Word Meaning: Chitvoun = think of. Aagaiy = Waheguru's Court. Bhaavoun = will be liked. Daataar(u) = the provider (Waheguru). Jaachik = beggars. 1. Aan = any other. Lujaavoun = feel ashamed. Chhutarput(i) = the one who has royal canopy on him (emperor). Sumsur(i) = equal; rival. Laavoun = compare. Pause. Reh(i) Na Saakoun = cannot control myself. Khoajaavoun = seek help to search. Brahmaadik = Brahma and the like. Sunkaadik = Sunuk and the like (the four sons of Brahma – Sunuk, Snundun, Snaatun and Sunut Kumar). Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Court. Doolbhaavou = very difficult to have access. 2. Agumm = physically inaccessible. Agaadh(i) = unfathomable. Bodh = understanding, comprehension. Taaki = sought. 3. Bhuyyo = became. Graavou = from the neck. 4.

MEANING: I think about Waheguru in my mind, and realize all the comforts (blissfulness) because of this. I do not care whether (according to the prevalent beliefs) I will be honoured in Waheguru's Court or not. (See Shabad 113). There is only "One" provider while the whole world is the beggar. Who else should I go to? 1. Waheguru is the only Emperor and the Lord, and there is no one else like Him. I feel ashamed to beg (for my necessities) from anyone else. Pause. Whether I am sitting or standing, I cannot stop thinking about Waheguru and look for Him, and seek others' (devotees') help for His holy sight. Waheguru's Residence (His person) is almost impossible to access so much so that it is not accessible even to the famous gods like Brahma, and his four sons – Sunuk, Snundun, Snaatun, and Sunut Kumar, and the like. 2. Waheguru is unreachable, unfathomable, and beyond our comprehension. I cannot value His magnanimity even if I tried. I sought the shelter of the Perfect Satguru, and am reciting His Shabad. 3. My Lord, Waheguru became very kind to me, and cut the noose (strong grips) of Maya from around my neck. When one joins the congregation of holy saints, he does not take rebirths, oh Nanak. 4.1.121.

Word Meaning: Jaag(i) = awake. Svaari = sleeping. Sung(i) Chulun = to take with. Toasa = journey expenses. 1. Uver = other. Bisaari = forgot. Aadhaari = support; basis. Pause. Dookhun(i) = in trouble. Maarug(i) = Punth(i) = on the way. Smaahri = remember. Drirr(u) = reinforce. Mori = mine. Tisa = thirst. Boojhaari = quenched. 2. Raiyni = at night. Naiyn = eyes. Paykhoun = see. 4.

MEANING: I sing Waheguru's praise whether I am inside (to myself), outside (dealing with public), awake, or asleep. Those devotees, who deal in Waheguru's Naam, are given His Naam as the journey expenses in the path of life. 1. The Perfect Guru has given me the gift of Waheguru's Naam which is the basis of my life; I have forgotten (the support of) everything else now. Pause. I sing Waheguru's praise in sadness, in happiness, and on the journey (of life). The Guru has reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my mind whereby all my thirst (fire) for the worldly desires has been put out. 2. In the company (shelter) of the Guru, it has become my firm faith that Waheguru is always with me - during my life or at death. Now, I sing His praise with my tongue whether it is day or night. 3.

Please give me the gift of the dust of the feet of the Guru (opportunity to serve Him like a slave), oh Waheguru. I wish to listen to His Words (Waheguru's praise) with the ears, to have His sight with the eyes, and lay my head on His feet, oh Nanak. 4.2.122.

Word Meaning: Usthir(u) = everlasting. Paahoon = visitor. Daaha = days. Kluttar = wife. Smuggri = belongings. Mithiya = false; short-lived. Usnaaha = love for. 1. Ha, Ha = sigh. Drisht(i) = visible. Herchundauri = mirage. Laaha = benefit. Pause. Bustur = clothes. Odhaanay = wear. Bhoraaha = wear out. Bheet(i) = wall. Kaytuk = how far. Dhaayiyaiy = run. Oarko = end. 2. Umbh = water. MEANING: The body, which you believe will last forever, is actually a visitor here on this earth for a few days only (for a very short period of time), oh my friend. So, your love for your sons, your wife, household, and other belongings is all false. 1. Why are you sighing, oh my mind? Think of all the visible comforts as a mirage; only the worship of Waheguru is beneficial to you. Pause. Just as the clothes you wear on your body wear out in a short time, and just as a wall has its end, and you cannot run on it for long, human life also has its end. 2. Just like salt poured into a pool of water dissolves quickly and disappears, the human soul leaves the body and disappears in a very short time at the Will of Waheguru. 3. You move, sit down (rest), and breathe, as per the Will of Waheguru, for a limited period of time only as prewritten by Waheguru. One gets salvation in the shelter of Satguru, where he sings praise of Waheguru all the time, oh Nanak. 4.1.123.

Jeeh = tongue. Vukhaanaiy = say; describe. Agumm = inaccessible. Daas(u) = slave. Shernuyyi = in the shelter of. 4.

MEANING: When Waheguru becomes kind, one gets connected with Satguru and is bestowed with the gift of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all comforts and wealth. Pause. Meeting (getting connected) with Waheguru enlightens one's body (dark mind), and his thinking, which had become filthy with evil thoughts, gets purified. The evil thinking which was guiding the mind in the negative direction became pure and favourable, and the enemies (the five demons) became friends (no longer influenced by his sensual pleasures). 1. I was a cheap money-lover, not known to anyone (given no respect), but (after meeting the Guru), I have come to be known to the whole world. Before (meeting with the Guru), nobody would let me sit with them, but now everybody is serving my feet (showing respect). 2. I was looking to save even the lowest coin before (I was so miser that I always cared about even the smallest profit), but all the fire of my desires has been put out, and I am fully contented now. I could not tolerate even a single rough word against me before, but have become perfectly calm now in the company (shelter) of the Guru. 3. Waheguru is inaccessible, and is inaccessible (beyond description), so how can I describe all His virtues with a single tongue? I have come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru; make me the slave of Your slaves, begs Nanak. 4.2.124.

Vukkhur = merchandise. Ghinneh(i) = receive; acquire. Baandha Raynaaya = caught in debt. 1. Aasaaya = hope; dependence. Putit = immoral. Paavun(u) = pure; purifying. Oataaya = shelter; support. MEANING: You are very lazy to make (spiritual) gain but rush for activities which cause you (spiritual) loss, oh foolish man. You do not buy the merchandise (of virtues) which costs you no money, but are getting loaded with the debt of sinful activities, oh sinner. 1. I seek Your shelter, oh Satguru. Your Naam purifies the immoral, and it is a great support for me, oh Waheguru. Pause. You listen to dirty songs and get trapped (in the bonds of Maya), but become very lazy to recite Waheguru's Naam. You take every piece of good advice negatively, but are very zealous to think the worst of others. 2. You get busy keeping an evil eye on the wealth and the bodies (women) of others, and also in maliciously criticizing them. You also eat the food of others (usurp their rights) like a mad dog. You take no interest in high morality and truthfulness, and jump in anger when someone tells you the truth about you. 3. The Lord, Waheguru, is very kind and compassionate to the weak, and His Naam is the support of the life of His devotees. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter with great hope, please make me Your own (connect me with You), and save my honour (from vices), oh Waheguru. 4.3.125.

Baiyraagi = detached from Maya; in love with Waheguru. Kaach Koatthri = body, which is like a hut of mud which can collapse at any time. Bikhaiy = lust; vices. Biyaadhay = illnesses. Pause. Bihaavaiy = spends. Pul(u) Chhin = every moment. Chheejaiy = weakens; decreases. Urjaadhay = life-span. Lobhaayay = attracted to. Jhootth(i) Dhundh(i) = false tasks. Indri Rus = sensual tastes. Luptaadhay = clung to. Deeyee Bhuvaari = spun around (misguided). Purakh(i) Bidhaataiy = Waheguru – the carver of the fate. 3. Dookh-bhunjun = the destroyer of discomforts. Laadhay = found. Oopaadhay = struggles of mind. 4.
MEANING: The man is strongly attached to the short-lived things in the world, and as a result of his attachments, he is trapped in the bonds of Maya. The man is blinded by his egoistic thinking, and does not think of Waheguru before which he has to finally appear. 1. You reside in a body which is like a hut of mud (which can collapse any time), and on top of that, you are suffering from the disease of sensual pleasures (which can further decrease the span of your life); so why don't you recite Waheguru's Naam with deep love, and with the mind detached from the world, oh my friend? Pause. The man spends his day and night in self-centred activities (this is mine, that is mine) without realizing that the span of his life is shortening every moment. Just like a fly gets trapped in its love for sweet jaggery (raw crystallized sugar), the man is trapped by the offensive-smelling (having bad consequences) Maya-related tasks. 2. The Carver of our fates, Waheguru, has given such a spin to the mind of the man that he is clinging to (is enjoying) his sensual pleasures (like lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments), as a result of which he takes births again, and again. 3. But, when the Waheguru, which is kind to the weak and is the destroyer of all suffering, becomes benevolent, the man gets connected with the Guru and realizes all comforts. I recite the Naam of Waheguru, which has eradicated all the internal struggles of my mind and freed me from all my doubts, oh Nanak. 4.
This is how I worship the destroyer of all sufferings, Waheguru, as a result of which He becomes kind to you, and eradicates the suffering of rebirths. Second Pause. 4.4.126.

Kuhou Nanak bhuv saagur(u) turiyo, bhuyyay pooneet sreera. 4.5.127.
Word Meaning: Nimukh = a moment. Kaam = lust. Koat(i) = millions. Ghuree Moohut = for a very short time. Rung Maaneh(i) = have fun; enjoy. 1. Chayt(i) = remember. So din(u) = the day of death. Nayrraiy = nearby. Pause. Pulk Drisht(i) = in the twinkling of an eye. Bhoolo = misled. Aak = a very bitter plant (calotropis proccra). Nimm = neem – a tree with very bitter fruit and leaves. Toomber = a pretty-looking but very bitter fruit (Maya is compared to Toomber). Sung(u) = company. Bisiur = snake. Pur Greh(u) = house (wealth and women) of others. 2. Bairy = enemy (Maya). Kaarun(i) = for. Bust = the real thing (Waheguru's Naam). Ruhee = ignored, forgot. Amaana = in trust; unused. Baiyraana = enmity. 3. Ihaiy Bidh(i) = this way. Biyaapiyo = affected; suffers. Oobriyo = salvaged. Bhuv Saagur = the sea of Maya. Turiyo = swam across. Pooneet = pure; pious. 4.

MEANING: You are blinded (by your sensual pleasures), but the day of your death is approaching fast, oh, ignorant man. Remember the Royal Waheguru. Pause.
You will suffer for millions of days for a momentary enjoyment of lust; the enjoyment will last only for a very short time, but you will repent again, and again. 1.
Blinded by your lust for a very short time, you mistook the fruits of the bitter plants of aak, neem and toomber to be sweet (you were attracted to the glamour of poisonous Maya in the form of lust). Enjoying the company of a woman other than your wife is like living with a poisonous snake. 2. You commit sins under the influence of Maya, which is your enemy in reality, and never use the real thing (Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of true bliss and which you were supposed to use). 3. The whole world is suffering the same way (under the influence of Maya); only those are salvaged who get connected with the Perfect Guru. In the shelter of the Guru, one's body (and mind) gets purified, and he gets salvation, oh Nanak. 4.5.127.

Word Meaning: Look(i) = in hiding. Kmaano = perform deeds. Paykhiyo = saw. Moorr = Moogudh = foolish. Mookraani = denies. Baandhay = caught in the net. 1.
Bidh(i) = means; plans. Aagaiy = before happening. Bherm = illusions. Moosay = robbed of. Pachhaiy = afterwards. Jea Kee Maani = follows the mind. Pause. Laayay = (Waheguru) plans for the man. Praani = man. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. 2.
MEANING: Robbed by your illusions, you follow your mind, and perform the (evil) deeds with the belief that you are hiding them from Waheguru. But you do not realize that He already knows everything, oh foolish man. Pause. Whatever the man does in hiding is known to You, oh Waheguru; yet the foolish man denies everything. The man is caught in the net of his own doings, but repents afterwards. 1. But the man is helpless too; he pursues only the types of activities which are preplanned for him by Waheguru. Tutkaal = right away. Pause. Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice self. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Soyay = fame; praise. Huriya = blooms. Persun(i) = to touch feet; show respect. 2.
MEANING: Waheguru protects His devotees, and Himself makes them recite His Naam. He rushes to the situation wherever His devotee has tasks and jobs to perform (to help the devotee where he needs Him). 1. Waheguru shows His devotee that He is always close to help him. Whatever the devotee asks of Waheguru is given to him right away. Pause. I am a sacrifice for the devotee who is liked by Waheguru. Word Meaning: Nutooaa = acrobat; performer. Bhaykh = guise; semblance. Joan(i) = life forms. Bhermiyo = travels through. Pervaysa = enters; have. 1.
Aaneeta = mortal. Junum Pdaruth(u) = objective of life (union with God). Pause.

MEANING: The man is like an acrobat who may perform in many different guises, but is the same person (has the same character). Similarly, a man may pretend to be highly religious or a philanthropist (and may deceive people), but his real character does not change, and as a result, he has to travel through countless life forms, and he never finds comfort (blissfulness) at heart. 1. The holy saints are our real friends (who make us recite Waheguru's Naam); everything else is mortal. One sings praise of Waheguru in the company of the holy saints, and wins (achieves) the objective of his life (union with Waheguru). Pause. Maya, with the three effects, is created by Waheguru; can someone tell me how to swim across its sea (win over Maya)? The sea of Maya is a whirlpool with no limits to its drowning capability, so it is extremely difficult to swim through it. Only Guru's Shabad enables a man to swim across it. 2. By a deep search and by pondering, I have found the reality that our precious and pearl-like mind can be pleased (won over so that it quits wavering and becomes peaceful) by reciting Waheguru's Naam, which is the invaluable treasure (of blissfulness), oh Nanak. (Remember, once the mind is controlled, it is purified and gets merged into Waheguru). 3.1.130.

Tthaakur = Lord. Khin(u) Meh(i) = in a moment. Thaap(i) = create. Oothaapunhaara = destroyer. Tis Tay = from (of) Him. Draavpun = alarm; warn. Pause.
Uvereh(i) = others. Cheet(i) = in mind. Pehraaya = robed; honoured. Mayt(i) = erase; eradicate. Likhaavoun = write His Naam in my mind. 2.2.13.

MEANING: By Guru's grace, Waheguru has been embedded (enshrined) in my mind, and He fulfills my every wish. My mind has been contented with Waheguru's love, and now it does not rush in any other direction. 1. My Lord is the highest (transcendental) of all; I sing His praise day and night. He can create and destroy in a moment. I alarm (warn) my mind about His capabilities (so that it sings His praise). Pause. When I get a glimpse of my Lord, Waheguru, I cannot think of anybody else. Sooghur = Siyaanay = wise; intelligent. Punchoun = the five demons. 1. Bulee = valiant. Bidaar(i) = by tearing apart. Goodaaray = finished. Kulee = Kalyug; this world. Pause. Koam = clan. Vus(i) = under control. Moohkum = powerful. Hutthlee = persistent. Nirduliya = unarm; strip of all powers. Jhulee = with the support of.2

MEANING: The five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego) are so powerful that they demolish (the character of) all the four castes, and make the mystics of all the six sects (or the followers of the six Shastras) dance on the palm of their hand (at the signal of their fingers), i.e. enslave them. They rob the noble qualities of the handsome, wise, and intelligent by captivating them with their attraction. 1. Is there such a valiant who can kill these five braves? The individual who kills, tears apart, and destroys the five demons is the perfect person in the world. Pause.

They have a huge clan, and cannot be brought under control, or do not run away (be defeated) because their army is very forceful and persistent (there are too many of them, and they are very vicious). However, with the support of the Guru, a devotee of Waheguru can unarm them (make them ineffective), oh Nanak. 2.3.132.

Word Meaning: Neeki = beautiful; useful. Jea Kee = for the soul. Ootum = superior. Aan Rus = other enjoyments. Feeki = tasteless. Pause.
Goon(i) = having good qualities. Dhoon (i) = meditators. Moon(i) Jun = mystics who stay quiet for long times; hermits. Khut Baytay = having knowledge of the six Shastras. Uver(u) = anything else. Laayeeki = befitting their levels. 1.
Bikhaari = the destroyer of vices. Niraari = unique, causing detachment from Maya. Apaari = without limits; indescribable. Sehjaari = source of bliss. Peeki = is taken in. 2.4.133.

MEANING: The discussion of Waheguru's virtues is supreme and very useful (food) for the soul; all other enjoyments in life are tasteless (in comparison). Pause. Nothing else (other than discussing Waheguru) benefits the souls of the devotees who have many noble qualities, are the meditators, are the mystics who stay quiet for very long times, and who have deep knowledge of the six Shastras. 1. The Amrit of discussion of Waheguru's virtues is the destroyer of all vices; causes detachment from Maya; is indescribable in terms of its spiritual effects; and leads to the state of blissfulness. Word Meaning: Amritdhaari = rich in Amrit. Nimukh = moment. Taari = avoid; drop from mind; forget. Pause. Dershun = sight (of Waheguru). Persun = touch (Waheguru's feet). Sersun = blissfulness. Hersun = delight; gusto. Rung(i) = in love with (Waheguru). Rungee = dyes. Kartari = in (of) Waheguru. 1. Rum = recite. Gum = reach. Dum = breath. Kuntth(i) = throat; tongue. Oorhaari = implanted in the heart. 2.

MEANING: (Guru's Bani or Shabad in praise of Waheguru) is rich in Amrit (sustains spiritual life), and is very dear to me. The Guru does not forget it for even a moment. Pause. Guru's Amrit-Bani leads to the holy sight of Waheguru and to the touch of His feet (connects with Him). It produces blissfulness and delight in the mind, and dyes the mind with the love of Waheguru. 1. If a devotee recites Guru's Shabad every moment (and all the time), it leads to connection with the Guru, and no fear of the Angel of death is left in the mind. By reciting Waheguru's Naam with the tongue, I have enshrined His Naam in my heart, oh Nanak. 2.5.134.

Huoun = I; me. Hauro = light; poor (in noble qualities). Gauro = heavy; loaded (with noble qualities). Shern(i) = shelter. Puchhaani = recognized; sought. 3.

MEANING: Guru's shelter is highly comforting (blissful). Pause. When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise even for a short time (in the shelter of the Guru), Waheguru's Naam slowly gets implanted on his tongue (and in his heart). 1. The devotee's mind stays connected with Waheguru's Feet (Naam) whether he is travelling, sitting, or even sleeping. 2. Boojhiyaiy = recognize; realize. Rung(i) = in love. Pause. Sumruth = capable; omnipotent. Kayri = of. Muhaa = great; very difficult. Bhuoujul(u) = sea of Maya. Lunghiyaiy = swim across. 2. MEANING: Everything other than the eternal Naam of Waheguru is (spiritually) worthless like ash. So, quit all your shrewdness, and worship Waheguru, oh my mind. 1.

However, Waheguru can be realized in the company (shelter) of the Guru only when He is comprehended with love and with the grace of the Guru. Pause. = spiritual state above Maya. Naad = the bugle of the yogis. 4. Saara = supreme. Mujun = to bathe. Mooraara = Waheguru. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Waheguru's soul. 5. Russiya = drenched in. Aikaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the One (God). Tukhut Nivaasi = occupies the throne (who has overpowered all his senses). Kaar Kmaayee = performed the tasks. Rujaayee = as per the Will of Waheguru. Uvigut = invisible; incomprehensible. Nath = the Lord. Lukhiya = seen. 6. Jul = water. Oopjay = is produced. Nidh(i) = treasure (Waheguru). Hudoor(i) = near; close by. 7. Uver(u) = other. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Phoonn(i) = again; after all. Bhurthur(i) = a famous yogi. Nirmul = holy. Aadhaar(u) = basis. 8.

NOTE: The yogis, who are worshippers of Shiva, live away from the world on the top of some mountain, and come to the plains in the winter to take dips in holy places, and to beg for food. They cover their bodies with ash to look unattractive to women, practice some rituals, and blow into bugles to announce their own presence and also that of their deity. Guru Nanak Sahib had several meetings with them. This holy Shabad is about His meeting with a famous yogi, Bhurthuri.

MEANING: You come down from the top of a mountain, but a real yogi is the one who travels the difficult path of descending from the height of his ego, and who takes a dip in the pool of the gathering of holy men, where Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is the water to take a dip in. Such a yogi sings only praise of Waheguru and refrains from worthless talk. Just like the water vapours which rise high in the sky, such a yogi stays immersed in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya and enjoys blissfulness. Rather than drinking alcohol or some other intoxicant before sitting down for meditation, such a yogi enjoys the supreme bliss by drinking the Naam-Amrit with a peaceful mind. 1. Listen to the Divine Knowledge, oh my mind (oh Yogi); Waheguru is permeating the whole universe, and is providing support everywhere. Pause. Faith in (and remembering) Waheguru should be your firm principle whereby the fear of death will never haunt you, oh Yogi. Burn away your rage with Satguru's Shabad, and meditate on it to stay in the blissful spiritual state. Take the shelter of the Guru to attain the highest spiritual state. 2. Just like yogurt is churned to get the real thing – butter - churn (ponder on) Guru's Shabad to control your mind and to achieve the real objective (union with Waheguru). Cleanse your mind in the pool of the holy gathering where no filth of evil thoughts is left. The man becomes just like (acquires the same qualities as) the deity (Waheguru) in whose love he is imbued. But only that happens which the Creator wishes. 3. The Guru is always peaceful (cool and calm) and puts out the fire of his devotee's desires. So, rather than covering his body with ash to keep his desires (lust) under control, a real yogi should serve the Guru and focus his mind on the Guru's Shabad. Attaining the spiritual state above the effects of Maya should be his real philosophy or his spiritual path. And rather than blowing a trumpet (bugle), he should recite the holy Gurbani to the masses. 4. The real yogi has the supreme essence (sweet taste) of Divine Knowledge in his mind (gets connected with Waheguru), and pondering on Guru's Shabad is the dip in holy places for him. Waheguru resides in his heart, and the real yogi worships Him in his mind. Waheguru connects the yogi's soul with His own (perfect union is achieved). 5. In the love of the "One" (Waheguru), the real yogi is drenched in the Naam - Amrit. By controlling the five demons, the real yogi sits on his heart-throne (his mind becomes peaceful). Even though the invisible Lord cannot be comprehended, the real yogi does only the deeds which are acceptable to Waheguru (accepts His Will). 6. Just as the sun, which is far away from the water on the earth, yet is present in it in the form of its images, Waheguru may seem to be far away from us, yet He is present in every heart. So, how can I say that He is close to some and far away from others? I always think of Him as being very close to me, and I sing praise of the treasure of all virtues (Waheguru). 7. There is none other than Him inside and outside, and only that happens (takes place) which He likes. Listen to this fact, oh Yogi Bhurthur(i); the holy Naam is the basis of my (Nanak's) life. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Jup = Mantras to please some deity. Tup = self-torture. Chuturaayee = cleverness; shrewdness. Oojhurr(i) = in wilderness. Bhermaiy = misled. Thaayay Na Paayee = gets no recognition. Bihoonaiy = devoid of. Maathay Chhaayee = face blackened (are disgraced). 1. Saach(u) = immortal. Dhunee = the Lord (God). Aayay = comes (into being); is born. Binaasa = is destroyed. Chhootus = gets freedom. Praani = man. Pause. Moh(i) = (in) attachments. Gurmutee = with the Teachings of the Guru. Oodaasa = detached (from Maya). Kumul = lotus; heart. Pergaasa = enlightened; blooms. Traasa = fear. 2. Triya = Kaamun(i) = woman. Hitkaari = lover. Kluttar = wife. Visaari = ignores. Birtha = empty (without any gain). Baaji = the game (of life). Saari = supreme. 3. Baahroun = outwardly. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Mookut(u) = free from all bonds. Layp(u) = coating (of Maya). Hirdaiy = in heart. 4. Dhaavut = rushing mind. Tthaak(i) = under control. Kerm(i) = by benevolence. Aavaiy Jaayay = is born and dies. Sunjoag(i) = union. 5. Roorro = beautiful (Waheguru). Akuth = indescribable. Kuthoun = describe. Rujaayee = to live in His Will. 6. Ker = hands. Pug = feet. Taala = dance steps. Nihaala = blissful. 7.

Tirbhuvun = the three layers of the universe. Soojhaiy = understanding. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Smaavaiy = get immersed in. Liv Taara = full concentration. Dhunn(u) = praise-worthy. Svaarunhaara = one who adorns (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: Only the Lord, Waheguru, is eternal, while the world is mortal (is created and is destroyed). Only that individual breaks the bonds of Maya (and becomes immortal by uniting with Waheguru), who acts like a slave of the holy devotees (acts on their advice). Pause.

People who recite some mantras, or torture themselves to please some deity, or try to please their deity by their shrewdness, are completely misled as if they were in the wilderness, and do not find their way out. Without actual realization (about Waheguru), their efforts go unrecognized. Their faces are blackened (they are disgraced) without Waheguru's Naam. 1.

The world is trapped by the bonds of attachments, and has great hopes (to enjoy more luxuries); but a few get detached from Maya (feel fully contented) in the shelter of Waheguru's devotees. With Waheguru's Naam in their mind, their hearts bloom, and they have no fear of the Angel of death. 2.

The world (men) loves women, and is overpowered by them (acts like their slaves). In the love of the sons and the wife, the world ignores Waheguru's Naam. It (the world) wastes away the precious human life, and loses the game of life. The best thing to do is to serve the Guru (obey His Advice). 3.

The true devotees may seem to display their ego outwardly, but internally, they remain unaffected by the gimmicks of Maya. They burn the love for Maya with Guru's Shabad, and recite Waheguru's Naam in their heart all the time. 4.

With Waheguru's benevolence, they get connected with true Sikhs, where they are able to keep their rushing (wandering) mind under control. Without the shelter of the Guru, they keep taking rebirths; but with the kind sight of Waheguru, they get connected with the Guru. 5.

I wish to praise the beautiful (kind and compassionate) Waheguru, but it is very difficult to do that. Even if I try to describe the virtues of the indescribable Waheguru, I cannot evaluate Him. Without Your Naam, life is full of discomfort, but the man acquires all the comforts when he lives his life by Your Will, oh Waheguru. All the troubles disappear with Your Naam. 6.

Some people dance to please their deity, but a devotee, who realizes the importance of the Guru's Shabad (recites and acts on it), is always blissful, and his mind dances without playing any musical instrument with hands, or taking dancing steps with the feet. With Waheguru in his mind, he enjoys all comforts, and Waheguru protects him (from the attacks of Maya) with His kind sight. 7.

When an individual gives up his selfishness and ego, he comes to know how Waheguru controls the whole universe. With the knowledge of Gurbani, he gets fully absorbed in Waheguru, and ponders on Guru's Shabad with full dedication. Waheguru, who adorns His devotees with noble qualities, is praise-worthy (is great), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Bhaar(u) = burden (of ego). Alaykh(u) = which cannot be described. Apaar(u) = beyond limits. 1. Jumkaal(i) = Angel of death. Uver(u) = other. Hult(i) = this world. Pult(i) = next world. Vujeer(u) = minister. 5. Bundee = prisoner. Aachaari = with noble character. Veechaari = ponders on Guru's Shabad. 6. Jun Koyay = some rare devotee. Roagi = (mentally) sick. Bhoagi = enjoys worldly comforts. Royay = longs for. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Put(i) = dignity. Khoyay = loses. 7. Mehngo Moal(i) = very expensive. Bhaar(i) Afaar(u) = unlimited weight. Atull = everlasting. Achhull = which cannot be deceived. Dhaar(u) = acquire. Bhaayay = with love. Bhaiykaar = all tasks under His fear (acceptable to Him). 8.3.

MEANING: Countless people write about Waheguru, describing Him, and take pride in that (they may or may not have faith in Waheguru and write just to boost their ego). The real praise of Waheguru is to have full faith in Him and to embed His Naam in the mind. Just to describe Him in writing or in spoken words without faith in Him is simply to carry the burden of ego. Countless people write about the indescribable and the limitless Waheguru. 1. There is Waheguru alone in this world, which is everlasting, indescribable, and limitless, while the rest of the world is mortal. So, have faith in such Waheguru, who also controls births and deaths with His Laws, oh my friend. Pause. The world is imprisoned by worldly attachments (bonds of Maya) and is constantly in fear of death. One can be free of the bonds of Maya only by keeping Waheguru in mind. There is none other than the Guru, which is the source of all comforts (gets freedom from Maya), and who supports you in both the worlds –

the present and the next – oh my friend. 2. If a man kills his worldly desires with Guru's Shabad, he stays focused on Waheguru's Naam, and is able to kill his haumein whereby all his misgivings (illusions) are dispelled. By enshrining Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he gets fully detached from Maya while enjoying himself in the family. As a Sikh of the Guru, he stays fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 3. Waheguru, which creates the earth, the sky, and the universe, and destroys it to recreate it, is present everywhere without any gap, and He gives His gifts to everybody without consulting anybody else. 4. You are a sea full of precious (noble) qualities like precious pearls and diamonds, oh Waheguru. You are an everlasting treasure of pure (holy) qualities. You can be reached through the Guru when one enjoys all comforts (blissfulness). You are the only Lord (Emperor), and You are Your own minister (You do not need the assistance of anybody else). 5. The world is imprisoned by the bonds of Maya, while the devotee, who has killed his selfishness and ego, achieves freedom from such bonds. There is a rare individual who has acquired Divine Knowledge (made a connection with Waheguru) and who observes the high moral principles. Likewise, there is a rare individual who is knowledgeable and ponders on the Guru's Shabad. Without making a connection with the Guru, everyone suffers from their ego. 6. The world is suffering; only a rare individual enjoys the comfort of mind (is blissful). The world simply enjoys the gifts of life, but is (mentally) sick, and is crying (looking for) virtues. The world comes into being (is born) and is destroyed, thereby losing its dignity (in the Court of Waheguru). Only the Guru's Sikhs realize the reality. 7.
The low-caste Nanak holds the view that (to attain peace in life, one needs to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart), but this does not come easily. It is highly expensive (requires sacrifices), in which one has to pay a huge price (kill their selfishness and ego) for it. There is no expensive material which can be weighed against it. The only way to acquire the Naam of the eternal and the non-deceivable Waheguru, is to take Guru's shelter. His Naam can be embedded in mind by love for Him, and by performing deeds under His fear (which are acceptable to Him). 8.3.

MEANING: The man can kill (wash away) the filth of his haumein by the Guru’s Shabad. When his haumein dies, all his five sensual feelings (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and conceit) begin to cry (because they are the root of haumein and cannot enjoy anymore). He attains the blissful spiritual state by his renewed wisdom and awareness (by making a connection with Waheguru). But, without this realization, the man loses his dignity (in Waheguru’s Court because of his haumein). 1. It is difficult to decide who dies an undignified death and who cries for him because You are the root cause of all life and physical deaths, oh Waheguru. Being present in every living being, it is actually You who dies (but, at the same time, being immortal, You never die), oh Waheguru. Pause.
(Most relatives of the dead cry just as a ritual), Only those who really cry for the dead are actually aggrieved. Waheguru knows full well who the real sufferer is, because everything happens as per His Will. 2. Killing one’s selfishness and ego (haumein) is the basis of salvation by the grace of Waheguru. We should hail Waheguru whose shelter is the source needed to (kill one’s haumein) and attain the highest spiritual state. I will gladly sacrifice my life for the Guru because His Shabad is the ship to ferry us across the world sea. 3. Waheguru is fearless (because He has no superior), and His Light is uniformly pervading the whole universe. Without His Naam, the world is suffering from the superstitions of “sootuk” and untouchability (that touching a low-caste individual causes impurity). The world is dying (spiritual death) because of such superstitions; whom should one cry before (pray to) to get rid of such bad advice (because the religious leaders who are supposed to provide guidance against such superstitions, are actually promoting them)? Without Waheguru’s worship, without listening to Guru’s advice, the world is simply caught in the birth-death cycle. 4. The friends of Maya (the five demons) really cry at the worldly death (death from worldly desires) of the devotee who has killed his worldly desires, and so do the three effects of Maya (because they cannot enjoy in his body any more) Such a devotee disregards comforts and discomforts, and with alertness against the attacks of Maya, he stays in the blissful spiritual state. He dedicates his body and mind to the love of God. 5. Waheguru, with countless different forms, is also present in every heart. However, without realizing this fact, people perform countless, but worthless religious rituals, and waste away their precious human life without Waheguru's worship. But the true devotees join together to sing praise of God to achieve the supreme objective of human life. 6. Waheguru creates the universe, destroys it, and then creates it again. Being present in everybody when he kills someone, He is killing Himself too (a part of Him) in a way. He has created the world for His Light to be recognized. Union with Waheguru is achieved through the Guru's Shabad when all misgivings are dispelled. 7. The fire of the superstition of "sootuk" is consuming the world, which, according to the superstition, should be present everywhere – in the water and on the land (because living beings take birth and die out everywhere). The world is caught in the birth-death-birth cycle due to the superstitions of "sootuk", and others like it. An individual who drinks the sweet juice of Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru gets rid of all such superstitions, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Aap(u) Veechaaraiy = self-analysis. Heera = diamond (Satguru) Drisht(i) = sight. Taaray = salvages. Maanaiy = has faith; believes in. Dheera = gains strength. 1. Shah(u) = goldsmith (Waheguru). Sraafi = business; justice. Saachi Nudr(i) = pure and kind sight. Aik Live = (with) full concentration on Waheguru. Pause.
Poonji = capital; wealth. Saar(u) = supreme. Paiykaar(u) = the expert in olden days who used to separate gold and silver from the ashes. 2. Aasa Munsa = hope and wishes. Vaat = path; journey. Mehl(u) = God's dwelling. 3. Kunchun Kaaya = gold-like pure Punch = five elements. Teen(i) = the three qualities of Maya. Nuv = the nine-region earth. Chaar(i) = the four directions. Dhern(i) = the earth. Kul = power. MEANING: An individual who analyzes himself is able to recognize the virtues of the diamond-like (pure) Guru. The Perfect Guru can salvage an individual with His single kind sight. An individual who brings faith in the Guru gets his mind strengthened. 1.

Like a goldsmith who purifies gold, the Perfect Guru purifies the mind of His devotees who diligently focus on Waheguru's Naam, and get salvaged with His (Satguru's) single pure and kind sight. Pause. An individual who has Waheguru's Naam as his supreme wealth is imbued with the Naam and is pure-minded, and is like an expert who can recover gold and silver from the ashes; he picks up noble qualities from the mixture. With singing praise of Waheguru and of the Guru, he attains the state of blissfulness above the effects of Maya. 2. Such a devotee burns away his hopes and wishes with Guru's Shabad, and recites Waheguru's Naam himself, and makes others do the same. He follows the path to Waheguru's Residence and reaches there with Guru's Shabad. 3. With Waheguru's Light (His Naam) in the heart, the body of a devotee becomes pure like gold (free from evil thoughts and bad deeds), and he "sees" the light-like Waheguru everywhere in the universe in many different forms. I have the wealth of Waheguru's eternal Naam in my heart, which never runs out. 4. The man should always remember Waheguru, which is present in the five elements, in the three effects of Maya, in the nine regions of the earth, and in all four directions, and which is providing support to the earth and the sky, so as to turn around his mind from the attractions of Maya towards Waheguru. 5. The foolish man does not understand the reality even when he sees it with his own eyes. He does not have the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam on his tongue so as to understand Him (connect with Him), and to acquire the bliss that one does with His Naam. The Maya-engrossed man rather fights with the world. 6. One becomes noble in the noble company of holy saints. He searches for noble qualities and washes away his vices in the holy company. But one cannot attain the high spiritual state without serving the Guru. 7.

Waheguru's Naam is like precious diamonds, jewels, and rubies. Waheguru's precious Naam is the wealth of a devotee whose mind becomes pure like a pearl when the Guru casts His kind sight on him, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Praym Bhagat(i) = worship with love (and respect). Mooraari = Waheguru. Pause. Ehinis(i) = day and night; always. Thaan(i) = in the heart. Soothaan(u) = Waheguru's holy Naam. Nihkayvul = above the effects of Maya. Giyan(u) = Divine Knowledge; connection with Waheguru. Puchhan(u) = recognize. 2. Saacha = connected with Wahguru. Herkh(u) = happiness. Soag(u) = sadness. Bhoag(u) = food. Punch = the five demons. Smaayee = soaked; controlled. Loag(u) = people; world. 3. Jot(i) = Waheguru's soul. Joarr(i) = connects. Vichhorray = separates. 4. Dhaah(i) = demolish. Oosaaray = creates. Smaayay = get absorbed. Vertaiy = operates. Bhaavaiy = likes. Poora = Perfect (Waheguru). 5. Birdh(i) = (in) old age. Soorut(i) = (in) thoughts. Praan(i) = oh man. Bhur(i) Jobun(i) = in the prime of youth. Abhimaan(i) = in ego. Lehs(i) = acquire; receive. Nidaan(i) = at the end. 6. Unn(u) = food. Sehj(i) = the blissful state. Faahi = snare. Baura = eccentric. 7. Boodut = drowning (in the sea of Maya). Tuou = then. 8.

MEANING: In the shelter (under the guidance) of the Guru, a devotee acquires full faith in Waheguru, focuses his full concentration on His Naam, recognizes (realizes) the Lord of the Mansion, Waheguru, and gets connected with Him. Under the guidance of the Guru, the devotee keeps His Shabad (Waheguru's praise) in his thoughts, which is his identity in the path of union with Waheguru. 1. The worship of Waheguru with love (and respect) under the guidance of the Guru is such that the devotee becomes thoughtful (ponders on Guru Shabad), and becomes "one" with Waheguru by reciting His Naam. Pause.

The devotee keeps Waheguru's holy Naam in his heart day and night, and makes a connection with Him, which is present in the three-layered universe, and which is above the effects of Maya. He recognizes Waheguru's Will in the shelter of the Guru. 2.

Connected with Waheguru, the devotee is always happy (blissful) and never suffers from any sadness. Connection with Waheguru through His Amrit-Naam is the supreme food (for his soul). By controlling the five demons, he becomes a source of comfort for the whole world. 3. Everybody belongs to Waheguru because His Light is present in everybody. He connects and disconnects people with Him as He wishes, and only those things happen that he causes (to happen). 4. He demolishes, creates, and absorbs the world in Him with His Huqam (Laws), and they are His laws that operate in the universe as He wishes. Nobody can connect with the Perfect Waheguru without taking shelter of the Guru. 5.

If a man does not bring Waheguru in his thoughts when he is a child or when he gets old, he drowns in the sea of Maya in the prime of his youth because of his ego. What objective can he achieve in life at the end without Waheguru's Naam? (Meaning he achieves no spiritually useful objective). 6. If a man does not connect with Waheguru, who is the provider of all the food and wealth (and other necessities of life), and does not enjoy the bliss of a spiritual state above Maya, he is misled by his misgivings (illusions), and has to repent at the end. Snared in the bonds of Maya, he leads his life as an eccentric. 7. When people watch the world drowning in the sea of Maya like this, they get afraid, and run to the shelter of the Guru. Those, who are saved by the Guru, are highly fortunate. I too, have dropped on the feet of (have surrendered to) the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Cheet(i) = in mind. Aneetay = immoral thoughts. Raag = love; attractions of the world. Beetay = having experienced (beyond) the effects of Maya. 1. Ruhou Ghuray = stay at home (quit wandering). Triptaasay = is contented. Khojut = while searching. Huray = Waheguru. Pause. Kaam = lust. Sreera = (in the) body. Peera = pain. Dheera = peaceful. 2. Naavun(u) = bath; dip. Gut(i) = condition. Mehl = (Waheguru's) Residence. 3. Nirunkaar = formless (Waheguru). Aakaar(u) = body (mind). Smaavaiy = merge into; immerse. Akul Kulaa = indivisible; unattackable (Waheguru). Such(u) = eternal. Saach(i) = by concentrating on Waheguru. Tikaavaiy = stabilizes. 4. Kerm Kmaaoun = perform noble deeds. Raata = imbued in. 5.

App(u) Puchhaata = self-recognition. Vussiya = settled in. 6.

Chunchul = unsettling; fickle. Bidh(i) = means. Vukhaanaiy = recites. 8.

Aachaar = noble deeds; high morality. Praata = in deep love for. Buchnee = Words. Jaata = realized; made connection. 10.

MEANING: The Maya-engrossed pundit sings the song about the (harmful effects of) attractions of the world to the people, but has immoral thoughts in his mind, and makes the people believe that he is above the worldly attractions (above the effects of Maya). But without Waheguru's Naam, such talks do him no good because his talking is all lies, and he is immoral. 1. Where are you rushing to, oh my mind! Stay in your peaceful state (in contentment) which is achieved by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. So, search for Him inside you, and achieve the blissful state above Maya. Pause.
Your body (mind) is full with the thoughts of lust, rage, and worldly attachments; and you are suffering from the pain of gluttony, greed, and your conceit. How can you find contentment under these conditions without Waheguru's Naam, oh man? 2.
People go to holy places for a dip (with the belief to wash away their sins) (but they cannot cleanse their mind with such dips); the mind is cleansed internally when one recognizes Waheguru (makes connection with Him). One can know his internal (spiritual) condition in the shelter of the Guru only. One cannot realize Waheguru's Residence (make connection with Him) without the eternal Shabad of the Guru. 3. A devotee, who immerses his mind into the formless Waheguru which is indivisible, and enshrines His Naam in his mind by continuous recitation, never takes rebirths. 4. I will go where I can acquire the Naam, and will perform noble deeds in the shelter of the Guru. Imbued in His love, I will sing the virtues of Waheguru. 5. One recognizes himself by serving the Guru (obeying His Shabad) whereby the source of all comforts, Waheguru's Naam, takes dwelling in his heart. With Satguru's Bani, such a devotee stays imbued in Waheguru's Naam day and night. 6. A man begins to worship Waheguru only when Waheguru makes him do so. Such a devotee kills his selfishness and ego, and is enlightened with the Guru's Shabad. He is blissful everywhere, and even in the next world. 7. Man's mind is highly fickle, and does not know how to (worship Waheguru). The mind of a Maya-engrossed individual is filthy (with evil ideas), and he does not recognize the value of the Guru's Shabad. But a devotee, who comes to the Guru's shelter, recites Waheguru's Naam and has his mind purified. 8. I pray to Waheguru that He puts me in the company of the Guru, where my mind will be enlightened with His Naam, and all my sins will be washed away. 9.
By pondering on the Guru's Shabad, one acquires high morality and brings faith in only the "One" (Waheguru) with the Guru's Shabad. The mind of such a devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 10.7.

MEANING: The human mind is like an intoxicated elephant, which is so trapped in Maya that it has forgotten Waheguru completely, as a result of which it is mentally imbalanced, and is perplexed in a small part of the world jungle. Whipped by the circumstances, it wanders here and there (does not find peace). But it can search (find) its place (peace) by taking the Guru's shelter. 1. Without following the Guru's Shabad, this mind cannot find peace. (To find peace), One should recite Waheguru's holy Naam, and should give up his haumein (selfishness and ego) as if it were a bitter thing. Pause. Can someone tell me how this foolish mind can find peace? Without understanding the reality (that Maya is false, and Waheguru is eternal), it has to endure the suffering of spiritual death. But when Waheguru becomes kind, He connects the individual with the Guru. Waheguru exhorts him to (recite His Naam), so that he can overcome the fear of the thorn of death. 2. The human mind is so fickle that it keeps doing different things at different times. For example, sometimes the mind performs religious rituals (without worshipping Waheguru) which do him no spiritual good; they rather boost his haumein, which is the cause of his rebirths in the first place. (Man's ego and attraction for Maya causes him to be born again, and again. See the holy Shabads below. Sometimes this mind is engrossed in Maya, is greedy, and is foolish. However, the same mind can be beautiful when it recites Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter. The following two holy Shabads will support this fact. 3.

ਆਸਾ ਦੀ ਵਾਰ, ਸਲੋਕ ਮਹਲਾ 2 (466)॥ ਹਉਮੈ ਏਹਾ ਜਾਤਿ ਹੈ ਹਉਮੈ ਕਰਮ ਕਮਾਇ॥ ਹਉਮੈ ਏਈ ਬੰਧਨਾ ਫਿਰਿ ਫਿਰਿ ਜੋਨੀ ਪਾਹਿ॥ -------

Meaning: This is the character of haumein that the individual performs deeds under its influence. But the bonds of haumein lead to rebirths again, and again. ---------

ਧਨਾਸਰੀ ਨਾਮਦੇਵ ਜੀ (693)॥ ----- ਪਾਛੈ ਬਹੁਰਿ ਨ ਆਵਨੁ ਪਾਵਉ॥ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤ ਬਾਣੀ ਘਟ ਤੇ ਉਚਰਉ ਆਤਮ ਕਉ ਸਮਝਾਵਉ॥ ----- ਇਹ ਸੰਸਾਰ ਤੇ ਤਬ ਹੀ ਛੂਟਉ ਜਉ ਮਾਇਆ ਨਹ ਲਪਟਾਵਉ॥ ਮਾਇਆ ਨਾਮੁ ਗਰਭ ਜੋਨਿ ਕਾ ਤਿਹ ਤਜ ਦਰਸਨ ਪਾਵਉ॥

Meaning: -------- I shall not come back again (be reborn). I educate my soul by reciting the Amrit Bani of the Guru from the bottom of my heart. I will break the bonds with this world only when I get rid of my attachment for Maya. Attachment with Maya leads to rebirths; I can have a glimpse of Waheguru only after I give up my attachment with Maya.

A devotee of the Guru keeps Waheguru in mind and makes a connection with Him, who is present everywhere in the three-layered universe. Without taking Guru's shelter, the mind is not clear about its real objective, and sometimes follows the yogic path, enjoys worldly gifts (largesse of Waheguru), or tortures itself to please some deity. But, taking Guru's shelter, a devotee recognizes (realizes) Waheguru inside him. 4. Sometimes the mind gives up its selfishness and ego and becomes detached from Maya. (But without taking Guru's shelter), Every heart has many desires and suffers from indecisiveness (whether to choose Waheguru or Maya). On the other hand, a devotee of the Guru enjoys the taste of the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all sweet essences. He sees Waheguru everywhere, which protects his dignity (from the attacks of the demons). 5. By reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, the mind becomes fearless and its own ruler. It acts as a valiant in the battlefield against the five demons, and brings them under his control by killing (overpowering) them. By consuming his haumein, he puts them (the demons) together (as his assistants). 6. A devotee of the Guru gives up (overcomes) all the worldly attractions and all tastes of life. The mind gets enlightened by worshipping Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. When the devotee ponders on the Guru's Shabad, he gains full faith in Waheguru and is convinced of Him as he listens to the auto-playing Divine music. He becomes a part of the Waheguru (merges with Him) by analyzing his soul. 7.

The mind becomes pure, and it sees Waheguru everywhere. In the shelter of the Guru, and with the worship of Waheguru the mind gets imbued in His love, and recites His Naam with full reverence. With Guru's grace, it sings praise of Waheguru day and night, and realizes that Waheguru is present in every heart and has been there since times immemorial. 8.
In the shelter of the Guru, the mind recognizes the source of all sweet essences, Waheguru, and gets imbued with love for Him. With Waheguru's worship, the mind finds its destination at the Guru's feet. I am the slave of the slaves of Waheguru's devotees, oh Nanak. 9.8.

Nirmul(u) = pure. Live = connect with. 1. Sum Kur(i) = treat the same. Bukhsh(i) = with kindness. Pause. Kunik = gold. Kaamni = woman.

MEANING: (Normally, the wealth of a man who dies is inherited by his relatives), but what happens to the Naam-wealth of a devotee who dies? (Is it also inherited by his relatives? (The answer is, no); because Waheguru's Naam-wealth cannot be acquired without taking the shelter of the Guru. It stays with the deceased devotee and accompanies him to the next world. A devotee, who stays connected with Waheguru day and night, is always pure. 1. There is no other permanent companion of the man than Waheguru's Naam. Being stoic (accepting comforts and discomforts the same way), I will never quit reciting His Naam because He kindly connects His devotees with Him. Pause. Because of his indecisiveness, the idiot man forgets Waheguru's Naam in his love for gold (wealth) and his wife. But, no discomfort, or even the fear of death, can come near the devotee whom You kindly make recite Your Naam, and who sings Your praise, oh Waheguru. 2.
Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru with many names, is very kind and our provider. Kindly protect me in whichever way You like, oh my Satguru. I have come to like (love) Waheguru's Naam in Your shelter as a result of which all my illnesses have disappeared, and all discomforts have been prevented. 3. Waheguru's Naam alone is the destroyer of all the sins, and there is no other magic or mantra to do so. Waheguru Himself misguides people who forget His Naam, and He Himself protects some (from the attacks of Maya) with His kindness (who recite His Naam). 4. Those who forget Waheguru suffer because of their misbeliefs, discrimination against some people, and their love for Maya. Without the Guru's shelter, they are misled by their illusions and worship Maya. They cannot have a sight of the Guru and of Waheguru, which is the origin of everything. Without Guru's Shabad, their life is of no value (is worthless). 5. By noticing the amazing things in nature, some fortunate people are awestruck, and, meditating in the higher spiritual state, they realize that Waheguru is present in every heart, whether they are gods or humans. The omnipresent Waheguru is providing support to every mind; there is no one else like Him. 6.
Waheguru is present among those holy saints who recite His Naam with love. Such holy saints have broken all their worldly bonds and always remain in a blissful state. A devotee can also break the worldly bonds in the shelter of the Guru and make a connection with Waheguru. 7. The fear of the Angel of death does not worry those devotees who have their minds focused on Waheguru's Naam. The lover of His worship – Waheguru – is always with His devotees, who become free from all the worldly bonds in His love, oh Nanak. 8.9.

Word Meaning: Ikktooki = verse with only one sentence. Tthaakur = the Lord (God). Jaanaiy = recognizes; connects with. 1. Sukhee Sukhaiyni = friends. Naiyni = with the eyes. Pause. Bundhun = bonds; burden. Sunsaar(i) = in the world. Soot = sons. Kunniya = girls; daughters. Ur(u) = and. Naar(i) = woman; wife. 2. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Huoun = ego. Klut(u) = wife. Beeya = the other (Maya). 3. Kirkhee = farming. Kirsaan = farmer. Dunn(u) = punishment. Daan(u) = tax. 4. Sauda = business. Unveechaari = one who does not ponder on Waheguru's Naam. Tiput = contentment. Pusaari = expansion. 5. Shah = money lord. Suncheh(i) = accumulates. Na Puvvyee Thaayayn = is not valued (in Waheguru's Court). 6. Bayd = knowledge of the Vedas. Baad(u) = worthless discussions. Binsaiy = is destroyed; dies of spiritual death. Moh Vikaar = love for vices. 7. Shernaayee = shelter. 8.

MEANING: The devotee, who serves the Guru, recognizes (makes connection with) the Lord. He realizes Waheguru through Guru's Shabad and has all his discomforts eradicated. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam, and have a glimpse of Him with your eyes by serving the Guru, oh my friends. Pause. The mother, the father, the sons, the daughters, and the wife are all the cause of bonds in the world (which keep one engrossed in Maya). 2. The religious deeds, which boost one's ego, also bind him with Maya, and so do the love for the son, for the wife, and for Maya. 3. Even the farming that a farmer does leads to bonds with Maya (he sees his crops and feels conceited about the future income, and also takes pride in feeding others); a rajah suffers from the punishment of haumein (which is a form of Maya) when he collects taxes from his citizens (haumein of his power to levy taxes). 4. The business of a businessman also becomes a burden when he does not get contentment with the present income and tries to expand his business due to his greed for wealth, and does not ponder on the Guru's Shabad. 5. A money-lord accumulates wealth, but is always afraid of losing it, which results in even stronger bonds with Maya. His wealth is spiritually worthless if he does not worship God. 6. Even the recitation of the Vedas and the worthless discussion about them boost the ego of the individual, which becomes a burden in the form of extra bonds. One also suffers spiritual death in one's love (enjoyment) of vices. 7. But, when a man takes shelter of Waheguru's Naam, the Guru protects him, and he does not become a prisoner of Maya, oh Nanak. 8.10.

NOTE: The next two holy Ashtpudis cover the tragic events of the aftermath of the cruel and barbaric attack on Eminabad by the army of Babar in 1521. Guru Nanak Sahib had a prior knowledge of the impending attack, so He made a special effort to reach Eminabad in time to lessen the destruction, and to console and help the victims. He had visited Mecca, Baghdad, and Afghanistan before reaching Eminabad. He saw the destruction and the barbaric acts of Babar's army, and was greatly pained to see the suffering of the innocent masses with His own eyes. He volunteered to be a prisoner of Babar's army so as to reach him, and advised him to refrain from such savage acts in future. Babur agreed to all that, and he freed all the prisoners at Guru Sahib's directions.

Guru Sahib was so moved by the destruction caused by Babar's army, that He wrote four Shabads on the subject which are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib.

Word Meaning: Sohun(i) = looked pretty. Puttiyaan = braids. Maangeen = in the cetral part (of hair). Sundhoor(u) = vermillion. Kaati = scissors. Dhoorr(i) = dust. Hudoor(i) = near. 1. Aadays(u) = bow to; salute. Aad(i) Purakh = Supreme Being (the origin of everything). Vays = different appearances. Pause.

Judhoun = when. Laarray = bridegrooms. Heedoali = palanquin. Dund Khund = (bangles of) ivory. Keetay Raas(i) = adorned (the forearms). Paani Vaariyay = a marriage custom in which the mother of the groom puts some water in a small container and revolves (circulates) it around the heads of the new couple. Jhullay = hand fans (with small mirrors inlaid). Jhimkun(i) = shine. 2. Ikk Lukh = one hundred thousand (rupees). Guree = coconut. Chhoohaaray = dried dates. Maanun(i) = enjoy. Sayjurriaan = luxurious beds. Silkaan = ropes. Moatsurriyaan = necklaces of pearls. 3. Jobun = youthful beauty. Rung Laayay = with love; with great care. Dootaan = agents; soldiers. Laiy Chullay = took away (as prisoners). Put(i) Guvaayay = ruining their dignity. Bhaavaiy = likes. Vudiyaayee = honour. Sujaayay = punishment. 4. Shaahaan = the rulers. Soorut(i) = wisdom. Tmaashaiy = entertainment. Chaayay = in zest. Uggon Day = beforehand. Chaytiyaiy = remember Waheguru (Allah). Babarvaani = Babar's frightening orders. Kooyir(u) = princes. 5. Ikkna = for some. Vukhut = time (for Nivaaj). Khooaayiyaiy = passed by; missed. Chaukay = (purified) kitchen. Vin(u) = without. Hindvaaniyaan = the Hindu ladies. Tikkay Kuddhay = anoint their foreheads. Na Kubhoon = never. 6.
Ikk(i) = some; many. Sookh = well-being. Theeyaiy = happens. 7.
MEANING: The hair (of women) which were adorned with braids, and which had vermilion in their central parts, have now been cut with scissors (they have been beheaded with swords), and they are lying on the ground with dust up to their necks now. They were living in palaces, but now they cannot even get near them. 1. I bow to thee, oh Waheguru. Nobody can find Your ends; however, You keep changing Your appearances. Pause. When they (the royal women) were married, they looked very pretty with their grooms by their side. They came in palanquins adorned with ivory. Their mothers-in-law performed the ceremony of revolving the water containers around their heads, and they were fanned with shiny hand-fans with inlaid mirrors in them. 2. They were given hundreds of thousands of rupees in gifts, whether they were sitting or standing. They were enjoying comfortable beds and ate coconuts and dried dates (which only the rich could afford). Now, many of them had ropes around their necks (as slaves) while their pearl necklaces were falling apart. 3. Their wealth and youthful beauty, which they had maintained dearly, had now become their enemies (because they invited the enemy). The soldiers took them away as slaves, denigrating their dignity on the orders of Babar. It is up to Waheguru whom He bestows honour on, or whom He punishes as per His Will. 4. Why would anyone suffer any punishment if he remembers Waheguru beforehand? The current rulers had lost their noble thinking in the zest of lustful entertainments. Due to the frightening orders of Babar, even the princes lost their appetite. 5. For some, the time of offering nivaj had already slipped by, while some others did not get any time even for ritualistic worship. Without purifying their kitchens, how could the Hindu women take baths and anoint their foreheads? (They had no time for such rituals now. They had never remembered (god) Ram in their comfort, but now they could not even utter Allah (to please the Mughal armies). 6.
Some returned to their homes, while some others enquired about one another's wellbeing; while some were simply grieving in their sad times accepting the tragedy as their destiny. Only that happens what Waheguru wishes; the man is helpless before Him, oh Nanak. 7.11.

Word Meaning: Khayl = entertaining sports. Tubayla = stable. Bhayri = kettledrum. Shehnaayee = clarinet. Taygbund = scabbard; sheath. Gaadayrurr(i) = of sheepskin. Kuvaayee = army uniform. Aarsiyaan = mirrors. Bunkay = beautiful; handsome. 1. Gosaayeen = Lord (Waheguru). Ghurree = a period of 24 minutes (a moment). Thaap(i) = create. Oothaapay = destroys. Jur(u) = wealth. Pause.
Mundup = highly decorated (stage or something similar). Bunk = very strong. Suraayeen = inns. Sayj = bed. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Paan Tumboal = a wrap of betel leaves containing areca nut (soopaari), lime, and tobacco, etc. Herma = women's section in a royal palace. Chhaayee Maayee = disappear quickly. 2. Ghunee = very much; very many. Vigootee = Khooaayee = discomfited; humiliated; suffered without any achievement. Khoos(i) luyyay = takes away. 3. Koati Hoo = countless. Peer = Muslim holy men. Verj Ruhaayay = locked away. Meer = ruler (Babar). Dhaaya = attacked. Thaan Mookaam Munndar = different buildings. Bij = very strong; reinforced. Moochh(i) = cut into pieces. Kooyir = princes. Roolaaya = insulted; slighted. Percha Laaya = attracted attention; showed magical powers. 4. Run = battlefield. Tayg Vugaayee = attacked with sword. Onhee = Babar's army. Toopuk = guns. Taan Chulaayee = taking good aims. Onhee = the locals. Hust(i) Chirraayee = scattered in hands (failed to hit the target). Cheeri Durgah Paati = who are destined (by Waheguru's Court) to die. 5. Ikk = some. Hindvaani = Hindu. Toorkaani = Muslim women. Bhutiyaani = of Bhatts. Tthakuraani = of Tthaakurs. Payrun = long dresses (veils). Khoor = feet. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Musaani = in the grave.

Bunkay = handsome (dears). 6. Bhaanaiy = Will. Rooaayiyaiy = complain to get sympathy. Huqami = Waheguru. Vigsaiy = heart blooms. 7.

MEANING: Where are the entertaining sports and the stables of horses; where are the kettledrums and the clarinets (which showed the grandeur of the Pathan rule in Eminabad)? Where are the sheepskin sheaths and the red uniforms of the soldiers? Where are the mirrors in which the princes used to see their handsome faces? They are nowhere to be seen now. 1. You are the Lord of this world, and the world is Yours, oh Waheguru. You can create and destroy the world in a moment, and cause the wealth to create a wedge among brothers (so that the loving brothers become enemies of one another). Pause.

Where are the decorated palaces, reinforced gates, mansions, and inns-like houses? Where are the comfortable beds and the beautiful wives who stole the sleep of the princes? Where are the betel-leaf wraps and their servers, and where are the private sections of the royal palaces for women? They have all disappeared in a moment. 2. Very many people have been discomfited (suffered without achieving anything purposeful) by wealth which cannot be accumulated without committing sins, and which does not accompany the individual after his death. The Creator takes away the good qualities of the individual whom He wants to mislead. 3. On hearing about the imminent attack on Eminabad by Babar, the Nawab of Eminabad had locked in many Muslim holy men who claimed that they could use their magic spell to blind, and to disable the Babar army, but no Mughal soldier became blind, and no magic of the holy men worked. On the contrary, the strong palaces and the reinforced forts were burned down, and the princes were cut down into pieces and insulted badly. 4. The Mughals (Babar's army) and the Pathans (the local Nawab's army) fought on the battlefield with swords. The Mughals used their guns very effectively, while the Pathans' guns cracked in their hands (without inflicting any losses on the enemy). Those who had death written in their destiny had to die. 5. Every woman, whether she was a Hindu, a Muslim, a Bhatt, or from a Thakur family, suffered losses. Some of them had their long dresses torn from head to toe, while many others found their dwelling in the grave (were killed). And, it was very difficult for some to spend the night when their dears did not return home. 6. The Creator does everything Himself, and gets others to do whatever He likes, so where can one go to narrate their woeful tale? All comforts, and painful troubles, come with His Will, so whom can one complain to, to get sympathy? The King (Waheguru) operates with His Command, and feels blissful. We simply get the results of what has been written in our destiny, oh Nanak. 7.12.

Jiyoun laaha, toata tivaiy, vaat chuldi aayee. Jo Tis(u) bhaavaiy Nanaka, saayee vudiyayee. 10.13.

Word Meaning: Goyil = a temporary meadow by river banks where people used to take their herds of cattle for grazing when no grass was left in the plains during periods of drought; a short-lived stay. Goyili = the owner of the herd. Koorr(u) Kmaaveh(i) = engages in false (spiritually unprofitable). 1. Chulliya = about to die. Vunjaara = the trader (of falsehood). Pause. Neet, Neet = everyday; lasting forever. Pind Puvaiy = when the body collapses. Jeeo = soul. 2. Ohee, Ohee = crying in pain. Haiy = is present now. Hoasi = will be there. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). 3. Dhundha Pirihou = engage in business which causes stronger bonds with Maya. Na Kut Hee = not at all. 4. Ghur(u) = (real) residence. Boojhaiy = realizes. Neend = sleep (of ignorance). 5. Chulda = leaving the world. Sumpaiy = wealth. Sunchou = accumulate. 6. Vunuj(u) = business. Lukhsood = objective. Laiyhou = achieve. Augun = vices. Tutt = reality; the origin of everything (Waheguru). Praavhou = acquire. 7. Bhoom(i) = ground. Sat(u) = high moral character; Waheguru's Naam. Kirs = farming. Laaha = benefit. 8. Kerm(i) = favour; kindness. Vukhaanaiy = recite. Biyohaara = routine dealings. 9. Laaha = profit. Toata = shortage; loss. Vaat = journey; path; custom. 10.

MEANING: Just like a meadow by a river bank where a herdsman takes his cattle to graze for a short period of time, the world is a temporary stay for the man. However, the man is engaging in a false (short-lived) business when he builds big mansions for a short life here on earth. 1. Wake up from a deep slumber (of ignorance), oh my friends; the human trader is leaving (has to leave) this world (and it happens every moment). Pause.

One should build (strong and beautiful) mansions only if one has to live here forever. If one understands, he knows that when the soul leaves, the body collapses. 2. Only Waheguru is eternal, which is present now, and will always be there; but the human body is perishable, so why cry when a relative dies? You cry for him, but who will cry for you? 3. Actually, your crying is more like a ritual which bonds you more strongly with Maya. The dead cannot listen to your wailing at all; you simply cry for the people as a show-off. 4. You are asleep - away from (disconnected with) Waheguru - but He is the one who awakens you (providing examples of death that He controls). If one realizes where his real dwelling is, he will never fall asleep in reality. 5.

If you find someone leaving this world with some wealth, then you too have the right to accumulate wealth; just think about it. 6. Do such a business in which you may achieve the objective of human life so that you do not have to repent. Give up all the bad qualities (vices) and acquire noble ones so as to acquire (become "one" with) the origin of everything, Waheguru. 7. Like a farmer who grows his crops by preparing the land well and putting in the best seed, one should grow the crop of Waheguru's Naam in the field of his heart by cleansing it with high moral values and seeding it with love for Waheguru. One is a successful businessman only if he gains a high level of spirituality. 8.

If one is lucky enough, he connects with Satguru, follows His advice, recites Waheguru's Naam, and remembers Him in his daily dealings (which are based on Waheguru's Naam). 9. The journey of life is such that sometimes the man makes profits and sometimes runs into losses. One should always accept both situations the same way as the Will of Waheguru. Only then he is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 10.13.

MEANING: I have searched in all four directions and have found out that there is none who belongs to me (will provide selfless support all the time). If you approve it, I will surrender myself to You if You become mine, oh my Lord, Waheguru. 1. There is no shelter for me other than Waheguru, so whom should I salute (serve)? You are my only Lord, and I have only Your Naam on my tongue. Pause. People serve the Sidh yogis and ask for supernatural powers. But, with Guru's advice, I have overcome such desires; I only beg for one thing - I should never forget Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 2. What do the mystics of different sects, like the Sidh yogis, family men, or the ones who cover their entire body with rags, gain when they wander in foreign lands? They still do not realize Guru's Shabad, which emphasizes remembering the Supreme Waheguru, the origin of everything, who is present everywhere with no gap. 3. The pundits, the family gurus (or teachers), and the fortune-tellers read religious books like the Puranas, but they, too, do not recognize Waheguru, which is hiddenly present in everybody's heart. 4.
Some self-afflicters worship some deity in forests or dwell at holy places. But why did they become detached from the world in the first place when they do not examine themselves, and are suffering from rage, and have darkness (of misbeliefs) in their mind? 5.
Some practice celibacy with great effort, and call them celibates, but they will never find salvation without the Guru's Shabad, and will continue to take rebirths because of their misbeliefs. 6. There are some family men who take shelter of the Guru and serve as per His Advice (obey Him). By worshipping God through reciting His Naam, they are enlightened, cleanse their minds, and motivate others to do the same. 7.
A devotee, who realizes Waheguru's door and His residence, (makes connection with Him), is recognized in Waheguru's Court. Such devotees never forget Waheguru's Naam, and get imbued in the Naam, oh Nanak. 8.14.

MEANING: (One cannot swim across the world-sea while he has wishes and desires in his mind); the sea can be swum only by taking Waheguru's shelter. So, one should arrest his wishes and desires in his mind, and take shelter of the Lord which has been there since times immemorial, and is always kind. 1. You are the provider of everything while we are beggars at Your door, oh Waheguru; please show me Your holy sight. (But to have His glimpse) one needs to recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru whereby his mind-temple (where Waheguru is to reside) gets imbued with His love. Pause.
We can recognize (get connected with) Waheguru only if we give up our greed (for worldly attractions). One realizes his supreme objective of life (union with Waheguru) by getting absorbed in Guru's Shabad. 2. The human mind is extremely greedy, greed-engrossed, and is showing greed. One can be friends with Waheguru only if he gets rid of his greed in the shelter of the Guru. 3. If a farmer seeds a field covered with saltpetre to grow a crop, how can he earn any profit? The mind of a Maya-engrossed man is also like a field covered with saltpetre, and cannot be imbued with love for Waheguru because the falsehood (of Maya) keeps one engrossed in falsehood. 4. Quit (control) your greed because it leads to a big trouble (of reincarnation), oh, the blind (ignorant) people. By killing (controlling) your poisonous selfishness and ego, you can have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in your heart. 5. Quit the indecisiveness (doubts and misgivings) of your mind, as it is a bad (spiritually harmful) path to follow, as you will be robbed of any good qualities. One should rather sing Waheguru's praise (Naam) in the shelter of the Guru. 6.
The mind of a Maya-engrossed man is like a stone, like a rock, which never absorbs water and stays dry inside no matter how long you keep it in water. The life of a Maya-engrossed person is tasteless, and is condemnable because like a rock which does not absorb water, it does not absorb Guru's Shabad. 7. Waheguru's Naam, which is kindly given by the Guru, is a treasure of all virtues (and all comforts). I pray that I should never forget Waheguru, and drink His Naam-Amrit by churning it well (with full understanding and dedication), oh Nanak. 8.15.

Word Meaning: Chullunhaar = mortal. Vaat Vutaaya = following different (non-spiritual) paths. Dhundh Pittay = suffers in worldly affairs. Sunsaar = world. 1. Bhuviyaiy = wander around. Dhoondiyaiy = search for. Mumta = paternal attachment. Visurjiya = got rid of. Pause. Sachiyaar(u) = the searcher of Waheguru's Naam. Buhourr(i) = again. 2. Rovhou = cry for. Na Jaanhoo = do not know. Slaah(i) = with praise. Puchhaanhoo = recognize. 3. Vujhou = wages (earnings). Jaaniyaiy = one needs to recognize. Laaha = benefit. Pullaiy Paayay = bag it. Siyyanyiyaiy = recognize. 4. Paindha Jaayay = is given the robe of honour. Bhaaniyaiy = is liked. Sir(i) Maar(u) = punishment. Bund Rubaaniyaiy = in the prison of God. 5. Niyaayoun = justice. Gerb = ego. Vunjaayiyaiy = remove; get rid of. 6. Vaad Khupaayiyaiy = suffer uselessly in debating. Tthug(i) Mootthi = is cheated; is robbed. Koorriyaar = (woman who deals in falsehood. Bunnh(i) = tied up. 7. Sahib = Lord. Ridaiy = in the heart. Goonhaa = sins. Kmaavhi = work towards. 8. Ghaaliyaiy = put in hard efforts. Nudr(i) Nihaaliyaiy = cast a kind sight. 9.

MEANING: The mortal man follows the path of life, revolving around the illusions of Maya. He does not like Waheguru's Naam (makes no connection with Him), and suffers in worldly affairs. 1. People wander uselessly in forests, and search for Waheguru, but He is not just there. One can "see" Him (make a connection with Him) with the Guru's Shabad only when he relinquishes his love for worldly attachments and finds peace of mind. Pause.

An individual who seeks Waheguru can realize Him through singing His praise, but a Maya-engrossed person cannot. A man who connects his mind with Waheguru never takes rebirths. 2. Crying for the dead is useless, and a man who cries for his dead relatives does not understand what to cry for (have love for). The real crying (wishing) involves singing the praises of Waheguru and obeying His Command (Will). 3. Only the birth of that human being is meaningful who gladly accepts and is satisfied with whatever Waheguru gives him. When he accepts Waheguru's Will like this, he acquires spiritual benefit (attains high spiritual state). 4. Such a devotee is liked in Waheguru's Court, and is given the robe of honour there. While those who do not accept Waheguru's Will (and complain all the time) are punished in Waheguru's prison with His Huqam. 5.

If we have full faith in Waheguru that He always delivers justice, we gain the spiritual benefit of connecting with Him. But we should not be conceited that whatever we receive (achieve) in life is due to our efforts. We receive whatever is prewritten in our destiny (due to His kindness). 6. The followers of their mind suffer uselessly in meaningless debates and are punished. The human-bride, which deals only in perishable things, is robbed and cheated (of good opportunities to connect with Waheguru), and is taken as a prisoner to His Court. 7. One should embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart so that he does not have to repent. One should sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, who forgives all our sins. 8. I, Nanak, always beg for Waheguru's Naam, and will work hard to acquire it in Guru's shelter if Waheguru is kind to me. I have no desire to worship anyone else; please cast a kind sight on me, oh Waheguru. 9.16.

Word Meaning: Dhoodhi = search for. Bun Huriyaavla = healthy forest. Tikaiy = stays. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Ootaavla = eager; happily. 1. Soyay = Waheguru. Uver(u) = any other. Gur Kee Kaar Kmaayay = act on Guru's advice. Guru. Mehl = Waheguru's Residence. Pause. Bhaavyee = is liked. Rujaayay = accept His Will. Unk(i) = in the heart. 2. Vusaiy = takes dwelling. Toat(i) = shortage. 3. Ubay Tubay = every common man (Tom, Dick, and Harry). Chaakri = slavery. Kiyoun = how? Bhurnaal(i) = in the middle of the sea. 4. Vaychiyaiy = sell (surrender unconditionally). Vust(u) = thing; Waheguru's priceless Naam. Bhaalay = search for. 5. Aakhiyaiy = talk about. Aap(u) guvaayay = lost (gave up) selfishness and ego. Mur(i) Ruhay = kill desires; dead as far as Maya is concerned. Mern = recurring death; the birth-death cycle. Theeya = happens. 6. Dhoor Kee Foormaayee = as dictated by Waheguru. Keemut = worth. 7. Ruttna = noble qualities. Paarukh(u) = evaluator. Dhunee = Lord. 8.

MEANING: (People go to forests to search for Waheguru), but what do they search for there? For me, my house is a lush green forest (I feel detached from Maya while living there). With Guru's Shabad, Waheguru happily takes up dwelling in the heart of such a devotee. 1.

Now, I find Him everywhere, no matter which direction I look, and I do not recognize anybody else like Him. One recognizes Waheguru's Residence (gets connected with Him) by acting on the Guru's Word (advice). Pause. When Waheguru likes someone, He connects the devotee with Him. By spending life as per Waheguru's Will all the time, the devotee merges with Him. 2. When the True Lord takes dwelling in a devotee's heart, he sees Him everywhere. Then Waheguru bestows honour on the devotee, and there is never a shortage of such honour (all deserving people receive honour, no matter how many there are). 3. One cannot reach Waheguru's Court by acting like a slave to (by pleasing) everybody. It is like boarding a rock boat that sinks in the sea. 4. When a devotee unconditionally surrenders his mind and his wisdom to the Guru, he finds Waheguru's priceless Naam in his own heart. 5. People talk about the cycle of birth and death, which Waheguru Himself has created. A devotee whose selfishness and ego are eradicated has this cycle broken for him (he merges into Waheguru). 6. If a devotee spends his life as per the Will of Waheguru, and realizes Him by surrendering his mind to Satguru, who (no one) can put any value on his high level of spirituality? 7.
Waheguru is the evaluator of the jewels (virtuous devotees), and He is the one who evaluates them (and rewards them accordingly). The true (everlasting) honour for a devotee is that when the Lord comes to dwell in his heart, oh Nanak. 8.17.

MEANING: Those who are misled by their misbeliefs (illusions) and have forgotten Waheguru's Naam are ignorant and get attached to the branches (Maya) and ignore the root (of the Waheguru-Tree). (They do not realize that when the root dies, the branches cannot survive. So, what do they achieve? Ash? 1. Only a few people realize that we cannot find salvation without Waheguru's Naam. Only those find salvation who take the Guru's shelter; those who turn their face away from the Guru (do not follow the Guru's Word), lose their dignity in Waheguru's Court. Pause. Those who serve only Waheguru have perfect wisdom. A real devotee always stays in the shelter of Waheguru, who has been around since time immemorial. 2. I have only one Lord (Waheguru), and none else. I enjoy bliss in the spiritual state in which I am connected with Him with His kindness. 3. Many people talk about Waheguru, and get others to do the same, but no one can realize Him without the shelter of the Guru (they do not know the correct approach). Waheguru Himself puts people on the right path, in which His real worship (as advised by the Guru) is reiterated. 4. No matter how much a Maya-engrossed person is advised about the correct path to realize Waheguru, he always follows the path of spiritual wilderness (of Maya), where he gets lost, and never gets connected with the Guru. He cannot find salvation without Waheguru's Naam, and goes to hell (is trapped in the birth-death cycle) after death. 5. He does not recite Waheguru's Naam and goes through the birth-death cycle. Without serving Guru, he does not recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam. 6. But, no one can be blamed for his actions because he performs only that type of service which Waheguru makes him do. Waheguru does everything the way He wants, and watches His splendour. There is no one else to whom one can complain. 7.
Only that individual serves the Guru whom Waheguru makes serve Him. One can find salvation only when he surrenders his head (mind or wisdom) to Waheguru; such a devotee is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 8.18.

MEANING: The Lord is supreme and perfect, and so is the Gurbani. With great luck, a man gets connected with the Guru and attains the supreme spiritual level. 1.

I am a menial of the menials, and a slave of Yours, oh Waheguru. I am content to live as You wish, but I have only one request: I want Your Naam on my tongue. Pause.

I have a great thirst for Your holy sight with Your kindness, and a devotee earns Your liking only if You wish so. All honours are in the hands of my Lord (are under His control), and a man gets respect only with His Will. 2. Do not think that Waheguru is far away from you; He resides inside you. I see Him to be present everywhere, but no one can evaluate Him. 3. Waheguru does (creates) everything Himself, and takes things away (destroys them) as He likes. He enjoys His own grandeur. A devotee, who seeks Guru's shelter, sees Him everywhere, and that's how (and when) he evaluates Him. 4. If one acts on the advice of the Guru, he can gain spiritual benefit (wealth) in this life, but one gets connected with Waheguru only if he is predestined to do so. 5. Misled by his misgivings, the follower of his mind (disconnected from the Guru) suffers loss of noble qualities all the time. The money-engrossed blind man does not think of Waheguru, so how can he have a glimpse of Him (connect with Him)? 6. One is thought of (given credit for) having been born in the world only if he gets connected with Waheguru. Such a person becomes just like the Guru on connecting with Him, and he is able to merge with Waheguru. 7.

Those who are imbued with Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam), feel always contented. They perform deeds in life according to the prewritten Huqam of Waheguru for them, and stay detached from Maya day and night, oh Nanak. 8.19.

Bhayd(u) = discrimination. Hur(i) Rusn Rusaayee = recite Waheguru's Naam as being very sweet. 7. Sunjoagi = with predestined union. Augunaaray = full of bad qualities. 8.

MEANING: No matter how much we talk about Waheguru, we can never find His limits. I am without any support. You are my only support, and I feel very strong because of Your strength (You are the source of my strength), oh Waheguru. 1. It is my, Nanak's, request to You, that gift me Your everlasting Naam because it is the source of all comforts, oh dear Waheguru. With Guru's Shabad, one can overcome one's selfishness and ego, and one's mind is enlightened, and one connects with Waheguru. Pause.

With Guru's Shabad, one gains a clear understanding of Waheguru and is freed from selfishness and ego. The Guru gives the devotee Waheguru's Naam, which becomes the basis of his life, and his mind is convinced of the vital importance of the Naam. 2. Waheguru's Naam provides contentment day and night, and this is the true service to the Lord (to keep His Naam fresh in mind). The devotee, who leads his life by the Will of Waheguru, experiences no obstacle in his path (to union with Him). 3. The individual, who accepts Waheguru's Will gladly, finds approval in His Court, and becomes worthy of His Naam-Treasure (to be used later as a Guide to enlighten the world). The impure (with vices) find no shelter in Waheguru's Court; they are rejected and put together with other impure people (to be recycled in other life forms). 4. The pure are looked after well day and night (always) in Waheguru's Court, and they acquire the everlasting blissfulness as their possession. The impure do not catch the kind sight of Waheguru, and are burned in the fire of hell (rebirths). 5. Those who search their own souls also realize Waheguru. For them, Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is the only tree (shelter) for them, which is also the fruit of reward for them. 6. Those who taste the reward of Amrit enjoy contentment while connected with Waheguru. They have no misgivings or feelings of discrimination, and enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam on their tongue. 7. With predestined union (of his soul with his body) by the Will of Waheguru, the man comes into this world; so, he should always accept Waheguru's Will gladly. If I, a man full of vices, can get the virtues of Waheguru's Naam as a gift, I will consider that to be the best honour for me, oh Nanak. 8.20.

Kaandhiya = is called. Vaandhiya = detached from Waheguru. 8.

MEANING: My mind is imbued with Waheguru's Naam as I recite it. Why should it cause any problems for the people if You like me, oh, Waheguru? 1.

As long as one is alive, and has healthy body, he should recite Waheguru's Naam. The benefit of singing Waheguru's praise is that one enjoys blissfulness. Pause. Serving You (obeying Your Command) is the true business of life, so please be kind and make me do just that. I survive only by singing Your praise as You are the basis of my life, oh Waheguru. 2. I am a slave, a doorman at Your door, and You know the discomfort (pain of my separation from You) of my Waheguru. The amazing thing is that Your worship eradicates all my discomforts. 3. When a devotee takes Guru's shelter, he comes to realize that it is only Waheguru's Naam that is approved in His Court. With Guru's Shabad, such a devotee also realizes that the human life is the opportunity to achieve its objective (union with God). 4. An individual who leads his life with contentment and serves humanity with love receives Waheguru's Naam as his journey expenses (to complete the journey of life successfully, i.e., achieve union with Waheguru). If one gives up all his vices (sensual pleasures), the eternal Waheguru gives him His eternal Naam. 5.

The eternal Waheguru delivers full justice, and knows whom to give the gift of His Naam. The individual, who Waheguru likes (who deserves), receives His Naam. 6.
The gift of the Perfect Waheguru is also perfect, but He gives it only to him whom He is kind to. His Naam is priceless, and I wish to serve Him day and night to have His Naam, oh Nanak. 7. You are Supreme, and I am a low-caste person (have bad qualities), but I am still known to be Your servant. I pray to You to cast a kind sight on me so that - even though I am disconnected from You (because of my bad qualities) - I get Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 8.21.

Word Meaning: Aavun Jaana = rebirths. Ruhhay = stopped; avoided. Mayla = union (with Waheguru). Ghuno = very much; unbearable Sehsa = fear; worry. Doyee = love with someone other than Waheguru. 1. Phit = Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Chuturaayee = cleverness. Sadh = Satguru. Bhaayee = liked. Pause. Tuou = (only) then. Poora = perfect. Raas(i) = capital. Binsaiy = vanish. Bherm(u) = misbelief. Koora = false (about Maya). 2. Dhun(u) = praise-worthy. Jus(u) = praise. Aad(i) Purakh(u) = the origin (Waheguru). Uprumpura = limitless. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. 3.

Nutooyay = acrobat. Saang = impersonation. Baazi = drama. Sunsaara = world. Khin Pul(u) = for a moment. Oojhrut = destruction. Nuhee Baara = in no time. 4. Chaupurr = the game of dice (where some pawns reach the destination while others lose). Jhootthaiy = false. Jinaiy = win. 5. Tohni = stick (to guide). Nis(i) = night. Daut = day. Svaariay = adorns. 6. Tiyoun = as You please. Unt(i) = for the end; at the time of death. Sukhaayee = friend; benefactor. Mookut(i) Dooaara = the door for salvation. 7. Matiya = erased; eradicated. Mooraaray = of Waheguru. Taaray = salvages. 8.

MEANING: How can one put a stop to (avoid) rebirths, and achieve union with Waheguru? The suffering of rebirths is unbearable, and there is always a worry of falling in love with Maya (which is the root of the birth – death cycle). 1. There is no life without Waheguru's Naam, and man's cleverness (or shrewdness) is condemnable because he does not like to serve Satguru or worship Waheguru (and thinks that he can enjoy life living in the world of Maya). Pause. One can break the birth-death cycle only when one connects with the Perfect Guru because He dispels the false belief of the gimmicks of Maya, and gives Waheguru's Naam as the capital for life. 2. An individual is praiseworthy who stays in the company of the holy devotees and sings Waheguru's praise. Waheguru, which has been here ever since, is limitless, and can be realized in the shelter of the Guru only. 3. This world is like a drama where the actors are performing different roles, like an acrobat (actor) who changes appearances frequently. The world enjoys this drama for a very short time, which could be over (suffer destruction) in no time. 4. The world can also be compared to a game of dice in which some pawns reach their destination and win, while others never reach their destination. The ego of some people causes them to lose, while others, who ponder on Guru's Shabad (act on his Advice), reach their destination (achieve union with Waheguru), and win. 5. Just like a stick in the hand of a blind man, which guides him, Waheguru's Naam is the stick in my hand to guide me (on the spiritual path). Waheguru's Naam is my support, adorning my life (with noble qualities) day and night (and making it successful). 6. Your Naam is the basis of my life, and I will gladly live my life the way You want, oh my Waheguru. I have realized Waheguru's Naam, which will be my benefactor at the time of my death, and take me to the door of salvation. 7. I have been able to eradicate the suffering of the birth-death cycle by reciting Waheguru's Naam. I pray that I should never forget Waheguru's Naam, and the Perfect Guru ferries me across the sea of Maya (to connect me with God), oh Nanak. 8.22.

Word Meaning: Sur(u) = Sarovar = pool of (Naam-Amrit). Soorsuri = the River Ganga. Churn Smaani = absorption in Waheguru's feet (Naam). Shaakhaan Teen(i) = Maya with three qualities. Mool(u) = the basis (Waheguru). Raavaiy = recites. Vidaani = amazing. 1. Ta Kay = His (Waheguru's). Jun(u) = devotees. Pause. Taytees Krorri = the 330 million gods of Hindus. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Adhaari = basis; in control. Roop = manifestations. Lukhnay = seen. 2. Teen Goona = the three qualities of Maya. Joog = eon; world. Chaaray Khaani = the four sources of reproduction. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Perm Pud = the highest spiritual level. Kuthay = describe. Akuth = indescribable. 3. Praani = man. Smaani = gets absorbed. 4. Aavun Jaani = which come and go (all living mortals). Bhaavaiy = like. Boojhaiy = realizes. Iyaani = ignorant. 5. Buppurra = poor; powerless. Avtaari = are born. 6. Joogah, Joogah = of different eons. Raajay = kings; noble souls. Avtaari = an incarnation of Waheguru. Ta Ka = of Waheguru. 7. Dayh(i) = give (the ability or understanding). Vukhaani = recite. Sehjay = in the blissful state of mind. 8.

MEANING: All the religious books like the Shastras, the Vedas, and the Simritis are contained in Your Naam-Sarovar (Their teachings do not come even close to Your Naam), oh Waheguru. Your Naam is supreme, and I do not need to ponder on such religious books. Likewise, the River Ganga, which is considered sacred by Hindus, lies at Your feet (has no special significance), so I do not need to take a dip in it either. You are the creator of all amazing things, including Maya, which has three qualities, and You are the origin (basis) of everything. I simply recite Your Naam with my (limited) wisdom, (and feel blissful). 1.
I worship Waheguru's Feet (remember Him), and recite the Amrit-like Gurbani. Pause.
All the 330 million Hindu gods are Your slaves, and all the supernatural powers (which people long to have) are in Your control. Waheguru, in His many different manifestations, is not visible (is beyond comprehension), so how can one describe Him by any thoughts? 2.
The three qualities of Maya in the world are created by You, and so are the four sources of reproduction. It is only by Your benevolence that one can attain the highest spiritual state, and be able to describe the story (virtues) of the indescribable Waheguru. 3.
You are the creator, and everything has been created by You; the man has no power (to change anything). The individual, on whom You cast Your kind sight, gets absorbed in Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4. Everybody, who is born and who dies, recites Your Naam,(but not everybody can realize the Truth); only that individual realizes You (makes a connection with You) in the shelter of the Guru, whom You like. The others are followers of their minds and spend their lives in ignorance. 5. It is believed that You gave all four Vedas to Brahma, who wrote them and read them and kept pondering on them. He did not understand Your Huqam; rather, he discussed which religious deeds lead to paradise and which lead to hell. 6. You created some noble souls in every eon who were praised as Your incarnations by many people. But even those noble souls (like Rama and Krishna) found no end to Your limits; so how can I think about Your virtues and discuss them? 7. You are everlasting, and so is Your creation, oh Waheguru. I can recite Your eternal Naam only if You give me the ability to do so. A devotee, whom You enlighten, gets absorbed in Your Naam in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 8.1.23.

Word Meaning: Bherm(u) = doubts; illusions. Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (Waheguru). Cheenh(i) = recognizing; understanding. 1.
Tutt = the origin (Waheguru). Giyan(u) = the truth. Bidh(i) = situation; secrets. Pause.

Vin(u) = without. Doojaiy = other (Maya). Lobhaani = engripped by worldly attachments. 3. Tup = torturous labour (to worship some god). Sir(i) = above. Saar(u) = supreme. Visaarunhaar(u) = destroyer. Sachiyaar(u) = the true devotee (with perfectly pure mind. 4. Tirbhuvun = of the three-layered universe. Sojhi Hoyay = gets the understanding. Aap(u) Puchhan(i) = recognizing self. Mehl = Waheguru's residence. 5.
Kool = clan. Oodhaaray = finds salvation. Oor(i) Dhaaray = implant in mind. Saachi Sobha = honest praise with a pure mind. 6. J(i) = those. Undin(u) = every day. Drirraayay = reinforce. 7. Raatay = imbued. Moakh Dooar = door of salvation. 8.

MEANING: My Satguru dispelled all my doubts and implanted Waheguru's Naam, which is above the effects of Maya, in my mind. By understanding Guru's Shabad (and thereby making a connection with Waheguru), I realized all the comforts. 1.
Listen to the truth about Waheguru, oh my mind. The Provider, Waheguru, knows the situation of the minds of all, but He gives the treasure of His Naam only through the Guru. Pause. The greatness of getting connected with the Guru is that He puts out the fire of worldly attachments and desires. Then, imbued in Waheguru's love in the blissful state of mind, the devotee sings Waheguru's praise. 2. Nobody knows about Waheguru (get connected with Him) without the shelter of the Guru, and one stays gripped in the worldly attachments caused by Maya. A devout devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam and Bani in the Guru's shelter. 3. Service to the Guru (obeying His Advice) is the supreme worship and is the best way of all the torturous worships by which Waheguru's Naam, which is the destroyer of all sufferings, is embedded in the mind of the devotee. Such a true devotee is clearly visible (is prominently honoured) in Waheguru's Court. 4.
One gains an understanding of the three-layered universe (and how Waheguru administers it) in the shelter of the Guru. The devotee who recognizes the self also realizes Waheguru. He gets access to Waheguru's Residence (makes connection with Him) with Guru's eternal Bani (Shabad). 5. Waheguru's honest praise with a pure mind leads one to His Door (connects the devotee with Him). With service to (in the shelter of) the Guru, such a devotee keeps the holy Naam in his mind all the time, and not only does he find salvation for himself, but also for his whole clan (for all his spiritual associates). 6. Those are highly fortunate who are put to the Guru's service (by Waheguru). They worship Waheguru constantly and reinforce His Naam in their minds. The whole world can be salvaged with Waheguru's Naam. 7. Nanak offers advice to keep Waheguru's Naam afresh in your mind all the time, oh my friends. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's worship are emancipated at Waheguru's Door. 8.2.24.

Nanak Naam(u) Gurmut(i) oordhaar(i). 8.3.25.

Word Meaning: Niraasa = overcoming worldly desires. Sootay = asleep; unaware of reality. Loyee = people. Soyee = that (Waheguru). 1. Boojhaaya = enlightened. Bhookh(u) = appetite of Maya. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Rujaayee = with His Will. Pause. Kul(i) = in this world of unrest. Keerut = (Waheguru's) praise. Chookaiy = is removed. Pervaan(u) = is approved. Jaan(u) = realize (make a connection with). 2. Vusaayay = is implanted. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 3. Bhoolaavaiy = misguides. Maarug = (the right) path. 4. Subh = the whole world. Buouraani = confused; misguided. 5. Teen Bhuvun = the three-layered universe. Bhaaou = love; attachment. Drirraaya = reinforced. Kerm = rituals. 6. Undin(u) = every day. Bhogaiy = enjoys. Sehj(i) = Anund = in blissful state. Ruttay = imbued. 7. Jup(i) = by reciting. Bhaiy = fear. Oordhaar(i) = implant in the heart. 8.

MEANING: Normally, everybody builds hopes, and more hopes about a better life in future, but they become disinterested in worldly affairs (become contented) once they recognize Waheguru's Will (that whatever He does is for their good, and His Will cannot be changed). Lost in their hopes, many people are asleep (unaware of Waheguru's Huqam); only that individual wakes up who is awakened by Him (to obey His Huqam). 1. A man's appetite for Maya never gets satisfied without Satguru's shelter, who enlightens him with Waheguru's Naam. One's fire of desires is put out by Waheguru's Naam, but he receives the Naam only with His Will, though. Pause. So, to lead a life free from the bonds of Maya, one must sing Waheguru's praise with Satguru's Shabad. This is the only worship which eradicates one's ego. One is approved in Waheguru's Court with service to Satguru (by obeying His Advice). Make a connection with Waheguru, the origin of everything (and the fulfiller of all hopes). (Maya, too, has been created by Him), Oh, my friend. 2. What should one offer to the (Satguru) who explains His Shabad, and kindly implants Waheguru's Naam in one's heart? (Answer)The right thing to do is to offer one's head (surrender one's wisdom) to Him, and give up all one's selfishness and ego. By recognizing Waheguru's Huqam (accepting His Will), he enjoys all comforts. 3. Waheguru does everything Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes. He, Himself, implants His Naam in the devotee's heart by making him seek Satguru's shelter. He Himself puts some people on the path of righteousness while misguiding others (by attaching them to Maya). One merges with Him with His Shabad (as explained by Satguru). 4. Satguru's Shabad and His Bani are both eternal, which the devotees recite in His shelter in every eon (to attain salvation). People who are disconnected from Waheguru are misguided by their misbeliefs and attachment to Maya. The whole world is confused without Waheguru's Naam. 5. Maya has the same effect in the whole universe; the foolish read the religious books like the Shastras, but use their study to reinforce love for Maya (rather than for Waheguru). They perform many religious rituals, which are the source of more suffering. But the devotees always enjoy bliss by serving the Satguru. 6. Pondering on the Guru Shabad (acting on it) is as sweet as Amrit. One can enjoy it all the time by killing their selfishness and ego. With Waheguru's grace, the devotees enjoy the bliss of the high spiritual state above Maya, as they get imbued in the love for Waheguru's Naam. 7. Pondering on (focusing on) Guru's Shabad, and killing his selfishness and ego, one should recite Waheguru's Naam with fear for Him in mind. But, Waheguru's Naam can be enshrined in the mind only with the wisdom (advice) of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.3.25.

MEANING: One gets peace of mind in the shelter of the Guru because He puts out the fire of his desires. We receive Waheguru's Naam from the Guru as a result of which we earn great respect (in Waheguru's Court and in this world too). 1.

(If you want peace of mind), keep reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh, my friend. Watching the world burning in the fire of desires, I rushed to the shelter of the Guru. Pause.
One acquires Divine Knowledge (union with Waheguru) from the Guru, which is the source of knowledge of the Supreme Truth (Waheguru). I acquired the Knowledge about the Door and the Residence of Waheguru (made a connection with Him) from the Guru, and now I have the treasures of worship full in my heart. 2. The worth of Waheguru's Naam can be appreciated and can be recited only in the shelter of the Guru. It is only in the shelter of the Guru that one gets to sing praise of Waheguru, whereby the Shabad (Naam) of the limitless Waheguru gets embedded in his heart. 3. One always enjoys comforts in the shelter of the Guru, and one never suffers from any misery. One's selfishness and ego get killed in the Guru's shelter, and one's mind becomes pure and holy. 4.
When one's selfishness and ego are eradicated in the Guru's shelter, he comes to realize the working of the whole universe (how God looks after His creation). He can see the holy Light of Waheguru everywhere, and his own soul merges with Him. 5.
When the Perfect Guru explains Waheguru's secrets, one's thinking is purified. With Waheguru's Naam in the heart, his mind becomes peaceful, and he enjoys bliss. 6.
However, one connects with Satguru only if Waheguru casts a kind gaze on him. In that case, all his sins are eradicated, he never suffers any discomfort, and he never encounters any hindrance on the path to his union with Waheguru. 7. All the honours are in the hands of Waheguru, and He instils His Naam in the heart of the devotee of His choice. When the Naam-treasure gets implanted in the devotee's mind, he is accorded honours everywhere, oh Nanak. 8.4.26.

MEANING: If you embed Waheguru's Naam in your heart, Waheguru will come to reside in your heart on His own, oh my brother. Such a devotee stays absorbed in His thoughts and worships the eternal Waheguru (which is the real worship). 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam only, and you will enjoy comforts. Overcome your selfishness and ego and love for the other (Maya); you will earn honours. Pause.
The gods, the men, the ascetics who stay quiet for long times (they believe that they can quieten their mind too this way) long for Waheguru's worship, but they cannot acquire it in their mind without the shelter of Satguru. The pundits and the fortune tellers read religious books, but get no understanding of true worship. 2. Waheguru looks after everybody's interests, but nothing can be said about His kindness as to whom He gives the gift of His worship. The Guru makes it clear to us that only that devotee gets the gift of His worship whom He likes. 3. All the living beings are His creation, and He belongs to everyone; so how can we call someone bad or evil when he is no stranger (is created by Waheguru). 4. There is only one Huqam (law) of Waheguru that operates everywhere, and everybody does whatever is in his destiny. Waheguru Himself spins the heads of people (misguides them) by injecting greed and lust (sensual enjoyment) in them. 5.
He makes some of us devotees of the Guru by giving us the power of spiritual thinking. He gives them the gift of His worship, and their treasures are full of that. 6.
The knowledgeable people (with Divine Light in them) have firm faith in Waheguru and see Him everywhere. They are not misled by anyone (even if someone tries), because they know the Truth. 7. They have all the five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego) operating in their mind, but they are all thoughtful now (stay under control). However, they cannot be controlled or ego killed without the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.5.27.

