Not only would the Brahmans enjoy a rich feast, but they were also offered money to their satisfaction. If the guest Brahman was unhappy with the money, he would threaten the host with a curse. Many a time the poor family could not afford to satisfy the monetary hunger of the Brahman, but the latter would be totally merciless with his demands, which was like murdering the host. Guru Sahiban have written many holy Shabads to condemn this evil behaviour of the Brahmans. This is just one of those Shabads.

They are highly fortunate people who are absorbed in the love of Waheguru. 1. Brahma, and other gods like him, and Sunuk (Brahma's son) and others like him, long for Waheguru, and so do the yogis, celibates and Sidhs who wish union with Waheguru; but only that lucky individual sings Waheguru's praise who has this special gift in his fortune. 2. I will place all my wealth before him, and offer my mind (for enlightening me); I will completely give up my own wisdom. 1. With great luck, when the seeds of my (noble) deeds of previous lives sprouted, I was connected to Waheguru, who, even though (being present in all living beings) enjoys all the sweet tastes of the world, is still detached from it. All the darkness of my mind (ignorance) was cleared, and I felt as if I had awoken from a deep slumber of many, many lives, oh Nanak. 2.2.119.

The bond of attachment (with worldly things) is very strong, which spawns huge misgivings (that everything is going to be mine forever). The pit of such misgivings is very deep, and the mud of the sweetness of desires is very sticky; it is very difficult for the man to get out of these attractions. Only Waheguru, who is the Guru of the universe, can cut these bonds; so, enshrine His lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in your heart, oh man. 1. Please, be kind, my darling Waheguru, and listen to my request, oh, the Guardian of the weak and the poor. My life, and my body, are Your property (are given by You), oh my Lord. me with Waheguru soon. I weighed all the comforts of the world on the scale of my mind against union with Waheguru, and found out that all comforts are insignificant in comparison with the union with Waheguru. 1.
By singing praise of the sea (source) of all virtues, Waheguru, and with the grace of the Guru, I have been able to change the direction of going into the cycle of rebirths for many lives (I will no longer get caught in that cycle). By connecting with Waheguru, I was able to achieve the objective of my life in a timely fashion, and acquired all the comforts and the bliss, oh Nanak. 2.4.121.

Word Meaning: Kin Bidh(i) = in what way? how? Goosaayeen = Lord of the earth (God). Sehj Sookhdaata = the provider of the comfort of a peaceful mind. Pause. Alukh = the invisible (Waheguru). Lukhiya = be seen. Moh(i) = attachment. Bherm = misbelief (that Maya is the source of all comforts). Kiyoun = how? 1.
Aika = the same. Ikutt Greh(i) = the same house (human mind). Aik Bust = Waheguru's Naam. Punch = the five senses. Doohaylay = uncomfortable. Agoachur Tthaayeen = the unreachable place. 2. Greh(i) = home. Taala = lock. Koonji = key. Saunpaayee. = in the responsibility of. Anik oopaav = many different ways (approaches). 3. Bundhun = bonds. Liv Laayee = focused on. Punch Juna = the five senses; the supreme devotees. Mungul Gaaya = sang the song of joyfulness. 4. In Bidh(i) = this way. Bhuyya = happened. Bherm = misbelief. Khin = moment. Jot(i) = light (soul) of Waheguru. Smaayee = merged in.

MEANING: How can I connect with the Lord of the earth, oh Your Majesty, Waheguru? I am looking for a holy saint who can guide me on the path that leads to union with the source of comfort and bliss - Waheguru. Pause. The invisible Waheguru resides in everybody's heart, but cannot be seen (realized) because there is a curtain of haumein (selfishness and ego) between the human mind and Waheguru. The whole world is asleep (engrossed in Maya to the extent of oblivion, which the man believes to possess forever); how can such serious misgivings be cleared? 1.

Waheguru and the human mind reside in the same house (the human body), yet they do not communicate with each other (the human mind does not realize Waheguru's presence in the body). Without Waheguru's Naam, the five human senses suffer as they are always dissatisfied due to the inaccessibility of the desired precious item (Waheguru). 2. Waheguru, who is the owner of the human body as His dwelling, has locked Himself out in the human mind and has given the key to the Guru. Only the Guru has the power to open the lock (to connect the human mind with Waheguru). So, no matter how many different ways the man tries to access Waheguru, he cannot do it until he takes Guru's shelter.
But those whose bonds with Maya have been severed by the Guru concentrate their minds on Waheguru in the company of the holy congregation (and get connected with Him). When that happens, the five senses feel contented and sing the song of happiness, rejoicing in the merger of the human soul with Waheguru. 3.
That is the way to get connected with Waheguru, oh my Lord. At that point, all the individual's misgivings are cleared in an instant, his soul merges with the Supreme Soul (of Waheguru), and he feels bliss. Second Pause. 1.122.

MEANING: I made such an affectionate bond with Waheguru that He kindly connected me with Satguru. Pause. Satguru instilled such a faith in me about You, that I see You everywhere, oh Waheguru. Why should I pray to someone else when You listen to my prayers? 1. The Guru has severed all my bonds with Maya, and all my misgivings have been cleared. Now, I am enjoying the comfort of blissfulness. (Satguru has convinced me) that whatever has to happen (according to Waheguru's Will) will take place (regardless of whether you worry about that or not). One experiences no comfort or grief without His Will. 2.

The Guru has removed the curtain of haumein from within me and shown that the human soul and Waheguru reside in the same place (the human heart or mind). Since the source of all the nine treasures (Waheguru) resides in one's heart, where else would he go (outside his heart) looking for Him? 3. Just as gold is designed in many different shapes and sizes (but the gold is the same), the Satguru has cleared all my doubts and explained that the human soul is a part of the same Supreme Soul (Waheguru), and has caused the two to merge into each other, oh Nanak. 4.2.123.

I am making a request to you, so listen carefully, oh, my friend. Human life is an opportunity to serve the Guru; earn the reward of serving the Guru in this life so that your life in the next world (after death) becomes comfortable. 1.
This world is like a sea which is full of attractive sensual enjoyments, and the misguided and ignorant human beings are drowning in this sea. Only devotees with a deep connection to Waheguru swim across this sea successfully. But only those devotees sing praise of the indescribable Waheguru, who have been awakened (enlightened) by Him, and given the sweet taste of His Naam. 2.

MEANING: There is nobody else, other than You, oh, the basis of my life, dear Waheguru. Pause. Only You know the feelings of my mind, and You are my comforting friend. I have acquired all the comforts from You, oh my fathomless Lord. Your virtues cannot be measured (counted). 1.
I cannot describe all Your different forms and Your amazing feats, oh Waheguru. You are the source of all the virtues and of all the comforts. You are unreachable, incomprehensible, and eternal, oh Waheguru; but I have recognized You (learnt about You and made a connection with You) with the grace of the Guru. 2.
The holy sight of the Guru (His holy company) has removed all my misgivings (doubts) and fears, and eradicated my selfishness and ego. As a result of all that, I am fully detached from the world now. Also, all my fears (doubts) about life and death have been cleared (death does not scare me anymore). 3.
I wish to sacrifice my life millions of times for my Guru, and to wash His feet and serve Him (like a slave). I am one with my Guru (and Waheguru) by whose grace I have swum across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 4.17.128.

Waheguru is present uniformly in the sky, in the underworld, on the earth, and in the whole universe. Everybody is praising You with folded hands, calling You the source of all comforts, and begging for Your benevolence. 1.

I have been through many, many life forms and have suffered a lot. I have been given the human form now with Your grace. Please, show me a glimpse of Yours, oh, the King-Waheguru. 1. It is by His Will that the world, misled by captivating Maya and the attachment for the mundane, is deep asleep (is in the dark), and is not awake (alert about the attacks of Maya). 2.
Please, listen to my request, oh dear Lord of my life, the treasure of benevolence, and kind Waheguru. We are orphans (have no support), please raise and nurture us like a father, and protect us from the attacks of Maya, oh kind Waheguru. 3.

Word Meaning: Ta kaiy = those. Bulihaari = offer life for sacrifice. Kayvul = only. Adhaari = basis. 1. Mehma = praise; spiritual greatness (level). Kaytuk = how much. Guniyaiy = count; measure. Jun = devotees. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Sehj = peace of mind (controlled mind). Anund = joy; bliss. Sumsur(i) = equal. Uver Na = onbody else. Daatay = donors. 1.
Jugut oodhaarun = salvation of the world. Ders Piyaasa = thirst of Waheguru's sight. Turiya = swam across the world-sea; salvaged. Poorun = fulfilled. 2.
Nihaala = blessed. Rayn(u) = dust (of the devotees' feet). Prubhoo = God. 3.
Jobun = youthfulness. Uvdh = life. Joog Meh(i) = in the world. Ghaatiya = decreasing; on the decline. Nidhaan = treasure. Nuvtun = fresh. Nirmul = pure. Dhun = wealth. Khaatiya = earned. 4.

MEANING: I offer my life to those who make Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life. Pause. How can we measure the spiritual greatness of the devotees who are fully imbued in Waheguru's love? There is mental peace, blissfulness, and comfort in their company; there is no other donor (guide in spirituality) like them. 1.
Such holy devotees, who themselves have the thirst (longing) to "see" Waheguru, come to the world to salvage it (save it from vices). Whoever surrenders to them has his wishes fulfilled and swims across the sea of Maya in their company. 2.
I feel spiritually alive and blissful when I come to their shelter. I pray to God that with His kindness, I become the dust of their feet (serve them humbly). 3.
Every visible thing, including reign (of some state), youthfulness, and life, is on the decline (is perishable). Only Waheguru's Naam is such a treasure, always fresh and pure. That is the wealth which I have earned, oh Nanak. 4.10.131

Nuoun Khund Prithmi = all the nine divisions of the earth. Ruvviya = present. Nimukh, Nimukh = every moment. Numuskaara = bow to Him. Deekhiya = advice. Moondraan = earrings. Drirriyo = reinforced. Nirunkaara = formless Waheguru. 1. Punch Chaylay = the five disciples (five senses). Ikuttra = came together (became calm). Aikus = pure mind; high moral thinking. Vus(i) = in the control. Dus = the ten (five senses and five actions using the senses). Baiyraagun(i) = turned off from pleasures. 2. Bherm = misgivings. Churhaayee Bibhoota = covered the body with ash. Punth(u) = faith. Aik(u) = One God. Paykhiya = saw. Sehj = controlled mind. Bhoogta = the sweets distributed to the congregation. Mustuk(i) Laykhiya = destiny. 3. Aasun(u) = place to rest (for the mind). Baandhiyo = built; raised (the mind). Singi = bugle (trumpet). Unhut Bani = Guru's Shabad that raises one's spiritual level where the Divine music is believed to be heard. Tut = the root; the origin (Waheguru). Dunda = baton of the yogis. Joogut(i) = customs (daily routine of yogis). Bhaani = liked; favourite. 4. Vudbgaageen = with great luck. Bhaytaiy = meets; one connects with. Moorut(i) = image; personality. Pug = feet. Chaatay = lick. 5.

NOTE: As discussed earlier, too, the yogis, who renounce the world and go from door to door to beg for food and other necessities of life, believe that theirs is the best way to achieve union with Waheguru (which never happens, as their real aim is to acquire some supernatural powers through concentration). They cover their bodies with ash, wear big glass earrings, hold a baton in their hand, and blow a bugle (trumpet) to show their presence, and observe some other customs.

In this Shabad, Guru Arjun Dev Ji explains the true path to have union with God.

MEANING: I came to the Guru's shelter to learn the true path to connect with Waheguru. Satguru explained to me that Satguru's Shabad (to sing Waheguru's praise) is the only way to connect with Him. Pause. Satguru explained to me that Waheguru, which is present in all the nine regions of the earth, is also present in me (every human being), and we must bow to Him (obey His Will) each and every moment. And rather than wearing rings in the ears, one should wear Guru's advice in the ears (listen to it), and reinforce only the Naam of the single Supreme Being, which has no physical form. 1. (With Waheguru's Naam at heart) All five human senses calm down and come under the control of the pure mind (with high moral thinking). At the same time, all five senses, and the five feelings based on them, get turned off from sensual pleasures and become obedient (compliant). This is how your mind becomes pure, oh yogi. 2. The ash that the yogis use to cover their bodies should be produced from burning the misgivings (eradicating them), and to see only the "One" (Waheguru) everywhere should be the path of the faith to follow. Rather than distributing some sweet stuff among the congregation, the yogis should distribute the comfort of peace of mind (the high spiritual state). This is the lifestyle, written by the Lord as a requirement for connecting with Him. 3.

The real devotee of Waheguru concentrates on Waheguru's Naam to build (attain) that state of mind where there is no fear; and rather than listening to the music of the trumpet of the yogis, the true devotee of Waheguru focuses on the Guru's Shabad to hear the auto-playing Divine music which the yogis believe to hear in their meditation. The true devotee ponders on Waheguru and uses it as a baton to keep vices at bay. He believes in Waheguru's Naam as his only means to connect with Waheguru. 4.
One connects with such a yogi (a true devotee of Waheguru) with great fortune who can cut the bonds of Maya. I would love to lick the feet (be his slave) of such a noble personality, and serve him, worship him, oh Nanak. 5.11.132.

MEANING: Listen to Waheguru's Naam, which has nothing similar to be compared against in terms of its spiritual value, and recite it, oh, all my friends. The individuals who have been given the Guru's Naam as the panacea for all illnesses have their minds purified. Pause. Guru's Shabad lights up as a lamp in the minds of such individuals, and all the darkness of their minds (ignorance) disappears. Those who develop full faith in the company of the Guru have their misgivings dispelled. 1.
When one gets connected with the Guru who is imbued in Waheguru's love, all his wishes are fulfilled, and he swims across the deep and the tough world-sea in the company of the Guru, which serves as the ship. 2. The dedicated devotees acquire the treasure of Waheguru's Naam by which their minds and bodies are fully contented. However, only those lucky people are able to acquire the treasure of Naam who obey Waheguru's Huqam with His grace, oh Nanak. 3.12.133.

MEANING: Please, be compassionate and kind to me, oh, the Lord of my life, Waheguru; I am an orphan (without any support), and have come to Your shelter. Please, protect me from the dark, deep well of Maya; I cannot fend for myself (from the attacks of Maya) with my own wisdom or logical assertion. Pause.

Everything that happens in the world is either done by You, or You make living beings do that, and there in none else capable like You. Only You know the height of Your capability (spirituality) and Your measurements (the worth of Your noble qualities). Human beings can only be Your devotees – and only those who have good fortune on their foreheads. 1. Waheguru is closely knit with His devotees like the cross threads in fabric. The devotees recite His Naam, calling Him "Dear," and long for His holy sight the way a Greek partridge sets its sight on the moon because of its love for it (the moon). 2. There is no difference between Waheguru and His devotees; however, there is only one such devotee among millions. The individual, in whose heart Waheguru appears, sings His praise and recites His Naam with the tongue all the time. 3. Oh, the omnipotent, limitless, transcendental, source of all comforts, and the Lord of my life, Waheguru, please be kind to me – Nanak - and keep me in the company of the holy saints. 4.13.134.

MEANING: Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts in this world and the next, and which nourishes and looks after all living beings, should never be dropped from mind (forgotten), oh my friend. Pause. Waheguru destroys huge troubles in a moment for the individual who recites His Naam by the tongue. He puts out the fire (of the desires for Maya), and provides calmness and peace of mind to the individuals who take His shelter. 1. Waheguru ferries across the sea of Maya (salvages) and protects from the hell of the womb (the individual does not go through many, many life forms). Whoever remembers Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in mind, has his fear of the Angel of death eradicated. 2.
The omnipresent Waheguru is very high (transcendental), is unreachable, and is limitless. An individual who recites His Naam and sings praise of the source of all comforts (wins the game of life) and does not lose it in gambling. (One gambles when he hopes to win wealth against the real objective of life – union with Waheguru). 3.
My mind is possessed by lust, rage, greed, and worldly attachments, oh, the fulfiller of all my needs, Waheguru. Please be kind, and grant me (Nanak) Your Naam; I am always glad to offer my life to You. 4.1.138.

Moh(i) = attachment. Mohiya = fascinated; overcome. Hudoor(i) = in attendance (present); close by. 4.
MEANING: There is no comfort (peace of mind) without the worship of Waheguru, oh, my mind. If you recite Waheguru's Naam (with full devotion) in the company of the Guru (or holy congregation) even for a moment, you can win this life (achieve the objective of human life), which is priceless like a precious ruby (because one does not get human life easily). Pause. Countless people, who enjoyed the luxuries of life, including wealth, sources of entertainment, and the love of their sons and their wives, left this world without any of those. 1. The foolish person, who owned and enjoyed superior horses and elephants, reigned over a large state and had sources of fun and entertainment, leaves this world naked (empty-handed). 2.
The body, which was beautified with the essence of roses and sandalwood, and which swelled up with ego, is degraded (humiliated) to dust. 3.

The violent (nonpeaceful) world spreads darkness of ignorance (and strengthens the bonds of Maya); but the Divine Knowledge of the Guru is the lamp that dispels the darkness, and causes brightness for the people to realize (that Maya is short-lived). 1. The poison of Maya is spread very densely in the world; only those individuals (break the bonds of Maya and) find salvation, who recite the Naam of Waheguru which is the treasure of virtues. 2. The (ignorant) man is deep asleep (unaware of reality) in the intoxication of Maya, but all his misgivings and fears are dispelled when he gets connected with the Guru. 3. MEANING: You are my only support, oh Waheguru; and seeking Guru's shelter is the service to You. Pause. I tried many different ways to connect with You, but failed; however, the Guru accepted me as His personal attendant (devotee of Waheguru) (and advised me to keep You in mind all the time), oh Waheguru. 1. With Guru's grace, I was able to overpower the army of the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego) and destroy it (the army of demons). 2.

I received Your Naam from the Guru as a token of gratuity, and now I am enjoying the comfort and bliss of a peaceful and restful mind (my mind is wandering no more). 3. Those who serve Waheguru are noble (are recognized by Waheguru) and their faces gleam (they are honoured) in His Court. 4.3.141.

You are the reign (ruler), youthfulness, and wealth for Your devotees (they get all these comforts when they connect with You), oh, Waheguru. You are formless (have no physical traits and therefore invisible), but, being present everywhere in nature, You are also visible (the entire universe is Your manifestation), oh Waheguru. 2.
You protect us in both worlds, but some rare devotee realizes this fact with the grace of the Guru. 3. Waheguru is perfectly wise and omniscient. He is my support and my power, oh Nanak. 4.5.143

Waheguru's Naam rids one of his ego, which is a kind of disease, and with Guru's grace, one can enjoy family life while still detached from Maya. 1. Whoever tastes Waheguru's sweet Naam has his thirst for desires of Maya quenched. 2. Whoever acquires the treasure of a peaceful mind (high spiritual state) from Waheguru does not rush to any other attraction again. 3. He has a deep attachment to Maya, which the Vedas and the holy saints strongly forbid. The sensual pleasures overpower him, and have full control over him, as a result of which, he is losing the purpose of life, just like a gambler who loses in gambling. 1. Waheguru, who takes away life (or others' necessities of life) and then gives back again, is perfect in every which way, but the man is devoid of the love for His lotus-like soft Feet (for Him). The ignorant man wishes for something (Maya) which is not there all the time. Ignorance (because of the attachment with Maya) is like a dark and black night; is there a way to get rid of this darkness so as to have the day-like brightness of knowledge? 1. I am exhausted searching for different ways to overcome the attraction for Maya (but was unsuccessful). MEANING: Comfort lies in the shelter of Waheguru, oh my mind. The day on which Waheguru, which is the source of life and all comfort, is forgotten, goes completely to waste. Pause. You are here (on the earth) as a visitor for a very short time, yet you build hopes and wishes as if you were going to stay here for eons, oh man. The house, the mansion, and the wealth you see are like the shade of a tree (which keeps changing direction and vanishes at sunset). 1. You believe that your body, wealth, orchards, estate, and other properties are yours, but forget the Waheguru who has given you everything. You do not realize that all these things become foreign (strange) to you in a moment (at your death), oh man. 2. The man is narcissistic, who washes his body, wears clean clothes, and sprays perfumes (essences of roses and sandalwood) to look attractive. But all adornments are like the bath of an elephant (who sprays dust on his body right after the bath) because the man does not recognize (makes no connection with) the fearless and the formless Waheguru, (and without love for Him), the face of the man is coated with the dirt (filth) of Maya. 3.

When Waheguru is kind, He connects you with Satguru (who reinforces Waheguru's Naam in you) whereby you feel blissful because all comforts are there in Waheguru's Naam, oh man. Satguru has loosened all my bonds with Maya, and by singing Waheguru's praise, I am now completely free (from the bonds of Maya), oh Nanak. 4.14.152.

We should sing Waheguru's virtues with every breath and every bite of food, oh my friend. But one acquires this wisdom and intelligence (to recite Waheguru's Naam) only if Satguru is kind to him. 1. One gets freedom from the shackles of the Angel of death (is not reborn), and enjoys the best of all the comforts by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. And by serving the Satguru, who is a manifestation of the provider of all our necessities - the Lord Waheguru - one gets all his wishes and desires fulfilled. 2. Waheguru's Naam is the dearest friend and the son for us as it accompanies us to the next world, oh my mind. But you acquire Waheguru's Naam only from Satguru; so, serve Him. 3.

With Guru's grace and Waheguru's kindness, all my doubts have been cleared, and all the animosity and hostility towards others have been eradicated by singing Waheguru's praise. Now, I am enjoying all comforts, oh Nanak. 4.15.153.

Raag(u) Gaurri Mehla 5 Ek Onkaar Sat Gur Persaad(i). Trishna birlay hee kee boojhi hay. 1. Ruhaou. Koat(i) joaray, laakh kroaray, mun na hoaray. Puraiy puraiy hee kuou loojhi hay. 1. Soondar naari, anik perkaari, pur greh(i) bikaari. Boora bhula nuhee soojhi hay. 2. Anik bundhun Maya, bhermut bhermaya, Goon nidh(i) nuhee gaaya. Mun bikhaiy hee meh(i) loojhi hay. 3. Ja kuou ray kirpa kuraiy, jeevut soyee muraiy, Sadh sung(i) Maya turaiy. Nanak so jun(u) dur(i) Hur(i) sijhi ray. 4.1.154.

Word Meaning: Trishna = fire of desires; thirst for Maya. Birlay = rare (individual). Boojhi = put out; quenched. Pause. Koat(i) = Laakh Kroaray = millions. Hoaray = stops; contented. Puraiy Puraiy = farther and farther. Loojhi = struggles; suffers. 1. Anik Perkaari = in many different ways. Pur Greh(i) = house of others (other women). Bikaari = lustful. Soojhi = recognize; make a distinction. 2. Bhermut = misled in the journey of life. Bhermaya = captivated by. Goon Nidh(i) = treasure of virtues (Waheguru). Bikhaiy = sensual pleasures. 3. Jeevut Muraiy = dead for (detached from) worldly attachments while living in a family. Sijhi = successful. 4.

MEANING: It is a rare, fortunate individual whose fire for the desires for Maya has been put out (he has been contented). Pause.

People accumulate millions of rupees in wealth, and they are still not content; they struggle (suffer in dissatisfaction) to acquire more and more. 1.

One may have a beautiful wife whom he loves in many ways, yet he remains unsatisfied and always looks to other women. In his lust, he becomes so blind that he cannot recognize the good from the bad. 2. He gets so deeply entangled in the web of Maya that, captivated by it, he is misled in the journey of life, and never sings praise of Waheguru, which is the treasure of all virtues. His mind rather battles (enjoys but feels guilty) the sensual pleasures. 3.

But the devotee, whom Waheguru is kind to, stays detached from Maya while living in the family; he swims across the sea of Maya in the shelter of the Guru. Such a devotee is declared successful in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.1.154.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Subh-hoon ko rus(u) Hur(i) ho. 1. Ruhaou. Kaahoo joag, kaahoo bhoag, kaahoo giyan, kaahoo dhiyaan. Kaahoo ho dund dhur(i) ho. 1. Kaahoo jaap, kaahoo taap, kaahoo pooja hoam naym. Kaahoo ho gaun(u) kur(i) ho. 2. Kaahoo teer, kaahoo neer, kaahoo Bayd beechaar. Nanaka bhugut(i) priyay ho. 3.2.155.

Word Meaning: Rus(u) = (source of) sweetness (real bliss). Kaahoo = some; somewhere. Joag = detachment from Maya. Bhoag = enjoying Maya. Dhiyaan = concentration; meditation. Dund Dhur(i) = baton-bearing (yogi). 1.
Jaap = recitation of mantras. Taap = self-affliction. Hoam = Huvan = a religious Hindu ceremony where a large amount of ghee and some other articles are offered to (the god of) fire. Sometimes animals are sacrificed, followed by a big meal. Naym = principles; customs. Gaun(u) = travelling to different places. 2.
Teer = the bank of a river. Neer = (holy) waters. Priyay = dear. 3.

MEANING: (No matter what people do to achieve happiness), Waheguru's Naam is the only source of real bliss for all. Pause. Some people leave home to become detached from Maya, while others enjoy its pleasures; some meditate, some seek knowledge, while others practise meditation. Some of them are baton-holder yogis. 1. Some people recite mantras (to please some god), some torture themselves physically; some worship some deity of their choice, while some others perform huvuns as per the custom. Yet some others travel the earth in search of peace. 2. Some people reside on river banks (away from the family); some take a dip in holy waters, while some ponder on the Vedas. However, Waheguru is pleased only with His worship, oh Nanak. 3.2.155.

NOTE: It must be clear that Waheguru is NOT conceited so as to be worshipped. The objective of human life is to be united with Him, which is possible only if we have the same qualities as God does (no selfishness, no conceit and no attraction for Maya). Worshipping Waheguru implies obeying His Huqam, which is possible only if we understand what Huqam is. Understanding Huqam comes from remembering Him. That's why His worship is a requirement, not to feed His ego.

(PAGE 214): Haiy Nanak nayr nayri. 3.3.156.

Word Meaning: Keerut(i) = singing praise. Nidh(i) = treasure. Pause.
Rus = enjoyable tastes of the world. Jus = praise (for me). Roop = beauty. Rung = sources of entertainment. Aas = hope. Oat = shelter. Maan = pride. Dhaan = largess; wealth. Put(i) = dignity. Praan = life. Tooti = disconnected. Joari = connected; bonded. 2.
Greh(i) = in the house. Bun(i) = in the forest. Nayr Nayri = very close. 3.

MEANING: Singing Waheguru's virtues is the treasure (of wealth) for me. Pause.

Your Naam is tantamount to enjoying different tastes in the world, and the worldly praise for me, oh Waheguru. You are the beauty and the source of all entertainment for me. You are my hope, and my shelter, oh Waheguru. 1.
You are my pride, and the source of all wealth; You are my dignity, and my life. The kind Guru has connected me with Waheguru (I was disconnected before). 2.
You are in the house, and in the forest (for me, where I can sing Your praise); but being present in every heart, You sing Your own praise (You prompt people to sing Your praise) and you listen to it too, because You are closer than being close (as You dwell in every heart), oh Nanak. 3.3.156.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Maato Hur(i) rung(i) maato. 1. Ruhaou. Oohee peeo, oohee kheeyo, Gureh(i) deeyo, daan keeyo. Ohaoo siyoun mun raato. 1. Oohee bhaatthi, oohee poacha, oohee Piyaaro, oohee roocha. Mun(i) ooho sookh(u) jaato. 2. Sehj kayl, anund khayl, ruhay phayr, bhuyay mayl. Nanak Gur Shabad(i) praato. 3.4.157.
Word Meaning: Maato = intoxicated; completely absorbed. Rung(i)=in love. Pause. Oohee = the same. Kheeyo = intoxication. Gureh(i) = the Guru. 1.
Bhaatthi = kiln; furnace. Poacha = wet cloth used to condense alcohol during distillation. Roocha = focus. Jaato = realized. 2. Sehj Kayl = enjoying the peace of mind. Phayr = rebirth. Mayl = union. Praato = stitched. 3.
NOTE: This holy Shabad seems to have been addressed to the yogis who drink alcohol with the belief that it enhances their concentration during meditation.
MEANING: I am also intoxicated – albeit not with alcohol, but with Waheguru's Naam, oh yogi. Pause. I feel the same effect (as you believe alcohol has on you), and feel similarly intoxicated, but this (heavenly) intoxication has been gifted to me by the Guru in the form of Waheguru's Naam, and I am fully imbued in Waheguru's love. 1. For me, Waheguru's Naam is the kiln to distil alcohol, and also the wet cloth that you use on the pipe carrying vapours of alcohol to condense them. Waheguru is my love and my focus, and my mind is blissful because of His Naam. 2.
Now my mind is stitched with Guru's Shabad, and having been connected with Waheguru, I am enjoying blissfulness. I will no longer be caught in the rebirth cycle, oh Nanak. 3.4.157.

NOTE: A new sub-category, Malwa, has started with this holy Shabad, and this is the only Shabad in this category.

Word Meaning: Meeta =friend. Aagaiy = ahead; to the next world. Bikhum = very difficult. Punth = path, journey. Bhaiyaan = frightening. Pause.

Sayvut = serving. Sung(i) = with. Bust(u) = dwells; follows you. Kaal(u) = death. Hoam = Huvan. Jug = serving free meals for some cause. Budhay = increase, boost. Bikaar = vices. Bhoonchna = take in; live with. Avtaar = birth. 2.

Shiv, Braham, Indar Puri = cities (kingdoms) of the respective gods (Hindus believe that the devotees of a particular god go to his city to live with him after death). Nihchul = permanent. Saakut = worshipper of Maya (disconnected from God). 3.

Oodayshiya = advised. Taiyso = the same. Pookaar(i) = aloud; spread (the Message). Keertun = praise of Waheguru. Oodhaar(u) = salvation. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam again and again, oh my friend, because the journey ahead (to the next world) is very difficult and frightening. Pause.

The death follows you all the time, so serve, and always serve, Waheguru (recite His Naam) (to overcome the fear of death and rebirths). Serve the Guru and cut the net (bonds of Maya) so that you do not have to face the Angel of death (and unite directly with Waheguru). 1. The accepted religious rituals, like performing huvun (building holy fire and feeding it with lots of ghee and other costly materials to please the god of fire), serving meals to the top most castes – Brahmans and Khatris - pilgrimage to holy places, and the like, actually boost the ego of the devotees who then indulge in more vices. They are born again and again and have to live through hell and paradise (unlike all other religions, Sikhism does not believe in any dedicated places for hell and paradise. They simply imply discomfort and comforts). 2.

(According to Hindu belief, people go to the kingdom of the god they worship after death) But none of such places is permanent for them. There is no complete comfort (bliss) without serving Waheguru, and the money-minded individual (disconnected from God) keeps rebirth after rebirth. 3. I am simply spreading the Word of the Guru exactly the way He revealed it to me. (And His advice to all is) to sing praise of Waheguru so as to find salvation, oh Nanak. 4.1.158

Kerm = religious deeds (rituals). Bundh = shackles. Sadhu = Guru. Ker(u) = (His) hand. Mustuk(i) = on (my) forehead. Mookut = free (from the shackles of Maya). Bhuyay = became. 2.
Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Ghayray = surrounds (creates more shackles). Urpeen = offer; surrender. Sehj(i) = in peace. Soyay = slept; became indifferent. 3.
Poat = package (of worldly affairs). Ootthaayee = carrying. Daan = punishment. Daar(i) = throw away. Nirbhay = became fearless. 4.

MEANING: I have realized the mental comfort (blissfulness) with my clean mind, like that of an innocent child. When you connect with the Guru, you acquire that purity of mind and begin to feel the same way (no emotions) in happiness or sadness, in losses, at deaths in the family, in comforts, or in discomforts. Pause.
As long as I think and imagine different things, I am surrounded by troubles. But ever since I got connected with the Guru, I have been enjoying bliss and peace of mind. 1. All those deeds, which I performed with my own wisdom, resulted in more shackles of Maya; but since the Guru placed His kind hand on my forehead (provided His support), I became free from all those bonds. 2.
As long as I believed that everything should belong to me (when I was selfish), the poisonous Maya grasped me; but when I surrendered my mind, my body, and my wisdom to Waheguru, I achieved peace of mind and enjoyed worry-free sleep. 3.
As long as I carried out my worldly affairs (was attached to Maya), I was punished (had to suffer), but, when I got connected with the Guru, I got rid of my worries related to the worldly affairs, and became fearless (no worry of any loss), oh Nanak. 4.1.159.

I have dropped at the feet of the Guru (surrendered myself to Him), and now respect and disrespect for me are the same to me. In the love of the Lord (Waheguru), now I do not feel overjoyed to see more wealth, or become disheartened in the face of some trouble or difficult situation. 1. Now I see Waheguru alone in dwellings (cities and towns) and in the wilderness. The Guru has dispelled all my misgivings, and seeing the omniscient Waheguru present everywhere, I have become fearless (no worldly fear affects me). 2. By the grace of the holy saints (holy congregations) my ignorant mind, which was asleep (was unaware), has been awakened (enlightened), and I do not complain about any difficult situation which the Creator (Waheguru) puts me in. 3. (With the grace of the Guru), I (Nanak) have sought Your support and have come to Your shelter, oh Waheguru. MEANING: With Satguru's grace, I have realized Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like rubies and other precious stones. Now, I am fully absorbed in Satguru's Shabad and enjoying the peace of body and mind. Pause. All my appetite and desire for Maya are gone, and I have forgotten all worries. The perfect Guru placed His kind hand on my forehead (blessed me), and I have full control over my mind; and it feels as if I have control over the whole world (all my desires and wishes have been fulfilled, and I have no further desires). 1. My mind is fully contented now, and it no longer wavers. Waheguru's Naam is such an inexhaustible treasure of contentment and bliss that the Satguru has bestowed on me, that there is never a shortage of anything, and it never runs out. 2.
Listen to this amazing thing that the Guru has shown me (made me understand), oh my friends. When he removed the curtain of all my misgivings and connected me with Waheguru, I saw His presence everywhere - in each and every living being. Now, everybody seems to be a member of Waheguru's family, and nobody is a stranger to me anymore. So, all my jealousy of others has disappeared. 3.
However, this amazing feat cannot be described; only the lucky individual who has experienced it can understand it. I saw the bright light of Waheguru, and the Guru has implanted this treasure in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.3.161.

Sadh sungut(i) junum mern(u) nivaaraiy, Nanak jun kee dhoora. 4.4.162.

Word Meaning: Oobrut = is salvaged. Raja Ram = Waheguru. Serb Loak = all three worlds – underworld, earth, and the sky. Maya kay Mundul = under the influence of Maya. Gir -----Dherni = drop to the ground (low spiritual level). Pause.
Muha Purkhan = holy saints. Nistaara = salvation; freedom from the bonds of Maya. Na Kinhoon = nobody. Luhhiya = acquired. 1. Teen Bhuvun = earth, underworld, the sky. Lukhmi = wealth. Boojhut = die; end. Lehyray = waves (strong urges for Maya). Thit(i) = contentment; peace of mind. Phirto = runs around. Pehray Pehray = all the time. 2. Bilaas = sensual pleasures. Mun Mohan = mind-captivating. Kaama = lust. Julto = burning (in the fire of desires). Boojhut = die out. Birthay = worthless. 3. Meeta = friend. Ihaiy = this is. Saar = supreme. Nivaaray = remove; eradicate. 4.

MEANING: One can find salvation only in the shelter of Waheguru (by surrendering to Him). All other people from the earth, the underworld, and the sky are so influenced by Maya that they drop to the ground (the lowest level) in spirituality. Pause.
The pundits ponder on the Vedas and the Simritis, but the holy saints advise that nobody can get freedom from the bonds of Maya and enjoy mental peace without reciting Waheguru's Naam. 1. Some people accumulate the wealth of all three layers of the universe (unlimited amounts), but their strong urges for Maya still do not die out. Where (how) can they find contentment and peace of mind? They cannot find peace, and they continue running around all the time (in the pursuit of Maya). 2. They indulge in countless sensual pleasures which captivate their mind, yet their lust is never satisfied. Their burning sensual desires never get satisfied, and all their efforts to find happiness become worthless because it cannot be found without Waheguru's Naam. 3.
The only way to achieve the supreme comfort (blissfulness) is to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh, my friend. One gets rid of the birth-death cycle (and finds the ultimate bliss) only in the company of the Guru (or holy congregation); that's why I seek the dust of the devotees of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.4.162.

Kuhou Nanak Kernhaar(u) haiy Aapay, Satgur(i) bherm(u) chookaaya. 4.5.163.

Word Meaning: Bidh(i) = the way (to connect with God). Ko = who. Kerta = (like) Waheguru. Junaavaiy = educate; enlighten. Pause.
Unjaanut = in ignorance. Kmaano = work towards. Saadha = performed. Deh Dis(i) = in all ten directions. Kuvun kerm = (due to) what deeds? 1.
Bhoom(i) = land. Bherm = misgivings. Soojhus(i) Naahi = cannot understand. Paiykhur = shackles. 2. Tub = at that time. Kuchho Na Hoata = had no existence. Jub = when. Nirunjun = unaffected by Maya. Nirunkaar = formless; invisible. 3. Kertub = amazing things. Ruchun Ruchaaya = created (the universe). Bherm(u) = misgivings. Chookaaya = lifted, removed. 4.

MEANING: Only a supreme devotee of Waheguru, who is like Him (is fully connected with Him), can teach me the way to connect with Waheguru. Who else can show me the way (if he himself has not experienced union with Him)? Pause.
Whatever the man does, he does so in ignorance and does not perform even the prevalent rituals (with dedication). He allows his mind to wander in every possible direction; for what accomplishments is the man so tied to Maya? (Only Satguru can enlighten us). 1. The man brags about being the master of his mind, his body, his wealth, and the land, claiming that all those things are his, and he is theirs. Under such false impressions, and because of his worldly attachments, he cannot think right, and his attachments serve as shackles from which he cannot get free. 2.
When the world had not yet been created, and Waheguru was all by Himself to do whatever He wished to do, and when the man had no existence yet, what could he earn at that time? 3. Only the Creator, who has created this world, knows His feats. Satguru has cleared the big misgiving (that man is capable of doing things) and explained that only God is capable of doing everything, oh Nanak. 4.5.163.

Oohaan kaam(i) na aavaiy eh bidh(i), oh(u) logun hee putiyavaiy. 2. Chatur Bayd mookh buchnee ooachraiy, aagaiy mehl(u) na paayiyaiy. Gur(u) sayvhou ur(u) Naam(u) dhiyavhou, tiyaag-hou munhou goomaani. 4.6.164.

Word Meaning: Uver = others. Kirya = acts; deeds. Birthay = useless. Jup = recitation of some mantras. Tup = self-affliction. Sunjum = efforts to control sensual pleasures. Oaraiy = even before (one's deeds are evaluated in Waheguru's Court). Moosay = stolen; stripped off. Pause. Bert = fasting. Naym = discipline; follow the norms. Aadh(i) = negligible (half of the lowest-valued coin of the time). Aagaiy = next world. Chullun(u) = moral requirements. Aour = different. Oohaan = there. 1. Dherni Bhermta = wandering in the world (to get away from Maya). Tthaur = shelter; support. Bidh(i) = method; approach. Putiyavaiy = win trust. 2. Chatur = four. Mookh Buchnee = by heart. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's residence (connection with Him). Boojhaiy = understand. Soodhakhur = Pure Word (Waheguru). Jhaakh Jhukhaayiyaiy = useless blabbering. 3. Kmaavaiy = works towards (the embedding of Waheguru's Naam in the heart). Paargraami = able to find salvation. Goomaani = conceit; ego. 4.

MEANING: All other deeds than Waheguru's Naam are worthless in the spiritual world. Recitation of any mantras, and self-affliction (to please some deity), or the efforts to control sensual feelings, are stripped off the man before he is presented before Waheguru after death. Pause. (Without Waheguru's Naam) The man may perform prevalent rituals like fasting, follow other norms (such as pilgrimage, donations to Brahmans, etc.), or try to control his sensual pleasures, but such deeds carry no value in spirituality. The moral requirements are different in the next world (in Waheguru's Court), and the ritualistic deeds do no work there. 1.

An individual who takes dips in the so-called holy waters or wanders on the earth (with the false belief that one gets detached from Maya) finds no support in the next world. He may be able to win the trust of some people here (as a religious person), but such approaches carry no weight there (do not convince Waheguru). 2.

A pundit may recite all four Vedas by heart, but he does not get access to Waheguru's Residence (get connected with Waheguru). All his utterings are worthless blabbering because he does not understand the importance of the holy Word (Waheguru's Naam). 3. Nanak espouses the thought that an individual finds salvation only by working hard to embed Waheguru's Naam in his heart. (And the way to do so) is to serve the Guru, recite Waheguru's Naam, and get rid of one's ego. 4.6.164.

Word Meaning: Maadhou = (the husband of Maya) Waheguru. Raakhou = keep. Pause. K(i) = what? Kernaiyhaara = capable of doing. Bichaaray = powerless. 1. Serb Kay Daatay = provider for all. Aik Roop = one form (One Waheguru). Liv = focus with deep concentration. 2.

MEANING: We are incapable of doing anything, oh my Lord. We have to live the way You provide for us. We should only recite Your Naam by the tongue. Pause. What can the poor and the powerless man do? What is he capable of doing, and what does he have control over? (The answer to all these questions is: nothing. You are the omnipotent and omnipresent, oh Waheguru, and the man does exactly the same as You make him do. 1. Please, be kind and motivate me to concentrate only on You, oh, the provider for all, Waheguru. My (Nanak's) request to You is that You make me worship Your Naam; oh Waheguru. 2.7.165.

Word Meaning: Deen = week; powerless. Damodar = a name for Krishna (Waheguru). Koat(i) = millions. Kur(i) = have made. Bhugut Vuchhul = love for the devotees. Bird = a trait from eternity. Poorun = present everywhere. Jaayeen = places. 1. Kiyoun = how? Paykhaan = see. Kuvun = which? Sookerni = noble deeds. Daasi = slave. Churni = (at the) feet. Vutaayeen = Bul(i) Bul(i) Jaayeen = offer; sacrifice. Niv Niv = bowing. Paayeen = feet. 2.

Poathi = religious books. Khojunta = searches for. Baiyraagi = detached (from Maya). Navunta = takes dips; bathes. 3. Bhuyay = became. Kirpaal = kind. Putit = immoral. Puvit = pure; holy; pious. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Nirvaiyray = without any enmity. Pooraayee = fulfilled. 4. Dhunvunta = wealthy. Dhiyaaya = worshipped. Sobhavunta = praise worthy. Sehj(i) = with controlled mind. Smaayee = fully absorbed. 5.

MEANING: Oh, the kind to the weak, and Royal Waheguru, You have made millions of devotees, and put them to Your service (to recite Your Naam). You are present everywhere, and to love Your devotees is Your attribute from eternity. 1.

What noble deeds do I need to perform by which I may have a glimpse of You? I will serve Your holy saint like a slave, will bow to him again and again, and touch his feet. I will offer my life to the saint who will guide me to connect with You. 2.

The pundit searches for You in the Vedas and other religious texts; others wish to be detached from Maya and leave home to take dips in holy places, seeking You. Yet some others use lyrics and music to sing praise of some deity, but I recite the Naam of the worry-free Waheguru. 3. My Lord became kind to me (and connected me with the Guru). I had become immoral, but the Guru purified me when I dropped on His feet (surrendered to Him). The Guru fulfilled my wish and dispelled all my misgivings and my worries, and freed me from any enmity. 4.

The individual who embeds Waheguru Naam in his heart is wealthy in the real sense, and the individual who recites Waheguru's Naam earns real praise. An individual who is in the shelter of the Guru performs only noble deeds. I, a devotee of Waheguru, am enjoying the state of blissfulness, oh Nanak. 5.1.166.

Word Meaning: Aao Humaaraiy = come to dwell in my heart. Ram = Waheguru. Raiyn(i) = night. Dinus(u) = day. Chitaaray = thinks of; remembers. Day Sundaysha = (Your) Huqam; Will. Dayoun = give; ask for. Churnaaray = feet. Bin(u) = without. Bidh(i) = means; ways. Turiyaiy = swim across (sea of Maya). 1.

Sung(i) = with. Anunda = enjoyment. Vun(i) = in the forest. Tin(i) = vegetation. Tirbhuvun(i) = in the (three-layered) universe. Permanunda = the source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). Sayj = bed. Soohaavi = attractive; comforting. Bigsunda = blooms. Paykh(i) = on seeing; having a glimpse. Luhiyaiy = acquire. 2.
Churn Pukhaar(i) = Washing feet. Pooja = worship. Urcha = to respect. Bundun = bowing; kneeling. Dayva = Waheguru. Daasun Daas(u) = slave of slaves. Jup(i) = by reciting. Binhou = request. Peh(i) = to; before. 3.
Ichh = wish. Pooni = fulfilled. Huriya = green; came to life. Purhuriya = went away; eradicated. Ajur(u) = unbearable; the inability to bear. Suhiyaiy = bear. 4.
MEANING: I remember You day and night with every breath, oh my dear Waheguru. Please, come and dwell in my mind. I drop on the feet of the holy saints, and beg them politely, asking about Your Huqam (Will); how can I swim across the sea of Maya without You? (I cannot do so). 1. You are present everywhere – in the forests, in all vegetation, and in the entire universe. I feel supreme bliss in Your company (shelter), oh, Waheguru. (With You in my heart) I feel my bed (sleep) to be very comforting, and my mind begins to bloom. All these comforts are acquired (associated with) when I have a glimpse of You. 2. I wish to wash Your Feet, and serve You all the time. I wish to worship You, offer my respects, and bow to You to say my prayer, oh my God, Waheguru. I wish to serve you like a slave of Your slaves, and recite Your Naam. And I wish to pray only to You for my needs. 3. Now, my wish has been fulfilled, and my mind has come to life, and all my troubles are gone on “seeing” the Lord, Waheguru. By reciting Waheguru’s Naam, I have swum across the sea of Maya. However, not everybody has the ability (to attain that spiritual level) where such a supreme bliss can be borne, oh Nanak. 4.2.167.
NOTE: While working towards a high spiritual level, people acquire some supernatural powers through concentration. Most people cannot contain themselves with this ability. They forget the real objective of union with Waheguru, and begin to impress people with their new powers, which boost their ego. So, this mental state is called the “Ajur” (unbearable) state.

The information he receives through the hints and signals by saints, experiences with his own eyes, yet the foolish pays no attention at all to those. 2. MEANING: All your objectives are achieved by reciting the Naam of Waheguru again and again. Pause. The mouth (tongue) that recites Waheguru's Naam becomes pious. Make friends only with those who sing Waheguru's praise, oh my mind. 1.
Why would anyone forget Waheguru, which is the source of everything, all rewards, and all virtues, and the recitation of whose Naam eradicates all ills? 2.
Waheguru's shelter sustains one's spiritual life and enables him to swim across the sea of Maya (breaks all the bonds with Maya). If one connects with the Guru, he finds salvation and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Waheguru's Naam sustains one's spiritual life and is the wealth of His holy devotees. Individuals who recite Waheguru's Naam with dedication find salvation (get rid of all their vices) and win praise in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.3.171

Word Meaning: Meetthay = sweet. Jindoo = soul (mind). Saytee = with. Ruttiyaan = imbued. Nithaavayn = shelterless. Thaaoun = shelter. Pause.
Phikkiya = bland; tasteless. Phit(u) = condemnable. Unchul = a fabric wrapped around the body (shelter). Geh(i) = hold; seek. Turna = swim across. 2.
Soomittar = good friend. Aougun = shortcomings. Mitaayay = remove; eradicate. Peropkaar = favour. 3. Maal(u) = wealth. Thayhou = house at a height (mansion). Nidhaan = treasure. Jaachuk = beggar. Toodhno = Yourself (Your Naam). Daan = alms. 4.

MEANING: Sing the sweet virtues of Waheguru, oh my soul. By being imbued with Waheguru's love, a shelterless individual finds shelter (in His Court). Pause.
Other than Waheguru's Naam, all enjoyments are tasteless, and one's body and mind also become tasteless (they become impolite and unhelpful to others). Whatever else one does without Waheguru's Naam is condemnable. 1.
The world-sea can be swum across by seeking Guru's shelter, and the whole family of the devotee (his associates) can find salvation by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 2.
Only that individual is the real friend, relative, and close pal who implants Waheguru's Naam in your heart. Such an individual does you a huge favour by eradicating all your vices. 3. Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) is the treasure of all wealth, house and mansion. I, Nanak(u), am a beggar at Your door, and beg Yourself (Your Naam) in donation, oh Waheguru. 4.4.172.

MEANING: Overcome your ego, oh the devotees of Waheguru, and run away (stay away) day and night from lust, rage, and the company of an evil person. Pause.
An individual who accepts comfort and discomfort the same way, as also respect and disrespect, and stays unaffected by happiness or sadness, realizes the reality (root) of the world (Waheguru). 1. An individual who gives up false (undeserved) praise and unwarranted malicious criticism of others attains a state of spirituality above the effects of Maya. However, it is very difficult to attain such a state, and only rare individuals do so in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.1.

Bus(i) = under the control. Moorut(i) = image; existence. Bisraayee = forgot. Jhoottha = temporary. Saacha = eternal. Raiynayee = (of) night. 1. Baadur = clouds. Chhaayee = shade. Mithiya = false; perishable. 2.
MEANING: It is amazing, and difficult to understand, that only a few people believe that the world created by Waheguru is perishable, while many others believe as if it is going to last forever, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. Pause.
The man is being controlled by his lust, rage, and worldly attractions, and has forgotten the existence of God. He is under the false belief that his perishable body is going to last forever. This belief is like a dream at night (which vanishes when the man wakes up). 1. Everything that is visible in the world vanishes just like the shadow of a cloud. I have realized that the world is perishable; so I have taken shelter in Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.2.

Koatun = millions. Koyoo = rare.2.
MEANING: It does not occur in the mind of the man to sing Waheguru's praise. He is rapt in Maya day and night, so how can he sing Waheguru's virtues? Pause.
He gets entangled in the attachments of his sons, friends, and Maya. He runs after the attractions of the world, which are false like a mirage. 1.
The foolish forgets the Lord who is the source of all food (and other necessities of life), and is the emancipator from Maya. There is a rare person (maybe one in a million) who dedicates himself to the worship of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.3.

Na Busaayee = unable to fight back; become helpless. 1. Gooni = educated; scholars. Ruhay = lost; failed. Bidh(i) = ways; efforts. 2.
MEANING: The human mind is uncontrollable, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. The capricious desires for Maya live in it because of which it does not become stable (does not stop wavering). The tough (difficult to control) rage lies within the heart, which causes loss of the man's ability to realize the truth (that he is mortal, and only God is immortal). The rage and the fickleness of mind steal away the superior ability of the man who becomes helpless before them. 1. Many people have tried to control the mind; for example, yogis use yogic techniques, and educated people use their knowledge of controlling the mind, but both fail badly. But when Waheguru is kind, any and every technique works to control the mind, oh Nanak. 2.4.

Putit = fallen from morality (immoral). Puneet = pious; purified. Deen Bundh = relative (friend) of the weak. Guj = elephant (see the note below for the story). Traas = fear; trouble. Bisraavou = forget. 1. Tuj(i) = by giving up. Abhimaan = ego. Phoon(i) = again; also. Mookut(i) = of freedom (from Maya). Punth = path. Gurmukh(i) = in the shelter of the Guru. 2.

NOTE: There are many stories in Hindu Granths that have been quoted in Guru Granth Sahib as parables to glorify Waheguru (or to stress a point). Guru Granth Sahib does NOT believe in these stories. The story of the elephant is just one of them. According to this story, a Gundhurb (musician of the gods) was transformed into an elephant by a sage's curse. This elephant went to drink water in the pool of god Varun, where an octopus wrapped its tentacles around all four legs, making him completely immobile, and began dragging him into deep water. When the elephant was about to drown, he held a lotus flower in his trunk and prayed to Vishnu (Waheguru), who cut the octopus's tentacles and saved the elephant.

MEANING: Sing praise of Waheguru, oh His devotees. Human life is priceless (as it is the only opportunity to be one with God), so why let it go to waste? Pause. Waheguru is the friend of the weak, and He purifies the immoral; so, come to His shelter. Why should you forget Waheguru, who freed the frightened elephant from the grip of the octopus when he prayed to Waheguru for help? 1. Abandon your ego, affection for the family, and attachment to Maya, and focus your mind on the worship of Waheguru. This is the path to get freedom from the bonds of Maya, but you cannot tread this path without taking the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.5.

Word Meaning: Maayee = oh, my mother. Bhooliyo = misled. Sadh Mug = path of the holy saints. Nimukh Na = not even for a moment. Pause.

Doorlubh = invaluable. Dayh = body. Maanus = human. Birtha = wastefully; uselessly. Siraavaiy = spends. Sunkut = trouble. Rooch = interest. 1.
Sung(i) = with. Nayh(u) = affection. Mookut(i) = free (from the bonds of Maya). Taah(i) = him. Ghut(i) = in the heart. 2.
MEANING: My mind is so misguided that even after listening to the teachings of the Vedas, of the Puranas, and the advice of the holy saints about the path to follow to connect with Waheguru, it still does not sing His praise. Can someone enlighten my misled mind, oh my mother! Pause. After being born a human, the man wastes his precious human life (a gift of Waheguru and not easily available). The attachment to Maya is a troublesome, thick forest (it is not easy to find a path out of it), yet the human mind shows deep interest in Maya. 1.
The man does not develop any love for Waheguru, which is always with him - inside and outside. But only that individual is considered free from the bonds of Maya, who has Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, oh Nanak. 2.6.

Baandhay = bind. Jaanou = consider. Giyaani = having Divine Knowledge. Eh Bidh(i) = this way. Praani = man. 3.
MEANING: Peace (stability) of mind can be achieved only in the shelter of Waheguru, oh, the devotees of Waheguru. The benefit of reading religious books like the Vedas and the Puranas is useful only if one begins to recite Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
A man becomes the image of Waheguru (like Him) if greed, love for Maya and for the family, and happiness and sadness do not come near him (affect him), and he refrains from indulging in sensual pleasures. 1. Such an individual treats paradise (luxuries of life), and hell (troubles in life); amrit (the mythical ambrosial water) and poison; and gold and copper, all the same way. He is also not affected by praise or negative criticism, greed, or affection. 2.

A person is considered to have Divine Knowledge (connected with Waheguru) if discomforts or comforts do not bind (entrap) him. Such a person, who follows the above path of life, is considered free from the bonds of Maya, oh Nanak. 3.7.

MEANING: What are you going crazy about, oh my mind? You do not realize that your lifespan is decreasing day by day, and that you are losing good qualities because of your greed. Pause. Your body, your beautiful wife, and the house, which you think are yours forever, are not really yours in the long run, if you think deeply, oh man. 1. You have wasted away your precious life, and have not realized the importance of the high spiritual state that Waheguru's worship lifts you to. You have not connected with Waheguru's Feet (His Naam) even for a short moment, and have let the life slip away uselessly. 2.
Only that individual who enjoys a comfortable life sings Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. The rest of the world is captivated by Maya, as a result of which it cannot attain the spiritual level which is above all worldly fears. 3.8.

MEANING: Be afraid of (shun away from) sins, oh, unmindful man. And to do so, take shelter of Waheguru, who is kind to the helpless, and is the destroyer of all fears. Pause.

Keep Waheguru's Naam in your mind, which the Vedas and the Puranas sing praise of. Waheguru's Naam is the most sacred in the world; recite His Naam again and again to wash away your sins. 1.

You will not get the human body again, so make some arrangements (efforts) to get freedom from Maya. And put in some effort to sing praise of the compassionate Waheguru to swim across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 2.9.251.

Rumut = reciting Maaniya= brought faith. Unjun = kohl (is believed to enhance eyesight in addition to beautification). Pause. Sehj(i) = state of blissfulness. Nirmul = pure; sacred. Laal Bhuyay = dyed in red colour, which is a fast colour and implies (deep love for Waheguru). Sooha = pink colour, which is very attractive to look at, but fades away quickly; it implies love for Maya, which is also short-lived. Tthaak Ruhaaya = restrained; prevented. 2. Oolt bhuyee = thinking turned around (from Maya to Waheguru). Jeevut Mur(i) = to kill all desires while living in family. Rus(u) = juice (Waheguru's Naam). Sungreh(i) = collect. MEANING: I found Guru's advice to be very effective and useful for the soul; the Guru advised that pondering on Waheguru's sacred Naam is the real treasure of all supernatural powers. (By reciting Waheguru's Naam with dedication) I have been able to kill my desires for Maya (overcome all its attractions), and I am above all its three effects. Now I find that the Perfect Waheguru is present everywhere. 1.

Reciting Waheguru's Naam like this, my mind has been convinced, and my faith in Waheguru has been solidified. With Guru's Shabad, I have been able to find the kohl (which enhances my vision) for Divine Knowledge (connecting with God). Pause.

The Guru's sacred Shabad has dispelled all my doubts, and I am enjoying the comfort of blissfulness by connecting with Waheguru. With His kind sight, Waheguru has restrained all attractions of Maya for me. I realized that Maya does look attractive, but is short-lived like the beautiful pink colour, and I am imbued in the deep red colour (which does not fade) of affection for Waheguru. 2.

My thinking has turned away from Maya, and now all my worldly desires are dead, even though I am living in the family. Reciting Guru's Shabad, my mind is now stitched with Waheguru. I am treasuring the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and have given up my attraction for Maya by pushing it away. Living under Waheguru's love, my fear of the Angel of Death has gone away. 3. All bad tastes, fruitless discussions, and my conceit have become the things of the past; and so have become the pride of the caste and of the religious rituals. With the Will (kindness) of the limitless Waheguru, my mind has been imbued with Waheguru's love. With His kind sight, I am enjoying internal bliss. 4. Whom should I serve and surrender my mind to? To whom should I show respect and ask for advice? Whose advice should I seek to stay connected with You, oh Waheguru? (The answer to all these questions is) only You, oh Waheguru, (because I don't see any other power like You). 5.

I will serve the Guru (which is Waheguru's manifestation), and drop on His feet (surrender to Him). I will worship Waheguru and get fully absorbed in His Naam. Waheguru's Naam is the advice, sermon, and the spiritual food for me. With predestined union with Waheguru, my mind has settled in its personal dwelling (got connected with Waheguru). 6. With focus on Waheguru, my ego is gone, and I am enjoying mental peace. I have been enlightened, and now I am absorbed in (focused on) Waheguru's Light (Soul). Guru's Shabad, which is the identity for Waheguru, and is written on my mind, cannot be erased now. I have also realized that Waheguru is the creator of everything. 7.

I am neither highly knowledgeable nor clever or wise, but I am not misled or lost in doubt. I do not repeat (or believe in) what others have already said (to connect with God); I simply recognize Waheguru's Huqam. Acting on Guru's advice, I am enjoying the state of blissfulness, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Soorut(i) = beauty. Mookut(i) = freedom. Naayee = (sing) praise. Nirunjun = Waheguru. Nij = own. Biyaap(i) = influences (causing bliss). 7. Oostut(i) = praise. Moon(i) = sages who stay quiet. Preet(i) = affectionately. 8.

MEANING: The uncontrolled Human mind is like an elephant which is wandering unrestricted in the wilderness of the body. Guru's eternal Shabad is the Ankus (to control the elephant-mind), which hits right on the target. An individual who has controlled his mind with Guru's Shabad is honoured in the courts of kings (and in Waheguru's Court too). 1. Waheguru cannot be realized by cleverness. How can one evaluate Him (have union with Him) without controlling his mind? (He cannot). Pause. There is Waheguru's Naam–Amrit in the human heart, which the uncontrolled mind-thief (the five demons – lust, rage, etc.) keeps stealing, and the man becomes so helpless that he cannot say "no" to the demons. However, some lucky individuals are protected from such attacks by Waheguru, which is a great honour for them (because they will not have to face the Angel of justice). 2. The fire of desires for the poisonous Maya, and the sacred Waheguru reside together (in the human heart). The wisdom imparted by the Guru works like water to put out the fire of Maya. One earns Guru's Wisdom by surrendering one's mind to the Guru, and by singing Waheguru's praise with love. 3. (Some people go to meditate in a cave), But Waheguru is the same in the house (family) and in the cave. In fact, the fearless (worry-free) Waheguru is present in the oceans and on the mountains. 4. Who can blemish (weaken) an individual's character by making some attractive offers who has already killed his worldly desires? What kind of fear can affect a person who has become fearless (with Waheguru's Naam at heart) and has realized Waheguru in the whole universe, by Guru's Shabad? 5. Some people just describe Waheguru's qualities, and that's about it (they do not gain any spirituality). But an individual who has the wisdom to understand Him realizes Him in the state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya). My mind has also been convinced of Waheguru's magnanimity after examining and pondering (on Guru's Shabad). 6. God is present where His virtues are sung; one also earns praise, beauty (of heart) and freedom from Maya by singing His virtues. Such a heart becomes Waheguru's own dwelling, which in turn, becomes the source of bliss for the individual. 7. There are many sages who praise Waheguru in their own way, but those who keep Waheguru in mind all the time are pure (holy), both by body and by mind. Remember Waheguru's Naam at all times, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Muraiy = come under control. Kaaruj(u) = task; objective (connecting with Waheguru). Vus(i) = under control. Dootaan = the five demons. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Doyay = conflicting thoughts. Maanaiy = is persuaded; is convinced. Ikk(u) hoyay = becomes one with Waheguru. 1. Nirgoon = formless. Goonaa = virtues (high moral values). Aap(u) = selfishness. Nivaar(i) = remove; eradicate. Pause. Bhoolo = misguided. Chitaiy = contemplates. Vikaar = vices; sensual pleasures. Bhaar(u) = burden (of sins). 2. Kaam(i) = in lust. Biroodhou = caught in; engrossed. Ruhaiy Na Thaayayn = loses self-control. Hur(i) Bhuj(u) = recite Waheguru. Rusaayay = tastefully. 3. Gaiyvur = superior elephants. Haiyuvur = superior horses. Kunchun = gold (wealth). Soot = sons. Naari = wife. Pirr = the fighting ground; battlefield. Jooyay = in gambling. Saari = pawns. 4. Sumpou = wealth. Sunchi = accumulated. Vikaar = vices; sensual pleasures. Hurkh = happiness. Soak = sadness. Oobhay = standing; waiting. Mooraar(I) = Waheguru. 5. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Sungreh(i) = accumulating. Aougun = vices. Pdaaruth = (valuable) substance. 6. Nivaas(u) = dwelling. Moorr = foolish. Dhoor(i) = from Waheguru. Kerm(i) = kindness. 7.
Chunchul = fickle; wavering. Dhaavut = moves quickly; shifts focus. Phoon(i) = again. Soochay = pure. Bhaavaiy = likes. 8.

MEANING: The human mind is under the control of the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego), ill advice, and its conflicting thinking (indecisiveness). But without killing the mind's desires, one cannot connect with Waheguru. When the mind is convinced (tamed) by the Guru, it becomes “one” with God. 1.
The pleasure of the formless Waheguru is won over by high moral qualities. But only that individual ponders on such a thought (acquires this wisdom) who gets rid of his selfishness and ego. Pause. The misguided mind contemplates many vices, as a result of which, the individual carries a burden of evils. On the other hand, when the mind is convinced (by the Guru's advice that Waheguru is the only Supreme Being), he becomes "one" with Him. 2. The misguided mind indulges in the pleasures of Maya and gets possessed by lust; as a result, it loses self-control. (To ward off vices), One should recite Waheguru's Naam tastefully with the tongue. 3. In the enjoyment of superior elephants, superior horses, wealth, sons, and the wife, the man also suffers from worries, and loses the battle of life like a gambler who loses his pawns at a game of dice. 4. A man who accumulates a lot of wealth becomes a slave of vices; as a result, happy and sad occasions keep waiting at his door. One can attain the comfort of a blissful state of mind when one recites Waheguru's Naam with dedication. 5. When Waheguru casts His kind sight on a lucky person, He connects that person with the Guru, who then connects the individual with Waheguru. By acquiring virtues from the Guru's Shabad, such a devotee of the Guru gets rid of his vices and acquires the valuable Naam of Waheguru. 6. The mind of the individual who is disconnected from Waheguru is always set on Maya, and without Waheguru's Naam, all discomforts begin to grow in his heart (he begins to suffer). (On the other hand), Because of the prewritten benevolence of Waheguru, a supreme devotee of the Guru acquires Divine Knowledge (and merges into God). 7. The wavering mind keeps shifting its focus quickly from one thing to another. But the pure and eternal Waheguru does not approve of such a filthy mind of individuals (so such individuals never connect with Him). But a devotee of the Guru always sings Waheguru's virtues (and thus stays connected with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Haumein = ego and selfishness. Munmut(i) = Man's own wisdom. Jhootthi = short-lived and imperfect. Soyay = that (Waheguru). Bigootay = suffer unnecessarily. Doyay = conflicting ideas (thinking). Kmaavaiy = performs such deeds. Dhoor(i) Likhiya = Waheguru's Huqam. 1. Jooaari = gambler. Bisaari = forgetting. Pause. Adisht(u) = invisible. Kuhhiya = describe. Birtha = useless. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort; with a peaceful mind and affection. Soort(i) = attention. 2. Aagul = more. Vikaari = of vices. Haar(u) = necklace. Proyay = (to string the beads together) to make a necklace. Aik Bina = without the One (Waheguru). Jhootthay = false; impure (full of vices). 3. Trishna Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Dooja = Maya. Bherm(u) = doubt; misgiving. 4. Saacho = Waheguru. Bhaaou = affection. Nij = personal. Tthaaoun = place (part of Waheguru). Praym Praayin = supported by love; bonded with love. Boojhaiy = realizes (gets connected). 5. Junjaala = worldly bonds. Munmukh = follower of one's own mind; disconnected with Waheguru. Koocheel = having filthy (thoughts). Koochhit = untouchable; to be avoided. Bikraala = scary (having a bad future). Chookaiy = end; cut. 6. Liv = concentrate fully. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own house (Waheguru's shelter). Tthaak(i) Ruhaayay = is prevented. 7. Kuthni = description. Kuthoun = I describe. Oar(u) = end. Dur(u) = door; shelter. Bhaanaiy = Rujaayay = as per (Waheguru's) Will. Neech(u) = low-caste (with bad deeds). Liv = deep concentration. 8.

MEANING: A selfish and egoistic man cannot enjoy comfort (peace of mind). Man's own wisdom is not only short-lived, but also imperfect; only Waheguru is perfect. Everybody suffers unnecessarily because of their conflicting thinking (between Waheguru and Maya). But the man cannot be entirely blamed for such behaviour because he does only those things (follows the path) which are prewritten in his fate by Waheguru's Huqam. 1. The world that we see is like a gambler's den, where the man bargains good qualities to enjoy sensual pleasures, which in turn, lead to the suffering of rebirths. It does not want to spend even a little time remembering Waheguru (which is the provider of everything). Pause. Waheguru is invisible; one can say nothing about Him unless He were visible. Saying anything without seeing Him is worthless. However, because of his love for Waheguru, a supreme devotee of the Guru "sees" Him in the state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya). The Gurmukh concentrates his full attention on the "One" (Waheguru), and serves Him. 2. The man asks for comforts only, but does not realize that they are accompanied by even more discomfort, because when he enjoys them, he makes a necklace of vices (which tightens its grip around his neck). Without Waheguru's Naam, everybody is impure, so he cannot be free from the weaknesses (caused by Maya) (and cannot unite with Waheguru). The Creator (Waheguru) is making the world do various things, and is also watching it. 3.

The fire of desires (of Maya) is put out by the Guru's Shabad, which also dispels any doubts or misgivings about Maya. One embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart with the advice of the Guru, and sings Waheguru's praise with the Guru's Shabad. 4.
By taking Guru's shelter, one embeds (enshrines) Waheguru's Naam in his heart with love for Him. Without Waheguru's Naam, one does not have one's own permanent place (as a part of Waheguru). The dear and the Royal Waheguru are bonded only with love. However, an individual understands the importance of Waheguru's Naam (and gets connected with Him) only when Waheguru casts His kind sight on him. 5.
Attachment to Maya is the root of all worldly bonds. A money-minded person is disconnected from Waheguru, harbours filthy thoughts, and faces a frightening future. His company should be avoided. To cut the bonds of the world, we should serve the Guru. Waheguru's comforting Amrit-Naam always accompanies the devotee. 6.
A devotee acquires spiritual wisdom from the Perfect Guru and realizes that by focusing one's mind with full dedication, one makes a connection with Waheguru. He becomes "one" with Waheguru, which becomes his permanent personal dwelling, and his rebirth cycle is prevented (broken). 7. If I simply describe the virtues of Waheguru for the sake of description, there will be no end to them. The Guru has advised me that there is no other permanent shelter for the man than Waheguru. With full concentration on Waheguru, the low-caste Nanak(u) reveals that all comforts and discomforts happen with Waheguru's Will. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Dooji Maya = Some people believe that Maya has an independent existence of Waheguru, and think of it as the second power. Jugut = world. Vaas(u) = (the belief) dwells. Binaas(u) = destruction. 1.

Dooja = the other (power). Kaoun = who? Kuhaan = where? Nirunjun = One who is above the influence of Maya (Waheguru). Pause.
Doomut(i) = ill-advice. Aavaiy Jaayay = is born and dies. Mur(i) Dooja Hoyay = born with the same belief after death. 2. Dhurn(i) = on the earth. Guggun = sky. Doyay = both. Loyay = world. 3. Raah Dovaiyn = two paths of life (Waheguru's worship and engrossment in Maya). Khusm(u) = Master; Lord. 8.
Roop = forms. Vern = castes. Saalaheen = praise. 9.
MEANING: (Rather than Waheguru), the world worships Maya (has a belief about the independent existence of Maya) in its mind. (So, forgetting Waheguru) The world is engrossed in lust, rage, and ego (forms of Maya) and is undergoing moral destruction. 1. What is the other power, and where is it? There is none. Only Waheguru is present everywhere. Pause. It is only because of the bad thinking that people talk of two independent powers – God and Maya. Because of this misbelief, the people take birth and die, and are reborn with the same misbelief. 2. I do not see any second power on the earth, or in the sky, or in the women, or the men of the whole world. 3. I see the sun and the moon as lamps to provide light. The unbiased (perfectly just) Waheguru is present everywhere without any gap. 4.
The kind Waheguru convinced my mind to have faith in the Guru, who enlightened my mind that there is only one real power – Waheguru. 5.
In the shelter of the Guru, and with His Shabad, my misbelief about the second power (Maya) has been eradicated, and I have recognized the single power – Waheguru - which is above the influence of Maya. (Waheguru controls Maya). 6.
The same Huqam of Waheguru is operative in the whole world, and everything has been created by the "One" (Waheguru). 7. There are two ways to spend life – by being a devotee of Waheguru or being engrossed in Maya; however, there is only one Power - Waheguru. The aforesaid is the Huqam of Waheguru, which can be realized only by the Shabad of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.
Waheguru is present in every shape (everybody), in all castes, and in every mind. I sing praise of only the "One" (Waheguru), oh Nanak. 9.5.

Word Meaning: Adhiaatum Kerm = deeds of spirituality. Saacha = true devotee. Kaacha = novice; non-devotee; Maya-engrossed. 1. Joogut(i) Beechaaray = thinks of ways to connect with Waheguru. Punch Maar(i) = by killing (overpowering) the five demons. Oordhaaraiy = embeds in the heart. Pause.

Uprumpur = infinite (Waheguru). Maan(u) = believe in. 8.

MEANING: An individual, who performs deeds of spirituality, is the true devotee of Waheguru; the Maya-engrossed individual knows nothing about the secrets to achieve freedom from Maya. 1. Likewise, a true yogi is the individual who ponders on the ways to connect with (achieve union with) Waheguru, and embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart by killing (over powering) the five demons. Pause.
The individual whose heart Waheguru implants with His Naam values the true approach (reciting Waheguru's Naam) to connect with God. 2.
Such a yogi accepts harsh or kind treatment from others the same way (does not get offended by harsh treatment), and he leads a life of detachment from the world while living in the family. Singing praise of Waheguru is his normal routine. 3.
Most yogis go door to door to beg for food, but the real yogi begs for Guru's Shabad from Waheguru. Divine knowledge, deep concentration, and high moral living enlighten his mind. 4. The mind of such a yogi stays absorbed in the fear of (Waheguru), and quits wandering. Who can put any value on such a yogi who focuses his mind with full concentration on Waheguru? 5. Waheguru, Himself, connects such a yogi with Him and clears all his misgivings. Such a yogi attains the highest spiritual level with the Guru's grace. 6. Pondering on His Shabad is the real service to the Guru, and getting rid of haumein is the supreme of all the deeds. 7. An individual who believes firmly in the limitless Waheguru needs no ritualistic recitation of any mantra, self-affliction, the recitation of the Puranas, or any special effort to control sensual pleasures, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Khima = forgiveness. Guhhi = adopts (becomes his nature). Bert = commitment to do or not to do something(s). Seel = to keep one's cool. Suntokhun(g) = contentment. Biyaapaiy = afflict. Dokhun(g) = blames. Raykhun(g) = physical features. 1. Rookh(i) = Birkh(i) = under the tree. Greh(i) = in the house. Baahur(i) = in the wilderness. Soyay = the same (God). Pause.

Nihkayvul = above all desires. Anaathaah = orphans. Naath = having a guardian. Poonrup(i) = again. 5. Aap(u) Puchhanaiy = self-analysis (origin and objective of human life). Dur(i) = (Waheguru's) Door. Neeshaanaiy = is identified; finds recognition. 6. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own (permanent) house; becomes "one" with Waheguru. Aavaiy Na Jaavaiy = neither is born again, nor dies. Kumul Pergaasa = heart is enlightened. 7. Deesaiy = visible. Niraasa = disappointment. Bikh(u) = poison (Maya). Birlay = some rare person. Oodaasa = turned off from worldly desires. 8.

MEANING: A real yogi "sees" Waheguru everywhere – under the trees (where the yogis normally meditate), inside the house (living in the family), and in the outside world. So, why should he be afraid of anything (when he has become like Waheguru)? Pause. Forgiveness becomes his nature, and coolness (not losing temper), and contentment become commitments of such a yogi (he practises them routinely). No illness (trouble) affects him, and the Angel of death cannot blame him for anything (he is not afraid of death). He breaks all the bonds of Maya, and becomes “one” with the formless and the featureless Waheguru. 1.

Such a yogi recites Waheguru’s Naam and becomes fearless. He is alert day and night (against the attacks of Maya), and focuses on Waheguru’s Naam with full dedication. I love such a yogi. 2. He burns the net of Maya (which causes spiritual death) with the fire of Divine Knowledge. His fear of old age and death disappears, and he sheds his ego. Not only does he swim across the sea of Maya, but he also brings salvation to his ancestors (associates). 3. An individual who serves Satguru is the real yogi who has Waheguru’s fear (respect for Him) in mind and stays absorbed in His Naam. He becomes just like Waheguru, whom he worships. 4.
By remembering Waheguru, who is fearless (perfect) and the guardian of all the support-less people, such a yogi becomes like Him. I will gladly sacrifice my life for such a yogi. There is no rebirth for such a yogi who sings Waheguru’s praise. 5.
Such a yogi believes that Waheguru is present everywhere, and he analyzes the self (as to its origin and the purpose of human life) with the Guru’s Shabad. With Guru’s Shabad in mind, he finds recognition (is honoured) in Waheguru’s Court. 6.
An individual who kills his worldly desires with the Guru’s Shabad finds his real home in Waheguru (becomes “one” with Him). His heart is enlightened with the Guru’s Shabad. He overcomes all his worldly desires, and his birth-death cycle is terminated 7. Every attractive visible thing invokes hopes (desires) in man, and he gets disappointed (when they are not fulfilled). A rare person who gets detached from worldly desires becomes connected with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.7.

Prunvut(i) Nanak hum ta kay daas. 9.8.

Word Meaning: Aiyso = such. Daas(u) = devotee; holy man. Visraiy = forgotten. 1. Bhuyee = became. Mut(i) Poori = perfect wisdom (which enables to connect with God). Utt-sutth(i) = the 68 holy places of the Hindus. Mujun = dips. Churnah Dhoori = the dust of (Guru’s) feet (His Shabad). Pause. Naytur = eyes. Suntokhaiy = contented. Liv Taara = connecting with full concentration. Jihva = tongue. Soochi = pious. Saara = by having (tasting). 2. Kerni = deeds. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Ubh = heart. Triptaasiya = contented. Alukh = incomprehensible. Abhayva = unfathomable. 3. Boojhaiy = comprehending. Jhugrut = aggressive arguing. Kaacha = ignorant (absorbed in Maya). 4. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment. Virla = rare. 5. Rakhou = protect. Rukhvaalay = protector. Pusoo = cattle. Baytaalay = goblins; out of tune. 6. Uver(u) = other. Un = (of) someone else. Pooja = worship. 7. Beechaaray = ponders on. 8. Saach(u) = Sach(u) = Waheguru. Ridaiy = in the heart. Nivaas = dwelling. Prunvut(i) = begs; prays. Ta Kay = His (Waheguru's). Dass = slave. 9.8.

MEANING: If a man gets connected to some holy man (Guru), he is able to internalize Waheguru. He forgets all about his worldly comforts and enjoys blissfulness. 1. One attains perfect wisdom (which enables one to be "one" with God) with the sight of the Guru. The dust of Guru's Feet (His advice) is like having a dip in the 68 holy places of the Hindus. Pause. The eyes become contented (they have no more desire to see worldly beauty) when the mind focuses on Waheguru's Naam with full concentration, and the tongue becomes holy (never lies or vilifies others) with the taste of Waheguru's Naam. 2. Serving the Guru (acting on His advice) from the depth of one's heart is spiritually the true holy deed. One's mind becomes contented by reciting the Naam of the incomprehensible, and the unfathomable Waheguru. 3. Wherever I look, I find Waheguru present. The ignorant world does not understand this truth; that's why the people argue aggressively with one another. 4. The enlightenment of the mind comes only from the Guru, but only a rare few understand this. 5. Without realizing the reality, people are out of step in life and behave like animals. Please, Waheguru, save the world (guide it) as You are our saviour. 6. The Guru has explained that there is none other who rivals Waheguru; so, whom should I worship when I do not see anybody else like Waheguru? 7. Waheguru created the universe to make holy saints (from men); whoever analyzes his soul realizes the Truth (Waheguru). 8. I pray to be a slave of the individual who has Waheguru's Naam, and love for Him at heart, oh Nanak. 9.8.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Brahamaiy gerb(u) keeya, nuhee jaaniya. Bayd kee biput(i) purri, puchhutaaniya. Jeh Prubh simray, tuhee mun(u) maaniya. 1. Aiysa gerb(u) boora sunsaaraiy. Prubh(u) Naraayin(u) gerb perhaari. Prehlaad oodhaaray kirpa dhaari. 4. ---------

Word Meaning: Gerb Keeya = became conceited that he was not born out of a lotus flower, which was growing in the belly-button of Vishnu. He wanted to find the end of the flower's stem, but even after centuries of wandering in the dark, he could not find it and felt stupid. Bayd Kee Biput = the trouble of the Vedas. Brahma is thought to be the author of the Vedas, which were once stolen by the demons. He got them back only after he begged Waheguru for help. Mun Maaniya = got convinced; was persuaded. 1. Gerb(u) = conceit. Sunsaaraiy = in the world. Nivaaraiy = removes. Pause. Bul Rajah: A demon king who had won the pleasure of all the gods through their worship and with his tough self-affliction, and was highly conceited of his philanthropy. He planned to perform 101 yagnas, the successful completion of which would have forced Indra, the king of paradise, to relinquish his throne. Afraid of that, Indra rushed to Vishnu for help. Vishnu had known about Bul's philanthropic nature. He disguised himself as a midget Brahmin sage and went to Bul, asking for 2.5 steps of land to build a hut. Bul's guru, Shookkur, warned the King against the request, knowing that it was deceitful. But Bul was so conceited of his philanthropy that he accepted the request. Vishnu measured the entire earth in two steps and demanded the remaining half-step. Bul lay down on the ground and offered himself for measurement. Vishnu hit Bul with his knee and pushed him down into the underworld, thereby saving Indra's rule. Jugun = yagna. Bhaar Afaari = burden of ego. Puyyari = underworld. 2.

Hari Chand(u): A king of Patna, highly respected for his high morality and generous donations. Vashisht was his guru. Abhayvaiy = the unfathomable Waheguru, whose secrets cannot be known. Aap(i) = Waheguru Himself.

Once, when Vashisht was away, sage Vishva Mittar wanted to test Hari Chand. On a devious demand by Vishva Mittar, to which Hari Chand agreed, the King had to donate his entire kingdom to Vishva Mittar and sell himself, his wife, and his son at a slavery fair (market) in Banaras to fulfil his promise. Hari Chand was bought by a contractor of a graveyard. His wife, Tara, and their son were bought by a Brahman. Hari Chand was appointed as the tax collector at the graveyard. Hari Chand's son died of a snake bite. Tara took the dead body for cremation to the graveyard where Hari Chand demanded tax, which Tara could not pay. Hari Chand had to go through all this meaningless suffering because he had not consulted his guru. 3.

Doormut(i) = ill advice; haumein. Doorachaari = immoral; egoistic. Gerb Perhaari = the destroyer of conceit.

Henakhsh (Hernkushyup): a king of Multan (now in Pakistan) who was blessed by the gods not to die during the day or night, neither inside, nor outside, neither in the sky nor on the ground. With this blessing of immortality, he became very conceited and demanded that everyone worship him rather than any god. His five-year-old son, Prahalad, not only refused to do so but also encouraged his classmates to do the same, worshipping only Waheguru. Hernakhsh tried to persuade his son to worship him, but when the latter constantly refused, Hernakhsh tried to have him killed many times, but Prahalad survived every time. Finally, Hernakhsh pulled his own sword to behead his son, when Vishnu appeared as a man with the head of a lion. Vishnu tore apart the King with his lion-paws and saved his devotee. 4.
NOTE: All these stories are from Hindu Granths and have been used here to glorify Waheguru. Guru Granth Sahib does not certify the truth of these stories.
MEANING: Conceit (ego) is very bad in the world. Only that individual gets rid of his conceit who is connected to the Guru. Pause. Brahma (an eminent god) felt belittled at the source of his birth, but became conceited at the same time, and tried to find the end of the stem of the flower out of which he was born. But he could never find the end. He also had to repent when his ego was hurt as the demons stole the Vedas. When he recited Waheguru's Naam and recovered the Vedas, he was convinced that Waheguru is supreme. 1. Rajah Bul was very conceited of his wealth. He would perform yagnas, and carried a huge burden of ego. Without seeking his guru's advice, he tried to please Vishnu and was thrust into the underworld. 2.
Rajah Hari Chand made lots of donations and earned praise. But without the advice of the Guru, I could not find the secrets of the unfathomable Waheguru. Waheguru Himself misguides people, and Himself guides them. 3.
Because of the bad advice, Henakhsh became highly egoistic and ordered everybody in the kingdom to worship him. But Waheguru is the eradicator of conceit. He saved and salvaged Prahalad with His kindness. 4.

Word Meaning: Ravan: The king of Lanka, who kidnapped Sita, the wife of Rama, when he was under banishment for 14 years. Rama, who was the crown prince of Ayodhiya, attacked Lanka with an army of monkeys (apes) and killed Ravan.
Moogdh(u) = foolish. Achayt(i) = unaware (of the army power of Rama). Sees Smayt(i) = along with his head. Hayt(i) = for (because of). 5.

Sehsbaahoo: With a thousand arms. A king and brother-in-law of sage Jumduguni. Once, the sage served the King and his army with the help of the Kaamdhayn Cow (which had been retrieved from the ocean when the gods and the demons churned it in a joint operation). Sehbaahoo tried to capture the Cow; a battle ensued in which the sage was killed. Later, Pers Ram, the son of the sage, killed the King to avenge the death of his father. Madh(u) and Keet (Kaiytubh) were both demons created by Vishnu, who later killed them. Mehkhaasa: A demon, who had the head of a buffalo, and who fought with goddess Durga, who killed the demon. Nukhoun Bidhaasa = tore with the hand nails. 6.
Jurasundh(i): Father-in-law of Kuns, the king of Mathura and the maternal uncle of Krishna. Jurasundh was born of two mothers, each in two halves, complementary to each other. When the two halves were put together, Jurasunndh(i) became a full human child. He was killed by Bhim, with Krishna's help.
Kaaljumun: an associate of Jurasundh(i)
Ruckutbeej: A demon general of King Soombh Ksoombh, who fought against Goddess Durga. Ruckutbeej (blood-seeds) had the unique ability that every drop of his blood changed into a demon. So, Durga pulled a goddess, Kalka, out of her forehead, who would drink all the blood drops of Ruckutbeej before they fell on the ground. The demon was eventually killed by Durga.
Kaalnaym: An eminent valiant of King Bul; killed by Vishnu.
Bidaaray = torn apart. Sunghaar(i) = killed. Nistaaray = made successful. 7.
Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Aapay = Waheguru. 8.
MEANING: The foolish and ignorant Ravan made a huge mistake (of kidnapping Sita, wife of Rama) as a result of which he lost not just his country, Lanka, but also his head. In his ego, he refused to seek the Guru's advice and lost everything. 5.
Without the worship of Waheguru, demons like Sehsbaahoo, Madh(u) and Kaytubh were destroyed, and Hernakhsh was torn apart by Vishnu with his lion-paws. 6.
Waheguru protected His devotees, and destroyed the egoists like Jurasundh(i) and Kaaljumun, and demons like Ruckutbeej and Kaalnaym. 7.
In fact, Waheguru Himself guides and misguides people. As Satguru, He ponders on His own Shabad (reveals His Message). He gets demons to be rapt (engrossed) in Maya, as a result of which they become conceited and are killed by their own ego. With Waheguru's kindness, some individuals become His dedicated devotees in the shelter of the Guru and find salvation. 8.

Word Meaning: Booda = drowned (in conceit); lost mental balance. Dookh(i) Puchaiy = cause trouble. Duryodhan: The villain of the Mahabharat, and son of the blind king, Dhritrashtra, of Hastinapur (Delhi). He defeated the Pandeva by a deceitful technique at a game of dice. The Pandavas also lost their wife, Draupadi, at the game.

