessed, oh, Waheguru. 11.

MEANING: We should recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Teachings (Shabad) and be imbued with Waheguru's love. Guru's Teachings fully burn away (eradicate) one's illusions about Maya and his worldly attachments, and sever his worldly bonds. 12.

A devotee is happy and comfortable in whatever situation Waheguru keeps him, and he gladly accepts whatever happens to him in a natural way. He has no enmity toward anyone and considers no one his enemy. He looks at everybody the same way. 13.

All fears of the devotee are eradicated, and the darkness of his ignorance is dispelled. Waheguru, who is fully detached from the world, appears in his mind. Overcoming his selfishness and ego, the devotee takes Waheguru's shelter (accepts Waheguru's Will), and serves Him to Whom he belongs. 14. There is a rare, highly fortunate individual who takes birth and recites Waheguru's Naam all twenty-four hours. Everybody in his company can find salvation, and he supports his family (of associates) to do so. 15.

I pray to the Lord with folded hands (with humbleness) that He endows me with His Naam, which I may recite all the twenty-four hours, and get absorbed in Him in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 16.1.6.

Shernaayi = shelter. Soag(u) = sadness; grief. Drirraayay = reinforces. Aukhudh = medication. Rid = in heart. 2.

Turseh(i) = yearn for; desire strongly. Dayva = gods. Ja Kee = of whom. Anaathaan = of orphans; supportless. Deen = poor; weak. Dookh-Bunjun = destroyer of troubles. 3.

Dooaara = door; shelter. Soojhaiy = think of. Tirbhuvun = three-layered universe. Dhaavaiy = rush for. Boojhaiy = understand. Shah = Lord. Bhundaar = treasures. Ruttan = jewel-like Naam. 4. Dhoor(i) = dust of feet. Pooneeta = pure; pious. Soor(i) = gods. Nur = men. Sat(i) = immortal. Purakh(u) = living Waheguru. Bhaytut = on meeting with. Paar(i) Puraayina = swim across (the world sea). 5.

Paarjaat = a tree in paradise which is believed to fulfil all wishes. Kaamdhayn = a cow in paradise which also fulfils all wishes. Lorreh(i) = if you need. Sohee = looks attractive. Triput(i) = contentment = Suntokh. Rusaayina = source of all sweets. 6.

MEANING: Do not be misled by the looks (of the things), oh, foolish man. Worldly attachments are short-lived, and the whole expanse is perishable. Nobody has lived in the world forever; only Waheguru is everlasting. 1.

Take shelter of the perfect Guru where all your love for the worldly things, your griefs, and your misgivings will disappear. Satguru reinforces only Waheguru's Naam in your mind as the Mantra to recite, which is the perfect medication for all your ills. 2.

Waheguru's Naam, for which all the gods yearn, and by which the bhagats (devotees) serve Waheguru, which is the Guard of all the supportless people and is the destroyer of all the troubles of the weak, can be acquired from the Perfect Guru. 3.

I cannot think of any other shelter than Waheguru's. One cannot get any enlightenment from anywhere else, even if one rushes to search for it in the whole universe. The jewel-like, invaluable Naam of Waheguru can be had only from Satguru, who has the treasure of the Naam. 4. Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru, and the dust of His Feet (His Shabad) purifies the mind, and one swims across the sea of Maya. Gods and all humans wish to have Guru's Shabad, but cannot get it (without Waheguru's benevolence). 5.

People wish to have access to the mythical Parijat tree or the mythical Kaamdhayn cow, which are believed to be the attractions of paradise, and are believed to fulfil people's wishes; but it is Waheguru's Naam granted by Satguru, which is the source of all sweet tastes, and by which one acquires satisfaction of mind and contentment. 6.

Word Meaning: Punch Dhaatoo = the five demons. Bhaiy Parbrahm = fear of God. Paarus = the elixir stone. Pers(i) = to touch. 7. Baiykoontth = paradises. Luvaiy Laagaiy = come even close in comparison. Bupprri = poor; powerless. Tiyaagay = give up. Dersaayina = sight. 8. Soyee = the same. Laavay = attaches. Muthaayina = on the forehead. 9. Mehma = greatness. Bayd = the Vedas. Toochh = very little; negligible. Maat = size. Vukhaaneh(i) = describe. Uprumpur = limitless. Seetlaayina = becomes calm (peaceful). 10. Ja Kee = of which. Soyay = news; praise. Riday = in heart. Tthundha = cool; peaceful. Theavaiy = becomes. Alaayay = says. Sobha Paayay = wins praise. Jum Kay Punth(i) = on the way leading to (spiritual death). 11.

MEANING: Guru's Shabad kills the five demons (lust, greed, etc.), and one's mind gets purified with Waheguru's fear in mind. Satguru is such an elixir-stone whose touch purifies the mind, and one is able to "see" Waheguru. 7.

Even countless paradises do not come close to the transcendence of Satguru as a source of bliss, and the enlightened devotees ignore even the poor emancipation and prefer the Guru's shelter. Waheguru (His Naam) can be acquired only from the Guru; I am always a sacrifice for the Guru's sight. 8. Nobody knows the worth of the service to the Guru because one does not realize that the Guru is a manifestation of the inaccessible Waheguru. Only that devotee begins to serve the Guru who has great fortune written on his forehead. 9.

Even the Vedas do not know the greatness (spiritual transcendence) of the Guru. Whatever little they describe comes only from listening to others. Satguru is the manifestation of the endless Waheguru, and remembering whom, one achieves peace of mind. 10.

A devotee survives (spiritually) by listening to the praise of the Guru, and he attains peacefulness when he embeds Satguru (His Shabad) in his mind. He earns praise when he follows the Shabad uttered by the Guru, and he does not follow the path of life leading to the Angel of (spiritual) death. 11.

I see the source of all comforts, Waheguru, wherever I look. Waheguru is the mine of all noble qualities, and there is never a shortage of such qualities in His treasures. (Unlike the visible things) Waheguru cannot be held (possessed), and He is unfathomable whose limits cannot be known; but the individual, whom Waheguru is kind to, can make a connection with Him. 9.
With His Amrit-like (immortalizing) sight, Waheguru pulls out such a devotee from the world-sea (attractions of Maya) by extending His hand, whereby the devotee feels perfect peace in his body and mind, and his suffering of rebirths is eradicated. 10.
The devotee realizes that Waheguru alone is present everywhere, and there is none other like Him, and that Waheguru is present at the beginning, at present, and at the end. Also, his (devotee's) worldly desires and discontentment come to an end. 11.

MEANING: The Guru is a manifestation of the creator Waheguru, and is always forgiving. One is fully rewarded when he recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and the lamp of Divine Knowledge enlightens his mind in the shelter of the Guru. 12.

I see Waheguru present in whatever I look at and hear only Waheguru's Shabad (His praise). I believe that whatever I do, I do so only when prompted by You, oh Waheguru. You provide shelter to all those who seek it, and You are the support of Your saints. 13.
The Perfect Guru, Waheguru, purifies even the immoral; I am a beggar at Your Door, and beg that I worship You (recite Your Naam) only. Your Naam is the best donation to beg for, because it is the source of all comforts, oh, the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru. Begging for anything else is worthless. 14.
A devotee, who is influenced (motivated) to recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, is made eligible by Waheguru to embed His Naam in his heart. With Waheguru's Bani (Naam), the devotee earns holy fame, and his heart is dyed with the madder-like permanent colour of Waheguru's love. 15.
Such a devotee feels as if the sun of Divine Knowledge, with full intensity, has enlightened his mind, and his life has become fully successful, as he has been connected with the Perfect Waheguru, endowed with countless powers. With Waheguru's Naam, he enjoys the blissfulness of all sweet tastes, oh Nanak. 16.2.9.

MEANING: You have created my body and my life, oh Waheguru. You are my Lord, and I have made myself a slave of Yours. You are the doer, and make us do whatever You wish us to do, and You are all-in-all everywhere, so we have nothing of our own. 1.
We came to this world when You sent us here, and we perform only those deeds which You make us do. Nothing happens without Your approval, so we have nothing to worry about. 2.
We hear that it is Your Huqam that rules even in the next world, and we sing Your praise in this world. You record our deeds, but You are beyond any record of accounts; we have no power to argue with You, oh Waheguru. 3. You are our father, and we are Your children; we play the game of life the way You make us play. You have created the state (path) of confusion (attractions for Mya), and the path of righteousness for us to follow, and nobody can follow the path which is different from the one on which You put us on, oh Lord. 4. You provide some people with enough wealth that they do not need to leave home for foreign lands to earn their living, while some others are not satisfied with what they earn at home, and are sent (by You) to foreign lands. Some are forced to earn their living by cutting and selling grass, while others are made rajahs (big or small rulers) by You. Which of these can we call wrong? 5. Who can achieve emancipation, and who lives in hell-like conditions? Who lives as a family man, and who becomes Waheguru's devotee? Who is wise, and who is shallow (has very low thinking and is impulsive), and who has a deep understanding of things, and who is foolish? 6.

Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (Lord). Sutvunta = of high morality. Gaarrha = thick; strong. 11.
MEANING: It is with Waheguru's Huqam that some people achieve emancipation, while others live in hell-like conditions. It is through His Huqam that some lead lives as normal family men (engrossed in Maya), while others become devotees of Waheguru. It is through His Huqam that some people are shallow (impulsive, with low thinking), while others are wise; there is no party outside Waheguru's Huqam. 7. Waheguru has created the world as a huge sea of Maya, which is very tough to cross. Some foolish become worshippers of Maya with Waheguru's Huqam; they drown in the world-sea, and are taken to hell, while Waheguru ferries some across the world-sea by putting them on the eternal Satguru-ship (by making them His devotees). (Such devotees attain emancipation). 8.
Waheguru has created the drama of death to destroy the living beings created by Him. He has created the world as an arena where people struggle to overcome the attractions of Maya and to survive. Waheguru watches people struggle, and enjoys all kinds of situations. 9.
The Lord is great and so is His grandeur. His creation is huge, and he is a great provider. He is inaccessible, incomprehensible, limitless, and immeasurable, and we are non-entities before Him. 10.
Nobody knows Waheguru's worth. He, Himself, worships Him (knows His greatness). He is the source of Divine Knowledge and of concentration; He has very high morality. 11.

Sreek(u) = rival. Bootaiy = a task that is done for free. Jubaab(u) = refusal. Choaj = amazing feats. Khurraa = standing; as a spectator. 16.

MEANING: Waheguru stayed invisible for a very long period when he meditated on Himself before creating the universe. That was a period of complete darkness for a very long time before He appeared through His creation. 12.
The all-powerful Waheguru created Maya with His Huqam, but He Himself remains above the effects of Maya, which is the source of the fire of desires for living beings. But Waheguru Himself is the source of peace and coolness (like ice), and delivers peacefulness with His Naam in the minds of the people against the fire of desires for Maya. 13.
Waheguru puts the individual, whom He wishes to honour (based on the deeds of His previous life), in the shelter of the Guru to adorn him with noble qualities. His Naam takes dwelling in the devotee's heart after he has acquired noble qualities, and he begins to feel as if Divine music is playing in his mind. 14. Nobody can describe Waheguru's greatness in words or write it on a piece of paper, because Waheguru is limitless, oh Nanak. Waheguru has been here from the beginning, is here now, and will be here at the end. The final decision in each case is in His hands (He controls them). 15.
He has no rival, and no one can refuse His Huqam in any task. My Waheguru alone is the ruler (is the supreme authority) and enjoys His own amazing feats, oh Nanak. 16.1.10.

NOTE: People call their deities by different names, and worship them for their qualities as reflected in stories (mythical or true). But Guru Arjun Dev Ji emphasizes in this holy Shabad, that Waheguru is the only Supreme Deity (no matter what names people give Him), and all the stories associated with the gods or deities (real or mythical), could not have happened without Waheguru's power behind them.

He is the Lord (the creator) of the senses; He performs many amazing feats, such as empowering Krishna to lift Mount Goverdhun on his little finger, and He plays the flute beautifully. 1.

The husband of Maya, Waheguru, is mind-captivating, is the destroyer of the demon Moor, is the Lord of the world, and the killer of demons. He is the life (soul) of the world, is immortal, and the Lord resides in every heart. 2. He supports the earth, is the Lord of the world, and He killed the father of Prehlad by taking the form of a man with a lion's head. As Vishnu, He is called Narayan (living in the ocean), and He retrieved the earth from the ocean by holding it in his teeth in the form of a boar when the demons had hidden it there. It was only with Waheguru's blessings that Vishnu was able to transform him into a midget to defraud Rajah Bal. You are kind to everybody, oh Waheguru. 3.

He is also known as Ram Chand, even though He has no form or physical features. He holds a special chakra in His hand, and the whole vegetation is His garland, and His sight is of unparalleled beauty. Being present in all living beings, He has thousands (countless) eyes and countless forms. He is the only Provider while all living beings are beggars at His Door. 4. Waheguru loves His worship (devotees) and is the guardian of the orphans (supportless). Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, is the Lord of the cowgirls in the form of Basudev (Krishna), and resides with everyone. I cannot count all His qualities.5.
Waheguru is the emancipator, and in the form of Vishnu, He is the handsome husband of Maya. He saved the honour of Draupadi (the wife of the Pandavas) and rescued her when she was being disrobed by the Kauravas. The Husband of Maya, Waheguru, is fully detached from the worldly attractions, and enjoys performing His amazing feats. 6.

He is the husband of Maya, and dwells in paradise (every place is paradise where He lives). Vishnu Ji incarnated as the fish and as the turtle by Waheguru's Huqam. Waheguru, with long, beautiful hair, performs unique, amazing feats, and whatever He wishes comes to pass. 8. He needs no food, bears no enmity against anyone (has no rival), and is present everywhere. It is His drama when He is known as Vishnu, with four arms. Waheguru purifies the immoral and is the destroyer of all fears and all troubles. He rids one of his ego, and is the eradicator of rebirths. The kind to the poor, Waheguru, is pleased with His worship, and cannot be pleased by any other quality (ritual). 13.
He is formless, cannot be deceived, and has a very strong mind which never shows any weakness. He is light-like and makes the whole world bloom. Only that individual gets connected with Him whom Waheguru Himself connects; nobody can connect with Him through their own efforts. 14. Waheguru Himself takes the role of the cowgirls and of Krishna, and Himself grazes cows in the forest (as Krishna). Waheguru, Himself, creates and destroys the world, and has absolutely no worldly desire, not even the size of a sesame seed. 15. How many virtues of Waheguru can I describe with a single tongue? Even the (mythical) serpent of Vishnu with thousands of heads does not know the limit of Waheguru's virtues, even though he is believed to utter a different name for Him day and night, and cannot describe even one of His virtues. 16.

MEANING: The sea of Maya (world-sea) is extremely difficult to swim across, and the Agent of death is very frightening (for the individual who drowns in the sea). So, I wish to seek the shelter of the Father of the world, Waheguru, and pray to Him that He provides His shelter to me with His Will, and puts me in the company of the holy saints. 17.

The whole visible world is perishable (so nothing is worth begging for in the world). I ask for only the dust of the feet of the holy saints of Waheguru to put on my forehead (an opportunity to serve them with humbleness) so as to attain the highest spiritual state. But only that individual gets this opportunity who has it prewritten by Waheguru in his fate. 18.

Those who are the source of all comforts, Waheguru, are benevolent to acquire Guru's Feet (His Shabad) in their heart. They enshrine Waheguru's Naam, which is the treasure of all comforts in their heart, and feel as if Divine music plays in their mind. 19.

People call You by many names, which are based on Your qualities; but "Sat Naam" (Eternal Lord) is Your natural name ever since Your inception, oh Lord. Your bhagats always stay in Your shelter, and enjoy the love (blissfulness) of Your holy Sight, humbly states Nanak. 20.

Only You know Your transcendence and Your grandeur, and can explain it. I, Nanak, only beg that You make me the slave of Your slaves (devotees), and keep me in their company if You please, oh Waheguru. 21.2.11.

NOTE: As you can see, Guru Sahib is addressing a Muslim faqir in this holy Shabad, and educating him about achieving union with Allah (God or Waheguru).

Word Meaning: Agumm = inaccessible. Bunday = man; servant. Khiyaal = thinking; worrying. Dhundhay = worldly affairs. Paiy = (of) feet. Khaak = dust. Faqir = an ascetic; holy man. Musafur(u) = traveller; visitor (in the world). Dervaysh = Faqir; beggar Kubool = approved. Duraa = (at Waheguru's) Door. 1. Sach(u) = Allah (His Naam). Nivaaj = Muslim prayer. Yakeen = full faith. Hoojra = a small room for prayer. 5.

MEANING: Allah (God) is inaccessible (and cannot be realized just by calling yourself a Muslim, oh, the man of God. You have to quit thinking (worrying) about worldly affairs (which bind one tightly to Maya). One needs to be humble like the dust of the feet of the holy men, and think of himself as a visitor in the world; only such a faqir (beggar/renouncer) is approved at Waheguru's (Allah's) Door. 1.

Allah's Naam (His praise) should be your prayer, and a strong faith in Him should be your rug to sit on to offer your prayer. Getting rid of your worldly desires should be the baton in your hand (which the faqirs carry). Think of your body as the mosque, your mind as the priest, and Allah's praise should be your supreme and holy mantra. 2.
Purifying your mind by logical thinking, searching for Allah in your mind, and singing His praise should be your religious path to follow. Control your mind by Divine Knowledge, and attain the highest spiritual state by which you can be "one" with Allah, oh, the holy faqir. 3.
Enshrine the teachings of the Quran and the other religious books in your mind, and control the ten senses which misguide you on the immoral path. Control the five demons (lust, greed, etc.) with full faith in Allah, pray for the wellbeing of everybody, and have contentment; these qualities enable you to be approved at Allah's Door. 4.
Compassion for others should be your visit to Mecca (Hajj), and humbleness should be your fasting during the month of Ramadan. Following the Guru's teachings in full will lead you to paradise, and spreading the fragrance of the Divine Message among the masses will be like enjoying the company of beautiful women in paradise (a Muslim belief). Worshipping Allah everywhere will serve as your supreme prayer room. 5.

MEANING: A true qazi is the individual who spends his life by the Will of Allah, and a true pilgrim to Mecca is the one who purifies his mind. Likewise, a true moolah is the individual who washes away the filth of his immorality, and a true faqir is the one who seeks the support of Allah (has full faith in Him). 6. (Muslims offer five prayers every day at fixed times every day), But Allah should be remembered all the time. Remembering Allah, which is the destroyer (controller) of the ten senses, should be your rosary, and controlling your sensual pleasures, and having a pleasant nature, should be your circumcision. 7.

Consider everything to be short-living; one's family and his brothers are all bonds (chains) of Maya. The rulers, the kings, and the wealthy are all perishable; only Waheguru's Residence (His existence) is everlasting. 8.
The first prayer of a Muslim should be Allah's praise, and patience should be his second. Humility should be his third prayer, and praying for the wellbeing of everybody should be his fourth, and finally, putting all five senses to focus on Allah should be his fifth prayer. These five prayers are the best ways to offer them (are approved by Allah). 9.
Believing in Allah's presence in everybody should be one's ongoing reading of the holy Quran, and giving up the immoral deeds should be the kettle of water to clean oneself. Believing that Allah (under different names) belongs to everyone should be the call for prayer, and becoming a good child of Allah should serve as blowing into the bugle (call for prayer). 10.

Purifying your mind of your impure and immoral thoughts and deeds is the holy book, Hudees, that takes you close to Allah (connects with Him). Not performing male or female circumcision, and not cutting hair, is the crown that you wear (to get honoured) by Allah. 12.

A Muslim needs to be soft-hearted like wax, and needs to wash the filth of his mind. He should not even go near the enjoyments of sensual pleasures, and stay impartial like flowers, silk, ghee, and the deer-skin, which do not discriminate between people. 13.
The devotee, who is blessed by Allah, is the true valiant who fights against the five demons; and the one on whom Allah casts a kind sight is a truly learned person, an enlightenment-seeker, or a haji. 14. The individual, who understands the Creator of nature and of the world, praises and loves the compassionate Allah and His Huqam, gets emancipated from the worldly bonds, and swims across the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 15.3.12.

Waheguru, which protects the fetus in the heat of the mother's womb with His Naam (which the fetus is believed to recite), and which does not let him get killed by the germs in the blood, and which raises and nourishes him, is the Lord of all hearts (living beings). 2.

I have found shelter in Waheguru by singing His praise in the company of the Guru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam all the time, my future suffering of rebirths has been eradicated, and there is no fear of death for me now (because I have merged into Waheguru). 3.

The light-like Waheguru is omnipotent, indescribable, and inaccessible. All the living beings serve Him (obey His Huqam). He raises and nourishes all the living beings from all four sources of reproduction, in many different ways. 4. Those who enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in their mind are pulled out of the deep and dark well of Maya by Waheguru and are embraced by Him as His own (children). They feel as if they have acquired all the treasures of the world, but there are very few such holy saints. 5.

MEANING: It is the same Waheguru which is present at the beginning, at present, and at the end, and only that happens which the Creator wishes to do. All one's misgivings and fears are eradicated in the company (shelter) of the Guru, leaving no lethargy (indolence) or (spiritually) killing vices behind in the devotee. 6.

Singing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, and begging for the dust of the feet of the holy men (an opportunity to serve them) are the superior (best) things to do. By doing so, all one's sins and worldly desires are destroyed, and he is left with no desire for worldly attractions. 7. The holy saints lead a different lifestyle, always keeping Waheguru close to them. They remember Him with every breath, and with every bite of food, and show no laziness in worshipping Him. 8.
I see the omniscient Waheguru everywhere I look. I beg Him that I should not forget Him even for a short moment. His devotees sustain themselves spiritually by reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which is fully present in the forests, the waters, and the land. 9.
A devotee, who stays alert (against the attacks of Maya) by remembering Waheguru day and night, does not suffer even from a touch of hot air. He has no connection with (attraction for) Maya, and enjoys blissfulness by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 10.
Such a devotee sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the Guru (with His Shabad), and suffers from no ailment, grief, or any other trouble. I also pray to the Creator of the world, Waheguru, to kindly grant me His Naam. 11.

MEANING: Your Naam is the most precious jewel, and Your devotees are imbued in Your love, oh dear and limitless Waheguru. Those who are imbued with Your love become just like You, but there are very few of them who are found in the world. 12.
My mind longs for the dust of the feet of such devotees (wish to serve them with reverence) who never forget Waheguru anytime. One attains the highest spiritual state in their company, and Waheguru becomes their permanent companion. 13.
That holy saint is one's dear friend who reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his heart, whereby he (the devotee) gets rid of his evil thinking. With the teachings of the holy saint, one's mind is purified, and he gives up (overcomes) his lust, rage, and ego. 14.
The Guru made me drop on the Feet of Waheguru (connected me with Him), and now I realize that I have no real friend other than Waheguru. I am a sacrifice to my Perfect Guru, who has cut the illusion of the fire of my desires into pieces. 15.

Word Meaning: Churn Kumul = Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam). Dhaareen = acquire. Numuskaareen = bow to. Urp(i) = offer. Soohaavna = attractive; comforting. 1. Jeeou = life. Pind(u) = body. MEANING: I wish to bow to the Perfect Guru every moment, and offer my body and my mind before Him, (because it is with His grace that) I can enshrine Waheguru's Naam in my mind all the time. Waheguru's Naam is very highly blissful in the world. 1.

Why should anyone drop the Lord, Waheguru, from his mind? It is Waheguru who gives the man his life and his body, and makes it beautiful. One should remember the Creator with every breath and every bite (to be spiritually rewarded) because one reaps the reward of what he sows. 2. One should keep Waheguru, which no one is devoid of, in mind all the twenty-four hours, and recite the Naam of the immortal Lord in the company of the Guru so as to earn praise in Waheguru's Court (and to merge into Him). 3.

Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of all the 18 supernatural powers, of the four desired things (high morality, wealth, fulfilment of wishes and emancipation), of the nine mythical treasures of the world, and of the blissfulness of the high spiritual state. Sing praise of the Lord in the shelter of the Guru if you wish all wellbeing for you, oh man. 4.

Even the Vedas and the other holy books teach that man should win the objective of his life (emancipation) (which can be achieved only by singing Waheguru's praise). So, get rid of your lust, and rage, and quit vilification of others, and sing Lord's praise with your tongue, (to achieve emancipation), oh, Nanak. 5.

Dhoor(i) = by Waheguru. Viyaapaiy = impact. Luvaiy Na Laavna = consider equal. 10.

MEANING: The devotee, who recites day and night the Naam of the Perfect Waheguru, who has no form, no physical features, no clan, and no caste, and which is present everywhere, is highly fortunate, and never goes into the mother's womb again (never takes rebirth). 6.

The individual, who forgets the Carver of our fates, Waheguru, burns in the fire of worldly desires and keeps suffering all the time. Nobody can protect the ungrateful, and he is put in the torturous hell (suffers in rebirths). 7. The individual, who ignores Waheguru, who created him, and gave him life, body, and wealth, and who protected him in his mother's womb, and honoured him (with superior human life), and is actually imbued in the love of others (family, Maya, etc.), never succeeds in getting emancipation. 8.

You are present in every heart, and are very close to everybody, oh my Lord, Waheguru. We have no control over anything, and only that individual gets enlightened whom You enlighten, so be kind, and enlighten me too, please. 9.
Maya (worldly attractions) cannot affect the individual who has good fortune prewritten on his forehead (in his fate) by Waheguru. Waheguru's devotees are always in His shelter, and they do not acknowledge anybody else as equal to Him, oh Nanak. 10.

Word Meaning: Aagiya = with His Huqam. Birlay = some rare person. Cheenay = recognize. Jut Kut = everywhere. Ohee = the same (God). Sumaavna = is present. 11.
Baal-Suhaayi = supporter from childhood. Mun(i) Bhaavna = liked in mind. 12.
Mirt(u) = death. Aap(u) Vunjaavna = lose self; feel humiliation. 13.
Gaandhay = reconnects. Kur(i) Apunay = making own. 14.
Keemut(i) = worth. Achurj Roop = amazing appearances. Bhagat(i) = of worship. 15.
MEANING: All the comforts and discomforts are controlled by Waheguru with His Laws. But some rare person realizes this fact with Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam. Even though Waheguru is present everywhere, no one can gauge the worth of His virtues. 11.
Waheguru is the best Provider, but being present in everybody, He is also His own devotee (consumer). He is Perfect, and is the carver of our fates. He is a friend from childhood of the man whom He likes. 12. Death, suffering, and comforts are already prewritten by Waheguru for each individual, which never increase even slightly (not even the size of a sesame seed), and cannot be reduced by any means by man. Only that happens which is to the liking of Waheguru; the man simply feels humiliated by complaining. 13.
Waheguru pulls some individuals out of the dark well of Maya (deep attachments to Maya that kill one's spirituality) and reconnects them with Him by His choice. He embraces them as His own with His benevolence, and protects them (from the attacks of Maya) by putting them in the shelter of the Guru, where they sing His praise. 14.
Waheguru has many amazing appearances and has unparalleled majesty, but nobody can tell His worth (splendour). I beg for the gift of His worship from Waheguru, and am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 15.1.14.22.24.2.14.62.

ਮਾਰੂ ਵਾਰ ਮਹਲਾ 3॥ ੴਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥

Maru Vaar, Mehla 3: Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i):

ਸਲੋਕੁ ਮ:1॥ ਵਿਣੁ ਗਾਹਕ ਗੁਣੁ ਵੇਚੀਐ ਤਉ ਗੁਣੁ ਸਹਘੋ ਜਾਇ॥ ਗੁਣਾ ਕਾ ਗਾਹਕੁ ਜੇ ਮਿਲੈ ਤਉ ਗੁਣੁ ਲਾਖ ਵਿਕਾਇ॥

(ਅੰਗ 1087)॥ ਗੁਣ ਤੇ ਗੁਣ ਮਿਲਿ ਪਾਈਐ ਜੇ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਮਾਹਿ ਸਮਾਇ॥ ਮੋਲਿ ਅਮੋਲੁ ਨ ਪਾਈਐ ਵਣਜਿ ਨ ਲੀਜੈ ਹਾਟਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਪੂਰਾ ਤੋਲੁ ਹੈ ਕਬਹੁ ਨ ਹੋਵੈ ਘਾਟਿ॥ 1॥

Sloak(u) M:1: Vin(u) gaahuk goon(u) vaychiyaiy, tuou goon(u) sehgho jaayay, Goona ka gaahuk(u) jay milaiy, tuou goon(u) lakh vikaayay.

(PAGE 1087): Goon tay goon mil(i) paayiyaiy jay Satgur maah(i) smaayay. Moal(u) amoal(u), na paayiyaiy, vunuj(i) na leejaiy haat(i). Nanak, poora toal(u) haiy, kubhoon na hovaiy ghaat(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Vin(u) = without. Gaahuk = (knowledgeable) buyer. Sehgho = cheap; inexpensive. Goon Tay = Waheguru's virtues. Smaayay = get absorbed (in the shelter). Moal(u) = price. Amoal(u) = priceless. Vunuj(i) = merchandize (Waheguru's Naam) Haat(i) = worldly shops. Poora Toal = full price (offering self to Waheguru). 1.

MEANING: If we sell a product to a buyer who has no knowledge about the real qualities of the product, the product will fetch a much lower price; but if a buyer knows the real worth of the qualities of the product, it will sell for millions (at a much higher price). Similarly, Waheguru's virtues (His Naam) can be acquired only by singing praise of His qualities in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru's Naam is priceless and it cannot be bought at any shop at any price. Its price is fixed, and one must acquire the required noble qualities (high morality and Waheguru's praise) to enshrine the Naam in the heart, and this price is never lowered. Such noble qualities can be acquired only in Satguru's shelter, who is the source of these qualities, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:4॥ ਨਾਮ ਵਿਹੂਣੇ ਭਰਮਸਹਿ ਆਵਹਿ ਜਾਵਹਿ ਨੀਤ॥ ਇਕਿ ਬਾਧੇ ਇਕਿ ਢੀਲਿਆ ਇਕਿ ਸੁਖੀਏ ਹਰਿ ਪ੍ਰੀਤਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਚਾ ਮੰਨਿ ਲੈ ਸਚੁ ਕਰਣੀ ਸਚੁ ਰੀਤਿ॥ 2॥

Word Meaning: Vihoonay = empty; devoid of. Bhermseh(i) = wander through. Neet = everyday; continuously. Baandhay = tightly attached (to Maya). Dheeliya = loosely attached. Sach(u) = ever-true (Naam). Kerni = performance. Reet(i) = custom; lifestyle. 2.

MEANING: Those who are devoid of Waheguru's Naam go through many life forms (take rebirths) continuously. Some are strongly attached to Maya, while others are somewhat loosely attached. Yet, some others feel blissful in Waheguru's love. The best deed for the man to perform, and the best lifestyle, is to accept Waheguru's Huqam (enshrine His eternal Naam) in the heart, oh Nanak. 2.

Sach sunjum(i), mut(i) ootma, Hur(i) lugga piyara. Subh(u) Sacho, Sach(u) vertda, Sach(u) sirjunhaara. 1.

Word Meaning: Khurrug(u) = sword (like). Kuraara = very strong. Bherm Gurrh(u) = the fort of illusions. Kuttiay = demolished. Sunjum(i) = with control on senses. Ootma = superior. Vertda = operates.

MEANING: One acquires the Divine Knowledge from the Guru, which is strong (sharp) like a sword, and which cuts into pieces (demolishes) his fort of misgivings, his worldly attachments, his greed, and his ego. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's Naam is embedded (enshrined) in his heart, and, with control over his senses through the Naam, his thoughts are purified, and he begins to love Waheguru; he also realizes that it is Waheguru that operates everywhere. 1.

ਸਲੋਕੁ ਮ:3॥ ਕੇਦਾਰਾ ਰਾਗਾ ਵਿਚਿ ਜਾਣੀਐ ਭਾਈ ਸਬਦੇ ਕਰੇ ਪਿਆਰੁ॥ ਸਤਸੰਗਤਿ ਸਿਉ ਮਿਲਦੋ ਰਹੈ ਸਚੇ ਧਰੇ ਪਿਆਰੁ॥ ਵਿਚਹੁ ਮਲੁ ਕਟੇ ਆਪਣੀ ਕੁਲਾ ਕਾ ਕਰੇ ਉਧਾਰੁ॥ ਗੁਣਾ ਕੀ ਰਾਸਿ ਸੰਗ੍ਰਹੈ ਅਵਗਣ ਕਢੈ ਵਿਡਾਰਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਮਿਲਿਆ ਸੋ ਜਾਣੀਐ ਗੁਰੂ ਨ ਛੋਡੈ ਆਪਣਾ ਦੂਜੈ ਨ ਧਰੇ ਪਿਆਰੁ॥ 1॥

Word Meaning: Kedara = (a less popular) Raag. Mul(u) = filth. Koolaan = of clans. Raas(i) = capital; wealth. Sungrehaiy = accumulate. Uvgun = bad qualities. Vidaar(i) = by destroying. Doojay = the other (Maya).

MEANING: Even the less popular Raag, Kedara, gets well recognized among the popular raags if Guru's Shabads are written in this Raag, and people love them. Guru's Shabad connects the devotee with the company of the holy saints, and he begins to love Waheguru. Not only does he wash away the filth of his own mind with Guru's Shabad, but he also salvages his associates. He accumulates the wealth of noble qualities and cleanses his mind by destroying his bad qualities. Only that devotee is considered to be connected with Waheguru, who does not leave the shelter of the Guru, and does not love anybody else (like attractions of Maya), oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:4॥ ਸਾਗਰੁ ਦੇਖਉ ਡਰਿ ਮਰਉ ਭੈ ਤੇਰੈ ਡਰੁ ਨਾਹਿ॥ ਗੁਰ ਕੈ ਸਬਦਿ ਸੰਤੋਖੀਆ ਨਾਨਕ ਬਿਗਸਾ ਨਾਇ॥ 2॥

Word Meaning: Saagur(u) = (world) sea. Suntokeeya = contented. Bigsaan = bloom.

MEANING: When I watch the sea of Maya (the destructive effects of Maya), I get frightened, but I am left with no such fear when I have Your fear (faith in You) in mind, oh, Waheguru. Guru's Shabad has given contentment to my mind, and my heart blooms with Waheguru's Naam. 2.

ਮ:4॥ ਚੜਿ ਬੋਹਿਥੈ ਚਾਲਸਉ ਸਾਗਰੁ ਲਹਰੀ ਦੇਇ॥ ਠਾਕ ਨ ਸਚੈ ਬੋਹਿਥੈ ਜੇ ਗੁਰੁ ਧੀਰਕ ਦੇਇ॥ ਤਿਤੁ ਦਰਿ ਜਾਇ ਉਤਾਰੀਆ ਗੁਰੁ ਦਿਸੈ ਸਾਵਧਾਨੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਦਰੀ ਪਾਈਐ ਦਰਗਹ ਚਲੈ ਮਾਨੁ॥ 3॥

Word Meaning: Bohithaiy = on the Guru-ship. Lehreen = waves. Tthaak = obstruction. Dheeruk = encouragement. Titt(u) = His (God). Saavdhaan = alert. Maan(u) = pride.
MEANING: I set my journey of life by boarding the ship of Guru's Shabad in the sea of Maya, which is full of tall waves of its attractions (in the form of sensual pleasures). But with Guru's encouragement (blessings), there are no obstructions to this Ship. My Guru is very alert (a great captain), and He ferries us across the sea to Waheguru's Door (connects His devotees with Him, unaffected by the attractions of Maya). It is with His benevolence that one goes to Waheguru's Court with pride (confidence), oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Nihkuntuk = without any thorn (trouble). Raj(u) = rule on mind. Kumaayi = earnings; wealth. Sach(u) = Naam. Sachaiy = eternal. Tukhut = throne. Niyaaoun Kur(i) = delivers justice. Oodaysh(u) = teachings; Shabad. Bun Aayi = have same views (love each other). Aithaiy = in this life. Sukhaayi = friend. Oopji = sprouted. Sojhi = understanding. 2.
MEANING: With the wealth of Waheguru's Naam acquired in the shelter of the Guru, one enjoys reign on his mind without any opposition from any of his senses. When such a devotee is connected with the gathering of holy saints by Waheguru, who delivers justice sitting on His eternal throne, he recites His Naam with Guru's Shabad, and earns Waheguru's love (approval). With the Guru enlightening his mind, he begins to love Waheguru. The source of all comforts, Waheguru, takes dwelling in the devotee's mind in this world, and He becomes his friend (supporter) at the end. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhooli = lost. Paadhur(u) = the right path (of spirituality). Saajun = dear friend (Waheguru). Oot Hee Tthaayay = at the same place. Triptaasiyaiy = contentment. Sifteen = with Waheguru's praise. Naayay = with Guru's Shabad. 1.
MEANING: I followed the journey of life, misled by the attractions of Maya, and nobody showed me the right path. I wish to seek the advice of the (spiritually) wise men to get rid of my suffering. (I was told) that if I enshrine the Perfect Satguru (His Shabad) in my mind, I will also find Waheguru there (in my mind). Now, I know that one can achieve the stabilization of mind (contentment) by singing the praise of Waheguru (with Guru's Shabad), oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਆਪੇ ਕਰਣੀ ਕਾਰ ਆਪਿ ਆਪੇ ਕਰੇ ਰਜਾਇ॥ ਆਪੇ ਕਿਸ ਹੀ ਬਖਸਿ ਲਏ ਆਪੇ ਕਾਰ ਕਮਾਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਚਾਨਣੁ ਗੁਰ ਮਿਲੈ ਦੁਖ ਬਿਖੁ ਜਾਲੀ ਨਾਇ॥ 2॥

Word Meaning: Kerni Kaar = deeds worth performing. Rujaay = Will. Jaaleen = I burn.

You should realize that all worldly wealth is false because it does not accompany you when you leave the world. The ignorant and (spiritually) blind man does not understand that the sword of the Angel of death is hanging over his head. Those who have tasted the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam are salvaged with the grace of the Guru. Waheguru Himself does everything and makes others do things of His liking, and He is the guard of His devotees. 3.

Without Waheguru's Naam, the worries of worldly affairs of such people never go away from their mind, and they are hit hard with them again, and again, like the big metallic bell, which is struck at regular intervals, and like the clothes which are hit hard against a hard surface (to clean them), oh Nanak. 1.

He makes them worship Him (recite His Naam) with the Guru's Shabad, which is their letter of identification (to have union with Him). The devotees, who obey the Guru's Teachings, are always pure, look dignified, and are recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court. Those who recognize (make a connection with) Waheguru are emancipated in this world and the next. Those who serve Waheguru are worthy of respect; I am always a sacrifice for them. 4.

No other taste (of life) gives enjoyment to the devotee who has tasted the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Such devotees become fully content with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and their desires for Maya remain restrained (they come to an end). 5.

MEANING: Only that individual sits on the throne of his mind (rules it) who deserves to do so. Those who connect with Waheguru can control their minds and are kings in the true sense. The conventional rajahs of countries are not the true kings, as they suffer because of their love for Maya. What can be said in praise of the things created by Waheguru (they should not be praised), which are perishable, and do not take long to perish? Waheguru alone is eternal, and the individual who understands Him (makes a connection with Him) in the shelter of the Guru, also becomes immortal. 6.

Word Meaning: Adhik = many. Trung = waves; desires. Chhootiyaiy = get freedom. Raachaiy = get absorbed. Goohrraiy Rung(i) = in deep love. Apaar = limitless (God).

MEANING: How can one get emancipation in Waheguru's Court when countless waves of desires arise in his mind? Yes, one can get emancipation by Guru's grace if he attaches his mind with the limitless Waheguru, and gets imbued in His deep love. 2.

If one sings His praise all the time in the shelter of the Guru, he can understand His unlimited worth. His lotus-like heart blooms with Guru's Shabad, and he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru puts an end to his rebirths, and he sleeps in (enjoys) the bliss of the high spiritual state. 7.

Word Meaning: Maiyla = unclean. Dhoondhlaa = blurred. Bhungvaan = the colour of the yogis' outfit. Kuch = breakable; short-lived worldly attachments. Laalo Laal = deep red and only red = never fading. Rutta = imbued. Sach(u) = pure; eternal. 1.

MEANING: The devotee, whose mind gets dyed with the deep red colour of love for Waheguru (gets imbued in His deep love), becomes like Him. He never becomes unclean through vices, and his vision is never blurred (he does not discriminate against people); he does not need to wear the garb of any faith, and he never gets attached to worldly things again. 1.

Word Meaning: Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Vunusput(i) = vegetation. Bhuvur(u) = Bhirung(u) = bumblebee. Vussaiy = stays. Bhaiy-Khund(i) = destroying all fears. Turvur = tree (shelter). 2.

MEANING: A bumblebee goes from one flower to another, and does not stay with one flower; similarly, the man seeks sensual pleasures in many different ways. On the other hand, birds return to the same tree every night where they take shelter and feel safe. Similarly, the man who takes shelter of Waheguru alone, unlike the bumblebees, does not seek sensual enjoyments, and has all his fears eradicated, and safely enjoys the bliss of a high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Loojhaiy = struggles; fights. Sooray = valiant. Perdhaana = heroes. Sayti = with. Meht(u) = greatness. Tineh(i) = those. Jitaana = conquered. 8.

MEANING: Those who fight with their mind (sensual desires) are the true valiant and heroes. They analyze the self (their root - Waheguru), and stay connected with Him all the time. It is the greatness of the holy saints that their minds stay in themselves (do not wander around). They reach Waheguru's Residence (connect with Him) by focusing their minds on Him. Those who conquer their mind with the grace of the Guru, conquer the whole world (all their worldly desires). 8.

Word Meaning: Bhuvaan = roam around. Bheekhiya = beg for alms. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Kis(u), Kis(u) = to how many people? Murrhi = body; mind. Bhaykheen = in religious garbs. Haath Na Ludhiyaa = acquire. Buddhi =trapped. 1.

MEANING: (Yogis beg for their food at every door to show their detachment from the world; but they become debtors to all those people), so, disapproving this practice, Guru Amar Dass Ji says that "if I become a yogi, and beg from door to door, then how many people I will have to be answerable to when the account of my deeds is examined in Waheguru's Court? One cannot acquire Waheguru in one's heart to become immortal (yogis are known to live much longer by their yogic exercises) simply by wearing religious garbs; everybody is trapped in the net of death. However, if a man begs for the alms of Waheguru's Naam and attains contentment of mind, he has Waheguru with him all the time. Everything else is false, so remember only Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dur = door; shelter. Laykha = account of deeds. Loarr(i) = need; find. Jayvud = as great. Chootiyaiy = get freedom (from bonds of Maya); emancipation. 2.

MEANING: Do not serve at the door of someone if the account of your deeds is still examined in Waheguru's Court (and you are punished). Seek the shelter of Satguru, who has no one as great as He is, oh my friend. One is emancipated in His shelter, and no one asks for his accounts in Waheguru's Court. Satguru reinforces Waheguru (His Naam) in His own mind, and reinforces it in the devotee's mind too, and gives His Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) to the devotee. The mind and the body of the devotee, who has Waheguru in his heart, become pure. The devotee, who obeys Waheguru's Huqam with Satguru's grace, earns everlasting praise (approval of Waheguru). The Sikh, on whom Satguru casts His kind sight, gets absorbed (merged) into Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sooray = valiants. Ahunkaar(i) = in ego. Doojaiy = in love for the other (Maya). Puch(i) = burn at heart; suffer. Loojhday = fight. Uggaiy Pichhaiy = everywhere. Kook(i) = aloud. Vigutti = unemancipated; engrossed in Maya. 9.

MEANING: Those are not called valiant who suffer and die in their ego. Such spiritually blind do not analyze themselves, and burn in the fire of their desires for Maya. Due to their ego, they fight because of their extreme rage, and suffer everywhere (in this world and the next). Even the Vedas say aloud that Waheguru does not like ego. Those who die in their ego leave this world unemancipated and continue taking births and dying. 9.

Word Meaning: Kaagoun = from crow = a filthy-minded. Oojla = white; swan; a devotee of the Guru (a holy man). Pirm Pdaaruth = valuable (Naam) of the Dear (Waheguru). Suvaarunhaar(u) = purifier of mind (Guru). Sir(i) = on top of. Kaasht = wood. Paar(i) = floats across. Trishna = appetite of desires. Saar(u) = supreme. 1.
MEANING: Just like a crow, which cannot turn into a swan, the immoral person cannot transform into a devotee of Waheguru on his own. But, like a piece of iron on top of a wooden piece can float over water to the other end, the immoral person can be salvaged if he accepts (enshrines) Waheguru's Naam in his heart with the grace of the great Guru, who adorns his mind with noble qualities (purifies it). With his supreme way of life, he gets rid of his appetite for desires and leads his life with the fear of God in mind. 1.

Word Meaning: Maaroo = desert; wilderness. Maarun = to kill (desires of the mind). Guvaar = foolish. Loachaiy = longs for. Bhaytaiy = meet with. Soyay = as wished. 2.
MEANING: The foolish, who goes to some secluded place, to kill his mind (its desires), cannot do so. The mind can be killed (controlled) only by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. The desires cannot be killed by one's own efforts, even though everybody longs to do so. One can control his desires in his own mind, provided he seeks the Guru's shelter, who can enable him to do so, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dovaiy Terfaan = both sides; devotees (seekers) of God, and lovers of Maya. Shakut(i) = of Maya. Shiv = Waheguru (Naam). Vaasa = presence. Binaasa = destruction; death. Shaant(i) = peace; freedom from rebirths. Giraasa = (with every bite. Sodh(i) = analyze. Ootum = superior. Thir(u) = stable; immortal. 10.
MEANING: Waheguru has created the world with Maya and His Naam as its bases, and has created two paths for humans to follow – high morality with Waheguru's Naam, and love for Maya. No one can get emancipation with his love for Maya, and such people keep taking births and dying. One achieves freedom from rebirths by serving the Guru by reciting His Shabad with every breath and with every bite. Even the Vedas and Shastras testify to the fact that Waheguru's devotees are superior (achieve emancipation). Nobody can achieve immortality without Waheguru's Naam, and I am always a sacrifice for His Naam, oh Nanak.10.

Word Meaning: Pundit = highly literary person. Joatki = fortune-teller. Mookh(i) = by heart (from memory). Poojiyaan = worshipped. Chujj(i) Veechaar(i) = because of manners and thinking (wisdom). Mut(u) = lest. Sacha Akkhur (u) = everlasting word (Naam). Chaunka = kitchen. Bhittay = impurify (caused by some lowest-caste person by his mere presence). Jhootthay = false; impure. Sacha = eternal; pure. 1.

MEANING: Brahmans study the Vedas and maintain external cleanliness to the extent that they do not allow the low-caste people to enter their kitchens. If a pundit is well-learned, tells people's fortunes, can recite all four Vedas from memory, is well known in the world because of his manners and wisdom, and maintains external cleanliness, he still cannot achieve purity of mind because all external cleanliness is short-lived, and cannot purify the mind. The important thing is that he should not forget Waheguru's Naam, which is the only thing that is eternal and which purifies the mind, oh Nanak. 1.

This fear affects everybody in the world uncontrollably, and tortures the sinners the most. But one can connect with Waheguru by acting on the Guru's Shabad and realizing that there is nothing to fear about death. One should not be misled by the attractions of the world because Waheguru demands the account of his deeds. Waheguru has the account of everybody's love and attachment (with Him or with Maya). MEANING: Unlike the bumblebee, which enjoys the sap of many flowers, a devotee who stays detached from worldly enjoyments, and sees Waheguru everywhere, stays embraced to Waheguru's neck (enjoys His affection) when he stitches his diamond-like pure mind with the Waheguru-diamond. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru adorns His devotees with His Naam, which is like the nine mythical treasures. Also, He misleads some through the illusions of Maya; they fail to achieve their real objective in life. Some make a connection with Waheguru in the Guru's shelter. Some others perform the superior deed of listening to and obeying Waheguru's Naam. They sing praise of Waheguru's virtues, whereby love for Him sprouts in their mind. 13.

MEANING: Waheguru takes dwelling in the heart, which is innocent, has fear of Waheguru, and holds no discrimination against anyone. With extreme jealousy, one's body, mind, and wisdom - all three - get polluted, and he suffers a great deal. 1.

MEANING: The sea of Maya, which is full of its three qualities, is unfathomable, and nobody can know its limits (and is almost impossible to swim across). However, if I can take the shelter of the great and carefree Satguru, I can swim across it. The middle (all of it) of the sea of Maya is the source of huge problems. Without Waheguru's Naam, its attractions have not satisfied anyone's appetite, oh Nanak. 3.

MEANING: Those who search their inner-self (mind) for Waheguru with the mind-adorning (purifying) Shabad of the Guru, get any and all their wishes fulfilled with the recitation of Waheguru's Naam. Those who are kind to Waheguru get connected with the Guru and sing Waheguru's praise in His shelter. The Angel of justice becomes their friend, and they are not put on the path leading to spiritual death. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam day and night get absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 14.

MEANING: It is the same Waheguru which is heard, and described in the sky, in this world, and the underworld. Waheguru's Huqam as to who dies, what causes one's death, who takes rebirths, and who becomes immortal by merging into Him by the focus of one's pure thoughts, is prewritten for everyone, and cannot be erased by anyone, and must be obeyed, to the end, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Huoun = selfishness and ego. Mein = I; mine. Paun Duriyaou = air and river (storm of sensual pleasures). Trishna = appetite of desires. Thukki = exhausted; loses urge. Rutta Naayay = imbued in the Naam. Loyin = eyes. Loyini = in eyes. Kunnie = in ears. Soort(i) = senses. Smaayay = absorbed. Rusaayin = the source of all sweetness (Naam). Choonrri = absorbent. Laal = ruby. Luvaayay = with recitation of the Naam. Mooshk(i) Jhukoliya = spreads fragrance. 2.
MEANING: Because of the storm of sensual desires in his mind, the man suffers spiritual death due to his selfishness, ego, and his nature of possessiveness. However, his appetite for worldly desires gets exhausted (he feels satisfied) when he recites Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. His eyes are imbued with love for Waheguru, and their urge to see worldly beauty remains with them. His sense of hearing pleasing sounds becomes absorbed into his ears (no longer interested in listening to such sounds). His tongue sucks the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam by its recitation, and becomes like a highly valuable ruby. His body spreads the fragrance of Waheguru's, the worth of which cannot be described. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the real treasure in the world, which accompanies the man after his death. This treasure is inexhaustible and never runs out when you use it (recite it) donate to (share with) others, or keep it in your possession, oh man. The assistants of the Angel of death, or the Angel himself, do not go near the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam. Those who have Waheguru's Naam in their possession (in their heart) are truly wealthy and the real businessmen. One acquires Waheguru's Naam only through His benevolence when He gives it to him. 15.

Word Meaning: Saar = worth. Bikh(u) = poisonous Maya. Bihaajheh(i) = buys; deals in. Sungreh(i) = accumulates. Sudaayaynday = call themselves; look like. Gavaar = unrefined; foolish. Vaadeen = in discussions. Ahaar(u) = food; earn a living. Akaar(u) = visible things. Chaytni = remember. Maiylay = filthy; impure.

MEANING: The Maya-worshipping pundit does not realize the worth of the true business (of Waheguru's Naam). He loves the poisonous, immoral pleasures, deals in them, and accumulates (continues to deal in) them. Outwardly, the foolish and the unrefined look like a well-learned person, but he does not have any love for God, and loves to take part in worthless religious debates. He talks about discussions and earns his living by telling lies (untrue stories). Only Waheguru's Naam is pure (purifies the mind) in this world, while everything else is filthy (pollutes the mind). The foolish do not remember Waheguru's Naam, and die with a filthy mind, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sujaayay = punishment; suffering. Rujaayay = Will.

MEANING: One suffers in life without serving Waheguru, but all one's sufferings go away when he obeys Waheguru's Huqam (Will). Waheguru is the source of all comforts, and He also punishes the immoral. One must realize that everything happens with His Will, oh, Nanak.

Word Meaning: Nirdhun(u) = poor. Triput(i) = contentment. Bherm(i) Bhoolaaya = lost in illusions. Kerma = good fortune. Lochaahi = longs for. Chhootaahi = freedom.

MEANING: The world is (spiritually) poor without the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, and cannot have contentment without the Naam. The man is misled by his illusions about Maya and suffers because of his selfishness and ego. But one cannot acquire anything (including the Naam) without good fortune, even if one longs much for that. He continues to take births and dying, but is emancipated with Guru's Shabad. 16.

Word Meaning: Sunteen = holy saints. Itt(u) = this. Luthi = comes off. Dhoor(i) = from the Source (Waheguru). Jugut(u) = world. Nirdhun(u) = penniless. Bil-laayay = wails for. Shaant(i) = contentment. Chint Chitvuda = lost in worries. Sehsa = worry. Mut(i) Bhuvvi = has twisted wisdom (thinking). Kmaayay = implements in life. 1.

MEANING: The holy saints, who get connected with the Guru with the benevolence of Waheguru, earn the wealth (of Waheguru's Naam) in this world. Nobody can tell the worth of Waheguru's Naam, which the Guru reinforces in the mind of the devotees. One becomes fully content with this wealth and acquires blissfulness in one's mind. Those who have it preordained by Waheguru acquire His Naam in their minds. The world of the Maya-lover is poor in spiritual wealth, and he wails for Maya all the time. His appetite for wealth never goes away, and he keeps looking for it day and night. He never gets peace of mind and never acquires mental comfort. He is always lost in worries which never go away. One's thinking is twisted without the Guru's guidance, but when he connects with the Guru, he lives by His Shabad, oh Nanak. He gets absorbed in Waheguru's praise and lives in bliss at all times. 1.

Word Meaning: Maydni = world. Saar(u) = looks after. Bhaayirhou = oh, brothers. Chungiyaayiyaan = goodness. Triput(i) = contentment. Pehnun = wearing. Sift(i) Snaayay = praise. Oojla = clean; pure. Maiyla = filthy; impure. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Ttorra = less. Sheengaar(u) = adornment. Vikhaalay = shows; enlightens. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru, which has created the world, looks after it too. There is none other like Him, so recite only His Naam, oh my brothers. If one makes Guru's Shabad and the noble qualities his mental food, he becomes fully contented forever (leaves with no appetite for worldly desires). Similarly, if he uses Waheguru's praise as his clothes to wear (to protect his dignity against the attacks by the demons), he becomes clean forever, and never becomes filthy in his mind again. He earns the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in a high spiritual state, which never lessens. Satguru's Shabad adorns his body, and he always enjoys blissfulness. But only that devotee gets the enlightenment in the shelter of the Guru, whom Waheguru enlightens Himself. 2.

MEANING: To "see" Waheguru with Guru's Shabad inside you, is the real recitation of any mantras, self-torturing, or to exercise control on your senses, oh man. One's selfishness, ego, and ignorance disappear by reciting Waheguru's Naam. The human body is full of Waheguru's immortalizing Naam, but one realizes its great taste only by tasting (reciting) it. Those who recite it become fearless and get fully contented with its sweetness. Spiritual death does not come near the individual who drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with His benevolence. 17.

Word Meaning: Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Gunttrri = bale; package. Vihaajhaiy = deal in. Gaahuk(u) = customer; dealer. Virla = rare. Paayiun(i) = acquire.
MEANING: People put together a package of ignoble qualities (accumulate) them, and do not buy (deal in) the noble qualities. There is a rare person who is a customer for noble qualities. But the individual, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, acquires them with Guru's grace. 2.

Word Meaning: Goon = noble qualities. Uvgoon = bad qualities. Smaan(i) = the same. Kartar(i) = God.

MEANING: A devotee, who has full faith in Waheguru, gladly accepts the good and the bad qualities in him as being given by Waheguru. One enjoys blissfulness by obeying Waheguru's Will by pondering on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru-King has His dwelling and His Throne in everybody's heart, sitting on which He delivers His justice, and provides His support. But one can find the door to His Court only with the Guru's Shabad. He tests the deeds of everybody, and accepts the pious in His treasure (makes them a part of His) while the unholy have no room there. The eternal Waheguru operates everywhere, and His justice is always perfect. Those who realize the presence of His Naam in their heart enjoy the Amrit-like sweetness of His Naam. 18.

Gurmut(i) Alukh(u) lukhaayiyaiy, ootum mut(i) turaah(i). Nanak sohun(g) hunsa jup(u) jaap-hou, tirbhuvun Tisaiy smaah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Boojhna = riddle; secret. Giyani = spiritually enlightened. Akuth Kutha = the indescribable tale. Tutt(u) = reality; the basis. Alukh(u) = the incomprehensible (God). Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Bherm(u) = illusions; misconceptions. Lukhaayiyaiy = comprehend. Ootum = superior; free of illusions. Turaah(i) = can swim across. Sohun(g) = I am Him. Hunsa = He is me (human soul is a part of the Supreme Soul). Tisaiy = in Him. Smaahay = are present in Him (are supported by Him). 1.

MEANING: When I operate under the influence of my haumein, I do not realize Your presence in my heart, but when I feel Your presence, all my selfishness and ego disappear, oh Waheguru. But only the spiritually enlightened saints realize this indescribable tale of Waheguru's secrets. Without the Guru's guidance, one does not realize that the incomprehensible Waheguru resides in the human body. One's selfishness, his fears, and his illusions all disappear with the Guru's Advice, and the suffering of his rebirths comes to an end. One acquires superior thinking with the Guru's Advice, and he is able to "see" (comprehend) the invisible Waheguru, and swim across the world sea. Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which supports the three-layered universe in such a way that the human soul merges into the supreme Soul, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਮਨੁ ਮਾਣਕੁ ਜਿਨਿ ਪਰਖਿਆ ਗੁਰ ਸਬਦੀ ਵੀਚਾਰਿ॥ ਸੇ ਜਨ ਵਿਰਲੇ ਜਾਣੀਅਹਿ ਕਲਜੁਗ ਵਿਚਿ ਸੰਸਾਰਿ॥ ਆਪੈ ਨੋ ਆਪੁ ਮਿਲਿ ਰਹਿਆ ਹਉਮੈ ਦੁਬਿਧਾ ਮਾਰਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਾਮਿ ਰਤੇ ਦੁਤਰੁ ਤਰੇ ਭਉਜਲੁ ਬਿਖਮੁ ਸੰਸਾਰੁ॥ 2॥

MEANING: There are very few people in this world who analyze their pearl-like mind by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. They eradicate their selfishness, ego, and their indecisiveness with the Guru's Shabad, and control their mind so that it does not wander, and stays to itself. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's Naam swim across the world-sea, which is otherwise very difficult to cross, oh Nanak. 2.

