I survive (my mind blooms) by listening to the praise of the individual who is a devotee only of Waheguru, and serves Him like a slave (obeys His Will without any complaint). I make efforts to have Waheguru's Sight, but that happens only with His benevolence. 1.

I can have His Sight only with the grace of the Guru, and will not recognize anybody else. I am Waheguru's slave, and pray to Him that He gives me the gift of the opportunity to wash the feet of the Guru (serve Him with love and reverence), oh Nanak. 2.74.97.

MEANING: I survive by singing Waheguru's praise, and pray to Him that He becomes kind to me so that I never forget Him. Pause.
My mind, body, and wealth are all given by You, and there is no other shelter for me. I pray to You that I should lead my life the way You please, and be fully content to eat and wear what You provide, oh Waheguru. 1. I am a sacrifice for the company of the Guru because of which one does not take rebirths.
I am Guru's slave, and have come to His shelter; I will be happy the way He runs my life (guides me in life), oh Nanak. 2.75.98.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the source of supreme bliss, oh my mind. All other rituals are worthless, rooted in Maya and as useless as dust. Pause.
One's attachment to his household is like a deep and dark pit of Maya in which he becomes immoral while enjoying sensual pleasures, and which becomes the basis of the immensely dark hell. He gets exhausted by going through countless life forms again and again. 1.
With folded hands, I pray to Waheguru, who loves His worship (devotees), and who purifies the immoral, to be kind to the humble me, and to salvage me in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 2.76. 99.

All my wishes have been fulfilled, the fire of my desires has been put out, and all my griefs and sufferings have ended. My mind, body, and soul have been contented by singing praise of the immortal Waheguru. 1.

The intoxication of my wealth, my lust, rage, greed, and my jealousy for others has all been eradicated in the shelter of the Guru. The lover of His worship (worshippers), and the destroyer of all fears – Waheguru- is my mother and my father now, oh Nanak. 2.77.100.

Word Meaning: Aatur(u) = in suffering. Triput(i) = contented. Kookri = dog-like. It(u) Bikhiya = these poisonous wishes. Chhaar = dust-like; worthless. Pause. Ttugauri = mind-captivating. Aap(i) = (Waheguru) Himself. Bhoolaayo = misled. Baaro Baar = again, and again. Simrun(u) = remembering. Jum Kunkur = assistants of the Angel of death. Khooaar = humiliates. 1. Deen = helpless. Dookh-Bhunjun = the destroyer of all troubles (God). Ravaar = dust of the feet. Daas(u) = slave; devotee. Ders(u) = Sight. Jaachaiy = begs for. Ravaar = dust of the feet. 2.

MEANING: The world suffers without Waheguru's Naam. Man is greedy like a dog, and his poisonous worldly wishes never get fulfilled, and he continues to be attracted to them, which are as worthless as dust. Pause.

But it is not entirely man's fault because Waheguru Himself has misled him by subjecting him to the magic of the mind-captivating Maya, which results in his taking rebirths again and again. He does not recite Waheguru's Naam – not even for a moment – as a result of which he suffers humiliation at the hands of the assistants of the Angel of death. 1.

Please, be kind to this slave of Yours, and grant me the opportunity to serve Your holy saints like a slave, oh, the destroyer of all suffering, Waheguru. I, Nanak, am a slave of Yours, and beg for Your holy sight, which is the basis of my body and mind, oh Lord. 2.78.101.

Word Meaning: Maiyla = filthy. Bhoolaaya = misled. Bikhaiy Tthugauri = the mind-captivating poisonous Maya. Peaou = by feeding. Pause. Bhermutau = wandering through. Buhou Bhaati = in many ways (forms). Thit(i) = stability; peace. Nuhhi Kub-hoon = never. Sehj(i) = in a peaceful state. Bhaytiya = met; got connected with. Shaakut(u) = Maya-worshipper. 1. Sumruth = omnipotent. Daatay = oh, the Provider. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaar = endless. Bhuvjul = the world-sea. 2.

MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam, man's soul (mind) is filthy. But he cannot be fully blamed for his filthy thinking, because Waheguru misleads him by feeding him the poisonous, mind-captivating attractions of Maya. Pause.

He wanders through countless life forms and never achieves stability (peace by connecting with Waheguru). The Maya-worshipper never connects with the Guru in his peaceful state of mind and continues to be born and to die. 1.

I have come to the shelter of the omnipotent, the inaccessible, and the endless Waheguru with the supplication that He protects me in every which way. I, Nanak, am Your slave, and have come to Your shelter to be ferried across the world-sea, oh Waheguru. 2.79. 102.

Word Meaning: Rumun Kuou = to recite (sing). Goon Baad = chanting of virtues. Sooaad = enjoy taste. Pause. Achoot Abinaashi = immortal. Binsay = ended. Maad = intoxication. Sehj = peacefulness. Unhud Dhoon(i) = Divine music. Bikhaad = disputes; conflicts. 1. Sunkaadik = like Sunuk (the four sons of Brahma). Brahmaadik = like Brahma. Sook = a sage. Prehlaad = a child devotee of Waheguru. Amiyo = Amrit. Munohar = mind-captivating. Bismaad = amazement. 2.

MEANING: There is only one thing to sing and to discuss - and that is Waheguru's virtues (His gifts) - for which the company of the Guru is the perfect place where the sweetness of Waheguru's Amrit Naam can be enjoyed. Pause.

By remembering only the immortal Waheguru (reciting His Naam), one overcomes the intoxication (ego) of the enjoyments of Maya (gets his worldly desires eradicated). One attains a high spiritual state, feels blissful, and feels as if he is listening to an auto-playing Divine melody. Also, his internal conflicts are fully resolved, and he never suffers from them again.1.

All four sons of Brahma, and gods like Brahma, sing Waheguru's praise, and so do the Sage, Sook, and the child devotee, Prehlad. By drinking the mind-captivating sweet Naam-Amrit of Waheguru, and reciting it, I am lost in the state of amazement, oh Nanak. 2.80.103.

Word Meaning: Koat = forts; heaps. Raiyni = nights. Thukut = exhaust. Chhoat = emancipation. Pause. Bujjur = rock; mountain. Bikh = (spiritually) poisonous. Biyaadhi = ailments. Poat = package. Ooghur Guyyiyaan = came to the surface. Khineh(i) Bheetur(i) = in a moment. Jumeh(i) = the Angel of death. Graasay = grabbed. Jhoat = hair. 1. Pusoo = animals. Prayt = evil spirit. Oosht = camel. Gerdhubh = donkey. Layt = suffers humiliation. Bhuj(u) = remember. Phayt = hurt; punishment. 2.

MEANING: The man commits heaps of sins, and he never gets tired of committing them day and night, from which he cannot ever find emancipation. Pause.

He carries a mountain-like load of the poisonous Maya's sins, like a fatal illness. All his secret sins come to the surface as soon as the Angel of Death grabs him by the hair. 1.

He suffers humiliation as he wanders among countless animal life forms, evil spirits, camels, donkeys, and others. So, recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and you will never suffer any such punishment, oh Nanak. 2.81.104.

Word Meaning: Bisoo = poisonous (Maya). Gutaak = swallows. Servun = ears. Hootiyo = get tired. Tut Ghaat = that moment. Pause. Anaath = helpless. Runjaan(i) = by hurting. Oodur = belly; stomach. Pokheh(i) = nourishes. Guyyiya Haat(i) = recedes; goes away; quits company. Kilbikh = sins. Puchhutaaveh(i) = repents. Chhaant(i) = drop; quit. 1. Ninduk(u) = vilifier; slanderer. Jumdooteen = assistants of the Angel of death. Sunghaariyo = kill; grab. Moond Oopur(i) = on the head. Mutaak = hit. Kutaari = knife. Phaat = to injure.

MEANING: The spiritually blind man gulps (wastes no time to lavishly enjoy) the poisonous sensual pleasures to the extent that his eyes, ears, and his body, all get tired of such enjoyments, and he loses his breath at that moment (he enjoys until his death). Pause.

He nourishes his body by hurting (looting) the helpless, and even that wealth leaves him at the end. He commits sins and repents, but cannot quit committing such sins. 1.

Eventually, the villain is killed by the agents of death when they hit him on the head. Such a person injures his mind with his own knife (immoral acts), oh Nanak. 2.82.105.

Word Meaning: Tooti = is terminated; is not fulfilled. Ninduk = vilifier. Udh Beech = in the middle. Baymookh = who does not listen to the Guru. Aayay Puhounchi = arrives. Meech = (spiritual) death. Pause. Na Baiysun(u) Paavaiy = is not welcome. Eehaan = here; in this world. Aagaiy = in the next world. Bhoonchaiy = bears the consequences. Bhemaavaiy = is taken through. 1. Pergut Bhuyya = becomes infamous. Khundeen Brahmundeean = in the whole universe. Paaya = reaps the rewards. Anund Mungul = blissfulness, and joyfulness. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is the guardian of His devotee; the vilifier, who does not recognize the greatness of the Guru, meets with his spiritual death. His wish to vilify the Guru is never successful, and his hopes are terminated in the middle. Pause.

Nobody listens to what he says, and he is not welcome anywhere. He suffers in this world and suffers in hell as he is taken through many life forms in the next world. 1.

He becomes infamous in the whole universe and reaps the rewards of his sinful deeds. I have come to the shelter of the Fearless Creator, and feel the bliss and joy by singing His praise, oh Nanak. 2.83.106.

Sehj(u) = high spiritual state. Oopjiyo = acquires; attains. Biyohaar(i) = nature. App Per Ka = his own (useful), and of others (harmful). Kaam = lust. Kroadheh(i) = in rage. Jaar(i) = burns; suffers heartache. 1. Biyaapiyo = affects. Taar(i) = salvage. Churn Kumul = Waheguru (His Naam). Bulohaar(i) = sacrifice. 2.

MEANING: Man's fire of desires affects him in many different ways, but his desires never get fulfilled by any means, and he has to lose in the end. Pause.

With the fire of desires burning in his mind, he never attains peace, comforts, or a high spiritual state. This is the nature of human desires (how they work). Under their influence, the man is unable to distinguish between what truly is his (useful for him - Waheguru) and what is not his (harmful for him - Maya); he just burns in the fire of lust and rage. 1.

The world of Maya is the source of all discomforts, so I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, who has lotus-like feet; as His slave, I pray to Him that He ferry me across the world-sea. I am always a sacrifice for Him, oh Nanak. 2.84.107.

The limitless Lord of everybody is fully present in the waters, on the land, and in the sky. I have drunk (taken in) Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and find all other perceived sweet tastes to be actually bitter, oh Nanak. 2.96.119.

The sins of those who recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru get destroyed. They are highly fortunate, and their birth into the world is successful (welcomed) as they merge with Waheguru. 1. Some people wish for the four valuable substances and the 18 supernatural powers, but the holy saints are above all such petty things. I am a slave of such holy saints and wish for the dust of their feet (to serve them humbly) because one finds salvation by taking their shelter, oh Nanak. 2.97.120.

You are limitless, and Your transcendence cannot be comprehended, oh Lord. My mind has been pierced with the deep affection and reverence for Waheguru's Feet (Naam), which I have enshrined in my heart, considering it my complete wealth. 1.

The Vedas, the Puranas, and the Simritis emphasize the holy Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), and the holy saints recite it with their tongue. One swims across the world-sea by reciting the Naam; all other advice on this subject is worthless, oh Nanak. 2.98.121.

I have noticed your nature with my own eyes that you do not stay at any one place. You have not spared anyone (from exhorting them to commit immoral acts) other than the holy saints who are in the shelter of Waheguru. 1. You have captivated all the living beings; only the holy saints comprehend the reality of your nature. With His benevolence, Waheguru has embraced me as His own, and a strong yearning for His holy sight has sprouted in my mind. By singing His praise in the company of the Guru, all my expectations from any other have been crushed (ended). 1.

The Guru has pulled me out of the wilderness of the world-forest (where I was spiritually lost), and has put me on the path leading to union with Waheguru. (With Guru's grace), I have acquired the jewel-like Waheguru, and all my sins have run away with Waheguru's holy sight, oh Nanak. 2.100.123.

Now, Waheguru is life, pride, dignity, father, sons, close relatives, wealth, and everything, for me. The human body, which is made of bones, is shameful and is like a worm of feces which recognizes any other power than Waheguru. 1.

Because of my previous attachment with Waheguru, the destroyer of all suffering, Lord, became kind to the humble me. I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, the treasure and

All one's sins are washed away with the thought of Waheguru's holy sight. The sprouting of immoral acts, which keep him in the cycle of births and deaths, is destroyed. 1.

But some rare devotee, who has it prewritten in his fate, sings praise of the Creator and the eternal Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.102.125.

So, the man should worship (sing praise of) the Lord in the shelter of the Guru (or the holy saints) when all his sins get destroyed disgracefully. A devotee, who embeds Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in his heart, does not suffer from births and deaths again. 1.

Niyaaro = fully detached. Maatung = elephant. Mut(i) Ahunkaar = egoistic thinking. 3. Ker Joar(i) = with folded (clasped) hands. Purakh = living power. Apaar = endless. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam; all other ritualistic deeds are worthless, oh man. Man's fire of his ego and his worldly attachments does not go out, and the world is always in the jaws of spiritual death. Pause.

The life of the unaware man is spent in eating, drinking, laughing (enjoying), and sleeping. (Because of his such behaviour), He is taken care of by the Angel of death, and he burns in the fire of hell-like womb of his mother when he wanders through many life forms. 1.

Ignoring everything else, He commits sins and performs ignoble deeds like defrauding and vilifying others. Without Satguru, he does not realize the grave darkness of his rage (jealousy) and his worldly attachments. 2.

He is robbed of his noble qualities under the influence of the mind-captivating, poisonous Maya, and never thinks of the Creator (Waheguru). With egoistic thinking, the man behaves like a swollen-headed elephant and does not realize that Waheguru is hidden in his body and is fully detached from worldly affairs. 3.

Waheguru's Naam is the basis of the life of holy saints, and Waheguru protects them fully with His benevolence. With folded hands (very humbly), I, too, have come to the shelter of the living power of the limitless Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.1.129.

MEANING: You have become a slave to sensual pleasures; you should rather sing Waheguru's praise, which has priceless virtues, oh my soul. Just think what you will achieve when you worship Waheguru with Guru's Shabad! You will reach Waheguru's Residence (get connected with Him), and enjoy the great bliss of union with Him in His love! Pause. The world is like a dream, and all your possessions are false (short-lived). Why have you been captivated by your worldly attachments, oh my friend? Enshrine the love for the Dear (Waheguru) in your heart. 1.

Waheguru is always very kind and loves His whole creation. Why should we take an interest in anything else? We should stay intoxicated only in the love for Waheguru. When we have the fortune to join the company of the Guru, we sing Waheguru's praise, while meeting with the Angel of death becomes a thing of the past, oh Nanak. 2.1.130.

MEANING: People donate lots of gold and land (to undeserving people), and cleanse their bodies in countless different ways to purify their mind (with the belief that they will go to paradise), but no such deed comes even close to Waheguru's Naam, which one recites with affection. Pause. Some people recite all four Vedas with their tongue (from memory), listen to the 18 Puranas, and the six Shastras, but nothing can match the sweet sound of Waheguru's Naam when recited with deep love for Him. 1.

No personal commitment like fasting, three-time worship of idols, physical purity, going without food, preparing one's own meals without allowing anyone to touch them, rotating one's veins to keep the bowl clean, offering incense and flowers to the idol, and other related deeds carry no value in comparison to Waheguru's Naam. I humbly pray to Waheguru, who is kind to the helpless, that He shows me His holy Sight, which I may enjoy with my eyes. I am His slave, and find His Naam to be very sweet, oh Nanak. 2.2.131.

MEANING: Chant Waheguru's Naam, and enshrine it in your heart, oh my friend. Pause. Listening to Waheguru and reciting His Naam are the true deeds of atonement for the countless sins one commits. Taking the Guru's shelter makes one forsake one's egoistic glamour. 1. To express one's love for Waheguru's Naam all the time is the most pious deed among all the holy deeds, and it dispels all the worldly fears of the devotee and burns down all his sins. Those who make singing Waheguru's praise and listening to it part of their lifestyle become free from rebirths. Waheguru's Naam is the source of the supreme bliss, all well-being, comforts, and peace of mind. One has no fear (or worry) of the Angel of death when he remembers the omniscient Waheguru. It seduces people with its seductive behaviour when they feel that they are listening to the melodious clinking of the anklets of Maya with voluptuous beauty. MEANING: How can my mind find peace without Waheguru's Naam? If one firmly establishes His Naam in his heart, his sufferings over millions of eons are destroyed. Pause.

When one longs for His Naam, the holy Waheguru becomes His companion, and all his other worldly fears run away. One's love for Waheguru never fades and remains fresh, as his bad qualities, such as rage and worldly attachments, are burned away (eradicated). 1.

When one gives up his fickle thinking and acquires Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all fears in his heart, by focusing his mind on His Naam with Guru's Shabad, his thirst for all kinds of worldly substances is satisfied as he tastes Waheguru's sweet Naam, and Waheguru connects such a highly fortunate devotee with Him. 2.

Pondering on Guru's Shabad, all my fears and misgivings have been eradicated, and I do not acknowledge anyone else like Waheguru. 5. With the Advice of the Guru, I have realized the high spiritual state by killing the desires of my mind, which is greatly imbued in the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Now, I do not recognize any other power (god, or goddess) to be like Him. 6.
With the Advice of the Guru, I have made a connection with the "One" Waheguru, which is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and orphan (is not born out of any parents), and which never takes any living form. With my senses fully satisfied, my mind does not waver anymore and is pleased with itself. 7.
With Satguru's grace, I describe (sing) the virtues of the indescribable Waheguru, and say only those words in His praise which He makes me say. My Waheguru is always kind to the humble; I do not recognize any other power, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Vudaayi = respect; dignity. Jaana = recognize. Mookt(u) Gut(i) = spiritual state of emancipation. Pause. Bhuou-Bhunjun = destroyer of fears. Jumkaal-Nikhunjun(u) = destroyer of death. Sayti = with. Liv Laayi = made connection by meditating. Jaata = recognized; made connection with. Sehjay = in the high spiritual state. 1. Bhojun(u) = meals. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (God). Pehnun = clothing. Nij Ghur(u) = one's real home (at Waheguru's Feet). Sayvin = serve. Sobha = praise; respect. 2. Munmukh(i) = follower of own mind. Boodh(i) Kaachi = shallow (low) wisdom. Dolaiy = wavers. Akuth(u) = indescribable. Kuhaani = praise. Nihchul(u) = stable; unwavering. Saachi Bani = Waheguru's praise. 3. Trung = waves; flights. Nivaaray = removed; eradicated. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort. 4. Mun Muraiy = kill mental desires. Ta = then. Mookto = emancipated. Sur(u) = pool. Saagur(u) = sea. 5. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Trishna = fire of desires. Nihkayvul = pure; without worldly attachments. Ruvviya = present; resides. Aatum Ram = Mooraari = God. 6. Mun(i) Bhaanay = liked. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Jhootthi = those who love the perishables. Uvgoon = demerits; ignoble qualities. 7. Kuthiyaiy = sing praise. Bani = Guru's Shabad in Waheguru's praise. Saach(i) = by reciting the Naam. Vukhaani = recite. 8.

MEANING: One earns respect everywhere with Waheguru's Naam, oh my mind. One attains the state of emancipation only with Waheguru's Naam; so. I do not acknowledge any other power than Him. Pause. Waheguru is the destroyer of all fears, including that of the Angel of Death. One connects with Him through the Guru's Shabad. One makes a connection with Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, in the shelter of the Guru, and stays in the blissful (high spiritual state). 1. Waheguru's Naam is the (mental) food, the clothing, and the dignity for His devotees. They serve Him all the time, and attain the spiritual state where they stay connected with Him, and earn respect in His Court. 2.
The followers of their mind (worshippers of Maya) have shallow wisdom (thinking); their mind keeps wavering, and they do not sing praise of the indescribable Waheguru. The thinking of Guru's devotees is clear and stable (their minds do not waver), and with Guru's Amrit-like Bani (Shabad in praise of Waheguru), Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in their mind. 3.
The flights of their mind come to an end with Guru's Shabad on their tongue, which they recite normally (without any special effort). We should always stay connected with our Guru (recite His Shabad), who is always connected with Waheguru, oh my friends. 4.
One becomes emancipated when he subdues his desires with the Guru's Shabad and remains connected to Waheguru. Waheguru's Naam is the ocean (source) of eternal purity; one should take a dip in it with love and reverence. 5.
The devotees, who contemplate on Guru's Shabad, get imbued in Waheguru's love, and kill their selfishness, ego, and the fire of their desires. The pure (fully detached) Waheguru resides in their hearts, and they see Him everywhere in the world. 6.

However, only those devotees serve You, and stay imbued in Your love, whom You like, oh Waheguru. Those who love the perishables suffer from indecisiveness (instability of mind) and cannot reach Waheguru's Residence, as they are overpowered by the attractions of Maya; they cannot make a distinction (choose) between the noble and the ignoble qualities. 7. If we sing praise of the indescribable Waheguru with the immortalizing Guru's Shabad, Guru's Bani, He, Himself connects His devotees with Him. They merge into Waheguru by singing His praise, and by reciting His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Ut(i) = extremely. Kilvikh = sins. Bhunjun = destroyer. Aiko = the one and only (God). Deettha = saw; realized. Pause. Koat(i) = forts. Kotuntur = millions. Binaasun = are destroyed. Bhaaya = liked. Soojhiay = can think of. Boojhaaya = gave the understanding. 1. Praym Pudaaruth = the source of all love (Waheguru). Ghut(i) = in heart. Vussiya = embedded. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Smaayi = absorbed. Rung(i) Chuloolay = dyed deeply. Sehj(i) Soobhaayi = naturally with love and reverence. 2. Nihkayvul(u) = pure; fully detached with Maya (God). Nudr(i) Kuray = casts sight on. Boojhaiy = understands. Kuthun = describe. Baiyraagi = deeply in love with (God). 8.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the sweetest of all, oh my mind. I have seen (realized) the "One" and the only Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, which is the destroyer of all the sins of millions of one's lives and all fears. Pause.

When one likes Waheguru from the depth of his heart, forts (powerful residences – mind) of millions of his sins are eradicated. Satguru has given me the understanding of the "One", and now, I cannot think of any other power worthy of my worship than Waheguru. 1.

The heart in which the source of all love, Waheguru, takes dwelling, stays in the high spiritual state without any special effort. The minds of those who are imbued in the love of Guru's Shabad are dyed deep in Waheguru's love, and they stay imbued in His love naturally with love and reverence. 2. Pondering on Guru's Shabad, their tongue is imbued in the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, and is dyed deep in His love. With His Naam, the devotee makes connections with the Pure (Waheguru), and achieves peace of mind. 3.

The Pundits get exhausted reading their holy books, and so do the hermits while staying quiet for long times, and the followers of different sects get exhausted by wearing their sect's symbols (because they cannot realize Waheguru by any of such means). Waheguru can be realized only with Guru's grace when one ponders on His Shabad. 4.

When someone likes Guru's eternal Shabad (in Waheguru's praise), they get imbued in Waheguru's Naam, and the cycle of their rebirths gets terminated. One acquires eternal bliss by serving Satguru as he kills his selfishness and his ego with His Shabad. 5.

With Guru's eternal Shabad, a musical soothing sound grows in the mind of the devotee, and he gets connected with Waheguru in his meditation. With Guru's grace, the Naam of the inaccessible and the incomprehensible Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, takes dwelling in the devotee's mind. 6.

Even though the whole world operates under the Laws of Waheguru, some rare individuals recognize this and connect with Him. One realizes everything about Waheguru when he kills his desires with Guru's Shabad and establishes a day-and-night connection with Waheguru. 7. Only that devotee comes to know the secrets of the world whom Waheguru is benevolent to; nobody else can say anything about Waheguru. Those who get attached to Waheguru through Guru's Shabad and stay connected to Him are always detached from the world (and are in love with Waheguru), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Akuth Kuhaani = indescribable praise of Waheguru. Virlaiy = rare. Pause. Gehr = unfathomable. Gumbheer = unchanging. Guheer = treasure. Puchhaaniya = recognized; made connection with. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many ways. Kerm Kureh(i) = perform rituals. Bhaayay Doojay = in love of the other. Buouraaniya = insane. 1. Naavaiy = bathe. Nirmul(u) = pure; pious. Maiyla = filthyl; impure. Mool(u) Na = not at all. Bherm(i) = illusions. Put(i) = dignity. 2. Drirraan = reiterate. firm up. Sungreh(i) = accumulate. Tiyaageen = forsake; give up. Sukhaayi = friend. 3. Kerm Bidhaata = carver of our fates. Naavay Laayay = exhorts to recite Naam. Boojhaiy = understands. 4. Bismaad(u) = amazing (world). Chaytay = remembers. Aavagaun = birth and death. Moakh Dooaara = the door to emancipation. 5. Soojhaiy = get the wisdom. Vigaareh(i) = ruin (their high morality) Sunjum Kerni = keeping the senses under control. Kirt(i) Kumaayi = objective of life. Aavun Jaan(u) Ruhaayi = birth-death cycle is terminated. 6. Saachaiy = pure (like Waheguru). Adhaara = basis. Doojaiy Bherm(i) = in the illusions of Maya. 7. Thaayay Puvvay = Paavaiy Laykhaiy = earn place; are duly rewarded. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru's virtues cannot be fully described, oh my mind. Only some rare devotees understand them with the grace of the Guru on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. Pause. It is with Guru's Shabad that one recognizes (makes connection with) Waheguru, which is unfathomable, is never-changing, and is the treasure of all noble qualities. One is insane without Guru's Shabad, no matter how many other religious rituals he does perform because they are all rooted in Maya. 1.

Only that devotee is pure who takes dips in the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit; such a devotee never gets filthy (impure due to sensual pleasures) again. Without Waheguru's Naam, the whole world is filthy, and misled by illusions of Maya, it loses its dignity. 2.

I have no idea what it is that I should firm up in my mind, what I should accumulate, and what I should forsake. I can only realize with the benevolence of Waheguru that it is only His Naam which is the true friend of man. 3.

But it is only with the benevolence of the eternal Waheguru, which is also the eternal Provider for all living beings, and is the carver of our fates, that a devotee of His liking begins to recite His Naam, and enshrine it in his heart. Only that devotee realizes this fact who is given this realization by Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru. 4.

Even after witnessing the amazing feats of Waheguru in nature, the world does not remember Him and is caught in the birth-death cycle. Only that individual comes to realize it who serves the Guru to reach the door of emancipation (to attain it). 5.

Those devotees who realize the importance of spirituality and of union with Waheguru never ruin their high morality. With Guru's Advice, they recite Waheguru's Naam and exercise control over their senses, which they believe is their main objective in life. With such a routine, the cycle of their births and deaths is terminated. 6.
The devotees who follow the path of righteousness (as advised by the Guru), and who have made Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life, become like Waheguru (are approved in His Court). On the other hand, the followers of their mind do not realize the importance of Waheguru's Naam and are misled by the illusions of Maya. 7.
(But such people cannot be blamed entirely for the path they choose) because it is Waheguru Himself, who enlightens His devotees in the shelter of the Guru, and watches His actions. The hard work of those devotees is rewarded who earn respect in Waheguru's Court (for their recitation of Waheguru's Naam), oh Nanak. 8.3.

MEANING: I have seen Your majesty, and am amazed to find that it is You who do everything, and make others do whatever You want them to do, and You are present everywhere. Pause. The claims of the rajas who believed they would reign forever were false, as many of them turned out to be paupers. But our Emperor (Waheguru) is the everlasting Sovereign, and all hearts sing His praise. 1.

Listen to the praise of the Emperor Waheguru; whoever sings it, reaches Him (becomes a part of Him), oh, the holy saints. The great Provider, Waheguru, is limitless and is higher (in transcendence) than the highest. 2. His splendour is such that all living bodies are connected with Him through their breaths (part of His Soul); He has stored fire in the wood; and He has kept water and land together (without one consuming the other). 3.

Every heart sings praise of the King, and every heart is zestful about Him. Another amazing thing is that He has created food for them before He even created them. 4.

I have learnt the eternal truth that, unlike the man who tries to show off his wisdom in many different ways, whatever Waheguru needs to do, He does it Himself quietly, and needs no advice from anyone else. 5. Waheguru protects His devotees in every way by embracing them as His own and gets them respect by implanting His Naam in their hearts. Those who show disrespect for Waheguru's devotees, He drowns them in the sea of Maya (gets them more engrossed in the poison of Maya). 6.

All the ignoble qualities of those who take shelter of the Guru are eradicated; watching such changes in them, Waheguru becomes very kind to them, and they swim across the world-sea. 7. I am very small and an ignoble person, whereas You are the Great Lord; what ability do I have to value Your greatness, oh Waheguru? Waheguru's Naam is the basis of my life, and my body and mind become peaceful to see the holy sight of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Unbhaiy Ka Daata = the source of fearlessness. Poorun = fully present. Alipaata = detached. Bistheerun = expanse. Jul Trung = water wave. Ruchun = creation. Hubh(i) = all. Rus = sweet tastes. Maanay = enjoys. Bhog Ghutaanay = enjoys in every heart. Aan Beeya = any other. Theeya = becomes. Rungi = in all forms. Ikk Rungi = in the same form; uniformly. Jaata = recognized; make connection. Ders Leena = absorbed in His Sight. Meena = fish. 1.
Oopma = praise; comparison. Budaayi = greatness. Poorun = omnipresent. Munmohun = mind-captivating (God). Sohun = looks attractive. Khinchaiy = pulls away His support. Chhaayi = dust. Araadhou = worship. Ghuree Mohtuk = in a short time. Bayla = time (to leave the world). Urb(u) = of very high value. Durb(u) = wealth. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is present in every heart, yet He is fully detached from the worldly attractions, and the source of fearlessness is present everywhere. Just like the water waves, which seem to be different from the water, and yet are part of the water, with His expanse, Waheguru is present in every heart, and is yet fully detached. Being present in every heart, He enjoys all the sweet tastes of the world, and there is none like Him. The same Waheguru is present in many different forms and can be realized in the company of the holy saints. Forgetting everything else, I am fully absorbed in His thoughts like a fish is absorbed in the water, oh Nanak. The source of fearlessness (Waheguru) is seen everywhere. 1.

The omnipresent Waheguru is present everywhere (and knows everything), so how can I praise Him, or whom to compare with Him (there is nobody like Him). The mind-captivating and omnipresent Waheguru is attractive to every heart, but when He withdraws His support, everything becomes dust. The time of death can arrive anytime, so why not worship Him together, oh, the holy saints? No wealth or other valuables worth billions that we see accompany us at our death. I cannot sing His praise in any way or compare anybody else to Him; the only thing I wish to say is to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Heeou Araapoun = offer my heart. Dayhou Sundasha = deliver His Message (enlighten me). Keh Pervasha = where He enters (lives). Ung, Ung = every part of the body. Sookhdaayi = blissful. Brahmaayi = Waheguru. Thaan Thaanuntar = in every place. Mookta = free from all bonds. Joogta = mixed well. Churit = amazing feats. Mun Mohiyo = mind is captivated. 3.
Apunay Peh = to His devotee. Dhunn(u) = fortunate. Rida = heart. Sungaaya = with. Oolaas = excitement; joy. Loreenda = whom one was looking for. Naattha = disappeared. Voottha = took residence. Sehjaaya = in the peaceful state of mind. 4.
MEANING: I ask the holy saints (who have been connected with Waheguru), what my Lord looks like. I will offer my heart (mind) to them if they enlighten my mind as well with the Divine Knowledge. Enlighten my mind as to what my Waheguru looks like, and where He lives. Every part of my body feels blissful to learn that the omnipresent Waheguru lives everywhere in the world. Even though He is fully mixed (is present) in every heart, He is completely free of all worldly bonds. However, I am unable to tell what Waheguru looks like. I humbly ask the holy saints what my Waheguru looks like; my mind is captivated by His amazing feats, oh Nanak. 3.
With His benevolence, Waheguru comes to reside in the hearts of His devotees, and those hearts are highly fortunate where Waheguru sets His Feet (implants His Naam). Waheguru implants His Naam in His devotee's hearts through the Guru. The darkness of ignorance of those hearts is dispelled with Waheguru's Naam, and such hearts feel overjoyed when they are enlightened, and when they realize Waheguru whom they were longing for. All sufferings from such hearts run away, and comforts come to settle there. They feel great bliss when they attain a high spiritual state. I have realized the Perfect (and the omnipresent) Waheguru, who has come to reside in my heart (a devotee of His) with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Koonji = key. Paahoo = the dye (of love for Maya). Nivul = lock. Kottha = room. Chuut(i) = roof. Taak(u) = door. Ooghrraiy = opens.

MEANING: The human mind is like a room with the body as its roof. Man's love for Maya is the lock to the room-like mind. Only the Guru has the key to unlock it (so that Divine Knowledge can enter the mind). Nobody else has such a key, oh Nanak. 1.

Na bheejaiy kaytay hoveh(i) dhoorr. Laykha likhiyaiy mun kaiy bhaayay. Nanak, bheejaiy Saachaiy Naayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Bheejaiy = drenches with love; pleases. Naadeen = with music. Soorteen = through meditations. Giyanee = with discussions about Waheguru. Joag(i) = by yogic path. Soageen = Roaj(i) = by feeling miserable (like the Jains). Roopeen = with beautification (with religious symbols). Maaleen Rung(i) = express love for Waheguru with donations. Bhuvviyaan Nung(i) = roaming naked. Daateen Poonn(i) = giving money or other articles in donations. Soonn(i) = quiet; in meditation. Bhayrr(i) mureh(i) Bhirr(i) = die in the battlefield while fighting like a valiant. Hoveh(i) Dhoorr = become dust of others' feet; show extreme humility. Laykha Likhiyaiy = account of meaningful deeds. 2.

MEANING: People try to please Waheguru in many different ways. Some people recite mantras, play music, or read the Vedas, while others meditate, engage in religious discussions, or follow Yogic techniques to please Him. Some people try to show their love for Waheguru by adorning themselves with religious symbols, or by offering Him money or other valuables, while others roam naked and visit holy places. Some people give gifts of various kinds (to Brahmans), thinking of it as a highly noble deed, while others go to secluded places and sit quietly in meditation. Some people lay down their lives fighting valiantly on the battlefield to please Waheguru, while others pretend to be very humble. However, Waheguru is not pleased by any of such efforts. The only thing that counts in Waheguru's Court to please Him is to recite His Naam with love and dedication, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nuv = nine (grammars). Chhay = six (Shastras). Khut = six Vedaangs (books explaining the Vedas) Nis Din = night and day. Oochraiy = chants. Atthaar = eighteen (Puranas). Unt(u) = end. Toh(i) = Yours. Bihoon = without; devoid of. Naabh(i) = navel Vust = residing (Brahma was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu). 3.
MEANING: The people who ponder on the nine books of Grammar, the six Shastras, the six Vedaangs, or read the 18 Puranas day and night, cannot find the limits of Waheguru (no matter how hard they try). How can one find emancipation without Waheguru's Naam? Even Brahma, who is believed to be the creator of all life, and who was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu, could not find its end. The man cannot find Waheguru's limits, but can only connect with Him - that too only in the shelter of the Guru – oh, Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Nirunjunaa = Waheguru. Oopaaya = created. Khayl(u) = drama (of the world). Subaaya = the whole. Traiy Goon = the Maya with three effects. Sirjiun = created. Moh(u) = attachment. Oobray = salvaged. Bhaana Bhaaya = liked the Will (of God). Vertda = operates. Smaaya = get absorbed.
MEANING: Waheguru created Himself and the whole world as His drama. He is above the effects of Maya, but has created it with its three effects. He has implanted love for Maya in the minds of the people who operate (spend life) under their influence. But those who like (and obey) Waheguru's Will get salvaged with the grace of the Guru. It is the eternal Waheguru (His Laws) which governs the whole Universe, and eventually everybody gets absorbed into Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Oopaayay = creates. Vayk = distinct. Munda = bad. Vaykhaiy = observes. Dhundhaiy = deeds related to Maya. Ugla = excessive. Khaali = empty; without. Vithaar = expansion. Uggaiy = Waheguru's Court. Kaar = kind of deeds. 1.
MEANING: Waheguru creates all human beings and yet keeps them distinct (in appearance and nature). Who can be called bad when everybody is created by the same Lord? It is the same Lord of everybody who puts them to perform worldly tasks and watches their performance. Some get a smaller share of wealth, while others get a much greater share, but nobody is completely empty of it. The man is born empty-handed and leaves the world empty-handed, yet he tries to accumulate more and more possessions throughout his life. Also, nobody knows what kind of tasks he will have to perform in his next life with Waheguru's Huqam (Will), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jinus(i) = of different kinds. Thaap(i) = creating. Bhayjiay = sends in the world. Oothaapaiy = dismantles; destroys. Vays = looks; forms. Aoudhooti = beggars. Bhikhiya Paavaiy = gives alms; fulfils their needs. Laykhaiy = in record. Kaayit(u) = what for? Keecheh(i) Daavaiy = make claims. Mool(i) Mut(i) = the basic wisdom (truth). Pervaana = accepted fact. Kerni = deeds performed. Tupaavus = final decision. Kuhhaiy Kuhaayay = says; claims. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru sends (creates) living beings of many different kinds in the world, and then takes them away. He creates them in many different forms and destroys them. All the living beings that wander on the earth are all beggars at Waheguru's Door, and He gives them alms (fulfils their needs). All men are talking, and their actions take place as per their prewritten nature (fate), so what claim can men lay on their achievements? The most fundamental truth is that the final decision on man's future fate rests on his deeds in his present life, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Chulut(u) = amazing feat. Ruchaayoin = has created. Perguti Aaya = appears; acquires. Oochraiy = recites. Shukut(i) = (the effects of) Maya. Bherm(u) = illusions. Shiv Joat(i) = Waheguru's Light. Poataiy = in fate. Poonn(u) = noble qualities. Purakh = manifestation of Waheguru. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Smaaya = absorbed.2.

MEANING: It is another amazing fact of Waheguru that He has created the spiritual world in such a way that noble qualities appear (begin to dominate) in man's mind only in the shelter of the Guru. Such a devotee always recites the Guru's Shabad and embeds (enshrines) Waheguru's Naam in his heart. The illusions of Maya are dispelled, and Waheguru's Light enlightens his mind. Those who have noble deeds preordained in their fate connect with the Guru, a manifestation of Waheguru. Such devotees stay connected with Waheguru in their high spiritual state, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Shah = the King (Waheguru). Vunjaariya = traders; dealers. Likhiya = the result of the previous deeds (fate). Huqam(u) Hoyay = the human beings act accordingly. Vust(u) = Waheguru's Naam. Smaahl(i) = take good care. Vukkhur(u) = the merchandize) of noble qualities. Laaha = benefit. Mool(u) = the original qualities. Mungiyo = ask for. Shaabaash(i) = accolades to. 1.