Duryodhan tried to unclothe her in the court, but Krishna saved her honour. Eventually, he was killed by Bhim, one of the five Pandava brothers, at Kurukshetra. 9.
Junmayja: A famous king. His father, Prikshat, was killed by a snake bite. Janmeja killed most of the snakes in a yagna to avenge the death of his father. Once, he performed a horse yagna (in which horses were killed as sacrificial animals). At the conclusion of the yagna, his wife appeared in sheer clothes at the gathering where meals were being served to the Brahmans. Seeing the queen in see-through clothes, some Brahmans began to laugh; at that, the king ordered them killed. Because he killed Brahmans, which is considered to be a huge sin in Hinduism, Janmeja developed leprosy on his entire body. His guru, Viyas, advised him to listen to the Mahabharat. As the Rajah began to listen, his leprosy began to disappear; but when he doubted that the elephants, which Bhim had thrown in the sky, had not yet returned to the earth, leprosy stayed on his thumb.
Bherm(u) bhoolaaniya = misled by his doubt. Ikk(u) Til(u) = a very small amount. 10.
Kuns: Krishna's maternal uncle and king of Mathura. He had imprisoned Krishna's parents and had already killed Krishna's 6 siblings. He was killed by Krishna.
Kayse: A wrestler of Kuns; killed by Krishana. Chandoor: A valiant of Kuns; also killed by Krishna. Ram = Jugdeesh = Waheguru. Cheeniya = recognized. 11.
Gurmut(i) = Guru's advice. Dheeruj = patience. Dherm = morality. 12.
MEANING: Duryodhana lost his mind and failed to realize that Waheguru is the creator of the universe (and controls all that happens). (Duryodhana tried to unclothe Daraupadi) without realizing that when one causes trouble for a devotee of Waheguru, he has to suffer more in return (because of his ill deeds). 9.
Junmeja too did not pay any heed to his Guru's advice; so how could he enjoy comfort when he was badly misled by doubts (about Bhim's ability to launch elephants in the sky, which had not yet returned to the earth)? Because of a minor mistake (but ignoring Guru's advice) he had to repent deeply. 10.
Nobody fondly remembers any of the individuals like Kuns, Kayse and Chandoor, who did not recognize (realize) Waheguru, and lost their dignity as a result. Nobody can save somebody else's dignity without Waheguru. 11.
The ego cannot be killed without the Guru's advice. With Guru's advice, one recites Waheguru's Naam, whereby one acquires high morality and patience. One acquires Naam (gets connected with Waheguru) by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 12.9.

Word Meaning: Choaa = essence of flowers; perfume; cologne. Chundun = sandalwood. Unk(i) = on the body. Churaaaavoun = put on. Paat Ptumbur = silk clothes. Pehir(i) Hundaavoun = wear. Kuhaa = where? how? 1. Oadh(i) = wear. Jugdeesh = Waheguru. Pause. Koondul = big earrings. Moatiun = of pearls. Maala = necklace. Nihaali = mattress. Goolala = flowers. 2. Naiyn = eyes. Suloani = having beautiful eyes. Khoarr Seegar = (the recognized) sixteen types of beautifications. Ut(i) = extremely. Khooaari = meaningless suffering; humiliation. 3. Sayj = bed. Suvrus(i) = successful. Kaaja = objective of human life. 7. Mumta = worldly attachments. Visaari = forgotten. Mooraari = Waheguru. Prunvut(i) = begs. 8.

MEANING: (People use many ways to look attractive to others), but even if I use cologne or sandalwood extract on my body and wear silk clothes to draw people's (especially women's) attention. How can I enjoy (cannot enjoy) comfort (peace of mind) without Waheguru's Naam? 1. (What should I wear or show off?) It does not matter what I wear, and what I show off (flaunt); I cannot enjoy comfort without Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Even if I wear large earrings and a pearl necklace around my neck (to flaunt my distinct personality), and even if I have a bed covered with red flowers to sleep on, I cannot enjoy comfort without Waheguru's Naam. 2. If I had a beautiful wife with beautiful eyes who beautifies herself in sixteen popular ways, and I also love her extremely, I would still suffer (feel miserable) all the time without reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3. If I had a big mansion with big gates, and had a very comfortable bed on which the gardener spreads fresh flowers all the time, my body (and mind) would still suffer without Waheguru's Naam. 4. If I had superior quality horses and elephants (to enjoy rides), and a number of guards armed with spears in my attendance, and if there are many musicians to honour me, and even have an army of soldiers and other assistants, all these are false show-offs (are short-lived) without Waheguru's Naam. 5.

If I had control over supernatural powers, and people call me a Sidh yogi (are afraid of my powers), and I am able to wear a crown and a distinctive head dress, and have a royal canopy over my head, I cannot have any of such powers permanently without Waheguru's Naam. 6. If I became the chief of a clan, or even a rajah, and had the authority to reprimand subordinates, all these authoritative positions are still hollow (temporary), and one cannot achieve the objective of human life (union with Waheguru) without His Naam. 7. With Guru's advice, I have realized Waheguru in my heart, and have overcome my selfishness, ego, and my worldly attachments, with Guru's Shabad. I, Nanak, beg for Your shelter, oh Waheguru. 8.10.

Word Meaning: Jaanus(i) = recognize. Uveray = any other. Perpunch Biyaadu(i) = ills; problems (of the world). Tiyaagay = gave up. Kuvray = bitter. Bhaayay = with love. Sach(u) = Waheguru. Saachaiy = of Waheguru. 1. Aiysa = such. Bhugut Jun = devotee. Mul(u) = filth (of vices). Pause. Oodhou = upside down; turned away from Waheguru. Kuvul = heart. Doormut(i) = ill advice. Purjaaraiy = burns completely. Oobraiy = salvaged. 2. Bhring = a moth-like insect which sinks deep into the flowers to enjoy the essence, but, is caught so badly that it cannot get out, and dies there. Ptunga = moth; it is so attracted to the light and gets so close that it burns on the open light (fire). Koonchar = elephant. To trap an elephant, the hunters dig a deep pit, cover it with leaves and grass, and erect a cardboard look-alike of a female elephant. The male is attracted to the fake female and falls into the pit. Meena = fish, which gets caught by a sharp hook for its greed for the bait. Mirg = (musk) deer; it loves a special type of music played by hunters. Attracted by the music, it falls prey to their arrows. Seh(i) = endure. Trishna = desires. Raach(i) = absorbed in. Tut(u) = Truth (Waheguru). 3. Kaam(i) = in lust. Kaamun(i) = woman. Hitkaari = lover. Binaasaiy = destroys. Vikaari = lustful. 4. Pur Ghur(i) = others' house (women). Cheet(u) = mind. Dolaayay = loses control of the mind. Javuri = chain. Dhundaiy = worldly affairs. Luptaayay = clings. 5.

Bidhvaa= prostitute. Kaam(i) Daam(i) = receives money for sex. Pur Vus(i) = under the control of others. Triput(I) = satisfied; contented. 6.
Thaata = creation; material. Naata = dramatist. 7.
Chaatrik = rainbird; a bird that drinks only the first drop of rain, and that too during the time when the Swanti planet is visible. Piyaasa = thirsty. Oolaasa = feels joyful. 8.
MEANING: There is a rare devotee of Waheguru who washes away the filth of his mind by singing Waheguru's praise. Pause. Service to Waheguru is the only service that is honoured, and service to none other is recognized (in His Court). Give up the ills of the world as being bitter (harmful), oh man. Waheguru is realized only by the love for Him when one becomes just like Him. 1. Everybody in the world has turned their mind away from Waheguru (towards Maya), and the fire of ill- thinking has burned the world completely (everybody is suffering from the ills of Maya, and has no peace of mind). Only those are salvaged who ponder on Guru's Shabad (act on His advice). 2. Just like the moth-like insect (bumblebee), which dies inside the flowers, or the moth, which loses its life in the attraction of fire, or the elephant who gets trapped because of his lust, or the fish which is caught in the hook for its greed for the bait, or the musk-deer who dies for his love for the music, the man is slave to his worldly desires (fully absorbed in Maya), and suffers because he does not realize the Truth (Waheguru). 3. In his lust, a lover of women makes schemes to enjoy. Rage destroys (robs a person of good qualities) all the lustful people. They lose their peace of mind and their dignity by forgetting Waheguru. 4. The mind of an individual who is disconnected from Waheguru becomes weak due to his attraction to others' households (their women and wealth). He begins to make despicable plans to achieve his contemptuous goal, and builds a noose of ill deeds around his neck. But a faithful follower of the Guru attains freedom from Maya by singing the praises of Waheguru. 5. Just as a prostitute, who offers (sells) her body for money and sex to others, and is controlled by others, gets no satisfaction of mind without the husband; (similarly, a devotee of Waheguru gets no satisfaction without His Naam). 6. The pundit reads the Vedas, the Puranas, and the Simritis, and then listens to (ponders on) the creation (message in them). He may read them again and again, but never gets mental satisfaction. Without enjoying the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, it is all a drama. 7. Like a chaatrik (rainbird) that loves water, has thirst for water, and like a fish which feels joyful in water, I feel happy and contented by the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.11.

Word Meaning: Hutth(u) = stubbornness of mind. Na Laykhaiy = not rewarded. Vayse = clothing of different faiths. Bhusm = ashes. Bisaar(i) = forgetting. 1. Suheh(i) = endures. Jum Dookh = punishment of the angel of death. Pause. Choaa = extract of flowers. Agar = fragrance. Kupoor(i) = musk. Mugun = deeply absorbed; immersed. Perm Pud(u) = the highest spiritual state. Koor(i) = false; perishable. 2. Nayjay = (soldiers with) spears. Tukhut(i) = (on the) throne. Slaam = bowing. Adhkee = enhanced. Trishna = appetite for Maya. Viyaapaiy = affects. Kaam(u) = lust. Jaachay = wish for. 3. Vaad(i) = debating an issue for the sake of winning. Mayla = union. Soohayla = comforting. Doojay Bhaayay = in love with Maya. Agiyaan = ignorance. Doohayla = suffering. 4. Dum = money. Sauda = merchandise. Haat = shop. Bohith = boat. Vaat = travelling. Ghaatay Ghaat(i) = loss, and more loss. 5. Vaah(u) = praise worthy; accolades to. Mayl(i) Milaavaiy = connect self, and then others with Waheguru. 6. Jeeo = life. Muth(i) = by churning; analyzing in depth. Vudaayee = praise; respect. Toodh(u) Bhaanaiy = Your Will. 7. Kiyoun = how? Undin(u) = day and night. Juput = reciting. Shernaayay = shelter. Ruttay = imbued. Put(i) = honour. 8.

MEANING: An individual, who tortures himself (by standing on one leg, or by dangling upside down, etc., to please some god), or follows the path of some sect and covers his body with ash, receives no reward from Waheguru for such efforts. He has to repent a lot for ignoring Waheguru. 1. So, enshrine Waheguru's Naam in your heart, and enjoy the bliss, oh my mind. Forgetting Waheguru's Naam, one has to endure the punishment of the Angel of Death. Pause. One may wear different colognes (perfumes) to look attractive, but all this is Maya (false enjoyment); a man, who is engrossed in Maya, is far, far away from the high spiritual level (which results in merging with Waheguru). Everything is false (short-lived) if one forgets Waheguru. 2. A rajah may have many people bowing to him; may have many spear-bearing soldiers for security, and may have many musicians to entertain him with respect, but all such things only boost his ego and enhance his desires for more sensual pleasures (which result in loss of mental peace). Without wishing for (love for) Waheguru, there is no other real worshipping, and no real Naam (which are prerequisites for real comfort and peace of mind). 3. Religious debates (for the sole purpose of winning) lead to greater ego and cannot lead to union with Waheguru (because ego is the biggest hurdle to union with God). One acquires Naam only when one surrenders one's mind to the Guru, and Naam is the real source of bliss. Love for Maya causes darkness in the mind (ignorance), and the individual suffers discomfort. 4.

Just as you cannot buy any merchandise from a shop without money, and just as you cannot travel in the sea without a boat, there is no gain in spirituality without Waheguru's Naam; actually, there is loss and more loss in moral character. 5.
The Guru deserves our praise (respect) for showing us the right path and for His spiritual advice. He deserves our respect for connecting us with Waheguru. 6.
Waheguru deserves our respect because our life belongs to Him. (To enjoy bliss) One must ponder deeply on the Guru's Shabad and drink the Naam-Amrit. But the honour of acquiring Naam is completely due to His kindness. 7. How can I survive without Waheguru's Naam, oh my mother? I wish to recite His Naam day and night in His shelter. Only those get honoured in Waheguru's Court, who are imbued in His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.12.

Word Meaning: Bhaykheen = different faiths. Jaaniya = recognized; realized. 1. Huoun = I; me. Perm Pud = highest spiritual level (becoming "one" with Waheguru).

Pause. Dhaaveh(i) = move quickly; attack fiercely. Khupeh(i) = struggle without success. 2. Nivraiy = remove; eradicate. Chunchul = fickle; changing quickly. Tiyaagaiy = give up. Punch = the five demons. Sunghaaraiy = destroy. 3. Saach(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Sejh Ghur = the state of mental peace. Raajun = Waheguru. Perm Gut(i) = the highest spiritual state. 4. Kerni = routine tasks. Bherm(u) = doubt; misgiving. Nirbhuou = fearless; perfect (Waheguru). Taarri = get fully absorbed; meditate. 5. Kiya Paavaiy = what can be achieved? Bhaytay = get connected. Jhugur = disagreements; doubts. Chookaavaiy = clear up. 6. Jaytee Haiy = however much. Taytee = all that. Kihou Naahi = has no permanence. Giyaan Bhayt(i) = by acquiring Divine Knowledge. 7 Haumein Bundhun = selfishness and ego are bonds. Bhuvaavaiy = birth-death-birth cycle. 8.

MEANING: (Without Waheguru's Naam in mind), the dress code of any faith generates haumein among the faithful, so they cannot recognize (connect with) Waheguru. Some rare devotee of the Guru brings full faith in Waheguru (get connected with Him) by worshiping Him (reciting His Naam). 1. One cannot realize Waheguru with their ego and selfishness; one can attain the highest spiritual state only after abandoning their haumein. Pause. The rajahs attack others fiercely in their ego, and suffer in their haumein, as a result of which they are caught in a birth-death cycle. 2. One can get rid of his haumein by pondering on Guru's Shabad (acting on His Advice). A devotee is also able to get rid of his fickle thinking and destroy the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego). 3.
He realizes (connects with) the Royal Waheguru and attains the highest spiritual state. With Waheguru in his heart, he attains a stable mind and enjoys bliss. 4.
The Guru dispels (clears) his doubts, and his daily tasks are based on truth (godliness). He focuses his mind with full concentration on the fearless (perfect) Waheguru. 5.
What does one gain in his selfishness and ego? (Nothing)! All his doubts are cleared when he gets connected with the Guru. 6. (Without Waheguru's Naam)
The whole world which exists is worth nothing (spiritually). Only a supreme devotee of the Guru acquires the Divine Knowledge and sings praise of Waheguru. 7.
Haumein tightens the bonds of Maya, and puts the man in the rebirth cycle. Only a devotee of Waheguru enjoys comfort (eternal bliss), oh Nanak. 8.13.

Hirdaiy Saach(u) vusaiy Hur(i) Naayay. Kaal(u) na joh(i) sukaiy goon gaayay. Nanak Gurmukh(i) Shabad(i) smaayay. 9.14.

Word Meaning: Pruthmay = first of all. Kaalaiy Ghur(i) = spiritual death. Braham Kumul(u) = The lotus flower out of which Brahma was born. Puyaal(i) = underworld. Bherm(i) Bhoolaaya = misled by his doubts. 1. Oopjaiy = comes into existence. Sunghaariya = killed. Pause. Mohay = captivated. Dayvi, Dayva = goddesses and gods. Kaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Oh(u) = Waheguru. Abinaashi = immortal. Alukh = incomprehensible. 2. Khan = chief. Dhur = support. 3. Mookaam = (permanent place to) stay. Shah = king; wealthy. Suncheh(i) = accumulate. Daam = money. Dhun(u) = wealth. 4. Ruyyiut = subjects; citizens. Mehr = specialists (leaders). Mookudumm = assistant of a collector of revenue; ahead of others (leader). Sikdaar = one, who has the right to start his own coins (a rajah); chief. Nihchul = for ever. Ufuriyo = uncontrolled. Kaal(u) = death. Koorr(u) = false; mortal. 5. Saaji = created. Goyee = absorbs in; causes to disappear. Jaapaiy = becomes “visible”. Put(i) = respect; honour. 6. Bhaykh Faqira = mystics of many faiths. Choadaiy = set free. Dheera = support. 7. Jaal(u) = net. Jihva = tongue. Bikh(u) = poison (related to Maya). Baiyni = talk. Mootthaiy = are robbed (of good qualities). Din Raiyni = day and night. 8. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Joh(i) = threaten. Smaayay = absorbed. 9.

MEANING: (Why to talk about others)? First of all, Brahma (who is believed to be the creator of the world in Hinduism) suffered spiritual death (when he did not believe he was born from the stem of the lotus growing from the navel of Vishnu and tried to find its end). He wandered in the dark for many years and was led to the underworld, yet could not find its end. He did not seek the Guru's advice and was misled by his doubt. 1. All those who come into this world suffer (spiritual) death (without Guru’s advice), but I was saved by Guru’s Shabad, which I pondered on (acted on His advice). Pause. All the goddesses and the gods were captivated by the charm of Maya (and experienced spiritual death). Spiritual death does not spare anyone until one serves the Guru (acts on His advice). Waheguru is immortal, incomprehensible and unfathomable (only the Guru can connect one with Him; that’s why Guru’s Shabad is so vital to realizing Waheguru). 2. (It does not matter what one’s status in society is), even the sultans, the chiefs, and the kings are all perishable. Those who forget Waheguru's Naam suffer at the hands of the Angel of death. I am at Your support (mercy); I have to obey Your Will no matter what situation You put me through, oh Waheguru. 3. Nobody is going to stay here forever, be it a chief or a rajah. The wealthy accumulate lots of wealth and cash, yet they die because money cannot save them. I beg only for Your Naam, which is the real wealth for me, oh, Waheguru. 4. Be it the subjects, the specialists, the revenue officers or the chiefs; none of them is seen to live in the world forever. The unbridled death hits all the mortals on the head. 5. Only the eternal Waheguru is everlasting. He is the one who creates the world and then takes it in (absorbs it into Himself). Taking Guru's shelter, when a devotee "sees" (connects with) Waheguru, he is honoured (in His Court). 6. The Qazi, the sheikhs, and the mystics of different faiths call them great and suffer from the pain of ego. Spiritual death does not spare anyone without the support (guidance) of the Guru. 7. (Spiritual) Death casts its net in many different ways; it is there when the tongue talks ill of other people, or when the eyes cast an evil look on the beauty or wealth of others, or when the ears enjoy listening to talks about sensual pleasures, and so on. Without the Guru's Shabad, people are being robbed of their good qualities, day and night. 8. (Spiritual) Death cannot even look at the individual who sings Waheguru's praise and embeds Him in his heart by reciting His Naam. A supreme devotee of the Guru stays absorbed in His Shabad, oh Nanak. 9.14.

Word Meaning: Mithiya = lies. Raayee = very small (the size of a mustard seed); very little. Chaleh(i) = follows the path. Rujaayee = (Waheguru's) Will. Ateet = disconnected from Maya. Shernaayee = in the shelter of. 1.
Baiysaiy = stays. Joheh(i) = keep watchful eye; threaten. Mohaiy = because of attachments. Pause. Apiyo = Amrit (Waheguru's Naam). Akuth(u) = indescribable. Nij Ghur(i) = in one's own mind. Sejh Ghur(u) = the state of mental peace. Luhiyaiy = acquire. Maatay = imbued. Kuhiyaiy = utter; recite. 2.

Nirunjun = (Waheguru), which is above the effects of Maya. Perm Huns = supreme swan; a Gur Sikh who is fully detached from Maya. Sach(u) = Apaar(u) = Waheguru. Jot(i) = Waheguru's light. Ekunkaar = Waheguru. 5. Niraalum = above the influence of Maya. Kerni = daily routine. Perm Pud(u) = highest spiritual state. Ahun = haumein. Bhermni = indecisiveness. 6.
In(i) Bidh(i) = in this way; by such means. Nistaariya = salvaged. Uver(u) = other. Bhaariya = Bhaaliya = looked for. 7. Saach Mehl(i) = in Waheguru's residence. Alukh = incomprehensible. Lukhaaya = "showed". Nihchul = permanent. Chhaya Maya = no shade (influence) of Maya. Suntoakhaiy = satisfied. Bherm(u) = misgiving; illusion. 8.
Sungut(i) = in the company. Mul(u) = filth of mind. Khoyee = lost; wahed away. 9.

MEANING: The devotees of Waheguru tell only the truth, and no lies, not even the size of a mustard seed. In the shelter of Waheguru, they stay detached from Maya (the worldly attachments). 1. When they stay connected with God, death is not fearful for them. However, the individual, who is disconnected from Waheguru (and loves Maya), suffers from his worldly attachments and remains in the birth-death cycle. Pause. The devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru's sweet Naam, enjoy the comfort (blissfulness) by discussing the virtues of the indescribable Waheguru while they drink the Naam-Amrit. They stay within their own mind (do not let their mind wander after worldly attractions), and attain the state of peacefulness. 2.
By following Guru's advice, their mind becomes stable (peaceful) and does not waver. With Guru's eternal advice, they recite Waheguru's Naam in the state of peacefulness. They ponder on Guru's Shabad, drink Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and realize Him. 3. They visit (take shelter of) the Guru and seek His advice. By surrendering their mind and body, they attain the high internal state (and the ability to realize the self). Through self-realization, they come to know their limits (weaknesses) and achieve a high spiritual state by overcoming them. 4. With limitless Waheguru's light in their heart, they become “Perm Huns,” i.e., just like Waheguru. Waheguru’s Naam is their supreme spiritual food, and they “see” Waheguru in every direction they look. 5. They remain detached from Maya and make only Waheguru’s Naam a part of their daily routine. By serving at the Feet of the Guru (acting on His advice with complete diligence), they attain the highest spiritual state (become “one” with Waheguru). Their indecisiveness of mind due to ego is eradicated, and they are able to persuade (control) their mind to stay within its limits (to have full control over their mind). 6. Who is there who could not be salvaged by this way (of life) (i.e., by obeying the Guru, and controlling the mind)? All the holy saints and the devotees find salvation by singing the praise of Waheguru. After realizing Waheguru, I never looked for any other power for salvation. 7. The Guru “showed” me the incomprehensible Waheguru in His mansion (I realized Him). Waheguru’s Residence is eternal, and there is not even a shade of Maya there. With me comprehending Waheguru, all my illusions (misgivings) were cleared, and my mind was completely satisfied (blissful). 8. In the company of the supreme devotees who have Waheguru’s Naam embedded in their hearts, one develops full faith in the Guru. With Waheguru’s Naam, all the filth of the mind is washed away, oh Nanak. 9.15.

Nirgoon = having no good qualities. Jun = devotee. Turiyaiy = find salvation. 8.
MEANING: It is highly fruitful (spiritually) to have a glimpse of (get connected with) those whose minds are imbued with Waheguru's love. 1. Waheguru is the provider for all of us through all the eons. So, it is highly unfortunate for you if you do not recite Waheguru's Naam, oh man. Pause. A devotee becomes perfect when he recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. At that stage, he feels as if he is listening to the Divine music played by the auto-playing instruments. 2. An individual who worships Waheguru with love for Him in mind is protected (from all ills) by the grace of Waheguru. 3. One feels blissful by the sight of the holy devotees and by touching their feet, who have Waheguru in their hearts. 4. Even though Waheguru is present in every heart, the egoistic individual, who is disconnected from Waheguru, has to go through many life forms again and again. 5. Only that individual realizes this truth who has connected with the Guru. With His Shabad, he overcomes his haumein and gets connected with the Guru. 6. How can one understand (be sure about) the union of the human soul with the Supreme Soul (Waheguru)? (Answer): His mind is overcome by his attraction for Waheguru when he takes Guru's shelter. 7.
I am devoid of all good qualities; please, be kind, and inculcate good qualities in me, oh Waheguru. One gets salvation when Waheguru is merciful, oh Nanak. 8. 16.

Word Meaning: Goyilee = herdsman; caretaker. Saara = looking after well. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Paaleh(i) = nourishes. Raakh(i) Layh(i) = protects. Aatum Sookh = mental comfort. Dhaara = supports; provides. 1. It Oot = here and there (everywhere). Deen = poor; powerless. Shernaagut = in shelter. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Nihaala = blessed. Pause. Jeh = wherever. Ruv Ruhay = is present. Teh = there. Daata = provider. Bhoogta = consumer. Praan Adhaara = support of life. 2. Kirt Puyya = result of the deeds done previously. Udh = urdh = low (in spirits). Oordhi = high (in spirits). Oopma = praise. Binsaiy = vanish. 3. Binsut = vanishing. Loabhay = in greed. Mookut(i) Dooaara = door of freedom. 4. Nij Ghur(i) = own home. Apaar = limitless. Uprumpur = away and away (above the effects of Maya). Thir = stable; immortal. Boojhaiy = by understanding. 5. Jum Jaala = net of death. Doal(u) = a small bucket. Jayvri = rope. Akaash = sky; very high. Putaala = underworld; very low. 6. Visraiy = forget. Sehjaiy = in the state of a peaceful mind. Untar = inside (in the mind). Nidhaan = treasure. Aap(u) = selfishness. Guvaayiyaiy = get rid of. 7. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Unk(i) = in the heart. Mayl(u) = union. Laaha = benefit; profit. 8.

MEANING: Just as a caretaker (herdsman) looks after his cows carefully and guards them in a meadow, Waheguru raises and nourishes all the living beings, and guards them day and night, providing them mental comfort. 1. We are in Your shelter, oh Waheguru. You are kind to the poor and the weak; please guard us everywhere, and cast Your kind sight so that we may feel blessed. Pause.

Wherever I look, You are present, oh our guard, Waheguru. Please protect us (against the fire of desires). You are the provider, but at the same time, You are also the consumer who is enjoying everything by being present in all of us. You are the support of our lives. 2. We are getting the rewards of our previous deeds (good or bad). Without pondering on the Knowledge (Guru's Shabad), sometimes the man feels very low-spirited, while at other times he is in high spirits. Without singing praise of Waheguru, the darkness of ignorance does not vanish. 3. I have noticed the world suffering because of people's greed and ego. By serving the Guru, I have realized Waheguru, which is the door to freedom from the bonds of Maya. 4.

The unreachable Waheguru resides in His own Mansion (and can be reached only with the Guru's Shabad). Nobody can become immortal (achieve union with Waheguru) without the Guru's Shabad. An individual who realizes this enjoys comfort. 5.

What does a man bring into this world when he is born, and what does he take with him when he dies? He is always caught in the net of the Angel of (spiritual) death (because of his attachment to the world). He is like a bucket tied to a rope, used to draw water from the well. Like the bucket when it is lowered, the mind of the man sinks in low spirits; and like the bucket when it is pulled up (higher to the surface), the human mind sometimes takes flight in the sky in high spirits. 6. Let us listen to Guru's advice, and not forget Waheguru, because we earn respect in Waheguru's Court only when we remember Him. (We are unaware that) The treasure of Waheguru's Naam is within us; let us connect with the Naam and rid ourselves of our selfishness. 7. When Waheguru casts His kind sight on someone, He implants noble qualities in the individual, as a result of which the individual merges into Waheguru. Once connected with Waheguru, this union is never broken, and the individual earns the additional benefit it of His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.1.17.

NOTE: This is the first Shabad of Guru Nanak Sahib in Gaurri Baiyraagun(i). The digit "1" in the final total - 8.1.17 - implies just that.

Word Meaning: Boojh(i) Lay = understand; realize. Nibayra = conclusion; come to realize. Tthaakur(u) = Lord; provider. 1. Chhootiyaiy = get freedom (from the bonds of Maya). Kerm Kmaayiyaiy = perform religious rituals. Undhiyaara = darkness (of mind). Pause. Baahray = without; devoid of. Punth = (the right) path. Soojhyee = think of. Kit(u) Bidh(i) = in what way? how? Nirbuhiyaiy = live with; deal with. 2. Khoata = impure (having unacceptable qualities). Khura = pure. Saar = value. Paakhoo = analyst; appraiser. Kulee Kaal = the period of Kulyug. Vidaanaiy = amazing. 3. Sootay = asleep; engrossed in Maya. Jaagut = awake; alert from the attacks of Maya. Jeevut = alive (spiritually). Mooyay = spiritually (dead). 4. Aavut = who comes to Guru's shelter. Jaata = gone from the world of Maya. Jaatay = who turns his face away from the Guru (spirituality). Pur Kee = belonging to others. Bhaaya = liked. 5. Meettha = Waheguru's Naam. Kurrooa = bitter. Raatay = who is imbued in Waheguru's love. Ninda = talk ill of. Deettha = seen. 6. Chayri = slave (Maya). Tthaakur = Master (Waheguru). Poakhur(u) = pond. Viroliyaiy = churn. Maakhun = butter. Reesaiy = ooze out; is produced. 7. Pud = level; stage. Urthaayay = understands; experiences. Cheenaiy = recognize.

Apur Apaara = beyond the effects of Maya (Waheguru). 8. Vertda = operates. Bhermaaya = misguides. Boojhiyaiy = get enlightened. Braham = Waheguru. Smaaya = present. 9.

MEANING: By Guru's grace, if one understands, then he will come to realize that Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and which resides in every heart, also resides in his heart, and is the Lord (provider) of all. 1. If one ponders deeply, one will realize that one cannot get freedom from the bonds of Maya without the Guru's Shabad. Without the Guru, the darkness of ignorance does not go away, even if one performs millions of prevalent religious rituals. Pause. What can you teach the people who are devoid of intelligence, and are blind in the darkness (of ignorance)? Without the Guru, they cannot think of the path of righteousness; so how can you deal with them? 2. They call the impure (a Maya-minded person) "pure" and have no clue about the value of the truly pure (devotee of the Guru) person. The amazing thing about the era of Kalyug (the present era) is that a blind (ignorant) person is regarded as the appraiser of pearls (noble qualities). 3. The world considers a person, who is asleep (deeply engrossed in Maya and totally disconnected from Waheguru), "awake" (he makes good money), and the person, who is awake (who is alert against the attacks of Maya, and is a devotee of Waheguru), as being "asleep" (because he does not care about money). It considers a (spiritually) alive individual as dead, and does not cry (feel sorry) for the individual who is really (spiritually) dead. 4. The world labels the individual who comes to the shelter of the Guru as "gone" (from the world of Maya); and the one who goes away (turns his face away) from the Guru, as having "come" (to the world of Maya). The world shamelessly claims their perishable belongings as their own (how can they be theirs when they will not accompany them after death?), and don't like the Naam, which is really theirs. 5. Waheguru's Naam, which is really sweet, is considered "bitter", and Maya, which is really bitter (poisonous), is considered as being sweet. What we see in Kalyug is that the world unduly criticizes the devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru's Naam. 6. The world is blind to the Lord (Waheguru), and serves the slave (Maya). It is like churning the water of a pond which will not produce butter. 7.

An individual who analyzes themselves becomes like Waheguru, which is above all the effects of Maya. I will respect that individual like my guru, who recognizes the self and experiences the spiritual state in which he realizes that God is the only power to be worshiped for salvation. 8. Waheguru alone operates everywhere in the world, and He, Himself, misguides people (gives them the character based on their deeds). It is by Guru's grace that we come to realize that Waheguru is omnipresent, oh Nanak. 9.2.18.

Nanak Gurmukh(i) ruhaiy smaayay. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Sootuk(u) = impurity (a superstition created and spread by Brahmans among the masses to earn money. According to superstition, a home becomes impure when a birth or a death occurs in the family. This impurity stays in the house for 13 days, after which the family Brahman would recite mantras to “purify” the home and charge a handsome fee.

Guru Sahiban strongly opposed such a baseless belief and condemned the practice. They explained that there is nothing impure about either birth or death. People should always remember Waheguru in each and every situation. They discussed many situations which cause impurity of mind. Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Bhermay Bhoolay = misled by false beliefs. 1.

Kub-heh(i) Na = never. Jichur = as long as. Bheejaiy = persuaded. Pause.

Moh(u) = attachment. Aakaar = visible things. Vaaro Vaar = again and again. 2.

Bhoajun = food. Jayta Kichh(u) = all that. 3. Sootuk(i) Kerm = rituals related to sootuk. Ruttay = imbued. Nirmul = pure. 4. Soadh(i) = analyze; study deeply. Mookut(i) = free from the bonds of Maya. 6.

Joog Chaaray = in all the four eons. Ootum(u) = above all. Kul(i) = in Kulyug. 7. Saacha = Waheguru. Smaayay = present. 8.

MEANING: (There is no such thing as “sootuk” (impurity) as preached by Brahmans, and as believed by the people). However, many other things also cause impurity; for example, the mind becomes impure when an individual loves Maya rather than Waheguru. Misbeliefs also cause impurity of mind, and, misguided by misbeliefs, individuals are caught in the rebirth cycle. 1. The misbelief of “sootuk” for an individual, who is disconnected from God, never goes away as long as his mind is not persuaded, and does not get imbued in Waheguru’s Naam by Guru’s Shabad. Pause. Even the attachment with the visible things (including members of the family) causes impurity of mind (one gets disconnected with Waheguru), and the individuals take births, and die again and again. 2. (If we go by the Brahmanical definition of sootuk or impurity), then the fire, the air, and the water are all impure because small living beings keep taking births, and keep dying in the three. Similarly, all the food that we eat is impure because it is produced by heat, water and air (which are impure by the Brahmanical definition). 3. Any worship (recitation of mantras by the Brahmans) related to “sootuk”, is unacceptable to Waheguru. The mind is purified only when one gets imbued in Waheguru’s Naam. 4. The misbelief of “sootuk” goes away by serving Satguru. (By serving Satguru), One merges into Waheguru as a result of which the individual is not reborn, and does not die. The death becomes meaningless for him. 5. If one studies the Hindu religious books carefully, he will find out that no one gets freedom from the bonds of Maya without Waheguru’s Naam. 6. No matter which eon it is, pondering on Guru’s Shabad to get connected with Waheguru’s Naam is above any other religious deed (including donations to charities). Even in Kalyug (which is considered to be the worst of all the four eons), the devotees of Waheguru swim across the sea of Maya (are salvaged). 7. Waheguru is immortal; He is neither born nor does He die, and is always there to protect us. Guru’s devotees are always connected with Him, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Praan = life. Adhaara = support. Oordhaara = embedded in the heart. Sobha = praise; respect. Saach Duaara = Waheguru’s Door. 1. Tujhou = give up; get rid of. Vikaara = vices. Bhuoujul(u) = the world-sea. Pause. Kerm = rituals. Dherm = high morality. Doyee = the indecision about choosing between Waheguru and Maya. 3. Perbodhou = enlighten. Boojhou = recognize. Soyee = that (Waheguru). 4. Dumf(u) = show off. Chuturaaee = cleverness; shrewdness. Thaayayn Na Paayee = is not recognized. Tthaur = shelter; peace. 5. Abhimaana = conceit. Bug = Buglaa = heron. Laayay Buhaiy Dhiyaana = focuses quietly on his prey. Jum = (angel of) death. 6. Jaat(i) = caste (status in the social hierarchy). Saayir = sea. Saayir Kee Pootri = the daughter of the sea (Maya). Maya, the manifestation of Luxmi, the wife of Vishnu, was retrieved from the ocean when it was churned by the gods and the demons. Luxmi is one of the fourteen "Ruttans" which were retrieved from the ocean. Bidaar(i) = by tearing apart. Guvaayee = lost; got rid of. Jhootthee = false. 8.

MEANING: (Rather than reading the religious books for the sole purpose of debating (and impressing people), recite Waheguru's Naam, and get rid of your vices, oh pundit ji! Swim across the world sea by taking shelter of the Guru. Pause.

Serve the Guru, and make Waheguru the support of your life, oh pundit. Keep Waheguru in mind all the time, and embed (enshrine) His Naam in your heart, as a result of which, you will earn respect at Waheguru's door. 1.

An individual, who comes to Guru's shelter, overcomes his selfishness and ego, and Waheguru's Naam gets implanted in his heart; and no filth of any vice comes near him. 2. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, a Guru's devotee does not need any religious rituals; his ego and attachment for Maya vanish completely. (Disregarding Maya) He gets imbued in Waheguru's Naam and enjoys bliss. 3.

(Without acquiring Divine Knowledge), You may preach to people, but your hollow preaching produces no effect on them, oh pundit. You need to enlighten your own mind first and recognize Waheguru (connect with Him). Take Guru's shelter to realize Waheguru, when you will enjoy eternal bliss. 4. With his cleverness, a money-minded individual, who is disconnected from Waheguru, performs many deeds of showmanship to fool the people into thinking he is religious. But his efforts are not recognized by Waheguru. He continues to take rebirths and never gets peace.

5. All the deeds of a money-minded person are full of ego, and are like that of a heron (which looks very innocent like a swan, which is vegetarian, but which, very quietly, waits for its prey to pounce on). The heron-like, money-minded person repents when he is caught by the Angel of Death. 6. Without serving Satguru, nobody can get freedom from the bonds of Maya with their own efforts. One connects with Waheguru only by the grace of the Guru; the Guru is the only donor (source) of Waheguru's Naam (the means of connecting with Waheguru), no matter what the eon is. 7. A devotee of the Guru overpowers (gets rid of) Maya by tearing apart its effects. He earns praise and respect in Waheguru's Court because of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, no matter what his social caste is (Waheguru's Naam raises his societal caste). Without Waheguru's Naam, all other show-offs of cleverness are false (worthless), and are not recognized by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Joog = world. Dherm(u) = moral code. Purrhou = study; examine. Pooraiy = Perfect. Sojhee = understanding; enlightenment. Aithaiy = this world. Uggaiy = next world. Sukhaayee = friend; helpful. 1. Purrhou = recite. Maiyl(u) = filth. Ootaar(u) = wash out. Pause. Vaad(u) = meaningless debates. Virodh(i) = opposition; hostility. Pheeka = tasteless; discourteous. Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for the other (Maya). 2. Bhaytay = getting connected. Khooaara = suffering; discomfiture. 3. Punch = the five demons. Sunghaaraiy = destroys. Suglaiy Kool = all the clans; all associates. Taaraiy = gets salvation. 4. Nut(i) = acrobat (Waheguru). Baaji = acts of an acrobat. Luptaayee = cling to. Alipt = detached. Liv Laayee = connected strongly. 5. Bhaykh = religious garb; impersonate. Bhaykhdhaari = one who wears a religious garb just to show off; impersonator. Tishna = huge appetite for Maya (worldly possessions). Aap(i) = self. Cheenaiy = recognizes; analyzes. 6. Kaapurr pehir(i) = by wearing some religious garb. Chuturaayee = cleverness. 7. Ruttay = imbued. Baiyraagi = detached from the world. Grihi = family man. 8.

MEANING: (According to the Hindu philosophy, there are different moral codes and different requirements (to please their deities) in each of the four eons. But the Perfect Guru has enlightened us that (there is only one way to realize Waheguru – recitation of His Naam with a pure heart - no matter what the eon is. Waheguru's Naam is your friend in this world as well as in the next. If you study carefully, you will find that Waheguru's Naam is also the requirement to realize God in this eon, too. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru and ponder on it with concentration to wash away the filth of the evil thoughts and deeds. Pause. One cannot realize Waheguru by engaging in debates or opposing others' ideas. Man's mind and body become discourteous (and even hostile) towards fellow humans in his love for Maya (selfishness and ego). But one can meditate with full dedication on Waheguru's Naam by the Guru's Shabad. 2. This world is suffering from the filth of haumein (selfishness and ego). The filth of ego does not go away even if people take dips in the holy waters every day. Without connecting with the Guru, the Angel of Death causes discomfiture. 3. Only that individual is the bearer of Truth (Waheguru's Naam) who destroys (gets rid of) his haumein and the five demons by the Guru's Shabad. Not only does such an individual find salvation for himself, but he also finds it for all his associates. 4. Like the feats of an acrobat which amaze people, Waheguru has created the world in which the gimmicks of Maya amaze people; the blind (ignorant) lovers of Maya cling to it (and forget Waheguru, who has created Maya). But the devotees of the Guru remain detached from Maya and connect with Waheguru with full dedication. 5. The people who wear religious garbs just to show off are impostors, and they change their garb as per their whims. In reality, they have a huge desire for Maya and spend time feeding their ego. They do not recognize themselves (do not engage in self-analysis) and lose the game of life (fail to achieve the real objective of life). 6. Wearing religious garb, they try to be very clever (to impress people), but, in an extreme love for Maya, they are completely misled by their misbelief (that they are truly religious). They suffer greatly without service to the Guru. 7. The devotees, imbued with Waheguru's Naam, are always detached from Maya, and even though they lead a family life, they remain connected to Waheguru with full dedication. Those who serve Satguru are very lucky, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Mool(u) = base; founder. Vayd Abhiaasa = the path of the Vedas. Tis Tay = from him. Oopjaiy = came into being. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya (Tumo, Rujo, Suto). Bhermay = misled. Nij Ghur = own mind. Vaasa = stay. 1. Raakhay = protected (from the attacks of Maya). Drirryaaya = reinforced. Pause. Junjaal = net (bonds) of Maya. Vaad(u) Vukhaaneh(i) = debates. Jum Kaala = death. Tut = reality (objective of human life). Pund = sheaf. Praala = stubble of paddy crop; a worthless substance (cause). 2. Ugiyaan(i) = in ignorance (lack of knowledge). Koomaarug = wrong path. Bisaariya = forgotten. Kerm = rituals. Bhuvjul(i) = in the world sea. Doojaiy = Maya. 3. Moohtaaj = dependent on; worshipper. Pundit = highly educated. Bikhiya = poison; Maya. Javrra = rope; noose. Suntaavaiy = torments. 4. Jumkaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Dooja = love for Maya. Raatay = imbued. 5. Daasi = slave. Kaar Kmaaaiy = serves. Churnee Laagaiy = drop on the feet (surrender to Waheguru). Mehl(u) = Waheguru's abode. Nirmul(u) = pure (no effect of Maya). Sehj(i) = in the state of a peaceful mind. Smaavaiy = absorbed. 6. Dhunvunt = wealthy. Niveh(i) = bow to; listen to. Pooj Kuraahi = are worshipped. Ruveh(i) = recite. 7.
Chauthaiy = the fourth state above the three effects of Maya (pure mind). Braham = God. Milaaya = connected with. 8.

MEANING: The gods, who came into being because of Brahma, who is considered to be the founder of the path of the Vedas, were all engrossed in worldly attachments. They lived under the influence of the three effects of Maya, and their mind never stayed within themselves (at peace, and kept doddering. 1. By Waheguru's grace, I was lucky to be connected to Satguru, who protected me (from the attacks of Maya). Satguru reinforced Waheguru's Naam and His worship in me. Pause. Brahma's Bani (compositions) keep a man bound to Maya. Its readers simply get into debates to impress others (and do not gain any spirituality). They do not realize the reality (the objective of life) and simply gather sheaves of stubble (accumulate worthless assets) as a result of which, they are hit on the head (suffer) by spiritual death. 2. The followers of their own mind are ignorant, and are led on the totally wrong path; they perform worthless rituals, but forget Waheguru's Naam. They get drowned in the world sea because of their love for Maya. 3.
(The ironic thing is that) A worshipper of Maya calls himself a pundit (a highly educated person), but, imbued in the love of Maya, suffers deeply. The noose of spiritual death torments him all the time. 4. On the other hand, spiritual death does not even come near a devotee of the Guru. He destroys his haumein with Guru's Shabad, and imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he always sings His praise. 5.
Maya is a slave to the devotees and serves them (fulfilling their needs). Anyone who comes to the shelter of such devotees also gets connected with Waheguru. With a purified mind, they stay absorbed in the state of blissfulness. 6.

Those who listen to the praise of Waheguru (and embed His Naam in their heart) are the real wealthy individuals in the world. They recite the virtues of Waheguru with a pure mind and in a state where Maya has no effect. Everybody bows to them (shows respect); thus (in a way), they are worshipped day and night. 7.
Anyone who listens (and acts on) Satguru's Shabad (Advice) transcends the three effects of Maya and applies his mind to (attain) the fourth level of spiritual state (where one merges into Waheguru). He overcomes his haumein and becomes "one" with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Vaad Vukhaanaiy = to engage in debating. Taamus = darkness because of haumein. Aap(u) = self. Puchhaanaiy = recognize. Ta = only if. 1. Khaadhay = swallowed (spiritually). Doojaiy = other. Bhaayay = in love. Pause. Apraadhi = guilty. Seedhay = purified; succeeded in their objective. Sehj(i) = state of peaceful mind. Reedhay = cooked (matured); realized the objective. 2. Bhaayay = liked. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = routinely; without any special effort. 3. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misguided by misbelief. Bikh = poison; Maya. Dund = punishment. Suheh(i) = endure. 4. Jumooa = Jum = angel of death. Johaiy = watch; keep an eye on. Liv = connected with full concentration. 5. Puvita = pure; holy; pious. In Bidh(i) = this way. Kooshul = all well. 6.

Ful(u) Paayay = reap the reward. Aap(u) = selfishness. Unhud = uniform auto-playing music. 7. Seedho = purified. Vudiyaayee = praise; respect. 8.
MEANING: The pundit reads the Vedas written by Brahma and gets into debates (with the sole purpose of impressing people). But he does not recognize himself because his mind is dark with haumein. He can realize Waheguru only if he recites (acts on) the Guru's Shabad. 1. I serve the Guru (act on His Advice), as a result of which spiritual death cannot affect me. The followers of their minds are swallowed by spiritual death because of their love for Maya. Pause. Following Guru's advice, even the guilty (sinners) become successful (achieve the objective of human life). Acting on Guru's Shabad, they attain the state of mental bliss. Waheguru is successfully realized by Guru's Shabad. 2. When Waheguru likes (becomes kind), He connects His devotees to Satguru, as a result of which the devotees sing Waheguru's praise with love, and attain the state of blissfulness. 3.
Without the guidance of the Perfect Guru, the man is misled by doubts. The blind (ignorant) follower of his mind gets engrossed in Maya all the time, and always endures the (fear of) the punishment by the Angel of (spiritual) death. 4.
The Angel of death no longer watches the individual (for sins) who has come to Waheguru's shelter, because such an individual has gotten rid of his haumein, and is connected with Waheguru with full dedication. He is always fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 5. Those who serve Satguru are pure and holy. Their mind stays in itself (does not waver, and is at peace), as a result of which they conquer the whole world (they have no worldly desire anymore). That is how it is with you (your mind is at peace), oh my friend. 6. Those who serve Satguru reap the rewards. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, they get rid of their selfishness. With Guru's Shabad at heart, they feel as if the music of the Divine Bani (holy compositions), is playing in their mind (and no evil can come near them). 7.
Who was not successful in attaining salvation under the Guru's shelter, oh my brother? (Everybody did). Having achieved their objective (of achieving union with Waheguru) successfully by worshipping Him, they are honoured in Waheguru's Court.
Everybody gets honoured with Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Vukhaanaiy = explains. Bherm(u) = doubt; misgiving. Bundhun = bonds. Mookut(i) = freedom from (bonds of the worldly attachments). Daata = provider; granter. 1. Praani = man. Dhoon(i) = deep meditation; absorption. Oopjaiy = is born. Pause. Kaalaiy = death. Sir(i) Kaara = work (burden) on the head. Chaytaiy = remembers. Oopaavunhaara = the Creator. Vaaro Vaara = again and again. 2. Undha = blind; ignorant. Tay = from. Mool(u) = root (Waheguru). Bhaayee = Bhaayay = love (for Maya). Bikh = poison; Maya. Maata = intoxicated. 3. Mool(u) = base. Juntar = living beings. Visriya = forgotten. Perm Gut(i) = highest spiritual state. 4. Saach(u) = Waheguru. Vertaayay = spreads; disseminates. Chhoopay = hides. Giyaani = seekers of Truth. Sehj Soobhaayay = without any special effort. 5. Soonaayay = reveals. Dhaavut = quickly wavering (mind). Tthaak(i) = control. Soojhi = understanding; enlightenment. 7. Srishut(i) = world. Sirj(i) = having created. Goyee = wrap up. Boojhaiy = understands. 8.

MEANING: Satguru is the only one in the world who can grant (get) us freedom from the bonds of Maya. The pundit discusses the three effects of Maya and their influences, but all such efforts do not clear his own doubts and misgivings. His bonds of Maya are not broken (actually, his ego gets a boost, and he gets more engrossed in Maya), and he does not get emancipation. 1. On the other hand, with Guru's grace, a true devotee of the Guru is able to have his misgivings removed, and with deep concentration on Waheguru's Naam, he enjoys the state of bliss (above the effects of Maya). Pause. Those who lead their lives under the influence of the three characters of Maya remain in fear of the Angel of (spiritual) death. They do not think about Waheguru, who creates the universe (and looks after it), so they keep rebirth after rebirth. 2. A blind (self-proclaimed and ignorant) Guru is unable to dispel the doubts and misgivings of people (about Maya and Waheguru). Forgetting Waheguru, which is the basis of the whole universe, such fake gurus are, in fact, engrossed in Maya (and so are their disciples). Intoxicated by their wealth, they stay fully absorbed in accumulating more and more of that. 3. (However, such Maya-engrossed people cannot be blamed fully for their love for Maya) As Waheguru has created the world, making Maya its basis so that living beings are captivated by it and thus misled (their attachment to Maya never fades). Only a few individuals, to whom Waheguru is kind, transcend the effects of Maya and attain the highest spiritual state. 4. They have Waheguru in their heart, and disseminate His Word to the outside world while dealing with the world at the same time. Waheguru's appearance in some lucky devotee's heart cannot stay hidden from the world, even if the devotee tries to hide it. The seekers of Truth (devotees who tread the path of spirituality) find Waheguru's secrets easily without any special effort (they become "one" with Him). 5. A devotee of the Guru remains connected to Waheguru through the concentration of his mind. He burns his haumein and his love for Maya with Guru's Shabad. The eternal Waheguru connects such a devotee with Him through the Guru. 6. The kind Satguru reveals His Shabad to such a devotee (guides him as to how to connect with God) as a result of which, the devotee controls his fast-wandering mind, and brings it under full control. The devotee gets enlightenment from the Perfect Guru. 7. Some rare individual realizes that Waheguru, who creates the world, also wraps it up, and there is no other power than Him in the world, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Amoluk = priceless. Sayvay = obey Naam (Huqam). Sehj(i) Smaayay = absorbed in the state of blissfulness. Rusna = tongue. 1. Jupoun Jugdeesha = recite Waheguru's (Naam). Perm Pud Sookha = the comfort of the highest spiritual state. Bhuyya = took place; happened. Pergaas = light. Goontaas(u) = the treasure of virtues. Daasun Dass = slave of slaves. Greh Kootumb = family. Oodaas = detached from Maya. 2.

Jeevun Mookut(i) = dead (detached from worldly attachments) while living in family. Perm Pdaaruth = supreme substance (state of bliss). Maytay = obliterate. Nirmul = purified. Sehjay = in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. 3.
Moh = Preet(i) = affection. Vusiya = dwelt. Soyee = Waheguru. Baydhiya = pierced. Usthir = stable (non-wavering). Puchhaanaiy = recognize. Boojhaiy = understands. Sach(u) Waheguru. 4.
MEANING: The priceless Naam of Waheguru can be realized only by taking shelter of the Guru. Such a devotee always obeys Waheguru's Huqam and enjoys the state of blissfulness by keeping Waheguru's Naam in mind all the time. His tongue recites Waheguru's Amrit Naam all the time. But only that individual enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam whom Waheguru is kind to. 1. I always recite Waheguru's Naam in my heart and stay absorbed in the highest spiritual state. Pause.
When the mind of a devotee is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, he sings praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues, and feels blissful. Such a devotee is always humble, as if he is a slave of the Guru's slaves, and remains detached from worldly attachments while living in the family. 2.
Some rare devotee of the Guru attains the highest spiritual state and stay detached from the worldly attractions while living in the family. His mind gets purified, and he transcends the three effects of Maya. With Waheguru's Naam embedded in his mind, he attains the highest spiritual state and realizes Waheguru. 3.
A devotee, who has enshrined Waheguru's Naam in his heart, does not indulge in the love of family. Having been pierced with Guru's Shabad, his mind becomes stable (contented) and quits wandering. A devotee, who recognizes Waheguru's Huqam (obeys it gladly), realizes Waheguru (gets connected with Him). 4.

Word Meaning: Put(i) = dignity. Soyay = same. Ruttan = light radiating precious stone (diamond). Loyay = light. 5. Bigsaiy = blooms; overjoyed. Liv = deep concentration. Sehjaiy = in the state of bliss. Persaadi = kindness. 6.
Mumta = deep affection. Durmut(i) = evil wisdom (thoughts). Goontaas = treasure of virtues. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Pergutee = appeared. Jaas = praise. Ruviya = appeared. Churn = feet (of Waheguru); Waheguru's Naam. Nivaas = dwelling. 7. Aap(u) = selfishness. Guvaavay = lose; get rid of. Vusaayay = embed. 8.
MEANING: You are the creator of the world; I have no one else to depend upon, as You are my provider as well, oh Waheguru. I will serve only You, and my dignity lies in serving You. I wish to sing Your praise, but I can do that only with Your kindness. Your Naam is like a diamond, which sparkles and enlightens the world. 5.
In His shelter, a devotee finds Guru's Shabad to be sweet. His mind blooms when he has a continuous connection with the Guru. With His kindness, the devotee embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart without any special effort. One connects with Satguru only with great luck. 6. Waheguru is the source of all virtues; when one has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart, his selfishness, his ego, his worldly attachment, and his evil thinking all get eradicated. With singing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru, his mind gets purified, and Waheguru's Naam begins to dwell in his heart. 7. But only that individual gets Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart whom Waheguru gives to (with His kindness). Such an individual is connected to the Guru, in whose shelter he overcomes his selfishness and ego, and Waheguru's Naam becomes embedded in his heart. Such a devotee attains the state of higher spirituality by staying absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 8.7.

Word Meaning: Suvaariya = decorated; purified. Bhaiy = fear. Sehj(i) = peaceful state of mind. Soobhaayay = with respectful affection. Liv = deep concentration. Nij = own. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Vusiya = came to live. Rujaayay = Will. 1. Govind(u) = Waheguru. Gooni Nidhaan = treasure of all virtues. Pause.

Baiyraagi = detached. Ja = when. Bhuou = fear. Khaayay = overcomes. Nirmula = pure. Smaayay = filling the space; present. 2. Daasun Ko Dass = slave of slaves (very humble). In Bidh(i) = this way. 3. Dhrig(u) = condemnable. Buhou Jeevun = long life. Sayj = bed. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Moh = attachment. Goobaar = darkness. Suful = successful. 4. Greh(u) = household. Kootumb(u) = family. Meet = friend. Uver(u) = else. 5. Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Put(i) = dignity. Dhiyaaya = recited. Anund(u) = blissfulness. Liv = deep meditation. 6. Sreer = body. Soodh(i) = understanding; realization. Trishna = desires. Ugun(i) = fire. Boojhyee = put out; gone. Binsay = ended; gone. Kroadh = rage. Khima = forgiveness. Geh(i) Luyee = adopted; acquired. 7. Ruttan = jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Virla = rare. Alukh = invisible. Abhayvaiy = unfathomable. 8.

MEANING: By serving Satguru (obeying His Advice), a devotee gets rid of his ego, and realizes Waheguru, which is the treasure of all virtues, oh my friend. Pause.

Such a devotee purifies his mind with respectful fear for the Guru, and attains the state of bliss (above the three effects of Maya). He is imbued with Waheguru's love by meditating deeply (and acting) on the Guru's Shabad. His mind quits wandering and becomes peaceful with the Will (kindness) of Waheguru. 1.

When a devotee overcomes his worldly fears with the Guru's Shabad, he gets detached from the worldly attachments because he gets connected to the omnipresent Waheguru, which is perfectly pure (completely unattached to the world). The devotee connects with the Guru through Waheguru's benevolence, who, in turn, connects him with Waheguru. 2. The way to connect with Waheguru is through humility – when a devotee has no ego and acts like a slave of slaves. The devotee sings Waheguru's praise, reflecting on His kindness, and enjoys bliss. 3.

(Through yogic exercises, some people are able to live much longer), But a long life is condemnable if the individual does not develop any affection for Waheguru. Likewise, a comfortable bed with a pretty wife in it is also condemnable because it keeps the man in darkness (caused by worldly attachments, which keep him in ignorance of Waheguru). Only those devotees are successful in achieving the objective of human life (union with God) who make Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life. 4.

The love for household and the family is also condemnable if they don't give the opportunity for the man to cultivate love for God in his heart. Only that individual is my friend who sings Waheguru's praise. I do not care about anything else, other than Waheguru's Naam. 5. I acquired dignity and a higher spiritual state from the Guru. All my discomforts have vanished with the recitation of Waheguru's Naam. By meditating deeply on Waheguru's Naam, I have acquired the state of blissfulness (where Maya has no effect). 6. On connecting with the Guru, I evaluated the state (condition) of my body (mind) and realized that all my selfishness, ego, and the fire of desires had gone (become things of the past). My rage had vanished, and I had acquired forgiveness. 7. Only that lucky individual receives Waheguru's Naam, which He bestows by His benevolence. There is a rare individual who acquires the jewel-like Naam of Waheguru. I sing praise of the invisible and the unfathomable Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.8.

Word Meaning: Vaymookh(i) = Mooh(u) Phayray = turn face away (break connection). Booray = bad; repulsive. Buddhay = tied up; bonded to. Maariun(i) = are punished (spiritually). Vayla = time; opportunity. Lehun(i) = get back. 1. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Saar(i) = keep with care. Pause. Say = those. Bhaanvday = are liked. Bhaayay = in the love (fear of); according to the Will. Aap(u) = selfishness. Chhoad(i) = quit. Jeevut Mooyay = stay detached from Maya while living in the family. 2. Pind(u) = body. Praan = life. Sir(i) Kaar = service to; obey His Command. Dhaar(i) = keep; hold. 3. Put(i) = dignity. Kerm(i) = by benevolence. 4. Bhermday = misguided. Ticken(i) = find peace. Jhullyee = provide shelter; accept. Vishta = feces; Maya. Puchun(i) = burn; rot; suffer. 5. Bherm(i) Bhoolaaya = misguided in misbeliefs. Tthugauli = deceitful; treacherous. Bhaytiya = connected with. Bhittaiy = touch. 6. Sayvun = serve; keep in mind. Sohnay = handsome; pure. Maiyl(u) = filth. Ruttay = imbued. Nirmulay = pure; holy. Chulleh(i) = follow; spend life. 7. Daata = donor; provider. Bukhsh(i) = by forgiving. Shernaagti = in the shelter. Bhaavaiy = as (You) please. Chhudaayay = get freedom from Maya.8.

MEANING: Those who turn their face away from the Guru look fairly repulsive (are ill-natured). Bonded strongly to Maya, they always suffer spiritually (due to unfulfilled desires and some sad losses). They cannot get this opportunity (to connect with God) again. 1. Please, be merciful, and save me (from the attacks of Maya), oh

Waheguru. Please connect me with the company of the holy devotees so that I may always keep Your virtuous memory carefully in my mind. Pause.
Waheguru likes those devotees who lead their life in the love of the Guru (according to His Will or advice), serve Him selflessly, and stay fully detached from Maya while living in the family. 2. We have to obey the Command of the Waheguru who has given us the body and the life. How can we forget Him? We have to keep Him in mind at all times. 3. We earn dignity by implanting His Naam in the heart, and we enjoy bliss by obeying Him. One receives Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru, and we connect with Waheguru through His benevolence. 4.
Those who turn their face away from the Guru (show disregard for Him) lead their life misguided and never find peace of mind. They find no shelter (spiritual support) on the earth or in the sky, and engrossed in Maya, they rot (suffer badly) (as they say: life is a bed of thorns). 5. (But the Maya – engrossed people do not deserve the full blame). Waheguru has Himself misled the world into misbelief by creating a love for the deceitful Maya in its mind. However, Maya cannot even go near the devotees of the Guru who have connected with Him. 6. Those who serve the Satguru wash away the filth of haumein and look attractive in the world (they have a sweet nature). Those who are imbued in the Guru's Shabad are pure (holy), and they lead their life in the love of the Guru (obey His Command). 7. There is only one Lord and provider in the world, oh Waheguru. I am in Your shelter; please protect me, Nanak(u), from the attacks of Maya in whatever way You please. 8.1.9.
NOTE: This was the first and the last Ashutpudi in Gaurri Baiyraagun of Mehla 3. The digit "1" in the final total represents this.

Ghur(u) jaayay paaveh(i) rung mehlee, Gur(u) maylay Hur(i) maylaayay. 5. ---------

Word Meaning: Kerhul = camel; a baby camel which runs around uncontrolled in every direction.

[In Gurbani, the human mind has been compared to the camel for two reasons. (1) The human mind wanders uncontrolled like a baby camel. (2) Camels were used as goods carriers in trading, and most of their time was spent in foreign countries and rarely at home. The human mind also takes flight in different directions and rarely stays at home (in itself). Perdaysiya = (like) a foreigner; traveller. 1. Veechaariya = (be) thoughtful. Laykha Mungiyaiy = demand the account (record of deeds). Chhudaayay = gets free. 2. Nirmula = pure. Mul(u) = filth. Pertukh(i) = clearly. Pir(u) = dear; husband. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Vichhurr(i) = separated. Choataan Khaayay = suffer. 3. Bhaal(i) = search for. Bhaalayay = have (get) searched. Oopaayay = effort; way Lubhyee = can find (get connected). Hirdaiy = in the heart. 4.
Liv Laayay = meditate with full concentration. Rung = joy; blissfulness. Mehli = the owner of the Divine Palace (Waheguru, which is the source of bliss). 5.

MEANING: Remember (keep in mind) Satguru, which is a manifestation of Waheguru, all the time, oh my camel-like mind. Pause. My mind is like a camel that travels to foreign countries and rarely stays at home (it keeps wandering like a camel and never stays in itself), so how can it connect with God, oh, my mother! However, if I am lucky to connect with the Perfect Guru, the dear Waheguru will arrive (in my mind), and will hug me tightly with Guru's grace. 1.
Be thoughtful, oh my camel-like mind, and recite Waheguru's Naam. Wherever the account of your deeds is demanded (examined), Waheguru will get you free. 2.
(Being a part of the Supreme Soul), The human mind should be extremely pure to begin with, but becomes filthy with haumein with time. Even though the dear Waheguru is always with him, the selfish, egoistic mind becomes detached from Him and suffers severely (spiritually). 3. Search for Waheguru, and have Him searched (with the help of the devotees of the Guru) in your heart, oh my camel-like mind. There is no other way to find (get connected with) Waheguru; only the Guru can "show" Him in the heart. 4. Oh, my dear, but camel-like mind, meditate on Waheguru with full concentration day and night. When one connects with the Guru, He connects one with Waheguru and allows one to enjoy the bliss of Waheguru's love in his own heart.5.

Word Meaning: Paakhund(u) = hypocrisy; show off; faking. Loabh(u) = greed. Tujaayay = give up; quit. Jum = angel of death. Dund(u) = punishment. 6.
Mayray Praan = my life; my dear. Bherm(u) = doubts; misbeliefs. Guvaayay = get rid of. Amritsar(u) = pool of Naam-Amit. Pooriya = filled to the brim. 7.
Sikh = advice. Soonaayay = listen to. Moh(u) = attachment. Pusriya = spread out. 8.
Khurch = pocket money. Put(i) = dignity. Hur(i) Durgeh = (in) Waheguru's Court. Paiynaaya = honoured. Gul(i) Laayay = hugged. 9. Munniya = by obeying. Gur Kee Kaar = as per Guru's advice. Joadurri = beg; implore. 10.
MEANING: Oh, my friend, but camel-like mind, quit your hypocrisy and greed. The hypocrites and the greedy are punished by the Angel of Death. 6.
Oh, my life, but camel-like mind, get rid of the filth of your hypocrisy and misgivings. A gathering of the holy devotees is like a pool of Naam- Amrit, which the Guru has filled to the brim; you can wash away the filth of hypocrisy and misbeliefs by taking a dip in the pool of the holy devotees (in their company), oh my mind. 7.
Oh, my dear, but camel-like mind, listen to the advice of the Guru that your attachment to your family and to your belongings around you is all short-lived because nothing goes with you after your death (so get rid of this attachment). 8.
Oh, my friend, but camel-like mind, the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, which His devotees accumulate over time, serves as their dignity (high morality) and as their journey expenses for the next world. Such devotees are honoured in Waheguru's Court, and Waheguru embraces them affectionately. 9. Oh, my camel-like mind, obey the Guru's Command, and spend your life as per the advice of the Guru. Also, beg the Guru to connect you with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 10.1.
NOTE: The two Ashutpudis of Mehla 4 are named Kerhulay for the obvious reason that Guru Ram Dass Ji addresses the human mind and compares it with a camel.

With the advice of the Guru, you will realize that the dear Waheguru resides in your heart, so "see" Him in there. 1. Keep Waheguru in your mind carefully, oh my camel-like mind. Pause. Be thoughtful, oh my camel-like mind, and watch how the follower of his mind is trapped in the strong net of Maya (due to his attachment with the family and his wealth). On the other hand, the devotee of the Guru is free from all such attachments because of Waheguru's Naam that he always keeps in mind. 2. Oh, my dear, but camel-like mind, search for Satguru in the gathering of holy devotees, and recite Waheguru's Naam in their company. Waheguru's Naam accompanies you everywhere. 3. Oh, my camel-like mind, if you join the holy gathering, you could be very lucky to have a kind sight of Waheguru on you. (One cannot get freedom from Maya with one's own efforts), But a blissful sight of Waheguru can get one freedom from Maya, so keep the Guru's advice in mind all the time. 4. Oh, my dear, but camel-like mind, save Waheguru's Light in your body (heart). With the benevolence of Waheguru, which is a lucky gift, the Guru can show You Waheguru's Naam in your heart, which is like having all the nine mythical treasures of the world. 5.

Oh, my camel-like mind, you can be highly lucky if you accumulate highly valuable Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) in your mind. The Guru will give the sword of Divine Knowledge in your hand, with which you can kill the fear of the Angel of death. 7. The treasure of Waheguru's Naam is in your heart, oh my camel-like mind. Only the individuals with misbeliefs search for Him outside. MEANING: As long as the man feels conceited (of his possessions), the foolish wanders around (spends time) in ignorance. But, when he becomes the dust of the others' feet (becomes humble by losing his ego), he recognizes Waheguru in everybody's heart (and treats everybody equally). 1. My Satguru has kindly bestowed humility on me, as a result of which I feel detached from Maya. Now, my mind is peaceful (does not wander, and has no bad feelings towards anyone), and I am enjoying myself in comfort. Pause. As long as the man considers others bad, he gets trapped in evil thoughts about them. But when he gets rid of discriminatory feelings toward others, then nobody has any animosity toward him. 2.

When a man acts selfishly, he gets into big trouble (because of his possible immoral or illegal acts). But when he realizes that everybody has been created by the same God, he gives up all his jealousy. 3. When the man ties him up (is strongly bonded) by the affection for his family, he keeps taking births and dying, and the Angel of death always keeps a watchful eye on him. But when all his misbeliefs vanish, there is no longer a gap between him and Waheguru (he gets connected with Waheguru). 4.
As long as the man discriminates between people, he suffers (moral) punishment and other troubles. But, when he realizes that there is only one (single) Waheguru (who is operating everywhere), he acquires all the understanding (clarity) (and gives up discrimination). 5. When he rushes to do tasks related to Maya (to acquire more of it), he does not get contented; and his thirst for Maya is never quenched. But when he gets detached from it (disregards it), Maya itself rushes to follow him. 6.
When the man gets connected with the Guru by the grace of Waheguru, his mind-temple is lighted up with the lamp of Divine Knowledge. At that point, he realizes the value of Waheguru's Naam (which is present in his heart). He also recognizes what to acquire (Waheguru's Naam, humility, service to others, honest living, etc., etc.), and what to lose (get rid of) (haumein, lust, discrimination, etc.) in life. 7.
Such a devotee also realizes that there is only one Supreme Being (Waheguru), who does everything and makes others do what He wishes. He, Himself, grants the wisdom, the thinking, and the ability to tell good from bad. He is not far away; He is very close to and is with everyone. I beg Him for His praise and for His love, oh Nanak. 8.1.

The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, gets his holy praise spread around. Such a devotee's heart is turned towards God (he listens to, and obeys His Command). 7.
Satguru casts His kind sight on everybody and implants Waheguru's Mantra (Naam) in their heart. For devotees of the Perfect Guru, singing Waheguru's continuous praise becomes the sweet and delicious food for their souls, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Rid = heart. Dhaaraiy = implant. Punch Juna = the five demons. Nivaaraiy = get rid of; remove. Dus Indri = five senses and their five effects. Vaas(i) = under control. Aatmaiy = in the soul. Pergaas = enlightenment. 1.

Drirrta = firm determination; self-control. Duyya = kindness. Muyya = kind favour. Pause. Doosht = evil; enemy. Smaanaiy = equal; the same. Boalun = talking. Giyanaiy = about Divine Knowledge. Paykhun = seeing. Dhiyaan = attention; focus. 2. Sehjay = in the higher spiritual state where the mind is above the effects of Maya (blissful mind). Baiyraag = detachment from Maya (and love for God). Husna = feeling happy; enjoying life. Choop = silence; in sadness. Jupna = reciting Naam. 3. Bhojun = have a meal. Bhaaou = affection. Dooraaou = hiding deceitful acts. Nisung(u) = fully detached from Maya. 4.

MEANING: An individual who implants Waheguru's Naam in the heart gets rid of the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and conceit) and keeps the ten senses under control and gets his soul (mind) enlightened. 1. But only that individual acquires such control over his senses to whom Waheguru kindly does this favour. Pause. Such an individual treats his friends and the enemy the same way. Whatever he talks about is about Divine Knowledge only, and he listens only to Waheguru's Naam (His praise). He sees (pays attention to) only those things that prompt his mind to think about Waheguru. 2. Whether he is awake or asleep, his mind is always in the higher spiritual state (blissful), and his mind stays calm (at peace) no matter what happens to him (He accepts the Will of Waheguru in happiness and in sadness). Whether he is fully detached from Maya or he is enjoying the pleasures of life, he is always in high spirits (connected with Waheguru). He stays connected with Waheguru whether he is quiet or reciting His Naam. 3. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, he always displays affection (sweet behaviour) whether he is eating (even if the meal is not tasty), or dealing with people. Connected with Waheguru, he has eradicated any secretive behaviour (he does not engage in deceit). He easily (without any special effort) connects with the Guru and with the fully detached Waheguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Greh Meh(i) = in the family. Oodaasi = to leave one's family to avoid bonds. Doobidha = indecisiveness; wavering of mind. Anund(u) = blissfulness. Bhaytiyo = met with. Permanund = the source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). 5. Jea Ko = spiritual. Daan(u) = donation; gift. Rusiya = became sweet; bloomed. Abinaashi = immortal (Waheguru). Vusiya = lived. 6. Aasun(u) = seat to rest. Usthir = stable; eternal. Bhaaya = liked. Unhut Shabad(u) = the auto-playing Divine music (Shabad). Vujaaya = played. Roonjhoonkaar = slow and sweet. Soohaaya = producing a soothing effect. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Smaaya = got absorbed; appeared. 7. Puriyo Kerma = showered with kindness. Bhuyya = happened. Sach(u) = Truth. Dherma = morality. Koorbaaniy = offer oneself for sacrifice. 8.

MEANING: Being connected with Waheguru, one is fully detached from the world, even while living in the family. Being connected with Waheguru, he is never doubtful about what decisions to make (he knows right from wrong) and gets rid of the wavering of his mind (brings it under control). Because of his union with the source of supreme bliss, Waheguru, he is always blissful. 5. He drinks the Naam-Amrit, stays in the state of blissfulness, and gives the gift of Naam to others, which raises their spiritual level. His mind blooms when he talks about the immortal Waheguru, which has been embedded in his mind. 6. Because of his union with Waheguru, the seat (foundation) of his mind becomes immortal, and he feels as if the auto-playing Divine music of Shabad is playing in his mind. Waheguru appears in his heart, and he feels as if he is listening to very soothing, soft music, which produces bliss in his mind. 7. When Waheguru becomes kind to a devotee, he is connected with the Guru, who implants the Truth (Waheguru's Naam) and high morality in the devotee's heart, as a result of which, he attains the spiritual state of blissfulness. Such a state cannot be described in words; only the devotee enjoys it. The slave, Nanak, gladly offers His life to (to serve) such a devotee. 8. 3.

NOTE: In this Shabad, Guru Arjun Dev Ji emphasizes that everything in this universe is perishable except Waheguru's Naam. So, man must not get too attached with the world, he should rather get attached to Waheguru.

Gaurri Mehla 5: Pruthmay gerbh vaas tay turiya. Poottur klut kootumb sung(i) jooriya. Bhojun(u) anik perkaar, buhou kuppray. Surpur guvun(u) kurehngay bupray. 1. Word Meaning: Pruthmay = first of all. Gerbh Vaas = life in the womb. Turiya = pass by uneventfully; escaped. Klut = wife. Kootumb = family. Jooriya = connected with. Anik Perkaar = of many kinds. Surpur = definitely. Guvun = go away; vanish. Bupray = helpless. 1. Kuvun Usthaan = which place? Traiy = go away; pass by. Shabad = advice. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Huraiy = get stolen; remove; get rid of. Pause. Inderpuri, Brahmpuri, Shivpuri, etc. = cities (kingdoms) of the respective gods. According to Hindu belief, a devotee of a particular god goes to that god's kingdom after death. Surpur = for sure. Nihchul = permanently. Binus(i) = vanish. Bitaala = out of tune; misguided from the right path. 2.

Gir = mountain. Tur = trees; forest. Dhern(i) = earth. Gugun = sky. Ruv(i) = the sun. Sus(i) = the moon. Paavuk = fire. Neeraaray (Neer) = waters, oceans. Bert = fasts (rituals). Bhayda = different faiths. Bayda = the Vedas. 3.
Teeruth = holy places. Dayv = gods. Dayhoora = temples. Pothi = religious books. Maala = rosary. Tilk = anointment on the forehead. Soach Paak = pure (holy) food (kitchen). Hoti = performers of huvuns (a Hindu ritual in which fire is built while chanting some mantras and feeding the fire with special items). Dundout = prostration; lying down on the belly to express respect. Persaadun Bhoga = sweets offered to please the gods. Guvun Kuraiygo = will vanish. 4.
MEANING: What place is there which never goes away (does not perish)? What advice is there by which one can get rid of their evil thinking? Pause.
The man first escapes from (leaves) his mother's womb safely, and with time, gets attached to his sons, wife, and the rest of the family. He enjoys many different kinds of foods, and wears different (beautiful) clothes. (But he does not realize) that they are all helpless against time, and will all perish for sure (including himself). 1.
One must eventually die even in Inderpuri; he is not there permanently even in Brahampuri; and will die for sure even in Shivpuri (Hindus believe that after death, a devotee goes to the kingdom of the god of which he is the devotee). (Not realizing this reality), and misguided from the right path, the man still indulges in Maya, having three effects, and suffers spiritual death. 2. (The man does not realize that) The mountains, the forests, the earth, the sky, the stars, the sun, the moon, the air, fire, and waters (oceans) will all perish. The days, nights, rituals of different faiths, all the religious books, including the Shastras and the Vedas, will perish. 3.
People undertake pilgrimages, go to temples to worship gods, and read (or listen to) religious books, wear dhotis (a long piece of cloth which they wrap around their body), rosaries, anointments on foreheads, prepare meals in special ways to make them holy (a misplaced belief), perform huvuns, prostrate to show respect for the gods, and offer sweets to please gods; but no such deeds can save them - and all the people and all the places will perish. 4.

Nihchul thaan Sadh sung(i) turaiy. 8.4.
Word Meaning: Jaat Vern = the caste system (in India). Toork = Turk. Pus(u) = cattle; animals. Punkhi = birds. Anik Joani(i) = countless life forms. Jindu = living beings. Pasaara= expansion. Aakaara = bodies. 5. Sehj = state of blissfulness. Tut = root; Waheguru. Giyaana = Knowledge. Nihchul = permanent. Thaana = place. Tuhaa = there. Rusaiy = gets sweetened; feels blissful. Unbhuou = worry free. 6.

Bherma = misbelief. Soag = grief; sedness. Chinta = worry. Aavun Jaavun = birth and death. Mirt = death. Anund = blissfulness. Unhut = everlasting. Aakhaaray = performing grounds. Aadharay = supported by. 7.
Parbrahm = Waheguru. Paar = the other end. Turaiy = is salvaged. 8.
MEANING: People of all castes, including (even the top caste Brahmans), the Turks (Muslims), the Hindus, all animals, the birds, and other countless forms of living beings, and all the visible expanse, will perish. 5. The only place that is permanent is the holy gathering where Waheguru's praise is sung and His virtues discussed. The devotees enjoy the bliss of a high spiritual state (above the effects of Maya) there. The place is like a city where the residents have no worries. 6.
There is no misgiving, grief or worry in the high spiritual state; and there is no death and rebirth. The place is like a performing ground where the devotees sing Waheguru's praise and enjoy permanent bliss; Waheguru's praise is their food for life. 7.
Waheguru has no limits, so who can describe Him? The only thing that can be said about Waheguru is that the individual to whom He is kind is connected to the permanent gathering of the holy devotees, where he also finds salvation, and becomes a permanent constituent of that holy gathering. 8.4

Word Meaning: Soora = valiant (morally powerful). Poora = perfect. Vudiyaayee = honour; praise. 1. Aiysa = such. Doobidha = mental state of indecisiveness (due to doubts and misgivings). Guvaavaiy = get rid of. Raaj = family life. Joag = yog = detachment from the world. Kmaavaiy = lead life. Pause.

Bhuou = fear; worry. Smaah(i) = gets absorbed. Trishna = hunger for desires. Boojhaiy = is killed (feels contented). Sijhaiy = becomes successful. 2.

Dhunvunta = (spiritually) wealthy. Putvunta = respectable. Jutee = celibate. Gutee = higher spiritual state; salvation. 3. Gunee = credible. Nihchul = permanent. Dhunee = controller; master. Undin(u) = always. Jaaga = awake; is alert against the attacks of Maya. 4. Jeevun Mookta = free from the bonds of Maya while living in the family. Nirmul = pure. Joogta = way of life. Soogiyaani = is enlightened. Sehj Dhiyaani = is focused on the state of blissfulness (stays in that state). 5.

Thaayayn Na Puraiy = is not recognized. Koat(i) Kerm = millions of rituals. Mitaiy = erased; end. Jum = angel of death. 6. Giyaan(u) = enlightenment. Jootth(i) = impurity. Maiyla = filthy, immoral. Jaula = separated; disconnected. 7.

Kirpanidh(i) = the treasure of benevolence (Waheguru). Khulaasee = freedom (from Maya). Sidh(i) = success. Braham Beechaari = thoughtful of Waheguru. 8.

MEANING: Is there someone there who can kill (get rid of) his doobidha (state of indecisiveness due to some doubts or misgivings) of his mind? (Only a rare individual is able to do so). Such a lucky devotee leads a life of complete detachment from Maya while living in the family. Pause.

Only the individual who destroys his doobidha is a real gallant (morally powerful), and a perfect man. Such an individual earns respect everywhere and gets rid of all his discomforts. 1. Such an individual has no fear (worries) (because he knows right from wrong, and does nothing criminal or sinful). He stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. He becomes fully contented and is left with no desire for Maya as a result of which, he is declared successful in Waheguru's Court. 2.

An individual who kills his doobidha is wealthy in the real sense and earns respect. Such an individual is the real celibate and attains salvation. 3.

Such an individual is considered to be among the few credible people because he possesses the (Naam-wealth), which is permanently his (never leaves him). Such an individual is lucky, and he is always alert to Maya's attacks. 4.

Such an individual is free from the bonds of Maya even while living in the family, and his lifestyle (his dealings with people) is pure and honest. Such an individual has acquired the Divine Knowledge (is enlightened), and he always stays in the state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya). 5. Without destroying his doobidha, a man's efforts to connect with Waheguru are not recognized (not given credit in Waheguru's Court), no matter how many countless rituals he performs, including recitation of some mantras, and acts of self-affliction (to please gods). Without destroying his doobidha, the angel of death does not spare him, and his cycle of rebirths is never broken. 6. Without killing his doobidha, a man does not get enlightenment, and the impurity of his mind never gets washed away. Without killing his doobidha, a man's thinking, and his deeds, are all filthy (immoral), and he stays disconnected with God. 7. However, when the source of benevolence, Waheguru, becomes kind to a devotee, he gets freedom from the bonds of Maya, and he is successful in every respect. An individual, whose doobidha has been destroyed by the Guru, begins to ponder on (sing praise of) the virtues of Waheguru. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Jooraiy = connect with. Subh Ko = everybody. Nihchul = unwavering. Cheet(u) = mind. Viyaapaiy = afflicts; troubles. Kaahrra = sufferering due to some pressure. Nistaara = freedom from all bonds; salvation. 1.
Kaaj(i) = helpful in achieving objective. Hoar(u) = anything else. Pause.

Dooniyadaar = family men. Gavaar = oh, foolish. Neech Kool(u) = of very low caste. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment. Oodhreh(i) = finds salvation. 2.
Koat(i) = millions. Mujun = dips in holy waters. Dhiyaan = in mind. Poonn = deeds of goodness as per the Hindu holy books. Bani = words of praise (for God). Gur Tay Bidh(i) = the way (to connect with God) as explained by the Guru. 3.
Chayt = remember. Binus = destroyed. Hayt(u) = attachment. Abinashi = immortal. Ruch = get absorbed; get imbued. Ram Kaiy Rung(u) = love for God. 4.
Kaam(i) = working for; serving. Bhookh = appetite (for Maya). Joheh(i) = watch deeply. Doot = agent (of death). Vud Gumur = respect; praise. Umur(u) = immortal. 5. Chaakur = servant; devotee. Daan = punishment. Baan = evil habit; vice. Duftur = office; God's Court. Laykha = accountability. Bisaykha = in a special way. 6. Oon = shortage. Anaykeh(i) Bhaant(i) = in many different ways. Drisht(i) = sight. Nihaal = feel blissful. Ghaal = serve diligently. 7. Chutur(u) = clever; wise. Moorra = foolish. Heen(u) = lacking; weak. Soora = powerful. Jit(u) = whatever. Bhaaga = fortune. 8.

MEANING: Because nothing else is of any help to you in achieving the objective of life (union with God), get connected with Waheguru, oh my mind. Pause.
When a man connects with Waheguru, he treats everyone like his friend (because he realizes that everyone has been created by the same Waheguru, so they are brothers), and his mind finds peace (quits doddering). When a man connects with Waheguru, his mind becomes so strong that no pressure (of grief) troubles him, and he attains salvation. 1. All those wealthy family men, who seem to have high status in society (and one acts as subservient to them with the expectation that they would help him in need), are of no use (in the spiritual world) to him, oh foolish man! On the other hand, if a devotee of Waheguru belongs to the so-called low caste, people listen to him and find salvation in a moment. 2. People perform a number of rituals to please gods (but achieve nothing spiritually). If one listens to Waheguru's Naam, he is better off than taking millions of dips in holy waters; and meditating on His Naam is better than millions of ritualistic worshipping. Similarly, listening to Waheguru's praise is better than performing millions of good deeds, as defined in the Hindu holy books. A man acquires the results of millions of such "holy" deeds when he follows the Guru's advice to connect with Waheguru. 3. Remember Waheguru again, and again in your mind, which eradicates all your attachments with Maya, oh my friend. The immortal Waheguru is always with you, so get absorbed (Imbued) in His love. 4.
Serving Waheguru (obeying His Command) kills all the devotee's appetite for Maya (he becomes contented), as a result of which the agent of death cannot keep an evil eye on him. One earns big respect by serving Waheguru and becomes immortal (by merging into Him). 5. A slave (devotee) of Waheguru has no evil habit (vice), and suffers no punishment on moral grounds. Nobody questions a devotee's account of deeds in Waheguru's Court. He is given special treatment. 6.
Waheguru has no shortage of anything, and He alone manifests in many different forms. Serve Waheguru whose kind sight makes one blissful, oh my mind. 7.
Nobody is wise or foolish, and nobody is weak or valiant (mentally powerful). One does exactly what he is made to do by Waheguru. Only some fortunate individual (whom Waheguru is kind to) serves him, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Serp = snake. Aarjaari = long life span. Saakut = money-lover; disconnected from God. Bisaari = by forgetting. 1. Nimukh = moment. Laakh Koat(i) Dinus = millions of days; forever. Thir = unwavering. Theeya = becomes. Dhrig = despicable. Kerm Kraas = ritualistic deeds. Kaag = crow. Butan = mouth, beak. Bishta = feces. Vaas = dwelling. 2. Kookur Kaam = deeds of dogs. Baysooa = prostitute. Poot = son. Ninaam = without name (of the father). 3. Seeng = horns. Chhutaara = ram. Koor(u) = lies. Kaara = Kaala = black. 4. Gerdhubh = donkey. Niyaayee= like. Thaan Bhrisht = filthy (dark) mind. 5. Hurkaaya Kookur = mad dog. Loabhi = greedy. Bundh(u) = stoppage; control. 6. Aatumghaati = killer of own soul. Neech = immoral. Kool(u) = (high) clan. Bhuyya = became. Jugut = world. Traaya = salvaged. 8.

MEANING: The life of a man who does not remember Waheguru, is like that of a long-living snake. (Just as a snake has poison in his mouth, the follower of his mind, who ignores Waheguru, has poisonous talk in his mouth). 1.

A man, who spends even a small moment remembering Waheguru, feels as if he has spent millions of days in blissfulness as his mind becomes stable (quits wavering). Pause. Without keeping Waheguru in mind, all those rituals that a man performs are condemnable (not given any credit in Waheguru's Court). Like a crow which has feces (filth) in his beak, a money-lover person has filth (lies, deceit, and bitterness) in his mouth. 2

Without remembering Waheguru, the man gets involved in tasks that befit only a dog (becomes greedy, steals things, and attacks others). Like the son of a prostitute who does not have his father's name, the money-minded man is without a spiritual father (guru, and receives no honour anywhere). 3.

A man, who ignores Waheguru, is as worthless as the horns of a ram (who uses them only to fight). The lover of money tells lies, as a result of which his face is blackened (earns bad name). 4.

Like a donkey, which hauls heavy loads every day, and uses no brains, the man, who ignores Waheguru, carries the load of misdeeds and leads his life with dark mind. 5. Like a mad dog, which cannot control his madness, and turns others mad whom he bites, a money-minded individual, who ignores Waheguru, cannot control his greed (even if he has countless money), and makes others, who deal with him, greedy too. 6. Without remembering Waheguru, a money-minded man kills his soul (his soul is dead), and he is considered a low-caste (an immoral person) in Waheguru's court even if he belongs to a high caste in society. 7.
When Waheguru is kind to some of His devotees, he connects them to the company of holy men. The Guru salvages the whole world, oh Nanak. 8.7.

Jaagiya Kerm = fortune came to life (to the fore). Bhaytiya = connected with. 8.