Tuttay = hot; burned (in the fire of desires). Sodhni = analyze. Vigootay = suffer humiliation. Sutay = eternal. Gutay = high spiritual state.

MEANING: The followers of their mind do not search their inner self (for Waheguru's presence), and are robbed of their good qualities because of their ego-laden thinking. They travel in all four directions in search of more money, but grow exhausted with frustration and burn in the fire of dissatisfaction. They do not analyze their religious books, and suffer humiliation. Nobody has ever acquired the Naam of the eternal Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru. But the fact of the matter is that one attains a high spiritual state only by reciting and pondering on Waheguru's Naam. 19.

MEANING: Forgetting everything else, make friends with the “One” (Waheguru) (have faith in Him and connect with Him), oh my friend. Waheguru burns down all one’s sins, and he feels blessed by body and by mind. The cycle of his rebirths is broken, and he never takes birth or dies again. The devotee, who makes Waheguru’s Naam the basis of his life, does not burn in the fire of grief or of worldly attachments. So, accumulate the treasure (wealth) of Waheguru’s Naam in your mind, oh Nanak. 20.

Word Meaning: Dumma, Dumm = money and more money. Kerm = noble deed.
MEANING: The man does not remember Waheguru (the source of everything), but does not forget to ask for more and more wealth. This is not a noble deed (acceptable to Waheguru), oh Nanak. 1.

M:5: Maya saath(i) na chullyee, kiyya luptaaveh(i) undh? Gur kay Churn dhiyaayay tu, tooteh(i) Maya bundh. 2.
MEANING: Maya does not accompany one after his death; so, what are you clinging to, oh man? You should recite Satguru’s Shabad, which breaks the chains of Maya. 2.

There is no other largess as great as obeying Waheguru's Huqam with His Will. The devotee recites Waheguru's Naam for others as well. But only those devotees shape their life (to obey Waheguru's Will) who have it prewritten in their fate by Waheguru. I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, who has created the world, oh Nanak. 21.

Sloak M:3: Jinh kuou undar(i) Giyan(u) nuhhi, bhaiy kee naahi bind. Nanak, mooyaan ka kiyya maarna, j(i) Aap(i) maaray Govind. 1.
Word Meaning: Bind = extremely small amount. Mooyaan = already dead.
MEANING: Those who have no spiritual enlightenment and have no fear of Waheguru are spiritually killed by Him. So, what more is there to kill them who are already dead, oh Nanak?1.

Apaar(i) = limitless. 2.
MEANING: The Brahman consults the book of astrology to predict the future of his faithful, but one enjoys the supreme bliss when he ponders on the book of his own mind (analyzes for his deeds). That Brahman is considered noble who internalizes Waheguru by pondering on Him, and sings His praise and reads about Him with the Guru's Shabad. That devotee is welcome in the world (is approved) who salvages his associates by making them recite Waheguru's Naam. Nobody cares about one's caste (status in society) in Waheguru's Court; only recitation of the Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) is considered to be the supreme performance. Any other study or deed is worthless that enhances one's attachment to Maya. The follower of his mind does not enjoy peace of mind and suffers humiliation in life (wastes away his human life). Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam with limitless love for the Guru are salvaged, oh Nanak. 2.

It is the same Lord for everybody, and one gets imbued in His love with the Guru's Shabad. We should sing Waheguru's praise for His amazing feats in Guru's shelter. We all dance the way Waheguru makes us dance, oh Nanak. 22.1. Verified.

It was with Your approval (with the wisdom given to the authors by You) that the Vedas were written, which discuss the consequences of the noble deeds and of the sins. You also created gods like Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, and created the three effects of Maya. Waheguru created the earth with nine regions, and beautified it in many different colours (with wide varieties). He created many different varieties of living beings and placed His power (a part of His Soul) in them. Nobody knows your limits, oh, the eternal Creator. Nobody knows Your powers, oh the omnipresent Waheguru. You are the eternal emancipator of the world, and nobody can rival You in any way. You are the creator of the whole earth (world), and have created all four eons. You have created the birth-death cycle for living beings (due to their attachment to Maya), but Maya has no effect on You (so You are immortal). cannot fly away, the man who is attracted to Maya gets trapped by it (and cannot break loose); only some fortunate ones stay free from it. 2.

MEANING: I am a bard of Waheguru, and sing His praise at His Door (which is everywhere) – but only with His kind Will. Only my Waheguru is immortal, whereas everybody else is perishable and comes and goes. I beg Him for the donation (of His Sight) which satisfies my appetite for worldly attractions. Kindly show me Your Sight with which I will find contentment. The kind Waheguru listened to my prayer and called me inside His Palace (connected me with Him). All my troubles and the fire of my worldly desires disappeared on seeing the Lord, and I was so mesmerized that I forgot to beg for anything else. All my wishes were fulfilled when I dropped on His Feet (took His shelter). The kind Waheguru endowed the poor me, who had no good qualities, with His Sight and His Naam. 9.

Satguru ferried me across the world sea, and I have won the battle against the five demons (sensual pleasures). With Guru's Advice, now I am enjoying all the luxuries of life (and have won) the huge battle of life. My highly moral Waheguru has enabled me to control all my senses; now they do whatever I tell them to do, and there is no struggle (opposition) between me and the senses. My Satguru has reversed the thinking of my mind, and now it stays within it (does not wander around), and I can have any of my wishes fulfilled. morality) at all for long, and suffers for the immoral deeds committed by it. (It is a natural law that) The hand which does a bad deed is the one to suffer. If one wants to see the results without delay, he should put one hand in fire to see that it is the one which burns, while the other is safe. I have analyzed the history of all four eons, and have found out that one's ego does not go away without the company of the holy saints, and one cannot get rid of his haumein without the holy company of the Guru. The man cannot know the limits (greatness) of Waheguru as long as he is disconnected from Him. The devotee, who serves Waheguru (recites His Naam) in the shelter of the Guru, has Waheguru's support (His appearance) in him. MEANING: The indivisible (perfect) Waheguru, which is incomprehensible and indescribable, cannot be realized (by one's own efforts). The mystics of the six faiths wander around (without realizing Him) as Waheguru is not pleased with religious outfits. Even the rituals related to the phases of the moon are worthless (to please God). People read all four Vedas, but do not see the reality of God. The Pundit takes dips in holy places and wears anointment on his forehead, but has filth (of immorality) inside. Waheguru cannot be realized by religious garbs without the True Advice (of the Guru). The misled is put on the right path (leading to union with Waheguru) only if he has good fortune prewritten on his forehead by Waheguru. Those who connect with the Guru (with mental eyes) make their lives successful. 13.

Word Meaning: Hubh = all. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Jul Ghutaaoo = water container.
MEANING: Waheguru's Light is present in everybody like the image of the moon is seen in all vessels containing water. Waheguru Himself appears in the heart of the devotee who has it prewritten on his forehead, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: I recite Waheguru's Naam with a purified tongue (mind), and sing His praise all the twenty-four hours. Such a devotee (who was without any shelter or support before), is honoured in Waheguru's Court and given a special room there, oh Nanak. 3

Kerm Khoollah = when the luck strikes. Kaami = lends support. 14.

MEANING: The omniscient Waheguru cannot be realized by external religious garbs. The whole world is wandering around worthlessly without Waheguru's Naam. The man, imbued with family love, goes around in a state of conceit (for no reason). For what reason is the wealthy spending his life in conceit when the wealth does not take long to be lost? But, they do so because of the Will of Waheguru. When the good fortune of a devotee strikes, he gets connected with the Guru and realizes the Lord. Waheguru lends His support to the devotee who serves Him. 14.

He makes some commitments but does not come through; all his promises are unreliable. The dealer in falsehood is hollow inside, and all his talking is related to Maya. He practises enmity with perfectly unbiased people purely for his greed. Watching his immoral deeds from the very beginning, the True King (Waheguru) punishes him. The agents of the Angel of Death watch him carefully, and he suffers from their punishment. He receives perfect justice in the Court of the True Lord, oh Nanak. 15.

Your situation is like that of the donkey which carries a load of sandalwood (but cannot enjoy its fragrance). How will you swim across the sea of Maya if you do not know the worth of God's (Waheguru's) Naam? 1.

You kill an animal (to please your deity), and call it an act of religiosity. If this is a religious act, then what is your non-religious act? You establish yourself as a supreme sage by such acts; then, who do you consider a butcher? 2.

If you do not understand (analyze) yourself, then who else are you teaching, oh, the blind of mind, pundit? You are selling your knowledge for money and wasting your precious human life. 3.
Go, and read the teachings of sages like Nard, Biyas and Sook, oh pundit. They will tell you that one gets emancipation only by reciting God's Naam, otherwise you will drown in the world-sea, oh Kabir. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Buneh(i) Busay = living in the forest. Juou Luou = as long as. Tujeh(i) = give up. Bikaar = vices; immoral acts and thoughts. Sumsur(i) = equal; the same. Pooray = perfect. 1. Saar = supreme. Rung(i) Ruvhou = remember with love. Aatmaiy = deep from the soul. Pause. Jutaa = long tangled hair. Bhusm Laypun = coating of ash. Goofa = cave. Baas(u) = dwelling. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya; sensual desires. Oodaas(u) = detached. 2. Unjun(u) = kohl. Took(u) = small. Chaahun = intent. Bidaan(u) = difference. Loyin = eyes. Pervaan(u) = approved. 3. Untargut(i) = present in the heart.4.
MEANING: How can one realize God simply by living in a forest if he does not quit his evil acts and evil thinking? Only that individual is perfect in the world (approved by Waheguru) who considers his home as the forest (stays detached from worldly attractions while living in the family). 1. One acquires supreme bliss when he recites Waheguru's Naam with love deep from his soul. Pause.
What is the use of wearing tangled hair, coating one's body with ash, or living in a cave unless one wins control on his mind? An individual who can exercise control over his mind conquers his desires for the attractions of the world and becomes fully detached from them. 2.
Everybody puts kohl in her eyes, but the difference lies in the intent (some of them use kohl to look attractive, while others use it as a medication for the eyes). Only those eyes are approved by Waheguru which put the kohl of Divine Knowledge in the eyes of the mind. 3.
With the Knowledge imparted to me by the Guru, my mind has been enlightened, and I have made a connection with God, which is present, hidden in my mind. Now my mind thinks of nothing else, oh Kabir. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Foorie = has control by wishing. Kaaj = business; subservience. Gut(i) = level. Laaj = feel ashamed. 1. Bhuvveh(i) Baaraiy Baar = go from door to door. Pause. Dehkaiy = is misled. Ghunaa = badly. Din Dooyay = two (a few) days. Bertun = to use. Ram Ooduk = God's Naam-Water. Tih(i) = him. Buhour(i) = again. 2. Niraas(u) = Oodaas(u) = feeling of detachment. 3. Rus(u) = sweetness. Chaakhiya = tasted. Taar(i) = vibrations of the heart. Kunchun = (pure like) gold. Smoondaraiy paar(i) = on the other side of the ocean; far, far away. 4.

MEANING: You claim that you have control over supernatural powers, but you go begging from door to door, oh yogi. I feel ashamed even to talk about your claim because why would a person who has control over supernatural powers be subservient to others? But you beg from everybody. 1 and Pause.

The short-lived world is badly misled by the gimmicks of Maya, which the man can enjoy for a few days only. But an individual who drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam never feels any thirst (desire) for those gimmicks again. 2.

The individual who learns the truth (the objective of human life) by the grace of the Guru is left with no wish for Maya and becomes detached from the worldly attractions. He "sees" Waheguru everywhere when he gets fully detached from the world. 3.

The individual, who tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, gets his heart purified like gold, sees Him in every heart, and all his illusions run far, far away, oh Kabir. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ooduk = Sulul = water. Smoond = sea. Saakhiya = like. Turung = waves. Soonneh(i) = Waheguru (which is above the thoughts of Maya). Soonn(i) = the devotee which has attained the state above the thoughts of Maya. Sumdershi = who sees everybody in the same light (God). Puvun Roop = like air. 1. Chookaiy = ends. Punch Dhaat Kee Ruchna = (love for) the body; worldly attractions. Bherm(u) = illusions of Maya. Dershun = philosophy; religious garbs. 2. Kerm Kmaavhengay = perform deeds. Tuou = then. 3. Poonrup(i) = again. Liv = meditation. 4.

MEANING: Just as the waves on the surface of the ocean merge back into it, and the water of a stream mixes with the water in the ocean (beyond recognition), and like the winds from different directions which mix with each other completely, the individual, who has attained the spiritual level above the effects of Maya, merges into Waheguru which is always above the effects of Maya. (and becomes indistinct). 1.

I have also attained that spiritual level to merge with Waheguru, so why would I take rebirths? Births and deaths are the Law of Waheguru; whoever realizes this Huqam (does not celebrate a new birth, and does not grieve a death in the family), merges into Waheguru. Pause.

I will get rid of all such misgivings that bind one to love for his own body and to other-worldly attractions. By abandoning all religious garbs, I will recite the Naam of Waheguru alone, and treat everybody the same way without any discrimination. 2.

The man performs only those kinds of deeds for which he is predestined by Waheguru. If Waheguru is kind to some individual, he sings God's praise with Guru's Shabad, and merges into Him. 3. If one kills his worldly desires to acquire a new spiritual life, he never takes births again. The individual, absorbed in (focused on) Waheguru's Naam, stays connected with Him through meditation, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Ubb tuou bimul bhuyyay ghut hee meh(i), keh Kabir, mun(u) maaniya. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Juou = when. Mookut(i) = emancipation. Anayk = infinite. Bhermaavhou = mislead. 1. Taar(i) = to salvage. Sodhoun = I ask. Pause. Tern = to swim across; to emancipate. Taarun = salvage others. Tubaiy Lug = only as long as. Tutt(u) = the root; Waheguru. Jaaniya = realized; made a connection. Bimul = pure.

MEANING: (People tell me that Waheguru grants emancipation, i.e., connects the devotee with Him, after one's death). But I have already attained emancipation with Your benevolence, so may I ask, what kind of emancipation You will grant me and where, oh my Lord? Pause.

I am connected with You right now, but if it is true that one gets emancipation after death, I will first be disconnected with You (which I do not accept). I know You are present everywhere, and in everyone (and I am also connected with You), so You cannot mislead me now. 1.

One talks about the salvation of self or of others as long as one is not connected with Waheguru, but my heart has already been purified (emancipated) with Your presence in there, and I am pleased with Your presence (and need no other emancipation), oh Kabir. 2.5.

Kaal(u), akaal(u) Khusm ka keena, eh(u) perpunch(u) bundhaaavun(u). Keh Kabir tay untay mooktay, jinh hirdaiy Ram rusaayin(u). 2.6.

Word Meaning: Gurrh Koat = forts. 1. Mun(i) Bhaavun(u) = follow mind. Pause. Kaal(u) = death. Akaal(u) = no death (birth). Perpunch(u) = world. Bundhaavun = chains. Rusaayin = source of all sweetness (good things). 2.

MEANING: Even Ravun (the king of Lanka, and the villain in Ramayana), who had constructed forts of gold, had to leave this world. 1.

So, why do you follow your mind (and commit evil deeds when you know that you have to leave this world), oh man? When the Angel of Death grabs you by the hair, only Waheguru's Naam can free you. Pause. Deaths and births have been created by Waheguru, and the attractions of the world are the chains for the man (which keep him in the cycle of rebirths). Only those individuals are emancipated at the end who have Waheguru, which is the source of all sweet tastes of life, embedded in their mind, oh Kabir. 2.6.

Kuhhaiy Kabir, soonhou ray sunt-hou, khayt hee kurhou nibayra. Ubb kee baar bukhsh(i) bunday kuou, buhour(i) na bhuoujul(i) phayra. 3.7.

Word Meaning: Dayhi = human body. Gaavaan = village. Jeeou = soul. Dhur = land. Mehtou = chief. Kirsaana = farmers. Naiynoo = eyes. Nuktoo = nose. Servunoo = ears. Rusput(i) = the chief of all tastes (tongue). Inderi = lust. 1. Laykha = account of deeds. Kaayith = a land revenue official. Chaytoo = Chiter and Goopt. Pause.
Dherm Raayay = the Angel of justice. Baaki = balance owing. Bhaari = huge. Va = they. Baandhiyo = arrested. Durbari = in Waheguru's Court. 2. Khayt = field; body; rebirth. Nibayra = end. Bunda = slave. 3.

MEANING: The human body is like a field in a village where the soul is the chief of the village, and one's eyes, nose, ears, tongue, and his sexual organ, are the five farmers which work in the body field, but do not listen to the soul (mind) which is the chief in the body field, and commit countless evil deeds. 1.

I no longer want to live in this body village, because Chiter and Goopt, who are like a revenue collector, ask for the account of one's deeds every moment. Pause.

When the Angel of justice checks the account of your deeds, there will be a huge balance of evil deeds against you, for which you will be punished. At that time, the five farmers run away, and the soul is held responsible for all the misdeeds in Waheguru's Court. 2.

So, the best thing to do is to get rid of the body-field (rebirths), oh, the wise men humbly suggest Kabir. I pray to God to forgive me this time, so that I do not take birth again. 3.7.

Kuhou Kabir ikk baynti baiyraagurriyay. Mo kuou bhuoujul(u) paar(i) ootaar(i) vunaa humbhaiy. 8.1.8.

Word Meaning: Unbhuou = fearless (God); Divine knowledge which one acquires naturally (without any ritual). Baiyraagurriyaiy = a person who is not fully experienced in worldly detachment. Bhaiy = worldly fears. Vunaa humbhaiy = is it possible; maybe (It seems that Kabir Sahib has used this word just to maintain the meter of the Shabad). 1. Shuhou = husband; God. Hudoor(i) = nearby. 2. Pakhund(u) = hypocrisy; show off. Rutta = imbued. 3. Trishna = appetite for worldly attractions. Paas(u) = nearness; company. Mumta = worldly attachments. Pind(u) = body. 4. Mirtuk = dead (towards worldly attractions). 5. Baiyraag = detachment from the world, and attachment with Waheguru. Loachaiy = longs for. 6. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Sehj = high spiritual state. Soyay = that. 7. Bhuoujul = world-sea. 8.

Meaning: Nobody has ever seen God with these eyes, oh, the partially detached devotee. One can only experience His presence in the heart when one has become free from all worldly fears (but has Waheguru's fear in mind). 1.

One begins to foster Waheguru's fear in mind when he feels His presence around him, and he becomes free from all worldly fears when he obeys Waheguru's Huqam. 2.

Do not be a hypocrite with Waheguru (He is not pleased with it), but the problem is that the whole world is imbued with hypocrisy. 3. Worldly attractions do not leave the man alone, and his body suffers in the fire of worldly attachments. 4.

But if a man kills his worldly desires, he can burn away his worries and the love for his body. 5. One does not get detached from the world (and attached to Waheguru) without Satguru, even if one longs for it very much. 6. But, one gets connected with Satguru only if Waheguru is benevolent to him, and he attains the high spiritual state. 7.

I have a prayer to make to Waheguru that He ferries me across the sea of Maya (connects me with Him), oh Kabir. 8.1.8.

Word Meaning: Raajun = oh Rajah Deryodhun (the ruler of Delhi and the villain of the Mahabharat). Bhaaou = affection. Bidur = was the then prime minister of Deryodhun, and his half uncle, but was considered low-caste as his mother was a maid of the queen. Greeb(u) = humble. Bhaavaiy = I like him. Pause. Hust(u) = elephants. Bherm = illusions. Bhoola = forgotten (God). Paano = water. Maaniya = enjoyed. 1.

Kheer = rice pudding. Saag(u) = a vegetable dish. Goon = Waheguru's praise. Bihaani = spent. Anund Binodi = enjoys His feats. Jaat(i) = caste; status. 2.

NOTE: Once Krishan Ji went to Hastinapur (now Delhi) and stayed with Bidur, not with Deryodhun, who expected Krishan Ji to stay with him. When Deryodhun expressed his displeasure to Krishan Ji, the latter explained the reason to him, as Kabir Ji did in this Shabad.

MEANING: Who would like to visit and stay with you, oh Rajah Deryodhun? I have seen such a deep love for me in the humble Bidur that I like him very much. Pause.

You are misled by the illusions of your wealth and elephants, etc., and have forgotten Waheguru. In contrast to your milk, I enjoyed his simple water as sweet as amrit, his vegetable dish, which tasted like rice pudding, and spent the night singing Waheguru's praise. My Lord enjoys His feats, and does not care about the caste of His devotees, oh Kabir. 2.9.

Soora so pehchaaniyaiy, ju luraiy deen kay hayt. Poorja, poorja kut(i) muraiy, kubhoon ma chhaadaiy khayt(u). 2.2.

Word Meaning: Guggun = sky; brain; the tenth door. Dumaama = drum (of Guru's Shabad). Neeshaanaiy = on the target (heart). Ghaaou = wound; piercing. Khayt = battlefield; mind. Maandiyo = ready to fight. Soorma = valiant. Joojhun = to fight valiantly. Daaou = seize the opportunity to attack. 1.

Pehchaaniyaiy = is recognized. Deen Kay Hayt = for the powerless (humble). Poorja, Poorja = into small pieces. 2

Meaning: When Guru's Shabad roared (echoed) in my tenth door (mind), it hit the target and pierced my heart. Now my strengthened mind has entered the battlefield (to fight against the five demons), and is ready to seize the opportunity to destroy them. 1.

Only that individual is the true valiant who fights to protect the powerless. He never flees the battlefield, even if he is cut into small pieces. 2.

Naama kuhhaiy bhugut(i) buss(i) Keshuv, ujhoon Bul(i) kay dooaar khuro. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Chhar(i) Mookut(i) = four types of emancipation (Hind Granths). Sidh(i) = 18 types of supernatural powers. Dooleh = Husband; Lord. Jus(u) = Keerut(i) = (Waheguru's) praise. Chhutar(u) = royal canopy; accorded honour. 1. Sunkh = conch. Chukar = a hollow disk-like sharp weapon. Maala = necklace. Tilk = anointment (all these are symbols of Vishnu). Biraajit = look impressive. Pertaap(u) = majesty. Bul = power. Gurjit = roaring. Suntaap = suffering. Hiriyo = removed; eradicated. 2. Ambreek = a rajah and a devotee of Waheguru. Abhaiy Pud(u) = spiritual state in which the devotee becomes completely fearless. Bhubheekhun = a brother of Ravun, and a devotee of Rama who was made rajah of Lanka after Ravan was killed. Adhik Kuriya = enhanced his position. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine treasures. Tthaakur(i) = Lord. Soodaama = a very poor but childhood friend of Krishna. Dhuroo = a prince who became a devout devotee of God at the age of five. Atull = eternal. Ajhoon = still. Na Turiyo = is present. 3. Henaakhush = the evil king and father of Prehlaad who was killed by God. Nursingh = lion-headed man. Dayh dhuriyo = acquire the body. Buss(i) = under the control. Keshuv = with long hair (God). Bul(i) = a rajah who was defrauded by Vishnu as a dwarf. Vishnu, who approached Rajah Bul in the form of a dwarf Brahman, asked for a small piece of land to build a hut in front of his palace. Bul agreed, but Vishnu pushed him down into the underworld. To live up to his promise, Vishnu is still standing in front of Bul in the ocean. 4.

Note: Most of these mythical stories are given in the "INTRODUCTION" at the beginning of this book. You can read them there.

MEANING: All four types of emancipation, and all eighteen supernatural powers, are in the shelter of the Lord, Waheguru (are His slaves). Who does not find (everybody does) salvation when he recites the Naam of the Emperor, Waheguru, in the shelter of, and with the Shabad of the Guru? People call such a devotee a bhagat. By singing Waheguru's praise, he gets emancipated, becomes famous all over the world, and is respected everywhere as if a royal canopy is adorning him above his head. 1 & Pause.

Even the Angel of death is frightened by the majesty of Waheguru (in the form of Vishnu) when he sees Him holding the conch, and the chukar (a disc-like sharp weapon) in His hands, and wearing the necklace around his neck, and the anointment on his forehead, which adorn Him. With Waheguru's power thundering in the mind, the devotee becomes completely fearless of worldly fears, and his suffering of rebirths is eradicated.

Waheguru granted the spiritual state of fearlessness to Rajah Ambreek, and the reign of Lanka to Bhubheekhun, thereby exalting their status. (With the Will of Waheguru) Krishna Ji endowed his childhood friend, Sudama, with the nine worldly treasures (making him rich), and Waheguru immortalized His child-devotee, Dhuroo, forever, which no one can undo. 3.

Waheguru killed Hernakhsh for the sake of his child-devotee Prehlad by transforming Himself into a lion-headed man. God is under the control of His devotees; that is why He is waiting at the door of Rajah Bul as Vishnu, oh Nama. 4.1.

Keh Kabir chaytaiy nuhhi, moorukh, moogudh(u) guvaar(u). Ram Naam(u) jaaniyo nuhhi, kaiysay ootrus paar(i)? 4.1.

Word Meaning: Deen(u) = religion; faith in God. Divaanay = crazy; foolish. Payt(u) = stomach. Haariyo = lost; wasted away. Pause. Ruchiyo = engrossed. Dhundhaiy Jhootth = the short-living affairs of Maya. Sooaan = dog. Sookur = pig. Baayis = a bird of prey. Bhutkut(u) = misled. 1. Deerugh(u) = great. Aurun Kuou = others. Lug Maat = insignificant. Munsa = by wish (mind). Baacha = by words. Kerma = by deeds. Dojuk = hell. 2. Kaami = lustful. Chaaturi = shrewd. Baajigur = swindler. Baykaam = jobless. Siraano = spend life. 3. Chaytaiy = remember. Moogudh = foolish. Guvaar(u) = unrefined. Ootrus Paar(i) = find salvation 4.

MEANING: You have lost faith in God (forgotten Him), oh, foolish. You just fill your stomach and sleep like an animal, and have wasted away your precious human life. Pause.

You have never joined the company of the holy saints, and are engrossed in the false affairs of the world. Misguided from the true path of life, you just roam around like a dog, a pig or a baayis, and will leave the world (without any noble quality). 1. The ignorant man thinks of himself as someone great and considers others as insignificant. I have seen many people who exhibit their ego in their mind, their words, and their deeds, who will go to hell. 2. There are countless people, including the lustful, the irate, the shrewd, the swindlers, and the jobless, who spend their whole life criticizing others maliciously, but never remember God. 3. The foolish, unwise, and the unrefined do not remember God, and make no connection with Him. I wonder how they will find salvation, oh Kabir. 4.1.

kuou sherdhiya, sulul kuou sulul(i) suman(i) aaya. Budut(i) Jaideo, Jaidev kuou rummiya, Braham(u) nirbaan(u) livleen(u) paaya. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Chund = left nostril. Sut = breaths. Bhaydiya = inhale. Naad = a vein (sookhmuna) in the forehead where the yogis hold breath. Pooriya = hold. Soor = right nostril. Khorrsa = 16 times (utter Om). Dut(u) Keeya = exhaled. Abul = the weak (mind). Chul(u) = wavering (mind). Achul Thuppiya = stabilized. Aghurr = unrefined. Gurriya = refined. Apiyo = Amrit. 1. Aad(i) = Waheguru. Goon = virtues. Vukhaaniya = discussed. Doobidha Drisht(i) = discriminating vision (nature). Sumaaniya = is levelled. Pause.

Ardh(i) = worthy of worshipping. Sherdh = worthy of reverence. Sulul = water. Budut(i) = says. Jaidev = Waheguru. Rummiya = remembered. Nirbaan(u) = above the effects of Maya. Liveleen = absorbed in self. 2.

Meaning: During their yogic exercises, the yogis inhale breath through their left nostril, which they call the moon vein, hold their breath in the Sookhmuna vein in the forehead for some time, and exhale through their right nostril, which they call the sun vein, while chanting “Om” sixteen times. But a devotee, who sings Waheguru’s praise, does not need to do any of the yogic exercises because his discriminating nature becomes unbiased. By drinking Waheguru’s Naam-Amrit, his mind, weakened by his immoral thinking and acts, acquires strength (is rejuvenated), and its bad habits are eradicated; his wavering mind is stabilized, and the unrefined thinking is refined. 1 & Pause.

When a devotee worships Waheguru, which is worthy of worship, and shows reverence to the revered God, he merges with Him, as water in one container mixes well with the water in the other. I also recite the Naam of Waheguru, who stays absorbed in Himself (is undetected from the world), and realized Him, oh Jaideo. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Simer = remember. Puchhtaahinga = will repent. Aaj(u) Kaal(i) = today or tomorrow; soon. Ootth(i) Jaahinga = will leave. Pause. Jobun = youthfulness. Gerb(u) = conceit. Kaagud = paper. Gul(i) = dissolve; destroyed. 1. Juou = when. Na Busaahinga = helpless. Bhujun = sing praise. Duyya = mercy. Mookh(i) = on the face. Choataan = hits. 2. Laykha Maangaiy = ask for the account of deeds. Kiyya Mookh(u) = what face? 3.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru’s Naam, otherwise you will have to repent, oh my mind. My sinful mind is very greedy for worldly things, and does not realize that it will leave the world soon. Pause.

Misled by Maya's illusions, the man is wasting his precious human life in greed. He should not be conceited of his youthfulness and of his wealth because he will be destroyed like paper which dissolves (is destroyed) in water. 1.

He will have no power to resist on the day when the Angel of death grabs him by the hair and tosses him away violently. He will suffer a beating on his face because he has not remembered Waheguru and has shown no compassion for the poor and the helpless. 2. What face will he show to the Angel of justice when he demands the account of his deeds? Kabir advises affectionately that you will find salvation if you take shelter of the Guru, or the other holy men, oh wise man. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Aiysi = such. Laal = oh, Dear. Nivaaj(u) = one who honours. Chuttar = canopy; crown. Pause. Chhoat(i) = touch. Dhuraiy = melt; mind moves. Neecheh = the lowly. Ooch = high in social status. 1. Suraiy = within reach; has the capability.

MEANING: My benevolent Waheguru honours his humble devotees like a rajah with a royal canopy above his head. Who else can do something like this, oh my Lord? Only Your heart melts for the individual whose touch makes some people feel impure. My Lord is not afraid of anyone and raises the status of the lowly. 1.

The world-famous Bhagats - Namdev, Kabir, Trilochan, Sdhna and Saiyn, - were all low-caste, but You granted them emancipation, oh Lord. Listen oh holy saints, everything is within the reach of the omnipotent Waheguru, submits Ravidass, humbly. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Sookh Saagur = ocean (source) of comforts. Soor(i) Tur = the five special trees of the paradise which are believed to fulfil all one's wishes. Chintamun(i) = a special jewel. Kaamdhayn = the cow which also fulfills all wishes. Asht Muhaa Sidh(i) = the eight great supernatural powers. Ker Tul = palm of hand. 1. Buchan Ruchna = the creation of empty words. Nana Khiyan Puran = the stories of the Puranas. Bayd Bidh(i) = the ways of the Vedas (to acquire emancipation). Chautees Achhur Maahi = in the 34 letters of the Hindi Alphabet. Permaaruth(u) = the basic idea. 2. Smaadh(i) = in meditation. Oopaadh(i) = vices. Reht = free of. Liv = focus of mind. Oodaas = detached. Daas = devotee. Bhaiy Bhaagi = fears run away. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru is the ocean of all comforts, and all the five trees of the paradise, the special jewel, and the Kaadhen, all of which are believed to grant all the wishes one has, are under the control of Waheguru. Not only those, even the four desired things – religiosity (high morality), wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and emancipation – the eight great supernatural powers, and the nine treasures of the world, are at the palm of His hand. 1.

So, forgetting all other things (mantras), which are just a creation of words, why don't you recite His Naam, oh man? Pause. All the stories of the Puranas, and the different ways mentioned in the Vedas to achieve emancipation, are only the creation of the thirty-four basic letters of the Sanskrit Alphabet. After pondering carefully, the Sage Biyas, has given the ultimate truth that they do not match Waheguru's Naam. 2.

The devotee with good fortune attains the high spiritual state by meditating on Waheguru's Naam and becomes free from all vices. With his pure thinking, such a devotee loses fear of any rebirth for him, oh Ravidass. 3.2.15.

NOTE: The Brahmans in India created a system of superstitions about the auspiciousness and inauspiciousness of certain days to force people to make rich donations. The first day of every month of the Indian calendar (called Sangraand) was also one of them. Guru Nanak Sahib preached strongly against such superstitions to educate people, and wrote this beautiful and highly enlightening set of verses to tell them that every day, and every moment that one spends in singing praise of the Almighty, Waheguru, is auspicious, and the day or the moment when one forgets Waheguru is inauspicious. This issue was so important that the Fifth Guru, Guru Arjun Dev Ji also wrote a similar composition later in Raag Majh, to emphasize the hollowness of such misgivings. The beauty of each month that Guru Sahib has described in this composition infuses love for Waheguru in the minds of the people. Enjoy this beautiful holy composition.

Word Meaning: Kirt Kerma = (consequences of) the deeds done. Poorub(i) Kmaaya = done in previous live. Sir(i) Sir(i) = respectively. Sehuma = worries. Bhulaa = good. Ruchna = (attractions of) Your creations. Gut(i) = (pitiable) situation. Priayay = Dear (Waheguru). Doohaaayli = miserable. Bayli = friend. Raach(i) = engrossed. Nirunkaari = of Waheguru. Sookerma = the supreme act. Punth(u) = path. Sa dhun = that woman (devotee). Aatum Rama = Oh, Lord. 1.

MEANING: Everybody reaps the rewards of his previous deeds – some live in comfort, while others live in worries. I accept Your Will as being good for me, oh Waheguru. I am engrossed in the attractions of Your creation, so what will my spiritual situation be like!! I do not want to live without You, even for a single moment. I have no friend, and feel miserable without my Dear (Waheguru). But I can drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in Guru's shelter. Everybody is engrossed in the creation of Waheguru, but keeping Him in mind is the supreme deed of all. Such a devotee begs for His sight and watches the path leading to the union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Baabiha = Chaatrik = the rain-bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Priyo = the call of the baabiha. Kokil = a songbird with a sweet voice; cuckoo. Baaniya = sweet voice. Choalaiy = enjoys. Unk(i) Smaaniya = becomes part of; merges into. Bhaani = liked by. Sohaagun(i) = married to (Waheguru); loved by. Him. Nuv Ghur = (the human body) with nine doors. Thaap(i) = by fixing (bringing under control). Ghur(u) Oochou = high residence; high in transcendence. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Mooraray = (of) Waheguru. Nis(i) = night. Baasur = day. Rung(i) Raavaiy = recites with love. 2.

MEANING: Listening to the love-filled calls of the rain-bird, and the sweet songs of the songbird, the devotee, who is prompted to sing Waheguru's praise with affection, merges into Him, and enjoys all the sweet tastes of life. But only that devotee merges into Waheguru whom He likes, and she is loved by Waheguru. Waheguru's Residence is very high (transcendental), and is not accessible; only that devotee attains that height of transcendence to dwell in Waheguru who controls all nine of her body doors (sensual pleasures), and attains the noble qualities of Waheguru. She knows that Waheguru belongs to His whole creation, but she loves Him as if He belongs only to her, and remembers Him lovingly day and night. The love-filled call of the rainbird and the sweet songs of the songbird prompt the devotee to sing the Lord's praise, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Rus-Bhinnay = soaked in sweetness. Ruvut Ruvunnaiy = sing praise of the praise-worthy (Waheguru). Kayra = of. Oat Guhhi = took shelter. Drisht(i) = with kind sight. Deerugh = long; great. Dheera = peaceful. 3.

MEANING: Listen to my prayer that I should not forget You even for a single moment, and should recite Your Naam by my body (tongue) and my mind, oh, my sweetness-soaked Waheguru. How can I forget You, even for a short moment, when I survive only by singing Your praise, and am always a sacrifice for You? Nobody is mine, and I belong to nobody forever. I cannot survive without Waheguru. I took His shelter, and embedded His Feet (His Naam) in my heart because of which my body (and mind) have been purified. I enjoy long (eternal) comfort with Waheguru's kind sight on me, and have achieved peace of mind (does not wander any more) with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Bersaiy = rains. Dhaar = stream. Boond = drops. Soohaavni = pleasing; comforting. Sehj(i) = in peaceful state. Soobhaayay = with love. Mundar(i) = house; heart. Oobhi = standing; zestfully. Goon Saari = remembers Virtues. Ruvaiy = enjoys. Kunt(i) = by the husband (Waheguru). Oonuv(i) = very low. Ghun(u) = clouds. Chhaayay = overcast. Sookhaavaiy = provides comfort (bliss). 4.

MEANING: Waheguru-Friend appears in the heart of the devotee who recites His Naam with deep love and dedication, and the drops of the Naam-Amrit begin to rain as a small stream in his tenth door (mind). Waheguru appears in a devotee's heart only if He likes her when she sings His praise zestfully. All fortunate devotees enjoy union with Waheguru in their heart (mind), but I am an unfortunate, and do not know why He has abandoned (forgotten) me. Like a cloud, which comes close to the earth to cause rain, Waheguru causes rain of His Amrit-Naam in a devotee's heart affectionately when He becomes benevolent to her, and takes dwelling in her heart; the devotee feels blissfulness in her body and mind because of Waheguru's love for her, oh Nanak. 4.

Nanak Chayt(i) sehj(i) sookh(u) paavaiy, jo Hur(i), Vur ghur(i) dhun paayay. 5.

Word Meaning: Chayt = the first month (mid March – mid April). Busunt = spring season. Bhulaa = pleasant. Bhuvur = bumblebees. Soohaavrray = look beautiful. Bun = forests. Phoolay = bloom. Munjh = in. Baar(i) = wilderness; jungle. Baahourray = come; meet again. Bireh(i) = due to separation. Birodh(i) = opposition (attacks) by sensual pleasures. Chheejaiy = weakens; suffers. Unk(i) = in heart. Suheejaiy = endure. Bhuvunta = hovers over. Daali = flowers and new leaves. Mur(u) = death; dead towards worldly attractions. 5.

MEANING: The month of Chayt is very pleasant because it is springtime, and the whole vegetation blooms in the forest. The bumblebees flying around look very attractive. To see such beauty of nature, my mind yearns to see its Creator, and I wish that He would visit me in my heart. How can a man enjoy the comfort of Waheguru's presence in his heart when his sensual pleasures are his enemies, which oppose the visit of Waheguru in his heart? Such a devotee suffers a weakening of his bodily and mental strength due to his separation from Waheguru. Like a bumblebee, which, attracted to the fresh flowers, hovers around them, enjoys their sap, and leaves, I am also attracted to the worldly pleasures. How can I kill my mind from being attracted to worldly attractions so as to enjoy a high spiritual life, oh my mother? (Answer): The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam with love and dedication in the month of Chayt, and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in her heart, enjoys blissfulness in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 5.

Nanak Vaisaakheen Prubh bhaavaiy, soort(i), Shabad(i) mun(u) maana. 6.

Word Meaning: Vaisaakh = the second month of Indian Calendar (Mid April – mid May). Shaakhaan = vegetation. Vays Kuray = wear different looks. Hur(i) Dooaar(i) = Waheguru's Door. Dootur = the world sea, which is very difficult to swim across. Uddh(u) = half a cowrie shell. Dholo = Dear (Waheguru). Soort(i) = focus of mind. 6.

MEANING: The month of Vaisakh(u) is also very pleasant as the vegetation wears many different attractive colours. But, despite the charming beauty of nature, a devotee does not find peace of mind when she is disconnected from Waheguru, and prays at His Door asking Him to visit her heart as she is not worth even half a cowrie-shell without Him; and it is only He who can ferry her across the difficult-to-swim world-sea. Who will be able to tell my worth (I will become invaluable) if the Guru, who is connected with You all the time, can show me Your sight, and You come to like me?

Then, I will believe that You reside in my heart, and are not away from me, and will know the place where You live (everywhere), oh Waheguru. In the pleasant month of Vaisakh, Waheguru likes the devotee who focuses her mind on Him with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak.6.

Word Meaning: Maah(u) = month. Jaytth(u) = the third month. Bhulaa = pleasant. Taapeh(i) = heats up. Sur = like. Bhaar = kiln; furnace. Sadhun = the woman (devotee). Goon = Waheguru's virtues. Saarayndi = remember; sing praise. Baiyraagi = detached from the world (Waheguru). Nimaani = without any pride; humble. Nitaani = powerless. Goon Gehli = having acquired the noble qualities. 7.

MEANING: Even the hot month of Jaytth(u) – the third month – in which the earth becomes hot like a furnace, becomes pleasant to the devotee who does not forget Waheguru. Remembering Waheguru's noble qualities, the devotee prays to Waheguru that He likes her when she sings His praise. She knows that Waheguru, which is fully detached from worldly affairs, resides in the Palace where only high morality, purity, and justice prevail; and unless she has those qualities, Waheguru will not let her in. But she cannot enjoy any comfort even in luxurious mansions without Waheguru, and without whom she feels to have no self-pride, and no energy. Only a devotee, who has noble qualities like Waheguru, is recognized in His Court, and it is with His benevolence that she can be connected with Him if she has acquired the noble qualities, oh Nanak. 7.

Nanak, Jis nu eh(u) mun(u) deeya, mern(u), jeevun(u) Prubh naalay. 8.

Word Meaning: Aasaarr(u) = Haarr(u) = the fourth month. Guggu(i) = in the sky. Dookh Suhhaiy = suffers in heat. Sokahiy = absorbs. Bhukhaiy = heats up. Rus(u) = moisture. Dhokhaiy = smoulders slowly. Kirt = duty. Ruth(u) Phiray = the sun goes higher in the sky (according to the Puranas, the sun rides a chariot which is pulled by a lame god – Arun). Chhaaya = shade; protection. Teed(u) = crickets. Luvvaiy = make sounds. Baaray = in the jungle. Bundh(i) = package (accumulation) of ignoble qualities. Smaalay = keeps in mind. Mern(u) Jeevun = death and life. 8.

MEANING: In the month of Aasaarr(u), the sun heats up in the sky as a result of which the earth suffers badly as it absorbs the heat of the sun. The sun's intense heat slowly absorbs moisture from the earth, which smoulders. Even though the earth suffers, it still performs its duty (as our mother) and protects us by providing the shade of trees and the cold water of rivers. When the sun goes higher in the sky, the crickets make sounds in the forest to get relief from the heat, and the humans seek shade, but the devotees seek Waheguru's shelter to protect them from the heat (fire) of worldly desires. Those who keep Waheguru in mind feel blissful even in such a hot month, but trouble lies ahead for those who accumulate ignoble qualities. Those who have surrendered their minds to Waheguru feel spiritual death when they are disconnected from Him, and thrive spiritually when they are connected with Him, oh Nanak. 8.

Word Meaning: Saavun(i) = in the fifth month. Sers = bloom; feel blissful. Ghun = clouds. Verseh(i) = rain. Root(i) = season. Perdays(i) = foreign land (where one has no access to). Sidhaayay = is gone. Haavaiy = in sobs. Daamun(i) = lightning. Khuree = very much. Doohayli = miserable. Kuntee = having a husband. Unk(i) = lap. 9.

MEANING: After the very hot summer months of Jaytth(u) and Aasaarr(u), the rainy season sets in the month of Saavun, and every living being feels joyful. However, the devotee who loves Waheguru by body and by mind does not feel blissful even in the beautiful month of Saavun when He is away from the devotee (she is not connected with Him). Like a married woman whose husband is away, she does not enjoy the rainy season in his absence and sobs in misery; even beautiful lightning scares her. The devotee feels sad when the bed of her heart is empty. She feels miserable without Waheguru, and suffers as if she were dead, and shares her feelings of low spirit with her mother. She has sleepless nights and does not feel hungry. Even the rich clothes offer her no comfort. But lucky is the devotee, who is loved by her Waheguru-Husband, and who rests comfortably in His Lap (has His Naam enshrined in her heart), oh Nanak. 9.

Nanak pooch(i) chuloun Gur apunay, jeh Prubh, teh hee jaayiyaiy. 10.

Word Meaning: Bhaadoun = the sixth month. Bhur(i) Jobun(i) = in the prime of youth. Neer(i) = with water. Rung(u) Maani = enjoys luxuries. Bersaiy = rains. Nis(i) = night. Baali = young woman (devotee). Daadur = frogs. Luvuntay = make sounds. Priyo = dear. Chuvvaiy = chants. Bubeeha = Chatrik; the rainbird. Bhooyungum = snakes. Dusuntay = stinging. Muchhur = mosquitoes. Saayir = water bodies. Soobhur = full to the brim. 10.

MEANING: In the prime of her youth, the woman (human) is misled by the illusions of Maya in the attractive month of Bhaadoun, when she enjoys the beauties of life in the rainy season, when the lakes and the fields are full of water; but she has to repent for the enjoyment of her sensual pleasures. On the other hand, the devotee of Waheguru does not feel comfort even in the lovely rainy season when it rains, and when the frogs and the peacocks make sounds, and the night is dark. When she hears the rainbird chanting “priyo (dear), priyo”, and hears the sound of waves on the surface of the water of the lakes, which are full to the brim, she misses Waheguru, and feels the pain of separation from Him as if the snakes are biting, and the mosquitoes are stinging her. In other words, even though the environment is very colourful, the devotees do not enjoy it without Waheguru. I will ask my Satguru for advice and to follow the path that leads to union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 10.

Word Meaning: Assoon(i) = in the seventh month. Piraa = oh, Dear. Jhoor(i) = in repentance. Mooyee = (almost) dead; very weak. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Khooyee = misled. Vigooti = suffer humiliation. Mooti = robbed of (Waheguru’s) love; rejected. Kookeh Kaahis =(turning of hair into grey colour like) long grass which grows on river banks and turns white. Aagaiy = before. Ghaam = hot season. Pichhaiy = is left (to come). Root(i) Jaada = the cold season. Chulut = amazing (changes in nature). Dolaiy = weakens. Dehdis(i) = in all ten directions. Shaakh = vegetation. Bhuree Huriyaavul = full of greenery. Sehj(i) = slowly. Pukkaiy = ripens Buseettha = mediator. 11.

MEANING: With the arrival of the month of Assun(i), the hot season is over, and it is the beginning of the cool fall season. Most of the seasonal crops turn pale and are almost ready to harvest. The tall grass by the banks of the rivers wears a white look. The devotees, who are getting old, look at the changing nature of the new season from their own angle and feel that, like the tall grass, their hair is also turning grey, and like the seasonal crops, they are nearing the ripe age. Like the hot season, their bodily strength is also over, and the winter of life has arrived for them. They feel disheartened with their weakened body. They also repent that they did not serve Waheguru, and are running out of time to worship Him, so they pray to Waheguru to appear in their heart. But when they see that the trees, and some perennial crops are still green, they pick up courage, and believe that as per the saying that the fruit which takes longer to ripe is sweet (or patience is virtue), I will be patient, and pray to Waheguru to put me in the shelter of the Guru which, as the mediator, will connect me with Him, oh Nanak. 11.

Naam(u) bhugut(i) day nij ghur(i) baitthaiy, ujhoun Tinaarri aasa, Nanak, milhou, kupt dur khohlou, aik ghurri khut(u) maasa. 12.
Word Meaning: Kutik(i) = (in the) eighth month. Kirt(u) = result of the deeds previously done. Deepuk = lamp. (The Hindu women perform a ritual in this month of lighting up some earthen lamps, placing them on big leaves, and floating them on water with the belief that it keeps the evils away). Sehj(i) = in the peaceful state of mind. Tutt(i) = (connection with) Waheguru. Rus = the bliss of union with Waheguru. Omaahaiy = in zest. Sersi = enjoys bliss. Uvgun = vices. Na Seejhaiy = unsuccessful. Mersi = kills her desires. Nij Ghur(i) = with stable mind. Ujoun = still. Tinaarri = Yours (Waheguru's). Aasa = longing. Kupt = Dur = door. Khut(u) Maasa = six months.
MEANING: Based on the results of his previous deeds, one performs the kind of deeds for which he is predestined by Waheguru. (Placing them on big leaves, the Hindu women float lighted earthen lamps in flowing waters as a ritual, but it is of no spiritual significance.) But the devotees, who make a connection with Waheguru, light up the lamp of the Divine Knowledge in their peaceful mind (above the effects of Maya). The blissfulness of the union with Waheguru in the mind of the zestful devotee serves as the oil in the lamp. Because of her ignoble qualities, the spiritually dead woman does not succeed (to achieve union with Waheguru) in this life, but the devotee, who acquires noble qualities, symbolically dies to worldly desires (kills them). Those whom Waheguru gives His Naam and His worship, stay in their own mind (their mind does not rush for worldly attractions), and always long for Waheguru's sight. They pray to Him that He appear in their minds soon and open the strongly resistant door of their minds (to see Him with the eyes of their minds), as they already feel that even a small moment feels like a period of six months in His separation, oh, Nanak. 12.

Word Meaning: Mughur = the ninth month. Unk(i) = in the heart. Goonvunti = who possesses noble qualities. Ruvaiy = remembers. Nihchul(u) = eternal. Chunchul(u) = fickle; mortal. Bhaagaiy = run away; disappear. Naah = the Lord. Ubh = heart. 13.

MEANING: The month of Mughur is pleasant for those who acquire the noble qualities of Waheguru in their mind. The devotee, who acquires the noble qualities, sings praise of Waheguru's noble qualities, and is liked by the eternal Waheguru. She knows that only the wise and the know-all Waheguru is immortal, while the rest of the world is mortal. With the Will of Waheguru, the devotee acquires Divine Knowledge, the ability to keep the mind focused, and the noble qualities in her mind. All her troubles disappear when she listens to Waheguru's Naam, lyrics, music, and poems in His praise. The devotee, who offers her worship-filled heart to Waheguru, is liked by Him, oh Nanak. 13.

Word Meaning: Pokh(i) = in the tenth month. Tookhaar(u) = frost. Trin(u) = vegetation. Rus(u) = sap; moisture. Soakhaiy = (coldness) absorbs. Mookhay = in the mouth; on the tongue. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Jugjeevun(u) = the soul of the world (God). Rung(u) Maani = enjoy His love. Unduj --- Ootbhooj = the living beings from all the four sources of production. Ghut(i) = in heart. Jot(i) = God's Soul. Duyya Put(i) = the lord of compassion. Daatay = Provider. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mut(i) = wisdom. Rus(i) = while enjoying. Rusiya = the one who enjoys; devotee. Sunayhou = love. 14.

MEANING: It is very cold in the month of Pokh(u) when it frosts, and the cold air soaks away the sap, and the moisture from the forests and the vegetation, (and the people have a very tough time coping with such cold weather). But Waheguru's devotees remember Him by their mind, body, and their tongue, and pray to Him to appear in their heart; and enjoy the joy of union with Him when they feel His presence in their body and their mind with Guru's Shabad. They realize that Waheguru's Light (soul) is present in all the living beings of all the four sources of reproduction. They pray to the compassionate and provider Lord to show His holy sight to the devotees and grant them the wisdom to attain a high spiritual state. The loving devotee enjoys reciting Waheguru's Naam with love and devotion, oh Nanak. 14.

Word Meaning: Maagh(i) = (in the) eleventh month. Pooneet = purity. Teeruth = holy place. (Hindus consider it a holy act to take dips at holy places on the first day of this month). Untar(i) = inside. Goon Geh(i) = acquiring noble qualities. Unk(i) = in heart. Soon(i) = listening to. Bunkay = handsome. Sur(i) = in (holy) pools. Gung = the River Ganga. Bayni = Tribayni = the three Rivers – Ganga, Yamuna, and Sarasvati. Sungum = the merging. Saat Smoond = the seven seas of the world. Poonn = noble deeds. Jaata = recognized. Muhaa Rus(u) = the great bliss. Utth-Sutth(i) = 68 holy places. 15.

MEANING: (The Hindus believe the first day of Maagh to be holy, and consider it to be a deed of great spiritual worth to take dips at holy places to purify their mind); but the whole month of Maagh becomes holy for the devotees who recognize (make connection with) Waheguru in their mind, which itself becomes a holy place. When a devotee acquires noble qualities of Waheguru in his/her heart, the Waheguru-Friend comes to reside in their heart in their peaceful mind. By listening to the virtues of the handsome and the dear Lord, the devotee acquires those virtues in her heart, and prays before Him that with His blessings, her heart could become the real holy place with His presence in there, where not only the three Rivers – Ganga, Yamuna, and Sarasvati – merge into one another, but also all the seven sees of the world will seem to be present (or the five senses, the mind and the wisdom in the body become pure and a holy place) and she could take a dip in her own heart rather than going to any supposedly holy place. For the devotee, who recognizes (makes connection with) Waheguru, which is the same in each eon, all the noble deeds, donations to Brahmans, and the ritualistic worship, are subsumed in His worship (the devotees do not need them). The whole month becomes a great bliss for the devotees, who recite Waheguru's Naam, which is like taking dips at all the 68 holy places, oh Nanak. 15.

Word Meaning: Phulgoon(i) = (in the) twelfth month. Rehsi = blooming of heart. Soobhaaya = with noble intentions. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Guvaaya = gotten rid of. Ghur(i) = in heart. Aaou = come. Vays = religious show offs. Mehleen = in His Palace. Luhaan = acquire. Haar Door = garland of flowers and pearls, etc. Paat Putumbur = silk clothes. Lorri = liked. Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). 16.

MEANING: The devotee, who loves Waheguru with noble intentions, enjoys bliss. It becomes a blissful day and night for the devotee who kills her selfishness and ego (haumein). With Waheguru's blessing, she gets rid of (overcomes) her worldly attachments, and Waheguru appears in her heart with His benevolence. An individual who adorns herself with many religious symbols without real love for Him gets no room in Waheguru's Palace. But the devotee who is liked by Waheguru feels as if she has been adorned with a necklace of pearls, a garland of flowers, and with silk clothes. Her Guru connects her with Waheguru-Husband in her own heart, oh Nanak. 16.

(PAGE 1110): Nanak, ehinis(i) raavaiy Preetum(u), Hur(i) vur(u) thir(u) sohaago.17.1

Word Meaning: Bay-Dus = two and ten = 12. Maah = months. Rootie = seasons. Thitee = phases of the moon. Vaar = days of the week. Bhulay = good; pleasant. Ghurri, Moorut, Pul = small time periods. Saachay = (become) eternal. Kaaruj = tasks. Saaray = completed successfully. Bidh(i) = means. Sheegaari = adorned. Rung(u) Maanay = enjoy the love of union. Sayj = the bed (of heart). Soohaavi = comforting. Bhaago = good fortune. Ehi = day. Nis(i) = night. Raavaiy = enjoys (union). Vur(u) = Husband. Thir(u) = permanent. Soohaago = married life. 17.

MEANING: For the devotee, who is connected with Waheguru in her peaceful state of mind, all the twelve months, all seasons, all phases of the moon, all days of the week, and all the short periods of time, become eternally very pleasant. Waheguru knows all the ways to connect a devotee with Him, and the tasks of the devotee get completed successfully. Waheguru, who adorns His devotee, loves her, and she enjoys the love of her union with Him. With her good fortune and with the grace of the Guru, the heart-bed of the devotee becomes very comforting for her when Waheguru enjoys her union. Waheguru enjoys her union (stays connected with her) day and night, and she acquires the eternal Husband, oh Nanak. 17.1.

Nanak, moorukh(u) kubhoun na chaytaiy, kiyya soojhaiy raiyn(i) undhayriya. 1. ----------

Word Meaning: Pehr = one quarter of day or night. Pehlaiy Pehraiy = the first quarter of life. Sloanurriyay = having beautiful eyes (which enjoy beauty). Raiyn(i) = night (human life). Undhiyaari = dark; of ignorance. Vukkhur(u) = merchandise (of noble qualities). Mooyiyay = oh, the mortal. Vaari = turn (to die). Jugaavaiy = awaken; to alert. Sooti = asleep; unaware. Rus Choosay = soaks his strength (steals his breaths). Put(i) = dignity. Choar(u) = thief (the five demons). Moosay = rob. Kubhoun Na = never. Chaytaiy = remembers. Soojhaiy = think of. 1.

MEANING: In the first quarter of life, the man is spiritually in the dark (is ignorant), and he enjoys every beautiful and attractive thing in life, and does not realize that he needs to protect his noble qualities as he is mortal, and one day his turn will also come to leave the world. Who can awaken such a person who is totally unaware of reality, and the Angel of Death is robbing him of his breath? The five demons are robbing the unaware youth of his noble qualities in the darkness of his ignorance, and he does not realize what the future of his spiritual state will be. I ask my foolish mind to listen to me that the inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru is the guard of the noble qualities, and it should seek His shelter, but the foolish never keeps Him in mind. But what can he think of when he is in complete darkness, oh Nanak? 1.

Nanak, moorukh(u) ujhoun na chaytaiy, kiv doojaiy sookh(u) paavay. 2. -------

Word Meaning: Bhuyya = happens; arrives. Achayti = unaware. Khayti = crop (of noble qualities). Hayti = because of love. Mug(i) = (on the) path. Ruv(i) = the sun (Divine Knowledge). Sus(i) = the moon (coolness; peacefulness). Deepuk = lamps. 2.