MEANING: The all-important Waheguru (His Naam) resides in the heart of the man, and there is nothing outside (in forests or on the mountains where the man is looking for). But Waheguru's Naam can be realized only in the shelter of the Guru, where the doors to the spiritual world open in one's mind. 1. Waheguru is realized in the shelter of the Guru, oh my brother. There is an invisible treasure of Waheguru's Naam in man's heart which the Guru reveals. Pause. But, only a buyer of Waheguru's Naam acquires the jewel-like precious thinking to acquire the Naam. With this kind of thinking, he acquires godlike insight and sees the treasure of emancipation when his mind opens to the spiritual world. 2. He realizes that the limitless Waheguru resides in his mind along with his own soul. With realization of Waheguru, all the wishes of his mind are fulfilled, and he never takes birth again. 3. Enlightened by the Guru, the devotee becomes a judge (an appraiser) of the value of Waheguru's Naam, and carefully enshrines it in his heart. But only a rare devotee acquires the priceless Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 4. What can a person achieve by looking for Waheguru in the wilderness when He is present in our hearts? The whole world is misled by its misbeliefs and is disconnected with Waheguru, as a result of which it is losing its dignity (in Waheguru's Court). 5. The immoral man forgets his own house (his wife and his belongings) and, because of his lust and greed, he keeps an evil eye on others' houses. But he is caught like a thief, and without Waheguru's Naam (and because of the resulting immorality), he gets a severe beating (punishment) in Waheguru's Court. 6. Those who search their own mind for Waheguru are blissful. With Guru's greatness (of being kind), such devotees recognize Waheguru in their mind. 7. Waheguru, Himself, enlightens His devotees and grants the gift of His Naam. There is no one else to whom we can appeal. Recite Waheguru's Naam to earn praise in His Court, oh Nanak. 8.6.28.

Gurmutee = wisdom of the Guru. Vus(i) = in the control of. Bhaag(i) = luck. 8.

MEANING: When a man analyzes himself, he finds the result to be very sweet (as he gets connected with Waheguru). Those who surrender to Waheguru taste the sweetness of His presence in their heart and find salvation. 1. Waheguru is the purest of the pure and takes residence in a pure mind. If one sings His praise with the Guru's wisdom (advice), he becomes detached from the attractions of Maya. Pause. However, one cannot recognize oneself without Satguru's Shabad; the whole world is blind (unaware of its inner self). With Guru's advice, man's mind is enlightened, and he acquires Waheguru's Naam, which becomes his friend (support) at the end. 2. Such devotees deal only in Waheguru's Naam, and their everyday routine also revolves around Waheguru's Naam (like Guru Nanak Sahib when He was working for the Nawab of Sultanpur Lodi, and always repeated the number 13). They have Waheguru's Naam in their mind, on their tongue, and discuss Waheguru by pondering on Guru's Shabad. 3. One should listen to Waheguru's Naam and have full faith in Him; as a result, he is respected everywhere. When one sings Waheguru's praise constantly, he reaches Waheguru's Residence (becomes connected with Him). 4. One's mind is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam, and he earns praise everywhere. Waheguru's Naam is the source of all comforts, and one gains Waheguru's shelter because of the Naam. 5. Nobody gets recognition (in Waheguru's Court) without the Naam; that's why the follower of his mind loses his dignity there. Tied up, he receives punishment in the court of the Angel of justice, and he wastes away his precious human life. 6. Everybody serves (shows respect for) the holy man who bears Waheguru's Naam in his heart. But one understands Naam only in the shelter of the Guru. One gets respect and praise because of Waheguru's Naam. 7. But only that devotee receives the Naam (enshrined in the heart) who Waheguru becomes kind to, and makes him take Guru's advice. Everything is under the control of Waheguru, but some rare fortunate individual acquires His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.7.29.

MEANING: The individuals who are disconnected from Waheguru (are engrossed in Maya); they never get access to Waheguru's Residence (never connect with Him), and thus cannot enjoy the taste of union with Him. They show discourtesy in their conversation (talk ill of the devotees), have a huge ego, and are deeply attracted to Maya. 1. How can the mind be controlled? It can be prevented from evil thinking with the benevolence of the Guru, and with the wisdom He imparts, with which the mind stabilizes (quits wavering). Pause.
Waheguru Himself adorns the human brides He loves with noble qualities and instills His love in their minds. They lead their life as per His Will, and wear the adornment of His Naam because of which they stay in a high spiritual state. 2. With deep love for their dear Waheguru, they enjoy eternal union with Him on the bed of their heart. They are captivated by the love of their dear (Waheguru) and enjoy bliss in His company. 3.
Union with Waheguru is the supreme adornment with which a devout bride (devotee) earns praise everywhere. Because of her love for and dedication to Waheguru, such a human bride is the beauty queen among others. 4. The incomprehensible and limitless Waheguru cultivates His love in the human brides He loves. Such brides serve the Satguru (obey Him) and stay imbued in the love of their eternal Husband (Waheguru). 5. The devotees, who are loved by their Waheguru-Husband, adorn themselves with noble qualities, and that is the necklace they wear around their necks. They wear the perfume of love for Waheguru on their bodies and have thoughts about the jewel-like, precious Waheguru in their minds. 6. Those who are imbued in the worship of Waheguru are pure at heart with no weakness, and they enjoy the status of a spiritually high caste (nobility) and dignity with the Guru's Shabad in their heart. Without Waheguru's Naam, everybody is a low-caste and a worm of feces (Maya). 7. Everybody is living in selfishness and ego, which do not go away without the Guru's Shabad. But those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam, overcome their haumein, and stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.8.30.

Word Meaning: Ruttay = imbued. Say = those. Nirmulay = pure. Soyay = praise. Aithaiy = here, in this world. Jaapdaiy = are well known. Aagaiy = next world. Joog(i) Joog(i) = in every eon. Pergut Hoyay = shine; become famous. 1. Roorrhay = beautiful; good. Rungulay = colourful. Rupaiy = get dyed. Pause. Neech = immoral. Maiylay = filthy. Ut(i) = extremely. Abhimaani = conceited. Vikaar = vices. Paarus = elixir stone; philosopher's stone. Kunchun = gold. 2. Bhaiy = fear. Bhaayay = love. Siftee = with (Waheguru's) praise. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. Smaaou = get absorbed. 3. Laag(i) = primary coating. Kerm Kmaavnay = perform religious rituals. Jhootthaiy = false; Maya-engrossed. Tthaaoun Na = no shelter. 4. Sat Sungut = Guru's company; holy congregation. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Sehjay = in the higher spiritual state. Soobhaayay = with love. 5. Pus(u) = Dhoar = cattle. Jinh(u) = Waheguru. 6. Ikk(i) = many. Goon = virtues. Vihaajheh(i) = deal in. Augun = vices. Vikneh(i) = sell, get rid of. Voottha = came to dwell. 7. Daata = Lord; provider. Dhundhaiy Laayay = puts them in worldly business. Svaariun(u) = adorn. 8.

MEANING: Those who are imbued in the love of Waheguru have pure minds, and their praise is everlasting. They are well known in every house in this world, and shine in the next world, no matter what the eon (yuga) is 1. Get dyed in the everlasting colour of love for Waheguru, oh my good, but colourful mind (which has many other colours). If you get dyed in the love for the beautiful (pure) Bani (Waheguru's Shabad), you will have a permanent colour (of God's love) on you, which never fades or comes off, oh my mind. Pause.

We are low-caste (immoral), have filthy minds, are extremely conceited, and are lustful (full of vices) in the love for Maya. But if touched by the Guru (listens to His Shabad), which is like an elixir-stone, this mind becomes pure like gold, with the pure Light of the limitless Waheguru in it. 2. But, only the Guru, and nobody else, can dye the mind with the colour of Waheguru's love. So, take shelter of the Guru to get the mind dyed with Waheguru's love, oh man. Those who are imbued with the fear of (reverence for) and the love for the Guru, sing praise of Waheguru because of which they merge with Him. 3.

Without fear (reverence) for the Guru, one's mind does not get coated with the primer (respectful fear for the Guru) to have a permanent colour of Waheguru's love, and does not get purified. Those who perform religious rituals without reverence for the Guru (and Waheguru) are Maya-engrossed and find no shelter (support) in Waheguru's Court. 4. (But nobody can have their mind dyed with Waheguru's love with their own efforts); only those have their minds dyed, whom Waheguru is kind to, and He connects them with the congregation of holy men. The holy congregation arises from the teachings of the Perfect Guru, in which the devotee remains imbued with the love for Waheguru in the blissful state of His shelter. 5. Without the holy congregation, the life of an individual is just like an animal because he does not recognize (acknowledge) the Creator; all such people are thieves without Waheguru's Naam (because they use the necessities of life without being grateful). 6. With love for the Guru, some people deal in (buy; acquire) virtues while selling (getting rid of) their vices (bad qualities), and stay in the blissful state. They serve the Guru, whereby Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in their mind. 7. There is only one Lord of everybody who puts everybody to work (the type of which depends upon their previous deeds). He adorns some of them with noble qualities by making them recite His Naam, and connects them with Him through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.9.31.

Word Meaning: Loachdi = longs for. 1. Bayunt = limitless. Duyyal = kind. Vudiyaayee = honour. Pause. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many different ways. Srishut = world. Oopaayee = created. Koorriyaar = who deal in mortal things (Maya). 3. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Puvit = Paavun = pure; unblemished; holy. 4. Koochul = on an immoral path. Koocheel = filthy (of mind). Vikhleeputay = masters of immorality; low character. Khooaayay = misled. Sidh(i) = success. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Sunjumi = having control on sensual pleasures. Ootvutaayay = purposeless; without any clear objective. 5.
Bhaavni = reverence. Sut(u) = service to humanity. Suntokh = contentment. 6.
Laykha = account. Poochiyaiy = asks for; gives credit. Kuth Kehnay = by describing (Wahguru's qualities). Keemut = worth. Sojhi = understanding. 7.
Dayhi = body (mind). Soadh(i) = purify. Hayt(i) = in love with. Apaar = limitless. 8.

MEANING: Everybody wants to have Waheguru's Naam (enshrined in his mind), but only that lucky individual acquires it who is kind to Waheguru. It is all misery without Waheguru

Naam, but the individual who gets His Naam embedded in his heart enjoys all the comforts. 1. Waheguru is limitless and kind, and (one gets all the comforts) in His shelter. His Naam also earns one respect everywhere, but the Naam can be acquired only from the Guru. Pause. There is only one Supreme Being (Waheguru), who is permeating inside and out (everywhere), and He creates the world in many different ways. Everybody performs deeds of the kind which Waheguru wants him to perform; there is nobody else whom one can complain to, or seek help of. 2. Understanding Your Will, or the lack of it, is controlled by You, and Your Will is the command for us (everybody uses the wisdom given by You), oh Waheguru. You forgive some, and connect them with You by Your kindness, while the Maya-engrossed are punished, and thrown out of Your Court (are taken through the birth-death-birth cycle). 3. Some are pure and holy right from the beginning, and they deal in Your Naam with Your Will. They enjoy bliss in the service of the Guru who enlightens them with the Shabad in Your praise, oh Waheguru. 4.
Some individuals follow the immoral path in life, have filthy minds, and are of very low character; such individuals are misled by You. They have no (spiritual) success in life, have no wisdom, have no control over their sensual desires, and lead a purposeless life (without any clear objective). 5. You instil reverence for You in the minds of those whom You are kind to. Through Guru's Shabad, they acquire noble qualities such as service to mankind, contentment, control over sensual pleasures, and purity of mind. 6.
One cannot have access to Waheguru's Palace by simply keeping the account of his ritualistic deeds, nor can one find an end to the limits of Waheguru by telling His virtues to others. The worth of Waheguru's virtues can be appreciated only in the shelter of the Guru when one gets enlightenment with His eternal Shabad. 7.
Purify your mind and body with Guru's Shabad by pondering (acting) on it, oh Nanak. Waheguru's Naam resides in human body, but can be realized only with love for the Guru, and for the limitless Waheguru. 8.10.32.

Pooch(i) = seek advice. Nirmul(u) = pure. 5. Saytee = with. Geh(i) = hold; stay connected. 6. Mayri = mine. Pullaiy = acquire. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Palace (union with Him). 7. Lorreh(i) = wishes. Kaamni = woman; human bride. 8.

MEANING: Those human brides, who adorn their souls with Guru's Shabad, are loved by their Waheguru-Husband, and stay imbued in His love. They find Waheguru in their own mind by pondering on Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise. 1. They focus on Waheguru's Naam with full concentration (stay connected with Him), and get their vices forgiven by acquiring noble qualities. The Guru connects them with Waheguru, and they get the love of their Waheguru-Husband. Pause. Some (unlucky) are misled by their illusions about Maya, and do not realize that Waheguru is close to them. How can such human brides who are condemned by their Waheguru-Husband (are disconnected with Him), get connected with Him? Their nights of life are spent in discomfort (misery). 2.
But those individuals who have Waheguru embedded in their minds spend their lives doing noble deeds. They always serve Waheguru in the higher spiritual state, and stay connected with Him. 3. Those who are condemned by the Waheguru-Husband (who are engrossed in Maya and are disconnected with Waheguru) are misled by their misbeliefs (illusions); they tell lies and consume poison (are engrossed in the poisonous Maya). They do not recognize their dear husband (Waheguru), and suffer in their empty bed (without Waheguru in their heart). 4. Do not get misled, oh my mind; there is only one True (Eternal) Lord. You can enshrine His holy Naam in your heart by serving the Guru and seeking His advice, oh my friend. 5. The individuals who get rid of their selfishness and ego get connected with their dear Waheguru and are eternally married (loved by Him). They always stay connected to their Dear Waheguru and enjoy blissfulness on their eternal bed. 6. Those who lead their life driven by the objective of "me, and mine" (in selfishness and ego) do not achieve anything worthwhile. There is no place for them in Waheguru's Court, and they leave the world repenting. 7. I have only one Lord, and I focus my concentration on Him alone. If the human bride wishes to have everlasting bliss, she should foster love for Waheguru's Naam in her heart, oh Nanak. 8.11.33.

MEANING: Waheguru makes the devotees who love Him taste His Naam-Amrit and keeps them in the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya, in which they enjoy blissfully. Waheguru is carefree and has absolutely no appetite for worldly things at all – not even the size of a sesame seed. 1. Waheguru's Naam-Amrit rains all the time (is always available to everyone), but only the devotees of the Guru take it in (enshrine it in their heart). Their minds bloom all the time, and they sing Waheguru's praise in the blissful state of mind. Pause. The Maya-engrossed individuals are disconnected from Waheguru, and are always deprived of His love, even though they may be wailing (begging for acceptance) at His Door. They cannot enjoy the taste of union with Waheguru, and keep doing the deeds of the nature (kind) for which they have been predestined by Him. 2. The true devotees of the Guru deal in Waheguru's Naam. They sow the seeds of the Naam in their hearts, which flourish in there. Those who have been put on this spiritually beneficial path by God are given the treasures of His worship by Him. 3. The devotees of the Guru always enjoy Waheguru's love as they have adorned their minds with His worship and love for Him. They always keep Waheguru in mind and enjoy union with Him at all times. 4.

I will gladly sacrifice my life for those (serve them like a slave) who kill their selfishness and ego, and thereby enjoy union with Waheguru all the time. 5. Their body and mind are peaceful because of their love for the Waheguru-husband, and they have radiant faces (worthy of respect). By killing their haumein (selfishness and ego) and their worldly desires, their heart-bed becomes very comforting with Waheguru's presence. 6.
Because of his unlimited love for the Guru, Waheguru becomes very kind to the devotee and resides in his heart. The devotee earns the love of only Waheguru as her husband. 7.
One should utter only such words which win him love of Waheguru, who then forgives all his sins, and connects him with Him, oh Nanak. 8.12.34.

MEANING: The noble qualities are delivered by Satguru (Satguru is the source of all noble qualities), and one acquires them when Waheguru kindly connects him with Satguru. When one recites Waheguru's Naam in the peaceful state of mind (with full dedication and concentration), his mind is enlightened with Divine Knowledge (he is connected with Waheguru). 1. Never think of Waheguru as being far away from you, oh my mind; always "see" (feel) Him close to you. He is omnipresent in the form of Shabad and listens to and sees everything at all times. (Shabad is one of His three forms – Nirgoon, Surgoon, and Shabad). Pause. Those who recognize the self in the shelter of the Guru, recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration. They always keep their Dear (Waheguru) in mind, and enjoy bliss while reciting His Naam. 2. If you ponder on Guru's Shabad diligently, you will realize that there is no one who really belongs to you (forever), oh my mind. So, rush to take Waheguru's shelter so as to reach at the door of salvation (achieve salvation). 3. Listen to Waheguru (His Naam), comprehend Him, and stay fully connected with Him with Satguru's Shabad, oh my mind. One can kill one's ego and selfishness with the Guru's Shabad when one enjoys bliss in Waheguru's Residence (connects with Him). 4. One earns true praise in this world only because of Waheguru's Naam; nobody gets any praise without the Naam. One's praise (fame) because of Maya is very short-lived, and it does not take any time for that to fade away. 5. Those who forget Waheguru are spiritually dead and still face bodily death (rebirths) because they cannot become immortal because of their love for Maya. They never enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, but stay absorbed in feces-like Maya. 6. Waheguru connects some lucky individuals to Him through His benevolence and puts them in the business of His Naam. They deal in Waheguru's Naam, stay connected with Him, and eventually merge with Him. 7. Without Satguru's Shabad, the world is deaf and blind and cannot see Waheguru and hear His Command. They are misled in life. They suffer severely without Waheguru's Naam, which can be realized only by His Will. 8. Those who apply their mind to Gurbani are purified, and are approved by Waheguru (to become a part of Him). They never forget Waheguru and are recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 9.13.35.

Word Meaning: Shabadaun = from the Shabad. Jaapday = become known. Bani = all utterings; routine conversation. Sachi = full of Truth (Waheguru). Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Sach(i) = with Waheguru. Milaawaa = union. 1. Put(I) = dignity. Maanay = accord respect. Pause. Mayra = me; mine (selfishness). Jaat(i) = distinct nature. Abhimaan = conceit; ego. 2. Poora = perfect. Jut(i) = high caste. Put(i) = dignity. Suvaar(i) = adorns with noble qualities. Shernaayee = shelter. Kaaruj(u) Saar(i) = make the task successful (of uniting with Waheguru). 8.
Niraali = unique; detaches one from Maya. Jaapaiy = can be accomplished. 9.

MEANING: Waheguru's bhagats become known (are respected) because of the Guru's Shabad (with which they sing Waheguru's praise). All their conversation revolves around Waheguru. They get rid of their selfishness and ego by obeying Waheguru's Will, whereby they get united with Him. 1. Waheguru's Naam is the respect for them. Their human life becomes successful (because they connect with Waheguru), and everyone respects them. Pause. Man's haumein has its own special nature because all his deeds are based on his selfishness, which leads to rage and ego (and causes huge suffering). If a man is able to kill his haumein by Guru's Shabad, his bad nature gets killed as well, and he merges into Waheguru. 2. Our life becomes a success by getting connected with Satguru (because Satguru bestows the gift of Naam on us), which is like having all the nine mythical treasures of the world, which never run out. 3. Those who love Waheguru deal in His Naam. The devotees of the Guru, who ponder on the Guru's Shabad and have embedded it in their mind, acquire the wealth of Waheguru's Naam. 4.

The individual, who has his face turned away from the Guru (does not listen to His Shabad, and is engrossed in Maya), is full of ego, and does not know the worth of Waheguru's worship. Such individuals are misled right from their birth (by Waheguru), and they lose the game of precious human life in the gamble (love for Maya). 5. No worship of any kind is acceptable without love for Waheguru; and such individuals never enjoy comfort in their body (life). The real thing (Waheguru's Naam) can be acquired only with love. and the worship of the Guru provides peace of mind. 6. However, not everyone can worship Waheguru on their own; only those devotees whom He motivates can worship Him. Such individuals are able to kill the indecisiveness of their mind, and enshrine only Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 7. Waheguru's Naam alone is the high-caste and the respect for the devotees, and they are adorned with noble qualities by Waheguru Himself. I am always in His shelter, and request Him to make my objective (of acquiring His Naam) successful in whatever way He chooses. 8. Waheguru's worship is very unique (detaches one from Maya) and can be accomplished only by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. When an individual adorns his mind with the worship of Waheguru with deep love and reverence, he is able to enshrine His Naam in his heart, oh Nanak. 9.14.36.

Joog = eon; world. Gurmukh(i) = true devotees of the Guru. Nirmulay = pure; pious. Liv Laayay = connected with full concentration. Kerma = noble deeds; good fortune; (Waheguru's) benevolence. Kiya Kur(i) = what can you say (do)? 2.
Puchaaneh(i) = recognize. Mureh(i) = kill desires. Tuj(i) = give up. Vikaar = vices. Bhujj(i) = rush to. Bukhshay = forgives. 3. Maya Mohiya = captive by Maya. Viyaapiya = affected by; overpowered by. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = lost in the misgivings. 4. Dohaagni = condemned by the husband; devoid of love. Saar = worth. Seegar = beautify; adorn. Undin = everyday; always. Juldiyaan Phireh(i) = suffer (in jealousy). Sayjaiy = on the bed (heart). Ruvaiy = enjoy. Bhutaar = Husband. 5.
Sohaagni = loved by Husband (Waheguru). Mehl(u) = His Residence (union with Him). Seegaariyaan = adorned. Sheh(i) = husband. 6. Visaariya = forgot. Goobaar = darkness. Bhee = again (and again). Jum Dur = at the door of the angel of death. Khooaar(i) = suffer discomfiture. 7.
Smaanay = absorbed in. Oojlay = shiny; dignified; are honoured. Tit(u) = of His. 8.
MEANING: The man is misled (so deeply absorbed) in other tastes (that he forgets Waheguru's Naam) and suffers without the Naam. He does not get connected with Satguru, who could enlighten his mind with the true wisdom (about God). 1. Taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam and enjoy it, oh my foolish mind. You are pursuing other tastes and are wasting your precious human life. Pause. Only the devotees of the Guru have pure minds in this world who keep their minds fully focused on Waheguru's Naam. (But not everybody gets to recite Waheguru's Naam), nothing can be achieved without good fortune (benevolence of Waheguru). Also, nothing can be said about who gets to be fortunate. 2. The man should analyze himself and kill his selfishness, ego, and vices, with the Guru's Shabad. If he rushes to Guru's shelter, the forgiving Satguru forgives all his sins. 3.
Without Waheguru's Naam, one cannot have any comfort in life, and the troubles never leave one alone. The world is badly influenced by its love for Maya, and is misled by its misgivings about the other (Maya). 4. Those who are disconnected from Waheguru cannot know His worth, so how can they adorn themselves to look attractive to Him? They suffer in jealousy day and night, and do not enjoy union with the husband (Waheguru) on the bed of their heart. 5. Those who are loved by Waheguru enjoy union with Him by killing their selfishness and ego. Their minds are adorned with noble qualities as they act on Guru's Shabad, and are connected with their husband (Waheguru) by His own Will. 6.
In the darkness of his love for Maya, the man forgets Waheguru, and the Maya-engrossed man dies many times spiritually before his physical death, and is reborn again, and again, and suffers discomfiture in the court of the Angel of death. 7. Only those who ponder on Guru Shabad can get connected with Waheguru - that too only if Waheguru Himself connects them. Those, who are absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, have radiance on their face (a sign of high spirituality) in the Court of the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.22.15.37.

Raag Assa Mehla 1, Putti Likhi

NOTE: The word "Putti" means the Alphabet of a language. To teach Putti to young children, appropriate pictures of common animals and birds, human beings in uniform, some natural objects, or the like are used to show the sound of the letter of the alphabet with which the name of the object in the picture starts. The beginners at school were made to write the alphabet on wooden boards to improve their handwriting. This holy composition uses each letter of the Gurmukhi alphabet (Punjabi language) to praise Waheguru.
There are only three holy compositions in Guru Granth Sahib that have special qualifiers like "Likhi" (written), as in this composition, and "Aakhi" (sang), as in the Vaar of Satta and Balwand. These qualifiers have special significance. In this composition, the qualifier "LIkhi" most likely implies that Guru Nanak Sahib wrote the Alphabet in praise of Waheguru when He was still in school.
The first word in each paurri (staza) is the letter of the Gurmukhi Alphabet.

Also, He is the only Perfect Pundit (fully knowledgeable). 9.

NOTE: The Vedas and the eons (in which only the Hindus believe) have been created by men, not by Waheguru. The Hindus believe that the Vedas were written by Brahma, who is also believed to be the creator of all living beings. Guru Sahib has simply replaced Brahma with the real creator - Waheguru.

(When one gets connected with Him), the bed of his heart becomes very pleasant (blissful) and all his five senses, his mind, and his wisdom, get filled with Amrit (noble qualities) in His company. We should pray to the kind Waheguru that He connects us with His devotees in whose holy company we may sing His praise with Guru's Shabad. With zest in her mind, when the young woman (human being) gets connected with Waheguru-Husband in the company of the holy devotees, her heart blooms to "see" Him, oh Nanak. 1.

When a devotee recognizes Waheguru's noble qualities, she too, acquires noble qualities while her bad qualities run away, and she gets connected with Him. At that stage, she cannot live without Waheguru even for a short time, and her mind does not find peace just by talking or listening about Him. She recites His Naam calling "my dear, my dear" and her tongue enjoys the sweetness of His Naam while her mind gets imbued with love for Him, oh Nanak. 2.

But only that human-bride is good (lucky) who is liked by Waheguru. Some fortunate devotees enjoy the company of Waheguru; I also loudly pray at His door, begging that He connect me to Him. But, Waheguru, which is the source of all creation, is omnipotent, and is the husband of Maya; He, Himself makes the life of the devotee successful (connects her with Him). That woman is lucky whose heart is supported with Guru's Shabad (who has Guru's Shabad at heart) and thus gets married to Waheguru (gets connected with Him), oh Nanak. 3.

I surrendered my mind to Waheguru, and received (enshrined) His Naam in my heart; now, imbued in His love, my heart is enjoying union with Him. By surrendering my mind, I won Waheguru as my husband, and He enjoys it (loves me) the way He pleases. With Guru's Shabad, I offered my mind and body in His service, and I am fortunate to enjoy His Naam-Amrit in my heart. Word Meaning: Unhud(u) = Divine music that the yogis claim to hear in their meditation. Vaajaiy = plays. Roonjhoonkaaray = the pleasing sound of bells and anklets. Raata = imbued. Laal = rubies; dear (informal). Baiyraagi = detached from the world, and in love wth God. Soonn = without any thoughts of Maya. Mundul(i) = in the state. Ghur(u) = heart. Aad(i) Purakh(u) = Waheguru, which is the origin of everything. Alukh = invisible. Lukhaaya = showed. Aasun = place to rest. Baisun(i) = place to sit. Thir(u) = immortal. Naraayin(u) = Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: My mind is imbued in the love of dear Waheguru, and I feel as if a lilting Divine music with the pleasing sound of bells of anklets is playing in my heart. My mind, which is detached from the world and madly in love with Waheguru (imbued in His love all the time), has attained the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. My Satguru has shown me the dear, invisible Waheguru, the origin of everything and without limits. Because of my pondering on Guru's Shabad, the immortal Waheguru has taken a seat in my mind, which is now imbued with His love. Those who are detached from Maya and love Waheguru get their minds imbued in His love and feel as if lilting Divine music is playing in their hearts, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Agumm = unreachable. Pur = city. Agummpura = Inaccessible Waheguru's city (Court). Bidh(i) = ways, means; how. Sunjumo = control on senses. Saar(i) = taking care; keeping in mind. Nij Ghur(i) = one's permanent home (union with Waheguru). Gooni Nidhana = treasure of virtues (Waheguru). Mool(u) = the origin; roots of the Waheguru-Tree. Shaakhaan = branches. Put(u) = leaves. Daali = shoots (the whole creation). Jup(u) = recitation of some mantras. Tup = self-affliction (to please some deity). Thaaki = exhausted. Hutth(i) = persistence; obstinacy. Nigreh(i) = efforts to control sensual desires. Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state above Maya. Jug Jeevun(u) = Waheguru. 2.

MEANING: When I asked my holy friends if they could guide me as to how to get to the inaccessible Court of Waheguru, they advised me that one can get there by reciting His Naam with love, exercising control on his senses, remembering His virtues, and by acting on the Guru's Shabad. By acting on the Guru's eternal Shabad, one achieves union with Waheguru which is the treasure of all virtues. By taking shelter of the tree-like Waheguru, one does not need the support of any of His branches (anyone, or anything created by Him) because He is Supreme. People have exhausted themselves by ritualistic activities like reciting some mantras, persistently torturing themselves, and with efforts to control their sensual pleasure, but without any success. Satguru has given me the understanding that Waheguru can be realized in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saagro = sea of. Ruttanagur(u) = mine of jewels. Ghunayray = very many. Mujuno = bathe. Suput Suray = the seven pools (five senses, mind, and wisdom). Bhaayay = likes. Punch = the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachments, and ego). Milay = come together. Veechaaray = become thoughtful; come under control. Kupt(u) = deceit. Bikhiya = (vices of) Maya. Loabh Lehur(i) = the wave of greed. 3.
MEANING: Satguru is the ocean, and the mine of jewels (virtuous qualities), and is full of them. If one takes a dip in the Guru-Ocean (in His Shabad), all his seven pools (five senses, mind, and wisdom) get purified. But only that devotee takes a dip in such holy water (of Satguru-Ocean) whom Waheguru likes and is kind to. All five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego) of such a devotee come together and become thoughtful (come under his control). By getting rid of his lust, rage, deceit, and other vices, the devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart. The waves of ego, greed, and huge appetite for tasty foods of the devotee get tired (become satisfied), and he acquires the Naam of Waheguru, who is kind to the helpless. There is no holy place like the Guru and Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.

MEANING: I "see" Waheguru in every forest, in all vegetation and everywhere. He has created the three-layered universe and the whole world. Everything has been created by You, and only You are everlasting; there is nobody else like You, oh Waheguru. You are the only Provider, and everybody is a beggar at Your door. Who else is there whose praise I may sing? You bestow Your gifts on people without them asking for those, oh dear Waheguru. I beg for Your worship; please grant me that from Your treasures, which are always full. I share a thought with you (my friends) that nobody can find salvation without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.2

Word Meaning: Aad(i) Purakh(u) = Waheguru, which is the origin of everything. Uprumpro = Apur Apaara = beyond limits. Parbrahm = Waheguru. Aad(i) = right from the beginning. Joogaadi = before the beginning of joogs (time). Jhootha = false; perishable. Maano = believe. Saar = worth. Kerm = deeds of high morality. Dherm = the objective of human life. Soort(i) = wisdom. Mookut(i) = salvation. Ehinis(i) = day and night. 1.

MEANING: My mind is imbued with the love for Waheguru, who is the eternal Lord, the origin of everything, without limits, and who supports the whole universe. Waheguru is physically unreachable, incomprehensible, limitless, and Supreme. He was there from the beginning and before time, is here now, and will always be there; believe everything else to be perishable. The man does not know the worth of noble deeds and has no wisdom to understand the objective of human life, so how can he find salvation? He can understand all this by Guru's Shabad in His shelter, and by reciting Waheguru's Naam day and night, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Maaniya = has been convinced. Sukhaayee = friendly; benefactor. Mumta = parental love. Chuturaayee = shrewdness. Sumpaiy = wealth. Naar = wife. Sayir Kee Pootri = the daughter of the sea (Maya). Maya (Luxmi) is one of the fourteen jewels which were retrieved from the sea when the gods and the demons jointly churned that. Purhur(i) = by pushing away; getting rid of. Tiyaagi = renounced; disowned. Churn Tulaiy = under the feet. Chult(u) = amazing feat. Sehjay = blissful state of mind. 2.

MEANING: My mind has been convinced that Waheguru's Naam is my only friend. None of man's ego, his worldly attachments, or his wealth accompanies him at death. Likewise, none of the mother, father, brothers, sons, any shrewdness, wealth, or wife of the man goes with him. By pondering (on Guru's Shabad), I have realized that all worldly attractions are different forms of Maya (and are perishable), so I have given up my love for Maya and keep it under my feet (have full control over it). I have seen an amazing feat about Waheguru that He is present everywhere, no matter which direction I look. So, I will never quit worshipping Him, and will feel blissful no matter what happens naturally, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nirmul(u) = pure. Smaalay = remember. Uvgun = ill qualities. Mayt(i) = eradicate. Sungum = union. Kerni = deeds. Saari = supreme. Sachiyaaro = the bearer of virtuous qualities. Tthaak(i) Ruhaayay = prevented. Tutt(u) = essence; Waheguru. Soojaan(u) = know-all. Sukha = friend. Pergaasiya = lighted up; enlightened. 3.

MEANING: I remember Waheguru (recite His Naam) with a pure mind, as a result of which all my evil qualities (vices) are being eradicated (disappearing), and the virtuous qualities are with me now. Getting rid of one's evil qualities is the supreme act to perform, and the bearer of virtuous qualities is recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court. By pondering on the virtues of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, one's rebirths are prevented (he does not take rebirths). Waheguru's eternal Naam is man's true friend, chum, and wise (know-all) well-wisher, and one earns respect (because of the Naam). I have acquired such advice from the Guru and my mind has been enlightened with the jewel-like Naam of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) Unjun(u) = kohl (of Waheguru's Naam). Saar(i) = putting (in the mind). Nirunjun(u) = Waheguru. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state above Maya. Sadh Subha = congregation of holy devotees. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Baiyraagi = detached from the world; having love for Waheguru. Chookay = ended. Moh = attachments. Pteenay = got convinced; fall in love with. Oodaasa = detached from the world. 4.

MEANING: By wearing the kohl of Waheguru's Naam, my mind is now imbued with love for God, which is the life (basis) of the world. Now, the provider for the whole world, Waheguru, is present in my mind and body. One gets connected with the life of the world, Waheguru, by the grace of the Guru. My mind is intoxicated in a spiritual state above the effects of Maya, with love for Waheguru. I was fortunate that in the company of the holy devotees, and with the grace of the Guru, Waheguru cast His kind sight on me, as a result of which I am enjoying bliss now. The lucky individuals, who are detached from the world and have a great desire to get connected with Waheguru, get imbued in His love, and their thirst for all worldly attachments goes away (is quenched). However, there are some rare devotees who are able to overcome their selfishness and ego, detach from worldly attractions, and fall in love with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i): Assa Mehla 1, Chhunt Ghur(u) 3: Toon soon(i) herna kaaliya, kee vaarriyaiy raata Ram. Bikh(u) ful(u) meettha chaar(i) din, phir(i) hovaiy taata Ram. Phir(i) hoyay taata, khuraa maata, Naam bin(u) pertaapay.

Word Meaning: Kala Hern = black deer; a lustful and egoistic young man. Vaarriyaiy = (in) world-garden; world full of attractions of Maya. Raata = deeply engrossed. Bikh(u) = poisonous Maya. Ful(u) = result; enjoyment. Chaar(i) Din = for a short time. Taata = hot; uncomfortable. Pertaapay = suffers badly. Saayir = ocean. Lehri = waves. Bijul = lightening. Chumkuyay = shines. Raakha = guard; saviour. Bisaariya = forgotten. 1.

MEANING: Why are you so deeply engrossed in the world-garden (the world which has so many attractions like many different lovely flowers in the garden), oh, lustful and egoist young man? You should know that just like the waves on the surface of an ocean, or like the shining of lightning, the enjoyment of Maya is short-lived, and causes many discomforts later on (the man commits many evils under its influence, and there is also a fear of losing it). Without Waheguru's Naam, the man suffers deeply. There is no guard (saviour) other than Waheguru (which can save you from the evil results of Maya); and you have imprudently ignored Him. Remember Waheguru, otherwise you will die a spiritual death, oh the lustful and egoist young man, advises Nanak. 1.

Sach(u) kuhhaiy Nanak(u) chayt(I) ray mun, mureh(i) bhuvra kaaliya. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Bhuvra = bumble-bee. Bhuvuntiya = roaming from flower to flower. Saacha Beechaari = His everlasting Universal advice. Poochhiya = advised. Bayli = vines; flowers. Raatou = fully absorbed. Sooruj(u) = sun; end of night (of human life). Pind(u) = body. Purriya = collapse. Taavun(i) = in the wok. Mug(i) = on the way to. Choataan = beatings.

Baytaaliya = like a ghost. Chayt(i) = remember. Kala Bhuvra = self-assured (but ignorant) young man (see kala hern above). 2.
MEANING: Tasting different enjoyments of Maya, you will suffer badly like the bumblebee which roams from one flower to another (and eventually gets stuck in the sap), oh, negligent man. I asked the Guru for His universal advice on the fate of such a man. The Guru advised me that, like the bumblebee, which is lost (fully absorbed) in enjoying the sap of different flowers, the man who is deeply engrossed in Maya is punished when the night of his life is over, and his body collapses. He suffers the pain as if he is being fried in hot oil in a wok. Without Satguru's Shabad, he is like a ghost (with no spiritual enlightenment) and receives beatings while tied up on his way to the Angel of justice. Nanak offers universal advice to the lustful and egoistic young man that he should worship Waheguru, otherwise he will die a miserable death. 2.

---------- Mayray jeeurriya perdaysiya, kit(u) puveh(i) junjaalay Ram. Saacha Sahib(u) mun(i) vusaiy , kee phaaseh(i) Jum jaalay Ram. Muchhuli vichhoonni, naiyn roonni, jaal(u) budhik(i) paaya. Sach(u) kuhhaiy Nanak(u) chayt(i) ray mun, jeeurriya perdaysiya. 3. ---------- Word Meaning: Jeeurriya = mind; soul. Perdaysia = foreigner; fast-wandering Junjaalay = worldly attractions. Kee = why? Jum Jaalay = the net of the angel of death. Vichhoonni = separated. Roonni = wept. Budhik = fisherman. Moh(u) = attachment. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Chookaaya = cleared. Undaysiya = doubts. 3.
MEANING: Why do you get so deeply engrossed in the worldly attractions when you know that you are a foreigner on this earth (this is not your permanent dwelling), oh my ignorant mind! Why would you (you will not) get trapped in the net of spiritual death if you make your heart the dwelling for the eternal Waheguru to reside in. The man gets trapped in the greed of the worldly attractions just the way a fish gets trapped in the net of the fisherman in the greed of the bait, and then cries with tears in his eyes when he gets separated from his family. The man finds the worldly attractions to be sweet, but this misgiving (illusion) gets cleared at the end. So, by getting rid of all his doubts, one should worship Waheguru with full concentration and dedication. I, Nanak, advise my foreigner (fast-wavering) (and ignorant) mind to remember Waheguru. 3.

Sach(u) kuhhaiy Nanak(u) Shabad(i) Saachaiy, mayl(i) chireen vichhoonniya. 4.1.5.
Word Meaning: Vaah = creeks; streams. Vichhooniya = separated. Sunjogi = by luck (chance). Joog Joog = in every eon. Vis(u) = poison; Maya. Joagi = connected with God. Sehj(i) = in blissful state (above Maya). Puchhaanaiy = recognizes (gets connected). Bherm(i) Bhoolay = misled by doubts. Pucheh(i) = suffer. Moogudh = foolish. Achaytiya = careless; neglectful. Dhaahi Rooniya = wail. 4.
MEANING: Like the streams which get separated from their mother river, and unite with that only by luck (by chance), the man who is disconnected with Waheguru gets connected with Him only by good fortune. The man finds Maya to be sweet (attractive) no matter what the eon is, but only some rare devotee, who is connected with Waheguru, realizes that its effects are highly poisonous (have bitter consequences). A rare devotee who recites Satguru's Shabad and attains the spiritual state above Maya recognizes Waheguru (gets connected with Him). Without Waheguru's Naam, the man is misled by his false beliefs, and the negligent suffer badly. Those who do not have Waheguru enlightening their heart, or recite His Naam, have to wail at the end. Those who have been disconnected from Waheguru for a long time (for many lives) can reconnect with Him through Satguru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.1.5.

Kuhou Nanak, Gur Shabad(i) suvaari, sufliyo junum(u) subaaya. 1. --------

Word Meaning: Ghuray = (in) the heart. Sohila = song of happiness. Soohaaya = made attractive; adorned. Dhun = human-bride. Pir = husband (Waheguru). Mayl(u) = union. Sach(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Kaamun(i) = woman; human-bride. Seegaari = adorned. Suvaari = groomed. Raavay – enjoys. Rung(i) = (in) love. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Vur(u) = husband. Rus(u) = essence; sweetness. Vusaaya = embedded. Sufliyo = became successful. Subaaya = whole. 1.

MEANING: By singing praise of the eternal Waheguru, my heart has been adorned with noble qualities, and is feeling blissful with the joyful song of Waheguru's praise. When Waheguru is kind, He connects the devotee-bride with Him. Waheguru Himself implants His Naam in the devotee's heart and connects her with Him, whereby the human-bride gets intoxicated (extremely blissful) in the spiritual state above Maya. Adorned with Guru's Shabad and nurtured by Waheguru with noble qualities, she enjoys His company at all times. But the human bride wins Waheguru as her husband only when she gets rid of her selfishness and ego and enshrines His sweet Naam in her heart. Adorned with Guru's Shabad, the life of the human-bride becomes successful, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Doojrray = (in the) other (Maya). Bherm(i) = misbelief. Bhooli = misled. Birtha = empty; without any achievement. Iyaani = ignorant. Augunvunti = having ignoble (bad) qualities. Jhooray = repents; regrets. Hudooray = in front; near. Vigsee = blooms at heart. Sersee = feels blissful. Soobhaayay = with love. 2.

MEANING: The human-bride is misled by her illusions about the comforts of Maya, and cannot have Waheguru as her husband (get connected with Him). She does not possess the noble qualities (to get connected with Waheguru) and wastes away her precious human life. The Maya-engrossed human bride is ignorant and later regrets it because of her ignoble qualities, which result in her wasting the precious human life. But a devotee, who serves her Guru (acts upon His Advice), feels always blissful, and finds Waheguru close to her. Her heart blooms, and she feels blissful on seeing her dear Waheguru when she sings His praise with Satguru's Shabad with love and respect. Without Waheguru's Naam, the human bride is misled by her misgivings and feels blissful upon connecting with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jaaniya = realized. Tupt(i) = burning of heart; fire of desires. Boojhaayee = put out. Shaant(i) = calmness; peace. Rus(i) = sweetness. Chaakhiya = tasted. Rung(i) Maanay = enjoy in His love. Soobhaakhiya = sweet words. Moani = mystics who stay quiet for long times. Thaakay = got tired. Bhaykheen = (in) different sects. Mookut(i) = salvation. Buouraana = absurd. 3.

MEANING: With Guru's grace, the human-bride realizes that her dear Waheguru is with her as she gets connected with Him. With Guru's Shabad, she connects with Waheguru internally (soul to soul), and the fire of her worldly desires is extinguished as she attains the state of bliss above Maya; she also feels peace of mind and enjoys the sweet taste of union with Waheguru. With the recitation of the Shabads of praise of the eternal Waheguru, the human-bride enjoys the permanent bliss of His love. One cannot find salvation simply by wearing the robes of different sects; the pundits and the mystics who remain quiet for long periods have realized this, as they have exhausted themselves by following such paths. Without Waheguru's worship, the world is absurd; one can get connected with Him by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Dhun = woman; human-bride. Anund(u) = blissfulness. Sa = that. Rus(i) = in the sweetness. Rusi = full of sweetness. Apaaray = beyond limits. Saaray = remembers. Soohaavi = pleasant; comforting. Raavi = enjoyed. Preetum = dear Waheguru. Uvgun = vices; bad qualities. Ghur(i) = in the heat. Sohilurra = song of joy. Kaaruj Saaay = task is completed; objective is achieved. 4.
MEANING: The human-bride, whom Waheguru has connected with Him, feels blissful. With Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru, she is overwhelmed and gets filled with the sweetness of Waheguru's presence in her heart. With Guru's Shabad about the limitless Waheguru, she always remembers His virtues (sings His praise) and connects with Him (Waheguru dwells in her heart). Her heart-bed becomes very comforting when she enjoys union with Waheguru, and all her bad qualities run away. The heart, where Waheguru's Naam is recited all the time, is blissful in all the four eons (no matter what the eon is). Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are always blissful because with union with Waheguru, they achieve the objective of their life, oh Nanak. 4.1.6.

NOTE: This is a long Chhunt with 10 stanzas, so each stanza is discussed individually.
Word Meaning: Saajun Preetum = dear friends. Sheh = Shah = Lord; Waheguru. Pdaruth = valuable thing. Kayri = of. Bhaavay = is liked. Bhaana = wish; liking. Bhaayay Maarug = path of love. Bikhrra = very tough. Chit(u) = mind; devotion. 1.
MEANING: Worship the Lord (Waheguru), oh my dear friends. Always serve your Guru (act on His Advice) and acquire the valuable Naam of Waheguru. Worship Waheguru in such a way that it is approved by Him. He will not be pleased if you worship Him in your own way (not approved by Him; not as per the Guru's Advice). The path of worshipping Him with love is tough, and only a rare devotee follows it in the Guru's shelter. Pakhund(u) = show off; hypocrisy. Shuhou = Lord. Muhhiul = sky. Ivv = like this. Liv Laavay = meditates. 2.

MEANING: Whom are you trying to impress with a hypocritical show of your detachment from Maya, and your fake love for Waheguru, oh my mind (because Waheguru knows everything)? They always feel blissful who sing praise of Waheguru. Quit your showing off, and be a true devotee of Waheguru; the Lord knows everything that goes through you, oh my mind. Waheguru is present in the waters, on the earth, and in the sky; the true devotee of the Guru recognizes this fact. Those who recognize Waheguru's Huqam enjoy comfort at all times. Word Meaning: Dhaanvda = rushes; wanders fast. Siyaanup = cleverness. Smaalay = remember. Shuhou = Husband (Waheguru). Perm Pud = highest spiritual level (union with Waheguru). Gundh(u) Laagaiy = establishing connection. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru is always with you, no matter where you rush to, oh my mind. Quit your cunning (craftiness), and remember Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. You will find Waheguru close to you if you recite His Naam even for a short moment. (By continuously reciting Waheguru's Naam), all your sins of previous lives will be eradicated, and you will attain the highest spiritual state at the end. If you keep Waheguru's Naam always fresh in your mind with the advice of the Guru, you will be connected with Him, oh Nanak(u), and you will find Waheguru always close by, no matter where your mind rushes to. 3.

Satgur miliyaiy dhaavut(u) thummiya, nij ghur(i) vussiya aayay. Naam(u) vihaajhay, Naam luyyay, Naam(i) ruhhay smaayay.

(PAGE 441): Dhaavut thummiya, Satgur(i) miliyaiy, dusvaan dooaar paaya. Tithaiy Amrit bhojun sehj dhoon(i) oopjaiy, jit Shabad(i) jugut thummh(i) ruhaaya. Teh anayk vaajay suda anund(u) haiy, Sachay ruhhiya smaayay. Iyoun kuhhaiy Nanak(u) Satgur(i) miliyaiy dhaavut thummiya, nij ghur(i) vussiya aayay. 4.

Word Meaning: Dhaavut = rushing; uncontrolled (mind). Thummiya = came to rest. Nij Ghur(i) = in its own place. Vihaajhay = deal in. Dusvaan Dooaar = Tenth Door (the spiritual state in which Waheguru is realized). Tithaiy = there. Sehj dhoon(i) = the lilting music of the Divine Shabad. Sehj = the blissful spiritual state. Jugut Thummh Ruhaaya = the mind quits thinking Teh = there. Vaajay = musical instruments. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee gets connected with Satguru (takes His shelter), his rushing (ever-wandering) mind comes to rest in its own place (becomes peaceful). Then it deals only in Waheguru Naam (keeps Him in mind even when dealing with the world), recites the Naam, stays absorbed in the Naam, and his Tenth Door opens (his mind is enlightened, and he connects with Waheguru). In that stage, Waheguru's Naam becomes his mental food, and a blissful music of the Divine Shabad seems to play in his mind. It is Guru's Shabad by which the mind quits wandering for the worldly attractions. Countless musical instruments seem to play in the devotee's mind at that stage, the devotee feels blissful, and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. Thus, the rushing mind comes to rest in its own place (becomes peaceful) when the devotee gets connected with the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 4.

Word Meaning: Jot(i) Sroop(u) = Waheguru's Light (the Supreme Soul). Mool(u) = origin; root. Puchhaan(u) = recognize. Gurmuti = with Guru's Advice. Rung(u) = (Waheguru's) Love. Maan(u) = enjoy. Sojhi = understanding. Bhhaou = love. Shaant(i) = peacefulness. Vudhaayee = joyfulness; jubilation. 5.

MEANING: Recognize your root, oh my mind, you are a part of Waheguru's Light (of the Supreme Soul). Waheguru is always with you; act on Guru's Advice to enjoy His love, oh my mind. You will realize Waheguru once you recognize your origin; you will also gain an understanding of the purpose of human life and death. Once the man realizes the one and the only Waheguru by the grace of the Guru, he will not have love (attraction) for anyone (or anything) else (Maya). When the human mind becomes peaceful, it begins to feel blissful and gets approved in Waheguru's Court. You are a part of Waheguru, oh my mind. You need to recognize your root, oh Nanak(u). 5.

Iyoun kuhhaiy Nanak(u) mun mayray, tu gaarub(i) uttiya, gaarub(i) luddiya jaavhay. 6.

Word Meaning: Gaarub(i) = (in) conceit. Uttiya = full of. Luddiya = loaded with. Mohini = captivating. Mohiya = captivated. Bhuvahay = taken through. Moogudh = foolish. Puchhutaavhay = repents. Ahunkaar = ego. Tishna = hunger of desires for Maya. Roag(u) = disease. Birtha = empty; uselessly. Chayteh(i) = remembers. Uggaiy = in the next world. 6.

MEANING: You are full of conceit, and will leave this world laden with conceit, oh my mind. You are captivated by the captivating Maya (and spend your life as such), as a result, you will be taken through many life forms again and again. All your deeds are based on ego, and you will leave the world repenting at the end, oh my foolish mind. Man's conceit and his thirst for worldly attractions are a serious illness, because of which he wastes away his precious human life. The Maya-engrossed foolish man does not remember Waheguru, and as a result, he has to repent in the next world (because of the punishment he gets for his ignoble deeds). (Guru) Nanak(u) warns the human mind that it is full of conceit, and will leave the world laden with conceit too. 6.

Word Meaning: Mut = lest; do not. Nimaana = humble; modest. Ugiyaan(u) = lack of knowledge; darkness. Huoun = ego. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Mul(u) = filth (of mind). Sach(i) Shabad = praise of Waheguru. Khoh = lose; remove. Lukhaavhay = expose. Kaar = routine work; noble deeds. Laag(i) Ruhou = continue to do (noble deeds). Aap(u) = selfishness. 7.

MEANING: Do not feel conceited that you know something about Waheguru; stay humble by taking shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. Your mind is dark (unenlightened), and you are guided by ego; wash away the filth of your mind by singing praise of Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, oh man. Be humble in front of the Guru lest you may expose your lack of knowledge. (Learn from the fact that) The world is burning in the fire of its own ego, and you do not lose your own good nature. Lead your life performing deeds as advised by the Guru, and continue performing the noble deeds, keeping always Waheguru in mind. Give up your own wisdom, and follow the advice of the Guru to enjoy blissfulness, and stay humble in His shelter, oh Nanak(u). 7.

Iyoun kuhhaiy Nanak(u) dhunn(u) su vayla, jit(u) mein Satgur(u) miliya, so Shuhou chit(i) aaya. 8.

Word Meaning: Dhunn(u) = praise worthy; lucky. Shuhou = Husband (Waheguru). Sehj(u) = blissfulness of mind. Uvgun = ill qualities; vices. Visaaray = forgot; got rid of. Pergut Hoyay = appeared. Suvaaray = groomed. Pervaan(u) = successful. Dirriya = reinforced. Dootiya Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Chookaaya = cleared; gave up. 8.

MEANING: Auspicious was the time for me when I got connected with Satguru by whose grace I remember Waheguru. (By reciting Waheguru's Naam), I attained the spiritual state above Maya, acquired blissfulness in my mind, and am enjoying all comfort in my mind and body. When I was able to embed Waheguru's Naam in my heart by remembering Him (singing His praise), all my bad qualities were eradicated. When Waheguru was kind to me (gave His approval), noble qualities sprang out in my mind with Satguru's benevolence (He adorned my mind with noble qualities). Those devotees become successful (get approved by Waheguru) who reinforce His Naam in their minds and rid themselves of their love for Maya. That time was very lucky for me when I got connected with Satguru by whose grace I remember Waheguru, oh Nanak(u). 8.

Iyoun kuhhaiy Nanak(u) kiya junt vichaaray, ja Toodh(u) bhem(i) bhoolaayay. 9.

Word Meaning: Ikk(i) = many; countless. Junt = living beings; humans. Bherm(i) Bhoollay = misled by misbeliefs. Kerm Kmaayay = perform deeds. Sheh = Lord (Waheguru). Koomaarug = wrong (immoral) path. Vusaayee = control; no power. Gut(i) = good condition(situation). Uvigut = bad situation. Ruchun Ruchaayee = created the creation. Khura Bhaara = difficult to understand. 9.

MEANING: Countless men are misled on the path of life because of their misbeliefs; actually, they are misled by the Lord Himself (because of their previous bad deeds). In their love for Maya, they are leading their life guided by their ego and selfishness. Even though they have been misled by the illusions of Maya, they have no control on their deeds because they have been misled on the wrong path by Waheguru. Their good or bad conditions are known to Waheguru who has created this world in this way. It is very difficult to understand Waheguru's Huqam (His Will or Laws); He gives the understanding only to a few by making them take Guru's shelter. So, what can the helpless humans do when they have been misled from the path of righteousness by Waheguru, oh Nanak(u)? 9.

Word Meaning: Sachay Sahiba = True (eternal) Lord. Vudiyaayi = greatness; magnanimity. Parbraham = Supreme Being. Bayunt = having no limits. Koodrut(i) = nature.

Bhaaveh(i) = liked (by You). Chit(u) Laavhay = get connected. Smaayee = (stay) absorbed. 10.

MEANING: Your greatness is as everlasting as You are, oh my True (immortal) Lord. You are the Supreme Being, and the limitless Lord; the vastness of Your nature (creation) is indescribable. Your magnanimity is everlasting, and the devotee, who enshrines Your Naam in his heart, always sings Your praise. But only those sing Your praise, and get connected with You, whom You come to like. Those whom You connect with You by the grace of the Guru stay absorbed in You. Your greatness is as everlasting as You are, oh Waheguru (the Lord) of Nanak. 10.2.7.5.2.7.

Anhud dhoon(i) vaajeh(i) nit vaajay, gaayee Satgur Bani. Nanak daat(i) kuree Prubh(i) Daataiy joti Jot(i) smaani. 1. -------

Word Meaning: Jeevun(u) Mein Meevun = Best (spiritual) life. Bhaayay = (with) love. Praan(i) = (in) soul. Vusaayay = made to dwell; implants. Sunsa = doubts; misgivings. Adisht(u) = invisible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Buchun(i) = Word; Shabad. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Unhud Dhooni(i) = sweet sound of Divine music. Vaajeh(i) = plays. Nit = every day; always. Vaajay = musical instruments. Daat(i) = gift. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. Smaani = merges with. 1.

MEANING: With love for Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, I have acquired the best (spiritual) life. The Guru gifts you Waheguru's Naam and implants it in your heart, oh my friends. He made my heart a dwelling for Waheguru's Naam, and eradicated all my discomfort caused by my misgivings (illusions about Maya). I recited the Naam of the invisible and the incomprehensible Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, and attained the highest holy spiritual state. While singing the Bani (Shabad) of Satguru, which is full of praise of Waheguru, I feel as if the sweet sound of Divine music is always playing in my mind. Waheguru kindly bestowed the gift of His Naam to me because of which my soul has become "one" with that of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

---------- Munmukha, munmukh(i) mooyay, mayri kur(i) Maya Ram. Khin(u) aavaiy, khin(u) jaavaiy, doorgundh murraiy chit(u) laaya Ram. Word Meaning: Munmukh = follower of his own mind; Maya-engrossed. Khin(u) = moment. Doogundh = foul-smelling. Murraiy = (with) perishable body. Ksoombh = a pretty-looking flower which withers away quickly; Maya. Chhaayay = shade (of a tree). Chuck(u) Koomiaar = potter's wheel. Suncheh(i) = accumulates. Birdh(i) = age; life. Bikhum = very tough (to swim). Soohayla = with ease. 2.

MEANING: The followers of their mind are disconnected from Waheguru and die a spiritual death because of their pursuit of Maya. Wealth comes and goes in a moment, and the foolish man pursues the foul-smelling (because money is the root of all evil) wealth in his love for his perishable body. Because of his love for his perishable body, the ignorant man tries to accumulate Maya, which is short-lived just like the beauty of the ksoombh(u) flower, which lives only for a very short time. Wealth changes hands just like the shade of a tree which shifts from west to east with the changing position of the sun, or like the potter's wheel, which spins very fast. The ignorant man eats (lives for), accumulates, and enjoys other luxuries of Maya which cause problems in the long run, and the life (length) of his troubles is also prolonged because eventually he drowns in the sea of Maya (the world-sea). However, the sea of Maya, which is very difficult to swim across, can easily be swum across if a person takes Guru's shelter, oh Nanak.2

---------- Mayra Tthaakuro, Tthaakur(u) neeka, agumm athaaha Ram. Hur(i) poonji, Hur(i) poonji chaahi, mayraiy Satgur Shaha, Ram. Hur(i) poonji chaahi, Naam(u) bisaahi, goon gaavaiy, goon bhaavaiy. Nanak, mun(u), tun(i), urp(i) Gur aagaiy, jis(u) praaput(i) so paayay. 3. -------

Word Meaning: Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Neeka = beautiful, kind, and caring. Agumm = unreachable. Athaaha = unfathomable. Poonji = wealth (Waheguru's Naam). Chaahi = wished for. Shaha = the Lord; the source of wealth (of the Naam). Bisaahi = purchased; acquired. Bhaavaiy = are liked. Perhur(i) = by pushing away; removing. Tiyaagi = gave up; abandoned. Soonnay = the spiritual state where Maya cannot influence. Smaavaiy = gets absorbed. Vunjaaray = traders. Ikk Bhaanti = of one kind (seeking the same merchandise). Laaha = benefit; in return. Urp(i) = offer. Praaput(i) = in destiny (predestined). 3.

MEANING: My Lord (Waheguru), which is physically unreachable and is unfathomable, is very kind and caring. I wish for the wealth of Waheguru's Naam which can be acquired from Satguru because He is the only Lord (Source) of His Naam. In my desire to have the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, I loved the virtues of Waheguru, and sang them (His praise); that is how I dealt in His Naam (purchased it). The devotee, who deals in Waheguru's Naam, does not enjoy eating or sleeping, and gives them up; he stays absorbed in the spiritual state where no Maya can affect him. The traders, who come (to the Guru) to deal only in Waheguru's Naam (and give up their ignoble qualities), acquire the Naam in return. Offer your mind and your body to the Guru (in His service) to acquire Waheguru's Naam, but only those lucky devotees get it who are predestined to do so, oh Nanak. 3.

--------- Ruttna, ruttan pdaruth, buhou saagur(u) bhuriya, Ram. Bani, Gurbani laagay, tin huth(i) churriya Ram. Gurbani laagay, tinh huth(i) churriya nirmoluk(u) ruttan(u) apaara. Gur Govind(u), Govind(u) Guru haiy, Nanak, bhayd na bhaayee. 4.1.8.

Word Meaning: Ruttana, Ruttna = countless jewels (noble qualities). Huth Churriya = acquired. Nirmoluk = priceless. Appara = limitless. Atoluk = which cannot be weighed = invaluable. Bhundaara = treasures. Smoond(u) Sreer(u) = ocean-like body. Viroal(i) = by churning. Vust = thing; amazing feat. Anoop = having no parallel. Govind(u) = Waheguru. Bhayd = difference. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is an ocean which is full of countless jewels (noble qualities); but only those devotees acquire these invaluable jewels of the limitless Waheguru, who act on Satguru's Shabad. They acquire the invaluable Naam of Waheguru, whose treasures of worship are always full (never run out, no matter how many devotees acquire it). When I churned my ocean-like body to search for Waheguru's presence there, I found an amazing thing: Waheguru and the Guru are one and the same, and there is no difference between them, oh Nanak. 4.1.8.

MEANING: Waheguru becomes visible (His presence can be felt in the mind) when one comes to the Guru's shelter, and he feels as if a slow and sweet stream of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is raining on his mind. Waheguru's Naam should be dear to all of us because the man gets salvation only by His Naam, and one also earns respect in the world. Waheguru's Naam is the ship to ferry across this world-sea which is filled with evils and aggression; but this ship can be boarded only in the shelter of the Guru. Acting on Guru's Advice (performing noble deeds and keeping Waheguru in mind all the time) is the best way to lead one's life. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, one enjoys comfort (blissfulness) in both the worlds - in this life and the next. One finds salvation with Waheguru's Naam, but it is a gift from Waheguru and can be had only with His kindness, oh Nanak. 1.

When I took Guru's shelter (surrendered my wisdom and acted on His Advice), I got Waheguru's Naam enshrined in my heart, and attained the highest spiritual state above Maya. When the Guru reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my heart, the boat of my life, which was sinking with greed and other vices, became afloat (and I got ferried to the other end). The Perfect Guru infused me with a new spiritual life, and Waheguru's Naam was engraved in my mind (I connected with Waheguru). MEANING: Those who ignore Waheguru's Naam are foolish and unlucky. They have love for Maya every moment (all the time), oh Waheguru. Those who do not like Waheguru's Naam have the filth of Maya in their mind, and they are foolish and unlucky. Those egoists may perform countless religious rituals to give the (false) impression of being religious to the people (but gain no spiritual benefit); in fact, the conceit of such rituals steals the wealth of Waheguru's Naam from them. Because of worldly attachments, their minds are completely dark because of the absence of the light of Waheguru's Naam; thus, they set themselves up on the path to the Angel of death, which is extremely painful and troublesome. Just like God saved and salvaged His ardent devotee, Prehlad, Waheguru protects the dignity of His devotees (against the attractions of Maya). But only lucky individuals acquire, and enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and they become fully detached from Maya. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam with the Advice of the Guru are great and are perfect bearers of Divine qualities. I, beg for the dust of the feet of the Guru (wish to serve Him like a slave) because of which all one's anguish, and his separation from Waheguru come to end in His shelter, oh Nanak. Those who find Waheguru to be sweet become Waheguru's superior devotees, and spiritual leaders among others (people follow them). 4.3.10.

NOTE: The Hindu Granths have divided the time from the beginning of the world into four yugs (yugas or eons) – Satyug, Trayta, Dooaapur, and Kalyug. They maintain that Satjoog (or Satyug) was the best joog (yuga) in which all the people were truthful, were fully contented and had high morals. They also believed that the earth was supported by an ox with all his four feet. But there are many stories that happened in Satyug which contradict their own beliefs. For example, some of the kings were highly egoistic and were cruel. There were demons everywhere, and even the gods were deceitful.

The next yuga, Trayta, was not quite as good as the Satyug. In Trayta, the people acquired mental strength by controlling their sensual desires. The ox supporting the earth lost one of its feet, and the people became short tempered with rage in them.
In the Dooaapur yuga, god Krishna and his Gopis were born. The people relied more in self-torturing and on juggs to please their deities. The ox lost two of its feet.
The present yug, the Kalyug is considered to be the worst of all. People are hostile, tell lies, and are immoral, and above all, the ox supporting the earth has lost three of its feet, and now the earth is not that stable because the ox has only one foot left.
In the following holy Shabad (Chhunt) Guru Ram Dass Ji gives His Divine Message about the mythical eons saying that Waheguru's Laws are always the same no matter what the eon is. Human nature has been the same all through the eons even though the practices and the beliefs of the people might have changed. The devotees of the Guru and Waheguru have noble qualities such as strong belief in Waheguru, contentment, honesty, compassion, and the like. Different eons have no effect on human nature.

With rage in their mind, the rajahs were like a poisonous tree which has beautiful flowers. They invaded each other and suffered in battles. With love for worldly things, they suffered from greater selfishness and ego which are serious diseases. But, even living in a world like the Trayta yug, the poison (of all evils) can be removed (eliminated) with the advice of the Guru when Waheguru is kind. People began to believe in self-torture, like building fires around them even on hot days. They also began performing juggs and countless other rituals to please their deities. Rituals were performed, and the ox lost two of its feet. The earth now had a support of only two feet of the ox. The warrior rajahs fought wars and suffered, and caused suffering for others in their heightened ego. But even in this hostile world, a devotee, who acts on Guru's Shabad, gets connected with Waheguru's Naam which is the medication against all evils. With singing Waheguru's praise, his mind becomes peaceful (quits wandering and thinking about evil things). Kalyug is the season to sing Waheguru's praise, and to raise the crop of Waheguru's Naam (which earns one respect) in the field of mind. An individual, who sows the seeds of other crops (Maya and its forms) without Waheguru's Naam, not only loses any spiritual benefit, but also loses the original spirituality he was born with (which lay hidden in his mind). I was lucky to have been connected with the Perfect Guru who carved (implanted) Waheguru's Naam on the board of my heart, oh Nanak. In the Kalyug era, the ox lost its three feet, and the earth now has the support of only one foot of the ox (a Hindu belief). 4.4.11.

With good fortune on the forehead, the devotee recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue, and thus worships Him. When Waheguru becomes kind to a devotee, he finds Waheguru sweet in His mind, oh Nanak. I am heavy like a stone with the burden of vices, and will drown in the sea of Maya. Please be kind, and pull me out of the sea by implanting love in my heart for Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 4.5.12.

I beg to seek Your shelter so that I may recite Your Naam with my tongue. It is Waheguru's innate nature that He loves His devotees and protects their honour (from the attacks of Maya). Your slave, Nanak, is in Your shelter to get Your Naam by which one can swim across the sea of Maya. 4.8.15.

MEANING: When I searched for the Emperor-Waheguru in the shelter of Satguru, I realized Him as my best friend. When my fort-like heart became pure like gold in the shelter of the Guru, Waheguru appeared in my heart. Waheguru is priceless, like rare diamonds and jewels, and my heart has been pierced with His love. I realized Him with my good fortune, which had been prewritten by Waheguru, and I have been connected with Him. Now, I am feeling very blissful. 1.

I am a young woman (human being) who is conceited of my youthfulness, and am ignorant about You, oh Waheguru. I am always waiting for the Guru to request Him to show me the path (to Your Door), oh Waheguru. I request the Guru to reinforce Your Naam in my heart so that I may follow the path of union with You. Your Naam has become the basis of my body and mind, and I have burned the poison of my selfishness and ego. Waheguru connected me with the Guru, who kindly connected me, Nanak, with You, oh Waheguru. (Waheguru can be realized only through the Guru). 2.

MEANING: I have been separated from You for a long time, oh Waheguru. Please get me connected with You through the Guru. My body and my mind feel the sadness of Your separation, and my eyes are imbued with Your love, longing to see You. I am begging the Guru to show me the path to meet with You so that my mind may feel bliss. I am foolish, but the Guru will put me to work (advise me to follow the path for union with You), which will be approved by You, oh Waheguru. 3.

Guru's holy body is full with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and He showers (sprinkles) it on the minds of the people. Those, who like (love) His Gurbani (Shabad), take in the Naam-Amrit and get fully contented. They realize it by the pleasure (kindness) of the Guru, and escape the worries of high and low mental states, which the Maya-engrossed individuals face when they miss the excellent opportunity (to sing Waheguru's praise). The devotees, become like Waheguru (acquire His virtues) and merge into Him to become “one” with Him, oh Nanak. 4.9.16.

Word Meaning: Bhagat(i) = of worship. Bhundaar = treasure. Shah(u) = Lord; Source of. Raasay = capital; wealth (of Waheguru’s Naam). Vunjaara = trader; delaer in. Vunuj = trade. Shabaashay = applaud; bravo. Lilaat(i) = on the forehead. 1. Dhunee = source of (Naam) wealth. Bhaanday = vessels; human beings. Vust = thing; qualities; nature. Sa = that. Vaychaara = helpless. Bukhshiya = bestowed. 2.

MEANING: Satguru is the treasure (source) of Waheguru’s worship (gives His Naam), oh, the Royal Waheguru. Satguru is the True Lord (source of Waheguru’s Naam) and bestows this wealth to the Sikh. Satguru and the Sikhs are both dealers in Waheguru’s Naam, and both are worthy of respect, and so is the trade (of Waheguru’s Naam). Satguru is also worthy of applause (for implanting the Naam in the Sikh’s heart). But only that devotee gets connected with Satguru who has his destiny prewritten on his forehead, oh Nanak(u). 1. You are the True Lord, and the source of the Naam, while the whole world is the trader in Your Naam, oh the Emperor-Waheguru. You have created all the humans, and given them the qualities as per Your judgment. One spends his life in the world based on the qualities given by You, and he is incapable of changing them. Waheguru, kindly bestowed the treasure of His worship to me as His slave, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Goon = virtues. Vithreh = describe in detail. Appur Apaaro = limitless. Slaaheh = sing praise. Paaveh Paaro = swim across the world-sea. Punihaaro = subservient. 3. Jiyoun Bhaavaiy = as You please. Bhool(i) Vigaarreh = ruin (our future) by making mistakes. Laaj = dignity = Paiyj. Kaandhiya = is called. 4.

MEANING: You are beyond limits, so how can I describe Your qualities in detail, oh, the Royal Waheguru? I can only recite Your Naam day and night, which is my wish, and is the basis of my life. I am foolish (ignorant) and know nothing about getting across the world sea. I, Nanak(u), am Your slave and the slave of Your slaves, oh Waheguru. 3.
I have come to Your shelter; please protect me (from the attacks of Maya) as You please, oh, Royal Waheguru. I make mistakes day and night, and thus ruin my future. Please save my honour (from the attacks of the five demons), oh God. I am Your (ignorant) child, and You are my Guru-Father; please teach me, and grant me the wisdom (to act on Your Advice). Word Meaning: Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (God). Ugiyan = ignorance. Undhayra = darkness. Ghut(i) = on the heart. Ludha = found; realized. Ruttan Pudartho = invaluable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Buhourr(i) = again. Chuliya = leaves. 1.
Chaytiou = remembered. Kaayay = what for; why. Maanus = human. Doolumbh = difficult to have. Birtha = empty; without success. Vutaiy = optimum conditions. 2.
MEANING: Those who have union with Waheguru prewritten on their foreheads (are predestined) by the Emperor-Waheguru, get connected with Him. Their hearts (minds) are enlightened with Guru's Divine Knowledge, and the darkness of their ignorance disappears. They get the jewel-like invaluable Naam of Waheguru implanted in their minds, which never leaves them. I recite Waheguru's Naam as His slave, and realized Him with His worship, oh Nanak. 1.
Why do those people even come to this world who do not remember the invaluable Naam of Waheguru? The human life is difficult to get again, but it goes waste without worshiping Waheguru. Now (the human life) is the perfect time (has optimum conditions) to sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam in the field of their mind. If one does not sow Waheguru's Naam now, what will he eat as the spiritual food in the next world where he will be hungry (will need it to be approved in Waheguru's Court)? It is Waheguru's Will (Law) that the followers of their mind (disconnected with Waheguru) are to be born again, and again, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Oopaayay = created. Chuleh Chulaayay = perform deeds as directed (programmed). Bhaayay = liked. Bhaytiya = got connected. Turaayay = ferries across. 3. Raageen = by singing. Naadeen = with music. Buhou Bhaant(i) = in many ways. Bheejaiy = is pleased. Kupt(u) = deceit. Vikaar(u) = vice. Sir(i) = head; thoughts. Roag = mental sickness of evilness. Huth(u) Deejaiy = hide. Shoodh(i) = pure. Leejaiy = acquire. 4.

MEANING: You are the Lord, and the whole world is Your creation, oh Royal Waheguru. Nobody has any control over anything; the humans perform deeds as programmed by You. Those, whom You like (approve) get connected with You. The fortunate devotees get connected with the Guru who bestows Waheguru's Naam to them which ferries them across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 3.

Some people worship Waheguru by singing songs (other than Guru's Shabad), some with music, and some using many other ways; but Waheguru is not pleased with any such means (if their heart is not pure). Those, who have the ignoble quality of deceit in their mind, cannot please Waheguru even by praying while crying. The omniscient Creator knows everything that goes through the minds of the people even if they try to hide their evil thoughts. Word Meaning: Sooghurr Siyaanay = wise and intelligent. Baahroun = outwardly. Bhool(i) Chhook(i) = errors and omissions. Khuray = pure; honest. Bhaanay = liked. Thhaoun = shelter. Maan(u) = respect. Nimaanay = weak, powerless. Deebaan(u) = support; basis. Taan(u) = strength. Sutaanay = full of strength. 1.

Jaayay Buhay = makes dwelling; enlightens. Thaan(u) = place; human heart. Sohaava = pleasant; worthy of respect; blissful. Bhaaliya = found out. Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet. Ghaal = hard labour. Thaayayn Puyyee = recognized; became successful. Poojiya = worshiped; acted on His advice. 2.

Meaning: They are wise and (spiritually) intelligent people who have love for Waheguru in their heart, oh, the Emperor-Waheguru. Even if they say something incorrect outwardly (unpopular) by mistake, they are pure at heart, and are liked by Waheguru. Waheguru's devotees do not expect (believe in) any other support than Waheguru; they have full faith that Waheguru is the source of pride (and support) for the weak and the humble. Waheguru's Naam is my support (basis), and I feel mentally strong because of (the support of) His strength (omnipotence), oh Nanak. 1.

The heart, which is enlightened by Satguru, becomes blissful (and worthy of respect for all others); even the physical place where Satguru comes to rest for a short while becomes holy with His Word. The Gur Sikhs find out that holy heart (Gur Sikh) and put the dust of his feet on their forehead (show deep reverence for him). The hard labour of the Gur Sikhs, who recite Waheguru's Naam is recognized in Waheguru's Court (they are honoured). The worship of Satguru Nanak by the Sikhs is akin to the worship of Waheguru. 2.

NOTE: Look at the spellings of Nanak(u) in this verse in contrast with the spellings of Nanak in the other three verses in this Chhunt. They do not have 'u' at the end which signifies that the name Nanak(u) refers specifically to Satguru Nanak, and not "Nanak" as the author of the holy hymn.

Word Meaning: Saveh(i) = serve. Bhookh = appetite (for worldly attractions). Tinh Pichhaiy = because of them. Khaayay = takes in (spiritual diet). Poonn(u) = noble deed (Waheguru's Naam). Beejiya = sowed the seed. Toat(i) = shortage. 3.

Vadhaayiyaan = happiness; zest; high spiritedness. Paiynaayiyaiy = are honoured. Toottha = pleased to be kind. 4.

MEANING: The Gur Sikhs have love (and reverence) for Waheguru and for His Naam, oh, the Royal Waheguru. All my appetite for worldly attractions is removed (is satisfied) with the service to the Perfect Guru. (Not just me), All Gur Sikhs lose their appetite for worldly attractions, and many more people receive this spiritual diet because of them (the Gur Sikhs) (as they become the source of spirituality), and get contentment. Those devotees who sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam in their heart never suffer from its shortage (no matter how many people it is shared with), oh Nanak. 3.

The hearts of the Sikhs who have a glimpse of Satguru experience Divine happiness. If someone talks about the virtues of Waheguru to the Gur Sikhs, they find him very sweet (likable). Those Sikhs whom Satguru is pleased to be kind to, are honoured in Waheguru's Court. A devotee, whose heart becomes a dwelling for Waheguru, becomes just like Him, oh Nanak. 4.12.19.

Word Meaning: Bhaytiya = met with; got connected with. Drirraavaiy = reinforces. Trishna Bhookh = appetite for worldly desires. 1.
Bigjun(u) = impediment; obstacle. Purakh(u) = manifestation of Waheguru. Munaaya = celebrated; worshiped. Poojay = worships. 2
MEANING: The Perfect Satguru reiterates Waheguru's Naam to the Sikhs who get connected with Him. All their appetite for worldly desires goes away who recite Waheguru's Naam with dedication, and the Angel of death does not even go near them. I pray to Waheguru to be kind to me so that I may always recite His Naam, which ferries one across the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 1.
Those devotees who recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru never experience any obstacle (in their way to union with Waheguru). Those are worshiped by everybody who worships Satguru, which is a manifestation of Waheguru, and they always enjoy blissfulness. Those who get connected with Satguru Nanak (His Philosophy) are connected with Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Rukhunhaara = saviour; guard. Ninda = vilification; malicious criticis. Sayti = with. Maaniya = won over; pleased. Doosht = evil. Jhukh Maara = do or say something stupid without inflicting any harm. 3.

Joog, Joog Bhugut = bhagat of the eon. Paiyj = honour. Hernaakhsh = the evil king and the father of Prehlaad, who wanted everyone to worship him rather than the Supreme Being. When Prehlaad refused to do so, Henaakhsh tried several times to have him killed, but was unsuccessful. Was killed by Waheguru while protecting Prehlaad from Henaakhsh. Pitth Dayay = show back (Bhagat Naam Dev ji, who was a Hindu by birth, but belonged to a low caste of washermen. One day, he entered a Hindu temple to show his reverence for Waheguru, but, being a low-caste Hindu, he was kicked out of the temple by the upper-caste Brahmans. Naam Dev Ji went to the backside of the temple and began to sing Waheguru's praise while the Brahmans were watching his actions. To their huge surprise, the temple rotated and turned its face towards Naam Dev Ji, and its back to the Brahmans. Mookh(i) Laaya = showed face to Naam Dev Ji. Chhudaaya = protect (from the clutches of Maya). 4.

MEANING: Those who have love for Waheguru in their mind by the grace of the Guru, are protected by Waheguru (from the attacks of the five demons), oh the Royal Waheguru. Who can find any fault by vilifying those who have love for Waheguru's Naam? Those who have been won over by the love of Waheguru are unaffected by the malicious criticism of the evil people who say or do something stupid against them. I recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the saviour of all, oh Nanak. 3.

Waheguru creates bhagats in each eon and protects their honour. For example, He killed the evil Hernaakhsh and saved His bhagat, Prehlad. He turned His back on the egoist and the slanderer, high-caste Brahmans, and faced towards His Bhagat, Naam Dev Ji. I also serve (worship) Waheguru, who saves you at the end, oh Nanak. 4.13.20.

When the Guru is pleased to be kind, He connects the devotee with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

I have not tasted the enjoyment of Your love yet, oh my dear Waheguru. My burning desire to see You has not been fulfilled yet, but I am hopeful every day. My young age is receding with every passing day, and the Angel of death is stealing (taking away) my breaths. Those human-brides (Your devotees), who have been adorned with the jewel of good fortune, and have embedded Your Naam in their heart, are fortunate to be loved by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

My eyes are imbued, and are ecstatic in You love like the ecstasy of the rainbird which receives his desired raindrop. By drinking the drop of Waheguru's Naam, my mind has become peaceful. Earlier, the pain of separation from Waheguru was making me restless, and kept me awake; I could not fall asleep no matter what I did, oh my dear Waheguru. I am sad at His separation, but I have full hope of seeing my dear Guru soon; both my eyes are fixed on His path. Like a mother who becomes ecstatic to see her son, my heart begins to bloom with joy to see my dear Guru Nanak. 4.
The Satguru narrated the stories of the virtues of the dear Waheguru. I am a sacrifice for my Guru, who connected me with Waheguru. Waheguru fulfilled all my wishes, and I realized my desired reward from Him. Waheguru was pleased to be kind to me - His slave - and I have been fully absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 5.
I will not love anybody other than my dear Waheguru. How can I connect with the Guru by whose grace I can see my dear Waheguru? Word Meaning: Akuth = indescribable. Kutha = story (of virtues). Soor(i) = gods. Nur = men. Mooni = mystics who stay quiet for long times in an effort to quieten their mind (unsuccessfully); hermits. Sehj(i) = in a peaceful state. Vukhaani = narrate. Amiyo = Amrit-like. Churn Kumul = soft feet like the lotus flower. Rung(u) = love. Alukh(u) = invisible. Chindiya = as desired. Ful(u) = reward. Tuj(i) = by abandoning. Vikaar = vices. Dooja = the other (Maya). Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 1.

By reciting the Amrit-like Bani of the Guru with deep love for the lotus-like soft Feet of Waheguru (His Naam), one attains the spiritual state above Maya. By reciting the Naam of the invisible Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, one receives his desired reward from Him. When one abandons (gets rid of) his ego, vices, and his attachments with Maya, his soul merges with that of Waheguru. It is with the grace of the Guru that a devotee enjoys Waheguru's love, prays Nanak. 1.

By taking shelter of the Guru, all one's misgivings (illusions) and worldly fears are eradicated, and the devotee gets rid of his selfishness and ego as well. By His grace, the Guru connects the devotee to Waheguru, and the devotee never gets separated from Him. I am a slave of Waheguru, and always stay in His shelter, prays Nanak. 2.

I bow to them, and offer my life because they connect one with Waheguru. The Perfect, and the carver of the fates of people, Waheguru is present in every heart, and everywhere. (Life is a gamble where the man trades his virtues to buy the short-lived worldly comforts); but if a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Perfect Guru, he does not lose his precious human life in this gamble. I, Nanak, pray that I am in Your shelter, please protect me, oh God. 3.

MEANING: You have countless virtues; how many of them can I sing the praise of, oh Waheguru? It is only with great fortune that I can have the dust of Your Feet (the opportunity to serve You by singing Your praise), oh Waheguru. If a man takes a shower in the dust of the Feet of Waheguru (sings His praise), he can wash away the filth of his sins, and get rid of the suffering of rebirths. Waheguru is always close to you, inside you and outside in the world. By singing His praise, all my troubles will be eradicated, all will be great for me, and I will not take rebirths. Nanak prays respectfully that one is liked by Waheguru when he takes Guru's shelter; and he swims across the world-sea (gets connected with Waheguru). 4.2.

MEANING: Just like the fish, which feels blissful in water, I am intoxicated with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. I have been preached by the Perfect Guru, as a result of which, I have attained the higher spiritual state, and I love it. The Lord (the source of the high spiritual state), Waheguru, is omniscient and has Himself united me with Him. Waheguru, whose Naam is invaluable like a jewel, is omnipresent and is Perfect; He does not go anywhere to leave His devotees. Waheguru is very wise, is handsome (attractive), and is a know-all (omniscient); nobody can stop His largess to His devotees. I am intoxicated by the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, just as a fish feels blissful in water. 2.

MEANING: Just as a rainbird wishes for the special drop of rain, (I wish for the) Perfect Waheguru, which is the basis of my life, oh, Royal Waheguru. He is dearer to me than all my wealth, my treasures, my sons, my brothers, and my friends. Nobody can know the transcendence (height of the spiritual state) of the omnipresent Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and dearer to me than all. One can enjoy union with Waheguru by reciting the Guru's Shabad and by not forgetting Him for even a single breath, even while eating. The saints (holy devotees) drink and enjoy the sweetness of the Naam of the omnipresent Waheguru, which is the basis of the life of the whole world. They get rid of their misgivings, worldly attractions, and their discomforts by reciting His Naam. Just as the special drop of rain is dear to a rainbird, and he wishes for it, the Perfect Waheguru, is dear to me, oh Nanak. 3.

MEANING: The wall of all my illusions was demolished when I got connected with the Perfect Guru, and the objective of my life was achieved on getting connected with Waheguru (by the grace of the Guru), oh my Majestic Lord. I got connected with the Guru as per my prewritten good fortune, and the Guru connected me with Waheguru, the source of all treasures and always kind to the weak and powerless (humble). Waheguru, which is handsome, is the Guru, and the provider for the whole earth, is also our saviour right from the beginning to the end. Word Meaning: Kirpaal = kind. Jupaat = recite. Ram = Waheguru. Sadh Sungaat = in the company of the Guru.

Word Meaning: Niyaayee = like. Reet(i) = custom. Aanch = heat. Oorjhiyo = tangled Ul(u) = bumble bee. Kumlayh = with the lotus flower. Baasun(i) = fragrance. Mugun = lost in. Khin(u) = moment. Turaiy = avoids; stays away. Huriyaiy = with Waheguru. Seegaar = adornments. Rus = different tastes; enjoyments. Urpiyaiy = offer. Jum Punth = path to the angel of death. Bhuniyaiy = is said. Keerut(i) = praise. Gooniyaiy = of virtues. Praachhut = repentances; sins. Huray = are removed (eradicated). Chhunt = songs of praise. Nayhou = love. 1.
MEANING: The love between milk and water is well known - as long as water is present in the milk, it does not suffer from heat - you too love Waheguru the same way (when Waheguru appears in one's mind, he does not suffer from anything), oh my mind. The bumblebee loves the lotus flower (and other flowers), and while enjoying its fragrance, it completely forgets itself and does not stay away from it even for a short moment; one should also love Waheguru like the bumblebee loves the lotus flower, and not forget Waheguru even for a moment; one should offer (sacrifice) all things of beauty and other enjoyments (luxuries) in life to Him. We hear about the sufferings on the path to the Angel of death, but all such fears go away when a devotee (sings praise of Waheguru) in the company of the holy men. All one's repentances (due to his sins) are eradicated (he is left with no sin to repent about) when he sings the virtues of Waheguru (His praise, is to sing His praise is the true love for Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Love Waheguru the way a fish loves water, which cannot find peace of mind without it, even for a moment, oh my mind. Love Waheguru just the way a rainbird misses (loves) the first drop of rain, and begs the cloud every moment saying, "please cause rain, oh beautiful cloud." Offer your mind for the extreme love of Waheguru, oh my friends. Abandoning all your conceit, seek the shelter of the Guru in order to have a glimpse of Waheguru. MEANING: The love of the ruddy duck for the sun is well known when she spends all her night awake with the full hope of meeting with her companion in the morning, and waiting for the sun to rise. Similarly, the love of the cuckoo for the mango tree is well known when she sings happily sitting on a branch of the tree. You too, enjoy the love of Waheguru (just like the ruddy duck and the cuckoo love the sun and the mango tree, respectively), oh my mind. One must realize that all of us are just visitors on the earth; so, one should have no conceit - only love for Waheguru. When we know that the man is born, and he leaves the world empty-handed, why should one get so attached to the attractions of life (and suffer later)? When one takes Satguru's shelter, all his worldly attachments are terminated, and he achieves immortality (by getting connected with Waheguru). The hunters cover the mouth of an empty, narrow-necked, and round earthenware pot with cloth, and beat it gently at night to produce the music that the deer loves. Mohan = the mind captivating Waheguru. Churn Gujeejaiy = hold feet; surrender. 4.

MEANING: Love Waheguru like the deer which offers its heart (forgets itself and the surroundings) on hearing the music with its ears at night, oh my mind. Offer your mind to the dear Waheguru, and serve Him with dedication like a dedicated wife serves her husband (and lost in his thoughts, she forgets herself). When a human devotee offers her mind to the dear Waheguru, she enjoys His love and all other spiritual enjoyments. On reconnecting with dear Waheguru after a long time, she is imbued with His love so much that she feels as if she is wearing the deep red colour (reflective of complete dedication) of His love. By meditating on the Guru (His Shabad), the devotee is able to “”see” the dear Waheguru with her own (mental) eyes, and finds no one else like Him. Drop on the feet (take His shelter), and sing praise of the kind and the mind-captivating Waheguru; this is the way to show your love for Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.4.

They roam all over the earth and take dips at holy places to meet with Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. The humans, all the vegetation in the forests, the animals, and the birds, all worship Waheguru (obey His laws). But the only way to get united with the kind and the dear Waheguru, and to find salvation, is to recite His Naam in the holy congregation, oh Nanak. 1.

The gods, the Sidh Yogis, and the countless assistants of the gods, sing the virtues of the limitless and the inaccessible Lord, Waheguru, who fulfils all their needs and desires. Countless Indras and countless other gods recite His Naam and hail the Lord. MEANING: Countless goddesses, including Lakshmi, serve Waheguru in countless different ways, and so do the visible and the invisible living beings in the air and the water day and night. The stars, the moon, the sun, the earth, and the sky, and all the living beings with different ways of communication, worship Waheguru and sing His praise (obey His Laws). With Guru's Advice, one's mind is enlightened, and one realizes that Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, is omnipresent. Ung sung(i) laagay, dookh bhaagay, praan, mun, tun, subh huray. Mun ichh paayee, Prubh dhiyaayee, sunjog saaha shoobh guniya. Binvunt(i) Nanak milay Sridhur, sugul aanund rus(u) buniya. 2. ---------

Word Meaning: Sayjurriyay = on the bed. Aadumbur(u) = adornment. Anund(u) = blissfulness. Sookhehgaami = delivering (source of) comforts. Chhaav = zest; gusto. Mungul = joys. Rus Bhuray = full of sweetness. Ung Sung(i) = in the heart. Huray = green; come to life. Ichh = wish. Sunjog = union. Saaha = day; time. Shoobh = auspicious; favourable. Guniya = calculated; arrived. Binvunt(i) = submits humbly. Sridhur = husband of Maya (Waheguru). 2.

MEANING: I felt very blissful when I heard that Waheguru was coming to my heart (I recognized the signs of His arrival), and the bed of my heart was beautifully adorned with His arrival. On getting connected with the Lord, Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, my heart was sweetened with joy and zestfulness. When Waheguru touched my heart, all my suffering disappeared, and my soul, my mind, and my body acquired a new life. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the auspicious time of my union with Him arrived, and my cherished wish was fulfilled. Nanak submits humbly that on connecting with God, there was a sweet blissfulness in my heart. 2.

---------- Mil(i) sukhiyaan poochheh(i) kuhou Kunt neeshaani. Rus(i) praym bhuree, kuchh(u) boal(i) na jaani. Goon goorr, Goopt, Apaar, Kertay, Nigum unt(u) na paaveh(i). Word Meaning: Sukhiyaan = friends. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Neeshaani = identification; signs of union. Praym Rus(i) = sweetness of love. Goorr = deep. Goopt = hidden. Apaar = beyond limits. Nigum = the Vedas. Bhugut(i) Bhaayay = with love and reverence. Dhiyaayay = remember. Soogiyan = Divine Knowledge. Bhaani = liked. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in the love. 3.

MEANING: All my friends came to ask me about the signs of union with Waheguru. But I was so overwhelmed with the love for Waheguru and the sweetness of the union with Him, that I could not utter even a single word (one can only realize, and not explain). The virtues of the invisible and the limitless Creator, Waheguru, are so transcendent that even the Vedas cannot find their end. The only thing one can do is to remember the Lord, and always sing His praise with full dedication and reverence. The devotee, who acquires all the virtues and is full of Divine Knowledge (makes a connection with Waheguru), is loved by Him. The devotee, who is imbued with Waheguru's love, attains the high spiritual state, submits Nanak respectfully. 3.

---------- Sookh sohilurray Hur(i) gaavun laagay. Saajun sersiurray, dookh dooshmun bhaagay. Sookh sehj sersay, Hur(i) Naam(i) rehsay, Prubh(i) Aap(i) kirpa dhaariya. Hur(i) Churn laagay, suda jaagay, milay Prubh Bunvaariya. Shoobh divus aayay, sehj(i) paayay, sugul nidh(i) Prubh paagay. Binvunt(i) Nanak shern(i) Soami, suda Hur(i) jun taagay. 4.1.10.

Word Meaning: Sookh Sohilurray Hur(i) = comforting songs of happiness in praise of Waheguru. Saajun = friendly (senses). Sersiurray = bloomed; flourished. Sehj = blissful state. Sersay = bloomed. Rehsay = pleased. Jaagay = awake; alert. Bunvaariy = wearing a garland of wild flowers (Waheguru). Shoobh Divus = auspicious days. Nidh(i) = treasures. Paagay = (at the) feet. Taagay = lasts till the end. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee sings the comforting songs of Waheguru's praise, all his senses become his friends (come under his control) and flourish in his mind, while all his enemies (the evil thoughts) run away. With the grace of Waheguru, the devotee feels great joy in his heart while reciting His Naam and enjoys the bliss of a high spiritual state. By taking shelter at Waheguru's Feet, the devotee remains alert (against the attacks of Maya) at all times and connects with Waheguru. It is the auspicious time for the devotee when he attains the high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya), and realizes that all comforts and all treasures are at the Feet of Waheguru (in His Naam). Nanak submits respectfully that the love of Waheguru for the devotee in His shelter lasts till the end (forever). 4.1.10.

Assa Mehla 5: Ootth(i) vunj(u) vutaaoorriya, taiyn kiya chur(u) laaya. Moohlut(i) poonnrriya, kit(u) koorr(i) lobhaaya? Koorraiy loobhaaya, dhoh(u) Maya, kureh(i) paap umitiya. Tun(u) bhusm dhayri, Jumeh(i) hayri, kaal bupurraiy jitiya.

(PAGE 460): Maal(u) jobun(u) chhoad(i) vaisi, ruhhiyo pehnin khaaya. Nanak kmaana sung(i) jooliya, neh jaayay kirt(u) mitaaya. 1. ----------

Word Meaning: Ootth(i) = wake up; get ready. Vunj(u) = go; start worshipping Waheguru. Vutaaoorriya = oh visitor (on the earth). Moohlut(i) Poonnirriya = your life is over. Koorr(i) = false worldly affairs. Lobhaaya = captivated by; attached to. Dhoh(u) Maya = deceit of Maya. Umitiya = countless. Bhusm Dhayri = pile of dirt. Jumeh Hayri = watched carefully by the angel of death. Kaal(i) = death. Bupurray = helpless. Vaisi = will leave. Kmaana = the deeds performed. Sung(i) Jooliya = accompanies; goes with. 1.

MEANING: You are only a visitor here in the world; so, get ready (to achieve your real objective of life, and start worshipping Waheguru); why are you taking such a long time, oh man? Your limit of life is over; in what false world affairs are you still attached to? Captivated by the deceitful Maya, you commit countless sins. The Angel of death is watching you carefully, and when death overpowers the helpless man, his body becomes a pile of dirt. He will leave all his wealth and his youth behind, and all his wearing (clothing) and eating will come to stop. However, the deeds (good and bad) performed by him accompany him as they cannot be obliterated, oh Nanak. 1.

---------- Phaathou mirg jivaiyn paykh(i) raiyn(i) chundraayin(u). Sookhoun dookh bhuyay, nit paap kmaayin(u). Paapaan kmaanay chhudeh(i) naahi, laiy chullaiy ghut(i) glaaviya. Hurchundauri daykh(i) moottha, koorr(u) sayja raaviya. Lub(i), lobh(i) ahunkaar(i) maata, gerb(i) bhuyya smaayin(u). Nanak mirg ugiyan(i) binsay, neh mitay aavun(u) jaayin(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Phaathou = trapped. Mirg = deer. Chundraayin(u) = like moon light. Sookhoun = from comforts. Ghut(u) Gulaaviya = putting the rope around; tied up. Hurchundauri = mirage. Moottha = deceived. Sayja Raaviya = enjoyment of bed. Lub(i) = greed to eat. Loabh(i) = greed. Maata = intoxicated. Gerb(i) = in conceit. Smaayin(u) = completely lost in. Ugiyan = lack of knowledge; ignorance. Binsay = gets destroyed; suffers. Mitaiy = not erased. Aavun(u) Jaayin(u) = rebirths. 2.
MEANING: Like the deer, which is trapped by the hunters when they play a special music to which the deer is attracted, and they shine a light on it, which he mistakes for moonlight, the man gets trapped by the captivating Maya. With sins which the man commits every day, his comforts change into suffering. The sins committed by him do not leave him alone, and the agents of the Angel of death tie him up, and take him away. He does not realize that the enjoyments of Maya are just a mirage, and are not real; he gets deceived by them, and the enjoyments in bed turn out to be false (short-lived, and for which he is punished). Intoxicated by the false enjoyments, the man gets completely lost in gluttony, his greed, and his ego. Like the deer, which suffers for his ignorance, the man also suffers consequences of his bad deeds, and the cycle of rebirths for him never gets terminated, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mitthaiy = on the soft raw sugar (jaggery). Mukh = bee. Mooa = stuck to die. Kiyoun = how? Luyyay Oodaari = take flight. Hustee = elephant. Gurt(i) = in a deep pit. Turiyaiy Taari = swim. Doohayla = difficult. Bhuyya = became. Khin(i) meh(i) = in a moment. Khusm(u) = the Lord. Sujaayee = punishment. Goojjha = hidden. Kmaana = deeds performed. Pergut(u) = visible. Eet Ooteh(i) = here and there; everywhere. Khooaari = discomfiture; humiliation. Baajh(u) = without. Moottha = deceived. 3.
MEANING: Like a fly, which gets stuck on a soft nugget of raw sugar (jaggery), and cannot fly away, and dies there; and like an elephant which falls in a deep pit, and cannot come out (and gets trapped), the man who forgets Waheguru, and gets deeply attached to Maya, will find it impossible to swim across the world-sea. His troubles, which he gets into as punishment for his unholy deeds, cannot be counted, but he cannot blame someone else as he reaps the rewards of his own doings. Whatever ignoble deeds he performed secretly, become visible to Waheguru, and he suffers humiliation everywhere (in this world and in the next). The Maya-engrossed and egoist man gets deceived (stripped of good qualities) without the guidance of the Guru, oh Nanak. 3.
------- Hur(i) kay daas jeevay lug(i) Prubh kee Churnee. Kuntth lugaayay leeyay, Tis(u) Tthaakur sherni. Bul, boodh(i), giyan(u), dhiyan(u), Aapna Aap(i) Naam(u) jupaaya.

Word Meaning: Daas = devotees. Jeevay = live; survive. Kuntth(i) Lugaayay = hugs them. Bul = moral strength. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Giyan = knowledge. Dhiyan = concentration. Turaaya = salvaged. Rukhunhaaraiy = the saviour. Nirmul = pure; holy. Kerni = deeds. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru's devotees survive only by taking His shelter (reciting His Naam) when the Lord embraces them (connects them with Him). Waheguru grants them the moral strength, the wisdom, the knowledge, and the ability to concentrate, and makes them recite His Naam with dedication. He serves as the holy congregation (plays the role of the Guru), and salvages the world. The saviour, Waheguru, protects His devotees (from the attacks of Maya) because of which they perform only the holy deeds; and those devotees, who come to the shelter of the Guru, or Waheguru, never go to hell, oh Nanak. 4.2.11.

