MEANING: Nothing, other than Waheguru (His Naam) is worth anything for you (in Waheguru's Court), oh man. The captivating Maya you are fully engrossed in is simply deceiving you. Pause.

Wealth, your wife, and the beautiful and comfortable bed are left behind in a short moment. Prompted by the enjoyments of sensual pleasures, you are deeply involved in their pursuit, and are feeding on the poison of the deceitful Maya. 1.

God has created the human body like a dwelling of dry grass, which is adorned to look attractive, but beneath which he has kindled a fire of worldly desires. So, what does the mule-headed man achieve while living in such a short-lived dwelling (which he considers to be a fort), enjoying life with an inflated ego and swelled head? 2.

The blind and the ignorant man does not see (realize) that his head (thinking) is being controlled by the five demons (lust, greed, etc.) which hold him by the hair (have full control over him) and make him run around in the pursuit of sensual pleasures, and he is asleep (unaware) under their intoxication. 3.

Just like a bird-hunter spreads his net and puts some bait to trap birds, the demons have trapped the man in their net with the bait of sensual pleasures. (However, the man cannot get freedom from the worldly bonds with his own efforts), So, I have worshipped my Satguru, the omnipresent Waheguru, to sever my worldly bonds, oh Nanak. 4.2.88.

MEANING: The Naam of the limitless Waheguru is priceless and cannot be bought with any valuable product. He is dear to me like my own life, and I keep Him in mind just like a person who never forgets wraps of areca nuts in betel leaves which he chews and enjoys after meals. Pause.
As per the advice of the Guru, I keep Waheguru in my mind as a result of which my body (mind) is imbued in His love, and I stay in the spiritual state of blissfulness. I was able to "see" (get connected with) my dear (Waheguru) when my good fortune matured; now I am happily married to Him, and He will never leave me. 2.
People try to please their deities by offering them beautiful gifts, incense, fragrances, and lamps in a platter; I have none of such things – not even physical beauty –, but I am fully absorbed in His love like the cross threads in a fabric, and cannot be told apart from Him; and my heart has bloomed. I am now "married," and my Waheguru is enjoying my union with Him, and the bed of my heart has become beautiful (blissful), oh Nanak. 2.3.89.

Now I see that the calm, peaceful, benevolent, and omnipresent Waheguru is present everywhere, and lust, rage, appetite for worldly desires, and my ego have all been eradicated from my mind. 1.
With the advice of the holy saints, I have acquired virtues like service to mankind, contentment, compassion, religiosity (high moral principles), and purity of mind. But only those individuals attain such a high level of understanding (wisdom) who are mentally connected to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.4.90.

Muhaa Bhuyyaan = frightening wilderness. Boojh Boojhaayee = gave understanding. 2.

MEANING: What ability do we ignorant creatures have to describe the magnanimity of Waheguru? We cannot even describe the body-pour size of His magnanimity. (Let alone us), Even the popular gods like Brahma, Shiva, Indra, the Sidh yogis, and the hermits do not know anything about His transcendence. 1.

What should I say about Waheguru's magnanimity? Even though I see Him everywhere I look, I am unable to say even a single word. Pause.

My Waheguru is my saviour even in the extremely frightening wilderness where the Angel of death is believed to give punishments. The Guru has given understanding that one should take Waheguru's shelter to enjoy blissfulness and be "one" with Him; so, I have done just that, and taken Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 2.5.91.

The Creator, Waheguru, is inaccessible in His physical form, but He is immortal and purifies even the immoral in a short moment. So, we must recite His Naam all the time. Waheguru, which is said to be amazing, can be realized if one has the good fortune to connect with the Guru. So, we must attach our mind with the holy Feet (Shabad) of the Guru (Waheguru's Naam). 1. If a man gets a favour from some other man, then the latter reminds the former about that favour again, and again, (but Waheguru never reminds us of any of His countless favours). I have faith only in the support of Waheguru, which is the treasure of all comforts. So, I have sought His shelter, oh Nanak. 2.6.92.

MEANING: A malicious critic loses his morality easily even on non-issues, and is recognized by the fact that his morality crashes (drops) like a wall of saltpetre. Pause.
A vilifier feels gusty (zesty) when he notes even a minor weakness in someone, but is disappointed (feels jealous) to note something good in others. He keeps planning to attack others, but cannot achieve his objective and dies while still planning. 1.
Actually, the vilifiers are misled by Waheguru (based on their previous misdeeds), and they initiate disputes with devotees of Waheguru and invite their spiritual death, which gets closer and closer. MEANING: How can a man make such mistakes when he knows that Waheguru is always with Him and sees and listens to all his acts and his (evil) thoughts? The man commits evil deeds, and yet denies them. Pause.

Ignoring gold-like (valuable) Waheguru's Naam, the man deals in short-lived comforts; he loves (is attached to) vices which become his enemies, and breaks connection with noble qualities which are his true friends in the long run. He finds immortal Waheguru's Naam to be bitter, but finds the temporary comforts of perishable Maya to be sweet. He gets engrossed in the poisonous sensual pleasures and suffers in mental agony. 1.

The man falls into the deep and dark well of Maya and becomes trapped in the chains of misgivings, the darkness of ignorance, and worldly attachments. But when Waheguru becomes kind to someone, He connects him with the Guru who pulls the man out of the dark well by holding him by the arm, oh Nanak. 2.10.96.

NOTE: Ever since Sri Arjun Dev Ji, who was the youngest son of Guru Ram Dass Ji, was given the Guruship by Him, His eldest son, Pirthi Chand, who expected Guruship for him as his right, became highly jealous and a big enemy of Guru Arjun Dev Ji. He tried every way – legal and illegal – to take away Guruship from Guru Arjun Dev Ji. He tried many times to have the infant son of Guru Arjun Dec Ji, Sri Hargobind Ji, killed, but was unsuccessful. He was friends with the army general of Lahore forces, Soolhi Khan, and approached him to attack Guru Arjun Sahib either to kill Him, or to put Him in jail so that Pirthi Chand could become the Guru. However, Soolhi needed some solid excuse to attack Guru Sahib. Pirthi Chand suggested that Guru Sahib was building Harmandir Sahib at Amritsar for which He was baking bricks, and the brick-kiln was located on the road between Amritsar and Lahore, and that Soolhi should approach (Guru) Arjun (Sahib) and ask for all the bricks meant for the construction of Harmandir Sahib, for the construction of a mosque in Lahore. (Guru) Arjun (Sahib) would refuse to give the bricks to Soolhi, who could use Guru Sahib's refusal as a valid excuse to attack Him. Soolhi agreed and planned an attack on Guru Sahib.

When the Sikhs heard about the impending attack, they panicked and advised negotiating with Soolhi to find some way out, but Guru Sahib had full faith in Waheguru and told the Sikhs not to worry, as Waheguru would protect him, and Soolhi would not be able to cause Him any harm.
Soolhi took some soldiers with him and left Lahore to attack Guru Sahib. When he reached near the brick-kiln, he decided to check it out. As he rode his horse on the wall of the brick-kiln, a big flame from the kiln seemed to approach the horse, which got frightened, and jumped into the fire, whereby both the horse and Soolhi Khan were killed right away, and turned into ash. Thinking it was the Guru's wrath, the soldiers ran back to Amritsar. Guru Sahib wrote this Shabad to express His gratitude to Waheguru for protecting Him from the wrath of Soolhi Khan, and also to reinforce faith in Waheguru among His Sikhs when they have no recourse left to solve some problems. There is one more holy Shabad by Guru Arjun Sahib in Raag Assa on this incident.
MEANING: I prayed to, and had full faith in Waheguru that He would protect me from the wrath of Soolhi Khan, who would not reach me to cause any harm. (Waheguru listened to my prayer) And Soolhi died an unholy death by being burned. (Death by burning is considered very unholy in Islam). Pause.
The Lord cut his head with the axe (of fire), and Soolhi turned into ash in no time. He had evil plans in his mind, and suffered unholy death; the Lord, who created him, pushed him (into the fire). 1. He was left with nothing, and left everybody – his sons, friends, brothers, all relatives and his wealth – behind. I am a sacrifice to my Waheguru, who upheld my words (and prayer) (to protect me from the wrath of Soolhi), oh Nanak. 2.18.104.

Now, the mind-captivating Waheguru shows His Sight to me whereby all my longing to see Him has been fulfilled, and now I sleep in comfort. Now, I find the story of Waheguru (His praise) very sweet; I have realized the mind-captivating Waheguru, and I stay absorbed in the high spiritual state all the time. Second Pause. 1.128.

Word Meaning: Uhun = ego. Raachou = get connected. Nath = Lord. Ruhaou.
Aahay = like. Bhaavaiy = pleases. Churnaavaiy = runs to the Feet (of Waheguru). Ooljhiyo = tangled in. Ul(i) = bumble bee. Mukrund = pollen. Laahaiy = looks for. 1.
Un Tay = from others. Tootiyaiy = disconnect. Rikh = senses; sensual pleasures. Ghootiyaiy = take sips; suck. Ooltiyaiy = turn the direction of thinking (from Maya to Waheguru). 2.

MEANING: Get connected with the Lord, who is the support of His saints, oh my friends. My ego disappeared to see my Waheguru, and I have come to His shelter. Pause.
I like Waheguru, and nobody else pleases me. Like a bumblebee which gets tangled with (attracted to) the pollen of the lotus flower, my mind rushes for the Feet of Waheguru. I do not like any other sweet taste, and I look only for the “One” Waheguru. 1.
Disconnect with (forget) other attractions, and get rid of the sensual pleasures, oh my mind. Change the direction of your thinking (from worldly attractions to Waheguru) in the shelter of Guru, and take sips of the sweet Naam-Amrit. I am attached to the Feet of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and have nothing to do with anybody else, oh Nanak. 2.2.129.

Word Meaning: Doopuday = Shabad with two stanzas. Dookh-Herta = remover (eradicator) of suffering. Puchhaano = recognize; make connection. Ajamul, Gunika and Guj (elephant) = stories in the Purans used as parables in Guru Granth Sahib to glorify Waheguru (see “Introduction” at the beginning). Jea Jaano = accept (make a connection) with full faith. Pause.

Traas = fear. Chhin = short moment. Bukhaano = said; remembered. Nard = a sage- son of Brahama – who was born out of a thigh of Brahma. Dhuroo = a devotee of Waheguru. Luptaano = cling to. embraced. 1.
Achull = Amar = immortal. Nirbhaiy = fearless. Pud(u) = stage. Haiyraano = surprised; amazed. Bhugut Ruchhuk = lover (protector) of devotees. Nicket(i) = near. 2.1.
MEANING: Get connected with the Naam of Waheguru, the eradicator of all suffering. Believe it with full faith that sinners like Ajamul and Gunika found salvation by remembering the Lord (Reciting Waheguru’s Naam). Pause.
Similarly, the fear of the elephant (which was trapped in the tentacles of a huge octopus and was about to drown) disappeared the moment he remembered God. When the child Dhuroo listened to Nard's advice, he embraced (fell in love with) God. 1.
(By worshipping God) Dhuroo attained the immortal, fearless spiritual state, which surprised the world. Waheguru is very close to you, and He protects His devotees, oh Nanak. 2.1.

Kuhaa Bhuyyo = so what? insignificant. Bert = commitments (to do or not to do certain things like fasting). Joag = yogic practices. Nihful = futile. Tih = those. Jus = praise. 1
Maan = pride. Moh = worldly attachments. Purhur(i) = remove; get rid of. Bidh(i) = means; life-style. Jeevun Mookt(i) = emancipated while living in the family. 2.
MEANING: The Guru reveals the deep spiritual secret that man’s worries and his misgivings never go away, and he suffers without Waheguru’s Naam. Pause.
So, what does he gain spiritually if he undertakes pilgrimages to holy places and makes some commitments (like fasting, etc.) if he does not seek the shelter of Waheguru? His yogic practices are worthless if he forgets (ignores) to sing Waheguru’s praise. 1.
The man who renounces his pride (conceit) and worldly attachments, sings Waheguru’s praise, and spends his life that way is considered to be emancipated while still living in the family, oh Nanak. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Ja = who. Akaaruth = uselessly. Khoya = wasted. Pause.
Phoon(i) = also. Munooa = mind. Nihful = worthless. Dherm = religious rituals. 1.
Paahun(u) = stone. Bhaydaiy = pierce; penetrate. Heen = without. Praani = man. 2.
Kul(i) = the present eon; world. Gurooa = heavy (with virtues); with a strong mind. 3.3.

MEANING: Keep this in mind that the man who does not worship Waheguru wastes away his human life worthlessly, oh my friends. Pause.
Believe it as an eternal truth that a man who visits holy places and makes some commitments, but has no control over his mind, has all his religious rituals go to waste. 1.
A man who is devoid of Waheguru's worship is like a stone which cannot be penetrated by water if it is kept in there 2. The Guru reveals the spiritual secret that one achieves emancipation only by Waheguru's Naam. Only that man is loaded with good qualities and has a strong mind (which does not waver) who sings Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 3.3.

Word Meaning: Nicket(i) = near. Vussaiy = dwells. Soyee = that (God). Virla = rare. Boojhaiy = understands; unlocks. Ruttay = imbued in. 1.

Giyan = Waheguru's Knowledge (Naam). Pdaaruth = valuable (sweet) thing. Rus(i) = reciting while enjoying (the sweetness). Maan(u) = respect; recognition. Pause.

Kuthaiy = says. Baad(u) Kuray = gets into useless discussions. Raatay = imbued. 2.

Dhiyan(u) = concentration of mind. Reht = living style. Saacha = pure; pious. Kuthnee = utterings. Thaaoun = shelter; peace. 3.

Bundhiyo = bonded strongly. Sur = arrows (of worldly attractions). Jaal(i) = net. Ghut(i) = heart. Biyaap(i) = is affected. Bikh(u) = poisonous vices. Annjaiy = is brought (to the world). Deekaiy Kaa(i) = given (subject) to death. Seedho = successful. 4.

MEANING: Some rare individual realizes that Waheguru dwells very close to us, and watches everything. But no one can worship Waheguru without His (respectful) fear in mind. Those who are imbued in Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's praise), enjoy bliss. 1.

Waheguru's Naam is such a sweet thing that the devotee earns respect while enjoying its recitation in the shelter of the Guru. Pause. Everybody talks about Divine knowledge, but only to engage in worthless discussions and to earn suffering. Still, nobody goes without saying or talking about divine knowledge. But nobody can obtain emancipation without getting imbued in the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. 2.

Only Satguru is the source of Divine Knowledge and of techniques of concentration on Waheguru's Naam. Only Guru's lifestyle and His mind are pure. The follower of his mind (disconnected with Waheguru) may talk a lot about divine knowledge, but does not have a pure lifestyle. Those who forget Waheguru find no support anywhere. 3.

The human mind is pierced with the arrows of the attractions of Maya, which has stretched (cast) its net on everybody. Every heart is affected by the poison of sensual pleasures (which never last forever), and whoever comes into the world (is born) is subject to death. Only that individual achieves his objective who keeps Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 4.

---------- So Giyani, jin(i) Shabad(i) liv laayee. Munmukh(i) haumein put(i) guvaayee. Aapay Kertaiy bhugut(i) kuraayee. Gurmukh(i) Aapay day vudiyaayee. 5. Raiyn(i) undhaari, nirmul Jot(i). Word Meaning: Giyani = having divine knowledge. Liv Laayee = focused mind on. Put = dignity. Vudiyaayee = respect. 5.

Raiyn(i) = night (life). Nirmul = pure; bright. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light (Soul). Jhootthay = impure. Koochul = ignoble life style. Kuchhoat(i) = undeserving of socialization. Bayd(u) = Giyani. Sroat(i) = preach. Maanaiy = obeys. 6.

Shastar, Simrit(i) = Hindu holy books. Drirraamun(g) = reinforce; emphasize. Shaant(i) = peaceful. Ootum Kraamun(u) = noble deeds. Joani = of different life forms. Suhaamun(g) = endure. Vusaamun(g) = enshrine. 7.
Put(i) = husband; Lord. Soyay = the same (Lord). 8.
MEANING: Only that devotee is the bearer of Divine Knowledge who meditates on the Guru's Shabad with full dedication. The follower of his mind loses respect because of his selfishness and ego. However, Waheguru Himself makes some individuals worship Him and bestows honour on the devotees of the Guru. (So, we cannot entirely blame the followers-of-their-mind for not worshipping Waheguru because that is the way their character has been designed by Waheguru). 5.
The night (of life) of the man is dark, which is lighted up by the bright light of Waheguru (His Naam). Without Waheguru's Naam, the humans are impure, have an ignoble lifestyle, and are undeserving of socialization (because they could be a bad influence on others). The Giyanis preach loudly to worship Waheguru. Those who listen to their advice and act on that are able to see Waheguru's Light (become one with Him). 6.
Even the Hindu holy books emphasize (Waheguru's) Naam. The devotees of the Guru are always peaceful and perform noble deeds, whereas the followers of their mind endure the suffering of repeated births in many life forms. The bonds of worldly attachments are broken only by enshrining Waheguru's Naam in the mind. 7.
The true worship of the Lord is to believe in His Naam (act on it). There is none other like Him to see. Waheguru is the only Living Power that pleases my mind, and I can say (sing) only His praise. There is no one like Him, oh Nanak. 8.1

Word Meaning: Kuhhiya = said; thinking. Sa = the same. Oochraiy = says; thinks. Mud(i) = liquor. Maatay = intoxicated. Triput(i) = contentment. Mookt(i) = free from. 1.
Klut(u) = wife. Abhimaana = conceited. Sung(i) = with. Pause.
Keecheh(i) = does; enjoys. Kaayri = of. Bhusmaiy dhayri = pile of dust. Khaakoo = dust; filth (earned by filthy means). Phaiyl(u) = expanse; holdings. 2.
Taal = dances. Ghun = countless. S(i) = those. Kooray = short-lived. Trihou Goon = the three effects of Maya (mental stages). Oopjaiy = comes into being. Bisaiy = is destroyed; dies. Dooray = detached from God. Dooji = the other (Maya). Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Durd = pain; suffering. Chhootaiy = is emancipated. Daaroo = medication. 3.
Oojul = clean. Tilk = anointment. Maala = rosary. Naatshaala = school of acting. 4.

MEANING: According to the religious books, the human mind thinks about deeds which are the basis of sins or of nobility, and makes the body perform the same deeds. The individuals intoxicated with the liquor of wealth never find contentment. They get freedom from contentment (or discontentment) when they love Waheguru by mind. 1.
They become conceited to see the beauty of their body, their wealth, and their wife, but do not realize that nothing other than Waheguru's Naam accompanies them after death. Pause. They follow their minds to enjoy different tastes of life without realizing that, eventually, their bodies will become a pile of dust, and their wealth will become the property of others. All their belongings, which they raised by filthy (dishonest) means, leave them with filth on their mind, which cannot be removed without the Guru's Shabad. 2.
The man enjoys countless songs, different kinds of music and dances, but all such entertainments are false (short-lived). Under the influence of the three effects of Maya, the man keeps taking births and dying, and stays away (detached) from Waheguru. Because of his attachment to Maya, his thinking becomes evil, and his suffering does not go away. Waheguru's praise is the medication to break the bonds of Maya (get emancipation), which one should sing in the Guru's shelter. 3.
The Brahman, who is the religious leader of the masses, wears a clean dhoti, an anointment on his forehead, and a rosary around his neck (to show off his religiosity) and reads religious books aloud to the masses, but harbours rage inside. So, all his seemingly religious deeds are like acts which one learns in a school of acting. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, he stays intoxicated with the liquor of Maya, but he cannot have peace and comfort without Waheguru's worship in the shelter of the Guru. 4.

Luhhaiy = acquires. Pdaaruth = the valuable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Kirtaaruth(u) = successful. Poochh = questioning. Seejhaiy = is successful. Soyay = that. 6.
Tis = Waheguru. Rujaayee = Will; Huqam. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Kaal = death. Bikaal = anti-kaal (birth). Naas(u) = destruction. 7.
Ateet(u) = detached from (Maya). Urpaiy = offer. Aavaiy = comes; is born. Saachay = truthful; purified. Saach(i) = in the eternal Waehguru. 8.
MEANING: A person who turns his face away from the Guru (does not follow His advice) is taken through many different life forms like the pig, the dog, the donkey, the cat, the cattle, or is born to perform filthy, low-caste or butcher-like jobs. Because of his strong bond with Maya, he keeps being born and dying. 5. One acquires the invaluable Waheguru's Naam by serving the Guru in his heart, as a result of which he achieves the objective of life (union with God) successfully, and is not questioned in Waheguru's Court. The devotees who obey Waheguru's Huqam (His Will) become successful in Waheguru's Court. 6.
One makes a connection with Waheguru only when he comes to the Guru's shelter, where he learns to recognize Waheguru's Huqam and live by His Will. When one recognizes Waheguru's Huqam (lives by His Will), he finds room to live in Waheguru's Court (merges with Him), and his birth-death cycle is terminated. 7.
The individual, who believes that everything that he owns actually belongs to Waheguru (is given by Him), stays detached from the worldly attractions, and offers everything to Him (Waheguru), who is not born, or dies again. He becomes pure like Waheguru, and merges into Him, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Kuooaa = crow (which makes too much noise). Chooch Giyan = knowledge only for discussions to boost ego but not spirituality. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Paaj = mask to cover reality. Lehg(u) = comes off. Nidaan(i) = eventually, at the end. 1.
Cheet(i) = in the mind. Chaytaavaiy = reminds; makes to recite. Jhootth = mortal. Pause.
Kaar Kmaavhou = perform deeds. Cheen(i) = recognize; make connection with. Sehj = blissful spiritual state. Vudaayee = respect; honour. 2.
Boojhaiy = understand. Undha = blind; ignorant. Dur(u) = Ghur(u) = Mehl(u) = Waheguru's places of dwelling (God Himself). Tthaur = peace. 3.
Untarjaami = know-all. Ghut, ghut = every heart. Pehnaami = deceit. 4.
MEANING: The world is like a crow (which makes a lot of noise without making any sense), which has knowledge on its tongue (not in mind, i.e. its mind is not enlightened), only to take part in worthless discussions. and not to apply to self. Inside, it is full of greed, lies and conceit. But eventually, its mask does come off. 1.
The man can embed Waheguru's Naam in his mind and memory when he gets connected with the Guru (comes to His shelter). The Guru makes him recite Waheguru's Naam. Love for anything other than for Waheguru's Naam is false (short-lived). Pause.
Perform only those deeds which are advised by the Guru. Make a connection with Guru's Shabad (enshrine it in your mind), attain the spiritual state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya), and earn respect with Waheguru's eternal Naam, oh my friends. 2.
The Brahman tries to enlighten the people, but himself does not understand a thing about divinity. The blind of Waheguru's Knowledge, he performs deeds of ignorance; so how can he reach Waheguru's Residence (get connected with Him) and attain peace? 3.
We should serve the omniscient Waheguru whose Light (Soul) is present in every heart. How can anyone cheat Him? 4.

Word Meaning: Jaanaiy = understand; make connection with. Aapaiy Aap(u) Milaiy = purified soul merges into Waheguru. Chookay = is removed. Abhimaanaiy = conceit. Vukhaanaiy = recites. 5.
Sayviyaiyn = serving. Dooji = the other (of Maya). Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Aougun = bad qualities. Kaat(i) = remove. Kunchun = (pure like) gold. Joti = human soul. 6.
Vudiyaayee = respect; praise. Vusaayee = embeds. Ruttay = imbued. 7.
Kerni = performance. Saar(u) = supreme. Moakh Dooaar = door to emancipation. 8.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is recognized (enshrined in mind) by the Guru's eternal Shabad. When the devotee recites Waheguru's Naam all the time in the shelter of the Guru, his ego is eradicated, and his purified soul becomes like that of Waheguru and merges into itself (with Waheguru, as Waheguru also resides in his body). 5.
Man's evil thinking, due to its attachment with Maya, goes away when he serves Satguru. His ignoble qualities and his sinful thinking are killed, and his Gold-like purified soul merges into the Supreme Soul. 6.

One earns huge praise on connecting with Satguru, and all his sufferings are eradicated when he embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam always enjoy comforts (blissfulness). 7.
One's performance of his deeds becomes pure (honest) when he follows the Guru's advice, and he reaches the door of emancipation. The follower of Guru's advice gets salvation for his family (associates) too, oh Nanak. 8.1.3.

Word Meaning: Aap(u) = selfishness and ego = Huoun. Maytaiy = eradicates.
Rus = sweetness. Guvuyyiya = sings. Perchaiy = with the advice. Kunchun Kaaya = gold-like pure body (soul). Nirbhuou = fearless. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. 1.
Adhaar(u) = support; basis. Rumuyyiya = omnipresent (God). Paatth = advice. Pause.

Kunchun Koat(u) = treasure of gold. Maanik = pearls (noble qualities). Jaagay = stays alert. Tut(i) = the root (Waheguru). Liv = focus of mind. Hayroo = robbers; the demons. Lookaanay = stay hidden. Bundh = arrest. 3.
Poat = Bohitha = ship. Khayvut = boatman; captain. Jagaati = taxman. 4.

MEANING: With the advice of the Guru, when a devotee sings Waheguru's praise with the sweetness of mind all the time, his selfishness and ego are killed, his soul becomes pure like gold, and he merges into the Soul of the fearless Waheguru. 1.
With Guru's advice, Waheguru's Naam has become the basis of my life, and now I cannot live without His Naam even for a short moment. Pause.
The human body, which has ten doors, is attacked by the five demons as thieves who keep stealing away the wealth of its noble qualities, day and night, but the ignorant and the blind followers of its mind have no such awareness. 2.
The human mind is like a treasure of gold, which is full of pearls of noble qualities of which the man is not aware, and the five demons stay hidden in there. However, he comes to realize (awakens to) their (the noble qualities) and the demons when he focuses his mind on the root of the universe – Waheguru (His Naam) – and stays alert. With the Shabad of the Guru, he arrests and ties up the five demons (controls them). 3.
Waheguru's Naam is the boat, the ship, while Guru's Shabad is the boatman (the captain) who ferries us across the sea of Maya. No taxman in the form of an angel of death can come near the devotees, and no robber can rob them of their noble qualities. 4.

Word Meaning: Unt(u) = end; limit. Luhhiya = found. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Munooa = mind. Ikutt(u) Ghur(u) = the same residence (with God). Neeshaan Bujuyyiya = beating of the drum; publically (without any shame). 5.
Triptaiy = is contented. Servun = with ears. Aatumdev = Waheguru (His Naam). Bheenay = melts; is moved. Russ(i) = while enjoying. Ruvuyyiya = recites. 6.
Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya (see the "INTRODUCTION") at the beginning. Moh(i) = attachments. Viyaapaiy = affect. Tooriya Goon = above the effects of Maya. Luhhiya = acquired. Drisht(i) = sight. Sum = equal. Pusruyyiya = expanse; universe. 7.
Subaayee = everywhere. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible (Lord). Lukhuyyiya = saw. Bhuyyay = became. Bhaayay = with the spirit of. Smuyyiya = got absorbed. 8.
MEANING: My mind sings Waheguru's praise day and night, but I cannot find the limits of His greatness. With Guru's grace, when my mind becomes "one" with Waheguru, I will meet with Him with the beating of a drum (announce my union to the public without any shame of being ridiculed). (In those days, Waheguru's devotees, who did not perform idol worship, were ridiculed). 5. Now, I listen to the Shabad of the Guru with my ears, and find contentment to see Him with my eyes. My mind is moved to listen to the praise of Ram, Gopal (names of Waheguru), and I recite His Naam while enjoying its sweetness. 6.
Normally, the man performs all his tasks under the influence of the three qualities of Maya and his worldly attachments, but a devotee attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya in the shelter of the Guru. He sees that the whole universe is the creation of the omnipresent Waheguru, so he treats everyone the same. 7.

In the shelter of the Guru, the devotee realizes that Waheguru's Naam (His laws) are the same throughout the world and His Light is present everywhere, in which he sees the invisible Waheguru. Waheguru, which is kind to the humble, has become kind to me as well, and I have been absorbed into Him with His love-filled worship, oh Nanak. 8.1.4.

Word Meaning: Seetul = cool; which causes calmness. Chundun = sandal tree. Vaas(u) = fragrance= Soogundh. Gundhuyyiya = imparts fragrance. Perm Pud(u) = the supreme spiritual state. Hird = castor plant which is short and has ugly smell. Plaas = a tall tree which is of not much use other than its shade. Boohhiya = gets fragranced. 1.
Jugun Nath = Jugdeesh = Goosaayeen = are all names for God. Sayee = those. Oobray = salvaged. Prehlaad = a supreme devotee of God. (See "Introduction"). Pause.
Bhaar Atthaarah = all vegetation; an old belief that if one leaf from each kind of vegetation is weighed the total weight of all leaves amounts to 18 weights (about 1310 kg). Ootum = superior. Hooyyiya = become. Saakut = worshipper of Maya (disconnected with God) Oobhsook = trees that die while still standing. Vichhurr(i) = separated from. 2.
Gut(i) = transcendence. Mit(i) = measurements. Bidh(i) = ways; means. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (from birth). Mitaiy = erase. 3.

Ruttan Pdaaruth = valuable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Saagur = sea. Bhundaar = treasure. Khoohhuyyiya = opened. Sherdha = reverence; faith. Oopji = was cultivated. Triput(i) = tiredness. Bhuyyiya = happen; become. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is like cool water (which quenches one's thirst for worldly desires and causes calmness or peace in the mind), and is like the sandal tree, which imparts sweet fragrance in one's mind, oh my friend. I was like a castor plant (which has an offensive smell) or like a useless plass tree (which has no smell), but was imparted a lovely fragrance (of Waheguru's Naam) when I got connected with Waheguru, and attained the highest spiritual state in the shelter of the Guru. 1.

Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the Lord of the whole world; those devotees who come to His shelter are salvaged like Prahalad, who was salvaged and who got absorbed into Waheguru (became one with Him). Pause.

The sandal tree is considered to be the most superior in all vegetation because all trees that grow near a sandal tree begin to smell like that. The Maya-worshippers are like those fake trees that dry up when left standing on the ground. They are full of ego and are detached from Waheguru; they go far away from Him. 2.

But only Waheguru knows His transcendence and measurements, and He creates means to connect some individuals with Him, and to push others away from Him. Nobody's fortune, which Waheguru has written for Him right from his birth, can be erased, and the individuals whom He connects with Satguru become pure like gold. 3.

One acquires the jewel-like, valuable Naam of Waheguru only with the Guru's advice when He opens the ocean-like treasure of Waheguru's worship for the devotees. A deep reverence for Waheguru was cultivated in my mind in the shelter of the Guru, so that I never get tired of singing His praise. 4.

Word Meaning: Baiyraag(u) = pangs of love. Bhaavni = feelings of mind. Khin(u) = moment = Pul. Paar = the other end. Purhaiy Pruyyiya = further and further. 5.

Khut Kerm = the six duties of Brahmans: to study and teach Vedas; to perform and to help in the performance of yugs (to feed Brahmans in the area); to receive and give donations. Drirruyyiya = reinforce. Paakhund = to show off; hypocrisy. Vigootay = misled. Lehr(i) = wave. Naav = boat (of life). Booduyyiya = sinks. 6.

Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Perchaiy = with the guidance of. 7.

Jug(u) = world. Vern = colours. Roop = forms. Say Kerm = thise deeds. Junt = musical instrument. Bhaavaiy = likes. Raah(i) = path (of life). Chuluyyiya = follow. 8.

MEANING: A devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam all the time gets so much attached to Him that he begins to feel the unbearable pangs of love for Him. I express my deep feelings of love for Waheguru when I sing His praise. We should sing Waheguru's praise every moment, but we cannot find His limits; He is further and further with no end. 5.

The Hindu holy books, such as the Shastras, Vedas, and Puranas, simply emphasize performing religious rituals and the six duties of the Brahmans. Such deeds become mere rituals of show-off, and people are misled by their misgivings. They are overcome by the powerful waves of greed and become Maya-worshippers as a result of which the boat of their life sinks in the sea of Maya with the load (burden) of their misdeeds. 6.
One must recite Waheguru's Naam to attain a high spiritual state. Even the Simritis and the Shastras emphasize the recitation of Naam. One attains the highest spiritual state when one gets rid of one's haumein in the Guru's shelter. 7.
This world of different colours and forms is Waheguru's (He has created it), and the living beings perform only those deeds which they are made to perform. The living beings are like musical instruments which produce only those tunes which the musician (Waheguru) plays on them, and they tread the path of life which they are put on, oh Nanak. 8.2.5.

Gurmut(i) Naam(u) Amrit jul(u) paaya, ugun(i) boojhi, Gur Shabad boojhuyyiya. 4.
Word Meaning: Agumm = physically inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Sat Pukhuyyiya = the eternal and omnipresent Waheguru. Praan(i) = in my soul (mind). Vusaayay = embedded. Pers(u) = by touching feet. Smuyyiya = got absorbed. 1.
Tayk = support; shelter. Tikuyyiya = fixed; created. Dhur = support. Laaga Jaavaan = walk on the path of life. Dur(u) = Door; Residence. Luhhiya = acquired. Pause.

Kerm Kee dherti= ground for deeds. Muth(i), Muth(i) = churning well. Tutt(u) = the required valuable object; union with Waheguru. Kudhuyyiya = obtained. Laal(u) Juvayhur = rubies and jewels (Waheguru's Naam). Pergaasiya = appeared; enlightened. Bhaandaiy = vessel; heart. Bhaaou. Titt(u) = in that. 2.
Nij = His personal; special. Bhuyyiya = become. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Urp(i) = offer. Akuth = indescribable. Kuthuyyiya = describe (sing praise). 3.
Tishna = fire of desires. Julut = burning. Tikhuyyiya = thirst. Boojhuyyiya = put out. 4.
MEANING: I am a sacrifice to my Satguru who implanted the Naam of the inaccessible, incomprehensible, omnipresent, and the eternal Waheguru in my mind when I touched His feet (took His shelter). Now I am reciting Waheguru's Naam in Satguru's shelter, and staying absorbed in the Naam. 1.
Waheguru's Naam has become the basis of my life now, and I am following the path of life supported by Satguru, which has led me to the Residence of Waheguru. Pause.
The human body is the ground to sow the seeds of deeds, and just like butter is obtained by churning yogurt, the devotee achieves union with Waheguru by churning his deeds (analyzing them well, saving the good, and rejecting the bad). Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like rubies and jewels, enlightens the heart which is full of love for Him. 2.
One should serve the devotees of Waheguru like a slave of His slaves (with full faith and dedication). I wish to offer my mind and wisdom before the Guru, with whose grace I am singing praise of the indescribable Waheguru. 3.
The follower of his mind is impacted (influenced) by worldly attachments, and his mind burns (suffers) in the fire of worldly desires for which he has a big thirst. But when an individual pours the water of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with Guru's Shabad on the fire, it is put out. 4.

Word Meaning: Unhud = auto-playing Divine Music. Dhoon(i) = tunes. Toor = musical instruments. Oostut(i) = praise. Churn Hur(i) = Waheguru's Naam. Taal Pooruyyiya = place steps. Nij = own. Dhaar Choovaiy = stream trickles. Ut(i) = very. 6.
Mun Hutth(i) = only with mind's obstinacy. Baaloo = of sand. Lehr(i) = wave. Bhinn, Bhinn = in different pieces. Dheh(i) Puyyiya = collapses. 7.
Sur(u) = pool. Khayl(u) Khayluyyiya = drama; play. Trung = wave. Rummuyyiya = God.8.
MEANING: (Some people try to please their deity by dancing before the idols, but Guru Sahib does not believe in such rituals, so He advises that the devotee's mind should dance in zest with Guru's Shabad when he will feel as if sweet tunes of auto-playing Divine Music are playing in his mind. He should sing Waheguru's praise while keeping His Naam in mind, which serves for dancing steps. 5.
Imbued in Waheguru's love, one should sing Guru's sweet Shabad while enjoying its taste when the extremely pure stream of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit trickles in his mind. Those who taste this sweet Naam-Amrit acquire blissfulness. 6.

The conceited man (has no real love for Waheguru); all the rituals that he performs are simply due to the persistence of his mind, the result of which is like the house of sand that a child builds on the shore of a sea, which collapses into many different pieces when a wave hits it. 7. Waheguru Himself is the pool of life and Himself the sea; the whole world is like a drama to play. Like a wave of water which gets absorbed back in the water of the sea, a devotee realizes that Waheguru Himself is all in all in the universe when he gets absorbed into Him, oh Nanak. 8.3.6.

Word Meaning: Perchaiy = (convinced) with the advice. Moondra = earrings. Bhusm = ash. Drirruyyiya = reinforce. Amar = immortal. Pind = bodies (humans). Mit(i) = finished. 1. Mudhsoodun = Maadho = (names for) Waheguru. Pukhuyyiya = wash (mind). Pause. Tujaiy = renounces. Grist = family. Bunvaasi = resident of jungle. Tikay Na = does not focus. Dhaavut Dhaayay = keeps running around. Tuday = only then. Ghur(i) Aavaiy = stays in itself (becomes peaceful). 2.
Sanyasi = who has renounced the world. Boojhaiy = understands. Niraas = free from hopes and desires; detached from the world. Luhhiya = acquires. 3.
Oopji = arose. Terk = reasoning; belief. Digumbur = clothe-less; naked. Dehdis = in all directions. Guvun Kuruyyiya = roaming around. Perbhuvun = journey to other parts of the world. Duyya Ghur(u) = the house (source) of mercy (God). 4.

MEANING: (The yogis wear big glass earrings and cover their bodies with ash (to look unattractive to women) with the belief that they will get connected with God by such means), disapproving such approaches, Guru Ram Dass ji writes that acting on Satguru's advice is the earrings which I wear not on my ears, but in my mind, and reinforcing Guru's Shabad in my mind is the ash that I coat my mind with (to keep the evil thoughts away), and not my body. The devotees, who practise these principles in the shelter of the Guru, become immortal (by merging into Waheguru), and their births and deaths both get eradicated. 1.
Stay in the company of the Guru, oh, my mind, and pray to Waheguru to be kind to you so that I may keep washing the filth of my mind every moment in His shelter. Pause.
Some people renounce their family and live in the forest, but despite their best efforts, their minds do not find peace, even for a short moment. The fast-wandering mind comes under control only when Waheguru puts it in the shelter of the Guru. 2.
Even though they leave their children behind to become a sanyasi, they do not understand the real approach to connecting with Waheguru and building hope after hope in life. They achieve detachment from the world in a real sense only when they come to the shelter of the Guru and attain the state of blissfulness. 3.
Some others acquire the belief (are convinced) that real renunciation means that they should not even wear clothes, and go naked, but they too do not achieve the peace of mind, and keep roaming on the earth (in search of God). They may roam all over the world, but the fire of their desires is not put out. They realize Waheguru, which is the source of mercy, only in the shelter of the Guru. 4.

Word Meaning: Aasun Sidh = meditative postures of yogis. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Chaytuk = amazing feats. Suntokh = contentment. Shaant(i) = peace. Sidh(i) = success. Puyyiya = achieves. 5. Uuduj = from eggs. Jayruj = live births. Saytuj = from air. Ootbhooj = from vegetation (the four sources of reproduction). Vern = colours. Roop = forms. Oopuyyiya = created. Shood(u) = the lowliest. Vaish = the third-level castes (farmers, businessmen). Chundaal = merciless; butchers; savage. 6.
Aoujaat(i) = lower caste. Chumiyaar = cobbler. Duyyiya = kind; merciful. 7.
Paiyj = dignity. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul(u) = lover of His devotees. Ungikaar = favour. 8.
MEANING: The Sidh yogis learn many postures of meditation, but ask Waheguru (not for His Naam but) for supernatural powers to use them to perform amazing feats (to impress people, and earn accolades). They, too, get no mental contentment and peace. They achieve success in contentment and peace of mind only with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. 5. All living beings of different colours and forms are created by Waheguru through the four major sources of reproduction. All human beings have been created by Waheguru (as equals), even though some cunning people divided the Indians into four major castes – Brahmans, Khatris, Vaish (which, among others, include farmers and the businessmen), and the Shood (the untouchables, including the ignoble butchers and savages) – in the descending order of status in the society. But regardless of the caste, only those get salvation who come to the shelter of the Guru. 6.

Among Waheguru's top devotees are Naama (Nam Dev) (a low-caste washerman), Jai Deo (a Brahman), Kambir (Kabir Ji) (a weaver), Tirlochan (a Vaish), Ravidass (a low-caste cobbler), Dhanna (a farmer), and Sain (a barber). All of them are worthy of our respect, but they realized the merciful Waheguru only in the shelter of the Guru. 7.
Waheguru loves His devotees, and He saves their dignity with His favours (kindness). I have come to the shelter of the Lord of the World, Waheguru, and pray to Him that He protects me too, with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 8.4.7.

Nirkhut = look for. Days Disuntar(u) = far and near. Chuyyiya = zestfulness. Maarug(u) Punth(u) = path to union with Waheguru. Dikhuyyiya = showed. 2.

MEANING: Guru's Shabad pierced my mind like an arrow, and a strong longing arose in my mind to see the Guru. I cannot describe the situation (feelings) of my mind because only the mind knows its condition; who else can feel the pain of others? 1.
The mind-captivating Guru has captivated me, oh Waheguru. I am so overexcited to see my Guru that I am losing my mind. Pause.
With Guru's grace, I feel so zestful to "see" Waheguru, whom I was looking for far and near. (Now, that I see Him everywhere), I wish to offer every part of my body and mind to the Guru who has shown me the path to unite with Waheguru. 2.
Waheguru has become so sweet to my body and mind that I always wait to receive His message from someone (discuss His virtues with someone). I will cut off my forehead (wisdom) for the Gur Sikh who is connected with Waheguru, and connects me with Him. 3.
Let us acquire the virtues required to win over (please) Waheguru, and let our minds be filled with love for Him, oh my friend. Waheguru is known to be the lover of His worship (worshippers), so I have come to His shelter. 4.

Word Meaning: Khima = forgiveness. Sheegaar = adornment. Khooshiya = happy; please. Buluyyiya = light up. Rus(i) = with sweetness. 5.
Haar(u) = necklace. Kuntth(i) = neck. Motichoor = an ornamental headpiece (a sign of high status). Vud Gehn = a great ornament. Gehnuyyiya = to wear ornament. Sherdha = reverence. Sayj Vichhaayee = made bed. Bhuyyiya = is liked. 6.
Uver(u) = other; different. Baad(i) = useless. Phokut = tasteless. Thook = spittle. 7.
Chayri = disciple; slave. Agumm = inaccessible. Goosaayeen = Lord of the world. 8.
MEANING: When a devotee adorns her mind with the ornament of forgiveness, and lights up her mind with the lamp of Guru's Knowledge (Shabad), Waheguru is so pleased that He enjoys the union with the devotee with great sweetness. I will gladly cut my mind (thinking) in pieces, and offer to Him (surrender my wisdom completely). 5.
Waheguru's Naam has become the necklace of my throat (tongue) (I recite His Naam all the time), and exercising control on my mind is the great ornament for my head (high spiritual wisdom). I like Waheguru so much that I have spread the bed of my heart with great reverence for Him so that He may never leave my heart. 6.
But if an individual does things contrary to the Will of Waheguru, all her adornments to please Waheguru become worthless and tasteless. Waheguru goes to the bed of the devotees who are connected with Him, while the follower of her mind gets spit (shame or insult) on her face. 7. I am a slave of the Lord of the world (Waheguru), and am completely under His control (cannot disobey Him). Please be kind to the poor Nanak, and keep me in the shelter of the Guru all the time, oh Waheguru. 8.5.8.

Word Meaning: Ugumm = inaccessible. Sherdha = wish; reverence. Ootthuyyiya = sprouts. Chaatrik = rainbird, a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Priyo Priyo = beloved; badly needed. Boond = drop. 1.
Roam = body pours. Baydun = pain (of separation). Baiydik = physicians. Naatik = pulse. Bhoolaanay = misdiagnosed. Hirdaiy = at heart. 2.
Umlaiy = addiction drug. Umlee = addict. Kayri = of. Dooyiya = some other. 3.
Huoun = I, me. Tis(u) = him/her. Vit-houn = for. Bul(i) = Ghoomm(i) = sacrifice life. Sat Sat = eternal (a manifestation of Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: I have so much love for the inaccessible Lord by my body and my mind that deep reverence for Him sprouts in my mind every moment. Like the rainbird, which feels contentment only when it gets its beloved first drop of rain, my wish is met in full when I see my Guru. 1. Let us listen to the praise of Waheguru together with the hope that Satguru will be very kind to us, and connect us with Waheguru, oh my friends. I will cut my head (wisdom) into pieces, and offer it to my Guru for His such benevolence. Pause.

There is pain of separation in every pore (part) of my body, and I cannot go to sleep without seeing my Guru. When the physicians check my pulse to find my ailment, they misdiagnose me, not realizing that the pain is not due to some pathological reason; it is the pain of love for my Guru. 2. Like an addict who cannot survive without the addictive drug, I cannot survive without my dear Waheguru even for a moment. Those who have thirst (yearning) for the Guru, do not like anything other than Him. 3.
I will lay down my life for the individual who can connect me with Waheguru. The Satguru, which is a manifestation of Waheguru, can connect individuals who have been separated from Him for many, many lives if they come to His shelter. 4.

Word Meaning: Sayj = bed. Mehl(u) = God's Residence. Bhemuyyiya = misled. Khin = a moment. Dheel = delay. 5.
Kiriyachaar = rituals. Paakhund Kerm = rituals for show-off (of hypocrisy). Kupt = deceit. Lobuyyiya = loves; engrossed in. Baysooaa = prostitute. Suduyyiya = called. 6.
Poorub Junum = previous lives. Smuyyiya = got absorbed. 7.
Mehandi = henna. Peesaayee = grinded. Ghoal(i) = mix well. Ung Luyyiya = applied to the body (applying henna to hands and feet is a sign of a newlywed bride). 8.
MEANING: Even though the Lord resides in the bed of every heart, the Maya - worshipping individual is misled in life, and cannot reach Waheguru's Residence (cannot get connected with Him). However, if he comes to the shelter of the Guru with full faith, Waheguru appears in his mind without the delay of a single moment. 5.
Such a man (Maya-worshipper) performs more and more rituals, but embraces hypocrisy and deceit. A person who worships more than one power is like the son of a prostitute who is not sure who his father is. 6.
Those, who had served Waheguru in their previous incarnation (but not enough to merge with Him), and are reborn as humans in this life, are provided Guru's shelter (by Him) who (the Guru) transforms their life into that of the supreme devotees of Waheguru. They merge into Waheguru by worshipping Him and reciting His Naam. 7.
The brides-to-be graze henna, and apply it on their hands and feet themselves, but for the would-be brides of Waheguru, He Himself grazes henna of His love for them, and Himself lovingly applies it on their minds. Waheguru pulls His devotees, whom He is kind to, out of the sea of Maya by holding them by the arm, oh Nanak. 8.6.2.1.6.9.

Paykhiyaiy = see. Bismaad = mesmerize. Chukh = to taste. Poorun = perfect taste. Doaliyaiy = weakening of mind. It Oot = here and there. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru has so many virtues that nobody can sing His praise in full. So, giving up all other hopes, I have come to Him and have sought His shelter. Pause.

I am always willing to sacrifice my life for the lotus-like soft Feet (His Naam) of the limitless Waheguru. My mind has been attached to Him with love. I will never leave Him to seek some other support. 1. Waheguru's devotees recite His Naam with their tongue, whereby all the filth of their sins gets burned down completely. They are ferried across the sea of Maya by the Guru, who serves as the boat. 2.

The saints have this holy custom (routine of reciting Waheguru Naam), which serves as the strong string (bond) by which they are attached to Waheguru. Their sins, due to any immoral acts (or thoughts), run away and merge with the formless Waheguru. 3.

By tasting the blissful and sweet Naam of Waheguru, one can see the mesmerizing Waheguru as a result of which the devotee's mind never weakens for any attraction of Maya, and Waheguru comes to reside in his mind forever. 4.

Word Meaning: Tinh = those. Nerk Nivaas(u) = go to hell. Goontaas = treasure of virtues. Unhut Baiyn = Unhud Shabad = auto-playing Divine Music. 5.

Soor = brave; omnipotent. Vus(i) = in control. Nigum = Vedas. Bhayv = secrets. 6.

Nivaar = remove; eradicate. Bikhrri = difficult. Kaar = service. Mit(i) = measurements. Thul(i) = on the land. Muhhiul = in the sky. Soyay = that (God). 7.

Bundnaa = bowing to. Thuk(i) = having exhausted. Munsa Poor = fulfil wish. 8.

MEANING: Those who recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, are captivated by Him and feel as if they are listening to the auto-playing Divine Music. They never go to hell and do not see the Angel of death with their eyes (because their soul merges into the Supreme Soul). 5.

Waheguru is so deeply bonded to His devotees that He is under their control. And, the devotees always stay in the shelter of the omnipotent Waheguru, whose secrets are not known even to the Vedas, and Whom the hermits and the bhagats serve all the time. 6.

Waheguru eradicates the suffering of the poor and the humble, serving whom is otherwise extremely difficult. Nobody knows the limits of Waheguru, which is present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. 7. Finally, I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, and kneel before Him millions of times, praying that He fulfils my wish to make me as humble as the dust of the feet of the Guru (grants me the opportunity to humbly serve Him), oh Nanak. 8.1.

Baandhi = trapped in. Dayh = body. Khayh = dirt. Bhuyyan = frightening. Chit, Goopt = two mythical agents of the Angel of justice who record the deeds of humans. Kermeh(i) = deeds. Saakh = witness. Shernaayay = in the shelter. 3.

MEANING: By holding Guru's feet (taking His shelter), I have finally come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. Please be kind to me so that I may find Your Naam very sweet; also, eradicate my suffering from rebirths. Please be kind, and accept me in Your shelter, oh Waheguru. I wish to recite Your Naam, oh Lord. 1. Please be kind to the poor and the humble, oh my Lord. I wish to have an opportunity to serve the Guru. Pause.
The world is a deep well of vices (attractions of Maya), and because of the deep darkness of ignorance, the man is captivated by them. Please pull me out of this deep, dark well by holding me by the arm, and implant Your Naam in my heart, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, have no shelter other than Yours, and am a sacrifice for You, oh Lord. 2.
The human body is deeply gripped by greed and worldly attachments, and it becomes worthless like dust without Waheguru's worship. Chit and Goopt (Waheguru Himself) know your deeds and the frightening agents of death are waiting for you, oh man. Days and nights will also be witnesses to your immoral and sinful deeds. So, take Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 3. I have countless faults (vices), and there is no place other than Waheguru's shelter where they can be forgiven. So, I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, which is the eradicator of all fears, begging Him to salvage the immoral me, with His kindness. After deep thought, I have come to Waheguru's shelter, and beg Him to protect me by extending His hand, oh Nanak. 4.
Waheguru is the treasure (source) of all virtues who raises and nourishes all the living beings. My mind has a deep longing for the holy sight of Waheguru, which fulfills the wishes of His devotees. I cannot live without His sight even for a short moment. But one gets connected with Him only with great fortune, oh Nanak. 5.

Taroon = young bride. Bhert = husband. Praan = life. Lobjiyaiy = to the greedy. Daan = donation. Sunjoag(u) = union. Khoodhiyaaruth = hungry. Bhoag(u) = food. Hayt(u) = love. Nayt = everyday; all the time. 7.

Putun = drops. Ptung = mooth. Hirt = steals. Nisung = without shame. Maiygleh(i) = elephant. Kaamaiy = lust. Bundh(u) = trap. Grust = gripped in. Bikhuyee = lustful. Dhundh(u) = net of vices. Jooaar = gambler. Bishun = habit; addiction. 8.

Smooh = collection. Bohith = boat. Paiyj = dignity. Mooraar(i) = Waheguru. 10.

MEANING: I have no one else whom I love as much as I love You; my mind is always thirsty for seeing Your holy Feet, oh Waheguru. My love for You is like the love of the Greek partridge for the moon; or like the love of fishes for water; or like the love of bumblebee for the lotus flower in which it becomes indistinguishable (by getting trapped in it); or like the impatience of the ruddy duck which cannot wait to see the sunrise when it can meet with its partner which gets separated from her at night, oh Nanak. 6.

My love for You is like the love of a young bride for her husband who is her life, oh Waheguru; or my love for You is like the man greedy of money who loves (becomes overjoyed) to have money donated to him; or like the union of milk and water; or like the way an extremely hungry man loves to have food; or like the love of a mother for her son. I wish to recite Your Naam with the same passion, oh Waheguru, says Nanak. 7.

My love for Waheguru is like the love of the moth for the light which it drops on; or like the urge of a thief who steals without any shame; or like the craziness of the elephant which gets trapped because of its lust; or like a lustful person who is gripped by his immoral acts. I am attached to my Waheguru, just as a gambler cannot give up his habit, oh Nanak. 8.

My love for Waheguru is like the love of the musk deer for a special type of music under the attraction of which it gets killed; or like the way the rainbird is believed to love the first drop of rain; or like the way the company of the holy saints becomes the life of a devotee, where he worships Waheguru with love. I wish to recite Waheguru's Naam with my tongue and pray for His holy sight, oh Nanak. 9.

A devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise, listens to it, or writes it to share with others, reaps all the rewards. Not only does he cross the world sea himself, but he also rescues all his associates. Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) becomes the ship (to ferry one across the world sea) for the devotee who sings His praise in the company of the holy saints. I, too, have come to the shelter of the Waheguru with the request that He protect my dignity as well, oh Nanak. 10.2.

Bilawal(u) Mehla 1, Thiti, Ghur(u) 10, Jut(u): Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i):

NOTE: The Brahmans created the misconception that times (days and moments) are auspicious or inauspicious, and misguide the innocent and the ignorant to make money. Every day and every moment were either auspicious or inauspicious according to them, and they had suggested ways (in most cases donations to them) to avoid the effects of such inauspicious days. They labelled every first day of the Hindu month, the day of the new moon, the day of the full moon and some days after the new and the full moon as being auspicious. Guru Sahiban never approved of such division of days into two categories, and preached to the masses that every moment or day when they remembered Waheguru (God) was auspicious, and inauspicious when they ignored Him. There are many holy compositions in Guru Granth Sahib to negate the importance of such categorization. The lunar months are divided into two halves – one starting with the new moon and the days following it until the full moon, but not including that. The other half starts with the full moon and the 14 days following it. The days are numbered and are called thities – the day of the new moon and that of the full moon are called day one, and they go up to 14 after the new and the full moon. In this holy composition on Thities, Guru Nanak Sahib stresses the importance of Waheguru's Naam on each day, negating the effects of any particular day.

Ekum = the first day (new or full moon). Ekunkaar(u) = Waheguru. Niraala = detached. Ajoani = never takes a life form. Jaala = net of bonds (of attachment). Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Roop(u) = form. Raykhiya = physical features. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. 1.

MEANING: Remember the "One and Only" Supreme Being (Waheguru), which is fully detached from the world. He is immortal, takes no life, has no caste, and has no worldly bonds. He is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and has no physical features. When one searches for Him, he finds Him in every heart. I will offer my life to the individual who can show Him to me. One attains the highest spiritual state with the grace of the Guru.

Word Meaning: Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). Jum Kaal(u) = Angel of death. S(i) = those. Chhootus(i) = is emancipated. Paakhund(i) = hypocrisy. 2.

MEANING: Those who love Maya repent at the end. Tied at the door of the Angel of death, they continue to take births and deaths. With the Angel of Death watching them closely, they receive punishments. What is a man born with, and what can he take with him at the time of death? One cannot get emancipated by the acts of hypocrisy. Emancipation can be achieved only by the Guru's Shabad. 2.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = the eternal Lord. Kur(i) Joarr(i) = put together (with extreme care). Unduj = the egg-shaped universe. Phoarr(i) = by breaking up; by destroying. Joarr(i) = putting together. Vichhoarr(i) = separates; destroys. Bhuou = fear. Bhaaou = love. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, put together (created) the universe with extreme care. He breaks up (destroys) the egg-shaped universe, puts it back together, and then separates it (breaks it up) again. He created the earth and the sky as dwellings for Him and for the living beings. He created nights and days, as well as fear and affection among the living beings. Waheguru, who created the universe, also looks after it. There is none other who can create the universe. 3.

Word Meaning: Triteeya = the third day. Vaysa = appearance; different kinds. Joti Jaati = categories of gods and goddesses.

MEANING: It is Waheguru who created Brahma, Vishnu, Shiva and the gods and goddesses of many kinds. There is no limit to the categories of gods and goddesses which are believed to enlighten the world. Only Waheguru, who created them, knows their worth (number). He is present everywhere, so how can I say that He is close to some and far away from others? 4.

Word Meaning: Chauth(i) = the fourth day. Khaani = the sources of reproduction. Baani Bhayda = different ways to communicate. Usht Dusa = eight and ten (the eighteen Puranas). Khut = (the) six (Shastras). Teen(i) = (the) three (effects of Maya). 5.

MEANING: Waheguru also prompted some people to write the Vedas and created the four sources of reproduction and the languages (means of communication) of many different kinds. Similarly, (at His prompt, some sages) created the eighteen Puranas, and the three effects of Maya. But only that individual comes to understand such secrets who He gives the understanding. I will be a slave of the holy person who rises above the three effects of Maya to attain the fourth state above them, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Punchmi = the fifth day. Punch Bhoot = the five demons. Baytaala = out of step; chaotic. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Purakh(u) = the omnipresent Lord. Ikk(i) = many. Bherm(i) = under misgivings. Moh = attachment. Triptaasay = contented. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Dhoor(i) = dust. Hudoor(i) = close by. 6.

MEANING: The five demons cause the man to be out of step with spiritual life. But they cannot affect the incomprehensible Waheguru, which is impenetrable by them. Because of their misgivings about the effects of Maya, many people are hungry and thirsty (discontented) because of their love for worldly attractions, while many others feel fully contented to taste the sweetness of the Guru's Shabad. Some are imbued in Waheguru's love, while many others die and become part of dust (without love for Him). Many "see" Waheguru close to them, and reach His Residence. 6.

Word Meaning: Jhoottha = liar; dishonest; impure. Soocha = pure; honest. Kaala Kaaoun = (an immoral person who loves filth like a) black crow. Pinjur(i) = caged. Chhayreen = through the holes. Bhemaiy = going around; flying around. Mookut(i) = free. Drirraayay = reinforces. 7.

MEANING: The dishonest are never pure at heart like a black crow (which always falls for filth), and cannot enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart and earn respect. They are caught in a net of worldly bonds and cannot attain freedom like a caged bird that cannot fly out through the holes in the cage (it can be freed only by its master). Like the bird, the money-loving person gets freedom (from the bonds of Maya) only when the Lord sets him free. (With His benevolence) Waheguru connects some money-loving persons with the Guru who advises them and reinforces the Lord's worship in them. 7.

Khushtee, khut(u) Dershan Prubh saajay. Unhud Shabad(u) niraala vaajay. Jay Prubh bhaavaiy, ta Mehl(i) boolaavaiy. Shabaday bhayday, tuou put(i) paavaiy. Kur(i), kur(i) vays khupeh(i) jul(i) jaaveh(i). Saachaiy, Sachay, Saach(i) smaaveh(i). 8.

Word Meaning: Khushtee = the sixth day. Khut(u) Dershun = the six philosophies of the yogis, sanyasis, Budhism, Jainism, Baiyraagis, and the Jungums. Saajay = created; written. Unhud Shabad = Guru's Divine Shabad in Waheguru's praise. Niraala = separate; detached. Bhayday = get pierced. Put(i) = husband; Lord. Vays = religious garb. Khupeh(i) = irritated with self. Jul(i) Jaaveh(i) = burns; suffers. Saachaiy = in the eternal (Lord). Saachay = God-like. Saach(i) = by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 8.

MEANING: (Prompted by Waheguru), some sages created the philosophies of the six different main faiths of Hindus, but Guru's Divine Shabad (which connects the man with Waheguru) is different from them. The followers of the six faiths get irritated with themselves in different religious garbs and suffer because of their unsuccessful efforts (to connect with God). However, when a devotee's mind gets pierced with Guru's Shabad, He is liked by Waheguru, and He calls the devotee to His Residence (connects with Him) by His own Will, and accords respect to him. One merges into Waheguru when He recites His Naam to acquire noble qualities like Him. 8.

Suptumi, sat(u), suntokh(u) sreer(i). Saat smoond bhuray, nirmul neer(i). Mujun(u) seel(u), Sach(u) ridaiy veechaar(i). Gur kaiy Shabad(i) paavaiy subh(i) paar(i). Mun(i) Saacha, mookh(i) Saachau bhaayay. Sach(u) neeshaanaiy, tthaak na paayay. 9.

Word Meaning: Suptumi = the seventh day. Sat(u) = service to mankind. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Saat Smoond = seven seas (five senses, mind, and wisdom). Nirmul Neer(i) = Naam-water. Mujun = dip; purify mind. Seel(u) = calmness; great patience. Bhaayay = with love. Neeshaanaiy = identification. Tthaak = impediment. 9.

Meaning: When a devotee acquires the virtues of serving humanity and of contentment by reciting Guru's Shabad, his five senses, his mind, and his wisdom get filled with the holy water of Waheguru's Naam; his mind is purified, and he attains peace of mind by pondering on Guru's Shabad. He swims across the world sea along with all his associates. He has Waheguru at heart, and His Naam on his tongue with love. With the identification of Waheguru's Naam, he faces no impediment to his union with God. 9.

Ushtumi, usht sidh(i) boodh(i) saadhaiy. Sach(u) nihkayvul(u), kerm(i) araadhaiy. Paun, paani, ugnee bisraaou. Tuhhi Nirunjun(u) Saacho Naaoun. Tis(u) meh(i) munooaa ruhhiya liv laayay. Prunvut(i) Nanak(u), kaal(u) na khaayay. 10.

Word Meaning: Ushtumi = the eighth day. Usht Sidh(i) = the 8 supernatural powers. Boodh(i) = thinking. Saadhaiy = rectifies. Nihkayvul(u) = detached from worldly attractions. Kerm(i) = with the benevolence. Paun, Paani, Ugnee = these three elements represent the three effects of Maya. Bisraaou = unaffected. Naaoun = existence. 10.

Meaning: If a devotee controls his desires to acquire the eight supernatural powers that the yogis seek, and sings praise of the fully detached Waheguru with His benevolence, he attains the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, where Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and which has eternal existence, resides. The fear of death cannot come near the devotee whose mind stays focused on such Waheguru (who stays connected with Him), oh Nanak. 10.

Word Meaning: Naumi = the ninth day. Nath = master. Nuvay Nath = the 9 leading Naths (lords) of the Sidh yogis. Nuv Khunda = the 9 regions of the earth. Nath(u) = the True Lord (Waheguru). Muhaa Bulvunda = the great and powerful. Aayee = Maya. Poota = son; worshipper. Aadays(u) = bowing to. Aad(i) = from the beginning. Rukhvaara = protector; guard. Uprumpur(u) = further and further. Kernaiy Joag(u) = fully capable. 11.

MEANING: Waheguru is the most powerful Lord who is present in every heart, and whose Naam is recited by all the nine top leaders of the yogis and all over the nine regions of the earth. This world is a worshipper of Maya, but one needs to bow to (worship) Waheguru, which is our protector (benefactor) from the very beginning. He has been here ever since the beginning of the world, and the beginning of the eons; is here now; and will be here in the future. The endless Lord is fully capable of doing everything. 11.

Dusmi, Naam(u), daan(u), ishnaan(u). Undin(u) mujun(u), Sacha Goon Giyaan(u). Sach(i) maiyl(u) na laagaiy, bherm(u), bhuou bhaagaiy. Bilm(u) na tootus(i) kaachaiy taagaiy. Jiyoun taaga, jug aivaiy jaanhou. Usthir cheet(u), Saach(i) rung(u) maanhou. 12.

Word Meaning: Dusmi = the tenth day. Daan(u) = service to others. Ishnaan(u) = dip in the Naam-water. Goon Giyan = knowledge of Waheguru's virtues. Bilum(u) = delay. Kaachaiy Taagaiy = the unspun thread. Usthir = stable (which does not wander). 12.

MEANING: Recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the true donation and the holy dip that the Hindus do on this day. Singing praise of the virtues of Waheguru is the real holy dip that the devotee takes all the time. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, one gathers no filth of immorality on his mind, and all his worldly fears and misgivings run away. Life in the world is short like an unspun thread, which does not take long to break. So, enjoy the love for God by reciting His Naam with a stable (focused) mind. 12.

ਏਕਾਦਸੀ ਇਕੁ ਰਿਦੈ ਵਸਾਵੈ॥ ਹਿੰਸਾ ਮਮਤਾ ਮੋਹੁ ਚੁਕਾਵੈ॥ ਫਲੁ ਪਾਵੈ ਬ੍ਰਤੁ ਆਤਮ ਚੀਨੈ॥ ਪਾਖੰਡਿ ਰਾਚਿ ਤਤੁ ਨਹੀ ਬੀਨੈ॥ ਨਿਰਮਲੁ ਨਿਰਾਹਾਰੁ ਨਿਹਕੇਵਲੁ॥ ਸੂਚੈ ਸਾਚੇ ਨਾ ਲਾਗੈ ਮਲੁ॥ 13॥

Ekaadshi, Ikk(u) ridaiy vusaavaiy. Hinsa, mumta, moh(u) chookaavaiy. Ful paavaiy bert(u), aatum cheenaiy. Paakhund(i) raach(i) Tut(u) nuhee beenaiy. Nirmul(u), nirahaar(u),nihkayvul(u). Soochaiy, Saachaiy na laagaiy mul(u). 13.

Word Meaning: Ekaadshi = the eleventh day (considered holy). Ikk(u) = the One Lord. Hinsa = violence; rage. Mumta = attachments. Bert(u) = commitments. Aatum Cheenaiy = self realization. Raach(i) = getting absorbed (lost). Tut(u) = reality. Beenaiy = recognize. Nirmul(u) = pure. Nirahaar(u) = without food. Nihkayvul = detached. 13.

NOTE: Hindus consider the eleventh day very pious and observe many rituals, such as fasting and donating to Brahmins.

MEANING: The man should embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart and get rid of his rage, parental love, and worldly attachments, and analyze himself. These should be his commitments for which he reaps the reward of contentment and blissfulness. Other rituals like fasting, taking dips at holy places, or donating to Brahmans are simply acts of show-off, and the individual does not recognize the reality. Those who purify their minds by reciting Waheguru's Naam remain detached from the worldly attractions and are better than those who do not eat on this day. They are pure, honest, and collect no filth. 13.

ਜਹ ਦੇਖਉ ਤਹ ਏਕੋ ਏਕਾ॥ ਹੋਰਿ ਜੀਅ ਉਪਾਏ ਵੇਕੋ ਵੇਕਾ॥ ਫਲੋਹਾਰ ਕੀਏ ਫਲੁ ਜਾਇ॥ ਰਸ ਕਸ ਖਾਏ ਸਾਦੁ ਗਵਾਇ॥ ਕੂੜੈ ਲਾਲਚਿ ਲਪਟੈ ਲਪਟਾਇ॥ ਛੂਟੈ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਸਾਚੁ ਕਮਾਇ॥ 14॥

Word Meaning: Jeh = where. Teh = there. Aiko Aika = only Waheguru. Vayko Vayka = of different kinds. Fulohaar = meal of fruits only. Ful(u) = reward. Rus Kus = many tasty foods. Luptaiy Luptaayay = keeps attached to. Chhootaiy = breaks bonds. 14.

MEANING: I see only the "One" Lord wherever I look, but He has created humans of many different kinds and beliefs, some of whom are misled by their misgivings. By eating only fruits, they lose the expected reward of fasting and the taste of eating many different kinds of food. They are greedy for the expected false rewards and remain absorbed in rituals because of their greed. But a Sikh of the Guru finds salvation by leading his life with honesty while reciting Waheguru's Naam. 14.

ਦੁਆਦਸਿ ਮੁਦ੍ਰਾ ਮਨੁ ਅਉਧੂਤਾ॥ ਅਹਿਨਿਸਿ ਜਾਗਹਿ ਕਬਹਿ ਨ ਸੂਤਾ॥ ਜਾਗਤੁ ਜਾਗਿ ਰਹੈ ਲਿਵ ਲਾਇ॥ ਗੁਰ ਪਰਚੈ ਤਿਸੁ ਕਾਲੁ ਨ ਖਾਇ॥ ਅਤੀਤ ਭਏ ਮਾਰੇ ਬੈਰਾਈ॥ ਪ੍ਰਣਵਤਿ ਨਾਨਕ ਤਹ ਲਿਵ ਲਾਈ॥ 15॥

Dooaadus(i) moodra, mun(u) aoudhoota. Ehinis(i) jaageh(i), kubheh(i) na soota. Jaagut(u) jaag(u) ruhhaiy liv laayay. Gur perchaiy, tis(u) kaal(u) na khaayay. Ateet bhuyyay, maaray baiyraayee. Prunvut(i) Nanak, teh liv laayee. 15.

Word Meaning: Dooaadus(i) = the twelfth day; the twelve religious symbols of different faiths. Moodra = religious sign. Aoudhoota = renouncer. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Jaageh(i) = stays awake (alert). Liv Laayay = meditate. Perchaiy = attachment with (Guru's advice). Kaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Ateet = detached. Bairaayee = enemies (the five demons). Prunvut(i) = says respectfully. Teh = that. 15.

MEANING: A devotee, who is a renouncer of worldly attractions by heart, needs none of the 12 religious symbols. He stays awake (alert) against Maya's attacks by focusing his mind on Waheguru, and never sleeps (becomes negligent). A devotee who follows the Guru's advice never dies spiritually. He stays detached from worldly attractions, and destroys (controls) his enemies – the five demons. He is the one who is really connected with Waheguru. 15.

Word Meaning: Baahur(i) Jaato = wandering around (mind). Bheetur(i) Aanaiy = brings inside (controls it). Berti = the one who undertakes fasting. Nihkaam = control on sensual desires. Ajupa Jaap(u) = remembering without reciting. Sooch(i) = purity. Sunjum = control on senses. Saach(u) Puchhaanaiy = makes connection with God. 16.

MEANING: A devotee, who is compassionate and is able to control his wandering mind, is the one who knows what true donations are. The fast of such a devotee is to stay desireless, and to recite Waheguru's Naam with his tongue without any special effort (so that it becomes automatic). He recognizes only the "One" Waheguru in all three layers of the universe. All acts of keeping everything clean and practising control on senses are subsumed in making a connection with Waheguru. 16.

Word Meaning: Tayrus(i) = the thirteenth day. Turvur = tree. Amrit = the Naam. Mool(u) = the origin. Sikhur(i) = at the top (Waheguru's Residence). Liv = focus of mind. Dur = Waheguru's fear. Boodaiy = drown in the world sea. Nidur(u) = fearless (of Waheguru). Ghur(u) = mind. Tukhut(i) Nivaas(u) = on the throne of mind. 17.
MEANING: (People perform rituals of many different kinds to please some deity), but Waheguru is pleased when a devotee truly believes that human life is as short as that of a tree which is on the shore of a sea (river) where waves can uproot it at any time. Such a devotee considers Waheguru's Naam to be the root (basis) of his spiritual life and takes his mind to the top (transcendental Waheguru) by concentrating on His Naam. If a devotee dies with Waheguru's fear in mind, he does not drown in the world sea (he merges into Him), but if a person dies with no fear for Waheguru in mind, he drowns in the world sea and loses his dignity (takes countless rebirths). When a devotee lives in Waheguru's fear, has his fear at mind, and loves Waheguru, he is put on the high spiritual throne to live forever. 17.

Word Meaning: Chaudus(i) = the fourteenth day. Chauthay Thaanveh(i) = the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya. Leh(i) Paavaiy = attains. Raajus, Taamus, Sut = the three effects of Maya. Kaal Smaavaiy = die down; become ineffective. Sussiur = moon (coolness or peace of mind). Soor(u) = sun (the brightness of Divine Knowledge). Joag Joogut(i) = means to get connected (with God). Keemut(i) Paavaiy = understand the worth. 18. Chaudus(i) Bhuvun = fourteen layers of the universe.
MEANING: While reciting Waheguru's Naam, a devotee overcomes the three effects of Maya and attains the fourth level of spiritual state, the three effects of Maya die down, and Divine Knowledge brightens his peaceful mind. He realizes the value of the path to union with Waheguru and stays connected to Waheguru, which is present in all the fourteen worlds (a Muslim belief), in galaxies, and everywhere else. 18.

Word Meaning: Ammvussiya = the day of the new moon. Gooput(i) = hidden; invisible. Gaiynnar(i) = in the sky. Sussiur(u) = moon. 19.
MEANING: Just like the moon, which becomes invisible in the sky on the night of the new moon, Waheguru is invisible in the world, but the Light of the Waheguru-Moon brightens the whole universe. However, only a spiritually enlightened person discovers this fact by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. He also realizes that it is Waheguru that creates the world and looks after it. The individual who receives this divine knowledge from the Guru remains absorbed in Waheguru, but a follower of his mind is misled and keeps taking births and dying. 19.

Word Meaning: Ghur(u) Dur(u) = Waheguru's Door. Thaap(i) = establishes; makes. Thir(u) Thaan(i) = the eternal place. Sohhavaiy = comforting. Aasa = hopes; wishes. Binus(i) = eradication. Binaasa = without hopes. Phootaiy = shatters. Khuppur(u) = vessel. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Munsa = thoughts of mind. Oodaasa = shows no interest. Daasa = slave. 20.1.

MEANING: When a devotee comes to the Guru's shelter, he recognizes self (what his real objective in life is, and what qualities he has), and burns down all his wishes and desires, and makes Waheguru's shelter his permanent dwelling (stays connected with Him), which he finds to be highly blissful. The vessel of his mind, which was home to indecisiveness and worldly wishes, shatters completely, and he becomes fully detached from the net of worldly attractions. I submit humbly that I am a slave of such a holy man, oh Nanak. 20.1.

Word Meaning: Vaar sut = the seven days of the week. Adit Vaar(i) = Sunday. Aad(i) Purakh = Waheguru, who is the beginning of everything. Vertaiy = operates. Oat Poat = like warp and weft. Puroyee = stitched. Virla = rare. 1.

MEANING: Some rare individual in the shelter of the Guru realizes that (regardless of what day of the week it is) Waheguru is the origin of everything, and He alone operates in the world. He is as closely stitched to (mingled with) the world as the cross-threads (warp and weft) of the fabric. He is the creator of the universe, and only that which He wishes to do happens. Those who are imbued with the Lord's love are blessed. 1.

Word Meaning: Juppni = rosary. Goon-Taasa = the treasure of virtues (God). Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Pug(i) Lug(i) = at the Feet. Pause.

MEANING: (People hold some form of rosaries in their hands to worship their deities), but singing praise of the treasure of virtues, Waheguru, is my rosary, which I hold in my heart. Waheguru is inaccessible, incomprehensible and limitless, so I recite His Naam by dropping on the feet of (serving) His devotees as their slave. Pause.

Word Meaning: Soamvaar(i) = Monday. Sach(i) = in the eternal (Waheguru). Pullaiy = in the bag (in mind). Lukhiya = seen; comprehend. Smaayay = present. 2.

MEANING: Nobody can describe the transcendental state of the devotee who stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. Many people claim to recite Waheguru's Naam and meditate on it, but only that individual, whom Waheguru bestows, gets to enshrine it in his heart. Waheguru is inaccessible and incomprehensible, and cannot be seen. It is only with the Guru's Shabad that one realizes that Waheguru is present everywhere. 2.

Word Meaning: Mungul = Tuesday. Moh = attachment. Oopaaya = created. Dhundhaiy = in worldly affairs. Sir(i) Sir(i) = individually. Liv Laayay = by meditating. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, has created attachment to Maya among living beings, and has Himself made people perform tasks centred on Maya. Only that individual receives enlightenment about His residence and His door (how to connect with Him), whom He gives understanding through the Guru's Shabad. Such an individual burns his selfishness, ego, and worldly attachments (gets rid of them) by the Guru's Shabad, and worships Waheguru with full focus of mind. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself bestows the supreme wisdom to His devotees with which they ponder on Guru's Shabad in His shelter, and which becomes their prime objective. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam become pure in mind, and wash the filth of their selfishness and ego by singing His praise. They always get respect in Waheguru's Court, and imbued in His Naam, they look magnificent (exalted). 4.

Word Meaning: Laaha = benefit; wealth. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Jaikaar(u) = sing praise.

MEANING: They earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru when the Lord Himself bestows His Naam to them. We should sacrifice our lives for the Lord who implants His Naam in our hearts when we get rid of our selfishness and ego by the grace of the Guru. We should sing praise of Waheguru and secure His Naam in our hearts, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Veervaar(i) = Thursday. Veer = valiant; the fifty-two Veers (braves) including Hanuman and Nandi etc. as listed by Bhai Kahan Singh Ji Nabha. Prayt = Bhoot = ghosts. Doojaiy = in Maya. Vayka = different. Tayka = support; dependence. 6.

MEANING: Even the fifty-two valiant, including Hanuman, are misled by Maya because of their misgivings. All those who are misled by Maya are like ghosts or phantoms. God creates the living beings with many different characteristics, and looks after them. All those depend upon Waheguru for survival, and are in His shelter. But only those are connected with Him who are connected by His benevolence. 6.

Word Meaning: Shookkur Vaar(i) = Friday. Keemut(i) = needs. Sunjum(u) = control on senses. Kaar = tasks (worth performing). Vert(u) Naym = commitments and principles. Nitaprut(i) = everyday. Bhaaou Dooja = love for Maya. 7.

MEANING: Waheguru is present everywhere. He creates the universe and knows its worth (needs). A Sikh of the Guru realizes that the most important thing is to exercise control over his senses and stay connected to Waheguru. These are his daily commitments, principles, and his worship of Waheguru. Without realizing this, everything else (performance of any rituals) is simply love for Maya. 7.

Word Meaning: Chhunichhur Vaar(i) = Saturday. Saun Shast = the book which describes auspicious and inauspicious moments. Mayra = mine. 8.

MEANING: Those who just ponder on the book of auspicious and inauspicious days (book of horoscope), are simply lost in selfishness, ego and discrimination. The follower of his mind is blind to spirituality and is lost in the love for Maya. Tied at the door of the Angel of Death, he is given severe punishment. On the contrary, a devotee in the shelter of the Guru is always blissful because he leads a life of truthfulness and stays connected with God. 8.

(PAGE 842): Tu Sookh Daata laiyeh(i) milaayay. Aikus tay dooja naahi koyay. Gurmukh(i) boojhaiy, soajhi hoyay. 9.

Word Meaning: Rung Raatay = imbued in love. Sehj Soobhaaayay = in a natural way; without any special deefort. Sookh-Daata = source of comforts (Waheguru).

MEANING: Those who serve Satguru are highly fortunate. They kill their selfishness and ego, and stay focused on Waheguru's Naam. They are imbued in Your love, and You connect them with You with Your benevolence, oh, the source of bliss, Waheguru. There is none other than Waheguru (which is the Lord of the universe), but only a Sikh of the Guru realizes this truth. 9.

Word Meaning: Pundreh = fifteen. Thitis = the changing phases of the moon. Vaar Vaar = again and again. Aava Gaaun(u) = birth and death. Kartar(i) = God. Nihchul(u) = never changing; immortal. Kul Dhaar(i) = supporting with power. 10.

MEANING: The fifteen thities (the changing phases of the moon), the seven days of the week, months, and the seasons come (and go) in cycles. The world is like the days and the nights (which come and go). Waheguru has created the world in such a way that the living beings continue to take births and to die. Only Waheguru is immortal, who keeps the world in order by His power. But some rare individual understands this by pondering on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 10.1.

Word Meaning: Aad(i) Purakh(u) = Waheguru. Srisht(i) = world. Saajay = creates. Paajay = puts into. Perpunch(i) = in the affairs of the world. Abhaagay = unfortunate. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, creates the universe and gets the living beings to be attracted to Maya. So, because of their love for Maya, the living beings become engrossed in worldly affairs. As a result, the unfortunate keep taking births and dying. But they get the spiritual enlightenment in the shelter of Satguru, whereby they win over the attraction of Maya, and get absorbed in Waheguru. 1.

Word Meaning: Oopaayay = having created. Laykhaiy = written judgment. 2.

MEANING: After creating the world, Waheguru looks after it, and nobody can erase His judgment written for them (His Huqam). Those who call themselves Sidh yogis, or practise yogism, are misled in their misgivings and keep taking births and dying. But those who serve Satguru realize the true objective of human life and get enlightened about Waheguru's Door (union with Him) by killing their selfishness and ego. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru created Maya Himself; He is the sole operator (Lord) of the universe, and there is none other like Him. While living in the world of Maya, if one recognizes Waheguru (makes a connection with Him), he receives the mark of identification (approval) for Waheguru's Door. If one gets connected with Satguru, he realizes the "One" God, and prevents Maya from attacking (captivating) him. 3.

Word Meaning: Daadha = powerful. Bukhshay = forgives; grants. 4.

MEANING: Nobody can kill (cause any harm) to the individual who has a powerful master. If, a servant (a devotee) lives in the shelter (obeys orders strictly) of his Master (Waheguru), the Master (Waheguru) accords him honour. There is no power above Waheguru, so who will the devotee be afraid of, or whose fear will he have? 4.

Word Meaning: Shaant(i) = peace. Cheen(i) = recognize; make connection. Peer = pain; suffering. Sehj(i) = in blissful state. Hudoor(i) = near. 5.

MEANING: One's body and mind become peaceful (blissful) with the Guru's advice. He no longer suffers from any mental agony when he ponders on Guru's Shabad. He does not undergo rebirths again because, imbued with Waheguru's Naam, he remains absorbed in the high spiritual state (merges into Waheguru). Word Meaning: Ikk(i) =some. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misled in misgivings. Roas(u) = resentment. Keni = performance; deeds. Saari = supreme. Veechaari = thoughtful. 6.

MEANING: While some serve Waheguru (obey His Huqam), many are misled by their misgivings. But we cannot blame them, because it is Waheguru who does everything and makes others do what He wishes. He is the only Lord in the universe, and there is none other. You can resent (things that go against your wishes) only if there is someone else to complain to (but there is none), oh my mind. So, only serving Satguru is the supreme performance of an individual. Those who ponder on the virtues of the Lord reach the Court of Waheguru. 6.

Word Meaning: Soohaayay = attractive; comforting. Nihchul(u) = everlasting. Raatay = imbued in. Kaachay = unprepared; lacking noble qualities. 7.

MEANING: Changing phases of the moon and the days of the week are all pleasant to those who recite the Guru's Shabad. A devotee who serves Satguru reaps the rewards of pleasantness on all days. Phases of the moon and the days of the week keep changing and repeat periodically, but Guru's Shabad is eternal (true in every eon) and leads to the union of the devotee with Waheguru. All such days are pleasant for those who are imbued with Waheguru's love. Without Waheguru's Naam, individuals are unprepared (for union with the Lord) and keep taking rebirths. 7.

Word Meaning: Bigutti = without spirituality. Lobhaayay = attracted to. Achayt = unaware. Pindi = bodily; mentally. Paayay Paar = swim across the world sea. 8.

MEANING: The followers of their mind are attracted to Maya, and do not remember Waheguru, and leave the world without any spirituality after death. They are unaware (ignorant) of spirituality and are in complete darkness. How can they swim across the sea of Maya without Guru's Shabad? Waheguru Himself has created such individuals, and has made pondering on the Guru's Shabad a requirement for salvation. 8.

Word Meaning: Bhaykh = religious garb. Bhaykhdhaari = an actor; imposter. Kaachi = unqualified. Saari = (like a) pawn at the game of dice. Khoyay = loses opportunity. Chookaayay = get rid of. 9.

MEANING: A person who changes his religious symbols too often is an imposter, and like a pawn at the game of dice, which continues to go in circles, never making it to the goal, continues to go through birth and death cycles. He never attains comfort in this world or the next. The follower of his mind wastes away his human life and dies. But he can acquire the eternal Lord in his heart if he gets rid of his misgivings by serving Satguru. 9.

Word Meaning: Poora = perfect (God). Doyay = basis of discrimination. Goobaar = darkness. Moogudh = foolish. Guvaar = ignorant. 10.

MEANING: Belief in the changing phases of the moon and the days of the week as being auspicious or inauspicious is the result of the attractions of Maya, which lead to discrimination. Only the foolish and the ignorant serve (believe in) these special days. It is complete darkness of ignorance without Satguru. A devotee understands these facts in the shelter of the Guru, gets enlightenment, and stays absorbed in the Naam, oh Nanak. 10.2.

MEANING: If a young devotee who is detached from the attractions of Maya (has not gathered filth of any vices yet) realizes that her visit in the world is temporary, meditates on Waheguru's Naam, gets rid of her worldly attractions, and beautifies her mind with Guru's Shabad, attains the spiritual state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya). She keeps praying to the Guru with folded hands that He connect her to Him so that she may be connected to Waheguru through His benevolence. With her love for Waheguru and with the spirit of worship, she gets to "see" her Dear (Waheguru), and gets rid of her lust and rage. Such a young devotee, detached from worldly affairs, has a beautiful mind that becomes even stronger (purer) when she sees her Dear, oh Nanak. 1. (You are lucky and innocent like a child if you are detached from the attractions of Maya, oh, the young devotee. Make sure that you stay in the shelter of the Lord like a slave, and do not seek any other source of support, and pray to Him that You should keep enjoying worshipping Him. We should discuss the virtues of the unfathomable (beyond our wisdom to comprehend) Waheguru, and sing His praise in the peaceful state (with focussed mind). Waheguru, which is the source of all enjoyments, enjoys the union of those whom He loves. Those who the Guru gives the gift of His Shabad, which is full of praise of Waheguru, become highly thoughtful, oh Nanak. 2.

Satguru enlightens their mind with the lamp of His Shabad to connect them with Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all fears, oh Nanak. 3.

Waheguru's Light shines everywhere, and the invisible and the limitless Waheguru is present in every heart. One can connect with the limitless Waheguru by killing (getting rid of) his selfishness, ego, worldly attachments, and greed, the filth of which can be burned (washed away) with the Guru's Shabad. But one can reach His Door only when He wishes, and when the emancipator Waheguru ferries him across the world sea. I got fully contented when I tasted His Amrit-like Naam and enshrined it in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.1.

The Lord of lords, Waheguru, is invisible, but only that happens which He likes. He is the source of life in all living beings and is always kind and compassionate. Waheguru's Naam is embedded in my heart, and I do not know of any other power to worship or to focus my mind on. I do not believe in any religious garb or symbols, in any pilgrimage, or in any unmotivated persistence of mind to worship Waheguru. I simply have Waheguru as my support. 1.

Lost in your own world, the dear Waheguru awakens you spiritually so that your night is drenched with love for Waheguru's Naam, and your days become pleasant, oh, the young devotee. The new (inexperienced) devotee who is still pure at body and mind, is awakened by Guru's Shabad, and is liked (loved) by her Dear (Waheguru). Abandoning my falsehood, deceitfulness, love for Maya, and subservience to others, Waheguru's Naam has become the necklace (ornament to beautify) of my tongue (I recite His Naam). Guru's eternal Shabad has become my identification (to have access to Waheguru's Court). I pray to Waheguru with folded hands to give His Naam to me with His kind sight, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: That young devotee has beautiful eyes who wakes up from her deep sleep of ignorance, recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, listens to the indescribable virtues of Waheguru, and obeys His Command (Will). But some rare devotee understands, in Guru's shelter, that an unshakable belief in the indescribable story of Waheguru enables her to attain a high spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Such a devotee gets rid of her selfishness and ego, becomes absorbed in Guru's Shabad, and connects with Waheguru, the Lord of the three-layered universe. Imbued in the love of the Lord, she stays fully detached from the attractions of the world and recounts the virtues of Waheguru in her mind. I, too, have acquired the Naam of the omnipresent Waheguru in my mind, oh Nanak. 3.

Waheguru, which loves His worshippers, calls them into His Palace (connects them with Him). Their minds blossom with Guru's advice (Shabad), and they make their human lives successful. MEANING: My Waheguru has come to the bed of my heart because of which my mind is feeling blissful. I am enjoying the bliss of union with Waheguru by the grace of my Guru. The fortunate devotees, whose fortune shines on their foreheads, get connected with their husband, their beloved Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.
Waheguru is the pride of the humble devotees who have no self-pride. They overcome their selfishness and ego with the Guru's advice and recite Waheguru's Naam all the time. But it is Waheguru which does everything; nothing happens without His approval. It is with His benevolence that the mind of some devotees is dyed with His love. Waheguru connects those devotees with Him who have attained a high spiritual state; they get fully contented with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.
Human life is the opportunity for man to realize Waheguru. The devotees become immensely imbued with Waheguru's love and get married to (connected with Him in Guru's shelter). Those who do not get connected with Waheguru in human life are highly unfortunate. I am in Your shelter, kindly protect me (from the attacks of Maya), oh Waheguru, begs Nanak. 3.
The Guru reinforces the Naam of the inaccessible Waheguru in the mind of the devotee, because of which his body and his mind get imbued in Waheguru's love. Lover of His worship is the name of Waheguru (He is known for that), and the devotee gets absorbed in His Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Like the fish which cannot survive without water, the devotees of Waheguru survive only with Waheguru's Naam. Those who realize Waheguru make their life successful by His benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

MEANING: Sloak: Wish for (foster love for) Waheguru, who is your real friend, oh my friends. However, He (His Naam) is implanted in the heart only with great fortune when one fully focuses his mind on His Naam and when the Guru enlightens it. 1.
Chhunt: Those devotees enjoy the bliss of union with God who come to His shelter by enduring the difficulty (by struggling) to overcome their selfishness, ego, and the poisonous, immoral activities. They do so by the advice of the Guru, and by meditating on Waheguru's Naam. With the Divine knowledge imparted by the Guru, the devotees become watchful against the attacks of Maya, and their minds bloom in bliss. I realized Waheguru by meditating on His Naam, oh Nanak. 1.
Waheguru is loved by His devotees, and they are praised for it. One realizes Waheguru in the shelter of the Perfect Guru when he meditates on Waheguru's Naam, whereby the darkness of his ignorance is dispelled, and Waheguru brightens his mind. Waheguru's Naam is the basis of my life, and I stay absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 2.
Waheguru enjoys the union of a devotee when He loves her. The eyes of the devotee are filled with joy and love for Waheguru in the same way as the eyes of a cat feel (react) to see a mouse. When the Perfect Guru connects the devotee with Waheguru, she gets fully contented with the sweetness of her union with Him. Her mind blooms with Waheguru's Naam, and she stays absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 3.
With His benevolence, Waheguru connects even a foolish and an unwise person like me with Him. The Guru is worthy of worship and deserves acclaim who eradicates the selfishness and ego of the devotees. Those devotees are highly fortunate who embed Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. I am a sacrifice for Waheguru's Naam, and I sing Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 4.2.4.

Word Meaning: Mungul = blissfulness. Saaj(u) = musical instruments; environment. Abinaashi = immortal. Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). Chaaya = zest; excitement. Putay = husband; Lord. Sehjay = in blissful state. Mutay = advice. Tthaandhi = standing; with dedication. Joogti = technique; means. Lurr(i) Laaya = take under wings. 1. Smaahrra = zest; blissfulness. Rattan = jewel-like; precious. Visaaha = bought; acquired. Khoajeen = the searchers. Ludha = found; acquired. Paaha = from. Akuth = indescribable. Chit(i) = mind. Kur = hands. Binunti = prayer. Laaha = benefit. 2.

MEANING: It becomes an environment of blissfulness in the heart of the devotee when she sings her Waheguru's praise, and her mind is filled with excitement when she listens to the praise of her immortal Waheguru-Husband. She fosters a love for Waheguru with great fortune and becomes impatient to see Him. Sharing her impatience with her "married" (already connected with Waheguru) friend, and asking for her advice about the technique to realize the Lord, the fresh devotee gets the advice, "serve Him (obey His Will) day and night with full dedication to attain the state of high spiritual state above the effects of Maya, when Waheguru will appear in your heart on His own". I, too, pray to my Waheguru that He takes me under His wings with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 1.

My mind became blissful when I acquired the jewel-like, precious Naam of Waheguru in my heart. The devotees, who search for Waheguru, find that His Naam can be acquired only from the holy saints (the Guru). But one can connect with the Guru only with the benevolence of Waheguru when he ponders on the virtues (sings praise) of the indescribable Waheguru. The Guru implants love for the Dear (Lord) when the devotee recites only Waheguru's Naam with full concentration of his mind. I, too, pray to the inaccessible and unfathomable Waheguru with folded hands that I am His slave, and that He gives me the strength and the motivation to sing His praise by which I may gain spiritual benefit (enlightenment), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saaha = the date of marriage. Atull(u) = unchangeable. Poorun sunjogo = union with Perfect Waheguru. Vijogo = separation; disconnection. Uchurj = amazing. Jaanjiyaan = marriage party. Ikuttar = get together. Dhoyay = arrived. Oopji = appeared. Maanjiyaan = family of the bride (mind, wisdom, and senses of the bride). Jot(i) = Waheguru's Soul. Joti = human soul. Oat(i), Poati = like warp and weft of fabric. Rus Bhogo = enjoy all sweetness. Binvunt(i) = prays. Kern Kaarun = creator of the universe. Jogo = fully capable. 3.

Bhuvun = heart. Dhert(i) = body. Aayayrra = arrived; appeared. Jaagi = awoke; became watchful. Ichhaan = wishes. Poonniyaan = fulfilled. Dhoorri = dust of feet. Kunt = husband (God). Vichhoonniyaan = separated. Aanund = blissfulness. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Vujeh(i) = played. Vaajeh(i) = musical instruments. Uhun Mut(i) = ego-filled thinking. Tiyaagi = abandoned. Binvunt(i) = prays. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru fixes the unchangeable time and the moment to connect His devotees with Him for complete union, whereby the separation between the devotee and the Lord is eliminated, and the devotee enjoys the whole bunch of comforts. The amazing marriage party includes holy saints who chant Waheguru's Naam, and together they arrive at the bride's house (the purified heart of the devotee in the blissful spiritual state). The whole family of the bride (her mind, wisdom, and the five senses) becomes full of love for the Groom (Waheguru). With the union of the devotee with Waheguru, they become "one" like the warp and weft of fabric, and the devotee enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Nanak submits respectfully that the union of the devotee with Waheguru, which is fully capable of all creation, is brought about by the Guru. 3.

When I dropped at the feet of the Guru (recited His Shabad with full reverence), Waheguru appeared in my heart too, as a result of which my body has become highly blissful, and my heart has become very fortunate (to think of noble things). Since taking Guru's shelter, I have attained a high spiritual state, am now always alert to Maya's attacks, and all my wishes have been fulfilled. With the dust of the feet of the Guru (by serving Him), my wish to get connected with my long- separated Waheguru-husband has been fulfilled. Now, I have gotten rid of my ego-filled thinking, and I feel blissful all the time, as if auto-playing Divine music is playing in my mind. I humbly submit that I have acquired the shelter of Waheguru (got connected with Him) in the company of the Guru, and now am fully absorbed in God, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Teh = there = Taaha. Roag = illness (physical or mental). Soag = grief. Biyaapaiy = influences. Ridh(i) = supernatural powers. Soodha = amrit; all comforts. Vunjaan = go. Dhaaveh = rush to. Amar = immortal. 2.

MEANING: It is my great fortune that Waheguru, at whose Court Divine music plays all the time, has become my husband (I have been connected to Him). Divine music plays there, and blissfulness and zest are there all the time. No illness (physical or mental), and no grief can have any influence there, and there is no birth and death in that spiritual state. All supernatural powers, and the sweetness of Amrit (all conceivable comforts) are there, and the treasures of Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) are full there. Waheguru is the basis of my life, and I am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Let us all join together and sing Waheguru's praise, which brings blissfulness to the mind, oh, my friends. Let us recite His Naam with our body and mind full of love for Him. Waheguru loves the devotees who recite His Naam with love and do not forget Him even for a short moment. Disregarding any worldly shame, let us embrace our Lord (show full affection), and apply the dust of His Feet to our mind (embed His Naam in our heart). Let us captivate Him by the hypnotizing power of our reverence for Him, and not wander around for some other power (deity), and attain the immortal spiritual state by connecting with Him, begs Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bismun = amazement. Abinaashi = the immortal Lord. Ker(u) = hand. Geh(i) = by holding. Bhooja = arm. Guhhee = held. Phaasi = noose. Unkoor(i) = sprouting (of previous noble deeds). Oodoat(u) = enlightenment. Junaaya = recognized. Muln = filth (of evil thoughts). Bikaar = immoral activities. Naatthay = ran away. Divus = day; time. Drisht(i) = (kind) sight. Muhaa = extreme. Aatum Pusaara = expanse of Waheguru. Kernhaara = Creator. Jaaniyaiy = recognize. Bhoogta = who enjoys. 4.2.

MEANING: Waheguru held me by the arm and made me His own (connected me with Him), thereby severing the noose of the Angel of death. I was completely mesmerized by the great virtues of Waheguru. Recognizing (giving credit to) my previous noble deeds, Waheguru held me by the arm and made me His slave (devotee) as a result of which the seed of His Naam, which had been previously planted in my heart, sprouted to become a full plant of His Naam, and my mind was enlightened. All the filth of my immoral activities and of worldly attractions was completely gone, and it was time for my life to be pure from then on. Waheguru loved me and cast a kind gaze on me, so my extremely evil thoughts ran away. With my mind fully purified, I got connected with the immortal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.

My union with Waheguru was like the union of a ray of light with the sun, or like the mixing of water in two different containers (which cannot be distinguished from each other). My soul merged into the Supreme Soul, and I also became perfect like Waheguru. Now, I see Waheguru and listen to His Shabad everywhere, and find Him discussed (talked about) everywhere. In that state, the devotee realizes that the whole universe is His expanse, and He alone is the creator, and recognizes no other power. He realizes that being present everywhere, Waheguru Himself is the creator of the universe, and He is the one to enjoy everything in His creation. But only that individual realizes all these facts who has tasted the sweet Naam-Amrit of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Let us get rid of our false pride, and maybe our Dear Waheguru will like us then. Give up all your false pride, worldly attractions, and the immorality rooted in Maya, and serve the only Lord who is above the effects of Maya. Come to the shelter of (surrender to) the compassionate Waheguru, and drop at the feet of the Lord who destroys all sins. Overcome your displeasure (detachment) with Waheguru, and serve Him like a slave of His slaves, and do not let your mind wander beyond control. But, one can sing Waheguru's praise only with His benevolence, submits Nanak respectfully. 1.
Dear Waheguru's Naam is the liquid of immortality (makes the devotee immortal as he merges into Waheguru), and is like the blind man's stick for me. Maya is highly attractive and captivates people in many different ways. Maya influences people in many strange ways, is fickle (never yours forever), and seduces people in many ways. It is very persistent, and people find its effects to be so sweet that they forget to recite Waheguru's Naam. It influences people in their homes, in forests, at the banks of rivers, while they are fasting or worshipping, on the way, or at some river ford. I respectfully pray to Waheguru to be kind to me as His Naam is the stick for the blind, me, oh Nanak. 2.
I am an orphan spiritually (have no guide), and my Dear (Waheguru) is the Master. I pray to him to protect me in whatever way He can. I have no shrewdness, so I may please Him with my words. I am not clever, wise, or knowledgeable; in fact, I have no good quality at all. I am not pretty, do not use fragrances, nor do I have beautiful eyes; please keep me in whatever situation You like, oh Waheguru. How can I comprehend the level of transcendence of the compassionate Lord whose praise is sung by everybody? I am a slave of His slaves and beg Him respectfully to protect me (against worldly attractions) in whatever way He can, oh Nanak. 3.

