MEANING: One's thinking gets turned around (from evil to noble) on getting connected with Satguru, and he gets the Divine wisdom with which he is able to kill his worldly desires while living in the family. Only that devotee is considered to be a guru or the true Sikh whose soul gets connected with the Supreme Soul (of God). 1. Stitch yourself to Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. One finds Waheguru to be very sweet when he recites His Naam in Guru's shelter, as a result of which he is approved by Waheguru. Pause. One does not foster any affection for Waheguru without Satguru's shelter; the individual disconnected from Satguru loves only Maya. Such a Maya-engrossed individual may perform prevalent religious rituals, but his effort is as futile as flailing grain-less shells to obtain grains; he does not gain anything at all. 2. But, when one gets connected with the Guru, Waheguru's Naam takes root in his heart, and he acquires true love and affection for Him. With extreme love for the Guru, the devotee always sings the virtues of (praise) of Waheguru. 3. The individual, who applies his mind to serve the Guru, finds approval in the Waheguru Court. One acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart and connects with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Tihee Gooni = the three effects of Maya. Tirbhuvun = universe. Viyaapiya = influenced; affected. Boojh = wisdom. Boojhaayay = educates; enlightens. Chhootiyaiy = get emancipated. Giyani = holy saints. 1. Chauthaiy (Pud) = the fourth spiritual level (above the three effects of Maya). Chit(u) Laayay = focus mind. Vusaiy = makes dwelling; gets enshrined. Pause. Oopjaiy = grow spiritually. Ugiyaani = ignorant. Moohaayay = robbed. 2. Jaagay = awake; aware of. Oobray = salvaged. Bhuvjul(u) = world sea. Laaha = befit; spiritual achievement. Oordhaar(i) = enshrined in the heart. 3. Liv = concentration of mind (connect with God). Bayrra = boat. Toolhurra = raft. 4.

MEANING: The world is operating under the influence of the three effects of Maya; only the devotees in the shelter of Satguru are imparted the wisdom to realize this fact (so as to break loose from the bonds of Maya). One can confirm the fact from the holy saints that one can get freedom from the bonds of Maya only by applying his mind to (by keeping in mind) Waheguru's Naam. 1. Rise above the three effects of Maya (abandon them) and focus on attaining the fourth spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), oh my mind. But that happens only when you sing Waheguru's praise all the time to embed His Naam in the heart. Pause. People grow spiritually only with Waheguru's Naam and experience spiritual death when they forget it. The world is blind to ignorance, and, unaware, people are robbed of noble qualities (by the five demons). 2. On the other hand, Guru's Sikhs stay awake against (are aware of) the attacks of the demons and focus their mind on Waheguru's Naam with full devotion, as a result of which they are ferried across the world sea and find salvation, oh my brothers. 3. Those who come to Guru's shelter with full devotion, concentrate on Waheguru's Naam, which is the boat and the raft to cross the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Sookh Saagar(u) = source of all comforts. Hoarthaiy = any other place. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Dhaahi = cry loudly; wailing. 1.
Praani = oh, man. Jaahinga = will go; will die. Pause.
Dhaat(u) = (running around) for Maya. Kerm = rituals. Kmaaveh(i) = performs. Sundhiya = three-times-a-day (idol) worship. Turpun = offering water to the ancestors. Gayathri = A Hindu holy mantra consisting of three lines. Bin(u) Boojhaiy = without understanding the real objective of life, and Waheguru. 2. Jun = devotees. Triptaasay = contented. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 3. Mug(u) = path (to union with God). Ukheen Vaykhaiy = see with one's own eyes. 4.

MEANING: Satguru is the only source of all comforts in this world; there is no comfort anywhere else. The world is suffering from the disease of selfishness and ego because of which it keeps taking births and dying, and wails in suffering. 1. Serve the Satguru to accomplish comforts, you will waste away your precious human life and leave this world in suffering, oh man. Pause. The man performs many religious rituals under the influence of the three effects of Maya, with which he cannot enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. He does perform idol worship three times a day, offers water to the ancestors, and recites the Gayathri mantra, but without understanding the real objective of life and without reciting Waheguru's Naam, he suffers greatly. 2.

That devotee is highly fortunate whom Waheguru connects with Satguru and provides the opportunity to serve the Guru. Such devotees get rid of their selfishness and ego by reciting Waheguru's Naam, and they feel fully contented by drinking the sweet Naam-Amrit. 3.
This world is blind in the darkness of ignorance, and all its deeds are based on ignorance. They cannot find the path of righteousness without the Guru. If they connect with the Guru, they can see reality with their own eyes when they find Waheguru in their own heart, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Bhermaayee = wanders misled. Deen = helpless; humble. 1. Daata = provider; source of bliss. Aadhaaray = support; fofod (for the soul). Pause. Munsa = desires; wishes. Doobidha = indecisiveness; choosing between God and Maya. Sehj(i) = spiritual state of blissfulness. Apaara = limitless Waheguru. Chaakh(i) = by tasting. Kilvikh = sins. 2. Murhou = be dead for (kill) worldly desires. Jeevhou Sud Hee = become immortal (by merging into Waheguru). Koyee = some rare person. 3. Daat(i) = gift (of Naam). Bhaavaiy = likes. Jaapeh(i) = becomes visible; gets recognized. Sayee = that. 4.
MEANING: One suffers a great deal without Satguru and wanders around (spends his life) misled in any of the four eons (contrary to the beliefs of Hinduism, the Natural laws are the same no matter what eon it is). We are Your humble slaves, and You are the Lord in every eon; please give us the wisdom (to serve You) by Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 1. Please, be kind, and connect me with the Guru, which is the source of Your Naam, and by which I may connect with You, oh dear Waheguru. Satguru will bestow me with Your Naam, which is the basis of my life. Pause. I have killed (overcome) all my worldly desires as a result of which my indecisiveness (struggle to choose between Waheguru and Maya) has disappeared, and I have realized the Naam of the limitless Waheguru, and now I am fully absorbed in the blissful state of mind. Waheguru's Naam is the destroyer of all sins; my mind has been purified on tasting Waheguru's sweet Naam. 2. When one kills his worldly desires with Guru's Shabad, he becomes "one" with Waheguru and lives forever; he never experiences death again. Waheguru's Naam, which makes one immortal, is always sweet, but some rare devotee acquires it (in the Guru's shelter). 3.

The Lord, Waheguru, controls the invaluable gift of His Naam and gives only to the devotee whom He likes. Those who are imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam enjoy blissfulness and are recognized (honoured) in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Nistaara = freedom from the bonds of Maya; emancipation. 4.

MEANING: One attains a high level of concentration of mind (on Waheguru's Naam) and the wisdom that leads to a high spiritual level only when he serves Satguru. Waheguru's eternal Naam appears in his heart, and he gets absorbed in Him by virtue of His Naam. 1
The whole world is insane without Waheguru's Naam; the follower of his mind is blind and knows nothing about Guru's Shabad. He is misled by his false beliefs. Pause.
He is misled by his misgivings about Maya, which have three effects, and performs deeds to boost his ego, thereby becoming more strongly bonded to Maya. Births and deaths watch him carefully, and he suffers as he goes through different life forms. 2.
The whole world operates under the influence of the three effects of Maya and loses its dignity because of its selfishness and ego. But a Sikh of the Guru attains the fourth (highest) spiritual level and enjoys blissfulness with Waheguru's Naam. 3.
You are the creator of everything including the three effects of Maya; and everything happens as per Your wish, oh Waheguru. One overcomes his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and gets salvaged with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.12.

He, Himself, is the trader in the daily trading (business) of the world, and Himself is its Reliable Provider. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise with the grace of the Guru, oh my mind. Dear Waheguru, which is the real Amrit (sustains the life of the world), is physically inaccessible and unfathomable. Pause.

He listens to the needs of the world, sees everything, makes people make wishes of their choice, and makes them sing His praise with their tongue. He misleads some, so that they can find no right way of life, as if they were in a wilderness, while He shows others the right path of life. He, Himself, is everything in the world (the world is in His full control, and people simply dance to His tune), yet He is carefree. 2. He creates the world, and puts everybody to daily business designed by Him for each individual. Waheguru Himself prepares everybody for the business designed for him, and everybody dies when He kills them. He, Himself, is the ford (boat launching area), and Himself the boat to ferry the people across the sea of Maya. 3. He, Himself, is the world-sea, and Himself the ship which is steered by the Guru-Captain, and Himself propels it. Proyay = string the beads. Sootdhaar(u) = support (strength) for the world-necklace. Khinchay = pulls out the string. Dheh(i) Dhayri = collapses to a pile. 1. Nidhaan(u)= treasure. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Choyay = feeds dropwise. Pause. Thul(i) = on the land. Rijk(u) = food and other necessities. Smaahnda = delivers. 2. Nirmulaa = purifier. Keemut = worth. Alukh = invisible; incomprehensible. 3. Gehr = deep; unfathomable. Gumbheer(u) = never changing; unaffected by anything. Jayvud(u) = as great. Ghut = hearts. Bhogvaiy = enjoys. Naari = woman. MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the source of all the four sources of reproduction; Himself the smaller parts of the world, and Himself the planets. He, Himself, is the thread; Himself the countless beads; and Himself strings the beads-like world into a necklace, using Maya as the thread (the binding force). He provides the strength to the thread of the world-necklace, which collapses into a pile of dust when He pulls away the thread. 1. There is no other provider (support) for the world than Waheguru, oh my mind. Satguru possesses the treasure of Waheguru's Amrit-Naam, which He kindly injects dropwise (so as to be absorbed fully) in the mouth of the devotees (for them to recite the Naam with the tongue). Pause. Dear Waheguru is present in everybody, in the waters, and on the land; and only that happens that He wishes to do. He delivers food and other necessities of life to everybody, and there is no one else like Him. He makes people act the way He wants them to, and only what He wants happens in the world. 2. He is perfectly pure Himself and is the only purifier of the minds of His living beings. He alone knows His worth, and things happen only the way He chooses. He is invisible and is beyond comprehension, but He can show (reveal) Himself as He pleases. 3. He is unfathomable and never changes with external conditions; there is no one else as great as He is. He is present in every male and female, thus enjoying all the tastes of life. The dear Waheguru operates hidden in the world, but reveals Himself in the heart of a Gur Sikh, oh Nanak. 4.2.

He is present everywhere - in the forests, and in vegetation; He reveals Himself through the Guru. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam so as to feel contentment with its sweet essence, oh my mind. The devotee, who tastes Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with Guru's Shabad, finds it extremely sweet. Pause. Waheguru Himself is the holy place, and Himself the raft on which He swims across (ferries His devotees across) the sea of Maya. Waheguru Himself casts the net of Maya in which He, Himself (as the living beings) gets trapped by the gimmicks of Maya, like the fish which are attracted by the bait. Waheguru is infallible and never makes a mistake; there is none other like Him to be found. 2. (Being present in everybody), Waheguru Himself is the trumpet of the Yogis who blow into it, and He Himself is the music produced by the trumpet, and He Himself plays the tune of His choice. Waheguru Himself is the Yogi, and Himself endures the hardships of self-affliction (as some people do to please some deity). Waheguru is the Satguru, Himself the disciple, and Himself preaches to the world. 3. Waheguru, Himself exhorts (motivates) people to recite His Naam, and (being present in them), it is He who recites His Naam. MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the weighing scale, Himself the operator to weigh, and Himself weighs the load (the operation of the whole universe) in terms of the qualities of the individuals, their needs, and their deeds. (Being present in everybody), He Himself is the Lord and the trader, and Himself strikes deals (decides) for the living beings in terms of the path of life which they must follow (moral or immoral living). He, Himself, has created the earth, and balanced it with almost no weight in the other pan of the weighing scale (has held it in position without any visible support). 1. Dear Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of Amrit; the Perfect Guru instills it in the minds of His Sikhs, who find it to be very sweet. I have realized great comfort by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Pause. Waheguru, Himself is the earth, and the water (He is present everywhere), and whatever is happening, is caused by Him. He operates (controls) the world with His Huqam (laws), and has contained the oceans in the land. He creates His own fear in the minds of the living beings, and can cause a goat (a very humble man) to tie up a lion (a powerful, wicked man), and walk him (the latter) around (fully control him). 2. Waheguru Himself is the wood, and Himself has placed fire in it (fire can be generated in the dry wood when two pieces are rubbed (grazed) very hard against each other, yet the internal fire does not burn the wood) by the Huqam of Waheguru. He, Himself, kills and brings the living beings to life, and they breathe only with His Huqam. 3. Waheguru, Himself is the force (power) and Himself the monarch, and puts the world to business. The living beings lead their life exactly the way Waheguru commands them, and as He pleases. He Himself is the musical instrument, and Himself plays it; I am His slave, and dance to His tune, oh Nanak. 4.4.

He is the power to the powerless, and the pride for the weak who have no self-esteem. He is perfectly wise, and knows the needs of every living being, and is kind to protect them. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, which will serve as your identity (to be approved in Waheguru's Court), oh my mind. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy men, as a result of which you will not suffer the misery of rebirths. Pause. Waheguru Himself bestows the noble qualities on the individuals, and Himself approves them. He, Himself, doles out His largesse, and Himself is the eternal source of all largesse. Everything happens with His Huqam (commandments, or laws), and He Himself issues the orders (is the Supreme Commander). 2.
Dear Waheguru is the source of His worship (guides people through the Guru in how to worship Him), and He Himself bestows the fruits of His worship (instills love for Him among the people). I am His slave, and am always glad to offer my life to Him, oh Nanak. 4.5.

He Himself makes them sing His praise, and causes them to be absorbed in the Guru's Shabad. He, Himself, is the pen and the writer, and Himself writes the fortune of the people. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam zestfully, oh my mind. With good fortune, when you do that, you will be connected with the Guru, whereby you will be able to earn the benefit of blissfulness all the time, oh my mind. Pause.

Because He is present in everybody, it was indeed Waheguru who was the young cowgirls and Krishna who were grazing cows in the meadows of Bridabun by the banks of the River, Yamuna. It was the handsome Waheguru present in the dark Krishna who was playing flute. It was Waheguru, in the form of child Krishna, who killed the elephant Koovulliyapeerr(u), sent by Kuns(u) to kill Krishna. 2. Waheguru, Himself, creates the world as a rink (for sports of deeds) and watches His amazing feats. He created the child Krishna to kill Kuns(u) and his two very strong wrestlers – Chundoor and Kays(u). Waheguru Himself gives the power to people, but smashes the power of the foolish and the stupid (conceited). 3. Waheguru creates the whole world but keeps control over the lifestyles (activities) of its people in His own hands, like the owner of an animal, who controls it with a leash and which moves in the direction the owner pulls its chain. Whoever is overcome by his conceit (ego), is destroyed by Waheguru, while His devotees merge into Him by worshipping Him, oh Nanak. 4.6.

But a devotee who comes to the Guru's shelter (surrenders to the Guru) realizes Waheguru quickly. I have also come to Waheguru's shelter. 1. I have found love for Waheguru to be extremely dear to me. When I joined the company of the holy saints, I realized Waheguru, the source of bliss. Pause. Waheguru resides hidden in every heart day and night, but the unrefined and the ignorant man does not feel love for Him. Waheguru appears in the hearts of those devotees who connect with Satguru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru. They ponder on Waheguru's benevolent qualities, and sing His praise. 2. The heart of the devotee who comes to the Guru's shelter is enlightened; he feels fully blessed, and his evil thoughts are eradicated. He recognizes Waheguru's Soul inside him in the company of the holy saints of Waheguru, and feels blissful. 3. Word Meaning: Siyoun = with. Baydhiya = pierced; deeply attached. Jiyoun = just as. Neeraiy = water. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Tiyoun = like that. 1. Jul = (life-sustaining) water; Amrit. Hur(i) Naayee = Waheguru's Naam. Mungaan = beg for. Shaant(i) = peace. Paayee = acquired. Pause. Chaatrik = rainbird; a bird believed to drink only the first raindrop, and that too only during the time of the Swaanti planet. Bil-laayee = wails. Piyaas = thirst; longing. Sehjay = in the high spiritual state. Huriya = green; comes to life; mind blooms. Bhaayay Soobhaayee = with affection. 2. Munmukh(i) = follower of one's mind; Maya-engrossed. Bhookhay = hungry; discontented. Dehdis = in every direction. Doleh(i) = wavering of mind; restless mind. Joani Aavaiy = takes different life forms. Sujaayay = punishment. 3. Rus(u) = sweetness (of Naam). Deen = humble; helpless. Duyaal = kind. Bhuyyay = became. Trishna = fire of desires. Boojhaayee = put out. 4.

MEANING: My mind has been pierced (deeply attached to) with the love for Waheguru, and now I cannot live without Him. Like a fish which dies outside of water, I also will die without Waheguru's Naam. 1. Kindly give me the water (Amrit) of Your Naam, oh Waheguru. I always beg for the Naam-Amrit day and night, and can find peace only if I get that. Pause. Like a rainbird which cannot live without the rainwater and wails for that, my thirst for Waheguru's Naam- Amrit does not go away (and I am suffering). Guru's Sikh acquires the Amrit-water of Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter with his love and dedication, and his heart blooms in the comfort of the high spiritual state. 2.
(On the other hand), A Maya-engrossed man is always discontented while his mind runs uncontrolled in every direction, and he suffers without Waheguru's Naam. He gets punished in Waheguru's Court and keeps taking rebirths. 3.
But, if Waheguru is kind to him, he begins to sing Waheguru's praise and enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in his heart. My Waheguru has been kind to me, and the fire of my worldly desires has been put out by Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Achur(u) = which cannot be eaten; difficult to eat (selfishness and ego). Churaiy = eats; consumes (gets rid of). Sidh(i) = success (to unite with Waheguru). Boodh(i) = wisdom. Sur = arrows. Bheetar(i) = in. Bherm(u) = misgivings; doubts. 1. Gobind = Waheguru. Vudiyaayee = honour. Gurmut(i) = Guru's wisdom. Pergaasou = enlighten. Ruhou = keep. Shernaayee = in shelter. Pause. Aavun Jaana = come and go; birth and death. Chayt(i) = remember (Waheguru). Ajaana = ignorant. Smaana = getting absorbed. 2. Vuth(u) = Vust(u) = thing; belonging. Anoop = unparalleled. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Alukh(u) = invisible. Lukhayay = shows. 3. Chaakhi = tasted. Goongay = mute; one who cannot talk. Muthiyaayee = sweet (dish). Ruttan = jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Lookaiy Naahi = cannot be hidden. Lookaayee = hides. 4. Untarjaami = omniscient. Daat(i) = largess; gift. Uver(u) = else; other. 5.

MEANING: A man achieves success in his objective (of union with Waheguru) if he is able to get rid of his selfishness and ego, which are extremely difficult to control. With such control over his senses, he acquires a new wisdom, whereby his mind is pierced by the arrows of love for Waheguru, and all his misgivings are dispelled. 1. I am a slave of Yours, oh Waheguru. Kindly grant me the honour to be enlightened with Your Naam with Guru's wisdom and of staying in Your shelter all the time (obey Your Will). Pause.

This world is a temporary home where everybody comes and goes (takes birth and dies); so, remember Waheguru (keep Him in mind) all the time, oh my ignorant and foolish mind. However, one gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam only if He is benevolent to connect him with the Guru. 2. Only Waheguru knows the worth of His invaluable possession (His Naam), and only that lucky individual receives it whom Waheguru grants Himself. This invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam) is unparalleled in beauty, is inaccessible, and incomprehensible. Only the Perfect Satguru "shows" the invisible item - Waheguru's Naam. (One acquires it only in Satguru's shelter). 3. The sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam is like the sweet dish of a mute person who cannot describe its taste; only the individual who has enjoyed its taste knows it. However, like a shiny jewel, the bearer of Waheguru's Naam cannot hide it even if he tries very hard to do so. 4. Everything belongs to You, and You are the Lord of everyone, oh the omniscient Waheguru. Only Waheguru can give the gift of His Naam to select people, and nobody else has that ability, says Nanak, the slave of Waheguru. 5.9.

Word Meaning: Titookay = Shabads with each stanza having three sentences. Jaacheen = (I) wish for. Araadheen = (I) worship. Keeta = created; predetermined. Vudayra = great; rich. Khaakoo = dust. Rulsi = will mix (be a part of). Nirunkar = formless (God). Bhuv-khundun = destroyer of rebirths. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of the world. 1. Daateen = largesse. Raajaan = fully contented. Maanus(u) = man. Buppurra = poor; powerless. Salaaheen = to praise. Moohtaaja = subservience; indebtedness. Pause. Bhookh = appetite for worldly attractions. Nikhoot(i) = never ending. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Smaanay = getting absorbed. 2.
Undin(u) = every day; always. Vukhaani = recite. Oopdaysh(u) = teachings. Kaan(i) = indebtedness. Jumaani = of the Jum (Angel of death). Kirpal(u) = kind. 3.
Duyyaala = merciful. Vertaiy = operates; happens. Baal = children. Goopaala = oh, God. Jun(u) = slave; devotee. Kirpaala = oh, kind God. 4.

MEANING: I can be contented only with Your largess, oh my Waheguru. What power does the poor man have to deserve any praise, and what for should I be indebted to him, oh Waheguru? Pause. Who should I wish for (pray to), or worship for blessings, when I know that only those things will happen which have been predetermined by God for everybody? All those so-called great or rich people will eventually mix with (will become a part of) dust. The fearless, formless, and the destroyer of rebirths, Waheguru, is the only one who provides all the comforts of the nine mythical treasures of the world. 1.
Whosoever worships God acquires everything he wishes for, and all his appetite for worldly possessions is gone. Waheguru, which is the provider for all comforts, gives His devotees such wealth (of His Naam) which neither runs out nor leaves them somewhere else. Waheguru first connects His devotees to Satguru, and then Satguru connects them with Waheguru. They enjoy bliss and remain absorbed in a high spiritual state. 2.

Remember Waheguru, worship Him, and recite His Naam all the time, oh my mind. Listen to (and act on) the Teachings of the Guru and of the other holy saints, oh my mind. By doing so, all your indebtedness (of your bad deeds, if any) to the Angel of justice will be cleared. Those, whom Waheguru is kind to, start to recite Guru's Bani (Shabads). 3.
You are kind to all living beings, but who can determine the worth of Your kindness, oh Waheguru? Everything happens as per Your will; who are we ignorant children to go against Your Will, oh, the provider and nourisher of the world, Waheguru? I, Nanak, am Your slave; please protect me from the attacks of Maya like a father protects his children from any danger, oh kind Waheguru. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Chautookay = Shabads with each stanza having four sentences. Salaahiyaiy = sing praise. Bhaayee = oh, brothers. Dhaar = by embedding. Kurni = performance; act. Saar = supreme. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Chhaar = ash; dust. Vaariya = to sacrifice life. Ekunkaar = Waheguru. Adhaar = basis of life. 1. Soyee = that. Sach(u) = everlasting (Waheguru). Janaaya = gave the understanding. Tis(u) = that (Waheguru). Uver(u) = other. Pause. Vihoonay = without; devoid of. Puch(i) = in agony. Soach = purity of mind. Agumm = inaccessible. Dhunee = Lord; Waheguru. Aavun(u) Jaan(u) = birth and death. Chookyee = removed; broken. Jhootthi = false; short-lived. Dooni = of the world. Munee = pride; respect. Koat(i) = millions. Oodhaarda = salvages. Kunee = a drop; a very small amount. 2. Sodhiya = analyzed. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Anik = countless. Kerm = rituals. Thaakiya = exhausted. Bundhun = bonds (of Maya). Chaaray Koondaan = all the four directions. Jaayay = room (in God's Court). Vudbhaageen = fortunate. 3. Nirmula = pure; holy. Nudr(i) = (kind) sight. Praaput(i) = acquirement. Mudhay = in; among. Virla = rare. Rutta = imbued. 4.

MEANING: We should sing praise of Waheguru, Guru, by enshrining His Naam in body and mind, oh my brothers. To embed the everlasting Waheguru's Naam in one's mind is the supreme act in one's life. The mind, in which Waheguru's Naam does not sprout, will eventually become a part of dust (even though all bodies turn into dust, but the devotees' souls merge into Waheguru). I am a sacrifice to the holy saints who worship Waheguru as the basis of their lives. 1. Only that eternal power (Waheguru) should be worshipped, which is the cause of all happenings, oh my brothers. The Perfect Guru has clarified that there is none other like Him. Pause. Countless people, who are devoid of Waheguru's Naam, die in agony. One's mind cannot be cleansed without Waheguru's Naam, because only the inaccessible Waheguru is the purifier. One's respect in society is false (short-lived), and the cycle of birth and death for him never gets broken. (On the other hand), A Sikh of the Guru salvages countless people by implanting Waheguru's Naam with a drop of the Naam-Amrit in their heart. 2. I have analyzed all the Simritis and the Shastras, but one's misgivings are not dispelled without Satguru. One may grow exhausted from performing countless rituals, yet one's bonds with Maya grow stronger and stronger. I have searched in all four directions, but there is no room in Waheguru's Court for you without (taking the shelter of) Satguru, oh my friends. The people with great fortune get connected with the Guru, and recite Waheguru's Naam in His shelter. 3. Waheguru is always pure, and so are the Sikhs of the Guru (who worship Waheguru). But only those individuals get to acquire His Naam whom He is kind to. But such devotees are very rare - maybe one in a million. I am imbued in Waheguru's Naam, listening to which, my body and mind have become pure, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Juou Luou = as long as. Bhaaou Abhaaou = love and hate; likes and dislikes. Maanaiy = believes in; practises. Tuou Luou = till then. Dooraayee = distance; separation. Aan = other. Apna = minme. Beech(u) = between. Bikhaayee = poisonous Maya. 1. Maadhvay = oh, Waheguru. Boojhaayee = understanding; wisdom.

Guhoun = I hold; seek. Oat = shelter; support. Moohut and Chusaayee are both units of a very short time. Pause. Moogudh = foolish; ignorant. Achayt = unaware. Chunchul Chit = fickle mind. Praanput(i) = Lord of life (God). Tiyaag(i) = abandoning. Aan = with the other (Maya). Ruchiya = mingled well; friends with. Oorjhiyou = deeply involved with. Bairaayee = enemies; evils. 2. Soag(u) = grief. Biyaapaiy = befalls; attacks. Aap(u) = self; selfish interests. Thaapaiy = establishes; promotes. Saakut = Maya-engrossed individual. Bukna = senseless talk. Jhoolaayee = blows away. 3. Praadh(u) = sins; bad deeds. Achhaadiyou = covered. Laykha = account of deeds. Ootthaayee = carry; keep it to Yourself. 4.

MEANING: As long as a man has likes and dislikes for people (based on their relationships with him, and on other factors like colour, creed, ethnicity, etc.), he will stay separated from God till then. When a person makes a distinction between his own (people) and the others in his treatment (favours his friends only), he has a wall of poisonous Maya between him and God. 1. Kindly, grant me the wisdom to take the shelter of the Guru or other holy saints, so that I may not forget You, even for a moment, oh Waheguru. Pause.

Oh, my foolish, unaware (ignorant), and fickle mind, why don't you realize that you have ignored the Lord of your life, Waheguru, and have a strong bond with your enemies (the five demons), because of which you are deeply involved in evil deeds? 2.

The devotees of Waheguru get the wisdom in the company of the holy saints by which they do not promote their selfish interests, as a result of which, no grief befalls them. Also, consider the senseless talk of a Maya-engrossed person as baseless as blowing wind, in which lighter things like papers or dust are blown away, and have no permanent place.

3. (The kind) Waheguru keeps a cover on countless shameful deeds of the man about which nothing can be said (as they are not known to others). I, Nanak, am a humble devotee of Waheguru, and have come to His shelter. Kindly keep the account of my bad and immoral deeds to Yourself, oh dear Waheguru. 4.3.

Soritth(i) Mehla 5: Poottar, kluttar, loak, greh(i) bunita, Maya sunbundhayhi. Unt kee baar ko khuraa na hosi, subh mithiya usnayhi. 1. Ray nur, kaahay puporhou dayhi. Ood(i) jaayaygo dhoom(u) baadro, ikk(u) bhaajhou Ram(u) sunayhi. Ruhaou. Teen(i) sungiya kur(i) dayhi keeni, jul, kookur, bhusmayhi. Hoyay aamro greh(i) meh(i) baiyttha, Kern Kaarun bisrohi. 2. Anik bhaant(i) kur(i) muniyay saajay, kaachay taag(i) purohi. Toot(i) jaayaygo soot(u) baapuray, phir(i) paachhaiy puchhtohi. 3. Jin(i) toom sirjay, sirj(i) suvaaray, Tis(u) dhiyaavhou din(u) raiynahi. Jun Nanak Prubh kirpa dhaari, mein Satgur oat guhayhi. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Kluttar = Bunita = wife. Loak = people; relatives. Greh(i) = house. Sunbundhayhi = relations. Unt Kee Baar = at the time of death. Khura = pure; selfless; helpful; Hosi = will. Mithiya = false. Usnayhi = those who love. 1. Puporhou = pamper; treat well. Dayhi = body. Ood(i) = fly away; disappear. Dhoom(u) Baadro = clouds of smoke. Bhaajhou = worship. Snayhi = loving. Pause. Teen Sungiya = collection of three. Jul = (thrown in) water. Kookur = (feed to) dogs or other animals. Bhusmayhi = burn (in fire). Aamro = immortal. Kern Kaarun = Waheguru.

Bisrohi = forgets. 2. Anik Bhaant(i) = in countless ways. Muniyay = beads. Saajay = created. Kaachay Taag(i) = raw (weak) thread. Purohi = stringed. Soot(u) = cotton (thread). Baapuray = poor; weak. Paachhaiy = afterwards. Puchhtohi = repent. 3. Sirjay = created. Tis(u) = Him (Waheguru). Rainahi = night. Guhayhi = held. 4.
MEANING: All relatives of the man in his life, including his sons, wife, friends, and other relatives, are bonded to him because of Maya (their worldly needs and desires); none of them stands with (supports) him at the time of his death, proving that all their love for him was false. 1. (When you know that you are not going to live here forever), then what do you pamper your body for, oh man? Like a cloud of smoke, you will disappear quickly; so, worship the loving (dear) Waheguru. Pause. The human body, created by God, ends in three ways: it is thrown into a river, fed to dogs or other animals (as the Parsees do), or burned or buried, which turns it into ash. Still, the ignorant man forgets Waheguru, who is the creator of everything, and he lives in the house as if he were immortal. 2.
Waheguru has created the necklace-like world, with countless forms of living beings as its beads, but the thread on which the beads are strung is very weak. When this weak thread breaks (the human soul leaves the body), the man has to repent afterward (because he did not keep Waheguru in mind). 3.
Remember Waheguru day and night, which not only created you, but also provided you with all the necessities of life. Waheguru has been very kind to me, and like a slave, I have sought the shelter of Satguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

He protects His devotees by holding them to His neck (embracing them) affectionately. 3.
With Waheguru's great magnificence and with His amazing splendour, I have achieved the objective of my life (union with Him) successfully. I was lucky to be connected with the Perfect Guru, because of whom all my suffering and troubles have been eradicated, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Sookhiyay = enjoying comfort. Paykhaiy = seems; appears. Bhaanaiy = for him; from his perspective. Kern Kraavunhaar = doer and getting others to do. Soami = Lord; God. Sunjogi = union (of comforts and discomforts). 1. Bherm(u) = doubt; misgiving. Guvaata = lost; got rid of. Bhoola = misled. Suglo = everywhere. Braham = Waheguru. Puchhaata = recognized. Pause. MEANING: Everybody appears to be comfortable to the individual who lives in comfort; likewise, a sick man thinks that everybody is sick. But, the Lord, Waheguru, who has created the world, keeps comforts and discomforts for individuals in His own hands (under His control). 1. Similarly, the devotee, who has gotten rid of his misgivings by recognizing Waheguru's presence everywhere, thinks that nobody is misled in life, oh my mind. Pause. A devotee, who has achieved peace of mind in the shelter of the Guru, believes that everybody enjoys peace of mind. But an individual who is suffering from the disease of haumein, wails (and cries for help) all his life from birth to death. 2.

The individual, who gets the kohl of Divine Knowledge in the eyes of his mind, gets fully enlightened; but, the Maya-engrossed individual cannot see any light (have clear thinking) in the darkness of ignorance, and continues to be misled in life again and again. 3.
Listen to Nanak's request, oh, my Lord: I wish that my mind finds comfort in the shelter of the Guru wherever He sings Your praise. 4.6.

Undh Koop = dark well. Nibaahi = support till the end. 4.

MEANING: I offered my body, my wealth, and my mind to the holy saints by whose grace I recited Waheguru's Naam, and everything became all well (successful) for me. 1.
There is no other provider (of Waheguru's Naam) than the holy saints. All those who take shelter of the Guru are salvaged by Him. Pause. Millions of sins are erased when one serves the super devotees of Waheguru, and when he sings Waheguru's praise with sweetness and reverence in their company. One attains blissfulness in this world by serving the devotees of Waheguru, and goes with a shiny face (pure heart) to the next world; but it is only with great fortune that one gets to enjoy the company of such devotees. 2.
How much can you praise a super devotee with one tongue when he (the holy saint) is overflowing with countless virtues? We should seek shelter in the holy saints who are "one" with the inaccessible, incomprehensible, and immortal Waheguru. 3.
I am devoid of any noble quality, am ignoble, without any spiritual guide, and I am a sinner, but I wish for the shelter of the holy saints. I am drowning in the dark well of worldly attachments. Please protect me till the end, oh Waheguru, begs Nanak. 4.7.

One can get emancipation from worldly bonds (and hence from rebirths) only in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. MEANING: After a deep search, I have found out that Waheguru's Naam is the most essential (supreme) gift by Him to man. Millions of sins are eradicated by reciting Waheguru's Naam even for a moment in the shelter of the Guru, and one swims across the world sea. 1. Take in the sweet Naam-Amrit of Waheguru, oh, the knowledgeable and wise man. One's mind gets great contentment by listening to the Amrit-like Shabad of the Guru. Pause. By listening to the Guru's holy Shabad, one acquires freedom from the bonds of Maya, spiritual food for the mind, a perfect way to live, and union with Waheguru, the provider of all comforts. The Perfect and omnipresent Waheguru, which is also the carver of our fates, bestows the gift of His Naam to us. 2. So, one should listen to His Naam with the ears, sing His praise with the tongue, and remember Him in the heart. That Lord is the creator, and omnipotent; nobody is without Him (He is present in everybody). 3. I am very fortunate to have been given the precious human life; please be kind to Nanak, who begs You to provide him the shelter of the Guru, so that he may sing Your praise and recite Your Naam all the time, oh Waheguru. 4.10.

Pergut bhuyyee suglay joog untar(i) Gur Nanak kee vudiyaayee. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Ishnaan(u) = bathing (cleansing of mind). Simer = remember (Waheguru). Aroaga = healthy (disease-free). Bighun = obstructions; impediments. Laathay = are removed. Bhulay Sunjoga = favourable combination. 1. Soobhaakhiya = spiritually beautiful utterings (narrations). Pause. Amit(i) = immeasurable. Vudaayee = greatness. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of His worship. Paiyj = dignity. Aad(i) = from the beginning. Bird(u) = innate nature. 2.
Bhoonchou = take in; enjoy. Juraa = old age. Muraa = death. Taap(u) = suffering. 3. Serb Kulaa = all powers (to fight against evil). Bun(i) Aayee = came together. 4.

MEANING: By reciting Waheguru's Naam, one bathes and cleanses his mind in the pool of Naam-Amrit, as a result of which his mind and body, both, become completely healthy. When a favourable combination of fortunes comes together, one seeks Waheguru's shelter, as a result of which, millions of impediments in life are eradicated. 1. Satguru has spoken beautiful Shabads in praise of Waheguru. Sing, listen to, and recite Satguru's Shabad all the time, and the Perfect Guru will protect you, oh my brother. Pause.
The eternal Lord has immeasurable magnificence, loves His devotees, and is always kind. It is an innate great virtue of Waheguru from the very beginning that He protects His devotees and nurtures them. 2. Take in the Naam-Amrit of Waheguru as your spiritual food at all times, and always recite it with your tongue. By singing praise of Waheguru all the time, one loses the fear of old age, death, and all types of suffering. 3. With the grace of Guru Nanak, whose glory (greatness) has spread all over the world, the Lord, Waheguru, has listened to my request and has given me all the powers (to fight against the attacks of Maya). 4.

NOTE: Most of the time, the word "Ishnaan" meaning bathing, has been used to imply cleansing of the mind in Sri Guru Granth Sahib, and not of the body. Washing the body to keep it clean and to shake off laziness is important, but not required in Sikhism. Guru Sahiban have disapproved of any ritualistic bathing in holy places as a means to cleanse the mind. Out of scores of such Shabads, only a couple are given below in which "Ishnaan" clearly implies cleansing of mind.

- ਸੋਰਠਿ ਮਹਲਾ 1 ਅਸਟਪਦੀ (636)॥ --- ਜਲਿ ਮਲਿ ਕਾਇਆ ਮਾਜੀਐ ਭਾਈ ਭੀ ਮੈਲਾ ਤਨ ਹੋਇ॥ ਗਿਆਨਿ ਮਹਾ ਰਸਿ ਨਾਈਐ ਭਾਈ ਮਨੁ ਤਨੁ ਨਿਰਮਲ ਹੋਇ॥ --------

Meaning: We wash our bodies with water by rubbing them well, but they get dirty again. But, if we take a bath in the great-tasting Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam), our body and mind both get purified, oh my friends.

- ਗਉੜੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5 (188)॥ ਸੰਤ ਕੀ ਧੂਰਿ ਮਿਟੇ ਅਘ ਕੋਟਿ॥ ਸੰਤ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ ਜਨਮ ਮਰਨ ਤੇ ਛੋਟ॥ ਸੰਤ ਕਾ ਦਰਸੁ ਪੂਰਨ ਇਸਨਾਨ॥ ਸੰਤ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਤੇ ਜਪੀਐ ਨਾਮੁ॥ ----- 46॥

Meaning: Millions of sins are eradicated by the dust of the feet of the Guru (by reciting and acting upon His Shabads). One is relieved of the birth-death cycle with the grace of the Guru. The sight of the Guru is the perfect bath in itself because we recite Waheguru's Naam (and cleanse our mind) by His grace. ------ 46.

Both these Shabads prove beyond doubt that "Ishnaan" or bathing implies cleansing of mind.

MEANING: We are the children of “One” Waheguru, and have the same Father (Creator), and you are my friend, oh my dear Guru Ji. Please listen to my request, and show me the holy sight of Waheguru, oh my friend (Guru Ji). I will sacrifice my mind for (surrender it to) you. 1. I will offer my life for the dust of Your feet (serve You unconditionally), and my mind will be fully in Your control (I will do whatever pleases You), oh my friend. Pause. I will massage Your feet, wash them by rubbing them well, and offer my mind to You. I have come to Your shelter; please advise me on how to connect with Waheguru, oh my dear friend, Guru Ji. 2. (The Guru advises): Get rid of your ego, and take Waheguru’s shelter; whatever He says, obey it gladly. Offer your soul, mind, and body in His service; this is how you get to have His holy sight, oh my friend. 3.
With the benevolence and the grace of the Guru, I have found Waheguru’s Naam to be very sweet. With the benevolence of the Guru, I, a slave of Waheguru, have “seen” the clan less Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 4.1.12.

MEANING: Waheguru is the Lord of countless galaxies, and is the provider for all living beings. He nourishes and looks after us all the time. Despite all His great virtues and kindnesses, I am such an ignorant person that I have not valued even a single of His countless noble qualities. 1.

I do not know how to express my true praise and reverence for Him; I chant words like Waheguru and Guru without understanding their deeper meaning. People still call me a devotee of Waheguru simply because of my chanting “Waheguru, and Guru”. Pause.

Waheguru, which is kind to the poor and the powerless (humble), and is the ocean of all comforts, is present in every heart. He is always with us, and sees and hears everything, but I am so foolish that I think Him to be separate (far away) from us. 2.

Waheguru is limitless, but I describe Him as being limited. What do I know about what He is like? I pray to my Satguru to educate the foolish me about Waheguru. 3.

I do not know what there is about me that, despite the fact that I am foolish and have committed countless sins, I have still been salvaged. (There is one thing for sure that) those, who have seen Guru Nanak with their mental eyes, and have “listened” to His Preaching (and acted on them), are never born again in any life form. 4.2.13.

MEANING: Listen to this amazing happening, oh my friends; the Waheguru, about which we had heard that He is beyond our comprehension, has been "shown" by Satguru in my heart (Satguru has connected me with Him). Pause. Now all my doubts and worries have been cleared, and I am fully absorbed in the high spiritual state. Also, all my senses have become comforting to my mind, and my inverted mind (turned away from Maya and towards Waheguru) has bloomed in bliss. 1. Those demons (lust, greed, rage, etc.) which used to torment me before have been frightened now (are under my control, and no longer affect me). Now, they rather beg me to save them from the wrath of Waheguru, and assure me that they will be my slaves as they are in my shelter now. 2. Waheguru has thrown open the doors to the treasure of His worship, but only those lucky individuals who have it predestined for them by Waheguru reap its benefits. The Guru has kindly given me the jewel (Waheguru's Naam) because of which my body and my mind have become peaceful. 3. The Guru has given me only a drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with which I will no longer experience spiritual death as I have become "one" with the eternal Waheguru. The Guru has endowed me with the treasure of Waheguru's worship, and now nobody will ask me about the account of my deeds, oh Nanak. 4. 3.14.

MEANING: By worshipping Waheguru, a man becomes completely healthy – mentally and physically - and attains blissfulness. On the other hand, forgetting the loving Waheguru results in countless sufferings for the individual. Pause. The man, whose mind is completely devoted to the lotus-like soft Feet of Waheguru (His Naam), feels fully contented. But the individual, who does not get Waheguru's Naam implanted in his heart, always feels thirsty for worldly desires. 1. Those who seek Waheguru's shelter are blissful in there. But those who forget the carver of our fates - the omnipresent Waheguru - are among the sufferers. 2. By listening to the Advice of the Guru, those who get completely absorbed in Waheguru's Naam enjoy great blissfulness, but those who forget Waheguru and turn their faces away from the Guru (do not heed His Advice) are put to suffer in torturous hell (frightening cycle of rebirths). 3. (But we cannot entirely blame such individuals) because they simply perform the way they are predestined by Waheguru, and such is their behaviour. I have taken shelter of the holy saints (the Guru), as a result of which of I am fully absorbed (am unaware of the surroundings) in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.4.15.

Pooruk = fulfiller. Ghutaan = of hearts. Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.

MEANING: Just as a rajah is deeply involved in his administrative affairs, and an egoist man gets pleasure in the tasks which boost his ego, and just as a greedy person cannot resist greed, a Giyani (devotee of Waheguru) is fully imbued in his love for Waheguru. 1. It perfectly behoves a devotee that he believes in the nearness of Waheguru to him, serves Satguru, and feels fully contented with singing His praise. Pause. Just as an addict cannot stay away from intoxicants, and the land is dear to a landlord, and just like a child loves milk and stays satisfied with it, the holy men love Waheguru. 2. Just as literati are busy in (enjoying) literary activities, and a blind man feels blissful when he gets his sight back, and just as the tongue is greedy for (attracted to) different tastes, a devotee of Waheguru loves to sing His virtues (praise). 3.

Waheguru is the Master of all hearts (knows their wishes) and fulfills the wishes of their choice. I had a great thirst (yearning) for Waheguru's holy sight, and, being omniscient, He has connected me to Him, says Nanak, thankfully. 4.15.16.

MEANING: A newly married bride, whose husband has gone away to some other land, yearns for his company in the romantic rainy season when the sky is fully overcast with layers of pretty clouds, and the flashes of lightning scare her as she feels lonely on the bed and gets no sleep. 1. She complains to her mother that she has not heard from her dear husband this time. In the past, he would send her four letters after every koas he travelled. Pause. Using her sad state of mind caused by her separation from her husband (the root cause of which is purely physical love and which is short-lived) as an example, Guru Sahib says that how can a human bride afford to forget the extremely dear Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts (and the union of which is everlasting). (As in the olden days when people would go on the rooftop to find if their desired family member was on his/ her way home). The human bride also goes on the rooftop to look for Waheguru, but her eyes well up with tears when she cannot see Him. 2. She does not realize that Waheguru resides close by; it is the wall of selfishness and ego which separates the human bride from Waheguru and does not allow her to “see” Him. Just like the paper wall in the paper spinning toy, which obstructs our vision to look inside it when it is spinning, (even though He is so close to us), Waheguru seems far away to the ignorant human-bride because we cannot see Him. 3. The Lord of all became benevolent to me, whereby all my suffering has been eradicated. When one’s wall of selfishness and ego is demolished, he connects with the kind Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4. Emperor, Waheguru, is the treasure (source) of all virtues; the Guru connected me with Waheguru, fulfilling my wish. Now, all my misgivings have disappeared, oh my mother. Second Pause. 11.61.

MEANING: You bring back our lost spirituality (or any other desired thing), emancipate us from worldly bonds, and are the destroyer of all our suffering, oh Waheguru. But I do not perform any noble deeds, know nothing about my moral obligations (or divinity), am greedy, and a worshipper of wealth. However, people still call me (consider me) Your devotee. Kindly protect me (from the attacks of Maya) because now it is a matter of the honour of Your shelter too, oh Waheguru. 1. You are the pride of the poor (who enjoy no respect), oh Waheguru. My Waheguru transforms the insignificant individuals into important persons. I am a sacrifice to His amazing powers. Pause. When a child commits countless offences because of his natural inclination, his father reprimands and teaches him how to behave, but later hugs him too. Similarly, Waheguru forgives our past blunders and sins, and shows us the right path for the future. 2. When the omniscient Waheguru has the ability to know our sins and to forgive us, to whom can (and why should) we complain? He is not pleased just by saying or explaining His virtues; He protects our dignity (against the attacks of Maya) only when and as He pleases. I have tested all other shelters; only Waheguru's shelter is everlasting. 3. When the Lord, Waheguru, is kind, He listens to our prayers of His own volition. He connects us with the Perfect Guru, who then connects us with Waheguru (only the Guru can connect us with God) whereby all our worries get eradicated. The Guru puts Waheguru's Naam in our mouth (on our tongue to recite) as the medication (to treat our haumein) as a result of which we sleep (spend our life) in comfort, oh Nanak. 4.12.62.

The omnipotent Lord listens to our prayers and salvages us by severing all our worldly chains (bonds). He connects His devotees with Him by honouring them, and they become very famous in the world, oh Nanak. 2.29.93.

Word Meaning: Vus(i) = in control. Durbaaray = in the courts of rulers. Ungikaar(u) = showed benevolence. Bhuv-nidh(i) = the world sea, which leads to rebirths. Paar(i) Ootaaray = ferries across; salvages. 1. Kaaruj = tasks; objectives. Suvaaray = makes successful. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = treasure of compassion. Poorun = perfect; omnipresent. Pause. MEANING: Our omnipresent Lord, Waheguru, is perfect (in every way). He is kind to the helpless and is the treasure (source) of benevolence. He makes all the tasks of His holy devotees fully successful. Pause. He puts all living beings under the control of His holy saints (who show them respect) and also earns them respect in the courts of the rulers. The Lord shows benevolence to His devotees and ferries them across the world sea. 1. Waheguru's saints are given a warm welcome everywhere, and there is no shortage of anything for them. Waheguru puts the robe of His worship on His devotees whereby His magnanimity is known everywhere, oh Nanak. 2.30.94

Word Meaning: Siyoun = with; for. Servun = (with) ears. Ur(u) = and. Pause. Sungut(i) = company. Maadho = Waheguru. Putit = immoral. Pooneet = pure; pious. Kaal(u) = death. Biyaal Jiyoun = like a python. Doalay = waves; follows. 1. Phoon(i) Toh(i) = you too. Gruss(i) = capture. Aousur = time; opportunity. 2.
MEANING: Foster love for Waheguru, oh my mind. Listen to the virtues of Waheguru with your ears, and sing His praise with your tongue. Pause. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the company (shelter) of the Guru, whereby the filth of your immorality will be purified. Death is following you like a python with its mouth wide open. 1. Keep it in mind that it will capture you too, today or tomorrow (sooner or later), oh my friend. So, worship Waheguru as the time is running out for you, oh Nanak. 2.1.

Soritth Mehla 9: Mun kee mun hee maah(i) ruhee. Na Hur(i) bhujay, na teeruth sayvay, choati kaal(i) guhee. 1. Ruhaou. Daara, meet, poot, ruth, sumput(i), dhun, poorun subh muhee. Word Meaning: Teeruth Sayvay = recited Naam*. Choati = a long strand (lock) of hair in the middle of the head. Kaal(u) = death. Guhee = held. Pause.

Daara = wife. Ruth = chariots. Sumput(i) = wealth. Muhee = land. Uver = others. Mithiya = false. Bhujun = worship. Suhee = real; everlasting. 1. Phirt, Phirt = wandering (through many life forms). Joog = eons. Haariyo = tired. Maanus Dayh = human body. Buriya = turn; opportunity. 2.

NOTE: Normally, teeruth means a holy place (especially a Hindu one). But according to Guru Granth Sahib, the real truth is Waheguru Naam or pondering on the Guru's Shabad. There are many holy Shabads which certify his assertion, but only one will be quoted here.

- ਧਨਾਸਰੀ ਮਹਲਾ 1 ਛੰਤ (687)॥ ਤੀਰਥਿ ਨਾਵਣ ਜਾਉ ਤੀਰਥੁ ਨਾਮੁ ਹੈ॥ ਤੀਰਥੁ ਸਬਦ ਬੀਚਾਰੁ ਅੰਤਰਿ ਗਿਆਨੁ ਹੈ॥ ----------

MEANING: People go to take a dip at holy places, but the real holy place is Waheguru's Naam, and to ponder on Guru's Shabad to acquire Divine knowledge in mind (make a connection with Waheguru). ----------

MEANING: My wishes remained buried in my mind. I did not recite Waheguru's Naam, nor did I ponder on Guru's Shabad when death grabbed me by the strand of my hair. Pause. One must realize that all worldly attachments with one's wife, friends, sons, chariots, wealth, the entire piece of land, and the like are false (short-lived). Only Waheguru's worship is one's real possession. 1. One gets tired of going through countless life forms for eons before they get a human body. Now (the human life) is the turn (opportunity) for the man to unite with Waheguru; I wonder why he does not remember Him now, oh Nanak. 2.2.

Soritth Mehla 9: Mun ray, kaun koomut(i) taiyn leeni? Pur daara, nindiya rus(i) ruchiyo, Ram bhugut(i) neh(i) keeni. 1. Ruhaou. Mookt(i) punth(u) jaaniyo taiyn naahin, dhun jobun kuou dhaaya.

Word Meaning: Koomut(i) = ignoble advice. Taiyn = you. Daara = wife. Nindiya = malicious criticism; vilifying others. Ruchiyo = rapt; engrossed. Pause.
Mookt(i) Punth = the path to salvation. Jobun = beauty. Dhaaya = rushed. Unt(i) = end; time of death. Birtha = without anybody. Bundhaaya = got trapped. 1.
Oopjiyo = acquired. Giyana = Divine knowledge (connection with God). Nirunjun(u) = Waheguru. Khojut = search for. Oodiyaana = wilderness. 2.
Bhermut = wandering through many lives. Usthir = stable. Maanus = human. 3.

MEANING: Where did you receive this ignoble advice that rather than worshipping Waheguru, you are engrossed in the bad tastes of chasing other women, and vilifying others, oh my mind? Pause. You did not put in any effort to follow the path leading to salvation, but rushed to accumulate wealth and for the beauty of other women. No such thing accompanies you at the time of death, but you do build a trap of sins for yourself. 1.

You neither worshipped Waheguru nor served a holy saint nor acquired any Divine knowledge (made a connection with God); Waheguru resides in your heart, but you looked for Him in the wilderness, oh my mind. 2.
Through many lives, you grew tired, but you still did not acquire the wisdom to attain stability (to end the cycle of rebirths and merge with God). Listen to my advice: now that you have been given a human body, worship Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.3.

ਸੋਰਠਿ ਮਹਲਾ 9॥ ਮਨ ਰੇ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਕੀ ਸਰਨਿ ਬਿਚਾਰੋ॥ ਜਿਹ ਸਿਮਰਤ ਗਨਕਾ ਸੀ ਉਧਰੀ ਤਾ ਕੋ ਜਸੁ ਉਰਿਧਾਰੋ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਅਟਲੁ ਭਇਓ ਧ੍ਰੂਅ ਜਾ ਕੈ ਸਿਮਰਨਿ ਅਰੁ ਨਿਰਭੈ ਪਦੁ ਪਾਇਆ॥ ਦੁਖ ਹਰਤਾ ਇਹ ਬਿਧਿ ਕੋ ਸੁਆਮੀ ਤੈ ਕਾਹੇ ਬਿਸਰਾਇਆ॥ 1॥ ਜਬ ਹੀ ਸਰਨਿ ਗਹੀ ਕਿਰਪਾਨਿਧਿ ਗਜੁ ਗਰਾਹ ਤੇ ਛੂਟਾ॥ ਮਹਿਮਾ ਨਾਮ ਕਹਾ ਲਉ ਬਰਨਉ ਰਾਮੁ ਕਹਤ ਬੰਧਨ ਤਿਹ ਛੂਟਾ॥ 2॥ ਅਜਾਮਲੁ ਪਾਪੀ ਜਗੁ ਜਾਨੈ ਨਿਮਖ ਮਾਹਿ ਨਿਸਤਾਰਾ॥ ਨਾਨਕੁ ਕਹਤੁ ਚੇਤਿ ਚਿੰਤਾਮਨਿ ਤੈ ਭੀ ਉਤਰਸਿ ਪਾਰਾ॥ 3॥4॥
Soritth(i) Mehla 9: Mun ray, Prubh kee shern(i) bichaarou. Jih simrut Gunka see oodhri, Ta ka jus(u) oor(i) dhaarou. 1. Ruhaou. Atull(u) bhuyyo Dhoo Ja kaiy simrun(i), ur(u) nirbhaiy pud(u) paaya. Dookh Hurta, eh bidh(i) ko Soami, taiyn kaahay bisraaya. 1. Jub hee shern(i) guhee Kirpa-nidh(i), guj(u) graah tay chhoota. Mehma Naam kuhaa luou bernoon, Ram(u) keht bundhun tih chhoota. 2. Ajamull(u), paapi jug jaanaiy, nimukh maah(i) nistaara. Nanak(u) keht(u) chayt(i) Chintamun(i), taiyn bhee ootrus(i) paara. 3.4.
NOTE: Guru Tegh Bahadur Sahib, the Ninth Guru, spent a long time in eastern India (Bihar, Bengal and Assam), disseminating the Divine Message. Some stories from the Puranas had become very popular among the people there. Guru Sahib used them as parables to glorify Waheguru wherever possible. No matter what god was involved in these stories, Guru Sahib preached the splendour of Waheguru in each incident.
Word Meaning: Bichaarou = think of. Gunka = a prostitute who was given a parrot by a sage to put her on the path of spirituality. The sage advised her to teach the word “Ram,” meaning Waheguru, to the parrot. In the process of teaching the parrot, Gunika got so absorbed in the word “Ram” that she got connected with Waheguru.
Jus(u) = praise. Oor(i) Dhaarou = implanted in heart. Pause. Atull(u) = immortal. Dhoo (or Dhuroo) = a five-year-old son of a king who was pulled out angrily of his father’s lap by his stepmother. Dhoo was deeply hurt and went to the nearby forest to worship God at his mother's advice.
Nirbhaiy Pud = the state of fearlessness. Dookh Hurta = remover of all sufferings (Waheguru). Bidh(i) = means. Bisraaya = forgot. 1.
Shern(i) Guhee = took shelter of. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = the source of benevolence (God). Guj = elephant. A musician of the gods turned into an elephant under the curse of a sage. Once, the elephant was drinking water in the pool of god Varun, when an octopus gripped him in his tentacles and began to pull him down. The helpless elephant grabbed a lotus flower with his trunk and began praying to Vishnu, who saved him. Grah = grip. Mehma = praise; magnificence. Bernoon = describe. 2.
Ajamull(u) = People considered Ajamull(u), a Brahman of Kanauj (UP), a huge sinner when he married a prostitute (he should be considered a liberator). A sage advised him to name his youngest son “Narayan” (which means Waheguru) as his atonement for the “huge sin” which he had committed. On repeatedly using his son’s name, Ajamull(u) turned out to be a worshipper of Waheguru, and was salvaged.
Nimukh Maah(i) = in a short moment. Nistaara = emancipation; salvation. Chayt(i) = remember. Chintamun(i) = fulfiller of wishes, Waheguru. 3.
MEANING: Think of seeking Waheguru’s shelter (surrender to Him), oh my mind. Implant praise of Waheguru in your heart, remembering that even an immoral woman like Gunka was salvaged. Pause. Why have you forgotten the Lord (Waheguru), who is the destroyer of all suffering and knows all the means to salvage anyone, including Dhoo, who was salvaged, and who acquired the immortal status by remembering Him? 1.

How much more praise of Waheguru's Naam can I sing when even an elephant, who was in the grip of an octopus, and was about to drown, was freed from the tentacles of the octopus as soon as he took shelter of Waheguru and recited His Naam? 2.
Everybody knows that even a sinner like Ajamull(u) was salvaged in a short moment (when He recited Waheguru's Naam); so, you too, will be ferried across the sea of Maya (salvaged) if you remember Waheguru, which fulfills all the wishes of the people, oh Nanak. 3.4.

ਸੋਰਠਿ ਮਹਲਾ 9॥ ਪ੍ਰਾਨੀ ਕਉਨੁ ਉਪਾਉ ਕਰੈ॥ ਜਾ ਤੇ ਭਗਤਿ ਰਾਮ ਕੀ ਪਾਵੈ ਜਮ ਕੋ ਤ੍ਰਾਸੁ ਹਰੈ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਕਉਨ ਕਰਮ ਬਿਦਿਆ ਕਹੁ ਕੈਸੀ ਧਰਮੁ ਕਉਨੁ ਫੁਨਿ ਕਰਈ॥ ਕਉਨੁ ਨਾਮੁ ਗੁਰ ਜਾ ਕੈ ਸਿਮਰੈ ਭਵਸਾਗਰ ਕਉ ਤਰਈ॥ 1॥ ਕਲਿ ਮਹਿ ਏਕੁ ਨਾਮੁ ਕਿਰਪਾਨਿਧਿ ਜਾਹਿ ਜਪੈ ਗਤਿ ਪਾਵੈ॥ ਅਉਰ ਧਰਮ ਤਾ ਕੈ ਸਮਿ ਨਾਹਿਨ ਇਹ ਬਿਧਿ ਬੇਦੁ ਬਤਾਵੈ॥ 2॥ ਸੁਖ ਦੁਖ ਰਹਤ ਸਦਾ ਨਿਰਲੇਪੀ ਜਾ ਕਉ ਕਹਤ ਗੁਸਾਈ॥ ਸੋ ਤੁਮ ਹੀ ਮਹਿ ਬਸੈ ਨਿਰੰਤਰਿ ਨਾਨਕ ਦਰਪਨ ਨਿਆਈ॥ 3॥5॥

Soritth Mehla 9: Praani kaun(u) oopaaou kuraiy? Ja tay bhugut(i) Ram kee paavaiy, Jum ko traas(u) huraiy. 1. Ruhaou. Kaun kerrm, bidiyaa kuhou kaiysi, dherm(u) kaun(u) phoonn(i) kuryee? Kaun(u) Naam(u) Gur ja kaiy simeraiy, bhuv saagur kuou turyee? 1. Kul(i) meh(i) aik(u) Naam(u) Kirpanidh(i), jaah(i) jupaiy gut(i) paavaiy. Aur dherm ta kaiy sum(i) naahin, eh bidh(i) Bayd butaavaiy. 2. Dookh, sookh, reht sudaa nirlaypi, ja kuou keht Goosaayeen. So toom hee meh(i) busaiy niruntar(i) Nanak derpun niyaayeen. 3.5.

Word Meaning: Praani = man. Oopaaou = measures; means. Traas(u) = fear. Huraiy = remove; lose. Pause. Kaun(u) = which. Kerm = rituals. Bidiya = knowledge. Dherm(u) = moral (or religious) deeds. Phoonn(i) = then. Bhuv Saagur = the world sea. 1. Kul(i) = in the world (full of aggression). Kirpa-Nidh(i) = the source of mercy. Jaah(i) = which. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Sum(i) = equal. Bidh(i) = technique. 2. Nirlaypi = detached. Niruntar(i) = continuous. Derpun Niyaayeen = like a mirror. 3.

MEANING: What means should a man use so as to enshrine Waheguru's worship (His Naam) in the heart, and dispel the fear of the Angel of death? Pause.
What rituals should one perform, what knowledge should one acquire, what high moral (or religious) obligations should one discharge, and what Naam should one recite in the shelter of the Guru, so as to swim across the sea of Maya (to find salvation)? 1.
Answer: There is only the Naam of the source of all benevolence, Waheguru, in this world full of aggression, by which one can attain a high spiritual state. Even the Vedas tell us that there is no other religious deed which equals Waheguru's Naam. 2.
The Lord of the world, Waheguru, always stays detached from all comforts or discomforts (they do not affect Him). He resides continuously in your heart like an image in a mirror (which is not visible in the dark; similarly, you cannot see Him in the darkness of ignorance of your mind), oh Nanak. 3.5.

ਸੋਰਠਿ ਮਹਲਾ 9॥ ਮਾਈ ਮੈ ਕਿਹ ਬਿਧਿ ਲਖਉ ਗੁਸਾਈ॥ ਮਹਾ ਮੋਹ ਅਗਿਆਨਿ ਤਿਮਰਿ ਮੋ ਮਨੁ ਰਹਿਓ ਉਰਝਾਈ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਸਗਲ ਜਨਮੁ ਭ੍ਰਮ ਹੀ ਭ੍ਰਮਿ ਖੋਇਓ ਨਹ ਅਸਥਿਰ ਮਤਿ ਪਾਈ॥ ਬਿਖਿਆਸਕਤ ਰਹਿਓ ਨਿਸਿ ਬਾਸੁਰ ਨਹ ਛੂਟੀ ਅਧਮਾਈ॥ 1॥ ਸਾਧ ਸੰਗੁ ਕਬਹੂ ਨਹੀ ਕੀਨਾ ਨਹ ਕੀਰਤਿ ਪ੍ਰਭ ਗਾਈ॥ ਜਨ ਨਾਨਕ ਮੈ ਨਾਹਿ ਕੋਊ ਗੁਨੁ ਰਾਖਿ ਲੇਹੁ ਸਰਨਾਈ॥ 2॥6॥

Word Meaning: Maayee = oh, mother. Bidh(i) = means. Lukhoun = see; comprehend. Moh = attachments. Ugiyan Timmer(i) = darkness of ignorance. Mo = in. Oorjhaayee = tangled up; engrossed. Pause. Bherm Bherm(i) = wandering in the pursuit of Maya. Usthir = stability; peace. Mut(i) = wisdom. Bikhiya-Sukt = engrossed in immoral activities. Nis(i) = night. Baasur = day. Udhmaayee = ignoble thinking (activities). 1. Kubhoon Nuhee = never. Keerut = praise. Shernaayee = who seeks shelter. 2.
MEANING: Because of my ignorance, my mind is engrossed in the big attractions of Maya, which has created complete darkness in my mind; so how can I see (or comprehend) Waheguru, oh my mother? Pause. I lost (wasted) my whole life in the pursuit of Maya, and did not acquire the wisdom to have peace of mind. I stayed engrossed in immoral activities day and night and failed to get rid of my ignoble thinking. 1. I never joined the company of the holy saints, and never sang praise of Waheguru. I, Nanak, have no virtue at all, but have come to Your shelter; please protect me now, oh kind Waheguru. 2.6.

Soritth Mehla 9: Maayee, mun(u) mayro bus(i) naah(i). Nis(i) baasur bikhiun kuou dhaavut(u), kih bidh(i) roakoon taah(i). 1. Ruhaou. (PAGE 633): Jub hee shern(i) Sadh kee aayo, doormut(i) sugul binaasee. Tub Nanak chaytiyo Chintamun(i), kaati Jum kee phaasi. 3.7.
Word Meaning: Bus(i) = in control. Bikhiun = vices. Dhaavut = rushes. Bidh(i) = means. Roakoon = stop; prevent. Taah(i) = that. Pause. Nimukh = moment. Heeyay = in heart. Busaavaiy = enshrine. Pur = of others. Ruchiyo = absorbed. Birtha = worthless; waste. Siraavaiy = spends. 1. Mud(i) = intoxicated. Bhuyyo = became. Baavro = crazy; insane. Soojhut = think of. Ghut = heart. Bheetur(i) = inside. Merm = secret; knowledge. 2. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Binaasi = destroyed; removed. Chintamun(i) = a mythical stone that fulfills all desires (God). 3.
MEANING: My mind is not in my control and runs after immoral activities day and night; how can I prevent it from doing that, oh my mother? Pause. Even after listening to them, it does not implant any teaching from religious books like the Vedas, the Puranas, and the Smritis in the heart, even for a short moment. To the contrary, it is fully absorbed in the enjoyment of wealth, women, and in the vilification of others, and is wasting away life in worthless activities. 1. Intoxicated by the attractions of Maya, it has gone insane and cannot think of anything spiritual. Even though Waheguru resides in the heart, my mind is unaware of His presence. 2. However, when I took shelter of the Guru, all my ignoble thoughts were eradicated, and I began to remember Waheguru (recite His Naam), which fulfills all your wishes, and the noose of the Angel of Death around me was severed, oh Nanak. 3.7.

Kuhou Nanak, nij mut(u) sadhun ko, bhaakhiyo toh(i) pookaar(i). 2.8.

Word Meaning: Jea = (in) mind. Dhaar(i) = affirm; realize. Baar = moment. Pause. Baaroo = (of) sand. Bheet(i) = wall. Ruch(i) Puch(i) = (with) zest and with a good finish. Reht Nuhee = dies, not live. Din Chaar(i) = four days; shot time. Guvaar = foolish. 1. Ajhoon = now. Bigriyo = damaged. Mooraar(i) = of Waheguru. Nij = personal. Sadhun Ko = of saints. Bhaakhiyo = said; told. Pookaar(i) = aloud. 2.

MEANING: Realize this truth firmly in your mind that this whole world is like a dream, which does not take any time to be destroyed, oh man. Pause. If a man builds a wall of sand with zest and gives it a beautiful finish, it still does not last for long. The comforts of Maya are as short-lived as a wall of sand; what are you engrossed in, oh foolish man? 1. I am telling you, as personal advice from the holy men, that not much damage has been done yet; come to your senses and recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.8.

Word Meaning: Meet(u) = (real) friend. Sugul Jugut(u) = whole world. Pause. Dara = wife. Sunbundhi = relatives. Nirdhun = poor; penniless. 1. Yiya = this. Bauray = crazy. Nayh(u) = love. Deena Nath = Lord of the poor (God). Bhaiy-Bhunjun = destroyer of all fears. Jus(u) = praise. Bisraayo = forgot. 2. Sooaan = dog. Poochh = tail. Soodho = straight. Jutun(u) = efforts. Laaj = honour. Bird = the innate virtue (of being kind and loving). 3.

MEANING: I have not found any real friend in this world; the whole world is working for their own comforts, and nobody stands by you in hard times. Pause. One's wife, his friends, his sons, and all other relatives are after his wealth. As soon as they find out that you are penniless now, they run away from you. 1. How can I teach my mind that you are in love with the short-lived selfish friends, and have forgotten to sing praise of Waheguru, who is the Lord of the helpless, and is the destroyer of all fears? 2.

Despite my countless efforts, my mind does not shed its evil nature like the tail of a dog, which does not lose its curled state and does not straighten out, no matter how hard one tries. Now, I recite Waheguru's Naam and pray to Him to maintain the dignity of His innate virtue of being kind and loving (and protect me), oh Nanak. 3.9.

Ruhhiyo achayt(u), na chaytiyo Gobind, birtha aoudh siraani. Kuhou Nanak, Hur(i) bird(u) puchhaanhou, bhoolay sudaa praani. 3.10.

Word Meaning: Guhhiyo = receive; heed to. Moond(u) = head. Moondaayo = shaved. Bhugvoun = saffron colour. Bhays(u) = attire; garb. Pause. Saach(u) = everlasting (Waheguru). Jhoottheh(i) = short-lived (attractions of Maya). Akaaruth = worthlessly. Khoyo = lost; wasted. Perpunch = deceitfulness. Oodur = stomach. Phokhyiyo = filled; nourished. Pusoo = animal. Niyaayeen = like. 1. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Oorjh(i) = tangled up; engrossed. Bikhiun = immoral activities. Baura = crazy; foolish. Ruttan = (valuable like a) jewel. 2. Achayt (u) = unaware; ignorant. Chaytiyo = remembered. Aoudh = life. Siraani = spend. Bird(u) = innate virtue of being kind and loving. 3.

MEANING: So, what, if you shaved your head and wore a saffron-coloured attire (which are "deceitful" symbols of holiness in some sects) when you did not heed the Guru's Advice, oh man? Pause. Ignoring Waheguru, you have attached your mind to the short-lived enjoyments of Maya and have wasted your life in vain. You nourished your stomach by deceitful means, and slept away your life unmindful like an animal. 1.

You did not realize the high spiritual state of Waheguru's worship, and you sold yourself to Maya. You remained fully absorbed in immoral activities and forgot the jewel-like Naam of Waheguru, oh, my foolish mind. 2.

You remained unaware (about the importance of Waheguru's Naam), and did not remember Him, and spent your life in worthless affairs, oh my mind. Now I pray to Waheguru to exercise His innate virtue of kindness and love, because the man is always fallible, oh Nanak. 3.10.

Word Meaning: Nur(u) = man. Maanaiy = accepts; feels. Sunayh(u) = affection. Ur(u) = and. Kunchun = gold. Maati = earth; dust. Pause. Nindiya = unfair negative criticism. Oostut = undeserving praise of others (for selfish reasons). Abhimaana = conceit. Herkh = joyfulness. Soag = grief; anguish. Niyaarou = unaffected. Upmaana = disrespect. 1. Munsa = wishes. Tiyaagaiy = renounce. Niraasa = detached. Persaiy = touch. 2. Joogut(i) = technique; approach. Leen = absorbed. Bhuyyo = becomes. 3.

MEANING: A man, who is stoic, does not feel any discomfort during difficult times; he also stays unaffected by any comfort, love for others, and by any fear. For him, gold and dust are the same. Pause. He does not unfairly criticize others, nor does he praise others for selfish reasons. He does not feel any greed, attachment to anything, or conceit about anything. He also stays detached from (unaffected by) any joyfulness, anguish, respect, or disrespect. 1. He renounces all hopes and wishes and stays detached from the world. No lust and rage touch him (even come near him); Waheguru makes his heart a dwelling for Him (appears in his heart). 2. The man, whom Satguru becomes benevolent toward, realizes the approach to (connect with God) and becomes fully absorbed in Waheguru, like water mixes with other water and becomes indistinguishable, oh Nanak. 3.11.

Kaam(i) Na Aayo = does not help. 3.

MEANING: Realize this hard truth firmly in your mind that the whole world is engrossed in their own comforts, and no one is concerned about others, oh my dears. Pause.
When a man is enjoying a comfortable life, many people come to him, and surround him from every direction (to share his comforts); but when troubles befall him, everybody leaves his company, and nobody goes near him. 1.
His own wife, whom he loves very much, and who clings to him all the time, begins to call him a ghost and runs away as soon as his soul leaves his body. 2.

This is the way the business of the world runs, and with which the man gets attached. But one must realize that nobody other than Waheguru comes to help him at the time of his death, oh Nanak. 3.12.139.

Sehjay maata, sudaa rung(i) raata, Saachay kay goon gaavaiy. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Doobidha = indecisiveness. Purroun = get into. Murraiy Musaan(i) = graves and graveyards. Trishna = desires. Raach(i) = absorbing. Pur Ghur = house (shelter) of others. Boojhaayee = killed. Ghur = heart. Ghur(u) = (Waheguru's) dwelling. Sehj(i) Ruttay = imbued in Waheguru's love in the high spiritual state. Daana Beena = noble and know-all. Saayeen = oh, Lord. 1. Baiyraag(i) = in deep love. Rutou = coloured, imbued. Baiyraagi = detached from worldly affairs. Baydhiya = pierced. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light (enlightenment). Niruntar(i) = continuous. Bani = Guru's Shabad. Liv = spiritual connection. Pause. Asunkh = countless. J(i) = which. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. Bhaiy = (Waheguru's) fear. Kaar Kmaavaiy = follows Guru's Advice. Munooa = mind. Doalay = waver. Dhaavut = rushing. Verj(i) = put a stop. Maata =intoxicated. 2.

MEANING: I shall not be indecisive (will have a clear mind), and shall not worship anybody other than Waheguru; (and unlike most people) will not bow to any grave or a monument.

Absorbed in worldly desires, I shall not visit any other power (a deity or the like) to have my desires fulfilled; I will rather put out the fire of my desires with Waheguru's Naam. My Guru has shown me the dwelling of Waheguru in my own heart, which I enjoy, imbued with His love in the high spiritual state. You are perfectly wise and know everything about Your creation, and Yourself guide us, oh my Lord. 1. Pierced by Satguru's Shabad, my mind is fully imbued in the love of Waheguru, and I am now fully detached from the world, oh my mother. With the continuous presence of Satguru's Shabad, my mind has been enlightened (I realize Waheguru's presence in my mind), and I am spiritually connected with Him. Pause. Countless people leave home and go to forests in search of Waheguru and call themselves "*Baiyraag*i" (renouncers of the world), but only the individual who is liked by Waheguru is a real baiyraagi. Such a baiyraagi enshrines Satguru's Shabad in his heart, and follows His advice in his life, and keeps Waheguru's fear in mind all the time. He worships only the "one" Waheguru and keeps his mind under full control so that it does not waver (become shaky) in his faith in Waheguru. Imbued in Waheguru's love, he sings His praise and stays intoxicated in the high spiritual state. 2.

---------- Munooa paun(u) bind(u) sookhvaasi, Naam(i) vussaiy sookh bhaayee. Jihba, naytur, soatur, Sach(i) raatay, jul(i) boojhee, Toojheh(i) boojhaayee. Word Meaning: Munooa = mind. Paun(u) = unstable (fickle) like wind. Bind(u) = moment. Sookhvaasi = peaceful. Naytur = eyes. Soatur = senses. Jul(i) = burning. Aas Niraas = having no hopes; without any wish. Nij Ghur(i) = in own heart. Taarri Laayee = fully focused. Bhikhiya = alms. Rujjay = fully satisfied. Suntokhi = content. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. 3. Jub Lug = as long as. Doojee = Maya. Raayee = even a small amount. Daata = provider. Munmukh(i) = follower of his mind. Junt = man. Nivaasi = dwells in; suffers in. Vudiyaayee = honour. Appur Apaar = beyond limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachar = incomprehensible. Keem = worth; magnanimity. 4.

MEANING: If the wind-like fickle mind (which wanders in every direction) becomes stable even for a short moment (to focus on Waheguru's Naam), Waheguru comes to dwell in the individual's mind, and he acquires blissfulness. Then his tongue, his eyes, and his senses get imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and the burning (fire) of his heart (caused by his worldly desires) is put out by Waheguru. Such a devotee overcomes all his wishes and desires, remains detached from the world, and keeps his mind fully focused on (spiritually connected to) Waheguru. (The Yogis go from door to door to get alms) But, such a real baiyraagi seeks alms of Waheguru's Amrit-Naam, and feels full contentment in the high spiritual state.

3. With an indecisive mind, and as long as one has even a small amount of attraction for Maya, he cannot be a lover (baiyraagi) of Waheguru. You are the Lord of, and the only provider for the entire world, and there is none other like You, oh Waheguru. The follower of his mind always lives in discomfort, while Waheguru honours the devotees of the Guru. Waheguru is far beyond limits, inaccessible, and incomprehensible, so His magnanimity cannot be expressed in words. 4. --------

Word Meaning: Soonn = spiritual state above the effects of Maya; Waheguru. (Smaadh(i) = deep meditation. Muhaa = great. Permaaruth = the supreme wealth. Teen Bhuvun = the three-layered universe. Put(i) = of the Lord. Naamung = Naam(u). Joan(i) = in different life forms. Suhaamung = endure. Kerm = deeds. Sookerm = noble deeds. Dir-rraamung = reinforces. Mookh(i) = of mouth (tongue). Jootth(i) = filth. Bhaiy = God's fear. Agaamung = inaccessible Waheguru. 5. Chaakhiya = tasted. Saad(u) = taste. Goongay = of the mute. Akuthaiy = indescribable. Chaaloun = tread the path of. Rujaayee = God's Will. Nigooray = having no Guru. Chulaayay = makes us do. Chuturaayee = cleverness. 6.

MEANING: Enshrining Waheguru's Naam, which prevails the whole universe, in his heart, is the supreme wealth (prime objective) of the man. So, he must meditate on His Naam. However, the living beings, which are born in the world, have their fortune (nature or character) prewritten on their foreheads, and each must live with that (perform accordingly). Waheguru Himself makes some people perform bad or good deeds while reinforcing His worship among others. His devotees wash away the filth of their mind, and of their tongue (foul language) by living in His fear. Waheguru imparts His Knowledge to them (enlightens their minds). 5.

Just like a dumb (mute) person cannot describe the taste of his sweet, a devotee of Waheguru, who has tasted His sweet Naam, enjoys it, but cannot describe it. How can I describe the magnanimity of the indescribable Waheguru? I just live by His Will. But one acquires the wisdom to know Him only in the shelter of the Guru when the Provider Waheguru connects one with Him (the Guru); otherwise, no one can acquire this wisdom (holy thinking) without the Guru. One has to live one's life as predestined for them; there is no cleverness (alternative) that they can use against that. 6.

Word Meaning: Bherm Bhoolaayay = misled by misgivings. Khayl = drama. Apaara = amazing; beyond understanding. Jit(u) = whichever. Tayha = corresponding. Jeeou = life. Pind(u) = body. Adhaara = support; basis. 7. Gugnuntar(i) = in the sky (in a high spiritual state). Pergaasiya = appeared. Giyan = Divine Knowledge (connection with God). Dhiyaanung = concentration of mind. Bhaavaiy = likes. Kuhaavaiy = makes others recite. Tutto Tutt = Truth and only Truth (Waheguru). Vukhaanung = describes. Peera = spiritual guide. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheera = unaffected by conditions. Bauraanung = crazy. Sehj(i) Soobhaagi = without any special effort. Maanung = convinced. 8.

MEANING: It is Your amazing drama (style of running the universe) that You mislead some by creating misgivings for them, while You guide some others so that they get imbued in Your worship, oh Waheguru. They reap the rewards of the deeds that You make them do with Your Huqam (Laws). I can serve You with (offer You) something only if I own it, but I own nothing; even my life and my body are given to me by You (which I need to serve You with), oh my Waheguru. It was Your great kindness that You connected me with Satguru, who kindly bestowed Your Naam to me, which is the basis of my life. 7.

When Waheguru took dwelling in my mind in a high spiritual state, my virtues appeared in me, and I was able to focus my mind on His Naam to acquire Divine Knowledge (make a spiritual connection with God). When one begins to love Waheguru's Naam, he recites it with love and makes others do the same, and then he describes (sings praise) of Waheguru, and Waheguru alone. Guru's Shabad is a manifestation of the Guru (the spiritual guide), and of Waheguru, which is unfathomable and which never changes. The world is crazy (rudderless) without Guru's Shabad. When one is fully convinced of Waheguru's Naam, he becomes a real baiyraagi (fully detached from the world) without any special effort, oh Nanak. 8.1

Word Meaning: Titooki = A Shabad with each stanza having three sentences. Aasa Munsa = hopes and wishes. Bundhuni = traps. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Poonn(i) = noble deeds. Jaaya = gave birth. Binsaiy = is destroyed; dies. Mohini = captivating. Vakaari = (lead to) vices. 1. Kermakaari = performer of rituals. Aatum = soul; mind. Tutt = Truth; God. Pause. Bukaiy = reads aloud. Sunsaari = worldly. Paakhun(i) = show off; hypocrisy. Chookuyee = removed. Inn Bidh(i) = this way. Maakurri = spider.

Doobi = dies. Oodi = upside down. 2. Ghunee = too many (people). Vigooti = misled. Doojay = (in) Maya. Bhaayay = love for. Khooyaayee = suffers discomfiture (humiliation). Ruhaayee = is stopped. 3. Saach(u) = Waheguru (His Naam). Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Boojhaiy = realizes. Mug(u) = the path (to union with Waheguru). K(i) = (of) what (use). Koorr(u) = lies. Bikh(u) = poison. 4.

MEANING: Man's hopes, wishes, and his religious rituals are all traps for him to keep him attached to Maya. The man takes rebirths because of the mixture of his good deeds and his sins, and dies a spiritual death when he forgets Waheguru, oh my brothers. The whole world is captivated by Maya, and all one's resulting deeds lead to vices. 1.

(You preach the performance of rituals to achieve union with God), Oh, pundit, but the only ritual that leads to mental blissfulness (union with God) is the one by which the man ponders on Waheguru (His Naam) in mind. Pause. The Brahman reads the religious books, such as the Shastras and the Vedas, loudly to the people (preaches them), but himself is engaged in worldly affairs (of Maya). The filth of one's evil deeds and thoughts is not washed away by hypocrisy. Just like a spider dies upside down in its own web, the man also weaves a web of evil deeds around him from which he cannot escape. 2. Countless people are misled by their ill advice (evil thinking) and suffer humiliation in their love for Maya. One's misgivings do not go away without Waheguru's Naam, and the Naam cannot get implanted in the heart without taking shelter of Satguru. One acquires comfort (blissfulness) only by serving Satguru (following His Advice), whereby one's cycle of rebirths is broken. 3.

The Guru is the source of Waheguru's Naam and of the high spiritual state (they can be acquired only from Him) in whose shelter one's mind is purified, and he gets fully absorbed in Waheguru. One learns to follow the path of righteousness only in the shelter of the Guru, without which one cannot have this knowledge. Of what good are the rituals for the man who has greed in his heart, and takes in the poison of lies (earns his living by deceitful means which turn into poison for his spiritual life? 4.

---------- Pundit, duheen viloyiyaiy bhaayee, vichoun nicklaiy tuth(u). Jul(u) muthiyaiy, jul(u) daykhiyaiy bhaayee, eh(u) jug(u) eha vuth(u). Eh(u) vukkhur(u) vapaari so drirraiy bhaayee, Gur Shabad(i) kuray veechaar(u). Dhun(u) vapaari Nanaka bhaayee, mayl(i) kuray vapaar(u). 8.2.