MEANING: I attained the supreme spiritual state (complete detachment with Maya) with Guru's advice which saved my honour (against the attacks of Maya) as well. 1. I recited (implanted in the heart) Waheguru's Naam with the advice of the Guru, and was recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court with the grace of the Guru. Pause.

With the advice of the Guru, I recited Waheguru's Naam with my tongue; and now I have Waheguru's sweet Amrit-Naam even in my routine conversation. 2.
With Guru's advice, I have gotten rid of my selfishness and ego, and with Guru's kindness, I am enjoying a great respect (as a devotee of the Guru). 3.
All my misgivings and doubts have been cleared with Guru's advice, and now I see (feel) Waheguru everywhere. 4.
With Guru's advice, I am completely detached from Maya while enjoying the family life. Actually, the whole world can be salvaged in the company of the Guru. 5.
I have achieved all my objectives successfully with Guru's advice, and feel as if I have acquired all the nine mythical treasures of Kuber. 6.
Whoever takes my Guru's shelter, gets the noose of the Angel of death around his neck completely cut (he is not reborn again, as he merges into Waheguru). 7.

MEANING: Kindly connect me with You, and implant Your Naam in my heart, oh Waheguru. Love for anything else, other than the Naam (Maya), is condemnable. Pause.
Anything, that the man wears and eats without keeping Waheguru's Naam in heart, is like the greed of the dog which sticks his mouth in the garbage and does not realize what is clean and what is dirty. (Similarly, such an individual does not realize what is moral and what is immoral. Only Waheguru's Naam teaches morality). 1.
Like the decorations on a dead body which are useless now for him to enjoy, none of the deeds that the man performs without Waheguru's Naam in mind, helps him in the spiritual world. 2. If a man enjoys different tastes (luxuries) in life without Waheguru's Naam, he does not get any real comfort (peace of mind) even in his dream; he rather suffers from discomforts (ailments) of the body. 3.

If a man does not cultivate love for Waheguru's Naam, he will definitely go to hell even if he has performed millions of religious rituals. 5.
An individual, who has not worshipped Waheguru's Naam in life, is a prisoner in the court of the Angel of death, like a thief. 6.
A man may have a huge collection of decorated stages, facilities for worship, and may have given millions in donations to impress people, they do not help him in the spiritual world, because they are all hollow if he does not have Waheguru's Naam in mind. 7.
But nobody can have Waheguru's Naam in his heart with his own efforts. Only that individual recites Waheguru's Naam who has been given it kindly by Waheguru Himself, oh Nanak. 8.10.

Word Meaning: Moondh(u) = young, attractive woman (human being). Doohaylurria = troubled; in discomfort. Sa Dhun = that woman (human being). Doobliya = feeble; weak. Pir = husband; Waheguru. Haavaiy = pangs of separation. Theeyee = became. Kayv = How? Seegaar = adornment. Mitth rus = sweet tastes. Bhoag = enjoy. Jhootth(i) = false, temporary. Na Laykhay = do not contribute to good qualities; they are irrelevant. Maiy Mut(i) = impaired thinking, as if drunk. Jobun = beauty. Gerb = conceit. Gaali = rotten. Doodha Thunee = union with husband. 1. Nimaanurriya = weak; low self-esteem. Dhunee = Lord; Waheguru. Oordhaaray = implanting in the heart. Naah = Lord. Ghur Vaas(u) = mind staying in itself. Sukhi Suhayliyaan = close friends. Vuseh(i) Saach(i) = live in (connected with) Waheguru. Sohayliya = in comfort. Suntokh(i) = in contentment. Mayla = union. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. 2.

NOTE: “Dhunee” normally means a wealthy man. But in Punjabi, it also means the master (Lord), the expert, or the supreme. For example: dhunee of the sword, dhunee of wisdom, or dhunee of luck.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being, which is the creator, and is a living power. He can be realized only by the grace of the Guru.

A man (devotee of Waheguru), who suffers pangs of separation in Waheguru’s love, spends the night of life in discomfort and cannot enjoy sleep (a comfortable life). Such a devotee feels weak during separation because he does not know how to “see” Waheguru (get connected with Him). For such a devotee, all adornments, sweet tastes, and enjoying different foods are all false and irrelevant (they do not provide mental satisfaction). The human bride feels intoxicated by her beauty and is rotten with conceit. She cannot have union with Waheguru. She cannot enjoy sleep (comforts of life) without union with Waheguru; but only the Guru can connect her with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1. Without the Lord-Husband, the woman (human being) feels weak (lack of confidence); how can she feel comfortable without implanting Waheguru’s Naam in her heart? If you ask the devotee friends who have realized Waheguru, they will tell you that the mind does not stay in itself (does not find peace, and keeps wandering) until Waheguru comes to dwell in your heart. Without Waheguru’s

Naam in the heart, one cannot win Waheguru's affection. One enjoys comfort (bliss) only by connecting with Waheguru. With Guru's advice, a devotee comes to realize that one can enjoy union with Waheguru when he is fully content by having Waheguru's Naam at heart. Such a devotee never forgets Waheguru's Naam, and with the Naam at heart, he stays in the state of blissfulness, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Pir(u) Raavayha = let us recite Waheguru's Naam. Sunayha = message; wish. Saacha = Waheguru. Nikus(i) Jaatou = running around (wavering mind). Usthir = stable; peaceful. Jaam(i) = when. Nuoutun = Nuvaylou = new; fresh. Sehj(i) = with mind at rest (peace). 3. Ichh= wish. Poonni = fulfilled. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Saajun = friend (Waheguru). Vur(u) = husband (Waheguru). Naari = senses. Mungul(u) = song of happiness. Rehusi = joyful. Moondh = young, attractive woman (human being). Ommaho = zestful. Saajun = noble qualities. Doosht = evil qualities. Viyaapay = afflicted; felt depressed. Laaho = benefit. Ker Joarr(i) = folded hands. Sadhun = woman. Rus(i) bhinniya = soaking in sweetness. Kureh(i) Ruliyaan = enjoy. 4.

MEANING: Let us get together and sing Waheguru's praise, oh my devotee friends. With Guru's advice, Guru's Shabad, I will write the message expressing my wish (to get connected) to Waheguru. The devotee, who receives Guru's Shabad (implants it in the heart), "sees" Waheguru all around him. But the followers of their mind only repent. When a devotee recognizes Waheguru, his fast-wandering mind becomes peaceful. The wisdom granted to the devotee by Waheguru is always fresh, and his love for Waheguru is always new (never fades). With Waheguru's kindness, the devotee is always blissful, so let us join together and sing His praise, oh Nanak. 3.

(I am lucky) As my wish has been fulfilled, my friend Waheguru has come to dwell in my heart. Enjoying the company of the Husband, Waheguru, all the women (my senses) have rallied to sing the song of joy. Overjoyed with the union with Waheguru, the devotee feels zestful, and her mind sings the song of happiness. With union with Waheguru, all the good qualities flourish while the evil qualities wither away. By reciting Waheguru's Naam, the devotee earns the benefit (wealth) of Waheguru's love. Such a devotee always prays to Waheguru with folded hands (to express her gratitude), and her days and nights are soaked in the sweetness of Waheguru's presence. My wish has been fulfilled, and now I am enjoying my union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.1

Word Meaning: Naah = Lord. Aikulrri = alone (without any guidance). Bun = forest-like (world). Kiyoun = how? Dheeraiygi = pick up courage; control weakening mind. Vaypervaahay = carefree; indifferent. Dhun = woman; devotee. Baajhoun = without. Bikhum = difficult; uncomfortable. Ghunayriya = immensely. Bhaavaiy = like. Saaray = enquires about. Koorlaayay = wails. 1.

Chhodiurri = divorced; ditched. Rus(i) = with sweetness. Soohaavaiy = becomes adorable. Put(i) = respect. Deepuk = lamp; Guru's Shabad. Dayh = body; mind. Oojaaro = enlightened. Soohayli = comfortable. Saaraiy = takes care; recites and keeps in mind. Raavi = enjoyed (the union). Bigsi = blooms. Bhaani = liked. 2.

MEANING: I am alone (without any support or guidance) in this wilderness-like world; listen to my request, oh Lord, Waheguru. How can such a devotee control his mind (find peace), especially when Waheguru is indifferent to her? The woman (devotee) cannot survive without the Lord, and the night of her life is very difficult (painful). Listen to me, oh Waheguru; I like You, and cannot go to sleep (rest) without You. There is nobody other than You that will enquire about my wellbeing; being alone (without any support), I am wailing (cry in repentance). A devotee can be connected to Waheguru only by the benevolence of the Guru; she suffers without dear Waheguru. 1.

Just like a woman who has been ditched by her husband, finds it difficult to be reunited, who can connect the disconnected devotee with Waheguru? (Answer): With the Shabad of the Guru, the devotee acquires noble qualities with which she becomes attractive to Waheguru, and gets connected with Him because of her sweetness and love for Him. When a devotee adorns herself with noble qualities, her mind is enlightened with the Guru's Shabad, and she gets respect in Waheguru's Court. Listen, oh my friends, a devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam and keeps His virtues in mind, spends her life in comfort. When Satguru connects a devotee with Waheguru, her heart blooms, and she always recites Waheguru's Amrit-Naam, and Waheguru enjoys her. A devotee enjoys Waheguru's company (with the grace of the Guru) only if Waheguru likes her, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mohini = captivating. Nighuriya = homeless mind (which wanders away all the time and does not stay in itself). Koorr(i) = in false affairs. Mootthi = robbed (of good qualities). Gul Jayvurriya = rope around the neck; bonds of Maya (which result in future trouble). Ut(i) = extremely. Tis = that (Waheguru). Poonn = noble deeds (as per the Hindu beliefs). Daan = donations (to Brahmans). Naavun = dips in holy waters. Untar Mul(u) = filth of mind. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Hutth(i) = misdirected determination of mind. Nigreh(i) = control on senses. Baybaanaiy = wilderness. Sach Ghur(u) = Mehl(u) = Waheguru's residence. Sinjaapaiy = recognizes; reaches. Doobidha = indecisiveness of mind; unsure. 3. Sacha Vapaaro = the true business. Laaha = profit; added benefit. Vukkhur = merchandise. Soojhaiy = think of. Khin(u) Khino = every moment. Perkh(i) = by careful examination. Laykha = account. Kerm(i) = benevolence. Muha Rus = great tasting. 4.

MEANING: The captivating Maya causes the human mind to be weak, which wanders in all directions and does not stay in its home (in itself). Captivated by Maya, the human mind gets strongly bonded in the false affairs involving Maya, and is robbed of good qualities. The bond of Maya, which (unfortunately) is extremely dear to the man, is like a noose around the neck of the man, which cannot be cut without the Guru. Countless noble deeds (as per the Hindu belief), donations to Brahmans, and dips in holy waters cannot wash away the filth of the mind. But a man who ponders on the Shabad of the Guru and develops love for Waheguru becomes His devotee. Many people try to attain a high spiritual state by controlling their senses (sensual pleasures), going to the wilderness, and using their misdirected determination of mind, but nobody can attain such a state without Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's Residence can be reached only by Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. How can a man, who is caught in indecisiveness (doubts and misgivings), find Waheguru's Residence? 3. Your Naam is everlasting, and so are the words of Your praise, oh Waheguru. A devotee merges into You by pondering on Your Shabad, and thus becomes immortal too. Your residence is everlasting, and trading in Your Naam makes the devotee immortal too. Trading (dealing) in Your Naam is very sweet, and the devotee gets the added benefit (wealth) of Your worship, oh Waheguru. I cannot think of any other merchandise than Your Naam, worth trading in. So, recite Waheguru's Naam every single moment, oh my friends. Waheguru examines one's account of his deeds kindly, and one merges into Him with His kindness. Waheguru's Naam is sweetest of all, and one realizes Waheguru with the grace of the Perfect Guru, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Sa Dhun = woman (devotee). Binou = request; beg. Saaray = keeps in mind; recites. Khin(u) Pul(u) = a short moment. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Palace (connecting with Him). Tishna Ugun(i) = the fire of desires. Boojhaayiyaiy = put out. Uver(u) = other. Sayviyaiyn = by serving; obeying. 1.
Raiyn(i) = night (of life). Soohaylurriyay = comforting. Siyoun = with. Bhaaou = respectful affection. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Guvaayay = lose; get rid of. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Jee Kee Mayli = connected by soul. Samaaou = get absorbed (imbued). Saari = remember. Kunt = husband (Waheguru). Naah = Lord; husband. Haaro = necklace. 2.
MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being, who is the creator of the universe and is omnipresent. He can be realized only by the grace of the Guru. The devotee recollects Waheguru's virtues and begs (for His holy sight). She cannot survive even for a moment without dear Waheguru. She cannot survive without Him for a second, but cannot get connected with Him without the grace of the Guru. The devotee has to listen to and act on the Guru's advice to put out the fire of worldly desires. There is none other than Waheguru, worthy of worship; one cannot have any comfort without serving Waheguru. However, only that devotee is connected with Waheguru, whom He kindly connects with the Guru, who, in turn, connects the devotee with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.
The night of life of that devotee becomes comforting who applies her mind to Waheguru and serves the Guru (obeys Him) with affection and dedication to get rid of her selfishness and ego. Such a devotee gets rid of her haumein and sings Waheguru's praise all the time with deep affection. In the company of her friends who are connected with Waheguru from the depths of their hearts, she stays absorbed in Guru's Shabad. A devotee who cultivates love for Waheguru's Naam and keeps Waheguru's virtues in mind is loved by her husband (Waheguru). The devotee, who is dear to Waheguru, wears the necklace of Waheguru's Naam around her neck (recites His Naam with her tongue all the time), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhun = woman (human being). Aikulurri = lonely. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Mootthi = cheated of good qualities. Kraaray = powerful; potent. Dootur = difficult (to swim across). Taaray = ferries across; salvage. Moh(i) = attachment. Khooaayee = Suffer due to misguidance = Vigooti. Koorr(i) = dealing in perishables. Mooti = rejected. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Raati = imbued. Sehjay = in the blissful state. Maati = intoxicated. Smaayay = absorbed. Kaamun(i) = woman (human being). Rung(i) = in love. 3. Bherm(u) = doubts; misgivings. Chookaayay = remove; clear. Iyoun = like this. Ghor = dense. Undhaar = darkness. Mug(u) = (the right) path. Veechaaray = ponder on. Vur(u) = husband. Bhaayay = love. 4.

MEANING: The devotee feels lonely (without any support) without the dear Lord. Without Guru's potent Shabad, she is robbed (cheated out) of virtuous qualities because of her love for the other (Maya). Without the dear Guru's Shabad, the woman (human being) is misled by her love for Maya; and there is no one capable of ferrying her across the sea of Maya, because it is next to impossible to swim across it with one's own efforts. The woman, who is misled into believing she is attached to perishables, is rejected by her dear (Waheguru) and cannot access His residence (unable to connect with Him). But the devotee, who is imbued in the Guru's Shabad and is intoxicated in the state of blissfulness, is absorbed in Waheguru's love. Such a devotee is always imbued in Waheguru's love, and is connected by Waheguru with Him, oh Nanak. 3.

One connects with Waheguru only if He, Himself, connects her to Him; otherwise, no one is capable of doing so. Without her own dear Guru, who else can remove the doubts of the devotee? The only way to get connected with Waheguru is to get one's doubts removed by the Guru, and then the devotee enjoys blissfulness, oh my mother. Without the Guru, there is dense darkness (of ignorance), and the devotee cannot find the true path of life. The devotee, who ponders on the Guru's Shabad, gets imbued in the love of the Guru (Waheguru) and feels intoxicated in the spiritual state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya). With Guru's love at heart, such a devotee is gifted with Waheguru as her husband, oh Nanak. 4.1.

MEANING: I feel very sad without my dear (Waheguru); how can I live without Him, oh my mother? I cannot sleep, and don't feel comfortable even in my (beautiful) clothes without my dear (Waheguru). The devotee feels good about her clothes (adornment) only when she applies her mind to Waheguru's Naam with the advice of the Guru; and she stays married, and is hugged (loved) by Waheguru when she serves the Guru. When a devotee is connected with Waheguru by the Guru's Shabad, Waheguru enjoys her love, and she has the added benefit (wealth) of His Naam. Waheguru loves that devotee who recollects His virtues, oh Nanak. 1.

The devotee, who ponders on Guru's Shabad, is imbued in His love day and night, and enjoys bliss in the company of her dear (Waheguru). The only way to get connected with Waheguru is to get rid of one's haumein with Guru's Shabad. That devotee is always imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam, and stays married (is loved by Waheguru). When a devotee stays connected with the Guru, she is able to get rid of her misgivings, and keeps stitched to Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. Such a devotee wins Waheguru as her husband, and forgets all her discomforts, oh Nanak. 2.

Sookhdaata = the source of all comforts (Waheguru). Ghur(i) = in the heart. Sohaagun(i) = married (and loved). 4.

MEANING: The individual, who forgets Waheguru because of her attachment with Maya, and being mortal herself, is busy with the perishables, is cheated of her good qualities. She can overcome (control) her attachment to the perishables with the Guru's advice, thereby not wasting away her precious human life in the gamble for Maya. If she listens to Guru's Shabad (acts on it), she will overcome her haumein and get absorbed in Waheguru. She implants Waheguru's Naam in her heart, which serves as the adornment for her soul. A devotee, who has Waheguru's Naam as her support for the soul, stays blessed in a high spiritual state. 3.

Come and reside in my heart (connect me with You), oh my dear (Waheguru); I feel sad and lack self-confidence without You. My eyes do not get any sleep, and I do not enjoy food or water (drinks). I am dying of the pain of Your separation, and do not enjoy food or drinks; how can I enjoy comfort without You, oh my dear (Waheguru)? I beg my Guru to kindly grant my request and connect me with Waheguru in whatever way he deems fit. (With Guru's grace), The source of all comfort, Waheguru, connected me with Him and came to reside in my heart. The husband, Waheguru, never dies and never parts with His devotees, so the human bride stays married all the time, oh Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: The devotee, whose mind is stitched to the sweetness of Waheguru, enjoys blissfulness in the love of Waheguru. Captivated by Waheguru, all her doubts (and the resulting indecisiveness of mind) disappear, and she stays blessed in the high spiritual state. Her doubts get absorbed (removed) in the blissful state, and with Guru's advice, the devotee gets married (connected with) to Waheguru, and enjoys His love. (As long as the human being stays disconnected from Waheguru), His body (mind) is filthy with the love for perishables, and is full of lies (deceit), and he commits sins. With Guru's advice, and with the worship of Waheguru with deep concentration (dedication), one attains the high state of blissfulness; without Waheguru's worship, one cannot get rid of one's filth. The woman, who gets rid of her selfishness, is loved by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

The woman (human devotee) realizes Waheguru-husband through her love for the dear Guru. By enshrining Waheguru's Naam in her heart, her night of life is spent in comfort (peace). By embedding Waheguru's Naam in the heart, the devotee is always connected to Waheguru and can get rid of all her discomforts (suffering). By pondering on Guru's Shabad, the devotee enjoys Waheguru's company in her heart. She drinks the Naam-Amrit day and night, and all her doubts are cleared. The devotee becomes married to (is united with) Waheguru through her unlimited love for the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Duyya = merci. Preetum = dear husband. Ut(i) = extremely. Seegaaray = adorn herself. Kaarj Svaaray = achieve the objective. Joog(i), Joog = in every eon. Boojhaiy = understands; gets enlightened. Kaam(i) = lust. Viyaapi = afflicted by; overpowered by Suntaapi = suffering from. Thaaoun Na Paayay = not recognized. Ut(i) = extremely. 3. Moondh = young woman. Iyaani = ignorant. Bholi = innocent. Nigooniya = with no virtue. Agumm = unreachable. Apaara = infinite. Bhkhshunhaara = forgiving. Kunt(u) = husband. Ghut = heart. Vur(u) = husband. Nuoun Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. 4.

MEANING: The devotee, who has adorned her soul with Guru's eternal Shabad, prays to Waheguru saying, "Kindly come, and dwell in my heart, oh dear (Waheguru)." A devotee, who has adorned her soul in the shelter of the Guru (with His Shabad), gets rid of her haumein, and achieves the objective of her human life (union with Waheguru). With Guru's advice, the devotee realizes that there is only one Waheguru through all the eons (and one can attain the high spiritual state by worshipping Him). An individual who follows his own mind is overpowered by lust and suffers because of his attachment to the perishables. So, who can he pray to? Without the love for the extremely dear Guru, the follower of his mind is not acknowledged, let alone honoured, in the Court of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.

The young woman (devotee) is ignorant, innocent, and has no virtue (so, how can she connect with Waheguru)? However, the unreachable and infinite Waheguru is merciful and forgiving, and if He wishes, He Himself connects the devotee with the Guru, who, in turn, connects the devotee with Waheguru. Waheguru, who is dear to the woman (human) devotee, resides in every heart (so He knows the shortcomings of everybody), and is still forgiving. The Guru gives the devotees the wisdom that Waheguru can be realized only by singing His praise with love and dedication. (With Guru's advice), The devotee remains connected to Waheguru with his mind fully focused and enjoys blissfulness at all times. The devotee, who realizes Waheguru in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, feels as if he has acquired all the nine mythical treasures, oh Nanak. 4. 3.

Word Meaning: Sur(u) = pool of water; sea. Subul(u) = forceful; with high waves. Vertaiy = operates; functions. Doottur(u) = almost impossible to swim across. Turiya = swim. Bohitha = boat. Khayvut = boatman. Lunghaayay = ferry across. In Bidh(i) = this way (method, means). Iyoun = like (this). Khin = moment. Kilvikh = sins. Bhuyay = became. Pvit = holy; pious. Nistaara = salvation. Kunchun = gold; pure-hearted full of virtues. Munoora = scrap iron; an evil man. 1. Kaam = lust. Viyaapay = affects. Soot = son. Khuray = very much. Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Dhaat(u) = Maya. Oobray = salvaged. Vukhaanaiy = recites. Kool = clan; associates. Ghut(i) = in heart. Gurmut = Guru's advice.2

MEANING: Maya is like a sea in which high waves of worldly gimmicks are operating (affecting the people) in a big way. So, how can one swim across this difficult-to-swim sea (to be connected with God)? (However, there is one way to get ferried across this sea, and that is) If the man uses Waheguru's Naam as the boat, and Guru's Shabad as the boatman. If a devotee uses the Guru's Shabad as the boatman, Waheguru Himself ferries the devotee across the sea, and that is the way to swim across this sea. When a devotee takes the Guru's shelter, he acquires the gift of Waheguru's worship by which he can kill his desires for Maya (get detached from Maya) while still living with the family. With Waheguru's Naam, all the sins of a man are eradicated in a moment, and his body becomes a holy place (for Waheguru to dwell). With Waheguru's Naam, even an evil man becomes a highly virtuous man who finds salvation, oh Nanak. 1.

Both females and males are affected by lust and have no way to realize Waheguru's Naam. They are fully absorbed in the love of their mother, father, sons and brothers, and are drowning without water (in the sea of Maya). The world suffering from haumein and the love for Maya, has no idea of a high spiritual state, and is drowning in the sea of Maya. Everybody who comes into this world must leave it too; only those are salvaged who ponder on the Guru's Shabad. A devotee, who takes Guru's shelter, recites Waheguru's Naam, and finds salvation not just for himself, but for his associates as well. Even though Waheguru (His Naam) is present in every heart, one is united with the dear Waheguru only by the Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 2.

Soort(i) = focus of mind. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Mut-heen = wisdomless. Moogdh = foolish. Undhay = blind; ignorant. Maarug(i) = path (of righteousness). Sohaavay = beautiful, comforting. 3.

Svaaray = adorns (devotee's soul). Joog = eon. Daana = dignified. Beena = know-all. Goondaata = source of all virtues. Avgoon = vices. Hirdaiy = in the heart. Vusaayay = implants. Bulihaari = offer to sacrifice. Vit-houn = for; from. 4.

MEANING: This world is just a drama (where the actors perform their roles and leave), where nobody stays permanently other than Waheguru's Naam. Reinforce the worship of Waheguru, and get into the business of Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. The wealth of the unreachable and limitless Waheguru's Naam is everlasting, and can be realized only by the Guru's advice. Service to Waheguru and concentrating on His Naam with dedication are the everlasting wealth by means of which one can get rid of his selfishness and ego. We are without any wisdom (to recognize Waheguru), are foolish, and are blind (ignorant); Satguru shows us the path of righteousness. The devotees, who take Guru's shelter, lead noble lives, and sing Waheguru's praise all the time, oh Nanak. 3.

The man is unable to protect himself from Maya's attacks; it is Waheguru who motivates people to do whatever He wills and adorns their souls with Guru's Shabad. Waheguru, Himself, is Satguru (Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru), and He Himself bestows the gift of Guru's Shabad on individuals (connecting them with Satguru). He loves His devotees throughout all the eons. Waheguru Himself inspires His devotees to worship Him and adorns their souls. Waheguru is highly dignified and knows everything about all of us, and motivates us to serve Him. The source of all virtues, Waheguru Himself, eradicates the weaknesses of the individuals and implants His Naam in their hearts. I wish to sacrifice my life for Waheguru, who does everything Himself and makes others do as He wishes, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Nanak Naam(u) Gurmuti paayiyaiy, Aapay luyay luvaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Pira Jeeo = dear mind. Munjhoun = from me. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Sehjay = in the state of a peaceful mind. Sut(i) Soobhaayay = with true love for God. Khurie = much. Sookhaali = comforting. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. 1.
Ja = when. Chaakheh(i) = tastes. Rusna = tongue. Mooyay = (spiritually) dead. Un rus = other sweet tastes. Guvaayay = lose; get rid of. Bhaayay = liked by. Shabad(i) Soohaayay. = is adorned with Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam). Liv Laayay = stay connected. Naamay = with the Naam. Luyay Luvaayay = motivates to recite Naam. 2.
MEANING: Serve the Guru (obey His Advice) and recite Waheguru's Naam, oh my dear mind. Do not go away (wander away) from me (stabilize yourself), and realize Waheguru in the peaceful state (without wavering). An individual who dedicates themselves to Waheguru's Naam with respectful love realizes Waheguru in a state of peacefulness. Service to the Guru is highly comforting, but one cannot do it on one's own; one can do it only with the kindness of Waheguru. Such a devotee sows the seeds of Naam in his heart; the Naam sprouts there and becomes embedded there. Waheguru's Naam earns one respect, but only that individual worships Waheguru's Naam who has it prewritten in his fate. 1.
If you taste it with dedication, you will find Waheguru's Naam to be very sweet, oh my mind. Oh, my spiritually dead mind, you will forget all other tastes once you taste the sweet Naam of Waheguru. If Waheguru likes some individual, his tongue is adorned with His Naam, and he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru all the time. He recites Waheguru's Naam, stays connected with Him, and enjoys blissfulness all the time. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the individual fosters love for Him, loses interest in all other tastes of life, and gets absorbed in Waheguru. However, no one can acquire Waheguru's Naam with his own efforts; the Naam is realized with the Advice of the Guru when Waheguru motivates the individual to do so, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vidaani = for others. Chaakri = service. Dhun = woman (human bride). Perdays = foreign land. Sidhaayay = goes. Bikhiya = poison; Maya. Loobhaayay = captivated. Bherm(i) bhoolaayay = misled by doubts. Dookhaali = perturbing. Aap Vaych(i)

= by selling your conscience. Dherm = moral character. Tikaiy = find peace. Suntaayay = troubles. Tuday = only then. Chookay = ends. Chit(u) = mind. 3.
Moogdh = foolish. Gaavaar = unrefined. Vusaayay = embeds. Bhaayay = liked. Aap Gunaayay = shows off self-conceit. Soohaylay = enjoy comfort. Kirpa = kindness. Ruttan = valuable like a jewel. Laaha = profit; benefit. 4.
MEANING: Just like the separation from the family is painful when an individual leaves to go away from home to provide service to others, the human bride suffers when she looks for support from other sources than Waheguru-husband, oh my mind! Nobody enjoys any comfort in the love for others, particularly when he is misled by the captivating Maya. How can an individual enjoy comfort when he is misguided by his misgivings and by the greed for wealth? Service (undue respect) to others than Waheguru is highly painful (perturbing) because one sells his conscience and loses his moral character to please others. With the bonds of Maya, one's mind does not find peace, and discomfort torments one every moment. The discomfort due to Maya ends only when a man stitches his mind to the Shabad of the Guru, oh Nanak. 3.
The follower of his mind is foolish and unrefined, oh my dear friend; he does not implant Waheguru's Naam in his mind. The misgivings about Maya make the man blind (thoughtless), so how can he find the path to Waheguru? Without being liked by Satguru (without His guidance), the follower of his mind shows off his ego; so, how can he find the path to Waheguru? Those who serve Waheguru focus their mind on the Feet (Shabad) of the Guru, and always enjoy comfort. Those, to whom Waheguru is kind, always sing His praise. Waheguru Himself connects individuals to the Guru, who enlightens them that Waheguru's Naam, which is precious like a jewel, is the only profitable business in the world, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Sridhur = Waheguru. Oodiniyaan = depressed (sad) while waiting. Ker = hands. Sees(u) = head. Ders = sight. Nimaaniyaan = no ego at all. Visraiy = forget.

Pul, Ghurri, Moorut(u) = very small units of time. Saaring = the rainbird, which is believed to drink only the first drop of rain, that too only during the period of Swaanti planet. Piyaasay = thirsty. 1.
Binou = request. Kunt = husband; Waheguru. Moh(i) = captivated. Chult = amazing feats. Dheeray = pick up courage. Goonvunt = full of virtues. Naah = Lord. Duyyal = kind. Baala = child-like; pure-hearted. Bhurpooray = overflowing. Doash = blame. Booriyaaray = (because of) evil deeds. Binvunt = pray. Ghur(i) = in my heart. 2.
MEANING: I have a burning desire to "see" Waheguru, who is the provider, the carver of our fates, and is also my dear friend, but I do not know how to do that. There is only one Waheguru, who is omnipresent, the carver of our destinies, and the husband (controller) of Maya; I am desperately waiting to see Him, but I am helpless because I have no means to do so. I have no ego, and wish to see Him so that I may serve Him with my hands, and put my head on His feet (surrender myself completely). I do not wish to forget Waheguru for even a moment. I am as anxious to "see" Waheguru as a rainbird which is thirsty for the first drop of rain. How can I "see" my provider, Waheguru, oh Nanak? 1.
Kindly grant my request, oh my dear husband (Waheguru). My mind and body have been captivated by Your amazing feats, and I am very anxious to see you. Having been captivated by Your amazing feats, how can a sad devotee, like me, pick up courage (have peace of mind) (without seeing You)? (Please, show me Your holy Sight). My Lord is overflowing with virtues, is merciful, and is child-like (pure-hearted) (but I cannot connect with Him). At the same time, I cannot blame the source of all comforts, Waheguru, for my huge distance from Him; I am separated from Him because of my own bad qualities. Please, listen to my (Nanak's) request; be kind, and come to dwell in my heart, oh my dear Waheguru. 2.

Oopjiya = produced. Doot = the five

Sayj Vichhaayee = made the bed (in the heart). Binvunt(i) = prays; expresses thankfulness. Sehj(i) Ruhaiy = stays in the state of blissfulness. 4.

MEANING: I will gladly offer my mind (wisdom), my body (to serve), my head (ego), and all my property, to the holy friend who will bring Waheguru's message (His Will) to me. When one offers his head (thinking) with pure heart to the Guru, He "shows" Waheguru around him (everywhere). The devotee realizes his wish, and all his discomforts (due to illusions or disbeliefs) are eliminated. All the doubts of the devotee are cleared, and she enjoys the company of Waheguru day and night. Nanak prays (expresses His thankfulness) that He realized the husband (Waheguru) who is exactly like the one He (Guru Nanak) wished for. 3. My mind is blissful, and happiness has sprung in my heart because my dear Waheguru has come to dwell in my heart, and my thirst to see Him has been satisfied. With my union with the dear Waheguru, who is the Lord of the whole universe and nourishes it, all my senses are overjoyed, and are singing the song of happiness; at the same time, all my five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment and conceit) have been obliterated from the root. I have made my heart bed for Waheguru, and I feel as if I am listening to the auto-playing Divine music. (Guru) Nanak(u) expresses His thankfulness that He has been connected with the source of all comforts, Waheguru, and stays connected with Him in the higher spiritual state. 4.1.

MEANING: Your palaces, Your mansions (Your Divine state), are high beyond limit (are unreachable to the man), oh mind-captivating Waheguru! However, Your supreme devotees look very dignified at Your door, in Your holy congregations. Your devotees sing Your praise in holy congregations, oh limitless and benevolent Lord-Waheguru. Where there is an assembly of holy devotees, Your Naam is recited. Please be merciful to the weak (poor and powerless), oh Lord. Thirsty of Your Sight, (Guru) Nanak begs for Your Sight because Your holy Sight is the source of the supreme comfort. 1.
Your Words (Huqam) are of unmatchable comfort, and your lifestyle (with which You look after Your creation) is unique, oh, the mind-captivating Lord. You are the only one who is recognized as the supreme power by all; all other gods, goddesses, and prophets are the dust of Your feet, oh Lord! You are the only one recognized as controlling all the power (to run the universe), oh Lord. Your devotees bind You in their love by the Words (Advice) of the Guru, oh the Lord, Waheguru. You are omnipresent and the origin of the universe. Being present in all living beings, it is actually You who dies when a living being dies, and You are the one who lives; it is Your power that operates in the universe. Word Meaning: Ders = sight. Dhiyaana = with concentration. Nidaana = at the end. Ikk Mun(i) = with fully focused mind. Buchan(i) = by words; by the tongue. Kerm(i) = actions. Aaraadahy = worship. Ful Paaveh(i) = reap rewards. Mul Moot = filthy (of mind). Moorr = Moogdh = foolish. J(i) = Jo = which. Soogiyaana = acquire holy knowledge. Nihchul = permanent. Poorun = perfect. 3.
Suphul Fuliya = fully laden with delicious fruits (Your treasure is overflowing with valuable natural gifts). Sun(u) Pervaaray = the whole world is Your family. Taaray = salvaged. Luhiya = comes off; is eliminated. Abhimaan = conceit. Dhunn(u) Kuhiya = sang Your praise. Bayunt = countless. Kuthay = describe. Mooraaray = the killer of the demon, Moor (Krishna, Waheguru). Tayk = support. Jit(u) = with which. 4.

MEANING: The holy congregation recites Your Naam, concentrating on Your holy Sight, oh mind-captivating Waheguru. The Angel of Death does not even go near the devotee who recites Your Naam at the end. The Angel of death causes no fear in the mind of the individual who focuses his mind with full concentration on You. A devotee, who worships You with a focused mind with words of Your praise and with his actions, reaps all the rewards. Even the individuals with filthy minds, and who are foolish (ignorant), acquire Divine knowledge on "seeing" You, oh Lord. (Guru) Nanak prays (tells people politely) that Your Kingdom is everlasting, oh the Perfect and omnipresent Waheguru. 3.

You are like a tree fully laden with delicious fruits (Your treasures are overflowing with valuable natural gifts for living beings), and the whole universe is Your family, oh, the mind-captivating Waheguru. You salvage everybody as if they are Your sons, friends, brothers and the whole family. Whoever in the world "sees" You is saved, and his false ego is uprooted. The Angel of Death does not even go near the individuals who sing Your praise. You have countless virtues which cannot be described, oh Satguru, oh, omnipresent Waheguru. (Guru) Nanak begs (submits respectfully) that "I have taken Your shelter by which I have swum across the sea of the world". 4. 2.

(Guru) Nanak also prays to Waheguru to shower His kindness on him (Guru Nanak) as well. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru has created the world to make men saints. Like the beads in a rosary, He has connected the whole universe with the thread of His Huqam. He has dispersed the three effects of Maya in different forms (all living beings are impacted by Maya). He is Nirgoon (invisible, formless and above the effects of Maya), and also visible as in all the objects in the universe). He created the world of all kinds all by Himself, and also created birth, death, and attachment (affection) in the minds of the living beings. But, He Himself, is unaffected by either of them – birth and death. There is no end to the greatness (size) and the generosity of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

No doubts or misgivings impact them (they do not suffer from them). They “see” Waheguru’s majesty everywhere. They are the real holy men who reach their destination (Union with Waheguru). MEANING: Why do people look for money so intensely when they know it is perishable (not going to accompany them after death)? People who are devoid of Waheguru’s Naam will simply become dust after death (and even piles of money will not help them) (people with Naam in their heart, merge into Waheguru). 1.

They do not wish for any money and have no desire for any paradise. They stay absorbed in the love of their extremely dear Waheguru, and in the dust of the Feet of the Guru (His Divine Words). No worldly affairs worry those who do not leave the shelter of Waheguru to seek support elsewhere. Those are Perfect saints whom Waheguru kindly gives His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Bhaykh = different faiths. Giyaan = debating religious matters. Dhiyaan = concentration. Mun Hutth(i) = obstinacy of mind without full faith. 1.
MEANING: No one has ever realized Waheguru by following the path of any of the countless faiths, by debating religious matters, or by the sheer obstinacy of their mind without full faith in Him. Only that individual is the real devotee and knowledgeable (connects with God) whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak. 1.

Reht = code of ethics (as advised by the Guru). Oosun = hotness. Seet = cold. Sumsur(i) = the same. Tut(u) = the origin (Waheguru). 5.
MEANING: There are many people who have no Knowledge about Waheguru, yet utter a lot by their mouth (engage in religious discussions) (with the belief that they will please Waheguru). They may use many different arguments from the Shastras, but they cannot have union with Waheguru simply by their utterances or by listening to hollow talk. Only that individual gets connected with Waheguru who has enshrined Waheguru's Naam firmly in his heart. Such a devotee follows the religious code of ethics strictly and obeys Waheguru's Will firmly. For him, hotness (discomfort) and coldness (comfort) are the same. The devotee, whom Waheguru is kind to, ponders on the virtues of Waheguru, who is the root (origin) of the universe, in the shelter of the Guru, oh, Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Ya = this. Joog = world. Aikeh(i) Kuou = for the One (Waheguru). Junmut = right from birth. Mohiyo = got captivated. Mohini = captivating. Gerbh koont = womb. Oordh Tup = remembers (Waheguru) while upside down. Oorjh(i) puray = got entangled. Dayvunhaar = the provider (Waheguru). Bisraana = forgotten. Dhaarhou Kirpa = be kind. It oot = here and there (everywhere). 6.
MEANING: Humans come to this world only with one purpose – to connect with God. But they are captivated by the enchanting Maya as soon as they are born. They worship Waheguru's Naam for as long as they are in the womb upside down, and recite His Naam with every breath. (This Hindu belief may have some merit because Maya has no effect on them yet, but can the same be true for animals? (But after they are born), They get engaged in worldly things involving Maya (which they have to leave behind after death), and forget Waheguru from the mind, which is the provider of all those things. But the individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, does not forget Him anywhere, oh Nanak. 6.

Word Meaning: Gerbh = in the womb of many different life forms. Mugun = fully absorbed. Joan(i) = life forms. Phaasay = trapped. Traiy Goon = all those impacted by the three effects of Maya (all living beings). Ghutay ghut(i) = in every heart. Kuhou = say; suggest. Oopaayaa = solution; arrangement. Turou = swim across; remain unaffected. Nicket = near. Maayay = Maya.
MEANING: Fully absorbed in the sweetness of Maya, human beings are trapped in the birth-death cycle to go through many life forms; so, the man has been through many, many wombs (lives) of different life forms. Maya controls all the living beings by implanting attachment (love) for it in every heart. Suggest some solution to swim across the (difficult sea of) Maya, oh my devotee friend. Maya does not even come near the individuals connected to the holy congregation by the grace of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 7.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself has created noble and ignoble kinds of businesses for man to earn a living. The animal-like man flaunts his ego (that he does this or that), but what can he achieve without the Will of Waheguru? (Nothing). 1.

MEANING: There is only one Waheguru who does everything Himself, and makes others do whatever He wishes. He Himself has created and disseminated the ideas of sinful and pious deeds. The living beings in this world do only those things that God is making them to do (Waheguru gives them the nature or character which they follow). Nobody knows His limits; only that happens which He does (or makes the living beings do). Waheguru has created the whole expanse (universe) from Himself. Word Meaning: Raach(i) = attached; enjoy. Bunita = wife. Binoad = enthusiasm; display of love. Koosum = a pink flower which looks very beautiful, but wilts away quickly (Maya). Bikh = poison (Maya). Shoar = much noise. Tih = that (Waheguru). Binus(i) = vanish. Mein Moar = selfishness and ego. 1.
MEANING: The man is attached to, and enjoys with his wife enthusiastically, but all this is the noise (exhibition) of Maya, which is short - lived like the Koosum (flower). Take the shelter of Waheguru to have your ego and selfishness destroyed, oh Nanak.

Nirmul = clean; pure.

MEANING: All those tasks or businesses that the man gets busy in without keeping Waheguru in mind result in tight bonds of Maya, oh my mind. A money-lover man engages in all such businesses from where he cannot get freedom (from the bonds of Maya). Those who are intoxicated with (feel conceited about) the religious rituals are actually feeding their ego and carrying its unbearable burden. Such rituals are worthless if the man does not love Waheguru's Naam. They love money as being very sweet, as a result of which they are in the grip of the noose of the Angel of Death. Cheated by their misgivings, they do not realize that Waheguru is always with them. By simply keeping account of their so-called "noble" deeds, they cannot attain freedom from the bonds of Maya. (They cannot cleanse their mind with such deeds) just like a wall of mud which cannot be washed clean. Only such individuals have clean (pure) thoughts in the shelter of the Guru, who are given the understanding (enlightenment) by Waheguru Himself, oh Nanak. 9.

MEANING: Dye your mind (with the love of Waheguru) and recite His Naam with your tongue, oh my friend. (By doing so), You will be given respect in Waheguru's Court, and no one will use disrespectful words toward you. Also, you will get to live with Waheguru in His Mansion, and the rebirth cycle will vanish for you. Word Meaning: Lupt(i) = clinging. Bikhaiy = vices; evils. Raatay = imbued. Uhun Boodh(i) = ego. Mud = intoxication. Maatay = absorbed in; influenced by. Oon = less than full (perfect). Sooghur = wise. Moora = Moorra = foolish. Alipna = completely detached (from the world). 11.

MEANING: Enjoying their sweet tastes, most people cling to immoral activities. Intoxicated with Maya, their thoughts are fully influenced by their ego. The bonds of Maya keep the man in the birth-dearth cycle. But they cannot be fully blamed; they are bound by Waheguru's Huqam and do only what Waheguru wishes them to do. Otherwise, no one is any less, and no one is complete (perfect). Likewise, nobody is wise or nobody is foolish (by choice). They take the direction in which Waheguru guides them. Such an individual comes to this world only once, and he is never born again because he stays absorbed in Waheguru's holy sight in his mind. 13.

MEANING: Get absorbed in Waheguru, the recitation of whose Naam causes blissfulness in the mind, and love for the other (Maya) to vanish, oh, my friend. The individual, who gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, never suffers from any discomfort or pain, and the fire of his desires is put out, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Burn the evil thoughts which cause you to choose between the temporary comforts of captivating Maya, and the eternal bliss of union with Waheguru, oh my friend. By getting rid of such thoughts (and choosing Waheguru's Naam), one enjoys the comfort of blissfulness in mind. Seek the shelter of the Guru with whose support one swims across the sea of the world (captivating effects of Maya). Such an individual stitches his mind to Waheguru's Naam, and is never born again. With the support (benevolence) of the Perfect Guru, one does not fail to achieve the objective of human life (union with Waheguru). The individual, who has only Waheguru at his heart, enjoys the comfort of blissfulness, oh Nanak. 14.

Word Meaning: Eet Oot kay Meet = friend everywhere (Waheguru). 1.
MEANING: The Perfect Guru has taught us that we should always recite the Naam of the Waheguru, which is our friend everywhere (in this world and the next), and which is invisibly present in our body and mind, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Remember the "One" (Waheguru) every day, who is our saviour at the end, oh my friend. The enjoyment of Maya is very short-lived, and everybody has to leave it behind. Whose mother, father, sons and daughters (are you talking about)? No one takes his wife or any household stuff with him. So, accumulate such wealth which does not vanish, and go to your own house (Waheguru's Residence) with dignity, oh my friend. An individual who sings Waheguru's praise in the company of the Guru in this world does not take rebirth, oh Nanak. 15.

MEANING: A man may be extremely handsome, may belong to a high caste, very clever at words, may be good at religious debates, and very wealthy; but he is like a dead person if he has no love for God. 1.

Word Meaning: Khut Shastar = the six Shatras of Hindus. Ghinyaata = well-versed Pooruk. Koombhuk, Raychuk = three Yogic exercises to cleanse the body. (Pooruk = breathe in to the maximum. Koombhuk = hold breath for a long time. Raychuk = breathe out. Ghiyaan = religious debating. Soam Paak = cook meals with one's own hands (not to eat cooked by others). Upers = avoid being touched by others. Oodiyaani = live in the wilderness. Hayta = love. Anayta = blind (ignorant). Ootum = superior. Gunou = consider. Chundaala = butcher. 16.

MEANING: A man may be well-versed in the six Hindu Shastras, or may practice the Yogic exercises to cleanse the body, or may be good at religious debates, or may be an expert in meditation, or may undertake pilgrimage; he may cook meals with his own hands, and may observe so much cleanliness that he does not allow being touched by others, or may live in wilderness – all with the false belief of connecting with Waheguru. But all such deeds are of a blind (ignorant) mind if he has no love for God. A butcher is much superior to him if the former has Waheguru's Naam enshrined in his heart, oh Nanak. 16.

Word Meaning: Koont Chaar(i) = 4 major directions. Deh Dis(i) = ten sub directions (4 major + 4 corners + 2 vertical – up and down). Bhermay = wandered (to stay away from Maya). Kerm Kirt(i) = done deeds. Raykh = line on the forehead (fortune based on the deeds done previously). Mookut(i) = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Joan(i) = rebirth. 1.2.
NOTE: The number 2 at the end implies that this is the second sloak with this Paurri, which starts with the letter Kukka. The first sloak is with paurri, 8.
MEANING: With the fortune prewritten on his forehead based on his previous deeds, a man wanders in all directions on the earth (with the false belief of staying away from Maya). He also experiences comforts, discomforts, freedom from Maya, or rebirths as per his prewritten fortune (and nobody can erase that writing), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Kaarun = resources; means. Kerta = Creator. Soyoo = God. Doyoo Baara = second time (any other way). Bhoolunhaara = fallible. Punth(u) = path (of righteousness). Oodiyaan = wilderness. Puchhutaapaiy = repents. 17.
MEANING: Waheguru is the means behind all actions (including those of human beings). Nobody can erase what He has written (His Huqam), and everything will happen (the way He has designed). His writings cannot be changed so that things may happen some other way because the writer (Waheguru) is not fallible. He shows the right path to some, while some others are made to wander in the wilderness (where they achieve nothing worthwhile) and repent. He directs His own drama of life. The man has to accept whatever is given to him (by Waheguru), oh Nanak. 17.

Word Meaning: Bilchhut = enjoy blissfulness. Bhundaar = treasures. Naah(i) Shoomaar = no account (countless).
MEANING: Living beings eat, use, and blissfully enjoy the treasures of God, which never break down (run out). There is no limit to the people who worship Waheguru for that (His largess), oh Nanak. 1.

Daan(u) = punishment. 18.
MEANING: There is no shortage of any kind (in the treasures of) the omnipotent Waheguru. Whatever He has to give someone, will be given to him, no matter where he goes. But the wealth of the devotees is Waheguru's Naam, which is the treasure for their expenses. They practise forgiveness and humility, and enjoy blissfulness while singing praise of Waheguru, which is the treasure of all virtues. The devotees, to whom Waheguru is benevolent, enjoy life in blissfulness, and their minds bloom with mental happiness. With Waheguru's Naam in their heart, they always feel wealthy and are happy (content). Those who are liked by Waheguru achieve their objective of life (union with Him), and with the kind sight of Waheguru, they suffer no trouble, discomfort, or punishment, oh Nanak. 18.

Word Meaning: Gun(i) Min(i) = counting and measuring; analyze. Serpur = must; for sure. Chulno = have to leave the world (die). Aas = desires. Anit = countless. Aroag = healthy.
MEANING: If you analyze carefully, you will find that everybody must leave this world, oh my friend. (So, why have so much attachment to the world? One can get rid of his unlimited unhealthy (spiritually harmful) desires by taking Guru's shelter because Waheguru's Naam produces healthy thinking, oh Nanak. 1.

Boojhiyaiy = have information. Giyaani = knowledgeable. Dhiyaani = meditators. Pakyh(i) = watch. Ih tthaayay = this place (world). Moorr = foolish. Luptaaheh(i) = clings to. Bhaag = fortune. Priheh(i) Soohaag = Dear (Waheguru) as husband.
MEANING: Recite Waheguru's virtues with every breath of each day, oh my friend. Do not delay even for a moment because the human body is not dependable (can die at any time). Age is not a factor – be it a child, a youth, or an old man – nothing can restrain death. Nobody has any information about the time when the Angel of Death will put the noose around his neck. One may claim to be knowledgeable, meditative, or otherwise very clever, but you can see that nobody stays here forever. Everybody goes away from the world, leaving all Maya-related things (including family members) behind; so why does the foolish man cling to the perishables? Only those human brides are successful in life who acquire the dear Waheguru as their husband (unite with Him). But one needs to recite His Naam before he gets connected with Him; this happens only to those fortunate individuals who take Guru's shelter and recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 19.

Word Meaning: Ghokhay = analyzed. Bayd = Vedas. Aan = someone different. Kuthtou = says; mentions. Aad(i) Joogaadi = from the beginning; before the eons. 1

MEANING: On analyzing all the Vedas and the Shastras carefully, one finds that there is no other supreme power than Waheguru. Waheguru (alone as Supreme Power) has been there from the beginning, before the eons, is here now, and will be here in the future too, oh Nanak.1

MEANING: Resolve this firmly in your mind that there is no other power than Waheguru, oh my friend. No other power was ever there, and none will be there even in the future; He is present everywhere. The human mind softens (begins to love Waheguru) when it comes to Guru's shelter. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam only is the real deed for atonement of one's sins. Countless people who work hard, using traditional rituals to have their sins forgiven, have to repent at the end (because their wish is not fulfilled). They cannot find peace of mind without worshipping Waheguru. (However, one cannot even worship Waheguru with one's own efforts), Only those who drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam by shaking it well (enjoying the great taste), who are bestowed with it by the Guru, oh Nanak. 20.

MEANING: Spiritual death grips the people who have been created as money-minded and are dissociated from Waheguru. Only those who Waheguru gives these virtues with benevolence. No one can free himself from the bonds of Maya by keeping account of his rituals; the human body is like an unbaked earthen container that must break down (die). Only those are considered alive who worship the Living (Waheguru). Such holy devotees become well known in the world, even if they try to keep it a secret. 21.

MEANING: When I think of Waheguru in my mind, my heart turns away from Maya and opens up towards Waheguru, and blooms like a flower. Waheguru appears on His own in the heart of the individual who follows Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 1.

I had wandered in all four major directions and the ten sub-directions (in search of God, but without a glimpse of Him). However, I had His holy glimpse when He became kind to me. Now my thoughts have become beautiful (pure and holy), and my attraction for Maya has completely vanished as my mind has been purified in the shelter (company) of the Guru. When an individual receives the kohl of Divine Knowledge in his mind's eye, he "sees" Waheguru everywhere, and all his worries disappear, oh Nanak. 22.

Tikaayee = decided in mind. Chhar(u) Kee Pootri = puppet of mud (human being). Perm Gut(i) = highest spiritual level. 23.
MEANING: Be kind to me, and bless me with the humility that I become like the dust of the feet of Your holy saints, oh Waheguru. I am ignorant, but I am Your slave; not only do I wish to serve water to the slaves of Your slaves, but I also wish to surrender all my wisdom and cleverness, and to take the shelter of the holy saints. MEANING: The perishable human body is full of vices where force against the weak, thoughts of injustice, and oppression of others, flourish unchecked. The thoughts generated by one's ego, are strong shackles (because of which the man drowns in the world-sea); only Waheguru's Naam is capable of liberating us from these bonds, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jaanaiy = believes; boasts. Nulini = an arrangement to capture parrots. Bherm(i) = misbelief. Sooa = parrot. Aagaiy = in the next world. Tthaakur(i) = the Lord; Waheguru. Kuthni = explains the traits of Waheguru. Biyapaari = a hawker who sells goods door-to-door. Bsoodha = on earth. Mooraari = Waheguru. 24.

MEANING: When the man boasts that he has achieved something, he becomes like the parrot which is trapped in a nulini where he mistakes water placed in a dish as a death trap, and he does not leave nulini, considering it to be safe, and is caught by the trapper. (Similarly, the man erroneously feels safe in the body of ego and power). When a man believes that he is a worshipper and has deep knowledge about religion (so Waheguru will be very pleased with him), he is sadly mistaken because in the next world (after death), Waheguru does not give him any credit, not even the size of a sesame seed. If a man (Pundit) believes that he is explaining Waheguru's virtues to the masses (by taking part in debates, which further boost his ego), he is no better than a hawker who sells his goods door to door (the pundit also tries to sell his knowledge for money and for his ego). Only that individual gets connected with Waheguru who kills his haumein in the company of the Guru, oh Nanak. 24.

MEANING: All your lamenting will be gone if you deal in Waheguru's Naam, oh my friend. The money-minded individuals, who are disconnected from Waheguru and have love for the other (Maya), lament their entire lives (worrying about Maya) and die as such. If you listen to the life-sustaining praise of Waheguru in the company of the holy saints, all the sins of your mind drop off completely (are washed away). Sunjoag = put together; unite. 26.
MEANING: Recognize this fact firmly that all the love for Maya (worldly attractions) will vanish one day, oh my friend. I cannot keep track of how many people have left this world. Whatever we see is perishable; so, with whom should we keep company? Realize this fact in mind that the attractions of Maya are false (short-lived). Only those know this fact, and they are the holy saints, whom Waheguru has made free from the deception of Maya. Waheguru pulls out the individuals from the dark well of Maya whom He is pleased with. Word Meaning: Bundhun = bonds. Goon Nidh(i) = treasures of virtues (God). 1.

MEANING: Do not forget Waheguru any time, and sing His praise, which is the treasure of all virtues, oh Nanak. By serving the Guru (a manifestation of Waheguru), one attains the comfort of mind, and all his bonds with Maya, which lead to the rebirth cycle, are broken. 1.

But only that individual gets to serve Waheguru to whom the Guru is kind, and one gets the company of the Guru when Waheguru is kind to him. Such a devotee breaks the bonds of Maya while living in the family and renounces his ego. He is considered to wear the outfit of a real valiant who controls his mind and connects with Waheguru. Such a devotee makes only Waheguru the basis of his life and considers nothing as his own. He remembers the unreachable Waheguru day and night. He keeps Waheguru in mind all his life, and this is his only ritual. He enjoys blissfulness by recognizing Waheguru's Huqam, which is predetermined, oh Nanak. 31

So, he will never die). Such a devotee acquires the highest spiritual state; his thinking is enlightened, and he is given room in Waheguru's Mansion (he merges with Waheguru). None of the wealth, household items, youthfulness, or your state accompanies you after death, oh my friend. Your only worthwhile duty is to remember Waheguru in the company of the Guru because He raises and nourishes us like our mother and father, oh Nanak. Also, you experience no suffering once Waheguru eradicates the fire of your desires for Maya. 32.

You work very hard and exhaust yourself to accumulate Maya, oh fool; but it is worthless for your spirituality, and does not accompany you at the end (after death). Listen to the advice of the holy saints, and worship Waheguru to have peace of mind. Loving only one Waheguru at all times is everlasting love. Even gods, goddesses, and god-like men, the acclaimed Sidh yogis, Brahma-like individuals, and the yoga-practising people, have all been misled (by the captivating Maya). Humans have been cheated by this misgiving; the sea of Maya is extremely difficult to swim across (to escape the bonds of Maya). But the individuals who take Guru's shelter have their fears and misgivings eradicated, and they enjoy the supreme bliss, oh Nanak. 40.

The salvation, which everybody wishes for, cannot be achieved without reciting Waheguru's Naam with dedication. Waheguru is the ship which is capable of ferrying people across the sea of Maya. So, I pray to Waheguru to kindly protect me, who has no virtue at all. The individual, who is enlightened by Waheguru by mind, words and deeds, acquires the wisdom to worship Him, oh Nanak. 43.

Even though Waheguru is present everywhere – on the land, and in waters – some rare individual makes a connection with Him. Those who listen to the praise of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru have their enmity and animosity towards others eradicated from their mind. An individual who implants Waheguru's Naam in his heart quickly vanishes his hostility. Only the money-lovers and the ignorant people engage in religious debates, who look for ways to boost their ego and satisfy their sensual pleasures. Those who take the Guru's shelter come to realize very quickly that such debates are harmful, and they put an end to them, oh Nanak. 47.

ਗਉੜੀ ਸੁਖਮਨੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5

Gaurri Sukhmani Mehla 5

NOTE: Sukhmani Sahib is a very popular holy composition in Guru Granth Sahib, authored by Guru Arjun Dev Ji, the Fifth Master. It is mostly in praise of Waheguru and Satguru in very simple language. Some groups organize group recitations of the holy Bani.

There is also a story about the holy composition: Guru Arjun Sahib had planned 24 Ashtpudies for the Bani, but after the 16th Ashtpudi, He could not continue and approached Baba Sri Chand, the elder son of Guru Nanak Dev Ji, for guidance. Baba Sri Chand advised to start the 17th Ashtpudi with the Sloak: Aad(i) Sach(u) Joogaad(i) Sach(u). Haiy Bh(i) Sach(u), Nanak Hosi Bh(i) Sach(u).

When Guru Arjun Dev Ji did that, He was able to complete the next 8 Ashtpudies.

The story does not seem true for several reasons. The most compelling reason is that Guru Arjun Dev Ji was a spiritual incarnation of Guru Nanak Dev Ji; so, why would "Guru Nanak Dev Ji" go to Baba Sri Chand, His son, for guidance -especially when Sri Chand Ji had a different philosophy than Guru Nanak Sahib? So, the story is certainly not true. Guru Arjun Sahib did not need to seek any external advice to create the holy Gurbani.

If there is a holy word in the Vedas, the Puranas, and the Simritis, it is because of the one word – Waheguru's Naam. Kindly salvage me along with Your holy devotees. 1.

There is no hindrance (by the sensual desires) in the life of a devotee because he is alert against their attacks, day and night. No fear can impact a devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam, and no worry tortures him (he becomes worry-free). Recitation of Waheguru's Naam is a gift that one receives in the company (shelter) of the Guru. When a person recites Waheguru's Naam with affection and dedication, he feels as if he has acquired all the nine mythical treasures, oh Nanak. 2.

Boodh(i) = wisdom. Binsaiy = vanishes. Dooja = the other (Maya). Bhula = good. Sooful Fula = wished reward.

MEANING: When a man recites Waheguru's Naam, he feels as if he has acquired all the supernatural powers, and the nine mythical treasures (they become unimportant to him); he does acquire the Divine Knowledge (gets connected with Waheguru), the ability to concentrate for long times, and the wisdom to realize the origin of everything (Waheguru). When a person recites Waheguru's Naam, he does not need any ritual, such as reciting mantras, self-affliction, or the worship of a deity, and his love for Maya vanishes. Such a devotee does not need any pilgrimage. He is honoured in Waheguru's Court. Anything that happens to the individual who recites Waheguru's Naam is for his good, and he gets all his wishes rewarded (fulfilled). However, only those people recite Waheguru's Naam whom He wants to do so. I wish to drop at the feet of such lucky people (serve them diligently), oh Nanak. 3.

It was because of their recitation of Waheguru's Naam that the individuals belonging to low castes came to be well known in the world. It is by recitation of Waheguru's Naam that the devotee realizes that the earth is being supported by Waheguru (and not by some ox or Hercules); also, the devotee realizes that it is Waheguru who is the creator of the universe, and of all the universal bodies. Waheguru is present where His Naam is being recited. But only that individual recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, who is given the wisdom (is motivated) by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Millions of rupees (countless money) do not put a stop to the further desires of a man (and he is further shackled by the bonds of Maya); but a devotee gets freedom from the bonds of Maya by worshipping Waheguru. Countless pleasures of Maya do not quench the thirst of the man for Maya, but he is fully contented by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's devotee recites His Naam all the time, and becomes well known in the world even if he tries hard to stay unknown. Service to God cuts the bonds of Maya of countless individuals, and many more people find salvation in their company, oh Nanak. 7.

Word Meaning: Paarjaat(u) = a mythical tree in paradise which is believed to have the power to grant all wishes. Kamdhenu = a mythical cow which has similar powers as Paarjaat(u). Kaam = wish (fulfilling). Dhayn = cow. Both, Paarjaat, and Kamdhenu were among the 14 jewels that were retrieved when the Kheer ocean was churned jointly by the gods and the demons. Ootum = supreme. Kutha = story; narrative. Mehma = importance; value. Pertaap(i) = magnificence. Doort(u) = sins. Tool(i) = equal. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the Parijat tree, and singing His praise is the Kamdhenu for a devotee (he does not need their support). Describing Waheguru's virtues (singing His praise) is the supreme (best) way (to connect with) God. Listening to Waheguru's Naam shakes off all the pain and misery. The holy saints harbour the invaluable Naam of Waheguru in their hearts, and with the magnificence of the Guru, all their sins disappear. However, it is only by great luck that one gets to be in the company of the Guru. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam is the service to the Guru. There is nothing to rival Waheguru's Naam, but some rare person gets to acquire Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Dhundhoal(I) = search. Poojus(i) = reach; connect with. Amoal = priceless.

MEANING: I have searched all the Shastras and the Simritis, and found out that none of them compares with the priceless Naam of Waheguru, because none of them, except Waheguru's Naam, can connect you with Him, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Jaap = recitation of ritualistic mantras. Taap = self-affliction to please some god. Giyaan = knowledge; religious debates. Khut Shastar = six Shastras (Vaiyshayshik, Nayaayay, Saankhya, Paatunjul, Meemaansa, and Vaydaant). Vukhiyaan = narrate; explain. Abhiyaas = practise. Tiyaag(i) = give up; renounce. Homay = huvun. Ruttna = ghee. Raati = into small pieces. Vert = commitment to do (or not to do) something. Naym = principles. Tool = equal. 1.

MEANING: (People try different approaches to please gods) like, recitation of some ritualistic mantras, self-affliction, take part in religious debates, and meditate on their deity; read and explain the six Shastras and the Simritis to the people; practise yogic exercises, and perform ritualistic deeds; renounce the world and go to jungles, and try many other ways like donations (to Brahmans), perform huvuns (build ritualistic holy fires) and burn lots of ghee. They may offer their body in small pieces to the huvun fire, and may make many commitments, and put some restrictions to discipline their body and mind; but there is nothing that compares with Waheguru's Naam, even if it is recited (with full faith) only once in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 1.

Nanak Gurmukh(i) Naam(u) juput gut(i) paah(i). 2.

Word Meaning: Nuoun Khund = nine regions (of the earth); all over the earth. Chir(u) Jeevaiy = have a long life. Oodaas = detached (from Maya). Tupeesur = who can endure great hardships. Theevaiy = becomes. Homut = offer in huvun. Kunik = gold. Ashuv = horses. Haiyvur = high-class elephants. Niyouli Kerm = some physical yogic exercises to keep the body clean and healthy. Jain Marg = the path of Jainism. Jains follow non-violence to the extreme (even cynicism) as their main objective. They keep their mouths covered so as not to breathe in any microorganisms; do not bathe for long times so as not to hurt any life in water; and so on. Sunjum = efforts for self-control. Saadhun = ways; means. Nimukh = small piece. Sumsur(i) = equal. Gut(i) = highest spiritual state. 2.

MEANING: If an individual leaves home and roams all over the earth to run away from the bonds of Maya, or endures severe hardships to discipline his body, and has a long life; or offers his body to the fire of huvun; or donates horses, high quality elephants, or land to Brahmans; or practises the different exercises of yoga to keep the body clean and healthy; or follows the tough principles of non-violence of Jainism, and puts in efforts for self-control; or cuts his body into small pieces to please some god; none of these approaches washes away the filth of his ego and selfishness. Nothing is comparable to Waheguru's Naam for cleansing your mind of haumein (and for having union with Waheguru). An individual who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru attains the highest spiritual state (union with God), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaamna = wish. Dayh = body. Chhootaiy = become free; die. Gerb(u) = Goomaan(u) = ego. Hootaiy = goes away. Soach = cleanliness. Saadhna = purify. Bikhiya = Maya. Turaiy = avert; leave alone. Aneet(i) = mortal; short-lived. Soodh = pure. Kaachi = of mud; perishable. Bheet(i) = wall. Mehma = praise; glory; greatness. Ooch = high. Oodhray = salvaged. Putit = immoral. Mooch = very many. 3.

MEANING: Many men wish to breathe their last at some holy place, but their ego does not leave them alone. They observe all sorts of ritualistic cleansing of the body, but the filth of their mind is not washed away. The man tries many different ways to purify his body, but the appetite of his mind for Maya never goes away. He does wash his short-lived body with water (at some holy place), but like a wall of mud, how can his mind be purified with water? The splendour (holiness) of Waheguru's Naam is very high, oh my mind. Countless immorals have been salvaged by His Naam, oh Nanak.3.

Word Meaning: Bhuou = fear. Biyaapaiy = haapens; strikes. Trishun = desires. Dhraapaiy = contented. Bhaykh = religious faith. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Oopaav = approaches. Sijhaiy = succeeds. Oobh = sky; paradise. Puyaal(i) = underworld; hell. Uver = others. Kertoot(i) = deeds; rituals. Daanaiy = punishes. Til(u) = sesame seed; a very small amount. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = with love and a peaceful mind. 4

MEANING: If a person thinks he is very wise and tries very hard to achieve all his objectives, he is never content because all his desires are never fulfilled. Rather, he fears the Angel of Death more for his ill deeds. The fire of his desires is never put out no matter how many different religious faiths he follows. And, despite his countless approaches, he never succeeds in Waheguru's Court. He cannot escape the consequences of his deeds, and continues to be in the cycle of paradise and hell (rebirths with comforts or suffering), and the net of attachment for Maya keeps tightening on him. Countless religious rituals fail to gain the approval of the Angel of Justice, except for Waheguru's worship. The suffering caused by the attachment of Maya (and therefore of rebirths) is eliminated only by Waheguru's Naam. So, recite Waheguru's Naam with affection and with a peaceful mind, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Chaar(i) Pdaaruth = the four desired products (high morality, wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and salvation). Sobha = praise. Loraiy = wishes. 5.

MEANING: If a person wishes for the four most popular desired products, he should serve the holy saints. If a person wishes to get rid of his troubles, he should recite Waheguru's Naam from the depths of his heart. If a person wishes to be praised, he should give up his haumein in the company of the holy saints. If someone is afraid of rebirths, he should seek the shelter of the holy devotees. However, I will gladly sacrifice my life for the individual who wishes to have a sight of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.

Sum = equal. Drishtayta = sees; treats. Poonn = a deed believed to be noble. Laypa = smeared with; affected by. 6.

MEANING: An individual who overcomes his ego in the shelter of the Guru is the leader among everybody. An individual who thinks himself the lowest of all is, in fact, the highest of all. A person who is humble and respectful to others sees Waheguru in every heart. Noble deeds, or sins, have no effect on the devotee who gets rid of all his vices, treats everybody as his friend, and accepts comforts and discomforts the same way (is a stoic), oh Nanak. 6.

And You are the provider for all living beings. You are the source of everything. You cause others to do whatever You wish them to do, and You are the know-all (omniscient) of all the hearts, oh Lord. MEANING: Remember Waheguru all the time, oh ignorant and virtue-less man. Keep your Creator in mind, and He will support you all the way, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Rumuyiya = pervading everywhere (Waheguru). Chayt(i) = remember. Praani = man. Kuvun = which. Mool = base; origin. Drishtaani. = is seen; looks like. Saaj(i) = create. Suvaar(i) = polished. Seegaariya = adorned; gave the final finish. Gerbh Ugun(i) = the heat of the womb. Bivustha = age. Piyaaraiy = feeds. Bhur(i) Jobun = prime of youth. Soodh = understanding. Birdh = old. Saak Saiyn = relatives and friends. Apiyayo = food. Nirgoon = without any quality (virtue); ungrateful. Seejhaiy = succeeds. 1.

MEANING: Remember (recall) the virtues (kindness) of Waheguru, oh man. Remember what your origin was (sperm and egg), and what your final form looks like now! Remember the Waheguru who created, polished, and adorned you to the final finish, and who protected you from the otherwise unbearable heat of your mother's womb. He arranges for milk in your childhood; provides you with the foods you relish, provides all comforts, and the ability to think (make decisions) in the prime of your youth. When you get old, there are relatives and friends to look after you and feed you (when you cannot take care of yourself). But the ungrateful man does not acknowledge any of these favours by the Lord; he can succeed (find salvation) only if Waheguru forgives him, oh Nanak. 1.

It is because of Waheguru's kindness that the man enjoys cool water, comforting air, and priceless fire. It is because of Waheguru's kindness that the man enjoys a variety of tastes and has all the necessities for living. Waheguru has given the man hands, feet, ears, eyes, and the tongue (to enjoy life), but, ignoring Waheguru completely, the ungrateful man gets engrossed in Maya. Word Meaning: Aad(i) = the beginning. Gvaar(u) = foolish. Nuv Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Moorra = foolish. Hujooray = present; around. Tehl = service to. Moogudh(u) = imprudent. Ajaan(u) = ignorant. Bhoolunhaar = fallible; likely to make mistakes. 3.

MEANING: The foolish man does not love Waheguru, who protects him from the beginning to the end. The foolish man does not show any interest in Waheguru, serving whom, he can enjoy the comforts of the nine mythical treasures of the world. The blind (ignorant) man does not realize that the Lord is always very close to him; he rather thinks of Him as being far, far away. The imprudent and the ignorant man forgets Waheguru, serving whom he earns respect in His Court. The man makes mistakes all the time, while the limitless Waheguru forgives him, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Ruttan(u) = (precious like a) jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Kaudi = (a worthless object like) a cowrie shell (Maya). Ruchaiy = gets involved; seeks comfort. Muchaiy = heats up; gets excited. Asthir = permanent; everlasting. Praanaiy = recognizes; thinks. Sherm(u) = work hard. Purhuraiy = stays away from. Chundun Layp = a coating of sandalwood pulp. Gerdhub = donkey. Bhusum = dust; ash. Undh Koop = a dark well (of Maya). Putit = immoral. Bikraal = frightening. 4.

MEANING: (The ignorant) man ignores Waheguru's precious Naam and seeks comfort in worthless Maya (which is short-lived). He ignores his eternal companion - Waheguru's Naam - and gets excited about the short-lived Maya. The man treats Maya (whom he has to leave behind) as his eternal possession, and thinks of Waheguru (and death), which are always close to him, as being far, far away. He works hard to earn wealth, which he has to leave behind, and stays away from Waheguru, which is always with him to guard him. Like a donkey, which loves dust, and will wash away a coating of the sandalwood pulp (which gives off sweet fragrance, and keeps the body cool in hot weather), the ignorant man ignores Waheguru (sandalwood) and embraces dust (Maya). The fate of the immoral man, who is stuck in the dark well of Maya, is frightening. Please, pull the ignorant out of this dark well, oh kind Waheguru, prays Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Kertoot(i) = deeds. Pusoo = animal. Maanus = human. Loak Puchaara = (show-off) to impress people. Bhaykh(i) = (saintly) garb. Mul(u) = filth. Giyaan = (preaches) knowledge. Dhiyaan = meditates. Sooaan(u) = dog. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires); anger. Paathur = rock. Athaah = unfathomable (sea of Maya). Sehj(i) = state of blissfulness. Smaat(i) = gets absorbed; becomes oblivious. 5.

MEANING: The man has only the looks of a human; his deeds are like those of an animal. All his deeds are simply a show-off to impress people. He wears a religious garb (to fool people), but his mind is filthy with the desire for Maya. But he cannot hide the reality even if he tries hard. Outwardly, he gives the impression of a religious person by preaching morals, by meditating for long times, and by taking pilgrimages; but the dog of greed is always biting him inside (prompting him). He coats his body with ashes to give the impression that he has renounced Maya, but the fire of desires is alive in his mind. With the rock (the load of his sins) around his neck, how can he swim across the unfathomable sea of Maya? Those individuals who have Waheguru enshrined in their mind become fully detached from Maya in the blissful state, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Ker(u) = hand. Geh(i) = hold. Oarr(i) Nibhaavaiy = fulfil obligation; can reach destination. Boojhaarut(i) = riddle. Dora = deaf. Nis(i) = night. Bhora = morning; day. Bishun Pud = devotional song. Goong = mute. Soor = voice. Bhung = breaks down. Pingul = lame. Bhuvun = travel. Guvun = go; reach. Kroonamaiy = source of compassion. Deen(u) = helpless. Turaiy = find salvation. 6.

MEANING: A blind person cannot follow their path just by listening (to the instructions). But he will reach his destination if held by the hand. A deaf person cannot understand a riddle; if he is told it is nighttime, he thinks it is daytime. A mute cannot sing a devotional song (or another song for that matter); his voice will break down (split) even if he tries very hard. A lame person cannot walk to climb a mountain because they cannot even get there. (Similarly), How can a man, who is spiritually blind, deaf, lame and mute in the love for Maya, swim across the deep sea of Maya?) The humble Nanak prays that if the source of compassion, Waheguru, is kind, the helpless man can swim across the world sea (find salvation). 6.

(PAGE 268): Ihaaoo joogut(i) bihaanay kuyee junum. Nanak, raakh(i) layhou aapun kur(i) kerm. 7.

Word Meaning: Suhaayee = helper; supporter. Cheet(i) = in mind. Bairaayee = enemy; vices Bulooa = sand. Greh(i) = house. Anund Kayl = entertainment. Rusaiy = enjoys the tastes. Drirr(u) = full faith. Perteet(i) = trust; dependence. Kaal(u) = death. Baiyr = animosity. Birodh = opposition. Dhroh = deceit. Joogut(i) = lifestyle. Bihaanay = spent. Kerm = benevolence. 7.

MEANING: The man does not remember Waheguru, who is always with him to support him, but loves Maya, who is really his enemy (because it gives birth to vices and to rebirths). The support of Maya is just like a house of sand (which can collapse at any time) in which the man is enjoying the temporary bliss and comforts of different tastes of Maya. He has full faith in his everlasting dependence on Maya and never thinks of death. He spends many, many lives based on enmity, animosity, lust, rage, attachment, lies, immorality, greed, and big deceit. I, Nanak, pray to Waheguru to protect (salvage) such an immoral man. 7.

Word Meaning: Tthaakur(u) = Lord. Ardaas(i) = prayer. Raas(i) = investment; ownership. Ghunayray = immense. Smuggri = all ingredients; everything. Sootur(i) = Huqam; laws. Dhaari = supported; bound by. Aagiyakaari = obedient. Gut(i) = high spiritual state, grandeur. Mit(i) = measurements. 8.

MEANING: You are the Lord, and I pray to You that we owe our life and body to You, oh Waheguru. You are our mother, and our father, and we are Your children, oh Waheguru. Your shelter is a source of immense comfort for us. Nobody has ever found Your limits because You are higher and higher. All bodies are bound by Your laws, and whatever You have created, obeys You (Your Huqam). Only You know Your grandeur, and Your measurements. I, Nanak, am Your slave, and always willing to sacrifice my life for You, oh Waheguru. 8.4.

Sloak(u): Daynhaar(u) Prubh chhoadkaiy, laageh(i) aan sooaayay. Nanak kuhoo na seejhuyee, bin(u) Naavaiy put(i) jaayay. 1.

Word Meaning: Daynhaar(u) = the provider. Aan sooaayay = other tastes. Seejhuyee = succeeds. Put(i) = honour; dignity. Jaayay = goes away; loses.

MEANING: Ignoring the provider Waheguru, the man is enjoying the different tastes of Maya. (Because of such tastes), he will never succeed (achieve his real objective – unity with God), and is losing his dignity (is being robbed of his virtues by the five demons) without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Paachhaiy Paavaiy = carries on the back; takes possession. Bikhoat(i) = purity; trust. Hir(i) = steal; take back. Moorra = foolish. Chaara = cannot compete against; are helpless before Him. Voottha = dwells; are acquired. Thoak = products. 1.

MEANING: Provided by Waheguru, the man takes possession of ten (many) items (of his need), but if he is unable to get only one more, (he protests against that), as a result of which he loses his trust (because of his greed) just for one item. What will the foolish do if Waheguru does not give him the desired one item and takes back the ten He had already given him? One should always bow to the Lord (be thankful to Him) before whom one is helpless. An individual who finds Waheguru sweet in his mind acquires all the comforts in his mind. An individual who obeys Waheguru's Huqam acquires everything of his choice, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ugunt = beyond measurements. Shah(u) = money Lord; king; provider of everything. Raas(i) = capital; the articles needed for life. Anund Oolaas(i) = happiness and gusto (enthusiasm). Amaan = placed in trust. Buhour(i) = (takes) back. Roas(i) = complains; protests. Perteet(i) = trust; impression. Bisvaas(u) = trust. Chaugun = four times. Nihaal(u) = blesses. 2.

MEANING: The King-Waheguru provides the needed articles beyond measurements to the living beings, who eat, drink, and use them with gusto to their satisfaction. If Waheguru takes back some of the articles given (which are like a trust fund), the ignorant man protests against it in his mind. Thus, he loses his own trust and is no longer trusted by Waheguru. If he obeys Waheguru's Will, and happily offers some of Waheguru's gifts back to Him (gives to the needy or the meaningful charities), Waheguru blesses him four (many) times more, as He is always kind, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Hayt = for; love. Surpur = for sure. Anayt = perishable. Rung(u) = love. Binsaiy = vanishes. Chaalunhaar = perishable. Undhaar(u) = darkness (ignorant). Butaaoo = visitor. Nayh = love. Sookhdaayee = comforting. 3.

MEANING: The man loves (enjoys) countless different forms of Maya, but he must realize for sure that they are not going to last forever. They are like the shade of a tree which vanishes (changes) with the sun, and the man who depends on it has to repent. Every visible thing is perishable, and the ignorant and the blind man is clinging to them. A person who falls in love with a visitor accomplishes nothing. Only the love for Waheguru's Naam is comforting (source of bliss), but only that individual receives it who Waheguru Himself gives it kindly, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Mithiya = false; short-lived. Kootumb(u) = family. Mumta = worldly attachments. Jobun = youthfulness. Bikraal = frightening. Ruth = chariots. Hustee = elephants. Ashuv = horses. Paykh(i) = on seeing; enjoying. Dhroh = deceit; guile; fraud. Asthir(u) = permanent; eternal. 4.

MEANING: Man's body, his wealth, and his family are all false (short-lived), and so are one's ego, selfishness, and his attachment to Maya. The estate, youthfulness, wealth, and other belongings are equally false, and so are lust and frightening rage. None of the chariots, elephants, horses, and expensive clothes will last forever; and short-lived are the enjoyments of Maya, enjoying which, the man feels happy. Short-lived are deceitfulness, worldly attachments, conceit, and one's self-pride. Only the worship of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru is everlasting. I survive by worshipping Waheguru's Feet (His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.

Mithiya tun, nuhee peroopkaara. Mithiya baas(u) layt bikaara. Bin(u) boojhay mithiya subh bhuyay. Suful dayh, Nanak Hur(i) Hur(i) Naam luyyay. 5.

Word Meaning: Mithiya = false; unsuccessful; condemnable. Servun = ears. Per = of others. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Hust = hands. Derb = wealth. Hireh(i) = steal. Triya = women. Roopaad(i) = beauty and the like. Un = others. Bikaar = evils. Dhaaveh(i) = rush to. Loobhaaveh(i) = is attracted; is captivated. Peroopkaara = to help the needy. Baas(u) = nose; smell. Bin Boojhay = without realization. Suful = successful. Dayh = body.
MEANING: The ears, which enjoy listening to the vilification of others, are false (filthy, and not going to live forever), nor are the hands going to live forever that steal the wealth of others. Reprehensible are the eyes that enjoy the beauty, etc., of other women, and so is the tongue that enjoys the tastes of other foods (than Waheguru's Naam). Condemnable (unsuccessful) are the feet which rush to commit evil against others, and condemnable is the mind that is captivated by the greed for others' belongings. Condemnable is the human body, which does not do any favour to the needy, and so is the nose that smells vices (vice-provoking fragrances). All parts of the body are false (filthy) without the realization of (Waheguru's Naam); only that body is successful (in achieving union with Waheguru) which recites Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Birthi = empty; worthless. Saakut = money-lover; disconnected from God. Aarja = life. Soocha = pure. Undh = blind; dark. Doorgundh = foul smell (of malice). Bihaayay = is spent. Maygh = clouds (rain). Khayti = crop. Kirpun = money-lover. Niraaruth = without any meaning; useless. Daam = money. Dhunn(i) = praise-worthy; lucky. Bul(i) = sacrifice life. 6.
MEANING: Worthless is the life of the man who is disconnected from Waheguru (even if he performs countless rituals to cleanse the body) because the human mind cannot be purified without Waheguru's Naam. Without Waheguru's Naam, the human body is dark (ignorant) and useless. The mouth (the tongue which does not recite Waheguru's Naam) smells foul (because of malicious criticism of others). Just like a crop dies without rain, the day and night of the man pass by uselessly without Waheguru's Naam. Just like the money of a money-lover goes to waste (because he does not spend it), all other deeds of a man go to waste (are useless) without the worship of Waheguru. Those individuals are praiseworthy who have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in their hearts. I will gladly sacrifice my life for them, oh Nanak. 6.

But only those devotees make a connection with You (enshrine Your Naam in their heart) whom You like, oh Waheguru. I wish to touch the feet of such devotees, oh Nanak. 7.

There are millions of assistants to gods like the Jukhs, the Kinners, and the Pisaach, as well as millions of ghosts (ghost-like), pigs, and deer. Waheguru is close to all of them yet away from all of them; He is present everywhere, but is detached from the world, oh Nanak. 4.

Waheguru has created this universe in many different ways. The universe has been created many, many times, but the formless Waheguru remains. They are all created by Waheguru and are eventually absorbed into Him. Nobody knows their end (fate), but Waheguru is always there, oh Nanak. 7.

MEANING: There are millions of Waheguru's devotees who have enlightened minds. There are many who are knowledgeable about Waheguru (are connected with Him) and see (treat) everyone the same, without any discrimination. Millions enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam and become immortal, living forever (they merge into Waheguru). Millions recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise and enjoy the bliss of a peaceful mind. Waheguru looks after His devotees with their every breath; they are the beloved of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.10.

NOTE: (I) It is amazing to note that Guru Sahib is describing the infiniteness of the creation of Waheguru, professing that there are millions of moons, suns, gases, liquids, and sources of warmth and light, and galaxies. Actually, Guru Nanak Sahib wrote that more than 500 years ago, when the world believed in only one sun and one moon.
(II) Guru Arjun Sahib writes that there are countless ghosts, etc. Guru Sahib is NOT certifying the existence of ghosts here. He is simply writing what the Hindu Granths believe in. To support this assertion, please pay attention to that part of the Ashtpudi where He writes that there are countless Jukhs, Kinners and Pisaaches. Gurbani does not believe in any of these, as they are all mythical. He also writes that there are millions of gods, including millions of Indras, who rule the paradise in which Gurbani has no belief. Also, according to this line, either there are millions of Indras (and not just one) which rule the paradise, or there are millions of paradises. So, clearly, Guru Sahib is NOT certifying the existence of any such things.

Word Meaning: Kern = creation. Kaarun = root; cause; source. Jul(i) = in the waters. Thul(i) = on the land. Muhiul(I) = in the sky. 1.
MEANING: Waheguru alone, and none other, is the root of all creation. He is present on the land, in waters, and in the sky; I would love to offer my life to Him, oh Nanak. 1.

biyohaar. Huqamay anik rung perkaar. Kur(i), kur(i) daykhaiy Apni vudiyaayee. Nanak subh meh(i) ruhiya smaayee. 1.

Word Meaning: Kernaiy Joag(u) = capable of doing everything; omnipotent. Hoag(u) = will happen. Thaap(i) = creating. Oothaapunhaara = destroyer. Paaravaara = limits; abilities. Huqamay Dhaar(i) = with His Huqam. Adhur = above laws. Oopjay = comes into being. Smaavaiy = are absorbed; vanish. Biyohaar = dealing. Rung = colours; enjoyments. Perkaar = kinds. Smaayee = present. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru is omnipotent Himself, and can make others do whatever He wishes them to do. At the end, only what He wishes happens. He can create and destroy anything in a moment. There is no end to His capabilities. He creates things with His Huqam (His laws), but He Himself is above all laws. Things come into being and vanish with His Huqam. People deal with others with disrespect or with respect by Waheguru's Huqam, and there are countless forms of beauty and enjoyment. Waheguru is present in every object and watches the greatness of His creation, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhaavaiy = likes. Gut(i) = salvation. Paathur = rock; stone-hearted. Bhaakhaiy = recites; utters. Putit = immoral. Odhaaraiy = salvages. Bigsaiy = blooms; is blissful. Untarjaami = omniscient. Kaar = task. 2.

MEANING: If Waheguru wishes, an individual finds salvation; He can cause a rock to float (a man with a heavy burden of sins may find salvation) if He wishes. If Waheguru wishes, He can keep an individual alive even without him breathing. If Waheguru wishes, a man recites His virtues, and an immoral person can be salvaged. Waheguru does things which are based on His own thoughts. He is the Lord of both ends – life and death – and the omniscient Waheguru plays His games, and feels blissful about them. He makes others do whatever He wishes. There is none other like Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Hoyay Aavaiy = capable of doing. Unjaanut = ignorant. Bikhiya = Maya; sensual pleasures. Ruchaiy = gets comfort. Bhermay Bhoola = misled in misgivings. Dis(i) = directions. Dhaavaiy = rushes to. Nimukh = moment. Chaar(i) Koont = the four directions. 3.