Huraiy = remove. Piyaas = thirst. Jea = soul. Heeya = heart. Praanputay = Lord of life. Laadilay = dear. Laad = affectionate acts. Gutay = high spiritual state. Chitvoun = think of; wish for. Ghunaa = immense. Nuvul, Nuvtun = always fresh. Naah = Lord. Baala = child-like; clear-hearted. Sayj = bed; heart. Sohi = became attractive. Mohi = captivated. Sehsa = doubts; worries. Huraa = removed. 5.

MEANING: I am like a fish, whereas you are like the ocean. How can I survive without you, oh my Lord? I am like the rainbird, and You are (Your Naam is) like the first rain drop for me; I will be contented only if I get to recite Your Naam with my tongue, which will quench my thirst to see You, oh Waheguru. You are the Lord of my soul, my heart, and my life. You are dear to everyone, and You are pleasing everybody with Your love-filled acts. Please connect me with You so that I may attain a high spiritual state. Like the ruddy duck, which waits for the sun to rise so that she can be united with her mate, I always wish (and wait) for Your appearance in my heart so that the darkness of my mind is dispelled. I humbly pray that my dear Waheguru connects me with Him, and I never forget Him, like the fish that never forgets (goes away from) water, oh Nanak. 4.
I am highly fortunate that my Waheguru has appeared in my heart, and all the nine doors of my body (senses) have become beautiful (with noble thinking), and the deserted forest of my mind has come to life again. My Waheguru is always green (injector of new life), who injects new spiritual life in His devotees and provides all kinds of comforts because of which His devotees enjoy the sweetness of immense blissfulness. He is always young, fresh, and unbiased like a child; how can I sing praise of all his virtues with my tongue? I am captivated by His sight, and the bed of my heart has become highly attractive. All my doubts and worries have been dispelled. I humbly submit that my wish has been fulfilled by connecting with the limitless Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.1.3.

Tuj(i) = disconnecting with. Kut = where? Laaj = shame. Ugiyaan Mutee = who is lacking spiritual knowledge. Doorjun = evil men. Birmaayiyaiy = find comfort. Putit-Paavun = who purifies even the immoral. Tthehraayiyaiy = find peace. Bhaaou = with love. Jeevun Pud(u) = high spiritual state. 2.
Oochreh(i) = recite. Doohchaarun(i) = immoral. Bherm Mohi = robbed by misgivings. Koat(i) Joani = in million life forms. Bishta Kirm = worm of feces. Bhusma = ash. 3.

Birhoun = attachment. Bhugwunt = Waheguru. Baiyraagun(i) = detached from the world. Chundun = (fragrance of) of sandalwood. Cheer = clothes. Rusaa = delicious foods. Bikh(u) = poison. Eat, Oot Na = neither here, nor there; nowhere. Doliyaiy = weakening of mind. Jaagun(i) = stay alert. Atull = forever. 4.

MEANING: Only a highly fortunate devotee gets connected with the ocean of blissfulness - Waheguru. Get rid of your false pride, and drop on the feet of Waheguru (come to His shelter), oh, the highly proud young woman. Give up your wisdom, cunning, and evil thinking, and come to the shelter of Waheguru and get an everlasting connection with Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Where else can you get shelter like that of Waheguru, without whom you become spiritually dead? Do not you feel ashamed of your behaviour when you find comfort in the company of evil people, oh, the young woman (human being) whose thinking is devoid of any Divine Knowledge? Where else can your mind find peace if you abandon (ignore) Waheguru, which purifies even the immoral? Worship the compassionate Waheguru with full reverence to attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 2.

The tongue, which does not chant Waheguru's Naam, burns (earns disgrace) by singing immoral songs or maliciously criticizing others. Robbed of good qualities by his misgivings, the man does not realize the suffering he has to endure by going through countless life forms. The man who likes some power other than Waheguru is like a worm of feces that loves ash (filth), oh Nanak. 3.

Feeling fully detached from worldly attractions, one should cultivate love for Waheguru in one's heart. Those who love Waheguru give up their selfishness, ego, and the poisonous luxuries of fancy clothes, various fragrances, and delicious foods. They stay alert to Maya's attacks and do not allow their minds to show any weakness. Those who realize their Waheguru get connected with Him forever, oh Nanak. 3.1.4.

Word Meaning: Khoaj-hou = search for. Vudbhaagihou = highly fortunate. Rungay = in love with. Shernaagti = in shelter. Anut-Trungay = causing countless waves. 1.
Ikk(u) Til(u) Na = not even for a moment. Maylaavrra = union. Cheena = recognized; made connection. Tum Tay = from darkness. Seetul = peaceful. Seena = heart. 2.
Untarjaami = omniscient. Naraayinaiy = God. Pargraami = eligible for salvation. Poojaami = fulfilled. Oodhray = salvaged. Subh-hoon Ka = of all. 3.
Rus Bhinniurray = imbued in the sweetness (of Waheguru's love). Loyin = eyes. Neekay = pretty. Paykhut = on seeing. Poonniyaan = fulfilled. Bikhiya Rus = sweetness of Maya. Pheekay = tasteless. Jul(u) = water. Meekay = equalize; mix to become one entity. 4.

MEANING: Search for Waheguru in the company of the Guru, oh, the fortunate friends. Imbued in Waheguru's love, we should always sing His praise. We should serve God at all times to have our wishes fulfilled. I have sought His shelter to recite the Naam of Waheguru, which causes countless waves of amazement in the minds of the devotees. 1.
We should not forget Waheguru, even for a short moment, who has given us everything. Some highly fortunate people recognize Waheguru and get connected with Him in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru pulls His devotees from the darkness of ignorance by holding them by the arm and makes them His own (connects them with Him). I survive spiritually by reciting Waheguru's Naam when my heart and my mind acquire blissfulness, oh Nanak. 2.
What virtues of Waheguru can I count on? (I am unable to do that.) But being omniscient, He knows my feelings. One becomes eligible for salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam, and all one's wishes are fulfilled when he sings His praise. Even though Waheguru is the Lord of everybody, only those who worship Him find salvation, oh Nanak. 3.
Only those eyes are beautiful that are imbued with the sweetness of the company of Waheguru (only see Him everywhere). All one's wishes are fulfilled when she sees her dear Waheguru near her. When a devotee tastes the Amrit-like sweet Naam of Waheguru, he finds all other attractions of Maya to be tasteless. At that point, the devotee's soul mixes with the Supreme Soul to become "one," just like one body of water mixes with another to become inseparable, oh Nanak. 4.2.5.9.

Word Meaning: Bilawal(u) = blissfulness; mental peace. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state.

MEANING: One can enjoy blissfulness only if he has Waheguru's Naam on his tongue. (Some people sing and play music to please their deity), But singing and playing music is attractive (to Waheguru) only if one sings His praise with Guru's Shabad with a peaceful mind. One is honoured in Waheguru's Court only if he serves Him, disregarding the ritualistic singing and playing of music. One ought to ponder on God's virtues in the shelter of the Guru to get rid of one's ego, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Vertda = operate. Taarri Laayiyaiy = state of infinite meditation. Unt(i) = at the end.
MEANING: You are (physically) inaccessible, and You have created the whole world, oh Waheguru. You alone operate in the whole world. (Being present in everybody) It is You who goes in the infinite meditative state, and it is You who sings Your own praise. It is Waheguru which emancipates you at the end; so, sing His praise day and night, oh the devotees of the Lord. The devotee, who serves Waheguru, stays absorbed in His Naam and enjoys all comforts. 1.

Word Meaning: Thaayayn Na Paayay = unwelcome; earns disrespect. Pakhund(i) = with hypocrisy. Hutth(i) = forced persistence. Aap(u) = self. 1.
MEANING: One cannot acquire bliss while in love with the attractions of Maya; the wealth-worshipper earns disrespect (in Waheguru's Court). One cannot worship Waheguru by hypocrisy, and cannot realize Him. Performing forced ritualistic deeds (against one's own wishes) earns one no respect. The true ritual to perform is to analyze oneself in the shelter of the Guru, whereby one can get rid of one's selfishness and ego, oh Nanak. By doing so, Waheguru, which is present everywhere, appears in the devotee's heart when his soul merges into the Supreme soul of Waheguru, and his birth-death cycle is eradicated. 1.

MEANING: Enjoy blissfulness by fully focussing you mind on Waheguru's Naam, oh dear friends; you will stay absorbed in the eternal Waheguru, and your suffering of rebirths will be terminated. One feels always blissful if he leads his life according to the Guru's

Teachings, and sings Waheguru's praise with love and a focused mind in the company of a holy gathering. Those devotees have a beautiful spiritual life who connect with Waheguru in Guru's shelter and stay absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru, which is present in every living being, is the real friend of His devotees. The devotees feel blissful because they know Waheguru controls everybody. Waheguru is the friend (supporter) of everybody everywhere, so the devotees enjoy worry-free sleep. The devotees always keep in mind that Waheguru is the Lord of everybody, and nobody can cause any harm to His devotees, no matter how much rubbish their vilifiers talk against them; they fail badly at the end. 2.

Word Meaning: Braham = God. Bindeh(i) = recognize; make connection. Tay = those. Brahmana = spiritually enlightened. Ruveh(i) = recite. Sungreheh(i) = acquire. 1.

MEANING: (There are so many people who call them Brahman), but the real Brahman (spiritually enlightened) is the individual who recognizes Waheguru (gets connected with Him), and follows the Teachings of Satguru in life. Such Brahmans enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts and rid themselves of selfishness and ego. They recite Waheguru's virtues and acquire such virtues themselves so as to unite their soul with the Supreme Soul. But such Brahmans are rare in this world who make a connection with Waheguru with a focused mind. Only those devotees stay connected with Waheguru who the eternal Lord is kind to, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Deerugh(u) = serious. Sooaaou = likeable. Mun Hutth(i) = sheer persistence of mind against wishes. Nudri = having kind sight (Waheguru).

MEANING: Those who do not serve Waheguru, and do not have love for Guru's Shabad, attract (are gripped by) the serious disease of selfishness and ego, which may be highly tasteful (attractive) in the beginning. They may perform the prevalent religious rituals under pressure (but against their deep desires), which become the basis of their rebirths again and again. But a devotee's life in Gur's shelter is successful when Waheguru connects with Him. If the kind Waheguru casts His kind sight on a devotee, he acquires the wealth of His Naam in his heart, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vudiyaayiyaan = praises; compliments. Saayee = the same. Goohj Gull = secret talk.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam, which earns one all praise, should be recited in the Guru's shelter. If one focuses his mind on Waheguru's Naam with full faith, he acquires anything he wishes for. If one discloses his secrets to the Guru (wishes or problems), he acquires all comforts (his wishes are fulfilled, or his problems are solved). One gets fully contented (his desires are fulfilled) with the Guru's Teachings. But one sings Waheguru's praise only if it is prewritten in his fortune. 3.

One gets fully contented by taking in the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam when He comes to reside in the devotee's mind. One attains the highest spiritual state by reciting Waheguru's Naam when he feels as if a uniform Divine music is playing in his mind. With love for the Guru in his blissful spiritual state, he sees that it is Waheguru who has spread Himself (is present) everywhere. Those who have embedded Waheguru's Naam in their hearts never remain hidden (unknown), even if they try very hard, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Maanus = human. Soochay = purified.

MEANING: When Waheguru casts His kind sight on a devotee, he gets connected with Him by serving the Guru (obeying His Will). The individual whom Waheguru makes to worship Him without any expected reward is transformed from a human being into a god (holy man). Waheguru destroys his selfishness and ego with Guru's mind-purifying Shabad before connecting him with Himself. Waheguru gives the honour of His Naam to the devotee who stays connected with Him in the peaceful state of mind, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Satguru has the honour of granting Waheguru's Naam to the devotee, and the Creator Waheguru Himself has enhanced (given) this honour to Satguru. The devotee Sikhs like this honour of the Guru, and take pride in noting this special capability of the Satguru. But the vilifiers and the evil cannot accept such honour of Satguru, as praise of others irritates them. But what bad can happen to Satguru when vilifiers talk rubbish about Satguru, who is a friend (manifestation) of Waheguru? Anything that Waheguru likes enhances its worth many-fold; the whole world may try unsuccessfully to vilify Waheguru's devotees. 4.

MEANING: Such hope or dependence on any other source (than Waheguru) is condemnable, which attaches one with Maya. An individual who discards the comforts provided by Waheguru, like the worthless husk of grains, suffers badly by forgetting Waheguru's Naam. The Maya-lovers are ignorant and spiritually blind; they keep taking births and dying again and again. They do not achieve success (in realizing Waheguru) and leave this world repenting. (But man's all wishes may not be fulfilled in his lifetime, and nothing accompanies him after his death; and the) The whole visible world is under the control (is the subject) of the Angel of death. However, the Angel is a slave of Waheguru and destroys only those whom Waheguru allows, but those whom Waheguru is kind to find salvation. However, the mind (man) finds salvation only if he gets rid of his selfishness and ego by the grace of the Guru and abandons all his hopes and wishes (attractions of the world) and gets detached from the world by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Jitnay = all those. Paatshah = maharajahs. Khan = wealthy = Oomraav. Sikdaar = leader; officer. Erthiyay = subservient. Vull(i) = on side; supporter. Vern = the four categories of castes. Khaani = the four sources of reproduction. Goalay = slaves. Kaaya Nugree = human body. Dooshmun Doot = the five demons. 6.
MEANING: All the maharajahs, the sultans, the rajahs, the wealthy, and the officers are created by Waheguru. They do only what Waheguru wants them to do – they are all His subservient. Such Waheguru, who controls everyone, is a huge support behind Satguru, and He has made all the people from all the four major castes, all living beings of all the four sources of reproduction, and the whole universe, slaves of Satguru to serve Him. Watch the great reward of serving Waheguru, oh, His holy saints. The Lord destroys and throws away all five evil demons, which are enemies of man, from his body. Waheguru is always kind to His devotees and protects them (from the attacks of sensual pleasures) with His grace. 6.

Word Morning: Kupt = deceit. Kaar Kmaavni = perform deeds (routine tasks). Kermi = with good fortune. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Bhuou = worldly fears.

MEANING: The worshippers of Maya always have deceit in their minds and suffer because of that; they cannot focus on Waheguru's Naam. All their deeds become a source of suffering in their present life, and they also suffer in the next world. If, by good fortune, they connect with Satguru, they can focus on Waheguru's Naam with dedication. They attain the peaceful spiritual state because of which all their misgivings and their worldly fears are dispelled, and they enjoy blissfulness, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Rung(u) = love. Bhaaya = liked. Pergaasiya = enlightened. Tmmer = darkness. Ugiyaan(u) = ignorance. Chookaayay = removed; cleared.
MEANING: A Guru's Sikh is always imbued in his love for Waheguru and loves His Naam. He sees Waheguru everywhere, talks about Him, and enjoys blissfulness by reciting His Naam. His mind is enlightened with the Guru's Divine Knowledge whereby the darkness of his ignorance is cleared, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Maiylay = filthy-minded. Guvaar = foolish. Bhunut(i) = says. Sunsa = doubts; worries. Viyaapay = prevails. Dhundha = attractions of Maya. Chayteh(i) = remembers; recites. Beechaar = thinking. Khooaar = suffer humiliation.
MEANING: The foolish followers of their mind die with a filthy mind. On the other hand, the Sikhs of the Guru purify their mind by embedding Waheguru's Naam in their heart. Nanak humbly suggests that you serve Satguru to wash away the filth of your selfishness and ego, oh my devotee friends. Normally, the man suffers because of his misgivings and doubts, which reign in his mind, and the possible punishment of his deeds rooted in Maya looms over his head all the time. The man is in deep slumber because of his deep love for Maya, and never wakes up (never realizes his wrong choice). The thinking of the follower of his mind is such that he does not remember Waheguru's Naam, and does not ponder on Guru's Shabad. He does not like Waheguru's Naam, and wastes away his precious human life because of which he suffers humiliation at the hands of the Angel, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Sacha = true. Shah(u) = wealthy. Moohtaaji = subservience. Hutt(i) = in shop. Vuth(u) = the thing (Waheguru's Naam). Vaysaah(u) = business. Sunmukh(i) = obeys them; becomes faithful. Raas(i) = wealth. Bhus(u) = ash; dirt. Jagaati = tax man. Luddiya = carried; accumulated.

MEANING: That devotee is truly wealthy to whom Waheguru bestows His worship. People serve him to acquire Waheguru's Naam, which otherwise is not available at any shop or business. Only that individual acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam who seeks the shelter of His devotees; the worshippers of money get only dirt (spiritually worthless things). Waheguru's devotees are the only dealers in His Naam; the taxmen of the Angel of death do not even go near them (to check accounts of their deeds). I have accumulated the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, so I am always worry-free, oh Nanak. 7.

Word Meaning: Joog = world. Khuttia = earned. Bikhiya = sensual enjoyments. Oodaas = detached. Kool = clan (associates). Traiy-goon = the three effects of Maya (see "Introduction"). Jungum = a sect of yogis. Tutt(u) = reality (God). Birtha = empty; without any spiritual gain. Smudhay = in deep meditation; connected with God.
MEANING: Only the devotees of Waheguru earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in this world, while the rest of the world is misled by its misbeliefs. The devotees enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts by the Guru's grace, and recite it all the time. They kill their selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and stay detached from worldly attractions while living in the family. Their mothers are worthy of respect who give birth to such noble souls who swim across the sea of Maya themselves, and ferry their associates too, across the world-sea. By staying connected with Waheguru, they always enjoy blissfulness.

Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva are considered the gods who rule the whole world, but they, too, are misled by the three effects of Maya, as a result of which their love for Maya and their selfishness and ego grew (flourished) in their minds. The pundits, who do read their religious books, and the ascetics who stay quiet for long times are also misled by their love for Maya, which they keep in mind all the time. Similarly, the Yogis, Jungums (a sect of Yogis), and the Sanyasis are also misled and cannot realize Waheguru without the Guru. The followers of their minds are always unhappy because of their misbeliefs and waste away their precious human lives. Only the devotees who are imbued with Waheguru's love get connected with Him with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dayvaaliyay = (spiritually) bankrupt. Joog = world. Oye = those. Thook = (not even) spittle (only disgrace). Bukheeli = vilification; jealousy. Perteet(i) = trust. Khovun(i) = lose. Sugwaan = on the other hand. Lukhaah(i) = exposed.
MEANING: Those who do not earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru are spiritually bankrupt. They search and beg for peace (Naam wealth) all over the world, and get nothing but disgrace. They lose their trust by vilifying others. On the other hand, they expose their own evil nature. They cannot acquire the wealth (of Naam and peace) by vilifying others, no matter where they go. The wealth of Waheguru's Naam can be acquired only by serving the Guru with the spirit of a loyal servant. The unfortunate (Maya-lovers) cannot acquire the Naam-wealth from the Guru who is its only source, and it is (the Naam-wealth) not available anywhere else in the world. 8.

Word Meaning: Sunsa = doubt; illusion; worry. Mool Na = not at all. Sehjay = in a natural way. J(i) = those. Punnaiy Paayay = are given shelter.
MEANING: A Guru's Sikh does not suffer from any illusion, and all his worries disappear. Everything happens naturally to them, and they have no complaints about it. Waheguru, Himself listens to the devotees whom He has provided shelter as to what they have to say, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Munsa = wishes. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Nij Ghur(i) Vaasa = mind stays in itself (quits wandering). Sohnday = look noble.
MEANING: Waheguru's devotees have His holy Naam in their heart; they overcome the fear of death, and keep their wishes in their mind (under control). They always stay awake (alert) and never become unaware of the attractions of Maya. They drink the Naam-Amit of Waheguru in their high spiritual state. They always talk sweetly and sing Waheguru's praise with the immortalizing Shabad of the Guru. They have full control of their minds (which no longer wander), and they always look noble; one feels blissful in their company, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Ruttan Juvayhri = jewels and rubies. Ukaiy = or. Vundaaya = shared. Sherdha = faith; love. Huth(i) Aavaiy = acquires. Sureek(u) = partner. Khut(u) = written (legal) right. Seev Bunnaiy = boundary. Roal = dispute. Bukheeli = jealousy; resentment. Chuhoun Koondaan = all directions. Kaala Kuraaya = to disgrace. Suvaaya = multiplies.

MEANING: Waheguru respects the wishes of the Guru and bestows the wealth of His Naam, which is precious like jewels and rubies, to the Sikhs whom the Guru recommends kindly. The Naam wealth is not visible, so nobody can borrow it because only visible things can be borrowed from others or can be given to them. Nobody can even force to get a share of this wealth. Only that individual can receive this wealth who has it prewritten in his fortune by Waheguru when He instils reverence for the Guru in the mind of the individual. Nobody is a partner to this wealth; has any legal right, or (unlike the farmers) has a shared boundary to dispute. If someone maliciously criticizes a devotee for His Naam-wealth, Waheguru blackens his face (disgraces him) in all the four directions (all over). No force or vilification works to get a share of the Naam-wealth which Waheguru has bestowed on His devotees - actually, it increases every day in multiples. 9.

Word Meaning: Julunda = burning in the fire of desires and jealousy. Dooaaraiy = shelter; faith. Titaiy = the same. Soojhyee = can think of.

MEANING: The world is burning in the fire of desires and jealousy; please save it with Your kindness, regardless of the faith of the individuals, oh benevolent Lord. Satguru has shown us the way to real comfort (blissfulness) – which is to ponder on (act on) His Shabad (and sing Waheguru's praise). I cannot think of any power other than Waheguru that can forgive our sins, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Mohini = mind-captivating. Perjaaliyaiy = burn fully. Maarun = antidote.

MEANING: Man's haumein (selfishness and ego, which are kinds of Maya), captivates his mind, due to which he gets engrossed in Mayas. Haumein cannot be killed (destroyed) or sold at a shop. One can get rid of it only by burning it well with Guru's Shabad when one's mind gets purified, and Waheguru's Naam gets implanted in there. The antidote for haumein is only Guru's Shabad, which can be acquired only in His shelter, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Neeshaan(i) = document of identification. Bhateeyeen = nephews. Sukeen = relatives. Ug-houn Pichh-houn = other possible candidates. Toal(i) Dittha = searched. Abhimaan(u) = false pride. Bukhshiyos(u) = gave the control (to the Guru). J(i) = Jo = whoever. Sijhaiy = succeeds. Bhrisht = impurifies; makes unholy. Vull(i) Hoa = takes side with; gives full support. Bhit(i) = (spiritual food). Laahiyoun = removed.

MEANING: The honour of Guruship was given to Guru Amar Dass Ji by Guru Angad Dev Ji as if a written document to that effect had been issued by Waheguru to Guru Angad Dev Ji. But before giving the Guruship to Guru Amar Dass Ji, Guru Angad Dev Ji searched for and tested all possible candidates, including his sons, nephews, sons-in-law, relatives, and other potential claimants, and cleared their false pride. Waheguru brings the whole world under the spiritual control of Satguru, and His presence can be felt everywhere.

Whoever comes to the shelter of the Guru and obeys His Teachings succeeds spiritually in this world, and the next, but the follower of his mind (money-worshipper) makes the place unholy on which he walks (pollutes the environment with his evil thoughts). The omnipresent, friendly, and wise Waheguru fully backs the Satguru. Waheguru removes the false pride of the world when people note that Satguru is the provider (source) of spiritual food, and all the desirous people drop on His feet (come to His shelter) to receive Waheguru's Naam. 10.

Sloak M: 1: Koyee vaahaiy, ko loonaiy, ko paayay khulihaan(i). Nanak aiv na jaapyee, koyee khaayay nidaan(i). 1

Word Meaning: Vaahaiy = plows; cultivates. Loonaiy = cuts. Khulhaan(i) = threshes; harvests. Nidaan(i) = at the end.

MEANING: Highlighting the system created by Waheguru to feed people, Guru Nanak Sahib writes: It is one person who prepares the land for cultivation and seeds it; someone else cuts the crop, and still a different party harvests it. But nobody knows who consumes it at the end.

MEANING: The individual, who embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart, swims across the world-sea. But, everything happens as per the Will of God, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bikraal(u) = frightening: Doot = the five demons. Kuntth(i) = throat. Tongue. Oodhaariya = enshrined in the mind. Suvaariya = made successful.

MEANING: The kind Waheguru ferries people across the world-sea (salvages them) while the benevolent Guru frees the people from their misgivings and from worldly fears, as a result of which all the frightening demons (lust, rage, greed, etc.) are defeated. The devotees embed Waheguru's immortalizing Naam-treasure in their mind by reciting it with their tongue. They make their birth and death (life) successful in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 11.

Word Meaning: Koorraiy = of short-lived worldly things. Kehn = words; talks. Kehunh(i) = talk about. Moohunh(i) = rob. Sunnh(i) = dig a hole to enter. Saakut = money-lovers. Doormutee = evil thinking. Bherm(i) = in misgivings. Lootaaya = lost to. Rucheh(i) Rehunh(i) = stay engrossed. Dooshtaan Sayti = with the evil. Pirhurri = love. Vaad(u) = oral fight (aggression). Puyyaiy Kirt = prewritten type of deeds. 1.

MEANING: Those who forget Waheguru's Naam always think and talk about the false (short-lived) worldly comforts. The five demons (lust, rage, etc.) rob them of their good qualities, and selfishness and ego break into their mind. The Maya-worshippers get robbed because of their evil (ignoble) thinking, and they are not aware of the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Those who have lost the Amrit-like sweetness of Waheguru's Naam because of their misbeliefs stay engrossed in poisonous sensual pleasures. They love the company of the evil and show aggressive behaviour towards the holy devotees of God. Tied up by the Angel of death, such money-lovers suffer severe punishments in hell, oh Nanak. But they cannot be fully blamed because (based on their previous behaviour) they do just what they are programmed to do by Waheguru. 1.

Word Meaning: Taan = force; power. Nimaanay = powerless. Tis(u) = that. Giraas(i) = with every bite. Joh(i) = watch with evil eye. Kuvlaa = Maya. Perm Pudaruth = the supreme Naam.

MEANING: Satguru becomes the force behind the powerless devotees who serve Him. They remember Him (keep in mind) with every breath and every bite, because of which the Angel of death cannot watch them with an evil eye. They always have the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in their heart, and Maya serves them like a slave. The devotee, who serves Waheguru like a slave of His slaves, acquires His Supreme Naam. I am always a sacrifice for the devotee who has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his mind and his body, oh Nanak. Those who have it prewritten in their fortune enjoy the sweetness of the company of the holy saints. 2.

Word Meaning: Poora = Perfect. Vertiya = happens. Bhuniya = is recited. Muniyaan = jewel (Shabad). Suvaaray = grroms. Jiyoun = like. 12.

MEANING: Waheguru pays full attention to every word that the Guru speaks, and the same Words become effective in the world, and everyone recites them. Waheguru has so many virtues that they cannot be counted. Satguru's Word is the real jewel, and He is the source of Waheguru's Naam, peace, and spiritual bliss. Waheguru grooms the holy saints who become just like Him, oh Nanak. 12.

MEANING: The Maya-engrossed individual does not analyze self (that he is a part of Waheguru and is disconnected from Him) and considers that Waheguru is somewhere far, far away. How can his mind focus on Waheguru when he has ignored service to the Guru (following His advice)? He wastes away his precious human life in the greed of the short-lived worldly comforts. But with His benevolence, Waheguru can connect him with Him if he follows Satguru's Shabad, and always thinks Him to be close to him, oh Nanak.1.

Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Sohila = source of bliss. Permanund = source of ultimate bliss. Bhung(u) = separation.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the eternal source of bliss if one recites it in the Guru's shelter. One should recite the Naam (sing Waheguru's praise) all the time because one attains complete bliss by reciting the Naam. But only the fortunate realize Waheguru, which is the source of complete bliss. The true devotees recite Waheguru's Naam with full dedication and never get separated from Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Pichhlay = previous. Guneh = misdeeds; sins. Naaliyaan = of creeks. Tobhiyaan = small lakes. Soorsuri = the River Ganga (Ganges). Puvittar(u) = pure; holy. Shaant(i) = peace; bliss. Turr = right away. Achurj = strangeness. Bhaavaiy = is liked.

MEANING: Like the filthy rain water of streets, creeks, and of small lakes which flows into River, Ganga, and becomes pure (after mixing with the water of the River (a Hindu belief), if a former vilifier of Satguru comes to His shelter, Satguru forgives him for his previous sins and accepts him as a member of the holy congregation (he becomes pure too). Such is the greatness of the impartial Satguru which bears no ill-feelings toward anyone; all one's appetite for worldly desires is satisfied, and he feels blissfulness and peace of mind right away. This is an amazing feature of the True Lord, Waheguru, that an individual, who obeys Satguru, is liked by everyone, oh Nanak. 13.1. Verified.

Word Meaning: Aiyso = like that. Paykhna = view. Soodhay = straight; right. Rayg(i) = path. Nutur = otherwise. Koodhukka = bad (violent) push. Pause.

Baaray = children. Turunay = young. Moosa = mouse. Meech(u) = death. Biluyya = cat. Khuyyee = eats up. 1.

Munyee= man. Kaani = indebtedness; favour. Sum = equal. Budaani = powerful. 2.

Bhaayay = are liked. Niraari = unique; different. Sungaari = with (them). 3.

Kluttar = wife. Luchhimi = Laxmi = Maaya = Maya. Ihaiy = these. Tuj-hou = give up. Jea Jaani = love like own life. Saaringpaani = a name for God. 4.

MEANING: View this world in such a way that nobody is going to live here forever, oh my friends. Follow the straight path (of righteousness) of life, otherwise you will get a violent push (will be punished). Pause.

The helpless man is like a mouse being eaten by the cat of death. Be it children, young or old, all of them are taken away by the Angel of death. 1.

Death is so powerful that it does not favour anyone - they may be wealthy, poor, rulers, or common masses – they are all equal before death. 2.

On the other hand, the treatment given to the devotees who are liked by Waheguru is completely different. With Waheguru always with them (they become part of Waheguru), they do not die and never take rebirths. 3.

You can also unite with Waheguru if you give up (break) your strong attachment to your sons, your wife, and your wealth, which you treat as the love of your life, oh Kabir. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Baad(u) = discussions. Kuthut = describing. Buouraano = eccentric. 1.

Khulk = masses. Bigriyo = spoiled; eccentric. Aura = others. Pause.

Jaar(i) Guyyo = eradicated. Bherm(u) = misgivings. 2.

Puchhaanaiy = recognize; analyze. Maata = intoxicated. Raata = imbued. 4 & 5.

MEANING: (Pundits read religious books to acquire knowledge to take part in discussions to win them), but I do not value such knowledge and do not take part in such discussions. I have become eccentric (in love of God) to describe and to listen to His virtues. 1.
(People think that I am eccentric), Yes, I am eccentric, and the rest of the world is wise. If I am eccentric, please make sure that no one else becomes eccentric. Pause.
But I did not become eccentric on my own; God made me eccentric as Satguru destroyed all my misgivings. 2. I am eccentric because I abandoned my own wisdom (which loved Maya), and have acquired Satguru's wisdom. But, please do not be misled by my steps (if you do not like them), oh folks. 3.
However, I must clarify that only the individual who does not recognize (analyze) himself is eccentric. If one recognizes oneself, he will start believing in only "one" God. 4.
If one does not get intoxicated with God's love now (in human life), he will never be intoxicated (will get no other opportunity). But I am imbued in God's love, oh Kabir. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Tuj(i) = abandon. Bun Khund = some part of the forest. Kunda = vegetables that grow under the soil (carrots, radishes etc.) Ujhoun = still. Bikaar = immoral acts (or thinking). Munda = bad. 1.
Chhootoun = break worldly bonds. Turoun = find salvation. Bhuvjul Nidh(i) = the world sea. Bhaari = huge; unfathomable. Beetthula = God. Pause.
Bikhaiy Kee Baashna = attractions of sensual pleasures. Luptaayay = clings. 2.
Juraa = old age. Jobun = youth years. Neeka = noble. Jeeura = Life. Nirmolko = priceless. Kaudi = worthless cowrie shells. Meeka = equal. 3.
Maadhwa = Husband of Maya (Lord). Serb Biyaapi = omnipresent. Sumsur(i) = equal. 4.
MEANING: Some people renounce the world to settle down in some part of a forest, and live only on the vegetables that grow under the soil with the belief that they do not waste any time even to cook their meals (save time to worship God); but they cannot stop their sinful mind from thinking about evil and immoral acts. 1.

How can I emancipate myself to be able to swim across the world sea, which otherwise is extremely difficult to swim across? So, I have come to the shelter of God, asking that He protect me against the attacks of Maya (only He is capable of providing such protection). Pause. Maya captivates us in many different ways, which we find very difficult to resist. No matter how hard one tries to resist such attractions, he clings to them again and again. 2.
Man's prime life goes away without doing anything noble, and he becomes old; he lowers the great worth of human life to the level of worthless cowrie seashells. 3.
There is no one else who is as compassionate as the omnipresent God, and there is no other sinner like me, oh Kabir. 4.3.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib expresses his mother's displeasure when he began worshipping God and devoted less time to his family's handloom weaving business, which led to a drop in family income. Her complaining is highly typical of all Indian mothers. The interesting thing is that she expresses her displeasure in terms of the prevalent Hindu practices of worshipping deities, which Kabir Sahib did not even follow. Enjoy the Shabad.

Word Meaning: Kori = brand new; weaver. Gaagur = a vessel to store water to bathe the Idol, and to mop floors. Jeo Guyyo = gets exhausted. Taana Baana = weaving. 1.
Kool = clan; family. Maala = rosary. Nipootay = childless. Pause.
Jitthaani Diraani = wives of husband's brothers. Achurj(u) = strange thing. Saat Soot = cotton threads and other things (related to weaving). Moodiya = young man. 2.
Prehlad = a devout devotee of God. Hernaakhsh = His evil father who did not approve Prehlad's devotion to God, and tried many times to have him killed. Paiyj = dignity. Nukh = paws. Bidaariyo = destroyed. 3.
Dayv = gods. Pittar = ancestors. Khundun(u) = destroyer. Oodhriyo = salvaged. 4.

MEANING: Who (nobody) ever recited God's Naam in our family. But, ever since my weaver, childless son (may he never have any child – curses Kabir Sahib) took rosary in his hand (began to worship God), we have not experienced any comfort. Pause.
Every day, he rises early in the morning, fetches a vessel of water to bathe the idol and gets exhausted mopping the floors (to purify the room for worshipping) (which Kabir Sahib did not believe in). He does not think of weaving, and enjoys the (sweet) taste of worshipping his God. 1.
This young son of mine has lost all interest in the weaving business, but why is he not dead yet! Listen to this strange thing, oh, my sisters-in-law. 2.
(Kabir Sahib reacts) The Guru has given me the Naam of God, which is the source of all comforts. This is the same God who protected the dignity of Prehlad and tore apart the evil king, Hernakhsh, with His paws. 3.
(My mother complains that I have given up the worship of our ancestors and of our family guru, and have begun to recite Guru's Shabad, about which she is right), But I recite the Naam of God in the company of the holy saints, which is the destroyer of all sins, and I have been emancipated, oh Kabir. 4.4.

MEANING: There is no King like God. These worldly kings are rulers for a few days, and all their acts of showmanship are short-lived. Pause.
Your devotees enjoy respect in the whole world, and do not allow their minds to show any weakness (show no fear) before the people. Nobody can lay any hand on (hurt) them, or use disrespectful language for them (or malign them). 1.
Keep His Naam in mind, oh my ignorant and foolish mind, and you will feel as if auto-playing Divine music is playing in your mind. All my misgivings and worries have disappeared by worshipping God, who bestowed honour on Dhuroo and Prehlad, oh Kabir. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Bigree = ruined; mistakes. Seel(u) = calm disposition. Jup(u) = recitation of the Naam. Abhimaan = conceit. Tedh Pugree = wear turban to one side (a sign of conceit or arrogance). Pause.

Amar Jaan(i) = thinking to be immortal. Sunchee = nurtured. Kaaya = body. Mithiya = false; short-lived. Kaachi Guggri = (destructible like an) unbaked earthenware. Nivaaj(i) = bestowed honour (kindness). Saaj = create. Uver = other. Lugree = got attached to.1. Sundhik = thief; guilty. Pugree = feet; shelter. Mut Ghaalhou = do not send. Jum = Angel of death. Khubree = news. 2.

MEANING: Please forgive me for my mistakes, oh kind Lord. I could not maintain a calm disposition, did not do any things pious (noble deeds), nor did I perform Your worship; to the contrary, I have been highly conceited and wore my turban to the side, which is another display of false machismo, oh Lord. Pause.

I nurtured my body as if I were going to live forever, never realizing it was short-lived and as perishable as an unbaked earthenware. I forgot You, who created us and bestowed honour on us, and became attached to the other (Maya). 1.

I am your thief (sinner), and cannot call myself a saint, but have come to Your shelter, oh Lord. Please, listen to my request, and do not send me any news about the Angel of death (about my reincarnations), begs Kabir. 2.6.

His two Shabads are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib. Naama = Nam Dev Ji = a well-known devotee of Waheguru. His 62 Shabads are enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib. Bip Soodaama = a Brahman friend of Krishna. Apaar = limitless. Sumruth = capable; omnipotent. Chaar(i) Pdaaruth = religiosity (high morality), wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and emancipation. Na Baar = no time (delay).

MEANING: I am a beggar waiting at Your door, oh Lord. Who else cares about me other than You, oh my Lord!! Kindly show me Your holy sight by opening the doors of my dark mind. Pause.

I have heard Your great praise with my ears that You are the Master of real wealth (of Your Naam), are compassionate, and a great donor, oh God. Whom else can I beg for Your Naam, because they are all paupers in this respect, but You are my emancipator. 1.

You have shown limitless kindness to Jai Dev, Nam Dev, and the Brahman, Sudama. You are omnipotent in kindness, and take no time to give all the four important things – high morality, wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and emancipation – which are the most sought-after things, acknowledges Kabir. 2.7.

Word Meaning: Dunda = a stick; baton. Moondraan = earrings. Khindha = a quilt of rags. Aadhaari = a fabric bag to collect alms (These are the religious symbols of the yogis). Bherm = misgivings. Bhaayay = in love for. Bhaykhdhaari = religious garb. 1. Aasun(u) = special posture. Puvun = air; breaths (the yogis hold and release breath to perform many exercises in the name of God). Buvray = foolish. Kupt = deceit. Pause. Jih = which. Jaacheh(i) = wish for. Tirbhuvun = universe. Bhogi = enjoy. Kaysou = God.

MEANING: A yogi carries a stick (to keep the devil away), wears big glass earrings, a quilt of rags (to show his poor lifestyle), and a fabric bag to collect alms as symbols of his faith. Misguided by his love for his faith, he roams around in that garb. 1.

Quit the deceitful (spiritually worthless) acts of your meditating postures, and your exercises of holding and releasing breaths, and worship God all the time, oh foolish yogi. Pause.

Your ultimate misplaced goal is to collect wealth by impressing people of your supernatural powers, but people all over the world enjoy wealth anyway. (So, what do you gain?) The real thing to beg for is God's Naam, oh yogi. 2.8.

Word Meaning: Goosaayeen = God. Kinchut = not even small amount. Jun = devotee; humans. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Phunny = attached to. Drirr(u) = under control. Buchni = Words; Huqam. Layva Dayee = trading. Perpunch = the world. Bigootay = suffered humiliation. Kaal(u) = death. Nidaana = at the end.

MEANING: This Maya has caused the people to forget Your Naam, oh Lord. They are so helpless before Maya that they cannot cultivate any love for You in their mind even if they wish to. So, what can the poor humans do? Pause.

Condemnable are the wealth, the human body, the Maya, and the wisdom (mind) which are attracted to Maya. Please tie up (control) this Maya with Your Words (Huqam). 1.

Be it farming, trading, or any other business – the pride of all such show-offs in the world is false because death comes to everybody at the end, and such people suffer humiliation (in God's Court), oh Kabir. 2.9.

Mithiya = false. Sehj(i) = with peaceful mind. Munjh = inside. Mooraar(i) = God. 3.

MEANING: The Light of the Supreme God, which has unparalleled beauty (noble qualities) but no visible physical features, is always present in man's mind in the form of His Naam. 1.

Get rid of your misgivings by worshipping God - the life of the universe - oh man. Pause. God's Light is not visible when it appears in, or disappears from, a heart; like the leaves of the Poorivun vine, which come to life in water and wilt away when away from it, God's Light appears from Him and gets absorbed in Him. 2. A devotee who ponders on God's Naam with a peaceful mind realizes that the attractions of Maya are short-lived and abandons them. Serve God with dedication in your own mind, oh Kabir. 3.10.

Word Meaning: Liv = deep focus of mind. Soonn(i) = in God. Smaaniya = fully absorbed. Saakhi = advice. Jaagi = woke up; enlightened. Pause.
Kaansi = bronze. Dhoon(i) = sound. Phooti = broke into pieces. 1.
Tirkooti = the three effects of Maya. Sundh(i) = by breaking into. Ghut-Hoon Ghut = in every heart. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Smaachuree = sprouts. Tiyaagi = renouncer. 2.
Tayj = light (soul). Tayj(u) = God's Light (the Supreme Soul). Maana = become one. 3.

MEANING: When a devotee meditates on (God's Naam) with a fully focused mind, his misgivings about birth and death are fully dispelled. His mind is illuminated by the Guru's advice, and he remains absorbed in God. Pause.
(The pundits mislead the people with the fears about hell, or the comforts of heaven after death, to fleece them) Such fears of hell and comforts of heaven arise in the mind of people for as long as their misgivings are kept alive, but they go away when one's mind is enlightened with the Guru's Advice. Like a sound that arises when a bronze object is rattled and is absorbed when rattling stops or when the bronze object is shattered, the human soul originates from God and is absorbed in Him at death. (Only God knows what happens to the souls after death, and nobody else), oh pundit. 1.
With the advice of the Guru, I have seen the truth by breaking through the three effects of Maya (rising above them), and now I see God's Light in every heart. Also, I have acquired such wisdom that I have renounced all attractions of Maya. 2.
With Guru's advice, one analyzes and recognizes oneself (that one's soul is a part of the Supreme Soul) and merges into the Supreme Soul. I have also realized that, and my mind has become "one" with God, oh Kabir. 3.11.

Word Meaning: Ridaiy = in heart. Buseh(i) = dwell; are embedded. Doalaiy = weakness (wavering) of mind. Nuou Nidh(i) = nine treasures of the world. Dayv = hey God. Pause. Paykhaiy = see. Kootil Gaantth = the bag of deceit. Utkaiy = is obstructed (attracted) by. Nerja = scale. 1. Taas(u) = him. Jhoalaiy = captivates. Dayv = God's Naam. 2.

MEANING: Why would the mind of a devotee who has God's Naam embedded in his heart, become weak (begin to waver) before the attractions of Maya, oh Lord? The devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise with a peaceful (fully focused) mind, feels as if he has acquired the comforts of all the nine treasures of the world. Pause.

But one acquires such wisdom (thinking) when he sees God's Light in everybody, and loosens the bag of his deceitfulness (let it disappear), oh God. Maya captivates his mind again, and again, but he always weighs the strength of his mind (strengthens it). 1.

He is happy (contented) wherever he goes, and Maya cannot weaken his mind (captivate him) anymore. My mind has been fully convinced by God's supremacy, and I have developed love for Him, oh Kabir. 2.12.

Word Meaning: Daarid Dushaa = the pathetic situation due to poverty. Asht Dusaa = eight plus ten = 18. Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Ker(i) Tulaiy = palm of hand. 1.
Bhuvkhundun = destroyer of rebirths. Poorun Kaam = fulfiller of wishes. Pause.
Bhaar(u) = burden (of sins). Aaluj(u) = Aalya = home (net) of worldly bonds. 2.
Akuth Kutha = the indescribable story (of virtues of God). Oopma = comparison. 3.
MEANING: My monetary situation was so pathetic that everybody was laughing at it (making fun of it). But, with Your benevolence, it has changed so much that all the 18 supernatural powers are in the palm of my hand (fully at my command). 1.
You know that I am a non-entity, oh, the destroyer of the birth-death cycle, God. All living beings are in Your shelter (at Your mercy), and You fulfil their wishes. Pause.
Those who come to Your shelter carry no burden of sins. The world is a net of strong worldly bonds, but You salvage the high and the low. 2.
There is no need for any other ritual, just sing praise of God, which has indescribable virtues, oh Ravidass. There is none like You against whom You can be compared, oh God. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Sadh(u) = holy man. Baishno = devotee of God. Bern = high caste. Abern = lower caste. Runk = pauper. Eesur(u) = wealthy. Bimul Baas = pure fragrance; sweet praise. Soyay = his. Pause.

Baiysh = second lowest cast (farmers, traders, employees etc.). Shood = lowest caste. Khatri = warriors. Doam = lower caste bards. Chundaar = butchers; savages. Mulaysh = ignoble. Soyay = the same (God). Puneet = purified. Kool = clans. 1.

Dhunn(i) = deserving respect. Kootumb = family. Subh Loyay = all over the world. Sar Rus(u) = the supreme taste (God's Naam). Tujay = abandons. Daaray Khoyay = kills. 2.

Pundit = well-educated. Soor = valiant. Chhutarput(i) Rajah = an emperor. Pooraiyn Paat = the leaves of a vine which thrives in (or near) water. Smeep = near. Bhun(i) = says. 3.

MEANING: A devotee of God, or a holy man, enjoys sweet praise (respect) all over the world, regardless of his high or low clan, or whether he is wealthy or a pauper. Pause.

Be it a Brahman, a Baiysh (Vaish), a low-caste untouchable, a warrior, a low-caste bard, a butcher, or an ignoble person, God is present in all of them. One purifies his mind by worshipping God, and not only does he find salvation for himself, but he also emancipates both his clans (paternal and maternal) (a Hindu belief). 1.

The village, the place, and the clan all enjoy respect all over the world where a devotee of God is born. Enjoying the supreme sweet taste of God's Naam, the devotees stay intoxicated and abandon all other tastes of poisonous Maya. 2.

No well-educated pundit, valiant, or an emperor can match the transcendental height of a devotee of God. Only the birth of God's devotees is welcome in this world; like the leaves of the vine which stay fresh in or near water, they survive by staying connected with God, oh Ravidass. 3.2.

NOTE: According to a popular story, the beautiful daughter of a king vowed to marry Shri Vishnu. The son of a carpenter heard about it, donned himself like Vishnu, and married the beautiful girl, and began to live in the King's palace to hide his identity as a poor carpenter. After some time, a neighbourly king attacked the King. The King asked his son-in-law to lead his forces, but the coward and inexperienced carpenter stayed behind the army lines and did not fight. However, the local King won the battle, and the dignity of the fake god was saved.

Word Meaning: Nrip = rajah. Kunniya = a girl (daughter). Bhaykhdhaari = an imposter. Kaamaarthi = lustful. Sooaarthi = selfish. Vaa Kee = his. Paiyj = dignity. 1.

Tuv = Yours. Goon = benefit. Kerm = the consequences of the previous deeds. Singh = lion. Jumbook(u) = jackal. Graasaiy = eat up. Pause.

Chaatrik = a bird which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain. Phoon(i) = then. 2.

Thir(u) = stable. Birmaavoun = pick up courage. Nauka = boat. 3.

Huoun = pride. Aah(i) = is. Aousar Lujja = time to save my honour. Jun = slave. 4.

MEANING: Even though a lustful and selfish man married the beautiful daughter of a king as an imposter of Shri Vishnu, You still saved his honour, oh God (so protect me too against the attacks of Maya before it is too late). What is the use of singing Your praise if the consequences of my previous bad deeds are not erased? What is the use of taking shelter of a lion if even a jackal eats you up? Pause.

The rainbird (chaatrik) suffers for a single drop of water; of what use will that be for him if he receives the whole ocean of water after he is dead? 2.

How can I pick up courage (be contented) when my life has exhausted, and my mind is no longer strong enough to fight against immoral acts of sensual pleasures if You do not protect me now? Whom will I put in the boat of your kindness if I drown in the world sea now? You know that I am insignificant, have no self-pride, and own nothing at all, but I, Sadhna, am Your slave. Please protect me against the attacks of Maya, which are happening now, oh my dear God. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Chit(i) = in mind. Aaas = hope; faith. Munchinday = as wished. Anayk = countless. Ful = rewards. Vertaiy = takes place. Ghaaliya = hard work. Til(u) = insignificantly small. 1. Jugdeesh Gosaayeen = the Lord of the earth (God). Nihful = unrewarded. Birthi = empty; waste. Pause.

Kootumb(u) = family. Mut = lest; do not. Bupurray = poor; helpless. Vaahiya = efforts. Vusaayee = in control. Chhudaayee = emancipates. 2.

Uver = other. Pemitree = Maya. Kumm(i) Aayee = serves purpose. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment. Jhootth = short-lived. Binus(i) = gets destroyed. Thaayan Paayee = rewards.3. Boojh Boojhaayee = given the understanding; enlightenment. Triptaayee = contented. 4.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Living Being; He has an immortal existence. His laws or Huqam always prevail) He is the creator of the universe and is omnipresent. He is fearless (because He has no equal, and is above all the natural laws; bears no enmity with anyone (is perfectly just); time has no bearing on Him (is always uniform); never takes a life form and is self-illuminating; can be realized only by the grace of the Guru. If you have faith only in Waheguru, you will get all your countless wishes fulfilled, oh my mind. Waheguru knows everything that goes through the mind of a person (his wishes), and He never lets the hard labour of a devotee go unrewarded, even by a small amount. Have faith only in the Lord, who is present in everybody, oh my mind. 1.
Have faith only in Waheguru; if one has faith in any other power or person than Waheguru, all his hard work goes to waste (unrewarded), oh my mind. Pause.
Do not depend upon any of the visible members of the family, or any other attraction of Maya and waste away your spiritual life, oh my mind. What can these helpless people do for you? They have no power or control over anything (to enhance your spirituality). So, seek dependence on your Dear (Waheguru), which will salvage not just you, but all the members of your family (your associates), oh my mind. 2.
If you ever think that dependence on anybody else or Maya (wealth or other possessions which you can donate to please some deity) will help you in the enhancement of your spirituality, be assured, they will be of no help (or of use) to you. The dependence on Maya is only a short-lived attachment which disappears in a moment. Have dependence (faith) only on the immortal Lord, who recognizes and rewards your hard work, oh man. 3.
However, even the different kinds of hopes and wishes originate in one's mind by the Will of Waheguru (depend upon the nature of the individual given to him by Waheguru); a person wishes only those things for which his mind has been reprogrammed by Waheguru. My Satguru has imparted this wisdom to me that one has no control even over his wishes, oh my Lord. I, Nanak, am your devotee, and you know my wish, which is only to have your holy sight, which gives contentment to me, oh my Waheguru. 4.1.

Ghaal = hard work.Sookhdaata = source of all comforts. Bhookh = appetite. Luhaasa = comes off. 1Bhervaasa = faith. Paiyj = dignity. Jun Daasa = slaves; devotees. Pause.Birtha = condition. Aagaiy = the other party facing you. Kudhaasa = lets out. Tutkaal = right away. Kutaasa = removes. Chhoad(i) = leave aside; bypass. Laaj Muraasa = dies of shame (feels humiliated). 2. Sunsaaraiy Kay = worldly. Kootumb(u) = family. Sooyayaiy = for selfish reasons. Milaasa = see you. Sooaaou Hovay = objective fulfilled. Nayrraiy Dhookaasa = come near. Oopkuraiy = appear to help. Bhervaasa = faith; dependence. 4.

MEANING: We should serve and recite the Naam of Waheguru, which can destroy all the sins in a short moment, oh my mind. If disregarding Waheguru, one seeks dependence of someone else, all his hard labour goes unrewarded in Waheguru's Court. Serve Waheguru only, who is the source of all comforts, and serving whom all one's appetites for worldly things disappear (are satisfied). 1.

Have dependence on (faith in) Waheguru, oh my mind. He accompanies His devotees wherever they go to protect their dignity. Pause.

If you tell someone your problem to seek help, rather than listening to you and helping you, he tells you many, many of his own painful stories. So, tell your problems to Waheguru, who removes them in no time. If you tell your problems to someone other than Waheguru (rather than helping you), they shame you to death. 2.

All the worldly family members and friends, or even brothers, that you see, come to see you only for their selfish objectives. The day their objectives are achieved, they do not even come near you, oh my mind. Serve only your own Waheguru, which comes to help you in difficult and happy times, oh my mind. 3.

Why to have faith in someone who cannot protect you at the time of your end, oh my mind? With the advice (Shabad) of the Guru, recite Waheguru's Naam, which salvages the devotees who have love for Him, oh my mind. Nanak advises that one should recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, which is the guaranteed means of your emancipation, oh the holy saints. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Anund = blissfulness. Shaant(i) = calm; peaceful. Seetul = cool; unagitated. Shukut(i) = of Maya. Soor(u) = sun. Julta = hot. Sus(i) = (cool) moon. Tupna = hotness; suffering from Maya. 1.

Undin(u) = every day = always. Jupna = recite. Subh Tthaayeen = everywhere. Pause. Nidhaan = treasures. Khoaj(i) = search for. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Ruttna = jewel (like). Huri Churna = God's Naam. 4.

MEANING: One feels blissful and contented, enjoys internal peace, and his mind becomes calm (quits wandering) when he remembers Waheguru. Like a burning caused by the hot sun, one burns (suffers) in the fire of desires for worldly attractions (of Maya); but the holy sight of the Guru serves like the moon to cool them down (to put out the fire of suffering). 1. Recite such Waheguru's Naam all the time, which protects you everywhere at all places, oh my mind. Pause.

Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all treasures, and search for the jewel-like precious Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. Massage the feet of (serve them diligently like a slave) the devotees of Waheguru who have acquired Waheguru by reciting His Naam, oh my mind. 2. That holy saint is supreme who enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru by making a connection with Him with Guru's Shabad, and is greater than the greatest. Waheguru, Himself, exalts such devotees whose grandeur cannot be lowered by anyone, not even by a small amount like the size of a sesame seed. 3.

Remember Waheguru with folded hands, from whom you acquire all comforts, oh my mind. I beg for only one favour from Waheguru that He implants His feet (His Naam) in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Jun Nanak tis kay churn pukhaalaiy, jo Hur(i) jun(u) neech(u) jaat(i) sayvkaan(u). 4.4.

Word Meaning: Shah = rajahs. Paatishaah = emperors. Oomraav = wealthy. Sikdaar = leaders with authority; high officials. Chaudhry = leaders. Mithiya = Jhootth = short-lived. Bhaaou Dooja = love for Maya (which is also short-lived). Abinaashi = Suda Thir(u) = Nihchul = non-perishable; immortal. Pervaan(u) = acceptable. 1.
Deebaan(u) = judge-cum-ruler; support. Taan(u) = power; ability. Pause.
Dhunvunt = wealthy; Koolvunt = of high clan. Milkhvunt = landlords. Binus(i) = destruction. Koosumbh(u) = a pretty flower which wilts away quickly. Kuchaan(u) = temporary. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (God). Maan(u) = respect. 2.
Shood = the lowest caste in Indian system. Vaish = the second lowest caste. Vern = major castes. Chaar(i) Ashram = four stages of life: childhood (unmarried); family man; forest (leave home to worship gods); and sanyas (renunciation). Perdhaan(u) = supreme; approved by Waheguru. Hird = castor plant. Putit = immoral. 3.
Soocha = pure. Pukhaalaiy = washes. Neech Jaat(i) = of the lowest caste. 4.

MEANING: The love (or loyalty) for all (or any) of the rajahs, emperors, high officials, and leaders is just love for Maya (personal interests), is short-lived, and does nothing for one's spirituality. On the other hand, Waheguru is immortal and is always there to help you; so, recite His Naam to be approved in His Court, oh my mind. 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam, which is your support forever. No one can match the power (spiritual height) of the devotee who connects with Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. Pause. All those wealthy members of high clans and landlords that we see will eventually perish like the temporary beauty of the koosumbh flower (and will have no power left at all, so why should you respect them), oh my mind? Always serve (recite the Naam of) Waheguru, which is always calm (never gets offended), and is above the effects of Maya; one is honoured in His Court when he recites His Naam, oh my mind. 2.

There are four major castes (Brahman, Khatri, Vaish, and Shood), and the four stages of life (childhood, family life, leaving home to worship some deity, and renunciation) in the Indian system, but only that caste, or that stage, is supreme (approved by Waheguru) which one uses to recite His Naam. Like a castor plant (which is short and somewhat thorny) acquires sweet fragrance near a sandal tree, an immoral person gets purified in the company of holy saints, and gets approval in Waheguru's Court. 3.

That individual is the greatest and the most pious who embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart. I will be glad to wash the feet of (show full respect to) the devotee of Waheguru (even if) he belongs to the lowest caste in the Indian system, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Untarjaami = know-all; omniscient. Subhtaiy = everywhere. Vertaiy = operates. Subhdoon = from every thing (trouble). 1. Purruyyiyaiy = read about Him. Jeevaal(i) = keep alive. Kaayit(u) = what for? Why? Kurruyyiyaiy = suffer from anxiety. Pause.
Perpunch = creation of universe. Dikhuyyiyaiy = shows. 2.
Choryyiyaiy = hide. Nihkupt = without any deceit (hidden objective). Kayri = of. 3.

MEANING: The omniscient Waheguru operates (is present) everywhere; living beings do only what Waheguru makes them do. So, always serve Waheguru, which protects you from everything (trouble), oh my mind. 1. Always recite Waheguru's Naam and read about Him, oh my mind. No one can kill you or keep you alive without Waheguru, so why should you suffer from any anxiety, oh my mind? Pause.

Waheguru has created the universe and has placed His Light in it (is present everywhere). The Perfect Guru utters the Naam of the “One” Waheguru, and makes others recite only His Naam; He has shown the “One” Waheguru everywhere. 2.
Waheguru is always with you, inside and outside, so how can we hide anything from Him, oh my mind? One needs to serve Waheguru without any hidden objective to enjoy all comforts, oh my mind. 3.
One should always remember (recite the Naam of) Waheguru, which is the greatest (most powerful) of all, and which controls everything in the universe, oh my mind. Waheguru is always with you, and emancipates you; so always recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.5.

MEANING: Like a thirsty person who has a strong need for water, I have a strong yearning to have a sight of Waheguru. 1.
My mind has been pierced with the arrow of love for Waheguru. Only Waheguru knows the pain of my separation from Him. Pause. I will love anyone as much as my brother, who talks about my dear Waheguru to me. 2. Let us join and sing praise of Waheguru with the comforting advice of the Guru, oh, my friends. 3. My mind and body become peaceful (blissful) at Your holy sight, oh Waheguru. So, please, fulfil my strong desire to see You, begs Nanak. 4.6. (Set of six Shabads).

Bukto = speaker. Boojhut = understands. Aavut = takes births. Jaavut = leaves theworld. Nirgoon = formless. Sergoon = visible form. Sumdrishta = one who treats everybody the same without any bias.

MEANING: It is Waheguru, who is the creator of the universe, and also, He is the one who (being present in every living being) enjoys all His gifts. Pause.
He is the one who listens to the prayers of His creation and sees what happens in the universe. He is present in the invisible world as well as in the visible world. He creates the world and destroys it. He is present in everything, but is fully detached from the world. 1.
(Being present in every living being), He is the one who talks and understands everything. He is the one who comes into the world (take births) and the one to go (die). Word Meaning: Phaankiyo = trapped. Meen = fish. Kupik = monkey. Niyaayeen = like. Oorjh Ruhhiyo = entangled; deeply involved. Kosumbhaayaylay = Maya, the comforts of which are short-lived like the short-lived beauty of the koosumbh flower. Pug Dhaareh(i) = take steps. Saas(u) Laiy = the breaths you take. Laykhaiy = are recorded. Tuou = only then. Oodhray = get salvaged. 1.

Chhoad(i) = quit. Aavaayaylay = bad habits. Tthaur = shelter; permanent home. Kaahay = what for? why? Pur Kaiy = others' (house). Pause.
Maiygul = elephant. Inderi Rus = sensual enjoyment. Prayriyo = motivated; instigated.
Kootumbaayaylay = family. Ikuttar = get together. Bichhuraiy = separate. Thir(u) = non-perishable. Sungut(i) = in holy gathering. 2.
Rusn = tongue. Binsiyo = destroyed. Mootthou = deceived. Moorr(u) = foolish. Lobhaayaylay = in the greed of. Vaas(i) = under the control of. Pur(u) = take. 3.
Dookh-Bhunjun = destroyer of suffering. Juntaayaylay = living beings. 4.
MEANING: Realize the fact that this world is not a permanent home for you, oh man. So, give up all your bad habits, and quit keeping an evil eye on others' houses (their wealth and their women). Pause. Like the fish and the monkey, which get trapped because of their greed for the bait, you are entangled in the short-lived attractions of the world, oh man. Waheguru keeps account of every step and of every breath you take (to commit some deed); you will find salvation only if you sing Waheguru's praise. 1.
As the elephant, motivated by his lust, gets trapped, you are trapped in the love of your family, the union of which is short-lived, like the gathering of birds at a tree at night, which fly away in different directions the next morning. Only the gatherings of holy men are permanent (because only Waheguru's praise is sung there, regardless of who the members are, and how many there are), so sing Waheguru's praise there, oh man. 2.
Like the foolish fish which is deceived by the bait and loses its life in that greed, you love (enjoy) your sensual pleasures as a result of which you are under the full control of the five demons, which are your enemies, in fact. You can find freedom from them only by taking shelter in Waheguru, oh man. 3.
You are the destroyer of all troubles of the poor (humble), oh Waheguru; so, be kind to all the living beings as they are Your children (have been created by You). I beg only for Your holy sight, oh Waheguru. Kindly give me the company of your slaves (devotees), so that I may serve them as their slave, and thus see You, prays Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: Disregarding Waheguru, which created your body and life and honoured you by infusing His Light in your body of earth, and provided you with everything of necessity, including delicious foods to enjoy, where else are you seeking comfort from, oh foolish man? 1. I am serving Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru which imparts the wisdom to understand (realize) God which is above the effects of Maya. Pause.

Always worship Waheguru, who has created the universe in many different forms and colours, who can create or destroy anything in a moment, and whose transcendence and measurements cannot be described, oh my mind. 2. MEANING: I deal only in Waheguru's Naam (listen to it, and sing for others), which is the only support of my mind (soul). I have sought the shelter of the Naam in my mind. Millions of sins are eradicated by reciting the Naam. 1.

The Guru has given me the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, and meditating on His Naam in the shelter of the Guru is my only Love. Naam is the wealth of my soul, and is my companion wherever I go. Waheguru's Naam is the sweetest thing for me, and I have seen Waheguru everywhere – on the land, and in the waters – by reciting His Naam. 2.

One is recognized as being pious in Waheguru's Court if he has His Naam enshrined in his heart, and it is because of the Lord's Naam that one can find salvation for his clan of associates as well. All my tasks are completed successfully with the Naam, and my mind gets settled (finds peace) with the Naam. 3.

One becomes fearless with Waheguru's Naam, and it is because of the Naam that one's rebirths come to an end. My Perfect Guru connected me with the Lord, who is the treasure of all virtues, and now I am living in the blissful spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.2.4.

The Lord puts the brake on them, and they lose their ability. The Lord completely destroys their influence on His devotees, and they cannot reach (influence) the body and the mind of the devotees, and the devotees join to sing the song of happiness in (Waheguru’s praise). 1. The demons levy tax on the world (rob them of their noble qualities), but they salute Waheguru’s devotees (are their subservient). They rob the ones of their virtues who are disconnected with Waheguru, and they (the followers of their mind) lose their dignity; but they (the demons) respectfully serve the holy saints. 2.
Waheguru created Maya, which gives birth to the five demons (they are different forms of Maya), which, by Waheguru’s Huqam, marry the world to reproduce the species (the living beings are born because of the demons – they are the root cause of reproduction of the species). They mix well with the three other effects of Maya (and become the source of) the enjoyment of sensual pleasures for the world. But Waheguru’s devotees rise above such pleasures and reside in a high spiritual state. 3.
Waheguru, who has created the five demons, protects His devotees from their attacks. Waheguru’s worship is supreme (to control anything) without which everybody suffers humiliation, oh Nanak. 4.9.11.

I have come to realize that my life and my body are the property of Waheguru (given by Him), and I have full faith in His protection. I have developed full faith that Guru's devotees are successful in Waheguru's Court, whereas the Maya-lovers are the losers, oh Nanak. 4.16.18.

Word Meaning: Nirunjun(u) = Above the effects of Maya. Neer(i) = with (Ambrosial) water. Naraayin = God; Waheguru. Bilaayin = dispelled; washed away. Pause.

Adhaar = support. Bhaag(i) Pulaayin = run away; disappear. Dunt Bhaanay = break teeth; makes ineffective. Daayin = a witch (Maya). 2.

Bukhshind = provider; forgiving. Keenay = creates. Pertaap = majesty. 3.

baarumbaar = again, and again. Gaayin = sing praise. Agoachur = incomprehensible. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such Ambrosial water which cleanses one's mind to attain the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and with which all sins are washed away when one recites it with his tongue. Pause.

Waheguru resides everywhere and enlightens every mind. By reciting His Naam, one does not go to hell; rather, one reaps all the rewards. 1.

Waheguru is one's mental support, and is the ship to ferry across the world sea. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the Angel of death runs away to disappear, and His Naam makes the witch – Maya toothless. 2. Waheguru is always forgiving and is the provider, and He causes (is the source of) comfort and blissfulness. Waheguru is the mother and the father of His saints, and He enhances their majesty in the world. 3.

Waheguru can be realized in the company of the Guru where His praise is sung again and again (all the time). I acquired the priceless Naam of the incomprehensible Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, and have taken his shelter as His slave, oh Nanak. 4.17.19.

Johaiy = cast evil eye. Pohaiy = come near. Chaar(u) = dirt; humiliation. 1.

Kuvuch(u) = Sunaah(u) = armour. Doot = the (five) demons. Doosht = evil. Gerb = conceit. Jaayay = goes away; dies spiritually. Greeb = poor; powerless. 2.

Hur(i) Raayay = the Royal Waheguru. Kuntth(i) = with the neck (chest). Khin Meh(i) = in a moment. Roolta = suffers humiliation. Khaakoo = dust. 3.
Hovunhaar(u) = will always be there. Bulihaar = offer to sacrifice. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru helps the individual whom He wants to protect. Pause.
The womb's fire (normally unbearable heat) (rebirths) cannot cast an evil eye on, and lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments cannot even come near the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and whom Waheguru provides His protection. Any vilifier of such a devotee gets dirt in his mouth (is humiliated). 1.
Waheguru's Naam is the armour for the devotee, which protects him from any attack by the evil demons (lust, greed, etc.), and they cannot even come near him. Whoever shows any conceit suffers spiritual death. Waheguru is the shelter for the humble devotee. 2.
Whoever seeks shelter of the Royal Waheguru, the Lord protects him by holding him to His chest (provides full loving protection). If someone shows too much conceit, he suffers a great humiliation, as if he were dirt. 3.
The eternal Waheguru is present now and will always be; I am always a sacrifice for Him. He protects His devotees with His benevolence. He is the basis of my life, oh Nanak. 4.18.20.

Word Meaning: Achurj = amazing. Anoop = unique. Muhaa = great. Peraatma = The Supreme Soul of which the human soul is a part. Roop(u) = form. Pause.
Jum Jaala = traps leading to the Angel of Death. Binsaiy = dies. Jaayay = disappears. Aad Joogaad(i) = from the very beginning and before the eons. 1.
Oosn(u) = feeling of hotness. Seet(u) = coldness. Herkh(u) = happiness. Soag = sadness; grief. Kernaiy Joag(u) = omnipotent. 2.

MEANING: The description of Waheguru's virtues is unique and amazing. The human soul is a form (part) of Waheguru's Supreme Soul. Pause.

The human soul is a part of Waheguru, which does not go through different phases of life. He is never a child nor an old person. He does not fall into any trap of Maya that leads to the Angel of Death, and he suffers no discomfort. He never dies, nor does He ever disappear. He has been here ever since and before the beginning of the eons. 2.

Waheguru feels neither hot nor cold and has neither enemies nor friends. He has no special occasions to be happy or to be sad. Everything belongs to Him, and He is omnipotent. He has no father or mother; He is limitless and has been here ever since. He is not affected by noble or bad deeds (they do not mean anything to Him). He is alive in every heart. 3.

Maya is His own reflection, which means He created Maya with the three effects. The kind Waheguru cannot be deceived, is impermeable (unattackable), and His secrets cannot be known, and He is always kind to the weak (humble). Nobody can find His transcendence, or His measurements (limits). I am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 4.19.21.

Ruvoun = I remember. Sach(u) Vaapaar(u) = true (everlasting) deal. Munsa = wish. 4.

MEANING: I would like to lay down my life for the holy saints (serve them with deep reverence) who motivate you to sing Waheguru's praise in their company. All one's sins are eradicated by their grace. But only some lucky people come to their shelter. 1.

One faces no obstacle to worship God as he can "see" Him (in his heart) by the grace of the Guru. Pause. When Waheguru becomes benevolent, He transforms one into a humble devotee as if He were the dust of Guru's feet (serve Him like a slave). Lust and rage disappear from the body of such devotees, and Waheguru's jewel-like precious Naam gets embedded in their mind. 2.

The devotee experiences Waheguru as close to him, and his life becomes successful and approved by Waheguru. He begins to worship Waheguru with love, and his mind, which had suffered the darkness of ignorance for many lives, gets enlightened. 3.
Waheguru's lotus-like soft Feet (His Naam) have become the basis of my life, and I remember Him (recite His Naam) all the time, which is the everlasting deal. I pray to Waheguru that He fulfils the wishes of His devotees, so that they enjoy bliss by serving His holy saints, oh Nanak. 4.20.22.6.28.

Word Meaning: Ashtpudi = a Shabad with 8 stanzas. Dev = light-like (source of enlightenment). Suful = which causes success. Moorut(i) = persona (holy sight) Untarjaami = omniscient. Purakh = living power. Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. 1.

Paatshah = emperor. Shah = rajah. Oomraaou = wealthy. Putiyaayay = won over. Doosht = evil. Ahunkaari = conceited. Puchaayay = humiliated. Ninduk = vilifier.

Keeno = creates. Roag(u) = inability to talk ill of. Jai Jaikaar = sing praise. 2.

Muhaa Anund(u) = great bliss. Oojul = radiate with internal purity. Guyyay = loses. 3.

Baypervaahay = worry-free. Bhaiy Mitay = all fears eradicated. Paayay Dhern = thrown on the ground; causes big humiliation. 4.

Jumooa = Jum = Angel of death. Nicket(i) = near. 5.

Nirvaiyr = harbours no enmity. Bhul(i) Maaneh(i) = wishes all well. Vaykaari = lustful. 6.

Sat Buchun = true command; pure justice. Verteh(i) = is the rule. Jurr = root; support.Surpur = for sure. 7. Needhuriyaan = with no support. Dhur = support. Kayri = of. Paiyj = honour; dignity. Suvaari = enhances. 8.

MEANING: The Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru and protects His devotees. Pause. Guru's persona (His holy sight) makes devotee's life successful (rewarding), and so does service to Him. So, kneel down to Him (show reverence for the Perfect Guru, which is a source of enlightenment), oh my friend. The Guru is always imbued with the love for Naam of Waheguru, which is omnipotent, living power (omnipresent), and the carver of our fates. 1. The Guru wins over the minds of the emperors, the rajahs, and the wealthy with His spiritual advice, while the evil and the conceited are defeated and humiliated. The vilifiers are rendered speechless so that they lose the ability to vilify Him anymore. The whole world sings praise of the Guru. 2. The holy saints recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the Great Guru, and always enjoy great blissfulness. Their faces radiate the purity (piousness) of their mind, whereas the vilifiers lose all their shelters (supports). 3.

The devotees sing Waheguru's praise with every breath, but the Lord is worry-free. All the fears pf the devotees disappear in Waheguru's shelter; but the slanderers are reduced to dust on the ground (are humiliated as all their pride is destroyed). 4.

No one should ever vilify a saint; whoever does that suffers at the end. The holy saints recite the Naam of Waheguru all the time because of which the Angel of (spiritual) death does not even go near them. 5.

The saints bear no enmity towards anyone, but the slanderers are highly conceited. The saints wish well-being for everyone, while the vilifiers are immoral (and always think to cause harm to good people). Guru's Sikhs remember Him (recite His Shabad) as a result of which they are salvaged, while the vilifiers are sent to hell. 6.

Listen to the everlasting fact that only perfect justice is delivered in Waheguru's Court, oh my dear friend. One reaps the rewards of his own deeds, and one thing is certain: the conceited get no support at all. 7

Satguru is the support of the weak (ego-free) who have no other support. Kindly protect the dignity of Your devotee, oh Satguru. I am a sacrifice to the Satguru who exalts the dignity of His devotees who recite His Shabad, oh Nanak. 8.1.29.

MEANING: When we talk, what should we talk about, oh noble man? Answer: When we talk, select a topic so that we are led only to recite God's Naam (sing His praise). Pause.
If we meet a holy person, we should listen to their wisdom and say something (seek clarification). But if we bump into some unholy person, it is best to keep quiet. 1.
Because when we converse with a holy man, it is for the betterment of others, but when we discuss something with a foolish person (a Maya-worshipper), it turns out to be a frustrating experience. 2. Too much talking leads to immoral thoughts, but some talking is essential because, without talking, what ideas can we share? 3.

Word Meaning: Nuroo = Nur(u) = human being. Pushoo = cattle. Kaaj = tasks. Suvaaraiy = fulfils needs; finds many uses. 1.
Kerm = deeds of previous lives. Gut(i) = situation; consequences. Pause.
Toola = raft; bale. Kays = hair. Poola = bundle. 2.
Tub = then. Jaagaiy = is awakened. Dund(u) = stick. Moond = head. 3.

MEANING: When a man dies, his dead body is of no use, but when a cattle dies, its body finds many uses (for example, its hide is used to make shoes and other leather goods; its bones are used in fertilizers, and so on).
What do I know about the results of my previous deeds, oh noble man? (whether I will be born a human being again, or an animal). Pause.
The man does not realize that (after death), his bones burn like a bundle of wood, and his hair like a bale of grass (so, even his body does not accompany him). 2.
He is awakened (realizes the reality) only after he is struck with the heavy stick of the Angel of Death (punished by him), oh Kabir. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Guggun(u) = awareness; soul; Supreme Soul. Pataal(i) = underworld. Ruhaayaylay = is present. Aanund Mool = source of bliss. Purakhotum(u) = God. 1. Biyraag(u) = detachment with worldly attractions and love for God. Jeeou = soul. Pause. Keen = created. Kerm Budh = bonded (restricted) by previous deeds. Kermeh = deeds.2. Niruntar(i) = without any gap. Soyay = God. Sehjay = in a natural way. 3.

MEANING: The Supreme Soul is present everywhere - in the sky, in the underworld, and in all the four directions. The Supreme Soul is a manifestation of the Supreme Being, God, which is the source of all bliss. When a body dies, it gets destroyed, but the Supreme Soul does not go anywhere. 1. To understand where the human soul comes from and where it goes after it dies, love for God has sprouted in my mind. Pause.
They say God created the human body by combining the five elements (basic ingredients), but I wonder who created those ingredients in the first place. Similarly, they say that the man is restrained from performing future deeds by the kinds of deeds of his previous life, but who made the man do such deeds? 2.
(After getting answers to all my questions by making a connection with God), I have come to know that man's body belongs to God, and God resides in man's heart and is uniformly present everywhere. So, I will never stop reciting His Naam, and will gladly accept things (His Will) as they come in a natural way, oh Kabir. 3.3.

(PAGE 871): Mun kutthoar ujhoon na puteena. Keh(i) Kabir, humra Gobind(u). Chauthaiy pud meh(i), jun kee jind(u). 4.1.4.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib narrates a true story from His life. It is very difficult for the elite to accept the teachings of holy saints because they expose the misdeeds and injustices committed by the elite against the common masses. Naturally, the local ruler of the day must have been offended by Kabir Sahib's teachings and ordered that Kabir Sahib be put to death by being trampled over by an elephant. Apparently, the Qazi supervised the execution of the order and ordered the mahout to move the elephant so it could trample Kabir Sahib. However, the elephant refused to do that three times before the Qazi got frustrated and let Kabir Sahib go.

Word Meaning: Bhooja = arms. Baandh(i) = tied up. Bhila Kur(i) = making a bundle Daariyo = threw. Hustee = Hust(i) = elephant. Kroap(i) = with rage. Moond = head. Cheesaan = cries of pain. Moorut(i) = beautiful image (holy person). 1.

Aah(i) = is. Joar(u) = power; support. Bukibo = yelling in anger. Pause.

Muhaavut = mahout; the elephant jockey. Daaroun Kaat(i) = cut you in pieces. Ghaalhou Saat(i) = hit him. Dhuraiy Dhiyaan(u) = focus mind on God. 2.

Upraaddh = crime. Baandh Poat = tie like a bundle. Koonchur = elephant. Numuskaaraiy = salute. Boojhi = understood; realized. Undhiyaaray = blind (of wisdom). 3.

Putiya = test. Mun Kutthoar = stone-like heart. Puteena = melted; convince. Chautahiy Pud = the highest spiritual level (above the three effects of Maya) – one with God. 4.

MEANING: My arms were tied around me to make an irregular bundle of me and they threw me on the ground in front of the elephant. The mahout hit the elephant hard on the head as if in fit of rage to move him. But the elephant ran to a side, crying as if in pain, saying that I am a sacrifice to this beautiful soul. 1.

The Qazi was yelling in anger at the mahout to move the elephant, but wow, it was Your power working behind the elephant, oh my Lord. Pause.

The Qazi yelled again at the mahout, asking him to hit the elephant hard to move him; otherwise, the Qazi would cut him (the mahout) down into pieces. But the elephant would not move as if God was living in his heart, and his mind was focused on Him. 2.

What crime had the saint (Kabir Sahib) committed so as to throw him like a bundle before the elephant? However, the elephant was saluting Kabir Sahib in the bundle (with his trunk) again, and again, but, blind to reality, the Qazi did not realize that. 3.
The Qazi tested it three times, but his stone-like mind did not melt (he remained unconvinced). My support was my God in whom my soul resides (whom I am always connected with), oh Kabir. 4.1.4.

Jeevun, mern(u) doyoo mitvaaya. Kuhou Kabir, eh(u) Ramkee uns(u). Jus kaagud pur mitaiy na muns. 4.2.5.

Word Meaning: Maanus = human being. Dayo = god. Jutee = Celibates (a sect of yogis). Sayo = devotee of Shiva. Uvdhoota = one who has renounced the world; a sanyasi. Maayay = mother. 1.
Iyya Mundar = this mansion; human body. Busaayee = resides. Pause.
Girhee = family man. Oodaasi = turned away from the world. Raj = rajah. Bheekh Mungaasi = beggar. Pind(u) = body. Ruktoo = blood. Raati = miniscule amount. 2.
Tupaa = a self-inflictor who tortures himself to please some deity. Sheikh = an elite Muslim. Dugro = right path; destination. Uns(u) = offspring; part. Muns = ink. 3 & 4.

MEANING: Nobody has ever found the limits of the power that resides in our bodies and guides us. Pause.
This (invisible power) is neither a man nor a god. Neither is it a celibate nor a devotee of Shiva. Neither is it a yogi, nor is it a sanyasi (it is not different in different people; it is the same in everybody). It has no mother, and it is not a son of anybody. 1.
Neither is it a family man, nor is it detached from the world. Neither is it a rajah, nor is it a beggar. It has neither a body nor any blood, not even a drop. Neither is it a Brahman, nor is it a Khatri. 2. Neither is it called a self-inflictor devotee, nor an elite Muslim. It is seen neither to live nor to die. If someone cries to see it dying, he loses his dignity (because it is stupid to cry over the death of an invisible power). 3.
I have found the right path (to my destination) with the grace of the Guru, and my birth and death both have been eradicated. This hidden power is actually a part of God, and it cannot be separated from Him, just like ink is inseparable from the paper, oh Kabir. 4.2.5.

NOTE: Earlier, in Raag(u) Bilawal(u), Kabir Sahib wrote about the complaint by his mother about Kabir Sahib not paying the needed attention to his weaver's job, as a result of which, the family was suffering economic hardships. Now, it is His wife, Loyee, who also complains about Kabir Sahib spending too much time with and entertaining his holy friends, as a result of which the family does not have enough food to eat or beds to sleep. She also complains that Kabir Sahib is not spending enough time on weaving to earn enough money. (Kabir Sahib was a weaver by trade).

Word Meaning: Taagay = threads. Nikhooti = ran out. Paan(i) = starch that is applied to the cotton threads before weaving. Jhilkaaveh(i) = shine. Kaan = reeds. Kooch = brushes. Phooyay Phaal = fell apart. Moondiya = followers of Rama Nand; a sanyasi ascetic with shaved head. Sir(i) Chudhibo Kaal = death is looming over his head. 1.

Derb(u) = money. Aavut Jaavut = with coming and going (of visitors). Naak Sur = (life) has become miserable. Pause. Toori Naar(i) = tools of weaving. Chhoadi Baata = has forgotten completely. Vaa Ka = his. Raata = imbued. Lurikee = girl. Lurikun = boys. Khaibo Naah(i) = do not get to eat. Dhaapay Jaah(i) = eat to their fill. 2.

Mundar(i) = in the house. Baat = on the way. Saathur = bare floor. Khaat = bed. Moond Ploas(i) = massage head gently. Kumur Bundh(i) = waste band. Poathi = religious book. Chaabun(u) = roasted beans. Roti = full meal. 3.

Hooyay Aik = have same views. Boodut = drowning in the world sea. Tayk = support. Loyee = Kabir Sahib's wife. Baypeer(i) = without the Guru. Bhuj(i) = rush to. 4.

MEANING: Kabir Sahib's wife, Loyee, complains: The weaving threads have broken, the starch has run out, and reeds are shining on the door (of the handloom) (because the door is not being opened to weave). The brushes (large combs used to compress the warp threads) have fallen apart into individual teeth. (He has become so careless about his business) as if death were looming over his head. 1.

This sage (Kabir Sahib) is wasting away all his money. The coming and going (visiting) of his ascetic friends with their heads shaved has made my life miserable. Pause.

He has forgotten all about his weaving tools, and his mind is imbued with God's Naam. Our daughter and sons do not get to eat, whereas his (Kabir Sahib's) sage friends eat to their fill every day. 2.
One or two of them are already at our house daily, and one or two are on their way to come. We have to sleep on the floor, whereas they get beds. With the religious books on their waists, they arrive, gently massaging their shaven heads. They get cooked meals, whereas we get only roasted beans. 3.
Kabir Sahib responds: All of us, as devotees of God, have the same thinking, and they are the saviours of the people who are drowning in the sea of Maya. Listen to Kabir, oh you, blind of wisdom, Loyee, and rush to take the shelter of these holy men (to be emancipated). 4.2.6.

Word Meaning: Khusm(u) = husband; the owner. Naar(i) = wife (Maya or wealth). Rukhvaara = guard; owner. Aurou = other. Binaas = death. Aagaiy = next world. Eehaan = in this world. Bhog Bilaas = enjoyment of sensual pleasures. 1.
Soohaagun(i) = wife (Maya, which stays married all the time because there is always someone who is her husband who owns it). Pause.
Sohaiy Haar(u) = looks very attractive. Bikh = poison. Bigsaiy = blooms at heart; feels very happy. Sheengaar(u) = adornment. Pukhiyaari = prostitute (because it has many owners). Tthitthkee = frightened by. Bichaari = helpless. 2.
Paachhaiy Puraiy = chases them. Saakut = Maya-lover. Pind Purrayin = support of life. Drisht(i) = as I see. Trukh(i) = sharp; powerful. Daayin = witch. 3.
Bhayo = secret. Gurdayo = enlightening Guru. Unchul Luree = in the shelter.4.
MEANING: There is one woman (wealth) who is loved by the whole world, and who always stays married (because she always has a husband – some owner). Pause.
When Maya's husband dies, she does not cry because someone else becomes her guard (husband or owner). When the guard dies, he goes to hell in the next world because of his immoral deeds of sensual enjoyment with Maya in this world, which he had enjoyed. 1.

This ever-married woman (Maya) looks very attractive, and the minds of the world bloom to see her, but the holy saints think of her as being poisonous. She looks adorable, like a prostitute (which, too, like wealth, has many husbands), but the poor Maya feels frightened of the saints. 2.
She rushes to chase the saints as well, but is afraid of any punishment, as the saints are protected by the grace of the Guru. On the other hand, she is the life of the money-lovers. But the saints see her as a powerful witch. 3.
With God's benevolence, when I came into contact with the mind-enlightening Guru, I came to know her deep secrets (and discarded her). Now, away from me, she is in the shelter of the world, oh Kabir. 4.4.7.

Word Meaning: Greh(i) Sobha = adornment of the family (wealth). Puhhiya = (saintly) guests. Khoodhay = hungry. Vaa = their; them. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Sohaagun(i) = wealth. Doakh(u) = blame. 1. Puveet = pure; holy. Tupay = self-inflictors who endure hardships to please some deity. Doalaiy Cheet = show weakness of mind. Pause.
Kirpun = money-lover. Pooti = (loved like a) daughter. Tuj(i) = excepting. Sooti = is loved by. Tthaandhi = waiting. Nistaar(i) = salvage. 2.
Ut(i) Soondari = extremely beautiful. Pug Nayver = anklet on the feet. Chhunuk Chhunhuree = making musical sounds. Juou Lug(u) = as long as. Tuou Lug(u) = till then. Sungay = with. Bayg(i) = in a rush. Nungay = naked; empty. 3.
Bhuvun Traiy = all the three layers of the universe. Leeya = acquired; controlled. Rus = enjoy the luxuries. Baydhay = Chhayday = pierced; controlled. Bhooput = landlords. 4.

Oorvaar(i) = this world. Paar(i) = the next world. Punch Naarud = the five senses. Bidhvaar = mixed well. Mitvay = earthen wares; support. Phootay = broken. 5.

MEANING: (Despite many evil effects of money (Maya), it is essential for survival, and is an adornment in the family. Acknowledging the essentiality of money, Kabir Sahib says): From the household which does not have the adornment (benefit) of money, the visiting guests (holy men in particular) go away hungry. The family cannot be content without money, and it is blamed (for its inability to perform any noble deed). 1.
(If used in a responsible way) Money could be highly pious and worthy of praise (because one can use it for holy purposes). It is also pious in another sense that even the worshippers of gods become weak before it (and rather than bowing to the gods, they bow to Maya). Pause.
Maya is (loved like) a daughter by the money-lovers, and with the exception of the holy devotees, it is married to (is loved by) the whole world. It waits at the door of the Guru, requesting Him to emancipate her too (save her from being hated). 2.
Maya is extremely beautiful (attractive), like a beautiful woman who is wearing anklets, making musical sounds. However, it is with the owner only as long as he is alive; otherwise, it leaves him naked (without any wealth) in a rush. 3.
Maya has conquered all three levels of the universe. Even the eighteen Puranas and the holy places promote their attractions (people worship them to acquire Maya). Maya has pierced (captivated) the minds of even the gods like Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva, and has not spared even the big landlords and the rajahs. 4.
Maya fully cooperates (is very friendly) with the five senses of the man, and keeps him trapped by its attractions; however, it does not provide everlasting comfort in this world, and does not permit its lovers to swim across its sea (find salvation). But, with Guru's grace, all my five demons, as the perishable containers (of Maya), have broken, and I have been emancipated, oh Kabir. 5.5.8.

Word Meaning: Mundar = house. Bulhur = joist; beam. Tthaahraiy = stay. Paar Ootriay = swim across; find salvation. Koombh = vessel. Ubgut(u) = without emancipation. 1. Jaaroun = burn. Rumut Ruhaiy = enjoys sensual pleasures. Khaytaiy = in the field of body. Pause. Hulhur = tiller. Boyiyaiy = seeded. Soot = thread. Munee Proyiyaiy = string the beads. Ghoondi = twist. Guntth = knot. Churraayiyaiy = raise; make. Sadhu = Guru. 2. Baal = child. Bimb = water. Ghor = horse. Usvaar = rider. Durvaar = God's Court. 3. Phayri = dancing steps. Doohaagun(i) = widow; unfortunate; bad-tempered. Tuj(i) = disregard. Aouhayri = rejected; insulted. Kur(i) Kerna = task worth performing. 4.

MEANING: Like (the roof of) a house, which cannot stay without a beam, a man cannot find salvation without God's Naam. Just as water cannot remain (in control) without a vessel, the human mind cannot remain in control without the Guru, and the man leaves this world without being salvaged (burdened with bad deeds). 1.

I will burn the mind which simply enjoys sensual pleasure for the body, and does not remember God's Naam. Pause.

Like a field, which cannot be seeded without ploughing it, and beads cannot be strung without a thread; and just like a knot cannot be made without twisting the rope, one leaves the world unsalvaged (still attached to Maya) without the Guru. 2.

Just as a child cannot be produced without a mother and a father, and clothes cannot be washed without water, and just like there can be no rider without a horse, one cannot have access to God's Court without the Guru. 3.

Just as there is no dancing without music, and a woman cannot be married without a husband (there is no spirituality without the Guru). There is only one thing worth doing to acquire spirituality - and that is, to take shelter of the Guru whereby the devotee will not have to die again, oh Kabir. 4.6.9.

Word Meaning: Kootun(u) = pimp; rogue; one who thrashes others. Kootaiy = beats to control. Kusvutti = touch stone; test. Mookut(u) Buhou = complete freedom (emancipation). 1. Naachun(u) = dancer. Putiyaiy = Perchaiy = is pleased. Saachaiy = with honest love. Pooraiy Taal = plays the correct tune (to motivate the mind). Rukhvaal = God. 2.

Bajaari = street entertainer. Bajaarh(i) = the street-like body. Sodhaiy = purifies. Paanch Puleeteh = the five impure senses. Perbodhaiy = awakens; purifies. Naou Naayik = the Lord of the earth with nine regions. 3.
Tuskur = thief. Taat(i) = jealousy. Inderi Kaiy Jutun = with the efforts to control the senses. Lukhun = virtues. Ut(i) Roop = extremely handsome. Bichukhun = wise. 4.
MEANING: What a word means all depends upon the way you interpret it. For example, the world believes that the word "Kootun(u)" means a rogue. Pause.
But I believe a "Kootun(u)" is a person who beats up his mind (to stop it from immoral thinking). If one beats up his mind, he becomes free from the Angel of spiritual death. A person who beats up his mind and tests it again and again achieves complete freedom (emancipation). 1.
(Some people believe that they can please their deity by dancing as a ritualistic act), But I believe that a true dancer is the one who dances from the heart, because God cannot be pleased with falsehood. He can be pleased only with honest love. A real dancer is the devotee who plays the correct tune (to Guru's Shabad) so that his mind dances (blooms) with joy of union with God, who becomes the guard of the mind of such a dancer. 2.
Similarly, a true street entertainer is one who entertains and purifies his street-like body (a stage for performance) and his five impure senses. He recognizes the worship of God, who is the Lord of the earth with nine regions. I will acknowledge such an entertainer as Guru. 3. Likewise, a true thief is the one who steals (controls) his feeling of jealousy, and recites God's Naam with the effort to steal (control) his five senses. My mind-enlightening Guru is praise-worthy, extremely handsome, and wise, with whose grace I have acquired noble virtues, oh Kabir. 4.7.10.

Word Meaning: Gopal = God. Unaad(i) = grains. Kuvul = lotus-like (heart). Tehkayv = blooms. Milibo = get connected with. Saaringpaani = God. 1.
Aad(i) Purakh = the Supreme Being; God. Unn = food. Saad(i) = while enjoying. Pause.
Umbhaiy = water. Neeka = beautiful. Vunn(u) = colour. Teen(i) Bhuvun = universe. 2.

Paakhund = hypocrisy. Rund = without husband. Buktay = call (promote) themselves. Doodhadhaari = who live only on milk. Goopti = in hiding. Vutika = a delicious ball of cooked ingredients. 3.
Sookaal(u) = good times; no suffering due to shortage of food. Tujiyain = giving up. 4.
NOTE: Some people believe that one can realize God by not eating grain-based foods. Kabir Sahib strongly disapproves of this belief and calls such people hypocrites.
MEANING: God, as the Great Guru, deserves our respect as He has created food grains for us. Food grains also deserve respect because the heart of a hungry person blooms like a lotus when he eats food made of grains. Those holy saints are also great who recognize the importance of grain food and recognize God by thankfully worshipping Him. 1.
Food grains are created by the Supreme Being, and we should thankfully recite His Naam while enjoying the taste of different foods. Pause.
A man who lives without food grains loses respect in the entire world because he does not give up water, which gives attractive colours to food grains, so what is the justification to give up eating food grains, which cannot grow without water? In fact, we should be thankful to God for providing us with the food grains, which we must respect, and recite Waheguru's Naam for His kindness. 2. A man who gives up eating food grains is a hypocrite; he is like a woman who is neither married (loved by her husband) nor a widow. Such people promote themselves as consumers of milk products only, but in hiding, eat the whole ball of delicious cooked grains. 3.
We cannot have good times (live comfortably) without grain foods, and one cannot realize God by giving them up. I have fully realized in my mind that the Lord is Great and worthy of our worship, who has created food grains, which we must show respect for, oh Kabir. 4.8.11.

NOTE: The ignorant masses had been so misled by the religious leaders that some of them were willing to do anything to please their deities, or to have some other wishes fulfilled. In asumaydh yugs, horses were sacrificed. Normally, the rajahs used to perform such yagnas. Some other rituals included donating gold equal in weight to the deity or taking dips at holy places, like Prayag (present Allahabad, which is at the confluence of the rivers Ganga and Yamuna), and the like. Nam Dev Ji strongly disapproves of such meaningless practices in this Shabad.

Word Meaning: Toola Purakh Daanay = donate gold equal to one's own weight. 1.
Tuou = those. Poojay = match. Keerut(i) = praise. Aalsiya = lazy. Pause.
Guyya = another holy place. Pind(u) Bherta = distribute small balls of barley or rice flour with the belief that they reach their ancestors. Us(i) = a river near Banaras (Varanasi). 2.
Uchhita = is; has; obeys. Drirrta = keeps under control. Khut Kerm = the six responsibilities of Brahmans = receive, and provide education; perform yagnas, and make others do it; give and receive donations. Sehit = with. 3.
Shiva Shukut(i) Sumbaadun(g) = narration of the whole Ramayana by Shiva to Parbati before its actual happening. Sugul = all. Bhaydun(g) = acts that cause separation from God. Turs(i) = to swim across. Sindhun(g) = sea (of Maya).

MEANING: People may perform yagna with the sacrifice of a horse, or may donate gold equal to their own weight, or may take dips at the holy city of Prayag (Allahabad), but none of such acts can match praising God, or reciting His Naam. Remember your true Lord, God, oh my lazy mind. 1 & Pause.
One may distribute balls made of barley or rice flour at the holy place of Guyya, or live on the bank of the holy river Us(i), which flows by Banaras, or may recite all four Vedas by heart (none of such acts connects him with God). 2.
One may observe all the religious rituals, or control his senses with the advice of his Guru, or may perform all six assigned responsibilities (none of which is approved by God). 3.
One may study the whole Ramayana, but all such acts create more distance between God and the man. So, quit all such rituals, and recite God's Naam by which you will be able to swim across the sea of Maya (and find salvation), oh my mind. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Naad = music. Bhermay = captivates. Mirgaayay = the musk deer. Tujaiy = gives up. Vaa Ko = of that. 1.
Hayroun = (I) see; view. Unut = some other side. Phayroun = turn. Pause.
Meena = fish. Pushooaara = fisherman. Gudhtay = designing. Soonaara = goldsmith. 2.
Bikhuyyi = lustful. Pur Naari = other women. Kaudaan = cowrie shells. Daarut = throwing. Jooaari = gambler. 3.

MEANING: Like a special music captivates the musk deer to the extent that he may lose his life, but does not take his mind away from the music, I see God the same way, and do not turn my mind to any other idea to forget God. 1 & Pause.

Like a fisherman who keeps a sharp eye on the fish; and a like a goldsmith who watches the gold ornament carefully when designing it; and like a lustful man who watches other women; and like a gambler who focuses his mind when casting the cowrie shells (like casting dice), I recite God's Feet (His Naam) with full concentration, and see Him in every direction in which I look, oh Naama (Nam Dev). 3 &4.2.

Word Meaning: Mo kuou = me. Taar(i) lay = salvage. Ajaan(u) = inexperienced. Turibay = swimming. Beetthula = oh, Lord. Baanh day = support with your arm. Pause. Soor = god. Jaat = transforms. Nimukh Meh(i) = in a moment. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Sikhlaayee = taught. Oopuj(i) = born as. Uvkhudh = medication. 1.
Dhoo = Dhroo = a devotee in the Satyug eon. Naarud(u) = a son of Brahma, and a devotee of God. Taykaiy = stabilized. Naiyk(u) = always. Avilumbh(i) = pillar; support.2.

MEANING: I am inexperienced and do not know how to swim. I am drowning in the sea of Maya, so save me, and extend Your arm to ferry me across the sea of Maya, oh God. Pause. With the Guru's advice, one can transform from a human to a god in no time. Born as a human, I have killed the desire to go to paradise with the medication that I have received from the Guru in the form of His advice. (Paradise in no match for the blissfulness that one attains from union with God). 1.
Kindly grant me forever that spiritual state where You have stabilized Dhuroo and Nard, oh Lord. It is my personal belief that many people have found salvation with God's Naam, which supports one's mind (protects it from weakening) like a pillar supports a building, oh Nama (Nam Dev). 2.3.