Binvunt Nanak(u) mayri ichh poonni, milay Jis(u) khojunti. 1. ----------
Word Meaning: Vunj(u) = go away (it is Potthohaari Punjabi). Aalsa = laziness. Raavoun = enjoy. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Sohunti = looks elegant. Sungay = with (in the company of). Kunt = husband. Raaviyaiy = enjoy. Chitaar(i) = remembering. Paykh(i) = to see. Birha = pain of separation. Lujaaya = felt ashamed; disappeared. Amiyo Drishti = Amrit-like sight. Sichunti = irrigated; nourished. 1.
MEANING: I request Waheguru that He order my laziness to depart from me (kill my laziness) so that I may enjoy my union with Him. Like a bride, who looks elegant only in the company of her husband, the devotee-bride looks good (feels blissful) when she is connected with the Lord-husband, and enjoys union with Him day and night. I, too, survive by remembering Waheguru with every breath, and by singing His praise. When I have a holy sight of Waheguru, my pain of separation disappears, and Waheguru irrigates (nourishes) the field of my heart with His life-sustaining Sight. I respectfully submit that I have found the Waheguru I was looking for, and my wish has been fulfilled, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nus(i) Vunjhou = run away. Kilvikhou = oh, sins. Kerta = the Creator (Waheguru). Dooteh = the demons; ignoble sensual pleasures. Dehun(u) = burned down. Pergtay = appeared. Laalun = darling. Vukhaaniya = described; sang praise. Aachurj = amazing. Amiyo = Amrit (the Naam). Voottha = rained. Shaan(i) = peace; blissfulness. Vudhaayee = joy; zestfulness. Mayla = union. 2.

MEANING: Run away, my sins; there is no room for you in my heart now that the Creator, Waheguru, has come to dwell in here. With Gobind (Waheguru) appearing in my heart, the demons have been burned (destroyed). The dear Waheguru, which is also known as Gopal and Gobind, appeared in my mind when I sang His praise in the shelter of the Guru. It was an amazing experience for me that with the grace of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam-Amrit rained on my heart, and my mind became peaceful and joyous. However, even with Waheguru's Naam at heart, no one can find His limits. Nanak submits respectfully that the man is unable to connect with Waheguru with his own efforts; Waheguru Himself arranges for such union whereby the devotee acquires all comforts and blissfulness. 2.

Word Meaning: Deetthrriya = see. Jaiy, Jaiy = hail; acclaim. Dherm = Dhermraj (the Angel of justice). Plaayin = disappear. Dherm = high morality. Dheeruj = patience. Sehj = state of blissfulness. Anugreh(i) = benevolence. Moh Mumta = attachments. Tujay = gave up. Geh(i) = by holding. Kuntth Laayay = hugged. Aghaayin = contented. Pujaayin = delivers; fulfils.

MEANING: A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, is hailed by the Angel of justice, and his agents run away from him; and the devotee does not see hell (experiences no hell-like suffering). A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints, acquires high morality (noble principles), patience, and the comfort of the blissful spiritual state. Waheguru protects His devotee (from the attacks of Maya) with His benevolence, and he (the devotee) gives up all worldly attachments. Waheguru hugs His devotee (showing deep love for him) and connects him with the Guru in whose shelter the devotee recites Waheguru's Naam and becomes fully contented. You, too, remember Waheguru, which will fulfil all your wishes and desires, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Nidh(i) = treasures. Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Kaahrra = worries; irritants. Vus(i) = under the control. Geh(i) = by holding. Bhooja = arm. Deenay = the helpless. Kur(u) = hand. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Viyaapaiy = affects. Amiyo = Amrit.

Akhaarra = battle ground (of the world where the man battles against the sensual pleasures). Oopaarra = uproots; kills. 4.

MEANING: When a devotee drops on the Feet of Waheguru (takes His Shelter), which is the source of all treasures and all supernatural powers, he becomes free from all worries. My Waheguru controls each and everything. He held me, the powerless (a non-entity), by the arm, put His hand on my forehead, and protected me in every way (including the attacks of Maya). When a devotee tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, the world-sea has no effect on him. When a devotee gets imbued in Waheguru's love in the shelter of the Guru, he wins the huge battle against the sensual pleasures. Nanak respectfully submits that when a devotee comes to the shelter of the Lord, he neither dies nor takes rebirths (because he merges into Waheguru). 4.3.12.

Word Meaning: Kmaayayurro = the deeds done. Maathaiy = on the forehead, as a sign of fortune. Lookaayayndurro = hiding. Vaykhee = sees; watches. Saathaiy = with (you). Kernhaara = the Creator. Kaayay = what for. Sookirt(u) = honest labour. Mool(i)= not at all. Bhuj(u) = recite (Naam). Doakh = ignoble deeds. 1.

MEANING: The result of all the deeds that you perform day and night appears on your forehead, oh ignorant man. You do not realize that Waheguru, from whom you hide your deeds, is always with you and watches you closely. When the Creator, Waheguru, is always with you and watches you, why should you commit sins, oh man? Earn your living by honest means, and recite Waheguru's Naam as a result of which you will not go to hell at all, oh my friend. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of holy saints all the twenty-four hours, which will accompany you (to Waheguru's Court), and all your ignoble deeds will be eradicated, oh Nanak. 1.

bhugut Naam(u) adhaara. Binvunt(i) Nanak suda bhujiyaiy, Prubh Aik(u) kernaiyhaara. 2. ------

Word Meaning: Vulvunch = deceit. Oodur = belly; stomach. Gavaara = uncivilized. Dataar(u) = the provider (Waheguru). Nisungay = without any shame (societal pressure). Kool Smooha = the entire clan. Sadhik = those who try to cleanse their bodies. Moon(i) = hermits. Adhaara = basis; support. 2.

MEANING: The foolish and the uncivilized man fills his stomach (earns his living) by deceitful (dishonest) means, and does not realize that the Provider (Waheguru) is providing him with everything that he rightfully needs. Why should one drop Waheguru from his memory when the Provider, Lord, is always kind? Without caring for the prevailing norms of society, if one recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of holy saints, not only he but all his associates are rescued. Waheguru's Naam is the basis of all the Sidh yogis, the yogis who try to cleanse their bodies, the hermits, and His devotees. We should recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the only Creator (and the only Provider), oh Nanak. 2.

----Khoat(u) na keechuyee, Prubh(u) perkhunhaara. Koorr(u) kuput(u) kumaanvdurray junmeh(i) sunsaara. Sunsaar-saagur(u) tinhi turiya, jinhi Aik(u) dhiyaaya. Tuj(i) kaam kroadh(u) anind ninda, Prubh shernaayee aaya. Jul(i), thul(i), muhhiul(i) ruviya Soami, ooch agumm apaara. Binvunt Nanak tayk jun kee, Churn Kumul aasra. 3. ------

Word Meaning: Khoat(u) = dishonesty. Perkhunhaara = evaluator; judge. Koorr(u) = falsehood; dishonesty. Kuput(u) = deceit. Kumaanvdurray = practise. Sunsaar(u) Saagur(u) = the world-sea. Anind = which does not deserve vilification. Ruviya = is present. Ooch = high; transcendent. Agumm = beyond reach. Apaara = beyond limits. Tayk = support; basis. Jun = devotee. 3.

MEANING: One should never practise dishonesty because Waheguru is the final Judge. Those who practise dishonesty and deceit are born again, and again in the world. But, those, who recite Waheguru's Naam (with dedication) swim across the world-sea (are salvaged). Giving up my lust, rage, and unwarranted vilification of others, I have come to Waheguru's shelter. Waheguru, which is highly transcendental, physically inaccessible, and limitless, is present in the water, on the land, and in the sky. Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) is the basis of the spiritual life of His devotees, submits Nanak respectfully. 3.

---------- Paykh(u) hurchundaururri, usthir(u) kichh(u) naahi. Maya rung jaytay, so sung(i) na jaahi. Hur(i) sung(i) saathi suda tayray, dinus(u) raiyn(i) smaaliyaiy. Binvunt(i) Nanak(u) vudbhaag(i) paayiyaiy, sookh sehj(i) smaahi. 4.4.13.

Word Meaning: Paykh(u) = see; consider. Hurchundaururri = mirage; not real. Usthir = everlasting. Rung = attractions. Jaytay = all those. Smaaliyaiy = remember. Bhaaou Dootiya = love for the other (Maya). Jaaliyaiy = burn; destroy. Jobun(u) = youthfulness; beauty. Maal(u) = wealth. Serbus(u) = all those. 4.

MEANING: View the world as a mirage (false; perishable); there is nothing that lasts forever, oh man. All those attractions and enjoyments of Maya (that you see and enjoy) do not accompany you to the next world. Only Waheguru is with you all the time (is your permanent companion), so remember Him day and night. There is nothing other than Waheguru, which is permanent; so, we should burn our love for the other (Maya). Love Waheguru, as if He is your only friend, your youthfulness, and your wealth. But He can be realized only with great fortune when the devotee attains the spiritual state above Maya, and enjoys blissfulness, submits Nanak(u) respectfully. 4.4.13.

Word Meaning: Kumla = Maya. Bherm bheet(i) = wall of illusions (gimmicks). Teekhun = very sharp. Mud = intoxicant. Bipreet(i) = opposite to the prevalent customs (path of righteousness). Uvdh = span of life. Akaaruth = meaningless; goes waste. Jaat = is spent. Ghor Gehbur = very dense (dark). Bun = forest. Greh(i) = house; mind. Moosut = being deceived; stealing. Dinkuro = sun. Khaat = consuming. Bihaat = being spent. Kroonaputay = source of mercy. Gutay = high spiritual state. Kool = clan. Roop = beauty. Dhoop = fragrance (of virtues). Heeni = without; empty of. Maat = mother (shelter). Ker joarr(i) = with folded hands. Nurhur = Waheguru. 1.
MEANING: The gimmicks of Maya create a wall between the man and Waheguru, oh man. It does have a strong intoxicating effect, but it is misleading and takes one away from the path of righteousness, and his precious human life is spent wastefully. The world of Maya is like a dense, dark forest where man cannot find the true path of life, and the mind-thief steals his virtues. Each day, it eats away at his life. Without Waheguru's Naam, time eats away one's life, which goes away wastefully; so, I request the source of mercy, Waheguru, to kindly connect me with Him. The man goes through countless lives and deaths, but there is no spiritual gain without Waheguru's Naam (and he will continue to be in the death-birth cycle). I do not belong to a high clan, have no physical beauty, and no fragrance of virtues, and there is no one to provide shelter to me other than You, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter, and beg You with folded hands, to please, salvage me. 1.

Word Meaning: Meena = fish. Jul = water. Kheen = weak. Kut = how. Priya = dear (water). Sunmukh = facing (the target). Baan = arrows. Mirg = deer. Urpay = offers. Baydhiyo = pierced. Sehj = blissful. Sroat = sound (of music he loves). (See Chhunt 11 verse 2). Priya = dear (Waheguru). Baiyraagi = fully dedicated devotee of Waheguru. Khin Rehan = live even for a moment. Dhrig = shameful; condemnable. Pulka = eyelids. Paagaiy = (with the) feet. Chitvunt(i) = thinks of. Sri-Rung = Waheguru. Raatay = imbued. Maatay = intoxicated. Dootiya = others. Khoat = remove completely. Muyya = kindness. Duyya = pity; mercy. Duyaal = kind. Poorun = full of. Mugun = fully absorbed. 2.

MEANING: The fish feels very weak by mind and by body (and eventually dies) without water. How can he live without water? Attracted to the blissful music which he likes, the deer offers his mind, his body, and his life when he faces the arrows of the hunters, and is pierced by them. Similarly, a fully dedicated devotee, who renounces the world for his love for Waheguru, considers his life condemnable if he has to stay away from Waheguru even for a moment, and begs Waheguru to connect him with Him. He is so deeply attached to the Feet of his Dear (Waheguru's Naam) that he always thinks about Him, and cannot shut his eyes (go to sleep). Those devotees, who are imbued in Waheguru's love, and are intoxicated with His Naam, are free from all worldly fears, and the illusions of Maya. Please be kind and merciful to me, so that Nanak may get fully absorbed in Your love, oh the perfect source of kindness, Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Aliul = bumble bee. Goonjaat = hums. Mukrund = pollen. Baasun = fragrance. Maat = fully absorbed. Kumul = lotus. Bundhaavut = gets trapped. Chaatrik = waterbird, the bird which drinks only the first rain drop (See Chhunt 3, verse 3). Piyaas = thirst. Ghun Boond = drop from the clouds. Buchittar(i) = strange. Ul = Ul(i) = intoxicating (causing blissfulness) liquid (Waheguru's Naam). Binsut = get destroyed. Taap = discomforts. Ut(i) Ghunaa = immense. Chutur(u) = intelligent. Soojaan(u) = know-all; wise. Bhunaa = utter; sing. Geh(i) = hold. Bhooja = arm. Deisht(i) Dhaarut = casting kind sight. Jumpaiy = recites. Putit Paavun = purifier of the immoral. Suntaap = suffering. 3.

MEANING: The bumblebee hums on the lotus flower, and loves the sweet smell of the pollen so much so that it gets fully absorbed in the smell, completely forgetting that the pollen is sticky, and it would be trapped in the petals. Similarly, the waterbird is thirsty of, and loves the first rain drop so much that he always thinks about it, and begs the clouds to cause rain. The man should also love the intoxicating Waheguru's Naam (like the fish loves water and the rainbird loves the first rain drop) to have all his discomforts eradicated. When a man gets connected with Waheguru because of his immense love for Him, all his discomforts and his suffering get eradicated. Waheguru is so attractive, so intelligent, and so wise, that I do not have the tongue to sing His virtues. Please hold me by the arm, and grant me Your Naam, oh Waheguru; Your kind sight eradicates all the sins. I recite the Naam of Waheguru which purifies the immoral, and seeing whom, all sufferings are killed, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Chitvoun = think of. Chit = mind. Nath = Lord; God. Shern = in Your shelter. Anaath = orphan; support less. Chaayilay = full of zest. Loobudh = greedy. Giyan = Divine Knowledge (making a connection with God). Jaachuk = beggar. Maan Poorun = bestows honour. Bideerun = destroyer. Kuntth Laagay = hugs. Nah = Nath; Lord. Sayj = bed (of heart). Sohuntiya = looks pretty. Moorari = God. Kulmul = sins. Haan = go in loss; are destroyed. Sri-Dhur = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: I think of the Lord in my mind, and pray to Him: Please, keep me, the shelter-less, in Your shelter; please, connect me with You as my soul feels zestful on meeting with You. Your beautiful Feet are the focus of my mind, and my mind is full of greed for Your Divine Knowledge (to get connected with You); I am a beggar at Your Door, please save my honour (fulfil my wish), oh Lord. Waheguru saves your honour (against the attacks of Maya), is the destroyer of all suffering, and fulfills all your wishes. That day is lucky for a devotee when Waheguru hugs him, and the bed of his heart becomes very attractive (comforting) when he gets connected with Him. When Waheguru casts His kind sight on a devotee, the latter gets connected with Him (Waheguru), and all the sins of the devotee are destroyed. All my wishes were fulfilled when the treasure of all virtues, Waheguru, connected me with Him, submits Nanak respectfully. 4. 1.14.35.

Ek Onkar Sat(i) Naam, Kerta, Purakh(u), Nirbhuou, Nirvair(u), Akal Moorut(i) Ajooni Saibhunn(g) Gur Persad(i).

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being whose existence is (Laws are) eternal. He is the creator and is omnipresent (living power). He is fearless (because He has no superior and is above all natural laws). (See Sloak 1 after Paurri 3). He bears no enmity (because He has no rival) for anyone (and is perfectly just). Time has no effect on His Persona, and He never takes any life form. He is self-illuminated and can be realized only with the grace of the Guru (Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru).

Assa Mehla 1: Vaar Sloakaan Naal(i), sloak bhee Mehlay Pehlay kay Likhay.
Toonday Asraajay kee dhooni.

NOTE: A Vaar is a type of lyric which used to be sung by bards on stages to narrate some story of bravery (or a short epic) to inspire people. Vaars did inspire people. So, Guru Nanak Sahib thought of vaars as a medium for singing the praise of Waheguru and used them for this sole purpose. He wrote three Vaars, one each in Raag Maajh, Raag Assa, and Raag Mulhaar. The other Gurus also wrote vaars in praise of Waheguru. There are 22 Vaars in Guru Granth Sahib as follows.

Guru Nanak Sahib = 3
Guru Amar Dass Ji = 4
Guru Ram Dass Ji = 8
Guru Arjun Dev Ji = 6
Satta and Bulvund = 1

Total = 22

The Vaars were written in verses, called paurris, and were intended to have some sloaks with them, but the sloaks were not necessarily written at the same time as the vaars. The appropriate sloaks were selected by Guru Arjun Sahib later to match the paurris (have similar meanings). Guru Arjun Sahib advised that, wherever possible, the vaars be sung to the tunes of popular folk vaars so that people can memorize them easily and sing Waheguru's praise. Assa Dee Vaar is advised to be sung on the tune of the vaar about "Toonda Asraaj". "Toonda or Tunda" means a person with severed hand(s). Asraaj was a handsome young son of an aged rajah who married a young and beautiful girl. The new wife of the rajah was attracted to Asraaj who did not approve the new queen's advances. When Asraaj told the new queen in no uncertain terms that he would not yield to her immoral advances, the queen complained to the Rajah, blaming Asraaj of sexual assault. The Rajah became so furious that he did not listen to any appeal of Asraaj, and ordered that his hands be severed and later be killed. However, the executioner believed Asraaj's story and did not kill him. He did sever his hands and threw him in an open well in a deserted place. By Providence, a passerby heard cries from the well and pulled Asraaj out. Asraaj healed completely and was made the rajah of a neighbouring state. The bards began to sing vaars about him.

Assa Dee Vaar, which has 24 paurris (verses) and 59 sloaks, is a very popular composition of Guru Nanak Sahib, and is recited in every Gurdwara early in the morning as a regular feature. In addition to Waheguru's praise on many fronts written in a mesmerizing language, the Vaar also attacks the common misbeliefs and superstitions prevalent at the time, and enlightens the masses, showing them the true path of life. It also illuminates the role of the Guru in our spiritual life.

Sloak(u) Mehla1: Bulihaari Gur aapnay, diyohaarri sud vaar. Jin(i) maanus tay dayvtay keeyay, kert na laagi vaar. 1.

Word Meaning: Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice life. Diyohaarri = day. Sud = hundreds. Maanus = human being. Kert = in doing so. No Vaar = No time. 1.

MEANING: I would love to sacrifice my life (be His slave) hundreds of times a day for my Guru, who transforms humans into gods (holy men) and takes no time to do so. 1.

(ਅੰਗ 463)॥ ਮਹਲਾ 2॥ ਜੇ ਸਉ ਚੰਦਾ ਉਗਵਹਿ ਸੂਰਜ ਚੜਹਿ ਹਜਾਰ॥ ਏਤੇ ਚਾਨਣ ਹੋਦਿਆ ਗੁਰ ਬਿਨੁ ਘੋਰ ਅੰਧਾਰ॥ 2॥

(PAGE 463): Mehla 2: Jay suou chunda oogveh(i), sooruj churreh(i) hajaar. Aitay chaanun hoandiyaan, Gur bin(u) ghor undhaar. 2.

Word Meaning: Suou = hundred. Chunda = moon. Oogveh(i) = grow; rise. Chaanun = brightness; light. Ghor = immense. Undhaar = darkness. 2.

MEANING: If there were hundreds of moons and thousands of suns in the sky to give off light, there would still be deep darkness (in the minds of the people) without the Guru.2.

ਮ:1॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰੂ ਨ ਚੇਤਨ੍ਹੀ ਮਨਿ ਆਪਣੈ ਸੁਚੇਤ॥ ਛੂਟੇ ਤਿਲ ਬੂਆੜ ਜਿਉ ਸੁੰਞੇ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਖੇਤ॥ ਖੇਤੈ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਛੁਟਿਆ ਕਹੁ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਉ ਨਾਹ॥ ਫਲੀਅਹਿ ਫੁਲੀਅਹਿ ਬਪੁੜੇ ਭੀ ਤਨ ਵਿਚਿ ਸੁਆਹ॥3॥

Word Meaning: Chaytni = think of; remember. Soochayt = alert; wise. Chhootay = are left behind. Til Booaarr = a sesame plant which has only ash in its pods and no sesame seed, as if it were burned (rotten). Soonjaiy = deserted. Khayt = field. Naah = master; owner. Fuliyeh(i) Fooliyeh(i) = flourish. Bupurray = poor; helpless. 3.

MEANING: Some of the people think themselves to be very clever (in the realm of Maya), but never think of Waheguru, oh Nanak. They are left ignored by Waheguru like a rotten sesame plant, which is ignored (not harvested) by the owner, and is left behind in the deserted field. Left behind in the deserted field, the rotten sesame plant may have many owners who could use it for different purposes (for example as fuel or as a sweeper), but it will have no real owner for the purpose it was cultivated for. Similarly, the Maya-engrossed individual will have no owner (Guru) who could lead him to union with Waheguru which is the real objective of human life. Like the rotten sesame plant, such individuals may flourish in the world of Maya, but will have only ash (ignoble qualities) in their bodies (minds). 3.

Word Meaning: Saajiyo = Ruchiyo = created. Naaoun = Laws. Dooyee = the other; second. Koodrut(i) = nature. Toos(i) = pleasingly. Pusaao = spreading; giving. Jaanoyee = know-all; omniscient. Kuvaaou = word; Huqam. Aasun(u) = place to sit (to manage); throne. Chaaou = with zest. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru created Himself, and also the Laws to govern the universe. Next, He created the nature (the visible world), and now sitting on His throne, He is watching it with zest. He is the Creator and the Provider, and because of His kind nature, He gives His gifts pleasingly to the living beings, and keeps giving them (never stops giving them) He knows everything about His creation, and takes away life of living beings after giving it to them with His Huqam. He is watching his creation with zest from His throne. 1.

Sachi Tayri sift(i), sachi salaah. Sachi Tayri koodrut(i) Sachay Patshah. Nanak Sach(u) dhiyaayin(i) Sach(u). Jo mur(i) jummay, su kuch(u) nikuch(u).

Word Meaning: Sachay = for real; everlasting. Khund = Parts of the universe; planets. Brahmund = universe. Loe = worlds. Aakaar = heavenly bodies. Kernay = creations. Amar = Huqam; Will. Deebaan(u) = Court; justice. Foormaan = Order; Will. Kerm = benevolence; largesse. Neeshaan = identity; stamp of approval. Taan(i) = strengths. Joar(i) = forces. Salaah = Sift(i) = praise. Sach(u) = immortal. Kuch(u) Nikuch(u) = absolutely weak (vey low) in noble qualities; will take rebirths.

MEANING: (Contrary to the belief of some people that the world is not real and is only a dream), Your planets and Your universe are all real, oh Waheguru. All Your worlds and all heavenly bodies are for real. Your Reign and Your Court (Justice) are everlasting, and so are Your Huqam (Laws) and Your Command. Your benevolence and Your stamp of approval (of individuals) are also eternal. Millions of people describe You (Your Virtues such as Your gifts, and strengths, etc.) as being everlasting, oh, the eternal Waheguru. Your praise is everlasting (it surely connects the devotee with You). Your (system of) creation is also everlasting. Those who worship the eternal Waheguru also become immortal by merging into Him, but those who take births and keep dying have no noble qualities (no significant spirituality) and will keep taking births and dying, oh Nanak. 1.

Vuddi vudiyaayee, pooch(i) na daat(i). Vuddi vudiyaayee, ja Aapay Aap(i). Nanak kaar na kuthnee jaayay. Keeta kerna serb rujaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Vudiyaayee = greatness; magnificence. Vuddi = transcends. Naaoun = Laws; nature. Niyaayoun = justice. Nihchul = permanent. Aalaaou = requests of the living beings. Boojhaiy = knows. Bhaaou = love; feelings. Daat(i) = largesse. Kaar = tasks. Kuthnee = describe. Rujaayay = Will.

MEANING: Waheguru's magnificence is great because His system of laws is great (looking after His creation well, delivering full justice, and keeping the universe in order). His magnificence is great because He delivers full justice, and because His throne is eternal (He will be the only Supreme Being ever). His magnificence is great because He knows the feelings and the needs of His creation without them (the living beings) saying anything. His magnificence is great, because He grants His gifts without being asked. His magnificence is great because He is the sovereign (and has no rival or superior). His deeds cannot be described, and whatever is happening in the universe, happens by His own Will, oh Nanak.2.

Word Meaning: Kotthrri = a small room to dwell. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Ikknah = some. Smaayay = absorbs (in Him). Vinaas(u) = destruction. Bhaanaiy = with His Will. Kuddh(i) Luyyay = pulls out. Nivaas(u) = live in; deeply engrossed. Raas(i) = suits the needs; serves the purpose. Gurmukh(i) = devotee. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. 3.

MEANING: This world is the dwelling of Waheguru, and He resides in it. He absorbs some of the human beings in Himself (connects them with Him) while He destroys the spirituality (noble qualities) of others (by keeping them engrossed in Maya) by His Huqam (judgment). He pulls some out of their deep involvement in Maya while keeping the others engrossed. However, it cannot be predicted which situation will suit an individual (meet his objective) (for example, it is possible for a very rich person to spend his wealth on noble causes to serve humanity). Only that lucky individual can be considered a real devotee, who is enlightened by Waheguru Himself, oh Nanak. 3.

Tayraiy Naayay ruttay say jin(i) guyyay, haar(i) guyyay s(i) tthuggun vaaliya. Likh(i) naavaiy Dherm(u) buhaaliya. 2.

Word Meaning: Oppaayay kaiy = having created. Likh(i) Naavaiy = to record accounts of deeds. Dherm(u) = (mythical) Angel of justice. Nibbrraiy = final decision. Choon(i) Vukh Kuddhay = sorts out. Jujmaaliya = (mentally) sick (sinners). Koorriyaar = dealers in falsehood (deceitful). Dojuk(i) = hell. Ruttay = imbued. Jin(i) guyyay = winners (in the game of life). Tthuggun Vaalay = deceitful.

MEANING: After creating the living beings, Waheguru appointed the Angel of justice to record the accounts of deeds performed by them, oh Nanak. There (in Waheguru's Court), the decisions are based purely on truth; the sinners are sorted out and separated. The dealers of falsehood (fraudulent) find no room there, and are sent to hell with their faces blackened (disgraced). The devotees, who are imbued in Your Naam, win the battle of life (achieve the objective of union with You) while the deceitful lose the game of life (and are sent to be reborn), oh Waheguru. Waheguru has appointed the Angel of Justice to record the accounts of deeds, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vismaad(u) = mesmerizing. Naad = music. Vayd = the Vedas; knowledge. Bhayd = differences. Roop = forms. Rung = colours. Khadeh(i) = displays its different effects and forms. Vidaani = amazing. Khaani = sources of reproduction. Saad = tastes. Sunjoag(u) = union. Vijoag = separation. Bhoag = enjoying food. Sift(i) = Salaah = praise. Oojhurr = wilderness; lost from the right path. Raah = the clear (right) path. Haajra Hujoor(i) = present close by. Vidaan(u) = amazing feats. 1.

NOTE: Guru Nanak Sahib sees Waheguru everywhere and in everything, and is mesmerized by the ways He presents (shows) Himself in nature. Everything in nature mesmerizes Guru Sahib. But one has to have a high spiritual level to appreciate this holy Shabad.

MEANING: I am mesmerized by the many different varieties of sounds produced by living and nonliving things, as well as by those of music. The Vedas and the other sources of knowledge are also mesmerizing. I also get mesmerized by the variety of living beings and by the differences among them in terms of their forms and colours. It is also mesmerizing to note how the animals survive (in extreme weather conditions) without any protection from clothes. The importance of air and water, and their easy availability, is also mesmerizing. The way fire (energy) displays its power in different forms (appearing as lightning, dispelling cold, changing landscapes around volcanoes, and even under the surface of water in oceans, and so on), and how it can also be highly destructive, is mesmerizing. It is amazing to see the earth as the source of infinite things, and the different ways in which living beings reproduce. How the living beings, especially humans, enjoy so many different tastes with the same tongue is mesmerizing. The effects of union and separation are mesmerizing. I am mesmerized by the system of appetite (some animals can go without food for days or even for months, while some others keep eating), and by the different ways living beings are fed. The different ways to sing Waheguru's praise are also mesmerizing. It is also mesmerizing to see how, living in the same world, different men follow different paths – some the path of righteousness, while others are completely misled. It is also mesmerizing to note that some people find Waheguru far away, while others find Him very close. I am completely mesmerized to see amazing things in nature. But only some very lucky people attain this spiritual state to experience such mesmerization (to appreciate Waheguru's nature), oh Nanak. 1.

Subh Tayri koodrut(i), Toon Qadir(u) Kerta, paaki Naayee paak(u). Nanak Huqamaiy undar(i) vaykhaiy, vertaiy taako taak.2.

Word Meaning: Koodrut(i) = nature; Waheguru's presence; His Laws. Bhuou = (respectful) fear; obeying His Will. Saar(u) = supreme. Pataaleen = in the underworlds. Aakaar = universe. Kutaybaan = the religious books of the West (Quran, Bible, Torah etc.). Jinseen = different kinds. Naykiyaan = noble deeds. Budiyaan = ignoble deeds. Abimaan(u) = disrespect; insult. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Khaak(u) = dust. Qadir(u) = designer. Kerta = creator. Paaki = holy; pious. Nayee = praise; greatness. Taako Taak = alone; solely. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is visible and can be heard through His nature (in which He is present). Living in His respectful fear (obeying His Will) is a source of supreme comfort. He is present in nature everywhere - in the underworlds, in the skies, and in the whole universe. Waheguru's nature is discussed in the Vedas, in the Puranas, in the religious books of the Western world, and in discussions. All the processes of eating, drinking, and wearing (what we can eat, drink, and wear) as well as the natural feeling of love, are all governed by natural laws. Waheguru's nature shows in different forms of life on earth (in different kinds, and in different colours). Nature is also reflected in noble and ignoble deeds, and in respect or disrespect of the man. Nature also shows itself in the air, in water, in fire and in the dust of the earth (they are all regulated by natural laws). It is all Your nature, and You are its designer and the creator, oh Waheguru. Your magnificence lies in Your piousness and in Your purity. Waheguru looks after His creation using His laws, and He solely governs the universe, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Bhoag = (enjoyment of) worldly materials. Bhusmurr = pile of ash. Bhaur = soul. Sidhaaya = went away. Vudda Hoa = beyond old age (died). [Until about 1980s, the use of the word "death" was avoided as far as possible. Even when a lamp was to be put out, the elderly women used to say "lamp vudda kur(i) diyou"]. Doonidaar = family man. Sungul = chain. Ghut(i) = by putting. Chulaaya = taken away. Uggaiy = in the next world (Waheguru's Court). Kerni Keerut(i) = deeds performed. Vaachiyaiy = reviewed. Laykha = account. Thaaoun = room. Puoudeeyee = being hit with shoes; taking punishment. Roovaaya = cries. 3.

MEANING: Having enjoyed the worldly materials that were destined to be in his life (fate), the soul of the man leaves his body, which turns into dust. After the death of the family man (who stayed engrossed in Maya), the agents of the Angel of death put chains around his neck, and take him away to produce him before Waheguru. The accounts of his deeds are reviewed there, and explained to him. He does not find any room (to hide) when he is given the punishment he deserves due to his ignoble deeds, and there is nobody to listen to his cries. The blind man wastes away his precious human life.

Bhaiy vich(i) aaveh(i) jaaveh(i) poor. Sugliyaan bhuou likhiya sir(i) laykh(u). Nanak nirbhuou Nirunkaar Sach(u) Aik. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy = respectful fear; Waheguru's laws. Sudvaaou = always. Duriyaayo = rivers. Vaygaar(i) = service without any reward. Dubbi Bhaar(i) = pressed (constrained) under some weight; force of gravitation. Ind(u) = the god of rain; clouds. Sir Bhaar(i) = on its head (upside down) (because the rain falls downwards and not upwards). Raja Dherm = Dherm Raj = the Angel of justice. Koh = a unit of length or distance; (koh = 2.2 km). Soornath = the king of the gods. Aadaanaiy = stretched. Jodh Muha Bul Soor = gallants; valiant (who have conquered their mind and the five demons). Aaveh(i) Jaaveh(i) = are born and die. Poor = large groups of people. 1.

MEANING: The air always moves, and millions of rivers flow according to the laws of nature (Waheguru). The fire performs its duties without any reward as directed by Waheguru's laws, and the earth is suppressed under some weight to keep it in position (in its orbit). (Here, Guru Sahib alludes to the force of gravitation; otherwise, what will the term "weight" imply? Similarly, what will the word "constrained " imply other than the force of gravity? He did not want to use the word for gravity directly, because He was not here to teach us science.

The clouds also float upside down (the water drops of rain are at the bottom, and not on the top of the clouds) in the sky in keeping with Waheguru's laws. Even the Angel of Justice (actually there is none) serves at the door of Waheguru (he has no independent portfolio). Even the moon and the sun obey Waheguru's laws when they move millions of kilometres with no end. All the Sidh yogis, the Buddhas, and the king of the gods are governed by Waheguru's laws, and so are the stretched skies. All the gallant and the valiant (those who have conquered their minds) obey Waheguru's Command, and huge groups of people come and go (take births and die) governed by His laws. All the living beings have their fortunes written on their foreheads as per the laws of Waheguru. It is the eternal Waheguru alone which is not subject to any laws, oh Nanak. 1.

(PAGE 465): Giyan na gulleen dhoondhiyaiy, kuthnaa kur-rra saar(u). Kerm(i) milaiy ta paayiyaiy, hoar(i) hikmut(i) huqam(u) khooaar(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Nirunkaar(u) = the formless God. Kaytay = many; countless. Ram = god Rama. Ruvaal = dust of feet. Kunnh = Krishna. Kuhaaniyaan = stories. Mungtay = beggars. Girr Moorr(i) = repeatedly. Pooreh Taal = dance steps matching the music. Bazaari = stage performers. Kudheh(i) Bazaar = give performance. Aal pataal = meaningless talk. Tukiyaan (Tuka) = a rupee (or commonly a 1/32 rupee). Moondrray = large earrings. Haar = necklace. Chhaar = ash. Hikmut(i) = cleverness. Huqam = claim as a right. Khooaar(u) = discomfiture. 2.

MEANING: Only Waheguru is fearless (above any laws) while countless individuals like god Rama, are the dust of His feet (are His slaves and obey His Command), oh Nanak. There are many stories associated with Krishna, and many ideas from the Vedas (which all obey Waheguru's Command, meaning one cannot find salvation or connect with God by worshiping them). Countless beggars dance to music in the streets and repeatedly try to match their dancing steps with the music, with the belief that they are pleasing their deity. Similarly, many street performers give performances, play the roles of kings and queens, and talk about meaningless things to earn money and please their deity. All this happens in keeping with the laws of nature. Then, there are some rich people who flaunt their wealth by wearing large earrings and necklaces worth millions of rupees, but they do not realize that the bodies they love to adorn will eventually become dust. One cannot acquire Divine Knowledge (make a connection with Waheguru) simply by talking about Him; it is extremely difficult, like chewing iron, even to describe (what things or deeds please God). It is only by God's benevolence that one can connect with Him; all other means of shrewdness and claims as a right are fruitless and lead to discomfiture. 2.

Word Meaning: Nudr(i) = kind sight. Jeaou = man. Bhermiya = went through. Jayvud = as great. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Guvaaya = lost; got rid of. 4.

MEANING: If Waheguru casts a kind sight on some of His devotees, he gets connected with Satguru. When the man goes through many life forms, Waheguru connects him with Satguru to receive the proper advice. There is no other benefactor as great as Satguru in this world, listen, oh, the people of the world. Satguru explains the Truth and only Truth to His devotees (the path of righteousness and how to connect with Waheguru). Those who get connected with Satguru, and are able to kill their selfishness and their ego with His grace, realize Waheguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Ghurriyaan = a small unit of time (24 min). Gopiyaan = cowgirls (friends of Sri Krishna). Pehray = a larger unit of time (3 hours). Kunh Gopal = Krishna. Gehnay = ornaments. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Avtaar = gods. Maal(u) = possessions. Dhun(u) = wealth. Vertun(i) = life style; money for daily needs. Junjaal = bonds of Maya. Moosaiy = is cheated. Vihooni = without; devoid of. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. 1.

MEANING: (The acts that the stage-performers perform, giving the people the impression that they are worshipping God, are spiritually totally worthless. They do so to earn money only. The real acts of praise for Waheguru are performed in nature all the time. The stage actors believe in Krishna as God, and play the roles of Krishna and his cowgirl friends on the stage. However, Waheguru is being praised in nature all the time as obeying His Laws is the same thing as praising Him. For example, time, passing in the form of ghurrees, and pehrs, is obeying Waheguru's Laws, and is akin to the role of the Gopis, and Krishna played by the actors. The stage actors wear ornaments while playing their respective roles; in nature, air, water, and fire serve as the ornaments with the moon and the sun as gods (people believe in them as gods), which obey Waheguru's Laws (and thus sing His praise). The stage actors sing praise of Krishna, and collect money from the people (not from Krishna), but in nature, the deity – Waheguru - gives the whole earth (everything that is produced in it, in the form of all possessions and the wealth) to all His living beings for their daily needs, and also binds them with Maya to keep them occupied; and they do not even need to sing His praise for that. Because of the lack of Divine Knowledge, the whole world is being deceived by Maya's attractions, and the Angel of Death is consuming it, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vaayin(i) = play musical instruments. Chaylay = disciples; assistants. Gur = leader. Raava = dust. Jhaata = (unruly) hair. Pooreh(i) Taal = dancing steps matching the music. Pichhaarreh(i) = throw against. Kerm(i) = benevolence. Churraaou = high spirits. Bhinni = moist; comforting; blissful. Rain(i) = night (of life). Sikhi = learned. Lunghaayay Paar(i) = ferries across. Kohloo = oil mill. Churkha = spinning wheel. Chuckee = (the stones) of the flour mill. Chuck(u) = potter's wheel. Thul(i) Vaaroalay = whirlwind. Ununt = countless. Laatoo = spinners. Madhaaniyaan = churners. Unn-gaah = crude thrashers to separate grain from the shells (or pods). Punkhee = hand fans. Bhaundiyaan = while spinning. Na Saah = without rest. Sooyay Chaarr(i) = mounted on a pin. Junt = machine; pinwheel. Bundhun Bundh(i) = bonds of life (Maya). Bhuvaayay = takes through many life forms. Soyay = the same (Waheguru). Puyyiyaiy Kirt = predestined to do deeds based on his deeds of previous lives. Ood(i) na jaayee = cannot get free. Sidh = successful. Chaaou = gusto; zest. Bhaaou = love. 2.

MEANING: While giving a performance on the stage (which normally is dusty ground), the self-proclaimed guru (leader of the group) dances while his assistants play the musical instruments. They move their feet and turn their heads. With the movements of their feet, dust rises and covers their heads at which the onlookers laugh and go to their homes. They dance to the tune of the music and throw themselves against the ground to entertain people so as to earn bread and butter. They sing as they perform the roles of the Gopis, Krishna, Sita, and Rama. But they do not remember Waheguru which is fearless, formless, has everlasting existence, and is the creator of the whole universe. Those devotees, who serve Him due to His benevolence, are always in high spirits. The night of life of those, who serve Him zestfully becomes very pleasant and blissful. Those, who learn to worship Waheguru by taking the Advice of the Guru, are ferried across the sea of Maya (are salvaged) with Waheguru's kind sight.

The misguided stage performers, who believe that they can please their deity simply by spinning around while dancing, should realize that if God could be pleased simply by spinning, then all the spinning objects like, the oil mills, the spinning wheel, the flour mill, the potter's wheel, countless whirlwinds on the land, the spinners, the churners, and the grain thrashers, would all be God's favourites because they all spin. Not only these, the fans spin without any rest, the pinwheels, and many other countless objects spin. Actually, it is due to God's Will that some people dance and spin as they are destined to do so as a result of their deeds in previous lives, which they committed because of their bonds with Maya. Everybody is dancing in one form or another to enjoy life. They have fun while dancing, but have to cry when leaving this world as they would be taken through many life forms. They cannot free themselves from the bonds of Maya and cannot succeed in achieving their objective of life. Dancing, and jumping around may be fun, but it cannot connect one with Waheguru. Only those truly love Waheguru who have His respectful fear in mind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nirunkaar = the formless Waheguru. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Guvaayiyaiy = lose (respect or credibility). Lorreh(i) Chunga = wish good (for self). Poonnhou = noble deeds; donate for charity. Neech(u) = low caste. Jurvaana = the evil and powerful Angel of death. Purhuraiy = push away; avoid. Jur(u) = old age. Vays = in the garb of. Bhuriyaiy Paayiyaiy = when the paayee gets full and sinks (when the time is over). (In olden days, time was measured by placing a standard flat-bottomed metal bowl with some holes in the bottom, called the Paayee, on the surface of water. Water would enter the paayee through the holes, and it would eventually, sink. The time taken by the paayee to sink was called a Ghurree (24 minutes). 5.

MEANING: Your Naam is the most important thing for the man, oh Waheguru; by reciting Your Naam, one does not go to hell. Man's body and soul belong to Waheguru, which provides delicious food to the man without being asked; so, there is no need for the man to beg for food from Waheguru. Actually, begging lowers a man's credibility. If the man wishes good for himself, he should do the noble deeds (like giving to charities and serving the people) and consider himself a low-caste (humble). Without Waheguru's Naam at heart, the man is always afraid of death and tries to avoid the evil and powerful Angel of death. However, the old age (which brings death close), does show up after all, and nobody can stay in this world when his time is up. 5.

Word Meaning: Musalmaan = a Muslim. Shruyiut(i) = the religious laws of the Muslims. Bunday = slaves; devotees. Say = those. Bundee = chained in restrictions (obey the religious laws). Deedaar(u) = (holy) sight. Salaahee = worthy of praise. Dershun(i) = Shastras. Roop(i) Apaar(u) = having extreme beauty. Urcha Pooja = worship with flowers and other offerings. Agurvaas(u) = sandalwood. Behkaar(u) = fragrance. Soonn(i) = in meditation where no thoughts of Maya originate. Alukh = incomprehensible. Sookhum = micro-sized. Moorut(i) = persona. Aakaar = universe. Sutiyaan = philanthropists. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Sehsa Goona = thousand times. Yaar = womanizer. Koorriyaar = deceitful; Maya-worshipper. Kharaab = bad; evil. Vaykaar = immoral acts; sensual pleasures. Hoanda = whatever (noble qualities) they possessed. Aiythaaoun = here, in this world. Kaar = deeds. Pooriyaan = cities; countries. Loaan = of many worlds. Saar = look after. Bhookh = appetite; wish. Salaahun(u) = sing praise. Adhaar = support; basis. Goonvuntiyaan = virtuous people. Paa Chhaar = acquire dust of the feet (serve them). 1.

MEANING: (Members of each faith have their own ways to worship their deity or God). For example, the Muslims praise their religious laws (follow them diligently) and ponder on them by reading them over and over. According to them, the real devotee of Islam is the one who enslaves himself to the restrictions of the Religion so as to have a holy sight of Allah. Likewise, the Hindus follow their Shastras to sing the praises of their deity, whom they believe to be extremely handsome (beautiful). They take dips in their holy places and worship their deities with many fragrant offerings, such as sandalwood extract, to please them.
The Yogis (who are followers of Shiva) meditate on their deity, whom they believe to be microscopic, yet they believe that the whole universe is his body. While meditating in the mental state in which no thought of Maya originates, they recite his name, calling him “Alukh” (incomprehensible) and “Nirunjun” (unaffected by Maya).
The philanthropists feel contented with the thought of making donations, hoping to receive a thousand times what they donate and to be showered with praise by the masses. On the contrary, there are countless thieves, womanizers, dealers in falsehood (Maya), evil, and immoral people in this world. They expend the earnings (rewards) of their deeds of their previous lives, now (in this world), and are left with no noble qualities before they die. What kind of business is that on their part?
However, Waheguru knows the needs of all His living beings in the water, on the land, in all the worlds, and in the entire universe, and provides for them (whether they are good or bad). But His true devotees have the appetite only to sing His praise. His Naam is the basis of their life, oh Nanak. They are blissful day and night to serve the virtuous devotees of Waheguru.1.

Word Meaning: Mitti = dirt (of the grave) (which is more pliable and suitable for pottery). Ghurr(i) = to design and make. Bhaanday = earthenware. Juldi = burning. Pookaar = begs; cries in suffering. Buppurri = helpless. Jhurr(i) = fly around. Ungiyaar = sparks. Kaarun(u) Keeya = created the universe. Kartar(u) = Creator. 2.
MEANING: (The Muslims do not cremate their dead - they rather bury them for a variety of reasons, including the belief in resurrection. (If someone burns their dead, how do they expect the ashes to be resurrected). But Guru Nanak Sahib explains that potters like the dirt from old graves because the mud made from it is very pliable and suitable for pottery. When they get the dirt from old graves, they mould the mud into earthenware and bricks, and bake them in kilns where the mud containing the remains of the dead, burns and cries (suffers). The helpless mud cries when it burns, and the sparks fly around (so what happens to the dead about resurrection now that the potter has baked the dirt of the grave)?
(Guru Sahib says that it does not matter how you dispose a dead body, it is the soul that bears all the consequences), but nobody knows what happens to the soul after it leaves the body. Only Waheguru, which has created the universe, knows about the departed soul, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bin(u) = without. Paayo = realized. Aap(u) = (Waheguru) Himself. Pergut(u) = clearly. Aakh(i) Soonaaya = made public. Mookut(i) = free from the bonds of Maya. Moh(u) = attachment. Chookaaya = ended; got rid of. Ootumm(u) = superior; very good. Jug Jeevun = life of the world (Waheguru). 6.

MEANING: Nobody has ever realized Waheguru without Satguru (and nobody ever will) because Waheguru has placed Himself in Satguru, and has made it perfectly clear to the world that Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru. When a devotee gets connected with Satguru, he becomes emancipated forever because Satguru breaks his bonds of worldly attachments. It is the best idea (act) to apply your mind to Waheguru (always remember Him) so as to get connected with Him, which is the life (soul or basis) of the whole world. 6.

Word Meaning: Huoun = Haumein = selfishness and ego. Khuttiya = earned. Guyya = lost. Sachiyaar = having noble qualities; truthful (spiritual). Koorriyaar = dealer in falsehood; deceitful. Bhuriyaiy = accumulate filth (of evil deeds). Dhovaiy = wash away the filth. Jaati = high caste. Jinsee = kind; humanity. Khovaiy = loses. Mokh Mookut(i) = emancipation. Saar = worth; value. Chhaya = darkness (of ignorance). Boojhaiy = understands. Dur(u) = (Waheguru's) Door. Soojhaiy = thinks of. Vihoona = empty; devoid of. Kuth(i) Kuth(i) = in discussions. Loojhaiy = burning of heart. Vakheh(i) = examines; evaluates. Vaykh(u) = appearances; character. 1.

MEANING: The man comes to this world full of haumein (selfishness and ego), and he leaves the world with haumein. He is born with haumein, and he dies in haumein (haumein is the basic character of the man). He makes donations in haumein (to get lot more in return, and to earn praise of the people), and he accepts things from others in haumein (thinking that it was his right to receive, or, he was obliging others by accepting their humble gifts). He earns in haumein and loses in haumein too. It is mostly because of his haumein (selfishness) that he shows honesty in his dealings, and again, it is his selfishness because of which he cheats others. One's haumein is the underlying cause of his noble and ignoble deeds, and it is because of his deeds (noble or ignoble) which he commits under his haumein that he is born either in paradise-like conditions (born to enjoy luxuries) or in hellish conditions (born to suffer). He is happy or sad due to his haumein, and it is because of his haumein that he accumulates filth of evil deeds, or washes it away.

He loses his high caste (respect in society), and his degree of humanity because of his haumein. He performs acts of wisdom or of foolishness due to his haumein, and has no idea about the worth of emancipation and freedom from the bonds of Maya. He is under the influence of Maya, and is in darkness of ignorance because of his haumein. Man's haumein is the basis of his rebirths. When he understands haumein, he will think of Waheguru's Door; but without that knowledge, he suffers from heart burning in useless discussions. But we cannot entirely blame the individuals, because they acquire the character, and follow the path which Waheguru had carved for them after examining their previous deeds according to His laws, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jaat(i) = nature; character. Kerm = deeds. Bundhna = bonds. Sunjum(i) = means; how. Deerugh(u) = long; serious. Roag(u) = illness. Daaroo = treatment; cure. Kmaah(i) = works on. Junhou = hey, people. 2.

MEANING: It is the nature of haumein that the man performs all his deeds under its influence. Haumein is the basis of such strong bonds with Maya that he is born again, and again. Now the question arises: where does haumein originate, and how can one get rid of it? The answer is: haumein is a long and serious disease (because it is the basic nature of all human beings, as explained in the above holy Shabad), but the cure also lies in it. (Because the man is selfish), he always wishes good for himself. If By Guru's grace, he comes to realize that acting on Guru's advice is the best thing for him in the long run, he will act on His Advice (and recite Waheguru's Naam which kills one's haumein). (Guru) Nanak(u) advises that this is how (by reciting Waheguru's Naam) one can get rid of his haumein, listen, oh folks. 2.

Tis(u) johaari, sooust(i) Tis(u), Tis(u) Deebaan(u) abhug(u). Nanak Sachay Naam bin(u), kiya tikka, kiya tug(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Purkhaan = humans. Birkhaan = (of) trees. Tuttaan = river banks. Maygh = clouds; sky. Khayt = fields; grains. Deep = continents; land. Loe = world. Mundul = solar systems. Khund = part. Verbhund = galaxy. Unduj = from eggs. Jayruj = from mammals. Otbhooj = vegetation. Saytjaah = air-borne bacteria. Mit(i) = measurements; counts. Sur = bodies of water; oceans. Mayr = mountains. Junt = living beings. Sumhaalay = looks after. Tis(u) = that (Waheguru). Johaari = bowing to. Sooust(i) = hail; long live. Deebaan(u) = reign. Abhug(u) = non-perishable. Tikka = anointment. Tug = the sacred thread of the Hindus (janeyoo). 1.

MEANING: (It is a foolishness on the part of the man to claim that he knows the number of) human beings, or the living beings which live on the trees, at holy places, in rivers, in the sky, in the fields (vegetation), on the land, in other worlds, in galaxies, and the whole universe, and the living beings that are produced from mammals, eggs, vegetation and air-borne bacteria (that the total number is 8.4 millions). Only Waheguru knows the actual number of his living beings from all those sources, including those in the oceans and on the mountains. After creating living beings, Waheguru looks after all of them. The Creator, Waheguru, who creates all the living beings, has the responsibility to look after them. I bow to the Creator, Waheguru, and hail Him (praise Him) for the way He looks after His creation. His reign (system of looking after His creation) is everlasting. Without Waheguru's Naam at heart, wearing of religious symbols like anointment on the forehead, and janeyoo (the sacred thread) carries no meaning, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Lukh = millions; countless. Naykiyaan = Chungiyayiyaan = noble deeds. Poonna = donations. Pevaan(u) = approved. Tup = self-affliction to please some deity. Sehj Yog = meditating without thought of Maya. Baybaan = wilderness; graveyards. Soortun = acts of chivalry. Sungram = fighting battles. Run = battlefield. Soorti = focusing of mind. Dhiyan = concentration. Mutee = advices. Mithiya = false. Kerm(u) = benevolence; munificence. Sacha = everlasting. Neeshaan(u) = identification. 2.

MEANING: (People practise many different ways to please their deity to have a good future life, and also to elongate their life span, if possible). For example, some people perform countless approved noble deeds like giving donations (to Brahmans), and helping the needy, while many others torture themselves at holy places, or meditate in the wilderness (so as not to think of Maya) to please their deities. Countless gallants show their chivalry on the battlefield and lay down their lives. Countless people focus their concentration and read the Puranas to acquire knowledge. However, none of such efforts earns the pleasure of Waheguru, who has already planned the births and deaths for his creation. All other advice (thoughts) (than Waheguru's Naam only which pleases Him) are false (worthless); only His benevolence (to those who sing His praise) is the eternal identification (to be recognized) in His Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sacho Sach(u) = Truth and only Truth (Waheguru's Naam). Vertaaya = spread; operates. Kmaaya = worked on.

MEANING: You are the only everlasting Lord, and Your Naam operates all over the universe, (Your Huqam or Laws are reigning the whole world), oh Waheguru. However, only those work on Your Naam (recite it, and adopt it in their life) whom You grant (with Your kindness). Your Naam can be realized only when a devotee gets connected with Satguru who implants Your Naam in the heart of the devotee. The foolish does not realize the significance of the Naam, and the follower of his mind, (Maya-engrossed person) wastes away his precious human life. Why do such people even come to the world? 8.

Word Meaning: Guddi = a bullock cart. Luddiyeh(i) = load up. Saath = piles. Guddieh(i) = bury. Khaat = pits. Maas = months. Aarja = life span. Laykhaiy = given credit for. Jhukhna Jhaakh = meaningless (nonsensical) discussions. 1.

MEANING: (Many people read religious books for the sake of discussions or with the belief that they can please their deity just by reading the books), but they are sadly mistaken because Guru Nanak Sahib does not support this belief; He rather disapproves such readings (without love for Waheguru) saying: If one reads so many religious books that many bullock carts can be loaded with them, or they can be piled up in stacks, or many boats or pits can be filled with them (the result is still unproductive). Not only that, if one reads them for many years, and for all the months, or for his entire life with every breath, he gains nothing spiritually. There is only one thing (Waheguru's Naam) that gets them credit (in Waheguru's Court); the rest all is for nonsensical discussions to feed their ego, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Tayta = as much. Kurriya = irritated with self. Bhuviya = roamed. Luvviya = useless, talking like a crow. Bhaykh = religious garb (mainly for show off). Suhou = endure. Unn = food. Dooja Bhaaya = liked the other (Maya). Bustar = clothes. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Kehraiy = punishes self. Moan(i) = staying quiet. Vigoota = misled. Pug = feet. Oopaytaana = without shoes. Ul(i) mul(i) = unhealthy (arousing sensual feelings). Chhaayee = ash. Put(i) = respect. Thaanyayn = room; recognition. Baybaani = wilderness. Murrheen Musaanee = graveyards. Jaanaiy = realizes. Puchhutaani = repents. Bhaytay = met with; get connected. Undaysay = doubts; misgivings. Nihkayvul = detached; free from. 2.

MEANING: A man who writes something about his faith and reads it achieves nothing spiritually; he rather gets irritated and frustrated with himself because he does not receive the respect of the people he was expecting. The more he writes and reads, the more frustrated he gets. The more the pilgrimages he undertakes, the more useless he talks like a crow (about his conceit of his pilgrimages). The more religious garbs he dons, the more he tortures his body. Well, he has to endure for what he does. Likewise, the individual, who does not eat food (to show off his religiosity) and lives on dairy products and fruits, achieves no spirituality, but does miss the taste of some good foods, and suffers a lot for his love for Maya. Some people do not wear clothes for their religious beliefs, and torture themselves day and night. Some others are misled by their belief in staying quiet (which does not quieten their mind); how can they be awakened (from their sleep of ignorance) without being awakened by the Guru? (A misguided person) does not wear shoes, and suffers for such foolish acts. He consumes unhealthy and filthy foods (which arouse his sensual desires), and gets ash on his head (gets insults) for his acts; the blind and foolish lose respect (if he had any). He lives in the wilderness or in graveyards; the blind (ignorant) does not realize that he will not get any respect without Waheguru's Naam, and has to repent later. Only that individual enjoys blissfulness who embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart in the shelter of the Guru - that too only when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him, and when he burns away his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and gets rid of his unreasonable hopes and his doubts, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mun(i) Bhaavnday = are liked. Sohun(i) = look impressive. Kerma Bahray = without luck; without Waheguru's benevolence. Dhow = shelter. Dhaanvday = even when trying to approach. Mool(u) = roots; basis. Unhonda = undeservedly. Gunaayaynday = claim credit. Dhadheeka = a small bard. Neech Jaat(i) = low-caste. Ootum = superior. Mungaan = wish for. 9.

MEANING: You love Your devotees who sing Your praise at Your Door, oh Waheguru. They look very impressive (holy) singing Your praise. However, those, who are devoid of Your benevolence, find no shelter at Your Door even if they try hard. Many people do not realize what their origin (Waheguru) is, and claim undeserved credit for what they are not. Word Meaning: Koor(u) = false; perishable. Perja = subjects. Mundup = all adornments. Maarri = palaces. Baiysunhaar = living in them. Roopa = silver. Pehnunhaar = wearer.

Kaaya = body. Roop Apaar(u) = extreme beauty. Meeyaan = husband. Beebee = wife. Khup Hoayay Khaar(u) = suffer humiliation even after hard work. Nayhou = attachment. Visriya = forgotten. Chullunhaar = perishable. Maakhiyoun = beehive; honey. Dobay = causes to sink. Poor(u) = large groups. Vukhaanaiy = says; makes. Baynti = request.
MEANING: Everything in this world is false (perishable), including the kings and their subjects. So are all the decorations, palaces, and their dwellers. False is to wear gold and silver ornaments, and false are those who wear them. Perishable are the body, the clothes, and the extreme beauty. False are the husband and the wife who suffer humiliation at the end, even after their hard work (to earn more wealth), because no such work gets recognition in Waheguru's Court. Forgetting Waheguru, the perishable human beings love the perishable things without realizing that friendship with the worldly things is short-lived (because the whole world is perishable). However, people still find worldly materials to be sweet like honey, as a result of which large groups of people drown in the world-sea (are caught in the birth-death cycle). I have only one humble suggestion to make to them that everything other than Waheguru, is perishable, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = everlasting; truth; truthful living. Ta Per(u) = only if. Ridaiy = at heart. Sacha = Waheguru. Koorr(u) = falsehood; short-lived. Mul(u) = filth. Rehsiyaiy = blooming of heart. Mokh Dooaar = the door (path) to freedom from worldly bonds. Joogut(i) = technique. Dhert(i) = land; field. Saadh(i) Kaiy = make perfectly suitable. Kerta = Waheguru (His Naam). Sikh = advice. Duyya = compassion for. Jea = humans. Poonn(u) Daan(u) = noble deeds. Aatum = soul; mind. Teeruth = mind purified with Waheguru's Naam. Daaroo = medication. 2.
MEANING: Living is considered truthful (whereby the man can become immortal by merging into Waheguru) only if the following conditions are met:
The man has Waheguru (His Naam) at heart, washes away the filth of falsehood, and cleanses his body and mind well (with the Naam). He fosters love for Waheguru, and his heart blooms on listening to the Naam (Waheguru's praise), whereby he can follow the path to freedom from the worldly bonds. He knows the technique (path to connect with Waheguru) which is to make the field of his heart perfectly suitable (clean and full of love for Waheguru) to sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam. He receives the true Advice (of the Guru), has compassion for others, and performs noble deeds like donating to noble causes and helping the needy. With Satguru's Advice, he concentrates his mind on Waheguru's Naam (which truly is the real holy place) and stays in that state all the time (keeping Waheguru's Naam always in mind). This kind of truthful living is the cure for all diseases by which the man can get rid of all his sins which are washed away.

I make a request to those who have Waheguru's Naam in their repertoire (possession; in fortune) (that they be kind to me and give His Naam to me too), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Daan(u) = donation; gift. Mehinda = mine; for me. Tulee Khaak = dust of the feet (of Waheguru). Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Laaluch(u) = greed. Ikk Mun(i) = with a focused mind. Alukh = incomprehensible (Waheguru). Ful(u) = reward. Kaar = deeds. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. 10.
MEANING: The best gift for me is the dust of the Feet (of Waheguru; His Naam). I will put that on my forehead (serve Him like a slave if I can get it). (To receive this gift), we need to get rid of our false greed, and recite Waheguru's Naam with fully focused mind (in the shelter of the Guru or some other holy saints). But one reaps the reward of the kind of deeds he performs. One gets the dust of the feet of the holy saints only if it is prewritten in his fate. However, we lose all the rewards of our service due to our low wisdom (we make mistakes and sometimes we begin to claim rewards for our service). 10.

Word Meaning: Kaal(u) = drought; shortage; unavailability. Kul(i) = in Kalyug; in the present era which is thought to be the worst. Kaalukh = blackness; darkness (of evil deeds). Baytaal = ghosts; phantoms. Beaou = seeds; whole grains. Put(i) = dignity. Oogvaiy = sprouts. Daal(i) = split grains. Rooti Hoo Root = the most suitable among the seasons. Paahaiy Baahra = without the primer (respectful fear of God). Kora = new; never used before. Khoomb = the process of dying in boiling water. Sherm(u) = hard work. Rpupaiy = dye. Koorraiy = of the deceitful. Soyay = news; praise. 1.
MEANING: There is a big shortage of truthful living in the present era (Kulyug), in which there is darkness due to the evil deeds of human beings, who behave like phantoms. (It is believed that humans were more truthful in the earlier eras) who sowed the complete seeds (of Waheguru's Naam) and left the world with dignity. Now the grain of Waheguru's Naam has been split (the people are more attracted to Maya than to Waheguru, and their minds are suffering from indecisiveness). So, how can a split grain sprout now? The seed can sprout only when it is complete and the season is most suitable (the mind is fully focused and the environment is favourable, i.e., one is in the company of the holy men). Just like a new fabric needs a primer before it is dyed with a fast colour, the man needs the company of the holy men, in which the man develops love for Waheguru, which acts as the primer for Waheguru's Naam to sprout in his heart. Just as the new fabric is given a primer in boiling water to be dyed, the human mind needs a primer in Waheguru's Naam. In this case, fear for Waheguru, and man's hard labour to recite His Naam act as the primer. Once the man is dyed in (is imbued in) Waheguru's Naam, no falsehood can affect him, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Lub(u) = greed to eat; gluttony. Paap(u) = sin. Mehta = minister. Koorr(u) = deceitfulness. Sikdaar(u) = chief. Kaam(u) = lust. Nayb(u) = assistant. Sud Poochhiyaiy = seek advice. Ruyyiut(i) = masses. Vihooni = devoid of. Bhaayay = fire (of desires). Bhuray = pays (as fine). Moordaar(u) = encroachment on others' rights; taxes. Giyani = religious leaders. Vaajay Vaaveh(i) = play musical instruments. Seegaar(u) = adornment. Kookeh(i) = sing aloud. Vaadaan = stories of battles. Jodhaan = of the valiant. Hikmut(i) = cleverness. Hoojut(i) = logical arguments. Sunjaiy = money. Dhermee = a religious person. Guvaaveh(i) = loses. Moakh Dooar = door to salvation. Jutee = celibate. Joogut(i) = technique. Poora = perfect. Pervaana = standard weight. Toliyaan = by weighing. 2.

MEANING: Gluttony and sins are as closely related as a rajah and his minister. In such a situation, deceitfulness becomes the leader of all. Lust acts as their assistant, which is invited by the first three to seek its input, and all of them plan together how to rob the man of his virtues. The masses (humans) are without any Divine Knowledge, and are paying taxes to the fire of desires for their immorality in the form of their noble qualities. Devoid of Divine Knowledge, those who claim to have some knowledge, are dancing and playing musical instruments, and adorn themselves with ornaments to play various roles (see Sloak 2 with Paurri 5: Vaayin chaylay -----). They sing in a loud voice and narrate the stories of battles and of the valiant in the form of songs. The foolish pundit loves money, and uses all his cleverness and logical arguments to make such stories interesting to collect money from his audience.

The religious leader does some noble acts, but loses his credit by asking for salvation (only selfless service is accepted in Waheguru's Court). Some people call themselves celibates, but do not know the path to union with Waheguru, and renounce their house and its belongings (in the hope to find salvation). Everybody believes their spiritual path to be perfect, and nobody claims any less. However, the actual worth of their spirituality is determined when it is weighed against the standard weight (by which Waheguru weighs the spiritual worth of His devotees, and honours them) in the other pan of the scale, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vudee = whatever is supposed to happen. Vujug(i) = will happen. Chhaalan = jump ahead; outperform. Joar(u) = power. Jeeou = people; officers. Laykhaiy Put(i) Puvaiy = are honoured. Chungay = good; noble. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru watches, and whatever is supposed to happen (whatever He had planned), does happen. Everybody tries to outperform the others, but only that happens which the Creator had planned for each of them. There is no consideration in Waheguru's Court for the high caste, or for the power one enjoyed here. There are unfamiliar officers there to judge their deeds performed. Only those are good (are approved), who are honoured in Waheguru's Court based on their deeds in this world, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = right from the source. Kerm(u) = benevolence; largess. Juntaan = humans. Vus(i) = control. Vayki = of the kind. Khooyaaya = misguided. Boojhaaya = given the understanding. Sehjay = without any special effort; in a state of peaceful mind. Smaaya = got absorbed. 11.

MEANING: Only those fortunate individuals recite Your Naam to whom You were benevolent right from the beginning, oh Waheguru. These living beings have no control on anything; this is the kind of world You have created, oh God. You connect some of them with You, while You purposely misguide some others. In cases where You wished that the devotees should be enlightened, the Guru gave them the understanding. Such devotees easily merge with You by attaining the blissful spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 11.

Word Meaning: Daaroo = cure; cause. Bhuyya = becomes. Taam(i) = urge; desire. Naahi = non-entity. Huoun = I; me. Bulihaari = wish to offer life. Lukhiya = comprehended. Jaat(i) = (human) kind. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light (soul). Jaata = is recognized. Akul-Kula = indivisible into parts; with full power; Waheguru. Bhurpoor(i) = filling the entire space. Sift(i) = praise. Sooaaliyo = pretty; sweet. Paar(i) Puyya = crossed the world-sea; got connected with God. 1.
MEANING: Troubles in the life of a man become the basis for (can cause) him to recite Your Naam (which is the cure for all troubles), and enjoyment of comforts turns into serious illness for the man who enjoys them because in that comfort, he does not have much desire to remember You, (and forgetting You is the root of all illnesses), oh Waheguru. You are the creator of the whole universe, and I am a non-entity, because I am not capable of doing anything. I wish to offer my life to You, oh the omnipresent Waheguru. Nobody can comprehend Your limits. Pause.
Waheguru's Light is present in every human being, from where He is recognized. The indivisible Waheguru is filling the whole universe uniformly. You are the True Lord, oh Waheguru. Anyone, who sings Your sweet praise, gets connected with You. I will simply submit that Waheguru does whatever He has to do, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Subdum = huqam; societal norms; order for; expected behaviour. Khuttri = a caste of warriors. Soor = valiant. Shoodur = the lowest caste in the Indian system (an untouchable). Prakriteh(i) = serve others. Aik = of the One (Waheguru). Bhayo = secret. Nirunjun Dayo = light-emitting Waheguru. 2.
MEANING: The expected behaviour of a yogi is to acquire knowledge of his faith, whereas that of a Brahman is to study and preach the Vedas. The societal norm for a Khatri is to be a warrior, and that of an untouchable is to serve the other three castes. (However, the performance of such expected norms is not given any credit in Waheguru's Court). The expected norm in the spiritual world is that every human being (regardless of their societal norms) serves Waheguru (recites His Naam). If someone understands (acts on) this secret, he becomes a part of Waheguru, and I will be His slave, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Krishan(ung) = Waheguru. Dayva = God. Aatma = soul. Baasdayvus(i) = (of) Waheguru. 3.
MEANING: Only Waheguru is the Lord of all gods, and is their soul. Everybody has a part of Waheguru's soul in them. If someone understands this secret (and worships Waheguru alone), he will become a part of Him; I would love to be a slave of such a devotee, oh Nanak.3.

M:1: Koombhay budha jul(u) ruhhay, jul bin(u) koombh(u) na hoyay. Giyan ka budha mun(u) ruhhaiy, Gur bin(u) Giyan na hoyay. 4.

Word Meaning: Koombh = a big earthen container to store water. Budha = restrained. Jul(u) = water.

MEANING: An earthen container to hold water cannot be built without water, but water needs to be put in a container to keep it from flowing everywhere. Just like water, which is restrained by the container, the mind is restrained (from wandering in every direction) by the Divine Knowledge. Also, just like the earthen container cannot be built without water, the Divine Knowledge cannot be had without the Guru. 4.

Word Meaning: Gunehgaar(u) = guilty. Omi = an illiterate person who knows only to say "Om". Sadh = a simple-minded person. Maariyaiy = punished. Ghaalay Ghaalna = to do hard labour in certain field. Puchaariyaiy = becomes common. Kulaa = trade; skill. Khaydiyaiy = practise. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court = Uggaiy (next world). Mooh(i) Chullay = who are controlled by their mouth (self-praise).

MEANING: If an educated guide is guilty of misleading an illiterate and a simple-minded person, the latter should not be punished for the mistake of the former. The man is known by the type of work he does (an honest person is called "honest" and a person who steals, is called a thief). One should not practise a skill for which he loses in Waheguru's Court. Who is educated, and who is illiterate, is decided in Waheguru's Court. Those, who are guided by their mouth (self-praise), are punished there. 12.

Kalyug(i) ruth(u) ugun ka, koorr(u) uggaiy ruthvaah(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Mayru = supreme (a mythical mountain which is believed to be a mine of diamonds and gold). Ruth(u) = chariot. Ruthvaah(u) = charioteer. Joog(u) = yug (era). Vutaayiyeh(i) = are changed. Suntokh = contentment. Dherm(u) = high morality. Jut = control on lust; self-discipline. Joar(u) = strength; force. Tupaiy = self-toture to please some deity. Sat(u) = donations (especially to Brahmans). 1.

MEANING: If we compare our body to a chariot, then the mind acts like the charioteer. The knowledgeable people have realized that the body and the mind (thinking) have been changing in character over the eras. It is believed that the body was the chariot of contentment while high morality was the charioteer in Satyug, or conversely, this is how Satyug is defined. In the next yuga, Trayta, self-discipline was the chariot and physical strength was the charioteer. In the third yuga, Dooapur(u), self-torture (self-discipline) was the chariot while donations (to Brahmans) were the charioteer. But, in the present era, fire of desires is the chariot, and falsehood (deceit) is the charioteer (or this is how we can define Kulyug), oh Nanak. 1.

NOTE: There are four Vedas – Rig, Shaam, Jujoor, and Athurbun. Each is associated with each era – Satyug, Traita (Tretha), Dooaapur, and the Kalyug, respectively- and describes the main characters of each era. In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib describes the main characters of each Era, but the Vedas do not necessarily correspond to their respective time periods in this description. The first letter of the main character of the era matches the name of the Veda. At the end, Guru Sahib maintains that the Vedas may be right to describe the characters of the eras, but their study does not connect the reader with Waheguru even though it may improve (or change) one's thinking. One can connect with Waheguru only if he worships Waheguru with love and dedication.

Word Meaning: Saytumbur = clad in white clothes. Soami = the Lord. Aachhaiy = wish for; were. Smaavaiy = stay absorbed. Bhurpoor(i) = full. Soor(u) = the sun. Praachhut = sins. Moakhuntar = emancipation. Jooj = Jujoor (Veda), in Dooaapur. Joar(i) = with force. Chhulee = deceived; kidnapped. Chundraavul(i) = a cow girl who was a cousin of Radha (a beloved of Krishana), and was married to Goverdhun. Paarjaat = a tree in the paradise which is believed to fulfil any wishes. It was retrieved from the ocean when that was churned jointly by the gods and the demons. Indra, the king of the gods, planted it in his capital - paradise. Rung(u) = enjoyment. Neel Bustar = blue clothes. Amul(u) = practice; custom. Chaar = beautiful; refined. 2.

MEANING: The Veda Shaam says that in Satyug, the Lord was called Hansa (wore white clothes; had four arms, and carried a deerskin). Everybody was truthful, all their dealings were also honest, and the people were always absorbed in (guided by) truth (did not think of dishonesty). In the Treta yuga, god Rama's name shone like the sun among all the gods (he was the most revered). Whoever, worshipped him, had all his sins removed and found salvation. In the Dooaapur yuga, Krishna Yadav was the most recognized, who forcibly kidnapped Gopi Chundraavl(i), and enjoyed his childhood in Binderabun (Vrindavan, a beautiful forest by the banks of River Yamuna, in District Mathura, U.P.) He stole the Paarjaat Tree from Indira's Garden, and transplanted it in Satyabhama's yard – another gopi-friend of Krishna. God came to be known as Allah in Kalyug, and, adopting the customs of the Turks and the Pathans, the masses began to wear blue clothes. Thus, all four Vedas rightfully described the character of each Era. Whoever reads and ponders on them, has his thoughts refined. However, one gets salvation only by worshipping Waheguru with love and dedication, (no matter what the yuga is), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vit-houn = for. Vaariya = offer to sacrifice life. Smaaliya = remembered. Oopdaysh = preach; advise. Unjun = kohl; a medication for the eyes to improve vision. Naytureen = with the eyes. Nihaaliya = saw in a different light. Doobbay = drowned (in the world-sea). Bohitha = ship. Virlaiy = some rare. 13.

MEANING: I will gladly sacrifice my life for Satguru, connecting with whom, I have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart. He enlightened me with His Advice, and imparted Divine Knowledge in me with which I saw the world in a different light now with my eyes. Those traders, who deal in Maya ignoring Waheguru, get drowned in the world-sea. Some rare individual realizes that Satguru is the ship to ferry the people across the world-sea, and who, kindly, takes them to the other end safely, (connects them with God), oh Nanak. 13.

Upraadhi doona nivaiy, jo huntaan mirgaah(i). Sees nivaayiyaan kiya theeyaiy ja ridaiy ksoodhay jaah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Simmul = a very large and tall tree which bears fruit is like cotton bulbs. Sraayira = straight. Deerugh = long. Mooch(u) = big; fat. Oye = those (birds). Niraasay = disappointed. Kit(u) = where? why? Phikkay = tasteless. Bukbukay = having aweful taste. Mitthut(u) = sweet behaviour. Tutt(u) = gist. Nivaiy = bows to. Aap Kuou = for selfish reasons. Traajoo = weighing scale with pans. Gaura = heavy (loaded with good qualities). Upraadhi = culprit. Hunta = killer. Mirgaah(i) = deer. Ridaiy = heart. Ksoodhay = ignoble (path). 1.

NOTE: In this Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib advises that the size of the objects or of man's possessions is not important; the valuable quality is the sweetness of the tongue and one's behaviour towards others.

MEANING: Simmul (L. Brombax Heptaphyllum) is a straight, very tall, and huge tree, but why do those birds which land on it with great hope get disappointed and fly away? (The reason for that is) Its fruit is tasteless, its flowers have an awful taste, and its leaves are of no use. The gist of this description is that sweet behaviour towards others is one of the best qualities a man can possess, oh Nanak. But, simple casual bowing to others is not good enough because everybody bows to others for selfish reasons, and not as a matter of courtesy. Also, what purpose does bowing to others serve if the mind of the individual is following the wrong path (has deceit at heart)? For example, a guilty person bows twice as much, just like a hunter who has to bend down to take aim at a deer to kill it. But at the same time, if we weigh two objects against each other on a common scale, the one that hangs lower (bows to the other) is heavier (is loaded with noble qualities). (So, bowing to others is good if done with a pure heart. 1.

Word Meaning: Sundhiya = daily prayer. Baadun(g) = useless discussions. Sil = rock; idol. Bugul = like a heron (egret). Smaadhun(g) = in meditation. Bibhookhun = ornaments. Saarun(g) = supreme. Traiypaal = a three-lined holy mantra of the Hindus (called the Gayathri Mantra). Tihaal = three times a day. Mala = rosary. Tilk(u) = anointment. Lilaatun(g) = on the forehead. Kpaatun(g) = on the head. Brahamun(g) Kermun(g) = the deeds to please God. Phoakut = useless. Nischuou = for sure. Nihchuou = with faith. Vaat = path (leading to union with God).

MEANING: The Brahman reads the religious books and also offers prayers, but he uses his knowledge for useless discussions only (to boost his ego). He worships idols, sits in fake meditation like a heron, and recites the three-lined Gayathri Mantra three times a day. He adorns (coats) his big lies with supreme sweet words (to give the false impression of his deep faith in the idol to impress people). He wears a rosary around his neck, and anoints his forehead as symbols of religiosity. He also wears two dhotis - one to cover the lower part of his body, and the other to cover his head. But, if he knew about the real deeds to please God, he would know for sure that all these deeds are totally useless. One needs to worship Waheguru with full faith, but he cannot find the right path without the kind guidance of Satguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Roop(u) = beauty. Soohaavna = attractive. Mun(i) Bhaanvday = as desired. Bheerray = very narrow. Uggaiy = next world. Nunga = stripped; exposed (of his evil deeds). Dojuk(i) = to hell. Khuraa = very much. Draavna = scary; ugly. Aougun = bad deeds. Puchhotaavna = repent. 14.
Word Meaning: The man has to leave all his beautiful clothes and his handsomeness (youth) behind in this world. He has to reap the rewards of his good and bad deeds. He received all the services he wished for in life without realizing that the future path to Waheguru's Court is very narrow (where everything is scrutinized very carefully). When he is sent to hell fully exposed for his evil deeds, he looks very ugly. He repents for his ignoble deeds then. 14.

Dhunn(u) = worthy of praise; lucky. Maanus = men. Chaukurr(i) = with a worth of only four tiny cowrie -shells (very cheap). Unaaya = brought. Chaunkay = in the (purified) kitchen yard. Sikhaan = advice; to educate. Thiya = became. Oh(u) = that. Jhurr(i) Puyya = fell off. Vaytugga = without the thread.
NOTE: The entire holy composition of Assa Dee Vaar expresses Guru Sahib's disapproval of the prevalent practices and rituals which were keeping the ignorant masses in the dark, and they were made to pay big chunks of their income to the deceitful religious leaders and the government officials - all in the name of religion. The above holy Shabad strongly attacks the practice of wearing a janeyoo.
Janeyoo Ceremony: When the males of the upper two classes – the Brahmans and the Khatris – were about 10 years old, they were required to wear a cotton thread at a special ceremony. The thread, called janeyoo, was considered sacred, helping the wearer in Waheguru's Court after death, and was also a status symbol, as it showed the wearer was a member of a high caste. All relatives, friends and dignitaries were invited for the special ceremony at which the family Brahman, called the Pandha, would recite some mantras sitting next to a fire built for the purpose. Meals, including goat meat, were served after the ceremony.
When Guru Nanak Sahib was about 9 years old, His father Mehta Kalu Ji, in consultation with the family Brahman, Hardyal Ji, decided to hold the janeyoo ceremony for his young son. Nanak Ji waited happily for the ceremony so that He could dispel the meaningless significance of the custom. When all the guests had arrived, and Hardyal Ji had finished all the formalities and was about to put the thread around Nanak Ji's neck, He stopped the Pandha from doing so and, to everybody's surprise, asked the Brahman about the significance of the thread. The Brahman was shocked, and simply narrated the usual story that it was a centuries old custom. Nanak Ji said that He did not see any useful purpose of wearing such a thread which would wear out with time, get lost, or get burned. Moreover, it will not accompany Him to the next world. The Brahman had no convincing response. Nanak Ji seized the opportunity, and surprised and mesmerized everybody when He described the kind of thread He wanted to wear. His main logic is explained in this holy Shabad. Imagine a young boy of 9, explaining the qualities of the real Janeyoo!! Enjoy the holy Shabad.

MEANING: I will gladly wear the sacred thread if you have one which is made from the cotton of compassion, the thread of contentment, the knots of high moral character, and is spun with the willingness to serve humanity, oh Pundit Ji. Such a janeyoo, which is designed for the soul, will never break, will not get dirty, will not burn, and will not leave you any time (will always stay with you). Those men are lucky (and praise-worthy) who wear such a janeyoo (which accompanies them to the next world), oh Nanak. The thread, which you prepare for the young people, is bought for a very low price, and you put around the neck of your clients in the kitchen yard, which you claim to have been "purified". You load up the ears of the newly baptized child with your preaching, and proclaim to be his guru. When the wearer dies, the janeyoo falls off, and he goes to the next world without your sacred thread. 1.

Word Meaning: Lukh = millions; countless. Jaariyaan = illegitimate relations. Koorriyaan = lies. Gaal(i) = abusive language. Tthuggiyaan = cheating. Pehnaamiyaan = (immoral) deeds done secretly. Tug = the thread; junayoo. Kooh(i) = after killing. Bukkra = he goat. Rinnh(i) = cook. Joar(u) = (spiritual) strength. 2.
MEANING: (Continuing His philosophy on the Janeyoo, Guru Sahib comments): countless thefts, immoral relations with other women, countless lies, countless abusive words, cheating, and countless other hidden immoral acts are the daily routine of the man, (so in what way does the Janeyoo keep a man holy?). The thread is made from cotton, and the Brahman spins it. A goat is killed, cooked, and served to all those present, and the Brahman declares that the janeyoo ceremony has been completed. When it becomes old, it is thrown away, and a new one is put on. Why would a janeyoo break, if it has any (spiritual) strength, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Naayay = Waheguru's Huqam. Munniyaiyn = have faith; obey. Salaahi = by praising. Sach(u) = (approved by) Waheguru. Soot(u) = Tug = janeyoo. Tootus(i) = breaks. Poot = sacred.
MEANING: One earns respect by obeying Waheguru's Naam (Huqam), and the true janeyoo (which is approved by Waheguru) is generated by singing His praise. Such a sacred janeyoo never breaks, and accompanies one to Waheguru's Court (where the wearer of such a janeyoo is honoured).

Word Meaning: Inderi = sensual organs. Naari = woman. Bhulkay = morning; every day. Thook = spit; sputum; insult; disgrace. Jihva = tongue. Vutaiy = roams around. Ghutaiy = puts. Kaagul = the book of predictions (astrology). Raah(u) = path; auspicious time. Vidaan(u) = strangeness. Soojaan = know-all; wise.

MEANING: The janeyoo, that the Brahman puts around the neck of others, does not protect (prevent) one (from lust); and what about women who are not allowed to wear a janayoo anyway? Because of his immoral acts, the Brahman earns disgrace every day (all the time) for his future (after death). It does not protect (stop) the feet from walking on the immoral path, and the hands from committing immoral acts. It does not stop the tongue from vilifying others, and the eyes from casting evil sight on the belongings of others. The Brahman spins the thread and puts it around the necks of others, but himself roams around without any protection against all such evil acts. He charges hefty fees from families for arranging matrimonial alliances between them (in those days, all marriages were arranged by Brahmans). He pulls out his book of future predictions and tells them the auspicious times for the ceremonies. Just listen to this unbelievable and strange thing, oh the folks of the world; the man who is blind of wisdom, is considered wise. 4.

Word Meaning: Sahib(u) = the Lord (Waheguru). Saayee = the same. Kaar = acts; deeds. Pervaan(u) = approved. Munhou Chindiya = as wished. Paiyndha = is robed; is honoured. 15.

MEANING: If the Lord is kind to some of His devotees, He makes the devotee perform those deeds which are liked (approved) by Him. That devotee serves Waheguru by obeying His Huqam. Such a Huqam-obeying devotee is approved by Him, and he gets access to Waheguru's Palace (attains union with Him). If the devotee does what Waheguru likes, he reaps the rewards for his liking, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 15.

Word Meaning: Guoou = cow. Kur(u) = tax. Gobur = cow dung. Tikka = anointment. Jupmaali = rosary. Mulaychhaan = of the impure (Muslims) (The Hindus considered the Muslims as impure because they ate beef. So, Hindus would not eat Muslims' food). Dhaan(u) = money. Kutaybaan = The religious books of the Muslims (Quran, Hudees, etc.). Sunjum = customs; lifestyle. Paakhunda = hypocrisy; phoniness. Jaah(i) Trunda = swim across the world-sea; get salvaged. 1.

MEANING: (In this Shabad, Guru Sahib highlights the contradictory behaviour of the Hindu masses during the Muslim rule). As an employee of the Muslim rulers, you collect taxes levied on the Brahmans (Hindus) and the cows when ferrying them across rivers; at the same time, you treat cow-dung as a purifier, and cover the floors with a thin layer of that, oh my Hindu friends. Do you think that the cow dung will get you across the world's seas? You give the impression of being pure (religious) by wearing a dhoti, an anointment on your forehead, and by carrying a rosary; and you call Muslims impure, yet you use their money (and other products). You worship your idols inside your home, but read the religious books of Islam in public, and have adopted the Muslim customs. Quit all your phoniness (hypocrisy) and recite Waheguru's Naam, which will ferry you across the sea of Maya, oh Pundit Ji. 1.

Pooreh(i) Naad = play music; recite mantras. Saad(u) = taste; enjoyment. Koorri = immoral. Raas(i) = capital; investment. Vapaar(u) = business. Koorr(i) boal(i) = tell lies. Ahaar(u) = food; (earn) livelihood. Sherm = shame; honesty. Dherm = morality. Dayra = dwelling. Bhupoor(i) = present everywhere. Tikka = anointment. Tayrr(i) = lower part of the body. Kukhaayee = saffron colour. Chhoorie = knife. Kasaayee = butcher. Neel Vustar = blue clothes. Pervaan = are approved. Mulaychh = Muslims. Dhaan(u) = money. Abhaakhiya = unacceptable language. Koottha = killed by the Muslim way (the Muslims do not kill an animal for meat with a single cut, they rather cut its throat slowly, which is a very cruel way to kill an animal. They also recite some verses from the Quran (which Guru Sahib calls "Abhaakhiya) to make it holy (Muslims call it "Halal"). The Sikhs call such killing "Koottha" and do not eat that meat. Chaunka = the kitchen area. Kaar = lines. Koorriyaar = deceitful. Bhityaiy = a touch by a lowly person, which makes the object unholy (unfit for use). Phittaiy = becomes condemnable (unfit). Phayrr = (immoral) deeds. Jootthaiy = impure; filthy. Choolie = clean mouth with water by swishing (to show cleanliness). Sooch(u) = cleanliness (of mind). 2.

MEANING: (The funny thing about the behaviour of the religious leaders is that those who suck human blood (usurp wealth of the helpless people through bribery or otherwise) offer nivaj, and those who cut the throat of others, wear janeyoo (which they call sacred). The Brahmans recite mantras with music in their (blood-suckers) houses, and enjoy the share of the money collected by immoral means. Immoral are their investments (earnings), and immoral is their business by which they earn their living by telling lies. Shame (honesty) and dharma (morality) have taken their dwelling in some faraway place (have disappeared) while deceitfulness is present everywhere, oh Nanak.

The Brahman (who is the biggest fraud) wears anointment on his forehead and a saffron dhoti (to fool the people by his fake religiosity), while in reality, he is a butcher of the world with a knife (to rob people) in his hand. To seek approval in the Muslim rule, he wears blue clothes in public, receives funds from them while calling them impure, and yet worships Puranas in his privacy. He will eat goat meat prepared in the Muslim way, but will allow no low-caste individual to enter his kitchen area because he believes that the touch of a low-caste individual with any part of the kitchen area makes it impure and unfit for consumption in case of food. So, he draws a boundary line around his kitchen to keep the untouchables away. (When the food is ready), The deceitful (impure like him) sit down to eat. With unfit (filthy) bodies, they perform the usual rituals like cleaning their mouths with water by swishing (another show-off of cleanliness or purity) with a filthy mind. They do not realize that purity does not come with the performance of rituals which are just a show-off. Purity comes when Waheguru's Naam is recited with pure mind, and when He comes to dwell in the devotee's mind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chitaiy Undar(i) = in mind. Chulaayaynda = manages. Vudiyaayee = honour. Kerm = deeds. Vudhou Vudda = greater than the greatest. . Maydni = world. Siro Sir(i) = as per the qualities of the individuals. Dhundaiy Laayaynda = puts to work. Ooputthi = turn back. Sultaana = Muslim kings. Ghaaou Kuraayaynda = makes them worthless like a blade of dry grass. Bhikh = alms. 16.

MEANING: Everybody is in the mind of Waheguru, and He manages the world by keeping everybody under His sight. He makes some to perform deeds of His choice, and bestows honours on them. He is greater than the greatest, and his kingdom is also very large. He puts everybody in business (of performing deeds) according to their qualities (prewritten fates) If He turns His kind sight away, even the kings can be reduced to the level of a dry blade of grass in worth, and nobody even gives them alms when they go begging at their doors. 16.

MEANING: (The Hindus believe that if you donate certain things to Brahmans, they reach their ancestors with the mediation of the Brahmans. Continuing His attack on the despicable misguidance of the ignorant public by the Brahmans, Guru Sahib says): If a thief steals something from some house and sends that to his ancestors through his family Brahman, (and if it does reach his ancestors as per the prevalent belief), that article is recognized by Waheguru as a stolen one for which his ancestors are also held as thieves. Waheguru chops off the hands of the mediator (the Brahman) - that is His judgment. Word Meaning: Joroo = woman. Sirnaavni = washing of hair; monthly periods of the women. (Sirnaavni is a polite name for the monthly periods. It is so named because after the periods, the woman must wash her body and hair). Vaaro Vaar = repeatedly. Jootthaiy = filthy; deceitful. Joottha = deceit; lies. Khooaar(u) = suffers humiliation. Soochay = clean; pure. Pinda = body. Soyay = that (Waheguru). 2.

MEANING: (The society) treats the woman as being impure when she is having her monthly periods even though it is not her fault, and it is a natural process which happens every month. But in reality, a person who has lies on his tongue all the time is impure and suffers humiliation every day. Those, who just wash their bodies (but not their minds) are not called pure. MEANING: The man acquires fast-running horses, decorates them with attractive saddles, and adorns his palace with many different colours. With a big expanse of houses, adornments, and mansions, the man enjoys them (as if he is going to live there forever). He has all the fun the way he wants, but loses at the end because he does not understand the impending Will of Waheguru (death). He spent his youth issuing commands, intoxicated by his wealth and palaces, and he forgets death. But eventually, youth gives in to old age (and death comes closer). 17.

Word Meaning: Sootuk(u) = Another superstition created by the Brahmans that the home, where a new birth or death takes place, becomes impure for 13 days. The new mother is kept in isolation and not allowed to enter the other parts of the house, especially the kitchen. Gohay = in the animal dung. Keerra = livings organisms. Jeeaa = life. Baajh(u) = without. Pehlaan = first of all. Huriya = green; alive. Rukhiyaiy = prevent. Rusoyay = kitchen.
MEANING: If we believe in sootuk(u), then we can never avoid it because it is everywhere (small organisms keep being born and dying in every house). The animal-dung cakes and all the dry wood (both used as fuel) contain small organisms that die in the fire. None of the grain-seeds is without life (what an amazing disclosure by Guru Sahib!!), so when we cook the grains, we are killing life (again causing sootuk). But wait, to begin with, even water has life in it as it keeps everything alive. So, how can we prevent sootuk because it is there even in the kitchen where food is cooked, and countless organisms are killed? We cannot get rid of this superstition about sootuk by taking any precaution. It can be removed only with knowledge (about life and death as natural occurrences), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Lobh(u) = greed. Jihva = tongue. Koorr(u) = lies. Pur = of others. Triya = woman. Roop = beauty. Kunn(i) Paiy = by the ears.; by listening. Laa-itbaari = backbiting. Hunsa = swan-like (a virtuous person). 2.
MEANING: (Actually, there are many other forms of sootuk that cause impurity), for example, greed is a sootuk for the mind, and telling lies is the sootuk for the tongue. Casting an evil eye on the women, the wealth, or the beauty of others, is a sootuk for the eyes, and listening to the backbiting of others is the sootuk for the ears. Because of these impurities, even the swan-like (virtuous people) are chained and taken to the court of the Angel of death, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bherm(u) = superstition. Doojaiy Luggaiy = faith in (love for) other things (than Waheguru). Bhaanaiy = by Waheguru's Will. Aavaiy Jaayay = takes birth, and dies. Puvittar = holy. Rijk = necessities of life. Sumbaah(i) = delivers. Gurnukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru (with His Advice). 3.

MEANING: All sootuks are simply superstitions that the people have faith in. Births and deaths are the laws of Waheguru, and everybody comes and goes (is born, and dies) according to His Will. There is nothing impure about eating and drinking (even though there is life in all of those), as they have been provided by Waheguru, which delivers all the necessities of life. Those, who have come to realize these facts in the shelter of the Guru have no superstition about sootuk, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Vudda Kur(i) = with faith in His greatness. Vudiyayiyaan = great qualities. Sheh = the Lord (Waheguru). Nudri Aayiyaan = become visible; are realized. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Huth(u) Dhur(i) = with kindness; by assuring support. Booriyayiyaan = ignoble qualities. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. 18.

MEANING: We should praise Waheguru with the unshakable faith that He is the greatest, and has all the great virtues. But a devotee realizes them only when Waheguru connects him with Him, and when he embeds them in his heart by His Will. When Waheguru places His kind hand on the forehead of the devotee (with His caring support) all the ignoble qualities of the devotee are destroyed with His Huqam. When Waheguru is pleased to be kind to an individual, he feels as if he has acquired all nine mythical treasures of the world. 18.

Word Meaning: Soocha = clean; pure. Aap(i) = the Brahman. Soochaiy = in the purified (kitchen). Bhitiyou = made impure (unfit for consumption). Jayvia = served (food). Sloak = mantra. Koohuthi = bad; filthy; undesirable. Jaayay = place. Doakh(u) = blame. Ghirt(u) = ghee. Paak(u) Pvit(u) = pure; holy. Paapi = sinner. Guddiya = mixed. Thookaan = spit; sputum. Tit(u) = (on) that. Oochreh(i) = recited. Rus = delicious tasting (sweet Naam). Tit(u) Mookh(i) = on that face. 1.

MEANING: (Continuing His philosophy about eating and drinking, Satguru Nanak discusses another important aspect of the subject). When a Brahman is invited to have a meal at somebody's place (which was a common practice at the time, and is still prevalent at many places), he would take a bath to clean (purify) himself. He is seated at a special place which has been purified for him according to the prevalent specifications. Clean (pure) food, which has not been touched by anyone yet, is served before the "clean" Brahman. He again purifies his mouth by swishing with water and begins to recite a mantra. The meal was prepared by using the holy ingredients of food, water, and fire, which the Brahmans call gods. It is cooked in ghee and some salt is added. Thus, the food served to the Brahman is completely holy by his standards. Now he puts the holy food in a filthy place (his stomach, where it turns into repulsive excrement, which people spit on), so who is to blame for this filthy result? The good food turned into repulsive feces when that came in contact with the sinful body of the Brahman. The individual, who does not recite Waheguru's sweet Naam with his tongue, and consumes food without the Naam, should think that the people do not spit on his feces, they rather spit on his face, oh Nanak. 1.

Jit(u) mookh(i) suda salaahiyaiy bhaagaan rutti chaar(i). Nanak tay mookh oojlay, Tit(u) Sachaiy Durbaar. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhund(u) = woman. Nimmiyaiy = the origin of the fetus. Mungun = engagement. Rah(u) = worldly affairs. Bhaaliyaiy = search for. Bundhaan = bonds; relationships. Munda Aakhiyaiy = condemn. Rajaan = saints. Baahra = without. Bhaag = fortune. Rutti Chaar(i) = a unit of weight for precious stones meaning that the face shines like a precious stone. Tay = those. Oojlay = radiating; pious. 2.

MEANING: (The Hindu Granths treat the woman like a slave and condemn her as being thoughtless and impure. Guru Nanak Sahib opposes such thinking and such mean treatment of women in strong words, maintaining that be it a male or a female, only that individual is honoured in Waheguru's Court, who sings his praise). The man's origin begins as a fetus in the woman's womb, and he is born from the woman. When he grows up, he is engaged to and married to a woman. His only real friend is the woman he is married to, and all worldly affairs revolve around the woman. If the wife of an individual dies, he again looks for a woman, and all the relationships in the world are based on the existence of women. Also, it is the woman who gives birth to all the holy men. So, where is the justification to condemn her? Even women are born out of other women, and nobody is born without a woman (as a mother). Only Waheguru is beyond women (is self-illuminated). The mouth that sings praise of Waheguru is highly fortunate with the shine of a precious sparkling stone on his face. Such faces radiate (piousness) and are honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Appna = mine. Choon(i) Kuddhiyaiy = sort apart. Laykha = account of deeds. Sundhiyaiy = make connection. Kaayit(u) = what for? Gaarub(i) = conceit; ego. Hundiyaiy = experience; live with. Akkhur = education; Guru's Advice. Loojhiyaiy = get into useless discussion.

MEANING: Everybody claims that certain things belong to him (everybody has worldly attachments); if you find someone without such a claim, find him out, and show me, oh my friends. Everybody does the deeds of his choice, and makes a connection with the account of his deeds (is responsible for the result of his deeds). If we know that we are not going to live in this world forever, why should we lead our lives in conceit or ego? It is Guru's Advice that we should not call anyone bad or of low wisdom, but, at the same time, not to engage in any intense argument with a fool. 19.

Word Meaning: Phikka = impolite; hurtful. Sudiyaiy = called. Soyay = reputation. Paana = shoes. Sujaayay = punishment.

MEANING: If someone talks to people in an impolite or hurtful way, his body and his mind also become impolite, oh Nanak. An impolite person is called impolite, and the same becomes his reputation. An impolite person is thrown (treated badly) in Waheguru's Court, and everybody spits on him (insults him). He is called a fool and beaten with shoes (badly insulted). 1.