MEANING: Think, what a man is capable of doing? (Nothing)! It is Waheguru who makes him do whatever He wishes. If the man had any control, he would grab everything, but he does not have that freedom; he does only those things which are permitted by Waheguru. The ignorant man gets comfort in sensual pleasures. Had he known better, he would have avoided such short-lived "comfort". Misled by doubts and misgivings, his mind rushes in all the possible directions and covers all four directions in a moment. But the individual, whom Waheguru gives His worship (inspires him to do so), acquires His Naam (gets connected with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Neech Keet = low-lying worm (poor and the helpless). Nivaaj = bestow honour. Drisht(i) = visibility. Tutkaal = right at the moment. Bukhsheesh = kindness. Laykha = account of deeds. Jugdeesh = Waheguru. Jeeo = life. Pind(u) = body. Raas(i) = wealth; gift. Poorun = perfect. Pergaas = light. Bunut = creation; the universe. Budaayee = greatness. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru bestows honour on the poor and the helpless, and can make a pauper a king in a moment. A thing, no part of which is visible, appears in every direction in a moment with the Huqam of Waheguru. Waheguru does not look at the account of the deeds of the individual whom He is kind to. The soul and the body are the gifts of God, and every heart is being lighted (given awareness) by the presence of Waheguru in there. Waheguru has created the whole universe, and I survive by watching His magnificence, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Bul(u) = force; natural capability. Naath = Lord. Aagiyakaari = obeys the Command. Bupura = helpless. Jeeo = living being; man. Phoon(i) = at the end. Theeyo = happens. Kubhoon = sometimes. Soag = sadness. Hurkh = happiness. Rung(i) = spirit. Nind = malicious criticism. Chind = thinking. Biyohaar = treatment. Oobh = high. Bayta = knowledgeable. Milavunhaar = connector. 5.
MEANING: The man does not acquire his natural capabilities with his own efforts; they are bestowed by Waheguru, who is the Lord of all, and who controls everything and makes others do whatever He wants them to do. The helpless man simply obeys His Commands. At the end, only those things take place that are liked (approved) by Waheguru. (With the Will of Waheguru) The man is in high spirits one moment and very low-spirited the next. Sometimes the man is grieving (sad), and sometimes he enjoys himself. Sometimes, the man ponders criticizing others maliciously, while other times his mind dodders between very high and depressed spirits. Sometimes, the man ponders on the splendour of Waheguru, and acquires Divine Knowledge (gets connected with Him). Waheguru Himself connects his devotees with Him, oh Nanak.5.

MEANING: Sometimes the man does a lot of running around of many different kinds for Maya, while other times, he stays indifferent to it for days. Sometimes he is so enraged that he looks frightening, while at other times he becomes very humble, like the dust of others' feet. Sometimes he acts like a powerful king, while at other times he acts like a lowly beggar. Sometimes he unleashes unwarranted criticism of others, while at other times he is treated like a noble person. His behaviour is controlled by Waheguru (in every situation). So, sometimes he recites Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 6.

Sadhik = training to be a Sidh. Keet = ant. Hust = elephant. Ptung = moth. Bhermiya = misled. Nana Roop = different forms. Suvaangi = play-actor. 7.
MEANING: Sometimes a man (some men) becomes a pundit (a learned man) and explains things to others, while sometimes (some men) he goes mute for a long time and meditates. Sometimes, he worships by the bank of a river or takes dips at holy places. Sometimes, he becomes an accomplished Sidh yogi, or a wandering yogi, and utters (delivers) knowledge to the people. Sometimes, the misguided man takes on forms like ants, elephants, or moths, and goes through a number of different life forms. Just like a stage actor who wears a variety of different make-ups, the man dances (acts) the way Waheguru makes him do. Whatever Waheguru wishes, happens at the end, and there is none like Him, oh Nanak. 7.

MEANING: (At the prompting of Waheguru), sometimes the man attends a holy congregation, but never goes there again. But a holy congregation is an eternal place, and the man gets enlightenment there. There, the devotees are imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam – both by body and by mind - and are always in the company (shelter) of Waheguru. Just like one body of water blends with another body of water, the light (soul) of the devotees mixes with the Supreme Light of Waheguru (to become one entity), as a result of which the cycle of birth and death of the devotees comes to an end. I am always a sacrifice to Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.11.

Word Meaning: Muskeeniya = humble; ego-free. Aap(u) = selfishness. Nivaar(i) = by getting rid of. Gerb(i) = in ego. Gulay = rot; perish. 1.

MEANING: A man who gets rid of his selfishness and becomes ego-free leads a low, but blissful life. The individuals with huge egos perish in their conceit, oh Nanak. 1.

Nanak eehaan mookut(u) aagaiy sookh(u) paavaiy. 1.

Word Meaning: Abhimaan(u) = conceit. Nerk-paati = deserving hell. Sooaan = dog. Jobunvunt = youthful; handsome. Bishta = feces; vices. Junt(u) = living being. Kermvunt = follower of religious rituals. Greebi = humility. Busaavaiy = implants. 1.

MEANING: A ruler, who is conceited of his reign (power) (and attacks people like a mad dog) will deserve to live in hell as a dog. An individual who considers himself youthful (handsome) becomes a worm of feces (has a filthy mind which always thinks of sensual pleasures). An individual who is called ritualistic takes rebirths in many different forms after death. An individual who is conceited of his wealth and land is foolish and is in the darkness of ignorance. But, an individual, in whose heart Waheguru kindly implants His Naam, becomes free from the bonds of Maya in this world, and enjoys bliss in the next world, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhunvunta = wealthy. Gerbaavaiy = shows off conceit. Trin = a straw; a sliver. Samaan(i) = equal to. Lushkur = army. Pul = a moment. Bheetur(i) = within. Bulvunt(u) = powerful. Bhusmunt(u) = ash. Budaiy = acknowledge. Khooaari = suffering; discomfiture. 2.

MEANING: If a man is conceited of his wealth, (he is mistaken) because not even a small amount - equal to the size of a sliver - accompanies him (after death). If a man depends upon a large army of men, he can still be destroyed within a moment. If a man considers himself to be the most powerful among all, he can be reduced to ashes in a moment. If a man is so conceited that he does not acknowledge anybody else, the Angel of Justice causes him great humiliation. But an individual who overcomes his ego by the grace of the Guru is honoured in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kerm = rituals. Huoun = ego. Dhaaray = wears; behaves. Sherm = hard work. Birthaaray = useless. Tpusiya = worship; hard labour with dedication. Avtar = reincarnation. Jutun = efforts. Aatum = soul; mind. Druvaiy = melts; softens. Guvaiy = go; reach. Nicket(i) = nearby. Rayn = dust; (implying) humbleness. Nirmul = pure; noble. Soyay = fame; reputation.

MEANING: If a man performs millions of accepted rituals, but is conceited about them, all his hard work becomes worthless. If a man performs countless types of worship, but is conceited about that, he gets into the birth-death cycle and goes through paradise-like and hell-like lives (depending upon his deeds) again and again. If his countless efforts do not soften his heart, how can he reach Waheguru's Court (connect with Waheguru)? A man, who calls himself a noble person, does not have any nobleness come even close to him. (On the other hand), A man who is so humble and is happy to serve others has a very noble reputation, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Jub Lug(u) = as long as. Kichh(u) Kerta = doing some favours to others. Jaanaiy = is conceited about. Gerbh Joan = life forms in the womb. Dhaaraiy = thinks of; treats. Nihchul = stable; peaceful. Cheet(u) = mind. Mugun = absorbed; focused. Maayay = Maya. Bundhun = bonds. Huoun = ego. 4.

MEANING: As long as a man thinks that he is capable of doing something big, he enjoys no comfort (suffers hardships to accomplish his goal, and still may not succeed). As long as a man is conceited that he is doing some favours to others (people depend upon him), he travels through many life forms in the womb. As long as a man treats others as his friends or enemies (discriminates between people), he never attains peace of mind. As long as a man is absorbed in the love of Maya, he suffers punishment at the hands of the Angel of justice. When he takes Guru's shelter and is able to overcome his haumein, his bonds of Maya are broken by Waheguru's grace (he is salvaged), oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Sehs = thousand. Lukh = hundred thousand. Dhaavaiy = rushes to. Triput(i) = contentment. Paachhaiy Paavaiy = chases. Bikhiya = Maya; sensual pleasures. Khup(i) Khup(i) = hard labour without much reward. Suntoakh = patience; contentment. Raajaiy = satisfied. Soopun = dream. Munoruth = objective. Kaajaiy = tasks; efforts. Budbhaagi = fortunate. 5.
MEANING: The man is never content with the amount of money he has, and always keeps chasing it; when he has earned one thousand rupees (a huge amount in those days), he rushes to earn a hundred thousand. He enjoys money in countless ways to please his senses, but is still not satisfied, and kills (exhausts) himself in (spiritually) useless hard labour. Nobody‘s appetite for more wealth goes away until he is contented (which he never does), and all his efforts to achieve the objective go down the drain like a dream. However, all comforts are achieved when one loves Waheguru’s Naam; but only a rare, lucky person gets to embed His Naam in his heart. It is Waheguru, who does everything Himself, and gets others to do whatever He wishes. Recite His Naam all the time, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Kern = to do. Kraavun = make others do. Kernaiyhaar(u) = having the capability to do anything (Waheguru). Iss = this (man). Drisht(i) = sight. Rung(i) = indifference toward the world. Bibayk = distinction. Binsaiy = vanishes. 6.
MEANING: If one thinks deeply, he will realize that the man has no control over anything; it is Waheguru that does everything and gets people to do whatever He wishes. An individual behaves exactly the way the kind of sight Waheguru casts on him (in whatever way Waheguru wants him to behave) because it is Waheguru that operates everywhere. He is close to everybody, yet detached from them, and He does everything in His own way. He watches, understands, and distinguishes between the good and the bad. He is the only power in the universe (but being omnipresent), and He manifests Himself in countless ways. He is eternal – never takes birth nor dies. He is always present, oh Nanak. 6.

Word Meaning: Oopdaysaiy = preaches. Ruchiya = mingled. Bisthaar(u) = expanse. Bhinn = separate. Thaan Thununtar(i) = everywhere. Chulit = Kaoutuk amazing feats. Rung = colourful. Aapaar = endless. 7.

MEANING: Waheguru is omniscient, and (being present in the Guru), He also is the preacher, and has mingled with everybody. He is omnipotent, did His own expansion, and everything belongs to Him. Nothing is independent of Him; He is present everywhere and in everything. He is behind all amazing feats and performs them in countless, colourful ways. He is present in every heart, and His thoughts are in all His creation. No one can evaluate Him (find His limits), oh Nanak. 7.

Word Meaning: Sut(i) = eternal. Soami = Lord. Vukhiyaani = explained. Sach(u) = truth; reality. Keena = created. Mudhay = in. Birlaiy = rare. Cheena = realized; experienced. Roop = looks; personality. Apaar = endless. Anoop = unparalleled. Baani = His Naam. Bukhaani = described; explained. Puvittar = Pooneet = holy; pious. 8.12.

MEANING: The fact that the Lord, Waheguru, is eternal, is explained (internalized) by some rare individual by the grace of the Guru. Everything that He has created is for real (some Hindu mystics professed that the world creation is an illusion), but only one in millions has recognized this fact. Waheguru's personality is very pleasant; He is extremely handsome, and His beauty is unparalleled (beyond any comparison). His Naam is extremely holy, and is heard (is present) in every heart, and is described by the Guru to be heard by the ears. I recite Waheguru's holy Naam with deep love and reverence, oh Nanak. 8.12.

Word Meaning: Jun(u) = devotee. Oodhrunhaar = salvageable. Ninda = malicious criticism; vilification. Avtar = rebirths. 1.

MEANING: A devotee, who takes the Guru's shelter, attains salvation. Vilification of the Guru causes the person to be born again and again, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dookhun(i) = causing trouble (out of jealousy). Aarja = life span. Jum = angel of death. Muleen = filthy. Heen = without; devoid of. Hutay = killed; condemned. Rukhaiy = protect; help. Thaan = heart; environment. Bhrusht(u) = polluted. Ninduk(u) = malicious critic; character assassin. Turaiy = is salvaged. 1.

MEANING: The life span of a man who causes trouble for the Guru out of jealousy is lowered, and the Angel of death does not let him go free. Jealousy against the Guru takes away all the comforts of the aggressor, and his life becomes hellish. His thinking becomes ignoble, and he becomes devoid of any fame. Jealousy against the Guru not only pollutes the individual's heart but also the environment around him, and nobody can help the person who has been condemned by the Guru. However, if the kind Guru shows kindness to His vilifier, even he finds salvation, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dookhun(i) = jealousy. Mookh(u) Bhuvaiy = face turned away. Kaag = crow. Luvaiy = crows; talks gibberish. Trigud Joan(i) = animals that crawl. Trishna = burning desire for Maya. Chhulaiy = deceives; cheats. Tayj(u) = splendour. Thaaoun = shelter (in Waheguru's Court). Gut(i) = higher spiritual state; salvation. 2.

MEANING: Jealousy with the Guru turns the face of the jealous away from the Guru (he becomes a non-believer and he cannot do any noble deed either), and he always talks gibberish. Causing any trouble for the Guru results in the jealous person being born as a snake and as other creatures which crawl on the ground (he stoops so low in morality that he becomes vicious like a snake, and acts so low that he cannot fly high in spirits like the crawling creatures). The individual, jealous of the Guru, suffers in the fire of desires and tries to cheat everybody. He loses all his splendour (if he had any) and becomes the lowest of the lowly. There is no shelter for the jealous (in Waheguru's Court); however, if the Guru wishes, he too is salvaged, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Ut-taayee = extremist; trouble maker. Ticken(u) = peaceful Hutiyaara = killer; sinner. Maara = condemned. Raj = control over senses. Heen = devoid of. Deen(u) = helpless. Bijoag = separation; isolation. Doakh = blame; sin. 3.

MEANING: The character-assassin of the Guru is a big trouble-maker and does not rest peacefully, even for a small moment. Such an individual is a big sinner, and is condemned by Waheguru. The slanderer of the Guru has no control over his senses and suffers in discomfort and becomes helpless. The vilifier of the Guru suffers from all ailments, and also from isolation (no moral person wants to be friends with him). Vilifying the Guru is the greatest sin; however, even such an individual can find salvation if the Guru wishes, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Doakhi = opponent; jealous. Upvit = unholy; impious. Daan(u) = punishment. Tiyaagaiy = abandon. Bikaari = lustful; immoral. Turaiy = is passed by. Tthaaoun = shelter. 4.

MEANING: The jealousy of the Guru is always impious, and in fact, is nobody's friend. Such an individual is punished in many ways, and everybody abandons him. The malicious critic of the Guru is highly conceited and is always lustful. All comforts pass by the individual who vilifies the Guru, and he is caught in the rebirth cycle. There is no place (shelter) for such an individual in Waheguru's Court (he is not allowed in there); however, if the Guru wishes, He can connect even such a mean and jealous person with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Udh Beech = in the middle. Tootaiy = cut down. Kaaj(i) = task; efforts (to malign the Guru). Puhoochaiy = gets completed. Oodiyaan Bhermaayiyaiy = Oojhurr(i) Paayiyaiy = is misled from the real objective like a man in the wilderness. . Thoatha = hollow. Loatha = corpse. Jurrh = root; base; support. Uver(u) = other; else. Oobaar(i) = salvage. 5.

MEANING: The jealousy of the Guru does not succeed in any of his efforts to malign the Guru, as all of his mean efforts are cut down in the middle. The maligner of the Guru is misguided, like an individual lost in the wilderness without a guide. He is hollow inside (no sound or firm mind) like a corpse which has no breath. The maligner of the Guru has no support; he reaps what he has sown. But if the Guru wishes, He can also salvage his maligner. But nobody else can help him in any way, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Bil-laayay = wails; suffers. Bihoon = without. Turrphurrayay =

wriggles; struggles (to escape). Paavuk = fire. Eedhun(i) = fuel. Dhraapaiy = satisfied. Ikayla = alone. Booaarr(u) Til = a sesame plant with ash in its pods. Doohayla = in discomfort. Dherm = moral principles. Reht = without; empty. Mithiya = lies. Kirt(u) = character; behaviour. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (Waheguru). Thiya = happens. 6.

MEANING: The maligner of the Guru wails (cries for help) like a fish which wriggles for survival without water. Like fire, which is never tired of consuming fuel, the maligner of the guru never feels satisfied with his big hunger (desires) for worldly things. Like a sesame plant that feels unhappy when left alone in the field because its pods are filled with ash rather than seeds, the maligner of the Guru also suffers the pain of being left alone (no friends to help him). Such an individual has no moral principles and lies all the time. The character of the maligner had been designed by Waheguru, and only that happens whatever He (God) wishes, oh Nanak. 6.

MEANING: The personality (thinking) of the malicious critic of the Guru undergoes deformation (gets twisted), and he is punished in Waheguru's Court. The maligner of the Guru has a very uneasy life, and he is like a half-dead man. His desires go unfulfilled, and he leaves the world disappointed. Nobody ever gets contentment by maligning the Guru. An individual inherits the character given to him by Waheguru, and no one can ever erase it through their own efforts. Only Waheguru knows this secret, oh Nanak. 7.

Sing Waheguru's praise day and night, and remember Him with every breath and with every nibble of food, oh my friend. Everything that is happening is His creation (He controls it), and an individual inherits the behaviour He gives. Waheguru Himself is the creator of the drama of the world, and no one can even think about His drama (plans). Waheguru gives His Naam to embed in the heart of those whom He is kind to. Such individuals are highly fortunate, oh Nanak. 8.13.

Word Meaning: Tujhou = give up. Siyaanup = cleverness. Soorjunhou = god-like noble folks. Aas = dependence. Bherm(u) = misgivings. Bhuou = fears. 1.
MEANING: Give up (get rid of) your own cleverness (shrewdness), and recite Waheguru's Naam, oh noble folks. Rest your hope (dependence) only on Waheguru, and get rid of your discomforts, misgivings, and all fears thereby, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Realize the fact that dependence on anybody (other than Waheguru) is hollow (unreliable), oh my friends; Waheguru is the only Provider. One is content with His largesse, and he has no further desires. Waheguru alone protects you and causes death; the man has no control over anything. The man lives in comfort by obeying His Huqam; so, stitch His Naam to your neck (recite His Naam with the tongue). By remembering Waheguru, one experiences no hindrances on the path to union with God, oh Nanak. 1.

Enjoy the beauty of nature as created by Waheguru with your eyes, but take the shelter of the Guru in whose company all your worldly attachments will vanish. Pondering deeply on the amazing feats of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, I found out the reality that no matter where I look, it is Waheguru at the root of all happenings – He Himself is in the microscopic and Himself in the macroscopic forms, oh Nanak. 5.

Dhaavaiy = rush to attack. Dataar(u) = big donor. Daynhaar = the real source (Waheguru). Gavaar(u) = unrefined; stupid. Huoun = ego and selfishness. Roag = ailment. 2.
MEANING: The good looks of an individual do not charm Waheguru; (He likes everybody equally) as His pleasing Light is present in every heart. How can a man be conceited of his wealth when it is all given by Waheguru? A person cannot rush to attack his target without the power bestowed on him by Waheguru - no matter how great a valiant he thinks himself to be. Waheguru considers the individual an idiot who claims to be a big philanthropist. An individual who overcomes the ailment of his ego and selfishness in the shelter of the Guru becomes free from all such ailments for good, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Just as pillars support the structure of a big mansion, Guru's Shabad provides a big support for the mind (which becomes very strong and stops wavering). Just as a stone gets across a body of water in a boat, a man gets across the world-sea by taking shelter at the Guru's feet (surrendering himself to the Guru). Just as a lamp produces light in darkness, a devotee's heart is enlightened (blooms) by the holy sight of the Guru. Just like a man lost in a vast wilderness, somehow finds his way out, man's path to union with Waheguru is enlightened in the shelter of the Guru. I, Nanak, wish for the dust of the feet of such devotees (wish to serve them); kindly fulfil my longing, oh Waheguru. 3.

Ghur(i) = final destination (Waheguru's Court). 4.
MEANING: Why are you crying and complaining loudly, oh my foolish mind? You are only reaping the rewards of your prewritten destiny (based on your previous deeds). Comforts and discomforts are given by Waheguru; so, you remember Him and forget everything else. Take comfort in whatever He does (whatever happens to you); where are you lost in misgivings, oh, ignorant? What things accompanied you at your birth!! Now you are clinging to Maya in greed like a bumblebee, which is trapped in the flowers while trying to suck their sap. Recite Waheguru's Naam in your heart, and go to your final destination (Waheguru's Court) with dignity, oh Nanak. 4.

MEANING: The merchandise (Waheguru's Naam), which you came to acquire (took birth for), can be had from the holy saints, oh my friend. Give up your ego, and surrender your mind to them to buy Waheguru's Naam to acquire it in your mind. Abandon all activities that bind you with Maya, and tread the path of the Guru to load up Waheguru's Naam. Everybody will praise you, and you will have a shiny (unblemished) face (will be honoured) in Waheguru's Court. But some rare individual engages in such business (dealing in Waheguru's Naam). I always wish to lay down my life for such a great devotee, oh Nanak. 5.

It is with great fortune that one gets to serve the Guru; sing Waheguru's virtues in His company, oh my mind. Guru protects you from countless impediments in life, and one tastes the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam by singing His praise. His kind sight is a source of all treasures, but everybody reaps the rewards of their prewritten destiny. He controls everything and is capable of doing anything; no one has ever been like Him, and nobody will ever be. Recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, oh man; this is the highest, and holy living. The individual, whom Waheguru kindly gives His Naam, becomes pure (qualified to connect with God), oh Nanak. 7.

He has Waheguru at heart and always tells the truth. His vision is pure (he treats everybody the same way) and has an honest body (personality). There is nothing beyond the control of Waheguru, and He is continuously (without any gaps) present in everybody. He knows everybody's needs and provides for their necessities. He is very deep (unfathomable), has no emotions, and is the treasure of everything. He is bigger than the universe, is the supreme Lord, and the nourisher of the world. He is the treasure of kindness, benevolence, and forgiveness. Kindly provide me the shelter of the Guru, oh Waheguru; that's the longing in my mind, oh Nanak. 1.

Mungul = joy. Serb Thoak = everything. Tupeesur(u) = the endurer of hardships. Bhoagi = one who enjoys gifts of life. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru fulfills the wishes of, and provides shelter to His devotees, oh my friend. However, only that will happen which is predestined by Him for the individuals. He can take away things or replenish them in the twinkling of an eye, and nobody knows what he has in mind. There is always bliss and joy in His House (Kingdom), and He is heard to have everything in His treasures. (Being present in everybody), He is the King among kings and a yogi among the yogis. (Being present in everybody), He endures all the tough hardships inflicted by the worshippers on those who try to please their deities by self-affliction, and He enjoys all the gifts of nature (enjoyed by the family men). His devotees enjoy bliss by reciting His Naam, but nobody has ever found His limits, oh Nanak. 2.

Tihou Goon = the three effects of Maya. Bhermaayay = get captivated. Ooch = high. Neech = low. Junaavaiy = makes known; projects. 3

MEANING: There is no limit to His amazing feats; all gods have exhausted searching for His limits, but they failed badly. How can a son have the knowledge of the birth of his father? Everything is stitched to (controlled by) the thread of Waheguru's laws. The devotees, who are given noble advice, Divine Knowledge, and the ability to concentrate, recite His Naam. On the other hand, those who are misled to be captivated by the three effects of Maya keep taking births and dying. They keep shifting between low and high mental states, and are recognized exactly the way they are projected (designed to be) by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 3.

He has expanded the universe in many different ways, but Himself is immortal and uniform (never changing). He can perform amazing feats in a moment, and the Perfect Waheguru fills the whole space. He created the world in many different ways, and only He knows His worth (majesty). He dwells in every heart and every nook and corner. I survive by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.

Word meaning: Naam = Laws of Waheguru. (Naam and Waheguru have also been used interchangeably in Guru Granth Sahib). Dhaaray = supported by; created by. Junt = living beings. Khund = masses of land. Pataal = underworld. Pooriyaan = lands (kingdoms) of gods. Bhuvun = galaxies. Chautha Pud = the spiritual state above the three effects of Maya. 5.

MEANING: All living beings survive by Waheguru's support, and so do all the land masses and the universe. All the Vedas, the Simritis, and the Puranas were created according to the Laws of Waheguru. All listening, knowledge, and ability to concentrate happen according to the Laws of Waheguru. The sky and the underworld are in place by the Laws of Waheguru. All bodies obey Waheguru's Laws, and so do the kingdoms of the gods, and the galaxies. Many individuals have found salvation by listening to Waheguru's Naam with their ears. The individuals who are made to recite Waheguru's Naam by His benevolence attain salvation by attaining the spiritual level above the three effects of Maya, oh Nanak. 5.

NOTE: When Guru Sahib writes that the Vedas are written according to the laws of Waheguru, He does not mean that these books contain Divine Knowledge. He simply implies that there are people who are given the character (nature) to do things like that. As discussed, people are predestined to do certain things. For example, some individuals even vilify the Guru by Natural law.

The comfort, which you seek all the time, can be achieved in the company of the Guru (with love and respect). The jewel-like, valuable human life can be salvaged by reciting Waheguru's Naam, which is the basis of all life. No other measure, like pondering on the Vedas, the Srimad Bhagavatam, and the Shastras, can free a man from the bonds of Maya. MEANING: When the eternal Waheguru was all by Himself in a blissful state, how could there be any birth, death or destruction of any kind? When the Perfect Creator, Waheguru, was all by Himself, who could have been afraid of the Angel of death? When the invisible and the incomprehensible Waheguru was the only power in the universe, whom could Chitur and Goopt have asked for the accounts of their deeds? When the incomprehensible and unfathomable Lord, which is above Maya, was all by Himself, who could have been free from the bonds of Maya, and who would have been bonded with that? This is amazing: Waheguru is self-illuminating and creates Himself, oh Nanak. 3.

MEANING: When the Lord of humans, and the pure Waheguru, was all by Himself (and there was no Maya and no filth of vices), who would have had the need to wash away the filth of vices (because there wasn't any)? When the formless and completely detached Waheguru, which is also above the effects of Maya, was all by Himself, who would have experienced respect or disrespect? When the Lord of the world, Waheguru, was the only pretty (pure) personality in the universe, who would have suffered from any deceit or blame? When the universe was still absorbed in the Light of Waheguru, who could have been hungry or satisfied? Gut(i) = higher spiritual state.

MEANING: When the magnificence of Waheguru was contained within Him (and there was no universe yet), who could have been considered as the mother, father, friend, son or brother? When the omnipotent Waheguru was the only Lord, who would have acquired knowledge of the Vedas and Western religious texts? When Waheguru was supporting only Himself, who would have thought about the auspicious and the inauspicious occasions? Where Waheguru obeyed His own Laws (because there was none other there yet), how could Maya have penetrated? When there was only Waheguru, who existed, who was worry-free, and who was worried? Where Waheguru was pleasing Himself only, who could have been there to describe, and to listen to something? Waheguru is infinite and higher than the highest. In addition, the burden of family responsibilities, the nets (traps) of Maya, selfishness, ego, attachment to worldly things, the burden of misgivings, and fear arose. Man's behaviour, and its results in terms of suffering, comforts, respect, and disrespect, were also expressed. The universe is a drama created by Waheguru, which He looks after; when He wraps up His drama, He is again left all by Himself, oh Nanak. 7.

Even though He is fully detached from the world, He enjoys the tastes of life by being present in His creation. He motivates the individuals of His liking to recite His Naam, while he keeps others engaged in Maya. Waheguru is infinite, unfathomable, and immeasurable. I am His slave, and can sing only that much of His praise as He enables me to do, oh Nanak. 8.21.

MEANING: (Being present in all living beings) Waheguru Himself is the narrator (of His virtues), and Himself the listener (audience). He is present in the whole world, which is His expanse (creation), and at the same time, He is all by Himself (fully detached from the world). He creates the world whenever He wishes, and absorbs it in Him at His Will. There is nothing without Him, and He has stitched (controlled) the whole world with the thread of His laws. Only that individual acquires His eternal Naam whom He grants the understanding. Nobody can kill a living being whom He protects, but the individual whom He ignores dies a spiritual death. There is no escape from Him because the lone Royal Waheguru is the Head (controller) of everybody. The lifestyle of living beings is controlled by Him (some of the living beings are vegetarian while others are carnivores; some live in water, some on the land, and still, some in the air); and one must realize that He is with

THITI GAURRI MEHLA 5

Thiti: Thitis are successive days corresponding to the changing phases of the moon between the new moon and the full moon, and between the full and the new moon. You will note that His advice is the same – Recite Waheguru's Naam, and have good moral character – no matter what phase of the moon it is.

They realize that it is like a flower with a pleasant fragrance and beautiful colours, but it is deceitful because it is all false (temporary). This reality is not evident to the man, as he does not ponder it or try to understand it. The ignorant is indeed engrossed in the sweetness of attachment with worldly things, and in the enjoyment of different tastes (luxuries). He does perform countless ritualistic deeds which are worthless for spirituality, and as a result, he is caught in the birth-death cycle and goes through many different life forms. He does not recite the Naam of the Creator, and has no knowledge or thoughts about reality. There are rare individuals who are not deeply involved in worldly affairs and are not affected even slightly by Maya because of their affectionate worship of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.

Waheguru's devotees, who are drenched in His sweetness and are stitched with Him, stay connected with Him. By taking shelter of the kind Waheguru, all their worldly attachments, ego, and misgivings vanish; Waheguru's Naam dwells in their body and mind, and they feel blessed on having His glimpse. Their virtues get enhanced, and the vices are eliminated when they connect with Waheguru with full concentration in the company of the Guru. He does not think of worship of Waheguru in his mind, and does not sing praise of the sea of comforts – Waheguru - even for a moment. He gets exhausted by performing immoral deeds during the day, and makes unintelligible sounds (talks about the same stuff) in his dreams at night. This is the (uncomfortable) situation one gets into when he forgets the benevolent Waheguru, oh Nanak. 13.

Word Meaning: Sohun(i) = look (spiritually) attractive. Pirun(i) = dear; husband.
MEANING: The devotees, who are in love with the dear Waheguru, look spiritually very attractive singing His praise, no matter how they sing it. Waheguru knows the love that He has injected in the devotee's heart, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Abhooll(u) = infallible. Bhoollun = making mistakes. Bhula = for the good (of everybody). Boojhaayee = enlighten. Kern Kaarun = creator of the whole creation (universe). Sumruth(u) = capable; omnipotent. Agumm(u) = unreachable. Dhiyaayee = recite (Naam). Chhudaahi = emancipate; salvage.

MEANING: You are infallible, and beyond any mistakes, oh the Creator, Waheguru! The Guru's Shabad enlightens us that whatever You do, is for the good of living beings. You are capable (omnipotent) as the creator of the whole universe, and there is none other (who can do so). You are the kind Lord, and everybody worships You, oh the unreachable Waheguru. All the living beings are Yours, and You are theirs; You emancipate them from the bonds of Maya, and salvage them.

Word Meaning: Sundaysra = message. Akkheen Taar Lugunn(i) = focus eyes without blinking; waiting eagerly. Tootthaiy = overly pleased to be kind. Sookh(i) suvun(i) = have peaceful sleep (blissful life). 1.
MEANING: On hearing the love-filled message of the dear (Waheguru), my eyes are waiting eagerly for His holy sight. My Satguru kindly connected me with my dear friend (Waheguru), now my life has become highly blissful, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nirvaiyr(u) = without any animosity. Braham = God. Chulaayanday = treat with; use. Tishtiya = contented. Ichhda = wishes for. Goojjha = hidden. 2.
MEANING: The source of kindness, Satguru, is always compassionate. He bears no animosity for anyone as He "sees" only One God in everybody. None of the individuals who treat the clean-hearted holy men with evil mind has been known to be contented (have a peaceful life). Satguru wishes everybody well, so why would He be harmed in any way? An individual reaps the reward based on their feelings towards the Satguru. The Creator knows everything, and nothing is hidden from Him, oh Nanak. (So, the good people are rewarded while the evil are punished). 2.

Word Meaning: Vudda Kuray = bestows honour. Jaani = is known well. Bhaavaiy = wishes; likes. Bhaani = is liked. Rees = emulate; compete with. Moorr = foolish. Ajaani = ignorant. Ruvaiy = recites. Vukhaani = explains. Sach(u) = eternal. Boojh(i) = understanding with enlightenment; by connecting with. Smaani = get absorbed. 5.

MEANING: Only that devotee is recognized as being great (honourable) who is bestowed honour by Waheguru. Waheguru ignores all the weaknesses of a devotee whom He likes. If someone competes with such a fortunate devotee, he is foolish and ignorant. The devotee whom Satguru connects with Waheguru recites His virtues and explains to others. Waheguru is eternal, and the individual who is enlightened by Satguru also gets absorbed in the eternal God, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Sat(i) = eternal. Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (Waheguru). Amar(u) = immortal. Lutha = came off; removed. Araadhiya = worshiped. Jaikaar = hail (glory) to them; applaud. Ninda = vilification. Phit(u) = curses; condemns. Vertda = operates. Sirjunhaar(u) = the Creator. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru is fearless (above all the Natural Laws); bears no enmity with anyone (perfectly just), is formless, is above the three effects of Maya, is eternal, and is Immortal. Whosoever worships Him with perfect focus of mind, gets the weight of his haumein abolished. The world applauds those holy devotees who worship Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. But the malicious critics (vilifiers) of the Satguru are condemned by the whole world. Waheguru Himself operates in Satguru and protects Him in every way. The Guru is great and deserves our respect for singing Waheguru's praise. I salute Him all the time. I am a sacrifice to all those who worship the Creator, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Saajiun(u) = has created. Junt = living beings. Giraas(u) = nibbles of food. Vertda = operates. Goontaas(u) = source of all virtues. Kilvikh = sins. Taas(u) = his.
MEANING: Waheguru Himself created the earth and the sky. He created all the living beings and provides nibbles of food for their mouth. He alone operates everywhere, and He is the source of all the noble qualities. Sing praise of Waheguru, oh Nanak. He (Waheguru) destroys all the sins of His devotees. 2.

Word Meaning: Saacha = pure; perfect. Sach(u) = eternal; purity. Bhaavaiy = likes. Jum Kunkur(u) = assistant of the Angel of death. Dur(i) = door (Court of Waheguru). Oojlay = shiny; honourable. Koorriaar = lovers of Maya; frauds; deceitful. Pichhaaha Suttiun = thrown at the back; rejected. Kupt = deceit. Muha = huge. Mooh Kaalay = (with blackened) faces. 6.
MEANING: The eternal Waheguru is perfectly pure, and He likes only the purity of mind among humans. The assistants of the Angel of death cannot come even near the devotees who sing Your praise, oh Waheguru. Those who love the Pure Waheguru in their mind have shiny faces (are honoured) in Waheguru's Court. On the contrary, the lovers of Maya, who have lies and deceit in mind, are thrown at the back (are rejected) and suffer deeply. The deceitful are identified as fraudulent, and their faces are blackened (they are disgraced).6.

Word Meaning: Dherti = land; field. Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Hult = this world (life). Pult(i) = life after death. Paiynaayay = given robe of honour. Khoat(u) = deceit; dishonesty. Kmaaveh(i) = deal in. Sraaf = jeweller (judge). Soaavgeer = selfish.

Ooghurr(i) = become clear; clearly visible. Chitveh(i) = think; plan. Duyyay = Waheguru. Vujaayay = make public. Doohi Sireen = at both ends (this world and the next). Khusm(u) = Lord. Chult = amazing feats.

MEANING: Satguru is like a field (which multiplies the seeds) in which people sow the seeds of their noble or ignoble deeds; one reaps the result of the deeds he sows (his performance). Gur Sikhs sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and they reap its reward (Waheguru's Naam flourishes in their hearts). They have shiny faces (because of high morality) in both worlds, and they are given the robe of honour in Waheguru's Court. But some are dishonest and have deceit in their hearts; they deal in dishonesty every day. They reap the rewards of their deeds. When the judge Satguru examines them carefully, the selfish (dishonest) people become clearly visible. They reap the rewards of whatever they think of, or plan about, every day (all the time). Waheguru, who is the Lord of both worlds and operates everywhere, exposes their real low character to the world and watches His own amazing feats delightfully, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vertda = operates; focuses. Thaayay Paayay = achieves success. Ghunayriyaan = too much. Vuth(u) = the desired product. Soajhi = enlightenment. Ahunkaar = conceit; ego. Bhookh = appetite; discontentment. Huth(u) tudeh(i) = extends open hand to beg. Koorr(u) = deceit. Thuggi = fraud. Goojjhi = hidden. Paaj(u) = falseness. Moolumma = coating. Poorub Likhiya = predestined. Paarus(i) = (with) elixir-stone. Soovern(u) = gold. Dhunee = master; Lord. Bhaavaiy = wish. Chulaayay = run the (universe). 2.

MEANING: There is only one mind, and it can focus only on one issue at any given time; with full focus, it achieves success in that issue. But a simple (hollow) talk about an issue does not lead to success; for example, a person can eat only what he has, no matter how much he talks about other delicious foods. Similarly, spirituality cannot be acquired simply by talking. One cannot overcome his haumein, and cannot get enlightenment without taking shelter of the Guru. The problem with the money-minded people is that they have a strong appetite for money (they never find contentment), and like a hungry pauper who begs for food, the money-lovers may have to lose their dignity to get more, even if they have to use false politeness to cheat others. But the coating of such falseness does not stay hidden for long, and eventually comes off (as a result of which they suffer humiliation). Similarly, those who are predestined get connected with the Guru and Waheguru. Like a piece of iron, which turns into gold in contact with the elixir-stone, the lucky individuals (even among the money-lovers) turn into gold (Gurmukhs) when they meet with the holy congregations. Waheguru is the ultimate Lord who runs the universe as He pleases, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Saviya = served (worshipped). Saanjh = sharing. Uvgoon = bad qualities; vices. Julaayay = burn; eradicate. Pullreen = thrashed dried stubble. Bulihaari = offer life to sacrifice. Mayt(i) = eradicate. Pergutiaayay = made visible; makes dominant. Vudiyayee = greatness. Aalaayay = says.

MEANING: Waheguru connects the devotees with Him who worship Him in their mind. Waheguru burns all their vices with Guru's Shabad (which they recite and act on), and imparts noble qualities in them. The devotees get rid of their bad qualities easily, just like people get rid of the useless, dried stubble of crops, and they acquire noble qualities if God is kind to them. I wish to sacrifice my life for my Satguru, who eradicates the bad qualities and makes noble qualities the dominant. The Great Waheguru has great magnificence, which the devotees sing in the Guru's shelter. 7.

Word Meaning: Vudiyaayee = greatness. Undin(u) = every day (always). Rumut = reciting. Sooch = ritualistic cleanliness. Sunjum(u) = control on sensual pleasures. Triptaavaiy = is contented. Taan = force; power. Deebaan(u) = reign; rule. Rukh = protection. Chit(u) Laayay = with full concentration and devotion. Moorut(i) = persona. Ichhay = wished; desired. Ninda = malicious criticism; slandering. Huth(i) Na Aavaiy = cannot avail. Ghoar(i) Nerk = dark hell. Khurriya = taken. Tuskur = thief. Oobraiy = is salvaged. 1.

MEANING: It is a huge greatness of the Guru that He recites Waheguru's Naam all the time. Recitation of Waheguru's Naam subsumes the ritualistic cleanliness and the control of sensual pleasures, and results in complete contentment of the mind. For Satguru (or the devotees who have full faith in Waheguru), Waheguru's Naam is the force that supports all their undertakings, gives them a sense of monarchy, and protects the devotee (from the attacks of Maya) in his daily life. Whoever worships the Guru's persona with full concentration and dedication has all his wishes fulfilled. (On the other hand) Waheguru punishes the slanderer of the Perfect Satguru and causes his spiritual death. Then he cannot recall the missed opportunity and reaps the (horrifying) rewards of his ignoble deeds. The face of such a slanderer is blackened (he is disgraced), and shackled like a thief around the neck, and is taken to the deep (frightening) hell. But he can still be salvaged if he takes Guru's shelter and recites Waheguru's Naam. I am simply narrating the facts about Waheguru that this is what He likes (His Laws are), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ugiyaan(u) = lack of knowledge. Mootha = deceived; robbed. Koorr(u) = deception. Boojhaiy = understands. Unhoanda Jhuggrra = unnecessary disputes. Duyyay = God. Gull Froashi = sells his talk; lives only on hollow talk. Hundaiy = roams around. Runn Dohaagun = a wife condemned by the husband. Lucchun = (the same (bad) qualities. Alipto = detached. Paas(u) = closeness; company. Goapay = vilifies. Punch = respectable men. Laaha = (spiritual) profit; benefit. Mool(u) = the original capital (spirituality at birth). Pehla Aagum Nigum = The Vedas and the Shastras; the first (fundamental) Principle. Buchun = Word. Oopur(i) Aaya = came on the top; excels. 2.

MEANING: The follower of his mind is robbed of the spiritual knowledge by his love for Maya, and he does not obey the Command of the Guru. He has deception in his mind, and he understands (deals in) deception only. (Actually) Waheguru Himself pushes such a person into unnecessary disputes (caused by his love for Maya). He lives on hollow talk (he talks a lot to impress people), but nobody likes his meaningless talk. Just as a wife who has been condemned by her husband and who kills her time visiting others, the money-lover also goes door to door (to sell his plans), where he is not welcome. Anyone who listens to his talk (and associates with him) acquires the same bad qualities. But the devotee of the Guru lives a life detached from Maya; he does not spend any time in the company of the money-lover; he goes to the Guru to enjoy His company.

An individual who vilifies his Guru is not a good person because he loses all his spirituality (morality), oh, the respectable folks. The fundamental principle in life is that the Word of the Guru comes on top (excels everything else). The Sikhs love the praise of the Guru, while the money-lovers cannot avail of the lost opportunity, oh Nanak. 2.

Oye boalay kisaiy na bhaavni, mooh kaalay, Satgur tay chookkay. 8.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = the Eternal Waheguru. Sacha = His Naam(u). Tikkay = chooses. Ikkay = the same. Punjay Doot = the five demons (lust, rage, etc.).
Chhikkay = tightly. Gunaayaynday = show them off. Mooh Fikkay = impolite talk. Phit(u) = condemnable. Chookay = far removed from; disconnected.

MEANING: Waheguru, and His Naam are the highest of all, but only that lucky individual acquires the Naam whom Satguru chooses (is kind to). Satguru is the one who recites Waheguru's Naam constantly; Waheguru and Satguru are one and the same. Satguru is the one who has tightly controlled all His sensual pleasures. Individuals who do not serve Satguru but show off to appear important harbour deception in their minds, and they speak impolitely. Everybody condemns them. Nobody likes their talk (lecture); they are disconnected from Satguru, and have black faces (are disgraced). 8.

Word Meaning: Khayt = field. Kirsaani = farming. Bukhsh(i) = with the benevolence. Jumaayiun = sprouted. Mool(u) = the capital (spirituality at birth). Amrit = Waheguru's Naam. Jum = Angel of death. Kirs = crop. Koorkuda = nibbles at. Bhaaou = respectful affection. Bohul = the pile of grain. Kaarra = worries. Undaysha = doubts. Laahion(u) = removed. Turiya = swam across the sea of Maya.

MEANING: Every heart is a field of Waheguru in which the individuals sow the seeds of their deeds. Waheguru Himself puts the human beings into this business. With the benevolence of Waheguru, the Naam-crop of the Gur Sikhs sprouts well, whereas the followers of their heart (money-lovers) lose even the spirituality they were born with. Everybody sows the seeds for their own good, but the seeds sprout only (Waheguru's Naam flourishes) in that heart-field that is to Waheguru's liking. Gur Sikhs sow the seed of Waheguru's Naam, and they reap the fruit of the Naam-Amrit. Just like a mouse which nibbles at the crops, the Angel of Death nibbles at the thread of life, but Waheguru kills the fear of death among His devotees. As a result, the crop of Waheguru's Naam flourishes in the hearts which love Waheguru, and with His benevolence, the Naam-crop of the devotees results in a rich yield. All the worries and doubts of the Sikhs are eradicated who worship Satguru. The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, swims across the sea of Maya (finds salvation) - not just himself, but he causes the entire world (his associates) to be salvaged, oh Nanak. 1.

Joaraan purakh subh(i) Aap(i) oopaayiun(u) Hur(i) khayl subh(i) khila. Subh Tayri bunut bunaavni, Nanak bhul bhulaa. 2.

Word Meaning: Uttiya = tangled in. Munmukh = follower of his mind; disconnected from Waheguru. Horay Gullan = other matters. Oonghaiy Dubbiya = overpowered by sleep. Nuvay Soat = all the nine doors of the body (senses). Dhilla = loose (no control). Joaraan = wives. Amar(u) = command. Bhulaa = good stuff. Upvit = impious; impure. Amaydh = unwise; foolish. Kaam(i) = lust. Viyaapay = affects; prompts. Koosoodh = impure; unholy. Bhul Bhulaa = better among the good. Khayl = drama. Khila = play. Bunut = creation. 2.

MEANING: The money-minded person is tangled in other (Maya-related) affairs (than reciting Waheguru's Naam) the whole day, and is overpowered by sleep at night when he loses control on all his senses. Such individuals obey the command of their wives (are like their slaves), and provide them with good stuff (food, clothes, etc.) every day. Those who always obey their wives are unholy, unwise, and foolish (because they may have to engage in immoral activities to meet their wives' demands, and they also get away from Satguru). Those who are overpowered by lust (have no self-control) are immoral, and they become slaves to their wives. On the other hand, those who obey the Guru are highly moral individuals, and are better among the good. However, it is the drama of Waheguru that He has created both the men and the women - everybody is playing their role in this drama. It is all the creation of Waheguru, and it has to be all good, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Vaypervaah(u) = worry-free. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. Atooll(u) = which cannot be weighed (immeasurable). Kiyoun = how? Tooliyaiy = weigh; measure. Sat(i) Sroop = immortalizing. Reesaiy = copying. Kuch(u) Pich(u) = meaningless. Koorriaar = deceitful. Koorray = perishable. Jhurr(i) Purriyaiy = drop down quickly. Jhukh(i) Murday Kurriyaiy = suffer in making sense of their senseless talk.

MEANING: You are worry-free, unfathomable, and immeasurable, oh Waheguru; how can we measure Your qualities? Those who connect with Satguru and recite Your Naam under His shelter are highly fortunate. Satguru's Word (Gurbani) is immortalizing (full of noble qualities and of Waheguru's praise), and those who recite it also become immortal (merge into Waheguru) by acquiring noble qualities as preached in Gurbani. Some others copy Satguru and begin to talk (lecture) nonsense. They are deceitful, and are perishable (short-lived), and they drop down quickly (die a spiritual death). Their sweet talk is different from their actual evil thoughts. They talk nonsense only for money, but suffer greatly trying to explain it. 9.

Word Meaning: Nirmuli = purifies the mind. Ghaalay = serves (with devotion). Kupt(u) = deceipt. Vikaar = vices. Jujmaalay = lepers (suffering from lust). Sachiyaar = bearers of truth; having noble qualities. Koorriaar = deceitful; lovers of Maya. Bhaalay = search. Sookhaavaiy Naahi = do not find suitable. Bhulayray = unholy. Gaalay = rotten; condemned. Kayri = for. Kichruk(u) = for how long. Vayraayiun = stop from crying; make happy. Baytaalay = like a ghost; misled; unprincipled. Mun(u) Thaayay Rukhaiy = controlled mind. Vuth(u) = thing; values. Tthugvaalay = deceitful.

MEANING: Service to the Satguru (obeying Him) purifies the mind, but only those who serve Satguru have purity of mind (no selfishness or deceit). Those who have deceit in mind are lustful and liars, and they are pulled out as lepers (suffering from vices) to separate them from the devotees by Waheguru. The Sikhs with high morality stay with Satguru to serve Him (to act on His Teachings), but the money-lovers stay away from Satguru and cannot be found there, even after a deep search. Those who do not find Satguru's advice suitable (feel uncomfortable) have been condemned by Waheguru, and they roam around with unholy faces. Those who follow their mind and have no affection for Waheguru are unprincipled and are misled from the spiritual path like a ghost; how long can they be kept interested in Satguru's love? Those who take Satguru's shelter can control their minds, and no evil thoughts can mislead them (they preserve their values). Waheguru connects some with Satguru, who then enjoy bliss, while He pulls out the deceitful separate, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Kaaj = tasks; objectives. Aanday Raas(i) = made successful. Chooki = ended; cleared. Moohtaaji = dependence. Ung(u) = unstinted support. Shaabaash(i) = praise; acclaim. Rehraas(i) = bow to; show respect. Atooll(u) = immeasurable. Nihchul(u) = Eternal. Bukhshay = gives the gift. Churraiy Svaaya = multiplies. Ninduk = malicious critic; vilifier. Puchaaya = made to suffer. 2.

MEANING: The benevolent Waheguru successfully completes all the tasks of His devotees who have the Naam-treasure in their hearts. With the unstinted support of Waheguru, the devotees' dependence on others comes to an end. When a devotee has Waheguru's backing, everybody supports him (respects his advice), and they praise the devotee when they get to have his sight. Even the rulers and the kings, who have been created (and given those high positions) by Waheguru, come to him to have his sight, and bow to the devotee (show respect for him). It is an abundant greatness of the Perfect Guru in whose shelter a devotee serves Waheguru, and acquires an immeasurable bliss. The Perfect Guru gives the gift of Waheguru's eternal Naam to the devotees, which increases in multiples. Some vilifiers cannot tolerate the magnificence of Satguru; such individuals are punished by Waheguru to suffer. His devotee, Nanak, sings the virtues of the Creator, Waheguru, who always protects His devotees. 2.

Word Meaning: Agumm(u) = beyond reach. Daata = provider. Daana = wise; know-all. Jayvud(u) = as great. Sooghurr(u) = wise. Kootumb(u) = family. Chullunhaara = perishable. Aavun Jaana = borns and dies. Koorriaar = love perishables. Koorra = false; short-lived. Puch(i) = suffer. Ajaana = ignorant.

MEANING: You are beyond our reach, benevolent, great provider, and know everything, oh Waheguru. I cannot see (find) anybody else as great as You are; You are perfectly wise, and I like (love) You. The attachment to the family we see is perishable (temporary) because nobody lives in this world forever; people are born, and they die. So, those who are attached to other things (including family members) than Waheguru, love perishables, and the pride of their possessions is also short-lived. The man should worship Waheguru only, oh Nanak. Without love for the eternal Waheguru, the ignorant die in suffering. 10.

Word Meaning: Uggoan Day = before; first. Sut Bhaaou = honest affection. Dichaiy = give. Pichhoan = afterwards. Udh Vich(i) = undecided. Vaychaara = helpless. Koorri = attached to perishables. Apiou = which is not easily available to drink, Amrit. Kayra = of. Kaarra = worries; suffering. Undaysha = doubts. Bherm = misgivings. Chookaavaiy = removes; gets rid of. Anund(i) = in bliss. Undin(u) = every day; always. 1.

MEANING: If an individual does not show any respect and love (for Guru's advice) first (at the beginning), any of his thankfulness does not carry any weight after he achieves his objective (based on Guru's advice). But, the money-minded person is helpless because he is always undecided (caught in the middle between Satguru and Maya); how can he find comfort only by talking (about Satguru without obeying Him). An individual who has no love for Satguru is born with love for the perishables and dies in their love. However, if Waheguru is kind to him, he can "see" (connect) with Satguru, a manifestation of Waheguru. He then drinks the Amrit of Satguru's Shabad, whereby he gets all his worries, doubts, and misgivings cleared. By constantly singing the praise of Waheguru, he remains in a blissful state day and night, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhulkay = in the morning. Oodum(u) = effort; take initiative. Amritsar(i) Ishnaan(u) = dip in the pool of Naam-Amrit. Oopdaysh(i) = Teaching. Kilvikh = sins. Doakh = allegations; accusations. Giraas(i) = nibble of food.

Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet (an expression of reverence).

MEANING: A devotee, who calls himself a Sikh of Satguru, rises early in the morning and recites Waheguru's Naam. He makes an effort every morning and takes a dip in the holy pool of Naam-Amrit. He recites Waheguru's Naam with the Advice (Shabad) of the Guru, whereby all his sins and accusations (against him) are washed away. After the sunrise (when he gets busy in his daily routine), he recites Waheguru's Naam by singing Gurbani, whether he is standing or sitting (whenever he gets time). A Gur Sikh, who remembers Waheguru with every breath and with every nibble of food, is liked (loved) by the Guru. Satguru delivers His Advice to the Gur Sikh to whom Waheguru is kind. I am a slave of, and wish for the dust of the feet of the Gur Sikh who recites Waheguru's Naam himself, and encourages others to do the same, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = Eternal (Waheguru). Virlay = rare. Ikk(u) = the One (Waheguru). Berkut(i) = kindness; support. Khaah(i) = eat; reap the benefit.
Asunkh Kroarray = billions; countless. Thaayayn Puyyay = recognized; became successful. Loarray = needs; likes. Kohrray = lepers; full of vices. Haajur(u) = in the presence. Vis(u) Ghoalay = venomous talk. Khoatay = dishonest. Duyyay = Waheguru. Vichhoarray = separated.

MEANING: There are only a few rare devotees who worship You, oh the eternal Waheguru. Countless people benefit from such devotees who worship the “One” Waheguru with full concentration and dedication. Everybody worships Waheguru, but only those whom Waheguru likes are recognized. Those who eat and wear (enjoy life) without serving Waheguru, simply take birth, and die out full of vices. They talk sweetly when they are present, but talk venomously when they are away from Satguru. Because of their dishonesty (impurity), Waheguru keeps them separated (away from Him). 11.

Eh(u) Akkhur(u) Tin(i) aakhiya, jin(i) jugut subh(u) oopaaya. 1.

Word Meaning: Mul(u) Jooyeen Bhuriya = full of filth and lice. Khidhoalurra = quilt.

Vaymukh = slanderer of the Guru. Jugut = world. Goonh = feces; with huge insult. Puraayee Ninda Choogli = malicious criticism and backbiting of others. Turr = right away. Sunay Nuphraiy = along with the servant. Pauli Paundi = beating of shoes; huge insult. Phaava = insulted; shameful. Koorrmi = relatives. Rulna = mixing with. Hult(u) Pult(u) = this world and the next. Puchaaya = caused to suffer.

NOTE: This holy Shabad describes the complaint lodged by Goanda Mal Khatri of Goindwal Sahib against Guru Amar Dass Ji to Emperor Akbar, who was visiting Lahore. Along with many other reformative policies of Guru Amar Dass Ji, Goanda Mal did not like the elimination of the caste system by Guru Sahib, who was treating even the untouchables the same way as the Brahmans and the Khatris, without any discrimination. It was customary in those days for a complainant to wear a filthy quilt to register his complaint. Gonda Mal took his servant to Akbar, who was not convinced by his complaint. Actually, Akbar reprimanded Goanda Mal severely for the baseless complaint.

MEANING: Gonda Mal, the slanderer of Guru (Amar Dass Ji), made his servant wear a highly filthy black quilt full of lice, to go to Lahore and lodge a complaint with the Emperor, Akbar, against Guru Sahib; but the slanderer suffered a huge insult in the Court, and had to return unsuccessfully. Nobody allowed them to come near, and the news that both the complainants, who had gone to the Court to slander the other party (Guru Sahib), and criticize Him maliciously, had their faces blackened (insulted hugely) and the Khatri, along with his servant, returned home shamefully after having been beaten with shoes (suffering huge insult), spread in the whole world quickly.

On reaching home, the Sikh congregation and the relatives of the complainant did not allow him to mix with them; his wife and his nephews took him home. He lost his dignity in this world and the next, and he cried (lamented) every day hungry and thirsty (in suffering). The Creator, Waheguru, is great, who delivered justice Himself (influenced Akbar to deliver the right judgment). Whoever vilifies the Perfect Guru is punished severely by Waheguru. This is the Huqam of God, who has created the world. 1.

Word Meaning: Sahib(u) = master. Nunga Bhookha = without clothes and food; pauper. Nufur(u) = servant. J(i) = Jo = whatever. Vuth(u) = needed article. Unhoandi = unavailable. Laykha = account of deeds. Aukhi = tough; troublesome; fruitless. Suful = resulting in success.

MEANING: If somebody's master is a pauper, where can his servant get to eat to his fill? The servant can have access only to those items which the master has in his home (can supply); how can the servant get something which is unavailable? [A fake or a self-proclaimed guru cannot fulfil the spiritual needs (emancipate) his followers]. Serving such a master is troublesome (fruitless) where the account of one's deeds is demanded (in Waheguru's Court). Serve only the Guru whose sight (connection with Him) makes one successful (in achieving his objective of union with Waheguru), and where nobody asks for any account of his deeds, oh Nanak. 2.

Paiyd(u) moondhaahoon kuttiya, tis(u) daal sookunday.

Word Meaning: Veechaareh(i) = ponder on; come to the conclsion. Vuchun Hovunday = Words prevail; become reality. Pergut = visible; famous. Puhaara = shop; world. Moogudh = foolish. Khehunday = show jealousy; oppose. Loachun = long for. Surranday = suffer in jealousy. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (beginning). Sunday = of. Puchunday = burn (in jelousy); suffer. Sraapiya = cursed. Moondhaahoon = from the base.

MEANING: The holy saints have concluded, and even the four Vedas say the same thing, that whatever words the holy saints utter (preach) become reality. They (the saints) become famous in the whole world, and the people listen to them. But the foolish, who oppose the holy saints because of sheer jealousy, never live in comfort. They long for the same qualities as the saints (want the same respect), and burn (suffer) in their ego (because they cannot have the same qualities). But what can those helpless do when they have bad fortune right from the beginning? Those who have been condemned by Waheguru belong to no one (are not sincere to anyone). They exhibit enmity with the Guru, who bears no enmity at all with anyone; as a result, they are punished by the Angel of justice. All those who have been cursed by the holy saints do not find peace and roam about restlessly. (They are like the tree) which has been cut from the base, and its branches dry up as a result. 2.

Word Meaning: Toos(i) = overly pleased to be kind. Til(u) = (the size of) a sesame seed; a slight amount. Jhukh(i) = grumbling; fruitless talk expressing displeasure; complain without success. Ninduk = vilifiers. Chrraiy Svaayee = increase in multiples.

MEANING: The Guru worships Waheguru in His mind because of which He enjoys a great respect. The Perfect Satguru (Waheguru) kindly bestows such an honour on the Guru that no one, no matter how hard he tries, can reduce it even slightly. When the eternal Lord is supporting the Satguru, who can cause any harm to Him, even if the whole world grumbles and complains (it is all useless). Waheguru enhances the dignity of the Satguru Himself, and He blackens the faces of the vilifiers (humiliates them). The more the vilifiers slander the Guru, the more His respect multiplies. Waheguru brings the whole world at the feet of His devotees who recite His Naam with love and dedication, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sayti = with; against. J(i) = whoever. Gunut = account of actions; jealousy. Hult(u) = this world. Pult = the next world. Guyya = lost; ruined. Jhuyeeyaan = snarl. Jhuggoo Sootay = to foam in the mouth while talking in anger; snarl; show contempt. Jhukhna = grumbling; helpless talk. Jhurr(i) Puyya = lost all stream. Oopaav = make plans. Sehsa = worries. Vaiyr(u) Ruchaayay = initiates enmity. Uggaiy Pichhaiy = front and back; this world and the next; anywhere. Dhoyee = shelter. Umb(u) = mango; sweet taste. Khayhoo = dust. Augun = misdeeds. Kilvikh = sins.

MEANING: A person who bears jealousy against the Satguru ruins both his worlds – the present and the next, after death. He snarls at the Satguru every day, and his mouth foams when he talks ill of the Guru. (However, he cannot do anything about it), And he loses all his steam by talking too much in anger, without any success. He makes fresh plans every day to earn more money, but he loses even his original wealth. What can he earn and eat when his mind is overtaken by worries? An individual who bears enmity against the great person (like the Guru), who bears no enmity at all for anyone, carries the burden of all the sins of the whole world. An individual who enjoys vilifying others as being sweet, finds no shelter anywhere. If he touches gold, it turns into dust (he fails in all his projects, which he had thought would be profitable). However, all his sins and misdeeds are still forgiven if he comes to the Guru's shelter. All sins of a devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, are washed away if he recites Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sacha = Eternal (Waheguru). Deebaan(u) = ruler. Maan(u) = pride; dependence. Oojlay = shiny; unblemished; honourable. Taan(u) = strength. Neeahaan(u) = identity. Vaari = Koorbaan = offer to sacrifice.

MEANING: You are eternal, and Your rule over everybody is also eternal, oh Waheguru. Those who recite Your Naam serve the eternal Waheguru and take pride in You (in being Your devotee). They have Truth (Your Naam) in their heart; have shiny faces (are pure); always tell the truth, and depend upon You for their strength. Those are the real bhagats (devotees) who recite Your Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and Guru's eternal Shabad is their identity. Those who serve the eternal Waheguru also become eternal; I always wish to sacrifice my life for them. 13.

So paayay Poora Satguru jis(u) likhiya likhut(u) lilaaray. Jun(u) Nanak(u) maangaiy dhoorr(i) tin jo Gur Sikh mit piyaaray. 1.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = right from the Source. Pooraiy Satguru = Waheguru. Maaray = condemned; denounced. Kertaaray = with Waheguru. Dhoyee = shelter.

Veechaary = discussed. Jundaar = unkin; killer. Gur(i) Baabaiy = Guru Nanak Sahib. Phitkay = condemned. Koorriaaray = dishonest; deceitful. Teeji Peerri = third generation (third in succession). Tikiya = designated. Dusht = evil; cruel. Kaaruj = tasks. Svaaray = made successful. Lukhmi = Maya (wealth). Oordhaaray = embed in heart. Lilaaray = (on the) forehead.

MEANING: Those who were condemned right from the Source (Waheguru) have been condemned by Satguru now. Even if they desperately want to get connected (without any noble qualities) with Waheguru, they are not allowed to do so. Their character is discussed by Satguru in the holy congregation, and they find no shelter (support) in there. If someone socializes with them now, the unkind Angel of Death punishes them severely. Those who were condemned by Guru Nanak Sahib were found to be deceitful by Guru Angad Dev Ji as well. The Third Guru in succession, Guru Amar Dass Ji, decided that such immoral people had no control over their behaviour (because their thinking is moulded by Waheguru Himself, so they should be given a chance to improve and be forgiven). With the assistance of Sri Ram Dass Ji, who was later designated the Fourth Guru in succession, Guru Amar Dass Ji vanquished all evil and cruel people. If a son, or a Sikh, serves the Satguru (obeys Him), the Satguru completes all his tasks successfully. As if he were the son of the Satguru, the devotee gets all his wishes fulfilled, including the desired amount of money and wealth, and the Satguru also connects him with Waheguru for salvation. Waheguru dwells in Satguru's heart, so Satguru is the treasure of everything. However, only that individual is connected to Waheguru, whose good fortune is prewritten on his forehead. I am a slave of the Gur Sikhs who are dear to Satguru, and I wish for the dust of their feet, oh Nanak. 1.

NOTE: The above holy Shabad may raise some questions in the minds of some people: when Guru Nanak Sahib and Guru Angad Dev Ji denounced the vilifiers of the Guru, weren't they forgiven by Guru Amar Dass Ji, contrary to the philosophy of the first two Guru Sahiban? Also, could not Guru Nanak Sahib, who was known to be extremely kind and forgiving, and who forgave big sinners and criminals like Sujjan, Babar, and Kauda, forgive such vilifiers? Why did He choose to denounce and shun them? The answer lies in the mysterious ways in which Waheguru acts. Guru Nanak Sahib was always "one" with Waheguru, and so were the other nine Gurus. Guru Sahiban did exactly what Waheguru wanted them to do. Just as the saying "wolves may lose their teeth, but not their nature" suggests, vilifiers do not change. Remember the Sloak in which Guru Ram Dass Ji describes the ill deed of Goanda Mal who complained against Guru Amar Dass Ji; also read the next sloak in which Guru Ram Dass Ji writes, "Waheguru protects His devotees, and blackens the faces of the evil and the cruel", and there are many, many holy Shabads in Guru Granth Sahib in which it has been mentioned time, and again that the evil do not quit their evil nature. So, what Guru Nanak and Guru Angad Sahib did at their times was perfect, but what Guru Amar Dass Ji did was equally good, because it was the Will of Waheguru who wanted Guru Amar Dass Ji to forgive the vilifiers at that time. Waheguru does that at times. Some Shabads can be quoted here to prove the point, but that will make the explanation unnecessarily lengthy. The fundamental philosophy of Sikhism is to obey the Will of Waheguru. According to the Sikh faith, it was Guru Nanak Sahib's Light that operated in Guru Amar Dass Ji. So, basically, it was Guru Nanak Sahib Himself who forgave the slanderers (the evil people), and there was no opposition by Guru Amar Ji to Guru Nanak Sahib's philosophy.

However, the vilifiers of the Guru never refrain from vilifying (or opposing) the Guru. The martyrdoms of Guru Sahiban, the younger Princes of Guru Gobind Singh Ji, and hundreds of Sikhs were the result of the complaints against them by such evil people. You will note that in a holy Sloak in this very Vaar, Guru Amar Dass Ji says that the vilifiers can never be cured. Guru Arjun Sahib also professes that there is a cure for every disease in nature, but none for the vilifiers.

Jun(u) Nanak(u) Hur(i) ka daas(u) haiy, Hur(i) daasun kee Hur(i) paiyj rukhaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Vudiyaayee = praise; honour. Aap(i) = Waheguru. Aan(i) = brings. Kula = power; abilities. Vudhaayay = exercises; displays. Akaarra = rink; playground. Nivaayay = brought to their knees. Rukh = protection. Dooshut = evil; ruthless. Churraiy svaayee = in leaps and bounds. Ghur = heart. Ghureen Vusaayay = enables them to embed Satguru in their hearts. Oojlay = shiny; dignified. Jaiykaar = acclamation; ovation. Paiyj = honour.

MEANING: If Waheguru bestows honour on some of his devotees, He brings the whole world to drop on his feet (to show respect for him). Such a devotee may be afraid of such resect for him (lest people may label him as hungry for his fame), but he should not be, because it is not he who does something to earn respect; it, in fact, is the Creator (Waheguru) who is displaying His own powers (through the devotee). Please realize that it is the playground of the eternal Waheguru, who brings everyone to their knees with His power. The Lord, Waheguru, protects His own devotees, but blackens the faces of the slanderers and the evil (punishes them). Waheguru makes the Satguru sing His praise, and recite His Naam, as a result of which the praise of the Satguru increases in leaps and bounds. Recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh my Gur Sikh brothers; Waheguru enables you to embed Satguru in your hearts. Have faith in Satguru's Bani as the eternal Word because the Creator Himself talks using the tongue of Satguru. The dear Waheguru makes the faces of the Gur Sikhs shiny (honours them), and gets the whole world to acclaim the Satguru. I am a slave of God who protects the honour (from the attacks of Maya) of His slaves, oh Nanak. 2.

Sayvuk bhaayay say jun milay, Gur Shabad(i) svaaraiy. Tu Sacha Sahib(u) Alukh(u) haiyn, Gur Shabad(i) lukhaaray. 14.

Word Meaning: Shah = Lord; Provider. Poonji = captal. Drirraayay = reinforces. Vunjaaray = traders. Thaaray = Yours. Vunuj(i) = trade. Kutheh(i) = discuss. Niraaray = unique. Bhaayay = devotion. Svaaray = made perfect. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Lukhaaray = comprehended.

MEANING: You are the eternal Lord, and our Provider, oh Waheguru. We are here to trade in Your Naam; reinforcing Your Naam in our minds is our capital for trading. We serve the eternal Waheguru, deal in His eternal Naam, and discuss His unique qualities. Satguru makes those devotees perfect with His Shabad who approach Him with the devotion of a slave. You are incomprehensible, oh the eternal Waheguru, but can be comprehended by Guru's Shabad. 14.

Word Meaning: Taat(i) = jealousy. Puraayee = (for) others. Ojaarreen = wilderness. Pookaaray = cries for help. Choogli = (the habit) of backbiting (slandering) others. Vujjaiy = is called; becomes known as. Unhoandi = unjust. Mooh(u) Kudhna = show face. Kulyoog = this world. Tpaavus = judgment; decision.

Vis(u) = poison. Tutkaal = right away. Sojhi = understanding.

MEANING: An individual who has jealousy for others in his heart never enjoys peace. Nobody listens to him, and he feels as if he is talking to the wilderness. One who has the habit of backbiting (slandering) others is known as a slanderer, and he loses all (the respect, trust, etc.) he had earned before. He always slanders others unjustly, as a result of which he gets his face blackened (earns disgrace) and cannot show it in public. The human body is like a field in this world, where people sow their deeds. The man reaps the rewards of what he had sown. The final judgment is not based on hollow talk; if a man consumes poison, he dies right away (a slanderer suffers humiliation soon, no matter how polite he tries to be in his conversations). Watch the judgment of the eternal Waheguru, hey folks; the man gets the results of his deeds. I have been given the understanding of the functioning in Waheguru's Court, which is why I am narrating these facts, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning*:* Pertukh = clearly visible. Dur(i) = Waheguru's Court. Dhoyee = shelter. Ninduk = vilifier. Mooh Phikkay = pale faces (disgraced). Phitkay = denounced. Bhumbul Bhoosay = confused. Goapiya = slandered. Dhuhaan = cry aloud; wail (suffer in disgrace or mental anguish). Haulay Haul(u) = sinking of heart due to some possible dreadful outcome. Uggaiy Pichhaiy = anywhere. Thaaoun = support. Rehndi Khoohndi = whatever little is left. Put(i) = respect. Kooshti = leper; disliked by others. Ootthaahi = acquire. Doojay Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Chaara = recourse; choice.

MEANING: Individuals who do not connect with the Guru (seek His shelter) when He is even physically there (is available), find no shelter in Waheguru's Court. If someone befriends such "disconnected" vilifiers, he too is disgraced by others who also spit on his face (denounce him). Those who are denounced by Satguru are denounced by the whole world, and they wander confused all the time. Those who slander their Guru wail in mental anguish. They are never content and always complain about the lack of some things. Nobody pays any attention to their complaining, and they suffer from the constant fear of some dreadful happening. They cannot bear (accept) the praise of Satguru, but find no support anywhere. They go and join the company of other such sick people who have already been denounced by the Satguru as slanderers and lose any respect if they had been left with any. Having been denounced by Satguru, they are already like a leper (who are shunned by others); but if someone becomes friends with them, they also become sick with the same disease (slanderers of Satguru) (and are disliked by people). For God's sake, do not even have a glimpse of those who love Maya (and not Satguru). Waheguru has predestined the behaviour of such people, and no one has any choice against Waheguru's will. Recite Waheguru's Naam to which nobody has any access (to cause any harm to the devotee), oh Nanak. The transcendence of Waheguru's Naam is very high, and it increases in multiples every day. 2.

Jun(u) Nanak(u) Hur(i) Kertaiy aap(i) beh(i) tikiya, aapay paiyj rukhaiy Prubh(u) soyee. 3.

Word Meaning: J(i) = Jo = whom. Beh(i) = by sitting down (with careful considetion). Tikiya = designated. Niviya = bowed to. Jus(u) = praise. Loyee = in the world. Khund = part of the universe = the earth (world). Brahmund = Universe. Numuskaar = bow to. Mustuk(i) = (on the) forehead. Paiyj = honour.

MEANING: The individual, whom the living Guru designates (to succeed Him) after careful consideration, enjoys a great respect. The whole world bows to him and touches his feet; his praise spreads in the whole world. The earth and the whole universe bow before the devotee on whose forehead the Perfect Guru places His kind hand, and makes him perfect too. The greatness of the Guru is unmatched, and it increases by leaps and bounds. Waheguru Himself designates the Guru, and protects His honour, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = human body. Koat(u) = fort. Apaar(u) = limitless. Hutnaalay = home of shops (bazaar). Sauda = trade. Hur(i) Vust = Waheguru's Naam. Smaalay = take care of; remember. Pervaalay = rubies; jewels. Vin(u) Kaaya = outside of the body. Khoajday = search. Moorray = foolish. Baytaalay = not in rhythm in life. Oojhurr(i) = in wilderness. Bherm(i) = in doubts. Bhuvaayiyeh(i) = made to wander. Mirg = musk deer. Bhaalay = searches for. Jhaarr(i) = in bushes.

MEANING: Human body is such a vast fort that it contains bazaars to trade (Waheguru's Naam). Those, who trade in Guru's shelter, deal in Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's Naam is like a treasure of diamonds and rubies. Those, who search for the Naam wealth outside the body, are foolish, and are like a ghost because they are not in rhythm in life. Because of their doubts, they are made to wander in the wilderness (are misled in life) like a musk deer who does not realize that musk is within him, and searches for it in the bushes. 15.

Word Meaning: Ghoar(u) Nerk = dark (frightening) hell. Dhoya = hauled. Kook = screams. Pookaar = prayers; requests. Hult(u) Pult(u) = this world and the next.
Laaha = profit, benefit. Mool(u) = principal. Tayli = oilman. Sunda = of. Buld = ox. Joya = put to work (in olden days, oil mills were driven by oxen). Goojjha = hidden. Loonaiy = harvests; reaps. Poorb(i) = earlier. Boya = sowed. Pichhaiy = because of. Kaatth(i) = wood. Sungoya = along with.

MEANING: An individual who vilifies the Perfect Satguru suffers in the world. The frightening hell is a deep well of suffering, that's where he is hauled to. There is nobody to listen to his screams and prayers; he just keeps crying in uneasiness. He ruins both his worlds – the present and the next – and he loses not just the profit, but also the principal (of spirituality that he was born with). Waheguru treats him like the ox of the oilman, which goes in circles to drive the oil mill (the individual is put through the cycle of rebirths). Waheguru sees and listens to everything, and nothing is hidden from Him. Everybody reaps the rewards of what he had sown earlier. An individual, to whom Waheguru is kind, washes the feet of the Satguru (obeys His Teachings respectfully). Lie a piece of iron attached to sufficient wood, floats on the surface of water, a devotee of Satguru swims across the sea of Maya (is salvaged) in the shelter of the Guru. Recite Waheguru's Naam, worshipping whom, all the comforts can be realized, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Vudbhaagiyaan = highly fortunate. Sohaagni = loved by the husband. Hur(i) Raayay = Waheguru-King. Jot(i) = God's light. Pergaasiya = lighted up. Smaaya = gets absorbed in.

MEANING: Those human brides are highly fortunate, and are loved by the Waheguru-Husband, who gets connected with the Waheguru-King in the shelter of the Guru. Their hearts are enlightened, and they get fully absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sreer(u) = human body. Dherm = high morals. Sachay = God's. Guhj = hidden (whose importance is hard to find). Look(i) = hiding. Khoat(i) = graze from the roots; dig deep. Subh(u) = in everything. Aatum Ram(u) = Waheguru. Puchhaaniya = recognized. Servun = ears. Sroat(i) = hear.

MEANING: The human body is the home of high morals where the Light of the eternal Waheguru is shining on them. Virtues, which are like precious stones and which are difficult to understand in terms of their deep importance, are lying hidden in the body, and only a rare devotee in the shelter of the Guru can uncover them by digging deep. A devotee, who uncovers such noble qualities, recognizes (gets connected with) Waheguru, and finds Him in everybody and everywhere. He finds that Waheguru alone is omnipresent and is mixed well with His creation, like the cross threads in fabric. He "sees" only the "One", and believes only in the "One", and listens only to the "One" Waheguru with his ears. Sing praise of Waheguru's Naam, which is the real service to the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 16.

Word Meaning: Rus = essences; sweet tastes; enjoyments. Ridaiy = heart. Vusiya = dwells. Oojlay = shiny; dignified. Ootum(u) = superior. Srayviya = listened to; obeyed His Huqam; worshipped. Dhoor(i) = right from the beginning (source). Aah(i) = is. Paiynayiyeh(i) = are robed (honoured). Voottha = dwelt. Kootumb = family.
MEANING: Those individuals whose hearts have become dwellings for Waheguru feel as if they have enjoyed all the tastes of life. They are honoured in Waheguru's Court, and everybody goes (has the wish) to see them. Those who recite the Naam of the fearless Waheguru also become fearless. But only those individuals who worship Waheguru have the good luck prewritten from the Source (Waheguru). Those who have Waheguru's Naam embedded in their hearts are given the robe of honour in Waheguru's Court. They are salvaged along with their families (associates); we survive by having their sight (idolizing them). 1.

Word Meaning: Dherti = the piece of land; environment; human heart. Bhuyee Huryaavli = becomes green; comes to life. Junt = living beings. Dhun(u) Dhunn(u) = worthy of respect. Kool(u) = clan. Jun-nee = the one who gives birth (mother).
MEANING: The environment, where my Satguru stops to rest, comes to life. All those living beings who go to have a glimpse of the Guru also become (spiritually) alive. The father, the clan, and the mother of the Satguru who bore Him are all worthy of our respect. The Guru is worthy of respect (is great) who recites Waheguru's Naam, because of which, not only He swims across the sea of Maya Himself, but also salvages all those who come to His shelter. It is my request to Waheguru that He connects me with the Guru, and that I wash His feet (serve Him with devotion), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = (manifestation of) Waheguru. Sacha = Eternal. Amar(u) = immortal. Oordhaariya = has embedded in heart. Bikh = poison. Dittha = saw; realized. Poora = perfect. Sadhaariya = became peaceful. Bulihaari = Ghoomm Vaariya = offer to sacrifice.

MEANING: Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru, and has His (Waheguru's) Naam enshrined in His heart. With Waheguru in His heart, and (like Waheguru), He is eternal and immortal. The eternal Satguru is perfect because He has destroyed the poison of lust and rage. When I saw (realized) the perfect Satguru, I found internal peace (bliss). I wish to offer my life to my Guru again and again. Those who come to Guru's shelter win the game of life (attain salvation), while those who are disconnected with him (and love money) lose it (do not find salvation). 17.

Jun Nanak Naam(u) dhiyaayay tu, Hur(i) hult(u) pult (i) chhodaayaysi. 1. Word Meaning: Maylion(u) = (Waheguru) connected with. Bhaavsi = approved by. Ghur = heart. Vusaayaysi = enables control of mind. Jhukh(u) Jhukh(i) = grumble; complain; niggle. Hult(u) Pult(u) = this world and the next. Chhodaayaysi = frees from the bonds of Maya; emancipates.

MEANING: A devotee, whom Waheguru kindly connects with Satguru, recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. He does only those things which are approved by the Guru (always obeys Him), as a result of which, Satguru enables the devotee to have full control over his mind (the mind does not wander and stays in itself). The devotees, who have the treasure of Naam in their hearts, lose all fears by the grace of the Guru. The vilifiers can cause no harm to the devotees, no matter how much they grumble (or complain), because the devotees are protected by Waheguru Himself. Recite Waheguru's Naam so as to be emancipated in both worlds, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhaanvdi = is liked. Churraiy Svaayee = increases in multiples. Taan(u) = power. Deebaan(u) = Court; kingdom. Aan(i) = by bringing. Nivaayee = made to bow to. Bhaaou = affection; respect. Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet (an expression of reverence).

MEANING: Guru's Sikhs like the praise of their Satguru. Waheguru protects the honour of the Satguru, which increases in leaps and bounds every day. Satguru harbours Waheguru in His mind, which protects the Satguru from the attacks of Maya. Waheguru is the power and the kingdom behind (backing) the Satguru; Waheguru forces everybody to come and bow to the Guru. Those who view the Satguru with affection and respect have all their sins eradicated by Him. Such devotees have shiny faces (clear of any sin) in Waheguru's Court, and they win great praise there. I wish for the dust of the feet of the Sikhs of the Guru, who, (for that reason), are my brothers, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Salaahi = worthy of praise. Sift = praise. Sach(u) = everlasting. Triput(i) = Aghaayee = fully contented. Goonga = mute. Vujji Vudhaayee. = heart bloomed.

MEANING: I utter the eternal praise of the praiseworthy eternal Waheguru. Even though Waheguru's praise is everlasting (accompanies you everywhere), nobody can evaluate Him simply by singing His praise. Those who taste the sweetness of Waheguru's praise become fully contented. But, like a mute person who cannot describe the taste in words of some sweet he had eaten, the devotees, who enjoy the bliss of singing Waheguru's praise, cannot describe it. The perfect Guru serves Waheguru, as a result of which His heart blooms in bliss. 18.

Word Meaning: Oomarthul = tumour. Sooliyaa = pain. Birhou = pain of separation. Vithoun = for; from. Ghoomm(i) Gholiya = offer to sacrifice. Tul Roliya = degrade at the feet (serve in the lowest capacity). Goolum Goliya = slave of slaves. Rung(i) = in love. Chloolay = deeply coloured. Bhinni = fully imbued. Choliya = attire; body. Moliya = sold; surrendered; lost all claims.

MEANING: Like a person having a tumour, who knows how severe the pain is, only the devotee knows the pain of separation from Waheguru. I am always ready to make a sacrifice for such devotees. I pray to Waheguru that He connects me with my dear, kind, and great soul (Satguru) so that I may put my humble head at His feet like a slave (for Him to use in whatever way He chooses to). I am a slave of the slaves of the Sikh, who serves the Guru as advised by Him. Those who are deeply dyed in Waheguru's love have their bodies fully imbued in His love too. I pray to Waheguru that He kindly connects me with the Guru so that I may sell my head to Him (have no claim on it) for Him to use in whatever way He chooses, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Augun = ignoble qualities; vices. Nirmul(u) = clean; pure. Goon = noble qualities. Vihaajhiyeh(i) = trade in. Mul(u) = filth. Sach(u) = (Naam of) Waheguru. Toata = shortage; loss. Laaha = profit; advantage. Dhoor(i) Likhiya = prewritten from the beginning. Praput(i) Hoyay = acquires, works.

MEANING: The human body is full of vices; how can it be purified, oh, holy saints? Answer: Trade for noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru, and wash off the filth of haumein. If one trades in the eternal Waheguru's Naam with love (devotion), he acquires His Naam as his merchandise (wealth). There is never a loss (in such trading), but the advantage is that such a trader is liked by Waheguru. But only those individuals trade in Waheguru's Naam who have it prewritten in their fate right from the beginning (birth), and that such luck works for them, oh, Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Salaahi = those who sing praise (devotees). Sach(u) = Waheguru. Sacha = Eternal. Niraalay = pure; completely detached. Vusaiy = dwells. Rukhvaalay = protector; guard. Araadhiya = worshipped. Rulay = mix well; become indistinguishable. Munmukh(u) = followers of their mind; Maya-lovers. Moorr = foolish. Baytaalay = ghost; led astray; losers. Aal(u) Pataal(u) = incoherent talking. unrelated; meaningless. Mud(i) = liquor. Mutvaalay = intoxicated.

MEANING: The devotees sing praise of the praiseworthy and of the eternal Waheguru, which is fully detached from Maya. By serving (worshipping) the eternal Waheguru, He comes to dwell in your mind and becomes your guard. Those who worship the eternal Waheguru merge with Him, becoming indistinguishable. But those who do not serve the eternal Waheguru are like ghosts who have been led astray and are losers in life. They talk incoherently (make no sense) as if they have consumed liquor and are intoxicated. 19.

Word Meaning: Soolukhni = full of virtues. Khusmaiy = Lord. Chit(i) Kuray = keep in mind. Bhaanaiy = as per the advice. Seegaar(u) = adornment. Bhutaar(u) = husband; Lord. Raaveh(i) = recite. Mujeetthaiy = of madder (the colour of madder is very fast and dark, and does not fade). Gehguha = deep; dark. Chloolaiy = deeply dyed. Rutti = imbued. Nayhou = love. Koorr(u) = deceit. Thuuggi = fraud. Goojjhi = hidden. Mooluma = coating. Playt(i) = wrapped in. Dhurayhou = display.

MEANING: Gaurri Raag(u) is virtuous if one can acquire noble qualities by singing Waheguru's praise in it, and keeps Him in mind all the time, and makes Guru's advice his adornment to lead his life. Actually, Guru's eternal Shabad is the Lord (Guru's Shabad is a manifestation of the Lord), and should always be recited. Like a fabric boiled in madder acquires a fast and deep colour, one should dye his mind deeply in the love of Waheguru by surrendering his mind to Him. The individual who has deep affection (devotion) for Waheguru is imbued with His deep colour of love. The deceit and fraud of individuals cannot remain hidden, even when they are masked by a false coating of love and honesty. Their praise (of the Guru) is false because, in reality, they are in love with the perishables. Only Waheguru is eternal, and only He casts His kind sight on individuals to sing His praise with dedication, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Satsungut(i) = holy congregation. Oostut(i) = praise. Praani = men. Dhunn(i) = worthy of respect. Peroopkaaria = for the benefit of others. Drirraaveh(i) = reinforce. Nistaariya = salvaged. Loachaiy = longs. Nuvkhund = the nine regions of the earth. Svaariya = made perfect. Sirjunhaariya = oh, the Creator. Jum(u) = the angel of death. Dhoyee = shelter, support. Oobray = salvaged. Smaariya = remembered.

MEANING: Waheguru's praise is sung in the holy congregation, and one realizes the Dear (Waheguru) in the company (shelter) of the Guru. Those individuals are worthy of our respect who preach (Guru's Message) for the benefit of others. They sing Waheguru's Naam to the people and reinforce it in their minds. It is Waheguru's Naam that salvages the world. Everybody longs to have a holy sight of the Guru, and all the nine regions of the earth bow to the Guru. You have placed Yourself in the Satguru (You operate in Him), and have made Him perfect, oh Waheguru. You, Yourself, worship the Satguru and make the people worship Him, oh, the Creator of the universe. If someone still stays dissociated from Satguru, the Angel of Death punishes him and blackens his face. Gur Sikhs discuss his fate, and he finds no support anywhere. Only those individuals find salvation who come to the Guru's shelter and remember Waheguru in their hearts. Recite Waheguru's Naam because only He salvages you, oh the Sikhs, the sons of Guru Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Bhoolaaya = misled. Doomut(i) = ill advice. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Bikaar = vices. Nudr(i) = kind sight. Undhiyaar = darkness.

MEANING: The world has been misled by ill advice because of which it is suffering from selfishness, ego, and from all sorts of vices of poisonous Maya. The follower of his mind is in complete darkness (in terms of spirituality). Only Satguru can salvage him with His kind sight. Waheguru connects individuals with Him by infusing in their minds a love for Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = everlasting; Waheguru. Sift Slaah = praise. Bhijjaiy = imbues. Ikk(u) = the only (Waheguru). Kandh(u) = body; mental health. Chhijjaiy = weakens. Shabaash(i) = bravo; commendation. Bhaanvda = is liked. Lijaiy = taken. Sachiyaariaan = bearers of truth. Oojul = shiny; honourable.

MEANING: Praise of the eternal Waheguru is everlasting (accompanies you even in the next world); but only those sing it whose minds are imbued with His love. The mental health of those who worship Waheguru with full concentration of mind never weakens. That individual is commendable who drinks the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam with his tongue. Those who like the eternal Waheguru in mind are taken to the Court of Waheguru (for recognition). Praiseworthy is the coming of the bearers of truth (noble qualities) in this world; they are honoured by Waheguru. 20.

Hur(i) saakut sayti sung(u) na kuriyou, oye maaray Sirjunhaaray. Jis ka eh(u) khayl(u), Soyee kur(i) vaykhaiy, jun Nanak Naam(u) smaaray. 1.