Gunika = a prostitute whom a sage gave a parrot to teach him to say God. While teaching the parrot, Gunika herself was reciting God's Name, so she was salvaged. Naiynou = of eyes. Pootri = lashes (apple of eye). 2.
Pootna = a witch who was hired by Kuns to kill the child Krishna; but Krishna forgave her. Baal Ghaatni = child-killer. Kupteh Bhuree = full of deceit. Droapud Soot = the daughter of king Droapud, and the wife of the five Pandvaas. Gautum Sutee = (the highly moral Ahilliya, the wife of sage Gautum, who was raped by god Indra with the moon as an accomplice. The sage cursed his wife to become a stone; she was brought back to life by Rama. Silaa = stone. 3.

Kaysi = a wrestler of Kuns who was the maternal uncle of Krishna and wanted to have Krishna killed. Muthun = destruction. Jea-Daan(u) = spared life. Kaali = a dangerous snake in River Yamuna which had struck terror among the people. Pernvaiy = submits respectfully. Jaas(u) = whom. Bhaiy = fears. Upda = trouble. Turee = avoided. 4.
MEANING: All my misgivings were cleared by reciting God's Naam. You, too, recite God's Naam, as this is the supreme deed, oh my friend. One's lower caste or clan become redundant (nobody pays any attention to them) when one recites God's Naam, which is the guiding stick for the blind (ignorant mind). 1.
When one bows to God with reverence, one does not have any fear of the Angel of Death. Pause. God took the life of evil Hernakhsh, and granted room to "the sinner" Ajaiy Mulin in Paradise (emancipated Him). Gunika also got emancipated when she taught a parrot to utter "God". Such God is the apple of my eye. 2.
The deceitful and the child-killer, Pootna, also found salvation by reciting God's Naam. Likewise, the daughter of King Droapud was also liberated when she recited God's Naam. And Ahilliya, the wife of sage Gautam, was emancipated for her faith in God. 3.
It was God who destroyed Kaysi, and Kuns, and spared the life of snake Kaali, which had struck terror among the people living near the River Yamuna. Nam Dev humbly submits that God is such that all one's fears and troubles disappear by reciting His Naam. 4.1.5.

Word Meaning: Bhairon = an incarnation of Shiva, and is an ugly and scary figure. His temples are found in Southern India. Bhoot = ghost; a frightening figure. Seetla = a goddess believed to cause smallpox. She rides a donkey. Bahn = ride; vehicle.
Chhaar(u) = dirt. Oodaavaiy = spreads; raises. Huoun = I. Rumuyyiya = God. Laiyhoun = opt for. Aan = other. Dayv = gods. Budlaavun(i) = in trade. Pause.
Dhiyaavaiy = remembers. Burd Chudhay = rides an ox. Duouroo = tambourine. Dhumkaavaiy = rattles. 2.
Muhaa Maayee = Parbati (wife of Shiva). Aouturaiy = is born. Aad(i) = primal.
Kuhhiut = is said. Bhuvaani = goddess Durga (Chandi), an incarnation of Parbati. Mookut Kee Buriya = at the time of granting emancipation. Chhupaani = hide. Guhhou = hold on to. Pernvaiy = says respectfully. Iyoun = like this. Geeta = song (in God's praise).
NOTE: It is a common belief that a devotee becomes like the deity he worships. Bhairon, an incarnation of Shiva, has ghost-like looks. The goddess Seetla, is believed to be the root of smallpox and rides a donkey. Shiva rides an ox and rattles a tambourine.

MEANING: A person who worships Bhairon, will begin to look like an ugly ghost, and the devotee of goddess Seetla, will, at the most, ride a donkey and spread around dirt.1.
If I could, I would opt for God only and would trade all other gods for him. Pause.
An individual who worships Shiva by uttering “Shiva, Shiva”, will, at the most, ride a bull and rattle a tambourine (a dumb-bell-shaped small drum). 2.
A person who worships Parbati (a goddess) will be born as a female in their next life. 3.
The goddess Durga is considered to be the primal power, but at the time of emancipation, she too goes in hiding somewhere (has no power to emancipate her devotees). 4.
So, it is my humble submission that hold on to (sing with full faith) God’s praise (recite His Naam) with Guru’s advice, oh Nam Dev. 5.2.6.

Word Meaning: Aaj = today; in this life. Beetthul(u) = God. Pause.
Paanday = oh Pundit. Gaayaytri = a three-line holy mantra of Hindus. She was cursed by a sage to become a Cow. Lodhay = of a farmer. Tthaynga = a heavy stick. Tungree = leg. Laangut = limping. 1. Mahadeo = Shiva. Modi = some devotee. Vaa Ka = His. 2. Surbur = battle. Joyay = wife. Guvaayee = lost. 3.
Turkoo = Muslim. Giyani = devotee of God. Dayhoora = temple. Museet(i) = mosque. 4.
MEANING: (You have too many gods to worship, but none of them is even close to God, oh, Pundit). I have seen (realized) the true God recently, and have found out that He is like none of your popular gods, which have so many weaknesses. Let me explain to you the weakness in your gods and goddesses, oh, the ignorant, Pundit. Pause.
Gayatri, whom you worship by reciting her Mantra, which you believe to be very holy, is actually a cursed goddess who was transformed into a cow by Brahma. Once, she was grazing in a farmer’s field when she broke her leg with a stick, and she was seen limping.
1. I also saw (leant about) your Shiva riding a white bull. A devotee arranged a feast in his honour, but rather than being kind and thankful to him, Shiva killed his son in anger. 2.

I saw your god Ram Chand(u) too. He fought a battle against Ravun because he had lost his wife to him (Ravun). (Such are your gods!!). 3.
So, as far as Divinity is concerned, the Hindu is completely blind (ignorant), and the Muslim is blind of one eye (half ignorant because he does believe in one God, Allah, but believes He is to reside on the seventh sky, and in Mecca only. The Knowledgeable (connected with God is wiser than both. Hindu worships idols in the temple, while the Muslim worships Allah In the Mosque. But I worship the "One" which resides neither in the temple, nor in the Mosque only), oh Nam Dev. 4.3.7.

Word Meaning: Mookund = the liberator; God. Aouhaar = perishable. 1. Anunday = bliss. Pause. Praanun(g) = life. Neeshaanun(g) = stamp of approval. Baiyraagi = worldly detached. Doorbul = weak; poor. Dhun(u) = wealth. Laadhi = acquired. 2. Oopkaar = favour. Mayti = removed; is rendered irrelevant. Durbaar(i) = a resident of God's Court. Joag, Joog = in every eon. 3. Oopjiyo = came into being, appeared. Pergaas = enlightenment. Keet = worm. Daas = slave; devotee. Trishna = worldly desires. Chooki = ended. Taahoo Kee = His. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of God; without reciting His Naam, the human body simply goes to waste, oh folks. God is our emancipator, and is our father and mother. 1.
A devotee, who recites God's Naam while living and at the time of death, is always blissful. Pause. God is (the source of) our life. When a devotee recites His Naam, he gets the stamp of God's approval on his forehead. Serving God makes one fully detached from worldly attractions. Also, His Naam is the wealth for the weak (humble). 2.
If God favours someone (one has His support), what harm can the world cause to him? His low caste becomes irrelevant (nobody cares about his caste), and he is given room in God's Court (becomes "one" with God). You are the emancipator in every eon, oh God. 3.
God became benevolent to this worm (me) and accepted me as his devotee. Now, my mind has been enlightened with the Divine Knowledge, and my worldly desires have ended.

Reciting His Naam is the best service to God, oh Ravidass. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Sadh = holy saint; Guru. Ninduk(u) = malicious critic; vilifier. Tyraiy = find salvation. Surpur = for sure. Pause.

Oh(u) = that; the vilifier. Utth-Sutth(i) = 8+60 = 68. Dooadus Silaa = the 12 Shiva-Lingums (his genitals) which are worshipped by the Hindus. Koop = wells. Tutaa = safe access to some river or lake for water. Nind = vilification. Birtha = unrewarded. 1. Grehn = eclipse. Koolkhayt(i) = Kurukshetra (a Hindu holy city where, according to Mahabharat, the war between the Kaurvas and the Paandvas is believed to have taken place. It is believed that a visit to Kurukshetra during the solar eclipse is a holy deed. Urpaiy = offer. Naar(i) = wife. Servnee = with ears. Nuhee Goonaiy = is of no use. 2. Persaad = food for the idols. Sobha = praise; respect. Mundup(i) = in the world. Bigaar(i) = suffer loss. Biraana Saandhaiy = helps others in solving their problems. Joani = lives.3. Pergut(i) = becomes infamous. Pahaara = shop (business) of meanness. Soadh(i) Saadh = after careful analysis. Nerk(i) Sidhaariya = goes to hell. Joarr(u) = total sum.

MEANING: How can a malicious critic (vilifier) of the Guru (or a holy saint) find salvation? Be assured that he will go to hell for sure. Pause.

Even if a vilifier takes dips at all sixty-eight holy places, or worships at all the twelve temples housing the lingams of Shiva, or if he digs wells or pools to provide water to the public, he wastes all that credit if he vilifies the Guru. 1.

If he visits Kurukshetra during solar eclipses and offers his wife (to the Brahmans) along with all her ornaments, or if he listens to all the Simritis with his ears, but vilifies the Guru, he gets no credit for any of such “virtuous” deeds. 2.

If he offers a variety of rich foods to the idols, donates land in charity, and earns praise in the world, or if he suffers personal loss to help others, he still goes through countless life forms (takes rebirths in many different life forms) if he slanders the Guru. 3.

Why do you vilify a holy saint, oh world! A vilifier becomes highly infamous in the world for his business of meanness. After careful analysis, it has been found out that a vilifier is that sinner which goes to hell for sure, oh Ravidass. 4.2.11.7.2.49.

Gutay = level of spirituality. Ugiyan = ignorant. Laaj = dignity. Putay = oh Lord. Pause.

MEANING: Some people study the holy books of Buddhism and Jainism, while others study the Puranas; yet others recite mantras using a rosary to focus their minds. But, now, or ever, I do not recognize (the worship of) any other power; I recognize (have faith in) only Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 1.
I have no idea what my spiritual level will be, as I am foolish and ignorant, but I have come to Your shelter. Kindly protect my dignity (from Maya's attacks), oh Lord. Pause.
Sometimes my mind is in high spirits, while at other times it is very low. My greedy mind does not become stable (contented) and wanders in all four directions. 2.
We come to this world with death written (certain) for us, yet the man makes big plans for his life, oh my mother. We watch many people leave this world, and the burning fire of death is approaching us, too. 3. No friend, no brother, no father, and no mother can save one from the fire of death. However, if Waheguru kindly bestows His Naam to someone, it certainly saves him from future rebirths, humbly submits Nanak. 4.1.

Sehsa = worries; misgivings. Baani = (attractions of) nature (world). Pertaapehanga = will suffer. Praani = oh, man. 4.
MEANING: It is Your Light which has spread everywhere, and I see You wherever I look, oh Waheguru. 1. My mind is engrossed in the deep and dark well (of Maya, where I cannot see any spiritually guiding light); so how can I cross the sea of Maya, oh my Lord? Kindly remove (rid me of) my worldly desires, oh Waheguru. Pause.
Why cannot Waheguru, which is present in every heart, be present outside (in the world)? (He is everywhere). He worries about everyone all the time (knows their needs) and looks after them. 2. Waheguru is fully present everywhere, yet He is close to some people but far away from others. When one connects with the Guru, the darkness of his mind disappears, and he finds Waheguru everywhere he looks. 3.

Word Meaning: Dur(i) = door; residence. Bheetur(i) = inside. Duraan Bheetur = behind the doors; hidden. Luhhaiy = acquires; reaches. Kaarun(i) = for the sake of. Oodaasi = sad; depressed. 1. Kin Bidh(i) = by what means. Jeevutiyaan Muriyaiy = kill desires while living. Pause.

Roh(u) = rage. Rukhvaala = guard. Aasa = hopes; wishes. Undaysa = despair; worries. Putt = panels (of the door). Jurray = secured firmly. Maya jul = glamour of Maya. Khaayee = ditch. Paani = water (of vices). Ghur Baandhiya = built residence. Sat Kaiy Aasun(i) = seat of pure (pious) heart. 2.

Kintay = countless. Sur(i) = equal to. Uver(u) = other. Huray = oh, Waheguru. 3.

Kuyoun Kur(i) = how can? Aik(u) = One Lord. Kuhhaiy = recite Naam. Jub = when. Undaysa = worries; doubts. Tub Hee = only then. Niraasa = detached from the world. 4.

MEANING: How can one describe Waheguru's residence where He lives? Who can reach the residence of God, who lives hidden behind many doors? 1. Can someone, please, guide me to the Residence for which I am feeling so depressed? Pause.

The residence (human heart) where Waheguru resides has the door of suffering, which is guarded by rage, and which has the two panels of hope and worries (despair). Waheguru resides hidden at the throne which He has made in the human heart. His throne is like a fort with a ditch of Maya's glamour, filled with the water of vices. He appears when the human heart becomes pure of all the above vices (obstacles). 2.

Many people worship You by countless names, but nobody has ever found Your limits. There is nobody like You, oh Waheguru. There is no need to tell Waheguru your problems aloud as He resides in your mind, and knows all about them; He solves them in His own way, oh my mind. 3. When a man has hopes, he has worries (and doubts) too, so how can he recite the Naam of the Lord (with doubts in his mind)? He can realize Waheguru only when he remains detached from the world where man always has big hopes and desires, oh Nanak. 4. This is how (by overcoming hopes and desires) one can swim across the world sea, and kill desires while living in the family. Second Pause.

Jhoali = a sack containing the dry food collected as donations that that the yogis hang on their shoulders. Bheekhiya = alms; donation. 1.
Gorakh(u) = a spiritual guru of the yogis; the Lord of the earth, Waheguru. Jaagaiy = is awake. Goyay = earth. Otthaali = created and looks after. Baar Na = no time. Pause.
Praan = life, breaths. Mookh(i) = major. Deeyay = lamps. Aitay = these many. 2.

Kaagud = paper. Ghirt = ghee; butter-oil. Jum(u) = Angel of death. 4.
MEANING: (The yogis meditate on Shiva or on their Guru Gorakh Nath, and blow their trumpet to glorify their faith, and to announce their arrival; they also carry a shallow dish to collect alms, and hang a sack on their shoulder to collect dry food). Guru Sahib says that I also meditate, but on Waheguru's Huqam (Naam), and that the Guru's Teachings are my trumpet, which I blow for the whole world to listen. My focused mind is my shallow dish, and my sack is to receive the donation of Waheguru's Naam, which I beg for. 1.
My Waheguru is awake all the time, and is the Lord of the earth which He created and which He looks after, and He took no time to create it, oh baba (yogi). Pause.
Waheguru has created life by putting the basic elements – like water and air – together, and has given us the moon and the sun as the major lamps. He has given us the earth to live on and to die on. (But we are so ungrateful that) Despite all these favours to us, we forget Him. 2. There are many people like the accomplished yogis, practising Yogism, Jungams, Muslim holy men, and other religious leaders who worship God in their own ways, but I will only sing Waheguru's praise with them if I ever meet them; this is my way to serve the Lord. 3. Just like paper and the salt, which are not harmed (dissolved) by water when they are covered by ghee, and whereas the lotus flower flourishes (Is protected) in water, the Angel of death can cause no harm to the devotees who are connected to (protected by) Waheguru's saints, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Machhinder = the founder of yogism; a popular yogi at the time of Guru Nanak Sahib. Vusgut(i) = control. Punch = the five demons. Doalaiy = weakening of mind. Aiysi Joogut(i) = such technique. Paalaiy = live by. Kool = clan; associates. 1.

Agumm = (Word of) Waheguru. Chaylay = of disciple. Sundh(i) = union. Deekhiya = Teaching. Daaroo = medication. Bhojun = meal. Chhay Dershun = the six ascetic sects. Sojhi Paayay = acquires the understanding (does not need them).
NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib advises a prominent yogi, Macchinder, that the path that the yogis follow does not lead to union with Waheguru. Only by enshrining Waheguru's Naam in the heart and by living a life of high moral values leads to the union.
MEANING: The person who is really detached from the world is the one who practices the wisdom of meditating on Waheguru in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya day and night. Pause.
Listen to Nanak, oh Machhinder; a true yogi is the one who controls all five demons so that his mind does not show any weakness for any sensual pleasure, and he practices this principle over his whole life. Not only does such a yogi find salvation for himself, but he also does so for his associates. 1.
He begs for the alms of Waheguru's Naam with the spirit of worship, which becomes his way of life. Such a yogi acquires the priceless contentment and satisfaction. He sits in meditation on Waheguru with full concentration and remains in that state, reciting Waheguru's Naam. 2. Listen, oh Machhinder, such a yogi is recognized by the fact that he sings Waheguru's immortalizing praise, oh Nanak. He spends his life staying detached from the world, which lives on hopes. (He does not leave home to connect with Waheguru). He realizes Waheguru for sure. 3.
This is the Word (Law) which I have shared with you, oh Machhinder. Waheguru connects such a yogi with the Guru, and the yogi takes the Guru's Shabad as his spiritual food and understands the philosophy of the six sects of the ascetics (that they do not connect one with Waheguru, oh Nanak). 4.5.

Sidh = accomplished yogis. Saadhik = practising yogism. Jungam = devotees of Shiva. They hold bells in their hands and feathers of peacocks, and a metal snake on their heads. Aik(u) Sidh(u) = Waheguru. Persun Paiyr = touching Feet; surrendering to. Sijhut = become successful. Akkhur(u) = Waheguru's Naam. 2.
Jup = recitation of ritualistic mantras. Tup = self-affliction to please a deity. Sunjum = efforts to control the senses. Kerm = rituals. Bhaytiou = met. Nibayra = decision. 4.
MEANING: You are fully capable of emancipating people; kindly salvage me too, oh my Guru. I love You so much that I can lay down my life for You; kindly grant me the worship of (enable me to worship) the omnipresent and the eternal Waheguru. Pause.
My body-boat is full of sins, and I am afraid that a wind of vices may hit it to sink it. I have come to Your shelter to connect with Waheguru, and I have faith that You will certainly bestow this honour on me, oh my dear Guru. 1.
May it be an accomplished yogi, a practising yogi, or a Jungam, whoever worships the "One" Yogi (Waheguru), by reciting His Naam, becomes successful in their objective when they touch the Feet of (surrender to) Waheguru. 2.
I know nothing about (I do not acknowledge) reciting any mantras, self-torturing, trying to keep control of my senses, or any other religious ritual; I only recite Your Naam, oh Waheguru. Waheguru has connected me with the Guru, who advised me that a man's union with God is determined solely by whether he recites His Shabad (Naam), oh Nanak. 3.6.

Word Meaning: Soortee = the deity on which the mind is focused (Waheguru). Soort(i) = concentration of mind. Rulaayiyaiy = mix well; meditate deeply. Ait(u) = like this. Toolha = raft, a crude boat. Lungheh(i) = cross over. Jayt(u) = with which. Bhaah(i) = fire (yearning to see Waheguru). Ehinis(i) = day and night. Deeva = lamp. Athuck = tirelessly. 1.

NOTE: On the night of the full moon in the month of Kutik (October- November), Hindu women make lamps of wheat flour and float them in water on a raft, believing their light reaches their ancestors to guide them, or will guide them after their death.

MEANING: (Stressing on the insignificance of such rituals, Guru Nanak Sahib advises us): One should float such a lamp on water by which he acquires Divine Knowledge. Pause.

He should focus his mind on Waheguru in such a way that his body is so purified (has no load of sins to cause it to sink in the world-sea) that it becomes the raft (ship) to ferry him across this sea. Save the fire (yearning to connect with Waheguru) burning inside you, so that this lamp keeps lighting tirelessly (never fades or dims), oh man. 1.

Use the Divine Knowledge as the clay to make the lamp, which is recognized (given credit) by Waheguru. Like a potter moulds the earthen lamps on his wheel, the devotee should mould this lamp (design it) on the wheel of noble deeds, and it will last with him (will enlighten his mind) in this world, and the next. 2.

However, only some rare person, whom Waheguru is kind to, understands these qualities of the lamp in the shelter of the Guru. Float such a lamp on the water; it will never die or be put out by water. Such a lamp will enlighten the mind of the devotee forever. 3.

Such a lamp will never flicker in the wind (of calamities or worldly attractions) and will never be put out, and the devotee will be able to see Waheguru sitting on the throne of his heart in the light of this lamp. Be it a Khatri, a Brahman, an untouchable, a businessman, a farmer, or a member of any of the other thousands of castes (which cannot be counted), anyone who lights up such a lamp becomes eligible for salvation, oh Nanak. 4.7

Dhikkaar Kuhaiy = put down; disapprove; rebuke. Maan(u) = respect. Shah = Lord. Dur = His Court (His Laws). Kehn(u) = my words. 4.

MEANING: Accepting Your Huqam gladly is the true bowing to (kneeling before) You, and singing Your praise with a pure mind is the true gift for You with which one gets a room in Your Court (is accorded honour by You), oh Waheguru. When one prays to Him with high morality and contentment, Waheguru calls him in and offers a seat next to Him. 1.

Waheguru is so kind (and just) that nobody leaves His Court unrewarded. Pause.

The devotee, whom You are kind to, receives the treasure of Your Naam. But only that devotee receives Your Naam in whose heart You have cultivated Your love, and whom You have given the ability to value the worth of Your Naam. I, Nanak, am also a beggar at Your Door, and am very excited about receiving Your Naam, oh Lord. 2.

Only Waheguru has the capability to do anything and everything, and He does things that He finds worth doing. The Royal Waheguru appears in the heart of those who come to the Guru's shelter, and they realize that when one merges into Waheguru, he never takes rebirths and dies. 3. Anybody who begs just to have his needs fulfilled does not get any respect; he is indeed rebuked by the people. (So, I beg only from You, oh Waheguru). Whatever I have stated about Your Laws, and about whatever happens in Your Court, I have stated only because You enabled me to do so, oh Waheguru. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Saagur = ocean. Boond = droplet. Kuvun = who; some rare. Boojhaiy = understands. Bidh(i) = ways. Ootbhooj = sources of reproduction. Chult = amazing feats. Chhenaiy = Puchhaanaiy = recognizes (their needs, and looks after them). 1.

Aisya Giyan = such knowledge. Koyee = rare. Permgut(i) = highest spiritual state. Pause.

Raiyn(i) = night. Diniur(u) = the sun; day. Oosun = heat. Seet = cold. Bidh(i) Soyee = the same way. Ta Kee = His (Lord's). Gut(i) = transcendence. Mit(i) = measurements.2.

Purakh = male. Naar(i) = female. Dhoon(i) = concentration of mind. Dhiyaan = thinking. Akuth Kahaani = indescribable story of God's wonders. 3.

Jot(i) = God's Light. Munooa = mind. Punch = the five senses. Milay = come together. Gur Bhaayee = disciples of the same guru (mind). Live Laayee = focus on. 4.

MEANING: Like a droplet and the ocean are two forms of the same water (human soul and the Supreme Soul are two forms of the same Waheguru), but only a rare person understands this secret (the way of operation of Waheguru). With His amazing feats, Waheguru has created the four sources of reproduction, and knows the needs of all the living beings (and looks after them). 1. Some rare individuals contemplate such deep feats of Waheguru and attain the highest spiritual state and become emancipated. Pause.

Similarly, day and night are two forms of the same source, light, and merge into each other; so are heat and cold, which are forms of the same source, energy, and change into each other the same way day and night do. Nobody knows the transcendence and measurements of Waheguru without the Guru. 2.

Only a devotee with Divine Knowledge understands that male and female, too, are forms of the same source - sperms and eggs, and awareness - and most of their characteristics are the same and can be transformed into each other (surgeons have proved it now when they transform a male into a female and vice-versa with the use of surgery and hormones). Waheguru's wonders are beyond description, but a devotee can know such secrets when he gets connected with Waheguru by meditating on the Guru's Shabad with full focus. 3.

I will gladly offer my life (serve the) devotees who meditate only on Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) with full focus, oh Nanak. They have Waheguru's Light in their minds, and their minds stay focused on His Light (Waheguru), and they are able to control all five senses as they become the disciples of the same guru (enlightened mind). 4.9.

Word Meaning: Ja = when. Kirpa Dhaari = became benevolent. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Sayvuk(i) = female devotee. 1.

Bhaavaiy = is liked. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Laaj = (the fear of being) shamed. Pause. Ubhud Dhoon(i) Vaajay = auto-playing Divine music. Ghora = immense. Maaniya = won over. Rus(i) = in sweetness. Sach(u) = eternal Lord. Smaaya = absorbed fully. Aad(i) Purakh(u) = the origin of everything (God). 2.

Naad = music. Bayd = the Vedas. Raata = imbued. Saaringpaani = Waheguru. Teh = there. Teeruth = holy places. Vert = commitments (like fasting). Tup = self-affliction. 3.

Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Bhuou = fear. Churni = feet; shelter. Bherm(u) = doubts.4.

MEANING: That devotee of Waheguru is liked (loved) by Him who does not care about being shamed by the world, and sings His praise day and night. Pause.
Such a devotee, who contemplates on the Guru's Shabad, is loved by God. The selfishness and the ego of such a devotee are destroyed when Waheguru becomes benevolent to him. 1.
With the grace of the Perfect Guru, my mind has been won over by the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and I have been connected with the root of everything (God). Now, I am fully absorbed in Him, and feel as if immensely sweet Divine music is playing automatically in my mind. 2.
My mind has been imbued in Waheguru's love, and Gurbani (singing praise of Waheguru) subsumes all music and all other ways, including the study of the Vedas, pilgrimage to holy places, all ritualistic commitments, and self-affliction, which people use to please their deities (I do not need them). Waheguru salvages all His devotees who take the Guru's shelter. 3.
When a devotee surrenders his wisdom to the Guru and, with His benevolence, gets rid of his selfishness and ego, all his fears disappear. Satguru dispels all his doubts, and the devotee connects with Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Chhaadun = clothes. Bhojun = food. Khoodhiya = appetite (for worldly attractions). Doosht = evil. Julaiy = burns in the fire of (suffers). Aagaiy = next world. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Put(i) = dignity. Khoyee = loses. Koyee = some rare. 1.
Joogut(i) = lifestyle. Sehj(i) Ghur(i) = peaceful mind. Drisht(i) = sight. Bheekhiya = alms. Bhaayay = with love for (Waheguru). Shabad(i) = with Guru's Shabad. Triptaasay = contented. Pause.
Punch Baiyl = five oxen (senses). Gudeeya = vehicle. Dayh = human body. Kulaa = power. Nibhhaiy = lasts (is maintained) till the end. Put(i) = respect. Dhur = support. Sir Bhaar(i) = turns on the side. Bikhur(i) = scattered. Juree = burns; rots. Munjh = in.2.
Sum = equal. Soag = grief; sadness. Biyogi = pain of detachment. Bhoogut(i) = food. Usthir(u) = stable. Kundh = body; mind. Nirunkaari = devotee of Waheguru. 3.
Jugota = a woollen waste band worn by yogis. Bundhun = worldly bonds. Chhoota = emancipated. Loota = robbed; eradicated. Moonderaan = glass earrings. 4.

MEANING: A real yogi is the one whose lifestyle is such that he always has a peaceful mind (fully contented). Such a yogi sees everyone with the same eye and sees Waheguru in everybody. (Rather than going door to door for alms), he begs for Waheguru's Naam with love, and stays contented with Guru's Shabad. Pause.
But, in reality, a yogi burns (suffers) in the fire of evil appetite for worldly desires, and runs around begging for clothes and food, as a result of which he acquires no spirituality, and suffers even in the next world. He does not seek the Guru's advice, and loses respect because of his ill-advice (immoral thinking). Only a rare individual worships Waheguru with the Guru's advice. 1.
The man is given a human body as the vehicle (to reach Waheguru), which is pulled by his five senses as the oxen. As long as he uses Waheguru as the power (stays connected with him), his body-vehicle reaches Waheguru's Court with dignity. But, when he loses Waheguru's support (becomes disconnected with Him), his body-vehicle becomes disabled just like a wooden-cart which turns on the side when its axle is broken, and just like the disabled wooden-cart which rots under its weight, the disabled human body rots under the weight of its evil deeds, and does not reach Waheguru's Court. 2.
(If you want to get connected with Waheguru), Then ponder on Guru's Shabad, and accept comforts and discomforts, and grief and the detachment from worldly attractions the same way; and let Waheguru's Naam and pondering on Guru's Shabad be your spiritual food, oh yogi. Also, recite Waheguru's Naam with a stable (fully focused) mind to be the devotee of Waheguru. 3.
Let a peaceful mind be your woollen waistband, which will liberate you from worldly bonds; and get rid of your lust and greed with the Guru's Shabad. Rather than wearing glass earrings in your ears (which remind him of their deity – Shiva), wear Waheguru's Naam in your heart (to keep Him in mind) and take Waheguru's, Guru's shelter. Such a yogi will find salvation, on Nanak. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Satjoog = the first and the best of the four eons (Hindu holy books). Hindu books believe that the earth is supported by an ox. With every successive eon, the ox (which has its roots in dherma – the morals of the people), loses one of its legs.1. Vudiyaayee = respect. J(i) = those. Pause. Traytaiy = in the second eon. Kul = power; support (leg). Paakhund(u) = hypocrisy. Vertiya = became the common practice. Sojhi = understanding. Vusaiy = resides; is present. 2. Dooaapur(i) = in the third eon. Doojay = the other; Maya. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Bherm(i) Bhoolaanay = misled by misgivings. Doyay = belief in some other power than God. Drirraayay = reinforces; firms up belief. 3. Moh(i) = love for. Ut(i) = extreme. Goobaar(u) = darkness. Oodhaar(u) = salvation. 4. Keerut = praise. Vukhaanaiy = recites. Koyee = some (rare). 5. Ootum(u) = supreme. Virla = rare. Soyee = that. 6.

MEANING: (The Hindu holy books believe that the very first eon, Satjoog (Sat yuga), was the best eon of the four yugas in which everybody spoke truth and was honest. They believe that people had different characters in different eras, and that there were different beliefs about how to find salvation. The mythical ox that supports the earth loses one leg with every successive eon. But Guru Amar Dass Ji does not agree with such a division of time. He defines a yuga not as a particular time period, but by the character of the people. According to Him, it is Satjoog when people recite Waheguru's Naam, and every household worships Him in Guru's shelter (with His Shabad). The ox that supports the earth is not an animal, but it is the morality of the people. When people have the highest moral character, it is the Sat Yuga. But some rare devotee realizes it in the shelter of the Guru. 1.

It does not matter which yuga it is; one earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam get emancipated, but no one can acquire Waheguru's Naam without the Guru. Pause. (According to the Hindu books), The ox lost one leg in the Trayta yuga, and hypocrisy became the rule of the land; but a Sikh of the Guru learns and understands that one enjoys bliss when Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in his heart (whether the ox loses one leg or not or whether it is hypocrisy everywhere or not). 2.

The Hindu books say that in the third yuga, Dooaapur (Duapar), the ox is left with only two legs, but according to Guru Sahib, it is Dooaapur when people lose faith in Waheguru and, misled by their misgivings, begin to accept some power other than Waheguru. However, a devotee of the Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 3.

According to the Hindu Shastras, the ox is left with only one leg, and people's love for Maya increases. Love for Maya leads to an immense darkness of mind (no light of spirituality), but, regardless of increased love for Maya in Kalyug, a devotee who connects with the Guru is salvaged. 4. No matter what the yuga (or eon it is), it is the Huqam (power) of Waheguru that prevails in every eon. It is Waheguru, and none else, which is present in everybody. One enjoys eternal bliss by singing Waheguru's praise, but very few people recite Waheguru's Naam in the Guru's shelter. 5.

Some rare individual understands this in Guru's shelter that regardless of the eon, Waheguru's Naam is supreme, and only he is the true devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam. One earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam in every yuga, oh Nanak. 6.1.

Word Meaning: Vudbhaag = good fortune. Naamay = with Naam. Smaavaiy = absorbed.1. Praani = oh man. Pergaash(u) Hovaiy = is enlightened. Liv = deep meditation. Pause.
Heera = diamond. Ruttan = rubies. Juvayhur = jewels. Maanuk = pearls. Saagur = human heart. Bhurpoor = full to brim. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. 2.

Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Dhun(u) = praise worthy; great. 4.

MEANING: If a person is highly fortunate, he recites Waheguru's Naam, enjoys blissfulness and gets absorbed in it. 1.
Worship Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru all the time, whereby your heart will be enlightened when you fully focus your mind on Waheguru's Naam with Guru's advice, and you will be fully absorbed in the Naam, oh man. Pause.
Waheguru has filled the human heart to its capacity with His Naam and with virtues which are precious like diamonds, rubies, jewels, and pearls (and which connect one with Waheguru), but are hidden. A devotee, who has great fortune on his forehead, brings them to the surface (they are reflected in his character) with the advice of the Guru. 2.
Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like jewels and rubies, makes the devotee feel as if they were in the palm of His hand. But, the unfortunate lovers of Maya cannot acquire the invaluable Naam (worth countless money) because it is hidden behind the strong curtain of worthless Maya. 3.
Waheguru puts those devotees in the service of the Guru who have good fortune written on their foreheads right from their birth. Waheguru's advice is great, with which one acquires Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like rubies and jewels, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Bhaytaayay = connects with. Daalud = poverty. Dookh(u) = suffering. Leh Jaayay = gets removed (eradicated). 2.
Neekay = good; noble. Na Sookhaayay = unsuitable; disliked. Jiyoun = just when. Oochay = of high spirituality; the noble. Ninduk = vilifier. Duns(u) = sting. 3.

Duyya = mercy; compassion. Deen = poor; helpless. Shernaayay = in shelter. Baarik = children. Bukhsh = by forgiving; with benevolence. 5.

MEANING: The devotees of Waheguru chant (recite) Waheguru's Naam with the advice of the Guru. Whosoever listens to Waheguru's Naam or recites it, gets emancipated; those who recite Waheguru's Naam, look exalted. Pause.
The devotees of Waheguru feel highly blissful when they join together to sing Waheguru's beautiful (blissful) praise. A man's filth of his evil wisdom (thinking) is washed away in the company of the holy saints, and he acquires a healthy (pious) wisdom. 1.
A man who has good fortune on his forehead gets connected with Waheguru's devotees. Kindly show me the sight of the holy saints (connect me with them) so that all my spiritual poverty may be eradicated, oh Waheguru. 2.
Waheguru's devotees are good (noble) people, but are not to the liking of the unfortunate (vilifiers). As the noble devotees continue to recite Waheguru's Naam, their vilifiers sting them more with their malicious comments. 3.
Shame on those who vilify Waheguru's devotees, who are really friends with Waheguru. The vilifiers, who do not like the respect accorded to the Guru, have their faces turned away from the Guru, and are actually the thieves of Waheguru as well (they ungratefully use His gifts) and have black faces (are disgraced) because of their evil deeds. 4.

I have come to Your shelter; kindly protect the poor me, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, am Your child, and You are my father. Please be kind and connect me with You, oh Lord. 5.2.

Word Meaning: Sukhaa = friends; connected with. Neekay = noble. Haath(u) Vutaavaiy = places kind hand; always supports. Bhaayay = like; love. Milaayay = connects with.1.
Ram = oh, Waheguru. Amiyo = Amrit. Rus(u) = essence. Pause.

Rid = heart. Tun(i) = body. Baataan = talks. Koorr(u) = lies; falsehood. Ful(u) = reward.3.
Mo Kuou = to me. Jug Jeevun = life of the world; Waheguru. Daatay = provider. Pugeen = feet; shelter. Baadh(i) = sever. Jit(u) = on which. 4.

MEANING: Kindly connect me with the holy men so that my mind begins to like (love) You, oh Waheguru. The essence of Your Amrit-like Naam is so sweet that I want to taste it in their company. Pause.
The holy saints are noble (transcendent), and are friends with (connected with) Waheguru. Waheguru always places His kind hand on them. But only those are saints who are liked by Waheguru, and whom He connects with Him with His benevolence through the Guru. 1.
Waheguru's devotees are highly transcendent, and one attains the highest spiritual state in their company. I wish to be a slave of the slaves of the holy saints whom God is pleased with (He is kind to). 2.
Those who serve the holy saints and have love for Waheguru cultivated in their heart, mind, and body are fortunate. Those who talk a lot without love for Waheguru, tell lies, and talk only about material things may get short-lived rewards (but no spirituality). 3.
Please, be kind to me, and put me in the shelter of the holy saints, oh Lord. I will gladly sever my head to offer it as a vehicle if they would kindly come to me (I will kill my own wisdom, put my head on their feet, and serve them selflessly), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Jun = holy saint. Dhill = delay; in no time. Koont = Sur = pool. Neekay = beautiful; purifying. Tit(u) = in those. 1 Kaaraiy = in the service of. Pukkha = hand fan. Peesoun = I grind; mill. Pug = feet. Dhoor(i) = dust of the feet. Pause.
Vudday = Oochay = transcendent. Purakh = omnipresent Waheguru. 2.
Shern(i) = shelter; to surrender. Laaj = dignity. Sooaayay = selfish interest. Bugul = heron; an imposter. Smaadh(i) = (pretend to be in) deep meditation. 3.
Kaag = crow. Neech = of low character. Kurung = carcass. Bikhoo = poison; feces; filth. Huns(u) = swan = a holy man.

MEANING: If I am very fortunate, it will not take any time for me to get connected with a holy saint. The holy saints are pools (sources) of mind-purifying Amrit (Waheguru's Naam); but only the highly fortunate take a dip in such pools (join their company). 1.
Put me in the service of Your holy saints so that I may haul water for them, fan them in hot weather, grind flour for them, wash their feet, rub them well, and drink the wash (a commonly used expression of respect), oh Waheguru. Pause.
Waheguru's holy saints are highly transcendent and connect you with Satguru. There is no one else as great as Satguru; it is only in the shelter of Satguru that one can recite Waheguru's Naam. 2. I have come to the shelter of Satguru with the kindness of the holy saints; now protect my dignity (against the attacks of Maya) and connect me with You, oh Waheguru. But many join the gathering of the Satguru for selfish reasons. They are impostors who pretend to sit there in deep meditation like a heron which does not move (to give the impression of a swan which does not catch fish) while catching fish. 3.
Such impostors are like herons and crows, which like the company of other low-level birds which nibble on carcasses and filth. I pray to Waheguru to put me in the company of the holy saints because it is the gathering of holy men where even a heron-like imposter is transformed into a swan-like holy man, oh Nanak. 4.4.

I cannot survive even for a short moment without my Dear, and suffer spiritual death without seeing Him, oh my mother. I am highly fortunate that I came to the shelter of the Guru because it is with the Guru's benevolence that I have had a sight of Waheguru. 2.
I cannot think of, and do not understand anything else other than reciting Waheguru's Naam, which I recite with His benevolence. Those who are devoid of Waheguru's Naam earn a huge disgrace. 3. I am highly fortunate that I listened to the story of Waheguru's virtues (His praise) from the Guru, whom I loved to the core of my heart. It is because of the Guru that I have committed Waheguru's Naam to memory (recited by the tongue). Pause.

Please be kind to me, and disregard my virtues and my bad qualities, oh, kind to the helpless, Waheguru. The condition of the human body (mind) is very similar to mud that cannot be washed. The human mind, too, cannot be washed free of filth by washing the body. 1.
Waheguru creates the human body to be perishable like earthenware, and dignifies it by placing His Light in it. We perform only those kinds of deeds for which we are programmed as per the prewritten fortune by the Creator (Waheguru). 2.
We believe that our body and mind are ours forever – the belief which becomes the root cause of our rebirths and deaths. The (spiritually) blind man does not remember the Lord who has given our body and mind, and is trapped in the love for his body. 3.
(Regardless of how the man treats his body), Only the Creator, Waheguru, knows the future of our bodies because we have no access to His secrets. I am a slave (devotee) of Waheguru, and sing His praise to worship Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Kuthou Kuhaani = narrate the story; sing praise. Soor = Dayv = god. Nur = human. Puvittar = holy; pious. Khin(u) = short moment. Bani = Guru's Shabad. Pause.

Perpunch(u) = attractions of the world. Sehj Ghur = stable (contented) mind. Nuvaiy Nidh(i) = the nine treasures. In bidh(i) = this is how. Tut(u) = essence; Waheguru. Biloyee = churn; find; realize. 2. Bherm Chookaavhou = clear up (get rid of) all doubts. Liv Laavhou = meditate deeply. Aatum Cheenhou = do self-analysis. Nicket(i) = near. Haajur(u) = present. Booraayee = bad dealing; mistreatment. 3.
Maarug(u) = path. Mookta = free of obstacles. Sehjay = without any special effort. 4.
MEANING: Sing praise of Waheguru by Guru's Shabad in His shelter, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. The hearts of men and gods get purified by singing Waheguru's praise even if it is for a short moment (when they sing with full faith and a focused mind). Pause.
Serve the world (and the Guru) by being so humble as if you are the dust of everybody's feet, and raise your spiritual level. Consider everybody superior to you; only then will you get recognition in Waheguru's Court. 1.
Take Satguru's shelter (surrender your wisdom to Him), and churn your mind (analyze it); ignore all the worldly attractions to control your mind so that it is peaceful (quits wavering), and do not call anyone a liar. This is how you will find reality (get connected with Waheguru), the source of all the nine treasures of the world. 2.
Analyze your mind in the shelter of Satguru, and meditate deeply on Waheguru's Naam to clear all your doubts, oh my brothers. If you believe that Waheguru is close to you, you will find Him present in everybody. Then, how will you be able to mistreat (or hurt) anybody? 3.
When you connect with Satguru, you will find no obstacle on your path to union with Waheguru, and you will connect with Him without any special effort. Those devotees are great who realize Waheguru in this iron age (full of jealousy and aggression); I am always a sacrifice for them, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Aavut = comes. Herkh = joy. Jaavut = leaves. Biyaapaiy = affects. Roagni = sickness. Aanund = blissfulness. Tuou = then. Sugul = all. Biyogni = pain of separation.1. Bidh(i) = means. Joagni = connected with God. Soag(u) = grief. Loag(u) = (taunting of the) people. Rus = sweetness (of union). Bhoagni = enjoy. Pause.
Soorg = paradise (sky). Mirt = our earth. Puyyaal = the underworlds. Aloagni = detached. Aagiyakari = obedient; devotee. Bhoonchaiy = enjoy. Jut Kut = wherever. Paykhoun = see. 2 Shiv Shakti = Waheguru's Power; Maya. Akaar(u) = heavenly bodies (the whole creation). Maydni = world. Joag = union. Tuhaa = there. Jeh = where. Avigut = invisible (God). Nath = Dhunee = Lord. Agumm = in accessible. 3.

Gunee = count. Hum-Toom = I and you; discrimination. Umbh(u) = water. Miloagni = mixes.4
NOTE: At the time of Guru Sahiban, worship of idols was the norm; anyone who worshipped God was ridiculed.
MEANING: Ever since I have been connected with the Perfect Guru (come to his shelter), I have been connected with Waheguru, and my pain of separation from Him has been eliminated. Now I do not feel any excitement about wealth coming to me, nor any pain if it leaves me. I am always blissful now. 1.
This is how I realized Waheguru in my heart. Now, I am enjoying the sweetness of His union in the spiritual state, and am totally unaffected by any worldly attachment, grief, (mental) sickness, or taunting of the people. Pause.
Detached from the worldly attractions, I see Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues to be present everywhere, and feel the sky, the earth, and the underworld to be equally pure (because of Waheguru's presence in them), and nothing in the three worlds attracts me, which may cause me to commit any immoral act. 2.
In this high spiritual state (union with Waheguru), I find my Satguru, and the invisible, inaccessible, and the Lord, Waheguru, to be permanently present in my mind; and no Maya, beauty of animals in the water, in the air, or on the land can distract me. 3.
My body, my mind, and my wealth all belong to Waheguru (are given by Him); so, how can I keep account of His countless virtues (favours)? Just as water mixes with another body of water and becomes indistinguishable, my Satguru has caused me to merge into Waheguru, where I cannot distinguish between friends and foes, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Traiy-Goon = the three effects of Maya (see "Introduction" at the beginning). Reht = free from. Niraari = unaffected. Ruttan = jewel-like (virtues; Waheguru's Naam). Koatthrri = a beautiful room. Amrit-Sumpoorun (full of Amrit). Khujaanaiy = in the treasure.1. Achurj = amazing. Bust = thing (Naam-Amrit). Agoachur = incomprehensible. Pause.
Moal(u) = to value; find worth. Kernaiy Joga = capable of. Kuthun Kehn = to describe. Soajhi = wisdom; knowledge. Paykhaiy = see; experience. Bun(i) Aavaiy = is qualified. 2. Soyee = that. Triput(i) = Aaghaayee = contented. 4.
MEANING: Satguru has a beautiful room (treasure) full of jewel-like virtues (Waheguru's Naam) in His treasure (heart). The precious contents in this room are above the three effects of Maya about which the accomplished yogis or those who practise yogism know nothing about. 1.

The contents of the treasure are amazing and are physically inaccessible. They are beyond description, oh my friends. Pause.
Nobody can put any material value on those virtues, so what can be said about them? No one has the wisdom (or the knowledge) to describe them; only the individual who experiences them is qualified to say something about them (describe them). 2.
Only the Creator knows about His virtues; what can the poor man who has been created by Him know about them? Only Waheguru, which has His treasures full of precious virtues, knows about His transcendence, and His measurements 3.
Whoever tastes the Amrit-like sweet taste of His Naam, becomes fully contented. My wish (of tasting Lord's Naam) has been fulfilled since I came to Satguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 4.4.

MEANING: Waheguru was so benevolent to me that I was able to bring my enemy demons under control. The demons, which have plundered the whole world and robbed it of its virtues, have been arrested for me. 1.
My Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru. By reciting His Naam with full faith, I feel as if I am enjoying the reign and luxuries of countless countries. Pause.

Word Meaning: Daana = know-all. Ubichul(u) = everlasting. Jaat(i) = caste. Paati = clan. Adoal =unyielding; firm. Taati = dependence on others; worry. 1.
Aikaiy = only one. Raaya = Royal Waheguru. Tuou = Your. Kirpa = benevolence. Pause. Saagur = sea; lake. Huns = swans (they are believed to feed on pearls). Maanuk Laala = pearls and rubies. Til = small amount. Shunk = suspicion; mistrust. Bhoonchaiy = enjoy. Nihaala = blessed. 2. Baarik = children. Kheera = milk. Laad Ludaaveh = enjoy love. Gooni = possessing all virtues. Guheera = deep (sea). 3.
Poorun = perfect; omnipresent. Ppor(i) Ruhhaiy Sumpoorun = with You treasures full to capacity. Aghaayay = contented. Milt = in the process of uniting. Mil(i) Ruhhiya = merges completely. 4.

MEANING: You are the only one who is the Emperor of the universe, oh Waheguru. I enjoy all comforts (bliss) because of Your benevolence. Pause.
You are the know-all (omniscient), everlasting, my caste, and my clan (I have my existence and my honour because of You). You are unyielding and never lose confidence; so why should I be worried about anything? 1.
You are the lake which is full of pearls and rubies (are the source of all virtues), and we are Your swans in the lake (devotees) who feed on peals (noble qualities) for our spiritual survival. You provide us with the needed peals, and never doubt our faith in You; we enjoy Your largesse and stay blessed. 2.
We are Your children, and You are our father who feeds us milk (fulfill our needs). We enjoy life in Your love (and make many mistakes), but You are a deep sea of all virtues (including kindness, and You forgive us for our rudeness, oh Lord. 3.
You are Perfect, and omnipresent; and Your treasures are always full to meet all our needs; so, we are fully content too, in Your shelter. With our persistent trying, You become benevolent, and connect us with You, oh Lord. I, Nanak, cannot fully describe Your benevolence. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Ker = hands. Kur(i) = by making. Taal = cymbals. Pukhaavuj = tabor. Naiynhou = by the eyes. Maathaiy = on the forehead. Rubaaba = a lute-like wire instrument. Kernhou = from the ears. Mudh(u) = honey-like sweet. Baansuri = flute. Jihva = tongue. Dhoon(i) = musical sound. Agaaja = plays aloud. Nirt(i) = dance. Ghoonghur = bells. 1. Paykhaiy = watches. Saaj Sheengaari = instruments and other decorations. Pause.
Aakhaar Mundlee = arena for dancing. Subaayee = all. Guggun(u) = sky. Chundoa = canopy. Puvun = air; noise of worldly attractions. Vichola = mediator. Ikayla = alone. Jul = water; the sea of Maya. Oaput = originated. Punch Tut(u) = the five basic elements. Pootra = the puppet; human body. Kirt = former deeds. Milaava = union. 2.
Juray = burn; inlaid. Churaaga = lamps. Chuhoun Koont = the four directions. Bheetur(i) = in. Dus Paatou = the ten senses. Punch = the five demons. Sungeeta = low-caste; mean. Aikaiy = in the one (same) body. Saathaiy = together. Bhinn = different. Bhaav Dikhaayay = try to seduce. Niraari = their own; unique. Bhaakhay = language; signs. 3.
Ghur(i) = in heart. Vaajaiy Toora = plays music (of worldly attractions). Aik(i) = many. Nuchaaveh(i) = make humans to dance to their tune. Bhuvaaveh(i) = mislead. Dhoora = are reduced to dust (are humiliated). Buhour = again. Bhaytay = gets connected. 4.

MEANING: [Some people believe that they can please Waheguru (or their deities) by dancing; but disapproving this practice (and belief), Guru Sahib says that everybody is already dancing non-stop in nature – albeit they are dancing at the hands of Maya].
Everybody is dancing in Waheguru's world (for Maya), and the Creator is watching this dance with all the musical instruments and other decorations. Pause.
Man's hands are acting as cymbals when they earn money by fair or unfair means, and his eyes are acting as tabors when they view the world with lust and greed. The fortune on his forehead, as the result of his previous deeds, plays as a lute, and his ears feel as if they are listening to the sweet tunes of a flute when he enjoys malicious criticism about others or to filthy songs. His tongue seems to sing sweet tunes aloud when it enjoys tastes of delicious foods. 1. The whole earth is the arena for humans (their minds) to dance, while the sky is the canopy over the world-arena. Air* (the loud noise of worldly desires, which originate from the sea of Maya), is the only mediator between the human mind and its dancing (worldly attractions make the mind dance). Waheguru created the puppet-like humans from the five basic elements, and their souls are connected to the corresponding bodies according to their previous deeds. 2.

The moon and the sun are two lamps that burn to create light in all four directions. The ten human senses (five basic and five implementers), and the five low-caste demons all reside together in the human mind. All of them try to seduce the human mind with their own unique language (characters). 3.
The music of Maya is playing, and such dancing is taking place in every heart, day and night. Maya's music makes many people dance like puppets and misleads many others to roam from place to place to earn wealth, while many others are humiliated when they have to go through many, many life forms. But a person who is fortunate enough to connect with the Guru (acts on His advice) never has to dance on the hands of Maya again, oh Nanak. 4.7.
NOTE: Farid Sahib has also used Puvun (air) as the loud noise of Maya (worldly desires) in his sloaks. Read the following Sloak as an example:

- ਸਲੋਕ ਫਰੀਦ ਜੀ (1382)॥ ਫਰੀਦਾ ਇਹੁ ਤਨ ਭਉਕਣਾ ਨਿਤ ਨਿਤ ਦੁਖੀਐ ਕਉਨੁ॥ ਕੰਨੀ ਬੁਜੇ ਦੇ ਰਹਾ ਕਿਤੀ ਵਗੈ ਪਉਨੁ*॥

MEANING: Barking for the attractions of Maya is the innate nature of the mind. Who can afford to suffer meeting its demands, oh Farid? I will simply plug my ears (refuse to listen), no matter how loud noise do the worldly attractions make.

Koat(i) mudh(i) eh(u) keertun gaavaiy. Sadh sungut(i) kee jaavoun tayk. Kuhou Nanak, tis(u) keertun Aik. 4.8.
Word Meaning: Bhulo = noble; acceptable to God. Keertuniya = street dancer; singer of Lord's praise. Ram, Ruma, Rama = only of omnipresent Waheguru. Dhundh = tasks. Sooaaou = selfish interests. Pause.
Onkar(i) = in Waheguru. Dhoon(i) = focus of mind = Soort)i). Alaapaiy = chants. Aika Daysi = resident of only one country (Waheguru). Dhikhaavaiy = shows (Waheguru's path). Biyaapaiy = prevails; present. Aiko = only one (Waheguru). Jaapaiy = appears. 1.

Koat(i) Mudh(i) = one in millions. Tayk = shelter. Aik = of the "One". 4.
MEANING: That street dancer is noble and liked by Waheguru who dissociates himself from the bonds of Maya, and sings praise of the omnipresent Waheguru. Pause.
Such a dancer focuses his mind on the "One" Supreme Being, and sings the song in praise of the "One". He calls himself a citizen of the "One", shows the people the path to connecting with the "One", and sees the "One" as present everywhere. 1.
Such a dancer brings contentment and high morality. and other virtues, his instruments of five different kinds (percussion, woodwind, strings, brass, and the keyboard), and his deep meditation on Waheguru become his lifestyle, which serves as the seven notes of the keyboard. Giving up his pride and power serves as his musical instrument, and not setting foot on the path of immorality marks a sudden change in his music. When he remembers Guru's Shabad as his firm commitment, he never takes birth again. 2.
He performs the Nardi dance when he believes Waheguru is present before him, and forgetting his worries is like the melodious clinking of the anklets. He is loved by Waheguru when he controls his mind and enjoys blissfulness. Such a dancer is never born again. 3.
But only one in millions sings Waheguru praise to be loved by Waheguru. I have taken shelter of the holy saints because singing Waheguru's praise is the only thing they do there, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Khudaayay = Allah(i) = Allah = God. Goosuyyiyaan = a name of God. 1.
Kern Kaarun = the Creator. Kureem = benevolent; provider. Ruheem = forgiving; compassionate. Pause.
Hujj = pilgrimage to Mecca by Muslims. Sir Nivaayay = bows down. 2.
Kutayb = the holy books of the Western religions (Quran, Bible, Torah etc.) Oadhaiy = wears. Neel = blue (Muslims). Soopayd = white (Hindus or Parsees). 3.
Baanchhaiy = longs for. Bhisht(u) = paradise. Soogindu = paradise of Indra. 4.

MENING: People worship their God by different names – some chant the name of Rama, some call Him Khuda, while some serve Him in the name of Goosuyyiyaan, and yet some others call Him Allah. 1.
But the creator of the universe is benevolent to, and the provider for all. No matter what name the people use for Him, He is forgiving and compassionate. Pause.
Some people serve Him by taking dips at holy places, while others undertake a pilgrimage to Mecca. Some worship the idols, while some others bow to Him while offering Nivaj (Muslim prayer). 2.

Some people study the Vedas, while some others study the Quran, the Bible or the Torah. Some people wear blue clothes while others wear white as per their beliefs. 3.
Some people call themselves Turks, while others are Hindus. Some long for Paradise, while others wish for the paradise of Indra. 4. But only those know the mystery of the Lord who recognize His Huqam (live by His Will), oh Nanak. 5.9.

Word Meaning: Puvun(u) = air, breaths. Smaaya = mixes with. Joti = the source of Divine Light (Waheguru). Jot(i) = light; soul. Maati = body soil. Tayk = basis. 1.
Braham Giyani = connected with Waheguru. Chult = amazing feat; an illusion. Pause.
Uglee = to happen in future. Ootth(i) Sidhaayee = leaves the world. Bherm = misgivings Moh = worldly attachments. Bundh = bonds. Bhukhlaayay = talks gibberish. Undh = blind.2.
Ruchun(u) = creation. Kartar(i) = the Creator. Aavut Jaavut = coming and going; birth and death. Huqam = laws. Apaar(i) = of the limitless God. Mernaiy Joag = subject to death. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Abinaashi = immortal. Hoag(u) = being. 3.
Eh(u) = human soul. Jaanhou = as you understand. Chookaaya = removed; cleared. 4.

NOTE: Most people grieve too much at the death of a relative. Some degree of grief is natural, but Guru Arjun Dev Ji explains the reality behind death: it is a law of Waheguru that every visible thing in the world is perishable, so humans have to die as well. Also, the body is perishable, but, being a part of the Supreme Soul, the human soul is immortal. So, we should accept Waheguru's Huqam.

MEANING: Who has died? (In fact, none). We should discuss it with a holy saint to find the truth behind death, that it is only an illusion created by Waheguru. Pause.
What really happens is that the breaths of the deceased person mix with the air, and his soul mixes with (reaches) the Supreme Soul, Waheguru (who decides what to do with that soul depending upon the deeds performed by it when it was in human body. A pure soul becomes a permanent part of Waheguru, while an immoral soul is reincarnated). The soil of the body mixes with the ground soil; so, what is the basis for the survivors to grieve? 1.
Before anyone knows anything about what happens in the future (the next world), even the grieving persons have to leave the world. Life is like a dream, and we are all blindly bound to false attachments to our relatives. So, grieving at some death is like unintelligible talking in dreams. 2. This is how the Creator, Waheguru, has created the world in which coming and going (births and deaths) take place as per the Huqam of the limitless Lord. No one dies forever (he is born again) – in fact, nobody is subject to death forever (as the soul is immortal). Being immortal, the soul is never destroyed. 3.

The soul is not what you think it is. I am a sacrifice to Waheguru (or the Guru), who knows everything. The Guru has cleared my doubts, and I have come to know that nobody dies or is born (to live here forever), oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Jup(i) = recite the Naam. Gobind(u) = Gopal = names of Waheguru. Laal(u) = Dear. Simer(i) = remember; recite. Muha Kaal(u) = powerful death. Pause.
Bherm(i), Bherm(i) = wandering through. Buddaiy Bhaag = great fortune. 1.
Bin(u) = without. Oodhaar(u) = emancipation. Baba = the Great Guru. 2.
MEANING: Remember (worship) the Dear Lord all the time, oh my friends. If you lead your life by remembering Him, the powerful death will not consume (kill) you spiritually. Pause.
The man travels through many, many lives before he is born as a human, but he comes to Guru's shelter only with great fortune. 1.
I only share this idea (fact) with the world that no one can be emancipated (united with Waheguru) without the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.11.

Word Meaning: Chaar(i) = the four (Vedas). Maaneh(i) = convinced. Khut(u) = the six (Shastras). Vukhaaneh(i) = explain. Dus-Ushteen = the 18 (Puranas). Bhayd(u) = secret.1. Kinkuri = a small lute. Anoop = extremely beautiful. Mutvaaro = intoxicated. Pause.

Pruthmay = (in the) first (eon); in Satyug. Vussiya = was settled. Sat = truthfulness. Khayrra = palace; city. Tritiyay = in the second eon (Trayta). Dootayrra = difference. Dootiya = the second eon (Dooaapur). Urdho-Urdh = half and half; the ox of morality lost two legs. Aik(u) Ruhhiya = only one leg was left (in the fourth eon of Kulyug). Aik(u) = one God. 2.
Aikaiy Soot(i) = the common thread. Proyay Muniyay = beads are strung. Gaantthi = knots. Bhinn(i), Bhinn(i) = different. Tuniyay = spread. Maala = necklace. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many ways. Khinchiya Soot(u) = pulled out the thread (of His power). Aayee Thaayayn = the beads fall into their appropriate places. 3.
Chuhoun = in all the four eons. Mutt(u) = the home of the yogis. Bikkhrray Thaan = difficult places; attractions of Maya. Anik = countless. Khirrkiyaan = windows for evils to attack through. Khojut, Khojut = while searching. Dooaaray = at Waheguru's Door. 4.
Iyoun = like this. Meetthi = sweet. Pause Second.
MEANING: An extremely sweet lute is always playing in nature, but you cannot hear it because you are so intoxicated (lost) in playing at your own small lute, oh yogi. Pause.
The four Vedas say it aloud, and the six Shastras also say the same thing (that there is only one Creator), but your mind is not convinced. The eighteen Puranas also say in one voice that there is only one Supreme Being, but you do not understand this secret, oh yogi. 1.
(People believed that there was a different supreme power, and people had different characters in each eon; also, there was a different way to realize that power in each eon). They believed that in the first eon, Satyug, the whole world was a city of truthful people, while things changed (were different) in the second eon, Trayta. In the third eon, Dooaapur, the morality of the people was reduced to half of its original level (and the ox supporting the earth lost two of its legs). But in the present eon, Kulyug, when the ox has been left with only one leg, the Guru has shown us only the "One" Waheguru. 2.
Just like the beads of a necklace are strung on a common thread, the whole world (all living beings are connected to the thread of (the common power of) Waheguru to form a necklace. They are tied to the Waheguru thread in many different ways (with varying degrees of freedom), so the necklace (beads) can move along the thread in many different ways. But when Waheguru pulls the thread of His power from the living beings, all of them merge into Him. 3. No matter what the eon is, the same Waheguru has made his dwelling in each of them (is always present there). The world has very tough environment to live in where there are so many entrances for the demons (lust, greed, rage, etc.) and other attractions of Maya, to attack human beings and to rob them of their noble qualities. While searching for some safe place where one can protect himself from such attacks, the real yogi finds the Residence of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4. This is how the melodious lute plays, and which the yogi finds to be very sweet. Pause Two. 1.12.

Word Meaning: Taaga = thread; veins. Thiglee = patches. Luou = stitches. Naarri = veins. Sooaa = large needle. Ustee = bones. Umbhaiy = of water (and other basic elements). Dunda = stick-like (human body). Dhuriya = put together. Gurbeh(i) = conceited. 1.
Nath(u) = the Lord of the world. Raiynaayee = night. Khintha = quilt of rags; body. Do Dihaayee = of a couple of days; short-lived Pause. Gehri = deep; thick. Bibhoot = ash. Taarri = in meditation. Mayri Tayri = discriminative. Moondra = earrings. Dhaari = wearing. Tooka = food. Triput(i) = contentment. Jaacheh(i) = begs for. Laaj = shame. 2.
Chulchit = fickle; quick-changing. Aasun = seat; meditative state. Singi = harp. Oodasayra = depression. Gur Gorukh = the Great Lord. Boojh = understanding. 3.
Rehraas(i) = bowing to with reverence. Khintha = quilt that the yogis wear. Bustur(u) = clothes (robes of honour). Usthir(u) = stability (peace) of mind. 4.
Iyoun = like this. Hoon(i) = now. Gosaayeen = Lord of the earth.

MEANING: (The Yogis wear a quilt of rags, and glass earrings; they put ash on their body, and like these things as symbols of their faith, and beg for worldly luxuries from their deity as if they are going to live forever. Explaining that their visit here in this world will be short, Guru Sahib teaches them the reality and the purpose of human life.
Your body, like your quilt, is here only for a few days (for a short period); so, worship the true Lord, day and night, oh yogi. Pause. ike your quilt, your body is also a patchwork of flesh and bones in which the veins and nerves function as threads and stitches, and the bones serve as a big needle for stitching. The stick-like human body is made of water (and other elements). So, what are you so conceited about, oh yogi? 1.
With your body coated with ash, you sit in deep meditation, but you are wearing earrings of discrimination of mine and of others, in your mind. You beg for food, but do not find contentment. Rather than wishing for (union with Waheguru), you wish for worldly luxuries; do not you feel ashamed of your wish? 2.
Your seat (meditative state) is very unstable (your mind keeps wavering all the time). You blow your harp (to tell the world about the arrival of your deity), but you always suffer from depression. You have no understanding of the Great Lord, as a result of which you keep taking births, dying again, and again, oh yogi. 3.
The yogi, whom Waheguru becomes kind to, achieves stability (peace) of mind (high spiritual state), bows only to Him, and prays only before Him, saying, “Your Naam is the quilt and the clothes for me, oh the Lord of the earth.” 4.
This is how I recite the Naam of the Lord of the earth day and night, and have achieved union with Him, oh Nanak. Pause Second. 2.13.

Dayvoun = offer. Lukh Bayra = million times. Jeeou = life. Pind(u) = body. Saajiya = created. Neech(u) = low-caste; ignoble. Nivaajiya = honoured. 3.

Kivaarra = door. Boolaaya = called in. Jaiysa Sa Taiysa = as is. Dikhlaaya = showed. Purrda = curtain. Toota = broken; removed. Voottha = dwelt; got embedded. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru alone is the creator of the universe; I do not see any other power (like Him). My Lord is wise and knows everything. I enjoy the love of His union in the shelter of the Guru. 1. Such is the sweetness of the union with Waheguru, but some rare (lucky) individual tastes it in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.

Waheguru's Light (His Soul) is perfectly pure, and immortalizing is His Naam. A devotee becomes immortal (his soul merges into the Supreme Soul) on drinking the Amrit-like Naam, and one is left with no worldly desires. One's body and his mind become peaceful, and the fire of his desires is put out. Such blissful devotees become very famous worldwide. 2.

What can I offer Waheguru when everything is given by Him? I can only offer my life millions of times. He created me by giving me body, mind, and life; and honoured me, an ignoble, by the grace of the Guru. 3.

Waheguru opened the door of His Palace, called me in, and showed Himself as He is. Now the curtain between Him and me has been removed. I am His (slave), and He has taken dwelling in my mind, oh Nanak. 4.3.14.

Ponder on the Vedas, and get rid of (control) your rage, oh Pundit. Pause.
He stands before the stone idol of Vishnu, but his mind wanders in all ten directions. He anoints his forehead and drops on the feet of the idol (to show fake reverence) – but the blind (ignorant) does all that only to impress the people. 2.
He performs the six required religious rituals and has a special mat to sit on; he wears a dhoti (a symbol of holiness) and reads the holy books in the homes of the wealthy. He does move the beads in the rosary, but begs for the luxuries of the world. But nobody has ever found salvation by such practices, oh Pundit. 3. The true Pundit is the one who lives by the Shabad of the Guru and shows no interest in Maya, which has three effects. All four Vedas are subsumed in Waheguru's Naam (one does not need to study them). I will gladly drop on the feet (show reverence) of such a true Pundit, oh Nanak. 4.6.17.

MEANING: None of the millions of obstacles comes even near the devotee to whom Waheguru is benevolent. Countless forms of Maya become his slaves (cannot attract him), and countless possible sins begin to serve him (cannot mislead him). 1.

Each effort – even if there are millions of devotees of Waheguru- becomes successful (every one of his tasks is completed successfully) with Waheguru's support. Pause.

What harm can anyone, created by Waheguru, cause to the devotee who is protected by Him? Even a poor man can conquer the whole universe (overcome his desires to enjoy the luxuries of the whole universe). Waheguru's greatness is beyond description; how can I describe it? I am simply a sacrifice for His holy Feet (His Will). 2.

Only that devotee is approved by Waheguru in the world who is honoured by Him. Such a devotee is considered to have recited all the ritualistic mantras, endured all the hardships to please God, done all the meditations, and given countless donations (he does not need any of those). 3. One's mind is enlightened in the company of the Perfect Satguru who assures His devotees that only Waheguru is the source of complete bliss, and He is the one who fulfils the wishes of everybody. MEANING: Do not blame others (for your troubles), and live with the result of your own deeds, oh man. Your own deeds, performed due to the attractions of Maya, become traps for you, as a result of which you are caught in the long cycle of births and deaths. 1.

The holy saints, whose minds have been enlightened by the Words (Shabads) of the Perfect Guru, have realized the above truth about the deeds done by man. Pause.
Man's body, his wealth, and his wife are all short-lived relations that the man develops. All the best horses and best elephants are perishable, and his reign and worldly luxuries are all false (short-lived) because without Waheguru's Naam, everything else eventually becomes a part of dust. 2. The conceited man is misled by his misbeliefs and does not realize that all his developments (expansions) are worthless, as none is going to accompany him at the time of his death. The Maya-engrossed becomes old among happy and sad occasions, and this is how all his life is spent. 3.
Only Waheguru's Naam is immortalizing in the world, and Satguru possesses this treasure. The devotee, whom Waheguru becomes kind to, sees Him in every heart, oh Nanak. 4.18.19.

He feels as if all five kinds of musical instruments are playing the perfect and mesmerizing Divine music in his ears. The holy saints sing praise of the Perfect Waheguru, which is fully detached from the worldly attractions, and enjoy blissfulness in that state. 1.

Only Waheguru's Naam is recited at the holy gathering of the saints, but only a few rare individuals attain a high spiritual state. Singing Waheguru's praise, and love for all become the mental food and support of life in that state. The devotee's mind becomes perfectly stable (does not waver at all) in that state which is beyond description. 2.
In that state, man's mind does not weaken and does not waver; nor does it wander, but some rare devotee attains this state with the Guru's grace. There is no misgiving, no fear, no worldly attachments, or no traps of Maya in that state. Rather, the devotee's mind stays focused on the compassionate Waheguru in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 3.
Waheguru is limitless, and there is no end to His Limits. He is hidden as well as visible in His creation. The transcendence of the devotee who is blessed with the presence of Waheguru in his heart cannot be described. Such a blessing is mesmerizing, oh Nanak. 4.9.20.

One thinks of Waheguru as soon as he meets the holy saints, and one achieves mental contentment in their company. I have so much reverence for the holy saints that I wish to place my head on their feet countless times while lying down flat. 1.
I wish to wash the feet of the saints and to drink the wash (a feeling of deep reverence). I live by having sight of the holy saints. I always have the wish to serve the saints, which is my holy wealth. 2.

Simrut = by reciting. Laaj = dignity. Jum(u) = Angel of death. Pause.
Bin(u) = without. Niraaruth = meaningless; worthless. Roopa = silver. Maati = dust. Daam = money. Sookha = comforts. Eahaan = here; this world. Oohaan = there; next world. Oojul Mookha = pure (unblemished) face; honourable. 2.

MEANING: The household, the reign, and the wealth are of no use to you after your death; nor are the tasks related to Maya, oh man. Believe it or not, all your dears and friends are an illusion. Waheguru's Naam is the only thing that accompanies you. 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam, and sing His praise, oh my friend. Your dignity will be protected by remembering Waheguru, and the Angel of death cannot question you. Pause.
All deeds other than Waheguru's Naam are meaningless, and gold, silver and money are like dust for you, oh man. Chant Guru's Shabad, which is the source of all mental comforts, and by which you will have an honourable face (will earn respect) in this world and the next. 2.
Your ancestors worked themselves to the bone to earn wealth, but it did not serve its real purpose (mental peace). If someone recites Waheguru's Naam, all his wishes are fulfilled. 3. Waheguru's Naam is the support of the life of Waheguru's devotees, and the holy saints win (achieve) the prime objective of the precious human life (union with God). Waheguru approves everything that His holy saints do (or wish for). I am a slave of the holy saints, and will gladly sacrifice my life for them, oh Nanak. 4.11.22.

Word Meaning: Sincheh(i) = accumulates. Derb(u) = wealth. Kaaj(i) Na = of no use. Uvraan Joag = for others. Verteh(i) = deals. Jayvurri = chain. Aagaiy = next world. 1.

Bivustha = age. Bhur(i) Joabun(i) = in prime youth. Doorgundh = foul-smelling; sensual enjoyments. Tritiah = third stage; middle age. Birdh = old age. Puchhutaayay = repents.2.

Deen-Duyaal = kind to the downtrodden. Bundh = worldly bonds. Jug = world. 4.

MEANING: The man hurts other people to accumulate wealth, which eventually does not stay with him and is used by others. Not realizing that, tied up by the chains of his own bad deeds, he will be taken to the next world by the Angel of Death, the blind (of wisdom) man deals with the world in ways that boost his ego. 1.
You are here to spend the night of your short life; so, give up your dependence upon others, oh, foolish man. You are deeply involved in the dream-like world and are intoxicated with the liquor of Maya without realizing that you have to leave the world, oh, ignorant man. Pause.
In early life, a man is a child and is blind (unaware of the purpose of human life). But he begins to enjoy the foul-smelling (toxic) sensual pleasures in the prime of his youth. In the third stage of life (the middle age), the man begins to accumulate wealth, and in his old age, when he is about to leave the world, he repents (that he did not worship God). 2.
The man gets the precious human body (which is not easily available) after a long time, only to have it turn to dust again without Waheguru's Naam. If the man does not understand (makes connection with Waheguru) his Creator, his human body becomes worse than the animals, the ghosts (which never find peace), and the foolish (because they are unaware of God and cannot be blamed for not worshipping Him). 3.

(But the man cannot be blamed entirely because he cannot break his worldly bonds on his own), He needs to pray to the Lord. Oh, kind to the poor, and always benevolent, Waheguru, only You can free the man from worldly bonds; he cannot do it on his own. The world is blind (ignorant about You). Be merciful, and kindly connect it with You, prays Nanak. 4.12.23.

Nanak, Sahib untarjaami. 4.13.24.

Word Meaning: Sunjog(u) = putting together (the basic elements). Kaachh(i) = by measuring and mixing in right amounts (just like a tailor does). Iyaana = ignorant. Raach(i) = keeps busy. Saar(i) Smaaraiy = looks after well. Ootth(i) Sidhaaraiy = leaves the world. 1. Jhootth(u) = false. Raatay = imbued. Tay Subh(i) = all those. Mootth(u) = robbed. Pause. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Phaiyl = deeds. Puchaaraiy = to please; to convince. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Bihoonaiy = without. Chulseh(i) = leave the world. 2.
Tootus = are broken. Putul = curtain. Soadhay = studied thoroughly. Fulaa = rewards. 3. Laaveh(i) = make (to recite Naam). Untarjaami = omniscient. 4.

MEANING: Putting all the basic elements together in the right proportions at the appropriate time, Waheguru creates the human body with which the ignorant man keeps himself busy. He raises, nourishes, and looks after it well, but has to leave the world at the end. 1.
Everything excepting Waheguru's Naam is false (short-lived), oh man. Ignoring Waheguru's worship, all those who are imbued in the love of the other (Maya), are robbed by its attractions, oh man. Pause. The filth of the mind cannot be washed away by taking dips at holy places, and all the religious rituals are deeds only to boost one's ego. One does not attain a high spiritual state by pleasing (or convincing) people. People without Waheguru's Naam will cry when they leave the world. 2.
After carefully pondering the Shastras and the Simritis, I have realized that the curtains of ego (between Waheguru and the man) are not broken without Waheguru's Naam. But only that individual recites Waheguru's Naam whom He makes to do so. Such a devotee reaps all the rewards, and all the comforts come to stay in his heart. 3.
But the man is helpless and cannot do anything on his own; he performs only the kind of deeds which Waheguru interests him in; He is omniscient, and knows the nature of the person as to what kind of deeds match his personality, oh Nanak. So, one needs to pray to Him like this: All the comforts are in Your hand, oh Waheguru; kindly protect me. 4.13.24.

MEANING: When I came to the shelter of the Guru, I found Waheguru's Will to be sweet with His grace whereby all my troubles and ailments disappeared. Pause.
Now, my ignorant mind has been convinced (enlightened) in the shelter of the Guru, and I feel comfort in whatever Waheguru does (whatever happens naturally). My mind has become peaceful and has stopped wavering (becoming weak before the attractions of Maya). It has merged into the eternal Waheguru ever since I began to recite His eternal Naam. 1.
(Now I see Waheguru everywhere, therefore) Everything seems to be holy and pious, and whatever He does (whatever happens naturally) feels favourable to me. I believe every place, wherever (in whatever situation) He keeps me, to be the place for emancipation (paradise), and whatever words I use to sing his praise, are His true Naam(u) for me. 2.
Any place where the Guru sets foot becomes holy as if all the 68 holy places are present there, and the place where Waheguru's Naam is recited is the paradise. It is all blissfulness when I have the holy sight of the Guru (because Waheguru's praise is always sung in His shelter). 3. Waheguru is present in every heart, and His majesty is visible everywhere. I have taken the shelter of the Perfect Guru who has opened the doors of my mind (enlightened it), and all my misgivings have been dispelled, oh Nanak. 4.14.25.

Doalaiy Kut Naahi = does not allow his mind to weaken, even a little. 3.
Ootraiy = go away. Chind = worries. Tehl = service to. Kaam = follow advice. 4.

MEANING: The transcendence of Waheguru's Naam is so great that nobody can describe its worth. Pause.
By the grace of the Guru, a devotee, who gets Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart even for a short moment, feels as if he has won the reward of millions of mantras, and of countless self-imposed hardships (which people endure to please their deities). He feels as if he has acquired all the supernatural powers, pure wisdom, and the gods' knowledge. In addition, he also feels as if he is enjoying countless beauties (luxuries) and tastes of delicious foods. 1. The devotee, with Waheguru's Naam in his heart, becomes a valiant (to fight against the five demons), patient, peaceful, perfectly wise, and never changes with situations (is not overcome by emotions, and stays calm even in adversity). His mind stays focused in a high spiritual state; he is peaceful and free of emotions. He is always free from worldly bonds, and all his deeds are perfect (noble). 2.
He always feels comfortable, is blissful, and mentally healthy (strong). He is completely unbiased and fully detached from worldly bonds. He never takes rebirths or dies, and he never allows his mind to weaken (to worldly attractions). 3.
Waheguru is always kind to the weak and the poor, and all one's worries disappear if he recites His Naam in the shelter of the Guru. My Guru has implanted Waheguru's Naam in my heart, and now I serve the holy saints and follow their advice, oh Nanak. 4. 15.26.

Listen to the eternal advice of the holy saints who tell you that one cannot attain any spirituality without Waheguru's Naam, and one finds salvation on meeting the Guru. Pause.

When someone shows respect to wealth, it becomes conceited (and stays away from him), but when a person pushes it away (disregards it), it serves him like a slave. 2.

It pleases everybody on the surface (by its looks), but deceives them in the end. It does not stay in any one place forever. It has captivated countless people worldwide, but the holy saints have shattered it into small pieces. 3.

Whoever begs for it, stays hungry (discontented), and does not acquire anything by getting deeply involved in it. But, ignoring wealth (Maya), if a person attends gatherings of holy saints, he is highly fortunate and finds salvation, oh Nanak. 4.18.29.

MEANING: The Perfect Waheguru is fully present everywhere; so, recognize Him in everybody, oh man. Recognize the priceless jewel – Waheguru – in your mind, and establish a connection with Him because He is your personal possession (friend). 1.
Drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the holy saints. Just like one cannot enjoy the taste of delicious foods without their tongue, one cannot drink Naam-Amrit without good fortune. Pause. Like a deaf, who cannot hear anything even if all the 18 Puranas and the four Vedas are read aloud to him, or a blind man cannot see even if millions of lamps are lighted in front of him; or the cattle cannot enjoy any delicious food other than grass which they are interested in (enjoy), how can the individual understand the blissfulness of Waheguru's Naam unless He gives such understanding to the individual? 2.
The omniscient Waheguru knows everything and is closely mingled with His devotees like the cross threads in fabric. Those who sing Waheguru's praise with blooming (blissful) hearts, the Angel of Death does not even go near them (because they merge into Waheguru), oh Nanak. 3.19.30.

MEANING: Waheguru severs the worldly bonds of His devotees and puts them in His service so as to sing His praise. Their hearts become pure with Waheguru's Naam, which becomes their real wealth, and they become fully detached from worldly wealth. 1.
Honoured by the Great Guru, Waheguru's devotees sing His praise, enjoying His blissful taste. They feel as if auto-playing Divine music plays in their mind. Pause.

Because of the good fortune based on his noble deeds of previous lives, a devotee's mind, which had been in the dark for many lives, is enlightened with Satguru's grace. His hatred (jealousy) for others is eradicated in the shelter of the Guru, and he gets imbued in Waheguru's love by body and mind. 2.
The benevolent, guard-like Waheguru protects His devotees without any special service or hard work on their part. With His kindness, Waheguru pulls out His devotees which are drowning in the sea of troubles. 3.
Listening to such benevolence of Waheguru towards His devotees, I have also felt the sprouting of excitement for Waheguru's worship in my mind, as a result of which I am singing Waheguru's praise all twenty-four hours. Singing Waheguru's praise all the time, I have attained the high spiritual state with Guru's grace, and am always in deep meditation reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.20.31.

MEANING: Captivated by Maya, the foolish person follows the wrong path (engrossment in Maya) in life. He abandons the jewel-like, precious Naam and trades it for cowrie shell-like, worthless Maya. He makes all efforts to accumulate wealth, which is of very low quality in the realm of spirituality, and which leaves him anyway. 1.
Do you not feel ashamed of yourself that you do not think of the omnipresent and the Perfect Waheguru, which is the sea (source) of all comforts, oh unfortunate man? Pause.
We have seen with our own eyes the sad (spiritual) situation of the Maya-worshipper, who finds Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam bitter and the poisonous Maya sweet. He is pleased (happy) with falsehood, deceptiveness, and his ego, and feels as if he is stung by a scorpion when he hears Waheguru's Naam. 2. He longs for wealth all the time, but never sings Waheguru's praise with his mind or his tongue. The foolish does not love the formless and fearless Waheguru, who is the provider for all of us. 3.
Waheguru is the true Emperor and is the King over all the kings. He is the perfect Sovereign, does not owe anyone any favour (or any taxes like some rajahs have to pay to their emperor). The man, who is deeply attached to the world by the bonds of his misgivings, is salvaged by Waheguru's benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.21.32.

The gods have exhausted their search for the secrets of Waheguru, and Shiva does not know the ways in which Waheguru operates in the universe. None of the goddesses knows His secrets. Waheguru is above the comprehension of all of the gods and goddesses. 2.
Waheguru performs His amazing feats in the ways He pleases; He Himself connects and disconnects people from Him. As per His Will, some of them are misled in their misgivings, while some others worship Him. He Himself gives the understanding to some (enlightens them) about His feats. 3.
Listen to the eternal advice of the holy saints (the Guru), because they preach only what they have seen with their own eyes (have experienced personally). Noble deeds, or sins, have no effect on Waheguru; He is all by Himself (above everything), oh Nanak. 4.25.36.

I pray to Waheguru that He kindly connects me with the Guru, in whose shelter one's ego is eradicated, and one begins to see Waheguru everywhere. Pause.
Reciting Waheguru's Naam is the praise of the Guru, and singing Waheguru's praise all the time is the worship of the Guru (because they are one and the same). Keep Guru's Teaching close to your mind, and believe in Guru's Shabad to be an eternal truth. 2.

Your life is being spent in ego and in useless disputes. You think you are enjoying the poisonous sensual pleasures, yet you never feel contentment. Misled by your senses, you have suffered gravely (in terms of spirituality), as a result of which, you will not be able to swim across the very tough sea of Maya. 2.

MEANING: Based on my fortune resulting from the deeds of my previous lives, I got connected with the Guru, who, with His benevolence, implanted Waheguru's Naam in my heart. Now, I have realized the importance of the Guru's friendship (kindness). Pause.
With Waheguru's Naam at heart, I am enjoying all comforts in this world, and will not have to deal with the Angel of justice in the next world. I will also be honoured in Waheguru's Court, and will never have to go into the womb (take birth) again. 1.

Serving the Guru is a source of eternal bliss, whereby one's mind is purified. The sight of the Guru is highly rewarding, and His devotee sees Waheguru to be present in every heart. 3. Word Meaning: Guou = senses. Chaaray = grazes; keeps under control. Sardool = lion; the strong mind. Kaudi = (worthless) cowrie shell. Lukh = millions. Bukkri = goat (humble mind). Hustee = elephant (like conceited mind). Pritpaaay = nourishes. Nudr(i) Nihaalay = blesses with His kind sight. 1.

Kirpa-nidhaan = treasure of benevolence. Preetum = Dear. Bern(i) = describe. Pause. Deesut = visible. Maas(u) = meat; worldly attractions. Bilaayee = cat; appetite for worldly attractions. Kusaab(i) = butcher; ruthless mind. Chhoori = knife. Voottha = came to reside. Phaathi = trapped. Muchhuli = fish. Jaala = net. 2.

Shernaayee = in the shelter. 4.

MEANING: My dear Waheguru is a treasure (source) of benevolence. He has so many virtues that I cannot count them all. Pause.

When Waheguru casts His blissful sight on His devotee, his otherwise weak mind becomes strong like a lion, and rather than yielding to the worldly attractions, his mind acquires full control of his senses (sensual pleasures). Whereas the devotee was almost worthless like a cowrie shell in terms of spirituality before, he becomes worth millions after Waheguru's benevolence. His mind, which once was conceited like an elephant, now nourishes (adopts) the humbleness of a goat. 1.

Blessed by Waheguru, now the cat-like mind, which always had the appetite for worldly attractions, does not care for them even if they are offered to him; and the former extremely ruthless mind throws away the knife to kill his prey (it becomes compassionate and merciful). The Creator Waheguru gets embedded in his heart, and the devotee is emancipated like a fish whose net gets broken in which it was trapped. 2.

His dry heart comes to life, and blooms as if a dead tree has become lush green, or as if extremely beautiful lotus flowers have blossomed on a tall dry mound. Satguru puts out the fire of the worldly desires of the devotee, and puts him in His service (makes him recite Waheguru's Naam and accept His Will). 3.
My Waheguru is always merciful and salvages even the thankless. He always supports His holy saints, and I am in the shelter of His lotus-like feet, oh Nanak. 4.39.50.

MEANING: I survive by remembering Waheguru (reciting His Naam), who is always forgiving, and who protected me as His slave (against the attacks of Maya). Pause.
Waheguru protected me by killing all of my five demons (lust, greed, etc.), and enabled me to control my ten wolf-like senses. He put me in the shelter of the Guru, where the dizziness of my mind due to the whirlpool-like three effects of Maya has been eradicated, and my birth-death cycle has been terminated. 1.
With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, and by worshipping His Feet (with full reverence), all my mountain-like sins have been burnt like the dry blades of grass. Now, I see Him in His blissful form everywhere. Worshipping Him with deep love and with a fully focused mind, I am enjoying all comforts. 2.

I swam the huge sea of Maya with such ease, as if the sea were like water in the footprint of a calf. There was no suffering for me at all, and now, I have nothing more to complain about. There is nothing strange (or amazing) about the Creator Waheguru's feats (they are normal for Him); He has taken up dwelling in my heart as if the ocean has been held in a small vessel. 3. When one loses support of Waheguru, he feels as if he has fallen (morally) deep into the underworld, but when he is pulled out, he feels blissful with Waheguru's kind sight. Actually, we have no control over our deeds – sinful or noble – oh, Nanak. I just sing Waheguru's praise while enjoying it. 4.40.51.

Word Meaniing: Toh(i) = yours. Moh(i) = in the love of. Biyaapiya = influenced; engrossed in. Dhoh(i) = in conceit. Koodum = has fun. Gaader = sheep. Chhayl = lamb. Achint(u) = suddenly. Jaal(u) Kaal(u) = net of death. Chukkur = cycle. Payl = pushes into. 1.
Suhaayee = benefactor. Saach(u) Dhunaa = eternal wealth. Pause.
Oonay = incomplete. Kaaj = tasks. Mud(i) = in intoxication. Jhooraiy = repents. Bikaar = vices, immoral acts. Jeeuray Kaiy Taayee = to please mind (senses). Gaaful = unaware; negligent. Tusooaa = a very small amount. 2.

Ruvaal = dust of the feet (humble). Hust Kumul = lotus like soft hands. Lurr(i) Laayay = provides shelter. Saachaiy = in the eternal God. Saach(i) = by His eternal Naam. 4.

MEANING: Neither the body, nor the mind is yours (forever), oh man. (Still) engrossed in Maya (worldly attractions), you are deceiving others. (Unaware of the impending consequences of your actions) You are being playful and having fun like a little lamb. But, suddenly, the cycle of time will push you into the trap of death. 1.
You should take shelter of the lotus-like Feet (Naam) of Waheguru. Recite His Naam, which is always with you to support you; Waheguru's Naam is the eternal wealth which can be acquired only in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. Pause.
Intoxicated with lust and rage, one's incomplete objective (union with Waheguru) is never achieved, and the man repents all the time. He commits immoral acts to please his body, but nothing – absolutely nothing, not even his body – accompanies him after death. 2.

The man knows many deceitful acts and deceives people, but eventually gets ash in his hair (earns disgrace) because of such acts to earn pennies. He does not remember Waheguru, who created him, at all, and the greed of perishable things stays in his mind, which always spurs him. 3.
But, when Waheguru becomes kind to someone, his mind becomes humble so as to dust off the feet of the holy saints. Waheguru provides His shelter to the devotee with His lotus-like hands when he merges into the eternal Waheguru by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.41.52.

Bussaiy = resides; has been enshrined. Dootur = difficult situations. Paykhut = see. Suglay = all. Kaaj Suvaaray = achieves objectives. Rusn = tongue. Jupnay = recites. 1.
Mustuk(i) = on the forehead. Undaysha = doubt; worries. Kaahay = why. Chooki = ended. Kaan(i) = any obligations; weaknesses. 2.

Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Mookh Oojul = clean (pure) face deserving respect. Anund Kurhou = enjoy blissfulness. Tuj(i) = by getting rid of. Bikaar = vices. 4.
MEANING: The shelter of the Royal Waheguru is such that a devotee becomes fearless (like Him) when he sings His praise in the shelter of the Guru, and all his troubles disappear. Pause. A devotee, who has Waheguru (His Naam) embedded in his heart, faces no difficult situations. By reciting Waheguru's Naam with the tongue, he gets all his tasks completed successfully. 1.
Why would a devotee worry about anything when Waheguru places His kind hand on his forehead (blesses him)? His forced obligation (punishment) to go through the cycle of births and deaths comes to an end. I would like to offer my life for such a Guru. 2.
One feels blissful when one comes to the shelter of the Guru, which is a manifestation of God. But only that devotee gets to have a sight of the Guru (serve Him) whom Waheguru is kind to. Such a devotee swims across the world sea (gets salvaged) in the shelter of the Guru. 3.
Drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and go to Waheguru's Court with shining faces (with pure, respectable minds), oh, the dear devotees of Waheguru. Give up all your immoral activities to feel blissful, and get emancipation by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.42.53.

Churn = feet; branches (of trees). Tulaiy = beneath. Aakaash = head (hair like roots of trees). Sindh(u) = ocean- (like limitless Waheguru). Ghut = heart. Pergaash = light. 1. Sumruth(u) = capable; omnipotent. Nimukh Na = not even for a moment. Bisraiy = forgotten. Aatth Pehr = twenty-four hours. Ta Kuou = Him. Jaap(i) = recite Naam. Pause.
Pruthmay = first. Maakhun(u) = butter; Waheguru. Paachhaiy = after. Doodh = milk; world. Maiyloo = the unattractive and the disorganized ingredients to create the world. Saabun = soap which cleans. Soodh(u) = pure; highly beautiful and orderly universe. Bhaiy = fear (of loss or of death). Nirbhuou = fearless; human soul (because it is a part of the fearless God). Hoandi = which has existence. Unhoandi = imaginary; false. Hiraiy = robs. 2.
Dayhi = master of the body (soul). Goopt = hidden. Bidayhi = without soul (body). Deesaiy = is visible. Saaj(i) = creations. Jugdeesaiy = Waheguru. Ttuggunhaar = deceiving (Maya). Untthugda = (which should be) undeceivable (man). Vukkhur = merchandise (wealth of Waheguru's Naam). Ootth(i) Laagaiy = gets attached to (Maya). 3.
Sunt Subhaa = gathering of holy saints. Bukhiyaan = explain. Beechaar(u) = ideas; principles. Perm Gur(i) = supreme spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru is so capable of doing any and everything (that His feats are amazing). His devotees do not forget His Naam even for a short moment. You, too, should recite His Naam all the twenty-four hours, oh, my mind. Pause.
(Some of His amazing feats include): Wood contains fire (you can ignite fire by rubbing two pieces of wood hard against each other), yet the fire inside the wood stays away from it (does not burn it). Similarly, the ocean spares (does not devour) the land surrounding it in each direction. Contrary to other living beings, the tree has its feet (branches) above (upwards) and its head (hair like roots) beneath. The ocean-like limitless Waheguru enlightens (fits in) every heart. 1.
Normally, butter is created (made) by churning yogurt (made from milk) i.e. milk is there before its essence, butter, but the essence of the universe, God, is there before its creation - the universe. Like soap removes the filth from clothes, Waheguru used His soap-like laws to transform the unattractive and disorderly ingredients (the five classical elements) to create the beautiful and perfectly organized universe (which includes beautiful mountains, springs, rivers, beautiful flowers of many different colours, green crops, animals and birds of many different colours and shapes, and lovely humans of many kinds, and so on.) The man, which is a part of the fearless Waheguru, should also be fearless, but he is afraid of many things including loss of wealth and of life; and the living man is cheated by the false attractions of Maya, which will not accompany him. 2.

The master of the body, the soul, is invisible, whereas, the master-less body (without the soul) is visible. All such situations are created by Waheguru. The mind-captivating, but false Maya (because it does not accompany the dead) deceives humans who should be undeceivable (as they are a part of God). Without the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, the man gets attracted to Maya again, and again. 3.
If you study the Vedas, the Simritis, the Shastras, and the Puranas, you will find that pondering on the virtues of Waheguru in the company of the holy saints is the only way to attain the highest spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.43.54.

MEANING: There is no other power in the universe than Waheguru, and only that takes place in the world which He wishes. I always stay in His shelter. Pause.
The man is so misled by the captivating Maya that he seems to have been hypnotized by thorn-apple, and he enjoys sensual pleasures without any thought that he will leave the world without his beautiful palace and all his wealth. Nothing that is visible, including his son, his wife, and his wealth, will accompany him. 1.

He suffers big humiliations because of his malicious criticism of others (holy saints), and goes through many lives because of his evil deeds. His deeds of previous lives do not spare him, and he is snared by the frightening assistants of the Angel of Death. 2.
He lies to the people about his (covers his ignoble) deeds, but practises something entirely different. His appetite for worldly possessions is never satisfied, which always spurs him (to try even harder to acquire them). Because of hurting the saintly people, he develops a tuberculosis-like incurable disease, as a result of which, his body gets rotten. 3.
Waheguru, which created and glorified (honoured) His holy saints, also ensures their acclamation in the world. With His kindness, Waheguru protects His saints with deep love, oh Nanak. 4.44.55.

MEANING: The Great Guru (God) is such a benefactor that remembering Him (reciting His Naam) never goes unrewarded. Pause.
One feels blissful to have His holy sight, and His Naam cuts the net of the Angel of death (one does not have to deal with him). His Naam has been enshrined in my heart, whereby all the objectives of my life have been achieved successfully. 1.
My Waheguru places His kind hand on His humble devotee and becomes His guard (provides His shelter). He is a treasure (source) of compassion, and purifies even the immoral. One should be willing to sacrifice one's life for Waheguru all the time. 2.
The devotee, whom Waheguru grants His Shabad (Naam) as a donation, quits all his immoral acts, and his ego is eradicated. If one recites His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, all his sins are destroyed with his love for the Naam. 3.

The Guru, Waheguru, is a source of all virtues, is omnipresent, and is even present in every heart. I have this prayer before Waheguru: that He fulfil my wish to see His holy sight, and that I keep remembering Him (reciting His Naam) all the time, oh Nanak. 4.45.56.

He feels encouraged and satisfied with his treasures of wealth worth billions, but absolutely nothing goes with him. 1. Word Meaning: Oat = shelter. Doomut(i) = evil thinking. Naasaiy = runs away; disappears. Pud(u) Nirbaana = spiritual state where one is fully detached from worldly bonds. Pause. Budbhaagee = fortunate. Phoon(i) = then. Baiykoontth(i) = paradise. Sidhaaaiy = goes. 1.

Ajamul = a Brahman who is considered a grave sinner because he married a prostitute. A sage advised him to name his son Naraayin (God) to atone for his sins. Soodh(i) = understanding. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Jogishur = accomplished yogis. Baanchhut = wish for. Chhin meh = in a moment. 2.

Bidiya = education; knowledge. Dherm(u) = noble deeds. Guj = an elephant. A musician of the gods who was cursed to be an elephant. Once, he was drinking water in a pool when an octopus pulled him down. When the elephant was about to drown, he held a lotus flower in his trunk, and prayed to God, and was saved. Bird(u) = an innate greatness. Abhaiy = fearless state of mind.

NOTE: Many stories from the Hindu Granths have been quoted in the Guru Granth Sahib, but only to glorify God. Guru Granth Sahib does not certify the truth of such stories.

MEANING: Seek the shelter (support) of Waheguru's Naam with which one's evil thinking is eradicated, and he attains the spiritual state free from all worldly bonds, oh my mind. Pause.

The devotee, who sings Waheguru's praise, is highly fortunate. Such a devotee gets all the sins of his many lives eradicated and is taken to paradise. 1.

Ajamul, who was considered a grave sinner, realized Waheguru at the end and attained, in no time, that high level of spirituality that accomplished yogis long for. 2.

The musician of the gods, who was cursed to be an elephant, had no virtue, no Divine knowledge, and had not performed any noble deed; but look at the innate greatness of Waheguru that He granted the elephant the fearless state of spirituality, when the latter prayed to Him, oh Nanak. 3.1.

Boojhaiy = understand. Giyaana = Divine Knowledge; Guru's Shabad. Pud(u) Nirbaana = spiritual state free from all worldly bonds. 1. Duyyaal = Kirpaal = kind. Tub = then. Dherm = religious rituals. Keerut(i) = praise. 2. Nur(u) = man. Nis(i) = night. Baasur = day. Oordhaaraiy = embeds in heart. Traas(u) = fear; worry. Tih = his. Suvaaraiy = makes life successful; achieves his objective. 3.

MEANING: Guide me as to what means I should use to have my evil thinking destroyed, and get imbued in the love for worship of Waheguru, oh holy saints. Pause.

My mind is engrossed in Maya, and has no understanding of Divine Knowledge. What naam should I recite so as to attain the high spiritual state above the attractions of Maya? 1.

When the holy saints became kind to me, they advised me that singing Waheguru's Naam is the best of all deeds, which supersedes all the other prevalent religious deeds. 2.

The individual, who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart - even for a moment - achieves the objective of his life (union with Waheguru), and no longer fears death, oh Nanak. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Praani = (oh), man. Naraayin = God. Soodh(i) Layh(i) = acquire knowledge; make connection. Chhin(u) = moment. Aoudh = life span. Ghutaiy = is shortened. Birtha = empty; going worthlessly (waste). Dayh = human body. Pause. Turunaapo = youth; young age. Bikhiun Siyoun = in poisonous sensual pleasures. Khoyo = wasted. Baalpun = childhood. Ugiyaana = in ignorance. Birdh(i) = old age. Ujhoon Nuhee = still not. Koomut(i) = ill advice. Oorjhaana = entangled; trapped in. 1. Maanus = human. Bisraayo = forgotten. Mookut(u) = emancipate. Ta Kuou = Him. 2. Mud(u) = intoxication; pride; conceit. Kuhaa = why? Chayt = remember. Chintamun(i) = a mythical stone which is believed to fulfil all wishes; Waheguru. Suhaayee = supporter. 3.

MEANING: Your life span is shortening every second, and your precious human life is going to waste (without Waheguru's Naam); so, make a connection with Waheguru, oh man. Pause. You lost your youth years in enjoying the poisonous sensual desires, and your childhood in ignorance. You have grown old now, but you still do not understand (the urgency of Waheguru's Naam); what ill-advice is your mind trapped in, oh man? 1.