Word Meaning: Jhootthaiy = liars; deceitful. Paiyj = honourable. Phaiyl(u) = deeds. Utthsutth(i) = the 68 (holy places). Putt(u) = silk; noble qualities. Goodurr(u) = rags; poor; humble. Bhulay = good; noble; helpful. Nayhou = love; attachment. Rubb = God. Sayti

= with. Rung(i) = in love; obeying His Will. Pervaah = care. Naah = the Lord. Dur(i) = (Waheguru's) door. Vaat = journey (of life). Khurch(u) = expenses; necessities of life. Jubaiy = when. Deebaan(u) = Court. Kulm = pen. Humaa = mine. Tooma = yours. Maiyl(u) = union. Laykha = account of deeds. 2.

MEANING: Some people perform deeds which earn them respect outwardly, but are deceitful at heart. The filth of their mind does not get washed away even if they take dips at the 68 holy places. On the other hand, those who have noble qualities inside, but are humble (do not show any conceit of their noble qualities) in their daily behaviour, are the real good (noble) people in the world. They have love for God with the thought (wish) to "see" Him. They feel happy or sad in His love (respect His Will), and also become quiet (normal) in His Will. They do not care about anybody other than the True Lord. They beg for the necessities of life at His Door, and use them as He bestows His gifts on them. All of us have the same Court (of Waheguru's Justice), and the same pen (with which He writes His judgment), and that is where all of us have to meet (with Him). When the account of the sinners is viewed, they suffer unbearable pain of punishment like the oil-seeds suffer when they are put through the mill to get oil, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kerna Keeyo = created the universe. Kul = power. Dhaariyaiy = acquired. Kuchee = unripe (without good qualities). Pukki = ripe (having good qualities). Saariyaiy = pawns in the game of chess. Chulsi = will leave this world. Vaariyaiy = as per turn. Jea = soul. Praan = life. Visaariyaiy = forget; ignore. Kaaj = objective. Suvaariyaiy = finish successfully. 20.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself has created the universe, and has acquired this ability (power) on His own. Most of the humans lack noble qualities to reach their final destination (union with Waheguru), while a few are very close to their destination, just like the pawns in the game of dice, but Waheguru looks after all of them. Everybody who comes to this world has to leave when their time comes. Why should we forget the Lord who has given us life and the soul? We should strive hard to complete our task (the objective of union with Waheguru). 20.

Word Meaning: Kinayhi = what kind? Aashki = love affair. Doojaiy Luggaiy = attraction for the other (Maya). Smaayay = absorbed. Munda = bad; unfavourable. Laykhaiy Vertaiy = business-like dealings. 1.

MEANING: What kind of a love-affair (with Waheguru) is that where one gets attracted to someone else (Maya) than his true Love (Waheguru)? Only those individuals are called true lovers who always stay absorbed in the thoughts of their Love (Waheguru). Those are not lovers who deal with their Love in a business-like fashion, such that they are happy when the Love does something good for them, but complain when something bad happens to them. 1.

Word Meaning: Slaam = salute; obey command. Jubaab(u) = questions. Moondhoun = from the very start. Ghootha = misled; missed opportunity. Koorriyaan = untenable; flawed. Thaayayn = room; recognition. 2.

MEANING: An individual who obeys the command of his Master but at the same time questions His judgment is misguided right from the start. Both these positions are untenable, and have no room together (lead one nowhere), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Smaaliyaiy = remember. Keeta paayiyaiy = reap the reward. Ghaal = hard labour. Ghaaliyaiy = work hard. Keechuyyee = do; perform. Lummi Nudr(i) = far sight; for long-term rewards. Nihaaliyaiy = see; think of. Tayvayha = like that; appropriate. Paasha dhaaliyaiy = throw the dice. Laahay = for benefit.

MEANING: The Lord, serving whom one enjoys permanent bliss, should be remembered all the time. And, why should we work on something for which we are going to reap bad (harmful) rewards? We should think carefully about the long-term results, and should not do anything bad (sinful) at all. Like the game of dice, where a player throws the dice in a calculated way so as not to lose, we should also behave appropriately and accept the Will of the Lord so as not to lose His favour. We should work for the long-term benefit. 21.

Word Meaning: Chaakur(u) = servants. Gaarub(u) = conceit; ego. Vaad(u) = discussion. Ghunayriyaan = too much. Saad(u) = approval. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Maan(u) = respect. Lugga = attached to. Pervaan(u) = approved.

MEANING: If a servant engages in a conceit-filled discussion while serving the master, and talks a lot, the master does not like that, and is not pleased. The servant gets some recognition only if he serves the master by getting rid of his ego. (Similarly, a devotee) who serves Waheguru (obeys His Will), wins His approval, and gets connected with Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jeeyay = in mind. Oogvaiy = sprouts; flourishes. Vaao = air; meaningless sound. Bikh(u) = poison. Amrit = delicious and useful product. Niyaayoun = justice; just expectation. 2.

MEANING: Only that idea flourishes (gets results) which an individual has in mind (the intent matters); simple words from the mouth are a meaningless sound. What kind of just expectation is that where a man sows the seeds of poison, but wishes for some delicious and highly useful product? 2.

Word Meaning: Iyaana = (spiritually) ignorant; incompatible. Raas(i) = favourable; leading to success. Vertaiy = operates. Nirjaas(i) = test; verify Vustoo = an article; thing. Hovaiy Paas(i) = is removed. Sayti = with. Kuhhi Bunaiy = suits; befitting. Vigaas(i) = blooming of heart. 3.

MEANING: You can verify this fact that friendship with an ignorant (an incompatible) person is never favourable (does not last for long) because he operates as per his own thinking (which could be harmful to the other party). (Similarly, one cannot gain any spirituality from an incompetent guru). A product can be absorbed (placed) in a container only if the other product which was filling the container before is removed. (An individual will love Waheguru only if his love for Maya dies first). A servant cannot issue orders to his master; it is only befitting that the servant makes a request to the master. With deceitful behaviour, one is bound to get similar (deceitful) results, and always feels worried about the bad results; but the heart of the man, who sings (Waheguru's praise), blooms, oh Nanak. 3.

ਮਹਲਾ 2॥ ਨਾਲਿ ਇਆਣੇ ਦੋਸਤੀ ਵਡਾਰੂ ਸਿਉ ਨੇਹੁ॥ ਪਾਣੀ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਲੀਕ ਜਿਉ ਤਿਸ ਦਾ ਥਾਉ ਨ ਥੇਹੁ॥ 4॥

Mehla 2: Naal(i) iyaanay dosti, vudaaroo siyoun nayh(u). Paani undar(i) leek jiyoun, tis da thaaoun na thayh.

Word Meaning: Iyaana = immature; ignorant. Vudaaroo = one who talks big over others' heads. Thaaoun Na Thayh(u) = no mark left behind. 4.

MEANING: Friendship with an ignorant person (a fake guru who has no spiritual knowledge), and love with a highly literate person who talks above the heads of the people (like a pundit who preaches the masses in Sanskrit, which is an obsolete language and not understood by the masses) are as ineffective for spirituality as a line drawn on the surface of water which leaves no mark behind. 2.

Mehla 2: Hoyay iyaana, kuray kumm(u) aan(i) na sukaiy raas(i). Jay ikk udh chungi kuray, dooji bhee vayraas(i).
Word Meaning: Iyaana = untrained; lacking skills. Raas(i) = suitable; successful. Ikk-Udh = one or half. Dooji = next. Vayraas(i) = unsuitable; unsuccessful.
Meaning: An unskilled person cannot complete their tasks successfully. If he achieves success at one or two tasks, the next will certainly be a failure. (Similarly, one's efforts to get connected with Waheguru without the guidance of the Guru are not successful). 5

Word Meaning: Chaakur(u) = servant; worker. Bhaayay = as per the will (or liking). Hoormut(i) = regards; respect. Uglee = much. Vujhou = wages. Gaiyrut(i) = shame; humiliation. Paana = (beating with) shoes. Shaabaash(i) = praise. 22.
MEANING: The workers, who serve their master with love and as per his will, earn much more respect and receive double the wages. But those who try to rival their master have to suffer humiliation. Not only do they lose their wages, but they also get a beating with shoes (suffer humiliation badly). Similarly, we should praise (and be thankful) to our Master, Waheguru, who provides us with food. Ordering the master does not work; one needs only to beg before him, oh Nanak. 22.

Sloak Mehla 2: Eh kinayhi daat(i), aapus tay jo paayiyaiy.

Word Meaning: Kinayhi = what kind. Daat(i) = gift; donation. Aapus = with one's own efforts. Kurmaat(i) = great gift. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind.
MEANING: What kind of gift is that which a servant receives from self? The best gift is the one which the Lord bestows on His attendant (devotee) with His pleasure and kindness, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮਹਲਾ 2॥ ਏਹ ਕਿਨੇਹੀ ਚਾਕਰੀ ਜਿਤੁ ਭਉ ਖਸਮ ਨ ਜਾਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸੇਵਕੁ ਕਾਢੀਐ ਜਿ ਸੇਤੀ ਖਸਮ ਸਮਾਇ॥ 2॥
Mehla 2: Eh kinayhi chaakri, jit(u) bhuou khusm na jaayay. Nanak sayvuk(u) kaandhiyaiy, j(i) sayti khusm smaayay. 2.
Word Meaning: Chaakri = service. Bhuou = fear. Kaandhiyaiy = is called.
MEANING: What kind of service is that where the worker is afraid of his master all the time (so as not to displease him). Only that worker is the real servant who becomes one with his master, oh Nanak. (Such a situation is possible only between a devotee and Waheguru). So, Waheguru is the only Master to serve, advises Guru Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Unt = limits. Paaravaar = limitless. Saakhti = creation. Maar = death. Junjeeriyaan = chains. Toori = horses. Bisiyaar = large; expensive (smart). Pookaar = appeal. Kerna Keeya = created the universe. Saar = care; look after. 23.

MEANING: Nobody can find the limits of the limitless Waheguru, oh Nanak. He creates the world, then destroys it (raising some to very high levels while throwing others to the ground). There is so much disparity in this world that some have chains around their necks (are treated like slaves), while others are so rich that they ride very expensive horses. Who can the man appeal to when Waheguru does everything Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes? Still, Waheguru, who has created the universe, looks after His creation, oh Nanak. 23.

Word Meaning: Bhaanday = vessels; human bodies. Saajiun(u) = creates. Poorun dayay = perfection. Doodh(u) = milk; good qualities. Smaayiyaiy = add culture to make yogurt; implant. Choolleh = on the hearth; earthen stove. Churray = stay there (and suffer from heat). Nihaaleen = on comfortable mattresses (beds). Khurray = (guard) with alertness. Suvaaray = adorns; grooms (with noble qualities). 1.

MEANING: Waheguru creates human vessels (human beings) and adorns (some of them) to perfection by implanting noble qualities in them. There are some vessels used to make yogurt when milk is placed in them, and culture is added (they are treated nicely), while others suffer heat on the stove all the time (receive bad treatment). Similarly, there are some humans which enjoy long sleeps in comfortable beds, while there are some who guard them with alertness. Waheguru grooms some with noble qualities whom He is kind to, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Saajay = creates. Jaayee = creation. Rukhaiy = looks after. Junt = living beings. Thaap(i) = after creating. Oothaap(i) = destroys. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru creates the universe, and looks after His creation. He creates living beings in the world, and watches as He creates and destroys them. Who can we appeal to when Waheguru is everything Himself, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Vudda = great. Vudiyaayiyaan = good qualities; magnificence. Kerta = Creator. Kaadur(u) = designer (master) of the nature. Kreem(u) = provider. Rijk(u) = necessities of life. Sumbaah(i) = delivers. Sayee = that. Kaar Kmaavuni = performs deeds. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Tinnaiy = that Waheguru. Aikee = Waheguru. Jaayay = place; shelter. Rujaayay = (His) Will. 24.

Shoodh(u) = corrected, verified.

MEANING: The magnificence (virtues) of the Great Waheguru cannot be described even if one tries very hard. He is the creator, the designer of nature, and the provider who delivers the necessities of life to His living beings. Everybody performs the kind of deeds for which he is predestined by Waheguru right from his birth. There is no place beyond Waheguru's control. He does whatever He wishes, oh Nanak. 24. Verified.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Living Being, who has eternal existence (His laws are eternal). He is the creator of the universe, is omnipresent (is living power), is fearless (is above the effects of Maya, and of the natural laws). He is without any enmity (His justice is perfect), and His persona is timeless. Kuhou Kabir aiysa goon bherm(u) bhaaga, tuou mun(u) soonn(i) smaana. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Binvuta = request. Jea = living beings; humans. Oopaaya = created. Kaaj(i) = cause; purpose. Binsaiy = vanishes. 1. Dayv = oh, Guru. Maarug(i) = path (of righteousness). Bhaiy = fear. Bundhun = bonds. Phayrr Kerm = the deeds done. Junum Tay = right from birth. Pause. Phaas = chains; traps. Phaaraiy =break Soonn(i) = in thoughts above Maya. Lookay = hides; gets absorbed. Aapa Pud(u) = level of self; one's origin. Nirbaan(u) = detached from Maya. In Bidh(i) = this way. Abhiyo = non-imbuing; indifference. 2. Kuheen na oopjaiy = (Some people believe that nature is independent of God), but does not come into being independently. Bhaav, Abhaav = the ability to recognize between good and bad. Bihoona = devoid of. Oodaiy = rise; come into being; birth. Ust = set down; disappear; death. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Naasi = disappeared. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above Maya. Live leena= absorbed fully. 3.
Prutibimb(u) = reflection. Bimb = the reflecting source. Ooduk = water. Koombh = the earthen container. Bigraana = breaks. Goon = rope. Bherm = illusion. (People mistake a rope for a snake in the dark). Smaana = absorbed. 4.

MEANING: Falling on His feet (with utmost respect), I request the Guru to explain to me the purpose for which humans have been created, how the world comes into being and is destroyed. 1. Please, be kind, and guide me to the path of righteousness so that all my fears are gone; all my worldly bonds are broken (so as to achieve union with Waheguru); and the negative effects of the deeds done are uprooted right from the birth so that my birth-death cycle is terminated, oh, my dear Guru. Pause.

But I have not been able to overcome the attraction to Maya, which traps one in its captivating chains, and my mind does not remain in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. I have not done self-analysis, and have not realized my origin (the pure soul, which, being a part of God, should be fully detached from worldly affairs). Under such circumstances, one's mind cannot get rid of its non-imbuing nature (which shows indifference toward God). 2.
Even though nothing comes into being on its own, some people believe that nature has an independent existence; this belief stems from their inability to recognize truth from falsehood. My mind is also devoid of such ability, and I cannot distinguish between good and bad. But, when, with Guru's grace, the wisdom (thoughts and deeds) which leads to one's reincarnation goes away, the mind gets fully absorbed in the blissful state. 3.
Just like the image formed in the water in an earthen container disappears when the container breaks, and just like the illusion in which a rope looks like a snake in the dark is cleared in the light, with Your grace, my illusion about the world has also been cleared, that it is not everlasting, oh Waheguru. Now my mind is fully absorbed in the spiritual state which is above the effects of Maya, oh Kabir. 1.

Word Meaning: Guj = a yard (about a metre). Sadhay taiy = three and a half. Tihray = three-layered. Tug = thread; janeyoo. Jupmaaliyaan = rosaries. Loatay = kettle. Nibugb = shiny. Tthug = thug; cheats; robbers. 1. Bhaaveh(i) = liked. Daalaan = branches. Payda = tree. Gutkaaveh(i) = swallow. Pause. Baasun = vessels. Maanj(i) = cleaning. Kaatthi = wood. Julaaveh(i) = burn. Busoodha = ground. Khoad(i) = dig. Chooleh = hearths; earthen stoves. 2. Upraadhi = criminals. Apurse = who do not even touch Maya; fully detached. Abhimaani = conceited. Kootumb = family (of partners). Doobaaveh(i) = drown. 3. Kerm Kmaavaiy = performs the deeds. Bhaytaiy = meets with. Poonrup(i) = again. 4.

MEANING: The sage-looking individuals who wear all the religious symbols like three-metre-long dhotis, three janeyoos, rosaries around their necks, and who hold shiny kettles in their hands, are indeed deceitful thugs of Banaras, and are not holy saints. 1. I do not like such fake sages who swallow a whole tree along with its branches (they are extremely greedy and usurp everything where they possibly can). Pause. Such fake sages clean the cooking vessels to purify them before putting them on hearths (earthen stoves), wash the wood before using it as fuel, and dig fresh ground to prepare two hearths – to give the false impression of their holiness – but eat the whole human beings (suck their blood by robbing them of their wealth). 2. Those sinners call them fully detached from Maya, but they always roam around committing sins. They are always conceited (of their limited knowledge and respectable position) as a result of which they cause even their associates to drown in the world-sea along with them. 3. But they cannot be blamed entirely because they are committing the deeds for which they are predestined by Waheguru (based on their previous deeds). But those who get connected with Satguru are not born again, oh Kabir. 4.2.

NOTE: Kabir Ji was a resident of Banaras, a city believed to be holy in northern India.

Word Meaning: Baap = father; Waheguru. Dilaasa = console; comfort. Sayj = bed (of heart). Aagaiy = in the next world. Baaji = game of life. 1. Maayee = mother; thinking about Maya. Khuraa = much. Sookhaala = comfortable; blissful. Pehroun = wear. Duglee = a cotton-filled vest; (have warmth at heart). Paala = cold (cold treatment given by the people). Pause. Bul(i) = offer my life. Punchaan tay = from the five demons (lust, greed, etc.). Sung(u) = company. Chookaaya = cut off. Paavaan Tul(i) = under the feet; fully under control. Bheenay = gets imbued. 2. Gosaayeen = the Lord of the earth (Waheguru). Kiyoun Kur(i) = how? Jaayeen = go; reach; get connected. Maarug(i) = path (to union with Waheguru). 3. Aiykaiy Tthaur = the same place (human heart). Busayra = dwelling. Aiko = “One” Waheguru. Boojhiya = realized. Soojhiya = understanding. 4.

MEANING: My father (Waheguru) has consoled me (quenched my thirst for Maya) by giving His Naam-Amrit on my tongue, as a result of which the bed of my heart has become perfectly comfortable now (I feel blissful at heart). Why should I forget such a Father, connecting with whom I will not lose the game of life (my objective to achieve union with God)? 1.

My former wisdom (thinking), which always kept me thinking about Maya, is dead now, and I am feeling very blissful. Now I shall not need to wear any warm clothes (have warmth of accumulating wealth) because I will not feel cold (lack of wealth) as I have the warmth of the wealth of Waheguru's Naam now. Pause. I will gladly offer my life to my Father (God), who gave me the ability to cut off my association with the five demons (get rid of them). Now they are fully in my control. I recite Waheguru's Naam as a result of which my mind and my body are fully imbued in His love. 2. My Father is great, and is the Lord of the world, but I did not know how to reach Him. (I have come to learn that) When one connects with Satguru, He shows the path to Waheguru's Residence. (I did the same thing) And now I like the Father of the World. 3. Now I am Waheguru's son, and He is my father, and both are residing together (in my mind). By Guru's grace, I came to realize everything about connecting with God, and now I have realized the one and only (Waheguru), oh Kabir. 4.3.

Kuhou Kabir suntun kee baiyrun(i), teen(i) loak kee piyaari. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Puttar(i) = container. Oorkut = cooked. Koorkut = chicken. Punch Yogiya = the individuals who are fast friends with the five senses. Nkut = without nose; shameless. Day Raani = the goddess Maya. 1. Tthungun Baada Doon = (attractive) sound of music. Bibayki = having spiritual wisdom. Kaati Toon = severed (your effects), oh Maya. Pause. Vaasa = residence. Auhayri = watches (the effects) carefully. Behn(i) Bhaanji = (is loved like) a sister or a niece. Burie = married. Chayri = slave. 2. Bherta = husband; master. Maathaiy Kaayim(u) = guard on the head (controls). 3. Daari = threw away (gotten rid of). Baiyrun(i) = enemy. Teen Loak = universe. 4.

MEANING: (Maya affects humans in every field; some people live only to satisfy their sensual desires). For example, such people (who are friendly with the five senses) put cooked chicken in one pot, and water (liquor) in the other, place those in the middle, and sit next to each other to enjoy; (but they do not realize) that it is the shameless Maya-goddess who is at the centre of all that. 1.

The shameless (Maya) plays its attractive music aloud (affects everybody and dominates); some rare knowledgeable saint severs all connections with you, oh Maya. Pause.

The shameless Maya resides in everybody (controls their mind), kills their character, and watches its victims carefully (to ensure they are fully under its control). Everybody treats Maya with love as if she were a close relative, but she becomes the slave of those who marry her (holy men who overpower her). 2. Maya says that her husband is a great, knowledgeable person who is called a saint. He is the guard on me (controls me), and does not come even near me. 3. Maya, which is the beloved of the entire three-layered universe, is an enemy of the holy saints who throw her away after severing her nose and her ears (by completely insulting her), oh Kabir. 4.4.

Bayd, Puran, Simrit(i) subh khojay, kuhoon na ooberna. Kuhou Kabir, iyoun Raameh(i) jumpoun mayt(i) junum, merna. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Jutee = celibates. Tupee = self-torturers. Sanyasi = who have renounced the world. Buhou = many. Bhermna = roaming around. Loonjit = who pull out their hair with a tweezer (Jains). Moonjit = a sect of mystics who wear a thin rope made of crushed dry grass-like plants around their lower waist. Moan(i) = mystics who stay quiet for a very long time. Jutadhur = one who wears permanently matted hair. Unt(i) = at the end. 1.
Ta Tay = for that reason. Sayviulay = serve. Ramna = Waheguru. Rusna = tongue.
Hit(u) = love. Jumna = Jum = the angel of death. Pause. Aagum = Hindu Shastra. Nirgum = the Vedas. Joatik = astrology. Biyakerna = grammar. Tunt = magical skills. Aukhudh = medications. 2. Bhoag = luxuries. Chhutur = royal canopy. Singhaasun = throne. Rumna = beautiful women. Paan = betel-leaf wraps. Kupoor = camphor. Soobaasuk Chundun = sweet-smelling sandalwood extract. 3.
Bayd = the Vedas. Khojay = searched; studied carefully. Ooberna = salvation. Iyoun = like this. Jumpoun = (I) recite. Mayt(i) = erase; destroy. 4.

MEANING: (Different people try many different ways to escape the wrath of the Angel of death). However, all those yogis, celibates, self-torturers, renouncers of the world, Jains, the mystics who wear a thin rope of grass-like crushed plants, mystics who stay quiet for long times, and those who wear permanent matted hair, have to die at the end (and face the Angel of death). 1. (So, if the man has to face the Angel of death), then why not serve God? The Angel of Death has no power to question the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam with love with his tongue. Pause. Even those who know the Shastras, the Vedas, astrology, and grammar well, and those who rely upon their magical skills, upon the mantras, and upon different medications to prolong life, have to die at the end. 2.
Also, all those who enjoy reigning over big states, have royal canopies on their heads, sit on thrones, and enjoy many beautiful women, have to die at the end. Similarly, those who enjoy chewing betel-leaf wraps and spray sweet-smelling, fragrant materials like camphor and sandalwood extract on them and on their beds have to die. 3.
I have studied the Vedas, the Puranas, and the Simritis in detail, but none of those can cut the bonds of Maya. So, worship Waheguru with such dedication that your birth-death cycle is terminated, oh Kabir. 4.5.

Kuchhooa kuhaiy ungaar bh(i) loaroun, lookee shabad(u) soonaaya. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Pheal(u) = elephant. Rubaabi = musician. Buld(u) = ox. Pukhaavuj = tabor. Kuooaa = crow. Taal = cymbal. Cholna = robe. Gudhaa = donkey. Bhaiynsa = male water buffalo. 1. Kukkri = the bitter fruit of a wild plant, Calotropis procera, which resembles a mango. Aambray = mangoes. Pukaayay = ripened. Boojhunhaaray = wise. Pause. Singh(u) = lion. Paan = a betel leaf wrap. Ghees = mole. Glauray = a paan containing tobacco. Moosri = mice. Mungul = a song of joy. Kuchhooaa = tortoise. Sunkh(u) Vujaayay = blows the conch (no longer needs to hide itself). 2.
Bunse = an infertile woman (Maya). Bunse Ko Poot(u) = the son of a bunse (Maya); Maya-engrossed mind. Maya is considered infertile because it is not known to have given birth in natural way. Mundup = adorned set-ups; decorated canopies; joyous occasion (enlightened mind). Roop Kunniya = virgin girl; purity of body and mind. Baydhi = pierced, married. Sussaiy = the rabbit. 3. Keenti = ant (humility). Perbut = mountain; ego. Ungaar = burning coal; warmth. Lookee = a mosquito-like pest which lives in dark, and bites. 4.

Some characteristics associated with animals: In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib compared some human characteristics with animals as follows.
Elephant = conceit. Ox = laziness. Crow = cleverness. Donkey = lust. Buffalo = obstinacy. Lion = cruelty. Mole = greed; discontentment. Mice = senses. Kuchhooa = avoidance; cowardice. Rabbit = scared; worried. Turtle = coldness of mind (because it lives in cold waters). Lookee = darkness of mind (because it lives in darkness). So, we will use the corresponding characteristics rather than the animals in our explanation.

MEANING: (Due to my singing of His praise), my Lord has converted the bitter fruit (the bitterness of my mind) into sweet mangoes (compassion and caring for others); however, only some rare knowledgeable devotee has experienced this change (by singing His praise). Pause. Because of this change, my conceited, indolent, and clever mind has become a musician (which sings Waheguru's praise), and feels as if it is playing musical instruments like tabor and cymbals. 1. My cruel and discontented mind has become fully contented and likes to serve others like a betel-leaves-wrap-selling lady serves its customers (but my service is free, selfless, and without any expectation of any return). Each of my senses is singing the song of joy (is happy and satisfied), and my mind, which was always worried because of its vices, has become fearless and no longer needs to shy away from others (hide its weaknesses). 2. My Maya-engrossed mind (which was married to Maya before), and was always worried (because of its weaknesses), is going to marry a new wisdom (thinking) now, which is pure and selfless, as a result of which my mind is fully enlightened now, and sings Waheguru's praise. 3. I want to share my experience with good people that my humility has swallowed my huge ego, and my cold mind has now acquired the warmth to serve others, and my ignorance has been replaced by Waheguru's praise, oh Kabir. 4.6.

NOTE: Prof Sahib Singh Ji's interpretation of this holy Shabad is thankfully acknowledged.

Kuhou Kabir, jay kirpa dhaaraiy, dayay sacha neeshaana. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Butooa = the bag in which the yogi stores ashes (to cover his body). Buhuttar(i) = seventy-two (human body, which is believed to have 72 long veins). Aadhaari = another bag used to collect dry ingredients for cooking. Nuvaiy Khund = (human body with) the nine openings. Prithmi = earth = human body. Saara = supreme. 1. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Tul Ka Braham = the human soul which stays very low (engrossed in Maya). Guggun(i) = in the sky; above the effects of Maya. Pause. Khintha = quilt (which the yogis wear). Giyan = divine knowledge (connecting with God). Sooyee = needle. Taaga = thread. Muth(i) = spin. Ghaalaiy = puts through. Punch Tut(u) = human body made up of the five elements. Mirgaani = the deer-skin on which the yogi sits to meditate. Maarug = the path. 2. Duyya = compassion. Phahoori = a shovel-like tool to gather ashes. Dhooyee = the fire pit. Drisht(i) = vision (which sees everybody the same way). Ugun(i) = fire. Tis Ka = Waheguru's. Bhaaou = love for. Chuhoun Joog = in all the four eons; always. Taarri = stay focused; meditates. 3. Joagtun = the path of the yogis. Pind = body. Praana = life. Neeshaana = identification. 4.

MEANING: Use your body with the 72 large veins, which has only one door (called the Tenth door through which you get the light of Waheguru) as your bag to store ashes, and also to collect alms in the form of dry ingredients, oh yogi. Rather than begging for alms in the whole world, the real yogi begs Waheguru's Naam in his body only. Such a yogi, who raises his spirituality from the low level where he is engrossed in Maya to the highest level above the effects of Maya, is supreme and acquires the contentment of possessing all the nine mythical treasures. Pause. Rather than wearing a quilt which is just a show off, the real yogi builds his own quilt for which he uses his mind connected with Waheguru as the base, his focused mind as the needle to stitch it, and uses Waheguru's praise as the woven thread to put through the needle (focuses his mind on Waheguru's Shabad). And rather than using a deer skin as a rug to sit on for meditation, he crushes his love for his body and makes it the rug to sit on, and follows the Guru's advice as his path to union with Waheguru. 2. Rather than using ash which he collects with a shovel-like tool to cover his body, he uses compassion for fellow humans as the coating for the body, and rather than building a fire pit near him (which is more of a show off of his religiosity), he uses his body to serve others as his religion, and builds the fire of equality for all human beings (to get the needed warmth of satisfaction) in the cold weather. Also, such a yogi implants love for Waheguru in his heart, which serves as his permanent meditation. 3. Actually, Waheguru's Naam is the real path to all types of yogism as He is the Lord of our bodies and our minds. Waheguru gives His approved identity (a certificate of approval) to the individuals on whom He casts His kind sight, oh Kabir. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Turk = Muslims. Raah = path; faith. Kuvaaday = one who gets into useless discussions. Bhist = paradise. Dojuk = hell. Kin(i) = who. 1.
Qaaji = Qazi = a Muslim priest who is also a judge. Kutayb = religious books, such as the Quran. Bukhaani = say; explain. Goonut = those who ponder on. Khubur(i) = news. Pause. Sukut(i) Snayh(u) = in the love of a woman. Soonut(i) = circumcision. Budoungaa = acknowledge. Juou = if; when. 2. Aurut(i) = Naar(i) = of woman. Urdh-sreeri = half the part of man's life. 3. Bhuj(u) = recite (the Naam). Bauray = foolish. Zoolum = cruelty. Bhaari = huge. Pukri Tayk = took shelter. Puchihaari = agonize self (in useless discussions). 4.

MEANING: What religious book are you giving the reference of (to condemn others for no good reason), oh Qazi? All those who read and ponder the way you do are killed (punished) in Waheguru's Court without anyone knowing what happens to them. Pause. Where did the Hindus and the Muslims come from, and who started these faiths? Just think in your mind who goes to paradise or to hell, oh, the participant in useless and damaging discussions. (These are all man-made divisions and philosophies, and not created by God, as you claim that Islam is the preferred religion of Allah. 1. (You claim that circumcision is a holy thing and is approved by Allah), I do not acknowledge this claim of yours. You perform circumcision only for the love of women. If it is approved by Allah and He wanted me to be a Muslim, it should have happened by itself. 2. If a man becomes a Muslim (which you claim is the preferred faith of Allah) by circumcision only, then what about the women? What is the use of the man converting to Islam if his wife, who is half of his body (half partner in life), cannot convert? 3. So, it is best to stay a Hindu. Quit reading your holy books because you use them as a tool to commit grave cruelty to others; just worship God only. I, for one, have taken shelter of Waheguru, whereas the Muslims are agonizing themselves in useless discussions, oh Kabir. 4.8.

Dotookay 9.

Word Meaning: Jub Lug(u) = as long as. Deeva = earthen lamp. Baati = wick. Soojhaiy = can see; visible. Tthehraani = stops working. Soona = empty (of light); dark. Mundar(u) = room; heart. 1. Bauray = foolish. Ghuree = a short time. Raakhaiy = keeps. Pause. Ka Kee = whose. Kuvun = which. Joyee = married to; wife. Ghut = heart. Phootay = breaks; is dead. Baat Na Poochhaiy = cares. Kaadhou = take him out (to the cremation ground). 2. Dayhoori = on the sill (of the door). Khutiya = coffin; dead body on a wooden plank. Lut Chhitkaayay = with unruly hair. Tiriya = wife. Hunse(u) = soul. Ikayla = alone. 3. Bhaiy Saagur = the sea of Maya, which keeps one in the birth-death cycle. Kaiy Taayee = concerning. Jum(u) = the Angel of death. Gosaayeen = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: There is light in the room, and everything is visible as long as there is oil in the lamp and wick in its mouth; but when the oil runs out, the wick stops working, and the room becomes dark. 1. Just like the lamp which becomes useless without oil, the human body becomes lifeless (and useless) when the soul leaves the body, and nobody wants to keep you (the dead body) at home, oh, the foolish man. So, recite Waheguru's Naam. Pause. When the human heart stops functioning, all the relations come to an end – the dead body has no mother, no father, and no wife - everybody begins to say "take him out". 2. The mother cries at the doorsill while the brothers carry the dead body to the cremation ground. The wife wails with unruly hair, but the departed soul travels alone. 3.

As far as the world-sea is concerned (which keeps the man in the death-birth cycle), I want to share with the wise people that the man suffers without understanding the Will of God, and the Angel of death never leaves him alone (he is caught in the cycle of reincarnation), oh Kabir. 4. 9. Sunuk, Snund = sons of Brahma (there are two more: Snundun and Sunt Kumar). 1.
Bilovna = churning; analysis. Sehj(i) = with patience. Tut(u) = reality. Pause.
Mutkee = the container in which to churn. Biloyee = churner. Sunjoyee = add as culture. 2. Meera = the Lord. Ootray = get across (the sea of Maya). Teera = shore; the other side of the sea. 4.
MEANING: Even Sunuk and Snund, the sons of Brahma, never found the limits of Waheguru, and wasted away their lives studying the four Vedas written by Brahma. 1.
The only thing to churn (analyze carefully and ponder on) is the churning of Waheguru's Naam. But one must do it with patience (in the blissful state above the effects of Maya) so that you are not distracted from the root (Waheguru). Pause. People churn yogurt in a container to obtain butter; to obtain the butter of Waheguru's Naam, one should use his body as the container, add Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's praise) as the cultured yogurt, and use his mind as the churner. 2. Waheguru's Naam is churned by the focused mind when the devotee receives a thin stream of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in his mind with Guru's grace. 3. With Waheguru's kind sight, one is ferried across the world-sea by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Kabir. 4.1.10.

Tinh tay naahi Perm Pud(u) dooray. 4.2.11.
Word Meaning: Baati = wick (of hopes and desires). Tayl = oil (of love for Maya). Nikhoota = ran out. Mundul = drum. Nut = acrobat (mind). 1. Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Nicksiyo = produced. Ruv(i) Ruhiya = is present. Pause. Tunt(u) = wire. Rubaab(u) = a guitar-like musical instrument. Bhool(i) = mistake. Bigaariyo = ruined. Kaaj(u) = objective. 2. Kuthni = describing. Budni = with the mouth. Bisriyo = lost from memory. 3.
Punch = the five demons. Chooray = crushes (brings under control). Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual level (leading to union with God). 4.
NOTE: The main idea of any shabad is squeezed in the sentence preceding "Ruhaou". So, it makes the meaning of the Shabad clearer if we start with that.
MEANING: When I realized that there is only One Supreme Being, who is omnipresent, and there is none other like Him in the universe, all the fire of my desires was put out so completely that even smoke was not left behind (there was no remaining sign). Pause. Now, the oil of the desires, which was serving as the fuel for the lamp (worldly desires), has run out, and the wick (of attachment with Maya) has dried up completely. My acrobatic mind, which was dancing at the music (signals) of Maya, has lain down to sleep (has become completely peaceful), and there is no drum (music) of Maya playing anymore. 1. My mistake of attachment with Maya, which was ruining my spiritual life, has been rectified because my wire (connection with Maya) has been broken; so, Maya is unable to lure me with its attractive music. 2. My mind, which was using my body to talk about Maya, was singing its praise to others, and was listening to its attractive features all the time, has erased the thoughts about Maya from its memory since it realized the reality (importance of Waheguru's Naam, and insignificance of Maya). 3. The highest spiritual level (which leads to union with Waheguru) is not far from those devotees who crush (control) the five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego, which are different manifestations of Maya), oh Kabir. 4. 2.11.

Word Meaning: Soot(u) = son. Apraadh = guilty activities; sins. Jaytay = as many. Jun-nee = mother (who gives birth). Cheet(i) = in mind. Taytay = all those. 1.
Ramuyyiya = omnipresent (Waheguru). Baarik(u) = child. Khundus(i) = cut into pieces; destroy. Uvgun = misdeeds; bad qualities. Pause.
Ut(i) = extreme. Kroap = rage. Dhaaya = ready to attack. Maaya = mother. 2.
Chint = worries. Bhuvun(i) = in the palace (kiln). Ootrus(i) Paara = find salvation. 3.
Bimul Mut(i) = mind-purifying advice. Sehj(i) = blissful state of mind; while feeling blissful. Ruvaiy = recite. Goon = (Waheguru's) virtues. 4.

MEANING: I am Your child, oh my omnipresent Waheguru. Why do You not kindly destroy my misdeeds (ignoble thinking)! Pause. Even the mother does not remember all those sins that her son commits (and You are much more than the mother). 1.
Not only that, but the mother also forgets even those moments when her son leaps to attack her in extreme rage. 2. At the same time, I also realize that no one can find salvation without Your Naam. So, I am suffering in the kiln of worries, oh Lord. 3.
Kindly impart the wisdom which will purify my mind, so that I, Kabir, may recite Your Naam all the time in a blissful state, oh Lord. 4.3.12.

Word Meaning: Hajj = pilgrimage to Mecca. Gomati Teer = the bank of Gomati (a holy river for Hindus). Buseh(u) = resides. Peetumbur = one who wears yellow clothes (Krishna, a name for God). Peer = a Muslim holy man; Allah. 1.
Wah(u) = wonderful! Khoob = very (good). Bhaavta = is liked. Pause.

Naarud = a son of Brahma. Saarud = goddess Shaarda. Khuvaasi = provide assistance; serve. Beebi Kuvla = Maya; goddess Lakshmi. Daasi = slave. 2.
Kaiyntthay = around the neck. Maala = rosary. Jihva = (on the) tongue. Sehuns = thousands. Slaam(u) = salute; show reverence. 3. Ram = the omnipresent. Turk = Muslims. Doyoo = both. 4.
MEANING: What a wonderful praise of Waheguru is my mind singing! I love Waheguru's Naam in my mind. Pause. My mind has become a holy place because Waheguru - which Hindus call Krishna and the Muslims Allah) - is residing here now. It has become holy like Mecca is for Muslims, and the bank of the River Gomati, which is holy for the Hindus. 1. Waheguru, whom Nard and Sharda Devi serve, and next to whom is sitting Lakshmi Devi (Maya) as His slave, is residing in my heart. 2. (People carry a rosary as a sign of their devotion), But Waheguru's Naam on my tongue is the rosary that I am wearing around my neck. I salute Him, and remember Him by thousands of different names (including Krishna and Allah). 3. I sing praise of only the Supreme Being, which is omnipresent, and explain to both the Hindus and the Muslims that there is only one God to worship, oh Kabir. 4.4.13.

Maalini bhooli, jug(u) bhoolaana, hum bhoolaanay naah(i). Kuhou, Kabir hum Ram raakhay, kirpa kur(i) Hur(i) Raayay. 4.1.14
Word Meaning: Paati = leaves (flowers). Toraiy = picks (to worship some idol). Maalini = (she) gardener. Jeao = life. Paahun = stone (idol). Nirjeao = lifeless. 1.
Bhooli = mistaken. Jaagta = full of life; living (so cannot be an idol). Pause.
Braham = Brahma (who was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu. Bishun = Vishnu. Daari = twig; a shoot. Shankar Dayo = god Shiva who wears a flower in his hair. Pertukh(i) = clearly. Sayou = service; worship. 2.
Pakhaan = rock; stone. Guddh(i) Kay = by carving. Moorut(i) = shape (of the idol). Chhaati = chest. Saachi = real. Gurrhunhaaray = the carver. 3.
Bhaat(i) = rice. Pehit(i) = daal; a soup of beans of different kinds. Laapsi = a very soft wheat flour pudding. Kurkura Kaasaar(u) = a crunchy preparation of roasted wheat flour, nuts, resins and sugar. Bhogiya = enjoyed the products. Chhaar(u) = ash, dust. 4.
MEANING: The gardener (devotee) picks leaves and flowers from the garden to worship her idol-deity. But what she does not realize is that every leaf and every flower has life, while her idol, whom she plans to offer these to, is lifeless. 1. She is mistaken and does not realize that Satguru is a living power; so, the idol, which is lifeless, cannot be the real God. Pause.

Another thing which the gardener does not realize is that the leaves represent Brahma because he was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu, and for the same reason, a shoot represents Vishnu; while the flowers represent Shiva, who is always shown with a flower in the knot of his hair. She has picked (and has clearly killed the three gods), so whom is she serving (worshipping)? 2. Moreover, the sculptor who sculpted the idol from a rock insults him because he places his foot on the rock (to prevent it from moving). So, if the idol is real, it should swallow (kill) the sculptor. 3. Also, the devotee offers delicious items like rice, bean soup, soft wheat pudding, and a crunchy sweet mixture to the idol for the idol to eat after the worship. However, the devotee devours and enjoys all of that herself (because the idol cannot eat any of those). So, what does the idol get in his mouth, ash? The gardener (devotee) is misled by her false beliefs, and so is the whole world. But I will not be misled because Waheguru has saved me from such misbeliefs by His kindness, oh Kabir. 4.1.14.

Word Meaning: Baalpun = childhood. Beetay = spent. Tup = hard labour of Waheguru's worship. Dayv Na Pooja = No worship (of Waheguru), not even in the form of a deity. Puchhutaana = repent. Birdh Bhuyyo = became old. 1. Mayri, Maryri = mine and mine; in selfishness. Saayir Bluyyio = sea of strength. Soakh(i) = absorbed; dried up. Bhoojun(g) = of arms. Pause. Survur(i) = pool of water. Paal(i) = wall. Bundhaavaiy = builds. Loonaiy Khayt(i) = the field which has already been harvested. Vaar(i) = fence. Choar(u) = thief (Angel of death). Toorunteh(i) = quickly. Moogudh(u) = foolish. 2. Churn = feet. Sees(u) = head. Ker = hands. Kumpun = uncontrolled shaking. unstable. Naiyni = from the eyes. Neer = water. Asaar = uncontrolled. Soodh(u) Buchun = clear (tangible) words. Dherm Kee Aas = hope to do noble deeds. 3.
Liv Laavaiy = focuses concentration. Laaha = benefit. Dhun(u) = wealth. Untay = at the end. Naal(i) Chulliyo = accompanies. 4. Un(u) = other. Dhun(u) = wealth. Tulb = call. Gopal Raayay = Waheguru. Mundar(u) = mansions. 5.

MEANING: The first 12 years of a man's life go by in childhood, (then he begins to pursue other interests in life), and he does not do any hard work to remember Waheguru for the following twenty years. For the next 30 years, he becomes deeply involved in his family affairs and does not worship Waheguru (or any other deity, for that matter). By that time, he gets old and then begins to repent (for not remembering Waheguru). 1. All his life is spent in selfishness, and when he gets old, the sea (pool) of his energy dries up, and he loses the strength of his arms. Pause. He tries to delay his old age, but his efforts are as meaningless as a man raising a wall around a dry pool to keep the water from escaping, or building a fence around a field that has already been harvested. The Angel of Death comes unannounced like a thief and takes him away while all his wealth, which he had saved carefully, is left behind. 2. In old age, his feet, his head, and his hands begin to shake, and water begins to run from his eyes uncontrollably. He cannot speak clearly with his tongue and still hopes to do some noble deeds. 3. However, if Waheguru is kind, the man focuses his concentration on His Naam, and reaps the benefit as the Naam begins to flourish in his heart. With Guru's grace, he acquires the wealth of the Naam, which accompanies him to the next world. 4. There is no other wealth that the man can take with him at the time of death, oh holy devotees. When Waheguru calls him, he has to leave all the wealth and his big mansions behind, oh Kabir. 5.2.15.

Word Meaning: Kahoo = to some. Paat = silk. Putumbur = silk clothes. Plungh Nivaara = bed of cotton (considered to be luxurious at the time). Gurie = worn out. Goadri = mattress. Khan = (in) houses. Praara = stubble of paddy. 1. Ehirukh = grumbling; complaining. Vaad(u) = argument. Sookirt = honest labour. Pause. Koomhaar = potter. Maati = mud. Goondhi = made a dough. Baani = decorations; kinds. Moti = pearls (virtues). Mooktaahul = necklaces of pearls (good qualities). Biyaadh(i) = diseases; vices. 2. Soomeh(i) = (to) a money-lover. Moogudh = foolish. Dund(u) = baton. Moond = head. Khin = a moment. Nibayra = gives a decision. 3. Ootum = superior. Bhaana = Will. 4. Chirgut = cage. Chutaara = sparrow. Turie Taagri = bowls (for food and water). 5.

MEANING: (Nobody knows the mysterious ways of Waheguru); He gives silk clothes to wear, and luxurious beds to sleep in to some people, while some others do not have even a worn-out mattress, or worse still, some people have only paddy stubble to sleep on, in their homes. 1. But, do not grumble or argue (with God), and earn money by honest hard labour to afford such comforts, oh my mind. Pause. Just as a potter makes dough of mud and prepares pottery of different designs and kinds, Waheguru creates humans of different kinds and adorns them with noble qualities or takes away their beauty by injecting vices into them. 2. If some money is given to a money-lover person just to hold in trust, the foolish refuses to return, claiming that it was his own property; but the Angel of death delivers his justice in a moment, and hits the cheat on the head with his baton (punishes him). (So, the person must be honest and God-fearing). 3. However, the true devotees of Waheguru are considered superior (much better) people because they accept the Will of God and feel blissful. Whatever Waheguru likes, they accept as the eternal truth and gladly accept His Will. 4. Calling worldly things as personal property is completely false (because they do not accompany the man after death), listen, oh devotees of Waheguru. Just like a cat that tears the cage and takes away the sparrow (or any other bird), shocking him while the food and water bowls are left behind; the sudden death shocks the individuals, leaving all their belongings behind, oh Kabir. 5.3.16.

Ghut(i) = heart. Bheetur(i) = inside. 2. Niyaayoun = justice; Allah's Huqam. Ukleh(i) = with (Guru's) wisdom. Jaanay = realizes Allah (makes a connection with Him). Paanchoun = the five (demons). Moos(i) = deceive (control). Moosulla = mat on which a Muslim sits to offer nivaaj. Deen(u) = (universal) religion of God. 3. Turse = take pity. Munie = ego. Pheeki = distasteful. Junaayay = explain (analyze). Sreeki = partner; a member. 4. Maati = mud; human body. Bhaykh = faiths. Braham = God. Dojuk = hell. 5.

MEANING: You love to spend your time with royal people, talk about them (and love to oppress the poor), but I am a God-fearing, humble person, oh Qazi. Allah, who is the greatest Lord of us all, does not approve of the oppression of the weak. 1. (Being a religious leader, you do talk to people about Allah), but empty words just do not work with Him, oh Qazi. Pause. You do perform the religious rituals like fasting in the month of Ramzan, offering the ritualistic nivaj, and reciting your basic Mantra, but you cannot go to paradise based on such rituals, which are more of a show-off. Actually, Kaaba (Allah) resides hidden in your own heart if one realizes this fact. 2. The true Nivaj is to recognize the Huqam of Allah, and the true Kulma is to make a connection with Him with the Guru's Advice. In addition, an individual, who controls his five demons (which are universal for each human being), and uses this control as the rug to sit on while offering nivaj (when the demons are under control, the mind does not wander around in worldly affairs, and is fully focused on God; so, the position of controlled mind is the perfect rug to sit on for deep meditation); only then the individual recognizes the real religion of God (which is the universal religion). 3. One should make a connection with Allah, have pity on (compassion for) the helpless, and kill one's ego, recognizing it as distasteful. Besides, the man should recognize himself, and learn about the problems of others; only then can he be a partner in paradise. 4. One recognizes Allah when one recognizes His presence in every human being. Even though they look very different from each other, yet they have the same basic ingredient – Allah - in their bodies. But rather than recognizing this fact, the Qazi (and his followers) consider them to belong to the best faith as a result of which, rather than going to paradise, they are seeding the seeds for hell, oh Kabir. 5.4.17.

NOTE: The Muslims believe that only they are the true believers of Allah, and all other people are infidels. So, they believe Islam to be the religion of God. In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib defines the true religion of God.

Word Meaning: Guggun Nugr(i) = the tenth door; enlightened mind. Ikk Boond Na = not even a drop. Naad(u) = music; noise of thoughts about Maya. Smaana = absorbed; disappeared. Parbrahm -------Perm Hunse = all are names for Waheguru. Lay Sidhaana = took away. 1. Baba = an experienced person. Boaltay Tay = those words (thoughts) about Maya. Dayhi = body. Sung(i) Rehtay = stayed with the body. Sooruti) Maah(i) = in thoughts (mind). Nirtay = dance. Kutha Baarta = conversation; talked about. Pause. Bujaavunhaaro = the musician (mind). Mundar(u) = music hall; palace (of dreams). Saakhi Shabad = stories about Maya. Khinch(i) = pulled out. Tayj = glamour. 2. Servnun = ears. Bikul Bhuyay = became restless. Indri = senses. Bul Thaaka = lost energy. Churn = feet. Ruhay = become non-functional. Ker = hands. Dherk(i) = loose-skinned. Nicksaiy = comes out. 3. Thaakay = exhausted. Tuskur = thieves (sensual pleasures which rob one of virtues). Aap Apnay = in their own areas. Bhermtay = functions. Koonchur = elephant. Oor = heart. Tayj(u) Soot(u) = with fast speed. Dhur(i) = on the earth. Rumtay = roam around; scan the earth. 4. Mirtuk Bhuyay = acting as if dead. Dusaiy = five senses and their five functionaries. Bund = bonds. Mittar Bhaayee = friends like hopes and desires. 5.

MEANING: Where have those words disappeared, which you used to talk about Maya, and which accompanied you all the time, which danced in your mind, and which always discussed Maya, oh my experienced friend? Pause. Where is all that noise which your thoughts created in your mind about Maya? It seems that not even a drop of the rain of that noise is dropping on your tenth door (mind) anymore. Answer: It is all kindness of the Great Waheguru, which we call by many names. He has taken all those thoughts away from me. 1. Where is the musician's mind which had created the music hall of its dreams about Maya? What happened to all those stories about Maya that always arose in your thoughts? It seems that all the glamour of your thoughts has been taken away. 2.
The experienced friend advises the questioner: You need to learn something from my experience. With old age, all faculties of the mind become weak. The ears become restless after hearing all the backbiting of others, or because of the filthy talk, and all senses lose their energy. The feet stop walking, the skin of the hands becomes loose, and no words come out clearly from the mouth. 3. The five demons and the sensual pleasures, which rob one of his good qualities, get exhausted of their functions in their respective areas. The mind, which is egoist like an elephant, and the heart (desires), which scans the whole earth in a moment, get exhausted too. 4. All the ten - five senses and their five functionaries - act as if they are dead, and their accomplices – hopes and desires - also quit their company. So, rather than abandoning the worldly attractions, it is much better for the man to worship Waheguru and break the bonds of Maya while he is still living in the family, oh Kabir. 5.5.18.

Word Meaning: Serpni = snake; Maya (has been called snake in Guru Granth Sahib). Buliya = force; power. Mahadeo = Shiva. Chhuliya = deceived. 1. Maar(u) Maar(u) = the noise-making and killer. Nirmul Jul(i) = pure water (purified heart). Paiytthi = entered; settled; becomes tame. Tirbhuvun(u) = the whole universe. Dusiulay = bit; stung. Deetthi = realized its nature. Pause. Saach(u) Puchhaniya = made a connection with Waheguru. 2. Chhoochha = without the effect. Uvra = other (than Waheguru's devotees). Jumra = Jum, the helpless Angel of death. 3. Ta Kee Keeti = created by Waheguru. Bul Ubul(u) = power, or lack of that. 4. Bustee = lives; can influence. Bust Sreera = the human body keeps taking rebirths. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. Turay = salvaged. 5.

MEANING: There is no power stronger than Maya, which deceived even the gods like Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. 1. Maya, which is a killer of morality, and which makes much noise (is much talked about), becomes tame in a purified heart. The killer effects of Maya, which stings the whole universe, become ineffective with Guru's grace. Pause. Why are you afraid of Maya, oh folks? The devotee, who makes a connection with Waheguru, is able to consume Maya (bring it under control). 2. Other than the true devotees of Waheguru, there is none in the world who is not affected by Maya. What can the helpless Angel of Death do to the devotee who conquers Maya? 3. Maya has been created by Waheguru; it has no power of its own or has no ability to control anyone. 4.
But, as long as its influence exists, the individuals will keep taking births again and again. However, with Guru's grace, I have been able to swim across the sea of Maya in a blissful spiritual state (which is above Maya's effects), oh Kabir. 5.6.19.

Word Meaning: Kuhaa = where; why; of what use. Sooaan = dog. Simrit(i) = the Hindu granths. Saakut = Maya-engrossed; disconnected from God. 1. Rumay = which is omnipresent. Rum(i) = recite Naam. Pause. Kuooaa = crow. Kupoor = camphor. Churaayay = feed. Bisiur = snake. 2. Bibayk Boodh(i) = Divine Knowledge; the wisdom that enables a person to tell the good and the bad apart. Paarus(u) = elixir stone; touch stone. Purs(i) = touch. Kunchun = gold. Soyee = the same. 3.
Kuray Kuraaya = do as they are made to do. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. 4.
Amrit = life-sustaining holy water. Ooa Ko = of him; his. Sehj(u) = blissfulness. 5.

MEANING: (A money-engrossed man, who is disconnected with Waheguru, cannot be convinced to love Him); Recite the Naam of the omnipresent Waheguru again, and again, but never preach a money-engrossed person even by mistake. Pause. Singing Waheguru's praise before a money-minded person is like reading Simritis to a dog (which will have no effect on him). 1. What is the use of feeding camphor (a sweet-smelling substance) to a crow, or feeding milk to a snake (because it will still have poison in its bite)? 2. Like a piece of iron becomes gold (and cannot be told apart from other gold pieces when touched with an elixir stone), a normal person will acquire Divine Knowledge in the company of the Guru (who is the elixir stone in the realm of spirituality). 3.
But we cannot blame a money-minded person for his behaviour, because everybody, be it a dog or a man, does exactly what he is predestined to do by Waheguru right from his birth. 4. The basic nature of the neem tree (which has very bitter leaves and fruit) does not change even if you irrigate it with the sweet ambrosial water, oh Kabir. 5.7.20.

Usthir(u) ruhhaiy, na kut-houn jaayee. 4. Keht Kabir soonhou ray loyee. Ram Naam bin mookut na hoyee. 5.8.21.

Word Meaning: Sa = like. Koat(u) = fort. Smoond = sea. Khaayee = a deep
A trench around a fort, which is filled with water. Ravan = the king of Sri Lanka, and the villain in the epic of Ramayana. Khubur = news. 1. Thir(u) = stable; everlasting. Naiyn = eyes. Pause. Lukh = hundred thousand. Naati = grandsons. Deeya Baati = lamp or light. 2. Chund Sooruj = from evening to morning, and back to evening; 24 hours. Tupt = hot; burn. Rusoyee = kitchen. Baiysuntar(u) = fire; furnaces to heat water. 3. Busaayee = embedded in mind. Usthir(u) = stable. Na Kut-houn = no where. 4. Loyee = oh, folks. Bin = without. Mookut = freedom from worldly bonds. 5.

MEANING: Because nothing is everlasting, what should I ask for from Waheguru? Everything is leaving the world right in front of my eyes. Pause. Even Ravan, the king of Sri Lanka, who had fortified his country like a fort for defence purposes, and had a huge defence ditch in the form of sea around it, could not escape death. Not only that, but nobody even has any news about his fort-like house. 1. Ravan is believed to have had a hundred thousand sons, and 1.25 lakh grandsons. His family was so large that cooking went on in his kitchen all the time, and furnaces worked day and night to heat water for washing their clothes. Despite such a large family, there is nobody left in his house even to light a lamp. 2 & 3. But, if one embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart with Guru's Advice, his mind becomes peaceful and quits wandering (as a result of which the devotee becomes immortal by merging into Waheguru). 4. Listen, oh the folks of the world, nobody can break the bonds of Maya (find salvation) without Waheguru's Naam at heart, says Kabir. 5.8.21.

Keht Kabir ju iss(u) pud boojhaiy. Ram rumut tis(u) subh(u) kichh(u) soojhaiy. 5.5.22. Baayees Chaupuday tutha Punchpuday.

Word Meaning: Pehlaan = to begin with; at the time of birth. Poot(u) = pure (soul). Pichhaiy = after; later. Maayee = (attractions of) Maya; desires. Gur(u) = soul. Chayla = disciple (mind full of desires). 1. Achumbhou = strange thing. Singh(u) = lion; king. Churaavut = serves; pleases. Gaayee = cow; senses. Pause. Jul Kee Muchhlee = fish which can survive only in water (soul, which can flourish in spirituality in Waheguru's Naam-water only). Turvur(i) = with the tree (world). Biyaayeee = got married; got busy in. Kootra = a small puppy (a representation of patience). Bilaayee = cat (represents the appetite of desires). 2. Baiynsaan = branches (worldly attractions). Oopur = above; pushed out. Soola = the root (Waheguru). Payd(i) = to such a tree. Ful, Phoola = off-springs. 3. Ghoraiy = on the horse (of mind). Bhaiyns = buffalo (represents docility). Churaavun = grazing (to enjoy sensual pleasures). Baiyl = ox (represents patience). Goan(i) = the load of ignoble deeds. Ghur(i) Aayee = occupied the mind. 4. Pud = (spiritual) state. Boojhaiy = understands. Ram Rumut = remembering God. 5.

MEANING: At the time of birth, being a part of Waheguru's Soul, the human soul is also pure, but soon after, Maya begins to influence him (and the body begins to enjoy Maya's attractions) as a result of which the soul-guru (mind) becomes a disciple of its own desires. 1. At that point, a strange thing happens; the soul, which was like a king before, (becomes slave to its senses), and begins to serve them. Pause.

Like a fish, which is not exposed to the world outside the water, the human soul, which was not exposed to the outside world at the time of birth, gets married to (gets busy in) the worldly affairs, and its patience is taken away by the discontented cat of desires. 2. The human soul climbs on the tree of worldly affairs (Maya) in such a way that its branches, in the form of attractions, become its objective, and it gets higher and higher (farther and farther away) from its basis – Waheguru. This tree of worldly attractions produces similar attractions in subsequent generations. 3. With time, the docile nature of the mind becomes aggressive with the appetite of desires; and overpowered by desires, the buffalo-like soul now rides (controls) the horse-like mind to satisfy its appetite, with the result that the ox of patience has been pushed out and the load of ignoble deeds has been left on the mind. 4. Kabir says that by reciting Waheguru's Naam, a devotee understands this sad spiritual state of the soul, and gets the wisdom (to purify it). 5.9.22.

(PAGE 482): Jeevnaiy kee aas kureh(i), Jum nihaaraiy saasa. Baajiguree sunsaar(u) Kabira, chayt(i) dhaal(i) paasa. 3.1.23.

Word Meaning: Tipuday = having three stanzas. Dotookay = verse with two sentences. Ikk tooka = verse with a single sentence. Bind(u) = zygote (a fertilized ovum). Ugun(i) Koond = womb which has a high temperature. Maas = months. Oodur(i) = belly; womb. Buhour(i) = after that (birth). 1. Praani = oh, man. Loabh(i) = greed. Ruttan Junum(u) = human life, which is precious like jewels. Poorub(i) Junum(i) = in a previous life. Kerm Bhoom = the field of deeds. Boya = sowed; seeded. Pause. Birdh(i) = old. Jhoat = hair. Tubeh(i) = then. 2. Nihaaraiy = watches carefully. Saasa = breaths. Baajiguri = the game of acrobatics. Chayt(i) = carefully. Dhaal Paasa = throw the dice; make your move. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru, who converts a zygote into full human shape, saves it in the heat of the mother's womb too. The fetus is kept in the womb for ten months, after which it is exposed to Maya at birth. 1. Why are you wasting away your jewel-like, precious human life in greed, oh man? It looks like you did not sow the seed of noble deeds (Waheguru's Naam) in the field of deeds (your mind) in your previous life. Pause. It is a natural process that a man passes into old age from his childhood (but he does not perform noble deeds and recite Waheguru's Naam), so why does he cry when the Angel of death grabs him by the hair? 2. When the Angel of Death watches his breath carefully (when death is near), the man still hopes to prolong his life. The world is a game of acrobatics (where there is a risk of losing it), so one should play it carefully, like the game of dice, oh Kabir. 3.1.23.

Word Meaning: Tun = body. Raiyni = vessel in which clothes are dyed. Poon = noble qualities. Rup(i) = to dye. Paanchoun Tut = the five noble qualities (service to mankind, contentment, compassion, faith in God; high morality). Braati = marriage party; supporters. Bhaavur(i) = marriage ceremony. Aatum = soul. Tih = His 1.

Doolhuni = bride (senses). Mungulchaara = songs of joy. Greh = house (heart). Bhutaara = husband. Pause. Naabh Kumul = Brahma (because he was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu); Brahma is one of the many names used for Waheguru in Guru Granth Sahib. So, Naabh Kumul means Waheguru's memory. Baydi = a rite in Hindu marriages. Ruch Lay = set up. Oochaara = recited (the mantras). Doolhou = new husband. Us = such is. 2. Soor(i) Nur Moon(i) Jun = godly people. Kautuk = for the miracle-like ceremony. Koat(i) Taytees = the 330 million gods (a Hindu belief). Oojaana = flying machines (souls flying very high in spirituality). 3.

MEANING: Sing the songs of joy for the bride of my soul, oh my blessed senses; Waheguru has come to my heart as my husband. Pause. I have made my body the vessel to dye my mind with Waheguru's love. I have injected the five noble qualities – service to mankind, contentment, patience, compassion, and high morality - in my body-vessel to make the colour fast (deep). These noble qualities are also the members of the marriage party. Dyed in the colour of Waheguru's love, now I will go through the marriage ceremony. 1. Imbued in His love. And with His Naam in it, I have set up my heart as the stage for the ceremony of my marriage with Waheguru, wherein His Naam is being recited. I have such a great fortune that I have realized Waheguru as my husband. 2. All the 330 million gods and the holy saints with their souls flying very high in spirituality have come to watch this miracle-like marriage. The one and only omnipresent Waheguru has just married me, oh Kabir. 3.2.24.

Keht Kabir punch ko jhugra, jhugrut junum(u) guvaaya. Jhootthi Maya subh(u) jug(u) baandhiya, mein Ram rumut sookh(u) paaya. 3.3.25.

Word Meaning: Saas(u) = mother-in-law (Maya). Mothers-in-law are infamous in Indian culture for treating their daughters-in-law in a bad manner. Maya has similar effects on man; the deceptive behaviour of Maya. Sasoor = father-in-law (love for self). One serves his own body just the way a daughter-in-law serves her father-in-law. Jayth = elder; Jum (death). Sukhi Suhayli = my devotee friends. Dayvur = younger brother of the husband (women usually have affection for him because they normally support them; a spiritual supporter. Bireh(i) = in pain of separation. Juroun Ray = suffering. 1. Bauri = unwise; insane. Rehn(i) Ruhoun = spend my life. Pause. Baap(u) = body. Saavka = born together. Kuray Luraayee = quarrels. Mutvaari = intoxicated. Budda Bhaayee = holy congregation; worshippers of Waheguru. Sung(i) = with; in the company of. Naah = Lord; Waheguru. 2. Punch = five (the demons). Jhugra = fight. Jhootthi = false; temporary. 3.

MEANING: I am very unwise that I have forgotten Waheguru's Naam, oh my friends. Now, how can I spend the rest of my life without His Naam?

Even though I suffer from the deceptive behaviour of Maya, I love my body (and do not want to die). So, I am afraid even of the name of death. I am possessed by sensual pleasures, and do not attend any holy gatherings (this staying away strikes terror of death in my mind); so, now I am suffering from the pain of separation from my spiritual friends, as I have no spiritual support. 1. My body, which was born with me, quarrels with me for food, and the effects of Maya are always intoxicating; so, I enjoy food and other luxuries of Maya (as a result which God does not love me). I also know that whenever I am in the company of holy devotees where Waheguru's praise is sung, I am loved by Him (I feel blissful). 2.

The man wastes away his precious human life fighting with the five demons. The whole world is trapped in the short-lived comforts of Maya, but I feel blissful by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Kabir. 3.3.25.

Toomh tuou jaachay bhooput(i) raajay, Hur(i) siyoun moar dhiyaana. 3.4.26.
Word Meaning: Tuneh(i) Taana = stretch out the warp (to weave). Kuntth(i) = neck. Janeyoo = the ritualistic thread. Gaayitri = a three-sentence sacred Hindu mantra. 1.
Jihba = tongue. Naiyn = eyes. Buvray = foolish. Mookunda = God. Pause.
Goaroo = cows. Gooaar = care taker; guide. Gosaayeen = master. Paar(i) Ootaar(i) = ferry us across the sea of Maya. Churaayiu =carried (to the other end). Khusm = master. 2.
Kaaseek = of Kashi (Banaras). Joolha = weaver. Boojhou = understand. Giyana = knowledge; wisdom. Jaachay = beg; wish for. Bhooput(i) = owner of a huge piece of land; a ruler. Moar = mine. 3.
MEANING: You wear a cotton thread (janeyoo) around your neck, and feel very proud of that (and claim to be highly religious) - albeit very falsely. (I should be considered more religious because) I am a weaver, and we weave cotton in our house every day, oh Brahman. Also, you read the Vedas and the Gayathri mantra (just to impress people), but I have Waheguru in my heart. 1. Waheguru is on my tongue, in my eyes (I see Him everywhere), and I have Him residing in my heart. So, when the Angel of Death questions you about your deeds, what will Waheguru think about you? Pause.
We are like your cows (we depend upon you for our spirituality), and you are our care taker (guide), and claim to have been our protector (guard in religious matters), but you have never fed us any spirituality to ferry us across the sea of Maya. What kind of master are you? 2.
You claim to be a resident of (educated at) Banaras, and I am an illiterate weaver living in Banaras, but listen to a word of wisdom from me; despite all of your education, you still beg at the door of the rulers and the rajahs, but I keep only Waheguru in my mind, (I beg only from Him), oh conceited Brahman. 3.4.26.

Word Meaning: Jug(i) = in the world. Jeevun(u) = life. Smaanun(g) = like; similar. Saach(i) Kur(i) = thinking it to be true (everlasting). Gaantth Deeni = made a strong bond. Perm Nidhaanun(g) = the supreme treasure (Waheguru). 1. Moh = Hit(u) = deep love. Hir(i) = took away; stole. Pause. Putung(u) = moth. Oorjhaiy = gets trapped. Pus(u) = animal; foolish. Kaal Phaas = noose of death. Moogudh(u) = foolish. Chaytaiy = remembers. Kunik = gold; wealth. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Laag(i) = attached to. 2. Bikaar = vices. Purhur(i) = push away; get rid of. Turn = boat. Taarun = to ferry. Soyay = that (Waheguru). Jugjeevun = soul of the world (God). Dootiya = other. 3.

MEANING: Life in this world is just like a dream; life and dream are similar. But we believe the world to be true (everlasting), and make a strong bond with it, completely forgetting the real Supreme Treasure (of comforts) – Waheguru. 1. We get attached to Maya, which steals our jewel of Divine Knowledge (love for God), oh, wise man. Pause. Just like the moth, which is foolish not to see the fire, and gets trapped in it (and dies), the ignorant and foolish man does not remember the noose of death, and gets deeply attached to his wealth and his wife. 2. Getting rid of all your vices, come to realize that the real ship to ferry you across the sea of Maya is Waheguru, oh man. Only Waheguru is like that (the emancipator), and there is none other like Him in the whole world, oh Kabir. 3.5.27.

Word Meaning: Juou = if. Roop = (different life) forms; reincarnations. Buhoutayray = many. Phoon(i) = again. Taaga = thread (of worldly attachments). Tunt(u) = wire. Saaj(u) = musical instrument; expensive developments and decorations. Thaaka = exhausted; lost complete interest. Bus(i) = in control. 1. Naachno = dance (to the tune of Maya). Persaada = kindness. 3.

MEANING: I have forgotten (quit) dancing to the tune of Maya now, and my mind does not beat the drum to glorify Maya anymore. Pause. I had gone through many different life forms (taken births many times before), but now, I will not take any birth again. The reason for this is that the thread and the wire of my attachment to the world have exhausted (become extremely weak; i.e., I have lost complete interest in worldly attractions). I have also stopped playing Maya's music (love for my expensive belongings and decorations), and now I am under the full control of Waheguru's Naam (I accept His Will completely). 1.
I have burned my lust, rage, and my love for Maya, and the vessel of my desires has broken. The urge of my lust has worn out, my misgivings have been cleared, and I have broken all connections with the worldly attractions. 2. I have realized that Waheguru is present uniformly in all human beings, as a result of which, all my aggressive arguments and disagreements have disappeared. With the benevolence of the Guru, I have realized the Perfect Waheguru, oh Kabir. 3.6.28.

Word Meaning: Roaja = fasting during the month of Ramzan. Munaavaiy = pleases. Sooaadit(i) = for the taste. Sunghaaraiy = kills. Aapa = self. Daykh(i) = looks after. Uver = others. Daykhaiy = realize; recognize. Jhukh Maaray = useless and foolish acts. 1. Sahib(u) = Lord. Khubur(i) Na Kureh(i) = does not understand. Deen Kay Bauray = blinded by religious beliefs. Alaykhaiy = not recognized; worthless. Pause. Saach(u) = God. Kutayb = western religious books (Quran, Bible, Torah, etc.) Naar(i) = female. Purakh(u) = male. Gooneh = use; worth. Bauray = unwise. 2. Gaiyb(u) = hidden. Ghut = heart. Bheetur(i) = inside. Pookaari = says aloud. 3.

MEANING: You do not think and realize that there is only one Lord of the universe, who is present in you as well, oh qazi. Blinded by the faith in your own religion, you do not realize the fact that the same Allah is present (in non-Muslims too); because of this ignorance, your life is going to waste. Pause. You do undertake ritualistic fasting in the month of Ramzan, and kill an animal in the name of sacrifice to please Allah, but actually, you do it for your own taste (enjoyment). You look after your own interests but not those of others. So, all your acts are foolish and meaningless (in the eyes of Allah). Your religious books also praise Allah, which is the Lord of all men and women alike (but you discriminate against women). There is no use in just reading religious books if you do not understand them (or follow them diligently). 2. You must realize the fact clearly that Allah is present hidden in every heart – whether they are Hindus or Muslims – says Kabir aloud. 3.7.29.

Dhun = wife. Busayra = dwelling. Sayj = bed. Paiy = but. Doohayra = difficult. 2. Dhunn(i) = fortunate. Soohaagun(i) = married. Pea = dear; husband. 3.

MEANING: People adorn themselves with religious symbols (like janeyoo, anointment on the forehead, and a rosary around the neck, etc.), but still cannot realize Waheguru (because He is not pleased with such hypocrisy). 1. (I serve Waheguru as a wife does for her husband); Waheguru is my husband, and I am His wife. Waheguru is great (perfectly wise) and unlimited in size, whereas I am ignorant and very small. Pause.

The wife (soul) and the husband (Waheguru) dwell at the same place (in the human heart). They share the same bed (human heart), but their union is extremely difficult. 2.

That human bride is considered to be really married and very fortunate who is liked (loved) by her husband (Waheguru). Such a bride is never reborn, oh Kabir. 3.8.30.

Smaayee = focused. Jot(i) = every living being. 1. Kutha = discussion; praise. Anaahud Bani = Divine Words. Hunse(u) = pure soul. Heera = Waheguru. Pause. Us = such. Smaayee = present. Goopta = hidden. Pergut Bhuyyo = became visible; appeared (in the heart). Gum = who has access to (Waheguru). 2.

MEANING: When the purified mind of a devotee is pierced with Waheguru's love, his wind-like (fickle) mind (which wanders constantly), becomes peaceful, and stays in the blissful state (above the effects of Maya). With Satguru's Advice, I have come to realize that Waheguru has pierced every living being (His light is present in everyone). 1.

Praise of Waheguru is the Divine Knowledge (imparted by Satguru) with which a man becomes a swan (a devotee with a purified mind), and he recognizes the Waheguru-Diamond (gets connected to Him). Pause. I have seen such a Diamond (Waheguru), which is hidden throughout the world. However, He becomes visible (appears in the heart) when the Guru, who has access to Waheguru, reveals Him, oh Kabir. 2.1.31.

Word Meaning: Pehli = the former (thinking; nature). Kroop(i) = ugly. Koojaat(i) = low caste (ignoble). Koolukhni = with bad qualities. Sauhraiy = in-laws' house; the next world. Payiyaiy = parents' house; present world. Ub Kee = the present one. Sroop(i) = beautiful. Soojaan(i) = wise. Soolukhni = noble; virtuous. Sehjay = in the blissful state. Oodur = heart. Dhuree = placed; stored; acquired. 1. Bhulee Surie = good, that it happened. Buree = wife (thinking). Joog, Joog Jeevhou = long live. Ub Kee Dhuie = acquired recently. Pause. Lauhouri = young woman (new thinking). Buddi = older; former. Soohaag = husband. Turiyo = avoided; lost. Jaytthee = the older; former. Aur = somewhere else. 2.

MEANING: It is great for me that the wife (thinking) whom I had married (acquired) before, has died (has left me). May my presently acquired noble wisdom live long. Pause. My former wife (original thinking or nature) was ugly (repulsive), of low caste (low thinking), full of ignoble qualities, and was bad for me in both the worlds - the present, and the next. But the one whom I have married (acquired in my heart) now is beautiful, wise, and is loaded with virtues. 1. With the arrival of my new thinking, the former has lost her husband (has left me). MEANING: My original thinking was slave of money (money-loving), but now it has been given a new name (has become) - a slave (devotee) of Waheguru. 1.
My new devotee friends made my mind foggy (indecisive) for a while with their new thinking. (But now everything has become clear) And my mind is now worshiping Waheguru. Pause. Kabir says that these devotee-friends of mine have completely changed my nature, oh my mother. 2.3.33.

Hur(i) goon gaavut junum(u) buteetaiy. 4.1.34.

Word Meaning: Ruhou = stay; wait. Bauhouriya = new bride (devotee). Ghoonghut(u) = veil (cover face from Waheguru). Jin(i) = lest; watch out. Aadhaiy = a very small coin (price; reward). Pause. Aagaiy = before. Gaiyl(u) = company; effect. habit; to copy. 1. Budaayee = credit; recognition. Buhoo = wife; daughter-in-law. Bhulay = nice. 2. Saaachaiy = real. Koodeh(i) Ur(u) Naachaiy = (the mind may) jump and dance (zestfully in love for Waheguru). 3. Jeetaiy = wins (the battle of life). Buteetaiy = is spent. 4.

NOTE: Until 30-40 years ago, married women used to cover their faces with a veil in front of their older in-laws and strangers. This was considered a sign of respect for the elders and an act of grace (shyness) on the part of the women. In Sri Guru Granth Sahib, Waheguru is considered to be the real husband (Lord). In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib is advising the young people not to shy away from (avoid) Waheguru, who is their husband (not an elder in-law).

MEANING: Wait, wait, oh young marriageable girl lest you should use a veil (for Waheguru) (avoid Him). In that case, rather than earning the respect of the in-laws (Waheguru), you will have almost no spiritual worth at the time of death (in Waheguru's Court). Pause.

Most people used a veil (for Waheguru) before you; I do not want you to join their company and acquire their bad habit (copy them). 1. Yes, those brides who shun Waheguru (and get attached to Maya and serve their in-laws' family well) do get some praise for a few days, that the new bride is very worldly-wise. 2. But your veil will be real if, in addition to respecting and serving your in-laws, your mind also jumps and dances zestfully in love with God. 3. That bride wins the game of life who spends her life singing praise of Waheguru, oh Kabir. 4.1.34.

Ub toomri purteet na hoyee. 4.2.35.

Word Meaning: Kurvut(u) = a saw (there was a special saw in Banaras where some devotees, blind in their faith, used to get their bodies sawed to please their god. Even today, some people throw them in front of a chariot loaded with devotees of Krishna Ji to be trampled over. Kervut = turning face away; show indifference. 1. Vaari = sacrifice my life. Kahay Kuou = what for. Maaray = kill; punish. Pause. Cheereh(i) = slash. Moaroun = pull away. Pind(u) Puraiy = body collapses. 2. Beech(u) = in the middle. Kunt = husband. Naar(i) = woman; wife. 3. Loyee = oh world. Perteet = trust. 4.

MEANING: I would rather have my body sawed off than Your indifference towards me, oh Waheguru. Please listen to my request while hugging me. 1. I will sacrifice my life for You if You turn Your face towards me (love me), oh my Dear. Why are you killing (punishing) me by turning Your face away? Pause. If You slash my body, I will not pull it away, and I will not terminate my love for You even if my body collapses. 2. There is nothing between us separating You from me. You are my husband (Lord), and I am Your wife (a devout slave). 3. Now, I am left with no faith in glamorous worldly attractions (I will not be deceived by them), oh Kabir. 4.2.35.

Sootaiy, soot milaayay Kori. 4.3.36.

Word Meaning: Kori = a Hindu weaver. Merm(u) = secret. Aan(i) = by bringing in (by creating). Tunaayiou Taana = stretched the warp. Pause. Itnuk(u) = that much (a small size). Pusriyo = stretched. 1. Dhurn(i) = earth. Kurgeh = wooden stakes (and rods on the top) around which the warp is stretched. Saath = pipes through which the thread of the weft is passed to weave. 2. Paayee = the two pedals which are depressed in turn by feet to lower and raise the warp. Baat Ikk Keeni = created the drama of the world. Taanti = weaver. Mun Maana = got convinced. Ghur(i) = Ghut = mind. Cheena = analyzed. 3. Kargeh = working shop; the arrangement (the weaving mechanism). Sootaiy Soot Milaayay = merges threads with the Thread (absorbs the world in Him). 4.

MEANING: Nobody knows the secrets of a weaver (that is how he feels). By the time you folks listen to the Vedas and the Puranas, I stretch out this much (a small amount of warp) (an honest labour). People do not realize that Waheguru is also a kind of weaver who has created the whole world in the form of a stretched warp. 1 & Pause.

Ground, and some support above it, are needed for weaving. Waheguru uses the earth and the sky as the ground and the top support. Just as the weaver uses two tubes to move (pass) the weft thread, the moon and the sun move the thread of life (time). 2.

And just as the weaver uses the two foot-pedals to lower, or to raise the warp, the weaver Waheguru uses life and death to raise or to lower (cut) life. Noting this similarity, the mind of this weaver got convinced of the supremacy of Waheguru, and when I searched my own mind, I recognized (found) Him in my heart. 3. When Waheguru collapses this workshop, the whole world is absorbed in Him, oh Kabir. 4.3.36.

Keh(i) Kabir, nur tiseh(i) dhiyaavhou, baavuriya sunsaara. 4.4.37.

Word Meaning: Maiyl (filth of deception). Baiykoontth = paradise. Loak = world. Puteenaiy = please; convince. Ayaana = a child; ignorant. 1. Dayva = god; deity. Saacha = real; acceptable to Waheguru. Pause. Mujun = bathe. Gut(i) = high spiritual state; emancipation. Maynduk = frogs. Oye Nur = that man. 2. Munhoun Kutthoar(u) = stone-hearted; merciless. Banaras is believed to be the city of Shiva, and it is said that whoever dies there goes to Paradise. Nerk = hell. Baachiya = escape. Hurrumba = a city situated on badlands, and is believed to belong to Ganesh (Shiva's son). It is further believed that the city has been condemned, and whoever dies in Hurrumba, is reborn as a donkey. Kabir Sahib was born in Banaras and lived there for most of his life, but moved to Hurrumba in his last days. Suglee Saiyn = the whole army (of his associates). 3. Nirunkaara = formless Waheguru. Baavuriya = foolish; ignorant. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is the only deity to worship, and service to the Guru (obeying His Advice) is the real bath at holy places. Pause. A man who has the filth of deception will never go to Paradise, even if he takes dips in many holy places. One does not gain anything in terms of spirituality by impressing people by his cleverness because Waheguru is not a child (ignorant). 1. If salvation could be achieved by taking dips in water, then a frog should also get salvation because it bathes in water all the time. The dip of the deceptive person in holy waters is just like that of a frog, and he continues to be born again, and again. 2.

Totally contrary to the myth, if a stone-hearted person dies in Banaras, he cannot escape hell. On the other hand, if a true devotee of Waheguru dies in Hurrumba, not only the devotee but also all his associates are salvaged. 3.

The formless Waheguru resides where day and night have no effect at all, and He is above all the Vedas and the Puranas – they cannot reach Him. So, worship Him alone, oh the foolish people, advises Kabir. 4.4.37.

Word Meaning: Aik = One (Waheguru). Anayk = countless. Biyaapuk Pooruk = omnipresent. Jut = where. Tut = there. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Chittat Buchittar = in different forms and colours. Bimohut(i) = captivates. Birla = rare. 1.
Gobind(u) = Waheguru. Soot = thread. Mun(i) = beads. Sut = hundreds. Sehuns = thousands. Oat(i) Poat(i) = the cross threads of a fabric; warp and weft. Pause.
Trung = wave. Ur(u) = and. Phayn = foam. Boodbooda = bubbles. Bhinn = different. Perpunch(u) = the visible world. Leela = drama. Bichrut = lives; roams around. Aan = other. Koyee = else. 2. Mithiya = false. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Soopun = dream. Munoruth = objective. Sat(i) = real; everlasting. Pdaaruth = matter; articles. Sookirt = noble deeds; honest earnings. Munsa = wishes and desires. Jaagut = awakening (enlightenment) of the mind. Mun(u) Maaniya = mind was won over (convinced). 3.
Ruchna = creation. Niruntar(i) = continuous. Mooraari = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: The sole Supreme Being is present everywhere in countless forms; wherever I look, I see Him there, but some rare devotee understands (experiences) that. Otherwise, Maya (which is created by Him), is captivating the whole world in many different forms and colours. 1. It is Waheguru, and Waheguru alone, that is present in everybody, and there is nobody without (outside) Him. Just as a thread connects hundreds of thousands of beads, Waheguru binds everyone like the cross threads (warp and weft) in fabric. Pause. Just like a wave, or a bubble of water-foam on the surface of water, is not different from the water, this whole creation (visible world) is a drama of Waheguru alone, and there is nobody else between Him and the world (His creation is not different from Him). 2. The whole world, which is really false (short-lived), and is like achieving some objective in a dream, is believed to be real (everlasting) by the man. But it is only after the Guru reveals that the man's real wish should be to perform noble deeds and to earn honestly, so that his mind is enlightened. 3. If the man really thought deeply, he would realize that the whole world is Waheguru's creation, and only He is present in every heart and everywhere, oh Namdeo. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Aaneelay = brought. Koombh = container. Ooduk = water. Buyaalees Lukh = 4.2 million. Beetthul = Lord; God. Bhaiyla = mixed; present. Kaayay Kuroun = what can you do. 1. Jutur = where. Anund = blissful. Kayla = detached. Pause. Proyilay = to thread. Maala = necklace. Pooj = (ritualistic) worship. Baas = smell. Bhuvreh = bumblebee. 2. Ridhaayaylay = cook; prepare. Kheerun(g) = rice pudding. Naiyvayd = offering of food items to the idol. Bitaariyo = made impure. Buchhraiy = the calf. 3. Eebhaiy = here. Oobhaiy = there. Sunsaar(u) = world. Thanuntar = in distant places. Pernvaiy = requests; submits. Serb = whole. Muhee = Earth; world. 4.

MEANING: (Waheguru is present everywhere and in everybody, so the ritualistic worship of any kind of idols is meaningless). No matter where I go, I find Waheguru (God) present everywhere. Detached from the world, He is enjoying blissfully. Pause. Most devotees take a vessel to bring water from some source (a river, a pool, or a well), to bathe the idol. But, 4.2 million kinds of living beings are believed to be present in water, and Waheguru is present in each of them. Being present in them, Waheguru is always bathing in waters. So, what favour do the devotees do to Him? 1. The devotees bring flowers, make a necklace, and perform ritualistic worship of the idol; but before the flowers are offered to the idol, the bumblebee, which has Waheguru present in it, has already smelt them. So, what new (pure) is offered to Waheguru (the idol)? 2. The devotees milk cows and use the milk to cook rice pudding to offer to the idol, but Waheguru had already drunk the milk through the calf (and made it impure). So, what is new offered to the idol? 3. Waheguru is present here and there, and nothing in the world is without Him. He is present even in the distant places, and fills the whole universe completely, oh Kabir. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Guj = a yard; measuring tape. Jihva = tongue. Kaati = scissors. Mup(i), Mup(i) = by measuring. Jum Kee Phaasi = the noose of death. 1. Jaati = caste. Paati = clan. Pause. Raangun(i) = in the colour (love of). Seevun(i) = seam. Seevoun = I sew. 2. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours; all the time. Khusm(u) = Lord (Waheguru). 3. Soyinay Kee Sooyee = needle of gold = purified concentration. Roopay Ka Dhaaga = thread of silver = Waheguru's Naam. Chit(u) = mind. 4.

MEANING: My (low) caste or clan are no impediment to my worship of Waheguru. I recite His Naam day and night. Pause. My (pure) mind is serving as the measuring tape, and my tongue (which recites Waheguru's Naam) is serving as scissors to measure and cut the noose of (spiritual) death. 1. I am dyeing my mind in Waheguru's love, and stitching it to create a seam with Waheguru (connecting with Him). Now, I cannot live without His Naam even for a short moment. 2. I worship my Lord, recite His Naam, and sing His praise all twenty-four hours. 3. I am stitching my mind with Waheguru using my purified concentration as the needle, and His Naam as the thread, oh Naama (Naam Dev). 4.3.

Word Meaning: Saap = snake. Koonch = dried cast skin (slough). Bikh(u) = poison. Ooduk = water. Bug(u) = Buglaa = heron. Maanday = focus; with determination. 1. Jupunna = for recitation. Soodh(u) = clean; pure. Pause. Singhuch = forcibly snatched (like a lion); robbed. Jaanaiy = knows. Tthug Dayo = the god of the deceitful. Bukhaanaiy = is called. 2. Laahilay = removed; clarified. Jhugra = dispute; confusion. Rasaayin = the source of all juices (enjoyments). Dugra = stone-hearted. 3.
MEANING: The snake does shed its slough, but its poisonous nature does not change. Similarly, the looks of a heron are very deceptive when it is focusing its attention on water. He looks very innocent and like a pretty white bird, but his attention is focused on catching fish. 1. A man who has deceit in mind but meditates on God is very much like the snake or the heron. So, what does he achieve by such meditation? Pause. A man who knows only to earn his living by robbing or deceiving others is the god (leader) of all the deceitful. 2. So, drink the Amrit of Lord's Naam, which is the source of all the juices (enjoyments), oh, the stone-hearted Naam Dev. 3.4.

Word Meaning: J(i) = whoever. Cheensi = recognizes; makes a connection with. Tay = that (man). Tay = him. Bhaavsi = like. Chaytilay = remember. Achint = free from all worries. 1. Chheepa = washerman. Daiyla = was given. Bhaiyla = happened; received. Bhaytula = got connected. 2.
MEANING: This world-sea is an attractive forest of poisonous Maya. The man forgets Waheguru on seeing the deceptive attractions of Maya (which are short-lived). So, how will you swim across this sea of Maya (the world-sea), oh man. Pause.
But a person who recognizes (makes a connection with) God does not like building hopes (he believes in the Will of Waheguru). So, remember worshipping Waheguru so as to be worry-free, oh man. 1. Even though I was born in a low-caste washerman's family,

I was fortunate to receive Guru's Advice. I got connected with Waheguru with the grace of the holy saints, oh Nama. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Mirg = deer. Mean = fish. Bhring = bumbe bee. Putung = moth. Koonchar = elephant. Doakh = vice; bad habit. Punch = five. Asaadh = incurable. Kaytuk = how much. 1. Madho = Waheguru. Abidiya = lack of knowledge (ignorance); darkness of mind. Hit = love. Bibayk Deep = the lamp of Divine light. Muleen = dirty; Pause. Trigud Joan(i) = lower animals (like worms and creepers). Achayt = unmindful. Sumbhuv = possible. Asoach = cannot think. Doolub = rare; very difficult to achieve. Sungut(i) = company. Poach = ignoble. 2. Jea Junt = living beings. Bus(i) = in the control of. Jaayay = after taking birth. Kaal Phaas = noose of death. Abudh = indestructible. Oopaayay = cure; measure. 3. Oadaas = detached from Maya. Tuj = give up. Bherm(i) = misgivings. Tupun Tup = the best worship of all. Bhaiy-Hern = destroyer of all fears. Permanund = supreme bliss. Nidaan = at the end. 4.1.

MEANING: The deer (loves music), the fish (is greedy for the bait), the bumblebee (enjoys the sap of the flowers), the moth (loves light and fire), and the elephant (is overpowered by lust), each has only one vice (bad habit), and still suffers badly (including death) as a result. So, what can the man expect who has not just one, but five major incurable evils (lust, rage, worldly attachments, greed, and ego)? 1. The man loves ignorance as a result of which his lamp of Divine Knowledge has become foggy (he cannot tell the good from the bad), oh Waheguru. Pause. The lower animals are unmindful, and possibly cannot think about noble and ignoble deeds; but the sad thing is that the man in human life, who is intelligent and very difficult to receive, also keeps company with vices. 2.

After taking birth, all living beings, wherever they are, continue to perform the types of deeds which are predestined for them based on their previous lives. As a result, the noose of (spiritual) death becomes indestructible, and no measure can cut that. 3.

Abandon all your love for worldly attractions and all your misgivings, and take Guru's Advice, which is the best of all kinds of worship of Waheguru, oh Ravidass. Also, pray to God like this: Oh, the fear destroyer of the devotees, Waheguru, I have come to Your shelter; please be kind and grant me the supreme bliss (of Your Naam). 4.1.

MEANING: Your holy devotees are Your body, and the holy congregation is Your life, oh Waheguru. It is with Satguru's enlightenment that one comes to realize that Waheguru's holy devotees are His manifestation (Waheguru clearly resides in their heart). 1. Kindly, implant love for Your saints in my heart, and provide their company so that I may enjoy the blissfulness of Your virtues (Your praise) as narrated by them, oh Waheguru. Pause. I wish to serve the holy saints as a slave of their slaves, so as to develop a high character like theirs and follow their path (to unite with God). 2. I beg for Your worship, and one more thing, that I should never have to meet with unholy people, including the sinners, oh Waheguru. 3. I submit politely that the individual who realizes that there is no difference between the holy saints and the limitless Waheguru is truly wise, oh Ravidass. 4.2.

MEANING: I am full of ignoble qualities, and You are always kind and do favours to the needy, oh Waheguru. I have come to Your shelter with the request that I should always be in the company of the holy saints where Your praise is sung. Pause. You are like a huge sandal tree, whereas I am like a small (insignificant) plant. But I am lucky to be close to You, oh Waheguru. Because of Your closeness, I, too, have become a big tree from a small plant, and Your sweet fragrance has masked my bad smell (I have also acquired some noble qualities like You). 1. You are like white and yellow soft silk, whereas I am poor (humble) like a worm. Please keep me attracted to the company of holy saints, as honey bees are attracted to the honeycomb. 2.

I belong to a low caste and a low clan; in fact, I am low (with not-so-good deeds) in my life too, because I have not served the Royal Waheguru, oh Ravidass. 3.3.

Word Meaning: Kuhaa Bhuyyio = so what? Chhin(u) Chhin(u) = cut into small pieces. Tuou = only then. Derpaiy = is afraid (concerned). 1. Urbind = lotus flower. Bhuvun = palace; shelter. Paan Kert = while drinking (Naam-Amrit). Ramuyya = Omnipresent (Waheguru). Pause. Sumput(i) = wealth. Biput(i) = trouble; suffering. Putul = curtain; wall. Mugun = rapt; engrossed. Jun(u) = slave; devotee. 2. Javri = chain; bond. Chhootibo = get free. Goon = means. 3.4.

MEANING: So, what (I do not care) if my body is cut into small pieces; I am only afraid (concerned) lest I should lose my love for You, oh Waheguru. 1. Your lotus-like soft (holy) Feet are (Your Naam is) the home for my heart. While drinking Your Naam-Amrit, I have acquired You as my wealth, oh Waheguru. Pause. The Maya as wealth, is a wall between You and me, and a source of suffering. I, as Your slave, should not get engrossed in that wealth. 2. I am bonded with You with the chain of love; what means will You use now to free Yourself (from the bond of my love), asks Ravidass. (The bond of love between the devotee and Waheguru is the strongest and cannot be broken). 3.4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such that many devotees have found complete salvation by reciting it. Pause. It is because of Waheguru's Naam that Kabir became well known in the world, and all the papers of the accounts of his previous deeds were destroyed. 1. It was because of the offering of milk to Waheguru that Naam Dev found salvation and never suffered the pain of rebirth again. 2.
With Guru's grace, I am also a devotee of Waheguru, and am fully imbued in His love; and now, I will not go to hell (take birth again), oh Ravidass. 3.5.

MEANING: It is amazing to see how the man, who is only a puppet of mud, dances at the hands of Maya. He sees, he listens, and keeps running around (to acquire more and more wealth). Pause. He gets conceited when he achieves something, but begins to cry when he loses wealth. 1. He is captivated by different tastes of Maya, and enjoys them in his mind, by his words (praising it), and by his deeds. But nobody knows where he disappears after death (no connection is left with this world, which he was enjoying). 2. The world is like a circus (where amazing acrobatic acts are performed). I have fallen in love with the acrobat - Waheguru, oh Ravidass. 3.6.

NOTE: Bhagat Dhanna Ji was born in Dhuan Kalan, Rajasthan, in 1415, to a Hindu Jatt Dhaliwal family. He was an idol worshipper, but hearing about his contemporary Bhagats, like Kabir Ji, and Ravidass Ji, he quit idol worship and went to Banaras to meet with the above well-known Bhagats. There, he met with Rama Nand Ji, who guided him to the Path of Waheguru worship. He must have met with Kabir Sahib and Ravidass Ji too. Soon, Dhanna Ji realized Waheguru with his childlike, pure mind, and with his love and dedication for Waheguru, with which he recited His Naam, began to be considered a great bhagat along with Kabir Sahib and Ravidass Ji. Even though Dhanna Ji had quit idol worship, the idol-worshipping Brahmans did not relish the fact that Dhanna Ji had realized Waheguru by reciting His Naam. They wanted Dhanna Ji to be popular for idol worship, and not for being a devotee of Waheguru, so they began to spread false stories about him, claiming that he realized God by idol worship. There are three Shabads of Dhanna Ji in Sri Guru Granth Sahib in which he contradicts the false stories about him and clearly explains that he realized Waheguru through the grace of holy saints like Rama Nand Ji and Kabir Sahib, not through idol worship.

Guru Arjun Dev Ji has also refuted the claim of the Brahmans that Dhanna Ji realized Waheguru by idol worship, and has supported Dhanna Ji's claim, and gave reasons for that in the next holy Shabad.

Word Meaning: Bhermut Phirt = going through (different life forms). Bilaanay = spent. Dheeray = find peace. Laaluch = greed. Bikh(u) = Maya. Kaam = lust. Loobudh = captivated by. Raata = imbued. Bisray = forgotten. Heeray = diamond-like. Pause.
Ful = fruit. Bauray = crazy. Chaar = beautiful; noble. Goon = virtues Tay = rather than. Un Bhaanti = Different kinds. Taaniya = weaves the web. 1.
Joogut(i) = technique (noble way). Nivaasi = embedded. Julut = burning in desires. Jum = Angel of death. Sunch(i) = by accumulating. Perm Purakh = God. 2.
Pervaysh(u) = entrance (In mind). Dhiyan = focus of mind. Maan(u) = with dedication. Muyyay = one form. Maani = accepted. Triput Aghaanaiy = complete contentment. Mookut(i) = salvation. 3. Joat = soul. Ja Kaiy = in that (Waheguru). Achhulee = indeceivable. Dhernidhur = the support of the world (Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: The man spends many lives in many different forms because he is not content with his body, his mind, or his wealth. Captivated by attractive Maya, he is imbued with greed, lust, and rage, and forgets diamond-like Waheguru. Pause. The insane man finds the fruit of sensual pleasures to be sweet, and does not think about noble deeds. Rather than having virtuous qualities (singing Waheguru's praise), he develops love for other worldly things, and weaves his own net for rebirths. 1. He does not give room to the path of righteousness in his mind, as a result of which he burns in the fire of desires, and the net of death is cast around him. He accumulates and fills his mind with the fruit of (sweet-tasting) vices in such a way that the Supreme Soul, Waheguru, is forgotten. 2.

The Guru gives the wealth of the Divine Knowledge for admission to Waheguru's Residence (connects with Him) as a result of which the devotee's focus of mind and his dedication (faith in Waheguru) cause him to be "one" with Waheguru. His worship of Waheguru with love is recognized; as a result, he gets fully contented, enjoys blissfulness, and is salvaged. 3.
He realizes the indeceivable Waheguru, and his soul merges into His. In the company of the holy saints (and NOT by idol worship), I have also realized the wealth of union with Waheguru, oh Dhanna. 4.1.