MEANING: The man is a trader (of noble or ignoble qualities) sent by Waheguru in this world. He brings his prewritten fate with him at his birth. The kind of man's deeds depend upon his nature, as coined by Waheguru's Huqam, but Waheguru's Light (noble qualities) is present in everybody, which he needs to take good care of. Every human trader uses his qualities and performs deeds accordingly; his deeds form the basis of Waheguru's decision for his next life. Some of the human traders use their noble qualities to earn spiritual benefit (wealth) (by reciting Waheguru's Naam) before they leave the world, while others get so engrossed in worldly enjoyment that they forget Waheguru completely, and leave the world by losing even the noble qualities they were born with. Each type of trader begs more and more merchandise of their interest, and nobody begs for less. Which of these two kinds of traders will earn accolades in Waheguru's Court? Only those individuals will earn Waheguru's kind sight (approval) who invest to acquire more noble qualities (His Naam), oh Nanak. 1.

Kerna = performance of deeds. Kirt(u) Kur(i) = result of deeds performed. Nudri = the merciful (Waheguru). Nudr(i) = kind sight. 2.

MEANING: The separation of body and soul, and their reunion, is an ongoing natural cycle. Man lives and dies; dies, and is born again. In this cycle, the man becomes father to many, and son to many others. In one life, he is a guru to many; in another, he becomes a disciple of someone else. Nobody can keep track of such lives in the past or the future, and nobody even knows what will happen next, even in this life. Waheguru keeps account of everybody's good and bad deeds, and makes a decision on them for their future lives. The followers of their mind (Maya-worshippers) die spiritual death, while the devotees of the Guru are salvaged with the kind sight of the merciful Waheguru, oh Nanak. 2.

Subaaya = all. Jum Dur(i) = in the court of the Angel of death. Maariyeh(i) = are punished. Bhermeh(i) = go through (many lives). Bhaaya = is liked by. 3.
MEANING: The follower of his mind is influenced by the illusions of Maya and gets engrossed in that. Such individuals deal in falsehood, deceit, and lies. Their love and bonds of attachment for their wife and their sons cause suffering. Tied in the court of the Angel of Death, they get punishment and are taken through many different lives. The followers of their mind waste away their precious human life, and this is what Waheguru likes too (it is His Huqam), oh Nanak. 3.

MEANING: Those who recognize the greatness (importance) of Your Naam get imbued in Your love, oh Waheguru. There is only one immortalizing substance in the world (Waheguru's Naam, which connects one with Him), and none other. Waheguru's Naam, which is the real Amrit, is present hidden in every heart, but can be acquired (enshrined in the heart) only with the grace of the Guru. MEANING: There is no spiritual benefit to appreciating the creation in the world; one should sing praise of Waheguru, who has created this beautiful world; and there is no other provider

Word Meaning: Nidhaan(u) = treasure. Nirunjun = above the effects of Maya (God). Oochraan = I recite. Put(i) Siyoun = with dignity. Ghur(i) = Waheguru's Residence. Bani = routine conversation. Mut(i) = wisdom; mind. Punkhayroo = bird. Vus Hoyay = under control. Dhiyaayi = worship; serve. Liv Laayi = meditate on. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is such a treasure that whoever serves Waheguru (recites His Naam) enjoys all comforts in life. By reciting the Naam of Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya, I will reach Waheguru's Residence with honour. The routine conversation of a Sikh of the Guru revolves around Waheguru's Naam, which he embeds in his heart. By remembering Satguru, one can control one's mind, which takes flight like a bird. Word Meaning: Boalna = tell one's problems. Jaan(u) = know-all; omniscient. Cheeri = Huqam; Will; Command. Phiraiy = change. Pervaan(u) = genuine; true. Meer = rajahs. Muluk = master. Slaar = chief of army. Bhulee = acceptable; best. Huth(i) Naah(i) = have no control. Kurlaiy Paah(i) = set on the journey (to His Court). Ghullay = sent. Sudday = called back. 1.

MEANING: What is the use of telling your problems to the omniscient Waheguru who already knows everything about you without you telling Him? Waheguru, whose Command cannot be altered, is the true Lord. All the rajahs, the masters (chiefs) and the army commanders have to obey His Command. So, only the performance of those deeds is the best which are approved by the Lord. Those who have to obey His Command have no control over anything. They leave the world and start on the journey leading to His Court when they are called upon. They have to follow His Command, whatever has been prewritten in their fate. MEANING: Those acquire the treasures of Waheguru's Naam who are endowed with singing His praise. They get the treasures who are given the key of Waheguru's Naam. The devotees whose treasures are found to be full of noble qualities are approved in Waheguru's Court. Waheguru casts His kind sight on those who have Waheguru's Naam in their heart as their identification. 2.

Word Meaning: Nirmulaa = purifier. Boojhaiy = realizes. Koyee = rare. Visraiy = forgotten. Saacha = like Waheguru. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = appears. 5.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam purifies the mind, and whoever listens to it, enjoys all comforts in life. But some rare individual realizes this fact, and enshrines the Naam in his heart by listening to it. The individual, who does not forget Waheguru's Naam whether he is resting or standing (working), becomes like Waheguru with His Naam in his heart. Waheguru's Naam is the basis of the life of His devotees, who enjoy all the comforts in life because of the Naam. Keh(i), keh(i) kehn(u), kuhaayin aap(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Tooliyeh(i) = weigh; pass the test. Toal = standard weight. Jeeou = soul; mind. Poojjeh(i) = reach; compare. Poora = perfect (like Waheguru). Aakhun(u) = description. Hauli = low; shallow. Mutee = wisdom; thinking. Boal = words. Paani = water; oceans. Kiyoun = how? Kunday Sooniyar(u) = scale used by goldsmiths. Toala = about 11 g. Maasa = about 1 g. Rutuak = about 0.125 g. Poochhiyaan = on being questioned. Poojaayay = justifies. Dhaat(u) = efforts. Kuhaayin(i) Aap(u) = show their importance. 1.

MEANING: One meets the requirements to be approved in Waheguru's Court only if he balances the scale of approval (meets requirements) by placing his soul in the other pan (surrenders his mind to Waheguru). No word can describe the spiritual state of the devotee once He becomes connected with Waheguru, becoming perfect (acquiring the same noble qualities as Waheguru by reciting His Naam and singing His praise). Singing Waheguru's praise is the best words one can say, and has the greatest weight to balance the scale. All other wisdoms and words (than Waheguru's Naam) are of very low quality and are like weighing the earth, the oceans, or the mountains in a goldsmith's scale by placing weights of grams and milligrams in the other pan (which is not possible). The efforts of the foolish and the ignorant are just like that. However, if questioned, the shameless try to justify their efforts. They try to show off by repeating the same thing over and over again, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Aakun(u) = to describe. Soonun(i) = listen to understand. Jaapi = becomes visible; comprehensible. Shabad(u) Bhaakheh(i) = reiterate the same words. Urdh = low. Oordh = high. Urdh(u) Oordh(u) = with great effort. Kihou = something tangible. Roop(u) = form. Jaat(i) = type. Kaarun = means. Ghut = hearts; bodies. Aoughut = in difficult places (like in rocks). Thaap(i) = create. 2.
MEANING: It is impossible to describe all Waheguru's virtues and His form, and to comprehend Him by listening to His description, because He cannot be described in words. But despite this hard fact, many people still try very hard, day and night, to describe Him with words. One could see Him only if He were tangible, but His form and nature cannot be known. Waheguru develops many different means to create all the bodies, some of which are made in hard-to-reach places (but since He is not made, He cannot be seen). It is almost impossible to describe Waheguru; He cannot be seen by merely describing Him, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: One feels blissful and peaceful by listening to Waheguru's Naam. One feels fully contented by listening to Waheguru's Naam, and all his appetite for worldly attractions is eradicated (satisfied). Waheguru's Naam takes root in one's mind when he listens to it, and he also earns respect. Waheguru's Naam is the highest caste and the dignity for a devotee, and he attains a high spiritual state with the Naam. One should recite Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter when his mind gets fully focused on Waheguru (he gets connected with Him), oh Nanak. 6.

Jootth(i) na dherti, jootth(i) na paani. Jootth(i) na paunaiy maah(i) smaani. Nanak niguriyaan goon(u) nuheen koyay. Mooh phayriyaan mooh(u) joottha hoyay. 1.

Word Meaning: Jootth(i) = impurity. Raageen = with singing. Bhaydeen = auspicious days due to different positions. Unnee = (not eating) food. Naaheen = taking dips at holy places. Meenh vurhiyain = with rain (which washes things from outside). Dherti = (roaming around on) earth. Paani = self torturing by standing in water for long time. Paunaiy = air; breathing exercises of the yogis. Maah(i) Smaani = by deep meditations.

Niguriyaan = those, who do not take Guru's shelter. Moonh Phayriyaan = turning face away from the Guru (refusing to listen to His Advice).

MEANING: People use many different ways to purify their minds, and hence to please God. For example, some people sing religious songs or study the Vedas, while others believe that certain days related to the sun and the moon are auspicious and observe them accordingly. Some people go without food for some time, or take dips at holy places, or worship god Indra (which is responsible for rain which washes away dust from the trees, vegetation and living beings); and some people roam the earth, and are always on the move, while some others stand in water for long periods to punish themselves to please God, yet some others use yogic breathing exercises. But Guru Nanak Sahib advises that no such means purifies the human mind, which has become impure by turning away from the Guru (by not believing in Him). Such people have no good quality to please God, oh Nanak. 1.

Rajay chooli niyaav kee, purrhiyaan Sach(u) dhiyan(u). Paani chit(u) na dhoopyee, mookh(i) peetaiy tikh jaayay. Paani pitaa haiy jugut ka, phir(i) paani hee subh(u) khaayay. 2.

Word Meaning: Chooliyaan = swooshing mouth with water; gargling. Soochiyaan = mind purifying. Bhur(i) Jaaniy = knows how to perform them. Soortay = the ability to focus mind on something. Giyan = Divine Knowledge. Jut(u) = control on lust. Suntokh = contentment. Girhee = family man. Sut(u) = high morality. Daan(u) = donations to the deserving; service to mankind. Niyaav = justice. Purrhiyaan = educated. Sach(u) Dhiyan = focus on Waheguru's Naam. Tikh Jaayay = thirst is killed. Subh Khaayay = destroys all in many ways.

MEANING: The Brahmans cleanse their mouth by swishing them with water before every meal. But Guru Nanak Sahib calls it merely a meaningless ritual with no spiritual worth. According to Guru Sahib, it is not the act of swooshing the mouth with water that has some spiritual value; one should swoosh (cleanse) their mind to have it enlightened by Waheguru. (It is not only the Brahmans who need to cleanse their mind), People in different situations (positions) can purify their minds by following the high principles in those situations. For example, the individual who can focus his mind should focus it on Divine Knowledge, and the yogis should control their lust. For a Brahman, who lives only on donations, should exercise contentment, and a family man should have high morality and should help the needy (serve mankind). A rajah should provide justice to his subjects, and the educated should focus their mind on Waheguru (God).

Water does not purify anybody's mind, but, yes, it does quench thirst when drunk. Water, which is the father of the world (as no life is possible without it), also causes spiritual death as it leads to sensual pleasures because of its presence in all juices, milk, yogurt, meat, alcohol, and other intoxicants. It can also cause destruction by rain, floods, and drowning. (See Sloak M:1, Malhaar Kee Vaar, Page 1289-90).

Word Meaning: Sidh(i) = success. Sidh(i) Ridh(i) = supernatural powers. Nuou Nidh(i) = the nine mythical treasures. Mun Chindiya = as wished. Suntokh = contentment. Kuvla = Maya. Churn Dhiyavaiy = worships feet. Sehj(u) = high spiritual state. Oopjaiy = comes into being; attains. Gurmut(i) = with Guru's Advice. 7.
MEANING: One achieves success in all his tasks, and the supernatural powers follow him (begging to be used) when he listens to Waheguru's Naam (and enshrines it in his mind). One acquires all nine mythical treasures, and all his wishes are fulfilled when he listens to Waheguru's Naam. One becomes fully content, and Maya washes his feet (becomes his slave); he attains the high spiritual state, and enjoys bliss with Waheguru's Naam. But one acquires Waheguru's Naam only in the shelter of the Guru, when he begins to sing Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 7.

Word Meaning: Jummun(u) = birth. Mern(u) = death. Vertun(u) = daily routine. Uggaiy = in front; faced with. Pundaan = bales; packages. Khoolliyaan = open up; unleashed. Chulliya = leaves the world. Uggeen = fires. Daaroo = medication.
MEANING: Without Waheguru's Naam, the man is born in suffering, dies in suffering, and all his dealings in the world are filled with suffering (he gets no peace of mind). Those who study religious books without Waheguru's Naam face suffering, and only suffering. It seems as if there are packages of suffering which get unleashed on the man, and there is no comfort for him. His soul suffers in troubles, and he leaves the world crying in suffering. Man suffers in the fire of discomfort, but his discomfort may be the medicine for comfort, as he is most likely to remember Waheguru in suffering. Singing Waheguru's praise while imbued in His love brings new blissful life for the sufferer, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhuss(u) = ash; dust. Rung(u) = love; enjoyments. Khayh = dirt (disgrace). Bhusso Bhuss(u) = ash and ash only. Kmaavni = earn; accumulate. Dayh = body. Jeeou = soul. Bhussoo Bhuriya = full of ash. Lakhaiy Mungiyain = on being demanded the account. Dusooni = ten times. 2.

MEANING: The enjoyments of the world are worth only as dust (disgrace), and only disgrace in the spiritual realm, oh Nanak. One earns more and more disgrace in such enjoyments, and his body accumulates only disgrace. When the soul leaves the body, it is laden with disgrace. When the account of its deeds is examined in Waheguru's Court, it earns ten times more disgrace, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sooch(i) = purity. Sunjumo = control on senses. Ghut(i) Chaan-na = enlightenment of heart. Aap(u) Boojhiyaiy = analyzes self. Laaha = added benefit. Nimul(u) = pure. Sach(u) = Waheguru (Naam). Oojlay = shiny (with internal purity). 8.

MEANING: People try many different tough ways to maintain the purity of their mind, and to exercise control on their senses, but they become effective automatically when one listens to, Waheguru's Naam (and enshrines it in his mind); and the Angel of death does not even go near him (as he merges into Waheguru). One's darkness of ignorance is dispelled, and his mind is enlightened with Waheguru's Naam. One analyzes himself, and Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in his mind as the added befit (as spiritual wealth) when he listens to the Naam. All one's sins are washed away, and he becomes pure to get connected with Waheguru by listening to His Naam. One's face glows with purity (he earns respect everywhere including Waheguru's Court) with Waheguru's Naam; however, His Naam can be recited in Guru's shelter only, oh Nanak. 8.

MEANING: The Brahman has the idol of Vishnu in his house along with the idols of many other gods and goddesses. He bathes them and performs their ritualistic worship by offering vermillion, sandalwood, and flowers. He drops to their feet and supplicates them. He accepts donations from his donors to eat and to wear. The blind of spiritual knowledge perform deeds of ignorance and get the punishment of more ignorance. The idols cannot provide food for the hungry or save them from death. The ignorant take part in misleading discussions at gatherings of the ignorant.

The foolish does not understand that God is not pleased by any of such efforts. All his associates also find salvation who enshrine the Naam in their mind, and enjoy its sweetness by reciting it with their tongue. All the suffering of their appetite for worldly attractions goes away when they love the Naam deeply from their heart. MEANING: All nights, all days, all different phases of the sun and the moon, all auspicious days, all seasons, everything on the earth including all the vegetation, all waters, all gases, all fires, all the underworlds, all kingdoms of gods, all worlds, and all heavenly bodies obey Waheguru's Huqam (Will, Command), but nobody can describe how great His Huqam is, and how it works. The poor (humble) who pondered on the virtues of Waheguru, sang His praise; but those who got exhausted while describing Waheguru's Huqam, could get no information on it – not even the size of a dry grass blade, humbly submits ignorant Nanak. 1.

Kureh(i) = created. Avatar = gods. Smaadhi = in deep meditation. Durbar(u) = Waheguru's Court. Saar(u) = supreme; the root. Kuchi Mutee = shallow advice (thinking). Kuch(u) Pich(u) = which cannot lead to success. Kemi = with His benevolence. Bundgi = worshipping. Nudr(i) = with kind Sight.

MEANING: If I had the power to travel at the speed of light, and see all the heavenly bodies, and seek information from the knowledgeable pundits about the Vedas; ask the gods, and the men who claim to be valiant and gods; listen to the Sidh yogis in meditation to find out how I can see Waheguru's Court (they are unable to enlighten me). The truth is that the only way to "see" the eternal Waheguru, which is fearless and is the root of the whole universe, is to recite His Naam. Worshipping Him with His benevolence is the only way to swim across the world-sea; all other advice is shallow and unsuccessful; the ideas of the ignorant are like groping for something in the dark, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Doormut(i) = ill advice (thinking). Perguti Aaya = appears. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Ooplaiy = comes into being; grows. Shaant(i) = peace. Ruttan(u) = jewel. 11.

MEANING: The evil thinking of the devotee goes away, and noble thinking is born in his mind if he fosters full faith in (love for) Waheguru's Naam. His selfishness, ego, and all other sufferings are eradicated; Waheguru's Naam takes root in his heart, and he enjoys the bliss of a high spiritual state when he enshrines the Naam there. Waheguru's Naam is a priceless jewel (which adorns the thinking of a man), but can be realized only in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 11.

MEANING: It is meaningful for me to sing Your praise before someone else only if he is like You (Your rival), oh Waheguru. To sing Your praise before You is like believing a blind man to have perfect eyesight. All that can be said about You in writing or in words is to sing praise of Your splendour with love and dedication, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: When the man was not even there (not born) yet, how could he have served Waheguru; and what does he do after he is born? Waheguru creates all opportunities (for people to do their deeds) and continuously watches the actions of the individuals. Whether one asks or begs for His gifts, the Provider (Waheguru) delivers them anyway. I have seen the whole world and found out that Waheguru is the only provider for everybody. MEANING: Divine wisdom and noble thinking take birth in the mind of the devotee who recites Waheguru's Naam with full faith; He sings Waheguru's praise and enjoys all comforts. All illusions and misgivings of such a devotee are dispelled, and he never suffers again. His sinful thinking is washed away, and he sings Waheguru's praise. However, the faith in Waheguru's Naam is instilled in one's mind only in the shelter of the Perfect Guru, and that too in the mind of the devotee whom Waheguru is kind to, oh Nanak. 12.

Word Meaning: Purrhunta = reads. Pookaarunta = aloud. Ajaanunta = ignorant. Soyee = Waheguru. Kook Na = does not need to make noise; emphasize.

MEANING: The ignorant Brahman reads the Vedas and the Puranas aloud to the masses. If he ever realized (that it is only Waheguru's Naam which is accepted in His Court), he would not make such noise again (preach the holy books), oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: When I surrender myself to You, I feel that the whole world belongs to me, and I do not suffer from any selfishness or ego, and I find You present in my mind, oh Waheguru. I also realize that You are all-powerful and wise, and it is You who has created the attachment of the world with Maya. It is You who sends people into the world and calls them back too; You create everything and look after it. You are everlasting, and so is Your greatness; Waheguru has made this the permanent Law from the beginning that only His Naam is given credit in His Court, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nirunjun = (Waheguru) above the effects of Maya. Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Vertda = operates. Ruvviya = is present. Nudri = kind sight of Waheguru. Kerm(u) = benevolence. 13.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is always in our hearts, but how can we comprehend, and enshrine it in our heart because it is incomprehensible? The Source of Naam (Waheguru) is present everywhere and operates in the world. The Naam can be acquired only with the grace of the Perfect Guru, who shows it in our heart. Word Meaning: Kul(i) = Kulyug(i); the world. Kootaymoohi = dog-mouthed (greedy like dog). Khaaj(u) = favourite food. Moordaar(u) = immoral earnings. Bhaunkuna = barking; false justification. Chooka = ended. Dherm Beechaar(u) = moral thinking (and actions). Jeevundiyaan = while living. Mundi Soyay = disgraceful. Kerta = Creator. Su = that. 1.

MEANING: The world has become greedy like the dog, and immoral earnings (usurping others' rights) have become its favourite food. People justify their actions by barking (telling lies); all moral thinking and actions have become things of the past. Those who have no respect while living in society are disgraced even after their death. All that happens as per their prewritten fate, and only with the Will of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Runna = women. Bodhiyaan = advisers. Suyyaad = butchers. Seel(u) = sweet nature. Sunjum(u) = control on senses (desires). Sooch = purity of mind. Bhunni = ran away. Ahaaj = indigestible (earned with immoral ways). Sherm = shame; morality. Ghur(i) Appnay = far away. Put(i) = dignity. Ootth(i) Chulli Naal(i) = accompanies. Bhaal(i) = look for. 2.

MEANING: (Wonder, what has happened to the world), the men have become butchers (usurp others' wealth) while the women have become their advisors. Sweet nature, control of senses, and mental purity have run away, and usurping the wealth of others has become their favourite food. Shame (morality) has gone far away, and dignity (of labour) has accompanied the shame. Doormut(i) = evil thinking; ill-advised. Ahunkaari = egoist. Sahib Shabad = words in praise of Lord. Pusaari = show off. Laaluch(u) = greed. Bherm(u) = illusions of Maya. Bhemay = wanders around misled. Gavaari = foolish. Chaytyee = remembers. Jooyaiy = in gambling. Baaji Haari = loses game of life. 14.

MEANING: A yogi coats his body with ash (to give the false impression of his spirituality), but has the darkness of ignorance inside. He wears the symbols of faith, including a quilt of rags and a long bag for collecting dry food, but the ill-advised yogi is highly egoistic on the inside. He says no word in praise of God, and all his symbols are only a show off, and he wears them only for his love for Maya. Word Meaning: Lukh = millions. Siyoun = with. Jeevun = life. Kiyya = however many. Chaaou = zest; excitements. Vichhurriyaan = on separating. Viss(u) = poison (painful). Mittha = enjoyable. Bhee = still. Kaurra = bitter; undesirable (death). Dhaayay = rushing. Roag = ailments; sources of suffering. Unt(i) = at the end. Vigootay = suffer humiliation. Bhoag = (because of) the enjoyments. Jhukhnaa = do (or say) something unwise for which one may have to repent (enjoy luxuries). Jhuggrra Jhaakh(i) = a sustained habit of enjoying luxuries. Jaah(i) = leave the world. Tinh Paas(i) = attracted to them. 1.

MEANING: One may have millions of loving people, may live for millions of years, and may have millions of excitements and zest in life, but they all become painful when he is separated from them (by death), and they all quickly disappear in a moment. Even if a man enjoys comforts for hundreds of years, he must eventually taste the bitterness of separation. At that time (time of death), he does not remember any of those comforts when the bitter pain of death overwhelms him quickly. At the end, the sensual pleasures he had enjoyed unwisely cause humiliation for him; so the enjoyments and the painful death, both become sources of suffering at the end. But his immoral worldly enjoyments become a sustained part of his nature for his future life after death, and he is born again, and again because of his love for them. 1.

Kaurrtun(u) = bitterness; discomfort. Chookus(i) = ends. Praaput(i) = have in fate. 2.

MEANING: (Without realizing the real purpose of human life), the ignorant man enjoys the luxuries of expensive clothes, paints his furniture with different colours, and whitewashes his house to give it a shiny look. He entertains his mind with the comfort of delicious tastes, but invites the displeasure of the Lord. Actually, all such enjoyments are like sugar-coated bitter pills (which cause pain later). The resulting bitterness becomes a permanent discomfort for him. However, if he is lucky to have Waheguru's Naam in his fate, then his discomforts go away. MEANING: Those who have filth and deceit in their mind, but look respectable outwardly, practise dishonesty and deceit in life, which eventually exposes their real nature, which cannot stay hidden forever, even if they try their best to hide it. Because of their greed for the perishable, they are reborn again and again. It is the Law of the Creator that one reaps the rewards of what he sows, oh Nanak. 15.

Word Meaning: Kutha Kuhaani = stories. Aani = brought (to the people). Poonn(u) = (perceived) noble deeds. Avatar = births. Ootum = superior; higher. Mudhim = low. Jinseen = kinds. Bherm(i) Bhuvvaiy = misled by illusions. Tutt(u) = the root of the universe (Waheguru). Vukhaani = explains. Giyan = by pondering over the virtues. Dhiyan = focusing mimnd on. Gurmukh(i) = the Guru. Jaati = understood. Soorteen = meditators; wise. Kerm(i) = with benevolence. Saaj(i) = by creating. Uggoun = first; before. Haumein = selfishness and ego. Likhiyaiy Laykhaiy = is given credit. 1.

MEANING: The Vedas have brought stories about the perceived noble deeds and the sins to the world. They discuss the kinds of deeds that result in people going to hell or to paradise after their death, and explain that one receives the donations given in this life in their next incarnation and has to return what they received in this life. As a result of their teachings, the world is misled into believing that they need to perform certain deeds based on their higher or lower caste. (Thus, there is no room for praise of Waheguru, which is central to the teachings of Guru Sahiban). On the contrary, the Shabads of Guru Nanak are immortalizing as they are in praise of Waheguru, and explain His greatness. Guru Nanak Sahib revealed (wrote) the Bani when He was connected with Waheguru. He pondered on the Divine Knowledge, He realized its importance, shared it with the masses, and the wise people recited it with Waheguru's benevolence. In a nutshell, Guru's Bani teaches us that Waheguru creates the world with His Laws (Will), controls it with His Laws, and looks after it with His Laws too. And, only that devotee gets credit in His Court, who first controls his selfishness and his ego, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Pookaaray = says aloud. Beeyo = seed. Oogvaiy = grows. Jaanaiy = comes to know. Giyan(u) = Guru's Teachings. Raas(i) = capital; wealth; Waheguru's Naam. Pullaiy Hoyay = acquires; in fate. Baahra = without. Lud(i) = with (spiritual) profit. 2.

MEANING: The Vedas teach loudly that the perceived noble deeds and sins performed by an individual become the seed for his future life whether he will go to paradise or to hell after his death. So, one already knows that he will get the reward of whatever he will sow. Guru's Giyan (Teachings) emphasizes praising Waheguru as being the greatest because only He, and His Naam are eternal. When one sows the seeds of Waheguru's Naam (by reciting it), His Naam grows (appears) in his heart, and he is given an honourable place in Waheguru's Court. The Vedas talk about business (give and take), whereas Guru's Teachings (His Bani) are the true wealth which one acquires with Waheguru's benevolence. Nobody leaves the world with any spiritual benefit (wealth) without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nimm(u) Birkh(u) = neem tree. Amrit(u) Rus(u) = sweet juices. Sunchiyaiy = irrigate. Bissiur(u) = snake. Visaahiyaiy = tame; under control. Abhinn(u) = which cannot absorb. Ful(u) = fruit; reward. Bikh(u) = poison. 16.

MEANING: Just like the neem tree which does not change its bitter nature even if it is irrigated with sweet juices, and like a snake, which does not change its poisonous nature even if it is tamed (brought under control) with a special mantra, and is fed lots of milk, the follower of his mind stays unmoved (and does not change his obstinacy). He is like a rock that does not absorb water, even after being washed many, many times. If a poisonous tree is irrigated with ambrosial water, its fruit will still be poisonous. However, the poisonous nature (obstinacy) of the person who follows his mind is eradicated if Waheguru puts him in the company of holy men, oh Nanak. 16.

MEANING: Death does not ask people for the right moment, the date, or the day of the week. Some people have loaded themselves (with bad qualities), some have already left loaded with sins, while some others are still loading their minds with sins. (On the other hand) Waheguru grooms some people to be pure, while others have already been well cared for (have been approved in Waheguru's Court). (In any case, everybody has to leave), all one's riches, including large armies, the kettledrums, and the beautiful houses, are left behind. Word Meaning: Mitti = dirt. Dheh(i) Puyyi = collapsed. Sunda = of. Koat(u) = fort. Bheetur(i) = inside. Khoat(u) = deceptiveness. 2.

MEANING: (Knowing well that) man's body, which is a fort (building) of dirt, eventually collapses; the man still does not control his mind, inside which is a thief, and which commits countless immoral and deceptive deeds, hiding them from the people, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: The people who have the evil nature of vilifying others, disgrace many others by their malicious criticism, but they get disgraced too at the end when they are exposed. They look very ugly (because of their filthy mind), are always miserable, and get their faces blackened (fall from grace), which is the nature of Maya. Devoid of Waheguru's Naam, they rise early in the morning and steal the wealth of others. Kindly protect me, and do not put me in the company of such people, oh Waheguru. Word Meaning: Khusm = Lord. Puchhanaiy = recognize; obey. Aap(u) = self. Sehla = successful; blissful.
MEANING: Everybody belongs to the Lord and is created by Him. One acquires Him (His Naam) in his heart if he recognizes (and obeys) His Huqam. In the shelter of the Guru, when one analyzes himself (that everybody is created by Waheguru, and the purpose of human life is to connect with Him), he finds that nobody is bad. The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, finds his life to be successful (attains emancipation), oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam appears in the heart of the Guru's Sikh, and he acquires peace in mind. All ritualistic deeds like recitation of mantras, enduring hardships, pilgrimage, and exercising control on senses, are subsumed in Waheguru's Naam when one is liked by Him (He does not need them). Such devotees look highly impressive (exalted) when they sing Waheguru's praise with a pure heart. Waheguru likes His devotees to be emancipated in the Guru's shelter. Some people believe such a life is success for them, while a few believe that one loses the precious human life in pursuing such luxuries. Everybody is conceited to enjoy sensual pleasures, and does not put brakes on such enjoyments even when advised against them. One does not get any accolades in Waheguru's Court without honest hard labour (to recite and to act on Waheguru's Naam). There is no wisdom wasted in worthless religious debates. The true wisdom is to serve the Lord, and to earn respect with Waheguru's Naam. Based on this norm, a man is considered a model when he is perfect in his profession and lacks no skill in it. Similarly, a devotee of Waheguru is considered perfect and an image of Waheguru, when he has all virtues and no weaknesses. Such a devotee earns the reward of being connected to Waheguru when he yearns to see Him, oh Nanak. 2.
NOTE: If we base the meaning of this holy Shabad on body parts, then many people who are missing some minor body part, but are otherwise wonderful and great people, will be excluded from being human beings with no fault of their own. So, here ling does not mean body part, it implies skills.

Perdhan = respectable everywhere. Joogut(i) = (noble) life style. Dhoti = the loose white fabric that the Brahman wears to show his purity. Soort(i) = spiritual wisdom. Chaunka = ritualistically purified kitchen. Tilk(u) = anointment. Kerni = noble deeds. Bhaaou = love for Waheguru. Virla = rare.

MEANING: Most people perform rituals such as idol worship, fasting, pilgrimage, giving donations to Brahmans, and wearing religious symbols, etc., which are spiritually worthless. Guru Nanak Sahib advises such people to have noble qualities and recite Waheguru's Naam. He advises that any commitment one makes should be only to recite Waheguru's Naam; contentment should be one's pilgrimage; and focusing on Waheguru and getting connected with Him should be the devotee's bathing. Compassion should be his idol, and forgiveness the rosary. Such people are respected everywhere (even in Waheguru's Court). Noble lifestyle should be the dhoti of the Brahman, spiritual wisdom (high awareness) should be his purified kitchen, and his noble performance should be the anointment on his forehead. On the ninth day after the new or the full moon, one should make recitation of Waheguru's Naam to be his main principle, and he should consume (get rid of) his lust, rage, and the fire of his desires. On the tenth day, he should control all ten doors of his body (all his ten senses), and on the eleventh day, he should believe only in the "One" Waheguru. Viseheh(i) = trust. Dhooh Guyyi = deceives and leaves. Puchhtaaya = repent. Jum Dur(i) = in the court of the Angel of death. Budhay Maariyeh(i) = tied up receive punishment. 21.

MEANING: One may be a rajah, a wealthy person, or a pauper; everybody accumulates the poisonous wealth. Their love for wealth reaches a point where they steal wealth from others as well, and do not even trust their sons or their wives. But wealth deceives them too, and slips away from their hands while they watch helplessly, and repent. Tied in the court of the Angel of justice, such people receive severe punishment, which is the Will (Huqam) of Waheguru, oh Nanak. 21.

Word Meaning: Giyan Vihoona = devoid of Divine Knowledge. Geet = religious songs. Museet(i) = mosque. Mukhuttoo = who does not want to work; a lazy bum. . Kunn Purraayay = becomes a faqir (a beggar in the garb of a yogi). Fuqqur(u) Kuray= becomes a faqir. Hoar(u) = and. Jaat(i) Guvaayay = degrades his clan by becoming a beggar. Sudaayay = calls himself. Mool(i) Na = absolutely not. Luggiyiyaiy Paayay = touch feet; show respect. Ghaal(i) Khaayay = earns food by honest means. Huthoun Dayay = gives in charity. Raah(u) = the true path of life. Puchhaaneh(i) Sayay = he recognizes. 1.

MEANING: Devoid of spiritual knowledge, some men sing religious songs only to earn their living. Likewise, the discontented moolah makes the mosque his home (using the offerings there to run his family affairs). A lazy bum gets his ears pierced and becomes a yogi. He goes begging and disgraces his family's name. He calls himself a guru or a peer, but begs from door to door. One should never show any respect for such a lazy bum. Only that individual recognizes the true path (of high morality) of life who earns his living by his own hard work, and still shares some with the needy, oh Nanak. 1.

Sur = saar = worth. Akkhur = word (of advice). Bhayo = meaning. Luhunt(i) = acquire; understand. Usul = truly. Khur = donkey. J(i) = those. Gerb(u) = conceit.

MEANING: Those with an unenlightened mind are like a deep, dark well (where no light reaches), and they do not realize their human responsibility even after being explained. Their minds are inverted (away from spirituality), and they look very foolish. To the contrary, there are some who know what to say and understand what is explained to them. They are truly wise, and look very impressive (noble). Then, there are some who have no taste for Guru's Shabad, for the Vedas, or for music. They do not know the difference between the good and the bad. Also, there are some who have no wisdom, no intelligence, do not know the worth of wisdom, and do not understand any word of wisdom. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam (and spend money in the name of God), never experience any shortage of that. The Sikhs of the Guru see Waheguru everywhere, and have no hesitation in spending in His Name. Waheguru's devotees do not think of anyone other than Waheguru to be the Supreme, and stay absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 22.

Word Meaning: Vudbhaagi = fortunate. Liv Laagi = meditate on. Gireh Kootumb = family. Sehj Smaadhi = meditate in a high spiritual state. Baiyraagi = renouncers. 1.

MEANING: Those who serve Satguru and stay absorbed in Waheguru with Guru's Shabad are highly fortunate. Even while leading a family life, their mind stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in a high spiritual state. Imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam, they are the true renouncers of the world, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Guntaiy = keeping account of one's noble deeds. Thaayan Na Paayay = given no credit. Saad(u) = taste; enjoyment. Sach(i) = Waheguru's Naam. Bhaaou = love. Mun Hutth = with the sheer obstinacy of mind. Vikha = step. Agaahaan = forward. Pichhaahaan = backward. Chaakri = service to. Bhaayay = Will. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. Sehjaiy = in high spiritual state. 2.

MEANING: One is not serving Waheguru, and his hard labour is not recognized if he makes calculations of his noble deeds and feels conceited about them. He does not relish Guru's Shabad, and does not love Waheguru. He does not develop any love for Satguru, but, by the sheer obstinacy of his mind, he goes to see Him and returns. If he takes one step forward, he takes ten steps backwards (very reluctant to visit Him). One serves Satguru only if he leads his life according to His Will. He can connect with Satguru only if he first kills his selfishness and ego and stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in a high spiritual state. Those who have been connected to Waheguru through His benevolence never forget His Naam, oh Nanak.2

Word Meaning: Khan = chief. Mulook = rajah. Gurrh = fort. Mundar = palace. Guch Geeriyaan = white washed. Soyin Saakhut(i) = saddles of gold. Paun Vayg = wind-like fast running horses. Dhrig(u) = condemnable; shameful. Chuturaayi = shrewdness. Chhutee Amrit = thirty-six kinds of delicious foods. Maiyl(u) = filth (of mind). Jaan-ni = recognize; be thankful. 23.

MEANING: Even those who call themselves chiefs and rajahs do not get to stay in this world forever. None of their fort-like and white-washed mansions accompanies them. Their wind-like fast running horses with saddles of gold, and their shrewdness, become shameful for them (because they earn them bad credit in Waheguru's Court). The thirty-six kinds of delicious foods that they enjoy simply add to their mental filth. Such worshippers of Maya suffer later because they are never thankful to Waheguru, who endows them with all such gifts, oh Nanak. 23.

Beechaari = thinker; thoughtful. 1.
MEANING: One can never acquire Waheguru's Naam as long as he loves Maya in some form; actually, they suffer immensely because of their inability to acquire the Naam. The pundits exhaust themselves by reading their holy books; the sages exhaust themselves by staying quiet for very long times, and the members of various sects exhaust themselves by roaming around in the foreign lands, but none of them has realized Waheguru's Naam. The foolish are ignorant, and serve (deal in) Maya with the three effects. They have deceit at heart, but read the holy books simply to earn their living. Only those who enjoy bliss serve Satguru and kill their selfishness and ego. Some rare individual realizes that there is only Waheguru's Naam to be read and pondered upon, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: It is Waheguru's Huqam (Will) that the man is to be born empty-handed, and leave the world empty-handed; so, what can one do? Life is given by Waheguru, and He takes it away, so whom can one show any resentment? The Sikh of the Guru obeys Waheguru's Will, and enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state. One should always sing praise of Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts, by reciting His Naam with the tongue, oh Nanak. 2.

MEANING: The wealthy person wears rich clothes of many different colours, and adorns his fort-like body in many different ways. He invites his friends to enjoy, who settle down on soft plush rugs. MEANING: The night of life of the devotee who gets absorbed in the Guru's Shabad is spent in the comfort of a high spiritual state. Waheguru embraces her with love and connects her with Him. Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in her mind, and her indecisiveness (wavering of mind) ends without any special effort on her part. They are like worms of feces (who enjoy filthy sensual pleasures) and are robbed (of their good qualities) by the thief-like worldly affairs. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. Sir(u) Dhuraiy Ootaar = surrenders his wisdom. Bhaana = Will. Oordhaar(i) = embed in heart. 1.