Why have you ignored the Lord who gave you human life? You did not sing praise even for a moment of the Lord, remembering from whom one gets emancipation, oh man. 2.

Why are you feeling intoxicated (conceited) about your wealth, which does not accompany you, not even a small part of that? Keep Waheguru in mind (recite His Naam), which will be your real supporter at the end, oh Nanak. 3.3.81.

Ja sikdaariay puvvaiy junjeeri, ta chaakur huthoun merna. 4.

NOTE: Since the advent of humanity on Earth, Hindu Granths have divided time into four eras – Satyug, Treta (Trayta), Duapar (Dooaapur), and Kaliyug (Kalyug). Kalyug, the present eon, is considered to be the worst of the four in terms of religiosity and morality. They also believe that, like Satan, the demon-like Kaliyug can take a human form and influence the minds of the people to force them to perform immoral deeds. Guru Nanak Sahib does not believe in this type of categorization of time; He, rather, believes that it is the behaviour of the people that defines any time period.

Word Meaning: Soyee = Say = Sa= the same. Diniur(u) = sun. Tupt = shines hot. Paun Jhoolaaray = wind blows. Joog Jea = the human form of Kalyug. Khaylay = plays tricks. 1. Tulb = demands; wishes. Nivaar(i) = get rid of. Pervaana = accepted. Dhingaana = aggression. Lukkhun = qualities; symptoms. Pause.

Teeruth = holy places. Daata = donors. Daan(u) = donations. Oosaar = construct. 2. Sut(u) = high morality; service to people. Chheejaiy = loses (respect); is demoralized. Tup = enduring hardships. Tup Na = not real; only show off. Naaoun = Waheguru's Naam. Budnaaveen = earn bad name. 3.

Sikdaari = position of authority. Khooaari = humiliation. Chaakur = servant (Waheguru's devotee). Kaahay = what for? Junjeeri = chain (of justice). Huthoun = at the hands of. Merna = given punishment.

MEANING: (You claim that Kulyug - In the form of a human - has arrived in the world, that's why the people are becoming less religious and more immoral, oh pundit. But I do not see him anywhere. Like in any eon, it is the same moon and the same stars that rise in the sky, and the same sun that shines hot. It is the same earth, the same wind that blows; so, where is Kalyug playing his tricks on the minds of the people? 1.

It is the real Kalyug when the people in power cause aggression against the weaker, and such aggression is accepted (as justified). These are the symptoms of the arrival of Kalyug. You need to get rid of your unjust demands (and you will not see any Kalyug), oh pundit. Pause.

I have not heard him come to any part of the country or sit by any holy place. Nobody has seen him near the donors where they are making donations (to stop them), nor has he been seen building some palace to live in. 2.

It is the real Kalyug when a person, who serves humanity, is demoralized by others; and when a person seemingly endures self-afflicted hardships (to please his deity), but only to impress people (when he is not honest about his pursuit); or when a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam, but is given a bad name (is ridiculed). 3.

(There is no Kalyug as you believe, oh Pundit. Waheguru's laws are always the same, no matter what the era is, even if the aggressors or the corrupt justify their immoral practices. If a person in power is corrupt, he will suffer humiliation (be punished in Waheguru's Court) while Waheguru's servants (devotees) are not afraid of anything (and why should they be?). When the corrupt official is tried in Waheguru's Court, Waheguru's devotees do not testify in his favour (even though his actions were approved in the world) as a result of which the corrupt official is given punishment (we can say that he suffered at the hands of the devotees). In other words, only the guilty are punished, not the innocent, no matter what the crime and the era is. 4.

NOTE: The word "Chaakur" used after Sikdaari in stanza four seems to mean the servants of the Sikdaar. But it does not fit the intent of the sentence because most likely the assistants of a corrupt official are also corrupt, and they should also be afraid of the possible consequences of their corrupt practices. Read the following Shabad carefully.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮਹਲਾ 1, ਮਲਾਰ ਕੀ ਵਾਰ (1288)॥ ------- ਰਾਜੇ ਸੀਹ ਮੁਕਦਮ ਕੁਤੇ॥ ਜਾਇ ਜਗਾਇਨਿ ਬੈਠੇ ਸੁਤੇ॥ ਚਾਕਰ ਨਹਦਾ ਪਾਇਨ੍ਹਿ ਘਾਉ॥ ਰਤੁ ਪਿਤੁ ਕੁਤਿਹੋ ਚਟਿ ਜਾਉ॥ ----

Meaning: The rajahs have become (are acting like) lions, and their tax collectors have become dogs (to suck the blood of the public, i.e., to rob them forcibly of their wealth), and they arrive at any inconvenient time to torture them. Their servants (assistants) wound the public like dogs and suck their remaining blood and eat flesh.

It is clear from the above holy Sloak that if a high official is corrupt, their assistants will also be corrupt. So, it is highly unlikely that the assistants of a corrupt "sikdaar" will be honest. So, "chaakur" means a servant (a devotee) of Waheguru in this Shabad; only a devotee of Waheguru can be fearless.

(PAGE 903): ---------- Aakh(u) Goonaa Kul(i) aayiyaiy. Tihoun joog kayra ruhhiya tupaavus(u), jay goon dayh(i), ta paayiyaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Kul(i) kulvaali, Shurah nibaayrri, qazi Krishna hoa. Jay ghur(i) hoanday mungun jaayiyaiy, phir(i) olaahma milaiy tuhee. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Aakh Goonaa = sing Waheguru's praise. Kul(i) = Kulyug. Tihoun = the three. Kayra = of. Tupaavus(u) = decision. Pause.

Kulvaali = source of disputes. Shurah = the Muslim law. Nibayrri = the judge. Qazi = religious leader and judge. Krishna = black (Krishna was of dark colour); immoral; corrupt. Bayd(u) Atherbun(u) = the Veda of Kulyug. It contains mantras on magic and witch-craft. Kerni = noble deeds. Keerut(i) = singing praise of Waheguru. Luhhiya = come off. 5.

Put(i) = husband; Lord; Waheguru. Vin(u) = without. Sut = high morality. Sunjum = effort to control on senses. Jut = control on lust. Tilk = anointment. Sooch = mental purity. Soach = external cleanliness. 6.
Pervaan(u) = approved. Kutayb = Bible, Torah etc. Pothi = Hindu Granths. Ruhhay = lowered in status. Kur(i) Kerta = the doer and the creator. Jaan(u) = recognize. 7.
Vudiyaayee = respect. Aidoon = than this. Kerm(u) = deed. Hoanday = having in possession. Olaahma = blame; shame. Tuhee = there. 8.

MEANING: No matter how the people in the other three eons worshipped their deities, the final decision is that only Waheguru's praise emancipates people. So, now that Kalyug is here, it is time to sing Waheguru's virtues (recite His Naam), oh Pundit. However, we can do that only if Waheguru kindly gives His Naam to us (implants in our hearts). Pause.
Now, under the rule of the Muslims, the judgments are delivered under the Islamic Laws (which promote disputes), and the Qazis, who are also the judges, have become corrupt. The Vedas of Brahma, including the Atherban(u) Veda (which promotes magic and witchcraft), have become popular (among the Hindus) while the high moral character and Waheguru's praise have been brushed aside. 5.
What kind of worship is it without Waheguru (as the deity), and what kind of control on senses is it without high moral character? And what is the use of wearing janayoo if one has no control over his lust? The pundit bathes and washes his body every day, and anoints his forehead, but what kind of purity is that if the mind is not pure? 6.
It is Kalyug(i) when the books of the West, like the Koran and the Bible, become the official religious books of the land, and the importance of the Hindu Granths, the Pundit, and the Puranas has been reduced. Now God is known as Rehman. However, one must remember that there is only one doer and the creator (Waheguru). 7.
One earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam, and there is no deed higher than this. If one goes begging for things he has at home, he faces shame (If we worship Allah under coercion when we believe in our Perfect Waheguru, it is certainly a matter of shame for us), oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Perbodheh(i) = preaches. Murri = body; belly. Budhaaveh(i) = nourishes well. Aasun(u) = seat; Waheguru's support (Naam). Tiyaag(i) = by relinquishing. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Mumta Moh(u) = affection for worldly things. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Hitkaari = loves. Aoudhooti = detached from the world. Sunsaari = family man. 1.

Baiys Ruhou = stay with focused mind. Doobidha = indecisiveness (Maya or God?). Bhaagaiy = goes away. Maangut = beg. Laaj = shame. Pause.

Geet = songs. Cheeneh(i) = recognize; analyze. Aap(u) = self. Niveraiy = be removed. Pertaap(u) = heat; fire of desires. Ruchaiy = get absorbed. Bhaayay = like. Bhikhiya = Bheekh = alms. Sehj(i) Veechaari = pondering on the high spiritual state. 2.

Bhusm churraayay = coats body with ash. Paakhund(u) = show off. Dund(u) = punishment. Phootaiy = broken. Khaapur = a dish to collect alms; heart. Bhaayay = love for God. Bundhun Baandhiya = tied in worldly bonds. Aavaiy Jaayay = takes birth and dies. 3.

Bind = semen; lust. Jutee = celibate. Maayee = wealth. Traiy = the three effects of Maya. Lobhaaveh(i) = is engrossed. Nirduyya = merciless. Jot(i) Oojaala = brightness of God's Light (enlightenment). Boodut Boday = drowns slowly. Serb Junjaala = all worldly nets. 4.

MEANING: Don't you feel ashamed of begging from door to door, oh yogi? Stay in Waheguru's shelter with a focused mind, and your indecisiveness (wavering of mind to choose between Waheguru and Maya) will go away. Pause.

The yogi preaches to the world, but nourishes his body well, because of which his belly grows big. How can he get connected with God when he relinquishes His support (does not sing His praise)? He is strongly bonded to his family and other worldly attractions, and loves his wife. That way, he is neither detached from the world nor a family man in the true sense. 1.

He does sing religious songs (to preach to the people), but does not recognize himself (his own weaknesses). How can the fire of his worldly desires, from which he is suffering, be put out by singing songs only as a show off? He can connect with Waheguru (and kill his desires) only if he likes Guru's Shabad, and gets absorbed in that; and rather than begging from door to door, he begs for (ponders on) Guru's Shabad to attain the high spiritual state. 2.

He hypocritically coats his body with ash (to look unattractive to women), but has to endure the punishment of the Angel of justice for his love for Maya. Just as alms cannot be held in a broken dish, Waheguru's Naam does not stay in a heart that is divided into many pieces of thoughts; and bonded with worldly attractions, he continues to take births, and to die. 3.

He does not control his lust, but calls himself a celibate, and engrossed in Maya, he keeps begging for that. Unenlightened about spirituality, he is merciless and caught in many nets of Maya; he drowns slowly in the world sea. 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Bhaykh = religious symbols. Khintha = a quilt of rags that the yogis wear. Thutooa = things for show off. Jhoottho = false. Khayl(u) = dramas. Nutooa = acrobat. Ugun(i) = fire (of worldly attractions). Chinta = worry. Jaaray = burns; causes discomfort. Kerma = Waheguru's benevolence; noble deeds. Ootrus(i) Paaray = find salvation. 5.

Moondraan Phutuk = glass earrings. Bidiya = divine knowledge. Bigiyaan = without knowledge. Jihva = tongue. Inderi = senses. Loobhaana = engrossed. Pushoo Bhuyyay = have animal-like behaviour. Nishaana = signs. 6.

Tribidh(i) = of three qualities (Maya). Loga = people. Chookus = is removed. Soga = sadness; worries. Oojul = pure. Saach(u) = the eternal God. Joogt(i) = technique. 7.

Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine treasures. Kernaiy Joag(u) = fully capable. Thaap(i) = create. Oothaapay = destroys. Hoag(u) = happens. Jut(i) = control on senses. Sut = high morality. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Cheet(i) = in mind. Tirbhuvun = in the three worlds. 8.

MEANING: He wears a quilt of rags and other religious symbols just to show off. Like an acrobat, he performs many false (dishonest) acts (to please God), but his worries burn him inside (cause huge pain). How can he find salvation without noble deeds (or Waheguru's benevolence)? 5.

He wears glass earrings to show his faith in Shiva, but he is uneducated due to his lack of Divine Knowledge and remains bound to the world. His tongue and his other senses are engrossed in different tastes; his animal-like signs cannot be erased (are always visible). 6.

Just like the rest of the world, the yogi is also possessed by the attractions of Maya with three qualities. He can overcome his sadness (grief) of his inability to acquire it by pondering over the Guru's Shabad (when he will realize that Maya has no importance). Only Waheguru is pure, with whom he can become "one" with the Guru's Shabad. The true yogi is the one who ponders on this approach (of reciting the Guru's Shabad). 7.

You are capable of doing everything (are omnipotent), and You have control over the nine treasures, oh Waheguru. Waheguru creates and destroys at His Will, and only that which He wishes happens. The yogi, who has Waheguru in his mind at all times, controls his senses without any special effort and is the true celibate with high moral character. Such a yogi is the friend of everybody in the three worlds, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Mut(u) = the communal place of the yogis. Baiyraagi = detached from the world. Soort(i) = thoughts. Dhoon(i) = focus of mind. Jaagi = awakened; enlightened. Unhud = auto-playing divine music. Leena = fully absorbed. Puteena = won over; convinced. 1.
Praani = oh, man. Gurmukh(i) = with Guru's advice. Smaayiyaiy = be absorbed. Pause.
Bivurj(i) = by stopping (controlling). Bhaytaiy = connects with. Ruttan = jewel-like precious. Nirmoluk = priceless (which cannot be bought). Heera = diamond. Tit(u) = (with) that. Raata = imbued. Dheera = contented. 2.

MEANING: One enjoys blissfulness by worshipping Waheguru, oh man. One finds Waheguru's Naam to be very sweet, and he gets fully absorbed in the Naam. Pause
For me, my body is like the communal place of the yogis, and my mind is fully detached from worldly attractions. Guru's Shabad is always in my thoughts, and my mind stays focused on it, by which it has been enlightened. My mind is absorbed in Guru's Shabad, and I feel as if Divine music is playing in my mind. My mind has been completely won over by Waheguru's Naam, which I recite with Guru's Shabad. 1.
One gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam by keeping one's attachments with Maya at bay (controlling them). Waheguru connects His devotees with the Guru, who connects them with Waheguru (It is the Law of Waheguru that one can realize Him only by the grace of the Guru). Waheguru's Naam is a priceless diamond which cannot be bought for any price. Imbued in that, my mind is fully contented now. 2.
When a devotee worships Waheguru, his fear of death disappears, and he does not suffer from selfishness, ego, and worldly attractions, which are the root of mental sickness. With my mind adorned with the mind-purifying Waheguru's Naam, the killer Angel of (spiritual) death will not even come near me. 3.
When a devotee ponders on Guru's Shabad, his mind is enlightened with Guru's advice, his evil thinking is kicked out, and he becomes "one" with Waheguru. With his mind focused on Waheguru's Naam, he stays alert (against the attacks of Maya), and he attains the spiritual state where he is completely free from worldly bonds. 4.

Word Meaning: Alipt = Niraaray = fully detached. Goofa = cave, heart. Tuskur Punch = the five robbers (demons). Sunghaaray = destroyed. Pur Ghur = cast an evil eye on others' belongings. Dolaayay = allow weakening of mind. Sehj = high spiritual state. Niruntar(i) = omnipresent Waheguru (His Naam); continuous; always. 5.

Aoudhoota = detached from the worldly affairs = Baiyraagi. Tut(u) = the root of the universe (God). Proata = mind stitched with. Soota = asleep (in the love of worldly attachments). Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. 6.

Uvgut = incomprehensible God. Gut(i) = transcendence. Jaati = realized. Tuou = only then. Puchhaani = recognized. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Nibaani = fully detached, God. 7.

Soonn Smaadh(i) = meditative state where no ideas come to mind. Raata = imbued. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Huoun = selfishness and ego. Lobha = greed. Jaata = realized; made connection with. Gur Chaylay = disciple of the Guru; a Sikh. Dooja = love for the other (Maya). Mayt(i) = eradicating. Smaaniya = got absorbed. 8.

MEANING: The devotee kills (controls) his five demons (lust, greed, etc.) with the Guru's Shabad, and stays fully detached from worldly attractions while living in the family (he does not need to go to some cave to be detached). He does not allow his mind to be weak, keeping an evil eye on others' belongings, and, absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, he stays in a high spiritual state. 5. With his mind stitched with Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru (with His Shabad), the devotee always stays detached from worldly attractions. Asleep (engrossed) in worldly affairs, the world gets no spiritual enlightenment without the Guru's Shabad, and keeps taking births and dying. 6.

One understands the transcendence of the incomprehensible Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru with His Shabad, and realizes that it is the fully-detached Waheguru alone, which is present everywhere. He also begins to feel as if Divine music plays in his mind. 7.

Imbued in Waheguru's Naam, such a devotee overcomes his selfishness, ego, and greed, and stays in the meditative state above the effects of Maya. The mind of the disciple of the Guru is convinced with His Shabad, and free from the attractions of Maya, he gets absorbed in Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Saaha = auspicious time for some ceremony. Guneh = calculate; consider. Beechaar(u) = worry. Bidh(i) = ways (Will). Huqam(u) = (Waheguru's) laws, Will. 1.
Paanday = oh, pundit. Ghur(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Luhhiyaiy = acquire. Pause.

Vaachaiy = studies. Vaad(u) = aggressive discussions. Pitraan = ancestors. Cheenaiy = recognizes. Koyay = rare. Soajhi = enlightenment. 4.
Gunut Guniyaiy = going by astrology. Sehsa = worries. Jeeyaiy = mind. Theeyaaiy = happens. Upraadh = crime; sin. Bhaytay = connected with. Poorb(i) Kmaaya = based on previous deeds. 5.
Braham = Waheguru. Bherm(i) Bholaayiyaiy = misled by doubts. Dur = door. Baadhou = tied up. Bikaar(u) = worthlessly. Ridaiy = at heart. Achaar(u) = moral character. 6.
Ikk(i) = some. Doobidha = in indecisiveness. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Adhaar(u) = support; basis. Mudhay = among. Ko = rare. Apaar(u) = great. 7.
Boora = bad. Bhulaa = good; noble. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Boojh(u) = get understanding. Taykaiy = in the shelter. Virleen = rare. Mayt(i) = eliminating. Smaaniya = get absorbed. 8. Serb-Gooni = having all qualities (Waheguru). Bhaanaiy = as per His Will. Saach(i) = by Waheguru's Naam. 9.

MEANING: A Guru's Sikh recognizes Waheguru's Huqam (His Will), and unlike most people, does not pay any attention to auspicious (or inauspicious) times because He knows that Waheguru's Will is above all such man-predicted good or bad times. But only that Sikh understands Waheguru's Huqam who comes to the Guru's shelter. 1.
(The Pundit misguides people by stressing on the importance of auspicious and inauspicious times for ceremonies, to fleece them; so, Guru Sahib advises him): Do not lie to people, and tell them the truth (that there are no good or bad times per se), oh pundit. You should rather overcome your ego so as to have access to Waheguru's Palace (to get connected with Him). You make a few calculations to construct a horoscope for people, and you do read your holy books to educate the masses, but you do not realize the reality of Waheguru. Pondering on Guru's Shabad is the supreme of all deeds of worship; I do not acknowledge anything else that is said by people like you, as it is all dirt (meaningless) for me, oh pundit. 2.

The pundit takes his bath, washes himself to cleanse his body and clothes, and worships idols. But without getting imbued in Waheguru's Naam, his mind stays filthy. When he gets rid of his ego, he can connect with Waheguru, the charioteer (controller) of our lives. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, the man can successfully achieve emancipation. 3.
The pundit studies the Vedas solely for discussion and does not ponder them for spiritual purposes. How can he ferry his ancestors across the world sea when he himself is drowning in it? A rare person attains enlightenment in the shelter of the Guru, recognizing the presence of Waheguru in every heart. 4. If one believes in astrology and makes calculations about auspicious times, he suffers from worries (about losing the "auspicious" time or being hit by the "inauspicious" time) in his mind. But, by taking Guru's shelter, he achieves comfort (blissfulness). After committing many sins, I have come to the Guru's shelter, and, based on my deeds in a previous life, the Guru connected me with Waheguru. 5.
We cannot get connected with Waheguru if we do not take the Guru's shelter (His advice). Misled by our misgivings, we keep taking births and dying. The individual, who does not have Guru's Shabad or Waheguru's Naam at heart, and does not have good character, suffers punishment tied at the door of the Angel of death, and dies worthlessly (without any achievement in spirituality). 6. Many Brahmans call themselves astrologers, learned pundits, or family gurus, but trapped in indecisiveness, they cannot have access to Waheguru's Residence (cannot connect with Him). There is rarely one devotee in millions who, by the grace of the Guru, makes Waheguru's Naam the basis of his life. 7.
If one wishes to acquire Divine knowledge, he needs to take the Guru's shelter to recognize that, be it a bad or a good person in his judgment, Waheguru is present in all of them. Some rare individual recognizes this fact in the shelter of the Guru: that there is Waheguru alone, present everywhere. The birth-death cycle of such a devotee is terminated, and he gets absorbed in Waheguru. 8.
The devotee, who has only the treasure of all virtues - Waheguru - at his heart, has pure thinking, and performs all deeds according to the Will of the Guru (approved by Him), and merges into Waheguru by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 9.4.

Oondur, doondur paas(i) dhureejaiy. Dhoor kee sayva Ram(u) ruveejaiy. Nanak Naam(u) milaiy,kirpa Prubh keejaiy. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Hutth = persistence of mind without natural inclination. Nigreh(u) = efforts to control senses. Kaayaan = body; mind. Chheejaiy = weakens. Vert(u) = commitments. Tupun(u) = self-affliction. Bheejaiy = gets imbued. Sur(i) = equal. Poojaiy = matches. 1.
Hur(i) Jun = Waheguru's devotees. Sung(u) = company. Jum(u) Jundaar(u) = killer (wicked) Angel of death. Joh(i) = keep an evil eye. Surpun(i) = snake (poisonous Maya). Duss(i) = sting. Rus(u) = sweet taste (of Naam). Pause.
Vaad(u) = discussions. Raageen = in entertainments. Jug(u) = world. Bheejaiy = enjoys. Traiy-Goon = with three effects. Bikhiya = Maya. Suheejaiy = endures; suffers. 2.
Chaarrus(i) Puvun(i) = breath exercises of yogis (Guru Sahiban do not give them any credit towards spirituality). Singhasun(u) = his seat. Bheejaiy = drenched in sweat. Niyouli Kerm = exercises to keep the stomach clean (the yogis swirl their stomach veins). Khut Kerm = six yogic exercises to keep the stomach and the body (internally) clean. Birtha = worthless. 3.
Punch Ugun(i) = the fire of the five demons. Choar = robber; worries. Saad(u) = comfort. Luheejaiy = acquire; enjoy. Kaaya Gurrh = the fort of body. Leejaiy = have control. 4.
Teeruth Bhermeejaiy = misled, goes to holy places. Soach = cleanliness. Kirt(u) Puyya = result of the deeds done. Doas(u) = blame. Ka Kuou = whom. 5.
Unn(u) = food. Dayhi = body. Triput(i) = contentment. Theejaiy. Happens; takes place. 6.
Pooch(i) = seeking advice. Raachaiy = to get absorbed. Kerm(u) = rituals. 7.
Oodur = mouse. Doondur = noise. Paas(i) Dhureejaiy = put aside; disregard. Dhoor Kee = from the Source – Waheguru. Ruveejaiy = recite. 8.

MEANING: The body (and spirit) of the people who try to control their senses by the sheer obstinacy (persistence) of their mind actually suffer weakening of their mind (due to their inability to control). And the mind of those who make forced commitments and suffer self-inflicted torture does not get imbued with love for Waheguru. Nothing comes even close to Waheguru's Naam. 1.
Serve the Guru, and stay in the company of Waheguru's devotees to drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit; oh, my mind. Also, the wicked Angel of death will not keep an evil eye on you, and the poisonous snake of Maya will not sting you. Pause.
The pundit studies the Vedas only for discussion and enjoys worldly entertainments, the source of which is Maya with its three effects; as a result, he keeps taking births and dying. He suffers discomfort without Waheguru's Naam. 2.

The yogi gets drenched in sweat in his seat while performing breathing exercises, and performs the six tough yogic tasks to keep his stomach and body clean and healthy (for which Guru Sahiban give no credit in the realm of spirituality). All his breaths go to waste without Waheguru's Naam. 3. How can he find peace when the fire of the five demons (lust, greed, etc.) is burning inside him? How can he enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam when the worldly attractions are stealing his peace? But a devotee can control his fort-like body (senses and mind) in the Guru's shelter. 4.
The Brahman goes to holy places to take dips to cleanse his body, but has filth in mind. What purpose will his outside cleanliness serve when his mind is not clean? But whom can he blame, when he is reaping the reward of his own previous deeds? 5.
He does not eat food and causes suffering to his body, but without the Guru's Knowledge (Advice), he does not find contentment. Disconnected with Waheguru, he keeps taking births and dying. What other ritual can he perform (to please God) than reciting His Naam? 6.
Seeking the advice of the Guru, the man should stay in the company of the holy saints so that his mind gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and he does not suffer from rebirths. What better spiritual deeds can one perform than reciting Waheguru's Naam? 7.
One should disregard the distracting noise raised by the mouse-like senses and recite Waheguru's Naam, which is the service assigned to him from Waheguru. I pray to Waheguru that He kindly grants me His Naam, oh, Nanak. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Ootbhooj(u) = all living beings. Uver(u) = other. Joogeh(i) Jooguntur(i) = throughout the eons. Ootput(i) = creation. Purlou = destruction. 1.

Aiysa = such is. Gehr = deep; unfathomable. Gumbheera = never changing with conditions. Luggaiy = attacks; pierces. Teer(u) = arrow. Pause.

Ruttan = jewel. Heera = diamond. Nirmoal(u) = priceless. Amar(u) = immortal. Atoal(u) = immeasurable. Jihva = tongue. Soochi = holy. Boal(u) = Naam(u). Roal = impurity; doubt. 2.

Ikk(i) = some. Baiyseh(i) = live. Doogur(i) = mountainous. Usthaan(u) = place. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. Pucheh(i) = suffers. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Dhiyaan(u) = meditation. 3.

Hutth(u) = persistence of mind without being convinced. Lay = uses. Bhermus(i) = by roaming (visiting). Biyaadh(i) = disease; mental sickness. Jutun = efforts. Bind(u) = lust. Ruhaayee = controlled. Munooaa = mind. Doalaiy = weakens; wavers. Pur(i) = in the city; under control. Luhhaiy Sujaayee = receives punishment. Jul(i) Bul(i) = gets roasted. 4 & 5.

Saadhik = on way to become Sidh yogi. Moon(i) = hermits. Dayva = gods. Nigreh(i) = efforts to control senses. Triptaaveh(i) = contends. Bhayva = separation. Guheh(i) = acquire. Abhimaan Abhayva = unaffected by ego. 6.

Gerb = ego. Bheenaiy = imbues. Paavus(i) = acquire; realize. Paakhund(i) = hypocrisy. Ghur(u) Baar(u) = Waheguru's Residence (shelter). Tutt(u) = the root (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: There is no other power than Waheguru in the entire creation (universe). Everything that we talk about has been created by Waheguru. It is the same eternal Lord controlling the universe throughout all the eons. There is no one else who creates and destroys. 1. Such unfathomable and never-changing is my Waheguru. Whoever recites His Naam enjoys blissfulness, and the arrow of the Angel of Death does not hit him (he is not afraid of death). Pause.

Waheguru's Naam is a jewel, a priceless diamond (which cannot be bought for any price). The eternal Lord is immeasurable. When one recites Waheguru's Naam, his tongue gets purified. He gets access to Waheguru's Door - His Residence - beyond any doubt. 2.

Some people live in forests or on high mountains to worship God, but they ignore His Naam, and burn (suffer) in their conceit (of having renounced the world). What is the use of any knowledge or any medication without Waheguru's Naam? A devotee of the Guru earns respect in Waheguru's Court. 3.

The pundit reads holy books aloud to preach to people, and undertakes pilgrimages, but the disease of his selfishness and ego does not go away. One cannot realize Waheguru if he is suffering from his ego, or if he is simply persisting in his mind without love for Him. How can he enjoy comfort (peace of mind) without Waheguru's Naam? 4.

He cannot control his lust, no matter how hard he tries. His mind weakens (without Waheguru's Naam), and he goes to hell. Tied up in the court of the Angel of Death, he receives punishment. His mind burns (suffers badly) without Waheguru's Naam. 5.

Countless Sidhs, yogis, hermits, and gods try to control their senses by the persistence of their mind so as to get connected with Waheguru, but they do not get the satisfaction to eliminate the distance between them and Waheguru (they fail to do so). But, when they ponder on the Guru's Shabad, they start serving the Guru when their body and mind get purified, and they get rid of their ego. 6.

With good fortune, they come to Waheguru's shelter, where, by His benevolence, love for His worship sprouts in their mind, and His Naam is enshrined in their heart. I, too, pray to Waheguru that he becomes kind to me so that I may recite His Naam in Guru's shelter. 7.
One does not realize Waheguru by falsehood and by hypocrisy. One's mind gets imbued in Waheguru's love only when one gets rid of one's selfishness and ego. Without Guru's Shabad, one cannot have access to Waheguru's Door - His Residence (cannot connect with Him). So, one needs to ponder on Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Jiyoun = just as *(loaded with vices). Tiyoun = in the same state. Bhuyya. Rus Bhoag = enjoy luxuries. Tayta = the same. Bhuvjul = the sea of rebirths. 1.
Kunuk = gold; wealth. Kaamini = wife. Siyoun = with. Hayt(u) = attachment. Vudhaaveh(i) = increases; shows. Kee = why? Visaar(i) = forgetting. Bherm(i) = doubts. Pause.

Jut(u) = control on lust. Sut(u) = control on moral character. Sunjum = control on senses. Seel = calmness; pleasant demeanor. Prayt Pinjur = body without virtues. Kaasht(u) = merciless heart like dry wood. Poonn(u) = virtuous deeds. Daan(u) = helping the needy. Ishnaan(u) = mental purity. Baad(i) = useless; wasteful. Juyya = life as human. 2.
Laaluch = greed. Bisaariyo = forgotten. Aavut Jaavut = coming and going; births and deaths. Dhaayay = in a rush. Kays = hair. Geh(i) = holding. Soort(i) = consciousness. Kaal = death.3.

Meaning: You leave the world (die) as *loaded with vices as you were when you came into this world (were born), oh, the foolish man. You will suffer as much as the luxuries you enjoyed, and will be put in the sea of rebirths if you ignore Waheguru's Naam. 1.
You get conceited to see your youthful body and your wealth. Your attachment to your wealth and your wife keeps increasing (with time). Why are you being misled by forgetting Waheguru's Naam? Pause. You did retain (look after) your high character, high morality, control of your senses, and your calmness (pleasant demeanour) with the result that there is a dry, wood-like stone heart in your unholy body. You did not do any noble deed, help the needy, cleanse your mind, and had no control over your sensual desires. Without the company of the holy saints, your life as a human being has been wasted. 2.
You ignored Waheguru's Naam in your greed for worldly comforts, and you wasted your life, with the result that you will have to stay in the birth-death cycle. When the Angel of Death rushes to take you away, he will hold you roughly by the hair, and you will lose your consciousness and be swallowed by death. 3.
You have no compassion at heart, are jealous of others, and criticize them maliciously day and night. Without the Guru's Shabad, you cannot attain a high spiritual state, and can earn no respect. Without Waheguru's Naam, you are sent to hell, oh man. 4.
Like an actor who changes his costumes frequently to suit his role, deeply absorbed in worldly attachments and greed, you change your personality in a moment to suit your objective (to earn more wealth). Deeply engrossed in the love of wealth, you continue to expand your holdings everywhere. 5. ----------

NOTE: Based on their deeds of previous lives, some humans are born loaded with vices. Pay attention to the following holy Sloak of Guru Amar Dass Ji MEANING: Without putting his mind to Guru's Shabad, the man is caught in many misgivings, and commits many immoral acts in order to expand his holdings of wealth. (Without Guru's Shabad) He suffers from the serious disease of selfishness and ego, which, however, goes away when he seeks the Guru's Advice. 6. When the Maya-loving man sees wealth coming, he feels very happy and becomes conceited, but also worries that he may lose it the same way, because Waheguru, who gave him life and the wealth, could take it back. 7.

Whatever we see in the world (wealth and relatives) is given by the grace of Waheguru, but nothing goes with the man at the time of his death. But the devotee, who has the root of the universe, the limitless Waheguru, at his heart, swims across the world sea. 8.

(Without Guru's Shabad, one does not understand the Will of Waheguru) and cries at the death of a relative; but who is he crying before (because Waheguru already knows it), and there is nobody else to help him); so, as a result of such attachments, he is drowning in the frightening world-sea. On seeing his family, household, and wealth, the Maya-loving man is caught in the worthless, unwanted nets of worldly attractions. 9.

When Waheguru sends us in the world, we take birth, and we leave the world when He calls us back. He is forgiving and forgives the deserving. He does whatever He has to do. 10.

Seek the company of those who have tasted the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all sweetness (bliss), oh man. Satguru is the source of the emancipating Naam of Waheguru, and one acquires supernatural powers, spiritual wisdom, and knowledge from the Guru. 11.

Guru's Sikh treats comforts and discomforts the same way (is stoic) and is fully detached from happiness and sadness. He acquires Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru by getting rid of his selfishness and ego, and gets absorbed in the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 12.7.

MEANING: Rather than wearing glass earrings, wear the rings of high morality in your mind, and make compassion the quilt of rags that you wear, oh yogi. And rather than coating your body with ash, always keep the birth-death cycle in mind (that your ignoble deeds will keep you in this cycle). If you practise these things, you will have overcome the desire to enjoy the luxuries of the whole universe. 1.
You play on the veena (lute) to focus your mind on your deity (without any spiritual gain), but if you meditate on Waheguru's Naam with full focus, you will enjoy the auto-playing Divine music in your mind, oh yogi. Pause. Make high moral character and contentment the dish and the bag in which you collect and store alms, and you will receive the food of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit as the alms. If you use the focus of your mind as your baton to keep the vices away, the lute of Waheguru's Naam will play in your mind. 2.

If you settle down for meditation (on Waheguru's Naam) with the full focus of your mind, all your mental constructs will disappear; and rather than begging from door to door, if you beg (search) for Waheguru in your own body (mind), you will acquire His Naam, oh yogi. 3.
You cannot meditate, and you cannot acquire Waheguru (His Naam) by playing on this veena, and you cannot acquire peace of mind, and you cannot get rid of your ego with this veena. 4.
Build your own veena by using fear of God and love for Him as the two round supports for the veena, with your body as the major wire, oh yogi. This wire will automatically play (Guru's Shabad) in His shelter, whereby the fire of your desires will be put out. 5.
The true yogi is the one who focuses his mind on the "One" (Waheguru), and obeys His Huqam (Will) as a result of which all his doubts and worries will disappear, and his mind will be purified. This is the technique (path) to union with Waheguru, oh yogi. 6.
Every visible thing in the world is perishable, so attach your mind to Waheguru. But one acquires this understanding only when one serves Waheguru with love and reverence. 7.

Aoukhudh = medication. Boojhaiy = understands. Joogut(i) = technique; means. 10.
Maarug(u) = path. Bikhum = very tough. Nudr(i) = sight of kindness. Bherm(u) = doubts. 11
Vin(u) = without. Kinguree = Veena. Mookut(i) = free from worldly bonds. 12.
MEANING: One does not achieve union with (or acquire love for) God if he renounces his family and roams around in the world. There is Waheguru's Naam in your body, and you can realize that by the grace of the Guru. 8. This world (the man) is a body of earth (mud) which suffers from the serious sickness of worldly desires. No matter how many efforts one may make or wear symbols of many faiths, this sickness does not go away, oh yogi. 9.
Waheguru's Naam is the only medication for this sickness, provided it is embedded in the mind. But only that individual understands and follows such means to union with Waheguru, who takes the Guru's shelter, oh yogi. 10.
The path to union with Waheguru is very tough, oh yogi. Only that individual follows it on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. Such a devotee overcomes all his doubts (illusions), and sees only Waheguru inside and out. 11.
You too play on that veena which plays (Waheguru's Naam) without being plucked (by itself), oh yogi. Such a yogi becomes free from all worldly bonds and stays absorbed in Waheguru, oh Nanak. 12.1.

MEANING: The importance of the treasure (source) of worship (Waheguru) is realized only in the shelter of the Guru, which gives us spiritual understanding. 1.

Waheguru bestows honour on that devotee only who comes to the Guru's shelter. Pause.

If you stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, you will enjoy the comfort of the blissful state, and you will get rid of your lust and rage. 2.

All one's worldly attachments get eradicated with the Guru's Shabad, and he begins to meditate on Waheguru's Naam by getting rid of his selfishness and ego. 3.

Waheguru, which creates us, also takes us away, and His Naam is one's friend at the end .4.

Always believe that Waheguru, which has created the world, is near you and not away from you, and you will realize that Waheguru in the form of the Shabad (Naam) is present in your heart, and you will begin to meditate on the eternal Waheguru. 5 & 6.
Waheguru's priceless Naam is always recited in the holy congregation, but only a highly fortunate individual gets to join such a holy gathering. 7.
Do not be misled by your doubts (about the illusions) of Maya; serve Satguru by focusing your mind solely on Waheguru. 8. Without Waheguru's Naam, the whole world is misled by the illusions of Maya, and wastes away the precious human life. 9.

One can achieve union (with Waheguru) only by meditating on Waheguru's Naam with the Guru's Shabad. 11. Running around for Maya can be stopped by Guru's Shabad when Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in the devotee's mind. 12.
Your body is a pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit; so, take a dip in the pool by focusing on His Naam, oh holy saints. 13. A devotee, who takes a dip in the pool of Waheguru's Naam, gets his mind purified, and the filth of his mind is removed by Guru's Shabad. 14.
Engrossed in the three effects of Maya, the man is unaware of Waheguru (ignores Him), and does not recite His Naam; without Waheguru's Naam, he dies without any spirituality. 15.
Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva are believed to be the three manifestations of the superpower, but they, too, are misled by Maya's attractions. 16.
With Guru's grace, a devotee rises above the three effects of Maya and recites Waheguru's Naam with a focused mind in the fourth state (above Maya). 17.

The words in praise of Waheguru written by the holy saints are supreme, and have been equally effective (in cleansing one's mind and connecting him with God) in every eon. 20.
Those devotees who are attached to the Bani attain a high spiritual state and stay absorbed in Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad. 21.
The devotee, who analyzes his body (self) with Guru's Shabad (advice), acquires (enshrines) Waheguru's Naam, which includes all the nine treasures. 22.
Such a devotee kills all his worldly desires in his mind (they do not affect him), and becomes absorbed in the peaceful state, and sings Waheguru's praise with his mind, and not with the tongue only (the Naam gets enshrined in his mind). 23.
His eyes are mesmerized by the beauty of nature, and his mind is focused on the invisible God. His soul merges into the invisible Waheguru, which is always detached from the world. 24 & 25. I always sing praise of my Guru, who imparted the real (eternal) wisdom about Waheguru. 26.

Nirmul(u) = pure; perfect (Waheguru). Bidh(i) = real means (honesty and dedication). Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). 9-10

MEANING: Worship of Waheguru is not easily available (not everybody can do it because of the powerful attractions of Maya); nothing can be explained about it in words. It can be performed only by Waheguru's Naam, which connects one with the omnipresent Waheguru, and which can be acquired only by the grace of the Guru, oh the holy men. 1.& Pause.
Everything is filthy (has the poisonous effects of Maya on it) without Waheguru's Naam; so, what can I offer (in the traditional way which most people use to offer to their deities) to Waheguru? 2. Only that worship is approved by Waheguru, which He likes, and when the devotees accept His Will by their mind (with reverence). 3.
Everybody worships some power in some way, but Waheguru gives no credit to Maya-lovers (who are disconnected from Him). 4. Only the worship by which the devotee kills his worldly desires and by which his mind is cleansed is given credit by Waheguru. 5.
Those devotees who meditate only on Guru's Shabad (in praise of Waheguru) become pure and pious, and eventually become eternal (by merging with Waheguru). 6.
No other worship is accepted by Waheguru without His Naam; the whole world is misled by their misgivings (about Maya). 7.
The Sikhs of the Guru recognize themselves (as to who they are and what the objective of human life is) by meditating on Waheguru's Naam, oh, the holy men. 8.
Waheguru, Himself, makes His devotees worship Him by the Guru's Shabad, and gives them credit for that. 9. The Maya-lovers do worship, but do not know how to worship Waheguru. They worship (love) Maya, whereby they get more filth on their mind. 10.

MEANING: We follow the path of immorality, are filthy in mind, and we are egoists. But we can wash away the filth of our immoral thinking by Guru's Shabad in His shelter. 1.
Waheguru's Naam emancipates one in the shelter of the Guru, oh, the holy saints. His Naam gets implanted in our heart when we recite it, and Waheguru Himself completes this task. Pause. With Waheguru's benevolence, the devotee connects with the elixir-stone-like Guru, and, like an elixir stone, the Guru converts a base metal into gold; the devotee becomes a holy saint, like the Guru. 2. Many don religious symbols and roam around full of ego (that they are saints); but such people lose their precious human life in the gamble (they trade their noble qualities or spirituality for the short-lived attractions of Maya). 3.
But the devotees acquire Waheguru's Naam in their heart and worship Him day and night. 4. Intoxicated in the high spiritual state, they are imbued in Waheguru's love, and kill their selfishness and ego with Waheguru's Naam. 5.
Waheguru can never be worshipped without love and (respectful) fear for Him, but He Himself adorns His worship (purifies to be acceptable). 6.
Attachment for Maya can be burned with Guru's Shabad, and Divine Knowledge is acquired (connection is made with Waheguru) when one ponders over the essence of the universe (Waheguru) (by the Guru's Shabad). 7. Waheguru Himself makes individuals worship Him, and Himself bestows the treasures of worship on them. 8.

Nobody can find the end to His virtues; I simply sing His praise by pondering over the Guru's Shabad. 9. I recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise, whereby I have eradicated my selfishness and ego. 10.

Waheguru's devotees are always hungry for His Naam, and sing His praise by pondering over the Guru's Shabad. 13.

Life and body are both given by Him. It is very difficult to describe all His largesse. 14.

The individuals, who are attached to Guru's Shabad (ponder on that), are ferried across the world-sea and are salvaged. 15. Only some thoughtful people realize that nobody can cross the world's oceans without Waheguru's Naam. 16.

One receives only those comforts (or discomforts) which have been prewritten in his fate right from the Source (by Waheguru), but his life becomes a success when he gets connected with Waheguru by the Guru's Shabad. 17. Only those individuals get connected with God who search for Him in their own bodies. Others, who pursue the attractions of Maya, drown in the world-sea because of their ego and their scattered (ever-wandering) mind (which never focuses on God). 20.

The real yogi (connected with Waheguru) is the one who kills his selfishness, ego, and the fire of his worldly desires by pondering over the root (basis) of the Divine Knowledge - Waheguru's Naam. 22. Only that individual makes a connection with Satguru, who is the source of Waheguru's Naam, whom You are kind to, oh Waheguru. 23.

I have full faith only in You, and do not believe in any other faith so as to wear its symbols. Pause. Some people renounce their family life and settle in some part of a forest (to achieve emancipation), while others call themselves hermits to show their detachment from the world. Some claim that they are devotees of only one deity, but I, as a poor man with no such resources to brag about, have taken shelter of Waheguru alone. 2.

Some roam about on the whole earth, but poor me, I have taken shelter only at Waheguru's Door. 3. Now, it is up to you whether you want to be successful (to get connected with Waheguru) or not. You need to recite Waheguru's Naam to connect with Him, oh man. 6.

We are guilty (of not remembering Waheguru), and are without any noble quality. I have neither served Waheguru nor His living beings, nor performed any noble deeds. Fortunately,

I have been connected with the Guru, who is the ship that ferries us across the world sea (gives us salvation). I am His slave even though I am heavy like a stone because I am loaded with sins, but I, too, can be saved by the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Waheguru, with whose Will these demons get attached to people (victimize them), also removes (destroys) them with His kindness from His devotees. 2.
The holy saints attain salvation by taking shelter in Waheguru, whereas the egoists are eliminated (die spiritually) while suffering greatly. 3. The devotee, who receives the reward of Waheguru's Naam in the company (shelter) of the Guru, makes the Naam his only support in life. 4. No one is a real valiant (who controls the demons) by himself, nor does anyone lack the necessary strength completely; it is Waheguru's enlightenment that appears in everybody (to varying degrees). 5.
It is Waheguru alone who is present everywhere, and who is omnipotent; yet He is indescribable and incomprehensible. 6.
Nobody can determine the worth of the Creator, Waheguru, which has no end. 7.
Waheguru's Naam is a gift which one receives when he becomes the dust of the feet of His holy saints (serves them with humility); and then earns respect with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.3.8.22.

Those devotees begin to recite Waheguru's Naam, who had such good fortune, prewritten by the benevolent Waheguru, right from the beginning. Such devotees enjoy blissfulness and feel as if they are listening to the auto-playing Divine music, oh Nanak(u). 5.

What can the poor soul achieve without pondering on Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak(u)? 6.

Those who come to like Your Will with the Guru's grace get their minds purified. (Guru) Nanak(u) says that only that individual acquires Your Naam, whom You give kindly, oh Waheguru. 8.

But it is Waheguru who has given such mind-captivating ability to Maya, which, like the thornapple, has the effect of enchantment on the people. So, rather than loving Maya, I am always a sacrifice for Waheguru which has made the attachment with Maya to be so sweet. Nobody can realize Waheguru with his shrewdness, oh Nanak(u). 10.

Realizing that all the living beings are created by You, many people come to (Guru's Shelter) to have Your holy sight, oh Waheguru. They like the Guru, whom they find loving and compassionate, and they rid themselves of their gluttony, greed, and ego in His shelter. Only those acquire Amrit (Waheguru's Naam) from the Guru whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak(u). 13.

However, the thoughts of sensual pleasures of those who get rid of their selfishness and ego with the grace of the Guru, are absorbed in Waheguru's Naam (they stay suppressed). The lifestyle of the bhagats is unique (is the same) no matter what the eon is, oh Nanak 14.

All those whom You show the path of life to follow, obey You, and follow the path shown by You. Those who You prompt to recite Your Naam, remember You all the time with Your benevolence. Those who are put in the Guru's shelter to listen to the story of Your splendour enjoy blissfulness. The eternal Lord runs the world the way He likes, oh Nanak(u). 15.

Some people talk a lot about Waheguru (without having much faith in Him), but nobody has ever realized Him (made a connection with Him) by just talking about Him. Only Satguru recites (preaches) the soothing Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), which is the source of bliss, oh Nanak(u). 16.

Word Meaning: Kermeen = by religious rituals. Sehj(u) = the high spiritual state. Oopjaiy = generated. Vin(u) = without. Sehsa = worries; doubts. Kitaiy = by any. Sunjum(i) = means. Muleen(u) = filthy. Kit(u) = by what (means)? Ivv = like this. 18.

MEANING: One cannot attain the high spiritual state by performing the prevalent religious rituals, and one's misgivings and worries are not eradicated without attaining the high spiritual state, no matter how many efforts one puts in and how many rituals one performs. One's mind is filthy because of his misgivings (illusions about Maya); what means can one use to cleanse his mind? (The answer is) that one can wash away the filth of his mind by the Guru's Shabad to keep Waheguru in mind all the time. One attains the high spiritual state by the grace of the Guru, whereby his worries and his misgivings go away, oh Nanak(u). 18.

Word Meaning: Jeehoun = by the soul (mind). Mailay = filthy. Nirmul = clean. Jooyaiy Haariya = lost (wasted away) in the gamble. Tisna = appetite for worldly attractions. Roag(u)

= disease. Mern(u) = death. Visaariya = forgot. Ootum = supreme. Baytaaliya = ghosts; out of step in life. Tujiya = abandoned. Koorraiy = in the perishable. 19.
MEANING: Those who keep their looks clean, but have a filthy mind, waste away their precious human life in the gamble (to attain peace and content by acquiring more and more wealth while losing their spirituality). Appetite for worldly desires is a serious disease whereby one forgets about one's inevitable death. Even the Vedas admit that Waheguru's Naam is supreme, yet people do not listen to that and go around in the world like a ghost (out of step with reality). Those who abandon Waheguru and get attached to the perishable things waste away their precious life in the gamble, oh Nanak(u). 19.

Word Meaning: Kerni = following the path (of righteousness). Kmaani = perform. Soyay = news. Puhounchaiy Naahi = does not reach (do not listen to). Munsa = desires of mind. Sach(i) = in Waheguru. Junum(u) Ruttan = precious human life. Khuttiya = earned; made successful. Bhulay = noble. Say = those. Vunjaaray = businessmen. 20.
MEANING: Those who follow the path of righteousness as advised by the Guru are clean in their looks and have pure minds (they are not affected by the attractions of Maya). In fact, the news of the glory of such attractions does not even reach them (they pay no attention to such talk) as their desires are absorbed (are suppressed) in Waheguru's Naam). Those who make their precious human life successful (achieve the objective of connecting with Waheguru) are the noble businessmen (acceptable to God). Those who have pure minds stay in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 20.

Word Meaning: Sayti = with; of. Sunmukh(i) = to be a devotee; obey (the Guru). Jeeoun = by mind. Buchan = Words; Shabad. Untar = inside. Aatmaiy = deep from the soul (heart). Smaalay = remembers. Aap(u) = selfishness. Pernaiy = shelter. 21.
MEANING: If a Sikh obeys the Guru, his mind stays connected with the Guru. He recites Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) and remembers Him by his soul. Getting rid of his selfishness and ego, he spends his life in the shelter of the Guru (obeys His advice rather than follow his own wisdom), and does not recognize (worship) any other power. Such a Sikh is a true devotee of the Guru, oh, the holy men. 21.

Word Meaning: Baymukh(i) = non-devotee; disobey (the Guru). Mookt(i) = salvation. Hoarthaiy = some other place. Bibaykiyaan = spiritually knowledgeable. Jooni = life forms. Bherm(i) = go through. Phir(i) = then. Laag(i) Churnee = taking shelter.

MEANING: On the other hand, if a person disobeys the Guru (does not recognize Him as the spiritual guide, and follows his own mind), he never finds emancipation anywhere else. The holy saints, having Divine Knowledge, will attest to this fact. He will go through many life forms, but will not find salvation without the Guru. He will find salvation only when He takes the Guru's shelter and listens to His Shabad (acts on that). If you think carefully and do your research, you will find that no one can find salvation without the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 22.

Word Meaning: Sachi Bani = Guru's eternal Shabad (Waheguru's Naam). Sir(i) = topmost; supreme. Nudr(i) = God's kind sight. Smaani = gets implanted. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Rung(i) = in love. Saaringpaani = a name for God.

MEANING: Let all of you, the beloved of the Satguru, get together and sing Guru's eternal Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), which is the supreme among all other shabads (songs). Those who have Waheguru's kind sight on them can embed it in their hearts. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit one drinks when he recites it, and it stays imbued with His love. Sing Waheguru's Naam, which is eternal (connects one with Him), oh Nanak(u). 23.

Word Meaning: Kuchi = non-spiritual; about the perishable (Maya). Kucheen = Maya-lovers. Baajhoun = without. Vukhaani = explain. Jaani = understand. Chit(u) = mind. Hir(i) = robbed. Ruvaani = just by words.

MEANING: All shabads, other than those of Satguru, are about the perishable (Maya and ego); those who recite them, or listen to them, get even more attached to the perishables because they are spoken and explained by Maya-lovers. They may chant "god" in their tongue all the time, but know nothing about what they chant. Those whose minds (wisdom) have been robbed (captivated) by Maya, utter “god” only by the tongue. All shabads, other than those of the Guru, are about the perishable, oh Nanak(u). 24.

Word Meaning: Ruttan = jewel-like precious. Jurraaou = inlaid. Smaaou = absorption (in the Naam). Sayti = with. Sachaiy = with Waheguru. Bhaaou = love.

MEANING: Guru’s Shabad is highly valuable like a jewel (in terms of its spiritual wealth), which has diamonds (noble qualities) inlaid in it. Love for Waheguru is generated in the mind of a devotee who gets attached to the jewel-like Guru’s Shabad, and he stays absorbed in Waheguru. The devotee, who gets the understanding from the Guru, realizes that Waheguru Himself is the diamonds and the jewels. Guru’s Shabad is such a jewel that has diamonds (noble qualities) inlaid in it, oh Nanak(u). 25.

Word Meaning: Shiv Shukut(i) = God and Maya; peace (contentment), and fire of desires. Kerta = Creator. Vertaayay= operates. Kisaiy = rare. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. Bundhun = bonds. Mookt(i) = free from bonds; emancipation. Vusaayay = enshrine. Aikus Siyoun = only with “One” God. Live Laayay = focus mind on.

MEANING: Waheguru creates Himself and Maya, and reigns the universe with His Huqam (Laws), and looks after it. But He gives this understanding (knowledge) only to some rare individuals through the Guru. Such devotees enshrine the Guru’s Shabad in their mind, whereby all their worldly bonds are broken. But only those individuals come to Guru’s shelter who are prompted to do so by Waheguru; they meditate only on the Naam of the “One” Supreme Being (Waheguru). The Creator, Himself, gives the understanding of His Huqam, oh Nanak(u). 26.

Word Meaning: Simrit(i) Shastar = Hindu holy books. Tuttaiy = of reality; of the Root (Waheguru). Saar = information; worth. Tiheen Goonee = the three effects of Maya (see INFORMATION). Bherm(i) = illusions of Maya. Soota = asleep; ignorant. Rain(i) = night of life. Vihaani = is spent. Jaagay = got enlightened. Undin = always.
MEANING: The Hindu holy books discuss only the noble and the sinful deeds, but have no understanding of the Root of the universe (God). Nobody, other than the Guru, knows the worth (high transcendence) of Waheguru. The world is asleep under the influence of the three effects of Maya, and their life spends in such ignorance. However, some people get enlightened by the grace of the Guru, and recite His Amrit-like Shabad whereby Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in their hearts. Those devotees acquire the Root of the universe (Waheguru) in their mind (get connected with Waheguru), and meditate on His Naam all the time, and stay awake against the attacks of Maya throughout their life, oh Nanak(u). 27.

Word Meaning: Oodur = womb. Pritpal = raises and nourishes. Visaariyaiy = forget. Aivud = so great. Daata = Lord. Ugun(i) = fire (in the womb). Aahaar(u) = food. Poochaavay = delivers. Poh(i) = touch; affect. Liv = focus of mind.
MEANING: Why should we forget the Great Lord which protects, and raises us in the womb of the mother, and which delivers food for us even in there. No trouble can touch (come near) the individual whom He makes to meditate on His Naam. Waheguru Himself, implants His love in His devotees' hearts; we should always remember Him in Guru's shelter (by reciting His Shabad). Why should we forget such great Lord, oh Nanak(u)? 28.

Word Meaning: Ugun(i) = fire (heat). Oodur = womb. Khayl(u) = drama. Ruchaaya = created. Bhaana = liked. Bhulaa = loved. Liv Chhorrki = the connection broke. Trishna = fire of desires. Amar(u) = control. Vertaaya = exercised.
MEANING: The effect of the heat in the mother's womb is the same as that of Maya in the outside world (they both are necessary for survival, and provide comfort in their own ways, and are loved; but both keep one in the dark and in ignorance). It is a drama of the Creator that they are both similar. When the fetus becomes a full child as per the Will of Waheguru

(as per His Laws) and takes birth, the family loves the newborn. But the focus of the mind on Waheguru that the fetus had in the womb is broken after his birth, when Maya begins to reign over his thinking, and worldly attractions begin to captivate him. It is Maya, because of which Waheguru is forgotten, and the man begins to love other things in life. But those who get attached to Waheguru by the grace of the Guru, find emancipation even in the midst of the attractions of Maya, oh Nanak(u). 29.

Word Meaning: Amooluk(u) = priceless. Vit-houn = by. Vil-laayay = (work hard to the extent of) crying and wailing. Sir(u) = head; wisdom. Saunpiyaiy = surrender. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Jeeou = life; soul. Tis(u) = Him. Pullaiy Paayay = acquires.

MEANING: Waheguru is priceless, and nobody can assess His worth; many people try in vain to the extent of crying (for their failure) to find Waheguru's worth, but fail. (A devotee's objective is not to find the worth of Waheguru), He should simply surrender his wisdom to such a Satguru by whose grace he can get rid of his selfishness and ego (to connect with God). When the devotee makes a connection with Waheguru (focuses his mind on Him), His Naam gets enshrined in the devotee's heart. Waheguru is priceless; those are highly fortunate who acquire Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak(u). 30.

MEANING: My mind is a trader (which trades its ignoble qualities for spirituality), and Waheguru's Naam is my capital, which I acquired from Satguru. You, too, recite Waheguru's Naam to earn spiritual benefit (wealth) every day, oh my friends. But only those lucky devotees acquire this wealth of Waheguru's Naam whom He likes. Waheguru's Naam is my capital, and my mind is the trader, oh Nanak(u). 31.

Such appetite is never satisfied unless one acquires the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. When one acquires the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam and enjoys it, he never experiences the appetite for other tastes again. However, one acquires Waheguru's sweet Naam only with great fortune when one comes to the shelter of the Guru. One forgets all other tastes when Waheguru's Naam is embedded in his heart, oh Nanak(u). 32.

Waheguru, which creates the man and shows him (exposes him to) the world (His creation to appreciate), is our mother, and our father. By Guru's grace, one realizes that the whole world is a drama created by Waheguru. The man is born when Waheguru places His Light in his body after having laid the foundation of the universe, oh Nanak(u). 33.

MEANING: My mind became highly excited when I heard (realized) that Waheguru had appeared in my mind. Sing the song of joy (blissfulness) as my body has been transformed into a place of worship, oh my senses. Sing the song of blissfulness (Waheguru's praise) all the time, whereby no grief or discomfort will affect you, oh my friends. It is a highly auspicious day when one “sees” (gets connected with) the Lord in the shelter of the Guru. One acquires the eternal Bani (Guru’s Shabad in praise of Waheguru). With Guru’s Shabad in his mind, he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru’s Naam. Waheguru, who is omnipotent to create anything in the universe, Himself, appears in the heart of the devotee, oh Nanak(u). 34.

MEANING: What noble deeds have you performed since you came into the world, oh my body? You have not enshrined the Naam of Waheguru, which created you. But, Waheguru’s Naam is implanted in one’s mind with Guru’s grace as a result of his prewritten fate (based on his deeds of previous lives). The human body, which attaches its mind to Satguru (obeys His Shabad), gets approved (by Waheguru), oh Nanak(u). 35.

MEANING: Waheguru has placed His Light in you, so do not see (recognize) any other power than Waheguru, oh my eyes. You are given to “see” only Waheguru in everything. (My Guru explains that) The whole world, that I see, is a form (manifestation) of Waheguru; when I saw it carefully with Guru’s grace, I realized that it is Waheguru alone who is present everywhere, and there is none other like Him. My eyes were blind (to this reality), but I acquired the god-like vision (to see Waheguru) when I came to the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak(u). 36.

By listening to Waheguru's praise, one's mind and body acquire a new spiritual life, and the tongue gets absorbed in the sweetness of His Naam. The high transcendence of Waheguru, which is incomprehensible and amazing, cannot be described. So, simply listen to the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru, which purifies the mind; that's why you have been sent into the world, oh Nanak(u). 37.

But some devotees are able to see (realize) the tenth door when Waheguru injects love for Him in the devotee's mind in the shelter of the Guru. In that high spiritual state, the devotee sees countless forms of Waheguru and acquires His Naam, the source of the nine mythical treasures, yet finds no end to His limits. The Dear Waheguru infuses life into the cave-like human body, and the air makes the body breathe, oh Nanak. 38.

NOTE: Sud(u) means a call in Punjabi. Here, Sud(u) means call of Waheguru for Guru Amar Dass Ji. Before the advent of Guru Nanak Sahib, all ceremonies (religious and cultural) were performed by Brahmans according to their Granths (which have also been written by Brahmans). Guru Nanak Sahib preached against such practices where gods were worshipped and meaningless rituals were performed. When it was time for Guru Amar Dass Ji (the Third Master) to leave this mortal world, He called a meeting of His family members and prominent Sikhs and instructed them strictly against following any Hindu rituals, which was the standard practice at the time of a person's death. Guru Sahib left clear instructions to follow at His physical death that nobody will cry, and only the Sikh practices will be observed in which holy Sikhs should perform kirtan (sing Gurus' Shabads in praise of God).

At the death of a Hindu person, his dead body is laid down on the floor, and a lamp, made of wheat flour, is placed on his hand with the belief that it will show him light in the darkness on his journey to his ancestors, which takes a full year. If the dead person is an old man, his bier is decorated with silky cloth and with balloons, and some nuts and dry sweets are given away. This is called "baybaan". Before subjecting the dead body to fire, the family places some balls made of wheat or barley flower on large leaves near the body with the belief that they will serve as food for the dead on their journey. The Brahman recites some mantras at this time. This is called the process of the "pinds (the balls) and the puttals (leaves)". After the cremation, the ashes and the small bones left unburnt are disposed of in the River Ganga with the belief that the dead person does not get emancipation unless his remnants are disposed of in the Ganga. In the meantime, the Brahman reads the "Guroorr Purana" for a few days at the family house.
Guru Sahib did use the same names as were prevalent at the time for different practices, but changed their meanings to imply Sikh practices.
Sundar Ji, a great-grandson of Guru Amar Dass Ji, documented Guru Sahib's instructions for the Sikhs to follow in future, and Guru Arjun Dev Ji (the Fifth Master), who compiled the holy Granth Sahib, enshrined this historical document in Guru Granth Sahib.
It is noteworthy that Guru Sahib did not use the word "Brahman" in His instructions; He, rather, used the word "Pundit" which means a learned (having some Divine knowledge), implying Guru's Sikhs. The word "Pundit" has been used for Gur Sikhs in other Shabads as well, for example, in Suhi Chhunt M:4.
There is another event of historical importance highlighted in this holy Document (Shabad) that Guru Amar Dass Ji passed the Guruship to Shri Ram Dass Ji (named Bhai Jettha from childhood), who was His son-in-law, bypassing His own sons.

Atoal(u) = immeasurable. 1.

MEANING: Guru Amar Dass Ji stayed absorbed in Guru's Shabad, and did not recognize any other power than Waheguru which is the only Lord in the world, and who loves His worship (and His devotees) everywhere in the universe. Guru Amar Dass Ji did not recognize any other power than Guru's Shabad (praise of Waheguru), and used to recite only Waheguru's Naam. With the grace of Guru Nanak and Guru Angad, Guru Amar Dass attained the highest spiritual state. The Guru, who was fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, and who had acquired (enshrined it in His heart) the immortal, the never-changing, and the immeasurable Waheguru, received the call from Waheguru to leave this mortal world. 1.

Jumdoot = Angel of death. Nikhunjno = destroyer. Dhun(u) = great. Shabaash(i) = blessing in appreciation. 2.

MEANING: Guru Amar Dass Ji gladly accepted the Will of Waheguru to go to Him (merge with Him). The Guru prayed to Waheguru to protect the dignity of His devotee (Guru Amar Dass Ji) (by allowing merger with Him), and to grant His Naam which will be Guru Sahib's friend at the time of His physical death, and which destroys the Angel of death (makes him ineffective). Waheguru listened to the prayer of the Guru, showered Him with praise that He is great, and accepted Guru Sahib's merger with Him. 2.

He is the real devotee of Waheguru or Satgur(u) who likes (honours) the Will of Waheguru. When one does that, Waheguru hugs him with love, and the devotee feels blissful, as if Divine music is playing in his mind. All of you Sikhs, who are my sons, my brothers, and my family, can decide for yourselves that the order written by Waheguru cannot be changed; so, I have to go to Him". 3.

MEANING: Satguru called His family and the Sikhs to Him by His own will, and told them that nobody would cry after He was gone because He did not like any crying at all. If a person is honoured, his friends (and well-wishers) should feel overjoyed if they like the honour being accorded to their friend. Now, I am being honoured by Waheguru, so you decide for yourselves (whether you should cry or be happy). Satguru, while still alive, decided and appointed His successor in the spiritual kingdom, and made all the Sikhs, relatives, sons, and brothers to drop at the feet of (Guru) Ram Dass Ji. 4.

Word Meaning: Untay = at the end. Nirbaan(u) = emancipating. Kaysho, Gopal = (the Sikhs of) Waheguru. Pundit = (spiritually) educated (enlightened). Sudihou = call in. Puraan = Puranas. Baybaan(u) = decorated bier. Rung(u) = love. Bhaavyay = likes. Pind Putta(i) Kirya = placing balls of wheat or barley flour on leaves (see the note above). Deeva = lamp (of wheat flour). Phooll = ashes. Hur(i) Sur(i) = Waheguru's Holy Pool (Holy gathering where His praise is sung). Purakh(u) = living power. Soojaan = perfectly wise. Tilk Deeya = appointed the Guru. Neeshaan(u) = identification. 5.

MEANING: At the end, Satguru told the gathering to sing only Waheguru's praise, which emancipates us. He advised calling the learned Sikhs to explain the virtues of Waheguru, which will be the reading of the Groorr Purana for us (we do not need to read the Purana). Rather than decorating my bier, sing and listen to the story of Waheguru's countless virtues; love for Waheguru is the decoration of the bier, which I like. I prefer the holy gathering of Guru's Sikhs, where Waheguru's praise is sung, to the useless rituals of the wheat balls placed on leaves, the lamp of wheat flower to be placed on my hand, and disposing of my ashes after the cremation in the River Ganga. Loved by Waheguru, the Satguru said that He had realized the perfectly wise living power of Waheguru. He anointed (appointed) Ram Dass Sodhi Ji His successor, and implanted Guru's Shabad in His (Ram Dass Ji's) heart as the eternal sign of identification (as the Guru). 5.

MEANING: The Gur Sikhs gladly obeyed whatever Satguru had said, and first of all, His son, Mohri, came forward to touch the feet of Ram Dass Ji. After that, everybody dropped at the feet of Ram Dass Ji, in whom the Satguru had placed His soul (Waheguru's Naam). If, for reasons of jealousy, some people did not touch Ram Dass Ji's feet (accept Him as the new Guru), Guru Amar Dass Ji forced them to do so. As per Waheguru's prewritten Will, Guru Amar Dass Ji honoured Waheguru's Will and accorded the respect of Guruship to Shri Ram Dass Ji. Sundar (Ji) tells all the holy Sikhs that the whole world came to drop at the feet of Ram Dass Ji. 6.1.

MEANING: My Waheguru is my closest friend, always with me, providing support. He is dear to me like my own life, and I have "seen" Him with my own eyes. I have seen with my own eyes that He is resting (present) in every heart; He is my extremely reliable friend who injects new spiritual life to immortalize His devotees. Even though Waheguru resides in every heart, the foolish (and egoist) man does not realize that, and cannot enjoy the blissfulness of union with Him. Intoxicated with the liquor of Maya, he enjoys the low-quality life (of immoral activities and of ignoble thinking). Misled by too many illusions of Maya, he cannot have union with God. Even though the Lord is close to everybody, a man cannot have any knowledge about Him without the Guru. 1.
Waheguru is the basis of my life. He is very merciful and the provider who fulfils all our needs. The provider Waheguru is endless and adorns every heart. He has also created a slave of His (fully under His control), which (Maya) is very powerful, present everywhere, and captivating everybody (everyone is trapped in its net). However, the devotee, who ponders on Guru's Shabad and recites Waheguru's Naam, is protected by Waheguru from the attractions of Maya. But only those devotees love Waheguru who are liked by Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Mungla = joyfulness. Sohilrra = song of joy in God's praise. Unhud = Divine. Dhooniyaiy = musical tunes. Agaajay = roaring; thundering. Jiseh = of Waheguru. Vudhaayee = high spirits. Chooki = removed; ended. Nirgooniyaiy = above the effects of Maya. 4.

MEANING: My Waheguru is my pride. The Lord is omniscient, wise, knows everything, and is our guide. His Naam is immortalizing; those who have good fortune on their forehead, taste it, and get fully contented. Waheguru is the pride of everybody, but only those who recite His Naam and are embedded in their hearts take pride in Him. Waheguru is the occupant of the eternal throne, and eternal is His reign, oh Nanak. 3.

It is said (by the holy saints) that there is always joy in Waheguru's home, and that blissful Divine music with many sweet tunes is playing there all the time. Divine music and Waheguru's praise-filled Shabad produce thunder in His home, where high spirits always prevail. We should worship Waheguru, who never dies, never takes birth, or never goes away, and from whom one acquires all comforts. All the worldly appetites of the devotee who worships Waheguru are removed (he feels fully contented), and all his wishes are fulfilled. One can connect with Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, in the shelter of the Guru. It is heard from the holy saints that there is always joy in Waheguru's home, oh Nanak. 4.1.

God is the destroyer of all sins, and no noble deed, no charitable donations, and no prevalent religious ritual can match the recitation of His Naam with love and dedication. I pray to the Lord that He gives me the ability to recite His Naam by which the cycle of my rebirths will end, oh Nanak. 1.

My dead mind (without any compassion for others) has come to life by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. You, too, take shelter of the Guru, and recite the Naam of the limitless Waheguru, oh my holy friends. 2.

One's heart feels eternal bliss when the Lord, with lotus-like soft feet, flourishes in his mind, oh my friends. By singing praise of the priceless virtues of Waheguru, the devotee becomes beautiful (by mind), wise, clever, and (spiritually) knowledgeable. With great fortune, a devotee who acquires Waheguru in her heart gets all her sufferings eradicated and has all her wishes fulfilled. I humbly submit that when one comes to Waheguru's shelter, all his fears about the Angel of death are eradicated, oh Nanak. 2.

Bhaanay = liked. Vichhoarray = separated; disconnected. Pertaap(u) = majesty. 2.

MEANING: Without the Guru's shelter, the world is misled by its misgivings, and performs countless worthless rituals, and dies a spiritual death; and as per the prewritten fate based on its previous deeds, it stays trapped in the fragile bonds of Maya (which are easily broken at one's death). 1.

Such humans are robbed of their spirituality due to their huge ego, and without the kind sight of the Lord, they die (spiritually), and spend their life in sighing (suffering). With their love for Maya, they are estranged from Waheguru and squirm in the pain of separation, like a fish wriggling in pain without water. Because of his sins, the man stays frightened to death due to the possible punishment by the Angel of death and due to the fear of rebirths in many different life forms. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter, oh, the fulfiller of all wishes, Waheguru; please keep me in Your shelter. 3.

The devotees of Waheguru and all their associates find salvation by reciting the Naam of the

I have been looking around for His holy sight, and do not know when I will have the sight of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues. Without the dear Lord, there is nobody to enquire about me so as to provide any comfort; and wearing of necklaces and bracelets has become a condemnable adornment for me. Even if a woman is pretty, wise, clever, and highly literate, she is like a hollow body without any breath (life) (without her husband to love her). I look around for my Waheguru (husband), who is the source of all virtues everywhere and in every direction, with a strong desire to meet Him, and I pray to the holy men to have mercy on me and connect me with Him, oh, Nanak. 5.

Giving up their selfishness and ego, they come to the shelter of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues. They enjoy the most respect, and all their worldly disputes are eliminated (they rise above them all). Their suffering of the birth-death cycle is terminated as Waheguru's worship makes entrance (is implanted) in their heart. I, too, bow with respect to Waheguru, who is the treasure (source) of all virtues, is the husband of Maya, is the Lord of the universe, and is the origin of all. I pray to the Lord, who has the same persona (character) over the eons, to be kind to me, oh Nanak. 8.1.6.8.

Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i)
ONKAR(U)

NOTE: During His first odyssey in south-western India, Guru Nanak Sahib visited a temple "Omkareshwar or Onkar" in Madhya Pradesh on the bank of the river Narbada, where people were worshipping an idol of god Shiva, believing it to be "Onkar" (the Supreme Being). Even the Pundits were teaching their students to worship this idol as the Onkar. Guru Nanak Sahib enlightened the ignorant pundits and the people about the real "Onkar," which is the creator of the whole universe, including god Brahma, who is believed to be the creator of the whole world. Guru Nanak Sahib wrote the following holy composition for humanity, explaining who the real Supreme Being is. Guru Sahib used the letters of the Gurmukhi alphabet to start each paurri (stanza).

ਓਅੰਕਾਰਿ ਬ੍ਰਹਮਾ ਉਤਪਤਿ॥ ਓਅੰਕਾਰੁ ਕੀਆ ਜਿਨਿ ਚਿਤਿ॥ ਓਅੰਕਾਰਿ ਸੈਲ ਜੁਗ ਭਏ॥ ਓਅੰਕਾਰਿ ਬੇਦ ਨਿਰਮਏ॥
(ਅੰਗ 930)॥ ਓਅੰਕਾਰਿ ਸਬਦਿ ਉਧਰੇ॥ ਓਅੰਕਾਰਿ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਤਰੇ॥ ਓਨਮ ਅਖਰ ਸੁਣਹੁ ਬੀਚਾਰੁ॥ ਓਨਮ ਅਖਰੁ ਤ੍ਰਿਭਵਣ ਸਾਰੁ ॥1॥
Onkar(i) Brahma ootput(i). Onkar(u) keeya jin(i) chit(i). Onkar(i) saiyl joog bhuyyay. Onkar(i) Bayd nirmuyyay.
(PAGE 930): Onkar(i) Shabad(i) oodhray. Onkar(i) Gurmukh(i) turay. Onum Akkhur soonhou beechaar(u). Onum Akkhur(u) tirbhuvun saar(u). 1.
Word Meaning: Onkar(u) = the Supreme Being, which is uniformly present everywhere. Ootput(i) = creation; created. Chit(i) = in mind. Saiyl = (countless) rocks (mountains); the world. Joog = eons. Bayd = religious texts such as the Vedas. Nirmuyyay = came into being. Oodhray = Turay = salvaged. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Akkhur = word. Tirbhuvun = the whole universe. Saar(u) = supreme. 1.
MEANING: (You believe this idol of Shiva to be the Onkar (the Supreme Being), oh pundit). But, let me tell you about the real "Onkar". He is the one who created even Brahma, whom you think to be the creator of the world, and whom Brahma keeps in mind. "Onkar" is the creator of the universe, and the Vedas came into being because of the wisdom given to their authors by Onkar. People find salvation by reciting the Guru's Shabad (Naam of Onkar). Listen to, and ponder on the idea of the word "Onum". This Word is the supreme in the three worlds. 1.

Soon(i) paanday kiyya likhou junjaala. Likh(u) Ram Naam Gurmukh(i) Gopala. Ruhaou.
Word Meaning: Paanday = oh, pundit. Junjaala = traps of Maya (affairs of the world).
MEANING: What (useless) things are you writing (teaching your students) which will simply become traps of Maya for them, oh pundit? The only thing to teach them is Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

ਸਸੈ ਸਭੁ ਜਗੁ ਸਹਜਿ ਉਪਾਇਆ ਤੀਨਿ ਭਵਨ ਇਕ ਜੋਤੀ॥ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਵਸਤ ਪਰਾਪਤਿ ਹੋਵੈ ਚੁਣਿ ਲੈ ਮਾਣਕ ਮੋਤੀ॥ ਸਮਝੈ ਸੂਝੈ ਪੜਿ ਪੜਿ ਬੂਝੈ ਅੰਤਿ ਨਿਰੰਤਰਿ ਸਾਚਾ॥ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਦੇਖੈ ਸਾਚੁ ਸਮਾਲੇ ਬਿਨੁ ਸਾਚੇ ਜਗੁ ਕਾਚਾ॥ 2॥

Sussaiy subh(u) jug(u) sehj(i) oopaaya, teen(i) bhuvun Ikk Joti. Gurmukh(i) vust praaput(i) hovaiy, choon(i) laiy maanuk moti. Sumjhaiy, soojhaiy, purr(i), purr(i) boojhaiy, unt(i) niruntur(i) Saacha. Gurmukh(i) daykhaiy Saach(u) smaalay, bin(u) Saachay jug(u) kaacha. 2.

Word Meaning: Sussaiy = the letter "S" of Gurmukhi (Punjabi). Sehj(i) = without any special effort. Joti = Waheguru's Light (Soul). Vust = the invaluable thing (Waheguru's Naam). Maanuk Moti = pearls (wealth of the Naam). Soojhaiy = ponders on. Boojhaiy = acquires the understanding. Unt(i) = at the end. Niruntar(i) = continuous. Saacha = the eternal Waheguru (God). Smaalay = remembers. Kaacha = loves perishables. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru created the whole world without any special effort. His Light (Soul) is sustaining all living beings in all three worlds – the earth, the sky, and the underworld. His pearls-like invaluable Naam can be acquired from the Guru; so, seek the Guru's shelter to pick up the noble qualities just like a swan (a clean bird) picks up pearls (a belief of Hindu Granths). When a devotee ponders on the Guru's Shabad, he comes to realize at the end that it is only the uniform Waheguru which is eternal. A devotee, who comes to the Guru's shelter, realizes that without Waheguru's Naam, the world loves the perishables; so, he always keeps Him in mind. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhudhaiy = the Gurmukhi letter "Dh". Dherm = divinity and high morality. Dhermapur(i) = in holy gatherings. Dheera = becomes contented. Dhool(i) = the dust of Guru's Feet (Shabad). Mookh(i) = in the mouth. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead (mind). Kunchun = gold. Munoora = burnt (scrap) iron. Dhun(u) = great; worthy of worship. Dhrndhur(u) = the support of the earth (Waheguru). MEANING: The Perfect Guru preaches divinity and high morality in holy gatherings, which are full of virtues, and are a source of contentment. When an individual, who has a heart like useless scrap iron, recites the Guru's Shabad and ponders on it, becomes pure like gold, at heart. The Guru, which is a manifestation of Waheguru, which never takes a life form, is perfect in His spirituality and in His words. Only Waheguru, or the Perfect Guru, knows Waheguru's transcendence. 3.

He does not like to listen to Guru's Words (Shabad), and does not enjoy their sweetness (blissfulness), and loses connection with the unfathomable and never-changing Waheguru. But, a devotee, who believes in the Words of the Guru in praise of Waheguru, acquires the Amrit-like (immortalizing) Naam of Waheguru in his heart, and finds it comforting to his body and mind. Waheguru Himself puts His devotees in Guru's shelter and gives His Amrit-like Naam to them. 4.

But, a devotee, who recognizes the "one" Supreme Being in his heart and also in the outside world with full faith, recognizes Waheguru's Residence (gets connected with Him). Do not think Waheguru (God) to be far away from you, oh pundit; in fact, He is very close to you, and He alone is present in the whole universe. There is no one else, but only Ek Onkar (Waheguru), which is omnipresent, oh Nanak. 5.

The man is insane about the attractions of Maya and is mesmerized by it. Subservient (slave) to gluttony and greed, he suffers humiliation and repents all the time. However, he can attain a high spiritual state by serving the “One” Waheguru, and have his birth-death cycle terminated, oh, pundit ji. 6.

Luhhaiy = acquires (Waheguru’s Naam). 7.

MEANING: Waheguru alone is the source of all virtues, and the whole world is His own colour and features (visible form). Air, water, and fire are his own manifestations; (so, worship Him, rather than any idol), oh Pundit. Only His Soul is travelling through (is present) in the three worlds. A person who ponders on His Naam and connects with Him earns respect. With focus on His Naam, and with the Divine Knowledge, such a devotee leads a fully balanced life (sadness and happiness do not affect him). However, there is a rare individual who connects with Waheguru. The individual, who Waheguru gives His Naam with His munificence through the Guru’s advice, enjoys blissfulness. 7.

MEANING: Waheguru’s Soul enlightens (removes darkness) of the living beings in water and on the land. Waheguru, as Guru, is present in all three worlds. He shows Himself by being visible in the form of His creation. With His benevolence, He takes up dwelling in some human hearts. Waheguru causes rain of His Naam-Amrit continuously and from close in such hearts (in which He takes dwelling) through Guru’s Supreme Shabad, which makes their life successful. Such devotees learn the secret that Waheguru Himself is the creator, and Himself, the source of enlightenment, oh pundit. 8.

MEANING: When a devotee's mind gets enlightened with Guru's sun-like Shabad, he destroys the effectiveness of the demons (lust, greed, etc.) and "sees" the highly transcendent Waheguru. By pondering on Guru's Shabad, such a devotee realizes that it is Waheguru in all the three worlds, which is over the heads of all of us (to raise, nourish, and protect us) from the beginning to the end. And, (being present in the living beings), it is He who does everything, talks, and listens. He is the carver of our fates, and gives us bodies and mind. Also, he is the one who is in our minds, and on our tongues (knows all about our thoughts and our words). He is the life of the whole world, and there is none like Him. Those who are imbued in His Naam earn respect, oh Nanak. 9.

Such a devotee, who recognizes Waheguru (makes a connection with God), becomes like Him. His body and mind become extremely pure, and he achieves success (his objective) in life. The never-changing, and the source of bliss, Waheguru, makes the devotee's heart His permanent residence. With Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) in his heart, the devotee stays focused on Waheguru (connected with Him) all the time, oh pundit. 10.

So, recite Waheguru's immortalizing Naam. Be it a rajah, a wealthy person, or a pauper, everyone born will have to go, no matter what the eon is. Nobody stays any longer (than his predetermined age) simply by wishing, no matter whom he prays to. The Guru advises that only Waheguru's Naam protects one against the attacks of Maya and earns him respect in His Court. 11.

MEANING: The devotee, who overcomes the fear of the possible unwarranted criticism by the people (people made cruel fun of the devotees who worshipped any other power than the accepted idols in those days), and disregarding it, begins to worship Waheguru publicly, considers the attractions of Maya to be a craze, and all her mental worries disappear. Called in by Waheguru with affection, she feels very excited and feels blissful with Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) in her mind. Imbued with the love of the Dear (Waheguru), she develops a strong sense of self-esteem and becomes worry-free. 12.

MEANING: Whereas gluttony, greed and conceit are highly detrimental to spirituality, one gains (enhances his) spirituality by reciting the jewel-like precious Naam of Waheguru, which is the supreme; oh pundit. Undeserving criticism or praise from others makes one untrustworthy. The Maya-engrossed person is (spiritually) blind, foolish, and unrefined. He comes to the world to gain spirituality, but becomes a slave of Maya, and leaves the world robbed (of spirituality) by the deceitful Maya. Waheguru's Naam is the real wealth by which one gains spirituality, and wins trust, and the eternal Waheguru bestows him with eternal respect, oh Nanak. 13.

ਆਇ ਵਿਗੁਤਾ ਜਗੁ ਜਮ ਪੰਥੁ॥ ਆਈ ਨ ਮੇਟਣ ਕੋ ਸਮਰਥੁ॥ ਆਥਿ ਸੈਲ ਨੀਚ ਘਰਿ ਹੋਇ॥ ਆਥਿ ਦੇਖਿ ਨਿਵੈ ਜਿਸੁ ਦੋਇ॥ ਆਥਿ ਹੋਇ ਤਾ ਮੁਗਧੁ ਸਿਆਨਾ॥ ਭਗਤਿ ਬਿਹੂਨਾ ਜਗੁ ਬਉਰਾਨਾ॥ ਸਭ ਮਹਿ ਵਰਤੈ ਏਕੋ ਸੋਇ॥ ਜਿਸ ਨੋ ਕਿਰਪਾ ਕਰੇ ਤਿਸੁ ਪਰਗਟੁ ਹੋਇ॥ 14॥

Aayay vigoota, jug(u) Jum(u) punth(u). Aayee na maytun ko sumruth(u). Aath(i) saiyl neech ghur(i) hoyay. Aath(i) daykh(i) nivaiy jis(u) doyay. Aath(i) hoyay ta moogudh(u) siyaana. Bhugut(i) vihoona, jug(u) buouraana. Subh meh(i) vertaiy Aiko Soyay. Jis nu kirpa kuray, tis(u) pergut(u) hoyay. 14.

Word Meaning: Aayay = after birth. Vigoota = misled; suffers humiliation. Jum Punth = on the path to the Angel of death. Aayee = Aath(i) = wealth. Maytun Ko = to eliminate. Sumruth = capable. Aath(i) Saiyl = mountain of wealth. Neech = ignoble; immoral. Nivaiy = bow to; acknowledge. Doyay = both – the rich and the poor. Moogudh = foolish. Vihoona = without; devoid of. Buouraana = crazy. Vertaiy = operates. 14.

MEANING: The man believes that wealth is everything in the world. For that reason, even a wealthy idiot is treated like a wise man, and both – the rich and the poor – bow to him (accord him respect) even if he had earned that money by immoral means. So, the man makes every effort to accumulate wealth, be it by fair or unfair means. Without Waheguru's worship, the world is crazy after wealth, and uses means which put him on the path leading to moral death, and he suffers humiliation. Moreover, wealth cannot save him from spiritual death. It is the same Waheguru that operates in everybody, but appears only in that heart to which He is kind, oh pundit. 14.

Joog(i), joog(i), thaap(i), sudaa nirvaiyr(u). Junum(i), mern(i), nuhee dhundha dhaiyr(u). Jo deesaiy, so Aapay, Aap(i). Aap(i) oopaayay, Aapay ghut thaap(i). Aap(i) agoachur(u), dhundhaiy loyee. Joag, joogut(i), Jugjeevun(u) Soyee. Kur(i) aachaar(u), such(u) sookh(u) hoyee. Naam vihoona, mookt(i) kiv hoyee. 15.

Word Meaning: Thaap(i) = set up; create. Nirvaiyr(u) = bears no enmity. Dhundha = bonds of Maya. Dhaiyr(u) = misgivings; illusions. Ghut = hearts. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible; above the effects of Maya. Loyee = world. Joag Joogut(i) = the means to have union with Him. Sach(u) Achaar(u) = to follow the high moral principles (as per Guru's advice). Vihoona = without.

MEANING: Waheguru creates life in every eon (always), and bears no enmity with anyone (evaluates everybody's deeds with impartiality). He does not take births and does not die. He is not involved in any worldly affair, and does not suffer from any illusions. He puts the world to work based on the attractions of Maya, but Himself is beyond comprehension (is above the effects of Maya). He also guides people on how to connect with Him, oh pundit. Nobody can be emancipated without His Naam, so, you too, should develop high moral character (by reciting His Naam) so as to enjoy eternal bliss, oh pundit. 15.

Vin(u) Naavaiy vayrodh(u) sureer. Kiyoun na mileh(i), kaateh(i) mun peer. Vaat, vutaaoo, aavaiy jaayay. Kiyya lay aaya, kiyya pullaiy paayay. Vin(u) Naaaiy toata subh thaayayn.

Laaha milaiy ja dayay boojhayay. Vunuj(u), vapaar(u) vunjaiy vapaari. Vin(u) Naavaiy, kaiysi put(i) saari? 16.

Word Meaning: Vayrodh(u) = opposition; conflict. Kaateh(i) = eradicate. Vaat = journey. Vataaoo = travellers. Pullaiy Paayay = acquire. Toata = loss. Laaha = benefit. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. Vunuj(u) Vapaar(u) = trading; business. Put(i) = respect. Saari = good; true. 16.

MEANING: Man's senses are in conflict with his rational thinking (are not in his control) without Waheguru's Naam. So, why shouldn't the man make a connection with Waheguru (His Naam) to terminate his mental anguish? The man is a traveller on the journey of life, and keeps taking births and dying. What wealth is he born with, and what wealth does he take with him (after his death)? Without Waheguru's Naam, there is loss (of spirituality and morality) everywhere, but one makes gains (in spirituality) when Waheguru gives him the understanding. The man is a trader in this world, and he normally does business in Maya-related things (for which he may earn some respect in society), but there is no true respect without Waheguru's Naam, oh pundit ji. 16.

(ਅੰਗ 932)॥ ਤਾ ਮਿਲੀਐ ਜਾ ਲਏ ਮਿਲਾਇ॥ ਗੁਣਵੰਤੀ ਗੁਣ ਸਾਰੇ ਨੀਤ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰਮਤਿ ਮਿਲੀਐ ਮੀਤ॥ 17॥

Goon veechaaraiy, Giyani soyay. Goon meh(i) Giyaan(u) praaput(i) hoyay. Goon-daata virla sunsaar(i). Saachi kerni, Gur veechaar(i). Agumm, agoachur(u), keemut(i) nuhhi paayay.

(PAGE 932): Ta miliyaiy, ja luyyay milaayay. Goonvunti, goon saaray neet. Nanak Gurmut(i), miliyaiy meet. 17.

Word Meaning: Soyay = that. Giyan(u) = Divine Knowledge; connection with God. Praaput(i) = acquirement. Goon-daata = virtuous (who has made connection with Waheguru). Virla = rare. Kerni = performance; service. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Saaray = takes good care; maintains. Neet = always. 17.

MEANING: (Traditional education does not make a man knowledgeable in divinity, oh pundit ji). Only that individual acquires Divine Knowledge who ponders on the virtues of Waheguru (makes a connection with Him), and acquires those virtues. But such virtuous people are rare in the world. Pondering on Guru's Shabad is true service to Waheguru. Waheguru is inaccessible and incomprehensible, and nobody can ever measure His true worth. However, one can certainly connect with Him with His benevolence (when He Himself connects the individuals). A virtuous devotee remembers the virtues of Waheguru and can unite with the friendly God with Guru's advice, oh pundit. 17.

Word Meaning: Kaam(u) = lust. Kroadh(u) = rage. Gaalaiy = weakens. Kunchun = gold. Sohaaga = borax. Dhaalaiy = softens. Kusvutti = the touchstone. Suhhaiy = endures. Su = that gold. Taaou = heat. Sraaf = goldsmith. Vunees = of beautiful colour (lustre). Churraaou = approved. Jugut(u) = world. Pushoo = animal. Ahun = ego. Kaal(u) = death. Kusaayee = butcher; ruthless. Kur(i) = in the hand; hands over to. Kerni = performance. Kur(i) Paayee = writes in their fate. 18.

MEANING: Just like borax softens (weakens) gold in a cupel (without Waheguru's Naam), the human body and mind rot (weaken) because of his lust and rage, oh pundit. Just like gold, which has to endure heat before it becomes pure and acquires beautiful shine, and before the goldsmith tests it on the touchstone and approves it, the man has to suffer many hardships to discipline his body before he is approved by Waheguru. Normally, the world is undisciplined like an animal, and its ego is like a butcher who brings about its spiritual death. The Creator has created this world so that one reaps the rewards of one's own deeds, but Waheguru has set very high standards for union with Him. Only the Creator knows His standards; man cannot argue against them. 18.

Khin meh(i) mooyay ja Shabad(u) puchhaaniya. Usthir(u) cheet(u), mern(i) mun(u) maaniya. Gur kirpa tay Naam(u) puchhaaniya. 19.

Word Meaning: Khojut, Khojut = searching continuously. Khima = forgiveness. Guhhee = acquires. Khuraa = pure; noble. Ruttan(u) = invaluable (pure) like jewel. Mooyay = spiritually dead. Nuhhi Jaaniya = do not make connection with Waheguru. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment. Mooyay = dead from worldly attractions. Shabad Puchhaniya = made a connection with the Guru's Shabad. Usthir(u) Cheet(u) = stable mind (never wavers). Mern(i) = in killing selfishness and ego. 19.

MEANING: After searching for a long time, I realized the Naam-Amrit of Waheguru when I surrendered my body and my mind to Satguru, and made forgiveness a part of my personality. Everybody calls such a devotee pure with high morality. Such a devotee is pure like a jewel, no matter what the eon is. The man suffers spiritual death when he simply enjoys eating and drinking without making any connection with Waheguru, which provides him with everything. However, he is able to kill (control) his worldly enjoyments the moment he makes a connection with the Guru's Shabad. At that point, his mind becomes stable (quits wavering), and he gladly accepts death from (shows disinterest in) the worldly attractions, oh Pundit Ji. He acquires Waheguru's Naam through the grace of the Guru. 19.

Word Meaning: Guggun = sky; high in transcendence (Waheguru). Gumbheer = never-changing. Vaas(u) = Nivaas(u) = living; constant connection. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Liv Laayay = mentally connected with God. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Anaath = which has no parents (is self-illuminated). Ajoani = which never takes any life form. Usthir(u) = stable.

Smaadh(i) = deep meditative state. Sugoani = full of virtues. Chayt(i) = remember. Saar(u) = supreme.
MEANING: A devotee, whose mind always stays connected with the Lord, who is very high in transcendence and who never changes, sings His praise and enjoys comfort in a high spiritual state all the time. Once he leaves the world, he never takes birth again, and if he is born, he never suffers death (as he becomes "one" with Waheguru), and stays connected with Him with Guru's grace. His mind becomes stable (never wavers), and he stays in the meditative state, which is full of virtues and becomes a part of Waheguru, which is inaccessible, is self-illuminated, and which never takes a life form. With Waheguru's Naam in his mind, the devotee also never takes births again. Guru's advice is supreme, and all other advice (including worldly education) is spiritually worthless as they are without Waheguru's Naam, oh pundit ji. 20.

Word Meaning: Ghur Dur = houses and doors; life forms. Thaaki = exhausted. Jaat(i) = different life forms. Asunkh = countless. Soot = sons. Chaylay = disciples. Phoon(i) = that too. Kaachay Gur = the Maya-engrossed guru. Naar(i) = women; human beings. Vur(u) = husband; Lord. Smaal(i) = looks after. Gurmukh(i) = Guru's Sikh. Mern(u) Jeevun(u) = (death and life (basis of life). Dehdis = in all the ten directions (everywhere). Dhoondh(i) = searching. Ghuraiy Meh(i) = in the heart. Mayl(u) = union.
MEANING: (Without Waheguru's Naam), the man keeps taking births and dying, and gets exhausted of such countless repeated births and deaths in many different life forms of which no one can have any account, oh pundit ji. The man does not know how many times he has been a mother, a father, a son, or a daughter; or how many times was he a guru and a devotee. He cannot find emancipation from worldly bonds (which are the basis of his rebirths) through a guru who is a slave of Maya, himself. There are countless such women (human beings), but only one Husband (Lord) – Waheguru – which looks after everybody. Waheguru is the basis of life for Guru's Sikhs. The man searches for Waheguru in every direction, but when he comes to Satguru's shelter, he finds Him in his own heart with Satguru's grace. 21.

Gurmukh(i) mujun, chujj(u) achaar(u). Gurmukh(i) Shabad(u) Amrit(u) haiy saar(u). Nanak, Gurmukh(i) paavaiy paar(u). 22.
Word Meaning: Toal(i) = evaluates. Tolaavaiy = makes others do. Nisung(u) = free from worldly bonds. Purhur(i) = getting rid of. Klunk = blemishes of vices. Mujun = bathing (at holy places). Chujj(u) Achaar(u) = high living. Saar(u) = supreme.
MEANING: Guru's Sikh sings praise of Waheguru and recites His Naam. He evaluates (ponders on) Guru's Shabad, and makes others do the same. Guru's Sikh comes to this world free from all worldly bonds, and leaves the world free from them (He comes only to spread Waheguru's Message). He had already washed away the filth of his mind, and had burnt away (erased) any blemishes of vices with Waheguru's Naam before he takes such births (if any). For a Sikh of the Guru, pondering on the Guru's Shabad is the ritualistic music and reading of the Vedas (he does not need them); and for him, high moral living is the ritualistic dips at the holy places. Waheguru's Naam is the supreme Amrit for Guru's Sikh, which (and no idol) ferries him across the sea of Maya, oh, Nanak. 22

Word Meaning: Chunchul Cheet(u) = the capricious (ever-wavering) mind. Tthaayayn = in control; stable. Mirg(u) = deer (like mind). Angoori = fresh new leaves; different enjoyments. Oordhaaray = enshrine; acquire. Chir(u) Jeevun = eternal life. Chaytun(u) = alert. Chintut = worried. Chayteh(i) = keep in mind. Vusaiy = present. Raachaiy = gets absorbed. Mookut(i) Bhuyya = emancipated. Ghur(i) = God's Palace.

MEANING: (Without Waheguru's Naam), the human mind is so capricious that it is uncontrollable, and loves to enjoy different luxuries of life while hiding them from the world (and Waheguru), oh pundit ji. But, if he embeds Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in his heart, he always stays alert against the attractions of Maya, and attains eternal life (by merging into Waheguru). (Because of the attractions and the pressures of Maya), Everybody seems to be worried, but one can be blissful if one remembers Waheguru. With Waheguru's Naam in his mind, he gets absorbed in Him, whereby he becomes completely emancipated, and goes to Waheguru's Court with dignity. 23.

Word Meaning: Chheejaiy Dayh = the body weakens to near death. Gundh(i) = knot (of life). Chhay-ya = destruction. Hundh(i) = by roaming around. Dhoop Chhaanv = sun and shade (comforts and discomforts). Sum = the same. Bundhun = shackles (of Maya). Chhaaya = Maya. Chhoochhi = hollow; temporary. Bhoolaana = misled. Kirt(u) = the deeds to do (attractions of Maya). Dhooray = from the source (Waheguru). Pervaana = letter. Jobun(u) = youth. Jurooaa = old age. Sir(i) Kaal(u) = death looms over the head. Kaaya = body. Sibaal(u) = skin loosens like algae on the surface of water.

MEANING: (While enjoying the luxuries of life), the human body eventually weakens to the extent of its destruction, and one's knot of life gets broken (life is over). If you travel around, you will see such destruction in the world all the time. The world is misled by the illusions of Maya, which are hollow inside (are temporary). But it is the Will of Waheguru that the world be attracted to Maya. One's youth is spent enjoying the attractions of Maya, and death, in the form of old age, begins to loom over one's head. However, if (with Waheguru's Naam), one treats comforts and discomforts the same way, he breaks all his worldly bonds, and thus emancipated, he reaches Waheguru's Court. 24.

Word Meaning: Jaapaiy = visible. Uver(u) = other. Bhaavaiy = like. Jus(u) = praise. Jaachoun = wish for. Put(i) = respect. Saakh(u) = trust. Jaag(i) = awake; alert. Bhaavaan = be liked. Smaavaan = get absorbed. Jaiy Jaiykaar(u) = accolades to; sing praise. Jugdeesh = Waheguru. Bees = for sure. Ikkees = One God. 25.

MEANING: Waheguru is visible in His nature in the whole universe, and He is the lone provider in every eon, oh pundit ji; so, I pray to Him like this, "Keep me under whatever circumstances You like, and give me the strength to accept Your Will, oh Waheguru. I beg that I sing Your praise because it grants me respect and trust (in Your Court). I should stay alert against the attacks of Maya so that You like me, and I will be absorbed in Your Naam if You kindly connect me with You". I always sing praise of His greatness. If one follows the Guru's advice, he is sure to get connected with the "One" Lord, oh pundit. 25.