MEANING: It is already the second quarter of your life, wake up from your deep sleep (of ignorance) now, and protect the crop of your noble qualities, which is being consumed by your vices, oh, the unaware mortal man. Protect the crop of your noble qualities with love for the Guru (by reciting His Shabad), as no thief can rob you when you are awake (alert about the attacks). (With Guru's Shabad), You will not follow the path leading to spiritual death, and you will not be afraid of the Angel's door, and you will not suffer in any way. Divine Knowledge and peacefulness are the two lamps (to enlighten the mind) available in the Guru's shelter, and one's body and mind get purified when one recites His Shabads by the tongue. However, the foolish man still does not keep Waheguru in mind; how can he enjoy comfort when he loves Maya, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Neend = sleep (intoxication of worldly attractions). Soot = sons. Daara = wife. Suntaapi = suffering. Choag = bait. Choogaiy = picks; is attracted. Nit = everyday; always. Phaasaiy = is caught in the net (of spiritual death). Graasaiy = grabs. Tribidh(i) = in the attachment of the three effects of Maya. Loaka = oh folks. 3.
MEANING: In the third quarter of life, the man feels intoxicated by the attractions of the world, including wealth, his sons, and his wife. His love for his family and wealth is the bait Maya uses to entrap him, and the ignorant man takes the bait, gets trapped, and suffers. The individual, who recites Waheguru's Naam, enjoys blissfulness, and with the Advice of the Guru, the spiritual death does not consume (frighten) him. But without Waheguru's Naam, death and the birth-death cycle do not leave him alone, and the man suffers deeply, oh Nanak. Love for Maya overpowers the man in the third quarter of his life, oh folks. 3.

Word Meaning: Daut(u) Bihaagaiy = brightness of the sun (grey hair; old age). Ghur(u) = home; merchandise (of noble qualities). Soohayliya = comforting. Bayliya = friend. Ker = hands. Kump = shake. Churn = feet. Bhusm Say = like ash (dry). 4.
MEANING: In the fourth quarter of life, grey hair, like the brightness of the sun, changes the outlook of the man. Those who were awake (alert against the attacks of Maya) protect the wealth of noble qualities in them. They stay alert by their attachment with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and their life is spent in blissfulness. Those who follow the Guru's Advice in life do not take rebirths, and Waheguru becomes their friend (supporter). In old age, a man's hands, feet, and body begin to shake, his vision blurs, and his skin becomes dry as ash. Without enshrining Waheguru's Naam, the man suffers badly, no matter what the eon is, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Khooli Guntth(i) = the body-package of life opens (time of death). Rus Kus = all tastes of life. Tthaakay = stopped. Bundh(i) = tied up. Pukki Khayti = ripe crop (ready to harvest). Looniyaiy = is cut. Ghurri Chusa = every single moment. Laykha Leejaiy = account is demanded. Suhou = endure. Jeeay = oh, soul (man). Soor(i) Nur = gods-like good people. Kaarun Keeya = made arrangements.
MEANING: When the body package becomes loose as prewritten, Waheguru's call comes for the individual to leave the world. All tastes of life are restrained for him, and tied up; he is taken away with the Will of God, where he cannot be seen or heard. Like the crops which are harvested when they ripen, everybody is taken away by Waheguru when their turn comes. Waheguru demands the account of all the deeds the man had performed every moment, and the soul has to endure the good or the bad results. With the arrangements already made, Waheguru connects the good people with Him through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Taara Lumma = a star with long tail; a comet. (Halley's Comet which is visible from the earth every 75-76 years, was visible in 1534 at the time of Guru Nanak Sahib who left the mortal world in 1539. Next predicted visit = July 28, 2061). Sayvuk = devotee. Poor Kerma = great luck. Sach(u) Smaaliya = remembered Waheguru. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Dhaavut = rushing (to seek pleasure). Punch = the five (senses). Ruhhay Ghur(u) = stay peaceful. Bikh(u) = poison. Sakhi = with the Teaching of. Cheenay = watches. Ram Kerma = Waheguru's performances (amazing feats). Puteenay = are convinced. 1.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib compared Waheguru to Halley's Comet, which, like the Comet (which stays hidden for long periods of time), stays hidden in people's minds.

MEANING: When the people saw the wondrous spectacle of Halley's Comet in the sky in 1534, Satguru (Nanak Sahib) aroused their curiosity to "see" the creator of the Comet (Waheguru) in their mind. He "showed" Waheguru (which, like the Comet, stays hidden in the human body) to some lucky people with His Shabad. Such devotees, whom Satguru shows Waheguru in their heart, ponder upon His Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) day and night to enshrine Him in their heart forever. All five of their senses quit wandering in search of pleasures, and stay under their control. The devotee also kills his lust and rage, which are poisonous for his spirituality, with the Naam. With Guru's Advice, Waheguru's Light enlightens his mind, and he watches His amazing feats. To see Halley's Comet as a wondrous spectacle of Waheguru, the devotees are convinced of Waheguru's presence, and get rid of their haumein, oh Nanak. 1.

Nanak, bhor(u) bhuyya, mun(u) maaniya, jaagut raiyn(i) vihaani. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Chooki = ended. Abhimaani = conceit. Bhor(u) = light; enlightenment. Smaani = mind stays absorbed. Bhaani = is liked by. Saabut(u) = complete (without any loss in noble qualities). Liv = focus of mind. Jaata = recognize (Waheguru). Bherm Bhoolaani = misled in illusions. Vihaani = spends. 2.

MEANING: The devotees of the Guru stay alert against the attacks of Maya, and they get rid of their ego. They feel enlightened day and night and remain absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. They like to be absorbed in the Naam with Guru's Shabad, and preserve the wealth of their noble qualities by staying alert against the attacks of Maya. With the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru granted to them by the Guru, their mind stays focused on Waheguru's Feet (Naam). They see Waheguru's Light everywhere and see Him in everybody, while the Maya-worshippers are misled by the illusions of Maya. With His Light appearing in their mind, the devotees are convinced about His presence in their heart (start loving Him), and their life is spent in alertness, oh Nanak. 2.

Nanak, uvgun, gooneh smaanaiy, aiysi Gurmut(i) paayi. 3.

Word Meaning: Aougoon = ignoble qualities. Veesriya = forgotten. Goonie = noble qualities. Ruv Ruhhiya = is present. Beeya = other. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Thaapiya = created. Kern Kaarun = the root (creator) of the whole universe (Waheguru). Sumruth = omnipotent. Apaara = with no ends. Tribidh(i) = the three effects of Maya. Mayt(i) = by eradicating. Aiysi = such. 3.
MEANING: With Waheguru's Naam in their mind, the devotees' ignoble qualities are forgotten (kicked out) and are replaced by the noble qualities. They see only Waheguru to be present everywhere, and none else, and their mind is satisfied in itself (no worldly desire is left in their mind). With Guru's Advice, they make a connection with Waheguru, which has created (and continues to support) the water, the land, the whole universe, and every heart (of living beings of all kinds). By killing all the attractions of the three qualities of Maya, such devotees become absorbed in Waheguru, the origin (creator) of the universe, who is omnipotent and limitless. They acquire such wisdom from the Guru with which all their ignoble qualities get absorbed (eaten up) by noble qualities, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Aavun Jaan = birth and death. Ruhhay = ended. Chooka = removed. Bhola = misgivings. Saacha = pure; free from vices. Chola = body. Pergut(u) Hoyee = became famous. Soag = sadness. Suntaapaiy = sufferings. Puchhaata Aapaiy = recognized self. Payiurraiy Ghur(i) = in parents' home (this world). Puteeni = convinced. Sahour-rraiy = in in-laws house (next world). Pir = husband (Waheguru). Bhaani = liked. Kaan(i) = subservience. Loakaani = of people. 4.
MEANING: All the misgivings of such devotees are dispelled, and their birth-death cycle is terminated. They kill their haumein, connect with Waheguru, and their body and mind become perfectly pure. With Guru's grace, the haumein of the devotee is destroyed, she becomes famous in the world, and all her griefs and sufferings come to an end. She recognizes herself (that she is a part of Waheguru), and her soul merges into Waheguru's Soul. She is convinced and pleased with Guru's Shabad in this world, and is liked by Waheguru in the next world.

Word Meaning: Bholaavrraiy = in misconceptions. Puchhotaani = repents. Pir(i) = (Waheguru) Husband. Sootti = asleep (unaware). Saar = worth. Mootti = defrauded. Vidhun = miserable. Raatay = night; span of life. Vigooti = suffer humiliation. Taatay = jealousy. Huns(u) = soul. Foormaaya = by God's orders. Vihooni = empty; without. 1.

MEANING: The young woman (human soul) is misled by her misbeliefs and repents later. She does not realize the worth of Waheguru (His Naam), and the unaware woman is forgotten by her Waheguru-Husband. Because of forgetting Waheguru, the woman, robbed of her noble qualities, is ignored by Him as well, and she spends the night of her life in misery. She suffers humiliation because of her lust, rage, conceit, haumein, and jealousy. When the soul leaves her body, which is made of dust (earth) as per the Will of God, it becomes a part of dust again. Without Waheguru's eternal Naam, the young devotee is misled in her misconceptions and repents, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Naah = oh, Lord. Nij = own. Rool(i) = disgraced. Bhusmaiy Dhayri = pile of dirt. Chaahaiy = likes. Keejaiy = do. Rusn Rus(i) = best of all sweet tastes. Rusna = tongue. Vin(u) = without. Sung(i) = in company. Saathi = companion. Ghunayri = countless. Laaha Laiy = acquiring benefit. Ghur(i) = God's Court. 2.

MEANING: The misled and the repentant soul prays to Waheguru to listen to her request that nobody pays any attention to her without Him, which is eternal in His Palace; but without Him, she will be disgraced, and will become a pile of dirt. She is worried about her fate, and wants to know what she can say or do about that (her fate) (and to connect with Him). (She gets the response through some devotee) That Waheguru's immortalizing Naam is the sweetest thing to enjoy by the tongue with Guru's Shabad. Countless people take birth and die without Waheguru's Naam, and there is no friend or companion to help them. Waheguru's Naam is eternal, so the man should earn spiritual benefit (wealth) by reciting it before going to Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saajun = Dear Friend (Waheguru). Days(i) = in the country (heart). Vidaysiurray = in foreign land; far away. Sanayhrray = messages. Saar(i) Smaalay = remembers continually. Moondh = young (immature) woman. Naiyn Bhurayndi = with teary eyes. Maarug(u) = Punth(u) = path. Vikkhrra = difficult. Paaray = on the other end. Vichhonni = separated. Amrit-Birkh = tree-like immortalizing Naam. Muhhaa Rus = with Amrit-like taste. Fuliya = laden with fruit. Chaakhiya = tasted. 3.

MEANING: Believing that the dear Waheguru resides at some distant place rather than in her own heart, the repentant young woman sends Him sorrowful messages. With teary eyes, she remembers Waheguru for His virtuous qualities, and wonders how she could meet (connect) with her dear Waheguru. She does not know how to follow a very difficult path to reach Him on the other end of her journey. (She is told by some noble person) that Waheguru can be reached with Guru's Shabad when she offers her body and mind (selfishness and ego) in His service. (Guru's Shabad or Waheguru's Naam) is such a tree which is laden with the great and the sweet-tasting Amrit-fruit of which the taste can be enjoyed only on meeting with dear God. 3.

Word Meaning: Boolaayirriyay = called in. Bilm = delay. Ruttrriyay = imbued (in love). Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Roas(u) = resent. Gerb(u) Nivaar(i) = by eradicating ego. Smaani = is absorbed (connected). Naachi = danced. Ghooghut(u) = veil. Mutkee = the vessel of public taunts. Toarr(i) = by breaking. Niraari = detached; emancipated. Aap(u) = self. Tutt(u) = the root of the universe (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: The devotee, who is called in by Waheguru in His Palace, should not delay to go in. Imbued in Waheguru's love day and night, the devotee gets connected with Waheguru in a high spiritual state. She does not complain about her long separation, and gets absorbed in Him by killing her conceit. Imbued with the love of Waheguru, once connected, she remains connected to Him, while the Maya-worshipper continues to take births and die. As the saying goes, when a woman dances in public, she does not need to wear a veil (she feels no shame), disregards taunts from the people, worships Waheguru, and becomes detached from worldly affairs. She analyzes herself (that she is a part of Waheguru) and ponders on Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Laal = Dear. Rungilay = colourful; performer of amazing feats. Laalay = slave. Alukh(u) = the incomprehensible (God). Lukhaaya = showed. Bhaalay = look for. Purakh(u) Bidhaata = the carver of our fates. Bunvaari = a name for Waheguru. Sach(u) = Naam. Deen Duyaala = merciful to the humble. Prunvut(i) = prays. 1.

MEANING: I am Your slave, oh my dear and colourful (performer of amazing feats) Waheguru. The Guru has shown me the incomprehensible Waheguru, so I do not need to look for any other deity. When the Guru became kind to me, He showed me Waheguru with His Will, and Waheguru, which is the soul of the world, is the Provider and the carver of our fates. Connected to Him in my high spiritual state, I was shown Waheguru. I beg for Your Naam, oh the merciful to the humble, Waheguru. It is only with Your kind sight that we can swim across the world-sea. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Unt(i) = limits. Rungeen = in different colours (shapes). Jinseen = in different kinds. Junt = living beings. Churrhaiy Suvaaya = uliplies. Uprumpur = the endless God. Thaap(i) = creates. Oothaapay = destroys. Heera = diamond; pure soul. Heeraiy = the diamond Waheguru. Baydhiya = pierced. Haar(i) Purovaiy = strings (the beads of noble qualities) to make necklace. 2.

MEANING: The extremely dear and omnipresent Waheguru is supporting the whole universe. It is through Guru's Shabad that one comes to realize that the Great Waheguru is present everywhere. Nobody can find the limits of the Great Waheguru, who is supporting the whole universe. He has created the living beings of many different colours and of many kinds, and His largess keeps growing all the time. The limitless Waheguru creates and destroys the world, and only that which He likes happens. When a devotee strings the necklace of his mind with the beads of noble qualities (acquires noble qualities), his mind is pierced with the diamond-like pure Waheguru, and becomes pure like Him. 2.

Word Meaning: Mustuk = forehead. Neeshaano = identification. Chooka = ended. Bhaavaiy = likes; feels blissful Mohun(i) = the mind-captivating Waheguru. Bundhun Khohl(i) = by breaking the worldly bonds. Niraaray = detached. Joti = soul. Jot(i) = God's Soul. 3.
MEANING: The identification sign of Waheguru's Naam appears on the forehead of the devotee when he acquires noble qualities and merges into Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities, and whereby his birth-death cycle is terminated. The purified devotee recognizes the eternal Waheguru, and, imbued in His love, he merges into Him and feels blissful. He does not see anyone higher than Waheguru, and being like Waheguru, he merges into Him. The mind-captivating Waheguru has also captivated my mind, and my worldly bonds have been broken, so I am now fully detached from the world. MEANING: Guru's shelter (and the gathering of Guru's Sikhs) is eternal, and one can find the eternal Residence of Waheguru in Guru's shelter. But the follower of his own mind does not make any effort to acquire Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) from the Guru. The devotee, who receives (acquires) the Naam of the immortal and the eternal Waheguru who never takes any living form from the Guru, and recites it, attains union with Waheguru, which is one's eternal residence, and which has been there ever since. Dootur(u) = difficult to swim (the world-sea). Doohayla = troublesome. Saanjh = evening. Perbhaata = morning. Roodha = bonded to. Baandhiya = trapped. Bidh(i) = means. Nurhuray = Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: Understand the objective of your life, give up your ignoble habits, and get absorbed in (acquire) the noble qualities of Waheguru, oh my unaware and ignorant mind. Based on the nature of your previous deeds, you are attracted to many enjoyments of life, but once disconnected from Waheguru, you cannot connect with Him again (with ignoble qualities). How can one swim across the tough-to-swim sea of Maya without Waheguru's Naam? Disconnected with Waheguru, and engrossed in Maya, the fear of death always worries the individual as he follows the path leading to the Angel of death – the path which is highly frightening. Bonded to the attractions of the world from the morning to the evening, the money-lover never finds time to get imbued in the love of Waheguru; so, what means does he have to find emancipation? The only way to break the worldly bonds is to serve Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru (His Shabad). 1.

Guru's Shabad is the boat which can ferry one across the sea of Maya; so, one must focus one's mind on the Shabad. I do not feel satisfaction (peace of mind) without seeing Him; reciting His Naam with the Guru's Shabad salvages one. Satguru's Shabad becomes the adornment for (the mind of) the devotee who recites Waheguru Naam. As a beggar, I ask for the gift of Waheguru Sight (connection with Him) from the benevolent Satguru. Satguru makes me recite Waheguru's Naam all the time; I am a sacrifice for my Satguru. 2.

You are kind, and You connect people like me who have no noble quality, and no pride, with You, oh Waheguru. Because of our sins, we have lived countless lives, but have come to Your shelter now. When the Guru connects the soul of a devotee with the Supreme Soul, his (devotee's) fortlike body becomes very attractive (pure). The human body-fort becomes attractive when it is captivated by Waheguru, so why should we forget Him even for the time during which we breathe, and chew a bite. I am a sacrifice for my Guru, with whose Shabad, I acquired Waheguru in my mind. I will offer my head to Satguru if He likes (permits). NOTE: This holy Shabad is of great historical significance as Guru Ram Dass Ji describes the only long journey that Guru Amar Dass Ji (the Third Master) undertook to enlighten the people. Guru Ram Dass Ji (then Bhai Jettha Ji) had accompanied Guru Amar Dass Ji in this historic journey. Like Guru Nanak Sahib, Guru Amar Dass ji first visited Kulkhayt (Kurukshetra), an important holy place for Hindus. Hundreds of thousands of people had gathered there on the occasion of some holy day. Next, Gur Sahib crossed the River Yamuna and then the River Ganga to reach Hardwar, another Hindu holy place on the east bank of the Ganga. There is a Gurdwara in Hardwar commemorating the visit of Guru Sahib. Guru Sahib stayed there for a few weeks and enlightened the residents there.

Listen to the prayer of this humble slave of Yours, and show me Your holy sight. I, Nanak, am all sacrifice for You, and am suffering in Your separation, oh Waheguru. 1.

My body, my mind, and all the noble qualities are given by You, and I can cut my body into small pieces to have Your holy sight. I can live for the rest of my life just to see Your sight, even if that is for a short moment. Your Naam is immortalizing, which I can recite only by Your benevolence. I am thirsty for Your sight, and am longing to see You, just like the rainbird, which longs for a drop of the rain, oh Dear. Kindly show me Your sight, I, Nanak, am all sacrifice for You, oh my dear Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Akaaruth = worthless. Tuj(i) = ignoring. Aan Rung(i) = in the love of others. Raachut = getting engrossed. Mithiya = false; short-lived. Pehrut = wear. Pause. Jobun(u) = youth. Sumpaiy = wealth. Bhoogvaiy = enjoying. Nib-hut = accompany till the end. Na Maat = not even a small amount. Mirg trishna = mirage; illusions of Maya. Baavur = foolish. Doorm = tree. Rung(i) = enjoyments. Raat = intoxicated. 1. Mud = intoxication. Mohut = captivated. Khaat = pit. Ker(u) = hand. Geh(i) = hold. Suhaat = supporter. 2

MEANING: Life goes worthlessly without Waheguru (His Naam). Forgetting Waheguru and getting engrossed in other enjoyments gives no lasting comfort. The enjoyment of wearing (expensive) clothes and of eating all rich foods is short-lived. Pause.

Not even a small amount of one's wealth, his youthfulness, and the enjoyments of wealth accompany him all the way (after his death). Captivated by the illusions of Maya, the foolish man gets engrossed in worldly attractions and does not realize that all such enjoyments by which he is intoxicated are like the ever-changing shadow of a tree. 1.

Captivated by the intoxication of Maya, I have fallen into the deep pit of my ego, worldly attachments, lust and rage. I pray to Waheguru that He come to my support, and pull His slave, Nanak, from this pit by holding my hand. 2.5.7.

Baanchhut = longs for. Maath = forehead.

MEANING: Nobody, other than Waheguru, accompanies the man after His death. Waheguru is the Lord of the humble, of mercy, and of the (spiritually) orphans. Pause.

None of his sons, his wealth, and the sensual pleasures that he had enjoyed accompany him when he is on the way to the Angel of death. The man should recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise, which is the real treasure, and ferries him across the deep sea of Maya (salvages him). 1.

All one's troubles go away when he takes shelter of the all-capable, indescribable, and incomprehensible Waheguru. I long for the dust of the feet of Waheguru's devotees (opportunity to serve them), but only those get this opportunity who have it prewritten on their forehead by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.6.8.

MEANING: My love for my Waheguru has become so powerful (intense) that I do not forget Him even for a short moment, and all my desires to enjoy sensual pleasures have been burned down (eradicated). Pause. Just like the rainbird, which cannot live without the first drop of rain, and like the fish, which cannot live without water, it has become my requirement that I cannot live without singing Waheguru's praise. 1.

Like the musk deer, which is captivated by a special kind of music, even though it is pierced with sharp arrows of the hunter, I am captivated by the lotus-like Feet of Waheguru (His Naam), which is the source of all enjoyments, and I always remember Him, oh Nanak. 2.1.9.

Sunsaar Saagur = the world sea; worldly attractions. Dhoar = to the end; shore. Bohith = ship. Moar = me. Gerbh Koont = womb. Dhaariyo = supported; protected. Bikhaiy Bun = the world of sensual enjoyments. Shukut = powerful. Nihor = nihaar = see; look for. 2.

MEANING: I pray to my Dear (Waheguru), who dwells (hidden) in the cave of my heart, that He demolish the wall of my illusions, and pull me toward Him by holding my hand. Pause. Too many people are falling in the sea of Maya (worldly attractions), but Waheguru's Feet are (His Naam is) the ship to ferry them across. I pray to Him that He kindly puts me in the company of the holy saints where I may recite His Naam, and board the ship to be ferried across. 1. There is no one else present in the world-forest of sensual attractions (where one can be easily lost) than the Waheguru, who protects the fetus in the mother's womb. The all-powerful Waheguru is fully capable of providing us with shelter (protecting us); so, I have come to His shelter and do not look to anyone else for help, oh Nanak. 2.2.10.

Bust(u) = thing; matter. Pervaan(u) = approved. 2.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, and sing praise of Waheguru's amazing qualities, which destroy all one's sins. Oh, my friends. Pause.

Realize the fact that death always looms over your head, and you will leave all your wealth behind. Also, recognize that worldly attachments and all one's wishes, which result in bad endings, are short-lived for sure. 1. Focus your mind on the eternal, timeless Waheguru. His Naam is the true treasure; earn this benefit (wealth) as this is the only worthy thing which is approved by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.3.11.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the basis of one's life. No agonizing trouble is caused when one deals in the Naam (recites it) in the company of the holy saints. Pause.

Waheguru, Himself, extends His hand to protect His devotees, and no immoral thoughts arise in their minds. But only those individuals remember Waheguru who have it prewritten in their fate, and no fire of worldly desires burns (agonizes) them. 1.

Waheguru's Feet are (His Naam is) the supreme Amrit, and are the source of all comforts, joys, and bliss. I have come to Waheguru's shelter as His slave, and wish for the dust of the feet of His saints (an opportunity to serve them), oh Nanak. 2.4.12.

MEANING: The ears, which do not listen to Waheguru's Naam (with love), are condemnable. What kind of life do they have who forget Waheguru, which is like (the basis of) their own life? Pause. They may enjoy many delicious foods and drinks, but they get the same credit in Waheguru's Court as a donkey hauling heavy loads gets from his master (none). Like an ox, which is used to power heavy machinery (and performs hard labour without much reward), the money-lovers work hard all twenty-four hours to earn it, but without much overall (blissful) gain. 1. Ignoring Waheguru, those who are attached to Maya have to cry (suffer) in many different ways. With folded hands, I beg Waheguru for His Naam, which I want to recite all the time, oh Nanak. 2.5.13.

MEANING: I have a longing for Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of immense peace and blissfulness in the body, and which puts out the fire of worldly desires, which causes burning of the heart. Pause.

Countless immoral are salvaged when they follow the path of life as advised by the Guru, oh man. Putting the dust of the feet of the Guru on the forehead (obeying His Advice) purifies one's mind as if he had taken dips in countless holy places. 1.

Word Meaning: Poor Ruhhiyo = is present. Serbuter Maiy = everywhere. Bidhaata = carver of our fates; the Creator. Maarug(u) Prubh Ka = path leading to union with God. Jaata = recognized; make connection with. Nihaaliya = is seen. Til(u) = (small in size like) a sesame seed. Bhunnaiy = holdback any credit. Ghaaliya = hard labour. Sehj Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Maata = intoxicated. 1.

Baydhiya = pierced; affected deeply. Aan Kut = where else? Meen(u) = fish. Bichhoha = separation. Suhhaiy = tolerate; endure. Suhhiyaiy = endure. Chhatrik = the bird that is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Piyaasiya = thirsty for. Bihaavaiy = is spent. Chukvee = the ruddy duck. Pergaasiya = brighten. Tikaahi = stay; rest. 2.

MEANING: Come and visit me (appear in my heart), oh my Dear (Waheguru). Pause.

The Creator Waheguru is present everywhere. Waheguru Himself has carved the path for the devotees to get connected with Him, and that is to sing His praise in the shelter of the Guru, and when one sees Him in every heart. Whosoever comes to His shelter (surrenders to Him completely) enjoys all comforts. Waheguru does not hold back any credit – not even the size of a sesame seed - for the hard work of the devotee to connect with Him. Imbued in the great sweetness of the Naam of Waheguru, which is the treasure of all noble qualities, such a devotee sings His praise in a natural way (without any special effort) all the time. The Perfect Waheguru is omnipresent and is the Creator of the universe; I am His slave and have sought His shelter, oh Nanak. 1.

The devotee, whose mind has been pierced with Waheguru's love, does not go anywhere else (seeks no other shelter). Like the fish, which cannot survive when separated from water, and like the rainbird, which longs for the first drop of rain to quench his thirst, and like the ruddy duck, which waits through the whole night waiting for the sun to brighten the sky, only when she can unite with her separated companion, the devotee of Waheguru cannot survive without Him, and cannot endure the suffering of separation from Him. The devotee's mind is always focused on Waheguru's sight, and sings His praise all the time; that day is lucky for him on which he gets to see Waheguru. How can a devotee's soul find peace without seeing Waheguru? I pray to Waheguru to show me His sight, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saas = breaths. Dayhouri = body. Kut = where? Ders(u) = (Waheguru's) Sight. Bihoona = without. Ticknen = enjoy peace of mind. Nerk(u) = hell. Sehna = endure. Baydhiya = pierced; stitched. Rusik = loving. Baiyraagi = suffering in separation. Liv Laagi = deep connection. Kut-hoon Na = nowhere. Nikhaydhiya = discarded. Unk(i) = in the heart. Maavaiy = contain. 3. Khojut = searching. Krunadhaaray = becomes merciful. Neech(u) = lowly; ignoble. Doakh = faults; demerits. Beechaaray = considers. Saaray = looks after; grants. Bird(u) = innate virtue. Bukhaaniya = is said to be. Bhagat(i) vuchhul = lover of His worship. Unchulo Guhhiyo = Held His robe; sought shelter. Poor Smaaniya = present uniformly. Sookh-Saagro = sea of comforts (Waheguru). Sehj Soobhaaya = in natural way. Haaro = lost; destroyed. Ker(u) Geh(i) = holding by the hand. Leenay = adopted; embraced. Oor(i) Haaro = necklace (rosary) in the heart. 4.

MEANING: Like a body without breath (life) gets no respect anywhere; a saint without Waheguru's sight (disconnected from Him) also feels spiritually dead, and finds no mental peace even for a short moment. His mind is pierced with Waheguru's Naam, and he feels as if he is suffering in hell without His Naam. Suffering and tortured in the separation of Waheguru, His loving devotees feel discarded (dejected) and do not seek anybody else's shelter. For them, no comfort in the world can match the blissfulness that they feel when they get connected with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and cannot contain their joy. I pray to Waheguru that He becomes kind to me so that my mind stays focused on His Feet (Naam), oh Nanak. 3. Searching hard in my own heart, I realized that Waheguru, the Lord of mercy, had become very kind to me. I had no good qualities in me, was ignoble, and had no spiritual support, but the kind Waheguru did not consider any of my shortcomings. As He is said to have the innate virtue of purifying even the immoral, He totally disregarded my demerits and granted me (endowed me with) all the comforts. Hearing that He loves His worship, I sought the shelter of Waheguru, which is uniformly present in everybody. I realized Waheguru, which is the sea (source) of all comforts, without any special effort, whereby all the suffering of rebirths was completely destroyed for me. When His Naam becomes the rosary in the heart of a devotee (he recites His Naam with a fully focused mind), Waheguru embraces him as His own, by holding his hand, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Oostut(i) = (undeserving) praise. Ninda = (unfair) vilification. Biburjit = forbidden; by giving up. Tujhou = give up. Maan(u) = pride; ego. Abhimaana = conceit. Kunchun = gold. Moorut(i) = image; alike. 1. Jun(u) = devotee. Koyee = rare. Pud = level. Cheenay = recognize; attains. Soyee = the same; that. Pause. Ruj, Tum, and Sut Goon = the three effects of Maya (see the INTRODUCTION). Chautha Pud = the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya. It is this state in which one unites with God. Perm Pud = the highest spiritual level (union with Waheguru). 2. Bert = commitments like fasting. Naym = principle. Sooch(i) = physical purity. Sunjum = control on senses. Nihkaama = without any wish or desire. Bherm(u) = illusion. Chooka = ends. Chitvut = thinking about. Aatum Rama = Waheguru. 3. Mundar(i) = temple; human body (heart). Pergaasiya = lighted up. Undhkaar = darkness. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who stays away from showering others with undeserving praise, and from unwarranted vilification of others, which are both forbidden in spirituality, and also gives up his ego, and conceit, and treats iron and gold the same, is an image of Waheguru (like Him). 1. There are hardly any or only two such devotees (among millions) of Waheguru who control their lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, and attain the spiritual state where they can become like Waheguru. Pause.

Waheguru's Maya is said to have three effects – Rujo, Tumo, and Suto. The devotee, who attains a spiritual level above these three effects, attains the supreme state in which he can unite with God. 2. The devotees of Waheguru stay unaffected by worldly desires and do not need any prevalent rituals. like undertaking any pilgrimage, making spiritually worthless commitments, following unnecessary principles, maintaining ritualistic purity, or making ineffective efforts to control the senses. All their illusions about Maya and their worldly desires go away when they keep Waheguru in mind. 3.

Waheguru's slave, Kabir, asserts that like darkness is dispelled in the house in which lamps are lighted, all misgivings disappear from the heart, which is enlightened by the fearless Waheguru. 4.1.

Keht Kabir, soonhou ray sunt-hou, nib-hee khayp humaari. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Bunjiya = deals in; trades. Kaasi = bronze. Taamba = copper. Laung = cloves. Soopaari = areca nut (used in betel leaf wraps). Khayp = merchandise. 1. Biyapaari = businessmen; traders. Heera = diamond (Waheguru). Haath(i) Churrhiya = acquired.

Sunsaari = worldly bonds. Pause. Tuou = only then. Saachi Bust = the eternal merchandize (Waheguru's Naam). Bhaar Chulaayay = hauled the loads. Bhundaari = owner of the warehouse (Waheguru). 2. Ruttan, Javaahur, Maanik = jewels and pearls. Pasaari = store owner. Dehdis = in every direction. Nihchul = immortal. 3. Baiyl(u) = ox (in those days, oxen were used as the beasts of burden). Soort(i) = focussed mind. Paiynda = journey. Goan(i) = load. Bhur(i) Daari = has filled. Nib-hee = reached its destination. 4.

MEANING: Some people deal in bronze or copper, while others deal in cloves and areca nuts (which are used in betel leaf wraps); but the holy saints deal only in Waheguru's Naam; such is their valuable merchandise. 1.

I am a trader in Waheguru's Naam and have acquired the diamond-like Waheguru's Naam, whereby all my worldly bonds have been severed. Pause.

The dealers in Waheguru's Naam get into this business when Waheguru prompts them to do so. They load the merchandise of Waheguru Naam, which arrives at the warehouse (treasure) of Waheguru (and is approved). 2.

Waheguru Himself is the merchandise of the jewel-like and pearl-like Naam, and Himself is the owner of this treasure. He sends His devotees who become eternal like Him, in every direction, to sell this merchandise (spread His Naam). I have also made up my mind to carry the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam, and have loaded it with the Divine knowledge. 3.

My fully focused mind covers the journey to Waheguru's door. I am glad to share this with the holy saints that my merchandise of Waheguru's Naam has reached safely at its Destination, oh Kabir. 4.2.

NOTE: In those days, oxen were used as beasts of burden by the traders to carry their merchandise.

Abhaiy pud poor(i) taap teh naasay, keh(i) Kabir beechaari. Oobut chuluntay, eh(u) mud(u) paaya, jaisay khoand khoomaari. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ree Kulvaar(i) = oh, server of liquor. Guvaar(i) = uncivilized. Moodh Mut(i) = (oh, my) foolish thinking. Oolto = reverse. Puvun(u) = wind-like fickle mind. Phiraavoun = turning around. Mutvaar = intoxicated. Mayr = the mythical tallest montain; my brain (the tenth door). Sur = like. Bhaatthi = kiln. Amrit Dhaar = stream of Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam. Chuvaavoun = dropping. 1. Dohaayee = pray loudly and repeatedly. Doorlubh = rarely available. Sehjay = with ease. Pause. Bhaiy Bich(i) = in fear of God. Bhaaou = love. Bhaayay = intent. Boojheh(i) = understands. Jaytay = all those. Ghut = hearts. Bhaavaiy = likes. 2. Nugri = town (of body). Durvaajay = openings. Dhaavut = rushing. Berj(i) = preventing from; controlling. Tirkooti = the effect of the three effects of Maya. Chhootaiy = overcome; get rid of. Kheeva = intoxicated. 3. Abhaiy Pud = spiritual level above all fears; the fourth state. Poor(i) = to achieve. Taap = all suffering. Teh = in that state. Oobut = the difficult ascent (of a mountain). Chuluntay = walking on. Mud = intoxicant. Khoand = wine. Khoomaari = feeling high. 4.

MEANING: You are serving (feeding) me the intoxicating liquor of the attractions of Maya, but you may not be aware that I have turned around the direction of my wind-like, fickle mind from its attraction for Maya towards Waheguru's Naam, oh my unrefined, and foolish wisdom (thinking). The tenth door in my brain (the home to Divine Knowledge) has now become like a kiln where the fire of all my worldly desires is being put out by a steady and thin stream of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. 1. Pray for the benevolence of Waheguru to grant the Amrit of His Naam for you to drink so that you may acquire the rare wisdom by which you may quench your thirst for worldly attractions with ease, oh my mind. Pause.

A rare person realizes that if he lives in the fear of God, love and reverence for Waheguru are automatically generated in his mind, and he enjoys the sweetness of His Naam. Every heart has the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in it, but only that individual can drink it (have Waheguru appear in his heart) whom He likes. 2. The human body has nine doors (openings) that rush to enjoy themselves. The devotee, who controls all these with Waheguru's Naam, attains the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, has his tenth door (door of awareness) opened, and feels intoxicated all the time. 3.

Kabir shares his thought that, with His Naam in mind, Waheguru's devotees attain a spiritual state in which they feel no worldly fear and have their suffering eradicated. But it is not easy to achieve this spiritual state; it is like travelling on a very tough uphill journey. But once there, one feels the intoxication of permanent wine (everlasting bliss). 4.3.

Word Meaning: Trishna = appetite for (fire of) worldly desires. Leenay = overpowered by. Gut(i) = worth. Aikaiy = of the "One" (Waheguru). Phooti Aankhaiyn = blinded (blurred) vision. Soojhaiy = think of. Bood(i) Mooyay = died of drowning. 1. Kut = what for? Chulut Taydhay = on the wrong path; walk with swagger. Ust(i) = bones. Churm = skin. Bishta = feces. Moonday = loaded. Doorgundh = foul smell of immoral thinking. Baydhay = smeared with. Pause. Bherm(u) Bhoolay = lost in illusions. Kaal(u) = death. Dooray = far away. Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Ruhhaiy = is retained; dies. Austha Pooray = when the life is over. 2. Aapna Keeya = one's own efforts. Bukhaani = utter. 3.

Bulooaa = of sand. Ghurooaa = house. Phoolvut = swelling in ego. Uyaanay = oh, ignorant. Chaytiyo = remembered. Siyaanay = wise. 4.

MEANING: Overpowered by lust, rage, and worldly desires, the man does not realize the worth of Waheguru (His Naam). With blurred (mental) vision, he cannot think straight (about reality), and gets drowned in the sea of Maya (which has no liquid water). 1.

Why does he walk with conceit when he is made of bones and skin, and is loaded with the foul-smelling feces? Pause.

What illusions mislead him that he does not recite Waheguru's Naam? He does not realize that death is not far away from him (can happen any time). He makes countless efforts to protect his body (looks after it well), but it collapses when his life-span is over. 2.

What can the man do when he is helpless before Waheguru? His efforts are not always successful. However, when Waheguru likes, He connects the man with the Guru, and he begins to recite His Naam. 3. The man is foolish to swell in ego (when he lives in a body which is like a house of sand, which can collapse any time). I have seen many "wise" men who drowned (in the world-sea) because they did not remember Waheguru, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Keh(i) Kabir, unt kee bayr, aayay laago kaal(u) nidaan(u). 2.5.

Word Meaning: Taydhi Paag = a turban tied with its front pointing sideways (a sign of conceit). Tadhay Chullay = walk with a swagger. Bhaaou Bhugut(i) = worship with love. Deevaan = court (to exercise power over others). 1. Abhimaan(i) = in conceit. Kunik = gold; wealth. Kamini = wife. Pause. Bikaar = sensual pleasures. Mud = intoxication. Bidh(i) = way. Audh Bihaan(i) = spend life. Nidaan(i) = for sure. 2.

MEANING: The conceited man wears his turban pointing sideways, and walks with a swagger, and chews on a wrap of betel leaves (another sign of showing off). He has nothing to do with the worship of Waheguru with love and shows off his authority over others. 1.

He forgets Waheguru in his swelled ego. He believes that his wealth and his beautiful wife will live with him forever. Pause.

Highly intoxicated with his wealth and the beauty of his wife, his whole life is spent in greed, lies, and in the enjoyment of sensual pleasures. (But none of these things accompanies him) when the death comes, which has to come one day for sure, oh Kabir. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Chaar(i) Din = four days (a short period of time). Naubut(i) = drum. Itnuk(u) = so much. Khutiya = earned; accumulated. Gutthiya = made packages. Mutiya = dirt; buried under ground. 1. Dayhri = door-sill. Mihri = wife. Dooaaraiy = main gate. Maayay = mother. Merhut = cremation ground. Lug(i) = up to. Kootumb = family members. Huns(u) = soul. Vaiy = those; that. Bit = wealth. Pur Paatun = town; city. Buhour(i) = again. Akaaruth = uselessly. 2.

MEANING: A man may have been very rich with so much wealth that he might have built enough bundles to bury them underground, but he beats the drum of his rule only for a short period of time until his death, and cannot take anything at all with him. Pause.

Sitting on the door-sill, his wife will cry, and his crying mother will accompany his dead body to the main gate (that is only as far as the women could go with the dead in those days). The male members of his family, and the rest of the people, will accompany him to the cremation ground, but the soul has to go alone after that (that is as far as the relatives can go with him, or help him). 1.

He will not come back even to see his sons, his wealth, or his town. Why do people waste away their precious human life, and not worship the Lord, oh Kabir? 2.6.

Kutha = stories of praise; discussions of His virtues Soopuch = who eats dog meat. Tool(i) = Smaan(i) = equal to; like. 1. Achayt = unaware. Chit = mind. Chayt(i) = remember. Balmeek = a vey low caste and untouchable person, who would eat dog meat; but later turned a devotee of Waheguru, and wrote the Ramayana. Pudeh(i) = spiritual level. Amariyo =reached; attained. Bisaykh = specialty; greatness. Pause. Sooaan Shutur(u) = enemy of dogs. Ajaat = of very low caste. Subh Tay = of all. Krishan = Waheguru. Hayt(u) = love. Bupura = poor; ignorant. Suraahaiy = sing praise. Teen Loak = the whole universe. Pervaysh = entered; reached. 2. Ajamul = the Brahman, who is considered a huge sinner because he married a prostitute. Pigula = a prostitute who fell in love with a handsome man, but the latter never showed. She became so disappointed, that she began to worship God, and was salvaged. Loobhut(u) = the hunter, who shot Krishan Ji in the foot with an arrow. Koonchur = the elephant who was trapped by an octopus and pulled down into the deep water when the former went to drink water at the pool of god Varun. When the elephant was about to drown, he prayed to Waheguru and was saved and salvaged. Doormut(i) = evil. Nistureh = salvaged. 3.

MEANING: A Brahman may be of very high clan, and may perform his six required deeds along with some other rituals everyday, but he is like the low-caste ignoble man who eats dog meat if he does not have love-filled worship of Waheguru at his heart, and if he does not like to listen to the virtues of Waheguru, or sing His praise. 1.

Why do you not look at the life of the sage, Balmeek, and remember Waheguru in mind (recite His Naam), like him, oh, my unaware mind? It is the greatness of Waheguru's worship that the low-caste and the ignoble Baalmeek attained the highest spiritual level. Pause.

He was the low-caste, and more ignoble than everybody else, who was an enemy of the dogs (killed them and ate their meat), but who developed deep love for Waheguru (and attained the high spiritual state). The ignorant people cannot appreciate his transcendence enough, but his fame spread throughout the universe. 2.

Even the evil people and living beings, such as Ajamal, Pingala, the Hunter (who killed Krishna), and the Elephant, all reached Waheguru through His worship. If such people with evil deeds were salvaged, why cannot you be salvaged with Waheguru's worship, oh Ravidass? 3.1.

There is only One Supreme Living Being; His existence is (and His Laws) are eternal; He is the creator, and is the Living Power; He is fearless (as He has no rival and is above the effects of Maya). He bears no enmity with anyone (He is completely impartial, and delivers pure justice); His persona is not affected by time (He is timeless); He takes no living form; and is self-illuminated. He can be realized only with the grace of the Guru.

Gur tay mun(u) maariya, Shabad(u) veechaariya, tay virlay sunsaasra. Nanak, Sahib bhurpoor(i) leena, Saach Shabad(i) nistaara. 4.1.2.

Word Meaning: Moon(i) = hermits; sages. Inderadik = like the god Indra. Brahmad(i) = like Brahma. Sunuk, Snundun = sons of Brahma. Tupsee = who torture themselves to please their deity. Paar(i) Puray = ferried across (the world-sea); salvaged. 1. Bhuvjul(u) = the sea of Maya. Doobidha Roag(i) Biyaapiya = suffers in indecisiveness (which is like a sickness). Pause. Deva = source of enlightenment. Alukh = incomprehensible. Abhayva = enigmatic; whose secrets cannot be known. Daat(u) = the gift of His Naam. 2. Maaniya = convinced; contented. Munsa = wishes. Binus(i) = destroy; kill one's desires. Biyogi = detached from worldly attractions (and love Waheguru). Sumjhaiy = realizes; gets enlightened. 3. Tay = those. Virlay = rare. Bhurpoor(i) Leena = fully present everywhere. Nistaara = salvation. 4.

MEANING: Countless sages and gods like Indra and Brahma, have been salvaged with Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise). Sunak, Snundun (sons of Brahma), and countless worshippers, who torture themselves (to please Waheguru), have been ferried across (the world-sea) by Guru's grace. 1. How can one (no one can) swim across the world-sea (find salvation) without Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam)? The world suffers badly because of its indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya), which is like a disease, and drowns in the world-sea without Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

Guru (Waheguru) is the source of enlightenment, is incomprehensible, and His secrets (the ways He manages the universe) cannot be known. Serving Him, enlightens the mind to the level that one understands the secrets of the whole universe. The Provider Waheguru Himself grants His Naam to the devotee by which he gets connected with the incomprehensible and the enigmatic Waheguru. 2. The human mind is the rajah (controller of all his actions), but (with Waheguru's Naam) the mind gets convinced of the reality of life, and all its wishes get buried in it (is left with no desires). When all its wishes are killed, the human mind becomes detached from the world like a yogi, and begins to love Waheguru, and is enlightened to become peaceful (quits wavering) by singing Waheguru's praise. 3.

But there are only a few such devotees who kill their desires by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. With Guru's eternal Shabad, one "sees" Waheguru as fully present everywhere and is emancipated, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Drisht(i) = sight; vision. Heena = weak. Jur(i) = old age. Jeetiya = overpowered by. Kaalo = death. Rung(u) = shine. Rehus = joyfulness; zest. Saacha = original. Jaalo = net. 1. Kubhoon Na = never. Chhootu(i) = get emancipation. Birtha = waste. Bhuyyo = becomes. Pause. Huoun = ego. Mumta = attachment. Kutthin = tough; severe. Rus(u) = sweetness. Inn Bidh(i) = this way. Taari = swimming.
2. Behray = deaf. Kern = ears. Hoachhi Akul(i) = shallow wisdom. Sehj(u) = blissfulness. Junum(u) Pdaaruth(u) = objective of life. Munmukh(i) = the follower of his mind. Soojhiya = think of. 3. Oodaas(u) = detached = Niraas(u). Baiyraagi = loving (devotee) of Waheguru. Prunvut(i) = suggests humbly. Liv = meditation. 4.

MEANING: Nobody can find emancipation without the Guru's eternal Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), and one wastes away his precious human life. So, recite Waheguru's Naam as your age is advancing, oh man. Pause.
As old age overpowers him, the man loses his eyesight, his body becomes weak, and death approaches him. He loses his original handsomeness, the shine of his skin and the zest, and he cannot escape the net of death. 1. The man has lust, rage, ego, and worldly attachments in his body (mind), which cause him a lot of pain and suffering (and moreover, he cannot find emancipation from them). But the devotees of the Guru recite Waheguru's Naam with their tongue, enjoying its sweetness, and swim across the world sea. 2.
(On the other hand), The follower of his mind (Maya-worshipper) is blind (of spirituality) and cannot think straight without the Guru, and loses the objective of human life. As he advances in age, he becomes deaf in his ears, and his wisdom (ability to think) becomes so weak that he cannot realize the blissfulness of mind that comes with the Guru's Shabad. 3.
But the beloved devotee of the Guru (Waheguru) controls all his wishes and desires and stays detached from the worldly attractions. He meditates on Waheguru's Naam in his high spiritual state. I make a humble submission that the Sikh of the Guru, who meditates on Waheguru's Naam, is emancipated, oh Nanak. 4.2.3.

Word Meaning: Bhoondi = awkward. Chaal = gait. Ker = hands. Khisray = lose firmness. Toocha = skin. Dayh = body. Koomlaani = lost elasticity. Dhoondh(i) = fog. Behray = deaf. 1. Paaya = earned. Chaalay = leave the world. Mool(u) = the original wealth (spirituality). Pause. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Pheekay = tasteless; impolite. Ninda = malicious criticism. Viyaapus(i) = becomes a routine. Pushoo = animal. Neekay = noble. 2. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Virleen = rare. Bhayd(u) = worth; sweet taste. Un ko = of others (than Waheguru). Dur(u) Ghur(u) = door; shelter. Sachiyaara = eternal. Perm Pud = highest spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: You did not have Waheguru's Naam at heart, and did not serve the Guru; so, what did you come in the world for, oh, the (spiritually) blind man? Pause.

The follower of his mind does not recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam throughout his life; when he gets old, his gait becomes awkward, his feet and his hands lose firmness (grip), and his skin loses elasticity (becomes loose), his vision gets blurred, and his ears become deaf (he becomes unable to focus his mind on Waheguru's Naam even if he wants to). 1.

The tongue of the worshipper of Maya does not get imbued in Waheguru's love, and his conversations are impolite. He routinely maliciously criticizes the holy saints; behaves like an animal; and never likes a person with high morality. 2.

Only some rare individuals taste the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, who connects them with Waheguru. As long as one does not recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam, the fear of death always haunts them. 3.

The devotees of Waheguru recognize Waheguru's shelter as the only eternal support, and they do not seek the door (support) of anyone else. I, Nanak, share an idea with you: one can attain the highest spiritual state only by the grace of the Guru, oh my friends. 4.3.4.

Word Meaning: Phaahi = shackles. Junjaal(i) = in (spiritually worthless) worldly affairs. Khin(u), Pul. Ghurri = are all very short measures of time. Jaaniya = remembered. 1. Chhootus(i) = get emancipation. Bhaari = huge. Goonkaari = source of all virtues. Pause. Oondhou Kuvul = upside down heart (mind) (which cannot receive any spiritual knowledge). Hoachhi = shallow. Sir(i) Dhundha = the burden of Maya-related tasks. Kaal(u) = death. Bikaal(u) = opposite of death (birth). Phunda = chain. 2. Dugree Chaal = shaky gait. Phoon(i) = too. Shabad Soort(i) = focus of mind on Guru's Shabad. Bhaayee = liked. 3. Mool(u) = the original spirituality (noble qualities). Keh = where; how.

Doormut(i) = ignoble thinking. Vihoonay = devoid of. Rus(u) Chaakhiya = tasted (enjoyed) the sweetness. Puteenay = convinced. 4.

MEANING: The man spends all his day in worldly affairs, and his night in enjoying sensual pleasures and in sleeping, and finds no time, not even a single moment, to remember Waheguru, which has created the world. All such acts become chains for him (for his spiritual death). 1. How can you get freedom (relief) from this huge suffering (of ignoring Waheguru), oh my mind? You were born empty-handed and will leave the world empty-handed, so why don't you recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities, oh my mind? Pause.

The Maya-worshipper has shallow wisdom, and has the lotus of his heart turned upside down (which cannot acquire any noble quality). Guided by his mind, the blind does not realize that without Waheguru's Naam, the burden of his Maya-related daily affairs is growing heavier and becoming a noose around his neck, leading to the vicious cycle of births and deaths. His whole life is spent in reading the Vedas and the Shastras, which discuss only the three effects of Maya. The blind of wisdom worked just to accumulate Maya, and never liked to focus his mind on the Shabad of the Guru. Now, in old age, he has very little chance to worship Waheguru, and he cannot even walk straight, having become physically and mentally weak, and his vision has become blurred. 3.

What kind of spiritual benefit (wealth) can a person with ignoble thinking, and without any spiritual Knowledge, acquire now when he has lost even his original spirituality? But those who ponder on Guru's Shabad, taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and get convinced with it (so, enshrine it in their heart, oh Nanak. 4.4.5.

Uprumpur(i) = in the limitless God. Kaar Kumaavaiy = lives according to. Pause. Aad(i) Purakh = Waheguru, which is the root (basis) of the whole universe. Aadayso = saluting; obey Huqam. Laaha = benefit. Vudaayi = respect. Sukhaayi = friend. 4.

MEANING: I like the individual who kills his selfishness and ego by following the Guru's Advice and is imbued with the love of the limitless Waheguru. Pause.
Such a devotee stays connected with the Guru (His Shabad) day and night, and his tongue is imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam (recites it). By staying connected with Guru's Shabad, he recognizes Waheguru (enshrines His Naam) in his heart, and does not acknowledge anybody else to be like Him. 1.
He sees the Supreme and the eternal Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and which is the basis of the whole universe, inside him and outside (everywhere) and in everybody's heart, and salutes Him (obeys His Will). 2.
The tongue of those who are imbued in Waheguru's love has the Amrit-like sweetness of Waheguru's Naam on it and has not even a small amount of filth of lies on it. Such devotees are imbued with the love of Guru's Shabad, and taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam, which purifies the mind, and earn respect everywhere. 3.
The devotees with noble qualities benefit from the company of one another and earn respect with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru's Naam becomes their friend when they serve the Guru, and all their sufferings are eradicated, oh Nanak. 4.5.6.

Word Meaning: Dhaarun(u) = support. Amar Pdaaruth = immortalizing material. Kirtaaruth = successful. Sehj Dhiyaan(i) = focused in a peaceful state of mind. Liv = meditate. 1. Sayti = with. Ghur(i) = (Waheguru's) Residence. Pause. Bherm(u) = illusion. Bhayd(u) = discrimination. Bhuou = worldly fears. Aavut Jaat = coming (birth) and going (death). Na Jaani = does not understand the truth. 2. Dhundha = Maya-related affairs. Put(i) = dignity. Khovus(i) = will lose. Guvaara = foolish. 3. Akool =having no clan. Siyoun = with. Maaniya = convinced. Mooaa = dead towards worldly attractions. Uver(u) Na Dooaa = no one else. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such a wealth which supports everybody, but can be acquired in the heart only with the Guru's grace. Waheguru's Naam is the immortalizing wealth, and those who meditate on it in the peaceful state of mind, achieve this objective (of acquiring this wealth) successfully. 1.
Attach yourself to the worship of Waheguru, oh my mind. A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam by his mind (soul), in the shelter of the Guru, acquires the high spiritual state and reaches Waheguru's Residence (merges into Him). Pause.

With illusions about Maya, worldly fears in his mind, and with feelings of discrimination between people, a man does not understand the Truth (worth of Waheguru's Naam), and cannot find emancipation – keeps taking births and dying. Nobody can find emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, and drowns in the sea of Maya, which has no liquid water. 2. The man loses all his dignity (in Waheguru's Court) while working on Maya-related tasks. And the illusions of Maya do not go away from the mind of the foolish man. Nobody can find salvation without the Guru's Shabad, but the blind of wisdom (foolish) man stays engrossed in the expanse of Maya (worldly attachments). But my mind has been convinced by Waheguru, which has no clan, and all my worldly desires have died within my mind (they no longer arise). I see Waheguru inside my heart and outside, and do not acknowledge any other power in the world, oh Nanak. 4.6.7.

Word Meaning: Jugun, Hoam = a ritual to please gods in which a fire is built in a pit, and ghee and some other materials are fed to keep the fire burning while some mantras are read. Some animals are sacrificed, and food is served to Brahmans. Poonn = ritualistic noble deeds. Tup = self-torturing. Pooja = ritualistic worship. Dayh = body. Suhhaiy = endures. Luhhaiy = acquires. 1. Birthay = without any spiritual gain. Bikh(u) = (about) poisonous Maya. Nihful = without any spiritual gain. Bhermna = is taken through many lives. Pause. Poostuk Paatth = reading of (religious) books. Biyakern = grammar. Vukhaanaiy = to explain. Sundhiya Kerm = ritualistic worship. Tikaal = three times a day – morning, afternoon, and evening. Oorjh(i) = engrossed. 2. Dund = the baton of the yogis. Kumundul = a small cylindrical bucket that the yogis carry to collect milk etc. Sikha = a hair crest at the centre of head. Soot(u) = thread (Janayoo). Bhermun = roaming around. Shaant(i) = peace. 3. Jutaan Mookut(u) = a knot of matted (or tangled) hair – that is how the yogis wear their hair. Bhusm = ash. Bustar = clothes. Nugun = naked. Bhuyya = becomes. Triput(i) = contentment; peace. Kirt Kay Baandhay = bound by their previous deeds. Bhaykh = religious garb. 4. Jutar Kutar = wherever. Jhoal(i) = by mixing (stirring) well. 5.

MEANING: None of the prevalent rituals like hoam jugun, the ritualistic noble deeds, self-torturing, and idol-worshipping (is given any spiritual credit in Waheguru's Court); actually, they cause mental pressure and physical fatigue, causing a lot of suffering to the people. One cannot attain emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, which can be acquired in the shelter of the Guru. 1 Human life goes worthless without Waheguru's Naam because without the Naam, the man talks about the poisonous Maya, and enjoys the luxuries of life with the wealth earned by poisonous (dishonest) means. Without Waheguru's Naam, the man dies without any spiritual gain and is taken through many lives. Pause.
The Brahman reads the holy books, explains to the people using grammar, and performs ritualistic worship three times a day – morning, early afternoon, and evening. But no one can have emancipation without the Guru's Shabad, and dies engrossed in Maya. 2.
The Brahman wears a janayoo, a crest of hair in the centre of the head, and a dhoti as his religious symbols, while the yogis wear symbols of their faith, which include a baton, a small bucket, a quilt of rags, and visit holy places, and roam around in the country, but they cannot achieve peace of mind. On the other hand, the devotees, who recite Waheguru's Naam, swim across the sea of Maya easily (are salvaged). 3.
Yogis also wear their matted (or tangled) hair, tie it into a knot, and coat their bodies with ash. Some others do not wear any clothes and live naked. They do not find any contentment of mind, but they simply adopt the ways of life preprogrammed by Waheguru for them, based on the results of their previous deeds. 4. Waheguru is present in all the living beings on the land, in water, or in the sky, and looks after them. With Guru's grace, I have taken the sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam after stirring it well (pondering on it deeply), and pray to Waheguru to protect me against the attacks of Maya, oh Nanak. 5.7.8.

Word Meaning: Jaat(i) = caste. Gerb(u) = pride. Binday = understands; makes connection. 1. Guvaara = unrefined; unwise. Vikaara = immoralities. Pause. Vern = the (four) major castes according to Hindu Caste System: Brahmans, Khatris, Vaish (businessmen and farmers), the untouchable (all other jobs to serve the other three castes) – in descending order of superiority. Bind = sperm; the origin. Oput(i) = creation. 2. Maati = mud; earth. Bidh(i) = ways. Bhaanday = bodies. Ghurraiy = moulds. Koomhaara = potter (Waheguru). Punch Tut(u) = the five basic elements (earth, water, air, fire, and awareness). Beechaara = thoughts. 4. Keht(u) = says. Jeeyo = living being; man. Kerm Bundh = bound by previous deeds. 5.

MEANING: Do not be conceited of your high caste, oh Brahman. Only that individual is real Brahman (no matter what his caste is) who understands (makes a connection with Waheguru). 1. It is foolishness and unwise to be conceited of one's high caste because this conceit leads to many other immoral activities, oh foolish Brahman. Pause.
Everybody talks about the four major castes, but they do not realize that everybody (regardless of his caste) has the same root (Waheguru) as the source of his production (has a part of the same Waheguru's Soul). 2.
Like a potter makes many different kinds of pottery from the same mud, the whole world has been made from the same earth (by Waheguru). 3.
The human body is made from the five basic elements combined. How can anyone say that a particular caste has more or fewer of them? 4. The truth is that the man performs his duties based on his previous deeds (No one can find emancipation simply based on his caste); one gets emancipated only in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 5.1.