Word Meaning: Shaakut = worshipper of Maya. Niveh(i) = bows to. Khoatay = impure; dishonest. Koorr(i) = deceit. Ootthou = be alert. Ghoosur(i) = sneak in. Bugulaaray = imposters (like a heron). Vertaiy = operates. Ludhovaaray = vagabonds; drifters. Chhupaayin = hide. Na Rulni = do not blend. Bhukh = food. Bhaydaaray = rams.

MEANING: The worshipper of Maya may go to visit the Guru, and may bow before him, but that all is a show-off, and a farce, because he is dishonest and deceitful, and has deceit in mind. When the Guru asks His congregation to rise (to be alert and to focus their mind), the impostors (like a heron) sneak into the congregation. However, Satguru operates in the hearts of the Sikhs (whereas the Maya-worshippers have no spirituality), so such drifters can be easily isolated. They try to hide behind other Sikhs, but the dishonest cannot blend with the congregation. They do not have their mental food in the holy congregation; such rams go to places where they can engage in deceitfulness. If some kind Sikh wishes to feed them spirituality, they spew poison from their mouth (retort in a taunting way). I pray to Waheguru that I should not have any association with the money-lovers (dissociated from Waheguru); they have been condemned by Waheguru. The Creator, who has created the drama of the world, looks after it (in His own ways); you just remember His Naam, oh Nanak.

Kaal Kuntuk(u) = thorn (fear) of death. Vidaariya = tossed away. Oobaariya = salvaged. Munda Chitvaiy = thinks ill of. Oopaavunhaaraiy = the Creator. Agum(u) = (knowledge about) the future.

MEANING: Because of Waheguru's continuous presence in Satguru's heart, He (Satguru) is inaccessible to anyone who wants to cause Him any harm because He has the backing of the Creator. Satguru's sword and armour are the worship of Waheguru because of which He has destroyed and tossed away the thorn (fear) of death. Waheguru Himself is the guard of Satguru, and everybody is salvaged because of Him. Whoever thinks ill of the Perfect Satguru is (spiritually) killed by the Creator. I, Nanak, a devotee of Waheguru, am sharing the information about the future treatment of the evil person in Waheguru's Court. 2.

MEANING: There are only a rare few who recite Waheguru's Naam before they go to sleep, and start reciting it as soon as they wake up (they are connected with Waheguru even in their sleep). They recite the Naam in the shelter of the Guru. I am a sacrifice to those who always recite Waheguru's Naam (stay connected with Him). Those who like Waheguru by body and mind, go to (are taken to) Waheguru's Court (for recognition). I am a slave of Waheguru, and I recite the Naam of the Waheguru, which is always fresh (fully energizing), oh Nanak. 21.

MEANING: Those Gur Sikhs, who do not forget Waheguru (remember Him) with every breath and with every nibble of food, are the (spiritual) leaders (respectable). Such Gur Sikhs are approved (recognized) by Waheguru, whether asleep or awake (because they keep Waheguru in mind all the time). Satguru is realized only by the benevolence of Waheguru (connected with Satguru); the Sikhs are focused on Waheguru all the time. Whoever stays in their company also gets recognized in Waheguru's Court. They praise Waheguru in amazement when they go to sleep and do the same when they wake up. MEANING: One acquires (realizes) the Naam of the limitless Waheguru by serving the Satguru (obeying Him). The source of everything, Waheguru, pulls out (saves) the people drowning in the sea of Maya; this is His kind gift to them. Those individuals are truly wealthy who deal in Waheguru's Naam; they are worthy of our respect. The Sikhs of the Guru come forward to deal in the Naam, and they are ferried across the sea of Maya by the Guru's Shabad. But only those serve the Creator whom He is kind to, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Munmukh(u) = disconnected with Waheguru. Moogudh = foolish. Heen = lacking, devoid of. Bhermaayay = misled. Munooa = mind. Tikaiy = rests; becomes peaceful. Jooni = different life forms. 1.

MEANING: The individual, who is devoid of Waheguru's Naam (disconnected with Waheguru), is foolish and is misled in the path of life. Without the Guru's guidance, his mind never finds peace, and he continues to take different life forms again and again. But if Waheguru becomes kind to him, he is connected with Satguru. Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Salaahi = praiseworthy (God). Haajur(u) = present. Bhookhaan = desires for worldly things.

MEANING: The eternal Waheguru, which created days and nights, is recognized (visible) in nature. The greatness (magnificence) of Waheguru is everlasting; such Waheguru should be praised all the time. The praiseworthy Waheguru is eternal, and so is His praise, but nobody can evaluate His great, noble qualities. However, when one gets connected with Satguru, those noble qualities become "visible". All the worldly desires of those who sing praise of Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru (in His guidance) are eradicated. 23.

Word Meaning: Khoaj(i) Khoajayndiyaan = searching for. Ludha = found; realized. Loarr(i) = which was needed. Visht(u) = the mediator.

MEANING: Searching for the needed Waheguru (which I was looking for) in my mind and body, I found (realized) Him from within. But this happened only when I got connected to the mediator Guru, who connected me to Waheguru. 1.

Word Meaning: Mayadhaari = wealthy; one who worships money. Roal(u) Ghuchoala = too much unclear noise in the mind (making and breaking plans). Jaapaiy = recites Waheguru's Naam. Liv Laayay = with full concentration. Vujda = produces music. Junt(u) = musical instrument. 2.

MEANING: The wealthy person is blind and deaf (he does not see the magnanimity of Waheguru and does not listen to Guru's advice). But a Sikh of the Guru recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru with full concentration. He obeys Waheguru's Will on listening to His Naam, and stays absorbed in the Naam. Waheguru does, and makes others

Word Meaning: Kerta = creator. Agunut = beyond limits. Gunutaiy = within limits. Vertda = happens. Buntaiy = creation. Ghut(i) = heart. Ikk(u) = alone. Chultaiy = amazing feats. Pertaiy = turning back.

MEANING: You are the Creator of the universe, and You know everything that goes through the minds of the people, oh Waheguru. You are limitless, whereas the whole world has its limits. You control everything that happens in the world, and it is all Your creation. These are all the amazing feats that You alone operate in every heart, oh, the eternal Lord. Word Meaning: Munooa = mind. Drirr Kur(i) = strictly (under control). Giraas(i) = bite. Visaariyaiy = forget. Jeeurra = mind. Vus(i) = under control; surrendered to.

MEANING: We should keep our mind strictly under control, and concentrate (on Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of the Guru. We should not forget Waheguru at any time, not even when we are breathing, eating, sitting, or standing. Once you have surrendered your mind to Waheguru, there is no worry left about living or dying. Word Meaning: Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Khin(u) = moment. Seejhaiy = be successful. Virla = rare. Kur(i) Joarr(i) = fold hands (ready to obey). Buhoarr(i) = turn around; recover.

MEANING: The follower of his mind is always conceited and does not know the importance of Waheguru's Residence (His omnipresence). He moves forward (to connect with Him) for a moment, but then recedes. If some devotee invites him all the time to come to Waheguru's Residence (holy congregation), he never goes there; so how can he succeed (be approved) in Waheguru's Court? Some rare individuals recognize the importance of Waheguru's Residence (His Naam) and are always ready to obey His Command. Word Meaning: Suful = successful; bears fruit. Kusmul = sins. Bhunnay = ran away; disappear. Oopdaysh(i) = advice; preaching. Kunnay = with ears; intently. Bhaana = Will. Chuvgun = four-times. Vunnay = beautiful colour (beauty). Chaal = lifestyle. Niraali = unique. Deekhiya = advice. Bhinnay = imbues.

MEANING: Only that service to the Guru is successful which pleases Him. When Satguru is pleased, all the sins of the devotee run away. The Sikhs listen very carefully to the Preaching of Satguru. Those who obey Satguru's Will acquire four times more beauty (of mind, or love for Satguru). This is a unique aspect of the Sikh lifestyle: their minds are imbued with love for the Guru upon listening to His advice. 2.

Word Meaning: Gopiya = spread malice; malign. Tthaur = support. Tthaoun = shelter. Hult(u) = this world. Pult(u) = the next world. Guyyay = lost. Vayla = opportunity. Huth(i) Na Aavuyee = cannot be recalled. Guntaiy = keeping account; rivalling. Ghoosiyaiy = lose opportunity. Vihaayay = is spent.

MEANING: Those who malign their Guru find no support and no shelter anywhere. They lose in both worlds and find no room in Waheguru's Court (are thrown out). They cannot recall the opportunity (get a second chance) to drop at the feet of the Satguru (to seek His shelter). One loses the opportunity (to acquire some spirituality) by rivalling Satguru, and his life is spent in deep suffering. Satguru bears no enmity with anyone; He Himself kindly implants Waheguru's worship in the mind of the individual whom he chooses (based on his nature). Whoever gets to have the sight of Satguru (comes to His shelter), is emancipated in God's Court, oh Nanak. 1.

Khooyay = misled; lost. Oojjhurr(i) = wilderness. Bhaytay = meeting. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten (fate). Kmaayay = earns; acquires.

MEANING: The follower of his mind is ignorant (about spirituality), has an evil mind, and is an egoist. He is possessed by rage and loses the game of life with the mind of a gambler. Because of his conceit and lies, he accumulates the burden of sins. What (morality) can he listen to, and what (morality) can he teach people, when he is blind and deaf (towards spirituality), and he himself is lost in the wilderness of life? The follower of his mind is spiritually blind and keeps taking births and dying. He can find no shelter (in Waheguru's Court) without meeting Satguru (who comes to his shelter). (But he is helpless) and is simply following the dictates of what has been prewritten in his fate, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chit Kutthoar = stone-hearted; without compassion. Oodaas(i) = feel uncomfortable. Vul(u) Chhul(u) = dishonestly; non-seriously; somehow. Jhut(i) Kuddhday = bide time. Koorriyaar = deceitful. Gudyee = mixes; blends. Nirjaas(i) = decide.

MEANING: The people who have no compassion for others do not enjoy the company of Satguru, because only high moral values are followed there, which makes them uncomfortable. They somehow bide their time (still thinking of defrauding people), and then leave to join the company of the deceitful. You can see (decide) for yourself that the dishonest do not mix with the honest. The deceitful go and mix with the deceitful, whereas the pure-hearted Sikhs sit by the Satguru (enjoy His company). 26.

Israel Phrishta = angel of justice. Peerray Ghaani = grinds like sesame seeds.

MEANING: Criminal minds set out with tools to rob people at night, not realizing that Waheguru is watching them. They decide firmly to secretly watch other women. (Conceited of their ignoble abilities), They break down walls in risky places because they find it a sweet act to enjoy. Everybody does the deeds of their choice and repents, too. The Angel of Justice punishes them like sesame seeds are ground. 27.

MEANING: Whatever God has written (made the law) from the beginning, cannot be erased (changed). And the Law is that the true wealth for the man to earn is Waheguru's Naam. So, one must recite the Naam all the time, oh Nanak. 2.

NOTE: This holy Shabad, written by Guru Ram Dass Ji, the Fourth Guru, describes an incident about a “tupaa” who lived in Goindvaal at the time of Guru Amar Dass Ji. He was very greedy, egoistic, and a constant vilifier of the holy saints - especially Guru Amar Dass Ji. Once, Guru Amar Dass Ji invited all the holy men in the area for dinner, where some cash was also to be given. It was a custom in those days (and even today) that when a holy man was served meals, he was also given some cash for his “kindness” to pay a visit. The Tupaa declined the invitation because he had another invitation that he expected to pay more for. But he soon learnt that Guru Sahib was giving away much more cash than he had expected. So, he rushed back to his home and took his son to partake of Guru Sahib’s dinner.

MEANING: A “tupa” should not be as greedy as to be looking for money all the time. He did not accept the invitation extended to him by Guru Sahib, but after realizing his mistake (of missing the opportunity to donate), he took his son to attend Guru Sahib’s dinner. On seeing this act of greed of the “Tupaa”, the leaders of the town began to laugh (make fun of him) and commented that the Tupaa had been ruined (had lost his morality) by his greed. He would not even go near the place with less money, but he lost his moral compass when he found out that more money was involved there. The leaders concluded that he is no real tupaa, but rather an imposter (a phony tupaa). He vilifies the truly holy saints (like Guru Sahib) and showers undeserved praise (for selfish reasons) on others. For this huge weakness, Waheguru punished him.

He lost all the reward of his hard labour (self-affliction) of many years for slandering the holy saints. He publicly calls him a “tupaa” among the leaders, but commits sins in private. But Waheguru clearly exposed his inner sin before the leaders.

The Angel of Justice ordered his assistants to take him to the punishment centre where the great sinners are taken, and do not allow anyone to visit him because he has been denounced by Satguru. I am simply describing what takes place in Waheguru’s Court, oh Nanak. But only those who have been made perfect (eligible) by Waheguru realize this fact.

Paiyj = dignity; faith Laykha = accounts of deeds. Mungsi = will demand. Sujaayee = punishment. Jeeyay = in life. Surpur = for sure. Ooghrraiy = becomes clear. Vigsiya = blooming of the mind. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru's devotees worship Him and sing His praise. The devotees always sing Waheguru's praise; Waheguru's Naam is a source of great comfort for them. Waheguru kindly imparts the magnanimity of the Naam in the minds of His devotees, which multiplies every day. Waheguru grants stability (peace) to His devotees' minds (so their minds no longer waver and become peaceful), thereby enhancing their faith in Him. He demands the accounts of their deeds from the vilifiers and punishes them severely. The malicious critics reap the rewards of their deeds, which they had performed over their lifetime. The outcome of one's deeds becomes perfectly clear for sure, no matter where he performs the deeds – even somewhere deep in the earth, hiding from others. Nanak is a slave of Waheguru, and his heart blossoms at the sight of His grandeur. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is the guard of His devotees; so, what harm can the sinners (enemies) cause to them? The foolish and the egoist (vilifier) suffer from their conceit, which is like a poison which slowly kills the person. Just like a field which is ready for harvesting, it is cut in a few days; death is approaching humans fast and is only a few days away. A man is called by (given) the name, which is reflective of the deeds he commits. My Lord, who is also the Lord of everybody else, is the greatest of all, oh Nanak. 30

Jhuggraa = internal struggle. Undin(u) = every day. Soodh(i) Mut(i) = noble thinking. Hir(i) = taken away. Vikaar = vices; unholy thoughts. Suntokhieh(i) = contentment. Tishna = fire of desires. Ugiyaan(u) = ignorance. Undhiyaar(u) = darkness. Bhulee = better.

MEANING: The follower of his mind (disconnected with Waheguru) is completely misled because of his greed and his conceit. He does not ponder on the Guru's Shabad and spends every day of his life in internal strife (whether to commit an immoral act or not). His noble thinking has been snatched (taken away) by the Creator, and all his talking is about immoral actions. Nothing given by God makes him content; there is a big fire of desires, and a deep darkness of ignorance in his mind. It is better to sever all relations with such followers of their mind who have deep love and affection for Maya, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Bhuvaayiyaiy = taken through. Koorr(u) = deceit; lies; perishable. Binsaiy = vanishes. Dhaat(u) = (attachment) with Maya. Livaiy = meditating on Waheguru. Joaar(u) = connection; compatibility. Loachaiy = wishes for. Poataiy = in treasure; in destiny. Poonn(u) = noble deeds.

MEANING: Those who have love for Maya in their mind have no love for the Sikhs of the Guru. They are taken through many different life forms, so they keep taking births and dying, and do not have any comfort even in their dreams. They tell lies and deal in deceitful tasks. A dealer in deceitful acts becomes deceitful too. Love for Maya causes suffering; a Maya-lover vanishes (dies) in suffering, and cries in its suffering (when it is lost). Even if everyone wishes for it, there is no compatibility between love for Maya and meditating on (love for) Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. Those who have noble deeds in their treasure (have accumulated them), enjoy blissfulness in the Guru's Shabad. 2.

Word Meaning: Veechaareh(i) = profess. Sunt = holy saints. Moon(i) Jun = ascetics who stay quiet for long periods of time; hermits. Vuchun = words. Hovunday = materialize. Pergut = become famous (well known). Pahaaraiy = shops; in the world. Jaapday = seem. Moogudh Nur = foolish people. Khehunday = provoke; display aggressive behaviour. Loachun(i) = long for. Bhaag = fortune. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (from the beginning). Sunday = of; belong to; loyal to. Dherm = angel of Justice. Puchunday = burn; suffer. Sraapiya = cursed. Bhuvunday = go through many births. Payd(u) = tree. Moondhaahoon = from the base.

MEANING: The holy saints and the hermits profess, and all the four Vedas say the same thing, that whatever words are spoken by the holy devotees of Waheguru, materialize into (become) reality. Such devotees become famous (well-known) worldwide, and people listen to them. But the foolish, who display aggressive behaviour towards the holy saints, never enjoy comfort (peace of mind). They long for the noble qualities of the saints (same respect) (but cannot acquire them), so they burn (suffer) because of their hurt ego (jealousy). But they are helpless because they have ill fortune right from the beginning. Those who have been punished by Waheguru are not friends with (loyal to) anyone. They show animosity towards the holy men who have no enmity with anyone, so they suffer gravely at the hands of the Angel of justice. Anyone who has been cursed by the holy saints goes through many life cycles. They are like a tree which has been cut from its base, as a result of which its branches dry up.

MEANING: Like a hungry man who pays no attention to respect, disrespect, or insulting words to get food, I (also do not care what people say about me), and beg Waheguru to kindly give me His Naam so that I may have union with Him, oh Nanak. 2.

Umul = acting on (the orders); deeds. Poonniya = successful; fulfilled. Mul(u) = filth; belongings of others. Hirtay = steal. Akirtghun(u) = ungrateful; disloyal. Dhiraan = sides; supports; shelters. Nikhootius = run out. Hir(i) Luyeeus(u) = taken away. Dhertay = Dher tay = from the earth. Vijjhun = die down. Kula = disputes; conflicts. Luyya = removed. Ahunmayo = conceit; ego.

None of the wishes of such an individual is fulfilled who steals the belongings of others. Acting on the orders (of the Angel of justice), his assistants tie him up and take him away. Such ungrateful people do not realize Waheguru's kindness; therefore, they are taken through many life forms. All their supports run out (nobody can save them), and they are removed from the earth. When such an individual does not let conflicts die down, the Creator removes him. All those who act under conceit drop down to the ground (mix with dust). 32.

He becomes pure and holy at heart, and ponders on the Guru's Shabad very conscientiously. If someone joins his company, he too finds salvation. Waheguru's Naam fills his mind with the sweet fragrance of noble thoughts. He earns praise in Waheguru's Court, and his conversations with people are very sweet and full of high moral principles. Whoever listens to his words becomes blissful. One acquires the wealth of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of Satguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Waheguru recognizes the hard labour and fully rewards the Sikhs who act on Satguru's advice in their daily routine and recite His Naam. If someone wants Gur Sikhs to do some job for him without the approval of Satguru, the Sikhs do not even go near him again. But if someone serves the Guru with devotion, the Sikhs serve Him in any capacity. But if someone approaches the Sikhs with deception in mind and leaves them with it, the Sikhs certainly do not go near him. (Guru) Nanak delivers the Divine message that if someone wants some tasks done by the Sikhs without the approval of Satguru, he is subjected to severe suffering. 2.

Satguru is the ship to ferry you across the world sea (the sea of Maya, which must be crossed to unite with Waheguru), so serve Him to board the ship to get across, oh Nanak.

NOTE: It is a Hindu belief that a fetus survives in the mother's womb by remembering Waheguru. Guru Sahiban have used many Hindu beliefs and stories to emphasize remembering Waheguru, ignoring the fact whether the stories, or beliefs, are true or not.

The eternal Naam of the omnipresent Creator is the true mine of jewels (noble qualities). The individual, who has the fortune written on his forehead, recites Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which Waheguru grants him His eternal Naam as his journey expenses to the next world, because the man is only a visitor on the earth. (It is a Hindu belief that the human soul takes a full year to travel to its ancestors and needs food and water as its journey expenses.

Goomphou = string virtues in mind like beads in a necklace. Maal = necklace. Mul(i) = filth. Purhuriyaiy = remove; wash away. Nurhuriyaiy = Waheguru. 11.

MEANING: A holy saint is recognized by the fact that one finds salvation in his company. The assistant of the Angel of death does not even come near (in the company of the holy saint) you, and you do not experience spiritual death again. The world is a sea of poison (of Maya), and we swim across that in the shelter of the holy saint (Guru). If we string the virtues of Waheguru on the rosary of our mind, He removes all our filth. I advise everybody to stay connected with the dear Waheguru, which is beyond limits, oh Nanak. 11.

MEANING: With the grace of the Perfect Guru, I have made Waheguru's Naam my wealth, by virtue of which I have been able to "see" the Perfect and the inaccessible Waheguru, which is simply all amazement, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: The man is misled in life by his greed and his attachments with the world, but he cannot deceive (hide his acts from) Waheguru. In deep slumber under the intoxication of Maya, he performs immoral deeds as a result of which he is robbed of good qualities and is set on the path leading to the Angel of death, and is taken through different life forms again and again. He reaps the rewards of his own deeds and suffers badly. It is all bad times when one ignores Waheguru, oh Nanak. 12.

Word Meaning: Vustoo = things. Saad(u) = taste. Chukh(i) = tasted. Dittha = saw; experienced. Voottha = takes dwelling. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya. Ruv(i) = is present. Dooya = the other (Maya). Koottha = killed; robbed. Ker = hands. Toottha = pleased to be kind.
MEANING: The after-effects of all things are mostly bitter (harmful), but those of Waheguru's Naam are sweet (comforting). But only the devotees and the holy saints enjoy its taste. Waheguru takes dwelling in the heart of the individual for whom it has been prewritten by Him. Waheguru is omnipresent, but the man is being robbed of his noble qualities in the love for Maya (and does not benefit from Waheguru's Naam). With folded hands, I beg Waheguru's Naam, which He bestows with His kindness, oh Nanak. 13.

Word Meaning: Neeh(i) = love. Vidha = pierces. Puchhaan Thiyo = recognizes. Virlo = rare. Paadhur = path. Pudhro = straight (free of any doubts). 2.
MEANING: Only that love is true which pierces one's mind, but some rare individual recognizes (acquires) it. The Guru connects one with Waheguru (for His love), and also makes the path to union with Waheguru simple and straight (clear without any doubts, misunderstandings, or rituals), oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: Serve only the Provider (Waheguru) who is also forgiving. All sins are destroyed by reciting His Naam. The Guru has explained the path to unite with Waheguru; so, one must recite the Guru's Mantra (Gurbani) to achieve union with Waheguru. The after-effects of Maya are all tasteless and provide no comfort in the long run; Waheguru is the one to be liked in the mind (for ultimate bliss). I recite the Naam of Waheguru, who has given me life, oh Nanak. 14.

MEANING: Only those individuals benefit (spiritually) in life who have Waheguru's Naam as their true wealth. They do not know of any love for Maya and depend only on the eternal Waheguru. I serve only the "One" which is immortal; serving anyone else is (spiritually) destructive. His every breath goes to waste who forgets Waheguru. MEANING: When Waheguru wishes, rain comes down in a natural way, as a result of which there is a huge production of grains and wealth, and the earth (its people) gets fully contented. By reciting the virtues of such a kind Waheguru, all the suffering of poverty (of mind) gets eradicated. But, only that individual sings praise of Waheguru, who is predestined to do so by His Will. Waheguru keeps us alive (with his gifts). I recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: It is only by worshipping (reciting the Naam of) the "One" Waheguru that one attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya to become immortal (merge into Waheguru). There is no other shelter like Him; so how can the man find mental strength (without Him)? I have searched the whole world, but there is no peace without the Naam. Some rare devotees internalize the fact that their bodies and their wealth will be reduced to dust. So, what will the man do with the gimmicks, the beauty, and the enjoyments of life (Maya) when they are all worthless (at the end)? The individual, who has been misled by Waheguru Himself, cannot acquire the skill to worship Waheguru. But those who are imbued in Waheguru's love, sing His praise. I, Nanak, am in Your shelter if You allow it, oh Waheguru. 2.

MEANING: They do not take rebirths (and do not die) who come to the shelter of Waheguru. Those who stay awake (are alert) in praise of Waheguru are approved (given the highest spiritual state) in this life. They are highly fortunate who realize Waheguru in the company of the Guru. But their life is condemnable who forget Waheguru, and they are spiritually so weak that they break (yield to the attractions of Maya) like a raw thread. MEANING: When Satgur(u) Nanak is pleased to be kind to someone, the loving Waheguru takes dwelling in the ground of his heart, which begins to look as attractive as the ground which is covered with grass with dew drops on it (which act like prisms and scatter light like a rainbow of colours), and all his objectives are beautifully achieved. 1.

MEANING: To achieve the desired result of all comforts, I lead my life of high morals, and remember Waheguru. I visualize Waheguru as close to me and recite His Naam. Such devotees conquer the powerful fort of all sensual desires (Maya) and find salvation. So, serve the immeasurable Waheguru, who saves you by sheltering you, oh Nanak. 19.

I am that bard who always begs at His Door and never leaves it (as my permanent support). Wishing for Waheguru's Naam is the zest in my mind and my body, oh Nanak. 21.1. Has been verified.

The fire (of desires) which is burning the gods and the humans can be put out by Waheguru's Naam-water, which salvages them. 2. Waheguru's Naam-water never runs out, no matter how much you use it, and the sea of Maya becomes the sea of comforts (blissfulness). 3.
I am worshipping Waheguru whose Naam-Amrit has quenched all the thirst of my desires, oh Kabir. 4.1.

Unt Kee Bayla = time of death. 4.

MEANING: The thirst for the water of worldly desires does not go away; actually, it becomes more intense with time, oh my Lord. Pause. You are the ocean (source) of the Naam-water, and I am a fish in there. As long as I stay in Your Naam-water, I survive (am spiritually healthy), but I become weak (spiritually) without Your Naam-water. 1.
I am like a weak parrot, but You are my cage (where I am safe), so what harm can the cat of death cause me? (Birds are afraid of being prey to cats). 2.
I am like a bird, and You are like a tree (my safe home); but I am unfortunate not to have yet had a glimpse of Yours (not to connect with You). 3. You are the eternal Guru, and I am a new disciple (an inexperienced one who does not know how to please you). But, I, Kabir, pray to You to show me Your holy sight as the time of my death is near. 4.2.

Laaj = shame; worry. Ooghuraiygo = will become public. Paaj = shameful acts. 3. Tiyaag = relinquish. 4.

MEANING: When I recognized the one and the only Waheguru, what caused the people to feel hurt, oh Kabir? 1. If people think that I have lost my dignity (by worshipping God because it was contrary to the prevalent idol worship), then there is no need for anyone to follow my footsteps (path of worship). Pause. Maybe I am as bad as others see me, but if I am really bad, it is only in my mind, as I do not share my feelings with others. 2. I am not worried about my respect or disrespect; it will become clear to the public when people's shameful acts are uncovered. 3.
The only respect that counts is the one approved by God. So, I have relinquished everything else (all rituals) and recite God's Naam only, oh, Kabir. 4.3.

Moondaayay = shave. Sidh(i) = success (union with Waehguru). Bhayd = sheep. Bind Raakh(i) = celibacy. Khoosray = eunuch. Perm Gut = highest spiritual state. 3. Nur = man (human). 4.

NOTE: Hindus had been using (and some of them still do) different approaches to please their gods, which included staying naked, covering their bodies with leather (animal hides), shaving their heads, practicing celibacy, etc. Kabir Sahib disapproves of all such practices and emphasizes the worship of God (Waheguru) only.

MEANING: If one could achieve union with God by staying naked, then all the deer (and other animals) would have been emancipated (from the bonds of Maya). 1.
What good does staying naked, or covering one's body with a hide, do if he does not recognize (make a connection with) God? Pause. If one could achieve his objective (of connecting with his deity) by shaving his head, why has no sheep been salvaged? 2. If one could swim across the sea of Maya by practising celibacy, then why does not a eunuch achieve the highest spiritual level? 3. The only message I want to deliver to my human brothers is that nobody can attain a high spiritual state without God's (Waheguru's) Naam, oh Kabir. 4.4.

Chaar(i) Churn = the four Vedas. Aagur = leaders; learned people. Kul(i) Saagur = the era of Kalyug (in the world). Buhou = many things. Muha Rus(u) = the supreme taste (of Waheguru's Naam). 4.

MEANING: the Brahman bathes the stone-idol, and also bathes himself in the morning and in the evening. If taking a dip emancipates him from the bonds of Maya, all the frogs should be emancipated because they live in water all the time. 1. Until one is imbued in the love of Waheguru, he has to appear before the Angel of justice for punishment, no matter how many rituals he performs. Pause. Those who love their bodies and adorn them in many different ways to look attractive have no compassion for others, even in their dreams. 2. Some learned people recite the four Vedas (but enjoy no peace); only the holy men enjoy bliss in this world of disagreements. 3. Kabir (Ji) says (advises) that rather than performing many different rituals, just drink the supreme juice of God's Naam. 4.5.

Maadho = Chaturbhooj = Raghuraayiya = (different names for) Waheguru. Pause. Perhur(u) = push away; get rid of. Loakachaar = worrying about what people will say; caring about mass following. Kerm Kert = performing rituals. Budhay = increases. 3. Bhoalay Bhaaou = innocent affection (without expecting any return). 4.

MEANING: What good is the recitation of any mantra, self-affliction, fasting, or worshipping a deity, if there is love for the other (Maya) (than God) in mind? 1. Foster love for God in your mind; you cannot get connected with Him by any cleverness, oh my friend. Pause. Get rid of your greed, your lust, rage, and your ego, and don't pay any attention to the comments of people. 2. Performing rituals, like worshipping a stone idol by inviting a gathering, simply enhances one's ego. 3. I wish to tell people that you realize God only by worshipping Him in an innocent way (with a clean mind), oh Kabir. 4.6.

So Brahman(u) kuhiut haiy humaaray. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Gerbh Vaas = in the mother's womb. Braham Bind(u) = a part of God. Ootpaati = produced; came into being. 1. Bahman = Brahman = one who has knowledge of the Braham (Waheguru); a caste in India considered to be the supreme among all others. Pause. Jaaya = born of. Aan Baat = some other path. Kut = how? Shood = the lowest class in the Indian hierarchy; untouchables. 3.

MEANING: A fetus does not belong to any caste or clan in the mother's womb because every human being is born as a part of the same God. 1. Tell me, since when have you acquired knowledge of (connected with) God, oh Pundit? Do not waste away your human life in the conceit of being a Brahman. Pause. If you are really a Brahman, born of a Brahman mother, why did you not come into this world using some other path? 2. How is this, that you are a Brahman and I am an untouchable? And how is this, that I have blood in my veins and you have milk? 3. In our circle, we call a man a Brahman, who ponders on (the Naam of) God (gets connected with Him), oh Kabir. 4.7.

NOTE: Kabir Sahib belonged to a low-caste weaver community, which was treated with disdain by Brahmans. Using strong wording, Kabir Sahib questions the superiority of the Brahmans.

(PAGE 325): Gaurri Kabir Ji: Undhkaar sookh(i) kubeh(i) na soyee haiy. Raja, runk, doyoo mil(i) rooyee haiy. 1. Juopaiy rusna Ram(u) na kehibo. Oopjut binsut rovut rehibo. 1. Ruahou. Jus daykhiyaiy turvur kee chhaaya. Praan guyay, kuhou ka kee Maya. 2. Jus juntee meh(i) jeeo smaana. Mooyay murm(u) ko ka kur(i) jaana. 3. Hunsaan survur, kaal(u) sreer. Ram rusaayin peeo ray Kabir. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Undhkaar = darkness of ignorance. Kubeh(i) Na = never. Runk(u) = pauper. 1. Juoupaiy = until. Oopjut = produced; born. Binsut = destroyed; die. Pause. Jus = as. Turvur = tree. Chhaaya = shade. 2. Junti = musical instrument. Jeeo = music. Smaana = gets absorbed. Murm(u) = secret. 3. Huns = swan. Survur = pool of water (lake). Kaal(u) = death. Rusaayin = source of all juices (tastes). 4.

MEANING: Nobody can sleep in peace with the darkness of ignorance. Both the king (rich) and the pauper cry together (suffer equally). 1. Until you recite God's Naam with the tongue, you will continue to be born and to die, oh my friends. Pause.
Just as you watch the shade of a tree disappear in darkness (it separates from the tree), the soul separates from the body (and the wealth) on death; so, what good is the wealth to the soul (which goes to the next world) after death? 2. Just as the music gets absorbed in the instrument (it comes to an end) when the instrument is not being played, the soul gets absorbed in the source which produced it (Waheguru) after death, and nobody knows where it went (nothing accompanies the soul). 3. Just as the swans stay close to water, death stays very close to the human body (no one knows when death will pounce on him); so, drink the essence of all sweet juices – Waheguru's Naam- (before it is too late), oh Kabir. 4.8.

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Joat(i) kee jaat, jaat kee joati. Tit(u) laagay kunchooa ful moti. 1. Kuvun(u) su ghur(u) jo nirbhuou kuhiyaiy. Bhuou bhuj(i) jaayay, ubhaiy hoyay ruhiyaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Iss(u) perchaayay, perch(i) ruhou ais(u). 4.9.

Word Meaning: Joat(i) = Waheguru's Light (Soul). Jaat = living beings. Joati = light; soul. Kunchooa = glass (cheap and easily breakable); poor qualities. Moti = pearls (expensive and very hard to break); noble qualities. 1. Ghur(u) = shelter. Nirbhuou = fearless. Bhuou = fear. Bhuj(i) Jaayay = run away; disappear. Abhaiy = fearless. Pause.
Tut(i) = bank of a river. Teeruth = holy place. Putiyaayay = like; bring faith. Chaar Achaar = noble deeds (as per the norms of the society). Oorjhaayay = entangled. 2.

Poonn = accepted noble deeds. Paarus(u) = elixir-stone (Waheguru). Tujhou = relinquish. Aan = others. 3. Nirgoon Ram = Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. Perchaayay = get interested. 4.9.

MEANING: Human soul is a part of Waheguru's Soul; but some souls bear bad qualities, while others bear good qualities as fruit (get rewards as per their deeds). 1.

Which shelter can be considered to provide freedom from fear so that all worldly fears disappear, and the man becomes fearless? Pause. The mind does not get convinced to develop faith in Waheguru at spiritually accepted places like the banks of some rivers or holy places. It simply stays entangled in following the accepted noble deeds (living) as per society's norms. 2. Sins, and the accepted noble deeds are the same (produce the same results) (because even most of the accepted noble deeds are spiritually worthless, and rather enhance one's ego). (The best thing to do is to) Enshrine Waheguru's Naam in your heart, and quit efforts for all other qualities or deeds. 3.

Do not show any resentment towards Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya; rather, bring faith in Him, and stay interested in Him (recite His Naam), oh Kabir. 4.9.

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Jo jun permit(i) permun(u) jaana. Baatun hee baiykoontth smaana. Na jaana, baiykoontth(u) kuhaa hee. Jaan(u), jaan(u) subh(i) kuheh(i) tuhaa hee. 1. Ruhaou. Sadh sungut(i) baiykoontthaiy aah(i). 4.10.

Word Meaning: Permit(i) = beyond measurements. Permun(u) = beyond the mind (incomprehensible). Baiykoontth = paradise. 1. Putiyuyee = gets convinced. Haumein = selfishness and ego. 2. Churn = (Waheguru's) feet; Waheguru. 3.

MEANING: Everybody says (wishes) to go to paradise, but I have no idea where such paradise is. Pause. Those who claim to have realized the immeasurable and the incomprehensible God only talk about paradise (without having any knowledge). 1.

The human mind does not get convinced simply by describing (God) or by hearing about (Him) from others. Only that mind gets convinced (about God) which has gotten rid of its haumein. 2. As long as the man has hope for paradise, Waheguru will not take dwelling in his mind. 3. It does not need to be said (emphasized) that Waheguru resides in the holy gathering, oh Kabir. 4.10

Word Meaning: Opjaiy = is produced; is born. Nipjaiy = grows; matures. Smaayee= is absorbed (into Waheguru). 1. Laaj = shame. 2. Kaaya = body. Paali = raised. 2. Choaa = essences of roses and other flowers; colognes. Chundun = sandal-oil. Merdun = massages. Unga = body parts. Kaatth = wood. 3. Gooniya = a man with good qualities; a wise man. Binsaiy = vanishes. 4.
MEANING: The man is born, he grows (is raised), and finally he dies. Everybody leaves this world in front of the eyes of the survivors. 1. So, should not the man feel ashamed when he claims this world to be his (permanent) home (when he is here only as a visitor)? At the end, nothing accompanies him. Pause. The man nourishes his body with great effort, but it is burned with wood after death. 2. He massages his body with different fragrances, which are put on a wooden fire at the end. 3. Listen, oh wise man, the whole world will see your beauty (beautiful body) vanish at your death, says Kabir. 4.11.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ॥ ਅਵਰ ਮੂਏ ਕਿਆ ਸੋਗੁ ਕਰੀਜੈ॥ ਤਉ ਕੀਜੈ ਜਉ ਆਪਨ ਜੀਜੈ॥ 1॥ ਮੈ ਨ ਮਰਉ ਮਰਿਬੋ ਸੰਸਾਰਾ॥ ਅਬ ਮੋਹਿ ਮਿਲਿਓ ਹੈ ਜੀਆਵਨਹਾਰਾ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਇਆ ਦੇਹੀ ਪਰਮਲ ਮਹਕੰਦਾ॥ ਤਾ ਸੁਖ ਬਿਸਰੇ ਪਰਮਾਨੰਦਾ॥ 2॥ ਕੂਅਟਾ ਏਕੁ ਪੰਚ ਪਨਿਹਾਰੀ॥ ਟੂਟੀ ਲਾਜੁ ਭਰੈ ਮਤਿ ਹਾਰੀ॥ 3॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਇਕ ਬੁਧਿ ਬੀਚਾਰੀ॥ ਨਾ ਓਹੁ ਕੂਅਟਾ ਨਾ ਪਨਿਹਾਰੀ॥ 4॥12॥
Gaurri Kabir Ji: Uver mooyay, kiya soag(u) kureejaiy. Tuou keejaiy, juou aapun jeejaiy. 1. Main na muroun muribo sunsaara. Ub moh(i) miliyo haiy Jeeaavunhaara. 1. Ruhaou. Iya dayhi permul mehkunda. Ta sookh bisray Permanunda. 2. Koouta aik punch punihaari. Tootee laaj(u) bhuraiy mut(i) haari. Kuhou Kabir ikk boodh(i) beechaari. Na oh(u) koouta, na punihari. 4.12.
Word Meaning: Uver = others. Soag(u) = grief. Jeejaiy = live forever. 1. Jeeaavunhaara = life giver (God). Pause. Dayhi = body. Permul Mehkunda = fragrance of colognes. Permanunda = source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). 2. Koouta = well-like body which contains good qualities rather than water. Punch Punihaari = the five demons which draw the water of good qualities (rob the human body of good qualities) from the body-well. Laaj(u) = the rope tied to the bucket used to draw water. Mut(i) Haari = devoid of wisdom. 3. Boodh(i) = wisdom; bright idea. Beechaari = thought of.
MEANING: It is useless to grieve the death of others (some relative); it makes sense to grieve only if one is going to live forever. 1. But I have found a solution; I have connected with Waheguru, which is the source of life. Now, I will not die (because I will merge with the immortal Waheguru) while the rest of the world will have to die. Pause.
The man adorns his body with fragrances to feel happy, and while enjoying the comfort, he forgets Waheguru, which is the source of supreme bliss. 2. (When the man forgets Waheguru), Like a person who draws water from a well, the five demons – lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego - rob the man of his good qualities, while he is enjoying sensual pleasures. The man, devoid of wisdom, allows the demons to continue robbing him of good qualities (the man enjoys sensual pleasures) even when the thread of his life is about to break (he is near death). 3. I have pondered on a wise idea, and (with God's grace) I have controlled my sensual pleasures, and sealed the body well to prevent the loss of noble qualities. So, there is no open well (which can be robbed), and no demons to rob, oh Kabir. 4.12.

(PAGE 326): Aisay ghur hum buhout busaayay. Jub hum Ram gerbh hoyay aayay. 1. Ruhaou. Joagi, jutee, tupee, brahamchaari. Kubhoon raja chhutarput(i), kubhoon bhaykhaari. 2. Saakut mureh(i), sunt subh(i) jeeveh(i). Ram rusaayin(u) rusna peeveh(i). Kuhou Kabir Prubh kirpa keejaiy. Haar puray ub poora deejaiy. 4.13.

Word Meaning: Usthaavur = immovable life (trees, vegetation). Jungum = the animals that move around. Keet = ants (and other small life). Ptunga = moth and other insects. Buhou Runga = different life forms. 1. Ghur = hearts (bodies). Gerbh = in the womb. Pause. Jutee = celibate. Tupee = those who endure physical hardships to please some god. Brahamchaari = virgin. Chhutarput(i) = with royal canopy. 2. Saakut = lover of Maya. Rusaayin = source of all sweetness (Waheguru's Naam). 3. Haar Puray = having exhausted all options; finally. Poora Deejaiy = connect with the Perfect (God). 4.

MEANING: I had lived through many different life forms going through the mother's womb, oh Waheguru. Pause. I have lived as vegetation, as moving animals, as ants, and as insects, countless times, and taken many different body forms. 1. Sometimes, I lived as a yogi, a celibate, a "tupee", or as a virgin. Other times I lived as a king with a royal canopy over me, and also as a beggar. 2. All the Maya-lovers die, and take rebirths, whereas the holy saints recite God's Naam, which is the essence of all the sweet juices, with the tongue, and spend their whole life staying connected with Him. 3. I pray to Waheguru that He be kind to me and connect me with Him as I have finally come to His shelter, oh Kabir. 4.13.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ ਕੀ ਨਾਲਿ ਰਲਾਇ ਲਿਖਿਆ ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਐਸੋ ਅਚਰਜੁ ਦੇਖਿਓ ਕਬੀਰ॥ ਦਧਿ ਕੈ ਭੋਲੈ ਬਿਰੋਲੈ ਨੀਰੁ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਹਰੀ ਅੰਗੂਰੀ ਗਦਹਾ ਚਰੈ॥ ਨਿਤ ਉਠਿ ਹਾਸੈ ਹੀਗੈ ਮਰੈ॥ 1॥ ਮਾਤਾ ਭੈਸਾ ਅੰਮੁਹਾ ਜਾਇ॥ ਕੁਦਿ ਕੁਦਿ ਚਰੈ ਰਸਾਤਲਿ ਪਾਇ॥ 2॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਪਰਗਟੁ ਭਈ ਖੇਡ॥ ਲੇਲੇ ਕਉ ਚੂਘੈ ਨਿਤ ਭੇਡ॥ 3॥ ਰਾਮ ਰਮਤ ਮਤਿ ਪਰਗਟੀ ਆਈ॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਗੁਰਿ ਸੋਝੀ ਪਾਈ॥ 4॥1॥14॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji with an addition by Mehla 5: Aiso achurj(u) daykhiou Kabir. Dudh(i) kay bholay biroalaiy neer(u). 1. Ruhaou. Hurie angoori gudha churaiy. Nit ootth(i) haasay, heengaiy muraiy. 1. Maata bhaiynsa amoonha jaayay. Kood(i) kood(i) churaiy, rusaatul(i) paayay. 2. Kuhou Kabir, pergut bhuyee khayd. Laylay kuou choonghaiy nit bhayd. 3. Ram rumut mut(i) perguti aayee. Kuhou Kabir Gur(i) sojhi paayee. 4.1.14.

Word Meaning: Achurj = amazing thing. Dudh(i) = yogurt. Bholaiy = mistaking for. Biroalaiy = churns. Neer(u) = water. Pause. Hurie Angoori = fresh and green vegetation (attractive and lustful acts). Gudha = donkey (foolish). Churaiy = grazes; enjoys. Heengaiy = brays; flaunts. 1. Maata = intoxicated. Bhaiynsa = male buffalo. Amoonha = uncontrolled. Rusaatul(i) = hell. 2. Layla = lamb. Choonghaiy = sucks. 3. Rumut = remembering; reciting Naam. Sojhi = understanding; enlightenment.

MEANING: I have noticed an amazing thing: to obtain butter, the foolish man is churning water, mistaking it for yogurt (performing rituals that are worthless for spirituality). Pause. Like a donkey, which grazes on green and fresh vegetation, the foolish man enjoys attractive and lustful events. Like a donkey which brays in happiness, the idiot man flaunts his immoral achievements and dies a spiritual death. 1. Like an intoxicated male buffalo (which is known for its pig-headedness), the foolish man behaves with no control over his sensual pleasures. He enjoys his immoral acts and eventually goes to hell. 2.

The reality of this drama has become clear to me that the sheep (Maya) is sucking the lamb (the man) (The man, who is supposed to use Maya as his slave, is rather being enslaved by Maya), oh Kabir. 3. Because of my reciting Waheguru's Naam, the Guru has kindly enlightened my mind to grant me this understanding, oh Kabir. 4.1.14.
NOTE: As is clear from the heading of this Shabad, Guru Arjun Sahib has also contributed to it and added the last verse (italicized above) to clarify what made the drama clear to Kabir Sahib. Kabir Sahib had simply said that the drama had become clear to him, but not how. He had ended the Shabad with the third verse. In the last sentence, Guru Sahib explains how Kabir Sahib came to understand that. Note also the numbering at the end. It is different from the rest.

Gaurri Kabir Ji punchpuday: Jiyoun jul chhoad(i) baahur(i) bhuyyo meena. Poorub junum huoun tup ka heena. 1. Ub kuhou Ram kuvun gut(i) moari. Tujilay Benaras(i) mut(i) bhuyee thoari. 1. Ruhaou. Sugul junum Shivpuri guvaaya. Merti baar Mug-hur(i) ootth(i) aaya. 2. Buhout bers tup keeya Kanshi. Mern(u) bhuyya, Mug-hur kee baasi. 3. Kaanshi, Mug-hur sum beechaari. Oachhi bhugut kaisay ootrus(i) paari. 4. Kuhou gur Guj Shiv subh(u) ko jaanaiy. Mooa Kabir(u) rumut Sri Raamay. 5.15.
Word Meaning: Bhuyyo = became. Meena = fish. Poorub Junum = previous life. Tup = worship. Heena = devoid of. 1. Gut(i) = situation; condition. Tujilay = quit; left. Pause. Guvvaya = wasted; spent. 2. Kaanshi = Banaras. Bhuyya = happened. Baasi = residence. 3. Oachhi = not real – just a show off; eriousness; without maming any connection with God. 4. Guj = elephant. Gur Guj = Ganesh, who had an elephant's head. Mooa = died (as far as desires are concerned).
NOTE: People believe that a person who dies in Banaras (Kaanshi) (now Varanasi) goes to paradise, as the city is known as the city of Shiva. Mug-hur is another town believed to be the city of Ganesh, but it is cursed, and whoever dies there is believed to go to hell. In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib debunks this myth satirically and emphasizes the importance of Waheguru's Naam alone.
MEANING: I lost my mind when I left Banaras (because, as per the belief of the people, I would go to hell). Now, You tell me, oh, my God, what my condition (future) will be (I am in Your shelter). Pause. My situation is like a fish out of water; maybe I was devoid of Waheguru's worship in my previous life. I wasted my entire life in the city of Shiva (Banaras) (according to the people, the entire life I spent in Kaanshi went to waste because I left it), and I moved to Mug-hur near the time of my death. 2. (According to the popular belief), Simply by living in Kaanshi, one gets credit for many years of worship (which I lost) because I chose Mug-hur for death. But, for me, there is no difference between Kaanshi and Mug-hur. (No matter where one lives), How can he find salvation by worshipping without understanding (whom to worship)? 4. Everybody knows (worships) Shiva and Ganesh, but I killed my desires by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Kabir. 5.15.

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Choaa, chundun, merdun unga. So tun julaiy kaatth kaiy sunga. 1. Iss(u) tun dhun kee kuvun budaayee. Dhern(i) puraiy oorvaar(i), na jaayee. 1. Ruhaou. Raat(i) j(i) soveh(i), din kureh(i) kaam. Ikk(u) khin(u) layh(i) na Hur(i) ko Naam(u). 2. Haath(i) ta doar, mookh(i) khaayo tamboar. Merti baar kus(i) baandhiyo choar. 3. Sat(i) Ram(u), jhoottha subh(u) dhundha. 6.16.

Word Meaning: Choaa = colognes. Chundun = sandalwood oil. Merdun = massages. Kaatth = wood. 1. Kuvun = what? Budaayee = greatness; importance. Oorvaar = on this side; in this world. Pause. Khin = moment. 2. Doar = string (to hold prestigious birds like hawks). Tamboar = a wrap of betel leaves filled with tobacco and other spices. 3. Rus(i) = enjoying the taste. Raamaiy Ram = only God. 4. Drirrayee = reinforce. Baas Soogundh = fragrance. 5. Chayt(i) = remember. 6.

MEANING: The body, which the man massages with colognes and other fragrant oils, is burned with wood on death. 1. What is the importance (usefulness) of the body and the wealth which stay behind on the earth in this world, and do not accompany the man after death? Pause. The man spends the night sleeping, and the day working, and does not remember God even for a moment. 2. (Ignoring God) the man enjoys the luxuries of life, like, owning the prestigious birds of prey (like hawks), and chewing tamboars. But the thief (who tries to hide his immoral acts) is tied tightly (by the agents of death) at the end. 3. On the other hand, a devotee, acts on the Advice of the Guru, and sings praise of God while enjoying it. He enjoys bliss by reciting Waheguru's Naam only. 4. By His grace, the Guru reinforces Waheguru's Naam in the devotee's heart, as a result of which his body is filled with the fragrance of the Naam. 5. Remember God, oh the blind (ignorant) man. Only Waheguru's Naam is immortal while all other tasks are mortal (the results of which will not accompany the soul), advises Kabir. 6.16.

Tub jaaniya, jub jeevut mooaa. Kuhou Kabir sookh(i) sehj(i) smmavoun. Aap(i) na duroun, na uver draavoun. 3.17.

Word Meaning: Tipuday = having three verses. Chaar Tookay = having four lines.

Jum = Angel of death; frightening enemies. Oolut = turned around. Ram = god-like friends. Binsay = vanished. Bisram = came to rest. Saakut = worshippers of Maya; disconnected from God. Soojun = noble; pious. Cheeta = in mind. 1. Kooshul = all well. Shaant(i) = peaceful; blissful. Pause. Oopaadh(i) = ills. Sehj Smaadh(i) = concentration of mind unaffected by Maya. Aapaiy Aap = Waheguru alone. Biyaapaiy = affects. Teeno Taap = three types of illnesses (sufferings: mental; physical, and aggression by others. 2. Snaatun = original (pure, as at birth). Jeevut Mooaa = kill desires while living in the family. 3.

MEANING: Ever since I have realized Waheguru, my mind has become blissful, and all is well for me. Pause. All my frightening enemies (the five demons which could lead me on the path of spiritual death) have turned around and have become very helpful (are under my control). All my troubles are over, and comforts have made my mind their resting place. My enemies have turned into my friends (I do not think anyone is my enemy). My Maya-loving intentions have changed into noble (pious) thoughts. 1. I had many immoral thoughts in my mind, which have changed now, and I am enjoying the bliss of a peaceful mind, unaffected by Maya. By connecting with God, I have recognized myself (in terms of my objective in life), and now I see Waheguru all around me, and none of the three sufferings can affect me. 2. Now, my mind has turned around to become pure like it was at the time of my birth. But I realized this fact only after I had killed all my desires while still living in the family. Now, I am fully absorbed in the state of spirituality where Maya has no effect; now I am totally fearless (of all worldly problems), and I do not intimidate other people either, oh Kabir. 3.17.

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Pind(i) mooyay, jeeou kih ghur(i) jaata. Shabad(i) Uteet(i) Unahud(i) raata. Jin(i) Ram(u) jaaniya, tinh(i) puchhaaniya. Jiyoun goongaiy shaakur mun(i) maaniya. 1. Word Meaning: Pind(i) = (love for the) body. Jeeou = soul; mind. Ghur(i) = resting place. Uteet(i) = in the fully detached state. Anahud = uniform; which cannot be subdivided (Waheguru). Raata = imbued. Goongaiy = dumb; mute. Shaakur = raw sugar. Mun(i) Maaniya = mimd is convinced; enjoys. 1. Bunvaari = Waheguru; Guru. Puvun = air; breath. Drirr = reinforce; recite (the Naam) again, and again. Sookhmun Naari = a Yogic practice to breathe in through left nostril and hold the breath in the centre of the eyebrows, called the Sookhmun vein. Pause. Buhour = again. Pud(u) = (holy) verse. Ruvhou = recite. Dhiyaan Dhurou = meditate on. 2. Gunga, Jumuna = the two sacred rivers for Hindus. Sungum = confluence of rivers. The two Rivers meet at Allahabad with a third hidden river, Sersvutee, joining them. The Sungum is one of the holiest places of the Hindus where they bathe. Loacha = with the eyes. Sumsur(i) = equal treatment. Biyohaara = dealing. Tut(u) = the root (Waheguru). 3. Up(u) = water. Tayj = light; the sun. Baayay = air. Prithmi = earth. Akaasha = sky. (The noble qualities of all these Natural elements). Reht Ruhoun = living. Nirunjun = Waheguru (which is above Maya). Tit(u) = in that.

MEANING: Many people wonder what happens to the mind when one overcomes their love for the body. Kabir Sahib tells us that with Guru's Shabad, the mind remains imbued with the love of God, which is above the effects of Maya and is indivisible (imperishable). But only that individual who makes a connection with God knows this secret, yet cannot explain it, just like a mute who enjoys the taste of jaggery but is unable to describe it. 1. The Guru delivers the knowledge that, to enjoy blissfulness, one must recite Waheguru's Naam with every breath. When one does that, he does not need to practise the Yogic exercise where they breathe in through the left nostril, and hold the breath in the centre of the eyebrows, which is called the Sookhmun vein, with the belief to control the mind. Pause.

Rest your faith in the real Guru, so that you will not have the need to go to some other guru. Similarly, choose only that holy Shabad for recitation, so that you will not need to choose another. Meditate in such a way that you won't need to change it, and die in such a way (from worldly desires) so that you do not have to experience death again (you merge into Waheguru). 2. The Hindus consider it a very pious deed to take a dip at the confluence of Ganga and Jamuna in Allahabad, but I have turned my mind away from the worldly desires, and bathe my mind with Waheguru's Naam-water; this is the Sungum of Ganga and Jamuna for me. I look at everybody the same way without any discrimination; this is my way of dealing with the world. What else is left there to ponder on (worship), when you ponder on (recite the Naam) of the origin of everything – Waheguru? 3.

I adopt the good qualities of water, the sun, air, the earth, and the sky (to provide comfort to everybody without any discrimination), and that's how I stay close to God. I recite only Waheguru's Naam, as a result of which, I will go to the eternal Home (of Waheguru), and I will not come back (take rebirth) again, oh Kabir. 4. 18.

Word Meaning: Tipuday = Shabads of three verses. Kunchun = gold. Paayiyaiy = acquire. 1. Sehj Soobhaayay = With love and in the spiritual state above Maya. Pause. Kuth(i) = by describing. 2. Chunchul = fickle; capricious. Tiyaagi = gave up. Bhaagi = in destiny.

MEANING: You cannot acquire Waheguru, even by offering as much gold as your weight (He is priceless). I have bought Waheguru (His Naam) by surrendering my mind to Him. 1. Now I consider Waheguru to be mine, and my mind was won over by Him when I attained the spiritual state above Maya with my devotion for Him. Pause.

Brahma described Him again and again, but never found His end. But with His worship, God takes up dwelling in your heart on His own. 2. I have given up my ever-capricious thinking, and only Waheguru's worship is in my destiny now, oh Kabir. 3.19.

Word Meaning: Traasiya = is afraid of. Pergaasiya = made clear. 1. Maaniya = come to like; accepted. Pause. Sehj = the spiritual state above Maya. Amar = immortal. 2. Anunda = blissful. Bherm = misgivings. Permanunda = source of supreme bliss (Waheguru). 3.

MEANING: The idea of death, of which the whole world is afraid, has been made clear by Guru's Shabad. 1. Those who have not made any connection with God die of the fear of death all the time. But, (now that I have made a connection with God), I have come to like death (it does not scare me anymore because I know I will merge with God after death), so how can I die? Pause. Everybody talks about death, but if one dies after attaining the spiritual state above Maya, he becomes immortal. 2. My mind has become blissful because all my misgivings have been dispelled, and only Waheguru is left in my mind, oh Kabir. 3.20.

Kiya jaanoun Sheh kaun piyaari. 2. Kuhou, Kabir ja kaiy mustuk(i) bhaag(u). Subh purhur(i) ta kuou milaiy soohaag(u). 3.21.

Word Meaning: Tthaur = comfort; relief. Mool(u) = medication. Khoajut = searching. 1. Uniyaalay = very sharp (pointed). Pause. Bhaayay = affection. Naari = human beings. Sheh = Husband; Waheguru. 2. Mustuk(i) = (on the) forehead. Purhur(i) = by removing; rejecting. Soohaag(u) = husband. 3.

MEANING: The arrows of the pain of separation from Waheguru are very sharp (affect you strongly and give you severe pain of separation); but only that individual knows this pain, who has suffered the piercing. Pause. I feel pain (of separation), but even on searching carefully, I cannot find where the pain is in my body; so, where should I apply the medication to have relief (this pain is not physical)? I cannot find comfort. 1. I find every woman (person) in love with the "One" (God). So, how do I know who is loved by the Husband (Waheguru)? 2. Rejecting all others, the Husband loves the one who has good fortune (based on her previous deeds) on her forehead, oh Kabir. 3.21.

Word Meaning: Sa = like. Mookut(i) = emancipation. Anunt = countless times. 1. Bhurosa = faith; trust. Kuvun = which; what. Nihora = favour; complaint. Pause. Bhaar = dependent. Pritpaar = raise; look after. 2. Boodh(i) = wise thought. Bus(i) = ability. Bikh(u) = poison (of Maya). Mehtaari = mother; Waheguru. 3.

MEANING: Emancipation calls on the devotee countless times who has Waheguru as his Lord, oh brother. (The devotee does not care about emancipation when he is loved by Waheguru). 1. Now I have full faith in Waheguru (and nobody can claim any favour to me), and I make a claim that I am accountable only to him. Pause.
Why would not the God, on whom the living beings of the three layers of the universe (the worlds above the earth, the earth, and the underworld) are fully dependent, look after me? 2. However, there is one important thing to ponder on: what can a man do if God Himself gets him engrossed in Maya (if he cannot worship God), oh Kabir? 3.22.

Word Meaning: Sut = high moral character. Sutee = with high morals; a widow who is forced (or is persuaded) to immolate herself on the pyre of her dead husband. 1. Preet(i) = attachment. Budhay = increase; develop. Snayhou = love. Rus(u) = enjoyment; selfish interest. Pause. Shaahun(i) = wife of the Shaah (Waheguru) (Maya). Sat(u) = everlasting. Rumuyya = Waheguru. 2. Soohaagun(i) = loved by husband. 3.

MEANING: You force a widow to immolate herself on the pyre of her husband, and call her a "Sutee" meaning having a high moral character. But think about it, how can a woman be called a "sutee" if she is forced to die, oh pundit ji? What does high moral character have to do with that? 1. How can someone develop love for another if there is no attachment in the mind of the former to begin with? There is no love as long as there is some selfish interest involved. (So, if there was no love for the husband, how could the dying widow be called "Sutee"? (Man's real husband is Waheguru, and He is the one who should be loved). But if an individual believes that Maya is his eternal companion, he cannot connect with Waheguru, even in his dreams. 2. Only that woman (person) is really married (earns the love of her husband – Waheguru) who surrenders her body, mind, wealth, and households to Him, oh Kabir. 3.23.

Word Meaning: Bikhiya Biyaapiya = trapped in Maya. Laiy Doobi = drowned. 1. Naav = boat. Chaurrr(i) = hard ground. Kut = how; why. Pause. Soor = gods. Daadhay = burned. Aag(i) = fire (of desires). Nickit(i) = close by. Pus(u) = animal. Jhaag(i) = enduring some inconvenience; put in some effort. 2. Chaytut, Chaytut = remembering (reciting Naam). Neer(u) = water; Amrit. Kuthut = says. 3.

MEANING: The whole world is in the grip of Maya, which has drowned the whole family (of humans) in its sea (has disconnected them from Waheguru). 1. You have broken away from Waheguru and made a strong bond with Maya, oh man. It is like sinking your boat on the hard land (hurting your own interests). Pause. There is the fire of desires all around, in which, not just the humans, but even the gods, are burning. The water (Naam-Amrit) is so close (in one's heart), but the animal-like man does not put in any effort to drink it (and put out the fire). 2. By remembering God (reciting His Naam), the water (Amrit) appears, which is pure and holy (to wash off all sins, and to put out the fire of all desires), says Kabir. 3.24.

Word Meaning: Kool(i) = clan (of disciples). Giyaan Beechaari = made connection with God. Bidhwa = widow (lost her leader). Mehtaari = mother (of thoughts); wisdom. 1. Saadhi = practised. Junmut = right from the birth. Kus = how? Apraadhi = guilty; sinner. Pause. Mooch, Mooch = many, many. Keen = how; why. Boodbhoojh = deformed. Mujhiya = in. Koobuj = hump-backed. Kuroop = ugly. 3.

MEANING: Why did the husband (the leader, or the guru of the clan of disciples) of the mother (wisdom) not die in which (the clan) no follower got connected with Waheguru? 1. Why did the person, who did not practise God's worship, not die right at birth? Pause. Countless people are miscarried; why has such a sinner survived? If such a sinner does survive, he lives the life of a (spiritually) deformed person in the world. 2.

Even if a man is handsome in looks, he is like an ugly hump-backed if he is without Waheguru's Naam, oh Kabir. 3.25.

NOTE: Almost all the scholars of Gurbani have interpreted this holy Shabad very literally. "Mother", as the meaning of "mehtaari" is highly inappropriate here. There are many mothers who have given birth to sons, some of whom were perfect saints or great people, while others were criminals and sinners. So, why blame mothers? Many factors contribute to an individual's personality, including genes, environment, and traits from previous lives. So, "mehtaari" cannot mean "mother" in this holy Shabad. It implies WISDOM in this, and in many other shabads. Kabir Sahib is condemning the self-proclaimed fake gurus who preach to others for the sake of earning money and fame.

Word Meaning: Khusum = Lord; Waheguru. Bulihaaraiy = offer to sacrifice. 1. Nirmul(u) = pure; piou. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Pause. Bhurpoor(i) = filling completely. Pug = feet. Punkuj = lotus. Dhoor(i) = dust. 2. Joolaaha = weaver. Dheer(u) = patient; blissful. Sehj(i) = in spiritual state above Maya. Rumaiy = recites. 3.

MEANING: I will be glad to offer my life (serve in any capacity) to the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam. 1. That individual is pure (pious) who sings the virtues of the Pure Waheguru, and I like him like a brother. Pause. I will love to be the dust of the lotus-like feet of the devotee whose heart is filled with (love for) God. 2. Even though I come from a low-caste of weavers, I have blissfulness in my mind because I sing Waheguru's virtues in a state which is above Maya, oh Kabir. 3.26.

Word Meaning: Guggun(i) = Bhaatthi = the tenth door (the state of being one with Waheguru). Sunch(i) = accumulate. Muha Rus(u) = Naam-Amrit. Tun(u) = (love for) body. 1. Ooa = that. Sehj = the high spiritual state. Mutvaara = intoxicated. Pause. Klaalun(i) = the woman who serves liquor. Anund(i) Maatay = intoxicated with blissfulness. Undin Jaayee = day and night go; life is spent. 2. Cheenut = recognizing. Nirunjun = Waheguru. Unbhuou = the knowledge that comes naturally. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is dripping in my tenth door (mind). Accumulating this great essence (Naam- Amrit), my love for my body is acting like fuel (I am burning away my love for the body). 1. The individual, who drinks the essence (Naam–Amrit) by pondering on God's Knowledge (Guru's Shabad), is the truly intoxicated individual in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Pause. Once the server of liquor (of Waheguru's Naam - Guru's Shabad) enters the mind of the devotee in the high spiritual state, his life is spent intoxicated in blissfulness. 2. Recognizing this truth, I have applied my mind to Waheguru, and that is how I have acquired the Divine Knowledge without any special effort, oh Kabir. 3.27.

(ਅੰਗ 329)॥ ਮਨਹਿ ਮਾਰਿ ਕਵਨ ਸਿਧਿ ਥਾਪੀ॥ 1॥ ਕਵਨੁ ਸੁ ਮੁਨਿ ਜੋ ਮਨੁ ਮਾਰੈ॥ ਮਨ ਕਉ ਮਾਰਿ ਕਹਹੁ ਕਿਸੁ ਤਾਰੈ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਮਨ ਅੰਤਰਿ ਬੋਲੈ ਸਭਿ ਕੋਈ॥ ਮਨ ਮਾਰੇ ਬਿਨੁ ਭਗਤਿ ਨ ਹੋਈ॥ 2॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੋ ਜਾਨੈ ਭੇਉ॥ ਮਨੁ ਮਧੁਸੂਦਨ ਤ੍ਰਿਭਵਣ ਦੇਉ॥ 3॥28॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Mun ka soobhaaou muneh(i) biyaapi.

(PAGE 329): Muneh(i) maar(i) kuvun sidh(i) thaapi. 1. Kuvun(u) su moon(i) jo mun(u) maaraiy. Mun kuou maar(i) kuhou kis(u) taaraiy. 1.Ruhaou. Mun untar(i) boalaiy subh(i) koyee. Mun maaray bin(u) bhugut(i) na hoyee. 2. Kuhou Kabir jo jaanaiiy bhayou. Mun(u) Mudhusoodun, tirbhuvun Dayou. 3.28.

Word Meaning: Soobhaaou = nature; character. Biyaapi = affects; influences. Sidh(i) Thaapi = success achieved. 1. Moon(i) = a sage who stays quit for long periods with the intent to "quiten" his mind (they do not connect with God). Maar(i) = control; kill desires. Mudhsoodun = a name for Waheguru. Tribhuvun Dayou = Light in the three layers of the universe.

NOTE: There are two ways to control one's mind (stop the mind from wandering or from pursuing desires) – (1) with sheer stubbornness and (2) by one's love for God. Once one develops love for Waheguru, he acquires noble qualities, and his attachment with the world automatically comes to an end. Controlling one's mind with persistence does NOT change one's basic nature. His thoughts remain the same. For example, fasting for a few days does not change one's desire to enjoy different foods. But controlling one's mind through love for Waheguru brings about a fundamental change in one's nature, as one acquires noble qualities (thinking). Remember, only Waheguru is the source of noble virtues. In this holy Shabad, Kabir Sahib disapproves of controlling the mind with one's persistence because it does not change the basic nature of man.

MEANING: The basic nature of the man influences his mind. So, controlling one's mind with sheer stubbornness does not achieve anything because the basic nature of the man does not change. 1. Tell me, which moon(i) (sage) has ever controlled his mind in the real sense? Who does he salvage by controlling his mind with just his stubbornness? Pause. Everybody speaks (thinks and acts) according to their nature, but one cannot worship Waheguru without real control over their mind (worshipping Waheguru and control over the mind go together). 2. An individual who knows this secret becomes "one" with Waheguru, which is enlightening the whole universe, oh Kabir. 3.28.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ॥ ਓਇ ਜੁ ਦੀਸਹਿ ਅੰਬਰਿ ਤਾਰੇ॥ ਕਿਨਿ ਓਇ ਚੀਤੇ ਚੀਤਨਹਾਰੇ॥ 1॥ ਕਹੁ ਰੇ ਪੰਡਿਤ ਅੰਬਰੁ ਕਾ ਸਿਉ ਲਾਗਾ॥ ਬੂਝੈ ਬੂਝਨਹਾਰੁ ਸਭਾਗਾ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਸੂਰਜ ਚੰਦੁ ਕਰਹਿ ਉਜਿਆਰਾ॥ ਸਭ ਮਹਿ ਪਸਰਿਆ ਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਪਸਾਰਾ॥ 2॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਜਾਨੈਗਾ ਸੋਇ॥ ਹਿਰਦੈ ਰਾਮੁ ਮੁਖਿ ਰਾਮੈ ਹੋਇ॥ 3॥29॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Oye ju deeseh(i) umbur(i) taaray. Kin(i) oye cheetay, cheetunhaaray. 1. Kuhou ray pundit, umbur(u) ka siyoun laaga. Boojhaiy boojhunhaar(u) subhaaga. 1. Ruhaou. Sooruj Chund(u) kureh(i) oojiyaara. Subh meh(i) pusriya Braham pusaara. 2. Kuhou Kabir jaanaiyga soyay. Hirdaiy Ram(u) mookh(i) Raamaiy hoyay. 3.29.

Word Meaning: Umbur(i) = (on the) sky. Cheetay = carved; created. 1. Boojhaiy = understands; finds out. Pause. Oojiyaara = light up. Pusriya = spread out. Pusaara = creation. 2.

MEANING: (You read and explain the Vedas to the people, but have no concept of the Supreme Being, oh pundit). Tell me, which creator created the stars which are visible in the sky? 1. Tell me, what support is there to hold the sky in place, oh pundit? Only a lucky person realizes this (by connecting with Waheguru). Pause. It is Waheguru which causes the sun and the moon to light up the world. It is all the creation of Waheguru. 2. Only that individual understands (internalizes) this secret who has Waheguru in his heart, and on his tongue, oh Kabir. 3.29.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ॥ ਬੇਦ ਕੀ ਪੁਤ੍ਰੀ ਸਿੰਮ੍ਰਿਤਿ ਭਾਈ॥ ਸਾਕਲ ਜੇਵਰੀ ਲੈ ਹੈ ਆਈ॥ 1॥ ਆਪਨ ਨਗਰੁ ਆਪ ਤੇ ਬਾਧਿਆ॥ ਮੋਹ ਕੈ ਫਾਧਿ ਕਾਲ ਸਰੁ ਸਾਧਿਆ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਕਟੀ ਨ ਕਟੈ ਤ੍ਰੁਟਿ ਨਹ ਜਾਈ॥ ਸਾ ਸਾਪਨਿ ਹੋਇ ਜਗ ਕਉ ਖਾਈ॥ 2॥ ਹਮ ਦੇਖਤ ਜਿਨਿ ਸਭੁ ਜਗੁ ਲੂਟਿਆ॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਮੈ ਰਾਮ ਕਹਿ ਛੂਟਿਆ॥ 3॥30॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Bayd kee pootri Simrit(i) bhaayee. Saankul jayvuri laiy haiy aayee. 1. Aapun nugur(u) aap tay baandhiya. Moh kaiy phaadh(i) kaal sur(u) saadhiya. 1. Ruhaou. Kutty na kuttaiy, toot(i) neh jaayee. Sa saapun(i) hoyay jug kuou khaayee. 2. Hum daykhut jin(i) subh(u) jug(u) lootiya. Kuhou Kabir mein Ram keh(i) chhootiya. 3.30.

Word Meaning: Pootri = child; oof-shoot; based on. Saankal Jayvuri = chains and shackles. 1. Nugur(u) = the city (school) of its followers. Baandhiya = entrapped. Phaadh(i) = trapped. Kaal = death. Sur(u) = arrow. Saadhiya = aimed. Pause. Saapun(i) = female snake. 2.

MEANING: The Simritis, which are an offshoot of the Vedas (based on them), have brought chains and shackles (of rituals and misbeliefs) with them. They have entrapped their own followers with rituals and misbeliefs. As a result, the followers are more tightly bound to the attachment to the world (Maya), and (spiritual) death has aimed its arrow at them. Maya, which has deceived the whole world right under its (world's) eyes, could not affect me (I escaped its charm) because of my worshipping of Waheguru, oh Kabir. 3.30.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ॥ ਦੇਇ ਮੁਹਾਰ ਲਗਾਮੁ ਪਹਿਰਾਵਉ॥ ਸਗਲਤ ਜੀਨੁ ਗਗਨ ਦਉਰਾਵਉ॥ 1॥ ਅਪਨੈ ਬੀਚਾਰਿ ਅਸਵਾਰੀ ਕੀਜੈ॥ ਸਹਜ ਕੈ ਪਾਵੜੈ ਪਗੁ ਧਰ ਲੀਜੈ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਚਲੁ ਰੇ ਬੈਕੁੰਠ ਤੁਝਹਿ ਲੇ ਤਾਰਉ॥ ਹਿਚਹਿ ਤ ਪ੍ਰੇਮ ਕੇ ਚਾਬੁਕ ਮਾਰਉ॥ 2॥ ਕਹਤ ਕਬੀਰ ਭਲੇ ਅਸਵਾਰਾ॥ ਬੇਦ ਕਤੇਬ ਤੇ ਰਹਹਿ ਨਿਰਾਰਾ॥ 3॥31॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Dayay moohaar, lugaam(u) pehraavoun. Suglut jean(u) guggun duouraavoun. 1. Apnaiy beechaar(i) usvaari keejaiy. Sehj kaiy paavurraiy pug(u) dhur leejaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Chul(u) ray baiykoontth toojheh(i) lay taaroon. Hicheh ta praym kay chaabuk maaroon. 2. Keht Kabir bhulay usvaara. Bayd Ktayb tay ruheh(i) niraara. 3.31.

Word Meaning: Moohaar = a part of harness which connects the lower jaw of the horse and the belt that goes around his waist (to control the mouth of the horse). Lugaam = bridle. Suglut = omnipresence (of Waheguru). Jean(u) = saddle. Guggun = sky (the tenth door of the body; brain). 1. Apnaiy Beechaar(i) = self analysis. Sehj = spiritual state above Maya. Paavurraiy = stirrup. Pug(u) = foot. Pause. Baiykoontth = paradise. Taaroon = fly; tour. Hicheh(i) = hesitate. Chaabuk = whip. 2. Bhulay = good; noble. Niraaray = unaffected; stay away.

MEANING: (In Shabad 29, Kabir Sahib discussed how to bring the mind under control; he continues to pursue a similar idea in this Shabad too). I have put moohaar on my mouth to stop it from undeserving praise, and unwarranted criticism of others; have put the bridle of affection for Waheguru on my mind-horse; have put the saddle of the omnipresence of God, and ride on it in the sky of my mind. 1. Self-analysis (what my origin is, and what my objective in life is) is my ride, and the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, is the stirrups to rest my foot on (a high spiritual state is the support for my mind). Pause.
With such arrangements, I invite my mind to enjoy the bliss of paradise. If my mind-horse hesitates, I whip him with my love for Waheguru (which will make him run). 2. Only those riders are noble who (stay absorbed in Waheguru's love), and stay away from discussions of the strengths and weaknesses of the Vedas and the Western Religious books, oh Kabir. 3.31.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ॥ ਜਿਹ ਮੁਖਿ ਪਾਚਉ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤ ਖਾਏ॥ ਤਿਹ ਮੁਖ ਦੇਖਤ ਲੂਕਟ ਲਾਏ॥ 1॥ ਇਕੁ ਦੁਖੁ ਰਾਮ ਰਾਇ ਕਾਟਹੁ ਮੇਰਾ॥ ਅਗਨਿ ਦਹੈ ਅਰੁ ਗਰਭ ਬਸੇਰਾ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਕਾਇਆ ਬਿਗੂਤੀ ਬਹੁ ਬਿਧਿ ਭਾਤੀ॥ ਕੋ ਜਾਰੇ ਕੋ ਗਡਿ ਲੇ ਮਾਟੀ॥ 2॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਹਰਿ ਚਰਣ ਦਿਖਾਵਹੁ॥ ਪਾਛੈ ਤੇ ਜਮ ਕਿਉ ਨ ਪਠਾਵਹੁ॥ 3॥32॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Jih mookh(i) paanchoun amrit khaayay. Tih mookh daykhut lookut laayay. 1. Ikk(u) dookh(u) Ram Raayay kaat-hou mayra. Ugun(i) duhaiy, ur(u) gerbh busayra. 1. Ruhaou. Kaayaan bigooti buhou bidh(i) bhaanti. Ko jaaray, ko gudd(i) lay maati. 2. Khuou Kabir Hur(i) Churn dikhaavhou. Paachhaiy tay Jum kiyoun na putthaavhou. 3.32.

MEANING: The mouth, with which the man enjoys the desired five foods, is set on fire (after death) while the relatives watch it burning. 1. I request Waheguru to rid me of my big worry – save me from the fire of desires and of rebirths. Pause. The human body suffers in many different ways – some people burn it, while others bury it under the ground. 2. I request God to show me His holy Sight, after which, He may send the Angel of death for me by all means, oh Kabir. 3.32.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ॥ ਆਪੇ ਪਾਵਕੁ ਆਪੇ ਪਵਨਾ॥ ਜਾਰੈ ਖਸਮੁ ਤਾ ਰਾਖੈ ਕਵਨਾ॥ 1॥ ਰਾਮੁ ਜਪਤ ਤਨੁ ਜਰਿ ਕੀ ਨ ਜਾਇ॥ ਰਾਮ ਨਾਮ ਚਿਤੁ ਰਹਿਆ ਸਮਾਇ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਕਾ ਕੋ ਜਰੈ, ਕਾਹਿ ਹੋਇ ਹਾਨਿ॥ ਨਟ ਵਟ ਖੇਲੈ ਸਾਰਿਗਪਾਨ॥ 2॥ ਕਹੁ ਕਬੀਰ ਅਖਰ ਦੁਇ ਭਾਖਿ॥ ਹੋਇਗਾ ਖਸਮੁ ਤ ਲੇਇਗਾ ਰਾਖਿ॥ 3॥33॥

Gaurri Kabir Ji: Aapay paavuk, Aapay puvna. Jaaraiy Khusum(u) ta raakhaiy kuvuna. 1. Ram(u) juput tun(u) jur(i) kee na jaayay. Ram Naam chit(u) ruhiya smaayay. 1. Ruhaou. Ka ko juraiy, kaah(i) hoyay haan(i). Nut vut khaylaiy Saaringpaan. 2. Kuhou Kabir akkhur doyay bhaakh(i). Hoyayga Khusum(u) ta layayga raakh(i). 3.33.

Nut Vut = like a dancer. Saaringpaan = Waheguru (a name for Vishnu). 2. Akkhur doyay = two words: Ram, Ram (Waheguru). Bhaakh(i) = say; recite. 3.

MEANING: Waheguru Himself is Maya, and Himself its supporter (He creates the fire of desires for Maya among the living beings). So, if the Lord causes the fire of desires among humans for them to burn in them, then who can save them? 1.

But even if the desires burn my body, my mind is still absorbed in God's Naam. Pause.

Why would anyone burn (in the fire of desires) and why would anyone suffer in it - it is just the drama of Waheguru, who is enjoying it like a dancer (actor). 2. (The solution to escape from this suffering is) that the man should recite only two words – Ram, Ram. If Waheguru becomes your guardian, he will save you from the fire of desires, oh Kabir. 3.33.

ਗਉੜੀ ਕਬੀਰ ਜੀ ਦੁਪਦੇ॥ ਨਾ ਮੈ ਜੋਗ ਧਿਆਨ ਚਿਤੁ ਲਾਇਆ॥ ਬਿਨੁ ਬੈਰਾਗ ਨ ਛੂਟਸਿ ਮਾਇਆ॥ 1॥ ਕੈਸੇ ਜੀਵਨੁ ਹੋਇ ਹਮਾਰਾ॥

Even if I search the whole universe, I do not see anybody else like God, oh Kabir.2.34.

MEANING: The head, on which you tie a turban with zest, is pecked enjoyably by crows in the grave. So, what kind of pride can you have of your body and wealth (which is left behind after death), oh foolish man? 1. Why don't you recite God's Naam repeatedly (which will salvage you)? Pause. (If you do not) You will meet the same fate (death), oh my mind, says Kabir. 2.3. Thirty-five Shabads of Kabir Ji.

How can Waheguru come to dwell in such a Maya-engrossed heart? Pause. Even gods like Shiva and Brahma stayed away from such comforts, yet humans have believed that worldly comforts are everlasting. 2. Famous personalities like the four sons of Brahma, Nard (another son of Brahma who was born out of his thigh), the sages who stay quiet for long times, and Shaysh Naag did not recognize Waheguru's light in them. 3. People should search their minds so as to find out where it (the soul) goes after the body dies. 4. Respectable Bhagats like Jai Dev and Naam Dev Ji recognized the secrets of the mind by loving God's worship with the grace of the Guru. 5. The soul (Waheguru's light) is immortal, but only those individuals realize this truth whose doubts and misbeliefs have been dispelled. 6. The mind (soul) has no physical features; it comes into being by Waheguru's Will and merges into Him by realizing His Will. 7. If someone unlocks the secrets of the mind, he becomes a part of Waheguru by getting absorbed in the mind (God, of which it is part). 8. The mind is the light of Waheguru, which is present in all the bodies. I, Kabir, am absorbed in my mind (Waheguru), and do not allow my mind to wander away. 9.36.

MEANING: (Some people stay awake all night to please some deity). But, like many, many others, who meditate on His Naam, if one stays alert in reciting Waheguru's Naam all the time, he achieves success (unity with Waheguru). Pause. (Without His Naam)

Many Sidh yogis, many under training, and all the sages (who stay quiet for long times) failed to connect with Waheguru; Waheguru's Naam is the real Kulp tree, which salvages everybody. 1. A devotee, who worships God only, cannot be the worshipper of some other deity because none is like Him. I have recognized God's Naam (made a connection with Him), oh Kabir. 2.37.

(PAGE 331): Kaun ko poot(u), pita ko ka ko? Kaun(u) muraiy, ko dayay suntaapo. 1. Hur(i) tthug, jug kuou tthugauri laayee. Hur(i) kay biyoag kaiysay jeeoun mayri maayee? 1. Ruhaou. Kaun ko purakh, kaun kee naari? Iya tut layhou sreer bichaari. 2. Keh(i) Kabir Tthug siyoun mun(u) maaniya. Guyee tthugauri, tthug(u) pehchaaniya. 3.39.

Word Meaning: Kaun Ko = whose. Suntaapo = curse; severe grief. 1. Tthug = deceitful. Tthugauri = a plant which causes temporary unconsciousness; Maya (which intoxicates the world). Biyoag = pain of separation. Pause. Tut = reality. 2. Mun(u) Maaniya = come to like; to bring faith. 3.

MEANING: Whose son (is man), and father of whom; who dies and who causes severe grief? 1. (There is no reality in these relations. They are all short-lived. In fact, it is all a drama of the “deceitful” Waheguru, which has created Maya to intoxicate the world so that it stays engrossed in it. But, how can I survive in my separation from Waheguru, oh my mother? Pause. One needs to recognize that there is no permanent husband or permanent wife in this world. 2. My intoxication due to Maya is over, and I have recognized the “deceitful” Waheguru. Now I have come to like Him, oh Kabir. 3.39.

Ub mo kuou bhuyyay Raja Ram suhaayee. Junum mern kut(i) perm gut(i) paayee. 1. Ruhaou. Sadhu sungut(i) deeyo rulaayay. Punch doot tay leeyo chhudaayay. Amrit Naam(u) jupoun jup(u) rusna. Amoal Dass(u) kur(i) leeno apna. 1. Satgur keeno per-oopkaar(u). Kaadh(i) leen saagur sunsaar. Churn kumul siyoun laagi preet(i). Gobind(u) busaiy nita nit cheet(i). 2. Maya tuput(i) boojhiya ungiyaar(u). Mun(i) suntoakh(u) Naam(u) Aadhaar(u). Jul(i) thul(i) poor(i) ruhay Prubh Soami. Jut paykhoun, tut Untarjaami. 3. Apni bhugut aap(i) hee drirraayee. Poorub likhut(u) miliya mayray bhaayee. Jis(u) kirpa kuray tis(u) poorun saaj. Kabir kay Soami greeb nivaaj(u). 4.40.

Word Meaning: Ub = now. Raja Ram = King Waheguru. Suhaayee = supporting. Perm Gut(i) = the highest spiritual state. 1. Punch Doot = the five demons (lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego). Amoal = without paying any price. 1. Peroopkaar = huge favour. 2. Tupt(i) = burning. Ungiyaar(u) = red hot coal; spark. Suntoakh = contentment. Aadhaar = basis; support. Paykhoun = I see. Untarjaami = omniscient. 3. Drirraayee = reinforced. Poorub Likhut(i) = pre-written. Saaj = benefit; creation; life. Greeb Nivaaj(u) = the one who bestows honour on the weak. 4.

MEANING: Now, the King, God, has become my support, as a result of which my rebirth cycle is over, and I have attained the highest spiritual state. Pause. Waheguru made me a part of Guru’s congregation, who has saved me from the five demons. I have become His unpaid slave, and I recite Waheguru’s Naam with my tongue. 1. Satguru did a huge favour to me and pulled me out of the world-sea (sea of Maya). I have developed a love for Waheguru’s lotus-like Feet (His Naam), and now He dwells in my mind all the time. 2. The red-hot coal of Maya, which was burning me, has died out. Waheguru’s Naam is my basis now, and I have contentment of mind. Now, I find the omniscient Lord to be there wherever I look. 3. He is filling the land and the waters. He has strengthened my worship. I am reaping the rewards of my previous deeds. The individual, whom Waheguru is kind to, has a perfect life (achieves his objective). My Lord bestows honour on the weak and the poor, oh Kabir. 4.40.

Jul(i) haiy sootuk(u), thul(i) haiy sootuk(u), sootuk(u) oaput(i) hoyee. Junmay sootuk(u), mooyay phoon(i) sootuk, sootuk perj bigoyee. 1. Kuhou ray pundiya, kaun puveeta. Aisa Giyaan jup-hou mayray meeta. 1. Ruahaou. Naiynhou sootuk(u), baiynhou sootuk(u), sootuk servuni hoyee. Ootthut, baiytthut sootuk laagaiy, sootuk puraiy rusoyee. 2. Phaasun kee bidh(i) subh(u) koyoo jaanaiy, chhootun kee ikk(u) koyee. Keh(i) Kabir, Ram(u) ridaiy bichaaraiy, sootuk tinaiy na hoyee. 3.41.

Word Meaning: Sootuk(u) = a Hindu belief that a household becomes impure (unholy) with the birth and the death of someone in the house. This impurity lasts for thirteen days, at which time the family Brahman purifies the house by reciting some mantras for which he is paid. Oaput(i) = (on) production. Perj = public. Bigoyee = misguided to suffer. 1. Puveeta = pure; holy. Pause. aiynhou = with the words. Servuni = with the ears. 2. Phaasun = getting trapped. Bidh(i) = ways. Chhootun = freedom from the bonds of Maya. Tinaiy = to those. 3.