Word Meaning: Jhukh(i) = meaningless talk; garbage. Vaad(u) = useless discussions. Jhoor(i) Muraiy = regrets and suffers. Permaad(u) = intoxication; insanity. Aas Niraasa = disappointment due to unfulfilled hopes. Jhukh(i) = suffer humiliation. Chaanpay = pushes around. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine treasures. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort.

MEANING: Intoxicated in Maya, and to boost his ego, the man enters into meaningless and spiritually destructive debates, which is all garbage, and for which he has to repent at the end, oh pundit. Such people are spiritually dead from birth, and there is no hope of their spiritual revival. They build many hopes (desires) after they are born, but leave the world without the fulfillment of their desires (as wealth does not accompany them). They repent, regret, and suffer humiliation, and become a part of dust. But the individual, who sings Waheguru's praise, is not pushed around by the fear of death. When one recites Waheguru's Naam with devotion, he feels as if he has acquired all the nine treasures of the world. But one does not acquire His Naam as his right; Waheguru grants His Naam to His devotees without any special effort on their part. 26.

Laal pudaaruth, saach(u) akhoat. Gur(i) kuhhiya sa kaar kmaavhou. Gur kee sherni, kaahay dhaavhou. Nanak, Gurmut(i) Saach(i) smaavhou. 27

Word Meaning: Giyaano Boalaiy = (Waheguru) delivers His Knowledge. Aapay = as Guru. Soojhaiy = The Guru ponders on. Gur Ka Kuhhiya = Guru's Shabad. Unk(i) Smaavaiy = embeds in heart. Nirmul Soochay = pure and of high morality. Saacho = Waheguru. Bhaavaiy = like. Ruttani = of noble qualities. Toat = shortage. Laal Pudaaruth = jewels; virtues. Saach(u) = Waheguru-like. Akhoat = inexhaustible. Kerni = advice about high living. Kaahay Dhaavou = will not run after (Maya). Saach(i) = in Waheguru. 27.

MEANING: Waheguru delivers His Knowledge to the Guru who understands it and ponders on it. An individual who enshrines the Guru's advice in his heart becomes pure and highly moral and begins to love Waheguru. The Guru is an ocean of jewels (noble qualities) that never runs short. The Guru is a manifestation of Waheguru and is an inexhaustible source of noble qualities. If a person leads his life with high morality as per the Guru's advice, he never rushes to acquire the short-lived worldly comforts, oh, pundit. With Guru's advice, he gets absorbed in Waheguru, oh Nanak. 27.

Word Meaning: Nayhou = love. Suhhi = truth. Doohoo Dis = in the two (opposite) directions. Boor Boal(i) = toxic words. Doormut(i) = ill-natured. Purhur(i) = push away; ditch. Dhoal(i) = husband. Guntth(i) = difficult problem. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Kaaruj(u) = task; objective. Saar(i) = meet the need. Laaha = benefit. Saach(u) = Waheguru (His Naam). Toata = gap. Tirbhuvun = universe. Mota = great. 28.

MEANING: It is a fact of life that one's love for a friend is broken if he tells the truth (about the latter's weaknesses), and an arm gets broken when pulled in the opposite direction. Similarly, the use of toxic words breaks love between two people, and an ill-natured wife is ditched by her husband. A difficult problem is broken down (is solved) when an idea lights up one's mind. Similarly, all problems are solved (objectives achieved) when one enshrines the Guru's Shabad in his heart. An added benefit of enshrining Guru's Shabad in the heart is that he gets connected with Waheguru with no gap (break). The Great Lord is present in the whole universe, oh pundit ji. 28.

Mehl(i) boolaayee, tthaak na paayee. Shabad(i) suvaari, Saach(i) piyaari. Saayee sohaagun(i) Tthaakur dhaari. 29.

Word Meaning: Tthaak-hou = control. Tthaayan = in its place; stable. Tthehk Mooyee = dies spiritual death while competing. Uvgoon(i) = ill-qualities. Pucchutaayay = repents. Tthaakur(u) = master; Lord. Subbayee = the whole world. Naar(i) = wives. Vays = external outlook; semblance. Koorriyar(i) = deceitful; imposter; Maya-engrossed. Pur Ghur = support of some other. Tthhak = obstacle. Suvaari = groomed. Sohaagun(i) = married; fortunate. Dhaari = supported by; approved by.

MEANING: Those are, in fact, impostors engrossed in Maya who have many religious semblances. The whole world is suffering from jealousy and from competing with one another, which are grave qualities, and for which one has to repent. The important thing is to control your mind from weakening to the attractions of Maya and from jealousy. All humans are wives of the "One" Lord. He stops (restrains) His devotees from being attracted to the other (Maya), and when He calls His devotees to His Palace, no one can erect any obstacle in their path to reach Him. The devotee, who is groomed by Satguru's Shabad, is dear to Waheguru, and she is the lucky one who gets His support and gets married to (connected with) Him, oh pundit ji. 29.

Dayh(i), dayh(i) aakhaiy subh(u) koyee, jaiy bhaavaiy taiyn dayay. Guru Dooaaraiy dayvsi, tikha nivaaraiy soyay. 30.

Word Meaning: Dolut Dolut = weakening of mind due to attractions of Maya. Cheer Sheengaar = religious adornments (symbols). Daahpun(i) = in jealousy; in fire of desires. Der = fear (of God). Bintthi = got destroyed. Daar = large groups. Mooyee = killed worldly desires. Deetthee = observed. Kunt(i) = husband (Waheguru). Soojaan(i) = know-all. Nirbhuou Naam(u) = Naam of the fearless (God). Vukhaan(i) = by chanting (reciting). Doogur(i) = on the mountain (huge ego). Vaas(u) = stay. Tikha = thirst (for Maya). Ghunee = immense. Nivaari = removed. Bhurpoor(i) = to satisfaction. Soyay = the same (God).

MEANING: Without Waheguru's fear in mind, the religious symbols of those who do wear them but have weak minds which yield to the attractions of Maya, get torn (lose their shine. With the fire of desires (and of jealousy) burning in their mind, and with no fear of God, large groups of such people get destroyed (spiritually). But, the devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter (with His Shabad), and has fear for Waheguru in his mind, kills his worldly desires, and is looked kindly upon by the know-all (omniscient) Waheguru–husband. The mountain-sized ego and the huge thirst for worldly desires of the devotee, who had not yet connected with Waheguru by Guru's Shabad, get fully destroyed by Guru's Shabad, and he sees Waheguru very close to him, and drinks Waheguru's Naam-Amrit to his fill. Everybody begs for Waheguru's Naam, but He grants it only to those whom He likes. Also,

He grants His Naam through the Guru, who quenches his thirst for worldly things, oh pundit. 30.

Word Meaning: Dhundholut = searching. Dheh(i) = collapse; buried drown. Kuraar(i) = confidence; shore. Bhaaray = heavy (with sins). Dheh(i) Puyyay = collapsed; drown in the world sea. Haulay = light (with no burden of sins). Ajaachi = who has no demand; fully contented. Milay = connected with. Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet; an opportunity to serve them. Aghooliyaiy = emancipate. Sayvsaan = I will serve. Oosaaray = creates. Dhaahsi = will destroy. Tis(u) = Him (God). Summhlaan = remember.

MEANING: Searching around for a long time, I found out that (without Waheguru's Naam), the people commit so many sins that they get buried down under their weight on the near-shore of the world-sea. But those who are light (with no burden of sins) get across to the other shore of the world-sea (on the boat of Waheguru's Naam). I will sacrifice my life for those (holy saints) who have no worldly desires and have become eternal by connecting with Waheguru. One gains emancipation by serving them with dedication, becoming connected with Waheguru in their company. When one surrenders his mind to Satguru, he acquires the mind-purifying (Waheguru's) Naam. I will gladly serve the (Guru) who gave Waheguru's Naam to me (implanted in my mind). Waheguru, who creates the world, also demolishes it; there is none other like Him. If one remembers Him (recites his Naam) with the Guru's grace, he never suffers any trouble. (So, you too, recite His Naam, oh pundit). 31.

Tooti tunt(u) rubaab kee vaajaiy nuhee vijoag(i). Vichhurriyaan maylaiy Prubhoo, Nanak kur(i) sunjoag. 32.

Word meaning: Guheen = seek shelter of. Hoag(i) = will not be. Vigoochiyaiy = suffer humiliation. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Roag(u) = sickness. Vihoonay = devoid of. Kullur Kundh = wall of saltpetre (which erodes very fast). Girunt = fall down; lose morality. Rusaatul(i) = lowest level; in hell. Gunut Gunaavaiy = describes by counting. Ugunt = beyond numbers. Ugiyaani = ignorant. Mut(i) Heen(i) = lacks wisdom. Tunt = wire. Rubaab = a small guitar-like instrument; lute. Vijoag(i) = disconnected. Vichhurriyaan = disconnected. Sunjoag = suitable conditions for union.

MEANING: There is no one (other than Waheguru) in this world whom I (or anybody else) can depend upon for support forever; there has never been anyone like that, and there will never be even in future. Man's indecisiveness (to choose between Maya and Waheguru) is a serious sickness which he suffers from, and because of which he suffers humiliation when he has to take rebirths. The man, without Waheguru's Naam in his mind, erodes in morality like a wall of saltpetre. He cannot find emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, and eventually drops into hell, oh pundit. Such people (pretend to be religious), and define Waheguru by a few qualities of His, but the eternal Lord is unlimited in qualities. The ignorant man has no (spiritual) wisdom, which can be acquired only from the Guru. Just like a veena (lute), which has its wire broken, cannot produce any music in its absence, the man, who is disconnected from Waheguru, cannot sing His praise. However, Waheguru connects the disconnected people to Him by creating conditions favourable for union, oh Nanak. 32.

Word Meaning: Turvur(u) = tree. Kaaya = body. Punkhi = bird. Punch = the five (senses). Tutt(u) = the root (Waheguru). Choogeh(i) = pick; eat. Aiksay = the "One". Phaas = trapping. Na Runch = not even a little. Oodeh(i) = fly; roam around. Baygul = in a rush. Taakeh(i) = looking for. Choag = food (of many kinds). Ghunee = many. Punkh = feathers. Phaahi Purri = get trapped. Uvgoon(i) = bad qualities. Bheerr Bunee = big trouble. Kerm(i) = by benevolence. Munee = fortune on the forehead. Dhunee = Lord. Vudaayiyaan = honours. Jaiy Bhaavaiy = whom (He) likes.
MEANING: The human body is like a tree in which the mind is like a bird with five senses as its offspring. If all of them unite together and feed on the Root of the universe (Waheguru's Naam), they are absolutely in no danger of being caught in the net (of worldly bonds). But if they fly quickly (rush) to find and enjoy a variety of delicious foods (enjoy worldly attractions), they get their feathers broken (are unable to fly or get free), and cannot get free from the net of Maya in which they are trapped, and get into a big trouble because of their bad qualities (sensual pleasures). One cannot find emancipation (from worldly attractions) without Waheguru's Naam, which one acquires only if he has good fortune prewritten on his forehead by the benevolence of Waheguru, oh pundit. Waheguru is the greatest Lord who controls all the honours and bestows only on those whom He chooses. One gets emancipated only by His benevolence, and by the grace of the Guru, oh pundit. 33.

Thaan thununtar(i) ruv(i) ruhhiya, Gur Shabadi veechaar(i). Unmungiya daan(u) dayvsi, vudda Agumm, Apaar(u). 34.

Word Meaning: Thurthur Kumpaiy = trembles like a leaf. Jeeurra = soul. Thaan = shelter (of Waheguru). Vihoona = without. Maan(u) = pride. Kaaj = task. Pheetay = suffer damage. Thir = stable; eternal. Soor(i) = of gods. Naathah = of the gurus of the yogis. Nath = Master. Nidhaaraan = support less. Thaan Thununturi = everywhere. Daata = provider. Paaravaar(u) = limitless. Ruv Ruhhiya = is present. Unmungiya = without asking for. Dayvsi = will give. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaar(u) = beyond limits.

MEANING: When one loses the shelter of Waheguru, his soul (mind) becomes weak and begins to tremble like a leaf (loses moral strength). One's permanent shelter and pride are granted only by Waheguru, with whose support one's tasks (objectives) never suffer any damage (are completed successfully). Only Waheguru, the Guru, and His Shabad are eternal (while everything else is perishable), oh pundit. Waheguru is the Lord of the gods, of men, and even of the gurus of the yogis. (So, remember Him, and recite His Naam, oh pundit ji). Waheguru is the provider of everything and is present everywhere; no matter where I look, there is no end to His limits. One can see His presence everywhere by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. He is the greatest, is inaccessible, beyond limits, and gives His gifts even without being asked, oh pundit. 34.

MEANING: You are very kind, look after all Your living beings, give Your donations benevolently to the whole world, and take pleasure in that, oh Waheguru. You can create and destroy in a moment, and can connect humans with You with Your benevolence. You are very wise, know-all (omniscient), and wiser than the wisest. Waheguru is the destroyer of poverty and of misery, and delivers His Divine Knowledge, and the ability to concentrate on His Naam through the Guru, oh pundit ji. 35.

Bhee = still. Tayk = support. Dhundha Dhaavut = rush for worldly affairs. Anund = bliss. Doorjun = evil; enemies. Saajun = friends. Bust(u) = (the valuable) article (Naam). Nivaar(i) = remove; eradicate.

MEANING: The man feels traumatized at the loss of his wealth, but they are fools who always have wealth on their mind. The real and pure wealth is Waheguru's Naam, which only a few people accumulate with love. If one is imbued with Waheguru's love, one pays no attention to the loss of wealth. He surrenders his mind and his head (wisdom) to the Guru, and has full faith in His support. The worldly business no longer interests him as he feels blissful with the Guru's Shabad in mind. When one comes to the Guru's shelter, all his senses, which were acting as his enemies in the realm of spirituality, become his friends (come under his control). Such a devotee realizes that the real thing (Waheguru), which he had been looking for in the forests, was actually present in his heart. Connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru, the devotee stays connected with Him, and his suffering of rebirths is terminated, oh pundit ji. 36.

Uvgoon(i) = for bad qualities. Puchhutaah(i) = repents. Dherm = religiosity; morality. Nirbhuou = fearless. Kuhaan = where; no way. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Thaak Ruhhi = stopped (prevented) (by Waheguru). Kiv Upprraan = how to reach (to the other shore). Haath = depth; limit. Paar(u) = other shore. Saajun Rungulay = friends who enjoyed luxuries with him. Priyo = Dear (Waheguru). Malunhaar(u) = who has the ability to connect (Waheguru). Vichhorri = separated. Hayt(i) Apaar(u) = unlimited love.

MEANING: One cannot achieve emancipation by performing various religious rituals. Without acquiring noble qualities (which come only with Waheguru's Naam), one is taken to the court of the Angel of Death. Such a person does not enjoy mental bliss in this world or the next, and repents for his ill qualities, oh pundit. He has neither the Divine Knowledge nor the ability to meditate, nor does he have high moral character. Possessed by his ego, what Divine Knowledge can one acquire, and how can he become fearless without Waheguru's Naam? How can one reach Waheguru's Door on the far shore of the world-sea, when he is already exhausted working hard for wealth; also, he does not have any idea of the depth of the sea and of the far shore. Whom can he call for help? Even his colourful friends, who enjoyed life on his money, are nowhere near him now. However, if he calls the Guru, who is the mediator, with deep love, Waheguru, which had disconnected the individual from Him, reconnects him to Him again because of the Guru's unlimited love for the Guru, oh Nanak. 37.

Vin(u) Naavaiy kiyoun chootiyaiy, paapay pucheh(i) puchaah(i). 38.

Word Meaning: Ludday = loaded. Pasaara = expand. Purhur(i) = remove; give up. Puchhaanaiy Aap(u) = analyzes self to identify strengths and weaknesses. Soag = grief. Vijoag(u) = separation (from Waheguru). Suntaap(u) = suffering. Pirruntuou = fall into. Bunchay = deceive; avoid. Veesraiy = forget; get rid of. Khaiy Kaal(u) = destroying spiritual) death. Junjaaleen = in worldly nets. Vayhrriya = wrapped (engrossed) in. Bhee = again; still. Pucheh(i) Puchaah(i) = suffer again, and again.

MEANING: Committing sins is very bad, but the sinner loves them. Loaded with sins, he expands them further. But if, by giving up his sins, the sinner analyzes himself (in terms of his good and bad qualities, and what the purpose of human life is), he will experience no grief, no separation from God, and no suffering of any kind, oh pundit. How can one save him from going to hell, and how can he avoid the Agent of death, and how can one get rid of his rebirths when lies and deceit are ruining his spiritual life? Man’s mind is badly wrapped (trapped) in worldly affairs, and continues to do so. One cannot find emancipation without Waheguru’s Naam, and he continues to suffer because of his sins. 38.

Word Meaning: Fir(i) Fir(i) = again, and again. Phaahi Phaasaiy = gets trapped. Kuooaa = crow-like (man with bad habits). Ub = now. Phaatha = trapped. Choag = bait. Aakhee = Words (of the Guru). Jumjaal(i) = in the net of the Angel of death. Bhaal(i) = look for. Rung(i) Ruchaiy = absorbed (imbued) in love. Liv Laayay = stay focused (connected). Ivv = like this.

MEANING: The man is like the crow; just as the crow is attracted to filth, the man is also attracted to filthy activities which please his senses, and gets trapped in the net of the captivating Maya again and again. He does not realize what he does now, so what does he gain when he repents later? Trapped in sensual pleasures, he keeps feeding on the bait of such attractions and does not realize their sad consequences. However, if he is lucky enough to come to Satguru’s shelter, he understands the consequences of His Words (Advice). Just like a fish caught in a death-like net cannot get free by itself, a man cannot seek freedom from worldly bonds without the kind help of the Guru. (Without the support of the Guru), The man keeps taking births, and dying again, and again, oh, pundit. But, imbued with Waheguru's love, a few individuals remain absorbed in Him (and are emancipated). Those who get emancipation never get trapped in worldly attractions, oh, Pundit Ji. 39.

Bani birlou beechaarsi, jay ko Gurmukh(i) hoyay. Eh Bani Muhaa Purakh kee, nij ghur(i) vaasa hoyay. 40.

Word Meaning: Beera Beera = (the human body) calls her soul, addressing that as brother. Bireh(i) = in separation. Jul(i) Jaayay = gets destroyed. Baali Baalay = with dolls; worldly attractions. Nayh(i) = in love. Vur(u) = husband. Kaamni = woman. Tayh(i) = with love. Birlo = rare. Boojhnuou = understands. Saach(i) = with the grace of God. Bani = Guru's Shabad. Muhaa Purakh Kee = of the Guru about Waheguru. Nij Ghur = own heart. Vaasa = stay.

MEANING: The human body (sister) never wants to get separated from its soul (brother). When the man dies, and the soul leaves the body, the body implores the soul to come back, but the soul must depart to go to its real home (Waheguru's Court). Separated from the soul, the body gets destroyed too. In her parents' home (this world), the man (human being) has love for worldly attractions (which must come to an end). If the human bride wishes to attain eternal life, she must find (connect with) her permanent husband (Waheguru), which she can realize by serving the Guru with deep reverence. But very few people realize that they can be connected with the Guru only by the benevolence of Waheguru.

All honours (noble qualities) are controlled by the Lord, and He gives only to those whom He likes. Only a rare individual ponders on the Guru's Shabad with full faith in Him. Guru's Shabad is the praise of Waheguru, which connects the devotee with Him in his own heart (Waheguru takes residence in his heart). 40.

Bhubhaiy bhuoujul maarug(u) vikkhrra, aas niraasa turiyaiy. Gur persadi aapo cheenaiy, jeevtiyaan ivv muriyaiy. 41.

Word Meaning: Bhunn(i) = break; destroy. Ghurriyaiy = build; construct. Dhaah(i) = demolishes. Oosaaray = construct. Sur = bodies of water. Soakhaiy = absorbs; dries up.

Bhur(i) Poakhaiy = fills to the brim. Sumruth = perfectly capable. Vaypurvaahaiy = worries-free. Bherm(i) = misled in misgivings. Divaanay = crazy. Doari = string; control. Jin = whom. Khinchaiy = pulls. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Bhaaleh(i) = search for. Boojhaiy = understands. Nij Ghur(i) = in own heart. Vaasa = dwelling. Bhuojul = the world sea. Maarug(u) = journey. Vikkhrra = difficult. Niraasa = detached. Aapo = self. Cheenaiy = recognize; analyze. Ivv = like this.

MEANING: The world is destroyed and reconstructed, and is destroyed after being constructed. Waheguru builds the demolished, and demolishes the built. He dries up the world-pool, and fills it again to the brim. He is capable of doing everything; yet He is worry-free. Those who do not have faith in Waheguru, and are misled by their misgivings, are insane; (but it may not be entirely their fault, because) one can achieve nothing without his good fortune. The string of the Divine Knowledge, which He delivers through the Guru, is held by Waheguru in His hand; those who are pulled with this string towards Him get attracted to Him, oh pundit. Those who are attracted to Waheguru sing His praise and are always imbued in His love, as a result of which they never have the need to repent (because they do not commit any sins). They always search to connect with Him, and when they follow the path as advised by the Guru, they acquire Waheguru in their own heart. The journey through the sea of the world is very tough, and one swims across it only when he gets detached from the worldly hopes (he gets rid of them). When one recognizes himself by the grace of the Guru, he overcomes his worldly desires; this is how one is called living-dead, oh pundit ji. 41.

Word Meaning: Maya --- Kur(i) = crying for Maya. Huns(u) = soul. Doomno = in indecisiveness. Aath(i) = Maya. Jhoottha = attached to the perishable. Johiya = is punished. Uvgoon = bad qualities. Oolto = reversed. Muraiy = feels detached. Bhaal(i) = look for. Gurrh = fort. Mundar = mansions. Mehla = palaces. Baaji Deebaan(u) = stage of an acrobat or a stage actor. Chutur Suroop(u) = with wise persona. Jaan(u Soojaan(u) = wise and know-all. 42.

MEANING: Countless people die crying for wealth, which does not accompany anyone. When the soul leaves in indecision (choosing between wealth and Waheguru), wealth is forgotten (becomes a thing of the past, as it does not go with the departed soul). The Maya-engrossed man takes his ill qualities with him and is watched and punished by the Angel of justice. But the devotee of Waheguru, who had the thinking of his mind reversed from Maya, and had killed his worldly desires, takes the noble qualities with him to Waheguru's Court, oh pundit ji.

Those who leave this world without Waheguru's Naam and with the claim that everything was theirs are bound to find trouble. Like the temporary performing stage of a stage actor, their fort-like mansions and palaces are left behind without Waheguru's Naam. The life of such a person is wasted (he gains no spirituality). But the man is ignorant on his own. Only Waheguru is smart, wise, and know-all, and only He can give understanding to the ignorant man (to follow Guru's advice). 42.

Word Meaning: Aaveh(i) = come (into the world). Phoon(i) = also. Lukh Chauraaseeh = 8.4 million life forms. Maydni = world. Ootaah(i) = upwards. Oobray = salvaged. Bhaaya = like. Dhundha = affairs of the world. Vigooti = suffers humiliation. Chaalsi = will leave the world (is perishable). Sumpoun = I will offer. Aagaiy = before. Usthir(u) = immortal. Dhunee = Lord. Oat = shelter; support. Maari = killed by. Huoun = selfishness and ego. Rutti = imbued. Choat = hurt to realize.

MEANING: The man, who comes into this world, has also to leave, and (without Waheguru's Naam) repents for his repeated births and deaths. The number of 8.4 million life forms he has to go through does not decrease or increase. For those who worship Waheguru, the worldly affairs (running around for wealth) become dead (become insignificant), and Maya suffers humiliation (feels insulted at being ignored), and they find salvation. Whom can I make my permanent friend when everything that is visible is perishable? Only the Creator, Waheguru, is immortal. So, I will offer my soul, my body, and my mind before Him. Only He is my support. I realized my hurt due to my ego when I pondered on Guru's Shabad, and my selfishness and my ego were destroyed when I acquired noble qualities with the Shabad, oh pundit. 43.

Word Meaning: Raana Raaou = rajah. Rung(u) = Runk(u) = pauper. Faqeer = an ascetic. Bundhaiy Dheer = give assurance. Raah(i) = journey. Boora = dangerous. Bheehaavla = frightening. Sur = ocean. Doogur = mountain. Usgaah = unfathomable. Piyaar(i) = dears. Thee Ruhhaan = wish to become. Mooraar(i) = God. Bhurpoor = overflowing. Vuseh(i) = live. Jaapni = visible; appear. Jichur(u) = as long as.

MEANING: Nobody lives in this world forever; one may have been a rajah, a pauper, a wealthy person, or an ascetic, oh pundit ji (he has to leave). Everybody leaves when his turn comes, and nobody is there to console him (to give assurance of a longer life). The journey of life is very dangerous and frightening, like an unfathomable sea or a high mountain (there is always a risk of falling into bad habits). I am repenting to death because of my ignoble qualities; how can I reach my real home (Waheguru's Residence) without noble qualities? The virtuous people have connected with Waheguru because of their noble qualities. How can I get connected with such dear people? I wish to become like them by reciting Waheguru's Naam. The man is full of ignoble qualities, but he also has some good qualities. However, his noble qualities do not appear until he ponders on Guru's Shabad in His shelter, oh pundit ji. 44.

Preetum huth(i) vudiyaayiyaan, jaiy bhaavaiy taiyn dayay. Aap(i) kuray kis(u) aakhiyaiy, uver(i) na koyay kuray. 45.

Word Meaning: Lushkuriyaan = the soldiers (who fight against sensual desires). Ghur Summhlay = take positions. Vuj-hou = the deeds to perform. Kaar Kmaaveh(i) Sir(i) Dhunee = perform deeds under Waheguru's supervision (as per His instructions). Laaha = benefit. Pullaiy Paayay = earn; acquire. Chhoaday = give up. Visaar(i) = drop them from mind. Gurrh(i) = in the fort of heart. Dohee = praise. Chaakur(u) = servant. Shuhouayay = to the Lord. Oottar Dayay = refuses to accept. Vuj-hou = wages. Tukhut(i) = on the throne. Sayay = that. 45.

MEANING: The devotee-soldiers take positions to fight against the vices as prewritten in their fate by Waheguru to perform noble deeds. They perform noble deeds under the supervision of Waheguru (as per His orders) and earn the benefit (of high spirituality). They give up all the vices of gluttony, greed, and the like, and drop them (the vices) completely from their mind, oh pundit. By singing Waheguru's praise in their bodies, they never face defeat in their fight against vices. On the other hand, an individual who calls him a servant (devotee) of God, but refuses to listen to His advice, loses his wage (in spirituality) and never gets to sit on the throne of his heart (control his senses) (and thus never gets to connect with God). Waheguru controls all honours and bestows only on those whom He likes. He is the only one who is the Lord, and nobody else can do things like Him. So, who can we complain to, oh pundit ji? 45.

Word Meaning: Beejou = other. Soojhaiy = think of. Dooleecha Paayay = seat of judge. Nivaarun(u) = preventor. Nureh-Nur(u) = king of men. Saachaiy Naayay = by Waheguru's Naam. Vun(u) Trin(u) = forests and jungles. Dhoondhut = searching for. Laal Ruttan, Maanki = jewels-like noble qualities. Bhundaar(u) = treasure. Ootum = pure; loaded with good qualities. Aikaiy Bhaayay = with love for the "One". Rus(i) = enjoying (His) sweetness. Laaha = benefit. Purthaayay = for the (next) world. Ruchna = creation. Siriya = created. Aakaar(u) = visible world. Bayunt = limitless. 46.

MEANING: Waheguru, which is the King of all human beings and the protector (saviour) for the people who could be sent to Hell, is the only eternal judge who decides the outcomes of the deeds of the people, and who can be realized only by the recitation of His Naam, oh pundit. I cannot think of anybody else who can be an eternal judge like Waheguru. I had been looking for Waheguru in forests and jungles, but when I pondered on Satguru's Shabad, I realized that He controls the treasure of all the noble (divine) qualities. If I purify my mind by acquiring the noble qualities and reciting Waheguru's Naam with a focused mind and with reverence, I can connect with Him. The dear Waheguru can be realized only by enjoying the sweetness of His Naam; in addition, one earns the benefit (wealth of high spirituality) for the next world, oh Nanak. (To realize Him) One should recite the Naam of the limitless Waheguru who has no end, and who has created the whole universe (in the shelter of the Guru), oh pundit ji. 46.

Word Meaning: Rraarra = the last letter of the Gurmukhi alphabet. Roorra = beautiful; supreme. Gaaroorr = a mantra which is believed to be an antidote to snake's poison (Guru's Shabad which makes Maya's attractions ineffective). Mut(u) = lest; let no one. Shaah(u) Saacha = truly wealthy. Poora = perfect. Shaabaash(i) = deserves acclamations. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Vur(u) = husband. Naar(i) = the human bride.

MEANING: Waheguru is supreme; there is no other King (like Him) in the universe. If you listen to Guru's Shabad, which makes all the captivating effects of Maya ineffective, Waheguru will appear in your heart, oh pundit ji. Let no one be misled by any misgiving. Waheguru can be realized only by the Guru's grace. That individual is truly wealthy who has Waheguru's Naam-wealth in his mind. Such a devotee deserves much acclaim who becomes perfect in the shelter of the Guru. One realizes Waheguru by the supreme Bani (Word of the Guru) by pondering on His Shabad. When the human bride renounces her selfishness and ego, all her suffering is eradicated, and she wins Waheguru as her husband. 47.

Word Meaning: Soyina = gold. Roopa = silver. Sunchiyaiy = accumulate. Kaacha = perishable. Bikh(u) = poisonous. Chhaar(u) = dust. Sadaayay = calls himself. Doobidha = in indecisiveness. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. Sachiyaareen = devotees with purified mind. Amoal(u) = invaluable. Oojlo = purifying. Put(i) = dignity. Saachi = eternal. Boal(u) = Guru's Word; Waheguru's Naam. Survur = pool (of Amrit). Huns(u) = swan (a devout faithful of Waheguru). Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Mumta = attraction for. Mohini = mind-captivating. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Boojhaiy = understands. Soojaan(u) = wise.

MEANING: The gold and silver, which the man accumulates, are short-lived wealth, which is like dust (worthless) and is actually poisonous (for spirituality). Such a man may call him wealthy, but he suffers humiliation (in Waheguru's Court) because of his indecisiveness. But, the devotees of Waheguru who have their minds purified, accumulate His Naam, which is priceless and the real wealth (no collection of gold and silver can match it). Waheguru's Naam is eternal wealth (never loses its worth), which purifies one's mind and earns him everlasting respect. You are the real friend and the buddy, are wise, are the pool of Amrit, and are the swan (holy Satguru which drinks the Naam-Amrit), oh Waheguru. I am a sacrifice for the devotee who embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart. (Rather than loving Maya), recognize (make connection with) Waheguru, who has created the captivating Maya, oh pundit. The wise people understand that Waheguru's Amrit-Naam is the real Maya (wealth) for them. 48.

Haumein khupaiy khupaayaysi, beejou vuth(u) vikaar(u). Junt oopaayay vich(i) paayayun(u), Kerta alug(u) apaar(u). 49.

Word Meaning: Khima = forgiveness. Vihoonay = devoid of. Khup(i) Guyyay = died suffering. Khoohun, Lukh, Asunkh, Bisunkh = countless. Khup(i) Mooyay = died with unsuccessful efforts. Khoolaiy = free of bonds. Bundh(u) = restrictions. Mehleen = in Waheguru's Court. Khuraa = pure; qualified. Sookh Bhaayay = easily. Khurch(u) = daily needs of living beings. Dheer = satisfaction; contentment. Beejou Vuth(u) = the other thing (Maya). Vikaar = vices. Kerta = Creator; God. Alug = detached.

MEANING: Without the ability to forgive, countless people have died suffering in their unsuccessful efforts (to connect with Waheguru). The number of such people cannot be counted, and what is the use of counting them anyway? However, if they recognize the Lord (and recite His Naam), they get free from worldly bonds, and there is no obstacle in their path to unite with Waheguru. With Guru's Shabad and with Waheguru's Naam in mind, such a devotee acquires the quality of forgiveness and is easily declared to be pure (qualified for union with Waheguru). He also realizes that Waheguru is the provider of the daily needs of the living beings, of the wealth of purity and concentration, and Himself takes dwelling in the devotee's heart with His kindness. With recitation of Waheguru's Naam by body, mind and by the tongue, and with noble qualities inside, the devotee feels fully contented. But the Maya-worshippers indulge in vices (sensual pleasures) and suffer in their selfishness and ego, oh, Pundit Ji. The Creator, Waheguru, implants haumein (selfishness and ego) in all living beings, but He Himself remains detached from Maya. 49.

Sumpaiy saath(i) na chaalaiy hoar. Bin(u) Saachay nuhhi Durgah maan(u). Hur(i) rus(u) peevaiy, chhootaiy nidaan(i). 50.

Word Meaning: Srishta = the Creator; God. Bhayou = secrets. Nihchuou = for sure. Sumpaiy = wealth. Kuou = for. Eeshur(u) = God. Poorub(i) Likhay = prewritten by Waehguru. Kaarun = for the sake of. Chaakur = servant. Hoar = beyond life. Saachay = Waheguru's Naam. Rus(u) = sweet Naam-Amrit. Nidaan(i) = at the end.

MEANING: (Getting connected with Waheguru) does not mean that one can know the secrets of the Creator, Waheguru; nobody can ever know His secrets. Whatever the Creator wishes to do will happen for sure. Most people worship the Lord (or their deities) solely for wealth, but they do not realize that they will acquire the wealth preordained by their fate (so one should not worship Waheguru just for the sake of wealth). People become servants of others or even thieves to acquire wealth, but wealth does not accompany them anymore (after their death). One does not earn any respect in Waheguru's Court without His Naam, oh pundit. Only those who find emancipation at the end drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit with reverence. 50.

Word Meaning: Hayrut = by watching; over time. Sukhee = hey friend. Mein = selfishness and ego. Haar = necklaces. Doar = wide but thin bracelets. Kunkun = narrow, but thick bracelets. Thaaki = got tired. Sheengaar(u) = adornments. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. Adhaar(u) = support; basis.

Word Meaning: It was a big surprise for me to note how my selfishness and my ego died (were eradicated) over time when my mind was enlightened with the recitation of the Guru's Shabad (in praise of Waheguru), oh my friend. Just like a young bride who beautifies herself by wearing different necklaces and wide and thick bracelets to win her dear's love, I adorned my body with religious symbols to please my deity, but got tired of all adornment (because I did not achieve any peace). I realized the real bliss when I connected with the dear Lord, wearing the necklace of noble qualities around my neck (His Naam on my tongue). However, love and affection for Waheguru is realized only in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. By pondering on Guru's Shabad in mind, you will learn that nobody can enjoy any comfort without Waheguru. So, one should study, understand, and have love for Waheguru. We should recite Waheguru's Naam and worship Him because His Naam is the basis of our life, oh pundit ji.51.

J(i) Purakh nudr(i) na aavuyyee, Tis ka kiyya kur(i) kuhhiya jaayay. Bulihaari Gur aapnay, jin(i) hirdaiy ditta dikhaayay. 52.

Word Meaning: Laykh(u) = writing. Mityee = erase. Kaarun(u) Keeya = created the needed ingredients for the universe. Pug(u) Dhaar(i) = with firm footing (laws). Huth(i) = in control. Phayr(i) = reverse; change. Saar(i) = look after. Puch(i) = in suffering. J(i) = Jo = which. Purakh = living power.

MEANING: The writing, which Waheguru has inscribed in one's fate, cannot be erased by his own efforts because Waheguru, who has created the universe with His benevolence, has firm (strict) laws, oh my friends. You can learn from Guru's Words that the Creator has control over all honours. We cannot change His inscription, so we should pray to Him that He take care of us in whatever way He pleases. One can enjoy blissfulness with His kind sight and by reflecting on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. The followers of their mind are misled, and suffer spiritual death; but those who ponder on the Guru's Shabad get salvaged, oh pundit. What can anyone say about the living Supreme Being, which is not visible? (No one can describe Him). I am a sacrifice for my Guru who has shown me Waheguru in my heart. 52.

Word Meaning: Paandha = teacher. Bidiya = Guru's Teachings. Bichraiy = leads life. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort; make it a normal routine (part of his character). Sodhaiy = purifies mind. Tutt(u) = reality; Waheguru (His Naam). Luhhaiy = acquires. Liv Laayay = with full meditation. Bikurda = sells. Bikh(u) = poisonous money. Cheenyee = recognize. Soojh Boojh = wisdom and understanding.

MEANING: Only that teacher deserves to be called educated who spends his life according to the Teachings of the Guru, and makes them a part of his character. Such a teacher purifies his mind through the education received from the Guru and acquires Waheguru's Naam with a focused mind. But the worshipper of Maya sells his education, earns poisonous money, and spends poisonous money. The foolish does not recognize (makes connection with) Guru's Shabad, and has no spiritual wisdom, or understanding, oh pundit ji. 53.

Word Meaning: Chaatrriyaan = students. Smaalhou = remember. Sungruhou = accumulate Naam; recite it. Laaha = benefit. Putti = the wooden writing board. Saar(u) = supreme. Beena = wise. Gul(i) = neck; tongue.

MEANING: The teacher who passes on the Guru's Teachings to his students is the true devotee of the Guru. He advises his students to remember Waheguru and recite His Naam to earn spiritual benefit (wealth) in the world. To enshrine Waheguru's Naam in the heart is the true board to write on, and Guru's Shabad is the supreme word to read, oh pundit ji. Only that individual is a true Pundit(u), is truly educated, and wise, who has the necklace of Waheguru's Naam around his neck (Naam on the tongue), oh Nanak. 54.1.

ਰਾਮਕਲੀ ਮਹਲਾ 1 ਸਿਧ ਗੋਸਟਿ

ੴ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥

Ramkali Mehla 1, Sidh Gosht(i)

Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i)

NOTE: Even though the name Sidh has been used for accomplished yogis, it has also been used for the Almighty. Gosht(i) means 'conversation'; it has also been used for 'union'. So, Sidh Gosht(i) has two meanings: conversation (discussion) with Yogis and union with Waheguru (God). At the time of Guru Nanak Sahib, the Yogic faith was very influential in northern India. The main objective of the yogis was to purify their bodies and acquire some supernatural powers by focusing their mind on their deity – Shiva, on their gurus, or on some supreme power - so that they could impress people, and force them to give them huge donations. People were more afraid of their powers than they had any reverence for them. The yogis were devotees of god Shiva and were recognized by their resemblance to many symbols of their faith. Their main symbols included ash on their bodies, big glass earrings, a quilt of rags, a bugle to blow into, a stick (baton), a large bag to collect dry food, and a shallow dish to receive alms. They would go from door to door to collect alms. Most of them stayed unmarried throughout their life, but a few were also married. Normally, they lived in large groups in communal housing.

To acquire powers, they would meditate for long hours to build concentration of mind, which they used to display their powers.

Guru Nanak Sahib had many meetings with the Yogis, during which they tried to impress Guru Sahib with their supernatural powers and, sometimes, even with their logic, but they failed every time. Guru Sahib advised them at every meeting to change their objective and work for the betterment of humanity. They could do this only by acquiring noble qualities by focusing their minds on Waheguru's Naam. Guru Sahib told them that the display of powers simply boosts their ego, which is an enemy of spirituality. Most of those meetings took place in isolated places where there were very few people, if any, to listen to the discussions. However, some of the yogis were won over by Guru Sahib even though they did not admit it publicly.

The last meeting between the Yogis and Guru Nanak Sahib took place at the Village of Achchul, near Batala, in Feb-March 1539. The Yogis used to visit the temple of god Shiva in that village every year on the same days. Guru Nanak Sahib made a special effort to be there at the same time to educate the yogis. A large number of people had gathered there to see the yogis. The Yogis were trying to impress the people with their tricks.

Guru Nanak Sahib had become a well-known Divine Messenger by then and had earned tremendous respect from the people. When they heard that Guru Nanak Sahib had also arrived in Achchul, they flocked around Him. This made the yogis very jealous and angry. They unleashed all their powers to impress the people and win them back, but they failed miserably. Then they went to Guru Sahib and began a discussion to show their spiritual supremacy. But they failed again miserably, which really broke their back, and their influence in Punjab was almost wiped out.

Guru Sahib recorded the proceedings of this decisive and important meeting later under the title "Sidh Gosht(i)" which Guru Arjun Dev Ji enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib for our spiritual guidance. It is not just a record of the Meeting: it is a rich treasure of Divine information for all of us. All the questions by the Yogis, and the answers by Guru Sahib, are given next as recorded by Guru Sahib. There were many Yogis present there, but Churput, Loharipa, and Bhungar Nath were the main leaders. Enjoy the holy

So, I would love to sever my head and offer it to my Guru along with my body and mind, and sing Waheguru's praise with love and in a blissful state of mind. 1.

Roaming around in the world does nothing for spirituality; the mind is purified only by Waheguru's (Naam). One cannot find emancipation without the Guru's Shabad. Pause.

MEANING: Question by yogis: Who are you, and what's your name? What is the objective of your faith, and what path do you follow to achieve that?

Guru Sahib's Answer: I recite Waheguru's Naam and pray to Him. I am always prepared to sacrifice my life for Waheguru's devotees.

Q: How do you achieve peace of mind, and in what state does your mind stay? What brings you into the world, and at what point do you leave the world, oh, detached from the world, Nanak? What is your path to becoming detached from the world? 2.

MEANING: A: I stay connected with Waheguru, who is continuously (uniformly) present in every heart, and follow the Guru's Advice in life. I came to the world with the Will of God, and will leave when He calls me back. I always accept Waheguru's Will to be sweet. Word Meaning: Dootur(u) = very tough (to swim across). Paaro = other shore. Aoudhoo = detached from the world. Sacha Beechaaro = honest thought. Paargraami = swimmer to the other end. Baiysun(u) = debate.

MEANING: Q: The world sea is said to be very tough to swim across, so how do we do that? Yogi Churput(u) asked (Guru) Nanak for His honest opinion on that.

A: What kind of response can I offer to a person who asks a question for which he already knows the answer? So, I do not want to get into a discussion with you on this question, oh Churput. However, the answer to your question is that one should recite Waheguru's Naam to cross the world-sea.

Word Meaning: Niraalum = detached. Moogaayi = a waterfowl; a teal. Naiy = river. Saanay = like. Soort(i) = focus of mind. Bhuv Saagur(u) = the world sea (of Maya). Vukhaanaiy = chants; recites. Ikaant(i) = aloof. Aasa Mah(i) Niraasa = unmindful of hopes (desires). Daykh(i) = "sees"; is connected with. Daaso = slave.

MEANING: Guru Sahib's answer continues: Just like the lotus flower, which while growing in water, stays above its surface, or just like the teal which swims on the surface of water, yet does not let its wings become wet, the man, while living in the world of Maya, should stay unaffected by it. With one's mind focused on Guru's Shabad, he should recite Waheguru's Naam to swim across the world-sea. With Waheguru's Naam enshrined in the heart, he should stay aloof so as to have no worldly desires. I will be the slave of the holy saint who is connected with the inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru, and connects others with Him, oh Nanak(u). 5.

Word Meaning: Roas(u) = be offended. Chultou = wavering. Adhaaro = basis.

MEANING: Q: Do not be offended if I humbly ask your honest thought on how to get to Guru's Door, oh Lord, Nanak.

A: When one makes Waheguru's Naam the basis of his life, his capricious mind becomes stable (quits wavering) and rests in its permanent home (Waheguru's Naam). With His Naam in the heart, one begins to love Waheguru, which connects the devotee with Him through the Guru. 6.

Word Meaning: Haati = worldly business (affairs). Baati = small garden of attractive flowers and fruit trees (worldly attractions). Niraalay = detached. Rookh(i), Birkh(i) = (in the shelter of) trees. Oodiyaanaiy = in wilderness. Kund Mool = vegetables that grow under the soil, like carrots, radishes, turnips, onions, etc. Ahaaro = food. Gorakh-Poot = disciple of Gorakh Nath. Joogut Bidh(i) = technique; means. Saayee = that.

MEANING: (Yogi Loharipa): We stay aloof from the worldly affairs and their attractions under the shelter of some tree in the wilderness (do not need big mansions); and live on a simple diet of vegetables that grow under the soil (which require no cooking, thus avoiding temptations for delicious foods). We take dips at holy places, whereby we do not acquire any filth on our minds, and stay blessed. This is the successful path to yogism, explained yogi Loharipa - a disciple of Gorakh Nath. 7.

Haat, baati neend na aavaiy, pur ghur(i) chit(u) na dolaayee. Bin(u) Naavaiy mun(u) tayk na tikyee, Nanak bhookh na jaayee. Haat, puttun(u) ghur(u) Guru dikhaaya, sehjay Sach(u) vapaaro. Khundit nindra, ulp ahaarun(g), Nanak Tutt(u) beechaaro. 8.

Word Meaning: Neend Na Aavaiy = not be lost; become oblivious. Pur Ghur(i) = belonging of others. Dolaayee = weakening (wavering) of mind. Tayk Na Tikyee = does not stabilize. Bhookh = appetite (for worldly desires). Haat(u) Puttun(u) = shops and city (to do business in Waheguru's Naam). Sehjay = in blissful state. Khundit = reduced. Ulp = small. Ahaarun(g) = diet. Tutt(u) = the essence (Waheguru).

MEANING: A: (One does not need to leave home for forests to unite with Waheguru), but he should not get so deeply engrossed in Maya that he becomes oblivious of Waheguru; and he should not allow his mind to show weakness so as to have an evil eye for others' belongings (women and wealth). However, one's mind does not stabilize, and one's appetite for worldly attractions does not go away without Waheguru's Naam. The Guru shows the business centre in one's mind, where he can trade for true wealth (Waheguru's Naam) in a peaceful state of mind, without going to the forests. When one ponders the root of the universe, Waheguru, his sleep is reduced, and he also eats less. 8.

Khut Dershun = the six major faiths of the ascetics: Yogi, Jungum, Sanyasi, Baiyraagi, Baiyshno, and Jains. Ikk Puntha = our sect – Aayi Punth. Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. Baahourr(i) = again. Choat = hurt; suffer.

MEANING: (A Yogi advises Guru Sahib to adopt their faith): There are six major philosophies (faiths) of ascetics, including Yogism. There are twelve sects of Yogis, but ours, "Aayi Punth", is the best; I invite you to adopt our sect, which is the superior most, and to wear our symbols – glass earrings, and a quilt of rags, etc. This is how we teach our mind and never suffer in life; this is the path to union, oh, Nanak. 9.

MEANING: Guru Ji's response: To enshrine Guru's Shabad in the mind are the earrings that we wear in the mind all the time, by which we overcome our selfishness, ego, and worldly attachments. We gain this understanding from the Guru's Shabad and rid ourselves of lust, rage, and ego. "Seeing" the omnipresent Waheguru everywhere is, for us, the large bag and the quilt of rags. Only Waheguru can grant emancipation, oh yogi. One can affirm with Guru's eternal Shabad that Waheguru and His splendour are eternal. 10.

Word Meaning: Oondhou = inverted. Khuppur = the shallow dish (heart). Punchbhoo = the noble qualities of the five elements: patience of the earth; coolness of water; indiscrimination of air, burning (of mental filth) nature of fire; and detachment of the sky. Topi = cap. Kurraasun(u) = mat of straw (on which the yogis sit to meditate). Jagoti = loin-cloth. Sat(u) = high morality. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Sunjum = control on senses. Gurmukh(i) = in shelter of the Guru (with His Advice). Smaahl(i) = remember.

MEANING: Guru Sahib continues His response: Inverting our heart (mind) from worldly attractions to sing Waheguru's praise is our dish to beg for spirituality, and the noble qualities of the five basic elements serve as the cap you wear. You sit on a mat of straw to stay alert and wear a tight loincloth to control your lust. We control our body and mind (by Waheguru's Naam) with the advice of the Guru, which also enables us to acquire high morality, contentment, and control over our senses, oh Nanak. 11.

MEANING: Q: Who is hidden, and who is emancipated (detached from the world). Who is connected (with God) by body and by mind? Who takes births, and who dies all the time (repeatedly)? Who is present in the three-layered universe? (Being devotees of Shiva, the Yogis had no concept of Waheguru and His Naam, or even the Guru). 12.

Word Meaning: Ghut(i) = in the heart. Binsaiy = perishes.

MEANING: A: Waheguru, which is present in every heart, is hidden, and the follower of the Guru is emancipated. The devotee, who follows Guru's Shabad all the time, is connected with Waheguru by body and by mind. It is the Maya-worshipper who perishes, takes births, and dies again and again. Guru's Sikh is always absorbed in Waheguru which is present in all the three worlds. 13.

MEANING: Q: How is it that the man is enslaved by the poisonous Maya, and trapped in its net? How do some people lose their high spirituality while others gain it even more? How can man purify his mind and get rid of the darkness of his ignorance? I will consider the individual my guru (give him the respect of a guru) who can give his accurate thoughts on this fact. 14.

Word Meaning: Doormut(i) = ill-advice; evil thinking. Mayt(i) = eradicating.

MEANING: A: The poisonous Maya enslaves and traps the individual in its bonds who has evil thinking. The follower of Maya loses his spirituality, and the follower of the Guru gains it. The darkness of ignorance is killed in the shelter of the Guru, and one becomes absorbed in Waheguru by overcoming one's selfishness and ego. 15.

MEANING: Guru Ji continues His response: If a man builds a wall of the uniformly present Waheguru's Naam around his mind, his mind quits taking flights (wandering), and his body does not erode in strength. If he recognizes Waheguru in the cave of his peaceful mind (makes a connection with Him), he becomes pure like Waheguru, and is liked by Him, oh Nanak. 16.

A: I wore the outfit of a detached person to search for the individuals who obey the Guru and sing Waheguru's praise, but our basic philosophy is to lead the life of a common man while living in the family (so the outfit of a family man). I deal in Waheguru's Naam, and my associates swim across the world sea by following the Guru's advice. 18.

Niruntur(i) = of the uniformly present (Waheguru). Duntaan = teeth. Saar(u) = (hard like) iron (attractions of Maya). Saacha = honest.

MEANING: Q: How did you transform your life, and what are your interests (what do you attach your mind to), oh man? How did you kill your hopes and desires? How did you realize (make a connection with) God's Light? How can one chew on (kill) the attractions of Maya, which are very hard to chew, and which are like chewing iron without teeth? Give me your honest thought on this, oh Nanak. 19.

Word Meaning: Junmay = (spiritual birth). Guvun = birth-death cycle. Unhut(i) = Unaahit(i) = in non-perishable (eternal Waheguru). Raatay = imbued. Traiy goon = the three effects of Maya (See INTRODUCTION). Taarunhaar(u) = the one who has the ability to ferry across (Waheguru).
MEANING: A: I killed my birth-death cycle by taking spiritual birth in Satguru's shelter (surrendering my own wisdom and adopting His Advice). Imbued in the love of the non-perishable (immortal) Waheguru, my mind has been attached to Him. I burned away my hopes and desires with Guru's Shabad, and acquired Waheguru's Light in the shelter of the Guru. If you make the three effects of Maya ineffective (with Guru's Shabad), you have already chewed on the iron-like tough Maya (gotten rid of its attractions). The captain of the ship, God, ferries you across the world-sea even without being asked. 20.

Bairaayiyaiy = enemy (haumein). Bikh(u) = poison. Ruchiya = created.
MEANING: Q: What are your thoughts on the origin of the world? Where did the Supreme Being reside at that time? What are the means to acquire Divine Knowledge (to connect with God)? Who resides in every heart? How can you avert the attack of death, and how can one reach the residence of the fearless God (connect with Him)? How can one recognize that he has acquired the state of blissfulness and contentment? How can one kill his haumein?
A: When a devotee gets rid of his main enemy, haumein (because it destroys one's spirituality) with the Guru's Shabad, his mind stays in its own home (is stabilized and does not wander anymore). He connects with the Creator through the Guru's Shabad. I am a slave of such a saint. 21.

MEANING: Q: Where does the man come from, where does he go to, and how does he stay absorbed in activities that attract him? How can he be loved by the Supreme Being under the guidance of the Guru and get connected with the incomprehensible God, which is the origin of everything? How do you explain that He is the creator and the listener at the same time? I will be convinced that the individual who can explain all this is the true Guru (connected with God) and has absolutely no greed.
A: The man comes to this world, leaves the world, and stays absorbed in the activities of his interest, with the Will of Waheguru. If he spends his life according to the Teachings of the Guru and recites Waheguru's Naam with the Guru's Shabad, he attains high transcendence and learns that Waheguru's transcendence and His universe are limitless. 22.

Word Meaning: Bismaad(u) = amazement. Nituntur = continuous. Ukulput = not imaginary; real. Moodra = means; path. Uvigut(i) = in the invisible (Waheguru). Nirunjun(u) = Waheguru. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state. Luhhaiy = acquire. Dooji Kaar = service to others. Khoj(i) = by searching. Jea Joogut(i) = the right path. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Maayt(i) = eradicate. Niraalum = detached. Saach(u) = Waheguru (His Naam).
MEANING: A: (to paurri 21): The origin of the universe is simply amazing (cannot be explained); only Waheguru was present everywhere at that time. The Divine Knowledge acquired from the Guru (His Shabad) is the true (the most effective) path to connect with Waheguru. It is Waheguru that is present in every heart. One gets absorbed into (merges with) the invisible Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad when he acquires Waheguru, the origin of everything, which is above the effects of Maya. The Sikh, who serves the Guru (obeys His Teachings) and recognizes no other power (such as Maya), can search for and realize Waheguru. Waheguru's Huqam is amazing, but the individual who recognizes it knows how to connect with the eternal Waheguru. The real yogi is the one who gets rid of his selfishness and ego, becomes detached from the world, and has Waheguru enshrined in his heart. 23.
NOTE: From Paurri 24 to Paurri 42, there are no questions from the Yogis. Guru Sahib continues to explain the beliefs of His Path and about Waheguru. Fresh questions start from Paurri 43.

Word Meaning: Uvigutoan = from the invisible. Nirmaayil(u) = pure, perfect. Oopjay = comes into being. Nirgoon = fromless. Sugoon(u) = the visible form (nature). Theeya = became. Perchaiy = get connected; being won over. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Smaayay Leeya = absorbed (by Waheguru). Dooja = the other (Maya). Pergaas(u) = bloomed. Soojhaiy = think of. Vudaayee = respect. 24.

MEANING: (After creating the world), the Pure (Perfect) Waheguru appears from His invisible state to His visible state in the form of His nature (creation). One attains a high spiritual state by connecting with the Guru (by following His Teachings) and merging into Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam). Such a devotee believes only in the "One" Supreme Being and gets rid of his selfishness, ego, and love for Maya (through the Guru's Shabad). That individual is the real Yogi who recognizes (obeys) Guru's Shabad as a result of which the lotus of his heart blooms with blissfulness (his mind is enlightened). He understands everything (about spirituality) when he kills his desires while living in the family and shows compassion for everybody. The devotee, who recognizes self (that he is a part of Waheguru and recognizes his weaknesses and his strengths), and also recognizes the fact that Waheguru is present in every heart, is given respect in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 24.

Word Meaning: Saachoun = from the eternal (Waheguru). Soochay = purified; like Waheguru. Aik Muyya = one entity. Jhootthay = Maya-engrossed. Tthuvur = shelter; peace. Doojaiy = because of the other (Maya). Aavagaun(u) = birth and death cycle. Bhuyya = happens; are trapped. Perkhaiy = tests. Baydun = suffering. Rusaayin(u) = source of bliss. Purhuriya = removed; gets rid of. 25.

MEANING: Those who are spiritually reborn with Waheguru's Naam (Guru's Shabad) become pure like Waheguru and get absorbed into Him to become "one" entity. On the other hand, those who are engrossed in Maya find no shelter in Waheguru's Court and get trapped in the birth-death cycle. The birth-death cycle is terminated with Guru's Shabad and with Waheguru's benevolence when He tests and approves His devotees. The lovers of Maya forget the source of bliss, Waheguru, and suffer from the pain of separation from Him because of their haumein. Only those who are given such understanding by Waheguru, with His benevolence, understand these facts; they are emancipated by the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru eradicates the selfishness, ego, and the attachments with Maya of His devotees; and as Captain of the Ship, ferries them across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 25.

Vaymaarug(i) = on the wrong path. Moosaiy = robbed. Muntar(i) Musaan(i) = with the mantra (recipe) that leads to (spiritual) death. Cheenaiy = understand. Luvvaiy = makes useless noise like a crow. Koobaan(i) = bad words. Saach(i) Ruttay = imbued in the love of Waheguru. Jaan(i) = consider. 26.

MEANING: The followers of their mind are misled by their misbeliefs, and eventually become subservient to the Angel of death (are at his mercy). They suffer more and more loss in spirituality when they cast an evil eye on the belongings of others (including their women). Being on the wrong path, as if they are roaming around lost in the wilderness, they are robbed of their spirituality, which becomes a recipe for their spiritual death. They do not make a connection with Guru's Shabad, and with the choice of bad words, they make useless noise like a crow. Only those are considered blissful who are imbued in Waheguru's love, oh Nanak. 26.

Word Meaning: Bhuou = fear. Aghurr(u) = unrefined (uncontrolled) mind. Ghurraavaiy = refines. Puvittar = pure; holy. Roam(i) = with every pore of body. 27.

MEANING: A Sikh of the Guru has Waheguru's (respectful) fear in his mind at all times. Guru's Sikh refines his unrefined mind with Guru's Bani (Shabad). Guru's Sikh purifies his mind by singing the praises of Waheguru and attains the holy, supreme spiritual state. Guru's Sikh remembers Waheguru through every pore of his body (wholeheartedly), and merges into Waheguru with His Naam, oh Nanak. 27.

Word Meaning: Perchaiy = acquiring knowledge; listening to (Guru's Advice). Untar(i) Bidh(i) = the internal situation. Alukh = incomprehensible. Apaar(u) = with no end. Mookut(i) = emancipation

MEANING: Acquiring Divine Knowledge from the Guru, is to ponder on the Vedas for His Sikhs (they do not need to study them), and they swim across the sea of Maya. A devotee, who gets connected with Waheguru, acquires Divine Knowledge with Guru's Shabad, and realizes his internal situation (the state of his spirituality and of morality). Guru's Sikh realizes (gets connected with) the incomprehensible and limitless Waheguru, and reaches the door of (attains) emancipation, oh Nanak. 28.

MEANING: Guru's Sikh ponders on His Shabad, sings praise of the indescribable Waheguru, and attains salvation for the whole family of his associates. Guru's Sikh recites Waheguru's Naam with deep love, and gets connected with Waheguru by acquiring high morality with Guru's Shabad. He understands Guru's Teachings by prying open the deep meanings of His Shabad, and merges into Waheguru by eradicating his haumein (with the Shabad), oh Nanak. 29.

Meaning: Waheguru has created the world to raise Guru's Sikhs (people of high spirituality and of high morality). Whatever else grows in the world, and whatever vanishes, is all a drama (is short-lived). Those who are imbued in Guru's Shabad enjoy blissfulness, and dyed in Waheguru's love, they arrive in His Court with dignity. No one earns respect without singing Waheguru's praise; so, how can one merge into Waheguru without His Naam, oh Nanak? 30.

MEANING: The high and moral thinking of the Guru's Sikh is like him having the eight supernatural powers that the yogis strive to acquire. Guru's Sikhs are able to swim across the sea of Maya because of their pure and holy wisdom (as imparted by the Guru). A Sikh of the Guru recognizes the appropriateness and inappropriateness of different occasions, knows what (good things) to adopt, and what bad things to stay away from. The Sikh of the Guru attains salvation for himself as well as for others with the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 31.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam can be acquired (enshrined in the heart) only from the Guru, and the path to union with Waheguru is to stay absorbed in His Naam. The Yogis are misled (achieve no spirituality) in their twelve sects, and the Sanyasis are misled in their ten sects. But the individual who leads his life in the family after renouncing his worldly desires (becoming fully detached from Maya) attains emancipation. If you think carefully, you will find that without the Guru's Shabad (the Naam), the people are attached to Maya. But those are the highly fortunate who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart, oh Nanak. 34.

MEANING: Acting on Guru's Teachings, His Sikhs recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, help the needy and keep their minds clean (free from all bad things) as their daily routine. They focus their mind on Waheguru (stay connected with Him) in the peaceful state of mind, and they are accorded honour in Waheguru's Court. Guru's Sikhs motivate others to remember Waheguru, the destroyer of all fears, and lead honest lives of high morality and compassion. MEANING: Acting on Guru's Teachings is like studying the Vedas, the Shastras, and the Simritis for the Sikh (he does not need to study them). (By connecting with Him) A Sikh of the Guru learns the secrets of Waheguru, which is present in every heart, and gets rid of any enmity and any animosity towards others. (Contrary to the teachings of the Hindu Granths), The Sikh does not believe in keeping account of his noble and bad deeds. Guru's Sikh makes a connection with the Lord and remains imbued with the love of His Naam, oh, Nanak. 37.

Without the Guru's guidance, man's mind keeps wavering (does not focus), and all his hard work (to gain any spirituality) goes unrecognized (unrewarded). Without the Guru's guidance, the man does not attain contentment and continues to commit immoral acts, which are poisonous to spirituality. Without Guru's guidance, the snake of Maya stings the man on the journey of his life and causes his spiritual death as he suffers more and more spiritual loss, oh Nanak. 38.

The human body is a lovely trading centre, where the mind trades its ignoble qualities for Waheguru's Naam in its peaceful state, oh, Nanak.

MEANING: Just like Ram Chand Ji built a bridge over the sea, plundered (destroyed) Lanka (now Sri Lanka), and punished the evil people (and freed Seeta Ji), Waheguru has built the Guru as the bridge over the sea of Maya to free the human soul from the claws of the five demons, and to ferry the soul across the sea of Maya. Ram Ji killed Ravan, the Guru smashes the head of the snake-like Maya. Just as Bubheekhun gave the secrets of Ravan to Ram Ji to kill Raavan, the teachings of the Guru are the secret behind killing the five demons (lust, greed, etc.). Ram Ji is said to have floated rocks over the sea surface to build the bridge. The Guru ferries the (stone-hearted) people, who are loaded with the burden of sins, across the sea of Maya (salvages them). The Guru has salvaged countless people, oh Nanak. 40.

Guru's Sikh stays focused on Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state, and stays absorbed in (admitted to) Waheguru's Court by singing His praise. Guru's Sikh does not face any hurdles in the path of union with God, oh Nanak. 41.

Word Meaning: Mool(u) = root; origin (of the universe). Mut(i) = advice. Vayla = time. Chayla = Baalay = disciple. Kutha = sermon; advice. Niraalay = detached.
NOTE: From here on, questions by Yogis and answers by Guru Sahib are discussed.
MEANING: Q: What is the origin (of the universe), and what kind of advice does one need at this time (in human life)? Who is your guru, whose disciple you are? What advice have you received as a disciple to stay detached from the world? Tell us, oh, Nanak? Also, give us your thoughts on the belief that one can swim across the world sea with the Guru's Shabad. 43.

MEANING: The universe started with gases with Waheguru's Huqam, oh yogis. Human life is the time to receive Satguru's Advice. Guru's Shabad is my Guru, and my focused mind and my dedication are the disciple. I stay aloof (detached from the world) by singing praise of the indescribable Waheguru, which is the Guru through all the eons. The devotee, who ponders on (sings) Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad, kills the fire of his selfishness and ego (and swims across the sea of Maya). 44.

Word Meaning: Maiyn = wax. Dunt = teeth. Saar(u) = (hard like) iron. Gerb(u) = ego. Ahaar(u) = food. Hivaiy = ice. Piraahun = cloak which covers one from top to toe. Avaahun = does not take flight; stable. It = here. Oot = there. Jaan(i) = recognize; have faith in. Kuvun Dhiyaan(u) = who to focus mind on.
MEANING: How can one overcome the temptations of highly attractive Maya, which is as difficult to resist as chewing on iron with the teeth of wax? What (spiritual) food can one take which kills one's ego? If a house of ice (peaceful mind) is covered all over by a layer of fire (of worldly desires), what kind of cave (mental conditions) can it find where it will not take flight (stay stable without wavering, i.e. not succumb to worldly desires)? What power does it recognize here and there (everywhere) to stay absorbed in that? What kind of focus does the mind require (on whom to focus it) so as to stay in itself? 45.

Word Meaning: Huoun Mein = haumein (selfishness and ego). Dooja = the other (Maya). Maytaiy = erase; get rid of. Ker-rra = tough; unkind. Gavaar(u) = foolish. Saar(u) = iron (like hard Maya). Ugun(i) = fire (of worldly desires and of jealousy).
MEANING: A: The man should get rid of his selfishness, his ego, and his love for Maya to be "one" with Waheguru. Life in the world is very tough (because of the attractions of Maya and the fire of jealousy), and the worshipper of Maya is foolish (who falls for its attractions). Iron-like hard Maya can be chewed on by following the Guru's Shabad. If the man recognizes Waheguru inside and outside (everywhere), his fire of desires and of jealousy is put out by the Will (Huqam) of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 46.

MEANING: The answer continues: The individual, who is imbued in the fear (and love) of Waheguru, overcomes his ego, and recognizes the only Lord by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. With Guru's Shabad, Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart; and dyed in His love, the body and the mind of the devotee become calm and peaceful. The fire of his lust and his rage is put out, and his appetite for the poisonous enjoyments of Maya is quenched with the kind sight of the dear Waheguru, oh Nanak. 47.

Kaal(u) = death. Johut = cast a watchful eye. Nit = everyday; always. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Put(i) = dignity. Jodh = valiant. Sunghaaraiy = destroys. Bani Beechaaraiy = the word of thought.
MEANING: Q: Which is the shabad with which the moon-like coolness, and the sun-like bright light of Divine Knowledge (enlightenment) stays in one's mind? What is the shabad with which one can escape the constant watchful eye of (spiritual) death? And, what is the Guru's Shabad with which the devotee can maintain his dignity? Who is that valiant (hero) who can destroy the threat of (spiritual) death? Give us your thoughts on these issues, oh Nanak. 48.

MEANING: A: The moon-like coolness comes to stay in the mind of the devotee when he recites Guru's Shabad (in praise of the endless Waheguru); and the sun of Knowledge brightens the peaceful mind of the devotee, which dispels the darkness of ignorance. With the support of Waheguru's Naam, such a devotee treats the comforts and discomforts the same way (becomes stoic), and Waheguru Himself ferries him across the world-sea (salvages him). With Guru's Teachings, death does not swallow him, for he merges with Waheguru; submits Nanak humbly. 49.

MEANING: The answer continues: Waheguru's Naam is over and above all other mantras in its essence; and the fear of (spiritual) death tortures the individuals without Waheguru's Naam. When one's mind is convinced with Waheguru's Naam, the illusions of Maya are erased from his mind, and it becomes stable with the result that his soul merges with the Supreme Soul. When the devotee recites the Guru's Shabad with every breath, Waheguru appears in his mind with a bang (loud and clear), and the devotee's union becomes certain with great ease, oh Nanak. 50.

Such a devotee learns all the secrets of the Waheguru, which is the origin of everything, is above the effects of Maya, and is the source of enlightenment, and he becomes “one” with Him. The devotee, who is imbued in Waheguru’s Naam, becomes like (merges into) the Carver of our fates, oh Nanak. 51.

A: They are just like the “One” who created them. They are not born again, and they do not come (into), and go away (from) this world. They convince (control) their mind with the advice of the Guru, oh Nanak. 52.

Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru keeps him connected with Him. Those who recite the Guru's Shabad are saved by it. Those who obey the Guru's Teachings get imbued with Waheguru's love. Those who rid themselves of selfishness and ego are not misled by their misgivings and merge into Waheguru, oh Nanak. 54.

Word Meaning: Kooboodh(i) = ignoble thinking. Chuvaavaiy = get rid of. Tutt(u) = the origin of all (Waheguru). Choataan Khaayay = gets punishment. Put(i) = dignity. Saakhaiy = trust. Boojhaiy = understand. Paavaiy Paar(i) = get salvation.

MEANING: Q: Where can one get rid of his ignoble thinking? Why does the man not understand the origin of the universe (Waheguru) (makes a connection with Him) and gets punishment from the Angel of justice, where no one can free him from confinement?

A: No one gets any respect and wins no trust of others without the Guru's Shabad. The worshipper of Maya (follower of his own mind) is foolish and does not understand this reality. So, how can he swim across the sea of Maya, oh Nanak? 55.

Kooboodh(i) mitaiy Gur Shabad(u) beechaar(i). Satgur bhaytaiy moakh dooaar(u). Tutt(u) na cheenaiy, munmukh(i) jul(i) jaayay. Doormut(i) vichhurr(i) choataan khaayay. Maanaiy Huqam(u), subhay goon Giyan. Nanak, Durgeh paavaiy maan(u). 56.

Word Meaning: Mitaiy = eradicated; ended. Bhaytaiy = on meeting; with His advice. Cheenaiy = recognizes. Jul Jaayay = burns in the fire of desires. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Vichhurr(i) = separated (from Waheguru). Maan(u) = respect.

MEANING: The answer continues: One gets rid of his ignoble thoughts by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. When he comes to Guru's shelter, he arrives at the door of emancipation (attains it). The worshipper, who does not make a connection with the Lord, burns in the fire of worldly desires and of jealousy. With his ignoble thinking, he stays disconnected from Waheguru and suffers punishment at the hands of the Angel of justice. One acquires all the noble qualities and the Divine Knowledge when he obeys Waheguru's Huqam, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 56.

Word Meaning: Saach(u) = Waheguru. Vukkhur(u) = merchandise. Pullaiy Hoyay = in possession. Smaayay = present. Sach Bhaayay = dedicated love.

MEANING: Answer continues: The devotee, who has the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam as the wealth in his possession, finds salvation for himself and for others. Imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he recognizes Him (makes connection with Him) and is honoured.

However, no one can tell the true worth of Waheguru, which is present wherever I look. One finds salvation with honest love for Waheguru, oh Nanak. 57.

Gurmukh(i) Shabday Sach(i) liv laagaiy, kur(i) nudri, mayl(i) milaayay. Aapay daana, Aapay beena, pooray bhaag(i) smaayay. 58.

Word Meaning: Shabad = Waheguru's Naam. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Kuthiualy = be said. Bhuvjul Sunsaaro = the world-sea; the sea of Maya. Traiy-Sut = three plus seven = ten. Ungool = (thickness of ten) fingers (side by side). According to Yogism, the yogis lift their breath from their left nostril through a coiled vein to their brain (or the Tenth Door) – a total distance of ten fingers - where they hold the breath for a long time with the belief to achieve their objective. Vaayee = air Adhaaro = basis. Khaylaiy = enjoys worry-free. Usthir(u) = stable. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible Waheguru. Lukhaayay = comprehend. Pernvaiy = submits humbly. Nudri = with kind sight. Daana = Beena = wise and know-all. Bhaag(i) = luck. 58.

MEANING: Q: Where does the Shabad reside by which one swims across the world-sea? What is the basis of the support of the breath (what purpose do you think we achieve) when we lift it from the left nostril, and which travels for a distance of ten fingers to reach the Tenth Door? How can the human soul, which talks and enjoys worry-free in the body, find stability (does not reincarnate), and how can it comprehend the incomprehensible Waheguru?

A: To understand all that, one must convince one's mind, oh Yogi. When one meditates deeply on Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad, the Lord connects the devotee with Him with His kind sight. Waheguru, which is perfectly wise and knows everything, connects the highly fortunate devotee with Him, submits Nanak humbly. 58.

Chihn(u), vern(u), nuhhi chhaaya Maya, Nanak, Shabad(u) puchhanaiy. 59.

Word Meaning: Niruntar(i) = continuous. Puvun(u) = air; Shabad. Akul Kula = the power which cannot be cut into pieces; omnipresent (Waheguru). Bherm(u) = misgivings. Nirmul(u) = pure. It, Oot = here and there; everywhere. Chihn(u) = physical features. Vern = skin colour. Chhaaya Maya = effects of Maya.

MEANING: Guru Sahib's answer continues: The Shabad (Waheguru's Naam by which one swims across) resides in the incomprehensible Waheguru, who is omnipresent, and whom I see everywhere. Just as air fills any vacuum, the Shabad is present in the omnipresent Waheguru, which supports the whole universe. When Waheguru casts a kind sight on a devotee, His Naam takes dwelling in his heart, and all his misgivings disappear. His body and his mind become pure, and he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart with Guru's holy Shabad. One swims across the world-sea with Guru's Shabad, and recognizes Waheguru everywhere. He recognizes (gets connected with) Waheguru, which has no physical features, no body colour, and is not affected by Maya, oh Nanak. 59.

Word Meaning: Aoudhoo = detached from the world. Viroalaiy = churns; ponders on deeply. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Sookhmuna = the central vein where the yogis hold their breath. Irra = the left nostril, Yogis inhale through this. It is also called the moon vein. Pingula = the right nostril, the Yogis exhale through this. Boojhaiy = realizes (that Yogic exercises are irrelevant to spirituality). Tihou = the three veins.

MEANING: Waheguru, which is unaffected by Maya (like in most other situations), prompts you to undertake the yogic exercises in which the breath travels ten-finger distance as claimed by you, oh yogi. Guru's Sikh ponders on Waheguru through Guru's Shabad and recognizes (makes a connection with) the incomprehensible and limitless Waheguru. When one enshrines the Guru's Shabad in his mind, his ego is eradicated, and he rises above the three effects of Maya. When he recognizes Waheguru inside and outside, he comes to love His Naam. When Waheguru gives him the understanding, he realizes that the yogic breathing exercises are irrelevant to His Naam. Waheguru is above the three effects of Maya, and the devotee merges into Him with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 60.

Word Meaning: Jeeou = life; basis. Puvun = breaths; Shabad. Kuthiulay = is said. Rus(u) Khaayee = takes food. Moodra = means. Kumaayee = achievement. Rus(u) = spiritual bliss. Aghaayee = contented. Usthir(u) = stable; contented. Triptaasaiy = satisfied. Graasaiy = grasps.

MEANING: Q: If, as you say, the Shabad is the soul (basis) of the mind, what is the food (basis) of the Shabad? What are the means to acquire the Divine Knowledge, and what do you think is the achievement of a yogi?
A: The mind does not enjoy spiritual blissfulness without the Shabad, and the thirst of haumein does not go away. Those who are imbued in the bliss of the Amrit-like Shabad stay contented with Waheguru's Shabad (Naam).
Q: What advice stabilizes the mind, and what spiritual food satisfies its appetite (so that it does not wander for worldly attractions)?
A: When a devotee recites Satguru's Shabad and accepts comforts and discomforts the same way, spiritual death does not grasp him. 61.

Word Meaning: Rung(i) = in love (of Waheguru). Maata = intoxicated. Jul(i) Bul(i) Taata = (mind) burns and suffers. Bind(u) = control on lust. Bhaakhiya = recited. Puvun(u) = Yogic exercises of breaths. Saadhiya = controlled. Akuth Kutha = praise of the indescribable Waheguru. Sum = the same; unaffected by circumstances. Aatum Ram = Waheguru. Luhhaiy = acquires.
MEANING: Guru Sahib's answer continues: (As far as the achievement of the Yogis is concerned), the individual (a Yogi), who does not get imbued in Waheguru's love, and who does not feel intoxicated with (excited about) the bliss of Guru's Shabad, burns and suffers in the fire of his desires. It is no use to control lust by self-torture if one does not recite the Guru's Shabad with dedication. Breathing exercises of the yogis do not lead to any spiritual achievement unless they worship Waheguru. One acquires Waheguru only if he keeps his mind balanced (unchanged by circumstances) by singing Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 62.

Word Meaning: Ugun(i) NIvaari = put out the fire of desires. Apiyo = which is unavailable to drink (Amrit). Aatum Sookh(u) = spiritual blissfulness. Araadhiya = remember; keep in mind.
MEANING: The answer continues: One gets imbued in Waheguru's love with the grace of the Guru. He drinks the Naam-Amrit and stays intoxicated with Waheguru's Naam. He puts out the fire of his desires by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. He acquires mental bliss with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. He swims across the world-sea by worshipping Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. But some rare person realizes it by pondering on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 63.

Word Meaning: Maiygul = (intoxicated) elephant. Puvna = Shabad. Chookaiy = ends. Bhuvna = wandering of mind. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Nij Ghur(i) = in own mind. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Dhaavut = wandering fast. Verj Ruhaayay = controls. Mool(u) = the origin (Waheguru). Aatum = soul. Sus(i) = in moon (peaceful mind). Soor(u) = Sooruj = sun = brightness of knowledge. Khovaiy = loses.

MEANING: Q: Where does this mind, which is like a drunk elephant, reside, and where does the wind-like (formless) Shabad reside by which the meaningless wandering of the mind comes to cease, oh worldly-detached, Nanak?

A: When Waheguru connects a devotee with the Guru with His kind sight, the mind comes to rest in itself. When a devotee gets rid of his selfishness and ego, his mind is purified, and his rushing mind comes under his control.

Q: How can one recognize the origin of life (Waheguru), and how can his peaceful mind be brightened (enlightened) with Divine Knowledge?

A: When a man overcomes his selfishness and ego in the shelter of the Guru (with His Advice), he gets absorbed in (attains) the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 64.

Word Meaning: Nihchul = stable. Naabh(i) = navel (the diaphragm that sustains breathing lies behind the navel; diaphragm breathing is very useful for good health, and helps in meditation. The Yogis believe that one of the six circles in the body is behind the navel. All circles connect to the brain or mind). Aasun(i) = seat. Tutt(u) = Waheguru. Aachhaiy = is. Tirbhuvun Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light in the universe. Triptaas(i) = contented. Unhud = Divine. Birlo = rare. Bhaakhaiy = recites.

MEANING: The answer continues: When a devotee makes a connection with the origin (root) of the universe – Waheguru - with the Advice of the Guru, his mind becomes stable (peaceful) and resides in the heart (its own home). The Shabad resides peacefully in the mind, which is connected to the lotus-like circle behind the navel. The devotee, who searches his mind in the shelter of the Guru, acquires (internalizes) it (the Shabad) which, otherwise, resides in Waheguru whose Light enlightens the whole universe, and which is the real home of the Shabad. Such a devotee overcomes all his suffering and has appetite only for the eternal Waheguru, which is satisfied with the Shabad. The devotee understands (internalizes) the Divine Bani (Guru's Shabad) in His shelter, but some rare individual understands the real depth of the Shabad (internalizes it). The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam (with Guru's Shabad), gets imbued in His love, and his love for Waheguru never fades, oh Nanak. 65.

Word Meaning: Ja = when. Hirda = heart. Kaintthaiy = where. Naab(i) Kumul = the lotus-like circle behind the navel. Usthumbh(u) = pillars. Sehta = endures; takes shelter. Liv Laayee = absorbed. Rukut(u) = blood; mother's egg. Bind(u) = the male sperm. Murri = house (body). Mit(i) = measurements. Keemut(i) = worth. Usroop = Roop = physical features. Jaapee = seem. Jaapus(i) = recite (His Naam). Baiyraagi = lovelorn. Ibb Tub = now and then. Saacho Saacha = only and only Waheguru.

MEANING: Q: When the human body and the heart were not there (not created yet), where did the mind (soul) reside? When there were no lotus-like circle-pillars to support the body, where did the Shabad take shelter? When there was no physical universe with its present form and physical features (when Waheguru was in its formless state), where was the Shabad absorbed? When there was no human body created out of the mother's egg and the father's sperm yet, who would have sung praise of Waheguru, whose measurements and worth (transcendence) cannot be known? How can Waheguru, whose colour, shape and physical features are not known, be worshipped?

A: Those who are detached from worldly attractions are imbued with His love. Then, and now, Waheguru, and only Waheguru, was present, oh Nanak. 66.

Word Meaning: Aoudhoo = ascetic. Soonn(i) = in Waheguru. Nij Ghur(i) = own home (in Waheguru). Puvun = air-like fickle mind. Unraagi = in deep love. Jaat(i) = existence. Akuleen(i) = clan-less. Saar(u) = supreme. Gaun = world. Guggun(u) = sky. Vidaani = amazing.

MEANING: The answer continues: When there was no human body and heart, the detached mind lived in Waheguru. When the body circles were not there as pillars for the body, then the fickle mind lived in its own home (in Waheguru) with deep love for Him. When the formless and the featureless Waheguru had no visible existence (as in nature), the Supreme Shabad also dwelt in the clan-less Waheguru. When there was no world, and no sky, it was the Light of the formless Waheguru everywhere. At that time, there was only one colour, one look, and one form of the amazing and formless Waheguru, and of the Shabad. The only thing that I know about the indescribable Waheguru is that no one can be pure without His Naam, oh Nanak. 67.

Kit(u), kit(u) bidh(i) jug(u) oopjaiy Purkha, kit(u), kit(u) dookh(i) binus(u) jaayee. Haumein vich(i) jug(u) oopjaiy, Purkha, Naam(i) bisriyaiyn dookh(u) paayee. Gurmukh(i) hovaiy, su, Giyan Tutt(u) beechaaraiy, haumein Shabad(i) julaayay. Tun, mun(u) nirmul(u), nirmul Bani, Saachaiy ruhhaiy smaayay. Naamo. Naam(i) ruhhaiy baiyraagi, Saach(u) rukhiya oor(i) dhaaray. Nanak, bin(u) Naavaiy joag(u) kuday na hovaiy, daykhou ridaiy beechaaray. 68.

Word Meaning: Kit(u) Bidh(i) = under what conditions? Oopjaiy = comes into being. Purakha = oh, gentleman. Binus(u) = is destroyed. Baiyraagi = worldly detached and attached only to Waheguru. Joag(u) = union with Waheguru.

MEANING: Q: Under what conditions does the world come into being (the man is reborn); and how does the man get destroyed in suffering, oh gentleman (Nanak)?

A: The ego of the man causes his rebirths, and he suffers when he forgets Waheguru. The Sikh of the Guru ponders on the knowledge about Waheguru (Guru's Shabad) and gets rid of his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, and he becomes pure by body and by mind; and he stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam with Guru's holy Bani. Such a beloved of Waheguru enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and stays absorbed in His Naam, and only in His Naam, all the time. Keep in mind that one can never connect with Waheguru without His Naam, oh Nanak.

NOTE: There are no more questions from the Yogis. Guru Sahib further explains the qualities of the Guru's Sikhs in the next four pauris (stanzas) and offers His reverence to Waheguru in the last pauri.

Word Meaning: Koyay = some rare. Pergut(u) Hoyay = enlightens the mind. Bheejaiy = imbues. Virla = rare. Nij Ghur(i) = in its own home. Joogut(i) = technique; means.

MEANING: Some rare devotee ponders on Guru's Shabad (in praise of Waheguru) when He appears in his mind with Guru's Bani. Some rare devotee's mind gets imbued in Waheguru's love when he gets the spiritual understanding (internalizes Waheguru). The mind of the Sikh stays in its own home (quits wandering), and he is the true yogi who recognizes the means to merge with Waheguru. Guru's Sikh recognizes only the "One" Lord, oh Nanak. 69.

Word Meaning: Gerb(i) = in ego. Muhaa Goobaar(i) = in pitch (complete) darkness. Haar(i) = loses; wastes away MEANING: One cannot achieve union with Waheguru without serving Satguru (without following His Advice), and one cannot attain emancipation without coming to Satguru's shelter. In fact, one suffers a great deal without the shelter of Satguru as he stays in complete spiritual darkness. One leaves this world losing the battle of life (wasting away the precious human life) without the Guru, oh Nanak. 70.

Word Meaning: Oordhaar(i) = enshrined in heart. Jumkaal(u) = death. Bidaar(i) = by destroying. Su = that (Waheguru). Mayl(u) MIlaayay = which connects with Him through the Guru. Jaanaiy = realizes. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes; makes a connection.

MEANING: Guru's Sikh gets rid of his haumein, and controls his mind; he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, and wins over the worldly desires by completely destroying the fear of death. Guru's Sikh does not lose the spiritual battle to go to Waheguru's Court. Waheguru recognizes the Sikh of the Guru, and connects him with Him by first connecting the devotee with the Guru. The Sikh of the Guru recognizes Waheguru (makes a connection with Him) with the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 71.

Kur(i) beechaar(u) mun(i) daykhou Naank, bin(u) Naavaiy mookt(i) na hoyee. 72

Word Meaning: Nibayrra = final decision; gist. Undin(u) = always. Maatay = intoxicated; in high spirits. Pergut(u) = appears; comes into being; becomes clear. Sojhi = understanding. Bhaykh = religious outfits. Khooaayee = misguided.

MEANING: The end result of the "Shabad" (Waheguru's Naam) is that no one can have union with Waheguru without His Naam, oh yogi. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are always intoxicated (are in high spirits), and enjoy blissfulness. It is with Waheguru's Naam that one gets a high understanding, and everything becomes clear about spirituality. There are many who don many religious garbs (without any gain in spirituality); such people are misguided by Waheguru Himself. Waheguru's Naam is acquired from Satguru, which is the means (path) to union with Waheguru, oh yogi. Keep in mind that one cannot attain emancipation without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 72.

Word Meaning: Gut(i) = high transcendence. Mit(i) = measurements. Vukhaanaiy = say; describe. Goopta = hidden. Pergut(u) = visible. Rung(i) = different appearances. Maanaiy = enjoy. Saadhik = on their way to become Sidhs. Chaylay =disciples. Foormaanaiy = as per Your Huqam (Wish). Abinaashi = immortal. Khayl(u) Ruchaaya = has created drama. Vertaiy = operates.

MEANING: Only You know Your high transcendence and Your measurements, oh Waheguru. Who else can say anything about You!! You, Yourself, are hidden and Yourself visible, and You enjoy all Your forms. There are many Sidh (accomplished) yogis, many gurus, and many of their disciples who are searching for You with Your Will. They beg for Your Naam, and are willing to sacrifice them for Your holy sight; kindly give them these alms (fulfil their wishes), oh Lord. One gets this realization in Guru's shelter that the whole world is a drama (where the actors come and go) created by the immortal Waheguru. Waheguru is the only one who governs the universe in all eons, and there is no other power like Him, oh Nanak. 73.1.

(PAGE 947): Sloak Mehla 3: Satgur sehjay da khayt(u) haiy jis nu laayay bhaaou. Naaoun beejaiy, Naaoun oogvaiy, Naamay ruhhay smaayay. Haumein eho beej(u) haiy, sehsa guyya vilaayay. Loak(u) k(i) vaykhaiy buppurra, jis nu sojhi naah(i). Jis(u) vaykhaalay soyee vaykhaiy, jis(u) vussiya mun maah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Khayt(u) = field. Sehjaiy = of high spirituality and peace. Bhaaou = love; affection. Oogvaiy = grows. Sehsa = worries. Vilaayay = is eradicated. Umbh = water. Buhourr(i) = again; then. Chulut(u) = amazing feat. Buppurra = poor (of wisdom); ignorant. Sojhi = wisdom. 1.

MEANING: A farmer harvests the kind of crop that he sows in a field; similarly, love and faith for Satguru produce high spirituality and blissfulness in the mind-field of the devotee if Waheguru connects him with Satguru. Following the advice of the Guru, His Sikh sows the seed of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, which grows (flourishes) in there, and he stays absorbed in the Naam. His doubts and worries, for which his haumein is the root cause, are eradicated. The Sikh does not plant anything else in his heart, as a result of which nothing else (other than the Naam) grows in his heart; he gladly and readily accepts to consume whatever Waheguru bestows on him. Just as water in one container, when mixed with the water in another container, cannot be separated again, he merges into Waheguru and cannot be told apart. This is an amazing feat of Waheguru that people see when they come to Satguru's shelter. But what can the ignorant people see who have no spiritual knowledge? Only that individual sees this fact who Waheguru shows, and who has His Naam enshrined in his heart. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਮਨਮੁਖ ਦੁਖ ਕਾ ਖੇਤੁ ਹੈ ਦੁਖੁ ਬੀਜੇ ਦੁਖੁ ਖਾਇ॥ ਦੁਖ ਵਿਚਿ ਜੰਮੈ ਦੁਖਿ ਮਰੈ ਹਉਮੈ ਕਰਤ ਵਿਹਾਇ॥ ਆਵਣੁ ਜਾਣੁ ਨ ਸੁਝਈ ਅੰਧਾ ਅੰਧੁ ਕਮਾਇ॥ ਜੋ ਦੇਵੈ ਤਿਸੈ ਨ ਜਾਣਈ ਦਿਤੇ ਕਉ ਲਪਟਾਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਪੂਰਬਿ ਲਿਖਿਆ ਕਮਾਵਣਾ ਅਵਰੁ ਨ ਕਰਣਾ ਜਾਇ॥ 2॥

M:3: Munmukh(u) dookh ka khayt(u) haiy, dookh(u) beejay, dookh(u) khaayay. Dookh vich(i) jummaiy, dookh(i) muraiy, haimein kert vihaahay. Aavun(u) jaan(u) na soojhyee, undha, undh(u) kmaayay. Jo dayvaiy Tisaiy na jaanyee, dittay kuou luptaayay. Nanak, poorub(i) likhiya kumaavna, uver(u) na kerna jaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Munmukh(u) = follower of mind; worshipper of Maya. Khaayay = harvests. Vihaayay = (life) is spent. Jaanyee = acknowledges. Luptaayay = clings to; gets attached. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten (by Waheguru). Kumaavna = earns. 2.
MEANING: On the other hand, the heart of the individual who follows his mind is a field of discomfort because he sows the seeds of suffering (haumein) in there, and harvests suffering (selfishness and ego thrives in his mind). He is born because of his haumein, spends his life in haumein, and dies in haumein. The blind of wisdom do foolish things, and do not think about their rebirths as a result. He does not acknowledge the Provider (be thankful to Waheguru), but gets attached to His largesse. But he cannot be blamed entirely, because he is simply doing the kind of deeds he is preprogrammed for (by Waheguru) and cannot do anything else. 2.

ਮ:3॥ ਸਤਿਗੁਰਿ ਮਿਲਿਐ ਸਦਾ ਸੁਖੁ ਜਿਸ ਨੋ ਆਪੇ ਮੇਲੇ ਸੋਇ॥ ਸੁਖੈ ਏਹੁ ਬਿਬੇਕੁ ਹੈ ਅੰਤਰੁ ਨਿਰਮਲੁ ਹੋਇ॥ ਅਗਿਆਨ ਕਾ ਭ੍ਰਮੁ ਕਟੀਐ ਗਿਆਨੁ ਪਰਾਪਤਿ ਹੋਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਏਕੋ ਨਦਰੀ ਆਇਆ ਜਹ ਦੇਖਾ ਤਹ ਸੋਇ॥ 3॥

Word Meaning: Soyay = that (Waheguru). Bibayk(u) = (Divine) Knowledge. Bherm(u) = illusion; misgiving. Praaput(i) = is acquired; mind is enlightened. Nudree Aaya = becomes visible. 3.
MEANING: One always enjoys bliss when he gets connected with Satguru (follows His Advice); but it is Waheguru who connects people with Satguru. The root of blissfulness is the Divine Knowledge, which purifies the mind, dispels the darkness of ignorance, and enlightens the mind. Now, I see only Waheguru wherever I look, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Sachaiy = the eternal Waheguru. Tukhut(u) = throne. Jaayee = place. Koodrut(i) = nature. Saajiun(u) = has created. Mehl Sraayeen = palaces and mansions. Chaanunay = lights. Poori Bunut = perfect creation. 1.
Wah(u), Wah(u) = amazing, amazing. Naayee = justice. Pause.
MEANING: Waheguru has created the world as His throne upon which to sit. The Guru's Shabad reveals that it is Waheguru who does everything by Himself. He has created nature as palaces and mansions for Him to reside. His creation is perfect, in which the sun and the moon are the two lights (lamps). He can be worshipped with the Guru's Shabad, which He watches and listens to. 1.
You are amazing, and Your justice is eternal (always the same), oh the immortal Waheguru. Pause.

ਸਲੋਕ॥ ਕਬੀਰ ਮਹਿਦੀ ਕਰਿ ਕੈ ਘਾਲਿਆ ਆਪੁ ਪੀਸਾਇ ਪੀਸਾਇ॥ ਤੈ ਸਹ ਬਾਤ ਨ ਪੁਛੀਆ ਕਬਹੂ ਨਾ ਲਾਈ ਪਾਇ॥ 1॥

Sloak: Kabir, mehndi kur(i) kaiy ghaaliya, aap(u) peesaayay, peesaayay. Taiyn Sheh baat na poochhyee, kubhoon na laayee paayay.

Word Meaning: Mehndi = henna (women paint their hands and feet with henna to beautify them). Ghaaliya = moulded. Peesaayay = grinded. Sheh = the lord. Baat Na poochhiya = did not pay any attention. Paayay = on the feet.

MEANING: I suffered many hardships (like henna, which is grazed and mixed with water before it is applied to hands and feet) and moulded myself to overcome my selfishness and ego and to become very humble to please Waheguru; but the Lord did not pay any attention to me, and never allowed me to touch His feet, oh Kabir. 1.

ਮ:3॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਮਹਿਦੀ ਕਰਿ ਕੈ ਰਖਿਆ ਸੋ ਸਹੁ ਨਦਰਿ ਕਰੇਇ॥ ਆਪੇ ਪੀਸੈ ਆਪੇ ਘਸੈ ਆਪੇ ਹੀ ਲਾਇ ਲਏਇ॥ ਇਹੁ ਪਿਰਮ ਪਿਆਲਾ ਖਸਮ ਕਾ ਜੈ ਭਾਵੈ ਤੈ ਦੇਇ॥ 2॥

M:3: Nanak, mehndi kur(i) kaiy rukhiya, So Shuhou nudr(i) kuray. Aapay peesaiy, Aapay ghusaiy, Aapay hee laayay luyay. Eh(u) pirm piyaala Khusm ka, jaiy bhaavaiy taiyn dayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Nudr(i) Kuray = cast kind sight. Ghusaiy = grazes; grinds. Pirm Piyaala = love-filled cup. Jaiy = whom. Bhaavaiy = likes. Taiyn = him.

MEANING: A true devotee has to work vey hard and suffer like henna for Waheguru to cast a kind sight on him, (but this hard work does not earn him the right to merge into Waheguru). It is a cup of love that He gives to the devotee of His choice. If Waheguru likes someone, He Himself, grazes and grinds the henna-like devotee (He makes the devotee work hard to control his sensual pleasures and get rid of his haumein) and embraces him, oh Nanak. 2.

NOTE: There is a very important message in the second Sloak by Guru Amar Dass Ji. He clarifies that controlling one's senses and killing one's haumein are essential to please Waheguru and earn His approval, yet they do not confer the right to be "one" with Him. It is still the benevolence of Waheguru that is needed for the union.

Word Meaning: Vaykee = of many different kinds. Smaahi = gets absorbed. Vigusda = blooms at heart. Boojhaahi = gives understanding. Joar(u) = power; control. Chulaahi = guide them in life. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru has created the universe with many different kinds of life forms; all of them are born and die, and some are absorbed into Him through His Huqam (Laws of nature). He is very pleased to see His creation; there is none other like Him. He keeps everybody in situations He likes and reveals Himself through the Guru's Shabad. You exercise Your control on all of them, and they lead their lives as per Your Will, oh Waheguru. I do not know of anybody else whom I can describe as Great as you are. 2.

Word Meaning: Bherm Bhoolaayee = misled by misgivings. Faavi = insane. Bhaal(i) = while searching. Shaant(i) = comfort; encouragement. Kiyya Chullaiy = what can be done? Oordhaar(i) = embed in heart. Kartar(i) = Waheguru. Ghur Baiytthiyaan = while living in the family; without any special effort. 1.

MEANING: The whole world is misled by its misgivings about Waheguru, and has gone insane in His search. What can we do with the Lord if he does not give us any encouragement or provide any comfort? We can only worship Him with the grace of the Guru and enshrine Him (His Naam) in the heart. When He shows His benevolence to some lucky devotee, he acquires Him in his heart without any special effort, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhundha = worldly affairs. Dhaavut = rushing to. Koorr(u) = lies. Bikh(u) = poison. Siraiy Oopur(i) = looming over head. Dund(u) = baton; punishment. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for Maya. Put(i) = dignity. Chaytiyo = remembered. Sehjay = in the blissful state. Kerm(i) = benevolence; good fortune. Praaput(i) = acquirement. 2.

MEANING: Man's day is spent in worldly affairs, and his night is spent in sleeping (this is how his whole life is spent). The follower of his mind tells lies all the time (deceives others), which is a poison to his spirituality, and he leaves the world crying (in repentance). The punishment by the Angel of justice looms over his head, and he loses dignity because of his love for Maya. He never recites Waheguru's Naam, for which he stays in the birth-death cycle. The devotee, who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, gets no punishment from the Angel of justice. With Waheguru's benevolence, He acquires His Naam and becomes connected with Him in a high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Ikk(i) = some. Siftee = praise. Mutee = wisdom; advice. Bukhshiyon = gives kindly. Usthir(u) = stable; immortal. Sati = eternal. Baiysuntro = fire. Bhuou = respectful fear. Ugla = vey much. Bunut = creation. Vertda = operates.

Paurri: Waheguru connects some people with the Guru, by whose advice they begin singing His (Waheguru's) praise. The eternal Waheguru implants His immortal Naam in the hearts of some people. Even the natural forces like air, water, and fire worship Him by obeying His Huqam (Laws). Waheguru has created the universe so perfectly that the natural forces fear Him greatly (they obey His Command perfectly). It is Waheguru's Huqam that is working everywhere. Whoever obeys His Huqam lives in comfort (does not suffer). 3.

Sloak(u): Kabir kasauti Ram kee, jhoottha tikaiy na koyay. Ram kasauti so suhhaiy jo murjeeva hoyay. 1.

Word Meaning: Kasauti = touchstone; norm. Jhoottha = liar; impure; fake. Tikaiy = stays. Suhhaiy = endures; passes the test. Murjeeva = who has killed his desires while living in the family.

MEANING: The testing norms (for union with Waheguru) are so tough that no impure person can stay before them (pass those). Only that pure person passes those tests who has killed his worldly desires while living in the family, oh Kabir. 1.

Word Meaning: Kiyoun Kur(i) = how? Mirtuk(u) = dead towards worldly attractions. Cchuddaiy = gives up. Mookut(u) = emancipation. Bukhshay = gives kindly. Bighun(u) = impediments; obstacles. 2.

MEANING: Almost nobody obeys Guru's Shabad, and does not quit his haumein. So, how can one kill his mind (desires) so that it is dead towards worldly attractions? One can get rid of his haumein (selfishness and ego) with Guru's grace, thereby attaining emancipation while still alive. But only those people attain emancipation whom Waheguru gives with His benevolence; such devotees do not face any obstacles in life to have union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sunjum(u) = keep control on (senses). Daaroo = medication. Bhaaou = affection. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Bikh(u) Bhuvjul = sea of poisonous Maya. 3.