Word Meaning: Girehi = family man. Bhaykhdhaari = with religious symbols of different faiths. Sootay = asleep; intoxicated. Ahunkaari = conceit. 1. Mud(i) = liquor; intoxicant. Maata = intoxicated. Moosaiy = defraud. Pause. Punch Doot = the five demons. Vusgut(i) = controls. 2. Tut(u) = the root (Waheguru). Muraiy = kills desires. Uvrah = others. Maaraiy = kills; causes mental anguish. 3. Aiko = the "One" (God). Perkirt(i) = (attraction for) Maya. 4. Chuhoun Verna = the four major castes. Jaagaiy = awakens (is enlightened). Koyay = some rare. Jumaiy Kaalaiy = the Angel of death. Chhootaiy = is emancipated. Soyay = the same. 5. Giyan(u) Unjun(u) = the kohl of Divine Knowledge. 6.

MEANING: Everybody - be it yogis, family men, pundits, or members of some religious sects - is intoxicated in the conceit of the superiority of his faith. 1.
Asleep under the intoxication of the liquor of Maya, they are being robbed of their noble qualities; but nothing can rob the devotee, who is awake (enlightened), of his good qualities. Pause. Only that individual stays awake who gets connected with Satguru (takes His shelter), and is able to control all his five demons. 2. Also, that individual is awake (enlightened), who ponders on Waheguru (His Naam), which is the basis of all creation. Such a devotee kills his own worldly desires and does not cause any mental anguish for others. 3. Or that individual is awake who makes a connection with the "One" Waheguru, gives up his attachment with Maya, and realizes that Waheguru is the basis of the whole world. 4.

But only a rare person in all the four major castes gets enlightened, and gets emancipated when his birth-death cycle gets terminated too. 5.
Only that person gets enlightened who has the kohl (used as medication to improve one's eyesight) of Divine Knowledge in the eyes (of his mind), oh Nanak. 6.2.

Khin = moment. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Na Baara = no time. 2. Khayl(u) = drama. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. 3. Boojhou = understand. Bherm(i) Bhoolhou = lost (misled) in illusions. 4.
MEANING: The individual, whom Waheguru keeps in His shelter, gets attached to Him, and is rewarded with the eternal gift (of Waheguru's Naam). 1.
The universe was created with Waheguru's Huqam, and everything is happening under His Huqam, oh man. So, who else can you pray to? Pause.
The visible world is supported by Waheguru, and it takes no time to be destroyed by Him. 2.
With His kindness, the Guru has shown that the whole world is a drama created by Waheguru. Also, one attains the highest spiritual state with the Guru's grace. 3.
It is Waheguru who gives life and takes life. The individual, who realizes this truth, is not misled by any misconception, oh Nanak(u). 4.3.

Word Meaning: Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Kunt(u) = husband. Kartar(u) = God. Sheegaar(u) = adornment (of soul). 1. Bhog(u) = enjoys union; connects me with Him. Joag(u) = for. Pause. Oostut(i) = praise. Ninda = malicious criticism. 2. Pirm Kusaayi = attraction of love. Duyaal = the kind (Waheguru). Punch Shabad Vujaayi = by playing the five kinds of musical instruments; with great excitement. 3. Bhunut(i) = says. Soyay = that (Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: My Waheguru is my husband (my Lord), and I am His wife (slave). I will decorate my soul whichever way He wishes. 1.

My body and my mind are for the eternal Lord (I have surrendered them before Him). He connects me with Him (enjoys union with the devotee) whenever He likes. Pause.
Who can sing His praise or vilify Him (with His Will only because) He alone is present, and operates in everybody. 2. I am attracted to Waheguru with the grace of the Guru, and have great excitement to connect with the kind Lord. 3.
Who can cause any problem in the way of union of the devotee with Waheguru, when He, Himself, connects the devotee with Him, oh Nanak(u)? 4.4.

Word Meaning: Moon(i) = hermit; the ascetic who stays quiet for very long periods; sage. Doobidha = indecisiveness. 1. Khojou = search. Nuvnidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Pause. Mool(u) = basis. Oopaaya = created. Mumta = attraction for worldly things. Bherm(i) Bholaaya = misled in illusions. Mun Tay = by the thoughts (plans) of the mind. 2. Pind = body. Praana = life. MEANING: The hermits stay quiet for long times with the belief that they quieten their mind to (make it peaceful), (which is NOT true). The real hermit is the one who kills his indecisiveness (struggle to choose between Waheguru and Maya), and ponders on Waheguru's Naam. 1.
Search your mind (for Waheguru's presence), oh my friends. While searching your mind, you will acquire Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all the nine treasures. Pause.
The Creator, Waheguru, created the world by making Maya its basis. He misleads the world by making Maya highly attractive. 2.
Because the human mind gets strongly attracted to Maya, one drowns in the sea of Maya and takes births again and again. (By the same token), If one ponders on Waheguru's Naam and understands His Huqam, he merges into Him. 3. If a man has good fortune, his mind is enlightened by the grace of the Guru, and his indecisiveness is terminated. 4.
Because the human mind (soul) is a part of Waheguru, and the fully detached Waheguru, which has no feelings, is present in every heart, it (the mind) should always be detached from the worldly attractions, by nature. 5. The individual who realizes (internalizes) this deep secret becomes like Waheguru, the root of the universe, omnipresent, above the effects of Maya, and the source of enlightenment, oh Nanak(u). 6.5.

Word Meaning: Doobidha = indecisiveness. Roag(u) = disease. Viyaapay = affects. Trishna = fire of desires. Adhikaayi = very much. Tthaaur = shelter; peace; comfort. 1. Boojhaayi = understanding. Jugut = world. Pause. Moon(i) = hermits. Kaytay = many. Soort(i) = understanding; enlightenment. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Mumta = worldly attachments. 2. Ikk(i) = many. MEANING: Indecisiveness is a mental disease which impacts a Maya-lover badly, and because of which he burns in the fire of worldly desires to a large extent. (Without Waheguru's Naam), He wastes away his precious human life, keeps taking births and dying, and never finds peace (emancipation). 1. The world is suffering from the disease of haumein (selfishness and ego), which cannot be eradicated without the Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise). Please be kind, and give the wisdom to the world so that it recognizes the worth of Your praise (Naam) as the cure for the disease of haumein, oh, my dear Waheguru. Pause. Countless sages (and others) study the Simritis and the Shastras, but get no spiritual enlightenment without the Guru's Shabad. The three effects of Maya, and the worldly attachments, are a disease from which everybody is suffering, and because of which they lose their spiritual wisdom. 2.

Waheguru pulls some of them out from the sea of Maya (frees from the bonds of Maya), and puts them in the service of the Guru. They acquire the treasure of Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter, and bliss takes dwelling in their mind (they enjoy bliss). 3.

The Sikhs of the Guru remain connected to Waheguru in a spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and their dealings with the world are also unaffected by Maya. With the benevolence of Satguru, they get rid of their selfishness and ego (and worldly desires). 4.

They have only one business to do – serve Waheguru, which has created the three major gods (Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, who are mortal). Waheguru alone is immortal, not dying or going away, oh Nanak. 5.1.11.

MEANING: The follower of his mind always suffers from indecisiveness (struggle to choose between Waheguru and Maya), which is a disease; in fact, the whole world suffers from this disease. However, Guru's Sikhs come to realize in His shelter that indecisiveness is a disease, and get rid of it by pondering on His Shabad. 1.

Waheguru puts the devotees, who get attached to His Naam in the company of the holy saints, which is an honour for them. Pause.

Worldly attachments are a disease that causes spiritual death and affects everybody. Dealings in worldly attractions put people on the path leading to the Angel of Death. The Angel of Death does not even go near the devotees of the Guru who have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts. 2. Why do the people who make no connection with Waheguru in Guru's shelter even come to this world? They never serve the Guru (ponder on His Shabad), and waste away their precious human life. 3.

Those who are put in the service of the Guru (by Waheguru) are highly fortunate. They reap the desired reward with Guru's Shabad and enjoy blissfulness, oh Nanak. 4.2.12.

MEANING: The life of the person who follows his mind, and does not serve the Perfect Guru, and does not like Waheguru, is condemnable. He simply wastes away his precious human life (an opportunity to unite with Waheguru). Pause.

Such people are born with problems in life (as a result of their previous deeds), spend their life in affairs which cause more troubles for them, and they die in suffering. Because they stay engrossed in sensual enjoyments, they never get out of the birth-death cycle. 1.
Guru's Shabad is the sure cure for all suffering, but one recites and acts on Guru's Shabad only if he is prompted by Waheguru to do so. One earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam, provided he enshrines it in his heart with His benevolence. 2.
A devotee, who gets connected with Satguru, spends his life of high morals (as per the Advice of Satguru), and is rewarded (with Waheguru's Naam), which is the source of supreme bliss. Those devotees are pure in mind who love Waheguru's Naam and recite it. 3.
I would like to put the dust of the feet of those devotees who worship the Perfect Guru on my forehead (serve them diligently) if I get the opportunity. But the dust of the feet of the devotees, who are attached to Waheguru's Naam, can be acquired only with great fortune, oh Nanak. 4.3.13.

Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Put(i) = dignity. 2. Bahlay = too many. Bhaykh = religious garbs (as a show off). Bhuveh(i) = roams around. Loojheh(i) = quarrels; debates aggressively. Baad(i) Vukhaanaiy = exchanges arguments. Soort(i) = noble sense. 3. Perm Gut(i) = highest spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: That individual is the true devotee (pure-minded) who ponders on Guru's Shabad, and has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart. He suffers no trouble when he worships Waheguru day and night with love and respect. 1.
Everybody calls Him a bhagat (true devotee) respectfully, but no worship without serving Satguru is approved by Waheguru. Also, one acquires Waheguru only with great fortune. Pause. How can a Maya-worshipper expect any (spiritual) gain when he loses even his original spiritual wealth (he was born with)? He loses all his respect because of his love for Maya, and the Angel of Death always watches him carefully. 2.
Some people roam around in religious garbs, day and night (in the false hope of finding the "missing" Waheguru), but they suffer from the disease of haumein, which they never get rid of. They study the religious books but only to take part in spiritually worthless debates. They lose their noble thinking because of their love for Maya. 3.

But one attains the supreme spiritual state by serving Satguru and earns respect with Waheguru's Naam. Those who have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their heart are honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.4.14.

So Prubh Saacha, sud hee Saacha, saacha subh(u) aakaara. Nanak Satgur(i) sojhi paayi, Sach(i) Naam(i) nistaara. 4.5.15.
Word Meaning: Aasa = hopes; wishes. Ootraiy = comes off; goes away. Khooaayay = suffers humiliation. Oodur = belly. Naiy = river. Saan(u) = like. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Puchaayay = burns; causes suffering. 1. Rus(i) Raatay = imbued in the sweetness of (the Naam). Doobidha = indecisiveness; wavering of mind. Triptaatay = become contented. Pause. Srisht(i) = the world. Sir(i), Sir(i) = respectively. Dhundhaiy Laayay = puts into Maya-related tasks. 2. Kihou = something. Dooja Hovaiy = stranger. Toodjaiy = in You (God). Smaayay = is absorbed; is a part of Him. Giyan(u) = knowledge (about the virtues of God). Tutt(u) = the root (origin) (Waheguru). Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Soul. 3.
MEANING: The worldly desires of the man who follows his mind (captivated by Maya) never go away (he is never satisfied), and he suffers humiliation for his love for Maya. Like a river, his belly (mind) never gets filled (satisfied), and he burns in the fire of worldly desires. 1.
(On the other hand), those, who are imbued in the sweetness of Waheguru (His Naam) are always blissful. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, their indecisiveness runs away, and they feel fully contented to drink the Amrit of His Naam. Pause.
Waheguru, who has created the whole universe and also love for Maya among the living beings, puts everybody into the kind of worldly business which is based upon the result of their previous deeds. 2.
We can say something (complain if we do not like certain things) to Waheguru only if He were a stranger; but He always knows everything about us as everybody is a part of Him. The Sikh of the Guru ponders on the virtues of Waheguru which is the origin of the whole universe, as a result of which, his soul merges into the Supreme Soul. 3.
Waheguru is always eternal, and so is His creation. Satguru has given the understanding that one finds salvation only with His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.5.15.

Word Meaning: Kul(i) = Kulyug (the worst eon according to Hinduism). Prayt = evil spirit. Puchhaata = recognized; made connection. Satyug = the first and the holiest eon. Perm Huns = the supreme swan; the purest soul. Beechaari = who ponder on Waheguru's Naam. Traita ad Dooaapur = the second and the third eons (of descending purity). Maanus Verteh(i) = live like a common man. Virlaiy = rare. 1. Vudiyaayi = respect. Pause. Lukhaiy = sees; comprehends. Saacha = true worshipper. Liv Laayi = meditated deeply. 2. Sohay = look elegant (honourable); are honoured. 3. Ruliyaan Maanaiy = enjoy all comforts. Vukhaanaiy = utter; recite. 4.

NOTE: Hindu Granths have divided time into four eons, from the dawn of civilization to the present. The first eon, called Satyug, is followed by Trayta, Dooaapur, and Kulyug. According to the Granths, the humans in Satyug had the highest morality, which kept declining with each new eon. The present eon, Kulyug, is considered the lowest in terms of morality. Also, the Granths profess that each eon had its own god (spiritual head), with its own path to be realized. But Guru Sahiban do not believe in any of these ideas. They believe and preach that it has been the same Supreme Being (which people may call God, Allah, or give Him any other name), and that there has been a single path (recite His Naam with Guru's Shabad) to realize Him, which never changes. Among the many names used for the Supreme Being, the ones Guru Nanak Sahib used most often are Kartar, Akal Purakh, and Nirunkar. However, "Waheguru" is currently the most popular name for the Supreme Being among Sikhs.

MEANING: The individuals who do not make any connection with Waheguru are truly the evil spirits who can be considered to be living in Kulyug, while those devotees who have purified their souls by pondering on Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad) can be considered to be living in Satyug. The common man leading a normal life can be considered to be living in Dooaapur and Trayta, where some rare individuals overcome their selfishness and ego (with Waheguru's Naam). 1.

In the present eon (Kulyug), one earns respect only through Waheguru's Naam. But the fact is, no matter what the eon is, no one can find emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, which can be acquired only in the shelter of the Guru throughout all the eons. Pause.

A true devotee comprehends (recognizes) Waheguru in his heart and enshrines His Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Not only those devotees who stay connected with Waheguru through deep meditation (keep Him in mind all the time), but they also salvage others. 2.

My Waheguru is the source of all virtues, and the devotee burns away his ignoble qualities with the Guru's Shabad. The devotees, who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, are honoured in Waheguru's court. 3.
Those who are shown Waheguru's Palace by Satguru enjoy blissfulness all the time. They always recite Waheguru's Naam, and whatever Waheguru tells them to do, they accept that gladly as good for them, oh Nanak. 4.6.16.

Word Meaning: Munsa = desires. Smaayay Laiy = absorb (kill) in the mind Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Vaaro Vaar = repeatedly. 1. Aadhaar(u) = support. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Ichh = wishes. Poojaavunhaar(u) = fulfiller. Pause. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Boojh = understanding. Pergut(u) Hoa = becomes visible; appears. 2. Sookhdaata = the Provider (source) of all comforts. Hoarthaiy = somewhere else. Unt(i) = at the end. 3. Dhaayay = attacking. 4.
MEANING: Seek the support (shelter) of Waheguru's Naam, which fulfils all your wishes, oh my mind. Also, you can attain the highest spiritual state with the grace of the Guru. Pause. Kill your wishes within your mind by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, oh my friend. The Perfect Guru enlightens your mind, as a result of which you will never die again. 1.
One does not get the understanding without the Guru that the same Waheguru is present in everybody. My Waheguru appears in the mind of the devotee who sings Waheguru's praise day and night in the shelter of the Guru. 2.
Waheguru is the only source of all comforts, so do not look for comforts somewhere else, oh my mind. Those who do not worship Satguru, which is the source of all comforts, leave the world repenting at the end. 3.
One always acquires comforts by worshipping Satguru (obeying His Advice), and he does not suffer from troubling attacks of Maya. I have acquired Waheguru's worship (with Guru's grace), and my soul has merged with Waheguru's Soul, oh Nanak. 4.7.17.

Word Meaning: Baajh(u) = without. Buouraana = insane; confused. Choataan Khaayi = suffers punishment. Dur = Waheguru's Palace. Khubhur(i) Na = no awareness; ignorance. 1. Bhaykh Kuraiy = wears religious symbols. Chit(u) Dolaiy = mind wavers. Tisa = thirst. Bhaunkut Phiraiy = begs loudly. Dur Baar(u) = at every door. 2. Mureh = die (kill their worldly desires). Mookut(i) Dooaar = the door of emancipation. Oordhaar(i) = enshrined in the heart. 3. Chulaavaiy = (Waheguru) runs his life. 4.

MEANING: Always stay in the shelter of Satguru (stay connected with Him and listen to His Advice) as a result of which, one fosters love for Waheguru and swims across the world-sea with Satguru's Shabad, oh my mind. Pause.

Without the Guru, the world is confused and misguided from the right path; it suffers in life. (Without the Guru) The man has no knowledge about Waheguru and repeatedly suffers the pain of rebirths. 1. Those who wear religious symbols mostly have lust, rage, and conceit in their mind because of which they have no control over their mind which are overpowered by worldly attractions. They have a huge thirst and appetite for worldly attractions, and go from door to door begging loudly to satisfy their needs. 2.

But those who kill their worldly desires with the Guru's Shabad, and renew their spiritual life, reach the door of emancipation. By enshrining Waheguru in their minds, they always feel peaceful and experience bliss. 3.

However, the man is helpless and cannot change his habits or lifestyle on his own, as his path of life is predetermined by Waheguru. But the devotees of Waheguru obey Guru's Shabad (Teachings), and earn respect with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.8.18.

Word Meaning: Khooaaya = suffers humiliation. Khuttay = earns; acquires. Khaayay = lives with. Hulk(u) = crazy like a mad dog. Bhaari = huge. Bibayk = Divine Knowledge. Bhemaayay = roams around lost. 1. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Soopany = in dream. Chaytiya = remember. Pause. Pushooaa Kerm = animal-like deeds. Boojhaiy = understands. Koorr(u) = falsehood; short-living things. Oolti = reversed thinking. Koyay = rare. 2. Gooni Nidhaan(u) = the treasure of virtues (God). Poora = Perfect (God). Chooka = ends. Abhimaan(u) = conceit; ego. 3.

MEANING: The life of the man who follows his mind becomes reprehensible (miserable) because he never remembers Waheguru even in his dream, and never develops love for Him. Pause. Such a man suffers humiliation in life because of his selfishness and ego, and for his attachment to Maya. Crazy like a mad dog with greed, he commits deeds that bring him trouble, and he lives in suffering. Without the Divine Knowledge, he cannot make a distinction between the good and the bad deeds, and is misled by the attractions of Maya, and he suffers hugely. 1. He does not realize his real objective in life, and performs tasks like animals, and dealing in falsehood (short-lived comforts), he himself becomes false (untrustworthy). But when a rare individual among many such people connects with Satguru, his thinking reverses, and he searches for Waheguru in his own heart. 2.
With Guru's grace, perfect Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in his heart, which is the treasure of all virtues, and all his conceit goes away (is eradicated). 3.
Waheguru Himself does everything, and makes others do whatever He wishes, and puts some on the path of righteousness (leading to union with Him). He puts some in the shelter of the Guru, which is an honour for them, and they merge into Waheguru with His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.9.19.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Amar Dass Ji briefly narrates the story of Bhagat Prehlad (see INTODUCTION for the full story), to glorify Waheguru.

Word Meaning: Putiya = on the wooden-board (pupils in their elementary schools used to write on wooden-boards for better handwriting). Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for any other. Phaathay = are trapped. Jum Jaala = the net of the Angel of (spiritual) death. Pritpaala = nurturing; protection. Sookhdaata = the source of all comforts. 1. Saasna = punishment. Gum Na Kuraiy = not afraid of. Pause. Oopdayshaiy = advises. Jeeou = life. Oobaaray = save. Boojhayay = given understanding; enlightened me. 2. Sunda Merka (Shund and Amerk) = teachers of Prehlad. Pookaaray = complained loudly. Vigrriya = spoilt; misled. Chaatrray = students. Doosht Subha = the evil group. Muntar(u) Pukaaya = made firm decision (to kill Prehlad). Raakha = bodyguard; saviour. Raghuraaya = Waheguru. 3. Khurrug(u) = sword. Dhaaya = attacked. Ut(i) = extreme. Khin Meh(i) = in a short moment. Bhaiyaan Roop = a terrifying figure (human body with the head of lion). Niksiya = came out. Thummh = pillar. Oopaarr(i) = tearing through. Nukheen = with nails (paws). Bidaariya = tore apart. 4. Kaaruj Suvaaray = makes objective successful. Ikkeeh Kool = twenty-one clans (generations). Haumein Bikh(u) = the poisonous ego and selfishness. Nistaaray = salvages. 5.

MEANING: With the advice of his Guru (and contrary to the wishes of his father, King Hernakhsh, who wanted everybody in his kingdom to worship him), Prehlad would chant the Naam of the Supreme Being only, and was not afraid of any punishment. Pause.

He asked his teacher to write Waheguru and many of His other names on his wooden board, because love for anyone else leads to the net of the Angel of (spiritual) death. “My Satguru always protects me, and Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, is always with me”. 1. His mother advised his son very affectionately to quit chanting Waheguru’s Naam and save his life. But Prehlad told his mother that his Guru had clearly explained to him (the worth of Waheguru’s Naam), so he would not quit that. 2.

Shund and Amerk, the teachers of Prehlad, and all others loudly complained to the King that Prehlad had been spoiled and was spoiling the other students, too. The evil group of the King and his courtiers made the firm decision (to kill Prehlad), but Waheguru was his protector (guard). 3. Enraged in his extreme ego, and with a sword in his hand, Hernakhsh rushed to attack Prehlad, and challenged him to show his Waheguru to save him. In a short moment, a terrifying figure (with a human body and a head of a lion) tore through the pillar, and tore apart Hernakhsh with his paws to save Prehlad. 4.

Waheguru makes all the tasks of His devotees successful; not only did He save Prehlad, but also saved his twenty-one generations. Waheguru kills the poison of one’s selfishness and ego with Guru’s Shabad, and His Naam salvages the saints, oh Nanak. 5.10.20.

Word Meaning: Daiynt = (the five) demons (lust, greed etc.). Laayay Dittay = make addicts (victims). Raakha = guard; protector. Soyee = the same (God). Shernaayi = shelter. 1. Joog(i) Joog(i) = in every eon. Rukhda = protect dignity (and life). Gayatri = a sacred Hindu Mantra. Terpun = the rituals to please the gods and the ancestors. Pause. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Nirmul = pure-minded. Soyee = the same (God). 2. Purreh(i) = fallen into. Mool(u) = Waheguru. Doosht Daiynt = the evil Hernaakhsh. Chirraya = provoked; got enraged. 3. Paiyj = dignity. Vudiyaayi = respect. Nukheen Bidaariya = tore apart with paws. Dur = (Waheguru's) Court (Justice). 5.

MEANING: Waheguru has been protecting His devotees throughout all the eons. Prehlad, the son of the evil king, Hernakhsh, did not know anything about the Gayatri Mantra or about the rituals to please the gods or his ancestors; he was connected with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad. Pause. Waheguru Himself makes His saints (devotees) victims (addicts) of the five demons (lust, greed, etc.), and Himself protects them. But those who take His shelter do not suffer in any way. 1.

The devotees, who are imbued with the love for Waheguru, have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts and are always pure at heart. They overcome their indecisiveness through Guru Shabad and worship Waheguru day and night. 2.

The foolish fall victim to indecisiveness and do not recognize (make a connection with) Waheguru, which is the origin of the whole universe, and waste away their precious human life. They maliciously criticize the holy saints and provoke the evil (like Hernakhsh) to rage against them. 3.

Prehlad did not succumb to indecision (he remained firm in his resolve) and did not quit reciting Waheguru's Naam. He was not afraid of anyone, even when he was threatened. Waheguru is the saviour of His devotees, while death is close to the evil like Hernakhsh. 4.

By protecting His devotees and earning them respect from the people, Waheguru maintains His own dignity, in a way. The blind of wisdom, Henakhsh, did not realize the justice of Waheguru, and was torn apart by Him, oh Nanak. 5.11.21.8.21.29.

Worship Waheguru, which is the life (soul) of the whole world. By remembering Him, your countless sins (including those in previous lives) will be eradicated, oh my mind. 2.

It is like taking dips at all sixty-eight holy places, and in the River Ganga, when you get the dust of the Feet of the Guru on your face (enshrine His Shabad in your heart) in the holy

His words in praise of Waheguru, and the morality of the devotee who works hard (to connect with Waheguru) in the shelter of the Guru, are moulded (made perfect) in the eternal mint of the holy gatherings, which instil noble qualities in the devotees. 2.

The Guru “shows” the inaccessible, and the incomprehensible Waheguru to the devotee who finds Him in his heart by searching for Him in his city-like body with Guru’s Shabad .3.

We are His children, and Waheguru is our father (guardian). I pray to Him that He casts His kind sight on us, and salvages us, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Saayi = that. Keerut(i) = praise. Bheena = imbues. Srayveh = serve. 1. Jugjeevun(u) = life (soul) of the world (God). Turnay = to swim across the world-sea. Anayk = Asunkh = countless. Jihva = tongue. Itt(u) = all those. Gun-nay = count. Pause. Oopdaysh = Teachings; Shabad. Kayra = of. Ghunay = immense. 2. Dhunn(u) = great; worthy of respect. Vuns(u) = clan; family. Junay = gave birth to. Giraas(i) = every bite. Bunay = approved; honoured. 3. Agumm = inaccessible. Dhurany = place; acquire. Paar(i) Puvnay = swim across the sea of Maya. 4.

MEANING: Only that gathering is holy at which one can listen to Waheguru's praise. I would like to serve their feet (an expression of deep respect) all the time from whom I listen to Waheguru's Naam, and my mind gets imbued in His love. 1.

One swims across the world-sea (is salvaged) by remembering Waheguru, which is the soul of the world. Waheguru has countless names by which people remember Him; my tongue cannot count them all. Pause.

Guru's Sikhs recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise with Guru's Advice (Shabad). The devotee, who listens to the Teachings of the Guru, enjoys immense comfort. 2.

That family, that father, and that mother, who give birth to Waheguru's saints, are worthy of our respect. The devotees, who recite Waheguru's Naam with every breath and with every bite of food, are honoured in Waheguru's Court as His true devotees. 3.

Waheguru is inaccessible, but He places (implants) His Naam in the hearts of His devotees. I am a slave of Waheguru, and have acquired His Naam with the Advice of the Guru. One finds salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.3.7.

Word Meaning: Theet(i) = dates based on the phases of the moon. Paas(i) Daar(i) = pushed aside; ignored. Raakhi = placed. Ashtum Theet(i) = the eighth day after the full moon in the month of Bhaadoun (mid August to mid September). Govind = God (a name for Krishna). Junma See = was born. 1. Bherm Bhoolay = misguided in false beliefs. Kert = do. Kuchraayin = baseless talks. Reht = without; beyond. Pause.
Kur(i) = by making. Punjeer(u) = a mixture of roasted flour, sugar, cumin, dried ginger, and raisins etc. to offer to the idol. Choar = thief (because it is the priest, who actually eats it because an idol does not eat). Saakut = money worshipper. Dhoar = animal. 2. Praadh = felonies; offenses; sins. Loroani = lullaby. Julou = may burn. Joani = takes life forms. 3. Smaayay = omnipresent. 4.1.

MEANING: Misguided by his false beliefs, the man makes some baseless statements (claims). But the Supreme Being (Waheguru) is beyond birth and death. Pause.
Some people make the claim that the Supreme Being was born as Krishna on the eighth day after the full moon in the month of Bhaadoun. If that is true, then what happened to the other 364 days of the year (was Waheguru not alive during those days)? (The ignorant do not realize that Waheguru is always alive and is omnipresent). 1. Making punjeer(u), the priest, feeds the idol of Krishna, but the thief eats the punjeer himself. The money-worshipper and the animal-like (priest) do not realize that Waheguru does not take birth or die. 2.
The ignorant man commits all the (grave) sins when he sings a lullaby for the idol, believing that it is God. May such a mouth burn which says the Lord takes life forms. 3.
My Waheguru is always alive, and never takes births, dies, or goes away, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Oothut = while standing. Sookhiya = blissful; in comfort. Bhuou = worldy fears. Boojhiya = understands; realizes. 1. Raakha = guardian. Ghutaan = bodies; minds. Untarjaami = omniscient. Pause. Achinta = worry-free. Vertunta = operates; present. 2. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Drirraaya = firms up. 3.

MEANING: The omniscient Waheguru alone, which knows what goes through everybody's mind, is also our guardian, oh man. Pause.
The man who understands (internalizes) this fact is always blissful, whether he is standing (working) or sitting (relaxing), and fears nothing in the world. 1.
He sleeps worry-free and awakes worry-free because he knows that Waheguru is present everywhere (to support him). 2. The devotee which firms up Guru's Shabad in his mind (always keeps in mind), enjoys bliss internally, and in the outside world, oh Nanak. 3.2.

Kuhhou Kabir, eh(u) keeya vukhaana. Gur Peer mil(u) khood(i) Khusm(u) puchhana. 5.3.

Word Meaning: Vert = impose some restrictions; fasting. Meh = month. Ramdana = Ramadan (holy month of the Muslims when they should not eat during the day light). Nidaana = at the end. 1. Goosaayeen = the Lord of the earth (Hindu name for God). Allhou = Allah. Turk = the Mughals (Muslims). Nibayra = break up. Pause. Pind = body. Paraan = life. 4. Kabir = the holy Shabad has been written by Guru Arjun Dev Ji (the Fifth Master) explaining a Shabad written by Kabir Sahib in more detail. Kabir Sahib's Shabad is at number 7, also in Raag Bhairon. Vukhaana = explain. 5.

MEANING: I do not place any Hindu ritualistic restrictions on myself (like fasting), nor do I believe in the Muslim ritual of fasting during the month of Ramadan. 1.

I have broken away from both Hinduism and Islam. I believe in only one Supreme Being, whom the Hindus call Goosaayeen, and the Muslims, Allah. Pause.

I do not go on Hajj to the Kabah, or undertake pilgrimages to the Hindu holy places. I serve only the "One" Supreme Being, and do not recognize any other power. 2.

I do not perform any ritualistic worship of the Hindus, and offer no Muslim nivaaj (prayer). I only salute the formless Waheguru whom I see in my heart. 3.

I am neither a Hindu nor a Muslim. All bodies and souls are created by the same Supreme Being, which is Allah to the Muslims, and Ram to the Hindus. 4.

I, Nanak, simply explain the fact that I realized my own Lord in the shelter of my Guru, whom some people call Peer, oh Kabir. 5.3.

NOTE: The name of Kabir Sahib at the end does not mean that this holy Shabad has been written by Kabir Sahib. In fact, Kabir Sahib has written a Shabad in the same Raag, Bhairon, with a similar meaning, in which he says that he does not follow the rituals of the Hindu or Muslim faiths as written by their priests. Guru Sahib simply elaborates on that Shabad which is enshrined in Sri Guru Granth Sahib on page 1158.

Nanak kaiy ghur(i) kayvul Naam(u). 4.4.

Word Meaning: Dus = ten. Mirgi = deer (senses). Sehjay = easily. Bundh(i) Aani = trapped; brought under control. Paanch = five. Mirg = deer (demons). Baydhay = pierced. Shiv Kee Baani= with arrows of Waheguru (His Naam); Guru's Shabad. 1. Shikaar = hunting. Ghor = horses. Huthiyaar = weapons. Aakhayr = hunting. Birt(i) = nature (to hunt for sensual pleasures). Dhaayay = rushing. Ahayra = prey (the sensual pleasures). Ghur(i) Kaiy Gaayayn = inside the body-village. 2. Haat(i) = separated from; free of. Chookh, Chhokh = piece by piece. Baandhay = away. Baat(i) = journey. 3. Ahayra = preyed; clean mind free of the demons. Keeno Daan(u) = donated. Kayvul = only. 4.

MEANING: In the company (shelter) of the Guru, I set out to hunt the deer-like demons and senses (sensual pleasures) which had stolen my noble qualities (like the deer eat farmers' crops), and caught the deer-like demons without any horses and any weapons. 1.

The ten senses were easily trapped, and the five demons were pierced with the arrows of Waheguru (His Naam) (Guru's Shabad). Pause.

My hunting nature (which was looking for sensual pleasures as the prey) came rushing out of my mind, and my clean mind (free of all evil desires) has been left in the village of my body. 2.

The deer-like sensual pleasures were caught, and my mind (free of all such pleasures) became peaceful (it quit weakening for sensual pleasures) in my body. My sensual pleasures were taken on a faraway journey, piece by piece, by my Guru. 3.

My clean mind was the gift of the Guru to me. Now, I have only Waheguru's Naam in my heart (which I share with others for them to hunt their sensual pleasures), oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Suou = hundred. Loach(i) = wish; aspiration. Saakut = money-lover. Cheet(i) = in mind. 1. Mutay = advice. Perm Gutay = highest spiritual state. Pause. Neer(u) = water. Puvaaya = poured. Bheegaiy = absorbs. Adhik Sookaaya = very dry. 2. Khut(u) Shastar = the six Shastras (Hindu holy books). Dehdis = in all the ten directions. Puvun(u) = air; wind. Jhoolaaya = blowing. 3. Kun = grains. Khulhaan = stook of sheaves. Gaahun = threshing. Tiyoun = like that. Brasaaya = gain; benefit. Tit = the same. Jit(u) = to which. Laaya = put to. Bunut = system. 5.

MEANING: One ought to seek the advice of the holy saints so as to attain the highest spiritual state in the company (shelter) of the Guru. Pause.

Even if you feed Waheguru's Naam with great aspirations to a money-lover, he never brings Him to mind (thinks of Waheguru). 1.

The money-lover is like a very dry (impermeable) stone which absorbs no water. 2.

He is like that foolish person whom the Shastras are read to, but for him, the words seem to be blown away by the wind in every direction (have no effect on him). 3.

Or, he is like a stook of sheaves with no grain in them, but which are arranged for threshing. Nobody can gain anything spiritual from a man who follows his own mind (a Maya-worshipper). 4. But such a person cannot be fully blamed because he is doing just that for which his character has been predetermined by Waheguru. Such is the system that Waheguru has created, oh Nanak. 5.5.

Word Meaning: Jeeou Paraan = life. Ruchiyo = created = Oopaayay. Peer = pain; worry; concern. 1. Gur Gobind(u) = Waheguru. Jea Kaiy Kaam = support for life. Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = next world (after death). Chhaam = support. Pause. Araadhun = worshipping. Nirmul = pure; pious. Reet(i) = practice. Binsi = destroyed. Bipreet(i) = opposite to (worshipping Waheguru). 2. Heet = well-wishers. Paarna = emancipate. 3. Amrit Bani = Guru's immortalizing Shabad. Jaani = acknowledge. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru, which has created life and the body, is also worried about His living beings (looks after them. 1. Waheguru is the support for all life, and His support is always there in this world and the next. Pause.

Worshipping Waheguru is a holy practice. The unholy practice (of not worshipping Him) gets destroyed in the shelter of the Guru. 2. One's friends, well-wishers, and one's wealth cannot ferry him across the world-sea (get him emancipation. Only my Waheguru (His Naam) is worthy of our worship (which supports us in His Court). 3.

Word Meaning: Aagaiy = in the future. Duyyou = the merciful (Waheguru). Paachhaiy = in the past. Mudh(i) Bhaag(i) = in the middle; at present. Rusaayin = source of all tastes (comforts) (God). 1. Shastar = the six Shastras. Saun = a book on astrology that enables one to make predictions; a horoscope. Sehj = peace. Anund = blissfulness. Greh(i) = home. Bhaun = mansion. Pause. Kern = ears. Simer(i) = remembering. Amar = immortal. Thir(u) = stable; immortal. Theevaiy = becomes. 2. Nivaaray = destroys. Unhud Shabad = auto-playing Divine music. Vujjay = plays. Durbaaray = in the tenth door. 3. Shernaagut(i) = shelter.

MEANING: Love for Waheguru is always the source of all comforts – in the past, in the future, and even at present (regardless of what eon it is). 1.

My Waheguru is the study of all Shastras, and of astrology for me (I do not need to study them). His Naam is the comfort, peace, blissfulness, and living in luxurious homes for me.

Pause. I survive by reciting His Naam with the tongue and listening to it with my ears. One can become immortal (merge with Waheguru) by reciting His Naam. 2.
His Naam destroys one's sins of many lives, and one feels as if the Divine Music is playing in his tenth door. When one takes Waheguru's shelter, He connects the devotee with Him with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Bin(u) Hur(i) Naam, mithiya subh chhaar(u). 4.8.

Word Meaning: Koat(i) = millions. Munoruth = objectives; wishes. Aaveh(i) Haath(i) = are acquired. Jum Marg = on the journey to the Angel of death (after death). Paath = path. 1. Ganga Jul(u) = water of the River Ganga which the Hindus believe to be very holy. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Buhourr(i) = again. Joan(i) Bhermaam = taken through many life forms. Pause. Jaap = recitation of some mantras. Taap = self-torturing. Ishnaan = dips at holy places. Nihkaam = without any desires. 2. Maal = wealth. Saadun = mansion. Durbar = court; reign. Poorun Achaar = perfect morality. 3. Beechaar(u) = thought; conclusion. Mithiya = false. Chhaar(u) = dirt. 4.

MEANING: For me, Waheguru's Naam is the water of the river Ganga (which the people believe to be very holy). Whoever drinks (recites) it attains a high spiritual state and is never taken through any life form again (never takes birth again). Pause.
Millions of objectives of the devotee (who recites Waheguru's Naam) are achieved successfully, and it becomes his companion (accompanies him) even after his death. 1.
By reciting Waheguru's Naam, the devotee loses all his worldly desires and any interest in rituals like idol worship, recitation of mantras, self-torturing, and dips at holy places, which become meaningless for him. 2. Worldly luxuries, such as the reign of a state, wealth, huge mansions, and courts (judgeships), become unimportant for the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam, and he leads a life of high morality. 3.
I am a slave of Waheguru, and have arrived at the conclusion that everything, without Waheguru's Naam, is false (short-lived), and is worthless like dirt, oh Nanak. 4.8.

NOTE: This Shabad has great historical significance. Guru Arjun Dev ji was the youngest son of Guru Ram Dass Ji. Before leaving this mortal world, Guru Ram Dass Ji passed on the Gurushiip to Arjun Dev Ji for his pure-mindedness and spiritual transcendence, bypassing His eldest son, Pirthi Chand. Being the eldest son, Pirthi Chand believed it was his right to be the next Guru, so he became very angry when he was denied that "right". First, he tried to convince the popular Sikhs, like Baba Buddha Ji, Bhai Gurdas Ji, and others, that it was his right to Gurushiip, which must be restored to him; but when he failed to convince them, he tried some legal challenges as well, but got no success even there.
His next move was to have the infant son, Sri Hargobind Ji, the only child of Guru Arjun Dev Ji, killed. He tried many approaches, but failed in all of them. Finally, he bribed the Brahman male nurse of Sri Hargobind Ji to feed him poisoned yogurt. The Brahman tried to feed poisoned yogurt to child Hargobind Ji, but the Child would not accept it. When the Brahman tried to feed the Child forcibly, he had a sudden and severe attack of pain in his stomach, as a result of which the bowl fell from his hand, and he died then and there. A pet dog ate that yogurt and died right away. When Guru Sahib saw through the whole incident, He thankfully praised Waheguru for protecting Hargobind Ji and wrote many Shabads in Waheguru's praise to instill faith among the masses in His Greatness. This is just one of many such Shabads.
Word Meaning: Layp(u) = negative effect. Til Ka Mool(i) = not even the size of a sesame seed. Doosht(u) = evil. Sool = severe pain in the stomach. 1. Gur Pertaap(i) = with the majesty of the Guru. Pause. Aap(i) = Waheguru. Iyaana = ignorant. Paapi = sinner. Puchaaya = brned in suffering. 2. Ninduk = vilifier; evil. Maatha = forehead; face. Eehaan Oohaan = here and there; everywhere. Kaala = black; disgraced. Mulaychh(u) = ignoble. Niraas(u) = dejected. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru, Himself protects His devotees. The sinner died because of the majesty of the Guru. Pause. (Hargobind) experienced absolutely no negative effect – not even the size of a sesame seed – but the evil Brahman died of severe stomach pain. 1. Waheguru makes His devotees recite His Naam, and He causes a huge suffering for the evil sinner. 2.
Waheguru is the guardian of His devotees, like their mother and father, whereas the evil gets his face blackened (disgraced) everywhere. Waheguru listened to the prayer of His slave (Guru Arjun Dev Ji), and the ignoble sinner suffered badly, and was dejected, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Your nature is mesmerizing, and Your Feet are (Naam is) praiseworthy. Singing Your praise is a special gift (Your favour), oh my eternal Emperor. 2. You are the best support for the support-less. I always recite the Naam of Waheguru, who accords honour to the helpless (humble). 3.

The Lord is very kind to me, and I wish I never forget His Naam from my heart, my soul, and my life, oh Nanak. 4.10.

MEANING: Acquire Waheguru's eternal Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and accept His Will as good for you, oh my friends 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam with your tongue, and drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam from the time you wake up, and stay spiritually alive all the time. Pause. Waheguru's Naam is the only means of salvation in the world. I am simply conveying Waheguru's Huqam, oh Nanak. 2.11.

MEANING: All one's filth of many lives is washed away, and he achieves all his objectives by serving Satguru. 1. Your Naam purifies the immoral, oh Waheguru. I sing Your praise because of my prewritten good fortune based on my previous deeds. Pause.

One finds salvation in the shelter of the Guru and earns praise in Waheguru's Court. 2. Serving Waheguru's Feet (obeying His Huqam, and reciting His Naam) is the source of all wellbeing for the man. All gods, and all humans, long for the dust of His Feet. 3.
The world can find salvation by reciting His Naam; I, too, have acquired the treasure of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.12.

Waheguru protects His devotee from the sinner (vilifier) while the sinner never finds peace of mind anywhere; he suffers badly because of his own deeds. Pause.
Waheguru's devotee has deep attachment (love) for Him, but the vilifier is just the opposite – he loves Maya. 2. Waheguru shows His innate greatness for the devotee, while the vilifier reaps the (painful) rewards of his own deeds. 3.
I am His slave, and have sought the shelter of Waheguru, who is always present everywhere, and who never comes and goes (takes birth and dies), oh Nanak. 4.13.

Word Meaning: Sridhur = supporter of Maya (Waheguru). Mohun = mind captivating (God). Oopaavun = creator. Sookhdaata = source of all comforts. Chhoad(i) = leaving aside; ignoring. Un Sayva = serving others. Bikhiya Rus = enjoyment of poisonous sensual pleasures. Maata = intoxicated. 1. Bhaaj(u) = recite (Naam). Oopaav = measures. Chitviyaiy = plan in mind. Bigrus(i) = is spoilt (ruined). Kaaj(u) = task; objective. Pause. Daasi = slave (Maya). Ugiyaana = ignorant. Nindeh(i) = vilify. Niguray = without Guru. Pushoo Smaana = like animal. 2. Pind(u) = body. Saakut = Maya-worshipper. Ahunboodh(i) = egoistic thinking. Doormut(i) = immoral thinking. Maiyli = filthy; impure. Bhuvjul Phayra = return to world-sea (rebirths). 3. Hoam = huvuns (building fire in a pit and feed the fire with ghee, and other ingredients to please gods). Yug = serving meals to Brahmans after the huvuns. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Tut(u) = banks of holy rivers. Paaya = acquire. Mitiya Aap(u) eradicate one's selfishness and ego. Shernaayi = shelter. Jugut = world. Turaaya = salvages. 4.

MEANING: The formless Waheguru is the creator of the whole world and is the source of all comforts. What kind of poisonous tastes (sensual pleasures) could they be with which the individual is intoxicated, who, ignoring such kind Waheguru, worships some other power? (It is unbelievable that sensual pleasures could be as blissful as Waheguru's Naam). 1.
I have tried all means to acquire blissfulness, but all such means that one plans ruin his objective (to achieve bliss, which they do not provide). So, recite the Naam of Waheguru, oh my mind. Pause. The follower of his mind is blind and ignorant who ignores Waheguru, and serves (worships) Maya, which is Waheguru's slave. The individuals who do not serve the Guru and maliciously criticize Waheguru's devotees are like animals. 2.
The life, the body, and the wealth are all the gifts of Waheguru given to the man, but the Maya-worshipper claims that they are all his (acquired by him). This kind of thinking, guided by one's ego, is bad and filthy. Without taking Guru's shelter, the man keeps taking births and dying. 3. No prevalent ritual like huvuns, yugs, recitation of some mantras, self-torture, efforts to control one's senses, living on the bank of a holy river, or taking dips at holy places can please Waheguru. The world can find salvation only when one gets rid of his selfishness and ego in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.1.14.

Word Meaning: Bun = forest. Paykhiyo = saw; is seen. Trin = vegetation. Greh(i) = in households. Oodaasaayay = who have renounced the world. Dunddhaar = those who hold a baton; yogis. Jutdhaaraiy = those with permanently tangled hair (yogis). Vert Naym = followers of some commitments and principles. Teeruthaayay = pilgrims to holy places. 1. Mun Maayay = in the mind. Oobh = in the sky. Puyyaal = in the underworld. Poorun = filling completely. Rus(i) = while enjoying. Mungul Goon = virtues as source of bliss. Pause. Jut(i) = celibates. Kaapurraayay = those who cover the whole body with loose fabric. Tupeesur = well-known self-afflicters. Nut Naatiks = acrobats and stage actors. Nirtaayay = dancers. 2. Chuhoun = in the four (Vedas). Khut(u) = the six (Shastras), Dus-Ashteen = the eighteen Puranas. Simertaayay = in the Simritis. Vukhaaneh(i) = say. Dooraayay = hidden; far away. 3. Agah = unfathomable. Keem = worth. Ghut(i) = in the heart. Pegutiaayay = appears. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who sings Waheguru's virtues - which are the source of bliss - in the shelter of the Guru with love, realizes (acquires) Him in his mind, and he sees Him fully present everywhere, including the underworld, and the sky. Pause.

Now, (connected with Waheguru) I, too, see Him in the forest, in vegetation, in family men and in those who are detached from the world (renouncers). I see Him in the yogis who hold batons in their hands and wear tangled hair, and in those who perform rituals like observing fasting, following some principles, or undertaking pilgrimages. 1.

I see Him in those who wear religious garb of yogis or of sanyasis, in yogis with tangled hair, in Jungums (a sect of yogis), and in those who cover their whole bodies with fabric. I see Him in those who torture themselves, including those who are popular in this faith, in hermits, in acrobats, in stage actors, and in those who try to please their deities by dancing. 2.

I see Him in those who read the four Vedas, the six Shastras, the eighteen Puranas, and the Simritis. When I see only Him in everybody, how can I say that He is far away from some? 3. The Lord is unfathomable, limitless, and nobody can know His worth. I am a sacrifice for those in whose hearts Waheguru appears, oh Nanak. 4. 2.15.

Nayrraiy, nayrraiy, subh(u) ko kuhhaiy. Gurmukh(i) bhayd(u) virla ko luhhaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Nicket(u) na daykhaiy, pur greh(i) jaayay. Derb(u) hiraiy, mithiya kur(i) khaayay. Puyyi tthugauri, Hur(i) sung(i) na jaaniya. Baajh(u) Guru haiy bherm(i) bhoolaaniya. 2. Nicket(i) na jaanaiy, boalaiy, koorr(u). Maya moh(i), moottha haiy moorr(u). Jun Nanak, aavaiy, na jaavaiy koyay. 4.3.16.

Word Meaning: Nicket(i) = nearby. Boojhaiy = understands. Bikh(u) = poisonous wealth. Sunchaiy = accumulates. Ur(u) = and. Bhayd(u) = secret. Mohi = captivated. 1. Burmukh(i)

= in Guru's shelter. Virla = rare. Pur Greh(i) = others' house. Derb(u) = money. Hiraiy = steals. Eats = lives on. Mithiya Kur(i) = by dishonest means. Tthugauri = deceiving shrub. Sung(i) = with. Bherm(i) Bhoolaaniya = misled by illusions. 2. Koorr(u) = lies. Moottha = robbed. Moorr(u) = foolish. Vust(u) = the priceless Naam(u). Disuntar(i) = in far away places. 3. Kerm(u) = good fortune. Mustuk(i) = Lilaat = on the forehead. Kupaat = doors of the brain (tenth door). 4.

MEANING: Everybody says Waheguru is very close to us, but a rare person finds His secrets (makes a connection with Him) in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.

A person who really understands that Waheguru is close to him (makes a connection with Him) does not do anything bad (immoral). But the individual, who accumulates poisonous wealth (by immoral means), is always afraid (from fear of its loss, or of the result of his immoral and illegal acts, etc.). Without Satguru, everybody is deceived by Maya. So, even though Waheguru is close to them, they do not know this secret (because He is hidden). 1.

A Maya-lover does not think that Waheguru is close to him, so he goes to others' houses to steal wealth and lives on money earned by dishonest means. Deceived by Maya, he does not realize that Waheguru is always with him, and without the Guru, he is misled by his misbeliefs. 2. Without taking Guru's shelter, the egoist (Maya-lover) does not think that Waheguru is close to him, so, engrossed in Maya, he tells lies, and the foolish is robbed of his spirituality. Not realizing that Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss, is present inside him, he goes to foreign lands to search for Him. 3. The individual, who has good fortune written on his forehead, serves Satguru, and the doors of his brain open up for enlightenment. He sees Waheguru inside him, outside him, and close to him, and realizes that He (Waheguru) does not come or go (He is always there), oh Nanak. 4.3.16.

(PAGE 1140): Tis(u) jun kay subh(i) kaaj(u) suvaar(i). Tis ka raakha Aiko Soyay. Jun Nanak, uppurr na saakaiy koyay. 4.4.17.

Word Meaning: Untar(i) = inside; under control. Oopaav = plans. Chitvut = thinks of. Praani = man. Choaj-Vidaani = performer of amazing feats (God). 1. Bhuou = fear. Door(i) Keeya = dispelled. Puraata = attracted to; made connection with. Phoon(i) = again. 2. Maanus = human. Baan(i) = habit; nature. Untarjami = omniscient. Soojaan(u) = wise. Tayk = Adhaar(u) = support. Sirjunhaar(u) = the Creator. Kartar(u) = Waheguru. Kaaruj Suvaar(i) = tasks completed successfully. Uppurr = reach. 4.

MEANING: Who can kill (cause any harm to) the individual who is protected by You, oh Waheguru? The whole world is in Your shelter. The man may plan millions of things, but only that happens which Waheguru – the performer of amazing feats - does. 1.
I have come to Your shelter in Your Court, kindly protect me (against the attacks of Maya) with Your benevolence, oh Waheguru. Pause.
The fearless and the source of all comforts, Waheguru, dispels all the worldly fears of His devotees, who get attached to and serve Him. The devotees become fully convinced that no one, other than Waheguru, can kill them (cause them any harm), and only that which Waheguru does happens. 2. Waheguru is wise and omniscient, and the Creator knows everything about you. So, what are you thinking as per your nature, oh man? Take His shelter only, and make Him the basis of your life. 3.
All the objectives of the individual, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, are achieved successfully. Waheguru becomes his guardian, and nobody can reach him (to cause any harm, or rival him in spirituality), oh Nanak. 4.4.17.

Word Meaning: Kurriyaiy = fret; suffer; worry. Baahur(i) = far away. Nurhur(i) = God. Bhaayay = like. Smaayay = present. 1. Puchiya = suffer. Bherm(i), Bherm(i) = wandering aimlessly. Khupiya = get frustrated. Pause. Dooja Kerta = attempts by others to control you. Uniyaayay Ko Merta = dies of unnatural (paranormal) causes. Bhurpoor Smaahi = fully present. 2. Dhingaanaiy = aggression. Runjaanaiy = tortures. Tay = by; from. Achint = worry- free. 3. Nibayra = final decision. Dootiya = other. Naasut(i) = is not. Ikk(u) = “One” God. Paiyj = dignity. Shernaayay = shelter. 4.
MEANING: Without Waheguru’s Naam, the man gets engrossed in his love for wealth, and roams about in search of more wealth as a result of which, he gets frustrated, and suffers severely worrying about it. Pause.
The devotee, who realizes that Waheguru is present everywhere (for his support), does not worry about anything. But those who believe Him to be far away, or those who forget Him, and love something else (Maya), do suffer. 1.
One has a reason to worry if he believes that there is someone else who can do things as God does, and one has a reason to protest if he believes that some of his relatives have died of paranormal (unnatural) causes. One also worries when he is ignorant about Waheguru. The devotee, who is convinced that Waheguru is omnipresent, never frets. 2.

One has a reason to fret if he feels he is a victim of aggression, or if he commits an injustice to others, even by mistake. But when the Guru explained that whatever happens, it happens according to Waheguru's Huqam (Laws), I began to enjoy worry-free sleep (I have quit worrying). 3.
Waheguru is the Lord, and everybody belongs to Him. He makes His final judgment as He deems fit. He is the only one who is present everywhere, and there is none other. I have come to His shelter and pray to Him to protect my dignity, begs Nanak. 4.5.18.

Bin(u) paykhay kuhhou kaiyso dhiyan(u). Bin(u) bhaiy kuthnee, serb bikaar. Kuhhou Nanak, Dur ka beechaar. 5.6.19.

Word Meaning: Baajay = musical instruments. Kaiso = how can? Nirtkaari = dancing. Kuntthaiy = throat; voice. Jeel = wires. Rubaab = lute. Birthay = empty; useless. Kaaj = tasks. 1. Turiya = finds salvation. Paar Puriya = other shore (of the world-sea). Pause. Jihva = tongue. Bukta = talks. Servnaa = ears. Kuhhaan = where; how. Paykahiy = see. Na Laykhaiy = has no significance. 2. Bidiya = education. Pundit = a well educated. Amraiy = reign. Raj Mundit = royal decorations. Boojhaiy = enlightenment. Tthehraana = stabilizes; becomes peaceful. Jug(u) = world. Buouraana = crazy; eccentric. 3. Baiyraag(u) = renouncement of worldly attractions. Bairaagi = detached from the world. Huoun = ego. Tiyaag(u) = abandonment. Bus(i) = control. Punch = the five (demons). Chooray = crush (kill worldly desires). Jhooray = regret and repent. 4. Deekhiya = Advice. Paykhay = seeing. Kuthnee = talk. Bikaar = meaningless. 5.

MEANING: Just like there is no meaningful dancing without musical instruments, no singing without voice (if the throat is not working), and no playing on a lute is possible if it has no wires; all tasks are worthless (incomplete) without Waheguru's Naam. 1.
Tell me who has ever found salvation, or swum across the world-sea without Satguru? Pause.
Who can talk without the tongue, and who can listen without the ears? Just like nobody can see without eyes, the man has no spiritual knowledge without Waheguru's Naam. 2.

How can a man be considered educated without education, and how can someone have royal decorations (symbols) if he has no state to reign? Just like one cannot have a peaceful mind without spiritual enlightenment, the whole world becomes eccentric without Waheguru's Naam. 3. How can a person claim to be a renouncer of the world (detached from it),if he is still attached to the world and still suffering from his ego? How can a man claim that he has crushed all his mental wishes if his senses are not under his control? Similarly, a person always suffers from regret and resentment without Waheguru's Naam. 4.
How can a man acquire Divine Knowledge without a Guru's Advice? And how can a man focus his mind on an object if he has not seen that? I wish to share the system in Waheguru's Court that, without any fear (love and respect) for Waheguru, all one's talk is meaningless, oh Nanak. 5.6.19.

Koorunga = deer. 1. Roagi = patient; suffering. Reht = free from. Yogi = connected with (Waheguru). Pause. Jihva = tongue (taste). Meen(u) = fish. Grusiyaano = trapped. Baasun = nose (smell; fragrance). Bhuvur = bumblebee. Binsaano = destroyed. Hayt = attachment. Tribhidh(i) = the three effects of Maya. Bikaara = immoral activities. 2. Joani Bhermaiy = takes rebirths. Roag-Bundh = gripped by disease. Rehn(u) = freedom from worries; peace of mind. Rutee Na = not even a small amount. Kuteh Na = not by any means. 3.

MEANING: Every visible living being suffers from some innate killer habit. Only my Satguru is free from all such bad habits. Pause.
The man suffers from the serious disease of haumein (selfishness and ego), while the lust of the elephant traps him when the hunters deceive him by showing a model of a female. The moths' eyesight becomes their downfall: when they see a flame, they jump into it out of love. Similarly, the love of the musk deer for a particular music becomes the cause of their death. They run towards the music played by the hunters at night, and get shot by the hunters. 1. The fish gets trapped for its love of the tasty bait, and the bumblebee gets stuck to the sticky juice of the flowers when it is attracted by their fragrance. The whole world suffers from the disease of attachments to certain things. The love for the three effects of Maya (haumein) leads to a more serious disease: sensual pleasures. 2. The man dies of his worldly attachments in mind, and is reborn with them in different life forms. Gripped by the disease of worldly attachments, the man finds no mental peace at all. Without Satguru, the disease (of haumein) does not leave him (let him free) by any efforts on his part. 3.

But, when Waheguru is kind to someone, he pulls him out of the well of Maya by holding him by the arm. Waheguru puts him in the shelter of the Guru, where all his worldly bonds get broken. The Guru eradicates his disease (haumein), oh Nanak. 4.7.20.

Word Meaning: cheet(i) Aavaiy = if comes to mind. Muhha = great. Anund = bliss. Bhunj = destroyed. Sherdha = wish. Kubeh(i) Na = never. Jhoori = regrets and repents. 1. Ram Raayay = Waheguru. Pergtay Aayay = appears. Rung(i) = love for; blissfulness. Pause. Rung(i) Goolaal = deep red colour (indicative of strong union with Waheguru). Nihaal = blissful. 2. Dhunvunta = wealthy. MEANING: With His benevolence, the Perfect Guru instilled love for Waheguru in my mind and connected me with Him. Now I feel highly blissful that Waheguru has appeared in my mind. Pause. A man feels highly blissful when he thinks about Waheguru (keeps Him in mind all the time); all his troubles are eradicated, all his wishes are fulfilled, and he never has to regret and repent again. 1.
When Waheguru dwells in a man's mind, he feels as if he is the king of the whole world; all his tasks are completed successfully, his mind is dyed in deep red (with never-dying love for Waheguru), and he always feels blissful. 2. With Waheguru in his mind, the devotee is always rich in mind, has peace of mind (is never indecisive), enjoys all the tastes (luxuries) of life, and he no longer depends upon anybody else for any of his needs. 3.
With Waheguru in mind, the devotee attains a high spiritual state (above the effect of Maya) and remains absorbed in Waheguru; he always sings His praise, and his mind is fully convinced of (has full faith in) Him, oh Nanak. 4.8.21.