Word Meaning: Dhueen = yogurt. Viloyiyiay = churn. Tuth(u) = real thing (butter). Muthiyaiy = churn. Vuth(u) = thing; reality. Vigoochiyaiy = misled. Dayo Alukh(u) = invisible Waheguru. 5. Taago Soot = thread of cotton. Dehdis(i) = in every direction. Maayay = Maya. Gaantth = knot; strong connection. Chhootyee = breaks. Thaakay = exhausted. Bherm(i) Bhoolaaya = misled by misgivings. 6. Bhuou = (God's) fear. Such(u) = eternal. Laykh(u) = written order. Mujun(u) = dip (at holy places). Daan = donations (to Brahmans). Visaykh(u) = special (value). Ankus = the weapon to keep an elephant (conceited mind) under control. Drirraaya = reinforced. Chooka = removed; disappeared. Bhaykh = religious symbols. 7. Haat(u) = shop. Sraaf = jeweller; trader. Vukkhur(u) = merchandize. Apaar(u) = beyond limits (Waheguru). Vapaari = trader. Drirraiy = reinforce. Maiyl Kuray = (Waheguru) connects with the Guru. 8.

MEANING: If we churn yogurt, we get our desired result (butter), oh, Pundit Ji, but we do not see anything else but water if we churn just water (it is worthless to churn it). The world is also just churning water (pursuing the worldly attractions which have no spiritual worth). Waheguru is present in every heart invisibly, but we do nothing to "see" Him (make any connection with Him). 5. The world is like a thread of cotton which is tied strongly with Maya in every direction (just like the beads are tied with knots with the thread in a necklace). The knots of Maya in the human mind are very strong and cannot be untied without the Guru, even if one becomes exhausted from performing countless rituals to free oneself. The world is misled by many misgivings, and nothing can be done about it with self-efforts. 6. Death is an eternal written law of Waheguru, but one loses this fear when he enshrines Waheguru's fear in the mind in the shelter of the Guru. Dips at holy places and donations to Brahmans may be considered good deeds in society, but only Waheguru's Naam is given a special place (is honoured) in His Court. Guru's Shabad is like the ankus which keeps the elephant-like conceited mind in check; if one reinforces it so as to enshrine it in his mind, his religious symbols - which he wears just for a show-off - lose their significance for him. 7. The human body is a trader's shop where man's ill qualities can be traded for Waheguru's Naam. But the merchandize of Waheguru's Naam is bought only by the human trader who ponders on Guru's Shabad. Those traders are worthy of praise whom Waheguru connects with the Guru to carry out this business, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Turay = find salvation. Tthaak = hinderance. Rusn = (on the tongue). Huray = Waheguru. Piyaray = oh dears. Booday = drowned (in the world sea). Bhaayay = in love (with Maya). Bhaiy = fear (of God). 1. Bhee = repeatedly. Salaahna = sing praise. Bohith = ship (Guru). Bhaiy = fear; (world-sea). Kundhi = on the shore. Kuhaah = loud cries. Pause. Salaahi = worthy of praise. Bhulay = noble; loved by Waheguru. Ruttay = imbued. Rung(u) = love (for Waheguru). Rus(u) Laiy = enjoying the sweetness (of Naam). Tut(u) = truth; Waheguru. Viloyay = churn; pondering. 2. Put(i) = of the Lord, Waheguru. Pervaana = (letter of) approval. Neeshaan(u) = identification. Aaya = came; whoever is born. Likh(i) laiy jaavna = written account of deeds. Huqami = the ruler (Waheguru). Puchhaan(u) = recognize. Boojhaiy = understand. Saacha = eternal. Taan(u) = power. 3. Nimmiya = started life as a zygote (a fertilized egg). Oodur mujhaar(i) = in the womb. Oodhou = upside down. Jaaniyaiy = recognized; honoured. Kaaruj Saar(i) = successfully completing the objective. 4.

MEANING: We, too, can be salvaged in the company of the holy saints who serve Satguru, oh my dear friends. With Waheguru's Naam on their tongue, the devotees face no hindrance (on their way to union with Waheguru). Those who have no fear of Waheguru, drown in the world sea for their love (for Maya); but those, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, swim across the world sea safely. 1. Waheguru's praise must be sung again, and again. Waheguru is the ship that ferries us across the world sea, without which we drown; the loud cries of the people can be heard on the shore of the world sea (because of their suffering due to their ignoble deeds done under the influence of Maya). Pause. Only Waheguru is praise-worthy, and none other; His praise must be sung repeatedly. Those who sing the praise of Waheguru are treated as noble individuals (honoured in Waheguru's Court); imbued with Guru's Shabad, they are in love with God. If one is lucky to enjoy their company, he ponders on the root of the whole universe – Waheguru - while enjoying the sweetness of His Naam. 2. Waheguru's Naam is the true identification for the devotee, which earns him the written letter of approval of the Lord. Everybody is born with their fortune written by Waheguru, which they have to live with; one should recognize the Huqam (Will) of the Lord. But one cannot recognize Waheguru's Huqam without the Guru. However, Waheguru's Huqam cannot be changed by anyone, as His Huqam is eternal. 3. One starts his life as a zygote (in the mother's womb) by Waheguru's Huqam, and he is born upside down by His Huqam. The followers of the Guru recognize Waheguru's Huqam, live by that, and achieve the objective of life successfully (union with Waheguru), and are honoured in His Court. 4. ---------

Word Meaning: Aaya = born. Bunnh(i) Chulaayiyaiy = taken as prisoner. Luhaiy = receives. Sujaayay = punishment. Paiyndha = is given the robe of honour. 5.

Gunut Gunaayiyaiy = account of deeds explained. Doyay = discrimination. Bhuvaaiyaiy = is taken through (many rebirths). Uvgun(i) = bad qualities. Mootthi = robbed by. Sinyaapay = recognize. Shah = the King (Waheguru). 6. Aakhun = recite (Naam). Kiyoun = how? Suntokhiyaan = contented. 7. Kaaya = body. Musvaani = inkpot. Dhaar(i) = by implanting (Naam). Lulta = tongue. Laykhun(I) = pen. Oor(i) = heart. 8.

MEANING: One comes to this world by Waheguru's Huqam, spends his life, and leaves the world with His Huqam. The followers of their mind are taken to Waheguru's court as prisoners, where they receive their punishment. On the other hand, those who recognize Waheguru's Huqam with Guru's Shabad are honoured in His Court. 5. It is with Waheguru's Huqam that one feels conceited of his good deeds and keeps their account (to boost his ego); and it is also with Waheguru's Huqam that a man is conceited and discriminates against others. It is with Waheguru's Huqam that the man is robbed of good qualities by his ill deeds, and is taken through many, many lives. But the devotee, who recognizes Waheguru's Huqam, gets connected with Him and is accorded respect. 6. It is a very tough job to recite Waheguru's Naam (to act on it if you do not have love for Him). So, how can one listen to, or recite His Naam? (For that reason), I am all sacrifice for those who sing Waheguru's praise. One becomes fully content when he is able to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart; I pray to You to cast Your kind sight on me and connect me with the Guru who will connect me with You, oh my dear Waheguru. 7.

If a devotee uses his body as the paper, his heart as the inkpot, and his tongue (Waheguru's praise) as the pen to write His Naam on his mind, he writes Waheguru's virtues (praise) by pondering on Guru's Shabad (enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart). Those writers are worthy of my respect who write Waheguru's Naam on their heart (embed the Naam in their heart), oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Goon Daatau = source of virtues. Nirmulou = pure; holy. Upraadhi = guilty; having bad qualities. Nirgoonay = with no virtues. Tay = from. 1.
Pakhundiya = hypocrite. Visaykh = special; approved by God. Pause.
Chuturaayee = over-cleverness. Put(i) = respect. Smoyay = stay absorbed. 2.
Roorrau = beautiful (Waheguru). Laal Chulool = deep red colour (deep bonding with Waheguru. Bairaagiyaiy = feels deep love. Abhool(u) = infallible. 3.
MEANING: You are the source of all noble qualities, and are perfectly pure, but our minds are not pure, oh my dear Waheguru. We are guilty of having bad qualities, and have no good qualities; all noble qualities come from You. 1. You are the creator, and You watch (look after) Your creation, oh my dear Waheguru. I am a sinner and a hypocrite, but Your Naam in body and mind makes one very special. Pause. Man's mind is captivated by Maya and by immoral activities, and he loses all respect if he tries to be over clever. But, if a devotee gets absorbed in the Guru's Shabad, Waheguru comes to reside in his mind (enlightens him). 2. If one recites the Naam of the beautiful (kind and the provider) Waheguru, his mind gets deeply imbued in His love. If one feels deep love for Him, he sees the infallible Waheguru in every heart and every place. 3. ---------

Word Meaning: Pataaleen = in the underworlds. Giyan = Divine Knowledge. Chooka = eradicated. Goomaan(u) = conceit. 4. Kaayaan = body. Maanjiyaiy = clean by rubbing well. Bhee = again. Rus(i) = enjoying the sweetness. Nirmul = clean; pure; pious. 5. Devi Deva = idols (of gods and goddesses). Paahun(u) = stone. Neer(i) = in water. Pukhaaliyaiy = give bath. Booday = sinks. Tayh(i) = those. 6. Alukh = invisible (God). Lukhiyaiy = see. Jug(u) = world. Put(i) = respect. Vudaayiyaan = honours. Bhaavaiy = likes. 7.
MEANING: You are present in the underworlds, in the sky, and in every heart in the form of noble qualities and as Divine Knowledge (Your Naam). When one connects with the Guru, he feels blissful, realizing Waheguru in his heart, and his conceit and ego disappear. 4. People wash and cleanse their bodies by rubbing them well in water, but they get dirty again; but if a man takes a dip in the greatly sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam, his mind and body both become pure (he does noble deeds with both). 5. What can I ask for, and what can an idol (of a god or goddess) give me if I worship one? If we wash a stone in water, it still sinks in there (so how can a stone idol salvage one? 6.
(Because of such misgivings), The world is drowning in the world-sea and losing its respect; we cannot see (comprehend) the invisible Waheguru without the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru controls all honours and accords respect to those whom He likes. 7.

Word Meaning: Buyyiur = woman; humans. Meethulee = sweetly; with affection. Saach Kuhaiy = recites Waheguru's (Naam). Pir = husband; Lord. Bhaayay = is liked by. Birhaiy Baydhi = pierced with the pain of separation. Vussi = stays absorbed. Adhik = much. Naayay = Naam(u). 8. Soojaan(u) = know-all; omniscient Waheguru. Beedhaiy = pierced at heart. Oobray = salvaged. Neeshaan = identification (for Waheguru's Court). 9. Eendhun(u) = firewood. Adhik = much; large amount. Sukayliyaiy = gather. Paavuk = fire. Runchuk = very small amount. Khin(u) Pul(u) = a short moment. Milun = union. Soobhaayay = without any special effort. 10.

MEANING: If a human being talks sweetly (politely and affectionately), and recites Waheguru's Naam, he is liked by Him. If a man, who is deeply in love with Waheguru's Naam, feels acute pain of His separation, he stays fully absorbed in His Naam (becomes "one" with Him). 8. Everybody calls (claims) Waheguru to be his, but one can comprehend the omniscient Waheguru (make a connection with Him) only in the shelter of the Guru. Those whose hearts are pierced with the love for Waheguru get salvaged, as Guru's Shabad becomes their eternal identification. 9. If we gather huge heaps of firewood, they can all be burned down by a very small amount of fire; similarly, all one's sins can be destroyed by Waheguru's Naam, even if it appears for a very short time in his heart, and he gets united with Him without any special effort on his part, oh Nanak. 10.4.

Koorr(u), kupt, paaj(u) leh(i) jaasi, munmukh pheeka alaou. 3. ----------

Word Meaning: Bhugtaan Dee = (the honour) of the devotees. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning; ever since. Henaakhush = a demon king. Prehlad = his son, who was a staunch devotee of Waheguru, and whom his father tried to kill. Puchaaya = destroyed. Purteet(i) = full faith. Bherm Bhoolaaya = misguided in misgivings. 1. Vudiyaayee = greatness. Paiyj = dignity. Pause. Joh(i) = keep a watch. Kaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Kayvul = only. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Churni Laageen = live at the feet; are slaves. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = love and blessings. 2.
Sooaaou = objective; interest. Bhaydiyo = pierced. Bhaaou = love. Koorr(u) = lies; falsehood. Kupt = deceitfulness. Paaj(u) = covering; mask. Leh(i) Jaasi = comes off. Pheeka Alaou = talk impolitely; vilify saintly people. 3.

MEANING: You have been protecting the dignity of Your devotees ever since, oh Waheguru. You protected Your devotees like Prehlad while killing and destroying the evil, like Hernakhsh, his father. Guru's Sikhs have full faith in You, while the money-engrossed individuals are misled by their own misgivings. 1. It is Your greatness that You protect the dignity of Your devotees who stay in Your shelter, oh Lord. Pause.
The Angel of (spiritual) death dare not keep an evil eye on Your devotees, and (spiritual) death cannot even go near them (has no effect on them). They have only Waheguru's Naam (enshrined) in their heart because of which they achieve emancipation. With love for the Guru in their heart, and with His blessings, supernatural powers are naturally the slaves of Your devotees, oh Waheguru. 2. The money-engrossed people have greed as their main interest in mind, so they do not foster any faith in You. Unlike the Sikhs of the Guru, their minds are not pierced with His Shabad, and they develop no love for Waheguru's Naam. The cover of their falsehood and deceit comes off when they talk impolitely, or vilify the saintly people. 3.

---------- Bhugtaan vich(i) Aap(i) vertda Prubh Jee, bhugteen hoon Tu jaata. Maya moh subh loak haiy Tayri, Tu aiko Purakh Bidhaata.

Gurmukh(i) hovaiy, su Amrit peevaiy, sehjay Saach(i) smaayee. 6.

Word Meaning: Aap(i) = Waheguru. Vertda = operates. Jaata = is recognized (revealed). Loak = the world. Aiko = alone. Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Munsa = desires. Smaaani = are absorbed; choked. Puchhaata = recognized. 4.
Achint = without any effort. Kaaj = tasks; objectives. Suvaarunhaara = fulfiller of objectives. Rees = copy; compete against. Vigoochaiy = suffer humiliation. 5.
Bhaunk = meaningless talk; speak scathingly. Mooyay = die (spiritual death). Bil-laayay = wailing. Tthaur = peace; stability. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Sehjay = easily. 6.

MEANING: You are visibly present in the hearts of Your devotees, and You complete all their tasks successfully, oh my Waheguru; also, You are revealed through them. The whole world is engrossed in (attached to) Maya, You (alone are above the effects of Maya) and are the carver of our fortunes. Your devotees kill their selfishness and ego, and their desires are mentally satisfied; they recognize (make a connection with) You through the Guru's Shabad. 4. Waheguru successfully completes all the tasks of His devotees who love His Naam without any special effort on their part. With the grace of the Guru, Waheguru resides in their hearts forever and completes all their tasks successfully. Waheguru protects them in every way, and whoever tries to compete against them faces humiliation. 5.

Nobody can realize Waheguru without the shelter of Satguru; the Maya-engrossed individuals talk meaninglessly and scathingly of the holy saints, but die spiritual death due to their wailing (unsuccessful complaining and vilification of others). They keep taking births and dying, and never find peace (never merge with Waheguru). They keep suffering in discomfort. (On the other hand) The Sikhs of the Guru recite the Amrit-Naam of Waheguru with love, and easily merge into Waheguru. 6.

Word Meaning: Sayvay = serving; following advice. Junum(u) = rebirths. Anayk = countless. Kerm = rituals. Adhikaayee = very much. Vaad Vukhaaneh(i) = useless discussions. Put(i) = respect. Bhuj(i) = by running; quickly. Chhooteh(i) = freedom from worldly bonds. Shernaayee = shelter. 7. Sachiyaara = pure-minded; bearer of Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Sobha = praise. Joog(i) Joog(i) = in every eon. Maytunhaara = eraser; eradicator. Oor(i) Dhaara = embedded in the heart. 8.
MEANING: One cannot get out of the circle of rebirths and deaths without serving the Guru, no matter how many rituals he performs. The Brahman studies the Vedas only to participate in useless discussions and loses his dignity (morality) without Waheguru's (Naam). Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru, and His Shabad is eternal, so one should rush to take His shelter for salvation. 7. Those holy saints, who get Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts, are approved in Waheguru's Court as being pure (who have conquered their minds). Their praise is sung in every eon, which nobody can erase (destroy). I am always a sacrifice to those who have embedded Waheguru's Naam in their heart, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Nigoonay = without any virtue. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. Bhaayee = oh, brother. Ootum = best; most rewarding. Chit(u) = mind. 1. Milaayay = connects. Goon-heen = devoid of virtues. Upraadhi = guilty. Pause. Kaun(u), Kaun(u) = which; countless. Bhuoujul(u) = the world sea (of Maya). Bayrra = boat. 2. Munoora = waste iron (a person full of vices). Kunchun = gold (a pure or saintly person). Bhuyyay = became. Paarus(u) = elixir stone. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Joti = human light (soul). Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. 3. Vaari = Bulihaari = offer self as sacrifice. Nidhaan = treasure. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru forgives the individuals with no virtues, and puts them in the service of the Guru, oh my brothers. The service to the Guru is most rewarding, leading the individual to focus on Waheguru's Naam with love. 1. Waheguru forgives, and Himself connects the individual with the Guru. We are virtue-less and are guilty of many sins, but the Perfect Guru kindly connects us with Waheguru. Pause. Waheguru forgives countless culprits (sinners) and makes them ponder on Guru's Shabad. Satguru is the ship which ferries people across the sea of Maya; Waheguru puts His devotees on this Ship to salvage them. 2. Just as the elixir stone is believed to convert base iron into gold, Satguru is an elixir stone that converts the guilty and the immoral into holy saints and connects them with Waheguru. Such holy devotees get rid of their selfishness and ego when Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in their heart, and their souls merge with Waheguru. 3. I am always a sacrifice to my Satguru, who bestowed the treasure of Waheguru's Naam on me, with which I easily attained the spiritual state above Maya, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Oopjaiy = comes into being; attain. Giyaani = holy saints. 5. Gurmutee = with the Advice of the Guru. Bhuou = fear (of God). Kurni = deeds. Saar(u) = supreme; most rewarding. Praym Pdaaruth = the beloved (valuable) item. Aadhaar = basis. 6. Suvaareen = adorn; make successful. Kool(u) = clan; associates. 7. Bani = Guru's Shabad. Bighun(u) = hindrances. 8.

MEANING: You may ask any holy saint, and he will tell you that you cannot attain the spiritual state above Maya without taking shelter of the Guru. So, always serve the Guru to get rid of your selfishness and ego, oh my brothers. 5. One develops Waheguru's fear in mind with the Advice of the Guru; all deeds done under the fear of God are most rewarding, and one acquires his beloved Waheguru's Naam, which is the basis of life. 6.
I will drop on the feet of (serve) the holy saints who serve their Satguru as a result of which I can make my life successful (achieve union with Waheguru), and get His forgiveness for my associates as well (get them connected with Him). 7. Satguru's Shabad, His Bani, are eternal (a manifestation of Waheguru) but one can recite them only with the benevolence of the Guru. (With the recitation of Guru's Shabad), Waheguru takes dwelling in one's heart, and there is no obstacle in the way to have union with Him, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Raatiyo = imbued. Pause. Kaar Kmaavni = act on the advice. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Chhoad(i) = getting rid of. Sehj(u) = blissfulness. Vussaiy = comes to dwell. 2. Pir = Husband; Lord (Waheguru). Sa = that. Koolukhni = with bad qualities. Koonaar(i) = very bad wife; who disobeys Waheguru's Will. Mun Hutth(i) = with persistence of mind. Koorriyaar(i) = deceitful; engrossed in Maya. 3. Say = those. Mustuk(i) Bhaag(u) = fortune on the forehead. Bhaayay Saachaiy = in Waheguru's love. Baiyraag(u) = detachment from the world. Liv = meditation. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is revealed by Guru's Shabad, but one is connected with the Shabad (embeds in the heart) only with great luck, oh my brothers. The human-bride, which enshrines Guru's Shabad in her heart, gets imbued in Waheguru's love, and is always married (connected with Him), and enjoys comfort and bliss day and night. 1. You, Yourself, dye the hearts of Your devotees with Your love, oh Waheguru. Imbued in His love, sing praise of Waheguru who dyes your hearts with His Love, oh my friends. Pause.

One should follow the Shabad (Advice) of the Guru in all daily tasks, and, by getting rid of his selfishness and ego, should focus his mind on the Shabad. By doing so, Waheguru makes the heart of His devotee a dwelling for Him, and the devotee enjoys blissfulness all the time and never suffers any discomfort. 2. The human-bride, who does not recognize (acts on) Waheguru's Will, has bad qualities, and is a very evil wife who disobeys her

But a Sikh of the Guru always recites the virtues of Waheguru (sings His praise), and merges in the dear Waheguru (becomes "one" with Him). 6. What face will the individual, who does not remember Waheguru in this life, take to Waheguru's Court? Disregarding the warning cries (signals) of the religious leaders, he gets robbed of his good qualities as he gets attracted to sensual pleasures. 7.
Remember Waheguru all the time which is a great source of blissfulness, and because of which you always enjoy comfort and peace. You, too, remember Naam of Waheguru which is beyond limits and is the ocean of virtues, oh Nanak. 8.3.

We should sing praise only of the Guru, Waheguru, to realize the reality (Waheguru). 1. Recite the Naam of Waheguru which gives the gift of His Naam to His devotees, and which is the destroyer of all pain and suffering, oh my mind. Pause. Nobody can determine the worth of Waheguru which is transcendent, inaccessible, and beyond limits, and who has everything in His stocks, and whose warehouses are always full with all the nine (mythical) treasures. He raises and nurtures all His living beings all the time. One can unite with Waheguru only with Guru's Shabad; so, we should meet with (seek the shelter of) the Perfect Guru. 2. We should serve the Feet (obey His Huqam) of the eternal Waheguru whereby all our misgivings and fears will be destroyed, oh my dear brothers. We should fully cleanse (purify) our mind in the company of the holy saints whereby Waheguru comes to dwell (appear) in our heart. (With Waheguru dwelling in our heart), the darkness of our ignorance is eradicated, and our heart blooms with inner joy. MEANING: Waheguru is present in every heart (so, all of us are equal) and (being omnipresent), He sees, and listens to everything, so we should have good qualities and be very humble (polite and helpful), and get rid of any discrimination against each other, oh my brothers. The day we forget Him, we cry in repentance (die spiritual death). Waheguru is full of all powers and is omnipotent; He does things Himself, and makes others do as He wishes. 4. Love for Waheguru earns us His Naam which is the most valuable thing whereas greed for Maya leads to spiritual destruction. But, if He likes, He connects individuals with Him, and His Naam takes dwelling in their heart. The heart of the devotees of the Guru gets enlightened, and blooms like a lotus flower. Waheguru's grandeur brightens one's mind whereby the ground of his heart, and the sky of his mind bloom with inner joy. 5. The Perfect Guru bestows contentment to His devotee who stays imbued in His love day and night. The devotee recites Waheguru's Naam with the tongue the taste of which never dies. He lives by listening to Waheguru's Naam with the ears, and attains the immortal status (merges with Waheguru). The soul, which does not bring faith on Waheguru, burns in the fire of desires. 6.

MEANING: My Lord has countless noble qualities, and I am always a sacrifice for Him. He raises even the ones who have no good quality at all, and provides shelter to the shelter-less. He delivers food and other necessities of life to all with their every breath (always) and His Naam immortalizes them. Perfectly lucky is the individual who gets connected with the Guru. 7. I cannot live even for a short moment without Waheguru which has full control on all powers. Do not forget Him even for the time it takes to breathe, or to take a bite; always feel Him around you, oh man. One can connect with Him in the company of the Guru (or holy saints) when you find Him present everywhere. Those, who do not foster any love for Him, cry in repentance (die spiritual death) all the time. 8. The world is a sea of discomforts (rooted in the unfulfilled desires), but Waheguru ferries people across the sea by providing them the shelter (of the Guru). He blesses people with His kind sight, and does them limitless favours. With Waheguru's Naam as the food for the soul, one's mind and body attain peace (contentment), oh brothers. I have sought the shelter of Waheguru which destroys all the sins, oh Nanak. 9.1.

Word Meaning: Gerbh = womb. Bikh(u) = attractions of Maya. Pusreeya = began to affect. Kerm(u) = munificence. Aaraadhay = worships. 1. Tayk = support. Uver(u) = other. Kernhaar(u) = creator. Untarjaami = omnipotent. Pause.
Koat(i) = millions; countless. Bherm(i) Aaya = travelled through. Visriya = forgotten. Bhaytiya = met with. Pichhaiy = because of. Chhootiyaiy = salvaged. 2.
Putisutiya = stayed. Soag(u) = grief; sadness. Bhog Bhoonchaayay = by feeding. Bhoolaayayun(u) = misguided. Vijoag(u) = (pain of) separation. Oodhaariya = salvaged. Dhooray = right from the source (Waheguru). Sunjoag(u) = union. 3.

MEANING: Mother's womb is a kind of sea of discomforts (the fetus is caged in a small place at an unbearable temperature), but Waheguru keeps him safe thereby making him recite His Naam. But, as soon as the baby comes out of the womb, he is surrounded by the attractions of Maya, and begins to love them. But Waheguru connects the individual whom He is kind to with the Guru (to protect him from the evil effects of Maya). That individual focuses his mind on Waheguru, and recites His Naam with every breath. 1. My mind and my body survive with Your support, oh dear Waheguru. You are omniscient, and the only Creator and there is none other, oh Waheguru. Pause. I have travelled, and suffered through countless lives. One receives huge punishments when he forgets the True Lord. But those, who get connected with the Perfect Satguru start to recite Waheguru's Naam. Many others also find salvation because of them (motivated by them) by seeking shelter of Waheguru. 2. People find sensual pleasures to be temporarily sweet (enjoyable), but their results are bitter, and stay with them for ever because of which, not only they get sick physically, but also suffer mental ailments causing them grief. By feeding (providing) them such harmful luxuries, Waheguru misleads them because of which they are unable to remove (end) their separation from Waheguru. But those, who have union with Waheguru prewritten in their fate right from the beginning, are connected with the Guru, and are salvaged. 3.

Saakut = Maya-engrossed. Paar(i) Vusaayay = as far as possible. Ootth(i) Jaayay = leave the world. Dhoyee = shelter. Poori Paayay = achieved success. 5.
Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Sehs = thousands. Siyaanpaan = clevernesses. Baymookh = non-believers. Kool(i) = clan; the sect they belong to. Laagi Gaal(i) = bring discredit. Hoandi Vust(u) = the thing which is present (Waheguru, which is always with them). Jaatiya = recognized. Koorr(u) = falsehood; worldly possessions. Smaal(i) = remember. 6.
MEANING: Engrossed in the greed of Maya, the man does not remember Waheguru at all. Those, who forget the Lord, Waheguru, become spiritually worthless like dust. They cry a lot for help, but their suffering does not go away. But, those, who are adorned with noble qualities in the shelter of Satguru save their original (basic) purity (from the birth). 4.
As far as possible, one should avoid the company of the Maya-engrossed people. Those, in whose company one forgets Waheguru, leave this world with their faces blackened (disgraced because of their sins and crimes). The followers of their mind get no shelter (support from any one) in Waheguru's Court, and receive punishment. But those, who are adorned with noble qualities by Satguru, are approved as completely successful in Waheguru's Court. 5. None of the efforts to control one's senses (with the obstinacy of mind), and none of the thousands of shrewd-nesses accompany the man after death. Those, who turn their faces away from Waheguru (are non-believers in Him) bring discredit to their clan (sect of faith). They do not recognize Waheguru which resides in their heart all the time, but miss the worldly belongings none of which accompanies them. But, those, who get connected with Satguru, keep Waheguru's Naam in their mind (which accompanies them to the next world. 6.

Amrit(i) = Waheguru's Naam. Dookh(u) Saagur = the world sea = Bhuvjul(u). Lunghiya = Paar(i) Puray = crossed over. Bhaavaiy = likes. Sayee = the same. Khuray = pure; pious. 7. Sumruth Purakh = omnipotent and omnipresent (Waheguru). Dayou = source of enlightenment. Taan(u) = power; support; pride. Dheh(i) Puyyay = drop on (feet). J(i) = which. Untarjaami Jaan(u) = know-all; omniscient. Hult(u) = this world. Pult(u) = the next world. Suvaariya = made successful. Neeshaan(u) = identification. Kuday Na = never. 8.
MEANING: One acquires high moral character, contentment, connection with Waheguru, and the ability of deep concentration when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him. He recites Waheguru's Naam, and sings His praise day and night; his mind-pool is always imbued with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. They swim across the world sea, which is the source of all discomfort (due to our unfulfilled desires), to go to the other side. Waheguru connects those with Him whom He likes, and they are always pure and pious everywhere. 7.

The kind Waheguru is omnipotent, omnipresent, and the source of enlightenment; His devotees take pride in Him and draw their strength from Him. Drop on the Feet (take their shelter) of the omniscient Waheguru, who knows everything, oh my dear. Such devotees make this world and the next successful for them as they have the identity certification on their forehead (granted by Waheguru). Such Waheguru should never be forgotten; I am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Nivul Bhooyungum = different exercises of yoga. Saadhay = performed. Punch Junaa = the five demons. Sung(u) = company. Adhik = more. Ahunboodh(i) = the wisdom (thinking) enhancing ego. Baandhay = trapped in. 1. Inn Bidh(i) = by these means. Kerm = rituals. Haar(i) = having exhausted all options. Boodh(i) Bibayka = the wisdom to distinguish. Pause. Moan = stayed mute. Kerpaati = make food with one's own hands. Tut = banks of holy rivers. Dherni Bhermiyo = roamed around on land. Doobidha = doubts. 2. Kaamna = wish. Kervut = a saw in Banaras where some blind-faith-people got their bodies cut in pieces to please their deity. Jutun = efforts. 3. Kunik = gold. Kaamini = woman; wife. Haiyvur = best horses. Gaiyvur = best elephants. Dataara = donor. Unn = food. Bhoom(i) = land. Urpay = offered. 4.
MEANING: Some people read religious books and ponder on the Vedas, while some others perform different Yogic exercises with the belief to cleanse their bodies internally, but they cannot get rid of the five demons; rather, they get more strongly bonded to Maya because all these rituals enhance their ego. 1. I have also performed countless such rituals (just to test), but found out that one cannot get connected with Waheguru by any of such means, oh my dear friends. Having exhausted all such means to connect with God, I finally took the shelter of the Lord, requesting Him to grant me the wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad. Pause. Many people remain mute for long periods, cook their own food, and wander around naked in the forests. They stay on the banks of holy rivers, visit holy places, and roam around on the land, but cannot get rid of their doubts or indecisiveness. 2. They have a wish to settle down at some holy place, or have their head severed by the special saw in Banaras (now Varanasi), but they cannot get rid of the filth of their mind by any such means, even if they perform millions of such efforts. 3. Some people give away gold, their wives, best horses, best elephants, or many other pricy things in donations, including food items, clothes, and land, with the expectation to achieve union with Waheguru, but they cannot find the door to His Residence. 4.

Word Meaning: Pooja = worshipping a deity. Urcha = offering flowers, etc. Bundun = pray with folded hands and by bowing. Dundaut = lie down flat and pray. Khut(u) Kerma = the six designated duties for Brahmans (perform yugs and make others do the same; receive education and teach others, give and receive donations). Huoun, huoun = me and mine; ego. Joogta = technique; means. 5. Aasun Chauraaeeh = the 84 sitting positions for meditation. Aarja = span of life. 6. Leela = different ways of entertainment. Ruchna = royal show off. Afaara = which no one can refuse to obey. Sayj = bed. Chundun = sandalwood. Choaa = essence of flowers; colognes. Ghor = frightening. 7. Sir(i) KermunKay Kerma = the supreme among all the deeds. Bhuyyo Praaput(i) = acquires. Poorb Likhay = prewritten. 8.
Maata = intoxicated. Dookh-Bhunjun = destroyer of all suffering. Keertun(i) = in praise (of Waheguru). Raata = imbued. Second Pause MEANING: Many people worship their deities, offer flowers, incense, etc. to them, bow before them, and even lie flat, and pray before them with folded hands, and perform the six accepted deeds. (But, never get rid of their haumein by any such means), and spend their life in selfishness and ego, which bind them even more tightly with Maya. They cannot connect with God by any of such means. 5. Many others grow tired of practising the 84 Yoga positions for meditation without any spiritual gain. They may be able to prolong their life spans by such means, but keep taking births again and again; they cannot achieve union with God. 6. The rulers (rajahs) use many different sources for entertainment, display their luxurious ways of enjoying royal life, and issue orders which no one can disobey; they have beautiful and comfortable beds, and spray the essences of sandalwood and of many flowers on their bodies, but all these luxuries become the source of frightening hell in future. 7. The supreme of all deeds is to sing praise of Waheguru in the company of the Guru (or holy saints); but only those get to do this holy deed who have it prewritten in their fortune by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8. Your devotee is intoxicated in the love of

Your Naam, oh kind to the humble, Waheguru. With the benevolence of the destroyer of all suffering, Waheguru, the devotee is always imbued with the love of His praise.
Second Pause. 1.3.

ਰਾਗੁ ਸੋਰਠਿ ਵਾਰ ਮਹਲੇ 4 ਕੀ॥ ੧ੴ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥

Sloak M:1: Soritth sudaa soohaavni jay Sacha mun(i) hoyay. Dundeen maiyl(u), na kut(u) mun(i), jeebhaiy Sacha Soyay. Susooraiy, payiyaiy bhaiy vussi, Satgur(u) sayv(i) nisung. Purhur(i) kuppurr(u) jay Pir milay, khooshi raavaiy Pir(u) sung(i). Sudaa sheengaari, Naaoun mun(i), kuday na maiyl(u) putung(u). Dayvur, jaytth mooyay dookh(i), sussoo ka dur(u) kis(u)? Jay Pir bhaavaiy Nanaka, kerm munee subh(u) Sach(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Soohavni = comforting; source of bliss. Dundeen = on the teeth (to backbite). Maiyl(u) Na = no filth (of eating food earned by unfair means). Kut(u) Mun(i) = knife in mind (plans to suck the blood of others). Jeebhaiy = on the tongue. Sasooraiy = the home of the in-laws; husband's home (Waheguru's Residence); the next world. Payiyaiy = parents' house; this world. Bhaiy = God's fear. Nisung = without any shame in society. Purhur(i) = by removing. Kuppurr(u) = garb; hypocrisy. Raavaiy = enjoy. Sung(u) = company. Sheengaari = adorned (with noble qualities). Putung(u) = minuscule. Dayvur Jaytth = demons like lust. Sussoo = mother-in-law (Maya). Kerm Munee = the honour because of good fortune. 1.

MEANING: The lyrics in Soritth Raag are always a source of bliss, provided Waheguru is at the heart of the writer and of the singer, and they do not have the filth of backbiting others, have no plans to suck the blood of others (rob them of their hard-earned money), and they have Waheguru's Naam on their tongue. Such devotees make their lives in this and the next world pleasant by serving Satguru without feeling any shame in society (where everyone was expected to worship idols and perform the accepted rituals). If a devotee connects with Waheguru by giving up show-off and hypocrisy, she enjoys union with Waheguru-husband. She is always embellished with Waheguru's Naam at her heart, and never gets even a speck of any filth of immorality. All the five demons get destroyed (become ineffective) for such devotees, and they lose all fear of the attacks of Maya. With Waheguru's approval, such devotees become highly fortunate, and are honoured by Him. They also see Waheguru everywhere. 1.

Word Meaning: Taam(i) = only then. Ja = when. Dhundholay = searches for; includes. Munaavaiy = celebrate; show reverence. Praym(i) Kusaayee = attracted by love. Rutti = imbued. Choalay = dress; body. Toalay = search for. Drirraaya = reinforced. Anut na Kaahoo = nowhere else. Doalay = weakening or wavering of the mind. Gol Goalay = slave of slaves.
MEANING: Lyrics in Soritth Raag(u) (which is a very popular raag) are comforting (blissful) only if they include Waheguru's praise in them, and only if the singer shows reverence for the Guru and sings Waheguru's praise with His advice. Attracted by Waheguru's love, such a human-bride stays imbued in His love day and night, and dyes her body and mind with His love. I have searched everywhere, but there is no one like Waheguru in the entire world. My Guru, my Satguru, has reiterated Waheguru's Naam in my heart, and now my mind does not weaken (waver) for anything else. I am a strong devotee of Waheguru, and am a slave of slaves of my Satguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sist(i) = world. Kerta = Sirjunhaar(u) = creator (God). Khayl(u) = drama (of life). Suvaariya = beautified. Bhogunhaara = one who enjoys the gifts. Shabad = Huqam; Will; Commandment. Oopaavunhaar = creator. 1.
MEANING: You are the creator of the whole world, oh Waheguru. Having created the drama of the world, You have beautified it (made it attractive and provided all the right conditions for living beings), oh Waheguru. You, Yourself, are the creator, and also the one to enjoy it (by being present in all living beings). It is all Your Huqam (Laws) that govern the world. I always sing Your praise in the shelter of the Guru for whom I am always a sacrifice. 1.

Word Meaning: Haumein = selfishness and ego. Jultay = burn; suffer. Bherm(i) aayay = misguided. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Punnaiy Paayay = providing shelter. Soobhaayay = with love. Ruttay = imbued. Seetul = calm; peaceful. Kmaayay = perform deeds.
MEANING: Those who are misguided by their love for Maya suffer in their selfishness and ego, and experience spiritual death. However, the Perfect Guru salvages them by providing His shelter. One can see the suffering of the world (because of their unfulfilled worldly desires) by pondering on the Guru's Shabad with love and respect for Him. Those who are imbued with the love for the Guru's Shabad attain peace of mind and perform only those deeds based on honesty and leading to union with Waheguru. 1.

Word Meaning: Sufliyo = granting success; fulfiller of all wishes. Dhunn(u) = praiseworthy. Pervaan(u) = approved. Soojaan(u) = wise. Oodhaaray = gets salvation for. 2.

MEANING: Those who serve Satguru, which is capable of fulfilling all one's wishes, are praiseworthy and are approved by Waheguru. Those who never forget Waheguru, whether living in the world or even after their death, are the real wise people. Such a devotee is approved by Waheguru and grants salvation to his associates (by exhorting them to enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts). Satguru's Sikhs are always approved by Waheguru - when they live in the world, and even after their death (because they merge with Waheguru after death) – whereas the Maya-engrossed individuals keep taking births and dying. The Gur Sikhs, who stay absorbed in the Guru's Shabad, are not called dead even after their death (because connected with Waheguru, they are always alive). 2.

Paurri: Hur(i) Purakh(u) Nirunjun(u) sayv(i), Hur(i) Naam(u) dhiyaayiyaiy. Satsungut(i) Sadhu lug(i) , Hur(i) Naam(i) smaayiyaiy. Hur(i), Tayri vuddi kaar, mein moorukh(u) laayiyaiy. Huoun golla, laala Toodh(u), mein Huqam(u) foormaayiyaiy. Huoun Gurmukh(i) kaar kmaavaan j(i) Gur(i) sumjhaayiyaiy. 2.

Word Meaning: Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (God). Smaayiyaiy = get absorbed. Vuddi Kaar = most worthy deed. Golla = Laala = slave. Foormaayiyaiy = a respectful way to say "tell;" issue order. Kmaavaan = perform. 2.

MEANING: The man should serve Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and recite His Naam in the company of the Guru (or the holy saints) so as to get absorbed in His Naam. Reciting Your Naam is the most worthy deed to perform, oh Waheguru. I am a big fool (highly ignorant), so kindly guide me (give me the ability) to recite Your Naam. I am Your slave, so command me to do anything in Your service. I wish to perform only those deeds which the Guru wishes me to do, oh Waheguru. 2.

Sloak(u) M: 3: Poorub(i) likhiya kmaavna, j(i) Aap(i) likhiyaas(u). Moh tthugauli paayeeun(u) visriya Goontaas(u). Mut(u) jaanhou jug(u) jeenvda, doojaiy bhaayay mooyiaas(u). oobhay saas. Munmukhaan nu ko na viss-hee, chook(i) guyya vaysaas(u). Nanak, Gurmukhaan nu sookh(u) ugla, jinha untar(i) Naam nivaas(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten (by Waheguru). Kmaavna = perform deeds. Tthugauli = a plant which causes temporary unconsciousness when smelt. Robbers use this plant to rob people. Goontaas(u) = treasures of virtues (God). Mut(u) Jaanhou = do not think. Ghunaa = immense. Klutt(u) = wife. Mooh Kaala = insult; disgraced. Oobhay Saas = to sob. Viss-hee = to trust. Chook(i) Guyya = lost. Vaysaas(u) = trust. Ugla = very much. 1.

MEANING: We have to follow the line of actions (thinking) which Waheguru has prewritten in our fates. He has created deceitful Maya, which captivates us and overpowers our minds, thereby deteriorating our judgment, like the plant which causes temporary unconsciousness, as a result of which we forget the source of all virtues, Waheguru. So, do not think that the world is (spiritually) alive; it is dead in its love for Maya. Those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru cannot get to sit near Waheguru (get connected with Him). None of the sons or the wife accompanies anyone after death, and they suffer alone immensely. They get disgraced among the people, and sob (bear the pain inwardly). Nobody trusts them, as they have lost their trust. On the other hand, the followers of the Guru enjoy blissfulness because they have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Saiyn = Sujjun = friends. J(i) = if. Gurmukh(i) = Sikhs of the Guru. Soobhaayay = with affection. Bhaana = Will; Command. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for Maya. Vaykaar = immoral acts. Sooaarthi = selfish. Kaaruj(u) Suvaar(i) = achieve objective. Maytuhnaar(u) = obliterator. 2.

MEANING: Only those are your friends (well-wishers) who get connected with you in the company of the Guru with affection for Him, oh man. They obey the Will of the Guru, day and night, and stay absorbed in Waheguru. Those who love Maya are conceited and think of sensual pleasures. They cannot be considered your real friends. The Maya-engrossed people are always selfish and cannot achieve the real objective of life (union with Waheguru). But nobody can be fully blamed because one has to perform the deeds of the nature which has been prewritten by Waheguru for him, and no one can obliterate that, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Khayl(u) = the world drama. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya (see the Introduction). Laykha = account (of deeds). Aavaiy Jaaya = is born and dies. Ghoomaaya = offer to be sacrificed. 3.
MEANING: Having created the world, You have also created the drama of life, oh Waheguru. You created the three effects of Maya, and instilled love for it in the minds of the living beings. But You also demand the account of the deeds performed by living beings under their selfishness and ego as a result of which they keep taking births and dying. Those, whom You are kind to, are advised by the Guru (to recite Your Naam), oh Waheguru. I am always ready to make a sacrifice for my Guru. 3.

Word Meaning: Mumta = deep attachment. Mohini = captivating. Duntaan = teeth. Khaadhay = consumed (robbed of spirituality). Oobray = floated; survived; salvaged. Kumla = senseless; confused. Dhundha = routine business. Nihful = unsuccessful. Sookhdaata = the source of all comforts (God). Dhoor(i) = by God.
MEANING: Maya is highly captivating, and attachment to it is like a demon that eats the world without teeth (robs the world of its spirituality). The Maya- engrossed people are consumed (controlled) by it, while the followers of the Guru, who keep Waheguru's Naam in mind, are salvaged. Without Waheguru's Naam, the world wanders (does its business) in confusion (they cannot distinguish between good and bad), while the followers of the Guru can see the reality clearly. The Maya-engrossed people do not embed the source of all bliss, Waheguru, in their mind, and waste away their precious human life in worldly affairs. Only those lucky people get to implant Waheguru's Naam in their minds who have this gift written in their fortune by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ghur = heart. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Bhurpoor = overflowing. Saad(u) = taste. Kustoori Mirg = musk deer Bhermda = wanders in search of musk. Bherm(i) = in doubt. Bhoolaaya = misguided. Tuj(u) = abandoning. Bikh(u) = sensual pleasures. Sungruhaiy = amasses. Khooaaya = misled. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Braham = Waheguru. Seetul = peaceful. Bauraana = crazy. Birtha = without any gain; worthlessly. 2.

MEANING: Even though the Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) is filling everybody's heart, yet the Maya-engrossed individuals do not enjoy its taste; they are like the male musk deer whose glands produce musk without him realizing it, and misled by its doubts (unsure of the source of the pleasant smell), he wanders around in search of the smell. Abandoning the priceless Naam-Amrit, such an individual amasses the burden of temporary enjoyment of sensual pleasures. But we cannot blame them, as Waheguru Himself has misguided them. Some rare individuals get enlightened in the shelter of the Guru, and they are shown Waheguru in their hearts. Their body and mind become peaceful, and they enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam with their tongue. Waheguru's Naam sprouts in one's heart through Guru's Shabad, and it is through the Shabad that one connects with Waheguru. Without Guru's Shabad, the whole world is insane, and wastes away the precious human life worthlessly. Satguru's Shabad is the only Amrit, which one realizes in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Agumm(u) = inaccessible; beyond reach. Bidh(i) = means. Roop(i) Na Raykh = no physical features. Adrisht(u) = invisible. Nirunkar = formless. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding. Maag(i) = on the path (to unite with Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is inaccessible, so what means can one use to reach Him (connect with Him)? He has no physical features and is invisible, so how can one remember (or worship) Him? Waheguru is formless, is above the effects of Maya, and is inaccessible, so what words should one use to sing His praise? He shows the path to connect with Him to those whom He gives the understanding (enlightens them). The Perfect Guru shows that path, and one can realize God by serving the Guru. 4.

Word Meaning: Kohloo = oil-seeds crushing mill. Peerriyaiy = crush. Rutt(u) = blood. Bhori = very small amount; a droplet. Jeeou = life; body. Vunjaiy = go; become. Chaukhunniyaiy = cut into four pieces. Sundrraiy = with. Nayh(u) = love. Mayl(u) = union. Chookyee = removed; interrupted. Dayh = day. 1.

MEANING: Like the oil-seeds, which when crushed in the crushing mill to the extent that even the las droplet of oil is squeezed out, a supreme devotee of Waheguru is willing gladly to cut his body into small pieces so that not even a drop of blood is left in there in the love of his Waheguru (he dedicates his body to the service of Waheguru so much so that not a minuscule of selfishness and ego is left in him). His union with Waheguru becomes so strong that it is not interrupted day or night, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sujjun = friend (Waheguru). Rungula = dyer. Majeetthaiy = with deep red colour. Bhee = still. Paheh(i) = primer. Biya = other. Kayh = any. 2.

MEANING: When a fabric is to be dyed with the deep red colour, it has to suffer because it has to be primed by boiling it in water containing alum (or something similar) before it is dyed. Similarly, my friend Waheguru is a dyer who dyes his devotees' minds with His love in return when they surrender their minds to Him (lose all their ego and selfishness, which may seem like a punishment at first). Such a deep colour of love for Waheguru never fades away, nor does it take on some other colour (does not fall in love with Maya), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Hur(i) = Waheguru. Vertaiy = operates. Bolaayaynda = makes the living beings talk (recite His Naam). Suvaar(i) = make attractive (with Maya). Dhundhaiy = puts them in business. Ikkna = some. Khooaayaynda = misleads. Maarug(i) Paayay = guides on the path of righteousness. Oojhurr(i) = wilderness; confusion. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru operates everywhere, and Himself makes some humans recite His Naam. By creating Maya, He makes the world attractive, putting people in its routine business. He makes some to worship Him, and misguides others (by leading them to love Maya). He puts some on the path of righteousness, while misguides many others to confusion. I sing praise of Waheguru, and recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 5.

Word Meaning: Suful(u) = successful; rewarding. Chindiya = desired. Bundhun = strong bonds of Maya. Mookt(u) = free; liberated. Alubh(u) = rare; not easily available. Bulihaaraiy = offer to sacrifice self. 1.

MEANING: The service to Satguru is highly rewarding, provided one does it selflessly from the depths of his heart. He overcomes his ego and has all his wishes fulfilled (unites with Waheguru). He is able to break all the bonds of Maya; thus liberated, he remains absorbed in Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam is extremely difficult to acquire in this world, but one can enshrine it in their mind by taking the Guru's shelter. I am always a sacrifice to the devotees who serve their Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ajit(u) = unwinnable; beyond control. Doojaiy = Maya. Vihaayay = (life) is spent. Thukkay = exhausted. Vuss(i) = under control. Kerm Kmaayay = performing rituals. Bhaykhdhaari = wearing religious garbs. Utth-sutth(i) Teeruth = the 68 Hindu holy places. Saar = situation; stage. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Bhuou = fear (of Waheguru). Vudbhaag(i) = with great luck. Ruttay = imbued. Nirmulay = pure; pious. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 2.

MEANING: The mind of a Maya-engrossed individual is beyond his control, which gets attached to Maya. Such a person lacks peace of mind, even in his dreams, and spends his life in suffering. The Brahmans get exhausted by reading the Vedas in many houses, and the Sidh Yogis get tired of sitting in meditation (but both fail to control their wandering minds). Many more get exhausted by performing religious deeds, but still cannot control their mind. The followers of many other ascetic sects get exhausted by showing off their different religious garbs, and the pilgrims get tired of taking dips in the 68 holy places, yet they still fail to know the state of their minds and are lost in their misbeliefs.

With Guru's grace, His devotees develop (respectful) fear of Waheguru, and Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in their hearts with great luck. With the fear of God, their mind comes under their control, and they are able to burn away their selfishness and ego with the Guru's Shabad. Those who are imbued with the love of Waheguru are pure and are able to merge their soul with the Supreme Soul. One acquires Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and stays blessed all the time, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhooput(i) = Raanay = rajahs. Rung = enjoyment of luxuries. Char(i) Din = only for four days (for a short time). Kusoombh = a beautiful flower which withers away quickly. Khin = moment. Sir(i) = on the head; in account. Kaal(i) = death. Khuraa = very much. Draavna = looks frightened. Vayla = time. Huth(i) Na Aavaiy = cannot be had (called back). Puchhutaavna = repent. 6.
MEANING: The luxuries that the rajahs enjoy are very short-lived. The attractions of Maya are short-lived, like the beautiful colour of the Kusoombh flower, which fades away very quickly. The luxuries of Maya do not accompany the man at the time of his death, but the sins that the man commits to acquire such luxuries are recorded in his account. When (the Angel of) death arrests, and takes one away, he looks very frightened. He cannot recall that time back, and then repents (for his sins). 6.

Word Meaning: Mooh Phiray = turn face away. Buddhay = bonded (with Maya). Suhaah(i) = endure. Milun(u) = meet (connect with Waheguru). Sehsa = doubts; worries. Nudri = (kind) sight.
MEANING: Bonded with Maya, those who turn their faces away from Satguru endure huge suffering. They take births, and die again, and again, but never get united with Waheguru. They never get free from their misbeliefs and worldly worries, and suffer continuously in discomfort. But, with His kind sight, Waheguru connects them with Him by implanting Guru's Shabad in their mind. 1.

Word Meaning: Tthaur = peace. Tthaoun = shelter. Chhootturr(i) = condemned (divorced) wife. Doohchaarun(i) = immoral. Budnaoun = bad name; infamous. Bukhshiyeh(i) = with the kindness of. 2.
MEANING: The Maya-engrossed man who turns his face away from Satguru does not find any peace or (spiritual) shelter. Like a divorced woman who becomes immoral, and goes from door to door in her lust, yet never gets satisfaction, and earns a bad name, a Maya-engrossed man goes from one business to another, but never gets satisfaction. But those who take Guru's shelter are connected to Waheguru through Guru's grace (and become fully contented). 2.

Word Meaning: Sat(i) Mooraar(i) = the eternal Waheguru. Bhuvjul = the world-sea. Paiydhay = given robe of honour. Sayee Purakh = those devotees. Muyya = benevolence. Bherm = misgivings. Bhuou = (worldly) fears. 7.
MEANING: The devotee, who serves the eternal Waheguru (obeys His Will), swims across the sea of Maya safely. The Angel of (spiritual) death leaves the devotees alone who recite Waheguru's Naam; actually, such devotees are given the robe of honour in Waheguru's Court. But only those men serve Waheguru whom He is kind to. They sing His praise all the time, and get rid of their misgivings and worldly fears in the shelter of the Guru. 7.

Nanak, jis(u) boojhaayay su boojhsi, Hur(i) paaya Gurmukh(i) ghaal(i). 1.
Word Meaning: Thaalaiy = Gurbani as a platter (to serve spiritual food). Taiy Vustoo = three (invaluable) things. Bhojun = food. Saar(u) = supreme. Triptiyaiy = is contented. Moakh Dooaar(u) = the door of salvation. Alubh(u) = rare; extremely difficult to acquire. Moondaavni = (the thought of the) riddle. Oor(i) Dhaar(i) = enshrine in the heart. Luddhi = found out; solved. Bhaal(i) = by searching. Boojhaayay = enlightens. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Ghaal(i) = with hard labour. 1.
NOTE: Moondaavni means a riddle in Potthohaari (a dialect of Punjabi spoken in north-western Punjab (now in Pakistan) (Bhai Veer Singh Ji). Satguru Amar Dass Ji does mention three valuable foods in this holy Shabad, but He does not name them, and asks His Sikhs to identify those products with Guru's advice. For this reason, the holy Shabad is a riddle. The Fifth Guru, Guru Arjun Sahib, solves this riddle for the Sikhs in the form of a holy Shabad titled "Moondaavni," which is enshrined at the end of Guru Granth Sahib. Now enjoy the holy Shabad.
MEANING: The platter of Gurbani contains three highly valuable things which serve as the supreme Amrit-like spiritual food to the devotees to connect them with Waheguru. When one consumes this food, they are spiritually fully content and reach the door of emancipation. This food is extremely difficult to obtain and can only be had with the Guru's advice, oh holy saints. We should not forget the essence of this riddle, and must keep its thought in mind all the time. This riddle has been put to the Sikhs, who will find its solution by searching for it (in the Gurbani). The devotee, who is enlightened by the Guru, will find the solution, and will get connected with Waheguru with hard labour, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਜੋ ਧੁਰਿ ਮੇਲੇ ਸੇ ਮਿਲਿ ਰਹੇ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਸਿਉ ਚਿਤੁ ਲਾਇ॥ ਆਪਿ ਵਿਛੋੜੇਨੁ ਸੇ ਵਿਛੁੜੇ ਦੂਜੈ ਭਾਇ ਖੁਆਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਵਿਣੁ ਕਰਮਾ ਕਿਆ ਪਾਈਐ ਪੂਰਬਿ ਲਿਖਿਆ ਕਮਾਇ॥ 2॥
M: 3: Jo dhoor(i) maylay say mil(i) ruhhay, Satgur siyoun chit(u) laayay. Aap(i) vichhorrayn(u) say vichhurray, doojaiy bhaayay khooaayay. Nanak vin(u) kerma kiya paayiyaiy, poorub(i) likhiya kmaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = by Waheguru. Chit(u) Laayay = with dedication. Khooaayay = misguided. Kerma = luck. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. 2.
MEANING: Only those who are predestined to stay connected with Waheguru do so; Waheguru enables them to apply their mind to the Shabad of Satguru. Likewise, those stay disconnected with Him whom Waheguru keeps away from Him; they are misguided in the love for Maya. One cannot acquire anything spiritual without good fortune; everybody performs exactly the way he is preprogrammed for, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sukhiyaan = the (devotee) friends. Jus(u) = praise. Gaavunhaariya = who are enabled to sing praise. Slaahiou = (sing) praise. Vaariya = sacrifice. Milaavunhaariya = those who deserve to be united. Daykhunhaariya = those who are able to see the Guru (are connected spiritually).
MEANING: the devotee friends, who have been enabled by Waheguru (to sing His praise), get together and sing His praise. They recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, and will gladly offer their life for Waheguru (make any sacrifice). I am a sacrifice for all those who listen to Waheguru's Naam and act on it. Those devotees who are eligible are connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru. I will gladly sacrifice my life anytime for the devotees who are connected to the Guru. 8.

Word Meaning: Bhermday = lost in misgivings. Toata = shortage; loss in spirituality. Undh(u) = blind; blinding. Goobaar(u) = darkness. 1.
MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam, everybody is lost (confused) in their misgivings, and suffers loss in spirituality all the time in the world. They perform deeds rooted in Maya, and spend their lives in the deep darkness of selfishness and ego. But the followers of the Guru drink (take in) the Naam-Amrit by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. 1.

Word Meaning: Sehjay = blissfully. Oostut(i) = praise (of God). Bhermaiy = lost in misgivings. Sehsa = doubts, misgivings; worries. Chinta = worry. Giyani = enlightened. Soobhaayay = in love with God. 2.
MEANING: The followers of the Guru sing praise of Waheguru day and night, as a result of which they stay blissful whether they are awake or asleep. On the other hand, the followers of their mind (Maya-engrossed) are lost in their misgivings; they have worries of many kinds, and cannot sleep well. The enlightened devotees enjoy bliss in Waheguru's love whether they are awake or asleep. I am a sacrifice for those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam. 2.

Word Meaning: Ruttiya = imbued. Satya = eternal. Ootputiya = came into being; illuminated. Sut(i) Ghuttiya = thrown away; got rid of. 9.

MEANING: Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam recite His Naam. They worship only the Supreme Being (Waheguru), the only eternal power. Waheguru alone operates everywhere, and He is the only one who is self-illuminated. Those who recite His Naam become fearless. Waheguru Himself guides them to worship Him in the shelter of the Guru.9.

Word Meaning: Giyan(u) = Divine Knowledge; awareness. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Dittha = seeing. Puchhaaniyaiy = understand; act on. 1.

MEANING: The man does not acquire any Divine Knowledge (does not connect with the Guru) by which he may get enlightenment. Because Waheguru is invisible, the blind man follows blind faith (and worships idols). But, if he realizes Guru's Shabad (and acts on it), Waheguru's Naam will be implanted in his heart, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sacha = everlasting; which accompanies. Sauda = merchandize. Hutt(u) = shop. Ruttani = jewel-like, highly valuable, Wahweguru's Naam. Bhundaar = warehouses (treasures). Dayvunhaar(u) = the Provider (God). Laabh = profit. Khuttiya = earned. Appar(u) = unlimited; invaluable. Vikh(u) = poison; Maya. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Kerm(i) = with good luck. Dhunn(u) = great; praiseworthy. Suvaarunhaar(u) = which causes success. 2.

MEANING: Because there is only one Supreme Being, there is only one way to acquire Him, and that is to ponder on the Guru's Shabad and sing His praise using Gurbani (the Guru's holy compositions). Gurbani is the eternal store (source) which carries the eternal merchandize (of Waheguru's Naam) and the treasures of which are full of jewel-like, extremely valuable Shabads in Waheguru's praise. Such merchandize (Waheguru's Naam) can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru if Waheguru is kind to the individuals. This merchandize is always profitable (spiritually) and lasts forever when one earns (acquires) the Naam of Waheguru, which is beyond limits. One drinks Waheguru's life-sustaining Amrit-Naam only with great luck when Waheguru appears in the heart of the devotee, even when he is living in the world of poisonous Maya. One must sing praise of the Great Waheguru, which causes all success for His devotees (enables them to achieve their objective), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Koorr(u) = falsehood; lies; deceit. Vertaiy = operates. Sach(u) = truthfulness; honesty. Bhaavyee = like. Koorriaari = those who deal in lies and deceit. Vishta = feces; filth. Kaag(u) = crow. Leh(i) Jaavhee = washed away; removed. 10.

MEANING: Those individuals whose thinking is based only on falsehood (who deal in falsehood) do not like the truth (honesty). If someone tells them the truth, they get burned up (with hatred for them). Like the crow, which gets satisfied by eating filth, the dealers in falsehood feel contentment only with the filth of falsehood. But, those, whom Waheguru is kind to, recite His Naam. The dealers in falsehood should also recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru by which all the filth of their falsehood and sins will be washed away. 10.

Word Meaning: Sheikha = oh, learned Muslim friend. Chuouchookiya = incited by others. Chuouvaayay = the one who has no wisdom and who talks the language of others. Ikutt(u) Ghur(u) Aan(i) = control your mind to focus on one thing (keep it from wandering). Ehurr Tehurr = mine and yours; discrimination. Puchhan(u) = contemplate. Dheh(i) Puou = drop before; surrender. Jaan(u) = know-all. Aasa Munsa = hopes and desires. Mehmaan(u) = visitor. Bhaanaiy = by (His) will. Bhee = also. J(i) = those. Chaytni = remember. Dhig(u) = condemnable. 1.

MEANING: You are incited by others, and speak their language, oh my learned Muslim friend. Control your mind and bring it to focus on one thing only (Allah's Naam). Quit discriminating between people as your friends or foes, and contemplate on the Guru's Shabad. Surrender to the Guru; being the know-all, He knows everything about you. Consider yourself only a visitor on the earth, and burn away your hopes and desires (get rid of them). Also, if you spend your life according to the Will of the Satguru, you will be honoured in Waheguru's Court. Wearing rich clothes and enjoying the delicious foods of those who do not remember Waheguru is reprehensible, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Toat(i) = shortage. Ruveh(i) = recite.

MEANING: Nobody can assess the worth of Waheguru's virtues, and there is never a shortage of them, no matter how many people acquire them. The followers of the Guru keep Waheguru's virtues in mind and remain absorbed in them (never forget them), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Choali = apparel; attire. Suvaari = beautify. Kuddh(i) = embroidered. Paiyndhi = wear. Paat(u) = patches of embroidery. Adhikaayee = very much. Bidh(i) = designs. Bhaant(i) = kinds. Boojhunhaara = one who comprehends. Bibayk(u) = wisdom to differentiate. Kur(i) = by acquiring. 11.

MEANING: The human body created by Waheguru is the attire for the soul. People adorn it for wearing by embroidering it with Waheguru's worship. But people of different faiths have many different ways to beautify their attire (body) as they have many different ways of worshipping their deities. (For example, some wear symbols of their faiths, while others worship idols or undertake pilgrimages, torture them, or recite some mantras to control their deities and so on). So, human body attire has many different patches of embroidery depending on everybody's way of worship. But some rare devotees learn which attire pleases Waheguru by acquiring the wisdom to distinguish right from wrong. However, only that individual acquires this wisdom whom Waheguru enlightens Himself. But, Waheguru's slave, Nanak, simply recites the Naam of the eternal Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. (So, according to the Gurbani, recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the only acceptable path to unite with Waheguru). 11.

Word Meaning: Purthaayay = in reference to; in connection with. Sakhi = teaching. Saanjhi = common to all. Bhuou = fear (of Waheguru). Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = recognize self. Jeevut(u) Muraiy = kill desires. Mun Maanaiy = becomes peaceful. Purteet(i) = trust; dependence. Giyaanaiy = spiritual knowledge. 1.

MEANING: The Great Holy Souls say things in relation to (in order to deliver) some important message common to the whole world. The followers of the Guru show fear (respect) for the Message and engage in self-analysis based on it. They kill their worldly desires while living in the family and achieve peace of mind. What spiritual knowledge can those talk about who have no faith in (control over) their mind, oh Nanak?

Word Meaning: Chit(u) = mind. Puhouta = arrived. Soodh(i) = understanding; awareness. Burkutee = because of (them). Khaayay = eats (spiritual food). Burkut(i) = profit; enhancement. Pullaiy Paayay = acquire; in possession. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Julut = mental agony. Vihaayay = is spent. Kook Pookaar = loud cries for help. Sunsa = doubts, worries. Vihooniya = without; devoid of. Mooh(i) Kaalaiy = disgraced. 2.
MEANING: The individuals who do not think of Waheguru in their mind in the shelter of the Guru are hit by suffering at last. They are blind inside and outside (in understanding and observation), and have no awareness of Waheguru (because they do idol worship and perform worthless rituals). But the whole world gets spiritual food because of a few of those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, sing His praise by Guru's Shabad, and who stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Pundit.
There is no enhancement in spirituality for the people who are engrossed in Maya, and they do not acquire any spiritual wealth (by performing rituals only), oh Pundit. They get exhausted reading the religious books to people, but get no mental contentment; their life is spent in mental agony day and night. They cannot get rid of their doubts and worries, and their cries for help never go away. Devoid of Waheguru's Naam, they leave the world in disgrace, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sujjun = devotee friends. Punth(u) = path; way. Dusaayeen = I ask. Saanjhi = share. Nit = every day; always. Sojhi = enlightenment. 12.

MEANING: Connect me with the devotee friends so that I may ask them for guidance to put me on the path to union with You, oh Waheguru. I will sacrifice my life (serve him in any capacity) for the friend who will enlighten me about Waheguru. I will acquire virtuous qualities from him and recite Waheguru's Naam. I will serve the dear Waheguru all the time and attain blissfulness. I am a sacrifice to the Guru who has given me the wisdom (guidance) to connect with Waheguru. 12.

Nanak Naam(i) ruttay sehajy rujjay, jinha Hur(i) rukhiya oor(i) dhaar(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Vayd = Vedas. Traiy-Goon-Maya = Maya with three effects. Mool(u) = basis. Visaar(i) = forget. Bhoollay = misled. Trishna = fire (appetite) of desires. Guvaar = foolish. Rujjay = satisfied. Oor(i) Dhaar(i) = embedded in the heart.

MEANING: You cannot wash away the filth of your mind even if you read the Vedas for all the four eons, oh Pundit. (Because) The Maya with three effects is the basis of your reading the Vedas, which rather enhances your ego; you forget Waheguru's Naam. Their love for wealth misguides the Pundits, and they make (reading and preaching of) the Vedas their business. They have a big appetite for money which is never satisfied, and the foolish die hungry (unsatisfied).

One acquires blissfulness (contentment) by serving Satguru by contemplating on His eternal Shabad. With love for Waheguru's Naam, the appetite for worldly desires in their mind is eliminated. Those, who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and have embedded the Naam in their heart, get naturally fully contented, oh Nanak. 1

Naam(u) nidhaan(u) visaariya, doojaiy lugga jaayay. Nanak Gurmukh(i) mileh(i) vudiyaayiyaan, jay Aapay mayl(i) milaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Soodh(i) = enlightenmen. Kaayee = any. Mun Hutth(i) = obstinacy of mind. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. Beejiyo = implanted. 2.

MEANING: The Maya-engrossed man does not recite Waheguru's Naam as a result of which, he suffers a lot. He has no enlightenment at all because his mind is completely darkened by ignorance. The Maya-loving people follow their mind, and do not implant the seed of blissfulness (Waheguru's Naam leading to blissfulness) in their mind; so, what spiritual food will such men hungry of Waheguru's Naam, get to eat in the next world (Waheguru's Court)? In the business of earning wealth, they forget Waheguru's Naam. But those devotees, whom Waheguru connects with the Guru (recite His Naam there), and are honoured by Him, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Like the elephant which offers its head under the ankus (to be controlled), and like a piece of hot iron which gets beaten under the hammer on a block to be moulded into a desired shape, a devotee should offer his mind and his body to the Guru, and be ever-ready to serve Him (to acquire spiritual qualities), and to get rid of his selfishness and ego. When that happens, he becomes so contented and blissful that he feels as if he has become the emperor of the whole world. MEANING: Service to the Guru is a very tough job to do; one has to get rid of his selfishness and ego, and surrender his wisdom (mind) to the Guru. If one kills his mind (desires) by acting on the Guru's Shabad, his hard labour is recognized by God, and he never dies again spiritually (because he merges with Waheguru). The Guru is like the elixir stone, but better; the elixir stone turns a base metal into gold, but not into another elixir stone; the Guru turns His Sikhs into just like Him. So, when a Sikh enters the shelter of the Guru, he becomes pure, just like the Guru, and remains connected to Waheguru. A Sikh, who has good fortune preordained for him, connects with the Guru and Waheguru. A devotee, who serves the Guru and yet keeps account of his good deeds, and the expected rewards, never gets to connect with the Guru and the Waheguru; only that devotee gets recognition (is rewarded) to whom He is kind to, oh Nanak. 1.

He can access Waheguru's dwelling (get connected with Him) if he ponders on Guru's Shabad, and is able to merge his soul with that of Waheguru. He gets all enlightened when he implants respectful fear for Waheguru in his mind. Satguru exercises His own Will, and connects the devotee with Him when He deems right. But a Sikh of the Guru who overcomes his selfishness and ego is always blissful. He is fully content internally and never feels the appetite for worldly desires. Anything that a Sikh of the Guru, who always stays focused on Waheguru's Naam, does is always approved by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

By listening to them singing Waheguru's praise, I too, wish to recite His praise and enshrine that in my mind. By singing Waheguru's praise with love, I will be able to root out all my sins. That human heart, where my Guru sets His foot (implants His Shabad), is highly fortunate, and becomes pure and pious (a source of blissfulness) for others. 19.

(Sidh yogis meditate to acquire supernatural powers), But all such powers are condemnable, and all rich clothes and rich foods are worthless without Waheguru's Naam. Only that success and supernatural powers are worthy which are granted by Waheguru without any special effort on the part of the devotee. Enshrining Waheguru's Naam in the heart in the shelter of the Guru is the real success and the true supernatural powers, oh Nanak. 2.

Whoever recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru is truly wealthy, oh Nanak. 20.

But, if they search (for Waheguru) inside them, they will acquire (realize) the basis of all life, Waheguru, and reach the door of salvation. They can realize the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru, by pondering on (Guru's Shabad) in the peaceful state of mind (with a focused mind). Great are the dealers in Waheguru's Naam who, in the shelter of the Guru, make Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life, oh Nanak. 1

But a follower of the Guru, who stays connected with Waheguru in His shelter, kills his desires while living in the family. Burn away your selfishness and your ego with Guru's Shabad; this is how you wash away the filth of your mind, oh Nanak. 2.

However, one's flipped (impure) thinking can be reverted to noble thinking if he kills his desires (controls his mind) with the munificence of the Guru. Then, one does not acquire any filth of mind and no longer goes through any life form (does not take rebirths), oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Among all the four eras – Satyug, Treta, Doaapar, and Kalyug - the last one is considered to be the dark age (worst) in terms of morality; but it still ranks superior in one thing – one gets fully rewarded for singing praise of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru if it is prewritten in his fortune by Waheguru. With the grace of the Guru, such a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam and stays absorbed in His worship day and night, oh Nanak. 2.

Your mind did not wake up (get enlightened) on listening to Satguru's Shabad, and no enthusiasm sprouted in your mind. The body, which does not follow the Guru's Advice, burns (suffers) in the fire of worldly desires. I have seen the world burning in this fire because of their love for Maya, which is the root of selfishness and ego. Those, who have Waheguru at heart, and recite Guru's Shabad in His shelter, get salvaged, oh Nanak.

She spends her life according to the Will of Waheguru-husband, which serves as adornment for her (to please Him). Such a bride acquires Waheguru as her husband and always enjoys His company, so that the bed of her heart becomes highly blissful. Because of her love and respect for the Guru, Waheguru connects such a devotee with Him, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: The men who vilify their Guru are mean in their deeds. Please, do not give me any opportunity to have a sight of such big sinners and assassins (of good characters) of noble people, oh Waheguru. They go from door to door with an evil mind (to deceive people) and earn a bad name like an immoral woman. MEANING: All comforts come into being in the heart of the devotee who serves the Guru; such a devotee never suffers any discomfort again. Births and deaths end for such a devotee, and the Angel of death becomes helpless before him. His mind remains connected to Waheguru, and he remains absorbed in Him. Bayd purrhay, purrh(i) pundit mooyay, roop(u) daykh(i), daykh(i)naari. 3. Ram Naam bin(u) subhaiy bigootay, daykhou nirkh(i) sreera. Hur(i) kay Naam(u) bin(u) kin(i) gut(i) paayee, keh(i) oopdaysh(u), Kabira. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Boott = idols. Pooj(i), Pooj(i) = worship; idolatry. Turk = the Muslims. Sir(u) Naayee = bowing the head. Oye = the Hindus. Jaaray = cremate. Gaaday = bury. Gut(i) = transcendence. Doohoon = both. 1. Undh(u) Guhaya = deep darkness. Pusriyo = spread out. Jayvra = chains. Pause. Kubit = poems. Kubita = poets. Mooyay = died spiritually. Kuppurr = a religious Sect the members of which wear quilts made of rags. Kaydaara = Kedara - a holy place of Shiva in the high mountains in Uttra Khund. Jutaa Dhaar(i) = wearing tangles. 2.
Durb(u) = wealth. Sunch(i) = accumulating. Gudd Lay = bury. Kunchun = gold. 3.
Bigootaiy = misled; suffer humiliation. Nirkh(i) = examine carefully. 4.
MEANING: The Hindus suffer spiritual death by idol worship, and the Muslims by bowing again and again towards Mecca while offering nivaj. With their misbeliefs about how to dispose of the bodies of their dead – the Hindus cremate them while the Muslims bury them – each believes that their custom is the best (is approved by God), and none of the two religions understands Your Transcendence, oh Waheguru. 1. The whole world is in deep darkness (of ignorance), and the chain (trap) of the Angel of spiritual death is set up in all the four directions (everywhere), oh my mind. Pause. (Everybody is conceited of their achievements or of their beliefs and spiritual death because of their resulting haumein). For example, the poets suffer spiritual death due to the resulting haumein when they read their poems to the public and win applause; the members of the sect, who wear quilts of rags, suffer spiritual death because of their inflated ego due to their ability to visit the Temple of Kedar Nath, which is at a height of 11753 ft. The yogis who wear tangled (matted) hair also suffer spiritual death for their ego, but none of them has realized Your transcendence, oh God. 2. Even though the rajahs accumulate tons of wealth and bury heaps of gold in the ground, they die discontented; the pundits leave this world full of ego because of their knowledge of the Vedas, which they read to the public. The celibates suffer spiritual death for their evil lust to enjoy the beauty of other women. 3. One can verify it by self-analysis that everybody suffers humiliation without God's Naam. Kabir advises that nobody can attain a high spiritual state without God's Naam. 4

Word Meaning: Juriyaiy = burned. Bhusm = ash. Kirm Dul = army of germs. Kaachi Gaagur=unbaked earthen container. Neer(u) = water. Vudaayee = durability. Phooliya = elated. Oordh Mookh = upside down (in the womb). Pause. Mudh(u) Maakhi = honey bee. Satthoar(i) = the foolish. Rus = sweet taste. Joar(i) = accumulating. Layhou = take out. Bhoot(u) = the dead body. 2. Dayhoori = the main gate. Luou = up to. Burie Naar(i) = wife. Sung(i) = with. Sujjun Soohayla = friends and dears. Murghut = cremation ground. Kootumb(u) = family. Huns(u) = soul. Akayla = alone. 3. Praani = oh, man. Puray = drops in. Kaal-gruss = in the jaws of death. Kooaan = well. Bundhaaya = got trapped. Nulini = a mechanism to catch Sooaa (parrots). 4.

MEANING: The human body is only as strong as an unbaked earthen pot, which cannot hold water for long. When a dead body is burned, it turns into ash, and an army of germs consumes it. 1. So, what are you elated about, oh my friend? How can you forget those ten difficult months which you spent upside down (in your mother's womb)? Pause. Like the fate of a honey bee, which collects nectar from flowers to make honey but cannot use it because it is stolen by humans, the foolish man enjoys the taste of accumulating wealth, which is of no use to him (and is used by others after his death). Soon after his death, the relatives began to say aloud, "Take him out, take him out. Why is the ghost left in the house?" 2. The wife accompanies the dead body up to the main gate, and the friends and other dear ones accompany him next. Everybody accompanies him to the cremation ground, and the soul is left alone after that. 3. Just like a parrot which is tapped in "nulini" under the false fear that it is safe for him, the man gets trapped by the false attractions of Maya as a result of which he falls into the deep well (jaws) of spiritual death, says Kabir. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Mut = advice. Kerm = rituals. Kaal-grust = in the jaws of death. Paiy = drop (in the trap). Niraasa = disappointed. 1. Surriyo = achieved. Bhujiyo = worshipped. Rughuput Raja = Waheguru. Pause. Khund = a part. Yog Tup = the tough exercises of the yogis. Kund Mool = the vegetables that grow inside the earth. Naadi = yogi. Baydi = believers in rituals. Shabadi = a sect of yogis who chant only one word, "Alukh". Moani = hermits. Jum kay Putaiy = in the Angel of Death's account book. 2. Bhagat Nardi = Nard's way of worship (to believe in the omnipresence of God by dancing). Kaachh(u) Koochh(i) Tun(u) = decorate body by painting religious symbols, and by shaving head. Dimbh = hypocrisy. 3. Maah(i) Likhay = included in. Bherm Giyani = "wise" people misled by misgivings. Khalsay = pure; free from worldly bonds; emancipated. 4.
MEANING: After listening to the teachings of the Vedas and the Puranas, the followers build (false) hopes that all they need for their salvation is only rituals. But, all such "wise" men and the pundits (who have faith in rituals) are in the jaws of spiritual death; they drop into that trap and leave the world disappointed. 1. They do not achieve the important objective of life – they fail to recite God's Naam – oh, my mind. Pause. The yogis settle down in some part of the forest, perform rigorous exercises, and eat only vegetables like carrots and radishes. Yogis, the believers in rituals, members of the sect who chant only one word, "Alukh," and the hermits all get their deeds recorded in the account book of the Angel of Death. 2. They do not like the type of worship preached by *Nard' (to believe in the omnipresence of God), and rather decorate their bodies by painting religious symbols on them, and by shaving their heads. They hypocrites sit down to sing and play music (just as a show off), which has nothing to do with God. 3. Spiritual death is hanging over everybody's head, including the "wise" people who are victims of their misgivings. But those devotees who worship God with love become pure (free from worldly bonds), oh Kabir. 4.3.

Keh(i) Kabir rung(i) raata. Miliyo Jugjeevun Daata. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Loachun = eyes = Naiyn. Paykhaan = I see. Huoun = I. Rung(u) = blissfulness; joyfulness. Ub = now. Bay = two; other. Gull = talk. 1. Baajigur = acrobat. Dunk = drum. Khulk = people. Tmaasha = show. Suvaang = Paraphernalia. Skayla = dismantled. Rung(u) = happiness. Ruvaiy = enjoys. 2. Kuthni = words. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Lookaayee = world. 3. Kinchut = a little. Leeni = merged into. Rung(I) Raata = imbued in love (of God). 4.

MEANING: I see God with both my eyes (everywhere), and do not see anything else. My eyes feel blissful to see Him, and I cannot talk about anything other than God. 1.
Ever since my mind got attached to God, all my misgivings and worldly fears have disappeared. Pause. Like the show of an acrobat, the world too is a drama. When the acrobat beats the drum to announce his arrival, the whole world comes to watch his show, which lasts only for a short while. Similarly, the drama of the world lasts only briefly for individuals. When the acrobat dismantles his paraphernalia, the visitors leave, and he enjoys (his performance and the income) alone. Similarly, when the individuals leave the world, the drama of life is over for them, but the acrobat (the creator of this world drama, God) is always blissful. 2. One's misgivings do not go away simply by talking about God; the whole world talks customarily about Him (without any gain in their spirituality). However, those devotees who are enlightened by God through the Guru get Him (God) embedded in their hearts. 3. With a slight munificence (kindness) of the Guru, one's body and mind get absorbed in God. By getting imbued in His love, I realized God, which is the Soul, and the provider for the whole world, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Mayro Gur persad(i) mun(u) maaniya. 4.5.

Word Meaning: *Nigum = rivers (Teachings of the Guru). Doodh = (Naam) Amrit. Tthaata = creation. *Smoonth(u) = sea of noble qualities (Satguru). Bilovun = to churn. Maytaiygo = eliminate; stop. Chhaachh(i) = butter milk (mental bliss). 1. Chayri = disciple; devotee. Bhataara = husband. Adhaara = basis. Pause. Tauk(u) = a big iron ring around the neck of a criminal. Pug = foot. Bayri = chain. Ghur(i). Ghur(i) = through many life forms. Rumuyyiya = omnipresent God. Ajhou = Still. Chaytus(I) = remember. Bupoori = poor; helpless. Hayri = watched carefully. 2. Kern Kraavunhaari = the doer, and make others do. Laayee = given responsibility. 3. Soomut(i) = noble thinking. Leek = line (on the forehead). Rus(u) = sweet taste. 4.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib has used metaphors of Smoond(u) for the Guru, and River for His Teachings. Read the second half of the following holy Shabad carefully.

ਸਲੋਕੁ ਮ: 1 ਵਾਰ ਮਾਝ(149)॥ ਸਿਰੁ ਖੋਹਾਇ ਪੀਵਹਿ ਮਲਵਾਣੀ ਜੂਠਾ ਮੰਗਿ ਮੰਗਿ ਖਾਹੀ॥ ----
ਗੁਰੁ ਸਮੁੰਦੁ ਨਦੀ ਸਭਿ ਸਿਖੀ ਨਾਤੈ ਜਿਤੁ ਵਡਿਆਈ॥ -----

Meaning: -------The Guru is like an ocean, while all His Teachings are like rivers. Anyone who takes a dip in the rivers earns respect (in Waheguru's Court). --------

MEANING: You do not try to be the spouse (extreme devotee) of God, which is the life (soul) of the world, oh, the human-bride. Pause. Be the contemplator of God, who has created rivers of Guru's Teachings and of His Amit-like Naam, and the ocean-like Guru in whose shelter you can churn (ponder on) His Naam, oh the human-bride. Even if you are unable to merge with Him, your blissfulness shall not be stopped. 1. There is a strong iron ring around your neck and chains (of attractions of Maya) around your feet, and you have been taken through countless life forms by God, but you still do not remember Him, oh man. Helpless as you are, you are being closely watched by the Angel of Death. 2. But the man is not to be entirely blamed because he has no control over his fate; it is God who is the doer of everything and who makes the human do whatever He likes. The man spends many lives unaware of His importance in life, and gets some awareness when God wishes, and then starts spending his life as preplanned for him. 3. To answer the question, "how does the man acquire the noble wisdom whereby his line of misgivings on his forehead is erased," Kabir Sahib says that He acquired the blissful taste of God's Naam by the grace of the Guru when his mind was fully convinced (to recite God's Naam). 4.5.

Word Meaning: Jih Baajh(u) = without which (God's Naam). Ghaal Aghaayee = hard labour; bears fruit. Sud Jeevun = living for ever. Kuhaahi = is said. 1. Kuthiyaiy = narrate; need to know. Nij Nirkhut = personally watching. Gut = level. Biyohaara = Dealings. Pause. Ghus(i) = by grazing; by hard labour. Koonkum = saffron (purified mind). Chundun = sandalwood (sweet fragrant Waheguru). Gaariya = mixed the mind with God. Poot(i) = mind. Pita = (God's Naam). Jaaya = generates; implants in mind. Tthaahur = support. Nugur Busaaya = populated the mind with noble qualities. 2. Jaachuk = beggar. Chhodiya Jaayy Na = which cannot be left alone. Mooka = runs out. Aurun = others. Chooka = came to an end. 3. Jeevun Murna = live after killing desires. Punch = noble. Saiyl = rock; huge like a mountain. Maanaiy = enjoys. Bhaytut = on meeting. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 4.