MEANING: As long as the human mind keeps taking flights (does not stabilize), it suffers from much selfishness, ego, and conceit. It does not enjoy the sweetness of Guru's Shabad and does not foster love for Waheguru's Naam. His hard work (if any) is not rewarded, and he suffers great humiliation for his unsuccessful efforts. Only that individual is considered to be Waheguru's servant (devotee) who surrenders his wisdom to Him, accepts Satguru's Will, and enshrines His Shabad in his heart, oh Nanak. 1.

With His benevolence, Waheguru connects such a devotee with Him and rids him of his worldly desires. Once connected, such a devotee never gets separated from Waheguru, as his soul merges with the Lord's. But only that devotee realizes this fact whom Waheguru enlightens with Guru's grace, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Laykhay Vich = in record; in His Huqam. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Bikaar = immoral acts. Munoor = brittle iron. Ludday = loaded; accumulated. Maarug(u) = journey (to God's court); crossing the world-sea. Bikhum(u) = tough. Oobray = salvaged. Oodhaari = salvager. 27.

MEANING: The egoist individual, who does not respect the Guru, does not realize that Waheguru keeps account of everybody's deeds. Such a follower of his mind never thinks of Waheguru's Naam and is hit hard on the head by the Angel of death. He accumulates the heavy burden of his brittle-iron-like (spiritually) useless sins and immoral activities. He does not realize that he will have to endure the tough, frightening journey of swimming across the world sea. Only those are salvaged who are protected by the Guru with Waheguru's Naam, which is their salvager, oh Nanak. 27.

MEANING: One cannot enjoy comfort (peace of mind) without serving Satguru, and takes births, and dies again, and again. He becomes delusional with his attachment to Maya and commits immoral acts. A few are salvaged by Guru's grace; people show respect for such holy devotees. Recite Waheguru's Naam every day (always) in your mind so as to reach the door of emancipation, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Sach(u) = eternal truth. Dhundha = Maya-related affairs. Suhaam(u) = worries. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten. Keraam(u) = benevolence; fortune. 2.

MEANING: In his love for Maya, the man forgets the eternal Waheguru and the unavoidable death. All his life has been spent in worldly affairs and worries. Those fortunate people who have Satguru's service prewritten in their fate enjoy bliss by serving Him (obeying His Will), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Laykha = for positive account. Laykh(u) = questionable account. Sud = always. Dhoyi = support. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Milaiy = meets; welcomes. Bhayt = gifts. Nit = always. Mehl(u) = Waheguru's Residence (union with Him). Put(i) = honour. Pergut(u) Loyi = spreads in the world. Unhud Dhooni = Divine Music. 28.

MEANING: Nobody can ask for the account of one's deeds if he has Waheguru's Naam in his positive account; such a devotee always has the support of Waheguru in His Court. The Angel of Death welcomes him with gifts and becomes his permanent servant. One reaches Waheguru's Residence (gets connected with Him) with the grace of the Perfect Guru, and his fame spreads all over the world. He feels as if Divine Music is playing at his door (in his mind) when he gets connected with God, oh Nanak. 28.

MEANING: Waheguru never gets old, and the mind of the devotee never becomes filthy when he has Waheguru's Naam in there. The devotee, who leads his life as per the Will of the Guru, does not take birth ever again. But one keeps taking births and dying when he forgets Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Mungut Jun(u) = devotee; beggar. Jaachaiy = begs. Soobhaayay = with love. Piyaas = thirst; longing. Triptaayay = is contented. Khin = Pul = Ghurri = a short moment. Naal(i) = with; close. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Sootiyaan = sleeping; unaware. Ootthaal(i) = awakes (cautions). Liv = deep meditation. 29.

MEANING: I am a beggar at Your Door, and beg for You Naam, oh Waheguru. Kindly grant me Your Naam with love. I have a deep longing for Your holy Sight, and will find contentment only when I get to see You. I cannot live without seeing Waheguru even for a short moment, and die spiritually without seeing Him, oh my mother. Satguru has shown the omnipresent Waheguru to be present in my mind too. Word Meaning: Mummukh = follower of his mind. Boal(i) = polit (appropriate) language. Thaaoun Kuthaaoun = appropriate and inappropriate situations. Chitveh(i) = think about. Bikaar = vices. Durgah = Waheguru's Court. Koorriyaar = deceitful (having bad qualities only). Oopaayiun(u) = creates. Vertaiy = operates. Sachiyaar = source of truth (noble qualities); Waheguru.
MEANING: The follower-of-his-mind is full of lust, rage, and ego, and does not know how to use polite language (or Waheguru's Naam). He cannot distinguish between appropriate and inappropriate situations and always thinks of immoral activities. When the account of his deeds is examined in Waheguru's Court, he is proven to be deceitful. Waheguru Himself creates the universe, and ponders upon the deeds of its living beings. Hir(i) Aaniya = brings by stealing. Nihaalay = watches. Aav = life span. Baytaaliya = out of step with reality. Rukhvaaliya = saviour; guard. 30.
MEANING: Everybody has many wishes as if they are going to live for a very long time. With the hope that they will live forever, they beautify their fort-like mansions and stages. They steal others' wealth with many deceitful means. Out-of-step with reality, the egoists do not realize that death is watching their every breath, and the span of their life is decreasing with each breath. Word Meaning: Vaad(u) Vukhaanday = show off in discussions. Sooaayay = taste (enjoyment). Doojaiy Bhaayay = love for Maya. Sayvni = serve. Rijk = food and necessities of life. Smaayay = delivers. Phaaha = noose. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten fortune.

MEANING: For the love of money, the pundits read the holy books to take part in spiritually useless debates. They ignore Waheguru's Naam in the love for Maya, and the foolish are punished (in Waheguru's court). They do not serve the Lord who delivers food and other needy stuff to them. The noose of the Angel of death is not cut (removed) from their necks, and they keep taking births, and dying, again, and again. Satguru Himself connects those with Him who have it prewritten in their fate. One should recite Waheguru's Naam all the time so as to get absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Soag(u) = sadness. Vijoag(u) = (pain of) separation. Viyaapyee = affects. Bhaana = Will. Bhaaya = like. Ruv(i) Ruhhay = stay connected. 31.

MEANING: The more wishes or expectations (love for Maya) one has in life, the more he suffers, and the follower of his mind does just that. The Sikhs of the Guru do not have any such expectations and enjoy the supreme bliss. They stay completely detached from worldly affairs while living in the family. They accept Waheguru's Will and stay completely unaffected by any sad or happy occasions. They stay connected with Waheguru, which connects them with Him, oh Nanak. 31.

Maanuk(u) = pearl. Vaychun = to sell. Perkh = recognition. Udh(u) = half a cowrie shell (almost nothing). Pullaiy Paayay = offer. Parkhiyaan = evaluators. Thaavoun = from. Oas(u) = Waheguru. Seetul = cool; source of bliss. Tithaiy = there. Soag(u) = sadness. Vijoag(u) = (pain of) separation. Gerb = feel proud (conceited). Aap(u) Gynaayay = shows importance. 1.

NOTE: It seems that this Shabad was written by Guru Amar Dass Ji about His successor, Guru Ram Dass Ji, to clarify that Gurushipis predetermined by Waheguru.

MEANING: Why should one keep holding on to something which has been given to him in trust by the owner? One has comfort only after returning it to the rightful owner. Guru's Shabad stays only with the Guru, and does not appear in somebody else's mind (does not enlighten that mind). Guru's Shabad is like that pearl, whose worth is known only to the experts. If a blind man acquires a pearl, he does not know its worth, and rather than taking it to the experts to sell, he takes it to every household, who, being equally ignorant, do not pay him more than half a cowrie shell (almost nothing). (Being ignorant, not everybody knows the worth of the Guru's Shabad).

If one does not know the worth of something, he should take it to the experts for its evaluation. Waheguru's Naam is such an invaluable thing that only a rare devotee knows its worth. The devotee, who gets attached to the Naam, acquires the invaluable Naam in his heart, and feels as if he has acquired all the nine treasures of the world. Without knowing the true worth of this wealth (Waheguru's Naam), the world starves to (spiritual) death, and does not get the required understanding without the Guru. The heart in which the source of blissfulness, Waheguru's Naam, takes dwelling, does not suffer from any sadness or the pain of separation from Maya. Only a foolish person feels proud of something which is not his and shows his own importance. Nobody acquires Waheguru's Naam without the required understanding, and keeps taking births again and again, oh Nanak. 1.

Oojul = pure; radiant. 2.

MEANING: The beloved devotees of Waheguru - the holy saints - feel blissful and blooming of their hearts when they get connected with Waheguru. Those who are predestined (to connect with Waheguru) are connected to Him through His benevolence, and they never get separated. With Guru's Shabad (enshrined) in their hearts, they connect with the Guru, and all their troubles are eradicated. I always sing praise of Waheguru, who is the source of all comforts, and keep Him enshrined in my mind. By vilifying them, what harm can the Maya-worshippers cause to the devotees who have been adorned by Waheguru with Guru's Shabad? The dignity of those who take Guru's shelter (surrender to Him), is protected by the dear Waheguru Himself. Such Sikhs of the Guru feel blissful, and their faces shine with internal purity in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 2.

He steals money (earns dishonestly), whether he is in his own homeland or in a foreign land, and feeds his family. However, in the end, wealth breeds enmity among them, and no one can free them from the strong bonds of wealth. The attraction to anything other than Waheguru is reprehensible and leads to suffering at the end, oh Nanak. 32.

MEANING: For a Sikh of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam-Amrit is the only (spiritual) food for him, which, when taken, eradicates all his worldly desires. A Sikh does not have any worldly desire at all as Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in his heart. Desire for anything other than Waheguru's Naam causes mental ailments very quickly in one's mind. When praise of Waheguru with Guru's Shabad becomes the enjoyment of all tastes for a devotee, Waheguru Himself connects him with Him, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Guru's life-sustaining Shabad, which connects one with Waheguru, sustains the spiritual life of all humanity. It is complete darkness (of ignorance) in the world, Guru's Shabad, dispels that darkness, and brightens the world spiritually. The pundits, and the sages exhaust themselves reading the religious books, and the followers of different religious sects exhaust themselves by taking dips at holy places, but they leave the world frustrated because they cannot get connected with Waheguru without Guru's Shabad. One can get connected with Waheguru only with the benevolence of Waheguru if he has the prewritten union with Him in his fate, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nayhou = love. Beh(i) = sitting (together). Mund(u) Pukaaya = decided to commit evil deeds. Disda = visible. Bhaaya = is His Will. Thir(u) = for ever. Kuddhou Oopaaya = find some solution. Chaakri = (selfless) service. Kundh = wall; body. Subaaya = all; for ever. Bukhsh(i) = with benevolence. 33.
MEANING: There is immense love between the wife and the husband, but they make only immoral plans when they are together, and do not realize that it is the Will of Waheguru that every visible thing is perishable (and will not stay with them all the time). They consult each other to find some ways whereby they can stay in the world for ever. They should know that it is only the selfless service to the Guru, which can make them immortal for ever. MEANING: In his attachment for Maya, the man has lost fear of the Guru and the love for Waheguru. With waves of greed rising in his mind, he has lost his pure thinking and his ability to understand, and cannot develop love for Waheguru. But the Sikhs of the Guru, who have His Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) enshrined in their mind, reach Waheguru's Court, and are approved for emancipation. The munificent Waheguru Himself connects them with Him, oh Nanak. 1.

With his benevolence, Waheguru calls such devotees unexpectedly to His Palace and rewards them richly. So, worship such Waheguru, which emancipates you at the end, oh, the holy saints. Singing Waheguru's praise and worshipping Him is always blissful, and the devotees acquire comfort (peacefulness) in their minds. All the suffering and the appetite (for worldly desires) of the devotees who recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru go away. The lotus of their mind blooms (their minds are enlightened), and they meditate on His Naam in the high spiritual state. If someone tries to emulate them, he suffers humiliation. MEANING: My life, my good looks, and all the endowments are given by You, oh Waheguru. It is my ego that makes me think all my possessions are due to my wisdom. The individual who performs many rituals suffers from greed, worldly attachments, selfishness, and ego, and the cycle of his rebirths never ends. I firmly believe that whatever the man does, he does so according to the Will of Waheguru (based on his previous deeds), so the best thing for the man to do is to accept His Will as being good for him, oh Nanak. 2.

Like the beautiful clouds, which begin to drop rain with the benevolence of the eternal, and the creator, Waheguru, as a result of which more than sufficient food is produced, and the whole world becomes peaceful (contented), the world also comes to new spiritual life when the Guru-Cloud showers Waheguru's Naam with His benevolence. Word Meaning: Kuhha = why? Gerbus(i) = conceited. Dus Mun = about four quintals. Naaj(u) = grains. Tukaa = a unit of money (rupee). Chaar(i) = four (significant). Gaantthi = in possession. Aindhou = so much. Taydhou = deceitful; with inflated ego. Pause. Pertaap = glory. Gaaoun = villages. Paayay = acquired. Doyay Lukh = two hundred thousand. Baraat = revenue. Divus Chaar(i) = a few days. Sahibee = reign. Bun = jungle. Hur Paat = green leaves. 1. Adhik Chhutarput(i) = greater kings. Khin Meh(i) = in a moment. Guyyay Bilaat = left the world. 2. Sudaa Thir(u) = immortal. Japaat = make others recite. Milaat = are connected with. 3. Bunita = wife. Soot = sons. Sumput(i) = wealth. Chulut Sungaat = goes with. Bauray = insane. Akaaruth = uselessly. 4.

MEANING: What are you so conceited about for such a small achievement, oh man? So, what if you have a few quintals of grains and a few rupees (dollars) in your possession; why are you showing off such an inflated ego about that? Pause.

Maybe you rule over a few hundred villages, enjoy some glory, and collect a couple of hundred thousand rupees in revenue, but like the greenery in the jungle, such a reign lasts only for a short period of time (maximum until your death). 1.

Nobody is born with any wealth, and nobody takes it with them. Even the kings, much greater than Ravan (the villain of Ramayana), left this world in a moment. 2.

Only the holy saints of Waheguru are immortal (as they never take birth again, and never die); so, worship them because they make you recite Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru connects the devotees whom He is kind to with such holy saints. 3. None of one's mother, father, wife, sons, or wealth accompanies him at the end. So, Kabir advises the insane man to recite Waheguru's Naam as his life is going to waste (spiritually). 4.1.

Kuhhou Kabir, Sadhu kay preetum, Tis(u) Moorut(i) bulihaari. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Rajashrum = having very high residence; highly transcendent (God). Mit(i) = measurements; transcendence. Chayri = disciple; devotee. Pause. Busto = inhabited. Oojur(u) = deserted. 1. Thul = land. Kooaan = well of water; lake. Koop = well. Mayr(u) = a very tall mountain. Akaash Chudhaavaiy = raises from the earth to the sky; from unknown to very famous. Giraavaiy = pushes down. 2. Bhaykhari = beggar. Khul Moorukh = unwise; foolish. Pundit = highly learned. Mooghdhaari = complete foolish. 3. Naari = female. Purakh = male. Preetum = beloved. Moorut(i) = beautiful personality. Bulihaari = sacrifice.

MEANING: I did not realize Your transcendence, oh, the highly transcendent God; however, I am a devotee of Your holy saints. Pause. It is Your amazing feat that a person who leaves home happy, may come back crying, and the one who left crying, may come back happy. Similarly, a town that is happily inhabited may become deserted, and a deserted place may become a vibrant town of happy people. 1. If You wish, You can create land in the middle of a large body of water, and create a lake on land, or convert a well (a lake) into a tall mountain (all such changes have taken place in nature). Likewise, You can change the fate of an insignificant man and elevate his fame to the sky, and conversely, those who fly in the sky (enjoy great glory), can fall to the ground (suffer humiliation) at Your Will. 2. You can make a beggar a rajah, and convert a rajah into a beggar (like emperor Shah Jahan). You can convert a completely foolish and ignorant person into a learned pundit, and a learned pundit into a complete fool. 3.
You can even change the gender of a person – from female to male, and a male to a female, if you so wish (transgender people are well known these days). I am a sacrifice to the beautiful Lord, who is the beloved of the holy saints, oh Kabir. 4.2.

Sadh sungut(i) kubhoon nuhhi kuraiy. Keht Namdayo ta chee aan(i). Nirbhaiy hoyay bhujiyaiy Bhugwan. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Bikhiya Bun = poisonous jungle (of sensual pleasures). Bhoolou = misled. Tthugmoori = mind captivating vine. Pause. Meen(u) = fish. Kaal Jaal = the net of death. Soodh(i) = wisdom; knowledge. Jihba = tongue. Leelut(i) = swallows. Loh = (hook of) iron. Kunik = gold; wealth. Kamini = woman; wife. 1. Mudh(u) Maakhi = honey bee. Sunchaiy = accumulates. Apaar = limitless; too much. Chhaar(u) = dirt; nothing. Baachh = calf. Kheer(u) = milk. Dooh(i) Layay = milks. Aheer(u) = milkman. 2. Kaarun = for the sake of. Sherm(u) = hard labour. Gaadaiy = buries. Dhuraiy = in the ground. Moorr = foolish. Dhoor(i) = dust. 3. Trishna = fire of desires. Juraiy = burns; suffers. Ta Chee = His (God's). Aan(i) = shelter. Nirbhaiy = fearless. 4.

MEANING: When you know that the mind-captivating attractions of Maya are misleading, why are you attracted to the poisonous jungle of sensual pleasures, oh my mind? Pause. Like the fish which live in water but are unaware of the net of death, and swallow the iron hook for the greed of the taste of their tongue, the man is trapped in his love for his wife and his wealth. 1. Man's love for worldly attractions is as deceiving as the love of the honeybees for the honey which they gather with great effort, but they get no reward for their hard work, as the honey is taken by the owner of the honeycombs. Similarly, the cow gathers milk (produces it in its udder) for her calf, but the milk is taken away by the milkman. (Man's love for the worldly attractions is just like that). 2.

The man works very hard to make money, and buries it in the ground. The foolish does not realize that his hard-earned money, which he accumulates, will be of no good to him as it will be left buried in the ground when his body becomes a part of the dust. 3.

He burns his heart (suffers badly) in the fire of his lust, his rage, and his worldly desires, and never attends the gathering of the holy people. The man should seek the shelter of God, and worship him without any fear of others, oh Namdev. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Budhou = acknowledge; accept. Hoad = bet. Khayl(u) Puriyou = drama between You and us. Dayo = god; idol. Dayhoora = temple. Trung = wave. Bujaavaiy Toora = plays music. Oora = less than perfect. Poora = Perfect.

MEANING: Why do You not enter into a bet with me (You have to accept the fact) that the drama of life is between You and Your devotees, and that the devotee is known only because of the Lord, and the Lord is made known (revealed) by His devotees, oh God. Pause. You are God, and the temple, and You make people worship You. The Lord and His devotees are like the water and the waves on its surface in the ocean, which look different and are described differently, but are the same. 1

(Some people worship God by singing, dancing, and playing music), In that case, it is the Lord who sings, dances, and plays music. You are Perfect, oh, my Lord, and I am Your devotee who is imperfect, humbly submits Nam Dayo. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Daas Aninn = dedicated devotee. Nij Roop = own image. Nimukh = for a moment. Taap Truyee = the three ailments (physical, mental, and due to aggression). Moachun = eradicator. Persut = touching (feet); show reverence. Greh Koop = the deep pit of family affairs. Pause. Baandhi = the knot of (attachment with) Maya. Chhudaavaiy = loosens. Geh(i) = holding. Baandhaiy = bonds of love. Tuou Phoon(i) = then. Jubaab(u) = refusal. 1. Goon Bundh = bonded because of the noble qualities of my devotees. Sugul Kee = of everybody. Aiysi = such. Taiyso = the same; similar. Pergaas = enlightenment. 2.

NOTE: This holy Shabad is Waheguru's response to Namdev Ji's questions/comments in the previous Shabad.

MEANING: My dedicated devotees are my own image (I am visibly present in them), and their holy sight, even if it is for a short moment, destroys the three human ailments. Surrendering to such devotees (showing full faith in them) emancipates one from the deep pit (strong worldly bonds) of family life. Pause. My devotees can loosen the strong bonds of Maya caused by me, but I cannot loosen the bond of their love for me. If they ever hold me tightly by the bond of their love, I cannot refuse their love for me. 1.

(God continues) I am bonded to them because of their noble qualities. I support the lives of everybody, but my devotees are the support of my life. One's degree of enlightenment depends upon the degree of his love for me, oh Namdev. 2.3.

Word Meaning: Nur = oh, man. Unpaavni = dedicated; loyal. Oopji = acquire; attain. Pause. Kaam(u) = lust. Bisriyo = forgotten; given up. Dayva = for God's sake. Pur Ninda = vilification of others. Nihful = unrewarded; wasted. 1. Baat Paar(i) = highway robbery. Moos(i) = defraud; dupe. Biraano = of others. Upraadhi = sinner; criminal. Purloak = next world; God's Court. Upkeerut(i) = disgrace. Abidiya = immoral learning. Saadhi = learned; practised. 2. Hinsa = aggression. Paali = nurtured; acquired. Kutha = praise of God. Pooneet = pious. Chaali = practised. 3.

MEANING: What have you learned by reading the Puranas, oh man? You have not developed a loyal worship of Waheguru in your mind, nor have you fed the hungry (helped the needy). Pause. You have not given up (controlled) your lust, your rage, and your greed, even for God's sake. You have not gotten rid of the vilification of others, so all your hard work of reading the Puranas has gone to waste. 1.

The sinner robs travellers and fills his belly by defrauding others. He has learnt and practises only that immoral learning which becomes the cause of his disgrace in the next world. 2.

You have not overcome your aggressive nature and have never shown compassion for people in misery. You have not attended any gathering of holy saints, and never sung praise of the Creator, oh Perma Nand. 3.1.6.

NOTE: Even though his name is not given in the heading of the Shabad as the author, it is clear at the end that Perma Nand Ji is the author of this Shabad.

ਛਾਡਿ ਮਨ ਹਰਿ ਬਿਮੁਖਨ ਕੋ ਸੰਗੁ॥

Chhaad(i) mun Hur(i) bimookhun ko sung(u).

Word Meaning: Chhaad(i) = give up. Hur(i) Bimookhun = no faith in God.

MEANING: Quit your association with the people who have no faith in God, oh my mind.

NOTE: Even though there is no heading and no name of the holy saint whose composition this is, this single sentence is the composition of the well-known bhagat, Soor Dass Ji, who must have written many poems or lyrics in praise of his deity. But Guru Arjun Dev Ji must not have found his other compositions in line with the philosophy of Guru Nanak Dev Ji; so, He chose just this single sentence to enshrine in Guru Granth Sahib. It is clear from the Heading of the following holy Shabad that it is the composition of Guru Arjun Sahib, and it is addressed to Soor Daas Ji. It also clarifies that the above lone sentence is the composition of Soor Dass Ji.

Word Meaning: Busay = live with; stay connected. Hur(i) Loak = devotees of Waheguru. Urp(i) = offer. Serbus(u) = everything. Anund Sehj = blissfulness. Dhoon Jhoak = feeling of ecstasy. Pause. Bhuyyay = become. Nirbikhuyyi = free from all sensual enjoyments; pure. Suglay Thoak = everything. Aan Bust = other things. Kaaj Na = no interest; have nothing to do with. Budn = face. Aloak = to see. 1. Shiyam Soondar = the adorable Waheguru. Tuj(i) = giving up. Aan = other things. Chaahut = wish for. Kooshti = leper. Joak = leech. Eh(u) = this world. Purloak = the next world.

MEANING: Waheguru's devotees stay connected with Him (keep Him in mind) all the time. They offer (surrender) their body, their mind (thinking), and all their wealth to Waheguru, and enjoy the ecstasy of blissfulness of a high spiritual state. Pause.
They become completely free from the sensual enjoyments to have the holy Sight of Waheguru, and acquire everything they wish for. After seeing Waheguru's adorable face, they are left with no desire for anything else. 1.
Ignoring the adorable Waheguru, those who wish for other things are like a leech sucking dirty blood from the body of a leper (they are money lovers who suck the blood of others by defrauding them). My mind has been acquired by Waheguru, and he has given me the luxuries of both the worlds – the present, and the future – to enjoy, oh Soor Dass. 2.18.

MEANING: Who else, other than Waheguru, is the support for your mind (soul), oh man? The love for one's mother, father, brothers, sons, and wife is very deceiving. Pause.

Kaaya = body (mind). Tayho Jayhi = the same kind. Dayhi = body. Soohaavi = pleasant; comforting. Kayhi = of what use? 4.

MEANING: The man has forgotten his death, and eating, drinking, laughing (enjoyments), and sleeping have become his main objectives. He does not realize that he cannot stay in this world forever; shameful is the life in which the man forgets the Lord, and suffers humiliation at the end. 1.

Remember only Waheguru's Naam, and reach His Residence with dignity, oh man. Pause.

(It is in man's own interest that he recites Waheguru's Naam with full faith), But he recites His Naam only to beg for things which he wishes and cannot stop begging; and what does he give Waheguru in return (nothing)? Waheguru is the Provider for everybody, and His Soul is present in everybody, keeping them alive. 2. Those who recite Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter acquire the immortalizing Amrit, and only they are pure. Even the filthy-minded become purified when they recite Waheguru's Naam day and night, oh man. 3.

It is a known fact that, physically, the human body experiences comfort (or discomfort) depending on the season and adapts to it. Similarly, for mental comfort, the best season for the mind is when it recites Waheguru's Naam; what kind of comfort can he enjoy without the Naam (none), oh Nanak? 4.1.

MEANING: Just like the world feels joyful on hearing the thunder of the clouds in the hot rainy season, my mind feels zestful to worship Waheguru, and I request my dear Guru that He connect me with my husband-Waheguru so that imbued in His love, I may sing His praise. 1. Cause the rain of Waheguru's Naam so that I may acquire the comforting drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in my heart, oh my kind Satguru. Captivated by the grace of my Guru, my mind is fully absorbed in enjoying the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Pause. The human soul, which is fully convinced of the Guru's Shabad, becomes dear to the Waheguru-Husband, and the devotee enjoys the comfort of the high spiritual state. Such a devotee becomes Waheguru-Husband's favourite, gets connected with Him, and enjoys the comfort (intoxication) of a high spiritual state by body and mind. 2.
Getting rid of all her ignoble qualities, she becomes fully detached from the world and acquires the eternal Waheguru as her husband (Lord). With Waheguru's benevolence, she never suffers from any sadness or separation (from Him). 3.
In the shelter of the Perfect Guru, her mind becomes stable (quits wavering), and she no longer takes rebirths. Such a devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, is great, is loved by Waheguru, and is a true devotee of His, oh Nanak. 4.2.

Word Meaning: Saachi Soort(i) = pure thoughts. Triptaiy = gets contented. Guvaaya = wasted precious human life. Pur = of others. Rut = in love of. Ninda = malicious criticism of others. Bikh(u) = poison (murderer of conscience. Cheen(i) = recognizing. Kupt = deceitfulness. Chhootaiy = goes away. Ajgur(i) Bhaar = very heavy load. Ludday = loaded. Bhaari = heavy. 1. Bhaavaiy = like. Soohaava = comforting. Bherm(i) Bherm(i) = wandering through. Joan(i) Bhaykh = different life forms. Pause. Tayj(u) = rage. Nivaar(i) = by removing. Nahatay = bathe at holy places. Bhaaya = liked. Ruttan Pdartuh = jewel-like Waheguru's Naam. Purhur(i) = pushing away. Tiyaagiya = renounced. Jut Ko Tut = returned to where it started (in the birth-death cycle). Bishta Keet = like worms of feces (enjoying immoral sensual pleasures). Adhik = many. Sooaad = tastes; enjoyments. Roag = ailments; suffering. Sehj = blissfulness. 2. Sayva Soort(i) = with the spirit of serving. Rehus(i) = with full fervor. Khoajeen = by searching (pondering). Oopjaiy = (high spiritual state) is generated. Baadeen = in aggressive discussions. Binsaiy = is destroyed. Neech = ignoble. Heen-Mut(i) = low wisdom. Suvaarunhaara = beautifier; purifier of mind. Aatum Cheen(i) = self analyzing. Taarun = to salvage. 3. Soothaan(i) = at holy place (in Guru's shelter). Apaara = oh, limitless (Waheguru). Alukh(u) = incomprehensible. Agumm = inaccessible. Ajoni = which takes no life forms. Naathaan = the self-proclaimed spiritual leaders. Naathunhaara = controlling; enslaving. Jaachuk = beggars. Bhugut-Heen(u) = devoid of worship. Oor(i) Dhaara = enshrine in mind. 4.

MEANING: The man does not acquire contentment by reciting Waheguru's Naam with pure thinking (mind) (which he should do), and wastes away his precious human life in his selfishness and ego. Intoxicated in the greed of others' wealth, others' women, and the vilification of others, he tastes all such poisonous evils (which kill his character), and suffers. Such a follower-of-his-mind does not get rid of his worldly fears and his deceitful nature by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, but rather keeps only Maya in his mind. He does take birth as a human, but accumulates an extremely heavy burden of his immoral acts, and wastes away his precious human life. 1.

The human mind feels great comfort when it likes Guru's Shabad, but, misled by Maya's attractions, it wanders through many different life forms. Those protected by the Guru (who come to his shelter) become connected to Waheguru. Pause.

The man does not like Waheguru's Naam, and does not get rid of his rage by taking a dip in the holy pool of His Naam. He forsakes the invaluable Naam of Waheguru and returns to the birth-death cycle. Like the worms of feces, where they seem to be happy, the Maya-worshipper keeps enjoying the filth of immoral sensual pleasures. The more one enjoys such pleasures, the more he suffers, and cannot attain the high spiritual state without the Guru. 2.

On the other hand, a devotee of the Guru ponders on His Shabad (gets connected with Waheguru), and feels blissful by singing Waheguru's praise with the spirit of diligent service. One acquires blissfulness by searching for Waheguru's Naam (pondering on Guru's Shabad), and loses it when he takes part in aggressive discussions to show off his knowledge. I am always a sacrifice for my Waheguru-like Guru, who enlightens me about such things. I am ignoble and have low wisdom, but You adorn me with good qualities with Guru's Shabad, oh Waheguru. Waheguru is the ship to ferry us across the world-sea, and is there when one ponders on Guru's Shabad. 3.

I sing Your praise in the company of the holy saints, but You have countless virtues, so how many of those can the poor me sing, oh Waheguru? You are incomprehensible, and cannot be comprehended; You are inaccessible, and never take any life form; You enslave even those who proclaim themselves to be great gurus. I do not see anybody else whom I can compare You with; You are the only provider, while everybody else is a beggar at Your door. I am without Your worship, I, Nanak, beg for Your Naam to enshrine in my heart so that I may see Your Court (merge with You), oh Lord. 4.3.

Soohaavi = comforting. Mookut(i) Bhuyyay = became emancipated. Soobhaavi = praise-earning; comforting. 2. Tirbhuvun Jug(u) = the three-layered universe. Huoun = I. Buhour Na = not again. Bhuvjul(i) Phayra = return to the world (reincarnation). 3. Vigaasi = bloomed. Tuou = only then. Seegaaro MEANING: The human bride, who has not enjoyed the bliss of union with Waheguru, feels uneasy, and her face shows her low spirits. Restrained by her fate shaped by her previous deeds, she feels dejected and is misled by her misbeliefs without the Guru. 1. Cause the rain of Waheguru Naam, oh my cloud-like Guru, so that my dear Waheguru may visit (appear) in my heart. I am a sacrifice for my dear Guru, who connects His devotees with Waheguru. Pause. My love for the Lord is always fresh (it never lessens), and His day-and-night worship is highly comforting. Waheguru's worship earns one praise no matter what the eon is, and one attains emancipation when he has His Sight with the grace of the Guru. 2. The whole universe belongs to Waheguru, and I am also His. I am Yours, and You are mine, oh Waheguru. One acquires Waheguru, which is above the effects of Maya in the shelter of Satguru, and such a devotee never falls in the birth-death cycle. 3. The heart of the human bride, which is adorned (by the Guru) with noble qualities, blooms to "see" her beloved Waheguru. In the shelter of the Guru, clan-less Waheguru's Naam becomes the basis of her life, and by reciting His Naam, she becomes like Him, which is above the effects of Maya. 4. She attains emancipation when Satguru breaks her bonds with Maya, and she acquires profound spiritual wisdom and earns respect everywhere through the Guru's Shabad. With His Naam in her heart, she is connected with Waheguru by the grace of the Guru, oh Nanak. 5.4.

MEANING: The inaccessible and the limitless Waheguru is present in your heart, but only that individual enjoys the Amrit of His Naam who has shaped his lifestyle according to the jewel-like Shabad of the Guru. Pause.

Keeping an evil eye on the women of others, harbouring greed for others' wealth in mind, and one's selfishness and ego, are all poisonous and evil thoughts. One has to give up all these evil habits along with his wicked spirit, vilification of others, lust, and merciless rage to enjoy the Naam-Amrit. 1. One has to accept comforts and discomforts the same way, as well as the good and the bad treatments from the world. One acquires high awareness, noble wisdom, and focus of mind with Waheguru's Naam, which one enshrines in his mind with love for the Guru, and in the company of the holy saints. 2.
Only that devotee acquires comfort (peace of mind) with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru on whom Waheguru casts His kind sight. The Guru is the source of Waheguru's Naam, and one acquires it as a special benefit (wealth) when he recites it day and night in the Guru's shelter. 3. Only that individual realizes Waheguru who refrains from discussing His qualities simply to show off his knowledge, and whom He gives the gift of His Naam to. Only that individual becomes like Waheguru who stays absorbed in (connected with) Him day and night through deep meditation on His Naam. 3.
No words can be said in the full praise of a devotee who belongs to a high caste; but a low-caste devotee is worthy of wearing the shoes of my skin, oh Nanak. 4.1.6.

Word Meaning: Dookh = pain; suffering. Vichhorra = separation. Bhookh = hunger. Shukutvaar = powerful. Jumdoot = agents of the Angel of death. Roag(u) = ailment. Dhaayay = fast. Vaiyd = physician. Bholay = ignorant. Daaroo = medication. 1. Durd(u) = pain. Luggaiy Na = does not affect (cure). Beer = oh, brother. Pause. Khusm(u) = Lord. Visaar(i) = forgetting. Rus Bhoag = enjoyment of sensual pleasures. Ta = then. Ootth(i) Khuloyay = arise. Sujaayay = punishment. 2. Chundun = sandal tree. Ful(i) = gift; importance. Vaas(u) = fragrance. Maanus = human. Kaaya = body. Dhul(i) Paayay = collapses. Paachhaiy = after. 3. Kunchun = gold-like; pure. Nirmul = pure. Huns(u) = soul. Unsh(u) = a part of. Guvaayay = leaves behind; gets rid of. Chhootus(i) = attains emancipation. 4.

MEANING: There are many pain-causing factors in man's life, which include separation (from one's dear ones, and from God), hunger (of the stomach and of worldly attractions), and the powerful death. These are some causes of suffering which attack the body very fast (and there is no medication for such ailments). So, do not prescribe any medication for such ailments, oh, the ignorant physician. 1. There is no treatment for the (mental) ailments in which the pain is not relieved, and suffering stays in the body, oh my brother; so, do not prescribe any medication for such ailments, oh the ignorant physician. Pause.
When the man forgets the Creator, Waheguru, and enjoys worldly pleasures, such ailments take root in his body. The foolish mind receives the punishment for his evil thoughts and actions; so, do not recommend any medication, oh physician. 2.

The importance (use) of sandalwood lasts only as long as it retains its fragrance. Similarly, the human body is useful only as long as it has breath. Once he breathes his last, his body collapses, and he cannot enjoy any worldly attractions. 3.
A man who keeps his body as pure as gold, with Waheguru's Naam in his heart, has a pure soul in his body too. A man finds emancipation with Waheguru's Naam, and he leaves all his suffering and his ailments behind, oh Nanak. 4.2.7.

Jis kuou likhiya eh(u) nidhaan(u). Say dhunvunt, diseh(i) ghur(i) jaayay. Nanak, jun-nee dhunni maayay. 4.3.8.

Word Meaning: Mahoura = poison. Maarun = antidote. Silaa = mortar. Suntokh = contentment. Peesun = pestle. Daan(u) = donations. Nit, Nit = always. Cheejaiy = erodes; weakens mind with age. Maaraiy Tthayh = knocks down. 1. Guvaar = oh, foolish. Vikaar = immoral practices. Pause. Maal(u) = wealth. Jobun(u) = youthfulness. Chhaanv = shadow; darkness. Ruth Phirundaiy = with the rising sun (enlightenment); (it is believed that the sun rides a chariot which is pulled by the lame Arun). Deeseh(i) Thaanv = the reality becomes clear. Naaoun = reputation. Oathaiy = there; in Waheguru's Court. Dihoun = day; light. Aiythaiy = here; in this world. Raat(i) = night; darkness of illusions. 2. Saad = tastes; enjoyments. Smudhaa = wood (fuel) for the fire (of huvun). Trishna = worldly desires. Kaam(u) = lust. Hoam = huvun. Jugg = food for the Brahmans. Paatth Puraan = reading of the Purana. Tis(u) = Waheguru. Bhaavaiy = is pleased with. Pervaan = acceptable. 3. Tup(u) = self-affliction to please gods; hard labour of Waheguru's Naam. Kaagud = paper. Neeshaan = identification. Nidhaan = treasure. Dhunvunt = truly wealthy. Ghur(i) = Waheguru's Residence. Jun-nee = birth-giving. Dhunni = worthy of our respect. Maayay = mother.

MEANING: Human suffering is like a poison for which Waheguru's Naam is the antidote. Some people grind sandalwood to anoint their foreheads as a show of their religiosity. But Waheguru's devotees make contentment their mortar, and donations to the needy their pestle to grind noble qualities and digest them (make them a permanent part of their character). The devotee, who takes such a healthy diet daily for their mind, does not suffer mentally from aging, and knocks down the agents of death at the end (becomes one with Waheguru). 1. Take this medication, which will rid you of your immoral activities, oh, foolish. Pause. One's rule of some state, his wealth, and his youthfulness are all shadows which keep him in the dark, and which disappear with the rising sun (he sees the reality with the enlightenment of his mind). Then he realizes that none of his body, his reputation, or his high caste accompanies him to the next world. Man lives in the darkness of his ignorance in this world, but all his actions are well known in Waheguru's Court, where everything is clear like in the daylight. 2. So, one should make his worldly enjoyments the wood, his desires the ghee and the oil. and along with his lust and rage, use them as fuel for the fire of huvun (should burn them for the noble cause of purification of his mind). Only those huvuns, meals to the Brahmans, and the readings of the Purans are approved by Waheguru, which please Him. 3.