MEANING: Everybody talks about killing worldly desires while living in the family, but how can one achieve emancipation from worldly bonds? To achieve that, one has to be fearful of Waheguru and have love for Him, which serves as the best medicine and the best protection for human senses against the captivating Maya. When one sings Waheguru's praise all the time, he attains the blissful state of mind, and swims across the sea of the poisonous Maya with Waheguru's Naam. But only that devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Ruchaayayon = created. Trai-Goon = the three effects of Maya (see "Introduction"). Kmaavun(i) Kaara = perform deeds. Jotkee = astrology. Khayl(u) = drama. Sirjunhaara = the Creator. Bukhsh(i) = forgive. Smaayee = get merged.

MEANING: Waheguru has created love for Maya in the minds of the living beings, such that the three effects of Maya influence everybody. He created gods like Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, who perform deeds (lead life) under His Command. The pundits study astrology to predict others' fates but do not understand the real objective of life. It is all Your drama, oh, the eternal Creator. You forgive those whom You like, and they merge into You with the eternal Shabad of the Guru (Your Naam), oh Lord. 4.

Word Meaning: Kmaavaiy = deals in. Tupaa = an ascetic (a seeker of the Lord) who tortures himself to please his deity. Bhermay Bhoola = misguided by his misbeliefs. Guhhaiy = travels through thoroughly. Perm Gut(i) = highest spiritual state. Moakhuntar(u) = salvation. 1.

MEANING: An ascetic who runs after Maya but calls himself a seeker of the Lord is actually a deceitful person at heart, and practices deceitful acts in life. Misguided by his misbeliefs, he travels all over the holy places very thoroughly (to give the false impression of being a holy person). How can such a (deceitful) ascetic attain the highest spiritual state? But an ascetic who practices Truth (recites Waheguru's Naam) with Guru's grace, achieves emancipation, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Tup Ghaalay = endures such hardships. Pervaan = approved.

MEANING: Only that individual deserves to be called a real ascetic who endures the hardship (does the hard work) of coming to the shelter of the Guru, and obeying His Shabad. Waheguru approves the hardship of serving the Guru (obeying the Guru's Huqam is a very tough job); such an ascetic is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vertun(i) = to run the business. Ghut(i) = in heart. Chanuna = enlightenment. Anhayr(u) = darkness. Binaasun(i) = destruction. Ruvviya = is present. Vun(i) = in forests. Trin(i) = in vegetation. Bhun(i) = recite; sing. Sojhi = understanding.
MEANING: Waheguru created days and nights to run the business of the world. Guru's Advice enlightens the minds of the people, whereby the darkness of ignorance is dispelled. He has created everything with His Huqam (Laws), and is present in the forests and in all vegetation. He is all-in-all in the universe, and one needs to recite His Naam in the shelter of the Guru (with His Shabad). One gains understanding of everything related to spirituality through the Guru's Shabad, which Waheguru Himself gives. 5.

MEANING: Those are not called ascetics who have doubts and misbeliefs (about Waheguru). Donations to such ascetics foster similar misbeliefs in donors' minds. The real ascetic is the one who has an appetite for the highest spiritual state that connects him with the fearless Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. But some rare individual receives that mental food (attains a high spiritual state), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Oodraiy Kaarun(i) = for the sake of belly (stomach). Behlay = many. Bhaykh Kurayn(i) = don different garbs. Gaun(u) = travel. Bhaal(i) Lehn(i) = acquire by searching. Shuhou = husband; Lord. Nij Ghur(i) = in own house. Rehn(u) = stay.
MEANING: Those are not ascetics who travel (roam) the earth just to eat food at others' houses (beg for food). They wear many religious garbs just to fill their stomachs. The real ascetics are those who take their soul on a journey through the spiritual world in search of the Lord-husband, find Him in their own heart, and stay focused on Him (His Naam, oh Nanak).2.

Word Meaning: Umbur(u) = sky. Vichhorriun(u) = separated. Sacha = eternal. (Waheguru). Asraaou = support. Sach(u) = pure; holy. Tukhut(u) = Throne; Huqam. Niyaaoun = justice. Vertda = operates. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhaayee = revealed. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru created the world, separating the sky and the earth, and providing His eternal support between the two. All houses and doors (places) are pure (holy) where eternal Waheguru's Naam is recited (His praise is sung). It is Waheguru's eternal Huqam that runs the universe. One gets absorbed in Waheguru by the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru is immortal, and so is His Throne at (Huqam by) which He delivers His true justice. It is Waheguru, and Waheguru alone, that runs the universe; the incomprehensible Waheguru is revealed by Guru's Shabad. 6.

Word Meaning: Raiynaayir = ocean (world). Aunut(u) = limitless (God). Kooree = who deal in the perishable. Bhaanaiy = will; mind. Luhhaiy = acquire. Kermi = with good luck. Pullaiy Paayay = acquire. Nau-nidh(i) = the nine treasures. Rujaayay = Will. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru is present everywhere in the world (so He knows everything about everybody); the individuals who deal in the perishable attractions of Maya keep taking births and dying. They follow their own mind as a result of which they are severely punished. There is everything in the world (including good qualities, Waheguru's Naam, Satguru's Teachings, etc.), but only people with good fortune acquire those. One acquires all nine mythical treasures (complete contentment and blissfulness) if he follows Waheguru's Will, oh Nanak.1.

Word Meaning: Sehjay = with peaceful mind. Junum(i) = after taking birth. Binaas(u) = ruin. Chkhiyo = taste. Kumul(u) = lotus of heart. Pergaas(u) = enlightenment. Bikh(u) = poisonous (Maya). Moh(i) = in love for. Vinaas(u) = destruction. Vin(u) = without. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Vaas(u) = living. Daasun(i) Daas = slave of slaves. Kubeh(i) Na = never. Paas(u) = nearness; company. Alipto = detached. Vertaiy = lives. Greh = household. Oodaas(u) = detached. Goontaas(u) = source of noble qualities. 2.

MEANING: After being born as humans, those who do not serve Satguru with a peaceful mind and contentment ruin their precious human life. They do not taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with their tongue because of which their lotus-like heart does not bloom (their mind is not enlightened). The follower of his mind dies, enjoying the poisonous attractions of life, while his love for Maya destroys his spirituality. Without Waheguru's Naam, the life and the living style of the individual are condemnable.

However, when Waheguru casts His kind gaze on him, he becomes so humble and contented that he begins to serve Waheguru as a slave among His slaves. He serves Satguru all the time and never leaves His shelter. Like the lotus flower, which stays above the surface of water, such an individual stays detached from worldly attractions while living in the family. Waheguru, which is the source of all noble qualities, makes the individuals do whatever He wishes them to do, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chhuteeh = thirty-six. Joog = eons. Gunut Keeni = kept account. Boojhaayay = gives understanding. Puteeni = minds won over; are convinced. 7.

MEANING: There was complete darkness for thirty-six eons in the universe, of which Waheguru Himself kept the account (was all by Himself) (it is an old Hindu idea; Guru Sahib does not certify it). He created the universe at His own Will, and Himself gave the knowledge (through the Guru). The Simritis and the Shastras, in which the consequences of sins and noble deeds are described, were written with the ability given by Him to their authors. Only those people understand these facts who are given the ability by Waheguru and who are convinced by the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru Himself operates everywhere (manages the universe), and connects some with Him by His benevolence. 7.

Word Meaning: Tun(u) = human body. Rutt(u) = blood. Sheh = husband; Lord. Ruttay = imbued. Lobh = greed. Bhaiy = fear. Kheen = weak. Baiysubtar(i) = in fire. Dhaat(u) = metal; gold. Shoodh(u) = pure. Doormut(i) = ignoble thinking. Rung(u) = love. 1.
NOTE: This Shabad clarifies a Sloak of Farid Sahib in which he had said- albeit not to mean- that there is no blood in the body of Waheguru's devotees.
MEANING: The whole human body is made of blood; there can be no body without blood. However, those who are imbued with Waheguru's love have no blood of greed in them. With Waheguru's fear in their mind, the body becomes weak (in terms of attraction for greed), and they lose the blood of greed (greed in their blood) from their bodies. The fear of Waheguru eradicates the filth of the ignoble wisdom (thinking), and purifies the mind, just like fire purifies a metal (gold). The individuals imbued with the love of Waheguru appear very dignified (exalted), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ram(u) = Waheguru. Sheengaar(u) = adornment. Bigsiya = blooms. Saunpiya = offered. Bhundaar(u) = treasure. Bherm(u) = misgiving; illusion. Chooka = lifted; ended. Roop = beauty. Ut(i) Ugla = extreme; very much. Ruvvaiy = recites (Naam). Sobhavunti = praiseworthy. Jaasun(i) = will go. Nit = again, and again. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. Doohoon Vich(i) = (to choose) between Waheguru and Maya. Chungaiy = on noble deeds (path). Mundaiy = on immoral deeds (path). Kartar(u) = God. 2.
MEANING: The Raag Ramkali is great if the body of the devotee is adorned with noble qualities when he recites and enshrines Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) written in this Raag. When the devotee's mind blooms (feels blissful) with Guru's Shabad, Waheguru bestows the treasures of worship on him (he never gets tired of worshipping Waheguru). All his misgivings are dispelled, he becomes enlightened, and the darkness of his ignorance disappears. The devotee who loves Waheguru becomes extremely beautiful spiritually. Such a devotee always recites Waheguru's Naam and becomes a praiseworthy bride of Waheguru as the husband.
On the contrary, the followers of their mind do not know the importance of spiritual adornment, and leave the world, losing the battle of life. Those who decorate their bodies with religious symbols without the worship of Waheguru are born again and again and suffer humiliation. They earn no praise in this world, and only Waheguru knows what awaits them in the next. Waheguru is the only Supreme Power in the world, yet the world is caught between the attractions of Maya and love for Him. Waheguru Himself makes people do noble or ignoble deeds, and they do just what Waheguru makes them do, oh Nanak. 2.

Nanak, Gurmukh(i) oobray Sachaiy Shabad(i) smaah(i). 3.

Word Meaning: Shaant(i) = mental peace; contentment. Jaayay = shelter. Lochiyaiy = long for. Kerma = good fortune. Vikaar(u) = vice. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the other (Maya). Khooaayay = suffers humiliation. Chookyee = ends. Khaali = empty; without. Tulub = call. Suhaayay = endure. Oobraiy = salvaged. 3.

MEANING: One cannot achieve blissfulness and contentment without serving Satguru, and there is no other shelter to escape to. Even if one longs for such blissfulness, one cannot acquire it without good fortune. Man harbours the vice of greed and suffers humiliation due to his attachment to Maya. The birth-death cycle for such people never ends, and they suffer because of their selfishness and ego. None of those who are attached to Satguru is without blissfulness and contentment. They are not called in by the Angel of death, nor do they suffer in any way. The Sikhs of the Guru achieve emancipation and stay absorbed in Waheguru with the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Aliput(u) = detached. Dhundhaiy = worldly affairs. Dhaaveh(i) = rush to. Nihchul(u) Achull(u) = eternal and immortal. Nij Ghur(i) Vaasa = mind stays in its own home (becomes stable) and does not wander. Smaaveh(i) = gets absorbed. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheer(u) = never changes with circumstances. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru always stays detached from the world, whereas the rest of the world rushes into worldly affairs. He is eternal and immortal, whereas everybody else comes and goes (takes birth and dies). We should always worship Him in the Guru's shelter (with His Advice) to enjoy blissfulness. (When we worship Waheguru) our mind becomes stable in itself (quits wandering), and we get absorbed in Him by singing His praise. With Guru's Shabad, we understand that Waheguru is unfathomable and never changes (feels pressured or joyful) with circumstances. 8.

Word Meaning: Vertaiy = operates. Sach(u) = immortal God. Kuthni Budni = says with the tongue. Bhaana = Will; Huqam. Kuch(u) Nikuch(u) = fully attached to the perishables; ignorant of spirituality. 1.

MEANING: If you recite Waheguru's eternal Naam, you will realize that it is He who operates everywhere, oh man. The devotee, who understands (obeys) Waheguru's Huqam, acquires Him in mind, oh Nanak. Many people talk about Him but do not obey Waheguru's Huqam (u). The true devotee of Waheguru is the one who accepts His Will; without accepting His Will, the individual is ignorant of spirituality and is fully attached to the perishable worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Boal(i) Na Jaan-ni = do not know what to say (in Waheguru's praise). Thaaoun Koothaaoun = right and wrong places (situations). Lobh(u) Vikaar(u) = vice of greed. Aapnay Sooaayay = of self interest. Jum Jundaar(u) = fatal Jum. Laykhaiy Munggiyaiyn = question for accountability. Koorriyaar = deceitful; dealers in the perishables. Mul(u) = filth. Ootraiy = taken off. Kiyoun = how? Dirraayay = reinforce. Kilvikh = sins. Numuskaar(u) = bow to; show respect.

MEANING: The Maya-engrossed person does not know how to sing Waheguru's praise because he is loaded inside with lust, rage, and conceit. Because of their vices like greed, they do not realize the appropriate and the inappropriate situations, and join gatherings of people to talk about their own selfish interests; they are punished by the killer Angel of death. When such deceitful people are presented before Waheguru to give the account of their deeds, they are punished to humiliation. Can someone think of the ways by which one may get rid of the filth of such deceitful acts? (The answer is) That if one gets connected with Satguru (comes to His shelter), Satguru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in him, which is the eradicator of all sins. Everybody bows to the devotee who worships Waheguru and recites His Naam. 2.

MEANING: There is no such individual who can be described as a great provider (of everything, including the Amrit-like Naam) as You are, oh Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam can be acquired with the grace of the Guru, whereby one gets rid of his haumein. Waheguru is above all kinds of tastes (has no interest in them), and His magnanimity is eternal. Only that devotee acquires His Naam whom He bestows to; and Waheguru, Himself, connects him with Him. Waheguru has placed His Amri-Naam in everybody's heart, but some rare individual drinks it (acquires the Naam) whom He feeds (bestows) Himself. 9.

Buchun = word (of wisdom). Srisht(i) = world. Sachaiy = Waheguru. Smaalayn(i) = remember. Pervaan = approved. Kool = associates.
MEANING: The stories of the great virtuous people transform the youngsters into good (noble) sons. They obey Satguru's Teachings, and perform the deeds as per His wishes (Teachings). You can verify this by reading the holy books and the teachings of the sages like Beas, Sook, and Nard, which are meant for the whole world. Those devotees, who are prompted by Waheguru, get attached to His Naam, and remember (recite) it all the time. The coming to the world of those devotees is approved (welcome) who salvage all their associates, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: The disciples of the guru, who is spiritually blind, also perform deeds resulting in spiritual blindness. They follow their own mind and tell lies all the time. They always practise lies and deceit, and maliciously criticize others. By vilifying others, they drown in the world-sea (never get emancipation), and take all their associates with them. Poataiy = in possession; in their credit account. Poonn(i) = noble deeds. Vaat(i) = in mouth (on the tongue). Speeti = of praise (for Waheguru). Sunaayee = praise.

MEANING: Waheguru keeps all His creations under His eyes. He misguides some to practise lies and perform immoral acts; such people are followers of their minds and are misguided by Waheguru; they suffer humiliation. On the other hand, the Guru's Sikhs always recite Waheguru's Naam with love for Him. Those who have noble deeds to their credit sing Waheguru's praise with their tongue. Waheguru's greatness is eternal, so we should recite His Naam(u), oh Nanak. 10.

Word Meaning: Sutee = highly moral; virtuous. Sut(u) = high morality. Kmaah(i) = practises. Deekhiya = advice; sermon. Khuttiyaiyn = earn money. Bhaaou = love. Bhaavaiy = whether. Tusbee = rosary. Vuddhi = bribe. Huq(u) = right. Guvaayay = robs. Turk = Muslim. Ridaiy = in the heart. Moohaaveh(i) = get others cheated. Chaarri = bribe; undeserving praise. Chaunka = outdoor cooking. Soocha = clean; pure. Grehi = family man. Jutaan = permanently tangled hair. Bibhoot = ash. Joogut(i) = technique; path of Yogism. Kit(u) Kararun(i) = to achieve what? Chhaayee = ash. Kul(i) = Kulyug (the present era). Pervaan = approval. Aapay Aakhun(u) –Jaan(u) = make own rules.

MEANING: (People blame the present era – Kalyug – for their unfavourable conditions; but Guru Sahib tells people that there is no such time which is good or bad by itself. It is the character and actions of people that make conditions good or bad. For example, a visibly virtuous person commits sins, and (contrary to the norms), the guru goes to the house of his followers to advise them. The wife loves her husband only if he earns wealth, regardless of whether he works at home or goes away. Nobody is following the advice of the holy books; they are performing their own worship. The Qazi sits in the chair of the judge to deliver justice, and moves the beads of the rosary and chants "Allah" with his tongue to give the impression of his false religiosity, but he takes bribes to rob others of their rights. If someone questions his judgment, he quotes some words from the law book to justify his decision.

Similarly, a Hindu listens to the Muslim mantra (holy words) and enshrines that in his heart to please the Muslim rulers. He undeservingly praises his Muslim rulers lavishly and earns prizes (bribes) to get the innocent people cheated by them (suffer injustice at their hands). Look at the Hindus (Brahmans) who draw lines with cow dung around their outdoor cooking facility, and claim it to be a sign of their purity!!
The yogis, with their permanently tangled hair and ash on their bodies, claim to have renounced the world, yet they have families with them, their children crying around them (to have their needs fulfilled). They cannot achieve their objective, and on top of that, they lose (are misled from) their accepted path of Yogism; so, what did they achieve by putting ash on their head (body)? This is what Kulyug is all about, and it has become the approved behaviour in society that people make their own rules and justify them, oh Nanak. 1.

Nanak, uggaiy pooch na hoyay. 2.
Word Meaning: Janayoo = the holy thread that the upper-castes wear around their neck. Booriyaayi = immoral acts. Naata = taking dips at holy places. Dhota = washed. Thaayaiyn Na Paayee = gets no recognition. Rah(u) = path to spirituality. Dusaayay = to ask. Kerni = noble deeds. Baajhoun = without. Bhist(i) = paradise. Tit(u) Kaarun(i) = for that reason. Jithaiy Kithay = everywhere. Vataaou = travelers; visitors. Cheeri = letter (Huqam of Waheguru). Dhill = delay. Jaanaiy = recognize (make connection with God). Sinjaanaiy = recognized; honoured. Phukkurr(u) = fake; joke; false. 2.
MEANING: A Hindu (Brahman) visits another Hindu's house and puts a junayoo (the holy cotton thread) around his neck after reciting some mantras. (What is the use of the thread) when he still commits immoral deeds? He gets no recognition (in Waheguru's Court) even if he takes dips at the holy places and keeps himself physically clean.

The Muslim sings praise of “Allah”, but without following the advice of their Peer (spiritual leader0, he gets no recognition either. If someone wants to know about the religious path to paradise, the answer is that nobody can go there without noble deeds.
(The yogis perform many breathing exercises to prolong their lives). If someone goes to them asking for their objective, for which they wear big earrings and roam around, they may say that they are searching for the Supreme Being. But He is present everywhere, so why roam around? As far as prolonging life span is concerned, every living being is a traveller (visitor) here, and no delay is allowed when Waheguru’s Huqam comes for one to leave. Those who make a connection with Waheguru in this life are recognized (are honoured) in Waheguru’s Court. All others – whether they are Hindus or Muslims – are fake in their religiosity. Everybody’s deeds are examined in Waheguru’s Court, and nobody gets salvation without noble deeds. If someone recites only Waheguru’s Naam (with full dedication) and no one else’s, he is not questioned in His Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Munmukh Aap(i) khooaayayun(u), Maya moh nit kurrh(u). Subhnaa, Sahib Aik(u) haiy, pooraiy bhaag(i) paaya jaayee. 11.
Word Meaning: Kaaya = human body. Kot(u) = Gurrh = fort. Laal, Juvayhri = rubies and jewels like noble qualities. Dirr(u) = reinforce. Khooaayayun(u) = misguided. Kurrh(u) = suffer frustration.
MEANING: The fort-like human body is Waheguru’s temple which contains rubies- and jewels - like noble qualities which are revealed by reciting Waheguru’s Naam in the shelter of the Guru (with His Shabad). That human-body temple of Waheguru is extremely beautiful where His Naam is reinforced. The followers of their mind are misguided by Waheguru Himself, and they always suffer frustration for their attachment for Maya. Everybody has the same Lord, but He can be realized only with great fortune. 11.

Jiseh(i) bhoolaayeen pundh sir(i), tiseh(i) dikhaavaiy kaun? 1.
Word Meaning: Naasut(i) = is not there. Dookhiya = self-affliction. Sookhiya = enjoying comforts. Moond Moondaaeen = shaving heads. Tuchhaaveh(i) = getting cut, hewed, or carved. Hustee = elephant. Sidh(i) = success; mental bliss; emancipation. Soyee = God. Vudaayee = respect; praise. Ruvvaiy = is recited. Khooyaayeen = misguide. Kuhhaiy = say; advise. Vaatrri = right path. Pundh Sir(i) = right from the beginning. 1.

MEANING: One cannot achieve mental bliss by torturing oneself by standing in cold or hot waters for long times because if that were the case, all life in water would be blissful (which is not the case). Mental bliss cannot be achieved even by enjoying the comforts of life (because they are short-lived, and there are many other causes of suffering). Mental bliss cannot be achieved by shaving one's head (as some people do), or by taking part in religious discussions, as many learned people do, by roaming around in the country. Emancipation cannot be achieved even by suffering while living under trees or on the mountains because if such suffering resulted in emancipation, then trees and rocks will also get emancipation as they suffer when they are cunt into pieces, are hewed, or are carved. Some people wrap chains around them to achieve emancipation; if that were the case, elephants would also get emancipation because some of them, too, are chained. Emancipation or mental bliss cannot be achieved even by eating vegetables only (as some people do) because cows also feed on grass (and are not emancipated). Only Waheguru controls individual successes, mental bliss, and emancipation, and only He can bestow them on whomever He chooses, and connects them with Him. Only that individual receives respect who recites Waheguru's Naam in his heart, oh Nanak.

(Waheguru says): All hearts are mine, and I am present in all of them; who can guide the individual whom I misguide? And who can misguide the individual whom I show the right path, and who can guide the individual whom I misguide right at the beginning of his journey? 1.

NOTE: Addressing the yogis by their names in the next five Sloaks, Guru Nanak Sahib advises the yogis of different sects that anybody can unite with God if he performs noble deeds, and recites Waheguru's Naam, no matter what type of religious (sect) label he wears. Performing noble deeds and reciting Waheguru's Naam with reverence is the only path for union with Him.

ਮ:1॥ਸੋ ਗਿਰਹੀ ਜੋ ਨਿਗ੍ਰਹੁ ਕਰੈ॥ ਜਪੁ ਤਪੁ ਸੰਜਮੁ ਭੀਖਿਆ ਕਰੈ॥ ਪੁੰਨ ਦਾਨ ਕਾ ਕਰੇ ਸਰੀਰੁ॥ ਸੋ ਗਿਰਹੀ ਗੰਗਾ ਕਾ ਨੀਰੁ॥ ਬੋਲੈ ਈਸਰੁ ਸਤਿ ਸਰੂਪੁ॥ ਪਰਮ ਤੰਤ ਮਹਿ ਰੇਖ ਨ ਰੂਪੁ॥ 2॥

Word Meaning: Grehi = family man. Nigreh(u) = control on senses. Jup(u) = recitation of some mantras. Tup(u) = self-torturing; hard labour. Sunjum = exercise control. Bheekhiya = alms. Poonn Daan = noble deeds and helping the needy. Gunga Ka Neer(u) = clean (pure) like the water of River Ganga. Eshur(u) = a leading Yogi. Sut(i) Sroop(u) = the eternal Waheguru. Perm Tunt = the Supreme Being. Raykh Na Roop(u) = (separate) physical features and looks. 2.

MEANING: The individual, who exercises control over his senses and begs for recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the ability to work hard (to worship Him), and the ability to control desires, is the true family man. Such a virtuous man also performs noble deeds and helps the needy. Such a noble family man is pure like the water of the river Ganga. If Esher also sings the praises of the eternal Waheguru, he will merge into the Supreme Being and have no distinctive physical features or appearance (becoming like Waheguru). 2.

Word Meaning: Aoudhooti = who has broken all bonds with Maya; a renunciate. Dhoopaiy = burns; eradicates. Bhikhiya Bhojun(u) = begged food. Suntaap(u) = suffering; repentance. Aouhutth = heart. Puttun = city. Shivpur(i) = the city of Waheguru. Churrhay = attains that height (transcendence). Gorukh(u) = one of the leading Yogis.
Word Meaning: The true "Aoudhooti" is the one who burns his selfishness and ego, and rather than begging for food as alms, he begs for (sharing) the sufferings of others (lessens their suffering); and rather than going from door to door to beg for food, he begs for the wellbeing of others, and for His Naam from Waheguru in the city of his heart. Such an "aoudhoot" attains transcendence and becomes one with Waheguru. If Gorakh also sings Waheguru's praise, he will merge into the Supreme Being and will have no distinctive physical features or looks. 3.

Word Meaning: Oodaasi = totally disinterested in Maya. Urdh Oordh = close and higher (everywhere). Nirunjun = Waheguru. Chund = moon (coolness); peaceful mind. Sooruj = sun (brightness); enlightenment. Gundh(i) = union. Purraiy = collapse; weaken. Kundh(u) = body (mind). Gopi Chand(u) = another leading Yogi.
MEANING: The true "Oodaasi" is the one who nourishes (strengthens) his detachment from the worldly attractions, sees Waheguru everywhere, and enlightens his peaceful mind with Divine Knowledge. The body (mind) of such an "Oodassi" never weakens. If Gopi Chand also sings Waheguru's praise, he will merge into the Supreme Being and will have no distinctive physical features or looks. 4.

ਮ:1॥ ਸੋ ਪਾਖੰਡੀ ਜਿ ਕਾਇਆ ਪਖਾਲੇ॥ ਕਾਇਆ ਕੀ ਅਗਨਿ ਬ੍ਰਹਮੁ ਪਰਜਾਲੇ॥ ਸੁਪਨੇ ਬਿੰਦੁ ਨਾ ਦੇਈ ਝਰਣਾ॥

(PAGE 953): Tis(u) Paakhundi juraa na merna. Boalaiy Churput(u) Sut(i) Sroop(u). Perm Tunt meh(i) raykh na roop(u).
Word Meaning: Paakhundi = a fake (hypocrite) holy man. Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Purjaalay = burns (destroys) completely. Braham(u) = Waheguru. Soopnay = in dream. Bind(u) Jhurna = succumb to lust. Juraa = old age. Churput(u) = an eminent Yogi (he was a leading Yogi in "Sidh Gosht(i)".
MEANING: Even a hypocritical ascetic can free himself from the fear of old age and of death, if he purifies his body (and mind) by completely burning (killing) the fire of his desires by replacing it with the strong light of Waheguru (His Naam), and by not succumbing to the urge of lust even in his dream. If Churpat also sings Waheguru's praise, he will merge into the Supreme Being and will have no distinctive physical features or looks. 4.

ਮ:1॥ ਸੋ ਬੈਰਾਗੀ ਜਿ ਉਲਟੇ ਬ੍ਰਹਮੁ॥ ਗਗਨ ਮੰਡਲ ਮਹਿ ਰੋਪੇ ਥੰਮੁ॥ ਅਹਿਨਿਸਿ ਅੰਤਰਿ ਰਹੈ ਧਿਆਨਿ॥ ਤੇ ਬੈਰਾਗੀ ਸਤ ਸਮਾਨਿ॥ ਬੋਲੈ ਭਰਥਰਿ ਸਤਿ ਸਰੂਪੁ॥ ਪਰਮ ਤੰਤ ਮਹਿ ਰੇਖ ਨ ਰੂਪੁ॥ 6॥

M:1: So Baiyraagi j(i) ooltay Braham(u). Guggun mundul meh(i) roapaiy thumm(u). Ehinis(i) untar(i) ruhhaiy dhiyaan(i). Tay Bairaagi, Sut smaan(i). Boalaiy Bherthur(i) Sut(i) Sroop(u). Perm Tunt meh(i) raykh na roop(u). 6.

Word Meaning: Biyraagi = detached from the world. Ooltay = reverses (mind). Guggun Mundul = the tenth door (in brain). Roapaiy = erects; raises. Thumm(u) = pillar. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Dhiyaan(i) = in mind. Sut Smaan(i) = like Waheguru.

MEANING: That individual is a true "Biyraagi" who reverses the direction of his thinking from Maya towards Waheguru, and erects the pillar of His Naam in his mind (supports his mind with the Naam) to connect it with Waheguru, and keeps his mind focused on Him day and night. Such a "Baiyraagi" becomes just like Waheguru. If Bherthur(i) also sings Waheguru's praise, he will merge into the Supreme Being, and will have no distinctive physical features and looks. 6.

Kaahay bheekhiya mungun(i) jaayay. 7.

Word Meaning: Kiyoun = how? Munda = evil thinking. Joogut(i) = way (of life). Bhoogut(i) = the communal sweet of the yogis. Aasut(i) = is (visibly) present. Naasut(i) = is not visible. Aiko Naaoun = Waheguru's Naam. Ukkhur(u) = word; shabad. Hiyaaou = heart; mind. Dhoop Chhaanv = discomforts (suffering) and comfort. Sum = equal. Suhhaiy = endures; treats. Kuhhaiy = remembers (the Guru). Chhay Vertaaray = the six sects (philosophies) of ascetics. Poot = sons; disciples. Bheekhiya = alms.

MEANING: How can evil thinking be eradicated, and how can one follow the path of righteousness? What does a yogi achieve by piercing his ears and by eating the sweet communal food of grace? It is Waheguru's Naam alone that operates in the universe, whether He is present invisibly or in His visible form. What is the Shabad with which His Naam may be enshrined in the heart? If one accepts discomforts and comforts the same way with Guru's Shabad, then he is considered to have recited His Naam, oh Nanak. The ascetics follow six different philosophies; they are neither truly family men nor fully renunciate. Why would a devotee, who stays absorbed in Waheguru, go begging for food (he will not)? 7.

Munmukh Hur(i) Mundar kee saar na jaan-ni, tinhi junum(u) guvaata. Subh meh(i) Ikk(u) vertda, Gur Shabadi paaya jaayee. 12.

Word Meaning: Jithoun = from where. Jaata = recognized (realized).. Maanus Dayh = in human life. Gur Buchani = Guru's Shabad. Aatum Ram(u) = Waehguru. Bidhaata = the carver of our fates (Waheguru). Guvaata = waste away. 12.
MEANING: The human body is deservingly called Waheguru's Temple because it is only in human form that the man recognizes (realizes) Waheguru, and sees Him everywhere with Guru's Shabad. We should not search for Him outside – only in our hearts. The follower of his mind does not know the worth of the human body and wastes it away. It is Waheguru alone that operates everywhere, and can be realized with the Guru's Shabad. 12.

Word Meaning: Lukkhun = signs. Kerna = acts. Moogudh = captivated by Maya. Ahunkaaro = with his ego. Ait(u) Kmaanaiy = with such deeds. Khooh(i) = in the well of Maya. Sunjum(u) = means; take steps. Ulipto = detached. Sehna = accept.
MEANING: Only a fool will listen to (obey) another fool. But what are the signs of a fool, and what kind of deeds does he do? A fool is a person captivated by Maya and spiritually dead because of his great conceit. There is always suffering in such behaviour, and a fool keeps suffering all the time. When a blind lover of Maya falls into the deep well of Maya, what means can be used to pull him out? A Sikh of the Guru reflects on the consequences of such behaviour and remains detached from Maya. He recites Waheguru's Naam, whereby he is salvaged, and all his associates who are drowning in the sea of Maya are ferried across the sea (saved). Waheguru does whatever He likes, and we have to accept all that which comes our way, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sikh = advice. Suhhee = right; real. Laykha = account of deeds. Mungaysia = will demand. Vuhhee = the book of accounts. Tulbaan Puousun(i) = will be called in. Aakiyaan = rebels (who did not obey Waheguru's Huqam). Baaki = balance (bad deeds minus the good deeds). Israel(u) Frishta = Angel of death. Tuyyee = well prepared. Soojhyee = cannot think of. Bheerri Gulee = very narrow passage. Phuhhee = trapped (soul). Koorr(u) = falsehood. Nikhootay = runs out; one loses out. Oarruk(i) = at last. Sach(i) = truthfulness. Ruhhee = prevails; wins.

MEANING: Our mind should receive only the right advice, because Waheguru will demand an account of our deeds as recorded in our account book, oh Nanak. The rebels (who do not obey His Huqam) and have some balance owing (their bad deeds minus their good deeds) are called in. The Angel of justice comes prepared with their full accounts; at that time, trapped in a narrow passage (with strict scrutiny), one cannot think of any place to escape to. Falsehood does not work forever; only the truth prevails at the end, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Subh(u) Sreer(u) = the whole creation. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Kehn Na Jaapaiy = cannot think of right words. Raapaiy = is imbued. Huriya Hoya = comes to life. Ahunkaar(u) = conceit. Guvaapaiy = is lost (eradicated). Khayl(u) = drama. Boojhaayee = gives understanding.

MEANING: The whole creation is the body of Waheguru, and He is present everywhere. Nobody can find the worth of Waheguru (His greatness), and there are no words to explain that. Imbued in His love with Guru's grace, one can only sing His praise whereby his ego is eradicated, and he gets a new life by body and by mind. Some rare devotee learns in the shelter of the Guru that the world is only a drama of Waheguru. 13.

Word Meaning: Sehunsur = thousands. Daan = dund = punishment. Indra (the king of paradise) deceitfully raped Ahilliya, the wife of sage Gautum. When the sage came to know, he cursed Indra with thousands of female genitals on his body. Pers Ram = a Brahman sage and a great devotee of Shiva. When god Rama broke the bow of Shiva to marry Seeta, Pers Ram was enraged and arrived at the scene to punish Rama, who robbed Pers Ram of all his powers by touching his feet. Ajaiy = grandfather of Rama. Once a sage went to see king Ajaiy to beg for alms; Ajaiy was in his stable at the time, he gave horse-dung to the sage in alms. Insulted badly, the sage cursed Ajaiy who had to eat the horse-dung himself. Ram Nikaala = god Rama, who was banished for 14 years from Ayudhiya. He cried when Seeta was kidnapped by Raavun, and when Laxman, his younger brother, got gravely wounded in the battle with Raavun. Dehsir = a name for Raavun, the king of Lanka who had kidnapped Seeta, wife of god Rama, and was defeated by Rama's army thereby losing his country to Rama. Aandi = brought. Duouroo = tambourine. Vaayay = by playing. Duouroo Vaayay = with a swagger.

Pandavas = the main players of Mahabharat. After their ill-conceived loss to their rival cousins and the rulers, Kauravs, they were banished to live in hiding for 12 years. To hide their identity, they accepted labour-positions with a king, named, Vairaat. They had the support of god Krishna (their Soami).

Janmeja = a king, who killed 18 Brahmans because they laughed at his wife who appeared in a semi see-through dress. Because of killing Brahmans, he developed leprosy on his body as punishment. At the advice of some sage, he listened to the Mahabharat Epic, but doubted the possibilities of some happenings, as a result, his leprosy stayed and he cried. Khooyay Guyya = made mistake. Sheikh = a learned Muslim. Musaayik = many sheikhs. Peer = a holy Muslim. Bheerr = trouble. Kirpun = money-lovers. Suncheh(i) = accumulated. Baali = a young bride. Bhutaar(u) = husband. Jin(i) Jaayay = succeeds. Auree Kerm = other rituals. Laykhaiy Paayay = given credit.

NOTE: Using popular stories from the Hindu Granths, Guru Nanak Sahib has demonstrated that everyone in this world is suffering for one reason or another, and that nobody is happy in this world without Waheguru's Naam.

MEANING: The sage Gautam made Indra cry when he was cursed by the Sage to have thousands of female genitalia signs on his body. Pers Ram cried when he was humiliated by god Rama, who sucked all his powers by touching his feet. Ajaiy felt humiliated when he had to eat the horse-dung that he gave to a sage in alms. People are similarly punished in Waheguru's Court for their bad deeds (or choices). Rama cried when he was banished and when he got separated from his wife, Seeta, and his brother, Lukhman. Raavun, who had kidnapped Seeta with a swagger, cried when he lost his island country, Lanka, to Rama. The Pandavas cried (felt humiliated) when they had to work as labourers for the king, Vairaat, even though they had the support of god Krishna. Janmeja cried when he made a single mistake of doubting some incidents of Mahabharat, and became a sinner.

The educated and the holy Muslims cry (are afraid) when they think about the possibility of some kind of trouble at the time of their death. The kings, who became yogis for various reasons, cried (repented) when they had to have their ears pierced and go door to door to beg for food. The money-lovers cry when they lose their accumulated wealth, and the pundits cry when they lose their knowledge (lose in debates on religious issues). A young bride cries when her husband dies; thus, the whole world is suffering (without Waheguru's Naam), oh Nanak. Only that individual is honoured in Waheguru's Court who has full faith in Waheguru's Naam; no other religious ritual is recognized (not given any credit). 1.

Word Meaning: Munniyaiyn = obey Waheguru's Huqam. Kaaraan = deeds. Baad(i) = useless. Munniyaan = approved. Munniyaiy = is recognized (is honoured).

MEANING: All rituals including recitation of mantras and self-affliction, are worthless unless the individual obeys Waheguru's Huqam (recites His Naam with full faith). It is only with Guru's grace that one realizes that only that individual is honoured in Waheguru's Court who has full faith in Him, and obeys His Huqam, oh Nanak. 2.

Paurri: Kaaya, huns Dhoor(i) mayl(u) Kertaiy likh(i) paaya. Subh meh(i) goopt(u) vertda, Gurmukh(i) pergtaaya. Goon gaavaiy, Goon oochraiy, Goon maah(i) samaya. Sachi Bani Sach(u) haiy, Sach(u) mayl(i) milaaya. Subh(u) kichh(u) Aapay Aap(i) haiy, Aapay dayay vudiyaayee. 14.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Huns = swan; soul. Dhoor(i) = by Waheguru. Mayl(u) = union. Goopt(u) = hidden. Pergtaaya =makes to appear; reveals. Goon = praise.

MEANING: The union between a soul and the body it gets is predetermined by Waheguru. Waheguru operates hidden in everybody, but is revealed when a devotee comes to Satguru's shelter and sings praise of Waheguru, recites His Naam, and stays absorbed in His praise. Guru's Bani (Shabad) is eternal, is a manifestation of Waheguru, and connects one with Him. Waheguru does everything Himself, and accords honour to His devotees. 14.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:2॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਅੰਧਾ ਹੋਇ ਕੈ ਰਤਨਾ ਪਰਖਣ ਜਾਇ॥ ਰਤਨਾ ਸਾਰ ਨ ਜਾਣਈ ਆਵੈ ਆਪੁ ਲਖਾਇ॥ 1॥

Sloak M:2: Nanak undha hoyay kaiy, ruttanaa perkhun jaayay. Ruttanaa saar na jaanyee, aavaiy aap(u) lukhaayay. 1.

Word Meaning: Ruttanaa = jewels; noble qualities; virtues. Perkhun = to test; examine. Saar = worth. Lukhaayay = reveal; expose. 1.

MEANING: If a blind man goes to examine jewels, he cannot know their worth; on the contrary, he exposes his blindness to others. (Similarly, a Maya-engrossed, ignorant person has no sense of virtues and vilifies them). 1.

ਮ:2॥ ਰਤਨਾ ਕੇਰੀ ਗੁਥਲੀ ਰਤਨੀ ਖੋਲੀ ਆਇ॥ ਵਖਰ ਤੈ ਵਣਜਾਰਿਆ ਦੁਹਾ ਰਹੀ ਸਮਾਇ॥ ਜਿਨ ਗੁਣੁ ਪਲੈ ਨਾਨਕਾ ਮਾਣਕ ਵਣਜਹਿ ਸੇਇ॥ ਰਤਨਾ ਸਾਰ ਨ ਜਾਣਨੀ ਅੰਧੇ ਵਤਹਿ ਲੋਇ॥ 2॥

M:2: Ruttanaa kayri goothlee, ruttanee khohli aayay. Vukkhur taiy vunjaariyaan, doohaan ruhhi smaayay. Jin Goon(u) pullaiy Nanaka, maanuk vunjeh(i) sayay. Ruttanaa saar na jaan-ni undhay vuteh(i) loyay. 2

Word Meaning: Ruttana = jewel-like noble qualities. Kayri = of. Goothlee = bag; treasure. Ruttanee = the examiner of jewels (Satguru). Vukkhur = (seller of) merchandize (Satguru). Vunjaara = trader; buyer (Sikh). Smaayay = know the worth of. Pullaiy = in possession. Maanuk = pearls; virtues. Vunjeh(i) = deal in. Undhay = blind; ignorant. Vuteh(i) = wander around. Loyay = in the world. 2.

MEANING: Satguru is a treasure of virtues which He opens for His Sikhs; both know the worth of these virtues. Only those who deal in such pearls of virtues know their worth. Most people are blind to the worth of such virtues, and go around in the world (spend their life) in ignorance. 2.

Tit(u) ghut untar(i) chaan-na kur(i) bhugut(i) milijaiy. Subh(i) meh(i) Aik(u) vertda, jin(i) Aapay ruchun ruchaayee. 15.

Word Meaning: Koat(u) = fort. Bujjur = (strong like) concrete. Kpaat = doors. Unhud = Divine. Dhoon(i) = musical. Ghut = heart (mind). 15.

MEANING: The fort-like human body has nine visible doors, while the tenth door (through which one connects with Waheguru) is kept hidden. This door has concrete-like strong planks which open only with Guru's Shabad when the devotee feels as if Divine music is playing in his mind. With Waheguru's worship, the devotee's mind is enlightened, and he gets connected with Him. Waheguru, which has created the universe, operates in everybody. 15.

Soojaakha = with full sight. Oojhurr(i) = wilderness; on the wrong path. Loyin = eyes. Khusamou = from the Lord. Ghoothaiy = missed opportunity; misled. 1.

MEANING: Only a blind man will follow the path advised by another blind man; why would a man with perfect eyesight follow a path of wilderness? However, those people are not blind (of wisdom or spirituality) who do not have eyes on their face; those are truly blind who have been misled away from the Lord, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vertaiy = deals. Suou = hundred times. Jaapyee = clear. Vertuou = dealing. Vust(u) = article; thing. Puchhaan(i) = recognize. 2.

MEANING: The individual, who has been blinded (misguided) by the Lord, can regain his vision (spiritual path) by the Will of the Lord. Otherwise, he deals with the world as per his own wisdom (nature), and does not understand the path of righteousness, even if someone advises him hundreds of times. A person uses his own whims to deal with a situation about which he has no information. How can a customer buy something (follow a spiritual path) if he cannot recognize it, oh Nanak? 2.

ਮ:2॥ ਸੋ ਕਿਉ ਅੰਧਾ ਆਖੀਐ ਜਿ ਹੁਕਮਹੁ ਅੰਧਾ ਹੋਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਹੁਕਮੁ ਨ ਬੁਝਈ ਅੰਧਾ ਕਹੀਐ ਸੋਇ॥ 3॥

M:2: So kiyoun undha aakhiyaiy j(i) Huqamoun undha hoyay. Nanak, Huqam(u) na boojhyee, undha kuhhiyaiy soyay. 3.

Word Meaning: Huqamou = by Waheguru's Will; by natural causes.

MEANING: Why should a person be called blind if he has lost his eyesight by natural causes. The real blind is the person who does not understand Waheguru's Huqam, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Gurrh(u) = Koat(u) = fort. Disuntar = far away countries. Taarri = deep meditation. Pervaysa = has entered; is present. Srisht(i) = world. Pergutiaysa = appears, is revealed. Sojhi = understanding. 16.

MEANING: The fort-like human body is a dwelling for Waheguru, who is the creator of all the far and near countries. Present in everybody, He resides there in deep meditation (is not visible). He has created the whole universe, but keeps Himself hidden. When a devotee makes a connection with Him in the Guru's shelter (by acting on His advice), Waheguru appears in his mind. The Guru has given this understanding that Waheguru is present everywhere. 16.

Sloak M:1: Saavun raat(i), Ahaarr(u) dihoun, kaam(u), kroadh(u) dooyay khayt. Lub vuttar, droag(u) beeou, haali raahuk hayt. Hul(u) beechaar(u), vikaar mun, Huqami khuttay khaayay. Nanak laykhaiy munggiyaiyn, aut(u) junaynda jaayay. 1.

Word Meaning: Khayt = fields. Lub = gluttony. Vuttar = optimum conditions. Droag(u) = deceitfulness. Beeou = seeds. Haali Raahuk = the farmer. Hayt = worldly attachments. Hul(u) = tiller; plough. Beechaar(u) = (evil) thoughts. Vikaar = vices; sensual pleasures. Mun = amount (of crop). Khuttay = earns. Aut(u) = childless; without noble deeds. Junaynda = giving birth to; produce.

MEANING: A farmer has two main crops called Haarri (mainly wheat, barley, and mustard) and Sauni (mainly rice, beans, and corn) over the year, for which he puts in a lot of hard work. A man, who sows short temper during the day for Haarri harvest, and lust during the night for his Sauni harvest in the fields of his mind, and for whom gluttony is the suitable conditions for sowing his crops, and who uses deceitfulness as the seeds, and for whom worldly attractions are his hired help in farming, harvests the crop of immoral thoughts and vices for his mental food by Waheguru's Huqam. When he is demanded the account of his deeds, he has no noble deed to show because he did not produce any, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhuou = fear (of God). Bhoyay = ground; field. Puvit(u) = purity of mind. Sut(u) = high morality. Suntokh = contentment. Bulayd = oxen (oxen were used to plough the land and for other farming needs in those days). Hul(u) = tiller; plough. Hulaymi = humility. Chit(u) Chayta = remembering (God) in mind. Vukhut Sunjog = time of union; good fortune. Beej(u) = seed. Bukhsheesh = Kerm = benevolence. Bohul = mound (amount) of grains (crop). Droag = false. Vijog = separation from God. 2.

Word Meaning: A man, who uses respectful fear for Waheguru as the field of his mind which he ploughs with high morality and contentment as the two oxen, and irrigates it with the water of purity of his mind; and who tills it (prepares it) with humility, and keeps Waheguru in mind all the time as the farmer, attains the appropriate conditions for union with the Guru where he seeds Waheguru's Naam in his mind-field, and treats the world as being false (perishable). With Waheguru's kind sight, he harvests a bumper crop of love for Waheguru as a result of which, his separation from Waheguru is eliminated forever, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Moh(u) = worldly attachments. Goobaar(u) = darkness. Doojaiy Bhaaayay = love for Maya. Neer(u) = water. Virolaiy = Muth = churns. Tutt(u) = the essence (Waheguru). Ludha = find out. Tolaiy = by searching. Bherm(i) = misbeliefs.

MEANING: The follower of his mind has the darkness of worldly attachments in his mind, has love for Maya, and talks only about that. One always suffers when one loves Maya; it is like churning water where one gains nothing, no matter how hard one churns. A Sikh of the Guru recites Waheguru Naam churning, pondering deeply on it, and realizes the true essence (Waheguru). His mind is enlightened, and he finds Waheguru (becomes connected with Him) by seeking Him. But, Waheguru Himself misguides some people by creating misgivings in their minds; so, nothing can be said about His amazing decisions. 17.

Word Meaning: Chinta = worry. Tis = Him. Junt = living beings. Opaayayun = are created. Roji = food. Hutt(u) = shopping; business. Kirs = farming. Sauda = deals. Aahaar(u) = food. Saayiraan = in oceans. Saar = looks after.

MEANING: (Work hard to earn your livelihood by honest means), but quit worrying about your needs for food because Waheguru worries about that. He has created life even in water and has made arrangements for their food there, too. There are no shops or farming there. There are no deals to make there, and one kind of animal serves as food for another. He has created life in oceans and looks after His creation. So, quit worrying about your food sources; Waheguru worries about you, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jheever(u) = fisherman. Trishna = worldly desires. Kaal(u) = death. Munooaa = mind. Chaytyee = remembers. Achinta = unaware. Jaal(u) = net. Achayt(u) = negligent. Buddha = trapped in. Nudr(i) = kind sight.

MEANING: The man is like a fish (which is attracted to the bait, and is killed), whereas his desires for Maya are like the net of the fisherman for his spiritual death. The blind (ignorant) man does not remember Waheguru, and is caught unaware in the net of his desires. The man is negligent in mind and is increasingly trapped in the net of his worries. However, Waheguru connects some men with Him with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saachay = connected with God. Rus(u) = sweet Naam. Sauda Keeta = made deal. Leeta = acquired. Trishna = desires. Boojhaayee = understanding. 18.

MEANING: The individuals who have enjoyed the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam get permanently connected with Him. Those who have embedded Waheguru in their heart by the grace of the Guru have made an everlasting deal. Everything is (Waheguru and the noble qualities are) present in man's heart, but only the lucky ones acquire them. One's fire of desires is killed by singing Waheguru's praise. Waheguru Himself connects His devotees to Him through the Guru and guides them. 18.

Word Meaning: Vayl(i) = ginning. Pinjaaya = carded. Kut(i) = spun. Voonaaya = woven. Koott(i) = soften by hitting gently. Khoomb Churraaya = is tempered in boiling water to remove excess flour-paste. Loha = scissors. Durjee = tailor. Put(i) = dignity. Paati = lost.

Seepaiy = is stitched; regained. Ginddhaiy = sews. Maah(u) = month. Pukh(u) = half a month. Ghurri Moohut = for a short moment. Paataiy = torn; come apart. Tichur = for as long. Jaapee = visible; shows presence. Jaapaiy = recite (Naam).

MEANING: Cotton is ginned, carded, spun, and woven to make cloth, which is hit gently to soften it. Next, it is cut into usable pieces and tempered in boiling water to remove excess flour paste. Then it is cut with scissors, and the tailor sews it with a needle and thread to make clothes to wear. (In other words, cotton has to suffer many times and go through many steps before the final product is obtained. Just like cotton, one has to put in hard labour to achieve high morality and to sing Waheguru's praise to regain one's lost respect with Waheguru, and to spend life with dignity. When a clothe becomes old, the fabric gets torn, which can be stitched again with a needle and thread; however, it does not last for months - it lasts only for a few moments. But the clothing of Waheguru's Naam never gets old, and once stitched, it never gets torn (once connected with Waheguru, the devotee never gets disconnected with Him). Until then, Waheguru appears in one's heart for only as long as the individual recites His Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Kaati = knife. Saar(u) = iron; steel. Ghaarrut = moulding. Apur Apaar = beyond description. Saan = grinding stone. Thaykaiy = scabbard. Koottha = killed. Nikuttha = flowing. Hulaal(u) = religiously acceptable. Huq = Allah.

MEANING: (The Muslims sacrifice some animal on special occasions to please Allah. Before killing the animal, they read some holy verses from the Koran, and give a small cut on the neck of the animal, and let it bleed to a slow death. They call the process "Hulaal", and believe that the sacrificed animal goes to paradise. Guru Sahib advises a learned Muslim that if he wishes to get connected with Allah, he should give the sacrifice of his mind by killing it with the knife made of Allah's Naam, with the blade of Allah's Naam, which is sharpened with Guru's Shabad as the grinding stone, and which is stored in the scabbard of virtues. Such a knife has highly attractive moulding (workmanship). When the sheikh wounds his mind with this knife, he will see the blood of greed flowing out of it whereby, the sheikh becomes "hulaal", gets attached to Allah, and stays absorbed in Him to see His holy sight, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kumur(i) = in the waist-band. Kutaara = dagger. Bukurra = beautiful = Bunkay Ka = of a beautiful (horse). Usvaar(u) = rider. Sir(i) Bhaar(u) = head down.

MEANING: One may be riding a lovely horse, and may have a beautiful dagger in his waistband, but he should not feel very proud (conceited) because one never knows if he will fall with his head down, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Gurmukh(i) Chullaiy = obeys Guru's Huqam. Khurch(u) Dhun(u) = wealth to spend. Pullaiy = possess. Achullaiy = stable -minded. Ruttan = The Naam.

MEANING: The devotee, who spends his life as per the Advice of the Guru, gets connected with the gathering of holy men (Guru) with His Shabad. Those devotees who recite Waheguru's Naam accumulate the Naam wealth as expenses for their spiritual journey in life to buy (acquire) more noble qualities and become like Him. Singing Waheguru's praise, such devotees look dignified, and attain stability of mind (which quits wandering) with the Guru's Advice. By contemplating on the Guru's Divine Shabad, they embed Waheguru's Naam in their mind. Waheguru, Himself, connects His devotees with Him through the Guru, and bestows honour on them. 19.

Word Meaning: Aasa = expectations. Niraasa = no expectations. Sehila = successful.

MEANING: Everybody spends their life in hopes (worldly desires) and expectations; some rare individuals attain freedom from hopes. The coming into the world of the individual who kills his desires while living in the family is considered successful, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Kayou = how? Buppurri = powerless. Soyay = Waheguru.

MEANING: Hopes have no power to make an individual contented or successful in life, but how can a man become free of hopes? What can the poor hopes do to help an individual when Waheguru misguides him? 2.

Word Meaning: Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Nihchul(u) = everlasting. Untarjaami = omniscient. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Bhun(u) = say. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present.

MEANING: It is reprehensible to live in the world without Waheguru's Naam, which is the everlasting wealth. Waheguru provides for all our daily needs. The individual who recites His Naam with every breath is pure (holy). One should sing praise with his tongue of the "One"

Supreme Being, which is omniscient and physically inaccessible. He is present everywhere, and I am a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 20.

Kaag(u) = crow (a filthy, immoral person). Jay = even if. Rijk(u) = food. Koorraiy = deceitful. Koorra = false. Pervaana = letter.

MEANING: The union of Satguru with His Sikhs is predestined by Waheguru, and that is His Will. Satguru is the source of the invaluable Waheguru's Naam and other noble qualities, which are the spiritual food for the Sikhs. Deceitful and immoral people cannot stay there, even if they are very intelligent (and are aware of the Guru's noble qualities). They do not have their mental food there because they live on different food (deceit, lies, falsehood etc.). An individual who deals in truthfulness gets connected with Waheguru, while the pride of the deceitful and the liars is false. However, only those who have the prewritten letter (order) of Waheguru in their fortune get connected with Satguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Oojla = pure; purifying. Chit(i) Kuray = keeps in mind. Uvgoon = bad qualities. Vunjun(i) = run away. Ruveh(i) = come to stay.

MEANING: My Lord is mind purifying, and purifies those who keep Him in mind. We should serve only Him which is our permanent provider, and serving whom our troubles are eradicated, oh Nanak. In addition, by serving Him, our ignoble qualities go away, and virtues get embedded in our mind providing us ongoing blissfulness. 2.

Word Meaning: Vertda = operates. Taarri = deep meditation. Putiaayiun(u) = get interested. Oojhurr(i) = (misguided) in wilderness. Laayiun(u) = get to love.

MEANING: Waheguru operates everywhere in the universe (looks after everybody), and at the same time, He is in a deeply meditative state. He, Himself teaches us (gives His Naam) through the Guru who gets the devotees interested in it (the Naam). He, Himself, misguides some on the wrong path, while makes some others worship Him. Only those individuals understand His Huqam, whom He gives the ability to understand, and makes them recite His Naam. One receives everlasting honour by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 21.1. Verified.

Word Meaning: Deetth(u) = saw; found. Vichhurriyaan = disconnected Buseetth(u) = mediator. Drirraayaynda = reinforces. Roag(u) = suffering. Sunjog(u) = union.

MEANING: I found Satguru exactly the way I had heard about Him. He is the mediator in Waheguru's Court, and connects the individuals who are disconnected with Him. He emphasizes (reinforces) Waheguru's Naam-Mantra in the minds of the devotees which eradicates their suffering due to their haumein. However, Satguru connects only those individuals with Waheguru, who are predestined by Waheguru to do so, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ikk(u) = Waheguru. Vaad(i) = belligerent; enemies. Baad(i) = useless. Shaakut = worshipper of Maya. Doorjun = evil people. Bhermiya = misled.

MEANING: If Waheguru is the friend of someone (is liked by Waheguru), everybody (all his senses) becomes his friend (stays in his control); but if Waheguru is unfriendly with someone (ignores him), everybody (all his senses) becomes his enemy (gets out of his control, and harms him spiritually like an enemy). My Perfect Guru has shown me that everything is useless without Waheguru's Naam. The money-worshippers and the evil, who enjoy the taste (attractions) of Maya, are misled in life. But (I am lucky that) I have understood (made connection with) Waheguru with the grace of Satguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Brahmuttiya = Waheguru. Agumm = incomprehensible. Athaah = unfathomable. Puraiy Pruttiya = further, and further; endless. Muttiya = home; creation. Pergutiya = revealed. 1.

MEANING: The Creator has created the world (and His laws) all by Himself. He is the perfect moneylender (donor of the wealth of His Naam), and (by being present in humans), it is He who earns (acquires) it. Having created the world, He is fully imbued (is enjoying) its different colours (forms). Waheguru is incomprehensible, and nobody can ever know His worth (magnanimity). He is physically inaccessible, unfathomable, limitless and extends further and further. He, Himself, is the great emperor, and Himself, the minister (does not need any assistance). Nobody knows the extent of His creation; He is the eternal emperor, revealed through the Guru. 1.

Word Meaning: Locha = longing. Loarr(i) Luhou = find out. Jayvud = as great.

MEANING: I have a deep yearning to meet with (get connected with) Waheguru, but do not know how to see Him. I need to find a holy friend who may connect me with my Dear. The kind and the Perfect Guru connected me with Waheguru, and now I see Him wherever I look. I, a devotee of Him, have served Waheguru, who has no one as great as He is, oh Nanak.2.

Ker = hands. Anund Binoad = enjoys dramas. Serbdhaar = supports all. Sumruth = fully capable. Dinunt(u) = day. Gaavun Jogiya = worthy of praise. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Bhogiya = enjoy.

MEANING: What words can one use to praise Waheguru, who is the provider of all the basic necessities for His creation, and whom He protects, and delivers food with His kindness? Nothing is under the exclusive control of anyone, and everybody is dependent upon Waheguru. He raises us like His children and protects us by sheltering us with His own hands. He enjoys the drama of the world about which we know nothing. He provides support to everybody and is fully capable of doing anything and everything. I am a sacrifice for Him. MEANING: Always remember Waheguru (recite His Naam), which makes all your tasks successful, frees you from all the difficult situations (troubles), and protects you and your family, oh man. Waheguru hugs us like our mother and father, and raises us like His children. When Waheguru casts His kind sight on someone, he feels blissful, and everybody shows kindness towards him, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sir(i) = the topmost; biggest. Suntokheeya = providing contentment.

MEANING: Begging for anything other than Your Naam is an invitation to the biggest trouble, oh Waheguru. Kindly bestow Your Naam on me, which is the source of contentment, and which satisfies all one's appetites for Maya. Let alone the man (which is easy to give new spiritual life to), Satguru can infuse new life even into (all living beings in) forests and all vegetation, oh Nanak. 2.

Tupaa = self-afflicter. Perdhaan = leader. Bul(u) = force; ability. Juraiy = endures. Ajur(u) = unendurable (uncontrollable) spiritual state.

MEANING: Waheguru is such a great provider of everything that we cannot do (survive) without Him (His gifts like air and water) even for a short moment. So, how can we forget Him? He is with us inside and outside, so how can the man hide anything from Him? The individual, whose dignity is maintained by Waheguru (because of his virtues), swims across the world-sea (gets emancipated). Such an individual, whom Waheguru is kind to, is the true devotee, the real Giyani (has spiritual knowledge), and the real self-afflicter (devotee in his own approach). He is the true leader who is given the ability to endure the unendurable level of a high spiritual state (a high spiritual state is accompanied by supernatural powers which most people cannot control). But only that individual gets connected with Waheguru who has the Guru's Shabad in mind. 3.

I long for the dust of their feet (an opportunity to serve them), but one can get that only with good fortune. I am a sacrifice to those who are imbued with Waheguru's love. I will tell them the condition of my mind (yearning) and ask them to connect me with the friendly Royal Waheguru. Word Meaning: Vayla = time. Ghurri, moorut(u), Pul = (all mean) short moments. Saar(u) = supreme. Sunjograa = lovely time of union. Dursaar = holy sight. Ichhaan = wishes. Mohrra = attachments; strong basis. Oodhriyya = emancipated.

MEANING: Great is the time, supreme is the moment, and wonderful is the day of union with the Guru when I have His holy sight. All my wishes were fulfilled when I realized the inaccessible and limitless Waheguru. The strong root of my worldly attachments has been broken, and Waheguru's Naam is my only support. The whole world is saved when it begins to serve Waheguru; humbly submits the slave, Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sift(i) Slaahun(u) = praise. Bhugut(i) = worship. Virlay = rare. Saunpay = given. Bhundaar = treasures. Poochh = question. Rung(u) = love; affection. Ruttiya = imbued. Bhuttiya = (spiritual) food. Bhoonchaiy Bogyee = enjoys; takes in the spiritual food. Onahaa Jogiya = dedicate life. Jaaniya = recognized; made a connection with. Bhaaniya = are liked. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru gives (the love and the ability to sing) His praise and His worship to some rare individuals. He never questions those whom He gives the treasures of His worship. Those who get imbued in His love have only His Naam as the basis of their life and their spiritual food. The whole world enjoys the spiritual food of His Naam because of them (the beloved of Waheguru). Waheguru is dear to them, and they dedicate their life to Him. Those who come to Guru's shelter recognize Waheguru and get connected with Him. I am a sacrifice for those who are liked by Waheguru. 4.

Sunt = the source of peace (Waheguru). Sunjog = union. Bhogay Bhog = enjoys the (mental) food.

MEANING: I am friends only with Waheguru, and have love only for Him. He is my only friend, and I keep only His company (keep Him in mind all the time). I converse only with Him who never frowns at me, and never breaks up with me. He knows the situation of my heart (mind), and never withdraws His love for me. He is my only adviser, who is fully capable of destruction and creation. He is my only provider, and is at the top of the list of all other providers; also, He keeps His kind hand on the head of everybody (provides protection). He is my only support, and is fully capable of providing support to everybody. By placing His kind hand on my forehead, Satguru connected me with the Great Waheguru, which is the source of complete bliss, and which salvages the whole world. With the prewritten union with Waheguru, all my wishes have been fulfilled. Whoever acquires Waheguru’s Naam in his mind enjoys all the luxuries in life, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Kayri = of. Sunbundh = relationship. Bundh(u) = deep relationship. Jichur = for as long as. Tichur = for that long. Gunddh(u) = relationship. Gundh(u) = foul (unfriendly language). Saar = worth. Koorra = false; rooted in Maya. Chikkurr(i) = with mud. Phukkurr = false; spiritually worthless. Pittun Dhundh(u) = suffer in worldly affairs. Luptaaya = attached to. Huoun, Huoun = I and mine; selfishness and ego. Bihundh(u) = is spent.
MEANING: The friendship of the money-worshippers is rooted in Maya. As long as they get something to wear and to eat, they have a relationship with you, but the day they do not receive something, they begin to use foul language for you. Not only that, they never form a strong bond with you if their needs are not met, and they run away at the sight of you (if you need their help). They are ignorant and blind, and do not know the worth of your noble soul. Like a wall of stones in which the stones are joined with mud, a fake friendship (rooted in selfishness) does not last long. Such blind individuals do not even know their own interests (what is good for them, and what is bad), and suffer in (spiritually worthless) worldly affairs. They are attached to short-lived worldly attachments and spend their lives in ego and selfishness. The individuals who take Satguru's shelter with their predestined benevolence of Waheguru get salvaged, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Ruttay = imbued. Deedar = (Waheguru's) holy sight. Haak(u) = consider. Khaak(u) = dust (of feet). Maiyla = filthy. Vaykaar = vices. Paak = pure; holy. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Bherm = doubts; misbeliefs. Taak(u) = door. Dhaak = push away. Binduk = for a short moment. Jhaak(u) = kind sight. Mustuk(i) = forehead.
MEANING: Consider only those to be connected with Waheguru who are imbued in the love of His holy sight. How can I get the dust of the feet of those who have realized Waheguru? The mind, which has become filthy with vices, is purified in their company. The door of the mind, which is shut by misbeliefs and doubts, is opened, and they see the Residence of the eternal Waheguru. Those who are able to see Waheguru's Residence are not pushed (thrown) away from His Residence. They feel blissful in body and mind, even with a short glimpse of Waheguru's sight. One can acquire Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all the nine mythical treasures of the world, by reciting the Guru's Shabad. But only those get the dust of the feet of the Guru who have good fortune carved on their forehead. 5.

Maiynda = mine. Sadhaarun(u) = great (comfortable) support. Doojun = evil (Maya). Sayti = with. Nayh(u) = love. Kaarun(u) = reason. Ooni = partially empty. Jhooni = disappointed. Vihooni = devoid of. Doomut(i) = ignoble advice. Kerm = good fortune. Bhoolli = misled. Chooki = missed opportunity. Dosha = vices. Sundaysha = message. Sohaagun(i) = loved by husband. Bhaagun = fortunate. Aougun = ignoble qualities. Guvaayay = removed; cleared. Suvaari = groomed; made successful. Kerm-heen = unfortunate. Dhun = woman (human). Kud(i) = when. Maaneh(i) Ruliyaan = enjoy life. Moraari = Waheguru.

MEANING: There are a few words of spiritual advice for you which will get you salvation, oh, the beautiful young woman (human being) with big eyes like the deer. (You are very proud of your beauty, and are engaged in enjoying sensual pleasures, yet your mind is not peaceful. So, listen to the beautiful (worthy) words: my Dear Waheguru is the true support for your mind (to stabilize it and make it peaceful); but you are deeply attached to Maya, which is the basis of all evils, can you show me, tell me, the reason for that?

A: I am not short on anything, and I am not devoid of (good qualities), and I am not disappointed about that. It is just my bad fortune that I have lost (am disconnected with) my young and handsome dear Waheguru. I am not even misguided, have not missed some good opportunities, and I do not have any vices. Actually, I am doing just what Waheguru has planned for me, and that is the truth. Only that woman is loved by the dear Waheguru, and only she is lucky whom He is kind to. Waheguru holds such women to His chest (hugs them with love), destroys all their bad qualities, and grooms them with good qualities (to salvage them). They are lucky to enjoy the luxuries of His union. I am the unlucky one, waiting and always praying to Waheguru, asking Him when it will be my turn to enjoy His company even for a single night, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru fulfils all our wishes, so why are you becoming disheartened, oh, my mind? Remember the Waheguru-like Satguru who eradicates all our troubles. Recite Waheguru's Naam whereby all your sins will be washed away, and you will get rid of all your vices. Those who have prewritten their fortune are imbued with Waheguru's love. They give up all the bad (immoral) tastes (enjoyments) of Maya, and accumulate the wealth of the Naam of the limitless Waheguru. They obey His Huqam, and meditate on the Naam of the "One" (keep Him in mind) all the twenty-four hours. I, Nanak, beg only for Your holy sight as I have deep love for You, oh Waheguru. 2.

MEANING: The (lucky) devotee who keeps You in mind, always enjoys bliss, and does not suffer at the hands of the Angel of death, oh Waheguru. Word Meaning: Unnah = blind (of spirituality). Kooree = just for a show off. Chukkur = religious symbols. Dhaavaiy = rushes to. Viyaapiya = overpowered. Suntaapiya = suffering from. Baiyshno Naam = devotee of Vishnu. Kerm = deeds. Huoun Joogta = related to his ego and selfishness. Tooh = empty shells of grains. Huns = swans (Guru's Sikhs). Bug(u) = Bugula = heron (an imposter; hypocrite). Muchhi = fish; attractions of Maya. Taar = hook; focus of mind. Joarr(i) = match. Heera Moti = diamonds and pearls; noble qualities (it is an old belief that the swans pick only pearls). Mut(u) = lest; for the fear of.
Munj(u) Lukhaavaiy = expose self. Doash = blame. Ruttanee Bhrpooray = full of noble qualities. Praaput(i) = has in fortune. Maanuk = pearls. Toat(i) = shortage. Kootumb = family. Subbha Srisht(i) = the whole world. Chhudaavaiy = get emancipated.
MEANING: There are many people who worship their deities just to show off (are hypocrites to impress others). Spiritually, they are completely blind inside and outside (paint their bodies with spiritual symbols without knowing their significance), but rush to earn money. They have the filth of selfishness and ego, which does not come off as a result of which, they keep taking births again and again. They are overpowered by sleep and suffer from lust, but call themselves devotees of god Vishnu. With one's deeds rooted in selfishness and ego, his recitation of Vishnu's Naam is like thrashing the empty grain shells; so, what result can such a devotee hope to achieve from his such actions? Such a heron-like imposter, sitting among the swan-like Gur Sikhs, cannot become a swan because, like a heron, which focuses its mind on fish, the money-lover has its focus on monetary things.
When the swans (Gur Sikhs) ponder on the situation, they realize that the herons (money-loving imposers) are no match for them because, whereas the swans (Gur Sikhs) pick diamonds and pearls (noble qualities), the herons (money-lovers) go in search of toads (ignoble qualities). Afraid of being exposed, the heron flies away from the swans.
But even such impostors cannot be fully blamed for their behaviour, because people do the kinds of deeds for which they are preprogrammed by Waheguru, and that's what He likes. Satguru is such a holy pool which is overflowing with noble qualities, but only those who have them in their fortune acquire such qualities. The Sikhs assemble around the Satguru-Pool with His Will; pick up the jewel-like noble qualities, and never feel their shortage when they use them for themselves, or share them with others. A Gur Sikh never leaves Satguru (never becomes spiritually disconnected), and that is the Creator's wish. But only those devotees come to the shelter of the Guru who are predestined to connect with Him, oh Nanak. Not only does such a Sikh swim across the world sea, but he also ferries his associates, and in fact, the whole world, with him. 1.

Word Meaning: Buhouti Raaheen = in many ways. Korurr Moatth = a very hard, stone-like grain which does not cook. Viyaapiya = overpowered. Tishtus(i) = satisfied; peaceful. Dayha = body; mind. Koorreen = in Maya-related affairs. Joha = looks out for. Chhoho = irritation. Roha = excessive anger. Doormut(i) = Kooboodh(i) = ignoble advice (thinking). Kumoorra = extremely foolish. Thuggaiy = with the deceitful. Sraaf = goldsmith; evaluator. Ooghurr(u) Aaya = clearly visible. Rulaayay = mixed with. Purrda = curtain; coating. Munoorhoun = burnt (scrap) iron. Kunchun = gold. Nirvaiyr = unbiased. Aougun = vices; bad qualities. Shoodh(u) = pure. Mustuk(i) = on the forehead; in fortune. Sunayha = love; attachment. Vusayha = embeds.

MEANING: He calls himself a pundit (highly learned person) in many ways (explains religious books, performs ceremonies, teaches children, etc.), but has a stone-like hard heart (has no compassion for others). Because of his worldly attachments, he is always misled by his misgivings and never enjoys peace of mind (feels contentment). He wanders around in Maya-related affairs and looks out for money in every situation. If someone tells him the truth about himself, he feels highly irritated and irate. Overpowered by his ignoble thoughts and advice, the extremely foolish is attached to worldly things. He enjoys the company of deceitful people like him who have similar tastes. Because of his knowledge and his deceptive nature, he has the shine of gold (of pure and soft heart), but when the goldsmith-like Guru evaluates him with His sharp sight, he becomes clearly visible like burnt iron (impure and stone-hearted). He tries his best to hide himself among the noble people (to pass as one of them), but when the curtain is removed, his true nature is clearly exposed.

But when even a person like him comes to Guru's shelter, he gets transformed from scrap iron to pure gold. Satguru is completely unbiased (without any enmity), and He treats his sons and his enemies exactly the same way; He eradicates the bad qualities of an individual and purifies his body (and mind). However, only those individuals who have it prewritten in their fortune develop love for Satguru, oh Nanak. The Perfect Satguru's Bani (Shabad) is the real Amrit; an individual, who Waheguru is kind to, embeds it in his heart, his birth-death cycle is terminated, and he enjoys eternal blissfulness. 2.

MEANING: Only that devotee makes a connection with You whom You like, and He becomes successful in Your Court (is approved by You), oh Waheguru. The selfishness and ego of the individual on whom You cast Your kind sight are eradicated, and all his sins are destroyed who is satisfied with You. That individual becomes fearless who You side with (favour), and becomes pure like You when You are kind to him, oh Waheguru. The fires of worldly desires and of the mother's womb do not even touch the devotee whom you are benevolent to. You are always kind to the devotee who listens to (obeys) the Guru's Advice, oh Lord. 7.

MEANING: Please forgive all my ignoble deeds with Your benevolence, and enable me to recite Your Naam all the time while dropping on the feet of Satguru (surrendering to Him completely), oh kind Waheguru. Kindly come to dwell in my mind (enlighten my mind) and destroy all my (spiritual) troubles. Kindly extend Your hand to protect me against all worldly fears, and give me the ability to sing Your praise day and night, which should be my main daily business. Put me in the company of the holy saints so that my serious disease of haumein goes away. The one and only Lord is uniformly present everywhere. I have realized the "One" Waheguru with Guru's grace. Kindly give me the ability to sing only Your praise, oh benevolent Waheguru. My love for You (my wish for You) is that I should feel blissful to have Your holy sight, begs Nanak. 1.

MEANING: We should seek the shelter only of Waheguru, recite only His Naam, and love Him only; there is no shelter like His, oh my friends. There is only one Provider – Waheguru - we should ask for the fulfillment of our needs only from Him, as He gives you everything you need. We should remember Waheguru alone with our body, mind, every breath, and with every bite. Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of Amrit (to immortalize you by connecting with Waheguru), but it can be acquired (enshrined in the heart) only in the shelter of the Guru. Those holy saints are fortunate whose hearts are the dwelling place of Waheguru. It is only Waheguru, and none else, which is present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. With the willingness of the Lord, Waheguru, I wish to remember His Naam and recite it, oh Nanak.2.

MEANING: Who can kill (cause any harm) to the individual whom You protect, oh Waheguru? Such a devotee whom You protect, wins (overcomes the desire for the attractions of) the whole universe. The devotee, whom You favour, is pure all around, and his face shimmers with purity. Nobody asks for the account of his deeds on whom You cast Your kind sight, and he enjoys all the nine treasures of the world whom You are pleased with. But only those take the Amrit (of the Guru's Shabad) who have a thirst (longing) for it. The only noble deed to perform in this era of Kalyug, is to sing Waheguru's praise. The inaccessible, incomprehensible, and omniscient Lord is the ever-reliable Provider. You never change with time, bear no animosity towards anyone, are eternal, and eternal is Your Court, oh Waheguru. Nobody knows Your worth (transcendence), and You have no limits. Wishing for anything other than Waheguru's Naam is simply the poison of sensual pleasures and is like dust for spirituality. Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam are truly wealthy and are always blissful. Those who are in love with Waheguru's Naam enjoy the supreme bliss. I, too, worship the "One" Waheguru in the shelter of the holy saints as their slave, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: You cannot be won over (be pleased) by begging and imploring (with no honest love for You in mind), nor can You be pleased by studying the Vedas, oh Waheguru. You cannot be pleased by taking dips at holy places, or by roaming on the earth. You cannot be pleased by any shrewdness or by big donations (to Brahmans). MEANING: It is with Waheguru's Will that one becomes excited (overjoyed) sometimes, and calm at some other. It is also with Waheguru's Will that one accepts the discomforts and the comforts with the same spirit (becomes stoic). It is again with Waheguru's Will that a devotee recites His Naam day and night, who is endowed with it. It is with Waheguru's Will (Laws) that men die and take births, and become unknown or well-known. It is with Waheguru's Will that people experience grief, happiness, or blissfulness. It is with Waheguru's Will that one recites Guru's Shabad, which destroys all his troubles. It is with Waheguru's Will that the birth-death cycle of a devotee is terminated, whom Waheguru makes worship Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Ramkali Kee Vaar, Raayay Bulvund(i) Tuthaa Suttaiy Doom(l) Aakhi

NOTE: Sutta and Balvund were young cousins who were appointed official bards (musicians) by Guru Angad Dev Ji. They served the holy gatherings of Guru Angad Dev Ji, Guru Amar Dass Ji, Guru Ram Dass Ji, and continued to do so for Guru Arjun Dev Ji as well. In the early years of the Guruship of Guru Arjun dev Ji, His elder brother, Pirthi Chand, who believed that being the eldest son, Guru Ram Dass Ji should have passed the guruship to him, but when that did not happen, and Guru Ram Dass Ji deemed His youngest son, Sri Arjun Dev Ji, to be the most deserving Gur Sikh for Gurushiip, Pirthi Chand proclaimed himself to be the guru, and started a parallel gathering. With the help of his agents, he was able to misguide and persuade some innocent Sikhs to attend his gatherings and not to go to Guru Arjun Sahib's holy gatherings. As a result, the attendance at Guru Arjun Sahib's gatherings became very thin, and so did the offerings. The situation became so bad that it became very difficult even to run the free kitchen for the Sikhs and the needy, which was so dear to Sikhism.

During this period, Sutta arranged his daughter's marriage and asked Guru Arjun Sahib for a large sum of money for help. Guru Sahib explained His difficult financial situation, which was also known to the Bards. Guru Sahib did provide financial help to Sutta, but it was much less than he had demanded. So, the two cousins became highly displeased and left, fuming, to join Pirthi Chand's gatherings. They were highly conceited of their musical capabilities and were very confident that they were irreplaceable. Guru Sahib tried to stop them, but they were too conceited to stay. The attendance at Guru Sahib's gatherings was already thin, but it declined further with the cousins' departure. Guru Sahib sent many prominent Sikhs to placate them and persuade them to return, but their egos went through the roof with the lavish treatment they received from the prominent Sikhs, and they refused to return.

Being of a very kind nature, Guru Sahib Himself went to the cousins to win them back, but not only did they refuse to return, they even claimed that the bards could make or break someone's guruship. They went so far as to say that the bard, Bhai Mardana ji, had made (Sri) Nanak (Dev Ji) the Guru. Guru Arjun Sahib could not hear a single word against the greatness of Guru Nanak Sahib and was deeply hurt by that low-level comment. He left and declared at the next holy gathering that He could listen to anything said against Him, but not against the Great Guru Nanak Sahib. So, nobody should ever ask them to come back or to plead on their behalf, even if they wanted to. Guru Ji was so hurt that He even proclaimed that He would blacken the face of the Sikh who asked Him to accept them back.

Guru Sahib was a great musician Himself. He designed a new musical instrument similar to the rabab and began to sing holy Shabads at His gatherings. Soon, the tables were turned, and most of the Sikhs, who were misguided by Pirthi Chand, returned to Guru Arjun Sahib's Camp, and the size of the gatherings swelled to levels never seen before. Almost no Sikhs attended Pirthi Chand's false gatherings, so he told the bard cousins to quit. Upset with their earlier bad behaviour, no Sikh would even talk to them. They began to starve to death and approached many prominent Sikhs for help so that they could be forgiven by Guru Sahib and rehired. But everybody remembered Guru Sahib's edict that the individual's face be blackened for any pleading to Him on behalf of the bard Cousins. So, nobody helped them. Finally, they approached Bhai Luddha of Lahore, known for his munificence. Bhai Laddha was moved by their woeful tale and agreed to help them. As per Guru Sahib's huqam, Bhai Luddha blackened his own face, and accompanied by the cousins, appeared before Guru Sahib with folded hands and implored for forgiveness for the cousins. Guru Sahib was so moved by Bhai Laddha's kind and selfless act that he hugged Bhai Sahib and forgave the bards. The bards realized their grave blunder and sang praise of all five Guru Sahiban as admission of their blunder and as atonement. Guru Sahib very kindly enshrined their song of praise for the Gurus in Guru Granth Sahib as follows:

ਨਾਉ ਕਰਤਾ ਕਾਦਰੁ ਕਰੇ ਕਿਉ ਬੋਲੁ ਹੋਵੈ ਜੋਖੀਵਦੈ॥ ਦੇ ਗੁਨਾ ਸਤਿ ਭੈਣ ਭਰਾਵ ਹੈ ਪਾਰੰਗਤਿ ਦਾਨੁ ਪੜੀਵਦੈ॥ ਨਾਨਕਿ ਰਾਜੁ ਚਲਾਇਆ ਸਚੁ ਕੋਟਿ ਸਤਾਣੀ ਨੀਵ ਦੈ॥ ਲਹਿਣੈ ਧਰਿਓਨੁ ਛਤੁ ਸਿਰਿ ਕਰਿ ਸਿਫਤੀ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤੁ ਪੀਵਦੈ॥ ਮਤਿ ਗੁਰ ਆਤਮ ਦੇਵ ਦੀ ਖੜਗਿ ਜੋਰਿ ਪਰਾਕੁਇ ਜੀਅ ਦੈ॥ ਗੁਰਿ ਚੇਲੇ ਰਹਿਰਾਸਿ ਕੀਈ ਨਾਨਕਿ ਸਲਾਮਤਿ ਥੀਵਦੈ॥ ਸਹਿ ਟਿਕਾ ਦਿਤੋਸੁ ਜੀਵਦੈ॥ 1॥

Word Meaning: Naoun = fame; reputation. Kerta Kaadur(u) = the Creator. Boal(u) = words. Jokheenvdaiy = to evaluate. Day Goonaa = Divine qualities. Sut(i) =truthfulness; high morality. Bhaiyn Bhuraav = (like) siblings; naturally. Paarungut(i) = spiritual state required for salvation. Daan(u) = endowment. Purreenvdaiy = to acquire. Raj = kingdom (of noble principles). Sach(u) = high morality. Koat(i) = fort. Sutaani = very strong. Neenv = foundation. Chuut(u) = royal canopy. Khurrug(i) = sword. Prakooyay = power. Rehraas(i) = bowing down. Slaamut Theenvdaiy = while still in body. Tikka Ditta = established in position.

MEANING: Who am I (Balvund) to think of the right words to express the high worth (sing praise) of (Guru Nanak Sahib) whose fame had been spread by Waheguru all over the world? The Divine qualities, such as high morality and truthfulness, which are needed for salvation (and for which people work hard to acquire), were like siblings to Guru Nanak Sahib (they were innate in Him). Guru Nanak Sahib laid down the strong foundation of truthfulness and high morality to build the fort of the kingdom of noble principles and divinity, and started the noble reign (of Sikhism). He placed the canopy (crown) of Gurushiip on the head of Bhai Lehna Ji (who became Guru Angad Dev Ji), who was drinking the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam by singing His praise (with Guru Nanak Sahib's Bani). Using the Wisdom granted to Guru Nanak Sahib by Waheguru as the sword, and with His Divine force and power, Guru Nanak Sahib took out the original nature of Bhai Lehna Ji, and injected a new Divine life (soul) in him. Guru Nanak Sahib bowed down before Bhai Lehna Ji (this was the first ever time for Guru Nanak Sahib to have bowed to anyone in His life), and formally appointed Bhai Lehna Ji as His successor to Gurushiip when He was still alive. 1.

Jin(i) aakhee, Soyee kuray, Jin(i) keeti, Tinaiy thuttiyaiy. Kaun(u) haaray, kin(i) oovuttiyaiy. 2.

Word Meaning: Phayraayiyaiy = spread. Dohee = fame; reputation. Nanaka Khuttiyaiy = that (Guru) Nanak Sahib had earned. Jot(i) = spiritual light. Joogut = life-style. Saayay = the same. Sheh = Master; Guru (Nanak). Kaayaan = body. Jhoollaiy = waves. Nirunjuni = gifted by Waheguru. Tukhut = throne. Huttiyaiy = in the store of. Sil Alooni = tasteless rock. Joag(u) = for union. Chuttiyaiy = lick. Langar(u) = free food. Toat(i) = shortage. Ditt(i) = gift. Khehdi = used. Khaiyr(i) = as donation. Dubuttiyaiy = quickly. Noor(u) = Divine Light. Urshoun Koorshoun = from heavens. Jhuttiyaiy = dropping. Aidoon = such. Boalhoun =Words (of Command). Huttiyaiy = withdraw; refuse. Kaul(u) = commitment; Huqam. Paaliyo = honoured. Peerhoun = from Guru (Nanak Sahib). Kunnh Mooruttiyay = turned sideways; did not listen to. Khoataiy = impure. Aaki = rebellious. Oochaayin Chhuttiyaiy = carry burden (of disobedience). Thuttiyaiy = established. Oovuttiyaiy = earned; gained.

MEANING: Due to the great and holy reputation of Guru Nanak Sahib which He had earned, the fame of Bhai Lehna Ji also spread quickly as His successor as the people saw the same Divine Light in Angad Dev Ji as in Guru Nanak Dev Ji, and the same life style – it seemed as if Guru Nanak Sahib had simply changed His body (looks). The Divine canopy seemed to wave gently over Guru Angad Dev Ji's head; He took Guru Nanak Sahib's position in the shop where Waheguru's Naam was being disseminated. Guru Angad Dev Ji was just following the orders of Guru Nanak Sahib in the realm of spirituality, which was a very hard task, like licking a tasteless rock, in the path of union with Waheguru.

Guru Angad Dev Ji was running a free kitchen of spiritual food in the form of Waheguru's Naam, which never experienced any shortage. He was Himself using the Gift (of Waheguru's Naam) given by the Lord, and was also distributing it rapidly among the masses. Waheguru's praise was sung in Guru Angad Dev Ji's Court all the time, and Divine Light was dropping on Him from the heavens. People's filth of vices of their many previous incarnations was being washed away by having a holy sight of Guru Sahib.

Whatever Guru Nanak Sahib had advised, Guru Angad Dev Ji accepted as an eternal truth and never hesitated to follow it. Guru Nanak Sahib's sons did not obey their father's orders and turned their side (ears) away from Him (showing no respect). They had impure minds and became rebellious (believing that it was their right to inherit Gurushiip); they carried the burden of disobedience. It was not solely their fault, because nobody can gain or lose the Guru's favour on their own. Guru Nanak Sahib, who issued orders, also enabled Guru Angad Sahib (as per Waheguru's Will) to carry them out, and He was appointed the successor because He obeyed Guru Nanak Sahib's orders. So, who can we say lost or gained in this Divine intervention? 2.

Word Meaning: Keeti = performed (obeyed Guru's Huqam). Munn-na = is respected. Saal(u) = Saar(u) = supreme. Jivaahay = a type of long grass which grows in summer, but dies down in rain (against the natural law). Shaali = paddy; rice crop which thrives in rain (obeys natural law). Dulaali = mediation. Durhaali = right away; instantaneously. Bundh(i) Buhaali = established firmly. Saiy Daali = with hundreds of branches. Oomut(i) = disciples; Sikhs. Muskulaa = a brush, or a to remove rust. Dervaysh = dervish; a faqir. Laali = glow on the face. Kheevi = (highly respected) wife of Guru Angad Dev Ji. Chhaaoun Puturaali = dense shade of leaves. Kheer(i) Ghiyaali = rice pudding with ghee. Oojlay = radiant (with internal contentment). Theeyay = became. Puraali = pale like paddy straw. Kubool = approved. Ghaal = hard labour. Merdeen = befitting a holy man. Goyay = world. Ootthaali = accepted responsibility.

MEANING: Like paddy crop, which is better than jivaahaan because it obeys natural laws as opposed to the latter, which opposes them, the person who obeys Guru's Huqam, earns respect (and that is what Guru Angad Dev Ji did). He has become the Angel of Justice and listens to the problems of the Sikhs, takes them to Waheguru, and mediates on their behalf. Waheguru quickly accepts Guru Sahib's recommendations and fulfils them instantaneously. Guru Angad Sahib's fame spread very quickly, which Waheguru Himself established firmly for Him. It seemed as if Guru Nanak had simply changed his looks to become Guru Angad Dev Ji, and occupied the Throne (of Guruship) with hundreds of branches. Countless Sikhs were waiting at Guru Sahib's Door to diligently serve Him, and it seemed as if their rusted minds had been cleaned with the cleaning tool (Guru's Shabad). They were like faqirs at Guru Sahib's door whose faces were glowing with Waheguru's Naam and Guru's Shabad.

Balvund says, Mother Kheevi (Guru Sahib's consort) was also a very noble person who was like a shady tree with thick leaves (to provide motherly protection to the Sikhs). She was running free, but in a rich-food kitchen where Amrit-like rice pudding with lots of ghee was served (along with many other delicious foods). The Guru's Sikhs had a glow on their faces, while the faces of the money-lovers were pale like paddy straw. Mother Kheevi was also approved in Waheguru's Court when she performed the tasks befitting holy people, and it is she whose husband (Guru Angad Dev Ji) undertook the responsibility to lessen the burden of the world's sins. 3.

Word Meaning: Horiyon Gung Vuhaayiyaiy = reversed the direction of flow of River Ganga (has done something totally opposite to the tradition). Dooniyaavi = people of the world. Kiyon(u) = He did. Eshur, Jugun Nath = Lord of the world. Ooch-huddi = extremely high. Vaiyn = Words. Virkiyon(u) = spoke. Madhaana = churner. Naytur(u) = the rope to churn. Rirrkiyon(u) = He churned. Ruttan = the 14 mythical jewels. Aava-Gaun = cycle of rebirths; world. Chilkiyon(u) = polished. Aivud = such great. Pind = body (Guru Angad Dev Ji). Tthunkiyon(u) = He tested. Kiyaara Chhikiyon(u) = raised the neck (head); enhanced fame. Sayti = with. Mikiyon(u) = compared; equalized. Ghokh(i) Kaiy= searching thoroughly. J(i) = what. Kiyon(u) = has done. Soodhos(u) = tested carefully. Tikkiyon(u) = selected (appointed) for Gurushiip.

MEANING: The people of the world were totally amazed when they saw Guru Nanak Sahib bowing to His Sikh, Bhai Lehna Ji (which was completely opposite to the tradition where the disciple bows before the guru and not the other way around; and also, it was the first time ever for Guru Nanak Sahib to bow before anyone), and the people commented that it was like reversing the direction of flow of the River Ganga; what Had Guru Sahib done!! Guru Nanak Sahib, who is the Lord of the whole world (the whole universe), had uttered the Words (done an act) of highest transcendence. Comparing this action to the churning of the ocean by the gods and the demons who used the mountain Mayru as the churner and the Shesh Naag (the serpent with thousands of heads, and which is used as the bed for god Vishnu to sleep in the ocean) as the rope to spin the churner, and retrieved the 14 so called, jewels, Guru Nanak Sahib used His high concentration as the churner, and the snake-like mind as the rope, and churned the Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) to extract 14 noble jewels (the 14 Words of the Mool Mantra, and Great Souls like Bhai Lehna Ji) and enlightened the world. He displayed His great power (ability) by testing and approving a great soul like Bhai Lehna Ji for Gurushiip. He placed the canopy (crown) of Gurushiip on the head of Bhai Lehna Ji, and raised his head (honoured him) by spreading his fame to the sky. He sized Bhai Lehna ji to His own size, and injected His own Divine Light into Bhai Lehna Ji's soul. All the Sikhs saw what an amazing thing Guru Nanak Sahib had done when He chose Bhai Lehna Ji for Gurushiip after carefully examining His sons and the prominent Sikhs. 4.

Word Meaning: Phayr(i) = then; next. Pheruaan(i) = son of (Baba) Pheru Mull (Guru Angad Dev Ji). Vusaaya = inhabited; enhanced its fame. Khaadoor(u) = the famous village (in Amritsar district, now in Tarn Taran) where Bhai Lehna Ji met Guru Sahib for the first time. Mooch = much. Guroor(u) = conceit. Lub(u) = too much greed. Vinaahay = destroys. Maansaan = humans. Boor(u) = algae. Vurhiyaiy = showers. Noor(u) = Light. Haath = depth. Tthuroor = cooling ocean. Bhurpoor = full to capacity. Ninda = vilification. Vunjaiy Choor = is crushed. Maat Loak = world. Door(i) = further.
MEANING: (As advised by Guru Nanak Dev Ji), Guru Angad Dev Ji took residence in the Village of Khadoor, thereby enhancing its fame. The rest of the world is highly conceited, but the commonly recognized noble qualities were innate in Guru Angad Sahib. I, Satta, recognize that too much greed destroys the spirituality (morality) of the people just like algae destroys the purity of water. Divine Light shone in the Court (holy gathering) of Guru Angad Sahib, and He was such a cooling ocean (source of comfort) whose depth could not be known. His heart-treasure was overflowing with Waheguru's Naam, and whoever vilified Him was crushed (lost all his dignity if he had any). The vision of the people is limited to the visible world, but Guru Angad Sahib's vision went much, much farther (in the realm of spirituality and for the betterment of humanity). Then Guru Angad Sahib took dwelling in Khadoor. 5.

Word Meaning: So = Soyee = the same. Tikka = facial glow; halo; majesty. Behna = throne. Deebaan(u) = court. Piyoo = father (Guru Angad Dev Ji). Daada = grandfather (Guru Nanak Dev Ji). Poata = grandson (Guru Amar Dass Ji). Nayhi = the base (support). Taan(u) = Divine power. Smoond(u) = ocean. Viroliya = churned. Mudhaan = churner. Ghorra = horse. Sehj = peaceful state of mind. Jut(u) = chastity. Plaan(u) = saddle. Dhunukh = bow. Sut = high morality. Jus = praise (of God). Hunda = of. Baan(u) = arrow. Kul(i) = in the world of injustice. Dhoo Undhaar(u) = pitch dark. Sa = was. Raiy = rays. Bhaan(u) = sun. Sut-houn = from (with) high morality. Khayt(u) = crop (of noble qualities). Chhaavaan(u)

Soojhios(u) = got the understandin Nivaariyo = eradicated. Neeshaan(u) = identity card. Aouturiya = took birth. Purakh Soojaan(u) = the wise (Perfect) Waheguru. Jhukkhurr Vaaou = wind storms (attacks by the evil people); troubles. Doalyee = became weak-minded. Perbut Mayraan = the very tall Sumer Mountain. Birtha =situation. Jaani Hoo Jaan(u) = knows everything of others' minds. Sooghurr Soojaan = wise and know-all. Daan(u) = donation. Bhaavsi = is liked MEANING: The majesty, the throne, and the court of Guru Amar Dass were the same, and He enjoyed the same respect and reverence among the people as Guru Angad Dev Ji and Guru Nanak Dev Ji had enjoyed. Like Guru Nanak Dev Ji, and Guru Angad Dev Ji, Guru Amar Dass Ji also churned the ocean-like Guru's Shabad using his high transcendence as the churner, Shesh Naag (the mind) as the rope to spin the churner, and the Divine power as the base for the churner, and extracted the fourteen noble qualities to enlighten the world. (To disseminate the Divine message far and wide), He made his peaceful mind as his horse to ride with chastity as the saddle. And to hunt down the evils in the society, He used high morality as the bow, and loaded it with the arrow of Waheguru's praise.

The world in the present era of injustice and dissonance was enveloped in the pitch darkness of ignorance, but Guru Amar Dass Ji was like the sun's rays, enlightening the world. He raised a crop of good humans with the seed of high morality and also protected them with it. Delicious meals cooked with flour, ghee and sugar were always available in His free kitchen. With Guru's eternal Shabad in mind, the Sikhs recognized (made a connection with) Waheguru, which is present in all four directions. The birth-death cycle of the devotees was terminated, for whom Guru Amar Dass Ji granted the card of identification (to be approved in Waheguru's Court) with His kind sight.
It seemed that Waheguru Himself had taken birth in the form of Guru Amar Dass Ji, who had such a strong mind like Mount Mayru that no storm of any trouble (mental, physical, or sensual) could weaken it. He was such a know-all (omniscient) that He knew everyone's mental state. What praise of Yours can I sing when You are so wise and know-all, oh Guru Amar Dass Ji? Any donation that You like will make me (Sutta) perfectly happy.
The masses were surprisingly happy that Guru Amar Dass Ji had the same Divine canopy over His head as Guru Nanak Sahib. Guru Amar Dass Ji had the same majesty, the same throne, and the same court as Guru Angad Dev Ji and Guru Nanak Dev Ji, and was equally revered as they were. 6.

MEANING: Guru Ram Dass Ji is worthy of worship; Waheguru, who created Him, also groomed Him with all the noble qualities needed for Guruship. It was a complete supernatural happening that the Creator Himself appeared in the form of Guru Ram Dass Ji. The Sikhs and the other devotees bowed to Him, acknowledging Him as a manifestation of Waheguru. You are a manifestation of the eternal, unfathomable, and immeasurable Waheguru, and nobody can find the end of your limits, oh Guru Ram Dass Ji. You salvaged those who served You with love and reverence. You eradicated the whole family of their evil qualities, like gluttony, greed, lust, rage, and worldly attractions. The place where you live is also worthy of respect, and your holy gatherings are eternal. People think of You as manifestations of Guru Nanak, Guru Angad, and Guru Amar Dass Ji. My mind becomes peaceful at the sight of Your holiness. 7.

Word Meaning: Chaaray = the first four (Guru Sahiban). Jaagay = jugay = lighted up; source of enlightenment. Punchaayin = the source of the five elements (Waheguru). Aapeenaiy, Aap(i) = Himself. Thumm(i) = pillar of support. Putti = wooden board. Kulm = pen. Oomut(i) = the world. Nuvaan Niroaa = fresh (young) and healthy. Khivvaiy = shines. Chundooa = canopy. Oogvunhoun = from sunrise. Aathunhoun = sunset. Chuhoun Chukkeen = in all the four directions. Loaa = enlightenment. Moaa = (spiritual) death. Dhoaa = support.

MEANING: With Waheguru present in them, all four Guru Sahiban enlightened the people of all four eons. Waheguru, who illuminated Himself, provides spiritual support to Guru Sahiban. He is the wooden board (on which the children write); He is also the pen and the writer, who writes the guidelines to enlighten the world through the Gurus. The whole world comes and goes, but Waheguru is always young and healthy.

Now, Guru Arjun Dev Ji has occupied the Throne of Guruship, and His spiritual royal canopy (crown) shines majestically (His grandeur is recognized everywhere). From sunrise to sunset, and from sunset to sunrise, He is enlightening the world in all four directions. Those unlucky followers-of-their-mind, who do not serve the Guru, die a spiritual death. With the eternal support of the eternal Waheguru, Guru Arjun Dev Ji's Divine power is increasing by leaps and bounds. With Waheguru present in them, all four Guru Sahiban enlightened the people of all four eons. 8.1

Keh(i) Kaabir, suglay mud chhoochhaiy, ehaiy muhaa rus(u) saacho ray. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Klaalun(i) = the vat in which jaggery is fermented. Laahun = ingredients to make alcohol. Goorr(u) = jaggery. Mutsur = jealousy. Kus(u) = spices. 1. Dulaali = fee (as the mediator). Bhur(i) = equal. Mud(u) = liquor. Klaali = sever. Pause. Chutur-Dus = four and ten = 14. Bhuvun = worlds (some religions believe that there are 14 worlds in the universe). Bhaatthi = hearth; kiln. Jaari = burned (used for fuel). Moodra = lid. Muduk = pipe to carry vapours. Sookhmun = mind-comforting. Poachunhaari = wet cloth to condense alcohol vapours. 2.