MEANING: When one acquires (God's Naam) in the heart, without which he cannot have a spiritual life, his hard labour bears fruit (becomes successful). Immortality is said to be great by most, but such a life cannot be achieved without killing one's desires and worldly bonds, while living in the family. 1. No deep knowledge is needed to learn the level (quality) of dealings of the people when you can watch the results (of such dealings) with your own eyes. Pause. When one purifies his mind with hard labour (of reciting God's Naam), and merges with the sweet fragrant God, he becomes "one" with Him and can see the whole world without his physical eyes. Put in another way, the mind-son generates the Naam of the father-God in his heart, and populates the city of his heart with noble qualities without any external support. 2. I am a slave of God and His beggar; I have realized God, who is an inexhaustible source of everything. He has given me such a wealthy food (of His Naam) which is not for eating by mouth. But it cannot be left unused, nor does it run out. Moreover, I no longer need to go to anyone for help. 3. An individual who knows how to kill his desires and break worldly bonds becomes a holy saint and enjoys blissfulness the size of a mountain (immense blissfulness). I have acquired that wealth (God's Naam) with which all my desires have been satisfied, and my selfishness and ego have been eradicated, oh Kabir. 4.6

Word Meaning: Kiya = what? What is the use? Gooniyaiy = contemplate. Sehj = blissful state above the effects of Maya. Soyee = that (God). 1. Guvaara = foolish. Baarum Baara = again and again. Pause. Deepuk(u) = lamp; enlightenment. Chuhhiyaiy = is needed. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Luhhiyaiy = can be acquired. Smaayee = stays on. 2. Maaniya = is satisfied; is convinced = Puteejaiy. Tuou = then. 3.

MEANING: You do not recite God's Naam, oh foolish man. What else are you thinking about again, and again? Pause. What is the use of reading, pondering on, and listening to the Vedas and the Puranas if you cannot acquire God's Naam in the blissful state of mind? 1. Just as a lamp is needed in darkness, one needs the valuable thing (Naam of the inaccessible God) to enlighten the mind. Once God's Naam is acquired, that light stays there forever. 2. Now that I have acquired God's Naam, my mind is fully convinced of His omnipresence and His omnipotence (I cannot stay away from Him). However, it is sad that, despite my being fully convinced, the world is not convinced (I cannot convince it) of Him (Waheguru), oh Kabir. But what can anyone do about that? Word Meaning: Kupt(u) = deceit. Jhootthay = oh liar; oh deceitful. Giyani = a man who preaches spirituality. Bilovus(i) = churn. 1. Kaanyaan = body. Maanjus(i) = rub well to clean. Kaun(u) Goona = what is the use. Ghut = heart. Mulna = filth (of immorality). Pause. Lauki = an extremely bitter squash. Utth-sutth(i) = the 68 holy places of Hindus Kaurapun = bitterness. Tuou = still. 2. Bhuv - Saagur(u) = the sea of Maya. Taar(i) = ferry across. Mooraari = God. 3.8

MEANING: A man who preaches spirituality to others but has deceit at heart is a liar (dishonest) and acquires only as much spirituality as a man gets butter by churning water. 1. What is the use of washing the body well when the man has filth of immorality (sensual pleasures) in his mind? Pause. (Washing the body with filth in mind) is just like taking a bitter squash to the 68 holy places and giving it dips because its bitterness never lessens by dips. 2. Kabir has only one idea to present: that only God can ferry us across the sea of Maya (worldly attractions), so pray to Him. 3.8.

Hirdaiy Ram(u) kee na jupeh(i) suvaya. 3.9.

Word Meaning: Perpunch = world (Maya); deceitfulness; dishonest means. Pur = of others. Soot = sons. Daara = wife. Aan(i) = bring. 1. Bhoolay = even by mistake. Kupt(u) = deceitfulness. Nibayra = final decision; consequences. Jea = soul. Peh(i) Leejaiy = will be taken (received). Pause. Chhin(u) = a second. Chheejaiy = weakens. Juraa = old age. Junaavaiy. = shows. Oak = hands curved to make a cup. 2. Suvayra = early morning (right away; without delay). 3.

MEANING: Do not deceive people even by mistake because the consequences of your deeds will have to be borne by your soul, oh my mind. Pause. The man brings in the wealth of others by many deceitful means, which he spends lavishly on his sons and on his wife. 1. The old age shows itself, and your body weakens by the second so much so that you will not be able to look after yourself; at that point, nobody will serve you even a fistful of water, oh man. There is nobody (other than God) which is truly yours oh man. So, why do you not remember God in your heart without any delay, oh Kabir? 3.9.

Koombh = vessel. Kumul = lotus-like (heart). Jul(i) = water of vices (immorality).
Matiya = erased; expelled. Oobha = upside down (turned towards God). 2.

MEANING: Mu Guru showed me my weaknesses because of which the animal of my sensual pleasures used to attack me. Now, with Guru's grace, I have been able to overcome my weaknesses so that no such animal can attack me now. In fact, rather than the uneasiness I used to feel because of the aggressive nature of sensual pleasures, my mind has become so peaceful that I feel as if the Divine music is playing in my mind now. 1. My wind-like (wavering) mind has become peaceful, and I feel blissful, oh, the holy saints. My mind is now eligible to acquire something highly valuable (God's Naam). Pause. The water of immorality, which had filled the vessel of my lotus-like heart, has been expelled when I turned my heart upside down (away from Maya, and towards God) (and now, my mind is perfectly pure). As a slave of God, my mind has been connected with Him, and it is fully convinced now (is in complete unison with Him), oh Kabir. 2.10.

Mun(u) maaniya, tuou Hur(i) jaaniya. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Bhookhaiy = hungry; lack of basic necessities of life. Maala = rosary; worship of God. Suntun Rayna = dust of the feet of holy men (opportunity to serve them). Dayna = owing to others. 1. Madho = God. Kaiysay Bunaiy = how can it last? Sungay = shyness. Pause. Sayr = about a kilogram. Choona = flour. Paaou = one quarter kg. Loona = Suloona = vegetable dishes. Daalay = beans. Jivaalay = keep me alive; feed me. 2. Khaat = Chaupaayee = cot; simple bed. Sirhaana = pillow. Tolaayee = mattress. Kheendha = comforter; quilt. Theendha = imbued in love. 3. Lubbo = greed. Phubbo = suits; adorns me. 4.

MEANING: How can my worshipping You last any longer if I stay shy of You, oh God? If You do not provide on Your own, I have the right to ask for my necessities. Pause. I cannot continue Your worship when I have to worry about my basic necessities of life. So, accept Your rosary back (relieve me of Your worship). I beg for an opportunity to serve the holy saints so that I do not owe anything to anyone (nobody has any favour unreturned by me). 1. I need only about two kg of flour, one-quarter kg of ghee and vegetable dishes, half a kg of beans (pulses) so that my family gets to eat twice a day. 2.
Yes, I also need a cot, a pillow, a mattress, and a quilt (blanket) to cover myself so that I can worship You with full love and respect, and without any worries. 3.
I do not think that I have shown any greed. Moreover, I need Your Naam which adorns my mind with noble qualities. With these needs fulfilled, I, Kabir, will be fully satisfied and will be “one” with You, oh God (Waheguru). 4.11.

Word Meaning: Tuou = then. Dheeruj = mental strrength. 1. Naad(i) = in Guru's Shabad. Smaayaylo = been absorbed. Dayva = God. Pause. Jilmilkar(u) = dazzling (attractions of Maya). Unhud Shabad(u) = Divine music of Guru's Shabad. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 2. Ruttan = the jewel-like (invaluable) Divine qualities. Chumkaar = glitter. Beejul = lightning. Nij Aatmmaiy = in my own mind. Bhurpoor(i) = filling completely. 3. Unhut = indestructible. Soor = sun. Oojaara = light. Julaiy = lights up. Chhunchhaara = weak. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. 4.

MEANING: When I see God everywhere with the eyes of my mind, I begin to sing His praise, and my mind becomes very strong (quits wavering). 1. My mind has been fully absorbed in Satguru's Shabad. Pause. Whereas Maya's attractions dazzled my mind before, now I feel as if the Divine music of Guru's Shabad is playing there. With Guru's grace, I have realized that my soul has become "one" with the Supreme Soul. 2. There were jewels (Divine qualities) in my heart (but were hidden), now they are glittering with the lightning-like, powerful light of God's Naam. Now, I find God to be very close to me, and not far away, and He is filling my heart completely. 3. Whereas there was a very weak lamp lighting up my heart, now I feel as if an indestructible light of a strong sun is enlightening my mind. With Guru's grace, I have made a connection with God, and now, I, a slave of God, have been fully absorbed in the blissful state of mind above the effects of Maya, oh Naam Dev. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Paarr Purrosun(i) = next door neighbour. Chhaan(i) = a hut of bamboo and turf. Chhuvaayee = got built. Mujoori = labour cost. Baydhi = carpenter. Butaayee = give information. 1. Ree Baayee = oh sister, lady. Smaayee = present everywhere.

Praan Adharaa = basis of life. Pause. Preet(i) = love. Loag = people. Kootumb = family; relatives. Toaraiy = breaks the connection (bonds). Aapun = on His own. 2. Bern Na = cannot explain. Goongaiy = mute person. Chaakhiya = tasted. 3. Goon = qualities. Juleh Bundh(i) = controlled water; built a bridge over the sea. Dhuroo = a devotee of God. Thaapiyo = established; immortalized. Sea = Seeta (Lord Rama's wife). Buhori = brought back. Lunk = Sri Lanka. Bhubheekhun = Ravana's brother, but Rama's devotee. Aapiyo = offered; handed over. 4.

NOTE: Nam Dev Ji used to live in a bamboo-and-turf hut. One time, when he was away from his home, his hut was blown away by a high wind. On his return, he was pleasantly surprised to see a hut beautifully built, which seemed to be much stronger and more attractive than the one he had left. Nobody knows who rebuilt his hut. His next-door neighbour, a woman, asked Nam Dev Ji to tell her where the carpenter who had built his new hut was. In this holy Shabad, Nam Dev Ji sings the praises of God, whom he believed had somehow built it. Enjoy the Shabad.

MEANING: The next-door neighbour asked Nam Dev Ji for the carpenter's identity who had built his new hut. She was so impressed with the quality of the work that she offered to pay twice as much for labour as Nam Dev Ji had paid. 1. "This Carpenter could not be called in as He is not at any single place; He is present everywhere, oh lady, and He is the basis of our lives," replied Nam Dev Ji. Pause. Continuing the description of the Carpenter, Nam Dev Ji said: This Carpenter asks only for the love (devotion) of the person who wants to have his/her hut built as His labour cost. If the needy person breaks all the worldly bonds with his family and friends, the Carpenter appears on His own. 2. Such a carpenter cannot be described; He is present in everybody and everywhere. Describing Him is as difficult as for a mute to describe the taste of something super-delicious which he tasted. 3. If you must insist, then listen to the great qualities of this Carpenter. He is the one who built the bridge on the sea to Lanka (now Sri Lanka), brought back Seeta, and gave the rule of Sri Lanka to Bhubheekhun, the younger brother of Ravan, and who immortalized His devotee, Dhuroo. Such is the Lord of Naam Dev. 4.2.

NOTE: It must be made clear here that Nam Dev Ji is not referring to god Rama. In this Shabad. Bhagat Dhuroo had lived in the Satyug eon whereas god Rama was born in Treta – several hundred thousand years later.

Word Meaning: Unmurrhiya = without leather sides (without the jarring noise). Mundul(u) = drum. Saavun = month of July-August (the rainy season) Ghunhur = clouds (Guru's Shabad). Gaajaiy = thunders. Burkha = rain (of God's Naam). Tutt(u) = the Truth (God). 1. Ram(u) = God. Sunayhee = loving. Dayh = body. Soodayhee = became beautiful; is purified (with God's Naam in it). Pause. Paarus = elixir stone (Guru). Kunchun(u) = gold (purified mind). Munsa = as desired. Ruttan = jewel-like (words of God's praise). Nij = own. Bhaaou = love. Bherm(u) = doubts; misgivings. Putiyaaga = got satisfied. 2. Jul = liquid (of immortality); Naam-Amrit. Koombh(u) = vessel-like heart. Chaylay = (of the) the disciple. 3.

MEANING: I have been connected with the loving God, because of which my body has been purified and looks beautiful. Pause. Because of the presence of God's Naam in my heart, I feel as if a sweet drum (without the jarring noise) is playing in my mind, and Guru's Shabad is thundering like a cloud, and causing rain of Waheguru's Naam in my mind even though it is not the rainy season. It all happens to anyone who contemplates God's virtues. 1. I was like a scrap of iron (full of poor qualities), but have been changed into gold (my heart has become pure like gold) by coming in contact with the Elixir Stone-like Guru. Pause. Now, the greatly desired Naam of God is always on my tongue. With my love for God, all my misgivings have been dispelled, and with Guru's advice, my mind is fully convinced about the magnificence of God. 2. The water of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit has been absorbed in my vessel-like heart, as a result of which, now I see God in all His creation. My mind, as a disciple of God, is fully satisfied with (absorbed in) Him. I have recognized the Lord, oh Nama. 3.3.

Word Meaning: Hum = we; our selfishness and ego. Anul = wind. Agumm = extremely high. Lehrmaiy = in high waves. Oadidh(i) = in the ocean. 1.
Maadhvay = oh Lord. Bherm(u) = misgiving; confusing issue. Pause. Nurput(i) = rajah. Singhasun(i) = (on the) throne. Bhikhaari = beggar. Achhut Raj = (despite the fact he had) a state to rule. Bichhrut = separation. Gut = situation. 2.
Raj = rujjoo = rope. Bhooyiung = snake. Persung = tale. Merm = secret. Anik = countless. Kutuk = bracelets (of gold). Kehtay = describe. 3.
Ghut = hearts. Bhoagvaiy = enjoys. Haath Paiy = hand and feet. Nayraiy = nearby. Sehjay = without any special effort; in the high spiritual state. 4.1.

MEANING: (Man's selfishness and ego are a big wall between him and Waheguru). So, when I am being selfish and egoistic, You are absent from my heart; but, now that You are present in my heart, my selfishness and ego have disappeared, oh Lord. So, the man and the Lord are one and the same, but we are under the illusion that they are different. This illusion is like the one about the very high waves in the ocean caused by very strong winds; one may get the false impression that the water in the waves is different from that in the ocean, even though it is the same. 1. How can we describe such an illusion between You and the man, oh Lord? The reality is different than what we feel. Pause. (Consider another example) Suppose a king falls asleep on his throne and has a dream in which he sees himself as a beggar. Despite the fact that he was still the king, he suffered a great deal thinking he had lost his kingship. Our situation is the same; we have our Lord inside us, yet we think He is somewhere far, far away. 2. But, now, with Your kindness, I have realized some of Your secrets. Like the illusion of a rope which appears to be a snake in the dark, but the doubt is cleared in daylight, my mind has been enlightened, and I know the reality about You, oh Lord. Yet another example: if we see many bracelets of different shapes and sizes and may falsely believe that they contain different kinds of gold (even though the gold is the same), I have realized that man and God are the same; but it still cannot be explained to the people. 3. So, it is the same Lord who is present in countless hearts where He enjoys them. He is closer than our hands and feet, but only a few recognize this fact in the high spiritual state, oh Ravidass. 4.1.

Ruhaou. Meen pukkur(i) phaankiyour(u) kaatiyo, raandh(i) keeyo buhou baani. Khund, khund kur(i) bhojun(u) keeno, tuoou na bisriyo paani. 2. Aapun baapaiy naahi kisi ko, bhaavun ko Hur(i) Raja. Word Meaning: Baandhay = bonded. Moh Phaas = the trap of attachments (affection). Chhootun Ko = to get free. Jutun = try. 1. Jaiysi Taiysi = the way things are. Kuhaa = how? Pause. Meen = fish. Phaankiyo Ur(u) Kaatiyo = caught and cut into pieces. Raandh(i) = cooked. Buhuou Baani = in many ways. Khund = small piece. Bisriyo = forgot. 2. Aapun Baapaiy = father's (property). Bhaavun Ko = intent; love. Moh Putul = the curtain of attachment. Biyaapiyo = is affecting. Suntaapa = causes trouble. 3. Baadhi = enhanced. Ka Siyoun = to whom. Ja Kaarun = for the reason. Ujhoon = still. Suhhiyaiy = endure. 4.

MEANING: if we are bonded to the world by the strong bonds of attachment, You are bonded strongly to me with my love for you, oh God. However, I can break these bonds (of worldly attachments) with Your worship, but try to break the bonds of my love for You (You cannot break), oh Lord. 1. You know the technique (how to break the bonds), but whom will You worship to get free from the bonds of my love for You, oh Lord? Pause.

Your love for Your devotees is like the love of a fish for water. A man catches a fish, cuts it into pieces, cooks it in many different ways, and eats it by further cutting it into small bites. Even after all these steps, the fish still cannot forget water (it causes thirst in the man who eats it, and forces him to drink water). You too cannot forget Your devotees, oh God. 2.
The Lord is not the property of anybody's father; He is sovereign, and can be won only by one's intent (of love for Him). The wall of worldly attachment affects everybody, but causes no trouble for God's devotees. 3. With Lord's presence in my heart, all my suffering caused by my worldly bonds has been eradicated by my worship of the Lord with deep love. So, there is no need left for me to complain to anyone that I am still suffering from that pain for the removal of which I was worshipping the Lord, oh Ravidass. 4. 2.

Doolubh junum(u) poonn ful paayo, birtha jaat ubibaykaiy. Rajay Indar sumsur(i) greh aasun, bin(u) Hur(i) bhugat(i) kuhou kih laykhaiy. 1. Na beechaariyo Raja Ram ko rus(u). Jih un rus beesur(i) jaahi. 1. Ruhoau. Jaan(i) ajaan bhuayay hum baavur, soach, usoach, divus jaahi. Indri subul nibul bibayk boodh(i), permaaruth pervaysh nuhee. 2. Kuhhiut aan, achuriut un kuchh(u), sumujh na puraiy apur Maya. Keh(i) Ravidass, oodaas mut(i), purhur(i) koap(u), kurhou jea duyya. 3.3.

Word Meaning: Doolubh = priceless. Poonn = noble deeds; good fortune. Ful = reward. Birtha = without (any spirituality). Ubibaykaiy = without spiritual knowledge. Sumsur(i) = equal. Greh, Aasun = mansions and thrones. Laykhaiy = worth. 1. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Un = other. Beesur(i) = forgotten. Pause. Ajaan = unaware. Baavur = crazy; foolish. Soach, Usoach = good and bad thinking. Divus = days. Jaahi = are going (spent). Indri = sensual desires. Subul = powerful. Nibul = weak. Bibayk Boodh(i) = the wisdom to make a distinction. Permaaruth = the prime objective. Pervaysh = entry; thinking. 2. Kuhhiut = say. Aan= else. Achuriut = perform. Apur = beyond control; powerful. Oodaas Mut(i) = wisdom to break bonds. Purhur Koap = by controlling rage. 3.

MEANING: Without acquiring Divine knowledge (without making a connection with God), the man is spending his priceless life in the human form worthlessly, which he was given because of his good fortune. Without God's worship, the life, even of those who have mansions and thrones like god Indra, is of no value (is worthless) (in God's Court). 1. The man does not ponder on (to enjoy) the sweetness of God's Naam so as to forget all other sweet tastes. Pause. Knowing everything, we stay ignorant about the Lord; the foolish, us, spend the days of our life in good and evil thinking. We have allowed our sensual pleasures to be very powerful (they control us), while our wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad has become very weak. We allow no thought to enter our minds about the prime objective (union with God) of our life. 2.
We say something different, and do something completely different; the powerful Maya distorts our vision, and we cannot think right. So, Ravidass prays: That rather than being mad at Your men, please be kind to them and give them the ability to break their bonds of attachment with the world, oh Lord. 3.3.

Sookhsaagur, Soortur, Chintamun(i), Kaamdhayn(u) buss(i) Ja kay. Chaar(i) pdaaruth, asht dusa sidh(i), nuv nidh(i), ker tul ta kay. 1. Hur(i), Hur(i), Hur(i), na jupeh(i) rusna. Uver tiyaag(i) buchun ruchna. 1. Ruhaou. Nana, khiyaan, Puran, Bayd bidh(i), Chautees Akkhur maahi. Biyaas bichaar(i) kuhhiyo permaaruth(u), Ram Naam sur(i) naahi. 2. Sehj smaadh(i), oopaadh(i) reht phoon(i), buddaiy bhaag(i) liv laagi. Keh(i) Ravidass, pergaas(u) ridaiy dhur(i), junum murn tay bhaagi. 3.4.

Word Meaning: Sookh Saagur = ocean of comforts. Soor Tur = trees in paradise, which are believed to grant any wish. Chintamun(i) = a mythical stone (jewel) which is believed to fulfil all wishes; God. Kaam-Dhayn = a cow which was retrieved from the ocean when it was churned jointly by the gods and the demons. It is believed to grant every wish. Chaar Pdaaruth = the four valuable things: religiosity, wealth, success, and emancipation. Asht Dusa = the 18. Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Nuv Nidh(i) = the 9 treasures. Ker = hands. Tul = Palms. Ta Kay = His (God's). 1. Tiyaag(i) = by abandoning. Buchun Ruchna = popular sayings and writings. Pause. Na Na = different. Khiyaan = explanations. Bayd Bidh(i) = techniques of the Vedas. Chautees Akkhur Maahi = expressed with the alphabet (only beautiful creation of words). Biyaas = a sage who is believed to have given the order to the Vedas. Pemaaruth = the most important objective (union with God). Sur(i) = equal. 2. Sehj Smaadh(i) = meditating in a blissful state. Oopaadh Reht = free from all vices. Phoon(i) = also. Liv Laagi = got connected with God. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. 3.

MEANING: Leaving aside (abandoning) the popular sayings and writings, why do you not recite God's Naam, oh man? Pause. God is the ocean of comforts, and controls the trees of the Paradise, and the cow, Kamdhenu, which is believed to grant all one's wishes. He also has all four popular and valuable things – religiosity, wealth, prosperity, and emancipation – on the palms of His hand. (So, why do the people worship other powers? 1. The different explanations in the Puranas, and the techniques of the Vedas (to please gods) are just the creation of beautiful words. After careful consideration of the prime objective of human life, the sage Biyaas concluded that nothing equals God's Naam. 2. It is with great fortune that by meditating on God, Ravidass was able to attain the high spiritual state beyond any sin in which he stays connected with Him, and feels blissful. With an enlightened mind, Ravidass has attained a state beyond the birth-death cycle. 3.4.

Word Meaning: Juou = if. Girivur = (cloud-covered) beautiful mountain. Mora = peacock. Bhuyyay = happen; become. Chukora = Greek partride (which is believed to be in deep love with the moon). 1. Toarou = break. Siyoun = with. Kuvun = who else? Joareh(i) = connect with. Pause. Deevra = a beautiful lamp. Baati = wick. Teeruth = holy place. Jaati = pilgrim. 2. Jeh, Jeh = wherever. Sayva = worship. Tthaakur(u) = Master. Dayva = oh, Lord. 4. Bhujun = worship. Phaasa = chains. Hayt(i) = for. 5.

MEANING: If You do not break the bond of love between You and me, I will never break it. Who else is good enough to make a bond of love with, if You break the one between us? Pause. If You are a mountain covered with beautiful clouds, then I am a peacock (which is known for its attraction for clouds); and if You are the moon, then I am the Greek partridge (which is also famous for its love with the moon). 1. If You are a beautiful oil lamp, then I am your wick (the lamp does not give light without the wick); and if You are a holy place, then I am Your pilgrim. 2. I have a bond of true love with You, and I have broken all my bonds with others. 3. Wherever I go, I find people worshipping You. There is no other Master like You, oh Lord. 4. The chains of the Angel of death are broken with Your worship. Ravidass sings Your praise with love to worship You, oh Lord. 5.5.

Punkh(i) = birds. Busayra = dwelling. Pause. Oosaarhou = build. Neevaan = foundation. Sadhay Teen Haath = less than two metres. Seevaa = limit. 2. Bunkay = beautiful. Paag = turban. Dayri = turned to a side (a sign of conceit). Bhusm = ash; dust. Dhayri = heap; pile. 3. Mundar = mansions. Naari = woman; wife. Baaji = game of life. Haari = lost. 4.
Jaat(i) = caste. Kumeeni = low; untouchable. Paant(i) = clan. Oachha = low.
Shernaagut(i) = in shelter. Ram Chund = oh, handsome God. Chumaara = cobbler. 5.

MEANING: The house-like human body has been created by God, which has walls of water, pillars of air, and the cement of blood. This skeleton of bones, flesh, and veins is the dwelling for the poor human soul (which cannot make independent decisions as it has been preprogrammed by Waheguru to act in certain ways). 1. Like the birds, which settle on trees to spend the night only, and which are not their permanent homes, the humans, too, come to the earth as short-time visitors. So, there is nothing permanent which is mine or yours, oh man. (So, why do we fight over things which will never be ours forever?)

Pause. The man lays down strong foundations and builds walls (of big mansions) when, in the end, he will get less than two metres of space only. 2. The body, which you adorn with beautiful hair and a nice turban turned to a side (as a sign of your conceit), will eventually become a pile of dirt. 3. You may be enjoying your life in tall mansions, and may have a beautiful wife, but you will lose the game of life (without God's Naam). 4. I know that I belong to a socially low caste (a cobbler) and a low clan, and my birth was also low key (no pomp or show at my birth, whereas rich people celebrate the birth of boys with great pomp and show), but, (I, Ravidass, realize my objective of life), and have come to Your shelter, oh, my handsome King, God. 5.6.

Word Meaning: Chumrutta = cobbler; shoe repairer. Gaantth(i) = stitching. Punhee = shoe; human body. Pause. Aar = a big needle (awl) to stitch; sharp appetite. Toapoun = to stitch. Raambi = a razor to cut leather; to cut the pockets of others. Tthaaoun = (torn) place. Roapoun = put patch 1. Khuraa = much. Bigoocha = suffer humiliation. Puhoucha = reached (connected with God). 2. Jupaiy = recites God's Naam. Jum = Angel of death. Naahi Kaama = nothing to do. 3.

MEANING: (Being a low caste, people expect me to be greedy), but (fortunately) I have no greed to mend my shoe-like body. Most people mend their shoes (pamper their bodies by overeating). Pause. I have no awl to stitch my shoe (no sharp appetite to eat), and have no razor to cut leather to put patches on the torn places (no knife to cut pockets of others to fulfill the unholy needs of my body). 1. People suffer much humiliation because of looking after their bodies too much. But I have reached my goal (uniting with God) without mending my shoe-like body. 2 Ignoring any interest in my body, I recite God's Naam, and have nothing to do with the Angel of death (I do not owe him anything), oh Ravidass. 3.7.

Word Meaing: Kheena = weak. Doodhvaani = white like milk. Roodha = blocked (by phlegm). Shabad Oochraiy = say words; talk. Praani = oh, man. 1. Baiyd = physician. Bunvaari = a name for God. Oobaari = salvage. Pause. Maathay = forehead; mind. Julun(i) = (sensation of) burning. Kurk = discomfort; ache. Krayjay = heart. Maahi = in. Baydun = pain (of separation). Oopuj(i) Khuree = originates sharply. Wa Ka = of which. Aukhudh = medication. 2. Nirmul(u) = clean; purifier. Moakh Dooaara = door to emancipation. 3.

MEANING: The God-King is the true physician (for all ailments); so, I pray to Him that He kindly salvage His saints (devotees). Pause. (Without remembering God), When old age hits the man, his eyes water, his body grows weak, and his hair turns white like milk. With his throat clogged (with phlegm), he cannot even talk. In that stage, what can the helpless man do? 1. (Without God's Naam) the man experiences pain in his mind, his body gets the sensation of burning, and his heart begins to ache. Such sharp discomforts grow in the body which have no medication. 2. God's Naam is the Amrit which purifies the mind, and is the panacea for all ailments in the world. With Guru's grace, one reaches the door of salvation, oh Bheekhun. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Ruttan = jewel-like; invaluable. Poonn(i) = (with) noble deeds; with great luck. Jutun = efforts. Chhupaiy = stay hidden. 1. Rumut = reciting. Servnaa = with ears. Chaytay = remembering. Suntokhay = contented. Jeh = where. Teh = there. 2.

MEANING: God's Naam is such a jewel which is invaluable, and which the man acquires with great luck (based on his noble deeds). The devotee may try very hard to keep it hidden in his heart, but Waheguru's Naam is such a glittering jewel that, despite the best efforts of the devotee, it cannot stay hidden because of its sparkling nature. 1.

Just like a mute person cannot describe the taste of his sweet, God's Naam cannot be described. Pause. One feels great bliss when he recites God's Naam with his tongue, listens to it with his ears, and remembers Him. Now, I see God everywhere because of which my eyes are fully contented (I do not want to see anything else), oh Bheekhun. 2.

We should serve the Lord all the time (keep Him in mind and recite His Naam), which emancipates us at the end (time of death). Listen to His Naam because of which we will be ferried across the world-sea, oh my soul. 2. I am always a sacrifice for the kind Waheguru, with whose Naam one can swim across the sea of Maya. Pause. Word Meaning: Ikk dumee = with single breath. Moohlut(i) = span of life. Moohut(i) = time (of death). Binvaiy = prays humbly. Srayvhou = recite (Naam). Jea Praana = soul, and breath. 1. Jeevna = live. Kaytay kay Dinaa = (for) how many days. Pause. Jeeou = life. Maas(u) = flesh (body). Khurraa = very much. Shaayir(u) = poet. Aiv = only this. Pervudgaara = raiser and nourisher (God). 2. Kuddhay Gehna = to pawn, to pledge; collateral. Poorb(i) Likhay = prewritten by God. Lehna = to receive. 3. Kupteen = the deceitful. Kupt(u) = deceit; defraud. Pukkur Chulaaya = arrested. 4. Sooniyaiy = listen (noble ideas like Waheguru's praise). Kuhhiyaiy = say (words of praise of Waheguru). Bhaal(i) = search. Mur(i) Ruhhiyaiy = kill desires and ego. 5.

MEANING: We, as human beings, live from breath to breath; we do not know how long we will live in the world, and when death will come to us. So, serve the Lord who has given us soul (body) and life, submits Nanak humbly. 1. Think deeply, how long you are going to live, oh, blind man! Pause. It is the humble submission of poet Nanak that my breaths, my body, and my mind, all belong to You (are given by You); You raise and nourish us all, and You are very dear to me, oh my True (Eternal Lord). 2. If you do not give Your Naam to someone, he has nothing to pawn as collateral by which he can have your Naam in exchange. I submit respectfully that one receives (acquires) only the comforts (including Waheguru's Naam), or the discomforts, which are prewritten in his destiny by Waheguru. 3. The deceitful do not remember Waheguru, and always defraud people, but they leave the world repenting when they are handcuffed and presented before the Angel of death. 4. As long as we live in this world, we should listen to Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise. I have searched well, but nobody is known to have lived in this world forever; so, we should live in the world by killing (controlling) our desires and ego (so as not to continue taking births), oh, Nanak. 5.2.

Kiyoun kur(i) Saach(i) miloun mayri maayay. 1. Ruhaou. Vukkhur Naam(u) daykhun koyee jaayay. Na ko chaakhaiy, na ko khaayay. Loak(i) pteenaiy na put(i) hoyay. Ta put(i) ruhhaiy, raakhaiy ja Soyay. 2. Kiya mooh(u) daysaan goon nuhee naal(i). Jaiysi nedr(i) kuray, taiysa hoyay. Vin(u) nedreen, Nanak nuheen koyay. 4.1.3.

Word Meaning: Kiyoun = how? Simreen = I recite Naam. Tupaiy = is burning; is restless. Hiyaaou = heart. Jeaurra = soul; mind. Billaayay = wails. Sirj = creates. Suvaaray = adorns (with noble qualities); makes our life successful. 1.
Hikmut(i) = cleverness. Huqam = forcibly. Pause. Vukkhur = merchandize. Chaakhaiy = tastes. Pteenaiy = please; convince; impress (by faking). 2.
Smaayay = present. Jaayay = place. Kuray = does. Bukhshay = bestows. 3.
Hoon(i) = now; immediately. Moohut(i) K(i) Taal(i) = in a short time. Kiya Mooh(u) = what face; how will I face? 4.

MEANING: (Due to problems in life) My mind is upset and restless, and I have a burning feeling in my heart (due to problems in life), and I am crying for help; so how can I recite Waheguru's Naam! Waheguru creates us, and adorns us with noble qualities; so, what good can we expect to happen to us by forgetting Him? 1. Waheguru cannot be realized by cleverness or by force; so, how can I get connected with Him, oh my mother? Pause. (When people go to buy some merchandize, they first test that), But the merchandize of Waheguru's Naam is such that it cannot be tasted or taken orally, before one deals in it. Some people try to impress and convince others (with their preaching and impressive way of talking) to earn respect, but that kind of respect is not real – it is short-lived. One earns real respect only when Waheguru approves of his deeds and his devotion to Him. 2.
You are present wherever I look, and there is no place without You. If someone claims to have done something, it carries no weight in the eyes of Waheguru because even he is created by Him. Only that individual's noble deeds are credited by Waheguru, who performs them with His benevolence (to His liking). 3. We do not know when we will leave this world – maybe immediately, or in a few moments. How am I going to face my Waheguru because I have no noble qualities? But, possessing the kind of qualities is not in our control; individuals possess qualities depending upon the kind of sight Waheguru casts on them, kind or not so kind. But everybody is under His sight, and nobody is without that, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Saachi Baani siyoun dhuray piyaar(u). Ta ko paavaiy moakh dooaar(u). Jup, tup(u), eh(u) Shabad haiy saar(u). 5.2.4.

Word Meaning: Nedr(i) = kind sight. Druvaiy = melt (in love). Liv Laayay = focus mind; connect with Waheguru. Peraatma = soul of others. Aiko Kuray = treat equally; see Waheguru in everybody. Doobidha = indecisiveness of mind; internal struggle. 1. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Oodaas(u) = detached. Vudiyaayee = greatness. Kluttar = wife. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. 2. Aiysi = such. Dhuraiy = offers. Bhaavaiy = likes (God's Will). Pervaan = approved. 3. Moorut(i) = persona; Words. Ichhaiy = wishes. Kaiysa = what kind? 4. Bhunut(i) = says; submits humbly. Moakh = emancipation. Saar(u) = essence. 5.

MEANING: One can recite Waheguru's Naam with devotion only when He casts a kind sight on him. But, when one treats others the same way as he does for self, and sees Waheguru present in everybody, his indecisiveness (discrimination against others) gets eradicated (and He stays connected with Waheguru). 1. One acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart with the grace of the Guru, and his mind stays connected with Him; and the fear of death never scares him. Pause. One's mind gets enlightened by the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, whereby one stays detached from the poisonous Maya. It is the greatness of the Guru that His Sikhs attain a high spiritual state even while living with his sons, and his wife (who are normally at the centre of his love). 2. Guru's devotee serves Waheguru in such a way that he offers his mind (soul) to Waheguru, who gave him that in the first place. He accepts Waheguru's Will gladly. Such a devotee is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 3. He enshrines Satguru's Word in his mind, and reaps the rewards of his choice. What kind of fear of the Angel of death concerns him when the True Lord is kind to him? 4. Nanak espouses the idea that an individual who loves the eternal Shabad of the Guru finds the door to salvation. Guru's Word (in praise of Waheguru) is the essence of all ritualistic recitation of mantras, self-affliction to please some deity, or exercising control on senses (With Guru's Shabad in mind, he does not need any of those), oh Nanak. 5.2.4.

Word Meaning: Jeeou = soul; mind. Tupt(u) = burning (of heart); suffering. Baaro Baar = continually. Khupaiy = suffers in frustration. Baykaar = vices; immorality.
Bani = words in praise of Waheguru. Pukka Roagi = patient of leprosy. 1.
Jhukhun(u) = senseless (meaningless) talk. Soyay = that (Waheguru). Pause.
Taat(u) = quickly. Ugnee = fire; energy. Vaajaiy = with loudness. Puvun(u) = air; breaths. Aakhaiy = speaks; shows existence. Subh Jaayay = everywhere. 2. Moh(u) = worldly attachments. Sooaad = tastes. Kaalukh = darkness. Daago Daag = stains of filth (of mind). Doash = blame; accusation. 3. Kerm(i) = (with) benevolence. Turna = swim (across the sea of Maya). Saar = looking after. Dataar = kind Provider (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: I am suffering continually from the unrest (struggle) in my mind due to my immorality, and from my frustration at not being able to control it. Such becomes the situation of the mind which forgets Waheguru, and wails in pain like a leper. 1.
Too much talking (complaining) becomes senseless (annoying) because Waheguru knows everything about us, even without us complaining. Pause. Waheguru, who has given us ears, eyes, nose, and the tongue which talks quickly, and who has given us the soul keeping us alive by putting energy in the body; and the breaths which show our existence clearly wherever we go, is aware of everything that we do. 2. (But rather than being thankful to Waheguru for these ultra-important gifts), We use them to get attached to worldly things, to love family, and to enjoy the tastes of life lustfully, which leads to the darkness of the mind and results in stains of filth (immoral behaviour) on the mind. We leave the world with the blame of such immoral behaviour on our face, because of which we are given no room in Waheguru's Court (and are sent before the Angel of justice to face the charges). 3. With Your kindness, I recite Your Naam with which I can swim across the sea of Maya; there is no other shelter than Your benevolence, oh God. But Waheguru is always kind, and if someone keeps drowning in the sea of Maya (immoralities) again, and again, He looks after him eventually, oh Nanak. 4.3.5.

Nanak jaanaiy, jaan(u) soojaan(u). 4.4.6.

Word Meaning: Choar = a thief; a dishonest man. Na Bheejaiy = not convinced; does not feel right. Budee = vilifies; badmouths. Tusoo = very small amount. Cheejaiy = weakens; worry about. Haama = support; vouch for. Chunga = good. 1. Koottay = greedy like a dog. Koorriyaar = dishonest; deceitful. Boojhiyaiy = find out; recognized. Sachiyaar = pure-hearted. Pause. Sooaaliyou = handsome; attractive. Siyaana = wise. Khoatay = impure. Mooll(u) = price; worth. Doogaana = 8 small cowrie sea-shells (almost worthless). Rulaayay = mix with. Perkhiyaiy = on testing. 2. Beej(i) = to sow; to plant. Vudiyaayiyaan Khaayay = praises (self). Soort(i) = thinking; awareness. Raah(i) Jaayay = follows the path (in life). 3. Koorr(u) Kubaarr(u) = ignoble deeds. Bhaavaiyn = even if. Aakhou = says; does. Bhaavaiy = like. Udhee = of low (wisdom). Pervaan(u) = acceptable. Jaan(u) = know-all (omniscient). Soojaan(u) = wise; noble. 4.

MEANING: If a dishonest person praises you, you do not necessarily get convinced by his praise (because you are always doubtful about his sincerity, whether he is honest about his praise, or if there is some selfish motive behind that). Likewise, if he criticizes you maliciously (vilifies you), you are least worried about that (because you know people won't believe him). Nobody vouches for the dishonest person as they do not expect such a person to perform a noble deed. 1. Listen to me, oh, my blind of wisdom, greedy, and deceitful mind; a pure-hearted person can be recognized without even a word spoken by him in his support. Pause. A dishonest person can be very handsome and wise, but he is worth only 8 small cowrie shells (almost worthless) in terms of honesty and reliability. If he mingles with honest people to look like them, he will still be found out to be dishonest when tested. 2. A person reaps the rewards based on his deeds. Self-praise does him no good, because he will still follow the path in life guided by his (evil) thinking. 3. If a dishonest person sings his false praise a thousand times and may even be able to convince the whole world with his wisdom, he cannot deceive Waheguru because dishonesty will stay dishonest before Him, as the wise (omniscient) Waheguru knows everything. On the other hand, if Waheguru likes an honest person who may have low wisdom, he is approved in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.4.6.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Pervaana = Laykh = written order (prewritten destiny). Iyaana = child; ignorant. Ghurriyeh(i) = are designed; coined. Teenay Laykh = designed according to the three effects of Maya (see the Introduction at the beginning). Khoata = impure. Kaam Na Aavaiy = do not favour; of no use. 1. Roopa = silver (used to make pure coins); noble qualities. Khuraa = pure; honourable. Pause. Qadi = Qazi = a Muslim priest with some magisterial powers. Mul(u) = filth (of dishonesty); bribery. Jeeaan Ghaayay = kills human beings (robs them; takes unjust donations by unfair means). Joogut(i) = the path to unity with God. Oajaarray Ka Bundh = foundation of the wilderness of the mind. 2. Joogut(i) = means (to connect with God). Aiko = Waheguru alone. Oolti Kuray = reverses his thinking (from worldly attractions to Allah). Muraiy = kills his desires. Braham = Waheguru. Kool = clans; associates. 3. Daanushbund(u) = wise; knowledgeable. Mul(u) = filth of evil thinking. Neeshaan(u) = stamp of approval. 4.
MEANING: If we imagine the human mind to be the prewritten order as dictated by Waheguru (his destiny), then man's body is the paper on which his destiny is written (the mind is moulded by his destiny, and he performs the deeds with his body as guided by his mind). However, the ignorant man does not read his destiny (does not know what is in store for him in the future). Man's destiny is coined in Waheguru's Court based on his previous deeds performed under the three believed effects of Maya. But remember, the deceitful deeds do not work in his favour, oh my friends. 1. Just like a coin which is made of pure silver, and which is honoured everywhere, a man with noble qualities is also honoured everywhere, oh Nanak. Pause. (The religious leaders are immoral), The Qazi tells lies (does injustices) and takes in the filth of bribery. The Brahman does take dips in holy water, but murders his helpless clients by forcing them to pay totally unjust donations even at very sad occasions. The Yogi is blind to spirituality and is unaware of the real path of unity with Waheguru. All three religious leaders are the foundation of the wilderness of the mind, where followers cannot find the right path in life. 2. A real Yogi is the one who recognizes the true path to union with Waheguru, and recognizes (makes connection with) the only Supreme Power - Waheguru – with Guru's grace. A real Qazi is the one who reverses his thinking from Maya towards Allah, and kills his sensual desires with the grace of the Guru while still living in the family. Likewise, a real Brahman is the one who ponders on Waheguru (makes a connection with Him), thereby finding salvation not just for himself, but also for his followers. 3. The individual who washes his mind to purify it is the wise man in real terms, and the real Muslim is the one who gets rid of the filth of misdeeds. The individual who recognizes Waheguru (makes a connection with Him) as per his destiny, as approved by the Court of Waheguru, is considered a truly educated person. 4.5.7.

NOTE: Some scholars believe that this holy Shabad was sung and later written by Guru Nanak Sahib near the Temple of god Krishna (in Odisha) on the beach during the same visit when He visited the Temple and sang the Shabad of Arti there as described in the next holy Shabad. Guru Sahib saw a Brahman sitting on the beach who would pretend to have visited popular Hindu gods like Shiva, Brahma, and Vishnu during his meditation, and then share his experiences with a large gathering. He would put a bowl near him at the front for donations. This had become his daily routine. He would shut his eyes and hold his nose to give the false impression that he did not want to be distracted by any unholy sight and smell while meditating. When Guru Ji saw the Brahman's deceitful act of defrauding innocent people, He decided to enlighten them.

When the Brahman was pretending to meditate with his eyes shut, Guru Sahib reached his bowl with some money in it, and stealthily placed it behind his back and began to wait for the Brahman’s reaction. When the Brahman opened his eyes to share his experiences of his visits with the gods, he panicked not to see the bowl of money in front of him, and forgot to share his experiences. Guru Ji took the bowl from behind his back and placed it in front of him. The Brahman heaved a sigh of relief, but also felt ashamed. Guru Sahib seized the opportunity, and sang this Shabad for everybody there. With this background, you should be ready to enjoy the holy Shabad.

Word Meaning: Kaal(u) = (proper) time; human life. Joag(u) = union with God. Sat = high morality. Dhub(u) = means; ways. Thaansut = places of worship; religious leaders. Bhurisht = polluted; become impure. Doobta = drowns in the sea of Maya (in immoral activities). Iv = like this; by such means. 1. Kul Meh(i) = in the world of aggressiveness (disputes and injustice). Saar(u) = supreme. Meeteh(i) = closes (eyes). Tthuggun Kuou = to defraud. Pause. Aant Sayti = with three fingers. Soojhtay = get the needed information. Tin(i) Loe = the three layers of the universe: earth, underworlds, and the worlds above. Mugr Paachhaiy = on the back side. Pudum (aasun) = a sitting position in which the right foot is placed on the left thigh and the left foot on the right thigh. Yogis use this position to meditate. Aloe = which has not been seen; strange! 2. Khuttri = a warrior. Dherm = high morality; responsibility. Mulaysh = of low caste (Muslims). Bhaakhiya = language; customs. Guhee = adopted. Srisht(i) = world. Ikk Vern = of a single caste (all immoral). Gut(i) = high-level spirituality. Ruhee = left behind; not anymore. 3. Asht Saaj = of eight chapters (books on grammar). Saaj(i) = by creating. Sodheh(i) = ponder on. Bayd = the Vedas. Abhiyaas = practise. Mookut = salvation. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru’s Naam is supreme in this age of disputes and injustice (Kalyug). But rather than reciting Waheguru’s Naam, our preachers shut their eyes and hold their noses to mislead and to defraud the ignorant world. Pause. Human life is not meant for deceitful acts like this, which do not lead to union with God, nor do they raise the morality of the people. The minds of our religious leaders are polluted. With their impure minds, how can their teachings be pure! With such misleading teachings, the world is drowning in the sea of Maya (immoral activities). 1. Such deceitful leaders hold their nose with three fingers to pretend deep meditation, and claim that they have access to the three worlds (have information about them), but have no idea about what happens behind their back (remember the bowl incident). What a strange kind of yoga (Pudum) position they brag about! 2. The Khatris, who are known for their chivalry, have abandoned their responsibility and have adopted the culture of the Muslims, whom they call of low caste. The whole world has been reduced to a single caste (of low morality), where the high level of morality has been left behind (has become the thing of the past). 3.

The Hindu scholars have written eight-chaptered books of grammar which they apply to ponder on (study) the Puranas, and practise the Vedas. But there is no salvation without Waheguru's Naam, espouses Nanak, the slave of Waheguru. 4.1.6.8.

Word Meaning: Aarti = a type of idol worship in which a platter containing some lamps, flowers, incense, a coconut, and in some cases pearls too, is rotated in a vertical circle in front of the deity. On His visit to Jagan Nath Puri in Odisha - a south-eastern state in India - Guru Nanak Sahib visited the famous temple of Lord Krishna in the evening, when Aarti is performed. While the ritualistic Aarti, which has no spiritual value, was being performed, Guru Sahib sang this holy Shabad in His sweet voice to the gathering, including the chief priest, to educate them and teach them how to really worship the real Lord – Waheguru. Listening to the real Aarti, the whole gathering touched Guru Sahib's feet. Enjoy the holy Shabad.
Thaal(u) = platter. Guggunmaiy Thaal(u) = platter-like sky. Ruv(i) = the sun. Chund(u) = the moon. Deepuk = lamps. Taarika Mundul = the galaxy of stars. Junuk = imagine; suppose. Moti = pearls. Dhoop(u) = incense. Mulyanlo = coming from the Mullaya Moutain which is the home to sandal trees. Puvun = wind; air. Chuvro Kuray = fans to show respect. Bunraayay = vegetation. Phoolunt = is offering flowers. Joti = light-like Waheguru. 1. Kaiysi = how wonderful! Bhuvkhundna = destroyer of the birth-death cycle. Unhuta Shabad = Guru's eternal Shabad. Vaajunt = makes music. Bhayri = drum. Pause.

Sehs = thousands; countless. Tuv = Tohee = yours. Moorut(i) = forms. Pud = feet. Bimal = clean; worthy of worship. Gundh = smell; nose. Iv Chulut = such amazing feats. 2. Chaanun(i) = with the light. Chaanun(u) = light. Gur Sakhi = with Guru's Teachings. Pergut(u) = appears; becomes visible. Bhaavaiy = liked by. 3.
Mukrund = the sweet essence of flowers. Lobhit Muno = greedy at mind (heart). Undino = all the time. Aahi Piyaasa = just this thirst. Saaring = rainbird, which waits to drink the first drop of rainwater only. Ja Tay = by which. Vaasa = stay. 4.
MEANING: (Why perform a worthless ritualistic aarti for deities when a real Aarti is taking place in nature for Waheguru all the time?) Like the ritualistic aarti, the sky is the platter in which the sun and the moon are two lamps, and the stars in the galaxy are like pearls. The fragrance of sandal trees on the nearby Mallya Mountain is serving as incense, the wind is fanning respectfully, and the whole vegetation is providing the flowers for the Aarti of the light-like Waheguru. 1. What wonderful Aarti is being performed for You, oh the destroyer of the cycle of birth and death!! The eternal Shabad of the Guru (Waheguru's praise) is serving as the huge drum used to produce the sound of the conch-shell, which the priests blow into for people to assemble for aarti. Pause. (The gods being worshipped during the ritualistic aarti have two eyes, one nose, and two feet each; so naturally, the question arises, what did Guru Sahib's Lord look like in terms of His physical features. Guru Sahib's answer is: (Waheguru is formless, yet present in every human being). He has countless eyes, and yet no eyes at the same time. He has countless forms, yet no form; He has countless clean (worthy of worship) feet, yet not even a single foot; without any nose, yet He has countless noses. I am captivated by His amazing feats. 2.
His Light (Soul) is present in everybody and is lighting them up. However, His light appears (reveals itself) in somebody's heart only through the Guru's Teachings. And only that Aarti is worthwhile which He likes. 3. My mind is always greedy for the sweet essence of Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (to worship them, i.e., to worship Waheguru Himself) and I have a great thirst (desire) for them. I am like the rainbird, but long only for Your Naam-Amrit. Kindly bestow me with the Naam- Amrit with which I may stay connected with You, begs Nanak. 4.1.7.9.

MEANING: The Perfect Satguru has revealed that the wealth of Waheguru's Naam is inexhaustible; it never runs out, and never disappears. I am all sacrifice for my Satguru, with whose grace one is enabled to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 1.
Those who concentrate on Waheguru's Naam with full devotion (make a connection with Him) are truly wealthy. The Perfect Satguru has made Waheguru's Naam comprehensible, which gets enshrined in the heart, with Waheguru's grace. Pause. With the benevolence of the Perfect Guru, the ignoble qualities are eradicated, and noble qualities are implanted in the devotee's heart without any special effort. The mind-purifying Shabad of the Perfect Guru leads to the blissful state of spirituality, in which the devotee feels eternal comfort. 2. Just watch the amazing feat of Satguru, whereby the indecisiveness of the devotee's mind gets eradicated, and Waheguru's Naam is implanted in his heart. Waheguru's Naam is priceless and cannot be realized by any means, but it gets enshrined in the devotee's mind with the grace of Satguru. 3. MEANING: Unlike the worldly wealth which one accumulates by unfair and dishonest means, the wealth of Waheguru's Naam is extremely pure as it is acquired by honest hard work. The treasures of Waheguru's Naam-Wealth are full of the Guru's Shabad. Other than the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, treat all other types of wealth as poisonous because the man burns in the fire of his ego in love for Maya, oh my friends. 1. Some rare individuals taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru and enjoy blissfulness day and night; however, Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only with great fortune. Pause. Satguru's Shabad is the beacon of enlightenment in the three worlds; whoever experiences it gets purified and washes away the filth of his selfishness and ego with Waheguru's Naam. By worshipping Waheguru with full devotion, one enjoys bliss all the time. 2. The devotee, who tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, becomes His favourite. Imbued in the Naam, those devotees who meditate on the Naam, enshrine it in their hearts, and attain salvation. 1. One acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam by serving the Guru (living as per His Advice); his mind becomes enlightened through the recitation of the Naam. Pause. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, the bond of love between the devotee and Waheguru becomes very strong. The devotee enjoys Waheguru's love when blissfulness adorns her mind. Nobody gets connected with Waheguru with selfishness and ego in their mind; they are misled from the beginning, and waste away their precious human life. 2. In His shelter, and with Guru's Shabad, one acquires peace, a high spiritual state, and blissfulness. Such service to the Guru is eternal, with which one gets fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. With Guru's Shabad, one gets connected with the dear Lord, recites His Naam all the time, and receives honour in Waheguru's Court. 3. (PAGE 665): Prubh Saachay kee Saachi kaar. Nanak Naam(i) suvaarunhaar. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Teeja = third. Maiyla = filthy; immoral. Doojaiy = in Maya. Lobhaayay = in greed of. Bhaayay = love; attraction. Purj = public. Vigoyee = suffers due to misguidance. Choataan Khaayay = gets a beating; suffers. 1. Put(i) = dignity. Ootum = superior; pure; enhanced. Pause. Oobray = salvaged. Dri-rraayee = reinforce. Saach(i) = in Waheguru (His Naam). 2. Gaahuk(u) = customer; seeker. Virla = rare. Aap(u) Puchhaan(u) = analyzes self. Saachi = pure. Raas(i) = investment. Vapaar(u) = business. Purakh = man. 3. Ikk(i) = the One God. Kaar = service. Suvaarunhaar = causing success. 4.

MEANING: The world is filthy (because of its immorality) and gets even filthier because of its greed for Maya, as a result of which it continues to be born, and to die. The whole world suffers humiliation because of its love for Maya; the Maya-engrossed man loses his respect in Waheguru's Court and suffers punishment. 1. One's mind gets purified with service to the Guru. With Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, he enhances his dignity. Pause. Guru's devotees are protected in the shelter of Waheguru as they reinforce His worship in their heart, and get imbued in His Naam. Through the worship of Waheguru, devotees earn respect, and, imbued with Waheguru's love, they enjoy bliss by staying absorbed in His Naam. 2. However, there is a rare individual who seeks to be a dealer in Waheguru's Naam by analyzing the self with the Guru's Shabad. The investment (in the business of Waheguru's Naam) of such a devotee is pure (his dedication is selfless) and so is his business (hard labour to acquire only the Naam). Such a devotee is worthy of praise who has love for Waheguru's Naam. 3. Waheguru, Himself causes such devotees to recite His Naam (by putting them in the shelter of the Guru), where they listen to His (Guru's) Shabad and His supreme (transcending) holy compositions. The service to Waheguru is also eternal like Him (never fails to connect with Waheguru in any eon). Waheguru's Naam makes the devotee successful (be approved) in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Nanak Saachay, saacha bhaavaan. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Bul(i) Jaaoun = I offer to sacrifice (serve). Saacho, Saach(u) = Waheguru alone. Smaalihou = remember Him. 1. Sehjay = in blissful state; without any special effort. Pause. Koorr(u) = falsehood. Koosut(u) = lies. Trishna = worldly desires. Shaant(i) = calmness; peace. Bhaanaiy = by (Guru's) Will. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 2. Boojhaiy = understand; comprehend. Vihaani = (life) is spent. Bhaytay = get connected with. Tthaak Ruhaayay = keeps control on. 3. Saachay = to Waheguru. Saacha = with pure mind. Bhaavaan = liked. 4.5.

MEANING: I wish to serve those who serve Waheguru. They have Waheguru at heart, and His Naam on their tongue. We should all remember God so as to get rid of our problems. But He gets enshrined in our hearts with Guru's Shabad only. 1.

The devotee washes the filth of his mind (his unholy thoughts) by listening to the Guru's Shabad when Waheguru's Naam gets embedded in his mind in the high spiritual state, above the effects of Maya. Pause. He gets rid of his falsehood (dishonesty) and his lies with Guru's Shabad, and also puts out the fire of his desires with it. Guru's Shabad brings peace to his mind, and he attains bliss in a high spiritual state. If he follows Guru's Will, his selfishness and ego are eradicated. He sings Waheguru's praise and reaches His Dwelling (merges with Him). 2. The Maya-engrossed man does not understand (the worth of) Guru's Shabad, nor does he comprehend the Bani (holy compositions); his life is spent in troubles. But he enjoys bliss when he connects with the Guru, as he becomes able to control his selfishness and ego. 3. But whom should we preach to (we have no ability to do so); it is Waheguru alone (Who has the ability) to connect the individuals with Him through the Guru's Shabad. I also wish to sing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Dear (Guru) whereby I can acquire noble qualities of Waheguru to become pure like Him, and be liked (loved by Him), oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Dhaat(u) = (desire for) Maya. Daaroo = treatment. 1. Bukhshay = is kind. Vudiyaayi = honour. Pause Gurmukh(i) Kurnee = to act on the advice of the Guru. Soajhi = understanding. Maiy Mut = intoxicated mind. Maiygul Mikdaara = like an elephant. Ankus(u) = weapon to control elephants. Jeevaalunhaara = giver of (spiritual) life. 2. Asaadh = non-fixable; uncontrollable. Saadhaiy = brings under control. Achur(u) Churaiy = do something undoable (control one's sensual pleasures). Suvaar(i) = purifies; acquires noble qualities. Tujaiy = abandons. Vikaar = vices. 3. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (by Waheguru). Vichhurreh(i) = disconnected. Smaayay = stays absorbed. Kulaa = powers. Puchhaaniy = recognizes; acquires.

MEANING: How can one connect with God (he cannot) without killing his mind (his selfishness and ego, which are rooted in Maya)? (The answer is) When one kills (controls) his mind, his desire to earn more wealth gets killed automatically (comes under control). But some rare person knows the treatment to kill his mind; such a person knows that the mind (desires) can be killed only with the Guru's Shabad. 1. Those, whom Waheguru is kind to, are given the honour that His Naam gets implanted in their hearts with Guru's grace. Pause. The individual, who acts on the Advice of the Guru, understands the functioning of the human mind. (Without Guru's Shabad, the human mind thinks like an intoxicated person (who cannot tell the bad from the good) and is conceited like an elephant. Just as an elephant is controlled by an ankus, the human mind is controlled by the Guru's Shabad, which gives a person renewed spiritual life. 2. The human mind is extremely difficult to control, and a rare person is able to control it. The mind can be purified only by killing one's sensual pleasures, which are equally difficult to kill (they can be controlled only by the Guru's Shabad – another very difficult thing to achieve). A Sikh of the Guru adorns his mind (purifies it) by getting rid of his haumein and vices. 3. Those who are predestined from the beginning to (get connected with Waheguru) do get connected with Him through the Guru. They stay absorbed in Guru's Shabad and never get disconnected. Waheguru alone knows His powers, and can be realized in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Kaacha Dhun(u) = wealth which never lasts forever. Suncheh(i) = accumulates. Gavaar = foolish. Bhoolay = misled. Bikhiya = earned by dishonesty. Praaput(i) = in possession. 1. Saacha Dhun(u) = everlasting wealth (Waheguru's Naam). Phoon(i) = also. Pause. Bhuvjul(i) Doobay = drown in the world-sea. Oorvaar = nearer shore. Paar = the far shore. Bhaytay = meet with. Baiyraag(i) = detached from Maya. 2. Chuhoun Joog = in all the four eons. Amit = immortalizing. Saadhik = those who purify their bodies by yogic exercises. Turseh(i) = yearn for. Loyay = world. Praaput(i) = acquired. 3.
Saacha = everlasting. Ootum Braham = transcendent Waheguru. Puchhaanaiy = realizes. Koyay = some rare. Drirraayay = reinforces. Laayay = connects with. 7.
MEANING: Only the foolish and the ignorant accumulate wealth which does not stay with them forever. The Maya-engrossed individuals are foolish and blind, who are misled in life. The wealth earned by dishonest means always causes trouble because it neither accompanies the dead nor does it stay with him forever. 1. The real (permanent) wealth (of Waheguru's Naam) can be acquired with the Advice of the Guru, whereas the worldly wealth comes and goes. Pause. The Maya- engrossed individuals are misled, and the foolish suffer spiritual death. They drown in the world sea, and neither can they stay in this world (forever), nor can they swim across to the other side (to be one with Waheguru). However, if they are highly fortunate, they get connected with the Guru and remain detached from the world, staying imbued in Waheguru's love day and night. 2. Guru's Shabad is the True Amrit (that immortalizes the highly fortunate devotees by connecting them with Waheguru) in any of the four eons; as a result, the devotee stays absorbed in His Naam. All over the world, the Sidh yogis and those who purify their bodies by yogic means yearn for Waheguru's Naam, but it can be acquired only with perfect fortune. 3. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His creation, but only a rare individual recognizes the Supreme Being. The eternal Waheguru Himself reinforces His eternal Naam in the hearts of His devotees. He watches everything Himself (without any help) and Himself exhorts His devotees to recite His eternal Naam, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Keemut(i) = worth. Mit(i) = size; magnanimity Liv Laayay = meditate with full focus of mind. Veechaar(u) = pondering. Bukhshay = bestows. Veechaar(u) = wisdom; understanding. 1. Achurj(u) = amazing. Kulee Kaal = Kulyug; in the present times. Pause. Kaar Kmaayay = do routine business. 2. Bikhiya Ka Dhun = the worldly wealth. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Maan(u) = respect. 3. Saajay = creates. Aagaiy = next world. 4.

MEANING: The worth and the magnanimity (transcendence) of Waheguru's Naam cannot be described. Those devotees are great who meditate only on the Naam with full concentration of mind. Guru's Wisdom, and pondering on His Shabad, are eternal (never fail to connect with Waheguru in every eon). But one acquires them only when Waheguru bestows them on the devotees. 1. Waheguru's Naam is amazing because He Himself bestows it, and can be acquired only through the Guru. Pause. The man is foolish, and carries out all his dealings in the world under the influence of his haumein (selfishness and ego). However, he can get rid of his haumein with the grace of the Guru, who forgives him and connects him with Waheguru. 2. The worldly wealth causes huge conceit in the man, as a result of which, he receives no respect in Waheguru's Court, and drowns in the world-sea. To acquire permanent bliss, one needs to get rid of one's selfishness and ego by singing Waheguru's praise with the Guru's advice. 3. There is none other than Waheguru, who creates everything; only that person begins to recite His Naam whom He exhorts to do so. Waheguru's Naam is the source of all comforts in this world and the next, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Kern Kaarun = creator of everything. Pause. Phayr = rebirths. Kirpun = Maya-lover. Ub = now. Kichh(u) = some. Bukhsh = gift; endowment. 2. Bhunut(i) = says. Bherm Putt = the doors of misgivings. MEANING: You are the Sovereign (Emperor) of the whole world, and all of us are beggars at Your door, oh Waheguru. Please, be kind to Your beggar, and grant me Your Naam so that I may always be imbued in Your Naam. 1. I am always a sacrifice for Your Naam. You are farther and farther, and beyond limits; only You know the level of Your transcendence, oh Lord. 2. Imbued in the deep love of the Guru, Waheguru's devotees recite His Naam. Because of the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the devotees earn praise from the masses, which enhances their spiritual level among them. 3. Waheguru, Himself is the Lord, and (being present in them) Himself is the devotee; and He, Himself generates means for the devotees to worship Him. Kindly protect the dignity of Your devotee (against the attacks of Maya), and instill Your Naam in my heart so that I may recite it, oh Waheguru. I simply ask for Your worship alone. Pause. Waheguru's devotees, who recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, are dear to Him. All those records of my deeds which Chitar Goopt had kept have been erased, and there is no balance owing to the Angel of death. 2. Waheguru's devotees recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru (or holy saints) when the sun-like hot fire of desires is put out by the moon-like coolness of Waheguru, which appears in the heart of the devotees. 3. You are the Great Supreme Being, which is inaccessible (by any physical means), incomprehensible, and all-in- all in the universe. MEANING: Recite only the Naam of the mind-captivating Waheguru by pondering on it (the Naam), and implanting it in your heart, oh my friends. By the grace of the Perfect Guru, Waheguru - which is otherwise invisible, inaccessible, and beyond limits - appears in the minds of His devotees. 1. God is like an elixir stone and like sandalwood (with beautiful fragrance i.e., virtues) whereas we are like iron and a dry wood (devoid of any noble qualities); but He converts us into gold and sandalwood (adorns us with good qualities). Pause. Waheguru cannot be pleased by rendering the nine Grammar books and the six Shastras by heart. Sing praise of Waheguru, which transforms this world full of attractions of Maya (which is the cause of rebirths) into an eternal holy place, oh my brothers. Waheguru grants superior status only to those holy saints who fully comprehend His Magnanimity. Pause. Waheguru Himself is the Guru and (being present in all), He is also the disciple. You are the eternal Truth, and everything created by You is for real (and not an illusion as some people believe), oh, my Lord. What can we call false when there is no one else to create anything (everything has been created by You, so nothing is false)? 1.

You operate in everybody, and everybody keeps You in mind day and night, oh my Lord. Everybody begs for things from You, and You alone give them Your gifts. 2.

Everybody is under Your control, and none is beyond Your control. All the living beings are Yours, and You are theirs, and they all eventually get absorbed in You. 3.

NOTE: Trappers of elephants dig a deep pit in the forest and cover it with leaves. They put a model of a female elephant to attract the males. When a male sees the model, he rushes to it, falls into the pit, and gets trapped.

Body parts of some kinds of deer, especially those of the musk deer, are in great demand. The poachers produce a special music which lures the deer, and they get trapped.

MEANING: (Love for any worldly thing other than Waheguru leads to trouble). The fish, which have developed an excessive love of water, die quickly when out of water. The bumblebee ends its life in its love for the lotus flower when it gets trapped inside the flower and cannot escape. 1. But my mind has fallen in love with the only "One" (God), who is always with me. He never dies and never leaves you. I realized (got connected with) Him by Satguru's Shabad. Pause. The elephant gets trapped by his lust and becomes a prisoner of others (hunters). Likewise, a deer surrenders its head (life) to the poachers because of its love for music and gets destroyed. 2. Similarly, upon seeing his family, the man becomes captivated by his love for them and becomes greedy (to earn more wealth to provide comforts for his family), as a result of which he clings to Maya. He gets so rapt in his love for his family and Maya that he thinks everything belongs to him forever; he does not realize they will eventually leave him. 3. Believe it fully that a person who gets in love with anyone (or anything) else is always unhappy (suffers). The Guru has given me the deep understanding that a man should love only Waheguru, which keeps him blissful at all times, oh Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: In the company (shelter) of the Guru, I have given up worrying about others (friends and foes alike), and have buried my egoistic thinking, bonds of attachment, and lust of mind, in a deep pit (eradicated them completely). Pause. The Guru has very kindly given me Waheguru's Naam (implanted in my heart) and has severed all my worldly bonds. By surrendering to the Guru, I have forgotten all my unnecessary worldly tasks (greed for wealth). 1. I do not think anyone is my enemy anymore, and I have no enmity left for anyone. With the deep understanding given to me by the Guru, I see Waheguru inside me and in all His creation. 2. I have made friends with everybody, and everybody treats me as their friend. Once I got rid of (mental) separation from the Lord (by abandoning my love for Maya), the Royal Waheguru connected me with Him. 3. I found Guru's Shabad to be very sweet, as a result of which, the persistent resistance of my mind against breaking the worldly bonds got eradicated, and the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam rained on my mind (it got enshrined in my mind). Tehl = Sayva = meeting the routine needs and obeying. Aagiya = Will. Bhaani = liked. Kaadhay = freed from. Koorbaani = sacrifice life. 4.

MEANING: Ever since I met with the Guru and had His holy sight, good days (favourable times) have descended on me. By singing praise of Waheguru, which is the carver of our fates, I have acquired Him in my mind and have felt extremely blissful since then. 1. Now, I sing His praise in my mind. By taking shelter of the Perfect Guru, my mind has been enlightened, and now I enjoy blissfulness all the time. Pause. With the source of virtues, Waheguru, embedded in my mind, all my troubles, misgivings, and fears have disappeared. I have acquired the inaccessible, valuable thing (Waheguru's Naam|) in my heart, and my mind is imbued with His love. 2. Buhoutayray = too many. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed; minuscule. Pause. Nirmoluk = priceless. Heera = diamond. Muntaai = mantra. Diggaiy Na Doalaiy = does not weaken (waver). Drirr(u) = firm. Triptaani = contented. 2. Beech Kuchh(u) Hoatay = obstacles in the centre (wall of the five demons). Bilaani = is over. Alunkaar = ornaments. Thaiyli = bag; one piece. Kunik = gold. 3. Ghur(u) = heart. Bundhaani = built. 4.5.

MEANING: Waheguru, to whom our body, mind, and wealth belong, is also the one who is wise, know-all (omniscient) and respectable. He is the one who listens to our comforts and discomforts, and when He listens to our prayers, He kindly connects us to Him, and our lives become beautiful. 1. Only Waheguru listens to our prayers; prayer before any other deity or any other power goes totally unrewarded (because no one else is capable of fulfilling our wishes). Pause. My Guru has bestowed the Mantra of Waheguru's Amrit-Naam on me, which is priceless like a diamond, and because of which my mind has become so firm (strong) that it does not weaken or waver anymore. It has given me full contentment. 2.

The five demons, which had served as a wall between Waheguru and me, keeping us disconnected, have become a thing of the past. Now I, and Waheguru, have become "one," like many different ornaments of gold (which look distinct), becoming a single nugget of gold when they are melted and cannot be told apart. 3.
Now that Waheguru has appeared in my mind, I have attained the blissfulness of the high spiritual state, have earned praise from the people, and I feel as if the Divine music of Guru's holy Shabad is playing in my mind. With my Guru laying the foundation of the Waheguru's Naam in my mind, my mind has become an eternal dwelling for Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Bhoomun = land lords. Trishan = fire of desires. Boojhi = put out. Lupt(i) Ruhhay = cling to; rapt in. Maatay = intoxicated. Loachun = eyes. 1.
Bikhiya = Maya; sensual pleasures. Triput(i) = contentment. Paavuk(u) = fire. Eendhun = fuel. Dhraapaiy = satisfied = Aghaayee. Pause. Binjun = delicious foods. Oodum(u) = efforts. Sooaan = (greedy) dog. Koontaan = directions. Ghokha = examines; searches for. 2. Kaamvunt = lustful = Kaami. Pur Greh = house (women) of others. Joh = evil sight. Chookaiy = ends. Puchhtaapaiy = repents. Soag = sad moments. Sookaiy = weakens. 3. Apaar = not easily achievable. Amoala = invaluable. Nidhaana = treasure. Sehj = Aanund = blissfulness. 4.

MEANING: The fire of desires, even of rajahs and landlords, is not put out (they never get contented), no matter how big their kingdoms or holdings are. Intoxicated in their wealth, they are always rapt in it and cannot think of anything else, even when they see other things (problems of others) with their eyes. 1. Like fire, which is never satisfied no matter how much fuel it consumes, nobody has ever found contentment in sensual pleasures. One gets contentment only with Waheguru's Naam. Pause. The man eats delicious foods day after day, but his appetite never goes away. Like a greedy dog, he still works hard and looks for more and more in every direction. 2. A lustful man may have many wives, but he does not quit casting an evil eye on other women. He does that every day, and his morality dries up (mind weakens more and more). He repents for his greed (if he is successful) and suffers in sadness (if he fails to achieve his objective). 3. Waheguru's Naam is inaccessible, invaluable, and is the source of Amrit (which makes one immortal by connecting him with Waheguru). The Guru has explained to me that one gets the mental joy and blissfulness of the high spiritual state in the company of the holy saints, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Luvaiy Na Laagun = nothing to compare with. Dhaavaiy = rushes. Eh Amrit(u) = this Amrit (Waheguru's Naam). Bun Aavaiy = befits. 1. Aik(u) Rusa = sweetness of the "One." Aan = other. Khoodhiya = appetite. Pause.
Mauliyo = blooms. Boond = drop. Bern(i) = describe. Oostut(i) = praise. 2.
Ghaal = (misdirected) hard work. Sayv = (misdirected) service. Achinta = without any special effort. Duyya = munificence. Munta = Mantra (Shabad). 3.
Oat(i) Poat(i) = the cross threads of fabric; warp and weft. Ruvviya = present. 4.

MEANING: There is nothing in this world for which the man rushes to acquire that can be compared (does not come even close) to (Waheguru's Naam). But it befits only the devotee (only he understands this fact) to whom the Guru gives Waheguru's Amrit-Naam with His kindness. 1. The individual, who comes to like the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, is left with absolutely no appetite for anything else to eat, drink, or to enjoy otherwise. No other taste provides satisfaction to his mind. Pause. The mind and the body of the individual, who gets even a drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, bloom and come to life. I cannot praise such an individual enough, nor can I describe the value of his spiritual state. 2. Waheguru cannot be realized by misdirected hard labour, or misdirected service to Him (for example, idol worship, self-torture, etc.). He gets enshrined in the heart of those who spend their lives following the Guru's Advice with His kindness, and they do not have to put in any other effort to get connected with Him. 3. Waheguru, which is kind to the helpless (humble), is always benevolent and raises all living beings, just as a mother raises her child. Even though the man does not realize it, yet Waheguru is as closely mingled with everybody as the cross threads (warp and weft) are knit in the fabric, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Drirraaya = reinforced. Oodiyaan = wilderness. Undhkaar = darkness. 1. Praan = life. Eehaan Oohaan = everywhere; this world and the next. Thoak = (needed) things. Chind = worry. Pause. Maan(u) = pride. Meht(u) = respect; praise. Put(i) = dignity. Koat(i) = countless. Ugh = sins. Baanchhaiy = long for. Dhoori = dust of the feet; to serve Him. 2. Munoruth = objectives. MEANING: I wish to sacrifice my life for my Guru who reinforces Waheguru's Naam in the hearts of people, and who shows the path of righteousness in the darkness and the wilderness (of ignorance and confusion) in which the people are spending their lives. 1. Waheguru is the basis of my life, who has the worry (responsibility) to meet my needs everywhere (in this world as well as the next). Pause. All the devotees wish for the dust of the Feet of Waheguru (wish to serve Him like a slave) by reciting His Naam by which one acquires all the treasures, pride, respect, and full dignity, and by which countless sins vanish. 2. If someone wishes to achieve all his objectives, he should serve only the "One" (Waheguru). By remembering the Lord, which is above the effects of Maya, and which is beyond any limits, one gets across the sea of Maya (is salvaged). 3. In the company of the Guru, one attains peacefulness and calmness of mind (which quits wavering) and acquires great blissfulness. Waheguru's Naam is my wealth, which I accumulate, and is my delicious food, which I enjoy, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Sherminda = ashamed. Kmaani = behave; perform. Reet(i) = routine; deeds. Saakut = wealth. Bipreet(i) = opposing behaviour. 1. Uveraiy = others.

Heet = love. Hurchundauri = mirage; imaginary fort in the sky. Bun= forest. Hur = green. Paat = leaves; vegetation. Beet = ability; limit. Pause. Chundun = sandalwood (oil). Layp = coating. Gerdhubh = donkey. Bhusm = dust. Sungeet(i) = with. Rooch = interest. Bikhaiy = vices. Thugauri = deceitfulness. 2. Ootum = superior. Bhulay Sunjogi = favourable times. Puvit = Puneet = holy; purifier. Akaaruth = worthlessly. Junum Pudaaruth = the valuable human life. Kaach = worthless glass (short-lived happiness). Baadraiy = in exchange. Jeet = is being won over. 3.
Kilvikh = sins. Unjun = kohl (as medication). Naytur = eyes. Niksiyo = escaped. 4.
MEANING: The man makes it a routine to commit deeds for which he has to be ashamed. He reinforces the behaviour which is counter to the noble behaviour, and vilifies (maliciously criticizes) the holy saints, but worships wealth. 1. With deep attachment for Maya, he forgets to love other good things (like honesty, love for humanity, and love for Waheguru's Naam, etc.). Like an imaginary fort in the sky, and the green leaves in the forest (which never live forever), a man's life is also short and limited. Pause. If you coat the body of a donkey with highly valuable sandalwood oil (unlike the man, he does not like it), and he goes to lie and roll in dust, which he finds comforting. Similarly, the man shows no interest in the invaluable Waheguru's Amrit, such as Naam, and loves to indulge in sensual pleasures and deceit. 2. With favourable times (good fortune), one gets the company of the holy saints (union with them), which purifies the immoral in this world, but man's immoral behaviour is winning over (and he is losing) the invaluable human life in exchange for the worthless short-lived happiness. 3. Like a medication, which gives better vision to the eyes, the Divine Knowledge that the Guru imparts to His Sikhs, enlightens their mind, because of which countless sins are destroyed. I have escaped from the suffering of such sins when I learned to love the only Supreme Being (God) in the company of the saints, oh Nanak. 4.9.

So, sing Waheguru's praise in the company (shelter) of the Guru. This is the only way - and no other means - to swim across the sea of Maya, and to spend a successful life in this world of disputes and aggression. Pause. There is no other power like the Perfect Waheguru, which was present at the beginning, and which will be present at the end. So, recite the Naam of the Waheguru, which eradicates rebirths and deaths, oh man. 2.
The Waheguru, which is mentioned in the Vedas, in the Simritis, and in the Shastras, and which the devotees ponder on, should be praised in the company of the Guru, whereby the darkness of ignorance is dispelled, and one attains emancipation. 3.

Because of Guru's Advice, I took the shelter of the Perfect Waheguru, whereby all my bonds with worldly affairs have been broken. Pause. All the living beings in the sky, on the earth, in the underworld, and on other planets are in the control of Maya. But Waheguru's Naam emancipates (frees from the bonds of Maya) not just the devotee, but also his associates. 2. If one recites the Naam of the Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, he acquires all the treasures of the world; but some rare individual realizes that Waheguru's Naam can be acquired (implanted in the heart) only by His benevolence (and not by any of the individual's efforts), oh Nanak. 3.3.21.

Imbued in the love of the limitless Waheguru, the holy saints sing praise of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. Pause. Their extreme humility is the cause of the fame (praise) of the holy saints, and recognizing the worth of Waheguru's praise is the source of their greatness. Because of the worship of Waheguru, the holy saints always enjoy bliss in their minds. All their worries get eradicated, and they enjoy all comforts. 2. Waheguru's praise is sung in the form of Shabads and poems where the holy saints get together. There is peace and blissfulness in the assembly of the holy saints. But, only that individual gets to join the company of the holy saints who has good fortune carved on his forehead. 3.

With folded hands, I pray before the holy saints and sing Waheguru's praise while washing their holy feet (showing reverence). The devotees have Satguru (Waheguru), whose persona is rewarding, and whose service purifies them, protecting them like mother and father. A devotee, who has the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, gets his mind enlightened in the shelter of the Guru. 1. The Provider for all living beings is present everywhere; countless acts of selfishness are eradicated by His Naam. All one's suffering due to repeated births and deaths gets eradicated when one gets Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart and body in the shelter of the Guru. 2. An individual who is provided shelter by Waheguru is recognized (honoured) in His Court. But only that individual is the real devotee who is liked by Waheguru. Such a devotee owes nothing to the Angel of death (has no sins recorded against him). 3.

The Lord is eternal, and so is His Court. Who can think of, and put a value on, the Lord's worth? God is present in every heart and is the basis of their lives. I beg for the dust of the feet of holy saints (an opportunity to serve them), oh Nanak. 4.3.24.

The Guru has given me the advice to serve Waheguru, which is the source of spiritual life. 1. One should not attach to things that lack long-term durability, as they do not accompany one after death. You should sing Waheguru's praise by body and by mind in the company of the holy saints, who are very dear to Waheguru, whereby your worldly bonds will be broken, oh my mind. 2. MEANING: Look around carefully (how the living beings are dying), and listen to the words of the Guru (what He has to say about the objective of human life) that everybody has to die. So, keep the Lord of our life, Waheguru, in mind all the time, and wish for His Naam, which is the best thing for you to do. Pause. (Ignoring Waheguru), The man adorns his body with sandalwood oil and extract of flowers and enjoys the sweetness of countless luxuries in life without realizing that they are all tasteless (worthless) for spiritual advancement. The holy saints advise that only Waheguru's Naam is worthy in the spiritual realm. The man looks after his body and his wealth as permanent, but does not remember Waheguru for even a short moment. He must realize that wealth, or other belongings, do not accompany him at the time of death. 1. Those individuals who have good fortune come to the Guru's shelter, and the fear of the Angel of death does not torture them there. NOTE: Whenever a Shabad is followed by "Ek Onkar -------"it generally indicates that a new subcategory of the Raag has started. The number "1" following the number "2" indicates that this is the first Shabad of a new category, "Ghur 7".

Word Meaning: Kul(i) Klaysh = destructive disputes mostly rooted in ego. Bhuoujul(u) = the world sea. Pause. Nimukh = moment. Chitaaray = think of. Nisung = without any shame (recitation of Waheguru's Naam was a huge departure from idol-worship, was revolutionary, and was treated with disdain by the majority of the people) in those days. Pause. Keep Waheguru in mind and recite His Naam (implant it in your heart) with every breath, every moment, day, and night in the company of the Guru, and without any fear of being ridiculed. 1.

MEANING: When one gets Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) embedded in his heart, he becomes the owner of such wealth which is everlasting, and which can never be lost, because unlike worldly wealth, water cannot drown it, a thief cannot steal it, and fire cannot burn it. Pause. I remember Waheguru with every breath and enjoy blissfulness by repeatedly reciting His Naam. Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad) supports one in this world and the next and protects him (from the attacks of Maya) everywhere. 1. Guru's Shabad is as comforting in the realm of spirituality as wealth is to the poor, eyesight to the blind, or a mother's milk to a child. Waheguru's saints feel blissful everywhere; Waheguru is the protector of His devotees inside their residence, and in the outside world; they see Him present everywhere. Pause. MEANING: The wealthy get conceited to see their wealth, while the landlords are conceited of their landholdings (they feel great protection of them). A rajah feels that he owns everything (he feels protected) within his state boundaries. Just like them, a devotee is proud of the Lord and feels fully protected in His shelter. 1. But, unlike the wealthy, the landlords, and the rajahs, a devotee of Waheguru does not feel conceited in the shelter of Waheguru and is wise enough to remember (realize) his limits, and uses them wisely so that he does not suffer any loss. Bheetur(i) = inside. Aapa Cheenaiy = self analysis. Kaayee = deposit of impurities. 2.

MEANING: Why should one leave his home and go to the forests to search for Waheguru, when the omnipresent and fully detached Lord is always with him (in his heart), oh man? Pause. Just like fragrance resides hidden in flowers, and your reflection can be seen in a mirror (only as long as you are there), Waheguru is present hidden everywhere; so, search for Him in your own heart, oh my brothers. 1.