MEANING: (If one were to believe the idea of "sootuk" as espoused by the Brahman, then, you can never avoid it) because sootuk will be everywhere in the water, and on the land (because living beings keep being born, and dying in the water and on the land), and with all production. The misbelief about "sootuk" has led the public to unnecessarily suffer. 1. Acquire the knowledge about the validity of sootuk, and question the Brahman as to what place is pure according to his definition of sootuk, oh friends. Pause. The real sootuk (impurity in life) is caused when the man casts an evil eye on the women or the property of others, or when he hurts the feelings of others with his words, or when he listens to filthy talk with his ears. That way, there is sootuk when you rise, or sit down with evil ideas in your mind. There is also a sootuk in the kitchen where you kill many living beings with firewood, and the cow dung is used as fuel. 2. Everybody knows the ways to get trapped in Maya due to such misbeliefs, but very few know how to get freedom from Maya. Those who remember Waheguru in their mind are not affected by any sootuk, oh Kabir. 3.41.

ਗਉੜੀ॥ ਝਗਰਾ ਏਕੁ ਨਿਬੇਰਹੁ ਰਾਮ॥ ਜਉ ਤੁਮ ਅਪਨੇ ਜਨ ਸੌ ਕਾਮੁ॥ 1॥ ਰਹਾਉ॥ ਇਹੁ ਮਨੁ ਬਡਾ ਕਿ ਜਾ ਸਉ ਮਨੁ ਮਾਨਿਆ॥ ਰਾਮੁ ਬਡਾ ਕੈ ਰਾਮਹਿ ਜਾਨਿਆ॥ 1॥ ਬ੍ਰਹਮਾ ਬਡਾ ਕਿ ਜਾਸੁ ਉਪਾਇਆ॥ ਬੇਦੁ ਬਡਾ ਕਿ ਜਹਾ ਤੇ ਆਇਆ॥ 2॥ ਕਹਿ ਕਬੀਰ ਹਉ ਭਇਆ ਉਦਾਸੁ॥ ਤੀਰਥੁ ਬਡਾ ਕਿ ਹਰਿ ਕਾ ਦਾਸੁ॥ 3॥42॥

Gaurri: Jhugraa aik(u) nibayrhou Ram. Juou Toom apnay jun sau kaam(u). 1. Ruhaou. Ih(u) mun(u) budda, k(i), ja suou mun(u) maaniya. Ram(u) budda kaiy Rameh(i) jaaniya. 1. Brahma budda, k(i) Jaas(u) oopaaya. Bayd(u) budda k(i) juhaa tay aaya. 2. Keh(i) Kabir huou bhuyaa oodaas(u). Teeruth(u) budda, k(i) Hur(i) ka dass(u). 3.42.

Word Meaning: Jhugrra = dispute; confusion. Nibayrhou = settle. Kaam(u) = interest. Pause. Budda = greater; more respectable. Maaniya = came to like. Ram(u) = god Rama (Ram has been used hundreds of times for Waheguru, but without the (u) at the end, except in a very few special cases. Note the spellings in the first sentence). Jaas(u) = who. Oodaas(u) = disappointed; confused. 3.

MEANING: Settle a confusion for me, if You have any interest in Your slave, oh Waheguru. Pause. Is the mind greater, or the Supreme Being, which it has come to like? Is god Rama greater or the devotee who has come to realize Waheguru? Is Brahma greater or his Creator (Waheguru)? Are the Vedas greater than their writers (with the inspiration provided by Waheguru)? Is the holy place more respectable or a slave (devotee) of Waheguru? I am confused (dissatisfied) in the absence of the answers to these questions, oh Kabir. 3.42

NOTE: The essence of this holy Shabad is that Waheguru, His Naam, and His supreme devotees are higher than any rituals, beliefs, gods, or religious books.

Raag(u) Gaurri Chayti: Daykhou bhaayee, Giyan kee aayee aandhi. Subhaiy oodaani bherm kee taati, ruhaiy na Maya baandhi. 1. Ruhaou. Doochitay kee dooyay thoon(i) giraani, moh(u) bulaynda toota. Tishna chhaan(i) purie dhur oopur(i) doormut(i) bhaanda phoota. 1.

(PAGE 332): Aandhi paachhaiy jo jul(u) bersaiy, tih(i) Tayra jun(u) bheena. Keh(i) Kabir mun(i) bhuyya pergaasa, Oodaiy Bhaan(u) jub cheena. 2. 43.

Word Meaning: Aandhi = strong gusty wind. Bherm kee taati = a shelter (curtain) of bamboo, or a thatched hut (a weak curtain). Pause. Doochitay = indecisive; one in a dilemma. Thoon(i) = Bulaynda = pillars. Giraani = felled. Tishna = desires. Chhaan(i) = thatched hut. Doormut(i) = ill advice; evil thinking. Bhaanda = vessel. 1. Bheena = got wet; imbued. Pergaasa = enlightenment. Oodaiy Bhaan(u) = rising sun (Waheguru). Cheena = recognized.

MEANING: Watch the strong gusty wind of the Divine Knowledge, which has blown away the weak curtain of doubts which Maya could not save with its bonds, oh friends. Pause. The pillars of doubt and ignorance of the individual, caught in the middle of a choice between Waheguru and Maya, have been felled, and also the pillar of worldly attachments has been demolished. The thatched hut (a weak shelter of desires) has fallen to the ground, and the vessel of evil thinking has been shattered. 1. Like the rain that falls after the strong winds (and which washes away the dust from the vegetation), the Naam-Water after the wind of the Divine Knowledge has washed away the filth of evil thoughts from my mind. I am imbued in Your love, oh Waheguru. My mind has been enlightened by watching the rising sun (Waheguru's enlightening Naam), which I have realized, oh Kabir. 2.43.

Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i): Gaurri Chayti: Hur(i) jus(u) sooneh(i), na Hur(i) goon gaaveh(i). Baatun hee usmaan giraaveh(i). 1. Aiysay loagun siyoun kiya kuhiyaiy. Jo Prubh keeyay bhugut(i) tay baahuj, tin tay suda draanay ruhiyaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Aap(i) na dayh(i) chooroo bhur(i) paani. Tih ninday, jih Gunga aani. 2. Baiytthut, ootthut kootilta chaaleh(i). Aap(u) guyyay, aurun hoo ghaaleh(i). 3. Chhaad(i) koochurcha, aan na jaaneh(i). Brahma hoo ko kuhiyo na mmaneh(I). 4. Aap(u) guyay aurun hoo khoveh(i). Aag(i) lugaayay, mundar meh(i) soveeh(i). 5. Uvrun hust aap(i) heh(i) kaanay. Tin kuou daykh(i) Kabir lujaanay. 6.1.44.

Word Meaning: Jus(u) = praise. Baatun Hee = just in words. 1. Bahuj = devoid of. Draanay = away. Pause. Chooroo Bhur(i) = mouthful; a little. Nindeh(i) = criticises maliciously. Gunga Aani = provide the whole river. 2. Kootilta = deceit; treachery. Guyyay = gone; lost morality. Aurun = others. Ghaaleh(i) = ruin; mislead. 3. Koochurcha = destructive discussion. Aan = else. Jaaneh(i) = acknowledge. 4. Khoveh(i) = misguide from the right path. Mundar = palace; big house. 5. Kaanay = blind of one eye; imperfect; culprit; sinners. Lujaanay = feels ashamed. 6.

MEANING: There are some people who neither listen to the praise of God, nor do they sing His virtues, but talk big as if they would bring the sky down. 1. What kind of advice can one offer to such people who are devoid of Waheguru's worship? One must stay away from such people. Pause. They will not give even a mouthful of water to the thirsty, but will criticize maliciously the people who can provide the whole river. 2. They have treachery in mind, whether they are sitting or standing (all the time). They have gone far from morality and ruined others' characters as well. 3. They know nothing else other than the destructive discussions, and do not listen even to Brahma (who is believed to be very wise, and the author of the Vedas). 4. They are lost in life and misguide others from the path of righteousness. It is like sleeping comfortably in a luxurious house after setting it on fire. 5. They laugh at others (for their perceived mistakes) but are guilty (sinners) themselves. Watching their immoral deeds, I feel ashamed of them (as human beings), oh Kabir. 6.1.44.

Ek Onkar Sat(i) Gur Persad(i). Raag(u) Gaurri Baiyraagun(i) Kabir Ji.

Jeevut pitter na maanaiy koyoo, mooyay siraadh kuraahi. Pitur bhee bupuray kuhou kiyoun paaveh(i), kuooa, kooker khaahi. 1. Mein kuou kooshul(u) butaavhou koyee. Kooshul(u), kooshul(u) kertay jug(u) binsaiy, kooshul(u) bhee kaiysay hoyee. 1. Ruhaou. Maati kay kur(i) dayvi dayva, tis(u) aagaiy jeeo dayhi. Aisaiy pitur toomhaaray kuhhiyay aapun kuhhiya na layhi. 2. Surjeeo kaateh(i), nirjeeo poojeh(i), unt kaal kuou bhaari. Ram Naam kee gut(i) nuhee jaani, bhaiy doobay sunsaari. 3. Dayvi, dayva poojeh(i) doaleh(i), Parbrahm nuhee jaana. Keht Kabir Akool(u) nuhee chaytiya, bikhiya siyoun luptaana. 4.1.45.

Word Meaning: Pitter = dead ancestors. Maanaiy = take care; show consideration. Siraadh = a Hindu custom in which they serve food to the Brahmans in the month of Assu (Sep –Oct) on the day of the month (does not matter which month) their elders expired, with the belief that the food served to the Brahmans reaches the ancestors. They also make mud idols of the deities and ancestors, and offer food to them, which is basically consumed by birds and dogs. They also kill a goat, etc., as a sacrifice to the deities and the ancestors. Bupuray = helpless. Kuooa = crows. Kooker = dogs. 1. Kooshul(u) = well being; peace and happiness. Pause. Maati = mud. Jeeo Dayhi = offer sacrifice. Aapun Kuhhiya = as per their own wish. 2. Surjeeo = living animal. Nirjeeo = lifeless idols. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Bhaiy = afraid of societal customs. Sunsaari = people. 3. Doaleh = loss of control of the mind. Akool(u) = Waheguru, which has no clan. Chaytiya = remembered. Bikhiya = Maya. Luptaana = clinging to; engrossed in. 4.

MEANING: People pay no attention to (take no care of) their elderly parents when they are alive, but spend a lot of money on their siraadhs after they die. Even then, what do the helpless ancestors receive when the food is eaten by crows and dogs? (The survivors believe that there will be peace and happiness in the family after the siraadhs), But can someone explain to me how there can be peace and happiness in the family with a meaningless ritual like that, when the whole world is gripped in misbeliefs and is dying in search of happiness? Pause. People make idols of their deity with mud and offer a sacrificial animal before them. What kind of ancestors do you worship who cannot have what they want? 2. People kill living animals, and worship the lifeless deities and ancestors; such meaningless rituals cause a very tough time for them at the end. They do not realize the bliss of the high spiritual state they can attain by reciting Waheguru's Naam, but are drowning in the sea of Maya out of fear of meaningless societal pressures. 3. They worship the god or the goddess of their choice, but still suffer from doubts and do not get peace of mind. They do not make any connection with Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss. They do not remember God, and stay clinging to (engrossed in) Maya, oh Kabir. 4.1.45.

Gurmut(i) munooa usthir(u) raakhou, in bidh(i) Amrit(u) peeoyiyaiy. 1. Ruhaou. Gur kaiy baan(i) bujur kul chhaydi, pergutiya pud(u) pergaasa. Sukut(i) undhayr jayvurri bherm(u) chooka, nihchul(u) Shiv ghur(i) baasa. 2. Tin(i) bin(u) baanaiy dhunookh churrayiyaiy, eh(u) jug(u) baydhiya bhaayee.

Word Meaning: Jeevut Muraiy = kill oneself as far as desires are concerned. Jeevaiy = live high spiritual life. Unjun = Maya. Nirunjun(i) = in Waheguru (which is above the effects of Maya). Bhuvjul(i) = the world sea; rebirths. 1. Kheer(u) = milk; yogurt. Biloyiyaiy = churn. Usthir(u) = stable; under control. Bidh(i) = ways. Amrit(u) = Naam-water. Pause. Baan(i) = arrow (of Shabad). Bujur Kul = the stone-like wall of ignorance. Chhaydi = pierced. Pud(i) = higher spiritual state. Pergaasa = light; enlightenment. Sukut(i) Undhayr = the darkness of Maya. Jayvurri = rope. Bherm = misgiving (which gives the false impression that a rope appears to be a snake in darkness). Chooka = removed. Nihchul = permanent. Shiv = Waheguru. 2. Dhunookh = bow. Baydhiya = pierced. Dehdis = in every direction. Boodi = kite (of routine thoughts). Jhoolaayay = flies. Doar(i) = the chain of deep thoughts. Liv = concentration. 3. Oonmun(i) = in higher mental state. Soonn(i) smaana = gets absorbed in the spiritual state where there is no effect of Maya. Doobhida = indecisiveness (to choose between God and Maya). Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Unbhuou = self-acquired Divine Knowledge. Daykhiya = experienced. 4.

MEANING: Yogurt is churned to get butter, which is considered one of the five "amrit foods", but the real Amrit is Waheguru's Naam, which is acquired by controlling one's mind (desires) with the advice of the Guru, (and by reciting Your Naam), oh my Waheguru. Pause. (With Guru's grace) If a devotee subdues his desires while living in the family, he acquires a new life of high moral values and remains absorbed in a high spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Such a devotee stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam while living in the family, and never takes rebirth. 1. With the arrow of Guru's Shabad, I have pierced (demolished) the stone-like wall of darkness (ignorance), and my mind has been enlightened to attain the high spiritual state. The darkness of Maya has disappeared, and like the illusion about a rope, which appears to be a snake in darkness, all my doubts are cleared in the light, and I have found a permanent dwelling in Waheguru's shelter. 2. Waheguru has pierced the whole world without shooting an arrow with the bow, with the result that even though the man pursues his daily routine with his superficial thoughts running in every possible direction, the thread of his deep thoughts stays focused on Him all the time. 3. All my indecisiveness, because of my immoral thoughts, has run away (has been destroyed), and my mind stays absorbed in the high spiritual state where Maya cannot influence my thoughts negatively. With the full concentration on Waheguru's Naam, I have experienced an amazing Divine Knowledge, oh Kabir. 4.2.46.

Gaurri Baiyraagun(i) Tipuday: Ooltut puvun chukur khut(u) bhayday, soorut(i) soonn anuraagi. Aavaiy na jaayay, muraiy na jeevaiy, Taas(u) khoaj baiyraagi. 1. Mayray mun, mun hee oolt(i) smaana. Gur Persaad(i) akul(i) bhuyee uvraiy, naatur thaa baygaana. 1. Ruhaou. Nivraiy door(i), door(i) phoon(i) nivraiy, jin(i) jaiysa kur(i) maaniya. Alauti ka jaiysay bhuyya burayda, jin(i) peeya tin(i) jaaniya. 2. Tayri nirgoon kutha kaayay siyoun kuhiyaiy, aiysa koyee bibayki. Kuhou Kabir jin(i) deeya puleeta, tin(i) taiysi jhul daykhi. 3.3.47.

Word Meaning: Ooltut = reversing the direction of thinking. Khut = six. Chukur = yogis believe that there are six circles in the body – one each at the two private parts, near the navel, in the heart, in the neck, and one in the tenth door (brain), which are connected by a spiral-like vein. The yogis pull the air from the rear circle through all the circles to the Tenth door and hold it there as long as they meditate. This hard exercise is believed to earn them supernatural powers. Bhayday = pierced. Soorut(i) = mind; attention. Soonn = where Maya has no effect. Anuraagi = lover. Taas(u) = Him. Baiyraagi = suffering from pangs of separation. 1. Smaana = absorbed. Akul(i) = wisdom. Uvraiy = different. Naatur = otherwise. Baygaana = without knowledge; ignorant. Pause. Nivraiy = close by. Phoon(i) = then. Maaniya = believed. Alauti = crystalized sugar. Burayda = sweet drink; sherbet. 2. Nirgoon Kutha = story of the Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya. Bibayki = knowledgeable. Puleeta = fuse. Jhul = shine; light. 3.

MEANING: By reversing his thinking from Maya towards Waheguru, the mind of the man who loves Him gets fully absorbed in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and all the six circles that the yogis believe in are pierced automatically (and contrary to the belief of the yogis, there is no need to endure so much hardship). Suffering from the pangs of His separation, search for Waheguru, which never comes or leaves, and which never takes birth or dies, oh my mind. 1. With Guru's grace, my thinking has changed; I would be completely in the dark; now my mind is fully absorbed in itself (worldly attractions do not affect me). Pause. God, whom I thought was somewhere far away, has come very near to me, and Maya, which seemed to be so near, has gone far away; it is one's thinking that changes the whole concept. Just like the taste of sherbet of crystallized sugar, which can be enjoyed, but not described, the taste of union with Waheguru cannot be described - only felt. 2. There is a rare devotee who has the knowledge about the virtues of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, and with whom I can share it. The kind of Waheguru's light or shine that one sees depends upon the nature of his dedication and faith, oh, Kabir. 3. 3.47.

Gaurri: Teh paavus, Sindh(u) dhoop nuhee chhuhiya, teh output(i) purluou naahi. Jeeevun, mirt(u), na dookh(u) sookh(u) biyaapaiy, soonn smaadh(i) doyoo teh naahi. 1. Sehj kee kutha haiy niraari. Tool(i) nuhee churraiy, jaayay na mookaati, huluki lugaiy, na bhaari. 1. Ruhaou. Urdh, oordh doyoo teh naahi, raat(i) dinus(u) teh naahi. Jul(i) nuhee, puvun(u) paavuk(u) phoon(i) naahi, Satgur tuhaa smaayee. 2. Agumm Agoachur ruhaiy Niruntar(i), Gur(u) kirpa tay luhiyaiy. Kuhou Kabir bul(i) jaaoun Gur apunay, Sat sungut(i) mil(i) ruhiyaiy. 3.4.48.

Word Meaning: Paavus = rain; Indra is believed to be the god of rain, so the appropriate meaning of Paavus here is the kingdom of Indra, Indra Puri. Hindus believe that after his death, the man goes to the kingdom of the deity whom they worship. So, there are kingdoms associated with the names of all popular gods. Sindh(u) = ocean; Vishnu is believed to live in the ocean, so the appropriate meaning of Sindh(u) here is the kingdom of Vishnu. Dhoop = sunlight; i.e., the city of the Sun. Chhuhiya = shade; coolness of the Moon, so the meaning is the city of the Moon. Ootput(i) = production; birth. Brahma is believed to be the creator of all life, so here it means Braham Puri. Purluou = death. Shiva is believed to be the destroyer, so here it means Shiv Puri. Biyaapaiy = affect. Soonn Smaadh(i) = getting absorbed in the spiritual state in which no thought about Maya arises. 1. Sehj = the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Niraari = unique, indescribable. Tool(i) = weighing scale. Mookaati = run out. Pause. Urdh = low (caste). Oordh = high (caste). Doyoo = discrimination. Raat(i) = sleep (of ignorance). Day = daily routine; enjoying the luxuries of Maya. Jul = the water (of vices). Puvun = air (the unstable mind like the air which keeps moving). Paavuk(u) = fire (of desires). 2. Agumm = physically inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Niruntar(i) = continuous. Luhiyaiy = acquire. 3.

MEANING: The state of high spirituality (above the effects of Maya) is beyond description. It cannot be weighed (evaluated), it never feels any loss, and does not feel light or heavy (is not affected by the emotions of the man). Pause. There is no desire for Indra Puri, Vishnu Puri, Sun Puri, Moon Puri, Braham Puri or Shiv Puri in that state (no such place can match the bliss of that state). Once the devotee attains that state, he has no desire to live longer or is afraid of death. In that state, where no thought of Maya arises, the devotee does not long for any comfort or is not afraid of any discomfort. 1. There is no consideration of high or low castes, nor is there any discrimination of any kind. In that state, the devotee does not have a sleep of unawareness (he stays alert about the attacks of Maya), or does not get trapped in the luxuries of life; he stays away from any vices, keeps the ever-wavering mind under control, and the fire of desires does not affect him. He just stays focused on Satguru. 2. With the grace of the Guru, he stays connected with the inaccessible and incomprehensible God all the time. I will love to lay down my life for my Satguru with whom one stays connected through the holy congregation, oh Kabir. 3.4.48.

NOTE: The meaning of this holy Shabad has been adopted from Prof Sahib Singh Ji's interpretation in Sri Guru Granth Sahib Darpan, with sincere thanks.

Gaurri: Paap(u) poonn(u) dooyay baiyl bisaahay, puvun poonji pergaasiyo. Trishna goon(i) bhurie ghut bheetur(i), in bidh(i) taand bisaahiyo. 1. Aiysa naayik(u) Ram(u) humaara. Sugul sunsaar(u) keeyo bunjaara. 1. Ruhaou. Kaam(u), kroadh(u) dooyay bhuyay jugaati, mun trung butvaara. Punch tut(u) mil(i) daan(u) nibayreh(i), taanda ooturiyo paara. 2. Keht Kabir soonhou ray Sunt-hou ub aiysi bun(i) aayee. Ghaati churrhut baiyl ikk(u) thaaka, chulo goan(i) chhitkaayee. 3.5.49.

Word Meaning: Baiyl = oxen (in olden days, oxen were used to carry merchandise for trading). Bisaahay = bought. Puvun = air; breaths. Poonji = capital. Pergaasiyo = appeared; came into the world. Trishna = desires. Goon(i) = the sack of merchandise. Taand = merchandise. 1. Naayik(u) = leader; Lord. Bunjaara = trader; businessman. Pause. Jugaati = tax collectors. Munt Trung = the waves (desires) of mind. Butvaara = robbers. Punch Tut = five elements (making up the human body) . Daan(u) = Largesse (of life or the breaths given by Waheguru). Nibayreh(i) = consume. Taanda = the sack (of desires). Ooturiyo Paara = ferried to the next world. 2. Ub Aisy Bun Aayee = the situation is such now. Ghaati Churrhut = climbing the difficult hill (of Waheguru's worship). Goan(i) = sack (of desires). Chhitkaayee = dropping; abandoning. 3.

MEANING: My Lord, Waheguru, is such that He has created all human beings as traders (of good or bad qualities) in the world. Pause. The human traders are sent into the world by Him, giving them the capital of breath. The traders buy two oxen each – one for the ignoble (sinful) deeds, and the other for noble deeds (as per the norms of the society), which carry the merchandise of daily routine. Each individual has a sack full of desires in his mind, which serves as the incentive to trade for one's deeds (good or bad). 1. Lust and rage act as the tax collectors, which consume (take away) some part of the capital of the breaths (a part of man's life is spent in managing his lust and rage). The rest of the human life is robbed (consumed) in fulfilling the desires of the body, and the human traders spend no time remembering Waheguru to overcome their desires. So, the merchandise of desires is ferried to the next world as such (without any control over them). 2. Listen, oh holy saints, now, that I am doing the hard labour of worshipping Waheguru, which is like climbing a tough hill, one of the oxen – carrying the load of sins - has run away abandoning its sack, (my sins have been eradicated), says Kabir. 3.5.49.

Word Meaning: Punchpuda = a Shabad with five stanzas. Payvkurraiy = parents' home; this world. Din Chaar(i) = a few days. Saahoorurraiy = in-laws (Waheguru's) house; the next world. 1. Duddiya = half dhoti (sari) (which the women wear while doing house chores). Paahoo = guests. Mooklaayoo = the groom and his relatives taking the bride (Angel of Death). Pause. Khoohurri = beautiful well (attractive world full of lusts). Kaun = which woman; every human being. Laaj(u) = the rope (of hope and efforts) to draw water (of lusts). Vuhaari = pushed down into the well. Ghurri = the vessel to draw water (of lusts). Punihaari = who draws water. 2. Kaaruj = task (of connecting with God Himself). Svaaray = completes successfully. Soaagun(i) = loved by husband. 3. Kirt Kee Baandhi = restricted by previous deeds. Vichaari = helpless. 4. Niraasi = with unfulfilled hopes. Ootth(i) Chulie = leaves the world. Dheera = restore courage. 5.

MEANING: The blind (ignorant) and the foolish man does not realize that the life here in this world is only for a short time, and eventually he has to go to the next world to the Waheguru-husband. 1. It is unexplainable that the agents of death are almost here, and the ignorant woman (human beings) are still occupied in worldly affairs (and have forgotten Waheguru completely where they have to go). Pause. The world is like a very attractive well, but it is full of attractions of Maya (rather than water), and everybody is using the rope of hope and efforts to draw the water of lust from the world-well. But when death comes, the rope of efforts gets broken, and the water-drawing man leaves the world. 2. However, if the Lord is kind to someone and embraces him as His own, He can complete the task (objective) of the devotee (of breaking his bonds with Maya and connecting him with Himself). Only that human bride is considered married (loved by her husband) who ponders on Guru's Shabad. 3. But the man is forced to pursue his interests based on his deeds of a previous life. So, how can we fully blame the poor (helpless) man for his bad deeds, as he is simply following his destiny? 4. The human bride leaves the world disappointed with her hopes unfulfilled, and she is unable to restore her courage (be peaceful). The best thing for the man to do to achieve blissfulness of mind is to rush to Waheguru's shelter, oh Kabir. 5.6.50

Kuhou Kabir goongaiy goorr(u) khaaya, poochhaiy tay kiya kuhiyaiy. 4.7.51.

Word Meaning: Bhul = Bhula = good; best. Roondit Moondit = completely hairless (shaved) heads. Aikaiy Shabadi = those who recite only one word “Alukh” which means incomprehensible. Sidh(i) Paayee = achieved the objective. 1. Chhootkaavun(i) = to seek freedom (from Maya). Buhou Phundha = many bonds. Pause. Jeh Tay oopji = where (Waheguru) it (haumein) originates. Bisri = forgets. Gooni = having good qualities. Soor = valiant (who has conquered his mind). 2. In bidh(i) = this way. Maanuk = ruby (invaluable Waheguru’s Naam). 3. Baavaiy Dahnay = left and right. Bikaara = vices. Pud(u) = high spiritual state. Drirr(u) = reinforce; hold tightly. Goongaiy = mute; dumb. Goorr(u) = jaggery; big nuggets of raw sugar. 4.

MEANING: (The followers of every faith claim that their faith is the best). The yogis claim that their path is sweet (providing peace) and the best, and that there is none other like theirs. Similarly, the Jains and the Sanyasi, who shave their heads, claim that they achieve their objective successfully. 1. But, without Waheguru’s Naam, everybody is blind and is lost in misbeliefs. I find that everybody, whoever I go to seek advice about how to break the bonds of Maya, is himself strongly bonded with Maya. Pause. The whole world is fully gripped in haumein (selfishness and ego), which originates when people forget Waheguru, and it is because of their haumein that the people forget Waheguru. People suffer from haumein because of their high caste, knowledge, good qualities, valour, and philanthropy, etc., and they claim that only they are great. 2. Only that individual understands the reality whom Waheguru enlightens Himself. What kind of life is that without such understanding? The darkness of ignorance is dispelled only when one gets connected with Satguru, and that is how you acquire the invaluable Naam of Waheguru. 3. One should get rid of the vices on the left and right (all of them), and reinforce Waheguru’s Naam to achieve a higher spiritual state (leading to union with Him). However, like a mute, who cannot describe the taste of jaggery, he ate, the bliss of the union with Waheguru cannot be described in words, oh Kabir. 4.7.51.

Word Meaning: Jeh = where. Uhaa = is; was. Irra – right nostril. Pingula = left nostril. Sookhmun = a vein in the middle of the eyebrows (yogic practices). Uvgun = bad (worthless) practices. Kut Jaahi = where do they go (disappear to one's surprise). 1. Taaga = thoughts of selfishness and ego. Guggun = sky; thoughts. Binus(i) Guyya = eradicated. Boalut = talk; thoughts. Sunsa = doubt; question. Pause. Burbhund = (love for the wealth of) the whole world. Pind = (love for own) body. Ruchunhaar = the creator (mind). Joarrunhaara = connector (Waheguru). Ateeta = totally disconnected from Maya. 2. Binaasi = (love for) perishables. 3. Liv = connection with concentration. Ooa = His (God's). Murm = secret. Abinaashi = immortal. 4.

MEANING: When the chain of thoughts of one's haumein (selfishness and ego) is broken (vanishes completely), nobody knows where all his talk about haumein also disappears. This (unexplained) nagging question (about how this change comes about) challenges me all the time, but nobody explains it to me to clear my doubt. Pause. Where the mind was full of haumein before, nothing is left there after the change (all the haumein disappears). Also, nobody knows where the worthless yogic practices of breathing also disappear (one does not feel any need for them). 1. Where there was a wish to acquire the wealth of the whole world, and love for my own body, no such desire is left there now; even the mind that thought about all that is not there anymore. There is no need to tell anybody now that Waheguru, which is always fully disconnected from Maya (above the effects of Maya), has connected the devotee with Him (the devotee does not wish to be praised). 2. As long as the man loves the perishables, he cannot connect with Waheguru, and cannot break his bonds with Maya with his own efforts. Under such conditions, there is no real Master of the man, and he is not the slave (devotee) of anyone in particular, so who does he go to for support (there is none)? 3. My concentration is fully on Waheguru day and night (I am fully absorbed in Him), oh Kabir. (But I still cannot know His secrets), Only He knows His own secrets, and He is always immortal. 4.1.52.

Puvun(u) = air; breaths. Saarud = lute. Toomba = the hollow dried melon spheres on which the lute is mounted. Thir(u) = stable; unwavering mind. Tuntee = instrument. Unhud = uniform. Kinguri = lute. 3. Mugun = fully absorbed; unaware of the surroundings. Poonrup(i) = again. Baiyraagi = totally dissociated from Maya. 4,

NOTE: Kabir Sahib addresses a yogi in this Shabad. Yogis wear big glass rings in their ears; cover their bodies with ash, which they store in a small bag; wear a quilt, blow on a bugle to show their presence; live in caves or small huts, and play music on lutes. All these are the symbols of their faith. Disapproving of their practices, Kabir Sahib teaches him the true path to have union with God.

MEANING: I am also wearing earrings in my ears like you, but unlike you, my earrings are a focus on Waheguru and a reminder of Him in my mind, oh yogi. The Knowledge of the immeasurable Waheguru, which I acquired, is the quilt I am wearing. Getting my mind fully absorbed in the spiritual state where thoughts about Maya do not originate is the cave where I am meditating; other than that, all imagination is forbidden in my faith. 1. I am a yogi who has broken all the bonds with Maya, oh my Lord, and I will not suffer from spiritual death, any grief, or any separation from worldly attachments (as I have broken all such bonds). Pause. Delivering the message of the omnipresent Waheguru is the bugle that I am blowing, and my mind is the bag in which I store the memory - ash of the fact that the whole world is perishable. Deep meditation on Waheguru's Naam has reversed the effects of Maya, and even as a family man, I am free from its bonds now. 2. I am using my mind, and my breaths (remembering Waheguru with every breath) as the two hollow dried melon spheres on which I have mounted my lute (to sing Waheguru's praise), which is valid (is true) in all the eons. Now the lute of my mind has become stable (my mind has quit wavering), and I am listening to the uniform Divine music. 3. While listening to this Divine music, I am fully absorbed in the Perfect Waheguru, and Maya cannot lure my mind in any way. A devotee in deep love with Waheguru, who plays this game (becomes unaffected by Maya), is never reborn, oh Kabir. 4.2.53.

Chhoad(i) pusaar(u), eehaan ruhou bupuri, kuhou Kabir sumjhaayee. 4.3.54.

Word Meaning: Nuv = the nine body doors. Dus = the ten senses (five by nature and five by action). Ikkees = twenty-one elements of the human body. The total of all = 40 (9+10+21). Pooriya = warp of hand-loom (40 yards in length). Tunaayee = weaved. Saatth Soot = sixty long veins. Nuv Khund = nine big joints of the body (4 in the arms, four in the legs, and one in the bust). Buhuttar = seventy-two thin veins. Paat = patches. 1. Boonaavun = fulfil. Maaho = lust. Ghur Chhodiyaiy = lost control on mind. Julaaho = weaver. Pause. Miniyaiy = measure. Tooliyaiy = weigh. Paachun(u) = temper to give strength to the raw threads during weaving; food for human body to give it strength. Adhaayee = two and a half. Sayr adhaayee = about a kilogram. Bayg(i) = right away, on time. 2. Baiytth = stay. Burkus(i) = rebellion. Koonday = earthen pots. Bheegaiy Pooriya = the wet cotton cylinders. Joolaaho = the weaver-like man. Reesaayee = frustrated. 3. Chhoachhi = hollow; empty. Nulie = cotton cylinder. Tunt = thread. Nutur = the threads of the stretched warp (woof). Orjhaayee = tangled. Pusaar(u) = the worldly attractions. Eehaan Ruhou = stay in yourself (quit pursuing the worldly attractions.

NOTE: Kabir Sahib was a weaver by profession, so he used weaving as a metaphor for human life, focusing on the pursuit of desires and attachment to the world. He has used weaving terms to express his ideas about human behaviour. A fully stretched warp is 40 yards in length. It is divided into 10 sections by 9 supports placed at equal intervals. The raw cotton is treated with a temper (flour paste) to strengthen it. The cotton cylinders are also kept wet in earthenware to have better control.

MEANING: Like a 40-yard warp of a handloom, the newborn baby (man) comes with a body consisting of 40 parts (9 body doors + 10 senses + 20 basic elements + mind). The sixty long veins, nine body joints (are like the warp), seventy-two short veins and many other patches (skin, hair, nails, etc.) complete it. 1. As the baby grows, he begins to love the world and gets possessed by human desires and lust. Ignoring God, the man loses control of his mind in pursuit of his lust and desires. Pause. Like the temper needed for the warp to give strength to the cotton, the human body also needs temper in the form of food, amounting to about 1 kg, to have strength. If the body does not get food on time, it creates a ruckus in the mind. 2. For a short life, the man becomes a rebel against Waheguru without realizing that he will not get the human life easily again (to become “one” with Him). When the earthenware of the weaver in which the cotton cylinders are kept wet, are broken, the weaver quits his job; similarly, when the human body breaks down, the weaver-like man leaves this world frustrated. 3. When the cylinder, on which the cotton is wrapped, runs empty, no thread comes out of it, and the woof and the weft of the warp become tangled, similarly, the loss of breaths leaves the human soul tangled (trapped) in rebirths, and the circle continues as long as the mind keeps pursuing his desires. So, Kabir teaches his mind to stay in itself and quit pursuing the lust of life. 4.3.54.

Word Meaning: Joat(i) = Waheguru's soul. Kimba = can there be a doubt (that they are separate)? Muhoyay = does not happen. Phoot(i) = (mind) explodes into pieces. 1. Saanvul = wheat coloured (which is thought to be very attractive in India). Ramuyya = omnipresent (Waheguru). Pause. Sadh(u) = Satguru. Sidh(i) = real success (union with God). Yoag(u) = the path of the yogis. Bhoag(u) = enjoying the worldly comforts. Dooho = the two (Satguru's Shabad and devotee's concentration). Kaaruj Oopjaiy = objective is achieved. Sunjoag = union (with God). 2. Braham Beechar = discussion of Waheguru's virtues. Kaanshi Oopdaysh = the sermon in Banaras. 3. Sunsa Nuhee = absolutely no doubt. Perm Gut(i) = the supreme spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: When the human soul merges into Waheguru's soul, can it still be thought of as being different? (The answer is: No). The individual, in whose heart Waheguru's Naam does not take root, dies a spiritual death because his heart explodes into pieces (mind wanders in many directions and never becomes peaceful). 1. My mind has been attracted to You, oh my wheat-coloured, handsome Waheguru. Pause. One achieves success (the objective of human life) when one gets connected with the Guru, the blissfulness of which is like the yoga of the Yogis, and like the enjoyment of the luxuries of the world for me (they do not even come close to the blissfulness of union with God). When Guru's Shabad and the respectful devotion of the devotee for Waheguru's Naam come together, union with God results. 2. People think of Guru's Shabad as a lyric only, but they do not realize that it is the discussion of Waheguru's virtues (His praise), and is like the sermon that is given to a dying man in Banaras, which is believed to emancipate him. If someone sings or listens to the praise of Waheguru (His Naam) with full devotion, there is no doubt at all that he achieves the highest spiritual state at the end, oh Kabir. 4.1.4.55.

Word Meaning: Jutun = efforts; rituals. Bhuv Saagur(u) = the world sea. Kerm Dherm = accepted religious rituals. Uhunboodh(i) = ego-driven thinking. 1. Graas = nibbles of food. Daato = provider. Bisaariyo = forgotten. Laal(u) = rubies. Amoal(u) = priceless. Kaudi = a cowrie shell (worthless). Pause. Trishna = desires. Bherm(i) = misbelief. Oonmut = intoxicated; conceited. Maan Hiriyo = deceived by ego. Dhaariyo = adopted. 2. Loobhut = greedy. Indri Rus = sensual pleasures. Prayriyo = motivated; incited. Mud = liquor; intoxicant. Bikaariyo = lustful acts. Sungaanay = with, in the company of. Kaasht = wood. Oodhaariyo = ferried across; salvaged. 3. Dhaavut = rushing; going through. Bherm(i) = wandering through. Muha Rus(u) = super great enjoyment; supreme bliss. Nistaariyo = salvaged. 4.

MEANING: All those who invest their efforts (performing religious rituals), drown in the world sea, and do not find salvation. They do follow the rituals and try to control their senses solely through willpower, but they suffer because of their ego-driven thinking. 1. Why do (how can) they forget the Lord who is the provider of life and food? Human life is priceless, like diamonds and rubies, but they waste it on worthless (short-lived) comforts. Pause. Man does not realize that he is gripped by a big appetite and thirst for the fulfillment of his desires arising out of his misgivings (illusions). Intoxicated with and deceived by his ego, he does not enshrine Guru's Shabad in his mind. 2. Incited by his lust and greedy for the delicacies, he enjoys all the vices. But with good luck, if he connects with the Guru, he is ferried across the sea of Maya like a piece of iron that floats, tied to a wooden log. 3. Having been rushed through different life forms, I have been exhausted from this suffering. But taking the shelter of the Guru, and worshipping God with deep devotion, I have been ferried across the sea of Maya, and now I am enjoying the supreme bliss, oh Kabir. 4.1.5.56.

Word Meaning: Kaalboot = skeleton; model. Hustuni = female elephant. Baura = foolish; crazy. Chulut(u) = amazing feat; drama. Jugdeesh = Lord of the world. Kaam Sooaayay = with the objective of lust. Guj = elephant. Bus(i) = in the control. Unkus(u) = Ankus (the sharp pointed weapon to control the elephant). 1. Bikhaiy Baach(u) = stay away from lust. Raach(u) = get interested in; get absorbed. Guhiyo = hold; board. Juhaaj(u) = ship. Pause. Murkut = monkey. Mooshti = fistful. Annaj = grains; roasted black chick peas. Chhootun kuou = to get free. Sehsa = worry. 2. Nalini = a device to catch parrots. Soouta = parrot. Biyohaar = business; results. Ksoombh = a beautiful flower that withers quickly at the touch. Pusriyo Pusaar(u) = the visible world. 3. Ghunay = many. Chootun = freedom from Maya. 4.

NOTE: To educate human beings, Kabir Sahib gives some highly relevant examples of greed and sensual enjoyment, which result in very serious consequences for living beings. These examples do beg for some explanations.
Elephant: The elephant is known to be very lustful. So, to trap an elephant, the hunters dig a deep, large pit, cover it with grass and leaves, and then place a life-size model of a female elephant on it and wait for the excited elephant to arrive. Blinded by his lust, the elephant comes running to the female and drops into the pit and cannot get out. The hunters put a net on him and made him a prisoner.
Monkey: Monkeys are very good dancers and entertainers. Many people used them as good entertainers and thus earned their livelihood. Monkeys also love roasted black chickpeas. So, to catch a monkey, the hunters would put some roasted chickpeas in a narrow-mouthed container and bury it in the ground with the neck exposed. Attracted by the smell, some monkeys would come and try to steal them. His hand would barely go through the neck, but he would not be able to pull it out with his fist full of chickpeas. His greed would not let him empty his fist, and he would be caught.
Parrot: Parrots are very popular pets. To catch them, the hunters use a device called Nalini, which has a turning wheel with spokes. They put some food inside the wheel and placed a shiny plate full of water underneath. Attracted by the food, some parrots would come and sit on a spoke of the wheel, which turns with the weight of the parrot. Afraid of falling into the water below, the parrot hangs on tightly to the spokes and is caught.
MEANING: It is a drama of Waheguru that the elephant goes crazy because of his lust for sex. Blinded by his desire, he cannot tell the model from the real female elephant, and becomes a slave to his captors, where he has to endure the pain of the ankus on his head. 1. So, be careful and stay away from vices (sensual pleasures), and get interested in Waheguru, oh my crazy mind. Why don't you worship Waheguru fearlessly, and board His ship (to swim across the sea of Maya), oh my crazy mind? Pause. (Learn from the greed of the monkey) who spreads his hand to have a fistful of the grains (roasted black chick peas); and even though he becomes worried to get free, yet he is caught for his greed, and has to dance from door to door, oh my crazy mind. 2. Just as the parrot holds on to the spokes of the "nalini" tightly (and gets caught, and loses his freedom), anybody who is attracted to Maya suffers similar consequences, oh my silly mind. The visible world is like the flower of Kasoombh, which is very pretty, but vanishes (withers away) quickly just on touch, oh my crazy mind. 3. There are countless holy places to take a dip and countless gods to worship, but none can salvage you, oh my silly mind. Only service to Waheguru can liberate you, oh Kabir. 4.1.6.57.

Word Meaning: Duhaiy = burns. Mugnaiy = make disappear; blows away. Tuskur = thief. Sunchauni = accumulate. 1. Maadho = Gobind(u) = Dernidhur(u) = Waheguru. Saar = supreme. Pause. Sunkaadik = Sunuk at al = the four sons of Brahma. Oodaasi = detached from Maya. Mookund(u) = Naraayin(u) = Waheguru. Phaasi = noose; lasso. 2. Nij = personal. Taas(u) = His. Soomut(i) = noble advice. Julut = burning. Umbh = water. Thumbh(i) = pillar (support). Dhaavut = wandering fast. Bherm = doubts; misgivings. Bhuou = fear. 3. Mudun = lust. Maatay = intoxicated. Laakh Koat(i) = millions; many. Ashuv = horses. Husti = elephants. Mooraari = Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: Accumulate the wealth of Waheguru's Naam, which never leaves you, oh my friend. Unlike worldly things, the fire does not burn Waheguru's Naam, nor does the wind blow it away; and no thief even comes near it. 1. My wealth is Waheguru's Naam, which is said to be the supreme. The comfort (mental bliss) that you get by serving Waheguru (singing His praise) cannot be enjoyed even if you could rule a country. Pause. Even gods like Shiva and Sunuk (and his brothers) renounced Maya while searching for Waheguru's Naam-wealth. The devotee, who has Waheguru in his mind and His Naam on the tongue, is not caught in the noose of the Angel of death (he merges into Waheguru). 2. My Guru has kindly bestowed me with Waheguru's Knowledge, and His worship, which has become my personal wealth, and my mind has been imbued with His wise advice. Waheguru's Naam has been like water to put out the fire of the desires that were burning me, and has acted like a pillar to stop (bring peace to) my mind, which was rushing in every direction, and all my doubts, worldly bonds, and my fears have run away (have disappeared). 3. Just think in your mind, oh man; You are completely lost in lust, and may have millions of (countless) horses and elephants in your possession, but you do not have (the most valuable) Waheguru's Naam, which I possess, says Kabir. 4.1.7.58.

MEANING: Like the monkey, which has a handful of chick peas, and won't let it go due to his greed, even though he is sure to be caught (see Shabad 57), all those deeds that the man does due to his greed, come back to haunt him (he has to bear their consequences). 1. Without God's worship, man wastes away his precious human life. Without the Guru's company and without God's worship, there is no morality left in the world. Pause. Just like nobody enjoys the sweet fragrance of the flowers blooming in the wilderness, the man who is eliminated by death and wanders through many life forms again and again does not benefit anyone. 2. The wealth, youthfulness, sons (children), and the wife, which Waheguru gives to the man, are simply to facilitate and perpetuate life, but, instigated by his sensual enjoyment, the man has been caught and constrained in them. 3. Man's body is like a hut of dry grass and leaves, and the span of life is like fire, which is burning (consuming) the hut-like body. I see this set up in all four directions (in the whole world). So, I have taken shelter at the Guru's feet to swim across the sea of Maya (to be liberated from the bonds of Maya), oh Kabir. 4.1.8.59.

So, my body, the wealth, and all the worldly enjoyments are given by You, oh my Waheguru, and there is nothing that I can claim as mine. Pause. Air (breaths) runs this body of mud, and the whole world has been created as a false (perishable) drama. 2. Some people accumulate a wealth of half a million (an enormous amount in those days), but only an earthenware is broken in his name (an affirmation that the human body has been broken). 3. Waheguru has laid down a foundation (principle) that the egoist can be destroyed in a moment, oh Kabir. 4.1.9.60.

Oorvaar(i), paar(i) subh aiko Daani. 4.2.20.61.

Word Meaning = Jupoun = I recite. Dhuroo, Prehlad = two very famous and great devotees of Waheguru who lived millions of years ago (Hindu mythology). Deen = weak; poor. Duyyal = merciful; kind. Having full faith in You, I have put the family of all my associates on Your Naam-Ship to carry us across the world sea. Pause. When God wishes, He makes His devotees obey His Huqam and takes them across the sea of Maya. With Guru's grace, I have acquired such holy wisdom that my comings and goings (rebirths) are over. Worship the Provider-Waheguru, which is on this side of the world- sea, as well as on the other (in both the worlds), oh Kabir. 4.2.20.61.

Gaurri 9: Joan(i) chhaad(i) juou jug(u) meh(i) aayo. Laagut puvun Khusm(u) bisraayo. 1. Jeaura Hur(i) kay goona gaaou. 1. Ruhaou. Gerbh joan(i) meh(i) oordh tup(u) kerta. NOTE: The number 9 following "Gaurri" in the heading implies "Ghur," which is a subcategory of the Raag(u).

Word Meaning: Joan(i) = womb. Juou = when. Puvun = air; (the first) breath. Bisraayo = forgot. 1. Jeaura = oh my mind. Pause. Oordh = upside down (the position of the fetus in the womb). Jaat = while leaving. Na Jaani = is not known. 4.

MEANING: As soon as a child comes out of the womb (is born), he forgets God with his first breath. 1. Sing praise of Waheguru, oh my mind. (There is a Hindu belief that the fetus, which is upside down in the womb, recites Waheguru's Naam there, and that is how it survives in the high heat of the womb. 2. The man is given the human life after he has wandered through the 8.4 million life forms (another Hindu belief). If he loses the support of Waheguru (does not recite His Naam) again this time, he will have no shelter and no support. 3. Worship Waheguru, oh man, advises Kabir. The world knows when you take birth, but nobody knows where your soul will go after death. 4.1.11.62.

MEANING: One should sing only Waheguru's praise, by which one achieves the supreme spiritual state to unite with Him. Pause. One should not wish to dwell in paradise and not be afraid of going to hell. Whatever has to happen will take place; one should not have any hope of any kind. 1. Recitation of any mantras, self-affliction to please some deity, forced self-control (on sensual pleasures), fasting, or some other self-imposed restrictions, or dip at holy places, are insignificant unless one knows the technique of Waheguru's worship with love and devotion. 2. One should not be overjoyed to acquire wealth, or cry (feel depressed) in the face of some trouble (or loss). Comforts of wealth and trouble are similar (both are short-lived, i.e., they come and go); one receives only that which is in store for him as per his fate. 3. In the company of the holy men, I have realized that only those devotees are good (approved by Waheguru) who have His Naam at heart, and likewise, only that service is good (approved by Waheguru) which is performed in His devotion, oh Kabir. 4.1.12.63.

MEANING: There is nobody who is really yours (forever). So, do not carry the burden of their sins, oh my mind. The world is a temporary shelter for us, just like a tree is for the birds. 1. I have tasted the juice of Waheguru's Naam, which is so sweet that I have forgotten the taste of all other juices (enjoyments in life). Pause. When we know that we are not going to live forever, why cry at the death of others? Whoever is born will vanish; so why should I cry in grief? Let the grief cry (that it was not recognized). 2. In the company of the holy saints, my soul (mind) has been absorbed in Waheguru, which created it. I remember Waheguru, recitation of whose Naam causes detachment from Maya, oh Kabir. 3.2.13.64.

MEANING: Just like a married woman, who watches the path of her husband expectantly with teary eyes and while sighing, I am also watching the path of my Waheguru-husband with the hope of having a glimpse of His holy sight. My heart never gets tired, and my feet do not lose strength in His wait. 1. Please, fly away, and bring me the message of my Dear Waheguru that He will come to see me soon, oh black crow (there is a common belief that if a crow crows on the roof of a house, a guest is about to visit). Pause. Worship Waheguru to attain the spiritual state which unites the devotee with Waheguru, oh Kabir. Make Waheguru's Naam the basis of your life, and drink the juice of His Naam with the tongue, oh Kabir. 2.1.14.65.

Word Meaning: Ghun = dense. Toorsi = basil. Birva = plant. Bunaa = forest. Gaaoo = play music. Ooa Ka = his. Sroop(u) = handsomeness. Mohi = got enchanted. Gooaarun(i) = cow girl. 1. Saaringdhur = Waheguru. Bud Bhaago = highly fortunate. Pause. Bindrabun = the forest by the bank of the Jamuna, where Krishna Ji is believed to have grazed cows. Mun Hern = mind enchanting. Tthaakur(u) = Master; Lord. 2.

MEANING: Just like the cowgirls, who were enchanted by the handsomeness of Krishna when he was playing sweet music on his flute in the forest, and was surrounded by the dense bushes of basil, I am mesmerized by Your Love, oh my Waheguru. My mind is fully absorbed at Your Feet (in Your Naam), but You connect only those with You who are very fortunate. Pause. The mind-enchanting Krishna used to graze his herd of cows in Bindrabun (where the cowgirls would be enchanted) (he was only in the meadow), but You are omnipresent, and I, Kabir, am Your slave, oh Waheguru. 2.2.15.66.

Keh(i) Kabir ikk Ram Naam bin(u), iya jug(u) Maya undha. 2.1.16.67.

Word Meaning: Bipul Bustar = very loose clothes. Mudhay = in. Baasa = dwelling. Dhoakhay = offer fragrance of incense. Jul(i) Boariyo = throw (an idol) in water with the belief that it will reach its resting place. Giyaata = one who knows; knowingly. 1. Jaahayngaa = will leave (the world). Abigut(u) = incomprehensible (Waheguru).
Iyaana = ignorant. Jut Jut = wherever. Buhour(i) = again. Paykhoun = see. Pause.
Giyani = those who have spiritual knowledge. Dhiyani = meditators. Dhundha = business. 2.

MEANING: What does an individual achieve by wearing very loose clothes, or by living in a forest? What does one achieve by offering the fragrance of incense to deities, or by knowingly immersing an idol in water with the false belief that it will reach its resting place? 1. I (the man) understand(s) that he is perishable. Still, he is so engrossed in that Maya, which is never stable; no matter which direction I look in, it is never the same (keeps coming and going). Pause. Try to understand the importance (worth) of the incomprehensible (Waheguru) (worship Him), oh ignorant man (otherwise, you will also waste away your precious life). Some claim to be highly knowledgeable, and some are preaching religious knowledge; some others are promoting meditation, while some others are preachers - it is all about business (Maya). Without the Naam of the “One” Waheguru, the whole world is blinded by Maya, oh Kabir. 2.1.16.67.

World Meaning: Bherm(u) = misgivings; illusions. Pergut Hoyay = in the open. Naach-hou = dance (for Waheguru); worship Him. Daanday = punished. Soor(u) = valiant. K(i) = what kind. Run = battlefield. Sutee = self-immolation on the pyre of the husband. Saanchaiy = takes care of. Bhaanday = utensils; dishes. 1. Dugmug = wavering or doddering (indecisiveness) of mind. Baura = crazy. Juray Muray = die by burning. Sidh(i) = success; achieve objective. Sundhaura = vermillion-covered coconut (which a would-be sutee holds). Pause. Leenay = possessed by. Bigoota = suffers; destroyed. 2.

MEANING: (People are so much under societal pressure to follow the accepted rituals that they cannot get out of them, and cannot worship Waheguru openly. All such rituals are actually the punishment (pressure) of Maya (to earn more and more wealth). But, be brave, and worship Waheguru openly (publicly) in my mind. What kind of a valiant is he who gets afraid of his opponents on the battlefield, and what kind of would-be "sutee" is that who starts taking care of her kitchen before self-immolation? 1. Once she holds the vermillion-covered coconut in her hand, the would-be "sutee" has no other choice but to burn on the pyre of her hand (with the false belief) that she would be joined with her dead husband. (It is a custom for the would-be sutee to hold such a coconut before jumping onto the pyre). Like the would be "sutee", you too, quit your indecisiveness, oh my mind, (and start worshipping Waheguru). Pause. Possessed by lust and rage (different aspects of Maya), the world is suffering the destruction of their spiritual life. However, I will not quit worshipping the King-God, which is higher (greater) than the highest, oh Kabir. 2.2.17.68.

Word Meaning: Foormaan = Huqam; Order; Will. Siraiy Oopur(i) = to obey without any reservation. Phir(i) = in opposition. Duriya = river (sea) of life. Kuriya = boatman. Nistaar = salvation. 1. MEANING: Your Will is the final order for me which I obey gladly without any reservation, and dare not think otherwise (anything to oppose it), oh my Lord. You are the world-sea (in which the attractive waves of Maya arise unchecked), and You are also the boatman to take us across the sea (and salvage us). 1. Start worshipping Waheguru regardless of the fact whether the Lord dislikes or loves you, oh man. Pause. Your Naam is the basis of my life, and my mind blooms like a lotus flower which thrives in water when I recite Your Naam. I, Kabir, am Your personal slave; I am happy either way, whether You keep me alive or kill me, oh Lord. 2.18.69.

Word Meaning: Lukh Chauraaseeh = the 8.4 million life forms. Bhermut = wandering through. Nund(u) = the godfather of Krishna. Hayt(i) = for; because of. Avtaar Leeyo = (Krishna) is born. Bupoora = poor; helpless. 1. Nundun(u) = son. Dhern(i) = earth. Duso Dis = the ten directions. Pause. Sunkut(i) = trouble. Joan(i) = in the womb; life forms. 2.
MEANING: You (the world) maintain that when Nund was exhausted of going through the 8.4 million life forms, he worshipped God with full devotion. Pleased with his worship, God took birth in his house as Krishna to reward him. You say God (Krishna) is the son of Nund, then, whose son was Nund? Where was this Nund when there was no earth, no sky, and any of the ten directions? Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, never gets into any trouble, and never takes any life form, oh, the ignorant man. My Lord is such that He has no mother and no father, oh Kabir. 2.19.70.
NOTE: Kabir Sahib strongly disapproves of the belief that Krishna was God. Actually, Krishna's father was Vasu Dev; Nund was his godfather.

Gaurri: Nindou, nindou, mo kuou loag(u) nindou. Ninda jun kuou khurie piyaari. Ninda baap(u), ninda mehtaari. 1. Ruhaou. Ninda hoyay ta baiykoontth(i) jaayiyaiy. Word Meaning: Nindou = criticize (maliciously). Jun = devotee. Khurie = much. Mehtaari = mother. Pause. Baiykoontth = paradise. Pudaaruth = (priceless) item. Soodh(u) = clean; pure. Kupray Dhoyay = wash the filth of my weaknesses. 1. Hoaraiy = stops; prevents. Loaraiy = wishes. 2. Oodhaar = salvation. Saar(u) = supreme. Dooba = drowned (in the world-sea). 3.

MEANING: Please criticize me (even if it is malicious), oh folks. I love my criticism very much, as it is like my father and my mother because it nurtures me. Pause. As a result of criticism, one improves one's morality and embeds Waheguru's Naam in one's heart, which is the real paradise. Criticism purifies the mind (of a wise person), while the critic (vilifier) washes the dirty clothes (filth of mind) of the individual under attack. 1. Actually, my critic is my friend, and he is always in my mind (because thinking about him keeps me on the right tack). Actually, the individual who prevents criticism is the real vilifier because the (bad) critic (vilifier) wishes good life for me even though it is intended to be otherwise (slanderous). 2. Criticism is my love and affection because it leads to my salvation. The slave, Kabir, considers his criticism as the supreme gift. The vilifier drowns in the world-sea while I have been salvaged, oh Kabir. 3.20. 71.

Word Meaning: Raja Ram = Waheguru King. Tern Taarun = ship to ferry. Pause. Hum = my ego. Bhuyay = became. Putiyaahi = mind convinced; pleased. Bul = power; ability. Khutaayee = blend with each other. Hur(i) = removed; took away. Sidh(i) = success.

MEANING: You are the Lord of the universe, are fearless (have no superior), and are the boat to ferry us across the sea of Maya, oh my King Waheguru. Pause.

The heart of the individual, who shows his existence (his ego), cannot be a home for You. But when you dwell in someone's mind, he is left with no ego. Now, my soul has merged with Yours, and we have become "one". Now, my mind is convinced that You alone are the Master of the universe, and there is no other power. 1. When we are conceited of our own wisdom, what kind of spiritual power can we possess (have no mental power because the two – ego and spirituality - do not go together). But, now that You have appeared in my mind, I have forfeited my own wisdom, and have acquired mental power. God has taken away my false (ignoble) wisdom, and I have achieved success in my objective (to be "one" with Him) with my changed wisdom, oh Kabir. 2.21.72.

Chayt(i) soochayt chit hoyay ruhou, tuou laiy pergaas(u) oojaara. 2. Nuoun ghur daykh(i) ju kaamun(i) bhooli, bust anoop na paayee. Keht(u) Kabir nuvaiy ghur moosay, dusvaiyn Tut(u) smaayee. 3.22.73.

Word Meaning: Khut Naym = the practitioner of the six Brahman or Hindu deeds; the body with six circles (as per the belief of the yogis); body with six ingredients (earth, water, air, energy, consciousness, and the mind). Only the last of the three possibilities is universal; the first two have limited believers. So, the third seems to be the most appropriate meaning in this Shabad. Anoop = which has no equal. Bust = article (Waheguru's Naam). Koolf = lock. Koatthrri = a small room; human body. Kertay = in doing so. Baar = time. 1. Jaagut = watchful; alert. Gaaful(u) = careless. Chor = the five thieves (demons). Moosaiy = rob. Pause. Punch Pehrooa = the five guards (senses). Dur = the doors of the body. Putiyaara = trust. Chayt(i) = remember. Soochayt = alert. Pergaas(u) = light. Oojaara = brightness. Nuoun Ghur = the enjoyment of the nine doors of body (sensual pleasures). Kaamun = woman (human being). Moosay = robbed. Tut = the root (Waheguru).
MEANING: Waheguru created the human body from the six ingredients – earth, water, air, energy, consciousness, and the mind – and placed a unique and invaluable substance (Waheguru's soul – His Naam) in it. He made the soul the lock and the key of the body (the soul runs the body), and it did not take Him any time to do so. 1. Now, stay alert (from the attractions of Maya), oh man. If you are careless, the five demons – lust, rage, greed, attachment, and ego – will rob all your wealth (noble qualities) in the house (body). Pause. The five senses control the nine doors of the body, but they cannot be trusted (rather than guarding the doors, i.e., warning the mind of any danger or wrongdoing, they could be friends with the demons). For example, the eyes show you the path, and help you, but they could cast an evil eye on the beauty and wealth of others, and so on. You need to be highly watchful and remember Waheguru with full concentration, and enlighten your mind, oh man. 2. When human beings begin to enjoy the evil side of the nine doors and forget Waheguru, they cannot acquire the unique product – Waheguru's Naam. The man's noble qualities can be robbed through all the nine openings of the body, but the root, Waheguru, dwells in the tenth door (brain – higher spiritual stage). (He can be realized only through the tenth door, oh Kabir. 3.22.73.

Word Meaning: Maayee = oh, mother. Uver(u) = other. Jaaniyo = recognize. Aanaana = anybody else. Sunukaad(i) = Sunuk etc., the four sons of Brahma. Jaas(u) = whose. Taas(u)

= His. Pranaana = life. Pause. Gur Gummit = the Guru which has access to Waheguru. Guggun Mundul = the tenth door. Bikhaiy = vices. Roag = ills. Bundhun = chains. Nij Ghur = in own mind. Janaana = found out. 1. Aikus = One Waheguru. Rut(i) = in love. Maan(i) = pride. Aanaana = bring. Baasun = lust. Tiyaag(i) = renouncing; giving up. Abhimanaana = conceit. 2. Jus(u) = praise. Taas(u) = his. Kerm Perdhaan = huge luck. Muthanaana = on the forehead. 3. Shukut(i) Shiv = Waheguru's Maya. Sehj(u) = spiritual state above Maya. Pergaasiyo = appeared. Smanaana = absorbed; merged into. Bhayt(i) = on connecting with. Bhermut Ruhay = wavering of mind stopped; became peaceful. 4.

MEANING: I do not recognize any other person (or power) than Waheguru, whose praise is being sung by Shiva and the sons of Brahma, oh my mother. My life is now residing in Him (I survive only by reciting His Naam). Pause. My mind has been enlightened by the Knowledge given to me by the Guru, who has access to Waheguru (is connected with Him), and my concentration is focused on the tenth door (at Waheguru's feet). All the chains of my vices, mental illnesses, and worries have been cut, and I have found comfort and peace in my own mind. 1. Recognizing only Waheguru, I am imbued in His love and thoughts, and He is my pride; I do not bring anybody else to mind. In His love, I have renounced (overcome) my lust, and my mind is full with the fragrance of sandal (Waheguru) now, and my ego has lessened (disappeared). 2. The heart of the individual, who sings praise of, and recites the Naam of the Lord, becomes Waheguru's dwelling. The individual whose heart becomes a dwelling for Waheguru is very lucky, and great fortune appears on his forehead. 3. Waheguru has severed all my bonds of Maya, and I have attained the high spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and merged into God to become "one" with Him, oh Kabir. 4.23.74.

ਬਾਵਨ ਅਛਰ ਲੋਕ ਤ੍ਰੈ ਸਭੁ ਕਛੁ ਇਨ ਹੀ ਮਾਹਿ॥ ਏ ਅਖਰ ਖਿਰਿ ਜਾਹਿਗੇ ਓਇ ਅਖਰ ਇਨ ਮਹਿ ਨਾਹਿ॥ 1॥

Baavun achhur loak traiy, subh(u) kuchh(u) in hee maah((i). Eh akkhur khir(i) jaahengay, oye Akkhur in meh(i) naah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Baavun Achhur = fifty-two letters (of Hindi Alphabet). Khir(i) = erase; fall short Oye = that (praise of Waheguru).

MEANING: The whole world can be described by the letters of the Alphabet, but these letters are perishable, and fall short of describing the virtues of Waheguru (His qualities cannot be described by these letters). 1.

NOTE: Kabir Sahib has used the letters of the Gurmukhi Alphabet to discuss many aspects of Waheguru. Even though the heading of this holy composition is "Baavun Akkhuri", the letters used by Kabir Sahib are all of Gurmukhi (Punjabi) script.

ਜਹ ਬੋਲ ਤਹ ਅਛਰ ਆਵਾ॥ ਜਹ ਅਬੋਲ ਤਹ ਮਨੁ ਨ ਰਹਾਵਾ॥ ਬੋਲ ਅਬੋਲ ਮਧਿ ਹੈ ਸੋਈ॥ ਜਸ ਓਹੁ ਹੈ ਤਸ ਲਖੈ ਨ ਕੋਈ॥ 2॥

Jeh boal the achhur aava. Jeh aboal the mun na ruhaava. Boal aboal mudh(i) haiy soyee. Jus Oh(u) haiy, tus lukhaiy na koyee. 2.
Word Meaning: Boal = language (the situation that can be described). Aboal = quietness (the situation which cannot be described). Ruhaava = does not exist. Jus = the way (Waheguru is). Lukhaiy = understand; comprehend.
MEANING: Words can be used for situations that can be described, but no words can be used for situations which cannot be described (for example, the blissfulness of union with Waheguru); in fact, in that spiritual situation, the mind loses its existence and gets absorbed in Waheguru. The description of God falls between the two situations (His attributes can be described, but not Him). Nobody can comprehend the way He is. 2.

ਅਲਹ ਲਹਉ ਤਉ ਕਿਆ ਕਹਉ ਕਹਉ ਤ ਕੋ ਉਪਕਾਰ॥ ਬਟਕ ਬੀਜ ਮਹਿ ਰਵਿ ਰਹਿਓ ਜਾ ਕੋ ਤੀਨਿ ਲੋਕ ਬਿਸਥਾਰ॥ 3॥
Allah luhoun tuou kiya kuhoun, kuhoun ta ko oopkaar. Butuk beej meh(i) ruv(i) ruhiyo, Ja ko teen(i) loak bisthaar. 3.
Word Meaning: Allah = incomprehensible. Luhoun = acquire. Oopkaar = favour. Butuk = banyan tree. Ruv(i) Ruhiyo = is present. Bisthaar = expanse.
MEANING: Even if I am able to realize the incomprehensible God, I am unable to say anything about the state of my blissfulness; even if I say something, it will not be a favour to anyone (because it will not be the exact description of the mental state). Waheguru, which is present in the three layers of the universe, is also present in the banyan tree's seed. 3.

ਅਲਹ ਲਹੰਤਾ ਭੇਦ ਛੈ ਕਛੁ ਕਛੁ ਪਾਇਓ ਭੇਦ॥ ਉਲਟਿ ਭੇਦ ਮਨੁ ਬੇਧਿਓ ਪਾਇਓ ਅਭੰਗ ਅਛੇਦ॥4
Allah luhunta bhayd chhaiy, kuchh(u), kuchh(u) paayo bhayd. Oolt(i) bhayd mun(u) baydhiyo, paayo Abhung Achhayd. 4.
Word Meaning: Luhunta = searching for. Bhayd = distance from God; ignorance about Him. Chhaiy = by destroying. Oolt(i) = reversing. Badhiyo = pierced. Abhung = indivisible. Achhayd = which cannot be pierced; unattackable.
MEANING: Searching for Waheguru, my ignorance about Him was eliminated to some degree, and I found some of His secrets. Reversing the direction of my mind (getting rid of my doubts), I have realized the indivisible and the unattackable Waheguru. 4.

ਤੁਰਕ ਤਰੀਕਤਿ ਜਾਨੀਐ ਹਿੰਦੂ ਬੇਦ ਪੁਰਾਨ॥ ਮਨ ਸਮਝਾਵਨ ਕਾਰਨੇ ਕਛੂਅ ਕੁ ਪੜੀਐ ਗਿਆਨ॥5
Turk Treekut(i) jaaniyaiy, Hindu Bayd Puran. Mun sumjhaavun kaarnay kuchhoo ku purriyaiy Giyan. 5.
Word Meaning: Turk = Muslims. Treekut(i) = the second of the four stages in the path to union with Allah that the Muslims believe in. This stage explains the ways to cleanse one's mind. Kuchhoo ku = some.
MEANING: The Turks read about Treekut(i), and the Hindus read the Vedas and the Puranas; one needs some knowledge to convince the mind. 5.

ਓਅੰਕਾਰ ਆਦਿ ਮੈ ਜਾਨਾ॥ ਲਿਖਿ ਅਰੁ ਮੇਟੈ ਤਾਹਿ ਨ ਮਾਨਾ॥ ਓਅੰਕਾਰ ਲਖੈ ਜਉ ਕੋਈ॥ ਸੋਈ ਲਖਿ ਮੇਟਣਾ ਨ ਹੋਈ॥ 6॥
Oankar Aad(i) mein jaana. Likh(i) ur(u) maytaiy, tah(i) na maana. Oankar lukhaiy juou koyee. Soyee lukh(i) maytna na hoyee. 6.
Word Meaning: Oankar = the guard of all, Waheguru. Likh(i) = write; create. Maytaiy = erase; decimate. Lukhaiy = comprehend.

MEANING: I recognize God alone as the origin (creator) of the universe, and do not acknowledge any other individual whom He creates and then destroys. If someone comprehends God (makes a connection with Him), his connection with Waheguru is never broken (it becomes permanent). 6.

ਕਕਾ ਕਿਰਣਿ ਕਮਲ ਮਹਿ ਪਾਵਾ॥ ਸਸਿ ਬਿਗਾਸ ਸੰਪਟ ਨਹੀ ਆਵਾ॥ ਅਰੁ ਜੇ ਤਹਾ ਕੁਸਮ ਰਸ ਪਾਵਾ॥ ਅਕਹ ਕਹਾ ਕਹਿ ਕਾ ਸਮਝਾਵਾ॥ 7॥

Kukka, kirn(i) kumul meh(i) paava. Sus(i) bigaas sumput nuhee aava. Ur(u) jay tuhaa koosum rus paavaan. Akeh kuha, keh(i) ka sumjhaavaan. 7.

Word Meaning: Kirn = ray of sun; enlightenment. Kumul = the lotus flower, which blooms in sunlight and folds at night; the human heart. Sus(i) = moon; Maya. Bigaas = light. Sumput = box; enclosed; fold. Ur(u) = and. Tuha = there; in that state. Koosum = flower. Rus = taste. Akeh = indescribable. Keh(i) = by saying. 7.

MEANING: If I am lucky to enlighten my lotus-like heart with God's Knowledge (make a connection with Him) so that it blooms, then unlike a lotus flower, which wilts away at night, it will not fold down (wilt), in the weak light of the moon-like Maya. And if I enjoy the taste of my bloomed heart in that blissful state, I will not be able to express that blissfulness because what can I say about that (it cannot be expressed in words). 7.

ਖਖਾ ਇਹੈ ਖੋੜਿ ਮਨੁ ਆਵਾ॥ ਖੋੜੇ ਛਾਡਿ ਨ ਦਹ ਦਿਸ ਧਾਵਾ॥ ਖਸਮਹਿ ਜਾਣਿ ਖਿਮਾ ਕਰਿ ਰਹੈ॥ ਤਉ ਹੋਇ ਨਿਖਿਅਉ ਅਖੈ ਪਦ ਲਹੈ॥ 8॥

Khukha, ihaiy khoarr(i) mun(u) aava. Khoarray chhaad(i) na deh dis dhaava. Khusmeh(i) jaan(i) khima kur(i) ruhaiy. Tiou hoyay nikhiou, akhaiy pud luhaiy. 8.

Word Meaning: Khoarr = a hole in the stem of some trees, which is used as shelter by birds; a cave; heart; Waheguru's shelter. Khima = forgiveness. Tuou = then. Nikhiyou = indestructible. Akhaiy = immortal. Pud = status. Luhaiy = acquires.

MEANING: If one seeks the shelter of God, his mind becomes stable (peaceful), and does not leave that shelter to wander in every possible direction. He recognizes (realizes) the Lord and becomes forgiving. In that state, he becomes indestructible (is not reborn) and acquires the immortal status. 8.

ਗਗਾ ਗੁਰ ਕੇ ਬਚਨ ਪਛਾਨਾ॥ ਦੂਜੀ ਬਾਤ ਨ ਧਰਈ ਕਾਨਾ॥ ਰਹੈ ਬਿਹੰਗਮ ਕਤਹਿ ਨ ਜਾਈ॥ ਅਗਹ ਗਹੈ ਗਹਿ ਗਗਨ ਰਹਾਈ॥ 9॥

Gugga Gur kay Buchan puchhaana. Dooji baat na dhuryee kaana. Ruhaiy bihungum kuteh(i) na jaayee. Ageh guhaiy, geh(i) guggun ruhaayee. 9.

Word Meaning: Buchan = Words. Puchhana = recognizes the importance. Dhuryee = pays attention. Kaana = ears. Bihungum = (unattached like a) bird. Kuteh(i) = nowhere. Ageh = which cannot be held; inaccessible (Waheguru). Guhaiy = holds; acquires. Guggun = sky; in a high spiritual state.

MEANING: A true devotee of Waheguru recognizes the importance of the Words of the Guru (acts on His Advice), and pays no attention to any other advice. Like a bird, he stays detached from Maya, and his mind does not wander (in Maya's thoughts); he acquires the Naam of the inaccessible Waheguru, and enjoys the blissfulness of the high spiritual state.9.

ਘਘਾ ਘਟਿ ਘਟਿ ਨਿਮਸੈ ਸੋਈ॥ ਘਟ ਫੂਟੇ ਘਟਿ ਕਬਹਿ ਨ ਹੋਈ॥ ਤਾ ਘਟ ਮਹਿ ਘਾਟ ਜਉ ਪਾਵਾ॥ ਸੋ ਘਟਿ ਛਾਡਿ ਅਵਘਟ ਕਤ ਧਾਵਾ॥ 10॥

Ghugha, ghut(i) ghut(i) nimsaiy Soyee. Ghut phootay, ghut(i) kubeh(i) na hoyee. Ta ghut meh(i) ghaat juou paava. So ghut(i) chhaad(i) uvghut kut dhaava. 10.
Word Meaning: Ghut(i) = in the heart. Nimsaiy = resides. Soyee = that (Waheguru). Phootay = breaks. Ghut = lessen. Ghaat = ford; launching place for a boat on a river; path to cross. Uvghut = difficult path.
MEANING: God resides in every heart, but if some heart is broken (dies), there is no loss in Waheguru's magnanimity. If I find the path to cross the sea of Maya (to unite with God) in my own heart, I will never quit that path to follow some other difficult and less effective path. 10.

ਙੰਙਾ ਨਿਗ੍ਰਹਿ ਸਨੇਹੁ ਕਰਿ ਨਿਰਵਾਰੋ ਸੰਦੇਹ॥ ਨਾਹੀ ਦੇਖਿ ਨ ਭਾਜੀਐ ਪਰਮ ਸਿਆਨਪ ਏਹ॥11॥
(Gn)un(gn)a nigreh(i) snayhou kur(i), nirvaaro sundayh. Naahi daykh(i) na bhaajiyaiy, perm siyaanup eh.
Word Meaning: Nigreh(i) = hold tightly; have complete control. Snayhou = love. Nirvaaro = remove. Sundayh = doubt; misgivings. Naahi Daykh(i) = invisible.
MEANING: Remove all your doubts and misgivings (about God) by having complete control over your sensual pleasures, and by developing love for Him, oh my friend. The supreme wisdom lies in the fact that one should not run away from pursuing his objective (of uniting with God) simply because He is not visible. 11.

Chucha ruchit chittar haiy bhaari. Tuj(i) chitraiy chayt-hou Chitkaari. Chittar buchittar ihaiy uvjhayra. Tuj(i) chitraiy, chit(u) raakh(i) Chitayra. 12.
Word Meaning: Ruchit = created (universe). Chittar = painting; creation. Bhaari = humungous. Tuj(i) = forgetting. Chayt-hou = think of. Chitkaari = Chitayra = the painter; the Creator (Waheguru). Buchittar = of many colours; enchanting. Uvjhayra = struggle.
MEANING: The universe created (by God) is humungous (and amazing), oh my friend. But rather than paying attention to the creation, you should think of (remember) the Creator. Waheguru's creation is so colourful and enchanting that there is a struggle going on in the mind of the man all the time (whether to choose Waheguru or the attractive world – Maya. (But, the best thing to do is to) ignore the attractions of the world, and keep the Creator in mind. 12.

MEANING: Waheguru's shelter (is the only way to perfect life); so why don't you give up all others hopes, and seek His shelter with firmness, oh my mind. I warn you every moment, that's why you get tied up in the shackles of Maya by ignoring Waheguru? 13.

Us Pur = us (ours) and others; the feeling of prejudice. Jur(i) = tolerance. Joat(i) = (Waheguru's) light. Jaayay = attain that stage. Oojaarou = light.

MEANING: An individual, who burns away his sensual pleasures and the pride of his youthfulness while living in Maya (the world), acquires the technique (the path) to unite with God. When he burns away his prejudices (and treats everybody the same), he attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and his mind is enlightened by Waheguru's Light. 14.

Word Meaning: Oorjh(i) = trapped in the web (of Maya). Soorjh(i) = untangle; get free. Jhujhuk(i) = hesitant. Pervaana = a moth which jumps into the flame without any hesitation. Jhukh(i) = frustrating explaining. Jhugur(u) = argumentation.

MEANING: The man gets easily trapped in the web of Maya but does not know how to free himself from its bonds. Unlike the moth, which jumps into the flame without any hesitation, the man is always hesitant to fall in love with Waheguru. How can I explain (the blissfulness of union with Waheguru) because it becomes very frustrating as people do not understand it. The explanation becomes an argument, which leads to more argumentation and nowhere. 15.

Word Meaning: Nicket(i) = close by. Ghut = heart. Tuj(i) = leave. Ja Kaarun(i) = the reason for which. Dhoondhiyo = searched. Nayrou = close by.

MEANING: Why leave home to go far away in search of Waheguru, which is so close to my heart? The Waheguru, for which I searched the whole world, I found Him close to my heart. 16.

Word Meaning: Tthugneera = the deceiving water; mirage; sensual pleasures (Maya). Neetth(i) = observing very carefully. Dheera = made peaceful. Thug = the deceitful Maya. Tthugiya = cheated. Tthaur = peace.

MEANING: Like the deceitful water (mirage) which seems to be there in a desert on a hot day, but seems to get farther and farther away, the pleasures of Maya are also very deceitful, because the man never seems to get contentment, as they seem to run farther and farther away. However, when I carefully observed its effects, I discovered the truth, and my mind became peaceful (contented). (With careful observation and by reciting Waheguru's Naam), I was able to cheat the deceitful Maya, who has swallowed the whole world with its charm. Now my mind is at perfect peace. 18.

Word Meaning: Dur = fear of Waheguru. Dur(u) = worldly fears. Smaayee = gets soaked in. Duraiy = is afraid of (avoids) Nidur(u) = fearless.

MEANING: When Waheguru's (respectful) fear develops in one's mind, all his worldly fears run away, as they get soaked (absorbed) in the fear for Waheguru. If one avoids God's fear, he gets gripped by the worldly fears again. But all the worldly fears of the man who has become fearless by acquiring Waheguru's fear in mind run away. 19.

Word Meaning: Run(i) = battlefield; mind (where the struggle is going on between lust and good qualities). Rootou = busy in fighting. Nayhi = firm control. Nivaiy = yield. Sunchuraiy = becomes friends with. Aikeh(i) = the one (mind and its desires). Tuj(i) = leave; run away. Ghunaiy = many.

MEANING: Fighting against vices, the man should exercise full control over his desires. He should not yield to them and make no friendship with them. The coming of that man into this world is considered praiseworthy who kills the desires of his mind, as a result of which many vices leave him (he becomes vice-free). 21.

MEANING: The world sea is impossible to swim across with one's own efforts because high waves of sensual pleasure arise in which the man can easily drown – especially when the man's mind is fully absorbed in the wealth (attractions) of the world. But, when the attractions of the world are absorbed in the mind (are fully in control of the mind), man's light (soul) merges into Waheguru's Light, and He acquires Waheguru (gets connected with Him). 22.

MEANING: Waheguru is unfathomable, and nobody can find His limits because one's mind does not become stable (to connect with Him). The man starts building big mansions in a small space (has high hopes to achieve too much in a short lifetime); it is like supporting a big mansion without any pillars. 23.

MEANING: What you see is all perishable, oh man. So, keep the invisible Waheguru in mind. (Man does not remember God; it is as if he has locked his mind to keep Him away). So, when he applies the key of Guru's Word to his mind to focus on (attain) the spiritual state above Maya, he can "see" the kind Waheguru (get connected with Him). 24.

Word Meaning: Urdheh = high; with the highest spiritual level (Waheguru). Oordh = low; with a very low spiritual level = man. Nibayra = final settlement (end of rebirths). Munjh(i) = in. Busayra = dwelling.

MEANING: When the man with a low spiritual level begins to reside in God (concentrates on His Naam), his birth-death cycle comes to an end. When one gives up his low thoughts (his own wisdom) and takes Waheguru's shelter, he gets connected with Him and acquires blissfulness. 25.

Word Meaning: Phooleh = bragging; ego. Ful = result (achieving the human objective of union with Waheguru). Phunk = a slice; a small part; a short glimpse. Doon(i) = gap; separation. Tun phaaraiy = slice the body (crush the love for the body).
MEANING: If one abandons his ego, he achieves the desired result (connection with God), and gets a short glimpse of Him. If one keeps the beauty of the short glimpse of Waheguru in mind, no separation is left between him and Waheguru (he gets connected with Him). Also, all his love for his own body gets destroyed. 28.

MEANING: If one recognizes Waheguru even for a short moment, he gets blended with (absorbed into) Him just like a drop of water blends into another drop, and he does not get separated from Him again. If one worships Waheguru with full devotion like a slave, he becomes His bard (sings His praise all the time), and gets a complete understanding of the chains of Maya. 29.

Word Meaning: Bhaydeh(i) = gap; separation (from Waheguru). Bhayd(i) = by piercing. Bhuou = fear. Bhaan(i) = break; remove. Bhurosou = faith. Bheetur(i) = inside (in the mind). Bhayd = secret. Bhooput(i) = king (Waheguru).
MEANING: If I pierce my mind (with Waheguru's love) and patch up the gap of separation from Him by getting rid of all the worldly fears, I can win His faith in me. I realized the King of the universe by recognizing the secret that God, which is present throughout the universe, is also present in my mind. 30

By becoming a part of Waheguru, he also learns the reality of the mind (that it is a part of God). No one should delay the union of the mind with Waheguru. The devotee, who focuses his full concentration on Waheguru, realizes Him. 31.

Word Meaning: Kaaj(u) = objective to achieve; favour to get. Saadhay = bring under control. Kuhaiy = convinces.
MEANING: The man has direct business with the mind (to bring it under control) because only the controlled mind enables the man to achieve success in his objective (of achieving union with Waheguru). But only the mind can convince itself; there is no union of the man with Waheguru until the mind is convinced (no matter how many rituals and noble deeds one performs, and how many personal hardships he endures to please Waheguru with the belief that he has achieved union with Him). 32.

MEANING: The human mind resides in the body, which is made up of the five basic elements, and which has its needs and desires (manifestations of Maya). So, man is attracted to Maya. But at the same time, as part of Waheguru, the mind also has a natural inclination toward God. So, the man is torn between Maya and God regarding his attachment. An individual who is able to control his mind and who achieves the spiritual state above the effects of Maya talks only about (sings praise of) the Lord of the three-layered universe – Waheguru. 33.

If one quits enjoying the tastes of Maya, he begins to enjoy the taste of Waheguru's Naam. Once he has a taste of Waheguru's Naam, he does not like the tastes of Maya. 35.

MEANING: People have written many (religious) books using the fifty-two letters (or alphabets of other languages), but they have not been able to recognize the single most important word (Waheguru) in these letters. Kabir sings praise of the "ONE" (Waheguru) only. Only that person can be considered a pundit (a learned man) who stays in the realm of Divine Knowledge. But for the pundits, knowledge is business (they preach it to others for selfish reasons but do not follow their own advice). However, the really knowledgeable people ponder on the Truth (Waheguru). But people's understanding depends on how they think (or on their ability to think), oh Kabir. 45.

Ek Onkar Sat Gur Persad(i):
Raag(u) Gaurri Thintee Kabir Ji Kee:

Thintee: Are the days between the new and the full moon and back to the new moon, when it goes through different phases. But they have the same names for both phenomena. Hindus consider some of these days to be very auspicious – especially the first and the eleventh day after the new or the full moon – and perform special rituals on those days. Kabir Sahib delivers a special message through this holy composition that there is nothing sacred about any of those days. One should remember Waheguru every day regardless of its relation to the different phases of the moon. Guru Arjun Sahib has also discussed Thiti in the same Raag(u).

ਸਲੋਕੁ॥ ਪੰਦ੍ਰਹ ਥਿੰਤੀ ਸਾਤ ਵਾਰ॥ ਕਹਿ ਕਬੀਰ ਉਰਵਾਰ ਨ ਪਾਰ॥ ਸਾਧਿਕ ਸਿਧ ਲਖੈ ਜਉ ਭੇਉ॥ ਆਪੇ ਕਰਤਾ ਆਪੇ ਦੇਉ॥ 1॥

If the Sidh yogis and the disciples of the Yogic path realize this secret (that Waheguru's Naam makes every day auspicious), they will learn that God is the creator of the universe and also the only power worthy of worship. 1.

supreme personal possession as the enlightening knowledge of the origin of everything – God. 1.

MEANING: (With repeated praise of Waheguru), the man feels on Monday as if Amrit of peace (blissfulness) is dripping in his mind, the taste of which eliminates all his vices in no time. Waheguru's praise keeps this blissfulness in his focused mind. Intoxicated with it, the devotee keeps drinking it (enjoying the bliss). 2.

Mungalvaaray lay maaheet(i). Punch choar kee jaanaiy reet(i). Ghur chhoaday baahur(i) jin(i) jaayay. Naatur(u) khura risaiy haiy Raayay. 3.

Word Meaning: Mungulvaaray = Tuesday. Lay = conquers. Maheet(i) = the fort (of mind). Punch Choar = the five demons. Reet(i) = modus operandi. Jin(i) = lest. Naatur(u) = otherwise. Khura = much. Risaiy = offended; suffers. Raayay = mind- king.

MEANING: On Tuesday, the devotee learns how the five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachment, and ego) operate (affect the mind), and conquers their fort, so as not to allow the mind to leave the fort (its base), otherwise it will suffer at the hands of immorality. 3.

Word Meaning: Boodhvaar(i) = Wednesday. Boodh(i) = wisdom; mind. Pergaash(u) = enlightenment. Doyoo = both (heart and Waheguru). Sum Dhuraiy = put them together; connects them. Oordh = upside down. Punk = lotus-like heart. Soodha = right side up (towards God). 4.

MEANING: In the shelter of the Guru, the devotee turns his mind from Maya towards God, and connects his mind with Waheguru (recites His Naam all the time), as a result of which his mind is enlightened, and God comes to dwell in his lotus-like heart. 4.

Word Meaning: Brihsput(i) = Thursday. Bikhiya = the poison of sensual desires. Buhaayay = throw in the running water; wash away. Teen(i) Dayv = faith, mind, and concentration. Teen(i) Nudi = Tirkooti = three rivers (three effects of Maya). Kusmul = sins.

MEANING: (By constantly remembering Waheguru), the devotee washes away the poison (filth) of his sensual enjoyment on Thursday. He puts his faith, mind, and concentration into the worship of Waheguru. On the other hand, the lovers of Maya keep submerging in the rivers of the three effects of Maya day and night, and never wash away the filth of their sins.5.

Word Meaning: Sookirt = noble labour (of worshipping Waheguru, and controlling one's mind). Bert(i) = commitment to do or not to do something. Churraiy = becomes successful. Soorkhi Paanchoun = the five senses. Dooji = discriminatory.