The paper of hard labour on which Waheguru's Naam is written serves as one's identification in Waheguru's court. Those who reach Waheguru's Residence are recognized as truly wealthy. Their mothers (wisdom) are worthy of our respect, oh Nanak. 4.3.8.

Word Meaning: Baago = white; shiny; clean. Kaapurr = clothes. Baiyn = (sweet) language. Kaalay Naiyn = black eyes. Kubhoon = ever? 1. Oodaan = flights of mind. Sumruth = omnipotent. Thul(i) = on the land. Doogur = mountains. Teer = banks of rivers. Thununtar(i) = distant places; everywhere. 2. Saaj(i) = created. Khumbh = wings (to fly by mind). Ut(i) = extreme. Trishna = appetite for worldly desires. Dunjh = strong desire. Bundhaan Dheer = control my mind. Vaykhaalay = shows. 3. Jaayayga = accompany. Sunbundh = union. Kerm(u) = benevolence.4.

MEANING: Have you ever seen (got connected with, or sung praise of) Waheguru, who has given you the ability to wear clean (and rich) clothes, and speak with sweet language, has given you a long nose, and beautiful eyes? (Of course not, as the man is engrossed in Maya). 1. If you gave me the ability to fly high in the sky, and to see all the waters, the whole land, the mountains, and all the (holy places) on the river banks, I will find You everywhere, oh, the all-powerful (omnipotent) Waheguru. 2.

Waheguru, who creates the bodies and gives the mind the ability to take flights, also generates a strong desire to take high flights about worldly attractions. I can control my mind from taking flights only if He casts a kind sight on me, and I can see the reality of the world as He shows me, oh, my brother. 3. The human body has been created by Waheguru with the union of air, water, and fire; so, one's body and his wings (desire to take mental flights) do not accompany him on his death. One can recite Waheguru's Naam only with His benevolence, and in the shelter of the Guru or Peer (in case of Muslims), as a result of which the human body (soul merges with the Supreme Being), oh Nanak. 4.4.9.

Word Meaning: Nirunkar(u) = the formless Waheguru. Aakaar(u) = the visible world. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misleads in illusions. Jit(u) = in whatever business. Tit(u) = the same. Sayvuk = servant; devotee. Vudiyaayi = honour. 1. Bhaana = Will. Luhhiyaiy = acquire; understand. Shukut(i) = (attraction for) Maya. Shivaiy Ghur(i) = in Waheguru's Home (focus on). Jeenvundiyaan Mur(i) Ruhhiyaiy = kill worldly desires while living in the family. Pause. Vaad Vukhaanaiy = takes part in useless debates. Tirgoon Maya = Maya with three effects. Sehsa = worry. Undaysa = doubts; misgivings. 2. Deen = weak; helpess. Avichaari = low thinking. Chinta Kurhou = look after. Daasa Daasaan Ka = slave of slaves (devotees). Ehinis(i) = day and night. Vukhaanai = say; recite. 3. Boojhou = understand; realize. Phayn(u) = foam. Boodbooda = bubble. 4.

MEANING: The visible world is a manifestation of the formless Waheguru (He is present in His creation). By creating Maya, He Himself misleads the world with its mind-captivating attractions. The Creator looks after His living beings and puts them in the kind of business (worldly affairs) He deems they deserve. It is an honour for the devotee whom He makes obey His Huqam. 1. Waheguru knows His Will (what He wishes to do), and with the kindness of the Guru, one understands that Waheguru wishes his devotees to turn their mind away from Maya, and turn it towards His Naam so as to kill their worldly desires while living in the family. Pause. With faith in Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, the pundit reads the Vedas just to take part in worthless debates to display his egoistic knowledge. Such behaviour of the pundit is a form of Maya with three effects: it misleads the world through its illusions and keeps the world in the worrisome cycle of births and deaths. 2.

I am helpless, foolish, and have low wisdom; but You are kind, and look after me, oh Waheguru. Kindly be benevolent and make me a slave of Your devotees so that I may serve You. Kindly grant me the treasure of Your Naam to recite it day and night. 3.
Some rare individual ponders on Guru's Shabad, and realizes with His benevolence that the world is as short-lived as the bubbles of foam on the surface of water. When the world is absorbed in the Creator, God, the whole expanse comes to an end, oh Nanak. 4.1

Word Meaning: Puchhaaniya = comprehend; follow. Maylay = connected. Sachi Bhugut(i) = selfless worship Liv Laayay = meditate deeply. Soobhaayay = with love. 1. Bhaana = Will. Bhaanvda = likes. Bukhshay = endows. Bighun(u) = impediment; obstacle. Pause. Traiy Goon = the three effects of Maya. Dhaat(u) = attractions of Maya. Bhaayay = love. Kerm = tasks. Theeyaiy = happens. Puyyiyaiy Kirt = the result of previous deeds. Phiraah(i) = wanders around. 2. Bhaytiyain = on meeting with. Chauthaiy = the fourth (spiritual) state above the three effects of Maya. Vaasa = dwelling (of mind). 3. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Kaar Kmaayay = leads life. Sobha = praise. 4.

MEANING: Those who comprehend (follow) Waheguru's Huqam get their selfishness and ego eradicated with Guru's Shabad and get connected with Waheguru. They worship Waheguru selflessly and stay connected with Him day and night through meditation. With love for Waheguru, they "see" Him all the time with Guru's Shabad, and in a high spiritual state. 1. Enjoy bliss by obeying Waheguru's Huqam, oh my mind. Waheguru likes that His devotees accept His Will, but only those do so whom He enables, and they do not experience any impediment in achieving their objective. Pause.
The three effects of Maya create only illusions, and one cannot love or worship Waheguru under their influence. Under their influence, the man performs only those deeds which boost his ego, and he can never attain emancipation. But they cannot be fully blamed because everything happens with Waheguru's Will, and they perform only those deeds for which they are predestined (based on their previous deeds). 2.

When a devotee comes to the Guru's shelter, his worldly desires are eradicated, and Waheguru's Naam(u) takes dwelling in his mind. No one can say anything about the spiritual transcendence of such a devotee, or know its worth. But, by reciting Waheguru's Naam with His benevolence, one does attain the fourth (highest) spiritual state above the three effects of Maya, and stays absorbed in the eternal Waheguru 3.
My Waheguru is inaccessible, incomprehensible, and no one can describe His high transcendence. One can only comprehend that (His transcendence) when he leads his life according to the Guru's Shabad. Sing Waheguru's praise (recite His Naam) to win praise (approval) in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 4.2.

MEANING: With Waheguru's grace, and in the guidance of the Guru, a rare devotee understands that there is no other donor (source of Waheguru's Naam) than the Guru who grants Waheguru's Naam to a devotee (implants in his heart) with His kindness, and then he recites the Naam day and night and feels blissful. 1.
Recite Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam, oh my mind. But one acquires Waheguru's Naam (enshrines in his heart) only when he comes to the shelter of the Waheguru-like Satguru and stays absorbed in the Naam. Pause.
The Maya-engrossed individuals are always disconnected from Waheguru, and they wander around alone with no one (sincerely) with them. They suffer from the big ailment of selfishness and ego, and the Angel of justice hits them on the head (punishes them badly). But those who receive the Guru's Advice never get disconnected from the gathering of the holy saints and remember Waheguru's Naam day and night. 2.

Waheguru is the creator of everyone, and looks after them carefully. He connects those who take Guru's shelter with Him and endows them with the treasures of His worship. Who should one pray to for help when Waheguru knows everything about all of us (our needs)? 3.
Waheguru's Naam is immortalizing, but can be acquired only with His kind sight when one recites His Naam with Guru's Shabad day and night in a high spiritual state and with love for Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.3.

MEANING: I always sing praise of my Guru, who is the source of all comforts, and a manifestation of Waheguru. It is a great honour for me that I have attained the highest spiritual state with the grace of the Guru. My Guru always sings praise of Waheguru and stays absorbed in Him with His Naam. 1.
Ponder on Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru (with His Shabad), oh, my mind. Get rid of your falsehood (love for the perishable and with the family), your selfishness and ego, and the poisonous worldly desires, and always remember death. Pause.
Only Satguru is the provider (source) of Waheguru's Naam; there is no other such source. He gives the gift of Waheguru's Naam with which the devotee attains contentment, and stays absorbed in Waheguru with the recitation of His Naam. He always feels the presence of Waheguru in his mind and remains connected to Him by meditating on His Naam in a high spiritual state. 2. My mind has been pierced with Satguru's Shabad, and I have Waheguru's Naam enshrined in my heart (mind). My Waheguru is otherwise incomprehensible, but can be comprehended by singing His praise with the Guru's Shabad. But one recites His Naam only when the source of all comforts, Waheguru, becomes benevolent to the devotee. 3.
When one recites Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state in the shelter of the Guru, he is not caught in the birth-death cycle ever again. His mind gets connected with the Lord, and stays in itself (quits wavering). Waheguru is pleased only when a devotee recites His Naam and becomes like Him by getting rid of his selfishness and ego. 4.
One, and the only Waheguru, dwells in the devotee's mind, and there is none other in his mind. Only Waheguru's sweet Naam is the true Amrit in the world, because of which a devotee becomes pure like Waheguru. But only that devotee acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart who has it prewritten in his fate by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.4.

Word Meaning: Gun, Gundhurb = assistants of the gods. Oodhray = salvaged. Sud = always. Oor(i) = in the heart. Dhaar(i) = acquire; embed. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding. Bani = Waheguru's Naam. Liv Laayay = stay connected through meditation. 1. Khin, Khin = every moment. Smaahl(i) = keep in mind. Daat(u) = largess. Nibhaiy = lasts with (you) till the end. Pause. Paakhund = show off; hypocrisy. Chookaiy = ends. Bhaayay = in love. Visaar(i) = forgetting. Bikhiya = poisonous sensual enjoyments. Raatay = intoxicated. Birtha = uselessly. Guvaayay = waste away. Sayva = serving. Soort(i) = thinking. Abhayva = whose secrets are not known (God). Lukhaayay = reveals. Chulaayay = guides them in life. 4.

MEANING: Even the assistants of the gods attained salvation only after they got rid of their selfishness and ego by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, and embedded Waheguru's Naam in their hearts for good. But only that individual understands such deep likes and dislikes of Waheguru whom He connects with Him. Such a devotee recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad and stays connected with Him through deep meditation. 1.

Remember Waheguru every moment with Guru's Shabad, which is the source of all comforts, and is a special gift of the Guru, and which lasts with you till the end, oh my mind. Pause.

On the other hand, the hypocrisy of the Maya-worshipper never ends, and he suffers because of his love for Maya. Such individuals forget Waheguru's Naam, become intoxicated by sensual enjoyments, and leave the world by wasting their precious human life. They cannot recall this opportunity (human life) again, and repent all the time. They keep taking births and dying, and stay absorbed in the filth of sensual pleasures, and never realize the importance (of Waheguru's Naam). 2.

Guru's Sikhs stay imbued in the love for Waheguru's Naam, and attain salvation by pondering over Guru's Shabad. They recite Waheguru's Naam and enshrine it in their heart forever, because of which they attain emancipation while living in the world. With Guru's Shabad in mind, they are pure by body and mind, and have pure and superior thinking. They acknowledge only one Lord, and only one God, and none else. 3.

They know that it is Waheguru who does everything that needs to be done, makes others do it, and casts His kind gaze on those He likes (based on their deeds). Their mind and their body are imbued in Guru's Shabad, and they always think of serving Waheguru and all others. They have the incomprehensible Waheguru whose secrets can never be known by the common man, but they can learn about Him in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru reveals such secrets to those whom He likes (enlightens) and guides them in life, oh, Nanak. 4.5.

MEANING: One gets rid of his ego with Guru's Shabad, and gets access to the Residence of Waheguru, which is the most holy place in the world. 1.

Those fortunate people who have Waheguru's Naam prewritten on their forehead (in their fate) by Waheguru, recite the Naam all the time, and earn respect in Waheguru's Court. Pause. One learns the means (technique) to acquire Waheguru's Naam from Satguru when he learns to focus his mind on Waheguru's Naam all the time. Those who are imbued with the love of Guru's Shabad are always detached from worldly attachments and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. 2. As per Waheguru's Huqam (His Will), the uncontrolled human mind dances to the tune of Maya and takes flights in all ten directions in a moment. But when the eternal Waheguru casts His kind sight on a devotee, his mind comes under his control instantly (quits taking flights) in the Guru's shelter. 3.

By pondering the Guru's Shabad, a devotee attains a high spiritual state. (So, without worrying about anything else) Just recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, by which you will swim across the world-sea, oh Nanak. 4.6.

One's mind and body get imbued in the love for Waheguru when he meditates on his Naam, and stays absorbed in Him in high spiritual state. All one's illusions and fears disappear with Guru's grace when he focuses his mind on Waheguru's Naam. 2.

One acquires noble thinking, and attains high spiritual state only when he moulds his life according to the Shabad (Advice) of the Guru. But Waheguru gives such wisdom only to very few people among millions who focus their mind on His Naam. With Guru's Advice, now I see only Waheguru everywhere. Getting rid of one's selfishness and ego, he should offer his mind, body, and life before Waheguru, oh Nanak. 4.7.

MEANING: My eternal Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all suffering, can be acquired (enshrined) in the mind with the Guru's Shabad. Those devotees, who are imbued in the love for Waheguru's worship, are always detached from the worldly attractions, and are honoured in His Court. 1. Stay in yourself (quit taking flights), oh my mind. Those who have an unwavering mind get imbued with Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and stay connected with Waheguru with their focused mind. Pause.

The Guru has clarified to me that Waheguru is inaccessible and incomprehensible. So, (to connect with Him) one needs to recite His Naam with love, control their senses, and sing Waheguru's praise with a focused mind. 2.
Those whose soul has become "one" with Waheguru realize that Waheguru Himself is Guru's Shabad, and Himself His (Guru's) Teachings. The perishable human body runs on breaths, but can be immortalized with the Naam-Amrit in the Guru's shelter. 3.
Waheguru Himself creates the world, puts everybody in worldly business, and is present everywhere. One is insignificant (has no importance) without Waheguru's Naam, and with which he earns respect everywhere, oh Nanak. 4.8.

Word Meaning: Bikh(u) = poison. Mohiya = captivated. Luddiya = loaded with Ujgur Bhaari = huge load. Groorr = mantra (antidote) for poison. Maari = killed. 1. Bhuvjul Jugut = the word-sea. Terna = swim. Taari = boat. Pause.
Traiygoon = the three effects of Maya. Pusaara = expanse. Vertaiy = operates; affects. Aakaari = bodies. Tooriya Goon(u) = the virtue which is above the effects of Maya. Nudri = with the kind Sight. Paar Ootaari = ferries across; salvages. 2. Soogundh = Behkaar(i) = fragrance. Baashna = (good) smell. Kerni = deeds. Ootum = superior. Bisthaar(i) = expanse; dissemination. 3. Oordhaari(i) = acquire in mind. Mooraar(i) = of Waheguru. 4.
MEANING: Man's selfishness and his ego captivate him, but they are poison (which destroy his good qualities), as a result of which, the man carries a heavy burden of immoral acts (sins). However, Guru's Shabad is the antidote for such poison, which destroys the poison of one's selfishness and ego when he recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad. 1.
One's worldly attachments and his haumein cause severe suffering for him, oh, my mind. One cannot swim across the world-sea with his haumein; he needs to take Guru's shelter (and to recite Waheguru's Naam), which acts as the ship to ferry him across. Pause.
Maya, with its three effects, is the source of one's worldly attachments and is spread all over, affecting everybody. One acquires the noble qualities to attain the spiritual state above the effects of Maya only in the company of the holy saints (the Guru), and is ferried across the world-sea by Waheguru's kind sight. 2. Just like sandalwood, which fragrances the whole environment with its sweet smell, a devotee of Waheguru performs a supreme (noble) act when he sings Waheguru's praise, which purifies the whole world as it spreads. 3. Please, be kind to me so that I may enshrine Your Naam in my heart, oh Waheguru. I am fortunate that I have been connected with the Perfect Guru, with whose grace, I am reciting Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Word Meaning: Girhi = attached to the worldly affairs. K(i) = or. Oodaasi = detached. Avern(u) = above the four traditional castes. Avinaashi = immortal. Chunchul = fickle; ever changing. Baiyraagi = detached and non-wavering. Mumta = worldly attachments. Kithoun = where from. 1. Uver(u) K(i) = what else. Ootthaaveeh(i) Bhaar(u) = carry harmful burden. Pause. Srisht(i) = the world. Boojhou = understand. Shernaayi = seek support (surrender yourself). 2. Pund = package; load. Vukhaanaiy = recites. Deekhiya = Advice. Sees(u) = head; wisdom. Dhuray = offers; surrenders. Alugg = separate; detached. Nirbaan(u) = without any desire. Pervaan = approved. 3. Ja = when. Jaanaiy = acknowledges. Bukhshay = endows. Maylay = connects. Aiythaiy Oathaiy = here and there; everywhere. 4. Keht = says. Bidh(i) = means. Mookut(i) = emancipated. Kook = loud preaching. 5.

MEANING: The most important thing for you to do is to analyze the nature of the human mind rather than reading about other things and carrying a burden (of useless discussions), oh pundit. Pause. Find out whether the mind is attached to the worldly affairs, or is it fully detached; is it above the discrimination of the traditional castes and therefore, always immortal (by merging into Waheguru)? Is the human mind constantly wavering, or does it achieve stability by becoming fully detached from worldly attractions? What caused the mind to get attached to worldly things in the first place? 1.

(Answer)With Guru's grace, you will find that the Creator Himself has caused the human mind to be attached to worldly things; in fact, He has created the universe, making worldly attachment the basic Law (basis) of the creation. So, (to stay unaffected by such attractions) seek Waheguru's shelter (surrender your wisdom to Him), oh man. 2.
The true pundit is the one who unloads the package of the three effects of Maya (stays unaffected by them), and recites Waheguru's Naam all the time. Such a pundit surrenders his wisdom to the Guru, listens to His Advice, and obeys it. He stays detached from worldly attachments and has no such desire. Such a pundit is approved in Waheguru's Court. 3.
Such a pundit says (believes) that it is the same Waheguru who is present in everybody; he sees only Him everywhere, and acknowledges only Him. Waheguru connects such a devotee with Him, whom He endows with such wisdom (thinking). Such a devotee enjoys comforts everywhere. 4. But only that individual attains emancipation whom Waheguru is benevolent to; others cannot attain it, no matter what means they use, oh Nanak. Such devotees sing Waheguru's praise all the time, and do not listen to the teachings of the Vedas and the Shastras, no matter how loudly someone preaches them. 5.1.10.

Haajur, hujoor(i) Hur(i) vaypervaaha.
(PAGE 1262): Nanak, Gurmukh(i) Naam(i) smaaha. 4.2.11.
Word Meaning: Munmukh = Maya-engrossed. Bherm(i) = lost in illusions. Bhermaayi = is taken through. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Put(i) = dignity. Kaan(i) = any owing; subservience. Chookaayi = paid off; ended. Mehl(u) Ghur(u) = Waheguru's Residence (union with Him). 1. Praani = oh, man. Junum(u) Pdaaruth = human objective (Waheguru's Naam). Doobidha = indecisiveness. Khohiya = lost. Kaudi = a worthless cowrie shell. Budlaiy = in exchange for. Pause. Oordhaar(i) = embed in mind. Bhuvjul(u) = the world-sea. Lunghaavunhaar = ferries across. Disaiy = becomes clearly visible; shines. Sachiyaar(u) = pure (like Waheguru). 2. Buhhou = many. Kerm = rituals. Mumta = worldly attachments. Moh(u) = affection. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). Munmukh = the follower of his mind. 3. Kerta = Creator. Athaaha = unfathomable. Laaha = benefit; acquirement. Haajur Hujoor(i) = omnipresent. Vaypervaaha = carefree. Smaaha = absorbed. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh man. Because of your indecisiveness (to choose between Waheguru and Maya), you are wasting away your precious human life (opportunity to connect with Waheguru) by exchanging your noble qualities for the worldly attractions, which are as worthless as a cowrie shell. Pause.
Misled by his illusions, the Maya-engrossed man is taken through many different life forms. The Angel of (spiritual) death punishes him all the time, and he loses his respect. Service to Satguru pays off any subservience (owing to his misdeeds) to the Angel, and the devotee gets connected with Him (and with Waheguru). 1.
With Waheguru's benevolence, a devotee develops love for Him in the shelter of the Guru (with His Advice). He embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart and worships Him. Guru's Shabad ferries one across the world-sea, and the pure-hearted devotee (who is fully detached from worldly affairs) shines in Waheguru's Court (is honoured there). 2.
A Maya-engrossed individual performs many rituals but cannot connect with the Guru; without the Guru, one is misled by many illusions of Maya. He has too much attachment to the attractions of Maya, his selfishness, and his ego, and suffers greatly. 3.
Waheguru, who Himself is the creator, is inaccessible and unfathomable. One acquires His Naam (enshrines in his heart) when he recites it in the Guru's shelter, and sees the carefree Waheguru to be present wherever he looks. Such a devotee stays absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in Guru's shelter, oh Nanak. 4.2.11.

Word Meaning: Jeevut Mookut = emancipated (fully detached) while living in the family. Jaagaiy = stay alert (against attacks of Maya). Aap(u) Guvaayay = get rid of their selfishness and ego. Huoun = I. Laagoun Paanyay = drop on feet; show full respect. 1. Jeevaan = survive. Muhha Rus(u) = tremendously sweet. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Pause. Ugiyaan(u) = ignorance. Goobaar(u) = darkness. Mohay = captivated; robbed. Moogudh Guvaar = foolish and unrefined. Dhundha = Maya-based tasks. Vihaayay = (life) spends. Sujaayay = punishment. 2. Gurumukh(i) = Guru's Sikhs. Liv Laayi = meditate oh; stay connected with. Koorraiy Laaluch = greed for the perishables. Luptaayay = cling to; get strongly attached. Sehj Soobhaayay = in a natural way; without any special effort. Rusaayay = while enjoying. 3. Koat(i) Mudhay Kiseh(i) = one in millions. Boojhaayay = gives the understanding; reveals. Bukhshay = endows. Vudiyaayi = honour. Dhoor(i) = from the beginning (source). Vichhurr(i) = separate. 4.

MEANING: Those who follow the Guru's Advice become emancipated even while living with the family (fighting the attractions of Maya), and with the worship of Waheguru in mind, they stay awake all the time against the attacks of Maya. I will gladly drop at the feet of (surrender myself to) those who serve Satguru, and get rid of their selfishness and ego. 1.

I live by reciting Waheguru's Naam with the sweet Shabad of the Guru, which is rich in Waheguru's praise. One attains emancipation and a high spiritual state with Waheguru's Naam. Pause. Attachment to Maya is the source of ignorance and darkness of mind, and the foolish and the ignorant are captivated by the attractions of Maya. Every day of theirs is spent performing Maya-related tasks; they receive punishment for their performance, and keep taking births and dying. 2. But the Sikhs of the Guru remain connected to Waheguru through the Guru's Shabad and have no greed to become attached to the false (short-lived) attractions of Maya. Whatever good happens to the Sikh happens naturally, without any special effort on his part. He enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam with his tongue (recites the Naam while enjoying it). 3.

However, Waheguru bestows such wisdom only to a very few people among millions, and then honours them. The devotee who gets connected with Waheguru with His benevolence, never gets separated again, and stays absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.3.12.

Word Meaning: Rusna = (by the) tongue. Luhhaiy = acquires. Bundhun = bonds (of Maya). Usthir(u) Ghur = eternal house (Waheguru's Naam). Buhhaiy = settles down; controls the mind. 1. Roas(u) = resentment. Laaha = profit; advantage. Ruveejaiy = (should) recite. Pause. Babeeha = the rain bird. Khin(u), Khin(u) = every moment (second). Bil-laayay = cries; yearns for. Vichhorra = separation. Suhhiya = tolerated. Soobhaayay = with love. 2. Naam-Heen = without the Naam. Binsaiy = dies (spiritually). Trishna Juliya = burned in the fire of worldly desires. Bhookh = appetite of desires. Bhaagaan = good fortune. Buhhou Bidh(i) = for many different approaches. Thaaka = exhausted. Kern Kmaayay = performimg rituals. 3. Traiygoon = the three effects of Maya. Bani = teachings. Bikhiya = poisonous. Maiyl(u) = filth. Vapaar(u) = business. Khooaar(u) = suffers in frustration. Tooriya =above the effects of Maya. Oordhaar(i) = enshrines in the heart. 4. Maanaiy = is recognized. Seetul(u) = calm; peaceful. Yug(i) = in all eons. Sobha = fame. Nirmul = pure. Virla = rare. 5.

MEANING: Everybody recites Waheguru's Naam with their tongue, but only that devotee enshrines it in their heart who serves (follows the Teachings of) the Guru. He breaks all his worldly bonds, attains peace of mind (which quits wavering), and stays absorbed in Guru's Shabad, which is the door to emancipation. 1.

Why do you show any resentment, oh my mind? Waheguru's Naam is the real profit (wealth) to acquire in the world. So, one should always recite the Naam deep from the heart in the shelter of the Guru. Pause. Like the rain-bird (which yearns for the first drop of rain water), my mind yearns for Waheguru's Sight every moment. I cannot enjoy sleep (have rest) without seeing Him, and cannot endure His separation. One can connect with Waheguru if he comes to the Guru's shelter with love. 2.

Those who are without Waheguru's Naam experience spiritual deprivation and suffer badly. Burnt in the fire of worldly desires, one's appetite for such desires never goes away. Such an individual gets exhausted by performing a variety of conventional rituals, but one cannot acquire Waheguru's Naam without good fortune. 3.

Pondering on the teachings of the Vedas keeps one severely involved in the three qualities of Maya, as a result of which, all his business is (deeds are) about the poisonous Maya, and he accumulates the filth of immoral acts. He continues to suffer humiliation through repeated births and deaths. But a Guru's Sikh enshrines noble qualities in his heart which are above the effects of Maya. 4.

A Sikh, who is honoured by the Guru, is honoured by everyone. His mind becomes calm (peaceful) with Guru's Shabad, and because of his pure (pious) mind, he earns praise (respect) in the world, no matter what the eon is. But there is a rare person who is such a Sikh of the Guru, oh Nanak. 5.4.13.9.22.

When the dust of the feet of the holy saints flies off (their holy Words are spread), and touches the eyes of the devotees (the Words are listened to by the devotees), all the filth of their evil thinking is removed as if they have taken dip in all the 68 holy places. Pause.

One achieves blissfulness to see them, and the ailment (suffering) of his ego goes away. 2. The life of those who always recite Waheguru's Naam becomes successful (they achieve the objective of human life). Not only do they find salvation for themselves, but they also get salvation for their clan, and for the whole world (for those who recite Waheguru's Naam in their company). 3.
Waheguru creates the whole world Himself, and brings it under His control (it has to obey His Laws). Waheguru was very kind to me, who pulled me out of the ocean of poisonous sensual enjoyments, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Amrit(u) = immortalizing Waheguru's Naam. Trishna Bhookh = appetite of worldly desires. Moorrh = foolish. Julut Ahunkaari = burn in the fire of ego. Aavut Jaat = taking birth, and dying. Birtha = uselessly. Puchhutaayi = repents. Chayteh(i) = keep in mind. Dhrig(u) = shameful. Khaayi = eating. 1. Praani = oh, man. Smaayi = get absorbed. Pause. Lujaayi = ashamed. Sidh(i) = success. Boodh(i) = (noble) wisdom (thinking). Mudhim = low. Lobh Lehr = impulses of greed. Bihoon = without. Bil-laayi = wails; cries for help. 2. MEANING: The follower-of-his-mind does not drink (enjoy) the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru with the grace of the Guru, as a result of which, his appetite for worldly enjoyments never goes away. The foolish burns in the fire of his ego and suffers because of his selfishness and conceit. He uselessly wastes away his precious human life, and suffers taking births, and dying again, and again, and then repents. His living and his eating are condemnable because he does not remember Waheguru, who created him. 1. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh man; but one gets connected with the Guru only with the benevolence of Waheguru, when he stays absorbed in His Naam. Pause.

The birth (life) of the follower of his mind (who is disconnected from Waheguru) as a human being goes to waste, and he is disgraced, trapped in the cycle of repeated births and deaths. The egoists stay absorbed in lust and in rage, and burn in the fire of their selfishness and their conceit. With low wisdom, they have no (spiritual) success and no intelligence, and suffer for their impulses of greed. Without the Guru, they suffer a great deal, and wail and cry for help when the Angel of death grabs them. 2.

One acquires the Naam of the incomprehensible Waheguru without any special effort (no self-torturing, etc.) in the shelter of the Guru. He enshrines the treasure of the Naam in his heart and sings Waheguru's praise with the tongue. With the focus of mind on Guru's Shabad (in Waheguru's praise), one enjoys blissfulness day and night. It is the greatness of the Guru that one acquires the Naam with ease, in His shelter. 3.

I am a sacrifice for my Satguru, with whose grace I have enshrined Waheguru's Naam in my heart. My mind is attached to (focused on) Satguru's Feet (His Shabad), and I will gladly offer my mind and my body in His service. We are heavy like iron (loaded with sins), and the Guru is the boat to ferry us across the world-sea. Please be kind to me, Nanak, and connect me with You with Your benevolence, oh my dear Satguru. 4.7.

My Waheguru has come to dwell in my heart, and I feel as if His benevolence is raining on my mind to cool it off (make it peaceful), oh my friend. I am insignificant, whereas my Lord is the source of compassion. Getting absorbed in His Naam is like owning all the nine treasures of the world. Pause. Listening to His Teachings, my mind has been purified and imbued with Waheguru's love; now I sing His praise with love. 1. I was highly fortunate to make the Guru my friend by surrendering my mind (thinking) to Him. Now, He is very kind to me. Niraaray = detached. Kroonamaiy = merciful. 2.
NOTE: Being a manifestation of Waheguru, the Guru has the power to salvage any living being (connect it with Waheguru); but Guru Granth Sahib professes unequivocally that one can realize Waheguru only in the human form. The salvation of non-humans mentioned in this holy Shabad is simply to emphasize the importance of Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, and the examples of birds and animals used are taken from the Hindu Granths. Groorr was a bird who died fighting Ravna after he kidnapped Sita Ji, the wife of Rama. Vishnu incarnated as a fish to retrieve the Vedas when the demons hid them in the sea, and as a pig to retrieve the earth when the demons stole it and hid it in the ocean (I wonder where that ocean was). Similarly, an elephant, trapped in the tentacles of an octopus and being pulled down, prayed to Waheguru for help. Not only did Waheguru save the elephant, but also gave him salvation. They are quoted here simply to glorify Waheguru's worship.
MEANING: Singing Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru has salvaged many living beings, including birds, fish, deer, and boars. Pause.

The devotee, who uncovers (understands) Your Huqam (Will, Command), gets absorbed in You (Your Naam), oh Waheguru. Such a devotee survives by reciting Your Naam, and You are his only shelter, and there is none else. 2. The devotee accepts discomforts (troubles) or comforts as Waheguru's Will, and is glad in every situation, whether Waheguru puts him in comforts or punishes him. The efforts of the devotee to control his senses become successful, and he becomes like the Guru in terms of the qualities by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Also, his daily dealings become perfectly pious. The mind, which becomes like that of the Guru, is (of course) pure (holy). 3.
However, the Perfect Guru can be realized only with great fortune when the devotee gets rid of his lust, rage, and greed. It is my prayer forever to Waheguru that He kindly keeps me connected with His Feet (Naam), oh Nanak. 4.4.22.

Such a devotee is simply enchanted to watch the amazing feats of Waheguru. Millions (countless) of sins are eradicated by reciting Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru's devotees always have Waheguru's support; they believe in the "One" and the only Waheguru, and drop their forehead on Guru's Feet (surrender to Him). Word Meaning: Chukvee = ruddy duck. Chaahai = wishes. Pir = her dear companion. Soor(u) Churrhaiy = sunrise. Niv(i), Niv(i) = bowing down. 1. Pir(u) = dear Waheguru. Bhaavaiy = like; love. Praym = love. Sukhaayi = friend. Piyaas = Tisaayi = thirst; longing.

Pause. Suvar(i) = in the pool; lake. Kirn = ray of the sun. Bigsaiy = blooms. Sehj(u) Soobhaayi = naturally; without any effort. Ubh(i) = in the heart. Aiysi = such. 2. Chaatrik = the rainbird. Tayraiy = chants. Bil-laayi = cries; supplicates. Ghunhur = cloud. Ghor Bersaiy = rains heavily. Dusou Dis(i) = in all the ten directions. 3. Meen = fish. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Poorb(i) Kumaayi = result of previous deeds. Khin(u), Til(u), Pul(u) = for a short moment. 4. Dhun = woman. Vaandhi = disconnected; away. Days Nivaasi = resides in homeland (heart). Shabad = message. Putthaayi = sends. Sungreh(i) = accumulating. Rutti = imbued. Herkhaayi = feels blissful. 5. Priyo = Dear. Subhaiy Jayti = all that (world). Nudri = with kind sight. Millayi = connects. 6. Jeeou = soul. Pergaasiya = appeared. Sehjay = easily. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. 7. Kaaj(u) = task. Suvaarhou = make successful; complete. Sookh-Daatay = source of all comforts. Gosaayeen = the lord of the earth (God). Ghur = in the heart. Tupt = burning (in fire of desires). 8.

MEANING: I love my dear Waheguru, who is my true friend. I have such a deep longing for Him that I cannot live without Him, even for a short moment, in this world. Pause.

Without Waheguru, my condition is like that of the ruddy duck, which is believed to separate from her companion at sunset and not see him again until the next sunrise. She does not wish to sleep in her eyes (without him), and she gets overjoyed to see him the next morning, and bows to him with affection. (I, too, am waiting for my dear Waheguru's Sight). 1.

My love for Waheguru is like that of the lotus flower, which grows in water but loves the sun, is pleased to see sunlight in the sky (from a distance), and blooms naturally. My love for my Waheguru has reached such a level that my soul has merged with His Soul. 2.

(Like the) Rainbird, which chants "dear" "dear" without the first drop of water and supplicates wailingly for that. The rainbird is not content without that first drop, even if it is raining heavily in every direction. (I also cry without Waheguru, and do not find contentment without Him. 3. Fish are born in water and live there, which is their home. They enjoy comfort or discomfort there, depending upon the result of their previous deeds. They cannot survive without water, which becomes a matter of life and death. (Similarly, I survive only when I live in Waheguru, i.e., when I am connected with Him). 4.

The human bride remains disconnected from Waheguru, even though He resides in her heart. But when she sends Him her message (request) through the Guru (with His Shabad), she finds Him residing in her heart, acquires good qualities, and, imbued with the love of His worship, she feels overjoyed. 5. The whole creation (world) chants "Dear" "Dear" (Waheguru), but only that individual acquires Him (gets connected with Him) who is liked by the Guru. Waheguru is always with the devotee who stays connected with Him by reciting His Naam, and He connects the devotee with Him with His kind sight. 6.

Everybody has Waheguru's Soul in them, and He is present in every heart. The devotee's mind is enlightened with the Guru's grace, and he easily gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state. 7.

The source of all comforts, and the Lord of the world, Waheguru Himself, completes His task (of connecting His devotees with Him). When a devotee realizes Waheguru in his heart, his fire of all worldly desires is put out (he feels fully contented), oh Nanak. 8.1.

Baar Na Laagaiy = takes no time. Buvray = oh, foolish. Khupaiy = suffers humiliation. Pause. Jai Jugdeesh = accolades to Waheguru. Rukhvaaray = protector. Perkhaiy = tests; evaluates. Soyee = the same (God). Jaity Hiay Tayti = all that has been created. Toojh Tay = from You (created by You). Sur(i) = equal. Uver(u) = other. 2. Joogut(i) = life style. Vuss Keeni = kept under control. Unjun(u) = kohl (to enlighten mind). Amar(u) = immortal. Anaath = orphan (self-illuminated). Sirmora = supreme. Kaal = death. Bikaal = birth. Khunjun(u) = destroyer. 3. Kaagud = paper. Koat(u) = fort. Bupro = poor; helpless. Rungun(i) = beutification. Chihn = looks. Chutraayee = wisdom. Naahni = miniscule. Boond = drop of water. Put(i) Khovaiy = shames; destroys. Khin= moment. 4. Nudee = river. Oopkuntth(i) = on the bank. Turver = tree. Sepun(i) = snake (Maya). Oolti Nudee = river changes direction (towards the house and the tree). Serpun Dusaiy = the snake-like Maya stings. Dooja = (love for) other (than Waheguru). 5. Gaaroorr = antidote to snake poison. Bikhiya = poisonous effects of Maya. Haynv = ice; cool; peaceful. Niraari = detaches one from the worldly affairs. 6. Jaachaiy = longs for. Gopala = oh, Waheguru. 7. Baandhi Dhundh = attached to Maya-based tasks. Soojhaiy = can think of. Budhik = bonded to. Kerm Kmaayay = performs tasks. Boojhus(i) = understands. 8. Nirgoon = having no noble qualities. Kaachi = weak; susceptible to death. Poochoun = seek advice. Soopna = like a dream; illusional. 9.

MEANING: Like glass which yields to heat (loses its strength, and softens when heated), the human mind also succumbs to the attractions of Maya, no matter how hard one tries to resist its temptations. I stay alert against Maya's attacks by serving the Guru (obeying His Advice), and I have none other than Waheguru as my support against Maya. 1.