The Guru tells us that it is the same Waheguru which is present outside, and inside your heart; but the coating of the filth of misgivings cannot be removed until the man analyzes self (looks for Waheguru inside him), oh Nanak. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Bherm(i) Bhoolaana = misled by misgivings. Pause.
Soot = sons. Bunita = wife. Rus(i) = sweetness; love. Luptaana = clings (sticks) to. Prubhta = power. Mud = intoxication. Diwaana = crazy; lost. 1.
Dookh-Bhunjun = destroyer of sufferings (Waheguru). Mun Lugaana = feel attached. Koatun Meh(i) = among millions. Kinhoo = rare. Puchhaana = recognizes. 2.
MEANING: This world is misled by its misgivings, oh the holy saints. It has ignored remembering Waheguru, and is sold at the hands of Maya. Pause.
The man is fully lost in the sweetness of his love for his mother, father, brothers, sons, and his wife (depending upon the stage of his life); and intoxicated with his youthfulness, wealth, and his power, he stays insane day and night. 1.
He shows no interest in (the Naam of) Waheguru which is kind to the weak, and is the destroyer of all suffering. But who can we blame? There is a rare individual in millions who realizes Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Joogut = (the right) way (approach). Mumtaa = attachments. Phoon(i) = too; as well. Ghut = heart. Pause.
Oostut = undeserved praise. Kunchun = gold. Smaano = equal; the same. Herkh = happiness. Soag = sadness. Uteeta = detached. Bukhaano = is said to be. 1.
Chunchul = fickle; ever-wandering. Dehdis(i) = in (each of the ten directions) in every direction. Dhaavut = rushes. Achull = immovable; stable. Tthehraano = peaceful; stable. Bidh(i) = way; style. 2.
MEANING: The yogi, who suffers from greed, worldly attachments at heart, and also has love for Maya, does not have the right approach to connect with God. Pause.

Only that individual deserves to be called a true yogi who does not criticize or praise anyone without a reasonable cause; treats gold and iron the same way; and stays unaffected by happy or sad moments. 1.
Man's ever-wandering mind rushes in every direction; the individual, who is able to control his fickle mind to stabilize it, can be considered to be free from all worldly bonds, oh Nanak. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Oopaaou = (preventive) measure. Bidh(i) = means. Sunsa = doubts; qualms. Chookay = lift; remove. Bhuou Nidh(i) = the world sea. Pause.
Bhulo = noble deed. Taa Tay = because of that. Adhik = much. Buch(i) = by words. Kerm(i) = by deeds. Yeh = this Soach = thinking; worried. 1.
Oopjiyo = acquired. Pus(u) = animal. Oodur = belly; stomach. Bird(u) = innate virtue (of kindness). Tub = only then. Huoun = I; me. Putit = immoral. 2.
MEANING: I do not understand what means I should use by which all my misgivings may be removed, and I may be able to swim across the world sea. Pause.
I am very much afraid that I have not done anything noble after taking birth; I am worried that I have not sung the praise of Waheguru with my mind, my words, or my deeds. 1.
I did not acquire any Divine Knowledge (made no connection with Waheguru) even after listening to the Guru's advice, and, like an animal, I just filled my stomach. I pray to Waheguru that He recognizes (uses) His innate virtue of kindness for me; only then, an immoral like me can find salvation, oh Nanak. 2.4.9.9.13.58.4.93.

Word Meaning: Saagur(u) = sea; source. Rutaanee = with jewels (of virtues; words of praise). Amrit(u) = Guru's Words (noble qualities). Choogaiy = picks (with mind). Choag(i) = food. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. Survur = (Guru as the) ocean. Huns = swan (Guru's Sikh). Praanput(i) = the Lord of our life (God). 1. Bug = heron (an imposter of a swan); opposite of Gur Sikh (a Maya-engrossed man). Buppurra = poor; ignorant. Chuupprri = a pond with muddy water (antonym of Guru-Ocean); a deceitful posing as a holy saint. Keechurr = mud. Doobay = drown; take a dip. Maiyl(u) = filth (of evil thoughts). Pause. Churn Dhuray = takes steps. Veechaari = a thoughtful person. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Nirunkaari = a devotee of God. Mookt(i) Pdaaruth = the virtuous thing that leads to emancipation. Aavun Jaan = birth and death. Ruhhay = end. 2. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state. Akuth Kutha = the indescribable story (of virtues) of God. Gur Buchunee = Guru's Words. Aadur(u) = respect. 3. Soonn Mundul = in the state above the effects of Maya. Yogi = (God). Naar = female. Purakh = male. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered God. Liv Laayee = in meditative state. Soor = gods. Naath = accomplished yogis. 4.

MEANING: The Guru is such an ocean, which is full of noble qualities and of noble words of praise for Waheguru. The holy saints pick up those virtues, because of which Waheguru is not far from them. They pick the sweet (Amrit-like) food of Waheguru's praise (from the Guru-sea), and are liked (loved) by Waheguru. The Sikhs of the Guru find the Lord of our lives (Waheguru) in the Guru-ocean. 1.

What does a Maya-engrossed person gain by taking a dip in a muddy pond (listening to the words of advice of some self-proclaimed guru who has no noble qualities), because one cannot wash away his dirt by drowning (taking a dip) in a muddy pond. Pause. On the other hand, a thoughtful person takes every step in life very carefully and becomes a devotee of Waheguru by overcoming his indecisiveness (and his discrimination against others). The Guru protects him from the attacks of Maya, and he tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, which leads to his salvation and to the termination of his birth-death-birth cycle. 2. The Sikh of the Guru never leaves His shelter and gets absorbed in the high spiritual state by worshipping Waheguru with love and dedication. The Sikh stays absorbed in the Guru's Shabad while His Shabad gets embedded in the Sikh's mind. The devotee is accorded respect when he sings Waheguru's praise with the Guru's Shabad. 3. Like a yogi, Waheguru also meditates on Himself; so how can one say whether Waheguru is a female or a male in that state? But, even in His meditative state, His Light (Soul) pervades the whole universe and provides shelter to all the gods, the men, and the accomplished yogis. 4.

Nanak(u) jaachaiy Saach(u) suroop. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Aanund-Mool = the source of bliss. Anaath = an orphan. Adhaari = the basis; support. Beechaari = pondered on. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover (admirer) of His worship. Bhaiy = fears. Pug(u) = feet (of God); Waheguru's Naam. 5.

Anik Jutun = countless efforts. Kaal(u) = (the fear of) death. Suntaayay = tortures. Mundul = in the world. Junum Pdaatuth = the precious human life. Doobidha = indecisiveness; discrimination. Cheenus(i) = analyzes. Bherm(i) = in doubt. 6.

Dheeruj = patience. Dherm = religiosity; moral obligations. Dhurneedhur = the support (Lord) of the earth (God). Tayk = shelter. Jut(u) = self-control. Sut(u) = high moral character. Sunjum(u) = efforts to control senses. Chautha Pud = the fourth state (above the three effects of Maya). Putiyaayay = convinced. 7.

Saachay = those who are connected with the eternal Waheguru. Bherm = misgivings. Bhaagaiy = run away; disappear. Soorut(i) = (with beautiful) looks. Moorut(i) = existence. Anoop = unmatched (virtues). Jaachay = begs for. Saach(u) = the eternal God. Sroop = the beautiful (handsome). 8.

MEANING: Waheguru is the source of all bliss, has no parents (is self-illuminating), and provides support to everyone. But, with His worship in the shelter of the Guru, the devotee becomes thoughtful and achieves the state of blissfulness. When one kills his haumein and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he gets connected with Waheguru, who loves His worship and is the destroyer of all fears. 5. The man is born with death predetermined for him; the fear of death always tortures him, no matter how many different means he tries to avoid it. He loses the golden opportunity of human life (to connect with Waheguru) in his indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya, which seems more attractive). He does not analyze himself and is misled by his misgivings; he cries (suffers) in life. 6. When the man is convinced to attain the spiritual level above the three effects of Maya, he takes Waheguru's shelter, and recites, reads, and listens to only

His Naam; he acquires patience and religiosity (moral obligations). At the same time, self-control, high moral character, and efforts to control senses naturally become part of his character. 7. Those devotees who have purified their minds with the Guru's Shabad do not get any filth of immoral thoughts or deeds, and all their misgivings and fears disappear. I, also beg for the eternal Waheguru, which is the embodiment of beauty and unmatched virtues, and which has no beginning, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Praym bhugut(i) Prubh(i) mun(i) putiyaaya. 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Pervaan(u) = approved. Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Daas = slave; devotee. Soyay = the same (God). 1.

Sehj Ghur(u) = the high spiritual state. Bhaytay = connected with. Pause.

Saach(u) = Waheguru (His Naam). Drirraavaiy = reinforces. Akuth = indescribable Kuthaiy = sing praise. Loag = people; devotees. Kaara = business. 2.

Munooaa = mind. Saacha = eternal (Waheguru). Saacha = pure, one who has overcome the attractions of Maya. Raacha = fully absorbed. Paayay = feet (shelter). 3.

Dikhaayay = shows. Hutth = persistence of mind (without real feelings). Puteejaiy = is pleased. Buhou = many. Bhaykhaiy = religious garbs (symbols). Ghurr(i) = having designed (created). Bhaanday = vessels; human bodies. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam (virtues). Putiyaaya = pleased. 4.

MEANING: The devotee, who gets connected with Waheguru in the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, is the one who is approved by Waheguru, and the cycle of his rebirths comes to an end. At that point, the devotee and Waheguru become "one," and the devotee sees only God everywhere, and no one else. 1. With Waheguru's worship in the shelter of the Guru, the devotee attains a high spiritual state; whereas a follower of his mind keeps taking rebirths without connecting with the Guru. Pause. I will take the shelter of that Guru who reiterates Waheguru's Naam only, and makes one recite only the Naam of the indescribable Waheguru, and connects the devotee with God with His Shabad. Those who become Waheguru's devotees do not get engrossed in any other business (attractions of Maya) than Waheguru's Naam (they do earn their living by honest means but keep Waheguru in mind all the time). The eternal Lord alone is the one they love. 2. The man does have his mind in the body, but has only the eternal Waheguru in his mind. The true devotee is the one who has overcome the attractions of Maya and who is fully absorbed in the eternal Waheguru. The devotees take Waheguru's shelter and connect with the Guru only through Waheguru's Will (remember, only the Guru can connect the devotees with Waheguru). 3. Waheguru knows the feelings of everybody (who really loves, and who just pretends to love Him). He Himself shows the path to connect His devotee with the Guru. He cannot be pleased by one's simple persistence of mind (if he has no real love for Him), nor does Waheguru get pleased with different religious garbs and symbols. Every human being is created by Waheguru, but the individual, in whose heart He puts in Amrit (instills love for Him), worships Him with deep love, because of which Waheguru gets pleased with him. 4.

---------- Purr(i), purr(i), bhooleh(i) choataan khaayay. Buhout siyaanup, aaveh(i), jaah(i). Naam(u) jupaiy, bhuou bhojun(u) khaah(i). Gurmukh(i) sayvuk ruhhay smaayay. 5. Jiyoun bhaavaiy, tiyoun raakh(u) rujaayay. Nanak sehj(i) bhaayay goon gaayay. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Choataan = beatings, punishments. Siyaanup(i) = cleverness; cunningness. 5. Silaa = idol. Bhermut = misled in misgivings. Doalut = weakening of the mind. Oodasa = renouncer. Soocha = clean; pure. Kiyoun = how? Put(i) = respect. 6. Aachaaraan = high morality. Aad(i) Joogaad(i) = the omnipresent Waheguru has been there ever since the creation of the universe. Dheer = patience. Pul Punkuj = in a short moment. Oodhaaray = salvages. 7. Jiyoun Bhaavaiy = as You please. Rujaayay = in Your will. Sehj(i) Bhaayay = with love for You. 8.

MEANING: The individual, who does read religious books, but still commits immoral activities, gets beatings (is punished) in Waheguru's Court. He thinks he is very wise, but continues to suffer rebirths because of his (misjudged) wisdom. But the Sikhs of the Guru recite Waheguru's Naam and live in His fear, which serves as their spiritual food. Such devotees stay absorbed in Waheguru's love. 5. Those who worship idols, undertake pilgrimage, or live in forests, may think that they are detached from Maya, but they are actually misled in their misgivings, and their minds keep wandering all the time. How can they be pure when they have filth in their minds? Only those who get connected with Waheguru get respect. 6. Kindly connect me with the Guru who emancipates countless people in a moment, oh Waheguru. With the Naam of the eternal Waheguru in mind, the devotee acquires the high spiritual state and patience of mind, and he always has high moral thoughts in his body (mind). 7. Who should I sing Your praise before, because I do not recognize anyone other than You, oh Waheguru? Please keep me in Your Huqam in whatever way You please. I, Nanak, simply wish to sing Your praise with deep love. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Jo, Jo = whosoever. Tih = that. Oorjhaayo = got engrossed in. Sunjoag(i) = prearranged connection; with good fortune. Taaki Haiy = sought; wished for. Oat = shelter. Sadh = Guru. Hur(i) Raaya = the royal Waheguru. 1. Anik = countless. Bherm(i) = going through. Thit(i) = stability; peace. Laagoun Churn = drop on feet; surrender my wisdom. Maarug(u) = path. Pause. Oopaav = measures. Buchit(i) = firmly in mind. Vihaavaiy = is spent. Laahaiy = remove. Chint = worries. Rung(u) = affection; love. 2. Bayd = the Vedas. Chookaiy = is removed. Bhayd = doubts Khin = moment. Dheereh(i) = find patience; rest. Puncha = the five demons. Reht(u) = detached. Sincha = irrigate; implant. 3. Ahunboodh(i) = the wisdom (thoughts) of conceit. Tthaakur(u) = lord; mind. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed; minuscule. Kud(i) = when. Aanund = blissfulness. Unjun = kohl (a medication for the eyes); to enlighten. Ishnaanaiy = take bath. 4.

MEANING: It is with predetermined great fortune that one gets the human form. But whosoever has been born in this world, regardless of the life form it has taken, gets engrossed in its environment (in Maya). (Now that I have been born as a human being), I have taken shelter of the Guru, and pray to Him that He connects me with God. 1.

I have been through countless life forms, but have not found stability (have been unable to break my cycle of rebirths). Now, I have surrendered myself to the Guru, and wish to serve Him, and beg Him to show me the path of union with Waheguru. Pause.
I have firmly entrenched Maya in my heart and use countless means to accumulate it. The whole life is spent with the man claiming, "This is mine, that is mine." Now I wish I could connect with a holy saint who would remove all my worries and instill love for Waheguru in my mind. 2. I have read all the Vedas, but my doubts (about Maya and Waheguru) remain, and the five demons in my mind do not rest for even a moment. I am looking for a devotee of Waheguru who is fully detached from Maya, and who can irrigate my barren heart with Waheguru's Naam Amrit. 3. The more the dips a man takes in different holy places, the more the filth of conceit he gathers, and his mind does not listen to him even to a small extent. When will I get to join the company of the Guru so as to get the medication of Divine Knowledge for my mind to get all the filth of my mind washed away, and for me to enjoy blissfulness? 4.

Suful, suful, bhuyyee suful jaatra. Aavun, jaan ruhhay milay Sadha. 1. Ruhaou Dooja. 1.3.
Word Meaning: Aashrum = the different positions used by the yogis for meditation. Puteenay = is convinced. Bibayk-heen = lacking Knowledge; ignorant. Dayhi = body. Purakh Bidhaata = (manifestation) of Waheguru, which is the carver of our fates; having godly qualities. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in (His) love. Doormut(i) = immoral thinking. 5. Kerm Dherm = (the believed) religious deeds; rituals. Joogta = connected with; attached to; have full faith. Hayt(u) = love (for Waheguru). Gerb(i) = conceit. Na Laykhaiy = of no credit. Suful = fully capable. Mooru(i) = manifestation of Waheguru; the Guru. Nayturhoun = with the eyes. Paykhaiy = sees. 6. Mun Hutth(i) = with the persistence of mind (without true love). Bug Jiyoun = like a heron (which looks innocent while focusing its sight to catch fish). Maya Dhaari = lover of wealth. Sookhehdaayee = source of comforts. Gut = high spiritual state. 7. Supersunn = overly generous. Aanund = blissfulness. Nirbhaiy = fearless. Laadhay = found; acquired. Churn Praata = Took shelter; surrendered to. 8. Suful = successful. Jaatra = journey of life. Second Pause.

MEANING: The yogis use many different positions to meditate, and countless ignorant people wash their bodies (take dips at holy places) to cleanse their minds, but the mind is not convinced (it stays impure). I wish I could connect with a holy saint who has godly qualities, is fully detached from Maya, is imbued with Waheguru's love, and can remove the filth of my ignoble thinking. 5. Countless people have full faith in the prevalent religious rituals (that they will be connected to Waheguru), but do not have even a small amount of love for Him, and yet they are highly conceited about their approach. They get absolutely no credit for such efforts. But, if some rare devotee gets connected with the Perfect Guru who is fully capable of connecting him with Waheguru, and sings God's praise in the Guru's shelter all the time, he can "see" Waheguru with his own eyes by the grace of the Guru. 6.

An individual (who has no real love for Waheguru), but tries to acquire Him only with the persistence of his mind, is actually a worshipper of wealth, and is a hypocrite like a heron, which looks perfectly innocent (harmless) when it focuses its sight on the fish to catch them. Such an individual gets no credit for his efforts. I am looking for a holy saint who describes Waheguru's virtues (sing His praise) to the devotees, and is a source of all comforts (bliss). I can attain a high spiritual state in His shelter. 7. When the Royal Waheguru becomes overly generous to someone, He severs all his bonds with Maya. With the kindness of Waheguru, my mind has been imbued with Guru's Shabad, and I have been connected with the fearless Waheguru, because of which I am enjoying an eternal bliss. I acquired all comforts ever since I surrendered to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.
When a devotee comes to the Guru's shelter, the journey of his life becomes successful, and the cycle of his rebirths comes to an end. Second Pause. 1.3.

Sach(u) Naam(u) paaya, Gur(i) dikhaaya, maiyl(u) naahi Sach munay. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Teeruth = holy place; pilgrimage. Saacha Thaan = eternal holy place. Dus Poorub = the ten holy days of the Hindus (new moon, full moon, two days – one each following the new and the full moon, two days – one each before the new and the full moon, full moon on a Sunday, the solar and the lunar eclipses, and the first day of the month). Dusaahra = the destroyer of ten sins; also, the birthday of the River Ganga, which is a very joyous occasion for the Hindus. Jaachoun = beg (long) for. Dhernidhuraa = supporter of the earth (God). Roagi= sick. Daaroo = medication. Vaak = Words. Chaanun = enlightening. Mujnaa = bathing. 1.

Saach(i) = with Waheguru's Naam in mind. Gooneh(i) = of noble qualities. Haar(u) = necklace. Puroyay = to string. Kis Kuou Royiyaiy = what to cry for? No need to complain. Maaraiy = kill (desires). Oolt(i) = again. Joan(i) = in a new life form; take rebirth. Paarus = the elixir stone. Perm Dhiyaani = the supreme meditator. Saach(u) = truthfulness; high moral living; spirituality. Herkh = joyfulness. Kilvikh = sins. Purhuray = are destroyed. 2.

MEANING: (Countless people go to holy places to take dips with the belief that such dips wash away their sins, and cleanse their mind), I also take holy dips, but the holy place for me is Waheguru's Naam, contemplating on Guru's Shabad, and acquiring Divine Knowledge in mind. The real holy place is the Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) imparted by the Guru, which is the source of all joys, and is like the ten holy (auspicious) days for the Hindus. I always beg for Waheguru's Naam, and pray to the supporter of the earth, Waheguru, to kindly implant the Naam in my mind. The world is sick (suffering from the fire of its desires), whereas Waheguru's Naam is the medication for it. The human mind becomes dirty without Waheguru's Naam. Guru's Shabad is the purifier for the mind as it enlightens the latter (mind), and is an eternal holy place for the mind to take dips in. 1.
The mind of the man, which has Waheguru's Naam in it, never becomes filthy, so, what filth is left to wash away (there is no need to take dips in holy places). When one strings the necklace of virtues (acquires virtues), he no longer cries (wishes for) worldly attractions. He kills all his desires by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, as a result of which he gets salvation, not just for himself, but also for his associates too; and he never takes births again. With his deep meditation on Guru's Shabad, he becomes like an elixir stone that converts Maya lovers into Sikhs of Guru, and with Waheguru's Naam at heart, he is loved by Him. All his sins and his irritants are eradicated, and he enjoys true happiness and blissfulness day and night. Under the guidance of the Guru, one acquires Waheguru's eternal Naam, and one's mind never gets filthy again. 2.

Word Meaning: Poora Naavno = perfect bath. Gaavunhaar(u) = worthy of praise (God). Soohaavno = which adorns. Salaah(i) = sing praise. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Daan = donations. Duyya Mutay = wisdom with compassion. Pir = dear; husband (God). Bhaavaiy = is liked. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Bayni Ta Sungum = the confluence of three rivers – Gunga, Yamuna, and Sersvati (which is hidden); a very holy place for the Hindus in Allahabad. Sat Satay = most purifying. Aaraadh(i) = worship. Ekunkaar = only one God. Suvaaya = increases in multiples. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Meeta = friend (Guru). Nudr(i) = kind sight. 3. Kehn(u) = to say. Kayvud = how large? Neech(u) = ignoble. Ajaan(u) = ignorant. Saakhiyaiy = with Your Teachings. Amrit = life-sustaining. Bhaakhi = uttered; orated. Maaniya = convinced. Kooch Kuray = leave. Bikh(u) Laaday = loaded with immorality. Aakhun(i) = simply by reciting. Toat(i) = shortage. Bhugut(i) Bhundaareen = treasures of worship. Bhurpoor(i) Ruhhiya = is omnipresent. Maanjaiy = cleanses well. Sach(u) = truthful. 4.

MEANING: The gathering of holy saints where Waheguru's praise is sung with Guru's life-adorning Shabad is the perfect holy place where one gets connected with the Waheguru-friend. One gets full credit for all noble deeds and all donations, and also becomes compassionate when using Satguru's Shabad; he sings Waheguru's praise with a clean (pure mind). He attains the high spiritual state, is loved by Waheguru, and wins His company (gets connected with Him). This is the most purifying holy place, even though Hindus believe the confluence of the three rivers at Allahabad is the most holy. Worship the eternal and the only Waheguru, who gives you all the gifts to fulfill your daily needs, which keep growing. One attains the high spiritual state, and union with Waheguru in the company of the Guru with whom He connects him (the devotee) with His kind sight. The Guru then connects the devotee with Waheguru. 3.

Everybody says that Waheguru is enormous, but what can we say about His expanse? I am foolish, ignoble, and ignorant (to say anything about Waheguru); kindly give me the wisdom (to sing His praise), oh my Satguru. Guru's Advice is eternal, like Amrit, giving us new spiritual life. My mind has been convinced and fully absorbed in His Shabad. The man comes to this world and leaves it with a heavy load of immoral activities. My Guru's Shabad is everlasting, and the only real thing to take with when one leaves this world. Waheguru has countless virtues; no matter how many virtues one sings, there is never a shortage of them, and the treasures of Waheguru's worship (His Naam) stay full and are present everywhere. I have this truth to share that the filth of one's mind can be washed away only with Waheguru's Naam (and not by taking any dips at the holy places), oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Naayay = Naam(u). Saacho = of the eternal (God). Govind(u) = a name for God. Apaara = limitless. Sirjunhaara = the Creator. Goyee = destroyed. Pervaana = letter. Putthaaya = sent. Phayr(i) = return; change. Sir(i) Laykhaiy = prewritten for everybody. Soort(i) = consciousness. Boojhaayee = gives the understanding. Agumm = beyond reach. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. 1. Bikh(u) = poison of immoralities. Laadi = loaded self. Suvaarunhaara = adorns; making successful. Sinyaapaiy = recognized; make connection with. 3.

MEANING: I survive spiritually with Your Naam, and feel highly blissful, oh Waheguru. Waheguru, and His Naam are eternal, and singing His virtues immortalize one. The Guru delivers us the Divine Knowledge about the limitless and the creator, Waheguru: that He is both the creator and the destroyer, and that when a letter (an order) comes from Him calling someone back, nobody can change or refuse it. He follows His own written accounts of everybody and gives understanding of them (reveals through the Guru). The Lord is inaccessible and incomprehensible; I survive by His Naam only, oh Nanak. 1.

There has been none like You in the past, and no one will ever be, oh Waheguru. (The people are caught in many misbeliefs) With Your Will, the Guru dispels people's misbeliefs and makes them sing Your praise; You are otherwise indescribable, oh Waheguru. The Guru also delivers Your final decision that only the truthful (who have purified their minds with Your Naam), will merge with You, oh Waheguru. Waheguru creates the world and destroys it on His own; one recognizes His Huqam (in the shelter of the Guru). The Guru reveals Your everlasting magnanimity that it is You who is one's true friend at the end. There is no other Lord than You, and one earns respect only by reciting Your Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

You are the invisible, eternal creator, oh Waheguru. You are the only Lord of the world, but you have put people on two paths – one of righteousness, which connects people with You, and the other of captivating Maya, which takes people away from You – oh Waheguru. People follow one path or the other as per Your Huqam, and those who follow the second path (of Maya) keep taking births and dying. Such people carry a heavy load of sins and immoralities, and have no friend other than Waheguru (whom they forget) at the end. The man comes into this world with Waheguru's Huqam, but does not recognize it; however, one also adorns his soul with His Huqam. The True Lord and the Creator can be realized with the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 3.

Vikaanay = sold (willing to pay any price). Paarus = elixir stone (Guru). Pursiyaan = by touching (taking shelter). Bhaanay = liked. Amrapud = the state of immortality (of high spirituality). MEANING: Adorned (purified) with Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's devotees look majestic (are honoured) in Waheguru's Court. Fully enjoying their sweetness, they sing Satguru's Amrit-like Shabads with their tongue. Thirsty for Waheguru's Naam, they enjoy the sweetness of Guru's Shabads for which they are willing to sacrifice their life. When you like a devotee, You connect him with the elixir stone-like Guru, who transforms him to become another elixir stone like Him, oh Waheguru. But some rare devotees ponder the Divine Knowledge imparted by the Guru and rid themselves of selfishness and ego to achieve a high spiritual state. Such devotees, who deal in Waheguru's Naam to become like Him, are honoured in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.

How can a man, who is hungry and thirsty of wealth, reach Waheguru's Door? I will seek Satguru's advice on this subject, and recite Waheguru's Naam in His shelter (which satisfies one's thirst for Maya). I will recite Waheguru's Naam, sing His praise, and will make connection with Him in the shelter of the Guru. Day and night, I will recite the Naam of Waheguru who is the Lord of the helpless, kind, and is above the effects of Maya. (As advised by the Guru), I will perform noble deeds which Waheguru wishes us to do (to merge into Him), and which will kill my selfishness, ego, and desires of my mind. Waheguru's Naam is extremely sweet and eradicates all your thirst for worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Pir(u) = Husband; Waheguru. Sung(i) = with. Mootthrreeyay = oh, cheated soul. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Laykh(u) = written fate. Poorb(i) Kmaayay = the deeds done in previous lives. Na Mityee = cannot be erased. Goonee Aachaar(i) = high character with noble virtues. Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Beh(i), Beh(i) Rosi = cry again, and again in repentance. Aak Kee Chhaaya = a short plant with scanty leaves, with almost no shade. Birdh(i) = old age. Din Poonniya = days of life drawing to an end. Dohaagun(i) = a wife rejected by her husband; an unfortunate. Jhootth(i) = in falsehood. Vichhoonniya = separated. 1. Boodi = drowned; failed. Ghaaliyo = ruined. Bhaayay = in love; as per the Will. Sookh(i) = in comfort; with a blissful mind. Mehlo = Waheguru's residence. Payeeurraiy = parents' home = this world. Din Chaaray = limited life. Nij = own; personal. Sach(u) = the eternal (Waheguru). Vaas(u) = dwelling. Sursi = blooming of heart (with Waheguru's Naam in it). Raati = imbued. Naayay = Naam. 2.
Dhun = woman; soul. = Naari. Veechaari = thoughtful. Nah = Master; Lord. Niv(i) Niv(i) = by bowing down; with deep love and reverence. Rus Meh(i) = with full enjoyment. Rung = affection. Saytee = with. Laal = pure like ruby. Maari = by killing. 3.

MEANING: Robbed by the captivating Maya, you do not realize that the Dear (Waheguru) is always with you, oh foolish young bride (human soul). But you cannot be fully blamed because you are doing just that which your prewritten fortune, based on the deeds committed by you in your previous lives, and written on your forehead, guides you to do. The prewritten fortune cannot be erased, and I do not know what will happen to me in the future. I have no virtue and no high moral character; nor am I imbued with Waheguru's love. Because of my ignoble qualities, I will have to cry very frequently in repentance. One's wealth and youth are like the undependable shade of a small plant which has very few leaves, particularly when one gets old and the days of his life are nearing their end. Without Waheguru's Naam, a man deals in falsehood (the short-lived comforts of Maya) and is ignored by Waheguru like a wife who is ditched by her husband for her bad behaviour, oh Nanak. 1.

You have ruined your life in deeds of falsehood, and are drowning in the world-sea; it is the time for you to follow the Guru's Will (Advice), oh man. Recite Waheguru Naam, and get connected with Waheguru in the blissful state. Life in this world is very short; you will have the real (everlasting) comfort only if you recite Waheguru's Naam (entrench it in your heart), whereby you will realize Him, and reach your real home (achieve union with Waheguru), and be with Him day and night. I want everyone to listen carefully that you cannot have union with Waheguru without worshipping Him. Only that human bride can connect with God who is imbued in Waheguru's Naam with her heart blooming blissfully, oh Nanak. 2.
If a human bride loves God, then God loves her, and by pondering on Guru's Shabad, she gets imbued in her Dear's (Waheguru's) love. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, she worships God with deep love and reverence, and wins Waheguru's love. Dear Waheguru burns (eradicates) her attachment with Maya, and the devotee enjoys the sweetness of union with Him. Imbued in the love of Waheguru, the devotee kills his worldly desires and becomes pure at heart like a ruby. With love for Waheguru, the devotee merges into Him, and is loved by Him like a good wife is loved by her husband, oh Nanak. 3.

Vidhun = like a widow. Raiynee = night of life. Maanaiy = obeys. Phaahi Phaathi = trapped in (Maya). Sa Dhun = that woman (soul). Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = analyzes self. Sehj(i) = blissful state. 4.
Dhunn = worthy of respect; fortunate. Sohaagun(i) = loved by husband. Koorriyaar(i) = maya-engrossed. Sohaavi = attractive. Bhaayay = with love. Ruliyaala = source of bliss. Jobun(i) Baala = always young; fresh. Raavay = enjoys. Vigaasi = with blooming heart. Shuhou = husband. Goonkaari = source of virtues. 5.
MEANING: A wife (devotee) earns respect at her in-laws' house (Waheguru's Residence) if she is liked by her husband (Waheguru). Words of praise without love for Waheguru are fake (not honest) and of no use. The fake words (of praise) do not work, and the Husband (Waheguru) does not even cast a simple sight on the fake devotee. Because of her ignoble qualities, the Waheguru-husband ignores such a hypocritical devotee, and the night of life of such an individual is spent in discomfort like that of a widow. Trapped in the strong bonds of Maya, such an individual does not recognize Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, he cannot have access to Waheguru's Residence (cannot connect with Him). However, if he analyzes himself in the shelter of the Guru (surrenders to Him), he can attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4. The devotee, who makes a connection with Waheguru, is fortunate and worthy of praise. Without Waheguru's Naam, one loves falsehood (the short-lived worldly attractions), and continues to deal in them. Through the worship of Waheguru with love and reverence, a devotee becomes imbued with His love, becomes attractive, and is loved by Him. Waheguru-Husband is the source of bliss, and always young; imbued in His love, the human bride enjoys union with Him. With her heart blooming with Guru's Shabad, she realizes Waheguru, which is the source of virtues, and enjoys union with Him. Such a human bride looks attractive at the house of her Husband (Waheguru), and earns respect everywhere, oh Nanak. 5.3.

Word Meaning: Soobhaayay = with love for Him. Sehj(i) = with a peaceful mind. Vigsay = blooming of heart. Bhaavay = likes. Tujaiy = abandons; gets rid of. 1.

Saacha Nah(u) = pure (selfless) love. Veesraiy = forgotten. Smaareen = I remember. Servnee = with ears. Triptaiy = is contented. Bibayk Boodh(i) = wisdom to tell the good from the bad. Bichraiy = operates; comes into play. 2.

MEANING: One recites Waheguru's Naam with His benevolence only. One connects with Satguru through one's love and reverence for Him when he sings Waheguru's praise in a peaceful state of mind (without any thought of Maya). One sings Waheguru's praise only when Waheguru likes, whereby his heart begins to bloom day and night. (By singing Waheguru's praise), One is able to get rid of his conceit, his selfishness, his ego, and his love for Maya, and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam with a peaceful mind. The Creator, Waheguru, creates all such favourable conditions for His devotees, and they get to recite His Naam only when He prompts them. We recite His Naam only when Waheguru is kind to us.
1. I wish to have true love in my heart for the Perfect Satguru (Waheguru) and wish to serve Him day and night, and never to forget Him. I survive only by reciting His Naam; so, I do not wish to ever forget Him, and wish to remember Him day and night. I wish to listen to His praise in the shelter of the Guru, and drink His Naam-Amrit (recite His Naam with my tongue), whereby my mind gets fully contented. Waheguru connects His devotees with Satguru when He casts His kind sight on them, as a result of which, they acquire the wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad, and have true love for Satguru day and night.
2. One gets the company of the holy saints only with great fortune, where he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. He attains the high spiritual state of blissfulness whereby his mind stays focused on the Naam day and night. One becomes absorbed in a blissful state of mind when he likes (loves) Waheguru; he then remains fully detached from worldly attractions. When one's mind stays focused on Waheguru, he earns respect in this world, as well as in the next. He remains unaffected by happy or sad occasions, and likes whatever Waheguru does. One enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam when he gets connected with the company of the holy saints. 3.

Word Meaning: Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Munmukh = follower of his mind; Maya-engrossed. Johiya = watched closely. Mohiya = captivated; trapped in. Rohiya = fuming. Vihaayay = spends life. Chaytaiy = remembers. Puchhutaayay = repenting. Saath(i) Na Chaalaiy = does not accompany. Kluttar = wife. Dhohiya = earned by deceit. 4. Ker Joarr(i) = fold hands; ready to obey. Bhaaya = liked by. Juput Ruhaiy = keep reciting. Naamo, Naam(u) = only with Naam(u). 5.
MEANING: The Maya-engrossed man suffers due to his love for Maya (because of his unfulfilled desires, and for losses of various kinds), and the Angel of (spiritual) death keeps a close eye on him. Trapped in the problems of Maya, the suffering man cries and sighs day and night; he also fumes over everything because of his hurt ego, and spends his life laying claim on everything. He does not remember Waheguru, who gives him everything, and leaves this world in repentance. Other than Waheguru's Naam, nobody or nothing, including his sons, wife, wealth, or the money earned by deceitful means, accompanies him at the time of his death. The follower of his mind suffers due to his love for Maya, and the Angel of death keeps a close eye on his deeds. 4.

Binvunt(i) Nanak, suda simreen, serb dookh bhaiy bhunjuno. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Deen = poor; helpless. Sung(i) = in the company of. Bhuj(u) = Araadhoo = recite (Naam). Dhoor(i) = right from the source. Kerm(u) = fortune. Phaasay = noose. Bhaiy = fears. Bherm = misgivings. Gaantthay = knot; bond. Punth(i) = path. Mool(i) Na = not at all. Dhaar(i) = adopt. 1. Nidhuriyaan = support less. Dhur = support. Dataar(u) = provider. Bhunjuno = destroyer. Hert = remover. Sookheh = source of comforts.

Bikhrra = difficult. Pul = a moment. Turaaya = salvaged. Naytreen = in the eyes. Unjuno = kohl. 2.

MEANING: Satguru, in whose company we sing Waheguru's praise, is kind to the helpless (humble). Waheguru's Naam is Amrit (immortalizing), and should be recited in the shelter of the Guru. When one recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, his suffering of rebirths is eradicated. As per his prewritten fortune, a devotee listens to the eternal Teachings of the Guru, as a result of which, the noose of the Angel of death is severed for him. With recitation of Waheguru's Naam, our strong bond with Maya is broken, and all our fears and misgivings disappear, and we certainly do not follow the path of life which leads to the Angel of (spiritual) death. I make a humble request to Waheguru that He be kind to us so that we may sing His praise at all times, oh Nanak. 1.

The Naam of the "only" Waheguru is the support for those who have no support at all. Waheguru is the provider of all the necessities of life and the destroyer of all suffering. I have come to the shelter of the Guru who will connect me with Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all our problems, and is the source of all comforts. The world sea is extremely difficult to swim across, but Waheguru can ferry us across it in a short moment. Guru's Divine Knowledge acts as kohl (medicine) for our (mental) eyes with which we see Waheguru to be present everywhere. I make a humble request that I always remember Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all suffering, oh Nanak. 2.

---------- Aap(i) Leeyay lurr(i) laayay kirpa dhaariya jeeo. Moh(i) nirgoon, neech(u) anaath(u), Prubh agumm, apaariya jeeo. Duyyaal, sudaa kirpaal Soami, neech thaapunhaariya. Word Meaning: Lurr(i) Laayay = Providing shelter. Nirgoon = having no virtue. Neech(u) = low caste; ignoble. Anaath = (spiritually) orphan. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaariya = limitless. Thaapunhaariya = raising status. Vuss(i) = in control. Saariya = under care. Bhoogta = the one who gets to enjoy luxuries. Beechaariya = to think of; to look after. Binvunt(i) = requests humbly. Bunvaariya = a name of Waheguru. 3.

Ders(u) = sight. Apaar = beyond limits. Amoalyee = priceless. Purakh = Waehguru. Utoalyee = immeasurable. Voottha = present. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Ruseh(i) = with the sweetness. Maatiya = intoxicated. Churn Laagay = drop on feet; surrender. Muhaa Bhaagay = with great fortune. Jaagiya = stayed alert. Simertubeh = worthy of worship. Dhoor(i) Sadhu = dust of Guru's feet; His Words. 4.

MEANING: With his benevolence, the inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru provides His shelter to this virtue less and ignoble slave (His devotee) who has no spiritual guide. The kind Lord is always compassionate and raises the (spiritual) status of the low-caste (ignoble). All the living beings are under Your control, and You look after all of them, oh Waheguru. Waheguru is the creator (and being present in everybody), is also the one who enjoys all the luxuries; He also thinks of (looks after) His creation. I make a humble request that Waheguru give me the gift of His Naam so that I may always recite it and sing His praise for my spiritual survival. 3.

Your holy sight is beyond our reach (You are invisible and cannot be seen with the eyes), and Your Naam is priceless (cannot be bought by any amount of wealth); the only thing Your devotees can do is to sing Your praise, oh the immeasurable Waheguru. When You are pleased to be kind, You give Your Naam to your holy devotees who recite it with their tongue and stay intoxicated with its sweetness. The highly fortunate devotees drop at the feet of the Guru (surrender to Him) and stay alert (against the attacks of Maya) all the time. They remember Waheguru, which is worthy of being remembered, and sing His praise with every breath. I beg for the dust of the Feet of the Guru (His Words) and for the Naam of the immeasurable Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sunuk, Sunund = sons of Brahma. Mahesh = Shiva. Smaana = the like. Shesh Naag(i) = a mythical snake with thousands of heads, and which serves as bed for Vishnu. Merm(u) = secret. 1. Hunuman = a monkey warrior and devotee of Rama Ji. Sur(i) = like. Guroorr = a mythical bird used by Vishnu to ride on. Soorput(i) = the king of gods – Indra. Nurput(i) = rajahs. 2. Kumlaput(i) = husband of Maya (Laxmi) – Vishnu. Kuvlaa = Laxmi. 3. Pug = feet. Pug Lug = in the shelter = Shernaahi. 4.

MEANING: Even the well-known sages and gods like Sunuk, Snund, Shiva and Shesh Naag, do not know Your secrets (the way You govern the universe), oh God. 1.

(The best thing for the man to do) is to embed God's Naam in his heart in the company of the holy saints. Pause. Not even Hanuman, Guroorr, god Indra, or the worldly rajahs know Your great virtues. 2. (You are so unfathomable) that not even the four Vedas, the Simritis, the Puranas, Vishnu, or Laxmi know any of Your secrets. 3.

Kabir submits humbly that the devotee, who surrenders himself to God, and serves Him (sings His praise and obeys His Will), is never misled in misgivings. 4.1.

soojhaiy. 2. Keht Kabir, soonhou ray praani, chhoad-hou mun kay bherma. Kayvul Naam(u) jup-hou ray praani, purhou Aik kee sherna. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Pehr = three hours. Ghuree = 24 minutes. Aav = life span. Tun(u) = body. Chheejaiy = weakens. Kaal(u) = death. Ahayri = Budhik = hunter. Kuvun = what; which. Bidh(i) = means; measures. 1. So Din = death day. Pause.
Jot(i) = God's Light. Bertaiy = operates. Aapa = self. Pusoo = animal; foolish. Jeevun Pud Kaarun = for a longer life. Loachun = eyes; wisdom. 2.
Praani = oh, man. Bherma = doubts; misgivings. Aik = the one and only (God). 3.

MEANING: That day (of man's death) approaches near, but no one, including his mother, father, brothers, sons, or his wife, can be any help to him (cannot save him, or take responsibility for his sins). Pause. Man's life decreases by the hours and the minutes, and his body weakens. Death follows him like a hunter, so what means can a man use (to avoid death and the consequences of deeds done by him)? 1.
As long as God's Light (Soul) operates in him, the animal-like foolish man does not recognize himself (in terms of what the objective of life is, and what kind of deeds he is performing). He becomes greedy (wishful) to enhance his life span, and cannot see any farther (in terms of spirituality) with his eyes. 2. Kabir has only one suggestion to make to the man, that he should quit (get rid of) all his misgivings, take the shelter of God only, and recite His Naam. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Bhaaou Bhugut(i) = worship with love and devotion. Achurj = amazement. Dhoor(i) = with a melted (soft) heart. Julaaho = weaver (Kabir Sahib). 1.
Bhora = very low. Kashi = Banaras (Varanasi) – the city of Shiva (It is believed that whosoever dies in Kashi goes to paradise after death). Nihora = favour. Pause.
Ookhur = barren land covered with saltpetre (potassium nitrate). Mug-hur(u) = a town of Ganesh. It is believed that whoever dies in Mughur is reincarnated as a donkey. 2.

MEANING: Nothing comes as a surprise (amazement) in life to the man who knows (practises) worship of God with love and devotion. I am a low-caste weaver (who enjoys no respect in society), yet God has been kind to me in such a way that my mind became so soft to merge into Him, to become "one" with Him, just like water - when two different bodies of water mix with each other, they become inseparable. 1. (According to the world), I have very low wisdom (to leave Banaras and to settle in Mug-hur to take the risk of being reborn as a donkey); but if one goes to paradise simply because he dies in Banaras, then what is the favour of God in that? Pause. I want to make one thing very clear to the people, that they should not be misled by any misgiving; if one has God enshrined in his heart, then it makes no difference whether one dies in Banaras, or in the barren Mug-hur (he will merge into God in either case), oh Kabir. 2.3.

Indar loak, Shiv lokeh(i) jaibo. Oachhaiy tup kur(i) baahur(i) aiybo. 1. Kiya maangoun, kichh(u) thir naahi. Ram Naam rukh(u) mun maahi. 1. Ruhaou. Sobha, raj, bibhaiy, vudiyaayee. Unt(i) na kaahoo sung suhaayee. 2. Poottar, kluttar, Lachhmi, Maya. Inn tay kuhou, kuvnaiy sookh(u) paaya. 3. Keht Kabir, uver nuhee kaama. Humray mun, dhun Ram ko Naama. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Loak = world; kingdom. Jaiybo = goes. Oachhay = of low level. 1. Sobha = fame; praise. Bibhaiy = wealth; luxuries. Vudiyaayee = respect. 2. Kluttar = wife. Luchhmi (Luxmi) = Maya = wealth. Kuvnaiy = who. Uver = other. 3 & 4.

MEANING: (As per the common belief) if, after death, one goes to the kingdom of Indra (because he worshipped him) or to Shiva's kingdom, he will come out of those kingdoms quickly because such worship is of a very low level. 1. So, what should I wish for, because everything (including the kingdoms of various gods) is short-lived? The only thing which is permanent is the Naam of God, so keep that in mind all the time, oh Kabir. Pause. Be it one's praise among the people, kingship, wealth, or other luxuries of life, none of them accompanies him at the time of death. 2. Tell me, who has ever enjoyed permanent comfort (or happiness) from his sons, wife, wealth, or other luxuries? 3. I have the wealth of God's Naam in my mind, and nothing else is of any use to me, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Innh maiyn kuchh(u) naahi tayro, kaal uvudh aayee. 1. Ajamull, guj, Gunika, putit kerm keenay. Tayoo oottar paar(i) puray, Ram Naam leenay. 2. Sookur, kookur, joan(i) bhermay, tuou laaj na aayee. Ram Naam chhaadi) Amrit, kaahay bikh(u) khaayee. 3. Tuj(i) bherm, kerm bidh(i) nikhaydh, Ram Naam(u) layhi. Gur persad(i) jun Kabir Ram(u) kur(i) sunayhi. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Boodtay = drown. Adhikaayee = many; countless. Pause. Bunita = wife. Grayh = household. Sumput(i) = wealth. Uvudh = fixed time. 1.

Ajamul = a Brahman of Kanauj who is considered to be a sinner because he married a prostitute. Guj = an elephant – a musician of the gods who was transformed into an elephant by the curse of a sage. He went to drink water in the pool of the god Varun, but was caught in the tentacles of an octopus, who began to pull him into deep water. When the elephant was about to drown, he took a lotus flower in his trunk and prayed to God for his release. His prayer was answered, and he was saved. Gunika = a prostitute who was given a parrot by a sage to be trained to say Ram (God). When Gunika was teaching the parrot to say God, she became a devotee herself. Putit Kerm = immoral deeds. Tayoo = those. Oottar Puraiy = salvaged. 2. Sookur = pig. Kookur = dog. Laaj = shame. Bikh(u) = poison of immoral deeds. 3. Tuj(i) = abandon. Bidh(i) = customs; rituals. Nikhaydh = unacceptable. Sunayhi = endear. 4.

MEANING: Recite God's Naam, oh my friends. Countless people drown in the world-sea (fail to connect with God and go through various life forms). Pause.
One may find his wife, sons, household facilities, and his wealth to be enjoyable to him bodily, but none of them is really his when he reaches the end of his life. 1.
Ajamul, the elephant, and Gunika are known to have done ignoble deeds, but even they were salvaged when they remembered God. 2. Didn't you feel ashamed when you went through the life forms of a pig, or a dog, etc.? So, ignoring the Amrit of the Naam of God, why are you still engrossed in the poisonous sensual pleasures? 3. Get rid of all your misbeliefs about the prevalent religious rituals, as well as the other non-permitted (unacceptable) sinful deeds, and recite God's Naam only. With Guru's grace, make God your dear friend, oh Kabir. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Gehri = deep. Neev = foundation. Khoodaayee = dug out. Mundup = decorations. Chhaayay = covered with. Markunday = a sage with a very long life, and who spent his whole life in a hut made of leaves and tree branches only. Ko = who? Adhikaayee = with longer life. Trin = leaves. Moond = head. Bulaayay = pass time. 1.
Kerta = creator. Sunayhi = dear. Gerb(u) = conceit. Binus Jaayay = will be destroyed. Jhootthee = false; short-lived. Dayhi = body. Pause. Kairou = Kaurvaas, the portrayed villains in the Mahabharat. Durjodhun = the eldest of the Kairou brothers. Say = like. Baareh Jojun = about 70 miles. Chuutur = canopies, spread of armies. Girjhun = vultures. 2.
Serb Soyin = all gold. Adhikaayee = very powerful. Kuhaa Bhuyyiou = what happened? So what? Khin = moment. Puraayee = blonged to others. 3.
Doobaasha = an ill-tempered sage. Tthugauri = a deceitful act (once a group of young men, led by Krishna, wanted to fool the sage). They dressed a young boy as a woman, adorned her to look pregnant, took her to the sage, and asked him to predict whether she would bear a boy or a girl. The sage saw through the trick and angrily cursed that she would bear a child (or something) who would destroy the whole Yadav clan, of which Krishna was a member. The group got very scared to hear that, and quickly searched for the stuff which they had used to make the boy look like a pregnant woman. They were stunned to find a large piece of iron there. Scared to death, the group decided to destroy the piece. They took that to the nearby Arabian Sea and tried to rub it away on a rock. The particles of iron fell into the sea, which were spread over a large area along the shore by the huge water waves. A small piece of that iron chunk fell into the sea and was swallowed by a fish. The fish was caught and by a fisherman who opened its stomach to clean the fish when he found that small piece. It is believed that a piece of iron that is found in a fish makes great arrows. The piece was bought by a hunter who had an arrow made from it.

After a few years, bamboo-like plants flourished along the seashore where the particles of the iron piece had deposited. The Yadavs held a fair where the youngsters drank so much alcohol that they fought among themselves and uprooted the bamboo-like plants to hit one another until all of them were killed. The prediction by Doorbaasha proved true.
Krishna became very sad and lay under a tree, in a pensive mood, on a starry night, with one leg resting on the other, which he had bent to raise the other so that the sole of his foot was vertical and clearly visible. The gods are believed to have a shiny spot on their soles, which could be mistaken for the eye of a deer. The hunter, who had that special arrow, happened to be somewhere near the tree where Krishna was lying. The hunter mistook the light in Krishan's sole for an eye of some deer and shot an arrow, aiming at it. The arrow pierced the foot of Krishna, who died right there. Thus, even the last member of the Yadav clan was finished. Ful = reward. 4.
MEANING: The man lays down deep foundations, and constructs highly decorated buildings on them; but he does not realize that nobody has out-lived the sage Markanday, who lived a very long life, which he all spent in a hut of leaves and tree branches over his head (everybody has to die so why build such big mansions). 1. Our creator is the dear God (so, remember Him). What are you conceited about, oh man? Your body is short-lived and will eventually be destroyed. Pause. The Kauravas were highly conceited about their vast kingdom, had a brave brother like Duryodhana, and claimed everything as theirs. When they fought against the Pandavas, their armies were spread over about 70 miles in the battlefield. (But, look, what happened to them). Their dead bodies suffered such disgrace that they were eaten by vultures. 2. Similarly, the villain in the epic of Ramayana, Ravana, was a powerful and rich ruler, and it is believed that his Lanka was all built of gold. His wealth and the elephants tied at his door could not save him, and they became the belongings of others in a moment. 3. The Yadavas reaped the (painful) reward when they played a cheap trick on the ill-tempered sage, Doorbaasha. (So, one should not commit any ignoble deed and should not be conceited). God is very kind to His devotee, Nam Dev, that is why I sing His praise. 4.1.

Eh sunsaar tay tub hee chhootoun, juou Maya neh luptaavoun. Maya naam(u) gerbh joan(i) ka, tih tuj(i) dershun(u) paavoun. 3. Itt(u) kur(i) bhugut kureh(i) jo jun, tin bhuou sugul chookaayiyaiy. Keht Nam Dayo, baahur(i) kiya bhermou, eh sunjum Hur(i) paayiyaiy. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Baiyraagun(i) = pacified human senses (which lead to detachment from the world). Punchoun = of the five demons. Suttar(i) Doyay = 72 (the big veins in the body). Amrit Sur(i) = pool of virtues. Bikh(u) = poisonous desires. 1.
Paachhaiy = after that. Bani = words in praise of God. Ghut =heart. Pause.
Bujjur Kootthar = ax of stone (sharp and strong); rage. Chheena = snatched. There is a story in the Ramayana that when Rama broke the bow belonging to Shiva, god Paras Ram, a devotee of Shiva, became enraged and wanted to kill Rama with his signature axe. But Rama dropped on his feet and pulled out his rage. Minnut(i) Lug Paaoun = with all humbleness. Ooltay = contrary to (normal practice). 2.
Luptaavoun = cling to; too much love. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Dershun = sight. 3.
Itt(u) Kur(i) = like this. Chookaayiyaiy = removed. Bhermou = wander around. Sunjum = means. 4.2.

MEANING: I enlightened my soul with the holy Bani in praise of God, which immortalizes you (connects you with Him), and which I recite with my tongue from the core of my heart, as a result of which, I will never take rebirths. Pause. (With the holy Bani in my mind), I have been able to control all my ten senses, and the five demons have been completely annihilated. All the 72 big veins in my body are full of Amrit (God's Naam), whereby all my poisonous vices (sensual pleasures) have been killed, and have disappeared from my thoughts. 1. (With God's Naam in my mind), I have acquired humility and humbleness, and my rage has been uprooted from within me like Rama pulled out the rage of Paras Ram, who was going to kill him with his strong and sharp ax, by his (Rama's) humility when he touched Paras Ram's feet. Contrary to my treatment of my vices (which I have destroyed), I am a servant of the holy saints and have respectful fear for the devotees of God. 2.
I will be free from the worldly bonds only when I do not cling to (do not show any attachment for) Maya, which is another name for rebirths (love for Maya keeps one in the birth-death cycle). I can have a holy sight of God only if I abandon my love for Maya. 3.
If someone worships God like this, all his worldly fears are eradicated, and he can realize God inside him. He does not need to search for Him outside, oh Naam Dev. 4.2.

Sugul bhuvun Tayro Naam(u) balha, tiyoun Naamay mun(i) Beetthula. 5.3.

Word Meaning: Maarvaarr(i) = a desert area in Rajasthan. Neer(u) = water. Balha = dear. Bayl(i) = vine. Kurhulaa = (a baby) camel. Koorunk = deer. Nis(i) = at night. Naad(u) = music. (Musk deer is known to love a particular music which leads him to his death by the hunters). Ramuyya = God. 1. Roorro = beautiful. Roop = physical features. Pause. Dherni = earth. Indra(u) = (god of) rain. Koosum Baas(u) = fragrance of flowers. Bhuvurla = bumble bee. Kokil = a migratory singing bird (like cuckoo). 2. Cuckvee = Greek partridge; a female bird which gets separated from her male companion at night and gets united with him at sunrise. So, she waits for and loves the sun. Soor(u) = sun. Mansurovar = a lake in the Indian high mountains, which is known for its swans. Tarunee = a young bride. Kunt(u) = husband. 3. Kheer = milk. Chaatrik = rainbird, a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Juldhura = clouds; rain. 4. Sadhik = those who purify their bodies with yogic exercises. Sugul = all. Moon(i) = a hermit. Birlay = rare. Deetthla = sees. Bhuvun = universe. Beetthla = God. 5.

MEANING: Just like water is very dear to (is badly needed by) the people in a desert, and a vine is dear to a camel; and just like special music is very dear (attractive) to a musk-deer at night, God is very dear to my mind. 1. Everything of Yours, including Your Naam, Your physical features, and Your colour, is very pretty (dear to me), oh my God. Pause. Just like the (dry) earth loves rain, and the bumblebees love the fragrance of flowers, and just like the cuckoo loves a mango tree, I love my God. 2. Just like a Greek partridge loves the sun, and the swans love Lake Mansarovar, and just like a new bride loves her husband, I love my God. 3. Just like a child loves milk, and the rainbird loves (the first drop of) rain; and just like the fish love water, I love my God. 4.
Even though all the Sadhiks, the accomplished Sidh yogis, and the hermits (sages) wish for God, some rare individual is able to see Him (connect with Him). Just like the whole world loves to acquire Your Naam, so does Nam Dev, oh God. 5.3.

Word Meaning: Pehl = at first; in the beginning. Pooriyay = the city (the world). Poondruk = lotus flowers. Vunaa = forest. Ta Chay = in that. Hunsa = swans (virtuous people). Krishna = Maya. Hur(i) Naachna = God's dancing creation. Naachuntee = is dancing (at the hands of Maya). 1. Purshabira = God appeared. Uthoan = after that. Purshaadmuraa = Pushaat Amra = Maya from God. Us ga = of this (God). Us = and. Oosga = of that (Maya). Baagra = lovely garden. Pindhi = the containers to carry water in a Persian Wheel. Saagra = sea water. Pause. Gopi Junna = women and men. Nuyya = the Lord. Baiyray = without. Kunna = none. Terk(u) Na Cha = do not question it. Bermiya Cha = remove your misgiving. Kashvaa = God's. Buchauni = words. Ayyiyay = women. Muyyiyay = men. Aik Ann = of the same kind. 2. Pindhi = the people. Oobhkulay = submerge in and out (trying to escape from drowning). Bherm(i), Bherm(i) = wander aimlessly. Koon = who. Aaala = worldly webs (affairs). Nivaarna = save; keep away. Jum Kaarna = the fear of death. 3.

MEANING: First of all, God created Himself, and then He created Maya. From the union of the two, the word came into being as a pretty garden of living beings. Pause.

At the beginning, when Maya had not yet influenced the living beings, the world was like a pretty field of lotus flowers (which normally grow in mud, but Maya's mud had not yet formed). Human beings were also pure and innocent, like swans. But, when the effects of Maya took effect, the world began to dance at the hands of Maya like water dances in the containers of the Persian wheel. 1. The men and the women alike are dancing now like puppets of Maya, but God is present in every heart, and no one is without Him (the effects of Maya are effective at the Will of God). There should be no question about this fact (that God is present in every heart and Maya is under His control); the man should have no doubt about it. The words (Huqam/ Will) of God apply to all humans – men and women alike. 2. Like the water containers in the Persian wheel, which go under water to be filled and then come out, the humans are now struggling to stay afloat as they drown in the world-sea (sea of Maya). Having wandered around aimlessly, now I have come to Your shelter, oh God. If you ask me who I am, then my answer is that I am Nam Dev, Your humble devotee. I am afraid of the Angel of death, kindly protect me from the bonds of the world (which lead one to the Angel), oh God. 3.4.

Word Meaning: Putit = immoral. Paavun = purify. Bird(u) = the innate virtue. 1. Maathaiy ----Dhoor(i) = dust of Waheguru's feet on the forehead. Pause. Gerb = conceit. Purhaari = remover; destroyer. Bul(i) Tihaari = sacrifice for you. 2.

MEANING: To purify and to salvage the immoral is Your innate virtue, oh my Lord. Highly fortunate are the individuals who worship my Lord. 1. I am lucky that I got to put the dust of Lord's feet on my forehead (I got connected with His Shabad), of which the gods, humans, and the sages stay devoid. Pause. My lord is kind to the poor (weak), and is the destroyer of the conceit of the powerful. I am a sacrifice for my Lord, and have come to His shelter, oh Nama. 2.5.

Kaarnay = for. Kaarun = reason. Aboal = quiet; not talking to me. Pause.
Bichhuray = separated. Madho = oh, God. Laykhay = dedicated. 2.

MEANING: There is no one poor (helpless) like me, and there is no one compassionate like You; so, what test is needed to prove my faith in You, oh my Lord? I am fully sold on (fully convinced with) Your Words, kindly grant me the perfect spiritual state, oh my Lord. 1.
I am willing to sacrifice my life many times for You, but I am unaware of the shortcomings that keep You from talking to me. Pause. I have been separated from You for many lives, but I dedicate my present life to You, oh my Lord. Word Meaning: Simrun(u) = remember. Aviloakno = to see. Servun = to listen. Soojus(u) = beautiful praise. Poor(i) Raakhoun = I keep filled with. Mudhukur(u) = bumblebee. Rusn = tongue. Bhaakhoun = I recite. 1. Jin(i) = lest. Mehungi Luyyee = paid a high price. Jea Sutaiy = in exchange for my soul (mind). Pause.
Bhaaou = Bhaav = love; affection. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Paiyj = dignity. 2.

MEANING: I am worried lest my love for the Lord may lessen. I had acquired it by paying a very high price of surrendering my mind in exchange for it (you lose all rights to your mind; you cannot have any worldly desire, which is a high price). Pause.
So, I remember Him in my mind, see Him everywhere with my eyes, and listen to His praise to the fullest with my ears. My mind has become like a bumblebee to enjoy the sweetness of the Lord's Naam. I keep praise of the Lord in my heart, and recite the Amrit-like Naam of the Lord with my tongue. 1. Love for the Lord does not sprout in one's mind without being in the company of the holy saints, and one cannot worship Him without love for Him in the heart. I, Ravidass, make only one request to the Royalty of the Lord that He protect me (against the attacks of Maya) and save my dignity. 2.2.

Kuhaiy Ravidass(u) Naam(u) Tayro aarti, Sat(i) Naam(u) haiy Hu(i) bhoag Toohaaray. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Aarti = a ritual to show reverence, mostly for an idol (or some other individual). Some flowers, incense, saffron, etc., and a lamp are placed in a platter which is rotated in a vertical circle in front of the idol. Mujun = bathing (the idol). Mooraaray = oh Lord. Jhootthay Pasaaray = are all acts of show off. Pause. Aasno = a small rug to sit on. Oorsa = a stone to graze sandalwood on. Kaysro = saffron. Chhitkaaray = to spray. Umbhula = water. Chundno = sandalwood. Ghus(i) = graze. Chaahray = offer. 1. Deeva = lamp. Baati = wick. Pusaaray = spread (add). Jot(i) = light; lamp. Oojiyaaro = brightness. Buvun = universe. 2. Taaga = thread to make a garland. Phool Maala = garland of flowers. Bhaar Atthaarah = all vegetation. Jhootthaaray = impure. Urpoun = offer. Toohi = only You. Chuvur Dhoolaaray = fan with a whisk (a sign of royalty). 3. Dus Atthaa = 18 Puranas. Utth-sutthay = the 68 holy places of the Hindus. Chaaray Khaani = the four sources of reproduction. Vertun(i) = normal practice. Bhoog = some sweet offering to the idol. 4.3.

MEANING: Your Naam is my “aarti”, including a bath, for You, oh, my Lord. Without His Naam, all other offerings to the Lord are just a ritual of show. Pause.
People sit on a special rug to worship you, but Your Naam is that rug for me, and Your Naam is the stone to graze sandalwood for You, as also saffron to offer to You in the form of a spray. Your Naam is the water (to bathe You), and also the sandalwood which people grind on a stone as an offering to You. My recitation of Your Naam includes all such ritualistic offerings to You. 1. Your Naam is the lamp, the wick, and the oil for the lamp (which people use during aarti). Your Naam serves as the lamp which brightens the whole universe. 2. For me, Your Naam is the thread, and the whole vegetation – even though it has been rendered impure by the animals who smell and eat it – serves as the flowers to make a garland which people use during aarti. Whatever people offer to You, has been created by You, so what can I offer You? I offer You only Your Naam as the royal whisk to fan on You, oh Lord. 3. The reading of the 18 Puranas and taking dips in the 68 holy places, has become the normal practice (the common belief) among the people to please You, as a result of which they are going through all the life forms of the four sources of reproduction (because such rituals fail to please You). Ravidass submits that Lord's Naam is the real "aarti", and the sweet dishes which please Him. 4.3.

Poorblay kirt kerm(u) na mitaiy ree ghur(i) gayhun(i), ta chay moh(i) jaapiulay, Ram chay Naamung. Budut(i) Tirlochun Ram Ji. 6.1.

Word Meaning: Nindus(i) = curse; blame. Guvaari = foolish. Dookirt = ignoble deeds. Sookirt = noble deeds. Thaaro = yours. Kerm = deeds; performance. Pause.

Shankra = Shiva. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Soorsuri = River Ganga. Ishnaan = bath; dip. Kool = clan. Milihou = born. Saarungpaan = Vishnu; Krishna. Klunk = (the scar of) stigma. Mupheetus(i) = not erased. 1. Bishuv = the world. Deepuk(u) = lamp. Ta = his. Chay = of. Sooaarthi = charioteer. Pukhee Raayay = the king of birds (Groorr, which is used as the ride by Vishnu). Baandhwa = relative. Arun = a mythical lame man who is believed to pull the chariot of the Sun. Pingula = lame. 2. Paatik = sins. Herta = remover; destroyer. Tirbhuvun = the universe. Nath(u) = Lord (Shiva). Luhhaiy Na Paar(u) = could not reach the other end; could not succeed. Kupaal(u) = skull (severed head). 3. Susee = moon. Dhayn = the Kaamdhayn cow. Luchhmi = goddess who was married to Vishnu. Kulptur = the Kulp Tree (which is in the paradise now). Sikhur(i) = the long-eared and seven-headed horse. Soonaagur = the wise physician, Dhunvuntri. Khaar(u) = the salty tasting. 4. Daadhilay = burned down. Gurrh = fort. Opaarrilay = uprooted. Bun(i) = forest; garden. Sul(i) = severe pain. Bisul(i) = the eradicator. Aan(i) = by fetching. Toakheelay = pleased. Hurie = Rama. Kachhauti = tight small shorts.

5. Poorblay = of previous lives. Kirt Kerm = performed deeds. Mitaiy = erased. Ghur(i) Gayhun(i) = the owner of the heart; soul. Ta Chay = therefore. Jaapiulay = recite. Chay = of. Budut(i) = says. 6.

MEANING: What do you blame the Lord for, oh foolish, misled human bride!! (Your suffering) is the result of your own ignoble deeds. (The consequences of the deeds done by a man cannot be erased or removed). Pause.
(As per your own belief), The moon resides on the forehead of Shiva and takes dips in the holy Ganga (because it too is caught in the hair of Shiva), and Krishna was born in its clan. Despite all these good things going for the moon, it has not been able to get rid of its scars of stigma – the dark spots on it caused by the wet towel of the Sage Gautama when he hit the Moon-turned-rooster with the towel for cheating the Sage – because of his evil deeds. (See the full story in "Introduction"). 1. You also believe that Arun, the charioteer of the Sun, which is the lamp for the whole world, is the older brother of Groorr, the king of all the birds, and the ride of Vishnu. Yet Arun is lame (because of the deeds he committed previously). 2. You say that when Brahma, the creator of the universe, became lustful about his own daughter, and would add a head to cast his evil eye on her in whichever direction she moved, Shiva got so mad to see such shameless behaviour of Brahma that he severed the top head of Brahma with his sharp disc-like weapon. However, being a Brahman, the skull of Brahma got stuck to the palm of Shiva and would not come off, no matter what he did or how many holy places he visited. Shiva could not succeed in getting his hand free despite the fact that (according to your belief) he is the Lord of the whole universe, and the destroyer of countless sins. This was because of the deeds done by him (see "Introduction" for the full story). 3. Because of some deeds done in the past, the ocean has not been able to get rid of its saltiness despite the fact that it is the master of all the rivers, and as per your beliefs, it housed the 14 priceless jewels including the Amrit, the moon, the Kamdhenu Cow, goddess Lakshmi (who later got married to Vishnu), the Kulp tree (now in paradise ruled by Indra), the long-eared and seven-headed horse, and the highly capable physician, Dhunvuntri. These jewels were retrieved from the ocean when the gods and demons jointly churned it. 4.
For the same reason, Hanuman, the monkey warrior, and the staunch devotee of Rama, could not get rid of his small short-pants despite the fact that he burned down the fort of Lanka, uprooted the garden of Ravana, and brought the healing-plant from the Himalayas to kill the pain of (to treat the wounded Laxman – the younger brother of Rama) to please his Lord, Rama. 5. The consequences of the deeds performed previously cannot be erased, oh my soul. That is why I am reciting Lord's Naam so that I do not commit any immoral deeds, oh my God, submits Tirlochun. 6. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhoop = incense. Ghirt = ghee. Kumlaputi = husband of Maya (God). Saaj(i) = decorating. 1. Mungla = happiness; blissfulness. Nit = always. Pause. Ootum = superior. Deeura = attractive lamp. Nirmul = pure. Baati = wick. 2. Ramanund = (Ram + Anund) = the bliss of union with God. Permanund = Perm + Anund = the source of supreme bliss (God). Bhuj(u) = remember. 4.
MEANING: I wish to sacrifice my life for my Lord (God), who is the husband of Maya, and this is my "aarti" for Him, which the people perform ritualistically by decorating a platter with incense, lamps, and ghee, etc. 1. Because of my devotion to the Royal Lord, and because of His benevolence, my mind feels blissful all the time. Pause. For me, You are the superior most lamp and its wick (which people use for aarti), oh my Lord – the husband of Maya. 2. Only the worshipper of the Lord realizes the supreme bliss when he sings praise of the source of permanent bliss – God. 3.
I advise all of you to worship the Lord, who is the persona of captivating beauty, and who ferries us across the frightening world-sea, oh Saiyn(u). 4.

Word Meaning: Kaayoun = from within the body. Dayva = god. Dayvul = temple. Jungum = worshippers of Shiva who wear feathers of peacocks on their head. Jaati = a pilgrim. Dhoop = incense. Nuyeebayda = sweets offered to the idol. Poojoun = I worship. Paati = leaves (flowers). 1. Khund = parts of the earth. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Aayaybo = comes; is born. Jaayaybo = goes; dies. Doohaayee = say loudly. Pause. Brehmunday = in the universe. Pindaiy = in the body. Prunvaiy = requests; says. Perm Tutt(u) = the ultimate truth (God). Lukhaavaiy = shows. 2.
MEANING: After searching for God in different parts of the world, I found the source of the nine treasures of the world (God) within my own body (mind). When my soul has merged into His, I can say loudly that nothing is born, and nothing dies – it is just the soul which transmigrates from one body to another. Pause. So, God is within the human body, and His residence is there as well. Everybody can find him in his own body, and there is no need to become a member of any special sect or a pilgrim. When you search for Him in your body, there is no need left to perform His "aarti" with incense, lamps, flowers, and any sweets. 1. God, which is present in the universe, is also present in the human body, and whosoever searches for Him can realize Him. God is the ultimate Truth, but can be "shown" by Satguru only, humbly submits Peepa. 2.3.

(I am also Your devotee, and I, too, have some needs to be fulfilled), I beg for beans (pulses), flour and ghee for my body to enjoy every day. I beg for good quality shoes and clothes, and grains from well-ploughed (well-maintained) fields. 1.

I beg for a cow and a buffalo to provide milk, and an Arabian horse to ride. I also need a good-natured wife, which Your devotee, Dhunna, begs of You. 2.4.

NOTE: Some people treat this Shabad as a part of Aarti, but there is nothing about Aarti in this holy Shabad. Dhunna Ji is simply advising us that beg for anything you need, only from God, and from no other deity.

Word Meaning: Heeuray = in the heart. Ruttan = (invaluable like a) jewel. Kilvikh = sins. Rin(u) = debt (of sins). Haath Dhuriyo = protected. Laatha = paid off. 1. Bhuj(u) = recite. Urtha = objectives. Birtha = empty; meaningless. Pause. Moorr = foolish. Bhuyyay = become. Phaatha = grasped. Akaatha = unsuccessful. 2. Pug = feet. Sufliyo = Sunaatha = successful. MEANING: The Guru placed His kind hand on my head (became benevolent to me) as a result of which the jewel-like invaluable Naam of Waheguru got implanted in my heart, and all my sins of many lives were eradicated, and their debt (any possible punishment because of them) was cleared. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, which fulfils all your objectives, oh my mind. The Perfect Guru reinforced the Naam in my mind; otherwise, human life is meaningless without Waheguru's Naam. Pause. The Maya-engrossed people are foolish who do not take the Guru's shelter, and are always trapped in their love of Maya. They never worship the Guru's Feet (obey His Huqam), because of which their lives go in vain. 2. But those who serve Guru's Feet (obey His Will) make their life successful. Please be kind to me and make me a slave of Your devotees, oh, the Lord of the world. 3. I lack spiritual knowledge and am blind (in the dark of ignorance), so how can I follow the Guru's path? Word Meaning: Heera = diamond. Laal(u) = ruby. Amoluk(u) = invaluable. Bhaari = heavy; hugely. Gaahuk = buyer. Meeka = equal to. Kaakha = a straw. 1.
Goopt = hidden. Puraakha = tested; evaluated. Pause. Koatthi = heart; mind. Laakha = realized; felt. Oojhurr(i) = (lost) in wilderness. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Mooyay = died (spiritually). Gavaari = stupid. Bhooyung = snake; poison. Chaakha = tasted. 2. Neekay = great; noble (connected with Waheguru). Ungikaar(u) = kindness. Bhaag(i) = by running; hurriedly. Paakha = shelter. 3. Vukhaaneh = express; describe. Vud = great. Agumm = (physically) inaccessible. Purkha = (omnipresent) God. Paakhaan(u) = stone; loaded with sins. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is invaluable like a diamond or a ruby, but without the proper buyer (who knows its value), it becomes valueless like a blade of dry grass. But when it is evaluated by the Guru, the Naam becomes worthy of millions. 1.
Waheguru has kept His Naam hidden in man's heart (mind), oh my mind. But when the munificent (generous) Waheguru connects one with the Guru, He shows the true worthiness of the diamond (Waheguru's Naam). Pause. The minds of the Maya-engrossed individuals are dark because of the absence of spiritual knowledge; they do not realize the diamond-like Naam in their hearts. They are misled by their misgivings as if they are in a wilderness where they cannot find the path (of righteousness). They keep enjoying the poisonous taste of Maya, and the foolish suffer spiritual death. 2.
Kindly, connect me with the Guru, the spiritual great saint, and keep me in His shelter, oh Waheguru. I have come running to Your shelter, please, be kind to me. 3.
You are so great (transcendent) that You are inaccessible, oh the omnipresent Waheguru. The Lord became so kind that He salvaged even a great sinner like me, oh Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: We are your ignorant, foolish, and unwise children, and know nothing about Your transcendence and Your limits, oh Waheguru. Please, be kind, and grant us the higher wisdom to transform us from foolish to wise, oh Lord. 1. My mind was lazy and drowsy, but when Waheguru connected me with the Guru, the doors of my mind flung open by His Word. Pause. I pray to the Guru that He instills love for Waheguru in my mind every moment because the Naam of my dear Waheguru is the basis of my life. Like an addict who is deeply in love with the intoxicant (and dies without it), I experience spiritual death without the Naam of the Lord. 2. Those who foster love for God are predestined to do so because of their previous noble deeds. I would love to serve those who, with dedication, find Waheguru sweet in their minds. 3.
Waheguru was very kind to me, who connected this devotee (me) with Him, who had been separated from Him (God) for a long time. My Satguru is great (worthy of worship) who reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my mind. I am a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 4.3 union. Laagiba = begins (to enjoy). Bhooyung = snake; poisonous. Grussiyo = grasped. Bis(u) = poison. Kaadhiba = pulled out; removed. 1. Rus(i) = sweetness. Putit = immoral. Puvittar = pure. Chaakhiba = tasted. Pause. Liv = concentration. Oonmun(i) = high spiritual state. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Shaant(i) = peace. Nirmul = pure. 2. Kheen = weak; poor. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Gerbh Joani = lives in the womb. Birtha = empty; worthlessly. 3. Bimul = clean; pure. Pug = feet. Rayn Pug = dust of feet. Divaayayba = gives. 4.

Word Meaning: Saajun(u) = friend; supporter. Rusk(i) = enjoying the taste. Ful = reward;

MEANING: My Satguru, who is my best friend, connected me with the omnipresent and magnanimous Waheguru when I began to enjoy the sweetness of my union with Him. The man is gripped by the snake-like (poisonous) Maya, but the Words of the Guru take the poison out (break the bonds with Maya). 1. My mind is attached to the sweet Naam of Waheguru. Waheguru transforms the immoral into pure-minded devotees by putting them in the shelter of the Guru when the devotees begin to taste the sweetness of His Naam. Pause. It is with great fortune that one connects with the Guru; it is by the Guru's kindness that one begins to enjoy a high spiritual state by fully focusing one's mind on Waheguru. When a devotee sings praise of the great virtues of Waheguru, all the fire of his desires is put out, and he attains peace of mind. 2. Those who do not get the sight of the Guru (do not get connected with Him) have prewritten poor fortune. Because of their love for Maya, they go through a number of life forms and waste away their precious human life. 3. I pray to Waheguru to grant me the pure (superior) wisdom so that I may find Waheguru's Naam to be sweet, and serve the Feet of the Guru (obey His Command). So, I beg the benevolent Waheguru to grant me the dust of the Feet of the Guru (an opportunity to serve Him), oh Nanak. 4.4.

Kuraanjha = in irritation; in exasperation. 1. Maajha = in; inside. Dhaari = adopted. Sumjha = enlightened. Pause. Keerut(i) = (to sing) praise. Pud = (spiritual) state. Ootum(u) = superior. Huoun = I (am). Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice. Goopt = hidden. Purgaajha = illuminated. 2. Kilvikh = sins. Guvaajha = lost; destroyed.

MEANING: Make the wisdom (thinking) of the people who do not enshrine Your Naam in their heart unavailable (ineffective) to others (so that such ignoble thinking does not affect them), oh Waheguru. Without Waheguru's Naam in their mind, such people wander around lifeless (without spiritual life) and die a spiritual death, suffering humiliation. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, which resides in you, oh my mind. With His benevolence, the kind Waheguru connected me with the Guru who enlightened my mind with Divine Knowledge. Pause. Waheguru's praise in this world leads to a high spiritual state in which one realizes Him in one's heart, sheltered by the Guru. I am a sacrifice to my Guru, who illuminated Waheguru's hidden Naam in my mind. 2.
It is with great luck that one gets to have a holy sight of (get connected with) the Guru, whereby all his sins are eradicated. Satguru shares (explains) many, many virtues of the wise (great) Waheguru, as a result of which His devotees realize Him (Waheguru, by singing His praise). 3. Those, whom Waheguru is kind to, embed His Naam in their heart. The Angel of justice tears all the papers of the account of their deeds in Waheguru's Court (Waheguru Himself is the Justice) whereby their accounts get settled, oh Nanak. 4.5.

NOTE: Even though Maat (or Maata) means mother in most cases, it has also been used to mean wisdom or thinking in some situations. In the present case, it can only mean wisdom because most of the people love Maya more than Waheguru, and are the followers of their mind. So, Guru Ram Dass would not have condemned the mothers of all such people, particularly when there are many examples of highly respectable mothers who gave birth to sons, some of whom were great devotees of Waheguru, while some others (born to the same mother) were lovers of Maya. Moreover, why only to blame the mother, and not the father. So, Maat cannot mean mother here. A couple of Shabads are given below, in which the word Maat, or Maata, is used as a synonym for wisdom.

- ਗਉੜੀ ਮ:1 (151-2)॥ ਮਾਤਾ ਮਤਿ ਪਿਤਾ ਸੰਤੋਖੁ॥ ਸਤੁ ਭਾਈ ਕਰਿ ਏਹੁ ਵਿਸੇਖੁ॥ 1॥ ----

Meaning: (If you want union with Waheguru, you need) to have higher wisdom as your mother (to nourish you with good qualities), and contentment as your father (to keep control on evil thoughts). You also need high morality and a commitment to serving the public as your special friends, oh my friend. ----------

- ਮਾਰੂ ਮ:1 (991)॥ ਮੁਲ ਖਰੀਦੀ ਲਾਲਾ ਗੋਲਾ ਮੇਰਾ ਨਾਉ ਸਭਾਗਾ॥ ----1॥ ਮਾ ਲਾਲੀ ਪਿਉ ਲਾਲਾ ਮੇਰਾ ਹਉ ਲਾਲੇ ਕਾ ਜਾਇਆ॥ -----

Meaning: I am highly fortunate that the Guru has accepted me as His slave, as if He had bought me. ------- Now, the wisdom imparted to me by the Guru is acting as my mother (to nourish me with noble qualities), and contentment has become my father. I owe these virtues to the Guru. -------

- ਆਸਾ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀਉ (476)॥ ----- ਮੁਈ ਮੇਰੀ ਮਾਈ ਹਉ ਖਰਾ ਸੁਖਾਲਾ॥ ਪਹਿਰਉ ਨਹੀ ਦਗਲੀ ਲਗੈ ਨਹੀ ਪਾਲਾ॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥

Meaning: (Thank God that) my former mother (wisdom; the thinking about worldly desires) is dead now, and I feel blissful. Now, no discomfort comes near me, and I do not need any other support. ----------

It is perfectly clear that the term "mother" implies wisdom in all these holy Shabads, and there are many more like these.

Word Meaning: Chultau = fickle; wandering. Aroorra = beautiful; stable; peaceful. Unhut Dhoon(i) = auto-playing Divine music. Dhaar(i) = stream. Leerra = satisfied. 1. Roorra = beautiful; source of comfort. Jhupeerra = hug tightly. Pause. Saakut = Maya worshipper. Bundh = bonds. Bikh = Maya. Suncheh(i) = amasses. Jukeerra = with zeal. Urth(i) = in the name of. Suheh(i) = endures. 2. Sherdha = great reverence. Dhoorra = dust of feet (Guru's Shabad or Will). Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = the next world. Goorra = deep. 3. Keerra = worm; devout slave. Pug = feet. Pakhaan(u) = stone - (hearted). Huriyo = green; came to (spiritual) life. Moorra = foolish. 4.

MEANING: One's wandering mind becomes peaceful in the shelter of the Guru, which one gets with great fortune. He feels as if the auto-playing Divine music is playing in his mind, and he becomes fully satisfied when he tastes the blissful, sweet stream of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all comforts, oh my mind. Satguru implanted love for Waheguru in my mind, and now my mind and my body are full of love for Him, and He connected me with Him who hugged me very tightly. Pause. The Maya-worshippers are strongly bonded with the poisonous wealth which they amass with great zeal. They cannot spend that in the name of Waheguru and endure the wrath of the Angel of death. 2. Those who serve Waheguru and the Guru with great reverence with their body (and mind), and obey Their Will, get imbued in Their deep love, and earn praise in this world and the next. 3. Kindly connect me with the Guru, oh Waheguru. I am a worm (a humble devotee) of the holy saints. I have developed a deep affection for Guru's Feet (His Shabad); my stone-like, hard, and foolish mind has come to life in his shelter, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Chhunt: Please listen to my request, which I am making to you, oh my friends. I have been searching for the dear and the mind-captivating Waheguru (please, connect me with Him, if you can). Kindly tell me His whereabouts; I will offer my severed head to you if you show me His holy sight, even if it is only for a short moment. My eyes are imbued in His love, and my mind does not find peace (contentment) even for a short moment. My mind is as deeply absorbed in Waheguru's thoughts and wishes for Him as a fish wishes to be in water, or a rainbird wishes for a rain drop. I am a devotee of Waheguru, and the thirst of all my desires has been quenched on getting connected with the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

Chhunt(u): I am Yours (in Your shelter); please protect me in whatever way You deem right, oh Waheguru. I have countless ignoble qualities; how many of them can I count? I always make mistakes day after day, and have been through countless lives as a result. Chhunt(u): There is no other place than Waheguru where one can go for protection. So, one should recite His Naam for all 24 hours with folded hands (with full faith and reverence). When one remembers Waheguru constantly, all his wishes are fulfilled. So, he should get rid of his pride, worldly attachments, and other vices, and meditate only on the "One" (God). By eradicating (getting rid of) his selfishness and his ego, one should offer his mind and body to Waheguru. Khuttiya = earned. 1.
MEANING: This world is a place for visitors only; but the man goes around (spends his life) loaded with conceit (as if he is going to live here forever), and imbued with love for Maya, he commits countless sins. The idea of death never crosses his mind, and due to his greed, worldly attachments, and his ego, he drowns in the world-sea (of attractions of Maya). He spends his life which revolves around his sons, friends, daily business, and his wife. As prewritten in his fortune, the days of his life reach the end, and his suffering begins to see the agents of death. The results of the deeds done by him cannot be erased, and he did nothing to earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam to avoid such suffering, oh Nanak. 1.