NOTE: The name of the day, Shookurvaar, (Friday) is not mentioned here. But from the pattern used in this composition (that the first word of each verse starts with the first letter of the respective day), one can easily conclude that this verse represents Friday.
MEANING: A devotee, who always struggles with his desires to keep his five senses (mind) under control, and recites Waheguru's Naam with devotion, achieves success in his commitment (to connect with God) by his noble and hard labour. At the same time, he does not cast a discriminatory eye on anyone (treats everybody the same). 6.

Word Meaning: Thaavur = Saturday. Thir(u) = stable; constantly. Soyay = that. Joat(i) Deevti = the attractive lamp of Waheguru's Light. Joyay = which. Tub = then.
MEANING: If the devotee keeps the beautiful lamp of Waheguru's light lit constantly in his heart (keeps his memory alive), his mind and surroundings are enlightened (he feels Waheguru's presence around him). At that time, all his ignoble deeds are destroyed. 7.

Word Meaning: Dooji = Maya. Aan = other. Tuou Luou = till then. Mehl(i) = Waheguru's Residence. Laabhaiy = find. Jaan = getting there; have access. Rumut = reciting the Naam. Rung(u) = love. Nirmul = pure; clean. Ung = parts of the body (mind).
MEANING: As long as the human mind has room for the other (Maya) in his heart, he cannot have access to Waheguru's Residence. But by reciting His Naam, the man gets imbued in God's love, and his body and mind become pure. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Paahun = rocks. It is believed that to attack Ravan in Sri Lanka, Ram Ji floated some rocks bearing his name, which joined together to form a bridge across the ocean. Gunika = A prostitute, who was given a parrot by a sage to teach him "Ram, Ram". While teaching the parrot, she was reciting Waheguru's Naam - albeit unconsciously. So, she got salvaged. Bin(u) Roop = ugly. Kus = how; why. Koobija = was a young humpback woman-slave of Kuns (the maternal uncle of Krishna, who had imprisoned Krishna's parents), but was hump-backed. She was a specialist in fragrant oils. Once, she gave Krishna some fragrant oil, which pleased him, and he removed her hump, turning her into a beautiful damsel. Biyaadh(i) = deeply indulged in vices. Ajamul = a Brahman who married a prostitute, for which he was condemned as being immoral!! A saint advised him to name his youngest son Narayan (a name for Waheguru). Calling his son by this name, he was considered Waheguru's devotee and was given salvation. Churn = feet. Budhik = hunter. The entire clan of Krishna was destroyed due to a curse by a sage who easily lost his temper. Krishna was lying, pondering the whole tragedy, in the shade of a tree, with one leg raised over the other. He did not realize when the dark fell. There was naturally a lotus-like shiny stone in his foot, which shone in the dark. This hunter mistook the shining stone for the eye of a deer and shot an arrow aimed at Krishna's foot, as a result of which Krishna died. But the dying Krishna not only forgave the hunter but also granted him salvation. Bidur(u) = was the son of a maid of the Paandav clan, fathered by the sage Vyas. He was the prime minister of King Dhritrashtra (of the Mahabharat). and a devotee of Krishna. Once, Krishna Ji visited Delhi, which was ruled by the Kaurvas, but rather than staying with Prince Duryodhana, he stayed with Bidur(u), thus honouring him. Soodaama = A poor Brahman, and a childhood friend of Krishna. He once visited Krishna with only a fistful of rice as a gift, but Krishna built him a huge house and gave him a lot of money. Oogursaiyn = the father of Kuns, and the maternal grandfather of Krishna. Krishna killed Kuns, and gave the reign of Mathura to Oogursaiyn. Heen = lacking; without. Tayoo = those. Turay = granted salvation.

MEANING: When you could float rocks on the surface of the sea which bore Your Naam, why won't a person, who recites Your Naam, find salvation, oh Waheguru! Pause. You granted salvation to Gunika, ugly Koobija, and the vices-gripped Ajamul. Even the hunter, who shot Krishna in the foot with an arrow, and many others, were liberated by You. I am a sacrifice to all those who recite Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 1. You honoured Bidur(u), the son of a maid, and poor Soodaama, and gave the reign of Mathura to Oogursaiyn. You gave salvation even to those who did not recite Your Naam; did not suffer any bodily hardship to please You, came from some very low clan, and did not perform any religious rituals; (so why will not I find salvation who is a staunch devotee of Yours), oh the Lord of Namdev, Waheguru?

Saabha = shelter. Jun = slave, devotee. Bilaanbha = delay. 3.

MEANING: I admit that I keep the company of bad people (of immoral people); my deeds are deceitful, and I am born in a very low clan; all these shortcomings worry me day and night. 1. But, You are the basis of my life, and I am Your devotee, so do not ignore me, oh, the Lord of the world, Waheguru! Pause. Word Meaning: Baygum = without sadness; worry-free. Andoh(u) = worry. Tusvees = nervousness. Khiraaj = tax. Khauf(u) = fear. Khutaa = crime; fault. Ters(u) = pity; fear. Juvaal(u) = loss. 1. Khoob = much. Vutun = homeland. Geh = place; room. Khaiyr = wellbeing. Pause. Kaayim(u) = permanent. Daayim(u) = always. Doam = second-rate. Saym = third rate. Aabadaan(u) = well-populated city. Gunee = Maamoor = rich; wealthy (of noble qualities). 2. Saiyl = stroll. Mehrum = those who are familiar with all the secrets (well-connected with Waheguru). Utkaavaiy = stops; restricts. Khulaas = free from all restrictions. Hum Shehri = of the same city; having the same spiritual level. Meet(u) = friend. 3.

NOTE: People have their own concepts of paradise, where Waheguru resides and where His devotees go after death. Ravidass Ji compares the spiritual state in which a devotee is fully connected to Waheguru to such an imagined paradise.

MEANING: Union with Waheguru can be likened to living in a city named “The City of No Worries” (it is not just the name; the City is really free of all worries). There is no discomfort or any worry at that place. There is no nervousness there because there is no tax to pay (as you do not own any property). There is no fear of any fault (or crime) and no fear of any loss. 1. I have found a room in that city now, and I like it very much there, as there is all wellbeing there all the time. Pause. There is the eternal reign of Waheguru, where there is no second or third-class citizen – all are equal there. The City (union with God), which is well inhabited by the spiritually wealthy people, is well known. 2. The citizens walk around (enjoy the blissful state, and the flight of their minds) as they please, because there is nobody to restrain them, as they know Waheguru’s Residence well (are known to Waheguru). The cobbler Ravidass, who is free from all such worries and attractions of Maya, says that anybody who has attained that spiritual state is my friend. 3.2.

(In olden days, merchants used oxen to carry their merchandise, or oxen were used to pull the carts carrying the merchandise. Rummuyiya = Waheguru. 1. Bunjaaro = merchant. Taanda = the caravan of oxen carrying the merchandise. Laadiya =loaded; transported. Sehj = the blissful spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Bikh(u) = poisonous Maya. 2.

Aal Putaal(u) = non-sense; gibberish. Dund = punishment. Tujilay = given up. Junjaal = spiritually harmful dealings. 3. Kusoombh = a flower that looks very pretty, but withers away by simple touch; a short-lived joy. Mujeetth = madder – a dye with very fast red colour. Chumaar = cobbler. 4.

MEANING: Like the journey uphill with a heavy load, the path (to union with God) is very difficult. On top of that, my mind-ox is weak (its faith in Waheguru is not very strong). So, I request You to protect my spiritual wealth so that I may reach (connect with) You, oh Waheguru. 1. I am a dealer in Waheguru's Naam, and I am looking for some company of such dealers (holy men) who want to connect with God so that the merchandise of my spiritual wealth is also hauled to Waheguru. Pause.

I am a dealer in Waheguru's Naam, and I deal for the state of mind which is above the effects of Maya. God's Naam is my merchandise, whereas the rest of the world is dealing in the poisonous Maya (worldly affairs). 2. Write whatever gibberish you want to write about me, oh Chitar and Goopt; the Angel of justice cannot punish me because I have relinquished all the spiritually harmful dealings in Maya. 3. I have realized that, like the kusoombh flower, the world may be attractive to enjoy, but such enjoyments are short-lived. On the contrary, the love for God is as permanent as the colour of madder (which does not come off), oh Ravidass, the cobbler. 4.1.

NOTE: In perfect accordance with the Philosophy of Guru Granth Sahib, Ravidass Ji is also of the firm belief that one cannot be emancipated without the recitation of Waheguru's Naam (and hence without connecting with Him). As you will see, he disapproves of all other religious practices and rituals as means to find salvation.

: In Satyug, the people were believed to have high morality, gave donations to Brahmans, and were following the other religious practices (perform rituals), while in the Trayta Yug, yugs and huvuns were performed in which holy fires were built, free meals were served to the Brahmans, and some animals were sacrificed, which became the norm to achieve salvation. In Dooaapur, the worship of the deities of choice replaced the yugs as the means to please gods, and in the present age of Kulyug the names of Rama and Krishna have become the basis of worship. People worship their idols and recite some mantras. 1. (There is no advice to sing praise of Waheguru, which is a prerequisite to attain salvation), so can someone explain to me how you will swim across the sea of Maya? (And find salvation to avoid future rebirths). Pause. The whole world seems to follow the religious dictates for various strata of the Hindu caste system as delineated by the Granths. But which ritual must one follow to achieve the success of the human objective (union with God)? 2. As one listens to the Vedas and the Puranas, one gets more confused as to which religious deed is approved and which is disapproved by the religion. Doubts always arise in the mind as to how a particular deed can eradicate your ego. 3. People wash their bodies from outside at holy places (to cleanse their mind) while they have so many different ignoble ideas in their account of deeds performed. A dip in holy waters is just like the bathing of an elephant, which sprays its body with dust after the bath. So, how can one have a clean mind? 4. The whole world knows that the darkness of night is gone with the light of the sun. It happens quickly, just as copper turns into gold without any delay when it comes in contact with the elixir stone. 5. The Guru is the supreme elixir stone (who transforms the mind of a Maya-engrossed individual into that of a devotee of Waheguru), but it happens only when one has good fortune prewritten on his forehead. (With the grace of the Guru), The mind of the devotee becomes detached from Maya and becomes eager to "see" Waheguru. So, the stone-like gates of his Tenth Door (consciousness) open completely, and his mind (soul) merges with God. 6. The devotee controls his mind from the attacks of Maya (sensual pleasures) by means of his devotional worship of God, and attains freedom from the bonds of Maya. With his controlled mind, he enjoys the blissful union with Waheguru, and for him, noble qualities, or lack thereof, become the same (they become unimportant to him). 7. A person may try many different ways to control his senses, but he cannot restrain them with his own efforts; the shackles of misgivings cannot be avoided without taking shelter of Waheguru. (With other efforts to control one's sensual pleasures) The love for God's worship does not take root in one's mind; that's why Ravidass feels depressed. 8.

NOTE: It is the same holy Shabad as Paurri number 27 in Jap(u) Ji and under “So Dur” on page 6 of SGGS with very minor changes in spellings of some words with no change in the meaning as a whole.

NOTE 1: Every religion has its own beliefs about Waheguru's residence and the entrance to His residence, where He looks after His creation. For example, Muslims believe that there are 14 skies in the universe – seven above and seven below the earth; and Allah resides in the Seventh Sky, while other saints and holy men reside in the sixth sky, and common men reside in the fifth or lower skies. Christians have a similar belief that God lives somewhere high in the sky in paradise with pearly gates. You might have seen pictures of Jesus' resurrection on the third day after the crucifixion, showing him being taken up into the sky, his hand held by God, out of the clouds. The idea in the picture reflects the Christian belief that God lives in the sky. Hindus do not believe in a single God; rather, they believe in a multitude of gods and goddesses who are all shown to live on the tops of mountains or in some mythical paradise. The Hindus also believe that there is a god for everything, including air, water, fire, precious stones, and metals. The king of all gods, Ind (or Indra), lives in paradise, also somewhere in the sky.
However, Sikhism does not believe in any such paradise. In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib clarifies His conception of Waheguru's residence. He professes that Waheguru is present in each part (even in each particle) of the universe invisibly, but shows His presence only where His praise is sung (or where He is remembered) and has no particular residence. However, no one can describe His mysterious ways by which He controls the whole universe and looks after His creation.
NOTE 2: Since Waheguru is the Master of the entire universe, He is revered as the King of kings. Usually, kings have musicians in their courts, so most people believe that there must be many, many musicians in Waheguru's Court or Paradise. Hindus also believe that there are two accountants – Chit(u) and Goopt(u) – riding on the shoulders of each human being to keep continuous written records of their deeds. The mythical god Indra (Ind) is believed to be the king of all gods and therefore the ruler of paradise. But the Guru Granth Sahib does not recognize any gods.
NOTE 3: Singing Waheguru's praise also implies obeying His Command, Will or His Laws.
Word Meaning: Ek Onkar = only one uniform Supreme Being (Living Power). Satnam(u) = His existence is (Huqam, Laws are) eternal. Kerta = creator. Purakh = living power. Nirbhuou = fearless (because He has no superior, and is above the effects of Maya). Nirvaiyr(u) = has no enemity with anyone (is fully just). Akal Moorut(i) = time has no effect on His persona. Ajooni = never takes any life form. Saiybhun(g) = self-illuminated. Gur Persad(i)) = can be realized only by the grace of the Guru (this fact is reiterated in hundreds of holy Shabads in Sri Guru Granth Sahib).
Dur(u) = door; entrance. Smaalay = looks after. vaajay Naad = music produced by musical instruments. vaavanhaaray = musicians. Raag Purie = varieties of music. Baisuntar(u) = fire. Raja Dherm(u) = Dhermraj = Angel of justice. Suvaaray = decorated. Jutee = celibate. Sutee = with high moral character. Suntokhi = content. Veer Kraaray. = gallants. Mohiniyaan = mind-captivating; pretty. Muchh = this world. Pyaalay = worlds beneath the earth. Ruttan = jewels; noble qualities. Khaani chaaray = the four sources of production of life (live birth, eggs, vegetation, from air under ripe conditions). Khund, Mundal Verbhunda = parts of the universe. Ruttay = imbued. Ruchna = creation. Rungi Rungi Bhaanti = of different kinds.
MEANING: There is only one Supreme Being, which is uniformly present everywhere. Eternal is his existence (Huqam; Laws); He is a living power and is the creator of the universe; He is fearless (as he has no superior, and is above the effects of Maya), and delivers perfect justice; time has no effect on His persona (He does not change in any way with time); He never takes any life form; is Self-illuminated, and can be realized only by the grace of the Guru.

(Guru Nanak says), Oh Waheguru! People wonder what kind of entrance Your residence has, and what kind of residence You reside in where You look after all Your Creation. Even though I am unable to describe the exact nature of Your residence, You are omnipresent, and there are countless musical instruments and countless musicians who play them to produce many different types of lilting tunes (naad). There are many different types of lyrics and their subcategories (puries), and countless singers to sing them. (The gods of) air, water, and fire all sing Your praise, and so does the Angel of justice, on Your doorsteps. Chit(u) and Goopt(u), who are believed to keep written records of the deeds of humans, sing Your Praise with their recordings being analyzed by Dherm Raj - the Angel of justice. Many Shivas and Brahmas, etc., and many Parbatis sing Your praise as a result of which they are decorated (find respect) in Your Court. Sitting on their thrones, many Indras (Ind) along with other gods, also sing Your praise at Your door. The Sidh yogis sing Your praise in their meditation, and the holy men (sadh) sing Your praise by pondering on Your magnanimity.
The celibate, men with high character, and the contented (santokhi), and the gallant (who have conquered their mind), all sing Your praise. In all eras, the learned (pundits), the great sages (rukheesur), and the Vedas, sing Your praise. Even the beautiful (mythical) fairies of the paradise, of the earth (muchh) and of the underworld (payaal), having charming beauties, sing Your praise. Gods of jewels (wealth) created by You, sing Your praise, and so do the sixty-eight holy places believed to be made holy by the gods. The powerful valiant (jodh) and the intrepid (maha bal soora) sing Your praise, and so do the living beings from all four sources (mammals, eggs, vegetation, and the ones which grow under optimum conditions) of reproduction.
The skies, the galaxies, and the whole universe, supported by You, sing Your praise. Only those devotees sing Your Praise whom You like (are approved by You), and who are imbued in Your affection, and enjoy singing it. I do not know, and cannot imagine how many more sing Your praise. Only the Master Waheguru is eternal (Sach Sahib Saacha) and so is His greatness or justice (naayee). The Creator has always existed, will exist in future, and will never go away (will live forever). He has created the universe with countless varieties of different living beings and bodies, and has created attractions of different types (Maya) for them. He enjoys and looks after His Creation as He pleases. He will do whatever He chooses, and nobody has the power to suggest any modifications (huqam na kerna jaayee).
(Guru Nanak Sahib advises) That rather than wasting time and energy to find the secrets and the limits (because nobody will ever be able to do so) of Waheguru, who is the real Emperor of emperors, the man should simply sing His praise and obey His Will (rajaayee). 1.1.

MEANING: Waheguru, which pervades the whole universe, is above the effects of Maya. He is beyond limits. Everybody thinks of You (recites Your Naam), oh, the perfect creator, Waheguru! All living beings are Yours (created by You), and You are their provider. Always remember Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all discomforts, oh holy men! (Being present in all life) Waheguru Himself is the Lord, and Himself the server. The living being is helpless (has no control). 1. You are present in each and every body all the time and thus are mixed with the entire universe (everything is a part of Yours). But these are Your amazing ways: some people are donors, while others are beggars, oh Waheguru. (Being present in everybody) You, Yourself, are the provider and Yourself the user. I do not recognize anybody other than you (who can play these roles), oh my Lord! You are the greatest of all, and I am unable to describe all Your noble qualities. I simply wish to sacrifice my life for those who remember You (sing Your praise), oh the limitless Waheguru. 2.

Those who sing Your praise lead a comfortable life in this world, oh my Lord! They are able to break the bonds of Maya, thereby escaping the noose of the Angel of death (they become free from reincarnating). Those who recite the Naam (sing praise) of the fearless Lord get rid of all fears, and they are absorbed in Waheguru to become “one” with Him. They are worthy of praise, and I wish to sacrifice my life for them. 3.

There are countless treasures full of Your worship (there are countless devotees who have been enabled by You for Your worship), oh my Lord! And there are countless devotees who sing Your praise for Your countless forms. Also, countless people worship you in various ways, whether through meditation or self-affliction. There are countless others who study the Hindu holy books and perform the six recognized rituals (to study and to teach; to perform yagna and motivate others to do the same; to donate and to accept donations). However, only those devotees are approved by my Lord whom He likes. 4.

You are the root (origin) of everything, and are the creator, oh my limitless Waheguru! Nobody else can rival You. You are the only one who has always been there through the eons, and You are the everlasting creator. Only those events take place in the universe which you desire, and only that happens, which You cause (to happen). You create the entire universe, and destroy it at Your Will. The devotee, Nanak, simply sings praise of the Creator who knows everything. 5.2.

Aakhun vaala kiya baychaara. Siftee bhurray Tayray bhundaraa. Jis(u) Toon dayeh(i) tisaiy kiyaa chaaraa. Nanak Sach(u) svaarunharaa. 4.2.
Word Meaning: Deettha = on seeing. Keemut(i) = value; worth; measurements. Smaayay = absorbed. 1 Gehir = deep. Gumbheera = never changing (without any emotion). Gooni Guheera = source of noble qualities. Kay Vudd = how large? Cheera = Huqam(u); creation. Pause. Soorteen = meditators Soort(i) = meditated (to determine the secrets of God). Keemut(i) = evaluators. Keemut(i) = value; worth. Giyani = scholars; having Divine Knowledge. Dhiyani = concentrators. Gur Gur Haayee = are recognized gurus. Til(u) = sesame seed (extremely small). Vudiyaayee = greatness. 2 Sat = high moral character, noble deeds. Tup = physical suffering (to please some god). Sidhaan Poorkhaan = of the Sidh yogis. Kerm(i) = kindness. Tthaak(u) ruhayeeyan = kept restricted. 3 Baychaara = poor; unable; helpless. Bhundaara = treasures. Chaara = competition. Sach(u) = God; Waheguru. Svaarunhaara= decorator; granting success. 4.
MEANING: After hearing from various sources, everyone says that Waheguru (His creation) is very large. If someone were actually able to see Him (His creation), how large would he find Him!! Nobody could actually evaluate (find the size) of His creation, and thus nobody can describe His vastness. Those who try get simply absorbed in amazement in You (lost in your magnanimity, and cannot find any limits), oh Waheguru! 1. You are unfathomable, are the treasure of all good qualities, and never change; nobody knows how large Your creation is, oh, my great Master! Pause. All the meditators meditate (to find Your ends), and all the evaluators try to evaluate You, and find your limits (but to no avail). The people with some Divine Knowledge, the people with deep concentrations, and the recognized gurus (by some people) try, but cannot describe even a tiny amount of Your splendour, oh Lord. 2. All the noble deeds, all sorts of self-afflicted sufferings to please You, and other religious rituals (do not result in any success to find Your limits). All good qualities, including the glory (due to limited supernatural powers) of the Sidh yogis, come from You by Your kindness. If You do not want someone to have those, they will stay undelivered (they will not acquire them). 3. You are the treasure of all the praiseworthy qualities, oh Waheguru! And nobody can describe them. They are all helpless. If you impart Your good qualities to someone, nobody can match (rival) him. Only You have the ability to adorn individuals (of Your choice) with noble qualities. 4.1.

Assa Mehla 1. Aakhaan jeevaan visraiy mur(i) jaaoun. Aakhun(i) aukhaa Saacha Naoun. Saachay Naam kee laagaiy bhookh. Oot(u) bhookaiy khaaayay chuliyay dookh .1. So kiyoun visraiy mayri maayay. Saacha Sahib(u) Saachaiy naayay. 1. Ruhaou. Saachay Naam kee til(u) vuddiyaayee. Aakh(i) thukkay keemut(i) nuhhi payee. Jay subh(i) mil(i) kaiy aakhun(i) paah(i). Vudda na hovaiy ghaat(i) na jaayay. 2. Na oh(u) muraiy na hovaiy soag(u). Daynda ruhaiy na chookaiy bhoag(u). Goon(u) ehou hoar(i) naahi koyay. Na ko hoa, na ko hoyay. 3. Jay vudd Aap(i) tay vudd Tayri daat(i). Jin(i) din kur(i) kaiy keetee raat(i). Khusm(u) visareh(i) tay kumjaat(i). Nanak Naavaiy baajh snaat(i). 4.3.

Word meaning: Visraiy = on forgetting. Bhookh = appetite; urge; desire. Oot(u) = bhookhaiy = because of that urge. Dookh = discomfort. 1 Visraiy = lose from memory. Saacha Sahib(u) = (union with) the True Master. Saachaiy Naayay= by (reciting) the True Name. Pause. Til(u) = (the size of a) sesame seed. Aakh(i) Tthukkay = exhausted describing. Keemut(i) = value. Ghaat(i) = loss (in greatness). 2 Soag(u) = mourning (causing grief). Chookaiy = miss (discontinue). Bhoag(u) = food. Goon(u) = good quality; ability. Ehou = (only in) Waheguru. Hoar(i) naahi koyay = nobody else. 3
Jay vudd = as large (great). Tay vudd = the same size. Daat(i) = largesse. Khusm(u) = Master. Visareh(i) = forget. Kumjaat = Snaat(i) = low caste, ignoble. 4.

MEANING: Even though it is very difficult to recite the True (Waheguru's) Naam (with full concentration and dedication), I am spiritually alive only when I recite Waheguru's Naam, and experience spiritual death when I forget it. I wish that I experienced the appetite (strong desire) for Waheguru's Naam all the time, because this appetite eats away (kills) all the discomforts. 1. How can I (I cannot afford to) forget the True Naam of Waheguru, oh my mother! The True Master can be realized only by reciting His Naam (singing His praise). Pause. Many people have exhausted themselves in evaluating (describing) the splendour of God, but they have not been able to describe even a small part of Him (have been badly unsuccessful). Even if everybody joined together to describe Him, there will be no change in Him – He will become neither bigger nor smaller. 2.
The Master never dies, and thus does not cause any grief to anyone. He never stops being the provider. Only He has this unique ability; nobody else will ever have it. 3.
His largesse is as great as He Himself is. (It is His kindness) that He has created nights after days. Anybody who forgets such a benevolent Master is ignoble. Also ignoble is the person who does not recite His Naam (sing His praise), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Assa Mehla 1: Jay Dur(i) maangut(u) kook kuray, Mehli Khusm(u) soonay. Bhaavaiyn dheeruk, bhaavaiyn dhukkay, aik vudaayee dayay. 1. Jaanhou joat(i), na poochhou jaati, aagaiy jaat(i) na hay. 1. Ruhaou. Aap(i) kuraayay, Aap(i) kuray. Aap(i) oolaahmay chit(i) dhuray. Ja Toon Kernhaar(u) Kartar(u). Kiya moohtaaji, kiya sunsaar(u). 2. Aap(i) oopaayay, Aapay dayay. Aapay doormut(i) muneh(i) kuray. Gur persaad(i) vusaiy mun(i) aayay. Dookh(u) anayhra vichoun jaayay. 3. Saach(u) Piyaara Aap(i) kuray. Uvree kuou Saach(u) na dayay. Jay kisaiy dayay, vukhaanaiy Nanak(u), aagaiy poochh na layay. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Maangut = beggar. Kook = cry for help. Dheeruk = consolation; support. Dhukkay = kick out; not grant request. Vudaayee = respect. 1.
Joat(i) = level of spiritual enlightenment. Jaati = caste. Aagaiy = Waheguru's Court. Pause Oolaahmay = complaints. Chit(i) Dhuray = to keep in mind; to ponder on. Kernhaar(u) = Kartar(u) = Creator and controller. Moohtaaji = dependence; subservience. 2.
Dayay = provides; looks after. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. Muneh(i) = prevents. 3.
Uvree = others. Saach(i) = His Naam. Vukhaanaiy = says. 4.
MEANING: If a beggar cries for help at Waheguru's door (prays with full devotion and concentration) and He listens to it, He accords the beggar some respect simply by listening to him, whether He accepts or does not grant the request. 1. One thing must be clear to all of us: Waheguru recognizes (gives credit) only to the level of an individual's spiritual enlightenment, totally disregarding his caste in this world. Caste carries no importance in Waheguru's Court. Pause.
Waheguru Himself makes individuals do (good or bad deeds) whatever they do, and He does everything Himself. He also listens to individuals' complaints and ponders them. When one recognizes that Waheguru is the creator of the universe and also controls everything, then why should the devotee be dependent on (or subservient to) the world? (He discharges his obligations, but leaves the results to Waheguru). 2. Waheguru Himself creates the world and looks after it. He also prevents the ignoble thinking of his devotees. With Guru's grace, He makes the heart of His devotee His dwelling, as a result of which, all the darkness of ignorance is dispelled, and all the troubles of the devotee vanish. 3. Waheguru gives His Naam only to those of His liking (who deserve it), and the undeserving do not receive it. But once He gives His Naam to someone, He never questions him again (about his deeds) (because that individual will never commit any immoral deed again), oh Nanak. 4.3.

Ta kichh(u) Durgeh paavaiy maan(u). 4.4.
Word Meaning: Taal = cymbal. Mudeeray = anklets with bells. Ghut = heart; mind. Ghaat = path. Doaluk = drum. Vaajeh = play. Naarud(u) = capricious mind. Kul(i) Ka Bhaaou = the effect of Kulyug. Jutee = celibates. Sutee = having high morals. 1. Vit-houn = for. Jaan(u) = omniscient. Pause. Taam(i) = only then. Khusm Puchhaanaiy = makes a connection with Waheguru. 2. Dershun(i) = (at the) sight of. Duyya = compassion.

Luyay Ditay = taking and giving (bribery). Huth(i) Hoyay = have (money) in hand. Kuhaiy = in the name of. 3
Moorut(i) = appearance. Kerni = deeds. Phoorman = orders. Mehmaan = visitor. 4
MEANING: (The whole world is dancing to the tune of Maya), in which the flighty ideas of mind serve as cymbals, and the anklets, and the attractions of the world play the role of musical instruments. The capricious mind is dancing at the hands of Maya (who is a puppet). This is what you call the effect of the present era – Kalyug. There is no place for high morals and noble character in the world. 1. I would love to sacrifice my life for Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. The whole world is blinded by Maya; only Waheguru is the one who knows everything (including the deceitful effects of Maya). Pause. A disciple loves his guru only if he gets his living expenses from him (the guru) (this is an effect of Kalyug). Even if a man lives for hundreds of years and gets enough to eat (and to enjoy), it is worthless without Waheguru's Naam. Only that day gets approved for the devotee by Waheguru on which he remembers Him. 2. The person in charge of a service operation shows no compassion unless he is given money, even in the face of the needy person's difficult situation. Even the ruler (or the judge) does not deliver justice unless he is paid, and nobody does anything in the name of Allah. (This is Kalyug). 3. The man has only the looks of a human being (but has no humanity), oh Nanak. His acts are like those of a dog who obeys his master for food and shelter. A man receives some respect in Waheguru's Court only if, by the grace of the Guru, he behaves like a short-time visitor in this world, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Aapay roop kuray buhou bhaanti, Nanak(u) bupurra aiyv kuhaiy. 4.5.
Word Meaning: Shabad(u) = Huqam (Waheguru). Soorut(i) = hearing; focus attention; devotion. Dhoon(i) = sound; concentration of thoughts. [See Sidh(i) Gosht(i): Shabad(u) Guru Soorut(i) Dhoon(i) chayla]. Roop(u) = creation. Kaaya = body. Rusna = tongue. Busna = to relish by the tongue. Uver(u) = other. 1. Layvaiy Dayay = gives and takes away (life). Vigsaiy = feels overjoyed; heart blooms. Nedr(i) = sight of kindness. 2.
Vertaiy = display of behaviour. Taiyso = depending upon the behaviour. 3.
Kul(i) = the present era (which is considered the worst among the four eons); the world. Kulvaali = the server of liquor. Mud = intoxication. Mutvaala = intoxicated; inebriated. Bupurra = poor; humble. 4.
MEANING: The whole universe is Your body, and wherever You are present, Your devotees focus their mind with love on You, oh Waheguru! Being present in everybody, it is You who is reciting Your Naam with the tongue, and enjoying its sweet essence, oh my Lord. There is none other like Him, oh my mother. 1. There is only one Lord of the universe – one and only one – oh my brothers. Pause. He Himself destroys the spirituality of the people, and Himself sets them free from the bonds of Maya; He Himself gives life to the living beings, and takes it away. He watches the World (looks after it) and feels overjoyed to do so, and casts His kind sight on His subjects. 2. Whatever is happening in the world is reflective of Waheguru's magnanimity. He is doing whatever needs to be done, and nobody else has any say in that. But still, a man is known by the deeds he performs. 3.

Just like a server of liquor, Maya is enchanting people with its intoxicating attractions in this era of Kalyug, and the people, intoxicated by Maya, find this intoxicant very enjoyable and keep taking it. However, all these different attractions of Maya are different forms of Waheguru (His creations), as humble Nanak describes. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Vaaja = musical instruments. Mut(i) = thinking. Pukhaavuj = a pair of small drums; tabor. Anund = enjoyment; blissfulness. Chaaou = zest. Tup Taaou = self-affliction. It(u) rung(i) = in this (blissful) state. 1. Pooray Taal = to dance perfectly to the tune. Salaah = praise of Waheguru. Mah = in. Pause. Sat = service to humanity. Suntoakh = contentment. Taal = cymbals. Paiyreen Vaaja = anklet with bells. Nihaal = blissful. Naad(u) = music. Dooja Bhaaou = love for Maya. 2. Bhuou = fear (of God). Phayri = spinning while dancing. Neeta Neet = all the time. Laytun(i) = to lie down flat during dancing. Sooaah = dust. 3. Sikh Subha = holy congregation. Deekhiya = Guru's advice. Vayra Vayr = time, and again. 4.

NOTE: Many people worship their deities by singing their praise while dancing, but through this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib emphasizes a totally different kind of dance to please Waheguru.

MEANING: Make your noble thinking the musical instruments, and your love for Waheguru, the tabor (a pair of small drums). This is the real worship and the hard labour (comparable to self-affliction), to please Waheguru. This kind of dancing leads to blissfulness in one's mind, which always feels zestful. 1. Praise of Waheguru is the perfect dance, which is synchronous to the music of life; any other type of dancing may please your mind, and may provide temporary happiness (but has no spiritual worth). Pause.

Make service to others and contentment, the cymbals for music, and feeling always blissful, should be your anklets. Ridding yourself of discriminatory treatment of others should serve as a song of devotion and music. Such a blissful state will become your steps for dancing. 2. Keeping Waheguru's fear and His Naam in mind, whether you are sitting or standing (all the time), should serve as the spin in dancing; and remembering that our body is going to be a part of dust one day, should serve as lying flat on the floor as a part of dancing. Such a blissful state will become your steps as you dance. 3. One should attend the holy gathering with full faith and with the intent to receive advice so as to recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru (with focus on His Word), and to recite it again, and again should be the steps of dancing, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Paun(u) = air. Bundh Keeya = put together. Andhulay = blind; ignorant. Dehsir(i) = Raavan = the king of Lanka, who is believed to have ten heads, and who had kidnapped Sita, the wife of god Rama. He was killed by Rama. Moond = head. Kiyya Vudda Bhuyya = what greatness did he achieve? 1. Oopma = praise. Poor(i) Ruhiya = pervading the whole universe. Pause. Joogut(i) = technique. Kaali was a huge snake living in the River Jamuna that was terrorizing the people. Krishna is said to have roped him (killed him). Nuth(i) = putting a string through a hole in the nose of domesticated animals to control them or overpower them. Purakh = male; husband. Joaroo = wife. Niruntar(u) = continuously. 2. Kootumb = family; offspring. Verdaata = the one (Vishnu) by whose blessing Brahma was born (out of the stem of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu). Srishut(i) = the world. Kuns = the maternal uncle of Krishana killed by the latter. Chhayd(i) = cut; kill. 3. Ruttan = the 14 special items retrieved from the Kheer ocean when it was churned jointly by the gods and the demons. Oopaayay = created (by God). Muthiya = churned. Hoar(i) Bhukhlaayay = the demons shouted in anger (that being partners, they needed their share). Aikee Aikee = one by one. Vund Deeya = distributed (by Vishnu in the guise of a beautiful damsel). 4.
NOTE: Hinduism believes in many gods, but not in the God (the Supreme Being). Among all the gods, the most important are Shiva, Vishnu, Brahma, Rama, and Krishna. In this holy Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib downplays the significance of these gods and emphasizes the magnanimity of God (Waheguru) as the only power to be worshiped, for He is omnipotent and omnipresent; there is no other power in the universe that can rival Him. Everybody else is controlled by Him.

MEANING: It is omnipotent Waheguru (and no god), which has created the earth by putting elements like water, air, and fire (energy) together. The ten-headed Raavan got his heads cut because of his ignorance (foolishness). Nobody (god Rama) can be considered great simply because he killed him (Raavan) 1. What praise of Yours can be sung (nobody can praise You enough) for Your splendid qualities, oh Waheguru! If someone meditates on You, he will find that You are fully present everywhere. Pause.

It is Waheguru that creates all living beings and controls their lives. Krishna cannot be considered great like Waheguru simply because he overpowered the huge serpent, Kaali. You are uniformly present everywhere (without any gaps); so, whose husband could You be considered in particular, and which particular living being could be considered Your wife? (You are the Husband of everybody), oh Waheguru. 2.

Brahma, who is believed to be the creator of all life and who was born out of the lotus flower growing out of the navel of Vishnu, set out to find the limits of the world. He wandered in darkness for many centuries, but could not find the limits of the universe created by Waheguru. This is how great Waheguru is!! So, how can we call Brahma, the creator of the universe, and Krishna, God, simply for killing his maternal uncle, Kuns? 3.

It is believed that the gods and demons jointly churned the Kheer Ocean and retrieved 14 invaluable items, known as Rattans. At the time of the distribution of the Rattans, the demons began to shout in anger, asking for their fair share. It is further believed that Vishnu transformed himself into a beautiful damsel (called his Mohini incarnation) and distributed the Rattans one by one. It is noteworthy that the Rattans were retrieved jointly by the gods and the demons, but not created by them. They had been created and placed in the Ocean by Waheguru (if the story is true). So, how can Vishnu be equated with Waheguru simply because he distributed them? Waheguru is present, hidden in all His Creation, and looks after it. Even though He is not visible, He cannot stay hidden, and is visible from His nature and His amazing feats, oh Nanak. 4. 7.

Shabad(i) anahud(i) so Shuhou raata, Nanak(u) kuhaiy vichaara. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Kerm Kertoot(i) = noble deeds. Bayle = vine. Bisthaari = spread. Roop Raykh = visible features. Anaahud(u) = the uniform Divine music that the yogis believe to hear during meditation. Shabad (u) = music. Nirunjun(i) = Waheguru (which is above the effects of Maya). 1. Vukhiyaan = explanation. Amrit(u) = Waheguru's immortalizing Naam. Pause. Must = lost in self. Phaahay = the chains (of attachment). Bheetur(i) = inside. Laahay = (perceived) benefits. 2. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Bhuvun = universe.

Raaraiy = the first letter, “r” of the word “roop”. Niraalum = completely detached. Chhaaya = effects of Maya. 3. Beena = lute (a musical instrument played by the yogis). Shabad(u) = music. Roop Apaara = unlimited beauty. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Raata = imbued. 4.

MEANING: If someone makes a connection with Waheguru to gain knowledge about Him, and explains it to others, he drinks the immortalizing Amrit of Waheguru’s Naam. Pause. By singing Waheguru’s praise, a devotee acquires noble qualities which grow like a vine which bears the fruit of Waheguru’s Naam. Waheguru generates the fountain of His Naam (full of His praise) in the heart of the devotee, due to which the devotee feels as if a uniform Divine music is playing in his mind, which has no features (cannot be explained). 1. Those who taste Waheguru’s Naam-Amrit become intoxicated, and all their shackles of Maya get broken. Waheguru’s Light enlightens their mind, as a result of which they forget (give up) all the false (short-lived) benefits (attractions) of Maya. 2. Such devotees see Your Light in everybody, and they realize that Maya, which is enchanting the whole world, is created by You (is Your slave), oh Waheguru. But You are above the effects of Maya, and are watching the world fully detached from it. However, You, still cast Your kind sight on Your devotees even when they are leading their life under the effects of Maya.

The yogis play the lute as a form of worship to Waheguru, which is of unlimited beauty. But the real yogi is the devotee who plays the music of praise of Waheguru while fully absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Sir(i) Bhaar = burben on the head (mind). Baad(i) = worthless. 1. Tuou = then. Kayhi = what kind of. Pervaah = care about. Junum(i) = in life; after taking birth. Leeji = worth having. Leejaiy = get it. Pause.

Mutagul = elephant. Mutta = intoxicated. Khuto Khuta = faulty; harmful; sinful. Kiya Mooh(u) Laiy = with what face? Saakhi = witness. 2.

Ruttan = decorated (with noble qualities). Puriyaan Pervaar = the family of the sub-raags. Amrit(u) = Waheguru’s Eternal Naam. Saar = supreme. Dhun(u) Maal(u) = wealth. Boojhaiy = understands; internalizes. 4.

MEANING: My only quality is to talk about my selfishness, and I am simply carrying the burden of my selfish talk on my mind. The only useful and worthy talk is about the Creator, Waheguru. All the enjoyments of eating, drinking, and fun are useless if one does not remember Waheguru in his heart. 1. If a man earns the worthy product (Waheguru's Naam) in this life after taking birth, he has no worries left and does not care about anything else. Pause. Man's own wisdom (thinking) is like that of an intoxicated elephant (which is full of ego and lust). Under such conditions, whatever the man talks about is sinful. With what face can he pray to God when his ritualistic deeds of goodness, and his sins, are witnesses for him? 2. A person's personality (character) depends upon the way You mould him; there is nobody else who can do anything like this, oh Lord. One acquires the same wisdom that You give him. You run the affairs of the world as You wish. 3.

If one sings songs of Your praise using a variety of lyrics, it is approved by Waheguru as long as each lyric is about His praise; the supreme Amrit of His Naam is generated thereby. If someone comes to this realization, then the Naam-Amrit of Waheguru is the true wealth for the devotee, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Anund Bhuyya = felt blissful. 1. Kaamni = women (my spiritual friends). Bibayk Beechaar = the knowledge-generating thoughts. Jugjeevun = the life-giving (Waheguru). Bhutaar(u) = husband. Pause. Guru dwaaray = at the door (by the grace) of the Guru. Shuhou = husband (Waheguru). Tihou Loak = the three-layered universe. Shabad(u) = in the form of His laws. Ruviya = is present. Aap(u) Guyya = got rid of selfishness. 2.
Suvaaray = makes successful. Hoarun(i) = others. Sat = service to others. Suntoakh = contentment. Duyya = compassion. Dherm = morality. 3.
Bhunut(i) = says. Pir(u) = husband; master. Sohaagun(i) = gets His love. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru has been very kind to me and has appeared in my heart. My mind is blissful to see this amazing feat that Waheguru has performed by coming to marry me (unite my soul with His). My spiritual friends initiated my marriage with Waheguru as the Husband. 1. Sing the songs of Knowledge-generating thoughts because the source of life of the whole world, Waheguru, has appeared in my heart as my husband, oh my holy friends. Pause. Only then did I realize that my Guru had been instrumental in my union with Waheguru when He appeared in my heart. When I got rid of my selfishness, my mind was convinced that Waheguru is present in all three worlds – the earth, the worlds above and below the earth – in the form of His Shabad (Laws, Huqam). 2.

Waheguru Himself makes His task (of uniting His devotee with Him) successful, and nobody else is capable of doing this. Some rare individual realizes in the shelter of the Guru, that union with Waheguru happens due to the noble qualities of service to humanity, contentment, compassion, and high morality in the devotee. 3. Even though Waheguru is the husband (Master) of all human beings, only that individual is lucky to get His Love, on whom He casts His kind sight, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Sumsur(i) = equal; same. Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Soobhaayay = with love and respect. Doormut(i) = ignoble thinking. Gut(u) = leaves; vanishes. Keerut(u) = Waheguru's praise. Tthaayay = (in) place (heart). Sach = Waheguru. Paurri = the ladder (to reach Waheguru). 1. Chooray = cut (the desires) into pieces. Khut Dershun = the six Hindu Shastras. Jaan(u) = knowledgeable. Joat(i) = Waheguru's Light. Pause. Adhik = much. Tiyaas = thirst (for desires). Bhaykh = religious garb (just for show off). Bikhiya = attractions of Maya; vices. Purhuraiy = is pushed away; leaves. Hiraiy = is stolen; lost. Doobidha = indecisiveness of mind. Nisturaiy = salvaged. 2. Sift Slaahun = praise of God. Anund = blissfulness. Sukha Saiyn = friend and relative. Bukhshind(u) = forgiving. Peh(i) = on; for. 3.
Vikaar = lust; vices. Dayh = body. Bhaykh = different faiths. Vern = the four major castes. Khayh = dust; worthless. Usthir(u) = permanent. Rujaayay = Huqam. 4.
MEANING: When one attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya with his love for Waheguru, his house (family life) becomes (is felt like) a forest (away from family) because he stays fully detached from Maya (he does not need to leave home). His ignoble thoughts leave his mind, and they are replaced by Waheguru's praise. By serving the Guru, his mind stays in its place (quits thinking about Maya), and Waheguru's eternal Naam is on his tongue all the time because he realizes that the Naam is the ladder to reach Waheguru, which resides above the effects of Maya. 1. Waheguru's Naam is the knowledge of the six Hindu Shastras for Him, and by crushing his worldly desires, he finds Waheguru's Light everywhere. Pause. The more religious symbols one wears (to show off), the more the thirst for desires arises in him, whereby he suffers from the discomforts of lust, and the comforts run away from his body (and mind). Lust and rage steal his internal (spiritual) wealth. But he can be salvaged by Waheguru's Naam, provided he overcomes his indecisiveness of mind (his internal struggle between Maya and Naam). 2. Waheguru's praise leads one to the spiritual state above the effects of Maya, and produces bliss in his mind. His love for Him makes Waheguru his friend and a close relative. Waheguru forgives all the misdeeds of His devotees, and they offer their body, mind, and life to Waheguru. 3.

Lies and vices (immoral deeds) cause great pain in the body (and mind), and religious symbols, and one's high caste are like dust (spiritually worthless), and cannot save him from Waheguru's punishment. All those who have been created by Waheguru come and go (are here on the earth for a short period of time); only Waheguru's Naam and His Huqam (Will) are eternal, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Choogeh(i) = pick. Oojul Huns = swans; pure-minded Gur Sikhs. Kulaa = all powers. Jugdeeshaiy = of Waheguru. Unsh = part. 1. Oopjaiy = comes into being. Binsaiy = vanishes. Bin(u) = without. Pause. Mookto = free from the bonds of Maya. Raatou = imbued Rung(i) = in love. Ruvaantou = recites (Naam). Raajun = the King (Waheguru). Raaj(i) = in worship. Bigsaantou = blooming. Boodut = drowning. Paahun = stone; stone-hearted. 3.
Tirbhuvun = three-layered universe. Joat(i) = Waheguru's Light. Jaaniya = recognized; got connected. Oolt Bhuyee = reverse thinking (from Maya to Waheguru). Aaniya = brought. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Liv = devotion. 4.

MEANING: Just like a lotus flower thrives in a pool of water, the Gur Sikhs feel blissful in the shelter of the Guru, which is the only pool of Naam-Amrit, and they spread the fragrance of Naam Amrit. The swan-like Gur Sikhs pick up the pearls of noble qualities from the Guru-Pool, and become a part of the all-powerful (omnipotent) Waheguru (merge into Him). 1.

Just like a lotus flower cannot survive (it dies) outside of water, A Gur Sikh cannot survive spiritually without taking shelter of the Guru (which is the pool of Naam-Amrit); and experiences death like every visible thing that comes into being. Pause.
Some rare individuals understand the effects of the deceitful Maya, which are described in detail by the Vedas. Such Gur Sikhs' thoughts remain concentrated on the Guru's Shabad, and they attain the highest spiritual level by serving the Guru. 2. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam with love and devotion are imbued with His love, get freedom from the bonds of Maya, and their hearts bloom as they stay connected with the King of kings (Waheguru). You ferry even the drowning stone-hearted people across the sea of Maya (salvage them) by casting Your kind sight, oh Waheguru. 3.
By reversing the thinking of the mind from Maya towards Waheguru, the devotee is able to recognize Waheguru's Light in the whole universe, and makes his heart a dwelling for Him. I would love to drop on the feet of those devotees (seek their advice) who worship Waheguru with full devotion day and night, oh Nanak. 4. 12.

Hujoor(i) = omnipresent; close by. Haajur(u) = with full focus and devotion. Saach(u) = have full faith. Koorr(u) = Maya-related; egoistic behaviour. Kehn(i) Kuthun(i) = describe. Vaara = turn; end. Soojh Boojh = understanding. Triput(i) = satisfaction; contentment. 2.

MEANING: Too much cunningness (argumentation) results in the filth of the ego and other vices in one's mind. Such filth can be washed away by Waheguru's Naam when one focuses his attention on it with Guru's grace. With Satguru's eternal advice, one's ego-filled argumentation also goes away. 1. Waheguru is omnipresent, and knows all about the comforts and the troubles of all of us. So, one should pray only to Him with full faith and full concentration. Pause. An individual who deals only in perishables and is conceited of his abilities in argumentation keeps taking birth and dying. By simply displaying his false knowledge about Waheguru, he cannot find His limits, and no spiritual understanding can be seen in such individuals. One does not attain any contentment (mental peace) without Waheguru's Naam. 2. All those who come to this world get trapped in ills of various kinds, including ego and selfishness, and also suffer from troubles caused by Maya. Only those avoid such illnesses who are protected by Waheguru. They taste the sweetness of Waheguru's Amrit-Naam buy serving Satguru (acting on His advice). 3. They recite Waheguru's Amrit-Naam in the shelter of Satguru, taste its sweetness, and control their doddering mind. With Satguru's eternal Shabad, they break all the bonds of Maya, overcome their selfishness, and attain the highest spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.13.

Pudaaruth(u) = (invaluable) item. Naunidh(i) = the nine believed treasures. Pause. Kerm Dherm = accepted religious rituals. Bulihaaray = offer life. Raatay = imbued. Pervaan(u) = approved (by Waheguru). Perm Nidhaan(u) = supreme treasure (Waheguru's Naam). 2. Vur(u) = husband. Dhun = worthy of respect; highly fortunate. Naari = woman (human being). Siyoun = with. Put(i) = honour. Sunjum(u) = efforts to control senses. Sat = true. Bhaaou = love (for Waheguru). Poochh = inquiry; checking. Dooja Maytay = get rid of Maya. 4.
MEANING: Kindly give me the gift of Waheguru's Naam, which makes one immortal by connecting him with Waheguru, oh merciful Satguru. Whoever is embraced by Waheguru (gets connected with Him) becomes immortal as he merges with Him. Such a devotee has Waheguru's Naam at heart all the time, never gets disconnected with Him, and always enjoys His company (union with Him). 1. I have realized the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Guru, and feel blissful as if I have acquired all the nine mythical treasures of the world. Kindly keep me in Your shelter at all times, oh Waheguru. Pause.
I will gladly offer my life to the devotee for whom Waheguru's Naam is everything (all the comforts and honour), and which also subsumes all the religious rituals. Those devotees are approved in Waheguru's Court who are imbued in His Naam, and one acquires the supreme treasure of Waheguru's Naam in their company. 2.

Those human brides are highly fortunate who are able to acquire Waheguru as their husband (get connected with Him). Imbued in His Naam, they always ponder on Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's praise). Not only do they find salvation for themselves, but they also do the same for all their associates. 3. Waheguru's Naam with love and devotion is the caste, the dignity, and all the religious rituals for me (they have no significance for me). When Waheguru is kind to a devotee, His Naam terminates his love for Maya, and nobody asks him any questions in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.14.

Word Meaning: Ikk(i) = many; countless. Aaveh(i) = come; are born. Jaaveh(i) Aayee = go and come back; take rebirths. Smaayee = stay absorbed (in Waheguru). Dhern(i) = earth. Guggun = sky. Tthaur = shelter; peace. Kerm-heen = unlucky. 1.
Gut(i) = higher spiritual state. Mit(i) = measurement (self-evaluation). Bikh(i) = poison. Vut = like. Ut(i) = extremely. Bhuoujul = the world sea. Pause.
Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Payl(i) = push around. Nirmul = pure; detached from Maya. Umbh = Jul = water. Niraaray = completely unaffected. 2. Deesay = visible. Braham = Waheguru. Luhiyaiy = acquire. Akuth(u) = indescribable. Kuthoun = say; recite (Naam).

MEANING: Countless people are born, and countless die and are reborn in the world. But many remain absorbed in Waheguru's Naam and are beyond birth and death (they become part of Waheguru, and their birth-death-birth cycle ends). Some unlucky people do not keep Waheguru in mind and do not find peace on earth or in the sky (anywhere). 1.
This world is like a sea (of worldly attractions) that is poisonous to spirituality and almost impossible to swim across with one's own efforts. It can be swum across only with the Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise. One can analyze oneself and acquire a high spiritual state only with the kindness of the Perfect Guru. Pause. The fear of death cannot push aside the devotees who are connected to Waheguru by His benevolence. Just like the lotus flower, which stays unaffected at the surface of water, such dear devotees of Waheguru stay pure (above the effects of Maya). 2. Whom can we consider good or bad (nobody can be called bad or good because they are guided or misguided by Waheguru)? Only a supreme devotee realizes and "sees" Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. I recite the Naam of the indescribable Waheguru with the advice of the Guru, and can swim across the world sea in His shelter. 3. Hindu religious texts, such as the Shastras, Vedas, and the Smritis, discuss many different ways to worship the deities, but the Sikhs follow only the Guru's advice. For him, Waheguru's Naam at heart is like taking a dip in the 68 holy places. With Waheguru's Naam at heart, which has been written in his fate right from his birth, he is always clean (pure) (without taking any dip at holy places), oh Nanak. 4.15.

Bundhun = bonds (of Maya). Bherm(u) = misgivings. Laykhay Paayee = gets credit. 2. Sookh-Saagur = ocean (source) of comforts (Waheguru). Oordhaaray = enshrine in heart. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of His worship; God. Jugjeevun(u) = soul of the world (God). Daata = Provider (God). 3. Joojh(i) = fight without fear of death. Munsa = wishes. Smaayay = get absorbed. Sehj Bhaayay = with love but without any special effort. Liv = meditation. 4.
MEANING: I like to bow down to touch the feet of my Satguru, with whose grace I have realized Waheguru in my heart. This fact (the role of the Guru) came to light when Waheguru appeared in my heart after I pondered on the Guru's Shabad. 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam, which salvages you, oh my friends. You realize the jewel-like, invaluable Waheguru in your mind with the grace of the Guru, whereby your darkness of ignorance disappears, and your mind is enlightened. Pause.
One cannot break the bonds of Maya by reciting Waheguru's Naam only as a ritual (without real love for Him) because one's misgivings are not cleared as long as one suffers from haumein. One gets spiritual credit only after one gets rid of one's haumein in the shelter of the Guru. 2. The source of all comforts, Waheguru, can be worshipped only by reciting His Naam with love and reverence, and by enshrining the Naam in the heart. Waheguru, which is the soul of the whole world, and which loves His worship, salvages you when you follow the Guru's advice. 3. One realizes Waheguru when he fights (struggles) with his mind and kills his sensual desires, and when his wishes stay absorbed in the mind (they die down as well). When Waheguru becomes kind to a devotee, he focuses his mind on Waheguru, and attains the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 4.16.

Maya Chhaaya = under the shade of (influenced by) Maya. 4.
MEANING: With the advice of the Guru, recite the Naam of the unfathomable, and the never-changing Waheguru, which is present in all bodies, oh my mind. Pause. (Unlike the pundits, who take part in spiritually worthless discussions to flaunt their knowledge) a devotee who realizes Waheguru becomes deep (calm) like Waheguru and does not show off his Divine Knowledge to anyone by sharing it or advising them so that they understand. He is content with Guru's Shabad and does not preach to others (force them to listen to him) to help them understand the noble qualities. 1. Such a devotee remains imbued with the love of Waheguru, with countless waves of love for Waheguru arising in his mind. With Waheguru-like noble qualities in him, he is pure at heart all the time. The birth of the Maya-loving people is (spiritually) wasteful in the world, whereas the Waheguru-loving devotees stay fully detached from worldly attractions (and acquire a high spiritual state. 2. One's body (and mind) is purified by singing Waheguru's praise (His Naam); his mind stays focused on Waheguru when he analyzes himself. The diamond-like, invaluable Waheguru is the root of the whole universe and is limitless. My mind has quit wandering (has become stable) ever since it got imbued in the love of the dear Waheguru. 3.
Those who recite Waheguru's Naam just as a ritual (for show off only) experience spiritual death because He is so close to us and knows everything about us. I have seen the whole world to be under the control of Maya (engrossed in it), but I recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's advice, oh Nanak. 4.17.

MEANING: It is with Waheguru's Will that there are some people who are beggars, and live on begging all their life; while there are some others who rule some states, and (ignoring Waheguru), stay absorbed in their reign. So, some people enjoy respect in society, while some others receive disrespect. Waheguru demolishes and creates as He pleases, and keeps everybody in mind. There is none higher than You, whom I can show to be better than You, oh Waheguru. 1. You are the Provider and the Creator, and my support, oh Waheguru. Pause. I follow the wrong path and will not reach my destination; as a result, I will have no room in Waheguru's Court (will not be approved for union with Him). I am blinded by the attractions of Maya, which serve as an obstacle (for my union with Waheguru), and as a result, my body (mind) is losing its strength and is being ruined (spiritually). My mind has a strong wish to eat good food and live long. But Waheguru has the account of my every breath and my every bite. 2. However, Waheguru also worries about the spiritually blind who are drowning in the sea of Maya, and enlightens them (shows them the path of righteousness) day and night. I am a sacrifice for all those who recite, listen to, and obey Waheguru's Naam. I want to pray before Waheguru, who has control over our souls and bodies (that I always remember Him). 3.

So as to get a room in His Court, I can recite Waheguru's Naam only if He grants me that (motivates me to do so). I can get rid of my evil thinking only if You like it, oh Waheguru, so that Your jewel-like Naam can take root in my mind. I pray to Waheguru to be kind to me, and connect me with the Guru so that I may swim across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 4.18.

Word Meaning: Punchpuday = Shabads with five verses. Dhayn = cow. Punkh = wings. Punkhi = bird. Ootbhooj = vegetation; crops. Kaam(i) Naahi = of no use. Kiyya = of what kind. Sultan = a Muslim king. Slaam Vihoona = without any salutati.on (respect). Kotthi = a small room; heart. 1. Kee = why? Pause. Jeebh = tongue. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Puvun = air; sound. Pujoota Aagaiy = held (supported) at the front. Ful = result; reward. 2. Ukkhur = words of praise for Waheguru. Birkh = tree. Baag = orchard. Bhooyayn = ground (human heart). Chokhi = much (suitable; purified). Sinchit = irrigate. Bhaaou = love. Kerma = fortune. Layhi = acquire. 3. Jaytay = all those. Taytay = the same. Bhaana = Will. 4. Mern(u) = death (of selfishness and ego). Joogut(i) = technique; style. Jeevaalay = give (new) life. 5.

MEANING: A cow is of no use if it does not produce milk; a bird is incomplete (incapacitated) without its wings; crops are worthless if they dry out without water; and a sultan is irrelevant if he does not command any respect; similarly, a heart is completely dark if it does not have Waheguru's Naam in it. 1. Why should I forget You when I suffer a lot without Your Naam, oh Waheguru? Please, do not be forgotten from my heart as I suffer deeply without You. Pause. When the man gets old, he becomes almost blind; his tongue becomes incapable of enjoying tastes; he cannot hear any sound; and he needs support at the front to walk. He suffers from such physical incapabilities because, forgetting Waheguru, he indulged in the enjoyment of sensual pleasures all his life, which robbed him of his mental (and physical) capabilities. Such is the result of not serving Waheguru (and enjoying sensual pleasures). 2. If a man plants an orchard of trees of words of praise for Waheguru in the field of his heart, which is well prepared with noble qualities, and irrigates this orchard with love for Waheguru, then each tree bears the same fruit - Waheguru's Naam. However, one cannot grow such an orchard without good fortune. 3.

Even though all the living beings are Yours, nobody can reap a reward without their good fortune (based on their previous deeds and predetermined by Waheguru). One gets comforts and discomforts as per the Will of Waheguru, and one does not enjoy peace without Waheguru's Naam. 4. One should have the wisdom to kill his worldly desires; his spiritual life becomes meaningless as he does not follow the real lifestyle leading to a high spiritual state. I make only one request to Waheguru: that He grant the people the ability to obey His Will, and that they be happy in whatever situation He keeps them, oh Nanak. 5.19.

Word Meaning: Kaaya = body. Brahma = Supreme Being. Dhoti = a saree-like cloth worn by Brahmans while worshipping their idols. Giyan(u) = (acquiring) Divine Knowledge. Junayoo = the sacred thread that the Brahmans wear as a sign of purity. Dhiyaan(u) = focus of mind. Koospaati = ring of long grass that the Brahmans wear during worship. Jus(u) = praise. Jaachoun = wish for. 1. Paanday = oh, Brahman. Sooch(i) = purity. Chujj(u) Achaar(u) = performance of rituals. Pause. Jichur = as long as. Jot(i) = soul. Naal(i) = with. Tikka = anointment. Aiythaiy Oathaiy = here and there (in this world, and the next). Nibhee = supports you. Kerm = rituals. Bhaal(i) look for. 2. Pooja = worship. Purjaal(i) = destroy completely. Aiko = Only the "one" (Waheguru). Cheenaiy = recognizes (makes a connection with). Tutt(u) = the root (Waheguru). Guggun Dus-Doaar = the tenth door (through which one connects with God). Paatth Purrhaiy = reads the teachings (of Vedas). 3. Bhojun(u) = food (for the idol). Paahrooura = guard. Chhub(i) = majestic image. Lilaat(u) = on the forehead. Bibayk(i) = the wisdom (ability) to distinguish between good and bad. 4. Achaareen = rituals. Jeetiya = conquer; win favour of. Keemut(i) = worth. Asht-Duseen = the 18 (Puranas). Chuhoun = the four (Vedas). 5.

MEANING: You wrap yourself in a dhoti, put a thread which you believe to be sacred around your neck, anoint your forehead, observe cleanliness, and perform many rituals when you worship your idol, oh Brahman. But I worship my Waheguru with the firm belief that He is present in my body, and the purification of my mind serves as the dhoti (which you use as a sign of purity). Acquiring Divine Knowledge is my junayoo, and the focus of my mind is the ring of long grass that you wear. I beg for Waheguru's Naam, which is singing His praise. With Guru's grace, I get absorbed in the Supreme Being. 1. You should rather ponder on Waheguru in such a way that His Naam becomes cleanliness for you, and recite it so that it serves as all your rituals, oh Brahman. Pause. Your junayoo is good (if it is) for only as long as you live. Make Waheguru's Naam your dhoti and anointment, which will stay with you in this world as well as in the next. Do not look for any other ritual. 2. Burn the attractions of Maya completely with the worship of Waheguru with love, and do not look for any other deity. By recognizing the root of the universe (Waheguru) in your mind with His Naam on your tongue, and by pondering on the Naam, you will feel as if you are meditating in the tenth door (connected with God) all the time. 3. Rather than offering food to the idol, if the Brahman fosters love for Waheguru in his mind, all his misgivings and worldly fears will be dispelled. And with the majestic image of Waheguru as his guard, no thief (worldly attraction) can rob him of his noble qualities. Rather than anointing his forehead, if the Brahman recognizes the "One" Supreme Being (makes a connection with Waheguru), he will acquire the knowledge to distinguish between the poisonous effects of Maya and the Amrit-Naam of Waheguru. 4. One cannot win the favour of Waheguru (please Him) with the customary rituals. He may read the holy books like the Vedas, but the Brahman will never know the worth of Waheguru. The eighteen Puranas and the four Vedas have not found out the secrets of Waheguru, but my Satguru has shown me the omnipresent Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.20.

Toon Aapay jaaneh(i), serb vidaani. Nanak, Aiko Dur(u) Deebaan(u). Gurmukh(i) Saach(u), tuhaan goodraan(u). 5.21.

Word Meaning: Sayvuk(u) = servant. Daas(u) = slave. Tthaakur = Lord. Gurmukh(i) = obedient of the Guru. Sir(i) = Saaji = created. Phoon(i) = too. Goyee = destroyed. Uver(u) = other. 1. Sachay = pure with high morality. Saachaiy Durbaar(i) = in the Court of the eternal Waheguru. Pause. Urj(u) = request. Ardaas(i) = prayer. Mehleen = in His Palace. Khusm(u) = Lord. Vudiyaayi = honour. 2. Taan(u) = power. Deebaan(u) = support. Neehaan(u) = identification. Pergut = is honoured. Tthaak = obstruction. 3. Vukhaaneh(i) = explains. Vust(u) = (the real) thing (Waheguru). Sojhi = awareness. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. 4. Serb Vidaani = the performer of all amazing feats. Deebaan(u) = shelter. Goodraan(u) = support of life. 5.

MEANING: Only that individual is the true servant, slave, or devotee of Waheguru, who obeys the teachings of the Guru. Such a devotee believes that Waheguru, which has created the world, destroys it too, and there is no one else like Him. 1.

The Sikh of the Guru ponders on His Shabad, and recites Waheguru's Naam. With noble qualities, like purity of heart and high morality, he is approved in Waheguru's Court and stays absorbed in Him. Pause. Guru's Sikh prays to Waheguru with pure mind (with no expectation), and with love for Him, because of which Waheguru invites him to His Palace (connects the Sikh with Him), and acclaims him. Waheguru invites him to His throne and honours him. Whatever Waheguru wishes, takes place. 2. Waheguru is the power, and the support for Guru's Sikh, and Guru's Shabad is his identification to connect with Waheguru. The Sikh obeys the Guru's Huqam, and, with the Guru's Shabad as his identification, he experiences no hindrance on his path to union with Waheguru, where he is honoured. 3. The pundit reads the Vedas and explains to the masses, but does not know the secret that Waheguru resides hidden in his own heart (mind). He cannot gain understanding and the required knowledge without the Guru who teaches that the eternal Waheguru is present everywhere. 4. What can I say about Your magnanimity, and explain it to others (I am unable to do so), oh Waheguru. Only you know your magnanimity, oh, the performer of the amazing feats! For the Sikh, Waheguru is his shelter and his support, where he can recite His Naam in the peaceful state of mind, oh Nanak. 5.21.

Nanak, Ram Naam(i) mun(u) raata, Gurmut(i) paayay sehj sayva. 5.22.

Word Meaning: Kaachi Gaagur(i) = breakable earthen vessel. Dayh = body. Doohayli = source of discomfort. Dootur(u) = very tough to swim across. 1. Huray = oh, Waheguru. Rungeen = in different colours. Roopeen = in different forms. Bukhshay = grants; forgives.

Nudr(i) = kind sight. Pause. Saas(u) = mother-in-law, a metaphor for Maya. Vaas(u) = living. Boori = bad. Sukhi Saajni = friends in a holy gathering. 2. Maar(i) Mun(u) = by controlling mind against worldly attractions. Sa = like. Meet = friend. 3. Munsa = desires. Binaasut = eradicated. Trihou Goon = the three effects of Maya. Niraas = turned off; feel detached. Toori Aavustha = spiritual state above Maya. Oat = shelter. Luhhi = acquired. 4. Dhiyan = focus of the mind. Jup = recitation of mantras. Tup = enduring hardships (to please the deities). Alukh = incomprehensible (God). Abhayva = whose secrets cannot be known. Raata = imbued. Sehj = high spiritual state. 5.

MEANING: The human body is perishable like an earthen vessel, and becomes a source of suffering for the man because it keeps being created and destroyed (man keeps being born, and dying). The world is like an ocean (of Maya), which is extremely difficult to swim across without the shelter of the Guru. 1. There is none other than You (the Lord of the universe), oh my dear Waheguru. You appear in many colours and forms. You give (Your Naam) only to those whom You are kind to. Pause. Like a bad mother-in-law who does not allow her daughter-in-law to get together with her husband, Maya is also very bad because she does not allow the human bride (soul) to get connected with Waheguru (by keeping him trapped in her mind-captivating attractions). But I serve the feet of my friends in the holy gathering of the Guru (show tremendous respect for them), who connected me with the Guru, by whose grace, Waheguru has cast a kind sight on me. 2.

By analyzing myself and by killing my desires, I realized that there is no other friend like You, oh Waheguru. So, I will lead my life in whatever way You guide me, and will be happy whether You keep me in comfort or in discomfort. 3. One attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya only in the shelter of the Guru, where his hopes and wishes both get eradicated. So, I have taken shelter in the gathering of the holy men. 4.

When a devotee acquires the Naam of the incomprehensible Waheguru whose secrets cannot be known in his heart, he feels that he has acquired the Divine Knowledge with the focus of his mind, and does not need recitation of any mantra or any hardship to punish himself. One attains the high spiritual state by serving the Guru and following His advice. My mind is now imbued in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 5.22.

Word Meaning: Punchpuday = Shabad with five verses. Moh(u) = attachment; strong bond with. Kootumb = family. Kaar = dealings. Tujhou = give up; abandon. Vaykaar = immoral acts; vices. 1. Bherm(u) = illusions. Ruvvaiy = is recited. Sreer = body; man. Pause. Nuvnidh(i) = the nine treasures. Poot(u) = mind. Kulpaiy = suffer in struggle. Maayee = (for the sake of) Maya. 2. Ait = this. Ootraiy Paar(i) = gets across. Jumpur(i)

= in the city (court) of the Angel of death. 4. Deekhiya = advice. Kmaah(i) = earns. Thaayayn Paayay = gets credit. 5.

MEANING: All man's dealings are rooted in the attachments with his family and the worldly attractions. One must overcome their strong bonds to worldly attractions, as they lead to vices and immoral activities. 1. Get rid of your illusions about Maya and its attractions by reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh my brothers. Pause. When one acquires Waheguru's Naam, which is the source of all the nine treasures of the world, his mind, which is the son of Maya (loves it like its mother), will not cry for its mother, Maya, which will not cause any suffering for it. 2. The world drowns in the sea of Maya because of its strong attraction for it, while some rare individual, who takes the Guru's shelter, swims across it. 3. One is caught in the cycle of rebirths because of his bonds of affection for the family, and for the attractions of Maya, and is taken to the court of the Angel of death (for further punishment). 4. Those who keep reciting mantras and endure hardships with the advice of their (Maya- engrossed) guru cannot break the bonds of worldly attractions and get no spiritual credit. 5. One is able to break the bonds of worldly attractions with the kind sight of Waheguru, when he stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 6.23.

MEANING: I am a sinner, and You are the forgiver, oh Waheguru. Everything is done by You (happens by Your Will), oh the incomprehensible and limitless Waheguru. 1.
(No matter what the man does), Everything happens by Your Will. The man, who follows the obstinacy of his mind, suffers humiliation at the end. Pause. The thinking of the man who follows his mind is guided by the perishable attractions of Maya, and without the recitation of Waheguru's Naam, the sinner suffers badly. 2. One should earn some spiritual benefit (wealth) by getting rid of his evil thinking; and whatever happens after that (high spiritual state) is due to the benevolence of the incomprehensible Waheguru, whose secrets cannot be known. 3. Waheguru is such a good friend and supporter of the man that He connects the devotee with the Guru who reinforces (implants) Waheguru's worship in the devotee's mind. All other businesses in the world result in some loss (in terms of wealth and spirituality), but there is never a loss when one recites Waheguru's Naam; that is why I like it very much, oh Nanak. 5.24.

Word Meaning: Vidiya = education. Taan = only if. Per-oopkaari = philanthropist; humanitarian. 1. Ja = if. Punch Raasi = has control on the five demons. Ghooghroo Vaajaiy = dancing with belled-anklets is acceptable. Aagaiy = in the next world. Pause. Aas Niraasi = disappointed with; detached (free of all hopes and wishes). Sanyasi = who has renounced the world. 2. Jut(u) Yogi = has the celibacy; controlled lust; high morality. Kaaya Bhogi = family man (some yogis have families). 3. Digumbur(u) = naked sadhu (Jain). Muraiy = kills desires. Uvraan Neh Maari = does not kill others; is non-violent. Vays = different forms. Choaj = amazing feats. 4.

MEANING: (People use different approaches to please their deities; for example, some people, especially the Brahmans, take education (acquire knowledge) of the Vedas and other religious books with the belief that such deep knowledge pleases the deities; while some dwell at the holy places, some wear belled anklets and dance; while some others renounce the world to become sanyasis. Still, some others become yogis, or embrace Jainism and live naked. Guru Sahib professes that such approaches are meaningful only, and only, if the followers meet the following conditions:

A man is considered educated only if he has become a philanthropist to help others; and a person's dwelling at the holy places is worthy only if he has control over his five senses. 1. A man's dancing with belled anklets is useful only if his mind is focused on Waheguru (and is free of all selfishness). Such a devotee cannot be questioned by the Angel of death. Pause. A person is truly a sanyasi only if he has cleared his mind of all his hopes and wishes, and a yogi is a successful family man only if he still maintains the high morals of yogism. 2. A naked Jain is approved by Waheguru only if he has become thoughtful by body (mind), and kills his desires. Only then is he truly non-violent. 3. There is only You, who controls the whole world; all others are Your different forms, oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, do not understand Your amazing feats, oh Lord. 4.25.

Kuntaiy = of the husband. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Vudaayee = ego. Pause.

MEANING: I do not have just one bad quality (rather have many), so that I could wash it away by acquiring noble qualities. For example, I sleep through the whole night (forgetting Waheguru and unaware of Maya's attacks), whereas my Husband (Waheguru) stays awake (watchful) all the time (looking after His creation). 1. How can I be loved by my Waheguru-Husband when I sleep through the whole night (of life) while He is awake all the time? Pause. I go to bed (to connect with Waheguru) with many wishes in mind, but I am not sure whether my Husband will like me. 2.

I do not know what will happen next (whether Waheguru will like me or not), but I cannot live without “seeing” Him, oh my mother. Pause. I have not tasted His love yet, and my thirst for His love is not quenched yet. My youth is over (time is running out to connect with Waheguru), and now I am repenting (that I did not serve Him earlier). 3.

I am alert (to worship Waheguru) now, and am still hopeful to unite with Him; but I am not sure whether He will embrace me, so I am sad and losing hope. Pause.

If the human bride overcomes her ego and selfishness, and adorns (embellishes) her with noble qualities, then the Lord - Husband enjoys union with her. 4.

Gur Persaadi = with Guru's grace. 3. Bhaiy = fear. Bhaav = love. Seegaar = adornment; beautification. Ruvaiy = enjoys. Bhutaar(u) = husband. 4.
MEANING: The human bride is highly ignorant (about Waheguru) while living in this world, and has no idea about the worth of getting connected with Him. 1.
I have only one Husband (Lord), and there is none other. However, I can connect with Him only if He casts a kind sight on me. Pause. But, if the human bride is lucky to get Guru's advice (as to how to have a wonderful life in the next world) she recognizes the eternal Waheguru, and gets connected with her Waheguru-Husband with love and by attaining the blissful spiritual state (above the effects of Maya). 2. But one acquires such wisdom only by Guru's grace, and is liked by the Lord. 3. If the human bride adorns herself with respectful fear for Waheguru and love for Him, she enjoys the love of the Waheguru-Husband on the bed of her heart, oh Nanak. 4.27.

Word Meaning: Jhootthaiy Moh(i) = in short-lived attachments. Bherm(i) = in misgivings; in illusions. Bhoolaayee = misled. 1. Augun = bad qualities; vices. Kookaiy = pray aloud (from the depth of his heart) for help. Tis(u) = that (God). 2. Doormut(i) = ill advice (thinking). Khoyee = lost; got rid of. 3. Sachay = pure-minded. Sach(i) = in the Eternal (Waheguru).
MEANING: There is no son or no mother of anyone (or any other relation) for ever in this world. The world is misled in illusions of false attachments of short-lived relations. 1.
(I have realized this reality) that I have been created by Waheguru (He controls my life completely), and that I can recite His Naam only with His grace. Pause.
If someone has too many bad qualities, but prays to Waheguru from the depth of his heart, he may be forgiven by Him if He likes to do so. 2. When one gets rid of his ill advice (evil thinking) by the grace of the Guru, then he finds Waheguru to be present everywhere. 3. Word Meaning: Doopuday = Shabad with two verses. Server-rraiy = pool; world-sea. Bhuyeelay = has taken place. Nivaasa = dwelling. Paavuk = fire (of desies). Punk = mud. Pug(u) = foot; step. Daykhaan = while watching. Doobiulay = is drowning. 1.
Aik = The One (Waheguru). Chaytus(i) = remembering. Moorr = foolish. Bisrut = forgetting; ignoring. Guliya = rotted; gone bad. Pause. Jutee = celibate (control over lust). Sutee = having high moral character; serving others. Moogdha = foolish. Prunvut(i) = prays humbly. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru has given us life in such a world-sea which He has filled with the fire (of desires) rather than with water. Here, the mud of worldly attachments is so sticky that we cannot pull ourselves out of it. In fact, we see the world drowning in this sea of attachments. 1. (The only way to get out of this mud is to acquire noble qualities by reciting Waheguru's Naam), But the foolish mind does not remember Waheguru, because of which man's noble qualities become rotten (change into vices). Pause.
I have no control over my lust, nor do I have a good moral character to serve others. I have no education either. Because of these bad qualities, my life is like that of a foolish and idiotic person. Word Meaning: Chhay = six. Ghur = Shastras. Gur = gurus; authors. Oopdaysh = teachings; philosophies. Gur(u) Gur(u) = Guru of the gurus (authors). Aiko = Waheguru. Vays = forms. Anayk = countless. 1. Jaiy = (in) which. Ghur = book; house of holy congregation. Kertay = of the Creator (Waheguru). Keerut(i) = praise. Vudaayee = honour; recognition. Pause. Vays = forms. 2.

MEANING: There are six Hindu Shastras (religious books) with six different gurus (authors), and with six different philosophies. But all such gurus have only One Guru (Waheguru), which has countless different forms. 1. So, one should read only that book, or attend only that congregation where Waheguru's praise is sung. That way, he too will be honoured in Waheguru's Court. Pause. We cannot sing complete praise of the Waheguru who has created only one sun and one moon, but many different seasons, different phases of the moon, and subdivisions of time (lengths of days and nights) based on their motion. Khutiyeh(i) = earn. Sunjiyeh(i) = accumulate. Khaajeh(i) = consume. Jea = soul. Kithaiy Paah(i) = where it goes. 2. Shast = Shastras (religious books). Sumjhaavni = teachers; gurus. MEANING: A man may have a large army of soldiers, and there may be countless assistants to give him a guard of honour with countless musical instruments and weapons; and he may be issuing orders to countless people who are ready to serve him with respect; but, if he is not recognized in Waheguru's Court, all that worldly respect is worthless. 1.
Without Waheguru's Naam, the world is all business rooted in Maya, and is caught in its bonds. Even if someone tries to explain the reality, the man blind of wisdom stays blind. Pause. If a man earns millions of rupees and accumulates millions, and eats food worth millions, and millions come and go (earns and loses), but if such worldly respect is not recognized in Waheguru's Court, then (only God knows) what happens to his soul. 2.
There are countless people who explain the teachings of the Shastras, and countless pundits who read the Puranas, but if their achievements are not recognized in Waheguru's Court, then all such efforts are spiritually worthless. 3. One gets real respect only with Waheguru's Naam, and he gets to acquire Naam in his heart only by the grace of Waheguru. NOTE: Like all other occasions, the Hindus follow many rituals even at the death of a relative. They believe that the dead person travels to his ancestors to live with them, and that journey takes a full year. The dead body travels through deep darkness and through wilderness, where he is alone. He needs light, food, and water to survive on the way. So, to meet all his needs, they place an earthen lamp, which requires oil, in the dying person's hand (to provide light during his journey). After the cremation, they make balls of some cereal grains, place them on large tree leaves, and put them close to the cremation site, believing that the cereal balls will serve as food for him on the way. The family Brahmans recite some mantras for his spiritual guidance.

Word Meaning: Deeva = earthen lamp. Oon(i) = that (Naam). Dookh = suffering Oh(u) = that (suffering). Soakhiya = absorbed. Chooka = settled; ended. 1.
Loaka = hey folks. Mut(i) = lest. Phukkurr(i) Paayay = take it as a joke. Murriyaan = pieces of wood. Rutee = a tiny amount; (a small flame). Bhaah(i) = fire. Pause.
Pind(u) = body; cereal balls. Puttal(i) = leaves on which the balls are placed. Kaysou = Waheguru. Kiriya = rites. Aithaiy, Oathaiy = here and there (this world and the next). Aagaiy Pachhaiy = in the future and in the past. Aadhaar(u) = basis; support of life. 2.
Gung = the River Ganga (Hindus consider it very holy). Banaras = A holy city believed to be the city of Shiva. Atum Rao = soul. Theeyay = happens. 3. Loaki = living in the sky (gods). Chhumichhuri = who walk on earth (ancestors). Vutt(i) = by rolling. Bukhsheesh = of kindness. Nikhootus(i) = runs out. 4.

MEANING: I do not need any ritualistic earthen lamp on the palm of my hand; Waheguru's Naam is the lamp for me in which I use (burn) my sufferings as the oil. The Naam provides the light (enlightens my mind), and my troubles are soaked (are burned down). Because of Waheguru's Naam, my account with the Angel of Death has been settled (I will not have to deal with him). 1. Do not take it as a joke, oh folks; just as a small flame of fire can turn millions of pieces of wood into ash, all sins can be destroyed by Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Waheguru's Naam is the serving of cereal balls on the leaves of a tree, and for all the rites for me (all such rites are meaningless for me). Waheguru's Naam is the basis of my life in this world, and in the next, in the past, and in the future. 2.
Hindus consider the River Ganga, and the city of Banaras very holy, but Your praise is the real holy place for me in which my soul takes dips, oh Waheguru. The real bathing takes place when a devotee stays absorbed in Waheguru's love day and night. 3.
The Brahman rolls the cereal balls in the name of gods and the ancestors, and later enjoys rich meals at the house of the family in which the death had taken place. These ritualistic balls never reach their intended destinations (in fact, birds and dogs feast on them); the real ball is the kindness of Waheguru, which never runs out, oh Nanak. 4.32.

Word Meaning: Dershun = holy sight (of Waheguru). Kaiy Taayee = for. Jutee = celibates. Joogut(i) = according to some principles. Bhugvaiyn = orange colour (of the yogis). Bhaykh = garbs. 1. Tuou Kaarun(i) = for Your sake. Rung(i) Rutay = imbued in love. Roop = forms. Anunta = countless. Kaytay = how many. Pause. Hustee = elephants. Vilaayit = foreign countries. Peer = Muslim holy men. Saad = tastes. Sehj = peaceful life. Rus Kus = different tastes. Tujiulay = given up; abandoned. Kaapurr = clothes. Chummurr = animal hides (to cover bodies). Dookhiyay = Derdvund = sufferers. Dervaysh = Beggar at Waheguru's door; devotee. Bhuyyay = became. 3. Khupprri = a wide bowl that the yogis carry to collect dry ration. Lukkri = wooden baton. Sikha = a thin crest of hair. Soot = junayoo (a cotton thread worn around the neck). Dhoti = a long piece of fabric (like a saree) which the Brahmans wear at religious performances. Saangi = puppet. Jaat(i) = caste; social status. 4.

MEANING: You have countless names and countless forms, and all Your noble qualities cannot be described, oh Waheguru. (Because of Your noble qualities) Many devotees are imbued with Your love, oh my Lord. Pause. Even the gods suffered many hardships and hunger, and undertook pilgrimages to have a glimpse of Your holiness. For the same reason, the yogis and the celibates lead their lives according to the strict principles of their faiths, and wear orange garbs. 1. Desirous of Your holy sight, many individuals left the luxuries of their big houses, elephants, and horses, etc.; they left their home country to go to foreign lands (forests, mountains, etc.) with the belief to "see" You. Many Muslim holy men, prophets, saints, and contented mystics also renounced the world to be honoured in Your Court. 2. Many others gave up all the enjoyable tastes of a peaceful life, comforts, and other tastes of the tongue, and, rather than wearing rich clothes, used animal hides to cover their bodies to "see" You, oh Waheguru. Imbued in Your love, many renounce the world, become beggars at Your Door, and pray in such a way as if they were in big suffering. 3. Many carry a small leather bag to store marijuana, or the like, hold a wide bowl to collect dry ration in alms, and a wooden baton as a symbol of their faith, wear a long thin crest of hair, janeyoo, and dhoti with the belief to be able to "see" You. I don't believe in any of these approaches to "see" You. I have no pride in any caste or any faith. I, Nanak, believe that You are my Lord, and I am simply a puppet of Yours (I obey Your Will gladly, oh Waheguru).

Word Meaning: Bheetur(i) = inside. Punch = the five demons. Goopt = hidden. Thir(u) = stable; settle down. Bhuveh(i) = wander. Oodaasay = sad; dissatisfied. 1. Duyaal = kind (Waheguru). Sayti = with; for. Kuptee = deceitful. Paakhundi = sanctimonious; hypocrite. Adhik = much. Laagaiy = affects. Pause. Phool Maala = garland. Haaro = necklace. 2. Punch Sukhee = five demon friends. Bhutaaro = husband; lord (mind). Payd(i) = (in) nourishing the body. Chaalunhaaro = mortal. Roodun(u) = cry. Saahou = lord; mind; soul. Pujoota = held; tied up. Laykha Dayhi = held accountable. 4.

MEANING: The five demons (lust, rage, greed, etc.) reside deeply hidden in my mind; they keep wandering (taking flights) as if they are sad and dissatisfied, and do not settle down. 1. My mind is greedy, deceitful, a sinner, a hypocrite, and is affected deeply by Maya. Because of these ill qualities, it does not stay focused on Waheguru's Naam. Pause.
It consoles itself by saying, "I will adorn myself with good qualities when I meet with my dear Waheguru, and will wear a flower garland around my neck" (will celebrate my union). 2. These five demons are close friends among themselves, and have a common husband (master) – the mind. All are serving to nourish the body and enjoy sensual pleasures. But they do not realize that the soul has to leave the body (and all the enjoyments of the body will come to an end). 3. When the soul leaves the body, the five demons cry (feel sad), but tied up, the soul is held accountable for all the past immoral enjoyments, oh Nanak. 4.1.34.

Word Meaning: Moti = pearl. Gehna = ornament. Paun(u) = air; breaths. Sootdhaari = cotton thread to make a necklace of the pearls. Khima = forgiveness. Seegaar(u) = adornment. Raavaiy = enjoys. Laal = ruby-like Dear (Waheguru). 1. Kaamun(i) = human bride. Mohi = captivated. Uveree = others. Pause. Kuntth(i) = around the neck.

Damodar = Waheguru (a name for Krishna). Dunt(u) = tooth polish. Ker = hands. Kungun = bracelets. In Bidh(i) = this way. Chit(u) Dhurayee = mind stabilizes (becomes strong). 2. Madhsoodun = Waheguru. Moondri = ring. Putt(u) = silk (clothes). Dheeruj = patience. Dhuree = braids. Srirung = Waheguru. Soorma = kohl; mascara. 3. Mundar(i) = in the (mind) temple. Kaaya = body; mind. Sayj = bed. Giyan Rao = The source of Divine Knowledge (Waheguru). Bhog(u) = enjoy. 4.

MEANING: Rather than adorning her body with jewellery, if a human bride cleanses her mind so that it shines like a pearl, and recites Waheguru's Naam with every breath so that it works like the thread to string the pearls (noble qualities), and adorns her body with forgiveness (against aggressions of others) as her ornaments, she becomes dear to Waheguru who enjoys her. 1. The human bride is mesmerized by Your too many noble qualities, oh dear Waheguru. Nobody else has such qualities. Pause.

If a human bride wears the necklace of Waheguru's Naam around her neck (on her tongue), uses His Naam as tooth polish, and wears the bracelets of the Creator's Naam, she gets her mind stabilized (it becomes strong) as a result. 2. Such a bride wears the ring and the silky clothes of Waheguru's Naam, and uses His Naam as mascara to beautify her eyes (to see everyone the same way). 3. If she lights up the temple of her mind with Waheguru's Naam, and makes her body (mind) the bed for Waheguru, the Waheguru-Husband comes to her mind to enjoy her, oh Nanak. 4.1.35.