(PAGE 488): Eh bidh(i) soon kaiy jaatro, ootth(i) bhugti laaga. Milay pertukh(i) Gosaayiyaan, Dhunna vudbhaaga. 4.2.
Word Meaning: Sung(i) = with; in the company of. Leena = fully absorbed. Aadh Daam = a very small amount of money. Chheepro = washer man. Laakheena = worth hundreds of thousands. Pause. Boon-na Tun-na = weaving. Tiyaag Kaiy = by giving up. Neech-koola = low caste. Jolaahra = weaver. Gooni Guheera = treasures of virtues. 1. Dhovunta = hauled. Dhoar = (dead) cattle. Neet = every day. Pergut(u) = became famous. Dershun = glimpse. 2. Naayee = barbar. Bootkaariya = who does errands for others without any compensation. Guniya = considered; respected 3. Bidh(i) = these examples. Jaatro = humble Jatt (farmer). Ootth(i) = got motivated. Pertukh(i) = visibly. Gosaayiyaan = Waheguru. Vudbhaaga = lucky. 4.
MEANING: When Dhanna Ji heard the following stories about the well-known Bhagats, he began to worship Waheguru.
Because of his full absorption in Waheguru's Naam, bhagat Naamdeo, who was a washerman by profession, and was worth only a penny (in the eyes of the masses), became very famous (and worthy of hundreds of thousands of rupees). Pause.
When Kabir Sahib quit weaving and fell in love with the holy Feet (of Waheguru), the low-caste weaver became well-known all over as the treasure of virtues. 1.
When Ravidass Ji, who was a cobbler and used to haul the dead cattle (for their hides) every day, and had abandoned Maya, had a glimpse of Waheguru (got connected with Him) in the company of the holy saints, he became very famous in the world. 2.

Similarly, Saiyn Ji, who was a barber and used to perform errands for others without compensation, was spoken of in every household after he embedded Waheguru in his heart and was respected as a great devotee. 3.
Having heard all those stories, Dhanna Ji also got motivated and began to worship Waheguru. He was very fortunate to have realized Waheguru visibly (people noticed that from a great change in his behaviour). 4.

Word Meaning: Ray Chit = oh my mind. Chaytus(i) = remember (think of). Duyyal = kind. Damodar = a name for Waheguru. Bibeh(i) = other. Dhaaveh(i) = rushes. Brehmund Khund = a part of the universe; country-wide. Pause.
Jun-nee = who gives birth (mother). Oodur = womb. Ooduk = water (placenta). Pind(u) = body. Dus –Dooaara = having ten doors. Ahaar(u) = food. Ugun(i) = fire; heat. Raakhaiy = protects. Aiysa = such is. 1.
Koomi = turtle. Tun = offspring. Punkh = wings. Kheer = milk. Poorun = Perfect. Permanund = (source of) supreme bliss (Waheguru). Manohar = heart captivating (God). 2. Paakhun(i) = rock. Keet(u) = microbes. . Goopt(u) = hidden. Cho = from. Maarug = exit. Mut = do not. Draahi = be afraid; worry about. 3.
MEANING: Why do you not remember the kind Waheguru, oh my mind? You should not recognize any other power than Him. Even if someone rushes to different parts of the country (tries hard to earn wealth, or for some other purpose), only what the Creator wants happens. Pause. He creates the ten-doored human body in the placenta of the mother's womb, and delivers food to the fetus even there, and also protects him from the high heat in the womb. Such is my Lord! 1. (Take another example), the mother turtle lives in the sea while her offspring are out on the shore. Neither the newborn kids have wings to fly to their mother for food, nor does the mother have milk to feed them. Think about how they are fed. It is the heart-captivating Waheguru (who feeds them)! 2. Similarly, small microbes live hidden in rocks, with no exit to the outside world to find food. It is again the Perfect Lord which fulfills their needs. So, what should you be worried about, oh Dhanna? 3.3.

Word Meaning: Dilhoun = deep from the heart. Sachiya = real; true. Kaandhay = are called. Kuchiya = have faltering (deceitful) minds. 1. Ruttay = imbued. Ishuq = love. Khoodaayay = of God. Rung(i) = in love with. Deedaar = holy sight. Visriya = forgotten. Bhooyay = on the earth. Bhaar(u) = unnecessary burden. Theeyay = are; have become. Pause. Lurr laayay = adopted; provided shelter. Dervaysh = faqir; saint. Say = those. Dhunn(u) = great. Junayndi = gives birth. Sufl = successful. 2. Pervudgaar = who raises and nourishes; the provider (God). Appar = without limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Bayunt = unlimited. Puchhaata = recognized (got connected with). Moo = I. 3. Puneh(i) = shelter. Bukhshundgi = forgiving. Khaiyr(u) = alms; donation. 4.

MEANING: Only those are the true devotees who love (Waheguru) from the bottom of their heart. But those who have something different in their mind than what they say are said to have faltering (deceitful) minds. 1. The true devotees are imbued with their love for Waheguru and love (wish) to have His sight. But those who have forgotten Waheguru are only a burden (liability) on the earth. Pause. Those, whom Waheguru adopts Himself (provides His shelter), are the true holy saints at His Door. Their mothers are worthy of respect for giving birth to such devotees, and they are successful (in achieving the objective of their lives – union with God). 2. You are beyond limits, physically inaccessible, and limitless, oh, the Provider, Allah. I would love to kiss the feet of those devotees who have been connected with You. 3. You are very kind and forgiving, and I have come to Your shelter, oh Allah. Kindly give Sheikh Farid the alms (donation) of Your Warship. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Boalaiy = speaks; advises. Hoasi = will be. Khaak = dust. Nimaani = humble. Goar = grave. 1. Taakim = have control; prevent. Koonjurriyaan = desires; senses. Muchindurriyaan = instigate. Pause. Ghoomm(i) = return. Vunjaayiyaiy = cause suffering; suffer humiliation. 2.
Dherm(u) = moral obligation. Moorida = disciple. Vaat = path. Joaliyaiy = follow. 3.
Chhaiyl = brave and handsome; one who controls his desires. Lunghday Paar(i) = swim across (the sea of Maya). Gori = beautiful lady; weak-minded. Dheeriya = pick up courage. Kunchun Vunnay = shine of gold; attractive, wealthy products. Kulvut Cheeriya = are cut with a saw (punished severely). 4. Huyaati = in life (world). Thir(u) = permanently. Aasun = seat. Kaytay = many. 5. Kutik = the month from mid Oct to mid-November. Koonjaan = a bird of the goose family. Chayt = the month from mid-March to mid-April. Duou = forest fires. Saavun = the month from mid July to mid Aug. Seeyaalay = in the winter months. Sohundiyaan = look appropriate. Pir = husband. Baanhurriyaan = soft arms. 6. Chullunhaar = mortal. Vichaaraan = thoughts; wishes. Gundhaydiyaan = putting together. Maah = months. Toorrundiyaan = breaking apart; to cause death Hik Khino = single moment. 7. Jimee = earth. Khayvut = boat men; guides; experts. Kinn(i) = how many. Goaraan Naal(i) = in the graves. Olaahmay = complaints (questions) about ignoble deeds. Jea = soul. Suhay = endures. 8.

MEANING: Our (dead) body turns into dust in the grave, and suffers humiliation, oh Farid. So, start worshipping Allah, oh, my dear friends. 1. You can get connected with Allah even today if you control your senses, which are instigated by worldly desires (to commit immoral deeds). Pause. When we know that we do not return to this life after death, why should we indulge in the false worldly attractions and suffer humiliation (in Allah's Court)? 2. We should always speak the truth as our moral obligation, and never tell lies; and like a good disciple, follow the path of life as advised by the Guru. 3. When the strong-minded devotees, who have controlled their desires, swim across the world sea, the weak-minded are also encouraged to see them. On the other hand, those who are engrossed in wealth and other worldly enjoyments get their bodies sawed (are severely punished) in Waheguru's Court. 4. Nobody has lived permanently (forever) in this world, oh Shaikh Farid. Countless people have sat on the seat I am sitting on now (lived before, like me). 5. Just like the koonjes (geese), which look good in the month of Kutak (they come from the colder countries like Russia, and cannot cause much damage to the crops at that time because they are already harvested by then), and like small fires (to roast green chick peas) in the month of Chayt, and just like lightening which looks attractive in month of Saavun; and just like a wife enjoys hugging her husband in the winter months, (the devotees love to get connected with Allah). 6. The mortal man leaves this world, taking many unfulfilled desires with him. It takes six months for the fetus to mature, but only a moment for God to cause its death. 7. The earth asks the sky (they both know) how many (countless) guides (who advise people how to lead life) have left this world. The body rots in the grave while the soul is left to answer many questions about its deeds (and endure punishment), oh Farid. 8. 2.

Word Meaning: Chun-naatthiya = sandal wood. Oorsa = the rock on which the sandalwood is grazed. Kernee = (noble) deeds. Koongoo = saffron; (sandalwood and saffron are used in ritualistic aarti). Ghut Untar(i) = in the heart. 1.
Bahur(i) = outwardly; to show off, Dayv = idol. Pukhaaliyaiy = bathe. Jootth(i) = filth (of thoughts). Maanjiyaiy = cleanse. Moakh Puyaana = the path to emancipation. 2. Pusoo = (milk) cattle. Chungiyaayiyaan = good qualities; praise. Khurr(u) = grass. Amrit(u) = ambrosial water; milk. Vihoonay = without. Dhrig = condemnable. 3. Saar Smaalay = looks after. 4.

MEANING: People worship idols by offering grazed sandalwood and saffron, etc., to the idol. But Your real worship is done in one's mind if he makes Your Naam as the sandalwood, grazes it on the rock of his mind, and mixes it well with the saffron of noble deeds, oh Waheguru. 1. The real worship is to recite Waheguru's Naam (sing His praise); there is no real worship without Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
It is useless to bathe an idol if one does not cleanse one's own mind. The filth of ignoble deeds and of thinking comes off only by cleansing the mind, which leads to the path of salvation. 2. More praise-worthy than humans are the milk-cattle which feed only on grass (and do not ask for a whole variety of rich meals), and provide ambrosia-like milk. Without Waheguru's Naam, the man performs condemnable (immoral) deeds. 3.
Do not think of Waheguru as being far away from you; He indeed is very close to us and looks after us all the time. Sing praise of Waheguru, and be thankful to Him for whatever He provides us to eat, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Naabh(u) = navel. Kumul = lotus. Brahma Oopjay = Brahma was born out of the lotus flower growing out of the navel of Vishnu. Svaar(i) = by beautifying (with a sweet voice). Ta Ko = of Waheguru. Lukhna = understand; see. Aavut Jaavut = taking birth and dying. Goobaar(i) = darkness; unenlightened. 1. Preetum = dear (Waheguru). Bisreh(i) = forgotten. Praan = life. Adhaar = basis. Jun Pooray = perfect devotees. Moon(i) = hermits. Sayveh(i) = worship. Pause. Ruv(i) = the sun. Sus(i) = the moon. Tirbhuvun = universe. Mooraar(i) = God. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Nirmul(u) = pure. Munmukh = Maya-engrossed; follower of his own mind. Raiyn(i) = the night (of life). Undhaar(i) = in dark; ignorance. 2. Smaadh(i) = in meditation. Jhugra = struggle. Dooh(u) Loachun = (with) two eyes (double-mindedness). Hairaiy = see; achieve. Jot(i) = enlightenment. Dhoon(i) = voice. Jaagaiy = is awakened. Nibayraiy = ends; is settled. 3. Soor = gods. Nur = men. Nath = the guru of the yogis; Lord (Waheguru). Bayunt = limitless. Ajoani = which never takes birth. Appara = beyond limits. Sehj(i) = in spiritual state above Maya. Jug Jeevun = life (soul) of the world. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Nistaara = salvation. 4.

MEANING: The Brahman reads the Vedas created by Brahma aloud with a sweet voice; but they (the Vedas) cannot find the end of Waheguru just like Brahma, who could not find the end of the stem of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu out of which Brahma was born. It is believed that Brahma set out to find the end of the flower's stem, but even after spending thousands of years, he struggled in the dark and could not find its end. Similarly, the man keeps taking births again and again, and yet remains ignorant (about Waheguru). 1. Why should I forget my dear Waheguru, who is the basis of my life, and who is worshipped by the perfect devotees and the hermits with the guidance of the Guru? Pause. Like the sun and the moon, which are the two lamps to provide light everywhere on the earth, Waheguru's Light (Soul) is present everywhere in the three-layered universe to enlighten it. However, only the individual who comes to Guru's shelter (and recites Waheguru's Naam) gets the enlightenment, while the Maya-engrossed individuals spend their life in darkness (ignorance). 2. The Sidh yogis do meditate, but the struggle about Waheguru and Maya continues in their mind; so, what can they achieve with their double-mindedness? However, if they take Satguru's shelter, their mind gets awakened (is enlightened) with His Shabad, and the struggle of the yogi's mind is settled. 3. Waheguru, which is limitless and which never takes birth, is the Lord of all humans and gods, and has eternal residence, but is beyond limits. With His kind sight, one connects with the Soul of the world (Waheguru) in a spiritual state above the effects of Maya and is protected, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Dhrig = reprehensible. Ivayha = such. Kumm(i) = tasks; lifestyle. Visraiy = is forgotten. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). 1. Aiysa = such a. Govind = Waheguru. Uver = others. Saytee = with. Geh(i) = hold on to; connected. Juraa = old age. Jeevun Pudvi = high spiritual level. Pause. Siyoun = with; from. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above Maya. Oopjiya = comes into being. Vaykh(u) = watch. Saytee = with. Aap(u) Khaaya = consumed (eradicated) selfishness and ego. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. Smuyyee = merged into. 2. Bhaagaan = good fortune. Loachaiy = wish for. Koorraiy = falsehood; attractions of Maya. Paal(i) = wall; curtain. Niklaiy = is removed. 3. Sayvuk(u) = devotee. Jeao = soul; mind. Bhaana = Will. Chit(i) = in mind. 4.

MEANING: The life, in which one does not foster love for Waheguru and performs tasks (leads his life) while rapt in Maya, and forgets Waheguru, is reprehensible. 1.
Serve the Satguru, who implants love for Waheguru in your mind, and because of which your love for all other attractions is eradicated, and your mind stays stitched to Waheguru; and because of which no fear of old age is left (you are not afraid of death), and you attain the spiritual state above Maya, oh my mind. Pause. You will realize all that because of your love for Waheguru, and because your worship of Him will be such that it will result in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. When one eradicates his selfishness and ego from his mind, he will see that he becomes pure, and his soul merges into the Supreme Soul (of God). 2. However, even though everybody wishes to get connected with such a Satguru, one cannot do so without good fortune. One attains permanent bliss only after the curtain of his falsehood (love for the mundane) has been removed (in the Guru's shelter). 3. The most befitting service to such a Satguru is to offer one's mind to Him. When the devotee accepts Satguru's Will gladly, He becomes kind to him without any request from the devotee (and connects him with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 4.1.

Hur(i) kee mein bhookh laagaiy, Hur(i) Naam(i) mayra mun(i) triptaiy, Hur(i) mayra saak(u) unt(i) hoyay sukhaayee. 2. Hur(i) bin(u) hoar raas(i) koorri haiy, chuldiyaan naal(i) na jaayee. Kuhaiy Nanak(u) Hur(i) ka bhaana hoa, kehna kuchhoo na jaayee. 4.2.4.

Word Meaning: Dooji = any other. Munhou Chindiya = as wished in mind. Ful(u) = reward. Birtha = empty; useless. 1. Reet = custom; daily routine. Kutha Kuhaani = stories (praise) of Waheguru. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. Eha Sayva = this service. Bunee = appropriate. Pause. Simrit(i) Shastar = Hindu religious books. Bundhup = friend. Triptaiy = is contented. Saak(u) = relative. Sukhaayee = helper; benefactor. 2. Raas(i) = wealth. Koorri = perishable. Chuldiyaan = when leaving (the world). 3. Jhoottha = fake; not approved by Waheguru. Jhootthaiy = fake; perishable. Kerm = deeds. 4.

MEANING: One should serve (worship) Waheguru only and nobody else because one gets all his wishes fulfilled by serving Waheguru, whereas the precious human life goes to waste without serving Waheguru. 1. My life revolves around Waheguru and love for Him, and discussing stories of His virtues (singing His praise) is my daily routine. For me, the most appropriate service to Waheguru is that my mind gets imbued with His love by the grace of the Guru. Pause. People read the Simritis and the Shastras as a noble endeavour, but for me, worshipping Waheguru is the study of all religious books. In fact, Waheguru is my friend and my brother; I have an appetite for His worship, and my mind is fully satisfied with it. Waheguru is my close relative and my benefactor at the time of death. 2.

Any other type of wealth is false because it does not accompany you at the time of leaving the world. On the other hand, the wealth of Waheguru's Naam accompanies me wherever I go. 3. The individual, who is engaged in falsehood (perishable things) and performs tasks to acquire perishable things, is not approved in Waheguru's Court. But it is not strictly the fault of the individual, because everybody lives their life according to the Will of Waheguru, and nobody can do anything about it (change it), oh Nanak. 4.2.4.

Goojri Mehla 3: Joog meh(i) Naam(u) doolumbh(u) haiy, Gurmukh(i) paaya jaayay. Bin(u) Naavaiy mookut(i) na hovyee, vaykhou ko viyopaayay. 1.Bulihaari Gur aapnay, sud bulihaaraiy jaaoun. (PAGE 491): Eh(u) kaarun(u) Kerta kuray, joti Jot(i) smaayay. 4.3.5.

Word Meaning: Joog = eon; world. Doolumbh = rare (not easily available). Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Mookut(i) = emancipation. Viyopaayay = investment; experiment; test. 1. Bulihaari = offer life (serving like a slave). Sud = always. Vusaiy = gets embedded. Sehjay = in a spiritual state above Maya. Smaayay = absorbed. Pause. Bhuou = (respectful) fear. Baiyraag(i) = detachment from Maya (and love for Waheguru). Oopjay = is produced. Siyoun = with. 2. Jineh(i) = wins over; controls. Dhaat(u) = effects of Maya. Dusvaiyn Dooaar(i) = the tenth door (through which one connects with Waheguru; focus on Waheguru). Reht = live; stay. Tirbhuvun = three-layered universe. Soajhi = understanding. 3. Rujaayay = Will. Kaarun(u) = the creation; set up. Kerta = the creator. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is rare (very difficult to acquire) in this world, and can be acquired only in the shelter of the Guru. Also, one cannot attain emancipation (salvation) without Waheguru's Naam – one may verify this fact through personal experience if one does not believe in this assertion. 1. I am a sacrifice for my Guru all the time because one embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart and stays absorbed in the spiritual state above Maya only in the shelter of the Guru. Pause. When Waheguru instills His (respectful) fear in the devotee's mind, the devotee begins to feel the pain of separation from Him and begins to feel detached from the world. The pain of separation leads the devotee to connect with Waheguru and remain absorbed in Him. 2. Only those get emancipated who win control on their mind; at that stage Maya affects him no more. He stays focused on Waheguru and develops an understanding of the universe's functioning. 3.
It is amazing to see how with the Will of God, the Guru enlightens His disciple to transform him into the new Guru to succeed Him. Waheguru is the creator of this amazing arrangement whereby the Soul of the Guru stays fully merged into Waheguru's Soul, oh Nanak. 4.3.5.

Goojri Mehla 3: Ram, Ram subh(u) ko kuhaiy, kuhiyaiyn Ram(u) na hoyay. Gur persadi Ram(u) mun(i) vusaiy, ta ful(u) paavaiy koyay. 1. Untar(i) Govind jis(u) laagaiy preet(i). Trishna mool(i) na chookyee, unt(i) guyyay puchhutaahay. 2. Anayk teeruth jay jutun kuraiy, ta untar(i) kee haumein kuday na jaayay.

Jis nur kee doobidha na jaayay, Dherm Raayay tis(u) dayay sujaayay. 3. Kerm(u) hovay, so jun(u) paayay, Gurmukh(i) boojhaiy kooyee. Nanak vichoun haumein maaray, ta Hur(i) bhaytaiy soyee. 4.4.6.

Word Meaning: Kuhiyaiyn = (simply by) saying. Ful(u) = reward. 1. Untar(i) = inside (the mind). Govind = God. Veesray = forgotten. Pause. Kupt(u) = deceit. Bahuroun = outwardly. Trishna = appetite of desires. Mool(i) Na = not at all. Chookyee = is removed; get rid of. 2. Anayk = countless. Jutun = efforts. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Nur = man. Doobidha = indecisiveness; dilemma. Dherm Raayay = the Angel of justice. 3. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Bhaytaiy = get connected with. 4.

MEANING: Everybody says God (or Waheguru) with their tongue, but Waheguru does not come to reside in the heart by simply uttering His Naam in a ritualistic way. One reaps the reward (gets credit) only if, with the grace of the Guru, Waheguru takes dwelling in the devotee's heart. 1. A devotee, who fosters love for Waheguru in his mind, never forgets Him, and recites His Naam with his tongue and with his mind all the time. Pause. But those who call themselves (pretend to be) saints but harbour deceit in mind, never get rid of their worldly desires, and leave the world repenting at the end. 2.

No matter how many holy places they visit, and how many different ways they try, such deceitful people never get rid of their haumein. The individual, who cannot overcome his indecisiveness (about his love for Waheguru or for Maya), is punished by the Angel of Justice (Waheguru). 3. Some rare person realizes this truth in the shelter of the Guru, and is able to kill his haumein (selfishness and ego) by Waheguru's benevolence, and gets connected with Him, oh Nanak. 4.4.6.

Word Meaning: Shaant(i) = peace; blissfulness. Nihchul = stability of mind; unwavering mind. Guvaayay = loses; eradicates. Nirmul(u) = pure-minded. Boojhaiy = understands. 1. Chayt = remember. Acahyt = unaware. Ichheh(i) = as wished. Hur(i) Rus(u) = sweet tasting (Waheguru's Naam). Pause.

Paarus(u) = elixir stone which converts base metals into gold; Guru, which like elixir stone converts a Maya-engrossed person into a holy saint. Deekhiya = advice. 2.

Vin(u) = without. Perchay = acquisition of Knowledge. Uvrah = others. Ugiyani = lacking knowledge. Maarug(i) = path (of righteousness). 3.

Nudri = kind sight. Shabad = Huqam; Laws. Vertaayay = governs. 4.
MEANING: The individual, whose ego is eradicated by Waheguru's kindness, acquires a stable mind (which does not waver), and enjoys blissfulness. Such an individual realizes truth in the shelter of the Guru, acquires purity of mind, and stitches his mind with Waheguru's Naam. 1. Remember Waheguru, oh my unaware mind; you will reap the reward of having all your wishes fulfilled. With Guru's grace, you will enjoy Waheguru's sweet-tasting Naam and will enjoy permanent bliss by continuously tasting it. Pause. If a devotee gets connected with the Guru, he becomes like the Guru. (An elixir stone converts other metals into gold, but does not convert them into another elixir stone; but the Guru has the power to convert a Sikh into a Guru). When the Sikh becomes like the Guru, people begin to worship him too. The devotee, who worships the Guru-like Sikh, also reaps the reward, and becomes competent to preach Truth, and advise others. 2. If someone begins to preach to others without having any Divine Knowledge, he cannot be like the Guru, and nobody worships him (with devotion). He may be a self-proclaimed guru, but whom can such an ignorant and blind guru teach the path of righteousness? 3.
No one can achieve any spirituality without Waheguru's benevolence, which can be earned only with His kindness. Waheguru honours His devotees through the Guru, and governs the universe with His Huqam, oh Nanak. 4.5.7.

Jo Toodh bhaavaiy subh(u) Sach(u) haiy, Sachay ruhaiy smaayay. 5.6.8.
Word Meaning: Kaanshi = Banaras (Now Varanasi) was believed to be the centre of the Hindu religious studies, and an educated person from Kaashi was considered to be very wise. Oopjaiy = is produced. Soajhi = understanding; enlightenment. 1.
Kutha = story; praise. Thir(u) = stable; unwavering. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Pause.
Hur(i) Churn = God's feet (His Naam). Kilvikh = sins. Punch Bhoo = the five elements – earth, water, fire, air and sky (awareness). Aatma = soul; mind. 2.
Munmukh(i) = who is disconnected from God and follows his own mind. Moogudh = foolish. Soajhi = understanding. Puchhutaaya = repenting. 3.
Utth-sutth(i) = 68 (Hindu holy places). Sung(i) = with. Hirdaiy = in the heart. 4.
Boojhiya = understood. Aik = "One" God. Sach(u) = eternal. 5.

MEANING: (Contrary to the popular belief) one neither gains any (spiritual) wisdom by being in Varanasi, nor does he lose his wisdom for being there (or away from that). One acquires spiritual wisdom only by connecting with the Satguru when he gets enlightened. 1. Listen to the praise of Waheguru, and enshrine His Naam in your heart, oh my mind. When you achieve stable wisdom (your mind quits wavering), only then do you get rid of your misbeliefs, oh man. Pause. Embed Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) in your heart so as to eradicate all your sins. When you control your mind, which resides in the body made of the five elements, then your mind becomes a holy place itself, and stays there. 2. The mind of the Maya-engrossed person is foolish and has no understanding (enlightenment). It does not realize the importance of Waheguru's Naam, and the man leaves the world repenting. 3. Satgur has clarified that the human mind becomes a holy place, or the source of religious books (knowledge), when it connects with God. The sixty-eight holy places reside in his mind when he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 4. I realized Waheguru's Huqam, and God came to reside in my heart after I got connected with Satguru, oh Nanak. When one stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, he comes to realize that whatever is liked by Him (His Will) is the truth (is eternal). 5.3.8.

Word Meaning: Nidhaan = treasure. Sikh(u) = advice. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Goonut = pondering. 1. Rusna = tongue. Chaakh(u) = to taste. Nirmul(u) = pure. Pause. Suntokhiyaiy = is contented. Trishna = desires. Bhookh = appetite. Pur Ghur(i) = the house (the belongings) of others. Kuthni Budni = debating. Boojh = realization. Ghut(i) = in the heart. 3. Shastar = Hindu religious books. Phireh (i) Baaro Baar = goes from door to door to acquire spiritual enlightenment. Aap(i) = self. Puchhaanyee = realize. Dhuray = places; develops. 4. Sachaiy = the eternal Waheguru. Dehkaaya = misguided. Bhaavay = as He pleases. Rujaayay = Will. 5.

MEANING: You will realize that Waheguru's Naam is the only real treasure (of all happiness) if you listen to the true advice, oh pundit. Anything else, that you read or ponder on, is all about Maya, and you always suffer from mental dissatisfaction. 1. You will get enlightenment with Guru's Shabad in the shelter of Waheguru. When you enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with your tongue (recite His Naam), your mind will be purified. Pause. When one connects with Satguru, he becomes fully contented and loses all desire for worldly enjoyments. When one acquires the Naam-treasure, he never even looks at the belongings (wealth or women) of others. 2.

The follower of his mind does not realize the importance of Waheguru's Naam; he is simply interested in worthless debates to feed his ego. But an individual who follows the Guru's advice gets enlightenment and acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 3.
He does not study of his religious books to learn anything (spiritual) from them, nor does he visit any other self-proclaimed guru for spiritual enlightenment. An individual who does not realize the self and does not foster love for Waheguru is a real fool. 4. But even such people cannot be fully blamed for their thinking because Waheguru Himself has misguided the world (by creating attraction for Maya), and nobody can say (or do) anything about that. Waheguru does whatever He likes, or whatever His Will is, oh Nanak. 5.7.9.

Please advise me so that I may love Waheguru's Naam like a friend, like my own life, and Waheguru's praise may become my daily routine. Pause. Those who do not enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam are unfortunate and are presented before the Angel of justice (for reincarnation as punishment). Reprehensible are those, and reprehensible are their hopes (of accumulating wealth), who do not seek the shelter of Satguru to enjoy His company. 3. Those who come to the shelter of Satguru to enjoy His company have it prewritten on their forehead right from the beginning. Waheguru's Naam becomes the support of the devotee's life, and he is honoured everywhere in the world, and in Waheguru's Court. 2.
The individuals who are ill-advised are unfortunate. They have distasteful (immoral) thinking, and get angry (if they are advised) to listen to Waheguru's Naam. They are like a crow which does not like the amrit-like sweet things, and is satisfied only with feces or cattle-dung in its mouth. 3. Satguru, which is perfectly just, is a pool of Naam-Amrit (liquid of immortality) where a crow-like immoral person takes a dip to become swan-like pure and saintly person. I will offer my life, my body, and my mind (in his service) to the dear Gur Sikh who narrates the story of Waheguru (sings His praise) to me. Pause. A devotee, who applies his mind to Waheguru (His Naam) all the time, acquires patience, high morality, and union with Waheguru, with Satguru's Advice. Satguru's Bani is the real Amrit (which leads to immortality by connecting the devotee with Waheguru), and whoever sings that, receives Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) in his mouth (on his tongue). 2. Waheguru's Naam is so purifying that the devotee, who recites it with full dedication with the Advice of the Guru, never gets any filth of immorality. The individual who does not embed Waheguru's invaluable Naam in his heart is highly unlucky. Such individuals do not die just once; they keep taking births and dying repeatedly. 3. The life (soul) of the world, Waheguru, is the source of blissfulness; everybody should enjoy bliss by reciting His Naam. All living beings belong to Waheguru, who provides for everyone. When He becomes kind, He connects His devotees with the Guru who connects them with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.6.

MEANING: All mothers, fathers, and sons have been created by Waheguru, and He has given them their respective relationships. 1. Word Meaning: Chitveh(i) Oodum = think about putting in effort; worry about. Aahur(i) = (has the) responsibility. Saiyl = Puththur = rocks. Junt = living beings. Rijuk(u) = food and other necessities of life. Aagaiy = before. Dhuriya = placed; arranged. 1.
Madho = God. S(i) = that. Turiya = salvaged. Perm Pud(u) = spiritual state above Maya. Sookay Kaasht = dry wood; spiritually dead mind. Huriya = (becomes) green; came to life. Pause. Junun(i) = mother. Loak = people; daughters (because they leave their parents' home and become members of others' families). Soot = sons. Bunita = wife. Dhuriya = support; protection. Sir(i) Sir(i) = everybody. Sumbaahay = delivers. Rijuk = food; necessities of life. Kaahay = why. Bhuou = afraid of. 2. Oodaiy = (Koonj) flies. Saiy = hundreds. Koas = a unit of length (1 koas = 2.2 km). Pachhaiy Chhuriya = leaves behind. Buchray = young ones. Choogaavaiy = pick food. Simrun = remember. 3. Nidhaan = treasures. Dus Usht = ten and eight = 18. Siddhaan = supernatural powers. Ker = hands. Tul = palms. Bul(i) = sacrifice life. Paaravuriya = beyond limits. 4.
NOTE: Koonj is a white bird which visits India from Russia in the winter months and returns in the summer. It flies for several hundred km, leaving her young ones behind, with no one to feed them. It is believed that when she picks food, she keeps her young ones in mind; and that is how they are fed by nature.
MEANING: Why should you worry about your food (and other necessities of life) when Waheguru has that worry as His innate responsibility, oh man? He has created life even in the rocks (where there is no exit or entrance), but has arranged for food even before the life starts there. 1. (The more important thing for the man is to get detached from Maya, and unite with Waheguru). Waheguru salvages the individual who attends the holy congregation of Satguru (and acts on His Advice). There, the devotee attains the spiritual level above the effects of Maya by the grace of the Guru, and his spiritually dead mind comes to life. Pause. Why should you be afraid of anything (worry about food, etc.) when Waheguru provides food (and other necessities of life to everybody? (You commit many immoral acts to earn wealth for your relatives, but nobody will be able to protect you from punishment for your immoral deeds in Waheguru's Court) be it your mother, father, daughter, son, or wife, oh man. 2.
Look, the koonj travels several hundred km and leaves her young ones behind, who have nobody to feed them. But, when the koonj picks food, she keeps her young ones in mind. (This is a wonder of Waheguru that the food that the koonj picks, is fed to the young ones)! 3. All the treasures and the 18 supernatural powers rest on the palms of Waheguru (which He can gift to anyone). I am a slave of Waheguru, and am always ready to sacrifice my life for Him. His wonders can never be known, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Kiriyachaar = prevalent religious rituals. Khut(u) = six. Kerma = expected obligations. (For Brahmans = studying Vedas and teaching them; giving and accepting donations; and performing yugs and getting them performed. Other Hindus: bathing; reading the Vedas; reciting mantras; huvun, evening prayer; and idol worship. Raatay = imbued; daily routine. Sunsaari = the worldly people. Maiyl(u) = filth. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Baaji = the game of life. Haari = lost. 1. Tthaakur = Lord; Master. Koat(i) Mudhay = among millions. Virla = rare. Sayvuk(u) = dedicated devotee. Biyohaari = business-like. Pause. Shast, Bayd, Simrit(i) = Hindu religious books. Soadhay = examined carefully. Pookaari = say clearly. Mookut(i) = salvation. Beechaari = ponder on. 2. Utth-sutth(i) = the sixty-eight Hindu holy places. Mujun = dip; bathe. Bherm(i) = roam. Dhur = the earth. Anik = countless. Soach = measures to stay clean. 3. Dhaavut = rushing. Dhaavut Dhaavut = going from one place to the other. Dhaayo = roamed. Hur(i) Dooaari = God's Door. Doormut(i) = ill advice; evil thinking. Boodh = wisdom. Pergaasi = enlightened. Taari = salvaged. 4.

MEANING: There is a rare person, maybe one in a million, who is a true devotee of the Lord (Waheguru); the others worship him as a business only. Please, protect me from such false worship, oh my Lord. Pause. Most of the family folks simply perform the required six rituals (see the "Introduction") as part of their daily routine. They never wash the filth of their haumein and thus lose the game of life. 1. I have examined all the religious books carefully; all of them say the same thing clearly – that nobody can find salvation without the Guru. Ponder on this, and you can find it for yourself. 2. One can visit all the 68 holy places and bathe in them, and even roam all over the earth, but he will find that without the Guru, there is complete filth in their mind, even if they perform countless acts day and night to maintain cleanliness. 3. Having roamed over the whole world, going from place to place, I have finally come to Waheguru's door, where my evil thinking has been destroyed, and my mind has been enlightened. The Guru has salvaged me (connected me with God), oh Nanak. 4.1.2.

Word Meaning: Jaap = recitations of some mantras. Taap = self-torture, like sitting close to a fire on a hot summer day. Nimkh = a moment (blinking of the eye). Bisurou = be forgotten. Sadh Sungut(i) = Guru's holy company. 1. Maayee = oh, mother. Khaat(i) = earn profit. Pause. Ishnaan(u) = dip at holy places. Giyan = knowledge of religious books. Toolha = a crude platform of wooden logs used as a boat; a raft. Taar(i) = by ferrying. Praana = the other end of the world-sea. 2. Chint = worry. Visaari = forgotten. Laahiya = removed. Dhoakha = misgiving. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Haath Churhiyo = acquired. Thoaka = (the valuable) article (Waheguru's Naam). 3. Khurchou = spend; invest. Toat(i) = shortage. Hult = this world. Pult = the next world. Sungaiy = with. Laad(i) = loading. Khujaana = treasure. 4.

MEANING: (Normally, mothers send their sons away to earn wealth), I have also returned home after earning wealth, but it is not the kind of wealth you expected, oh my mother. I have earned the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, and I keep earning it whether I am moving, sitting down, awake, or sleeping. Pause. Waheguru's Naam-wealth is the recitation of all mantras, self-torture (which many people do to please some deity), and even (spiritual) food for me (I do not need the first two). I have realized the Naam in the company (shelter) of the Guru, and I wish I do not forget it for even a moment. 1. Waheguru's Naam-wealth is the dips at holy places and the knowledge of the religious books for me; I meditate on Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's Naam-wealth is the raft (or the ship) for me to get across the world-sea to the other end (Waheguru's Palace). 2. The Naam-wealth has taken all my worries away and removed all my misgivings. With the Naam-wealth, I feel as if I have acquired the nine mythical treasures and the invaluable Waheguru's Naam. 3. You can consume it as mental food for you, and spend it liberally (share it with others) as much as you can, and you will never have a shortage, oh my friends. It also accompanies you in this world as well as in the next. Satguru has given me the full treasure of Waheguru's Naam, and my mind is dyed with the colour of His love now, oh Nanak. 4.2.3.

Word Meaning: Kilvikh = sins. Naaseh(i) = run away; get eradicated. Pitreen = of ancestors. Oodhaaro = salvation. Unt(u) Na Paaro = beyond limits; without end. 1.

Aasees = blessing. Nimkh = moment. Bisurou = be forgotten. Jugdeesh = Waheguru. Pause. Duyaala = kind. Sunt = Guru. Kaapurr(u) = clothes. Put(i) = honour. Bhojun = food. Keertun(u) = praise. Neet(i) = every day. 2. Suda Chir(u) = all the time. Anund = blissfulness. Aunta = infinite. Rung Tmaasha = enjoyments of life. Biyaapaiy = happens; affects. Chinta = worry. 3. Bhuvur = bumblebee. Kaula = lotus flower. Luptaayo = clung; strongly attached. Boondeh = the first raindrop. Chaatrik = rainbird which drinks only the first drop of rain, that too which falls during the Swanti planet only. Maula = blooms. 4.

MEANING: May you never forget Waheguru's Naam - not even for a moment - and may you always recite His Naam, oh my son. This is the blessing of your mother for you. Pause. Recite the Naam of the limitless Waheguru with which all the sins are eradicated, and even the ancestors get salvaged (a Hindu belief). 1. May Waheguru always be kind to you, and may you have respectful love for the holy congregation of the Guru. May Waheguru's Naam be the clothes for you to protect your honour, and Waheguru's praise be your mental food every day. 2. Drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit and live forever (in union with Waheguru). Recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the source of infinite bliss, and all your wishes get fulfilled, and you never suffer from any worry. Worldly enjoyments are no match for the blissfulness that one enjoys with Waheguru's Naam, oh my son. 3.
May your mind be like the bumblebee while Waheguru's holy Feet are (His Naam is) the lotus flower. I am a slave of Waheguru, and like the rainbird blooms when he gets the first drop of rain, my heart blooms when I cling to His Feet, oh Nanak. 4.3.4.

Word Meaning: Mutaa = resolution. Puchhum = west. Kaiy Taayeen = for. Poorub = east. Khin Meh(i) = in a second. Thaap – create. Oothaaounhaara = destroyer. Mutaant = resolution; decision. 1. Kaam Na Aat = becomes ineffective. Anooroopiyo = envisioned; planned. Pause. Days = country; land. Kmaavun = to own land. Munsa = desire. Lushkur = army. Nayb = assistants. Khuwaas = attendants. Tiyaagay = gives up; leaves behind. Jumpur(i) = the city (land) of the Angel of death. Ootth(i) Sidhaas = leaves for. 2. Anunn(i) = devotion to a single power. Munhutth = obstinacy. Drirrta = firmness. Janaat = shows off; displays ego. Anind = non-condemnable; unwarranted vilification. Nind(u) = condemned. Chhodiyo = dropped; quit. 3. Sehj Soobhaayay = with love and kindness. Kaati Phaas = cut the bond of worldly attachments. Bhaytiya = connected with. Pervaan = acceptable. Girust = family life. Oodaas = detached from worldly affairs. 4.

MEANING: Only that happens that Waheguru has planned for you, and your own wisdom becomes ineffective, oh man. Pause. For example, if a man resolves to go to the west, Waheguru may take him to the east. Waheguru, which can create and destroy in a second, keeps the final decision to Himself. One breathes his last, leaving behind his unfulfilled desires to own more land and to earn more wealth. Leaving behind all his army, assistants, and attendants, he unexpectedly leaves the world and is taken to the land of the Angel of Death. 2. With the sheer obstinacy of his mind, he may become a devotee of some power (deity), but cannot help but display his ego. (What an irony) that the yogis, who condemn (disapprove) family life, go to the doors of the family people to beg for food! 3. Waheguru cuts the bonds of worldly attachments of those to whom He becomes kind and affectionate. Those who get connected with the Perfect Guru are approved in Waheguru's Court, whether they lead a family life or have renounced the world to become a yogi, oh Nanak. 4.4.5.

MEANING: The powerful Maya is influencing the whole world. Nobody, other than the Guru, knows its secrets (how to mitigate its effects or make it ineffective); it can be removed (made ineffective) only by the grace of the Guru. Pause. Those who call themselves (claim to be) hermits, yogis, or knowledgeable of the Shastras, are all controlled by Maya. Even the three popular gods and the other 330 million gods are taken aback by the effects of Maya (they cannot escape it). 1. Controlling one by one, Maya has controlled the whole universe and takes everybody in its grip. Maya stays away only from the Guru (or other true holy men), and drops on His feet (serves Him like a slave), oh Nanak. 2.5.14.

The Lord became very kind as a result of which, there is peace, comfort, and blissfulness everywhere. The kind Waheguru salvages everybody like His children. Pause. My mind and my senses joined together to sing the song of happiness in praise of the Lord. I offer to sacrifice my life (serve Him) for the Guru who has salvaged all of us, oh Nanak. 2.6.15.

Jora = power; rule. Durs = sight. Binsiyo = ended. Nihora = complaints. 2.

MEANING: The support of the relatives, like the mother, the father, the brothers, the sons, and other friends, is very limited (they do not have the ability to save you from death). Their love is just one of the many attractive forms of the colourful Maya, of which not even a minuscule part accompanies the man after death. 1. There is no real relative of mine other than You, oh my Lord. I have no virtue, and I am an orphan in the spiritual world (have no guide); I wish for Your support only. Pause. I wish to sacrifice my life for Your holy Feet (for Your Naam); it is Your reign in this world, and the next. I had Your holy sight (made a connection with You) in the company (shelter) of the Guru, and all my complaints have ended, oh Nanak. 2.7.16.

MEANING: The Guru is so helpful and is such a friend that all one's worldly bonds get broken on meeting with Him (acting on His Advice). One should never forget such a Guru, oh my friends. Pause. The Guru rids one of his worldly bonds, misgivings, and worldly attachments, and instills love for Waheguru in his mind. He reiterates such advice in one's mind that he begins to sing Waheguru's praise, and attains a blissful state. 1. Having performed countless religious rituals, I finally made the worthy decision to sing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru so as to swim across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 2.8.17.

MEANING: We should always remember our eternal God (recite His Naam). Why should we worry about things which are short-lived? Pause. Waheguru can create and destroy anything in a moment; nobody can find (determine) His magnificence (capabilities). He can convert a king into a pauper, or enlighten the mind of a low-caste (having no respect in society) in a second. 1. I have only Your support, oh my Perfect Satguru; I have come to Your shelter with the determination of my mind (with full faith). We are unaware and ignorant children of Yours; kindly protect us (from the attacks of Maya) by extending Your kind hand, begs Nanak. 2.9.18.

When the lotus-like soft Feet of Yours (Your love or Naam) dwell in some devotee's heart, no misgiving or darkness of ignorance is left there. 1. You are present there wherever I remember You, oh Lord. Please be kind so that I may sing Your praise, oh, the raiser and the nourisher of all, Waheguru. Pause. May I remember You with every breath; and wish only for You (Your worship), oh Waheguru. I have come to

There is nobody else like You, oh my Lord. I wish to think about You only in my mind, recite Your Naam with my tongue, and look only towards You (seek Your support only). Pause. With folded hands, I pray to the omnipresent Waheguru, who is kind to all, that He accepts me as His slave and enables me to recite His Naam all the time. Whoever does that gets salvaged in the blink of an eye, oh Nanak. 2.11.20.

NOTE: Hindus believe that their gods have their own territories (kingdoms).

MEANING: Maya has attacked the kingdoms of Brahma, Shiva, and Indra, but cannot cast an evil eye (to affect) the holy congregation of the Guru. In fact, it serves and washes the feet well of the holy congregation (in other words, Maya is a slave of the holy congregation). 1. The Guru has explained to me that Maya, in the form of a hidden fire of desires, has burned too many people badly (caused a great deal of harm to them). So, I have come to His shelter now (surrendered myself completely). Pause. Maya clings strongly to, and confounds the achieved Sidh yogis, the practising yogis, men, and different kinds of assistants to the gods. But the Creator Waheguru, who has millions of such slaves, has done a favour to me (and protected me from the attacks of Maya), oh Nanak. 2.12.21.

The fear of the Angel of Death is destroyed instantly, and one attains blissfulness of mind. 1. I have taken the shelter of Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all sufferings; one receives only what You grant him, oh God. MEANING: Get absorbed in the love of the lotus-like Feet of Waheguru, oh my mind. You, too, beg for (the union with) Him, who is worshipped by all human beings. Pause.

Waheguru is the provider for all living beings, and the treasures of His worship are always full (there is no shortage in His love, no matter how many people worship Him). Service to Him never goes unrewarded, and He can salvage one in a moment. 1.
You are the basis of my life; I have come to Your shelter, oh the Creator, oh God. What harm can the world cause to the devotee, whom You protect by Your benevolence, oh Waheguru, submits Nanak? 2.14.23.

Waheguru saved the infant Hargobind from the severe attack of smallpox by His kindness. All sicknesses are eradicated, and it is all comfort when a devotee ponders on the virtues of Waheguru (sings His praise). 1. Muhaa gumbheer, puttar pataala, Nanak serb jooaya. Oopdaysh Guru mum pooneh(i) na gerbhun(g), bikh tuj, Amrit peeyaya. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Nugri = human body. Punch Choar = the five demons (lust, rage, etc.). Busiulay = reside. Burjut = forbidding. Dhaavaiy = attack. Trih = the three effects of Maya. Dus = the ten senses – five natural senses and their five implementers. Maal = possessions. Moakh Mookut = freedom from Maya. 1. Chaytou = remember, Baasdayo = Waheguru. Bunvaali (the basis of all) vegetation. Jupmaali = rosary. Pause. Oordh = high above.

Mool = the basis (Waheguru). Shaakh = branches; the whole world. Tulaaha = downwards; under (the effect of Maya). Bayd = Vedas. Laagay = occupied; describe. Sehj Bhaayay = easily; without any special effort. Live = focus on Waheguru (connection with Him). Jaagay = awake; alert. 2. Parjaat = a mythical tree believed to fulfil all wishes. Aangun = yard (heart). Poohp = flowers. Puttar = leaves. Tut(u) = the basis of the universe – Waheguru. Daala = branches. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Nirunjun = unaffected by Maya (God). Sumbhoo = self-illuminated. Junjaala = bonds of Maya. 3. Sikhvuntay = fresh devotee. Binvaiy = requests. Poonrup(i) = again. Aik = the one and only Waheguru. Kaala = death. 4. Kuthiulay = is called. Vaiyd = physician. Roagi = patient. Tis(u) = that (Waheguru). Kaarun(i) = because of (the recitation of His Naam). Dhunda = bonds of Maya. Girhi = family man. Joagi = yogi = detached from Maya. 5.
Giyan = Divine Knowledge; connection with God. Tujiulay = give up. Tis = thirst; desire. Avigut = invisible (Waheguru). 6. Daat(i) = gift; largess. Sayt Bern = (of) white colour; nervous. Doota = the demons. Braham Kumul = (of the) lotus flower of Waheguru's Naam. Mudh(u) = honey. Taas(u) = of that (Kumul). Rusaadun(g) = tastes. Jaagut = awake; alert. 7. Gumbheer = unemotional; never changing. Puttar = leaves; expanse. Pataala = the world. Jooaya = connected with. Mum = me; mine. Pooneh(i) = again. Gerbhun(g) = in the womb; rebirths. Bikh(u) = poisonous Maya. 8.

MEANING: There are five robbers (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego) residing in the sole human body. They attack stealthily to rob the human body of its virtues despite the fact that they are constantly forbidden by the human mind to do so. But an individual, who (by keeping Waheguru in mind), is able to protect his virtues from being robbed by the three effects of Maya and the ten senses and their implementers, and to attain salvation. 1. So (to protect your virtues) you should always keep Waheguru in mind; and His Naam in your heart should serve as the rosary (you do not need any ritualistic rosary), oh man. Pause. Maya, whose basis, Waheguru, is above its effects while the rest of the world is under its effects, is discussed by all four Vedas. Its effects can be easily rendered ineffective when one stays alert to its attacks by connecting with Waheguru (reciting His Naam with full dedication). 2. Many people believe that the Parjaat tree fulfills all one's wishes. (But, disregarding the importance of the Parjaat tree), I have connected with Waheguru, the creator of the whole universe, including the mythical Parjaat tree, along with its flowers, leaves, and branches, and I feel as if the Parjaat has grown in the yard of my heart. Now all my bonds with Maya have been broken. You, too, should make your heart a dwelling for Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, is self-illuminating, and whose light is lighting the whole world. As a result, you will be able to attain freedom from Maya (emancipation), oh, my friends. 3. Listen to my request, oh, the young devotee, and do not get trapped in the attractive nets of Maya. If you think deeply and connect with Waheguru, you will never suffer from birth and death again. 4. A man who makes a connection with Waheguru and has His Naam enshrined in his heart does not get too deeply involved in worldly affairs. Only he is the real Guru, the real Sikh, and the real physician who understands others' mental state. Such an individual is a real yogi (who has renounced Maya) while living in the family. 5. With Guru's grace, a devotee, who recites the Naam of the invisible Waheguru, which is the basis of the whole universe, and acquires Him in his heart, gets rid of his lust, rage, ego, greed, worldly attachments, and his desire for Maya. 6. Getting connected with God and concentrating on His Naam are the gifts of Waheguru, as a result of which all the demons become nervous. The devotee feels as if the honey of Waheguru's Naam-flower is dripping in his mind, and he is enjoying it. He stays awake (alert) against Maya's attacks. 7. The never-changing Waheguru, which is the Lord of the whole world, is connected with everybody (is omnipresent). With Guru's Advice, I am drinking Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and have severed all the bonds with the poisonous Maya. Now, I will never enter the womb (be reborn) again, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Kuvun Kuvun = who and who? How many? countless. Jaacheh(i) = beg. Na Pureh(i) Shoomaar = cannot find the limit. Ubh = heart, mind. Sumruth = fully capable. Sach(u) = everlasting. Dayvunhaar = provider. 1. Aiy Ji = oh dear. Jup(u) = ritualistic recitation of mantras. Tup(u) = self-torture. Sunjum = control over senses. Adhaar = basis. Bhundaar = treasures. Pause. Soon Smaadh(i) = state of meditation where no thoughts come to mind. Aika Aiki = Waheguru and Waheguru alone. Shabad(u) = Huqam (Command). Thul(u) = land. Gugun = sky. 2. Tud(i) = at that time. Mugun = absorbed in. Chhaaya = effects (of Maya). Apaar = limitless. Drishit = sight. Loachun = eyes. Ubh = heart. Tirbhuvun = universe. 3. Koat(i) Taytees = the 330 million gods (as per Hindu belief). Jaachik = beggars. Nayak = leader. Toat(i) = shortage. Bhundaar = treasures. Oondhay = upside down (turned away). Bhaanday = heart. Nihaar = see; watch. 5. Smaadhi = meditation. Jaacheh(i) = wish for. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Jaikaar = acclaim; applaud. Parkaar = kind. 6. Buday Bhaag = great fortune. Bhayd = difference. Mooraar = Waheguru. Johaiy = watches closely; gives a warning. Boojheh(i) = realizes; makes a connection. 7. Ub Tub = now and then; always. Uver(u) = other. Nirunjun = Waheguru. Chaatrik = rainbird = a mythical bird which drinks the first drop of rain (wishes for rain). 8.

MEANING: There is no limit to the number of people who beg at the door of Waheguru. You are capable of fulfilling the wish of everybody, whatever they may have in mind, oh Waheguru. 1. You are the basis of all jup(u), tup(u), and sunjum(u) (they are all useless), oh dear Waheguru. Your Naam is the source of all comfort, and Your treasures are full of Your worship (You love all Your devotees). Kindly gift me Your Naam. Pause.

Before Waheguru created the universe, He was in a state of meditation, in which no thoughts came to mind, and He alone was thinking of (planning) His future Command. At that time, there was no water, land, earth, or sky. Waheguru created everything Himself. 2.

At that time, there was no Maya, and no one was influenced by its effects. There was no sun, no moon, or the light of the limitless Waheguru in anyone. Your eye (mind), which could see the whole universe, was in Your own heart (thoughts). Only You had the sight which could plan to look after the whole universe, oh Lord. 3. Waheguru created air, water, and fire (energy), and also Brahma, Vishnu, and Mahesh (Shiva), and other bodies. Everybody is the beggar at Your door, and You are the provider, and fulfill the needs of everybody as You deem fit, oh Lord. 4. Even the 330 million gods are beggars at Your door; You are their leader (provider) and give them lavishly, yet there is no shortage of anything in Your treasures. Just like an upside-down vessel does, which does not get any rainwater (only the vessel which is right side up receives it), a human heart, which is turned away from Waheguru, does not receive His Naam. But the human heart, which is in tune with Him, receives the Naam-Amrit, and you can watch (recognize) it, oh my friends. 5.

The Sidh yogis beg for supernatural powers during meditation and applaud Waheguru when they receive them. Waheguru bestows the kind of water (gift) that the individual has thirst for. 6. There is no difference between the Guru and Waheguru; an individual with good fortune serves the Guru (and hence Waheguru). The devotee, who makes a connection with Waheguru by pondering on the Shabad of the Guru, has neither the fear of death nor any warning from the Angel of death. 7. I never ask for anything other than Waheguru's Naam with love. I am like a rainbird which always longs for the first drop of rain water; I beg for the Naam-Amrit. Please be kind and give me (Nanak) Your praise to sing, oh Waheguru. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Aiy Ji = oh, the respected (Waheguru). Phoonn(i) = again. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Raatay = imbued. Put(i) = dignity. 1. Chit(i) = mind. Jaachay = wish for. Budaayee = respect; greatness. Pause. Bhaykh = donning different religious garbs. Bhikhiya = alms. Oodur(u) = stomach. Kaiy Taayee = for. Gerb = conceit; ego. 2. Kaal(u) = death. Tthaadhay = hangs; looms. Baiyraayee = enemy. Ruttay = imbued. Baachay = escaped. Boojh Boojhaayee = imparted wisdom. 3. Joh = watch aggressively. Doot = Angel of death. Suntaayee = cause suffering. Avigut(i) = invisible (Waheguru). Nath = Lord. Nirbhuou = fearless. 4. Dirrhou = recite again and again. Liv = connect with mentally. Tayk = support. Tikaayee = stay in the shelter. Tis(u) = Him (Waheguru). Bhaavaiy = likes. Kirt(u) = deeds done in the past. 5. Uver = other. Ub Tub = now and then; always. Aad(i) Joogaad(i) = from the beginning of everything (always). Sukhaayee = friend. 6. Paiyj = dignity. Siyoun = with. Bun(i) Aayee = liking for. Ders(u) = sight. 7. Aaya Jaayee = comes and goes; perishable. Pdaaruth(u) = desired valuable thing (Naam). Kuntth(i) = in the throat; on the tongue. 8.

MEANING: The Sikhs of the Guru get imbued in Waheguru's Naam, attain a high spiritual state, and win respect because of the recitation of the Naam. On the other hand, the individuals who turn their faces away from the Guru (do not act on His Advice) keep taking births and dying. 1. So, apply your mind to Waheguru's Naam, oh my friends. It is the greatness of the Naam that the Sikhs long for the grace of the Guru to have a glimpse of Waheguru (get connected with Him). Pause. The man uses a variety of religious garbs to beg alms to feed himself, but he cannot enjoy mental peace, nor can he overcome his ego without Waheguru's worship. 2. The fear of death always looms over his head, which is one's enemy in everyday life. But those who take Guru's Advice, stay imbued in His eternal Shabad, and escape the fear of death (the fear of death does not trouble them). 3. The Angel of Death is no longer frightening to those who take the Guru's shelter, and the agents of death cannot trouble them. They get connected with the invisible Lord, which is above the effects of Maya, and stay imbued in His Naam. 4. Stay in the Guru's shelter, and recite Waheguru's Naam again, and again to connect with Him, oh my dear friends. However, the consequences of your previous deeds cannot be erased, and Waheguru does whatever He deems right. 5. I have rushed to take Your shelter as I do not like any other shelter, oh Waheguru. I always seek the help of the "one and the only" Waheguru (recite only His Naam), which is my friend from the beginning (in every eon). 6. I can be friends only with You; please preserve the dignity of Your Naam (accept me as Your devotee), oh Waheguru. Please be kind and connect me with the Guru so that I may burn away my ego with His Shabad. 7.

There is nothing in this world worth asking for, because everything visible in this world is perishable – everything comes and goes. Nanak begs only for Your Naam, which I want to harbour in my mind and on my tongue, oh Waheguru. 8.3.

MEANING: I belong neither to a high class, nor to a low class, nor to a middle class of society. I am God's man, and live in His shelter. I am imbued in His Naam, and am detached from Maya. Therefore, I do not suffer from any grief or pain of separation. I am free from all such sufferings. 1. With Guru's grace, I am a worshipper of the Lord, Waheguru. My heart is pure now as I have Waheguru's Naam in it with the Shabad of the Guru. Now, I do not owe anything to the Angel of death, and there is no balance of any ignoble deeds against me. Pause. Waheguru's devotees sing Waheguru's praise and always think of Him around them. They gladly accept everything that Waheguru does and feel blissful. Life in the world is worthless without Waheguru's Naam, and every moment without Him is fruitless. 2. The dishonest people (disrespectful of Waheguru) find no shelter (peace) inside and outside in the world. Such vilifiers never attain a high spiritual state. They always complain and never appreciate the gifts of God, but Waheguru never withholds any of His gifts for them; in fact, His gifts keep increasing all the time. 3. Nobody can erase (prevent) the gift of the Guru (Waheguru's Naam) because the Lord Himself makes the Guru give the gift. The vilifiers do not enjoy Guru's gift, and have always vilification on their tongue (and in mind) as a result of which their faces are blackened (are disgraced). 4. When a devotee comes to Waheguru's shelter, He does not take even a short moment to connect him with Self (Waheguru). God, which is the Lord of all lords, and which is the source of all bliss, connects the devotee with the Guru, who connects the devotee with Waheguru. (Only the Guru can connect with Him). 5. Guru's Word removes all the misgivings of the people who realize that Waheguru, which is always kind, is present everywhere. Like the elixir stone, which converts the base metals into gold with its touch, a common man gets transformed into a holy man in the company (shelter) of the Guru. 6. The devotees of Waheguru bathe their minds in Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which their minds become pure. Satguru likes only such bathing (purification of mind). In the company of the holy men (Guru), the soul of the devotee merges into the Supreme Soul, and he never takes birth again. 7. You are the Supreme being, oh the inaccessible Waheguru. You are like a tree, while we are like the birds on it (we survive spiritually in Your shelter). You are above the effects of Maya, oh Waheguru; kindly grant me Your Naam, which I may recite through the eons (all the time) with Satguru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.4.

MEANING: Those who worship (recite Naam of) Waheguru with affection and respect, feel a strong thirst (attraction) for Him. They pray only at His door and enjoy the blissfulness of His love in their heart. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam in His shelter, oh my mind. Make the recitation of Waheguru's Naam your lifestyle; Waheguru's Naam is the ship to ferry you across the sea of Maya, oh my mind. Pause. Remember Waheguru with Guru's Shabad, and kill your desires for Maya with that. Killing desires for Maya leads to bliss. Those who keep Waheguru in mind acquire the wisdom (thinking) by which they connect with God and enjoy wellbeing (comforts). 2. The world is lost in its love for worldly attachments, and its fickle mind always wanders after wealth (which does not stay with them forever). Only Waheguru's worship is everlasting; so, one should reinforce it in his mind by reciting the Guru's Shabad with love and get imbued in it. 3. (Some people roam the earth to get away from worldly attractions), But one cannot get rid of his misgivings by roaming the earth. The people actually suffer because of this disease (of misgivings) after taking birth in the world. Only Waheguru's shelter enables the man to get detached from Maya. Reciting Waheguru's Naam with a pure mind is the real worship. 4.

Under the influence of its love for worldly attachments, the world suffers much and stays in the birth-death cycle for a long, long time. But, without wasting any time, one can attain salvation by taking the Guru's shelter and by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 5.
When a man obeys the Guru's Advice with full dedication, his mind becomes stable (quits wandering), and his thoughts stay in the blissful state (where Maya has no effect). By getting connected with Waheguru, such a mind becomes perfectly pure in which the jewel-like Waheguru's supreme Naam comes to reside. 6. Apply your mind to Waheguru's Naam, and swim across the sea of Maya by worshipping Waheguru with respectful fear and with love, oh man. When a man takes Waheguru's shelter and surrenders his body (and mind) to Him, his heart becomes pure with Waheguru's Naam in there. 7.
With Waheguru's Naam in mind as his wealth, one is able to get rid of the waves of his greed for tasty foods and greed in general. Only Waheguru can enable a man to control his mind; I am in the shelter of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.1.5.

Word Meaning: Nirt(i) = dance = Nuchaayee. Aap(u) = selfishness; ego. Guvaayee = lose; get rid of. Chit = mind. Thir(u) = unwavering. Ichhee = wishes. 1. Bhaanaiy = as per His liking. Untay = at the end. Bhuou = fear. Pause. Aap(i) = (Waheguru) Himself. Maarug(i) Paayay = show the right path. 2. Undin(u) = every day; always. Shukut(i) = (effects of) Maya. Nivaaraiy = eliminates. Shiv = source of bliss, Waheguru. Neend = sleep; negligence. Taapaiy = jumps. Uvro = other (Maya). 3. Soor(i) Nur = gods-like men. Virt(i) Pukh = detached from Maya. Kermee = by deeds. Traiy Goon = humans under the influence of the three effects of Maya. Liv = make a bond with God. Khaani Chaaray = living beings of all the four sources of reproduction. 5.

MEANING: (Some people believe that they can please their deity by dancing before the idol, but Guru Sahiban strongly disapproves of such thinking.) Guru Amar Dass Ji advises that to please Waheguru, rather than dancing with his body before the Guru, one needs to make his heart dance in joy (by making that a dwelling for Waheguru). If one dances as per the wishes of the Guru, he acquires all the comforts of mind (blissfulness) and faces no fear of the Angel of death at the end. Pause. When one's heart dances in a blissful state, one can kill one's selfishness and ego with the Guru's grace. A man who controls his mind from wavering is able to break all his bonds with Maya and reap the rewards as per his wishes. 1. A man is considered Waheguru's devotee if Waheguru Himself makes his heart dance, and if Waheguru Himself implants His love in the devotee's heart. When that happens, it is Waheguru which dances and sings in the devotee's heart, and shows the right path to enlighten the blind mind. 2. The man, who comes to Waheguru's shelter, never sleeps (never becomes unaware against the attacks of Maya), and overcomes the effects of Maya. His mind dances in a blissful state all the time. On the other hand, a Maya-loving person is asleep (unaware of Maya's attacks) all the time, and he physically dances and jumps while enjoying Maya's gimmicks. Such a person has his face turned away from the Guru, and can never worship Waheguru. 3. The minds of the godly people who are detached from Maya, dance by their deeds (and not by their body). The hermits dance when they ponder on Divine Knowledge. The Sidhs and the practising yogis on the spiritual path dance when they acquire the thoughtful wisdom of the Guru. 4.
The humans of the earth and of the universe, which are normally under the influence of the three traits of Maya, dance when they meditate on You. However, most living beings of all the four sources of reproduction, dance at the hands of Maya. 5.

Word Meaning: Tut(u) = the basis of all – God. Huqam = Command; Will. 6.
Sachay Siyoun = with Waheguru. Jeevut Muraiy = break all bonds with Maya. 7.

Urth(i) = for the sake of. Virla = some rare. 8. Ikk(u) Dum(u) = a single moment. Veesraiy = forgotten. Vayla = time. Birtha = useless. Smaaliyaiy = remember. Rujaayay = will. 9. Bhaaveh(i) = like. Sehj = the state of bliss. Nudr(i) = kind sight. 10.

MEANING: Only those devotees dance to Your tune whom You like, and who make a bond with You with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. Those are the real devotees, and are knowledgeable about (have made connection with) Waheguru (which is the basis of all life), and whom He makes obey His Command (Will). 6. The real worship of Waheguru is the one where a devotee concentrates on Waheguru's Naam (bonds with Him); however, there is no worship without the service to the Guru. But there is a rare devotee who realizes Waheguru by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, and thereby killing his desires for Maya while living in the family. 7. Many people dance at the hands of others for the purpose of Maya, but there are only some rare devotees who ponder on the reality (Waheguru, which is the basis of the whole universe). Only that devotee realizes Waheguru, to whom He is kind, by the grace of the Guru. 8. Every moment of life goes to waste when Waheguru is forgotten. One should remember Him with every breath, but that happens only when He bestows His Naam with His Will. 9. Only they dance to Your tune, whom You like because they ponder on Guru's Shabad in His shelter, oh Waheguru. Those whom Waheguru is kind, enjoy the comfort of the blissful state, oh Nanak. 10.1.6.

Tur(u) = swim across (the sea of Maya). Taari = swimming. Pause. Sunuk, Snundun, Naarud = sons of Brahma. Moon(i) = sages who stay quiet for very long times. Undin(u) = every day. Bunvaari = a name for Waheguru. Shernaagut = in shelter. Prehlad = a devotee of Waheguru in Satyug. Paiyj = dignity. Suvaari = enhanced. 2. Alukh = incomprehensible. Vertaiy = operates. Mooraari = a name for Waheguru. Jaachik = beggars. Daata = provider. Pusaari = by spreading. 3. Ootum = superior; polite. Bani = language; spoken words. Akuth Kuthaa = indescribable stories (virtues) of (Waheguru). Niyaari = unique. Bhuyya = became. Kayra = of. Turay = swam across the sea of Maya. Kool = associates. 4. Doobidha = caught between different choices; indecisiveness. Doormut(i) = evil mind. Biyaapay = are affected. Goobaari = darkness. Bhaavaiy = like. Doobay = drown in the sea of Maya. Sun = including. Pervaari = family; associates. 5. Ninduk = malicious critics; vilifiers. Mul(u) = filth of deeds. Mul Bhukh = eaters of filth; usurpers of others' wealth. Mayadhaari = lovers of Maya. Oorvaari = the near end of the sea of Maya (this world). Paari = the far end (next world). 6. Perpunch = the world. Kul = power. Dhaari = acquire; keep. Soot(u) = thread (of Waheguru's Huqam). Khinchaiy = pulls out. Ekunkaari = only Him. 7. Rusn(i) Rusn(i) = with the tongue. Rus(i) = while enjoying. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Maangoun = beg for. 8.

MEANING: Like a child, which is dependent upon milk for food (and cannot live without it), my mind cannot live without Waheguru. I wish to sacrifice my life for my Satguru because the inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru can be realized only in His shelter. 1. The sea of Maya can be swum across only by singing Waheguru's praise, oh, my mind. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit, which can be acquired in the shelter of the Guru, that too with the benevolence of Waheguru. Pause. Sunuk, Snundun, Nard, and the hermits serve Waheguru all the time and recite His Naam. Waheguru protects His devotees like Prehlad, who come to His shelter in every way, and enhances their dignity. 2. The incomprehensible Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, operates all by Himself, and it is only His light that is present in everybody. Waheguru is the only provider, while everybody else is a beggar at His Door, begging with his hands spread out. 3. Waheguru's devotees use a sweet language with which they sing the unique virtues of the indescribable Waheguru every day. Their life becomes successful (as they achieve the objective of life of getting connected with Waheguru). Not only do they find (attain) salvation for themselves, they also get their associates salvaged. 4. But those who do not believe in Satguru have an evil mind and suffer from indecisiveness. Because of their worldly attachments, they have spiritual darkness in their mind. They do not like the stories of holy saints, as a result of which they drown in the sea of Maya along with their family of associates. 5. The vilifiers actually wash away the filth of the misdeeds of others by vilifying them. They are money lovers who usurp others' rights. The vilification of the holy men has its negative impact on them, and they are neither on this side of the sea of Maya (are not detached from Maya in this world), nor do they reach the other side of the sea (to reach Waheguru's Court). (They die attached to Maya), so they drown in the middle of the sea (stay engrossed in Maya) (and keep taking rebirths). 6. But the living beings are helpless in controlling their behaviour to a great degree because Waheguru has created the whole world like a drama (in which we are just actors with defined roles). He keeps the world in control with His powers. Waheguru's Laws are the thread that keeps the whole universe together. When He pulls the thread, the universe collapses, and only He remains. 7.

The devotees of Waheguru sing Waheguru's praise all the time and enjoy the sweet taste of His Naam. I do not beg anything other than Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. The sweet taste of Waheguru's love is very dear to me. 8.1.7.

MEANING: (Because Waheguru is present in every living being, it is His power and abilities which are operating in everybody. He is also the supreme power, so He is the greatest, and greater than anybody else). My father (Waheguru) is the supreme Lord and is inaccessible. Who can sing His full praise? Everybody is wonderstruck to see His beautiful and diverse creations in nature. Pause. (Because of Your omnipresence) You are the supreme King among kings, and the biggest land-Lord among landlords, oh my majestic Waheguru. Purakh = omnipresent Waheguru. Anunt = limitless. 3. Sumruth = omnipotent. Pul Muhoorut = every second, every moment. Sehj = blissful state. Smaadh(i) = in meditation. Jaachiyaiy = beg for. Ruj Sadh = dust of the feet of the Guru. 4. Mithun = false; short-lived. Doorunt = having a bad end. Bashna = lust. Bikaar = sensual desires. Dherm = high morality. Bherm = misgivings. Bidaar(i) = destroy. Oodhur = salvage. 5. Dhunaadh(i) = wealthy. Aadh(i) = wealthier. Cheer = clothes. Khul = stupid. Moogudh = foolish. Moorr = unwise. Ktaakheh = kind sight. Sridhur = husband of Maya (Waheguru). Mut(i) = wise. Dheer = patient. 6. Jeevun Mookut = living-emancipated; one who has broken all bonds of Maya while living in the family. Dhaar(i) = acquiring. Purteet = faith; deep respect. Serbtur Rumnun(g) = omnipresent. Perm = supreme. Huns = swan; a Gurmukh. Reet = lifestyle. 7. Dershun = sight. Servun = to listen. Ung Sung = always around. Persun = to touch (feet). Putit = immoral. Oodhar = salvager. 8.

MEANING: The Lord, Waheguru, is a friend of the weak (powerless), purifier of the immoral, destroyer of fears, kind, and treasure (source) of all virtues. Service to Him makes devotees' lives successful (they are salvaged). 1. Waheguru is the Guru and the provider for the whole world. I have come to Your shelter, oh kind Waheguru. Kindly ferry me across the world sea. Pause. When a devotee loves Waheguru like a bumblebee loves the sap of flowers, He (God) destroys the lust and the rage of the devotee, and burns his worldly attachments with which he is intoxicated. Kindly eliminate the suffering of rebirths and protect my dignity (I am humiliated by my sensual desires), oh, the supporter of the world, and the source of supreme bliss, Waheguru. 2. I am burning (suffering) from the countless waves of Maya (which arouse my sensual desires); however, they can be controlled by having the mantra of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Advice at heart. Kindly destroy my ego, thereby eliminating my worries, oh, the compassionate, limitless, and omnipresent Waheguru. 3. Recite the Naam of the omnipotent Waheguru every second and every moment, which causes you to focus on Him to attain the state of blissfulness, oh my friends. The kind Waheguru, which is the friend of the humble, is Perfect and always happy (has no worries). I long for the dust of the Feet of the Guru (His Advice) (which connects one with Waheguru).

4. Worldly attachments are false (short-lived); man's hopes and expectations about lust and immoral deeds (sensual pleasures) lead to a bad end (the individuals are punished in Waheguru's Court). Kindly dispel my misgivings, protect my high morality, and rescue me, oh (formless) Waheguru. 5. Those poor people who did not have any clothes on their bodies become wealthier with full treasures than the wealthy when they acquire Waheguru's Naam. Those who were stupid, foolish, and unwise become full of virtues and of patience with a kind sight of Waheguru. 6. When a devotee recites the Naam of the Lord of the world (Waheguru) with full faith and reverence, he becomes "living-emancipated". He realizes that Waheguru is omnipresent, and leads a lifestyle of a supreme Gurmukh, and becomes kind and compassionate to all living beings. 7.
Waheguru Himself grants His sight, His praise to the ears, and His Naam on the tongue of His devotees. He is always around, and His touch salvages even the immoral, oh Nanak. 8.1.2.5.1.1.2. 57.

ਇਹੁ ਜਗਤੁ ਮਮਤਾ ਮੁਆ ਜੀਵਣ ਕੀ ਬਿਧਿ ਨਾਹਿ॥ ਗੁਰ ਕੈ ਭਾਣੈ ਜੋ ਚਲੈ ਤਾ ਜੀਵਣ ਪਦਵੀ ਪਾਹਿ॥ ਓਇ ਸਦਾ ਸਦਾ ਜਨ ਜੀਵਤੇ ਜੋ ਹਰਿ ਚਰਣੀ ਚਿਤੁ ਲਾਹਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਨਦਰੀ ਮਨਿ ਵਸੈ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਸਹਜਿ ਸਮਾਹਿ॥ 1॥

NOTE: Guru Arjun Sahib has advised that this Vaar be sung to the tune of the Vaars of Sikandar and Ibrahim.

Word Meaning: Mumta = worldly attachments. Bidh(i) = technique; sense. Bhaanaiy = as per the wish. Pudvee = rank; high spiritual state. Chit(u) = mind. Sehj(i) = the blissful state of mind (above the effects of Maya).

MEANING: Because of its worldly attachments, the world is facing spiritual death and has no sense of living. One can achieve a high spiritual state by living one's life according to the Will of the Guru. Those devotees who stay connected with Waheguru's Feet (Naam) live forever (as they become a part of the eternal Waheguru). But, Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in a devotee's heart only with the kindness of Waheguru when he stays in the blissful state (above the effects of Maya) in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 1.

(PAGE 509): Hur(i) Naam(u) na paaya, junum(u) birtha guvaaya, Nanak Jum(u) maar(i) kuray khooaar. 2.

Word Meaning: Sehsa = anxiety; worries. Dhundhaiy = worldly involvements; bonds of Maya. Sir(i) Maar = mental pressures. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Sootay = asleep; unaware. Jaageh = awake; stay alert. Chayteh(i) = remember. Achaar = character. Birtha = empty; useless. Khooaar = discomfit. 2.

MEANING: Because of his involvement in worldly affairs (without Waheguru's Naam at heart), the man has mental pressures and suffers from anxieties and worries. Those who are asleep (engrossed) in the love for Maya never wake up (realize the truth). They have the character of paying no heed to the Advice of the Guru; they do not recite Waheguru's Naam, and do not ponder on the Guru's Shabad. They do not acquire Waheguru's Naam at heart, and waste away their life. Spiritual death kills their good qualities, as a result of which they suffer discomfiture, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Oopaayon(u) = He created. Tudhoun = then. Mutaa = resolution. Musoorut(i) = consultation. Traiy Loyee = the three layers of the universe. Oput(i) = production; creation. Bhaavaiy = likes. Uver(u) = other. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru self-created Himself; there was none other at that time. There was none other to assist Him in His resolutions; only that happens which He does by His Will. There was no sky, underworld, or the three-layered universe at that time. There was only the formless Waheguru at the time, and no creation had yet occurred. He does whatever He likes; there is none other (like Him). 1.

Word Meaning: Disaiy = appears. Shabad Kmaayay = follow Guru's Advice. Aouhaani = perishable; disappear. Nihful(u) = worthless. Jaapyee = known. 1.

MEANING: The Lord is always there, but becomes visible only to Him who leads his life as per the Advice of the Guru. He never disappears, nor does He take birth or die. One should always serve Waheguru (recite His Naam), which is present in everybody. Why should one serve anybody else who takes births, and then dies (is perishable)? Worthless is the life of those who do not recognize their real Lord and get attached to others (Maya-related things or relatives). It is not known to us how much punishment the Creator inflicts on them, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Vertaiy = operates. Boojh(i) = recognize; realize. Pervaan(u) = is approved. Kuthnee = discuss; talk about. Budni = with mouth; by words. Kuch Nikuch = unenlightened; perishable. 2.

MEANING: We should recite the Naam of the eternal Waheguru, which operates everywhere. But only those acquire the eternal Naam, and get connected with Him who recognize Waheguru's Huqam, and get His approval (by obeying Him), oh Nanak. Those who only talk about Waheguru, but do not realize His Huqam, are blind (of spirituality), and are perishable (are born again, and again. 2.

Paurri: Sunjoag(u), vijoag(u) oopaayon(u), srishti ka mool(u) ruchaaya. Huqami srisht(i) saajiun(u), joti Jot(i) milaaya. Joti hoon subh(u) chaanuna, Satgur(i) Shabad(u) soonaaya. Brahma, Bishun(u), Muhaysh(u) traiy goon sir(i) dhundhaiy laaya. Maya ka mool(u) ruchaayon(u) tooriya sookh(u) paaya. 2.

Word Meaning: Sunjoag(u) = union. Vijoag(u) = separation. Srishti = world. Mool(u) = basis. Ruchaaya = created. Saajiun(u) = is created. Joti = soul. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. Chaanuna = brightness. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Dhundhaiy Laaya = bonded with Maya. Tooriya = above the effects of Maya. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru created the world with union and separation (of body and soul; of relatives; with wealth, and with Waheguru) as its basis. He created the world with His Huqam (Laws), and injected His Light (Soul) into all living beings (He is present in all of them). He made it clear with Guru's Shabad that awareness in the living beings is due to the presence of His Light in them. Waheguru created Brahma (who is believed to be the creator of the universe), Vishnu (who is believed to be the provider for the whole world), and Shiva (who is believed to destroy the world), and subjected them to the effects of Maya (as anyone else). Waheguru made Maya the basis of the world, and got all living beings engrossed in it. An individual acquires the blissful state when he rises spiritually above the three effects of Maya. 2.

Word Meaning: Jup Tup = different ways of worship. J(i) = Jo = which. Bhaanaiy = as per the Will. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Smaavaiy = gets absorbed.

MEANING: Only that kind of worship of Waheguru is approved which the Satguru likes (approves). One earns respect by living by Satguru's Will (advice). Such a devotee overcomes his selfishness and ego, and stays absorbed in the thoughts of the Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਗੁਰ ਕੀ ਸਿਖ ਕੋ ਵਿਰਲਾ ਲੇਵੈ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਜਿਸੁ ਆਪਿ ਵਡਿਆਈ ਦੇਵੈ॥ 2॥

M:3: Gur kee Sikh ko virlaa layvaiy. Nanak jis(u) Aap(i) vudiyaayee dayvaiy. 2.

Word Meaning: Sikh = advice. Virla = some rare. Vudiyaayee = honour. 2.

MEANING: It is a rare person who is given the honour by Waheguru to live by the Guru's Advice, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Ugiyan(u) = lack of knowledge; ignorance. Bikhum(u) = difficult; tough; harmful. Ut(i) = extremely. Puththur = (heavy like a) stone (with burden of sins). Luddiya = loaded. Vikaari = sensual pleasures. Nistaari = salvages. 3.
MEANING: Love for Maya is a source of serious and harmful darkness (ignorance). How can a man swim across the sea of Maya when he is loaded with (carries) a heavy burden of sins? When one is imbued with the love for Waheguru's worship all the time, he is salvaged by Waheguru. One overcomes his selfishness and ego, and controls his sensual pleasures with the Guru's Shabad, because of which his mind is purified. If we recite Waheguru's Naam, He salvages us. 3.

ਸਲੋਕੁ॥ ਕਬੀਰ ਮੁਕਤਿ ਦੁਆਰਾ ਸੰਕੁੜਾ ਰਾਈ ਦਸਵੈ ਭਾਇ॥ ਮਨੁ ਤਉ ਮੈਗਲੁ ਹੋਇ ਰਹਾ ਨਿਕਸਿਆ ਕਿਉ ਕਰਿ ਜਾਇ॥ ਐਸਾ ਸਤਿਗੁਰੁ ਜੇ ਮਿਲੈ ਤੁਠਾ ਕਰੇ ਪਸਾਉ॥ ਮੁਕਤਿ ਦੁਆਰਾ ਮੋਕਲਾ ਸਹਜੇ ਆਵਉ ਜਾਉ॥ 1॥
Sloak(u): Kabir, mookut(i) dooaara sunkoorra, raayee dusvaiyn bhaayay. Mun(u) tuou maiygul hoyay ruhaa, niksiya kiyoun kur(i) jaayay. Aiysa Satgur(u) jay milaay, toottha kuray pusaaou. Mookut(i) dooaara moakla, sehjay aavou jaaou. 1.
Word Meaning: Mookut(i) Dooara = door to salvation. Sunkoorra = shrunken; very narrow. Raayee = grain. Maiygul = (conceited like) intoxicated elephant. Niksiya = pass through. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Pusaou = with benevolence. Moakla = wide. 1.
MEANING: The door to salvation is extremely narrow – one-tenth the size of a grain (just an example for our understanding. It means that the souls undergo a rigorous scrutiny by Waheguru before being salvaged. But the human mind (its ego) is huge like an intoxicated elephant; so how can the human soul go through the door of salvation? However, if one gets connected to Satguru who is pleased to be kind, the door of salvation becomes large (the soul is not subjected to tough scrutiny) through which the human soul can pass easily, oh Kabir. 1.
NOTE: The above Sloak has been written by Kabir Sahib, who compares the human mind to an intoxicated elephant, but does not explain the reason for the comparison. Guru Amar Dass Ji explains the comparison and the role of the Guru in the following Sloak.

3॥ (ਭਾਵ ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:3)॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਮੁਕਤਿ ਦੁਆਰਾ ਅਤਿ ਨੀਕਾ ਨਾਨ੍ਹਾ ਹੋਇ ਸੁ ਜਾਇ॥ ਹਉਮੈ ਮਨ ਅਸਥੂਲੁ ਹੈ ਕਿਉ ਕਰਿ ਵਿਚੁਦੇ ਜਾਇ॥ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਮਿਲਿਐ ਹਉਮੈ ਗਈ ਜੋਤਿ ਰਹੀ ਸਭੁ ਆਇ॥ (ਅੰਗ 510)॥ ਇਹੁ ਜੀਉ ਸਦਾ ਮੁਕਤਿ ਹੈ ਸਹਜੇ ਰਹਿਆ ਸਮਾਇ॥ 2॥

(PAGE 510): Ehu jeeo suda mookut(i) haiy, sehjay ruhhiya smaayay. 2.
NOTE: in the above Sloak, "Mehla" is missing before "3". But it is understood.
Word Meaning: Neeka = small; narrow. Nahna = small. Usthool = huge. Kiyoun Kur(i) = how? Jeeo = soul. Sehjay = in a blissful state. 2.
MEANING: (Kabir Sahib is right) when he says that the door of salvation is extremely narrow, and only a miniscule mind can pass through that. The reason for the mind to be huge is man's ego because of which it cannot go through the tiny door. When a man gets connected to Satguru, his ego and selfishness get eradicated, and Waheguru comes to dwell in his mind. Such a soul becomes pure for ever (above the effects of Maya), and stays absorbed in (connected with) Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vus(i) = in control. Guntaiy = by calculations (according to Hindu Granths, certain deeds make you eligible to go to paradise). Doojaiy = in the other (Maya). Bhermeeta = misled by misgivings. Jeevut Muraiy = kill (overcome) one's ego and selfishness. Smeeta = gets absorbed. Mileeta = connected. Vigseeta = blissful. 4

MEANING: After creating the world, Waheguru put it under His control. People who make calculations (of their deeds and the resulting rewards) get misled by the attractions of Maya. However, one realizes the reality and is able to kill (overcome) his worldly desires and his selfishness when he gets connected with Satguru, and gets absorbed in Waheguru. He gets rid of his ego and selfishness with Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru connects him with Him through Satguru. Waheguru knows everything, and Himself does everything (is the cause of every action), and is always blissful. 4.

Word Meaning: Chit(u) Na Laayo = did not bond with. Vussiyo = take residence. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Khoti = false; unworthy; short-lived. Raas(i) = wealth. Chusay = very short period of time. Paaj(u) = false gleam. Chhoorrkee = dropped; fell off; is lost. Siyaah = dark. Budun = face. Koomlaayay = withers; droops. Rung Siyoun = with love. Liv Laayay = focusing on. Ugla = much. Vunni = colour.

MEANING: The man, who does not apply his mind to Satguru (does not get connected with Him), and does not embed Waheguru's Naam in his mind, spends a condemnable life. What does he gain spiritually by coming to this world? Wealth is a false possession which loses its false gleam in a short time. When one loses it, his body becomes dark, and face droops (he feels depressed). On the other hand, those who connect with Satguru have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts and feel blissful. They recite Waheguru's Naam with affection (and reverence), and stay focused on His Naam. Satguru gives the wealth of Naam to humans which becomes their permanent possession. Because of this wealth, their love for Waheguru becomes very deep, and their body acquires beautiful shine (glow of spirituality), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Naagni = (female) snake. Luptaayay = wraps around. Gaar-rroo = a mythical mantra which can take the poison of the snake out (a Hindu belief). Mul(i) = rub. Dul = split into pieces. Paayay = feet. Mul(u) Dul(u) Laayee Paayay = enslaves it. Oobray = salvaged. 2.

MEANING: Maya is like a snake which wraps itself around the world. It consumes the (noble qualities of) the individuals who serve it. There is a rare true devotee of the Guru who acquires the real mantra (Waheguru's Naam) to enslave it, rubs it off, and splits it into pieces (destroys its effects completely. Only those are salvaged who stay connected with God, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: When a devotee, singing praise of Waheguru, prays before Him, Waheguru listens to that. With full faith in Him and with patience, the devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart. Actually, he performs only those deeds for which he is predestined by Waheguru. He reaches Waheguru's Residence when the Lord becomes kind to him. My Waheguru is extremely great, and connects the devotees with Him through the Guru. 5.

Word Meaning: Shuhou = husband; Lord. Hujoor(i) = nearby. Ghur = heart. Munaayaysi = make them obey. Sohaagun(i) = bride. 1.

MEANING: Everybody has the same husband (Waheguru), who is always close to them. But, if someone does not obey His Will, he finds Him far, far away even though He is hidden in his heart. Waheguru makes only those obey His Huqam on whom He casts His kind sight. Those who obey His Will, acquire blissfulness, and become His beloved brides. 1.

Word Meaning: Daata = Provider; Lord. Oopaayay = means; smartness. Kerm Bidhaata = carver of fortune. Sehjay = in the blissful state. Jaata = recognized; realized. Trishna = desires. Ugn(i) = fire. Amritsar(i) = in the pool of Naam-water. Vudiyaayee = greatness. Boalaata = cause to speak (recite Waheguru's Naam). 6.

MEANING: I have roamed all over the world, and found out that it is the same Lord everywhere. But the Carver of our fates cannot be realized by any common means. He can be embedded in the heart only by the Guru's Shabad in the blissful state (above the effects of Maya). (With the realization of Waheguru) one feels as if he has taken a bath in the pool of His Naam-Amrit whereby the fire of his worldly desires is put out. It is the greatness of Waheguru that He connects his devotees with the Guru in whose shelter they recite Waheguru's Naam. 6.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Huns = soul. Puyyiaan Hee = when the body is lying (still there). Koorr(u) = lies; dishonest means. Undh = blind; has no awareness. Paunaiy = air; soul. Huoun = me, I. Mohiya = captivated by. J(i) = by which. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: What kind of love is there between the body and the soul, which leaves the body when it is still there (not disposed of)? One feeds his body by dishonest means, but it does not accompany the soul on death. The body is just a pile of dirt and has no awareness without the soul in it. The soul (and not the body) is accountable for all its deeds in Waheguru's Court. If you ask the soul why it nourishes the body, which does not accompany it, the answer is: I am captivated by the attractions of Maya as a result of which I keep taking rebirths. I do not realize the Will of Waheguru, so I cannot remain absorbed in Him (connected with Him), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nihchul = permanent; everlasting. Tuskar = thief. Joh(i) = cast evil eye. Ochuka = thief; cheat. Jeeaiy = soul. Sayti = with. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present; stays with. Pullaiy = in possession. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the only real wealth that is man's permanent possession; all other types of wealth come and go. No thief can cast an evil eye on, or a fraudster rob the Naam-wealth. The Naam-wealth stays with the soul (of the devotee), and accompanies him to Waheguru's Court. This wealth can be acquired from the Guru, whereas the Maya-lover cannot possess it. Those are praise-worthy businessmen who earn the Naam-wealth, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Gehr = deep; whose secrets cannot be known. Gumbheera = never changing; has no emotions. Cheera = Huqam; Laws. Dheera = not changing. Nihchul = permanent; eternal. Soora = gallant (who has full control over sensual desires). Goonvunteen = virtuous. Poora = perfect. 7.

MEANING: My Lord is extremely great, eternal, deep (unfathomable), and never changes. The whole world is under His control, and it is His Huqam that is working everywhere. The eternal wealth of His Naam can be realized with the grace of the Guru. With His kindness, the devotee gets connected with the gallant Guru, with whose kindness the devotee is able to embed Waheguru in his heart. MEANING: The life of the individual is reprehensible who pushes away and forsakes the bliss of Waheguru's Naam, and suffers because of his ignoble deeds, which he performs under his ego. The followers of their mind are ignorant and have no understanding of Waheguru because they are overcome by their attachment to Maya. They never enjoy comfort in this world or the next and leave this world with repentance. Some rare devotees enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, whereby they overcome their selfishness and ego. Such individuals do not mix with virtuous people even if someone tries to do so because falseness and selfishness becomes their objective in life. The Creator has created the world in such a way that the followers of their mind drown in the world-sea because they always tell lies (are deceitful), while Guru's Sikhs swim across the sea of Maya by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

He sings Waheguru's praise, acquires virtues, and connects his soul (mind) with Waheguru. They serve Satguru, and always recite Waheguru's Naam whereby they enshrine the Naam in their heart. With Guru's Shabad, they burn (overcome) their selfishness, ego, and worldly attachments, and stay detached from such attachments while living in the family. Not only such devotees attain salvation for themselves, they also get the whole world (in their association) salvaged. Their mothers are (acquired wisdom is) worthy of respect who give births to (produces) such devotees. Forgetting their preaching, the pundits look stealthily for the money to find out how much is given to them in offering by the individuals in the audience. Hiding their own deep love for money, the hypocrites preach about (its negative effects); Waheguru has misled them so as not to recite His Naam. All the different sects of the ascetics are also misled as they have inflated ego (thinking that they are superior to the others as they have renounced Maya). They do not accept the alms given with respect, and waste away their precious life by the sheer obstinacy of their mind. Out of all these misled people, only that devotee is able to concentrate on Waheguru's Naam who Dund(u) = punishment. Kraara = strong. Mug(i) = path. Dooja Bhaaou = love for Maya. Maariun(i) = punished. Pookaara = cries for help. Nistaara = salvation.

MEANING: Attachment with Maya is deceitful as it is a source of lust, rage, and ego. Such people are destined to be under the control of the Angel of Death and are subject to some harsh punishment. The followers of their mind love Maya and are set on the path that leads them to appear before the Angel of Justice (Waheguru Himself). They are punished in the court of the Angel, and nobody is there to listen to their cries for help. On the other hand, those whom Waheguru is kind to, get connected with the Guru. Such devotees find salvation in the shelter of the Guru. 12.

Such attractions consume the followers' minds (rob them of their spiritual wealth, if they have any). Haumein and worldly attachments affect those who love Maya, and cling to them. The attraction for Maya can be completely destroyed by Guru's Shabad when it disappears from the minds of devotees. With the destruction of the attractions of Maya, the body and the mind of the devotee become pure (pious) and Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in his mind. Waheguru's Naam is the only destroyer of Maya which can be acquired only in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: The human mind does not become stable (without connecting with Waheguru) and goes through many, many life forms over many eons. Waheguru has created the world as a drama, and it is His Will (Huqam) that the living beings go through many life forms. When He wishes, He becomes kind to some (His devotees) who are connected with the Guru, whereby the mind stays absorbed in Waheguru and becomes stable (no more births and deaths). When the mind gets convinced in itself by getting connected with the Guru, it merges with Waheguru, then nothing dies or goes away, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Human body (life) is like a fort which is not easily accessible (available); one gets it when he is predestined by the kindness of Waheguru. Waheguru resides in the human body (even though He is hidden), and being present there, He enjoys all the tastes. He, Himself, is fully detached from the worldly attractions, is above the effects of Maya, and is like a yogi who has renounced the world. He does whatever He feels like, and those things shall happen which He wishes. A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, never suffers (the pain of) separation from Him. 13.

MEANING: The tongue, which sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, becomes holy. One connects with Waheguru through the Perfect Shabad of the Guru. Those devotees are highly fortunate whom Waheguru is kind to, and whom He makes sing His praise. Those devotees have beautiful minds who sing the praises of Waheguru. People come to worship them. But, the praise of Waheguru can be sung only by Waheguru's grace; and such devotees are honoured in His Court, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: The followers of their mind are misled by their misgivings, and are liars, deceitful, and are full of ego. They have doors of rock (impenetrable to the truth) in their fort-like bodies (mind), due to which they do not allow Reality (Waheguru's Naam) to penetrate their brains; the ignorant stay blind to reality and cannot see (feel) the presence of Waheguru in them. They cannot find (realize) Waheguru by any means. Even the people who wear religious garbs with the belief that they can connect with Him get exhausted and fail to realize Him, even if they wear many different garbs. The attractions of Maya are highly captivating, and the man searches for them in every direction to have his wishes fulfilled. But he does not realize that his high caste, or his status in society (his fame), does not accompany him in Waheguru's Court (has no significance there), and the money-loving person suffers discomfort (pain). Word Meaning: Sach(u) = eternal Waheguru. Tay = from; in His shelter. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Jaageh(i) = stay awake (alert). Suveh(i) = sleep (negligent). Poonn(u) = donors (of Waheguru's Naam). Praani = men. Puch(i) Mooyay = die (spiritually) in suffering. Ujaani = ignorant.

MEANING: Waheguru is eternal, and so is Gurbani. Waheguru can be recognized (realized) in the shelter of the Guru, where the devotee attains the high spiritual (blissful) state. Such a devotee stays awake (alert towards the attacks of Maya) and never sleeps (becomes unmindful); his life is spent in alertness. Such devotees relish the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam with the Advice of the Guru, and become donors of the Naam (motivate others). Nobody can realize Waheguru without the shelter of the Guru; the ignorant (followers of their mind) die spiritual death in suffering. 17.

The inaccessible and unfathomable Waheguru is praise-worthy (is awe-inspiring) and is everlasting. The awe-inspiring Waheguru is worry-free, and whatever He plans comes into being. Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is amazing (it connects with Him), but a rare devotee acquires it in the Guru's shelter. Waheguru's praise can be sung only when He bestows it on someone with His kindness. 1.

MEANING: One cannot find peace of mind without Waheguru; there is no other source from which one can find peace. No matter how much one longs for it, the peace of mind cannot be had without Waheguru's grace. The birth-death-birth cycle of those who have greed and evil thoughts in their mind because of their love for Maya, never comes to end, and they suffer badly because of their ego. But those who come to Satguru's shelter are not kept devoid of peace (and blissfulness). The Angel of death never calls them (puts a demand on them) for any inquiry (explanation), and they never suffer for any reason. Those, who come to Guru's shelter stay absorbed in Waheguru's Shabad (praise), and are salvaged, oh Nanak. 2.

Such a bard who keeps Waheguru in mind all the time, gets access to the Door and the Palace of the Lord (is connected with Him). With love for Waheguru's Naam, such a bard occupies the High Palace of Waheguru. The service of the bard to Waheguru is to recite His Naam all the time whereby Waheguru salvages him. 18.

NOTE: To understand the meaning of this holy Sloak, we need to rearrange it slightly as follows: Goojri jaat(i) guvaar(i); oh(u) koochujji, koolukhni purhur(i) chhoadi bhutaar(i). ----------
MEANING: The follower of his mind is like a member of the nomad clan, which is considered to be unrefined (it has no awareness of Waheguru) and is ignored by Waheguru, just like an uncivilized and ill-mannered wife is ditched by her husband. But she transforms into a high-clan lady (becomes respectable) when she ponders on Guru's Shabad and recites Waheguru's Naam all the time. She connects with Waheguru when she develops a respectful fear for Him in Guru's shelter. That individual recognizes (gets connected with) her husband (Waheguru) to whom He is kind. With respectful fear for Waheguru, the filth of her mind is washed away, and her body (and mind) becomes pure. By worshipping Waheguru, one's mind is enlightened, she acquires superior wisdom (pure thoughts), becomes virtuous, and her mind quits wavering. Such an individual lives in respectful fear (of God), stays in His fear, and performs all routine deeds in His fear. (With fear for Waheguru), The individual enjoys comfort in this world and is taken to the door of salvation in Waheguru's Court (merges with Him). With His fear in mind, one gets connected with the fearless Waheguru, when the soul of the devotee becomes one with the Supreme Soul. Only that human bride is noble who is liked by Waheguru with His kindness, oh Nanak. 1.

Gods like Shiva and Brahma served the Supreme Being, but never found His limits. The fearless Waheguru is invisible, but can be "seen" (realized) in the shelter of the Guru. The devotee, who gets connected with (realizes) Waheguru, suffers no grief or separation (from Him). (Being a part of Waheguru), he becomes immortal in the world. 19.

Puchhaarriun(u) = throw away violently; put to defeat. Jum Maarug(i) = on the path to the Angel of death. Mootay = left. Bil- laaniyaan = those who cry in pain. Ghor(i) = extreme; deep. Sootay =lie down; put in. Kuntth(i) = neck. Sutay = eternal.