Why do you take any pride in your (beautiful and strong) body, and your wealth, when they do not take any time to perish, oh, the foolish man? But the world is possessed by its selfishness and ego, and suffers humiliation because of them. Pause.
I am all praise for our protector (saviour), Waheguru, who evaluates and protects us. All that world which exists has been created by Waheguru, and there is no one like Him. 2.
Waheguru creates the (living beings of the) world, but keeps their lifestyles under His control. He Himself is the kohl of enlightenment for those who come to the Guru's shelter. Waheguru is immortal, has no parents (is self-illuminating), is supreme of all, and is the destroyer of births, deaths, misgivings, and all fears. 3. The world is like a weak fort of paper (easily destructible), which can be destroyed by a very small drop of water or a light wind, but which has been given attractive looks and beautified with many colours by Waheguru with His wisdom. It can be born (created) and be dead (destroyed) in a short moment. 4.
Like a house, or a tree on the bank of a river, which disappears quickly when the river changes its direction, and erodes the bank, the snake-like poisonous Maya, which affects every household (heart), stings the individuals and destroys their spirituality when they change the direction of their thinking from God, towards worldly attractions. 5.
However, Guru's Shabad, Guru's Knowledge, acts as the antidote to the poison of Maya and burns its poison (spiritually harmful attractions). Waheguru's worship detaches the devotee from the poisonous allure of the world, and his mind becomes peaceful when he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 6.
The whole world, which has been created by Waheguru, wishes for Him who is kind to everybody. I am in Your shelter, kindly protect my honour (against the attacks of Maya) by giving Your Naam, oh the Lord of the earth. 7.
Attached strongly to Maya, the man is blind to wisdom and performs Maya-related tasks. But he acquires wisdom and understanding, and gets absorbed in Waheguru when he recites His Naam and acquires Knowledge about Him. 8.
Lacking noble qualities, the human mind is susceptible to spiritual death; I will seek the Guru's Advice (about acquiring noble qualities). The Waheguru-like Guru shows (reveals) Waheguru to His devotees, without whom the world is under delusion as if it is dreaming, oh Nanak. 9.2.

Buppurri = poor (of wisdom); ignorant. 8. Sehj(i) = in high spiritual state. Trishna = fire of desires. Boojhaayi = put out. 9. Mun Maaniya = convinced; won over; contented. 10.3.

MEANING: (Longing for the first drop of rain), the rainbird made a pathetic cry last night (listening to whom), I also began to miss my Waheguru, oh my mother. Pause.

I also realized that the rainbird and the fish feel comfortable only in water, and that the deer finds it soothing to hear the special music. 1.

Like the rainbird, the fish, and the deer who never forget their respective attachments, I also pray to Waheguru that with His Will, my love for Him should never lessen. 2.

With love for Waheguru, my sleep (enjoyments of Maya) has disappeared, and my selfishness and ego have exhausted (become ineffective), and I have acquired the wisdom (thinking) of reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3. Hungry for Maya (worldly attractions), my mind was taking flights aimlessly, but now, I am drinking Waheguru's Naam-Amrit affectionately. 4.

I have such a strong longing for the Sight of Waheguru that my eyes are set (focused) at His path, and my tongue is crying and supplicating for His Sight. 5.

The more I adorn my body to look pretty to Him, the more it suffers, and even expensive clothes do not provide any comfort without my Dear (Waheguru). 6.

I cannot survive even for a short moment without my Dear, and can get no sleep. 7.

The poor (ignorant) human bride does not realize that Waheguru is very close to her, but the Guru shows Him in her heart. 8.

One can put out the fire of his worldly desires with the Guru's Shabad and enjoy the bliss of union with Waheguru in the high spiritual state. 9.

One's mind can find contentment (blissfulness) only by connecting with Waheguru, and then the worth of his spiritual state cannot be described, oh Nanak. 10.3.

Sir(i) Oobhaou = hanging on the head. Khoodhiya = appetite for Maya. Nindra = sleep (in the luxuries of Maya). Kaalun(g) = is death. Saachi Nudr(i) = everlasting kind Sight. Rusaalun(g) = the source of all sweetness (God). 8.

MEANING: Just like the birds cranes and others, which fly very high in the sky, cannot get water which is much lower in the lakes on the earth; the people, whose mind takes mountain-like high flights in their ego, cannot acquire Waheguru's Naam-Amrit for which the source is the company of the holy saints who live down on the earth (who have no ego at all). Guru's Shabad is the ocean (source) of peacefulness, and by pondering on it, one is able to kill his selfishness and ego and walk on the path leading to emancipation. 1.

I am blind to spiritual wisdom, and Waheguru's Soul (Light) enlightens my mind as a result of which, I now walk on the path shown by the Guru. With His respectful fear in mind and the secrets He has taught me, I will now be able to connect with Waheguru (Merge with Him). Pause. One finds the true and straight path of life (leading to union with Waheguru) through the Guru's Shabad. With Guru's support, and with the ability given to him by Waheguru, the devotee recites His Naam with the beautiful Shabads of the Guru in Waheguru's praise. With Waheguru's Will, he finds Waheguru's residence (achieves union with Him). 2.

My mind, which always takes high flights, becomes peaceful when I focus my mind on Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, which is the basis of my life. In that spiritual state, there is no water of sensual enjoyments to attract one, no mountain of ego, and no tough mountainous journey where one has to fight with evil desires. One's mind settles in his true dwelling (Waheguru's Naam) – the path of life which does not lead to rebirths. 3.

Only You know the ways by which You take dwelling in a devotee's heart, and the devotee does not see any other residence (as his permanent home) than Yours, oh Waheguru. The whole world is under the pressure of Maya's attractions (is captivated by it) and does not understand the real objective of human life without Satguru. One may cry and try many different ways, but cannot recite Waheguru's Naam without the Guru. Waheguru's Naam can free him from all worldly bonds in a moment if he recognizes the importance of the Guru's Shabad. 4. There are many foolish and unwise people who are spiritually blind, but there are also some who have made the fear of (respect for) the Guru and Waheguru's Naam the basis of their life. Waheguru's Naam is sweet and immortalizing; whoever drinks its Amrit, reaches the door of emancipation (achieves union with Waheguru). 5.

As per the Advice of the Guru, the task worth doing in life is to enshrine Waheguru's Naam in the heart with the Guru's Shabad and with fear for Him. Just like the earth becomes attractive when it rains, the human mind becomes attractive (pious) when Waheguru's Light appears in the heart (which is present, hidden in every heart). A man who has no faith in the Guru is recognized by his foolish thinking, like the farmer who plants seeds in the land covered with saltpetre (where no crop can grow). It is complete darkness in the world without the Guru, and the situation can be compared to the man who drowns in a dry pool (with no water). 6.

Whatever the man does, he does so by Waheguru's Will and according to his prewritten fate, which cannot be erased. The man performs tasks bound by Waheguru's Will. If one gets attached to (loves) Guru's Shabad, he gets absorbed in Waheguru (his soul merges with that of Waheguru). 7.

Waheguru's Huqam (His Laws) operate in all the four directions (everywhere), and His Naam (He Himself) is present everywhere – even in the underworlds. Waheguru is present in the form of Guru's Shabad (His Naam), but the immortal Waheguru can be realized only with His benevolence. Because of one's appetite for the worldly attractions, and for his sleeping (unawareness) in the comfort of Maya, spiritual death hangs over his head all the time, and he continues taking births and dying. But one acquires Waheguru's Naam if he loves it with the eternal kind sight of Waheguru, which is the source of all sweetness, oh Nanak. 8.1.4.

Word Meaning: Mern Mookut(i) = emancipation from death. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Kuntthay Baiytthi = on the side lines; as a formality. 1. Kaiysay = how; why? Aarr(i) = a heron-like bird. Phaathi = trapped. Alukh(u) = the incomprehensible (God). Jaacheh(i) = wish for. Pause. Kaiy = many. Terti = floating. Boodi = drowns. 2. Prutpaani = frighten to death. Puchhutaani = repents. 3. Phaas(i) = noose. Ut(i) Bhaari = very strong. Punkh Pusaari = by spreading wings. 4. Rus choogeh(i) = enjoy the sweetness. Gavaar(i) = (female) unwise. 5. Jumkaal(u) = (spiritual) death. Smaahl(u) = keep in mind; enshrines. 6. Gurmut(i) = Guru's Advice. Saachi = everlasting. Saar(u) = supreme. Oor(i) Dhaar(i) = embed in the heart. Say = those. Aagaiy = in Waheguru's Court. Bhog Bilaasay= enjoy sensual pleasures. 8.

MEANING: Like the heron-like bird, aarr(i), which is caught in a hunter's net while hunting for other life in water, how have you been trapped in the net of Maya (which causes spiritual death), oh man? You do not wish to enshrine the (Naam of the) incomprehensible Waheguru in your mind. Pause. The human bride does not value the high spiritual state which emancipates her from death, but tries to understand its worth with the Guru's Shabad as a formality only. 1. Like the aarr(i), which kills many lives for its single life while floating on the surface of water, and drowns in it (when it is caught by another animal of prey), the man kills many other people (sucks their blood), and suffers spiritual death (is severely punished by God), and repents. 2.

The bird frightens all living beings in water to death, but repents when it gets caught. 3. When it gets a strong noose (of jaws of bigger flesh-eating animals in water), it cannot spread its wings to fly away. 4. Similarly, the foolish follower-of-his-mind enjoys the sweetness of sensual pleasures (and is punished). However, he can get freedom from such immoral pleasures by pondering over Guru's Shabad, which is full of noble qualities, and of Divine Knowledge. 5. One's net of spiritual death is broken when he enshrines Guru's eternal Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) in his heart. 6. Guru's Shabad and His Advice are eternal, so one should enshrine Waheguru's Naam in his heart. 7.

One has to suffer in the next world (in his next life) for all his enjoyments of sensual pleasures; and one cannot find salvation without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.2.5.

Word Meaning: Kerm(u) = benevolence of (God); good fortune. Kunchun(u) = (pure like) gold. Rujaayay = Will. 1. Chit(u) Laayay = attach mind. Saacha = the eternal (God). Siyoun = with; in. Pause. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Sunsa = doubts; worries. Boojhiyaiy = learn; realize. Gerbh Joani = birth in different life forms. 2. Jeevut Muray = kill desires while living in family. Kmaayay = lead life. Mookut(i) Dooaara = door of emancipation. Aap(u) Guvaayay = get rid of selfishness and ego. 3. Shiv Ghur(i) Jummay = acquire spiritual wisdom (to connect with Waheguru). Shakut(i) = effects of Maya. Achur(u) = very difficult to swallow (control one's senses). Churay = eat; swallow. Bibayk Boodh(i) = wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad. Purkhaiy = human (soul). Purakh(u) = Waheguru (His Soul). 4. Dhaatur Baaji = game of Maya. Achayt(u) = unaware. Chullaiy = leaves the world. Mool(u) Guvaayay = losing even the basic (original) spiritual wealth. Laaha = benefit. Pullaiy Paayay = acquires. 5. Bhuvjul(u) Ootraiy Paar(i) = swims across the world-sea; is salvaged.

6. Tayk = support; shelter. Adhaar(u) = support; basis. 7. Mustuk(i) = Lilaat(i) = on the forehead. Maytna Na Jaayay = cannot be erased. Poorun = perfect. 8.
MEANING: One connects with Satguru only through Waheguru's benevolence, not without good fortune. With Waheguru's Will, one gets connected with Satguru (takes His shelter), where one's mind gets purified like gold. 1.
Get attached to, and stay absorbed in the Naam of the eternal Waheguru, which can be acquired only from Satguru, oh my mind. Pause.
One acquires the Divine Knowledge from Satguru, which clears all his doubts (and eradicates all his worries). One learns the virtues and the secrets of Waheguru from Satguru, as a result of which, he never takes any life form again. 2.
Only that individual attains emancipation who kills his selfishness, his ego, and his worldly desires while living in the family, and acquires a new life (is transformed into a completely new personality) by leading his life as per the Guru's Shabad. 3.
Such a devotee overcomes all the effects of Maya and takes birth in Waheguru's Home (leads his life strictly as per the Guru's Advice). He successfully completes the very difficult task of controlling his senses, acquires the wisdom to distinguish between good and bad, and merges his soul with that of Waheguru. 4.
The world is unaware that it is a game (drama) of Maya. Enjoying the attractions of Maya, the man leaves the world, having lost even his basic good qualities. One earns spiritual benefit (wealth) only in the company of the holy saints – that too only with good fortune. 5.
You can verify by thinking deeply that no one can ever acquire noble qualities without Satguru (and without the recitation of Waheguru's Naam). Only the highly fortunate individuals get connected with the Guru, and get ferried across the world-sea. 6.
Waheguru's Naam is the support for the devotee, and the basis of his life. Please, be kind to me, and connect me with the Guru so that too, may find emancipation, oh Waheguru. 7.
One's fortune, which is prewritten on his forehead by the Lord, cannot be erased by anyone; those individuals become perfect (like Waheguru) who like (gladly accept) Waheguru's Will, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Bayd Bani = Teachings of the Vedas. Vertda = follows. Traiy-Goon = the three effects of Maya. Dund = punishment. Suhhaiy = endures. Vaaro Vaar = again, and again. Bhaytay = on meeting with. 1. Smaayay = absorb in the Naam. Vuddaiy Bhaag(i) = with great fortune. Pause. Bhaanaiy = Will; Huqam; Command. Srisht(i) Oopaayi = created the world. Adhaar(u) = support; food. Siyoun = with. Suvvarnhaar = beautifier; causing success. 2. Vaah(u) Vaah(u) = wonderful; praise-worthy. Sat Haiy = evergreen; eternally true. Koyay = some rare. Jayvud(u) = as great. Bukhshay = endows. Kerm(i) = with benevolence; good fortune. Praaput(i) = acquire. 3. Maahro = expert; Perfect. Versaiy = rains. Suntokhiyaiy = is contented. Liv Laayay = focus mind. Huriyaavli = green; full of life. Sookaiy = dry up. Koomlaayay = wilt; droop. 4. Kinaiy Na = nobody. Putiyaayay = to be convinced. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = naturally; without any special effort. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misled by illusions. 5. Dhaat(u) = attractions of Maya. Nuhhou = nor. Bundhun = bonds. 6. Moani = hermits; sages. Thuckay = exhausted. Abhiyaas(u) = practise. Nij Ghur(i) = in self; union with Waheguru. Jum Kaal(u) = the Angel of death. Untar(i) = in mind. Kupt = deceit. Vinaas(u) = (spiritual) destruction (death). 7. Subh(u) Ko = everybody. Pertaapda = longs for. Put(i) = respect. 8.

MEANING: The world follows the preachings of the Vedas, which discuss only Maya, which has three effects (and keep the people engrossed in it). But without Waheguru's Naam, the man has to endure (suffer) the punishment of the Angel of justice, and he keeps taking births, dying again, and again. One attains emancipation only when he meets with the Guru (comes to His shelter, and recites Waheguru's Naam). 1.

Serve the Guru (act upon His Advice) and get absorbed in His Shabad (in Waheguru's praise), oh my mind. But one gets connected with the Perfect Guru only if one is highly fortunate and recites Waheguru's Naam. Pause.

Waheguru creates the world with His own Will, and provides support (all necessities of life, including food). Waheguru purifies the mind of His devotees with His own Will, and infuses love for Him in their minds. One gets connected with the Guru by Waheguru's Will, who adorns the life of the devotees with noble qualities. 2.

Amazing! Amazing!! Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's praise) is ever true (connects one with Waheguru no matter where he is or what eon it is), but some rare devotee realizes this in the shelter of the Guru. No one else is as great as Waheguru is, and He should be praised by the Guru's amazing Shabad. With His benevolence, Waheguru connects His devotees with Him if they are fortunate enough. 3. The eternal Lord is perfect in everything, and Satguru reveals Him to the devotees. When one meditates on Waheguru, His Amrit-Naam rains on his brain as a result of which, his spiritual state flourishes, which never dries up or withers away, and he feels fully contented. 4.
One can see (verify) for himself that no one ever realizes Waheguru without the Guru. But at the same time, one connects with Satguru only with the benevolence of Waheguru, and without any special effort on his part. The follower-of-his-mind (a worshipper of Maya) is misled by the false illusions of Maya, and cannot acquire the wealth of Waheguru's Naam without his good fortune. 5. People read holy books and ponder on them, but they (the books) keep them attached to Maya with its three qualities. They can never get free from the bonds of Maya, and can never find emancipation. The bonds of Maya cannot be broken without Satguru, and one can never develop love for Waheguru's Naam. 6.
The pundits and the sages exhaust themselves by reading the Vedas and practising (following) their advice. They do not think about Waheguru's Naam and cannot control their mind so that it stays in itself (becomes stable) and connects with Waheguru. With deceit in their mind, their spirituality is destroyed, and they cannot overcome the fear of the Angel of Death hovering over their head. 7.
Everybody yearns for Waheguru's Naam, but one cannot acquire it without good fortune. However, with the benevolence of Waheguru, one connects with Satguru, and Waheguru's Naam becomes embedded in his mind. One earns respect only with Waheguru's Naam when he stays absorbed in it, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Undin(u) = everyday; always. Pause. Kaamun(i) = woman. Sheengaar = beautification. Doohchaarni = characterless. Khooaar(u) = suffers humiliation. Baad(i) = worthless. Achaar(u) = behaviour; performance. Kerm = rituals. Drirraayay = reinforces; does again, and again. 2. Oordhaar(i) = enshrined in heart. Aik(u) = the “One” God. Puchhaanaiy = makes connection. Sobhavunti = praiseworthy. Naar(i) = woman. 3. Lobhaaya = attracted to. 4. Kehn(u) = describe. Mooyay = dead; killing. Giyan Mutee = with spiritual thinking. Kumul Pergaas(u) = enlightenment of heart (mind). Tit(u) = that. 5. Bheejaiy = imbues. Aap Janaayay = displays his ego. Birthi = useless. 6. Say = those. Hujoor(i) = close by. Bherpoor(i) = fully present. 7. Bukhshay = endows. Roag(u) = disease. Saach(i) = with Waheguru’s Naam. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru exhorts (makes) a devotee to follow the Advice of the Guru when He is benevolent to him. As a result, the devotee enshrines the Naam(u) in his heart and gets rid of his discomforts. With his attachment to (love for) Waheguru’s Naam, he attains the everlasting high spiritual state and narrates the Guru’s Shabad to others. 1.

Serve (worship) Waheguru all the time, which is the treasure of everything, oh my mind. But it is with the grace of the Guru that one acquires the wealth of Waheguru’s Naam and stays connected with Him in the high spiritual state. Pause. A woman who beautifies herself without a husband is called characterless and is always in disgrace. Similarly, wearing of religious symbols by a Maya-worshipper who, forgetting Waheguru’s Naam, performs a variety of rituals, is spiritually a worthless display of his religious behaviour. 2.

But, a Guru’s Sikh, who enshrines the Naam of his Dear (Waheguru) with the Guru’s Shabad in his heart, acquires natural beauty (of mind). Such a human bride is highly praiseworthy, who overcomes her selfishness and ego, and makes a connection with the “One” (God). 3.

Nobody can acquire Waheguru’s Naam without the Guru and with his geed; the follower of his mind is attracted to (engrossed in) Maya. But some rare knowledgeable devotee realizes the fact that no one can find emancipation without taking shelter of the Guru. 4.

Everybody chants God’s name in some form with their tongue, but no worship is accepted by Him unless one kills their mind (worldly desires). One’s mind is enlightened only with the spiritual thinking (with Guru’s Shabad), when Waheguru’s Naam takes dwelling in such a heart. 5. Everybody worships some power to boost their selfishness and ego, but neither their minds are imbued with such worship, nor do they achieve any comfort (peace of mind). Their worship is only for a display of their ego. They waste away their precious human life in such worthless worship. 6.

Only those are the true devotees who stay connected with Waheguru by meditating on His Naam, and are liked by the Guru. With Guru's Shabad, they see Waheguru close to them and fully present everywhere. 7.
Haumein (selfishness and ego) is a grave ailment in the world, which is eradicated with the Guru's grace. Waheguru endows His devotees with His love, and they merge into Him with His Naam (Guru's Shabad), oh Nanak. 8.1.3.5.8.

Word Meaning: Preetum = Dear (Waheguru). Daatay = provide; source of. Jun = devotee. Sung(i) = with. Raatay = mixed well; dyed in love. Dinus(u) = day. Nimukh = moment. Goon-Nidh(i) = treasure (source) of virtues. Jugdeeshuraiy = Waheguru. Moh(i) Leena = captivates. Maatay = intoxicated. Sud-hoon = always. Kinaiy = some rare. Koat(i) Mudhay = among millions. Jaatay = recognized; made connection with. 1. Gut(i) = transcendence. Agumm = inaccessible; incomprehensible. Apaaray = limitless. Putit = immoral. Putit-Paavun = purifier of the immoral. Bhugut(i) Vuchhul = lover of His worship (worshippers). Kirpa Sindh(u) = ocean of mercy. Bhuj(u) = recite Naam. Nisungay = without any fear of taunts. Ruoun = I recite (Naam). Untarjaami = omniscient. Bhermunt Joani = wander through life forms. Tay = those. Ders Piyaas = thirst (longing for) the holy Sight. Smaahray = look after. 2.

Leena = absorbed. Jul = water; ocean. Meena = fish. Bhinn = different. Aan = other. Geh(i) Bhooja = holding by the arm. Tuou Persadi = with Your grace. Maaniyaiy = earn respect. Bhud(u) = recite (Naam). Sadh Sungay = with the Guru. Aik Rungay = with love for the “One”. Anaath = spiritually orphan. Deen = poor; humble. Muyya = benevolence. Apuna Keenay = make Your own. 3. Aapus Kuou = Himself (devotees who have become like Him). Bherm-Bhunjun = destroyer of all misgivings. Aachurj = amazing. Goon-Nidh(i)

= source of all virtues. Piyaariya = Dear. Muhha Mungul = huge joys. Oopjaiy = sprouts. Saariya = took care of; embedded in heart. Sohaiy = look pretty. Mohay = got captivated. Poorub Likhiya = prewritten (by Waheguru). Paaya = reaped the reward. Binvunt = prays respectfully. Tinh Kee = of those. Jinhi = who. 4.

MEANING: Dear Waheguru is the source of His worship with love, and is "one" with His devotees (both are imbued in each other's love). They do not get separated from each other, even for a short moment. The treasure of all virtues, and the Lord of the earth, Waheguru, is always with His devotees. Their minds are captivated by the love for His Feet (Naam), and they always feel intoxicated by the sweetness of His Naam. Even though the dear Waheguru is always very kind, some rare individual among millions gets connected with Him, oh Nanak. 1.

Waheguru's transcendence is incomprehensible and limitless, and He salvages even the extremely immoral individuals. The Lord is the purifier of the immoral, loves His devotees, and is the ocean of kindness. Without worrying about the taunts by the people, one should recite the Naam of the omniscient Waheguru in the company (shelter) of the Guru. Those who have wandered through countless life forms are salvaged by the recitation of His Naam. I have a deep longing for the holy sight of the Lord, and pray to Him that He looks after me (shows me His Sight), oh Nanak. 2.

If Waheguru is an ocean, then His devotees are like the fish. The ocean Waheguru, and the devotee fish are "one" and should not be recognized (considered) as different. Please, hold me by the arm, and endow me with Your Naam, oh Waheguru. One gets respect with Your benevolence. Recite Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru with love only for Him. But one acquires the Naam only through the benevolence of Waheguru. I was a spiritual orphan and a humble devotee who came to Waheguru's shelter, and who, very kindly, made me His own. 3.

Waheguru, which is the destroyer of all misgivings, connects the devotees who have become like Him with Him. My dear omniscient Lord, who is amazing and is the treasure of all virtues, connected me with Him. By reciting the virtues of Waheguru (singing His praise), great happiness and comforts sprout in the devotee's mind. As a result of one's prewritten fate, he is captivated with the holy Sight of Waheguru, and looks very attractive (spiritually dignified) when He sings Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the Guru. I, Nanak, submit humbly that I seek the shelter of those who recite Waheguru's Naam all the time. 4.1.

Nanak, luggi tut(u) laiy, Tu Sacha, mun(i) Sach(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Rehsiyaiy = feels blissful. Vootthaiy = on raining. Dhern(i) = earth. Sheengaar(u) = is adorned. Huriyaavli = green; full of life. Soobhur = full to the brim. Taal = pools; ponds. Ruchaiy = absorbed. Sach Rung(i) = love for Waheguru. Mujeetthaiy Laal(u) = red like madder dye. Kumul(u) = lotus; heart. Nihaal(u) = blessed.

Dooji Terf = on the other side (Maya). Phaahi Phaathaiy = ensnared. Mirg = deer. Jumkaal(u) = death. Khoodhiya = appetite (of worldly attractions). Trishna = fire of desires. Ninda = vilification of others. Boorie = bad. Vikraal = frightening. Suntokhiyaan = get contented. Chookaiy = end. Aal Junjaal = bonds of daily tasks. Mool(u) = the capital (wealth) of original spirituality. Paurri = ladder. Bohith = boat. Luggi = attached to Waheguru. Tut(u) = reality; the root (Waheguru) 1.

MEANING: Like the earth, which gets adorned (nature feels fresh) after it rains, and it looks green all around, and the pools are filled to the brim with water, one's mind is overjoyed (feels blissful) on meeting with the Guru. Love for Waheguru seeps into the minds of the devotee, and this love becomes so strong that it never fades like the deep red colour of madder.

With Waheguru's Naam and Guru's Shabad in mind, one's heart blooms, and one feels blissful. If one watches carefully, one will find that the individual who follows his mind has his mind turned in the opposite direction (from love for Waheguru to love for Maya). Like the ensnared deer, (spiritual) death seems to be hanging on his head. He suffers from the bad and frightening qualities of appetite for worldly attractions, fire of desires, vilification of others, lust, and rage. One cannot see Waheguru with these eyes unless one ponders on the Guru's Shabad. But, with Waheguru's Will, these eyes get contented when all the worldly bonds are broken.

The Guru is the ladder to reach the highly transcendent Waheguru, and is the boat to be ferried across the world-sea. So, one retains his original spirituality (unaffected by Maya) by serving the Guru. Such a devotee realizes the truth (Waheguru), and the eternal Waheguru takes dwelling in his heart, oh Nanak. 1.

M:1: Hayko paadhur(u), hayk(u) Dur(u), Gur paurri, nij thaan(u). Roorrou Tthaakur(u) Nanaka, subh sookh Saachou Naam(u). 2.

Word Meaning: Hayko = one and only. Paadhur(u) = the straight path (to union with God). Nij Thaan = one's permanent home (union with God). Roorrou = beautiful. 2.

MEANING: There is one and only straight path to union with Waheguru (one's permanent home) for which the Guru (His Shabad in Waheguru's praise) is the ladder (for the high transcendence of Waheguru). The Lord, Waheguru's Naam, is the most beautiful source of all comforts. 2.

Sachaiy Tukht(i) nivaas(u), hoar aavun, jaaniya. 1.
Word Meaning: Saaj(i) = having created. Puchhaaniya = revealed Himself in nature. Umber(u) = sky. Chundoa Taaniya = stretched the canopy. Thummha = pillars. Guggan = sky. Neeshaaniya = identification. Smaaniya = injected. Choaj = feats. Vidaaniya = amazing. Dherm = noble deeds. Poorbaaniya = on holy days. Sur(i) = equal. Vukhaaniya = describe. Aavun Jaaniya = take births and die. 1.
MEANING: After self-illuminating Himself, Waheguru reveals Himself through His nature (He created nature) for people to recognize Him. Separating the earth from the sky, he stretched the sky to serve as a canopy above the earth. He supports the sky without any pillars, and Guru's Shabad (His Naam) is His identity to unite with Him. He created the sun and the moon, infused them with His Light, and, through His amazing feats, also created nights and days. He put the idea of holy places in the minds of the people (Maya-lovers), and taking dips in them on holy days was to be considered a noble deed (albeit contrary to union with Waheguru). What can anyone say about You, oh Waheguru? There is only one thing that can be said about You, and that is, there is no one like You, oh Waheguru. Only Waheguru's Throne (His Huqam, Command, or Laws) is eternal, while everybody else comes and goes (is created and destroyed). 1.

Word Meaning: Saavun(i) = the rainy month of July-Aug. Vusaiy = rains. Omaaha = zestfulness. Mirgaan = deer. Rusiyaan = those who enjoy the luxuries of life.
MEANING: Four kinds of living beings – snakes, deer (forest animals), fish, and the rich, who enjoy the luxuries of life – feel zestful when it rains in the summer months, oh Nanak. 1.

ਮ:1॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸਾਵਣਿ ਜੇ ਵਸੈ ਚਹੁ ਵਿਛੋੜਾ ਹੋਇ॥ ਗਾਈ ਪੁਤਾ ਨਿਰਧਨਾ ਪੰਥੀ ਚਾਕਰੁ ਹੋਇ॥ 2॥
M:1: Nanak, Saavun(i) jay vusaiy, chuhou vichhorra hoyay. Gaayeen pootaan, nirdhunaa, punthi, chaakur(u) hoyay. 2.
Word Meaning: Vichhorra = separation; suffering. Gaayeen Pootaan = sons of cows; oxen. Punthi = travellers. Chaakur(u) = servants.
MEANING: (on the contrary) suffering is caused to four kinds of living beings – the oxen (they have to work in the fields after rain), the poor, the travellers, and the servants – when it rains in summer months, oh Nanak.
NOTE: It is strange that some species enjoy while others suffer under the same conditions. The beauty of these Sloaks is that, without saying it directly, Guru Nanak Sahib conveys the important hidden message that the devotees of Waheguru are always blissful, no matter the external conditions. So, one should always recite Waheguru's Naam.

Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Sachiyaar(u) = source of truth (noble qualities). Sach(u) = His Amrit Naam Vertaaya = disseminated. Taarri = meditation. Kuvul = Lotus (the birth source of Brahma, which is believed to be the creator of the universe, and who was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu); the Creator (God Himself before the creation of the world). Roop(u) = form; body. Raykh = visible features. Vern = colours; forms. Subaaya = all bodies. Smoyay = placing in. Putiyaayay = getting pleased. Putiyaayay = having full faith; in complete unison. 2.

MEANING: You are the eternal source of all noble qualities, and have disseminated Your eternal Naam everywhere (it rains Amrit all the time: Sloak M:3, page 1281). He was in deep meditation before He created the world. Brahma is said to be great, but even he does not know the limits of Waheguru's capabilities. Waheguru has no father or mother who gave Him birth. He has no form (body) or physical features, yet he is present in every living being. He experiences no appetite or thirst and is always fully contented. Having placed Himself in the Guru, He reveals Himself through the Guru's Shabad, and being in complete unison with Waheguru, the Guru stays connected with Him. 2.

ਸਲੋਕ ਮ:1॥ ਵੈਦੁ ਬੁਲਾਇਆ ਵੈਦਗੀ ਪਕੜਿ ਢੰਢੋਲੇ ਬਾਹ॥ ਭੋਲਾ ਵੈਦ ਨ ਜਾਣਈ ਕਰਕ ਕਲੇਜੇ ਮਾਹਿ॥ 1॥

Sloak M:1: Vaiyd(u) boolaaya, vaiydungi, pukurr(i) dhundholay baanh. Bhola Vaiyd na jaanyee, kerk kulayjay maah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Vaiyd = physician. Vaiydungi = for treatment. Dhundholay = searches; looks for. Baanh = arm; pulse. Bhola = ignorant. Kerk = pain.

MEANING: When a devotee feels spiritually down because of the pain of separation from Waheguru, his relatives call in the physician to examine him for his "sickness". The physician feels the "patient's" pulse by holding his arm. But the ignorant physician does not realize that it is a mental, and not a physical pain. 1.

Word Meaning: Vaiyd Soovaiyd = best physician. Daaroo = medication. Loarr Luhou = find. Vunjaiy = go away. Ghaan(i) = heap. Oottheh(i) = leave. Sudaayay = called.

MEANING: That physician is the best among others, who recognizes the source of ailment, and prescribes the medication which can eradicate the whole heap of ailments, and the patient feels all comforts. One deserves to be called a physician only if he treats his own ailment (separation from Waheguru) first, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Dayv = gods. Dus-avatari = in ten incarnations (Vishnu). Daiyntaan = demons. Dhaayay = attacks. Eesh Mahaysh = the 11 incarnations of Shiva. Sachi Keemut(i) = truthfulness as the basis. Tukhut = throne; empire. Dhundhaiy = worldly affairs. Dherm(u) = morality (one's prewritten destiny). Kuraayay Kem = makes people perform deeds. Dhoorhoun Foormaya = His eternal Command. 3.
MEANING: Waheguru created gods Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. (It is believed that) Brahma was given the wisdom to write the four Vedas, and he evoked their worship among the people. Vishnu incarnated ten times, one of which was Raja Ram Chand, who killed many demons with his attacks, but all under the Huqam of Waheguru. The eleven incarnations of Shiva served Waheguru, but never found His limits. Making Truth (His Naam) as the basis of the world, Waheguru created His eternal Empire. Having put the world in the Maya-related tasks, Waheguru is present, hidden in the world. As per His eternal Command, people perform deeds according to their preordained destiny. 3.

Word Meaning: Hey Sukhi = oh, friend. Kuntaiy = husband (Waheguru). Jhoor(i) = repenting on lost opportunity. Dohaagni = separated from the husband. Nayhou = love.
MEANING: Like the summer months, which are the season for rain, which is welcome, it is the time (human life) to receive the rain of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, so keep Him in mind, oh my friend. Those who are disconnected from Waheguru because of their love for the other (Maya) cry to death, repenting for the missed opportunity (human life), oh Nanak. 1.

Vukhaaniyaiy = described. Salaah(i) = sing praise. Puchhaaniyaiy = make connection with. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru has created this world as the ring for wrestling matches (where humans fight against worldly attractions and sensual pleasures). The devotees of the Guru enter the ring all fired up and roar against the demons (lust, greed, ego, etc.). But the weak-minded and foolish Maya-lovers are badly defeated by the demons. Being present in everybody, it is Waheguru Himself who has created this ring, and who fights and kills the enemy (evil). One realizes only in the shelter of the Guru that Waheguru is the Lord of all. The future behaviour of everybody is prewritten in their fate by Waheguru without any pen or inkpot. The gathering of the holy saints is the place where Waheguru's virtues are discussed all the time. One connects with Waheguru by singing His praise through Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 4.

MEANING: The Guru -cloud has come very close to us with a different (new) spirit (affection) to cause the rain of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. I am not sure how my love for Waheguru will be judged by the Guru (whether the Guru will give me His Naam or not). The love of the human brides who have respectful fear for Waheguru will be upheld by the Guru for sure (they will be given Waheguru's Naam). But those who have no fear and no love for Waheguru will never be peaceful by body and by mind, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: The Guru has come very close to us and is causing the rain of holy Naam-Amrit (for the devotees to acquire it). But those human brides, who are disconnected with Waheguru by mind, will suffer, oh Nanak. 2.

Koorriyaar = dealers in falsehood. Nihchou = for sure. Soor = valiant. Suvaariya = groomed (adorned) with noble qualities. Say = those. Vit-houn = for. 5.

MEANING: Even though Waheguru created (injected) love for Him and love for Maya in the minds of the people, He alone is operating in (controlling) the world. He also created the teachings of the Vedas (through His men) and infused the spirit of debate in the minds of the people. Getting involved in Maya-based worldly affairs, or staying detached from them (and connecting with Waheguru), are the two aspects created by Waheguru; and as Guru, He is also the mediator. The worshippers of Maya are weak-minded who deal in falsehood and lose in Waheguru's court for sure. But those who obey the Guru become valiant with His Shabad, who are able to kill their lust and rage. Adorned with noble qualities with Guru's Shabad, they are honoured as the truthful in Waheguru's Residence (Court). Those devotees who recite Waheguru's Naam with love are liked by Him. I am a sacrifice for those who serve their Satguru. 5.

But only those enshrine Him (His Naam) in their mind on whom He castes His kind sight. Those, who are devoid of His kind sight, simply cry and supplicate. 2.

Laykha Nibrraiy = account cleared. Bukhshay = endows with. Sift(i) Bhundaar = treasures of His praise. Huth(u) Na Upprraiy = has no access. Kook, Pookaar = begging aloud. Bayli = friend. Kuddh(i) Luyyay = pulls out; rescues.
MEANING: We should always remember Waheguru who takes no time to create things. He can stretch the skies, and destroy things in a moment. He created the world, and the nature, and ponders on them (looks after them carefully). Those followers of their mind, who do not believe in Waheguru, are demanded the account of their deeds, and receive huge punishments. On the other hand, the accounts of Guru's devotees are cleared honourably because the Guru endows them with treasures of Waheguru's praise. The followers of their mind have no approach to anyone who can help them there, no matter how much they cry or supplicate. The Guru can be their only friend there to pull them out of their tough situation at the end. (Be patient), Waheguru will cause rain with His benevolence, whereby all the forests and the vegetation will be green (full of life). But some rare individuals realize that the rain of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit to infuse new life among the people can be received only in the shelter of the Guru. We should recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, whether we are sitting (resting) or getting up (working), as a result of which, one always enjoys comfort. It rains Waheguru's Naam all the time, but Waheguru showers it (gives it) only to those who follow Guru's Advice, oh Nanak. 1.

He orders the clouds which cause continuous rain for a couple of days. As a result, grains (and wealth) grow in abundance; one cannot determine the worth of Waheguru. One should simply sing praise of Waheguru, who delivers food to all his living beings, oh Nanak. Actually, Waheguru's Naam is such food that it brings all comfort when one consumes it, and one never suffers from any discomfort again. 2.

MEANING: You are the only truth (purity), and You connect the truthful (who become like You) with You, oh, the eternal Waheguru. Those who are disconnected from you are engrossed in Maya, and deal in the perishables (worldly things), and cannot connect with You. Attachment with worldly attractions causes grief and distance from Waheguru, but people are performing only those kinds of deeds for which they have a prewritten fate (nature). However, if You wish, You can connect even the disconnected with You, and show Your greatness (generosity), oh Waheguru. I am a sacrifice to all those who meditate on Your Feet (recite Your Naam). With the system that Waheguru has created (such holy saints stay detached from Maya), like the lotus flower that grows in water but stays above it. Those who kill their selfishness and ego are always blissful and look (spiritually) elegant. Jugut moossaiy, Amrit loottiyaiy, munmukh boojh na paayay. Vin(u) Naavaiyn naal(i) na chullsi, jaasi junum(u) guvaayay. Gurmut(i) jaagay, tinhi ghur(u) rukhiya, dootaan ka kichh(u) na vusaayay.
Word Meaning: Atooll(u) = unweighable = whose worth cannot be found. Kiyoun = how? Toaliyaiy = weigh; determine worth. Goon = (the Source of) virtues. Sachi Boojh = the eternal truth. Moossaiy = is robbed. Loottiyaiy = is stolen. Na Chullsi = will not accompany. Jaagay = awakened; enlightened. Ghur(u) Rukhiya = protected their wealth. Dootaan = (lust and rage like) demons. Na Vusaayay = have no ability. 8.
MEANING: How can one weigh Waheguru, which is unweighable (His worth cannot be determined), but, at the same time, one cannot connect with Him unless He evaluates (knows) (and thus acquires) His virtues. (Waheguru's Virtues) can be known by pondering over Guru's Shabad when the devotee stays absorbed in Waheguru, which is the source of all virtues. Waheguru weighs the qualities of His devotees against His own - which only He knows - and connects the deserving devotee with Him. The worth of such a devotee cannot be measured, and nothing can be said about the level of his spirituality. I am a sacrifice to my Guru, who gives the true understanding. The world is being robbed of its noble qualities, and the spirituality of the man is stolen by the demons (lust, greed, etc.), but the followers of their own mind do not realize this. Nothing, other than Waheguru's Naam, accompanies one, and the Maya-worshippers leave this world after wasting away their precious human life. The Guru's Sikhs are enlightened and protect their home (mind) against the demons which become helpless. 8.