He keeps taking births, and dying, and wanders through countless life forms which include animals, birds, life in rocks, and vegetation. He reaps the rewards of what he sows. He loses the precious human life in the gamble (to win short-lived comforts at the cost of long-term spiritual gain), and does not like to sing the praises of Waheguru. Misled by his misgivings, man's mind wanders around continuously, and never stays peaceful, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: (Eventually), the man passes his young age, and the old age takes its (young age's) place; he loses his eye sight, and he leaves this world of Maya without Waheguru's Naam. He does not listen to Guru's advice, and suffers humiliation because of attractions for Maya which cause him heart ache. He does not enshrine the love of the Perfect and the limitless Waheguru in his mind even for a short moment. The man does not realize that he is short-lived in this world, and perishes away in a moment like a limitless weight of paper (burns away in a moment), oh Nanak. 3.

sea, but Waheguru ferried me across it, which is otherwise very difficult to swim across. I sang praise of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, which emancipated me with His grace. Waheguru accepted me as His devotee and, despite my ignoble qualities, honoured me by bestowing His Naam. I realized my desired Lord, who is limitless, and is the treasure of all virtues. Paykhundurron kee bhooll(u), toomma dism(u) sohna. Uddh(u) na lehundurron mooll(u), Nanak saath(i) na joolyee Maya. 2.

Word Meaning: Kuptun(g) = deceitful. Kool = (high) clan. Gerbteh = feels conceited. Suchunt(i) = accumulate. Bikhiya = poisonous wealth. Chhlun(g) = by deceitful means. Chhiderun(g) = find faults; blame 1. Paykhundurron = on seeing. Toomma = beautiful looking, but a very bitter fruit. Uddh(u) = half a penny. Joolyee = goes. 2.

MEANING: Rule of a state, physical beauty, wealth, and the pride of a higher caste are all deceitful (because they are all short-lived). The man accumulates wealth through many immoral means, including blaming others, but nothing other than Waheguru's Naam accompanies him after death, oh Nanak. 1. The man mistakenly gets attracted to toomma because, even though it is beautiful to look at, it is very bitter. Similarly, Maya is very attractive, but its effects are very bitter (harmful) because not only does it not accompany the man after death, but it is also the root of many evils, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Why should the man accumulate wealth which does not accompany him after death, and why should he make any effort to earn it when he gets deprived of it at the end? How can a man find contentment by forgetting Waheguru when his mind is not pleased (feel blissful) without His Naam? Those who forget Waheguru, get involved in Maya, and are thrown into hell. Please, be kind to Nanak, and destroy my fear of death, oh Waheguru. 10.

MEANING: There is no blissfulness in the comfort of ruling some state, and there is no blissfulness in enjoying the luxuries of life or in the comforts of Maya. For the devotees, there is blissfulness in the company of the Guru and in having the holy sight of Waheguru (getting connected with Him), oh Nanak. 1. The devotees, who get imbued in the love for Waheguru in their mind, and whose heart is pierced with His love, find Waheguru to be very sweet, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Pheekiya = distasteful. Nirnuoun = to compare and decide. Buseettha = mediator. Baydhiya = pierced. Mujeettha = deep red colour which does not fade. Binsay = perish. Jhoottha = false; short-lived. 11.

MEANING: The devotees of Waheguru do not find anything sweet (blissful) other than Waheguru. In comparison with Waheguru's Naam, the devotees decide (find out) that all other comforts of life are distasteful. With Guru's mediation (advice), all their discomforts due to ignorance and misgivings are eradicated. Their mind is pierced with the lotus-like feet (of Waheguru), and they are so deeply imbued in His love that like the deep red colour, it never fades. They find that all other comforts of life are false (short-lived), and they offer their life, body, and mind to Waheguru. 11.

MEANING: When Waheguru is kind to someone, Maya does not afflict him. Millions of sins run away when one remembers one and the only Waheguru. When one serves the devotees of Waheguru, his body is purified, and he becomes content by body and mind when he realizes the omnipresent Waheguru. All the associates of the devotees also get salvaged. 18.

The Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru and raises the status of a low-caste person (without noble qualities) to that of a high-caste person (with noble qualities). He eradicates the suffering of the devotees by breaking the chains of Maya, and makes them

His own (becomes their guard). With the benevolence of the Guru, the devotee begins to sing praise of Waheguru with his tongue. 19.

MEANING: I know nothing (about spirituality), and my mind has been sold at the hands of Maya, oh Lord. Pause. You are called the Guru and the Lord of the world, whereas I am known as the lustful of the present era. 1. The five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego) have polluted my mind, and are creating a bigger gap between You and me every moment. 2. Wherever I look, I find these demons to be the source of suffering for the people. The human mind is not convinced (is unable to have control over them), even though there are religious books like the Vedas to teach (warn) them. 3. (Under the influence of these demons), god Indra raped Ahilya, the wife of the sage Gautama, and was cursed by the sage to have thousands of signs (marks) of the female genitals on his body. Again, (under the influence of these demons), Brahma was captivated by the beauty of his own daughter and cast an evil eye on her. Shiva was enraged at Brahma's shameless behaviour and severed the latter's topmost head, which got stuck to Shiva's hand, for which he is known as the bearer of the head. 4.
These demons have beaten the foolish me very badly (have polluted my mind very badly). I realize the pollution of my mind, but it is so shameless that it is still not tired of enjoying sensual pleasures. 5. I do not know what means to use, and what shelter to seek other than that of the Lord (to get rid of the influence of the demons), oh Ravidass? 6.1.

MEANING: My mind cannot survive without Waheguru (His Naam). I pray to my Guru that He connect me with my dear Waheguru, which is the basis of my life; once connected with Him, I will not have to take birth in the world again. Pause.

My heart yearns to see Waheguru with my own eyes. (The Guru accepted my prayer), He kindly reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my heart and showed me the simple and straight path to connect with Waheguru. 1. With my great fortune, I found Waheguru to be sweet in my heart, mind, and body. Imbued with His love, I was able to enshrine His Naam in my heart 2. But those who are greedy of and attached to the sensual pleasures of life forget Waheguru. Such people have bad luck on their foreheads and are known as followers of their own minds, foolish, and ignorant. 3.

I received Divine knowledge and the wisdom to tell the good from the bad from my Guru. With my good fortune on my forehead as prewritten by Waheguru, I acquired His Naam with the benevolence of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Kutha = stories (management of the universe). Jus = praise. Mooht(u) = moment. Bigsiyo = blooming of the heart. Paykh(i) = to see. Koosumbh = a pretty flower which withers away quickly, especially when touched. (Maya is like Koosumbh). Pur Greh(i) = others' house (women and wealth). Johun(i) = to watch with evil eye. 1. Bhaaou = love; affection. Sat Purakh = eternal Waheguru. Munaayo = worshipped. Buhou Bhaanti = in many different ways. Tayli Buld(u) Bhermaayo = as an ox goes around and around running an old-fashioned oil mill. 2. Nimukh = a moment. Na Na = various. Jhootth = lies. Tokhiyo = pleased. Boojhiyo = understood. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of His worshippers. Paachhaiy = pursue Him. 5.1.3.

MEANING: Captivated by greed and by different tastes of Maya, and lost in their thoughts, the human mind continuously rushes in every direction (never finds peace). But this is how Waheguru has created the world and misled the people. Pause.
The human mind finds no interest – not even for a short moment - in the stories of Waheguru (His virtues) or in His praise in the company of the Guru (or the holy saints). The human mind blooms to see the short-lived attractions of Maya, which are like a koosumbh flower, and casts an evil eye on the wealth and women of others. 1. It shows no love for Waheguru, who has lotus-like soft feet, nor does it worship Him. But it rushes to pursue many different things and spends its life like the ox that operates (powers) an old-fashioned oil mill and walks in circles all day (without achieving anything). 2. The man does not perform any spiritual deed like taking a dip in Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, or making others do the same; nor does he sing Waheguru's praise, not even for a moment. He does try to please himself with many different false lies (ideas), but does not recognize which is good for his spiritual life (which will accompany him at death). 3. He never does selfless favours to others, nor does he serve Satguru or remember Him. Intoxicated with the comforts of Maya, he always enjoys the company (tastes) of the five demons (lust, greed, etc.). 4. Hearing that Waheguru loves His worshippers, I have come to the gathering of the holy men with the request that they connect me with Him (God). I have come to the shelter of Waheguru hurriedly, requesting that He make me His own and protect my dignity (from the attacks of Maya), oh Nanak. 5.1.3.

Word Meaning: Manookh = man. Bin Boojhaiy = without bonding with God. Birtha = empty; worthless. Anik = countless. Saaj Seegaar = adornments; decorations. Mirtuk(u) = dead body. Odhaaya = dressed. Pause. Kirpun = lover of Maya. Sherm(u) = hard work. Ikuttar = amassed. Daan Poonn(u) = donations and noble deeds. Kaaj(i) = worthy deed. 1. Aabhern = ornaments. Sayja = bed. Kaamun(i) = woman; the human bride. Thaat = attractive construct. Bherta = husband. Paykh(i) = looking (at empty decorations). 2. Majoori = hard labour. Tooh(u) = the hollow shell of a grain. Moosleh(i) = a dumbbell-shaped heavy wooden log to beat the grains to separate kernels from the shells. Chhuraaya = beaten. Khayd = suffer. Baygaari = a person who is obligated to do errands for others without any payment. Niyaayeen = like. Ghur(i) = for self. 3. Anugreh(u) = benevolence. Pachhaiy = shelter. Rus(u) = sweet taste. 4.

MEANING: Man's arrival (his birth) in this world is worthless if he does not make any bond with Waheguru. He adorns his body in many different ways, but without bonding with Waheguru, all his adornment is like dressing up a dead body. Pause.

The money-lover puts in hard labour with gusto and amasses lots of wealth, but all that goes to waste (in the realm of spirituality) if he does not share that with the needy, and does not serve the holy saints. 1. All the religious adornments (wearing of religious symbols and performance of rituals, etc.) of a money-lover are as worthless as the adornments of a bride who beautifies herself with ornaments and decorates her bed (with flowers, etc.) to make it attractive for her husband who does not show up (leaving her suffering in separation). 2. The man puts in hard labour all day (to make money), but (without bonding with Waheguru) it is like beating the shells of grains without kernels with a wooden log. His hard work goes (spiritually) unrewarded like that of the man who is obligated to do work for others without any payment to take home. 3. But when Waheguru becomes benevolent to someone, he acquires His Naam in his heart. I also took shelter of the holy saints to acquire the sweet essence of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.2.4.

Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Putit = sinful. Pooneeta = purified; pious. Keertun = sing praise. 1. Aagiya = Will. Bhaavou = may like. Tuhee = with that. Triptaiy = be contented. Aan = other. Na Kut-houn = nowhere. 2. Nicket(i) = nearby. Raiyn = (humble like) dust. Praaput(i) = acquirement = luhhiyaiy. 3. Chhohray = children. Meera = Master; Lord. Kheera = milk. 4.

MEANING: Kindly reside in my heart all the time, oh, the treasure of benevolence, Waheguru. Kindly lighten up my mind with the wisdom so that love for You is implanted in my mind. Pause. I wish to have the dust of the feet of Your devotees to put on my forehead (show deep respect for them and serve them) so that I am transformed from a big sinner to a purified devotee, and get motivated to sing Your praise, oh Waheguru. 1. I wish I could find Your Command to be sweet, and like (gladly accept) whatever You do. I also wish to be content with whatever You give me, and I do not need to seek the support of anyone else. 2. I wish that I always felt that You are close to me, and I should be humble like dust (which is stepped on by everybody, and does not complain), oh my Lord. I should be lucky to join the company of the holy saints to acquire Your Naam in my heart. 3. I am always like Your child (who makes mistakes), and You are my father. I, Nanak, am Your child, and You are my mother and my father; just like a baby needs milk for food, I need Your Naam on my tongue as my mental food; kindly grant me that, oh Waheguru. 4.3.5.

Chhaam = shade. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many different ways. Niraaruth = meaningless. 1. Deesaiy = visible. Khaam = weak; perishable. Bisraam = peace. 2.

MEANING: I beg only for His Naam as a donation to me from my Lord because nothing else will accompany me at my death. So, I pray to Him that He gives me the ability to sing His virtues (praise). Pause. Be it the reign of some state, wealth, or enjoyment of countless tastes, they all are short-lived like the shade of a tree (which changes direction with the sun and disappears at sunset). The man runs around to make money in many different ways, but all that becomes worthless at the end (because it does not go with him). 1. Everything else that I see and wish for is short-lived except for Waheguru's Naam. I ask only for the dust of the Feet of the Guru (opportunity to serve Him) so that my mind finds peace (by merging into Waheguru), oh Nanak. 2.6.

MEANING: Sing the virtues of Waheguru whereby all your ailments (suffering) will be eradicated, your mind will be purified, your face will shine (be respectable), and you will earn respect in both the worlds – this and the next – oh my friend. Pause.
(People bathe their idol and offer him sweets), But I will wash the feet of Waheguru (serve Him in every way), and surrender my mind as the sweet (for Him). I will give up all my selfishness, destructive discussions, and my ego, and will accept everything that happens. 1. I cannot think of any other shelter; so, finally, I have come to Your door. Please disregard the account of all my bad deeds, as I have no virtue, and emancipate me with Your benevolence. 1. He is put on the path of righteousness by the Guru, and now, the net of spiritual death, or the messenger of death, cannot cast an evil eye on him (can cause no harm to him). He earns the wealth of Waheguru's jewel-like, precious Naam, which never runs out, no matter how he spends it (how many people he shares it with). 1. His evil thinking becomes a pile of dust (is obliterated) in a moment, and it (his evil thinking) gets the punishment of its deeds. Nanak invites all the people to come and watch the fate that a vilifier is about to meet. 2.6.11.

But, if a money-lover takes the shelter of the holy saints and recites Waheguru's Naam there, all his sins get covered (destroyed) by Waheguru. Pause. With so many sins committed over time, countless holes appear in the body-ship of the individual, as a result of which, good qualities leak out of his mind, and evil qualities enter, and those holes cannot be plugged. But if the evil person worships the Creator (God) of his body-ship, even the impure (evil) are able to swim across the world-sea along with the pious. 1. But the evil thinks of lifting (removing) the mountain-like heavy load of his sins only with talks, which (the mountain of the load) does not move and stays there. The man has no ability or power to eradicate the load of his sins; the only thing he can do is to come to Waheguru's shelter and pray for His protection against his sins, oh Nanak. 2.7.12.

Waheguru's Naam is the destroyer of all three types of ailments – mental, physical, and those caused by disagreements – is the eradicator of all suffering, and is the source of all comforts. One faces no impediments in spiritual life if one prays to God. 1. With the benevolence of the Guru, one realizes Waheguru, which is the true physician, and the creator of the whole creation (the universe). But only those devotees get connected with the omnipresent and the source of all comforts, Waheguru, who approach Him with the pure childlike thinking (no cunning or conceit in mind), and seek His shelter, oh Nanak. 2.8.13.

attain the highest spiritual state only in the shelter of the Guru, and those who are engrossed in the attractions of Maya lose the game of life. 1.
I am lucky to have sought the company of the holy saints (the Guru), because of whom I have developed love for Waheguru's Naam. Now I feel blissful to recite Waheguru's Naam (in His shelter), and all my ailments have been eradicated, oh Nanak. 2.10.15.

MEANING: I have such a burning desire to see the dear Waheguru that I cannot live without Him even for a short moment, oh my mother. Pause. The omnipresent Waheguru is the source of all comforts, and His praise is mind-purifying and everlasting. I, too, recite the Naam of the Creator, Waheguru, as a result of which all my sins will be destroyed. 1. With Guru's grace, I have been connected with Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, and all my objectives have been fully achieved. Peace, and the comforts of blissfulness, have sprouted in my mind, which feels like to have been brightened (enlightened) by millions of suns, oh Nanak. 2.5.24.

MEANING: Waheguru purifies the sinners, and is the Lord of the soul, the life, and the pride of the man. The omniscient and the source of all comforts, Waheguru, is dear to my mind. Pause. He is very attractive, wise, smart, and knowledgeable about everything; he resides in the hearts of His devotees who sing His virtues all the time. He has a pious personality and is the unparalleled Lord. He has created the human body as the ground to sow seeds of deeds; people reap the rewards of whatever they sow. 1. Watching His amazing feats, I get mesmerized; there is none other who can be compared to the Lord. I live by singing His praise with my tongue; I am His slave and am always willing to sacrifice my life for Him, oh Nanak. 2.6.25.

Khul(u) = stupid. Raachay = get absorbed. Dehn = burned. Mull = powerful (the five demons). 2.

MEANING: Like a contained fire on a few dry leaves, or the shadow of a cloud, or the flood-water (which lasts only for a short while); Maya is also highly deceptive, and stays with a person only for a short time, oh my mother. Pause. So, give up your wisdom and cleverness, and follow the path of the Guru with folded hands (with full devotion), oh man. The only (best) reward of the human body is that the man can (and should) always remember the omniscient Lord. 1. The holy men explain the teachings of the religious books (like the Vedas), but the stupid and unlucky man does not bother to understand them. Usthir = stability (be one with God). Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in the love of. Baahoor(i) = again. Peetthay = crushed. 1. Rung Rus = enjoyment of different tastes. Jhootthay = false. Mootthay = deceived. 2

MEANING: The Words of the Guru are very sweet (comforting), oh my mother. Pause. One earns countless rewards by having a sight of the Guru (by understanding and obeying His Teachings), but one gets to “see” the Guru only with one's good fortune, and with the benevolence of Waheguru. When one sings praise of the virtues of the immortal Waheguru, the persistent attacks of his lust, rage and conceit are eradicated. Imbued in the love of Waheguru, one finds stability for his soul (it merges into Waheguru) and is not crushed (suffers) in the cycle of birth and death (he is not born again). 1. With the munificence of the Guru, one comes to realize that without Waheguru’s worship, all other tastes (enjoyments) of life are false (short-lived). I, a slave of Waheguru, have acquired His precious Naam, whereas all those without His Naam leave the world deceived (robbed) of noble qualities, oh Nanak. 2.8.27.

Word Meaning: Chitaara = think of; contemplate. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state. Anund = blissfulness. Unkoor(u) = sprouting. Bhulo = good; favourable. Pause.
Bhaytiyo = met; got connected with. Unt(u) = end. Na Paaravaara = limitless. Ker(u) Geh(i) = by holding hands. Bikh(u) = poisonous (Maya). 1. Buhourr(i) = any more. Sunkut = a very difficult situation (suffering due to rebirths). Pooneh = again. Numuskaara = bowing to; show deep respect. 2.

MEANING: If an individual contemplates Waheguru's Naam in the company (shelter) of the Guru, he attains the high spiritual state as a result of which he enjoys blissfulness day and night; with the benevolence of the Guru, the wonderful seed of Waheguru's Naam sprouts in the mind of the devotee, oh my friends. Pause. However, one gets shelter of the Guru only with great fortune, and with the benevolence of Waheguru, which has no end to His limits. I pray to the Guru and Waheguru to pull me out of the poisonous world-sea by holding my hand. 1. One's cycle of birth and death is terminated by the Words of the Guru, and he does not go through the door of the sufferings of rebirths ever again. Word Meaning: Koat(i) = millions; countless. Bhoogvaiy = enjoyments. Simrut = remembering; reciting (the Naam). Binsay = destroyed. Pause. Kilvikh = sins. Paavun = acquire. Sroop(u) = beautiful looks. Poorun Aasa = wish fulfilled. Dersgun Bhaytut = on seeing the holy sight. Bhookh = appetite. 1. Chaar(i) Pudaaruth = the four desired things: high morality, wealth, fulfilment of desires (happiness), and emancipation. Asht Muhaa Sidh(i) = the eight supernatural powers. Kamdhenu(u) and Parijaat = a cow, and a tree, in paradise, which are believed to fulfil all wishes. They were both retrieved from the ocean when it was churned jointly by the gods and the demons. Rookh = tree. Sookh-Saagur = the sea of all comforts (God). Gerbh = womb. Na Dhookh = no smouldering (suffering of burning). 2.

MEANING: By remembering Waheguru, all my troubles have been destroyed, and my mind is in great comfort as if it is enjoying the countless luxuries of reigning over a large state, oh my mother. Pause. By remembering Waheguru (reciting His Naam), my sins of countless lives have run away, and my mind and my body are in great comfort. My wish to have a glimpse of the attractive Waheguru was fulfilled, and all my appetite for worldly desires was eradicated when I saw Him from close (got connected to Him). 1.
Waheguru is the Kamdhenu and the Parijat tree (if any, they are not independent of Him), and by remembering Him, one acquires all the four desired things as well as all the eight supernatural powers. I have sought the shelter of Waheguru, which is the sea of all comforts, and which protects you from the suffering of the heat in the womb, and you are not born again, oh Nanak. 2.10.29.

MEANING: I have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart. By remembering my Satguru, I have achieved all my objectives successfully. Pause. The essence of all thinking is that singing Waheguru's praise is His real worship, and one does not need any ritualistic worship, so-believed noble deeds, or donations to undeserving charities. One acquires immeasurable comforts by singing the virtues of the inaccessible, and the limitless Lord. 1. Once Waheguru makes some devotee His own (connects with him), He does not consider any of the devotee's merit or demerits after that. MEANING: Some people say that God is very close to us, while some others maintain that He is far away. What kind of nonsensical discussion is this by which you cannot achieve any spirituality? Such a discussion is as meaningless as the thought that a fish can climb a palm tree (which is difficult to climb even by humans). Ruhhaiy = left behind; gave up. 1. Bhunut(i) = says. Sookirt = honest deeds. Soomut(i) = noble wisdom. Ko, Ko = who and who; how many; countless. Baiykoontth(i) = in paradise. 2.

MEANING: Who (nobody) is left with any stigma if he recites God's Naam? Even the immoral are purified as soon as they recite the Naam. Pause. I was so convinced by God's Naam that I made the commitment to quit all religious rituals like fasting on certain days, and undertaking pilgrimage to holy places, oh Naam Dev. 1. Word Meaning: Teen = three (the three effects of Maya). A man's lifestyle is reflected in the type of business he runs. People undertake different types of businesses to earn a livelihood, which also reflects their nature. In this holy Shabad, Nam Dev Ji tells us the type of business he deals in – Waheguru's Naam. Chhund(u) = is a type of lyric. Naam Dev Ji has combined three types of rhyming terms to give this holy Shabad the form of a chhund. Khayl(u) = drama (of life). Achhaiy = Go = is. Pause. Koombhaar = potter. Ghur = home; shop; dealings. Haandi = pottery. Saandi = animals to ride. Raandi = a book for future predictions. 1. Baaniya = a grocer (shopkeeper). Heeng(u) = a spice (asafoetida). Bhaiynsur = a male buffalo. Seeng = horns. Dayvul = a temple. Mudhay = inside. Leeng(i) = Shiva's genitals. 2. Tayli = an oil-extractor (dealer). Jungle = forest. Bayl = vines; bushes. Maali = gardener. Kayl = banana-like fruit trees. Gobind = God. Gokul = the place (near Mathura) where Krishna grew up. Shiyam = dark-coloured Krishna. Ram = God. 3.

MEANING: Most of the humans play the drama of life (lead their life) under the influence of the three effects of Maya. A potter deals in pottery and has haandi (pots) in his house (or shop), whereas a rajah has saandi (animals like horses to ride on) in his stable. A Brahman has raandi - books that deal with predictions about auspicious or inauspicious moments in one's life. So, the three rhyming terms are haandi, saandi and raandi. 1.

A grocer has items like heeng(u) (asafoetida) in his shop, while a buffalo has seeng (horns) on its forehead. A temple has an idol of Shiva in the form of a lingam (his genitals). The three rhyming terms are: leeng(u), seeng and heeng. 2.

An oil extractor (dealer) has oil in his shop, while vines and bushes grow in the jungle. A gardener has kayl (fruit trees like bananas) in his orchard. So, in this case, the three rhyming items are: kayl, bayl, and tayl. 3. The holy saints have Gobind (a name for Vishnu) in their mind, while Shiyam (Krishna) is popular in Gokul. But I have only Ram (God) in my heart, oh Naam Dev. In this case, the three names making up the chhund are: Ram, Shiyam and Gobind. 4.3.

NOTE: The important message in this holy Shabad is conveyed in the last stanza, which explains that people love Maya and earn their living in many different ways. But, for the devotees, God's Naam is the most precious thing.

Various ideas of the Puranas and of the six Shastras sing praise of the Great Waheguru. Shiva and the 330 million gods also remember Waheguru, but are unable to know His secrets (the ways by which He runs the universe). 1. The gods, the humans, the assistants of the gods, and all His creation, sing Waheguru's praise, but only those devotees are pious saints whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak. 2.1.

MEANING: Sing Waheguru's praise in the company of the holy saints, oh, my mind. Waheguru (His Naam) is such a precious jewel which purifies the mind; but, Waheguru's Naam is a gift which only the Guru can grant to the devotee. Pause.
I will gladly offer my body and mind to the kind devotee who will recite Waheguru's Naam for me (to absorb). I will give all my money, luxuries of life, and my wealth to the kind devotee who can connect me with Waheguru. 1.
When Waheguru showed me even a small amount of His benevolence, even if only for a short while, I was impelled and prompted to sing His praise. All my suffering of selfishness and ego was eradicated when I got connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Nind = vilification. Goon(u) = nature; virtue (of forgiveness). Pause. Kaar Kmaavaiy = performs tasks; does business. Boal(i) Boolaavaiy = makes people talk. 1. Punch Tutt(u) = the five basic elements: earth, water, fire (energy), air, and sky (awareness). Bisthaara = spread; expansion. Punch Dhaatoo = the five demons [lust, rage, greed, attachment (possessiveness), ego]. Jhugur(u) = mental conflict. 2.
MEANING: A devotee of Waheguru always sings His praise. If someone vilifies the devotee, he does not lose his forgiving nature. Pause. The devotee knows that (being present in everybody), it is Waheguru, which is behind every action of human beings, and it is He who does their business (prompts them to do). It is Waheguru, who advises everybody and who makes them utter the words that they do. 1.
It is Waheguru, who has created the universe from the five basic elements (ingredients); it is He again who injects the five demons – lust, rage, greed, possessiveness, and ego - into all living beings. It is Waheguru again, which connects His devotees with Him, and ends the internal conflict in them, oh Nanak. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Nistaara = salvation. Koat(i) Kotuntur = of millions; of countless. Khovaiy = removes. Bhuvjul Paar(i) Ootaara = ferries across the sea of Maya. Pause.
Bust = dwells. Nirbhuou = fearless. Nirvaiyr(u) = bears no enmity (is forgiving). Nirunkaara = formless. Nicket(i) = close by. Laadha = found; realized. 1. Shaah(u) = Lord (of the Naam-wealth). MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam, which leads to your salvation, oh my mind. Waheguru's Naam eradicates the sins of one's countless lives, and ferries him across the world-sea. Pause. The Lord, Waheguru, who is fearless, has no enmity with anyone (is forgiving), is formless, and resides in the body-city of the man. Even though He resides so close to us, yet we can see nothing of Him; He can be realized only by contemplating on the Shabad of the Guru. 1. Waheguru Himself is the money-Lord (of the wealth of His Naam), Himself the jeweller, the jewel, the diamond (all the noble qualities), and has Himself disseminated all these noble qualities. A devotee, whom Waheguru is kind to, deals in His Naam; he is truly wealthy, and a real dealer in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.4.

Word Meaning: Nirunjun(u) = unaffected by Maya (God). Sookh-Daata = source of all comfort. Unt(u) Na Paaravaar = no end to limits; limitless. Pause. Ugun(i) Koond = pit of fire (mother's womb). Oordh = upside down. Liv Laaga = mind focused (on Waheguru). Oodur Munjhaara = in the womb. 1. Numuskaara = bow to (show respect). Adhaara = basis; support. 2.
MEANING: Recite the Naam of the formless Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, oh my mind. We must remember the source of all comforts, Waheguru, which has no end to His limits. Pause. The fetus in the mother's womb grows upside down and survives the high heat of the womb because it is connected to Waheguru, who protects it. So, serve (recite the Naam, and obey the Will of) such Waheguru, which also protects at the end (breaks the cycle of your rebirths), oh my mind. 1. Pay respects to the saint who has Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, and recite Waheguru's Naam in his company, which is the basis of one's life. But, Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only by His benevolence, oh Nanak. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Nit = every day; always. Ichheh(i) = wished. Ful(u) = reward. Pause Jup(u) = recitation of some mantras. Tup = self-torture; hard labour. Bert = Vow to observe something; fasting. Pooja = worship. Jhootthi = false; short-lived. Khin(i) Meh(i) = in a short moment. Bissur(i) = forgotten. 1. Serb Kul Poora = perfect with all powers; omnipotent. Chhudaayay = salvage. 2.

MEANING: Always recite and remember Waheguru's Naam whereby one gets all his wishes fulfilled, and never suffers any trouble again, oh my mind. Pause. People recite mantras, torture themselves, and make tough commitments to please their deities, but only those efforts approved by Waheguru result in love for Him. Any love (attachment) with anything other than Waheguru is false (short-lived) and is forgotten quickly. 1.

You are limitless and perfect, with all powers (omnipotent), and no one can know the true worth of Your capabilities, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter, please protect me from the attacks of Maya in whatever way you deem fit. 2.6.

Shabad: You are everlasting, great, benevolent, perfectly pure, and the provider, oh Waheguru. I have made a request to You, please listen to my situation carefully (Waheguru is the only power to whom we should pray). 1. The world is perishable, but my mind believes it to be true (everlasting). My mind does not realize that my hair is in the grip of Israel, the Angel of Death. Pause. (When death comes), There will be no one, including my wife, sons, father, and brothers, to hold my hand (to save me from death). When I fall to my death, nobody will be there to keep (save) me, and the final prayer of burial will be offered. 2.

With evil thoughts in my mind, I have been wandering day and night to satisfy my appetite for lust and greed. I have never performed a noble act; this is my situation, oh Waheguru. 3.
I am unfortunate, and there is no one else like me who is a back-biter, negligent, shameless, and fearless. Nanak is Your slave, and begs for the dust of the feet of Your devotees (an opportunity to serve them and recite Your Naam in their company), oh Waheguru. 4.1.

MEANING: (The yogis who claim to be detached from the world in Your search, use cannabis with the belief that it enhances their concentration during meditation, and carry a bowl to collect alms when they go door to door). People, like the yogis, may call me insane, but I am also detached from the world. However, respectful fear for You is the cannabis for me, and my mind is the bag in which I store my cannabis of Your fear, oh my Waheguru. (Rather than hunger of the stomach), I am hungry for Your holy sight, and my hands joined (clasped) together serve as the bowl to collect alms (of Your sight) which I beg for all the time at Your Door. 1. I pray for Your holy sight; please grant this donation I beg for at Your Door. Pause. Saffron, flowers, musk, and gold do not discriminate between people; they adorn everybody the same way. Similarly, Waheguru's devotees are like the sandalwood extract, which gives its fragrance (noble advice) to everybody without any discrimination. 2. Good things, like ghee and silk, can be stored in containers of any shape or type (their worth does not change with the shape or type of the container), and nobody cares about the shape of the vessel. Similarly, the worth (greatness) of Waheguru's bhagats (devotees) is not affected by the caste in which they are born. Their teachings are equally valuable. 3.

Please, put me in the shelter (company) of Your devotees who stay absorbed in Your Naam all the time so that I may get connected with You, and receive the donation of Your holy sight, oh Waheguru. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Paahiya = has a primer of; has a coating of. Leetrra Rungaayay = got dyed. Lub = greed to eat; gluttony. Kunt = (Waheguru) husband. Choalrra = robe; cloak (such a greedy body). Kiyoun = how? Dhun = the human bride. Sayjay = on the bed. Huoun = I. Koorbaanaiy = sacrifice life. Mehrvaana = oh, kind and generous Lord. Tinha Kay = of (for) those. Sud = always. Pause. Kaayaan = body. Rungun(i) = the vessel to dye clothes in. Theeyay = becomes. Naaoun Mujeetth = madder colour (deep red), the never-fading colour of Waheguru's Naam. Rungunvaala = the dyer (Waheguru). Deetth = to be seen. 2. Rutrray = deep red (imbued in Waheguru's love). Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet. 3. Saajay = creates. Nedr(i) = kind sight. Kaamun(i) = woman; bride. Bhaavaiy = is liked (loved). Raavay = enjoys. 4.
MEANING: (The raw fabric is given a coat of some suitable chemical – usually alum – called paah (or primer) before it is dyed to give it the desired colour); the human mind normally has the primer of Maya and is finally dyed with the colour of gluttony. My Lord does not like this kind of body (mind)-robe at all. So, how can the human bride go to the Lord's bed (get connected with Him) with such a greedy mind? 1. I am all sacrifice for those who recite Your Naam, oh, the benevolent Waheguru. Pause. If the human body becomes the vessel for the fabric (mind) to be dyed, then add the deep red, never-fading (madder colour) of Waheguru's Naam. If the dyer, Waheguru, gives that colour to the human mind, then that human mind will become so unique that it will be like none other. 2.
Waheguru is with (loves) those devotees (appears in those hearts) whose mind-cloaks are dyed deep red in His love. I pray for the dust of their feet, oh Nanak. 3.
Waheguru Himself creates human beings, dyes their minds with His love, and casts His kind sight. Such a lucky human bride is loved by the Lord, who enjoys her union with Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Word Meaning: Iyaanurriyay = oh, ignorant soul. Maanurra = conceit. Kaahay = what for? Ghur(i) = in own heart. Rungo = love. Kee = why? Maaneh(i) = enjoy. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Nayrraiy = close by. Dhun Kumleeyay = oh, foolish bride (soul). Dhoondheh(i) = searching for. Bhaiy = respectful fear. Sulaayiyaan = needles to put kohl in the eyes. Bhaav = love; affection. Sheegaaro = adornment. Sohaagun(i) = married (loved by Waheguru). Laagi = connected. 1. Baali = young bride (inexperienced new devotee). Kern-Plah = implore; supplicate. Mehl = Waheguru's Residence. Vin Kerma = without good fortune. Jay = even if. Dhaavaiy = tries hard; actively pursues. Lub = gluttony. Loabh = greed. Maati = intoxicated. Smaani = fully absorbed. Innhi Baateen = with such qualities. 2. Vaahaiy = those. Bhulaa Kur(i) Maaniyaiy = accept to be good for you. Hikmut = cleverness. Huqam = claim; reasoning. Chookaayiyaiy = give up. Pudaaruth = the invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam). Churnee Chit(u) Laayiyaiy = focus mind on His feet (obey His Will). Permul = scent; perfume. Aiv = this is what. 3. Aap(u) Guvaayiyaiy = give up (get rid of) selfishness and ego. Aur Kaiysi = what else. Chutraayee = cleverness. Nedr(i) = kind sight. Laykhaiy = worthwhile. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine treasures of the world. Subhraayee = respectable. Raati = imbued. Sehj = the blissful state of mind. Maati = intoxicated. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Bhaayay = in love. Saayay = that. Sroop = pretty; sweet-mannered. Bichukhun(i) = with a sharp mind. Siyaani = wise. 4.

MEANING: (People who renounce the world and go to forests in search of Waheguru become conceited of their "sacrifice". Guru Sahib questions the conceit and approach of such people and asks them): What are you conceited about, oh, the ignorant human bride? (Rather than leaving the house and getting conceited about it) Why don't you enjoy the love of Waheguru in your own heart? Waheguru is very close to you (in your heart), so what are you looking for in the wilderness, oh, the foolish human being? If you want to get connected with Waheguru, then put the kohl of Waheguru's respectful fear in the eyes of your mind, and adorn your body with the love for Him. A human bride can be considered married to (connected with) Waheguru only if she is loved by Him. 1. What can the ignorant and inexperienced devotee do if she is not liked by the Lord-Husband? Even though she begs and supplicates to win His love, she cannot reach His Residence (get connected with Him) like that. One cannot achieve anything without good fortune, no matter how hard one tries. Intoxicated (engrossed) in gluttony, greed, conceit, and Maya, the human bride is ignorant if she thinks that she can earn the love of her husband (Waheguru) with such qualities. 2. The right thing for her to do is to approach the devotees who are already married (connected with Waheguru), and ask them about the qualities that one needs to connect with Him. (They will tell the new devotee that) She should gladly accept the Will of Waheguru that whatever He does is good for her; she should also give up her cleverness and reasoning. She should foster love for the Feet of Waheguru (accept His Will), with whose love one acquires the desired invaluable product (of His Naam). (Women use some perfume to attract their husbands and offer their bodies to them), The devotees of Waheguru-Husband should wear the perfume, which will make them do exactly what they are told to do by Waheguru (listen to Guru's Advice) and put their body and mind in Waheguru's service (in the service of humanity) to please Him. These are the qualities by which one can connect with Waheguru, advise the married devotees. 3. There is no other cleverness than to get rid of one's selfishness and ego to please the Waheguru-Husband. The day (time) on which Waheguru casts a kind sight on the devotee is the worthwhile day when the human bride feels that she has acquired all the nine treasures of the world. Only that human bride is considered married, and is respected, who is loved by the Waheguru-Husband. Imbued in such love of Waheguru, she enjoys the bliss of high spiritual state, and stays fully absorbed in Waheguru's love day and night. She is pretty, sweet-mannered, wise, and intelligent, oh, Nanak. 4.2.4.

Word Meaning: Khusm Kee Bani = Divine Message. Taiysrra = the same. Giyan(u) = knowledge; information. Laalo = an honest and humble man living in Emnabad (the city which was later attacked by Babar. Paap kee = to commit sins. Junj = marriage party. Dhaaya = rushes (will rush to attack). Joareen = forcibly. Daan(u) = donation of land and wealth. Sherm = shame; morality. Dherm = righteousness; justice. Chhup(i) khuloyay = vanished (will vanish). Koorr(u) = injustice; cruelty. Perdhaan = in the leading role; will prevail. Gull Thukki = let alone those (will play no role). Agud = marriage. Shaitaan = Satan. Kutaybaan = Western religious texts, such as the Quran. Kusht meh(i) = in suffering. Jaat(i) = high caste. Sunaati = of low caste. Eh(i) Bhee Laykhay = in the same boat. Sohilay = songs of happiness. Rut = blood. Koongoo = saffron. 1.
Maaspuri = in the city of flesh (murdered). Musoala = subject; issue. Rung(i) Ruvaayee = engrossed in the love of Maya. Vukh(i) Akayla = alone separately. Tupaavus(u) = decision. Niyaaoun = justice. Kurayg(u) = will deliver. Kaayaan Kuppurr (u) = the fabric of human body. Took, Took = will be cut into pieces. Smaalsi Boala = remember these words (of true happening). Aavun = will come. Utthutraiy = in 1578 of Indian calendar (1521 A.D.). Sutaanvaiy = 1597 (1540 A.D.). Hoar(u) = some other. Ootthsi = will rise. Merd Ka Chayla = some great warrior. Bani = words; Huqam. Sach Kee Bayla = time to remember Waheguru. 2.

MEANING: I am going to share the Divine Knowledge that I received from the Lord, oh Lalo. (Babar, the Iranian emperor) will launch an attack from Kabul on Eminabad with a marriage party (army) to commit brutal sins here. He will forcibly ask for donations (of wealth, land, and girls). All shame and justice will disappear, and falseness (cruelty and injustice) will prevail. Pushing the Qazis and the Brahmans aside, the Satan will perform the marriage ceremony (between the Army forces of Babar and the local wealth and beauty). Amid the enjoyment of the luxuries of life, the Muslim women, who had forgotten worshipping Allah, will now read their holy books at the time of a huge disaster. The other Indian women of high and low castes will be in the same boat. Rather than the happy songs that are sung at weddings, songs of scattered blood will be sung at this tragic wedding, and rather than saffron, which is sprayed at weddings, blood will be scattered all around. 1.
While describing the events of the future, I, Nanak, am singing praise of the Lord (which is warning us about the tragic events that will take place) in the future city of flesh and blood. Waheguru, which created the whole world, and thrust it to be engrossed in Maya, is watching it from a distance (does not get involved). The Lord is perfectly just, and so are His decisions. He will deliver perfect justice. The body-fabric of humans will be cut into pieces, and India will remember these words. The Mughals will come (attack) in 1521 and will leave (be dethroned) in 1540 when some other great warrior will rise. These are the words (Message) of the Lord which Nanak is sharing with you. I will tell (advise) you the right thing to do, and that it is the time to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Lalo. 2.3.5.

TIMING OF THE SHABAD: Before leaving on His long journeys, Guru Nanak Sahib first went to Eminabad (known as Saidpur Sundiyali at that time), and stayed with Bhai Lalo, who was a low-caste carpenter but a very honest and God-fearing man. It was during Guru Sahib's stay with Bhai Lalo when He (Guru Nanak Sahib) was invited to a rich community meal by Malik Bhago, who was a high official with the local Nawab. The rich community meal by Bhago was just a show off his misleading philanthropy. His assistants forced people, particularly the poor, to donate for this "noble" cause. They robbed the people of all their monies and valuables, and collected many times more funds than the Malik spent on the community meals. The helpless people had no one to appeal to because Malik's boss, the Nawab, was equally cruel and unjust. This was annual happening, and the poor always dreaded the upcoming event and were always living in fear. When Guru Sahib saw this injustice done to the helpless, he felt a severe mental agony. The first thing He did was to decline Malik's invitation.

During one of His meditation practices, He must have seen the future attack on Eminabad by Babar as Waheguru's way to punish the corrupt and cruel rulers. But, at the same time, some serious loss of innocent lives was bound to happen. This was a worrisome situation which Guru Sahib thought as important to share with people. That is why Guru Sahib addresses Bhai Lalo in this holy Shabad. Among many other things which support the assertion that the Shabad was written long before the actual attack, and makes predictions for future happenings, are the last two lines, which confirm the assertion in which Guru Sahib predicts that the Mughals will come in 1521 and will be dethroned in 1540.

However, some people assert that this holy Shabad was articulated by Guru Sahib after the attack by Babar, and is not a future prediction. There is no concrete evidence about the timing of the Shabad one way or the other. In the book "Guru Nanak Chamatkaar" authored by Bhai Veer Singh Ji, Bhai Sahib claims that the Shabad was indeed spoken long before the attack of Babar, and was a prediction of the tragic events to come. The following points support Bhai Sahib's assertion.

(1). Guru Nanak Sahib has 950 stanzas in Shabads, Ashtpudiyaan, Chhunts, Paurris, Sloaks, etc. enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib, but no other Shabad starts with "Jaiysi mein aavaiy Khusm kee Bani" (meaning that I am going to share exactly the Divine Knowledge (information) which I received from the Lord), or anything similar to it. So, why would Guru Sahib use such wording, particularly when everybody had suffered the attack and knew about it first hand? The only reason to use such wording could be that it was a Divine Message about some future event.

(2). Guru Sahib has written three more Shabads on the subject in Raag Assa. One of those Shabads is reproduced below. As you can see, there is a big difference in emotions between the two. The Shabad above does express a worrisome and tragic situation, but there is no mental agony reflected in here. On the other hand, the Shabad below is reflective of a serious mental pain of Guru Sahib. His pain is so severe that He complains even to His dear Waheguru that why He (Waheguru) did not feel any pain when there was so much wailing and crying in the city due to the barbaric killing of the innocent by Babar's soldiers. Because of His mental pain, Guru Sahib calls the soldiers "dogs". One can clearly see that the following Shabad was written after the attack when Guru Sahib saw the tragedy with His own eyes as opposed to the Shabad under discussion where there is no indication of any such pain. Clearly the Shabad under discussion was written before the attack.

(3). In the above Shabad Guru Sahib writes that the Just Lord will deliver His unbiased justice when Babar attacks, as opposed to calling His Just Lord, merciless, albeit indirectly. Why such a big change in His emotions if both the Shabads were written after the attack? This big shift in emotions strongly supports the conclusion that the above Shabad was written before the actual happening.

(4) The most convincing proof that the Shabad was written as a future prediction comes from the dates given by Guru Sahib about the arrival and departure of the Mughals. He says that the Mughals (Babar was a Mughal) will come in 1521 (the year of actual attack by Babar on Eminabad) and will leave (be dethroned) in 1540 when some other great warrior will rise. (1540 was the year when Sher Shah Suri defeated Humanyoun – the eldest son of Babar). Even if this holy Shabad was written in 1521 after the attack of Babar, 1540 was certainly a prediction of an important event. (Remember, Guru Sahib had left this mortal world in 1539). So, the whole Shabad was written long before the attack.
(5). In the last lines, Guru Sahib says that India will remember the words of His Shabad. If the Shabad was written after the attack, what was there to remember in His words? Of course, the people would remember the attack as they would any other important event.
(6). If this Shabad was written after the attack, why would Guru Sahib address it particularly to Bhai Laalo while the whole city was suffering?
The other Shabad follows.

NOTE: This holy Shabad has special historical importance and describes the tragic loss of life and property when Babar attacked Eminabad (Saidpur Sundiyali at that time). The kind-hearted Guru Nanak was moved so much that He even complained to His dear Waheguru for the suffering caused by the barbaric killing of its citizens by the army of Babar, and He expressed His grief by writing 4 Shabads on the subject.
MEANING: After taking control of Khorasan, Babar threatened (attacked fiercely) India. So as not to take any blame (for the destructive attack by Babar), the Creator sent the angel of death in the form of Babar. He (Babar) created such a destruction of human life that the people wailed with pain; why were You not moved at the suffering of humanity, oh my Waheguru!! 1. If one powerful individual attacks another powerful individual, and each beats the other up, nobody complains or shows any resentment. But You are the creator of the whole humanity (so the weak should be protected). Pause.
If a powerful lion attacks a herd of cattle and kills some cattle, the owner is held accountable; (so, being the Lord of the world, You are responsible for the killing of all those armless and weak unarmed people who have been killed mercilessly). The dog-like soldiers of Babar's army mutilated and insulted the jewel-like, precious human lives, and there was no one to look after the dead. But it is only Your ability to connect and then disconnect the relatives. 2.
If someone establishes himself in a commanding position, and enjoys the tastes of his choice, he is still considered to be a worm in the eyes of God which picks up food (from dirt). He gets some respect only if he kills his mind as far as attractions of Maya are concerned, and then leads a life of contentment while reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.5.39.

Word Meaning: Khusmaah(u) = of the Lord. Vertnee = is operating. Sach(u) = Eternal. Khayl(u) = drama of the universe. Dhunee = Lord. 1.

Sing praise of the Waheguru, who is the Lord of everybody. What significance do I have (I am insignificant) before Waheguru, which has no rival? Pause.
Waheguru has created the air, the water, the earth, the sky, and the big houses for Him to live in (He is present in all of them). He is operating in all of them, so which of them can be called false (short-living), oh Nanak? 2.1.

MEANING: Waheguru, which has created the world, looks after it. What can we say about Him? (We have no ability to make any contribution). He knows everything about (all the needs of) the world-garden (in which the living beings are the flowers) that He has planted. 1. The man can only sing praise of the dear Waheguru, who is the source of all comforts forever. Pause. Those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam with love have to repent. They badly regret their mistake (of not reciting His Naam) when their night of life is over. 2. But Waheguru cannot be realized by repentance when life is over. One can recite His Naam only after one is reborn as a human again. 3. Only those human brides who are loved by Him realize Waheguru. They are much better than I; I do not have good qualities as they do; so, whom can I blame? 4. I will approach my friends who have enjoyed union with Waheguru and ask for their guidance. I will drop on their feet (show humility) and candidly pray to them, asking for the path to reach Waheguru. 5. (They told me) that like a good wife who obeys her husband, and wears a perfume to win his love, I will have to recognize (obey) the Will of the Waheguru-husband, and wear the perfume of His fear (show Him respectful fear). The human bride needs to have noble qualities with which she can bewitch (charm) the Dear Waheguru. Only then can she enjoy union with Him. 6. Only that devotee can be considered as connected with God, who connects with Him by the mind. One cannot get connected with Him by talking about union only, even if he has a great desire to connect with Him. 7. Just like a metal mixes with its own kind (when melted together), mediation with full devotion (love) wins the love of Waheguru to mix (merge) with Him. When one makes a bond with Waheguru with the grace of the Guru, he realizes the fearless Waheguru. 8.

If there is a patch of betel leaves in a house, the donkey does not know its worth; on the other hand, a lover of fragrances can recognize a flower from its fragrance. 9.
Similarly, a devotee, who drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam-water, gets his misgiving absorbed in itself (the misgiving disappears). Slowly, he gets connected with Waheguru in high spiritual state, and attains the everlasting highest state of spirituality, oh Nanak. 10.1.

Pause. Droag(u) = lies. Baykhubur = ignorant. Baad(u) = useless debate. Bukaah(i) = talk. Hukk(u) Sach(u) = eternal. Khaaluk = the Lord. Khulk = world; creation. Miyaanay = in. Shiyaam Moorut(i) = Krishna's idol. 2. Usmaan = sky; mind. Miyaanay = inside. Lahung = flows. Duriya = river of Waheguru's Naam – Amrit. Goosul = to bathe. Kerdun Bood = you should have. Kur(i) Fukur(u) = live like a detached ascetic. Daayim = always. Chushmay = glasses. Jeh Tuhaa = here and there (everywhere). Muoujood = present. 3. Paakun(g) Paak = purer than the purest. Shuck = doubt. Doosur = other. Kerm(u) = munificence. Kreem = benevolent. 4.

MEANING: One does not get rid of his fear or worries (does not get peace of mind) by finding faults in the religious books of the other religions; oh man. But if you concentrate on God (with full faith) even for a short moment, you will find Him present everywhere. 1. If you search for God in your mind all the time, you will never suffer from anxiety, oh man. The world, which looks very magical (captivating), is not meant to be possessed forever. Pause. The unaware (ignorant) man gets enjoyment in worthless discussions when he talks about lies in other religions. The eternal God resides in His creation; He is not present in Krishna's idol or in some other place of belief. 2. The river of Waheguru's Naam-water flows through your mind; you should have bathed in that. If you adopt the life of a detached ascetic and see the world through the glasses of faith in God all the time, you will find Him present everywhere. 3. God is purer than the purest; I can doubt about Him only if there is someone else like Him (and there is none). God is always benevolent, and He knows what He needs to do, oh Kabir. 4.1.

Haajra Hujoor(i) = present everywhere. Dur(i) Paysh(i) Munee = right in front of me. 1. Duriyaayo = river (source of everything). Duhind = giver; provider. Bissiyaar = huge; great. Bukhshund = provider of gifts. Huree = oh Waheguru. 3.

MEANING: I am blind of wisdom, and You are my support (to enlighten me), oh my God-King. I am poor (of wisdom and ego), and I am a low-caste, oh my Lord. Your Naam is my only support. Pause. You are benevolent, fulfiller of needs, and wealthy (Your treasures are always full), oh Lord. You are omnipresent and are there right in front of me. 1. You are the river (source of everything), the provider, and hugely rich (generous). You are the only one who gives (life) and takes it back; there is no one else like You. 2. You know everything and are far-sighted; what can a poor (of wisdom) person like me do (say anything in Your praise)? You are the provider of all gifts, oh the Lord of Nama (Nam Dev)! 3.1.

Word Meaning: Hulay Yaara = oh friend (God). Khoosh(i) Khubree = good (comforting) news. Bul(i) Bul(i) Jaaoun = I am a sacrifice. Neeki = beautiful; blissful. Bigaari = working for free. Aalay = a small box to store things; brain; mind. Pause. Kooja = where from. Aamud = (You) came. Ruftee = (You) went. May Ruvee = (You) are going. Raas(i) = performance of a dance and songs by Krishna with his cowgirls in Dwarika. Bugoyee = said (sang). 1. Khoob = great; amazing. Puggree = turban. Boal = words; language. Kaahay Kay = what for. Mugoal = (in the city of) Mughals (Muslims); Mecca. 2. Chundee Huzaar = several thousand. Aalum = worlds. Aikul = single; alone. Khaana = Master. Hum Chinee = just like this. Saanvlay Berna = dark-coloured. 3. Usput(i) = Lord of the horses (the sun). Gujput(i) = Lord of elephants (Indra). Nureh Narind = king of humans (Brahma). Meer = King. Mookund = Vishnu or Krishna. 4.

MEANING: Any news about You is always very comforting, oh my Lord friend. I am always a sacrifice for You. With Your Naam in my mind (and unlike the worldly errands which are done as an obligation without any compensation), any service to You is highly blissful for me, oh my Lord. Pause. Where did You come from? Where did you go? And where are we going? (You never go and come; You are everywhere). (Because You are present in everybody), It was You who performed the dance and sang songs with cowgirls in Dwarika.
1. You look amazing in a turban (as a Muslim) and Your language is very sweet (when You are present in Your devotees who sing Your praise). Why do people say You are present only in Dwarika or (in the holy city, Mecca) of Mughals? 2.
There are several thousand worlds, and You alone are the Lord of all. The dark coloured Krishna is also like You (You are present in him too). 3.
There are many gods, like the sun, Indra, Brahma, Vishnu, and Krishna, but the real King (Emperor of all) is my Lord. 4.2.3.

Word Meaning: Bhaanda = vessel; container. Dhoop(u) = incense. Kerm = deeds. Phoonn(i) = then. Soort(i) = concentration of mind. Smaayin(u) = culture. Niraas = detached from worldly affairs. Jummaavhou = make yogurt. 1.

Uver(i) = others. Niraaful = worthless; without any reward. Pause.

Eetee = small wooden handles at the ends of the rope used to rotate the agitator. Phoonn(i) = and. Rusna = tongue. Jup-hou = recite. Muthiyaiy = churn. Bidh(i) = ways; means. Amrit(u) = life sustaining Naam-water. 2.

Sumput = box. Satsur = the pool of Waheguru's Naam-water; in holy gathering. Bhaavun = intent; love and respect. Paati = leaves; flowers. Triput(i) = contentment; please. Pooja = worship. Praan = (with) life (full dedication). Ruvut(u) = worshipped; stays connected. 3.

Kehnday = those who describe. Sur = equal. Bhugut(i)heen(u) = devoid of worshipping. Jumpaiy = requests. Salaaheen = sing praise. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: The only way to connect with Waheguru (God) is to recite His Naam. All other rituals and approaches are worthless (are not rewarded). Pause.

When a woman needs to make yogurt from milk, she cleanses the vessel first, fragrances it with incense, adds the milk, and then adds the culture to make yogurt. Similarly, one needs to cleanse one's mind - the vessel in which to store Waheguru's Naam. Think of your (noble) deeds of reciting Waheguru's Naam as milk, and add the culture of dedication and full concentration of mind, which should be detached from worldly affairs, to convert it into the yogurt of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. 1.

We hold (control) the string of the agitator by the wooden handles to churn yogurt; similarly, one needs to hold (control) the mind to stop it from wandering, and recite Waheguru's Naam with his tongue, but do not drowse off when reciting the Naam. This is the way to churn Guru's Shabad and acquire Waheguru's Amrit-Naam. 2.

The Brahman puts the idol in a box and tries to please it with flowers. We should use our mind as a box to store Waheguru's Naam, and take a dip in the holy pool of the gathering of holy saints. Our good intentions of love and respect should be like flowers that please Waheguru. If one serves Waheguru selflessly with full dedication, he stays connected with Him. 3. Many people describe You in many different ways and leave this world, but You are indescribable as there is none like You to compare with, oh dear Waheguru. I am devoid of His worship, but I do make a humble submission that I sing praise of the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak(u). 4.

Word Meaning: Untar(i) = inside (the heart). Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Bikh(u) = poisonous sensual desires. 1. Giyan = Divine Knowledge; Guru's Shabad. Chaakur = servants; devotees. Kayray = of. Pause.
Dhiyan(u) = concentration. Ruvaiy = says (claims) (only to impress others). Baandhun(i) Baandhiya = bonded to worldly attractions. Bhuvvaiy = roams about. 2. Chaakur = selfless service. Thul(i) = on the land. Muhhiul(i) = in the sky. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Soyay = Waheguru. 3.
Prunvut(i) = requests. Taaray = emancipates. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru resides inside your heart, oh man. Why do you go outside (in the forests) to search for Him and taste the poison of sensual desires, leaving the Naam-Amrit aside? 1. Serve the eternal Waheguru by reciting His Naam (Guru's Shabad), which is full of Divine Knowledge, oh my friends. Pause.
Everybody talks about Divine Knowledge and concentration of mind, customarily (to impress others). But the whole world goes around, strongly bonded with Maya. 2.
Waheguru is present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. His real slave (devotee) is the one who serves Him selflessly, oh my friends. 3. There is none in this world who can be considered bad; it is I who is not good. I wish to make only one request (submission) that Waheguru is the only power who salvages us, oh Nanak(u). 4.1.2.

NOTE: This holy Shabad is believed to have been sung by Guru Nanak Sahib to a robber and murderer named Sajjan, who had built an inn to provide free lodging and boarding to travellers. He had even built a mosque and a temple for the guests to worship. He enjoyed a great reputation as a philanthropist and a great host across a wide area. But, in reality, he was a robber and a murderer in the garb of a holy man. He would choose one or two guests every night who he thought were very rich. He would kill them and keep all their possessions. He would throw their dead bodies in a secret deep well on his premises. He was never caught for his heinous crimes because of the patronage of the police officials. Guru Nanak Sahib decided to reform him and stayed with him for a night. Guru Sahib refused to accept all his hospitable services and, at night, began to sing this holy Shabad, in which the criminal and sinful intentions of the holy-looking people are described. Sajjan saw his own mean nature in the Shabad as if it were sung just to expose his heinous crimes. He dropped on Guru Sahib's feet and begged to be forgiven. Guru Sahib told him to return the belongings to the rightful owners and distribute the rest among the needy. Sajjan was transformed into a real holy man. Now enjoy the Shabad.

MEANING: Bronze looks very shiny, but leaves black stains when rubbed hard. This impurity of bronze cannot be washed away even if it is washed hundreds of times. 1.
Only those are your real friends who accompany you (support you) everywhere, and stand by you (lend full support) wherever the account of your deeds is demanded (share responsibility), oh man. Pause.
Houses, decorations, and mansions may be very attractive when they are decorated with beautiful paintings on the outside, but they become worthless if they are empty inside. (A man is worthless if he has no-good qualities even if he is dressed richly). 2.
Herons have white bodies (look innocent like swans) and may be living at holy places (thus may look holy), but they cannot be considered white (holy) because they strangulate fish to eat them. (A seemingly holy man living at a holy place cannot be holy if he robs innocent people). 3. The Simmel tree is huge and tall and bears attractive fruit to which the parrots are mistakenly attracted, but the fruit is distasteful, so the parrots get disappointed because it is no good to them. My body is just like the Simmel tree which has no-good quality. 4. If a blind man carries a huge load and undertakes a difficult mountainous journey for which one needs eyes to see, which the blind man does not have, so, how can he cross the mountain to go to other side? (We are like the blind man who carries a heavy load of sins, but has no wisdom to understand its implications). 5.
Service, noble deeds, or any other types of wisdom are useless if they are used simply to please others for selfish reasons. The only worthwhile thing to do is to recite Waheguru's Naam, which frees one from the worldly bonds, oh Nanak. 6.1.3.

Word Meaning: Jup = recitation of some Waheguru's Naam. Tup = hard labour to attain high morality. Bundh(u) = build. Bayrrula = beautiful boat. Vuhayla = quickly; readily. Survur (u) = pool of desires. Oochhlaiy = overflows. Punth = path; means. Soohayla = easy; comforting. 1.
Munjeetthrra = deep red which never fades; love for Waheguru. Rutta = dyed red. Choala = robe (mind). Rung = love. Dhoala = husband (Waheguru). Pause.
Saajun = friends. Chullaiy = leave this world. Kiyoun = how. Mayla = union (with God). Guntthrriyaiy = in possession. Soyee = that (God). 2.
Miliya = connected with. Veechhurraiy = separated; disconnected. Aavagaun = birth and death. Nivaariya = eliminated. 3.

Haumein = selfishness and ego. Seeta = stitched; taylored. Buchnee = Words; Shabad. Sheh = husband (Waheguru). Amrit Boala = life-sustaining words. 4.
Shuhou = husband. Khura = much. Kayriyaan = of. Daasiyaan = slaves. 5.
MEANING: Your Naam is the only fast colour that dyes my body (mind) with Your love all the time, oh my dear Husband (Waheguru). Pause.
So, build a boat of Waheguru's Naam, and work hard to attain high morality by which you can get across the world-sea easily, oh my friend. When you do that, the high waves of worldly desires will not rise in the world-sea (your mind), and they will cause no obstacles in the journey of your life, which will become pleasant for you, oh my friends. 1.
My dear friends are leaving this world, but how can they connect with Waheguru? If they have noble qualities in their possession, Waheguru Himself will connect them with Him. 2.
Once connected with Waheguru, they never get disconnected again, because the eternal Waheguru terminates the cycle of rebirths for them. 3.
With Guru's Amrit-like Shabad, one's selfishness and ego are killed (eliminated), and he gets a new robe (for his mind) dyed with love for Waheguru. 4.
The Waheguru-Husband is very dear (loving), oh my friends. We are His slaves (devotees), and He is our Master, oh Nanak(u). 5.2.4.

Leekhiya = in fate. Deekhiya = advice. Bhaayay = in love; according to the advice. Bhuveh(i) Na = roam around. Bheekhiya = alms (of spiritual advice). 2.
Mehl(u) = Waheguru's presence. Hujoor(i) = right in front; close by. Nivaiy = yields; subservience. Durvaani = of the gate keepers. Moolay Naahi = not at all. Poochh = questioning. Chhottay = let free. Ta Kaiy = of Waheguru. Boal(i) = words; Shabad. 3.

Bukhsheesh = gift. Nudri = with kind sight. Kerm(u) = benevolence.
MEANING: Waheguru purifies and decorates the mind of the individual with noble qualities whose heart is full of love for Him. Waheguru eradicates all his sufferings and enhances his comforts. There should be no doubt in the mind of the devotee that Waheguru will salvage him for sure. 1. The Guru gets connected with those who have the connection with Him pre-written in their fate. The Guru bestows Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam to such devotees in the form of His Teachings. The devotees, who follow the Teachings of the Guru with full faith, do not have to wander around (search for) any spiritual advice from somebody else.2.

Those, who find Waheguru close to them, do not have to bow to (act as subservient) to any body else, and no gate keeper at the Court of Waheguru can question them in any way. Those who Waheguru is kind to are spared all questioning because they have Waheguru's Naam on their tongue. 3.
Waheguru sends and calls back humans as He wishes, and there is no one who can advise Him. He demolishes (kills), and creates (gives life) as He pleases; He knows how to create things (he is omnipotent). His Naam is a gift to those whom he is kind to, oh Nanak. 4.3.5.

Word Meaning: Bhaanda = human heart. Huchha = good; pure. Tis(u) = Waheguru. Bhaavsi = is liked by. Ut(i) Muleen(u) = etremely dirty (filthy). Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Veechaar(u) = decision. Vertaayaysi = deliver. Mut(u) = lest. Uggaiy = next world; Waheguru's Court. Kerm = deeds. Kmaayay = earns; performs. Put(i) Siyoun = with dignity. Junum(u) Svaar(i) = make life successful. Vaaja Vaayaysi = play music in honour. Maanus(u) = humans. Vaychaara = helpless. Tihou Loak = the three worlds. Nihaal(u) = blissful. Kool = associates. Taarsi = get salvation. 1.4.6.
MEANING: Only that human heart is pure, which is liked (approved) by Waheguru. The man, whose heart is extremely filthy (with sinful thinking), cannot be purified by washing his body (even at holy places). He gets this understanding (about filthy and pure) in the shelter of the Guru, and can be purified there. Then, he can decide (find out) whether his heart (mind) is pure or filthy. Let no one be under the false impression that he can know the difference between pure and filthy in Waheguru's Court (and purify it there). His character is shaped by the kind of deeds he performs. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit, which is delivered (given) by Him. A true devotee (who has Waheguru's Naam in his heart) makes his life successful, and leaves this world with honour, and he feels as if music is played in his honour. Waheguru spreads his fame (honour) not just among a few people, but also in all the three worlds (this world, the underworld, and the worlds above). Not only such a devotee leaves this world blissfully, but he also gets salvation for his associates too, oh Nanak. 1.4.6.

Word Meaning: Jogi = yogi. Jogvaiy = practises yogism. Bhogi = enjoying worldly comforts. Tupiya = self-torturer. Mul(i) Mul(i) = washing well. 1.
Sudrra = Message; Naam. Buhhaiy = with love and respect and with focussed mind. Alaayay = says; recites. Pause. Beejaiy = sows. Loonaiy = cuts; reaps. Khuttaiy = earns. Uggaiy = next world; Waheguru's Court. Poochh = questioning. Sun(u) = including. Neeshaanaiy = certificate of approval. 2.
Kaandhiyaiy = is called. Kaar Kmaayay = performs deeds. Dum(u) = breath. Birtha = empty; worthless. 3.
Baiy Kureen = give full rights. Vikaayay = sale; buy. Kumm(I) Na = of no use. 4.

MEANING: A yogi practises yogism, and a person who is used to enjoying worldly comforts continues to do so, while a self-torturer endures hardships to please his deity and takes dips at holy places where he cleanses his body well (but not his mind). 1.
But I want to listen only to Your Naam if someone can recite it with love and respect and with focussed mind. Pause.
One reaps the rewards of what he sows, and eats what he earns (reaps the results of his deeds). But nobody questions the devotee (asks for the account of his deeds) who has the certificate of Waheguru's approval (His Naam in heart) in Waheguru's Court. 2.
An individual is known by the kind of deeds he performs. The breath, during which one does not remember Waheguru, goes waste. 3. I will sell my body and give all its right to the individual if there is some, to buy it (and gives me Waheguru's Naam). The body, which does not have Waheguru's Naam in it, is of no use, oh Nanak. 4.5.7.

Unjun maah(i) Nirunjun(i) ruhhiyaiy, jog(u) joogut(i) tuou paayiyaiy. 4.1.8.

Word Meaning: Jog(u) = union with God. Khintha = a quilt of rags. Dunddaiy = with a baton. Moondi = earrings. Moond(i) = head. Moondaayaiyn = shaving. Singi vaayiyaiy = blow a bugle. Unjun = kohl; Maya. Nirunjun(i) = Waheguru (His Naam). Joogut(i)= technique. Ivv = like this. 1.

Gulleen = simply by talking. Drisht(i) = sight. Sumsur(i) = equal; the same. Pause. Murreen Musaaneen = in graveyards. Taarri = focus sight on something. Days(i) Disuntar(i) = in different countries (areas); far and near. Bhuvviyaan = roaming around. 2.

Bhaytaiy = on meeting with. Sehsa = worries; doubts. Dhaavut Vurj(i) = control the wandering mind. Nijhur(u) Jhuraiy = spring begins to flow. Sehj Dhoon(i) = concentration of mind in the blissful state. Purcha = make connection. 3.

Jeevtiyaan Mur(i) Ruhhiyaiy = kill (contro) worldly desires. Aiysa jog(u) = such yogism (union with God). Nirbhuou Pud(u) = the spiritual state of fearlessness. 4.

NOTE: The yogis wear many symbols of their faith, including large glass earrings, a quilt of rags, a baton, shaving their heads, covering their bodies with ash to make themselves unattractive to women, and blowing a trumpet. In this holy Shabad Guru Nanak Sahib explains that mere wearing of symbols of their faith does not lead to union with Waheguru. The yogis also live in graveyards or in the wilderness to avoid worldly affairs (but Maya still intrudes on their thoughts). Guru Sahib advises that one has to stay detached from the attractions of Maya while living in the family to realize God.

MEANING: Wearing a quilt of rags does not lead to union with Waheguru, nor does holding a Baton, oh, yogi. Nor does covering your body with ash, or shaving your head, or blowing a trumpet lead to union with God. You have to stay detached from worldly attractions while keeping Waheguru in mind all the time to achieve union with Him, oh yogi. 1.

One does not achieve union with Waheguru only by talking about Him. A real yogi is the one who sees everybody with the same eye (does not discriminate between people for any reason) and treats everybody the same way. Pause. One does not achieve union with Waheguru by living in graveyards or in wilderness, or by focussing mind on some object. One does not achieve union with God by roaming around far and near; nor does one achieve union with God by taking dips at holy places. One must remain detached from worldly attractions while keeping Waheguru in mind at all times to achieve union with Him. 2. One's doubts are cleared when he gets connected with the Guru whereby, he is able to control his ever-wandering mind. He is then able to connect with God by the mind (without leaving his home), and his mind becomes focused on Him in a high spiritual state when the spring of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit begins to flow in his mind (he becomes fully imbued in the Naam). The only way to realize God is to stay detached from worldly attractions while keeping Him in mind all the time. 3.

One has to kill their mind (control it) as far as worldly attractions are concerned while living in the family. This is the path to union with God, oh Nanak. When one feels that the Divine music is automatically playing in his mind without blowing the bugle, he can be assured that he has acquired the spiritual state of fearlessness. The real means to achieve union with Waheguru is to remain detached from Maya while keeping Waheguru in mind at all times. 4.1.8.

Word Meaning: Traaji = weighing scale. Toola = standard weight. Sraaf(u) = evaluator. Kaiy Peh(i) = from whom. Deekhiya = spiritual advice. Mooll(u) = worth. 1. Laal Jeo = oh, my dear. Unt(u) = ends; limits. Jul(i) = in the waters. Thul(i) = on the land. Mihhiul(i) = in the sky. Bhurpoor(i) Leena = fully absorbed; omnipresent = Serb Smaana. Pause.
Chit(u) = mind; in memory. Ghut = heart. Bheetur(i) = inside. Shuhou = husband; Lord. Toaleen = evaluate. Bidh(i) = means. Chit(u) Ruhaavaan = satisfy mind. 2. Kunda = the pointer. Boojhaiy = understands. Vunjaara = trader (in qualities). 3. Undhula = blind; in dark. Neech = ignoble. Perdaysi = wanderer. Khin(u) = Til(u) = a short moment. Sungut(i) = in the company. Moorra = foolish. Paavaiy = acquires.
MEANING: There is no way to find Your limits, oh my dear Lord. You are pervading the waters, the land, and the sky, and are fully absorbed in everybody (are omnipresent). Pause. (Waheguru's magnanimity cannot be measured in any way), so what kind of measuring scale, and what kind of standard weight can I use to measure His grandeur! Which evaluator should I call in, and which guru should I seek the advice of to evaluate You, oh my Waheguru? 1. I need to make up my mind on the scale, and the standard weight, and my service to You will serve as the evaluator. I need to weigh Your qualities in my own heart (make a connection with You); this is the only way to satisfy my mind (to satisfy my curiosity and make it peaceful) (one sees Waheguru's grandeur when he becomes "one" with Him). 2. Waheguru Himself is the pointer of the scale, the standard weight, the scale, and the evaluator. He looks after everybody, knows their needs, and (being present in everybody) is also the dealer in noble qualities. 3.

The human mind is ignorant (is in darkness), is ignoble (always thinks of sensual pleasures), wanders all the time like a traveller, and becomes stable for a short moment, and begins to wander the next moment. Living in the company of such a fickle and lustful mind, how can the foolish man achieve union with Waheguru, oh Nanak? 4.2.9.

Toottha = pleased to be kind. Perbodhiya = enlightened. Gutkay = while enjoying. Pause. Ootum = supreme; best. Kayri = of. Pug = feet. Jun Kay = of the devotee (Guru). 2.
Rus = sweetness. Ruskay = while enjoying. Tiss = thirst; yearning. Tiskay = of that. 3. Paat(i) = clan. Vaychiyo = sold; surrendered. Laaj = honour. 4.

MEANING: I recited Waheguru's Naam with the Shabad of the Guru as a result of which all my wishes have been fulfilled, and all the fear of the Angel of death has been eradicated. 1.
Sing the virtues (praise) of Waheguru, and recite His Naam, oh my mind. The Guru has kindly awakened (enlightened) my mind, and I have enjoyed the taste of the Amrit-like sweet Naam of Waheguru. Pause.

MEANING: On reciting the Naam of the Supreme Being (Waheguru), the whole army of different kinds of my poverty has been destroyed. The fear of birth and death has been eradicated on reciting Guru's Shabad, and I have been fully absorbed in the source of all comforts - the eternal Waheguru. 1.

Recite the Naam of the extremely dear Waheguru, oh my mind. I have offered my mind and body to the service of the Guru, and have sold my head (surrendered my wisdom) to Him for a very high price (in exchange for the priceless Naam of Waheguru). Pause.
The rajahs enjoy the luxuries of all entertainments of life, but, without Waheguru's Naam, they are all held prisoners by the Angel of death. The Angel of justice hands them severe punishment for their ignoble deeds, for which they have to repent. 2.
We are just worms for You, but You raise and nourish us. We have come to Your shelter, please protect us against the attacks of Maya, oh kind Waheguru. I am a slave of Yours; kindly fulfill my wish, and connect me with the Saint (Guru) so that I may enjoy bliss in His shelter, oh Waheguru. 3.
You are great and omnipotent, oh Lord. Kindly donate Your Naam to me, even if it is for a short moment. Your slave, Nanak, enjoys blissfulness when he recites Your Naam. I, Nanak, will gladly offer my life to acquire Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4.2.

Doohchaariya = having ignoble qualities; full of vices. Ungee = saviour. Ung(u) = doing favour. Amritsar(i) = Pool of Amrit-like Naam. Kilvikh = sins. Pung(u) = mud. 3. Deen = helpless. Duyyal = kind; benevolent. Sung(u) = company. 4.
MEANING: Dye your mind with the love of Waheguru's Naam, oh my friend. The Guru was very kind to give this advice (to dye my mind with Waheguru's love), which connected me with the Waheguru-Emperor without any reservations. Pause.
Love for Waheguru is the same as the love for His Naam, and love for Waheguru is very strong, like the deep red colour of mujeetth (madder), which never fades away. With His advice, the benevolent Guru dyes the mind of the devotees with the love for Waheguru which never breaks (comes off) again. 1. The young human mind is deeply engrossed in Maya because of which it (the man) is highly conceited, and follows itself as a result of which the birth-death cycle always accompanies it (the man keeps taking rebirths). Because of his love for Maya, the man never thinks of Waheguru. 2.

We are full of filth (of bad deeds and bad thinking), but You are our saviour. Kindly save us from the sinful deeds which we commit under the influence of Maya (sensual pleasures), oh Waheguru. When the Guru is kind, He makes us take a dip in the holy pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit whereby the mud of all our sins is washed away. 3.
You are always kind to the helpless (humble); kindly put us in the company of the holy saints (Guru). Waheguru's slave (devotee), Nanak, wishes to say that the human mind and body are dyed with the love of Waheguru in the company of the holy saints (the Guru). 4.3.

Giyani = wise. Koraiy = brand new fabric. Loachaiy = wishes for. Pause.

Boojhaiy = understand. Aikus(u) = the "One" (God). Smaayay = gets absorbed. 4.
MEANING: The mind of an individual who may say "Waheguru" (God) with his tongue, but performs deceitful acts all the time, can never be pure. Such a person may perform many religious rituals every day, but can never enjoy peace (comfort) even in his dreams. 1.
One cannot worship Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru, oh wise man. Just as a brand-new fabric cannot take on permanent colour without a coating of primer first, the mind of a new devotee cannot be dyed with the love for Waheguru (without taking shelter of the Guru), even if he desperately longs for it. Pause.
The suffering of the individual who follows his own mind never goes away, even if he performs rituals such as reciting mantras, enduring self-inflicted hardships, trying to keep his senses under control, fasting, or worshipping idols. He suffers from a serious disease of ego and humiliation because of his love for Maya. 2.

He may wear religious symbols (for a show-off) and be highly shrewd, but he has no control over his mind, which wanders in every direction. Badly influenced by his selfishness and ego, he does not recognize (believe in) Guru's Shabad as a result of which he keeps taking births again and again. 3. But, the individual, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, comes to understand the importance of Guru's Shabad, and begins to recite Waheguru's Naam. With the Guru's benevolence, he understands that Waheguru is the only Supreme Being and becomes absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 4.4.

With the munificence of Waheguru, the human mind gets dyed in Waheguru's love and gets absorbed in Him (His Naam) with the guidance of the Guru. 1.
Everybody longs for Waheguru's love, but only that devotee acquires the deep colour of Waheguru's love who obeys the Guru's advice. 2.
The individual, who follows his own mind, is foolish, and remains devoid of Waheguru's love, and fosters no love for Him even if he longs (tries) for that hundreds of times 3.

The tongue which drinks (tastes) the sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru becomes fully contented and stays absorbed in the high spiritual state. 1.
If one acquires Waheguru's sweet Naam in the shelter of the Guru, he gets imbued in the sweetness of Waheguru's love. 2.
The follower of his mind (Maya-engrossed individual) is unable to taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam and receives severe punishment because of his selfishness and ego. 3.

Tilk(u) = anointment; show respect. Undin(u) = every day. Pursay = touch feet (accord respect). Raayay = royal; emperor. 4.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Ram Daas Ji emphasizes that the caste system created and imposed by the uppermost class, the Brahmans, has no bearing on the so-called lower castes as far as union with Waheguru is concerned. There have been great bhagats (devotees) among the lower castes who became "one" with Waheguru. He names a few of them, including Ravidass, Bidder, and Nam Dev, to inspire the members of the lower castes to worship Waheguru.

MEANING: Listen to the indescribable story (description of the virtues) of Waheguru because of which all your worries, all your doubts, all suffering, and your appetite (dissatisfaction) of all kinds will disappear, oh my devotee brothers. Pause.
Ask Bidder who was the son of a low-caste maid, but who achieved the supreme spiritual state by worshipping Waheguru, and who was paid a visit by Sri Krishna. 1.
Ravidass was a low-caste cobbler, but when he sang praise of Waheguru even for a short moment, the low-caste cobbler achieved a high spiritual state because of which people of all four castes dropped on his feet (showed respect for him). 2.
Namdev, whom people called a washerman, developed a love for Waheguru to the extent that Waheguru rotated the temple for him, so that it faced Namdev, with its back to the upper-caste Brahmans and the Khatris*. 3.
Even the sixty-eight holy places anointed (showed respect for) the bhagats and the devotees of Waheguru. I am a slave (devotee) of Waheguru, and would touch the feet of the bhagats if Waheguru is kind to me (gives me the opportunity), oh Nanak. 4.1.8.
NOTE: The story goes that once Namdev Ji went to a temple owned by the higher-caste Brahmans and Khatris to worship Waheguru, but he was kicked out of the temple by them in contempt. Namdev went to the back of the temple and continued to worship Waheguru while the owners were watching him outside of the temple. Namdev also complained to God for the contemptuous treatment he received at the hands of the Brahmans. It is said that Waheguru rotated the temple so that it faced Namdev, with its back turned towards the Brahmans and the Khatris.

Word Meaning: Tinhi = those. Untar(i) = in (heart). Araadhiya = worshipped. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (Waheguru). Likhut = writing; fortune. Lilaara = on the forehead. Bukheeli = vilification. Ung(u) = favour; support. Kartara = Waheguru. 1. Dhiyaayay = recite Naam. Nivaarunhaara = remover; destroyer. Pause. Bukhshiya = given as gift. Bhundaara = treasure. Rees = compete against. Hult(i) = in this world. Pult(i) = in the next world (Waheguru's Court). Mooh Kaara = face blackened; suffer disgrace. 2.

Sayvka = (female) servant; devotee. Ninduk = vilifier. Chhaara = ash. 3.
Virti = happens. Beechaara = ponder on. Chuhoun Peerri = in four generations (of Gurus). Aad(i) = from the beginning of time. Joogaad(i) from the beginning of the four yugas. Sayvuk Bhaayay = with the spirit of a servant (devotee). Nistaara = salvation.4.
MEANING: Only those devotees worship Waheguru deep from the heart who have such fortune written on their forehead by Waheguru. Who can vilify the devotees who are supported by my Waheguru? 1. Waheguru is the destroyer of all the suffering of many, many lives; so, recite His Naam, oh my mind. Pause.
Waheguru has given the gift of the treasures of His Amrit-like worship to His devotees right from the beginning (it was in their fortune from their birth). Only a fool will compete with them, and when he does, he suffers disgrace in both worlds. 2.
Those are the true devotees, true servants (be they males or females) who have love for Waheguru's Naam. One connects with Waheguru by serving them, but their vilifiers get ash on their heads (are humiliated). 3.
Only those who have experienced these facts know them, or you can ask the World-Guru, Nanak (He will certify it) that Waheguru's devotees are "one" with Waheguru, and the vilifiers suffer humiliation.
This is my (Guru Ram Dass Ji's) personnel experience of the four generations of Guru Sahiban (Guru Ram Dass Ji was the fourth Guru in succession), and it has been a fact since the beginning of the world, from the beginning of the eons, that Waheguru can be realized only by serving Him (reciting His Naam and obeying His Will) with the spirit of a dedicated servant (devotee); and nobody has ever realized Him by vilification of others. 4.2.9.

Word Meaning: Jithaiy = where. Tithaiy = there. Mit(u) = friend. Suhaayee = supporter. Vusaiy = takes residence. Bidh(i) = means. Luyya = acquire. 1.
Sunchiyaiy = accumulate. J(i) = Jo = which. Sukhaayee = friend; helper. Pause.
Khuttiyaiy = earn. Horthaiy = somewhere else. Horut Oopaayay = by other means.
Ruttanaiy = of jewels (which never lose their worth); noble qualities. Vapaariya = dealer.
Ruttan Dhun = wealth of Waheguru's Naam. Vihaajhaiy = invest in. Kuchaiy Kay Vapaariyay = dealers in perishable things. Vaak(i) = simply by words. 2.
Juvayhur = precious stones. Maanuk(u) = pearls. Amrit Vayla = early morning. Vuttaiy = optimum conditions. Live Layee = meditate on. Beejiya = planted. Khurch = share wth others. Nikhoottaiy Naahi = does not run out. Vudiyaayee = honour. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru is present as your friend wherever you remember Him, oh man.
Waheguru makes your heart His dwelling with the benevolence of the Guru; He cannot be realized by any other means. 1.
Accumulate Waheguru's Naam-wealth, which supports you in this world and the next (Waheguru's Court), oh my friend. Pause.
But the wealth of Waheguru's Naam can be earned only in the company of the holy saints (Guru); there is no other way to acquire this Wealth. Those who deal in the jewel-like, precious, noble qualities (Waheguru's Naam) invest in such virtues. The individuals who may talk about Waheguru but deal in perishables cannot acquire Waheguru's Naam-wealth by their false talk. 2.
Waheguru's Naam-wealth is invaluable like jewels, precious stones, or pearls (which do not lose their worth). Because of the Naam-wealth (in their mind), Waheguru's devotees meditate on His Naam in the early hours of the morning, which is the most optimum time to accumulate this wealth. The devotees of Waheguru, who plant the seeds of Waheguru's Naam during the optimum time of the early hours of morning, never experience the shortage of this wealth when they enjoy it themselves or share with others. On top of that, they earn respect in this world and the next because of their Naam-wealth. 3.