MEANING: My Father, Waheguru, is always eternal, and my brothers (Waheguru's devotees) also become eternal (as they get absorbed in Him). My friends (spiritual associates) also become immortal for the same reason, and all the members of the family (all devotees) remain absorbed in Waheguru (their permanent home). 1.

But only that devotee acquires and enshrines it in his heart, to whom Waheguru is kind. When a devotee has Satguru's immortalizing Shabad in his heart, all his sins of many lives get eradicated. 1. The individuals who have the treasure of Waheguru's Naam prewritten in their fortune (by Waheguru) are given room (honoured) in Waheguru's Court. One acquires all comforts and blissfulness of a high spiritual state by singing Waheguru's virtues, and one gets a special place (recognition) in Waheguru's Court, even though one may not have ever been recognized in the world. 2.

The everlasting gist of the fact is that no matter what the eon it is, recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the only truth (which immortalizes one by connecting him with Waheguru). But only that individual gets to recite Waheguru's Naam whom Waheguru provides His shelter to (connects with Him). Such an individual becomes enlightened after having been in the dark of ignorance for many, many lives. 3.

The devotees are Yours (You created and groomed them), and You are theirs (You are present in them); so, in a way, You are singing Your own praise, oh Lord. All living beings are in Your control, and You are always with them, oh Nanak. 4.16.29.

The Naam is the manifestation of the omniscient Waheguru, and makes all our tasks successful. It is present in every pore of my body, and has been gifted to me by the Perfect Satguru. 1. Waheguru's Naam makes a man truly wealthy, and it becomes his eternal wealth (which never runs out). Everybody shows respect for the devotee who has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart. Waheguru's Naam also makes the devotee a perfect source of the Naam, and he becomes completely worry-free. 2.

Waheguru's Naam and love for Him are the spiritual food and the objective of life for the devotee. One does not forget Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and one feels as if Divine Music is playing in one's mind. 3.

With the Guru's grace and with the benevolence of Waheguru, one acquires Waheguru's Naam, which is like acquiring the nine mythical treasures, and the devotee falls in love with the Naam. Those devotees are truly wealthy and respectable who have the treasure of Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts, oh Nanak. 4.17.30.

MEANING: I bow to the Great Waheguru all the time whose Court is unapproachable (for any undeserving favour or for any change in His Huqam (only perfect justice is delivered there). His Residence is the highest of all (inaccessible to non-devotees by any means), but millions of sins are washed away with His Naam. 1.
One always enjoys comforts (blissfulness) in His shelter when he is connected with Him (Waheguru) with His benevolence. Pause. Waheguru, whose amazing feats cannot be comprehended, and on which everybody is dependent, appears in one's mind in the shelter of the Guru. His devotees always worship Him with deep love. 2.
His treasures never run out while He delivers His gifts to His living beings. He can create and then destroy things in a moment. He is the eternal Emperor above all the worldly rulers, and nobody can erase (undo) His Huqam (Will). 3.
Everybody survives because of His protection and is fully dependent upon Him. He is the Lord, and knows all about our suffering and our comforts, and keeps the secrets (weaknesses) of His devotees from others. I always sing His praise, oh Nanak. 4.

Soag(u) = grief. 1. Bikhiya = Maya. Dhundh(u) Pusaar(u) = expanse of Maya-related affairs. Virlaiy = some rare. Pause. Tribidh(i) = of three qualities. Biyaap(i) = overpowers. Taahi Ka = his. Pervaan(u) = welcome; useful. 4.
MEANING: All the daily dealings of the man are Maya-related; some rare individual makes Waheguru's Naam the basis of his life. Pause.
Even the relatives of a dead man cry at his death to share their woeful tale. They cry to remember his relationship only because of his lost usefulness in everyday dealings. If one feels the pain of separation of a relative by understanding Waheguru's Huqam, he will not endure the suffering of any death or (the happiness) of a new birth in the family. 1.

The three qualities of Maya overpower humans, and those who become deeply attached to it suffer its consequences. One cannot enjoy blissfulness without Waheguru's Naam, but only some fortunate people acquire the treasure of Naam. 2.
If someone likes the character an actor plays, he is disappointed when the real-life character of the actor is revealed after the actor takes his makeup off. The love for worldly attractions is as useless as the shade of a moving cloud for a person (who takes its shelter believing it to be permanent). 3.
But if a person acquires the priceless Naam of Waheguru, all his tasks get completed successfully. The birth of the individual, who acquires Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru, is welcome in the world (and approved by Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.20.33.

Word Meaning: Ninda = vilification. Joani Bhuvna = go through different life forms. Suhaam = endure. Daan(u) = punishment. Daiyt = gives. Jaam = Jum = Angel of justice. 1. Baad(u) = fights; bears enmity. Saad(u) = enjoyment; peacefulness. Pause. Kundh(u) = body. Chhaydaavaiy = creates holes (for noble qualities to leak out and for bad qualities to enter). Bhoonchhaavaiy = causes to receive (endure). Gulaiy = rots; suffers. Raj = royal luxuries. Tulaiy = is deprived of. 2. Gut(i) = state of peacefulness. Kut-hoon = never. Yaar = immoral relationship with other women. Jooaar = gambler. Unhoanda = which was not there before. Bhaar(u) = burden. 3. Nirvaiyr = without any enmity. Nisturaiy = is salvaged. Paiyr = Feet (Naam) of (Waheguru). Aad(i) Purakh(i) = Waheguru. Kirt(u) = the result of deeds done. Mitaaya = erase; undo. 4.

MEANING: Vilifying a holy saint causes mental sickness, and the vilifier is taken through many different life forms. The vilifiers are punished by the Angel of Justice, and they must endure many hardships. 1. The vilifier, who bears enmity against the holy saint (Guru), enjoys no peace in life. Pause. Vilification of a Waheguru's devotee creates many holes (weaknesses) in the body of the vilifier through which his noble qualities (if he is left with any) leak out, and ignoble qualities attack, and he has to endure hell-like suffering. The vilifier of a holy devotee rots in the mother's womb (goes through many different life forms), and he is deprived of all the luxuries of human life. 2. The vilifier never enjoys peace in life, but he can blame only himself because he is reaping the rewards of his own doings. He is worse than a thief, a lustful person, and a gambler, as he carries the burden which would not have been there if he had not wilfully criticized a holy saint. 3.

Waheguru's devotees bear no enmity with anyone; actually, the people who serve them find salvation. Waheguru forgets (ignores) such vilifiers (withholds His favours for them). The consequences of the deeds done by individuals cannot be undone, oh Nanak. 4.21.34.

Word Meaning: Humaaraiy = for us (devotees of Waheguru). Naad = mantras; music (played by the yogis). Kaaj = tasks. 1. Drirriyo = reinforces. Ootum = superior. Kaam = task; service. Pause. Mujun = Ishnaan = dip at holy places. Poorun = perfect. Daan(u) = gift. Tay Sugul= all those. Puveet = pure; pious. 2. Tayk(u) = shelter. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the study of the Vedas and the recitation of any mantras in our world (for Waheguru's devotee) - we do not need them. All our tasks get successfully completed because of Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's Naam is the worship of the gods for us (we do not need that); actually, serving the Guru is the same as Waheguru's Naam for us.

1. The Perfect Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam among His Sikhs, which is the superior most service to Waheguru. Pause.

Waheguru's Naam is the dip at holy places for us (and unlike our Hindu brothers, who make donations to Brahmans after taking a dip), Waheguru's Naam is the perfect donation we make for others. All those who recite Waheguru's Naam get their minds purified; all our brothers and friends (devotees of Waheguru) recite His Naam. 2.

Rather than considering good and bad rituals or auspicious and inauspicious times, we focus only on Waheguru's Naam (before we undertake any project), and Waheguru's Naam makes us fully content as if we have enjoyed delicious food. Waheguru's Naam is the performance of all prevalent rituals for us; it requires us to have honest dealings with people. 3.

The individual, who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, realizes that Waheguru is the support of all hearts. The devotees, who are given Waheguru's Naam in the holy gatherings, sing His praise with their body and mind, oh Nanak. 4.22.35.

MEANING: Serving the Royal Waheguru makes all the tasks of the devotee successful. The Lord is the doer of everything and makes others do things of His choice. Nobody is without Him (He is present in everybody). Pause.

He gives wealth to the poor; countless sins are washed away with His Naam, and the mind is purified. He gives (implants) His Naam in His devotee's heart whereby all his objectives are achieved, and all tasks get completed successfully. 1. Waheguru cures the patients' ailments and eradicates all the troubles of the suffering man. He bestows honour on a person who never enjoyed any respect before, and puts His devotee in His worship. 2.

Waheguru gets respect for the humble from the people, and the foolish become very clever and knowledgeable with His benevolence. When Waheguru takes dwelling in the heart of His devotees, all their fears, even of the highly terrifying situations, run away. 3.

Only that gathering is holy where only Waheguru's praise is sung. Pause.

One's birth-death cycle comes to an end in the shelter of the holy saints, and the Angel of justice cannot question him. Because only Waheguru's Naam is recited in the holy gatherings, even the routine conversations of the devotees become pure (no jealousy, no vilification or no immoral talks there). 2.

With Waheguru's eternal Naam being discussed there, the holy gatherings are also eternal, where all sins are eradicated. Waheguru's mind-purifying virtues are discussed in the holy gatherings because of which all the ailment of haumein runs away there. 3.

The gatherings of the holy saints are indestructible because the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru, is present there. Like the cross threads (warp and weft) in fabric, Waheguru is fully mixed with (dwells in) the gatherings of the holy saints, oh Nanak. 4.24.37.

Waheguru's Naam is always a friend of the devotees, and they always enjoy comfort who keep Waheguru in mind. Even the Angel of Death does not go near them. Pause.

When the man was not here yet, then who created him? Look at what the invisible origin of the man is (father's sperm, and mother's egg), and what beautiful shape he is given at his birth!! Waheguru, Himself kills the living beings, and Himself gives them life, and raises and nourishes (protects) His devotees. 2. We must understand that Waheguru controls everything about us, and He is the Lord even of the orphans (shelter-less). His Naam is the destroyer of all troubles, and one enjoys blissfulness by singing His praise. 3.

You control our life, soul, and our wealth, oh Waheguru. So, kindly listen to the prayer of Your devotees. This world is Yours (You created it), and everybody worships You. Please be kind to me too (and give me Your Naam), so that I may enjoy blissfulness, prays Nanak. 4.25.38.

Worship Guru Govind (Waheguru), oh my mind. His worship washes away the filth of one's many lives, severs his worldly bonds, and connects him with Waheguru. Pause.
How can a stone (a man loaded with sins) be purified by dips at holy places? Actually, he gathers more filth of haumein (of his pilgrimage). Millions of rituals are actually the root of more worldly bonds. Without Waheguru's Naam, the whole package of rituals is spiritually worthless (earns no credit in Waheguru's Court). 2. A hungry man gets satisfaction only with food, and one's suffering goes away only when one's disease has been cured. Gripped in his lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, the man does not recite the Naam of the Creator (Waheguru) (which can rid him of the disease of his vices). 3.
The Guru is worthy of our respect, and praise-worthy is Waheguru's Naam. One should sing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru all the time. The creator, Waheguru, is Great, and great are His devotees. I have come to the shelter of the limitless Waheguru, oh Nanak.4.

Word Meaning: Laiyt = by taking (reciting). Bighun = obstacle; impediment. 1. Nirbighun = without any interruption. Bhuj(u) = recite Naam. Rusuk(i) = while enjoying. Pause. Chaakh(u) = evil sight. Johaiy = sees; watches. Daiynt Dayou = the biggest monster (the five demons). Pohaiy = touch. Budhaiy = kills (spiritually). Roodhaiy = is trapped. 2. Bayla = time. Buhou Maah(i) = among many. MEANING: One faces no obstacle in his path (to union with Waheguru) when he recites Waheguru's Naam (with full dedication). The Angel of death runs away at a distance on listening to Waheguru's Naam (as the devotee has already become "one" with Waheguru). All one's troubles are destroyed when he recites Waheguru's Naam, and the Naam takes dwelling in His heart. 1.

One faces no obstacle in his worship of Waheguru when he recites His Naam and sings His praise while enjoying every bit of it. Pause.

No one can cast an evil sight on the devotee who remembers Waheguru (keeps Him in mind), and not even the largest monster (of the five demons) can touch (go near) him. No worldly attachment, or his ego, can kill the devotee (spiritually) who keeps Waheguru in mind, and he cannot be trapped in the cycle of rebirths. 2.

(Unlike some other religions in which there are specific times when the faithful can worship God), The devotees can worship Him any time, and all the time. But there is only one such individual among many (countless) who keeps Waheguru in mind at all times. (Again, unlike some religions in which only some are privileged to worship God), Anyone, including those from low castes, can worship Waheguru, and whoever worships Him attains the high spiritual state. 3. To get fully imbued in His love, Waheguru's Naam should be recited in the company (shelter) of the Guru. I pray to Waheguru that He becomes benevolent to me, and enables me to recite His Naam with every breath, oh Nanak. 4.36.49.

MEANING: Waheguru knows the secrets of every heart, and He is the Shastras and the Vedas Himself (reading of Shastras and the Vedas is subsumed in His praise. His devotees do not need to study them). Waheguru, who is the creator of the whole universe, who is perfectly omnipotent, and to whom everything belongs, is purely light-like. 1.

Take shelter of Waheguru, and no enemy or any trouble will even come near you when you recite His Naam with the Advice of the Guru, oh my mind. Pause.

The whole universe obeys His Laws, and He looks after even the forests, all vegetation, and the whole universe. He Himself creates attraction for Maya among living beings. On the one hand, He is fully detached from worldly attractions (yet present in all living beings), and on the other hand, He also enjoys the luxuries of the world. 2.

I find Him present everywhere I look, and there is none other like Him. The world-sea can be swum across with love for Waheguru's Naam, and His praise should be sung in the company (shelter) of the Guru, oh Nanak. 3.

Waheguru controls emancipation from worldly attractions, food for all living beings, and their lifestyles; His devotees never fall short on any of those. Those devotees are highly fortunate whom Waheguru is overly pleased with, oh Nanak. 4.37.50.

Dhur = support. Joar(u) = power; strength. Poorkhaaruth = objective; effort; faith. Saaray = makes successful.

MEANING: Waheguru's devotees are always blissful with His presence in their minds; they acquire complete peacefulness of mind, and all their worries end completely. All their fears and their misconceptions disappear in a moment, and Waheguru takes dwelling in their mind. 1. The Saint Waheguru is always our supporter; He is always with us - inside and outside - and is fully present everywhere. Pause.

All my wealth, other belongings, youthfulness, and my lifestyle are given by Waheguru. He is the source of our soul, life, all comforts, and He raises and nourishes us. He never leaves His devotees alone, and is always with them; He protects them by extending His hand. 2.

There is none other who is as dear to me as the eternal Waheguru, who looks after us all the time. Waheguru is like my mother, father, children, and a close friend. His devotees have been singing His praise from the very beginning, and from the beginning of the eons. 3.

I live on His support and on His power, and there is none other like Him. I have the faith that Waheguru makes my objective successful, oh Nanak. 4.38.51.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy = Bhuou = fear. Purriya = feels threatened. Biyaadh(i) = ailment; discomfort. Trehou Goon Kee = of the three effects of Maya. Poorun = successful. Pause. Loak = people; devotees. Poorun Dhaan = perfect spiritual state (merge with Waheguru). Ders(u) = sight. Baanchhay = long for. Pooneet = holy; pious. Dhermraayay Jaam = the Angels of death and justice. 1. Mud = intoxication. Ninda = vilification. Abhimaan = conceit. Vudbhaageen = with great luck. Koorbaan = sacrifice. 2.

MEANING: When one remembers Waheguru (recites His Naam), all his ailments due to the three effects of Maya get eradicated, all his tasks are completed successfully, and even the worldly fears are threatened (they run away). Pause.

Waheguru's devotees always sing His praise and attain an eternal spiritual state (to merge with Waheguru). Even the Angel of justice and the Angel of death long for the sight of such holy devotees and become holy (their minds are purified). (So, it is clear that such Angels are all mythical and not real). 1.

One's lust, rage, greed, vilification of others, and the intoxication of one's possessions are all eradicated in the shelter of the Guru. One connects with such holy saints only by great fortune; I am always a sacrifice for such holy saints, oh Nanak. 2.39.52.

Kuhhou Nanak, tis(u) jun nuhhi bhung(u). 4.40.53.

Word Meaning: Punch Mujmi = the face (reflective) of the five demons. Punchun Raakhaiy = who harbours the five demons. Mithiya = lies. Ootth(i) = since waking up. Bhaakhaiy = talks; tells. Chukur Bunaayay = paints religious symbols on the body. Paakhund = hypocrisy. Jhoor(i) = regrets and repents. Puchaiy = burns; suffers. Triya Rund = widow. 1. Jhootth(u) = false. Saakut = worshipper of wealth. Mootth(u) = deceit. Pause. Koocheel = filthy living. Koodrut(i) = in nature (presence of Waheguru). Leepiyaiy Thaaoun = coating ground with cow-dung (a sign of purity for the Hindus). Sooch(i) = purity. Maanaiy = recognizes; gives credit. Nit = everyday; always. Put(i) = dignity. Khovaiy = loses. 2. Kaarun = for the sake of. Oopaaou = efforts. Ghaalaiy Seedha Paaou = takes the right step. Cheet(i) Aanaiy = brings to mind. Koorri = false; as a show off. Vukhaanaiy = utters. 3. Kerm Kuray = is benevolent. Biyohaar(u) = dealings. Siyoun = with. Bhung(u) = shortage; separation. 4.

MEANING: The character of an individual, who harbours the five demons (lust, greed, etc.) in his mind, is reflected in his behaviour. From the time he rises from bed, he begins to tell lies. He paints religious symbols on his body just for hypocrisy, but suffers with regrets, and repents like a widow (like her, he has no real spiritual Master- husband). 1.
Everything is false (gives short-lived joy) without Waheguru's Naam. No one can get emancipation without the Perfect Guru; the deceit of the Maya-worshipper does not work in Waheguru's Court. Pause.
Waheguru does not recognize the ritualistic purity, such as coating the ground with cow dung (thinking it purifies the ground), practiced by some people. The man, who does not "see" Waheguru in His nature, has a filthy life. He may wash his body from the outside every day, but the filth of his mind does not go away. Such an individual loses respect in Waheguru's Court. 2. Such a man makes many efforts for the sake of money (to earn more of it), but never takes a step in the right direction (does not perform noble deeds). He does not remember Waheguru, who created him; however, he may utter His Naam just to fool others. 3. But, (with Guru's Advice). He begins to love Waheguru's worship, and never experiences separation from Him, oh Nanak. 4.40.53.

Word Meaning: Phitkay = reprove; rebuke. Sunsaar(u) = the world. Jhoottha = deceitful. Biyohaar(u) = dealings. Aachaar = character 1. Ninduk = vilification. Naal(i) = with. Kurrkiyo = roars; threatens. Pause. Maanaiy = believes in. Puchhutaanay = repents. Haath Puchhoreh(i) = slap their forehead; feel sorry. Dhurn(i) = on the ground. Duyyi = the merciful (Waheguru). Chhoadaiy = let go; forgive. 2. Maangaiy = wishes. Saangaiy = spear. Bugulay = (imposter) like the heron. Punkh Pusaar(i) = spreads wings (tries to impress others). Kuddhiya Beechaar(i) = expresses thoughts. 3. Kerta Soyay = the Creator Waheguru. Nihchul(u) = for sure. Saacha = truthful; pure. Durbaar(i) = in Waheguru's Court. Tut(u) = reality. Beechaar(i) = by thinking carefully. 4.

MEANING: The whole world reproves the malicious critic of a holy saint. Such a vilifier has an immoral character, and all his public dealings are deceitful (rooted in money and selfishness). But he can cause no harm to the holy saint because Waheguru protects His devotees. 1. Waheguru protects His devotees while the vilifier suffers spiritual death; death always looms on his head and threatens him. Pause.

Nobody believes the words of the vilifier, and he repents at his lies (in Waheguru's Court). He slaps his forehead and puts his head on the ground (regrets vilifying the holy saints) and vows not to do it again, but Waheguru does not forgive him. 2.

Waheguru's devotee never wishes ill of others, but the vilifier feels as if he has been wounded by a sharp spear when he hears the praise of Waheguru's devotees from others. Like the heron which tries to fool the fish by acting like a swan, the vilifier tries to put up his best behaviour, but is quickly identified as an imposter when his evil thoughts come out clearly from his words. 3.

But Waheguru is omniscient and knows everything that goes through our minds; so, He ensures that whatever His devotee wishes, happens for sure. After careful thinking, Waheguru's slave, Nanak, submits that the fact is, Waheguru's devotees are proven honest and pure in Waheguru's Court. 4.41.54.

Maan(u) = respect. Munoruth = objectives. Poorunhaar = fulfiller. Adhaar = basis. 2. Pergaas = Light; Supreme Soul. Goontaas = the treasure of all virtues (Waheguru). Birthi = empty; unrewarded. 3. Oopdaysh = Advice. Duyya = kindness; compassion. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Thoak(u) = thing. Lurr(i) Laayay = provide shelter. Churn Kumul = Waheguru's soft Feet (Naam). 4.

MEANING: My Lord, Waheguru, is the creator of the whole world, and I offer myself as a sacrifice for Him millions of times. With folded hands, I humbly pray to Him (thankfully acknowledge) that my life, my body, and my wealth are given by Him. 1.

Guru's Shabad purifies my mind, and reciting Waheguru's Naam destroys my evil thoughts, and the filth of my vices of many lives is removed instantly. Pause.

His Light (Soul) is present in everybody, and His devotees survive by singing praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues. They worship the "One" (Waheguru) by their body and their mind, service to whom never goes unrewarded. 3.

One acquires compassion and contentment by the Guru's Advice, and Waheguru's Naam is such a treasure which purifies one's mind. I pray to Waheguru that He provides me with His shelter so that I may worship His lotus-like Feet at all times, oh Nanak. 4.42.55.

Word Meaning: Ardaas(i) = prayer. Aaya Raas(i) = completed successfully. Chookaaya = dispelled. 1. Vud Sumruth = most capable (omnipotent). Gurdev = the great Guru (Waheguru). Paayeen = acquire. Pause. Amar(u) = Huqam; Will. Maytay = undo; not obey. Anoop = whose praise cannot be sung completely, without any comparison. Suful = source of all successes. Moorut(i) = persona. Nobody can undo (refuse to obey) Waheguru's Huqam, which is the creator of everything. Word Meaning: Purrtaal = playing many musical instruments repeatedly. Pritpal = oh the raiser and the nourisher (Waheguru). Kirpal = kind. Gunee = I count. Anik = countless. Rung = colours; forms. Trung = waves (of thoughts). Serb Ko = of all. Dhunee = Lord. Pause. Giyan = ideas of religious books. Dhiyan = meditations. Jaap Jaap = recitation of mantras. Taap = self-torturing (to please gods). Khuteh = (reading of) the six Shastras. Bert = fasting. Guvun Bhuvn = roaming on the earth. Jaatar Kern = pilgrimage. Ful = rewards. Poonie = of so considered noble deeds. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is very kind and raises and nourishes all living beings. The Lord of all living beings appears in many different colours and forms, and looks after His creation in many different (appropriate) ways. How many of His virtues can I count!! Pause.

There are countless books of knowledge about Him, and countless people meditate on Him. Countless people recite countless mantras, and countless people torture themselves to please Him. Countless people sing his virtues, countless people play lilting (melodious) music, and countless people remain quiet for long periods to please Waheguru. 1.

Word Meaning: Ashtpudi = a Shabad with eight stanzas (verses). Aatum = every soul. Cheenus(i) = recognizes (makes connection with). Amrit Bani = Waheguru's immortalizing Naam. Puchhaani = recognizes (its worth). Huoun = selfishness and ego. Maara = kills; destroys. 1. Roag = ailments. Baydun = pain; suffering. Dhooray = from the origin (Waheguru). Pause. Perkhay = tests. Shoolaak(u) = (the pain of) a very sharp needle used to test the purity of gold. Bhaana = is liked. Sach(u) = (like) Waheguru. Soyee = that devotee. 2. Baiysuntar(i) = fire. Dhert(i) Subhogi = the earth along with its products. Kootumb = family. Sunjogi = who got connected with one another according to Waheguru's Laws of union. 3. Bishan = Vishnu. Suroodra = Shiva along with his other incarnations. Pud(i) = spiritual state. Cheen(i) = by recognizing; by attaining. 4. Sumoond = oceans. Snudiyaan = including the rivers. Khund = worlds. Pataal = underworlds. Bhuray = full of. Loak = devotees. Soohaylay = enjoy comforts; blissful. Serbeen Thaayeen = everywhere. 5.

MEANING: The sickness of selfishness and ego is really bad (highly damaging to spirituality), oh Nanak. I find the same suffering everywhere, wherever I look; with Guru's Shabad, only Waheguru can relieve this suffering of those for whom He has prewritten in their fate. Pause. It is by pondering on Guru's Shabad that one realizes that Waheguru is present in every soul (body), and our soul lives in Him (we are alive because of Him). Waheguru's immortalizing Naam, which destroys all suffering due to one's haumein, is recognized by the Guru's Shabad (when one acquires it in the heart). 1.

Waheguru examines every individual for the level of his spirituality, just like a goldsmith who tests the purity of the gold with a sharp needle, and the devotee does not have to go through the pain of testing again (in Waheguru's Court after his death). Waheguru connects the devotees, on whom He casts His kind sight, with the Guru, and absorbs those whom He likes in Him (they become like Him). 2. Even the air, the water, and the fire suffer from the ailment of ego (of serving the living beings), and so is the earth along with its products (because of them). The mother, the father, and the whole family, of which the members are joined together based on their previous deeds, all suffer from selfishness and ego. 3.

(Let alone a common man), even the gods like Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva (along with all their reincarnations) are patients of their haumein, and so is the whole world. But those who attain a high spiritual state by pondering the Guru's Shabad are saved. 4.
All seven oceans, and all the rivers suffer from haumein, and all the worlds, and the underworlds are loaded with haumein. But the devotees of Waheguru who casts His kind sight everywhere, enjoy bliss with His Naam. 5.

Word Meaning: Khut Dershun Bhaykhdhaari = the ascetics of the six faiths. Naana = of different kinds. Hutthi = who unwillingly pursue something simply by the obstinacy of their mind. Kutayb = Bible, Quran, Torah etc. Bupuray = poor; helpless. Ikk Aika = Waheguru. 6. Mitth Rus = different delicious tastes. Bhurrjaiy = is loaded with. Kund Mool = vegetable that grow under the surface of the earth (carrots, reddishes; turnips etc.). Un Maarug(i) = on the other path (of Maya). Unt Kaal(u) = at the time of death. 7. Bhermaiy = wander at. Chhootus(i) = ends. Baad(u) = useless. Binaad(u) = discussions. Doobidha = in indecisiveness. Adhik Vudayra = even more serious. Moohtaaj = subservient. 8. Hur(i) Jun = Waheguru's devotee. Undin(u) = always. Nirmul(u) = pure. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Neeshaan(u) = identification. 9.
MEANING: All the followers of the six faiths, and the other countless individuals who unwillingly try to please Waheguru using many different ways based on the sheer obstinacy of their minds, suffer from haumein. What can the helpless Vedas and the Western holy books do when their readers do not understand the "One" Lord? 6.
Those who enjoy different delicious foods suffer from haumein, and those who live only on vegetables that grow under the surface of the earth do not enjoy any peace either (they too are sick of haumein). All those who follow other paths of life than Waheguru's Naam have to repent at the time of their death. 7.
The sickness of haumein does not go away by roaming on holy places, or by reading holy books if people read them just to take part in spiritually worthless discussions. Indecisiveness (the struggle of the mind to choose between Waheguru and Maya) is even more serious, as the individual becomes dependent solely on Maya. 8.
The disease of haumein for the Sikh of the Guru goes away when he sings Waheguru's praise, and enshrines His Naam in his heart. Those devotees who earn Waheguru's kindness as a sign of their identification in Waheguru's Court are always pure (pious), oh Nanak. 9.1.

MEANING: Waheguru has established this amazing principle: He delivers His Divine Message through the Guru's Shabad. The followers of their mind (Maya-worshippers) stay misled, while the Sikhs of the Guru realize (internalize) the Message. The Creator has laid down (used) this Principle ever since. 1. (Prehlad made it clear) that "Guru's Shabad is rooted deeply in my mind, and I will never quit reciting God's Naam". Pause.
Prahlad's father sent him to school to receive an education; Prahlad took his wooden board to the teacher and asked him to write God's names on it, because he would not learn any other ritualistic practices than God's Naam. 2.
Prahalad's mother advised him not to go against his father's wishes, who wanted everyone to praise him, and not to study the beliefs of any other power. But Prehlad (did not agree with his mother and told her) "The fearless Lord is always with me, and my clan (family) will be disgraced (in God's Court) if I quit reciting His Naam". 3.
(Prahalad's teachers had complained to his mother) that Prehlad had misled all the students and would not listen to them, and was pursuing his own objective. He had firmed up God's worship in the whole town, and the evil group (supporting Prahalad's father) was completely helpless. 4. (When Prehlad did not listen to his mother), His teachers, Shund and Merk, complained to the King (Prahalad's father); the whole evil group tried their best (including some fatal punishments) to stop Prehlad from worshipping God, but they failed miserably. Well, when God is the saviour of His devotees, what can the men, who are created by Him, do, or say to make His protection ineffective? 5.

MEANING: As a reward for his previous noble deeds, the evil Hernakhsh (Prahalad's father) was able to establish a kingdom. But he did not realize the power of God as he was misled by God Himself. He started an aggressive fight with his son, Prehlad. The blind of wisdom did not realize that his end was near. 6.

He locked Prehlad in a (dark) room, but the fearless child was not afraid at all, because he had the confidence that God dwelt in his heart. It was strange that the King, who was created by God, was trying to be His rival who had given him (the King) an undeserving high name (importance), but as prewritten by God in his fate, his end had arrived as he initiated an aggressive fight with a devotee of God. 7.
(When every approach failed) The father carried a big mace to kill his son, and roared to Prehlad, "Where is your God and the Lord of the earth?" Prehlad replied, "My Lord, and the soul of the earth, is present everywhere I look. He is my supporter till the end." 8.
God tore through the pillar and showed Himself, and humiliated the conceited, evil King by killing him. All God's devotees were overjoyed to see how God had honoured His devotee. 9. The Creator, God, has created birth, death, and worldly attachments as His written laws. God Himself appeared for the cause of Prehlad, and the words of His devotee were honoured. 10.

Kuray Kuraaya = do as made to do. Pervaan(u) = approved. Chit(i) Laaya = attached mind. Ungikaar(u) = favouritism. Roop = form (as most powerful). 13.
MEANING: (The Hindu Granths have used Vishnu's name for the Supreme Being, but Guru Amar Dass Ji has used Waheguru or God for the power in this mythical story, which killed the King). All the gods sang Lakshmi's (Vishnu's wife) praise, and requested her to remove the frightening new looks of Vishnu (man with lion's head) (and restore his original looks). But Lakshmi was very afraid and would not go to him. However, Prehlad approached Vishnu and dropped to his feet. 11.
Satguru has reiterated Waheguru's Naam, which is the treasure of everything, in the minds of humanity, emphasizing that the reign of a state or wealth is all a false (short-lived) attraction of Maya. The greedy man clings to them, but the man receives punishment in Waheguru's Court without His Naam. 12.
(The man has no independence in the nature of his deeds), Everybody pursues the kind of deeds which Waheguru has preprogrammed for them. But only those who get attached to Waheguru are approved. He shows His real character and always favours His devotees, oh Nanak(u). 13.1.2.

Word Meaning: Amrit = Waheguru's Naam(u). Ful(u) = reward. Trishan = fire of worldly desires. Boojhaayi = put out. HIrdaiy = in the heart. Munsa = desires of mind. Muneh(i) = in the mind. Smaayi = got absorbed; sank. 1. Deen = poor; helpless. Oodhaaray = is salvaged. Pause. Joh(i) = cast an evil eye. Rutee = minuscule. Unch = heat; uncomfortable situation. 2. Paiyj = dignity. Vudiyaayi = greatness. Kilvikh = sins. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Raayi = extremely small; negligible. 3. Moorr = Moogudh = foolish. Boojhaayi = understanding. 4.

MEANING: One acquires Waheguru's immortalizing Naam as the reward for serving the Guru, which puts out the fire of his worldly desires. Waheguru's Naam is embedded in his heart, and all his desires and wishes sink in his mind (they never arise again). 1.

I humbly beg the Dear Waheguru to enable me to sing His praise all the time with Guru's Shabad, which is the source of salvation. Pause.

The Angel of Death cannot cast an evil eye on Waheguru's saints, and cannot cause even an extremely small trouble for them. Not only does the devotee, who comes to Waheguru's shelter, attain salvation for himself, but also salvages all his associates. 2.

It is your greatness that You save the dignity of Your devotees, oh Waheguru. You eradicate the suffering of their sins of many lives, and they do not suffer even slightly from indecisiveness. 3. We are foolish, unwise, and unable to understand anything about spirituality; You are kind to give us the needed wisdom, oh Waheguru. Only that happens which You like, and nobody can go against that, oh Lord. 4.

Word Meaning: Dhundhaiy = in Maya-related affairs. Bhoondi Kaar = bad; dishonest business. Junum(u) Pudaaruth(u) = the precious human life. Jooyay Haariya = lost in gamble (life is a gamble where one loses his noble qualities to gain the short-lived happiness of sensual enjoyment). Soort(i) = spiritual wisdom. 5. Soojhaiy = think of. Doomut(i) = thinking that is ignoble. Undhaara = darkness. Bhuvjul(u) Paar = on the other side of the sea of Maya. Na Kub Hee = never. Sir(i) Bhaara = burden of sins on the head (mind). 6. Saachay = like Waheguru. Puchhaati = make connection. Saach(i) = in Waheguru. 7. Nirmul(u) = pure. Oridhaaray = enshrine in the heart. 8.

MEANING: You create the world, and put the people in the business of Maya-related affairs, who carry out dishonest business, and waste away their precious human life in the gamble (they lose their noble qualities to gain short-lived sensual enjoyments), and acquire no spiritual wisdom to appreciate the worth of the Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 5.

Due to their ignoble thinking, the worshippers of wealth die in the darkness of spiritual ignorance and cannot think of anything noble. Without the advice of the Guru, they never swim across the world-sea, and drown in it with a heavy burden of sins on their mind. 6.

The devotees, who get imbued in Guru's eternal Shabad, become like Waheguru, and He, Himself, connects them with Him. They sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, and stay connected with Waheguru by focusing on Guru's Shabad. 7.

Waheguru is perfectly pure, and so are His devotees who ponder and reflect on Guru's Shabad. I am always a sacrifice for such devotees who have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, oh Nanak. 8.2.3.

MEANING: The whole world is impure (unholy, which is disconnected from God); only God, which has no ends, is holy (and the source of holiness). Pause.

Even god Brahma, who is believed to be the creator of the world, is impure, as are Indra (who is believed to rule paradise and is the king of all gods), the sun and the moon (who are also believed to be gods). 1.

The rulers of galaxies (if there are any) are impure, and so are the night, the day, and the months (as they are created by the impure sun and the moon). 2.

Think of your mind as the holy city of Mecca, and your body the outer wall of the holy Kaaba. Allah, which is present in your body and which enables you to say the prayer, is the Supreme Guru. 1. Kill (destroy) the darkness of rage, your misgivings, and the filth of your mind, and consume (kill) the five demons, and thus be completely content, oh moolah. 2.
There is the same Lord of the Hindus and the Muslims, and the Moolah and the Sheikh cannot do anything about that (change the identity of the Supreme Being). 3.
I have gone insane in (am overpowered by) my love for God, and my mind has slowly attained the high spiritual state, oh Kabir. 4.4.

MEANING: People treat God like a toy, as if He can be pleased by anointing their forehead, holding a rosary in their hand, and wearing religious garb. 1.

People do not understand the yearning of my heart (my spiritual state). (They think I am insane), But if I am insane (not like them), I am Yours, oh Lord. Pause.

Unlike the people, I do not pick flowers to worship an idol. Because all service (worshipping) is fruitless without God. 2. I recognize only my Satguru, and worship Him all the time because of which, I will enjoy blissfulness in God's Court. 3.

People think that I am insane, but God knows the secrets of my heart, oh Kabir. 4.6.

I have not taken any lessons from the writings (teachings) of the Pundit and the Moolah. 3.

God can be seen (realized) with the purity of mind. I got connected with Him by searching Him in my own mind, oh Kabir. 4.7.

Juou surdhun(u), nirdhun kaiy jaayay. Deeya aadur(u) leeya boolaayay. 2. Nirdhun(u), surdhun(u) dono bhaayi. Prubh kee kulaa na mayti jaayi. 3. Keh(i) Kabir, nirdhun haiy soyee. Ja kaiy hirdaiy Naam(u) na hoyee. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Nirdhun = poor; pauper. Aadur(u) = respect. Jutun = efforts. Chit(i) Na Dhuray = pays no attention. Pause. Juou = when. Surdhun = wealthy. Peetth(i) Phiraayay = shows his back (turns face away). 1. Kulaa = power; Will. 3.

MEANING: (The irony of the world is that) a wealthy person accords no respect to a poor; not only that, the rich pays no attention to the poor despite his (the poor's) countless efforts (to please him). Pause.

When a poor person goes to a wealthy person, the latter turns his back on the former. 1.

But when the wealthy visit a poor person, the poor person shows them full respect and speaks to them very politely. 2. Being the children of the same God, the poor and the wealthy are both brothers, but nobody can erase the Will of God. 3.

Kabir says that the individual who does not have God's Naam in his heart is truly poor. 4.8.

Keht Kabir jeet(i) kaiy haar(i). Buhou bidh(i) kuhhiyo pookaar(i), pookaar(i). 5.1.9.

Word Meaning: Kumaayi = performs; renders. Tub = (only) then. Maanus = human. Dayhi = body; life. Simereh(i) = worship; respect; wish for. Dayv = gods. Bhuj(u) = recite (God's Naam). 1. Mut = do not. Laah(u) = benefit. Pause. Jub Lug(u) = as long as. Juraa = old age. Roag(u) = sickness. Kaal(i) = time; death. Grussi = tighten grip. Bikul = distorted; unintelligible. Bani = speech. Saaringpaani = God. Saar(u) = take care; use well. Puchhtaavoh(u) = repent; regret. Paavhou Paar(u) = swim across to the other end of the world-sea; find salvation. 3. Nirunjun Dayv = God, which is above the effects of Maya. Kupaat = doors (to the tenth door). Buhour(i) = again. Joani Baat = the journey to rebirths. 4. Aousur = opportunity. Baar = turn. Bheetur(i) = inside. Kaiy = or (as you like). Bidh(i) = ways. Pookaar(i) = loudly. 5.

MEANING: Acquiring human life is useful only if the man renders service to the Guru (follows His advice). Even the gods wish for human life (because most of them are not human) so that they could serve God by reciting His Naam (one can realize Waheguru only in human life). 1. So, do not forget to worship God because this is the only advantage of human life, oh man. Pause.

Worship God as long as you have not been hit by old age and by some serious disease, and death has not tightened its grip on you (is not evident yet), and as long as your speech has not slurred. 2. If you do not recite God's Naam now, when you will do that, because one cannot worship Him when the end is there. So, do whatever best you can do now so that you do not have to repent for not being able to swim across the world-sea. 3.

But only that individual can serve God (worship Him) and can unite with Him who (like Waheguru) is above the effects of Maya. The strong doors of his tenth door (to acquire Divine Knowledge) open in Guru's shelter, and he never takes the path to rebirths. 4.

This (human life) is your only opportunity and the time to worship Him; search for Him in your own mind by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. I have explained this fact loudly in many ways; now, it is up to you whether you want to win or lose, oh Kabir. 5.1.9

Puschum dooaaray kee sil oarr. Teh sil oopur(i) khirrkee aour. Khirrkee oopur(i) dusvaan dooaar(u). Keh Kabir, Ta ka unt(u) na paar(u). 3.2.10.

Word Meaning: Shiv Kee Poorie = God's City. Busaiy = resides (is the source of) Boodh(i) Saar(u) = purest thoughts. Teh = focusing your mind on Shiv Poorie (Waheguru's Naam). Eet = here; this world. Oot = there; the next world. Sojhi Puraiy = get the wisdom (knowledge). Kaun Kerm = what kind of deeds? Muraiy = suffers (humiliation). 1. Nij Pud = personal (highest) spiritual state (connection with God). Braham Giyan = Divine Knowledge. Pause. Mool = the origin of the universe (God). Dooaaraiy = at His Door. Bundhiya Bundh(u) = erected wall to stop the attacks of Maya. Ruv(i) = the sun; brightness of Divine Knowledge. Chund(u) = (calmness of) the moon. Puchhum Dooaaraiy = the dark side (darkness of ignorance). Sooruj Tupaiy = brightness of Divinity. Mayr = a very tall mythical mountain of jewels and gold. Dund = the sceptre of kings (God which has the Royal sceptre of the size of the Mayr Mountain – the highest authority in the universe). Sir Oopur(i) = in the tenth door (to receive Divine Knowledge). Busaiy = resides. 2. Sil = rock-like strong door. Oarr = end. Khirrkee aour = another window (brain). Dusvaan Dooaar(u) = the tenth door. Unt(u) Na Paar(u) = no limit and no end (God). 3.

MEANING: Purest thoughts reside in the city of God, (His Naam is the source, and one can acquire them by reciting His Naam with a fully focused mind). So, get together and ponder on His Naam when you will learn which noble deeds you need to perform in this life to be approved in the next world (Waheguru's Court), and which deeds will cause your spiritual death, oh my friends. 1.

God's Naam is the Divine knowledge for me, and I have focused my mind on His Naam to attain the highest spiritual state to be "one" with Him. I have erected a wall of God's Naam around my mind (to protect it from the attacks of Maya), so that my mind has the sun-like brightness of Divine Knowledge and the moon-like coolness. Now, the Divine Knowledge is brightening the dark side of the mind, and God, who has a Mayr-Mountain-like sceptre (the most powerful ruler in the universe), is residing in my tenth door. 2.

There was a rock-like strong door around my tenth door, which blocked the brightness of Divine Knowledge before, but its end has now reached (it has been removed). There is another window above this rock (higher-thinking brain), and the tenth door is above the brain (higher than the brain in acquiring the Divine Knowledge of God), which has no end and no limit, oh Kabir. 3.2.10.

Word Meaning: So = he is. Luraiy = fights; struggles. Moolah = a Muslim priest. Kaal = (conditions causing spiritual) death. Jooraiy = fights. Kaal Purakh = the Angel of death. Murdaiy Maan(u) = crushes its pride. Slaam(u) = salute. 1. Hujoor(i) = close to you. Kut = where. Doondar = noise (of senses to enjoy worldly attractions) Baandhou = control. Soondar = the beautiful (source of all comforts) God. Pause. Qazi = a Muslim high priest who also acts as a judge. Kaay Beechaaraiy = searches his body (mind). Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Pujaaraiy = burns (destroys) completely. Bind Jhurna = enjoy lust. Juraa Na = not at all. Merna = the spiritual death. 2. Surtaan(u) = Sultaan = king. Dooyay Sur = both the arrows – of (mental) strength and of Divine Knowledge. Taanaiy = stretches. Bheetur Aanaiy = brings inwards. Guggun Mundul = in the sky; in the tenth door. Lushkur Kuray = gathers army of noble qualities. Chhutur Dhuray = wears crown. 3. Gorakh = the guru of the yogis. Ram Naam = Rama's naam. Oochraiy = recites. Aik Khudaayay = Muslims believe that the Supreme Being is theirs alone. 4.

MEANING: The true moolah is the one who, with the advice of the Guru, fights with his mind (evil thoughts), and against the conditions causing his spiritual death, and crushes the pride of the Angel of (spiritual) death. I always salute (have great respect for) such a moolah. 1. Allah is very close to all of us, but a moolah tells us that He is somewhere far away (in the seventh heaven). The truth is that one can acquire the beautiful (sources of all comforts) Allah when he controls his senses, which raise too much noise to enjoy sensual pleasures. Pause. A true Qazi is the one who searches his mind and burns (puts out) the fire of his mental desires with the brightness of Divine Knowledge. He does not enjoy lust with other women even in his dreams. Such a qazi never dies a spiritual death. 2.

The true king is the one who loads both the arrows of (mental) power and of Divine Knowledge to fight with his evil thoughts and brings his wandering mind under control. He gathers the army of noble qualities in his tenth door. Such a king wears the crown of Allah's approval on his head. 3. A yogi remembers his guru, Gorakh, while a Hindu utters the name of Rama in the idol. A Muslim believes that Allah is only theirs, but Kabir's Lord is the one who is present everywhere, and in everybody, oh Kabir. 4.3.11.

pookaar(i). Sumjh(i) daykh(u) saakut gavaar. Doojaiy bhaayay buhout ghur(i) gaalay. Ram bhugut haiy sudaa sookhaalay. 4.4.12.

Word Meaning: Paathur = idol. Dayv = God. Birtha = fruitless. Paayeen Paayay = drop on the feet (surrender completely). Ajaayeen Jaayay = goes completely waste. 1. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Boalunta = talks. Pause. Dayo = God. Mohiya = captivated. Paavaiy Phundh(u) = creates more nets for self. Fokut Kerm = useless rituals. Nihful = fruitless. 2. Mirtuk = dead body. Chundun = sandalwood oil. Oos Tay = from that. Bishta = feces. Rulaayi = insults. Ghut(i) Jaayi = what does it lose? 3. Pookaar(i) = loudly. Saakut = worshipper of Maya. Gavaar = foolish. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Ghur Gaalay = ruined households. Sookhaalay = in comfort. 4.

NOTE: Even though Kabir Sahib's name appears at the end, it is clear from the heading that this holy Shabad has been written by Guru Arjun Dev Ji (Mehla 5).

MEANING: Those who call (believe in) the idol as God lose all the credit of their service. All the efforts of those who drop at the feet of the idol (surrender to that) go completely to waste (unrewarded). My Lord talks to (communicates with) the living beings all the time, and provides for (fulfils) all their needs. Pause.

God is present in his heart, but the blind (ignorant) person does not understand that, and is captivated by the attractions of Maya, creating more nets (chains) for him. The idol does not talk, and does not give him anything; so, all his ritualistic worship of the idol goes unrewarded. 2. Service to the idol is like massaging a dead body with sandalwood oil, as the massager gains nothing from the dead body for his service. Similarly, a dead body loses nothing (no harm can be done to it) if it is insulted by being put in filth. 3.

I am advising the foolish Maya-worshipper very loudly (clearly) that love for Maya has (spiritually) ruined many households, whereas worship of God always provides comforts (blissfulness), oh Kabir. 4.4.12.

Word Meaning: Meen = fish. Baydhay = Chhaydat = pierced; strongly attached to Deepuk = lamp. Putung = moths. Kaam = lust. Koonchur = elephant. Biyaapaiy = puts pressure on. Bhooyungum = snakes. Bhring = wasps. Khaapay = suffer. 1. Aiysi = is such. Mohini = captivating. Dehkaayi = cheats; misleads. Pause. Punkhi = birds. Mirg = deer. Raatay = imbued in. . Shaakur = brown sugar. Maakhi = flies. Adhik = much. Suntaapaiy = tortures. Tooray = horses. Oosht = camels. Bhayla = strongly bonded (like in a bale). Sidh Chauraasih = the 84 well known Sidh yogis. Khayla = play at the hands of (slaves). 2. Chhay Jutee = the six well-known celibates. Bunda = slaves. Nuvaiy Nath = the nine popular elders of the yogis. Tupay = the devotees who torture themselves to please God. Rukheesur = the great sages. Soota = asleep; lost in. Kaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Punch Doota = the five senses. 3. Sooaan = dogs. Siyaal = jackals. Buntar = monkeys. Cheetay = cheetahs. Singhaata = lions. Majaar = cats. Gaadur = sheep. Loombra = foxes. Birkh = trees. Mool = (Kund Mool) = vegetables that grow under the surface of the earth. Puraa = absorbed in. 4. Bheenay = imbued. Dayv = gods. Saagur = oceans. Indra = (the king of) paradise; sky. Dhurtayv = earth. Oodur = stomach. Sadhu = Guru. 5.

MEANING: Maya is so captivating that it deceives all the living beings (misleads them), oh my brothers. Pause. The fish in water and the lamps and the moth are all pierced with (strongly engrossed in) Maya. The elephant is strongly pressured by Maya in the form of lust, and the snakes and the wasps suffer because of Maya (they sting, even if in self-protection). 1. The birds and the deer are imbued with Maya, while the brown sugar tortures the flies too much. The horses and the camels are strongly bonded to Maya, and the well-known 84 Sidhs played in the hands of Maya. 2.

The six Celibates (Laxman, Hanuman, Bhairon, Bheeshum Pitaama, Gorakh, and Dutta Traya), the nine Naths (heads) of the yogis, the sun, and the moon, were (are) all slaves of Maya. Intoxicated with Maya, the devotees, who torture themselves to please God, and the great sages, are all asleep (are unaware of its damaging impact). (Spiritual) Death due to the sensual enjoyments of the five senses is caused by Maya 3.

Dogs, jackals, monkeys, cheetahs, lions, cats, sheep, and foxes, all trees, and even the vegetables that grow under the surface of the earth, are all engrossed in Maya. 4.

The gods, the oceans, the sky, and the earth are all imbued in Maya. Kabir says that everyone who has a stomach attached to it is strongly affected by Maya; one attains emancipation only in the shelter of the Guru. 5.5.13.

Word Meaning: Jub lug(u) = as long as. Tub Lug(u) = till then. Kaaj(u) Suraiy = task is completed. Mit Jaayay = is eradicated; goes away. Suvaareh(i) = makes successful. 1. Kee Na = why not. Dookh-Bunjunaa = destroyer of troubles. Pause. Singh = lion (conceit). Bun(u) = forest-like body. Phoolaiy = blooms. Siyaar = jackal-like humiity. Khaayay = swallows; destroys. 2. Jeeto = conceited of his successes. Boodaiy = drowns in the world-sea. Haaro = who submits humbly. Tiraiy = swims; stays afloat. Paar(i) Ootraiy = reaches the other end. Liv Laayay = stay focused. 3.

MEANING: As long as the man puts claim on everything (shows selfishness), not even a single one of his tasks gets completed (given any credit by God). But when his selfishness is eradicated, God Himself completes all his tasks successfully. 1.

So, why don't you recite the Naam of God, which is the destroyer of all one's troubles? Focus your mind on such God, oh my mind. Pause. As long as the lion of ego resides in the forest of your mind, the forest (noble wisdom) does not bloom (flourish); but when the lion of ego is swallowed by the jackal of humility, the forest of one's wisdom blooms fully. 2.

The egoist, who thinks that all his possessions were the result of his own wisdom and his hard work, drowns in the sea of Maya, but the individual, who accepts everything humbly (as God's Will), stays afloat in the world sea and swims across to the other end with the grace of the Guru. Kabir, who is a slave of God, tries hard to advise people that they should meditate on God's Naam only (and stay connected with Him). 3.6.14.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib advises that no matter what difficulties people tell you in the path to union with God, do not feel disheartened, just recite His Naam with pure heart, and He will connect you with Him.

Word Meaning: Suttar Saiyay Slaar = 70,00 angels that accompanied Gabriel to take the Quran from the Paradise to Mohammad Sahib. Sheikh = highly learned Muslims. Koat(i) Atthaasi = 880 million. Chhuppun Koat(i) = 560 million. Khayl Khaasi. = servants. 1. Goojraavaiy = take my request. Mujlus(i) = Court (of God). Mehl(u) = residence. Ko Paavaiy = who will acquire? Khayl Khaana = members of the family. Divaana = homeless. Nudr(i) Dikhaayi = cast an angry sight (of disapproval). Oon Bhee = he too (Adam). Bhisht(i) = Paradise. Ghunayri = the end of. 2. Khulhul = disturbed. Jerd = pale. Roo = mouth; face. Bani = skin colour. Shaitaani = Satan-like deeds. Doash(u) = blames (others). Roas(u) = displeasure. Loyee = world; masses. 3. Bhikhaari = beggars. Bujgaari = sin. Puneh Smaana = has come to Your shelter. Bhist(i) = paradise. Raakh(u) Nujeek(u) = keep close. Rehmaana = oh merciful. 4.

MEANING: I am told that there are countless angels, prophets, and close devotees in Allah's Court, including the seven thousand angels who accompanied Gabriel to take the Quran from Paradise to Mohammad Sahib, the 125,000 prophets, the 880 million highly educated scholars, and 560 million personal attendants. 1.

I am also told that Allah's Court is far, far away in the seventh heaven. So, under such conditions, I am disheartened about how I, who is nobody (is insignificant), will reach His Court, and who will take my request to Allah? Pause.
(I am also told) that the 330 million (gods) are members of His family, while 8.4 million (life forms) are homeless (without any permanent home (life form) which wander around (from one life form to another). When God cast an angry look (of disapproval) on Adam, he too found the end of Paradise, and had to leave (was thrown out). (If great people, like Adam, are thrown out of Paradise, how will I get a room there? 2.
Those who ignore the holy books and commit Satan-like deeds acquire disturbance in their mind, and the colour of their faces turns pale. Such people blame others for their troubles and get angry with the world. But, (blaming others does not help) because they reap the rewards of their own deeds. 3. You are the provider (Lord), and we all are always beggars at Your door; it will be a sin if I deny having received Your gifts, oh kind God. I, Kabir, am Your slave, and come to Your shelter. Please keep me close to You, which is real Paradise for me, oh merciful God. 4.7.15.

Word Meaning: Chulun = go to. Oohaan = there. Baiykoontth(u) = paradise. Pause. App = himself. Murm(u) = secret. Bukhaana = describes. 1. Churn = (God's) Feet. Nivaas = dwelling. 2. Khaayi = ditch. Koat(u) = fort. Purl = city. Pugaara = Palace. Kaah(i) = to whom. Aah(i) = is.
MEANING: Everybody talks about going there, but I have no idea where Paradise is. Pause. They do not know their own secrets (mind), but describe Paradise in their talks. 1.
As long as one has a wish for Paradise, he cannot have God's Feet (His Naam) to dwell in his heart. 2. I do not know the door to any fort-like city which has a ditch of water surrounding it, and where God dwells in a palace. 3.
Who should I explain to that the gathering of the holy saints is the real Paradise, oh Kabir. 4.8.16.

Word Meaning: Kiyoun = how? Leejaiy = acquire; control. Gudh(u) Bunka = the strong fort (of the mind in the body). Doaver = double wall (of indecisiveness between spirituality and Maya). Tayver Khaayi = triple ditch (the three effects of Maya). Pause. Panch = the five demons. Puchees = the twenty-five ingredients making up the body (according to the Shaankh Shastra). Moh = attachments. Mud = intoxication (of ego). Mutsur = jealousy. Aadi = bunkers (to protect the soldiers). Perbul = powerful. Joar(u) = force; ability. Raghuraaya = God. 1. Kaam(u) = lust. Kivaari = sentinel. Dervaani = guards. Kroadh(u) = rage. Perdhaan = leader. Doondar = fighter. Mavaasi = rebel. 2. Snaah(u) = armour. Toap(u) = hat. Kuboodh(i) = evil thinking. Kumaan = bow. Chudhaayi = ready to shoot. Trishna = worldly desires. Teer = arrows. 3. Puleeta = fuse. Huwaayi = flame (to fire a canon). Goala = cannon ball. Braham Ugun(i) = Divine Light. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Purjaali = brightly. Choat = hit. Sijhaaya = achieved success to open the door. 4. Sut = high morality. Suntokh = contentment. Pukriyo = arrested. 5. Bhugvut Bheer(i) = assembly of God's devotees. Daas = slave of God. Abinaashi = eternal. 6.

MEANING: How can one conquer the strong, fort-like human body where the mind is ruling as a rebel (against the wisdom). This body of the mind has a double wall of indecision (between Maya and spirituality), and a triple ditch to protect it from the three effects of Maya. Pause. The five demons (lust, rage, etc.), the twenty-five basic ingredients of the body (according to the Shaankh Shastra), worldly attachments, the intoxication of ego, and jealousy, which are different forms of the powerful Maya, are acting as bunkers for the forces of the mind to protect its fort. I am helpless (have no power) to fight against these forces; what can I do, oh my Lord? 1. One's noble and ignoble deeds act as the door to the fort of the mind, for which lust is the doorman, and comforts and discomforts are the guards. Rage, which is the great fighter and vociferous, is the soldier protecting the fort where the mind is the rebel king. 2.

The mind king, who is wearing an armour of different tastes, a hat of worldly attachments, has stretched the bow of evil thinking, which is loaded with the arrows of worldly desires, and is ready to shoot. Under such conditions, the body fort cannot be conquered. 3.

But when I used my mind, focused on God's Naam, as the fuse to light the cannon loaded with the cannonball of Divine Knowledge in the high spiritual state, the powerful fire of the Divine Light broke down the fort's door with a single shot. 4.

When I began to fight the evil mind with high morality and contentment, both the door slabs broke, and with the support of the holy saints and the grace of the Guru, I was able to arrest the king of the fort (mind). 5.

With the support of Waheguru's devotees, and the power of the recitation of His Naam, I, a slave of God, cut the noose of the fear of death into pieces, controlled the body fort, and acquired the everlasting reign on my mind (merged into God), oh Kabir. 6.9.17.