MEANING: Waheguru (spiritually) destroys the vilifiers of His saints in a moment (right away), and does not let them enjoy peace even for a single moment. Waheguru cannot tolerate the trouble His devotees face and punishes the vilifiers in many lives. God throws them violently on the ground, holding them by the hair (punishes them), and puts them on the path leading to the Angel of death (reincarnation). They suffer in the extreme hellish conditions where they are put in. The eternal Waheguru protects His devotees by holding them to His neck (hugging them with affection), oh Nanak. 20.

Word Meaning: Vudbhaagihou = highly fortunate. Poorun = fully present; pervading. Bighun = impediment.

MEANING: You will be highly lucky to recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is pervading the waters and the land, oh my friends. One faces no obstacle (in the path of union with Waheguru) if he recites Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:5॥ ਕੋਟਿ ਬਿਘਨ ਤਿਸੁ ਲਾਗਤੇ ਜਿਸ ਨੋ ਵਿਸਰੈ ਨਾਉ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਅਨਦਿਨੁ ਬਿਲਪਤੇ ਜਿਉ ਸੁੰਞੈ ਘਰਿ ਕਾਉ॥ 2

M:5: Koat(i) bighun tis(u) laagtay jis nu vissraiy Naaoun. Nanak, undin(u) bilptay, jiyoun soonjaiy ghur(i) kaaoun. 2.

Word Meaning: Koat(i) = millions. Vissraiy = foget. Bilptay = cry in pain and for help. Soonjaiy = deserted. Kaaoun = crow.

MEANING: One faces millions of impediments in the journey of life if he forgets Waheguru's Naam. They cry in discomfort (and complain) like a crow in a deserted house (where he finds nothing to eat), oh Nanak. 2.

NOTE: The same Sloak is given with Paurri 15.

Word Meaning: Simer(i) = reciting (Naam). Munoruth Pooriya = objective is achieved. Ichh Poonni = wish fulfilled. Visooriya = worries. Ghaalda = working hard. Sehj = peaceful state. Aanund = blissfulness. Vootthay = come to reside. Ikk(u) = One (Waheguru). Drishtaaya = appear. Smaaya = merged.

MEANING: All objectives are achieved successfully by reciting Waheguru's Naam. All one's wishes and his hopes are fulfilled, and all his worries disappear. One acquires the treasure of Naam, which he has been looking for. His soul merges with Waheguru's Soul for which he had been working so hard to achieve. Comfort, peace, and blissfulness come to stay in his heart, and his birth and death cycle come to an end. The Lord and the devotee become "one", and they appear to be one. With Guru's benevolence, the devotee gets absorbed in the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 21.1.2. Verified.

Keht Kabir, Ram Naam bin(u) moond dhoonay puchhtuyyee haiy. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sing = horns. Goong = mute. Thaynga = (hit with a) stick. Moond = head. 1. Baiyl = oxen. Biraanay = belonging to others; subservient. Naakun = nostrils. Kaandhun = shoulders; neck. Kodou = millet. Bhoos(u) = shreaded stubble. Pause.

Doalut = walk while staggering (weakly). Bun = jungle, meadow. Aj-houn = still. Aghuyee = full stomach. Keeoo Apno = the result of the deeds done. 2. Muhaa Bherm = big journey (of rebirths). Boodou = drown; lost. Bhermuyee = travel; go through. Aousar(u) = opportunity. Kut = when. 3.
Bhermut = wandering aimlessly. Tayluk = a machine to extract oils from seeds, which was run by oxen. Kup(i) = monkey (which has to dance as a slave of his master who catches him with a trap which has a bait of roasted chick peas. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Raiyn = night (of life). Moond Dhoonay = with drooped head. 4.
MEANING: (Without Waheguru's Naam, the man will be reborn as an animal, like an ox). As an ox, he will be a slave to others (his human masters) with his nostrils pierced for harness, and with his neck worn out because of the hard workload - for example, ploughing. And he will get only shredded millet stubble to eat. Pause. So, how will he sing Waheguru's praise when he will have four feet (as an animal), two horns, and be a mute (not able to speak)? Where will he hide his head when he is hit with a stick, whether he is standing or sitting? 1. He will be wandering with a stagger in the meadow all day, but his stomach will still not be full. Because he does not listen to the advice of the holy men, he will have to bear the fruit of his done deeds. 2. Enduring discomforts and some comforts in life, the man gets drowned in the sea of huge misgivings and suffers through countless life forms. He wastes away his priceless human life by ignoring the Lord, who knows when he will get this opportunity (human life) again (to worship God). 3.
He spends his whole life without any spiritual gain, like an ox of the oil-extracting machine (which runs in never-ending circles), or like a monkey who has to dance without any reward every day for his master who caught him using a bait of roasted chick peas. Without the Lord's Naam, he has to repent with his head drooped, oh Kabir. 4.1.

Humra, in ka, daata Aik(u) Rughuraayee. 4.2.
Word Meaning: Moos(i), Moos(i) Rovaiy = sobs; snivels Rughuraayee = God. 1. Tun-naa = weaving. Boon-na = knitting. Tujiyo = has given up. Pause.
Baahoun = put through. Bayhee = a wooden pipe used in weaving. Snayhee = dear.
Oachhi Mut(i) = poor (low) wisdom. Joolaaha = weaver. Luhhiyo Laaha = acquired benefit. 2 & 3.
NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib describes his mother's concern about his living situation.
MEANING: (Expressing her concern about my financial situation), my mother sobs and complains to God about how her son, Kabir, will survive in his present lifestyle. 1. Kabir has quit his family business of weaving and knitting, and has written God's Naam on his body (just stays imbued in His Naam, and does nothing else). Pause. (Kabir Sahib responds): for as long as I put the thread through the wooden pipe (to weave), I forget my dear Ram (God) (which I do not want to). 2. I have low wisdom, and on top of that,

I have a low caste of weavers. But I have earned Waheguru's Naam as a benefit (as my asset). 3. Kabir says: My Lord is the provider for me and for my family, oh my mother.4.2

Doojaiy paathur dhuriyaiy paaoun. Jay oh(u) dayva, ta oh(u) bhee dayva. Keh(i) Namdeo, hum Hur(i) kee sayva. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Juou = if. Budaayee = honour; exaltation. 1. Pud(u) Nirbaan = spiritual state above the effecs of Maya. Aavun Jaan = birth and death; reincarnation. Pause. Taiyn = You (Waheguru). Bherm Bhoolaayee = misguided in doubts. Boojhaayee = wisdom. 2. Sehsa = worries. Huoun = I, me. 3. Paathur = stone; idol. Bhaaou = love; respect. Dayva = god. 4.

MEANING: It will be no exaltation for me if the Lord bestows the reign of a state on me; and by the same token, it will not be any degradation if He makes me beg for living. 1.
Recite the Naam of the Lord so as to achieve the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, as a result of which you will not be born again, and again, oh my mind. Pause.
The whole world, which has been created by You, is misled in misgivings; but those who understand the reality whom You enlighten, oh my Lord. 2. All doubts and worries of the man get cleared when he gets connected with Satguru, and I do not see any other power (than the Lord) whom I may worship. 3. People worship one rock (an idol), but step on the other. (By logic) if the first rock is a god, the other should also be the god! (So, why should the first be worshipped? However, I simply serve the Lord, oh Naamdayo. 4.1.

Jiyoun aakaashaiy ghurroolo mirg trishna bhuriya. Naamay chay Soami, Beetthlo, Jin(i) teenaiy juriya. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Mulaiy = filth (of vices). Laanchhaiy = stain; scar. Paarmulo = beyond any filth. Permleeyo = source of fragrances. Baittho = sitting; present. Baayee = sister; friend. Aavut = taking birth. Paykhio = see. 1.
Ramuyeeya = beautiful Waheguru. Aakool(u) = present everywhere. Pause. Punkhiulo = birds. Khoaj(u) = feet; foot steps; path of flight. Nirkhiyo Na = cannot be seen. Maajhaiy = in the middle. Maachhlo = fish. 2. Ghurroolo = a water container. Mirg Trishna = mirage. Beetthlo = God. Teenaiy = the three effects of Maya. Juriya = destroyed.
MEANING: The Lord has no stain of any filth as He is beyond any filth (of thoughts or of immoral actions), and He is present hidden like fragrance in the flowers. Nobody has ever seen Him taking birth, so how can anyone know what He is like? 1. Who can describe Him, and who can comprehend the Lord who is omnipresent, oh my friend? Pause.
Like the path of a bird flying in the sky, and that of a fish swimming in water, cannot be seen (as they leave no sign behind), the Lord is invisible in nature. 2.
Like a pitcher of water in the sky - a mirage - where water appears to be present in the sky to a deer which runs after it, but can never find it, (the gimmicks of Maya are captivating and are like a mirage; the man runs behind them to achieve happiness, but he never finds them because Maya (wealth) is treacherous and can leave one any time causing much grief). But my Lord is such that He has burned all the three effects of Maya (is above the gimmicks of Maya), oh Namay (Naam Dev). 3.2.

Gur persad(i) Nirunjun(u) paavoun. 4. Pooja urcha, aah(i) na Toari. Keh Ravidas kuvun gut(i) moari. 5.1.
Word Meaning: Buchhraiy = calf. Thunou = from the udder. Bitaariyo = befouled (rendered unfit by sucking first). Bhunvur(u) = bumble bee. Meen = fish. Bigaariyo = ruined. Pooj = the ingredients for ritualistic worship. Churravoun = offer. Anoop = (Waheguru) with unparalled beauty. 1. Maiylagur = the agar (sandal) trees which grow on the Mullyay mountain (sandal wood is also an ingredient for idol worship). Bayhray = wrapped around. Bhooyunga = snakes. Bikh(u) = poison. Amrit = the mythical water which makes the consumers immortal; something delicious or pleasant in life (like sandal wood). (Thus, the amrit of sandal wood is laced with the poison of snakes). Ikk Sunga = together. 2. Dhoop = incense. Deep = lamp. Nuyeebayda = sweets offered to the idol. Baasa = stale. Daasa = slave. 3. Urpoun = offer. Nirunjun = God (which is above the effects of Maya). 4. Urcha = bowing to the idol or decorating it. Aah(i) Na = could not do. Toari = Yours. 5.

NOTE: Hindus worship their idols first, washing them with milk, and then offering them milk, flowers, sandalwood, incense, earthen lamps, and sweets. But Ravidass Ji maintains that none of these ingredients is pure for one reason or another, and as a result, such worship is not acceptable to the Lord.

MEANING: The milk to be offered to the idol is not pure, as it has already been befouled by the calf when he sucks it from the udder. Similarly, the bumblebee befouls the flowers, and the fish, the water. 1. Where should I get the pure ingredients to worship my Lord, oh my mother? I cannot find untouched flowers, so how can I please (realize) my Lord with unparalleled beauty? Pause. Similarly, the sandal trees growing on the Mullyay mountain are wrapped around by the snakes; thus, the pleasant amrit of the sandalwood and the poison of the snakes are present together; so how can I get pure sandalwood? 2. Also, the incense, the lamps and the sweets prepared for the idol are stale and not fresh. So, how can I, the slave of the Lord, worship Him? 3. (If His worship does require such pure ingredients as mentioned), my worship for Him cannot be accepted. (So, I feel highly dejected) thinking what my spiritual condition might be, oh Ravidass? 5.1.

Word Meaning: Untar(i) = inside. Mul(i) = filth. Nirmul = pure. Bhaykh = garb. Oodaasi = one who has renounced the world. = Sanyasi. Hirdaiy Kumul = lotus like heart = Ghut(i). Braham = God. Cheena = recognized; realized. 1.

Bhemaiy Bhooli = misled in misgivings. Jai Chanda = a common name used for the man. Permanunda = source of supreme bliss (God). Pause. Pind(u) = body; belly. Khintha = a small quilt that the yogis wear. Moonda = big glass earrings that the yogi wears. Bhoom(i) Musaan = the ground of graveyards. Bhusm = ash. Tut(u) = the reality; the origin; Lord. 2. Jup-hou = recitation of some mantra. Tup-hou = torture self (to please some god). Bulovhou = churn. Lukh Chaureeseeh = the 8.4 million life forms (a Hindu belief). Nirbaani = unaffected by Maya. 3. Kmundul = a small bucket to collect milk etc. Kaapurria = those who wear a quilt of rags (to show a false detachment from Maya). Utth-sutth(i) = the 68 holy places of the Hindus. Phirrahi = travel; pilgrimage. Budut(i) = says. Kun = the grain inside the husk of the cereal crops. Gaah(i) = a process to thresh cereal crops. 4.

MEANING: Some people claim to be Sanyasis, but they do not recognize the presence of the Lord in their lotus-like hearts. They do put on the garb of the Sanyasis to look holy, but do not purify (wash the filth of) their mind. 1. The man is completely misled in misgivings and never recognizes the Lord, who is the source of supreme bliss. Pause. He begs for and eats food from every household, and enlarges his body (belly). He wears the symbols - a small quilt, glass earrings, and a coating of ash from the graveyards - of his Yogi sect to look religious. But, in reality, they are just covers to hide his attachment to Maya. However, he cannot attain a high spiritual state without taking shelter of the Guru. 2. What do you achieve by reciting ritualistic mantras or by torturing yourself, oh man? All such efforts are like churning water (without any gain)? The real power to worship is the Lord who has created the whole universe, and who is totally detached from Maya. 3. What are you carrying a small bucket and wearing a quilt made of rags for? Also, why would you go on pilgrimage of the 68 holy places? ((They are all worthless for spirituality) because all these acts are akin to threshing a cereal crop which has no grain in its husk, oh Tirloachun. 4. 1.

Word Meaning: Unt(i) Kaal(i) = at the time of death. Lashmi = Maya; wealth. Simeraiy = remembers. Chinta = thoughts. Joan(i) = life form. Vul(i) Vul(i) = again, and again. 1. Uree Baayee = oh, sister. Beesraiy = forgotton. Pause.
Istree = woman; wife. Aoutraiy = is born. 2. Sookur = pig. 3. Mundar = mansion; house. Prayt = ghost. 4. Narrayin = God. Budut(i) = says. Nur = man. Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya. Peetumbar(u) = God (a name for Krishna). 5.

NOTE: Using Hindu beliefs (which are not supported by Guru Granth Sahib), Tirloachun Ji advises the man to remember God all the time to find salvation. It is not important for Trilochan Ji what lifeform the man takes after death. The only message Tirloachun Ji wants to deliver is that the man cannot break the cycle of rebirths without seeking the shelter of God.

MEANING: A man, who remembers (thinks of) Maya near the time of his death, and dies in those thoughts, is born as a snake again, and again. 1. One should never forget the Lord's Naam, oh my friend. Pause. A man who remembers and dies remembering his wife near the time of his death is born as a prostitute again and again. 2. Likewise, a man who dies remembering his sons is born as a pig again and again. 3.

A man who thinks of his house close to his death, and dies in those thoughts, is born as a ghost again, and again. 4. But a man who remembers the Lord near his death and dies in His thoughts becomes free from the bonds of Maya, and the Lord takes residence in his heart, oh Tirloachun. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Permaad(i) = Perm + Aad(i). Perm= highest. Aad(i) = the root of everything. Purakh = the Supreme Bing; omnipresent. Munopimun(g) = Mun+ Anopimun(g). Anopimun(g) = has no equal. Kritun(g) = performing. Bhuv = present. Bhoot = past. Bhaav = future. Sumbiyun(u) = Su(n) + Abhiyun(g) . Su(n) = completely. Abhiyun(g) = non-perishable. Persunnmidun(g) = Pesunun(g) + idun(g). Persunun(g) = is happy; blissful. Idun(g) = this (God). 2. Per Grehun(g) = others' house or property. Judibidh(i) = Jud + abidh(i). Jud = which. Abidh(i) = against morality. Aachurnun(g) = character. MEANING: The Supreme Being Lord is the highest (transcendent) of all in the universe, is the origin of everything, is present in all, has all the virtues in Him, and none else is like Him. The Lord is mind-captivating, far beyond Maya, incomprehensible, and omnipresent. 1. One should recite only the Naam of the most attractive Lord, who is the source of Amrit, has real existence, and by whose worship one is not punished in the birth-death cycle (the cycle is broken), and the fear of death, and no worries come even near the devotee. Pause. If you wish to defeat the Angel of death, and wish praise and comfort for you, then start performing noble deeds, and worship the Lord which was there in the past, is here now, will be there in the future, and which is supreme, is always blissful, and is completely indestructible. 2. In addition, quit all the vices like greed, keeping an evil eye on the belongings of others, and all other ignoble deeds because they are contradictory to the high moral character of a noble man. Overcome (get rid of) your evil thoughts, and come to the shelter of the Lord, which is capable of punishing the evil. 3. The dear devotees of the Lord are pure by their mind, deeds, and by their words. They have nothing to do with the path of the yogis, yugs, self-affliction, and with donations to the Brahmans, as they find them totally worthless in the path of spirituality. Their only deed is to worship the Lord. 4. Worship only the Lord, and recite His Naam only. He is the source of all supernatural powers and is present now and was present in the past. I have forsaken the support of all other gods or deities and have come to the shelter of the Lord, oh Jai Dev. 5.1.

Even though I used to follow my mind before, and I had very low intelligence, my dear Waheguru liked me, and now I have a beautiful and pure soul and have been absorbed in Him with my heart overflowing with my love for Him. 1. All human beings are the friends of the same dear Husband (Waheguru), but only that human bride will be good (worthy) and noble who is liked and approved by Him. Visibly, I have a label of a religious person (my attire is religious), but I am a savage inside, and bear enmity with others for no good reason. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter; please protect me in whatever way You please, oh Waheguru. 2.5.

One should recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, whereby his mind will be enlightened with His benevolence. Pause. It is only Waheguru which is present in everybody's heart and outside. Waheguru is omnipresent and is visible everywhere (in the form of His nature). 1. Countless of Your servants (devotees), and the hermits sing Your praise, but they cannot find Your limits anywhere, oh Waheguru.

The Lord is the source of all comforts and is the destroyer of all ills (troubles); I wish to offer my life to Him all the time, oh Nanak. 2.1.

Joy and the enjoyment of sensual pleasures are thriving somewhere, while people are grief-stricken at some other places; nobody knows when they will laugh or cry. Somewhere, people are full of filth of conceit, and somewhere else, people are washing away the filth of their immoral deeds in the shelter of the Guru. 1. Nobody can obliterate the creation of Waheguru; no such power exists anywhere else. I am a sacrifice to the Guru by whose benevolence, we can enjoy our sleep (spend the night of life) in comfort, oh Nanak. 2.2.

do not be forgotten from my heart, even for a small moment, oh dear Waheguru; I will be (spiritually) dead if I forget you. 1. My omnipresent Waheguru is the source of all comforts, and He tolerates (forgives) my extreme ignorance. I have no virtue, am ugly (have bad qualities), and do not belong to a noble clan, but my Lord-Husband is always blissful, oh Nanak. 2.3.

When one sings Waheguru's praise, he comes to realize the principle of nature that, no matter where a living being is born, it never lives forever, and eventually it is absorbed into the same Power (Waheguru) that created it. 1. When Waheguru becomes kind to someone, all his worries and worldly fears are destroyed, and all comforts come to reside (take root) in his heart. When I came to the shelter of the Guru, all my greed vanished, and all my objectives were achieved, oh Nanak. 2.4.

Word Meaning: Jaan = recognize; make a connection. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Pause. Kaahay Ray = what for? Bhermut = misled; wander around in search. Ruvviya Serb Thaan = is present everywhere; omnipresent. 1. Baiysuntur(u) = fire. Kaasht = wood. Mujhaar(i) = inside. Sunjum = right approach; plan. Bin(u) = without. Kaaruj Saar(i) = complete the task successfully. Tuj(i) = give up; get rid of. Abhimaan = ego. Perm Nidhaan = supreme treasures (Waheguru). 2.
MEANING: Recognize (make connection with) the one and the only Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, oh my friend. Pause. What are you wandering on the earth for, oh my friend? Quit wandering to search for Him outside because Waheguru is present everywhere. 1. However, Waheguru is invisible, just like fire is present in the wood invisibly. Just as you have to use a technique to generate fire from wood, you also need the right approach to complete your task (of realizing Waheguru) successfully. The technique is to take shelter of the Guru, without which you will not be able to reach Waheguru's Door (get connected with Him). Abandon your ego in the shelter of the Guru, and you will be able to acquire the supreme treasure of union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.1.34

MEANING: Waheguru's transcendence cannot be known. Pause.
What smartness can I use to show (describe) Him? Those who try to describe Him get simply wonderstruck beyond description. 1. Be it the assistants of the gods, the Sidh yogis, the followers of the Yogic path, godlike humans, gods, Brahma or like Him, or those who recite all the four Vedas day and night, all find Waheguru to be completely inaccessible and unfathomable. Waheguru has countless virtues, and countless people try to describe Him, but are unable to do so because Waheguru is limitless, oh Nanak. 2.2.35

MEANING: There is no worldly fear, and it is all comfort, blissfulness, and enjoyment when one worships the Creator and sings His praise. He alone is there in countless different forms; keep Him in mind all the time, oh my friend. Pause. The holy sight of the Guru is richly rewarding, and I revere (obey) Him. He is always there with me, wherever I look for Him. His lotus-like holy Feet (His Amrit Naam) is the basis of my life. 1. My Waheguru is capable of doing anything; He is unfathomable, and extremely large. He is always close by as He is present in every heart. There is no limit to the size of my Lord; I have sought His shelter, and He is my support everywhere, oh Nanak. 2.3.36.

Word Meaning: Oolti = turn away; break up. Saakut = the worshipper of Maya (wealth). Jhootth(u) = deceitful; unreliable. Chhootki = is broken Sung(i) Na = have no association. Chhootki Ray = break a friendship. Pause Kaajur = kohl. Mundar(u) = palace; room. Paisay = enters; comes in contact. Kaalookhi = blackened. Tirkooti = the three effects of Maya. 1. Kirpanidh(i) = the treasure (source) of benevolence. Jootsi = associates. Moond = head. Pugaan = feet. Roolsi = lies humbly. 2.
MEANING: Break friendship with a wealth-loving individual, oh my mind. The affection (friendship) of an unreliable (deceitful) person is also unreliable. It does not last long and eventually gets terminated, oh my mind. So, do not have any association with a money-lover; break the friendship with him. Pause. Just as a man gets blackened when he enters a room full of kohl, a wealth-loving man gets his face blackened in Waheguru's Court. A devotee, who has overcome the three effects of Maya in the shelter of the Guru, runs away from a wealth-lover, even from a distance. 1. I beg a donation from my kind Waheguru, which is a source of benevolence that I should never have to associate (deal) with a Maya-loving individual. I wish to be a slave of Waheguru's slaves, and that my humble head should drop at the feet of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.4.37.

My Lord has no sensual desire; He is always delighted in the blissful state (has no worries); He is highly compassionate; He is the only power in the universe and appears in countless forms, and has a unique dwelling (He is omnipresent). 1. He is the (source of) life of the whole world; is the Lord of all; has countless names; and all supernatural powers and all treasures stay on the palms of His hands. Please have pity and mercy on me (Nanak), and be kind to me; I survive only by listening to Your praise, oh Waheguru. 2.1.38.6.44

Under the intoxication of Maya, the man goes insane and does not sing Waheguru's praise. He swindles the world by deceitful ways to fill his own stomach. 1. Like the tail of the dog, which does not straighten out, my mind is also twisted and does not listen to any good advice. As soon as the soul leaves his body, everybody calls him dead, and they take him out of the house, not keeping him inside even for half a moment. 1. MEANING: I have found that the love and affection in this world are false (based on selfishness). Everybody, whether it is one's wife or friends, is looking for their own comfort. Pause. Everybody claims that the things belong to them, and the love in their mind is based on their attachment to them. Mithun = false. Mohuriya = attachments. Un Kuou = which belongs to others. Ghoomun Ghiriya = whirlpool. 2. Butriya = travellers; visitors. Birkh Ikutriya = gather on a tree. Bundhun = bonds; obligations. 3. Thir(u) = stable; immortal. Sufriya = journey of life. Huriya = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: Those who enjoy the company (uses) of the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachments, and ego), are (spiritually and morally) risking themselves because it is like residing with snakes (which can bite them any time). Countless lives have been destroyed in such enjoyments. 1. Leaning about such frightening results, I began to recite Waheguru's Naam whereby I attained the comfort of the state of blissfulness. Pause. I realized that worldly attachments are false (temporary), and the man begins to claim ownership of things and relations which are not really his (they are either temporary or do not belong to him). With such false attachments, one gets into a whirlpool of thoughts where one cannot make the right choices, and cannot come out. 2. We do not realize that all of us are just visitors here in this world, where we are not going to stay forever; or we are like birds which get together on a tree only to spend the night and have no relationship to each other (they all go in different directions at daybreak). Knowing all this, the man still forms strong bonds with the world. 3. Journey of life in the shelter of the Guru, where Waheguru's praise is sung, is the only way to make a permanent connection with Waheguru (and become immortal). So, I have come to the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.

MEANING: Nobody can know the transcendental state of Waheguru; the Yogis, the celibate, the people who torture themselves to please their deity, and many otherwise wise people have exhausted in their efforts, but have failed badly in their mission. Pause.
Waheguru can turn a pauper into a ruler, and a ruler into a pauper in a moment. He can fill empty treasures and drain them completely to emptiness in a moment. 1.
He has disseminated His own Maya throughout the world, and looks after it (the world). He takes countless forms of diverse kinds but remains detached from the world and Maya. 2. NOTE: Ram is the most used name for Waheguru.

Word Meaning: Jindurriyay = oh my soul (mind). Amoalay = invaluable. Rus(i) = sweet taste. Beedha = pierced; stitched. Jhukoalay = churn; taking a dip again, and again. Tthehraayiyaiy = stabilize. Anut = somewhere else. Doaly = weakens; wavers. Chindurriya = as wished, Ful(u) = reward. Bani = words of praise. 1. Vootthrra = rained. Amrit Baiyn = life-sustaining words of praise. MEANING: Recite Waheguru's invaluable Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my soul (mind). Waheguru is very dear to me, and my mind has been pierced with His sweet Naam. My mind is taking dips again, and again in the pool of His sweet Naam-Amrit. The wavering mind can be stabilized with the Guru's Advice when it quits wandering. By reciting sweet Shabads in Waheguru's praise, one receives the rewards of his wishes (choice), oh Nanak. 1. When a devotee sings praise of Waheguru with Guru's Amrit-like Shabads, Waheguru's Naam-Amrit begins to rain (drop) in his mind, oh my soul. The Shabads of the Bhagats (Waheguru's supreme devotees) in praise of Waheguru are like Amrit, and by pondering on them, the devotee gets his mind concentrated on Waheguru's Naam. With love and reverence for Waheguru, the long-separated devotee is connected with Him, who "hugs" him with love and kindness. My mind is feeling blissful, and I feel as if Divine Music is playing in it, oh Nanak. 2.

Rush to the shelter of Waheguru, oh my mind; but some rare and highly fortunate person recites Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.
My mind has been enlightened by the Guru's Advice; so be kind and come to meet with me (connect me with You), oh kind Waheguru. I am as sad without my Waheguru as a lotus flower which feels depressed (withers) without water. The Perfect Guru has connected me with my Waheguru-friend, oh my soul. My Guru is great and worthy of worship, who has connected me with Waheguru; my heart blooms when I recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Bikh(u) = poison. Leh Jaayay = comes off; gets removed. Sooka = dried up (close to spiritual death). Huriya Hoya = became green; came back to life. LIkh(i) Paaya = written by Waheguru (as per His Will). 1. Sayti = with. Baydhiya = pierced. Kheera = milk. Shaant(i) = peace of mind. Chaatrik = rainbird, a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain, and that too only when the Swanti planet is visible in the sky. Tayray = cries for it; calls for. Vaajay = play music. Ghunayray = very much; continuous.2.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit which can be acquired only with Guru's Advice, oh my soul (mind). Attractions of Maya and haumein are like poison which comes off (is removed) by Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, oh my mind. When one recites Waheguru's Naam, his spiritually dead mind comes back to life. A devotee, who has good fortune prewritten for Him by Waheguru, acquires His Naam (embeds it in his mind) and merges into Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Like a child, which gets fully absorbed in the enjoyment of milk when he is given that, my mind has been pierced with love for Waheguru, which I am enjoying. Like the rainbird which does not get peace of mind (satisfaction) without the first rain drop and cries for it, my mind does not find peace without connecting with Waheguru. Take the shelter of the Guru who explains the virtues of Waheguru (sings His praise), oh my mind. The Guru has connected me with God, and I feel as if continuous Divine Music is playing in my mind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vichhurray = disconnected; separated. Baandhay = trapped in. Jaal = net. Punkhi = bird. Kupoat(i) = pigeon. Bunahiya = got trapped. Vus(i) = prisoners Kaalay = (spiritual) death. Moh = attachment. Moorr = foolish. Bitaalay = out of step in the music (pace) of life. Traah(i) = cries for help; save me; save me. Shernaagti = has sought shelter. Rukhvaalay = saviour. 3. Oobray = salvaged. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Poat(u) = ship; boat. Khayvut = boat man. Turaaya = ferried across. Meetth = sweet. 4.

MEANING: The followers of their mind (the money-loving people) are disconnected from Waheguru because of their ego and selfishness, which are forms of Maya, and which trap them in their net. Just as a pigeon allows itself to be trapped because of its greed for the bait, the followers of their minds are prisoners of spiritual death. Those, whose mind gets attached to Maya, are foolish and out of step with the rhythm of life (they do not follow the right path). Crying for help, Waheguru's devotees take Guru's shelter (surrender their mind to Him) while the Guru, Waheguru, protects them, oh Nanak. 3.
The devotees, who have good fortune prewritten for them from the beginning by Waheguru, get salvaged by meditating on Waheguru's Naam with devotion and by enshrining it in their heart, oh my soul. Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad) is the ship, and the Guru is the boatman (captain) which ferries the devotees across the world sea. The omnipresent Waheguru is very kind, and the Guru, Satguru, makes Him feel very sweet (with His Shabad). I, Nanak, am Your slave, and am worshipping You (reciting Your Naam); please listen to my prayer (and connect me with You), oh Waheguru. 4.2.

Moogudh = foolish. Ootaaray = Nistaaray = salvages. 1 Punchay = the five (demons). Vusgut(i) = under control. Nuvnidh(i) = all the nine mythical treasures. Alukh(u) = invisible; incomprehensible. Lukhaayay = showed. Aasaan = hopes. Munsaan = wishes. Pooriyaan = fulfilled. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. 2.

MEANING: Singing Waheguru's praise is the best labour in the world; implant it (Waheguru's praise) in your mind, oh my soul. Waheguru's Naam is highly purifying, and one finds salvation with it, oh, my soul. All discomforts (problems) due to one's sins are eliminated, and he is ferried across the world sea (is salvaged). The highly fortunate people recite Waheguru's Naam, which salvages even the foolish and the stupid people like me, oh Nanak. 1. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam are able to control all five demons (lust, greed, etc.), oh my soul. With the treasure of Waheguru's Naam in the devotee's heart, the Guru, Satguru, shows him the invisible Waheguru. The Guru fulfils all the hopes and wishes of the devotee, and the latter becomes fully contented upon connecting with Waheguru. The devotee, who has the acquirement of Waheguru's Naam in his fortune prewritten on his forehead by Waheguru, sings His praise, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: We are sinners and fraudsters who deceive people for the sake of money (self-interests), oh my soul. But the fortunate people take the shelter of the Guru who is fully knowledgeable about the transcendence and the limits of Waheguru. The Guru injects (implants) Waheguru's Amrit-Naam on the tongue of the Sikh (he begins to sing Waheguru's praise), which infuses new life in the spiritually-dead individual. The Satgur destroys all the discomforts (problems) of those lucky people who take refuge in His shelter, oh Nanak. 3.
Waheguru's Naam is a highly mind-purifying recitation that eradicates all the sins, oh my soul. The Guru transforms the immoral into highly pious people who are recognized (and whose fame spreads) in all the four directions and in all the four eons. By taking a dip in the pool of Amrit-Naam of Waheguru (reciting His Naam with devotion), all the filth of selfishness and ego of the devotee is washed away. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter get fully absorbed in the Naam and are salvaged, oh Nanak. 1.

Everybody should come to Guru's shelter who reinforces Waheguru's Naam in the heart of His devotees, oh my soul. Never show laxity of even a moment in worshipping Waheguru; who knows whether you will live till the next breath or not. All those moments are rewarding when Waheguru comes to your mind, oh my soul. MEANING: All the living beings are Yours, and You operate in all of them; You know full well what the living beings have in their mind, oh Waheguru. Waheguru is always with us inside and outside; He watches us all the time, but we deny (ignore His presence in us) (and keep doing bad things). The money-lover individual thinks Waheguru to be somewhere far away, as a result of which, all his hard labour (to prove his false religiosity) goes to waste (finds no support in Waheguru's Court). One should worship Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru whereby he "sees" Waheguru present everywhere, oh Nanak. 1. created by Waheguru who has created the world. He lets some people enter His Residence (merge with Him) by connecting them with Satguru, while the others are misled in their lives by misgivings. Only You know Your limits, and You are present in every heart, oh my Waheguru. Listen to the fact, oh holy saints, whatever God does is based on high morality and justice, oh Nanak. 1.

Serbay = in everybody. Pergut(u) = appeared. Amioun = Amrit. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Choya = squeezed. 4.

MEANING: Let us get together and worship the immortal Waheguru with folded hands, oh holy men. The man searches for Waheguru by worshipping Him in many different ways prevalent in society (but cannot realize Him); the only way to realize Him is to offer your mind and body in His service. (But the man still cannot take any pride or credit for that) because even the human body and his mind belong to Waheguru (are given by Him). So, what should one offer to Waheguru in worship? Only that individual can merge into Waheguru to whom the Lord is kind. The individual, who has good fortune on his forehead, develops love for the Guru. It is only in the company of the Guru (holy congregation) that one can recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.

I searched for Waheguru in all ten directions (but could not find him), finally I found Him in my own heart, oh my dear Lord. Waheguru has created the human body as a dwelling for Him, where He lives in hiding. Although the Lord lives hidden in every heart, He is revealed only by the Guru's grace. When Waheguru appears in somebody's heart, the life-sustaining sweet-Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) is squeezed in his mouth (on his tongue); the darkness of his ignorance is dispelled, and all his problems disappear. Such a devotee finds Waheguru to be present everywhere no matter what direction he looks in. When one gets connected with Satguru, he finds Waheguru in his own heart, oh Nanak. 4.1.

My dear Waheguru is very handsome (attractive), is the provider for the whole earth, is beyond limits, and everybody sings His praise. Please, connect me - Your humble devotee - with You, oh the provider for the earth, kind, and dear Lord. My eyes yearn for Your holy sight, and my night is spent sleeplessly. My whole body is adorned with the kohl of Divine Knowledge and with Your Naam as my food, oh Waheguru. I drop at the feet of the holy saints and beg them to connect me with the Lord, oh Nanak. 1.

I get millions of complaints every day (for lack of virtues, and for my bad deeds) about myself, as long as I do not connect with Waheguru. I have tried many different ways to connect with the Lord, but nothing has worked. My capricious mind always hatches plans to earn more wealth, which do not even last, but at the same time, it finds no peace without my Waheguru. There is no life without my Waheguru-Husband, and all eating, drinking, and adornments are tasteless (useless) without Him. I am thirsty for a glimpse of my Lord, and wish day and night for union with Him; I cannot live without Him even for a short moment. I am a slave (devotee) of the saints, and would drop on their feet begging for their kindness to connect me with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

How can I be invited inside His Palace when I have countless ignoble (immoral) qualities? I am without any virtue, enjoy no respect, and am an orphan (without any spiritual guide), but You are a treasure of mercy, oh Waheguru. I pray to You to connect me with You. One's wall of misgivings is demolished, he enjoys a blissful sleep (life), and feels as if he has acquired all the nine mythical treasures of the world when he is able to have even a very short glimpse of Waheguru's holy sight. When Waheguru appears in a devotee's heart, he gets united with Him and feels as if all his senses have joined to sing songs of joy. I take the shelter of the holy saints, and touch their feet, begging them to show me Waheguru's holy sight, oh Nanak. 3. You are omnipotent, indescribable, beyond limits, and omnipresent; my body, my mind, and my wealth are all given by You, oh God. I am unwise, foolish, without any support, have a capricious mind, am powerless, ignoble, and ignorant; I am in Your shelter and pray to You that save my (Nanak's) honour (protect from sensual attacks), oh Waheguru. 1.
Put me in the shelter of the holy saints so that I may sing Your praise all the time, oh Waheguru. May the dust of their feet cover my body and mind (it is just an expression of love and reverence for their words of advice), which purifies the immoral minds, oh Waheguru.

Immoral people become pure and pious in the company of those holy men who have realized Waheguru. They are always imbued with Waheguru's Naam and infuse devotees' minds with spirituality, which multiplies every day. Those who conquer their mind by reciting Waheguru's Naam feel as if they have acquired supernatural powers and the nine treasures of the world. But it is only by good fortune that one connects with the Guru, who is a great friend, oh Nanak. 2.

Binvunt(i) Nanak Hur(i) Kunt miliya, sudaa kayl krunda. 4.1.4.

Word Meaning: Naar = wife. Soohaagnay = is married; is loved. Raand Na Baiysyee = does not become a widow. Chiraanay = for a long time (for ever). Kilvikh = sins. Khoveh(i) = loses; gets rid of. Rung(i) = in love. Jaagiya = is enlightened; stays alert. Gehna = ornament. Buchun = words. Bhaanay = are liked. Purakh = Lord. 3. Tit(u) = that. Greh(i) = in the heart. Sohilrray = songs of joy. Koad = millions; amazements. Anunda = blissfulness. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present; has appeared. Permanunda = source of supreme bliss. Kunt =husband; Lord. Anunt = limitless. Sridhur = husband of Maya (Waheguru). Putit = immoral. Bhaiy Sindh = the world sea (which keeps the living beings in the cycle of rebirths). Kuntth Laavaiy = holds to the neck; hugs; loves. Bird = innate virtue. Sunda = of. Kayl Krunda = performer of amazing acts; always carefree. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's supreme devotees are loved by Him just like a husband loves his wife; but unlike a worldly wife who could become a widow, the devotees are never devoid of Waheguru's love as He becomes their Lord forever. Such devotees are highly fortunate because they recite Waheguru's Naam constantly and never suffer in any way (they acquire the ability to handle every situation with a strong mind); they are worthy of great respect. All their sins are eradicated, and they enjoy a blissful life, and while enjoying the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and imbued in His love, they always stay alert (against the attacks of Maya). Waheguru's Naam is their ornament (for beautifying their mind), and they always accept Waheguru's Will to be sweet. I submit respectfully that on getting connected with the omnipresent and the eternal Lord, all my wishes have been fulfilled, oh Nanak. 3.

The heart and the body, in which the source of supreme bliss, Waheguru, appears, feel as if they are enjoying happiness, millions of amazing and entertaining feats of Waheguru, and blissfulness. Lord, Waheguru, who is limitless, benevolent, the husband of Maya, and is the provider for the whole world, is also the purifier of the immoral and salvages them. Waheguru is kind, and ferries the devotees across the world sea. It is an innate kindness of Waheguru that whoever comes to His shelter is loved and accepted. I respectfully submit that I have been connected to Waheguru, who is always carefree and performs countless amazing feats, oh Nanak. 4.1.4.

Dhaar(i) Kirpa = show kindness. 1. Teh = there. Anund = blissfulness. Binoad = amazing happenings. Unhud = Divine music. Jhoonkaaray = sweet sound. Jaikaaro = sing praise; accolades. Khusm = Lord. MEANING: Waheguru's Feet are (His Naam is) the pool of the holy water; make it (the Naam-pool) your residence (take shelter there), oh my mind. Wash away all your sins by bathing in that pool, oh my mind. Waheguru is the (best) friend; take dips in His (Naam-pool) whereby all your troubles and the darkness of ignorance will be eradicated. The devotee (who takes a dip in Waheguru's Naam-pool) does not undergo any rebirths, and all the chains of the Angel of Death are severed. Imbue your mind with the love of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, where all your wishes will be fulfilled, oh my mind. I pray to Waheguru that He becomes kind to me so that my mind resides at His Feet (in the pool of His Naam-water), oh Nanak. 1. We should sing praise of Waheguru in the company of the holy men, where the mind feels to enjoy bliss and amazing events all the time, and where soft Divine music seems to play. Waheguru likes it when a devotee imbued in the sweetness of His love, sings His praise in the company of the Guru. Such devotees rid themselves of selfishness and ego and acquire the benefit (wealth) of union with long-separated Waheguru. There is only One Waheguru; He is inaccessible, beyond limits, and very kind; He holds His devotees by the arm with love, and He accepts them as His own. I submit respectfully that the mind of such a devotee is always pure (pious), and he feels as if he is enjoying a soft Divine music playing in his mind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Amit Bani = life-infusing Shabad. Kerm(i) = in fortune. Likhi = prewritten (by Waheguru). Ridaiy = in the heart. Akuth = indescribable. Kuhaani = story; virtues. Amur = immortal. Theeya = became. Kul(i) Klaysha = disputes; aggressive arguments. Huray = removed. Tuj(i) = abandon. Bhaani = relish; like. 3.

Gultan = fully lost; absorbed. Oopjiurra = came into being. Leeya Smaayee = absorbed. Braham Joti = Waheguru's Light; Supreme Soul. Oat Poati = like weft and woof (cross threads in fabric). Ooduk(i) = in water. Muhhiul = sky. Ruvviya = present. Drishtaaya = shows; visible. Trin(i) = vegetation. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Poorun = filling completely. Keemut(i) = worth. Bunut = creation. 4.

MEANING: Listen to the Amrit-like Shabad (in praise of Waheguru), oh lucky man. It (the Shabad) gets implanted in the heart of the devotee who has it prewritten in his fate by Waheguru. Only those devotees understand (appreciate) the indescribable story of Waheguru (His virtues) whom He is kind to. All the troubles caused by the aggressive behaviour of others are eradicated (and stopped) for such a devotee, and he becomes immortal (by merging into God), and he never dies again. Waheguru never leaves His devotee unprotected when he comes to His shelter, and the devotee comes to cherish Waheguru's love with his body and mind. I submit respectfully that we should always recite the Amrit-like holy Bani (Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru), oh Nanak. 3.

When a devotee gets fully absorbed in the Naam of Waheguru, who creates him, he completely forgets his own body and mind, and cannot utter even a single word (about his amazing experience). By merging into the Supreme Soul, he becomes one with Waheguru, like threads in a fabric, or like water in a container that mixes uniformly with the water in another container, and cannot be separated. He sees only Waheguru present everywhere - on the land, in the water, in the sky - and he finds no one else is like Him. Waheguru is fully present in the forests, in vegetation, and in the whole universe, but no one can find His limits, or know His worth. Only Waheguru knows His worth who has created this universe, oh Nanak. 4.2.5.

Word Meaning: Khojut = searching. Praan Adhaaray = support (source) of life. Taan = energy. Tun = body; health. Kheen Bhuyya = became weak. Muyya = mercy; kindness = Duyya. Lurr(i) Laayay = provide shelter. Paykhay = to see. Jeejiyaiy = live; survive. Sumruth = fully capable; omnipotent. Poorun = omnipresent. Nihchul = immortal. Ooch = transcendent. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaaray = beyond limits. 1. Jup = recitation of some mantra. Tup = self-torture. Bert = make commitments (like to go without food). Paykhun kuou = to see. Tupt(i) = (suffering) from the fire of desires. Boojhaiy = extinguish. Bayri = handcuffs (bonds) of Maya. Anaath = orphan (without any spiritual guide). Aougun(u) = bad traits. Deen = powerless; poor. Kaarun Kerna = creator of the universe. Chaatrik = rainbird - a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Boond = drop. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is the support of all life, and holy men wander (spend their life) searching for Him. Their energy and health weaken without connecting with the dear Waheguru. Please, be kind and benevolent, and connect me with You, and provide Your shelter, oh Waheguru. Please, bestow me with Your Naam for me to recite it; I survive only by having Your holy sight, oh Lord. You are omnipotent, omnipresent, everlasting, transcendent, inaccessible, and beyond limits; Nanak begs You to be kind, and connect me with You, oh dearer than life, Waheguru. 1.

Many people perform prevalent religious rituals, such as reciting mantras, torturing themselves, and undertaking commitments like fasting for a time, to have a glimpse of Waheguru's Feet (to have union with Him). But the fire of their desires is never extinguished without coming to the shelter of the Lord. I have come to Your shelter, please sever my bonds with Maya, and ferry me across the world sea (salvage me), oh Waheguru. I am an orphan (have no spiritual guide), have no good qualities, and am ignorant (about You); please do not think of (look at) my bad qualities, oh, kind Waheguru. The omnipotent, dear, and kind to the humble Waheguru is the creator of the whole universe. Like the rainbird, which longs for the first drop of rain, I also long for a drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and survive only by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Amiya Surovaro = pool of Amrit. Poorun Kaama = objectives successfully achieved. Bideerun = destroyer. Nimukh = moment. Beesraiy = forgotten. Anund = blissfulness. Saacha = Jugdeeshraiy = Waheguru. Ugunt = immeasurable. Ooch = transcendent. Apaar = beyond limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Dhaama = residence. Ichh = wish. Srirung = Waheguru. 3. Koatik = millions. Jug = yug = an old Hindu custom to please gods in which huvuns are performed, and some animals are sacrificed, and meals are served to Brahmans. Fulaa = rewards. Kool = clans; associates. Sohunt = look good (impressive or majestic). Mehma = fame; praise. Munaa = celebrate. Chitvunt(i) = think about. Munaa = in mind. Shoobh = auspicious; lucky. Divus = days. Geh(i) = by holding. Kuntth Laayay = hug; to love. Suful(u) = successful; rewarding. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is a pool of Amrit, so drink the Amrit from that Pool, oh my friends. When one recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy men, all his objectives are achieved successfully. Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all suffering and which enables you to complete all your tasks successfully, should not be forgotten even for a short moment. One is always blissful in the shelter of the eternal Waheguru, which is full of all virtues. The Lord is immeasurable, transcendent, beyond limits, and inaccessible. I respectfully submit that upon connecting with Waheguru, my wish has been fulfilled, oh Nanak. 3.

One reaps the rewards of countless jugs (yugs) when he listens to the praise of the praise-worthy Waheguru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, not only does a devotee find salvation for himself, but he also gets all his associates emancipated. Singing Waheguru's praise, the devotees look very dignified; so, you must celebrate (appreciate) His praise all the time, oh my mind. Do not get away from my mind, oh my Lord; You are dearer to me than my own life, and I always think of (long for) Your holy sight. Waheguru is transcendent, inaccessible, and beyond limits; It is the most auspicious time for a devotee when the Lord holds him to His neck (loves him immensely). I submit respectfully that all one's tasks are completed successfully when he gets connected with the extremely dear Lord, oh Nanak. 4.3.6.

Word Meaning: Unkaayay = with others (Maya). Raturriya = engrossed in. Vaat = journey (of life). Doohayli = difficult; full of problems. Kmaavundiyaan = committing. Bayli = friend. Puchhotaaveh = repents. Kudhoun = when. Say Dih = such days; human life. Turvur = tree. Vichhoonnay = separated; fallen from. Paat = leaves. Joorrtay = attached. Gaun = going. Ikayli = alone. Doohayli = in suffering. 1. Vulvunch = defraud; cheat. Look(i) = by hiding. Jaani Jaan(u)= who knows everything. Laykha = account of deeds. Dherm = Angel of justice. Bhuyya = happens; taken to. Til = sesame seeds. Peerray = squeeze in oil mill. Ghaani = a single load. Kirt Kmaayay = deeds done. Suhou = endure. Anik = countless. Muhaa Mohini = greatly captivating (Maya). Raata = engrossed. Ruttan Junum(u) = precious human life. Ikus(i) = the One. Baajhoun = without. Ann Kaaj = in other tasks. Binvunt = prays; submits humbly. Loobhaani = attracted to. 2.

MEANING: Engrossed in the other (Maya), you do not realize that the journey of life is very difficult (full of problems), oh, the ignorant man. You do not have any real friends (who can save you in Waheguru's Court) when you commit sins, you will have to repent all the time. You do not sing praise of Waheguru with your tongue, so when will you get such lucky days (human life) again? Like the leaves that have fallen from the tree, never to be attached again (disconnected from Waheguru, you will have no chance to connect with Him again), you will be going alone on the path to the Angel of Death. I submit respectfully that the man spends his life in suffering without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

You defraud people while hiding it from others, but you do not realize that the omniscient Waheguru knows everything you do, oh man. When the account of your deeds is taken to the Angel of justice for evaluation, he squeezes your blood just like the sesame seeds are squeezed in the oil mill to get oil (you will be punished severely). You will have to endure the suffering of your deeds when you are taken through countless life forms. Attracted by the gimmicks of the highly captivating Maya, you waste away your precious human life, oh, the ignorant man. Excepting just one important business of Waheguru's Naam, you are wise for everything else. I submit respectfully that according to his prewritten fortune, the man is misled by his misgivings to be fully engrossed in worldly attachments, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Beech Kuray = intervene. Akirtghun = thankless; disloyal. Vichhurr(i) = separate; disconnected. Khuray = standing; waiting. Kutthin = tough. Kunkur = assistants. Kmaaya = deeds done. Mohini = captivating (Maya). Raatiya = engrossed. Tupt = red hot. Thummh = pillar. Moottha = robbed by. Khoyay lose. Puchhutaapiya = repents. Sunjoag(i) = by predetermined union; fortune. 3.
Binaa = without. Raakhunhaara = saviour. Putit = immoral. Oodhaarunhaara = salvager. Bird = innate trait. Kirpa Nidh(i) = source of compassion. Undh Koop = dark well. Kertay = the Creator (Waheguru). Ghut = heart; living being. Pritpaala = provider. Bayrri = handcuff; bond. Adhaara = support; shelter. Ker = hands. Deen Duyaara = kind to the powerless. 4. Guniya = considered. Pergutiya = appeared. Praaya = went away. Sehj = peace of mind; blissfulness. Anund = uplift of mind; joy. Binoad = amazing events. Rungay = with love. Buhourr(i) = again. Dhaayiyaiy = rush to; go through. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Aad(i) = the beginning; the initial. Unkur(u) = sprouting. 5.

MEANING: Nobody can intervene as the disloyal man becomes disconnected from Waheguru, and the tough assistants of the Angel of Death arrive to arrest him. As a result of deeds performed under the influence of the highly captivating Maya, the man is taken away by the assistants as a prisoner. He never sang praise of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, so he has to suffer the consequences as if he had to hug a red-hot pillar. Robbed of his spirituality and noble qualities by the demons like lust, rage, and ego, he has to repent. I submit respectfully that according to his prewritten fortune (based on the previous deeds he performed under the influence of the demons) the man is misled, and never sings Waheguru's praise with his tongue (and suffers the consequences), oh Nanak. 3.
There is none other than Waheguru as the saviour; salvaging even the immoral is Your innate virtue, oh Waheguru. In addition to being the salvager, Waheguru is also the source of mercy, is kind, and provides shelter to the seeker. You raise and nourish all living beings; please pull me out of the deep, dark well (of ignorance caused by the illusions of Maya), oh, the Creator. I have come to Your shelter; please cut my strong bonds with Maya, and give me Your Naam, which is the support for my life. Nanak prays with all humbleness that kindly protect me (from the attacks of sensual pleasures) by extending Your kind hand, oh the benevolent to the poor, Waheguru. 4.
That day (time) is considered successful (rewarding) on which one gets connected with Waheguru, as a result of which all the comforts appear (come to dwell in his heart), and the discomforts run away. With singing Waheguru's praise all the time, one experiences peace of mind, blissfulness, and the enjoyment of a variety of amazing events happening in one's mind. One connects with Waheguru with love for Him in the company of the Guru, and is never born again. With the seed of love of the previous life sprouting in the heart of the devotee of Waheguru, he is held tightly to the neck by Waheguru with affection and without any special effort on the part of the devotee. When Waheguru connects His devotee to Him, He never leaves him to go elsewhere, oh Nanak. 5.4.7.

Word Meaning: Baynuntiya = prayer; request. Apraadh = crimes; sins. Chayray = devotees. Hern = kidnap; remove; eradicate. Mohun = mind-captivating (God). Kul(i) Klaysh = disputes; aggressive disagreements. Bhunjuna = destroyer. Serbmaiy = omnipresent. Nirunjuna = unaffected by Maya (God). Soonut = listens. Paykhut = sees. 1. Sumruth = fully capable. Deen = poor; powerless. Mugun(i) = fully absorbed. Mooraari = a name for Waheguru. Bikaar(i) = vices; sensual pleasures. Baandhiyo = trapped in. Anik = countless. Doakh = immoral deeds. Alipt = detached. Bundhun Reht = without any bonds. Anugreh(u) = benevolence. Putit = immoral. Paavun = pure; holy. Bhermtay = wandering through. Haari = exhausted. Praan Adhaari = supporting life. 2.

MEANING: Listen to my prayer, oh my Lord; even though I am guilty of committing millions of immoral acts, I am still Yours (Your slave; You created me). You are kind, the eradicator of all troubles, and the destroyer of all nagging disputes and aggressions, oh, the mind-captivating, Waheguru. Please, protect me (from the attacks of Maya), I have come to Your shelter, oh the omnipresent, and unaffected by Maya, Waheguru. You are with everyone, and You listen, and watch everything (they do); You are closer than anybody thinks, oh Waheguru. Listen to Nanak's request and protect me – Your slave – from the attractions of Maya, oh my Lord. 1.

You are always omnipotent, whereas we are poor beggars, oh Waheguru. We are engrossed in the attractions of Maya, please, pull us out (of this immoral situation). We are entrapped by greed, worldly attachments, and sensual pleasures, and we commit countless immoral acts. Waheguru is fully detached from (is free from the bonds of) Maya (so, He is fully just); so we reap the rewards of our deeds. We are exhausted from having gone through countless life forms; now be kind to us and salvage us, as You are the purifier of the immoral, oh, the benevolent Waheguru. I respectfully submit that Waheguru is the support (source) of our lives, and we are His slaves, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Paaleh(i) = raises. Akirtghunaa = thankless; disloyal. Drisht(i) = sight. Agaadh(i) = unfathomable. Bodh(i) = wisdom; understanding. Apaar = beyond limits. Neech(u) = of low caste (wisdom). Ruttan = invaluable jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Tiyaag(i) = abandoning. Sungrehn = accumulate. Kaudi = a worthless cowrie shell. Pusoo = animal. Iyaana = immature; ignorant. Muhaa Chunchul = highly capricious (short-lived Maya). Doakh = (using) immoral means. 3. Jaa Tay = from whom. Vichhurriya = separated; disconnected. Neekay = beautiful; full of praise. Kulyaanmaiy = source of well-being for all. Pergut Bhuyyay = appeared. Sayja = bed of heart. Soohaavi = comforting. Achint = worry-free. Buhourr(i) = again. Goon-Nidh(i) = treasure of virtues. 4.

MEANING: You are great and omnipotent, but I have only limited wisdom (to understand You), oh Waheguru. You raise even the thankless, and cast a kind sight on everybody. Being of low wisdom, I know nothing about You as You are unfathomable beyond my comprehension, and are beyond limits. I have low wisdom, and am ignorant like an animal, because of which I abandon the invaluable Waheguru's Naam, and accumulate worthless cowrie shells (perishable worldly things). Using many immoral means, one accumulates the highly capricious (short-lived) Maya which abandons him in no time. I, Nanak, am in Your shelter, please save my honour, oh the omnipotent Waheguru. 3.

When one sings Waheguru's praise in the company (shelter) of the Guru, Waheguru becomes kind to him, and connects the devotee with Him from whom he had been disconnected. When one sings praise and the virtues of Waheguru all the time – Waheguru, which is the source of wellbeing for all – appears in his heart. The heart-bed of the devotee becomes highly comforting when Waheguru makes him His own (loves him). All the worries of such a devotee are left behind, and he becomes worry-free, and suffers no more. I survive only by having a holy sight of the Lord, and sing His praise which is the source of all virtues, oh Nanak. 4.5.8.

Word Meaning: Soodhermeerriya = a religious man; a principled man. Moan(i) = muteness. Kut = what for; why. Dhaari = observing. Naytreen = with eyes. Biyohaari = business-like (involving gains and losses). Days = estates. Vays = expensive clothes. Soovern = gold. Roopa = silver. Oonaiy = insufficient; worthless Kaama = objective of life (union with God). Kluttar = wife. Hust = elephants. Ghoar = horses. Vikaari = worthless. Mithiya = false; short-lived. 1. Raajun = king (among living beings). Jhootth(u) = not real; not for ever. Roodun(u) = crying. Kaytay = very many. Bil-laahi = wail; cry for help. Mohun = captivated (by Maya). Sehs = thousands. Oopaav = plans; schemes. Thaakay = exhausted; failed. Bhaavut = liked (by God). Aad(i) = in the beginning. Mudh(i) = in the middle. Poorun = omnipresent. Serbtur = in all. Aahi = is. Sungum(u) = company; union. Put Sayti = with dignity. Ghur(i) = God's Court. 2.

MEANING: Why have you observed muteness? Utter something (sing praise of Waheguru), oh the good-principled man. You are leaving the world after having seen (observed) the business-like behaviour of Maya (which is never yours forever). Nothing else, other than Waheguru's Naam, accompanies you after death. The possessions of estates, expensive clothes, gold, and silver are worthless for achieving the objective of your life (union with Waheguru). Your sons, your wife, your fame, elephants, or your horses, are all for your sensual pleasures, but none of them accompanies you. I submit respectfully that everything, other than the company (shelter) of the Guru, is short-lived in this world, oh Nanak. 1.
Maya is short-lived in this world; countless people have been rendered poor and friendless by Maya, who wail and cry for help (and to warn others about her treacherous behaviour). So, why are you still sound asleep (unaware) and do not wake up (become alert about Maya), oh the king-among-animals, man? Captivated by Maya, countless people wail and cry; there is no comfort or peace of mind in the word without Waheguru's Naam. People have exhausted themselves trying thousands of clever plans and schemes to accumulate Maya, but they end up only in situations that are to the liking of Waheguru. Waheguru, which was present at the beginning, is there in the middle (at present), will be there at the end, and which is filling every part of the universe, is also present in every heart (but the man is unaware of His presence). I submit respectfully that the devotee, who is lucky to enjoy the shelter of the Guru, goes to Waheguru with his honour intact, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nurput(i) = rulers. Grehiyo = in the house (court). Surpur = for sure. Veechhurrna = to be separated. Mohay = engrossed in worldly attractions. Puchhutaanay = will repent. Hurchundauri = mirage; unreal; which does not exist in reality. Usthit(i) = permanent (wealth); (Waheguru's Naam). Aan = in other. Ruchna = get engrossed. Ehila = superior; invaluable. Huoun = I, me, mine; selfishness. Trishn = desires. Boojhaiy = satisfied. Kaam = task; objective (of human life). Giyanay = spirituality; making connection with God. Kaytiya = very many. 3.

Dhaar(i) = observe; show. Anugreho = benevolence. Bhooja = arm. Geh(i) = by holding. Kaadh(i) Leeyo = pulled out (of the gimmicks of Maya). Sungum(u) = in the company of. Kulmul = sins. Julay = burned away; eliminated. Muhaa Dherm = the great religious deed (Waheguru's Naam). Su Daan = superior donation (Waheguru's Naam). Kiriya = deed. Say = those. Rusna = tongue. Bheena = imbued. Perbeena = expert; bearer; possesses. 4.

MEANING: Having faith in the wisdom of their assistants in the court, the kings get fully absorbed in accumulating wealth without realizing that they have to get separated from that (leave that behind) one day. Such people, who are engrossed in false wealth, have to repent at the end. They get misled by the mirage of Maya, so how can they find the permanent wealth (Waheguru's Naam)? Without Waheguru's Naam, they get engrossed in the other (Maya) and waste away their superior human life. Their appetite for selfishness and for acquiring more and more wealth is never satisfied, and they can never achieve the objective of their lives: connecting with Waheguru. I make a humble submission that countless people repent without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.

By His benevolence, Waheguru accepted me as His own, holding me by the arm. He pulled me out of the grip of Maya and put me in the company of the Guru. All one's sins and troubles are burned away when he sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru. The greatest religious deed is to recite Waheguru's Naam, and its gift to others is the best donation of all; it is also your real wealth that accompanies you after death, oh man. When man recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue, his body and mind get imbued in the love of His Naam. The devotee, whom Waheguru connects with Him, comes to possess all the noble qualities, oh Nanak. 4.6.9.

ਬਿਹਾਗੜੇ ਕੀ ਵਾਰ ਮਹਲਾ 4॥ ੧ੴ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥

Word Meaning: Hoarthaiy = somewhere else. Bhaydiyaiy = pierce.

MEANING: You get comfort (mental happiness) only by serving the Guru (obeying His Will) and not anywhere else. So, pierce (stitch) your mind with Guru's Shabad, which will always reside in your mind, oh my friends. However, only those devotees get to recite Waheguru's Naam on whom He casts a kind sight, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮਹਲਾ 3॥ ਸਿਫਤਿ ਖਜਾਨਾ ਬਖਸ ਹੈ ਜਿਸੁ ਬਖਸੈ ਸੋ ਖਰਚੈ ਖਾਇ॥ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਬਿਨੁ ਹਥਿ ਨ ਆਵਈ ਸਭ ਥਕੇ ਕਰਮ ਕਮਾਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਮਨਮੁਖੁ ਜਗਤੁ ਧਨ ਹੀਣੁ ਹੈ ਅਗੈ ਭੁਖਾ ਕਿ ਖਾਇ॥2॥

Word Meaning: Bukhsh = endowment. Khurchaiy = spend; share with others. Kerm = religious rituals. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's praise is a treasure which is an endowment by Waheguru; only those devotees receive (sing it) and share it with others, who are endowed with it. However, this treasure can be acquired only by taking shelter of the Guru; everyone has been exhausted by performing religious rituals without success. The world loves money and follows its mind as a result of which it is without any (spiritual) wealth (which is the food for the next world and is needed in Waheguru's Court). So, where will it get this food to satisfy its appetite in the next world, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Vertda = operates. Thaayayn Paayayn = give credit for.

MEANING: Everybody is Yours, and You belong to them as You have created them all. You operate in everybody, and everybody worships You (obeys Your Laws), oh Waheguru. You give credit of Your worship to the individuals whom You like. Whatever Waheguru likes, shall take place, and everybody does only whatever He wants them to do. Word Meaning: Giyani = one connected with Waheguru; a true saint. Sidh(i) = successful. Sehjay = in a natural way; without any special effort. Achull(u) = unwavering mind. Chulaayay = influence. Ungikaar(u) = supports. Moolhoun = right from the beginning. Jhuggra = internal tussle (struggle). Hir(i) = taken away. Vikaar = (about) vices (sensual pleasures). 1.

MEANING: The devotees, who have Divine Knowledge (are connected with Waheguru), overcome the world (worldly attractions) while the attractions of the world have conquered everybody else. Such devotees achieve their objectives naturally. Guru's Sikhs have unwavering minds, and nobody can influence them (mislead them). Waheguru supports His devotees, and all their tasks become pleasant (are achieved without any glitch). On the other hand, the followers of their mind are misled from the beginning, lost in gluttony, greed, and ego. They spend all their time in internal struggle (whether to commit some immoral act or not), and never ponder on the Guru's Shabad. Their wisdom and good qualities are taken away by Waheguru, and they talk only of sensual pleasures. They are never content with whatever is given to them, as they have the darkness of ignorance and the fire of worldly desires in their mind. It is better to sever any connection with such people who love money, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sunsa = doubts; worries. Perkhunhaar = evaluator.

MEANING: What harm can worldly fears and worries inflict on the devotee who has the protection of Satguru and Waheguru? Satguru protects the honour of His devotees right from the beginning, as Waheguru is their saviour. One acquires blissfulness when one gets connected with the dear Lord by pondering on the Guru's everlasting Shabad. I have worshipped Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts and is also the evaluator (of your deeds), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sreek = rival. Shaabaash = accolades. Choaj(u) = amazing feats.

MEANING: All the living beings are Yours, and You are the wealth (provider) for all of them, oh Waheguru. The fortunate individual receives everything that You give him; there is no rival of Yours (who can interfere with Your choices), oh Waheguru. You alone are the provider for everybody; I pray only to You. You grant the wishes of the devotee whom You like; such a devotee deserves all accolades. You know all our comforts and problems; Your amazing feats are operating everywhere, oh God. 2.

Waheguru enlightens devotee's heart by implanting Guru's Shabad in there, and destroys all his troubles. The saviour, Waheguru, protects His devotees with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Chaakri = service of love. Ruch(i) = with dedication. Rujaayay = Will. Jaayay = place.

MEANING: Service to the Guru is a service of love which the devotee performs with fear and love for the Guru, and with full dedication. If the devotee follows Guru's Will, he becomes just like Him whom he is serving. The Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru which is everything in the universe (is omnipresent), and there is no place without Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Rees = emulate; to rival. Bhunnun Ghurrun = destroy and create.

MEANING: Only You know Your magnificence; no one else is as great as You are, oh Waheguru. We can compare You only with some rival if he is as great as You are, but only You are as great as You are. A devotee, who serves You (obeys Your Huqam) acquires all the comforts; nobody else can rival him. You are fully capable of creating and destroying anything, and are the provider of the entire universe; everybody is waiting with folded hands to beg from You. I do not see any other provider as great as You are. You provide for everybody in all parts of the universe, galaxies, underworlds and the 14 worlds. 3.

Word Meaning: Purteet(i) = faith. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. Mun Hutth = obstinacy (unmotivated or forced persistence) of mind. Sach(i) = in God.

MEANING: If a man does not bring full faith in Waheguru, and does not love Him to achieve the spiritual state of blissfulness, and if he does not cherish Guru's Shabad, what kind of forced praise of Waheguru can he sing by the obstinacy of his mind? Only the birth of that devotee is welcome in this world who stays absorbed in Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Moorra = foolish. Dookhaayay = hurts feelings. Moondhaiy = from birth. Khuslut(i) = (bad) habit. Choataan Khaayay = gets punishment. Bhunn(i) Na Ghurriyo = demolish old thinking and adopt noble thinking. Unk(i) = in the heart (soul). Sehsa = worries. Subla = powerful. Ker = hands. Daykhut = to see (eyes). Jeevut Muraiy = kill desires, while living in the family. Moakhuntar = salvation. 2.

MEANING: The foolish man does not recognize himself (his good and bad qualities) and hurts others with his rude language. The blind of wisdom do not give up their bad habits from childhood, and being disconnected from Waheguru brings them punishment (suffering in life). He does not demolish (gets rid of) his original bad thinking with the fear (advice) of the Guru, and does not transform into a man with noble thoughts with which he could get absorbed into Waheguru's soul. Without Guru's Shabad, his worries never disappear and he endures suffering. He is overpowered by the powerful lust, rage, and greed, and his whole life is spent in the Maya-related tasks. When his feet, hands, eyes, and ears get exhausted (wear out) with time, his life span is almost over, and his death is near, but he still does not find Waheguru's everlasting Naam to be sweet with which he may acquire the Naam-treasure. He has to renounce his desires for worldly enjoyments and begin a new, noble life; only then can he hope to find salvation. You did not inherit any good fortune (Waheguru's benevolence) from the beginning (because of your previous misdeeds), and you cannot achieve anything without His benevolence, oh man. (It is still not too late) to recite Guru's Shabad, oh foolish man; one acquires noble wisdom and high spiritual state only with Guru's Shabad. But, one can connect with the Guru only if he gets rid of his selfishness and ego first, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Why should a man need to worry about anything when he has Waheguru enshrined in his heart? How can one afford to turn his face away, even for a short moment, from reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts? The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, has all wellbeing (good things) going for him all the time; one needs to join the company of the holy men with affection so as to recite Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's devotee gets all his discomforts, poverty, and all his ailments eradicated; and Waheguru breaks all his bonds with Maya. Waheguru's devotees are created (raised) by His benevolence, and the whole world longs to see their faces (listen to their holy words) for their salvation. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself is the Lord, Himself the servant, and Himself the devotee; He does everything Himself, and makes others do (whatever He wishes). He watches everything, and His heart blooms (to watch His creation); He makes everyone perform the deeds He wants them to do. He puts some on the path of righteousness, and misleads others to the wilderness (path of worldly attractions, where they cannot find the true path). To be a true holy man implies that he should take Guru's shelter, and abandon his hopes and his misgivings, and beg for Waheguru's Naam which should serve as his alms. I will gladly wash his feet (show my reverence) and sacrifice my life for such a holy man, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: The world is like a tree which bears two kinds of fruits – Waheguru's Naam, and attractions of Maya – and the human beings are like the birds which live on this tree. These birds are not seen coming and going, nor do they have wings. Some human-birds love to enjoy the tastes of different varieties of Maya, while others love Waheguru's Naam and stay detached from Maya. The human-birds which are imbued in the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, bear the identification mark (stamp of approval) of Waheguru's benevolence, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Thaat(u) = the whole creation. Beh(i) = while sitting (in full calmness). Sayv Bunaayiun = the system of worship in the shelter of the Guru. Beeya = other. Theeya = happens.
MEANING: When Waheguru created the universe, He did that without any stress, and did not consult with anyone else for assistance. When there was nobody else in the world who would give or take anything (advice)? Then, the Creator created the whole world and provided everybody with the necessities of life. He Himself established the requirement of the Guru (His Naam) as being the spiritual guide (to connect with Him), and drank the Naam-Amrit Himself (became the first Guru). He is both formless and visible in nature, and whatever He wishes, happens. 7.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) = The Sikhs of the Guru. Saacha = eternal (Waheguru). Urdh(i) Ooordh(i) = (Waheguru, which is present below and above).
MEANING: Guru's Sikhs always serve Waheguru (recite His Naam) with love, and attain the blissful state. They always sing praise of Waheguru which is present everywhere, and which supports the whole universe, and enjoy blissfulness. As prewritten in his fortune from the beginning, dear Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in the devotee's heart. With His benevolence, Waheguru Himself takes the initiative to connect the devotee with Him. 1.

milaayay. 2.
Word Meaning: Kuthiyaiyn = describing. Bhaunk(i) = bark; meaningless talk (preaching to others, but not following). Bil-laayay = cry for help. Bhijaiy = gets imbued.
MEANING: Waheguru cannot be realized just by narrating and describing His virtues to others; one needs to sing his praise (with love and reverence) all the time. Many people leave this world describing Waheguru's virtues to others (to impress them without themselves following His Will), while crying for help for themselves (yet hoping to realize Waheguru). But one cannot connect with Him without His benevolence. Waheguru comes to reside in the mind of the devotee who imbues his mind with love for the Guru's Shabad. One realizes Waheguru only with His benevolence when He Himself connects him (the devotee) with Him.

Word Meaning: Bheejaiy = overwhelmed with love; imbued. Perpunch(u) = world (its attractions). Purvirt(i) = getting involved. Nirverti = stay detached = ulipt(u).
MEANING: (Everything happens in compliance with Waheguru's Laws or Will). Being present in everybody, Waheguru Himself is the writer of all the holy books of the Hindus, and He Himself describes them, and gets imbued in them. He Himself worships the deities with dedication, and Himself creates the worldly attractions (to thrust people into their love). He, Himself, gets involved in worldly affairs, and Himself stays detached; and Himself describes the virtues of the indescribable Lord. He, Himself, prods people to perform noble acts, but Himself stays detached. He, Himself, causes people to enjoy comforts and also causes suffering; and Himself shows benevolence. 8.

Word Meaning: Shaykh = Sheikh = a well-learned Muslim. Joar(u) = force; aggression. Jhull(u) = craziness. Nisturay = salvaged. Nirbhuou = God. Kutthoar(u) = stone-hearted. Bhayd(i) = pierce. Shaant(i) = peace.
MEANING: Be fearful of Allah, and quit your craziness of using the power of your knowledge (or of your wealth) to abuse others (to force them to do things for you which are not to their liking)), oh Sheikh. Countless people have been salvaged because of Guru's fear in their mind; one realizes Waheguru only when he spends his life in His fear (obeys His Will). Pierce your heart of stone (which has no compassion or empathy for others) with Guru's Shabad, as a result of which your mind will become peaceful. An individual, who spends his life with peace at mind (treats everybody with love and care), is recognized in Waheguru's Court.

Nobody ever realizes Waheguru under the influence of lust and rage; you can check this with a devotee who is connected with God, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Koorr(u) = falsehood; Maya-related. Sungruhaiy = accumulates. Chhaar(u) = dust. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Sunjum = control over senses.

MEANING: The follower of his mind has a deep attachment with Maya, and does not foster any affection for Waheguru's Naam. He deals in false (short-lived) things, accumulates false wealth (by deceitful means), and falseness is the food for his soul. He dies saving the poisonous wealth and turns into dust at the end. He does perform the religious rituals and tries to control his sensual pleasures (to show off), but he is full of vices like greed, inside. Nothing that a money-minded individual does earns him respect in Waheguru's Court; he rather suffers discomfiture there, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Khaani = the four common sources of reproduction. Bani = creation. Khund = parts of the universe; planets. Verbhund = galaxies. Ruttan = pearls, diamonds, and other valuable gemstones. Luhaayay = makes to acquire. Hurray = God. Bhoujul = the world-sea. Bohitha = ship; boat. Khayvut = boatman. Suraiy = equal. 9.

MEANING: (Being the creator of everything and being omnipresent), Waheguru Himself is the source of all reproduction, and Himself the creation. He Himself is the deep ocean, and Himself has placed jewels and gemstones like pearls and diamonds in it; (which also means that Waheguru is the ocean of spirituality which contains jewels-like precious (virtuous) qualities); and He, Himself, makes His devotees acquire the pearls-like qualities by putting them in the shelter of the Guru. He, Himself is the sea of Maya (Maya has been created by Him), and Himself, the boat and the boatman, and ferries the human beings across the sea of Maya. The Creator, Waheguru, does everything Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes. There is none else like Him. 9.

Word Meaning: Suful = successful; rewarding. Chit(u) Laayay = with diligence. Achint = without any special effort. Ootum Pudvee = high spiritual state.
MEANING: Service to the Guru is highly rewarding, provided one does it with full diligence (with affection and reverence). One acquires Waheguru's invaluable Naam, which gets embedded in his heart without any special effort on his part. Because of Waheguru's Naam at heart, a devotee's worldly attachments, his selfishness and ego, and his suffering of rebirths are eradicated. He attains the high spiritual state of blissfulness as he stays fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. But only those who have this union preordained by Waheguru connect with the Guru. Oh, Nanak. 1.

MEANING: The Satguru is always imbued in Waheguru's Naam and is the ship in this age (world) to ferry the humans across the world-sea. Those who have taken the shelter of the Guru (act on His Advice), and have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their heart, are ferried across the sea. They keep Waheguru's Naam afresh in their minds and accumulate Naam-wealth; they are honoured because of the Naam in their hearts. Word Meaning: Paarus(u) = (like the) elixir stone; source of virtues. Dhaat(u) = metal; Maya-engrossed humans. Kunchun = gold; pure (holy) men. Khundun(u) = Bhunjun = destroyer. Ghut = hearts. Bhoagvaiy = enjoys. Unjun = Maya. Bibayk(i) = wisdom; Divine Knowledge. Bayta = narrator.
MEANING: Like the touchstone which converts base metals into gold, Waheguru is such a source of virtues that He converts the Maya-engrossed humans into pure (pious) men. He, Himself, is the Lord, Himself the devotee, and Himself the destroyer of all sins. (Being present in every heart), He enjoys all the sweet tastes, and at the same time, He is Maya, and all its attractions, too. Waheguru, Himself is the Divine Knowledge, and Himself the narrator of His Virtues. He, Himself destroys the vices of His devotees by putting them in the shelter of the Guru. Word Meaning: Bundhuna = traps of (attachments with) Maya. Tthuvur = peace; freedom from rebirths. Jum Pur(i) = the city (court) of the Angel of death.

MEANING: All the deeds that the man performs without serving the Guru (without following His Advice) become traps for him in life. He does not find ongoing peace (freedom from rebirths) and keeps taking births and dying. Without serving Satguru, he uses impolite and rude language, and Waheguru's Naam never gets embedded in his heart. Without serving Satguru, he leaves the world with his face blackened, and is taken to the court of the Angel of death where he is tied up and is punished, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Chaatshaal = school. Paandha = teacher. Chaatrray = students. Aanay = brings. Baaluk = children; ignorant. Ikuthaiy = at one place.

MEANING: (Since Waheguru does everything Himself, or gets others to do the same), He Himself is the school (of enlightenment), Himself the teacher, and Himself brings (motivates) students (people) to the School. He Himself is the father and the mother, and Himself educates (enlightens) His children (devotees). Word Meaning: Kul(i) = human character of disputes and aggressive arguments. Kulvaali = the woman who serves liquor. Mud(u) = liquor. Kutori = small bowl. Peelaava = which encourages one to drink. Mujlus = gathering of revellers (party goers). Lub = gluttony. Kerni = deeds. Laahun(i) = the fermented liquid containing the ingredients to make liquor. Sat(u) = High morality; service to others. Goorr = nuggets of raw sugar; jaggery Suraa = liquor. Saar(u) = supreme. Munday = a large but thin and flat bread. Seel = calmness; patience. Sherm = hard labour. Aahaar(u) = meal. Bikaar = vices; immoral acts.

MEANING: (Some people drink alcohol to feel high and have a good time, but according to Guru Nanak Sahib, alcohol is not the only intoxicant that people drink. For the world at large, the human nature of aggression is like a server of drinks which are made of lust (and other vices), which the mind drinks (and enjoys). The bowl (in which the liquor is served) is made of rage and is full of worldly attachments, while one's ego encourages him to drink. The gluttony and falsehood are the gathering at which the man keeps drinking the liquor of vices, and suffers humiliation.

On the other hand, if one uses the raw materials of noble deeds using high morality for the jaggery, and Waheguru's Naam as the intoxicant, the resulting distillate is the supreme liquor. If one takes this supreme liquor with the flat thin bread of virtues coated with the ghee of patience, and the meat of honest hard work to earn one's living, and if such meal is eaten in the shelter of the Guru, all his vices and sins get eradicated, oh Nanak. 1.

NOTE: Because the name "Merdana" appears in the heading of this holy Sloak, some people believe that the Sloak has been written by Bhai Merdana Ji, the life-long companion of Guru Nanak Sahib. But this inference is not correct for the following reasons. (1). Merdana Ji could not use the name "Nanak" at the end of the sloak as this honour is limited only to the Sikh Guru Sahiban. (2) In the heading, the number 1 with "Merdana" also appears. There were not more than 1 Bhai Merdana Jis which would have required clarification about which Bhai Merdana Ji wrote the Sloak.

In fact, the number "1" following "Merdana" applies to Mehla 1 (Guru Nanak Sahib) and the Sloak is addressed to Merdana Ji. Even though the title "Mehla" is also missing; but there is nothing unique about it. The title "Mehla is also missing" in Sloak #2, Paurri 4, of Goojri Kee Vaar on page 509-10 (of SGGS) Similarly, there are a few sloaks written by Guru Arjun Sahib, Mehla 5, under the heading of Sloak Kabir Ji, but they do contain the title "Nanak" in the sloaks. So, the holy Sloak is written by Mehla 1, and not by Bhai Merdana Ji.

bikaar. Giyan goorr(u), salaah munday, bhuou maas(u) aahaar(u). Nanak eh(u) bhojun Sach(u) haiy, Sach(u) Naam(u) aadhaar(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Aap(u) = ego and selfishness. Trishna Dhaat = pursuit for fulfilment of one's desires. Munsa = wishes. Khuttiyeh(i) = earn; acquire.

MEANING: In this world, the human body is like the vessel containing the raw materials to make liquor, which has one's selfishness and ego as the intoxicants. The pursuit of sensual pleasures serves as the company (the motivational force) where the man drinks this liquor. The bowl for the liquor is made of one's desires and is full of false hopes and ego, and the Angel of (spiritual death) motivates him to drink. The man drinking such liquor earns many vices (gets into the habit of many more vices).

On the other hand, if one uses Divine Knowledge (connection with Waheguru) as the raw material for the liquor, Waheguru's praise as the thin flat bread, and His respectful fear as the meat for food, then this combination serves as the eternal spiritual food, and Waheguru's Naam becomes the basis of one's life, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaayaan = (purified) human body. Aap(u) = free from selfishness and ego. Amrit = liquid of immortality (Waheguru's Naam). Liv = full focus on Waheguru (connection with Waheguru).

MEANING: If one purifies his body (and mind) with Waheguru's Naam, and uses it as the vessel to ferment the ingredients of selflessness and humility to prepare liquor, the liquor so prepared has the stream of Waheguru's Naam flowing out of it. If one is able to join the company of holy men and drink the Amrit from the bowl full of deep connection with Waheguru, all his vices are eradicated. 3.

Word Meaning: Sundhiya = worship and recitation of some holy mantras. Doobidha = indecisiveness; the tough choice between God and Maya. Munooa = mind.

MEANING: That worship and recitation of some holy mantras are approved by Waheguru, which evoke His Naam in the mind of the devotee, generate love for Him, and burn (destroy) his love for Maya. The indecisiveness of the devotee is eradicated, and his mind becomes stable (quits wavering) by the Guru's grace, and pondering on the Guru's Shabad becomes his Sandhya. But, the Sandhya of a money-lover is not approved because his mind never becomes stable (it wanders around Maya), and he continues to take rebirths, and thus suffers humiliation, oh Nanak. 1.

Tupaavus = judgment. Bherm = misgiving.

entire vegetation and living beings of different varieties. Waheguru, Himself is the creator, and Himself the controller of the whole universe. He, Himself kills and Himself spares (frees) the living beings. Being benevolent, He forgives our sins too. He is infallible, and never makes any mistake. He delivers perfect justice based on truth only. Those who are given the wisdom in the shelter of the Guru get their misgivings about Maya cleared. 13.

The fear-destroying Waheguru is benevolent, and (being present in the pilgrims), He Himself gives donations at the holy places. The devotee, whom Waheguru gives the wisdom by putting him in the shelter of the Guru, is always honoured in His Court. Word Meaning: Taamus(i) = irritated and jealous. Ehinis(i) = day and night.
MEANING: Without taking Guru's shelter (following His Advice), the world is blind (in the dark), and performs (worthless) religious rituals blindly, oh Nanak. He does not apply his mind to (develop love for) the Guru's Shabad by which he can acquire blissfulness. Always irritated and jealous, he runs around in pursuit of Maya day and night, and his life is spent burning in the fire of jealousy. But nothing can be said (or done about that) because only that happens which is to the liking of Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: The Satguru advises that to have mental bliss, perform the deed (make it a routine) of reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru is always close to you, but (you cannot see him because you have blinds of misgivings on your eyes); get rid of those misgivings, and implant Waheguru's Light (His Naam) in your heart. Use the medication of Waheguru's Naam, which is the real Amrit (which makes you mentally healthy). Keep Waheguru always in mind; true love for Him is the real treatment. MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the entire vegetation, and Himself causes it to bear fruit. He is the gardener and irrigates every plant, and feeds it to the living beings. He is the creator and the one to enjoy different tastes. He provides for everybody Himself, and (in some cases) makes others providers too He, Himself is the Lord, Himself the guard, and is omnipresent. Word Meaning: Maanus = man. Bhuriya = full of vices. Aaniya = is brought; comes. Aayay = takes birth; comes in this world. Burl = attack of emotional tantrums. Praaya = stranger. Jhoottha Mud(u) = false intoxicant which impairs your thinking. Mool(i) Na = not at all. Paar(i) Vusaayay = as far as possible.

MEANING: The man comes to this world full of evil traits (which he had developed in his previous lives), and he adds on more in this world when he gets intoxicated with false intoxicants such as power, wealth, wisdom, beauty (handsomeness), certain personal abilities, drugs, and his children. One's wisdom is impaired by all or any of these intoxicants, and one gets fits of emotional tantrums. Under the influence of such false intoxicants, one does not recognize one's own from strangers (people kill close relatives for power, wealth, beauty, or fame), and gets thrown out of the Court of Waheguru. Under the influence of these intoxicants, people forget Waheguru and get punished in His Court. So, as far as possible, one should not consume any of the false intoxicants. A devotee, who gets connected with the Guru by Waheguru's kind sight, acquires His Naam, which has everlasting intoxication, oh Nanak. With this everlasting intoxication, the devotee is always imbued in Waheguru's love and is given a respectable place in His Court. 1.

NOTE: Contrary to popular beliefs, liquor or drugs are not the only intoxicants. Wealth, power, fame, beauty, and exceptional abilities are equally effective intoxicants.

MEANING: The (people of the) world will kill their worldly desires while still living in the family once they get enlightenment; otherwise, they stay asleep (unaware of reality, or in the darkness of ignorance) by Waheguru's Will, and gain wisdom (awareness) when awakened by Him. Waheguru connects the individuals whom He is benevolent to, with Satguru, with whose grace they kill their worldly desires, never to die again (as they merge into Waheguru).

MEANING: Waheguru, which creates and controls everything, is not concerned about (is not afraid of) anybody else. Everybody eats (lives on) whatever You provide with, and everybody is dependent on You, oh Waheguru. You are above the effects of Maya; an individual who sings Your praise and earns Your favour receives everything (he wishes for), oh Waheguru. MEANING: Suffering spiritual death many times, the world eventually dies its natural death, but does not know how to die a real death, oh Kabir. A person who knows how to die a real death never dies again.

NOTE: Kabir Sahib does mention “real death”, but does not clarify it. Guru Amar Dass Ji clarifies “real death” in the following Sloak.

ਮ:3॥ ਕਿਆ ਜਾਣਾ ਕਿਵ ਮਰਹਗੇ ਕੈਸਾ ਮਰਣਾ ਹੋਇ॥ ਜੇ ਕਰਿ ਸਾਹਿਬੁ ਮਨਹੁ ਨ ਵੀਸਰੈ ਤਾ ਸਹਿਲਾ ਮਰਣਾ ਹੋਇ॥ ਮਰਣੈ ਤੇ ਜਗਤੁ ਡਰੈ ਜੀਵਿਆ ਲੋੜੈ ਸਭੁ ਕੋਇ॥ ਗੁਰ ਪਰਸਾਦੀ ਜੀਵਤੁ ਮਰੈ ਹੁਕਮੈ ਬੂਝੈ ਸੋਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਐਸੀ ਮਰਨੀ ਜੋ ਮਰੈ ਤਾ ਸਦ ਜੀਵਣੁ ਹੋਇ॥ 2॥

MEANING: No one knows how he will die or what kind of death he will meet. However, death becomes easy (non-threatening) for the individual who does not forget Waheguru. The whole world is afraid of death, and everybody wants to live (forever). However, a person who understands Waheguru’s Huqam by the grace of the Guru dies only as far as the worldly desires are concerned (kills them). A person who dies such a death lives forever (because he merges into Waheguru), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jhukh = blabbering about worthless things without any gain.

MEANING: When Waheguru is kind, He Himself makes His devotees recite His Naam. He loves His devotees and makes their life comfortable (blissful) by connecting them with the Guru. He protects the honour of His devotees and makes the world to drop on their feet (show respect for them). The Angel of justice is the creation of Waheguru, so he does not even go near His devotees. Everybody loves the devotee who is loved by Waheguru; countless other people come and go (are born and die), blabbering about meaningless things (are not liked by the Waheguru world). 17.

Word Meaning: Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Bhadiya = pierced; stitched. Amayou = immeasurable.

MEANING: The whole world talks about Waheguru and keeps searching for Him in isolated places, but He cannot be realized like that. The inaccessible and incomprehensible Waheguru is extremely large and immeasurable, and cannot be weighed (in terms of His magnanimity). Nobody can evaluate Him, and He cannot be bought or acquired anywhere. However, He does come to reside in the heart, which gets pierced (deeply affected) by Guru's Shabad. Waheguru is immeasurable, but with Guru's grace, one realizes that He is present everywhere, oh Nanak. Waheguru Himself connects His devotees with Him, and Himself comes to reside in the devotee's heart. Once He gets connected with His devotees, He stays connected and never leaves their hearts. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਏ ਮਨ ਇਹੁ ਧਨੁ ਨਾਮੁ ਹੈ ਜਿਤੁ ਸਦਾ ਸਦਾ ਸੁਖੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਤੋਟਾ ਮੂਲਿ ਨ ਆਵਈ ਲਾਹਾ ਸਦ ਹੀ ਹੋਇ॥ ਖਾਧੈ ਖਰਚਿਐ ਤੋਟਿ ਨ ਆਵਈ ਸਦਾ ਸਦਾ ਓਹੁ ਦੇਇ॥ ਸਹਸਾ ਮੂਲਿ ਨ ਹੋਵਈ ਹਾਣਤ ਕਦੇ ਨ ਹੋਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਪਾਈਐ ਜਾ ਕਉ ਨਦਰਿ ਕਰੇਇ। 2॥

Word Meaning: Toata = shortage. Laaha = benefit. Sehsa = worry. Haanut = loss.

MEANING: It is the wealth of Waheguru's Naam which provides the real comfort all the time, oh my mind. There is never a shortage of comfort; it is rather always beneficial. There is never a shortage in this wealth (of Waheguru's Naam), no matter how much you consume or share with people; Waheguru always gives more and more. There is never a worry (to lose it), and one never suffers any loss. This wealth can be acquired only in the shelter of the Guru with the benevolence of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jaahir = visible. Goobaar = darkness. Soonna = without any ideas invading the mind. Taarri Laayay = in deep meditation. Guouhur = unfathomable.

MEANING: Waheguru resides in every heart, but at the same time, He is also present outside (everywhere else). He operates hidden as well as visibly (in nature). He remained in deep meditation without any ideas coming to His mind for thirty-six eons (a Hindu belief) (an extremely long time) when it was complete darkness everywhere. There were no Vedas, Puranas or Shastras at that time, and He was the only King at the time. He was aloof in His deep meditation. Only He knows His wisdom; He is like an unfathomable ocean. 18

MEANING: The world suffers spiritual death because of its selfishness and ego, and continues to die in that mode. The man does not remember Waheguru as long as he lives; so, what will he do in (what virtues will he take with him to) the next world (in Waheguru's Court? The Giyani (spiritually enlightened person) stays alert (about the attacks of Maya), but the ignorant commits dark (related to Maya) acts. The man does not realize that not only does he reap the results of his deeds here in this world, but he also carries them with him to the next world, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = right from the source (Waheguru). Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Dum(i) = with every breath. Pudvee = rank; status = Mertba.

MEANING: It is the Huqam (Law) of the Lord Waheguru right from the beginning, that one cannot worship Him without taking shelter of Satguru. Waheguru, which has been there in the mind of the devotee in the dormant state, appears in his mind when he gets connected with the Guru, and meditates on Him all the time (stays connected with Him). Then the devotee remembers Waheguru with every breath and does not allow a single breath to pass without remembering Him. He is no longer afraid of death and attains a high spiritual state. But only that devotee receives this high spiritual rank whom Waheguru grants to with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Daana = noble. Beeniya = know-all, wise. Perdhaana = controller. Roop = different forms. Moani = mute; quiet. Bern(i) = narrate.

MEANING: Waheguru is noble, wise and the controller of the universe. He shows Himself in many forms and, at the same time, is present in a meditative state. He operates quietly and also delivers His Knowledge. Nobody finds Him unlikable; everybody likes Him. We cannot describe His virtues (sing enough praise); I am always a sacrifice for Him. 19.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:1॥ ਕਲੀ ਅੰਦਰਿ ਨਾਨਕਾ ਜਿੰਨਾ ਦਾ ਅਉਤਾਰ॥ ਪੁਤੁ ਜਿਨੂਰਾ ਧੀਅ ਜਿੰਨੂਰੀ ਜੋਰੂ ਜਿੰਨਾ ਦਾ ਸਿਕਦਾਰੁ॥

Sloak M:1: Kulee undar(i) Nanaka, jinna da autaar. Poot(u) jinoora, dhee jinoori, joaru jinna da sikdaar(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Kulee = Kalyug (the present eon). Autaar = birth.

MEANING: Kulyug (the present eon) is considered to be a bad eon, but it is real kulyug when the people behave like djinns (sub-human) and do not recite Waheguru's Naam; oh Nanak. Their offspring - sons and daughters - are djinns, and the women are the leaders of such djinns. 1.

Word Meaning: Moolay = from the beginning; absolutely. Akhootee = misled. Nard(i) = as advised by Nard, who was a son of Brahma, born out of his thigh. He used to worship his deity by dancing and playing music. Goongay = mute; dumb. Undh Undhaar(u) = pitch dark.

MEANING: The Hindus are misled right from the beginning, and worship idols as practised by Nard. They are blind (about Waheguru), mute (because they do not recite Waheguru's Naam), and are in complete darkness. The foolish and the unrefined worship stone idols and do not realize that how can the stones ferry them across the sea (of Maya) when they themselves sink.

Word Meaning: Kihou = kichh(u) = thing. Vaysaah(u) = faith. Rujj(i) = to full satisfaction. Laah(u) = benefit. Agumm = inaccessible. Agaah(u) = unfathomable.
MEANING: You are the true Lord and control everything, oh Waheguru. The bhagats (supreme devotees) are imbued with the love of the "One" only, and have full faith in Him. Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is the food (for their soul) which they eat to their full satisfaction (always recite His Naam). The added benefit of the recitation of Waheguru's Naam is that they acquire everything they wish for. Waheguru, who is otherwise inaccessible and unfathomable, loves His bhagats. 20.

MEANING: Everything comes into being, and goes (is destroyed) with Waheguru's Huqam (Will). But if someone foolishly believes that things happen because of his wisdom and efforts, he is blind (of wisdom) and commits deeds in darkness (of ignorance). Some rare devotee, whom Waheguru is kind to with His own Will, realizes His Huqam in the shelter (guidance) of the Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jogi = yogi. Joogut(i) = technique (the path of union with God). Nugri = city; shelter. Vussaiy = come to seek advice. Bhaykheen = by the garb.
MEANING: Only that mystic is a real Yogi and has learned the technique to unite with God, who has acquired Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Everybody goes to him to seek his advice on union with God; a person does not become a real yogi simply by wearing the garb of his faith. There is a rare Yogi who gets Waheguru to appear in his heart, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Junt = living beings. Aadhaar = support; food; provider. Sookhum = minuscule; microbes. Pasaar(u) = expanse; unlimited. Ikaanti = alone. Raynaar(u) = the dust of the feet.
MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, creates all the living beings, and Himself provides food for them. He can be found (is present) in microbes as well as in the vast expanse (the whole universe). He lives alone (aloof and detached from the world) and at the same time has a huge family (of all living beings in the world). Word Meaning: Umlee = addict. Umul(u) = intoxicant. Umbrraiy = delivers; receives. Bhaavaiy = liked. Sheh(i) = husband; Lord (God). 1. Vaari = to sacrifice. Vunjaan = go; under go. Khunniyaiy = cut into pieces. Pause. Sufliyou = laden with fruit. Rookhrra = tree. Triput = fully contented. 2. Hubiyaan = everybody. Tikha = thirst. Tihaaya = thirsty. Luhhaiy = acquire. Sur = pool (of Amrit). Bheetur(i) = inside. Paal(i) = wall. 3. Baaniya = trader; dealer. Raas(i) = capital. Dhokha = anxiety; misgiving. Luhhaiy = comes off. Sift(i) = praise. Ardaas(i) = prayer. 4.

MEANING: An addict cannot survive if he does not get the needed intoxicant. Likewise, fish cannot survive without water, but unlike an addict or the fish, the devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru love, like everything (they do not need anything in particular to survive). 1. I will gladly sacrifice my life or cut myself into pieces to acquire the Lord's Naam. Pause. The Lord, Waheguru, is like a tree which is laden with the fruit of Amrit (Waheguru's Naam); those who take this fruit get fully contented (are left with no worldly desires). I am a sacrifice for such devotees. 2. Waheguru lives with all my friends, but why can't I see Him? (Answer): Even though I am also thirsty for His Naam, how can I acquire Amrit from His Naam-Pool when there is a strong wall of Maya (worldly desires) separating me from the Amrit-Pool? 3. I am a dealer in Your Naam, and Your Naam is my capital (but I am misguided by my misgivings). My misgivings (anxiety) can be dispelled only when I pray to You by singing Your praise, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Goonvunteen = having noble qualities. Raaviya = enjoy union (with God). Kookay = cry to complain. Thee Ruhaiy = stays; acquires. Bhee = then; also. 1. Kunt(u) = husband; Lord. Risaaloo = source of all sweet tastes (comforts) Kee = why? Dhun = woman; human bride. Uvrah = others. Pause. Kerni = noble deeds. Kaamun = magic to enslave (control). Theeyay = becomes. Maanuk = pearl (Lord's Naam). Chit(i) = in mind. Puroyay = to string; stitch. 2. Dusaayee = asked (advised). Joolaan = go; walk on. Umrriaas(u) = have reached. Ukoouna = lack of communication; no connection. Ghur(i) Vaas(u) = live in the heart. 3. Baahra = without. Luggi Ruhaiy = stay connected. 4.

MEANING: The human brides with noble qualities (above the effects of Maya) enjoy union with Waheguru. But why is the human-bride who lacks all the noble qualities raising clamour (complaining about separation from Waheguru)? She can also enjoy Waheguru's union if she acquires the required noble qualities. 1. My Lord is the source of all comforts; so, why does the human-bride go to enjoy others (attractions of Maya)? Pause.