Word Meaning: Nirbhuou = fearless. Usthir = Saacha = eternal. Ugnee = fire. Tuskur = thief. Jumdootaiy = by the agents of death. Guvaaya = lost. Oochukka = robber. Jagaati = the tax-man. Dund = punishment. 4.
Saakteen = worshippers of Maya; disconnected with. Bikhiya Dhun = the worldly wealth which is poisonous because it leads to immoral acts. Sunchiya = accumulated. Vikh = step. Hult(iI) = in this world. Doohaylay = suffer discomforts. Chhoorrk Guyya = slipped from hand; lose

(possession). Pult(I) = in next world (Waheguru's Court). Dhoyee = shelter. 5.
Shah(u) = Lord. Aap(i) = (Waheguru) Himself. Lud(i) Chulaayee = load up and leave. Toata = shortage. Sojhee = understanding. 6.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam-wealth is also eternal like Waheguru Himself. Fire, thieves, water, or the agents of death cannot cause it any harm. No thief or robber can even come near the Naam-wealth, and the Angel of justice can levy no tax on the devotee (cannot punish the devotee who has the Naam-wealth in his possession; normally wealth is taxed in every jurisdiction). 4. The money-worshippers accumulate the worldly wealth using sinful means which becomes poison for them (because on one hand they earn it by sinful means while on the other, they use it for lustful purposes); even so, it does not accompany them even for a single step after their death. Moreover, such money-worshippers suffer in this world when they lose it, and they find no shelter (support) in Waheguru's Court. 5.
Waheguru is the real Lord of the Naam-wealth, oh holy men; only those individuals can load up this Wealth to accompany them to the next world. The Guru has given me the understanding that one never experiences any shortage of this wealth, oh Nanak. 6.3.10.

Word Meaning: Soopersunn(u) = overly pleased. Ruvaiy = recites. Pervaan(u) = approved. Mehma = praise; greatness. Verniyaiy = describe. Vussiya = appeared. 1. Suful = rewarding. Perm Nidhaan = the supreme treasure (of Waheguru's Naam). Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Saakut = money-lovers. Kaamna Urth(i) = for the sake of their desires. Doorgundh = foul-smelling; immoral desires or activities. Srayvnday = worship; think about. Nihful = without any spiritual reward. Ugiyaan = devoid of spirituality. 2.
Perteet(i) = with love (full faith). Thaayayn Puvvaiy = recognized; given credit. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. Maan(u) = respect. Kupti = deceitful. Koorri Koorri = dishonestly. Ukheen Meetday = (pretend to) shut eyes. Jhootth Gooman = false pride. 3.

Jeeyo Pind(u) = life and body. Untarjaami = omniscient. Vikhiyaan = explaining. 4.
MEANING: One should sing Waheguru's praise by fully focussing mind on Satguru's Shabad. Pause. The individual, whom Waheguru is overly pleased with, sings His praise; he is a true devotee and is approved (loved) by Waheguru. The praise (greatness) of the devotee in whose heart Waheguru appears cannot be described. 1.
That holy man is the true Guru from whom we can receive (acquire) the supreme treasure of Waheguru's Naam; service to such a Guru is highly rewarding. The money-lovers, who worship Maya in order to satisfy their sensual pleasures, are foolish and ignorant, and their acts go unrewarded in the realm of spirituality. 2.
The singing of Waheguru's praise by those who love Him is richly rewarded, and they are accorded respect in Waheguru's Court. But those who have deceit in their mind, and shut their eyes to pretend focusing on Waheguru's Naam, lose all their false pride (of being religious) and are not rewarded for their deceitful worship. 3.
The body and the life of the man are given by Waheguru, and He knows everything that goes through everybody's mind as He is the omniscient and omnipresent Lord. Nanak is the slave of Your slaves, and can explain only as much about You as You enable him to do, oh Lord. 4.4.11.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is my support (basis of life) everywhere. I have no other support than You, so kindly protect me in whichever way You please, oh Lord. Pause.

You are the treasure of all virtues (have countless noble qualities), so which of Your virtues should I focus on to sing Your praise, oh my Lord? I am unable to praise all Your magnanimity because You are so high in transcendence (which is beyond my reach), oh my Lord. 1.
You are my power and my support, and I can pray only before You. I have no other place (nobody else) to go to where I can pray, and all my comforts and discomforts are before You (You know them). 2. Look at the amazing feats of the Lord - there are islands surrounded by water (water does not sink them), and there is fire in the wood (yet it does not burn the wood) – it is as if a lion and a goat have been put together. So, recite Waheguru's Naam to dispel your doubts and worries, oh my mind. 3.
Just look at the greatness of the Lord: He gets respect for those in society who had never enjoyed any respect at all. Word Meaning: Vussiya = took dwelling; appeared. Roag = illnesses; troubles. Guvaayay = removed. Mookt Bhuyyay = emancipated. Puvittar = holy; pious. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state; union with Waheguru. 1. Aroag = (spiritually) healthy; worry-free. Guri Buchni = Guru's Shabad. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Pause.
Traiy Goon Roagi = suffer from the three effects of Maya. Kaar Kmaayee = performed deeds. Chayteh(i) = remember; recite Naam. Buppurray = poor; ignorant. Sojhi = wisdom; understanding. 2.

MEANING: All the troubles of those who are lucky to have Waheguru take dwelling (appear) in their heart, disappear. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam get emancipated from all the worldly bonds and attain the holy and the highest spiritual state. 1.
The devotees of Waheguru become spiritually healthy and free from all worries. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad get their serious illness of selfishness and ego fully eradicated. Pause. Even the revered gods like Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva were affected by the three effects of Maya and performed deeds driven by selfishness and ego. The ignorant did not keep the Creator, Waheguru, in mind; one gets such wisdom (to remember Waheguru) only from the Guru. 2.

The serious disease of haumein (selfishness and ego) affects the whole world, because of which it suffers from the huge punishment of reincarnation. Only a rare individual realizes the fact that selfishness and ego are a serious illness, and gets rid of them; I am a sacrifice to such a great devotee. 3.
Only the Creator, Waheguru, whose beauty is beyond comprehension, knows everything about His creation, and feels ecstatic to watch it; one can only ponder on His splendour in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.3.14.

Kuhou Nanak mayri Perm gut(i) hoyee. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Baajigur = acrobat; stuntman. Baaji = acrobatics; stunts. Nana = different. Roop = appearances. Bhaykh = outfits. Saang = make up. Thmmiyo = ended. Pasaara = paraphernalia. Ekunkaara = Waheguru. 1.
Drishtiyo = showed. Binsaayo = disappeared. Kuteh = where. Kut Tay = where from. Pause. Anik = very many. Trungaan = waves. Kunik = gold. Bhookhun = ornaments. Bhou Runga = of many colours (shapes). Beej(u) = seed (n). Beej(i) = seeding; plant. Perkaara = kinds. Ful Paakay Tay = when the fruits ripened. 2.
Sehs = thousands. Ghutaan = earthen (water containers). Aakaash = sky (sun). Phootay = broken. Pergaas(u) = light; sun. Bherm = misgivings. Lobh = greed. Vikaar = vices. 3. Abinaashi = immortal. Binsut = destroyed. Pooray = Perfect. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Mul(u) = filth. Perm Gut(i) = supreme spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: (Waheguru presents Himself in countless different forms and colours). We cannot know in what from He appears and in what form He disappears, or where He comes from, or where He goes to (He is always around). Pause.
Waheguru is like a stuntman who performs stunts in many different appearances and outfits. But when he stops his stunts and wraps up his paraphernalia, he is back to his original self.1.
We can also compare Waheguru to the ocean, where countless tall waves arise (but they are still water), or to gold ornaments of different shapes and sizes, which may look different but are still gold. Similarly, we may plant seeds of one fruit to grow many different trees, but once the fruit ripens, we get the same seeds back. 2.

Yet, another example, if we have thousands of water containers, we can see the image of the sun in each of them (which may lead some to believe that there are thousands of suns. However, when the containers break (and water spills), we see only one sun. (Similarly) Waheguru appears in countless forms, yet He is the only Supreme Being present in each form. Likewise, greed, worldly attractions, and other vices are misgivings (gimmicks), and are all different forms of Maya; but once the misgivings are cleared, we come to know that it was all a single Maya with different forms. 3. Waheguru may appear in one form and disappear in another, but He is immortal, and He never goes away nor comes back (He is always around in some form). The Perfect Guru has washed away the filth of my haumein, and now I am enjoying the supreme spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Lorreh(i) = needs; wishes. Bin(u) = without. Poorun Kaaj = tasks completed. Laaj = dignity. 1. Poorun = Perfect; omnipresent. Duyyala = kind; munificent. Pritpaala = looking after. Pause.
Muhhiul(i) = in the sky. Bhurpoor(i) = fully pervading (present). Nicket(i) near. Putiyaaraiy = please; satisfy. Saach(i) Luggay = connect with God. 2.
Giyan Ruttan(u) = the jewel of Divine Knowledge (connection with God). Jaagaiy = enlightens; appears. Doormut(i) = evil (immoral) thinking. Perm Pud(u) = supreme state. 3. Ker = hand. Bhaavaiy = like (approve). Raas(i) = becomes suitable (successful). 4.

MEANING: Only that happens in this world which Waheguru wishes (or needs to do). There is none other (who makes decisions). The devotee who serves Waheguru gets his tasks completed successfully. Waheguru protects the dignity of His devotees. 1.
I am in Your shelter, oh my kind and omnipresent Waheguru; who else can look after me (my interests)! Pause.
Waheguru is fully present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky – He resides close to us and is not far away. (Some people show their religiosity) to please people; but they achieve no spirituality by doing so (actually, their ego gets a boost). One overcomes his ego only by connecting with Waheguru (by reciting His Naam with dedication). 2.
But only those begin worshipping Waheguru whom He prompts (motivates) when the jewel-like precious Naam of Waheguru enlightens their mind. By doing so, the evil (immoral) thinking of the devotee is destroyed. With the benevolence of the Guru, he begins to recite Waheguru's Naam and attains the highest spiritual state. 3.

I pray to You with folded hands, but it (my prayer) will be successful only if You like (approve) it, oh my Lord. I pray to You that You be kind to me, and make me worship You so that Your slave, Nanak, always recites Your Naam. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sohaagun(i) = married to (connected with) God. Puchhaanaiy = recognize. Tujaiy = abandons. Abhimaanaiy = ego. Raati = imbued in love. Ruliyaan Maanaiy = enjoys life (union with God). 1. Sukhiyay = oh friend. Neeshaani = signs; recognition. Urp(i) = offer. Laaj = shame. Loakaani = of the people. Pause.
Unk(i) = in the heart. Smaavaiy = gets absorbed (connected with). 2.
Gerb Guhayli = possessed by (trapped in) ego. Mehl = Waheguru's Residence. Puchhutaavaiy = repents. Raiyn(i) = night (of life). Bihaavaiy = is over. Kermheen(i) = unlucky. Munmukh(i) = follower of own mind; Maya-worshipper. 3.
Binou = prayer. Abinaashi = immortal. Bhurpoor(i) =omnipresent. Hudoor(i) = near. 4.
MEANING: Fortunate and praise-worthy is the devotee who recognizes (makes connection with) Waheguru, obeys His Will, and abandons her ego; she is considered to be the real beloved of Waheguru. Imbued in His love, such a devotee enjoys her union with Him. 1.
When someone asks such a devotee about the signs of union with Waheguru (the ways to connect with Him), the response is: Disregarding the shaming (taunting) of the people, the devotee needs to offer their body and mind in Waheguru's service, oh my friend. Pause. The friend further advises that the devotee should do only those things which Waheguru wants Him to do (noble deeds, honest earnings, and reciting His Naam). Such a devotee gets absorbed in the love of Waheguru (merges with Him). 2.
On the other hand, an individual who is possessed by his ego never achieves union with Waheguru and repents when the night of his life is over. The follower of his mind (Maya-engrossed) is unfortunate and suffers in life. 3.
I will send Waheguru a message only if I think He lives far away, but the immortal Waheguru is present everywhere (so I do not need to send any message). I am His slave, and sing His praise with the belief that He is close to me, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Smuggri = the needed ingredients (noble qualities). Jorri = gathered; acquired. Aas Piyaasi = thirsty (desirous) in hope. Lorreen = wish for. 1.

MEANING: My Waheguru has given me control over my mind, and now I am its mistress (ruler). My husband (Waheguru) has made my ten senses my slaves. I have acquired all the needed noble qualities for union with God, and now I am waiting impatiently with a great hope. 1. My Waheguru-Husband has countless virtues, so which ones should I describe? He is wise and highly attractive. Pause.

I have adorned myself with high character and have put the kohl of His fear in the eyes of my mind. Some people find chewing a betel-leaf wrap with areca nut in it enjoyable, but I have put Waheguru's Naam in my mouth (tongue) to enjoy bliss. (Like a bride) who finds her bracelets, rich clothes, and her ornaments comforting only when her husband comes home (I am also waiting for my Waheguru-Husband). 2.

The Guru cleared all my misgivings about Maya as a result of which I have acquired the charming qualities (good moral character, obeying the Will of Waheguru, etc.) to please my Waheguru-Husband, because of which I have been able to control Him (He loves me and fulfills my needs). Now, my spiritual state is at its highest. Rejecting all other women (human brides), Waheguru alone is my husband now. 3. I have decorated my heart for my Waheguru with extreme reverence as the bed which has been enlightened by the bright light of Waheguru's Soul. My dear Waheguru comes to my heart-bed in a new spirit every time. The devotee and the Lord enjoy each other's company, oh Nanak. 4.4.

MEANING: When I heard the message (news) that Waheguru comes to reside in His devotee's heart, I made my heart bed for Him, and became highly enthusiastic to see Him. I set out to search for Him, but after wandering everywhere, I could not see Him. 1.
How can my humble heart gain patience (without seeing Him)? Kindly allow me to see You, oh my dear Lord; I will gladly sacrifice my life for You. Pause.

(Because Waheguru resides in every heart), The human heart is the bed for both – Waheguru and the human bride (soul). However, the bride is asleep (unaware of the presence of Waheguru in her heart), whereas Waheguru is always awake to look after his creation. The human bride is intoxicated with the liquor of worldly comforts, and awakens (to the reality of human life) only when Waheguru gives her a call (prompts her). 2.
I endured the difficulties of searching for Waheguru in unfamiliar territories, but I was deeply disappointed when I could not find him, even after a long search. Now, I cannot live without touching His Feet (showing my reverence face-to-face) even if for a short moment. He connects His lucky devotees with Him when He becomes kind to them. 3.
When Waheguru became kind to me, He connected me with the company of the holy saints, by whose grace I realized my dear Husband (Waheguru) in my own heart, thereby putting out the fire of my worldly desires. The Guru removed (cleared) all my misgivings, and now my adornments (of noble qualities) became very comforting to me, oh Nanak. 4.
The Guru opened the door of my mind to realize Waheguru, whereby my mind became peaceful. Now I find my dear Waheguru wherever I look. Second Pause. 5.

I am all sacrifice for Your sight, oh, my dear, carefree, and mind-captivating, Lord. Pause. You are the provider of all our necessities, and do selfless favours to us all the time, while I am a poor beggar at Your Door; there is nothing that I am capable of doing, oh the inaccessible and the limitless Lord. 2. What kind of service can I render to please You so that I may have Your holy sight, oh Waheguru. We cannot find Your limits and Your end; I only yearn for Your holy Feet (sight, or the Naam), oh Lord. 3.
I shamelessly (persistently) beg for the dust of the Feet of the Guru (His Shabad) to put in my mouth (on my tongue to recite), oh my Waheguru. Waheguru salvages all those devotees who earn the favour of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.6.

The attractions of Maya are very difficult to resist, and they whip (stir) my mind the way the wind gusts hit the objects. 1.
I am very afraid of the Angel of justice, whom I have heard to be very strict. 2.
The whole world is a deep sea of fire (of human desires for the attractions of Maya). 3.

After searching for a long time, I found that such a place is the company of the Guru, and I took His shelter. Pause. I had found that pundits, who had exhausted themselves reading the Vedas of Brahma, had found absolutely nothing about Your majesty. Even the yogis and the Sidhis (the accomplished yogis), who were desperately trying to find Your limits (or connect with You), failed miserably because they were captivated by Maya (seeking supernatural powers). 2.
Even the ten incarnations (of Vishnu), who were recognized as holy bodies, and Shiva, who was believed to be detached from the world, and who coated his body with ash, could find no end to Your grandeur. 3.
The holy saints of Waheguru, who sing His praise in a high spiritual state, enjoy the real sweetness of His Naam, peace of mind, and blissfulness. Soyi = the same (God). Pause. Guntee Gunee = keeping account; citing (good deeds). Kut-hoon = not at all. Kaachi = lacking noble qualities. Iyani = ignorant. Bukhsh = largess. Niraali = unique. 2. Kerm dherm = religious rituals. Bhaana = Will. 4.

MEANING: (Some religious sects believe that one is born in the human form due to his previous noble deeds. Questioning this assertion, Guru Sahib asks): when the man did not have any existence yet, what could he have done, and what deeds could he have performed to be born as a human? In fact, it is the drama of the world created by Waheguru, which He also watches (looks after). 1.

I am not capable of doing anything, oh my Royal Waheguru. Waheguru, which is omnipresent, is the creator, and He makes the living beings do what they do. Pause.

One can find absolutely no emancipation by simply citing his good deeds; he is ignorant about Waheguru (as to how He grants emancipation), and his body (and mind) are not perfect – he lacks noble qualities (so, what account can he boast about). Emancipation is a unique gift (favour) from Waheguru (not available to everybody). So, I pray to Him to be kind to me (and grant me emancipation). 2. Waheguru has created all the living beings, and He is worshipped (present) in every heart. Only He knows His high transcendence and the limits of His expanse. Nobody else can evaluate His grandeur. 3.

I have no good qualities, am foolish, ignorant, and lack spiritual knowledge completely; I do not even know of any religious rituals to perform. I simply beg Waheguru to be kind to me so that I may sing His praise, and accept His Will as being sweet to me, oh Nanak. 4.6.53.

(Normally, the man is so engrossed in Maya) that intoxicated by it, he does not know how to sing Waheguru's praise. But, how could a man suffer in any way who has God's cover (shield) over his head (is protected by Him)? 1.
The suffering of death and birth of those who are imbued in Waheguru's love runs away (is eradicated); they have the assurance of Satguru, and nobody can erase (undo) the largess of Waheguru for them. 2.
They recite Waheguru's Naam all day and night, and enjoy blissfulness. With their faith in Waheguru, they overpower the five demons in His shelter. 3.

Deen Duyyal = kind to the humble. Ruvaala = Dhoorr(i) = dust of feet (humbleness). 4.

MEANING: We, the human beings, are helpless as we have no ability of our own, and do only the kind of deeds You make us do, oh Waheguru. So, abandoning everything, I have come to Your shelter; now protect me (against the attacks of Maya), oh our Saviour, Waheguru. 1. You are omniscient, oh my Waheguru Ji. Please be kind to me, and enable me to sing Your praise, oh the benevolent, great Guru. Pause.

We should remember our Waheguru all the twenty-four hours so as to be able to swim across the world-sea with the grace of the Guru. Giving up our selfishness and ego, we should be humble like the dust of everybody's feet; that is how we kill our worldly desires while living in the family. 2.

I have no beauty, nor do I have beautiful eyes. I do not have a high clan, no noble lifestyle, and do not have sweetness in my language (conversation). Pause.

The only way for the human bride to connect with Waheguru is to adorn her body and mind with the high spiritual state - and that is possible only if she is liked by the Waheguru-Husband. 2. Waheguru has no physical beauty or features, so how can one worship Him at the time of her death? 3.

I have no high thinking, no wisdom, and no cleverness (to enable myself to be accepted by You), oh Waheguru. Kindly provide me with your shelter. 4.

Waheguru-Husband does not like those who show too much smartness (ego), as such individuals are misled by their misgivings in their attachment to Maya. 5.
Only that human bride who is absorbed in the thoughts of Waheguru gives up her selfishness and ego. In love with Waheguru, such a devotee feels as if she has acquired all the nine treasures of the world. 6.
I have suffered too much by staying detached from You for many lives, oh my dear and majestic Waheguru. Kindly hold my hand now (connect me with You). 7.
Waheguru has always been there, and will be there, oh Nanak. However, He enjoys union only with those whom He likes. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Kusoombh = a flower which has very attractive pink colour, but wilts away quickly. Din Chaar(i) = only a few days. Bherm(i) bhoolliyaan = misled by misgivings. Tthug(i) = by the thug (captivating Maya). Mootthi = robbed. Koorriyaar(i) = dealer in perishables. Sachay Sayti = with the immortal (God). Ruttiyaan = imbued. 1.
Rung(u) Laayay = fell in love. Uvguni = because of the ignoble qualities. Mootthi = robbed of (spirituality). Sayviayaiy = worship. Sachay = the immortal (God). Chit(u) = mind.

Pause. Chaaray Koondaan = the four directions. Bhuveh(i) = roam around. Bhaagaan = fortune. Dhun(u) = wealth of Naam. Budhik = trapped in. Thaayan Na Paayay = gets no recognition. Oobray = salvaged. Maan(i) = zest; enthusiasm. 2.
Chittay = white; clean. Chit Kutthoar = stone-hearted, merciless. Mookh Oopjaiy = comes on the tongue. Doojaiy = (because of love for) Maya. Viyaapay = attacks. Choar = thieves; the five demons. Mool(u) = origin; root. Boojheh(i) = recognize. Pushoo = Dhoar = animals. 3. Kerta = the Creator (God). Phir(i) Phir(i) = again and again. Kaiysi = what kind?4.
MEANING: (The enjoyment of Maya is like) the beauty of the kusoombh flower, which stays only for a very short time. Without Waheguru's Naam, the dealers in the perishable attractions of Maya are misled by their misgivings and are robbed of their noble qualities. But, if one gets imbued in the love for Waheguru, he is not born the second time (again). 1. Once, one's mind gets dyed (imbued) in the love for Waheguru, he (his mind) does not need to be dyed again (he stays imbued all the time). One should serve (sing praise) of the Dyer (the immortal Waheguru) with dedication. Pause.
If one wanders in all four directions in search of the Naam-wealth, he cannot acquire it without good fortune. Trapped in worldly attractions and thus robbed of good qualities, if one roams around (in search of the Naam-wealth), he does not get any recognition (by Waheguru). However, those whose minds are imbued with the Guru's Shabad are salvaged by the Guru. 2. Those who may have very clean clothes on them but have filth in their mind because of their love for Maya (sensual pleasures) and are merciless, do not recite Waheguru's Naam with their tongue, and are attacked by the five demons (lust, greed, etc.) (and are robbed of their noble qualities). They are like animals and beasts who do not recognize their root (Waheguru). 3.
The human mind wishes to enjoy the luxuries of life and comforts all the time. The man never remembers Waheguru and suffers again and again as a result. But the devotee, who has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart in comfort as well as in suffering, has no appetite (desire) of any kind left in his mind. 4.

Nanak, Naam na veesraiy, nidhaaraan aadhaar(u) jeeou. 8.2.
Word Meaning: Baaki Vaala = those who owe (have debt of sins). Tulbiyaiy = are called in. Sir Maaray = hits on the head; punishes. Jundahay ar = the unkind Angel of justce. Laykha = account of deeds. Mungiyaiy = when demanded. Poochhaiy = ask an expert. Liv = focus on; connection with. 5. Un Kuou = someone else. Mittrra = friendship. Khaak Rulaiy = mixes with dust. Buhou Rung = many attractions of Maya. Bhoolaaya = misled. Aavaiy Jaayay = is born, and dies. 6.
Gaaful = unaware; ignorant. Vihooniya = devoid of. Khinchotaan = struggle to choose between Maya and Waheguru. Vigoochiyaiy = suffer humiliation. Booraa = bad. Bhulaa = noble. Bhaiy = fear (of Waheguru). Ruttiyaan = imbued. Johi = watched carefully. 7.

Kur(i) Kaarun = having created universe. Dhaariya = gave support. Aadhaar(u) = support; food. Visaariyaiy = forget. Dataar(u) = provider. Nidhaaraan = having no support. 8.
MEANING: Those who carry the debt of sins in their account are called in by the unkind Angel of justice and are punished. You can ask any holy man and discuss with him, and will find out that one has to pay for his sinful deeds. But one attains salvation by focusing one's mind on the Naam of the eternal Waheguru with reverence, as He forgives all one's sins. 5. If one befriends the other (Maya), he finds no room in Waheguru's Palace and mixes with dust after death. He is misled by the colourful attractions of Maya, and misled by them, he keeps taking births and dying. However, if Waheguru casts His kind gaze on someone, they become emancipated and connect with Waheguru through the Guru. 6.
Do not try to search for the Divine Knowledge without the Guru, oh, the unaware and the ignorant man. The man has both the noble and the ignoble qualities, but one suffers humiliation in his struggle to choose between the good (Waheguru) and the bad (Maya). Without the fear of Waheguru in mind, and without getting imbued in Guru's Shabad, one is watched very carefully by the Angel of spiritual death. 7.
Waheguru, which has created the universe and supports it, provides support (food) for all living beings. Why should He be forgotten from mind when He is the provider all the time? The man should never forget Waheguru's Naam, which is the support even for those who have no other support, oh Nanak. 8.1.2.

Word Meaning: Kaafi = a subcategory of Raag Suhi. Doolumbh(u) = highly valuable; not easily available. Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter. Choolumbh(u) = deep red (reflective of deep love). Bhaaya = liked by. 1.
Suvaar(i) = making successful. Vukkhur(u) = merchandize. Put(i) = honour. Ruhaou.
Slaah(i) = praise. Laal(i) Rutta = imbued in deep love. Maaniya = convinced. 2.
Saar(i) = by remembering. Sehjay = in the spiritually blissful state. Rus(i) Rusaiy = enjoys sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. 3. Kayturra = how much. Rungatturra = dyed. 4. Smaal(i) = keep in mind. Suntaapna = causes suffering. 5.
Bherm(i) Bhoolaana = misled by misgivings. Rung(u) = love. Vidaana = stranger; unrelated. Bhung(i) = shortage of noble qualities. 6.
Kaar Kmaayay = perform deeds. Laaha = profit. Ghur(i) = heart. Nirbaan(u) = detached from worldly attractions. Puchhaaniya = recognized; realized the importance. 7.
Bhaavsi = is liked. Nivaas(u) = dwelling; acquirement. 8.
MEANING: Human life is not easily available, but it can be made successful in the shelter of the Guru. One's mind and body get dyed deep red (reflective of deep love for Satguru) if He (Satguru) likes. 1.
If one leaves this world with the merchandise (wealth) of Waheguru's Naam, his life becomes successful (his objective of union with Waheguru is achieved). With Satguru's Shabad, and with love-filled fear for Waheguru in mind, he is accorded respect in His Court. Pause. Waheguru likes the individual who praises Him in his mind and in his body (on the tongue). When one's mind is convinced of Waheguru, it becomes dyed deep red with His love, and he becomes connected to the Perfect Guru. 2.
You reside in my heart, and I survive (spiritually) by remembering Your noble qualities, whereby I attain the high spiritual state, and I enjoy the sweetness of Your Naam, oh my Waheguru. 3.
My foolish mind does not listen to me, no matter how much I advise it, that if it sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru, it will be dyed deeply in His love. 4.
One should keep the dear Waheguru in mind all the time because if he leaves this world with noble qualities (Waheguru's Naam), he will experience no suffering at all. 5.
The follower of his mind (Maya-engrossed) is lost in his misgivings and has no love for Waheguru. He will be a stranger to Waheguru when he dies, and will be detached from Him (Waheguru) by body and by mind. 6.
If one follows the Guru's advice, one reaps the benefit (of the Naam-wealth) in one's heart. When he recognizes the worth of Guru's Shabad, he feels detached from worldly attractions. 7. I have only one prayer to make, if You approve, oh Waheguru. Kindly enshrine Your Naam in my heart so that I may sing Your praise all the time, begs Nanak. 8.1.3.

Word Meaning: Aarun(i) = in the kiln. Bhunn(i) Gurraayiyaiy = reshape by softening. Saakut(u) = worshipper of wealth (detached from God). Joani = in womb; in different life forms. Buvvaiy = goes through. Buvaayiyaiy = is taken through. 1.

Boojhaiy = understanding. Kmaavna = earn; work towards. Aavaiy Jaayay = is born, and dies. Bherm bhoolaavna = misled by misgivings. Pause.

Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter. Rukhunhaar(u) = protector; guard. Rujaayay = by Will. 2.

Thaap(i) = create. Oothaap(i) = destroy. Dur(i) = at the Door; as per Your wish. Beenaayiyaiy = far sighted (Waheguru). 3.

Dayhi = body. Hovug(i) = will become. Khaak(u) = dust. Puvun = air; breaths. Oodaayiyiay = blows away (leave the body). Aoutaak(u) = sitting room. 4.

Dihoun = day. Deeveen = lamp. Undh(u) Ghor(u) = deep dark. Ghubb = wealth. Moohaayiyaiy = is robbed. Gerb(i) = ego; conceit. Moossaiy = robs. Rooaayiyaiy = complain. 5. Jugaayiyaiy = is awakened. Nivaari = removed. Aag(i) = fire (of desires). Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Deepaayiyaiy = lights up. 6.

Laal(u) = rubies. Ruttan = precious stones. Soort(i) = wisdom. Boojhaayiyaiy = enlightenment. Nihkaam = without any desires. 7.

Dihaiy = day. Vusaayiyaiy = embed. Mayl(i) = connection with the Guru. Bhaayiyaiy = like.8.

MEANING: Just like iron is remoulded into different shapes by softening it in a kiln, the Maya-loving individual is made to go through many different life forms in the kiln-type wombs of the mothers. 1. Without understanding (the purpose of human life, and how to make it successful), the man suffers in life, and continues to follow the lifestyle which results in more suffering. Misled by his haumein (selfishness and ego), he continues to reincarnate. Pause. You protect your humans (from the attacks of Maya) by putting them in the shelter of the Guru, where they recite Your Naam, oh Lord. If the man follows Guru's Shabad to lead his life, You connect him with You with Your sweet Will, oh Waheguru. 2.

You look after Your own creation, and we receive what you provide us with. You are perfectly far-sighted, and create and destroy as You please, oh Waheguru. 3.

When the man takes his last breath, his body turns into dust. Then he cannot find his past and future palace and the sitting rooms. 4.

The man is in deep darkness (of ignorance) even in the bright light, and lets the wealth of his spirituality be robbed by his ego and the five thieves (demons) of his own body. Whom can he cry to now (complain to)? 5.
No such thief can rob a devotee who stays alert by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. The Guru lights up the lamp of Waheguru's Light in the heart of the devotee whose fire of worldly desires is put out by the Guru's Shabad. 6.
With the wisdom imparted by the Guru, the devotee comes to realize that Waheguru's Naam is the rubies and the precious stones for him, and he is left with no appetite for worldly desires. 7.
We must enshrine Waheguru's Naam in our heart day and night (permanently); Waheguru connects the devotees with Him through the Guru when He is pleased, oh Nanak. 8.2.4.

Shaant(i) = peace; contentment. Mut(i) = advice. 8.

MEANING: Do not lose Waheguru's Naam from your memory; rather, recite it day and night, oh my mind. We should take comfort in whatever way He protects us with His benevolence. 1. I am (spiritually) blind, and Waheguru's Naam is the lovely stick which shows me the path (of spirituality), and the captivating Maya does not attract me in His shelter. Pause.

The Guru has "shown" me Waheguru, and now I always find Him with me wherever I look for Him. After searching for Him inside and outside, I have seen Him with Guru's Shabad. 2. I serve (recite) Waheguru's Naam as per my Guru's advice, and gladly accept Your Will, whatever You like, oh the destroyer of all fears and misgivings, Lord. 3.

The man begins to suffer from the fear of death right from his birth. But the devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise, accepts both birth and death the same way. 4.

It is You who has created me, (but I am gripped by my ego and selfishness); when I get rid of my haumein, You appear in my heart, oh Lord. You create and destroy humans (giving them a new life based on their deeds), but You honour those who follow Guru's Shabad. 5. (After death) man's body suffers humiliation when it turns into dust, but nobody (other than God) knows where the soul goes. But the amazing thing is that You are present everywhere, oh Waheguru. 6.

You are not far from us and know everything. One realizes in the shelter of the Guru that not only are You close to us, but You are inside our body, oh Lord. 7. I, Nanak, am Your slave, and pray that Satguru imparts the wisdom (thinking) with which I may sing Your praise so that Your Naam is enshrined in my heart for it to become peaceful. 8.3.5.

Word Meaning: Naamaiy = Waheguru's Huqam(u). Jaapaiy = realization. Muhaa = great. Rus(u) = sweet tasting. Meettha = sweet. Chaakhaiy =tasting. Kaudi = a worthless cowrie shell. Cheenus(i) = recognize; evaluate. Aapaiy = self. Suntaapaiy = causes suffering. 1. Bulihaari = sacrifice life. Vit-houn = for; from. Liv Laayee = focused mind on. Cheen(i) = by recognizing. Aatum = soul. Pergaasiya = enlightened. Sehjay = in the blissful state. Pause. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Jeeou = life. Pind(u) = body. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Kaaruj = tasks. Suvaaray = makes successful. Kumaavaiy = earns; engages in. Bikh(u) = poisonous Maya-related deeds. Khuttay = earns; gathers. Moh(i) = in love for. 2. Sayvuk = servant; devotee. Bhaayay = following (Guru's Will). Saacha = everlasting. Sift(i) = praise. Kerm(u) = benevolence; largess. 3. Ghaalay = works hard. Ulipt(u) = detached. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in the love of. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Koorrou = false; lies. Jumkaal(i) = Angel of death. Baandha = tied up; in control. Trisna Daadha = burnt in the fire of desires. Kuvun(u) = who. 4.

MEANING: Everything has come into being by Waheguru's Naam (Huqam), but the Naam cannot be realized without Satguru. Guru's Shabad (in praise of Waheguru) is extremely sweet-tasting, but it cannot be described without tasting it (reciting it). The man does not examine himself (as to what the objective of human life is and what kind of deeds he is performing) and is wasting away his precious human life pursuing (spiritually) worthless things. If he comes to Guru's shelter, he overcomes his selfishness and ego, and does not suffer from them; moreover, he cognizes the fact that there is only one Supreme Being. 1.

I am a sacrifice for my Guru, who has enabled me to focus my mind on the eternal Waheguru. By recognizing (and following) His Shabad, my mind has been enlightened, and His Naam has been embedded (enshrined) in my mind, whereby I have attained the high spiritual state. Pause. A devotee, who comes to the Guru's shelter, ponders on His Shabad, recognizes its spiritual worth, and sings Waheguru's praise with it. It is Guru's shelter where the devotee realizes the purpose of the human body and mind for which they came into being, and it is Guru's shelter where the devotee makes his life successful. On the other hand, the follower of his mind is blind (of spirituality) and continues to pursue deeds which keep him deprived of spirituality, and earns him (the wealth of poisonous) Maya in the world. Without taking shelter of the dear Satguru, he always suffers because of his love for Maya. 2.

Only that individual is a true devotee who serves the Guru and follows His Will in his life. Guru's Shabad is evergreen, and so is the praise of Waheguru because of which Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in one's heart. When a devotee recites the evergreen Bani of the Guru in His shelter, he gets rid of his haumein (selfishness and ego). Waheguru is our eternal provider, and His gifts are everlasting, and He puts us in Guru's shelter where we listen to His everlasting Shabad (Huqam). 3.

A devotee works very hard to sing Waheguru's praise in the Guru's shelter, where he earns Waheguru's approval, and he makes others recite Waheguru's Naam. Following Guru's advice and imbued in Waheguru's love, such a devotee stays detached from worldly attachments. On the other hand, a Maya-engrossed individual always tells lies, plants the seeds of Maya-related poisonous tasks, and reaps poisonous rewards. Who can free (salvage) such an individual who is imprisoned by the Angel of (spiritual) death, and is burned by (suffers in) the fire of worldly desires? 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Teeruth = holy place. Satsur(i) = in the eternal pool of holy gathering. Naavun = bathing; dip. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding. Utth-Sutth(i) = 68 (holy places). Mul(i) = filth of immoral acts. Nirmul(u) = pure. Salaah = Sift(i) = praise (of God). 5. Kayra = of. Doormut(i) = evil advice. Saakhi = advice; teaching Sehjay = in the blissful state. Chaakhi = tasted. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Raata = imbued. Maata = intoxicated. 6.

Sut(i) = ever true. Vertaiy = operates. Virla Ko = rare someone. Bukhshay = grants. 7.

Bhaayay = is liked by. Ichhaiy = wishes. Aap = selfishness and ego. 8.1.
MEANING: The gathering of holy devotees in the shelter of the Guru is the true holy place where one takes a dip in Waheguru's Naam-Amrit and gains understanding about Waheguru from the Guru. Guru's Shabad (in praise of Waheguru) is the true holy place where one's filth of his evil deeds (thoughts) is washed away, and he "visits" all the 68 Hindu holy places in there (he does not need to visit them and take dips in them. Guru's Shabad is eternal, and purifies the mind, which becomes pure like the eternal Waheguru. A devotee who recites Guru Shabad never gets the filth of mind and never makes others filthy. Waheguru's praise is everlasting (accompanies the devotee everywhere), but one gets the Shabad of Waheguru's praise from the Perfect Guru. 5.
Once one surrenders his body and his mind to Waheguru, he will never utter even a single word of evilness. With Waheguru's Will, the devotee's mind becomes pure, and his selfishness and ego are eradicated. With Guru's Teachings, one's fire of desires is put out, and he tastes the blissfulness of a high spiritual state. Imbued in the sweetness of Guru's Shabad, and intoxicated in the state of bliss, the devotee stays in the high spiritual state. 6. Accepting Guru's Will is very sweet; the devotee believes firmly that Waheguru's Naam is eternal (which will always accompany him). He receives the Guru's eternal praise from Waheguru and begins to love His Naam. But it is a rare individual who realizes that it is Waheguru alone that operates in everybody (the Supreme Being Waheguru is not different across religions). Waheguru adorns His devotees with noble qualities by bestowing them with His everlasting worship and connecting them with Him. 7.
However, some rare devotee realizes in the shelter of the Guru that it is Waheguru alone that is operating everywhere. In the shelter of the Guru, the devotee recognizes his self (that he is a part of Waheguru and has to unite with Him) and realizes that birth and death happen by Waheguru's Huqam. If one recites Waheguru's Naam, he is loved by the Guru, and gets his wishes fulfilled. If one gets rid of his selfishness and ego, he feels as if the whole world belongs to him, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Iss(u) kaaya undar(i) Naam(u) nuou-nidh(i) paayiyay, Gur kaiy Shabad(i) veechaara. 4. ------

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife; human being. Ut(i) = extremely. Sooaaliyo = pretty. Pir(u) = husband (Waheguru). Soohaagun(i) = married; connected with. Smaalay = remember. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in the love. Jaalay = burn; eradicate. 1. Wah(u) = how amazing! Pooray = Perfect. Bani = Shabad. Oopji = came into being. Smaani = causes to be absorbed. Pause.

Vussaiy = resides; have the comprehension. Khund = parts of the universe. Mundul = galaxies. Pataala = underworlds. Jugjeevun = the life of the world (God). Daata = provider. Pritpaala = raising and nourishing. Soohayli = in comfort. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. 2. Ulukh(u) = invisible (God). Lukhiya = seen. Moogudh(u) = foolish. Boojhaiy Naahi = does not understand. Bhaalun(i) = to search. 3.

Ruttan Pdaaruth = precious jewels (noble qualities). Bhugut(i) = of Waheguru's worship. Bhundaara = treasures. Nuou-Khund Prithmi = the earth of 9 regions. Haat = shops. Puttan = cities. Nuou-Nidh(i) = the mythical nine treasures. 4.

MEANING: The body of that human bride is extremely pretty (pure), which has Waheguru's Naam embedded in it. She always keeps Guru's Shabad in mind, which is why she is loved by (stays connected with) Waheguru. Such a devotee burns (kills) his (her) selfishness and ego, and stays imbued in the worship of Waheguru. 1.

How amazing is the Bani (Shabad) of the Perfect Guru!! It is created by the Perfect Guru and causes the devotee to get absorbed in Waheguru. Pause.

Such a pure human body acquires the knowledge about all the parts of the universe (planets, etc.), the galaxies, and the underworlds. Waheguru, which is the basis of life of the whole world, and which raises and nourishes all living beings, appears in such a pure body. The human body is always in a comfortable (blissful) state, which recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 2.

Waheguru Himself resides in the human body invisibly and cannot be seen. But the foolish follower of his mind does not realize this fact and goes out to search for Him. One always enjoys bliss when he serves Satguru, who "shows" him the invisible Waheguru. 3.

The human body is rich in jewels-like precious noble qualities, and is full of treasures of Waheguru's worship because of which he feels as if all the nine mythical treasures of the earth are present in his body, and there are shops, bazaars, and cities in the body where he can trade for noble qualities (he does not need to search for them outside). By acting on the advice of the Guru's Shabad, one can realize that he has Waheguru's Naam, which is like the nine treasures, residing in his body. 4. ----------

---------- Kaaya Undar(i) toal(i) toolaavaiy, Aapay toalunhaara. Eh(u) mun(u) ruttan(u), juvaahur, maanuk(u), tis ka moal(u) afaara. Vin(u) Naavaiy Dur(i) dhoyee naahi, ta Jum kuray khooaari. Nanak, Sach(u) vudiyaayee paayay, jis no Hur(i) kirpa dhaari. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Toal(i) = measurement. Toolaavaiy = weighs. Toalunhaara = the one who weighs (evaluates). Ruttan, Juvaahur, Maanuk = Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like jewels and pearls. Moal(u) = price. Afaara = immeasurable. Kit Hee = by any price. 5. Khoajaiy = searches. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayee = misled by misgivings. Chuturaayee = smartness. Bhuou = fear (of God). Bhaaou = love for. 6.
Bishan = Vishnu. Muhaysha = Shiva. Oput(i) = production. Sachaiy = God. Khayl(u) = drama of life. Aavagaun = birth and death. Pasaara = expanse; creation. Nistaara = salvation. 7. Sa = (only) that. Suvaari = adorned with noble qualities. Dhoyee = shelter. Khooaari = humiliate. Vudiyaayee = honour. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru is the evaluator (judge), and He evaluates the qualities in the body of the individual. The mind (devotee) which has Waheguru's Naam in it possesses noble qualities which are highly valuable like jewels, precious stones, and pearls. In fact, Waheguru's Naam is priceless, and no worldly wealth can buy it. Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. 5.
But, only a devotee in the shelter of the Guru (with His advice) searches for Waheguru in his body; the rest of the world is lost in its misgivings. Only that individual acquires Waheguru's Naam whom He bestows to; what other smartness can one use? With Guru's grace, a devotee acquires (respectful) fear and love for Waheguru in his mind. 6.
The human body is a home to Waheguru, who has created Brahma, Vishnu, Shiva, and the whole universe. The eternal Waheguru has created the drama of the world with birth and death as its basic ingredients. The Perfect Satguru has clearly demonstrated that salvation (union with Waheguru) can be achieved only with His Naam. 7.
Only that human body is successful in achieving its objective which serves Satguru; such a body is adorned with noble qualities by the Lord Himself. There is no room in Waheguru's Palace (union with Him) without His Naam, and the Angel of justice humiliates (punishes) people who do not have Waheguru's Naam in them. That devotee earns the everlasting honour (union with Waheguru) whom He is benevolent to, oh Nanak. 8.2.

MEANING: Do not praise (fall in love with) the world (its attractions) because it is perishable (like you) and will leave you when you die; likewise, do not fall in love with relatives and friends because they too will become a part of dust after death, oh man. 1.
Amazing You are, as you are eternal, carefree, and (the permanent Provider), oh my Lord! He is the only one whose praise should be sung in the shelter of the Guru, oh my friend. Pause. The followers of their mind, who love the world, burn in the fires of worldly desires. Imprisoned, they are punished by the Angel of Justice and have no opportunity to show remorse. 2.
But those who come to the Guru's shelter get attached to singing Waheguru's praise and make their life successful. Waheguru's presence enlightens their mind, and they enjoy blissfulness in a high spiritual state. 3. On the other hand, those who get engrossed in Maya and forget Waheguru, never get satisfied with their worldly desires (which keep increasing), and they burn (suffer) day and night in that fire. 4.

They have a friendship with the evil and bear animosity towards the holy saints. They drown in the sea of worldly desires, and cause their associates to drown with them too. 5.
Vilification of anybody is no good, but the foolish followers of their minds do just that. The faces of such vilifiers are blackened (are humiliated), and thrown into dark hell. 6.
The human mind becomes just like the deity it serves (worships), and performs deeds which reinforce one's faith. He reaps the rewards of what he plants, and cannot blame anyone.7.
The words of great souls are in the context of some special situations (and not against any individual) as they are overflowing with Amrit (truthfulness and other noble virtues); and they have absolutely no desire for any worldly thing, not even the size of a sesame seed. 8.
The bearers of virtues accumulate more virtues and preach the same to others. Those who come in contact with them are highly fortunate and recite the Lord's Naam day and night. 9.
There is only one True Provider (God), and He delivers food to His whole creation. 10.
That Lord is always with you, and you can "see" Him clearly in the Guru's shelter. So, remember that Lord all the time who connects you with Him by His munificence. 11.
The human mind is filthy with selfishness and ego, so how can one connect with Waheguru, which is pure of any such filth? The man can connect with Waheguru when he burns away (gets rid of) his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, when the Lord Himself connects one with Him. 12.

Vaaro, Vaar = again and again. Puyyiya = as per destiny. Kirt Kmaavnaa = perform deeds. Maytunhaar(u) = who can erase (undo). 19. Sach(i) = with the eternal Lord. Salaaheen = sing praise. Sachiyaar(u) = bearers of truth. 20.
Ehinis(i) = day and night. Vudd Roag(u) = serious disease. Tthaak Ruhaayay = prevent. 21. Niv(i) Niv(i) = by bowing to. Paanyay = feet. Saupeen = offer. Aagaiy Dhureen = place in front. Aap(u) = selfishness an ego. Guvaayay = get rid of. 22.
Khinchoutaan(i) = in the struggle to choose between Maya and God. Vigoochiyaiy = suffer humiliation. Aikus Siyoun = with the "One". Liv Laayay = focus on. Chhudd = give up. 23. Bhaayayra = brothers. Luggunn(i) = get attached to. Dissunn(i) = stand out. 24.
MEANING: The life of the individual is condemnable if he forgets the True Lord. However, if one ponders on the advice of the Guru (makes that the basis of his life), then with the kind sight (benevolence) of the Lord, one does not forget Him. 13.
I can stay connected with Waheguru if He connects me with the Guru, because I will enshrine His Naam in my heart, sheltered by the Guru. Once connected, a devotee never gets disconnected from Waheguru because of his love for the Guru. 14
I can sing praise of my Dear (Lord) by pondering on Guru's Shabad (Guru's Shabad and Waheguru's praise are the same). Such a human bride (who sings the Lord's praise) gets connected with Him and enjoys blissfulness. 15.
Like a snake which may be fed with milk, but still has pure poison in its body, the mind of a Maya-worshipper is filthy and ruthless, and cannot be imbued with Waheguru's love. 16.
Waheguru is independent in His decisions, does whatever He deems right, and forgives (our mistakes) Himself; there is no one else we can go to. One can adorn (purify) his body by washing away his filth with the Guru's Shabad so that it is fit for union with God. 17.
Waheguru is the True (Just) Lord, and the dealers in His Naam are also honest (pure-minded); the dealers in falsehood have no place there. They do not like the truth, and suffer badly. 18.
The world has filth of ego, and is born again, and again. People perform deeds as per their fate (nature based on their deeds of previous lives), and nobody can erase their nature. 19.
They begin to love Truth (Waheguru) if they stay in the company of the holy saints. If they sing the Lord's praise with a pure mind, they are approved to be pure (full of virtues) in His Court. 20 The Perfect Guru delivers perfect wisdom (advice) to recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, as a result of which the gravely serious disease of one's haumein is eradicated. 21. I wish to sing praise of my Guru, and kneel before Him to drop on His feet. Getting rid of my selfishness and ego, I wish to offer my body and mind before Him. 22. One suffers humiliation if he struggles to choose between Waheguru and Maya; he should keep only the "One" Supreme Being in mind. You can get absorbed in the eternal Waheguru only if you get rid of your selfishness and possessive nature, oh my friend. 23. Those who get connected with Satguru are like brothers to Him who get attached to His eternal Shabad. They connect with the eternal Waheguru; never get disconnected from Him, and they stand out (are honoured) in His Court. 24. ----------

Sehn(i) = endure. Oobray = salvaged. Kayl = enjoy bliss. 33.
Virlay = rare. Lehunn(i) = acquire. 34.

MEANING: One should stay in the company of those who serve the eternal Lord because only they are his true brothers and friends. Such holy saints share their noble qualities, while one's ignoble qualities are dispelled like the light chaff is carried away by the wind. 25. The true worship of Waheguru is to share noble qualities with others, which are a source of blissfulness. With Guru's Shabad, the devotees deal in Waheguru's eternal Naam and acquire spiritual benefit (wealth). 26. The man accumulates gold and silver by sinful ways, which do not accompany him after death because the Angel of death robs him of all his wealth other than Waheguru's Naam. 27.
The food for the mind (and the journey expense for the next world) is Lord's Naam, which one should keep safely in their mind. For a Sikh of the Guru, this wealth (Waheguru' Naam) is inexhaustible and lasts till the end. 28.
The mind, which has been misled from its root (Waheguru), leaves this world with the loss of his honour. This world is influenced by its love for Maya, but it can recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Advice. 29. Nobody can evaluate Waheguru's Grandeur, and His praise cannot be written (described). But, if one dyes his mind and body with love for Guru's Shabad, he stays absorbed in Waheguru. 30.

My Waheguru-Husband is very colourful (appears in many forms), and dyes His devotees in His love when they attain the blissful spiritual state. But the human bride gets dyed in His love only when she gets connected with the Lord (by reciting His Naam). 31.
Those, who have been disconnected with Waheguru for a long time (for many lives), can be reconnected with Him if they serve Satguru. Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of the nine treasures, resides in their mind; they keep reciting (also called spending) the Naam in the high spiritual state, and they share it with others which never runs out. 32.
Such devotees are protected from Maya's attacks and enjoy bliss by keeping Waheguru in mind. (They become a part of Waheguru), So they never take birth and die again, and never have to suffer in life. 33.
Such devotees are true friends of Waheguru, and once connected, they never get disconnected from the Lord. However, such devotees are rare who attain union with the eternal Lord, oh Nanak. 34. 1.3.

Word Meaning: Sookhum = nano-size; invisible. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Kit(u) Bidh(i) = by what means. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Achint(u) = in a natural way. 1.
Jupunn(i) = recite (Naam). Bulihaarnaiy = sacrifice. Ruvunn(i) = remember; recite. Pause.

Survur(u) = pool (of Amrit). Maan Surovar = “holy” lake from where River Gunga originates. Lehunn(i) = acquire; take dip in. Khoajiya = searched for. Hunsulay = swan (holy saints). 2. Rung Siyoun = with love. Lugunn(i) = get attached to. Dhoor(i) = right from the source. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Bhaana = Will. 3.
Ghur(i) = heart. Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Vaykhaaliya = described; illuminated. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. Puchhaan = recognize. 4.
Uver(u) = other. Tit(u) = that. Ghut(u) = heart. Pergut Hoyay = appears. 5.
Untarjaami = omniscient. Munda = bad. Vaykhou = see. 6.
Tichur = so long as. Jichur = as long as. Dooh(u) Maah(i) = caught between the two. Aikus Maah(i) = in the “One”. Smaayay = absorbed. 7. Bhaavsi = is liked by. Paavay Thaayayn = is recognized (given credit for). Chit(u) = mind. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru is invisible and inaccessible; so, what means should I use to get connected with Him? (The holy saints advised me) that the Lord comes to dwell in one’s mind without any special effort (on the part of the devotee) when his misgivings are dispelled by the Guru’s Shabad. 1.
Guru’s Sikhs recite Waheguru’s Naam; I shall be glad to offer my life in the service of the devotees who recite the Lord’s virtues in their minds all the time. Pause.
The Guru is a pool of the Amrit-like Waheguru’s Naam, or like the so-believed “holy” Maan-Sarovar lake, which is the source of the River Ganga, a holy River for the Hindus. The highly fortunate people take a dip in the Guru-Pool. The devotees of Waheguru search for Him in the shelter of the Guru, and become purified swans (holy) by acquiring Waheguru’s Naam. 2. If prewritten in their fortune, the followers of the Guru get imbued with the love for Waheguru, and begin to recite His Naam, and accept the Will of the Guru gladly. 3.
The fortunate search their own mind in the shelter of the Guru, and discover the treasure of Waheguru’s Naam in there. They recognize Waheguru as illuminated by the Guru. 4.
Everybody has the same Lord, and there is none other. But He appears in the devotee’s heart only with the grace of the Guru. 5.
Waheguru is omniscient and present everywhere and in everybody, so who can we call bad? You will find Him in everybody and everywhere when you focus on Guru’s Shabad. 6.
The man calls others good or bad only as long as he is caught in the struggle to choose between Waheguru and Maya. The follower of the Guru recognizes only the “One” Supreme Being and remains absorbed in the “One” (and does not discriminate between men). 7.
Only that service to Waheguru is recognized by Him which He approves. I have focused my mind on the Feet of the Guru (His Shabad) and worship Waheguru in His shelter, oh Nanak. 8.2.4.9.
NOTE: Guru Sahib is NOT certifying the holiness of the Lake Maan-Sarovar, or the River Ganga. He is simply praising the Guru and Waheguru’s Naam.

I will feel lucky to fan Him and to haul water for Him, and will be happy to eat whatever He gives me. 5. I am a poor devotee of Yours, and have come to seek Your shelter, oh dear Lord. It will be an honour for me if You would connect me (Nanak) with You. 6.

I will take out my eyes (vision) out so that I do not see any attractions of the world, and put them under my feet (to have the ability to walk with the speed that the eyes can see with) and to take me all over the earth with the hope that perhaps I may find You (or the Guru) somewhere, oh Waheguru. 7. MEANING: I have dealt in the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru, which is otherwise inaccessible and unfathomable. I have acquired this wealth from the Perfect Guru (with His grace). Pause. My Guru has instilled the everlasting love for Waheguru in my heart. My body and mind feel blissful at the sight of the Guru right in front of me. 1.
My heart blooms to see my Satguru, because of whom I have fallen in love with Waheguru's Naam. Satguru has connected me with Waheguru by His benevolence, and I have reached the door to emancipation (freedom from worldly attachments). 2.
Satguru loves Waheguru's Naam; I will offer my body and my mind if I could see Him (be accepted for His shelter). If I have it prewritten in my fate, I too will drink the Naam-Amrit in the blissful state in His shelter. 3. If I can find a Gur Sikh who sings praise of the Guru while asleep, and recites His Naam while awake, I will wash his feet (with the request that he instills love for the Guru in my heart). 4.
I need to find a friend who can connect me with the Dear (Waheguru). I connected with Waheguru without any special effort when I was admitted to the Guru's shelter. 5. I am highly enthusiastic to see Satguru, which is a sea (source) of Waheguru's Naam and of noble qualities. I cannot live without Him even for a moment, and I die spiritually without seeing Him. 6. Just as a fish cannot survive without water, no matter how many different means are used to keep it alive, the saints of Waheguru do not survive without Him, and die spiritually without His Naam. 7.

I have love for my Satguru, so how can I live without Him, oh my mother! Guru's Bani (Shabad) is the basis of my life, and I wish to stay connected with His Shabad. 8
Waheguru's Naam is the real jewel which the Guru gives to His Sikhs when He is pleased to be kind to them, oh my mother. Waheguru's eternal Naam is the basis of my life, and I want to stay focused on His Naam at all times. 9.
Waheguru's Naam is the valuable Divine Knowledge imparted by the Guru, which He reinforces among His Sikhs. But only that devotee acquires it who has it prewritten in his fate. Such a Sikh comes to drop at the Guru's feet (to seek His shelter). 10.
The story of love between a Sikh and Waheguru is indescribable. I wish a beloved devotee of Waheguru would narrate that to me. I will offer him my mind, and will kneel down to touch his feet. 11. You are my only friend, oh, the omnipresent creator and the perfectly wise, Waheguru. You have connected me with Satguru, oh my Lord. You are the permanent force behind me. 12. My Satguru is always there – neither He takes births, nor does He die. He is immortal and is present in everyone. 13.
Those who accumulate the wealth of Waheguru's Naam never experience any shortage of capital (the Naam-wealth), which always remains intact. Countless accolades to the Perfect Guru, because of whom such a devotee is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 14.1.2.11.

The man is strongly influenced by his worldly attachments and is fully absorbed in them. His insatiable desires never get satisfied. 2.

Butcher-like rage resides in the body of the man. Devoid of spiritual knowledge, the ignorant man fails to understand the true purpose of life and lives in deep darkness. 3.

Waheguru is the Guard of the weak (humble), and support for His devotees. So, seek the shelter of the lotus-like Feet of Waheguru (His Naam), oh man. Pause.

MEANING: Only those are real saints and close friends who foster love for Waheguru in your mind, and can connect you with Waheguru. How can I earn the friendship of such devotees in whose company the mind feels blissful? I wish my love for them never ceases and my relationship with them is never broken. 1.

Please be kind to me so that I may sing Your praise day and night, and connect me with Your devotees so that I may recite Your Naam in the company of such friends, oh my Waheguru. Pause. Captivated by Maya, the man becomes blind to Waheguru, even though he sees and hears everything about truthful living. Despite the fact that the perishable body will die someday, he still remains involved in Maya-related tasks. But those who recite Waheguru's Naam stay connected with the Perfect Guru and win the battle of life before their death. 2.

The man comes to the world by the Will of God, and leaves the world as per His Will. The universe came into being by the Huqam of Waheguru, and the man enjoys the luxuries of life with his Huqam as well. But the individual who forgets the Creator suffers the discomfort of His separation. 3.

Those who are liked by Waheguru are honoured in His Court. Because of the recitation of the Naam of Waheguru alone, they have radiant faces (are blissful) and enjoy comfort in this world. Those who serve the Guru with pure love are accorded respect by Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: The Lord is present everywhere and raises and nourishes all the living beings. I have accumulated the everlasting treasure of Waheguru's Naam, which is my wealth and property. He is never forgotten when He is kind. 5.

When Waheguru comes to reside in a devotee's mind, his rebirths and deaths are left behind (he is never reborn). But the individual who forgets Waheguru takes countless births and dies. However, nobody can still find the limits of the Waheguru, which is highly transcendental, inaccessible, and beyond limits. 6.

The love of those for Waheguru is everlasting who are dear to Waheguru, and whose hearts become dwellings for Waheguru. They recite Waheguru's Naam all day and share

Kunt = Husband; God. Paasra = closeness. Rungeela = colourful (appears in many forms). Laal(u) Piyaara = dear like a ruby (very dear). Mehnja = mine. Aasra = support. Pause. Saiyn(u) = close friend. Maaniya = pride. Nimaani = humble. 2.

MEANING: I will never leave the side (shelter) of my Waheguru-Husband. My dear Lord is always colourful (appearing in many attractive forms) and is my only support. Pause.
If I ever forget You or make mistakes, I am still Your humble devotee, oh my Waheguru. Those who love Maya are disconnected from Waheguru and die in repentance, crying. 1.
You are my friend, my close relative, and I take great pride in You, oh my Lord. When You reside in my heart, I enjoy the ultimate comfort, and You are the pride of this humble devotee. 2.
If You are pleased to be kind to me, please never make me vulnerable to the attractions of Maya. Your love is a valuable gift (possession) which I keep in my heart with great care all the time. 3.
Kindly give me the ability (faith) to walk on the path leading to union with You, and show Your holy sight to my eyes. With the grace of the Guru, I wish to listen to stories about You (Your praise) with my ears. 4.
There are millions of attractions in life, but none of them can match even a pore of Your body (a single virtue of Yours) in providing blissfulness. You are the King of kings; I have no ability to describe Your wonderful qualities. 5. You have countless friends (devotees), and they are all better than me. Kindly give me a brief glimpse of Yours so that I may enjoy Your Love, even for a short moment. 6.
Why should I forget the omnipresent Waheguru, seeing whom all the sins run far away (disappear), and the mind becomes peaceful, oh my mother? 7.
With the prewritten grace of the Guru, I, very humbly, dropped on the Feet of Waheguru (surrendered myself to Him), when He (the Guru) connected me with Him without any special effort on my part, oh Nanak. 8.1.4.

Word Meaning: Bayd = the Vedas. Simritis, Puraan = Hindu holy books. Pothiyaan = books. Pookaarun(i) = read aloud. Koorr(u) = (about perishables). Gaaleen = talks. Hoachhiyaan = weightless. 1. Baad(i) = aggressive debates. Surpur = for sure. Roonniya = cry; cause suffering. Na Mool(i) = not at all; never. Vichhoonniya = disconnected. 2. Mayri Mayri = selfishness. Dhaar(i) = focusing on; guided by. Bundhun(i) = in the bonds of. Avtaar = birth. Dhundhiya = deeds. 3.
Sodhut, Sodhut = by pondering on. Tutt(u) = the reality. Haariya = lost. 4.
Bin(u) Boojhay = without realizing. Vaad(i) = worthless. Bhermtay = go through. 5.
Bhuyya = happened; acquired. 6. Khojeh(i) = search. Koat(i) = millions. Asunkh = countless. Anunt = limitless God. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. Nayrra = close. 7. Dataar(u) = Provider; Lord. Chaaou = zest. 8.

MEANING: The Pundit reads religious books like the Vedas, the Simritis, and the Puranas aloud to the people, but all other talks other than Waheguru's Naam are very low in spirituality because they are all about the perishables. 1.
The treasure (source) of Naam (Waheguru) is beyond limits and resides in the hearts of the devotees. Their suffering of the birth-death cycle, and of worldly attachments, is dispelled (eradicated) in the Guru's shelter (with His Advice). Pause.
Those who stay disconnected from Waheguru's Naam never enjoy comfort because, due to their ego, they remain engrossed in worldly attachments and aggressive discussions, which are bound to make them cry (cause them suffering). 2.
Guided by their selfishness and ego, they stay engrossed in the deeds related to Maya, which create more traps for them in which they are caught, and as a result, they keep taking births in paradise-like or hell-like conditions. 3.
After pondering (on Guru's Shabad) deeply, I have realized that Waheguru is the provider for the whole world, and there is no comfort in life without His Naam. The man loses the game of life in the affairs of Maya. 4.
Countless people come and go in this world and die to take birth again and again. Without realizing the real purpose of human life, their life goes worthless. 5.
Those who Waheguru is benevolent to are connected with the Guru, and they recite the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru in the Guru's shelter. 6.
Millions of people search for the limitless Waheguru, but only those find Him close to them who are enlightened by Him. 7. Kindly implant Your Naam in my mind so that I may never forget You, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, have the only enthusiasm (craving) that I should sing Your praise day and night. 8.2.5.16.

Word Meaning: Koochujji = unskilled; inept; lacking good qualities. Umaavun = uncontainable. Doasrray = vices; blames; weaknesses. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Raavun(i) = enjoy union with Him. Ikk Doo Ikk Churrundiyaan = one better than the other. Umbee = mango tree; mother. Chhaavurriyeh(i) = shade; protection. Say = those. Munj(u) = I, me. Doash = blame. Dhurayoun = put; place. Vithraan = describe. Ghinna = hold; call; utter. Toal(i) = (gifted) valuable things. Umbrraan = reach; equalize. Koorbaaniy = sacrifice. Rooppa = silver. Rungula = colourful. Moati = pearls. Maanuk = rubies. Chit(u) = mind; get attached. Mundar = mansions. Mitti = earth. Sundrray = of. Raas(i) = wealth. Bhoollius = misled. Kunt = (Waheguru) husband.
Umbur(i) = sky; brain; mind. Koonjaan = a foreign bird which causes harm to crops; senses (sensual pleasures). Koorliyaan = to make noise (to provoke sensual desires). Bug = bugla (a heron which implies a hypocrite); grey hair (old age). Sa Dhun = that woman (human being). Sahooraiy = in-laws house (Waheguru's Court). Uggaiy = next world; Waheguru's Court. Sootti = asleep; unaware; ignorant. Jhaal(u) = morning light (end of life). Theeya = became. Vaatrri = the real path. Mootius = detached. Dhuriaas(u) = adopted. Dohaagun(i) = separated from husband. 1.

MEANING: I am so inept (at spirituality) that there is no room for more ignoble qualities (vices) in me. (With all such ignoble qualities), How can I enjoy union with Waheguru? There are many, many devotees of Waheguru, and one is better than the other; so, who will know me? Those who have enjoyed union with Waheguru feel blissful as if they are sitting in the shelter (lap) of their mother. (Unfortunately), I do not have those noble qualities; so, whom can I blame for my inability to enjoy union with the Lord?

(You have so many great qualities), So which ones can I describe, and which of Your names can I describe? My praise cannot attain the level worthy of even a single gift (I cannot sing enough praise of even a single gift) of Yours (all of which are invaluable); I can only sacrifice my life for You, oh Lord. My mind has been attached to Your gifts like gold, silver, colourful pearls, and rubies; and the mansions made of earth and stone have become my wealth. Lost from my real path, I have forgotten You in the enjoyment of Your rich gifts, and have never come close to You.
The man gets old as white hair appears on his head and face, but his sensual desires still make noise in his mind (provoke him). The human bride is about to leave this world, to be taken before Waheguru; what face will she show Him (how will she face Him with all her ignoble qualities)?
Misled from the path of spirituality, the night of her life is spent in ignorance, and suddenly it is the morning light (the time of her death approaches). Disconnected from Waheguru, she adapts to (endures) the resulting suffering. You are the source of all virtues, and I have nothing but ignoble qualities, because of which I am unfortunate and disconnected from You, oh Waheguru. All the devotees connected with You, enjoy Your union every night (all the time), may I, Nanak, make one request to You that allow me too to spend a night (a short moment) with You, oh Lord. 1.

Bheekh(i) = to beg. Oodaas(i) = detached from the world. Thul = land. Sir(i) = on. Sur(u) = pool of water. Vuhhaiy = flows. Phollaiy = bloomed. Akaash(i) = in the sky (on the top of a high mountain). Bhuvjul = the world-sea. Munjh(i) = in. Bhuriyaas(u) = loaded with sins. Rungula = colourful; dear. Goontaas(i) = treasure of virtues. Bheehaavla = frightening. Aavun(i) Jaan(i) = birth and death. Mooyiaas(i) = in death. Agumm = inaccessible. Utoalvaan = immeasurable; unfathomable. Dheh(i) Puyee-aas(u) = dropped (on the feet). 2.

MEANING: When You are in my heart, then I feel that You are my real wealth, and I have every comfort of the world. When You appear in my heart, I live in comfort and earn praise of the world too. I will gladly accept Your Will, whether You put me on the throne (make me a king), or if I have to leave the worldly comforts and beg for my living. It is Your Will that there may be lakes in barren land, and lotus flowers may bloom on tall mountains (lotus flowers bloom in muddy waters). It is by Your Will that some of us can swim across the world-sea while others become so heavy with the load of sins that they drown in the middle. You are a treasure (source) of virtues; It is by Your Will that You become very dear to some who get imbued in Your love. It is also by Your Will that You look frightening to some (they do not fall in love with You), and they stay caught in the birth-death cycle, and suffer spiritual death.
Realizing the fact that You are inaccessible and unfathomable, I have fallen on Your feet (to seek Your shelter), oh Lord. What should I beg for, and what praise of Yours can I sing or may I listen to? I am hungry and thirsty for your holy sight only. I realized the Lord by constantly singing His praise with Guru's Shabad, which was also my prayer for Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Goonvuni = loaded with virtues. Sikhrra = devoted Sikh. Niv(i) Niv(i) = kneel down. Birtha = situation. Oopdayshurra = advice. Anut Na Kaahoo = nowhere else. Daiysaan = will offer. Maarug = path. Doorhoun = from a long distance; having visited many holy men. Shernaayay = shelter.
Bhaayee-urray = brother-like Sikhs. Kaar Kmaayay = perform deeds (act on advice). Mutrree = ignoble thinking. Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Dersaavrra = holy sight. Tutti Vaaou = small discomfort. Aap-houn = myself. Huqamaaou = Waheguru's Will. Pusaaou = benevolence. Buhourr = again. Trishna Bhookhrri = appetite of desires. Rujja Triput(i) Aghaayay = fully contented. 3.

MEANING: Whenever I see a devoted Sikh of the Guru, I kneel down to touch his feet, and narrating the painful situation of my mind, I request him to connect me with the Guru who is a friend of all. I further ask him to advise me so that my mind does not feel attached to anyone (or anything) else. I assure him that I will offer my mind to him (I will follow his advice strictly) if he shows me the path to get connected with the Guru (by mind). I will explain to him that I have come from a long journey (visiting many holy men who did not win my heart) and that I have come to his shelter with great hope that he will remove all my suffering (caused by my disconnection from the Guru). At my request, he gave me this advice: "You must perform the deeds as advised by the Guru (follow His advice in life)." This is the path that our brother-like friends (Guru's devotees) tread (to connect with Him). It includes giving up your own ignoble thinking and breaking any bonds of love with Maya. This is how you will have a holy sight of Waheguru, and will not suffer even a small discomfort.

These are not my words (I do not even know how to offer any advice); I have shared only the Huqam of the Guru (Waheguru). It has been the benevolence of Guru Nanak who has bestowed the treasure of Waheguru's worship on me. Now I am fully contented and will not feel any appetite for worldly desire again. Whenever I see a devoted Sikh of the Guru, I kneel down to touch his feet. 3.

Nanak mein vur(u) Saacha bhaavaiy, joog(i), joog(i) Preetum taiysay. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Bhur(i) Jobun(i) = in the prime of youth. Maiy Mut = intoxicated (with the liquor of Maya). Payeeurray = parents's home (this world). Paahooni = visitor. Maily = filthy. Uvgun(i) = with ignoble qualities. Chit(i) = in mind. Smaavni = absorb; acquire. Saar = worth. Bherm Bhoolaani = misled in misgivings. Baad(i) = worthlessly. Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). Sehj(u) = nature. Bhaaya = liked. Baaltun(i) = in childhood. Raandaypa = being a widow; detached from husband (God). Koomlaani = wilts. 1 Baba = a wise (holy) man. Vur(u) = blessing. Vur(u) = husband. Tis Kee.= I am His. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Joog Chaar(i) = in all the four eons; eternal. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Bani = Shabad; Huqam. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Sohaagun(i) = married to; connected with (God). Uvgunvunti = bearer of ignoble qualities.

Aasa = expectation. Munsa = (fulfilment of) wishes. Bherpooray = omnipresent. Naar(i) = wife (connected with). Raand = widow; disconnected. Maiylay Vaysay = filthy dress (filthy mind). Taiysay = the same; never changing. 2.

MEANING: In the prime of her youth, the human bride (the man) is intoxicated with the liquor of (Maya) (worldly luxuries), and does not realize that she is only a visitor in this world. (Even though she should serve Waheguru by reciting His Naam because that is what the objective of human life is), She is filthy in her mind (because of her immoral thinking) (and cannot worship Waheguru until she acquires noble qualities). But she cannot acquire noble qualities without taking shelter of the Guru. She does not know the (spiritual) worth of noble qualities, and, misled by her misgivings, she wastes away her youth. She does not know the importance of Waheguru-Husband, of His Mansion (union with Him), or of His holy sight. She does not like Waheguru's nature (because she is unaware of His qualities). She does not seek the Guru's advice to follow the path leading to union with Waheguru, and spends her life in the sleep of ignorance. She remains disconnected from the Waheguru-Husband and spends her life as a widow, even in her childhood, and wilts away like a flower (loses the charm of life) without the Waheguru-Husband, oh Nanak. 1.

Bless me, so that I may love my Waheguru-Husband, sacrifice my life for Him, and may become His bride (He accepts me), oh, the holy man (Guru Ji). (The Guru advises) He is present in all four eons (He is eternal), and His Huqam is prevailing in the whole universe. Waheguru, which controls the whole universe, enjoys union with that human bride (connects her with Him) who has all the noble qualities in her, while He stays away from those who have ignoble qualities. The omnipresent Waheguru fulfils the desires of each human bride according to her wishes. The bride, who is connected with Waheguru, stays always married to Him, and never accumulates any filth of vices to become a widow again (detached from Him). I wish that I loved the eternal Waheguru, who remains the same in every eon as if He were my husband, oh Nanak. 2. ----------

Nanak vichhurr(i) na dookh(u) paayay, Gurmut(i) Unk(i) smaayay. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Lugun = auspicious time (for union with God). Gunaayay = calculate; determine. Humbhi = I too. Vunjaan = go. Sahooraiy = husband's house. Saaha = day and time for wedding (union). Huqam Rujaayay = Will of Waheguru. Na Tulaiy = cannot be avoided (changed). Kirt(u) Puyya = the result of the deeds done previously. Kertaiy = the Creator. Mayt(i) = erase; obliterate. Jaanji = the groom (Waheguru). Nureh = Nihkayvul = detached from Maya. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Tihou Loyee = in the three layers of the universe. Maayay = Maya. Niraasi = dejected; sad. Vichhoonni = separated; detached. Baali = human bride. Baalaiy = Husband (Waheguru). Haytay = love. Mehleen = Waheguru's Palace. Churni = Shabad. Chaytay = remember. 3.

Baabul(i) = father; Guru. Payiyaiy = parents' home; this world. Rehsi = mind blooms. Hudoor(i) = close by; in front. Raavi = enjoyed. Sohiyaiy = looks attractive. Lorri = desired; liked. Jorri = connected. Poori = perfect. Perdhaanay = leader. Sunjoageen = the appropriate time. Mayla = union. Thaan(i) = place; heart. Soohayla = pleasant; pure. Goovuntee = bearer of noble qualities. Sut(u) = high morality. Suntoakh(u) = contentment. Pullaiy = in possession. Unk(i) smaayay = merges in God's lap. 4.

MEANING: Kindly, determine the auspicious time (for my wedding with God) so that I may also go to my Husband's house, oh holy man (Guru Ji). I love Him so much that I want to offer my life to Him. (The Guru tells me) that the exact date and time of a devotee's wedding (union) with Waheguru is fixed by the Huqam (Will) of Waheguru, and cannot be avoided (changed), and it depends upon the deeds done by the devotee and is preprogrammed in her fortune, and nobody can erase it. The Husband, Waheguru, is fully detached from the worldly affairs (and cannot be bribed to change the time of union), and His Naam (Huqam) is prevailing in the whole universe. When a devotee loves Waheguru (and not Maya), the latter (Maya) becomes very sad because of the devotee's detachment from her and his love for Waheguru. But the devotee enjoys the real bliss in Waheguru's Palace (and not in worldly luxuries of Maya) when she gets connected with Him by remembering Waheguru by reciting Guru's eternal Shabad, oh Nanak. 3.
The Guru imparts all the noble qualities in the devotee, which take her far away from Maya (to Waheguru's Palace), from where she cannot come back to the world of Maya. Her heart blooms at the sight of Waheguru before her, and she likes the Residence of Waheguru, where Waheguru enjoys union with her. Waheguru connects the devotee with Him whom He chooses (likes), and she becomes a leader (guide for others) with perfect wisdom. With a pure heart and with the Divine Knowledge imparted by the Guru, the devotee acquires all the noble qualities and gets united with Waheguru at the appropriate time (as per her fortune). She acquires high moral character, contentment, and Waheguru's Naam (enshrined in her heart), and is liked by the Husband when she recites His Naam. With Guru's wisdom, she is absorbed into Waheguru's lap and never suffers the pain of separation from Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Ghur(i) = heart. Saajun = friend (Waheguru). Saachaiy = the eternal (Waheguru). Mayl(i) = by connecting with the Guru first. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. Bhaayay = liked. Punch = the five senses. Milay = came together. Sayee Vust = that (valuable) thing (Waheguru's Naam). Praaput(i) = acquired. Sayti = with. Undin(u) = always. Mun Maaniya = mind got convinced. Ghur Mundar = heart. Sohaayay = became pleasant. Punch Shabad = the five musical instruments. Dhoon(i) = music. Unhud = uniform; never changing. 1.

Mungul = song of joy. Naaray = women. Ta = only then. Sohilurra = blissfulness. Thaan = heart. Kaaruj = (the desired) objective. Muha Rus(u) = the supreme bliss. Naytreen = in the eyes. Unjun(u) = kohl (medication to improve spiritual vision). Tirbhuvun = universe. Roop = beauty. Sukhee = friends; senses. Rus(i) = while enjoying. 2.

MEANING: My friend, Waheguru, has appeared in my heart; the eternal Waheguru connected me with Him by first connecting me with the Guru. Waheguru connected me with Him when I began to love Him, attained the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and when all my senses came together (when my mind quit wandering in every direction), and I began to enjoy full comfort. I acquired the same valuable thing (union with Waheguru) with which my mind was attached. My mind was fully overcome by Waheguru's love, and I achieved union with Him forever, after which my heart and body became very beautiful (pure). When Waheguru appeared in my mind, I began to feel as if a uniform music of five kinds (produced by instruments operating on wire, metal, air, leather, and empty vessels) began to play. 1.

Come, all my senses, and join together to sing the song in praise of Waheguru that produces blissfulness in the mind. If you sing such a song in praise of Waheguru, which produces blissfulness in every eon, you will be liked by Waheguru. With the arrival of Waheguru in my heart, it has become an attractive (holy) place, and all my objectives have been achieved successfully with Guru's Shabad. Guru's Shabad has injected the kohl of Divine Knowledge into my mind's eyes, giving it a special vision to see Waheguru's beauty everywhere in the universe, which produces supreme bliss in my mind. Come, sing the song of Waheguru's praise, oh my senses. My Waheguru friend has appeared in my heart. 2.

Word Meaning: Amrit Bhinna = imbued in Waheguru's Naam. Ruttanna = jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Pdaaruth = valuable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Perm Tutt = supreme root (Waheguru). Junt = living beings. Bhaykh = beggars. Sufliyo = successful; never failing. Sir(i), sir(i) = individually (as per their needs). Jaan(u) = know-all. Giyaani = knowledgeable. Untarjaami = omniscient. Kaarun Keena = created the universe. Mohun(i) = captivating (Waheguru). 3.

Aatum Ram = Lord of life (Waheguru). Sunsaara = the world. Khayl(u) = drama. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaara = limitless. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding. Saadhik = followers of (Yogism). Siyaanay = wise. Kuhaayay = make to recite. Kaal(u) = death. Bikaal(u) = birth. Dayvaanay = crazy. Thaayayn = in its (peaceful) state (no wavering). Uvgun = ignoble qualities. Sungum = union; collection; accumulation. 4.

MEANING: Now, my mind is imbued in the Amrit-Naam of Waheguru as the jewel-like precious love of Waheguru has been enshrined in my mind. By pondering over the Supreme root of all (Waheguru), His precious Naam has been preserved in my mind. All the living beings are beggars at Your Door while You are the never-failing Provider for all of them, and You fulfil the needs of every individual, oh Waheguru. You know everything about Your creation, You are the source of all knowledge, and are omnipotent. You have created the universe all by Yourself. My mind has been captivated by the mind-captivating Waheguru, and my body and mind are imbued in Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, oh, my friends. 3.

Waheguru is the basis of life of the whole world, and the drama of the world which He has created, is everlasting. Waheguru is inaccessible and beyond limits. Nobody other than Him can give the wisdom to understand His drama of the world. There are too many people who are called the Sidh yogis, the followers of Yogism, and are considered wise, but none of them can make people sing Your virtues, oh Lord. Because of the instability of the human mind (which does not focus on Waheguru's Naam), births and deaths have gone crazy (countless people are taking birth and dying), but only the Guru can give stability to the human mind (with His Shabad). One gets his ignoble qualities burnt (destroyed) by Guru's Shabad, and realizes Waheguru (get connected with Him) by accumulating (acquiring) noble qualities, oh Nanak. 4.1.2

Listen to my prayer, and come to my heart; I have great enthusiasm and full faith in You, oh my Lord. A devotee, who gets to have Your sight (becomes fully contented) and gets detached from the worldly attractions. Besides, the suffering of his rebirths is also eradicated. Your Light is present in everybody, and You are known to be here, but one can connect with You only with love and devotion. One should offer his life to such a great friend (Waheguru) who comes to reside in his heart. 1.

When Waheguru-friend comes to enlighten the heart of a devotee, she feels highly blissful. Captivated by Waheguru with the everlasting Shabad of the Guru, she feels highly blessed to see the Lord. Loaded with noble qualities, the devotee feels highly blessed and blissful when imbued with her love. Waheguru enjoys union with her. The Perfect and the omnipresent carver of our fates, Waheguru, eradicates all the ignoble qualities of the devotee and injects noble qualities in her (before connecting her with Him). Before taking dwelling in a devotee's heart, Waheguru, which delivers his full justice after considering all aspects, destroys all the demons which rob the devotee of her good qualities. Waheguru's Naam is the only ship which ferries a devotee across the world-sea, but the dear Waheguru can be realized only with Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vur(u) = husband. Paayaurra = acquired. Baalurriyay = young (pure-hearted) bride. Aasa Munsa = wishes and desires. Poori = fulfilled. Raaviurri = enjoyed the union. Rulee = became part of. Ruv Ruhhiya = is present. Ghut(i) = heart. Soyee = the same (God). Naar = women = wives. Rusiya = source of bliss. Raavay = enjoys. Vudiyaayee = greatness; wish. Amar = immortal. Udoal(u) = never changing mind. Umoal(u) = priceless. Apaara = limitless. Sach(u) = eternal (God). Joag Sunjoagi = creator of union. Liv Laayay = deep focus of mind. 3.
Oocbrrirraiy = in very tall. Maarrirriayaiy = mansion. Tihou Loaan = the three worlds. Sirtaaja = emperor; Lord. Bism Bhuyyee = mesmerized. Unhud Shabad = uniform music (Huqam). Agaaja = roars. Veechaari = ponder on. Saari = look after. Neeshaano = identification. Khoatay = impure. Tthaahur = shelter. Pervaano = approved. Put(i) = dignity. Pervaana = written approval. Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = self-analysis. Jaiysay = like. Abinaashi = immortal. 4.

MEANING: A devotee acquires Waheguru as Husband with child-like purity of mind, when all her wishes and desires are completely fulfilled. When connected with Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, the Lord enjoys union with her; she finds Him to be present everywhere, and all distances between them disappear. Everybody is Waheguru's wife (He is the Master), so He is present in every heart and is not far away from anyone. He is the source of all bliss, and he enjoys His creation as He wishes. He is immortal, stable-minded (never changes his mind on anything), priceless, and limitless, and can be realized only through the Perfect Guru. He Himself creates the right opportunity for the union of devotees with Him, and one can meditate on His Naam with full concentration only with His kind sight. 3.