Mirgchhaala pur baitthaiy Kabir. 2. Keh Kabir koyoo sung(i) na saath. Jul thul raakhun haiy Raghunath. 3.10.18.

Word Meaning: Gung = the River Ganga (Ganges). Goosaayin = the mother of the country. Gehr = deep. Gumbheer = calm. Zunjeer Baandh(i) = tied in chains. Khuray = taken to. 1. Digaiy = weaken. Kaahay Ko = what for? Churn Kumul = God with lotus-like Feet. Smaayay = absorbed. Pause. Lehr = (powerful) waves. Mirgchhaala = deer skin. 2. Raakhun = saviour. Raghunath = God. 3.

NOTE: Like most of Waheguru's devotees, Kabir Sahib also made enemies because people in positions of power do not want the masses to be enlightened, as it reduces their chances to cheat and fleece them. So, some people jealous of Kabir Sahib complained to the local Muslim ruler of Banaras, who ordered that Kabir Sahib be chained and thrown into the River Ganga, which the Hindus believe to be holy for them.

MEANING: The deep River Ganga, which the Hindus call their mother, was calm at the time when they (the government employees) took the chained Kabir Sahib there to be thrown into the River. 1. (But they did not realize that) when focused on the lotus-like Feet of God (His Naam), one's mind becomes very strong, so what's the use to threaten his body? Pause. Suddenly, high and powerful waves arose in the calm Ganga, which broke my (Kabir Sahib's) chains, and I felt as if I was floating on a deer skin. 2.

When there is no one to support you, God protects you (His devotees) on the land, and in the waters, oh Kabir. 3.10.18.

Word Meaning: Agumm = inaccessible. Doorgum = tough to reach. Ruchiyo = creates. Baas = dwelling. Ja Meh(i) = in whose (heart). Jot(i) Pergaas = enlightenment. Anund(u) = Bliss. Paurray = level; place; heart. 1. Jeeou = soul; man. Juraa = old age. Mern(u) = death. Chhootaiy = leaves; forgotten. Pause. Abern Bern = high or low caste (clan). Haumein Gaavun(i) = songs based on haumein. Unhud Shabad = Divine Music. Jhoonkaar = lovely music. 2. Khundul Mundul = parts of the universe (worlds, and galaxies). Munda = created. Triya Usthaan = the three worlds (the earth, the sky, and the underworld). Teen(i) = the three ailments (mental, physical, and arising out of disagreements). Triya = the three effects of Maya. Khunda = destroyer. Ubh = heart. Unt = Untar(i) = in. Dhurnidhur = support of the earth (God). Munt = secrets. 3. Kudlee = banana tree. Poohp = flowers. Dhoop = fragrance. Ruj Punkuj = pollen of the lotus flower. Nivaas = dwelling. Dooaadus Dul = flower with twelve petals (fully blossomed lotus flower. Ubh = heart. Munt = Mantra; God's Naam/ Kumla Kunt = husband of Maya (God). 4. Urdh(u) = low (earth). Oordh = up high = sky. Mookh Laago = is visible. Kaas(u) = light (of God). Soonn Mundul = in the spiritual state above Maya. Aad(i) = the origin (God). 5. Brahmund(i) = in the universe. Pind(i) = in the body. Jaan(u) = recognize God. Mansurovur = in the pool of His Naam. Sohung(i) So = I am Him, and He is me. Lipt = coating; effect of. 6. Abern Bern = low or high caste. Ghaam = heat (discomfort). Chhaam = shade; coolness (comfort). Shaam = shelter. Taari Na Turaiy = cannot be avoided even on trying. Smaayay = stays absorbed. 7. Mudhaiy = in. Aapaiy = by itself. Usthir = stable. 8.

MEANING: The heart, which is enlightened by God, becomes like a fort which is inaccessible and extremely difficult to reach for the five demons (to attack). It feels blissful by the lightening of the presence of the child-like (pure-minded) God in there. 1.

If the mind of a man gets attached to God's Naam, all his misgivings and his worldly fears run away, and his birth-death cycle is terminated. Pause.

Normally, an egoist man loves to distinguish between high and low castes (feels proud of his high caste), and sings songs which are rooted in ego. But the heart in which God appears is enlightened and feels as if very sweet Divine music is playing in it. 2.

The inaccessible and incomprehensible God, which has created countless worlds and galaxies, and which destroys the three layers of the universe, the three ailments (physical, mental, and those arising from disagreements), and the three effects of Maya, takes up dwelling in the devotee's heart. But nobody can find the limits of the secrets of the Lord of the earth, which supports it. 3.

God remains hidden in the human body, just as fragrance in the flowers of the banana tree, or as pollen in the lotus flower. But the heart of the devotee, where God appears, blooms like the twelve-petalled lotus flower (maximum blooming). 4.

With an enlightened mind, such a devotee sees Waheguru's light on the earth and in the sky and stays absorbed in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya. In that high spiritual state, he sees God, which is the origin of the universe, and no sun or any moon can match

His brightness. 5. Such a devotee recognizes the same God inside him and outside, and takes a dip in His Naam-Amrit like the Hindus take a dip in the holy Mansarovar Lake. He recites God's Naam and attains a spiritual state in which he feels that God is inside him and that he is inside God. No thoughts of sins or noble deeds arise in his mind. 6.
No thought of high or low castes ever crosses his mind, and he does not feel any discomfort or comfort. No ideas about Maya come to his mind in the shelter of the Guru. He always stays absorbed in the high (blissful) state which nobody can deprive him of, and nobody can attain it on his own (can be attained only in the Guru's shelter. 7.
If one recognizes God's presence in his heart, everything that he talks about (wishes for) happens in a natural way (without any special effort on his part). The devotee who stabilizes (internalizes) God's Naam in his mind, swims across the world-sea (finds salvation), oh Kabir. 8.1.19.

Only God's Naam enables one to attain the high spiritual state above the effect of Maya. All other utterings (talking) of the tongue are worthless. 2.

Waheguru (God) lives close to the individual who abandons his desire for the wealth and the women of others. 1.
Those who discriminate between people (without any just cause) are just like animals. 2.
Just as a human face is not attractive without the nose, even if one has adorned herself with the 32 signs of beautification (No other quality is good enough without God's Naam), oh Namdayo. 3.2.

Kupil Gaayay = a brown or a white cow with black udder; Kamdhayn Cow = a cow, Kupila by name considered very holy by the Hindus, is believed to fulfil all one's wishes, lives in paradise. Hirdaiy Busaiy = resides in my mind. Husaiy = fully pleased. 3. Ghur(i) Guyya = with peaceful mind. Dershun Bhuyya = had His holly sight. 4.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Namdev Ji describes an episode of serving milk to an idol that drank it. Since, according to Sri Guru Granth Sahib, Waheguru does not appear in any living form, and Nam Dev Ji Himself strongly disapproves of idol worship (see the Shabad below), the holy Shabad must have a deeper meaning than its literal meaning. We will discuss both meanings in this particular case.

- ਗੂਜਰੀ ਨਾਮਦੇਵ ਜੀ॥ (525) ----- ਸਤਿਗੁਰੁ ਮਿਲੈ ਤ ਸਹਸਾ ਜਾਈ॥ ਕਿਸ ਹਉ ਪੂਜਉ ਦੂਜਾ ਨਦਰਿ ਨ ਆਈ॥ ਏਕੈ ਪਾਥਰ ਕੀਜੈ ਭਾਉ॥ਦੂਜੈ ਪਾਥਰ ਧਰੀਐ ਪਾਉ॥ ਜੇ ਓਹੁ ਦੇਉ ਤ ਓਹੁ ਭੀ ਦੇਵਾ॥ ਕਹਿ ਨਾਮਦੇਉ ਹਮ ਹਰਿ ਕੀ ਸੇਵਾ॥4॥1॥

Meaning: (People worship idols), but if one takes Satguru's shelter (seeks his advice) then his doubt will be cleared that there is no one else to worship than the Supreme Being (God or Waheguru). People love one stone (worship a stone idol), but step on another. If the former is a god, then the latter should be a god as well. So, I serve (worship) only the Supreme Being, oh Nam Dayo.

It is perfectly clear from this Shabad that Nam Dev Ji did not worship any idol.

LITERAL MEANING (of the Shabad): Taking water in a small vessel to (wash the udder of the cow), Namdayo milked the cow. 1. He put the milk in a bowl, and offered it to the idol with the request that the idol accept it to please him (Namdev), otherwise his father will be badly displeased. Pause. Namdev Ji filled a gold bowl with the milk and placed it before the idol. 2. God was pleased to see Namdev (his affection for God), who drank the milk, saying that His devotees always reside in His mind. 3. After feeding milk to the idol (God) and after having had His holy sight, the devotee, Namdev Ji, went to his home. 4.3.

REAL MEANING: Just as a man takes water in a vessel to wash the udder of his cow and milks it, Nam Dev Ji washed (cleansed) his heart with noble qualities, which became pure like the milk of the mythical Kamdhen cow, to offer to the Lord for His approval 1.

He filled his gold-like pure heart with the milk of God-like noble qualities, and offered to God with the request that He accept (approve) it so as to please Namdev; otherwise, his soul would suffer in agony. Pause & 2. God was pleased to accept Namdev Ji's love and devotion, saying that His devotees always reside in His heart. 3.

After feeding God (gaining Waheguru's approval), Namdev Ji felt he had a holy sight of God and was absorbed in his high spiritual state (of full contentment). 4.3.

MEANING: I am crazy about my God-Husband, and lost in His thoughts, I adorn myself with noble qualities for Him. 1. People may criticize me if they wish, but my body and my mind are in the service of my dear Lord. Pause.

I do not enter into any destructive debates with anyone, and enjoy only God's (Waheguru's) Naam, which is the source of all sweet tastes, with my tongue. 2.

Now, the situation of my mind and my life has developed to the point where I do not care what people may say about me, and I will connect with my Lord (worship Him) with the beating of a drum (openly, in full public view). 3. People may praise or criticize me; I have connected with my God, oh Nama (Nam Dev Ji). 4.4.

MEANING: God's majesty (power) can not be described, and we have to live our lives the way He wishes for us. Pause.

(Waheguru is present in everybody); but he does not enjoy delicious and rich food items like rice-pudding, sugar (sweets), or ghee in some bodies (they are so rich and always enjoy delicious items like these, that such things have no importance for them), while some are so poor that they have to beg even for a piece of roti at every door, while in some other cases, the individuals are forced to pick roasted grams in trash. 1.

By God's Will, some people are rich enough to ride dancing horses, while some people do not even have shoes to wear. 2. Some people have comfortable beds with white sheets on them, while others do not get even dry straws to spread on the floor to sleep. 3. (However, a devotee of Waheguru is happy in every situation by reciting Waheguru's Naam) which salvages one. But one acquires His Naam, which ferries him across the world-sea, from the Guru only, oh Nam Dayo. 4.5.

NOTE: Once Namdev Ji, who belonged to a very low caste, went to a temple to worship God, where low-castes were not allowed, to worship. The high-caste Brahmans hit him and kicked him out of the Temple. Disappointed, Namdev Ji took his blanket and went to the back of the Temple, sat down there, and began to sing God's praise. As he was singing God's praise, and as the Brahmans were watching him outside the Temple, the Temple turned around facing Namdev Ji with its back towards the Brahmans. The event has been certified by Guru Ram Dass Ji, and Ravidass Ji.
MEANING: I went to Your temple in a very joyous spirit to worship You, oh God, but I was pulled up (by the Brahmans) to stand as I was singing Your praise (and was thrown out of the temple). 1. (I was kicked out of the Temple) simply because I belonged to a very low caste, oh my Lord. Why was I born as a low-caste washerman? Pause.
Namdev Ji took his blanket, turned around, and went to sit down on the back of the Temple. 2. As Namdev Ji sang God's praise, the Temple turned around facing God's devotee, Namdev Ji. 3.6.

Namdev loves Waheguru (God) like a woman who is imbued with love for a man, or like a greedy person who loves wealth, or like a lustful person who loves a woman. 2.

But only that love is acceptable to God which He, Himself, plants in the mind of His devotees, and who have overcome their indecisiveness by the grace of the Guru. Such a bond of love never breaks, as devotees remain absorbed in God's love. Namdev's mind is attached to the Naam of the eternal God. 3.

My mind is as deeply attached to God as the love between a child and his mother. Nam Dayo humbly submits that God resides in his mind all the time. 4.1.7.

Keht Namdayo, eh(u) beechaar(u). Inn bidh(i) sunt-hou ooturhou paar(i). 4.2.8.

Word Meaning: Ghur Kee = own. Naar(i) = woman (wife). Tiyaagaiy = abandons. Pur = other. Ghaalaiy Dhundha = establishes affair. Simbul(u) = a tall tree which has attractive fruit, but rather than sweet juice or pulp, it has cottonwool-like interior which is useless for the birds. Sooaa = parrot. Bigsaana = feels overjoyed. Luptaana = attracted to. 1. Paapi = sinner. Ghur(u) = mind. Ugnay Maah(i) = fire of desires. Julut Ruhhaiy = keeps burning (suffering). Mitvaiy Naah(i) = is not put out. Pause. Daykhaiy Jaayay = joins (holy gathering). Maarug(u) = the path (of righteousness). Amaarug(i) = path of immorality. Moolhoun = from the root of the world (God). Bhoola = misled. Aavaiy Jaayay = takes births and dies. Daar(i) = dropping. Laad(i) = loading up. Bikh(u) = poison of sensual pleasures. 2. Baysuvaa = prostitute. Akhaara = dance show. Sheangaara = beautification. Pooray Taal = matches steps with the music. Nihaalay Saas(i) = watches every breath. Vaa Kay = of her. Phaas = noose. 3. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead; in fortune. Kerma = God's benevolence. Bhuj(i) = runs to. Pur(i) Haiy = seeks. Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. 4.

MEANING: The blind of (moral) wisdom abandons his own wife, and establishes a relationship with another woman, but, attracted to her, he dies a spiritual death at the end. His attraction for the other woman is as disappointing (bereft of satisfaction) as the fruit of a simbul tree for a parrot, which feels overjoyed to see it but gets nothing from it, as it is useless to him; in fact, it dies (by choking) on the cotton-like fruit. 1.

The mind of such a sinner is always on fire (of his immoral desires), in which he suffers a lot, but which is never put out. Pause.

Such a sinner never goes to a holy gathering where God is worshipped (His praise is sung), and, ignoring the path of righteousness, he chooses the path of immorality. Dropping (spilling) the Amrit of God's Naam, he carries a load of poisonous sensual desires, and misled from (disconnected with) the root of the universe, God, he keeps taking births and dying. 2.

He is like a prostitute's dancing show for which she beautifies herself, and matches her steps to the music. The Angel of death watches every breath of such an immoral person, and the noose of (spiritual) death is always around his neck. 3.

The individual, who has God's benevolence written on his forehead, runs to the shelter of the Guru. This is the way to find salvation for the holy men, Nam Dayo advises. 4.2.8.

Word Meaning: Sunda Merka = Shund and Amerk (teachers of Prehlad). Pookaaray = complained loudly. Puch(i) Haaray = exhausted trying hard. Ker = (with) hands. Taal = cymbal. Chatiya = students. Bigaaray = misled. 1. Jupibo Kuray = recites. Simrun(u) = remembering; reciting Naam. Pause. Busoodha = land. Bus(i) Keei = has controlled. had) protected. Raja Ram = God. Maya Phayri = changed the natural laws. 3. Khurrug = sword. Kaal(u) = death. Bhaiy = afraid. Kopiyo = enraged. Butaavhou = show. Peet Peetambur = the wearer of yellow clothes (Vishnu). Tirbhuvun Dhunee = the Lord of the universe; God. Thumbh Maah(i) = from inside the pillar. Bhaakhaiy = talk; roar. 4. Nukheh Bidaariyo = tore apart with his paws. Soor = gods. Nur = men. Snaatha = became guardian. Nurhur(i) = God. Abhaiy Pud(u) = fearless spiritual state. 5.

NOTE: For more detail of this incident, read Guru Amar Dass Ji's (Mehla 3) Shabad number 20, in the same Raag on page 1133 of SGGS).

MEANING: Shund and Amerk, the teachers of Prehlad, complained strongly to his mother that, despite their having exhausted themselves in frustration in advising him, he would not listen to them. Rather than reciting the King's name, he was chanting God's Naam while playing on cymbals, and had even misguided all the other students. 1.

He was reciting God's Naam while remembering Him in his heart. Pause.

His mother pleaded with Prehlad that his father, the King, had controlled all his masses, who were now chanting his name, and they (the King and his courtiers) had made a firm decision (to punish Prehlad) if he did not chant the King's name (but Prehlad would not listen even to his mother). 2. The evil group (the King and his courtiers) made the final decision to cut short the life of Prehlad. They tried to kill him by pushing him down a mountain, hanging him from a tree, drowning him in a river, and burning him in a fire. But he survived every time as God changed the natural laws for him. 3. Finally, his father, Hernakhsh, afraid inside but visibly enraged, pulled out a sword to kill Prehlad and challenged him to show his saviour who would protect him now. At that time, he heard the roar of God (described as Vishnu wearing yellow clothes) from within the pillar. 4.

Worship the God who tore apart Hernakhsh with his paws, and who plays as the guardian of the gods and the humans, oh Nam Dayo. 5.3.9.

NOTE: As always, some people become enemies of Waheguru's devotees, and Namdev Ji was no exception. A cow of Muhammad Bin-Tughlaq (the Muslim ruler of the time), which was very dear to him, died, because of which the Sultan became very sad. Namdev's enemies thought that it was a golden opportunity for them to get Namdev Ji punished. They advised the Sultan that Namdev Ji had the power to revive his dead cow. Their sinister plan was that Namdev Ji would not be able to revive the cow and would be punished. So, the Sultan called in Namdev Ji and asked him to revive the dead cow. When Namdev Ji expressed his inability to do so, the Sultan believed Namdev Ji was defying his order and became enraged. First, the Sultan left an elephant loose to hurt Namdev Ji, but Namdev Ji was unhurt. Next, the Sultan put three conditions before him: revive the dead cow, if not, embrace Islam or get ready to die. He locked Namdev Ji up and gave him three hours to make up his mind. Read the Shabad what happened next.

Word Meaning: Sultan = Badshah = Muhammad Bin-Tughlaq (the ruler of Delhi from 1325 to1351). Poochhaiy = questions. Kaama = ability. 1. Baandhila = arrested; locked up. Beetthula = Lord. Pause. Bismil = dead. Naatur = otherwise. Gurdun Maaroun Tthaayayn = sever head; kill on the spot. 2. Kiyoun Hoyay = how is that possible? 3. Ahunkaar(i) = enraged. Guj = Gujind(u) = Hustee = a big elephant. Chumkaar(i) = provoked. 5. Roodun(u) = cried. Maayay = mother. Chhoad(i) = quitting. Bhujeh(i) = worship. Khudaayay = Allah. 6. Poongrra = small child. Pind(u) = body. Purraiy = collapses. Tuou = then; still. 7. Soond = trunk. Choat = hit. Oobraiy = was unhurt. Oat = support. Slaam = bow down. Inn(i) = this. Muliya Maan(u) = crushed pride. 9. Sur = equal. Bhur(i) = weight.

MEANING: The Sultan told Namdev Ji that he wanted to see the capabilities of his God. 1. He locked up Namdev Ji, and asked him to call his God, if He could help him. Pause. The Sultan told Namdev Ji to revive his dead cow, otherwise he would kill him (Namdev Ji) on the spot. 2. Expressing his inability, Namdev Ji told the Sultan how that could be possible; no one could revive a dead body. 3.

There is nothing I can do; only that which God does happens. 4.

Considering Namdev Ji's inability and his defiance of the Sultan's order, the Sultan became enraged and provoked a large, trained elephant to attack Namdev Ji. 5.

Watching that, Namdev Ji's mother began to cry, and pleaded with Namdev Ji Why does he not quit worshipping his God, and chant Allah's name. 6.

Namdev Ji did not like this suggestion and rather told his mother that he was not her little child and that she was not his mother. He will sing God's praise even if his body collapses. 7. The elephant hit Namdev Ji with his trunk, but, with God's support, Namdev Ji escaped unhurt.

8. The king felt that the Hindu Namdev Ji had crushed his pride, and the Qazi and the Moolah bowed to Namdev Ji. 9. The Hindu citizens of the city approached the King, and offered to pay him gold equal in weight to Namdev Ji's, if he would let Namdev Ji go. 10.

Taal = lock; handcuffs. 12. Oolti Buhhaiy = flow in opposite directions. Tuou = still. 13. Saat Ghuree = a little less than three hours. Beeti = spent. Ajhoun = still. Pritpaal = protection. 16. Kuhheh(i) Ta = if you wish. Ikodi = tilt. Oopur Dhroun = turn upside down. 17. Putiyaayay = convinced.18.

MEANING: The Sultan said that if he accepted the offer, he would go to hell because he would be filling his treasure with worldly wealth and abandoning his faith. 11.

With shackles on his feet and handcuffs on his hands, Namdev Ji kept singing God's praise with the resolve that he would continue to do that even if the rivers Ganga and Yamuna began to flow in the opposite directions. 12 and 13.

Namdev Ji was alerted when he heard the time bell striking seven times (two hours and 36 minutes), and his God had still not appeared. 14. Suddenly, he heard the flapping of the huge wings of Groorr (Vishnu's ride), indicating that Vishnu (God) had arrived. 15.

God had come to protect His devotee. 16. God asked Namdev Ji what he wanted God to do. He could turn the earth on its side or turn it upside down. 17.

Or, He could revive the dead cow for everyone to see and be convinced (about your faith) (and He revived the dead cow). 18.

Word Meaning: Prunvaiy = requested the gathering. Saylum = to tie with a rope. Sayl = the hind legs. Doohaayi = milked. BUchhra = calf. Mayl(i) = connect with the cow. 19. Mutuki = vessel. 20. Aoughut Kee Ghut = difficult time. 21. Foormaayay = the order (request) of the Sultan. Bukhsheen = forgive me. Gaayay = (slave like) a cow. 22. Putiya = firm commitment 23. Pervaan = approval; condition. Saach(i) = justice. Seel(i) = politeness. 24. Smaayay = present (story heard all over). 25. Juou = if. Putiya = faith in him. 26. Keerut = praise. 27. Klaysh = irritation; disgrace. Ninduk = vilifiers; enemies. Khayd(u) = discomfort. Bhayd = difference. 28.

MEANING: (Seeing that the dead cow had come to life) Namdev Ji requested the people around (who had gathered to watch the amazing incident) to bring a rope to tie the hind legs of the revived cow, and He let the calf suck its mother's udder, and milked the cow. 19. When he filled the vessel provided, with the milk, he presented it before the Sultan (who was shocked to see this). 20. Faced with a very tough (an unbelievable situation), the Sultan left for his palace, and sent his Qazi and the Moolah to ask Namdev Ji for forgiveness (who promptly delivered the message) that the King was like Namdev Ji's cow (a slave). Namdev Ji accepted the King's apology, with a condition. 21 - 23.
The condition was that the King would deliver perfect justice and deal with his subjects politely. 24. Everybody in the city heard Namdev Ji's story, and all Hindus went to Namdev Ji. 25. They told Namdev Ji that he would have lost the faith of the people in him if he had not revived the dead cow. 26. Everybody acknowledged the greatness of Namdev Ji, who helped the other devotees in attaining salvation as well. 27.
But Namdev Ji's enemies suffered discomfort and disgrace, not realizing that there was no difference between God and Namdev Ji now. 28.1.10.

When Guru is kind to you, you get emancipation while still living in the world, and reach paradise. 1. When the Guru is benevolent to you, He reinforces God's Naam in your mind, and your mind quits wandering in every direction (becomes stable or peaceful). One stays away from the five demons (is not overpowered by them), and one does not die (spiritually) regretting and repenting. 2. When the Guru is benevolent, one sings praise of the indescribable God, and becomes very sweet in conversations. He recites God's Naam and acquires immortality (by merging into Waheguru). 3. When the Guru is benevolent to you, your thoughts become very high (above the worldly attractions), you learn the secrets of the three-layered universe (how it functions), and you understand the importance of a high spiritual state (attain it), and win praise (from God and the whole world). 4. When the Guru is kind to you, you quit vilifying others and get detached from the world forever. You accept bad or good treatment from others in the same way, and you get good fortune written on your forehead.5.

---------- Juou Gurdayo, kundh(u) nuhhi hiraiy. Juou Gurdayo Dayhoura phiraiy. Juou Gurdayo ta chhaapur chhaayi. Juou Gurdayo, sehj niksaayi. 6. Juou Gurdayo ta utth-sutth(i) naahiya. Juou Gurdayo ta bhuvjul turaiy. Juou Gurdayo ta junum(i) na muraiy. 8. Juou Gurdayo utth-dus biyohaar. Juou Gurdayo atthaarh bhaar. Bin(u) Gurdayo uver nuhhi jaayi. Namdayo, Gur kee shernaayi. 9.1.2.11.

Word Meaning: Kundh = body (mind). Hiraiy = steals (noble qualities). Dayhoura Phiraiy = the temple rotates (See Shabad number 6 of Namdev Ji in this section). Chhaapur Chhaayi = built thatched hut. (Namdev Ji was a very poor man, and lived in an old thatched hut. Once his hut was demolished in a storm, he went away to arrange for it to be rebuilt. When he came back, he was surprised to see a very attractive and strong hut built there. Sehj Niksaayi = bed recovered from the river. (Once the local ruler gave a beautiful bed to Namdev Ji who found it too lavish for him, and threw that in the nearby river. When the ruler learned about the way Namdev Ji had treated his gift, he got very unhappy and demanded his gift of bed back. Namdev Ji asked the servants of the ruler to retrieve that from the river. They were amazed to see that the bed looked even more expensive and beautiful). 6. Utth-sutth(i) = the sixty-eight holy places. Chukkur Lugaaya = some devotees paint religious symbols of Ganesh and sone other deities to show their devotion. Dooaadus Sayva = there are 12 Shiva Lings that the devotees worship. Bikh = poisonous fruits. Mayva = sweet raisins. 7. Sunsa Tootaiy = all misgivings are eradicated. Bhuvjul Turaiy = swims across the world sea. 8. Utth-Dus = the 18 Puranas. Biyohaar =business; rituals. Atthaarah Bhaar = the whole vegetation. Jaayi = place. Shernaayi = shelter. 9.

MEANING: When the Guru is benevolent to you, no demon like lust, greed, etc., can steal your noble qualities, and when the Guru is kind to you, even a temple can rotate, an old thatched hut gets replaced by a very beautiful and strong hut, and a damaged bed can be retrieved in excellent shape from the river. (See the Word Meanings for details). 6.

When the Guru is kind to you, you get the reward of holy dips at the sixty-eight holy places (you do not need them), and you do not need to paint your body with holy symbols like those of Ganesh and Vishnu. When Guru is kind to you, you feel like having worshipped all the twelve Shiva Lings (you do not need them), and all the poisonous fruits change into sweet raisins for you (you feel as if you have enjoyed all the sensual pleasures). 7.
When the Guru is kind to you, all your misgivings are dispelled, and you do not have to deal with the Angel of (spiritual) death. When the Guru is kind to you, you swim across the sea of Maya (get salvaged), and you no longer take births or die. 8.
When the Guru is benevolent to you, you understand the business of the eighteen Puranas (that is, what they teach is like trading with God, like a businessman – you pay to earn comforts), and the whole vegetation serves as the flowers for God, which the devotees offer to the idols. There is no shelter other than that of the Guru, and Nam Dayo has come to His shelter. 9.1.2.11.

Keh(i) Ravidass, perm baiyraag. Ridaiy Ram(u) kee na jupus(i) abhaag. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Aasa = hope; wish; longing. Binaasa = destruction. Bern Seht = with full explanation (understanding and devotion). Kayvul = (Nih)kayvul = perfectly pure. Nihkaam(u) = with no worldly desire; fully detached. 1. Perchaiy = with attachment. Ruvaiy = recites (Naam). Paarus(u) = elixir-stone (Guru). Persaiy = with the touch. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Pause. So = that. Moon(i) = hermit; sage. Khaayay = swallows. Bin(u) Dooaaraiy = without seeking support of any god. Traiyyy Loak = (the Lord of) the three-layered universe. Smaayay = is absorbed. Soobhaaou = nature; character. Kerta Hoyay = becoming like God. Unbhaiy = fearless. 2. Kaarun = for the sake of. Phooli = blooms; flowers (v). Bunraayay = vegetation; forest. Bilaayay = goes away. Giyaanaiy = for Divine Knowledge. Kerm Abiyaas(u) = performing rituals. Bhuyya = happened; acquired. 3. Ghrit = butter oil; ghee. Dudh(i) = yogurt; curd. Muthaiy = churns. Suyyan = wise woman. Jeevun Mookt = emancipated while living in the family. Nirbaan = free from all wishes. Perm Baiyraag = the supreme detachment. Abhaag = unfortunate. 4.

MEANING: The problem with God's worship is that He is invisible, and one does not acquire the zest or the longing to serve some power unless he sees that. But, at the same time everything that is visible is perishable (so no use to worship that either). The yogi, who recites God's Naam with understanding and devotion, becomes perfectly pure and gets fully detached from the world. 1. If someone gets attached to God and recites His Naam, he becomes pure in the shelter of the Guru, like a base metal changes into gold when it touches the philosopher's stone, and overcomes his nature of indecisiveness. Pause.
The ascetic, who swallows (overcomes) his indecisiveness, is a true sage and gets absorbed into the Lord of the three-layered universe without seeking shelter of any god. Everybody follows their mind, but the devotee, who acquires the virtues of God, becomes fearless. 2.
The vegetation flowers to bear fruit, but when the fruit comes on, the flowers go away. People perform rituals to acquire Divine Knowledge, but once they acquire the Knowledge, the rituals become meaningless. 3.
Similarly, a wise woman churns yogurt to extract butter. The above examples elucidate that if one wishes to have emancipation, he needs to recite God's Naam when he is emancipated while living in the world, and will always be free from any worldly wishes or desires. Ravidass always recites the Naam of the Supreme Being to become fully detached from the world, and asks people why the unfortunate do not recite God's Naam in their hearts. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Klundur = the highest level of Muslim faqirs. Keshva = with long hair. Abidaali Bhaysva = in the garb of an Abdaal (the second highest level of the faqirs). Pause. Koolah = a pyramid-like hat. Kaunsaiy = wooden sandals. Puyyaala = the underworlds. Chumurpoas = wearing skins (all living beings). Mundar = palace; home. Eh Bidh(i) = like this. Bunay = made of. Gosaayeen = a Hindu Name for God (the Lord of the earth). 1. Chhuppun Koat(i) = 560 million clouds. Pehn = cloak. Solah Sehs = 16000 (worlds). Ijaara = a form of loose pants. Bhaar Atthaarah = the whole vegetation. Moodgur = mallet; baton. Sehnuk = platter of mud. 2. Dayhi = body. Mehjid(i) = mosque. Muolaana = moolah. Sehj = the high spiritual state. Nivaaj = Muslim prayer. Goojaaraiy = offers. Kaula = Maya. Suou = with. Kaayin = Muslim marriage. Akaaraiy = of the whole creation. 3. Taal = cymbals. Chhinaayay = caused to snatch. Kih Peh(i) = before whom. Untarjaami = omniscient. Baydaysva = which has no particular country. 4.

MEANING: Come to my heart even if You are in the outfit of an Abdaal, oh, the Klundar-like God with lovely loose strands of hair. Pause. (If one were to describe the persona of the Supreme Being, then it can be said that): The Lord of the earth is such that the sky is his tall hat, all the underworlds are His wooden sandals, and all the living beings are his home. 1. The 560 million clouds are His cloak, and the 16000 worlds are His trousers. The whole vegetation is His baton, which the Muslim faqirs carry in their hands, and the whole world is His earthen platter in which He enjoys His food (being present in everybody, he enjoys all sorts of food). 2. I have made my body the mosque in which my mind is the moolah, which offers the Muslim prayer in a high spiritual state. Maya is married to You (is Your slave), oh, the formless Lord of the whole world. 3. It was You, who caused the upper-caste Brahmans to snatch away my cymbals when I was worshipping in the Hindu Temple, so whom can I complain to, oh, my Allah? My Lord is omniscient and is the one who has no particular home, but is present in the whole universe, oh Namdev. 4.1

NOTE: It is perfectly clear that Namdev Ji believed in the Supreme Being, which is neither for the Muslims exclusively, nor for the Hindus.

Word Meaning: Maaha = very many; huge. Moomaarkhi = high spirits. Basant(u) = spring season (the season for the mind to bloom). Perfoorr = thrive (at mind). Smaal(i) = remember. 1. Bholiya = oh, ignorant. Haumein Soort(i) = egoistic thinking. Visaar(i) = forget; get rid of. Goon Vich Goon(u) = the best virtue. Saar(i) = acquire. Pause. Kerm = (noble) deeds. Shaakhaan = branches. Dherm(u) = high morality. Giyan(u) = enlightenment. Put = leaves. Praaput(i) = acquirement. Chhaanv Ghunee = dense shade. Chooka = ends. Abhimaan = ego. 2. Koodrut(i) = (to see Waheguru) in nature. Put(i) Ka Dhun = the wealth of Lord's (Naam). Sehj(i) = high spiritual state. 3. Maaha Rooti = the great spring season. Vaykhou = see for yourself. Huray = (spiritually) bloomed. Sook-hee = dry up; die. 4.

MEANING: (Nature blooms in the season of spring), but it is the spring season all the time for the human mind, which blooms (feels hugely blissful) when it always recites Waheguru's Naam. 1. Get rid of your egoistic thinking and kill it by pondering on Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad), and acquire the best virtue (no haumein), oh, the ignorant man. Pause. When one performs noble deeds and recites Waheguru's Naam with full dedication, he feels as if a tree has grown in his mind which has the branches of the omnipresence of Waheguru (he feels Him everywhere), flowers of high morality, bears the fruit of Divine Knowledge (realization of Waheguru), and have leaves which provide dense shade (protection from all evil thoughts), and he becomes completely ego-free. 2.

Such a devotee sees Waheguru in nature (with his eyes), listens to the Divine Bani (Guru's Shabad) with his ears, and recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue. He acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam and focuses his mind on the Naam. 3.

If one performs such noble deeds, he can see for himself that the great spring season is always with him. The mind of such a devotee, who stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, never dies spiritually, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Gut(i) = situation (transcendence). Avigut(i) = beyond knowledge. Unjaanut = without knowing. Vukhaaniyaiy = recite. 3. Vaychaara = poor; helpless. Paanv = feet. Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice life. 4.

MEANING: It is always the spiritually-uplifting spring time for those who, imbued in Your love, recite Your Naam zestfully, oh Waheguru. I do not know anybody else on whose feet I should drop at (show reverence), and worship him (You are the only one), oh, my Lord. 1. I call (consider) myself a slave of Your devotees, and there is no other means (than serving Waheguru's devotees) by which one can realize Waheguru, which is the soul (basis of life) of the world. Pause. You have a single identity, but appear in many forms. (People worship their idol-deities, and offer incense, etc., to express their reverence) But nobody knows Your limits, and how can they do so, because there are countless forms in which You appear? (And how can they confine You in an idol? So, which form of Yours I should worship and offer incense to, oh Lord? I can only serve Your devotees to worship You, oh my Royal Waheguru. 2. (According to Hindu holy books), The maximum period for any of the three major gods (Shiva, Vishnu, and Brahma) to run the universe is twenty years each, and their combined period to rule is sixty years, which is called Sumbut. But it is You who rule the universe all the time, and all the places are holy because of You, and it is Your Naam which is eternal, oh Lord. Your transcendence is beyond our thinking, and nobody can ever know it. We can only recite Your Naam without knowing Your limits. 3.

What can the poor Nanak say about You? Everybody sings only Your praise. I am a sacrifice for all those who recite Your countless names, and I put my head on their feet (show reverence for them), oh Lord. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Chaunka = outdoor kitchen. Kunchun = gold. Kooaar = vessels. Roopa = silver. Kaaraan = (boundary) lines. Bisthaar = expanse. Ooduk = water. Kuruntay Kee Aag(i) = fire prepared in situ by digging a hole in a special kind of wood, inserting a stick in the hole, and by creating friction by rotating the stick fast until fire is built. It is considered very holy, and is used in religious functions by the Hindus. Groorra = cooked soft rice. Gaad(i) = by mixing. Laykhaiy Paayay = given credit. Jaam(i) Na = until. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. Pause. Thus-utth = the 18 (Puranas). Mookhaagur = by memory. Paatth = reading the holy books. Poorbi = on holy days. Verna Kee daat(i) = donations to people of different castes. Vert Naym = follow religious norms. 2. Jungum = a sect. Bhugvainy Bhaykh = another sect which wears saffron clothes. Girhee = family man. Kerma Kee Sundh(i) = performing rituals as per the holy books. Boojhaiy = understanding. Bin Boojhaiy = without making connection with God. Khurrius Bundh(i) = will be tied up and taken away. 3. Sir(i) Kaar = nature of deeds to perform. Saar = looking after; decision. Huqam(u) Kureh(i) = takes credit. Gavaar = unwise. Sift(i) = praise. 4.

MEANING: People believe that they can please Waheguru by performing rituals to maintain outward purity (cleanliness). They may prepare an outdoor kitchen of gold, use vessels of gold, draw the boundary lines with silver, cook their food with the holy water of Ganga and with the holy fire built in a special way, may have much more expanse like this, and eat the so-believed pure food of cooked rice mixed with milk, they are not given any credit by Waheguru unless their mind is imbued with His Naam, oh my mind. 1 & Pause.

One may have all eighteen written Puranas with him, may recite all the four Vedas from memory, take dips at holy places on special occasions, may give donations to people of different castes as dictated by their faith, and observe all the religious rituals (they get no spiritual credit for any of such efforts). 2. One may be a qazi, a moolah, or a sheikh; or may be a yogi, a jungum, or may wear saffron clothes; or be a family man who performs all the religious rituals, (no body gets any credit for any of their ritualistic practices), and all are tied up and taken away (to Waheguru's Court) unless they make connection with Him. 3. Everybody has the nature of deeds he has to perform, which are prewritten in their fate, and the final decision about their future is made by Waheguru based on their present deeds; yet the foolish man takes credit for his own deeds. Only His praise is recognized by Waheguru, with which His treasures are always full, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Teeruth bhuvvaiy, disuntar loyay. Nanak miliyaiy Satgur sung. Tuou bhuvjul kay tootus(i) bundh. 5.4.

Word Meaning: Bustar = clothes. Digumbur(u) = naked. Jutaa Dhaar(i) = wearing permanently tangled hair. Kmaavaiy = work towards; acquire. Dusvaiyn Dooar = in the high spiritual state. Bherm(i) = wander through (many life forms); rebirths. Moorra = foolish. Vaaro Vaar = again, and again. 1. Aik(u) = the “One” (God). Paar(i) ootur(i) = reach the other end (of the world sea); find salvation. Khinaa = moment. Pause. Vukhiyaan = explains. Naadi = who blow bugles (yogis). Baydi = who study Vedas (pundits). Pakhund Drishit = hypocrisy in sight. Kupt = deceit. Rumuyyiya = Waheguru. Nayrr(i) Naah(i) = not even close. 2. Sunjumi = with control on senses. Kirya Visaykh = special efforts. Bikhiya = immoral thoughts. Nirunjun = Waheguru. 3. Keeta Hoa = created by God (man). Chulaayay = runs (his life). Soyay = that (God). Nudr(i) Kuray = cast kind sight. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Saacha Paayay = make connection with Waheguru. 4. Untar(u) = inside; mind. Maiyla = filthy; impure. Disuntar Loyay = foreign lands in the world. Bhuvjul = the sea of Maya (the source of rebirths). Tootus(i) = are broken. Bundh = bond. 5.

MEANING: What kind of union with God do those people think they achieve who take off all their clothes, and spend their whole life without clothes, or wear permanently tangled hair (never clean their hair)? Their minds are not clean enough to attain a high spiritual state, so they wander through many life forms again and again. 1. Remember only Waheguru (recite His Naam), whereby you will find salvation in a moment, oh my foolish mind. Pause. The yogis blow their bugles (to deliver their message), and the Pundits study the Puranas, and explain their religious books – the Simritis and the Shastras – to the masses. They have deceitful looks and perform deceitful deeds. Waheguru is not even close to such people. 2. An individual may try to exercise control over his senses and may worship his deity in some special way, but if he has greed in his mind and thinks of immoral activities, how can he realize Waheguru? 3. What can a man, who is created by Waheguru and whose life is run by Him, do against the Will of the Creator? One’s misgivings are cleared only when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him, and he connects with Him when he recognizes His Will. 4.

A man whose mind is filthy cannot connect with Waheguru even if he roams around at the holy places. But all his worldly bonds, which cause his rebirths, get broken when Waheguru puts him in the company of the holy saints, oh Nanak. 5.4.

Word Meaning: Sugul Bhuvun = the whole universe. Moh = attraction. Uver(u) = other. Toh = You (God). Soor(i) = of gods. Naathaan = of the gurus of the yogis. Dayva = Lord. Gur Churn = feet of the Guru (His Shabad). 1. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheer = never changing. Laal = pearl; extremely dear. Uprumpur = limitless. Serb Paal = raiser and nourisher of all. Pause. Sung(u) = company. Muleen = filthy; impure. Ung = body. Shoodh(u) = pure. Saach(u) = eternal. Soyay = that (God). 2. Rukhunhaar = protector; saviour. Saar = looking after. Bikh(u) = poison. Mumta = worldly attractions. Purhuraayay = get rid of. Binaasay = destroys. Raayay = the Royal. 3. Ootum = superior. Gut(i) = spiritual level. Mit(i) = limit. Pergtay = appears. Heer = heera (diamond). Liv Laagi = focus of mind. Tuj(i) = abandoning. Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). 4.

MEANING: The whole world is attracted to (captivated by) Your Maya, but I do not see any other power than You which is present everywhere, oh Waheguru. You are the Lord of all the gods, and of the gurus of the yogis. But Your Naam can be acquired only by serving the Guru, oh Waheguru. 1. You are limitless, beautiful (kind), unfathomable, and You never change with changing conditions, oh my dear Lord. Your praise can be sung only in the shelter of the Guru. Pause. One cannot enjoy Your company (make a connection with You) without the Guru, and one's body and mind are filthy without Him. Such filth cannot be removed without Your Naam, and Your praise can be sung only with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 2. You connect the devotee whom You wish to protect (from the attacks of Maya) with the Guru who looks after the devotee. The Guru dispels the poison of selfishness, ego, and the worldly attractions of the devotee, and all his troubles are eradicated with the kindness of the Royal Waheguru. 3. Such a devotee acquires superior most wisdom (thinking) and noble virtues, like those of Waheguru, in his body and mind, and the diamond-like Waheguru appears in his mind with Guru's Advice. He renounces his love for Maya and makes Waheguru the focus of his mind. I am also a slave of Waheguru and the Guru, and pray to Waheguru to connect me with the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Sukhee Suhayli = friends. Bhaayay = with affection. Pir(u) = Dear. Reesaaloo = mind captivating; handsome. Sung(i) = with. Saayay = that (friend). Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhiyaiy = comprehend. Kaayay = how? 1. Bunay = create; sing (praise). Khaylay = enjoy union. Vur = husband. Kaamin = as wives (devotees) of. Mun Munay = mind is convinced. Pause. Dohaagun(u) = ditched by husband; unfortunate. Bhayo = secrets. Serb Prayo = dear to all. Dayo = Light-like. Drirraaya = reinforced; reiterated. Jup Jupayo = recites the Naam. 2. Sunt = the source of peace (Waheguru). Dhundh(u) = Maya-related tasks. Royay = suffers. Nirmul = pure. Mul(u) = filth. Khoyay = lose; get rid of. 3. Maariyo = kills (desires). Kur(i) Sunjog(u) = connecting with. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Raavay = recites Naam. Joag(u) = union. Roag(u) = disease; discomfort. Hur(i) Vur = Waheguru Husband. Sehj = high spiritual state.

MEANING: The mind-captivating Waheguru is incomprehensible and cannot be comprehended. So, tell me how we can connect with Him, oh my friends. Listen with affection (respectfully, with full faith), oh my friends: Waheguru resides with that friend (human being) who searches her mind for Waheguru with the Advice of the Guru, serves the Lord like a wife when she gets connected with Him, and enjoys union with Him. The Guru shows that Waheguru is present in you. 1 & Pause.

The followers of their mind are unfortunate and know nothing about the secrets of Waheguru, that He is dear to everybody and is enjoyed in every heart. The Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in the mind of the devotee for him to recite, whereby his mind becomes stable (quits wandering) in the Guru's shelter, and he realizes that the light-like Waheguru is with him. 2. One does not develop love for Waheguru's worship without the Guru, and he cannot enjoy Waheguru's company. Without the Guru, the blind (ignorant) man suffers in the Maya-related tasks. But one's mind is purified in the shelter of the Guru when he gets rid of his filth with the Guru's Shabad. 3. Shelter of the Guru (His Advice) enables the devotee to kill all his worldly desires, and he recites Waheguru's Naam day and night to achieve union with Him. All the sufferings of the devotee get eradicated in the company of the Guru-Saint, and he achieves union with Waheguru-Husband in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Gur Sikh piyaaray dinus(u) raat(i). Ful(u) Naam(u) puraaput(i) Gur(u) toos(i) dayay. Kuhhou Nanak paaveh(i) virlay kayay. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Koodrut(i) = nature. Saaj(i) = by creating. Nibayrray = decides. Raaj(u) = His Huqam. Raaj(i) = by reigning. Ootum = supreme. Rusaayin = source of all tastes (enjoyments). Aath(i) = wealth. 1. Mut Bisrus = lest you forget. Uprumpur(u) = who needs no external help; omnipotent. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Atool(u) = which cannot be weighed. Toal(i) = in measurement. Pause. Toar = Yours. Tuj(i) = abandon. Mayr Toar = discrimination. Nur = man. Ninduk = vilifier. Mun Kutthoar = stone-hearted. Bhaayi = liked. Choar Choar = big thief. 2. Tootha = pleased to be kind. Bhagat(i) Bhaaou = love for worship. Mehl Tthaaoun = Residence. Purhur(i) = getting rid of. Jaag(u) = be enlightened. Soohaavi = comforting. Kerm(i) = with benevolence. Bhaag(u) = a part; fortune. 3. Daat(i) = gift. Puraaput(i) = are rewarded. Virlay = rare; a few. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru creates nature, and through His reign over the universe, He Himself makes final decisions regarding the deeds of humans according to His Huqam. With the supreme Advice of the Guru, a devotee acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all enjoyments, and finds Him present in and around him. 1.

Recite Waheguru's Naam so that you do not forget Him, oh my mind. The omnipotent, inaccessible, and incomprehensible Waheguru, whose virtues cannot be measured, connects his devotees with the Guru who enables them to acquire enough virtues to buy Waheguru's Naam (to enshrine in their heart). One must remember that the requirement of virtues to buy Waheguru's Naam has a minimum value (enlightenment of heart), which is never lowered. Pause. Guru's Sikhs (Waheguru's devotees) worship Waheguru's Feet (recite His Naam) with Guru's Shabad. They rid themselves of their discriminatory nature (bias) toward people and attain salvation. The vilifiers have greedy minds and are stone-hearted (have no compassion for others). They do not like serving the Guru and are the biggest thieves. 2.

The overpleased Guru bestows love for Waheguru's worship on the devotees because of which one reaches Waheguru's Residence (attains union with Him). By overcoming the vilification of others, they stay awake with Waheguru's worship. With Waheguru's benevolence, they find His worship to be very comforting (blissful), which becomes a part of their fortune (character). 3.

The Guru gives the eternal gift of His Shabad as the foundation for union with Waheguru to His Sikhs, who are very dear to Him. The overjoyed Guru gives them the reward of Waheguru's Naam; however, only a few receive this special gift, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Ikktooka = a Shabad with only one sentence in each verse. Bhaaviay (if) He likes. Jeevut Muraiy = kills his mind(desires) while living in the family. Oodhraiy = gets salvation. 1. Hussaiy = make fun of. Pause. Gult(u) = absorbed; engrossed. Ruvut = recite (Naam). 2. Moogudh = unwise. Shernaagut = in shelter. 3. Nihful = fruitless; worthless. Kaama = tasks. 4.

MEANING: A devotee serves the Lord only if He likes him. Such a devotee kills his worldly desires while living in the family, and salvages the whole clan (his associates). 1. Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in my heart, and I will not quit worshipping Him even if people make fun of me. (Worshipping Waheguru was ridiculed at the time of Guru Sahiban). Pause. Just like people stay absorbed in their attachment to Maya, Waheguru's devotees keep reciting His Naam with dedication. 2. I am foolish and unwise; please be compassionate to me so that I may stay in Your shelter, oh Waheguru. 3.
The worldly tasks are spiritually worthless, but some rare individual acquires Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam with the benevolence of the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 4.8.

Word Meaning: Saalgram = an idol of Vishnu. Bip = (oh), Brahman. Sookirt = noble deeds. Toolsi Maala = garland of basil flowers (leaves). Bayrra = boat. Duyyaala = kind Waheguru. 1. Kulraan = land covered with saltpetre which is infertile. Sinchou = irrigate. Junum Guvaavhou = waste life. Kaach dhehg(i) Divaal = collapsing wall of mud. Guch(u) = plaster. Pause. Ker = hands. Hurihut = an open (artesian) well from which water is drawn by a moving cyclical chain (called maahl) of small containers (tinds). purovhou = string the tinds. Bheetur = in. Jovhou = connect; apply. Kiyaaray = field (of mind). Amrit = water of Waheguru's Naam. Tuou = only then. Maali = gardener (Waheguru). 2. Kaam(u) = lust. Busoalay = hoeing tools. Goad-hou = dig up (to weed out the evil). Dherti = land (mind). Kirt = the result of the deeds done. 3. Bugulay = heron (hypocrite). Phoon(i) = again. Hunsula = swan (holy saint). Prunvut(i) = prays. 4.

MEANING: You worship the idol of Vishnu, and offer him a garland of basil leaves, oh Brahman. (But all such efforts are spiritually worthless, and are not the way to please Waheguru). If you wish to swim across the world-sea (find salvation), you need to perform noble deeds which will serve as the basil leaves to offer, and worship Waheguru by reciting His Naam; these two acts on your part will act as the boat to ferry you across the world-sea with His benevolence. 1. Your efforts are useless like irrigating a barren field covered with saltpetre (to raise a crop), or like repairing a crumbling mud wall with plaster; why do you perform such worthless deeds? Pause.
A farmer irrigates his field with water drawn from a well, which is powered by oxen, and from which the water is drawn by a cyclical chain of tinds (vessels), called maahl, strung on a circular frame. Like the farmer, you irrigate the field of your heart with the water of Waheguru's Naam by performing noble deeds with your hands, which will act as the maahl, to draw the Naam-Water, and focus your mind on the Naam; only then will you belong to Waheguru, oh Brahman. 2. Use your lust and your rage as the hoeing tools (channelize your energy from evil thinking to noble thoughts) and dig up the land of your heart to weed out the evil qualities. The more you weed out the evil, the more blissful you will feel. The result of your noble deeds cannot be erased by anyone. 3.
With Waheguru's benevolence, even a heron (hypocrite) can transform into a swan (holy saint). I, Nanak(u), am a slave of Your slaves (devotees), and beg for Your benevolence (so that I may recite Your Naam), oh Waheguru. 4.1.9.

Prunvut(i), Nanak(u) aik lunghaayay, jaykur(i) Sach(i) smaavaan. 3.2.10.

Word Meaning: Sahour-rreen = the home of the husband (Waheguru). Vuth(u) = thing; the invaluable Naam. Saanjhi = common to all. Payvkurraiy = the home of parents (this world). Vukhay = separate; personal (of the individual). Koochuji = unrefined; unskilled. Doash = blame. Jaana Naahi = do not know. 1. Aapay = by Himself (God). Bherm Bhoolaani = misguided by misgivings. Akkhur Likhay = the prewritten order (fate). Gaavan = sing; perform deeds. Bani = noble advice (Guru's Shabad). Pause. Kuddh Kuseeda = adorn (garnish) with noble qualities. Pehreh(i) = wear. Choli = clothes (body coverings). Jaanhou = recognize. Ghur Rakheh(i) = protects mind. Chaakheh(i) = look for. Kunt = husband;

Waheguru. 2. Beena = wise; enlightened. Dooayay = two. Akkhur = mantra to follow in life – Waheguru and Maya. Naavaan = boats – Waheguru's Naam, and attractions of Maya. Prunvut(i) = humbly suggests. Lunghaayay = ferries across. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the common requirement for all to be approved by Him in the next world. This invaluable thing (the Naam) is everyone's personal choice in this world, whether to recite it or not. I am unskilled (ignorant) and do not know how to take good care of this invaluable thing (keep in mind at all times). But I cannot blame anyone for my negligence. 1.

I am misled by the results of my own deeds in previous lives, which have created misgivings in my mind. I still continue to perform the kind of deeds which are prewritten in my fate, and do not try to listen to any other noble advice (of the Guru). Pause.

I am advised that only that human bride is recognized (given spiritual credit) by Waheguru, which adorns (garnishes) her mind with noble qualities, and covers her body (protects from the attacks of Maya) with love and faith for Waheguru. The bride, who protects her mind from the evil attacks of Maya and does not think of (causing) any harm to others, is dear to the Waheguru-Husband. 2.

If you are an enlightened pundit, then you know that there are two mantras (paths) in the world to follow in life – Waheguru, and Maya – and two boats – Waheguru's Naam, and attractions of Maya. Nanak humbly suggests that only one boat – Waheguru's Naam – ferries one across the world sea if he gets absorbed in it (Waheguru's Naam). 3.2.10.

Prunvut(i) Nanak(u) daasun(i) daasa, khin(u) tola, khin(u) maasa. 4.3.11.

Word Meaning: Baaluk(u) = child; inexperienced. Nugri = town, human body. Kaachi = weak to resist temptations. Dooshtaan = evil; the five demons. Dooyay Maayee = two mothers – Guru's Advice, and personal thinking (attraction for Maya). Dooyay Baapa = two fathers – Waheguru and one's own mind. Purrhieh(i) = are told. 1. Mutee = advice. Kin Bidh(i) = by what means. Paavoun = realize. Praan-Putee = the Lord of life (Waheguru). Pause. Bheetur(i) = inside. Bunassput(i) = vegetation. Mauli = blooms; grows (is contained). Saagur = sea (of Maya). Pundaiy = in the bundle (of body). Chund(u) = moon; coolness (of Waheguru's Naam). Sooruj(u) = the sun; fire of desires. Ghur = heart. 2. Ruvunta = remembers. Ikk Maayee = one mother (attraction for Maya). Bhog(u) Kuray = eat away; kill. Ta Kay = of such people. Lukhun = qualities. Khima = forgiveness. Sungreh(i) = accumulate; acquire. Tinha Hee Sayti = the senses. Na Khaaya Maanay = never admit that they have enjoyed delicious foods (are always hungry). Vaasa = to live (deal) with. Khin(u) = in a moment. Tola = a large measure of gold; strong. Maasa = a smaller unit of gold; weak. 4.

MEANING: We are told that the man has two mothers – Guru's Advice, and personal thinking (attractions of Maya) – and two fathers to guide – Waheguru, and one's own mind – in the spiritual world. The human body is weak and unable to resist any temptation, and its rajah (mind) is inexperienced (easily swayed) and in love with the five demons. What are your thoughts on this, oh pundit? 1.

People consider you their swami (spiritual leader); so advise them on how to realize Waheguru, the true Lord of our lives (which you do not), oh pundit. Pause.

Just like the whole vegetation which has fire encased in it, the fire of worldly desires thrives in the human body as if the whole sea of desires is contained in the bundle of the human body. One does not realize that both coolness (of Waheguru's Naam) and the fire of worldly desires are present in the human body. 2.

That devotee is considered to be remembering Waheguru, who consumes (destroys) one of the two mothers – attractions of Maya. Such a devotee is known to have the quality of accumulating (acquiring) forgiveness. 3.

But, the human mind lives with (has friendship with) the five demons (senses) which do not listen to what the mind says, and never get satisfied with worldly enjoyments (are always hungry). That's why the mind has quick swings (of strength and weakness) in its ability to fight against its desires, humbly submits Nanak(u). 4.3.11.

Word Meaning: Saacha Shah(u) = the source of true wealth (Waheguru's Naam). Sookh-Daata = the source of all comforts. Bhookh = appetite (of worldly attractions).

Drirraayay = reiterates. Undin(u) = everyday; always. 1. Mut Bhooleh(i) = lest you forget (make sure you do not forget). Chayt(i) = remember. Hurie = God. Mookt = emancipation. Traiy Loyeen = in the universe. Pause. Bhaagaan = fortune. Sat Sung(u) = the company of the holy saints. 2. Goopt(u) = hidden. Vaykhay = watches. Pergut(u) = appears. Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter. Rung(i) Bheenay = imbued in love. Munaa = in mind. 3. Tukhut(i) = in Waheguru's Court. Vudiyaayi = honour. Perdhaan Keeyay = are exalted.

Paarus(u) = the elixir-stone; the Guru. Bhayt = in the company of. Bhuyyay = become (like the Guru). Say = those. Sung(i) = companions. Theeyay = become. 4.

MEANING: The Guru is the true source of Waheguru's Naam-wealth, and is also the source of all comforts. He connects us with Waheguru, so that all our appetite for worldly affairs fades away. He sings Waheguru's praise all the time, and reiterates His worship in our minds with His benevolence. 1. Remember Waheguru at all times so that you do not forget Him, oh my mind. No one attains emancipation in the whole universe without the Guru, and one acquires Waheguru's Naam from the Guru. Pause.

Also, one cannot connect with the Guru without Waheguru's prior grace, and one cannot worship Waheguru without good fortune. Similarly, one cannot come to the gathering of the holy saints without good fortune, and one acquires Waheguru's Naam only with His benevolence. 2. Waheguru is present, hidden in every heart which He has created, and watches its functioning; He appears in the heart of a devotee with the benevolence of the Guru or some holy saint. The minds of those who recite Waheguru's Naam are imbued with His love, and acquire the ambrosial water of Waheguru's Naam in their mind. 3.