Bert = commitments. Naym = principles. Sooch(i) =external cleanliness. Sunjum = control on senses. Ruv(i) = the right nostril. Sus(i) = the left nostril (the breathing exercises of the yogis in which they inhale through the right nostril, and exhale through the left. Gehnaiy Dayoun = to pledge; to mortgage. Soort(i) = concentration of mind. Piyaal = cup. Soodha = amrit. 3. Nijhur(u) = falls. Raato = intoxicated. Mud = intoxicants. Chhoochhaiy = hollow; of very low quality. Saacho = everlasting. 4.

NOTE: In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib disapproves of all yogic practices for realizing Waheguru (God) and emphasizes only His Naam.

MEANING: You drink alcohol before meditating with the belief that it enhances your concentration, oh, yogi. I also drink alcohol, but I use my body as the vat (container) to mix the ingredients to prepare the alcohol that I drink. Rather than using the jaggery that you use, I use Guru's Shabad, and cut my worldly desires, lust, rage, traditional intoxicants, and my jealousy for others into small pieces (crush them – destroy them), and use them as spices for my liquor. 1. I am also looking for some holy soul in a high spiritual state, whom I will offer rituals like recitation of mantras, and self-affliction as his fee (I do not need them as they are spiritually meaningless) if he could serve me with even a drop of such liquor (as described above) for which I will serve him with my body and mind. Pause.

I have made the attractions of all the 14 worlds my kiln (burn them to use them as the fuel) to distil my liquor, and have built the fire of Waheguru's Knowledge in my body (enlightened my heart). My concentration on Waheguru in a high spiritual state is acting as a lid to prevent the escape of the vapours of my liquor from the pipe that carries them. The blissful state of mind acts as a cooling pad to condense the vapours (this is the arrangement for distilling the traditional liquor). 2. I will pledge (get rid of) the traditional rituals like pilgrimage, worthless commitments and principles, external cleanliness, efforts to control senses, and the yogic breathing exercises, and drink the supreme Amrit-like liquor as prepared above out of the cup of my high concentration in Waheguru. 3.
My mind is intoxicated with the Amrit-like liquor of which a pure stream is dropping on my mind continuously. All intoxicants, other than this Amrit-like liquor which has everlasting effect, are hollow (of very low quality and wear out quickly in their effect, oh Kabir. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Giyan = Divine Knowledge (connection with God). Muhhooa = a tree of which the flowers are used to give a special flavour to the liquor. Bhaatthi = kiln. Dhaara = stream. Sookhmun Naari = the vein between the two eyes in which the yogis hold their breath for some time. Peevunhaara = eligible to drink. 1.
Aoudhoo = detached; yogi. Mutvaara = intoxicated. Oonmud Chudha = in high spiritual state. Mudun = intoxicating. Chaakhiya = tasted. Oojiyaara = brightness; light. Pause.
Dooyay Poor = the two stones (sky and earth). Rusaayee = lighted up. Bhaari = great. Julayta = fuel. 2. Gummit = having access to God. Soodh(i) = awareness; wisdom. Taas(u) = in that. Maata = intoxicated. Oochuk(i) Na = does not run out. 3.
MEANING: The devotee, who uses worship of God as the jaggery, his concentration as the flowers to add flavour, and his fear for Waheguru as the kiln for the liquor he wishes to prepare, drinks the resulting liquor whereby his mind attains the blissful state similar to the one which the yogis claim to attain when they hold their breath in the artery between the eyes. 1.
My mind is really intoxicated, oh yogi. Since I have tasted the intoxicating liquor which I prepare, my mind has attained the high spiritual state, and I see the Light of Waheguru everywhere in the universe. Pause.
I have used the appetite of my worldly attractions between the earth and the sky to fire up the kiln, and used my lust and rage as fuel, and have drunk the great tasting liquor thus prepared; as a result, all my worldly attachments have been cut off. 2.
With the Divine Knowledge of the Guru who is connected with Waheguru, my mind has been enlightened, and I have acquired the wisdom imparted by the Guru. I, a slave of Waheguru, am intoxicated with the liquor of that Knowledge which never runs out, oh Kabir. 3.2.

Ram Kabira ek bhuyyay haiyn, koyay na sukaiy puchhaani. 6.3.

Word Meaning: Mayru Pebut = the tallest mountain (a powerful support). Dolhou = shake; wiggle. 1. Ub ----- Kub = now, and always. Persad(i) = grace. Pause.
Bhurosaiy = with faith; rely on. Mug-hur(u) = a cursed town; it is believed that if a person dies in Mug-hur, he reincarnates as a donkey. Phoon(i) = then. Kaanshi (Varanasi, Banaras) = believed to be the city of Shiva. It is also believed that if a person dies in Banaras, he goes to paradise after death. 2. Nirdhun = poor; humble. Phoot(i) = by splitting; shamefully. Goomaani = egoists. Soola = thorn; irritating troubles. Kaadhun = to pull out. Chobh = pricks. Bilul Bilaatay = wail in pain. Puchaahi = suffer .4.
Raaday = rejected. Kaan(i) = owe obligation. 5. Singhaasun = throne of lion (king) (God); in highest spiritual state. Saaringpaani = Waheguru. Puchhaani = tell apart. 6.

MEANING: You are like the tallest mountain for me (strongest support), and I have taken Your shelter, oh God. Neither You shake (show any weakness), nor do I have any fear to fall down (of losing Your support), and You protect my dignity, oh God. 1.
I find You present everywhere, and I am always blissful with Your kindness. Pause.
With full faith in You, I took residence in Mug-hur (which is believed to be a cursed town) and the fire of my desires was put out. I had Your Sight first in Mug-hur, and then I came to reside in Banaras. 2. (People may be making a distinction between them), but I found Kaanshi (Banaras) and Mug-hur to be the same (similar). I was very poor (humble, with no ego); that is why I acquired the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, but those with great conceit suffer a very bad spiritual death. 3. Those who are conceited suffer from their pride like a thorn, and there is nobody to pull out their thorn of ego. They wail (implore for help) and suffer badly as if they were in a very frightening hell. 4.
For the holy saints, hell and heaven have no significance – they reject both of them. With the grace of my Satguru, I owe no obligation to anyone. 5.
Now, I have attained the highest spiritual state as I have been connected with Waheguru, and have become "one" with Him; nobody can tell us apart, oh Kabir. 6.3.

Word Meaning: Maanoun = show respect. Dootaan = the five demons (lust, greed etc.). Daanoun = punish. Kootvaari = hut (body). Pulosoon = massage. Kays = hair. Chuvur = whisk. Phayreen = wave over head. 1. Kookur = dog. Bhuounkeh(i) = bark (to scare away the dog-like demons). Budun = mouth. Pusaar(i) = aggressively. Pause.
Dhoon(i) Sehj Kee = Shabad leading to high spiritual state. Dugaayee = branded (with Waheguru's Naam at heart). Run = battle field (to fight against vices). Joojheh(i) = fight valiantly. Kotthray = room; head. Kotthri = smaller room; brain. Perm = supreme. Bust = (the valuable) thing (Shabad).

MEANING: My body is my property (have control over it); I show all the respect for the holy saints, but punish the demons (lust, greed, etc.). I wish to massage Your feet (serve You), and use my hair as the whisk to fan over Your head (an act of reverence) day and night, oh God. 1. I am a dog in Your Court (in Your shelter) and bark aloud (sing Your praise to scare the dog-like demons away). Pause.
I was Your servant (devotee) in my previous life, the effect of which cannot be erased now (I am still Your devotee). The sweet music of Guru's Shabad in Your Court leads to the high spiritual state, and brands my forehead (is carved on my mind). 2.
Those who are branded (have Your Shabad engraved on their minds) fight valiantly against the demons in the battlefield of life, and those who are unbranded run away (yield to them). A saintly person recognizes the worth of Waheguru's worship, and Waheguru puts that in His treasure in his name (gives him full credit for that). 3.
The brain in the human head becomes a supreme place when it ponders on the Guru's Shabad. The Guru gave His Shabad to Kabir Ji, who carefully secured it in his mind. 4.
Kabir disseminated it among the people, and the lucky ones enshrined it in their minds. Those who drank the Amrit of Guru's Shabad became permanently married to Waheguru (got connected with Him). 5.4

Ram(u) na boleh(i) paanday, dojuk(u) bhureh(i). 1. Ruhaou. Aapun ooch, neech ghur(i) bhojun(u), hutthay kerm kur(i) oodur(u)bhureh(i). Chaudus ammavus ruch(i), ruch(i) maangeh(i) ker deepuk(u) laiy, koop(i) pureh(i). 2. Toon Brahman(u), mein Kaasheek joolha,mooh(i), toh(i) buraaburi kaiysay kaiy buneh(i). Humray Ram Naam keh(i) oobray, Bayd bhurosay, paanday doob(i) mureh(i). 3.5.

Word Meaning: Bayd(u) = knowledge; the Vedas. Gayatari = a holy mantra of Hindus which is believed to be uttered by Brahma who is also believed to be the author of the Vedas. Bisur(u) = forget. 1. Paanday = oh, Brahman. Dojuk(u) = hell. Bhureh(i) = pay the debt; endure punishment. Pause. Hutthay Kerm = deeds for show off only. Oodur(u) Bhureh(i) = fill stomach. Pause. Chaudus = a day before the full moon. Ammavus = the day of new moon (both these days are preached to be auspicious by Brahmans). Ker = (in) hands. Koop = open well. Kaasheek = of Kaanshi. Joolha = weaver. Buraaburi = equality. Oobray = salvaged. Bhurosay = with faith in.

MEANING: (You believe that god Brahma uttered the Vedas and the Gayatri Mantra, and you teach those to the people), but why do you forget God, (who gave Brahma the wisdom to write the Vedas and the Gayatri Mantra), oh Brahman? Why do you not utter “God” whose Feet the whole world touches (shows respect)? 1.

Why do you not utter Waheguru, oh my Brahman? You do not say “God” (recite His Naam), so you will have to suffer punishment in hell. Pause.

You consider yourself to belong to the upper class, yet you eat at the homes of the lower classes to fill your stomach with fake religious rituals. You deceive people by creating (declaring) some days as being auspicious, which is (spiritually) like falling into an open well with a lamp in hand. 2.

You are an (upper-class) (conceited) Brahman, and I am a (lower-caste) (humble) weaver of Kanshi; how can we be equal? People, humble like me find salvation by reciting God’s Naam, while people conceited like you who have faith in Vedas only, die spiritual death by drowning in the world-sea, oh Brahman. 3.5.

Word Meaning: Turvur(u) = tree. Anunt = countless. Daar = Shaakhaan = branches. Pohp = flowers. Baarri = garden. Pooraiy = Perfect. Kuriya = created. 1. Jaani = understood. Raja Ram = God. Birlaiy = rare. Pause. Bhuvur(u) = bumblebee. Beedha = attracted to; lost in itself. Baarh = the twelve petals of the (fully opened) flower. Oordhuriya = sucks the sap. Soreh ---- Jhukoriya = the yogis recite their mantra sixteen times and inhale air (a devotee recites Waheguru’s Naam with every breath). Akaashay = in the sky (high spiritual state). Phurphuriya = flaps wings; takes flight. 2.

Sehj Soon = in high spiritual state. Birva = plant (from the garden of Waheguru; His Naam). Dherti = the land of heart. Julhur(i) = cloud; mirage (desire for short-lived luxuries). Sokhiya = absorbed. Daykhiya = saw; experienced. 3.

MEANING: With my mind enlightened with God's Light (Divine Knowledge), I have come to realize the saga of the Emperor, God, which rare people understand. Pause.

I have realized that the world is like an orchard of Naam- Amrit created by God in which He is like a tree with countless branches, twigs, flowers, and leaves which are full of sweetness (of His Naam-Amrit). 1. Like a bumblebee, which, attracted by the sap of fully opened flowers, gets absorbed in itself (feels blissful) sucking the sap of the flower; and like a bird which takes flight, and enjoys in the wide-spread sky; and like a yogi who inhales and holds his breath after reciting his mantra sixteen times, a devotee takes flight in the high spiritual world by reciting God's Naam with every breath, and attains the blissful state. 2.

He feels as if a plant from God's Garden (a part of His) has been implanted in his heart, which sucks up the water of worldly desires, which are like a mirage. I will be a happy slave of the devotee who has seen such a plant (experienced the blissful state), oh Kabir. 3.6.

Punch tutt laiy hirdaiy raakhoun, ruhhaiy niraalum, taarri. Keht(u) Kabir(u), soonhou ray sunthou dherm(u) duyya kur(i) baarri. 3.7.

Word Meaning: Moan(i) = quietening (of wandering mind). Jhoali = the bag of the yogis used to collect dry food. Puttarka = the shallow dish to receive alms. Khintha = the quilt of rags that the yogis wear. Seevoun = stich with (God). Adhaar(u) = support, food. 1. Joag(u) = union with God. Kumaavhou = work for. Bhogi = enjoys. Pause.

Punch Tutt = (the root of) the five elements (Waheguru). Niraalum = detached. Taarri = long deep meditation. Baarri = garden; crop. 3.

MEANING: (The symbols of your faith do no spiritual good for you). To connect with God, quieten (control) your mind (to make it peaceful) which should serve as your earrings; compassion for others should be your bag, and pondering on Guru's Shabad should be your shallow dish in which you receive alms, oh yogi. Stitch your body to God (connect with Him with love), making His Naam the basis of your life, which will serve as your quilt of rags. 1. Practise such Yogism, oh yogi. The qualities of recitation of mantras, self-torturing, and efforts to control their senses come to the devotees of the Guru naturally (they do not need any of those), for which you strive very hard. Pause.

Acquiring Guru's wisdom (advice) should be the ash which you coat your body with, and deep concentration on God's praise should be the bugle you blow into. I also play the lute, but, detached from the world, I search for God in my own body, which is my lute. 2.

I keep the root of the five elements (God) in my mind, which is my deep, long meditation, which keeps me detached from the world. To raise the crop of high morality and compassion in the field of their heart is the message of Kabir for the noble people. 3.7.

Chintamun(i) = a stone that is believed to fulfil all wishes (God). Nimukh = moment. 1. Upraadhi = guilty; sinner. Bhaaou-Bhugut(i) = worship with love. Saadhi = practised. Pause. Pur = of others. Damodur = a name for God. Bhugut(i)- Buchhul = lover of His worship. Bhaiy-Haari = destroyer of fears. Bheer = difficult situation; trouble. 5.
MEANING: Do you know the objective for which you were created in the world by God, and what you have achieved after taking birth, oh my mind? You have not connected, not even for a short moment, with God, which is the ship to ferry you across the sea of Maya, and which (like the mythical precious stone), fulfills all your wishes. 1. We are Your sinners, oh God. You gave us body and life, but we have not worshipped you with love. Pause.
We have not stopped to cast an evil eye on the wealth and the women of others, to vilify them, and to pick up fights with them, oh God. As a result, our birth-death cycle never terminates, and we take rebirths again and again, and the story continues. 2.
I have never paid a visit to the house of worship where the holy saints sing Your praise, and have lived in the company of the lustful, the thieves, the evil, and the addicts. 3.
Lust, rage, money, intoxicants, and jealousy have been my wealth, and I never performed any noble deed of compassion, high morality, or service to the Guru, even in my dreams. 4. I pray to God, who is compassionate to the poor (humble), kind, a lover of His worship, and the destroyer of all fears, that I am in big trouble spiritually, kindly protect me, and allow me to serve you, begs Kabir. 5.8.

Word Meaning: Mookut(i) Dooaar(u) = door to salvation. Baiykoontth(i) = in paradise. Sunsaar(i) = in the reincarnation cycle. Toor = musical instruments. Bhurpoor = to full capacity. 1. Nunkaar(u) = hurdles (by sensual desires). Bhaar(u) = burden (of sins). 2. Kayl = enjoyments. Baandh Dhuriyo = assembled and placed Umerk(u) = immortalizes. Bikh(u) = poisons. 3.
Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Kuntth(i) Puroyay = stitch to your throat (your tongue). 4. Kaan(i) = subservience; shortage of noble qualities. Putumbur = silky bed. Taan(i) = pull over. 5. Sookhaali = comforting. Bigsaiy = blooms. 5. Bulaayay = troubles. Pohaiy = touch; affect. Maayay = Maya. 6. Rus Bhog = enjoy sweetness. Sunjog = with good fortune. 7. Tunt Na Munt = no incantation and mantra. 8.

MEANING: One cannot attain emancipation without remembering (reciting Naam of) God. So, recite only His Naam, oh my friend. Pause.

With the recitation of God's Naam, one reaches the door of emancipation, and goes to paradise (Waheguru's Residence), and is not trapped in the birth-death cycle. He attains the spiritual state of fearlessness and feels as if the Divine musical instruments are playing in his mind to full capacity (he will not feel any loss in that state). 1.

No worldly attraction (desire) can erect any obstacle in his path to union with Waheguru, and he is freed from worldly bonds, and all the burden of his sins is lifted from him. He bows to Waheguru in his heart, and his cycle of rebirths is terminated. 2.

One enjoys all the luxuries of life by reciting Waheguru's Naam as his mind is enlightened by the lamp (of Waheguru's Naam), which requires no oil, and which has been lighted up by Waheguru. Such a lamp burns away demons like lust and rage from his mind, and makes him immortal (by uniting him with Waheguru). 3.
So, remember Waheguru whose Naam should be on the tip of your tongue; by doing so, you will achieve the high spiritual state, oh my friend. If you remember Waheguru and do not ignore Him, you will swim across the world-sea with Guru's grace. 4.
Drink always the Naam-Amrit because of which you will not have to be subservient to anyone, and you will feel as if you have a comfortable sleep in a silky bed in a palace. Your heart-bed will be very comforting, and your mind will bloom with blissfulness, oh my friend. 5.
Keeping Waheguru in mind, one should sing His praise all the time, as a result of which, all his troubles disappear, and Maya has no negative impact on him. But remember, one acquires Waheguru's Naam only from Satguru. 6.
Always recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, whether you are standing or sitting, and with every breath and every bite, oh my friend. Enjoy the sweetness of the recitation of the Naam while you are awake or asleep. However, we get to recite His Naam only with good fortune. 7.
Waheguru's Naam becomes the eternal support (basis) of one's life, and he carries no burden of sins. No incantation or mantra works on (have any effect on) the devotee of Waheguru, which has no ends, oh Kabir. 8. 9.

Word Meaning: Bundhuch(i) = captivating Maya. Bundhun = stoppage; insurmountable wall. Mooktaiy = emancipator. Anul(u) = fire (of desires). Nukh = toe nails. Sikh = top of head. Cheena = studied. Mujun = bathing; cleansing of mind. 1. Puvun = wind (like unstable mind). Put(i) = master. Puvunput(i) = master of mind (human soul). Oonmun(i) = in blissful state. Khuraa = good; best. Mirt(u) = death. Juraa = old age. Pause. Shukut(i) Suhaarung(u) = support of (dependence on) Maya. Guggun Mujhaarung(i) = in high spiritual state. Baydhiulay = pierce. Chukkur = the six circles (where arteries meet together and divide into branches) that the yogis believe are there in the body. The yogis practise many breathing exercises in which they lift their breath from the bottom to the top through all these circles. They are very difficult exercises. Bhooyunga = a coiled artery which is also used in breathing exercises.2. Muyyiaasa = hopes based on worldly attachments. Sus(i) = moon (peacefulness of mind). Soor = sun (heat) (fire of desires). Giraasa = swallows. Koombhuk(u) = controlling breath (mind). Bhurpoor(i) = (with God) which is present everywhere. 3.

Buktaiy = the speaker (Guru). Soontaiy = the listeners. Saarun(g) = supreme gist. 4.

MEANING: Staying in the high spiritual state (with the recitation of Waheguru's Naam) is the supreme state for the human soul (all other approaches – including the path of Yogism - are insignificant in comparison). One does not suffer from the fear of death or of old age in this high state. Pause. The emancipator Guru put out the fire of my worldly desire by kindly giving me Waheguru's Naam, which created an insurmountable wall against the captivating Maya to protect me. When I searched (examined) my mind from top to toe, my soul had a bath (got purified) within my mind. 1.
My thinking, which had relied heavily on Maya's support before, reversed direction (towards Waheguru), and now my mind is flying in the high spiritual realm. (The yogis work very hard to connect all their body circles with control on their breath to strengthen their ability to acquire supernatural powers), But I have pierced all the circles without any special effort (I do not need to do any such exercises) as I have been connected to the Royal Waheguru without any impediment. 2. All my hopes (wishes) based on worldly attachments have disappeared, and the calmness of my mind has swallowed the fire of my desires. When the pitcher of my heart was filled completely with Waheguru (when my mind was fully absorbed in Waheguru), I began to feel as if a Divine lute was playing in my mind. 3.
The speaker, Guru, spoke His Shabad (delivered His Divine Message), and some of the listeners embedded it in their minds. Kabir gives the supreme gist of the whole Shabad, that if one recites Waheguru's Naam, he swims across the world-sea. 4.1.10.

Word Meaning: Jot(i) Sroop(u) = reflections of God. Joti = light (all creation). Anoop(u) = beautiful; lovable. 1. Pusaar(u) = all creation. Heeray = to God. Adays(u) = bow to. Nirunjun(u) = God. Alaykh(u) = incomprehensible. 2.
MEANING: (People worship Waheguru's creations like) the moon and the sun, but do not realize that they are only His reflections, and the lovable Waheguru is present in all his creations (so, He is the only power to worship). 1.
Contemplate on the Supreme Being, oh, wise man. He has placed His Light in all His creation. Pause. When I see a diamond, I bow to the real Diamond (Waheguru) who created it. Waheguru is incomprehensible, oh Kabir. 2.2.11.

Neemb(u) = lemon tree. Aamb = mango. Kayla = banana. Jhaar(i) = thorny tree. Naaliayr = coconut. Saybur = simmal tree. 1. Khaand = sugar. Rayt(u) = sand. Bikhuriyo = mixed in. Hustee = elephant (highly conceited person). Chooniyo = picked up. Kool = clan. Paant(i) = ancestry. Tuj(i) = give up. Cheenti = ant. 2.

MEANING: Be aware, and stay alert, you are being robbed (of your spiritual wealth) while you are still awake, oh, the folks of the world. Even though you trust the religious books as being clever guards, the Angel of (spiritual death) still takes you away. Pause.

The idiotic, stupid, and ignorant people mistake a lemon for a mango, a mango for a lemon, and mistake a ripe banana for a fruit in a thorny bush. Likewise, they mistake a coconut for some ripe fruit hanging from the simmal tree, (They cannot distinguish between the noble and the ignoble qualities). 1. If we imagine Waheguru as sugar mixed in sand, then an elephant (highly conceited individual) cannot pick it; but if one gives up his pride of belonging to a high clan, his high caste, and his reputed ancestry, and becomes humble like an ant, he can enjoy its sweet taste, oh Kabir. 2.3.12.

NOTE: Bhagat Trilochan was a contemporary of the highly famous Bhagat Nam Dev Ji. Once Trilochan Ji went to see Naam Dev Ji, expecting him to be sitting in meditation, remembering God. But Trilochan Ji was shocked when he saw that Naam Dev Ji was printing bedsheets. Giving examples from everyday life, Naam Dev Ji explained to Trilochan Ji that as long as one’s mind is stitched to God, one can (and should) work with one's hands and feet while keeping God in mind.

Word Meaning: Aaneelay = brought. Gooddi = kite. Mudhay = in. Bhermiulay = fly. Punch Junaa = a few friends. Baat Butuooaa = conversation. Dori = string. 1.
Baydhiulay = stitched. Kunik Kulaa = goldsmith. Maandiulay = focus on. Pause.
Koombh = pitcher. Ooduk = water. Raj Kooaar(i) = young, unmarried. Poorunduriyay = from the town. Hust Binod = laughing and having fun. Gaagur(i) = vessel of water. 2.
Mundar(u) = big house. Guoo = cows. Churravun = to graze. Chhaadiulay = let loose. Koas = a unit of distance (about 2.2. km). Buchhra = calf. 3. Nadeo = Naam Deo. Paalun = cradle. Puoudhiulay = put in. Kaaj Biroodhi = very busy with chores.
MEANING: Like a goldsmith, who works with his hands, but keeps his mind fully focused on the ornament he is designing, my mind has been pierced (stitched) with Waheguru's Naam (even though I am working with my hands and feet), oh Trilochan Ji. Pause.
Look, the young boys buy thin paper, cut it to make a kite, and fly it high in the sky. They talk among themselves, yet their minds are always in the string (to control the kite). 1.
Young unmarried girls from the town go to a water source (pool, river, etc.) to fetch water. They fill their vessels with water, carry them on their heads, and, while walking back, joke around among themselves and have fun; yet their minds are always on balancing the vessels they carry on their heads. 2. For another example, consider the cows which are taken from a big house with ten (many) doors, to graze 10 -11 km away. While the cows are grazing, their minds are still in their calves. 3.
Lastly, a mother puts her baby in the cradle, and gets very busy with the house chores, but her baby is always on her mind, oh Trilochan. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Akhund Mundul = the eternal place (Residence). Unhud = Divine music. Bayn(u) = flute. 1.
Bairaagi = detached from the world; in love with God. Uteet = detached. Anahud(i) = in immortal God. Aakool = which has no clan (God). Pause.
Irra, Pingula, Sookhmuna = the three breathing centres of the yogis. Paunaiy = air; wind-like capricious mind. Bundh(i) = control. Chund(u) = moon - a symbol of coolness; comforts. Sooruj(u) = sun – symbol of hotness; discomforts. Braham Jot(i) = God's Light (Soul). 2. Paiysoun = enter. Sutaavoungo = cause discomfort. Ghut = heart. 3. Punch Suhaayi = with the support of the five demons. Sobha = praise. Bhulaa = noble; praiseworthy.

Raata = imbued. Soonn(i) Smaadh(i) = spiritual state where no worldly thoughts arise. Smaaoungo = am absorbed.

MEANING: (Unlike most people who perform many rituals to please their deities, I do not perform any such ritual to please my God), I simply sing His praise while detached from the worldly attractions. 1. Imbued in Waheguru's love with Guru's Shabad, and detached from the world, I get connected with Waheguru, which has no clan. Pause.

Rather than holding my breath like the yogis do in their breathing exercises, I control my ever-wandering mind, and I treat comforts and discomforts the same way, as a result of which I get absorbed in Waheguru's Soul. 2. (People take dips at holy places), But I will not enter the water so as not to scare the life in there. My Guru has shown me the 68 holy places in my own heart, where I take a dip to cleanse my mind. 3.

I do not need any praise from the people; the support of my five demons (my control on them) is my true praise. Imbued in Waheguru's love, I get absorbed in the meditative state where no worldly thoughts arise, oh Nam Dev. 4.2.

Nama prunvaiy Perm Tutt(u) haiy, Satgur hoyay lukhaaya. 3.3.

NOTE: The Hindu Granths teach that man is given a human form as a result of his deeds in previous lives. Nam Dev Ji questions this assertion in this holy Shabad (and believes that human life is given to a soul by God's kindness as well).

Word Meaning: Kerm(u) = deeds. 1. Kayra = of; belongs to. Punkh(i) = birds. Pause. Khaychur Bhoochur = inhaling and exhaling in yogic exercises. Toolsi = basil. Maala = rosary. Perm Tutt(u) = the root of all (God). Lukhaaya = shows; explains.

MEANING: (You believe that one gets human life based on his previous deeds), but (at the beginning, when there was no universe yet) there was no mother, no father, and no human body, so where did the deeds come from? When I was not there, and you were not there, how can we say who came from where? 1.

Like a tree on which the birds spend their nights, the world is a place to visit only for a short time. Nobody belongs to anyone permanently, oh God. Pause.

When there was no moon, no sun, and the water and the air were all mixed together (nothing was there). When there were no Vedas and no Shastras (which define good and bad deeds), how could the deeds be evaluated (to make a decision by God)? 2.

By Guru's grace, I learned that there is no significance in yogis' breathing exercises or in wearing a rosary of basil; Nam dev humbly submits that Satguru explained to him that only the Naam of the Supreme Being, which is the root of everything, is important. 3.3.

NOTE: The Hindus believed that they could please their deities by torturing themselves, even killing themselves, by donations to the Brahmans, and by pilgrimages. Nam Dev Ji disapproves of all such approaches and even condemns them. He advises that God can be realized only by singing His praise.

Word Meaning: Tup(u) Oolt(i) = recite some mantras by suspending upside down. Duhaiy = burn in fire. Kaaya Kulp = keep the body healthy through various means to prolong life. Asumaydh Jug = a religious ceremony in which huvuns are performed and horses are sacrificed. Gerbh = secretly. Sur(i) = equal. Tuou = all those. Poojaiy = reach. 1. Pakhundi = hypocrite. Kupt = deceitfulness. Nit Niteh = always. Pause.

Gunga, Godavari, and Gomti = are all holy rivers. Koomb(i) = at the time of a special festival which takes place once every twelve years. Kedar = a temple of Shiva in the Himalayas at a height of 11753 ft. Suffering a defeat at the hands of the Pandavas, Shiva escaped to this place, transformed him into a buffalo and hit the maintain. His head got thrust into the mountain and only the back is visible. Sehs = thousands. Guoo = cows. Hivaalay Gaaray = let body rot in the ice of Himalayas. 2.

Us = horses. Guj = elephants. Sehja Naari = bed with wife. Bhoom(i) = of land. Aatum Nirmaayil = offer self to the gods. Kunchun = gold. 3. Roas(u) = resentment. Nirmul Nirbaan = pure and detached from the worldly attachments. Pud(u) = state. Cheen = recognize; attain. Jusruth Rai = Raja Dusruth (father of Rama). Nund(u) = son. Prunvaiy = requests; humbly suggests. Tutt (u) = the root (God). Amrit(u) Rus(u) = sweetness of God's Naam.

MEANING: Quit your deceitfulness, and recite God's Naam all the time, oh hypocritical man. Pause.

You may torture yourself by dangling upside down in Banaras; or die at some holy place; or burn yourself in fire; or prolong your life by staying healthy; or perform a yagna at which you sacrifice horses; or donate gold secretly – none of such acts or efforts come even close to the recitation of God's Naam (to please Him). 1. You may go to the holy rivers - Ganga, Godavari, or Gomti - at the time of the Koombh(u) festival, or even to Kadar Nath to take dips; or donate thousands of cows; or visit holy places millions of times; or freeze your body in the ice at Himalayas - none of such performances matches God's Naam. 2.

You may donate horses, elephants, or even your wife along with the bed, or donate land, and make such donations every day; or offer yourself to the gods; or donate gold equal to your own weight – none of such donations matches God's Naam. 3.

If you do not want to recite God's Naam, then you cannot resent and blame anyone when the Angel of death takes you away. Recognize (make connection with) God to attain the pure and worldly-detached spiritual state, oh man. One should drink the sweet Amrit of the Naam of God, which is the origin of everything, and is supreme in taste. For me, God's Naam is Sri Ram Chandra, who is the son of Jusruth, oh Nam Dev. 4.4.

MEANING: The man is so overpowered by lust, rage, Maya, intoxicants, and jealousy that he is being robbed of his good spirituality by these five demons, as a result of which he has fallen victim to doubts and misgivings which he cannot get rid of. (Like rusty and impure iron, his mind has been corrupted, and he has become merciless). Pause.
So, even though he reads the holy books and ponders on them, and listens to the Naam, he does not experience any bliss that comes with the Naam. Like iron, which cannot turn into gold unless it is touched with the elixir-stone, how can such an unholy person become pure and soft-hearted unless he comes to the shelter of the elixir-stone-like Guru? 1.
People are highly conceited of their traits, high caste, and faith etc. that their thinking of being great poets, belonging to high clans, being highly literate, or being Yogis, Sanyasis, knowledgeable, valiant, and donors etc., never goes away. 2.

Nobody understands the real purpose of life, and people are misled from the true path of life, as if they were insane, oh Ravidass. The basis of my soul is the Naam of Waheguru, which is also the wealth of my life. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Irra, Pingula, Sookhmunaa = the three arteries which the yogis use for breathing exercises. Ikk Tthaayayn = at one place. Piraag(u) = a holy place for the Hindus. Here three rivers – Ganga, Yamuna, and Sersvati (a hidden river) merge together. 1. Gum(i) = to go. Cheenaiy = recognizes; makes connection. Birla = rare. Rummuyyiya = omnipresent (God). Hoyay = is. Pause. Dayv Suthaanaiy = Waheguru's Residence. Neeshaani = signs of recognition. Teh = there. Unahud = Divine. Saakhi = Advice. Jaagi = awakens; enlightened. 2. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Chheejaiy = weakens; vanishes. Gugnuntar(i) = the tenth door; high spiritual state. Kulaa = technique; secret. Taas(u) = him. Bhaytaiy = gets connected with. Perm Gur Deo = the Supreme Being. 3.
Agumm = inaccessible. Apaara = with no ends. Ghaati = dwelling. Haat = shop; head. Aala = niche; brain. Thaati = wealth (of Waheguru). 4.

Kubhoon Na = never. Tilok = (wealth of) the three worlds. Pulovaiy = disappears. Beej Muntar = Waheguru's Naam. Soonn meh(i) = in state above the effects of Maya. Guhhaiy = stays. 5.

MEANING: Yogis hold their breath at the junction of the three arteries (Irra, Pinugla, and Sookhmuna) for a long time with the belief that they can achieve their objective of life by doing so; and the Hindus believe that taking a dip at the confluence of the three Rives (Ganga, Yamuna, and the underground Saraswati), purifies their mind; but for a devotee of God (the Supreme Being), the mind is purified when Waheguru appears in his mind, and he is connected with Him. For the devotee, this spiritual state is the junction of the three arteries and the dip at Parag (he does not need either). But some rare devotee attains this spiritual state in the shelter of the Guru. 1 & Pause.

If someone asks what the signs are to recognize the attainment of this high spiritual state where Waheguru has appeared, then the answer is that such a devotee feels as if Guru's Divine Shabad is playing in his mind all the time. His mind is enlightened with the Guru's advice, and he feels indifferent to the comforts of the moon, the sun, the air, and the water. 2. With the Divine Knowledge enlightening his mind, his ill-thinking is eradicated, and his Tenth Door (where he feels connection with God) is drenched with the sweetness of the Naam-Amrit. A devotee, who learns the secret of this technique (reciting Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru), gets connected with God. 3.

The Tenth Door is the dwelling place of the inaccessible and the limitless Supreme Being. This Door is present in the niche (recess) of the brain, which is in the head, and that is where the truly valuable Waheguru resides. 4.

In that spiritual state, the devotee stays alert against the attacks of Maya, and never becomes unaware (negligent). All the attractions of the three worlds (universe) disappear in this spiritual state. The devotee always keeps Waheguru's Naam in mind, which reverses its direction from the attractions of the world to the love for God. 5.

Word Meaning: Na Aliya Bhaakhaiy = does not tell lies. Saakhi = advice. Urpaiy = offers. Krishan = God. 6. Ker = hands. Pulluv = leaves. Shaakhaan = branches. Jooyay = in gamble. Haaray = loses. Asoor = demons; evils. Nudee = the river (flow). Bundhaiy = controls. Mool(u) = root (Maya). Puchhim = the dark side; ignorance. Churraahvaiy Soor(u) = makes the sun rise; enlightens the mind. Ajur Juray = be able to handle the supernatural powers. Nijhur Jhuraiy = the spring of the Naam - Amrit drops into his mind. Jugunath = the Lord of the world (God). Godht(i) = meeting; union. 7. Choumukh Deeva = four-cornered lamp. Puloo = leaves; petals; flower. Anunt = limitless. Mool(u) = root of all (God). Serb Kulaa = all-powerful. Aapay Ruhhaiy = stays in himself. Maanuk(u) = pearl. Ruttanaa = Waheguru's noble qualities. Goohhaiy = stays stitched (connected). 8. Padum = lotus flower; pearl. Dooaalaiy = around. Munee = jewels. Punch Shabad = five kinds of musical instruments. Jaachaiy begs for. 9.

MEANING: Such a devotee stays awake (alert), does not tell lies, and keeps his five senses under control. He always keeps Guru's advice in mind, and offers his mind and body with love to God. 6.
He treats the world as the body parts, leaves, and branches of Waheguru (sees Him in everything, and thus does not forget Him) and does not lose his precious human life in the gamble (does not trade his noble qualities for the attractions of Maya). He erects barriers of his noble qualities around the attractions of Maya, the root of all evils. He enlightens his mind, which is darkened by the effects of Maya, by changing its direction from Maya to Waheguru and connecting with Him. He is able to control the supernatural powers (which automatically accompany this high spiritual state) and feels as if a stream of Naam-Amrit is dripping into his mind. 7. He further feels as if a four-cornered lamp of Waheguru's Light is enlightening his mind continuously. With the limitless Waheguru inside, his mind blooms like a flower. He embeds (enshrines the Naam of) the source of all powers, Waheguru, in his mind, which stays in itself (does not wander any more). His pearl-like pure mind stays stitched with the jewel-like God. 8.
With the Lord of the three worlds (universe) in his mind, his forehead begins to glow like a pearl which has jewels all around. He feels as if the pure (Divine) music of five different kinds is playing in his mind, and as if a whisk is fanning over his head and many conchs are roaring in his mind. With the Divine Knowledge imparted by the Guru, he crushes all the evil demons. I also beg for Waheguru's Naam, oh Bayni. 9.1.

MEANING: By reciting His Naam, His devotees get absorbed in Waheguru (His Naam). With the benevolence of Waheguru, His Naam is recited with the Guru's Shabad. Pause.
The Lord is inaccessible and incomprehensible, but, like water, which mixes with other water to become a single, indistinguishable body, one can get absorbed in Waheguru to become "one" with Him by reciting His Naam. I am a sacrifice for the devotee who tastes the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints. 1.
By reciting the Naam of the supreme Person (Waheguru), all one's troubles and his poverty (discontentment) get crushed (destroyed). Waheguru destroys all five incorrigible demons of His devotees, which are present in the human body, in a moment. 2.
The minds of Waheguru's saints bloom with their love for Him like the way the water lilies bloom to see the moon. With love for Waheguru in his mind, a devotee feels as blissful as a peacock which feels overjoyed to see and hear the thunder of very low clouds, and begins to dance with his wings fanned out. 3.
I have a strong yearning to see my Lord, as I survive (spiritually) only by seeing Him. I, Nanak, have become an addict to the sight of my Waheguru, so kindly connect me with You so that I may enjoy the comforting bliss of Your sight, oh Waheguru. 4.2.

Waheguru is supreme as He provides shelter even to sinners like me. Waheguru is great, and destroys the troubles of the poor (humble); He gives His Naam to His devotees to recite (the gift of Naam is due to His benevolence). 1.
I am ignoble, whereas Waheguru is very high (transcendent) because of His countless virtues; but I sing His praise in the shelter of the Satguru, who is my real friend. We have many, many bad qualities due to our attraction for poisonous Maya, and we make mistakes again and again every moment. Because of our ignoble qualities, we have become heavy like a rock due to the burden of our misdeeds, but Waheguru salvages us in the company of His devotees. 3.

Vujji Haiy = has spread. Mooshk = the fragrance of musk. Gundhaaray = fragrance. 1. Nirgoon = above the effects of Maya. Neekay = beautiful; valuable. Smaaray = can be enshrined. Nistaaray = salvages. 2.

Bibayk(u) = ability to distinguish between good and bad. Sumsershi = impartial. Shunk = misgivings. Ootaaray = remove. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Huoun = I. 3.

Paakhund = hypocrisy; show off. Bhermay = misled. Lobh(u) = greed. Booriyaaray = very bad. Hult(i) = this world. Pult = next world. Dookhdaayee = troublesome. 4.

MEANING: We are loaded with ignoble qualities and with sins, oh Waheguru. Kindly connect us with the Guru so that He emancipates us with His Shabad. Pause.

Satguru reinforces the sweet Naam of Waheguru, which is far superior to the fragrance of the sandal tree. With Waheguru's Naam, which has the sweet fragrance of musk and which spreads in every direction over faraway places, our ability to perceive Waheguru's presence flourishes. 1 You are above the effects of Maya, and it is very sweet to sing Your praise with the beautiful Shabad of the Guru, oh Waheguru. When one sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad all the time, Satguru salvages him (and connects with Waheguru). 2. The Guru has the Divine Wisdom to tell the good from the bad, but He is impartial, and one can have all his doubts cleared on meeting with Him. I am all sacrifice for the Guru meeting with whom (in whose shelter), I have attained the highest spiritual state. 3.

To earn money, people use different approaches, including religious hypocrisy. They are misled and suffer because of their hypocrisy; hypocrisy and greed are very, very bad in the world. They make both the worlds discomfortable (troublesome) for them as the Angel of (spiritual) death is watching them over their heads, and punishes them. 4.

Word Meaning: Oogvaiy = appears. Dinus = day. Aal(u) Jaal(u) = worldly affairs. Smaalaiy = looks after. Bikh(u) = poisonous (causing spiritual death). Bisthaaray = expansions; related to. Soopnuntar(u) = dreams. 5. Kullur(u) = saltpeter. Khayt(u) = field. Koorr(u) = falsehood; perishables. Jumaaya = seeded. Khulvaaray = stook or rick of bales of grain crops. Shaakut Nur = a worshipper of Maya. Bhookh Bhookhaanay = always hungry (dissatisfied). Tthaanday = standing; waiting. Jum Jundaaray = tough (killer) Angel of death. 6. Kurj Bikh(u) = debt of poisonous Maya (sensual enjoyments). Bhaari = huge. Ootraiy = comes off. Mungiyaiy = acquire. Vaaray = stopped; prevented. 7. Jugunath = the Lord of the world; Waheguru. Juntar = living beings. Oopaayay = created. Nuck(i) Kheeni = pierced noses. Nuth-haaray = stringed noses. Khinchaiy = controls with nose string like a domesticated animal. 8.

MEANING: The man rises at daybreak and gets busy with his routine (spiritually worthless) worldly affairs, which are rooted in poisonous Maya, and which become the cause of his spiritual death. As night falls, he goes to sleep and dreams of the same spiritually fatal things that he had been doing during the day and suffers. 5.

The money-worshippers are always hungry for money and never get satisfied, while the killer Angel of spiritual death is always waiting at their door. Their heart is like a field covered with saltpetre in which Waheguru's Naam cannot take root. They plant the seeds of falsehood (deceitfulness and lies) in their heart-field, and stack the bales of deceitfulness in a stook (harvests the crops of deceitfulness and lies). 6.

The follower of his mind (disconnected with Waheguru) accumulates a huge debt of sensual enjoyments, which can be paid off by pondering (and reflecting) on the Guru's Shabad. All those debts of immoral deeds that we acquire can be prevented (paid off) by serving the Feet of the Guru like a servant (reciting His Shabad with full dedication). 7.

(But the man cannot change his nature on his own) because Waheguru, which has created all living beings, has put a string through their noses and controls their actions just as domesticated animals are controlled with a string through their noses. So, the man has to follow Dear Waheguru's Command, and follow the directions in which He pulls his strings, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Sooa = parrot. Gunuk = a prostitute (See the story in "INTRODUCTION"). Persun Pers = beautiful touch (of Krishna's feet). A beautiful but hump-backed young girl who was sent by Kans to kill Krishana. Baiykoonth(i) = in paradise. Sidhaaray = reach. Ajamul = a Brahman who married a prostitute (see "INTRODUCTION"). Bhaayay = liked. Bhaavni = good intention; respect. Jum Kunkur = the assistants of the Angel of death. Bidaaray = destroyed. 2. Dirrta = reinforcement (in faith). Nistaaray = salvages. 3. Saabut(u) = complete; healthy. Mundur(i) = house; heart. Kuddh(i) = dig. Koop(u) = well. Punihaari = water server. 4.
Shaakut = worshipper of wealth; disconnected with Waheguru. Bisaaray = forgotten. Buchan = words. Bichhooaa = scorpion. Dussiyaiy = bites; stings. Tuj(i) = ignore; avoid. Puraiy Puraaray = farther away. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru makes his devotees who take Satguru's advice, to take a bath in the holy water of His Naam (to cleanse their minds). Taking a dip in Satguru's Divine Knowledge (His Shabad) purifies the mind, and all the sins of the devotees are washed away. Pause. The influence of the holy gathering is highly influential; recall the story of the prostitute who, at the advice of a sage, began to teach a parrot to say "Ram" (Waheguru), and thus worshipped Waheguru without realizing it in the parrot's company, and was salvaged. Likewise, the hump-backed young girl who was sent by Kans, the maternal uncle of Krishna, to poison the young Krishna to death, was not only cured of her humped back, but was taken to paradise when she touched Krishna (remembered the Lord). 1.
Similarly, Ajamul, whom people considered a great sinner because he married a prostitute, was liked by my dear Lord because of his good intentions when he named his son "Narayan"- a name for Waheguru - and called him affectionately by that name. Waheguru killed all the agents of the Angel of Death to protect him. 2.
To give the impression of their religiosity, money-loving individuals praise God to make people listen, but do not ponder (or act on) what they say. However, if they join some holy gathering, they acquire firm faith in Waheguru and can find salvation with His Naam. 3.
As long as body and mind are healthy, the man does not think anything about Waheguru, but when his body is about to be set on fire (he is close to death), he begins to think about Him, which is like digging a new well to get water to put out the fire which is devouring his burning house. 4. Do not become friends with a money-lover who has forgotten Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. The words of a money-lover are like the sting of a scorpion, which causes unbearable mental agony; so, stay far, far away from them. 5.

Word Meaning: Lug(i), Lug(i) = dropping on the feet of the Guru (taking His shelter). Suvaaray = adorn (groom) with noble qualities. 6. Poorub(i) Junum(i) = in previous lives. Perchoon = recitation of Waheguru's Naam for short times. Rus(u) = sweetness (of Waheguru's Naam). 7. Roop Rung = forms and colours. Laalun = extremely dear. Laal Goolaaray = dear like red flower (rose). Junt Vichaaray = helpless humans. 8.

MEANING: When a devotee drops on Guru's Feet again, and again with love (takes His shelter), he develops deep love for Waheguru, Who grooms him with noble qualities in Guru's shelter. A devotee, who obeys the Guru's Will as Divine Message, is loved dearly by Waheguru. 6. An individual who remembered Waheguru faithfully many times, even if it was for short periods in his previous life, will still love Him in this life, and with Guru's grace, he acquires the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam, which he recites and ponders on with love. The whole world is Your forms, and Your colours, oh my extremely dear Waheguru. You are as attractive as a red rose. Nanak submits humbly that the living beings acquire only that colour (nature and qualities) that You give them; they are helpless before You, and have to obey Your Command, oh Waheguru. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Rukhvaaray = guard; protector. Kooncur(u) = the elephant that was trapped in the tentacles of a octopus (see "INTRODUCTION"). Tundooaa = octopus. Pukur(i) Chulaayo = trapped and pulled. Ker(i) = hand. Pause. Neekay = beautiful; noble. Sherdha = reverence. Dhaaray = acquire; enshrine. Bhaavaiy = is liked by. Paiyj = dignity. Suvaaray = enhances. Braham Pusaaray = expansion (creation) of Waheguru. Aik Puralh = only "one" Waheguru. Nihaaray = sees. 2. Ruvviya = present. Chayri = disciples. Smaaray = looks after. Daan(u) = donations (fulfills needs). Keeray = worms; microbes. Kaaray = creates. 3. Vaas(u) = fragrance. Mooskaayee = of musk. Bherm Bhoola = misled by misbelief. Mirg = (musk) deer. Singhaaray = hits bushes with horns to search for the fragrance. Dhoondh(i) = searching for. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Nistaaray = connected with Waheguru. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru is our guard, and His shelter is most protective. (For example), He extended His hand to free and save the elephant that was trapped by a powerful octopus, and which was being pulled under water. Pause.

Waheguru's devotees are extremely noble (holy), who enshrine Waheguru in their hearts with great reverence. My Waheguru loves His worship with reverence, and exalts the dignity of His devotees. 1. Waheguru's devotees serve Him (recite His Naam, and welcome His Will), and realize that the entire world is the creation of Waheguru. They realize that Waheguru is the only Supreme Power in the universe, see Him everywhere, and find that He looks at everyone the same way (without bias). 2.
The Lord, Waheguru, is present everywhere, and the whole world is His disciple, and He looks after each of the living beings. He provides food (meets their needs) to everybody with His own kindness – even to the microbes in the rocks which He has created there. 3.
The musk deer has the great fragrance of musk in its body, but does not realize that, and searches for it in the bushes by hitting them with its horns. Just as the musk deer, I was ignorant of the presence of Waheguru in my own heart, and grew exhausted wandering in the jungles looking for Him; but the perfect Guru showed Him to me in my own heart, and saved me (connected me with Him). 4.

Word Meaning: Pertukh = clearly; visibly. 5. Pusriya = spread out. Beejiya = seeded. Khaavaary = feeds. Chundar Haans ---- Dhrisht Boodhi = Chundar Haas was a young prince of a state in southern India whose parents died when he was still a minor. Dhrist Boodhi was the prime minister who controlled the state and tried many times to get the young prince killed, but was unsuccessful. Finally, he ordered his private guards to kill Chundar Haas, but by Providence, the guards killed Dhrist Boodhi's son, Madan, who was the same age as Chundar Haas and who happened to be there earlier, where Chundar Haas was supposed to be present. Dookhiya = caused grief for. Looki = flame. 6.
Jun(u) = devotee. Rid = heart. Loachaiy = longs for. Saas Nihaaray = watches (guards) with every breath. Peechhaiy = because of. 7.
Srisht(i) = world. Suvaaray = adorns (grooms) with noble qualities. 8.
MEANING: Guru's Shabad is our Guru, and the Guru is the Shabad (they are the same); and all other amrits are included in Guru's Shabad. If a devotee listens to (and acts on) the Guru's Shabad when He recites it, the Guru salvages him for everybody to know. 5.
Waheguru is present everywhere, and He has created everything. God feeds one whom he had sown in the field of his heart, just like Dhrisht Boodhi, who was grieved by Chunder Haans, as the former put his own house on fire (got his son killed by mistake). 6.
When a devotee longs deeply for Waheguru, He protects the devotee with his every breath. With His benevolence, Waheguru reinforces His worship in the devotee's heart and salvages the world through the devotee. 7.
Waheguru Himself is the Lord, and He grooms the world with noble qualities (to salvage it). He operates everywhere and salvages with His kindness, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Oobaaray = salvage. Duroputi = wife of the five Pandavas. Doostaan = the wicked people. Aani = brought. Laaj = dignity. Nivaaray = protects. Pause.
Jaachuk = beggars. Sherdha = reverence; yearning. Suvaaray = adorn; salvage. 1.
Shaakut = money-worshipper (disconnected with Waheguru). Kerm = deeds. Muthiyaiy = churn. Jhoal Jhoolaaray = churns repeatedly. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Maakhun = butter. Gutkaaray = eats while enjoying. 2. Kaaya = Dayh = body. Mujun = bathing. Bhaayay = liked. Phokut = wasteful. Chaar = beautiful. 3.
Mutik = walk with confidence. Sukhee = Suhayli = female friends of women. Saaray = retain carefully. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhaaray = show; connect with. 4.

MEANING: Kindly protect my dignity against the attacks of Maya and salvage me, just the way you protected the honour of Dropati, the wife of the Pandav-brothers, when the wicked Kauravas tried to shame her by de-robing her, oh Waheguru (see the story in "INTRODUCTION"). Pause.
Please be kind to Your devotee beggar, and donate Your Naam (implant in my heart), and fulfil my wish, oh dear Waheguru. I have a strong yearning to see the Guru, kindly connect me with Him so that my soul may be groomed with noble qualities, oh Lord. 1.
The deeds of a money-lover are spiritually as worthless as the churning of water which he performs again and again. On the other hand, a devotee attains the highest spiritual level in the company of the holy saints (the Guru) and enjoys the bliss of that state, like a lover of butter who extracts it from yogurt and eats it while enjoying. 2.
The hypocrite follower of his mind bathes every day, cleanses his body by rubbing well, and adorns himself with religious symbols (to show off), but he does not like the Guru's Words; therefore, all his hypocritical acts of decorating his body go to waste. 3.
The devotees of Waheguru carefully acquire the noble qualities of Waheguru and walk with confidence among their friends. Waheguru liked my service to my Guru because of which my Guru showed the incomprehensible Waheguru in my heart. 4

Word Meaning: Naari = female. Purakh(u) = male. living power. Mooraaray = a name for Waheguru. Rayn(u) = dust of feet (service to). Bhaayee = liked; 5.

Graam = village. Nugur = town. Rid Untar(i) = in the heart. Bhaaray = Bhaalay = search for; find. Sherdha = love (yearning) for. Oopaayay = generate. 6.

Puvun = air; breaths. Soot = thread. Neeka = beautiful; pure. Nij Ghur(i) = in own heart. Bin(u) Naiyna = without eyes. Nihaaray = see (through the lens of mind). 7.

Eesh = God. Bern(i) = describe. Mundar = a big mansion. Nick = small. Keeray = ants. Dheeray = find peace. 8.

MEANING: Even though Waheguru is equally present in every male and female, He salvages only those who like the dust of the feet of His holy saints (serve them selflessly). 5.

People wander from village to village, and from town to town searching for Waheguru, but His devotees search for and find Him in their own hearts. I also beg my Waheguru to generate love for Him in my heart and connect me with the Guru, because it is through the Guru that Waheguru saves His devotees. 6.

The devotee, who ponders, and reflects on Guru's Shabad, and purifies the string of his breaths (by reciting His Shabad in Waheguru's praise with every breath), enjoys the sweetness of the Naam in his stable mind, and sees the reality of the whole world (the poisonous effects of Maya on the world) without the eyes (in the high spiritual state). 7.

I cannot describe all Your virtues, oh Waheguru, because I am like a tiny worm, whereas You are like a huge palace which I cannot explore at all. Kindly connect me, Nanak, with the Guru so that I may recite Your Naam in His shelter to have contentment of mind, oh Lord. 8.5.

Sadhu Purakh(u) = God-like Guru. Binou = request. Dhun = wealth. Poonji = capital; wealth. Tishna Bhookh = appetite of worldly desires. 1.

Puchaiy = burn; suffer. Putung = moth. Mirg = deer. Bhring = wasp; bumblebee. Koonchur = elephant. Meen = fish. Indri = sense; vice. Pukur(i) = trap. Sunghaaray = destroyed. Punch Bhoot = five demons. Sbul = powerful. Nivaaray = removes. 2.

Kayri = of; for. Nihaaray = sees. Mayr Soomayr = tall mountains. Moar = peacock. Naachaiy = dances. Oonvaiy Ghun = very low. Ghunhaaray = clouds. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of the inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru, and pray to Him that He salvage me, who has no virtue, and is a big sinner, through the Guru, oh my mind. Pause. Through the company of some holy saints, I got connected with the Guru, and I have a request: that He grant me the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, whereby all my appetite for worldly desires should be eradicated. 1.

The moth, the deer, the bumblebee, the elephant, and the fish, all suffer, and get killed only for their single vice each (greed, or love for music, or lust), but the human beings have not just one, but five powerful vices (like lust, rage, greed etc.); and only Satguru can destroy the sins that the man commits under their influence. 2.

We have examined carefully the Hindu holy books like the Shastras, the Vedas, and the forcefully uttered words by Nard and other sages, and have found that one can attain a high spiritual state only by reciting Waheguru's Naam in the holy gathering when the Guru salvages you. 3. I have fostered a deep love for my dear Waheguru, and my mind blooms just the way the lotus flower blooms in water or the peacocks dance with joy when they see very low clouds coming down from the tall mountains. 4.

Word Meaning: Buhou = much. Sinchou = irrigate (the mind-field); feed. Daal = branches. Bisukaaray = poisonous. Jiyoun Jyoun = the more. Niveh(i) = bow down; show humility. Sayti = for. Chhayrr(i) Chaayrr(i) = by hurting behaviour. Bikh(u) = poison. Khaaray = bitter. 5. Per-oopkaaray = favour to others. Bigsaiy = blooms. Jul = water. Kumul = lotus. Suvaaray = blooms; thrives 6.

Loabh = greed. Lehr(i) = wave; impulse. Sooaan(u) = dog. Hulk(i) = madness. Bigaarray = causes madness. Deebaan(i) = in the Court. Khurrg = sword. 7.

Dhur = support; shelter. Uver = other. Nistaaray = salvages. 8. Chhukka = set of six.

MEANING: A man, disconnected with Waheguru, is like a poisonous tree which you may irrigate with sweet amrit, but will still have poison in its branches and flowers. The more humility (nice treatment) you show towards him, the more he hurts you with his bitter and poisonous words. 5.

One should stay in the company of the holy saints who have the virtues to say kind words and perform deeds to favour others. When a saintly person meets another saint, their minds bloom like a lotus flower which thrives in water. 6.
The impulse of greed in a man is like the madness of a dog, which causes the same disease among others (makes them greedy too). But, the prayer of the devotees reaches the Court of Waheguru, which kills such impulses with the sword of Guru's Knowledge. 7.
I pray to You to protect me from such vices with Your benevolence, oh Waheguru. I have no other support than that of the Guru, and Waheguru, who salvage me, oh Nanak. 8.6. Set of Six Ashtpudies.

Word Meaning: Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Unt(u) = end; limits. Agumm = inaccessible. Agaadh(i) = unfathomable. Bodh(i) = understanding. Adays(u) = bowing to; salute. Raaya = Royal. Pause.

Jhugurtay = fight; attack. Jhugraaya = caused to fight. Deen = helpless. 1.

Shernaagti = seeking shelter. Vuchhul = lover of. Naaya = Naam. Hernaakh(i) = by Hernakhsh (father of Prehlaad) (see “Introduction”). Traaya = salvaged. 2.

Chayt(i) = keep in mind. Mehl(u) = Waheguru’s Residence. Paavun = to acquire. Dookh-Bhunjun = destroyer of all troubles. Bhuou = fear. Nivaar(i) = remove. 3.

Putit Paavun = purifier of the immoral. Haar(u) = necklace. Oor(i) Dhaariyo = enshrined in heart. 4.

MEANING: Countless people have tried, but no one has ever found the limits of Waheguru. Waheguru is physically inaccessible and unfathomable beyond our understanding; I can only bow to (salute) His Royalty (Majesty). Pause.

Inspired by sensual pleasures, lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, the man (attack his good thinking) fights all the time. I am helpless (unable to protect myself), and have come to Your shelter. Kindly protect me (from their attacks), oh, Waheguru. 1.

Waheguru loves the devotees who recite His Naam and nurtures the individuals who come to His shelter. Remember that not only did He protect His devotee, Prahalad, who was in the fatal grip of his father, Harnakash, but He also rescued him. 2.

Waheguru is the destroyer of all troubles, so always remember Him so as to reach His highly transcendent Residence, oh my mind. The Lord, who removes (destroys) the fear of reincarnation, is realized by the Teachings of the Guru. 3.

Waheguru’s Naam purifies even the immoral; so, I sing Waheguru’s praise, which destroys all fears. I am a slave of Waheguru, and have worn the necklace of His Naam in my heart as a result of which, I am absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Tin kee punk paayiyaiy vudbhaageen, jun(u) Nanak(u) Churn(i) puraata. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sookh-Daata = Provider (source) of all comforts. Saad(u) = (enjoyed the sweet) taste. Puchhaata = Jaata = recognized (made a connection with). Pause.
Doormut(i) Maiyl(u) = the filth of evil thoughts. Neekur(i) = washed out. Amrit Sur(i) = the pool of Naam-Amrit. 1. Bataa = information. Jooduriya = humble request; supplication. Kerm Bidhaata = the carver of our fates (Waheguru). 2.
Lilaat Likahy = prewritten on the forehead. Raata = imbued. Kilvikh = sins. Guvaata = lost; got rid of. 3. Rusaayin(u) = source of all sweetness. Ootum = superior. Baata = lifestyle. Punk = dust (of feet). Puraata = drops on; surrenders. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, oh my mind. One enjoys the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints and makes a connection with Him in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.
The fortunate people have the sight of the Guru (connect with Him) in whose shelter they take a dip in the Naam-Amrit Pool (Waheguru's Naam), and wash away the filth of their evil thinking, and realize (make connection with) Waheguru. 1.
Those holy saints are worthy of worship who make a connection with Waheguru (embed Him in their minds), and I will seek information from them about how to connect with Him. I will drop on their feet anytime and humbly request that they connect me with Waheguru, who is the carver of our fates. 2. With the prewritten fortune on my forehead, I got connected with the Guru, and my body and my mind are now imbued with the love for His Words (Shabad). With the grace of the Guru, I have been connected with Waheguru, with the result that all my sins have been destroyed, and I feel blissful now. 3.
Those devotees who have realized the source of all sweet tastes, Waheguru, with the advice of the Guru, have a noble lifestyle. Only the highly fortunate get the dust of their feet (the opportunity to serve them). I am their slave, and would love to drop on their feet, oh Nanak.4.

Mut(i) dayh(i) Prubh agumm Tthaakur, Gur Churn mun(u) mein laayo. Hur(i) Ram Naamaiy ruhoun laago, jun Nanak Naam(i) smaayo. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Sidh = an accomplished yogi. Saadhik = those, who purify their bodies. Moon(i) = a hermit; sage. Mun Bhaavni = in their own way. Uprumpro = limitless. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhaayo = showed; gave understanding. Pause.

Neech = ignoble. Mudhim = low-level. Kerm = deeds. Chaytiyo = remembers; thought of. Khin(u) = in a moment. Bundh = trapped. Mookut)I = free. 1.

Mustukay = on the forehead. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning. Liv Laayo = meditated on. Punch Shabad = five kinds of music. Durgeh = Waheguru's Court. Mungul = song of joy. 2. Nurhur(i) = of Waheguru. Mund – Bhagiyaan = unlucky. Bhaayo = liked. Tay = those. Gerbh Joani = life forms through the womb; reincarnations. Gaaliyeh(i) = destroyed; punished. Loan(u) = salt. 3. Mut(i) = wisdom. Smaayo = absorbed. 4.

MEANING: All the Sidhs, the yogis, and the hermits, worship Waheguru in their own way (whether they realize Him or not). But it is the Guru who "shows" the limitless and the incomprehensible Waheguru to all. Pause.

I have done ignoble and low-level deeds, and never remembered the Royal Waheguru, but when He connected me with Satguru, He emancipated me from all worldly bonds in a moment. 1. With the prewritten fate on my forehead by Waheguru, I was able to meditate on His Naam in Guru's shelter. I felt as if the five kinds of musical instruments from Waheguru's Court were playing in my mind, and it began to sing Waheguru's praise, which brings (is the source of) bliss. 2.

Waheguru's Naam purifies even the immoral, but the unfortunate do not like (enjoy) it. They are punished with reincarnations in a mother's womb (and lose their originality – are reborn in other life forms), like salt loses its originality when it is dissolved in water. 3.

Kindly advise me so that my mind may be attached to Guru's Feet (His Shabad), oh, the inaccessible Lord. I wish to continue reciting Waheguru's Naam so as to get absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Jun Nanak(u) tin kay churn pukhaaray, jo Hur(i) churnee jun(u) laaga. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Rus(i) = in the sweetness of. Kumul = lotus-like heart. Bherm = misgivings. Bhuou = Bhaiy = fear. Bhaaga = disappeared. Pause. Bhaayay = in the spirit of. Heeura = heart. Soyo = asleep = unaware. Jaaga = awoke. Kilvikh = sins. Kheen Bhuyya = became weak (destroyed). Shaant(i) = peacefulness. Oor-dhariyo = enshrined in heart. 1. Koosumbh = a pretty flower which dies quickly; Maya. Kuchooa = which fades away fast. Koosm = flower. Chaar(i) Din = a few days. Chaanga = good; pretty. Pertaapaiy = suffers. Dund(u) = punishment. Dherm-Raayay = the Angel of justice (Waheguru Himself). 2. Goohrri = strong. Mujeetth = madder (its colour never fades). Kaaya = body. Kaapur, Cheer = clothes. Phaaray = worn out (become old and weak). 3. Sobha = praise. Chuloolaiy = deep. Raanga = dyed. Pukhaaray = washes. Churnee = feet. 4.

MEANING: My mind has been attached to Waheguru's Naam, and is enjoying its sweetness. I have been connected to the Guru as a result of which the lotus of my heart has bloomed (is enlightened), and all my misgivings and worldly fears have disappeared by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Pause. With love for, and fear of Waheguru in my heart, I am worshipping Him, and my unaware (dark) mind has awakened (been enlightened) with Guru's advice. I am very fortunate that I have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart, as a result of which all my sins have been eradicated, and I have acquired peacefulness. 1.

Like the short-lived beauty of the koosumbh flower, the glamour of Maya is short-lived to which the follower-of-his-mind is attracted. Like the beauty of flowers, which lasts only for a few days, the glamour of Maya loses its shine in a moment, and the Maya-worshipping individual suffers as he is punished by the Angel of Justice. 2.

On the other hand, the love for the Guru and for His holy devotees is very deep, like the permanent colour of madder, which does not fade away even if the clothes wear off. Like the colour of madder, the colour of love for the Guru (with which the mind of the lucky devotee is dyed) is so enduring that it does not fade even if the devotee becomes old and weak. 3.

When a devotee sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru, his mind is dyed with love for Waheguru, which has a very deep colour. I would love to wash the feet of those devotees (serve them) whose mind has been attached to Waheguru's Feet (His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.4.

Word Meaning: Bhuj = recite. Leen(u) = fully absorbed. Rusaala = source of all tastes and sweetness. Pause.

Jupmaala = rosary; a must do act. Mustuk(i) Leekhiya = prewritten on the forehead (in fortune). Bunmaala = wearing a long garland of wild flowers (Waheguru). 1.

Chookay = ended. Junjaala = worldly attachments (bonds). 2. Baarik = children. Pritpaala = raises and nurtures. Kur(u) = hand. Maya Ugun(i) = fire-like Maya. Nit = always. Mayltay = combine; put together (in). Deen Duyyala = kind to the helpless. 3.

Maiylay = filthy. Nirmul = pure. Jus(i) = praise. Jaala = burned away; destroyed. Anund = blissfulness. Nihaala = blissful. 4.

MEANING: By reciting Waheguru's Naam with the advice of the Guru, my mind and my body have been fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all tastes and sweetness. Pause. Making Waheguru's Naam our rosary (a must-do act), we should recite His Naam all the time with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), but only those fortunate people get to recite His Naam who have it prewritten on their foreheads. 1.

All the worldly attachments of those who recite Waheguru's Naam get broken, and the Angel of (spiritual) death does not even go near them as the Guru, Waheguru, becomes their guard. 2. We are ignorant children of Waheguru who protects us like our mother and our father. Just like an ignorant child, who finds fire attractive and puts his hand in it to play, we are also ignorant and put our hand in the fire of Maya, but with His kindness, the Guru protects us, the humble, from this fire. 3.

My mind was very filthy with evil thoughts, but with singing praise of Waheguru, my mind has been purified, and all my sins have been destroyed. My mind feels blissful upon connecting with the Guru, and I feel blessed by His Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Mukur Praag(i) Daan(u) = donations at the holy place of Allahabad on the first day of the month of Maagh (mid Feb). Udh Kaat(i) = cut in half. Mookt(i) = emancipation. Kunchun = gold. 2. Keerut(i) = Jus(u) = praise. Ooghray = opened. Kuput = deceitful. Kpaat = doors. Tirkooti = the three effects of Maya (see “INTRODUCTION”). Phoar(i) = break open. Luj = the rope to draw water from an open well. Bhaani = broke. Mutukee Maat = the vessel to draw water. 3. Kulyug(i) = in the present era; world. Mustuk(i) = Lilaat = on the forehead. Dhoor(i) = from the source (Waheguru). Laathi = ended; satisfied. Bhookh = appetite. Tikhaat = thirst. 4. Chhukka = set of six (Shabads).

MEANING: Recite Waheguru Naam, and get all your sins destroyed. The Guru has implanted Waheguru’s Naam in my heart; (I have so much reverence for Him that) I wish to place my head on the Guru's (feet). Pause.

If someone sings Waheguru’s praise to me, I will feel like offering the pieces of my mind to him. The Perfect Guru has connected me with my friend, Waheguru, and now I am sold for the Words of the Guru at Waheguru’s shop (I have offered my mind and my body to Waheguru). 1. With the (false) belief that making donations at the holy confluence of Ganga and Yamuna at Allahabad on the first day of the month of Maagh (mid Feb), is an act of great good (high spirituality), some people make huge donations, and even cut their bodies into half. But the fact is that nobody can attain emancipation without Waheguru’s Naam, even if one donates lots of gold in small pieces. 2.

When one sings Waheguru’s praise with the advice of the Guru, the doors of deceitfulness (illusions of Maya) which had coated his mind open widely, and he is able to smash its three effects whereby all his misgivings and worldly fears run away. Not only that, the rope with which he used to draw the water of sensual pleasures from the well of vices gets severed, and the vessel containing the water of sensual pleasures is shattered. 3.

But only those devotees who have it written in their fortune on their foreheads get connected with the Perfect Guru in this world. I am a slave of Waheguru; I drank the sweet Amrit of Waheguru’s Naam, because of which, all my appetite and my thirst for worldly attractions have been satisfied, oh Nanak. 4.6. Giving up all your greed, worldly attachments, and vices, serve the Feet of the Guru (obey His Advice), oh my friends. Forgetting (giving up) dependence on all others, have faith in the dependence upon Waheguru alone. 2. Misled by their misgivings, many people worship Maya and are in complete darkness spiritually. But they cannot be entirely blamed because they pursue only those interests for which they are preprogrammed by Waheguru, and which nobody can erase (change on their own). 3.
Even though He has many names, the limitless Waheguru has no physical form and is inaccessible. Those devotees are worthy of respect who enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts, oh Nanak. 4.1.

The Naam's support is like the boat that a drowning man gets, or like the oil that a dying oil-lamp gets, or like the water that a man burning in fire receives, or like the hungry child that gets milk in his mouth. 1. Waheguru's Naam is such a huge support that it is like the moral and physical support that a man gets from a close friend or from a brother in the battlefield, or like a starving person getting food, even if it is very little. The Naam is such a huge support that it is like rain for a drying crop, or like the protection that a defenceless infant gets from an intrepid (a brave person). 2. Waheguru's Naam is like having the mantra on the tongue that makes a snake poison ineffective, and makes the man fearless of snakes, or is like the protection of the cage to the parrot which cannot be pried upon by a cat; or it is like a bird's belly for the eggs in there which are safe; or like the grains near the axil of the stones of a quern which are not grinded. 3.

Waheguru's Naam deserves much more praise, but I have described only a little because Waheguru is inaccessible and unfathomable (and His full praise cannot be sung or described). Waheguru is highly transcendent and endless; reciting His Naam salvages even the iron-like people who are heavily loaded with sins, oh Nanak. 4. 3.

I wish to serve them with my hands and offer them my life, mind, and wealth. 1. I pray to Waheguru to show me the path of emancipation (union with Him with Guru's Advice), and that is my real wealth. I pray to Waheguru to be kind to me so that I may enshrine Guru's Shabad in my heart (mind), oh Nanak. 4.4.

Dhunn(i), dhunn(i) 'o Ram baynu(u) baajay. Madhur, Madhur dhoon(i) Unhut gaajaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Dhun(i), dhun(i) maygha romaavli. Dhun(i), dhun(i) Krishan oadhaiy kaambli. 1. Dhun(i), dhun(i) tu maata Devki. Jih greh(i) Rumuyyiya Kuvlaputi. 2. Dhun(i), dhun(i) bunkhund Binderabunaa. Jeh khaylaiy Sri Naraayina. 3. Bayn(u) bujaavaiy, godhun(u) churay. Namay ka Soami, aanund kuray. 4.1.
Word Meaning: Bayn(u) = flute. Madhur = sweet. Dhoon(i) = musical sound. Unhut = Divine; uiniform. Gaajaiy = thunders. Pause.
Maygha = sheep. Romaavli = wool. Oadhaiy = wears. Kaambli = blanket. 1.
Devki = Krishna's mother. Greh(i) = house. Rumuyyiya = lovely Ram. Kuvliputi = Luchhmi's (Maya)' husband = Vishnu = Krishna. 2.
Bunkhund = a part of the forest. Binderabunaa = meadows on the bank of Yamuna. Naraayina = Vishnu = Krishna. 3. Godhun = cows. Churay = graze. 4.1.
NOTE : It seems in this Shabad that Nam Dev ji is showing deep reverence for Ram Chander Ji and Krishan Ji, but this is not the case because there are a few hymns of Nam Dev Ji in Guru Granth Sahib in which he shows no faith, in any if them, and even ridicules them, and says that he will gladly trade all the popular gods for God. See, for example, His Shabads (# 6 and #7) in Raag Goand on page 874 of SGGS. He worships only the "One" God whom he sees in everyone and everything. So, the meanings of this Shabad will be given in that light. Also Ram Ji is not known to play the flute. Moreover, the Shabad is written in the present tense rather than the past, implying that these things are happening continuously and are related to God.
MEANING: You are great, oh Lord. The Divine and the sweet musical sound of Your flute is thundering in the environment. Pause. [This is the central idea of the Shabad. So, the whole Shabad is in praise of Waheguru (God), expressed through the popular gods worshipped at the time.
Even the wool of the sheep from which the blanket was made, which You wear as Krishna, is fortunate. 1. [Krishan Ji has never been shown wearing a blanket. He spent most of His life in Dwarka, a town in south-western India on the sea shore, where the climate was always warm. Mother Devki was also lucky, who is believed to have given birth to Krishna, in whom I see You, oh Lord. 2.

That piece of the forest is also lucky where you play as Lord Vishnu (Krishna). 3. The cows are grazing (the whole world is enjoying your gifts) while the Lord of Nama, God, plays on His flute care-freely, and enjoys blissfully. 4.1.

Mayray Baap(u) Madho, Tu dhun(u) Kayshou saanvleeyo Beetthulaayay. 1. Ruhaou. Ker dhur chukkur baiykoontth tay aayay, guj hustee kay praan oodhaariulay. Doohshaasun kee subha Droputi umbur layt oobaariulay. 1. Gautum Naar(i), Ahilliya, taari, paavun kaytuk taariulay. Aiysa udhum(u) ajaat(i) Nam Dayo, Tuou shernaagut(i) aayiulay. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Baap(u) = father. Madho = Kaishou = Krishna (names for God). Saanvliyo = dark skinned (Krishna). Beetthulaayay = God. Ker = hands. Chukkur = a hollow, thin, circular weapon that is projected at the target to kill. Guj = Hustee = the elephant (which was trapped in the tentacles of an octopus. Oodhaariulay = saved. Doohshaasun = the younger brother of Duryodhun (of Mahabharat). Duropati = the wife of the five Pandvaas. Unmber = clothes. Gautum Naar(i) Ahilliya = Ahilliya, the wife of sage Gautam. Taari = salvaged. Paavun Kaytuk = purified many. Udhum = ignoble. Ajaat(i) = of low-caste. Tuou = Yours. Shernaagut(i) = in shelter. 2.

MEANING: You are great, you are amazing, oh my father, God!! People also call you the God with long hair, dark skin, and Beelzebub. Pause.

You came from the Paradise with the chukkur in your hand, and saved the elephant's life from the octopus's clutches; you also saved the dignity of Duroputi, who was being shamed by being undressed in the court of Doohshaasun. (see the “Introduction” for both stories). 1, In addition, not only did You salvage Ahilliya, the wife of sage Gautum, who was deceitfully raped by god Indra, and whom the sage had cursed to be a stone, but You also purified countless other people to salvage them, oh Lord. I, Nam Dev, am ignoble and low-caste, have come to Your shelter, won’t You be kind to me, oh Lord? 2.2.

ਸਭੈ ਘਟ ਰਾਮੁ ਬੋਲੈ ਰਾਮਾ ਬੋਲੈ॥ ਰਾਮ ਬਿਨਾ ਕੋ ਬੋਲੈ ਰੇ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਏਕਲ ਮਾਟੀ ਕੁੰਜਰ ਚੀਟੀ ਭਾਜਨ ਹੈ ਬਹੁ ਨਾਨ੍ਹਾ ਰੇ॥ ਅਸਥਾਵਰ ਜੰਗਮ ਕੀਟ ਪਤੰਗਮ ਘਟਿ ਘਟਿ ਰਾਮੁ ਸਮਾਨਾ ਰੇ॥ 1॥ ਏਕਲ ਚਿੰਤਾ ਰਾਖੁ ਅਨੰਤਾ ਅਉਰ ਤਜਹੁ ਸਭ ਆਸਾ ਰੇ॥ ਪ੍ਰਣਵੈ ਨਾਮਾ ਭਏ ਨਿਹਕਾਮਾ ਕੋ ਠਾਕੁਰੁ ਕੋ ਦਾਸਾ ਰੇ॥ 2॥3॥

Subhaiy ghut Ram(u) boalaiy, Rama boalaiy. Ram bina ko boalaiy ray. 1. Ruhaou. Aikul maati koonjur, cheenti, bhaajun haiy buou naana ray. Usthaavur, jungum, keet ptungum, ghut(i), ghut(i) Ram(u) smaana ray. 1. Aikul chinta raakh(u) Ununta, aur tujhou subh aasa ray. Pernvaiy Nama, bhuyyay nihkaama, ko Thhaakur(u)), ko daasa ray. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Ghut = heart; mind. Boaliy = talks; powers. Ko = who? Pause.

Aikul = one (God). Maati = earth. Koonjur = elephant. Cheenti = ant. Bhaajun = vessels. Naana = different kinds. Usthaavur = non-moving (trees etc.). Jungum = moving. Keet = worms. Putungum = flying. 1.

Chinta = focus of mind. Ununta = limitless (God). Aur = others. Tujhou = give up. Pernvaiy = prays. Nihkaama = fully detached from worldly affairs. Ko = who. 2.

MEANING: It is God who powers every heart; who else can have that power? Pause. God has created many different vessels (living bodies), but every body is made from the same ingredients - be it an ant or an elephant. God is present in every heart, from the non-moving vegetation to the animals that move around, and from the worms to the flying birds. 1. So, giving up dependence on all other powers, keep only the single and limitless God in mind, oh my friends. If you do that with full faith, you will be detached from the worldly bonds, and will become like the Supreme Being and merge into Him, and nobody will tell you apart from Him – the slave and the Lord will become indistinguishable, states Nama humbly. 2.3.

Sloak: Dhoor(i) = dust. Paykhoun = I see. Hujoor(i) = close by.

Shabad: Pichhoun Raati = early hours of the morning. Suddrra = call. Khaymay = tents. Chhutar = canopies. Sraayichay = fabric walls. Ruth = chariots. Peerray = ready. 1. Baba = a respectable person. Kermheen = unfortunate. Koorriaar = attached to falsehood and deceitfulness. Bherm Bhoola = misled by misbeliefs. Pause. Perphoorray = proliferate. Uglay = many. Vihaayay = life is spent. 2. Vichhoorriyaan = disconnected (with Waheguru). Khayl(u) = drama of the universe. 3. Sunjogi = predetermined union (of soul with body). Vijogeen = separation (due to death). Bhee = again. 4.

MEANING: Sloak: I wish to be the dust of Your Feet (serve You with full reverence), oh my dear friend, Waheguru. I, Nanak, have come to Your shelter so that I may always see You close to me.

Shabad: Those who respond to the motivational call of Waheguru, and recite His Naam in the early hours of the morning, feel as if they are the king of some state, and tents, canopies, and walls of expensive fabric have been raised in their honour, and chariots are ready for them to ride. But only those who recite Your Naam get Your call, oh Waheguru. 1.

But I am unfortunate who deals in falsehood and deceit (I am a slave of my mind and sensual desires), oh Waheguru. Blinded by the desires of my mind, I was misguided by my false beliefs and did not recite Your Naam. Pause.

It is prewritten (Laws of Waheguru) that if someone enjoys sensual pleasures, his discomforts proliferate. His pleasures last for a very short time, but his discomforts multiply and stay with him till his death; so, his life is spent in difficulties. 2.

What worse separation from anything dear to them can they experience who are separated from Waheguru? And what better union can one have than one with Waheguru? We should praise the Lord who has created the drama of the universe and looks after it. 3.
Human soul gets connected with the appropriate body as predetermined by Waheguru (to sing His praise), but the man rather enjoys luxuries of life; as a result, when the soul gets detached form the body due to death, they get separated, but are reunited again, and again, and such people go through many reincarnations, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Pind(u) = body. Kmaaya = made. Laykh = writing. Daat(i) = largess of Waheguru. Jot(i) = Light-like. Vudiyaayi = praise. Soort(i) = wisdom. 1.
Maana = conceit. Ootth(i) Chulna = leave the world. Bhaana = Will. Pause.
Tuj(i) = give up. Saad = (enjoyment of different) tastes. Sehj = peaceful mind. Chhuddnaiy = have to leave. Dhur(i) Jaayiyaiy = leave behind. Baahoorr(i) = again. 2.
Suj(u) = necklace. Putt(u) = silk. Hundaayay. Phoormayish(i) = orders. Hutheen Paudee = done with one's own hands; self-creation. Kaahay = why? 3.
Ghoomunvaani = whirlpool. Jeeou = soul. Churraaoo = passenger. Kaahoo = rare. 4.
MEANING: What are you conceited about, when you have to leave this world as per the Will of Waheguru, oh my foolish mind? Pause.
Humans come into being by the union of their parents, when Waheguru also writes in the schedule of their deeds that they should sing praise of the Light-like Waheguru, which is the provider of all gifts (necessities of life). But the man loses his wisdom (noble thoughts) in the enjoyment of the luxuries of Maya. 1.
Give up your tastes (luxuries of life) (which rob you of your peace of mind), and enjoy the blissfulness of the peaceful state of mind, oh man. We have to leave our households behind (after death) - nobody lives here forever. We should eat some and leave some here, only if we are to come back to this world (which we do not). 2. The man adorns his body with necklaces, wears expensive, silky clothes, issues many orders, and sleeps in very comfortable beds (enjoys all the luxuries of life). So, what justification does he have for crying (in the Court of Waheguru) for the deeds he committed with his own hands? 3.
The man does not realize that the boat in which he is travelling while crossing the world sea, is in a whirlpool (in a very precarious situation because of his immoral deeds), and with the load of his sins, he cannot get across. What he needs to do to get across the world sea is to build a boat of fear and respect for Waheguru (recite His Naam) and ride in that. But Waheguru gives such a boat (His worship) only to some rare people, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Kerni = deeds. Kaagud = paper. Musvaani = inkpot; pen. Boora = bad. Bhulaa = good; noble. Kirt(u) = the effect of the deeds performed. Jiyoun = the way. Chulaayay = leads. Tiyoun = like that. Tuou = Yours. Unt(u) = end. 1.
Chaytus(i) = remember. Baavuriya = foolish. Bisrut = forgetting. Guliyaa = rot. Pause.
Jaali = a small net. Ghurri = a unit of time (24 minutes). Phaahi = trap. Rus(i) = while enjoying. Choag = tasty food (of sensual pleasures). Chhootus(i) = get free. 2.
Kaaya = body. Aarun(i) = kiln. Loha = iron (to mould). Punch Ugun(i) = fire of the five demons (lust, greed etc.). Purray = act as (fuel). Sunnhi = pliers. Chint = worries. 3.
Munoor = burned (hard and brittle) iron. Kunchun = gold. Tinayha = Like that. Trishtus(i) = contented. Dayha = body; mind. 4.

MEANING: Why do not you remember Waheguru, oh foolish man? Because of your forgetting Waheguru, all your noble qualities begin to rot. Pause.
There is no end to the virtues of Waheguru, but the man is limited and simply continues to perform deeds according to his nature, shaped by the deeds of his previous lives. Man's deeds are written (as if on paper) by his mind, which acts as the pen, and writes his good and bad deeds. 1.
The man commits immoral deeds, enjoying them like a bird that picks up the food the hunter had spread for him as bait, only to get trapped. His immoral deeds act like a small net at night, a huge net during the day, and the smaller units of time act as bonds. So, what virtues can the foolish man use to get emancipation from such a trap? 2.
Man's body is like the kiln of a blacksmith in which his mind is the piece of iron (which gets moulded); his sins act as the coal on the fire of his sensual desires caused by the five demons, and his worries act as the pliers to expose the mind (to the fire of his desires) whereby his mind gets completely burned (left with no feelings of goodness like compassion, helping others, and reciting Waheguru's Naam). 3. However, his hard and brittle mind, like burnt iron, can become soft and pure, like gold, if he is connected to the right (Perfect) Guru. The Perfect Guru implants Waheguru's Naam in his mind whereby he feels fully contented by body and mind, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Bimul = Nirmul = clean; pure. Mujhaar(i) = in (the middle). Busus(i) = reside. Jul = water. Pudmun(i) = lotus flower. Jaawal = algae. Sungut(i) Sung(i) = in the company of. Doakh = fault. 1. Daadur = frog. Kubheh(i) Na = never. Bhukhsh(i) = eat. Sibaal(u) = algae. Amrit = (Amrit-like) superior. Lukhus(i) = recognize. Pause. Vusut = resides. Uliul = bumblebee. Mayr = top; summit. Chucha = sucks. Goon = sap. Koomoodni = waterlily. Niv = bow to. Sus(i) = (to the) moon. Unbhuou = feelings; sensation. Kaarun(i) = because of. 2. Mudh(u) = honey. Sunchus(i) = accumulate. Chaatur = clever. Apna Aap(u) = own nature. Chhodus(i) = give up. Pisn = tic. 3. Pundit = highly learned. Aagum Shas = the Vedas and the Shastras. Sooaan = dog. Poochh(i) = tail. 4. Ikk(i) = many. Paakhundi = hypocrites. Raacheh(i) = have love for. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Paavus(i) = gets. 5.

MEANING: The lotus flower and algae both live together in clean water, and there is no fault in them (no bad effect on each other) as they enjoy the sweet (helpful) support of water. 1. But a frog, also living in the same clean water, does not understand the taste of the superior lotus flower and feeds on algae only. Pause.

The bumblebee does not live in the water, but it knows the importance of the lotus flower and sucks the sweet sap from the top of the flower. Similarly, the waterlily (which blooms only at night in moonlight) realizes its attraction for the moon, which is far away from it, and bows to it from a distance. 2. You think you are clever, oh frog, but you do not give up your nature, and are like the tick that does not suck the milk of a cow or a buffalo, which has the sweetness of sugar or honey, and sucks their blood. 3.

You do not give up your nature, and are like many foolish people who may spend some time in the company of highly learned people, and may listen to the religious books like the Vedas and the Shastras, but never change their nature like the tail of the dog, which is never straight. 4. There are many hypocrites who show themselves off as highly religious people but have no real love for Waheguru, while there are some who have a deep attachment to Waheguru's Feet (His Naam). Everyone gets to do whatever is prewritten in their fate. You, just recite Waheguru's Naam with the tongue, oh Nanak. 5.4.

MEANING: Sloak: Countless immoral people have been purified with their love for Waheguru's Feet (His Naam). The dips in the sixty-eight holy places are subsumed in Waheguru's Naam (the devotees do not need to have such dips), but only that devotee gets the Naam who has it prewritten on his forehead (in fate). 1

Shabad: My mind does not find peace, and I cannot live without Waheguru; how can I find peace, oh my mother? With whom should I share my anguish, which I am suffering from due to my separation from Waheguru? Pause.
(Answer): You are separated from Waheguru because you are gripped by your ego, oh my friend. (To get connected with Waheguru), You need to overcome your ego and listen to His praise, which is very comforting. 1.
At a young age, the human-bride does not remember Waheguru, but repents in her later years when she feels troubled, as the woman who is separated from her husband does. 2.
You are wise (know my feelings) and are my protection over my head, oh my Lord, Waheguru. I am Your slave, and beg for the opportunity to serve You. 3.
But most people show their concern, and wonder how they can serve You without seeing You, submits Nanak humbly. 4.5.

MEANING: I am lucky that I have sold myself (have lost all my rights) at the shop of the Guru to buy His Words (in praise of Waheguru), and now I am Waheguru's slave, and will do whatever I am told to do. 1. But, as His slave, I do not have the wisdom to carry out His orders. Pause.
My mother (wisdom) is Waheguru's slave, and so is my father (contentment), and I am their creation. When I worship the Royal Waheguru, my wisdom dances zestfully, and my contentment sings joyfully. 2. I will gladly fetch (serve) water for my Lord if He is thirsty, and will grind wheat to make chapatis if He feels hungry. I am crazy in love with my Lord and do not recognize any power other than Him. Pause.
I call a person eccentric if he is so in the fear of the Lord, and does not acknowledge any other power than Waheguru. 2. A person is truly eccentric if he serves the “only” Lord, and recognizes His Huqam (Will). Any other wisdom carries no worth. 3.

The wealth of Your Naam is in my heart, and whoever You give with Your kindness gets salvaged, oh Waheguru. Pause.
Waheguru’s Naam is such a wealth that does not burn and cannot be stolen by any thief. Unlike other forms of wealth, this wealth cannot be lost, and no one is punished for possessing it (people who possess illegal money can be punished). 2.
Behold the greatness of this wealth: every day of the life of the individual who possesses this wealth is spent in the intoxication of the high spiritual state. 3.
One must note this exceptionally beautiful thing about this wealth, that nobody can attain the highest spiritual state without it. 4. Nanak shares a word of praise for the indescribable Waheguru, saying that one acquires this wealth only from the Guru. 5.8.

MEANING: Like the yogis, who exhale through the right nostril, which they call the sun-vein, you exhale (get rid of) your fire of worldly desires and the darkness of ignorance, oh my friend; and like the yogis, who inhale through the left nostril, which they call the moon-vein, inhale the moon-like coolness (strengthen your contentment). These should be your breathing exercises; when you adopt these exercises in your life, you can control your fish-like fickle mind, as a result of which, it will not take imaginary flights, and your fort-like body (moral strength) will not weaken. 1. Why are you being misguided by your misbeliefs, and do not recognize (make connection with) the fully detached Waheguru, which is the eternal source of supreme bliss, oh foolish man? Pause.
Kill your worldly desires to hold on to (get connected with) Waheguru, and control the temptation to acquire supernatural powers when you attain the high spiritual state. You will be able to drink the Amrit (enjoy the bliss of the high spiritual state) when you control the indecisiveness of your mind, oh my friend. This way, you will be able to control your fish-like, fickle mind, as a result of which it will not take imaginary flights, and your body (moral strength) will not weaken. 2. Waheguru's slave, Nanak, suggests that if one recites Waheguru's Naam from the depth of his heart, he will be able to control his wind-like, fickle mind and drink the Amrit of His Naam. Word Meaning: Maya Mooyi Na = the desire for worldly attractions did not die. Sur(u) = pool; heart. Lehri = filled with waves. Maiy Mut(u) = intoxicated. Bohith = ship. Sir(i) Tur(i) = float on top. Tikaiy = stabilizes. Saacha Vukkhur(u) = the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam. Jit(u) = in which. Maanuk = pearl (Waheguru's Naam). Kut(u) = cut; whole. Raja = mind. Tukhut(i) = on the throne of heart. Laykh(u) = prewritten destiny. Pause. Rikhi = sages. Mooni = hermits. Ind(u) = Indra. Tupaiy = those who worship by torturing self. Aaki = rebels. Afaari = conceited. Jungum = a sect of yogis. Jodh = valiant. Jutee = celibates. Veechaari = pondered on. Saari = supreme. 2.
Nidhuniyaan = paupers. Nimaaniyaan = with no respect in society. Nitaaniyaan = powerless. Hoam = huvuns. Jupaa = recitation of mantras. Dhoyee = shelter. Jhoottha = who deals in the perishables; worshipper of Maya. Aavun Jaan(u) = reincarnations. 3. Triput(i) = contentment. Giyan = Lord's Naam. Buhourr(i) = again. Maiyla = filthy. Bighun = hurdle. Sir(u) = mind; wisdom. Chhootiyaiy = find emancipation. Soyay = the same (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: Waves of worldly attractions and desires rise high in the pool of man's intoxicated heart (mind). Under such conditions, he is unable to kill the mind-captivating effects of Maya, and control his mind. Because of the attractions of Maya, only that ship of one's life can stay afloat in the pool of his heart (mind) which carries the merchandize of Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's pearl-like Naam kills one's worldly desires in one's mind as His Naam cannot suffer any cut (get a hole in the ship). The mind-king can sit on the throne (stabilize) when it acquires noble qualities by getting imbued in the respectful fear (love) of Waheguru. 1. Do not think of Waheguru as being far away from you, oh dear friend. Waheguru is the life (basis) of the whole world, His Light is present in everybody, and His Huqam is written on everybody's forehead (everybody's fate is controlled by Him). Pause. Be it Brahma, Vishnu, sages, hermits, Shiva, Indra, or the self-torturers, they are all beggars at Waheguru's Door. Only those are honoured in Waheguru's Court who obey His Huqam - the rebels suffer spiritual death for their conceit. According to the Perfect Guru, it does not matter what one calls himself – he may call himself a Jungum, a valiant, a celibate, or a sanyasi- only that person is rewarded by Waheguru who serves Him, and that service is supreme. 2.

You are the wealth of the poor, the Guru of those who have no guru, and the pride of those who have no pride at all, oh Waheguru. The mentally blind (ignorant) get enlightened in the shelter of the pearl-like Guru, and You are the power of the powerless. Waheguru cannot be realized by huvuns or by the recitation of any mantras; one can connect with Him only by the advice of the Guru. No one gets any shelter in Waheguru's Court without His Naam; the worshipper of Maya stays in the birth-death cycle. 3.
One should sing Waheguru's praise with His Naam, as a result of which one will become fully contented. If one cleanses his mind with the jewel of Waheguru's Naam, it never gets filthy again. One experiences no hurdle in the path of his union with Waheguru as long as he has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his mind. One gets salvaged when he surrenders his head (wisdom) to Waheguru, and when Waheguru appears in his body and mind, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Joogut = way of life. Nimaayil(u) = without filth (pure). Raati = a tiny amount. Nath(u) = Lord. Sungaiy = with. Gut(i) = stage. Beeti = gets past. 1. Gosaayeen = Waheguru. Kuhha = where. Kaiysay = how. Jaati = be known. Nirunti = endless; an ongoing question. Pause.
Ishnaan = bathing the self, and the idols. Paati = petals; flowers. Tirbhuvun = in the three layers of the universe. 2. Jihva = tongue. Dundee = beam. Ghut(u) = heart. Chhaaba = pan of the scale. Touloun = I weigh. Ajaachi = immeasurable. Haat = shop (to buy Naam with bad qualities). Shah = the owner of the business (Waheguru). Vunjaaray = traders; businessmen. Bhaanti = kind. 3. Dovaiy Siray = both sides (buying and selling). Nibayrray = decides. Boojhaiy = understand. Liv Laagi = connected with, mentally. Nibhraanti = clear of all doubts. Chookaayay = get cleared. 4.
Guggun = sky; the tenth door. Gorukh(u) = the Lord. Agumm = inaccessible. Poon(i) = too. Vaasi = resident. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Oodaasi = turned off; detached. 5.

MEANING: The yogi, whose way of life is based on Waheguru's pure Naam, has not even an iota of filth on his mind. The Dear Lord is always with him, and he gets past the stage of reincarnation. 1. I will also seek clarification from Waheguru when He calls me in His Residence (when I get connected with Him) on the ongoing question of the source of His Naam (how to acquire it and how to connect with Him). Pause.
A Brahman takes a dip in water to clean his body, bathes the idol, and worships the deity with flowers. But, the real bath for him is to take a dip in the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit and to acquire the virtues of Waheguru, which serve as the real flowers for His worship. He should realize that it is Waheguru alone whose Light is present in the whole universe, and He is the only Lord of the Universe, and only His Naam should be worshipped (recited with respect). 2. I have made my tongue (with which I recite the Naam), the beam of the weigh scale, and my heart, the pan where I weigh (the worth of) the immeasurable Waheguru (to what extent Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in my heart when I recite it with my tongue). There is only one shop (Guru's Court) where one can buy Waheguru's Naam, and there is only one Lord above everybody. All the traders come to Guru's shop for the same merchandise - Waheguru's Naam. 3. Satguru decides at both ends of the business – who deserves to get the Naam, and whose qualities to accept as trade-in. But only that individual understands this who is fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam and has overcome his misgivings. Such a devotee gets rid of the illusions of Maya, and enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart and serves Waheguru day and night. 4. The man has the Tenth door (through which the enlightenment takes place) on the top, where the inaccessible Waheguru could come to reside with the Guru's grace. With Guru's Shabad, I have realized that the Waheguru, which is present outside, is also present in my heart, and I have become fully detached from the worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 5.11.

Huoun = I; me. Kerta = performer of deeds. Chaara = match; competition. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru makes some rare individuals sing His praise in the shelter of the Guru. Such individuals are those who seek Waheguru's Naam and know the worth of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. Pause.
Such devotees stay awake (alert against the attacks of Maya) day and night, and never go to sleep (show carelessness). Their minds are pierced with the arrows of love for Waheguru, and suffer from the pain of His separation for which no physician has any cure. 1.
The human bride (soul) who falls in love with the Waheguru-husband and shows the expected love for Him gets her thirst for worldly desires quenched (removed) and enjoys the blissfulness in the high spiritual state. 2. She clears all her doubts and false illusions of Maya, and loads the bow of her mind with arrows of praise for Waheguru in the peaceful state. She kills her worldly desires, controls her mind with Guru's Shabad, beautifies her mind with noble qualities, and connects with Waheguru. 3.
(On the other hand) The individual, whose mind is charred with his ego, forgets Waheguru, and is punished severely in the court of the Angel of justice. He cannot get Waheguru's Naam at that time, even if he prays a lot for that, and has to endure the burden of the punishment. 4. The individual, who has worldly attachments caused by Maya in his thoughts, is caught in the net of the Angel of Death. He cannot break his worldly bonds and is humiliated by the Angel. 5. Satguru has kindly given me the Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam, so I have no ego, and I take no credit for my noble deeds (I simply obey Waheguru's Huqam). Nobody can compete with the devotee whom Waheguru gives His Naam; so, I am in Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 6.1.12.