Waheguru's Residence is highly transcendental, and He is the Emperor of the three worlds (our earth, and the worlds above and below it). I became mesmerized by His high qualities and felt as if a uniform music was playing in my mind. It was after pondering Guru's Shabad that I realized that Waheguru looks after the whole universe, and that His Naam is the true identity for reaching His Palace. Without Waheguru's Naam, the man is impure and finds no shelter in Waheguru's Palace; only His Naam is the jewel that qualifies him to enter. Waheguru's Naam is the perfect identity card, and a devotee with Waheguru's Naam earns respect in Waheguru's Court and acquires perfect wisdom (thinking); such a devotee never takes a birth or dies again. When a devotee analyses himself (in terms of the objective of human life, and his good and bad qualities) in the shelter of the Guru, he becomes just like Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Chund(u) = moon; peace; calmness of mind. Undhayra =darkness. Ootth(i) Guyya = ran away; dispelled. Junj = marriage party. Sohaiy = looks impressive. Purkh(i) = tested. Mohiniyaiy = mind captivating (Waheguru). Sobh Sayti = with praise-worthy performance. Punch-Shabadi = the five kinds of music. 1.
Saajun = Meet = friends. Uvreeta = the enlightened people. Jin Siyoun = with whom. Gaadiya = mixed well. Leeurra Deeta = exchanged. Maan(u) = pride; respect. Dis(i) Aayaan = on seeing. Ruliyaan = blissfulness. Jea Sayti = with soul; like one's own life. Geh(i) Ruheh(i) = keep holding; do not get separated. Neeta Neeta = always. 2.
MEANING: Waheguru, which has created the whole world, looks after it as well and engages people in Maya-related daily tasks. You enlighten some hearts with the priceless gift of Your Naam, and make their bodies (hearts) peaceful like the cool light of the moon. The suffering of darkness (ignorance) of those devotees whose hearts have been enlightened with moon-like cool light of Your Naam, is dispelled. Just as a marriage party looks attractive (authentic) with the groom, the noble qualities of a devotee attract the mind-captivating Waheguru, which tests and approves such qualities to wed the devotee (appears in her heart). Such a wedding earns praise all around, and the bride feels as if a uniform music of all five kinds plays in her mind. Waheguru, which has created the world, looks after it and puts it in the business of Maya-oriented tasks. 1.
I am a sacrifice for those devotee-friends whose minds have been enlightened, and with whom my mind has been attached to (and they like me). Those devotee-friends, who become your pride and whose sight becomes the source of blissfulness for you, should never be forgotten, and you should stay connected with them with the love of your life. I am a sacrifice to such devotee-friends who always have noble qualities, and have no ignoble quality at all. 2.

Word Meaning: Vaas(u) = fragrance. Vaansula = a container for fragrant. Saanjh = share. Kayri = of. Ptumbur = silky clothes (reflecting politeness and sweet behaviour) Adumbur = decorations (with noble qualities). Pirr(u) = games rink; to fight against and win over the evils. Bhulaa Kuhhiyaiy = say good things; appreciate and encourage others. Jhoal(i) = stirring well (mixing with noble qualities). Amrit = Waheguru's Naam-water. 3. Kis(u) Aakhiyaiy = whom to complain. Bhoollrra = misled. Unmunggiya = unasked. Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Sach(u) = everlasting. 4.

MEANING: If a person has a container of some perfume of noble qualities, he should open the box and enjoy the sweet fragrance. Similarly, if your friends have noble qualities, you should seek to share such qualities and get rid of your ignoble qualities in life. (Life is a battlefield where the man has to fight evil and win over it). To win over your enemies in the form of evil, you should adopt politeness and sweet behaviour towards others, adorn your bodies with noble qualities like humility, compassion, and service to humanity, and control the battlefield. In addition, praise the good qualities of others, and encourage them wherever you go, and drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit mixed with such good qualities. If you have a container of a perfume of noble qualities, you should open it to enjoy the fragrance. 3.

There is nobody else who can do things as God does; so, who can we go to for help, or say something to (advise) someone who is misled or makes mistakes (there is none like Waheguru for any help). But the Creator is infallible and never makes mistakes. Waheguru listens to everybody, sees everything, and gives gifts without us asking Him for them. He is the only eternal Supreme Being which is the carver of our fates in the world, and the provider of all gifts, oh Nanak. There is none other like Waheguru who can do things like Him, so, who can we go to for help? 4.1.4.

Word Meaning: Raata = imbued. Ruvaiy = recites. Soyee = the same (God). Paurri = ladder (steps towards union with God). Saach(u) = Waheguru. Saacha = eternal. Sehj(i) = in the peaceful state. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Tulaiy = avoided. Soogiyan = knowledge about goodness. Mujun(u) = dip at holy places. Achhuliyo = which cannot be fooled (robbed). Perpunch = worldly attractions. Moh = attachment. Bikaar = vices. Thaakay = exhausted. Koorr(u) = lies. Kupt(u) = deceit. Doyee = discrimination. 1. Sahib(u) = Lord. Kaarun Keeya = created the world. Maiyl(u) = filth. Kinaiy = some rare. Muth(i) = by churning well; by mixing with noble qualities. Moal(u) = worth. Puchhaata = recognized; made connection with. Praaya = stranger; disconnected. 2. Kee Na Aayo = what is left behind? Aavaiy Jaata = comes and goes (is born and dies). Maaniya = feel comfortable; mind is won over. Sayti = with. Baata = stories. Bimb = drop of liquid (semen). Koat(u) = fort; human body. Oosaariya = constructed. Punch Bhoo = the five basic elements (ingredients) to construct the universe. Naayiko = leader; Lord. Sirunda = creator. Pind(u) = body. Suvaariya = decorates with a beautiful finish. Uvgunaaray = full of ignoble qualities. Aavun Jaana = birth and death. 3.

MEANING: Guru's Teaching is a ladder to connect with the transcendental Waheguru, and is a source of eternal bliss. Now, I like (love) Waheguru, and imbued in His love, my mind sings praise of His virtues. When a devotee loves Waheguru, he acquires the blissfulness of a high spiritual state, and the wisdom imparted by the Guru to connect with the eternal Waheguru cannot be avoided (it becomes an unerasable part of the devotee). Waheguru cannot be deceived (no one can win His approval) by any ritualistic cleansing, undeserving donations to Brahmans, any wisdom, or by taking dips at holy places. My love for worldly attractions, vices, lies, deceitful acts, and discrimination towards other humans has all exhausted (I am fed up with them). Now, I love Waheguru only, and imbued in His Love, I sing His praise. 1.

We should sing praise of the Lord who has created the universe. But, without Waheguru at heart, the man has a filthy mind, and his body becomes filthy too (he commits immoral acts with his body). It is rare for an individual to drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam. When I asked my Guru about the price to acquire Waheguru's Naam, He told me that I need to surrender my mind to Waheguru and acquire noble qualities to drink the Amrit of His Naam. I realized my Waheguru in the high spiritual state when I applied my mind to (recite the Naam of) the eternal Waheguru. I can sing His praise in my mind only if He likes me. Once connected, a devotee does not become a stranger to Him again (does not get disconnected). We should sing praise of the Lord who created the world. 2.

Once Waheguru appears in a devotee's mind, what is left behind to acquire? (He is left with no desire for anything else, and becomes fully contented), And he will not have to go through the birth-death cycle again. His mind is completely won over by the Dear Lord, and he gets imbued in Waheguru's love. On listening to the stories (praise of His virtues) about Waheguru, the devotee's mind gets imbued in His love, who creates the fort-like human body from a drop of liquid (the union of an egg with a sperm). The Lord of the five basic ingredients (earth, water, fire, air, and sky/enlightenment), who creates the human body, also adorns it with a beautiful finish. We are devoid of any noble qualities, but You still listen to fulfil our needs, oh Waheguru. The lucky devotees, whom You like, also become like You. They acquire the everlasting wisdom (thinking) to stay connected with You and their birth-death cycle comes to end. 3.

Word Meaning: Unjun(u) = kohl (usually used to beautify eyes). Janaavaiy = gives the understanding. Munooaa = mind. Kerm = deeds. Sookerm = noble deeds. Keemut(i) = worth. Abhayvay = whose secrets cannot be known. Tunt(u) = incantation; magical spell. Munt(u) = mantra. Paakhund(u) = hypocritical acts. Maaniya = pleased. 4. Pur Ghur = other's shelter. Sungay = with. Ruliyaan = enjoyment. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Utth-sutth(i) Teeruth = 68 Hindu holy places. Poonn =charitable deeds. Bhaaya = liked. Thaap(i) = establish. Bhaana = Will. Rungeelurray = dyed in. 5. Aagoo = leader. Theeyay = becomes. Paadhur = the straight path. Moosaiy = deceived. Hochhiyaiy = vey low. Puchhaanaiy = recognize. Mehl(u) = (God's) Residence. Undhulee = blind. Soojhaiy = comes to mind. Boodou = drowns (fail to achieve objective). Chaaou = zest. Oopjaiy = arises. Ker Joarr(i) = with folded hands. 6.

MEANING: (Like a bride, who wears the kohl in her eyes which her husband likes), a devotee should perform the kind of worship which the Lord approves. But the understanding is that worship comes to the devotee only when the Lord Himself imparts it in his mind. Waheguru Himself bestows understanding, puts the devotee on the right path, and motivates his mind to enjoy worshipping Him. He Himself makes the devotee do the normal and the noble deeds, but who can find the worth of the Lord whose secrets can never be known? I know none of any incantation, any mantra, or any hypocritical act to charm the Lord; my mind just got pleased with Him. The real kohl to please the Lord is his Naam, which I came to realize from the Guru's Shabad. 4.

If a devotee has the Lord as his friend, why would he go to some other source to seek spirituality (or for any other help)? Such devotees stay imbued in the love of the Lord and enjoy the bliss of union with Him in their own mind. They do not need any religious rituals (to attain union with Waheguru). The love for Waheguru's Naam is like taking dips at the 68 holy places, performing charitable deeds, and worshipping some idol (such things mean nothing to them). Dyed in the love of the Lord, they acquire the deep red colour which reflects their everlasting love for Waheguru. 5.

If one's guide (guru) happens to be (spiritually) blind, how can the devotee find the straight and the right path for union with Waheguru? Because of his low wisdom, he loses his noble qualities and cannot find the right path. The wisdom of a spiritually blind man is also blinded, so how can he find the right path and reach the Residence of Waheguru? He cannot think of the right path without Waheguru's Naam, and drowns in the sea of Maya (in the Maya-oriented affairs). (On the other hand), If a devotee has the Guru's Shabad enshrined in his mind, his mind becomes highly enthusiastic to get connected with Waheguru, and his path is brightened by the Guru's Shabad. You should also pray to the Guru with folded hands when He shows you the path to union with Waheguru, oh my mind. 6. --------

Word Meaning: Perdaysi = wandering; stranger to Waheguru (disconnected with Him). Puraaya = strange. Khohloon Guntthrri = open bale (purse); share grief. Bidh(i) = situation. Khuray = much. Draavnay = scary; frightening. Toat(i) = shortage. Phariya = returns (to the world); birth-death cycle. Vihoonay = devoid of. Oonay = incomplete. Jhoonay = dejected; gloomy. Soonaaya = Sooniya = listened to. 7.
Bhurpoor(i) Leena = (in Waheguru) which is present everywhere. Sayvuk(u) = servant; devotee. Puteena = gets convinced (contented). Unk(u) = heart. Bheejay = imbued. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Mehlaan Untray = in (devotees') heart. Niruntray = continuously (without exception). Mayla = union. Soohayla = comfortable; blissful. Baajunt = plays (music). Unhud = uniform. Beena = guitar. 8.
Keeta = whatever has been created. Vaykhaiy = looks after. Soyee = the same (God). Loachaiy = longs; wishes. Abhooll(u) = infallible. Jaiykaar(u) = sing praise. Amoollaiy = priceless. Heenou = lacking qualities. Neech(u) = low-caste; ignoble. 9.

MEANING: If a man loses control of his mind (it keeps wavering), he cannot connect with Waheguru, and the whole world seems to be stranger to him (because he cannot get rid of his nature of discriminating between people), and he suffers because of that. I am also disconnected with Waheguru, and am suffering, but who can he share my grief with (because there is no real friend of mine)? Disconnected with Waheguru, the whole world is suffering, so nobody has the time or patience to listen to my sad story. All those who are disconnected from Waheguru keep taking births and dying, and there is no shortage of their rebirths. Without Waheguru's Naam, everybody is incomplete (lacks noble qualities) and feels gloomy because they do not listen to the Guru's Shabad. If one is disconnected from Waheguru, the whole world seems stranger to him. 7.
The Guru resides in Waheguru (He is "one" with Waheguru), which is pervading the whole world; but He makes the devotee's heart His dwelling (appears in a devotee's heart) when the devotee is convinced with the Guru's Shabad; his mind gets imbued in it, and he serves Waheguru (recites His Naam). Waheguru is the creator, does everything, and is present in everybody without any exception. When a devotee gets connected with the Guru's Shabad, his mind becomes blissful, and he feels as if a uniform music of a guitar is playing in his mind. The Guru resides in Waheguru (they are one and the same), and Waheguru pervades the whole universe. 8.
We should sing praise of the Creator (worship Him) and not His creation because He is the one who looks after it. Nobody can determine the worth of Waheguru's creation even if he longs to do that. Waheguru is infallible and never makes any mistake; only that devotee can find the worth of His creation whom He gives the needed wisdom. Those who sing Waheguru's praise with the priceless Shabad of the Guru are loved by Him. I lack noble qualities, and am an ignoble person, but I pray to Waheguru that I should never quit worshipping Him. Only Waheguru gives such wisdom who has created us, and looks after us, oh Nanak. 9.2.5.

Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love and peaceful state of mind. Dhoor(i) = by Waheguru. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Dooji = the other (related to Maya and discrimination). Live Laaga = focus mind with full dedication. 2.

MEANING: Sing the song of praise of Waheguru (recite His Naam) in the shelter of the Guru, which is the source of blissfulness, and reap the reward of everlasting comfort. All one's sufferings of many lives are eradicated when he sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru. I am a sacrifice for my Guru, who makes all my objectives successful.

When Waheguru becomes kind to His devotees, they recite His Naam and reap the reward of blissfulness. I urge all the devotees to listen to my request and recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss, oh Nanak. 1.
Those (lucky people), who listen to the noble qualities of Waheguru, recite His Naam with the wisdom (enlightenment) imparted by the Guru, get imbued in His love, and attain the high spiritual state. However, only those lucky devotees who have the union prewritten in their fate by Waheguru are connected with Waheguru, and their fear of reincarnation is eradicated. They get the ignoble thoughts of Maya's attractions and discrimination against others eradicated from their minds, and they become concentrated on Waheguru's Naam with full dedication. Those who are kind to Waheguru listen to His noble qualities and sing His praise day and night, every day, whereby their minds get imbued with His love, and they enjoy the spiritual state of blissfulness. 2.

Word Meaning: Joog Meh(i) = in the world. Nistaara = emancipation. Oopjay = is generated. Kilvikh = sins. Huoun = I am. 3.
Saajun = (Waheguru) friend. Vootthay = took dwelling. Ghur Maaheen = in my heart. Triput(i) Aghaayee = fully contented. Dehdis = in every direction. Pooj = worship; respect. Joaar(i) Vichhoarray = puts together and separates. Bin(u) = without. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the emancipator in the world, but the thought of Waheguru's worship is generated by the Guru's Shabad. Again, that lucky devotee gets to ponder on Guru's Shabad, and begins to love Waheguru, who is kind to him. He sings Waheguru's praise with a peaceful mind day and night, when all his sins get eradicated. Everybody is Yours, and You belong to everybody; I am also Yours, and You are mine, oh Waheguru. His Naam is the emancipator in this world. 3.
My dear friend, Waheguru, has taken dwelling in my heart (has appeared in there), and I have become fully contented by singing His praise. When one gets fully contented by singing His praise, he never feels any appetite for worldly attractions ever again. Waheguru's devotees, who recite His Naam, are worshipped (earn respect) in every direction (in the whole world). It is Waheguru, who connects or disconnects people with Him; there is none other who can do that. My Waheguru-friend has taken dwelling in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.1.

NOTE: Ram means Waheguru. It has been used in the next six chhunts to address Him.

MEANING: Waheguru protects the dignity of His devotees and has been doing so over the eons. (If someone asks what the devotees are like, the answer is): A devotee is the individual who burns away (gets rid of) his selfishness and ego in Guru's shelter with His Shabad. The devotee, who burns away his haumein with Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise), which is true (relevant) over all eons, is liked by Waheguru. Such a devotee recites Guru's Bani day and night in His shelter; that is the real worship of Waheguru. The lifestyle of the devotees is extremely pure and pious, and they love Waheguru's everlasting Naam. Such devotees, who spend their life reciting Waheguru's Naam and performing highly moral deeds, look elegant (exalted) in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 1. For the devotees, Waheguru is their caste and their dignity, and they are always absorbed in His Naam. The devotees recognize their good and bad qualities and rid themselves of selfishness and ego by worshipping Waheguru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, they identify their noble and ignoble qualities, and with respectful fear, they find Waheguru's worship to be sweet. They worship Waheguru (keep Him in mind) day and night, and stay detached from worldly attractions while living in the family. Absorbed in Waheguru's worship, they have a pure and pious mind, and always see Waheguru close to them. They remember Waheguru day and night, and are approved like Waheguru (they become like Him by acquiring noble qualities), in His Court, oh Nanak. 2. --------

Word Meaning: Munmukh(i) = follower of his own mind; Maya-engrossed. Bin(u) = Vin(u) = without. Viyaapay = impacts; causes suffering. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of Maya. Perj = public. Vigoyee = misled. Tutt(u) = real purpose of life. Jaaniya = made connection. Vihoona = devoid of. Bhermiya = lost in misgivings. Unt(i) = at the end. Koat(i) Mudhay = among millions. Vudiyaayee = respect. Put(i) = dignity. 3. Kaaruj(u) = task; objective. Khujaana = Nidhaan = treasure. Aapay = God Himself. Kaal(u) Kuntuk(u) = thorn of the fear of death. Maar(i) = getting rid of. Bhaanay = liked. Akhoott(u) = inexhaustible. Nikhoottaiy = depletes. Oochay = high in morality. Sohaaya = adorned; exalted. Bukhsh(i) = by forgiving; with benevolence. Sobha = praise.
MEANING: The followers of their mind (disconnected with Waheguru) do worship some deity (other than Waheguru), and of course, without taking the advice of the Guru; but no worship without the Guru is approved by Waheguru. They suffer from the disease of haumein due to their attraction for Maya, and consequently go through the suffering of rebirths. The masses are misled by the false attractions of Maya, and suffer rebirths; they do not understand the reality (real purpose) of life (union with Waheguru). Without the worship of Waheguru, the whole world is misled by their misgivings, and they leave the world repenting. One in a million recognizes the fact that Waheguru and His Naam are the only everlasting, valuable things. One earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam, and loses his dignity because of his love for someone (or something) else, oh Nanak. 3.

The devotees focus on the worship of Waheguru as their primary task, and they always sing His praise. Waheguru Himself gives them the treasure of His worship, and they stay absorbed in Him as they get rid of the fear of the thorny death. Waheguru likes His devotees and bestows the treasure of His everlasting Naam to them, whereby they kill the fear of the thorn-like death. The treasure of Waheguru's Naam is inexhaustible and never depletes; the devotees receive it in their high spiritual state. Waheguru's devotees are always very high in morality, and they look exalted as they are adorned with the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru connects them with His own benevolence, and they are respected over the eons, oh Nanak. 4.1.2.

Word Meaning: Sacahiy = Such(u) = Sachay = everlasting. Sohila = blissfulness. Kilvikh = sins. Ooridhaaray = acquired (stored) in mind (has become a dwelling for God). Dootur = (the world-sea) which is very difficult to swim across. Bhuvjul = the world sea

Boojhaaya = explained; gave understanding. Put(i) = dignity. Bhojun(u) = food; meal. Bhaaou = love. Gerbh(i) = womb. Jooni = different life forms. Vaasa = living. Joti = human soul. Veechhurr = separate. 2.
MEANING: The heart (or the holy congregation) where Waheguru is remembered (His Naam is recited) with the eternal Shabad of the Guru (in praise of Waheguru) enjoys blissfulness. All the sins and the haumein (selfishness and ego) of the heart, which have become Waheguru's dwelling, are eradicated. The individual with such a pure heart swims across the sea of Maya, and he does not have to swim that again (he does not take any rebirths). The Guru is eternal like Waheguru, and so is His Bani (Shabad) by which He reveals Waheguru to His devotees (connects them with Waheguru). Such a devotee sings the virtues of Waheguru, sees Waheguru everywhere, and stays absorbed in Him. Waheguru is eternal, and so is His praise, which leads to the salvation of the devotees, oh Nanak. 1. The devotee acquires understanding about Waheguru (gets enlightened), and gets connected with Him in the shelter of the Guru, and Waheguru protects his dignity. With pure love for Waheguru in his mind, Waheguru's Naam becomes the everlasting food for the devotee's mind, as a result of which, he enjoys true comfort, and he never enters a mother's womb to be born again. The Guru enlightens the mind of the devotee with Waheguru's eternal Naam, and the soul of the devotee merges with the Soul of the Lord. Those who recognize Waheguru (get connected with Him), recite His Naam day and night, and become pure like Waheguru. Those who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart never suffer the pain of separation from Him, oh Nanak.2

Word Meaning: Tit(u) Ghur(i) = in that heart. Vertaiy = operates. Pusriya = spread over; present. Uver(u) = other. Oopjaiy = comes into being; takes new spiritual life. Smaavaiy = is absorbed. Dooja Hoyee = who worship the other (Maya). Kerta = God. 3. Bhagat = true devotees. Soheh(i) = look impressive (majestic). Durvaaray = in Waheguru's Court. Vukhaanay = utter; recite. Ghut Untray = in the heart. Puchhaanay = identified; connected with (Him). Jaaneh(i) = realize; get connected. Sojhi = enlightenment. Sobha = praise; fame. Ruttay = imbued. Ikk Rungee = in love with "One". Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Praaput(i) = acquirement. 4.

MEANING: The heart which sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's eternal Shabad enjoys blissfulness. By singing praise of the pure and eternal Waheguru, the devotee's body and mind also become pure, and the eternal Waheguru begins to reside in them. Such a devotee performs the deeds in accordance with the Will of God, which operates in him (guides him), and the devotee tells only the truth. He sees only Waheguru present everywhere, and no one else. The devotee takes a new spiritual life from Waheguru and merges with Him, but the money-worshipper keeps taking births and dying. The Creator Waheguru is in control of everything and makes others do whatever He wishes, oh Nanak. 3. The true devotees look majestic in the Court of Waheguru, and recite only Waheguru's Naam. Guru's eternal Shabad is enshrined in their mind with which they analyze themselves, and get fully enlightened about Waheguru with whom they make a deep connection. With Guru's evergreen Shabad, they earn everlasting praise and enjoy bliss with Waheguru enshrined in their heart. The true devotees are imbued in the love of only "One" Waheguru, and do not love anyone (or anything) else. But only those acquire Waheguru's Naam in their hearts who have it prewritten on their foreheads, oh Nanak. 4.2.3.

Word Meaning: Joog Chaaray = all the four eons. Dhun = human bride. Bhuvay = goes through. Bin(u) = without. Sohaag(u) = marriage; union (with God). Nihchul = everlasting. Raj(u) = reign; Huqam(u). Kayra = of. Pir = husband (God). Maylaava = union. Mun Maaniya = bring faith in; is convinced. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Kaamun(i) = human bride. Kuntaiy = husband (Waheguru). Raavaiy = enjoys (the union). 1. Sayv(i) = serve. Baalurriyay = child; ignorant. Vur(u) = husband. Sohaagni = married (enjoys love of God). Maiyla Vays = dirty clothes (a sign of the widows). Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Puchhaaniya = recognized. Kerni Kaar = performing the worthy deeds. Untar(i) = in the mind. Raavay = enjoys union with. Sobha = praise. Kaamun(i) = woman; human bride. Ruv Ruhhiya = is present. 2.

MEANING: No matter what the eon is, a devotee cannot get married to (get connected with) Waheguru even if she goes through all four eons in different life forms. Waheguru's Huqam (Laws) are eternal (do not change with time), and there is no one else who can change them. A devotee realizes in the shelter of the Guru that there is only one Supreme Being, and there is none else like Him. With the wisdom imparted by the Guru, the human bride (devotee) is fully convinced about the supremacy of Waheguru, and gets connected with Waheguru as the Husband. One realizes Waheguru only in the shelter of the Guru, and there is no emancipation without Waheguru's Naam. With her mind convinced about Waheguru, the human bride enjoys the blissfulness of the union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1. Serve the Satguru; only then can you acquire Waheguru as your Husband, oh ignorant woman (human). Once connected, she always remains married (connected) to Waheguru and never becomes a widow again (never gets separated from Him). But some rare devotee realizes Waheguru only after she has killed (gotten rid of) her haumein in the shelter of the Guru. Such a devotee recognizes only the "One" Waheguru, performs only deeds approved by the Guru, and remains absorbed in His Shabad. With the grace of the Guru, she enjoys union with God day and night, and earns everlasting praise. Such a devotee enjoys union with Waheguru, who is omnipresent, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Rung(i) Rutti = imbued in the love. Vertaiy = operates. Seegaar(u) = adornment. Sookh-Daata = the source of all comforts (God). Kuntth(i) Laayay = held to the neck. Mehli = the Lord of the Palace. Mehl(u) = (Waheguru's) Palace. 3.
Dhoor(i) = by the source (Waheguru). Ghut(i) = in the heart (mind). Chaanun = enlightenment. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Sayj = bed. Sookhaali = comforting. Bhaanee = liked. Nirmul = pure; pious. Mul(u) = filth. Khoyee = removed. Nuvaiy Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures of the world. 4.

MEANING: The Guru connects even an ignorant devotee who adopts the lifestyle as per the Guru's Advice (performs deeds approved by the Guru) with the Waheguru-Husband. The devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's love, enjoys the blissfulness of the union with Waheguru, and stays absorbed in the omnipresent Waheguru, which operates everywhere. (Like a bride, who adorns herself with ornaments to be attractive to her husband), a devotee adorns herself with everlasting noble qualities to be attractive to Waheguru, and stays absorbed in Him. When Waheguru embraces a devotee who has tightly enshrined the Guru's Shabad in her mind at His neck, she realizes that Waheguru is the source of all comforts and the Lord of the universe, and, with the Guru's advice, she connects with Him, oh Nanak. 3.
But only that childlike devotee gets connected with the Guru who has union with Waheguru prewritten in her fortune. Her heart is enlightened by the wisdom imparted by the Guru when she "sees" Waheguru to be present everywhere. As prewritten in her fortune, she enshrines the omnipresent Waheguru's Naam in her heart. She adorns herself with noble qualities with Waheguru's Naam, and is liked (loved) by Waheguru, because of which the bed of her heart becomes highly comforting due to her union with Waheguru. With Guru's advice, the devotee washes away the filth of her haumein (selfishness and ego) when her mind is purified, and she gets absorbed in Waheguru. Waheguru Himself connects such a devotee with Him, and she feels as if she has acquired all the nine treasures of the world, oh Nanak. 4.3.4.

Undin(u) = everyday; always. Sa = that. Dhun = woman (devotee). Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Ghut(i) = in the heart. Soohaavay = adorned; look (spiritually) attractive. Sohila = blissfulness. 1.

Anund = blissfulness. Bhuyya = happened. Liv Laayay = mind focussed on. Amrit Bani = life-sustaining Shabad. Nistray = salvaged. Smaani = is present. 2.

MEANING: Sing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru to realize Waheguru, oh my friends. The devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, feels as if uniform Divine music plays in his mind. This Divine music plays in the mind of the devotee whose heart has been enlightened, and Waheguru has appeared in there when he sings His praise. The human bride (devotee) which worships Waheguru all the time in the shelter of the Guru, is loved by the Waheguru-Husband. The devotee, who gets Guru's Shabad enshrined in her heart, is adorned (with noble qualities) with the Shabad of the Guru. The heart which becomes a dwelling for Waheguru by His benevolence, becomes blissful for ever, oh Nanak. 1.

The devotees, whose minds stay focused on Waheguru's Naam, feel blissful. Their mind is purified in the shelter of the Guru, and they sing Waheguru's praise with a pure mind. When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise with the Amrit-like (immortalizing) Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise with a pure mind, Waheguru makes his heart His dwelling (appears in that heart). Waheguru's Shabad is present in every heart, but only those devotees find salvation (union with God) whose hearts become dwellings for Him. 2.

Jaatay = are known. Jaapeh(i) = are honoured. Dur(i) = (at Waheguru's) Door. Sacha = God. Sacha = everlasting. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee gets to join the company of the Guru (or some holy saints), he gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. With Guru's Shabad, he stays focused on Waheguru's Naam and breaks all the worldly bonds while living in the family. When a devotee focuses his mind on Waheguru's Naam, He (Waheguru) connects the devotee first with the Guru before the devotee gets connected with Waheguru (this is Waheguru's Law), and his mind gets imbued in Waheguru's love. When a devotee keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time, his bonds of worldly attachments are broken, and he becomes "one" with Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts. Imbued with the love for Guru's Shabad, the devotee enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his mind and attains the spiritual state of blissfulness in which he always feels intoxicated. The devotees, who serve the Satguru (act on His Advice), and stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, always feel blissfulness, oh Nanak. 3.
The world is misled by its misgivings, and the people cannot reach Waheguru's Palace (cannot get united with Him). Some devotees do connect with Him in the Guru's shelter, where all their troubles are eradicated. Their troubles disappear when they like Waheguru, and, imbued in His love, they sing His praise all the time. With the worship of Waheguru, the devotees become perfectly pure and are honoured in Waheguru's Court no matter what the eon is. With the true (honest) worship of Waheguru, such devotees are recognized at Waheguru's Door (in His Court), and the eternal Waheguru takes dwelling in their heart. With the eternal Shabad of the Guru, the devotee acquires everlasting blissfulness and true happiness, oh Nanak. 4.4.5.

Word Meaning: Laav = Lugaaou = attachment; union. Pervirti = focus of mind on some new task (for example, marriage). Kerm = deeds to perform. At the time of marriage, the religious leader explains the responsibilities of marriage (some do's and some don'ts to the new couple – particularly the bride. (In case of union of a human bride with Waheguru, the most important deed to perform is to recite Waheguru's Naam which is the pervirti kerm for a Sikh). Drirraaya = reinforced. Vayd(u) = the Vedas. Dherm = responsibility – the first and the foremost duty. Tujaaya = given up; eradicated. Simrit(i) = Hindu holy books. Kilvikh = sins = Paap. Guvaaya = cleared; eradicated. Sehj Anund = blissfulness of the high spiritual state. Vudbhaageen = highly fortunate. Aarumbh = the beginning. Kaaj = the task (of union with the Lord). Ruchaaya = created; started. 1. Purakh(u) = Great Soul. Nirbhuou = fearless. Bhaiy = fear (of Waheguru). Haumein = selfishness and ego. Nirmul(u) = pure (without any pressure). Hudooray = close by. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. Mumgul = song of joy. Unhud Shabad = auto-playing Divine music. Vujaayay = reverberated. 2.

MEANING: I am a sacrifice for You for initiating the task of connecting the devotees with You, oh my dear Waheguru. When a devotee's dedication reaches the stage where he can be connected with Waheguru, Satguru arrives in his heart (spiritually or in person) and reiterates the importance of recitation of His Bani in praise of Waheguru, and makes the devotee recite it. It is the first stage in the path of the devotee to union with Waheguru, in which the Satguru advises the devotee that recitation of Gurbani is his first and foremost duty to perform. For a Sikh, Guru's Bani is the study of the Vedas of Brahma (a Sikh does not need to study the Vedas), and it is the religious duty of the Sikh to recite Guru's Bani by which all his sins are eradicated. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the religious duty of the Sikhs; even the Simritis emphasize the recitation of Waheguru's Naam. One must remember the Perfect Satguru (which is a manifestation of Waheguru), whereby all the sins of the devotee are destroyed. When a highly fortunate devotee recites Waheguru's Naam, he begins to find Waheguru sweet in his mind, and acquires the blissfulness of the high spiritual state. This is the first stage (of spiritual development) in the holy task of a devotee's union with God, oh Nanak. 1.

I am a sacrifice to You for initiating the task of connecting the devotees with You, oh my dear Waheguru. In the second stage, Waheguru connects the devotee with Satguru, who is a Great Soul (a manifestation of Waheguru), in whose shelter the devotee becomes fearless of all worldly problems. He fosters a pure fear for Waheguru (without any obligation or wish), and the filth of his selfishness and his ego is washed away, oh my dear God. By singing Waheguru's praise, the devotee develops a pure and respectful fear for God, and "sees" Waheguru very close to him. He also realizes that Waheguru has spread Himself everywhere in the universe. He sings the song of happiness in Waheguru's praise, and realizes that it is the same Waheguru inside him and outside. In the second stage (of spiritual development) initiated by Satguru, the devotee feels as if he is listening to the auto-playing Divine Music, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chaaou = zest; gusto. Bairaagi = an individual who renounces the world in the love of (Waheguru). Nirmul(u) = pure; perfect. Kuthiyaiy = describe. Akuth = indescribable. Kuhaani = story (virtues of Waheguru). Dhoon(i) Oopji = musical notes reverberate. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Bhaag(u) = fortune. 3.

Soobhaayay = with love. Bhaaya = liked; loved. Liv = focus mind on. Chindiya = as wished. Vujji Vadhaayee = became high-spirited. Tthaakur(i) = Lord. Dhun = woman-devotee. Vigaasi = blooming of heart. Avinaashi = immortal. 4.

MEANING: I wish to sacrifice my life for You, oh my dear Lord. In the third stage of the path of union with Waheguru, the devotee feels detached from worldly attractions and eager to be close to Waheguru. Such a devotee is highly fortunate, and he is connected with holy saints of Waheguru to be connected with Waheguru. In this stage, the devotees sing Waheguru's praise and recite Satguru's Bani in the company of the holy men when their mind gets fully purified to acquire Waheguru. With great fortune, the devotee gets into the company of the holy saints, where they discuss the virtues of Waheguru, which can never be described in full. With good fortune on their forehead, the devotees recite Waheguru's Naam, and musical notes of Waheguru's Naam reverberate in their hearts. The devotees feel detached from the worldly attractions (and acquire deep love for Waheguru) in the third stage, oh Nanak. 3.

The devotee's mind becomes completely peaceful (no thoughts of any worldly affairs arise in his mind), and he gets united with Waheguru in the fourth stage of his spiritual development, oh my dear Waheguru. With his love for Waheguru, and in Guru's shelter, the devotee becomes "one" with Waheguru, and finds Him to be sweet in his body and mind. Waheguru loves the devotee's dedication, and the devotee keeps his mind focused on Waheguru's Naam all the time. The devotee reaps his desired reward (union with Waheguru), and his mind dances in high spirits. The Lord Himself initiates the task of connecting the devotee with Him, and the devotee's heart blooms with Waheguru's Naam in it. The devotee realizes the immortal Waheguru in the fourth stage of his spiritual development, oh Nanak. 4.2.

NOTE (1): Even though Guru Ram Dass Ji has written his holy Shabad detailing the four spiritual stages of the devotee on his way to get married (connected) with Waheguru, this holy Shabad is sung to perform the marriage ceremony of would-be Sikh couples. The bride and the groom sit in front of Sri Guru Granth Sahib. A Sikh reads the first stanza of the holy Chhunt (Shabad) from Guru Granth Sahib. At the conclusion of the stanza, the would-be couple bows to Guru Granth Sahib and circumambulates Guru Granth Sahib (go around it) in the clockwise direction, led by the groom. After completing the circle, the couple bows to Guru Granth Sahib again and sits down. In the meantime, the musicians sing the same holy stanza until the couple has sat down. The attendant Sikh reads the second stanza, and the same steps are followed. The process is repeated four times to recite all four stanzas, and the marriage ceremony is completed after the prayer.

NOTE (2): In Jup(u) Ji Sahib, the first Bani of Guru Granth Sahib, Guru Nanak Sahib has described five Khunds (stages) for the union of human beings with Waheguru. The four stages detailed in the holy Chhunt by Guru Ram Dass Ji, under discussion, are basically the same as the five Khunds described by Guru Nanak Sahib, with one difference. The Second Khund (Giyaan Khund) or the stage of knowledge about the universe, is not discussed by Guru Ram Dass Ji.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter. Rusn = tongue. Rusaayay = while enjoying. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Soobhaayay = with love. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Bhog Bhogay = enjoys the gifts of Waheguru. Liv Laayay = focus mind on. Undin(u) = everyday; all the time. Jugjeevun(u) = (the source of) life of the world. Soonn(i) = in the spiritual state where no thoughts arise. 1.
Hur(i) Sur(i) = pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. Naayay = takes dip. Puvitt(u) = pure; pious. Doomut(i) Maiyl(u) = filth of ignoble (evil) thinking. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Bintthi = destroyed. Peerra = pain; suffering. Nij Ghur(i) Vaasa = mind quits wandering and stays in own heart (gets focused on Waheguru's Naam). Pergaasa = brightens. 2.

MEANING: A devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru with his tongue while enjoying it, also enjoys its sweet taste in the heart. When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise with taste (love), he is liked by Waheguru, which connects the devotee with Him without any special effort on the part of the devotee. The devotee stays focused on Guru's Shabad, and feels as if he is enjoying all the wonderful gifts of Waheguru, and enjoys his sleep (life) in comfort. However, one gets the company of the Perfect Guru only with great fortune when he recites Waheguru's Naam constantly. He connects with the life of the world, Waheguru, in a high spiritual state where no worldly thoughts arise in his mind, and he stays in that state, oh Nanak. 1.

Waheguru connects His devotees to the company of the holy saints (the Guru), where the devotee takes a dip in the holy pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit and gets purified. By taking a dip in the holy pool of Waheguru's Naam, the devotee washes away the filth of his unholy thoughts, whereby his body (and mind) are purified. The filth of his evil wisdom (thoughts) is washed away, his misgivings are cleared, and the suffering of his haumein is destroyed. With the kind sight of Waheguru, the devotee gets connected with the company of the holy saints (the Guru) whereby his mind becomes peaceful (quits wandering and becomes focused on Waheguru's Naam). His mind is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam, and his tongue enjoys the sweet taste of the songs of Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Rattan(u) = the jewel-like invaluable noble qualities; Waheguru's Naam. Nistaaray = salvages. Ugiyaan = ignorance. Undhayr(u) = darkness. Perchund = bright. Buliya = lighted up. Ghut(i) = in the heart. Chaanun = light; brightness. Sohaaya = became attractive. Urp(i) = to offer. Seegaar = beautification. Pur = certainly. Unk(i) = in the heart. 3.

Soor(i) = gods. Nur = humans. Gun Gundherb = assistants of gods. Upoorub = unmatched; unique. Junj = marriage party. 4.

MEANING: The devotees of the dear Waheguru explore the invaluable Naam of Waheguru and His virtues, which are always present in their mind – albeit unrecognized – in the shelter of the Guru. Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) dispels the darkness of ignorance of the devotees and salvages them (severs their worldly bonds). Guru's Shabad brightly enlightens their mind because of which their minds and bodies become highly attractive (pure). They adorn themselves by offering their body and mind to Waheguru, and are loved by Him. They do just that which is approved by Waheguru, and as a result, they merge into Him, oh Nanak. 3.

Waheguru initiates the holy task of marrying the devotee (connecting him) with Him through the Guru. The human bride (the devotee), who is liked (loved) by Waheguru, is connected with Him by the grace of the Guru. Waheguru Himself adorns such a devotee who sings His praise in the company of the holy saints (with noble qualities). Gods, humans, and the assistants of gods all come to watch the holy union. Such a marriage party is unique and unmatched. I also realized the eternal Waheguru, which never dies or leaves you, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Word Meaning: Govind Kayray = of Waheguru. Ghunayray = very many. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Salaaheen = sing praise. Liv = meditate on. Undin(u) = everyday; all the time. Sehj(i) = in peaceful mind. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. Rid = in the heart. Pooja = worship. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. Uver(u) = other. 1.

MEANING: Let us join together and sing His praise, oh, the holy devotees of Waheguru. Let us stay together in the shelter of the Guru (to sing Waheguru's praise) whereby you will feel as if many, many notes of Divine music are playing in your heart (mind). We should sing many songs of Waheguru's praise, who is the creator of the universe, and who is present everywhere. I wish to recite His Naam and sing His praise day and night with full concentration of my mind. When a devotee worships Waheguru (recites His Naam) imbued in His love, he enjoys the blissfulness all the time. Also, in the shelter of the Guru, he recognizes (acknowledges) only "one" God, and no other deity, oh Nanak.1.

The omniscient Waheguru is present in everybody (invisibly). But when a devotee recites the Guru's Shabad, he "sees" the Lord, Waheguru, to be present everywhere. My omniscient Waheguru is present in every heart. The devotee realizes (connects with) Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, does not recognize any other power, and becomes absorbed in the peaceful spiritual state. If Waheguru likes (with His benevolence), I also wish to sing His praise in the peaceful spiritual state, whereby He will connect me with Him. However, Waheguru can be comprehended (can be enshrined in the heart) only when one recites His Naam day and night, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jugo = world (sea). Dootur(u) = very difficult to swim across. Paar(i) = the far end. Untray = inside. Mumta = love for worldly things (especially children). Kaam(u) = lust. Kroadh = rage. Chuturaayee = shrewdness; over cleverness. Thaayayn Na Paayee = gets no recognition; is rejected. Birtha = without any success; waste away. Jum Mug = the path leading to the Angel of death. Choataan Khaavaiy = gets punishment. Puchhutaaya = repenting. Bayli = friend; support. Kootumb = family. Soot(u) = Poot(u) = son. Bhaayee = brother. Moh = attachment. Pusaara = spread; network. Aagaiy = next world. 3.

Daata = provider; Lord. Kin Bidh = by what means; how. Bhaayay Chulhou = follow Guru's advice. Jeevutiyaan Muriyaiy = becomes detached from worldly attraction while living in the family. Bhuoujul = the world sea. Pergaas(u) Bhuyee = became enlightened. Maaniya = got convinced; got pleased. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. 4.

MEANING: The world-sea is next to impossible to swim across, and the Maya-worshipper cannot get to the far end because he has selfishness and ego, love for worldly things, lust, rage, and over-cleverness in his mind. With over cleverness (deceit) in mind, he cannot find any room in Waheguru's Court (is rejected there, i.e. his efforts are not recognized), and he wastes away his precious human life. Headed on the path leading to the Angel of Death, he suffers, gets punished, and leaves the world repenting. Without Waheguru's Naam, there is no one to support him, including his sons, his family, or his brothers. The world is simply a network of Maya and its attachments, none of which accompany him to the next world, oh Nanak. 3.

If I ask my Satguru, my Lord, about the means I can use to swim across the world sea, the answer is: Follow the advice of Satguru by which you will be detached from the worldly attractions while still living in the family; and when you stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam following the advice of the Guru, you will be able to swim across the world-sea. However, one gets to enjoy the shelter of the Guru only with great fortune, which enables the devotee to meditate on Waheguru's Naam with full dedication. The devotee's wisdom (mind) is enlightened in Satguru's shelter, and he is convinced about the importance of Waheguru's Naam, which earns him praise (respect). The devotee connects with Waheguru through Satguru's Shabad when his soul merges with the Supreme Soul, oh Nanak. 4.1.4.

MEANING: (Luckily), I have acquired the shelter of my dear Satguru, and the appetite of all my worldly desires has been satisfied, oh, the holy devotees of the Guru. I will gladly offer my body and my mind to the service of Satguru because He is the one who connects the devotees with Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities. The Guru is a Great Soul, worthy of worship, and deserving of all accolades because He enlightens one's mind to connect with Waheguru. The fortunate people connect with Waheguru, and their minds bloom with blissfulness, oh Nanak. 1.

My dear and friendly Guru has appeared in my mind; I will ask Him about the path to follow to realize Waheguru. The long-separated Lord, Waheguru, comes to your heart (appears in there) when you recite Guru's Shabad with dedication. I am in very low spirits and feel like a fish out of water without You, oh Lord. 2.

Word Meaning: Dehidis(i) = in every direction. Bhermiya = wandered aimlessly. Bherm Bhoolaaya = misled by misgivings. Nit = everyday; all the time. Aasa Chitvaiy = builds hopes. Anuta = unlimited. Dhur(i) = in the ground. Dubbiya = buried. Bikh(u) = poisonous (wealth). Bhaalun = in search of. Puch(i) Puch(i) = in suffering. 3.
Soondar = handsome. Mohun(u) = mind-captivating. Baani = (with) arrows. Mun Maariya = killed desires of the mind. Soodh(i) = consciousness. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Visser(i) Guyyee = forgotten; lost track of. Assa = hopes. Chint = worries. Vaydun = pain. Daykhut = on seeing. Sadhaariya = got support. Khin(u) Khin(u) = every moment.4.
MEANING: The follower of his mind (worshipper of Maya) is misled by his misgivings, and his mind wanders aimlessly (without any spiritual gain) in every direction. His mind is always hungry for worldly attractions, and he builds new hopes every day. He may have unlimited wealth buried in the ground, but still goes in search of more wealth, which is actually a poison (for spirituality). Without Waheguru's Naam, one suffers mentally and dies spiritual death; so, you sing Waheguru's praise (recite His Naam), oh Nanak. 3. When a devotee gets (spiritually) connected with the handsome and mind-captivating Guru, his mind is pierced with the arrows of the Guru's Shabad in the love for Waheguru. When that happened to me, I lost my consciousness and my wisdom, and all my hopes and worries were forgotten. I was suffering from the pain of love for Waheguru, but my mind found great relief as soon as I saw my Guru. Waheguru appears in the mind of the highly fortunate devotees; I am a sacrifice for such Great Waheguru, every moment, oh, Nanak. 4.1.5.

Word Meaning: Maar(i) Su = kill; destroy. Vay = oh, hey. Haumein Bikhiya = poisonous selfishness and ego. Dayh = body. Kunchun = (valuable like) gold. Vigootiya = humiliated; discomfit. Moh(u) = attachment. Kaalkhaa = source of insult. Inn(i) = with it. Moorr(i) = foolish. Sujootiya = strongly connected (attracted). Oobray = salvaged. 1. Vuss(i) Aanihou = bring under control. Baasha = a bird of prey which rarely rests. Bhaundiyaan = roaming around. Raiyn(i) = night (life span). Vihaaniyaan = is spent. Nit everyday; all the time. Chaundiyaan = reciting (Waheguru's Naam). Sookh(i) Suoundiyaan = (wishing to) sleep in comfort. 2.

MEANING: Kill (get rid of) your selfishness and ego, which is a poison in the path to union with Waheguru, and does not allow you to get connected with Him, oh, my friends. The human body, which is beautiful (works perfectly) and is precious like gold, suffers humiliation because of one's haumein. The attachment to Maya is a source of disgrace (in the Court of Waheguru), but the foolish follower of his mind is strongly attached to Maya. The devotees of the Guru get salvaged with His Shabad because their haumein is eradicated with it, oh Nanak. 1.

Bring your mind under control, which takes flight like a basha, which keeps flying all the time aimlessly in search of its food. The life of the individual who has no control over his mind is spent in discomfort because he always builds new hopes (which are not always fulfilled). When one gets connected with the Guru, all his wishes are fulfilled by reciting Waheguru's Naam. I pray to God that He gives me the wisdom to let go of all my wishes so I can enjoy a good night's sleep (comfort). 2. ----------

Sa Dhun = that woman (devotee). Chit(i) = in mind. Ram Rajiya = Lord Waheguru (used just to keep the balance of the Raag). Sayjurriyaiy = on the beautiful bed. Agumm = inaccessible. Duyyaal(u) = kind. Loacha = longing. Gurmukhay = Guru's shelter. Sherdha = reverence; veneration. Vichhaayee = made. Bhaaniya = liked. 3.
Ikutt(u) = one; the same. Baiyraag(u) = deep affection. Ghoal(i) Ghoomaaya = wish to sacrifice life. Toottha = pleased to be kind. 4.
MEANING: The devotee, who wishes diligently with focussed mind for Waheguru to come to the bed of her heart, gets her wish fulfilled because the inaccessible Lord is kind and He connects the devotee with His benevolence. I have a strong longing to take shelter at the feet of the Guru (to connect me with Waheguru), and have made my heart the bed of reverence for Waheguru, oh my Royal Lord. Waheguru liked my dedication and kindly connected me with Him without any special effort on my part, oh Nanak. 3. The Guru explains to me that the devotee and Waheguru share the bed of the devotee's heart (Waheguru appears in the devotee's heart) when the Guru connects the devotee with Waheguru with His grace. My mind and my body are overwhelmed with the love-filled hope of uniting with Waheguru (and eagerly waiting) for the Guru to connect me with Him through His benevolence. I am always a sacrifice for my Guru, and have offered my heart to Him. The Guru has been pleased to be kind to me, and has connected me with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.2.6.5.7.6.18.

Word Meaning: Baavray = crazy; daft; foolish. Bhoolana = misled. Nayh(u) = love. Koorra = short-lived. Koosumbh = a pretty flower which wilts away very quickly. Udh(u) = a worthless sea (cowrie) shell. Rungaana = in love with. Mujeettha = a deep red colour that never fades. Theeveh(i) = becomes. Goolaala = a deep red flower. Cheenh(i) = by recognizing. Mithiya = false; perishable. Moh(i) = in the love of. Mugun = fully absorbed. Luptaana = cling; deeply attached. Deen = poor; powerless. Kirpa Nidh(i) = source of compassion (God). Laaj = dignity. Bhugtaana = of the devotees. 1.

Nath(u) = Lord. Praana = of life. Nihchul = permanent; for sure. Hubh(i) = all. Vaiysi = will go. Perdaysi = foreigner; visitor (the man is a visitor in the world). Bhaageen = with luck. Baiyraagi = who has renounced the world in search of God. Churn = feet (shelter). Geh(i) = hold. Shunk = doubt; hesitation. Tuj(i) = give up. Maana = ego. Bhuv Taarun = the ship to ferry across the world sea (Waheguru). Vukhaana = describe. 2.

MEANING: Why are you misled (do not see the reality) by the false attractions of the world, oh foolish man? You are attracted to, and are deeply in love with, the worldly attractions which are as short-lived as a koosumbh flower. You have forgotten Waheguru in love for the perishables, which are as worthless as a cowrie shell in Waheguru's Court. Waheguru's Naam dyes your heart with never-fading colour like that of madder; you will acquire this colour of deep love for Waheguru when you find Him sweet with Guru's Shabad. But you are fully absorbed in the love of the false worldly attractions and are deeply attached to them. I am poor (powerless), and have taken the shelter of Waheguru, which is the source of compassion, and protects the dignity of His devotees, oh Nanak. 1. Serve Waheguru, who is the Lord of our lives, and only who is immortal; everything else which comes into being is sure to die (will be destroyed), oh foolish man. For that reason, we should stay in the company of holy saints (to recite Waheguru's Naam) because everything else is sure to die, including you, who is only a visitor in this world. But Waheguru can be realized only with great luck when we stay in His shelter, oh, the ignorant man in search of Waheguru. You need to get rid of your huge ego, which you can do only in the Guru's shelter; so, surrender your mind to Him without any hesitation. What praise of Yours can a poor (having no virtue) like me, sing, oh Waheguru! You, kindly, salvage Your devotees, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Keechaiy = do. Maano = pride. Gerb(u) Goomaano = ego; pride. Mithiya = false. Daasa = slave. Jeevut Muriyaiy = kill desires while living in the family. Theevaiy = become; is there. Kerm(i) Likhiyaasa = written in fortune. Sayveejaiy = serve. Amrit Peejaiy = enjoy the taste of Naam-Amri. Sehj(i) = in the peaceful state of mind. Dhiyaano = focus of mind. Bul(i) = Koorbaano = sacrifice life. 3.

Mut(u) Jaaneh(i) = do not be under the wrong impression. Theeou = become. Rayn(u) = dust of the feet (humble). Dershun = holy sight (of the Lord). Nimaana = humble. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Soodha = pure; good. Luddha = found; made connection. Vaychaaya = sold; gave up all rights. Upnaaya = Yours. 4.

MEANING: What are you conceited about, oh the foolish man? All those things which you are conceited about are perishable (and nothing will accompany you after death), and all your pride will be shattered. Everything that you think is permanent will get destroyed, so all your pride is short-lived; therefore, one should be a slave (devotee) of Waheguru and His holy saints. If one has good fortune prewritten for him (by Waheguru), he kills his worldly desires while living in the family, and swims across the world-sea. The devotee, whom Waheguru puts in the service of the Guru, drinks the Amrit of His Naam, and attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. I have sought the shelter of Waheguru, and am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 3.

Do not ever think that you have realized Waheguru, oh, foolish man. (If you wish to realize God), be humble like the dust of the feet of the devotees who have worshipped Waheguru oh foolish man. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam stay blissful; only the fortunate people get to have their holy sight (come to their shelter). One should kill his selfishness and ego to be humble, and should always be ready to offer his life (in the service of the holy saints). Those who get connected with Waheguru are highly fortunate; I am completely sold to them (have given up all my rights to them). I am poor (have no virtue), and have come to the shelter of the source of all comforts (Waheguru), who protects the dignity of His devotees (saves them from the attacks of Maya), oh Nanak. 4.1.

We should remember our Lord (keep Him in mind) at all times, whether we are standing, sitting, or even sleeping. The source of all virtues, and the ocean of all comforts, Waheguru, is present everywhere – in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. I have come to His shelter as there is none other than Him in this world, oh Nanak. 3. After touching the holy feet of the Royal Waheguru (having surrendered to Him) my body has become the forest (disconnected with Maya, I do not need to go to some forest to search for Waheguru), and my heart has become the pool (source) of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit (I do not need to go to some holy place for a dip). By singing praise of Waheguru, my mind has been adorned with noble qualities, and all my senses feel blissful (they are fully content now). By singing Waheguru's praise and reciting His Naam, all my wishes have been fulfilled. My mind has become alert (has been enlightened) against the attacks of Maya for good, and I feel in high spirits (enjoy blissfulness). My Lord, who delivers all comforts, cast a kind sight on me, and made this and the next world successful for me. I submit humbly that we should always recite the Naam of the Lord, which supports our life and body, oh Nanak. 4.4.7.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy Saagro = the world sea. Bohithrra = a pretty ship. Churn = Feet (Naam). Paar(i) Lunghaayay = ferried across. Buhoourr(i) = again. Chookay = ended. Bhul = for my good. Roag(u) = disease. Sookh Saagur = the ocean of comforts (Waheguru). Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. Chint = worries. Mitaayay = eradicate. 1. Muntar(u) = Shabad (Naam). Drirraaya = reinforced. Vusgut(i) Keenay = controlled over. Serbus(u) = everything. Daasi = slave. Oodaasi = sadness; misery. Mundar(i) = (in the) Palace. Thit(i) = stability; peace. Anund = blissfulness. MEANING: One swims across the frightening world sea by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) are the ship to ferry across the world-sea; whoever recites the Naam in Satguru's shelter is ferried across. One swims across the world sea with Guru's Shabad when his birth-death cycle gets terminated, and he never dies again. When I gladly accept whatever Waheguru does, my mind attains a high spiritual state. When one takes the shelter of (surrenders his mind to) Waheguru, which is the ocean (source) of all comforts, no trouble, no appetite (for the worldly attractions), or no ailment can affect him. Imbued in His love, when a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam, all his worries are eradicated, oh Nanak. 1.

The holy saints reinforce (recite it again and again) Waheguru's Naam in their mind, as a result of which, they are able to control Waheguru as their friend (get any and all their wishes fulfilled). When they offer their pure mind to Waheguru, He gifts everything to them. When Waheguru accepts an individual as His slave (devotee), all his misery is eradicated, and his mind becomes peaceful (quits wandering aimlessly) in Waheguru's Palace (he gets connected with the Lord). When one remembers the eternal Waheguru, he enjoys bliss and cheerfulness (all the luxuries of life), and Waheguru never leaves him (disconnects from him). The human bride, who recognizes the importance of the virtues of Waheguru (sings His praise all the time), is highly fortunate and stays married to the Lord (connected with Him) forever. Imbued in the love and the sweet taste of His Naam, such devotees recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhuyyay = happened; became. Sukhiyay = oh, my friend. Mungul = joy. Apunrraiy = my (our) own. Sheengaari = adorned (with noble qualities). Sobhavunti = praiseworthy; respected. Naaray = oh human bride. Sehj Soobhaayay = without any expectation. Uvgun = demerits. Kuntth(i) = with the neck. Jun = devotees. Oor(i) Dhaariya = embedded in mind. Mud = intoxication. Sugul = all. Biyaapi = affecting. Nivaaray = remove; eradicate. Bhaiy Saagur = the world sea. Poorun Kaaj = getting deeds to be successful. 3. Munoruth = objectives. Anayk Ruvviya = present in countless forms. Mundul = galaxies. Chhaaya = is pervading; providing support. Brahamo = only Braham (Waheguru). Pusaara = spread; extension. Poor(i) = is filling. Poorun = Perfect; omnipresent. Jaayay = place. 4.

MEANING: The devotee, whom Waheguru grooms Himself with noble qualities, earns praise, and enjoys blissfulness and happiness, and stays in high spirits, oh my friends. Without any expectation on the part of such a devotee, Waheguru becomes munificent to him and disregards his merits and demerits. The devotee enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and Waheguru embraces him tightly, making him His own (he becomes "one" with Waheguru). The intoxication of any pride and worldly attachments, which had been impacting the devotee, is destroyed by Waheguru. With Waheguru's benevolence, I, too, have swum across the world sea, and all my objectives have been achieved, oh Nanak. 3. Sing praise of Waheguru all the time, whereby all your objectives will be achieved, oh, my friend. One's life becomes successful (he achieves union with God) when he recites Ekunkar (Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of the Guru. Recite the Naam of the Waheguru, which is present in countless forms, and which is providing His support to the whole universe. When you do that, you will see that it is Waheguru present everywhere, and the whole universe is His own extension. He is fully pervading the waters, the land, and the sky, and there is no place without Him. My heart blooms to have a glimpse of Him, and He Himself connects His devotees with Him, oh Nanak. 4.5.8.

MEANING: The gathering of holy saints (where Waheguru resides, and which is the true mint where the minds of the Sikhs are moulded in spirituality) is eternal, and one enjoys all comforts by reciting Waheguru's Naam there. Waheguru Himself has laid the foundation for such a gathering, and one gets all his wishes fulfilled there. One achieves all comforts in such a gathering, and all the Sikhs, who are like the sons and the brothers of the holy saints, have their hearts bloom in the high spiritual state. They sing praise of Waheguru in there, and their objective in life (union with God) is achieved. Waheguru, Himself is the Lord, the Guardian, the father, and the mother of his devotees; I am a sacrifice for my Satguru who adorns (blesses) such gatherings, oh Nanak. 1.
All the houses, the palaces, and the bazaars (all parts) of the city of the holy gatherings are purified (only honesty prevails there and Waheguru's Naam is recited) in which Waheguru resides. The holy saints and the devotees recite the Naam of the eternal Waheguru there, whereby the noose of death is cut off for them. All the needed virtues to cut away the noose are acquired by the saints and the devotees, and they reap their desired rewards. They enjoy all the spiritual luxuries, and all their sufferings, discomforts, and misgivings are removed. I am always a sacrifice for my Perfect Satguru who adorns them (purifies their minds) with His Shabad, oh Nanak. 2.

Gosht(i) = discussions. Mail(u) = filth. Kilvikh = sins. Khovaiy = lose; get rid of. Aavun Jaana = taking birth, and dying. Buhourr(i) = again. Jooniyaiy = life forms. 4.
MEANING: The gift of the Lord (His Naam) gets completed (when Waheguru takes dwelling in a devotee's heart), and this gift increases in multiples (when shared with others). Waheguru, whose greatness is unparalleled, fulfills His responsibility as the Lord (by taking residence in a devotee's heart). Waheguru, who is the guardian of His devotees ever since the beginning of the universe and of the eons, becomes kind and raises and nourishes His living beings, because of which all of them live happily. The praise of Waheguru is sung in each of the ten directions (everywhere), which cannot be measured for its worth. I am a sacrifice for my Satguru (Waheguru), who laid the foundation of his immortal worship in holy gatherings. 3.
One should listen to the stories of the omnipresent Waheguru's virtues (the description of His amazing dramas and His compassion) every day to acquire Divine Knowledge (make a connection with Him) by focusing the mind on His Naam. When one focuses one's mind on the Naam of Waheguru, which is the destroyer of the birth-death cycle of His devotees, and which performs countless Divine dramas, one feels as if one is listening to a uniform and sweet Divine music. When one contemplates Waheguru's Naam and has discussions with holy saints (to get his misgivings clarified), he feels like listening to soft and sweet Divine music. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam removes all one's filth of ignoble thoughts, and all his sins are washed away. His birth-and-death cycle is terminated, and he never takes birth in any life form again. I have realized the Guru, which is a manifestation of God, and all my wishes have been fulfilled, oh Nanak. 4.6.9.

Laathay = came off; removed. Visooray = worries. Poorun Purakh = Perfect (omnipresent) Waheguru. Achoot = Abinaashi = immortal. Vayd = the Vedas. Pooraani = the Puranas. Bird(u) = the innate noble quality (of love for His devotees). 1. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Sidh(i) Ridh(i) = the supernatural powers. Toat(i) = shortage. Kaayee = any; none. Khaat = using. Khurchut = sharing. Bilchhit = enjoying. Suvaayee = increasing in multiples. Nikhoot(u) = run out. Untarjaami = omniscient. Koat(i) = millions. Bighun = obstacles. Achurj = amazing. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, appears to provide support and complete the tasks of His holy saints. He adorns the ground of the body of His holy saints with noble qualities and purifies it, and fills their adorned (purified) pool of heart with the Amrit of His Naam when all the preparations on the part of the holy saints (to purify their hearts by reciting Waheguru's Naam) result in the achievement of all their objectives. All their worries disappear, and the whole world praises them. The eternal Waheguru, which is Perfect in every way, and whose praise is sung by the Vedas and the Puranas, exhibits His innate virtue of loving His devotees (to connect them with Him). I, too, recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

The Creator grants all nine treasures and the supernatural powers to His devotees, who never experience any shortage of them. Actually, they (the treasures) increase in multiples when the holy saints use them, share them with others, and enjoy them. (Any devotee, in whose heart the holy saints implant Waheguru's Naam, also acquires these gifts). When a devotee gets connected with the omniscient Waheguru by reciting His Naam, the gifts increase many times, and they never run out. Millions of impediments (like the attractions of Maya in their path to connect with Waheguru) are eradicated, and no trouble even comes near them. They attain the peaceful state of spirituality, and enjoy immense blissfulness, and all their appetite for worldly attractions is destroyed. I sing praise of the Lord which has amazing splendour, oh Nanak. 2.

Binvunt(i) Nanak ichh poonni, paaykh(i) dershun(u) jeejaiy. 4.7.10.

Word Meaning: Maanus = man. Vaychaara = poor; helpless. Sohun(i) = look exalted; majestic. Sung Bunee = make bond with holy saints. Oodum(u) = take initiative. Taal Kayra = (to implant Waheguru's Naam in the) pool (of heart). Oopma = praise. Chaara = efforts. Putit Paavun(u) = to purify the immoral. Adhaara = basis; support. 3. Goon-Nidhaan = ocean of virtues. Oostut(i) = full praise. Muhaa Rus(u) = great tasting. Bissur(u) = forget. Khino = moment. Oochur(u) = chant; recite. Rusna = tongue. Undino = everyday; all the time. Sayti = with. Bheejaiy = drench with; get imbued with. Ichh Poonni = wish fulfilled. 4.

MEANING: Only Waheguru is capable (of connecting His devotees with Him) while the poor man has no such ability, and it is Waheguru which completes this task for his devotees. The devotees look exalted because of their singing Waheguru's praise, and they always hail Waheguru. They acquire blissfulness by singing Waheguru's praise, and they make a strong bond with the gathering of holy saints. Who can sing praise of the devotees who take the initiative to have a pool of their heart filled with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit? Their efforts (high morality and recitation of Waheguru's Naam) are much purer than all the prevalent noble deeds and the dip of the sixty-eight holy places. It is the innate kindness of God to purify even the immoral; Guru's Shabad is the basis of my life, oh Nanak. 3.

My Creator God is the treasure of all virtues; who can sing His praise in full? His saints request Him for the gift of His great-tasting Naam. They pray that He give His Naam as a gift to them, and that He should not be forgotten for even a short moment. We should recite Waheguru's virtues all the time, and sing His praise with our tongue. The devotee, who fosters love for Waheguru's Naam, gets imbued in its Amrit by body and by mind. I submit humbly that my wish has been fulfilled (of embedding Waheguru's Naam in my heart), and His holy sight has become the basis of my life, oh Nanak. 4.7.10.

Chitaaray = keep in mind; consider. Putit Paavun(u) = purifier of the immoral. Bird(u) = innate quality. Til(u) Na = not even the size of a sesame seed. Bhunnaiy = not reward. Ghaalay = hard labour. Unt(i) = at the end. Mudh(i) = in the middle. Ruvviya = is present. Bhuvjul = the world sea. Ootray Paara = reached the other end. 2.

MEANING: My Lord is highly friendly, and is very sweet at talking (is very polite); I have tried very hard to recall if He had ever been impolite, but the answer is no. The Perfect Waheguru does not know how to be impolite, and He does not keep our demerits in mind. He is known to have the innate virtue of purifying even the immoral, and does not ignore one's hard work (to recite His Naam) even for a short moment. He resides in every heart, is present everywhere, and is much closer than we think. My Waheguru friend is Amrit (sustains our lives, and is very sweet); I am His slave, and am always in His shelter, oh Nanak. 1.

I get mesmerized by having a holy sight of the limitless Waheguru. My Lord is highly attractive, and I am like the dust of His Feet. I survive to see Him (to connect with Him spiritually), and my mind achieves complete peace; there is no one else as great as He is. Waheguru was present at the beginning, is present now, and will be present at the end, and He is present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. One swims across the world- see by reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which has lotus-like soft feet. I am in the shelter of the omnipresent Waheguru, which is beyond limits, oh Nanak. 2.

Nanak shern(i) Kirpa-Nidh(i) Soami, vudbhageen Hur(i), Hur(i) gaaya. 4.1.11.

Word Meaning: Nimukh = a short moment. Chhoadaan = leave alone. Adhaaro = support. Agumm = unreachable. Beechaaro = contemplate. Sehj = peaceful state. Aanund = blissfulness. Ghunayray = immense. Bintthi = destroyed. Gaantthay = knot; strong connection. Raag = love; attachment. Doakh = dislike; jealousy. Niyaaro = detached; aloof. Sudhaaro = dependable support. 3.

Khojut = searching. Nihchul = eternal. Ghur(u) = spiritual state. Adhooruv = non-dependable; short-living. Ditthay = saw; found out. Churn Kumul = lotus-like feet (of Waheguru); His Naam. Chit(u) = mind. Abinaashi = immortal. Huoun = I am. Daasi = slave; devotee. Dherm = high morality; religiosity. Urth = wealth. Kaam = wishes. Poorun = are fulfilled. Chindi = desired. Ichh = wish. Sroot(i) = the Vedas. Sadhik = on the way to become a Sidh yogi. Moon(i) = hermits. Jun = devotees. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = source of kindness. Udbhaageen = the lucky. 4.

MEANING: I do not quit reciting Waheguru's Naam even for a short moment as He is the basis of my (spiritual) life. My Satguru advised me to ponder on the Naam of the eternal and the inaccessible Waheguru. I received Waheguru's Naam from my Guru (He implanted it in my heart), and now I stay absorbed in it, as a result of which my suffering of births and deaths has run away (been eradicated). My strong bond with selfishness and ego has been shattered, and now I am enjoying the immense bliss of a high spiritual state. Even though Waheguru is present in every heart invisibly, He is far away from all (people do not make a connection with Him), and He is fully detached from worldly affairs (He does not interfere in worldly affairs). I am His slave, and am in His shelter; He is my Dear, and is the support of my mind (life), oh Nanak. 3.

By searching extensively for a permanent support in life, I found out that none of the worldly supports was dependable (they were all short-lived), and only Waheguru's Naam is the eternal support in man's life. Waheguru is eternal, which never dies, or comes and goes; and I am His slave. All one's objectives relating to high morality (religiosity), wealth, and wishes are fully achieved when one recites Waheguru's Naam, and his other wishes (if any) are also fulfilled. The Vedas and the Simritis sing praise of the Creator, and the Sidhs, the yogis, and the hermits, all recite Waheguru's Naam. But only the fortunate people recite Waheguru's Naam; I have sought the shelter of the Lord, which is the treasure of benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.1.11.

Word Meaning: Soohaiy Vays(i) = Maya-lover. Dohaagni = condemned by the husband; disconnected with him. Pur = which belongs to others. Pir(u) = husband; master. Raavun = enjoy union with. Ghur(i) Aapnaiy = which resides in one's heart. Mohi = captivated. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other. Saad-houn = tastes. Shoodh(u) Bhutaar = the pure (eternal) husband. Vijoag(u) = separation. Pultiya = turned around. Raati = imbued. Saaj(i) Sheegaar(i) = adorned (with noble qualities). Sehj(i) = in the peaceful state. Oordhaar(i) = by acquiring in heart. Aagiyakaari = obedient. Sohaagun(i) = married; loved by husband. Kartaar(i) = by the Lord. 1.

MEANING: A woman (man), who is in love with Maya (which is never hers forever, and thus is a stranger to her), and goes to enjoy it as her husband (master), is condemned (not loved) by the Waheguru-Husband. She is captivated by the love of the other (Maya), and ignores her real Husband (Waheguru), who resides in her heart. She treats the attractions of Maya as being sweet, but enjoying them too much leads to serious diseases (problems like haumein). She ignores the holy and perfect husband (Waheguru) and remains detached from Him (and eventually from the luxuries of Maya as well). But the woman who comes to the shelter of the Guru, is groomed with noble qualities by the Guru as a result of which her thinking makes a U-turn, and she gets imbued in Waheguru's love. She enshrines Waheguru's Naam in her heart and enjoys union with Waheguru in the blissful spiritual state. Because of her accepting Waheguru's Will all the time, He connects her with Him, and she stays married to (connected with) the Lord all the time. The woman, who gets connected with the eternal Waheguru, is always married to (lived by) Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Soohveeyay = imbued in (Waheguru's) love. Nimaaniyay = having no ego. Shuhou = husband. Smaal(i) = keep in mind. Chhooti = is salvaged. 2.

MEANING: If you keep Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time, not only will you make your own life successful, but will also get all your associates salvaged, oh, the humble devotee imbued in the love of Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Tukht = throne. Putaala = the underworld. Sachi = eternal. Dhermshaala = the place to practise high morality, and religiosity (sing God's praise). Oopaayay = creates. Khupaayaynda = destroys. Rijk = necessities of life. Sumbaahinda = delivers. Niraala = amazing. Vertda = operates. Pritpaala = raises and nourishes. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself created (the world) as His throne (to implement His Laws) and created the sky and the underworld. He created the earth as an eternal place to practise high morality and to sing Waheguru's praise. The eternal Waheguru, which is always kind to the humble, Himself creates and destroys the world. His Laws are unique (amazing) in that He delivers the necessities of life to all His living beings. He alone operates in the world, raising and nourishing His living beings. 1.

MEANING: A devotee is considered to be truly imbued in Waheguru's love only if she embeds His Naam in her heart. If she pleases her Satguru (by reciting Waheguru's Naam), the beauty of her mind is enhanced many times, and she has no place for anyone else (Maya) in her heart. Her mind becomes so beautifully adorned (with Waheguru's Naam) that it never gets filthy, and she is in love with God, day and night. If you ask what the signs of the devotee are who is married to Waheguru, the answer is: she has Waheguru in her heart, has a radiant (holy) face, and is always absorbed in Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sooha = reflecting love for. Vays = garb. Shuhou = Waheguru. Sikh = Teaching. Tis(u) = Him (God). Theeyay = happens. Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. 2.

MEANING: I pretend to be in love with God by wearing a religious garb, but nobody has ever been connected with God only by wearing a religious garb. It is my personal experience as I am exhausted trying different garbs (without any success), oh folks. Only those who connect with Waheguru act on the Guru's advice, oh Nanak. The only way to get connected with the Waheguru-Husband is to believe in the fact that only that happens which Waheguru likes (one's efforts do not change anything). 2.

Word Meaning: Srishut(i) = world. Saajiun = created. Buhou Bhit(i) = in many different ways. Kayturra = how big (great)? Alukh = invisible. Apaara = beyond limits. Ikkna = to some. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Bikaara = immoral activities. Sachiyaara = like God. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru has created the world in many different ways through His Command (Laws). But nobody knows the greatness of the Laws of the invisible and the limitless Waheguru. He connects some with Him who ponder on (act on) the Guru's Shabad. They rid themselves of selfishness, ego, and immoral activities and are imbued with Waheguru's love. But only those get connected with You whom You connect Yourself, and they become like You, oh Waheguru. 2.

Nanak bulihaari, Gur aapnay jit(u) miiyaiy Hur(i) goon gaaoun. 1.

Word Meaning: Soohviyaiy = oh, imbued in the love (of Maya). Doormut(i) = distorted thinking. Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Khin = a short moment. Jhootth = falsehood. Binus(i) Jaayay = is destroyed. Tikaiy = stays. Birkh = tree. Mujeetth = madder. Sachrraaou = permanent. Oolti = turned around. Shukt(i) = Maya. Shivaiy = of God. Vussiya = took residence. 1.

MEANING: The world of Maya looks very attractive to those whose thinking is distorted by its attractions, oh, the lover of Maya. You do not realize that the false polish of attraction of the short-lived comforts of Maya comes off quickly, and does not stay for long like the shade of a tree (which changes direction with the sun). The love for Waheguru is everlasting, like the deep red colour of madder (which does not fade away); the Sikhs of the Guru are imbued in such love for Waheguru. They get Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their heart as a result of which, their love changes direction from Maya to Waheguru, and His Amrit-like Naam comes to reside in their heart. I am a sacrifice for my Guru in whose shelter I sing Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vikaar(u) = pertaining to sensual pleasures. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Lehnday = coming of. Bilm = delay. Rund = widow; disconnected with Waheguru. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Moondh = young woman (attracted to sensual pleasures). Iyaani = ignorant. Doomni = caught between two opposing choices. Lobhaayay = in greed of; attracted to. Bhaiy = (respectful) fear. Bhaayay = love. Bhaayay = as per the wish of. 2.

MEANING: Love for Maya leads to immoral thinking and immoral activities, and one cannot connect with Waheguru. It does not take long for the attractions of Maya to disappear, and the woman (man) in love with Maya feels like a widow (without any protection). The young woman is ignorant (of the comforts of Waheguru's Naam) and captivated by the attractions of Maya, and cannot make the right choice. The devotees, who are imbued with the love of Guru's Shabad, are adorned with the noble qualities of respectful fear and love for Waheguru, and their love never fades away. Those who spend their lives according to the Will of Waheguru always remain connected to Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Oopaayayun(u) = created. Keemut Paayee = knows its worth (needs). Unt(u) = limits. Jaapyee = can see (find). Goobaar(u) = darkness. Bhermaayee = misled. Tthaaur = peace. Theeyaiy = happens. Chulaiy Chulaayee = live as per His Huqam (Will). 3.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself creates the world, and Himself evaluates it (knows its needs). With Guru's wisdom, one realizes that nobody can ever find Waheguru's limits. Love for Maya creates darkness in the mind of the individual who gets misled (from the path of righteousness). The lovers of Maya never find peace (never get connected with Waheguru) and keep taking births and dying. Only that happens which Waheguru likes; everybody has to live by His Huqam. 3.

Word Meaning: Soohaiy Vays(i) = Maya-lover. Kaamn(i) = woman (human being). Koolukhnee = having ignoble qualities. Pur Purakh = man other than the husband. Seal(u) = politeness. Sunjum = control over senses. Kerm = deeds. Khooaar = causing humiliation. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Bhutaar = husband; lord. Sooha Vays(u) = religious garb just for show off. Pehraiy = wears. Khima = forgiveness. Payiyaiy = this world. Saahorraiy = the next world. Sobha Paayay = earns respect. Pooj Kuray = worship; show reverence. Rulaayee Na Rulaiy = nobody can rival her. Raavay = enjoys union. Avinaashi Purakh = immortal Waheguru. Bhurtaar(u) = husband; master. 1.

MEANING: The Maya-loving woman (human) has ignoble qualities who loves someone else (Maya) other than her real Husband (Waheguru). She has no politeness, no patience, and no control over her senses; she always tells lies and is disconnected from Waheguru, performing deeds that lead to humiliation at the end. But those who have it prewritten (by Waheguru) in their fortune get connected with Satguru as their husband (guide and support), under whose shelter she gives up her love for Maya and wears the adornment of forgiveness (and humility). Such a devotee earns praise in this world, and the next, and the whole world respects her. The Creator, Waheguru, enjoys her love, and nobody can rival her. Such a Sikh of the Guru is always connected with the eternal Waheguru as his husband (Lord), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sooha Rung(u) = love for the perishable. Nisi = at night. Taaga = thread. Haar(u) = necklace. Sacha Rung = love for Waheguru. Mujeetth = (fast like) madder. Muhaa Rusi = of many supreme tastes. Chhaar(u) = dust. 2.
MEANING: Love for the perishable (Maya) is short-lived like a night dream, or is like a necklace without the central thread (which cannot be worn). But love for Waheguru, which one acquires by pondering on His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, is permanent like the deep red colour of madder. Love for Waheguru is the source of many supreme tastes, whereas enjoyment of evils (sensual pleasures) turns into dust at the end, oh Nanak. 2.

Ugiyaan(u) = ignorant. Ikknah = to some. Boojhaayayon = enlightens. Bukhshiyon(u) = bestows. Nidhaan(u) = treasure.
MEANING: The creation of the world by Waheguru is an amazing drama. He has put the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachments, and ego), including worldly attachments and false pride, in it. Those who love to enjoy these demons are ignorant and follow their mind, and are cycled through many, many different life forms. Waheguru enlightens some with His Divine Knowledge in the shelter of the Guru. He bestows the treasure of His Naam for them to worship (recite). 4.

Word Meaning: Pir = dear; husband. Dujh(i) Mooyee = died of suffering in the fire of desires. Gaavaar(i) = foolish. Goon Saar(i) = remember Waheguru's noble qualities (sing praise of Waheguru). Sohaagun(i) = married; connected with God. Bhaiy = respectful fear. Bhaayay = love. Kermi = by benevolence. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Palace. Oordhaar(i) = enshrined in the heart. 1.
MEANING: Abandon the garb (thinking) of your love for Maya, only then can you foster love for the dear (Waheguru), oh, the worshipper of Maya. Nobody has ever realized God while still in love with Maya; the foolish follower of his mind dies a spiritual death, suffering in the fire of desires. But when an individual comes to the Guru's shelter (acts on His advice), his selfishness and his ego are eradicated, and so is his love for money. By singing His praise, his mind, body, and tongue get imbued with the deep love for Waheguru. The devotee adorns her body and mind with the respectful fear and love for Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad, and stays connected with Waheguru forever. With enshrining Waheguru's Naam in her heart, she reaches Waheguru's Mansion (get connected with Him) with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Moondh = young woman proud of her beauty. Purhurou = throw away; remove. Sheggar(u) = adornment. Veesraiy = is forgotten; is averted. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Sehj(i) = blissful state. Bhutaar = Husband (Lord). Raavay = enjoys union. 2.

MEANING: Get rid of your love for Maya, and adorn your body with the deep love for Waheguru, which never fades away, oh, the youthful (conceited and ignorant) woman. Your rebirths will be averted (will come to an end) if you ponder on Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. That young woman is attractive and beautiful, who has Waheguru enshrined in her heart as her husband. Waheguru enjoys the love of such a devotee, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Koorr(u) = false; short-lived. Kootumb(u) = family. Rutta = imbued. Soojhyee = realize. Bhermitta = misled. Vayla = time; opportunity. Kmitta = commits.5.

MEANING: The love for the family is short-lived, but the ignorant and the foolish man is imbued with its love. Such people die in their attachments to Maya and selfishness, but nothing accompanies them. They do not realize that the Angel of Death is hovering above their head, and they are misled by the love of the other (Maya). Under the control of the Angel of death, they will not get this opportunity again (human life) (to connect with Waheguru). But the humans are helpless; they are just doing the kind of deeds for which they are preprogrammed by Waheguru right from the beginning. 5.

Word Meaning: Sutiyaan = of high moral character; those women who burn on the pyre of their husband. Murriyaan = dead body. Birhay = pain of separation. Choat = hurt. 1.
MEANING: (Hindu widows were forced to burn on the pyre of their husbands; this custom was greatly denounced by the Sikh Gurus. Commenting on this inhumane custom, Guru Amar Dass Ji writes): Those are not called (considered) to have high character who burn themselves with the dead husband. Those are considered to have true high morality who die just due to the pain of separation, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Laykh(u) = Law. Jayvud = as great. Daat(i) = gift. Rikhiya = physical features. Akhoor(u) = which does not erode (run out); eternal. Sayvuk Bhaayay with the love and spirit of a devotee. Jup(u) = Waheguru's praise.
MEANING: It is a written (unerasable) Law of Waheguru that comforts and discomforts are created (come) with man's birth. But, Waheguru's Naam (is the best cure for discomforts), and there is no other cure as perfect as the Naam of Waheguru, which has no visible form or physical features. His Naam is an inexhaustible treasure, but can be enshrined in the heart only in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru gives His Naam with His benevolence, and then no account of the deeds of the devotee is kept. Those get connected with Waheguru who recite His Naam with love and with the spirit of devotion. 6.

MEANING: The man accumulates wealth just for the sake of a short lifespan despite the fact that he has to leave the next morning (when the night of life is over). He repents (to realize) when his (hard- earned) wealth does not accompany him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mun Hutth(i) = by sheer obstinacy of mind without its willingness. Terf = favour. Jipyee = win. Ghaalay = works hard. Sat Bhaaou = honest love. 4.

MEANING: (If a man does not have a real love for or faith in Waheguru) but tries to win His favour (love) by the sheer obstinacy of his mind, he cannot do so even if he works very hard. One can win His love only through honest dedication, and when he ponders on Guru's Shabad (acts on it), oh Nanak. 4.

MEANING: Only Waheguru, which has created the universe, knows its worth (expanse; grandeur). He creates it, and then destroys it. Going carefully through the history of the world over the four eons, nobody is known to have found the limits of the universe. But, when Satguru "shows" us Waheguru, our body and mind feel great comfort (but still cannot know the limits of Waheguru). The only thing that we can do is, to sing His praise all the time in the shelter of the Guru; otherwise, only those things happen that Waheguru wishes to do. 7.