Word Meaning: Bil-laayay = cry. Tersaayay = torture with greed. Khusm = Lord. Tikh = thirst (for desired things). Chuvgul(i) = four times; manyfold. Vunn(u) = colour of love; beauty of mind. 1.

MEANING: Like the rainbird, which is always thirsty for the drop of rain, and cries for that, do not cry and torture your mind with your greed for worldly attractions, and accept Waheguru's Will, oh man. All one's thirst for worldly attractions goes away when he obeys Waheguru's Will, and his love for Him increases manyfold, oh, Nanak. 1.

Aitay, jul(i) versdaiy, tikh mureh(i) bhaag tinha kay naah(i). Nanak, Gurmukh(i) tinh sojhi puyyi, jinh vussiya mun maah(i). 2.

Word Meaning: Babeeha = rainbird-like man. Jul = water; Naam-Amrit. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Saar = worth. Kookun Paah(i) = scream. Thul = land. Chuhoun Dis(i) = the four directions. Khaali = empty. Aitay = so much. Tikh = thirst. Bhaag = fortune. Sojhi = understanding.

MEANING: You reside (survive) in Waheguru's Naam-water (His Huqam), and roam around with His Huqam, oh man. You do not know the worth of His Huqam; that is why you scream (complain about everything). His Naam-Amrit rains on the waters, on the land, in all the four directions, and there is no place without His Naam. If someone dies of thirst (for worldly attractions) when the Naam-Amrit rains so heavily, he must be very unfortunate. The individual, who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart with Guru's grace, realizes this fact, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Nath = the guru of the yogis. Jutee = the celibates. Peer = Muslim gurus. Kinaiy = any. Toojhay = in You (God). Smaaya = absorbed. Joog Chhuteeh = 36 eons. Goobaar(i) = in darkness. Bhaaya = liked. Neel = blemish. Aneel = unblemished; pure. (see Jup Ji Paurries (28-31). Surjeet(u) = alive; awake. Ugun(i) = fire of desires. Vaad = debates; controversies. Bhookh = appetite. Tihaaya = thirsty. Sir(i) = above the head. Dooja Bhaaya = liked the other (Maya). Raakhunhaar(u) = the saviour = Waheguru. 9.

MEANING: No guru of the yogis, no well-known celibate (Laxman, Bhisham, etc.), no Sidh yogi, nor a Muslim peer has ever found the limits of Waheguru. However, a devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, gets absorbed in (merges with) Him. It was the Will of Waheguru that there be complete darkness for 36 eons (an unlimited period). Then He created dreadful water. But the eternal and the perfectly pure Waheguru, which is inaccessible, is present everywhere, and is always alive (awake). (After creating the world), Waheguru also created the fire of worldly desires among the living beings, controversies, and hunger and thirst. He also created love for Maya among the living beings, and also the sword of death above everybody's head. But the Guru protects His devotees from worldly attractions with His Shabad. 9.

Word Meaning: Jul(u) = water = Naam-Amrit. Bhaayay = with love. Soobhaayay = by (Waheguru's) Will. Birkha = trees; humans. Huriyaavaly = green; full of life. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam-Amrit rains for everybody with affection, but it does so only by Waheguru's Will. Those Sikhs acquire new spiritual life in the shelter of the Guru, who stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. With Waheguru's kind sight, the living beings enjoy comfort, and all their sufferings go away. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhinni Raiyn = moist night. Chumkiya = flashed. Voottha = rained. Chhehbur Laayay = continuously. Unn(u) = grains. Oopjaiy = is produced. Shuhou = husband; Waheguru. Rujaayay = Will. Jit(u) = which. Triptiyaiy = is contented. Joogut(i) Smaayay = learn the way to live (they survive). Kertay Ka Khayl = drama of Waheguru. Giyaaniyaan = having spiritual knowledge. Pullaiy Paayay = acquire. 2.

MEANING: With Waheguru's Will, the cloud flashes lightning on a moist night, and it rains continuously for a few days, as a result of which, an abundance of grains and wealth are produced. The living beings live with satisfaction and find contentment in consuming the food so produced. But this wealth is a drama of Waheguru, which comes and goes. For the spiritually knowledgeable, the real wealth is Waheguru's Naam, in which they remain constantly absorbed. But only those fortunate acquire this wealth on whom Waheguru casts kind sight, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Kaiy Siyoun = to whom. Pookaar = pray for help. Laykha = account of deeds. Mungsi = demands. Kaar = performance of deeds. Theeyaiy = happens. Huqam Kuray = takes credit. Gavaar(u) = foolish. Chhootiyaiy = gets emancipated. Bukhshunhaar(u) = forgiver. Adhaar(u) = food. Sir(i) Sir(i) = individually. Aap(u) Veechaariyaiy = analyze self. 10.
MEANING: It is Waheguru who does everything, and makes others do; so who else can I pray to get help? He makes people do the deeds (as per their prewritten fate), and also asks for the account of their deeds. Only that happens what He wishes, but the foolish take credit for their successes. One attains emancipation (from his ego and worldly bonds) only when Waheguru frees him from such bonds as He is generous in forgiving. Waheguru looks after everybody, listens to their prayers, and delivers food to everybody. It is only Waheguru which operates in everybody, and considers the needs of each individual separately. The Sikhs of the Guru analyze themselves, and love Waheguru for His gifts and His benevolence. Whom should one ask for help when Waheguru, Himself, is the provider, oh Nanak? 10.

Word Meaning: Jugut(u) = world. Mut = lest. Bherm(i) Bhoolaayay = misled by misgivings. Pushoo = animal; ignorant. Boojhun(u) = understanding; wisdom. Tikh = thirst (for worldly attractions). Buhhourr(i) = again.
Word Meaning: Let nobody be misled by any misgivings, the whole world is like the rainbird which is always thirsty for worldly desires. It is like animals which have no spiritual wisdom. The true Amrit is Waheguru's Naam; when one drinks it, the thirst of his worldly desires goes away. The devotees, who drink it in Guru's shelter, do not experience this thirst again, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Seetul = peaceful. Shaant(i) = peace. Vertaiy = operate; is given. Loyay = world. Vootthaiy = on raining. Joogut(i) = ability; strength. Dherni = earth. Sheengaar(u) = beautification. Jul(u) = water; Waheguru's Naam. 2.
MEANING: Mulhaar Raag brings peace to mind, and when one sings Waheguru's praise in this Raag, he attains peace of mind. With Waheguru's benevolence, the whole world is given (attains) peace. Just like the living beings gain new energy (feel rejuvenated), and the earth becomes very attractive when it rains, humans gain spiritual strength, and their minds become beautiful when they receive the rain of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. The basis of the whole world is Waheguru's Naam (Huqam), and everybody comes into being with His Huqam (Laws), oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sacha = eternal. Vaypervaah(u) = carefree. Dhunee = Lord. Gunee = consider to be significant. Maanus = humans. Koorra Gerb = false pride (ego). Toodh = Yours. Munee = pride. Aavagaun = birth-death cycle. Ruchaayay = Oopaayay = create. Maydni = world. Gunut Gunee = worry about (accounts of deeds). Goobaar(i) = in darkness. Bhoolla = misled. Munjh(i) = in the middle. Vunee = forests. Asunkh = countless. Kunee = drop; very small amount. 11.

MEANING: You are the only true Lord who is immortal and carefree, oh Waheguru. You control everything. Who else can be considered to be significant in your comparison? The pride that the man takes is all about the perishables, but the pride that Your devotees have in You is everlasting. You have created the world so that it dies and is reborn from time to time. Only that individual is truly significant (worth in life) who serves His Guru. The devotee, who gets rid of his haumein, does not need to worry about any account of his deeds. But the follower of his mind is in complete spiritual darkness, as if he is lost in the thick of a forest. A single drop of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit (connection with Him, even if it is for a tiny moment) destroys countless sins. 11.

Word Meaning: Mehl(u) = Palace; Residence. Bhaanaiy = will; wish. Thaayayn Na Paayay = given no credit. Ichhaiy = as wished. Buppurra = poor. Tikh(u) = thirst.

MEANING: You have no knowledge of the Residence (His transcendence) of the Lord, oh, the rainbird-like, and always thirsty for worldly attractions, man. Recognize His Residence (how to connect with Him) before you pray to Him. Guided by your wishes, you talk too much (make too many requests), for which you are given no credit. The Lord is the greatest provider, and one can reap any wished reward by worshipping Him. Not just the poor single individual, the whole world gets contented. 1.

Word Meaning: Bhinni = wet; beautiful. Raiyn(i) = night. Sehjay Sach(u)) Soobhaay = with pure mind, and love. Jeeou = life. Jul = (Naam) water. App(i) Guvaayay = getting rid of selfishness and ego. Chusaa = moment.
MEANING: That night is beautiful on which the rainbird-like devotee, who is thirsty for Waheguru's Naam-water, prays to Waheguru for His Naam-water, saying that Waheguru's Naam is his life, and he cannot survive without His Naam. But, only the devotee, who gets rid of his selfishness and ego with Guru's Shabad, acquires His Naam. With His grace, Satguru has connected me with the Lord, without whom I could not live for even a single moment, oh Nanak. 2.

Sunch(i) = accumulating. Doojaiy = Maya. Sir(i) = above. Bajaariya = street performer. Bhaahaaul(i) = frightening. NIkhoottay = runs out 12.
MEANING: There are countless worlds and underworlds which cannot be counted. Waheguru is the creator of them, and He also destroys them. All the 8.4 million life forms have been created by Him. Many claim to be rajas and chiefs, and make (force) people call them the same. Some accumulate wealth and call themselves money lords but lose their dignity (in Waheguru's Court) for getting engrossed in Maya. There are some who are rajas, while there are many beggars, but Waheguru is the Lord above all of them. Without Waheguru's Naam, the world is acting like street performers (spiritual beggars) with a very frightening future (in Waheguru's Court). The luxuries of Maya are short-lived and run out. Word Meaning: Goonvunteen = having good qualities. Aougunvuntee = having bad qualities. Door(i) = disconnected. Hujoor(i) = close by. Kook Pookar = screaming and imploring. Nudri = with kind Sight (God). Nihaal = blissful. Ruttay = imbued. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Ghaal(i) = hard work.
MEANING: The devotees with noble (Waheguru-like) qualities reach His Residence (get united with Him), while those who have ignoble qualities stay away from His Residence (stay disconnected with Him). Waheguru is present in everybody, but only Guru's Sikhs find Him close all the time. Waheguru does not get connected with any crying or imploring; one connects with Him only with His Naam, and the devotees feel blissful with His kind Sight. The devotees, who are imbued in His Naam, get easily connected with Him by pondering on hard, and obeying the Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jea Daan(u) = gift of new life. Jul = Naam-water. Chhotuk Jaah(i) Praan = lose life. Naydhaan = treasure. Bukhsh(i) Luyyay = forgives. Bayli = friend. 2.

Word Meaning: The human-rainbird prays to Waheguru to kindly give him the gift of new spiritual life because his thirst for worldly attractions does not go away without Waheguru's Naam-water (Amrit), and he is on the brink of losing his life. He knows that Waheguru is the treasure of virtues, and the unlimited provider of all comforts. Waheguru forgives the Sikhs of the Guru, and is the true friend at the end, oh Nanak. 2

Word Meaning: Aougun = ignoble qualities. Traiy-goon = Maya with three qualities. Junjaal(u) = worldly bonds. Chhoad(i) = ignoring. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. Kit(u) = what for? Ehinis = day and night. Oor(i) Dhaariya = embedded in mind. Alukh Apaar = incomprehensible and limitless. Uvguniaar = ignobles. 13.

MEANING: After creating the world, Waheguru Himself evaluates the noble and the ignoble qualities of humans. Maya, with its three effects, bonds them strongly to itself as a result of which, the men do not develop love for Waheguru. Ignoring the noble qualities, they deal in the ignoble qualities and suffer humiliation in Waheguru's Court. They lose their precious human life in this gamble. Why do they even come to this world? On the other hand, the devotees, who embed the Naam of the eternal, the incomprehensible, and the limitless Waheguru in their hearts, kill their mind (worldly desires) with the Guru's eternal Shabad, and love Waheguru day and night. They believe that Waheguru is the treasure of all the noble qualities, whereas they are full of ignoble qualities. The devotee, to whom Waheguru endows His Naam, acquires it by pondering on the Guru's Shabad. 13.

Word Meaning: Vihaavi = is spent. Saaktaan = Maya-wordshippers. Visraiy = forget. Soohayliyaan = in comfort.
MEANING: The Maya-worshippers, who forget Waheguru's Naam, find it hard to spend the night of life (peacefully). But those who sing Waheguru's praise stay blissful day and night, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: Finally, one's hard labour (service) to Satguru comes to the fore (bears fruit) and he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his mind. With Waheguru as his saviour, the Angel of Death cannot even touch him. Satguru's Teaching (His Shabad) enlightens the mind of the devotee. But the Maya worshippers deal in perishables and go around like ghosts (out of step with Truth). Wrapped in human skin, they are actually like animals with darkness in their minds. Waheguru alone operates in the world, and can be realized only with the Guru's eternal Shabad. Waheguru's Naam is the treasure of everything, which only the Perfect Guru shows (bestows on the devotees, oh Nanak. 14.

In that state, he feels as if the Guru-cloud is causing heavy continuous rain of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. All his crying and imploring are left behind, and blissfulness fills his heart. MEANING: You do not even know what your thirst (desire) is about, and what you need to drink to quench it, oh, the rainbird-like man. Misled by your love for Maya, you cannot acquire the ambrosial water of Waheguru's Naam. But when Waheguru is kind to a devotee, the devotee becomes connected to the Guru without any special effort. Such a devotee acquires the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam and stays absorbed in it in a high spiritual state, oh Nanak.2.

MEANING: To please their deity, some people go and live in some part of a forest, and do not communicate with anyone. While some disregard cold and frost, others bathe in ice-cold water. Still, some others coat their bodies with ash and do not wash it off. Some others grow long hair, but do not keep it clean, and look repugnant with their untidy, matted hair, and bring disgrace to their family and the clan.

Misled by their misbeliefs, some roam around naked day and night, and do not get any sleep. Still, some others burn (torture) their bodies (by building fire around them on hot summer days), and only suffer humiliation. They waste away their human life performing spiritually worthless deeds. The human body is simply a pile of dust without Waheguru's Naam in it. So, how can they show their repentance now? Those who serve Satguru look elegant (honourable) in Waheguru's Court. 15.

MEANING: Your thirst (desire) for worldly attractions can never go away like this, even if you pray hundreds of times, oh, the rainbird-man. One connects with Satguru only through Waheguru's kind sight when love for Satguru takes root in his heart. With love for Satguru, Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in the devotee's heart, and all his immoral thoughts get destroyed, oh Nanak. 2.

Put(i) = dignity. Jootthaiy = impure. Vayjaat(i) = honourless. Achaar(u) = high moral lifestyle. Oankaar(i) = in Waheguru. Sach(i) = with the Naam.

MEANING: Then there are Jains, who are misled on the wrong path of life right from the beginning. They do not have Waheguru's Naam on their tongue, and do not even do pilgrimage. Rather than shaving their heads with razors, they pull their hair out. They do not like Guru's Shabad, and stay filthy day and night. They have no status, no respect, and do not even perform the prevalent rituals, and waste away their precious human life. The (spiritually) low caste are filthy in mind, and eat filthy (impure) food. No one acquires (learns) the high moral path of life without the Guru's Shabad. The Sikhs of the Guru get absorbed in the eternal Waheguru with His eternal Naam. 16.

MEANING: (On the other hand), a person who has love for Maya has no noble qualities and suffers from heartburn even in the joyous rainy season. She does not know the worth of Waheguru, and all her adornments (religious symbols) humiliate her, oh Nanak.

MEANING: The incomprehensible and the enigmatic Waheguru is not pleased with the worship which people perform unwillingly without love for Him. Some people try to please Him by singing ragas along with their subcategories, but fail to please Him. He is not pleased even when people dance with steps in perfect tune with the music because it is not His worship. Then, there are some who do not eat food to please God; what can be done about such fools? They have such a strong desire for worldly attractions that they cannot feel contented no matter what they do. They may perform rituals of all the worlds, but they feel humiliated in frustration. The only spiritual benefit (wealth) in the world is to drink the Amrit (of Waheguru's Naam). Guru's Sikhs worship Waheguru with deep love for Him. 17.

NOTE: Malhaar Raag is considered to bring peace to mind.

MEANING: A devotee of the Guru who sings His Shabads (in praise of God) in Malhar Raag, attains peace by body and mind. He recognizes (gets connected with) the one and only Waheguru, which is eternal. When Waheguru resides in a devotee's mind, he becomes pure by body and by mind, and he earns pure fame. With Waheguru in his mind, he earns respect without any special effort. There is deep spiritual darkness in the world, and the Maya-worshippers find no path to spirituality in such darkness. All his mental filth (immoral thinking and acts) is cleared when he meditates on Waheguru's Naam with full focus of mind. He bathes his mind in the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit (in a holy gathering) which is the true holy place. The mother (wisdom) of such a devotee is great who gives birth to him who kills all his worldly desires with Guru's Shabad. Such a pure-minded devotee has easy access to Waheguru's Court (His Residence) where nobody can question his entrance as he is liked by (is favourite of) Waheguru. However, one sings Waheguru's praise only if it is prewritten in his fate by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 18.

Dooniya kay dur kaytrray, kaytay aaveh(i) jaah(i). Kaytay mungeh(i) mungtay, kaytay mung(i), mung(i) jaah(i). 1.

Word Meaning: Koolha = a ceremonial hat given to a successor by a self-proclaimed Muslim peer. Baanvlay = insane; foolish. Nilujj = shameless. Chooha = mouse. Khudd = bill. Tickel(i) = on the back. Maavyee = contain; fit. Chhujj = a wide wicker flailing device. Dooaayeen = blessings. Say = those. Fusl(i) = harvesting. Ahaarri = the spring crops. Saavni = the fall crops. Mehdood = a letter of recognition. Dur = residences of self-proclaimed holy saints. 1.

MEANING: Those self-proclaimed peers, who ceremoniously appoint their successors by putting the ceremonial hat on their heads, are truly fools (because they do so to show off their fake spirituality), and those, who accept them are shameless. Such a ceremony is like a mouse trying to enter his bill with a large flailing device tied to his back (the peers and the successors are never successful of acquiring spirituality by such a ceremony). Such fake peers who bless their successors, die spiritual death, and so do the successors who receive them, and nobody knows where they end up going (after their death) with Waheguru's Huqam (they sure do not get connected with Allah), oh Nanak.

The spiritual crops that one harvests in spring or in the fall (throughout the year) are only Waheguru's Naam; and this (Waheguru's Naam) is the letter of Waheguru's approval that has been written for me, and which will take me to His Court. There are many fake holy places in the world, and countless beggars who beg for worldly things there (but they are no source of Waheguru's Naam). 1.

Mukkhi mitthaiy merna. Jinh Tu rukheh(i) tinh nayrr(i) na aavaiy, tinh bhuou saagur(u) terna. 2.

Word Meaning: Suou Mun(u) = huge amounts. Gheou Goorr(u) = butteroil and jaggery (luxurious foods). Daana = grains. Dukkaiy = belches. Phookaiy = heavy breathing. Khayh Oodaavaiy = splatters dust. Phook(i) = in conceit. Mitee = kill desires to be absorbed (in God). Bhaani = liked. Udh(u) Goolha = half a grain; very little. Chirri = sparrow. Choogun(u) = pick food. Gaiyn(i) = sky. Bil-laayay = makes sounds. Chungee = good; acceptable. Shukta = powerful. Sheenh(u) = lion. Saiy = hundred. Miriyaan = deer; animals. Pichhaiy = after. Sutaana = more energetic. Ghooray = den. Maavaiy = contain self. Book(i) = roar. Mool(i) Na = not at all. Ukk = milkweed. Tidda = grasshopper. Chaar(i) Dihaarray = a few days; short time. Gullaan Vaalaiy = those who only talk. Ghunayray = countless. Chhudd = quit. Mukkhi = house fly. Mitthaiy = sweet but soft jaggery. 2.

NOTE: An elephant consumes 150-175 kg of vegetation, and drinks about 200L of water every day. It also likes fruits, rice, and jaggery. About 80% of its time is spent eating.

MEANING: An elephant consumes large amounts of grains and other foods, like ghee and gaggery (if available); once full, it belches, breathes heavily in its ego, and splatters dust to show its strength. But repents when it dies (for its egoistic actions). The world, like the elephant, is spiritually blind and foolish, and dies in its ego. But Waheguru likes only those who kill their worldly desires and get absorbed in Him.

On the other hand, a sparrow picks up only a very small amount of food, and happily flies into the sky, and chirps (has no ego, which is like singing God's praise), which Waheguru likes. A powerful lion kills hundreds of forest animals, and many carnivores eat their flesh after the lion has had its fill. Getting fresh energy, the lion cannot contain itself in its den and begins to roar. Whom is he trying to show his strength? Waheguru does not like such ego at all. He also repents at his death. A milkweed-hopper loves the milkweed and sits on one of its branches to eat its food (shows no ego). Waheguru likes him when he sings His praise.

Life on this earth is only for a very short period of time. The more a person enjoys sensual pleasures, the more he suffers in the next world (in Waheguru's Court) (because of his committed sins), oh Nanak. Many people talk about worldly enjoyments as spiritually harmful, but nobody actually gives them up because Maya is very sweet to them; like a fly that gets trapped (and dies) on a sweet but soft jaggery, humans get trapped by Maya's attractions and suffer spiritual death. But Maya cannot even come near the devotees protected by Waheguru. They swim across the sea of Maya (to merge into Waheguru). 2.

Word Meaning: Agumm = inaccessible. Agoachur(u) = incomprehensible. Dhunee = Lord. Alukh = invisible. Apaar(u) = endless. Daata = provider. Mungtay = beggars. Ikkna =for some. Aivaiyn Bhaanvda = like the way they are. Vin(u) Preeti = without love. Saynvday = worship. Dhaadhi = bard. Pookaar = prayer. Suntokhiyaa = causing contentment. Adhaar = support.

MEANING: You are eternal, are the Lord, are inaccessible, incomprehensible, invisible, and limitless, oh Waheguru. You are the only provider in this world, while all others are beggars at Your door. Those who serve You by pondering on the Advice of the Guru enjoy all the comforts. You want the humans to be attracted to Maya (this is Your law), oh Waheguru. (To stay detached from Maya), One needs to sing Waheguru's praise with Guru's Shabad and with love for Him. One cannot worship Waheguru without love for Him in his mind, and one cannot develop love for Waheguru without the grace of the Guru. You are the Lord, and everybody serves (worships) You. I am Your bard, and I pray to You (begging for Your worship). I beg for Your Naam, which is the source of contentment, and the basis of my life, oh Waheguru. 19.

Word Meaning: Kaal(u) = time; life span. Chhijjaiy = weakens. Kaaya = body. Praal(u) = like dry straws. Vertun Vertiya = the deeds done. Junjaal(u) = nets of Maya. Bhoolliya = forgotten. Chook(i) Guyya = ended. Tup Taal(u) = worship of God. Jhukh(i) Jhukh(i) = doing worthless things. Jhayr(i) = in a long cycle. Pichhaiy = after his death. Soojhaiy Naahi = cannot think of. Aivaiyn Bhhaavaiy = likes it this way. 1.
MEANING: Man's life span goes on decreasing by day and by night. His body weakens, and his skin becomes dry like straw. All his life, he dealt with worldly affairs that bound him more closely to Maya, and he forgot the worship of Waheguru. Doing the worthless things, the spiritually blind are caught in a long cycle (of rebirths). After his death, the relatives cry for his return, but without spiritual understanding, they cannot think right. They cry for the dead, but die themselves as well (when their turn comes). This is the way Waheguru likes (for the ignorant to suffer). But only those die spiritually who do not keep Waheguru in mind. 1.

Word Meaning: Mooaa = died; ended. Vaiyr(u) = enmity. Vaadi = the root of disputes. Vunn = skin colour. Roop = beauty. Vinsiya = distorted. Roolie = disgraced. Goyiyaan = talk about. Chaaou Rulie = enjoyed luxuries zestfully. Sir Khoor = from head to toe; complete. Put(i) Paati = lost dignity. 2.
MEANING: At the death of a man, all his love and affection also die, and so do the disputes which are the roots of enmity. His lovely skin colour goes away (turns pale), his beautiful looks get distorted, and his body is disgraced in suffering. His relatives think and talk about the kind of person he was, and what kind he was not, and that he enjoyed life zestfully. But nobody knows where he came from, and where he goes. The man loses all his dignity from top to toe without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Sookh-Daata = source of all comforts. Sukhaayi = friend. Baajh = without. Buouraana = insane. Saar = worth. Pervaan(u) = approved. Joti = human souls. Jot(i) = the Supreme Soul. Tayha = the same; like. Bhaana = Will. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Kuday Naahi = never. Rujjaiy = contented. Vigoota = humiliated. Boojh = understanding. Rujaayi = the Lord of His Will (God). 20.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is immortalizing, is the source of all comforts, and is most friendly at the end. The world is insane without the Guru and does not know the worth of Waheguru's Naam. Those who serve Satguru are approved in Waheguru's Court, and their souls merge with the Supreme Soul. The devotee, who enshrines Waheguru's Will in his mind (always accepts it gladly), becomes like the Lord. The spiritually blind do ignorant things and do not realize that no one enjoys comfort when following their own will. Nobody is ever content with his wealth, as the appetite of the foolish for more and more wealth never goes away. Everybody suffers in the enjoyment of worldly attractions, and does not acquire spiritual understanding without Satguru. Those whom Waheguru is kind to serve Satguru and enjoy blissfulness. 20.

Word Meaning: Sherm(u) = respect. Dherm(u) = high morality; religiosity. Dhun(u) = wealth (of Waheguru's Naam). Pullaiy Paayay = acquire. Kaamdhiyaiy = is called. Choataan Khaayay = suffers punishment. Faqir = beggar. Gooni Guheer = sea (treasure) of virtues. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is one's true wealth because of which he earns respect and acquires high morality, oh Nanak. The worldly wealth cannot be considered one's friend (supporter) because it receives punishment in Waheguru's Court for its misuse. Those who possess worldly wealth are considered beggars in Waheguru's Court, but the ones who have Waheguru's Naam at heart are the real treasure of virtues. 1.

Word Meaning: Dooni = world; worldly comforts. Suhayrriyaiy = acquire. Luthee = comes off. Bhookh = appetite of desires. Roopeen = with beauties. Jaytay = as many. Rus = enjoyments. Taytay = the same. 2.

MEANING: One acquires worldly comforts after great suffering (with hard but dishonest labour), and he suffers again at their loss. Nobody can overcome his appetite for worldly attractions without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. Nobody gets contented with beauty – the more they see, the more they wish to enjoy. The more tastes one wishes to enjoy, the more he suffers. 2.

Word Meaning: Undheen Kummeen = deeds done with blind faith. Chikkurr(i) = mud. Theeyaiy = happens. Puthur Bundh(u) = a stone wall (around a reservoir). Toolha = a crude raft. Haath = depth. Saath = groups. 3.
MEANING: The rituals that one performs with blind faith, blind his mind too, and he performs ignorant deeds with his body as well. His approach is like trying to plug a breach in a stonewall of a huge reservoir with mud. With such a breach, he does not know the depth (the strength of the water current) and has no boat or raft to escape. Countless groups of people drown in the world-sea without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Lukh Mun = huge amounts. Soyina = Gold. Roopa = silver. Shahaan Sir(i) Shah = an emperor ruling on many rajahs. Lushkur = armies of soldiers. Vaajay = musical instruments; musicians. Nayjay = spears; weapons. Ghoreen = mounted on horses. Saayir = usgaah = sea. Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Paani = water of sensual pleasures. Kundhi = shore. Dhaahi Kuhaah = wailing and cries. Othaiy = there (in Waheguru's Court). Jaaniyeh(i) = find out. 4.
MEANING: One may have countless tons of gold and silver, and may be an emperor of many rajahs; he may have an army of millions of soldiers, have millions of musicians to entertain him, and may have millions of weapons, and may have millions of mounted soldiers. But everybody has to cross the world-sea, which has the fire of worldly desires rather than water in it. The other shore of this sea is not visible, and the cries of people suffering in the sea can be heard. The world-sea is the real testing ground where a man's true identity is known, whether he is an emperor (or a beggar), oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Ikknah = some. Zunjeer = chains. Bund(i) = behind bars. Rubaaniyaiy = of God. Budheh Chhooteh = released from confinement; emancipated. Sach(i) = with Waheguru's Naam. Puchhaaniyaiy = make connection. Pullaiy Paayay = acquire; perform deeds. Sach(u) = truth. Nibayrr(u) = the final decision. Bhuoujul = the world-sea. Taarunhaar(u) = the ship; Waheguru. Yaar = immoral sexual friendship. Jooaar = gamblers (of wealth against spirituality). Peerraiy Ghaaniyaiy = are severely punished (like seeds in a crushing mill). Ninduk = vilifiers. La-itebaar = untrustworthy. Hurrvaaniyaiy = handcuffs. Jaaniyaiy = recognized. 21.

MEANING: Some have chains of Maya around their necks and feel as if they are in Waheguru's imprisonment. They can be emancipated only if they connect with Waheguru through His eternal Naam. The only truth is that everybody has to perform deeds as preordained by Waheguru. One realizes only in Waheguru's Court that the final judgment (on his performance) is delivered by Waheguru's Huqam (command). With Guru's Shabad, one makes a connection with Waheguru, the ship that ferries him across the world-sea. The thieves, the immoral, and the gamblers (who gamble their spirituality for Maya) are crushed like seeds in a mill. The vilifiers and the untrustworthy are handcuffed (put in prison of rebirths). The Sikh of the Guru, who gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, is recognized (honoured) in Waheguru's Court. 21.

Word Meaning: Faqiraiy = of beggars. Paarkhoo = appraiser, judge. Aivaiy = like this. Gooaaou = custom; norm. Illit(i) = mischievous; trouble-causing. Chaudhry = head; leader. Koorri = female hypocrite. Pooray Thaaoun = takes front seat. Niyaaoun = justice. 1.

MEANING: Beggars are called kings, and the foolish are called pundits in this world. Similarly, the ignorant is called the judge. This has become the norm in society. The troublemaker is called the leader, and the female hypocrite occupies the front seat. One realizes in Guru's shelter that this is the kind of justice in this eon (world), oh Nanak. 1.

Jithaiy jeaan hosi saar. Nukkeen vuddheen la-itebaar. 2.

Word Meaning: Herna = of the deer. Baaj = hawks. Sikdaar = high official. Naaoun = are called. Phaandhi Luggi = trap; snare. Jaat(i) = their own kind. Phuhaayin = get them trapped. Beena = wise. Pehlon = first. Jurrh = root. Under Jummaiy = sprout inside. Chhaaoun = shade. Sheenh = lions. Mookudum = officials. Baitthaiy Soottay = at inconvenient times. Chaakur = servants. Nehnda = with paws. Paayin Ghaaou = cause wounds. Rut(u) Pit = blood and flesh. Saar = evaluation. Nukkeen Vuddheen = noses are cut; disgraced. La-itebaar = untrustworthy. 2.

NOTE: The Shabad of Guru Angad Sahib preceding this Shabad reinforces the ideas presented in this Shabad of Guru Nanak Sahib.

MEANING: The deer, the hawks, and the chiefs are known as educated (or trained in this world). However, these are the living beings that get their own kind trapped as prisoners; they do not get any room in Waheguru's Court (they are discarded). Only that individual is educated and wise who works hard to recite Waheguru's Naam with dedication. Just like a place which needs shade, it has to have a plant take root underneath it; the individual who wishes to have good treatment given to him must first sow the seeds of such virtues in his own mind. But the rajahs here are like lions which kill (suck the blood) of their subjects, and their revenue officials are like hounds who go and awaken (harass) the innocent at any inconvenient time. The dog-like assistants wound them with their paws, and all of them suck the blood and eat the flesh of the helpless people. What they do not realize is that where the individuals are evaluated for their deeds (in Waheguru's Court), the noses of such untrustworthy people are chopped (they are badly disgraced). 2.

Nanak Naavaiy hee tay sookh paaaya, Gurmutee oordhaar(i). 22.

Word Meaning: Maydni = world. Saar = looking after. Bhaiy = Bhuou = fear. Bherm(u) = misgiving. Moakh Dooaar = door of emancipation. Sehj(u) = high spiritual state. Apaar = endless (God). Bhaiyjul = the world-sea. Nirbhuou = fearless (God). Paaravaar = ends. Saar = worth. Trishna = fire of desires. Jultay = burning in. Oordhaar(i) = enshrining in the heart. 22.

MEANING: Waheguru, Himself, creates the world, and Himself looks after it. However, man's misgivings are not cleared without (respectful) fear of God, and he does not develop love for Him. But, love for Waheguru sprouts in one's mind only in the shelter of the Guru (with His Advice), and he reaches the door of (attains) emancipation. One swims across the world-sea when he ponders on Guru's Shabad with fear for Waheguru in mind. One acquires the fearless and the endless Waheguru (enshrines His Naam in mind) with fear for Him. The Maya-worshippers do not realize the worth of fear for Waheguru; they only cry and pray while burning in the fire of desires. One acquires all comforts only when he enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his mind with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), oh Nanak. 22.

Word Meaning: Roopaiy = of beauty. Kaamaiy = of lust. Saadaiy = of tastes. Gundh(u) = strong bond. Lubbaiy = of greed. Maalaiy = of wealth. Ghool(i) Michel(i) = one with each other. Oonghaiy = overpowered by sleep. Saurr(i) narrow. Plungh(u) = a big bed. Bahunkaiy = barks. Koap(u) = rage; fury. Khooaar(u) Hoyay = suffers humiliation. Phukkur(u) = boastful. Pittaiy Undh(u) = talks about his blind (trivial) achievements. Gundh(u) = foul (language). 1.

MEANING: A lustful person is attracted to beauty, and a glutton is attracted to tasty foods. Greed and wealth are closely related, and a sleepy person is happy to get a bed, even if it is very small. Similarly, a furious person loves (cannot stay without) barking (using foul language to vent out his anger) and later suffers humiliation. The boastful talks about his trivial achievements. All other talk than Waheguru's Naam at heart, is about filthy things. So, in that case, staying quiet is the best, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Maal(u) = wealth. Jaat(i) = high caste (social status). Jobun(u) = youthfulness. Thuggeen = thugs. Lujj = dignity. Say = those. J(i) = which. Kerma = good fortune. Mootthay Jaah(i) = are robbed.

MEANING: The pride of being a ruler, of wealth, of one's beauty, high status in society, and of one's youthfulness is such a robber that it robs a person of his good qualities. These five things are thugs which rob the whole world, and nobody protects their (spiritual) dignity. However, even these five thugs can be robbed (made ineffective) by Guru's devotees who come to His shelter (surrender their thinking to the Guru). Many more, who are devoid of Guru's benevolence, are being robbed, oh Nanak. 2.

Huqami saah, giraah daynda jaaniyaiy. 23.

Word Meaning: Laykhaydaar(u) = accountable. Mungiyaiy = is required. Koorriyaar(u) = dealers in the perishables. Aukha Tungiyaiy = suffers discomfort. Aoughut Raah = tough path. Roodhay = Roakiyaan = blocked. Suntokheeya = contented. Gehr = deep. Gumbheer = never changing. Athaah(u) = unfathomable. Haath = depth. Moohay mooh(i) = repeatedly. Choataan Khayay = receive punishment. Chhootsi = emancipates. Ghur(i) = the final destination (one with Waheguru). Vukhaaniyaiy = reciting. Huqami = Waheguru. Giraah = bite; food. Jaaniyaiy = recognize.

MEANING: No matter how educated a person is, he is still accountable to Waheguru for his deeds, and is asked for their account (of his deeds). Without Waheguru's Naam, one deals in perishables only and suffers discomfort. The journey of his spiritual life becomes very difficult for him, as he finds that all the paths and avenues of spirituality (union with Waheguru) are blocked to him. The eternal Waheguru is carefree, and only His Naam (Guru's Shabad) gives contentment to the man. Waheguru is very deep (to understand), never changes, unfathomable, and no one can find his depth (greatness). The individuals who are engrossed in Maya receive punishment repeatedly and cannot find emancipation without the Guru. The devotee, who recites Waheguru's Naam, reaches Waheguru's Court (gets connected with Him) with dignity. One should recognize that Waheguru provides food with every breath (whether one believes in Him or not). 23.

Word Meaning: Jeeou = life. Peerr = pain. Ikk(i) = some. Dur(i) = Waheguru's Court. Vujeer = honourable positions. Aarja = life span. Juheer = in suffering. Nikhoottaiy = run out. Faqir = beggars. Dhaahay = demolish. Chusay = moment. Lukh = millions. Nuthaiy = puts nose-ring; controls. Verna = skin colours. Chihna = physical features. Baahra = without. Laykhay Baajh = without being seen. Alukh = incomprehensible. Kiyoun = how Kuthiyaiy = describe. Jaapaiy = is present. Kaar Subh = all tasks. Kutha = virtues; praise. Ridh(i) Sidh(i) = supernatural powers. Boodh(i) = wisdom. 1.