If the bride uses the spell of noble qualities to enslave her Lord-Husband, and uses her mind as the thread, she can string the pearl of Waheguru's Naam, which cannot be bought anywhere by any amount of money, in her heart. 2. The human-bride does not follow the path advised for union with Waheguru, yet claims she has reached her destination. She has no communication with Waheguru (through His praise), so how can He take up dwelling in her heart? 3. There is no one outside of Waheguru's Laws (He is Supreme); if a human-bride stays connected with Him, she too can enjoy union with Him, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Khuree Soochujji = having many skills; well-mannered. Maatth(i) Goodaayee Puttiyaan = attractive hairstyles with braids. Maang = central part. Sundhooray = (with) vermilion. (The married Hindu women put vermilion in the central part of their hair). Munniya = given approval. Visoor(i) Visooray = slowly in dull pain.

Roonna = cried (in sympathy). Vunhoun = from the forest. Punkhayroo = birds. Birha = pain of separation. Pirhoun = from my dear Husband (Waheguru). Jul Bhuriya Royay = cried to drenching. Toojh Kunn(i) = near (visit) You. Bhayj = send (someone or a message). Soobhaagi = fortunate. Mut(i) = may be; perhaps. J(i) = whichever (person). Sees(u) = head. Baiysun(u) = seat. Vin(u) = without. Mureejaiy = die (for). Jeaurra = soul; thinking. Vidaana = belongs to others.

MEANING: (After a long, extremely hot summer) the rainy season has arrived, and there are beautiful clouds in the sky (and the whole nature looks very pretty). The peacocks also enjoy the beauty of nature, and are singing in a low, soft voice. The beauty of Your nature is piercing the heart of the young, beautiful woman (a fresh devotee of Waheguru) like a sharp knife, and also serving as the rope (of attraction) to entrap her (me) in Your love. I am greedy of Your holy sight for which I can cut myself into pieces, and I am a sacrifice for Your Naam to see Your beauty in nature, which is captivating me. I feel proud to express my thoughts about Your beauty with faith in You; otherwise, what pride can I have, oh my Waheguru?

Like a young human bride who beautifies herself with ornaments and with different hairstyles to attract her husband, the young human-bride (Waheguru's fresh devotee) uses a lot of religious symbols to please Waheguru. If all that heavy makeup and beautiful clothes of the young wife do not attract her husband, and he is imbued with the love of others, the wife would break her ceremonial bangles along with her arms, and also her big bed along with the side supports (because they failed to attract the husband to the wife).

Neither the dealer of bangles (who has so much variety of bangles to choose from) nor the bangles, including the beautiful ceremonial ones of the bride, proved useful to attract her husband. The arms that do not hug the husband feel burning. (Similarly, if the religious garb and symbols of a human bride do not connect her with Waheguru, she should burn her garb and symbols).

All my friends have gone to enjoy (are enjoying) their union with Waheguru, (but I am without Him). I am deeply unfortunate for being disconnected from Waheguru, so whose door should I go to for advice? I take pride in being highly skilled and having many good qualities, but my Lord does not like even a single one of them, oh my friend. Like a wife who beautifies herself with different attractive hairstyles to please her husband, I also did a lot of religious makeups, but (now I know) they are not approved in Waheguru's Court, as a result of which I am slowly crying in dull pain. On seeing me crying (because of my sincere suffering due to my separation from Waheguru), the whole world and the jungle birds cried with me in sympathy, but my pain of separation from the Lord did not cry with me (my heart was not moved and stayed indifferent, which had caused my separation from the Lord in the first place).
You came in my dream and left when the dream was over; I cried to drench my clothes in Your separation; I cannot come to visit You, and cannot even send a message to You, oh my dear Waheguru. I wish for the fortunate sleep in my eyes with the hope that I may be able to see my Lord in my dream again.
If someone talks to me about You, guess what I will offer to him, oh my dear Waheguru? I will cut my head to make a seat for him and serve him without my head. (This sacrifice is not a high price to pay) Because why would I not die (kill my ego) for my Waheguru, and offer my mind (wisdom) to please my Lord, who has become a stranger to me now, oh Nanak. 1.3.

Word Meaning: Bherm Bhoolaaya = misguided by doubts. Virla = some rare. 1. Aasun = yoga meditation positions. Indri = senses. Kmaayay = works toward. 2. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Oolti Bhuyee = change in thinking. 3. Bhunut(i) = says. Mildou Muraiy = kills desires on meeting with the Guru. Mumta = parental love for the family; worldly attachments. Mul(u) = filth. Ottraiy = comes off. 4.

MEANING: The whole world is misled by the misgiving that taking dips in holy waters washes away their sins, but some rare individual realizes that taking dips in holy waters may clean one's body, but if his mind is full of filth, then everything is filthy about him, and washing the body does not clean his mind. 1. Recite only Waheguru's name; this is the treasure that the Guru has bestowed upon me, oh my mind. Pause.
If someone learns the meditating positions of the Yogis to control his senses and works toward that objective (leads his life that way), such practice simply boosts his haumein (ego and selfishness), but the filth of his mind does not go away. 2. There is no other way to control your mind (and senses) than to take shelter of the Guru; when someone is connected to the Guru (spiritually), his thinking is reversed (he loves Guru's Shabad and gets detached from Maya), and the level of his spiritual state (blissfulness) becomes high beyond description. 3. On connecting with the Guru, the devotee's worldly desires are eradicated, and he starts a new life based on the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak(u). His filth of worldly attachment is washed away, and his mind becomes clean (pure). 4.1.

Subhna nudr(i) Aik haiy, Aapay ferk(u) kuray. Nanak Satgur(i) miliyaiyn ful(u) paaya, Naam(u) vudaayee, dayay. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Nudri = kind sight of Waheguru; benevolence. Sayv = service . 1.
Chayt(i) = remember. Aiko = only Waheguru. Na Moolay = not at all. Pause.
Mur(i) Kaiy = after killing selfishness and ego. Vusaiy = gets enshrined. 2.
Chaakhiyou = tasted. Sa = that. Un Rus = in other tastes. Bhaayay = in love for. 3.
Ferk(u) = differentiates. Ful(u) Paaya = reaps the rewards. Vudaayee = honour. 4.

MEANING: Remember (worship) only the eternal Waheguru, oh my mind. By serving only Waheguru, one acquires all comforts and never suffers. Pause.
But one can serve Satguru and other humanity only by the benevolence of Waheguru. One can control and purify one's mind only with the grace of Waheguru. 1.
One can live a high spiritual life by killing his worldly desires with the kind sight of Waheguru, and it is also with the benevolence of Waheguru that He comes to reside in the devotee's heart when he follows the Guru's Shabad. It is with the grace of God that one can recognize Waheguru's Huqam and stay absorbed in His Naam. 2. The tongue that does not taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam feels as if it is burning. It keeps enjoying the various attractions of Maya, and suffers as a result. 3. Waheguru has the same kind sight for everyone, but does differentiate between people (based on their deeds and thinking). When one gets spiritually connected with Satguru, he reaps the rewards, and Waheguru bestows honour on the devotees who recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Nanak munmukh(i) bundh haiy, Gurmut(i) mookt(i) kuraayay. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Goobaar(u) = complete darkness. Doojaiy = in the other (Maya). Purj = people; masses. Vigoyee = misled. 1. Kerni = performance. Saar(u) = supreme. Ruveh(i) = remember; recite Waheguru's Naam. Moakh Dooaar(u) = door to salvation. Pause. Nidhaan = treasure; source. Vichhurri = separated; detached. 2. Ghut(i) Guyyay = fell short; went in loss. Huth(i) Kihou Na Aaya = did not gain anything. Such(u) = eternal Truth; Waheguru. 3. Aasa Munsa = hopes and wishes. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Bundh = imprisoned. 4.

MEANING: Attachment with Maya creates deep darkness in the mind (where it cannot see right from wrong); but the mind cannot be enlightened (to dispel the darkness) without the Guru. Only those individuals recognize this fact who follow the Guru's Shabad, but the masses are misled in their love for Maya. 1. To live life according to the Guru's advice is the supreme performance of human duty, oh, my mind. The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, reaches the door of salvation (is salvaged). Pause. There is only one source of noble qualities (Waheguru), and only that devotee acquires those qualities whom Waheguru bestows upon with His benevolence. Everybody is disconnected from Waheguru without His Naam; they can be connected to Him only through the Guru's Shabad. 2. Maya-engrossed people (disconnected with Waheguru) run into loss (of noble qualities) while pursuing worldly things and still achieve nothing. One gets connected with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 3. The human body is all about hopes and wishes (spends life in their pursuit), but one should enlighten their mind with Waheguru's Light (His Naam). The follower of his mind is imprisoned by the allurements of Maya, but can get freedom by the Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Nanak vayk keetiun(u), Naamay luyyiun(u) laayay. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Sohaagni = married (to God); connected with Him. Oojla = clean; pious. Sehj(i) = in a high (blissful) spiritual state. Soobhaayay = in love with. Raaveh(i) = enjoy the union. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 1. Dohaagni = condemned; disconnected with Waheguru. Khurriyaan = standing; in discomfort. Bil-laayay = cry (for help). Mehl(u) = God's Residence; union with Him. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in love with (Maya). Kuroopi = ugly. Aagaiy = next world. 2. Goovunti = having noble qualities. Ruvaiy = remembers. Augunvunti = lacking noble qualities. Kaamni = woman; human beings. 3. Bhutaar(u) = husband; Lord. Vayk = of different characters. Keetiun = created. 4.

MEANING: Satguru has fully explained to me about Waheguru (has connected me with Him); so, recite His Naam, oh, my mind. Pause. The human-bride, who is married (connected with Waheguru) through the love for the Guru, enjoys the high spiritual state (of blissfulness), and has a radiant face (pious mind). She gets rid of her selfishness and ego and remembers her Waheguru-Husband constantly. 1. (On the other hand), the ones who are disconnected with Waheguru cry in discomfort for help and cannot reach Waheguru's Palace (connect with Him). Due to their love for Maya, they look ugly (unholy) and suffer (receive punishment) in the next world (Waheguru's Court). 2.
The devotees possess noble qualities and retain them, and embed Waheguru's Naam in their hearts; whereas, the human-brides with bad qualities suffer and cry for help. 3.
Even though everybody has the same Waheguru as their Husband (Lord), nothing can be said about who receives His love and who remains deprived of it. He has created humans of different characters, and only some of them get motivated to recite His Naam, oh, Nanak. 4.4.

Vudhuns(u) Mehla 3: Amrit Naam(u) sud meettha laaga, Gur Shabadi saad(u) aayaa. Sachi Bani, sehj(i) smaani, Hur(i) Jeeo mun(i) vusaaya. 1. Hur(i), kur(i) kirpa Satguru milaaya. Pooraiy Satgur(i) Hur(i) Naam(u) dhiyaaya. 1. Ruhaou. Brahmaiy Bayd bani pergaasi, Maya moh pusaara. Muhadeo Giyani vertaiy, ghur(i) aapnaiy taamus(u) buhout ahunkaara. 2. Nanak Ikkus(u) bin(u) mein uver(u) na jaana, subhna deevaan(u) Duyyaala. 5.5.

Word Meaning: Sud = always. Saad(u) = taste. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. 1.

Pergaasi = created. Pusaara = expanse. Muhadeo = Shiva. Vertaiy = is considered. Taamus(u) = anger. Ahunkaara = ego. 2. Kishan(u) = Vishnu. Avtaareen Roodha = busy in reincarnating. Chookaiy = lifted; cleared. Moh Goobaara = darkness due to attachments. 3. Nistaara = salvation. Baiyraagi = detached from the world; (attached with God). 4. Vertaiy = operates. Pritpaala = raising and nurturing. Deevaan(u) = support. 5.

MEANING: One enjoys the taste of the Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam, which is always sweet with Guru's Shabad. Guru's eternal Bani (Shabad) leads the devotee to attain the high spiritual state by getting him absorbed in the Shabad, as a result of which Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart. 1. Waheguru connects His devotees with the Guru by His benevolence, and the Perfect Satguru recites Waheguru's Naam (and reinforces it in devotee's heart). Pause. Brahma illuminated the contents of the Vedas (which he is believed to have written) and disseminated the allure of Maya throughout the world (the Vedas discuss Maya alone). Shiva is considered to be a spiritually knowledgeable god, but he is full of anger and ego at heart. 2. (The third most popular god of Hindus), Vishnu is always busy in reincarnating (he has ten reincarnations), so who should the world follow to swim across (the sea of Maya) and get salvation? The Sikhs of the Guru are imbued in the Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) with which their darkness of worldly attachments is cleared. 3. Guru's Sikhs swim across the sea of Maya and find salvation in the shelter of the Guru. They are detached from worldly attractions and are imbued with Waheguru's Naam, whereby they find the door to salvation. 4.
Only Waheguru is operating in everybody's heart, raising and nourishing them. I do not recognize anyone other than the kind Waheguru, who is the support (provider) for everyone, oh, Nanak. 5.5.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = truthfulness; Waheguru. Sunjum(u) = self-control. Tut(u) = the origin (Waheguru). Giyan(u) = connection with God. 1. Nibhaiy = accompanies till the end. Pause. Put(i) = honour. Soyay = Waheguru. Sukhaayee = friend. 2. Vudaayee = respect. Kerni = performance (of deeds); lifestyle. Saar(u) = supreme. Purvaaraiy = family; associates. Sadhaar(u) = support. 3 & 4.

MEANING: A true Sikh of the Guru does not need any special effort to acquire Waheguru (His Naam) in his heart and to achieve self-control; they follow (are acquired by him) automatically when he makes connection with Waheguru (remembers Him) in the shelter of the Guru). 1. Remember Waheguru's Naam which accompanies you and stays with you all the time in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. Pause. For a Sikh of the Guru, the presence of Waheguru in his heart is the basis of his (high) caste (social status) and his honour. In other words, those things have no importance for the Sikh. He has a Waheguru-friend in his heart. 2. However, only that individual becomes a Sikh of the Guru to whom Waheguru is benevolent, and He Himself bestows honour upon the Sikh. 3. Noble and truthful living based on the Shabad of the Guru is the supreme performance for the Sikh; he also supports (motivates) his associates to follow his lifestyle, oh, Nanak. 4.6.

Nanak mustuk(i) jis vudbhaag(u). Gur kee Bani sehj baiyraag(u). 4.7.

Word Meaning: Rusna = tongue. Sehj(i) = in a high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Soobhaayay = with love. Triptiyya = fully contented. 1. Suntokhiyaan = contented. Liv = deep meditation. Dooja Bhaaou = love for Maya. 2 Purmul(u) = sweet fragrance. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Baiyraag(u) = detachment from the world. 3&4.

MEANING: My tongue is enjoying the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam by reciting it with love, and I have acquired the state of blissfulness; also, my mind has become fully content because of the recitation of God's Naam. 1. I am a sacrifice for my Satguru because pondering on His Shabad provides great comfort. Pause. Word Meaning: Sachi = everlasting. Sach(u) = approved by Waheguru; fully rewarding. Dhoon(i) = concentration of mind. Salaahna = singing praise. 1. Vit-houn = for. Bul(i) Jaaoun = sacrifice life. Daasaan = slaves. Pause. Jihva = tongue. Sachi = real (performs its real duty); pious. Rutti = imbued. Junum Khoyay = waste away human life. 2. Khayti = farming. Beejna = sowing. Laaha = benefit. Bhundaara = treasures. 3. Pehnuna = wearing clothes. Tayk = support. Bukhshay = bestows. 4. Mool(i) Na = absolutely not. Sachiyaar = truthful; holy. 5. Snaayay = praise. Sach(u) Thaan(i) = holy gathering where God's praise is sung. 6 Moorut(u) = time; moment. Aakaar(u) = creation. 7. Bhaavaiy = likes. Rukhsi = keeps. Rujaayay = with (His) Will. 8.1.

MEANING: The holy compositions in praise of Waheguru are eternal (they never fail to connect with Waheguru), the meditation on Waheguru's Naam with full devotion is fully rewarding, and so is the pondering on the Guru's Shabad. It is my great fortune when I sing Waheguru's praise. 1. I will gladly lay down my life for Waheguru's Naam, oh, my mind. One acquires Waheguru's Naam when he serves Him like a slave of His slaves. Pause. The tongue, which is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, is real (pious) and performs its real duty, and pious are the body and the mind. The individual who praises someone other than Waheguru wastes his precious human life. 2.

Just like any business, like farming and trading, Waheguru's Naam is the business and the seeding of the crop for a devotee. His daily gain in this business is the acquisition of the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, of which the treasures are always full (unlike other forms of wealth, which run out on being used, the wealth of Waheguru's Naam never experiences any shortage, no matter how many devotees acquire it). 3. For a devotee, Waheguru's Naam is his food, his clothing, and his support (He always keeps Waheguru in mind, no matter what he does). But only that lucky individual acquires it whom Waheguru bestows upon; such a devotee is given room in His Palace (is honoured in His Court). 4. Such devotees are born pious (with Waheguru's Naam in their heart), leave the world pious, and are never born again because they are proved to be pious in the Court of Waheguru, and merge into Him. 5. I am a sacrifice to my Satguru, with whose benevolence I sing Waheguru's praise in the company of holy saints, and acquire Waheguru's Naam and purity of mind. 6. That time, that moment, was pious (was lucky for me) when I fostered love for Waheguru in my mind. Now I see Waheguru everywhere; I sing His praise, and realize that His whole creation is real. 7. But I got connected with Waheguru only because He connected me with Him, oh Nanak. He protects me (from the attacks of Maya) the way He pleases. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Munooaa = mind. Dhaavnda = runs uncontrolled. Indri = the five senses. Viyaap(i) Adhikaayee = influencing strongly; overpowering; Suntaavaiy = cause mental unrest. 1. Wah(u) Wah(u) = Waheguru's praise. Sehjay = in a blissful state. Ruveejaiy = can be recited. Doolubh(u) = invaluable; extremely difficult to acquire. Pause.

Cheen(i) = by recognizing; by pondering on. Nij Ghur(u) = own heart. 2.
Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Mun Chindiya = as wished. Ful(u) = reward. 3.
Neech = (spiritually) ignoble. Ootum = superior; noble. Vudiyaayi = greatness. 4.
Bikh(u) = poison. Boodh(u) = wisdom. Ukk(u) = a bush-like bitter and wild plant (Calotropis procera). Permul = sandal tree. Vaashna = fragrance. 5. Maanus = human. Khuttiya = make it worthwhile (successful). 6. Bikh(u) = poison; Maya; vices. Ahila = highly valuable. Bhaaya = liked. 7. Vusaaya = embedded. Moakh Mookut(i) = salvation. 8.

MEANING: The human mind wanders around in all ten directions (as prompted by its five basic senses and five implementing senses) (and is never peaceful), so how can it sing Waheguru's praise? Man's senses strongly overpower him, and lust and rage cause him mental unrest all the time. 1. Waheguru's Naam is acquired by only a few people in the world; its sweet taste can be enjoyed only with the wisdom (Advice) of the Guru when the devotee sings Waheguru's praise to attain the high spiritual state. Pause.
When the mind of a devotee is purified by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, he sings Waheguru's praise. When he analyzes his inner self with Guru's advice, his mind stays calm (becomes peaceful) (and he embeds Waheguru's Naam in there). 2.
Always sing Waheguru's praise while imbued in His love, oh my mind. Waheguru is always pure at heart (does no injustice), and is the source of all comforts; sing His praise to reap the rewards of your choice. 3. By coming to Waheguru's shelter, I was transformed from an ignoble to a spiritually superior individual. It was His real greatness that He pulled me, a stone-hearted, out (of the world sea) as I was drowning in there. 4.
I acquired Guru's wisdom (His advice), which transformed me from a poison (a bitter person who hurt many people) to amrit (a sweet and polite individual who motivated people to recite Waheguru's Naam). It was like changing a ukk plant into a sandalwood tree, as I acquired a sweet fragrance (Guru's advice) in my mind. 5. Human life is invaluable and is rarely available; a devotee makes it really worthwhile (successful) in this life. One recites Waheguru's Naam when he connects with Satguru through his great fortune. 6.
Those who are disconnected from Waheguru (follow their own mind) are engrossed in the vices of Maya, thereby wasting their invaluable human life. They do not like Guru's eternal Shabad, and therefore also do not like Waheguru's Naam, which is the sea (source) of all comforts. 7. Everybody utters Waheguru with their tongue, but some rare individual enshrines it in their heart. Those who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts attain freedom from the bonds of Maya and attain salvation, oh, Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body; soul. Koorr(i) = in falsehood; in love with Maya. Vigaarr(i) = make impure; contaminate. Saach = purity; piety. Pervaan(u) = acceptable. Taam(i) = then. Likhay Baajhoun = without written (Huqam of Waheguru). Soorut(i) = (spiritual) understanding; in thoughts (mind). 1. Ta = only then. Kehn(u) = words of praise. Bhaaya = liked. Dayra = dwelling; source. Dhaaya = demolished. Jaam(i) = when. 2. Vaari = turn. Kirt(u) Kmaavna = deeds done. Jhuggraa = argumentation. Vunjaavna = suffer humiliation. Shreeki = rivalry. Rooaavna = cry; complain. Vaavna = boast or complain publicly. 3. Kaurra = discomforts; troubles. Meettha = comforts; happiness. Poonn(u) Daan = forced donations to brahmans. Anayk Kerni = countless religious rituals. Sumsuray = equal. Kerm(u) = benevolence. Dhoor(i) = right from the origin. Kuday = sometime. 4.

MEANING: What is the use of taking dips in holy waters when you have contaminated your body (soul) with immoral deeds resulting from your attraction for Maya? Only those dips are acceptable to Waheguru when one lives a truthful and pious life. One acquires Waheguru (gets connected with Him) when his heart is pure, and he has Waheguru's Naam at heart. However, one acquires no spiritual understanding (enlightenment) unless it is written in his fate with Waheguru's Huqam. Otherwise, he simply wastes his spoken words (they are of no spiritual use to him). One should enshrine Satguru's Shabad in his thoughts, and talk (pray) for the wellbeing of all (sing Waheguru's praise) wherever he goes. What is the use of taking holy dips when one's soul is contaminated with immorality? 1.

I have said a few words in Your praise only because You enabled me to do so, oh Waheguru. Your Naam is the real Amrit, and I like it. I found Your Naam to be sweet whereby the source of all my discomforts has been demolished. With Your Will, Your Naam has been implanted in my heart. You have created Yourself, oh Waheguru; I can only pray to You, but it is Your benevolence that You cast a kind sight on me to sing Your praise. I have said a few words in Your praise only because You enabled me to do so. 2.

The Lord pulls one from the deep well of Maya (severs his bonds with Maya) when his turn comes, which is based on the deeds performed by him. You should not criticize anyone for their bad behaviour (because everybody leads their life as per the prewritten Will of Waheguru for them). So, when you criticize someone, you create an unwarranted dispute not just with the person under attack, but also with Waheguru, who tailored his lifestyle; as a result, you will suffer humiliation. By criticizing someone, you are playing a rival to the Lord with whom you should have friendship (take His shelter); otherwise, how can you cry for His help when you appear in His Court? You should accept (be satisfied with) whatever He gives you, keep your feelings inside you, and not complain in public. Waheguru pulls one out of the deep well of Maya when his turn comes, which is based on his deeds. 3.

Waheguru has created everyone, and casts kind sight on all of them. But nobody asks for troubles, everybody asks for comforts and happiness in life. Anyone can ask for happiness, but Waheguru delivers only what He likes (what the individual deserves). Some people make donations (to Brahmans) and perform countless other religious rituals to have happiness in life, but no ritual or any other approach comes even close to reciting Waheguru's Naam. However, one acquires His Naam in the heart only if it has been written in his fate by the benevolence of Waheguru right from the beginning, oh Nanak. Waheguru creates everybody, and casts a kind sight on them all. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Vukhaana = say, recite. Oopaayay = created. Serb Smaana = present everywhere. Dhundhaiy Laayiya = put in the business related to Maya. Bhikh = begging for living. Bhuvaayiya = made to wander. Ait(i) = this. Bherm Bhoolaana = misled in this misgiving (falseness of Maya). Taam(i) = only then. 1.
Soor(i) Nur = god-like humans. Sooghurr = wise. Soojaana = knowledgeable. Moheh(i) = robbed by; captivated by. Chayteh(i) = remember. Ehila = priceless. Moorr Moogudh = foolish and ignorant. Na Moolay = not at all. 2.
MEANING: I recite Your Naam only when You are kind to me, oh Waheguru. Waheguru has created everybody, and is present in everybody (and everywhere). Waheguru is omnipresent and puts everybody in business related to Maya. He makes some people rulers, while making some others beggars who have to wander around to collect alms. He has made greed and worldly attachments sweet for the people, as a result of which, they get misled (engrossed in such attachments). I can recite Your Naam all the time only when You are kind to me, oh Waheguru. 1.
Your Naam is immortal (the only way to connect with God in any eon), and I love it, oh Waheguru. All discomforts are eradicated with Waheguru's Naam, and comforts take their place in one's life. Gods-like men, wise, and knowledgeable people, sing Waheguru's praise (in their own way), but only those sing Your real praise whom You like, oh Lord. The Maya-engrossed individuals do not remember Waheguru, and waste away their precious human life. Many foolish and ignorant people do not realize that everyone who is born has to leave this world (and nothing will be theirs forever, except the Naam), and do not remember Waheguru at all. Your Naam is eternal (the only way to lead to connect with Waheguru in any eon), and I love it, oh Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Vukhut = time (to sing Waheguru's praise). Bhaaou = love; reverence. Saaou = taste. Joyay = which; who. Churreh(i) Suvaaya = many-fold increase (in spirituality). Kerm(u) Dherm(u) = religious rituals. Ikk(u) Na = not even one. Sunjum(u) = control on sensual desires. Aik(u) = "One" (Waheguru). 3. Raj(u) = Kingship. Nihchul = permanent; everlasting. Kubhoon Na = never. Chaakur = servant of love. Sehj(i) = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Dooshmun(u) = the five demons. Naavyay = Naam. 4.

MEANING: The time when I sing Your praise is very soothing, and the holy compositions in Your praise are the real Amrit. Your devotees serve You (sing Your praise) with affection, and enjoy the taste (of this Amrit). Those (devotees) who acquire Waheguru's Naam-Amrit enjoy its sweet taste, and the sweetness (their enjoyment of the Naam) increases many-fold all the time. Not even a single religious ritual or control on sensual pleasures is worth anything if the devotee does not recognize (make a connection with) the "One" (Waheguru). The time when I sing God's praise is very soothing, and the holy compositions in His praise are the real Amrit. 3.
I am a sacrifice for Waheguru's Naam. Your Kingship (rule over the universe) is eternal, and never goes away (never ceases), and is permanent forever. Your slave (devotee) is the one who stays in the blissful state of spirituality (above the effects of Maya). None of the five demon enemies (lust, rage, greed, etc.) can impact Your devotee in any way, and no sin can even come near him. I am always a sacrifice for Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: You have Your devotees in every eon who sing Your praise at Your door, oh, Lord. They worship only "One" Waheguru. But the eternal Waheguru appears in their mind only when they get rid of their misgivings and their doubts (about Maya) -which have been created by Him - and when they enshrine His Naam in their heart. With the grace (mediation) of the Guru, please be kind to me and free me from the jaws of the Angel of death (from the misdeeds which lead to him), oh Waheguru. You have Your devotees in every eon, oh God. 5. How can I pray to You when I cannot express myself, oh the great, incomprehensible, and limitless Waheguru? I can recognize (connect with You) only if You cast a kind sight on me. I can recognize Your true existence only when You make me understand (connect me with You) and when You dispel my worries about the worldly problems, including hunger, created by You in the world, oh Lord. I humbly submit that such worries are eradicated only when one ponders on Guru's Shabad. The incomprehensible, and the limitless Waheguru is Great!! 6.

Word Meaning: Bunkay = impressive; beautiful. Loyin = eyes. Dunt = teeth. Reesaala = enjoying all tastes; healthy; beautiful. Lummrray Vaala = long attractive hair. Kunchun Kaaya = gold-like body (attractive and shiny). Dhaala = moulded. Krishan Maala = long, flower garland (like the one Vishnu used to wear). Jum Dooaar = at the door of the Angel of death. Sikh = advice. Muhaliyou = ladies. Huns = swan; a Gur Sikh. Hunsa = white. Bug = heron, an imposter. Bugga = white. Jaala = blinders. 7.

MEANING: You have created human beings with beautiful eyes and with beautiful and healthy teeth, oh Waheguru. They have very nice noses and beautiful, long hair. Their bodies are beautiful and shiny (radiant) as if they have been moulded in gold. (But, as You are present in them, all their beautiful features are Yours as well). So, worship Waheguru, whose body has been moulded in gold, and who wears a long flower-garland around His neck, as Vishnu did, oh my friends. If you listen to this advice (of worshipping Waheguru), you will not have to queue up at the door of the Angel of death (will not have to appear before him as you will merge into Waheguru), oh ladies (human brides). By worshipping Waheguru, the blinders of the mind of a man are removed, and he can see the damaging effects of Maya clearly; and like a white heron (which is an imposter as it can be mistaken for a white swan from a distance), he can be transformed into a real swan (Gurmukh). In other words, a Maya-engrossed person who is disconnected from Waheguru (an imposter like a heron) can be transformed into a Gurmukh (like a swan, which is not deceitful). You have beautiful eyes and beautiful, healthy teeth, oh Waheguru. 7.

The gait of the human beings (women) created by You is very attractive, and they have a honey-like sweet language (since You are sitting in them, these attractive features are in fact Yours, oh Waheguru). Your nature is also very beautiful, in which the cuckoos sing in a sweet voice, and which is full of capricious youths. Waheguru, Himself, likes the capricious beauties, and He has fulfilled His own wish by creating them. He Himself adorns the beautiful damsels who walk majestically in small steps like a conceited elephant. On the other hand, the devotees of Waheguru are imbued with His love and roam intoxicated in it, their pure hearts like the water of the river Ganga, which the Hindus believe to be pure and holy. I, Nanak, humbly submit that Your gait is attractive, and Your language is sweet like honey, oh Waheguru. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Pir = Dear; husband. Rung(i) Rutty = imbued in the love. Mooyiyaiy = dead from Maya's perspective (has killed her sensual desires). Raavay = enjoys (affection). Bhaayay = (with) love. Kunt(i) = (by) husband. Nayh(u) = affection. Ruchaaya = engaged; is equally loved. Sa = that. Dhun = woman (devotee). Soohayee = adorned; having noble qualities. Kusayee = attracted by. 1. MEANING: The human bride who has killed her worldly desires, and is imbued in the love of her Waheguru-Husband, earns praise everywhere, and with Guru's Shabad in mind, and with her love for Waheguru, she enjoys union with her dear Waheguru. Because of her love and devotion to her Waheguru-Husband, she is equally loved in return and adorned by Him with noble qualities. By killing her selfishness and her ego with Guru's Shabad, she stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. The human bride (devotee) who has adorned her life with noble qualities and is full of love for Waheguru is attracted to Him and is dear to Him. Waheguru connects such a devotee with Him whom He has adorned with noble qualities, oh Nanak. 1.

Believe that Waheguru is close to you, oh, the bride (devotee), lacking all the noble qualities. The devotees, who have enjoyed the company of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, find Him present everywhere. See the omnipresent Waheguru close to you, oh, the new devotee; He has been believed in, and is worshipped as the only supreme power in every eon. The devotee, who is child-like (pure-minded) and innocent, recites Waheguru's Naam in the blissful state and gets connected with Waheguru, who is the carver of our fates. The devotee, who recites Guru's Shabad with love and reverence, takes dips in the Waheguru's Naam-Pool (stays imbued in His love) all the time. Only that devotee is loved by Waheguru who sees the omnipresent Waheguru close to her with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 2.

Approach the human brides (devotees) who have overcome their worldly desires and have killed their selfishness and ego, to ask them (how they got bonded with Waheguru), oh, ignorant young devotee. Those who do not kill their selfishness and ego do not understand Waheguru's Huqam and invite spiritual death. But those devotees who get rid of their selfishness and ego enjoy blissfulness in Waheguru's love. They are always imbued with Waheguru's love and intoxicated by it; they attain a high spiritual state and recite His Naam all the time. That woman (human being) is highly fortunate who stays concentrated on Waheguru's Naam in His love. The devotee who adorns her soul with Waheguru's love is imbued with His love and attains the spiritual state beyond the effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 3. Get rid of your selfishness and ego, and follow the Guru's Advice to lead your life, oh, ignorant woman; otherwise, you will be inviting spiritual death. If you kill your worldly desires, your mind will stay in its place (will quit wandering and become peaceful), and you will enjoy the union of your Waheguru-Husband. The devotee, who plays the music of Guru's Shabad in her mind (sings Waheguru's praise), gets control of her mind and stays married to her Waheguru-Husband all the time. Waheguru-Husband is always young and youthful, and is the source of all bliss; He adorns His devotees with noble qualities. The devotee, who has good fortune written on her forehead (most people believe that one's fortune is written on his forehead), is adorned with the eternal Shabad of the Guru, and acquires Waheguru as her husband (Lord). The woman (human bride) is imbued with Waheguru's love if she obeys the Guru's Advice, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Vapaar(u) = business; means of earning. Bhulaa = good; noble. Sehjay = uninfluenced by Maya. Laaha = (added) benefit. Raaveejaiy = recite God's Naam. Sungreh(i) = accumulate. Uvgun = bad qualities. Vikneh = to sell; to disown for good. Niraali = unique; different; tough (because one has to break the bonds of attraction of Maya). 1. Khayti = crop (of Waheguru's Naam). Jumaayay = grow. Ghur Undar(i) = in own mind. Bhoonch(u) = take in; enjoy. Perthaayay = in the next world. Vunuj(u) = trade. Trishna = desire more and more. Soobhaayay = with love. 2. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Munee = precious jewel. Nij = own. Baiyraago = detachment from Maya (and love for Waheguru). Buouraana = crazy. Soohaago = married; loved by husband. Bhuou Bhunjun(u) = destroyer of fear (Waheguru). 3. Vudiyaayi = praise; honour. Suvaarunhaara = one who adorns; one who enables to achieve the objective successfully. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (God). 4.

MEANING: Any business (to earn a living) is noble for a Gur Sikh if it is done without any influence of the attractions of Maya. One should recite Waheguru's Naam (keep Him in mind) all the time (no matter what business he is pursuing). The added benefit of keeping Waheguru in mind is that the individual enjoys the sweet taste of His Naam (and his spiritual level is raised). To have this additional benefit, one should worship Waheguru by reciting His Naam as a result of which, the devotee recognizes self, and accumulates noble qualities when his ignoble qualities are sold (gotten rid of) easily (without any special effort on his part because for the noble qualities to get in, the ignoble must be out. It was a huge blessing of the Guru that He imparted His Advice to me; now I am enjoying the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad. Waheguru's worship is unique (it detaches one from the effects of Maya), and only a rare devotee does it, oh Nanak. 1.

Like a famer seeds his field, the Sikh of the Guru sows the seed of Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and grows it in his body. One can enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in his own heart (mind), and get the benefit for the next world. To enshrine Waheguru's Naam in the heart is the best kind of farming or of business, and one also carries its benefit to the next world. One can recite Waheguru's Naam and enshrine it in his heart by pondering (and acting) on Guru's Shabad. The Maya-engrossed individuals exhaust themselves in farming or doing some other businesses to earn wealth, but their appetite to acquire more and more never gets satisfied. So, plant the seed of Waheguru's Naam in your mind with Guru's eternal Shabad with love, oh Nanak. 2.

Only those individuals who deal in the business of Waheguru's Naam get the jewel of their fortune to shine on their forehead. One's mind stays in itself (quits wandering and becomes peaceful) with Guru's Advice, and he severs all worldly bonds to foster love for Waheguru. Those devotees whose fate shines on their faces and foreheads become thoughtful, and, because of their love for Waheguru, they are imbued with His love. One can kill his selfishness and his ego with Guru's Shabad; without Waheguru's Naam, the whole world is going insane (for Maya). When a devotee begins to love and follow the Guru's eternal Shabad, she acquires new wisdom; and by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, she gets married to (united with) Waheguru. The devotee, whose fortune shines on her forehead, begins to recite Guru's Shabad, and realizes the destroyer of all fears –Waheguru - and enjoys union with Him, oh Nanak. 3.

Whatever means a man pursues to earn his living, he does so by Waheguru's Will; so, we should not complain about our situation in life; we should rather accept His Will gladly. One gets honoured in Waheguru's Court when he accepts Waheguru's Will (Huqam). However, one realizes Waheguru's Huqam only through the Advice of the Guru, who connects the devotee to Waheguru. When a devotee obeys the Huqam of the limitless Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad, he attains a high state of spirituality which is above the effects of Maya. Waheguru adorns the soul of His devotee with noble qualities when he seeks the Guru's advice, whereby the devotee earns an everlasting respect. When Waheguru connects a devotee with the Guru, he gets rid of his selfishness and ego in the Guru's shelter, who then connects the devotee with Waheguru. When one recites the Naam of the inaccessible, incomprehensible, and the omnipresent Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, he stays absorbed in Him with His Will, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = the eternal Waheguru. Samaal(i) = remember. Ghur(i) = home; heart. Poh(i) = come near; touch. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Joh(i) = watch closely; frighten. Ruhaayay = is stopped. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love for Maya. Vigooti = misled; suffer discomfiture. Mohi = captivated by. 1. Nidhaan(u) = treasure (of Naam). Vust(u) = the (valuable) thing (Naam). Bhoonch(u) = enjoy. Nihaal(i) = feel blissful. Sukhaayee = friend. Giyan = Divine Knowledge; spirituality. Vihoonay = empty; devoid of. Khooyaayi = discomfiture; humiliation. Chootay = gets freedom. Baandhi = imprisoned. 2. Pdaaruth = valuable item (human life). Apaara = limitless Waheguru. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Suntaapaiy = suffers; causes discomfort. Sach(i) Shabad(i) = in praise of Waheguru. Adhikaayee = much. Maanus = human. Doolumbh(u) = not easily available. 3. Ram = Waheguru. Mun(u) Maareh(i) = kill desires of the mind. Baiyraagi = detached from Maya. Nihchul = stable; unwavering. Ut(i) Goohrri = deeply (in love). Sehjay = in the blissful state. Vukhaaniya = recited. Kaamun(i) Hitkaari = lovers of a woman. Moh(i) = attached to. Abhaagay = unfortunate. 4.

MEANING: Remember Waheguru (recite His Naam) all the time, as a result of which your mind will be peaceful, and the spiritual death will not even come near you, oh my friend. When you concentrate on Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru, the Angel of (spiritual) death will not be able to frighten you with his net. The birth-death cycle of the devotee whose mind is always imbued in Waheguru's Naam is terminated. But the individual who loves (is engrossed in) Maya suffers discomfiture and, captivated by its gimmicks, follows the path that leads to the Angel of Death. Remember Waheguru all the time, oh my mind, advises Nanak(u). 1.

The treasure of (Waheguru's Naam) is inside you, so do not search for this precious thing outside (of you), oh my mind. Take Guru's shelter, and enjoy (accept) Waheguru's Will gladly, as a result, you will be blessed with Waheguru's kind sight; He is your friend, and resides inside you, oh my mind. The followers of their mind are blind (unenlightened), are devoid of any spirituality, and suffer humiliation because of their love for Maya. Everybody is a prisoner of the Angel of (spiritual) death (because of their strong bonds with Maya), and nobody can get freedom from this prison without Waheguru's Naam. The treasure of Waheguru's Naam is inside you, so do not look for it outside of your mind (in forests, etc.), oh Nanak. 2.
Having taken birth in a precious human form, some people get into the business of worshipping Waheguru, and serve their Satguru with the Shabad of praise of Waheguru, oh my mind. With love for Waheguru's Naam, and with the Shabad of His praise in their heart, they feel as if they have acquired all the nine mythical treasures. On the other hand, the followers of their mind suffer deeply because of their love for Maya, and lose their respect (suffer humiliation). But the devotees, who kill their selfishness and ego, are absorbed in Waheguru's praise, and stay deeply imbued in His love. Satguru has given the clear understanding that human life is not readily available (so recite Waheguru's Naam to connect with Him in this life), oh Nanak. 3.
Those are highly fortunate who serve their Satguru; and those who kill their worldly desires are fully detached from Maya (and love Waheguru), oh my mind. Those devotees are really detached from Maya, who concentrate on Waheguru's Naam and recognize the self (realize the objective of human life). They have unwavering mind (wisdom) and a deep love for Waheguru; they recite Waheguru's Naam and achieve the blissful spiritual state in the shelter of the Guru. But many just love women, find Maya very attractive, and are strongly attached to it; such followers of their mind are unlucky, spending their lives in ignorance (unaware of the consequences of such a lifestyle). Those who serve their Guru with an unwavering mind (with full devotion) are highly lucky, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Ruttan Pdaaruth = jewel-like valuable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Vunjiyeh(i) = deal in. Goon = noble qualities (Waheguru's praise). Laaha = benefit. Gooni = the source of noble qualities (Waheguru). Smaayee = gets absorbed. Adhaaray = is the support. Vukkhur = merchandize. Ait(u) = this. 1. Khota = dishonest; unrewarding. Vapaara = business. Koorr(u) = lies. Vikaara = vices; immoral acts. Sehsa = worrisome. Vaad(u) Vukhaaneh(i) = quarrelsome debates. Chookay = ends. 2. Khuray = pure. Perkhiun(i) = are tested. Tit(u) = His. Soottiun(i) = are thrown away; rejected. Oobhay = standing; in suffering. Moogudh = foolish. Guvaara = crude. Bhaaya = like. Khuttay = earn. 3. Aap(i) = (Waheguru) Himself. Laayaysi = puts (in that business). Vudiyayee = greatness; wish. Vuriyaam(u) = gallant; brave. Phoosi = weak. Kerm(i) Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Bukhshay = forgives; bestows. Put(i) = respect. 4.

MEANING: The Satguru has explained that one should deal in the precious Waheguru's Naam in human life, oh man. By acquiring noble qualities (singing praise of Waheguru), one earns the benefit of His worship, and as a consequence, one gets absorbed in (gets connected with) Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities. But only that devotee gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam whom He exhorts (gives the wisdom); that devotee earns the benefit of (is gifted with) His worship in this world (and he carries the benefit to the next world as well), and with Guru's wisdom (Advice), he makes Waheguru's Naam to be the basis of his life. There is no comfort in life without Waheguru's Naam; one loses his respect (suffers humiliation) because of his love for Maya. The merchandize of Waheguru's Naam is always beneficial, but one gets into this business only when Waheguru puts him into it. One deals in Waheguru's precious Naam when Satguru endows him with the wisdom. 1.

On the other hand, love for Maya is an unrewarding business and causes trouble because one tells lies, gets caught up in the poisonous enjoyment of short-lived pleasures, and their immoral activities increase all the time. With the increased vices, the man suffers from worries and loses his respect without Waheguru's Naam (which imparts noble qualities). The pundits (learned people) study the religious books but only to take part in aggressive debates; they cannot enjoy comfort without understanding spirituality (without praising Waheguru). The greed for more wealth is dear to them, as a result of which, the cycle of births and deaths never ends for them. The love for Maya is always troublesome, and it is an unrewarding business. 2.

All, the pure (noble), and the impure (ignoble) are tested in the Court of Waheguru, and the impure are thrown out (punished for their ignoble deeds). Suffering badly, they cry for help. The foolish and ignorant suffer and cry for help; the Maya-engrossed people waste away their precious human life. Maya is a poison which has misguided the whole world, and the Maya-engrossed people do not like Waheguru's Naam. The followers of their mind harbour enmity for the holy saints and invite trouble. The noble and the ignoble are all tested in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Waheguru does everything on His own (He makes His own decisions without any external assistance); so, whom we can complain to; there is nothing we can do (except to obey His Will), oh man. He puts people in the business of His choice (as He wishes or as per His Laws); there is no valiant or weak person on his own. Waheguru is the source of life for everybody, and is the carver of our fates; He, Himself forgives people or endows them with necessities of life (fulfills their wishes). When one gets rid of his selfishness and his ego, he earns respect with the benevolence of the Guru, oh Nanak. Waheguru does everything on His own, and there is none whom we can complain to; also, there is nothing we can do about that. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Sauda = merchandize. Sacha = everlasting wealth. Vunjiyaiy = deal in. Moal(u) = price. Afaara = extremely high. 1. Bhureejaiy = accumulates; fills up. Bheejaiy = melts; overwhelms with love. Beechaaari = ponders on. Khoohta = well; deep pit. Punihaari = who draws water from a well. Ruveejaiy = recites (Naam). 2. Pundit = learned man. Joatki = fortune tellers. Mul(u) = filth. Aavun(i), Jaan(i) = in taking birth, and dying. Bikh(u) = poison (sensual pleasures). Bishta = feces; vices; immoral acts. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (by Waheguru). Kmaavaiy = performs the same deeds. 3. Soodh(i) = consciousness. Suvaarunhaara = one who adorns; causes tasks to be completed successfully. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the true (most worthy) merchandize, and is the best business which is the everlasting possession for man. Waheguru's Naam is priceless, and one can deal in (acquire) His Naam with the wisdom imparted by the Guru (by following His Advice) only. Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam, which is priceless and is the worthiest business, are very fortunate. They are always imbued inside and outside in Waheguru's worship, and are fully focused on His Naam. But only those acquire Waheguru's Naam (get connected with Him) who ponder on (act on) Guru's Shabad with the kind sight of Waheguru. Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam and are imbued in it enjoy the real bliss, oh Nanak. 1. Attraction for Maya, and one's selfishness and ego, are huge sources of mental filth, and the man keeps accumulating it. But, with the Advice of the Guru, one's mind is purified, and he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with his tongue (enjoys its recitation). With Guru's Shabad in praise of God, one becomes thoughtful, his mind gets overwhelmed with his love for Waheguru, and he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with his tongue (recites His Naam). Man's mind is like a well which contains Amrit (Waheguru's Naam), (but it lies deep down and is not easily available), but like a woman who knows how to draw water from the well, the devotee extracts and drinks the Naam-Amrit with the Shabad of the Guru. Only those who deal in Waheguru's Naam and recite it with the tongue on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight. Those who are imbued in the Naam are pure (pious), the others accumulate filth of haumein, oh Nanak. 2.

The learned men and the fortune-tellers study their respective books, and preach the masses loudly (about the ill-effects of Maya); but themselves have the filth of their love for Maya. All their preaching is about the business of Maya, so who are they preaching to? They find the world to be attractive, and all their dealings are about Maya, as a result of which they suffer in the birth-death-birth cycle. They are worms of sensual pleasures and pursue them; and like a worm of feces, which always stays there, they stay engrossed in immoral activities. But they are not to be fully blamed because they are pursuing only those activities for which they are preprogrammed by Waheguru – the activities based on their character built over their previous lives- and nobody can erase this character of theirs (except for the Guru). Only those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam enjoy bliss, while the foolish and the crude die while preaching to others loudly, oh Nanak. 3.

Man's mind is dyed with the greed of Maya, and in his greed, he has no consciousness of spirituality (cannot tell moral from the immoral). But, if one dyes his mind (with love for Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of the Guru, his love for Maya is eradicated. When one becomes fully absorbed in God, his love for Maya disappears, and he realizes that all the treasures of the world are filled by Him (He is the only provider, and even Maya is created by Him). The devotee realizes this in the shelter of the Guru, and adorns his life (with noble qualities) by getting absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. But only that individual is connected with Waheguru, to whom He connects Himself; nothing else can be said about it (no other approach works to connect the devotee with God). The world is misled in misgivings without Waheguru's Naam, but there are some who have dyed their minds with Waheguru's love, and stay absorbed in His love, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Aavagaun(u) = subject to birth and death. Nibayrra = final decision; end Phayra = return; rebirth. Sehjay = in blissful spiritual state. Bhaaya = liked. Bhuvjul(i) = in the world-sea. 1. Burl(u) = fit of foolishness; loss of self-control. Khoovaayi = discomfiture; humiliation. Hayt(u) = love; attachment. Pulchaayee = confused. Poorb(i) Kmaayee = result of the deeds done earlier (including in previous lives). Mayt(u) = erase; undo. Srisht(i) = world. Tup(i) Tup(i) Khupaiy = suffers in irritation. Bhoolla = misled. 2. Julta = burning with frustration over unfulfilled desires. Vudaayi = respect. Daata = provider. Jaata = acknowledged (as being Supreme). Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. 3. Oopjaiy = sprouts; flourishes. Bhaayee = liked. Soobhaakhiya = recites (Waheguru's Naam) with love and respect. Ghur(i) = home; heart. Nij = own; personal. Mut(i) = wisdom; thinking. Pervaan(u) = approved. 4.

MEANING: The world is based on a birth-death-birth cycle, which ends only when one gets connected with Waheguru, oh my mind. The eternal Waheguru forgives some people with His own Will who do not fall in the birth-death cycle again. When the birth-death cycle of a devotee is broken in the shelter of the Guru, he is honoured in Waheguru's Court as he merges into Him. The devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru's love, feel intoxicated in the blissful spiritual state and stay fully absorbed in Him. They like Waheguru by mind, and enshrine Him (His Naam) in their heart, and their birth-death cycle comes to an end as they are imbued in Guru's Shabad. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's Naam remain connected to Waheguru and never take birth again in this world. 1.

The love for Maya is a fit of foolishness in which the man loses his self-control and suffers humiliation. There is love for one's parents in his mind, and he becomes confused by it (his vision blurs). But, man's confusion due to his love for his parents (connection with them) is the result of (is based on) his deeds in his previous lives, which cannot be erased by anyone (except for the Guru). The Creator of the world watches all this, and there is no one else as great. The Maya-engrossed individual is blind (to the reality of Waheguru), and suffers due to his ongoing irritation or frustration (for being unable to achieve his worldly objectives); he cannot have peace without Guru's Shabad. Without Waheguru's Naam, everyone is misled from the path of righteousness and suffers humiliation because of his love for Maya, oh Nanak. 2.

On seeing the world burning in the fire of their unfulfilled desires, I rushed to Waheguru for shelter, and prayed to the Perfect Guru to save my honour and sustain my dignity (save me from the attacks of Maya). It is Your greatness that You protect the dignity of the people who come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. There is none other as great as You are as the provider. Those are highly fortunate who come to serve Wahegutu who is recognized as the only Supreme Being, in every eon. No matter how many religious rituals one performs, and how much effort one puts into staying celibate, maintaining high character (or serving others), one cannot attain a high spiritual state without the Guru. Waheguru gives the wisdom to understand the importance of the Guru's Shabad to those who come to His shelter, oh Nanak. 3.

Only that wisdom flourishes (is acquired) which Waheguru gives to people; no other wisdom affects the individuals (they develop only that character which they are destined for), oh my friends. Waheguru is present inside and outside of us; He gives us the wisdom (character) (based on our previous deeds). He is the only one who gives wisdom that the people operate with; they cannot acquire any other wisdom. Individuals enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Such devotees sing Waheguru's praise all the time, and are treated as a part of Him (are fully enlightened) in His Court. The individual, who is honoured by Satgur(u) realizes Waheguru in his heart. Only those devotees reach Waheguru's Palace (get connected with Him) who are imbued in His Naam, and only their wisdom (character) is approved by Him, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Purakh = Waheguru like. 3 & 4.
MEANING: My Satguru has implanted love for Waheguru, and has caused His Naam to be enshrined in my heart, oh my mind. My Satguru, who has planted Waheguru's Naam in my mind, which destroys all suffering, is great and worthy of worship. But, only some highly fortunate people get His holy sight (get connected with Him). Serve the Satguru whether you are standing or sitting (meaning all the time) because your mind acquires peace when you serve Him. The Satguru has implanted love for Waheguru in me, oh my mind. 1.
I survive by having the holy sight of my Satguru (by serving Him and obeying His Advice) whereby my whole body is filled with sweetness (I feel blissful), oh Waheguru. My Satguru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in my mind, the recitation of which causes my mind to bloom. My mind is enlightened, my heart blooms when I recite Waheguru's Naam (sing His praise), and I feel as if I have realized all the nine treasures of the world. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam has eradicated the damaging illness of my selfishness and my ego, and has caused me to attain, and to stay in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Waheguru's Naam is a great honour for me, which has been bestowed upon me by my Satguru; I feel blissful to touch the Feet of my God-like Satguru (to show my reverence for Him). I survive by having a holy sight of my Satguru, whereby my mind begins to bloom. 2.
I will cut my body into pieces and offer it along with my mind to the holy saint who would narrate the Words of the Perfect Satguru to me, and bring Him to me (take me to the Satguru), and connect me with Him. My mind feels fully detached from worldly attractions and has a deep love for my Satguru; I feel blissful at the sight of His holy form. Please, be kind to me, and grant me the dust of the feet of my Satguru (opportunity to serve Him), oh my Waheguru. I wish someone had connected me with my Satguru. 3.
There is no other provider (Lord) as great as my Satguru. My Satguru is a manifestation of God and bestows the supreme gift of the Naam of Waheguru, who is above the effects of Maya. The suffering, the misgivings, and the worldly fears of the individuals who recite Waheguru's Naam get eradicated. The devotees, who foster love for the Feet of the Guru (for His Shabad), are highly fortunate, for they connect with Waheguru with the spirit of a devotional slave (devotee). Waheguru Himself connects such a devotee with the Satguru (His own manifestation), and the devotee attains a high degree of bliss. There is no other provider (Lord) as great as the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.1.

With Waheguru's grace, which is the basis of life for the whole world, I have been connected to the Guru by whose kindness I have been absorbed in Waheguru's Naam now. With Satguru's grace, I have been absorbed in Waheguru, and I have found the (Waheguru) friend whom I have been looking for (everywhere), in my own heart now. I recognized the "One" omnipresent Waheguru at first sight. I feel very depressed without my Satguru. 1.

The devotees, who are connected with the Guru (who have enshrined the Guru's Word in their hearts) by God's grace, are connected with Waheguru by the kindness of the Guru. I would drop on the feet of such devotees, and worship them (serve the devotees). I wish to worship the feet of the devotees (serve them) who have worshipped Satguru (enshrined His Word in heart), oh Waheguru. You are the greatest donor (Lord) and omniscient, please fulfil my respectful wish, oh, the majestic God. My reverent wish was fulfilled when I sang praise of Waheguru in the company of the Sikhs of the Guru. Waheguru connected me with the Sikhs of the Guru by whose kindness I was connected with Waheguru. 2.

I am a sacrifice for my dear Gur Sikh friends who recite Waheguru's Naam for me to listen - which is the basis of my life. Waheguru's Naam is the friend of my soul (basis of my life), without which I cannot survive even for a short moment. With the kindness of Waheguru, which is the source of all comfort, I drink the Naam-Amrit in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru Himself evokes His love in the heart of his devotee and adorns him with noble qualities. I am a sacrifice for my dear Gur Sikh friends. 3. Waheguru is omnipresent and is above the effects of Maya. He Himself connects His devotees with Him, and only that happens that He wishes, and nothing can be done against that. Many people have tried many forms of their cunning, but Waheguru cannot be pleased with any such wisdom. With Guru's grace, I have realized that there is no one other like Waheguru. He is the only one who is omnipresent and unaffected by Maya. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Bhaaya = like. Timmer = darkness. Ugiyaan(u) = lack of Knowledge; ignorance. Unjun = kohl (used to improve eyesight). Binaasay = eradicated. Perm Pud = highest spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). Giraasay = bite of food. Sukhaayee = close friend. Drirraaya = reinforced. Kluttar(u) = wife. Tithaiy = there. Purakh Nirunjun(u) = (manifestation of the) omnipresent and unaffected by Maya (Waheguru). 1 & 2.

Nihful(u) = worthless = Birtha. Shaakut = Maya-engrossed. Jhooray = repenting. Ruttan Pdaaruth(u) = priceless item (Waheguru's Naam). Hur(i) Hur(i) = for God's sake. Chaatrik = rainbird; a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Deen = poor; humble. Sutee = eternal. 3 & 4.

MEANING: I like (love) the Feet of my Satguru (His Shabad, and I wish to serve Him), so kindly connect me with Him, oh Waheguru. The Guru has injected the kohl of Divine Knowledge into my mind (to enlighten it, as kohl improves human eyesight), so that the darkness of my ignorance has disappeared. I recited Waheguru's Naam with every breath and every bite and attained the highest spiritual level by serving the Guru. But only those devotees get to serve the Guru whom Waheguru is kind to. I love the Feet of my Satguru, so connect me with Him, oh Waheguru. 1.

My Satguru is very dear to me, and I cannot live without Him. He implanted Waheguru's Naam in my heart, which will be my friend even at the time of my death. My Satguru has reinforced the Naam in my heart. Where there is no friend, not even your son or your wife, Waheguru's Naam gets you free from the claws of the Angel of death (from any punishment). My Satguru is very dear to me, and I cannot live without Him. 2.

Those who did not get a sight of Satguru (did not connect with Him) wasted away their precious human life. The Maya-engrossed people do not connect with Satguru (seek His shelter), and die in suffering, and repenting. Such people are unfortunate and remain hungry (devoid) of the precious Naam of Waheguru, even though it is always in their hearts. They believe Waheguru to be far away somewhere. For God's sake, do not go even near those who do not recite Waheguru's Naam, and who have not had a sight (do not seek shelter) of the Satguru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru. 3.

I am humble and poor, but long for Your sight just as a rainbird longs for the first drop of rain; I request You to please, connect me with the dear Satguru in whose shelter I wish to worship You, oh Waheguru. I can worship Waheguru and the Satguru only when Waheguru is kind to me. I have no other real friend than my Satguru, which is the basis of my life. My Satguru has reinforced the Naam of the eternal Waheguru in my mind. I am humble and poor, and like a rainbird, which longs for the first drop of rain, I long for Your Naam. I wish to make a request to Waheguru to connect me with Satguru, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Sookh-Daata = source of all comfort. Paayay Lugeh = drop at the feet. Punth = path (of high morality). Sumut(u) = the same; make no distinction. 1.
Binsay = eradicated. Paapa = sins. Luthiurray = came off; removed. Nivaaray = removed; eradicated. Khurrug(u) = sword. Kunkur = assistants. Bidaaray = destroyed. 2.
Bhaaya = liked. Gurmukh(i) = following Guru's Advice. Aroagut = healthy. Sehj = spiritual state of blissfulness. Smaadh(i) = settled in meditation. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheera = never changing; unaffected by any emotion. Ajaat(i) = low caste. 3.
Dhaarhou = adopt; show. Oobaaray = salvage. Nirgoon = without any good quality. Daiyaal = benevolent. Shernaaya = shelter. Dookh-Bhujun = destroyer of all suffering. Paathur = stone; heavily loaded with sins. Bhayt(i) = connect. Rus = sweet taste. Oodhaaray = salvage. 4.

MEANING: Please be kind and connect me with my Satguru, who is the source of all comforts, oh my Waheguru. I will ask my Satguru about the countless virtues of Waheguru. I will ask my Satguru - who has realized the precious Naam of Waheguru - about the path which leads to union with Waheguru. I took shelter of Satguru's Feet (His Shabad), who has realized Waheguru, and who, at my daily request, explained the path to connect with Waheguru. My Satguru explained to me that an individual is a true devotee of Waheguru only if he remains stoic (accepts suffering and comforts it the same way) and remains imbued in Waheguru's Naam. Please be kind to me and connect me with Satguru, the source of all comforts, oh Waheguru. 1.

All my sins due to my selfishness and ego were eradicated when I listened to Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, I have been able to eradicate all my suffering in the world. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam get their suffering and sins eradicated. Satguru gives the sword of Divine Knowledge to the devotees who kill and destroy the assistants of the Angel of spiritual death (they do not suffer from the fear of death). With the benevolence of the source of all comforts, Waheguru, all my troubles and suffering have been eradicated. 2.

By reciting it over and over again, I came to love Waheguru's Naam in my mind, and by reciting it with my tongue in the shelter of the Guru, I was able to get rid of all my illnesses. I got rid of all my illnesses (mental and physical), and I became perfectly healthy when I worshipped Waheguru in the company (shelter) of my Guru. I always remained in a high spiritual state during my meditation and recited the Naam of the unfathomable, never-changing Waheguru. Whosoever recites Waheguru's Naam with devotion, attains the highest spiritual state regardless of the fact whether he belongs to a high or to a low caste. By reciting it over and over, I came to love Waheguru's Naam. 3.

Please be kind and salvage me, oh Waheguru. I am a great sinner, have no noble quality, and yet am a humble servant of Yours. I am a sinner, have no noble quality, and am weak, but You are kind; I have come to Your shelter. You are the source of all comforts, and the destroyer of all suffering; I am loaded heavily with sins (and like a rock, will drown in the world sea); I can be afloat and swim across only if You support me, oh Waheguru. I acquired the bliss of the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam only after I got connected with Satguru, and this slave of Waheguru has been salvaged because of His Naam. Please, be kind to me and rescue me with Your kindness. 4.4.

NOTE: It is a very popular and essential custom in India for a groom to ride a ghorri (a female horse) to his bride's home to marry her. (Even though horses have been replaced with cars or other types of vehicles now) The ceremony of riding a horse by the groom is still an integral part of the marriage ceremony. Special songs, called "Ghorriyaan" are also sung at this ceremony in a special tune.

In Sikhism, the human beings are all considered as the brides of Waheguru who is considered to be the only male (Lord) in the universe. The objective of human life is to get married to Waheguru (achieve union with Him). That is why this world has been called as the paternal home and the next world as the in-laws' house in Sri Guru Granth Sahib. There are many holy Shabads in Sri Guru Granth Sahib that highlight this relationship.

Death has also been considered the bride of the valiant in Indian culture. In either case, human beings marry either Waheguru or death; so they have to ride some kind of horse to get married. Guru Ram Dass Ji has very appropriately used mare as a metaphor for human body which he must ride to go to its in-laws. Guru Sahib has written two holy Chhunts on this important subject, and He has also named them "Ghorriyaan" Also, He has written them in such a way that they can be sung with the same tune as the traditional songs.

The mare the groom rides is adorned as much as people can afford. Similarly, the human body, to be used as the mare to ride to have union with Waheguru, must be adorned (with noble qualities). Guru Sahib has done an amazing job in making the comparison of human body with the horse, and how to adorn the human body with noble qualities to have union with God.

Enjoy the holy Shabads.

MEANING: The human body is like a mare which has been created by God, oh Waheguru. The human form is great (because one can unite with Waheguru only in the human form), which one acquires because of his noble deeds done in his previous lives. One acquires the human form with great fortune, but only that individual makes his body (life) pure like gold who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and dyes his mind with the deep and new colour of his love for Waheguru. The human body is beautiful because it is only with the human body that one can recite Waheguru's Naam – the Naam which makes it very attractive (pure). Waheguru's Naam is the best friend of man, and Waheguru gives the human body to the soul that has performed noble deeds in its previous lives, oh Nanak. 1.

After understanding Waheguru's virtues, I saddle my body-mare with such noble qualities, and ride the adorned horse to swim across the tough world-sea. The sea of Maya (world-sea) has countless attractive waves that captivate the man (and keep him trapped in there); so, one can swim across the world-sea only in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru (Guru's Shabad) is the ship to go across the world-sea, which is steered by the Guru. So, to get on to the Waheguru-Ship, one must sing Waheguru's praise day and night and dye one's mind in the love of the colourful Waheguru. (By singing Waheguru's praise) I have acquired the supreme state of spirituality, which is above the effects of Maya, and is liked by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

A bridle is used in the mouth of the horse to control it; I have used Guru's Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) on my tongue, and reinforced it all the time to control my body (and mind). A whip is used to move a horse. I use my love for Waheguru as the whip to motivate my tongue if it does not recite Waheguru's Naam. I listen to the words in praise of Waheguru as spoken by the Guru with my ears, and I dye my mind-mare with the love of Waheguru. Riding such an adorned body-mare, I can travel on the extremely difficult journey of life (in which there are so many barriers of sensual pleasures), oh Nanak. 3.

The human body is like a horse created by Waheguru. That mare is great and worthy of praise, with which the man can recite Waheguru's Naam. The human body is praiseworthy and deserves accolades because it is only in the human form that one can recite Waheguru's Naam, and it is given to the man because of the accumulated noble deeds of his previous lives. Adorn your body-mare with noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru so as to get across the very difficult world sea, and merge into Waheguru, which is the source of supreme bliss, oh my friends. Waheguru, Himself, initiates the blissful task of the marriage of His devotee with Him in which the holy saints join as the members of the marriage party. With the support of the holy saints, the human bride (the devotee) acquires Waheguru as her husband and feels blissful at heart, oh Nanak. 4.1.5.

Word Meaning: Gur Giyan = Guru's Advice. Mungi = begs for. Kutha Chungi = praise of Waheguru. Gut(i) Mit(i) = transcendence. Sufliyo = successful. Vukhaaniya = described; sang. Chungeeya = rewarding. 1. Jeen(u) = saddle. Soovinna = of gold. Jurr(i) = inlay. Ruttana = collection of jewels. Ghunay = immense. Untarjaami = know-all; omniscient. Naam Jaanaiy = makes close connection with Waheguru. 2. Kurriyaal = bridle. Ankus(u) = ankus; the sharp tool used to control an elephant. Maiygul(u) = elephant. Vus(i) = in control. Perm Pud(u) = supreme spiritual state. Dhun = woman. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Sayti = with. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Sehjay Maati = intoxicated in the blissful state. Sohaiy = looks good (attractive). Jun = devotee. 3. Mungul(u) = song of joy. Sayvki = with the sentiment of service. Rung Mehleen = the place of blissfulness (Waheguru's presence). Soobhaayay = with deep love. 4.

MEANING: That mare-like human body is great, which is dyed with the fresh love for God, and which begs the Guru for spiritual knowledge, oh Waheguru. That horse-like human body is successful, which begs for Guru's wisdom and for Waheguru's praise with which it tries to comprehend the transcendental state of Waheguru. Waheguru makes that human body successful (it achieves its purpose of union with God) which recites Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's devotees beg for Waheguru's Naam to sing His praise and for His worship. I ask the holy saints to remember that Waheguru's worship is the most rewarding, oh Nanak. 1.

That human-mare is pure like gold and has a saddle of gold (noble qualities) which is inlaid with the jewels of Waheguru's Naam. With such a human body (full of noble qualities), one achieves a priceless union with Waheguru, a source of immense comfort. Some lucky devotees recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and imbued in His love, they become like Waheguru. A devotee, who makes a close connection with Waheguru, and recites and begs for His Naam, becomes a part of Waheguru, which is omnipresent, and is always in new colours (in new spirits and stays young), oh Nanak. 2.

Just like a bridle is used in the mouth of the horse, and just like an ankus is used on the head of an elephant to control him, Guru's Shabad on the tongue controls one's mind. The human mind is like an uncontrolled elephant, which is controlled by the Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. A devotee, who attains the highest spiritual state by controlling her mind, is loved by the Waheguru, Husband. She has love for Waheguru in her mind, and she looks attractive (dignified) in Waheguru's Court. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, she remains imbued with Waheguru's love, feels intoxicated with the blissful spiritual state, and becomes united with Him. But only a few fortunate people recite Waheguru's Naam, submits Nanak, a slave of Waheguru. 3.

Only that mare (human body) is successful which sings praise of Waheguru in Guru's shelter and gets connected with Waheguru. Such a devotee sings the blissful praise of Waheguru with the sentiment of a devout servant, and reaches the Palace of Waheguru, which is the source of maximum enjoyment, and she enjoys union with Him. With his heart full of love for Waheguru, she recites His Naam and sings His praise with Guru's Advice. With Waheguru's grace, and with the body adorned with virtues like an adorned mare, the devotee rides her body-mare to reach Waheguru's Palace, oh Nanak. 4.2.6.

MEANING: I realized the dear Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and offered my body and my mind to Him with the spirit of sacrificing them for Him with the result that I have conquered the world-sea (have overcome all my desires), and any indebtedness to the Angel of death (for my ignoble deeds) has been paid off, oh God. I have taken the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, and my mind has become peaceful (it has quit wandering), and my birth and death cycle is over now (I will not be reborn). Waheguru's Naam has become the basis of my life, and I have realized the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and I stay focussed on Waheguru's Naam now. I bow to my Guru Ji, whose grace enables me to now enjoy spiritual pleasures, oh Nanak. 1.

I want my dear friends and pals to know that it is the Guru who gives the Mantra to sing in praise of the eternal Waheguru. All my doubts and worries have been removed since I began to recite Guru's Shabad and sing Waheguru's praise. Now, I have realized Waheguru, which is always with me and never leaves me for somewhere else. Waheguru's liking for you is the true honour for you. Waheguru bestows His Naam-wealth to the devotee because of which the devotee attains the state of spiritual bliss. I am a sacrifice to the devotee who disseminates Waheguru's Naam to everybody, oh Nanak. 2.

When You wish (become kind to a devotee), he gets fully contented (is left with no worldly desires); his mind becomes peaceful (quits wandering), and the fire of his strong desires is completely put out, oh Waheguru. He feels blissful and feels as if he has acquired a huge treasure. It all happens because of the grace of the Guru that all the Sikhs and the devotees begin to enjoy the treasure of Waheguru's Naam. I am a sacrifice to my Guru. When a devotee gets imbued with the love for the Lord, he becomes completely fearless, and is not afraid of the Angel of death (because a holy devotee feels totally disinterested in worldly pleasures as a consequence, he will not commit any immoral or sinful act). I, Nanak, wish to stay connected to You all the time, serve You as a slave, and worship You with full dedication, oh Lord. 3.

You are full of noble qualities, whereas I possess no good qualities at all; yet You have kindly fulfilled all my hopes and wishes, oh Waheguru. Because I have no good quality, I do not know with what face I can sing Your praise. But, disregarding all my merits and demerits, You forgave me in a short moment. Now, I feel blissful and joyful at heart, as if I have acquired all the nine mythical treasures of the world, and also feel as if automated musical instruments are playing sweet music in my mind. I am lucky to say that I have realized my Waheguru-Husband in my heart, and all my worries have been eradicated, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Khunniyaiy Vunjaan = offer life by cutting self into pieces (an expression of deep love and reverence). Chhaakh(i) = by tasting. Aghaanay = fully contented. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Voottha = gets embedded. Bherm = misgivings. Binaas = destruction. Jugdeesh = Lord of the world. Easeh(i) = Ishver = Waheguru. Jaiy Juyyay = long live; hail (the Lord); sing praise. Reht = without. Bikaar = vices. Thaakay = became weak; lost desire. Punch = five demons. Sung(u) Toota = broke away. 3.
MEANING: I will gladly offer my body, piece by piece in the service of the holy saints who have seen my Waheguru (got connected with Him), oh Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is very sweet, and those who taste it get fully contented. When a devotee finds Waheguru sweet in his mind with Waheguru's benevolence, His Amrit-Naam gets embedded in devotee's heart, and he enjoys blissfulness. When a devotee recites the Naam of the Lord of the world, Waheguru, and sings His praise, all his sufferings and his doubts are eradicated. His love for worldly relations and for wealth fades away, he gets disinterested in sensual pleasures, and his friendship with the five demons is over. I will offer my body, piece by piece in the service of those who get Waheguru's Naam embedded in their heart, oh Nanak. 3.

Sloak(u): Jo loarreenday Ram, sayvuk sayee kaandhiya. Nanak jaanay sat(i), Saayeen, sunt na baahra. 1.
Word Meaning: Lorreenday = are needed; are liked. Kaandhiya = are called. Sat(i) = true. Saayeen = Lord. Bahra = outside of; different from MEANING: Only those individuals are called the real devotees of Waheguru, who are liked (loved) by Him. Believe it to be completely true that Waheguru is not different from His saints (the saints are His manifestations), oh Nanak. 1.
Chhunt(u): Mil(i) jul(u) juleh(i) khutaana, Ram. Sung(i) joti, Jot(i) milaana, Ram. Smaayay Poorun Purakh Kertay, aap(i), aapeh(i) jaaniyaiy. Teh soon(i), sehj(i), smaadh(i) laagi, Aik, Aik vukhaaniyaiy. Aap(i) goopta, Aap(i) mookta, Aap(i), Aap(u) vukhaana. Nanak, bherm, bhaiy, goon binaasay, mil(i) jul(u) juleh(i) khutaana. 4.2.
Word Meaning: Juleh(i) = with water. Khutaana = mixes well; become inseparable. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. Smaayay = are absorbed. Aap(i) = self. Aapeh(i) = Himself. Soonn(i) = Sehj(i) = spiritual state where no desire arises. Aik(u) = only "One" (Waheguru). Vukhaaniyaiy = is uttered (recited). Goppta = hidden. Mookta = free of all bonds. Vukhaana = reveals; shows. Goon = the three effects of Maya. Binaasay = disappeared; eradicated. 4.

MEANING: Just like water in two separate containers becomes inseparable when mixed well, a devotee becomes inseparable from Waheguru when he gets his soul merged into the Supreme Soul (his mind gets in compete unison with God). A devotee merges into the omnipresent, and the creator, Waheguru, when he analyzes self (and finds out that he is a part of Him). He further realizes that (being omnipresent), Waheguru, Himself is present hidden in his mind, He is free from all bonds, and reveals His own qualities (attributes). All misgivings, fears, and the three effects of Maya of such a devotee are destroyed; he becomes pure just like Waheguru, and becomes inseparable from Him just like water in two containers on mixing well, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Traasa = fears; frightening feelings. Sungaaya = with; in the company. Tuj(i) = quit; get rid of. Vikaar = vices; immoral deeds. Bhaayiyaiy = liked by. 3.
Dur(i) = door. Unhut = auto-playing; uniform. Vaajay = musical instruments. Vaajeh(i) = play. Gaajay = roars; appears. Biraajay = takes seat. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Oocha = transcendent. Bayunt = unlimited. Puhoocha = reach; match. Pritpaalay = raises. Saajay = creates. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is the basis (creator)of the whole universe, and is fully capable of creating anything (is omnipotent). Please, protect the world by extending Your kind hand, oh Waheguru. Waheguru is omnipotent, the provider of shelter, Lord of the world, and is the treasure of benevolence and of all comforts. I am a sacrifice for all Your devotees who have recognized You (have made connection with You) as the sole Supreme Being. You are invisible as far as Your colour and Your physical features are concerned, and You are beyond description. I want to make a humble submission that Waheguru is the creator, and the basis of whole universe, and is omnipotent, oh Nanak. 1. All the living beings are Yours, and You have created them, oh Waheguru. God is the remover (destroyer) of all pains (suffering) and of all misgivings. You are very kind to the poor (humble) and protect them by destroying their misgivings, suffering, and troubles in a short moment, oh Waheguru. We are Your children, and You are our real mother, father, Lord, and the friend, oh, the provider for the world, Waheguru. Whosoever comes to Your shelter, acquires treasures of virtues, and never takes birth or dies again. I, Nanak, submit humbly that all living beings are Yours, and You are their creator, oh Waheguru. 2.

We should sing Your praise all twenty-four hours, and realize our desired wishes, oh, Waheguru. Not only do we realize our cherished wishes by singing Waheguru's praise, but our fears of the Angel of death are also dispelled. A devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise in the company (shelter) of the Guru, gets his hopes fulfilled. We can earn Waheguru's love by getting rid of our ego, worldly attachments, and all our vices (sensual pleasures). I humbly submit that we should worship Waheguru all day and night, oh Nanak. 3.

Auto-playing musical instruments play all the time at Waheguru's door (in the mind of the devotee who has taken His shelter), and Waheguru appears (enlightens the mind) in every heart which has come to His shelter. The inaccessible, the incomprehensible, and the transcendent Waheguru is always present, and clearly appears in such devotees' heart. Waheguru has countless noble qualities which cannot be described, and nobody else can match Him in qualities. Waheguru creates all living beings, and raises them Himself (without any outside assistance. I wish to make a humble request (statement) that there is blissfulness in the worship of Waheguru, and the devotee feels as if auto-playing musical instruments are playing in his mind, at Waheguru's Door, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Alaahniyaan = songs at the death of a relative. When someone dies, women get together and cry while singing and beating their chests and thighs in rhythm while singing some songs. The crying is usually associated with monetary loss and loss of other services caused by the death of the person. Guru Nanak Sahib has written five Chhunts on the subject and named them “Alaahniyaan”. He has discussed the futility of such crying, and has advised to obey the Will of God and to sing His praise in these holy Shabads.

Word Meaning: Sirunda = creator. Dhundhaiy Laaya = became interested in Maya's affairs. Moohlut = allocated time. Poonni = completed. Paayee Bhuree = water clock (a bowl, called paayee, with a small hole at the bottom, is placed on the surface of water. The water enters the bowl from the bottom, and fills the paayee which sinks to the bottom. It takes one ghurree (24 minutes) to fill the bowl. Jaaniurra = human soul. Ghut(i) = is a verb used in many different ways (by tying up). Roonnay = cried. Subaayay = all. Kaaya = body. Huns = soul. Theeya = became. Vaychhorra = separation. Maayay = mother. Poorb(i) Kmaaya = deeds done before death. 1. Puyyaana = journey. Chaar(i) Dihaan = four days; a short lifetime. Surpur = for sure. Mehmaana = visitor. Kaahay = for what. Gaarub(u) = conceit. Na Moolaiy = not at all. Sir(i), Sir(i) = individually. Vihaana = happens. 2. Theeyaiy = happens; takes place. Sumruth(u) = omnipotent (Waheguru). Heelrra = make effort. Muhiul(i) = (in the) sky. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Alukh = incomprehensible. Apaaro = beyond limits. Aaya = taking birth. Suful = successful. Dhaahay = demolishes. Oosaaray = constructs. Suvaarunhaaro = makes it attractive (successful). 3. Roonna = cry. Baba = respectable person. Jaaniyaiy = is considered to be valid. Vaalayvay = for material things. Kaarun(i) = for the sake of. Bikaaro = wasteful; useless. Gaaful(u) = unaware. Aivaiy = meaninglessly. Khovaiy = loses (opportunity to be one with God). Aiythaiy = here; in this world. Koorr(i) = of worthless things. 4.

MEANING: The creator, Waheguru, is great, who has put the world to business involving worldly attractions which the man enjoys (while enjoying the worldly attractions, the man forgets that he has to die, and he fails to remember Waheguru). But when the time allocated to a man’s life ends, and his time in this world is completed, the agents of the Angel of Death tie him up and take the soul, which is dear to him, away. The agents take him away on the written orders of Waheguru, and all his brothers (relatives) begin to cry. When man’s time is over in this world, the soul is separated from the body, oh my mother. The man receives the kind of treatment as per the written judgment for him, based on his deeds throughout his life. The creator, Waheguru, is great, which puts the people into worldly business. 1.

Remember the Lord, oh my friends; all of us are destined to undertake the same journey (must die). The false business centred around Maya in this world is short-lived; everybody has to go to the next world for sure. Because man’s stay in the world is temporary, like a visitor who must leave, what should the man be conceited about? We should recite the Naam of Waheguru by which we will receive comfort (honour) in His Court. No one can issue any order at all in Waheguru’s Court about what happens to the individuals there. So, recite Waheguru’s Naam because all of us have to meet the same fate. 2.

The eternal Creator is present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky, and knows everything that the living beings do (He controls everywhere); so, only that happens in this world which the fully capable Lord wishes; one can only put in efforts to achieve certain things. The eternal Creator (Waheguru) is incomprehensible and is beyond limits; nobody can find His limits. The life of only those individuals is successful (get connected with Waheguru) who recite His Naam with full devotion. He demolishes His own creation and recreates it (at His Will) and makes it attractive with His Laws. Only that happens in the world which the eternal Creator likes; humans can only put in their efforts (try) to achieve certain things. 3.

Only that crying can be considered meaningful which is carried on in the pure love for someone (love with relatives is rooted in Maya; only love for Waheguru is pure); but people cry not for the loss of the individual, they rather cry for the loss of amenities (economic, and services) that they lose with the death of the relative. Crying for the loss of worldly comforts is all useless (is not rewarded). The world is unaware (ignorant), which cries at the loss of worldly comforts because crying does not pay (change anything) at all. The man cannot distinguish between good and bad, and wastes away his precious human life for nothing. Whosoever comes into this world has to leave, so his ego is totally false. Only that crying can be considered meaningful which is carried out in pure love - preferably for Waheguru – oh, Nanak. 4.1.

NOTE: Pure love involves no worldly attachment or personal loss of any kind - it is love just for the soul, which implies holy saints and God. Remember, Guru Nanak Sahib cried at heart when Babar killed so many innocent people at Eminabad in 1521.

Word Meaning: Birha = pain of separation. Sumaalhay = remember; sing praise. Punth(i) = path; journey. Nihaaleh(i) = we watch. Bhaana = Will. Aagaiy Aaya = for one to face. 1. Mern(u) = death. Munda = bad. Mer(i) Jaanaiy = knows how to die (honourable death). Soohayla = easy; comfortable. Aagaiy = in the next world (Waheguru's Court). Bhaytaiy = offering (of Waheguru's Naam). Put(i) = honour. Laykhaiy Paayiyaiy = is given credit. Rung Siyoun = with love. Ruliyaan Maanaiy = enjoys blissfulness. 2.

MEANING: Come, join together to recite Waheguru's ever true Naam, oh my friends. Let us share the pain of separation from the Lord, Waheguru, and remember Him so as to remove the separation (barriers to union with Him). Let us remember the Lord, and also the path to the next world (keep in mind that all of us have to die), as we too have to go there. The death of a person occurs according to Waheguru's Will; He simply takes back the person He had created. We reap the reward only of that which He has put in our destiny; we cannot order (have no right to make) any change in it. Let us join together and sing Waheguru's praise, oh my friends. 1.

Do not call death bad, oh folks. It can be a great experience, provided one knows how to have a blissful death. (To have blissful death) One needs to serve the omnipotent Lord (Waheguru), as a result of which one's journey of death becomes comfortable (and pleasant). You get rewarded and honoured in Waheguru's Court when you follow the right path (as described above). If you take the offerings of Waheguru's Naam and of noble qualities (control on sensual desires, and freedom from all worldly bonds), you will be honoured in Waheguru's Court, and will merge into Him. With these offerings, you will reach Waheguru's Palace, will be liked (loved) by Him, and enjoy the bliss of His love. So, do not call death bad, oh folks. The only thing one needs to know is how to die a respectful death. 2.

Nanak, kis nu baba royiyaiy, baaji haiy eh(u) sunsaaro. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Moonsaan = braves. Sooriyaan = valiant. Huq(u) = right; honour. Pervaano = approved; for a noble cause. Maano = get honoured. Kur(i) Aik(u) = believing only in "One" (Waheguru). Bhuou = fears. Oocha = publicize. Jaano = who knows everything (Waheguru). 3. Baaji = drama; mortal (not living forever). Dhaarun Dhaaray = provides support. Boojhaiy = understands. Huqam(u) Puchhaanaiy = applies His Laws appropriately. Roop Apaaro = extreme beauty; countless forms. 4.

MEANING: It is the right of (honour for) the brave and the valiant to die, provided the death is approved (it is for some noble cause). But only those individuals are considered valiant who are honoured in the Court of the eternal Waheguru (because of their sacrifice for some noble cause, which was done without any expectation of any kind). Such Valiants go to Waheguru's Court with dignity, are honoured there, and experience no suffering of any kind in the next world. They get rewarded if they worship the only "One" Waheguru, serving whom all their fears are eradicated. But one should not publicize his spiritual achievements; they should be kept to himself, because the omniscient Waheguru knows everything. It is the right of (honour for) the brave and the valiant to die, provided such death is for a noble cause. 3.

Whom should we cry before (complain to about the death of a relative), oh Nanak? The world is a drama (it has been created so that it is not our permanent residence, and everyone must leave it one day, like actors on a stage who just perform their roles and then leave the stage) (so crying over the death of someone is useless). The Lord watches His creation and makes His final judgment on the individuals based on their deeds as per His Laws. Waheguru, who has created the world, provides support to His creation according to His Laws; He looks after His creation, understands it, and applies His Laws appropriately. Only He knows about the world that He has created in many, many different forms. Whom should we complain to, oh Nanak? This world is a drama, and not everlasting. 4.2.

Vudhuns(u) Mehla 1, Dukkhni: Sach(u) Sirunda Sacha jaaniyaiy, Sachrra Pervudgaaro. Jin(i) Aapinay, Aap(u) saajiya, Sachrra Alukh Apaaro. Doyay poorr jorr(i) vichhorriun(u), Gur bin(u) ghor(u) undhaaro. Sooruj, chund(u), sirjiun(u) ehnis(i) chult(u) veechaaro. 1. Sachrra Sahib(u), Sach(u) Tu, Sachrra dayh(i) piyaaro. Ruhaou. Koodrut(i) tukhut(u) ruchaaya, Sach(i) nibayrrunhaaro. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Dukkhni = southern (it is a type of Raag Vudhuns, which is popular in southern India). Sirunda = creator. Jaaniyaiy = believe; make a connection. Sachrra = eternal. Pervudgaaro = which raises and nourishes. Poorr = the two stones (grinders of a flour mill). Doyay Poorr = the earth and the sky. Jorr(i) = by connecting. Vichhorriun(u) = separated; disconnected. Chult(u) = the amazing drama of the world. 1. Maydni = world. Naari = female. Purakh = male. Khaani = the sources of reproduction. Bani = languages (ways of communication). Adhaaro = support; food. Tukhut(u) = throne. Sach(i) = by full justice. Nibayrrunhaaro = which delivers the final decision (judge). 2.

MEANING: We must believe in (and connect with) the eternal Waheguru, who created Himself, is incomprehensible and beyond limits. He is the creator of the universe, and is the raiser and the nourisher of all living beings. He created the universe by combining the earth and the sky (when they were together as one – i.e., there was nothing, and it was complete emptiness everywhere). In other words, He created the universe from emptiness and detached Himself completely from it (He is unaffected by the effects of Maya). (Because He is completely detached from the world, it is impossible to comprehend Him and get connected with Him). It is the Guru who enlightens the masses about Him; there is complete darkness of ignorance in the world about Him. Waheguru created the sun, the moon, and days and nights, but believes it to be only an amazing drama of the Lord. 1.

(The world may be a drama) (mortal), but Waheguru Himself is eternal, and the source of truthfulness. He grants His everlasting love to the man. Pause.
You created the world with females and males, and infused love for the poisonous Maya in them, which becomes the source of comforts and sufferings, oh Lord. The sources of reproduction, and the different ways of communication among the living beings, are Yours (You created them), and You provide food to them. You have created nature as Your throne to rule the universe, and You make the final decision on the consequences of the deeds done by the living beings with full justice (with no bias). 2.
---------- Aavaguvun(u) sirjiya, Tu thir(u) Kernayhaaro. Jummun(u) merna, aayay guyya, budhik(u) jeeou bikaaro. Bhoondrray Naam(u) visaariya, boodrraiy kiya tis(u) chaaro. Roop(u) na jaanaiy sohuniyaiy, Huqam(i) budhi sir(i) kaaro. Baaluk birdh(i) na jaan-ni torrun hayt(u) piyaaro. 4.
Word Meaning: Aavaguvun(u) = birth and death, and rebirth. Thir(u) = everlasting; eternal. Budhik(u) = trapped. Bikaaro = vices; immoral activities. Bhoondrra = a bumblebee that sucks the sap of various flowers; a lustful man. Boodrraiy = drowned. Chaaro = recourse; option; ability (to oppose). Luddiya = loaded. Uvgun = bad (immoral) qualities. Vunjaaro = businessman. 3. Tinha = those. Jaaniya = souls. Naari = body. Purakh = soul. Vichhoonniya = separated = Vichhurriyaan. Maylunhaaro = the one who can connect. Roop(u) = beauty. Budhi = bound by. Sir(i) Kaaro = obeys as ordered. Birdh = old. Hayt(u) = for. 4.
MEANING: You are the creator of the universe, and You created the birth-death-birth cycle (meaning everything is mortal), but You are immortal, oh Waheguru. The living beings are prisoners (strongly attached) of sensual desires, and as a result, continue to take births and to die. The lustful man ignores Waheguru's Naam as a result of which, he drowns in the world-sea (worldly attachments and sensual pleasures), and has no recourse to escape. He is a dealer in immoral qualities (acts), and, avoiding noble qualities, he is loaded with poisonous qualities. 3.
Ignoring Waheguru which had connected the soul with the body, the man enjoyed the luxuries of life which finally come to end. Finally, the humans get called in by the orders (Will) of the eternal Creator, and the soul is disconnected with the body. The Angel of death simply acts on the orders of Waheguru and does not care about the beauty or youthfulness of the individual, and makes no distinction between a child or an old man as far as breaking the love between the body and its soul is concerned. 4.

Word Meaning: Nuou Dur = the nine doors of the body (two eyes, two ears, two nostrils, one mouth, two private parts). Tthaakay = stopped; closed. Huns(u) = soul. Gaiynaaray = in the sky. Sa Dhun = that woman (dead body). Chootti = left behind. Mootthi Jhootthi = robbed (of good qualities) by falsehood. Vidhniyaa = widowed. Mirtkurra = dead body. Ungunrray = in the courtyard. Baaray = at the door. Soort(i) Mooyee = wisdom is dead; soul has left. Durbaaray = in Waheguru's Court. Kunt Muhayliou = brides of (Waheguru). Goon Saaray = remembering noble qualities. 5.

Jaani = dead body. Kuppurr(i) = Umbaaray = clothes of. Putt(i) = of silk. Sachi Baniyaan = praise of God. Punch Mooyay = the five demons. Mun(u) Maaray = with the death (separation of) the soul. Dhrig(u) = worthless. Hayt(u) = love. 6.
MEANING: All nine doors of the human body stop working, and the soul flies away to the sky. Robbed of good qualities by the falseness of Maya, the widowed body lies in the door of the courtyard. After it leaves the body, the soul loses all its wisdom (cleverness), and is presented before Waheguru where it cries (suffers) because of its past deeds. (Guru Sahib advises all those men and women who arrive at the house of the deceased to express sympathy, and to all others) that the dead body should remind them of their own death, and they should cry on their immoral deeds (quit them) and remember Waheguru. 5. The relatives wash the dead body well with water, and wrap it in a silk cloth. Music is played and the people chant Lord's praise whereas the soul cries that all its five demon friends (sensual pleasures have left it), so its life has become worthless in the world. But, those, who kill their worldly desires for the love of Waheguru while still living in the family, are honoured (everywhere). 6.

Buyyiur(i) Naam(i) sohaagni, Sach(u) svaarunhaaro. Gaavhou geet, na birhurra, Nanak Braham beechaaro. 8.3.
Word Meaning: Rovhou = cry; suffer. Sunsaaray = in the world. Dhundhaiy Dhaavuniyaan = running around for Maya. Pir(i) = Waheguru. Vidhunkaaray = in the business, which leads a woman to become a widow (rejected by the husband). Muhayliyaan = women; human beings. Rehsiurri = blissful; heart blooms. Bhutaaray = Husband (Waheguru). 7. Vays(u) = out looks; nature. Pultiya = changed completely. Sach(u) =Waheguru-like. Seegaaro = adornment. Buyyiur(i) = woman; human being. Sohaagni = loved by husband. Suvaarunhaaro = which adorns. Birhurra = pain of separation. 8.
MEANING: (Addressing the public in general, and the women who cry at the death of a relative in particular - which, in most cases is simply fake and ritualistic), Guru Sahib advises that all their acts (including crying in sympathy) are Maya-oriented, and the mourners are being robbed (of noble qualities by the falseness of Maya) as a result of which they will continue to suffer, and will be left widowed (deprived of His love) by the Lord. Everybody wishes to be the wife of Waheguru (wishes to connect with Him) which is present in every heart, but only those are recognized (given credit) who cry in (get overwhelmed by) the love of Waheguru. I love to sing praise of dear Waheguru-Husband, and my heart blooms when I recite His Naam. 7.
The human bride, who adorns her mind with Waheguru-like qualities in the shelter of the Guru, undergoes a complete change in her nature (thinking). So, let us get together and remember (sing praise of) the Creator. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, the woman is adorned with noble qualities by Waheguru, and she gets deep love from Him. If you sing Waheguru's praise and ponder on His countless virtues (with Guru's Shabad), you will never experience the pain of His separation, oh, Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Sirj(i) = having created. Smaaya = is present. Koodrut(i) = in nature. Jaanova = can be seen; recognized; comprehended. Bhaaliyaiy = search for. Shabad(u) = Waheguru's Huqam (Naam). Puchhanova = recognized. Ruchna = creation. Raachi = created. Pirr = battle ground (to fight against the five demons). Kaachi = weak; incapable. Thaapi = created. Bidh(i) = technique; means. Vukhaanaiy = say, discuss. Vutaaya = spread. Jaalo = the net of Maya. Pervaano = approved; great; is Supreme. 1. Aaya Haiy = whoever is born. Ootth(i) Chullna = has to die. Udpundhaiy = in the middle of the journey. Poorb(i) = deeds done previously. Veechaarova = believe it. Nibhaiy = goes along. Dooji Kaar = other kind of deeds. Bhaalay = look for; perform. Niraalum = fully detached. Dhundhaiy Baandhi = trapped in the Maya-related tasks. Chhudaavubhaaro = that who frees from the bonds of Maya. Kaal(u) Viyaapaiy = time influences (goes by). Bhaayay = love.2.

MEANING: The Lord, who has created the world and who is present in it, can be seen (is visible) in His nature. The eternal Waheguru is present in every heart in the form of His Huqam (Naam), and should not be looked for outside. Recognize His Huqam, and do not think the creator of the universe to be living somewhere far, far away. Those who recite His Naam enjoy comfort (blissfulness). Without Waheguru's Naam, the man cannot fight the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego). Only the Lord knows the ways by which He created the universe; no one else can say anything about that. The Lord, who has created the universe and has spread the net of Maya, is Supreme. 1.

Whosoever is born has to leave this world; the world is only the middle journey of the living beings. Waheguru has written the destiny of everyone based on their deeds in previous lives, and because of which one enjoys comforts or suffers discomfort. Waheguru gives comforts and discomforts based on an individual's deeds, and those comforts and discomforts remain with the individual throughout his journey of life. One performs deeds for which he is programmed by Waheguru, and cannot do anything different. Waheguru Himself is completely detached from the world (above the effects of Maya), yet He has caused the world to be engrossed in Maya; but He can salvage some (break their bonds with Maya) with His Huqam. In general, the man enjoys sensual pleasures, and his life is spent postponing worshiping of Waheguru every day (thinking that he will start it the next day). 2.

Word Meaning: Maarug = Punth(u) = path; journey. Oojhurr = wilderness. Undh Goobaarova = blinding darkness. Layf = quilt; comforter. Toolaayiyaan = comforter-like mattress. Bhojun Perkaarova = variety of meals. Bhaaou = love. Seegaaro = to beautify. Sungul(u) = chain. Oobhau = standing. Ib Kay Raahay = sown presently. Jummun(i) = sprouting. Sir(i) Bhaaro = burden of bad deeds. 3.

Roveh(i) = crying; repenting. Ruveh(i) = recite (Waheguru's Naam). Jaaniyeh(i) = recognized; is honest. Saarayva = takes care of; remembers. Dhundhrra = business related to Maya. Rovaiy = cries; suffers. Soopnuntar(u) = in dreams. Baajigur = acrobat; a stage actor. Bhermaiy Bhoolay = misled in misbelief. Ahunkaaro = ego. Kerm Kmaayay = performs deeds. Ruttay = imbued. Sehj Soobhaayay = without any special effort. 4.

MEANING: On the way to the court of the Angel of Justice, it is all complete darkness around, and the departed soul finds itself in a complete wilderness where it cannot think of any means to escape. It finds no water to drink, nor the comfort of a nice bed, nor a variety of delicious meals. There is no food offered with love, no cold water, nor any clothes or items to beautify oneself. A chain around its neck, the soul is beaten on the head by the standing (forceful) Angel of death, and it finds no familiar house or door where it can escape to. There is no noble deed it can perform now which could provide helpful results, so it repents because of the burden of its ignoble deeds. The conclusion is that there is no friend at that time without Waheguru. 3.

Only that repenting is considered to be honest, whereby an individual remembers the noble qualities of Waheguru in the company of holy saints, and cries in His love. But the man cries over (works hard for) Maya-related business, which robs him of noble qualities, and the loss of wealth makes him cry. The man spends his life in dreams, cries over Maya-related matters, and does not wash away the filth of his ignoble deeds. Like a stage actor who forgets that he is only performing a role (for example, that of a king) and becomes conceited about it, beginning to act like a real king, the man is cheated by the falsehood of Maya. But the man cannot be fully blamed, for he performs deeds according to his destiny carved by Waheguru; likewise, it is Waheguru who puts the man on the right path. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Perfect Guru enjoy blissfulness in the love of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Jum maarug(i) nuhee jaana, Shabad(i) smaana, joog(i), joog(i) Sachaiy vaysay. Saajun saiyn milhou sunjoagi, Gur mil(i) khohlay phaasay. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Baba = a noble man. Pusaarova = expanse; creation. Sacha Ghur(u) = eternal residence. Sachrra = the eternal Waheguru. Khura = pure. Sachiyaarova = having noble qualities; God-like. Koorr(i) = in falsehood (of Maya). Thaayay na Paasi = will not be recognized. Luhhaiy = acquires. Aaou Na Baiysou = no welcome. Soonjaiy Ghur(i) = in a deserted house. Binsaiy = vanishes; suffers. Lub(i) = in greed. Khurra = waiting. 1. Aaseesa = blessings. Ikk(i) = many. Thayhoun Thaaoun = from the root (base). Khaylo = enjoy; feel blissful. Vaysay = in that garb; with the (noble) qualities. Saiyn = (holy) friends. Sunjogi = with the prewritten union (destiny). Phaasay = bonds; traps (of Maya). 2.