Word Meaning: Toorday = walking. Oodtay = flying. Jeevtay = spiritually enlightened. Mooaa = spiritually dead. Kaarun Keeya = created the universe. 2.
MEANING: (Every living being likes to be in the company of its own kind). For example, the living beings which walk like to be in the company of others which also walk, and the birds which fly like to be in the company of other flying birds. Likewise, a spiritually enlightened person seeks the company of other enlightened persons, while a spiritually dead (Maya-lover) person enjoys the company of other Maya-lovers. So, for the man to be like Waheguru, he should sing praise of the Creator. 2.

Maarriyaan = mansions. Lug(i) Puyyay = get attached. Gaavaari = foolish. Goobaari = in darkness. 8.

MEANING: Those who worship Waheguru by pondering on Guru's Shabad get rid of their selfishness and ego and purify their mind to the extent that Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in their heart, and as a result, they become pure like Him. On the other hand, the foolish get attached to their homes, highly decorated houses and mansions. They are worshippers of Maya, are in complete darkness, and do not recognize the importance of the Creator. Tumboal = a wrap of betel leaves containing some spices including areca nut (a sign of richness). Rus(u) = sweetness. Saunpay = offers. Bhog(u) kurayay = enjoys union. 1.

NOTE: Guru Amar Dass Ji uses situations in worldly unions in this holy Sloak to advise the devotees of Waheguru to make sure that they please the Lord, Waheguru (by acting on Guru's Advice), before they adorn their bodies with religious symbols.

MEANING: Make sure to please your husband before you beautify yourself; he may not come to your bed, in which case your adornment will go to waste (and cause hurt for you), oh, the young bride. Your adornment will look pretty only if your husband is pleased, and it will be acceptable if he loves you. You need to adorn your body with a respectful fear for him, use sweetness in your behaviour, which will be like offering Him a *tumboa*l to enjoy, and offer your love as the meal for him. If you offer your body and your mind to serve him, only then will he enjoy union with you, oh Nanak. (The same things apply to the devotees of Waheguru. Adorning one's body with religious symbols does not help).1

Word Meaning: Kaakul = kohl; mascara. Dhun = young woman. Vikaar(u) = useless.

MEANING: The young bride wears mascara to beautify herself, offers her husband flowers and a tumboal to please him, but all such efforts go to waste if he does not go to her bed.2.

ਮ:3॥ ਧਨ ਪਿਰੁ ਏਹਿ ਨ ਆਖੀਅਨੁ ਬਹਨਿ ਇਕਠੇ ਹੋਇ॥ ਏਕ ਜੋਤਿ ਦੁਇ ਮੂਰਤੀ ਧਨ ਪਿਰੁ ਕਹੀਐ ਸੋਇ॥ 3॥

M: 3: Dhun, pir(u) eh(i) na aakhiun(u) behn(i) ikutthay hoyay. Aik jot(i) dooyay moorti, dhun, pir(u) kuhhiyaiy soyay. 3.

Word Meaning: Jot(i) = soul. Moorti = bodies. 3.

MEANING: A couple cannot be considered wife and husband simply because they sit (live) together. They make a real couple only if they have one soul in two bodies (and have deep respect for each other's feelings and needs). 3.

NOTE: The same situation applies to the devotees of Waheguru. Read the next Paurri.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy = Bhuou = (respectful) fear. Bhugut(i) = worship. Bhaayay = Bhaaou= Rung(u) = love. Suvaar(i) = adorning. Trishna = desires. Krishan Mooraar(i) = Waheguru.

Meaning: There is no worship of Waheguru if there is no (respectful) fear in the mind of the devotee for Him because one does not develop any love for His Naam without His fear. One fosters fear for Waheguru only in the shelter of the Guru, where the Guru adorns his body (mind) with fear and love for Waheguru, and where his selfishness, ego, and worldly desires are eradicated. His mind and body are purified and become attractive to Waheguru when He connects the devotee to Him. Waheguru is the source of all fear and love for Him, and He alone operates in the world. 9.

Duraah(u) = from the door. Pur = filled. Oona = less than full. Vaypervaah = care-free (under no pressure).1.

MEANING: You are amazing! You are Great, who created the world and us, oh the wonderful Lord!! The oceans, the waves on them, the other large bodies of water, the vegetation, and the rain-causing clouds are all created and supported by You, and yet You are completely detached from Your creation. You reward the devotees for their hard work who ponder on Your Greatness in the shelter of the Guru. They beg at your Door for your Naam and for the fulfillment of their basic needs. Word Meaning: Oojul = shiny. Moti = pearls-like (teeth). Ruttnaa = jewels-like (eyes). Jooruunn(i) = look pretty. Jur(u) = old age. Theeyay = becoming. 2.

MEANING: When the man is young, he feels very conceited of the beauty of his shining teeth, his jewel-like big eyes, and other beautiful features (and does not remember Waheguru who gave him those). But, when he becomes old, the same beautiful teeth (and other beautiful features) become his enemies (because he had committed many immoral acts based on their beauty, and is bound to be punished by Waheguru for such deeds when he dies). 2.

Word Meaning: Salaaheen = sing praise. Saunp(i) = offer; dedicate. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheer = never changing. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Heera Heer(u) = most precious diamond among diamonds. Pheer(u) = return (to take birth again). Gooni-Guheer(u) = loaded with (source of) virtues. 10.

MEANING: One ought to sing Waheguru's praise all the time, and dedicate his body and mind to His service. One can connect with the eternal, unfathomable, and never-changing Waheguru by pondering (acting) on the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru is the most precious diamond among all others (which must be acquired by everyone), and is present in every heart. When a devotee connects with Waheguru, his suffering from rebirths is eradicated, and he is never born again in the world. So, sing praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, oh Nanak. 10.

Word Meaning: Praal(i) = useless stubs of the paddy crop. Pichhaiy = after. Huth(u) Na Umbrray = no effort will work. Nivundhaiy Taal = slippery pool (declining morality). 1.
MEANING: Burn your body (evil thoughts), which is burning in the fire of desires, and which has forgotten Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. You are accumulating the burden of worthless deeds; such living is a slippery slope in which the man digs himself deeper in sins, and no effort will work later to save you from punishment for such sins, oh man. 1.

Word Meaning: Phittiya = condemnable. Kiti = how many? Luhaan = endure. Sehum = worries; fears. Dhukka = pushing away; injustice. 2.
MEANING: There are so many condemnable evil thoughts (and plans) in my mind that I cannot even keep count of them, and which have caused so many worries for me now, oh Nanak. How many fears can I endure (cannot endure them), but (if I take Guru's shelter), Waheguru may forgive me and will not throw me out of His Court. 2.

Thaat = construct (to sing Waheguru's praise). Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Alukh = invisible. Jaan(u) = bond with.
MEANING: Waheguru has established His eternal reign of the universe with His eternal Huqam(u) (Laws). The omniscient Waheguru is eternally present everywhere. We can serve Him (obey His Huqam and sing His praise) with the Guru's eternal Shabad, which is our means of connecting with Waheguru. Waheguru has made this a perfect (never-failing) Law that we can connect with Him through the Guru and enjoy His love (union). Word Meaning: Budra = bag. Maal = money; deeds performed. Bheetur(i) = in (Waheguru's) court. Khoatay = impure; faulty. Khuray = pure. Perkhiun(i) = examined.
MEANING: One carries his baggage (the account of his deeds) to Waheguru's Court, where his deeds are examined carefully by Waheguru, whether to be pure (moral) or impure (immoral), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Teeruthaan = at the holy places. Bhaaou = part. Luthee = comes off. Dooyay = two. Churrius(u) = added on. Toombrri = a vegetable that looks a lot like a cantaloupe but is extremely bitter. Vis(u) = poison; bitterness. Nikoar = pure; undiluted. Sadh = saintly people. Un-naatiyaan = without a bath (dip). 2.
MEANING: People go to holy places to take dips (with the belief that their sins will be washed away), but they have deceit in their minds and commit theft with their bodies. They may get the filth of their bodies removed by the dip as a part of their venture, but they put on twice as much filth because of their false ego of taking a dip at the holy place, and having false assurance that their future sins will also be washed away by another dip. Their dips are like washing a toombrri from outside because it still has pure poison (bitterness) inside. The saintly people are better off without such dips, while a thief will be a thief no matter how many dips he takes. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhundhaiy = in the routine business (of Maya). Laayayun(u) = make them do. Dehdis = in all the ten (every) directions. Dhaanvda = runs around. Tthaak(i) Ruhaayaa = stopped; controlled. Loachdi = longs for. Mayt(i) = erase. 12.
MEANING: Waheguru, Himself enforces His Laws, and puts people in the business of Maya. But He connects some of them with the Guru to recite His Naam whereby they attain blissfulness. The Guru puts a stop to (stabilizes) their mind which wanders in every direction. Everybody longs for Waheguru's Naam which one enshrines in his heart by Guru's advice. But not everyone can come to Guru's shelter to acquire Waheguru's Naam because no body can erase (act against) whatever Waheguru has written in their fate. 12.

Word Meaning: Doyay Deevay = two lamps (the sun and the moon). Chaudah Hutnaalay = fourteen bazaars (business centres – worlds) (according to belief of some faiths there are 14 skies (worlds – 7 above our earth, and 7 below it). Chullunhaar = visitors only. Dherm(u) = the Angel of justice. Dulaal(u) = mediator. Neeshaan = stamp of approval (or disapproval). Laaha = earnings. Pervaan(u) = approved. Ghur(i) = Waheguru's Door. Vadhaayee = high spirits; blissful. Vudiyaayee = respect; reward. 1.

MEANING: The world (universe), which has the sun and the moon as the two lamps, and has fourteen skies, is like a bazaar (business centre) where every human being is a businessman (or a trader) who deals in good or bad qualities (performs good or bad deeds), and the world is open for business. Whoever comes into the world is here only as a visitor (for a short period of time). The Angel of justice, as the mediator, puts his stamp of approval (or disapproval) on the deeds of the individuals, where only the earnings of Waheguru's Naam are approved. Those who are approved to reach Waheguru's Door are rewarded for their recitation of Waheguru's Naam, and they feel blissful. 1.

Word Meaning: Soopaydaan = white objects (saintly people). Say Vunn = the same colour (black; indistinguishable). Dihoun = day. Bugga = bright. Ghunaa = immensely. Kaaliyaan = black objects (immoral people). Ukleen Baahray = without any wisdom. Undh-Giyaan(u) = blind of the Divine Knowledge. Kub-heh(i) Na = never. 2.

MEANING: Like a white object looks black (dark) in a dark night (a saintly person cannot be recognized when he is in a crowd of the immoral). On the other hand, a dark object looks dark (shows its true colour) in the immensely bright light of the day (an immoral person cannot hide himself in the company of the holy men because of his deceitful behaviour). Without any wisdom, the foolish are blind to Divine Knowledge and are completely ignorant. Without Waheguru's kind sight, such people never earn any respect, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Koat(u) = fort; building. Ruchaaya = created. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Khooyaayiun(u) = misled to suffer humiliation.

Viyaapay = are affected; overpowered. Doolumbh = rarely available. Suntaapay = suffer. Thaapay = blesses. Khayl(u) = drama. 13.
MEANING: The eternal Waheguru has created the fort-like body of humans for their souls. But Waheguru Himself misleads some into falling in love with Maya, where they are overpowered by their selfishness and ego, and suffer humiliation. (Without realizing) that human life is rare to acquire, such followers of their minds suffer greatly (due to their love for Maya). Only those who are blessed by the Guru with the Will of God acquire the wisdom to attain Divine Knowledge (connect with Waheguru). Chundun = with sandal oil. Khauliyaiy = massage. Saahoo = ashes; dust. Paan(u) = to put on. Koorra = falsehood. Kutiyaiyn = spinning. Tuniyaiy = spread the warp. Kuchhiyaiy = to measure. Maan(u) = pride.
MEANING: The thieves, the immoral, the prostitutes, and the pimps are all unprincipled people, and so are those who give them company, and share meals with them (are partners with them). Such people have no knowledge of the worth of Waheguru's praise, and act in life as if Satan is controlling their minds. They are like the donkey which has no liking for a massage of sandal oil, but loves to roll in dust. If we spin a fabric of falsehood, we will have the warp of falsehood too to spread, and if we measure a fabric incorrectly, we will have a false pride because we will wear an imperfect cloth, oh Nanak. Word Meaning: Baang = loud call for the mosque. Boorgoo = clarinet. Singi = bugle. Klaan = sing praise. Daatay = donors. Vit-houn = for. 2.
MEANING: A Muslim earns his living by giving a loud call to the other Muslims to come to the mosque, a sage blows his clarinet, a yogi blows his bugle, and a bard sings praise of people at their doors – all to beg for alms from the people. There are countless donors and countless such religious beggars in the world, but it is only Your Naam that is approved in Your Court, oh Waheguru. MEANING: Love for Maya is all false (short-lived) and turns out to be so (because it does not accompany the man at his death). All fights (including religious fights) in the world are due to the selfishness and ego (which are just forms of Maya) of man, and the whole world suffers because of such meaningless disputes. But all such disputes are cleared (disappear) in the shelter of the Guru (who enlightens the devotees that one's haumein is the root of all evils and disputes, and that everybody is created by the same Supreme Being). With Your Naam at heart, a devotee feels in new spirits all the time, and his mind is purified, which never gets filthy (with evil thoughts). This is how a devotee gets emancipated and feels blissful with Waheguru's kind sight, oh Nanak. 1.

Sloak M: 1: Jinhi na paayo praym rus(u), Kunt na paayo saaou. Soonjay ghur ka paahoona, jiyoun aaya, tiyoun jaaou. 1.

MEANING: Those who cannot enjoy the bliss of Waheguru's love, and develop no taste for His Naam, are like the visitor of a deserted house who leaves the way he came. 1.

MEANING: The man is born pure and noble like a swan; but abandoning Waheguru's praise, he begins to commit immoral deeds under the influence of Maya; it is like as if a swan has begun to eat carcasses. (Because of his immoral deeds) the man earns hundreds of complaints over the day, and thousands of them at night (he commits many more evil deeds in the darkness). Such a life is contemptible in which the man simply eats and enlarges his belly (and does not sing Waheguru's praise). Without Waheguru's Naam, all those things that the man loves become his enemies (because he gets severe punishment for them in Waheguru's Court), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhaadhi = a bard; who sings praise. Suvaariya = made successful. Oordhaariya = implanted in the heart. Suvaareh(i) = adorn. Sirjunhaariya = Creator. 16.

MEANING: A bard, who sings Waheguru's praise all the time, makes his life successful. By serving Waheguru with His praise in the shelter of the Guru, the devotee embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart. By reciting the Naam of the dear Waheguru, he reaches Waheguru's Door, His Palace, which becomes his permanent residence. I am a sacrifice for my Guru in whose shelter I enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart. It is Waheguru, who Himself adorns His devotees with noble qualities. 16.

MEANING: Just like darkness disappears when a lamp lights up, and just like the (light of the) moon becomes invisible with the rising of the sun, the darkness of ignorance disappears where there is enlightenment of knowledge; similarly, the wisdom of (thinking about) sins is destroyed by the study of the Vedas. (The Vedas emphasize the importance of deeds only, which are sinful and lead to hell, and which are approved and lead to paradise, but do not discuss the importance of God's Naam). It is the routine of the world to recite the Vedas, and the pundits ponder on them. But without realizing the importance of (Waheguru's Naam), all suffer humiliation. Those who come to Guru's shelter (and recite Waheguru's Naam) are salvaged, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Fikka = impolite; lies. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. Puyyiyaiy = prewritten in fortune. Kirt(i) = performing deeds. Maytunhaar(u) = ability to erase. 2.
MEANING: Those who do not find Guru's Shabad sweet-tasting, and foster no love for Waheguru's Naam, are also impolite (hurt the feelings of others) and are liars. As a result of all that, they suffer discomfiture. (But they are not fully to blame because) they are just pursuing the type of deeds for which they are preprogrammed (have prewritten in their fortune by Waheguru), and nobody can erase their fortune, oh Nanak. 2.

They enjoy eternal bliss by reciting the eternal Bani and the virtues of Waheguru. Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru, connects such devotees with Waheguru, from whom they had been separated for a long time. They recite Waheguru's Naam, whereby their filthy minds get purified. 17.

Word Meaning: Koomul = buds; blooming. Goon = virtues. Goopus(i) Maal = make garland. Ruou = focus of mind; work hard. Uver K(i) = what else. Daal = branch; tree.
MEANING: (People make garlands of flowers to offer to their deities, but Guru Nanak Sahib advises in this holy Shabad that) purify your body to be like a shrub so that Waheguru's Naam begins to bloom in there, and enshrine noble qualities in your mind which will serve as flowers for the garland to please Waheguru (deity), oh my friends. If you focus your mind (work hard) to acquire noble qualities and Waheguru's Naam in your body (mind), you do not need to pick flowers from other trees or shrubs, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: It is spring (new spiritual life) for those who have Waheguru's Naam embedded in their heart. But those suffer in the fire of worldly desires day and night who are separated from Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bukhshay = forgives; bestows. Ruvaan = recite. Ruchnee = with full absorption (concentration). Lukhnee = find; comprehend. Jupnee = recite. Ichhaiy = wishes. Juchnee = begging.
MEANING: I wish to serve Waheguru by singing his praise with full concentration all the time, but it is possible only if Waheguru bestows His Naam by Satguru's Shabad (the devotee obeys Satguru's Will). My Waheguru is limitless, and nobody can find His limits. However, a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam all the time if he seeks Satguru's shelter. All the wishes of such a devotee are fulfilled, and his needs are met in his own heart (he feels contented, and does not need to go to any other door to beg). 18.

Word Meaning: Kaar Kmaavaiy = performance of deeds. Suful = successful. 19.

MEANING: The devotee, who sings Waheguru’s praise by reciting His Naam, is performing the true noble) deeds. A person who performs deeds related to Maya is reborn in many different life forms. A devotee, who is imbued in Waheguru’s Naam, and sings His praise, acquires His Naam (enshrines in his heart). A devotee, who sings Waheguru’s praise with Guru’s Shabad, gets absorbed in His Naam. The service to the Guru is perfectly successful, and one reaps that reward by serving Him (by acting on His Will). 19.

MEANING: Your magnificence is beyond description; so how can an insignificant worm-like person like me sing Your praise, oh Waheguru? You are inaccessible, but are very kind, and connect Your devotees with You on Your own. I have no friend other than You, and You are my reliable friend at the end. You save those from all sins who come to Your shelter. Waheguru is completely care-free (indifferent) and has no desire – not even the size of a sesame seed - oh Nanak. 20.1.

Din(u) = old age (when the hair is white like daylight). Bhuvur = (black like) bumblebee. Bug = (white like) heron. Pause.
Kaachaiy Kurvaiy = in an unbaked earthen vessel. Huns(u) = soul. Koomlaani = wilts.2.
Kooaar Kunniya = unmarried girl. Ruliyaan Maanaiy = enjoy life. Bhutaara = husband.3.
Kaag Oodaavut = shooing away crows to send messages (to Waheguru). Bhooja Piraani = the arm is tired. Siraani = about to end. 4.
MEANING: My ignorant soul is trembling uncontrollably because I do not know how my dear Waheguru will treat me (because I haven't served Him) (recited His Naam). 1.
My young age, when I had black hair, has gone by, and I am worried lest my old age, when I have grey hair all over, may also go by (without Waheguru's Naam). Pause.
The human body is like an unbaked earthen vessel which cannot retain water (because it gets eroded); so, when the soul leaves the body, it wilts away (collapses). 2.
Life without making a connection with God (without reciting His Naam) is like the adornment of an unmarried woman who cannot enjoy the love of her husband. 3.
(It has been a belief that the crows deliver human messages) My arm has tired flying away crows to send messages to God, but He has not come to my heart yet, even though the story of my life is about to end. I can only pray to Him to please come and show me His holy sight, begs Kabir. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Amul Siraano = the time to perform deeds is over. Laykha Dayna = give account of deeds. Kutthin = tough; very strict. Doot = assistants. Khuttiya = earned. Shitaab = quickly. Deebaan(i) = the ruler (Angel of justice). Durhaal = right away. 1.

Foormaan(u) = order. Durgah = God's Court. Pause.

Gaanv = villages (unfinished business). Nibayr(i) = finish. Khurch = journey expenses. Saaroun = make arrangement. Suraayay = inn (lodging for visitors). Nivaaj = prayer. Goojaaroun = offer. 2.

Dhun(u) = great; worthy of respect. Eet, Oot = in this world and the next. Soohaylay = in comfort. Junum Pudaaruth = objective of human life. Amolay = priceless. 3.

Maal Dhun(u) = wealth. Puraaya = property of others. Tayee Nur = those men. Bhoolay = misled. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. Roolay = suffer humiliation. 4.

MEANING: (The nights of a Maya-engrossed person are spent in discomfort as his mind is never at peace due to his immoral deals). (Even his dreams are nightmarish in which) he sees the tough agents of the Angel of death coming to him and asking him to go with them and telling him that the days of his deeds are over, and the Lord has called him in to appear before Him in His Court to find out what (virtues) he had acquired, and which ones he had lost. He has to leave immediately as the Lord has ordered them (the agents) to produce him quickly before Him. 1 and Pause.

(The Maya-engrossed person is shocked to see the agents in his dream, and thinking that he can bribe them just like most of the officers in authority in the world, he begins to make excuses to delay his departure) and begins to request that he has some unfinished business with some people in the village which he can finish tonight if they allow him to do so. To get concession, he tries to bribe the agents saying that by finishing his business in which he has to recover some debts, he would be able to raise some money for their journey expenses too, and that he will leave with them early in the morning (and to give them the false impression of his religiosity) he adds that he will offer his first prayer on their first stop at the inn. 2.

To spend nights in comfort, one needs to come to the shelter of the holy saints where one can sing God's praise and be imbued with His love. Such individuals are highly fortunate. They are in comfort in this world and the next. They become priceless (attain a high spiritual state) by winning (achieving) the objective of human life successfully. 3.

A man, who is asleep from the reality (purpose of human life) of life while his eyes are still open, wastes away his precious life. He accumulates wealth (with great hardships) which turns out to become the property of others. Such people are misled to forget God's Naam and suffer humiliation by becoming a part of dust after death, oh Kabir. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Lalit = a subcategory of Suhi Raag. Thaakay = exhausted. Naiyn = eyes. Servun = ears; hearing. Kaaya = body. Juraa = old age. Haak Dee = announced. 1.
Baavray = foolish. Taiyn = you. Birtha = empty. Guvaayay = wasted away. Pause.
Tub Lug = so long as. Tisaiy = Waheguru. Srayhou = serve (recite Naam). Ghut(u) = heart; body. Bhaaou = love. Churn = Feet (Naam). 2.
Chookay = ends. Piyaasa = thirst (for worldly affairs). Chaupurr(i) = a game of dice (which was very popular at that time). Mun Jin(i) = control over mind. Paasha = die. 3.
Abigut(i) = invisible (God). Naasa = destruction; damage. Dhaal = throw die. 4.

MEANING: As old age announces its arrival (approaches), all man's vital organs, including his eyes, hearing, his attractive body, and his wisdom (thinking ability) get exhausted (become very weak); but, its appetite for Maya (worldly attractions) does not become weak (is not lessened). 1.
You did not foster any attraction for Divine Knowledge (pondering on the Guru's Shabad), and have wasted away your precious human life, oh foolish man. Pause.
You should serve Waheguru (recite His Naam) till your last breath because with God's Feet (His Naam) enshrined in your heart, your love for Him will not disappear even after your body goes away (after your death), oh man. 2.
The devotee, in whose heart God implants His Naam, loses all his thirst for Maya. Such a devotee understands the Will of God, and like an expert player at the game of dice, throws the die skillfully (controls his mind and performs deeds which are acceptable to God). 3.
The devotee, who understands God's Will and makes a connection with the invisible God (recites His Naam), can suffer no (spiritual) damage, and they never lose the game of life who cast the die skillfully (perform deeds in accordance with God's Will), oh Kabir. 4.4.

Suntaan kuou mut(i) koyee nind-hou, sunt Ram(u) haiyn Aiko.
Kuhou Kabir, mein so Gur paaya, ja ka naaoun Bibayko. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Koat(u) = fort (human body). Punch = five(demons). Sikdaara = rogues like leaders. Haala = tax (in terms of noble qualities). Jimee Nuhee Boyee = have not done any injustice to anyone. Dookhaala = painful. 1.
Dussaiy = stings; tortures. Patvaari = revenue officer of the lowest rank in the villages; the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachments, and ego). Pookaariya = prayed to. Oobaari = emancipated. Pause. Nuoun = nine (body doors). Daadi = who measure land to meet needs; assessors. Dus = ten (five senses and five executers). Moonsuf = judges who decide whether the demons' needs are justified. Dhaaveh(i) = attack. Ruyyiut = subjects. Busn = let live. Dori = a unit of length. Bishtaala = filthy (immoral) tax .2.
Buhuttar Ghur = the human body with 72,000 veins and nerves. Ikk(u) Purakh = Waheguru. Duftur Sodhiya = cleared the account. Baaki = balance. Rijum = minuscule.3
Nind-hou = criticize maliciously. Bibayko = Divine Knowledge. 4.

NOTE: Kabir Sahib uses the village revenue officer (who is usually very corrupt) and his immoral ways to assess taxes as an example to illuminate the unfair demands of human senses and how to deal with them.

MEANING: The five demons always torture me (force me to commit immoral deeds), oh the holy saints. So, I raised my arm to call my Guru for help. He kindly emancipated me from them. Pause.
There is only one human body, but five rogue-like leaders in the form of demons, which demand tax (in the form of sensual pleasures) from it (they go way beyond limits in their demands). I have not caused them any injustice (I meet their just demands), so I find it painful to pay them unjust additional taxes (meet their unjust demands). 1.
There are nine assessors (in the form of 9 openings of the body) that determine the needs of the five demons, and there are ten judges (five senses and their five implementors) that decide whether the demands of the demons are just. They are all corrupt and rush to attack the human body, and do not let him live in peace. Their demands and assessments are not just, and they demand too much immoral tax in the form of filthy sensual pleasures. 2.
With His grace, the Guru implanted God’s Naam in the heart of my body which has 72 main arteries (the old religious books believed that there are 72000 veins and nerves in the human body of which 72 are the major ones); with God's Naam in my heart (no demon was able to rob me of my noble qualities), so when the office of the Angel of justice looked at my account, he found no balance at all of immoral deeds left in my account. 3.

(I attained the above spiritual state by the grace of the Guru), so, nobody should ever vilify God's saints because they are just like Him. I have realized the Guru in the form of Divine Knowledge, oh Kabir. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Sheh = husband. Saar = worth. Soohaagun(i) = married (connected with Waheguru-Husband). Tuj(i) = give up. Ruliyaan Maanaiy = enjoys luxuries. Untar(u) = gap; separation; secret. Abhaakhaiy = bad language. 1.
Kut = how? Peer = pain. Puraayee = of others. Durd = pain. Paayee = a very small amount (of money). Pause.
Doohaagun(i) = separated from husband. Doyay Pukh = both sides (this world and the next). Heeni = devoid of. Naah = Nath = Lord. Niruntar(i) = uniformly (with focussed mind). Purslaat = an Islamic belief that everybody has to walk on the bridge with a width of the size of hair built on the fire of hell. Punth = path. Doohayla = difficult. Guvun = journey. Ikayla = alone. 2.
Durdvund(u) = needing sympathy. Dur(i) = (God's) Door. Piyaas = deep desire. Jubaab = response. Shern = refuge. Gut(i) = high (spiritual) state; salvation. 3.

MEANING: Only the devotee married to (spiritually connected with) Waheguru knows the true worth (transcendence) of her Husband. She enjoys the luxuries (blissfulness) of the love for God (Waheguru). She offers her body and mind in His service and keeps no secret from Him. She does not copy others (Maya-engrossed people) and does not listen to their language (in favour of Maya and against God). 1.
How can a person realize the pain of (separation from God) of others who do not suffer from even a slight pain themselves (who are totally disconnected from Him)? Pause.
The individual, who does not worship God with a focused mind (loves Maya too), gets devoid of comforts in both worlds (he does not enjoy the comforts of Maya in this world, and does not get Allah's love in the next). The journey on Purslaat is extremely difficult, and he has to walk alone, with no friend or companion. 2.

Hearing about the many bad consequences of Maya, I feel deeply uncomfortable and need God's kindness. I went to His Door with my prayer with a deep desire to see Him, but did not get any response (because of my divided loyalties between Him and Maya). I pray to God that I have come to His shelter (with a pure mind now); kindly provide Your shelter, and grant me salvation in whatever way You deem fit, prays Ravidass. 3.1.

Rijk(u) = necessities of life. Umbraavaiy = delivers. Bheetur(i) = inside. Haat(u) = store of supplies. Chulaavaiy = runs. Mein Mayra = discrimination. Suvayra = early. 2.
Siraano = near the end. Suvaara = decorated; made easy (to unite with God). Saanjh = evening. Dehdis = every direction. Nidaan(i) = at the end. Phunkhaanay = perishable.
MEANING: Every new day that starts, goes by (your life is slipping away by the day); we cannot live in the world forever, and have to leave one day, oh my friend. (You may think that) The journey of life is long (you still have a long life ahead to worship God), but our companions are leaving, and we have to leave too, as death is looming over our heads. 1.
Why are you sleeping away your life with the false belief that you are going to live in this world forever? Wake up (to the reality of life), oh, the ignorant man, and worship God. Pause.
God, which has given you the life, also delivers the necessities of life. He runs His store of supplies in your heart (He knows your needs, as He is present there). Give up your selfishness and discrimination against others, and worship the Lord, and keep Him in your mind all the time, oh man. 2.
Your life is nearing its end, but you have not done anything to make the journey to the next world comfortable (to have union with God). It is the evening of your life, and there is darkness (of ignorance) all around you. I, Ravidass, have only one piece of advice to offer at the end: that this world is perishable and you must keep God in mind, oh foolish man. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Mundar = mansions. Shaal Rusoyee = kitchen. Phoon(i) = again; at the time of death. 1.

Ghaas = graas; straw. Taati = mat. Rul(i) Guyyo = mixed well with. Maati = dust. Pause. Bundh = relatives. Suhayra = friends. Kaadh(u) = take out. Suvayra = early; quickly. 2.

Ooreh(i) Tun = chest. Bhoot(u) = ghost. Lootiya = robbed. Chhootiya = salvaged. 3-4.

MEANING: You have built tall mansions and a luxurious kitchen, but when death comes, you cannot stay there even for a short moment, oh man. 1.

The human body is like a mat of straws which burns quickly and mixes with dust. Pause.

Even all your brothers, relatives, family members, and friends (whom you love very much) start saying, “take the dead body out quickly.” 2.

Let alone everybody else, even the wife of the dead person, who always clung to his chest, runs away, calling him a ghost. 3.

Word Meaning: Tup(i) = suffer in the burning of heart. Looh(i) = suffer in pain. Haath Muroroun = repent. Baavul(i) = crazy. Shuhou =Sheh = (Allah) husband. Loaroun = wish for. Roas(u) = displeasure. Uvgun = bad qualities. Doash(u) = blame. 1.
Saar = worth. Jobun = young age. Khoyay = lost; gone. Paachaiy = after. Pause.
Koyil = a black songbird. Kit Goon = for what reason? Birhay Jaali = burning (suffering) in the pain of separation. Bihoon = without. Kuteh(i) = where? Kirpaal(u) = kind. 2.
Vidhun = frightening. Khoohi = well (world). Moondh = ignorant young woman. Bayli = friend. Mayli = connected with. Allhou = Allah; God. 3.
Vaat = journey. Khuree = much. Oodeeni = sad; hopeless; worrying. Khunniyoun = dagger. Tikhi = sharp. Piyeeni = thin. Maarug(u) = path. Suvayra = early; always. 4.
MEANING: My heart is burning, and I am suffering from the pain of separation from my dear Allah, and repenting (at my stupid deeds due to my attraction to Maya). I am crazily wishing for my dear Lord. I know, my Lord is displeased with my behaviour. I cannot blame Him for that because it is I who has all the faults (bad qualities). 1.
I did not value the worth of my Lord; now I am repenting after my young age has slipped away. Pause.
When I asked the black songbird for what reasons she was black, she replied that she was black because her heart was burning due to her separation from her dear mate. Like the songbird, how can a devotee find comfort anywhere without the Lord? But when Allah is kind, He connects the devotees with Him. 2.
The world is like a frightening, dark well, and the ignorant young woman is all alone without any friends or support (without any spiritual guidance). With His grace, Allah put me in the shelter of the Guru. Now, I find Allah as my friend everywhere. 3.
But, the path to union with Allah is extremely difficult and worrisome at an advanced age because it is very narrow and sharp like a dagger (where you can get hurt if you make a wrong move) (if you again get attracted by the allurement of Maya). So, one must start worshipping Allah early in life (so that you overcome the attractions of Maya early in life), oh Sheikh Farid. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Bayrra = boat (to swim across the world-sea). Bundh(i) = build. Vayla = time. Survur(u) = the pool of heart (mind). Jub = when. Oochhlaiy = overflows with sins. Tub = then. Turn = swimming. Doohayla = difficult. 1.
Kusoombhrraiy = a flower which looks very attractive, but is short-lived and wilts away upon touching. Maya is compared to this flower in its attraction and its short-lived comforts. Jul(i) Jaasi = will burn; will leave quickly. Dhoala = dear.

Aapinaiy = in themselves. Putlee = thin; weak in noble qualities. Ray Boala = words of insult. Doodha Thunee = union with (Allah) husband. 2. Alaayaysi = will say (order). Huns(u) = soul. Doomna = indecisive (caught between the attractions of Maya and the awaiting justice of Allah). Dhayri = pile of dirt. Theesi = become. 3.

MEANING: Do not touch Maya (do not fall in love with it), because you will suffer as it is like the Kusoombh flower, which looks very pretty but lives for a very short time and withers away on touch, oh my dear friend. (The comforts of Maya seem very pretty, but are short-lived, and could cause heart-burning for you), oh man. Pause.

One needs a boat of noble qualities to swim across the world-sea. (But, when the man is trapped in the attractions of Maya), The pool of his mind (which should have Naam-Amrit in it, or should be full of noble qualities) begins to overflow with sins (because one commits countless sins to accumulate wealth), and with such a heavy load of sins, he cannot swim across the world- sea. At that time, it became extremely difficult to swim across the world-sea without the boat of noble qualities which he could not build. 1.

Some of the people are weak in noble qualities and have to face the words of insult in Allah's Court. They cannot get connected with Him and enjoy His love. 2.

Farid says when the order of Allah comes for a man to leave this world, his soul leaves the world indecisively (caught between the attractions of Maya and love for Allah), while the body becomes a pile of dirt. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = Shabad with four stanzas. Sultan = king. Meeyaan = Mr. Sir. Vudaayee = praise. 1. Boojhaayee = wisdom; understanding. Sach Meh(i) = in Waheguru's (Naam). Rujaayee = Will. Pause.
Usnaayee = greatness; magnanimity. Chuturaayee = smartness. 2.
Kutheen = describe. Akuth(u) = indescribable. Bhaavaiy = liked by. Til(u) = the size of a sesame seed (extremely small amount). 3.
Aitay = so many. Kookur = dogs; worldly attractions. Baygaana = stranger. Bhaunkaan = bark; pray loudly (to defend myself). Bhugut(i) Heen(u) = devoid of Waheguru's worship. Naaoun = greatness. Na Jaayee = will not diminish. 4.

MEANING: (I am of low wisdom), and address You as Mr., whereas You are the Emperor of the universe, oh Lord. What kind of praise is this!! But, as I said, I am foolish and do not know more than this; I say use those words which my wisdom, given by You, allows me to say. 1. Please, give me the understanding so that I may appreciate Your magnanimity, sing Your praise, and stay absorbed in Your Naam with Your Will, oh Waheguru. Pause. Whatever has happened (the creation of the universe), has been caused by Your Majesty. I am blind of wisdom, and have no smartness to know anything about Your limits (capabilities), oh Waheguru. 2.
What Grandeur of Yours can I describe and see it (appreciate that) by simple description? Your Splendour is indescribable. If, I am able to sing any small fraction of Your praise to Your liking, even that is only because of Your benevolence. 3.
There are so many dogs in the form of worldly attractions which attack my good qualities, and I am a stranger to them here (because, unlike most people who fall prey to such dogs, I do not yield easily to their demands), and bark loudly (pray to You) to keep them away to protect myself. However, if I, Nanak, fail to resist their demands of sensual pleasures, and am unable to worship You, I am confident that Your Greatness (kindness to protect Your devotees) will not be any less, oh Waheguru. 4.1.

Jo Toodh bhaavaiy soyee chunga, ikk Nanak kee ardaasay. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Mundar(u) = temple. Vays = garb. Klundar(u) = the highest-level saint in Islam; a roaming ascetic. Ghut Hee = in my own heart. Shabad(u) = Naam(u). Praan(i) = in my soul. Bust(u) = resides. Baahourr(i) = again. 1.

Baydhiya = pierced; stitched with. Duyyaal = kind (Waheguru). Sayti = with. Puraayee = of others. Chint = worry (that people will taunt me). Pause.

Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Alukh = invisible. Apaara = limitless. Chinta = look after. Muhhiul(i) = in the sky. Bhurpur(i) Leena = present everywhere. Ghut(i) = in heart. Jot(i) = light; Soul. 2.

Sikh = advice = Mut(i). Boodh(i) = wisdom. Mundar = human body. Chhaava = support.3. Paasay = with. Bhaavaiy = is liked. 4.

MEANING: (People wear garbs of holy saints, go to temples to worship their deities, and take dips at holy places), but my mind is the temple for me, my body itself is the garb of the roaming ascetics, and my heart is the holy place (where Waheguru's Naam resides) where I take dips in the Naam-Amrit. As Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in my mind, I will not take birth again in any form. 1.

My mind has been pierced (stitched) with Waheguru's Naam, and nobody knows the pain that my heart suffers in His separation (if I do not recite His Naam), oh my mother. (People taunt those who ignore the idols and worship the invisible Waheguru), But I do not care about such people. Pause.

The inaccessible, incomprehensible, invisible, and the limitless Waheguru looks after me. He is present everywhere - in the waters, on the land, and in the sky – and enlightens every heart. 2.

All the advice and the wisdom are given by Him, and He provides support to our bodies. I sing only His praise, and do not recognize anybody else as the supreme power. 3.

All the living beings are in Your shelter (You are their provider and the guard), and You worry about (look after) them, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, pray only to You, and believe that whatever You do is for our good, oh Lord. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Shabad = words of praise = Naam. Neeshaan(u) = identification (to be recognized in Waheguru's Court). Soorta = listener. Jaan(u) = know-all; omniscient. Taan(u) = power. Daata = provider; Lord. Pervaan(u) = approval. 1.
Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (Waheguru). Dayo = enlightening. Jaachik = beggar. Alukh = invisible. Abhayo = whose secrets cannot be known. Pause.
Dhurkutee Naar(i) = immoral (unfaithful) woman. Bhoondi = filthy in character; immoral. Kaamuniyaar = one who practices witchcraft (bewitches). Jhoottha = short-lived. Din Chaar(i) = a few days. Chaanun(u) = light. Undhiyaar(i) = in darkness. 2.
Chukh(i) Chhoadi = have tasted (tested). Sehsa = doubt. Vayjaat = bastard. Aikay Kuou = who belongs to the "One" Waheguru. Bhuou = fear. Soyay = the same (God). 3.
Mooyay = dead towards (no connection with) Maya. Tthaak Ruhhay = stop; control mind. Dhaariya = supported by. Soojhaiy = can think of. Vaariya = sacrifice. Ruttay = imbued in love of. Nistaariya = salvaged. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru and His Naam are one and the same (His Naam is His manifestation), and His Naam is also the identification for recognition in His Court. He listens to the needs of His living beings and knows everything about them (He is omniscient). He creates things with His power and watches (enjoys) them. You are the Lord of the universe, and Your Naam is the only thing that is approved by You, oh God. 1. Even though Waheguru is invisible, and nobody can ever know His secrets, His Naam enlightens our minds. I am a beggar at His Door begging for His Naam. Pause.
Maya bewitches the man, but is like an immoral and unfaithful woman (who is never yours forever); so, love for Maya is deceitful too. Even the reign and the beauty are short-lived, but Waheguru's Naam is like a powerful light in darkness (which is man's friend forever). 2. It has been tested and seen that there is never a fear (doubt) about the legitimacy of a child if his father is visible (known to everybody). Similarly, a man has no worldly fear if he is a devotee of the one and only Waheguru (which is his father). Waheguru Himself guides him and inspires him to perform noble deeds. 3.

Those who kill their mind (its desires) by Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), keep their mind in control (it quits wandering) with Waheguru's support. They cannot think of any other power, and are always willing to sacrifice their lives for the Guru (act only on His advice). Imbued in Waheguru's Naam, they are salvaged by the Lord, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Gurmukh(i) Naam(i) milaiy shaabaash(i). Hur(i) kirpa dhaari, daasun(i) daas. Jun Nanak Hur(i) Naam dhun(u) raas(i). 4.4.

Word Meaning: Buchnee = words; advice. Sehj = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Rung(i) = in love. Rutta = imbued. Maanay = is convinced. Bherm(i) Bhoollay = misled by misgivings. Buouraana = crazy. Bin(u) = without. Puchhaanay = recognize.1 Dershun = sight. Jeeurra = soul. Khin(u) = short moment. Boojh = understanding. Pause. Bisraiy = forgotten. Dookhaali = in pain. Giraas(i) = bite. Bhaaleen = I search for. Baiyraagun(i) = detached from worldly attractions. Nihaleen = I see. Naali = with. 2. Akuth = indescribable. Kutha = description. Bhaayay = with love. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Gur Kerni = do as advised by the Guru.
Kaar Kmaayay = perform deeds. Mayt(i) = by eliminating. Chullaiy = follow the path. 3. Munmukh(u) = follower of mind; Maya-engrossed; not follower of the Guru. Vichhurraiy = detached; disconnected. Khoati = impure; adulterated. Raas(i) = capital; wealth of ignoble qualities). Shaabaash(i) = earns accolades. Daasun(i) Daas = slave of slaves. 4.

MEANING: With Guru's Shabad, a devotee's mind stays focused on Waheguru's Naam, and he attains the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Imbued in Waheguru's love, his mind is fully convinced about Waheguru as the only Supreme Being. On the other hand, the followers of their mind are insane, who are misled in life by their misgivings. How can one survive spiritually without Waheguru's Naam? We can recognize (connect with) Him with Guru's Shabad. 1.

How can I survive without having Waheguru's sight, oh my mother? Satguru has given me the wisdom to worship Waheguru, so now my soul (mind) cannot be peaceful even for a short moment without Waheguru (His Naam). Pause.
I suffer miserably when I forget my Waheguru. Searching for my Waheguru, I recite His Naam with every breath and every bite. In His love, I am fully detached from Maya, and "see" Him through His Naam. In the shelter of the Guru, now I see Him always with me. 2.
We can describe some virtues (sing praise) of the indescribable Waheguru with love for the Guru (as per His advice) who has "shown" me the inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru. What kind of useful deeds can one perform other than those advised by the Guru? One should rid oneself of selfishness and ego to remain absorbed in the Guru's Shabad. 3. The followers of their mind are disconnected from Waheguru, and they have impure (unholy) wealth of ignoble qualities to take to Waheguru's Court. But the followers of the Guru earn accolades there because of Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. With Waheguru's grace, they are humble like the slaves of His slaves. I am also a slave of Waheguru, and possess His Naam as my wealth for His Court, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Dhrig(u) = reprehensible; shameful. Ung(i) = body. Kootumb = family. Sehit = including. Siyoun = with. Paurri = ladder. Chhootki = dropped; disconnected. Ehila = highly valuable. Guvaaya = wasted away. 1.
Liv Laagun(i) = focus mind on; meditate. Churn = Feet = Naam. Jug-Jeevun = soul of the world (God). Daata = provider; Lord. Jun = devotees. Nivaaray = removed. Pause.
Duyya-Put(i) = Lord (source) of compassion. Junt = living beings. Vichaaray = poor; helpless. Mookt = freedom from worldly bonds. Bundh = worldly attachments. Vukhaanay = (holy saints) describe (advise) us. 2.
Aik = the "One" (God). Gehn Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Suvaaray = decorated (with noble qualities); purified. Bherm(i) Bhoolaanay = misled by misgivings. Oorvaar(i) = on this side of the world sea (worldly attachments). Paaray = on the other side of the sea.3.
Nudr(i) = kind sight. Smaahlay = remember. Nistaaray = salvaged. Bhaag(u) = fortune. Mutuk(i) = on the forehead. Kaaleh(i) = (fear of) death. Bidaaray = destroys. 4.
MEANING: Reprehensible is the eating, the sleeping. and the wearing of clothes, and shameful is the body and the family of the individual who does not make a connection with Waheguru in this human life. Such people waste away their precious human life, and like the person who cannot get back on the ladder he missed, they cannot get human life again. 1. Love for Maya, which causes the man to forget Waheguru's Naam in the first place, does not let him meditate on that (the Naam) again. Waheguru, which is the life (soul) of the world, and which is the Lord (provider for all living beings), eradicates all the troubles of His devotees. Pause.
You are compassionate, a source of mercy, and the provider for us all; the living beings are helpless and are at Your mercy, oh Waheguru. The holy saints are known to advise that it is entirely up to You who You emancipate from the bonds of Maya, and who You get trapped in worldly bonds, oh Lord. Those who come to Guru's shelter get salvaged, while the followers of their mind are helpless and get engrossed in Maya. 2.
Those devotees who stay connected with Waheguru and consider Him always close to them are emancipated. Waheguru Himself adorns them with noble qualities (purifies their mind), and no one can describe their high spiritual state. But, those, who are misled by their misgivings, follow their own mind, and they are successful neither on this side of the world-sea (cannot enjoy life here for ever), nor they reach the other side of the world-sea (swim across it to merge into Waheguru); they simply drown in the world-sea (stay trapped in the birth-death cycle). 3. Only that devotee recites Waheguru's Shabad (and acts on His advice) on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. Waheguru's devotees are salvaged even when they spend their life in a family where they have to deal with Maya. Those who have good fortune prewritten on their foreheads destroy the fear of death, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Aap(i) boojhaayay, Aapay jaapay. Aapay Satgur(u), Shabad(u) haiy Aapay. Nanak, aakh(i) soonaayay Aapay.

Word Meaning: Atooll(u) = which cannot be weighed. Toaliya = to weigh. Dooja = some other (to compare). Sojhi = understanding; gain information. Kikkoon = how? 1.
Jaanaiy = understand; make connection. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Pause.
Sraaf(u) = goldsmith; assessor. Kusvutti = touch stone; testing device. Purkhay = tests. Chulaayay = approves. Aiko Soyay = the “One” God. 2.
Roop(u) = forms. Nirmul = pure. Laayay = motivates; puts to work. Sach(u) = eternal. 3.
Liv = concentration of mind. Dhaat(u) = (attraction for) Maya. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. Jaapay = recites Naam. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru cannot be weighed (His worth can never be known) (because there is none other like Him against which He can be compared), so, how can we weigh Him? Because there is none other like Him, how can we assess His worth? 1.
One can only enshrine Waheguru (His Naam) in one's heart by the grace of the Guru. Whoever makes a connection with Waheguru gets rid of his indecisiveness (struggle to choose between Him and Maya) and affirms his faith in Waheguru. Pause.
Waheguru, Himself, is the goldsmith (assessor of qualities) for the living beings, and tests them on His testing device. He Himself tests them (assesses their qualities) and approves (some of them) who turn out to be perfect. But only He knows who is perfect. 2.
All different forms of Maya have been created by Waheguru (to attract people to run the affairs of the world). (Most people are captivated by the attractions of Maya and accumulate the filth of immoral acts under its influence. But a few stay pure who are connected to Waheguru. But only those get attached to Waheguru (recite His Naam) whom He puts in the shelter of the Guru, who “shows” them the eternal Waheguru, as a result of which, they get absorbed in Him. 3. Waheguru Himself causes some people to meditate on Him, and some to pursue the gimmicks of Maya. He Himself gives the understanding about Him (enlightens their minds) and appears in their hearts. He Himself is the Shabad (His Naam) and Himself the Satgur. He disseminates His Message Himself (through Satguru, which is His manifestation), oh Nanak. 4.2.

Ikkna ghur meh(i) day vudiyaayee, ikk(i) bherm(i) bhuveh(i) abhimaana. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Sahib = Master. Sayvuk = servant; devotee. Buhaana = excuse; rationale. Khayl(u) = drama of the world. Aik Sumaana = uniform. 1.

Perchaiy = teachings. Kerm(u) = munificence. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Sehj = high spiritual state. Dhiyaana = focus of mind. Pause.

Abhimaana = pride; conceit. Jot(i) = Light; Soul. Khincheh(i) = pull out. Vukhiyaana = explanation. 2.

Chayla = disciple. Gooni-Nidhaana = treasure of virtues. Chulaayay = make perform deeds. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Bhugwaana = God. Kaama = tasks; plans. 4.

MEANING: An individual is recognized as a master only if he has a servant, and vice versa; this fact cannot be denied by any excuse. Similarly, Waheguru has created the drama of the world in which this principle applies everywhere uniformly – He is the Lord, and the masses are His slaves (dependent upon Him for their survival). 1.

A devotee becomes absorbed in Waheguru's Naam through the teachings of the Satguru and remains focused on His Naam at all times, in a high spiritual state. But only those devotees come to Satguru's shelter who have the benevolence of Waheguru. Pause.

But nobody can serve You, or feel conceited (of their abilities) on their own (they cannot function independently; You make the individuals do whatever You want them to do). Let them show (if they may) what they can do or describe when You pull Your light (their soul) out of them, oh Waheguru. 2.

(Being present in everybody), Waheguru Himself is the Guru, and Himself the disciple, and He Himself is the treasure of all noble qualities. Individuals perform only those kinds of things (deeds) which Waheguru likes, and which He wants them to perform. 3.

Waheguru is the eternal Lord, and no one knows what he has in store. He brings praise to some and misguides others by feeding them misgivings and ego, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Poora = perfect. Thaat(u) = construct; system. Perpunch = world. 1. Jeeoun = from the depth of heart; with full faith. Ruvaiy = is present. Pause.
Joogaan = of the (four) eons. Nibayrra = final decision; settle the issue. Aik Nidhaana = one source (Waheguru's Naam). Jut(u) = control over lust. Sunjum = control on sensual pleasures. Teeruth = pilgrimage. Dherm(u) = principle. Soadh(i) = study deeply. Bayd = Vedas. Gurmukh(i) = in Guru's shelter (guidance). Pooay = perfect. Pervaana = approved. 3. Chookay = is removed (eradicated). Abhimaana = conceit; ego. Maanut = those who obey (the Guru). Nidhaana = treasure (of Waheguru's Naam). 4.

MEANING: The perfect Waheguru has created a perfect system in the whole universe uniformly, so that only His praise (in the shelter of Satguru) is recognized (as the only way to connect with Him); so, let no one be proud of any other effort. 1.
Whoever acquires Satguru's wisdom (follows His advice from the depth of his heart), and recites His Bani (Shabad in Waheguru's praise), embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and gets absorbed in Satguru (His Shabad). Pause.
Now (this eon - Kulyug) is the time to settle this issue (Waheguru's system as discussed above) for all four eons, no matter what the eon is. The first three yugas – Satyug, Treta and Duaapur – used the principles of control on lust, control on sensual pleasures, and pilgrimage as their way to connect with their deities (or God), but this is the eon in which (in fact in all eons) Waheguru's praise (recitation of His Naam) is the only approved means to connect with Him. 2.
You can study the Vedas and the Puranas carefully to find that each eon believed in, and used its own principle to connect with God, but the fact is, only those who recited His Naam in the shelter of the Guru were approved to be perfect by Waheguru. 3.
An individual who attaches his mind to the eternal Waheguru gets rid of his ego, oh Nanak. All those who recite or listen to Waheguru's Naam enjoy comfort, but only that individual gets connected with the treasure of all virtues (Waheguru), who obeys His Huqam, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Bilawal(u) = ecstasy; bliss. Soohaavay = attractive. Mungul = song of happiness. Naari = senses. Preetum = Dear (Waheguru). 1.

Tin = those. Bulihaaray = sacrifice life. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love in the high spiritual state; in natural way (without any special effort). Pause.

Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in the love. Chaayay = zestfulness. Sobha = praise; honour.2.

Rungaayay = dye heart. Chuloolay = deep red (never-fading). Bhaayay = in love. 3.

Ugiyaan(u) = ignorance. Buhourr(i) = again. Phayra = rebirths. Drirraayay = reinforces. 4.

MEANING: The heart of the devotee, in which Waheguru implants His love through the Guru, feels blissful, and it becomes attractive (is purified) by the Guru's Shabad. Even the senses of the devotee begin to sing the song of happiness (they become ecstatic). Connected with Waheguru, the devotee enjoys blissfulness at all times. 1.

I would love to sacrifice my life for the devotees who embed (enshrine) Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. You also feel blissful in the company of such devotees, and you automatically begin to sing Waheguru's praise without any special effort on your part. Pause.

Such devotees are always imbued with Waheguru's love with zest for Him in their mind, and Waheguru comes to reside in their heart on His own. He puts them in the shelter of the Guru to connect them with Him, and bestows honour on them. 2.

Their hearts are dyed with Waheguru's love by Guru's Shabad; imbued with Waheguru's love, they sing His praise, whereby their mind stays in itself (quits wandering). With the sweetness of Waheguru's love in their mind, they acquire a deep red colour of Waheguru's love which never fades away, and they stay absorbed in His Naam. 3.

With Guru's Shabad in their mind, the darkness of ignorance is dispelled from their mind. With their minds enlightened by Satguru's Divine Knowledge, they connect with dear Waheguru. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's love are never born again. My Satguru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in us, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Tay = from. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. Achint = without any effort.1.
Uver(u) = any other. Na Kaaja = nothing to do. Nivaaja = source of bliss. Pause.
Purteet(i) = trust; faith. Boojhaayee = got understanding. Sumsur(i) = the same; equal Paykhaiy = will face. 2.
Koat = millions. Nidhaan = treasures. Abhimaan = conceit. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. 3.
Joog = eon. Ruhhiyya Smaayee = is present. 4.
Ut(i) = extreme. Trishun = fire of desires. Boojhee = put out. 5.

MEANING: I earned respect at Waheguru's Door because of my Guru when I burned (got rid of) my selfishness, ego, and my love for Maya with His Shabad, and when Waheguru's Naam got enshrined in my heart without any effort on my part (with Guru's grace). 1.
I serve only Waheguru, and have nothing to do with any other (deity). I beg for Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of bliss, in the shelter of the Guru, so that I may enjoy blissfulness all the time (by reciting that). Pause.
When my mind was enlightened by Guru's Shabad, I won my mind's trust from within (that it would never waver again). Now my mind considers life and death the same way (because I am always connected with Waheguru, at which stage life or death do not matter). Now, I will not experience spiritual death and will not have to face the Angel of Death. 2.
My Guru has shown me millions of worldly treasures in my mind, and it feels as if I have acquired all of them, whereby all my pride (to own them) has been eradicated. Now my mind sings only Waheguru's Naam, and stays focused in the blissful state all the time. 3.
By reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, I have earned respect in this world, and now I see Waheguru everywhere, which is always the source of all comforts; but I am still unable to fully appreciate His largess. 4.
I realized (got connected with) my Guru with great fortune, who showed me the treasure of Waheguru's Naam in my own heart. With Waheguru's grace, I found Guru's Shabad to be extremely sweet as a result of which, all the fire of my worldly desires has been put out, and I feel blissfulness in my mind and my body, oh Nanak. 5.6.4.6.10.

Hur(i) daasun, daas, daas hum kuriyo, jun Nanak daas dasunna. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Oodum = initiative; effort. Untarjaami = omniscient. Prayray = motivates; prompts. Nutooaa = actor; musician. Tuntee = guitar; lute. Tunt = wire. Vaajeh(i) = produce music. Junt = musical instruments. Junaa = devotees. 1.

Girust(i) = engrossed. Bhemut(u) = is misled. Grussiyo = controlled tightly. 2.

Gut(i), Mit(i) = level of spirituality. Putit = immoral. Puvunna = purified. Dhovaiy = haul. Dhor = (dead) cattle. Chum(u) = hides. Chumray = of the hauler (a low-caste person). 3.

Deen-Duyyaal = kind to the poor (humble). Bhuv-Taarun = ship to ferry across. Puppna = from sins. Daas Daasun= slave of slaves. 4.

MEANING: Like a musician who controls his musical instrument, which produces the kind of music that he wishes, the man is controlled (in the choice of his deeds) by Waheguru. The man acquires his initiative and wisdom (to recite Waheguru's Naam) from the omniscient Waheguru, and does only those things for which he is prompted by Him. 1.

Recite Waheguru's Naam with the tongue, oh my mind. One connects with the Guru as per his prewritten fortune (by Waheguru) on his forehead, as a result of which Waheguru takes residence in his heart (appears there). Pause.

On the other hand, the Maya-engrossed individual spends his life misled (by his misgivings), while the devotee is protected by Waheguru (from Maya's attacks). Waheguru protects the devotees in His refuge like He protected Prehlad from the clutches of his father, Hernaakhsh (See the full story in the "Introduction"). 2.

We cannot even count the number of individuals who were immoral to begin with, but were purified by Waheguru. We cannot describe their level of high spirituality. (Take the example of the low-caste Ravidass Ji) who used to do the menial job of hauling the dead cattle, but was salvaged when he came to Waheguru's shelter (surrendered to Him). 3.

Waheguru is always benevolent to the poor (with no ego), and is the ship to ferry His devotees across the world-sea (salvages them); we are sinners, and I beg Him to protect us from sins. I also beg Him to make me a slave of His slaves, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Moogudh = foolish. Mutee = by wisdom. Shernaagut(i) = seeking refuge. Ajunma = which never takes births. Heen = lacking (noble qualities). Akerma = unfortunate.

1. Rus(u) = sweet tastes. Tiyaag-hou = abandon; give up. Nihful = worthless. Kaama = deeds; rituals. Pause.

Taaray = salvaged. Nirgoon = having to good qualities. Oopma = greatness. 2.

Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Sehumma = worries. Bhuvaayiyeh(i) = taken through. Mund-bhaagi = unfortunate. Moorr = foolish. 3.

Adhaar(u) = basis; support. Poorub(i) Likhay = prewritten. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (Waheguru). Drirraaya = reinforced. Suful(u) = successful. 4.

MEANING: I am foolish, unwise, and have wisdom which is devoid of any Divine Knowledge; but have come to the shelter of Waheguru, which never takes births, and beg the Lord to protect me (against the attacks of Maya) with His benevolence as I am an unfortunate stone-hearted sinner who lacks noble qualities. 1.

Give up all the (spiritually) worthless tasks, and recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh my mind. But one can enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam only with Guru's advice. Pause.

I have no good quality, but I am Your devotee and Your slave; it will be Your greatness if You would kindly protect me, oh Lord. I have no one other than You as my Lord, but I can worship You only with the great fortune (written for me by You), oh Waheguru. 2.

The life of those who do not recite Your Naam is condemnable, and they suffer from deep worries. Such unfortunate people are foolish, and are taken through many, many lives again, and again. 3.

Your Naam is the basis of Your devotees, and they stay connected with You because of their good fortune prewritten by You. Satguru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in the minds of the devotees who come to His shelter, because of which they make their life successful, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Chit(u) = mind. Loobhut = is greedy for. Bikhiya = (poisonous) Maya (sensual pleasures). Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Maiyl(u) = filth. Moogudh = foolish. 1. Nurhur = God. Jun = devotee. Paar(i) Puraa = salvaged. Pause.
Jus Kuraan = sing praise. Sung(i) Lugay = attached to. Kaasht = wood. Loh = iron. 2. Saakut Nur = Maya-engrossed man. Hochhi Mut(i) = low-level thinking. Mudhim = low quality. Bhaag-heen = unfortunate. Doohchaari = immoral. Phir(i) = again. 3. Suntokh Suraa = pool of contentment. Paar(i) Puraa = swam across the world-sea. 4.

MEANING: My mind is guided by evil thinking, and is filthy with greed for the love of sensual enjoyments as a result of which I cannot serve you (recite Your Naam), oh Waheguru; so, how can the foolish me swim across the world-sea (get salvaged)? 1.
Recite the Naam of Waheguru, oh my mind, so that you may be connected with Satguru with Waheguru's benevolence, and swim across the world sea. Pause.
You are our father, oh Lord; please grant us the wisdom so that we may sing Your praise. Those who get attached to (get connected with) You are ferried across the world-sea like a piece of iron which floats on water when attached to a log of wood. 2.
A Maya-engrossed individual has very low (spiritual) wisdom and does not serve Waheguru (recite His Naam). Such people are highly unfortunate and immoral. They take birth, and die again, and again. 3.
Those whom You connect with the Guru, take dips in the pool of contentment in His shelter (they become fully contented by reciting Your Naam), oh Waheguru. The filth of their immoral thinking is washed away by the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, and they swim across the world sea, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Kutha Kurhou = narrate virtues (sing praise). Bohith = ship; boat. Khayvut = boatman. Turhou = swim across. 1.

Oochurhou = chant; recite. Paar(i) Purhou = swim to the other end (be salvaged). Pause. Kaaya = body. Rus(u) = sweet-tasting. Ootum = supreme. Kiyoun Paayiyaiy = how to acquire. Oopdaysh(u) = advise. Suful = causing success. 2.

Chaakh Dikhou = see the taste. Bisray = forgotten. Bikh Rusou = tastes of poisonous sensual pleasures. 3.

Rusaayin(u) = source of all sweet tastes. Chaar(i) Pudaaruth = four desired things – religiosity (high principles), wealth, fulfilment of desires, and emancipation. 4.

MEANING: Let all of us join together to sing Waheguru's praise, oh, the holy devotees. Waheguru's Naam is like a ship in this eon of Kulyug (in the world), and the Guru is its captain; so, let us board this ship (recite Lord's Naam) to swim across the world sea. 1.

Discuss the virtues of Waheguru (recite His Naam) in the company of the holy devotees to swim across the world sea, oh my mind. But His praise can be sung only if you have such a fortune prewritten (by Waheguru) on your forehead. Pause.

The human body contains the supreme, sweet-tasting Waheguru's Naam (but it is hidden). When I asked the advice of the holy devotees as to how to extract (taste) the Naam, they advised that serve Satguru (act on His advice and sing Waheguru's praise in the company of the holy devotees) to drink the sweet Amrit of His Naam which will lead to Waheguru's holy sight (connect with Him) to make our life successful. 2.

Waheguru's Amrit-Naam is very sweet; taste it to feel (enjoy) its taste, oh, the holy devotees. With Guru's advice, one finds Waheguru's Naam to be so sweet that they forget all other tastes in life. 3.

Waheguru's Naam is the treasure (source) of all tastes, so serve Him (recite His Naam), oh, the holy devotees. There are four important things - religiosity (high principles), wealth, fulfilment of desires, and emancipation - that everybody wants in life; one acquires all four of them by reciting Waheguru's Naam with the advice of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Brahman = the literati (uppermost caste). Khuttri = the warriors (the second topmost caste). Vaiysh = the businessmen and the farmers (the third topmost class). Shood = the Shoodras = the untouchables (those who perform the lowest type of tasks); the lowest class on the Indian system of castes. Jaapaiy = recite. Mutar(u) = the mantra (Waheguru's Naam). Jumpaiyni = worthy of recitation. Raiyni = night. 1.
Jo Ichhou = desired. Baini = words; Shabad. Pause.
Anik = countless. Oopaav = measures. Chitviyeh(i) = we plan. Hovaini = whatever has to happen. Bhulaa = wellbeing. Baanchhaiy = wishes. Chiyaiyni = in memory. 2.

Soomut(i) = noble wisdom (thinking). Vuss(i) = in control. Junt = instrument. Juntaiyni = musician. Boolaiyni = I utter. 4.

MEANING: Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru; see Him with your own eyes (come to His shelter), and worship Him day and night, oh, the holy devotees. His Shabad is the mantra to control Waheguru (connect with Him); it does not matter whether one belongs to the high castes of the Khatris and the Brahmans, or to the lower castes of the Vaish or the Shudras – all get salvaged. So, recite Satguru's Shabad, and you will have any or all of your wishes fulfilled. 1 & the Pause.
A man may think of countless plans to achieve something, but only that which has to happen (by the Will of God) happens. Everybody wishes for their own well-being, but Waheguru does things that one might never have thought of. 2.
Even though it is very difficult, get rid of your own wisdom (do not follow your mind). Accept the advice of Satguru, and recite Waheguru's Naam all the time. 3.
Our noble or evil thinking is in Your control; it is as if we are the musical instruments, and You operate them, oh, the Supreme Lord. The Creator Waheguru is my Lord, and I utter only those words which He makes me say (I am His slave), oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Anund-Mool = blissful; the source of bliss (Waheguru). Purakhotum(u) = the Supreme Being. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Dhermraayay = the (mythical) Angel of justice. Kaan(i) = owing; debt. Chookaayee = paid off. Jum = Angel of death. Chhunday = (false) praise to please. 1.

Vudbhaageen = fortunate. Permanunday = source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). Pause.

Saakut = Maya-worshipper. Moorr = foolish. Budhik = tied to (slave). Trishna = fire of desires. Kirt Kay Baandhay = programmed by the deeds of previous life. Tayli = who crushes seeds to get oils. Buld = oxen. Bhuvunday = go in circles to run the crusher. 2.

Phunday = nets; bonds of. 3.

Vertaiy = operates. Jiyoun Raakhaiy = whatever situation He put in. 4.

MEANING: When one recites the Naam of the source of bliss, the Supreme Lord, he enjoys only blissfulness in his mind, and all the debts of (any immoral deeds) in the accounts kept by the Angel of justice are cleared. Also, one does not yield to the demands of the five demons to please them for their unjust demands, which leads to the harsh and cruel treatment by the Angel of Death. 1.

Recite the Naam of Waheguru, oh my mind. However, only the fortunate get connected with Satguru (come to His shelter) where they sing Waheguru's praise. Pause.

The worshippers of Maya are foolish, strongly bound to Maya, and go around (spend life) with that mindset. They burn in the fire of desires because of their unchangeable nature formed by the deeds of their previous lives, and they go through the cycle of births and deaths like the oxen which go in circles driving the seed-crushing mill to extract oil. 2.

Those who serve Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru get salvaged; however, only the fortunate serve Waheguru. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam reap the rewards (get connected with Him), and all their bonds with Maya get severed. 3.

Waheguru Himself is the Lord, and Himself the devotee – He is everything Himself. Waheguru alone operates in the world, and the people have to live the way He keeps them, oh Nanak. 4.6.

If we recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all suffering, we achieve success in our life (we get connected with Him). The Guru connects us with Waheguru which is our emancipator and which makes the journey of our life successful. We should sing His praise in the company of the holy saints. 1.
Have faith in Waheguru's Naam which eradicates our love for Maya, and because of which one stays detached from Maya while living in the family. Such an individual gets connected with Waheguru. But some rare individual gets to sing Waheguru's praise. I would like to drop on the feet of such individual (serve him like a slave), oh Nanak. 2.1.7.4.6.17.

Word Meaning: Chaupuday = Shabad with four stanzas. Abinaashi = immortal. Maarug(i) = path (of righteousness). Unchul(i) = in the shelter. 1.
Bikhiya Sunsaar(u) = the world trapped in the poisonous Maya. Bohith = boat. Pause.
Jhoolaaray Dayay = cause mood swings; intoxicates. Thir(u) = stable; unaffected. Herkh = happiness. Soag = sadness. Niraara = unaffected. Sir Oopur(i) = to provide support.2.
Vayrr(u) = wraps around; engulfs Bhooyunga = snake; poisonous. Puchay = burn; suffer. Putunga = moth. Sheegaar = beautification. 3.
Oodaasi = depressed; sad. Ruttan = jewel; Waheguru's Naam. Dusayaa = asked for. Nirmoluk = priceless. Heera = diamond (Naam). Oopaaya = by any means. Mundar(u) = dwelling (human body). Laal(u) = ruby (Naam). Nihaal(u) = blissful. 4.
Chaakhiya = tasted. Saad(u) = taste. Googa = mute; dumb. Bismaad = mesmerized. Anund Roop = source of bliss (God). Subh(u) = everywhere. Sumaaya = merged in. 5.

MEANING: The man falls in love with the things that he can see; (but You are invisible), so how can the man get connected with You, oh the immortal Waheguru? Please, show me the path of righteousness by providing shelter of the Guru (or His holy devotees). 1.
How can we swim across the poisonous sea of Maya (full of sensual attractions)? The answer is: Satguru is the ship which can ferry us across the world-sea. Pause.
Maya intoxicates (pollutes) the mind of the man (which wavers very fast), but the minds of the devotees of Waheguru stay stable (are unaffected by the captivating nature of Maya). Waheguru always stands guard for them, so they remain unaffected in moments of happiness or sadness. 2.
Maya is like a snake which wraps itself around the whole world (controls it). Like a moth that burns itself on the flame of a lamp, the worshipper of Maya suffers badly in the fire of selfishness and ego. Such a person can never get connected with Waheguru no matter how he may adorn himself (with visible religious symbols). However, with His benevolence, Waheguru may connect him with the Guru. 3.
I, too, was feeling very depressed, looking unsuccessfully for the jewel-like Waheguru, and sought the advice of the Guru, who told me that the priceless Waheguru cannot be acquired through any outward symbolism. Human body is the dwelling of the diamond-like Waheguru, and one should search for Him in his body. When the Guru removed the curtain of Maya between the Lord and me, I found Him within me and felt deeply blissful. 4.
Whoever tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam enjoys that but cannot describe its taste like a mute who is only mesmerized to taste something delicious. I am a slave of Waheguru, and find Him everywhere by singing His praise, and get absorbed into Him, oh Nanak. 5.1.

Word Meaning: Kulyaan = wellbeing. Bighun(u) = impediment. Alukh = invisible (Waheguru). Abhayv = whose secrets cannot be known (God). 1.
Dhert(i) = land (of heart). Pooneet = pure (purified). Doort = sins. Pause.
Aad(i) = right from the beginning. Joogaad(i) = from the beginning of the eons. Pertaap(u) = majesty. Suntaap = suffering. 2.

Rukhvaalay = guard. Khusm(i) = Lord. Pritpaalay = nourishes and nurtures. 4.

MEANING: The ground of my heart has been purified by singing Waheguru's praise, and my sins have been washed away by reciting His Naam. Pause.
My revered Guru put me in His service (make me recite the Naam of the invisible Waheguru whose secrets can never be known) because of which all is wonderful for me. There will be no obstacle now in my path to connect with Waheguru. 1.
Now, I have realized that Waheguru, whose Majesty has been acknowledged right from the beginning, and from the beginning of the eons, is present everywhere. There is no suffering of any kind with the grace of the Guru. 2.
I have found Guru's Shabad (Naam of Waheguru), which resides (is present) everywhere without any hindrance (gap), to be very sweet. When Satguru is pleased to be kind, one acquires all the comforts. 3. Waheguru has become my guard, and I find Him with me everywhere. Word Meaning: Sookh-Nidhaan = treasure (source) of comfort. Ugunut = countless. Anaath = orphan (without spiritual guide). Shernaayee = shelter. 1.
Nirgoon = lacking virtues. Lurr(i) Laayay = make Your own; provide shelter. Pause.
Bheerr(u) = difficult situation; calamity. Peerr = suffering. Simrut = remembering. 2.
Aadhaar(u) = support. Bisrut = on forgetting. Chhaar(u) = dust. Kaaj = tasks; objectives.
Moohtaaj = debtor; dependent. 3.
Churn Kumul = lotus-like Feet (Shabad). Doormat(i) = evil thinking. Reet(i) = custom. Munt = mantra (Naam). Anund = blissfulness. 4.

MEANING: My dear Waheguru is the treasure (source) of all comforts, and the Lord has countless virtues (merciful qualities). I am an orphan (have no spiritual guide), and am in Your shelter. Please, be kind to me so that I may recite Your Naam. 1.
I have no good quality, kindly accept me as Your own (provide me Your shelter), and come to reside (appear) in my heart, oh compassionate Waheguru. Pause.
No calamity can befall the devotee of Waheguru who keeps Him in mind, and he experiences no suffering at the hands of the Angel of death (he cannot frighten the devotee). All sufferings disappear when a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam as Waheguru begins to reside in his heart all the time. 2.
Waheguru's Naam is the basis of a devotee's body and mind; his body feels like a pile of dirt (lifeless) when he forgets Waheguru's Naam. All his objectives are achieved when he keeps Waheguru in mind, but he becomes subservient to others (dependent on others' support) when he forgets the Lord. 3.
The devotees of Waheguru have deep love for Waheguru's Naam, whereby their customs (routine tasks) based on ignoble thinking become a thing of the past. They have Lord's Naam in their body and mind, and enjoy blissfulness all the time, oh Nanak. 4..3.

MEANING: You are the support of my body and my life, oh dear Waheguru. All other wisdoms (thoughts) are hollow (worthless), and You are my only protector (shield) against the attacks of Maya, oh Lord. Pause.
A devotee, who gets connected with the Perfect Satguru, is always blissful. However, only that devotee can serve the Guru whom Waheguru is benevolent toward. The Lord, Waheguru, is the great Guru, and the persona (source) of success. The omnipotent Waheguru is present everywhere. The Guru is a manifestation of the Supreme Being (Waheguru), and is always close to His devotees, oh Nanak. 1.
I survive (spiritually) by listening to the praise of the holy saints who have recognized Waheguru (acquired Him in their heart). They worship and recite His Naam, and their mind is imbued in His love. I am a slave of Waheguru, and wish to serve His devotees, which I can do only with the munificence of the Lord. I pray to the Lord that He gives me an opportunity to have their holy sight, oh Nanak. 2.
Those devotees are considered truly fortunate who live in the company of the holy saints. With their minds enlightened, they recite Waheguru's Naam with dedication. Their suffering from the birth-death cycle is eradicated, and any debt for their ignoble deeds in the records of the Angel of Death is fully cleared (the Angel can cause them to be hurt as they merge with Waheguru). But only those get to have the holy sight of Waheguru (get connected with Him) who are liked by Him, oh Nanak. 3.

Waheguru is highly transcendent, beyond limits and is limitless, so who can know all His virtues? But His devotees find salvation by singing or listening to His praise as their immense sins are destroyed. Waheguru's Naam emancipates the cattle-like (highly selfish), the ghost-like (who cling to Maya like a ghost), the foolish, and the stone-like (ruthless) people. I have sought Waheguru's shelter, and am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.4.

Word Meaning: Bikhaiy Bun(u) = the poisonous world (of Maya). Pheeka = distasteful. Tiyaag(i) = abandon; give up. Muhaa Rus(u) = great taste. Bin(u)) = without. Chaakhay = to taste. Bood(i) = drowned. Suglee = the whole world. Maan(u) Meht(u) = respect and honour. Shukut(i) = power. Theeou = become. Sobhavuntee = praise worthy. 1.

Unt(i) = in the end. Tuj(i) = gives up; abandons. Bhogun = to enjoy. Ut(i) = extreme. Roop = beauty. Maatay = intoxicated. Dhunn(i) = great; praise worthy. 2.

Bus-hou = live with. Vudbhaagni = very fortunate. Sukhiyay = oh, my friend. Smaayiyaiy = get absorbed (in Waheguru). Teh = there. Biyaapaiy = affect. Liv = meditate. Nihchul(u) = stable for ever. Praym Bichhoh(u) = the pangs of love. 3.
Drisht(i) Dhaar(i) = by casting a kind sight. Baydhiya = pierced. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love in the blissful state. Sahj = the bed (of heart). Soohaavi = comforting. Anund Mungul = blissfulness and happiness. Sukhee Suhayli = friends. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in the love. Ichh = wishes. Poojaayay = fulfills. Achurj(u) = one who attains amazingly high (spiritual state). Achurj = the amazing (awe-inspiring) Lord. 4.
MEANING: The world is like a forest where the human mind is lost in the attractions of poisonous Maya, which are in abundance. They do look attractive, but spiritually they are distasteful. So, abandon them, and drink the great and sweet-tasting Naam of Waheguru, oh my friend. Without tasting Waheguru's Naam, the whole world is drowning in the sea of Maya, and cannot enjoy the blissfulness of the mind. No worldly respect, pride, or power can provide spiritual comfort, so become a slave of the holy saints (serve them with the spirit of a slave). Those who Waheguru has accepted as His own (connected with Him), earn praise (honour) in His Court, oh Nanak. 1.
The attractions of Maya are like an imaginary castle in the sky, are like a mirage, or are like the shifting shade of a tree because wealth changes hands constantly, and deserts the man as it does not accompany him at the time of his death. One does not get any mental comfort in the enjoyment of different tastes of life, or of beauty, or in getting intoxicated by them. Those holy saints are worthy of praise (worship) who recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2. Be fortunate, and run to join the company of the holy saints, where you will get absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and where no discomfort, appetite for Maya, or any disease affects you when you meditate on Waheguru's Naam. By taking shelter of the eternal Waheguru, one's birth and death cycle comes to an end, and the devotee is never born again. There is no suffering because of any separation from Waheguru, or due to any worldly attachments, when one recites the Naam only of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.
The devotee's mind is pierced with Waheguru's love when He casts a kind sight on him, and he gets imbued in His love to attain the high spiritual state. The bed of the devotee's heart becomes highly comforting because of his union with Waheguru, and he feels ecstatic and blissful by singing His praise. Even the friends of the devotee who stay imbued in the love of the Lord get all their wishes fulfilled. Such devotees, who attain the amazingly high spiritual state, merge into the amazing Waheguru to become "one" with Him, but their spiritual states cannot be described, oh Nanak. 4.

NOTE: Many villages to the west of Amritsar suffered a severe attack of smallpox around 1596-97. Guru Arjun Dev Ji (Mehla 5) left Amritsar to help the affected villages. He had to take His only son (and the only child), Hargobind, with Him whose life was in danger at the hands of Guru Sahib's elder brother, Pirthi Chand, who wanted to have Hargobind Ji killed, and had tried many times to take his life, but had been unsuccessful so far. Hargobind Ji was only about 1-2 years old at the time. The infant child was also infected by the fatal disease. In those days (and even now), most people believed that smallpox was caused by a goddess – Seetla Devi – who must be appeased by worshipping her to avoid her wrath. So, many people approached Guru Arjun Dev Ji and advised Him to worship the goddess, but Guru Sahib never believed in such myths; He believed only in Waheguru. He explained to the people that no disease is caused by any god or goddess, that they should not believe in such myths, and that they should believe only in Waheguru and recite His Naam. Despite the persistent suggestions of the people, Guru Sahib refused to worship any goddess and kept advising them to have faith in Waheguru. In a few weeks, the infant Hargobind recovered fully. Guru Sahib has written many Shabads – mostly in Raag Bilawal(u), and a few in Raag Soritth – to thank Waheguru, and to instil and reaffirm faith in Waheguru in the hearts of the people. This holy Shabad is just one of the many.

You are just running around in the worthless pursuit of Maya, oh, the unfortunate man. You are being misled by Maya's short-lived attractions. Why don't you serve your Satguru (follow His advice to lead a noble life)? Pause.
You accumulate wealth for your use by sinful means, but when you die, your body will be reduced to dirt, will mix with the earth, and you will leave the world empty-handed. 2.
The wealth for which you work so hard to earn becomes your opponent and your enemy at the end (because you will be punished for your sins in Waheguru's Court). It will not accompany you, so why are you suffering in a fit of rage to accumulate it? 3.
But only that individual acquires humility to serve the holy saints who have good fortune prewritten on their forehead. All his worldly bonds get broken when one comes to Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 4.6.36.

MEANING: I will burn away (give them up as worthless) the reign of a state, ownership of large estates, and positions of power in favour of serving the devotees of Waheguru by fetching water for them, fanning them in high temperatures, and milling grains for them, which makes me feel blissful. 1.

I will drop on the feet (take shelter) of the devotee of the holy saints (for spiritual advice) while giving up serving the wealthy and the rulers. Pause.
The uncoated (without butter) roti of the holy saints, even if it is without any vegetable dish, is like all the nine treasures for me, whereas the 36 kinds of delicious foods at the house of a money-worshipper are like poison for me. 2.
If I have only a worn-out blanket donated to me by a devotee of Waheguru to wear, I will never feel naked (ashamed); but I will lose all my dignity if I have to wear a silky robe of honour given to me by a worshipper of wealth (who does not believe in Waheguru). 3.
Friendship with a money-lover never lasts till the end, and is broken up in the middle. But a man who serves a holy saint of Waheguru is emancipated in this and the next world. 4.
(But the man is helpless for whatever he does) because it is You who make him do things that You want, and such is the way by which You have created the system of the world, oh Waheguru. I sing Your praise to see the Guru (acquire His shelter), oh Nanak. 5.14. 44.

Please be kind to me, oh, my Waheguru, so that I may put the dust of the feet of Your holy saints on my forehead (follow their advice), which will be like having all the nine treasures of the world, and the 18 supernatural powers for me. Pause.

I want to be humbler than the humblest and address the holy saints with the utmost politeness. I wish to get rid of my selfishness and ego, and to massage the feet of the Guru (serve Him) so that I may get absorbed in Your thoughts with His grace, oh Waheguru. 2.
My mind should not chase other thoughts, and should recite Your Naam with every breath. Guru's holy sight makes my life a success, whereby all my worldly attachments and my pride (ego) are eradicated. 3.
I wish that high moral character, contentment, compassion, and human obligations should be my adornments. I wish my Waheguru liked me so that I have a successful union with Him, oh Nanak. 4.15.45.

This is a firm faith among the devotees that whoever recites Waheguru's Naam enjoys blissfulness. Everybody talks a lot about different ways to connect with Waheguru, but the Guru implants Waheguru's Naam in the heart of the devotee. Pause.
There should be no doubt that Waheguru protects the dignity (against the attacks of Maya) of the devotee who comes to the shelter of the Guru. Human life is a rare opportunity for a man to seed Waheguru's Naam in his heart (mind), which is the ground of deeds (where deeds are planned). 2. Waheguru is omniscient, and everything is done by Him (He makes individuals do things of His choice). It is an innate virtue of the Lord to purify even the immoral (who come to His shelter). 3.

How can we forget Waheguru, which has such noble virtues? An individual who forgets Waheguru and gets attached to Maya mixes with dust (after death) and gets no recognition in Waheguru's Court. Pause.
Remember Waheguru with every breath, and do not delay, oh my friends. Giving up your short-lived attachments with the world, get attached to Waheguru. 2.
The lone Waheguru, who shows Himself in countless colours and forms, is now here and will always be here. Follow the advice of the Guru, and serve the Lord. 3.

Waheguru's Naam is the basis of the (spiritual) life of His devotees, and they take His shelter. The holy saints have faith in Waheguru's support in their minds. Pause.
Waheguru protects His devotees, provides for all their needs, and raises and nurtures them. Waheguru, which is kind to the helpless (humble), and is the source of compassion, looks after His devotees with their every breath. 2.