MEANING: Waheguru created the human body by combining the basic elements (ingredients) of air, water, and fire (energy) with the soul. Since everybody has the same basic elements, why do some people enjoy happiness while others suffer in life? Some of them live on the earth (lead normal lives), while some live in the underworld (under sordid conditions), and some others live in the sky (lead lives in highly comfortable conditions). A few stay connected with Waheguru and are honoured in His Court. Some enjoy long life, while some others suffer and die early. Some have so much wealth that they use and give some to others, yet never run out of it, while others are permanent beggars. It all happens with Waheguru's Huqam, who creates and demolishes millions in a short moment. He controls the fate of everybody with His Huqam, which everybody has to obey. Only those find emancipation from worldly bonds whom He is benevolent to. Waheguru is without any colour (form), has no physical features, and the incomprehensible cannot be seen. Even though He is visible in nature (is present everywhere), how can we describe or talk about the incomprehensible? Everybody does, and talks (thinks) as per his prewritten fate, but Waheguru is indescribable. However, whoever sings or listens to His praise acquires Divine Knowledge and enjoys the comforts of all supernatural powers, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Ajur = unendurable (spiritual state). Juraiy = endure. Nuoun Kool = the nine doors of human body (sensual pleasures). Praan = (with) life; from the bottom of heart.

Thir(u) = stable; immortal. Kundh(u) = body. Jaan(u) = has to go. Jeevut Mert = kill worldly desires while living in the family. Pervaan(u) = approved by God. Tut(u) = the root of everything (Waheguru). Puchhanaiy = recognizes; makes a connection. Persad(u) = benevolence. Huoun Da = of haumein. Phurriyug = trapped. Jooni Paan(u) = go into life forms. 2.

NOTE: When one sings Waheguru's praise with full concentration, he acquires some supernatural powers that not too many people can handle (control), and use them happily. This is what the Sidh yogis do. This is called the unendurable spiritual state. But such people can never connect with Waheguru. Only those who can control such temptations go on to become "one" with Waheguru.

MEANING: When one rises above the initial temptations of supernatural powers, he is able to control all his sensual pleasures and attains immortality when he worships Waheguru with his life (from the core of his heart). Then he neither takes births nor ever dies. He kills all his worldly desires (stays fully detached from worldly attractions) while living in the family, and is approved in Waheguru's Court. He recognizes Waheguru's will, and makes connection with the root of the universe (God) with the grace of the Guru. One is caught in the birth-death-birth cycle because of his haumein (selfishness, and ego) oh Nanak. I have no haumein, so I will not take any life form again. 2.

Nanak, Sachaiy mayl(u), Sachaiy ruttiya. 24.

Word Meaning: Salaah = God's praise. Boodhi = wisdoms; thoughts. Mithiya = false. Sachay Vapaar = dealings in Waheguru's Naam. Birthiya = wasteful. Paaravaar(u) = the endless (Waheguru). Gerb(i) Goobaar(i) = darkness of egoism. Bhaaya = liked. Visaar(i) = forgetting. Taavun Tuttiya = fry in hot oil. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Guttiya = added. Aaya Ootthi = birth and death. Khayl(u) = drama; cycle. Oovutiya = on a misleading path. Ruttiyaa = imbued. 24.

MEANING: There is only one thing to read (sing) - and that is Waheguru's Naam and His praise – all other thoughts are false (worthless). Without dealing in Waheguru's Naam, the human life goes to waste because no one can connect with the limitless Waheguru. The whole world is in the darkness of its ego, and people do not like Waheguru (His Naam). They leave the world while ignoring Waheguru's Naam, and are bound to suffer as if they will be fried in the hot oil. One's indecisiveness (between Waheguru and Maya) adds fuel to the fire as oil. He is caught in the birth-death cycle and roams around on the misleading path again. One connects with the eternal Waheguru only by being imbued with the love of His Naam, oh Nanak. 24.

NOTE: Some people preach vehemently against eating meat so much so that they do not even touch it. In this and the next Shabad, Guru Nanak Sahib explains the extreme weakness of such thinking because the man uses (abuses) the human flesh in many different ways, which cannot be avoided. Moreover, He explains that it is impossible to tell the difference between flesh and vegetation – both have life. And anyway, it is Waheguru who controls life and death. Enjoy His reasoning.

Word Meaning: Nimmiya = laid foundation. Vaas(u) = residing. Jeeyo = life. Hudd = bones. Chumm(u) = skin. Mumma = mother's breast. Giraas(u) = food. Jeebh = tongue. Raas(i) = successful (in achieving the objective of human life). Buchun(i) = (meaningless talk). Binaas(u) = destruction (of spirituality). 1.

MEANING: First, the foundation of man's birth is laid with flesh (sperm and egg), and the fetus stays in the womb of his mother (which is again flesh). When he is given life, he gets flesh (tongue to take in food) in his mouth, and his whole body is made of flesh, bones, skin, and body. When he comes out of the flesh of his mother's womb, he gets her breast (of flesh) in his mouth to get fed. His mouth and his tongue are made of flesh to eat, and he breathes inside (using) the flesh.

When he grows to be young, he marries a young woman (made of flesh), and brings her home to gratify his desires. His children are born from their flesh, and all relations are made of flesh (and one does not recognize Waheguru's Huqam).

One achieves success in his objective (union with Waheguru) only when he comes to the shelter of the Guru and his misconceptions are cleared. One cannot detach oneself from worldly bonds through one's own efforts. In fact, one destroys his spirituality with useless talk (thinking) (against the natural laws), oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Jhugrraiy = debates aggressively. Dhiyaan(u) = focus of mind; wisdom. Kaun(u) = which? Saag(u) = vegetation. Smaanay = present. Gaiynda = rhino. Hoam = huvun, a function at which fire is built and mantras are recited, and some animals are sacrificed. Jug = serving food to Brahmans and sages. Baanay = custom. Baiys(i) = sitting down. Nuck(u) Pukrreh(i) = hold nose (to express indignation). Raateen = at night; keeping in dark. Maanus = humans. Undh(u) Kmaavaiy = performs rituals blindly. Loachun = eyes. Ruckut(u) = blood. Nipunnay = came into being. Muchhi = fish. Istree = woman. Purkhaiy = of man. Ja = when. Mayla = union. Mundh(u) = bad act. Bhaanday = vessels; bodies. Soojhaiy Naahi = cannot think of. Chutoor(u) = shrewd. Paanday = oh, pundit. Chungayra = better. Vasayra = dwelling. Abhukh(u) = which should not be eaten. Bhukh = fit to eat. Tuj(i) = giving up. Kayra = of. Puranee = in the Puranas. Kutaybeen = in the religious books of the West (Bible, Quran etc.). Sultana = Muslim rajahs. Dhingaana = high-handedness. Khuraa = much. Toyioun = from water. Unn(u) = grains. Kmaad(u) = Gunna = sugarcane. Kupaahaa = cotton. Tirbhuvun = the whole universe. Toa = water. Buhou Bidh(i) = in many ways. Huchha = good; usable. Bikaara = misuse for vices. Aiytay = all these. Rus = enjoyment of tastes; addictions. Sanyasi = detached. Vichaara = thought. 2.

MEANING: Only fools, who have no spiritual knowledge and have no such understanding, enter into aggressive discussions about eating or not eating meat. It is impossible to distinguish between what we call meat and what we call vegetation (since both contain life, and some plants are carnivorous, killing and absorbing insects). Even the gods had the rites of killing rhinos during huvuns and serving meals to the Brahmans and the sages. But those who show indignation by holding their noses against eating meat, suck the blood of the people at night (rob them of their hard-earned wealth). The Brahmans also fleece their followers by keeping them in the dark under the cover of religiosity. They show their disapproval of eating meat to the people only as a show of hypocrisy, as they have no spiritual knowledge and no such wisdom. What can a wise man tell such blind people as they do not understand any reasoning, oh Nanak? A true blind person is the one who performs rituals blindly; they have no eyes in their mind (the ability to see or understand). They come into being from the flesh and blood of their parents, but the ignorant refuse to eat fish or meat.

When the woman and the man have union at night, they perform the bad act with flesh (which results in the birth of humans). So, our foundation is laid down from the flesh, and we are born out of flesh, and we have bodies of flesh. The pundit, who has no spiritual knowledge and no spiritual wisdom, calls himself very wise. (Isn't it strange) That the outside meat is bad, but it is all right to abuse the flesh at home, oh, pundit? All living beings are born out of flesh and live in the body, which is made of flesh. Those who give up eating the food which is fit to eat, and eat the food which is unfit to eat (earned by dishonest means) are the followers of the guru who is spiritually blind. We have our foundation in flesh, are born out of flesh, and have bodies of flesh. The pundit, who has no spiritual knowledge and has no such wisdom (to worship Waheguru), calls himself wise. The use of meat is mentioned in the Puranas and the holy books of the Western religions, and has been in use in all four eons.
Meat has been used at all the happy and ceremonial occasions, including the yugs and the marriages. All females, males, the rajahs, and the Muslim rulers are born out of flesh. If you think that they go to hell (if they eat meat), then do not accept their donations (which you gladly accept), oh pundit. What an irony! Those who give donations are thought to go to hell, while those who accept them, are believed to go to the paradise!!
Another irony is that the pundit, who understands nothing but preaches to others, considers himself very wise!!
You do not even understand where the flesh (meat) comes from, oh pundit. Everything, including grains (staple foods), sugarcanes (for sweet tastes), and cotton (for clothes)– in fact, the whole universe - comes into being from water. Water says that it is wonderful (highly useful) for the people in many ways (sustains all life, used in cooking, in washing, in making food, juices, and many other tasty drinks, in medicines as a solvent, and for travel by boat, and in many more ways). But people also abuse it for immoral purposes, for example, making alcohol and other intoxicants, for drowning (killing) people, and for eliminating evidence for their crimes. So, I have an idea for the pundit to ponder: if he wishes to be a true sanyasi, he should quit not just eating meat, but all such addictions, including all the tasty products made from water, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Huoun = I. Unt(u) = limits; end. Smaaya = gets absorbed. Bhungwaan Vays = saffron outfit (of yogis). Bhermday = go around. Disuntar = distant lands. Aap(i) = self. Lookaaya = remain hidden. Ruttan(u) = jewellike (diamondlike) invaluable. Chaanun(u) = enlightenment. Puchhaaniya. = recognizes. Aavagaun = birth-death cycle. Bajaariyaan = to the dramatists; impostors. Bajaar(u) = drama. Ruchaaya = created; perform. Thir(u) = stable (mind). 25.

MEANING: What (virtues of Yours) can I describe with only one tongue (as You have countless of them); nobody has ever found Your end (limits), oh Waheguru. The individual, who ponders on Guru's Shabad (to find Your limits), simply gets absorbed in You. Many individuals roam aimlessly in saffron outfits but cannot connect with You without the grace of the Guru. You are present, hidden in every heart, but the ignorant grow exhausted wandering in distant lands in Your search. Guru's Shabad is that shining diamond in the light of which You show (reveal) Yourself. With Guru's Advice, a devotee recognizes his own-self, and merges into Waheguru. But the dramatists (hypocrites) who dramatize Waheguru's worship as a show off (to make money), are trapped in the birth-death cycle. But those who like (love) Waheguru, sing praise of the everlasting Waheguru, with a focused mind (and merge into Him). 25.

Sloak M: 1: Nanak, Maya kerm birkh(u), ful Amrit, ful viss(u). Subh kaarun Kerta kuray, jis(u) khuvaalay tis(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Kerm = deeds. Birkh = tree. Ful = fruit; reward. Viss(u) = poison. Kaarun = causes; make arrangements.

MEANING: Maya is such a tree which bears two types of fruits – Waheguru's Naam, and the poisonous worldly attractions, oh Nanak. One reaps the kind of fruit (reward) which depends upon one's deeds. But it is the Creator (Waheguru) who creates the causes for individuals to receive the type of fruit He wishes for them. 1.

Word Meaning: Vudiyaayiyaan = honours. Sayti = in. Juleeyeen = rotten; poisonous.

MEANING: Burn the honours conferred on you by the world in fire (I do not need them), oh Nanak. They are a sweet poison because one forgets Waheguru's Naam under their influence, and not even one of them accompanies you after death. 2.

Kerta kuray su hoag, koorr(u) nikhootsi. 26.

Word Meaning: Sir(i), Sir(i) = individually. Nibayrr(u) = final judgment. Bhaaya = liked. Kaal(u) = death. Chulaayay = takes away. Jur(u) = old age. Jervaana = merciless powerful. Kunnh(i) Churrhiya = riding on shoulders. Nuchsi = dances. Bohith = ship. Bayrr(u) = boat.

Rukhsi = protects. Bhukhaiy = burns. Bhurrhaarr(u) = frightening large flames. Undin(u) = everyday; always. Bhukhsi = eats; enjoys. Phaatha = trapped. Choag = bait. Koorr(u) = perishables. Nikhootsi = runs out; ends. 26.

MEANING: Waheguru has created a system in which He delivers the final judgment on every individual's future (after death) through His own Huqam. He delivers the final judgment as He pleases. When death comes and ties up the individual, nobody can protect him. The merciless and powerful old age dances on the shoulder of the individual (brings the cruel message of approaching death). Satguru is the eternal ship and boat which protects you from undesirable future (reincarnations). The fire of worldly desires burns with large flames (causes a bait of huge desires), and the man trapped in the net of Maya, picks up that bait all the time. He can find emancipation only with Waheguru's Huqam. Only that happens which Waheguru wishes for the individuals, and the perishable things end with his death (do not accompany him). 26.

Word Meaning: Ghur(u) = heart. Ghur(u) = Waheguru's Residence. Soojaan = know-all; spiritually knowledgeable. Punch Shabad = musical instruments of all five kinds (metal; wire, wind, drums, vessels). Dhoonikaar = sound of music. Teh = there. Neeshaan(u) = in recognition of. Deep = continents. Loe = worlds. Pataal = underworlds. Khund Mundul = galaxies. Haiyraan(u) = amazement. Taar(i) Ghor = very loud sound. Sultan = Emperor (Waheguru). Sookhmun Kaiy Ghur(i) = in the blissful state. Soonn(i) Mundul = spiritual state above the effects of Maya. Akuth Kutha = virtues of the indescribable Waheguru. Munsa = desires; wishes. Oolt(u) Kumul(u) = inverted heart (from Maya to Waheguru). Ajupa Jaap(u) = recitation of the Naam without moving the tongue. Aad(i) Joogaad(i) = Waheguru which has been there since the beginning, through all the eons. Sukheeyaan = all senses. Punch = the five virtues. Nij Ghur(i) = person home (in Waheguru). Vaas(u) = dwelling. Khoaj(i) = searching. Luhhaiy = acquires. Ta Ka = his. Daas(u) = servant. 1.

MEANING: The wise, and the spiritually knowledgeable (connected with Waheguru) Satguru, shows the Residence of Waheguru (Himself) in the heart of the devotee. The devotee, in that high spiritual state, feels as if he is listening to the loud sound of the sweet music of all five types of musical instruments which play in recognition of the Guru's Shabad. In that state, he "sees" with amazement the universe containing many continents, worlds, underworlds, and galaxies. Among the loud sounds of many types of music, he sees the Emperor (Waheguru) occupying His eternal throne. Listening to the sweet music in that state of union with Waheguru, his mind stays focused on Him, and above the effects of Maya. He ponders on the virtues of the indescribable Waheguru (sings His praise), and all his desires get buried in his mind (are restrained). Inverted (turned away) against the attractions of Maya, his lotus-like mind stays filled with Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and does not wander anymore.

With his continuous recitation of Waheguru's Naam without moving his tongue, he never forgets Waheguru, and stays absorbed in Him who has been here ever since, and over all the eons. With Satguru's grace, all his senses and the five virtues (high morality, contentment, compassion, patience, and religiosity) join together, and the devotee dwells in his own home (Waheguru's shelter). One acquires this high spiritual state (access to Waheguru's Residence) by pondering over the Guru's Shabad; I am a slave of such devotees, oh Nanak(u). 1.

Word Meaning: Chilmil(i) = dazzling. Bisiyaar = very much. Phaani = perishable. Kaloob(i) Ukl = low wisdom; foolish. Goar = grave (death). Kumeen = mean. Kumtreen = meanest. Duriyaaou = river; broad-minded; forgiving. Khoodaaya = oh, Allah (Waheguru). Uver Cheej(u) = other things. Zehr = poison. Pooraab = full of water. Khaam Koojaiy = weak (destructible) water-kettle. Hikmut(i) = wisdom; power. Tooaana = powerful. Tu = You. Koodruti = power. Sug = dog. Deebaan = Court. Mustaana = in intoxication. Churrhay Suvaaya = may keep increasing. Aatush = fire. Khoonuk = cool. 2.

MEANING: The world dazzles with the attractions of Maya, but it is perishable. My foolish mind does not accept the reality of death. My mind is mean – very, very mean – but You are very broad-minded like a river (and will forgive me), oh Allah (God). I ask You for only one thing – Your Naam – I do not like anything else; they are all like poison to me. My body is like an unbaked earthen water-kettle full of water (and can erode at any time), but You have created it with Your amazing power. You are all-powerful, and I am weak. I have come to this world with your power. Like a dog, I am a loyal servant in Your Court, and I am intoxicated to serve You. I wish my intoxication increases every day. The world is a fire of desires, whereas Your Naam is the source of coolness, oh Waheguru. 2.

Word Meaning: Subho = all. Vertaiy = is happening. Chulut(u) = amazing drama. Vukhaaniya = can be called. Luthay = come off; go away. Vikaar = vices. Neeshaaniya = identification. Oodhaar(u) = salvation. Nikaaniya = no subservience to anyone. Simer(i) = reciting Naam. Dataar(u) = the Provider (God). Rung Maaniya = enjoyed all luxuries. Pergut Bhuyya = becomes famous. Chhaavaaniya = royal canopy. Bhaaniya = likes.
MEANING: Waheguru's amazing drama of the world is operating everywhere, and it is really enchanting. One can connect with Him in the shelter of the Guru. All one's vices go away with Guru's Shabad as his identification. One finds salvation in the company of the Guru, and does not owe anything to anybody (Angel of justice). One enjoys all the luxuries of life by reciting Waheguru's Naam. With Waheguru's benevolence, he becomes known all over the world, and a royal canopy is stretched over his head (he becomes a king in the spiritual world). I am always a sacrifice for Waheguru, who connects His devotees with Him with His benevolence. But He connects only those with Him, whom He likes, oh Nanak. 27.

Word Meaning: Dhunn(u) = great; worthy of worship. Su = that. Kaagud(u) = paper. Kulm = pen. Bhaanda = inkpot. Muss(u) = ink. Laykhaari = writer. 1.
MEANING: The paper on which Waheguru's Naam is written, the pen, the inkpot, the ink, and the writer are all great (worthy of worship), which take part in writing Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 1.

Word Meaning: Putti = writing board. Laykh(u) = writing. Kaahay Koo = what for? 2.
MEANING: You are the wooden writing-board, the pen, and Yourself the writing on the board, oh, Waheguru. It is you who does everything through others (makes others do). So, all the credit goes to You, so why worship anybody else, oh Nanak? 2.

MEANING: You have created the system of the whole universe, and You alone operate everywhere, oh Waheguru. You are present everywhere, and there is none other like You. You alone know Your transcendence, and Your measurements, and You alone know Your worth (magnanimity). You are invisible, incomprehensible, and inaccessible; one can "see" You with the Guru's Advice. Because of his ignorance, the man suffers from misconceptions which are eradicated with the Guru's Divine Knowledge (His Shabad).

You connect those with You, whom You are kind to, and they recite Your Naam. You are inaccessible, the supreme power, the creator of the universe, and are present everywhere. Everybody pursues the kind of business to which You put them in; I, Nanak, just sing Your praise, oh Waheguru. 28. Verified.

Word Meaning: Savilay = serve. Akool = having no clan. Jaacheh(i) = beg for. Pause. Ja Chaiy = whose. Digdisaiy = all directions. Saraicha = (Royal) canopy with walls. Baiykoontth = paradise. Bhuvun = huge building; the whole universe. Chitarshaala = picture (art) gallery. Suput Loak = seven worlds (the universe). Samaan(i) Pooriyulay = uniformly present. Laxmi Koomaari = young Maya. Deevrray = small lamps. Kautuk(u) = puppet. Kaal(u) = death. Bupurra = poor; humble. Kotwal(u) = law-enforcer. Siri = Nurhurie = God. 1. Koolaal = potter. Chutoormukh = having four heads (Brahma had four heads). Daanvrra = moulder. Bishuv = Sunsaar(u = world. Racheelay = created. Eashur(u) = Shiva. Baanwla = crazy. Tut = reality (death) Saarkha = like. Giyaan(u) = knowledge. Bhaakheelay = uttered. Daangiya = guards. Chitar, Goopt(u) = these two are believed to keep written accounts of peoples' deeds. Dhemraayay = the Angel of justice. Purooli Prithaar(u) = causes apocalypse. 2. Gun = assistants of Shiva. Gundherb = musicians of the gods. Rikh(i) = sages. Dhaadhiya = bards. Buhouroopia = in many forms. Ungrooaa = small. Aakhaarra = ring; field. Mundleek = King of kings. Kaachhay = beautiful. Chaur = whisk. Dhool = fanning. Puvun = air. Chayri = slave. Shakut(i) = Maya. Und-took = a small part of universe; world. Bhusmutee = kiln; stove; cooking. Tirbhuvun = the three-layered universe. Putee = Lord. 3. Koorma = turtle (an incarnation of Vishnu). Pal(u) = bed. Sehsur Phunee = with thousand heads. Baashuk = serpent. Valooaa = laces. Atthaarah Bhaar Bunaasputee = the whole vegetation. Maalini = gardener. Chhinvaiy Kroarri = 960 million. Maygh Maala = chain of clouds. Paani-haariya = water server. Nukh = nail. Persayv = sweat. Soorsoori = River Ganga. Suput Samoond = the seven oceans and seas. Ghurrthulie = the stand for stacking water-containing vessels. Aiytay Jea = so many living beings. Vertuni = serving dishes. 4. Nicketverti = close friends. Ambreek, Naarud, Nayjaiy = names of sages. Baanvay = 52 (known valiant). Hayla = a small game. Serb Untar Biyaapik = present in everybody. Pernvaiy = prays. Aan(i) = shelter. Neeshaan(i) = identity. 5.

MEANING: Serve (worship) the Royal Go, which supports the world, has no clan, and is above the effects of Maya, oh my mind. All the holy saints beg for His worship in donations. Pause.

My God is such that all the directions and the sky form His Royal canopy along with the walls. Like the kings who have their art galleries, the paradise is the art gallery of God. He is uniformly present in all seven worlds (a Muslim belief). (Unlike the worldly queens who lose their youthfulness and beauty in a few years), God has Laxmi (Maya) in His house, who stays young all the time. The moon and the sun are just small lamps in God's house, and the Angel of death, which God has created, and which implements His law of death (for everybody), is just a small puppet in His hands. 1.

The four-headed Brahma, which is believed to have created the world, is like a potter in Waheguru's house, who moulds pottery (of living beings). Shiva, who reminds the reality of death (as he is believed to be the destroyer of the world) to the people like a world guru, is a crazy person in Waheguru's house (because of his strange outfits and actions). Noble deeds and sins are like the guards at God's door, which keep people from committing sins for fear of punishment, and perform noble deeds to be rewarded. Chitar and Goopt(u) are the two accountants who keep the written records of people's deeds, and the Angel of justice causes the apocalypse. Such is the emperor God. 2. The assistants of Shiva, the musicians of the gods, and the sages, are the humble bards in God's house, who sing His praise. All Shastras of various kinds form a small ring in God's house, which describe man's struggle between the good and the bad deeds, and talk beautifully about the King of kings (God). The wind fans the royal whisk over God's head, and Maya, which has enslaved the whole world, is God's slave. The whole world is like a kiln in God's kitchen (where food is cooked) for all living beings. Such is the Lord of the whole universe. 3.

The Lord of the universe is such that He has the "Turtle," an incarnation of Vishnu, in His house, and the thousand-headed serpent (Shesh Naag) as His bed, with his heads serving as the laces. The entire vegetation offers flowers for His worship, and the 960 million cloud-chains serve Him as watercarriers. The River Ganga is like the sweat of His nails (feet), and all the seven seas serve as the stand to stack the water-containing vessels. All living beings are his serving dishes (obey Him like slaves). 4. God's well-known devotees like Arjun, Dhruv, Prehlad, Ambreek, Nard, Nayjaiy, the Sidh yogis, the Buddhas, assistants of Shiva, musicians of the gods, and the fifty-two valiant are only a drama of His. All the living beings are in His house, and He is present in everyone. All His devotees are His identity (He is revealed through them). I, Namdev, have come to His shelter to pray. 5.1.

Word Meaning: Mo Kuou = me. Bisaar(i) = forget; abandon. Ramuyya = oh, God. Pause. Aalavunti = superiority. Bherm(u) = misbelief. Kopila = enraged. Shood(u) = lowest caste. Ootthaayo = kicked out. Beetthula = oh, God. 1. Mooyay Hooyay = when dead. Juou = if. Mookut(i) = salvation. Na Koyila = nobody. Pundiya = rahmans. Dhaydh = low caste. Paiyj = dignity. Pichhaundi Hoyila = falling behind. 2. Kuhhiyt Haiy = is said. Ut(i) Bhoojh = with very long arms; extremely powerful. Apaarla = limitless. Phayr(i) Deeya = rotated. Dayhoura = temple. Kuou = for. Pichhvaarla = backside. 3.

MEANING: Do not abandon me, do not abandon me, oh my Lord. Pause.
All those Brahmans who are under the misbelief of their superior caste were all enraged at me. Calling me the low-caste untouchable, they beat me up, and kicked me out of the temple. What could I do to protect myself, oh my Father, oh, my Lord? 1.
I prayed to the Lord like this: "If You grant me salvation after my death, nobody will know about it." These Brahman priests call me low-caste; (so grant me emancipation now, otherwise) You will be hurting Your own dignity by delaying emancipation for me. 2.
You are known as kind and compassionate, and You are very powerful and limitless (so why do not You help me)? (My Lord listened to my request, and) rotated the Temple in such a way that it faced me, while its back faced the Brahmans. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Naagur Junaa = beautiful (wise) people. Jaat(i) = caste. Bikhiyaat = declared. Chumaarun(g) = cobbler; leather dealer. Ridaiy = in heart. Saarun(g) = take care; recite. Pause. Soosuri = River Ganga. Sulul = water. Kirt = created Barooni = liquor. Kert Paanun(g) = drink. Soora = alcohol. Upvittar = unholy. Nut = or even. Uver Jul = other (filthy) waters. Aanun(g) = different. 1. Ter = tree. Taar(i) = a tree of which the sap is used to prepare intoxicants. Kaagra = paper. Kert Beechaarun(g) = are thought of. Bhagaut(u) = of God. Poojiyaiy = worship. Numuskaarun(g) = bowing to. Koott Baadhla = beating and cutting (hides). Dhor = (dead) animals. Dhovunta = hauling. Niteh = everyday. Aas Paasa = around. Ub = now. Bipper = Brahmans. Perdhan = leaders; high-caste. Dundaut(u) = lie flat to show respect. Shernaayay = shelter. Daasa = slave. 3.

MEANING: I am a declared low-caste cobbler, oh, the wise men. But I have God in my mind, and sing His praise (recite His Naam). Pause.

The holy saints do not consume liquor even if it is made with the holy water of Ganga, but the unholy liquor and all other filthy waters become pure like the water of Ganga when they drop into it, and become indistinct. (Similarly, the high-caste people are not approved by God if they perform ignoble deeds, and the low-caste individuals merge into Him and become indistinct when they acquire noble qualities by reciting His Naam). 1.

The Taar(i) tree, along with its leaves, is considered unholy (because its sap is used to make intoxicants), but when God's praise is written on its leaves, people worship them and bow before them. 2. I belong to the low caste, whose people beat and cut hides, and haul dead animals around Banaras every day. But now the high-caste Brahmans bow to me, Ravidass, because I have taken Your shelter (surrendered to You), and recite Your Naam like the slave of Your slaves, oh God. 3.1.

Word Meaning: Tayoo Junaa = those are devotees. Pudum = Maya. Kuvlas = Maya. Put(i) = husband; Lord. Taas = Him. Sum = Tool = equal to. Aan Koyoo = anybody else. Anayk = countless. Bisthuriyo = spread out. Aan, Aan = in every heart. Bhurpoor Soyoo = is fully present. Pause. Bhagvut(u) = praise of God. Laykhiyaiy = is being written. Paykhiyaiy = is seen. Taas Kee = His. Aachhoap = untouchable. Chheepa = washerman. Paykhiyaiy = is seen. Naamna = greatness. Suput Deepa = on the seven continents. 1. Eid = a Muslim holy day. Bukreed(i) = the Eid at which cows are sacrificed. Bukur = cow. Kool = clan. Guou = cow. Budh(u) = killing. Maaniyaiy = worshipped. Sheikh = highly educated. Shaheed = matyrs. Peera = spiritual teachers. Vaiysi = like that. Aiysi Suree = achieved that spiritual state. Tihou Ray Loak = the people of the three worlds (universe). Persidh = well known. 2. Kootumb = family. MEANING: Those are the true devotees who worship God, who is the husband (Lord) of Maya, and who has nobody else who can match Him in any way. It is He, and only He, who has spread out in many different forms and is present in every heart. Pause.

Bhagat Namdev Ji was a low-caste untouchable washerman (who has become world-famous) because it is only God's Naam which was written on his heart, and nothing else. The sages like Bias and Sunuk (a son of Brahma) have also written that it is only the praise of God (His Naam) that is acceptable to Him and that earns one respect and recognition all over the seven continents. 1. Unlike his ancestors, who embraced Islam under pressure, and now celebrate the Muslim holy days of Eid and Bukureed at which cows are killed as sacrifice, and show respect for the highly educated Muslims, its martyrs, and the spiritual guides, Kabir Sahib resisted such pressure to convert to Islam because of his mental strength due to his strong faith in God, and now he is well known in all the three worlds because he attained the high spiritual state by singing God's praise. 2.

Ravidass, a slave of God's slaves, and the son of a low-caste family the folks of which still haul dead animals around Banaras, has become so well known because of his singing God's praise, that now the ritualistic Brahmans bow to him while lying flat on the ground. 3.2.

Kuhaan Luou = till when; for how long. Neend = sleep of intoxication of worldly luxuries. Joyee Joyee = whatever. Joriyo = acquired. Soyee = the same. Phaatiyo = tore away. Jhootthaiy Bunuj(i) = the business of perishables. Ootth(i) Guyyee = left; ended. Haatiyo = shop. Laykho = account of deeds. 3.

MEANING: What is the kind of worship with which one can connect with the dear God, who is the Lord of my life? Answer: It is the gathering of holy saints where one can attain the highest spiritual state. Pause.

It was in the gathering of the holy saints where I realized, and questioned myself, how long would it take me to wash away the filth of my ignoble thinking and my ignoble deeds, and for how long could I sleep under the intoxication of the worldly attractions. 1.

(Then I began to sing God's praise) because of which all the accounts of my ignoble deeds that I had committed were torn away (cleared). In fact, the thinking of my dealings in the perishables, which I was engaged in, was completely destroyed (it ended). The holy saints are great who make a connection with Waheguru, and I, an immoral, have been salvaged in the shelter of the Guru. 1

Even though the human mind wanders in many different ways (directions), it comes under control in the shelter of the Guru, just like a fisherman who casts his hook and traps fish to bring them under his control. 2. Waheguru's saints are noble and kind to others; all one's filth of mind is washed away in their company. Just like soap cleanses clothes, the sin (filth) of one's haumein is washed away in their company. 3.

Those, who have good fortune prewritten on their forehead by Waheguru, drop on Guru's Feet (obey His Teachings), and find salvation. I have acquired the destroyer of poverty and of all troubles, Waheguru, by reciting his Naam, and have found salvation, oh Nanak. 4.1.

The kind to the humble, Waheguru, has been highly benevolent to me because of which, I recite His Naam now all the time. 1. My Lord ignited the fire of love for Him in my heart so much so that now I remember Him with every breath and every bite of food. Now, all my bonds with Maya have been broken, and all my sins have been burnt away in a flash of time. 2.

What power do we worms have, and what good deeds are we capable of performing? It is Waheguru's benevolence that he protects the fools and the unwise like me. We are heavy like a stone with the load of our sins, but the kind Waheguru ferries us across the world-sea in the company of His holy saints. 3.

He appears in the mind of a devotee in the company of the holy saints when the doors of his mind, which were shut for Him due to the attractions of Maya, open up (for Waheguru's Naam to enter). 1.

The holy saints, who enshrine Waheguru's Naam with love in their hearts, enjoy great respect. One connects with Waheguru in the shelter of the holy saints, and his mind feels overjoyed, like a cow who becomes very happy to see her calf. 2.

Waheguru is visibly present in the hearts of the holy saints, who lead a life of high morality. The fragrance of Waheguru's Naam swells in their heart, and the foul smell of worldly attractions goes away from their mind. 3.

Aoukhudh = medicine. Putit = immoral. Pooneet(i) = purified. 4.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam with full concentration, oh my mind. Waheguru's Naam resides in the fort-like body (mind) of the man, which is besieged by the strong attractions of Maya (which make it very difficult to have access to Waheguru). However, this fort can be conquered with Guru's Shabad. Pause. The man is misled by the perishable attractions of the world, and engrossed in the love of his sons and his wife, he wanders around (works hard) all his life to acquire those luxuries for them. But he does not realize that, like the short-lived shade of a tree, the wall of his body can collapse at any time. 1.

Waheguru's holy saints, who lead a life of high morality, are dearer to me than my own life, because it is in their company that one brings faith in Waheguru. When one's mind is engaged in His Naam, the immortal Waheguru, which is present in every heart, appears in his heart and his mind is dyed with Waheguru's love. 2.

One should recite the Naam (sing praise) of the invisible, and incomprehensible Lord in the company of the holy saints, and follow the path as taught by the Guru. One should listen to the praise of the indescribable Waheguru in the holy gathering where His virtues are discussed. 3. pray to my Waheguru, who is the Lord and the supporter of the world, to protect me (against the attacks of Maya). But only that individual seeks Satguru's shelter who has good fortune prewritten on his forehead. Pause.

Brahmans perform their required six rituals and make it a big deal, while the Sidh yogis and the yogis believe that they can please Waheguru by growing long tangled and matted hair, and by wearing the outfit of their faith, but Waheguru is not pleased either by the six rituals or by the customs of the Sidh yogis. It is with the Advice of the Guru, and the company of the holy saints, that the spiritual doors of the mind, which are shut by the misconceptions of Maya, are thrown open (for enlightenment). 1.

The Lord, Waheguru, is endless and extremely unfathomable, but is fully present everywhere – in the waters and on the land, and it is only His Huqam which is controlling the whole world. Waheguru knows all the means and understands the ways to control the whole world as He is present everywhere, and in every heart, oh Nanak. 2.4.10.

The individual, who accumulates wealth, plans for poisonous sensual pleasures; but one attains blissfulness only when he recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the Guru or that of the holy saints. Just like burnt iron gets converted into gold by the touch of the elixir stone, an immoral person gets purified in the company of the holy saints when he recites Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad. 1. The feet of the holy saints rush to walk on the enjoyable path leading to union with Waheguru, and their bodies and all their limbs feel blissful. 1.
Those who take shelter of the omnipresent and the immortal Waheguru do not need to exhaust themselves trying other means to find salvation. Waheguru pulls out His devotees

Pause. People with egocentric minds are imbued with love for other things (sensual enjoyments), make friends with immoral people, love their company, and wander through the countless streets of immorality (seeking immoral acts). 1.

They deal in perishables by their nature, have no societal shame, and are always intoxicated in their ego as a result of which they burn in the fire of their rage. Waheguru is the source of mercy, is always kind, and a friend of the humble; one attains salvation by taking His shelter, oh Nanak. 2.11.30.

MEANING: Waheguru is the provider (source) of one's soul, his life, and his pride. One suffers spiritual loss the moment he forgets Him. Pause.
Those who ignore Waheguru and get attached to worldly things are like the people who drop the immortalizing Waheguru's Naam-Amrit on the ground. How can the foolish enjoy any mental comfort when he is strongly attached to poisonous sensual pleasures? 1. Overpowered by his lust, rage, and greed, such an individual drops into the mine (continuous cycle) of rebirths. Deen(u) = humble. Piyaas = thirst; longing. Kuhhiut Haiy = is said. 2.

MEANING: Worship Waheguru by reciting His Naam with Satguru's Shabad in His shelter, and you will acquire the unfathomable Waheguru in your heart (He will appear there). With Satguru's benevolence, you will conquer the whole world (all the worldly desires). Pause.
I have searched for many different kinds of worship, but only that worship is accepted by Waheguru that He likes (the recitation of His Naam). The human body is just a puppet of mud, so what noble deeds can it perform on its own? Only that individual gets connected with Waheguru, who puts him on the right path by holding his hand. 1.
I cannot think of any other shelter than that of Waheguru, for which I have the hope that I will be accepted by Him. What a poor man like me prays about, when Waheguru is present in every heart (I do not even know how to pray, but Waheguru knows everything about us). MEANING: Your Naam, which is like all the nine treasures of the earth, salvages the whole world, oh, my dear Waheguru. You show in many, many beautiful forms, oh Waheguru. Why should the man be imbued with the love of other things? One can see the holy Sight of Waheguru with one's eyes by the grace of the Guru. But only that individual can have Waheguru's Sight (or connect with the Guru) who has such a fortune prewritten on his forehead. Pause.
I wish to serve at the feet of the Guru (with full reverence and dedication), and wish for the dust of His Feet (His Shabad) which purifies the mind, and is like taking dips in all the 68 holy places to remove the filth (dip at holy places may remove the filth of the body, but NOT of the mind). One should remember Waheguru with every breath, and never turn his face away from Him. One may have wealth worth millions, but nothing accompanies him after death (except for Waheguru's Naam). It is only His Naam which comes to help at the end. 1. Giving up love for everything else, one should have a single wish – and that should be Waheguru's Naam. How can I sing praise of Your countess virtues when I do not have the ability to express my gratitude even for a single favour of Yours? I have a strong desire for Your holy Sight, kindly connect me, Nanak, with You, oh the Great Guru of the world. 2.1.34.

Deen = humble. Leen = absorbed; with dedication. Meen = fish. Rayn = dust; serve humbly. Urp = offer. Kirpayn = benevolent. Bhytna = meets. 2.

MEANING: What are the means by which I can have the holy Sight of Waheguru? Pause. Waheguru is the persona of all successes; I have a longing to have His holy Sight, and my mind is zestful about that. 1.