MEANING: This world is an expanse of falsehood (not real) because everybody who is born here, must leave this world someday, oh noble men. Only that individual finds a permanent residence (in Waheguru's Palace) who purifies his mind by worshipping the eternal Waheguru and becoming like Him (by acquiring virtues like Him). On the other hand, the man, who spends his life dealing in falsehood and greed (engrossed in Maya), finds no respect in Waheguru's Palace, and is given no room there. Like a crow, which gets no food when it visits a deserted house, a Maya-engrossed man gets no welcome in Waheguru's Palace. Without love for Waheguru, a man suffers a long separation from Him as he is caught in the birth-death cycle. The whole world suffers in that situation. The whole world is misled by its greed for wealth and by other Maya-related business, and the waiting (approaching) death causes him to cry (because of the fear of ensuing misery). 1.

Let us join together and lovingly give blessings to (say prayers for) all misguided humanity that they worship Waheguru. Give the blessings that the union of the devotees with Waheguru is never disrupted. We cannot do anything more for the lucky individuals who have already been connected with Waheguru. Many people have been misled (by the attractions of Maya) and have become disconnected from their root, Waheguru; let us pray for them that they may enjoy bliss by connecting with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad. No matter what eon it is, the only way to avoid the journey to the Angel of death (and to merge with Waheguru) is to acquire His noble qualities. But only those of my friends who come to the shelter of the Guru because of their prewritten destiny get their bonds with Maya untied (severed) in His shelter. 2.

Word Meaning: Nangrra = empty-handed. Laykh(u) = account. Saaha = the date and time of marriage (with death). Tulaiy = avoided. Poorb(i) = of previous life. Beh(i) = while sitting; carefully; unbiased. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam; noble deeds. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Kaamunaari = deceitful (Maya). Kaamun = magical attractions. Buhourungi = of many different colours (attractions). Taaga = rope; noose. Hochhi = low-quality. Bhuyya = became. Goorr(u) = jaggery; nuggets of raw sugar. Sa = like. Nammujaad(u) = against the norms (naked). Kul(i) = in the world. 3. Janiurra = beloved soul. Putthaya = sent; taken away. Laykh(u) = written order. Maiytiyaiy = erase. Dur(i) = at the door. Hakaar-rra = messenger (of death). Tis(u) = Him (Waheguru). Bhaaya = liked. Roonnay = cried. Bhateejay = nephews. Preetum = dear. Bhaiy = fear (of future life). Saar(i) = by remembering. Jaan = wise. S(i) = those. Jaana Roveh = know how to cry (cry in the love of Waheguru). Smaalay = remember. 4.

MEANING: The man comes empty-handed in this world to start a new life, but he does bring with him a list of comforts and troubles prewritten in his destiny, which are based on the deeds of his previous life. Just like the date and the time are fixed for worldly weddings, man's connection with his comforts and discomforts is fixed and cannot be avoided. Everybody's destiny is prewritten by Waheguru without any bias, and has only two aspects or paths for the man to follow – Amrit (noble deeds and obeying Waheguru's Will), and Poison (engrossment in Maya) – everybody chooses the path predestined for him. The deceitful Maya attracts the man with its many captivating gimmicks, which result in a noose (of spiritual death) around his neck. With low-quality wisdom (advice), the man acquires a low-thinking mind and gets trapped in the attractions of Maya like a fly attracted to a nugget of raw sugar, gets stuck in its thick, sticky juice, and dies there. The man comes naked (empty-handed) into this world, and leaves empty-handed when the agents of the Angel of death tie him up and take him away. 3.

Waheguru's written order about the death of a person cannot be erased, and His messenger comes to the door of the person to be taken away. If someone wants to cry at his death, he may do that, but no crying will stop the person from being tied. and taken away, oh wise men.

The messenger of death comes to the door when Waheguru wills it (at His Will), and normally, the grieving relatives, who must cry, do so. The sons, brothers, and nephews cry for the dearly beloved relative. They recall his affectionate and helpful acts and cry, fearing their bleak future, but nobody dies with the dead. The system of death and birth is a law of nature for eons; so, those who know how to cry (what to cry for), and cry out of love for Waheguru, are wise, and recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Mehla Teeja = Mehla Third (the word “Teeja “after Mehla simply reiterates that the number “3” should be pronounced as “Third”. Kaaruj = tasks. Kernaiy Joag = fully capable. Sa Dhun = that human bride. Rund = widow. Baiysuyee = sits; becomes. Soag(u) = grief. Rus(u) Bhoag = enjoy the sweetness. Mehl = (God’s) Palace; Waheguru. Kerm Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Amrit Bani = praise of God. Saareh(i) = Smaaleh(i) = remember. Vijogo = separation. 1.

Puchhaaniyaiy = recognize; honour; sing His praise. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Kaamun(i) = of the woman. Bhinni = got imbued. Jobun Maati = intoxicated in youthfulness. Unk(i) = in the heart. 2.

MEANING: One should sing praise of the eternal Waheguru, which is fully capable of successfully completing any and all tasks, oh my friends. A human-bride, who sings Waheguru's praise all the time, never becomes a widow, and never suffers any grief related to her Waheguru-Husband. Such a human bride stays absorbed in Waheguru, always enjoys the sweetness of His Naam, and never suffers any grief. The individual, who recognizes (gets connected with) Waheguru, who is the carver of our fates, sings His praise all the time. Such a virtuous bride recalls the virtues of Waheguru, remembers her Waheguru-Husband (recites His Naam), and never experiences separation from Him. So, we should sing praise of the dear and the eternal Lord, who is capable of doing everything in the world. 1.

If one sings Waheguru's praise all the time, Waheguru Himself connects the individual with Him. Such a devotee always kills (overcomes) her selfishness and ego, and stays imbued in the love of her Darling (Waheguru). She overcomes her selfishness and ego, and recognizes the single Supreme Being (Waheguru) in the shelter of the Guru, and never experiences spiritual death. Such a devotee has her wish fulfilled as she gets connected with Waheguru, which is the life (soul) of the world, and gets internally imbued with His love. Even though a young bride is intoxicated with her beauty and youthfulness, she gets fully absorbed in Waheguru (merges into Him) when she gets imbued with Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise). When one recognizes Waheguru (sings His praise with full devotion with Guru's Shabad), Waheguru Himself connects the devotee with Him. 2.

Pir(u) nirmaayil(u) suda sookh-Daata, Nanak Shabad(i) milaayay. Pirhoun vichhoonniyaan bhee mileh, jay Satgur laageh Saacahy Paayayn. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort. Kmaayay = adopt in life. Raati = imbued. Smaadhi = in meditative state. Bhurpooray = everywhere. Hudooray = with (the devotee); close by. 3. Pirhoun Vichhoonniyaan = separated from the Dear (Waheguru). Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Sach(i) = via Waheguru's Naam. Bhuraanti = misgivings; instability of mind. Nirmaayil = pure; without any blemish. 4.

MEANING: When I approached the holy saints and asked them about the way with which they realized Waheguru, I was advised that I should get rid of my selfishness and ego, and serve the eternal dear Waheguru. When I do that, He will connect me with Him without any special effort or formality on my part. When a devotee makes Waheguru's Naam the basis of her life, and gets imbued in the praise of Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, He comes to connect her with Him. Then the devotee never becomes a widow (loses Waheguru's love), stays married (enjoys His love) all the time, and she stays in the meditative state singing His praise. She always sees Waheguru to be omnipresent and close to her. She enjoys His love in the blissful state and is always full of love for Him. I will approach the holy saints to inquire how they realized Waheguru (so I may follow their path). 3.

Those who are separated (disconnected) from Waheguru can also connect with Him if they drop at the feet of the Perfect Satguru (take His shelter). Satguru is always benevolent and will burn (destroy) their ignoble qualities with His Shabad in praise of God. Not only does the Satguru destroy their ignoble qualities with His Shabad, but He also puts an end to their love for Maya, and the devotees are imbued with love for Waheguru by singing His praise. With Satguru's eternal Shabad (in praise of Waheguru), the devotees always enjoy comfort (blissfulness), and their selfishness, ego, their misgivings, and their instability of mind all disappear. Waheguru, which is always pure and is the source of all comforts, can be acquired with the Guru's Shabad. Those who are disconnected from Waheguru can also connect with Him if they take the shelter of the Perfect Satguru, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Subh(u) jug(u) Aap(i) oopaayayon(u), aavun(u), jaan(u) sunsaaray. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Muhayliou = women (brides-in-waiting). Kunt = Husband (Waheguru). Mootthi = deceived. Visaar(i) = by forgetting. Smaal(i) = Saar(i) = recall; recite Naam. Smaayay = get fully absorbed. Koorriyaaray = dealer in perishable things and pursuing sensual pleasures. 1. Oopaayayon(u) = created. Khooyayun(u) = misguided. Vaaro Vaar = again, and again. Vihooni = without. Jhootthi = who pursues mundane things. Jugjeevun = life of the world, God. 2.

MEANING: Serve the Lord, Waheguru, by pondering on the Shabad of the Guru, oh, the hopeful brides of Waheguru-Husband. The brides, who lack the virtuous qualities, make no connection with the Dear (Waheguru), and are deceived by Maya; they cry (suffer) for forgetting the Waheguru-Husband. But if they cry in the pain of separation from Waheguru, recite His Naam, and recall His virtues at all times, they can also win Him as their husband, who never dies or goes away. Those who recognize Waheguru by reciting Guru's Shabad (sing Waheguru's praise), and make a connection with Him in the shelter of the Guru (by His grace), get fully absorbed in His love. Those who do not recognize (make connection with) their Husband (Waheguru), who is the carver of the fate of us all, are deceived by the attraction of false (short-lived) gimmicks of Maya, and they are dealers in the perishable things, and pursue sensual pleasures. Serve your Husband (Waheguru) by pondering on the Shabad of the Guru, oh, the hopeful brides of Waheguru. 1.

Waheguru has created the whole world Himself, in which living beings take birth and die. Waheguru has misguided them by engrossing them in Maya as a result of which, they keep taking births and dying again and again. Without Waheguru's Knowledge (enlightenment), they get deceived by the gimmicks of Maya, and get deeper and deeper into the sea of sensual pleasures; as a result, they keep taking births and dying. Without Guru's Shabad, they cannot realize Waheguru and waste away their precious human life; with ignoble qualities, and being engrossed in short-lived pleasures, the human bride cries (suffers). Her spiritual husband, Waheguru, is the life (soul) of the whole world, so what is she crying about? The only reason for her suffering is that she has forgotten her Husband. God has created the whole world in such a way that the living beings keep taking births and dying. 2.

(PAGE 584): Nanak sa dhun milaiy milaayee, Pir(u) untar(i) suda smaalay. Ikk(i) roveh(i) Pireh(i) vichhoonniyaan, undhi na jaanaiy Pir(u) haiy naalay. 4.2.
Word Meaning: Sacha = everlasting; eternal. Iyaaniya = immature; ignorant. Rund Baiytthi = becomes a widow. Aav = life. Cheejaiy = weakens. Soojhaiy = comes to mind. Loojhaiy = fights for; struggles for. 3. Ikk = many. Vichhooniyaan = separated. Smaalay = remembers. Roolaiy = becomes worthless; without anyone caring for. 4.
MEANING: The eternal Husband (Waheguru) is always there; He neither dies nor goes away. The ignorant human bride is misled and becomes a widow (loses her Waheguru-Husband) because of her love for the other (Maya). The widowed bride suffers because of her attachment to Maya, but she does not realize that her life is shortening, and her body is getting weaker (she will have neither enough time nor energy to worship Waheguru). Knowing full well that every living being that comes into this world must go away (die), the humans still invite suffering because of their love for Maya (and their ignoring of Waheguru). With love for gluttony and greed in their mind, they do not think of the Angel of Death, and they fight with others over Maya. The eternal Waheguru is always around, as He neither dies nor goes away. 3.
Blind (of wisdom), many human brides think of Waheguru as being far, far away, and cry to believe that they have been disconnected from Him. They do not realize that He is always with us. With Guru's grace, one gets connected with Waheguru when the human bride always remembers Him in her mind (sings His praise). Waheguru is always with us, and we should always keep Him in mind, but the Maya-loving individual always thinks of Him as being far away. The body of the human bride, who does not think that Waheguru is close to her, becomes worthless because of her thinking and her deeds. But the bride who always remembers Waheguru in her mind becomes connected to Him as He Himself connects her. Blind (of wisdom), many brides think of Waheguru as being far, far away, and cry to believe that they have been disconnected from Him, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Pir rung(i) raata, so sacha chola, tit(u) paiydhaiy tikha nivaaray. Prubh(u) mayra Sahib(u) subhdoon oocha haiy, kiyoun milaan Preetum Piyaray. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Pireh(i) = from the Dear (Husband). Chullun(u) = the way to live. Suhee = the right way. Kaal(u) = (the fear of) death. Ooridhaar(i) = by enshrining in the heart. Naayee = Name; praise; grandeur. Nihaalay = kind sight. 1.
Kiv = how? Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. Nayh(u) = love. Kucha = weak; non-durable. Chola = robe. Paiydhaiy = by wearing. Pug Khisaiy = unstable support; weakness of character. Tikha = thirst for Maya. Nivaaray = is removed. 2.

MEANING: Many people cry, thinking they are separated from Waheguru (that Waheguru is far, far away); but my eternal Lord is always with me. Those who know the right path to live in the world serve Satguru and recite Waheguru's Naam. They have full faith that Satguru is always with them, recite Waheguru's Naam, and enjoy comfort. They enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart, eradicate the fear of death with Guru's Shabad, and are never born, nor ever die again. The Lord is eternal and so is His grandeur, and He looks at everybody with a kind sight. Those who believe that Waheguru is somewhere far away cry, but my Lord is always with me. 1. My Waheguru is the highest of all (in transcendence), so how can I connect with my dear Lord? But, when my Satguru connected me with Him, I acquired my Dear in my heart, and attained the state of blissfulness. When one embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart with deep love for the Dear, he can "see" Waheguru with the grace of the Guru. However, the robe of attachment to Maya (lifestyle) is false, and one's morality weakens by wearing it (attachment to Maya does not provide real happiness, as it leads to immoral activities). On the contrary, the robe (lifestyle) of the devotee who is imbued in Waheguru's love is the real one (improves moral character and spirituality), and one's thirst (desire) for Maya is eradicated (he is fully satisfied) on wearing that robe (love for Waheguru kills one's desires for Maya and its attractions). My Lord is highest of all, how can I reach there and meet my Dear? 2.

---------- Mein Prubh(u) Sach(u) puchhaaniya, hoar bhooli uvguniaaray. Mein suda raavay Pir(u) aapna, Sachrraiy Shabad(i) veechaaray. Apnay Gur kuoun tun(u) mun(u) deejaiy, ta mun(u) bheejaiy, trishna dookh nivaaray. Mein Pir(u) Sach(u) puchhaaniya, hoar bhooli uvguniaaray. 3. Dhun(u) jug meh(i) aaya, aap(u) guvaaya, Dur(i) Saachaiy Sachiyaaro. Giyan(i) ruttan(i) ghut(i) chaanun(u) hoa, Nanak Naam piyaro. Sachrraiy Aap(i) jugut oopaaya, Gur bin(u) ghor undhaaro. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = (the only) Truth. Uvguniaaray = with bad qualities. Raavay = worship; recite Naam. Rung(i) Raati = imbued in love. Maati = intoxicated. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. Trishna = desire for sensual pleasures. Nivaaray = eradicates. 3 Ghor(u) = immense. Vapaaro = business. Sachiyaaro = having noble qualities. Ruttan = jewel; priceless. Chanun(u) = light; enlightened. 4.

MEANING: I have recognized (made a connection with) my Waheguru, which is the only Truth in this universe; all others are misled because of their ignoble qualities. I always recite the Naam of my Dear by pondering on the eternal Shabad of the Guru (in praise of Waheguru). The devotee, who ponders on Satguru's eternal Shabad, gets imbued in Waheguru's love and realizes Him in the shelter of the Guru. The devotee, who is imbued with Waheguru's love and feels intoxicated in the blissful spiritual state, gets all her enemy-like troubles eradicated. If one offers his body and mind in the service of the Guru, his mind gets imbued (with Waheguru's love), and his appetite for worldly desires is destroyed (he becomes fully contented). I have made a connection with my Dear (Waheguru), whereas others are misled because of their ignoble qualities. 3.

The eternal Waheguru has created the world, but it is in complete darkness (ignorance of Him) without the Guru. Waheguru Himself connects people with the Guru so they can be connected to Him, and Himself instills His love in them. Waheguru adorns the life of the individuals with His love in the shelter of the Guru, whereby they begin to deal in (recite) His Naam in the blissful spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). The coming of such a devotee in the world, who overcomes his selfishness and ego, is praiseworthy; he is honoured in Waheguru's Court as the bearer of noble qualities (like Waheguru). With Waheguru's love in the heart, the mind of such a devotee is enlightened by the jewel-like (priceless) Divine Knowledge. Waheguru Himself has created the world, but there is complete darkness without the Guru in the world. 4. 3.

Kaaya kunchun ta theeyaiy, ja Satgur(u) luyyay milaayay. 2. ----------

Word Meaning: Jujree = prone to old age. Jur(u) = old age. Oobray = salvaged. Puchhutaayay = repenting. Kumaavaiy = perform deeds. Jum-Pur(i) = in the city (court) of the Angel of death. Goobaar(u) = darkness. Tithaiy = there. 1.
Kaaya = body. Kunchun = (pure like) gold. Theeyaiy = becomes. Purkheen = (good) men; people. Huoun = I; me. Chit(u) Laaya = fall in love. 2

MEANING: The human body is prone to old age (is designed to get old and weak); old age does hit the man in due time, and finally, death takes the soul away. Most people continue to take birth and die; only those individuals escape this cycle who are protected (salvaged) by the Guru. Without the shelter of the Guru, the people leave the world repenting, and they never achieve comfort (peace of mind) without Waheguru's Naam. When Waheguru decides on their future, they reap the rewards of their deeds in the world (Waheguru bases His decision on their deeds), as a result of which the followers of their mind lose their dignity (are punished). They find pitch dark (no light of hope) around them in the Court of the Angel of Death, and there is no brother or sister to help them. The human body is prone to aging, which eventually hits everyone. 1.

Man's body becomes pure and worthy like gold when he comes to the Guru's shelter, where his misgivings about Maya are cleared, and he gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. When the man sings Waheguru's praise, he gets absorbed in His Naam and gets connected with Him, and enjoys blissfulness in his Dear's company. His selfishness and his ego are eradicated, and he enjoys blissfulness day and night. I will drop at the feet of those who fall in love with Waheguru's Naam. Man's body becomes pure and worthy like gold when He comes to Guru's shelter. 2.

Jinhi Sachrra Sach(u) dhiyaaya, huoun tinh kaiy laagoun paayay. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Sacha = virtuous; Waheguru-like. Daysun(i) = show. Chuloola = deep; fast colour (which does not fade away). Unk(i) = heart; lap; body. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding. 3. Sachrra = everlasting. Nirmulay = clean. Mul(u) = filth (of immoral thinking and of immoral deeds). Sur(i) = pool. Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (Waheguru). Agumm = beyond reach. Agoachur = incomprehensible. 4.

MEANING: With the wisdom bestowed by Satguru, if a devotee sings Waheguru's praise, he becomes like Him. Without Satguru's guidance, the people are misled by their misgivings (and do not remember Waheguru), so what face will they show (how will they face Waheguru) in Waheguru's Court? (Without Waheguru's Naam), And because of their ignoble qualities, they are engaged in tasks which result in trouble and more troubles for them, for which they have to repent as they realize that they cannot face Waheguru. But those who are imbued in the deep colour of love for Waheguru, which does not fade away, get absorbed in Waheguru's body (soul). But, the individuals without Waheguru's Naam cannot think of anyone else before whom they can complain to because there is none as Great as He is. Only that devotee becomes like Waheguru who recites His Naam with the wisdom bestowed by Satguru. 3.

I wish to drop at the feet of those devotees who sing praise of the eternal Waheguru because those holy people are truthful and pure-hearted, and one's filth of ignoble deeds is washed away in their company. Those holy men are like a pool of noble qualities, and the filth of ignoble deeds of those who take a dip in such a holy pool with a peaceful mind, and with love for Waheguru is washed away. The Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, is inaccessible and incomprehensible. It has been explained by Satguru to the world (He connects the people with Waheguru's Naam). Those, who worship Waheguru day and night by reciting His Naam, and are imbued in His love, get fully absorbed in Him. I wish to drop on the feet of those devotees who worship the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Lulla Behleema = Lullaan and Behleema were two neighbouring rajahs in the hills. Lullaan's territory was mostly dry, whereas that of Behleema was lush and green. There was less rain one year, so Lullaan asked Behleema to share his river water with Lullaan, for which he agreed to pay one-sixth of his revenue in return. But after the crops were harvested, Lullaan did not keep his word to pay the agreed-upon revenue. Behleema attacked Lullaan, and killed him. The poets wrote a vaar on this event, which became very popular. Guru Arjun Sahib has advised to sing the Vaar of Vudhuns on that tune.

Vudhuns = Waheguru's devotees who have controlled all their desires (are above the effects of Maya); have highest spiritual level. Ooridhaar(i) = by enshrining Waheguru's Naam in the heart. Sungreh(i) = accumulate; practise. Nirmul = pure. Mooraar(i) = a name for Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: Those devotees of Waheguru achieve the highest spiritual level who are imbued in Satguru's Shabad, and who have embedded Waheguru's Naam in their heart. They always practise truth in life, love Waheguru's Naam, and stay absorbed in in it. They are always pure at heart, and gather no filth of immorality with the kind sight of the Creator. I am a sacrifice for those who recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਮੈ ਜਾਨਿਆ ਵਡਹੰਸੁ ਹੈ ਤਾ ਮੈ ਕੀਆ ਸੰਗੁ॥ ਜੇ ਜਾਣਾ ਬਗੁ ਬਪੁੜਾ ਤ ਜਨਮਿ ਨਾ ਦੇਦੀ ਅੰਗੁ॥ 2॥

M:3: Mein jaaniya vudhuns(u) haiy, ta mein keeya sung(u). Jay jaana bug(u) bupurra, ta junum(i) na dayndi ung(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Sung(u) = company. Bug(u) = heron; an imposter. Bupurra = poor; low level. Junum(i) = right from birth. Dayndi Ung(u) = come close. 2.

MEANING: I thought he was a devotee of Waheguru with the highest spiritual level; that is why I joined his company. Had I known that he was only a low-level imposter like a heron (a Maya-engrossed person), I would not have gone even near him right from my birth (from the beginning). 2.

ਮ:3॥ ਹੰਸਾ ਵੇਖਿ ਤਰੰਦਿਆ ਬਗਾ ਭੀ ਆਯਾ ਚਾਉ॥ ਡੁਬਿ ਮੁਏ ਬਗ ਬਪੁੜੇ ਸਿਰੁ ਤਲਿ ਉਪਰਿ ਪਾਉ॥3॥

M:3: Hunsaan vaykh(i) terndiyaan, bugga bhee aaya chaaou. Doob(i) mooyay bug buppurray, sir(u) tul(i) oopur(i) paaoun. 3.

Word Meaning: Terndiyaan = swimming. Chaaou = zestful; get encouraged. 3.

MEANING: Watching the swans swimming, even the herons feel encouraged (herons do not swim; they only dive down to catch fish), but the poor heron gets drowned with his head down, and his feet upwards. (When a Maya-engrossed individual notices the respect being accorded to the holy saints by the masses, he too wants to act like a holy man; but when the people find out the reality, they throw insults at him). 3.

Word Meaning: Kaarun Keeya = created the universe. Nirunkaar(u) = formless. Beeya = other. Kern Kaarun = the source of all creation. Sumruth(u) = fully capable. Theeya = happens. Unmungiya = without asking. Wah(u) = great! stupendous! 1.
MEANING: You alone created the universe all by Yourself without any assistance from anyone. You are the only Supreme Being, and there is none like You, oh formless Waheguru. You are the source of all creation and fully capable of creating anything; and only that happens, whatever You do, or plan. You give gifts of necessary things to all living beings, even without them asking for them. Applaud the Satguru as being great for His donating Waheguru's Naam on the tongue of the humans. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy = fear. Aakaar(u) = creation. Tithaiy = there; in that state. Poh(i) = touch; affect. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Put(i) = honour. Kaaruj Suvaaray = completes the task perfectly. 1.
MEANING: The whole world is in fear of God (strictly obeys His Laws); only Waheguru alone is fearless (above all the laws). Waheguru comes to dwell (appear) in the heart of the devotee who serves Satguru, and no fear of any kind is left there (in the devotee's mind because of the presence of Waheguru there). No trouble – which is like an enemy – can befall such a devotee or even go near him. A Sikh guru realizes that whatever Waheguru wishes must happen (so why be afraid of anything). Guru's Sikh has the faith that Waheguru will protect his dignity, and will complete the task (of connecting the devotee) with Him, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Sujjun = friends; human beings. Chullay = about to leave. Phoon(i) = also. 2.
MEANING: Some people are about to leave this world, while many have already left; the remaining will also leave eventually. Those who do not serve Satguru, come and go (take birth, and die), repenting. But, those, who are imbued in the love of Waheguru, never get separated from Him, and merge into Him by serving Satguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Miliyaiy = get connected; take shelter of. Sujjnaiy = friendly; benefactor. Goonkaari = full of virtues. Preetumaiy = very dear. Srisht(i) = world. Suvaari = adorned with noble qualities; salvaged. Nit = always. Bhuoujul = the world sea. Bikh(u) = poison. Taaari = ferried across; salvaged. Viturrihoun = for. 2.

MEANING: Take the shelter of the friendly Satguru who has Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, residing in His heart, oh my friends. Take the shelter of the dear Satguru, who destroys all your selfishness and ego. The Perfect Satguru who adorns the whole world (gets it salvaged) with His Teachings, is worthy of worship. Recite Waheguru's Naam all the time so as to swim across the poisonous (Maya) sea, oh, holy men. I am always a sacrifice for the Perfect Guru who spreads the Message of Waheguru around. 2.

Word Meaning: Chaakri = service of love. Saar = supreme. Moakh Dooaar = (is shown) the door to salvation. Adhaar(u) = food. Naayay = with. Herkh(u) = happiness. Sachiyaar(u) = having noble qualities; virtuous. Kartar(u) = Waheguru. 1.

MEANING: A selfless service to the Guru is the source of supreme comfort, oh my friends. One earns praise in this world and is taken to the door of salvation in the Court of Waheguru. Using Waheguru's Naam as your clothes to wear (whereby your dignity is protected), and His Naam as the food (for your soul, which satisfies all your appetite for worldly desires), is the real business to undertake. One cultivates a love for Waheguru in his heart and connects with Him in the company of the holy saints. Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru is the source of ongoing bliss, and the devotee is approved as a virtuous man in Waheguru's Court. But only that individual serves the Satguru on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vidaani = of others. Dhrig(u) = condemnable; shameful. Vaas(u) = living. Amrit = Waheguru's immortalizing Naam. Bikh(u) = poisonous (Maya). Khuttna = earning. Raas(i) = capital. Giraas = bites of food. Aithaiy = here, in this world. Vinaas(u) = destruction. Mun Hutth(i) = sheer obstinacy of mind. Raas(i) = successful (in spirituality). Jumpur(i) = in the court of the Angel of death.

MEANING: The life and the living of a man who ignores Waheguru and serves someone else (for worldly pleasures) is shameful. Those who ignore Waheguru's Naam, which is the real Amrit, and get engrossed in Maya, which is like a poison, earn poison and hoard poison as their capital. They eat poison, wear poison, and take bites of poison in the mouth (meaning the results of earning wealth by immoral means are very bitter and harmful). They earn (acquire) only troubles (loss of mental peace) in this world, and are given a place in hell in the next world. The Maya-engrossed individuals have filth in their mouths (tell lies and are impolite), know nothing about Guru's Shabad, and get destroyed by their lust and rage. They have no fear of Satguru (show no respect for Him), and achieve no peace of mind (because of a lack of high morality). They do perform some rituals, but only by the sheer obstinacy of their mind (have no real love for Waheguru). Tied up, they are punished in the court of the Angel of justice, and there is no one to listen to their pleas. But they cannot be fully blamed because they simply act as per their prewritten destiny; by the same token, the followers of the Guru, stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sadh Jun = holy saints. Dri-rraya = reinforced. Jugunath = Jugdeesh = Lord of the world = Waheguru. Nimukh, Nimukh = every moment. Punth(u) = path. Pugeen Puvhou = drop at the feet. Chookaaya = removes; dispels. Bhundaar = treasures. Luhaaya = made available. 3.

MEANING: Serve the holy and the great devotee of Waheguru – Satguru - who reiterates Waheguru's Naam, oh my friends. Serve the Satguru day and night who makes you worship the Lord of the world, Waheguru. Have a holy sight every moment of the Satguru (keep Him in mind) who shows you the path to union with Waheguru. Nanak jo Tis(u) bhaaveh(i) say bhulay jinh kee put(i) paaveh(i) thaayayn. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhookh = appetite (for Maya). Bhaykheen = with religious symbols. Sehj(u) = peace of mind; contentment. Sehjay = with thanks for (whatever is available). Mun Hutth(i) = obstinacy of mind. Greho = family life. Versaayay = gain something. Ruttay = imbued. Soajhi = understanding. Puyyiayiy Kirt(i) = to bear the fruit of previous deeds. Bhulay = noble; approved. Paaveh(i) Thaayayn = given due credit. 1.

MEANING: One's appetite for worldly desires is completely satisfied on getting connected with Satguru; such appetite does not go away just by wearing religious symbols (following the path of different sects). One suffers humiliation as a mystic when he goes begging from door to door, and he is punished twice as much in Waheguru's Court. He never feels blissful inside (enjoys peace of mind) so that he may enjoy a meal of whatever kind becomes available. One may beg from others simply by the obstinacy of his mind, but the donor is not pleased to donate (gives it unhappily). Living in the family is much better than this kind of path to realize Waheguru, because only a family man donates, not the so-called holy man who begs (rather than donating). Those who get imbued in Satguru's Shabad realize this fact, while others are misled by their misgivings about Maya. But we cannot fully blame anyone because everybody is following the path of life predestined for them by Waheguru, and nobody can say (do) anything to the contrary. Only those are approved by Waheguru whom He likes, and they are given credit (are honoured) in His Court, oh Nanak. 1.

Paakhund(i) Jumkaal(u) na chhodyee, laiy jaasi put(i) guvaayay. Nanak, Naam(i) ruttay say oobray, Sachay siyoun liv laayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Achint(u) = in a natural way; without any special effort. Teeruth(u) = holy place. Giyan(u) = Divine Knowledge (enlightenment). Amritsar(i) = pool of Amrit (Waheguru's Naam). Sujjun = friends; holy men. Soobhaayay = with love. Percha = made a connection. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = Supreme Soul. Pakhund(i) = by hypocrisy; by pretending. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Put(i) = dignity. 2.

MEANING: It is always blissful to serve the Satguru (act on His Teachings), and one's worst suffering due to his repeated births and deaths is terminated. He is left with no worries, and with Satguru's Divine Knowledge, Waheguru takes up dwelling in his heart without any special effort on his part, and his heart becomes a holy place in itself. By taking a dip in the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, all the filth of his mind is washed away, and his heart becomes perfectly pure. With the love for Satguru's Shabad, he gets into the company of holy saints like him. He connects at the heart with Waheguru when his soul merges with the Supreme Soul. The Angel of death does not spare those who simply pretend to be Waheguru's worshippers, and takes them away where they lose all their dignity (suffer humiliation). But those who are imbued with Waheguru Naam are salvaged because they are fully connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Tis(u) Gur kuou subh(i) numuskaar kurhou, jin(i) Hur(i) kee Hur(i) gaal gloyiyaiy. 4.

Word Meaning: Tit(u) = that. Satsungtee = gathering of holy saints. Biloyiyaiy = is churned; pondered on. Sehjay = with a peaceful mind. Tutt(u) = the essence (Waheguru). Dhoyiyaiy = get shelter. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning (by Waheguru). Mustuk(i) = Lilaat(i) = on the forehead. Gaal Gloyiyaiy = discusses. 4.

MEANING: Go, and join the company of the holy saints where Waheguru's Naam is pondered on, oh my friend. Recite Waheguru Naam with a peaceful (fully focused) mind so as not to lose the real essence (love for Waheguru) (one cannot connect with Waheguru with his mind wandering everywhere). Recite Waheguru's Naam (remember Him) day and night every day, because of which you will get shelter (be honoured) in Waheguru's Court. But only those lucky individuals get connected with the Perfect Satguru who have this connection prewritten on their forehead (in destiny) by Waheguru right from their birth. Bow all of you before the Satguru (show respect for Him) who talks only about Waheguru (sings His praise), oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Preetum = dear; husband. Maaniya = get convinced. Apaar(i) = beyond limits (Waheguru). Vichhurreh(i) = disconnected. Perteet(i) = faith; trust. Doojaiy Bhaayay = with the other (Maya). Sayti = with. Din Chaar(i) = for a short time. Vilm(u) = delay. Vikaar = vices; immoral activities. Keechaiy = do; have. 1.

MEANING: The holy (saintly) friends get together with other holy saints who love Satguru. Together, they sing praise of the dear Waheguru with deep affection and reverence. With Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru, the holy saints are convinced in their minds that Waheguru is the only Supreme Being. Such holy men, who are connected with Waheguru by His benevolence, never get separated from Him again. But many others do not have any faith in Waheguru, so they do not ponder on Guru's Shabad and never think of having a holy sight of Waheguru. How much more can those be disconnected from Waheguru, who are already disconnected from Him because of their love for Maya? The friendship with a Maya-engrossed individual does not last long and is only brief. It does not take long for such a friendship to break down because it is based on selfishness and leads to immorality. Those who have no fear of Waheguru do not love His Naam. One should not have any friendship with those who are misled by Waheguru Himself, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ikuttay = with the "One" . Rung(i) = in love. Urpeen = I offer. Niv, Niv = by bowing. Suntokhiyaiy = is contented. Trishna = desires. Liv = full focus.

MEANING: I am a sacrifice to those holy saints who always stay in love for the "One" Waheguru. I wish to touch their feet by kneeling before them and offer my body, my mind, and my wealth in their service. One's appetite for all worldly attractions goes away, and he feels fully contented in their company. Word Meaning: Kutha = story; description of qualities. Bunut = foundation; basis. Jithaiy Kithaiy = wherever; everywhere. Chhudayee = gets free. Shabaash(i) = accolades. Sojhi = understanding. Vit-houn = for. Pooraayee = fulfilled. 5.

MEANING: I will gladly sacrifice my life for the Guru who enlightens us with the virtues of Waheguru and the way He manages the whole universe. I am always a sacrifice for the Guru who has clarified that service to Waheguru is the basis for union with Him. That Satguru is always with me, and he sets me free from worldly bonds everywhere. Word Meaning: Trishna = desires. Daadhi = which causes burning. Jul(i) Mooyee = burned to death. Seetul = (source of) coolness (peacefulness). Nirbhuou = fearless; pure; worry-free. l. Jichur(u) Na = until. 1.

MEANING: (With Satguru's grace) the worldly desires that cause suffering to the man, have been burned to death, and are now begging while crying (to be effective again). However, if one connects with Satguru, the source of calmness and peace, they will not need to be burned again (because they will never be able to mislead the devotee). Nobody can become fearless or worry-free until they sing Waheguru's praise by pondering on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 1.

Chinta mool(i) na hovyee, Hur(i) Naam(u) rujja aghaayay. Nanak, Naam bina neh chhootiyaiy, haumein pucheh(i) puchaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhaykheen = with religious symbols. Chinta = worries. Vermi = the burrow of the snake. Niguray = without Guru's guidance. Kerm = deeds. Seetul(u) = Shaant(i) = peaceful. Sir(i) = the topmost. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Oodaasi = detachment from Maya. Mool(i) Na = not at all. Rujja Aghaayay = fully satisfied. Pucheh = suffers; Puchaaheh(i) = cause suffering. 2.

MEANING: The fire of worldly desires cannot be put out by simply wearing religious symbols because the wearers still carry many worries at mind. The deeds of those who have no Guru to guide them are worthless, and are like destroying only the burrow of a snake (because the snake is still alive). But, if we serve Satguru, who is the source of Waheguru's Naam, His Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) takes root in the devotee's heart as a result of which his body and mind become peaceful, and the fire of his desires is put out. He attains the highest comfort (bliss) when he gets rid of his selfishness and ego. The Sikh of the Guru practises worldly detachment when he stays focused on Waheguru's Naam as result of which he is left with no worries at all, and he feels fully contented. Without Waheguru's Naam, one cannot find salvation; one suffers from selfishness and ego and causes suffering for others, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Payayrray = realize. Visur(i) = forgotten; eradicated. Bhulay = virtuous. Chint Puraayee = (do not) feel ashamed; indifferent (to what people may say about them). Chookha = negligibly small. Amrit Ful = Waheguru's praise.

MEANING: Those who recite Waheguru's Naam acquire all comforts. Those who have a successful life (get connected with Waheguru) have the appetite for Waheguru's Naam in their mind. Those who sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad get all their discomforts forgotten (removed). Those Gur Sikhs are holy saints who do not care, even a little, about what negative things others say about them. The Satguru is worthy of worship for those who recite the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru with their tongue. 6.

Word Meaning: Kul(i) Meh(i) = in the world. Jundaar(u) = mean; killer. Oobray = salvaged. Furoo = one who can arrest or prevent. 1.

MEANING: The Angel of Death is the dreadful killer in the world, but he simply obeys the orders of Waheguru. The devotees, who are protected by the Guru (come to His shelter), are salvaged, whereas the followers of their mind are punished. The world is the prisoner of the Angel of Death, and nobody can stop him. (The only way to avoid the Angel) is to serve Waheguru (sing His praise) in the shelter of the Guru, and one will not suffer at all. Actually, the Angel of death serves the Sikhs of the Guru who have realized Waheguru in their heart, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Nirmul(u) = pure. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = naturally.

MEANING: The human body is full of the disease of haumein (selfishness and ego), which cannot be cured without the Guru's Shabad. The body becomes pure (free from haumein) when one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart in the shelter of Satguru. When one recites the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, his suffering disappears naturally (without any special effort), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jugjeevun(u) = Waheguru. Oopdayshiya = preach. Ghoomaaya = sacrifice. Khunniyaiy = cut into pieces. Mudhusoodun = a name for God. Vaarnaiy = sacrifice. Poonn(u) = act of kindness. Gooni = the source of virtues (God). Bhaytiya = met; got connected. 7.
MEANING: I am always a sacrifice for the Guru who preaches (disseminates) the Message of Waheguru, which is the source of life for the world. I will cut myself into pieces, and offer to the Guru (serve Him selflessly with full devotion) who recites Waheguru's Naam to the world. I will gladly sacrifice my life for the Guru who eradicates the suffering caused by selfishness and ego, and due to the poisonous Maya. It is the great generosity (benevolence) of Satguru who kills our ignoble qualities, and enlightens our minds with the virtues of Waheguru. Word Meaning: Mer(i) Jeevrray = those who kill their desires, and survive in the love of God. Bukhshiya = bestowed. Mayt(i) = erase; prevent. Goon Nidhaan(u) = source of virtues (Waheguru). Vichhorra = separation. 1.
MEANING: The worship of Waheguru by those who kill (overcome) their worldly desires while living in the family and who survive to recite Waheguru's Naam with full devotion in Guru's shelter, is real (approved by Waheguru) and is accepted at any time (no matter what the eon is). They have been bestowed the treasure of worship by Waheguru from birth, and no one can prevent this gift. They acquire the source of all virtues (Waheguru) in their mind, and have faith only in Him. Once connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru, they never get separated from Him again, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Saar = value; worth. Gavaar(u) = unrefined; unaware. Kerm Kmaavaiy = performs rituals. Unhoanda = undeserving. Gunaayaynday = claim importance. Khooaar(u) = discomfiture; humiliation. 2.

MEANING: What can an individual think (know) about Waheguru who has not served Satguru? They do not know the worth of Satguru's Shabad, and the unrefined (ignorant) man is misled by the gimmicks of Maya (sensual pleasures). Engrossed in Maya, such an ignorant and blind (of wisdom) performs many religious rituals. He undeservingly promotes himself for recognition, but the Angel of Death kills him spiritually, causing humiliation for him. Who else can we request to (against the punishment) when Waheguru Himself is the one (who punishes) and forgives, oh Nanak? 2.

Word Meaning: Junt = living beings; human beings. Vichaaray = poor; helpless. Kern Kaarun = creation. Sumruth(u) = fully capable; omnipotent. Veechaaray = ponder on. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible (God). Lukhaaray = shows; reveals. 8.

MEANING: You are the creator, and all living beings are Yours (Your creation), and You know all about them, oh Waheguru. They are helpless. You connect with the ones whom You like. You are the eternal Creator and are fully capable of creating anything. You connect the devotees of Your choice with You who ponder on Guru's Shabad in His shelter, oh dear Waheguru. Word Meaning: Ruttan = jewels (priceless item). Paarukh(u) = appraiser; judge. Saar = worth. Boojhunhaar = one who comprehends. Aap Gunaayaynday = self praise to gain importance. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. Luhaiy = acquires. Oochraiy = recites. Nit Biyohaar(u) = daily routine. 1.

MEANING: Only the judge of the jewels knows their real worth and can discuss them. But the ignorant are blind and in complete darkness about the worth of the jewels. The real jewel is Guru's Shabad, and only that devotee knows its worth who has the ability to comprehend it. The foolish praise themselves for recognition, but suffer humiliation as they die, and take birth again, and again. Only that devotee realizes the jewel-like Waheguru's Naam who fosters love for Him in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. Word Meaning: Mut Jaanhou = don't you think. Oye = those.
MEANING: Do not think of them as being alive who do not serve Satguru, and do not develop any love for Waheguru's Naam. They have been killed (spiritually) by Waheguru Himself. Selfishness and ego are a serious illness in which the individual performs deeds in the love for Maya. The followers of their mind are (spiritually) dead even though they seem to be alive; they suffer for forgetting God, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Shoodh(u) = pure. Numuskaari = bow to; show respect. Boodh(i) Bibayk(u) = wisdom to distinguish. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. Pusaariya = present.
MEANING: Everybody shows respect for the devotee of Waheguru who has purity of heart. I am a sacrifice for the devotee who has the treasure of Waheguru's Naam and the wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad. Satguru is a friend of everybody and He loves us all. With the wisdom preached by Satguru, one learns that Waheguru is present in all His creation. 9.

Word Meaning: Bundhna = chains. Tthaur = shelter; Waheguru's support (approval). Phikka = rude; impolite. Mooh Kaalay = with disgrace. 1.
MEANING: Without serving Satguru, the man performs all his deeds under the influence of his selfishness and ego, as a result of which they all become chains for him, which tie him strongly with Maya. Without serving Satguru, he never finds Waheguru's approval, and continues to take births and to die. Without serving Satguru, he uses impolite language (to defend his dishonest dealings and immoral acts), and Waheguru's Naam never sprouts in his heart. Without serving Waheguru, he leaves the world with his face blackened (disgraced), and tied in the court of the Angel of death, he suffers severe punishment, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Mungiyaiy = wish for. Mun Chindiya = as wished. Laaj = shame.
MEANING: We should serve only the single Supreme Being, and wish only for Him to reap the rewards that we wish. I will die of shame if I have to beg from some other power. Whoever serves the "only" Lord reaps the rewards, and all his appetite for worldly luxuries is eliminated (he feels fully content). Mureh(i) = fight to the death. Nuckeen Vuddhi = with severed noses (in disgrace). Sobha = praise. 1.

MEANING: My dear Waheguru is pleased to be kind to His supreme devotees and connects them with Him on His own. Connecting them with Him is a great kingship that Waheguru bestows on His devotees; He also raises a royal canopy on them to show their sovereignty (on their mind and on Maya). They are always pure at heart, and enjoy blissfulness while they lead their life as per the Advice of Satguru. Those are not considered kings by Waheguru who fight among themselves for greater control and are killed in the battlefield for their greed, as a result of which they are born again, and again in different life forms. If he tries to become like Satguru (acquire the same virtues as Satguru), only then is he able to focus his mind on Waheguru's Naam with devotion. One earns respect with Waheguru's Naam at heart, and looks dignified (is honoured) in Waheguru's Court too, oh Nanak. 2.

Similarly, Bushisht listened to Waheguru's Teachings (His praise) only in the shelter of his Guru. Nobody has ever realized Waheguru's Naam without taking shelter of the Guru, oh my brothers. (It is Waheguru's fundamental Principle) that He has made about His worship, that one can do so only in the shelter of the Guru.

You will be able to burn away (destroy) your selfishness and ego with His Shabad, leaving you with no worry. You will be able to demolish the wall of falsehood (which separates you from Waheguru), and He will take up dwelling in your mind, oh my friends. You will have peace and comfort of mind and lead your life of high morality with control on your sensual pleasures. However, one gets connected with Satguru only with great fortune, and that too, only when Waheguru becomes benevolent to Him on His own Will, oh Nanak. 2.

He is indebted to no one; Waheguru rather makes (forces) everybody to show respect for him. One may somehow be able to escape from the courts of human judges, but where can one escape from the court of Waheguru-Judge (because He rules the entire universe and the minds of all of us)? The devotees of Waheguru have such a King residing in their hearts who forces all the remaining humans to stand before them (to serve them). However, one acquires the grandeur of the Naam only with the benevolence of Waheguru, and some rare individual recites the Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 14.

Being present in every heart, Waheguru enjoys all the delicious things, yet He is fully detached from the world. He is invisible (incomprehensible), and cannot be seen (comprehended). However, the Perfect Guru gives us the wisdom by which we can "see" Him. Those who serve the omnipresent Waheguru by burning away (getting rid of) their selfishness and ego, become like Him (acquire the same qualities). Waheguru has no rival or no thorn of enmity. His Kingship (Reign) is everlasting, and He does not take birth or die. His devotees serve Him all the time by singing His praise. My heart blooms to see the grandeur of the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam (His praise) is my invisible, inaccessible, immortal and the carver of my fate (Waheguru, and His Naam are synonymous). Therefore, I serve and worship (recite with reverence) Waheguru's Naam, and my mind is imbued in the Naam. I cannot think of anything else that is as great as Waheguru's Naam, which sets one free from all worldly bonds at the end. Word Meaning: Saad(u) = taste. Chaytyee = remember. Lunghay Paar = salvaged.
MEANING: Those who do not enjoy the heavenly taste of Guru's Shabad, and do not foster affection (or respect) for Waheguru, and do not recite His Naam, keep taking births, and dying again, and again. If the blind, and the follower of his mind, does not remember Waheguru; what did he take birth in the world for? Word Meaning: Goontaas(i) = treasure of virtues (God). Binaas(i) = destroyed. 2.

MEANING: Only Satguru is awake (is aware of the attacks of Maya all the time) while the rest of the world is sound asleep (unaware) in the thirst (desire or love) for Maya. Those who serve Waheguru and are imbued in His love also stay awake. The blind (in complete darkness of ignorance) and the followers of their mind, who do not remember Waheguru (do not keep him in mind), get destroyed (suffer badly) in taking births and dying. But only those recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, who have it prewritten in their destiny, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chhuteeh Perkaar = of 36 different kinds. Tritup(i) = contentment. Sherdh = desire. Nungay Na Hoveh = become naked; lose morality and respect. Vunuj = business; dealing. Kaar-koonee = assigning responsibility. Laykha Likhiya = write the importance on heart. Uglee = ealier. Kaan(i) = indebtedness. Virlay = rare. Kerm(i) = in fortune. Praaput(i) = acquirement; in fortune 17.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the delicious meals of 36 kinds for me eating which I feel fully contented. Waheguru's Naam is the (most expensive) clothing for me because of which I will never lose my dignity (which will cover all my weaknesses); and because of which, I have lost all my desire to wear (any other expensive clothes). Waheguru's Naam is my business and my dealings; Satguru has assigned me the responsibility to (share) Waheguru's Naam (with others). I have written Waheguru's Naam on my heart (so as never to forget it), because of which the debts of all my earlier bad deeds owing to the Angel of death have been cleared. But only that rare individual who recites Waheguru Naam in Guru's shelter has the good fortune prewritten for him right from his birth. 17.

Word Meaning: Ugiyaani = ignorant. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Dhaayay = attack quickly. Ja = if. Kerm = deeds. 1.
MEANING: The world is ignorant and blind, and performs deeds (its daily business) in the love for Maya; but all those deeds done in the love of Maya bring it trouble very quickly. However, all comforts appear (spring out) when, with the grace of the Guru, one performs deeds according to His Teachings, and recites Waheguru's Naam all the time. But only that devotee adopts such a lifestyle whom Waheguru Himself motivates; and nobody can say anything about it (interfere in it), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhundaara = treasures. Daata = provider; source. Jea = soul; spirituality. Apaara = beyond limits (Waheguru). Oochreh(i) = recite. Vertaavunhaara = distributor. Munooa = mind. Sehjay = in a blissful state. Mookut(i) = free from all bonds. Sachiyaara = bearer of Truth (Naam). 2.
MEANING: Satguru is the provider (source) of spiritual life (Waheguru's Naam), and it is because of His benevolence that I have treasures full of His worship in my heart all the time; my Satguru lives forever. All such devout devotees sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad (in praise of God) all the time. They always recite Guru's Shabad, which is true in every eon. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the mind is always blissful, and deals in Waheguru Naam in a peaceful state of mind. The devotees have the jewel-like Waheguru's Naam which they acquire with Guru's Knowledge (wisdom), and which leads to their salvation. But only that devotee realizes Waheguru's Naam on whom He casts a kind sight; such a devotee is approved to be the bearer of Truth (has conquered all the demons) in God's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhunn(u) = great; worthy of worship. Anund = blissfulness. 18.

MEANING: The Gur Sikh, who comes to Satguru's shelter, is considered great and worthy of praise. The Gur Sikh, who recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue, is considered great, and so is the Gur Sikh who feels blissful on listening to Waheguru's Naam. That Gur Sikh is considered to be great who realizes Waheguru's Naam by serving Satguru. I will always bow to the Gur Sikh who follows the path of the Guru's Teachings. 18.

Word Meaning: Mun Hutth(i) = persistence of mind. Kerm = rituals. Bhaykh = religious symbols. Bhermday = roam around. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers.
Ruttan = jewel. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Pergut(u) = appears; shines. 1.

MEANING: Many people have exhausted themselves by performing religious rituals to please God, but nobody has ever realized Him simply by the persistence of their mind. Some others roam around in search of Waheguru, again wearing religious symbols of different faiths, because of the obstinacy of their minds, but they too suffer and do not achieve anything. Some people may acquire supernatural powers by concentrating their minds, but such powers only boost individuals' egos and lead to greater attraction to worldly comforts; Waheguru's Naam does not take root in their hearts. However, one's mind gets purified by serving the Guru (obeying His Teachings) when the darkness of his ignorance disappears (his mind is enlightened), the jewel of Waheguru's Naam shines in his mind, and he gets fully immersed in the blissful state of mind, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Some people do not relish Satguru's Shabad and do not cultivate any love for Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. Such people talk only about tasteless things related to Maya, and suffer humiliation all the time. But they are pursuing only those things for which they are predestined by Waheguru to follow; nobody can erase (change) their nature, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sat Purakh = a manifestation of Waheguru. Shaant(i) = peace; calmness. Liv Laayee = fully focused mind. Giyani = source of Divine Knowledge. Sum = equal; same. Drisht(i) = vision; eye. 19.
MEANING: My Satguru, which is a manifestation of Waheguru, is worthy of worship because one achieves peace of mind on meeting with Him (in His shelter). My Satguru is great because I have acquired Waheguru's worship in His shelter, and by serving Him, I have been able to meditate on Waheguru's Naam with full devotion. My Satguru, who is the source of Divine Knowledge, is also great, and has taught me how to see friends and enemies with the same eye (treat them equally). Word Meaning: Moondh(i) = a young (immature) woman (human being). Vidays(i) = in foreign land. Jhoor = repent; feel guilty; yearns. Sumaalay = remembers. Dhill = delay. Neeut(i) = thinking; intentions. Raas(i) = suitable; pure. 1.
MEANING: The young (immature) woman (a person who does not know much about Waheguru) does not realize that Waheguru resides in her heart, and thinks of Him as being in some foreign land (far, far away). She remembers Him and yearns to see Him. But the fact is, she can meet (connect) with Him without any delay if she sets her intentions right (purifies her mind by breaking bonds of worldly attachments). 1.

Word Meaning: Gaaleen = talks; acts. Koorriyaan = false; meaningless. Baajh(u) Preet(i) = without love (for Waheguru). Tichur(u) = only that long. Bhulaa = good; noble. Jichur(u) = as long as. Layvaiy = takes (suffering) away. 2.
MEANING: If a man talks about Waheguru without any love for Him, all his talk is false (meaningless and only a show-off), oh Nanak. Because such a person thinks of Waheguru as good to him only for the time during which He takes his troubles away, and gives him comforts. 2.

Word Meaning: Jea = living beings. Chaakhiya = tasted; ate. Triput(i) = Aghaayay = fully contented. Bhubhaakhiya = big appetite. Vertaiy = operates. Laakhiya = realized. Nihaal(u) = blissful. Paakhiya = by the favour. 20.

MEANING: Waheguru, which creates the living beings, also protects them. He serves the Amrit-like food of His Naam, which, if taken by a man, makes him fully content, and all his big appetite for worldly attractions is eliminated. But only a rare person realizes that it is the "One" Supreme Being (Waheguru) that operates in everybody. I am His slave, and feel blissful with His favour (kindness), oh Nanak. 20.

Word Meaning: Ditthaiy = by seeing. Jichur(u) Na = until. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Tuj(i) = abandon; get rid of. Vikaar = sensual pleasures. Mer(i) = kill (control) mind of desires. Hayt(i) = for. 1.

MEANING: The whole world (Including those who oppose Him) may see Satguru with their eyes; but one does not find salvation (break his worldly bonds) just by seeing Him. One needs to ponder on His Shabad (follows His Advice in daily life) because one's filth of his selfishness and ego is not washed away, and he does not develop any love for Waheguru's Naam until he ponders on Satguru's Shabad. Waheguru connects some individuals to Him through His kindness, enabling them to overcome their indecisiveness (the struggle between Waheguru's Naam and love for Maya) and control their sensual pleasures. Some lucky individuals develop a love for Satguru just by His sight, and merge into Him by killing (controlling) their minds towards worldly desires, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Guvaar(i) = uncivilized; ignorant. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Kaarun(i) = because of; for. Oopkuray = came forward (for help).

MEANING: The foolish and the uncivilized (ignorant) do not serve Satguru. They suffer deeply in their love for Maya, and, burning with desire, they cry for help. But all those friends who were bonded with him through a common attraction for Maya never appeared for help at the time of his death. Word Meaning: Uvero = other. Ruv(i) = present. Nichind(u) = worry-free. Nissul(u) = in comfort. Luhhiyaiy = acquire; realize. Soodh(u) = verified.

MEANING: You are the sole creator of everything in this universe, oh Waheguru. We can talk about some other person (or power) only if there is someone like you (but there is none). It is Waheguru Himself who speaks through living beings and makes them speak. He is present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. He, Himself kills, and Himself let some others go free. Let us just stay connected with His Feet (His Naam) and take His shelter (surrender our wisdom to Him), oh my mind. Nobody else can kill, or keep someone alive, without Waheguru; so, let us stay worry-free and feel comfortable, oh my mind. I am a slave of Waheguru and request others that they can acquire Waheguru's Naam only in the shelter of the Guru, and one should recite His Naam while standing, sitting, or sleeping (all the time), oh Nanak. 21. 1. Verified.

Word Meaning: Vaychhorra = separation. Aagaiy = next world; after death. Veesraiy = forgotten. Vaydun = pain; mental agony. 1. Bhee = repeatedly. Pause. Vudda Kur(i) = with faith that (He is) Great. Daata = provider. Maanus = human. Theeyaiy = takes place. Runn K(i) = like women. Roonaiy = by crying. 2. Koat = millions. Gurrh = forts (kingdoms). Vujaayay = rule; reign; did whatever they liked to do. Maavvni = contained. Nuthaan = nose ring; a rope put through the nose of animals to control them; rein in. Sooleeyaan = (resulting) acute pain. 3. Augoon = bad qualities. Jayturray = however many. Taytrray = the same number (as many). Junjeer = chains. Munniun(i) = accepted. Vaypeer = unholy. 4.

MEANING of the Sloak: There is only one living Supreme Being which has eternal existence; which is the creator of the whole universe, is omnipresent; fearless (above the effects of Maya); bears no enmity with anyone (because He has no rival; and is perfectly just); which is unaffected by time; never takes births; is self-illuminated, and can be realized only by the grace of the Guru.

MEANING of the Shabad: Everybody in this world has to die and suffer separation from the world. Get advice from wise people (who have made a connection with Waheguru) to learn who gets to connect with Waheguru (gets His approval) after death. Those who forget Waheguru suffer a huge mental agony. 1. One should repeatedly praise the eternal Waheguru whose kind sight is a source of great comfort all the time, oh my friends. Pause. We should sing Waheguru's praise with firm faith that He is the greatest, and that He is here now, and will always be here even in the future. Waheguru is the provider for everybody, and no human can be the provider. Also, only that happens that is to His liking; crying like a woman (about something that one does not like) achieves nothing. 2. Countless people have ruled this earth and enjoyed in whatever way they chose to. Waheguru puts rope through the noses of those (reins them in) who had thought that even the sky was too small for them. But if people were aware of the suffering caused by sweet things (if they knew the resulting bad effects of their enjoyment of sensual pleasures), they would not enjoy them. 3. All the ignoble qualities (vices) in a person result in as many chains around his neck, which can be cut only by noble qualities, which are helpful, like brothers and friends, to the individual. The individuals with bad qualities are not approved in Waheguru's Court; so, kill, and kick out such unholy qualities (disapproved by the Guru) away (get rid of them) before reaching Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Haali = farmer. Kirsaani = farming. Kerni = deeds. Sherm = hard work. Khayt(u) = field. Beej(u) = seeds. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Soohaaga = leveller (a heavy, thick wooden slab used to level the field after being ploughed). Greebi = politeness; humility. Vays(u) = clothing; outlook. Bhaaou = affection. Kerm = kindness. Jummsi = will sprout. Ghur = heart. Bhaagutth = fortunate. 1.
Inn(i) = this. Mohiya = captivated. Virla = rare. Boojhaiy = realizes. Pause.
Haan(u) Aarja = decreasing of life. Hutt(u) = shop; store. Aarja = age. Vuth(u) = the desired valuable item. Soort(i) = attention. Soach = thinking. Bhaandshaal = the shelf for vessels. Vunjaariyaan = the dealers (in Waheguru's Naam). Vunuj(u) = business; dealings. Laaha = benefit. Huss(u) = laugh; feel blissful. 2.
Shast = religious books. Saudagri = trading (especially of horses). Sat(u) = high morality. Khurch Bunnh = investment for the journey (to Waheguru's Court) . Chungiyaayiyaan = noble deeds. Mut Jaaneh(i) = do not think. Kullh(u) = tomorrow; future. Luheh(i) = acquire. Mehl(u) = woman; devotee. Nirunkaar = God. 3.
Chit(u) Kur(i) = with dedication. Chaakri = service. Bunnh = control. Budiyaan = ignoble deeds. Dhaavni = aggressively. Dhunn(u) = praise worthy.
Chuvgun = four times. Vunn(u) = shine (of purity of mind). 4.

NOTE: Using the four major professions of the time – farming, shop keeping (business), trading, and service – as examples for comparison, Guru Sahib teaches us how to build a noble character and to unite with Waheguru (God).

MEANING: (To merge into Waheguru, which is the main objective of human life) make your mind the farmer and your noble deeds as the profession of farming, oh my friend. Irrigate your body-field with the water of hard work. Now seed the body-field with Waheguru's Naam, and level your mind (clear it of all desires and discrimination) with the leveller of contentment, and wear the clothing of humility in daily life. When you do all that, Waheguru's Naam will sprout in your heart with His loving sight. 1. Wealth does not stay with you at the time of your death, oh, wise man. Some rare individual realizes that the world is (falsely) captivated by Maya. Pause.

Realizing that your life span is decreasing with every breath, remember Waheguru with every breath, and let this be your shop (business), and store Waheguru's Naam as the merchandize in the shop of your mind. Make your attention and your thinking the shelf for vessels, and put Waheguru's Naam in those vessels (of your thoughts). Join the company of the holy men who run the same business (of Waheguru's Naam) as you do, and gain the additional benefit of the blissfulness of your mind. 2. Like a trader in horses, let high morality (good business ethics), and listening to (and acting on the advice of) the religious books (on Waheguru's Naam) be your horses for trading (i.e., trade in Waheguru's Naam). Let noble deeds be your expenses for the journey (to the next world); do not put these acts off until tomorrow which may not be there. Such a devotee realizes all comforts when she goes to the world (Court) of Waheguru. 3. Like a loyal servant, serve Waheguru with full dedication, and make recitation of Waheguru's Naam with full faith as your task (project). Control evil acts aggressively, because of which people will praise you. When Waheguru casts a kind sight on such a devotee, the shine on his face (because of the purity of his mind) becomes fourfold, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Neeka = good; dear. Chatoor(u) = clever; wise. Juvaayee = son-in-law. Baal Kunniya = a little girl. Ut(i) = extremely. Huqam(u) Bhuyya = with (Waheguru's) Will. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment; instantly. Puraayee = belonging to others; strange. Ishnaan = cleansing (of mind). Tit(u) Tun(i) = through that body. Dhoorr(i) Dhoomaayee = spread dust (did immoral and disgraceful things). 1. Maaniya = pleased with. Sukhaayee = friend. Bulihaaraiy = to sacrifice. Pause. Baydhiya = pierced; stitched. Vaad(u) = disputes; belligerent discussions. Ruchaayee = creates; initiates. Mugun(u) = fully absorbed. Mug(u) = path. Johaiy = to keep a watchful eye on. Bikh(u) = poison; immoral and sinful acts. Gundhun Vaiyn(i) = filthy songs. Rutta = imbued. Hitkaari = loving. Soort(i) = mind; thinking. Rung(i) = in the love (for Waheguru). Put(i) = dignity. 2.
Sadh Subha = holy gatherings. Sehj(i) = blissful mental state (above the effects of Maya). Chaakhiya = tasted. Jihba = tongue. Raayee = the size of a grain of mustard; minuscule. Dur = Waheguru's Court. Tthaur(u) = support. 3.
Nudr(i) = kind sight. Kuthun(u) = description. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. 4.

MEANING: The man, who was an apple of the eyes of his parents, a wise son-in-law to his father-in-law, dear father to his little daughter (his children), and an extremely dear brother to his brother, left the house and the outside belongings (upon his death) at the Will of Waheguru in a moment, and everything became strange to him. The Maya-engrossed man did not recite Waheguru's Naam to cleanse his mind, nor did he do any philanthropic act in his life; he simply enjoyed sensual pleasures thereby earning only disgrace. 1. I wish to drop at the feet and sacrifice my life for the Guru who enlightened me with the true understanding (of the purpose of human life) whereby my mind has come to love Waheguru's Naam as my real friend. Pause. The man's mind is pierced with the false love of Maya, and he gets into unnecessary and aggressive discussions with the devotees of Waheguru. Deeply engrossed in the love for wealth all the time, he looks for ways to earn it even by immoral means (like robbing and killing); he does not recite Waheguru's Naam, and dies a spiritual death, enjoying sensual pleasures and committing other sinful acts. Imbued in the love of filthy songs, he does not like focusing his mind (pondering) on Guru's Shabad. He does not get imbued in Waheguru's love and his mind does not get pierced with the sweetness of the Naam; the Maya-engrossed, and detached from Waheguru, the man loses his dignity. 2. The man does not enjoy blissfulness in holy congregations, and his tongue experiences no taste at all of Waheguru's sweet Naam. He considers his mind, his body, and the wealth as his own, but has no knowledge of Waheguru's Court (judgement). On closing his eyes (on his death), the blind leaves this world where he cannot see his house or his door, not even his brother (supporter). Tied at the door of the Angel of justice, he gets no support, but he cannot blame anyone because he is reaping the rewards of his own deeds. 3. If Waheguru becomes kind, I can "see" Him, but still cannot describe Him. Listening to the Shabad of praise of Waheguru with my ears, I am able to embed His Amrit Naam in my mind. The Light (Soul) of Waheguru, who is fearless, formless, and without any enmity, is present everywhere. Without the Guru, man's misgivings do not go away; on the other hand, one earns respect with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Prunvut(i) = requests respectfully. Doobda = sinking. Puthur = (heavy like) rock; loaded with sins. Leejaiy = save; salvage. 4.

MEANING: Like the two millstones of the grinding mill, the earth is the bottom, and the sky the top stone of Waheguru's mill of world creation. All four directions make up His throne to sit on. The whole universe is solely Your image which has been created in the mint of Your mouth (with Your Huqam or Command), oh Waheguru. 1. Your feats are wondrous, oh my Lord. You are present in the waters, on the land, in the sky, and in every living being. Pause. You have indescribable forms; it is Your Light everywhere, no matter in which direction I look. With only one identity (You are the only one), You are present hidden in everybody, yet nobody is like anybody else. 2. All the living beings from all the four sources of reproduction – eggs, live births, vegetation, and from invisible sources (present in air, like bacteria and viruses) – have been created by You. It is Your amazing feat that You are present in each of them (regardless of the source of reproduction). 3.
You have countless noble qualities, but I am foolish for not recognizing even a single one of them; kindly give me some wisdom. It is my humble submission that I am like a heavy rock, loaded with sins, and am drowning in the world-sea, oh Nanak. Please protect me, oh kind Waheguru. 4.

Soochay = pure-minded. Kaachay = unripe; weak. 3.
Tiseh(i) = His. Sreek(u) = rival. Daasun(i) Daasa = slave of slaves. 4.

MEANING: I am a sinner, an immoral, and the biggest hypocrite, whereas You are pure, and formless, oh Waheguru. In Your shelter, I have tasted the sweetness of Your Amrit-Naam, and now I am imbued in the supreme essence (of the Naam). 1.
You are the pride of this humble servant, oh Waheguru. When one gets absorbed in Your eternal Naam, he acquires pride, fame, and the wealth of Your Naam, oh God. Pause.
You are perfect, but I am empty (devoid of noble qualities), and have very low wisdom; You are loaded with noble qualities and have complete self-control, whereas I lack all noble qualities and have no self-control. I wish I were always imbued in You, love day and night, so I urge my mind to recite Your Naam with the tongue. 2.
You are everlasting. I wish to be pierced with Guru's Shabad in Your praise so that I may stay absorbed in Your Naam and become like You. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are pure, while those who take births and die are impure. 3.
I do not see anybody else who could rival You, and whom I could praise, oh God. I submit humbly that I have realized Waheguru with Guru's guidance, and I am a slave of His slaves, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Soochaiy bhaandaiy Sach(u) smaavaiy, virlay soochachaari. Tuntaiy kuou Perm Tunt(u) milaaya, Nanak shern(i) Toomhaari. 5.6.

Word Meaning: Alukh = invisible. Apaar = beyond limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Kerma = rituals; obligations. Jaat(i) = upper caste. Ajaat(i) = lower class. Ajoani = never takes birth. Sumbhuou = self-illuminated. 1. Sachiyaar = source of virtues. Vit-houn = for. Roop = form; shape. Vern = colour. Raykhiya = physical features. Neeshaan(u) = identity. Pause. Bundhup = relatives. Ukool = has no clan. Uppur Prumpur(u) = beyond limits. 2. Braham = God. Lookaaya = hiding. Bujjur = rock. Kpaat = doors. Mooktay = free from all bonds. Nirbhaiy = fearless. Taarri = deep meditation. 3. Junt = living beings. Vusgut(i) = under control. Pdaaruth(u) = desired product; Waheguru's Naam. Chhooteh(i) = emancipated. Kmaayee = act on. 4. Soochaiy = pure. Bhaanda = vessel; heart. Virlay = rare. Soochchaari = pure-hearted. Tuntaiy = tutt (basic element); human soul. Perm Tunt(u) = Supreme Soul; Waheguru. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru is invisible, beyond limits, inaccessible, and incomprehensible. He has no lust and no obligations to meet. Unlike human beings, He has no upper or lower caste; he never takes births, is self-illuminated; and has no fear (has no rival); and He needs no running around to fulfill His obligations. 1. I am a sacrifice for the eternal source of such virtues – Waheguru. He has no form, no colour, and no physical features. He can be identified (realized) only with the eternal Shabad of the Guru (in His praise). Pause. Waheguru has no mother, no father, no sons, and no relatives. He has no lust and has no need for any woman. Waheguru, which has no clan and which is above the effects of Maya, is beyond limits, and the whole creation is His Soul (He is the basis of all life). 2. Waheguru is present hidden in every heart, and His Light is shining everywhere (everything is His reflection). The rock-like strong doors of the mind (which separate us from Him) become free (open up) with the Guru's Teachings when we "see" the fearless Waheguru in meditation. 3. Having created living beings, Waheguru has created death for them as well, but it is He who controls everything with His Huqam (Laws). One can acquire the desired valuable product of Waheguru's Naam by serving the Satguru and get emancipated by acting on the Guru's Teachings. 4. Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in the pure heart only, but some rare devotees have pure hearts whose souls get merged with the Supreme Soul of Waheguru. I have come to seek Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 5.6.

Soritth Mehla 1: Jiyoun meena bin(u) paaniyaiy, tiyoun saakut(u) muraiy piyaas. Tiyoun Hur(i) bin(u) muriyaiy ray muna, jo birtha jaavaiy saas(u). 1. Mun ray, Ram Naam(u) jus(u) layay. Bin Gur rus(u) kiyoun luhoun, Gur maylaiy Hur(i) dayay. Ruhaou. Sunt junaa mil(u) sungtee, Gurmukh(i) teeruth(u) hoyay. Utth-sutth(i) teeruth mujna, Gur ders(u) praaput(i) hoyay. 2. Jiyoun yogi jut baahra, tup(u) naahi, sat(u), suntokh(u). Tiyoun Naamaiy bin(u) dayhoori, Jum(u) maaraiy untar(i) doakh(u). 3. Saakut(u) praym(u) na paayiyay, Hur(i) paayiyaiy Satgur bhaayay. Sookh, dookh(u) Daata Gur milaiy, kuhou Nanak sift(i) smaayay. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Meena = fish. Saakut(u) = Maya-engrossed; disconnected with God. Piyaas = thirst (desire for Maya). Birtha = empty; without. 1. Jus(u) = praise. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Luhoun = acquire. Pause. Sungtee = in the company. Utth-sutth(i) = 68 (the 68 Hindu holy places). Mujna = dips. Ders(u) = sight. Praaput Hoyay = is acquired. 2. Jut = control on lust. Baahra = outside of; without. Tup(u) = self-torture; hardship Sat(u) = high morality; service to mankind. Suntokh = contentment. Dayhoori = body. Doakh = vices; evils. 3. Saakut(u) = Maya-engrossed. Sift(i) = with (Waheguru's praise). 4.

MEANING: Just as the fish dies without water, the Maya-engrossed man forgets Waheguru and dies spiritual death because of his thirst (desires) for Maya; and just like that, I feel (spiritually) dead even if a single breath of mine passes without remembering Waheguru. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise, oh my mind. But I cannot enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam without the guidance of the Guru; only the Guru can implant Waheguru's Naam in my mind. Pause. The real company (to sing praise of Waheguru) is the gathering of the holy saints; it is in the shelter of the Guru that one can take a dip in the holy pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. Having Guru's holy sight (pondering on His Teachings) is like having a dip in the 68 holy places. 2. The human body without Waheguru's Naam in mind is like a yogi who has no control over his lust; does not endure any self-affliction (undergo any hardship) to remember Waheguru, has no moral character, and has no contentment. The Angel of Death punishes such people who have evil thoughts in their minds. 3. One should not develop any affection for (friendship with) a Maya-engrossed individual (because he will also become like the latter); Waheguru can be realized only with the love for the Guru. If one connects with the Guru who converts discomforts into comforts, he merges with Waheguru by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 4.7.

NOTE: Guru Sahib does not support self-torture as a means to realize Waheguru. He is simply saying that these are the beliefs of the Yogis.

Word Meaning: Daata = provider. Daan(i) = donor. Mut(i) Poora = perfectly wise. Thaaray = Yours. Bhaykhaari = beggars. Thir(u) = permanent. 1. Bunvaari = God. Goopto = hiden. Vertaiy = operates. Nihaari = see. Pause. Mert = world; earth. Puyyaal = underworld. Honi = will be there. Mooraari = God. 2
Buppurro = uncivilized; ignorant. Doojaiy = the other (Maya). Baaji = game of life. 3. Bundhun = bonds. Niraary = free from bonds; detached. Buhourr(i) = any more. Gerbh Mujhaari = in womb; take births. Pergaasiya = lighted up. Nirunkaari = formless God. 4.

MEANING: You are the provider and the donor for all the living beings, and have the Perfect Wisdom (to know the needs of each living being), and we all are beggars at Your Door, oh Waheguru. What should I beg for (no material thing is worth begging) because I know nothing stays with us forever. So, kindly donate Your Naam which is very dear to me, oh Waheguru. 1. Waheguru is present in every heart and operates hidden in the waters, on the land, and in the sky; but one can “see” Him only with Guru’s Shabad. Pause.
With His grace, the Guru has shown Waheguru’s presence in this world, in the underworld, and in the sky. So, search for Waheguru, which never takes births, is present now, and will be here in the future too, in your heart, oh my friends. 2. The ignorant world does not worship Waheguru because of its love for Maya, as a result of which it continues to take births and to die. If one connects with Satguru, he receives His Wisdom (gets enlightened); but the Maya-engrossed individual loses the game of his life (remains disconnected from Waheguru). 3. Satguru breaks the bonds of the individuals with Maya and emancipates them, as a result of which such individuals never get into the womb (are never born again). The jewel-like Naam of Waheguru has enlightened my mind, and the formless Waheguru has made my heart His home, oh Nanak. 4. 8.

Word Meaning: Julnidh(i) = treasure (source) of Waheguru's Naam-water. Kaarun(i) = because of. Paahi = in possession; with. Chhoadou = give up. Vays(u) Bhaykh = religious symbols and garb. Chuturaayee = smartness. Doobidha = dilemma; indecisiveness. Ful(u) = rewards. 1. Thir(u) = stable; non-wavering. Mut(u) = lest; do not. Kut = somewhere else. Dhoondhut = searching. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Ghut = heart. Pause. Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Dhaavou = rush for. Sur, Upsur = appropriate and inappropriate. Saar = knowledge. Keech = mud (of attachments). 2. Maiyl(u) = filth. Loabh = greed. Kaahi = what for. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. 3. Purhur(i) = push away (get rid of). Ninda = vilification. Koorr(u) = lies; falseness. Tiyaag-hou = abandon. Buchnee = Word; Teaching. Bhaavaiy = as You please. 4.

MEANING: The Amrit-water (Waheguru's Naam) for which you have come to the world (are born), is in the possession of the Guru, oh my friends. So, abandon the fake (deceitful) religious outlook (symbols and the garb) of your faith because you will not receive any rewards with this double behaviour (you pretend to be religious by wearing the symbols, but inwardly you are rapt in Maya), oh my friends. 1. Stay peaceful (quit wavering), and do not wander anywhere else, oh my mind. You will suffer immensely if you look for Waheguru outside; His Amrit Naam is in your own heart. Pause. Give up your ignoble qualities, and rush to acquire noble qualities; you will have to repent if you commit immoral deeds. You do not have any knowledge of the appropriate and the inappropriate, and keep sinking deeper and deeper in the mud of worldly attachments. 2.
What is the use of washing your body at holy places when you are loaded with the filth of greed and falsehood, oh man? You will attain a high spiritual state only if you seek the shelter of the Guru and always recite Waheguru's purifying Naam. 3.
Kick out your greed, abandon vicious criticism of others, and your hypocrisy. Acquire Waheguru's Naam (and truthful living) by Guru's Shabad, and reap the rewards (of Waheguru's kindness). I, Nanak, am Your slave; please be kind to me so that I may live by Your Will, and sing Your praise with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Ghur = heart. Moosut = being robbed. Pur = of others. Johun = keep an evil eye. Dur = door. Rus Chaakhay = taste Waheguru's sweet Naam. 1.

Kuhaa Mut(i) = what kind of thinking? Un Rus = other tastes (of Maya). Lobhaanay = being attracted. Puchhutaah(i) = repents. Abhaaga = unfortunate. Pause.

Herkh = happiness. Bhog(i) = luxuries. Bhogaavaiy = makes to enjoy. Unraaga = without any love (attraction); detached. 2. Triptaaga = contented. Mohit = captivated by. Khoya = lost. Saakut = Maya-engrossed. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. 3.

Jeeou = basis. Puvunput(i) = Lord of air (breaths). Dayhi = body. Dayo = light-like Waheguru. Smaaga = absorbed; present. Gaayeen = I sing. Triptay = contends. Live Laaga = fully concentrated on; connected with. 4.

Sungut(i) = company. Bhuou = fear. Bhaaga = disappeared. Mustuk = forehead. 5

MEANING: Try to understand where your wisdom (thinking) is leading you to, oh my mind. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, you are attracted to the (false) tastes of Maya for which you will have to repent later, oh my unfortunate mind. Pause. Why are you keeping an evil eye on others' house (on their wealth, and their women) when you cannot save your own house (mind) from being robbed (of noble qualities)? You can save your own house and doors (noble qualities) only if you perform the deeds that a devout devotee does in the shelter of the Guru, and taste the sweet Naam of Waheguru. 1. You feel very happy when you acquire wealth and comforts, but begin to cry when they leave you. You must realize that comforts and discomforts are a part of life, and Waheguru Himself causes the man to live with comforts as well as with discomforts. But Guru's Sikh stays detached (unaffected) from both situations. 2. There is nothing else that can be described as superior to the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam; whosoever tastes it, becomes fully contented. Engrossed in the love for Maya, the man loses this heavenly essence (of Waheguru's Naam) and gets involved in evil deeds. 3. The basis of mind, and the Lord of breaths (soul) and body, Waheguru, is present in the body in the form of His light. If You grant, I will recite Your sweet Naam, and feel fully content by focusing my mind on Your Naam with full devotion, oh Waheguru. 4. One acquires the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints, whereby he loses all the fear of the Angel of death. With the good fortune on my forehead, I have realized Waheguru by reciting His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 5.10.

Word Meaning: Laykh(u) = destiny for future deeds. Dhooraahoo = right from birth. Alaykh(u) = without any requirement for any deeds. 1. Srayvhou = serve. Daata = provider. Bhoogta = consumer. Pause. Aik Drisht(i) = with the same (non-discriminating) eye. Smoyee = present. 2. Chultou = wandering; wavering mind. Tthaak(i) = prevent; control. Adrisht(u) = invisible (God). Bismaadi = mesmerized. Bisraiy = disappears. 3. Apiyo = Amrit. Nij = own. Ghur = home; heart. Junum Mern = from birth to death. Bhuv-Bhunjun = destroyer of fears (worries). Poonrup(i) = again. 4. Tutt(u) = the basis (of the universe). Nirunjun = God. Subaayee = everywhere. Sohun(g) = I am the same. Bhayd = difference. Uprumpur = limitless. 5.

MEANING: Everybody has their destiny for future deeds prewritten by Waheguru, and there is none without it. The only exception is Waheguru Himself, who has no such destiny written for Him. He has created the nature (the world), and looks after it (provides for all living beings) with His Huqam (Laws). 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam to enjoy blissfulness, oh my mind. Serve Guru's Feet (obey His Teachings) day and night; the Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru, the provider (and being present in everybody); He is also the consumer. Pause. Recognize only Waheguru, which is present inside you and outside as well, and do not recognize any other power. Like the true Sikh of the Guru, if you see everybody with the same eye (without any discrimination), you will see Waheguru's Light present in everybody. 2. Control your ever-wandering mind so that it becomes peaceful. But such wisdom or ability (to control the mind) can be acquired only in the shelter of the Guru. See the invisible Waheguru in His nature, which is mesmerizing, and whereby all your discomforts will disappear, and you will enjoy comforts. 3. Take the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam by which one acquires supreme bliss, and the mind stays in itself (quits wandering). From birth till death, one should sing praise of Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all troubles and as a result of which one never takes rebirths. 4. The light of the origin of the universe –Waheguru - is present in everybody; in that sense, I am the same as He is (I am a part of His), and one can merge into Him (by worshipping Him) when there will be no difference between the two. I am lucky to have met (got connected with) the limitless and the greatest Lord, Waheguru, who is my Guru, oh Nanak. 5.11.

Word Meaning: Ja = if. Bhaavaan = is liked. Tud Hee = only then. Ful(u) = reward. Soyee = that (Waheguru). Nidh(i) = treasure (Waheguru's naam). Ta Tay = by which. Smaayee = absorbed. 1 & Pause. Saakhi = Teachings. Jaagi = enlightened (mind). Chunchul = fickle; capricious. Tiyaagi = gave up. Oojiyaara = light. Undhiyaara = darkness. 2. Churnee = feet; Shabad. Maarug(u) = journey. Keerut = praise (of Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: My singing of Waheguru's praise is worthwhile only if it is to His liking; only then can I be rewarded for that. But the reward is meaningful only if it is given by Waheguru at His pleasure, which one has to earn by reciting His Naam with devotion. 1. One can acquire the treasure of Waheguru's Naam only by following the Advice of the Guru by which one stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Pause. One abandons (gets rid of) his capricious thinking when his mind is enlightened by the Guru's Advice. The light of the Guru's Advice dispels all the darkness of ignorance. 2.
When one applies his mind to focus on the Guru's Feet (His Advice), the path leading to the court of the Angel of Death is destroyed (such a devotee suffers no spiritual death and merges into Waheguru). When one realizes Waheguru with His (respectful) fear, he remains in a blissful state of mind in which Maya has no effect. 3. Only some rare individuals come to realize that their deeds are of prime importance in this world, oh Nanak. But one gets to sing Waheguru's praise automatically (which is the supreme business) only when Waheguru appears in His mind. 4.1.12.

Word Meaning: Sayvuk = servant; devotee. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Sohaaya = looks attractive (because of noble qualities). 1. Kayvul = only. Sacha = Perfect. Mooraari = a name for God. Pause. Jaagut Ruhay = stay alert. Girhi = in the family. Oodaasi = detached. Tut = essence; basis. Oordhaari = implanted in the heart. 2. Dehdis(i) = in every direction. Dhaanvda = rushes. Khooaaya = misled. Moogudh = foolish. Chaytaiy = remembers. Birtha = empty; without any gain. Bhaytay = on meeting (getting connected). Chookaaya = paid off; got rid of. 3. Kmaaveh(i) = works on. Veechaari = thoughtful. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mut(i) = wisdom; high thinking. Raas(i) = capital; wealth. 4.

MEANING: All those devotees who relish (feel blissful with) Guru's Shabad are actually serving You, oh Waheguru. Those who get rid of their selfishness and ego by the grace of the Guru are pure (pious) in their minds. They sing praise of the eternal Waheguru all the time and are adorned with noble qualities with the Guru's Shabad. 1. We are children (spiritually immature), and are in Your shelter, oh Lord. You are the only one who is Perfect and immortal, oh Waheguru. Pause. Those who stay alert (about the attacks of sensual pleasures) and kill their selfishness and ego with the Guru's Shabad, realize Waheguru. They become more thoughtful by acquiring Divine Knowledge and remain detached from Maya, even when living in the family (where one is more vulnerable to Maya's attacks). They serve Satguru (lead their life according to His Advice) and enjoy bliss by embedding Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 2. The human mind rushes in every possible direction (does not find contentment) and gets misguided in the love for Maya. The Maya-engrossed individual does not remember (recite) Waheguru's Naam and wastes away his (precious) human life. One can acquire Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru, where one gets rid of one's selfishness, ego, and worldly attachments. 3.
By pondering on Guru's Shabad, Waheguru's devotees perform deeds liked by Waheguru, and become "one" with Him. When a devotee enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, Waheguru Himself connects the devotee with Him. I have attained a high spiritual state and acquired Guru's wisdom by reciting Waheguru's Naam; now this is my real wealth, oh Nanak. 4. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhun(u) = wealth. Akhoot(i) = never running out. Nikhootaiy = runs out. Oojlaiy = clean; shiny; pure. 1. Punch Choar = the five demons. Dayhi = human body. Amrit = noble qualities. Vertaara = dealings. Goobaara = darkness. 2. Vigootay = suffer misguided. Kihou = anything. Nudri = one who casts kind sight (Waheguru). Nihaal(i) = blissful. 3. Giyan = Divine Knowledge. Amar(u) = Huqam; command. Undin(u) = every day; always. Laaha = benefit. Nistaara = salvation. Paaha = realizes. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru bestows the treasure of His worship to His devotees in the form of His Naam, which is their wealth. This treasure is never-ending and never runs out (no matter how many devotees it is given to), yet nobody knows its real worth. One realizes Waheguru with the wealth of His Naam, and his face begins to radiate the piety of his mind. 1. Waheguru is realized with Guru's Shabad, oh my mind. The world is misled (and commits immoral acts) without Guru's Shabad, as a result of which he gets punishment in Waheguru's Court. Pause. The five demons – lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego – reside in the human body, and rob the man of his noble qualities; but the follower of his mind is not aware of that, and nobody listens to his cries for help (when he gets punishment in Waheguru's Court for his misdeeds). Without the Guru, there is complete darkness of ignorance, and the world is blind, and so are its dealings. 2. Misled by his selfishness and ego, the man amasses wealth and suffers because nothing accompanies him after death. But Guru's Sikh always keeps Waheguru in his mind and recites His Naam all the time. He sings Waheguru's praise with Satguru's eternal Bani and feels blissful with the kind sight of Waheguru. 3. The Divine Knowledge imparted by Satguru, which enlightens one's mind, is above the reign of the kings (is superior to reigning a state). The devotee worships Waheguru day and night, as a result of which he acquires His Naam, which is his benefit (wealth). One becomes emancipated by Waheguru's Naam and, imbued in Satguru's Shabad, he realizes Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Daasun(i) Daas(u) = slave of slaves; extremely humble. Kaaruj = objective. Ikk Rungee = in love with only the “One” God. Smaayee = absorbed. 1. Saachi = purifies the mind and leads to union with Waheguru. Paiyj = dignity; protection from attacks of Maya. Sooaaliyou = Handsome. Jaaga = awake; alert. 2. Gumbheer = honest about responsibilities. Achint(u) = without any special effort. 3. Maarug(u) = Punth(u) = path. Vikkhrra = difficult; tough. Veechaara = thoughts; Advice. Rung = love. Maata = intoxicated. Tujay = abandon. Vikaara = vices. Suvaarunhaara = adorns with noble qualities. 4.

MEANING: A devotee realizes Waheguru when he serves Him like a slave of His slaves (with utmost humility) and gets rid of his selfishness and ego. The objective of a devotee is to achieve blissfulness by pleasing Waheguru by singing His praise all the time. Those who are imbued in Guru’s Shabad love only Waheguru, and stay absorbed in His Naam. 1. Your kind sight purifies the mind and leads to union with You, oh Waheguru. Please. be kind to Your slaves (devotees), and protect our dignity (from the attacks of Maya), oh dear Waheguru. Pause. I survive only by singing Waheguru’s praise with Guru’s Shabad, and all my worldly fears have been eradicated with the Advice of the Guru. My God is perfectly pure and extremely handsome (loaded with noble qualities); my mind is now stitched to Him by serving the Guru (acting on His Advice). Satguru’s Shabad purifies the mind, and His holy compositions in praise of Waheguru connect the devotee with Him, because of which the devotee stays alert against the attacks of Maya. 2. Waheguru is extremely serious (diligent) about His responsibilities towards His creation, and is always a great source of comfort; yet nobody knows His limits. By serving the Perfect Guru, the devotee realizes Waheguru without any special effort, whereby his mind and body always stay pure; his misgivings are dispelled, and he always feels blissful. 3. Journey to union with Waheguru is always very difficult and full of obstacles; only a rare individual reaches Him with Guru’s Advice. The devotee has to abandon his ego and all his sensual pleasures; he must get imbued in the love of Waheguru and be intoxicated with Guru’s Shabad (to be united with Waheguru). With Guru’s Shabad, one becomes imbued with the love of Waheguru and is adorned with noble qualities (and meets Waheguru’s approval), oh Nanak. 4.3.

MEANING: I wish to sing Your praise all the time as long as I have breath in my body, oh my dear Waheguru. It feels like a gap of fifty years if I forget You even for a very short moment. I have been foolish and ignorant ever since my birth, but now my mind has been enlightened with Guru's Shabad. 1. You Yourself, grant the wisdom to (connect with You), oh Waheguru. I wish to sacrifice my life for You, and for (the Guru who imparts) Your Naam. Pause. My worldly desires have been killed by Guru's Shabad, and I have been given a new (spiritual) life; also, I have been able to break my worldly bonds with Guru's Shabad, oh my friends. My mind and my body have been purified by the Guru's Shabad, and Waheguru has taken dwelling in my heart. Satguru is the source of the Shabad with which my mind has been imbued and because of which I am fully absorbed in Waheguru. 2. Those who do not understand the worth of the Guru's Shabad (make no connection with it) are spiritually blind and deaf; why are they even born in this world? They do not enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam, waste away their (precious) human life, and keep taking rebirths, dying again and again. The Maya-engrossed individuals are foolish and ignorant; they are worms of feces (sensual pleasures) in which they stay absorbed all the time. 3. But such individuals cannot be blamed entirely because it is Waheguru who looks after everybody and puts them on the path of life decided for them. There is no one else like Him. Nobody can erase what is prewritten in an individual's destiny; only what Waheguru wishes happens. But, when Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in a devotee's heart, he does not recognize any other power, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Bhaaveh(i) = is liked (loved) by Waheguru. Vukhaanay = says; recites. Saar = looking after. Puchhaata = recognized; connected with. Gooni = the source of noble qualities (Waheguru). 1. Unt Kaal(i) = at the time of death. Baily = friend. Nibhaiy = supports constantly. Pause. Doosht Chaukrri = union of the evil. Koorr(u) = falsehood. Ninda = malicious criticism. Hernaakhsh = (a mythical) non-believer and evil king, father of Bhugut Prehlaad(u). Nukheh(i) Bidaaray = destroyed (torn apart by Vishnu) with his paws when he appeared with the head of a lion. 2. Bhulaa = noble. Viyaapay = are engaged in. Jaasun = will leave. 3.
Suful(u) = successful. Sehjay Maatay = intoxicated in the high spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who worships Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, is loved by Waheguru. Waheguru looks after the devotees whom He likes in a special way, and protects them in every possible way. You are the source of all virtues and can be recognized with (made connection with) Satguru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. One merges into the source of virtues (Waheguru) by singing His praise. 1. Remember Waheguru all the time, which is your friend at the time of death, and which always supports you till the end, oh my mind. Pause. The assembly of the evil always deals in falsehood (engages in immoral acts), and the man neither understands nor thinks about the objective of human life. Who has ever reaped a good reward by vilification of others and by performing evil deeds? Look at the evil Hernaakhsh, who was torn apart by Vishnu with his sharp paws in the form of a lion-headed human, and Waheguru's devotee, Prahalad, who always sang His praise, was protected by Him. 2.
The follower of his mind has no (spiritual) wisdom but proclaims himself to be a very noble man. He maliciously criticizes the holy saints, thereby wasting his precious human life and leaving the world with the same ignoble thinking. Such people never think of Waheguru, and leave the world repenting. 3. Waheguru makes the life of His devotees successful, and Himself makes His devotees serve the Guru. Imbued in Guru's Shabad and intoxicated in the high spiritual state, the devotees sing Waheguru's praise. I pray to Waheguru that He gives me the opportunity to drop at the feet of such devotees (serve them), oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Bundhup = friend. Bhaanay = (obeys) Will. Vichhurr(i) = disconnected. Choataan Khaavaiy = gets beatings; suffers. 1. Daas = slaves; devotees. Soohaylay = in comfort; blissful. Kilvikh = sins. Pause. Kootumb(u) = family. Jea Kay Bundhun = chains for the soul. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Sainsaara = world. Moakh = emancipation. Kerm = rituals. 2. Pulch Ruhhiya = tangled up; engrossed in. Kayra = of. Mehl(u) = (Waheguru's) Palace. Busayra = dwelling. Aiythaiy = here; in this world. Boojhaiy = understands; unravels. Aap(u) Puchhaanaiy = analyzes self. 3. Bhaaagaan = fortune. Bhaaou = affection; intent; wish. Aap(u) = selfishness. 4.

MEANING: Only that devotee is a true Sikh or a friend of the Guru who obeys His Will gladly (follows His Advice). The individual who follows his mind stays disconnected from the Guru and suffers in life. Without connecting with the Guru, he never finds comfort and keeps repenting, again and again, oh my brothers. 1. Waheguru's devotees are blissful all the time because Waheguru connects them with Him by first connecting them with the Guru in whose shelter all their sins of many previous lives are washed away. Pause.

The (people of the) whole world are misled by their misgivings, not realizing that the strong bonds with the family are, in fact, chains around them (preventing their union with Waheguru). These bonds cannot be broken without the Guru's benevolence; the Guru's shelter is the door to emancipation for a true Sikh of the Guru. An individual who performs religious rituals but does not recognize the value of the Guru's Shabad remains in the cycle of birth and death. 2. The whole world is entangled in the deeds revolving around "I, and me" (selfishness and ego), and nobody is a real friend of others. But the Sikhs of the Guru sing Waheguru's praise, embed His Naam in their heart, and reach His Palace (merge into Him). Those who understand this path of union with Waheguru recognize self (their virtues and weaknesses, and the objective of life) and earn the approval of Waheguru, who becomes their own (they merge into Him). 3. Satguru is always kind, but we cannot connect with Him without good fortune, oh my brothers. He casts the same kind gaze on everyone, but everyone reaps the reward of their wish (some may opt for wealth, while a few for union with Waheguru). Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in the heart of the devotee who overcomes all his selfishness and ego, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Nanak, Naam(u) smaaleh(i) say jun sohun(i), Dur Saachaiy put(i) paayee. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Chautookay = Shabads with four stanzas. Sachi = everlasting; devotional; of Waheguru. Sachi Bani = Satguru's evergreen Shabad. Smaani = gets fully absorbed. Saachay = Perfect (like Waheguru). Iyaani = immature; unenlightened. Vin(u) = without. 1. Shernaayee = in the shelter (of Waheguru) (obey His Will). Put(i) = dignity. Vudiyaayee = respect; honour. Pause. Jugjeevun = soul of the world (Waheguru). Tuj(i) = abandoning. Hujoor(i) = close by. Ruvviya = present. Apaara = (of the) limitless (God). Bani = holy composition in praise of God. Muneh(i) = to (in) the mind. 2. Puchhaata = recognized; made a connection with. Rus(u) = sweet essence. Chaakh(i) = by tasting. Triptiya = contented = Aghaaya. Gooni = the source of virtues (Waheguru). Kumul(u) = lotus; heart. Raata = imbued. Unhud = auto-playing Divine Music. Vujaaya = played. Sach(i) = (in) Waheguru. 3. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Mug = path. Rusn = tongue. Rusaayee = sweetened. Sunjum = control over senses. Vusaayee = embeds. 4.

MEANING: The true worship of Waheguru with full devotion happens (is most rewarding) only in Satguru's shelter where the devotee embeds His evergreen Shabad in his heart. Such a devotee enjoys permanent bliss by serving Satguru (obeying His Advice) when his selfishness and ego get absorbed (disappear) in Guru's Shabad. No true worship happens without Satguru's grace; the rest of the world is misled in its ignorance. The Maya-engrossed individuals wander aimlessly (spend their lives) in Maya-related business and simply suffer; they drown in the waterless sea of Maya. 1. Always stay in Waheguru's shelter (sing His praise and obey His Will), oh my brothers. He protects His devotees with His kind sight and honours them by bestowing His Naam on them. Pause. By pondering on the evergreen (eternal) Shabad of the Perfect Guru, one recognizes self (his virtues and ignoble qualities, and the objective of human life), and by overcoming his lust, rage, and ego, one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart forever. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, he sees Him close by and present everywhere. With Satguru's Shabad, he realizes that His holy compositions in praise of God are valid in every eon (are the only way to have union with God), and he finds Waheguru's Naam to be sweet in his heart. 2.

Those who recognize the worth of Waheguru's Naam (make a connection with Him) by serving Satguru succeed in their life (achieve the objective of human life). They get fully contented by singing His praise and tasting the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all virtues. The devotee's heart blooms with Waheguru's Naam, and imbued in His love, he feels as if the auto-playing Divine Music is captivating his mind. With Satguru's holy Shabad, his body and mind get purified, and with Waheguru's eternal Naam, he gets fully absorbed in Him. 3. Nobody can know the high level of transcendence of Waheguru, but one does get His Naam enshrined in his heart with Satguru's Advice. A real Sikh of the Guru recognizes the path of righteousness (to union with God) and sweetens his tongue by reciting Waheguru's Naam. He does not need any ritualistic recitation of some mantras, self-torturing, or any special effort to control his sensual pleasures; all these things happen to him automatically when he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart in Guru's shelter. Those devotees who keep Waheguru's Naam in mind look noble and get honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.7.