Those who are honoured in Waheguru's Court are exalted (to deliver Waheguru's Message along with the Guru) because by meeting with the Guru (acting on His advice), they become like Him in His shelter, oh Nanak. 4.4.12.

Word Meaning: Maaha Rooti = the great season (to worship Waheguru) . Basant(u) = spring. Jit(u) = because of which. Huriya = full of life (thriving). Kirm Junt = a worm being. Aad(i) = beginning. Unt(u) = end. 1. Perm Sookh = supreme bliss. Aatumdev = oh Waheguru. Pause. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Jeevut Muraiy = kills his worldly desires while living in the family. Undin(u) = everyday; all the time. Oochraiy = recite. Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. Dootur(u) = very difficult to swim across. 2. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Birkh = tree. Bhaavaiy = likes. 3. Bikhiya = poisonous sensual pleasures. Baashna = fragrance; attraction. Muneh Kuray = prevents. Bhaana = Will. 4.

MEANING: No matter what the season is, it is always the spiritually happy season of spring (for the mind to bloom) for the man who recites Waheguru's Naam, which gives spiritual life to everybody. Nobody has ever found the end of Waheguru's limits; so, who am I, who is only a worm-being (insignificant), to say anything about Him? 1.

However, whosoever serves You acquires supreme bliss, oh, Lord Waheguru. Pause. The individual, whom You are kind to, serves You, and with the benevolence of the Guru, kills his worldly desires while still living in the family. He recites Your Naam all the time, and that is how he swims across the world-sea, which is otherwise impossible to swim through. 2.
The world is like a tree which bears both the fruits – attractions of Maya, and Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam - which are both created by Waheguru. The Creator does everything Himself, and makes others do whatever He likes, and feeds the type of fruit of His choice to individuals (whether to feed the poisonous Maya or Naam-Amrit). 3.
Waheguru gives His Naam-Amrit only to those whom He likes and prevents them from indulging in sensual pleasures. He implements His own Will, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Raatay = imbued. Saach(i) = in Waheguru (His Naam). Nihaala = blissful. Deen-Duyyala = kind to the weak. Jiyoun Bhaavaiy = As He likes. Soyay = the same (God). 1. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Pause. Lobhi = greedy. Loobhaana = is captivated; engrossed. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. Buhour(i) = then; again. Raangay = dyed; imbued. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Chaar Nudiyaan = four streams: aggression, worldly attractions, greed, and rage. Ugni = fire; harmful. Trishna = appetite for worldly attractions. Julut = burning; suffering. Ahunkaara = ego; conceit. Oor(i) = in the heart. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Dhaaray = acquire. 4.

MEANING: Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are always blissful. I have no other shelter than Him, and pray to Him, who is always kind to the humble, to be kind to me too, so that I may always be happy in whatever situation He keeps me in. 1.
I love Waheguru, and cannot live without having His holy sight. I pray to the Guru to connect me with Waheguru so that I may remain in a high spiritual state. Pause.
The human mind is greedy and becomes engrossed in the attractions of Maya, then repents and forgets Waheguru. But those who are fortunate get their minds dyed in the service of the Guru (serve Him with dedication), and are given Waheguru's Naam by Him, and are connected with Him (God). 2.

The human body, which is composed of air, water, etc., is severely affected by the serious disease of haumein. The medication for this disease, which destroys it, is Waheguru's Naam, which one acquires when he sings His praise in the shelter of the Guru. 3.
There is a fire of four streams (sources) – aggression, love for worldly attractions, greed, and rage - in human nature that causes him suffering. The man burns in the fire of human desires and of his ego. Those who are fortunate are protected by the Guru with whose benevolence they enshrine Waheguru's Amrit-Naam in their heart, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Smaahleh(i) = remember; worship. Pause. Disuntar Bhuvaiy = roams in foreign lands. Dhoor(i) = dust; earn disgrace. Leeyay Laayay = prompts to worship. Til(u) Na = not even the size of a sesame seed. MEANING: Waheguru becomes the guard of the individual who serves Him (obeys His Will). With Waheguru's Naam, he attains the high spiritual state and never suffers from any grief. The followers of their mind (worshippers of Maya) do not have Waheguru in their mind, and die spiritual death. They die, and take births repeatedly, and yet die a spiritual death. 1.
Those who have Waheguru in their mind are spiritually alive; they keep Him in mind all the time (recite His Naam) and stay absorbed in His Naam. Pause.
Those who do not serve Waheguru (do not recite His Naam) are far away from Him. They roam around in foreign lands and earn disgrace. Waheguru Himself prompts His devotees to worship Him. They are always blissful and have absolutely no greed. 2.
With Waheguru's benevolence, their ego is eradicated, and they earn respect in His Court. With Guru's Shabad, they always feel Waheguru close to them and see Him fully present everywhere. 3. With Guru's benevolence, they constantly and firmly remember Waheguru and firmly believe that He looks after every living being and raises and nourishes

With true love and reverence for the Guru, Waheguru's devotees are always honoured in His Court. Pause. Waheguru's devotee gets rid of his haumein with Guru's Shabad, and his mind is purified by Waheguru's worship. Waheguru Himself resides in his mind, and he remains absorbed in a high spiritual state, always feeling blissful and peaceful. 2.

It is the happy spring season all the time for the devotees who are imbued with Waheguru's love. By singing Waheguru's praise, their body and mind bloom all the time. The world is spiritually dead without Waheguru's Naam, and the people repeatedly burn (suffer) in the fire of worldly desires. 3. MEANING: Without the benevolence of Waheguru, the whole world is misled in its delusions and suffers hugely because of its love for Maya. The lovers of wealth are (spiritually) blind and find no peace of mind. They are worms of filthy sensual pleasures and stay engrossed in them. 1. Those who obey Waheguru's Huqam (His Will) are approved by Him. With Guru's Shabad, they acquire Waheguru's Naam in their heart, which is their identification for approval. Pause. Those who have it prewritten in their fate by Waheguru always like Waheguru's Naam and get imbued in His love. They enjoy all comforts with Satguru's Bani (Shabad), which also connects their soul with Waheguru's Soul. 2.
Waheguru's Naam, which the devotees come to love with Guru's grace, salvages the whole world. Nobody has ever achieved emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, which can be acquired only from the Perfect Guru. 3.
Only those who realize that Waheguru gives the understanding (enlightens) that they need to serve the Guru who reiterates the Naam in their hearts. Those who make a connection with Waheguru get imbued in His Naam, which is their identification for approval by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.10.

MEANING: When Waheguru is kind to a devotee, He connects him with Satguru, and comes to dwell in his mind on His own. The thinking of such devotees about Waheguru (their faith in Him) becomes stable and never changes, and their mind becomes fully peaceful (content). By singing Waheguru's praise, they become a source of noble qualities themselves. 1.

Those who ignore Waheguru's Naam die a spiritual death because of their enjoyment of poisonous sensual pleasures. They waste away their precious human life, and keep taking births and dying. Pause. They wear many religious garbs and symbols, but never attain peace of mind as they become conceited of their religiosity, and lose respect. Those who make a connection with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad and control their wandering mind are fortunate. 2.

The inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru is present hidden in every heart, and the devotees search for Him by pondering on the Guru's Shabad in His shelter. They find Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all the nine treasures, in their own heart. Always imbued in Waheguru's love, they merge into Him. 3.

However, it is Waheguru who does everything, and the man can do nothing on his own. Waheguru Himself connects His favoured devotees with Him. He is neither close to nor far away from anyone. With His Naam, the devotees find Him to be fully present everywhere, oh Nanak. 4.11.

A devotee, who kills his desires while living in the family, stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and all the sins of millions of his lives get destroyed. 1.

Only Waheguru knows about His gifts to the living beings, but the mind of a man blooms with Guru's Shabad, and he recites the Naam of Waheguru, which is the provider (source) of all virtues. Pause. People cannot find emancipation by wearing different religious garbs as the yogis do, and no one can attain peace through their efforts to control their senses (without Waheguru's Naam). Waheguru's Naam can be acquired through the Advice of the Guru, but only highly fortunate people can connect with Waheguru. 2.

One can earn respect only with Waheguru's Naam in this world, which can be acquired only from the Perfect Guru. The devotees, who are imbued with the Naam, always feel blissful, but the ones without Waheguru's Naam burn (suffer) in their ego. 3.

The fortunate ponder on Waheguru's Naam with which all their sufferings disappear. The devotee, who has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart, also sees Waheguru everywhere in the world, and realizes that Waheguru has created the whole expanse of the world, oh Nanak. 4.12.

So, why do you waste your precious human life in enmity and in worthless discussions (you too should take Guru's shelter), oh my friends? 2. With Guru's grace, I have gotten rid of my ego and acquired Waheguru's Naam with love for Him and in a high spiritual state. 3.

Acting on Guru's Shabad is the supreme and highly transcendent deed. I recite eternal Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.1.13.

MEANING: The human heart is a small room in the fort-like body in which the jewels (noble qualities) of Waheguru's Naam are present, hidden. A devotee, who is fortunate to get connected with Satguru, searches for such jewels as a result of which his soul merges into the Supreme Soul. 1.
Kindly connect me with the Guru whose sight (acting on whose Advice) all the sins run away, and the devotee attains the supreme spiritual state, oh Waheguru. Pause.
The five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and one's ego) jointly attack the human body and rob the man of his wealth of Waheguru's Naam. When a devotee follows them with the Guru's Advice, they can be arrested (brought under control), and his spiritual wealth is fully saved. 2. Some people exhaust themselves trying to please Waheguru with the hypocritical show of their religiosity, and by observing many rituals, but always have Maya on their mind. But when one connects with Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru, the darkness of his ignorance is dispelled. 3.
However, one cannot connect with Satguru through one's own efforts; one can connect only through the benevolence of Waheguru, the Lord of the world, when he begins to sing His praise in his heart all the time; then he acquires peace of mind, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

But, when my Guru placed the ankus of His Shabad on my head, it acted as the perfect medicine, and my mind came under such control that it has taken permanent residence in its own home (has quit wandering). 1.
Kindly put me in the company of the holy saints where Your Naam is recited, and where one's suffering of haumein is eradicated, and he enjoys the bliss of the high spiritual state by meditating on Your Naam, oh Waheguru. Pause.
The human mind is loaded with the jewels, the rubies, and the pearls of Waheguru's noble qualities, but it keeps wandering as a result of which the man cannot acquire them. But like an oadha, a specialist, who can detect underground water for drilling a well, one can acquire Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the (Oadha) Guru. 2.
The life of a man who does not come to the shelter of such a great Guru is contemptible. One is given the precious human life as a reward for the noble deeds he performed in his previous lives, but he wastes it away for a worthless cowrie shell (the attractions of Maya). 3.
Please, be kind, and connect me with the Guru, oh Waheguru. One sings Waheguru's praise in Guru's shelter and achieves the highest spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.4.6.

MEANING: The body (mind) of the follower of Maya is completely blank of spirituality, and because of his enjoyment of poisonous sensual pleasures, he suffers hugely in the cycle of rebirths. He does not recite Waheguru's Naam even for a short moment, as a result of which, he is grabbed by the hair by the Angel of death 1.

Kindly eradicate my suffering due to the poison of my haumein and my worldly attachments, oh my dear Waheguru. Put me in the company of the holy saints, which is very dear to You, and the Guru, where I may enjoy the sweetness of Your Naam, oh Waheguru. Pause.
Kindly put me in the gathering of the holy saints where I may seek the shelter of the Guru. You are very kind to the weak, and I am heavy like a rock under the burden of sins, and am drowning in the world-sea, kindly pull me out, oh dear Waheguru. 2.
Kindly instill Your praise in my heart, and put me in the company of the holy saints, where my thinking may be enlightened. I am a sacrifice for my Waheguru, who has generated love for His Naam in my heart. 3.
Kindly fulfill my wish, and grant Your Naam to Your slave, who enlightens the mind, oh Waheguru. The body and the mind of the devotee, who is given the Mantra (Shabad) by the Guru to worship Waheguru, become blissful, oh Nanak. 4.5.7.

Only that individual is considered to have spring at heart who sings Waheguru's praise with full zeal. Pause. One's mind blooms with love for Waheguru when he works to acquire Divine Knowledge with the advice of the holy saints. He is a true devotee who stays in the shelter of the Guru, and he is the real meditator who is imbued with Waheguru's love. 2. They become free from all worldly fears who have fear of Waheguru in their mind, and they enjoy real bliss who have gotten rid of all their illusions and misgivings. (Some people live in isolation to realize God), But the real recluse is the one whose mind is peaceful and is focused only on Waheguru. 3.

I am a sacrifice for the devotee who has love only for the "One" (God), searches only for Him in his heart, and whose best enjoyment is to recite Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Only that individual recognizes You in nature (makes a connection with You) who You are kind to. 1. I am a sacrifice for Your devotees. You appear in countless forms, but every place where You reside is highly comforting (blissful). Pause.

Only that individual serves You whom You enable to do so; nobody can worship You on their own. Only that individual is Your devotee whom You like and in whose heart You implant Your love, oh Lord. 2.

You are the greatest source of everything, and the greatest provider, and there is none else. You are omnipotent, but I do not know how to worship You, oh Waheguru. 3.

Your place of residence is beyond comprehension, and it is very difficult to understand Your Will. I, Nanak, am foolish and ignorant, but I have surrendered myself to You. Kindly protect me, oh Waheguru. 4.2.20.

Oor(i) Aano = bring (embed) in heart. Poorun = fully present. 2.

MEANING: Recognize the fact that the human body is perishable, and Waheguru alone, which resides in it, is immortal; and make connection with Him, oh wise men. Pause.
This world is a wealth (possession) of dreams, so what makes your head swell? Why do you cling to something which will not accompany you after death? 1.
It is the same Waheguru which is fully present in everybody, so rising above the petty things, quit praising others who do not deserve and criticizing others maliciously, and enshrine Waheguru's praise in your heart, oh Nanak. 2.1.

However, whoever recites Waheguru's Naam is ferried across the world-sea. 2.

Nirmul = pure. Perse = touch; come near. Guhhi = embraced. 1. Sunsa = doubts. Trishna = fire of desires. Sukul = all. Nij Sookh = in the comfort of Waheguru's Feet (Naam). 2. Kirpa-Nidhi = treasure (source) of benevolence (Waheguru). Eh Bidh(i) Kee = of this kind. Koyoo = rare. 3.

MEANING: I have acquired the wealth of Waheguru's Naam because of which my mind has quit rushing in different directions, and has become peaceful, oh my mother. Pause.

My attachment to Maya has vanished, and pure Divine Knowledge has enlightened my mind. I have embraced Waheguru's worship, so that greed and worldly attachments cannot come even near me. 1. All my doubts of many lives have been cleared ever since I enshrined Waheguru's jewel-like Naam in my heart. All the fire of my desires has been put out, and I have been absorbed in the comfort of Waheguru's Naam. 2.

The individual, whom the compassionate Waheguru is kind to, sings His praise. But only some rare devotee acquires such wealth (of Waheguru's Naam) in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 3.3.

MEANING: When the body dies, the soul has to deal with the Angel of justice; so why have you forgotten Waheguru's Naam (which can save you), oh man? Pause.
This world is like a mountain of smoke (short-lived), so what is your logic to believe that it is everlasting, oh man? 1. You must understand that nothing – not even your money, wife, other belongings, or your house - will accompany you after your death. 2.
Only Waheguru's worship will accompany you, so recite His Naam with deep love for Him, oh Nanak. 3.4.

Think of this world as a dream, and believe it can vanish instantly. 1.
Recite the Naam of Waheguru day and night, which always resides in you, oh my friend. Sing praise of the Waheguru, which supports you at the end, oh Nanak. 3.5.

Jhootth = false; short lived. 1. Bikh(u) = poisonous. Bujjur Bhaar(u) = a heavy load. Chaar(u) = beautiful; noble. Pause. Baaloo = sand. Ghoomun Ghayr(i) = in whirl pool (eddy). Berkhus(i) = during rain. Baani = construct; is formed. Boodbooda = bubble. Hayr(i) = watch. Maatur = very small. Boond = drop (fertilized egg). Tay = from. Chuk(u) = potter's wheel. Phayr = spin. Maayay = oh, mother. 4.

MEANING: The man, who does not have Waheguru's Naam at heart, and forgets Him, is greedy like the crow which flies down to the bait even if it is all filth. With deceit in his thoughts, his mind wavers constantly. But the false (short-lived) attachment to the world eventually comes to an end. 1. He carries a heavy load of sins because of his lust and rage. How can he acquire noble qualities without Waheguru's Naam? Pause.

Human life is as uncertain (perishable) as a house of sand in a whirlpool, or as a bubble which is formed during a rainfall. Like a potter who makes a pot from mud by spinning it on his wheel, Waheguru created the huge universe from His minuscule size. So, become a devotee of Waheguru whose Light is present in everybody, oh man. 2.

Having created the whole world, Waheguru has made the Guru the supreme of all. I worship Waheguru by dropping at the Feet of the Guru (taking His shelter). Imbued in Your love, I look forward to (having union with) You, oh Waheguru. Those who stay away from Your Naam are your thieves (use everything provided by You without being thankful). 3.

They acquire the poison of sensual enjoyments in the treasure of their mind, and lose respect in Your Court, whereas those who are imbued in Your love earn respect in Your Court. They believe that whatever happens in their life, happens with Waheguru's Will. By living in the fear of (full faith in) Waheguru, they become fearless in the world, oh my mother. 4.

Maati = (body) of earth. Phooli = swells with pride. Bikaar(u) = sensual pleasures. Aasa Munsa = hopes and wishes. Baandho Baar(u) = shuts the door (to the high spiritual state). Soona = empty. Ghur Baar(u) = heart and mind. 6. Gaachhou = go away. Pootri = oh, my daughter. Raaj Koaar(i) = pure; unblemished (soul). Bhunou = recite. Doat(u) = adornment. Priyo = Dear (God). Tthaandhay = standing; waiting. Suntokhay = contented. 8.

MEANING: The man wants to enjoy the beauties (luxuries) of life, but all such enjoyments like chewing betel-leaf wraps (a sign of luxury), wearing flowers (their fragrances), and other sweet enjoyments are sensual pleasures, and cause suffering in life. The more the man feels happy about such enjoyments (the more he enjoys them), the more he suffers. But those who take Waheguru's shelter believe that only that which Waheguru does will happen. 5. When a man wears rich clothes and other adornments, he swells in false pride, but his adornments lead to immoral sensual enjoyments. His hopes and wishes shut the door to his high spirituality. Without Waheguru's Naam, his heart and mind remain empty (of spirituality). 6. So, go and recite Waheguru's Naam and adorn yourself with noble qualities, oh my soul as long as you are still free from any immorality. Believing Waheguru to be the basis of your life, serve Him with deep love, and kill the poison of sensual desires with the Guru's Shabad. 7. Word Meaning: Bhoolou = misled. Bhermus(i) = wanders. Aavay Jaayay = fluctuates (between high and low states). Ut(i) = extremely. Loobudh = greedy. Loobhaanou = trapped in Maya. Bikhum = difficult. Usthir = stable; peaceful. Aik Bhaayay = in love of God. Koondliya = hook. Kuntth = neck; mouth. 1. Sumjhus(i) = realizes. Sehj Bhaayay = with love and in blissful state of mind. Pause. Bhuvur Taar = like a bumblebee. Bill = senses. Birthay Bikaar = (spiritually) useless sensual pleasures. Maiygul = elephant. Phaasus(i) = gets trapped. Kaamhaar = because of his lust. Kurr(i) Bundhun Naandhiyo = is tied up with force. Sees Maar = is hit on the head. 2.
Mooghdau = foolish. Daadur(u) = frog (which does not value the lotus flower near him). Bhagat-Heen = devoid of God's worship. Bhrushut = polluted; disapproved. Sraapi = cursed. Been(u) = without. Jaat Paati = caste and clan. Naam Leen = remember name. Sukhaayi = friends. 3. Chullaiy Na Jaayi = so that it does not wander. Tthaak Raakh(u) = control it. Put(i) = dignity. Saakh(u) = trust. Soorta = listener (to the problems); looks after. Dhur(u) = earth. Dhaarun = support. 4.

MEANING: The greedy mind is so trapped in the attractions of Maya that it keeps fluctuating between high and low spirits, and is so badly misled that it is very difficult for it to get out of this trap. Like the fish, which gets hooked due to its greed for the bait, it (the mind) writhes (wavers) and does not seem to find peace in the love of Waheguru. 1.
The misled mind realizes the importance of Waheguru's Naam when it ponders on the Guru's Shabad with love for Waheguru in the peaceful state of mind. Pause.
The misled mind wanders like a bumblebee because human senses wish to enjoy many, many sensual pleasures, and the man suffers the consequences like the elephant, which gets trapped under force because of his lust, and suffers (as it has to work very hard), and has to endure the pain of the ankus on his head. 2.
Without Waheguru's worship, the human mind is like a frog (which lives in the filthy mud) and loves to enjoy the filthy (immoral) sensual pleasures; and without Waheguru's Naam, the immoral is cursed (disgraced) in Waheguru's Court. Without the noble qualities, he is like a man without any caste or clan – not even in the name - and suffering becomes his close friend. 3. Control your mind so that it does not wander (to pursue evil acts); because without getting imbued in Waheguru's love, the man earns no dignity and no trust. Waheguru listens to the problems of His living beings and protects them. He supports the earth (its living beings) and knows its problems. 4.

Gur Shabad(u) soonaayay, Mut(i) agaah(i). Tu motou Tthaakur(u), Shabad maah(i). Mun(u) Nanak, maaniya Sach(u) salaah(i). 8.2.

Word Meaning: Birtha = mental situation. Uvgun = ignoble qualities. Kmaayay = work towards; acquire. 5. Ootum = superior. Nirmul = pure. Mookt(u) = emancipated. Bubdh(i) = trap. Vukhaanaiy = recite. Aour = other. 6. Bhaanaiy = Will. Vertaiy = operate; lead life. Rujaayay = Will. Aabhooll(u) = infallible. Agaah(i) = deep. Motou = great. Maah(i) = (reside) in. Maaniya = convinced. 4.

MEANING: When Waheguru, Himself, misleads people (to forget His Naam), who can we complain to? (Pray for me to Waheguru) to connect me with the Guru, so that I may get rid of my ignoble qualities, and work to acquire noble qualities, oh my mother. The devotee, who is imbued with the Guru's Shabad, stays absorbed in the high spiritual state. 5.

One's thinking becomes superior (noble), and his mind is purified when he washes away the filth of his selfishness and haumein by getting connected with Satguru. Such a devotee always recites only Waheguru's Naam and nobody else's, and he is always emancipated as no worldly attraction can bond (trap) him anymore. 6.

Waheguru is present in everybody, but the man has no control even on his mind, which wanders with Waheguru's Will. It is Waheguru's Huqam that operates everywhere, and nothing can be done against His Will. All the comforts and suffering happen in one's life by Waheguru's Huqam, and he gets absorbed in Him with His Huqam. 7.

Waheguru is infallible and makes no mistake – never. When Waheguru makes a devotee listen to the Guru's Shabad, his thinking becomes very deep (he becomes very wise and patient). The Great Waheguru resides in Guru's Shabad (which can be realized through that). When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise (with Guru's Shabad), his mind is convinced (gets fully absorbed in Waheguru with full dedication), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Piyaas = thirst; yearning. Nur = man. Aikut(u) Raachaiy = get attached to the "One" (God). Purhur(i)) = brushing aside; getting rid of. Doyay = (any) other (Maya). Door(i) Derd = the suffering goes away. Muth = by churning (analyzing deeply). Amrit(u) = Waheguru's sweet Naam. Boojhaiy = understands the reality. 1. Kayti = countless people. Bil-laayay = wail; implore; supplicate. Virla Ko = some rare. Cheenus(i) = recognize. Pause. Bayd = the Vedas. Vukhaan(i) = explain. Ikk(u) Kuhhiyaiy = recite the Naam of the "One". Bayunt = limitless. Jug(u) Keeya = created the world. Baajh(u) Kulaa = without any power (support). Dhuriyaa = placed in positions. 2. Dhoon(i) = zeal; fervour. Bani = Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise. Biraalum = which requires no support (fully detached) Akuth = indescribable. Kuhaani = tale of virtues. Neeshaan(u) = identification. Jaan(u) = who understands (wise). 3. Dherm(u) = principles. Drirraiy = reiterates. Soyee = that. Unhud(i) = eternal Waheguru. Raata = imbued. Alukh Apaar = incomprehensible and endless.4.

MEANING: The devotee, who has a yearning for the sight of Waheguru, gets attached only to Him (His Naam), and forgets any other power (Maya). By pondering over Guru's Shabad again and again in His shelter, he understands the worth of Waheguru's Naam and enjoys the sweetness of His Naam whereby all his sufferings go away. 1.

Countless people supplicate to have Waheguru's sight, but some rare devotees recognize Him with Guru's Shabad and get absorbed in Him. Pause.

Even the Vedas say that only the Naam of the "One" (God) should be recited, which is limitless, and no one can find His limits. He is the only creator who has created the universe and placed the earth and the sky in their places without any visible support. 2.

The devotee realizes that focusing the mind on the Guru's Shabad with fervour is the only way to acquire Divine Knowledge (to connect with Waheguru). Waheguru is fully detached from the world and indescribable. A wise devotee realizes in the shelter of the Perfect Guru that His Shabad (praise of Waheguru) is the only identification of a devotee to get connected with Waheguru. 3.

Some rare devotee, who reiterates Waheguru in his mind (brings full faith in Him) with Guru's Advice, realizes that reciting His Naam is the best divinity (principle) in life, and it is the "One" Waheguru which reigns (operates in) the universe in all eons. Imbued in the love of the immortal Waheguru, a devotee, who, with the Advice of the Guru, focuses his mind on His Naam with full dedication, acquires the incomprehensible and the endless Waheguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Tukhut = thrown; Huqam. Serbeen Thaayeen = everywhere. Vapervaah(u) = worry-free (Waheguru). Keeya = whatever He does (His Will) Tirbhuvun = universe. Saar(u) = supreme. Ekunkaar(u) = one and inly 5. Moorut(i) = persona; entity. Naaoun = Huqam; existence. Nibrraiy = final decision. Niyaaoun = justice. Kerni = deeds. Put(i) = dignity. Pervaan = approved. 6. Ders(u) = sight. 8.

MEANING: Such a devotee also recognizes that there is only one Sovereign (Supreme Being) in the universe, and only one Huqam (set of laws). The one and only, Waheguru, which is inaccessible and incomprehensible, is worry-free, is present everywhere, and His Will is supreme in the universe. 5. Waheguru is a single entity (has no assistants or incarnations), has eternal existence, and whose decision is final and just. A man finds approval for his noble deeds and earns respect in Waheguru's court. 6.
Only one kind of worship (that of Waheguru) with love and dedication is approved by Him; any other type of worship without love for Waheguru is disapproved, and such a worshipper keeps taking births and dying. A devotee, who, with Guru's advice, realizes that he is only a visitor in this world, and is imbued with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, is approved in Waheguru's Court. 7. I see Waheguru everywhere, and remember Him (recite His Naam) in the blissful state of mind, and do not like any other power than Him. I have destroyed my selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and my Satguru has shown me the sight of the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Chunchul Cheet(u) = capricious mind. Paara = other end of the world-sea; union with Waheguru. Aavut Jaat = birth and death. Na Baara = no time. Ghuno = immense. Kartara = oh, Waheguru. Saara = looking after. 1. Ootum = superior; noble. Heena = lacking; less. Puteena = likes; is pleased. Pause. Aoukhudh = medication; treatment. Thaaki = exhausted trying. Chhokaiy = end. Ghunayray = immense. Tthaakur = Lord. 2. Baadhou Dheera = pick up courage; have peace. Uvgun = bad qualities. Dhoondhut = Khojut = searching. Beera = oh brother. 3. Daaroo = medication. Tivaiy = like that. Ruhaaoun = lead life. Keh = whom. Nirmaayil(u) = holy. 4.

MEANING: The man with a capricious mind cannot swim across the world-sea to the other end (to merge into Waheguru), and it does not take any time for him to take rebirths and to die. The repeated deaths (and births) are a source of immense suffering, oh Waheguru. Nobody, without the Dear (Waheguru), looks after you, oh my friends. 1.

Everybody is noble, so who should I call (label) lacking qualities? But my mind has been fully pleased with Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

I have been exhausted trying many different treatments (ways) to have my sufferings eradicated, but how can I get rid of them without taking the shelter of my Guru (it is only in the Guru's shelter that your suffering can end). The man enjoys comforts or suffers by the Will of my Lord, and there is immense suffering without worshipping Waheguru. 2.

How can I have peace of mind when I know that the suffering of rebirths is immense? Only the Guru, who knows the cause of this suffering, can eradicate mine. My mind and body are full of ignoble qualities, but while searching for Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, He connected me to Waheguru, oh my brother. 3.

I can see that the whole world is suffering from rebirths (caused by its enjoyment of sensual pleasures and ignoring Waheguru), so where can I go to get rid of my suffering? Guru's Shabad, Your Naam, is the medicine for this suffering, and I am happy in whatever situation You keep me in, oh Waheguru. (To get rid of this suffering), One needs to recite the Naam of the Pure Waheguru, which purifies the mind. 4.

Word Meaning: Ghur Meh(i) = in the heart. Ghur(u) = Waheguru's dwelling. Gur = great. Mehli = the owner of the palace. Mehl(i) = in Waheguru's Palace. Cheeta = mind. Ateeta = detached from the world. 5. Herkh = happiness. Soag = grief. Tay = from. Niraasa = detached; indifferent. Nivaasa = dwelling. Aap(u) Puchhaan(i) = self analysis. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Jaapaiy = recites Waheguru's Naam = Ruvvaiy. Hit Cheeta = with love in mind. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru's holy saints keep their minds under control and stay detached from worldly attractions. They show Waheguru's dwelling in the heart (mind) of other devotees, when the Lord of the great Palace, Waheguru, calls them in (connects them with Him). 5.

Tasting the immortalizing Naam of Waheguru, they stay absorbed in Him, and stay indifferent to happy or sad situations. Analyzing the self (that they are part of Waheguru and what their qualities are) keeps their minds focused on Waheguru. With Guru's Advice, they win the game of life, and all their sufferings run away. 6.
Implanted in my mind by the Guru, I drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam; have killed my worldly desires, and am living my life in a high spiritual state. If the Guru is pleased with a devotee, He protects him by embracing him as His own; and the devotee who surrenders himself to Waheguru gets absorbed in Him. 7.
The individual, who enjoys the luxuries of life, suffers from (many physical and mental diseases); but the devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, sees Him in every heart. With Guru's Shabad, such a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam with deep love for Him, and stays detached from (indifferent to) comforts and discomforts, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Bhulee = superior. Baan(i) = Waheguru's praise. Soojaakhay = (spiritual) eyes (vision). Puchhaan = recognize. 10.

NOTE: Devotees of some sects (like the yogis) cover their bodies with ash to look unattractive to women (but their minds may still be full of lust), while others stay completely naked. Some live in cremation grounds or in graveyards with the belief that they will achieve union with God. Guru Sahib has addressed such misguided people in this holy Shabad.

MEANING: Do not be misled and feel conceited about covering your body with ash, oh fool. Also, staying naked is not the way to achieve union with Waheguru. 1.

Why have you forgotten Waheguru's Naam, which serves (helps) you at the time of your death, oh fool? Pause.

If you ponder on Guru's Shabad with His advice, you will see Waheguru everywhere. 2.

What can I say about Waheguru when I am a non-entity (and know nothing about Him)? His Naam is the caste and the clan for a devotee (a devotee earns much more respect than any high caste or clan). 3.

Why do you feel conceited about your wealth and your property when nothing accompanies you at the time of your death, oh man? 4.

The foundation of union with Waheguru is to control your senses and focus your mind only on Waheguru, oh my friend. 5.

Your selfishness and ego are the chains on your mind that restrain you from reciting Waheguru's Naam. You can get freedom from these chains and become emancipated by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh fool. 6.

Watch out that you do not become a prisoner of the Angel of death by forgetting Waheguru; otherwise, you will suffer punishment after your death. 7.

The devotee, who ponders on Guru's Shabad, gets rid of his selfishness and his ego, and achieves union with Waheguru, by reciting His Naam. 8.

You do not remember Waheguru, who has given you life and the body. Residing in cremation grounds, or in graveyards, does not lead to union with Waheguru, oh fool. 9.

If you sing Waheguru's praise, you will acquire the spiritual vision that will enable you to recognize Him (He will appear in your mind), oh Nanak. 10.5.

Guru's advice. Bherm = illusions; misconceptions. Pause. Bhaayee = like. Pushoo Bhuyyay = have become like animals. Abhimaan = ego. 2. Lukh Chauraaseeh = 8.4 million. Junt = living beings. MEANING: Evil thinking and indecisiveness (choosing between Waheguru and Maya) are the deeds (possessions) of a spiritually blind man. The follower of his mind (Maya-worshipper) wanders misled in the darkness of ignorance. 1.

The spiritually blind man follows his blind (unenlightened) thinking. One's misgivings do not go away without acting on the Guru's advice. Pause.

The blind of wisdom follow their mind, and do not like the Guru's advice. They are like animals and suffer in their conceit. 2. There are 8.4 million types of living beings which are created and destroyed by my Lord, Waheguru, with His Will. 3.

The whole world is misled by their misgivings, and has no high living without the Guru's Shabad. Only that individual understands the true living who is enlightened by the Guru, by God. 4. Waheguru likes His devotees (who obey His Will), and He forgives all their sins (if any), and they owe nothing to the Angel of justice. 5.

All the misgivings of the devotees who like only Waheguru are cleared by Him, and He connects them with Him. 6. Waheguru is perfectly sovereign, limitless, and endless. He is the creator, and is pleased with His Naam. 7.

The Guru enlightens the misled, reveals Waheguru to them, and enables them to focus their minds on Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.6.

MEANING: (A devotee of Waheguru realizes that being present in every living being, Waheguru is behind every action of the living beings). In that sense, Waheguru Himself is the bumblebee, the flowers, and the vines. He Himself is the holy gathering, and Himself calls such an assembly. 1. The human-bumblebee, which enjoys such fragrance (realizes the presence of Waheguru in every living being), finds that the whole vegetation is green, and the flowers are blooming everywhere (he feels happy everywhere). Pause.
He realizes that Waheguru, Himself, is Maya (Laxmi) and that He, Himself, is her husband. (Laxmi was retrieved from the ocean as one of the 14 jewels, and Vishnu Ji married her). By creating the world with His Huqam, Waheguru is enjoying it now. 2.
He, Himself, is the calf, the cow, and the milk; and Himself is the pillar (support) for the palace-like bodies of living beings. 3.
The creator, Waheguru, Himself does the things which are worthy of doing, and being present in everybody, ponders over His deeds as a devotee with the Guru's Shabad. (Guru's Shabad explains Waheguru's deeds for His creation to the devotees). 4.
Waheguru provides support (looks after) the countless living beings which have His Light in them, and watches His creation. 5.
Waheguru, which has no clan and which is above the effects of Maya, is the deep sea of noble qualities and is the supreme diamond (most worthy thing). 6.
Waheguru is the creator and is omnipotent. He is the Emperor who has absolutely no desire, and the people who worship Him enjoy bliss. 7. I feel fully contented with the sweet taste of His Naam; human life is worthless without His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.7.

Word Meaning: Nuou = the 9 (regions of the earth). Sut = the 7 (continents). Chaudaah = the 14 (layers of the sky – a Muslim belief). Teen(i) = the 3 (effects of Maya). Chaar(i) = the 4 (sources of reproduction). Mehlut(i) = a place to stay. Buhaali = put in place. Deevay = lamps (the Vedas). Chuhoun Huth(u) = in the hands of the 4 (eons). Aika, Aikee Vaari = one at a time respectively. 1. Mehrvaan = kind. Mudhusoodun = the destroyer of the demon, Madhu (Waheguru). Madho = the husband of Maya (Waheguru). Shakut(i) = power; capability. Pause. Lushkur = army of livingbeings. Paavuk = fire (Light). Dherm(u) = the Angel of justice. Sikdaari = leadership. Dayg = cauldron (of food). Ikk Vayra = only once. Bhaag(u) = fate. Bhundaar = common kitchen (food cooked for the devotees or visitors). 2. Na Saboor(u) = discontented. Naarud(u) = mind. Khooaari = discomfiture; humiliation. Lub = gluttony. Undhayra Bundikhaana = a dark prison. Aougun = ignoble qualities. Loohaari = shackles. 3. Poonji = wealth (of bad deeds). Moodgur = mallet. Koatvaari = delivers justice (a magistrate was also called koatvaar in the Mughal Raj). Bhaavayn = whether. Jaiysi Nudr(i) = as You wish. 4. -------

MEANING: You are compassionate, the destroyer of the demons, the Husband of Maya, and such is Your power (that You can create, destroy, or change things in no time), oh, Waheguru. You have created the earth with nine regions and with seven continents, and the fourteen-layered universe. You have also created Maya with the three effects and the four sources of reproduction, and have put everything in its place, oh Waheguru. With the wisdom granted by You, the four Vedas, which are like the lamps of knowledge, were also created (written), and were introduced - one at a time - in the four eons. 1. Every heart, which is like Your army, has Your Light in it, and the Angel of justice keeps record of the deeds of the individuals, and delivers his justice. The earth is the source of food for all the living beings, and every living being gets its share of the food as per its prewritten fate. 2.
The discontented mind of the individuals asks for more and more, as a result of which the individual suffers discomfiture. His gluttony serves as the dark prison for the individual, while his ignoble qualities serve as shackles on his feet (so he cannot escape from such an unfavourable situation). 3.
The wealth of his ignoble deeds punishes him like a mallet (heavy blow), while his sins, which are closely watched, become the cause of his punishment. One becomes good or bad depending upon the kind of sight you cast on him, oh Lord. 4.

Teeruth, Simrit(i), poonn, daan, kichh(u) laaha milaiy dihaarri. Nanak, Naam(u) milaiy vudiyaayi, mayka ghurri smaahli. 8.1.8.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) Purakh = the Supreme Being. Sheikhaan = Muslims. Dayvul = temples. Kur(u) = tax. Keerut(i) = praise; norm. Chaali = started. 5. Kooja = a teapot like container to store water. Baang = the loud call to tell the Muslims that it is time for nivaaj (prayer). Nivaal = the Muslim prayer. Moosulla = a rug on which the Muslims sit to offer prayer. Neel Roop = blue outfits. Bunvaari = Waheguru. Meeyaan = a word to show respect; father. 6. Meer = king. Muhiput(i) = the Lord of the earth. Koodrut(i) = power. Chaaray Koont = all the four diractions; the whole world. Slaam(u) = bow to. Sift = praise. 7. Teeruth = pilgrimage. Simrit(i) = recitation (reading) of the holy Hindu Books. Poonn Daan = donations. Laaha = spiritual benefit. Dihaarri = very low wages (of little benefit). Mayka Ghurree = even if for a short time. 8.

MEANING: With Your Will (situations in the world keep changing), and now it is the time for the Muslims to rule the country, and things have changed greatly. The gods worshipped during Hindu rule, and the temples are now taxed, which has become the norm in the country. 5. Now, kooja, baang, Muslim prayer, and blue outfits have become the dominant culture of the Country. Not only that, even the language of Your people has changed, and now they are using Muslim words like “Meeyaan” in their everyday usage, oh Waheguru. 6. (But all this is happening with Your Will) As You are the King, and the Lord of the earth, so what power do we have (not to accept Your Will)? The whole world has to bow to Your (Will) and has to sing Your praise. 7. But, at the same time, there should be no complaining about taxing the temples because pilgrimage to holy places, reading of the Hindu holy books, and customary donations do not earn any degree of spirituality. One earns respect only with Waheguru’s Naam, even if one recites it for a short time, oh Nanak. 8.1.8.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Baaluk = child; mind. Vussiya = dwells. Khin(u) = Pul(u) = a moment. Thir = stable. Anik Oopaayay = countless ways. Jutun = efforts. Baarum Baar = continuously. Bhermaayee = wanders. 1. Ikutt(u) Ghur(i) = at Waheguru’s Feet (Naam). Aan(u) = bring. Poora = Perfect; Omnipresent. Bhuj(u) = recite. Neeshaan(u)

= identification. Pause. Mirtuk(u) = dead. Murrah = pile of dust. Ooduk = water. Chooaaya = fed dropwise. Huriya Hoa = came to life. Rusiya = full of sap (healthy). 2. Nirkhut, Nirkhut = slowly and carefully. Khojiya = searched for. Chult(u) = amazing feat. Saakut = followers of their mind. 3. Deena Deen = poorest among the poor. Bidar = a devotee of Krishna, and the prime minister of Dhritrashtra, the king of Delhi, (Mahabharat), but who was considered of low caste because he was the son of a maid. Sudaama = a poor Brahman, but a childhood classmate and friend of Krishna (Ji). Bhaavni Dhaar = with affection and respect. Aagaiy = prior to. Daalud(u) Bhunj = ending his poverty. Smaaya = got absorbed; (won) his heart. 4.

MEANING: The child-like mind which resides in the city-like human body never stabilizes for even a short moment. The man may exhaust himself trying countless ways and efforts to control it, the mind does not come under his control, and keeps wandering continuously. 1.

I pray to my Waheguru that He causes my child-like mind to stabilize only on His Naam. I am advised that one needs to recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru, which is the letter of identification to unite with the Perfect Waheguru. Pause.

The human body in the world which does not have Waheguru's Naam embedded in it is spiritually dead and is like a pile of dirt. But, when the Guru feeds Waheguru's Naam-water to a devotee, he comes back to (spiritual) life, and flourishes to be (spiritually) very healthy .2.

When I slowly but carefully searched my body, I found an amazing feat shown by the Guru: the followers of their mind die (get tired of unsuccessfully) searching for Waheguru outside (in the forests), but I found Him in my own heart. 3.

I am very poor in good qualities, but Waheguru became very kind to me, and appeared in my heart like Krishan Ji visited Bidar, or like Krishan Ji eradicated all the poverty of his childhood friend, Sudama (and won his heart) when the latter visited Krishan Ji with love and respect, and before he went back to his house. 4.

Nanak, Gurmukh(i) sehj(i) milaayay, jiyoun jul(u) juleh(i) smaavaiy. 8.1.9.

Word Meaning: Paiyj = dignity. Vudayri = higher. Rukhaayi = saves. Bukheeli = vilification. Rutti Til(u) = a minuscule amount. Ghutaayi = is lessened. 5. Oostut(i) = praise. Dehdis(i) = in all the ten directions. Sobha = fame. Ninduk(u) = vilifiers. Khuv(i) = to bear; tolerate. Ghur(i) = heart. Looki = flame. 6. Jun = devotee; holy saint. Pergaasa = lighten up. Daasun Daasa = slave of slaves (devotees). 7. Jul(i) = water; ocean (the basis of all life). Uprumpur = who does not need any external help; omnipotent. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Smaavaiy = gets fully absorbed. 8.

MEANING: The respect for a devotee because of Waheguru's Naam in his heart is very high (deep) among the masses, which the Lord Himself generates in their minds for the devotee, and which does not lessen even by a very small amount despite all the efforts by the Maya-worshippers to vilify him. 5. Waheguru's Naam is the basis of the praise of His devotees, which spreads in all directions. The Maya-worshipper cannot tolerate that, but they only burn their own hearts (suffer in jealousy) without causing any harm to the devotees. 6. A devotee earns praise when he meets with a holy saint and is enlightened by the noble qualities of the saint. The individuals who serve Waheguru's devotees like a slave of His devotees are very dear to Him. 7.

The omnipotent and creator Waheguru is like an ocean of noble qualities, and He connects His devotees to Him through the Guru; such devotees are absorbed in Him, as rivers become one with the ocean, oh Nanak. 8.1.9.

NOTE: Guru Arjun Sahib has used the names of some great devotees (holy saints) whose compositions are enshrined in Sri Guru Granth Sahib, as well as of some mythical devotees from the Puranas who attained salvation with Waheguru's Naam. Most of the mythical names have been explained in detail under "INTRODUCTION" at the beginning of the Book.

Word Meaning: Dootookiya = a verse with two sentences. Saakhi = advice; stories. Ajamull = a Brahman who is considered a sinner because he married a prostitute. Aik Baar = once; all the time. Balmeek = a dog-eater who became highly spiritual and wrote the Ramayana. Dhuroo = a child prince who became a devotee of Waheguru. Nisung = openly. 1. Jaachou = beg for. Churn Rayn = dust of feet (opportunity to serve). Mustuk Laavoun = put on the forehead; serve with dedication. Pause.

Gunika ea = a prostitute who became a devotee of God while training a parrot to utter the word "God". Gujinder = the elephant which was dragged by an octopus, and was about to drown, when he remembered God, and was saved and salvaged by Him. Bipper = Brahman. Sudama = Krishna's childhood friend. Daalud Bhunj = ending poverty. Bhuj(u) = recite the Naam. Gobind = Waheguru. 2. Budhik = the hunter who shot Krishna in the foot with an arrow. Khum(i) = arrow. Perhaar = attack. Koobija = a hum-backed young lady who was sent to kill Krishna, but was cured by him when Krishna touched her with his big toe. Daasut Bhaayay = with the love and respect of a devotee. 3. Prehlad = a child devotee of God whose father, Hernakhsh, wanted to kill him for worshipping God rather than him, but was saved by God. Bustar Cheenut =disrobing. Dropati = the wife of the five Pandavas, who was being disrobed by Duryodhun, the villain in Mahabharat. Laaj = dignity. Jin(i) Jin(u) = whoever. Unt Baar = at the time of death. Pureh Paar = swim across the world-sea (find salvation). 4.

MEANING: I beg for the dust of the feet of (an opportunity to serve) Your holy saints, oh, my Lord. Kindly grant me that so that I may put that on my forehead (obey them like a slave). Pause. With the advice of a holy saint, Ajamull worshipped God with love and with full dedication and found salvation. Balmeek was fortunate to be in the company of holy saints (and attained salvation). Similarly, Dhuroo was clearly blessed with the holy sight of God. 1. Gunika found salvation while training the parrot, and the drowning elephant was freed from the tentacles of an octopus and was given salvation (when he remembered God). The poverty of the Brahman, Sudama, was eradicated by the Lord. So, you too, recite the Naam of Waheguru, oh my mind. 2. The hunter, who fatally wounded Krishan Ji with an arrow, was also salvaged, and the hump of Koobija was removed when Krishna touched her with his big toe. Bidar (of the Mahabharat) was emancipated when he served Krishan Ji with love and respect. So, you too worship Waheguru, oh my mind. 3.
The Lord saved the dignity of Prehlad, Himself, and protected the dignity of Dropati (the wife of the five Pandavas) when she was being stripped in the court of Duryodhun. All those who served the Lord (recited His Naam) at the end were salvaged. So, you too serve Waheguru so as to cross the world-sea, oh my mind. 4.

Gur Nanak Dev Govind roop. 8.1.
Word Meaning: Dhunna = a well-known Bhagat of Waheguru whose 4 Shabads are enshrined in SGGS). Baal Boodh(i) = with innocent wisdom (mind). Tirlochun = another Bhagat of Waheguru, and a contemporary of Namdev Ji. His 4 Shabads are enshrined in SGGS. Sidh(i) = success. Bayni = A bhagat (one Shabad in SGGS). Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. 5. Jaidev = A Bhagat (Shabads in SGGS). Tiyaagiyo = got rid of. Ahunmayv = ego. Naayi = barber. Sain(u) = a Bhagat (Shabad in SGGS). Deeg(i) Na Doalaiy = not weaken or waver. Kuhoun Jaayay = take flights. Turseh(i) = yearn for. 6. Anugreh(u) = show kindness (favour). Uvgun(u) = ignoble qualities. Beechaariyo = considered. Bidh(i) = way; treatment. 7. Kabir, Namdev, and Ravidass = are all highly respected and well-known Bhagats, and each has many, many Shabads enshrined in SGGS. Govind Roop = like Waheguru (His manifestation). 8.
MEANING: Bhagat Dhunna served Waheguru with childlike innocence (and became connected with Him), and Bhagat Tirlochun achieved success (in achieving union with Waheguru) when he took shelter of his Guru. Bayni Ji was enlightened by his Guru. So, you too become a slave (devotee) of Waheguru, oh my mind. 5.

Jaidev Ji got rid of his ego (with Waheguru's Naam), and the barber, Saiyn(u), found salvation by serving Waheguru. The mind of Waheguru's devotee never weakens or wavers, no matter where he goes. So, you, too, yearn for the shelter of Waheguru, oh my mind. 6.
The devotees, whom Waheguru becomes kind to, are protected by Him. He does not consider any of their good or bad qualities. Learning all this, my mind, too, began to serve Waheguru. 7. Kabir Ji worshipped Waheguru with firm love, while Waheguru always stayed with Namdev Ji. Ravidass Ji remembered Waheguru with unparalleled virtues, and Guru Nanak Dev Ji is a manifestation of Waheguru. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Anik = countless. Bhermay = wandered through. Joan(i) = life forms. Nerk(i) = in hell (cycle of rebirths. Bihoona = devoid of. Khund, Khund = (mind) divided into many pieces (wavers at high speed). Dund = punishment 1. Bhujhou = recite (Naam). Pause. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Kaaj = task. Doom Baadur = cloud of smoke. Saaj = creation; drama. Kuruntauy = committing. Sungaayay = feels shame; hesitates. Bikh = poisonous Maya. Maata = intoxicated. Aavaiy Jaayay = is born, and dies. 2. Huoun, Huoun = in selfishness. Budhay = increase. Bikaar = immoral activities. Doobau = drowns; is deeply engrossed. Vuss(i) Keeya = is controlled by. 3. Kub = sometimes. Mungunhaar(u) = beggar. Baandhau = has to experience. Oodhrun = salvation. Saaj(u) = arrangement. Bundhun = chains. Paut Jaah(i) = falls into. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam with love all the time with Guru's Shabad, oh, my friend. Pause. Without remembering Waheguru, man's mind races at high speed (does not find peace), and without understanding Waheguru's Will, the Angel of Death punishes him. He goes to Hell (takes rebirths) and wanders through countless life forms. 1. The man, who does not remember Waheguru, does not realize that Maya's drama is like a cloud of smoke (which quickly dissipates), and finds no contentment in any task. He does not hesitate to commit crimes, and intoxicated with his rich possessions, he is trapped in a long cycle of rebirths. 2. Because of his selfishness, man's immoral activities continue to grow, and the whole world drowns in the sea of worldly attachments and greed. Possessed (controlled) by his lust and rage, he does not remember Waheguru even in his dreams. 3. The whole world experiences comforts and discomforts in life, and sometimes, the man feels like a rajah while at other times he feels like a beggar (pauper). The human mind does not plan for salvation, and gets trapped in more chains of sins every day. 4.

Kirt Raykh = as a result of deeds previously done. Kermiya = does deeds. Alipt(u) = fully detached. Layp = coating; touch. Poonn = the conventional noble deeds. 6. Kernhaar(u) = omnipotent. Oocha = transcendent. Apaar(u) = endless. Lurr(i) Laayay = accept in Your shelter. Daas = slave; devotee. Shernaayay = shelter.
MEANING: He reaps the (unfavourable) rewards of his own sowing (bad deeds), and he has no dear or close friend to support him. The foolish leaves all his belongings behind in a short moment, for which he commits immoral acts. 5.
As a result of his previous deeds, he continues to wander, bound by his attachment to Maya. Waheguru is fully detached from the worldly attractions, and noble deeds or sins do not even touch Him (so worship Him to become like Him). 6.
I have come to Your shelter, please protect me (from the attacks of Maya), oh the compassionate and the perfectly kind Waheguru. I have no other support than You, kindly give me Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 7. You are the creator, omnipotent, transcendent, and limitless. I, Nanak, am Your slave and have come to Your shelter. Kindly accept me as Your own, (and provide Your shelter), oh Lord. 8.2.

Trin(u) = vegetation. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Mauliya = blooms. Ful(u) = reward. Sadhu = Guur. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Chhaayi = filth. Buhourr(i) = again. Dhaayi = wandering (through rebirths). 1.
MEANING: Get a new spiritual life by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my friend. The season (human life) to recite Waheguru's Naam is very pleasant (source of bliss), but one gets to serve Waheguru only with prewritten fate (based on his previous deeds). (When one recites Waheguru's Naam), he acquires the Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam, and feels as if all the forests, all vegetation, and the whole universe have bloomed. One acquires such bliss only in the shelter of the Guru (with His guidance) when all the filth of his mind is washed away. I recite only the Naam of the "One" (Waheguru) as a result of which, I will never take a rebirth, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Punjay Muhhabuli = the five powerful demons. Budhay = controlled. Dhoaa = support. Jupaayiun(u) = makes recites (His Naam). Duyyou = compassionate Waheguru. Khurroaa = comes to support. Nuvva Niroaa = young and healthy. Moaa = death. Soyee Hoaa = becomes like (Him). 2.

MEANING: With the support of the eternal Waheguru, the devotee is able to arrest (control) all the five powerful demons (lust, greed, etc.). Waheguru comes to help His devotees to recite His Naam. All ailments and all his griefs come to an end, and the devotee feels young and healthy (full of energy) all the time. MEANING: Nobody knows where Waheguru originates from, where He resides, and what He gets absorbed into. All the living beings are created by the Lord, so who can find His worth (limits and qualities)? The devotees, who recite His Naam, worship Him, listen to His Naam, and look attractive (noble and exalted) (in Waheguru's Court). Waheguru is inaccessible and incomprehensible; none other can rival Him. I am only sharing the truth which the Perfect Guru has preached, oh Nanak(u). 3.1.

Word Meaning: Mauli = bloomed; comes to new life. Aatum Pergaash(u) = light of Waheguru. 1. Raja Ram = Waheguru. Anut Bhaayay = in countless ways. Pause. Dootiya = second; moreover. Kutayb = holy books of the West (Bible, Quran, Torah etc.). Shankar = Shiva. Yoag Dhiyan = meditation. Smaan= uniformly present.

MEANING: Waheguru's presence in every heart (every living being) causes them to bloom (show internal joyfulness) in countless different ways (vegetation shows its joyfulness in its own ways, while the living being shows them in their own respective ways). I feel His presence everywhere I look. Pause.

The earth comes to life (shows its joy) and produces all sorts of vegetation; and so does the sky; and every heart blooms with Waheguru's Light in it. 1.

Moreover, the religious books, including the four Vedas, the Simritis, the Quran, the Bible, and the Torah, all bloom (become a source of bliss due to Waheguru's Naam in them). Shiva feels in high spirits with his yoga-style meditation. My Lord is uniformly present in everything, oh Kabir. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Pundit = highly literate. Maatay = intoxicated; conceited. Sanyasi = renouncers. Ahunmayv = ego. Tupsee = who torture themselves to please their deity. Kaiy Bhayv = with their secret (belief). 1. Jaag = awake; sane; enlightened. Choar = the five demons. Ghur(u) = mind. Moosun = rob. Pause. Sukhdayo = a son of sage Vyas, and a devotee of God. Ur = and. Akoor(u) = a maternal uncle of Krishna, and a devotee of God. Hunvunt = Hanuman. Lunkoor(u) = a big tail. Shankar = Shiva. Kul(i) = in Kulyug (which is considered very bad). 2. Saar(u) = supreme. Dayhi = body; man. Adhik = much. Kaam = useful. Bhuj(i) = recite (Naam). 3.

MEANING: The highly literate people are conceited to read the Puranas (about their knowledge of the Puranas), and the yogis are conceited about their long meditations. The Sanyasis are conceited about their renunciation of the world, and the individuals who torture themselves to please their deities are conceited about their own belief. 1.

Everybody is asleep (unaware of the Almighty) under some kind of conceit, and nobody is awake (in spirituality). The five robbers always rob them of their noble qualities. Pause. However, a few people were awake, including the sages Sukhdayo and Akroor(u). Hanuman, with the long tail, was also awake, and Shiva was awake by serving at the Feet of God (to obey His Will). In the present eon, which is considered to be filled with immorality, Namdev Ji, and Jaiydev Ji, were awake (were enlightened). 2.

Being awake or asleep is of many kinds (people sleep or stay awake for many reasons of their own). But those who are awake (enlightened) in the shelter of the Guru (with His advice) are supreme. Waheguru's Naam is of great use for those who recite it. So, recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Kabir. 3.2.

Kul(i) = Kulyug (the present era) which is considered to be an eon of troubles. Soot = son. Mooklaayi = married. Maaoun = mother (nature). Pause. Pugaan Bin(u) = without feet. Hooriyaan = big jumps. Budnaiy = mouth. Khir Khir Haansta = big laughter. Nidra = sleep. Sovaiy = sleeps; ignores reality. Baasun = container. Kheer(u) = milk; yogurt. Bilovaiy = churns. 2. Usthun = udder. MEANING: Watch (listen) to the (negative) effect of this eon, oh folks. The son(mind) has married its own mother (Maya, who created him; man takes rebirths due to his enjoyment of the luxuries of Maya) (and is enjoying it). Pause.
The wife (of Waheguru, Maya) has given birth to its own husband (human mind, which is a part of Waheguru). (The man, who is created by Maya, becomes its master (husband) and begins to enjoy it). The son (mind) is acting like the father of man (making him follow its commands). The mind has no udder, yet it is feeding milk (worldly attractions to the man) (getting the man to be engrossed in Maya). 1.
The mind has no feet, yet it makes big jumps (makes big plans); it has no mouth, yet laughs aloud (feels proud to control the man). It never goes to sleep (keeps working all the time), yet puts the man to sleep (keeps him intoxicated in worldly attractions). It has no container, yet churns yogurt (imagine big things). 2.
It is like a cow with no udder that still gives milk (makes unreal plans). (Being a part of the Supreme Soul, the man should not have to go through the cycle of births and deaths, but, because of his love for worldly attractions, he goes through a long cycle of births and deaths. One cannot know the path of righteousness (purification of the mind or soul) without the Guru, explains Kabir. 3.3.

Kaiy Bisthaar = increasing his size and form. Chhadiyo = tore apart. Nukh = with his nails (paws). 4. Perm Purakh = Supreme living being. Dayvadhidayv = the first among all the gods. Hayt(u) = for the love of. Nursingh = human body with a lion's head. Bhayv = in the form of. Lukhay Na = cannot comprehend. Paar = limits. Oodhaary = saved. Anik Baar = countless times.