Word Meaning: Kraaya = made to do. Keetay = which has been created. 1. Bhula = good. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Vudaayee = respect; recognition. Smaavaiy = is absorbed. Pause. Kirt(u) Puyya = deeds previously done. Pervaana = certificate of results. Bahoorr(i) = on (after) that. Purrhiya = acted on. Mayt(i) = erase; obliterate 2. Baazari = an actor; not real. uncivilized. Shutrunj = a game of dice played on a cross-board. Pukkaiy Naahi = cannot be won. Saari = the pawns used in the game. 3. Beena = knowledgeable; wise. Bundi Undar(i) = within limits of principles (dedication). Bunda = slave; devotee. 4.

MEANING: What can we say to Waheguru when everything happens as He wishes, and makes the living beings do whatever He wants? He is doing whatever needs to be done; the humans, who have been created by Him, cannot show any cleverness (have no ability to change whatever He does). 1. Those who obey Waheguru's Command as being good for them get honoured by Him and stay absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. Pause.

Everybody gets a written certificate of results based on their deeds, which cannot be changed by anyone (they have to accept the consequences of their previous performances). Whatever Waheguru has written in their fortune, they have to act accordingly, and nobody can obliterate those writings. 2. If someone complains too much against Waheguru's orders, he is called an actor. Like the game of dice where the pawns have to reach the final destination to win, the humans have to attain the spiritual state to be united with God. Like the pawns, which do not reach the destination, the man who does not obey Waheguru's Command and complains does not win the game of life. 3.
An educated pundit is not necessarily wise (in spiritual journey), nor is an uneducated individual necessarily foolish or bad. Only that individual is entitled to be called a real devotee who Waheguru makes sing His praise, following some conditions (for example, not to show off, or not to make money). 4.2.36.

Guru Sahib interprets the insignificance of these symbols in His own way and emphasizes the true principles of spirituality for realizing God.
Word Meaning: Moondraa = earrings that the yogis wear. Khintha = a small quilt made of rags. Khima = forgiveness. Hundaavoun = practise. Bhulaa = good for me. Sehj Yoag = union with Waheguru by attaining a spiritual level above the effects of Maya. Nidh(i) = treasure. 1. Joogta = connected (with God). Joogeh Joog = over the eons; all the time. Perm Tunt = the basis of all, Waheguru. Joagunn = union. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya; Waheguru. Kaaya = body; mind. Bhoagunn = enjoy. Pause.
Shiv Nugri = Waheguru's City (Residence). Assun(i) = with full concentration. Kulp = imaginations, wishes. Tiyaagi = gave up. Baadunn = argumentation. Singee = the bugle that the yogi blow into. Dhoon(i) = sweet sound. Sohaiy = pleasing to the ears.
Ehinis(i) = day and night. Pooraiy = blows into. Naadunn = sound. 2. Putt(u) = a wide bowl to collect alms. Veechaar = pondering over. Giyan = Divine Knowledge acquired by connecting with Waheguru. Mut(i) = advice. Dunda = a baton that the yogis hold in hand. Vertman = the presence of Waheguru everywhere. Bibhootunn = ash to cover body. Keerut(i) = singing praise. Rehraas(i) = daily routine. Punth = path of life. Uteetunn = detachment from the world. 3. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Summiya = a wooden support to rest arms during meditation. Naana Vern = different colours and forms. Liv = absorption in thoughts. 4.

MEANING: You wear big glass earrings and a quilt of rags as symbols of your faith, oh yogi; I also wear earrings, but I wear them in the form of Guru's Shabad in my mind (rather than in my ears), and I wear a quilt of forgiveness. I also gladly accept whatever Waheguru does as being good for me, and by doing so, I acquire the treasure of blissfulness of union with Him. 1. A real yogi is the one who is connected with Waheguru all the time. He stays in that state over the eons (always). Such a yogi harbours the eternal Amrit-Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, in his heart, and enjoys the bliss of union with Him. Pause. I have abandoned all my wishes and all argumentation, and my mind stays connected with Waheguru with full concentration; this is my way of meditating. You blow into a bugle (trumpet), but Guru's Shabad produces a very sweet music in my mind day and night, and this is the bugle that I blow into, oh yogi. 2. You carry a wide bowl to collect alms, but, for me, pondering over Guru's Shabad is my bowl in which I collect the alms of Waheguru's Naam; and getting connected with Waheguru with Guru's advice is my baton with which I keep the vices away. You cover your body with ash to look unattractive to women, but disseminating the message of Waheguru's presence everywhere is the ash that I use to cover my body, because of which I look unattractive to the five demons (I keep them away). Singing Waheguru's praise is our normal routine, and we stay detached from the world by taking the Guru's advice, which is our path to union with Waheguru. 3. Recognizing Waheguru's Light in many different colours and forms is the wooden support for us that you use during meditation, and which provides us the support to connect with Waheguru. (Guru) Nanak says that we focus our mind only on Waheguru and nothing else, oh yogi, Bhurthuri. 4.3.37.

NOTE: The Yogis drink alcohol before starting their meditation. As most of you know, alcohol is made by the process of distillation. First, jaggery is dissolved in water placed in a container. To add flavour to alcohol, special herbs and spices are added to the sweetened water, and the vessel is maintained at the appropriate temperature for fermentation, which takes 4-5 days. Next, the fermented liquid is distilled to obtain alcohol. Guru Sahib again explains the characteristics of real alcohol to Bhurthuri, to connect with God.

Word Meaning: Goorr = big nuggets of raw sugar; jaggery. Dhiyaan = focused thoughts. Dhaavaiy = a plant (bassia latifolia), the flowers of which have intoxicating juices. It is widely used in the production of liquor. Kerni = noble deeds. Kus(u) = the bark of some trees used as spices in alcohol. Bhaatthi = the kiln. Bhuvun = universe (the desire to possess everything in the world). Poacha = covering the delivery tube with a wet cloth to keep it cool for condensation. It(u) Rus(u) = this way. Amiyou = Amrit. Chooaayiyaiy = drip. 1. Mutvaaro = intoxicated. Rus = essence. Sehj = spiritual state above Maya. Rung = love. Ruch(i) Ruhiya = fully absorbed. Live = concentration. Unahud = uniform; never changing. Guhiya = harbours. Pause. Poora = perfect. Saach(u) = Eternal Wahguru. Piyaala = glass. Vapaari = dealer. Mud(i) = liquor. Chhoochha = hollow; short-lasting. Bhaaou = love. 2. Saakhee = Teachings. Amrit Bani = immortalizing composition. Pervaan = approved. Mookut(i) = detachment with the world; liberation. Baiykoontthaiy = paradise. 3. Sifti = praise of Waheguru. Rutta = imbued. Baiyraaagi = detached from the world. Jooyay = in gambling. Haaray = lose. Kheeva = blissful. Dhaaraiy = acquires. 4.

MEANING: You drink alcohol before meditating, which you believe enhances your concentration (if it does), oh, Yogi. But such intoxication is short-lived and wears off quickly. I will tell you about the real intoxicant, the effect of which never wears off. It is Waheguru's Naam with which the mind gets intoxicated so that it stays imbued in Waheguru's love, and enjoys the bliss of a peaceful mind. The mind gets so absorbed in Waheguru's Naam that it stays in that state all the time and harbours the uniform Naam (the Naam stays there) forever. Pause. To prepare this intoxicant, you need the jaggery of Divine Knowledge (deep connection with God), a focused mind as dhaavaiy, and noble deeds as the spice. Use desires as fuel for the kiln to acquire the luxuries of the whole world, and apply the love for Waheguru as the cooling agent to condense such intoxicant. This is how you will collect the Amrit which drips in your mind. 1. This is the intoxicating cup of the Naam-Amrit of the Perfect Waheguru, the intoxication of which becomes permanent, oh yogi. But Waheguru serves such an intoxicant with His kind sight only to those who have attained the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. A devotee who deals in such an intoxicant as Amrit has no desire for the hollow intoxication of alcohol. 2. Guru's Bani and His Teachings are the real Amrit with which a devotee gets approval (honour) in Waheguru's Court as soon as he drinks it. Emancipation from the bonds of Maya and the paradise has no importance for the devotee who is desirous of the sight of the dear Waheguru. 3.
A devotee, who is imbued in the praise of Waheguru, is always detached from Maya, and he does not waste away his precious human life in the gamble (whether to choose the luxuries of Maya or Waheguru). Listen, oh yogi Bhurthuri, such a devotee stays intoxicated in the eternal bliss (of Waheguru's Naam), says Nanak. 4.4.38.

NOTE: This holy Shabad has special historical importance and describes the tragic loss of life and property when Babar attacked Eminabad (Saidpur Sundiyali at that time). The kind-hearted Guru Nanak was moved so much that He even complained to His dear Waheguru for the suffering caused by the barbaric killing of its citizens by the army of Babar, and He expressed His grief by writing four Shabads on the subject.

Word Meaning: Khorasan = An area between northern Iran and Afghanistan. Khusmaana = take control. Doash(u) = blame. Kerta = the Creator (God). Jum Kur(i) = in the form of the angel of death. Churrhaaya = launched an attack. Koorlaanaiy = wailing. Kee = why? Sukta = powerful. Roas(u) = complaint, resentment. Pause. Sheeh(u) = lion. Vugaiy = a herd of cattle. Poorsaayee = accountability. Ruttan = priceless lives. Vigaarr(i) = distorting; mutilating. Vigoyay = insulted. Kootteen = the dogs. Saar = inquire for well being; look after. Jorr(i) = connecting (as relatives). Vichhoarraiy = separates. 2.
Saad = enjoy tastes. Choogaiy Daanay = eat foods. Mur(i) = kill selfishness. Kichh(u) Paayay = gets some recognition. Vukhaanay = says; recites. 3.

MEANING: After having taken control of Khorasan, Babar threatened (fiercely attacked) India. So as not to take any blame (for the destructive attack by Babar), the Creator sent the Angel of death in the form of Babar. He created such a destruction of human life that the people wailed with pain; why weren't You moved at the suffering of humanity, oh my Waheguru!! 1. If, some powerful individual attacks another powerful individual, and each inflicts wounds on the other, nobody shows any resentment. But You are the creator of the whole humanity (so the weak should be protected). Pause.
If a powerful lion attacks a herd of cattle and kills some cattle, the owner is held accountable; (so, You, as their Master, are responsible for the killing of all those armless and weak civilians who have been killed mercilessly, oh Waheguru). The doglike soldiers of Babar's army mutilated and insulted the jewel-like, precious human lives, and there was no one to look after the dead. But this is Your power only, that You connect and then disconnect the relatives. 2. If someone establishes himself in a commanding position and enjoys the tastes of his choice, he is still considered a worm in the eyes of God, which picks up food (from dirt). He gets some respect only if he kills his mind as far as the attractions of Maya are concerned, and then leads a life of contentment while reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.5.39.

Nanak Gurmukh(i) Saach(i) smaavaiy. 4.1.40.

Word Meaning: Durshun(i) = holy sight. Sachaiy = of Waheguru. Baiyraag(i) = in deep love, in which one feels the pain of separation. Khut = six. Durshun = philosophy (Shabad of Guru); Shastras. Vertaiy = follow. Vertaara = routine. Agumm = unreachable. Apaara = limitless. 1. Mooqut(i) = liberation from the bonds of Maya. Gut(i) = high spiritual level. Pause. Oodhraiy = finds salvation. Bhaaou = love. Piyaara = dear. Virla = some rare. 2. Moakh Dooaar = the door (state) of liberation. Saadhaar(u) raises the spiritual level to attain salvation. Nigooray = without the Guru. Uvgun(i) = ill qualities. Mootthay = robbed by. Choataan = beatings; suffering. 3. Shaant(i) = peace; bliss. Peer = pain; suffering. Jumkall = (the fear of) death. Saach(i) = in Waheguru. Smaavaiy = is absorbed. 4.

MEANING: When a highly fortunate devotee develops deep love for Waheguru and feels the pain of His separation, he is able to have a glimpse of Waheguru (gets connected with Him) by acting on the Guru's Shabad. Normally, people follow the six Shastras as their guide in their daily routine in life, but unlike the shastra (Shabad) of the Guru, the six Shastras cannot connect them with Waheguru (because there is no praise of Waheguru in them). On the contrary, Guru's Shabad is all about the praise of the unreachable and the limitless Waheguru. 1. Guru's Shabad enables the devotees to break the bonds of Maya, and attain a high spiritual state, as a result of which, Waheguru takes dwelling in their heart. Pause. Guru's Philosophy (Shabad) enables the world to get salvation, provided it fosters love for it. Guru's Shabad is a source of great bliss all the time, but some rare individual develops love for it. 2. Not only does one reach the door of emancipation by the Guru's Shabad for himself, but it also enables his associates to raise their spiritual level so as to find salvation. Those who are without the shelter of the Guru (without His Shabad) cannot attain a higher spiritual level and are robbed of noble qualities, as a result of which they suffer greatly. 3. One acquires peacefulness in his body and mind with the Guru's Shabad, and a Sikh (staunch devotee) of the Guru never feels any suffering in His shelter. The fear of the Angel of Death does not come close to him, as he remains absorbed in Waheguru. 4.1.40.

NOTE: The numbers 4.1.40 imply that there are 4 stanzas in this holy Shabad; this is the 1st Shabad of Guru Amar Dass Ji, and there have been 40 Shabads in Assa so far.

Word Meaning: Mooya = dead (as far as his love for Maya is concerned). Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Til(u) = (the size of a) sesame seed. Tmaayay = desire. Nirbhou = fearless; Waheguru. Daata = provider; Waheguru. 1.
Sungruhou = collect; acquire. Augun = bad (ignoble) qualities. Pause.
Gaahuk = customer; seeker. Vukhaanaiy = recite. Soocha = pure; pious. Praaput(i) = can acquire. 2. Amoluk = priceless. Nirmul = pure. Smaah(i) = gets absorbed. Vudbhaagi = very fortunate. Daata = the source of noble qualities. Sungrehaiy = collects; acquires. Bulihaaraiy = offer life. Sehj(i) = in the blissful spiritual state. Soobhaayay = with love. Keemut(i) = worth. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who kills his desires for Maya with the Guru's Shabad, also gets rid of his selfishness and ego. A devotee has no desire at all – not even the size of a sesame seed. The fearless Waheguru (as He has no superior) takes a permanent dwelling in the heart of such a devotee, but only a rare, fortunate individual achieves that level of spirituality with the Guru's eternal Bani. 1. Acquire noble qualities to get rid of the ignoble ones by getting fully absorbed in the Perfect Guru's Shabad, oh my friends. Pause.
Only that devotee recognizes the noble qualities who seek them, and recites Waheguru's Amrit-Naam with Guru's Shabad. He purifies his mind with Guru's eternal Bani because of which he acquires noble qualities, and Waheguru's Naam (in his heart). 2.
The priceless noble qualities cannot be (easily) acquired. (They can be acquired only) When the devotee purifies his mind with the Guru's Shabad and stays absorbed in the eternal Waheguru. Those are fortunate who recite His Naam and make their heart a dwelling for Waheguru, which is the source of all the noble qualities. 3.
I will gladly offer my life to those who acquire noble qualities and sing the virtues of Waheguru at His Door (stay absorbed in Him). He Himself bestows the gift of His Naam to the devotee by making him attain the highest spiritual state because of His love for Waheguru. Nobody can describe the full worth (magnanimity) of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.2.41.

Word Meaning: Vuddi = huge. Vudiyaayee = noble quality; His greatness. Chireen Vichhoonaiy = separated for a long time. Mayl = by connecting with Him. Milayee = connects with God. Keemut = value; worth. 1. Kin Bidh(i) = by what means? Uprumpur = farther and farther. Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur = incomprehensible. Jun = devotee. Pause. Jaanaiy = appreciate. Koyay = Virla = some rare. Kerm = by the grace. Praaput(i) = acquirement. 2. Vin(u) = without. Durd(u) = pain; suffering. Bhaytay = on meeting. Ootraiy = comes off; is shed. Kmaayay = earns. Sjaayay = punishment. 3. Ut(i) = extremely. Rus(u) = essence. Soyay = Waheguru. Kirpa = benevolence. Ruttay = imbued. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. 4.

MEANING: It is a great, noble quality of Satguru that He connects long-separated individuals to Waheguru. But it is Waheguru who first connects individuals with Satguru, who, in turn, connects them with Waheguru. Only Waheguru knows His worth (capabilities). 1. Waheguru is higher and higher in transcendence, is inaccessible and incomprehensible; so how can the man evaluate His capabilities? He can be realized only by a rare, lucky devotee with the Guru's Shabad. Pause. One can only appreciate His wonderful qualities by taking Satguru's shelter, but a rare devotee gets connected with Him by the Guru's grace. When someone recites Satguru's transcendental Bani (His Shabads), he, too, transcends the human experiences (and gets connected with Waheguru). 2. Without Waheguru's Naam, one experiences problems and mental agony, but they easily go away when one gets connected with Satguru. Without connecting with Satguru, the man earns (experiences) only discomforts of different kinds, and the follower of his mind (Maya-engrossed) individual gets severely punished. 3. Waheguru's Naam is extremely sweet like a sweet juice, so that a devotee keeps drinking it while Waheguru keeps providing it. But the devotee has access to this sweet juice of Waheguru's Naam only due to the grace of the Guru, and such a devotee, who is imbued in Waheguru's Naam, attains a high spiritual state of blissfulness, oh Nanak. 4.3.42.

Word Meaning: Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheer = emotionless; never changing. Sayvut Hee = as soon as you serve Him. Shaant(i) = peacefulness. Turay = swims across the sea of Maya (breaks its bonds). Sehj(i) = in the spiritual state above Maya. Soobhaayay = with love. Laageh Paayay = drop on their feet; surrender to them. 1. Raatay = imbued. Rung(u) = love. Laatha = got off. Pause. Chaakhaiy = taste (v). Saad(u) = taste (n); sweetness. Bhurpoor(i) = filling all space. 2. Aakhun(i) = just for the mention; in the name. Bukaiy = says. Bukhsh(i) = with benevolence. Kuthun (i) = description. 3. Aap(u) = haumein; selfishness and ego. Chookaayay = end; get rid of. Suvaarunhaar = one who completes the task successfully. 4.

MEANING: My Waheguru is immortal, unfathomable, and emotionless, which never changes. One acquires comfort and peace of mind as soon as he begins to serve Him (recite His Naam with full dedication). A devotee swims across the sea of Maya (breaks his worldly bonds) when he attains the spiritual state above the effects of Maya with his love for Waheguru. I will drop at the feet of (surrender to) such devotees any time. 1.

Those who are imbued with the love for Waheguru are freed from the suffering of reincarnation and are united in the Court (with Waheguru) because of their love for Him. Pause. Those who taste Satguru's Shabad enjoy the eternal sweetness and acquire Waheguru's Naam in their heart forever. Waheguru is very close to us because He is present everywhere in the universe, yet appears far away because it is very difficult to realize Him. 2. Everybody talks about Him, but only in the name (as a formality); Waheguru connects some individuals with Him with His benevolence. He cannot be realized by a simple discussion of His virtues. He takes up dwelling in a devotee's heart only by the Guru's benevolence. 3. A devotee gets rid of his selfishness and his ego in Guru's shelter, and also gets rid of the worldly attachments by getting imbued in Waheguru's love. His mind becomes extremely pure when he ponders on the Guru's Shabad. He successfully achieves his objective of union with Waheguru through His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.4.43.

Word Meaning: Doojaiy = Maya. Bhaayay = (in) love. Birtha = worthlessly. Guvaaya = wasted away. Soajhi = understanding. 1.

Mool(i) = the origin; source (Waheguru). Jun = devotees. Pervaan(u) = approved; successful. Undin = everyday; always. Jaan(u) = recognize; make a connection. Pause.

Daali = branches (offshoots of the Waheguru tree); Maya. Nihful = without any reward. Undhee Kummi = the tasks (actions) performed under ignorance. Undh Sujaayay = the punishment is such that it keeps one in ignorance (perpetuates ignorance). Tthaur = peace; contentment. Bishta = feces. Keerra = worm. Puchaayay = rots; suffers. 2.
Naamay Naam = Naam and only Naam. Turay = is salvaged. Kool = family; associates. Oodhrunhaar(u) = capable of salvaging. 3. Vujaayay produces music. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence; Waheguru = Ghur. SatSur(i) = the pool of Naam-Amrit; holy congregation. Jul = water. Doormut(i) = ill advice (thinking). Maiyl(u) = filth. Doort(u) = sins. 4.
MEANING: The man suffers (spiritually) when he loves worldly things, and wastes away his precious human life without the Guru's Shabad. He realizes the reality (importance of spirituality) only when he serves the Guru (obeys His Advice), when he realizes he no longer loves worldly things. 1. The devotee, who gets connected with the origin of the universe (Waheguru), recognizes only Him, and keeps Him in heart by reciting His Naam all the time by the Guru's Shabad, and is approved in His Court. Pause.
Those who deal in Maya only leave this world unrewarded (without any achievement in the realm of spirituality) because when a man is guided by ignorance in his routine tasks, he stays ignorant, which is a punishment for him. The ignorant Maya-lover finds no peace; like a worm in feces, he remains trapped in Maya and suffers greatly. 2.
Serving the Guru is always comforting because one sings praise of Waheguru in the company of the Guru's Sikhs. He ponders only on Waheguru's Naam, and not only does he get salvation for himself, but he also does so for his associates. 3.
Guru's Bani (Shabad) produces the sweet music of Waheguru's Naam in his mind, and he reaches the Residence of Waheguru (becomes "one" with Him). With Guru's advice, he takes dip in the holy water of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and washes away the filth of his ignoble advice (evil thoughts) and sins, oh Nanak. 4.5.44.

Word Meaning: Munmukh(i) = follower of his mind; lover of Maya; disconnected from God. Mern(u) = death. Vigaarreh(i) = spoils; ruins (the future of his soul). Aatum = soul.

Sunghaareh (i) = kills. Vigoota = suffers; earns disrespect. Aatum = soul. Cheenaiy = analyzes. Bherm = misgivings; doubts. Soota = unaware; lost in ignorance. 1.
Mur(u) = (fear of) death. Mooya = died; vanished. Oostut(i) = undeserving praise. Ninda = undisturbed negative criticism; vilify. Sum = equal; similar. Janaayee = explained. Laaha = benefit. Pause. Vihoon = devoid of. Gerbh = in the womb. Gul(i) = rots; suffers. Birtha = rewardless. Doojaiy = Maya. Loobhaayay = captivated. Subaayee = the whole world. Boojh = understanding. Boojhaayee = 2. Chunchul = unsettling; wavering; not in peace. Choataan Khaayay = is hit badly; suffers. Chhoorrkiya = fallen from its base (peaceful condition). Tthaur = shelter; peace. Gerbh Joan(i) = taking rebirths. Vishta = feces; Maya. Nivaas = dwelling. 3. Bul(i) Jaayee = offer life. Joati = soul. Joat(i) = Waheguru's Light (Waheguru). Nirmul = pure. Nij Ghur(i) = in own heart. Oodaasa = detached from Maya. 4.
MEANING: When a man, disconnected with Waheguru, dies, he ruins even his death because he gets punishment in Waheguru's Court after his death. He kills his soul (spirituality) in his love for the mundane. He suffers from (earns) disrespect because of his self-centredness. He does not analyze his soul (mind), and is lost in misgivings (illusions of Maya) and doubts. 1. When one kills his desires about Maya with Guru's Shabad, he also kills the fear of death. The Guru explains that undeserved praise of an individual (for selfish reasons) and unwarranted vilification of an individual (out of jealousy) are equally bad. The only (spiritual) gain that one earns in this world comes from the recitation of Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Those who do not have Waheguru's Naam in their heart waste away their precious human life in the love of the mundane and suffer in the womb (go through many life forms). The Perfect Guru explains that the whole world suffers without Waheguru's Naam. 2. When the mind loses its peaceful state, it wavers a lot and becomes unsettled (wanders around aimlessly) as a result of which it gets severe punishment and gets no peace. A follower of his mind loves the filth of Maya, which is like a worm enjoying life in feces, and suffers in the womb (goes through many life forms). 3.
I am always a sacrifice to my Satguru, who connects His devotees who come to His shelter with Waheguru. With the pure (holy) Bani (Shabad) of Satguru, a devotee's mind finds peace in its own spiritual state (stays connected with Waheguru) and remains detached from worldly attractions by overcoming his haumein (selfishness and ego), oh Nanak. 4.6.45.

Preetum = dear. Sukhaayee = friend; benefactor. 1. Jeevut Muraiy = kills the desires for Maya while living in the family. Soag(u) = grief. Herkh(u) = happiness. Oodhraiy = gets salvaged. Pause. Kerni Kaar = things to do; undertakings; follow the path Dhooroun = right from the source (Waheguru). Phoormaayee = ordered. Thaayan Na Paayee = gets no recognition. Keerut(i) = praise (of Waheguru). Ootum = superior. Paurri = ladder (to reach the transcendent Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: I am a slave (devotee) of my Satguru, and I have lost the pride of my high caste (forgotten my identity). I have come to the shelter of my Satguru and have offered my body and mind to Him. Harbouring Waheguru's Naam in the heart earns a great respect for the devotee as the dear Waheguru becomes his great friend and benefactor. 1. Such a devotee kills his worldly desires while living in the family, and becomes highly stoic (treats grief and happiness the same way). He is salvaged with Guru's Shabad by His grace. Pause. Everybody follows the path chosen for them by Waheguru in life. But one gets no recognition in Waheguru's Court without Guru's Shabad. The important task to do (objective to achieve) is to have Waheguru's Naam dwell in one's heart. But that happens only when Waheguru gives His Naam to the devotee (with His grace), and when He does so, it is done without any delay. 2. The Maya-lovers are misled in the world by their misgivings. Just as the business of a businessman is false (does not materialize) without some capital, and he cannot acquire any merchandise (and wastes his time and energy), so the money-minded person wastes away his precious human life (without Waheguru's Naam as the capital). 3. A real devotee of Waheguru is the one who serves Satguru (obeys His Advice), whereby he gets to belong to the superior caste (of Waheguru's devotees) and becomes superior in real terms. With Guru's Shabad as the ladder, he reaches the highest spiritual level of all and earns respect with Waheguru's Naam in his heart, oh Nanak. 4.7.46.

MEANING: A lover of money deals only in falseness (lies, and love for the perishables), and can never reach Waheguru's Residence. In his love for Maya (worldly things), he is misled in life by his misgivings (illusions) and doubts, and, bound in worldly attachments, he continues to reincarnate. 1. An individual who has love for his sons, wife, wealth, and other forms of Maya in mind all the time spends his life in lies, worldly attachments, hypocrisy, and other vices. Loaded with all such vices, he is like a wife who has been condemned by her husband, in the eyes of Waheguru. Pause. A devotee, who is liked by Waheguru, is like a woman who is married (loved by her husband) all the time. Such a devotee adorns her mind (with noble qualities) by Guru's Shabad, always enjoys the company of Waheguru-Husband on the bed of her mind, and feels blissful to enjoy the comfort of His company. 2. That human bride who loves Waheguru is married forever. She keeps her Husband always in mind, and "sees" Him close (right in front of her) all the time, and is confident that He is omnipresent. 3. One's status in society and one's beauty do not accompany one to the next world. There (In Waheguru's Court), he receives the treatment which depends upon his deeds done in this world. MEANING: A devotee gets imbued in the love for Waheguru's worship by attaining the spiritual state above the effects of Maya. With respectful fear of the Guru, he acquires the qualities of Waheguru and becomes "one" with Him. Nobody can worship Waheguru without the shelter (blessings) of the Perfect Guru. An individual who is disconnected from Waheguru loses his respect (in His Court) and suffers. 1. One realizes the Perfect (omnipresent) Waheguru in the shelter of the Perfect Guru as he makes his heart a dwelling for Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad in his heart. MEANING: Satguru is a manifestation of Waheguru, and is an unlimited source of all noble qualities. But one serves Him only if one has a great fortune. Only that individual understands this secret who Waheguru enlightens Himself, and He makes the individual serve Him with Guru's grace. 1. His ignorance of darkness is eradicated with Guru's grace when he becomes alert (watchful against the attacks of Maya) and "sees" Waheguru around him all the time. Pause.

Word Meaning: Punchpuday = Shabads having five verses. Muraiy = dies as far as Maya is concerned; kills desires. Anund = blissfulness. Bhaytay = is connected with. Saach(i) = in Waheguru. 1. Dhoor(i) = right from the source (Waheguru). Laykh(u) = as fortune. Visaykh(u) = unique; special. Pause. Gehn = deep; immeasurable. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Pudvee = status. 2. Ghurree = moment. Thaap(i) = create.

Othaap(i) = destroy. Ghaalay = work hard. Thaatayn Na Paayay = gets no recognition. 3. Potaiy = treasure; in fortune. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Ruttan = priceless like a jewel. Sehj(i) = in blissful state (above Maya). 4. Jayvud = as great. Dhun(u) = wealth. Bukhshay = bestows. 5.

MEANING: An individual who kills all his desires with the Guru's Shabad is connected with the Guru by Waheguru and enjoys bliss all the time. His birth-death cycle comes to an end, and He merges into Waheguru in the shelter of the Perfect Guru. 1. Those who have Waheguru's Naam written in their fortune by Waheguru recite it all the time in the shelter of the Perfect Guru, which becomes a special worship of Waheguru for them. Pause.
Nobody can describe the immeasurable level of spiritual elevation of those who connect with Waheguru by His grace. The Perfect Guru bestows honour on them, and they attain the superior (highest) level of spirituality, and get absorbed in Waheguru's Naam. 2.
An individual who preaches to others that whatever Waheguru does, does on His own, and He can create anything, and destroy it in a moment, but does not recite His Naam himself, gets no recognition in Waheguru's Court, no matter how hard he tries to preach to others. 3. Waheguru connects the individual who has noble deeds to perform in his fortune with the Guru. Such a devotee recites the eternal Bani with the Guru's Shabad. All discomforts go away from the heart where Guru's Shabad resides, and with the jewel-like precious Guru's Shabad, such an individual gets absorbed in Waheguru and stays in the blissful state of spirituality. 4. There is no other wealth as great as Waheguru's Naam, but only that devotee acquires it (in his heart) who is granted by Waheguru. He makes his heart the dwelling of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, and imbued in Waheguru's Naam, he enjoys the bliss of all comforts, oh Nanak. 5.11.50.

Word Meaning: Nirt(i) = dance (some Hindu sects believe that dancing pleases their deities). Vaajay Vujaayay = play musical instruments. Boala = deaf. Loabh = greed. Bherm(u) = misbeliefs; illusions. Anul = fire (of desires). Vaaou = wind; storm of desires. Deeva = lamp; enlightenment. Soajhi = understanding. 1.
Ghut(i) = in the heart (mind). Chaanun = light; enlightenment. Puchhaan(i) = by recognizing (analyzing). Pause. Bhaaou = love. Pooraiy Taal = dance to tune; in rhythm. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Guvaayay = lose; get rid of. Jaan(u) = omniscient. Braham = God. 2. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state (above Maya). Joogut(i) = lifestyle. Sach(i) = God. Paakhund(i) = with hypocrisy; show off; with dishonesty. 3. Jeevut Muraiy = kills desires while living in the family. Bhuvjul(u) = the world-sea; bonds of Maya. Buchan = Shabad; Teachings. Thaayayn Paayay = is recognized; is rewarded. 4. Nihchul = unwavering; permanent. Siyoun = with. Chitt(u) = mind. Ruttay = imbued. Soyay = news; fame. 5.
MEANING: Devotees of some deities dance before their idols and play musical instruments to please them. But their minds are blind and deaf because of the darkness of greed, misgivings, and the fire of desires, as a result of which, they cannot see the reality or listen to it. So, to whom do such devotees try to preach when their own mind cannot listen to it? Under such conditions, no lamp of knowledge can light up in their mind to dispel the darkness of ignorance and enlighten their mind. 1. But the mind can be enlightened by worshipping Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru (with His guidance). When the Sikh recognizes himself (in terms of the purpose of human life and the kind of deeds he performs), he connects with Waheguru. Pause. For a Sikh of the Guru, love for Waheguru is the dancing for him, and killing his selfishness and ego is the tune to which he dances in rhythm. He recognizes Waheguru inside him with Guru's Shabad. My Waheguru is omniscient and knows all the feelings and intentions of everybody (one cannot please him by any act of show-off). 2. For a Sikh of the Guru, worship of Waheguru is his love for Him (The Guru), and he ponders on the Guru's Shabad to attain the spiritual state of blissfulness (above the effects of Maya). For a Gur Sikh, Waheguru's Naam is the worship for Him, and is also his daily routine. But the hypocritical worship by dancing and music is a source of suffering for the individual. 3. The real worship of Waheguru is to kill one's desires for Maya while living in the family. Such a devotee swims across the world-sea (breaks the bonds of Maya) with the Guru's grace. His worship of Waheguru by Guru's Shabad is duly rewarded in Waheguru's Court when Waheguru takes dwelling in the devotee's heart. 4.
Keeping Waheguru in mind with love is the real worship, as a result of which the devotee finds peace of mind (which quits wavering). Waheguru becomes kind with such worship, and He connects the devotee with the Guru. Those devotees, who are imbued with the love of worship of Waheguru, have a holy fame spread around in the world, and they enjoy blissfulness, oh Nanak. 5.12.51.

Word Meaning: Kaafi = a type of lyric. Bhaanaiy = as per the Will (of Waheguru). Soajhi = understanding. Boojhaiy = understands. 1. Shuhou = husband; Lord. Daata = provider. Uver = other. Pause. Joog = eon; the present world. Nirbhuou = fearless, which dispels fear. Jum = the angel of death. Vus(i) = under the control. Undh = in dark; ignorant. Guvaar(i) = unrefined; crude. 2. Salaahiyaiy = praise. Munniyaiyn = by obeying. 3. Pudaaruth = the invaluable item (Waheguru's Naam). Ootum = superior. Gut = the higher spiritual level. 4.

MEANING: One connects with Satguru through the Will of God when he receives enlightenment about Him (Waheguru). With Guru's grace, Waheguru takes dwelling in the devotee's heart, when he acquires Knowledge about Him. 1. I have only one Provider, who is also my Lord, and none else. He can be realized in the mind by the grace of the Guru when one enjoys everlasting happiness. Pause. Waheguru's Naam makes one fearless (like Waheguru Himself), but the Naam is realized by pondering on the Guru's Advice (Shabad). Without Waheguru Naam, the man is crude and disconnected from Waheguru, and as a result, he is under the control of the Angel of Death. 2. One serves Waheguru with His Will only when he realizes Him. One sings His praise only by His Will, and obeying the Will results in blissfulness. 3. It is by Waheguru's Will that one achieves the objective of human life (gets connected with Waheguru) because of which he acquires superior wisdom (noble thoughts). Praise Waheguru's Naam to achieve a high spiritual level in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 4.39.13.52.

The devotees of the Guru acquire it (the Naam) while the Maya-lovers lose it. You make some people love Maya and thus disconnect them from You, while You make others love You and thus connect them to You, oh Lord. 1. You are like a river which supports all life, and all living beings live in You (are Your part). There is none other like You. All living beings are part of Your drama (puppets in Your hands). As predestined, You keep some of them disconnected from You, while connecting some others with You. 2.

Word Meaning: Dhurra = alliance; to form a coalition (to fight together). Soot = sons. Koorrum = in-laws. Juvaayee = son-in-law. Sikdaar = having some authority; ruler. Chaudhry = leader. Sooaayee = for selfish reasons. Smaayee = present everywhere. 1. Siyoun = with. Tayk = support. Pukh(u) = favour; support. Asunkh = Anayk countless. Pause. Jaah(i) = leave (the world). Jhootth(u) = dishonest; short-lived. Puchhotaah(i) = repents. Thir(u) = stable; peaceful. Khoat(u) = deceit. Sumruth = capable. 2. Pusaari = for the enhancement of. Loojheh(i) = fights for. Gavaari = unrefined; crude. Jooyay = in gambling (to choose between Maya and God). Baaji = the game of life. Hult(u) = this world. Pult(u) = next world. Suvaari = make successful. 3. Kuljoog = this world. Punch Choar = the five demons. Jhugrraayay = cause to fight. Kaam(u) = lust. Moh(i) = worldly attachments. Abhimaan = ego. 4. Mithiya = false. Dooja Bhaaou = love for Maya. Chhidar = weakness; shortcoming. Utkulaiy = estimates; plans to publicize. Ahunkaar = ego. Beejaiy = sows. Dherm(u) = principled. Srisht(i) = world. Jin(i) = win. 5.

MEANING: Some people make alliances (group together) with their friends, sons, brothers, sons-in-law, or with their in-laws. While others do the same with a powerful man or a leader for selfish reasons. But I have made friends with my Waheguru, who is present everywhere. 1. My Waheguru is my only support, and I have none other to favour or support me to make alliances. I sing praise of Waheguru, who has countless virtues. Pause.

The individuals with whom people form alliances eventually leave this world. So, their partners have to repent to make such false (short-lived) alliances. They make alliances out of deceit in their minds, which does not bring them any peace of mind. I have made alliances with my Waheguru, who has no equal (or rival). 2. All worldly alliances are for the sole purpose of the enhancement of Maya (wealth, power, and ego), and only the unrefined people fight for Maya. They lose the objective of life in this gamble (choice between Waheguru and Maya), as a result of which they are trapped in the cycle of birth and death. My alliance (friend) Waheguru makes me successful in this world and the next. 3.

The five demons (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego) cause people to fight for control to boost them (sensual enjoyments) and hence to make alliances in this world. My alliance (with Waheguru) eliminates the need for any other alliance. Waheguru connects the individuals He is kind to with the holy congregation (so that they, too, can control the five demons). 4. As part of an alliance, the individuals develop false (short-lived) love for Maya. They publicize others' shortcomings to boost their own ego. But they reap the rewards of what they sow. (Like the other devotees), my alliance with Waheguru is based on noble principles, and the devotees can win the whole world, oh Nanak. 5.2.54.

I have no other support for my life than Waheguru's Naam, which is present (I recite with) in my every breath and my every bite of food. Pause. When I hear the sound of the Naam, I like it; and whoever recites Naam for me is my real friend and pal. 2.
Those who are without Waheguru's Naam leave this world with no virtue at all, and they die suffering in the poison of Maya just as a moth gets burned in the flame. 3.

Such a vine bears enjoyable, delicious fruits (of Waheguru's union) in the minds of those who love Him. 1. Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which arouses countless awe-inspiring feelings in the minds of His devotees by His amazing feats in nature. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam (keep Him in mind all the time) are able to kill the evil desires of their mind and also the fear of death. The assistants of the Angel of Death do not come even near them. Pause. Waheguru has given the control of His worship to the Guru, and the Guru gives (implants) Waheguru's worship in the heart of the Sikh to whom He is pleased to be kind, oh my brothers. 2. While busy performing the accepted religious rituals, which boost his ego, a money-loving individual does not find any way out to remember Waheguru. His rituals are just like the bath of an elephant, which sprays dust on his body after the bath. 3. When one listens to Waheguru's Naam again and again, his mind feels blissful, and as he acts on Guru's advice, his heart blooms as an additional benefit. 2. Without Waheguru's Naam, a man is like a leper (mentally sick) as he is blind in the love of worldly attachments. All the rituals that he performs are (spiritually) worthless and a source of discomfort. 3. Only highly fortunate individuals recite Waheguru's Naam. Jun Nanak kay Prubh untarjaami, Hur(i) laavhou munooa payl. 4.9.61.

Word Meaning: Tunt = Bayn = a single-wire musical instrument; lute. Thoathur = hollow; without any impact. Hur(i) Rung(i) = in God's love. Bhayn = imbued. 1. Oopdaysh(u) = advice; sermon. Adays(u) = bow to. Pause. Munooa = mind. Khaylaiy Khayl = absorbed in its own imagination. Koop = a water well (driven by oxen).

Joveh(i) = harnesses oxen to draw water. Sinchun Kuou = to irrigate. Bsoodha = land. Baiyl = oxen. Chur(i) = nibble. Bayl = vine; crop. 2. Kaaya = body. Nugr = town; field. Boavhou = sow; plant. Jaamaiy = sprouts. Khayt(u) = field. Usthir(u) = stable; unwavering. Jovhou = set up to draw water. 3. Jungum = a sect of yogis who worship Shiva, wear a peacock feather on their forehead and hold and use bells for music when they sing. Srisht(i) = the world. Tit(u) = on which to. Chayl = follow the path. Untarjaami = omniscient. Payl = by inspiring; by motivating. 4.

MEANING: A yogi holds a lute in his hand and plucks the wire (to sing praise of God); but his lute produces a hollow (spiritual) music because he does not have Waheguru's Naam at his heart. (Rather than playing the lute), Sing the virtues of Waheguru by taking Guru's advice, with which your mind will get imbued in His love, oh yogi. 1. (Counter to the popular belief of Hindus that the requirements to connect with the reigning deity are different in each eon), it is Waheguru who operates (runs the universe) in every eon, and I salute Him. So, preach the Teachings of Waheguru to people, oh yogi. Pause.

(But rather than singing praise of Waheguru), A yogi simply sings many unrelated songs and preaches in many ways (with the misbelief that he pleases his deity), but his mind is absorbed in its own imagination. His approach to achieving his objective is like that of a farmer who harnesses oxen to draw water from the well to irrigate his field, but instead of drawing water from the well, the oxen graze his crop. 2. Plant the seeds of Waheguru's Naam in the field of your body (mind) as a result of which a lush green crop of Waheguru's Naam will sprout in your mind, oh yogi. Make your mind stable with Guru's advice, and use the stabilized mind as oxen to irrigate the mind-field for Waheguru's Naam. 3.

All the different sects of yogis, including the Jungums, and the whole world, are Your creation, and they do follow exactly the wisdom (thinking) that You give them, oh Waheguru. My Waheguru knows everything about us, and I pray to Him that He inspires my mind (to recite His Naam), oh Nanak. 4.9.61.

Khin(u) = a moment. Smaarhoun = recite. 1. Bhugut(i) = worship. Bun(i) Aayee = has become. Meen = fish. Pause. Punch Sat Gaayin = five wires and 7 frequencies; different tunes. Dhoon(i) = sound. Maylut = putting together. Choonut = choosing. Khin(u), Pul(u) Chusaa = very small units of time. Tub Lug(u) = till then. 2. Paav Pusaaraiy = take dancing steps. Haath Pusaaraiy = stretch out hand (arm). 3. Loagun = people. Putiaavaiy = please; convince Puteenaiy = by pleasing; by convincing. Put(i) = respect. Jaiy, Jaiy = applaud; hail. 4.

NOTE: As discussed many times before, many people try to please their deities by singing and dancing, in which they tie bellied anklets. Guru Ram Dass Ji disapproves of such practices as worship of Waheguru.

MEANING: While one looks for anklets with bells and cymbals and plays the guitar, it takes some time to go and come back; no matter how little time it takes, I recite Waheguru's Naam till then. 1. Just like a fish which dies without water, my state of worship of Waheguru has reached such a level where I cannot survive without Him even for a moment, (so how can I waste any time in looking for meaningless things), oh my mind. Pause.

When one prepares to match the frequencies of the wires (tunes), and raises his voice to match the music, it takes some time – maybe very little – to do so, till then, my mind sings the virtues of Waheguru. 2. When one dances by stretching out his feet and his hands, it takes some time, even if very little, I remember Waheguru (recite His Naam) in my mind till then. 3. Why should anyone try to convince people (that he worships Waheguru), because there is no spiritual gain in convincing people. I urge people to recite Waheguru's Naam in their hearts. Then the people will automatically applaud your efforts, oh Nanak. 4.10.62.

Word Meaning: Sadhu = Guru. Giyan Ruttan = the jewel-like, valuable Divine knowledge. Ghut(i) = in the mind. Ugiyan(u) = lack of knowledge; ignorance. 1. Naachou = dance (by mind). Jun = Waheguru's devotee; holy man. Pause. Liv Laayay = with full concentration; in unison. Ichhou = wish. Ful(u) = reward; has his wishes fulfilled. 2. Uprumpur = limitless. Kerta = creator. MEANING: We get connected with the Guru in the company of the holy devotees, where we sing Waheguru's praise by which our heart is enlightened with the Divine Knowledge, and the darkness of ignorance is dispelled. 1. Some people worship their deities by dancing (which is fruitless), but when one recites Waheguru's Naam with affection and dedication, his mind begins to dance with blissfulness. If I meet such a holy devotee, I will wash his feet (show full respect). Pause. Recite Waheguru's Naam all the time with full devotion and in unison with Him (connected with Him), oh my mind. When one does that, they get all their wishes fulfilled and never feel the urge to pursue worldly things again. 2. The limitless Waheguru is the creator of the whole world, and Himself makes the devotee sing His praise. You like only those holy saints who are approved by You, and who are bestowed with respect for You, oh Waheguru. 3.

I never get tired of singing Waheguru's praise, and the more I sing, the more the comforts I acquire, oh Nanak. The treasures of Waheguru's worship are available to everyone, but only those buyers get them who trade in His noble qualities. 4.11.63.

Word Meaning: Mern = death. Dhuraahoo = right from the source (Waheguru). Usthir = stability (peace of mind). 1. Shaabaash = applaud; praise. Chullun = how to deal with life's tragedies. Laaha = added benefit. Saar(u) = supreme. Smaaniya = fully absorbed. Pause. Poorub Likhay = pre-written (by Waheguru). Dayh = day; time of death. Dhooroun = right from the source (Waheguru). Phoormaaya = ordered. 2.
Birtha = empty; wasteful. Visaariya = ignored. Jooyay khaylun(u) = in gambling (risk a huge gain for a short-term gain. Meaning forget Waheguru and indulge in Maya). Mun = life. 3. Sachay = having noble qualities; by acquiring Waheguru's True Naam. Sach(i) = in the eternal Waheguru. 4.

MEANING: The order of death comes right from Waheguru; the survivors cry only because of their selfish reasons (attachment, expectation of support in old age, etc.). But a true devotee of the Guru remembers Waheguru even in a tragic situation like that and finds peace of mind. 1. I praise my Perfect Guru, who explained to me the real way to live in the world, and how to deal with tragedies in life. The added benefit of such a living is that one realizes that Waheguru's Naam is supreme, in which one stays fully absorbed by the Guru's Shabad. Pause. The time of death arrives for everybody, and everybody has to leave this world sooner or later, as per the Will of Waheguru. 2. Those who forget Waheguru waste away their precious human life. They gamble away their life in the world (for short-lived gimmicks of Maya, they lose the long-term benefit of being one with God). 3. Those who connect with the Guru are blissful while living in this world and even after death. They merge in the eternal Waheguru by acquiring noble qualities like those of Waheguru, by reciting His Naam. 4.12.64.

Sacha = God. 4.

MEANING: Those who recite Waheguru's Naam in the precious human life, merge into the eternal Waheguru by understanding Him (getting connected with Him) by the Guru's grace. 1. But, only those who labour hard to embed Waheguru's Naam in their hearts are predestined to do so by Waheguru. Because of the noble qualities that they have acquired, they are called in by the eternal Waheguru to His Residence (they become one with Him). Pause. There is a hidden treasure of Waheguru's Naam in everybody's heart (mind), but only those who seek Guru's shelter uncover (realize) it. They recite Waheguru's Naam and sing His virtues all the time. 2. The infinite Waheguru's Naam is in everybody's heart (mind), but the follower of his mind does not acquire it. He is misled by his own conceit and ego. 3. (But we cannot blame him either) because it is Waheguru who misleads such people (Maya-lovers). MEANING: I always recite Waheguru's Naam by singing His praise. The Guru has explained to me the importance of Waheguru's Naam, and now I cannot live without reciting His Naam for even a moment. Pause. I listen to Waheguru's praise with my ears, and recite His Naam. I cannot stay without His Naam even for a single moment. My mind feels the pain of separation from Waheguru and wishes to have His holy sight. It feels fully detached from worldly things (does not like any of those). Just as a bumblebee cannot live without (stay away from) the lotus flower, I cannot live without Waheguru. 1.
Please fulfill my cherished wish, and keep me in Your shelter, oh dear Waheguru, the Lord of the earth. My mind feels blissful when I have Your holy sight, even if it is for a short moment; so be kind to Nanak, oh Waheguru. 2. 39.13.15.67.

All the brothers, friends, and family members start fighting over it to get their share. But, with Guru's grace, I was able to control my desire for Maya. 1. Those who have renounced the world are affected gravely by it in the form of lust; and it does not stay with the family men who try to accumulate it. Now, I have settled in the cave (state) of blissfulness (where my mind no longer wavers), and the Divine Music in praise of the beautiful and the light-like Waheguru is playing in my ears. Pondering on Guru's Shabad produces great bliss in my mind. Such a soul, which is fully imbued in Waheguru's love, is worthy of respect (is highly fortunate) and is married (connected) with Waheguru) forever. 3. I am a slave of Waheguru, and sing praise of His virtues. Whosoever listens and works hard to acquire them (virtues), is salvaged. He never dies or takes birth again; he stays fully attuned with Waheguru. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Nij Bhugtee = one's dedication to Waheguru. Seelvunti = sweet-natured. Naar(i) = woman; wife. Roop = beauty. Anoop = unparalleled. Aachaar = mannerism. Greh(i) = house; heart. Sobhavunta = reputable; praiseworthy. Kinaiy Virlaiy = some rare. Junta = man. 1. Sookerni = noble deeds. Kaamun(i) = woman; wife. Juj(i) Kaaj(i) = auspicious events like marriage. Perthaayay = in the context of. Soohaayi = pleasant. Pause. Jitchur(u) = as long as. Vusee = stayed. Pita = father; Guru. Titchur(u) = til then. Kunt = human soul (mind). Oodaasi = unhappy; distressed. Satpurakh(u) = Guru. Munaaya = pleased. Aani = brought. 2. Buteeh Soolukhni = having 32 noble qualities. Suntut(i) = off-springs. Aagiyakaari = obedient. MEANING: One's dedication to Waheguru is like a sweet-natured wife (who supports you in every situation). She (worship of Waheguru) has unparalleled beauty and is perfect in mannerisms. The heart in which it resides becomes praiseworthy. But some rare individual acquires it in the shelter of the Guru. 1. Such a wife with noble qualities is possible to have only in the company of the Guru. It outshines beautifully at auspicious occasions such as a marriage (in gatherings where people love to listen to Waheguru's praise). Pause. As long as the good qualities stay with the Guru (and not yet acquired by an individual), the human soul stays distressed (finds no meaningful purpose). But when the devotee works hard (obeys the Guru's advice) and pleases Him, the Guru implants all the noble qualities (love for Waheguru) in the devotee's heart, which then feels blissful and enjoys all comforts. 2. Dedication to (worship of) Waheguru has all the accepted 32 noble qualities, and gives birth to offspring like truthfulness, high morality, and sweet nature, etc. Such a wife is highly obedient (within the limits of high morality), wise, and attractive. It fulfills all the noble wishes of the soul as its husband, and satisfies its hopes and desires, and still keeps them in check. 3. It is supreme in the family of all senses, and advises all desires and wishes to stay within the boundaries of morality. That heart is great (fortunate) in which it appears, and the life of such an individual is spent in blissfulness, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Vays Kuray = takes different forms. Roop = (beautiful) looks. Greh(i) = in the house (mind). Bhermaavaiy = captivates. 1. Naayik(i) = heroine; mistress (Maya). Ghur(u) = mind. Vaas(u) = dwelling; stay. Jutun = efforts. Oojhaayay = entangles. Prayvaiy = in the distant (unrelated) issues. Pause. Dhoor = from the source (Waheguru). Aamir(i) = slave. Second Pause. 4.4.

MEANING: The mistress of my mind, Maya, does not allow my mind to stay in itself (captivates it, and causes it to wander in different directions). No matter how hard I try to control my mind, it gets entangled in (think about) many attractive situations. Pause.

It does not allow any of my resolutions to mature, and stays very close as guard (to oppose) my sweet nature and my efforts to control my sensual pleasures. It tries to distract me by its many attractive forms, and tries to captivate my mind in many different ways so that it

(my mind) does not stay in itself peacefully. 1. Waheguru had sent it as a slave to serve the living beings, but on the contrary, it has conquered (controlled) everybody everywhere. It has spared nobody, including those who meditate on the river banks or at holy places, and the mystics who have renounced the world, even though they might have exhausted themselves studying the Vedas and the Upanishads and practising their teachings. 2. It sits by my side (to misguide me) all the time, and also invades all the worlds with great force. One cannot survive its powerful attacks by taking shelter in some imperfect guru. So, tell me whose shelter I should seek to escape its attacks, oh, my friend? 3. Listening to somebody's good advice, I came to the shelter of the Perfect Guru, who reinforced Waheguru's Naam in my mind as the real Mantra to fend off the attacks of Maya. By singing praise of the limitless Waheguru, my mind is staying in its own home now (it does not wander anymore). By connecting with Waheguru, I have become worry-free, oh Nanak. 4. Now my mind stays in its own house (I have full control over it), and Maya has become my mistress. The Guru has made me the ruler of my mind, and Maya has become my slave. Second Pause. 4.4.

NOTE: This holy Shabad is a partial narrative of an important event in Guru Arjun Sahib's life. Guru Sahib's elder brother, Pirthi Chand, was very upset at the fact that their father, Guru Ram Dass Ji, had passed on the Gurushipto His youngest son, Arjun Dev Ji, depriving Pirthi Chand of Gurushipbecause he was highly money-minded and egoist, as result of which Guru Ram Dass Ji did not think of him as deserving Guruship even though, he was the eldest son. Pirthi Chand always thought that it was his “right” to be the next Guru. When he was denied that right, he became highly agitated and tried every possible way to deprive Guru Arjun Sahib of the Guruship. When all his efforts failed, he made his last move by seeking the help of the army commander of Lahore, Sulhi Khan, who was Pirthi Chand’s friend.

Guru Arjun Dev Ji had a brick kiln built to bake bricks for the construction of Harmandir Sahib (also known as the Golden Temple). Pirthi Chand advised Sulhi Khan to ask Guru Arjun Dev Ji to provide the bricks to build a mosque in Lahore, knowing full well that Guru Arjun Sahib would never agree. He further suggested to Sulhi Khan that if (Guru) Arjun Dev (Ji) refuses to meet his demand, he should forcibly get the bricks. Sulhi Khan was thrilled to hear the suggestion. He wrote a letter to Guru Sahib demanding the bricks and threatened that if the Guru refused, he would attack the Guru and forcibly obtain the bricks.

When the Sikhs learned of this new problem, they became very concerned and made various suggestions to Guru Sahib, as described in the holy Shabad above. Guru Sahib knew the real source of the problem and knew that nothing would work. So He did not take any preventive measures and simply prayed to Waheguru. Guru Sahib politely wrote back, explaining that He could not give the bricks because they were being baked for a very noble cause.

This non-compliance on the part of Guru Sahib made Sulhi Khan really mad, and he left Lahore for Amritsar with a small army. The brick-kiln lay on the road between Lahore and Amritsar. When Sulhi reached the brick-kiln, he wanted to examine the situation with his own eyes. He rode his horse to the top of the wall of the kiln when a huge flame of fire advanced towards Sulhi Khan with a big, scary noise. The horse got so scared that he jumped into the fire, taking Sulhi Khan with him, who turned into ashes very quickly.

The lesson of this Shabad is that when you have no means to fight some impossible situation, just pray to Waheguru and have full faith in Him.

MEANING: The first suggestion that was given to me (Guru Arjun Dev Ji) was to send a letter (to Sulhi Khan). The second suggestion was that I should send a couple of men (to negotiate with Sulhi Khan). (When I expressed my unwillingness to the two suggestions), I was advised to take preventive measures to resolve this difficult situation. (Convinced that nothing will work with the conceited and the unreasonable Sulhi Khan), I did nothing and just remembered (prayed to) Waheguru, leaving everything to Him. 1.

One enjoys great blissfulness and peace of mind when he remembers Waheguru. The fear of all his enemies and aggressors is destroyed (with full faith in Waheguru), and one enjoys comfort. Pause. My Satgur explained to me that human life and body are Waheguru’s possessions (gifts) (so He looks after you all the time). Now, I have full faith that Waheguru is my real shelter, and He is the True King. So, whatever I do is based on His strength for me. 2. Where else can I go for support without You, oh Waheguru? Nobody else is like You (equal to You). Your devotee is not dependent (subservient) to anyone. The money-worshipper is misguided (to ignore You) as if he is in some wilderness with no real direction. 3. Your magnanimity is beyond description. You protect me everywhere by embracing me. I, am Your slave and under Your protection, oh Waheguru. Waheguru saved my dignity, and I feel great joy in my mind, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Sauday Kuou = for the business (of Waheguru's Naam). Vust(u) = product; merchandise. Anoop = of unparalleled beauty. Labhaaya = liked very much; fell in love with. Raas(i) = capital for business. Pullaiy = in possession. Aani = brought. Ruttan = precious like a jewel (Waheguru's Naam). Luptaani = clung to. 1. Shah = the owner of the business (Waheguru). Vapaari = buyers (devotees). Vukkhur(u) = product to buy (Waheguru's Naam). Sauda = deal. Pause. Putthaaya = sent. Shaahaiy Paas(i) = to Satguru. Amoal = invaluable. Visht(u) = the mediator (Satguru). Soobhaayee = sweet-natured. Nihchul = peaceful. 2. Bhuou = fear. Tuskur = thief. Sehj(i) = in a blissful state of mind. Vihaajhi = bought. Sat Kaiy Khuttiyain = earned by honest means. Suhee slaamut(i) = safely. 3. MEANING: After having endured all the difficulties of renouncing the captivating world of Maya using different means, I came to the door of Waheguru to deal in the merchandise of Waheguru's Naam. When I heard about the product of unparalleled beauty (Waheguru's Naam), I fell in love with it. On "seeing" the jewel-like, precious Product, my mind became so greedy for it that I clung to it (the Product). (I knew what it took to buy this unique Product) So, I acquired the capital of noble qualities for investment. 1. I, as a businessman, came to the door of King Waheguru, the owner of the Product, and requested to show the product so as to make a deal. Pause. But Waheguru sent me to the Satguru because only the Satguru can strike the deal. Like the invaluable Product (Waheguru's Naam), the investment needed to buy it (Godlike noble qualities) is also invaluable. I found the Satguru to be a very sweet-natured mediator, and He got me the Product with which my mind became fully stable (peaceful). 2. There is no fear of a thief who could steal this Product, or of wind which could blow it away, or of water which could dissolve or carry it with its current. This Product was acquired in the blissful state of mind, and will be stored in my heart in the same state. (Unlike the business in the real world, where some unethical deals are made) There was no trouble of any kind in this deal because the Product (Waheguru's Naam) was acquired through honest means (high moral values and hard labour). And, I was able to store it safely in my heart. 3. As an added benefit, my mind has become blissful. Both the owners of the Naam (Waheguru and Satguru) are worthy of our respect as they are very liberal and kind donors. But some rare devotee gets to buy this precious Product in the shelter of Satguru. I was lucky to have this comforting merchandise, oh Nanak. 4.6.

MEANING: My dear Waheguru did not care about my good or bad qualities, nor did He look at my physical beauty or my adornments. He did not even pay any attention to my mannerisms and my deeds, nor did He examine my ways of life. He simply took me by the arm to His bed (of heart) (accepted me as His devotee). 1. Listen to this, oh my friend, my Waheguru-husband took full charge of me, and made me His own by placing His kind hand on my forehead; what does this ignorant world know (about His generosity)? Pause. My married life (with Waheguru-husband) has become very pleasant and enjoyable now. My Husband looked at my troubles with scorn and removed them all. Now the yard (lawn) of my heart is looking very pretty as if the moon is shining there. I am enjoying blissfulness with my Husband day and night. 2. With Waheguru's love (Naam) in there, my heart feels as if it has acquired all the nine treasures of god Kuber, and I am enjoying permanent joy and other luxuries of life. When Waheguru adorns a human soul (with noble qualities), it stays married with Him eternally and enjoys His company, oh Nanak. 4.7.

MEANING: Your disciples perform all the rituals of respect for you, and give you donations, oh Brahman Ji. (In return, you bless their house ritualistically, which costs you nothing at all) And after this give-and-take, you deny all the good things they do for you. But, when you are presented before Waheguru in His Court, you will have to repent badly (for your immoral behaviour), oh Brahman. 1. Such Brahmans, who have evil thoughts about innocent people who cause them no harm, sink deeply in morality despite the fact that they may have read many religious books. Pause. They are loaded with greed in their mind, and go around like mad dogs. They vilify innocent people and carry a huge burden (of unwarranted vilification) on their heads (souls). Deceived by Maya, they do not remember Waheguru, and guided by their misbeliefs (illusions of Maya), they are misled in many ways. 2. They don religious robes of many kinds (to impress people), yet they are trapped in Maya's net inwardly. They preach to others, but have no knowledge of them (of the importance of their teachings) (do not practise their teachings). Such a Brahman is never successful anywhere. 3. Remember Waheguru, oh foolish Brahman; He is always with you and observes, and listens to everything in your mind. (Guru) Nanak advises you to take the shelter of the Guru, if you are fortunate, oh Brahman. 4.8.

MEANING: All my troubles and (mental) ailments have left my body (are eliminated), and my mind is pure now because of my singing the virtues of Waheguru. My mind is blissful in the company of the Guru, and has become peaceful now (does not wander any more). 1. The fire of my desires has been extinguished with the recitation of the Shabad of the Guru, oh my mother. All my ailments and worries have been eliminated on meeting with (taking shelter of) the calm and cool Guru, whom I connected with in the blissful state of mind, and by my love for Him. Pause. (With the grace of the Guru) I comprehended (realized) “the one and the only” Waheguru, and now my ever-rushing mind has found its permanent place (high spiritual state). Your holy saints are here to salvage the world, and one feels fully contented upon seeing (meeting) them, oh Waheguru. 2. All my wrongdoings in life are behind me now, and with the grace of the Guru, all my ill thoughts are under my control. Fully absorbed in the blissful state, my mind is singing songs of joy now as it has lost all fears of death (being one with God, death cannot kill the devotees). 3.
My Royal Waheguru is the creator of the whole universe, is omnipotent, and is the source of all comforts. I, Nanak, survive by reciting His Naam, and have become “one” with Him like the cross threads of fabric (warp and weft), and He is my benefactor. 4.9.

MEANING: A vilifier (malicious critic) of others forgets Waheguru, and then suffers because of his guilt. He wails and cries (with mental agony), which is the result of his own wrongdoings. Pause. If there is any associate of such a vilifier, he is also taken away with him (by the Angel of death). He carries a needless heavy burden like that of a huge python, and suffers in the fire of jealousy in Waheguru's Court. 1.
I am simply stating the facts about what happens to such vilifiers in the Court of Waheguru. Waheguru's devotees are always blissful, and their hearts bloom when they sing His praise, oh Nanak. 2.10.

pleased; satisfied. Anik = countless; many. Soogundhut = fragrances. Til(u) = sesame seed. Smaam(i) = equal. Chitvoun = think of; plan. Asaayee = wish. 1. Dheeraiy = becomes stable (peaceful). MEANING: The pain of separation from my dear Waheguru is stealing away all my comforts. What should I do to satisfy (control) my mind, oh my mother? Pause.

Even when I beautified my body with all adornments, my mind was not satisfied. If I spray my body with countless fragrances, I still do not get even a small amount of any comfort, not even the size of a sesame seed. My only wish is that I lived by "seeing" my beloved Waheguru, oh my mother. 1. Even the comfort from my exclusive clothes and jewellery does not count (is no match to the comfort that I get from union with my dear Waheguru). Even if I receive lots of respect, praise, honour, and recognition from everybody, and when the whole world is under my command, and I am endowed with a beautiful house and have lots of wealth, all of these luxuries do not match the blissfulness I get when my Waheguru likes me. 2. My mind does not get contentment, and my desires do not go away even when I enjoy delicious foods of many kinds, have a host of various entertainments at my command, and have a large estate to rule, and command a large number of people. The time does not move without "seeing" my Waheguru, but I get all the comforts when I meet (get connected) with Him 3. On looking around expectantly, I heard the news that nobody can swim across the sea of Maya (find salvation) without the shelter of the Guru. But only those get connected with Satguru who have good fortune written on their forehead. When (by the grace of the Satguru), I found my Waheguru in my body and mind, my wish was fulfilled. My deep thirst to see Him was quenched, and I became fully contented, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Third, you have a high status in society, yet you have a deformed personality because of your conceited mind, oh man. 1. You have beautiful looks, are wise and intelligent, but you are a slave of worldly attachments and personal ego, oh man. Pause. You have a very clean kitchen by your religious standards; you observe all the rituals, including washing your body early in the morning, anointing your forehead with red, and performing ritualistic worship. Even though you educate people by your sermons, your talk smacks of ego. All your qualities are lost to your doglike greed. 2. You wear rich clothes, and enjoy all luxuries, and your deeds earn you praise among the people. You wear fragrances of essences of different flowers and of sandalwood, and a whole bunch of similar things, but the deceitful (harmful) and the wicked rage is your friend (is a permanent part of your personality). 3. All other life forms (living beings) are your slaves, and you (humankind) rule this earth. Unlike other living beings, you use rich metals like gold and silver and also money (to enjoy life), but your sweet nature has been ruined by your lust. 4. The devotee, on whom Waheguru casts a kind sight, is saved from the prison (enslavement) of Maya. Such a devotee enjoys the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru, and is successful in his objective (of merging with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 5. Word Meaning: Ikk-tookay = each verse has only one line. Jeevut Deesaiy = visibly alive. Surpur = for sure. Mooa = dead (from worldly desires). Nihchul = permanent; forever. 1. Jeevut Mooyay = one who has killed his desires while living in the family. Uvkhudh(u) = medication. Pause. Kaachi Mutukee = unbaked earthen vessel. Binus(i) Binaasa = certain to be destroyed and to vanish. Tirkooti = the three effects of Maya. Nij Ghur(i) = in own house, unwavering (peaceful) mind. 2. Puyyala = lowest level on ground. Dhern(i) = on the ground. Kaala = (spiritual) death. 3. Bhermut Phireh(i) = wander with wavering mind; unsatisfied. Usthir = stable; have a peaceful mind. Kmaaya = adopted (Guru's Shabad in life). 4. Jeeo = life; soul. Pind(u) = body. Maal(u) = property. Nihaal = blissful. 5.

MEANING: Whoever is visibly alive (happy, enjoying life) has to die for sure; and the individual, who has killed all his worldly desires while living in the family, will live forever (by becoming a part of Waheguru). 1. The living have to die, and those who are dead in terms of worldly attractions will live forever. Such lucky devotees are given the medication of Waheguru's tasteful Naam in the form of Guru's Shabad, which is the true liquid of immortality, and makes them immortal too. Pause. The human body is like an unbaked earthen vessel, bound to be destroyed and to vanish. However, the individual who has achieved a spiritual state above the effects of Maya will find his own permanent place (in Waheguru's Soul). 2. One who flies very high in the sky (has a very tall ego) will eventually fall to the ground (will meet his death and be buried in the ground). But the individual who stays on the earth (is humble and has no ego) is not afraid of physical death. 3. Those whose mind keeps wandering all the time (cannot make decisions) achieve nothing (no peace of mind); but those who follow the Guru's Shabad achieve complete peace of mind. 4. A devotee, who drinks Waheguru's Amrit-Naam, is oblivious of worldly worries under its intoxication. All other intoxications are of very low standard. Pause. No one can put any value on Waheguru as an intoxicant. It is stored in Guru's shop (in His heart). You cannot buy Waheguru's Naam even with millions of rupees (dollars). Only those who have it in their fortune (are predestined by Waheguru) acquire it. 2. Those who taste Waheguru's Naam get mesmerized (hypnotized). If you act like the slave of His slaves (devotees), you will earn respect at Waheguru's Door, oh my friend. 2. MEANING: My mind was fully purified when I got connected with the Perfect Guru who salvaged me (pulled me out of the deep well of Maya) in a moment. Also, the heavy burden (suffering) of reincarnation for me was eradicated. Pause. Like a gambler who loses his money in gambling, I was able to lose my evil vices like lust, rage, the intoxication of Maya, and jealousy, etc. (life is a gamble in which the man loses his morality and other noble qualities for the short gain of the gimmicks of Maya). But I won noble qualities like service to mankind, contentment, kindness, righteousness, and truthful living in my mind. 1.
My mind has become very humble, and everybody seems like a dear friend to me now. My dear Lord is present in everybody, and looks after every living being by providing the necessities of life to them. 2. He alone is running the affairs of the whole universe, and of all is His expanse. Protect Your children in whatever way You please, oh my Satguru. Kindly impart some noble advice to me so that I may always sing praise of the unreachable, and limitless Waheguru. Pause. It is amazing that a fetus survives in the heat of his mother's womb, supported by Waheguru's Naam, where he remembers Waheguru with every breath, and stays blissful without the heat of the womb causing him any discomfort. 2. (But as the baby arrives in the world), he is attracted by Maya in many ways, and forgets his saviour – Waheguru. But one should not forget Him, and should not trade his friendship with Waheguru for bad qualities like having evil thoughts about wealth, women, and vilification of others. Taking shelter of the Perfect Guru, serve the lotus-like soft Feet of Waheguru (recite His Naam), oh, my friends. 3.
All those big houses, mansions and palaces that one sees and feels proud of will not accompany him at his death. As long as one lives in this world full of vices, he should recite Waheguru's Naam, oh, Nanak. 4.37.

MEANING: One may be a king, and rule over a large estate (country); he may be very youthful, own large mansions, enjoy fame (have good reputation), may be very handsome, and be young in age; he may have lots of wealth, elephants, horses, and unlimited cash (as down payment to buy more property), but none of these things carry any value in Waheguru's Court when the conceited man leaves this world. 1. So, why should one attach his mind deeply to anything other than the "One" (Waheguru)? One should remember Him (recite His Naam) all the time, whether standing, sitting, sleeping, or awake. Pause.
One may own many amazing and beautiful sports rings, or may have won many battles in the battlefields while shouting words of ego like "I will kill, I will imprison, or I will set free"; but when it is the Will of Waheguru, he leaves this world one day. 2.
A man may perform all the religious rituals and other customs, but if he does not recognize the Creator (makes no connection with God), he will leave the world bare (without any additional noble quality the way he came to this world), and all his rituals will be as ineffective as the bath of an elephant which sprays itself with dust after the bath. 3.
Listen, oh my friends and the holy people, the visible expanse of the universe is all false (short-lived). The people drown in the world-sea of Maya, working very hard to satisfy their selfishness and ego, but the foolish leave this world without having achieved anything (spiritually) meaningful. But I recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru because only Waheguru's Naam salvages us, oh Nanak. 4.1.38.

Word Meaning: Mul(u) = filth. Praayee = of others. Eehaan = here; in this life. Dhoyee = shelter. Jumpur(i) = the city (custody) of the angel of death. 1.
Ninduk(i) = vilifier; malicious critic. Ahila = priceless. Guvaaya = wastes away. Puhouch(i) = reach; achieve. Kaahoo Baataiy = by any superfluous talk; by any means. Aagaiy = in the next world. Tthaur = shelter. Pause.
Kirt Puyya = pre-determined (based on the deeds of previous lives). Bichaara = helpless; unlucky. Bigoota = forced to suffer humiliation; discomfiture. Pookaara = cry for help. 2. Gut(i) = comfortable situation. Bhaana = Will. 3.
Tayk = support. Roorraayee = thrown in the sea of Maya; punished.
MEANING: A malicious critic wastes away his priceless human life. He is unable to achieve anything purposeful by any means and gets no shelter in the next world. Pause. Such a vilifier washes away the filth (of the sins) of others, which they had accumulated over many lives, and reaps the reward (punishment) of his own bad deeds. He enjoys no comfort in this life, and gets no support in Waheguru's Court. He is sent directly to the city (custody) of the Angel of Death. 1. But the vilifier is helpless too because his character (of vilifying others) has been given to him by Waheguru based on his deeds of previous lives, and he has to continue to follow his ignoble acts. He is forced to suffer humiliation where nobody can save him, so to whom can he cry for help? 2. It is the Will of the Master (Waheguru) that a malicious critic can have no comfortable situation anywhere. On the contrary, as the holy saints are maliciously criticized, they feel more and more blissful. 3. The holy saints have Your support, and You are their benefactor, oh Waheguru. Waheguru protects His devotees, and their vilifiers are punished, oh Nanak. 4. 2. 41.

Word Meaning: Maiyla = filthy. Dooyay Tthaur = both the shelters (worlds). Eehaan = here; in this world. Viyaapiya = overpowered. Aagaiy= in the next world. Moos(i) Moos(i) = snivel; cry silently in misery. 1. Mut(i) = thinking. Hora = different. Vermi = snake burrow. Dora = deaf. Pause. Kirt(i) = labour for living. Saar = value. Turkun(i) = criticize. Tut(u) = the basis; reality. Joag(u) = union. Ooghur(i) = exposed. Khota = impure. Dhubooa = a one-rupee silver coin. Sraafaan = goldsmiths; appraisers. Untarjaami = omniscient. 3. Koorr(i) = in falsehood. Kuput(i) = Bunch(i) = in deceit. Nimuniaada = with no sound life-span; perishable. Binus(i) = destruction. Tutkaalay = instantaneously. Sat(i) = truth; God. Smaalay = remember. 4.

MEANING: An individual, who washes himself externally (at a holy place to show his religiosity) but carries filth in his mind, loses both his shelters – of this world and of the next. Here, in this world, he is overpowered by lust, rage, and worldly attachments, while he has to snivel (cry silently in misery) in the next world. 1. But, the thinking of the devotee of Waheguru is completely different (opposite). The imposter wears religious garbs, but is deaf to Waheguru's Naam. It is like destroying a snake's burrow without killing it. (The snake-like mind of an imposter does not change by his giving an impression that he has abandoned Maya by wearing a religious garb). Pause. Such an individual quits the hard labour to earn a living, but has no idea of the worth of the worship of Waheguru either. He begins to criticize religious texts like the Vedas and the Shastras, but does not understand the reality of connecting with Waheguru. 2. But when the holy saints observe him and come to know about his real intentions, he is exposed like a counterfeit silver coin when the appraisers test it. Being omniscient, Waheguru knows everything, and nothing can be kept hidden from Him. 3. Such a hypocrite and deceitful individual, who has no sound life span, is destroyed instantaneously. Search yourself and find the truth, because I am saying only the truth, oh Nanak. 4.3.42.

Sherdha = with full faith; dedication; reverence. Nirt(i) = dance. Nivaaray = removes; destroys. 4.

MEANING: (Some people wear anklets with bells, and dance with musical instruments with the belief that they are pleasing their deity); but singing Your praise with (love and devotion) is the dance of Your devotees to please You, oh Waheguru. Rather than dancing to the tune of the musical instruments like the lute, tabor, cymbal, and the bells of the anklet, the devotee creates the Divine Music with the Guru's Shabad. Pause.

The mind of such a devotee gets purified just with the initiative he takes to recite Your Naam, oh Waheguru. With Your Naam at heart, he controls the five demons, and overcomes his selfishness and ego as a result of which his mind begins to dance blissfully. 1

First, he enlightens his own mind, and then he gets others to love Your Naam. He remembers Your Naam by heart, and recites aloud for others to listen, oh God. 2.

He washes the Guru's feet with his hands and bathes in the dust of the feet of the holy saints (both churn kumul and churn dust have been used frequently in Guru Granth Sahib as metaphors, as marks of respect for the Guru's Shabad). He offers his body (for service) and the mind (to listen to His Shabad) to the Guru, whereby he acquires Your Naam by His grace. 3. Whoever listens to Guru's Shabad and has His holy glimpse with full faith gets the suffering of his rebirths terminated. He stays awake (alert) against the attacks of the captivating Maya in Guru's shelter, and such dancing of his mind kills the suffering of hell (reincarnation), oh Nanak. 4.4.43

MEANING: My Satguru has kindly changed the direction of my thinking by virtue of which my cat-like discontentment has now become hesitant to pounce on a mouse (the attractive articles of Maya). Satguru has enabled me to replace my lion-like conceit with a goat-like humble nature, and my dog-like greedy nature has been changed into a dove-like sweet nature which feeds on grains (I have achieved contentment). Pause. My low-class savage frame of mind has been changed into a high-class Brahman (noble thinking), or as if an untouchable has been changed into a person of the highest class. My discontented nature, which always wanted more, and more, whether I was flying in the skies (had high spirits), or was depressed as if I was in the underworld, has its fire of desires completely put out (or killed). 1. My mind, which was never at home (was wandering everywhere), has finally found its home (has become peaceful) as if a building has been supported without any pillars (it does not need any support of Maya). My mind has become so beautiful (adorned with ornaments of noble qualities) as if a beautiful ornament of gold had been designed without a goldsmith, with an amazing precious stone inlaid in it. 2.
My mind, which always complained about injustice of one kind or another, has calmed down and has begun to feel that it is receiving justice now. The conceit of my mind, as a result of which I felt as if I was sitting in the chair of a judge (or had a position of power), and because of which I was always eager to bully people, seems to have been killed now. 3.
Only that individual is ignorant who claims that he knows everything, but the omniscient Waheguru is not hidden (He is present everywhere, and knows everything). My Satguru has served me the Naam-Amrit, which I am drinking while enjoying every bit of it, and am feeling blissful, oh Nanak. 4.5.44.

Moreover, by what means have you gotten rid of the vices like lust, rage, and ego, which are so difficult to control? 1. Like a wildfire that burns the big trees and other vegetation, the fire of Maya (desires) burns (causes suffering) for all the Maya-lovers; and just like some small green plants escape the wildfire, some rare, humble people, who survive on Waheguru's Naam, escape the fire of Maya. 2. The whole world operates under the influence of the three effects of Maya, as a result of which, they reincarnate again, and again in hell or in paradise (in discomfort or in some comforts). 3.

An individual, whom Waheguru makes recite His Naam, becomes successful in his objective (of union with Waheguru), and is approved by Him, oh Nanak. 4.24.75.

I enjoy the blissfulness of my high spiritual state above Maya with the deep love for my dear Waheguru in my heart. With the keen desire to "meet" with Waheguru, how can I afford to be lazy? Pause. If some delicious liquid is poured onto the cupped (bowl-shaped) hands of a man who does not realize its value, the liquid leaks through his hands and spreads on the ground wastefully. 2. The same is the situation with a Maya-gripped individual, who is deeply engrossed in the enjoyment of different tastes of life, worldly attachments, and conceit, and does not realize the value of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. So, he cannot blame the Creator for not availing the opportunity to have the Naam-Amrit. 3. My misgivings and darkness of ignorance were dispelled in the company (shelter) of the Guru, and the Creator, Waheguru, connected me with Him, oh Nanak. 4.25.76.

He does not realize that the mouse of time is continuously nibbling away the thread of his life while he is enjoying the luxuries fallen in a deep well (unaware of the impending danger).
1. His ignorant lifestyle is like expecting a permanent shelter in the shade of a tree (which keeps changing direction). At the same time, the noose of death has aimed a powerful arrow at him (death is approaching fast, and he is still not doing anything spiritual).
2. He believes as if the world is his permanent home, while his stay in the world is just like a sand-castle built on a sea-shore which can be demolished by waves at any time.

MEANING: You enjoy life only because of the soul in you, oh human body. We all interact with one another only because of the soul present in us. Everybody wants to interact with the human body only because of the soul; nobody wants to interact with the body without the soul in it. 1. Where the soul detached from the body goes, nobody knows. But without it, the human body suffers. Pause. With the soul in it, the human body is very active and gets importance (attention) from others. The body is kept well-nourished when it has soul in it, but without the soul, it gets belittled. 2.
The body gets respect and recognition (if any) and has a relationship with the world only because of the soul in it. The body is raised in many different ways simply because of the soul in it; otherwise, it is just a pile of dust. 3. The soul, which is not connected to any particular body permanently, does not die or go away; it simply obeys Waheguru's command and is takes rebirths as per the Will of Waheguru. It is Waheguru who connects and disconnects bodies and souls. Only He knows His working, oh Nanak. 4.31.82.

Uver(u) = someone else. Maarunvaara = cause death. Pause. Bundhun = worldly bonds. Dhunda = running around for Maya. Maiyl(u) = filth of Maya (evil deeds). Anund MEANING: NOTE: The real clue to the meaning of this holy Shabad lies in the 4th verse. So, the meaning of the Shabad will start with the 4th stanza.

Ikk Runga = the same colour (similar). 4.

The Guru has removed all my misgivings (illusions), and my separation from Waheguru to the extent that I have acquired the virtuous qualities of Waheguru, and have become "one" with Him, oh Nanak. Now, I have no independent existence (I am a part of Him), and it is only Him everywhere. 4. Waheguru is immortal, He never dies, (so being "one with Him), I am not afraid of death. He never vanishes, so I do not suffer in the pain of His separation. Since He is not poor (he is rich in everything; His treasures are always full), I also do not have any appetite for anything. He does not experience any suffering, so I am also free from all suffering. 1. There is no one else who can cause death; my Waheguru is long living (immortal) who has given life to me. (Being "one" with Him, nobody can kill me). Pause. Since Waheguru has no bonds, I do not have any bonds either. Waheguru has no bonds of Maya, so I should not be running around for Maya either. He carries no filth of Maya, so, being part of Him, I have no such filth either. He is blissful all the time, so I am also enjoying bliss. 2. He has no worries, nor do I. He is unaffected by Maya, so am I. Waheguru has no appetite of any kind; I also have no desires for Maya. When He is pure (being "one" with Him), I am also worthy of worship (pure, pious). 3. 32.83.

Human life is very short and uncertain, like water stored in an unbaked earthen vessel (which can break at any time). But, not realizing this reality, and full of ego, the man still engages in accumulating wealth, which is also short-lived. Pause. (By doing injustices and using unfair means), a king becomes fearless and shameless, and never thinks of the Creator (Waheguru), who is always with him. He raises armies to accumulate more wealth with the use of force, but turns into ash when he takes his last breath. 2. He may own tall mansions and palaces, and may have beautiful queens; may have elephants and horses of his choice; and may have a large family of sons and daughters; but eventually the foolish and the ignorant

I have gotten rid of Maya, which captivates the whole world by connecting with Waheguru, which is above its effects, and I am ecstatic (blissful) now. Pause. Maya is so attractive that it captivates the mind everywhere, whether you are travelling, meditating on a riverbank, at home, or even in a forest (where some people go to run away from it), and looks for you very carefully (to exert its effects). It feels very sweet to body and mind, but with the Guru’s grace, I have found it to be highly deceptive. 2. Its ancestors (lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and ego, etc.) are even more deceitful; they do not spare even the mother or the father. They entrap their friends (who like them), but I have been able to control them with the grace of the Guru. 3. Now that all my bonds have been broken, and I am not afraid of any sin, I feel highly blissful. Ghunta = a large (church) bell. Chuhoun Koont = in all four directions. Aasun = seat. Baiykoontth = paradise. Chuvur = royal whisk. Jhoolaiy = is fanned. Dhoop(u) = incense. Perphoolaiy = flourishes; increases in intensity. 2. Sumput(u) = a box in which the idol is placed for resting. Abhug = immortal. MEANING: (Many people worship the rocks known as Saalgiram as god Vishnu, bathe them, offer flowers and incense, etc., and put them in a box to rest); they do not realize that the real Lord, Waheguru, is present in everybody and everywhere, including waters. So, being present everywhere, He (the Lord) bathes all the twenty-four hours, and the omniscient Lord does not need any feeding because He enjoys different foods all the time while sitting in every living being. He leaves no body in suffering; so, one should touch His feet again, and again (remember Him and obey Him). 1.

Service to the Lord (Waheguru) is our way of worshipping Saalgiram, and reciting His Naam is our way of offering flowers, incense, etc., and kneeling before the idol. Pause.

(People ring bells in the temples, fan the idol in the temple with a whisk, light up incense, and put him in a box for resting), But the bell of Lord's Shabad is heard in the whole world, and His seat (omnipresence) is the real paradise. His royal whisk (in the form of air) fans everybody (provides comfort to everybody), and His incense in the form of vegetation provides fragrance all the time. 2. Every heart is the box for His rest, and the assembly of His holy devotees is eternal. His aarti in the form of His praise is always blissful, and there is no limit to the greatness of His beautiful (splendid) qualities. 3.

But only that individual can connect with Him (Waheguru) who is predestined to do so. Such a fortunate individual comes to the shelter of the Guru and attains a spiritual height to connect with Him. This is Guru's gift to the devotee, oh Nanak. 4.39.90.

Pause. (The world is considered to be the ocean of Maya, and one needs to take some kind of boat to cross it). The operators of the boat loaded with the five demons are very greedy and rob one of his spiritual wealth; so, the holy saints stay away from such a boat (do not follow that path). 2. MEANING: Waheguru sent Satgur Nanak in the world, and an eternal relationship was established between the masses and faith in Waheguru. The fetus began to grow in the mother's womb, who felt extreme enjoyment (blissfulness). 1.
A great devotee of Waheguru (Guru Nanak) was born as a son to the parents (had a natural birth, unlike some other "holy" persons who were believed to have unnatural births) who enlightened the hearts of the people as preplanned by Waheguru. Pause.
As per the natural laws, the child (Guru Nanak) was born after ten months as a result of which all sadness was (worries were) eradicated, and a wave of great enjoyment spread throughout the world. All the well-wishers (and the devotees) began to sing the bliss-producing praise of Waheguru (and the Satguru), which was liked by the True Lord. 2.
The vine of virtuous devotees began to flourish, and a new line of descendants of Satguru (Truth and Faith) came into being. The Satguru instilled the power of faith in Waheguru in the hearts of the people with a sound base. The Satguru connected the minds of the people with full concentration to Waheguru, thereby fulfilling their wishes and making them worry-free. 3. Just as a child has faith and pride in his father, the masses began to have full faith in Guru Nanak, and they began to speak the language of Satguru (did whatever pleased Him). There is nothing hidden now that it was the kind Satguru Nanak who gave the gift of Waheguru' s Naam, and mental peace to the people. 4. 7.101.
NOTE: Most people believe that this holy Shabad was written by Guru Arjun Dev Ji (Mehla 5) at the birth of His son (Guru) Hargobind Sahib, as an expression of thankfulness to Guru Nanak, because Sri Hargobind Ji was born a long time of six years after Guru Sahib's marriage to Mata Gunga Ji. But this interpretation has many problems as follows:

1. The very first word, "Satgur" of the holy Shabad could not have been used for Sri Hargobind Ji because he was not Guru at the time of his birth. Only Guru Nanak was the Satgur at His birth, according to Sikh belief. Even otherwise, since this Shabad was written after Guru Nanak Sahib had been the Guru for a long time, the title was perfectly appropriate for Him.
2. Guru Hargobind Sahib was not the first (or the only) Bhagat (of that level) of Waheguru. He was preceded by the other five Guru Sahiban. (Pause).
3. Peerri Chaali: No new line of descendants started with Guru Hargobind Sahib. Such a line started only with Guru Nanak Sahib. (Verse 3).

So, the holy Shabad is in praise of Guru Nanak.

I have full faith in Him. Any support other than that of Waheguru is weak and non-durable. Pause. His Huqam is limitless (His laws operate throughout the universe), and no one can find His limits.