Word Meating: Jeh = where. Baiysaakeh(i) = makes me sit. Teh = there. Bhayjeh(i) = send. Nugri = cities; the whole world. Puvitt(u) = sacred. 1.
Vussan = I live. Sach Gaavaan = the eternal village (of Waheguru's praise) (holy gathering). Sehjay = easily. Pause. Aapus Tay = from self; haumein. Jaaniya = decided. Ehee = this (haumein). Vikaara = vices; bad acts. Foormaaya = Huqam. Vertaiy = operates. 2. Indri = senses. Dhaat = running around; dancing to their tune. Subul = powerful. Khayl = drama of the world. MEANING: Waheguru is the emperor of the whole world, and all places are sacred (where His praise is sung). I obey His Huqam and will sit wherever He wants me to sit and will go wherever He sends me. 1.
Kindly grant me the eternal place to reside where Your praise is sung (the gathering of holy saints) so that I may easily be absorbed in the high spiritual state. Pause.
Because of his ego and selfishness, the man decides the good and the bad deeds for himself, which is the root of all vices. He does not realize that it is all the Huqam of Waheguru (including his choice of deeds) which operates everywhere. 2.
Everybody says that man's senses are so powerful that they make the man dance to their tune, but they do not realize who created the senses (Waheguru, of course). Some rare individuals realize that it is Waheguru who has created the whole world like a drama. 3.
The devotee, who, with the grace of the Guru, gets absorbed only in the thoughts of Waheguru, gets his indecisiveness cleared, and obeys Waheguru's Will as the eternal Truth. Also, the noose of the Angel of death around his neck gets severed (as he merges into Waheguru). 4. Who (nobody) demands the account of the deeds from the devotee who is free from any ego, says Nanak. Even the dreaded Angel of justice recites Waheguru' Naam and begs for His shelter. 5.1.

MEANING: Births and deaths do not happen to the devotees who are endowed with the treasure of Waheguru's Naam by Him. Their mind quits wandering, and they stay focused on His Naam. But only Waheguru knows who to give this treasure. 1.
Give up all your immoral sensual pleasures, and focus on Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Recite His Naam with Guru's Shabad, whereby you will develop love for Waheguru. Pause. If one forgets Waheguru's Naam in this world, then he has nowhere to get support (in the next world). He is taken through many life forms, and again gets absorbed in the filthy sensual pleasures. 2.
As predestined, the fortunate people connect with the Guru, and the eternal Waheguru connects them with Him when they worship Him continuously with full dedication. 3.
Waheguru has created the whole world Himself, and looks after it with His kind sight. One receives honours because of Waheguru's Naam, but Waheguru gives His Naam only to the individuals whom He likes, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Aikaiy Bhaayay = in the love for the One. Pause.
Jaat(i) = high caste. Put(i) = respect. Thayhou Na Thaaoun = no address or identity; a non-entity. Bhayd(i) = pierced by. Bherm(u) = misgiving; illusion. 2.
Laaluch = greed. Koorr(i) Dhundhaiy = Maya-related tasks. Viyaapiya = trapped in. Choataan Khaayay = punished severely. 3.
Bhagat(i) Khujaana = treasure of worship. Bukhshiyon = endowed. 4.
MEANING: I request You to forgive me for my previous misdeeds, and to put me on the path of righteousness now, oh Waheguru. I wish to have my selfishness and ego eradicated, and furthermore that my mind should be attracted to, and focused on Your Feet (Your Naam). 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. I wish to always be attached to Waheguru's Feet (Naam) with full dedication and have exclusive love for Him. Pause.
I do not come from a high caste, have no respect in society, and have no address (identification) – I am a non-entity. However, my mind has been pierced by Guru's Shabad, through which all my misgivings have been cleared, and the Guru has explained the importance of Waheguru's Naam to me. 2.
The human mind continues to be greedy in the false affairs of Maya as a result of which he suffers punishment in the detention of the Angel of death. 3.
Waheguru controls everything in the world, and there is none other like Him, oh Nanak. Those who take Guru's shelter enjoy blissfulness as He endows them with the treasure of Waheguru's Naam. 4.3.

Saar = worth. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = lost in misgivings. Aap(i) = ego. Vertda = guides. 3. Khulay Keechaiy = with controlled mind. Shaabaash(i) = accolades; praise. 4.
MEANING: If you search for them in the world, you will find that there is some rare devotee who is imbued with the love of Waheguru. However, one's face (mind) is purified, and he earns respect when he recites Waheguru's Naam in their company. 1.
Get (enshrine) the invaluable Waheguru's Naam in your heart with the advice of the Guru, and remember it all the time, oh dear friend. Pause.

Everybody serves only Waheguru, but only those who have it prewritten in their fate are connected to Him. Those who get connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru do not get separated again and become “one” with Him. 2.
The worshippers of Maya are lost in their misbeliefs and do not know the true worth of Waheguru’s worship. They are guided by their ego and selfishness, and nothing can be done (to enlighten them). 3.
One should pray only with a fully focused mind before Waheguru, because no force or argument works with Him. One earns His praise when he enshrines Waheguru’s Naam in his heart with the guidance of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Jidoon = from whom. Soajhi = understanding. Uggaiy = in the next world (in Waheguru’s Court). 2& 3. Vaypervaah(u) = care-free. Til Na = not even the size of a sesame seed. Tumaayay = desire; wish for. Bhujj(i) Puou = rush for shelter. 4.
MEANING: One should sing praise of Waheguru, who has no one else like Him, and who transforms a short-tempered man into a cool and patient (soft-hearted) person, as if a rusted and brittle piece of iron has been transformed into gold. 1.
Recite Waheguru’s Naam all the time, and worship Him (sing His praise) with Satguru’s Shabad, oh my mind. Pause. Recognize (make connection with) Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru when Satguru gives you the wisdom (enlightens you) to recite His Naam. We should also sing Satguru’s praise, who enlightens us. 2.
Forgetting Satguru (ignoring His Teachings), what will those do in the next world, who are attached to the other (Maya)? Tied in the court of the Angel of justice, they will be severely punished. 3. My Waheguru is carefree and has no desire for anything at all. So, rush to His shelter who will forgive you, and connect you with Him, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Sook = a sage. Junuk = a good king, and father-in-law of god Rama. Daalud = poverty. Bhunj(i) = by eradicating. Soodaama = a childhood friend and classmate of Krishna. Bhugti Bhaayay = with love for worship. Bhugut(i)-Vuchhul(u) = lover of His worship. Kirtaaruth(u) = causing success. 1.

Dhuroo, Prehlaad = devotees of God (see “Introduction” for detail). Bidur = was a son of a maid, and the prime minister of the king Dhritrashtra in Mahabharat, and was a devotee of god Krishna. Daasi – soot = son of a maid. Pause.

Kulyug(i) = in this eon. Perdhaan = supreme. Pdaaruth = valuable article. Nama, Jaiydayo, Kabir, Tirlochun(u) = are all great souls; their banis are enshrined in SGGS. Doakh = vices; sins. Chumray = of the cobbler (Ravidass). Kilvikh = sins. 2.

Upraadhi = culprit; sinner. Purhuray = removed; dispelled. Baysooaa = prostitute. Ruvut = enjoying. Ajamul = a Brahman who married a prostitute. Oogursaiyn = father of Kuns, and grandfather of Krishna. Gut = high spiritual state. Bundhun = bonds. Mookut = emancipate. 3.

Jun = slave; devotee. Ungreh(i) = showed kindness; favour = ungikaar. Paiyj = dignity. 4.

MEANING: Sages, like Sook and Junak, became well known after they recited Waheguru’s Naam with Guru’s Shabad in His shelter (with His guidance). Sudama also met Krishna with the spirit of worship (of Waheguru) when Krishna eradicated his poverty. Waheguru loves His devotees, and with His benevolence, His Naam becomes the source of all success through the Guru. 1.

All those who recite Waheguru’s Naam get salvaged, oh my mind. Holy men like Dhuroo, Prahalad, and Bidur, who was the son of a maid, were salvaged when they recited Waheguru’s Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.

Waheguru’s Naam is supreme even in this eon (In fact, in every eon) because of which His devotees are salvaged. All the sins of the Great souls like Nam Dev, Kabir, Trilochan, and Ravidass, who was a dealer in hides, were eradicated with Waheguru’s Naam. The sins of all those who recited Waheguru’s Naam with the advice of the Guru were forgiven, and they were emancipated. 2. All the misdeeds of the guilty were cleared who recited Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Even Ajamul(u), who is considered to be a sinner because he married a prostitute and enjoyed her company, was salvaged because he recited Waheguru's Naam (Narayan) when calling his son's name, whom he had named Narayan. Similarly, Oogursaiyn(i) (the maternal grandfather of Krishna) attained the high spiritual state when all his worldly bonds were broken by Waheguru. 3.

Waheguru does favours to His devotees, and he protects the dignity of His devotees who take His shelter (surrender to Him). Waheguru was kind to His devotee, Nanak, too, when He was salvaged (merged into Waheguru) by reciting His Naam. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Smaadh(i) = in deep meditation = Liv Laayee. Moon(i) = hermits; sages. Jutee = celibates. Sutee = of high morality. Suntokheen = the contented. Inderaadik = god Indra and the like. Ruvviya = recited Naam. Tay = those. Bhaayay = liked by. Paar Puyya = were salvaged. 1. Dhunaa = a holy saint; his bani is also enshrined in SGGS. Jatt = a major caste; they are mostly farmers. Balmeek = a low-caste holy man who is believed to have written Ramayana; he was a robber earlier. Pause.
Soor(i) = gods. Gunh, Gundherb = assistants of gods. Rikh(i) Buppraiy = poor Angel of justice. Shunkar = Shiva. Dayveen = the goddesses. Mookh(i) = with the tongue. Bheena = imbued. 2. Koat(i) Taytees = 330 millions (number of Hindu gods). Rusaal(u) = source of all sweet tastes. Vussiya = resides. 3. Unut-Trungee = with countless waves (feelings) = Waheguru. Thaayeen Paayay = gives due credit. Bhaaya = like. 4.

MEANING: All those who recite Waheguru Naam in the shelter of the Guru are liked by Waheguru and are salvaged. The accomplished Sidhs recite Waheguru's Naam in their deep meditation, and so do the yogis and the hermits. The celibates, the devotees with high morality, and gods like Indra, also recited Waheguru's Naam with their tongue. Those who come to Waheguru's shelter are liked by Him, and are salvaged with the advice of Satguru.1.

People find salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. Look at Dhana Ji, who was a simple-minded farmer, and Balmeek, who was a robber – both were salvaged when they took Guru's shelter, oh my mind. Pause.
The gods, the human beings, and the assistants of the gods recite Waheguru's Naam, and so does the poor Angel of justice. Shiva, Brahma, and the goddesses all recite Waheguru's Naam with their tongues. All those whose mind gets imbued with Waheguru's love in the shelter of the Guru get salvaged. 2. The 330 million gods also recited Waheguru's Naam, but found no end to the limits of Waheguru. The Vedas, the Puranas, and the Simritis sing Waheguru's praise, and the highly literary pundits recite Waheguru's Naam with their tongue. Those who embed the Naam of Waheguru, which is the source of all sweet tastes in their mind, in the shelter of the Guru, are salvaged. 3.
I could not count the number of all those who recite Waheguru's Naam with a huge variety of feelings. With His benevolence, Waheguru recognizes the hard work of His devotees and rewards those whom He likes. The Guru was very kind to me, who reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my mind, and now I recite it all the time like a slave, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Gurmit(i) = with Guru's advice. Put(i) = husband; the Lord. Hult = this world. Pult = next world. Untay = at the end. Chhudaayay = emancipates. Uvghut = very difficult. Guliyaan = streets; path. Bheerriyaan = very narrow; highly scrutinized. Tithaiy = there. 1. Drirraayay = reinforce. Soot = son. Bundhpo = close relative. Uver(u) = other. Maayay = oh, my mother. Pause.
Birhee = dear. Joadrri = humble request. Dhill Na = without delay. 2.
Shernaagti = shelter seekers. Jug-Jeevna = life of the world. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the real treasure, and one gets connected with the Lord-husband with the advice of the Guru. Waheguru's Naam accompanies you in this world and the next, and Waheguru emancipates the devotee at the end. Where the paths are very narrow and difficult to pass through (very strict scrutiny of one's deeds before his fate is decided), Waheguru frees him from any punishment (and absorbs him in Himself). 1.
Please fortify Waheguru's Naam in my mind, oh my Satguru. Waheguru is everything for me – my mother, my father, my son, and my close relative - and I have no one else to go to, oh my mother. Pause.
Waheguru's Naam is very dear to me; I wish someone would connect me with Him, oh my mother. I will request him very humbly to connect me with my dear Waheguru. My Satguru is highly benevolent and connects with Waheguru without any delay. 2.
Those who do not remember Waheguru are unlucky and die a spiritual death. They are taken through many life forms, and they keep taking births and dying again and again. Tied in the court of the Angel of justice, they are severely punished by Waheguru. 3. You are the Lord, and I am in your shelter; kindly connect me with You, oh Royal Waheguru. Please, be kind and put me in the shelter of the Satguru, oh, the life of the world, Waheguru. (When one takes shelter of the Guru), Waheguru becomes kind to Him and connects the devotee with Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.3.

Word Meaning: Poonji = wealth = Raas(i). Dusaayaynda = ask about. Vittoun = for. Khun-Khunniyaiy = will cut myself into pieces; sacrifice life. Pirum Ka = for the Dear. Sujjun(u) = friend (Waheguru). Milaas(i) = I connect. 1.
Dheeruk = encouragement. Shabaash(i) = praise. Pause.
Lubhyee = acquire. Nirjaas(i) = verify for yourself. 2.
Saagur = sea. Toottha = pleased to be kind. Pergaas(i) = enlightenment. Vihooniyaan = empty; devoid of. Tikh = thirst. Kundhi Paas(i) = near the bank of (lake). 3.
Chireen Vichhoonniyaan = separated for a long time. Vuddrri Aas = big expectation. 4.

MEANING: I want to know the source of the wealth of Waheguru's Naam. Is there someone who would tell me about that? I will cut myself into pieces (will make any sacrifice) for him if he would connect me with Waheguru. I have deep love for the Dear (Waheguru), but do not know how I can connect with my Friend. 1.
Dear Waheguru's Naam is my wealth, is my capital, oh my mind. When the Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in a devotee's mind, he is assured of Waheguru's encouragement (support) and His praise (approval) for the devotee. Pause.
Waheguru Himself connects the devotee with the Guru who shows me (endows with) the wealth of Waheguru's Naam. One can verify that he cannot foster love for Waheguru in his heart without the Guru's guidance. Waheguru has placed Himself in the Guru; kudos to the Guru (it is His greatness) who connects the devotee with Waheguru. 2.
Satguru is the ocean (treasure) of Waheguru's worship. When Satguru is overpleased to be kind to a devotee, He opens the treasure of Waheguru's worship for Him, which enlightens his mind. Like an unfortunate person who dies of thirst even when sitting on the bank of a river, the followers of their mind are unfortunate and stay devoid of Waheguru's Naam even when they are physically close to Satguru. 3.
I know that the Guru is a great donor of Waheguru's Naam, and I will humbly tell Him my wish that I have a great desire for Waheguru's Naam, and beg Him to connect me with Him from whom I have been separated for a long time. I will pray to Him to listen to my request, if He so wills (approves), oh Nanak. 4.2.4.

Word Meaning: Kutha = praise of virtues. Smaani = gets embedded. Vudbhaagiya = very fortunate. Ootum = supreme. Pud(i) = spiritual state. Nirbaani = above the effects of Maya. Purteet(i) = full faith. 1.
Bhaani = is liked. Akuth Kuhaai = the praise of the indescribable Waheguru. Pause. Khoj(i) Dhundholiya = searched for. Kiyoun = how. Akuth = the indescribable (Waheguru).

Adhaar(u) = support; basis. Purakh = (living) Waheguru = His manifestation (Satguru). Soojaani = know-all. 2.
Vihooniyaan = devoid of. Raiyn(i) = night of life. Vihaani = is spent. 3.
Jaachik = beggar. Deen = poor; helpless. Sooghurr = wise. Shenaagti = shelter seeking.4.
MEANING: When a devotee listens to the praise of Waheguru from Satguru, love for Waheguru (His Naam) is cultivated in his mind with the benevolence of Satguru. The fortunate devotees attain the supreme spiritual state by reciting Waheguru's Naam. The Sikhs of the Guru have full faith in Him, and they stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam with the benevolence of Satguru. 1.
I like to listen to the praise of Waheguru, oh my mind. You too, sing Waheguru's praise all the time for which the Guru is the source of motivation and the ability to sing. Pause.
I found the story (virtues, praise) of the indescribable Waheguru to my great liking in the company of the holy saints, and searched Waheguru in my mind; that is how you find Him (with the benevolence of the Guru). Now that I have been connected to the know-all (omniscient) Waheguru in my mind, His Naam has become the basis of my life. 2.
Satguru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, connected me with Him, and my mind is now fully focused on the Lord of mind (Waheguru). It was my great fortune to serve my Guru, because of whom I realized the wise and the know-all Waheguru. But the night of life of those who are disconnected from Waheguru is spent in suffering. 3.
I am a humble beggar at Waheguru's Door, and beg Him to give me His Naam to recite. I prayed to my Satguru-friend to connect me with the wise and the omniscient Waheguru. I am a slave of Waheguru, and am in His shelter, and beg Him to be kind to me so that I may get fully absorbed in Him, oh Nanak.

sweet taste. Chaakh(u) = enjoy the taste. Huriya Hoya = rejuvenated. Bhaakh = utter; sing. 1. Hult = this world. Pult = the next world. Put(i) = dignity. Pause.
Keerut(i) = singing praise. Dherti = ground; field. 2.
Trishna = desire for worldly attractions. Desdis = of all directions (kinds). Lakh(u) = aim. Dhrig(u) = condemnable; reprehensible. Bishta = filth (of evil desires). Doorgundh = filth. Bhaakh(u) = food. 3. Trah(i), Trah(i) = implore. Maylaap = union. Put(i) = respect. Saakh(u) = trust. Bhaalkh(u) = recite. 4.

MEANING: The devotees, who love Waheguru, are highly fortunate, and they keep Him in mind all the time. Love and respect for Waheguru sprout in the minds of the devotees in the company of holy men, and they enjoy the sweetness of His Naam with the Guru's Shabad. One's mind and body get spiritually rejuvenated when they sing Waheguru's praise with Gurbani. 1. Enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind, my dear friend. You can acquire Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, which protects your dignity in this world as well as in the next. Pause.
We should recite Waheguru's Naam and enjoy the bliss of His praise in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru has placed Himself in the gathering of the holy men, where we should plant the seed of His Naam in the field of our body. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit, the taste of which can be enjoyed in the company of the Perfect Guru. 2.
The followers of their minds are full of desires for worldly attractions, have many expectations, and aim to acquire all kinds of them. Life is reprehensible without Waheguru's Naam because otherwise, the mind of the money-worshippers stays in the filth of evil desires. They are cycled through many life forms, and filth becomes their food. 3.
I am in Your shelter, and implore You to kindly protect me against the attacks of Maya, oh Waheguru. Please, put me in the company of the Guru where I may acquire Your Naam, which earns one respect and trust. I am a slave of Waheguru, and have acquired the wealth of Waheguru's Naam by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.4.6.

Jaachaiy = begs. Pusaaou = by benevolence. Sat(i) = eternal. Bhaavaiy = likes. 2. Nuvaiy = nine. Chhider = openings; doors. Serveh(i) = secrete. Upvittra = unholy; filthy. Puvittar = purified; holy. MEANING: The treasures of Waheguru's worship are always full (one can worship Him anytime), but only that individual sings His praise whom He is kind to, and He salvages His devotees in the shelter of the Guru. 1.
I always remember Waheguru in my heart when He becomes kind to you, oh my mind. Recite Waheguru's Naam, which emancipates you at the end, oh my mind. Pause.
Waheguru's Naam is the sea (unlimited source) of comforts. I am a beggar at Waheguru's Door, and beg for His Naam with His benevolence. I like (love) the ever-eternal God. 2.
All nine body doors secrete (wish for) filthy enjoyments, but they get purified when one recites Waheguru's Naam. If my Lord becomes overpleased, all the filth comes off with the recitation of His Naam. 3. Attachment to Maya is so strong that it is very difficult to get rid of it. How can one swim across the world-sea (sea of Maya), which is so difficult to swim across, with such attraction for Maya? But, if Waheguru sends the Guru as the ship, one can be ferried across the sea with the recitation of His Naam. 4.
You are present everywhere, and everyone belongs to You, oh Waheguru; only that happens which He plans. I am a poor devotee of Him, and sing His praise; it is up to Waheguru if He gives me any reward for that, oh Nanak. 5.1.7.

Word Meaning: Kllvikh = sins. Sunchou = accumulate. Sukhaayee = friend; supporter. 1. Srayshut = supreme. Ootum = superior. Tthayh(u) Maarou = kills on the spot; completely destroys. 2. Chuhoun Koont = in all the four directions. Jaaniya = becomes famous. Kunkur(u) = assistant. 3. Chulta = amazing feats. Maaraiy = hurt; cause harm. Chhudaayee = protects. 4. Undin(u) = all the time. Nistaaray = salvaged. Dus-utth = 18 (Puranas). 5.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam, and He will eradicate all your sins, oh my mind. So, accumulate the Wealth of Waheguru's Naam and preserve it; it will be your supporter when you leave this world. 1.

Only that devotee recites Waheguru's Naam who is kind to, and he enjoys blissfulness by reciting His Naam all the time. One enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru, and is ferried across the world-sea by reciting His Naam. Pause.

Waheguru is fearless (has no superior), is formless, and His Naam is the eternal recitation, which is the supreme and most superior deed in the world. You can kill your enemy - the agent of the Angel of spiritual death - on the spot (completely destroy his fear), because he does not even go near Waheguru's devotees. 2.

The devotee of Waheguru, whom He is kind to, is known all in all the four directions in all four eras. If some sinner thinks of causing any harm to him, the assistants of the Angel of death swallow him (spiritually kill him).

The creator, Waheguru, is present in everybody and enjoys His amazing feats after performing them. Who can cause any harm to His devotee who is protected by Him, and who is emancipated by Him? 4.

I always recite the Naam of Waheguru, which salvages all His devotees and His worshippers. You can ask the 18 Puranas, and the four Vedas, and you will find that it is only Waheguru's Naam that emancipates one, oh Nanak. 5.2.8.

Bichaara = poor; helpless. 1. Nirbhuou = fearless (has no law to obey). Soohayla = in comforts. Gooni = virtues (praise of Waheguru). Pause. Dayhdhaar = having bodies. Dayva = gods. Dur(i) Mooya = tremble with fear. Lukh Chauraasih = the 8.4 million living beings. Joni Joya = cycled through many life forms. 2. Raajus = living being having Rajo Goon which is one of the three effects of Maya. It is the root of worldly attachments and working for worldly comforts. Saatuk(u) = living being having Sato Goon. MEANING: The earth, the sky, and the stars are in Your fear (they obey Your Laws) because of Your powerful command over them, oh Waheguru. The air, the water, the fire, and the clouds are all helpless on their own (they cannot perform their functions) and obey Your Huqam, oh Lord. 1. All those living beings of many different kinds which Waheguru has created, and are under the three different effects of Maya, are afraid of Him. Even the deceptive Maya and the Angel of justice are powerless on their own and become effective only with Waheguru's Huqam. 3. Aayo saam Nanak, oat Hur(i) kee, leejaiy bhooja pusaaraiy. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Paaanch Berkh Ko = of five years. Amar Ataaray = the tall palace of immortality (highest spiritual state). Hayt(i) = for. Naraayin = Waheguru. Bidaaray = destroyed. 1. Kaytay = Agunut = countless. Deen = poor. Ulp Mut(i) = of low wisdom. Nirgoon = without any virtues. Pause. Soopchaaro = dog-eater. Budhik = hunter (who killed Krishna). Nimukh = a moment. Gujput(i) = elephant which was trapped by the octopus. Nukheh(i) = with claws. Bidaaray = destroyed. Bidur = of Mahabharat. Daasi Soot = the son of a maid. Pooneeta = purified; holy. Oojaaray =enlightened. 3. Praadh = vices. Mithiya Moh = in love for the perishable. Mugnaaray = lost in; intoxicated. Saam = Oat = shelter. Leejaiy = accept; embrace. Bhooja Pusaaray = with arms spread. 4.

MEANING: The orphan Dhuroo was only five years old when he began to recite Waheguru'//s Naam, and attained the highest spiritual state to become immortal (by merging into Waheguru). Waheguru destroyed the assistants of the Angel of death of Ajamul (who was considered a sinner for marrying a prostitute), because he used to call his son Narayan (a name for Waheguru), thus reciting His Naam - even though he did so unknowingly (see "Introduction for full story). 1.

My Lord, the Creator (Waheguru), salvaged countless people. I am poor (humble), have low wisdom, and have no good quality, but have come to You for shelter. Pause.

Baalmeek, who was a low-caste untouchable and who used to kill dogs for food, was salvaged because he recited Your Naam; and the poor hunter, who killed Krishna, was also salvaged because he too recited Your Naam. (See "Introduction" for full story). Similarly, the elephant, trapped in the tentacles of an octopus and about to drown, was rescued in an instant when it remembered God for help. 2.

Waheguru protected His devotee, the child Prahalad, from being killed by his father, Hernaakhsh, who was torn apart by god Vishnu with His claws. Similarly, Bidur (of Mahabharat), who was the son of a maid, was purified (enlightened) by Waheguru when he invited Krishna for dinner. In addition, all his associates were also enlightened. 3.

How many vices of mine can I describe!! I am always intoxicated by the false attractions in life. But I have come to Waheguru's shelter, and pray to Him to accept me with open arms, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Vitt = wealth. Nuvitt = for the sake of. Bhermiyo = wandered around. Buhou Bhaanti = in many ways. Anik = countless. Jutun = efforts. Dhaayay = rushes (shows excitement) Huoun = Haumein = selfishness and ego. Tay Tay = all those. Bhuyyay = became. Ajaayay = waste; worthless. 1. Uver = others. Kaahoo Kaaj = for good cause. Pause. Kluttar = wife. Pusaara = expanse. Oorjhaayay = tangled in. Mud = liquor. Oodmaatay = intoxicated. 2. Bidh(i) = approach. Khoji = explored. Buhou Perkaara = in many ways. Dataar = donor; provider. Sumruth = fully capable. 3. Tiyaagiyo = renounced; gave up. Maan(u) = pride. Mehta = respect in society. Bhuyyay Aikaiy = became one; merged into. 4.

MEANING: The man wanders around in excitement, and in many different ways for the sake of earning money; but all those tasks that he performs due to his selfishness and ego, are worthless for his spirituality. 1. All other days (without reciting Waheguru's Naam) are spiritually worthless; kindly grant me those days on which I may sing Your praise, oh Waheguru. Pause.

The man remains tangled in worldly attractions and relations, like his sons and his wife, and in the expanse of the household. He stays intoxicated, enjoying the taste of the liquor of Maya, and never recites Waheguru's Naam. 2.

I have searched for different approaches (to get connected with Waheguru) in many ways, and have found that one cannot connect with Him without taking shelter of the holy men (the Guru). So, I have come to the great and the omnipotent Waheguru, who is the provider for all of us, to beg for the donation of His Naam. 3.

I have given up all my pride and my respect in society, and have come to Waheguru as His slave to get the dust of His Feet (His Naam). I have been connected to Waheguru and have become "one" with Him (through His kindness), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Dheeriyo = settled. Naam = name calling. Bust = resides. Chihn = scar; wound. Oopur Chhohiyo = went through the roof. Gaara = name calling. 1. Aiyti Na Jaanoun = do not know even that. Kaytik Moodut(i) = for how long. Khubur(i) = knowledge. Pause. Sehn Sheel = having patience. Ur(u) = and. Busoodha = earth. Khimaa = forgiving. Nibhraantay = without doubt. Sunjoga = union. Dooraatay = bad quality. 2. Ruch(i) Ruchiya = created the world. Bidhaataiy = carver of our fates (Waheguru). 3. Bern Chihn = physical (visible) features. Mithiya = false. Pusaara = expanse. Bhunut(i) = says. Oojhaaraiy = dismantles. 4.

MEANING: Do you even know who you are, and where you have come from, oh man? You have no knowledge about the length of time you have been travelling through different life forms. Pause.

So, where does your ego still reside in your mind (which keeps you in the birth-death cycle), and what has happened to Waheguru's Naam, which resides hidden in your heart, and which can terminate your reincarnations? What wound-causing curses have you heard so that you are going through the roof, oh man? 1.
All five elements, by whose union you have come into existence, have good qualities. For example, water and the air have great patience and provide their services to all indiscriminately, and the earth is always forgiving beyond any doubt. So, what is wrong with them (that you have bad qualities like rage and ego)? 2.
(Answer)The Creator, which is also the carver of our fates, and which has created the universe, has also made selfishness and ego a part of the personality of the living beings. And, it is He who takes births and dies, and comes and goes. 3.
The creation has no permanent visible features (as things keep changing with time), and the whole expanse of the universe is false (short-lived). Waheguru alone remains behind when He folds (dismantles) the drama of the world, oh Nanak. 4.4.

MEANING: Why have you forgotten Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts for your life and your soul, oh ignorant? You have gone insane by tasting the low-quality liquor of Maya, and have wasted away the invaluable human life uselessly, oh man. 1.

Ignoring God, you are misled by illusions and are deeply attached to Maya, which should be your slave, oh man. How could you make such a stupid mistake!! Pause.

Rather than serving Waheguru, you are worshipping the low-caste Maya (which is Waheguru's slave), and spending your life in selfishness and ego. People like you are followers of their mind (worshippers of Maya) and are called ignorant and blind because they perform rituals which are spiritually worthless. 2.

Such people consider Waheguru's Naam, which is eternal, to be unimportant, and treat the perishables as being their permanent companions. They are lost in such misbeliefs that they cling to wealth, which is not really theirs (it changes owners). 3.

It is only Waheguru's Naam with which people can find salvation, no matter what their societal caste is. Whoever listens to Guru Nanak Sahib's Teachings (and follows them) is salvaged (merges into Waheguru). 4.1.10.

Inn Bidh(i) = by such means. Mirtuk(u) = who has killed his desires. Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other. Pause Two.

MEANING: The man does not realize that God is always with him, and secretly cheats people. Forgetting Waheguru, he enjoys sensual pleasures, which are like hugging a hot iron pillar (because he will be punished for his misdeeds). 1.

Why do you cast an evil eye on the household of others, oh man? Have you not heard the name of the Angel of justice, oh, filthy, merciless, lustful, and idiot person? Pause.

You have tied rocks of vices around your neck, and are carrying a load of vilification of others on your head; with such a heavy load of sins, how can one swim across the huge and difficult world-sea? 2. The man is badly influenced (overpowered) by lust, rage, greed, and worldly attractions, but he pays no attention to them. (He does not realize that) The sea of Maya is so difficult to swim across that he will not be able to keep his head above its water. 3. The enlightened holy saint is as detached from worldly attractions (impartial) as the sun, the moon, and the fire are. They are indiscriminate and pure by nature (they make no distinction among people when delivering their services). 4.

The good fortune of the individual who obeys Satguru's advice with love favours him, and the curtain of his misbeliefs is removed. The Guru gives Waheguru's Naam as the mantra, which is the source of enlightenment, as a result of which, the devotee does not go through the suffering of reincarnations, oh Nanak. 5.

If one kills his worldly desires and his love for Maya, and recites Waheguru's Naam, he can swim across the world-sea by such means, oh man. Second Pause. 2.11.

MEANING: The Guru showed me Waheguru in my own heart, so I am free from the search for Him outdoors (my search has come to an end). I saw and experienced Waheguru in many different amazing forms. Now, my mind cannot leave Him to focus on anything else. 1.
I have acquired the pearl-like Perfect Waheguru. Waheguru, which cannot be bought with any amount of money, was acquired by me with the grace of the Guru. Pause.
I sing praise of the indescribable, invisible, and incomprehensible Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. With Guru's Shabad, the Naam-Amrit dripped in my mind drop by drop, and I felt as if the auto-playing Divine music played in my Tenth Door (in a high spiritual state). 2.
I have acquired the inexhaustible treasure of all comforts (Waheguru's Naam) whereby my thirst for all worldly desires has been put out, and now I do not feel a shortage of anything. By dropping on the feet of the Guru, I enjoyed the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and my unrefined mind has been refined. 3.

= rushes. Brahamchaar(i) = celibate. Brahmchuj(u) = celibacy. Goomaana = conceit. Sanyasi = renouncer of the world. Bhermiyo = wandered. Bigaana = ignorant. 2. Ghoonghur = anklets with bells (for dancing). Ramdaasa = (fake) devotees of Waehguru. Oopaava = to earn. Bert, Nayam, Kerm Khut = the prevalent religious rituals. Bhaykh = religious symbols. Dikhaava = to show off. Naad = music; hymns. Alaapay = sings. Gaava = sings. 3. Herkh = happiness. Soag = sadness. Reht = without. Ootri = came off. Chinta = worries. 4. Untarjaami = omniscient. Preetum = Dear. Bisur Guyyay = forgotten. Bukbaayay = useless and nonsensical deeds. Pause 2.

MEANING: The pundit reads the Vedas aloud to impress people, but himself is unmotivated to follow their advice. He sits in some isolated place to stay quiet for long times, but has a bundle of imagination going on in his mind. With the thought of renouncing the world, he leaves his house and runs away, but cannot overcome the attractions of the world. 1.

I am looking for a holy man who is connected to Waheguru so that I may tell him of my state of mind and request that he connect me to Waheguru. Pause.

Some people endure many hardships to please their deity; they may make their bodies strong, but they gain no control over their mind, which wanders in every direction. Some practise celibacy and stay celibate, but become very conceited because of their achievement. Similarly, some people become sanyasis and visit various holy places, yet remain ignorant and become highly short-tempered. 2.

Some wear anklets with bells (for dancing) to present themselves as devotees of Vishnu, but that is only a means to earn bread. They wear religious symbols, observe all the prevalent rituals like fasting, and the six deeds of the Brahmans (see the “Introduction”), sing songs and hymns, but never sing Waheguru’s praise from the depths of their heart. 3.

On the other hand, Waheguru’s holy devotees are above happiness, sadness, greed, and worldly attractions, and are pure at heart. I wish to have the dust of their feet (an opportunity to serve them) if Waheguru is kind to me. All my worries were gone when I came to the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.

My Royal Waheguru is omniscient, and my Dear knows everything that I have in my mind. With His grace, I have forgotten all the worthless and the senseless rituals, oh Nank. Pause Second. 6.15.

Word Meaning: Koat(i) Laakh = millions. Gavaara = unrefined; foolish. 1. Put(i) = dignity. Bisrut = on forgetting. Ruliyaiy Khaak(u) = mix with dirt; become worthless. Pause.

Roop Rung = beauty. Bhogun = enjoying. Chhider = holes (for good qualities to leak out, and bad qualities to enter; weakness in morality. Vikaara = of vices. Kulyaana = source of well being. Sehj(u) = high spiritual state. 2.
Birung = robs happiness (enjoyments) . Khinaiy Meh(i) = in a moment. Baadur = cloud. Chaaya = shade. Laal Bhuyyay = dyed red (deep colour of love). Goohrray = deep. Raatay = imbued. 3. Ooch = transcendent. Mooch = huge. Apaar = endless. Agumm = inaccessible. Vudiyaayi Sobha = respect; praise. Khusm(u) = master. 4.
MEANING: The devotee, who has Your Naam at heart, feels like a ruler over millions of people; oh Waheguru. But the individual, who does not get Your Naam from Satguru, is foolish (unlucky) and stays in the birth-death cycle. 1.
Only my Satguru protects our dignity (against the attacks of Maya). Our dignity is preserved in full when we remember Him, but we mix with dust (suffer humiliation because of our vices) when we forget Him. Pause.
All enjoyments of beauty and other sensual pleasures dig holes of vices in our body (through which our noble qualities leak out, and bad qualities enter). Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of all our wellbeing, high spiritual state, and comforts. 2. Like the shade of a cloud which moves away quickly (and thus robs us of our comfort in the hot sun), Maya robs us of all our happiness in a moment. But those devotees, who sing Waheguru's praise in the company (shelter) of the Guru, get imbued in the deep colour of Waheguru's love. 3.
Waheguru is very high (transcendent), huge (limitless), and His Court is inaccessible, but one can earn praise and respect with the Naam of the dear Lord, oh Nanak. 4.7.16.

Khund = parts of the universe. Deep = islands; continents. Loaa = worlds. Kuvaavaiy = word; Huqam. 1. Kernaiyhaara = the creator (Waheguru). Boojhou = recognize; make connection with. Soojhaiy = think of; understand. Pause. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Pusaara = spread; expansion. Avtaara = birth. Ticken Na Paavaiy = does not stabilize. Raayee = for a short amount (of time). Goobaara = deep darkness (in mind). Nistaara = salvation. 2.

Huoun Huoun = of haumein. Kerm Kmaanay = perform deeds. Tay, Tay = all those. Bundh = bonds. Gulaanaiy = around the neck. Dhaari = adopt. Lohhari = shackles. Bhaag = fortune. Muthaanaiy = on the forehead. 3. Bhaaya = liked by. Aap-houn = by self. Vukhaani = utters; recites. Bulihaara = a sacrifice. 4.
MEANING: Waheguru has created the world, days, nights, forests, vegetation, the three-layered universe, and water. He also created all four sources of reproduction, and the four Vedas (through their authors with the wisdom provided by Him). All the parts of the universe, islands, and all worlds came into being with His one Huqam (Command). 1.
One understands all this magnanimity of Waheguru when he gets connected with the Guru. Pause. Waheguru created and spread Maya with its three effects all over the world, which is the root of one's haumein (selfishness and ego), and because of which, man's mind does not become peaceful even for a short moment, and he takes births, dies, and spends life in paradise-like or hell-like conditions. It is all darkness in one's mind without the Guru; but his mind is enlightened in the shelter of the Guru, and he gets salvaged. 2.
All those deeds that the man performs under the influence of his ego and selfishness become bonds around his neck. When one adopts a selfish attitude, his deeds become shackles for him. But the individual, who has good fortune on his forehead, recognizes (makes a connection with) the "One" Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. 3.
No one is foolish or knowledgeable on their own. Only that individual gets connected with Waheguru whom He likes, and who recites His Naam (with His benevolence); the others, whom He misleads, are simply misled. There is no end to the limits of Waheguru, and I am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.17.

MEANING: The mind-captivating Maya has captivated all humans, and the world is overpowered by the false greed of worldly attractions. The man accumulates wealth claiming it to be his, but it deceives him at the end (does not accompany him). 1.
But the fearless God is always kind, and raises and nurtures all living beings. Pause.
Some people earn wealth by hard work, and bury it deep in the ground, while some others do not let even a penny leave them even in their dream. The capricious wealth does not accompany even those at the end who filled bags with it when they were rulers. 2.
Some love it even more than their body and life while some accumulate it keeping it a secret from their father and mother. It does not stay even close to those who hide it from their sons, friends, and brothers. 3. Some people renounce the world and sit in meditation, while the yogis, the celibates, and the pundits ponder on their deities, trying to stay away from Maya. Still, some others live away from the world in graveyards, but Maya does not leave them alone and captivates even them in different forms. 4.
Those are lucky whose worldly bonds are broken by Waheguru, and His Naam is enshrined in their hearts. With Waheguru's kind sight, they find emancipation in Guru's shelter, and attain high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 5.2.18.

MEANING: Remember (recite the Naam of) only Waheguru, which leaves nobody with unfulfilled wishes; oh, my friends. Waheguru, which protects you in the mother's womb, also gives you life and a beautiful body (refines you from an ugly blob of blood into a healthy and lovely body). We must remember the Carver of our fates (Waheguru) every moment, who hides our many vices. Embed His lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in your heart, and protect your soul from the jungle of immoral activities. All one's misgivings are destroyed (cleared) by reciting His Naam, and all his wailings and imploring come to an end. However, some rare individual gets to recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. I am all sacrifice for such a lucky devotee, oh Nanak. 1.
Waheguru's Naam is the basis of man's mind (soul) and body; whoever recites the Naam gets salvaged. Pause. The man (mistakenly) believes the perishable world to be permanent, and the foolish and the unwise get attached to it. He stays intoxicated with the liquor of lust, rage, and greed, and wastes away his precious human life for cowrie-shell-like (spiritually) worthless things. He stays imbued till the end in the love of worldly things which are not really his, and ignores (Waheguru's Naam), which is exclusively his. He enjoys the luxuries of life, but the fire of his desires is never put out. All his talks (efforts) are for Maya, but his wishes stay unfulfilled. The man comes into this world alone and leaves alone. All such talks are false when people say to each other that they are always with you. But the man is not to be fully blamed for his ignoble thinking, because Waheguru has created the world in such a way that the man is misled by the mind-captivating Maya, and continues to perform deeds under the influence of his previous deeds, the effect of which cannot be erased, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Blinded by the short-lived enjoyments, the man keeps performing immoral deeds as a result of which he has to incarnate in many different life forms like animals, birds, and evil souls, etc. He cannot stay where he has to go at the end (Waheguru's Court), and getting no place there, he goes through many life forms again and again. He has a whole range of immoral feelings, like lust, in his mind and body. The helpless man is robbed of his spirituality by his ego and gets severely punished for his countless vices, the full extent of which is not known. Because of forgetting Waheguru, he is put in the hell (of reincarnations) where no mother, relative, friend, or his offspring can help (to end his birth-death cycles). But the individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, is salvaged, oh Nanak. 3.
After wandering around (trying many other spiritual places), I have finally come to the shelter of Waheguru, the Lord of the poor and the father and mother of the world. Waheguru is munificent, and the destroyer of all troubles and suffering. But He salvages only those whom He likes. He is the saviour who pulls us out of the deep and the dark well of ignorance; the individual who worships him with love finds salvation. He places Himself in the Guru to protect us from the grave suffering of our desires for Maya. No recitation of any mantra, self-affliction, or efforts to control senses are any match for Waheguru's Naam. The inaccessible and the unfathomable Waheguru has been there from the very beginning, is present now, and will be present at the end. I am Your slave, and beg for Your Naam, oh Waheguru. My Waheguru is the source of the highest spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.3.19.

Waheguru's Naam purifies even the immoral, and He is the guard of the spiritual orphans (who have nobody to guide them). For those who have it prewritten in their fortune, He is the raft to ferry them across the world sea. 1.
Waheguru's Naam (His praise) is the path to immortality, and the gathering of the holy saints is the place to sing His praise. Please, be kind to me (Nanak) so that I may live to listen to Your praise, oh Waheguru with many names. 2.7.30.

Mihervaan(i) = the kind. Thaapay = created. Junum(u) Pudaaruth = the objective of human life. Jin(i) = by winning; achieving. Pervaan(u) = approved. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru creates the human body with the union of the five basic elements, and the union of the soul with a particular body, and their separation is also predetermined by Him. The soul enters the fetus with the Huqam of Waheguru. 1.
The temperature of the mother's womb is so high that it is intolerable for humans in the outside world; but the Lord protects the fetus even in that heat, and in the deep darkness where the fetus hangs upside down, and where the fetus is believed to recite His Naam with every breath. 2. When the child comes out of the womb into the world, he forgets Waheguru's Naam, and gets attached to the worldly attractions as a result of which he is cycled through many different life forms again, and finds no place for his permanent living. 3. Waheguru, which has created all the living beings, is basically kind and eventually salvages all such misled people. The individual, who achieves the objective of life successfully (embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart) is approved by Him, and is absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 4.1.31.

Remember only the Supreme Waheguru, who controls all the happenings in the world, and whose Naam washes away the filth of your sins, oh man. 2.
Waheguru resides in every heart, everywhere, and has eternal Residence. 3.

Waheguru, all whose tasks are perfect, does not come or go anywhere (neither takes births nor dies). He is always around us. 4.
Waheguru is the creator of the whole universe and is the saviour of His devotees. The holy saints survive by reciting His Naam, which is the basis of their life. The omnipotent Lord is the creator of the whole universe, and I am a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 5.2.32.

Word Meaning: Sookhdaayi = comforting. Ajamul = the Brahman of Kanauj who married a prostitute. Gunika = a prostitute who worshipped Waheguru while teaching a parrot. Pause. Punchaali = Daraupdi, the wife of the five Pandavas who was unsuccessfully disrobed by the Kauravas of Mahabharat. Soodh(i) = recognition. Huriyo = removed; eliminated. Kroonamaiy = the compassionate Waheguru. Paiyj = respect; faith in. Budhaayi = enhanced. 1. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = the source of benevolence (God). Bhurosaiy = faith. Guhhi Shernaayi = take shelter. Aan(i) = by coming to. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is always a source of comfort. It was His Naam because of which Ajamul was salvaged even though he was considered a big sinner for marrying a prostitute. Similarly, Gunika (a prostitute) attained a high spiritual state by reciting Waheguru's Naam while teaching a parrot. Pause.
[see INTRODUCTION for full stories]
Punchaali (Draupadi), the wife of the five Pandavas, realized the importance of Waheguru's Naam when her dignity was protected by Waheguru when she was being disrobed (undressed) by the Kauravas (of the Mahabharat). Waheguru, the source of compassion, preserved her dignity in a difficult situation and enhanced His own faith among people. 1.
The individual who sings the praises of the benevolent Waheguru finds His support at the time of his need. With that faith in mind, I have come to Waheguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Kuhaa Kuroun = what should I do? Bikhiun = immoral activities. Siyoun = with; in. Khoya = lost; wasted. Kunhaayi = Waheguru. Pause. Kaal = death. Phaas = noose. Gur meh(i) = around the neck. Tih = that. Soodh(i) = wisdom. Bisraayi = made to forget. Ya = in that. Sunkut = misfortune. Suhaayi = supporter. 1.
Sumput(i) = wealth. Chhin Meh(i) = in a moment. Puraayi = became of others; changed hands. Yeh = this. Soach = thoughts. Jus(u) = praise. Kubhoon Na = never. 2.

I lost all my senses (wisdom) when the Angel of Death put his noose around my neck. Other than Waheguru, who else could help me in such misfortune? 1.

Word Meaning: Maayi = oh, mother. Maan(u) = ego. Tiyaagiyo = gave up. Mud(i) = in intoxication. Siraayo = spent. Laagiyo = did. Pause. Dund(u) = stick; club. Sovut = asleep (from reality). Jaagiyo = came to senses. Puchhutaayay = repentance. Chhootut Naahin = can not be freed. 1. Chinta = worry. Oopji = sprouted. Ghut Meh(i) = in the heart. Anuraagiyo = developed love for. Suful(u) = successful. Tub = then. Juou = when. Paagiyo = fell; started to practise. 2.
MEANING: I spent all my life under the intoxication of Maya, and never worshipped Waheguru. (Now I repent) That I did not give up my ego, oh my mother. Pause.
I was asleep (unaware) of Waheguru's reality, but was awakened when the fear of the Angel of death hitting me hard with his club arose in my mind. Now, my repentance is of no help because I cannot even run away to be free. 1.
This worry (realization) sprouted when I developed a love for Guru's Feet (His Shabad). My life became successful when I sang Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 2.3.

Gurmuti Jugjeevun(u) mun(i) vussaiy, subh(i) kool oodhaarunhaar. 4. ------

Word Meaning: Kuthay = explaining. Mooni = hemits. Anyakaan = countless. Buhou Ghunaa = too many. Bherm(u) Thaakay = exhausted wandering (unsuccessfully). Bhaykha = religious sects. Nirmulo = pure; pious. 1. Ajraavur(u) = unaffected by old age and death. Amar = immortal. Chaalunhaari = perishable. Rusaayin(u) = source of all desirable tastes. Bhaayay = with love. Purhur(i) = gets rid of. Dookh Bhaari = suffering of reincarnations. Pause. Boojhiyaiy = understand (make connection with). Oodhaara = emancipator. Utth-Sutth(i) = the 68 Hindu holy places. Kilvikh = sins. 2. Biloyiyaiy = Muthiyaiy = churn. Tutt(u) = root = butter (Waheguru). Lorraiy = looks (wishes) for. Ugiyaana = ignorant. Dudh(i) = yogurt (the root of butter). Nidhaana = treasure. Pushoo = animal. Smaana = like; equal. 3. Murie = dies (spiritually). Mur(u) = death. Vaaro Vaar = again, and again. Jugjeevun = soul of the universe (Waheguru). Kool = associates. Oodhaarunhaar = capable of causing salvation. 4.

MEANING: Countless hermits (sages) and others got tired of explaining and listening to the Vedas and the Puranas (but did not achieve anything spiritually). Similarly, many, many people of different religious sects grew exhausted from wandering to the 68 holy places without achieving any spiritual progress. Waheguru is the only pure and eternal Lord; one should convince oneself to have faith only in Him. 1.

Only Waheguru is unaffected by old age and death, and only He is immortal, whereas everybody else is perishable. Whoever acquires His Naam with love and faith gets rid of the huge suffering (of reincarnations). Pause.
One should recite Waheguru's Naam and make a connection with Him with the Guru's Advice to find salvation. The Guru is perfect, and so is His Advice. One should ponder on His Shabad (to get connected with Waheguru). Waheguru's Naam subsumes the pilgrimage of the 68 holy places and is the destroyer of all sins. 2.
(Seeking shelter of any other power than Waheguru for spirituality) is like a blind, ignorant person churning water and expecting butter to come out of it. Just like one needs to churn yogurt to get butter, a devotee, who churns (ponders deeply and obeys) the real yogurt (Waheguru's Naam) with Guru's Advice, acquires Waheguru's Naam, which is the treasure of all comforts, and drinks the real Amrit (liquid of immortality to merge into Waheguru). The Maya-worshipper is like an animal, and does not realize the worth of the reality (Waheguru's Naam). 3. Because of their haumein, such people suffer (spiritual) death, take births, and die again, and again. If they die (kill their desires) with Guru's Advice, they will not suffer from death again (as they become immortal by merging into Waheguru). Waheguru, which is the soul of the whole world, appears in the devotee's mind with the Guru's advice, who salvages even his associates. 4.
---------- Sacha vukkhur(u) Naam(u) haiy, Sacha vapaara. Laaha Naam(u) sunsaar(i) haiy, Gurmuti veechaara. Doojaiy bhaayay kaar kmaavni, nit toata sainsaara. 5. Gur Shabadi Dur(i) joyiyaiy, mooktay bhundaara. Nanak, mayl(u) na chookyee, Saachay vapaara. 8.1.
Word Meaning: Sacha Vukkhur(u) = real (eternal) merchandise. Vapaara = business. Laaha = benefit; wealth. Doojaiy Baayay = with love for Maya. Kaar Kmaavni = doing business. Toata = shortage (discontentment). 5.
Thaan(u) = place where Waheguru's praise is sung. Bhojun = meal (for the soul). Bhaaou = affection. Suntokhiya = contented. 6. Rus Bhogun = enjoying luxuries. Mota Naoun = popularity. Aougun = negative quality; burden. Maanus = humans. Daat(i) = donations. 7. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Dhunee = Lord. Avigut(u) = invisible. Apaara = limitless. Joyiyaiy = look for. Mooktay = emancipate. Mayl(u) = union. Chookyee = ends; inseparable. 8.
MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the real (eternal) merchandise and the real business. When one ponders the Naam with the Guru's Advice, he acquires it in his heart, which is the best wealth in the world. Carrying out any other business with love for the other (Maya) results in permanent discontentment in the world. 5.
Eternal is the gathering of the holy saints (where praise of Waheguru is sung), and so is the gathering place, and the houses and the doors of the holy saints. Waheguru's Naam is the true (eternal) food for the soul, and so is the love for Him. Waheguru's Naam is the true support for life. Pondering on Guru's Bani is the eternal source of contentment. 6.
Enjoyments of luxuries, the reign of some state, discomforts, and comforts are all a part of life, and are given by Waheguru. But if one earns (undeserving) cheap popularity (by dishonest means) in the world, it becomes a huge burden around one's neck. Moreover, the man cannot be a source of any donation (which is permanent); only Waheguru is the supreme donor. 7. The Lord, Waheguru, is inaccessible, incomprehensible, invisible, and limitless. His Door can be seen (accessed) only by Guru's Shabad, which is a treasure for emancipation. Pondering on Guru's Shabad is one's real business in life as it leads to an inseparable union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Gurmukh(i) Gaarurr(u) jay soonay, munnay Naaoun, suntosh(u). 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Bikh(u) = poisonous sensual pleasures. Bohitha = boat. Laadiya = loaded. Munjhaar(i) = in. Kundhi = shore. Oorvaar(i) = the closer shore. Paar(u) = the other end. Vunjhi = bamboo (oars). Haath(i) = in the hand. Khayvtoo = the boatman. Asraal = frightening. 1. Baba = a wise man. Phaatha = is trapped. Muhaa Jaal(i) = in a strong net. Oobray = salvaged. Pause. Lunghaavunhaar = boatman to ferry across. Tithaiy = there; in that spiritual state. Puvun = air (laden filled with fragrances or music). Paavko = fire (of worldly desires). Jul(u) = water of vices. Aakaar = visible beauty. Bhuvjul = the sea of Maya. Taarunhaar = ship to ferry across. 2.
Lunghay = swim to go across. Liv Laayay = meditating on. Aavagaun = reincarnation. Nivaariya = gotten rid of. Joti = human soul. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. Sehj(u) = state of high spirituality. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Smaayay = absorbed. 3.
Supp(u) = snake. Pirr)iaayee = box. Bikh(u) = poison. Roas(u) = resentment. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Doash(u) = blame. Gaarurr(u) = a mantra believed to be the antidote for snake poison. Suntosh(u) = contentment 4.

MEANING: The man loads the boat of his body with poisonous immoral activities, and sets it for sail in the middle of the world-sea where he cannot see any shore. He has no bamboo (oar) in his hand, and there is no boatman to ferry him across the frightening sea. 1.

The world is trapped in the strong net of worldly attractions, oh, wise man. One can get across the world-sea (get salvaged) by Guru's grace when he recites the eternal Naam of Waheguru in His shelter. Pause.
Satguru is the boat, and His Shabad is the boatman to ferry us across the world-sea. In that spiritual state, connected with Waheguru, the devotee is in a deep meditative state, and no worldly attraction can influence him as there is no fragrance-laden or music- carrying air, no fire of worldly desires, or no water of vices. His soul merges into the Supreme Soul. That spiritual state is attained through the Guru's Advice, and the devotee remains absorbed in Waheguru. 3.
Controlling human desires without Waheguru's Naam is like a snake trapped in a box, highly resentful and full of poison (the snake of desires still bites the man). However, one cannot be fully blamed for his actions, because his nature has been predetermined by Waheguru based on his previous deeds (and he continues to perform similar deeds). But, if he listens to the Guru's Shabad, which is the antidote to the poison of immoral vices, and obeys Waheguru's Naam, he becomes fully contented (he is left with no worldly desire). 4.

Word Meaning: Maagurmuchh(u) = crocodile. Phuhaayiyaiy = can trap. Koondi = hook. Vutaayiyay = by casting. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Puchhotaayay = repents. Soojhyee = think of. Kirt(u) = consequences of the pervious deeds. Maytiya = erase. 5.
Haumein Bikh(u) = the poisonous haumein. Juraa = old age; impending death. Joh(i) Na = cannot caste evil eye. Jeevun-Mookt = emancipated alive. 6.
Dhundhaiy = worldly tasks rooted in Maya. Baandhiya = trapped. Veechaar(u) = pondering on (Guru's Shabad). Mogudh = foolish. Guvaar(u) = unwise. 7.
Soohut(u) = parrot. Pinjur(i) = cage. Bolunhaar(u) = deserving to be praised (Waheguru). Choogaiy = picks; feeds on. Oddaiy = flies away; leave the world. Puchhaaniyaiy = recognize (make connection with). Moakh Dooaar = at the door of salvation. 8.

MEANING: You can trap (and control) even a very powerful and dangerous animal like a crocodile by casting a hook and a net, but a man trapped in immoral acts due to his ill advice cannot control his desires, and repents again and again (because he repeats them). He cannot erase his prefixed (predetermined) nature, and trapped in the pursuit of his sensual pleasures, he cannot think of his future reincarnations. 5.
Waheguru has created the world by injecting the poisonous haumein in the living beings, but the poison of haumein is expelled if the man enshrines Guru's Shabad in his heart. Old age (the impending death) cannot cast an evil eye on the devotee whose mind remains focused on Waheguru. The devotee, who gets rid of his haumein, is called the true dead - alive. (emancipated). 6. The man is trapped in the routine worldly affairs, which are rooted in Maya, and cannot understand the worth of the Guru's Shabad. The foolish and the unwise follower of his mind forgets the cycle of future births and deaths. Those who ponder on Guru's Shabad are salvaged by Guru's grace. 7.

Like the parrot in a cage which utters love-filled words for his master, if the man sings praise of the praise-worthy Waheguru and feeds his soul with that praise, drinks the real Amrit, and his soul leaves the cage of his body only for once (never gets reincarnated). One makes a connection with the Lord in the shelter of the Guru, and reaches the door of emancipation, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Muraiy = kill desires. Mur(u) = death. 1. Koocheel(u) = filthy (in thoughts and actions). Kauchou = with shaky mind. Mut(i)-heen = unwise. Pause.
Uvgun(i) = with ignoble qualities. Soobhur = full to brim. Ghur(i) = Waheguru's Residence. Sehj(i) = high spiritual state. Oopjaiy = is produced. Bhaagaan = fortune. Dhun(u) = wealth (of Naam). Baandhay = trapped (by the bonds of Maya). Suhaaheh(i) = endure. 2.
Visaariya = forget. Kit = for what? Aagaiy = in the future. Paachhaiy = in the past (present). Gaaday Laaday = carry heavy burden. Chhaar(u) = dust (of worthless and humiliating things). Vichhurriyaan = disconnected with Waheguru. Ghuno = immense. 3.
Bhoolay = misled. Maarug(u) = path (of righteousness). Daata = provider (of Waheguru's Naam). 4.

MEANING: Where can you run away to escape death, oh man? You can kill the fear of death by killing your desires with the Guru's Shabad. The power that dispels the fear of death is Waheguru, whose Naam is the real Amrit that immortalizes the man. Only Waheguru kills or protects us; there is no other place to escape. 1.

I am filthy by mind, have shaky faith in You, and have no wisdom, oh Waheguru. The Perfect Guru has given me the wisdom that without Waheguru's Naam, one is insignificant (has no spiritual worth, and no real respect). Pause.
I am full of ignoble qualities, and have no good qualities; how can I reach Waheguru's Palace with no good qualities? One attains the high spiritual state and blissfulness with Guru's Shabad, but one cannot have this wealth (Waheguru's Naam) without good fortune. Trapped in the bonds (net) of Maya, those who do not have Waheguru's Naam embedded (enshrined) in their heart suffer badly 2.
What objective do those achieve in the world who forget Waheguru's Naam? They carry a heavy burden of worthless and humiliating things (misdeeds) and enjoy no comfort (peace of mind) in this world, and the next. They are disconnected from Waheguru and cannot have union with Him; immense troubles await them at the door of the Angel of Justice. 3.
I do not know what is in store for me in the future (next world), but You guide the misled. I will drop at the feet of the holy saint who will put me on the path of union with You, oh Waheguru. There is no one other than the Guru who can give me Waheguru's Naam, and show me the right path; I cannot describe the greatness of the Guru. 4.

Word Meaning: Saajun = dear friend (Waheguru). Saach(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Putthaaya = sent. Laykh(u) = message; prayer. Mookh(i) Dhimaanay = with dejected face. Dhun = human bride. Visaykh(u) = special attention; honour. 5.
Beejou = other. Poorun(u) = omnipresent Waheguru. Daykhiya = looks after. 6.
Nugri = body. Naayik = Lord. Nuvtuno = always young. Baaluk(u) = with child-like pure heart. Leel Anoop = amazing feats. Punkhnoo = bird. Saachou = Waheguru. Chutur Sroop = perfectly wise personality. Theeyay = happens. Deepuk = lamp. Dhoop(u) = incense. 7. Saad = delicious tastes. Chaakh = tasted. Baad = music. Roag(u) = illness. Bhaavaiy = likes. Chuvaiy = utters; recites. Chhootaiy = leave; go away. Soag = sadness. Vijog(u) = separation. Hoag(u) = will happen. 8.
MEANING: (With Guru's grace) I am reciting Waheguru's Naam now, and the Guru will convey my prayer to Him. When I see (get connected with my dear Waheguru), I will hug Him tightly. (As a potential bride of Waheguru), I was waiting with dejected mind for union with Him; now I have been able to see Him in Guru's shelter. With Your sweet Will, You come to reside in the devotee's heart, which is a special honour for him, oh Lord. 5.
What can I ask of a person who is wandering, hungry and thirsty himself (without Waheguru's Naam)? I cannot think of anybody other than the omnipresent Waheguru (who can give the Naam), so I offer my body and mind in His service. He has created the world, and looks after it; He Himself accords honour to the devotee of His choice by giving him His Naam. 6.
The Master of the human body (Waheguru) is always young, and pure-hearted like a child, and performs amazing feats. Even though Waheguru is present in all living beings – the male, the female, and even the birds - He is formless, and has a perfectly wise persona. He is the lamp (to enlighten the world), and the incense (to make life pleasant); and only that happens in the world that He likes. 7.

I have listened to all sorts of songs, and tasted all sorts of delicious foods, but all music and tastes produce sicknesses in the body. But the devotee, who loves Waheguru and recites His Naam (sings His praise), gets rid of (rises above) all sadness and worldly detachments (and gets connected with Waheguru). I have only one request for Waheguru: that He give me the ability to accept whatever happens, and I do not forget His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Khuree = good. Neeki = beautiful; noble. Soort(i) = focus of mind. Soohaavni = noble. Pheeki = distasteful. Dheeruk = support. 4.
MEANING: My mind has been captivated by Waheguru, and my tongue is enjoying the taste of His Naam. There is no other real taste (enjoyment) in life without Waheguru's Naam; everything else. that the people enjoy, is (spiritually) poisonous, and becomes a burden for them. 1.

I want to tell my dear Lord that I am His slave, and I will do exactly what He orders me to do, oh my dear Waheguru. Pause. As a slave, I am at His service all the time, and He is the Master. I have sold my mind to the Guru in exchange for His Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), whereby my mind has become peaceful. My perfect Guru deserves all my praise (and thankfulness) for ridding me of my mental agony. 2.
I do not know how to sing Waheguru's praise other than to say that I am His slave. It is the Will of the omnipresent Lord that if He is kind to me, I will obey His Orders. I am all sacrifice for the Guru who connects the disconnected with Waheguru. 3.
The Guru always imparts noble wisdom to His devotees, as a result of which I have also acquired that (noble wisdom). With his mind focused on Waheguru's Naam, one's concentration (thinking) also becomes pure, but the wisdom of the follower of his mind always exhorts him to think of the distasteful (immoral) things. But no one can be really blamed for his actions because You are the Lord (who controls everything), and the body, the mind, and the wisdom (good and bad) are all given by You, oh Waheguru. It is also Your gift that You provide support to the people to recite Your Naam, oh Lord. 4.

Phaathay = trapped in. Ojaarri = which rob one (of his spirituality). Choogaiy = feeds on. Choagrri = bait of sensual pleasures. Bundh(u) = with such bonds. Vigaarri = ruins his (spiritual) life. Tthaaur = peace. Thaaoun = shelter. Tiyaagiya = gave up. Bukhsheh(i) = be benevolent.8.
MEANING: If one listens to and obeys the Guru's beautiful and sweet Words (His Divine Shabad), Waheguru keeps him absorbed in His Naam, and the devotee keeps Him in mind whether he is sitting (resting) or standing (working), and Waheguru's Naam becomes his mental food. He enjoys the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam, which is always in his mind, and which is his real wealth. 5. The Maya-worshipper is completely unmotivated to recite Waheguru's Naam, and he is trapped in unholy tasks which rob him of his spirituality. Trapped in the attractions of Maya, he feeds on the bait of sensual pleasures and ruins his spirituality because of such immoral bonds. With meditation on Waheguru's Naam, he gets emancipated from such bonds with the grace of the Guru. 6.
With love for the dear Waheguru, my mind, as His slave, has been pierced with (stitched to) His Naam. Without Waheguru's Naam, man's soul burns (rots) in immoral activities which provide very short-lived comfort. I have quit all the worthless activities to swim across the world-sea with Waheguru's Naam, which is the ship to ferry us across. 7.

Those who forget Waheguru's Naam find no peace and no shelter (in Waheguru's Court). I, have given up all types of greed, and acquired Waheguru's Naam in my heart. You can connect me with You with Your benevolence, oh God. I, Nanak, am all sacrifice for You. 8.4.

Jeeou, pind(u) subh(u) Tis da saah(u) Tinhaiy vich(i) paaya. Ja kirpa kuray ta saviyaiy, sayv(i) Sach(i) samaya. 4. ---------

Word Meaning: Laala = Goala = a slave; devotee. Gaarub(u) = ego. Chhodiaya = gave up. Bhaiy = fear. Sehj(i) Soobhaayi = naturally; without any special effort. Vudiyaayi = greatness. 1. Goala = slave. Oobray = salvaged. Pause.
Kaar = responsibility to do certain things. Dhoor(i) Khusm(i) = right from the Lord. Puchhaaniya = recognize; obey. Rujaayee = Will. Meera = Master. Boojhaayi = gave the understanding. Bherm(i) = misgiving; illusion. Khooaayi = suffer humiliation. 3.
Churraiy Suvaaya = increase many-fold. Smaaya = absorbed. 4.

MEANING: With respectful fear and love for the Guru, I, a slave of Waheguru, have gotten rid of my ego and have attained the high spiritual state without any special effort. It is a great honour for me that Waheguru has connected me with Him. On connecting with Waheguru, I have attained a blissfulness that cannot be described. 1.
It is a greatness of the Lord that He has accepted me as His slave. With the grace of the Guru, I have been salvaged (connected with Waheguru) in His shelter. Pause.
As a slave of Waheguru, I have a duty to perform whatever He orders me to carry out. I have recognized and internalized His Order and will accept His Will at all times. It is a great mercy of the Lord that He forgives me if I make any mistakes. 2.
Guru's Shabad has given me the understanding that Waheguru is eternal, and so is all His creation. Only that individual serves You whom you motivate (exhort), oh Waheguru. Nobody has ever realized You (made a connection with You) without serving You; others are misled by their illusions (attractions of Maya), and suffer humiliation. 3.

Why should we forget Waheguru, who always gives us everything we need and increases it many-fold? Our soul and body are given by Him, and it is He who injected breath into us. We serve Him when He is benevolent to us, and get absorbed in Him by serving Him. 4.

Word Meaning: Jeevut Muraiy = kills selfishness and ego [aap(u)] = Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Boojhaayay = puts out. 5. Uvguniyaar(u) = full of vices. Jayvud = as great. Daata = munificent. Bukhshunhaar(u) = forgiving. Kerni Saar(u) = supreme act. 6. Amritsar = pool of Amrit. Ichhay = wish for. Ful(u) Paayay = gets the reward. Pudaaruth = (the invaluable) article. 7.
Roopa = silver. Dhaat(u) = attractions of Maya. Ruttay = imbued. Nirmulay = pure. 8.
MEANING: Only that individual is a true slave of Waheguru who kills his worldly desires, and gets rid of his selfishness and ego. All worldly bonds of such a devotee get broken, the fire of his desires is put out, and he gets emancipated. Even though everybody has the treasure of Naam in him, some rare person acquires it (enshrines it in his heart) in the shelter of the Guru. 5. I, too, call myself a slave of Waheguru, but have no good quality; I am rather full of vices. But there is no one else who is munificent like Waheguru, and He forgives me for my bad qualities. Obeying His Command is my supreme job. 6.
The Guru is a sea of Amrit (Waheguru's Naam); one can have any of his wishes fulfilled by acquiring the Naam in His shelter. The invaluable Naam immortalizes the devotee if he enshrines it in his mind. Service to the Guru is the source of blissfulness, but only that fortunate person serves Him who makes Him obey His Order (Teachings). 7.
Gold and silver are all attractions of Maya, and they become like dust (worthless) for the man after his death. Satguru has given the understanding that nothing other than Waheguru's Naam accompanies the man after his death. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam become pure like Him, and stay absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Paap, poonn doyay sungmay, khoodhiya, Jumkaala. Vichhorra, bhuou veesraiy, Poora Rukhvaala. 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Huqam(u) Bhuyya = orders came. Phaatay = torn. Cheeraiy = clothes-like body. Uvgun(i) = bad qualities. Baandhiya = trapped in(full of) vices. Uvgun(i) Suhhou = endure. Gooneh = faults. Faqiraiy = (in the) the beggar 1.
Kiyoun = how? Apaara = of the limitless Waheguru. Pause.
Chullaveh(i) = guide me. Chaaou = zest; excitement. 2.
Salaahiyaiy = praise. Saachi = permanent. Put(i) = dignity. 3.
Puhounchiyaiy = arrive at. Aal Junjaala = routine tasks; bonds of Maya. Poonn = noble deeds. Sungmay = accompany. Khoodhiya = appetite (for worldly things). Jumkaala = death. Bhuou = fear. Rukhvaala = guard (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: When Waheguru Himself issues orders to tear down the clothes-like body of a man, he cannot stay in the world anymore. The human body is full of vices, so it has to endure the consequences of its actions. However, the Perfect Guru forgives the faults (the vices) of the true beggar who admits his faults and prays to Him with full faith. 1.
One should ponder on the Guru's Shabad to learn that no one can live here forever, and they have to leave this world. Waheguru connects the individuals of His choice with Him, which is the Huqam (Law) of the limitless Waheguru. Pause.
I am content with the conditions you keep me in, and am fully contented to eat whatever You provide. With Your immortalizing Naam on my tongue, I lead my life the way You guide me, oh Waheguru. Waheguru controls the union of His devotees with Him, and the devotee feels ecstatic who He bestows this honour upon. 2.
What is the use of just praising His creation (we should praise Waheguru), who has created the world and looks after it. I do not recognize anybody else, and have embedded (enshrined) only Waheguru's Naam in my heart. We should sing praise of Waheguru alone because of which we earn eternal respect. 3.
The pundit reads his holy books, but because of his attachment to Maya, he does not understand reality. With his big appetite for Maya, and with his sins and good deeds both accompanying him, he is on his path to the trap of the Angel of Death. But if someone comes to the shelter of Waheguru, his worldly fears and his separation from Waheguru are terminated. 4.

Word Meaning: Laykhay = in the account. Puvvaiy = earn. Put(i) = respect due to Waheguru's Naam in the heart. Pooray = perfect. Saachi Vudiyaayi = eternal respect. Toat(i) = shortage. Thuck(i) Paayi = get tired (contented). 5. Khaar = salty. Dhundholiyaiy = search. Muniya = pearl. Doayay Chaar(i) Din = a few days. Maati = dust. 6. Bhaavun = liked. Oojlay = clean; pure. Maiyl(u) Bhurijaiy = full of filth. Paarus = elixir-stone (Guru). Bheejaiy = imbue. Vunni = colour (of the Naam). 7. Bhaykheen = religious garbs. Haath Na Lubhyee = cannot acquire. Daanay = donations. Mootthi = robbed (of spirituality). 8.

MEANING: Those devotees who earn respect when their deeds are evaluated in Waheguru's Court are considered perfect (to merge with Waheguru). Such a perfect devotee acquires perfect wisdom from the Guru, and the respect he earns is eternal (he stays absorbed in Waheguru). Waheguru is the provider of unlimited gifts, so much so that there is never a shortage of His supplies, and the recipients grow tired of receiving them (they become fully contented). 5. If one searches the salty ocean with great effort, he may find a pearl which looks pretty for a few days, and then loses its shine and becomes like dust. On the other hand, if one serves the Guru, who is the source of Waheguru's Naam, which is an ocean of unlimited resources, he will never experience a shortage of any kind. 6. Only those are pure-minded who are liked by Waheguru; all others are full of filthy ideas. Just like a base metal gets converted into gold on touching the elixir-stone, a filthy man is purified when he gets imbued in Waheguru's Love in the shelter of the Guru, and he acquires the beautiful, deep colour of the dear Waheguru's love, the worth of which cannot be described.7.

However, Waheguru's Naam cannot be acquired by wearing garbs of different religious sects, by undertaking pilgrimages, or by large donations. You can ask even those who study the Vedas that one cannot connect with Waheguru without having deep faith in Him; without Waheguru's Naam, the world is being robbed by the attractions of Maya. Only that devotee can know the worth of Waheguru's Naam who has acquired Divine Knowledge from the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Lehr(i) = wave of impulses. Tuj(i) = abandon. Vigoochaiy = suffer humiliation. Uveraan = of others. Hayraiy = watches. Dherm = responsibility. Bhaytaiy = connects with. Doormut(i) = immoral thoughts. Ghoomun Ghayraiy = whirlpool. Disuntar(u) = foreign lands. Bhuvvaiy = wanders. Trishna = desires. Kaacheen Pindeen = perishable things. Cheenaiy = understand. Oodur(u) = stomach. Dhoraiy = animals. 1.
Ruvut Ruvvaiy = life style. Sanyasi = who has renounced the world. Ruttay = imbued. Triptaasi = contented. Pause.
Gayroo = saffron colour. Vustar = clothes; outfit. Bhaykh = semblance. Bhaykhaari = beggar. Khintha = a quilt of rags. Jholi = a bag of yogis to collect dry food. Mayadhaari = money-lover. Perbodhaiy = preaches. Put(i) = respect. Haari = loses. Bherm Bhoolaana = misguided in illusions. Jooyaiy = in gamble. Baaji Haari = loses game (objective) of life. 2.
Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Poour Taapaiy = builds fire around him (tortures self). Cheenus(u) = recognize (analyze). Aapaiy = self. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Untar(i) Aatum = deep down in the mind. Jaapaiy = sees. Paapaiy = of sins. 3.

MEANING: The follower of his own mind leaves his house under the impulse of his mind, and begins to keep an eye on others' houses, and suffers humiliation. He runs away from his responsibility of looking after his family, but does not take shelter of Satguru, and is caught in the whirlpool of immoral thoughts. He wanders around aimlessly in foreign lands, gets exhausted reading holy books, but his appetite for worldly attractions rather increases many times. Chasing the perishable things, he does not recognize (does not get attached to) Guru's Shabad, and just fills his stomach like animals. 1.
But a true sanyasi leads a life of contentment by meditating deeply on the Naam and becoming imbued in it, oh Waheguru. Pause.
On the other hand, a hypocrite dyes his clothes in saffron colour, has the semblance of the yogis (to give the impression of worldly detachment) and goes begging. He makes a quilt of rags, carries a bag to collect alms for dry food, but is internally a worshipper of Maya. He preaches to the world, begs at every door, but is completely blind in mind (ignorant) and loses his respect (in Waheguru's Court). Misled by the illusions of Maya, he makes no connection with Guru's Shabad and loses the game of his precious human life in the gamble (trades his good qualities in exchange for the attractions of Maya). 2.

(To give the impression of a holy man) He tortures himself by building fires around him on hot days, but has a huge fire of desires burning in his mind, which cannot be put out without the Guru's shelter. How can he analyze self (and connect with Waheguru) when there is no worship of Waheguru without serving the Guru? However, deep down, he realizes that malicious criticism of others leads to a life in hell. Misled by his misbeliefs, he takes dips at the 68 holy places, but how can he wash away the filth of his sins? 3.

Word Meaning: Chhaani = sifted. Khaak = ash. Churrhaayi Bibhoota = coated body with ash. Mug(u) = path. Johaiy = watches. Chhohaiy = gets irritated. Paatth = religious compositions. Nigooray = without guru. Ohaiy = the same. Sohaiy = look elegant; earn respect. 4.
Moond = head. Moondaayay = shave. Jutaa = matted hair. Sikh = crest; a lock of hair on shaved head. Moan(i) = quiet (mute) for long times. Munooaa Dolaiy = mind wanders. Rut = imbued. Aatum Giyana = Knowledge for the soul (Waheguru's Naam). Amrit(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Bikh(u) = poison (of sensual pleasures). Dayvaana = crazy. Kirt(u) = previous deeds. Mityee = erased. Pushooaan = animals. 5
Kumundul(u) = a cylindrical jug to hold liquids like milk. Kaapurriya = clothed all over. Bhaari = huge. Istree = wife. Tuj(i) = abandon. Pur Naari = women of others. Sikh = disciples. Lumput = lustful. Bajaari = a joker. Nibhraanti = peaceful. Khooaari = humiliation. 6.

MEANING: (The hypocrite) coats his body with sifted ash, and watches the path for money (if someone will offer him money). He makes no connection with the Lord, who is present inside and out, and gets irritated when someone tells him the truth about himself. He reads holy books, but tells lies – this is the way people think who have no Guru. How can he enjoy comfort (peace of mind), and look elegant (holy) without Waheguru's Naam? 4.
Some people shave their heads and keep a long lock of hair in the middle, or wear a knot of matted hair, while others stay quiet (mute) for long periods, all to look holy, but they are all full of ego. Without getting imbued in Waheguru's Naam, which is the spiritual knowledge (food) for the soul, their mind wanders in every direction. Crazy for money, such a hypocrite does not drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam, but takes in the poison of grave immoral acts. But he cannot be fully blamed for his lifestyle, because the influence of his past deeds, which have shaped his present personality, cannot be erased (and he continues to follow the same path). He does not understand Waheguru's Laws (Will), and is just like an animal. 5.

He carries a *kumundu*l in his hand, covers himself all over with clothes (all symbols of religious sects), but has a big appetite for worldly attractions. He abandons his wife, but is overpowered by lust and gets attached to other women. He makes many disciples but has no connection with the Guru's Shabad; he is a lustful joker. He is very short-tempered inside, but poses to be very peaceful outwardly; because of this, he suffers humiliation at the hands of the Angel of death. 6.

Khimaa = forgiveness. Sungrehaiy = accumulate. Taamus = rage; short temper. Girhee = family man. Chit(u) Laayay = attaches mind. 7. Niraas = have no hopes. Shaant(i) = peace; contentment. Nij Ghur = with focused mind. Taarri = deep meditation on Waheguru. Dhaavut = rushing (mind). Verj(i) Ruhaayay = keeps in check. 8.
Srayshut = supreme. Ruttay = imbued. Veechaari = thoughtful. Khaani = the four sources of reproduction. Juntaan = living beings. Jot(i) = Light; Soul. Dhoon(i) = focus of mind. Oodhaari = salvager. Chhootus = emancipation. Saachi = of Waheguru. Tur = ship. Taari = swimming; ferrying. 9.

MEANING: That individual is the true sanyasi who serves Satguru (follows His Teachings), and gets rid of his selfishness and ego. He does not expect good clothes and food from others, but is content with whatever is offered to him naturally. He does not talk about meaningless things; he accumulates the wealth of forgiveness (is very generous in forgiving) and burns away his anger with Guru's Shabad. Be he a family man, a sanyasi, or a yogi, that individual is praiseworthy (and fortunate) who attaches his mind to Waheguru's Feet (His Naam). 7.
Such a sanyasi stays above any hopes and wishes, and meditates deeply on Waheguru alone. He attains blissfulness when He drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam; his mind stabilizes, and is focused only on the Naam. He understands the worth of Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter, and controls his rushing mind. He analyzes his mind (as to the objective of human life, his good and bad qualities) in the shelter of the Guru, and acquires the invaluable Waheguru's Naam. 8.
Be it Brahma, Vishnu, or Shiva, only that god is superior (approved by Waheguru) who becomes thoughtful (about Waheguru) and gets imbued in His Naam. Waheguru's Light (Soul) is present in all living beings of all four sources of reproduction, and in their ways of communication (He gives them the ability) everywhere in the three-layered universe. One attains the high spiritual state, which is the source of all comforts, by focusing one's mind on Waheguru's Naam, and is salvaged. No one can find emancipation without Waheguru's eternal Naam, which is also the ship to ferry us across the world-sea. So, you, too, board this ship to be salvaged, oh Nanak. 9.7.

Word Meaning: Sunjog(i) = union. Oopaayay = created. Rukut = blood (mother's egg). Bind = sperm. PInd(u) = body. Gerbh = womb. Oordh(i) = upside down. Saaray = remembers. Daat(i) = gift. 1. Sunsaar(u) Bhuvjul = the world sea. Afuriyo = of conceited. Afaar(u) = unbearable. Turaiy = is averted. Pause. Tay = those. Upraadhi = guilty. Baura = crazy. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Smaar(i) = taking care. 2. Chaar(i) Pudaaruth = the four worthy articles: Dherm (noble deeds); wealth, fulfilment of wishes; and emancipation. Shiv Shakti = Waheguru's created Maya. Vass(u) = dwelling (in thoughts). . Bhookh = appetite. Mug(u) = path. Johaiy = watches eagerly (looks for ways). Mookut(i) Pudaaruth = emancipation. Moh(i) Khuray = is robbed of. 3. Kern-plaav = wailing and pleading. It Oot = here and there; everywhere. Dhoondhut = searching for. Thhaak Puray = got exhausted. Koor = the perishable. Kootumb = family. 4. Peher(i) Dikhaavaiy = shows of expensive clothes. Kaal Ghuray = in the mouth of death. Turay = avoided. 5. Jayta = all that. Moh(u) = attachments. Bhoolay = misled. Chheen Khuray = snatched. Sehsaiy Sehsa = worries and fears. 6.

MEANING: Waheguru creates the human body with the union of parents when the egg of the mother and the sperm of the father combine together. The upside-down fetus remains connected to Waheguru, Who takes good care of it and gives it to the parents as a gift. 1.
What means can the (conceited) world use to swim across the sea of Maya?
(A:) If one acquires Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, the punishment of the unbearable burden of the conceit of the man can be avoided. Pause.
I am guilty of forgetting Your virtues of kindness; so, what can the insane me do now, oh Waheguru? (I know) That You are the source of compassion and forgiveness, and You look after all of us day and night, and give the gift (of Your Naam), oh Waheguru. 2.
The man is born with four good objectives in life – noble deeds, prosperity, fulfilment of his wishes, and emancipation – but, forgetting emancipation and noble deeds, his mind stays focused on the attractions of Maya. His appetite for Maya grows, and he always looks for ways to earn more and more, and gets robbed of his spirituality required for emancipation. 3. The man wails and begs for pity, leaves his home in search of emancipation, and gets exhausted looking for it everywhere, but cannot find it because he suffers badly from lust, rage, and ego, and loves his family and the perishable things. 4.
Despite the fact that he hears about, and sees with his own eyes, the bad consequences of sensual pleasures, he still loves to eat delicious foods, enjoys wearing expensive clothes, and shows them off to the world; because of his such acts, he follows the path which leads to the home of the Angel of death. He cannot recognize self without Guru's Shabad, and cannot avert (spiritual) death without Waheguru's Naam. 5.
As the man is misled by his worldly attachments and his ego, he is taken away by death, even though he claims everything to be his. His wealth and his body get destroyed in worries and in doubts, and he repents when he gets dust in his mouth (is buried or cremated) after death.6.

Word Meaning: Birdh(i) Bhuyya = became old. Jobun = youthfulness. Khiskiya = slipped away. Kuf(u) = phlegm. Biroodho = choked. Kuntth(i) = throat. Dhuray = drops. Ker = hands. Kumpun Laagay = begin to shake. Shaakut = worshipper of Maya. 7. Soorut(i) = awareness. Dhaulay = grey hairs. Bhaavaiy = liked. Doakh = blames. Smaaray = takes care. Khoyo = lost. Dund(u) = club; punishment. 10. Nirmul = pure. Uprumpur = limitless. Pooray = perfect; omnipresent. Govind Huray = Waheguru. 11. Smaarhou = keep in mind. Bhaaou = with love. Perdhaan = superior; leaders. Dooaaraiy = at (Waheguru's) Door. Rayn(u) = dust (of feet). 12

MEANING: When the man gets old, his youthfulness and his health slip away, and his throat is choked with phlegm. His eyes are watery all the time, his feet lose energy, and his hands begin to shake, but the Maya-worshipping man does not have the Lord's Naam in his heart. 7. His hair changes from black to grey, he loses his wisdom, and nobody likes to keep him in the house. When one forgets Waheguru's Naam, the Angel of death blames him for many things and justly punishes him by sending him to hell. 8.
One's prewritten fortune based on his previous deeds cannot be erased, which becomes the cause for his reincarnations. Whom else can he blame for his immoral acts? Without coming to Guru's shelter, one's life goes to waste, and he stays in the cycle of more births and deaths, and without Guru's Shabad, his life rots in immoral acts. 9.
The man performs spiritually useless deeds, and his worldly enjoyments lead to humiliation in Waheguru's Court. Because of his greed and his forgetting Waheguru's Naam, he loses the spirituality he was born with and receives punishment from the Angel of Justice. 10.
The devotee, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, sings His praise in Guru's shelter. By reciting the Naam of the omnipresent and the limitless Waheguru, he becomes pure and like Waheguru Himself. 11.
Remember Guru's Words (of praise for Waheguru), and recite Waheguru's Naam with love in the company of the holy saints, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. Such devotees are leaders (are honoured) in Waheguru's Court, and I long for the dust of their feet (wish to serve them), oh Nanak. 12.8.

MEANING: My mind is imbued with the love for my Dear (Waheguru). I will gladly cut myself into pieces and will sacrifice my life for Him for His kind sight, even if it is for a short moment, because it makes me blissful. Pause.
Because of indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya), I (or anybody else) keep taking births and dying. No matter how many friends I make (no one can help me avoid reincarnations). Those human brides who are disconnected from Waheguru find no shelter (support) in Waheguru's Court, so how can they find peace (end their cycle of rebirths)? 1.
How can those human brides who remain disconnected from Waheguru-Husband in this world go to the in-laws (have union with Waheguru-Husband)? I am robbed of my good qualities by the attractions of Maya, and am full of ignoble qualities to the neck; without my Dear husband, I am dying of repentance in His separation. 2.
If I remember Waheguru in this world, I will be accepted by Him and will live with Him (merge with Him). Those who are lucky to be loved by the source of all virtues, Waheguru, spend the night of their life in comfort (in blissfulness). 3.
Those who are ditched (ignored) by their Waheguru-Husband spend the night of their life in suffering, even if they have silky beds and wear silky clothes (enjoy luxuries). 4.

MEANING: No matter how many delicious foods I got to enjoy, and how many fashions I might have worn, my youthfulness (young age) has gone completely to waste without my Dear (Waheguru), and now disconnected from Him, I am crying in repentance. 5.
If one listens to the Message of the eternal Waheguru by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, the kind Waheguru casts a kind sight on the devotee, and she gets to sit with Him (is connected with His Naam). 6. The true devotee wears a kohl of Divine Knowledge in his mental eyes to enhance his (internal) sight, and is able to "see" Waheguru, who looks after His creation. Such a devotee gets the understanding (wisdom) in the shelter of the Guru to get rid of his ego, and is recognized in Waheguru's Court. 7.

Puhhiyaan = travellers. 2. Maamay tay Mamaaniyaan = maternal uncles and their wives. Bhaayir = brothers. Saath Ludday = groups are loaded. Naatthiyaan = visitors. Bheerr Ghunee = thick (huge) crowds. Duriyaayo = river (on the shore of the world-sea). 3. Rungaavlo = dyed. Kunt(u) = Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Rung(i) Ruvunt(u) = enjoys union with affection. 4.
Roottan = seasons. Chungiyaan = pleasant; favourable. Nayh(u) = love. Dhun = human bride. Nis(i) = night. Dayh(u) = day. 5. Puttan = ford; boat launch. Kookay = calls aloud. Paatni = boatman; Guru. Vunjou = go. Dhrook(i) = run to. Vilaarr(i) = by jumping. Paar(i) Puvundrray = crossing over. Ditth(u) = saw. Bohith = ship. 6.
Hikkni = some. Luddiya = loading the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam. Bhaaray = heavy with sins. Bhurnaal(i) = (drowned) in the world-sea. Sach(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Vunjiya = dealt in (acquired). Naal(i) = with. 7. Jayhrra = like. Soyay = Him (Waheguru). 8.

MEANING: No worldly relation lasts forever - be it your sisters, sisters-in-law, or mothers-in-law. But, the relationship with the devotees who are connected with one another through the Guru becomes permanent (they all merge into Waheguru by singing His praise in the shelter of the Guru). 1. I am a sacrifice, always a sacrifice for the Guru, who connected me with my Dear (Waheguru); before coming to the Guru's shelter, I had exhausted myself searching unsuccessfully for Waheguru. Pause.
(All of us are visitors in the world), and all relatives, including the sisters of our fathers, maternal grandmothers, sisters of our mothers, or sisters-in-law, come and go, and never stay here permanently. There are boatloads of such visitors (waiting to leave for the text world). 2. There are huge crowds of visitors near the boat launch of the world-sea (to get across to the next world), which include all maternal uncles, their wives, brothers, fathers, and mothers (so there is no permanent relative in this world). 3.

Only our husband, Waheguru, is eternal and is always full of love, oh friends. If we get imbued in His love (by reciting His Naam), we never get separated from Him, and He enjoys our union with Him. 4. All seasons are favourable for fostering love for Waheguru. Such a devotee becomes connected to the eternal Waheguru and spends her days and nights in bliss. 5. Satguru is the ship to ferry us across the world-sea, and He calls us aloud at the launch to board the ship fast by jumping on to it (but only those can board who have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts). I have seen many who have been ferried across when they board the Guru-Ship. 6.
Some people have loaded their merchandise of Waheguru's Naam (ready to get across), and some have already crossed over to the other shore with this merchandise, but there are many more who are heavily loaded with ignoble qualities, and have drowned in the world - sea. Those who dealt in Waheguru's Naam are always with the Lord. 7.
I cannot call myself good, and I do not see anyone as bad. Those who kill (get rid of) their selfishness and ego, become like Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.2.10.

Word Meaning: Rungay Raata = imbued in love. Vukhaana = recite. 1. Daana = Provider. Beena = know-all; wise. Turaaoun = find salvation. Pause. Aik(u) = One; Waheguru. Jot(i) = Soul. Moorukhaan Sir(i) Moorukh = the supreme foolish. 2.
Pullaiy Na Paayay = cannot possess (acquire). Bhaanaiy = with (His Will). Mun(i) Vussaiy = takes dwelling (is embedded) in mind. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Bherm Bhoolaana = misled in illusions. Bayd Smaaleh(i) = follow the (rituals of) the Vedas. Bikh(u) Bhoolay = lost in the poisonous Maya. Laykhaari = authors. 5. Kullar = saltpeter. Khayti = crop. Turvur = tree. Kuntthay = on the bank of a river. Baaga = white. Pehreh(i) = wear. Kujul Jhuraiy = where kohl (black ash) drops. Tisaiy = of that (Maya). Gerb Juraiy = burns (rots) in ego, 6. Ruyyiut = subjects. Dooh(u) Untar(i) = between the earth and the sky. Jaasi = will go (perish). Paurri = ladder to reach. Nivaasi = resident of Waheguru's Palace. 7.

MEANING: Imbued in the love of my Lord, Waheguru, I recite His Naam all the time, and do not consider anyone to be foolish or wise (I treat everybody the same). 1.

I may be foolish, but I am a sacrifice for Your Naam, oh Waheguru. You are the creator and the provider, and you know the needs of all of us. Kindly grant me Your Naam so that I may swim across the word-sea. Pause.

One may be wise or foolish, but each has Waheguru's Light in them – wise and foolish are simply two names. The individual who does not believe in Waheguru's Naam is the supreme fool. 2. One can acquire Waheguru's Naam at the door (shelter) of the Guru; no one acquires it without Satguru. Waheguru's Naam can be enshrined only with the Will of the Satguru, when the devotee meditates on Him (stays connected with Him) day and night. 3.

Those who spend their lives ruling over others and enjoying beauty and other sources of entertainment, wealth, and their own youthfulness are gamblers (who lose their spirituality in exchange for these luxuries). But we cannot blame them entirely because, restrained by Waheguru's Huqam, they are just like pawns in the game of dice, where they can be successful or losers. 4. The world considers itself to be clever and wise, but is misled by its misgivings. The religious leader calls himself a pundit, but the foolish read (follow) the advice rooted in Maya. Ignoring Waheguru's Naam, he follows the rituals of the Vedas, whose authors themselves are misled by poisonous Maya. 5.

The world is Maya's home, which blackens the minds of its residents. Whoever lives in it, rots in his ego. Playing in the hands of poisonous Maya is as unsafe as a crop seeded in a field covered with saltpeter (which makes the ground completely infertile), or like a tree right on the bank of a river which can be uprooted any time, or like a man in white clothes entering a room where kohl-like dark ash is dropping (like rain) (where he is sure to get dark ash on his clothes to ruin their shine). 6. I will say that be it a rajah, or his subjects – in fact everybody between the earth and the sky – is bound to perish. The Guru is the ladder to reach the high (transcendent) Waheguru; only those who reach the high Residence of Waheguru become immortal and become residents of His Palace, oh Nanak. 7.3.11.

Word Meaning: Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = in a natural way. Vaydun = pain (of separation). Kaari = cure; medication. 1. Saar = worth. Pause.
Dib Drisht(i) = enlightened vision (wisdom). Jaagaiy = awakens; is enlightened. Bherm Chookaayay = dispels misgivings (illusions). Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Joogut(i) = approach. Puchhaanaiy = recognizes. Veechaari = thoughtful. 2.
Sunjogi = prewritten destiny. Dhun = human bride. Pir = (Waheguru) husband. Doormut(i) = immoral thinking. Rung Siyoun = with affection. Ruliyaan = enjoyment (blissfulness) of union. Kunt = husband. 3.
Baajhoun = without. Vaiyd = physician. Munda = bad thought. 4.
Saar(u) = supreme. Trishna Bhookh = appetite of worldly desires. Kul = power; ability. 5.

MEANING: Once a devotee enshrines Your Naam in his heart with Guru's eternal Shabad with Your benevolence and without any special effort on his part, he cannot bear the pain of Your separation, oh Waheguru. Only the devotee knows the intensity of that pain, and nobody else knows any cure for that. 1. Waheguru implants His love in the devotee's heart, and Himself connects him with the Guru to be connected with Him. But only that devotee knows the worth of Your love on whom You cast Your kind sight, oh God. Pause.
Such a devotee, awakened by his enlightened wisdom, realizes the reality, gets rid of his misgivings about Maya, and attains the highest spiritual state with the grace of the Guru. The individual who follows this approach (Guru's path) is a true yogi and becomes thoughtful. 2. The fortunate human bride gets rid of her immoral thinking with Guru's Advice, and gets connected with her Waheguru-Husband as per her prewritten destiny. Because of her love for Him, she is loved by Waheguru and enjoys the blissfulness of her union with Him. 3.
Waheguru is present everywhere and is above the effects of Maya. Also, there is no physician other than Satguru who can purify one's mind. One gets over his immoral thinking in the shelter of the Guru, gets enlightened, and becomes thoughtful. 4.
Satguru's Shabad is supreme, for which one fosters love with Waheguru's benevolence, and with which the devotee's appetite for worldly desires is killed in Satguru's shelter. No one can acquire any such ability with his own efforts; only Waheguru grants one such ability with His kindness. 5.

Word Meaning: Agum = Aagum = Shastras. Nigum(u) = Vedas. Ghur(i) Aaya = mind stabilizes. Unjun = kohl; darkness of Maya. Nirunjun = Waheguru (which is unaffected by Maya). Jaata = recognized; made a connection. 6.

Tutt(u) = reality; the root (Waheguru). Dhundh(u) = Maya-related tasks. 7.

Baiyraagi = detached from the world (and in love with Waheguru). Gavaari = unrefined; foolish. 8.

Uggaiy = in Waheguru's Court. Bayli = friend; supporter. Boojhaiy = are recognized. 9.

Sookh-Daata = source of comforts. Joog Chaaray = in each of the four eons. 10.

MEANING: Satguru shows (gives the devotee) Waheguru's Naam, which subsumes the study of the Shastras and the Vedas (the devotee does not need their advice). (With Waheguru's Naam) One's mind becomes stable, and with His kind sight, he recognizes Waheguru even when living in the world of Maya. 6.

Guru's Sikh acquires Waheguru's Naam and gets rid of his haumein (selfishness and ego). One can learn by pondering Satguru's Shabad that without Satguru's Advice, people simply perform routine tasks rooted in Maya. 7.

Many people are misled by the illusions of Maya, and wander around (spend their life) in the ego. On the other hand, there are many who kill their selfishness and ego with the Guru's guidance. Those who are imbued in the love of Guru's eternal Shabad are the true renouncers (of worldly attractions), while the rest are foolish who are misled by the illusions of Maya. 8.

Those who do not acquire Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru are followers of their own mind (are worshipers of Maya) and waste away their precious human life. They will have no one to support them in Waheguru's Court, but those who ponder the Guru's Shabad are recognized there. 9.

Waheguru's Naam, which is acquired from the Perfect Guru, is the real Amrit, and the source of all comforts in each of the four eons. But only that lucky devotee enshrines it in his mind, to whom Waheguru grants it with his benevolence. Such devotees ponder on Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 10.1.

MEANING: Wandering through the 8.4 million life forms, you have acquired the precious human form now, but you are engrossed in the low-quality enjoyments of life. The Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam is present in your mind, but you are deeply engrossed in the attractions of poisonous Maya, oh foolish man. 1 & Pause.

As a human being, you should have dealt with the jewels-like, invaluable, noble qualities. and in Waheguru's Naam, but you are rather loading (accumulating) the saltpetre-like worthless qualities (vices) rooted in Maya to take with you to the next world. 2.

MEANING: The omniscient Waheguru knows everything about us. He is my close friend and relative, and His Naam gives peace and stability to my mind. Pause.

With His kindness, he protected me (from Maya's attacks) and connected me with the Guru. Now, with deep love for Him, my tongue recites Waheguru's Naam and is enjoying its sweet taste. 1. I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, who has created the sea of worldly desires. The assistants of the Angel of Death cannot question the devotees who worship Waheguru with the grace of the Guru. 2.

The heart of the holy saints is the treasure of the Naam of Waheguru, which has emancipation at His Door (emancipation is His slave). The perfectly wise Waheguru teaches living beings the path to spirituality, and the Lord protects us at all times. 3.

All the troubles, the sufferings, and the spiritually destructive disputes of the devotee, who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, are eradicated. The fears of death, of hell, and of the tough situations (challenges) do not even go near him. 4.

The transcendent, inaccessible, and unfathomable Waheguru has been here uniformly from the very beginning, is here now, and will be here at the end. He is the source of all supernatural powers, of the nine mythical treasures, and of the springs of His Naam-Amrit. 5.
The accomplished yogis, the practising yogis, the hermits, and the Vedas all say the same thing: that to enjoy the blissfulness of the peaceful mental state, one should recite the Naam of the limitless Waheguru. 6.
Countless sins of the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam deep from his heart get eradicated. Waheguru's Naam is holiest of all other means, including millions of donations and dips at holy places, for pleasing Waheguru. 7.
Waheguru's Naam is the wealth of the holy saints, which is power, wisdom, awareness, life, and everything else for them. It is my prayer as well, before Waheguru, that I do not forget Him for even a short moment, oh Nanak. 8.2.