MEANING: Prehlad was sent to school with quite a few of his childhood friends. (Prehlad did not like the education which revolves around worldly affairs only), So opposing such education, he said, "What kind of education are you giving me, which attaches one with worldly attractions; just write down (praise of) God on my wooden board." 1.

"I will not quit God's Naam; I have no interest in any other type of education, oh my respected teacher". Pause. Shund and Amerk, the teachers of Prehlad, complained to his father, who called Prehlad in and advised him to quit the practice of reciting God's Naam; he would free him (forgive him and let him go right away). 2. But Prehlad was adamant and said, "Why do you harass me again and again. It is God who has created everybody, the waters, the land, and the mountains. So, I will not quit singing His praise, because if I do so, my Guru will be disgraced. So, you may burn me alive, or kill me". 3.

Irritated, his father, King Hernakhsh, pulled out his sword, and, ready to attack, he said to Prehlad in a fit of rage, "Show me where your saviour is". Right at that moment, God tore through a pillar, and appeared in a huge and frightening form – Nursingh – with the lower body of a man, and the head of a lion, and tore apart Hernakhsh with his lion paws. 4.

He is the Supreme Living Being, and the first among all the gods (their creator). He appeared as Nursingh for the sake of His devotee. Nobody can comprehend his limits (capabilities) who saves His countless devotees like Prehlad, oh Kabir. 5.4.

Word Meaning: Mudhay = in. Mudun = lust. Choar = thief; robber. Hir(i) Leen = stole. Moar = mine. Anaath = sport-less. Kaayay = whom. Ko, Ko = which and which; everybody. Bigootay = humiliated. Aah(i) = is; am. 1. Daarun = frightening. Suhhiyo Na = cannot be endured. Chupul = capricious (unstable). Boodh(i) = thinking. Busaayay = power; control. Pause. Sunuk, Snundun = the sons of Brahma. Sookaad(i) = (great sages) like Sukhdev. Naabh(i) Kumul Jaanay = was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu. Kub(i) Jun = poets. Jutaadhaar(i) = with permanently tangled hair. Aousar Saar(i) = somehow spending their time. 2. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. Thaah = measurement; greatness. Deena Nath = Lord of the weak. Aath(i) = Maya. Dheer = lessen. Ruyyoon = recite; sing. 3.

MEANING: A thief-like lust resides in my body, which has robbed me of my jewel-like Divine Knowledge. I am helpless, so what should I do, oh my Lord? Who has not been humiliated (everybody has been) by this thief? So, who am I to resist? 1.

It is a frightening (huge) suffering which I cannot endure, oh my kind Lord. My thinking (mind) is capricious, and I have no control over it. Pause.

Even the great sages and gods like Sunuk, Snundun, Shiva, Sukhdev, and Brahma (who was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu), and the yogis with permanently tangled hair, were all victims of lust, and simply killed their time somehow, and left the world. 2. You are fathomless, and I do not know Your splendour, and do not have access to you. So, whom should I tell my suffering, oh my Lord? Kindly lessen (remove) my suffering caused by the attractions of Maya, which lead to rebirths, oh God. I simply wish to sing praise of God, who is the ocean (source) of all comforts, oh Kabir. 3.5.

jhaar(i). 2. Poonji hiraani, bunuj toot. Dehdis taando guyyo phoot(i). Keh(i) Kabir mun sersi kaaj. Sehj(i) smaano ta bherm bhaaj. 3.6.

Word Meaning: Naayik = leader; moneylender. Aik = man. Bunjaaray = traders. Paanch = five (senses). Berdh = oxen (in those oxen were used to carry merchandize). Pucheesuk = twenty-five (basic elements in the body according to the Sankhya Shastra). Sung(u) = accompanying. Kaach = perishable. Nuoun = the nine doors of the human body. Buhhiya = poles (clubs) used to load the heavy merchandize. Dus = the ten senses (five natural, and five implementors). Goan(i) = big bags (of grains or somethings similar). Aah(i) = is; are. Kussun = pack-threads to tighten (to stitch). Buhuttar = 72 (long veins). Taah(i) = with that. 1. Bunuj = business. Kaaj(u) = interest. Mool(u) = capital. Biyaaj = interest to pay. Pause. Saat Soot = trading. Mil(i) = getting together (of the senses and desires). Kerm Bhaavni = the character based on deeds previously done. Teen = the three characters of Maya. Jagaati = tax collectors. Raar(i) = dispute; demand share. Haath Jhaar(i) = empty-handed. 2. Poonji Hiraani = capital. Hiraani = lost. Dehdis = in every direction. Taando = merchandise. Phoot(i) = scatters. Sersi Kaaj = the task (objective) will be successful. Sehj(i) Smaano = get absorbed in a high spiritual state. Bherm Bhaaj = the illusions run away (disappear). 3.

MEANING: The man is alone who has some capital of noble qualities with which his five senses do worldly business (enjoy life). The twenty-five basic elements (according to the Sankhya Shastra) serve as the oxen to carry the merchandise, which is all perishable. The nine doors of the body act as clubs (poles) to load the merchandize and the ten senses (five natural, and five implementors) act as the bags containing the merchandise (of wishes and desires). The 72 long veins act as the pack-threads to stitch the body and the senses together. 1. I am not interested in the trading business (immoral enjoyments of life) in which the capital of noble qualities decreases every day, and the interest (debt) of the immoral activities keeps increasing. Pause.

All the senses get together to do the business, which is aided by the character of the mind (man) developed by his previous deeds. The three qualities of Maya serve as tax collectors and demand their share of the man's capital (noble qualities), so, in the end, the trader man leaves empty-handed. 2. All his wealth (of noble qualities is robbed, and the business comes to an end. The ingredients of the human body (the senses, wishes, desires, lust, etc.) get scattered in every direction. Kabir advises that if the man wishes to achieve his objective successfully, he needs to attain a high spiritual state in which all his misgivings and illusions will flee (and he will unite with God). 3.6.

Word Meaning: Jootthi = impure; false. Ful = offspring. Abhaagay = unfortunate. 1. Soocha = pure. Tthaaoun = place. Pause. Jihba = tongue. Bolut = words; conversation. Kern = ears. Inderi = senses. Ootrus(i) Naahi = does not come off. Braham Ugun(i) = the fire of the conceit of being a Brahman. Lootthay = burnt. 2. Kurchhi = ladle. Purosun = serve. 3. Gobur(u) = cow-dung. Chaunka = outdoor kitchen. Kaara = boundary lines. Tayee = those. Bichaara = thinking. 4.

MEANING: (Not worrying about the purity of his mind, the Brahman shows his outside purity to impress the masses, and cooks his food in his own special ways, and eats in an outside kitchen which has been "purified" by coating the floor with cow-dung, and by drawing an outer boundary to stop entry of the undesirable people). Kabir Sahib questions such purity and advises the Pundit.

Tell me which place is pure where I should sit down to eat my food, oh Pundit. Pause.

Your mother's wisdom and your father's discontentment were both impure (sinful), and so are their offspring (your evil thinking). The man is born impure, and leaves impure, and the unfortunate dies impure as well 1. You are impure, your tongue is impure as it tells lies, and so are your conversations. Your ears are impure (because they enjoy listening to immoral things), and your eyes are also impure because they cast evil sights on the belongings of others. The impurity (filth) of your senses never comes off, oh, burnt in the fire of your false conceit of being a Brahman, oh, pundit. 2.

The fire and the water are impure (because they are used to cook food with discrimination against people in mind), and the people who sit down to cook your food are impure. The impure meal is served with the impure ladle, and the impure people sit down to eat. 3. The cow-dung, with which you coat the floor, is impure, and so are your outdoor kitchen and its boundary lines. Only those individuals are pure who have pure thinking, oh Kabir. 4.1.7.

Word Meaning: Kut = where. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Rung(u) = love; high spirits. Pung(u) = lame; cripple. Pause. Divus = day. Oomung = zest; desire. Ghus(i) = graze; abrade.

Chundun = sandalwood. Choa = extract of flowers. Soogundh = fragrances. Poojun Chaali = left for worshipping. Braham Tthaayayn = temple. Braham = God. 1. Juhaan = wherever. Teh = there. Pukhaan = (idols of) stones. Smaan = uniformly. Joyay = examine well. 2. Toar = for you. Sukul = all; whole. Bikul = tough; hard. Bherm = misconceptions. Kaatay = cleared. Soami = Lord. Rumut = present. Koat(i) = millions. Kerm = (ignoble) deeds.

MEANING: Why do you need to visit some (religious) place when you are already feeling in high spirits, and have love for God in your heart? I do not feel like going anywhere as my mind feels crippled. Pause.

One day, I had a desire to go to a temple and worship God by offering abraded sandalwood, flower extract, and many fragrant materials, but the Guru showed me the Lord in my own heart. 1.

You find water and the stone idols everywhere you go. But You are uniformly present everywhere, oh God. I have carefully examined the Vedas and the Puranas and concluded that one needs to go to a religious place only if God is not present here. (inside me). 2.

I am a sacrifice for my Guru, who has cleared all my tough misgivings. `Rama Nand's Soami is present everywhere. Guru's Shabad eradicates the results of countless ignoble deeds. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Sahib(u) = master. Sunkutvaiy = gives trouble. Sayvuk = servant; attendant. assistant. Chrinkaal = long time. Lujiay = brings shame. 1. Churn Kumul = lotus-like (Feet of God) (His Naam). Heeuray = in heart (mind). Pause. Maandaiy = is determined (ready). 2. Ganga, (Guyya), Godaavri = (holy places along the banks of) these two rivers. Kaama = rituals; customs. Supersunn = overly pleased. 3.

MEANING: If the long-time personal attendant of an employer deserts him when the employer causes some hardship for the attendant, the attendant does not live for a long time anyway, but brings shame (because of his disloyalty) to both generations of his family (his parents, and his children). 1.

But I will not leave Your worship (will be a loyal devotee) even if people make fun of me, oh Lord. Your lotus-like Feet (Your Naam) have been enshrined in my heart. Pause.

Like a money-lover who becomes determined to die for his wealth, God's devotees are determined not to quit reciting His Naam. 2. Pilgrimage to holy places on the banks of the rivers Ganga and Godavari is a ritualistic custom of the people, but a true devotee is the one with whom God becomes overly pleased, oh Namdev. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Lobh Lehr(i) = waves of greed. Neejhur Baajaiy = rise high in a lake or sea. Kaaya = body. Kayshva = oh, (God) with long and beautiful hair. 1. Sunsaar(u) Smoonday = the world-sea. Gobinday = Beethulay = oh, God. Pause.
Anil Bayrra = boat is in wind (strong storm). Khayv(i) Na = cannot steer (keep afloat). Paar(i) = the other end. 2. Tur = swim. Baanh Dayh = extend Your hand. 4.

MEANING: Powerful waves of greed are rising very high in the world-sea (of Maya), and I am drowning in the sea, oh, my Lord with beautiful long hair. 1.
Please, ferry me across the world-sea, oh my father, God. Pause.
I cannot steer my boat in this stormy sea, and cannot find Your limits either, oh, my God. Please, be kind to me, and connect me with Satguru, who will ferry me across. 3.
I do not know swimming, so kindly extend Your hand (to pull me out of this sea of Maya), prays Namdev, oh Lord. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sehj = slowly. Uvul(i) = in front. Doorr(i)-Munee = dirty (full of dirty clothes). Gaadi = bullock-cart. Tinka = straw; stick. Haankti = drives. 1. Punkut = dung-beetle. Throotut(i) = a small ball of food (usually of animal-dung). Haankti = drives (rolls along). Sur(i) = pool; lake; gathering of holy saints (Guru). Laaduli = lover (devotee) of God. Pause. Dhobi = washerman; Guru. Bireh Biraata = detached from the world because of His love for God; imbued in love of God. Raata = imbued. 2. Bhunut(i) = says. Rum Ruhhiya = omnipresent (God). 3.

MEANING: Like a washerwoman who drives the bullock-cart full of dirty laundry from behind with a stick in her hand, and goes to some pool to wash the dirty clothes; and like a persistent dung-beetle, which (performs a tough job) to push a ball of animal dung and rolls it along slowly, a dear devotee of Waheguru gathers mental strength, and goes to attend the holy gathering of the Guru to wash away his filth in the holy pool of God's Naam which is recited at the gathering. 1 & Pause. Imbued in God's love and detached from the world, the washerman-like Guru cleanses the minds of His devotees. As a result, my mind has been imbued with the love for God's Naam. 2.
Please be kind to Your devotee, prays Namdev, oh, my omnipresent God. 3.3.

Word Meaning: Soojhunta = think straight. Pehraava = (expensive) outfit. Oobh(i) Jaah(i) = head swells; is conceited. Gerbvati = egoist. Naahi Thaaoun = cannot contain in self. Luvvaiy Kaaoun = crow crows (brings message of death); death looms over your head. (It is a common belief that when a crow crows on the roof, it is a signal for some visitor to come). 1. Kaaay = why? Gerbeh(i) = conceited. Baanvli = foolish. Bhaadoun Khoombraj(u) = a big mushroom in the month of August (which dies quickly). Khurie = more. Ootaavli = impatient (more likely) (to die). Pause. Koorunk = musk-deer. Bhayd(u) = secret. Soogundh = fragrance. Dhoondhaiy = searches for. Perdays(u) = outside. Up Tun = own body (self). Kunkur = assistant. Khooaar(u) = humiliation. 2. Kluttar = wife. Ahunkaar = pride. Laykha = account of deeds. Mungunhaar = demands. Pharray = result of (bad) deeds. Suhhaiy = endures. Paachhaiy = after (death). Peeou = dear. 3. Sadhu = Guru. Oat = shelter. Koat(i) = millions. Joan(i) = womb; rebirths in different life forms. Kaam(u) = business. 1.

MEANING: What are you so conceited about, oh, foolish man? Your life could come to an end even sooner than the large mushroom that grows in the month of August (and which has a very short life). Pause.

You get conceited even to look at your expensive clothes and cannot contain your conceit. You cannot think straight to realize that death looms over your head. 1.

Like the musk-deer, which does not know the secret of his fragrance (that the source of fragrance is his own body), and searches for the source outside, (the man does not realize that God is present in his own heart, and searches for Him in the wilderness). The individual, who examines his inner-self, is not humiliated by the assistant of the Angel of death. 2.

The individual, who becomes conceited of his sons and his wife, does not realize that God will ask for the account of his behaviour and his deeds. One has to bear the consequences of his (bad) deeds. Who can he call his dear after his death? 3.

All the millions of your sins will be erased if you come to the Guru's shelter, oh man. An individual who recites God's Naam has nothing to do with his worldly caste, the place where he was born, or even his rebirths (he is never born again), oh Ravidass. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sureh = cow; gentle nature. Chaal = gait; walking. Poonchhut Jhumuk Baal = hairs shine on the tail; dress of a gentleman. 1. Iss Ghur Meh(i) = in your own house; honest earnings. Dhoondh(i) = search. Aour Kis Kay = others belongings. Mut(i) = do not. Pause. Chaaki Chaateh = lick the grinding mill. Choon(u) = flour. Cheethurra = the cleaning rag. 2. Chheekay = a basket hung high to store food to keep it safe from cats and dogs; belongings of others. Deetth(i) = greedy look. Mut(u) = watch out. Sota = heavy stick. Peetth(i) = on the back. Bhog Bhulay = many enjoyments. Eent Dhaym = stone you. 4.

NOTE: In this Shabad, Kabir Ji compares the man to a dog for his greed.

MEANING: You look very gentle from your gait and from the way you dress, oh, the dog-like greedy man. 1. You have the right to eat and enjoy everything from your own home, but you should not cast any evil eye on others' houses. Pause.

Like a dog eats the flour spilled outside a flour mill, and even licks it, you may eat everything available to you, but like the dog which takes even the mill rag with traces of flour on it with him because of his greed, why do you over-indulge as if there will be no tomorrow, oh man? 2. Like a dog, you have a highly greedy look at the high-hanging basket (at the houses of others), but watch out, you may be hit hard with a heavy stick on your back (may be severely punished. 3.

You have enjoyed many different foods (and are still not satisfied). Make sure others do not pelt stones on you, warns Kabir. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Tthaakur = Master; Lord. Chayri = disciple; devotee. Churn = feet; shelter. Guhhay = held; acquired. Nibayri = ended. Jug-Jeevun = life (soul) of the world. Pause. Poorun = perfect; omnipresent. Perm Jot(i) = supreme light. Praan =life. Mohun = mind-captivating (Waheguru). Moh(i) = captivated. Sumjhus(i) = understands; makes connection. 1. Heen = lacking; weak-minded. Hoachhi Mut(i) = shallow thinking. Jhootthi = about worldly things. Jub Kee = ever since. Rungeelaiy = colourful; performer of amazing feats. Raati = imbued. Maaniya = came to like. Laaj Lokaani = shame of the people. 3. Bhoor = past. Bhuvikh = future. Praan-Adhaara = basis of life. Sohaagun(i) = fortunate; loved by the husband. Bhutaara = husband. 4.

MEANING: I am a devotee of my Lord, Waheguru, who is the basis of the life of the whole world, and have sought His shelter, and destroyed (overcome) my selfishness and ego in His shelter. Pause. My omnipresent Waheguru, which is the supreme source of enlightenment for the world, is very dear to me and is the basis of my life. The mind-captivating Waheguru has captivated my mind, and I have made a connection with Him by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. 1.

Those who follow their own mind (disconnected with Waheguru) are weak-minded, have very shallow wisdom, which thinks only about the perishable worldly things, as a result of which, they suffer mental and physical pain (agony). Ever since my mind has been imbued with my love for the colourful Waheguru, which performs amazing feats, my mind has become peaceful (has quit wandering). 2.

I have become detached from the world by overcoming my selfishness and ego, and my mind has been absorbed in Waheguru (His Naam). My mind has been pleased with Waheguru, which has no clan and is above the effects of Maya. Now, I do not care about any shame from the people (taunting me). 3.
There was none like You in the past, and there will be none even in the future, oh, my dear Waheguru. You are the basis of my life. That human-bride is fortunate, who is imbued in Waheguru's Naam with Him as her Husband (Lord), and is loved by Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Kiyoun = how. Biyaapaiy = affects. Jihva = tongue; language. Saad(u) = taste. Feeki = tasteless. Rus = sweetness. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Suntaapaiy = tortures. Pause. Jub Lug(u) = as long as. Pursaiy = touch; get. Tub Lug(u) = till then. Maaniya = pleased. Kumul = lotus. Bigaasi = blooms; thrives 1. Oonuv(i) = coming lower. Ghunhur(u) = clouds. Gurjaiy = thunders. Pir(u) = dear; husband. Sohaagaiy = enjoys union. 2. Koochil = filthy living. Kroop(i) = ugly. Koonaar(i) = bad woman.
Koolukhni = having ignoble qualities. Sehj = bliss (of union with Waheguru-husband). Rung(i) = in love. Rusn = tongue. Tripti = contented; feel blissful. Doomut(i) = bad (unclean) thinking. 3. Derd = pain. Sehj Soohayli = blissful of the union. Dheeray = peaceful. 4.

MEANING: How can I survive without Waheguru (His Naam) when one suffers (mentally) without Him? One's language becomes impolite and tasteless without the sweetness of His Naam, and the fear of death tortures him. Pause.
As long as I do not get His holy sight (connect with Him), I feel hungry and thirsty (dissatisfied). Like the lotus flower, which blooms in water, my mind gets blissful only when I see Him. 1.
(In the rainy season) When the low clouds thunder and cause rain, the song-birds and the peacocks, along with the trees, the oxen (because they do not have to work in the fields), the birds, and the snakes feel overjoyed. Similarly, the fortunate human-bride, who has Waheguru in her heart, enjoys His union. The human soul which does not enjoy the bliss of union with Waheguru is filthy, ugly, a bad woman, and has ignoble qualities (in her character). Because of her unclean thinking, her tongue is not contented with (imbued in) the love of Waheguru's Naam, and she continues to suffer. 3.

But the human-bride who enjoys the bliss of union with Waheguru finds peace of mind only after she has a sight of Waheguru (gets connected with Him). Such a bride does not suffer in taking rebirths, and dying, and suffers no mental or physical pain, oh Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: My mind has been convinced by Guru's Shabad, and I have realized that my Waheguru is not far from me, and I have been connected with the basis of my life (Waheguru). Pause. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, one's doubts about her societal caste, and her clan get cleared, and this is how the fortunate human bride can connect with her dear husband (Waheguru). 1.
The individual, whose mind is pleased (convinced) with Guru's Shabad, gets over her ego, and forgets all about cruelty and greed (they no longer influence her). She is adorned with noble qualities in Guru's shelter, and enjoys the bliss of her union with her Husband. 2.
I will burn all the love for my family and the relatives, which simply increases one's love for Maya. The individual, who does not have love for the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, is a victim of indecisiveness, and she commits immoral acts of sensual pleasures. 3.

The devotee, who has love for the jewel-like, invaluable Waheguru's Naam in her mind, does not stay unknown (she becomes famous). Waheguru's Naam is priceless, which His devotees acquire in their mind only in the shelter of the Guru no matter what the era, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Sunt Junaa Kee Dhoor(i) = humble devotees. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual level. Aatum Ram(u) = Waheguru. Bhurpoor(i) = omnipresent. Pause. Shaant(i) = peacefulness. Kilvikh = sins. Kaatay Door(i) = destroyed completely. Aatum Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light (Divine Knowledge). Perphoolit = thrives; grows fast. Hujoor(i) = close by. 1. Vuddaiy Bhaag(i) = with good fortune. Utth-sutth(i) = the 68 (Hindu holy places). Mujun = bath; dips. Pug Dhoor(i) = dust of the feet (serve them humbly). Naayay = washes the filth away. 2. Doormut(i) = ignoble thinking. Bikaar = sensual pleasures. Muleen = impure; filthy. Hoachhi = shallow. Hirda = heart, mind. Koosoodh(u) = filthy; impure. Moh = worldly attachments. Koor(u) = false; perishable. Biyaap(i) = influencing. Jhoor(i) = repent and regret. 3. Jun(u) = devotee; saint. 4.

MEANING: I am a humble servant (devotee) of the holy saints in whose shelter (company) I attained the highest spiritual state, and now I "see" Waheguru present everywhere. Pause.
One achieves peace of mind in the shelter of Satguru when all one's sins are destroyed completely. Waheguru's Light (enlightenment of mind) grows fast in his mind, and he sees Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, close to him. 1.
One gains the company of the holy saints and great fortune by reciting His Naam and sees Waheguru as omnipresent. Taking a dip in the dust of the feet of the holy saints (serving them humbly) is like taking a dip at the 68 holy places. 2.
But those who have their thinking polluted, enjoy sensual pleasures, have filthy and shallow thinking, and have deceit at heart. They stay attached to the perishable worldly comforts. The man suffers because of his haumein, and repents and regrets later. 3.

I beg for the dust of the feet of the holy saints (an opportunity to humbly serve them); please be kind, and grant me the opportunity, oh Waheguru. The Guru connects one with Waheguru, and when one is connected with the Guru, he sees Waheguru very close to him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Bulihaari = to lay down life. Bhuvjul(u) Jugut(u) = the world-sea. Paar Ootaari = ferry across. Pause. Perteet(i) = faith; reverence. Soort(i) = focus of mind. Beechaari = contemplative; exploratory. Serb-Kulaa = all powerful; omnipotent. Goonkaari = source of noble qualities. 1. Ruvviya = is present. Alukh = incomprehensible. Apaari = limitless. Lukhaari = is seen. 2. Dhernidhur = the support for the earth (God). Saakut = worshipper of Maya. Trishna = fire of worldly desires. Jooyay = in gamble. Baaji = game of life. 3. Ootthut = standing. Baiytthut = sitting. Kinchut(i) = a little. Payij Suvaari = enhances dignity. 4.

MEANING: The world-sea cannot be swum across (by one's own efforts). I am a sacrifice for the Feet of Waheguru (His Naam) because one can swim across the world-sea by reciting His Naam. Pause.

When one recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, his faith in Him grows to a great degree, and the omnipotent Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, gets embedded in his heart, and his thinking becomes contemplative by serving Him (obeying His Will). 1.

Waheguru, which is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and limitless, is present everywhere, and in the body and mind of everybody. When the Guru becomes benevolent toward a devotee, he acquires the incomprehensible Waheguru in his heart and sees him there. 2.

Even though the Naam of Waheguru, which is the support for the earth, is present in everybody's heart, He appears far away to the conceited worshipper of Maya. The fire of his worldly desires is never put out, and he loses the game of his life in the gamble (loses his noble qualities to the attractions of Maya). 3.

The individual, whom the Guru is evenly slightly kind to, sings Waheguru's praise whether he is standing (working) or sitting (resting). Waheguru enhances the dignity of His devotees on whom He casts a kind sight, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Kaaj Suvaaray = objectives realized successfully. Pause. Deen = humble. Gur Aagaiy = before the Guru (obeying His advice). Nivaaray = removed; eradicated. 1. Rus(u) = essence; sweetness. Rusna = tongue. Amrit Rus(u) = Waheguru's immortalizing Naam. Cheeniya = recognized; acquired. Moakh = emancipation. Dooaaray = at Waheguru's Door. 2. Purakh(u) = manifestation of Waheguru. Achull(u) = determined mind. Drirrta = firmness. 3. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Doojay Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Ugiyaan = ignorance. Goobaaray = deep darkness. Oorvaar = the nearer shore. Paar(i) = the far end (shore). 4. Ruvviya = is present. Serb-Kulaa = omnipotent. Kul = power. Daasun(i) Daas(u) = slave of slaves. Oobaaray = salvage. 5.

MEANING: All the tasks of the devotee of the Guru, whom He is pleased with, are made successful by the Guru. I also pray to my dear Guru to grant me Waheguru's immortalizing Naam. Pause. All the suffering of the devotees, who humbly act on the Guru's advice, is eradicated. They worship Waheguru all the time in the shelter of the Guru, and are adorned with noble qualities with the Guru's Shabad. 1.

With Waheguru's sweet Naam at heart, they sing (recite) Waheguru's praise with their tongue, enjoying its sweetness, and ponder on the sweet Naam. With Guru's benevolence, they recognize (make a connection with) the sweet Naam, and reach the door of emancipation 2. Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru, is firm-minded, has firm thinking (against the attractions of Maya), and has firm faith in Waheguru's support through His Naam. I am a sacrifice for such a Guru, and will gladly surrender my mind to Him. 3.

The followers of their mind are misled by their misgivings, have the darkness of ignorance in their minds, and love Maya. They do not see (realize) that Satguru is the provider of all necessities; they submerge in the world-sea, and are neither on this shore nor on the other. (neither find peace in this world, nor in the next after death). 4.

The omnipotent Waheguru is present in every heart and supports everyone with His power. I, Nanak, am a slave of His slaves (devotees), and pray to Him that He salvages me too with His benevolence. 5.3.

Rehus(u) = blissfulness. Joti = human light (soul). Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 1. Triptay = is contented. Shaant(i) = peacefulness. 2. Pergaas Bhuyyi = enlightened. Lobh = greed. Tooh = empty gain shells. Koottaiy = threshes. 4. Supersunn = overpleased. Percha Laayay = is attracted; loves. 5.

MEANING: Serve Waheguru in such a way that you accept everything that He does as the eternal truth, and stay focused on His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. Pause.
When one finds love for Waheguru to be extremely sweet, he forgets loving everything else. His mind is fully pleased with Waheguru, and he is always blissful as his soul merges with Waheguru's Soul. 1.
He is content only when he sings Waheguru's praise, and his mind becomes completely peaceful. But one gets attached to Waheguru (His Naam) only with the grace of the Guru. 2.
One's thinking (mind) is enlightened when one recites Waheguru's Naam with a fully focused mind. When one's mind is pleased with Waheguru when he meditates on His Naam in the peaceful state of mind, Waheguru's Light appears (enlightens) his mind. 3.
On the other hand, the individual, who does recite Waheguru's Naam but only as a show off (to impress others), and has deceit at mind, and performs deeds based on deceit, has immense darkness of greed in his mind and is like the individual who threshes only the empty shells of grains (a labour without any reward), and suffers. 4.
When Waheguru becomes overpleased with a devotee, he gets attached to Waheguru with the grace of the Guru. I have acquired Waheguru's Naam (which enables one to stay unaffected by Maya), and am enjoying bliss, oh Nanak. 5.4.

The devotees, who love Waheguru and get connected with Him in the shelter of the Guru, stay imbued in His love. They become as Waheguru and their souls merge with the Supreme Soul, as a result of which, they enjoy blissfulness, and their birth-death cycle is terminated. 2. MEANING: Nothing, other than Waheguru's Naam, is permanent (to stay with you) in this world; all other expanses of Maya are (spiritually) worthless. So, recite and read Waheguru's Naam, which is supreme, oh my mind. Pause.

Every visible thing in the world is (spiritually) worthless, so what can one acquire, and what can one give up (there is nothing useful), oh, insane man. The poisonous wealth which you believe is yours will leave you (after your death), and you will be left with a burden of bad deeds on your mind, oh man. 1. The foolish does not realize that his life span is decreasing slowly every moment; the character (nature) of the Maya-worshipper is such that he does only those things which will not accompany him. 2.

You will reach the door of emancipation if you attend the company of the holy saints, oh, insane man. You may ask (read to know the verdict of) the Vedas, and you will find that nobody has attained emancipation without the company of the holy saints. 3.

Be it a rajah or anybody else, everybody has to leave this world and leave the perishable expanse of Maya behind. Only the holy saints, who make Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life, live forever through their teachings, and by merging into Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.6.

NOTE: Before leaving this mortal world, Guru Ram Dass Ji, the Fourth Guru, gave the Guruship to His youngest son, Shri Arjun Dev Ji, bypassing His oldest son, Pirthi Chand, because the latter was less spiritual and more attracted to worldly attractions. Pirthi Chand had thought that it was his right to be the next Guru, so he made a huge fuss. In this holy Shabad, Guru Sahib teaches Pirthi Chand (and all of us) that money does not stay with anyone forever; it is Waheguru's worship that makes a man good and acceptable to Him.

MEANING: Why do you argue angrily with your father, oh my son? It is a sin to argue with one's parents who give birth to him and raise him. Pause.
The wealth, which you are conceited of (you love), never stays with you all the time. The man leaves the poisonous enjoyments of Maya in a moment, only to suffer the consequences. 1.
I advise you to recite the Naam of the Waheguru, which is your Lord. If you listen to this advice (and act on it), all your sufferings will be gone, says Nanak, a devotee of Waheguru. 2.1.7.

There are millions of worlds which You have created from Yourself, and which will eventually get absorbed in You. I cannot describe Your transcendence and Your limits. You are limitless, and we cannot find Your limits; I see Your Drama (creation) everywhere, oh Lord. 3.

I am always in the company of the Guru, have conversations with Him, and meditate on Waheguru's Naam in His shelter. I have acquired You through Guru's Advice and have a strong desire to see You. Kindly show me Your holy sight, prays Nanak. 4.1.

Sadh-sungut(i) kee dhoor(i) ikk maagoun, jun Nanak, puyyo suraan. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Untarjaami = omniscient. Jaan = know-all. Sakhi = witness. Bhoot = past. Puvaan = future. Pause. Baishno = a devotee of Vishnu; maintains all sorts of physical purity. Khut Kerma = the six expected rituals of the Brahmans and the Khatris (see "INTRODUCTION"). Lobh Jootthaan = impurity (filth) of greed. Doobay = drown in the world-sea; lost in worldly attractions. Ugiyaan = ignorant. Soampaak = food prepared with own hands (to maintain purity). Hireh(i) = steal. Pur Durba = wealth of others. Goomaan = conceit. Mun Kaiy Maan = are controlled by their ego. 2. Bidh(i) = the rules; practices. Biyaapay = influenced by; guided by. Sundhiya Kaal = the prescribed prayers. Verta = religious principles (customs). Sufree = entertainer. Dumphaan = entertaining tricks. Oojhurr Paayay = misled to wilderness (confusion). Nihful = worthless. Kermaan = deeds; rituals. 3. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Oodhriya = salvaged. Bisvaan = world. 4. Kuth = describe. Bhaavaiy = (as He) wishes). Dhoor(i) = dust of feet (opportunity to serve). Suraan = shelter. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru is omniscient and knows everything about us. One hides his immoral deeds from people, but how can he hide them from Waheguru, the witness of all his past and future deeds? The man considers himself a devotee of Vishnu and performs all six religious rituals, yet harbours the filth of greed within. All such people are spiritually ignorant, and vilify the holy saints and their gatherings as a result of which, they drown in the world-sea (die spiritual death). 1.

As a show of external purity, they cook their own food but are egoists, tell lies, and steal others' wealth. They do not follow the principles of the Vedas and the Shastras and are controlled by their own ego. 2.

They do offer their scheduled prayers and observe religious customs, but all their actions are meant to show off, like the tricks of an entertainer. Actually, they are misled to confusion by Waheguru Himself, and all their rituals are spiritually worthless. 3.
Only that individual is educated and a devotee of Waheguru, whom He is kind to. Such people attain the highest spiritual state by serving Satguru and attain salvation for the whole world. 4. I have no ability to describe Waheguru's virtues and His amazing feats; I only say whatever He makes me say. I have sought Waheguru's shelter, and beg for the dust of the feet of the holy saints (an opportunity to serve them), oh Nanak. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Naachno = dancing for Maya. Ruhho = has ended. Laal(u) = ruby-like, Dear. Rungeela = colourful; performer of amazing feats. Buchun = Shabad. Luhho = acquired. Pause. Kooaar Kunniya = newly married young woman. Sung(i) = with. Suhayri = friends. Priya Buchun = talks about her Dear. Oophaas = in a joyful mood. Soorijun = noble man (husband). Greh(i) Bheetur = in the house. Kaaj(i) = covers. Lujo = shyness. 1. Kuniko = gold. Kotthaari = a crucible like container in which gold is melted. Kubro = (dances like) crazy. Shoodh = pure. Baareh(i) = purest form of gold. Thaan Thiro = becomes stable (peaceful). Bujjiyo = strikes (the bell of clocktower). Moorut, Ghuree, Pulo = short periods of time. Bujaavunhaaro = the striker. Ootth(i) Sidhaariyo = leaves the scene. Baaj = sound. Bhuyyo = happens. 3. Koombh = a pitcher of water. Ooduk = water. Poor(i) Aaniyo = brought in full. Bhinn = different. Drishto = is seen. Daariyo = poured in. Umbhaiy = water.
MEANING: Now, my dancing to the tune of Maya has ended as I have acquired the dear and colourful Waheguru with Satguru's Shabad in my high spiritual state. Pause.
Like the newly married young woman who talks about her dear husband with her friends in a joyful mood, my capricious mind was also dancing joyfully for Maya, but has now become shy (stable) like the young woman, who covers her face in shyness when her husband comes home. 1. Another way to describe the situation of my mind is that it was dancing like crazy for Maya, like the gold piece placed in the hot crucible to melt, but now it is peaceful, like the purest form of gold, which quits dancing when all impurities are removed. 2.
Yet another way to describe the situation of my capricious mind is that it was making noise (demands) like a bell in the clock-tower which is struck at regular intervals of time, but when the attendant leaves, the bell strikes no more (becomes peaceful. (Now that Maya, which was causing noise in my mind, has left my mind), it too has become peaceful. 3.
Now, my mind (soul), which seemed different from that of Waheguru's, has merged with Him and has become indistinguishable like the water in a pitcher which seemed different from the water in the pool with which it was filled, becomes indistinguishable when poured back into the pool, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ub = now. Poochhay = being asked. Laino Naam = ought to have recited Naam. Neeko = beautiful; worthy. Baavur = foolish. Bikh = poisonous Maya. Geh(i) Ruhha = stayed entangled (engrossed). Pause. Doolubh = not easily available; precious. Chirunkaal = after a very long time. Kaudi = worthless cowrie shell. Budulha = in exchange for. Kathoori = musk. Gaahuk = customer. Laadiyo = loaded up. Kaalur = worthless dirt of saltpetre. Birkh Jivehaan = worthless tall grass-like vegetation. 1. Laabh Laabhun Kay Taayeen = to find (earn spiritual) profit. Mohun Tthagauri = the mind-captivating vine of Maya. Ooljh(i) Ruhaa = stayed entangled (engrossed). Kaach = glass (perishable things). Laal(u) = rubies (noble qualities). Khoyee Haiy = lost. Aousur = opportunity (of human life). Kud(i) Luhha = when will be available? 2. Sugul = all. Praadh = bad qualities. Daas(i) = slave (Maya). Bhujhaa = worship. Musht(i) = tight-lipped; semi-unconsciousness. Jurrvut = lifeless matter. Kee Niyaayee = like. Tuskur = thief. Dur(i) Saniha = on the spot of break-in. 3. Aan = other. Oopaaou = means; solution. Soojhaiy = think of. Daasun = slaves; devotees. Chhootiyaiy = get freedom; emancipation. Juou = when. Aougun = bad qualities; demerits. Mayt(i) Dhurhaa = got rid of; eradicated. 4.

MEANING: You came to this world to recite Waheguru's beautiful (sweet) and immortalizing Naam while enjoying its sweetness, but you, the foolish one, stayed engrossed in the poisonous affairs of Maya, oh my mind. So, what will you say when Waheguru asks you? Pause. You acquired the precious human life after a very long time, but you are wasting it in exchange for the worthless cowrie shells (bad qualities). You were sent to this world to buy (acquire) the musk-like fragrant - Waheguru's Naam, but you loaded your mind with the immoral qualities like those of the dirt of saltpetre, and the worthless grass-like plants. 1. You were born to earn spiritual qualities, but you got engrossed in the attractions of the mind-captivating vine of Maya. You have lost your ruby-like noble qualities and acquired the useless qualities which love perishables; who knows when you will get this great opportunity again. 2. You have all the ignoble qualities, and not even a single good quality, because, forgetting the Lord (Waheguru), you have been worshipping the slave (Maya). In Waheguru's court, you will be as tight-lipped (have no explanation) as the lifeless matter, or like a thief caught red-handed at the scene of the break-in, oh, my mind. 3.

I cannot think of any other solution to this problem than taking shelter of the holy saints. One gets emancipation only after one has gotten rid of all one's ill qualities, oh Nanak. 4.4

MEANING: I am suffering from the severe pain of separation from Waheguru, and cannot endure it anymore, oh my mother. There are countless beautiful attractions in the world, but I have no interest in them. Pause.
I utter “my dear, my dear” with my tongue day and night, and do not sleep even for a short moment. All the physical adornments like wearing necklaces, kohl, and expensive clothes (or any religious symbols) feel like poison to me without my Waheguru-Husband. 1.
Like a very humble person, I ask everybody if anyone could tell me where Waheguru lives. I will offer my heart, mind, and my body at his service, and put my head on his feet (show full reverence) to such a holy saint. 2. I will lie flat at His feet, and will be His unpaid slave (serve Him without any return), and pray before the Guru to connect me with Waheguru so that I may have His holy sight - even if it is for a very short moment. 3.
Waheguru appeared in my heart when He became kind to me, and now I am blissful in body and mind. Now, my mind is singing the songs of joy, and I feel as if Divine music is playing in my mind, oh Nanak. 4.5.

MEANING: Only Waheguru, and the Satguru (His Shabad) are eternal, oh my mother. I have tied (stored) the Advice of the Perfect Guru very tightly in the package (pocket) of my heart. Pause. Nights, days, stars, the sun, and the moon are all perishable. The mountains, the earth, water, and air will all disappear, but Guru's Word (Shabad) is eternal. 1. Living beings of all the four sources of production (live births, eggs, vegetation, and bacteria), the four Vedas, and the six Shastras, are all perishable; but the Word of the Guru will live forever. 2.

All human beings under the influence of the three effects of Maya (see INTRODUCTION), and the whole visible world will perish; the only thing that will live forever is the Guru's Word (which enables the man to merge into Waheguru to become eternal). 3.

Waheguru does everything on His own and shows His drama to the world. 4.6.

Aapud = troubles. Anund-Mugul-Roop = in the form of bliss and joy (Waheguru). Sumpud = luxuries. 1. Servun = (with) ears. Muhha = big. Bhuyyan = frightening. Oodiyaanud = wilderness. MEANING: Waheguru has come to reside in my heart. The heart-city in which Waheguru's Naam is recited enjoys comfort and bliss. Pause. The heart which forgets Waheguru suffers from all kinds of discomfort (troubles). But the wealth of all comforts is there where praise of the source of all bliss and joy, Waheguru, is sung. 1.

The place where we do not listen to Waheguru's praise is like a frightening wilderness (lifeless); but the place where the holy saints sing Waheguru's praise while enjoying its sweetness, feels as if there is a sweet fragrance of all kinds of fruits (it is bliss and joy there). 2. The whole life of the individual who does not recite Waheguru's Naam goes worthless even if he lives for millions of years. But the individual who recites Waheguru's Naam for even a short moment lives forever (by merging into Waheguru). 3.

I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, which is omnipresent, and which knows all the means by which to acquire noble qualities, to pray that He kindly puts me in the company of the holy saints so that I may always listen to, and sing His praise, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Ub = now. Bhurosou = faith; trust. Kruna-nidh(i) = the treasure (source) of compassion. Tay, Tay = all those. Bhuveh(i) = the world-sea. Turaayay = ferried across. Pause. Soyo = slept. Ur(u) = and. Sehj(i) = in peaceful state. Sehsa = doubts; worries.

Gureh(i) = Guru. Guvaayay = eradicated. Chaahut = wish for. Mun Baanchhut = as wished. Ful Paayay = got the rewards. 1. Jupou = recite (Naam). Naytur = eyes. Servnee = ears. Kutha = description of goodness; praise of Waheguru. Churnee = with feet. Maarug(i) = path. Rusna = tongue. 2. Drisht(i) = with eyes. Mungul-Roop = the embodiment of joy (bliss) (God). Oolti = reversed (thinking). Laal(u) = ruby. Amoal(u) = priceless. 3. Oopma = praise. Budaayee = greatness. Raajhaayay = to please. Kirpal = kind. Daas Dusaayay = slave of His devotees.

MEANING: Now, I have brought full faith in Waheguru. Whoever comes to the shelter of Waheguru, which is the source of compassion, is ferried across the world-sea (is salvaged). Pause. My Guru has removed (cleared) all my doubts and worries, and now I enjoy peaceful sleep and stay absorbed in the high spiritual state. Waheguru has granted me whatever I wanted (connection with Him) and has reaped the rewards I wished for. 1.
I recite His Naam at heart, focus my sight on Him, and listen to His praise with my ears. I walk on the path which leads to union with Him with my feet, and sing His praise with my tongue (use all my senses to stay absorbed in Him). 2.
My Guru has turned my thinking around (from Maya to Waheguru), as a result of which I have acquired the jewel-like, priceless Naam of Waheguru, which does not leave you, and now I see the Lord, the embodiment of all joy and bliss, everywhere. 3.
What kind of His praise, what kind of His Grandeur, and which of His noble qualities should I describe to please Him? (I have no such ability), I can only pray to Him that He be kind to me and grant me an opportunity to serve His devotees like a slave, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Kuhhou Nanak, ajur(u) jin(i) juriya, tis kee kuou bun(i) aavut. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Oye Sookh = that comfort (bliss). Bern(i) Soonaavut = explain. Anund Binoad = bliss and enjoyments. Mungul = happiness; joyfulness. Pause. Bism Bhuyyi = mesmerized. Bismaadi = amazing (God). Kirpaavut = kind (God). Amoluk = priceless. Chaakh(i) = to taste. Goonga = mute; dumb. Mooskaavut = smiles (enjoys). 1. Boojh Na = cannot determine. Ooaa Kee = his. Kuhaavut = description; mental bliss. 2. Oopaav = skills. Taytay = all those. Seekhay Paavut = acquired by learning. Achint = without any indication. Greh(i) Bheetur(i) = in the heart. Pergutiyo = appeared; enlightened. Agumm Perkhaavut = beyond testing (verification). 3. Nirgoon = above the effects of Maya. Nirunkaar = formless. Abinaashi = immortal. Atoolo = immeasurable.

Ajur(u) = the powers of the spiritual state which are difficult to contain. Juriya = endure; control. Bun(i) Aavut = befits. 4.

MEANING: I feel blissful, and feel like enjoying the wondrous nature to see the holy sight of Waheguru, and my mind is joyfully singing His praise. Whom (how) can I describe the blissfulness of my mind? Pause. I am amazed to see the benevolent Waheguru present everywhere. I have drunk (taken in) the immortalizing and the priceless Naam of Waheguru, and feel so blissful that I cannot describe its taste, just like a mute who smiles (feels happy) to have something very tasty but cannot describe its taste. 1.

Like the still air in a closed room, the presence of which cannot be felt whether it is moving, the high mental situation (blissfulness) of the individual whose heart has been enlightened by Waheguru cannot be described. 2. All other skills are acquired by learning, but the Naam of the dear Waheguru cannot be acquired by learning; it appears in one's heart without any signs (indications), and it becomes very difficult to test that. 3.

The Lord is above the effects of Maya, is formless, immortal, and immeasurable. His transcendence cannot be measured. Similarly, the transcendence of the devotee, who can control the power of his high spiritual state, cannot be described, and it only befits him, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Kuhhou Nanak, suntun ka raakha, Parbrahm(u) Nirunkaaraiy. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Bikhuyyi = one who is addicted to sensual pleasures; immoral. Bhujaiy = remember; recite Naam. Ahunboodh(i) = egoist. Maata = intoxicated. Jooyaiy Haaraiy = loses in the gamble. Pause. Amoala = priceless. Pur Ninda = vilification of others. Hitkaaraiy = loves. Chhuppur(u) = a hut of bamboo and grass. Suvaaraiy = beautifies. Trin = grass. Dooaaraiy = around. Paavuk Jaaraiy = lights up fire. 1. Kaalur Poat = a package of worthless saltpetre. Moondeh(i) = on the head. Daaraiy = drops; throws away. Oadhaiy = wears. Bustar = clothes. Kaajur = kohl (like black ash). Buhour(i) = again. Jhaaraiy = shakes off. 2. Kaataiy = cuts. Payd(u) = tree. Daal Pur Tthaadhau = standing on the branch. Rusaatul = in a deep pit. Chhitee, Chhitee = into small pieces. Sir Bhaaraiy = head down. 3. Nirvaiyraiy = who bears no enmity. Ruchaayay = initiates. Puhouch(i) Na Sukaiy = cannot reach him (harm him). Guvaaraiy = foolish. Raakha = protector; guard.

MEANING: A man, who overindulges in sensual pleasures spends his days and nights in such enjoyment. Intoxicated in his ego, he never recites Waheguru's Naam, and loses the game of his life in this gamble (to enjoy pleasures at the cost of his spirituality). Pause. He does not love the priceless Naam of Waheguru, but loves to vilify others. It is like beautifying a hut of grass, and burn fire around it. 1.

Such an individual carries the burden of immoral activities on his mind while he throws away the Amrit-Naam of Waheguru which is like someone carrying a heavy load of worthless saltpetre on his head (which does him no good, but he wastes a lot of useful energy). In other words, his situation like a man who wears rich clothes while surrounded by ash; which he has to shake off again, and again. 2.
He is like the foolish person who cuts the branch of a tree on which he is standing, and at the same time smiles while eating its fruit. At the end, he drops deep into a pit with his head down and is broken into small pieces. 3. He initiates enmity with (the saints of Waheguru) who bear no enmity with anyone, but the foolish cannot reach them (cause any harm to them) because the formless Waheguru is the guard of His devotees, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Uver(i) = others. Bhoolay = misguided. Bhermut = misled. Jaaniya = realize. Shoodhaakhur = pure word (Waheguru). Badeh(i) Tut(u) = gist of the Vedas. Pause. Pervirt(i) Maarug(u) = the path of worldly affairs. Jayta Kichh(u) = all that. Loag Puchaara = to entertain (impress others); a show off. Pergaasa = enlightenment.
Dherti = land (field). Sadhaiy = prepare for seeding. Buhou Bifh(i) = in many ways. Jaamaiy = sprouts. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Abhimaana = ego. 2. Neer(u) = water. Biovaiy = churns. Ut(i) Sherm = very hard labour. Naiynoo = butter. Reesaiy = to flow; float. Kahoo = nobody. 3. Khojut = searching. Sookha = comforts. Puraaput(i) = acquires. Laykh(u) = prewritten. Muthaama = on the forehead. 4.
MEANING: Everybody is misled (by the attractions of Maya), and misguided; they do not realize (the significance of Waheguru's Naam). But the devotee, who has Waheguru (His Naam) embedded in his heart, feels as if he has recognized the gist of the Vedas (does not need to study them). Pause. Whatever people do in their daily dealings is all fake (hypocritical) to impress others. They are in complete darkness as long as their mind is not enlightened. 1. Like a field in which no crop sprouts as long as grains are not seeded in there, even if it has been prepared well in many ways, a man's ego is not uprooted, and he cannot attain emancipation without Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 2.
Like a man who churns water but cannot get any butter out of it, no matter how hard he tries, one cannot find emancipation or connect with Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru (all his other efforts are like churning water). 3.

After searching a lot, I have come to the conclusion that only Waheguru's Naam is the source of all comforts, but only that lucky individual acquires it who has it prewritten on his forehead (in his fate), oh Nanak. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Undin = everyday; always. Sugul = all Pudaaruth = things of use. Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Mun Baanchhut = desired. Ful = reward. Pause.
Praan-Sookh-Daatay = of the Lord of life, and all comforts. Abinaashi = immortal. Anaathah Nath(u) = the guardian of the (spiritually) orphans. Deen = weak; humble. Dookh-Bhunjun = eradicator of all suffering. Ghut Vaasi = dweller (enlightener) of all hearts. 1. Sherdha = with reverence. Rus(u) = sweetness of the Naam(u). Vudbhaagay = very fortunate. Kul(i) = in the present era (world). Kulaysh = suffering; disputes; worries. Liv = meditation on. Jaagay = awakened; enlightened. 2. Kaam(u) = lust. Bundhun = bonds (chains) of Maya. Moh Mugun = lost in worldly attachments. Ahun = conceit. Mumta = attachments; parental love. Chhootaiy = emancipated. 3. Sumruth = omnipotent. Poor(i) Ruhhiyo = filling completely. 4.

MEANING: We should sing Waheguru's praise all the time; when one does that, he feels as if he has acquired all the useful materials of life, all comforts, all the supernatural powers, and all his desires (wishes) are fulfilled. Pause.
Let us all get together with the holy saints and recite the Naam of the immortal Waheguru, which is the provider (source) of our life and of all the comforts. Waheguru is the Lord of the (spiritually) orphans, the destroyer of all suffering of the humble, and resides in every heart. 1. Those are highly fortunate who sing, listen to, and share with others Waheguru's praise with love and reverence, and enjoy the sweetness of His Naam. Their minds remain focused on Waheguru's Naam, and all their suffering, disputes, and worries disappear. 2. All their bonds with Maya, including their lust, rage, lies, and vilification of others, get broken with Waheguru's Naam. Also, with Guru's grace, they get rid of their deep engrossment in worldly attachments and their ego. 3.
The Lord Waheguru is omnipotent, omnipresent, and very close to us. I am His devotee, and pray to Him that He be kind to me (and grant me His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.12.

MEANING: I will gladly lay down my life for the Feet (Shabad) of the Great Guru in whose shelter one recites Waheguru's Naam, and attains a high spiritual state with His Teachings. Pause. All one's sufferings, ailments, and worldly fears get eradicated when he comes to the shelter of the holy Saint (Guru) of Waheguru. The Guru is fully capable of doing everything; He recites Waheguru's Naam Himself, and makes others do the same, and He is the ship to ferry us across the world-sea. 1.

The Guru, whose Teachings dispel all one's doubts and worries, is the source of all the virtues, and injects them in those who are short in them, and makes them perfect. Those who obey the Huqam (act on the Advice of) Waheguru's supreme devotees never take births again. 2.

Those who serve Waheguru's devotee happily while singing Waheguru's praise, get their suffering of births and deaths (rebirths) terminated. Also, those whom Waheguru is kind to can keep the spiritual powers they acquire under their control by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3. The transcendence of those who are contented with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and who attain the high spiritual state, cannot be stated by the tongue. With the Guru's grace, such devotees are fully contented, and they attain salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.13.

I hear that You are close to me, but I do not see you, oh Waheguru. Misled (by the attractions of Maya), I wander around chasing them, and am suffering as a result. I pray to my Guru that He remove the curtain of my misgivings, and connect me with my Dear (Waheguru), so that my mind may bloom with new spiritual life. 1.

It feels like millions of days and years for me if I get disconnected from my Lord. With the joint prayer of the holy gathering, I got connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.1.24.

The poisonous effects of Maya are spreading in every direction, but I have Guru's Shabad in my mind, which is the antidote to kill the poison of Maya. (Because of Guru's Shabad), Waheguru embraced me as His own and protected me from the effects of Maya by extending His kind hand, and now, like the lotus flower, which grows in water yet stays above it, I feel completely unaffected by Maya. 1.
I am a non-entity, and what power do I have? It is all Waheguru's power which is operating in the universe. So, I rushed to the shelter of Waheguru, and prayed to Him that He protect me (against the effects of Maya) for the sake of the Guru (with whose Shabad I recite Waheguru's Naam), oh Nanak. 2.2.25.

Pause. The darkness of my ignorance has been dispelled, and my mind has been purified. Also, I have acquired the wisdom that enables one to distinguish between the good and the bad, and my mind has bloomed (been enlightened). Just like a wave, or froth on the surface of water, merges back into water, I, a slave of Waheguru, have merged into Him to become one with Him. 1.

The tastes of immoral activities and their enjoyments are useless on the journey (to union with Waheguru), which is very tough and where one has to pass many hard tests (of morality). Word Meaning: Kulmul = sins. Dugudh = burn. Khin Untar(i) = in a moment. Koat(i) = millions. Daan = ritualistic donations. Ishnaan = dips at holy places. Pause. Junjaar = Maya-related tasks. Birtha = useless. Sherm(u) = hard work. Ghaalut = puts in. Phokut = hollow. Sunkut = disaster; calamity; suffering. Chhootaiy = becomes free. Bhujun = recitation of Naam. Dhiyan = focus of the mind. Binus(i) = ends; is eradicated. Abhimaan = ego. 2.
MEANING: There is only one spiritual thing to do, and that is to recite Waheguru's Naam because of which all sins are burned away in a moment; and it is like (actually better than) millions of ritualistic donations, and dips at holy places. Pause.
All other knowledge without Waheguru is hollow, and the efforts to achieve it become worthless; they rather tighten one's bonds with Maya. On the other hand, the individual who worships Waheguru with a fully focused mind enjoys all comforts and achieves freedom from the suffering of rebirths. 1. I have come to Your shelter; kindly donate me the gift of Your Naam, oh the Perfect and the source of all comforts, Waheguru. I survive by reciting Waheguru's Naam, and because of this, my ego has been eradicated, oh Nanak. 2.66.89.

MEANING: Only that person is truly wise who develops attachment for the origin of everything, Waheguru. Only that person is the true leader and truly wealthy who becomes intoxicated with the love for Waheguru. Pause.

But the individual who does not realize his true benefit (which is spirituality, and not wealth) and deceives people is not wise; he is, in fact, foolish. Such an individual does not remember the attractive Waheguru, and, ignoring his true objective, he engages in affairs which are against his real interests (union with Waheguru). 1.

Only that individual is shrewd, intelligent, educated, valiant (who fights against the five demons), and wise, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru. Also, he is approved by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.67.90.

Theevun(i) = become. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is the basis of life of His devotees. They drink the Amrit-like sweet juice of His Naam, which is like enjoying all the luxuries of life provided by Maya. Pause. They accumulate the wealth and the jewels of Waheguru's Naam, which they stitch to their body and mind (never forget). They dye their mind madder red (which never fades) with their love for Waheguru, and stay intoxicated (blissful) with Waheguru's sweet Naam. 1. They stay deeply absorbed in Waheguru's Naam like the fish which is engrossed in the enjoyment of water. Just like the rain-bird, which gets contentment only by drinking the first rain-drop, Waheguru's devotees get contentment only after drinking a drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, oh Nanak. 2.68.91.

MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam, the man behaves like a ghoul (which has no spirituality). Whatever he does or has done binds him more strongly to Maya. Pause.
By serving (worshipping) anyone other than Waheguru, his life is spent in vain. He does not realize what (sad) situation he will be in when the Angel of Death takes his life away. 1.
I am Your slave, kindly, protect me (from the attacks of Maya), oh the compassionate Waheguru, which You always are. My Waheguru is the treasure (source) of all comforts, and the company of the Guru is my wealth and property. 2.69.92.

MEANING: The holy saints deal in Waheguru's Naam by their body and mind. Imbued in Waheguru's love, they sing His praise with love and reverence because of which no worldly attractions (or worldly problems) affect them. Pause.
They listen to Waheguru's praise with their ears, and recite His Naam – this is the character (routine) of the holy saints. Waheguru's lotus-like Feet are (His Naam is) permanently present in their heart, which they worship, and which is the basis of their life. 1.
You are very kind to the weak, so please, be benevolent to me, and listen to my (Nanak's) prayer. I wish that I should always recite Your Naam – which is the treasure for me – and sacrifice myself for You, oh, Waheguru. 2.70.93.

MEANING: Those who are without Waheguru's Naam (do not remember Him) have low wisdom. They do not remember the Lord, Waheguru, and are given (suffer) immense troubles. Pause. They do not develop any love for Waheguru, but love wealth so much that they accumulate it by using countless (all possible) means. But, like the earthen vessel used to hold water, which can break at any time, it does not take any time for the man to die (and leave wealth behind). 1. I, Nanak, am in Your shelter, and do not recognize anybody other than You, oh Waheguru. Kindly grant me Your worship so that I may stay fully absorbed in it, and be always intoxicated in its sweetness, oh Waheguru. 2.71.94.

There is none other as sweet as the omnipresent present Waheguru, which is also the source of supreme bliss. 1. All other rituals, like recitation of mantras, self-torturing, and effort to control the senses to achieve comforts, cannot match the worship of Waheguru even to a small degree.