Just like the fish loves water, I have a great desire to have a sight of Waheguru's saints, wish to offer my mind to them, and wish to humbly serve them. Service to His saints earns Waheguru's benevolence. However, one can connect with Waheguru only when he gives up his ego, and his worldly attachments, oh Nanak. 2.2.35.

Seht = including. Hayvut = ice. Poojachar = ritualistic worship. Maylunga = bringing body limbs together (different positions for meditation). Chukker = paint religious symbols on the body. Khaatunga = on the six body parts (two arms, two legs, bust, and face). Dershun Bhayay = efforts to have Waheguru's Sight. 1. Hutth = with persistence of mind. Nigreh(i) = efforts to control the senses. Ut(i) = too many. Bitunga = without legs; stand on the head. Bhunga = separation. Trishan = fire of worldly desires. Jurunga = burns. Chunga = kind; favourable. 2.

MEANING: Waheguru is present in countless forms in every living being, from a small ant to a huge elephant. Pause. Different people try to reach such an omnipresent Waheguru through different approaches, including self-restraint, following the principles of their faiths, and undertaking pilgrimage to holy places, including the river, Ganga. Some endure the suffering of ice-cold water, hunger, and nakedness. Some others perform ritualistic worship in different meditation positions (yoga), while others paint religious symbols on the six parts of their bodies, anoint their foreheads, and perform rituals. But they cannot have Waheguru's Sight without coming to the shelter of the holy saints. 1.
They try many ways to control their senses with the sheer persistence of their mind, and stand on their heads. But they suffer from their selfishness and ego, which are serious diseases, and their separation from Waheguru never goes away. They burn in the fire of their lust, rage, and worldly desires. MEANING: When I sang Waheguru's praise in the shelter of the holy saints, my thirst for all worldly desires was fully satisfied, and the five demons easily ran away (without any special effort on my part). Pause. I do not know how to express my gratitude to Waheguru for the degree of benevolence He has shown me (that I am fully contented); the only thing I can say is that I can sacrifice my life anytime for Him. 1.
People wonder what kind of dwelling Waheguru has where He sits down to plan to look after His living beings. (But without worrying about such ideas) I believe the first thing the man should do is to recite Waheguru's Naam with love and respect by dropping on the feet of the Guru (obeying His Advice). With love for His lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in mind, one should sing His praise and pray to the mind-captivating and the benevolent-to-the-humble Waheguru that He shows His kindness and His mercy to His devotees. Getting rid of my worldly attachments, misbeliefs, and all ego, I beg for His Naam, oh Nanak. 2.138.

No one can find the limits of the unfathomable Waheguru and the nature of His dwelling by any of the countless efforts, like self-torturing, roaming around in distant lands, or by describing His limits in many different ways. Dealing in the Maya-related daily tasks, the man earns worries; kindly protect him by pulling him out of this sea by holding his hand, oh kind Waheguru. 1.

Waheguru has no parents, but He becomes the parent of His devotees, and destroys millions of their sins. Without Waheguru's Naam, pearls, rubies, and countless enjoyments are spiritual death for me. I find poor man's food, and sleeping on the floor, far more enjoyable than the above luxuries when I am in the company (shelter) of the Dear (Lord), and my life spent in great comfort, oh Nanak. 2.3.42.

When you break your connection (love for) the five demons (lust, greed etc.) you attain peace in the yard of your mind, and the bed of your heart becomes very enjoyable (as Waheguru comes to stay in there). 1.

Your mind achieves stability (stays in itself, and does not take flights), and your inverted heart (away from Maya, and towards Waheguru) blooms like the lotus flower. Hur(i), Huray, Huray bhaaj, keht(u) Nanak, soonhou ray moorr, bin(u) bhujun, bhujun, bhujun, ahila junum(u) guyyi. 2.5.50.

Word Meaning: Cherch = discussions; debates. Cherchri = debaters. Bhaykh = member of some religious sect. Giyaan = knowledgeable. Dhert = land. Dherchuri = those who roam on earth. Pause. Ahun(u) = haumein. Ahaiy = is. Uver = others. Moorr = foolish. Buvruyee = crazy; insane. Jut(i) Jaat = wherever they go. Kaal = death. Huyyi = is. Tiyaag(i) = give up. Mirt(u) = death. Nicket(i) = near. Sudaa = always. Bhaaj(u) = recite (Naam). Ahila = supreme. Guyyi = is spent. 2.

MEANING: The debaters debate the religious issues all the time, while the yogis meditate, and the knowledgeable of different religious faiths roam on the earth, taking pride in showing off their knowledge (but cannot realize Waheguru by such approaches). Pause.

All such people, and all other foolish people, suffer from their selfishness and ego. No matter where they go, they face spiritual death everywhere. 1.

They need to get rid of their ego; otherwise, spiritual death is always close to them (follows them). Nanak advises such foolish people to recite Waheguru's Naam, because the invaluable human life is wasted away without His Naam. 2.5.50.

Word Meaning: Jiyoun = as. Tivaiy = the same way. Smaavaiygo = will get absorbed. Pause. Khin = moment. Loacha = longing. Un = other. Rus = sweet tastes. Neekur(i) = go away. Sookhaavaiygo = gives comfort. 1. Kudhaavaiygo = makes one say. Purakhotum = the supreme Waheguru. Chit(u) = mind. 2. Druvviya = melted; softened. Bheena = imbued. Nij Ghur(i) = in its own place (stability). Teh = there. Unhut Dhooni = the sound of Divine music. Baajeh(i) = plays; is heard. Neejhur Dhaar = the stream of a fall. Chooaavaiygo = drops. 3. Til Til = every moment. Naamo = only Naam. Bhaavaiy = is liked. Triptaavaiygo = will find contentment. 4. Kunik = gold. Kungna = bracelets; ornaments. Kaapur(u) = clothes. Bhaant(i) = of many kinds. Pheek Phikaanay = lustreless. Phir(i) Aavaiygo = will take rebirths. 5. Putul = purdah; wall. Bhaari = heavy; strong. Ghoomunghayr = in whirlpool. Ghoolaavaiygo = suffers; struggles. Bikaar = vices. Munoor = burnt (brittle) iron. Dootur(u) = which is very tough to swim across (the world-sea). 6. Bhuou = fear of God. Baiyraag(u) = detachment from worldly attractions. Bhuyya = become. Bohith = ship;boat. Khayvut = boatman. Bhaytiyaiy = is connected with. 7. Ugiyan(i) = in ignorance. Suvaaliya = put to sleep; unawareness. Jugaavaigo = awakened. Bhaanaiy = Will. Chulaavaiygo = runs life.

MEANING: Remember (recite) Waheguru's Naam, and you will feel blissful, oh my mind. The more you remember Him, the more blissful you will feel, and will merge into Him by serving Satguru (obeying His Advice). Pause.

Long for the company of the holy saints every moment, where you will enjoy blissfulness by reciting Waheguru's Naam. All other tastes (enjoyments) will run away from your mind, and nothing other than Waheguru's Naam will provide any comfort to you. 1.

With Guru's Advice, one begins to find Waheguru very sweet, and the Guru makes you sing the sweet praise of Waheguru. Satguru's Bani is a manifestation of the Supreme Waheguru, and one gets attached to the Guru's Bani (Shabad). 2.

My mind has softened to listen to the Gurbani, and, imbued with its love, it has come to stabilize (has quit wandering). Now a constant stream of Waheguru's Naam-water is dropping on my mind, and I feel as if sweet Divine music is playing in my ears. 3.

My mind is singing Waheguru's Naam every moment with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), and because of the recitation of the Naam, I get absorbed in Waheguru. Now, I listen to, and like (love) only the Naam, and find contentment. 4. The man wears expensive clothes and many different ornaments, but all such comforts are lustreless without Waheguru's Naam; engrossed in Maya, the man continues to be born and to die again, and again. 5.

The curtain of Maya, which keeps the man ignorant about Waheguru, is very strong, and one's mind is caught in misbeliefs; and like a house in a whirlpool, he cannot escape from that, and suffers a lot. Loaded with vices and sins, he becomes very heavy and cannot swim across the world-sea, which is impossible to swim across without Waheguru's Naam. 6.

However, respectful fear of Waheguru and detachment from worldly attractions act like the boat, and the Shabad of the Guru acts like the boatman to ferry one across the world-sea, and one gets connected with Waheguru and absorbed in Him with His Naam. 7.

The man enjoys sleep (stays unaware) because of his lack of spiritual knowledge, and is awakened when he acquires it. But it is always the Will of Waheguru that some people remain asleep, while others are awakened, as He runs the universe according to His own Will, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Turaavaiygo = will ferry across; salvage. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Dhuroo and Prehlad = the two child devotees of Waheguru (See “INRODUCTION” for detail). Pause. Lugaavaiygo = will attach to. 1. Mul(u) = filth. Leh(i) Jaavaiygo = will be washed away. Kasht = wood. Paavaiygo = acquire. 2. Satsungut(i) = gathering of holy saints. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Kerm = rituals. Abhimani = egoist. Cheekurr(u) = mud. 3. Rukhvaaray = protector; guard. Oopdaysh(i) = Teachings. 4. Niv(i) Ruhhiyaiy = bow to; show respect. Ful = reward. Goon = virtues. Ninda = vilification. Doosht = evil; wicked. Hernakhsh = the evil father of Prehlad, who tried to kill his son many times because Prehlad would not worship him; he rather worshipped God. Puch(i) = suffer badly. 5. Kumul Poot(u) = Brahma, the son of the lotus flower which was growing out of the navel of Vishnu. Meen Poot(u) = the sage Biyaasa who is believed to have been born out of a fish, Muchhoduri. Tup Taapun = because of their worship of Waheguru. Bhermun Bherm(u) = the biggest misbelief. Chookaavaiygo = will end. 6. Jaatun Jaat(i) = the highest caste. Mut Bhermou = do not be misled. Sook = a Brahman sage (of highest caste). Janak = a Khatri (of lower caste than the Brahmans) who was a rajah and the father-in-law of Rama. Pugeen = at the feet of (with respect). Jootthun Jootth = the filthiest remnants of food. Munooa = mind. Doolaavaiygo = will not let his mind weaken. Junuk Junuk = the ancestors of Junuk. Singhaasun(i) = on the throne. Nuou Mooni = nine hemits (sages). Dhoor(i) = dust of feet. Daasun Daas = slave of slaves. Kuraavaiygo = make. 8.

MEANING: Recite Waheguru's Naam, which will salvage you, oh my mind. Whoever recites Waheguru's Naam attains the high spiritual state, and like the two child-devotees of Waheguru - Dhuroo and Prehlad - merges with Him. Pause.
Please, be kind to me, because it is only with Your benevolence that one gets attached to Your Naam (and begins to recite it), oh Waheguru. Please connect me with Satguru with Your benevolence, so that I may begin to recite Your Naam in His shelter. 1.
I have accumulated filth of selfishness and ego over the past many lives, which can be washed away in the company of Satguru (or that of the holy saints). As a load of heavy iron boarded on a wooden boat can float across, a heavily sinful person can also swim across the sea of Maya, and realize Waheguru with Guru's Shabad. 2.
You will enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints (where only Waheguru's praise is sung), oh man. The individual, who performs rituals without the shelter of the holy saints, is an egoist who expels clean water (noble qualities) and fills the sack of his heart with mud (filth). 3. Waheguru is the guard of His devotees, and His devotees find His Naam to be very sweet. They earn respect every moment with Waheguru's Naam, and merge into Him with Guru's Teachings. 4.
One should always show respect to Waheguru's devotees, because one reaps the reward of noble qualities by showing them respect. But the evil, who vilify Waheguru's devotees, suffer badly like Henakhsh, the father of Prehlad. 5. Brahma, who was born out of the lotus flower growing in the navel of Vishnu, and the sage Biyaasa, who is believed to have been born out of a fish (Muchhoduri), are being worshipped (even though they were born in unnatural ways) simply because they worshipped Waheguru. So, worship all the devotees of Waheguru, whereby even your biggest misbeliefs will be cleared. 6.
Do not be misled by the misbelief of the highest caste; Sage Sook, a Brahman (the highest caste), worshipped Waheguru at the feet (in the shelter) of Rajah Janak, who was a Kshatriya (a caste which is lower than the Brahmans). When Sook went to see Janak, a feast was going on, and Sook had to wait outside. When the feast was over, all the filthy leaf-plates were dumped on Sook, who was standing behind the wall. But Sook did not allow his mind to be resentful even for a short moment. 7.
When Janak occupied the throne of his ancestors, the nine well-known Brahman sages put the dust of his feet on their foreheads. (So, high caste has no significance). Please, be kind to Nanak, so that I become a slave of Your slaves, oh Waheguru. 8.2.

Athaah(u) = unfathomable. Agumm(u) = inaccessible; farther and farther. Mun(u) Tthehraavaiygo = stabilize mind. 1. Neekay = noble; acceptable to God. Juptiyoun = those, who recite Naam. Bidder = the prime minister of the Kaurvas in Maha Bharat. Daasi Soot = (he was) the son of a maid, and was considered to belong to low class. Chhoak Chhohra = a young boy. Unk(i) = heart. Gul(i) = neck, chest. Oput(i) = produced; came into being. Kasht = wood. Ung(i) = in the company. Suvaaray = groomed; adorned with noble qualities. Jo Ko = whoever. Bhulaa = wellbeing. Lorraiy = looking for. Dheh(i) Dheh(i) = kneel before. Bhusm = ash; dust of the Feet. 8.3.

MEANING: With the Advice of the Guru, my mind sings Waheguru's Virtues (praise) while enjoying its sweetness. I wish I had millions of tongues to recite Waheguru's Naam with each of them millions of times. Pause.
It is believed that the thousand-headed serpent, Sheshnaag, which forms Vishnu's bed, recites Waheguru's Naam to no end. Waheguru is unfathomable and is further and further (is inaccessible), but one should not be daunted by His inaccessibility. One's mind quits wavering and comes to focus on Waheguru with the Advice of the Guru. 1.

Those who recite Waheguru's Naam are noble (are approved by Him), and they enjoy blissfulness. Remember Bider, the low-caste young son of a maid, who was hugged by Krishan JI (simply because he was a humble devotee of Waheguru). 2.
Wood is born from water (water is the father of wood), which is why water holds wood to its chest (protects it) and keeps it afloat on its surface. Similarly, Waheguru, the father of all humans, endows His devotees with noble qualities as His innate responsibility (and ferries them across the world-sea). 3. With the load of our sins and vices, we are very heavy like a rock or iron, but the shelter of the Guru is the boat which ferries us, the heavy sinners, across the world-sea. Remember, the low-caste weaver (Kabir Sahib), who found salvation in the company of the holy saints because they (the holy saints) love Waheguru; (so, seek shelter of the holy saints, oh my friend). 4.
Recite Waheguru's Naam whether you are standing still, resting, working, or are on a journey. Satguru's Words are His Huqam, which show you the path to emancipation. 5.
When one recites Waheguru's Naam with every breath, he acquires spiritual strength, and recites His Naam with his soul even after his physical death. When one comprehends the cause of his ego* with Guru's Advice, he merges into Waheguru by reciting His Naam. 6.
Satguru is the source of life of human beings, but the unfortunate do not like Him. They repent when they suffer greatly (without the Guru's guidance), but then they cannot recall that opportunity (in human form). 7. If someone seeks his own wellbeing, he has to kneel before the Guru (surrender to Him). I beg the Lord to be kind to me so that I may put the dust of the feet of the Guru on my face (serve Him with full dedication), oh Nanak. 8.3.

NOTE: In Assa Dee Vaar, Guru Angad Dev Ji professes that the solution to eradicate one's ego lies in the ego itself.

Sloak Mehla 2 (466): One's selfishness and his ego are a long disease, and the cure for this disease lies in the ego itself. If one realizes his true selfishness (emancipation), then with the benevolence of Waheguru, he works hard to act on Guru's Advice (and gets rid of his ego).

World Meaning: Rung(i) Raata = imbued in love. Bhaiy = respectful fear for Waheguru Bhaiy = traas = worldly fears. Nirmul = purified. Laag(i) = attachment. Pause. Baiyraagi = deatched from worldly attractions. Nicket(i) = near. Ghur(i) = heart. Punk = dust of feet. Dhiyaavaiygo = will recite (Naam). 1. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Koraiy = blank (without love for Waheguru). Ooltiyo Junum(u) = new spiritual life. Gur(u) Purakh(u) = Guru as a manifestation of Waheguru. 2. Indri = senses. Phoon(i) = again, and again. Dhaavut = rush in every direction. Traiy-Gooniya = overpowered by the three effects of Maya (humans). Tikaavaiygo = stabilization of mind. Perchaiy = Teachings. Vusgut = under control. Moakh(i) = Mookut(i) = emancipation. 3. Onkar(i) = Waheguru. Ruv Ruhhiya = present. Buhourungee = in many different forms. Aikut = single. Buchan = Huqam. Chulaavaiygo = runs (controls) the world. 4. Aiko, Aik(u) = only the “One”. Lukhaavaiygo = comprehends. Nij = his own. Mehleen = Waheguru’s dwelling. 5. Sisht(i) = world. Oopaayi = created. Sobha = praise. 6. Anayk = countless. Vichhurray = separated. Muleen = filthy. Bigsaavaiygo = blooms. 7. Jugjeevun = the soul of the world (Waheguru). Sherdha = deep reverence; love. Shern(i) = in shelter. 8.

MEANING: With Guru’s Advice, my mind has been attached to Waheguru, and imbued in His love, it is singing His praise now. With respectful fear of Waheguru in my mind, all my worldly fears and worries are gone, and my mind has been purified. Pause.

The devotees, who are imbued with Waheguru’s love, are always detached from worldly attractions, and Waheguru, which is always close to everybody, appears in their mind. I will survive spiritually if I get the dust of their feet (an opportunity to humbly serve them), which Waheguru, with His benevolence, will make available for me. 1.

The man is attracted to worldly attractions, and with his greed for them, he is always indecisive. But with his mind blank of love for Waheguru, he cannot be imbued with His love. However, if he is fortunate enough to connect with the Guru, his mind will be turned away from the attractions of Maya and imbued with the Guru's love for Waheguru, thereby acquiring a new spiritual life. 2. All ten human senses (five natural and five implementers) keep pushing the man toward enjoyment, and, overpowered by the three effects of Maya, the human mind never finds peace and keeps wavering. However, with Satguru’s Advice, the mind comes under control, and the devotee attains emancipation. 3.

Only Waheguru is present everywhere, and everybody will be absorbed in Him at the end. The single Waheguru appears in many different forms, and runs the whole universe with His Huqam (Command). 4.

The devotees of the Guru recognize the “One” Waheguru and comprehend Him in the shelter of the Guru. Guru’s devotees reach Waheguru’s dwelling (which becomes their own) as they merge into Him, and feel as if Divine music is playing in their mind. 5.

Guru’s devotees realize that Waheguru alone has created all the living beings and the whole world, and they earn respect for their firm belief in Waheguru. Nobody can reach Waheguru’s Residence without the Guru, and they continue to suffer in the birth-death cycle. 6.

The individual, who has been separated from the dear Waheguru for many lives, is connected with the Guru through His benevolence. He enjoys great bliss upon meeting the Guru, and his mind blossoms when his evil thoughts are purified. 7.
I beg Waheguru, which is the soul of the world, to be kind to me, and infuse love for Him in my mind. Satguru is the one who connects one with Waheguru, and Waheguru puts His devotees in Satguru's shelter, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Word Meaning: Gurmut(i) Chaal = lifestyle as per Guru's Advice. Chulaavaiygo = follow the path. Maigul(u) = elephant. Must(u) = intoxicated. Tul(i) = beneath. Koonday = ankus (the sharp weapon to control the elephant). Drirraavaiygo = reinforces. Pause. Chultau = the wavering (fickle) (mind). Deh Dis(i) = in all the directions. Raakhaiy = protects. Liv = deep meditation; love. Chooaavaiygo = squeezes dropwise. 1. Bisiur = snakes. Bis(u) = Bikh = poison. Poorun = fully. Guroorr = a mantra believed to be the antidote for snake poison. Bhooyung = snake. Jhaar(i) = shake off. 2. Sooaan = dog. Nugur = world; man's mind. Sublaa = powerful. Kudhaavaiygo = kick out. Sat(u) = service to mankind. Suntokh(u) = contentment. Dherm = high morality. Aan(i) = brought. Raakhay = placed.

Hur(i) Nugri = Waheguru's city (gathering of holy saints). 3. Punkuj Moh = mud of worldly attachments. Nighurt = sinks deeper and deeper. Kaadh(i) = pull out. Traah(i) Traah(i) = save me, save me. Haatheen = with His hands. 4. Soopnuntar(i) = in dreams. Baaji = drama. Khayl = game. Laaha = benefit. Paiyndha = given robe of honour. 5. Koyilay = coal. Jumaavaiygo = plants; seeds. Dookhdaayi = painful. Khuvlaavaiygo = feeds. 6. Sunchou = accumulate. Khurch = journey expenses.Put(i) = respect. Toat(i) = shortage. 7. Dookh Daalud(u) = misery of (spiritual) poverty. Bhunj (i) by destroying. Smaavaiygo = merges into Waheguru. 8.5.

MEANING: Follow the path of life as advised by the Guru, oh my mind. Like the mahout, who controls the intoxicated elephant by hitting him on the head with an ankus, man's fickle (fast wavering) mind comes under control by repeatedly reciting (and obeying) the Guru's Shabad. Pause.

Man's fickle mind, which wanders in all the ten directions, is stabilized in the shelter of the Guru when he focuses his mind on Waheguru with the grace of the Guru. Satguru implants His Shabad (in Waheguru's praise) in the devotee's mind, and he begins to recite Waheguru's Amrit-like sweet Naam with his mouth (and feels as if Amit is dripping in his mouth). 1.

The snakelike worldly attractions are full of poison (which kills the spirituality of man); such poison is destroyed by the Guru's Shabad on the devotee's tongue, which acts as the antidote to this poison. The snakelike Maya does not even go near such a devotee, and he focuses his mind on Waheguru's Naam by shaking off all poisons of Maya. 2.

The doglike greed is powerful in the human mind (forces the mind to be greedy), but the Guru kicks the greed out of the devotee's mind instantly. The Guru places the noble qualities like service to mankind, contentment, and high morality in the holy gathering (which becomes the source of such virtues), and the devotee sings Waheguru's praise in such holy gatherings. 3.

The man slips deeper and deeper in the mud of worldly attractions, but the Guru pulls His devotees out of that mud. The devotees, who come to the Guru's shelter begging for protection against the attacks of Maya, are pulled out from the world-sea when He extends His hand. 4. The whole world is dreaming the drama of Maya, and plays its games (dances at its hands, and loses spirituality); but those who follow the Guru's Advice, earn huge spiritual benefit (wealth), and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. 5.

Those who are egoists and perform deeds which boost their ego are planting coals (which burn their spirituality), but when death comes, it becomes very painful because they reap the rewards of only that crop which they had planted. 6.

Accumulate the wealth of Naam, which will serve as your journey expenses (accompanies you) to Waheguru's Court, where you will be honoured, oh, the wise men. Waheguru's Naam is such a wealth which never runs out, whether you spend it yourself or share it with others. 7. However, one can acquire the Naam-wealth in his heart only in the shelter of the Guru. With the grace of the Guru, one's suffering of his poverty in spirituality is eradicated, and he gets absorbed in Waheguru's Naam (merges into Him), oh Nanak. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Hirn = gold. Paarus = elixir (touch) stone. Pause. Ful Paavaiygo = reaps the rewards. Paiyj = honour. 1. Buchan = words; Shabad. Neeko = beautiful; supreme; source of emancipation. Ambreek = a raja who was a devotee of God, and was saved from the curse of some egoist sages. Amrapud = state of immortality. Bhaayi = liked. Soodha = Amrit. Maarug(u) = Punth(u) = path. 3. Thaapay = established; given the high spiritual state. Raakhun Kuou = to protect. Sur(u) = arrow. Sundhaiy = shoots at. Oolto = boomerangs. 4. Sur(u) = pool (of Naam Amrit). Durgah = Waheguru's court. Maan(u) = respect. 5. Naad = sound; knowledge. Bayd(u) = the Veda. Perchaiy = Teachings. Roop(u) = form; image. Saakut = the worshipper of Maya. Baymookh(i) = non-believer. Bhermaavaiygo = takes through many life forms. Loabh Lehr = whim of greed. Sooaan = dog. Bikh(u) = poison. Kurung(i) = carcass; dead body of an animal. 7. Taaruk(u) = ship. 8.

MEANING: Like a piece of iron gets converted into gold when touched with an elixir stone, and acquires the properties of the elixir stone. You will also acquire the virtues of Satguru in His company, when you recite Waheguru's Naam in His shelter, oh my mind. Pause.

The great (holy) soul, Satguru, is like the touchstone; whoever comes to his shelter will reap similar rewards (acquire His virtues). Like Prehlad, who found salvation by the teachings of the Guru, Satguru protects the honour of His devotees. 1.

Satguru's Words are holy, and one acquires the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru with His Words. When one recites Satguru's Shabad, he attains the state of immortality, as did Rajah Ambreek. 2. I loved the shelter of Satguru, and recited His Shabad as the source of immortality (leading to union with Waheguru). Kind to the humble, Satguru shows the devotee the right path of life, which leads to union with Waheguru. 3.

The devotees, who take Satguru's shelter (surrender to Him), are (spiritually) exalted, and Waheguru Himself comes to their rescue (to protect them from the attacks of Maya). The arrows shot (to cause any kind of harm) at the devotees of Waheguru by anyone, boomerang, and hit the shooter back. 4. Whoever serves Waheguru's Pool of Naam-

Amrit (a gathering of holy saints) is honoured in His Court. Whoever recites Waheguru's Naam with the Advice of the Guru (with His Shabad) is embraced by Waheguru, and is connected with Him. 5.
Guru's Shabad to sing Waheguru's praise is like the music of the yogis or the knowledge of the Vedas for the Sikh of the Guru (he does not need any of those). Such a Sikh becomes like Waheguru, and prompted by Waheguru, the masses worship such a Sikh. 6.
The Maya-worshippers do not go to Satguru's shelter; Waheguru takes such infidels through many life forms. They keep the company of those who experience impulses of greed like dogs, and like dogs, they enjoy the taste of carcasses of animals (suck human blood by robbing them of their rightful earnings). 7.
Waheguru's Naam is the saviour of the whole world, and one should recite His Naam in the company of the holy saints. I beg my Waheguru to put me in the company of the holy saints where I can recite His Naam to achieve union with Him, oh Nanak. 8.6.

MEANING: Efforts to earn more wealth do not pay to enhance the spirituality of man (actually, they bond one more strongly with Maya). Only those who recite Waheguru's Naam find salvation. Such devotees are highly fortunate and reap all the rewards. They become enlightened in the company of the holy saints and become attached to (begin to love) Waheguru. By getting rid of my ego, worldly attachments, and my immoral acts in the shelter of the Guru, I will swim across the world-sea by dropping at the feet of the Guru (surrendering myself to Him). I submit humbly that some fortunate devotee gets to have Waheguru's Sight in Guru's shelter. 1.

The devotee, who always recites Waheguru's Naam while enjoying its sweetness in the shelter of the Guru, survives spiritually by singing His praise, and drinks the immortalizing Amrit of His Naam as a result of which, his suffering of rebirths is eradicated. When he recites Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints, he does not suffer from rebirths ever again. I humbly pray to the Lord, who is the carver of our fates, to be kind to me so that I may serve His holy saints. I long for the dust of the feet of the holy saints (to serve them with deep reverence) so that I may get absorbed in Waheguru's Sight (in His Naam), oh Nanak. 2.

Always recite the Naam of the Lord, which is omniscient; as a result, your human life will be all success (you will merge into Waheguru), oh my friends. The devotee, who always sings Waheguru's praise, is approved by Him (and his birth is welcome in the world). Waheguru's Naam is such wealth that subsumes any jup (recitation of ritualistic mantras), tup (self-torturing), and sunjum (efforts to control the senses), and it accompanies one to the next world. I humbly pray to Waheguru that He bestows me with the jewel of His Naam-wealth, which I may possess (acquire) and take with me to His Court. 3. With His benevolence, when Waheguru appears in the mind of a devotee, he feels ecstatic in his mind and enjoys the amazing feats of Waheguru, which is the source of supreme bliss. When the source of all comforts, Waheguru, appears in one's mind, all his wishes are fulfilled. He attains blissfulness, gets absorbed in the high spiritual state, and never suffers any discomfort again. All the immoral thoughts of the devotee vanish, and Waheguru embraces him and provides him with all the comforts. I humbly pray to the Lord, who is the source of supreme bliss, to appear in my heart, oh Nanak. 4.1.

The devotees, who listen to the Guru's Advice and obey it, deserve accolades, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Aiyso = such is. Untarjaami = omniscient. Derpun = mirror. Budun = face. Pervaani = accepted; appears. Pause. Leep Na = no effect of Maya. Chheepaiy = the hidden. Mookta = free from all bonds. Jaat(u) Na = cannot be. 1.

MEANING: Man's heart is like a mirror in which his qualities are reflected (his deeds are a reflection of his heart). (A mirror shows the image which is like the object in front of it), So, if you wish to see the omniscient Royal Waheguru in your heart, you have to be like Him. Pause.

Waheguru, which is free from all bonds and is completely unaffected by Maya, resides hidden in every heart, but cannot be seen. 1.

Like one's image in water, my Lord is such that one can see Him only when he becomes like Him, oh Namdev. (Once again, one has to be like Waheguru to see Him in the mirror of his heart). 2.1.

Word Meaning: Rum Ramaiy = reciting Waheguru's Naam. Baarik = children. Pritpaaray = raised and nourished. Bud Purakh(u) = Great Waheguru. Pause. Asunkh = countless. Soort(i) = meditated. Til(u) = an infinitesimal amount. 1. Amit(i) = immeasurable. Atoal(u) = which cannot be weighed. Thaah = depth. 2. Oostut(i) = praise. Madhau = oh, Lord. Julnidh(i) = ocean. Meenay = fish. Na Kut-houn = not at all. 3. Mudhsoodun = Waheguru. Tayk = support.4.

MEANING: One cannot find Waheguru's limits by reciting His Naam. We are just His children who are raised and nourished by Him, and He is the Great living Lord who is my father and my mother. (So, how can we find His limits? Pause.

The Royal Waheguru is known by countless names, and He is increasingly distant from us due to physical accessibility. The people with noble qualities and with knowledge meditate on Him, but cannot find His worth (limits) even to a very small degree. 1.

A man may sing Waheguru's virtues all the time, but he cannot know all His virtues. Waheguru is immeasurable, unweighable (in terms of His greatness), and endless; one cannot find His depth by reciting His Naam, no matter how frequently. 2.

Like the fish which live in the ocean, and yet can never find its limits, Royal Waheguru's devotees sing His praise, but nobody can find His limits. 3.

Please be kind to Your slave, Nanak, and give him Your Naam to recite, oh Waheguru. I am foolish and spiritually blind (ignorant), but, in the shelter of the Guru, I have acquired Waheguru's Naam in my heart, which is the basis of my life, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Word Meaning: Hussiya = smiles; feels blissful. Bhagat(i) = worsip. Pause. Pug = Feet (Shabad). Simeroun = remember. Bussiya = got enshrined. Keerut(i) = praise. Saari = supreme. Ghus(i) = grazing. Chundun = sandalwood. Jus(u) = praise. 1. Liv Laayee = focused mind on. Saakut = worshippers of Maya. Khoaj(i) = to look for; to stalk; to hound. Kirt Sunjog(i) = predetermined nature. Chulliyo = pursue own interests. Ninduk(u) = vilfier. Naagun(i) = snake. Pug = foot. Chhooh(i) = touch; bite. Juliya = burns; suffers. 2. Joog(i) = eon. Rukhiya = protected. Kuhha Bhuyya = so what? Daint = the demon (king Hernakhsh, father of Prehlad). Kur(i) = try all means. Jhur(i) Puriya = failed miserably. 3. Kaalaiy = of death. Mookh Grusiya = in the jaws of. Shern(i) = shelter. 4.

MEANING: Waheguru's devotees feel blissful when they sing His praise. One who has good fortune prewritten on his forehead gets to worship Waheguru, but only with the Guru's Advice. Pause. I worship the Feet of the Guru (recite His Shabad) day and night by whose grace, Waheguru's Naam has been embedded in my mind. Like the fragrance of the sandalwood is absorbed by the object which grazes with it, the fragrance of Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in the heart of the devotee who absorbs (listens) to the praise of Waheguru, which is supreme in the world. 1.

When a devotee meditates on (gets connected with) Waheguru, the Maya-worshippers begin to hound him. But as per his nature, when a vilifier begins to vilify such a devotee, he feels as if his foot is burning from the bite of a snake (he suffers mental torture). 2.

Waheguru is the saviour of His devotees, and has been so over the eons. What did the demon Rajah Hernakhsh earn when he tried to kill his devotee-son, Prehlad, using many different ways? He failed miserably (and was killed). 3. All the living beings which have been created by Waheguru are in the jaws of death, but Waheguru protects His devotees (by absorbing them in Him), and I have taken His shelter, oh Nanak. 4.2.

NOTE: The “thay” at the end of each sentence does not have a special meaning. It is simply used to maintain the metre of the Raag.

Word Meaning: Jup(u) = recitation (of Gurbani). Jup(i) = recite. Jugunathay = the Lord of the world (God). Oopdaysh(i) = Teachings. Kilbikh = sins. Laathay = come off. Pause. Rusna = tongue. Khin(u) Pul(u) = every moment. Toomhnuthay = Yours. Locheh = long for. Dikhnuthay = sight. Jea = life. Jeeun Ko = of the living beings. Birthay = (poor) condition 2. Maarug(u) = Punth = path. Dinthay = give. Urpoun = will offer. Milthay = connected with Waheguru. 3. Toochh = insignificant. Bernthay = describe. Vusgut(i) = in control. Sumruthay = omnipotent. 4.

MEANING: Recite the Naam of the Lord of the world, Waheguru, oh my mind. All the suffering of the sins of the devotee, who recites Waheguru’s Naam with Guru’s Advice (His Shabad), is eradicated. Pause.

Waheguru has so many virtues that one cannot sing praise of all of them with a single tongue; so, I pray to Waheguru that He gives me many more tongues. Even if everybody sings His praise every moment, and again, all His virtues can still not be described. 1.

I have developed so much affection for Waheguru that I long to have His Sight. However, Waheguru, which is the supreme provider for all, and is the basis of life of all the living beings, knows the (poor) condition of our minds (and will show His Sight when He feels like). 2.

If someone shows me the path of union with Waheguru, guess what I will offer him. I will offer everything, including my body and my mind, to the great soul who is already connected with Waheguru, and connects me with Him. 3.

Waheguru’s virtues and his praise are of great (spiritual) worth, but we describe Him as if He is insignificant. But, at the same time, our wisdom (ability to describe Him) is in His control, as He is omnipotent, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Akuth = indescribable. Urth(u) = wealth; prosperity. Soonthuyee = is heard. Kaam(u) = wishes. Moakh = emancipation. Phirthuyee = follow (beg) (to be accepted). Pause. Muthuyee = on the forehead. Jeh = which. Laykha = account of deeds. 1. Doakh = sins; misdeeds. Hur(i) Jul = Waheguru's Amrit-like Naam. Navaayay = gives bath in. Kilbikh = Paap = sins. Guthuyee = go away. 2. Bhujthuyee = recites. Untee Aousar = time of death. Aayay Bunut Haiy = arrives. Saathyee = companion; friend. 3. Jugunthuyee = The Lord of the world. MEANING: Recite the virtues (sing praise) of Waheguru, whom we hear is indescribable, oh my mind. (People beg for) high religiosity, wealth, fulfilment of their wishes, and emancipation; but all these four desirable things chase (beg to be accepted by) Waheguru's devotees (and they do not care for them). Pause.

But only that individual recites Waheguru's Naam who has good fortune prewritten on his forehead. Waheguru demands the account of the deeds of everyone, but His devotees, who recite His Naam in their hearts, are set free with dignity in His Court. 1.

Our minds are filthy with ego and selfishness of many, many lives, but the Guru bathes His Sikhs in the Amrit-like water of Waheguru's Naam whereby all their sins are washed away. 2.

Waheguru's devotees recite His Naam whereby the Lord, Waheguru, makes their hearts His dwelling. At the time of their death, Waheguru's Naam becomes their companion and protects them from any punishment. 3.

The devotees of Waheguru, who is the Lord of the universe, sing His praise by reciting His Naam. He is the saviour of His devotees, and saves His rock-live heavy devotees who are loaded with sins from drowning in the world-sea oh, Nanak. 4.4.

Rid = (in) heart. Soodh = wisdom. Puchhutaanaiy = repent. 3. Sumruth = omnipotent. Paasoun = from. Churaanaiy = Feet (Naam). 4.5.

MEANING: Waheguru knows my (everybody's) (noble) thoughts. So, if some vilifier throws mud on Waheguru's devotees, Waheguru pays absolutely no attention to him. Pause. So, giving up everything else, serve the infallible Lord, Waheguru, which is the highest of all. Word Meaning: Rum = recite(u) (Naam). Ram Ramo = only Waheguru. Bheejaiy = is imbued. Rus(u) = essence. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Pause. Kaasht = wood. Baiysuntar(u) = fire. Muth = churn. Sunjum(i) = with the right technique. Jot(i) = enlightenment. Tut(u) = the origin (Waheguru). 1. Dervaajay = doors (of body) = Dur. Pheekay = tasteless (no spiritual enjoyment). Chooyijaiy = trickles down/. 2. Kaaya Nugur = the citylike body. Neeko = (spiritually) beautiful. Sauda = to trade. Ruttan = jewels. Laal = rubies (noble qualities). Amol = priceless. Amoluk = rarely available. 3. Agumm(u) = inaccessible. Buur(i) Saagur = the ocean which is full of such jewels. Deen = poor; humble. Saaring = the rainbird. Boond = drop. 4. Laalun = the Dear (Waheguru). Rungun(u) = the vessel to dye clothes. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Rusik = while enjoying. Gutuk = gulp. 5. Basoodha = earth. Supt Deep = the seven continents. Saagur = seas. Kunchun = gold. Dhureejaiy = place (before them). Baancheh(i) = long for. 6. Saakut = Maya worshipper. Bhookhaiy = hungry (for worldly luxuries). Kosun = a unit of distance (about 2.2.km). Bith(i) = gap. 7.
Ootum = (spiritually) superior. Oopma = compare with. Tool(i) = equal to. 8.

MEANING: One's mind gets imbued with love for Waheguru when he recites, or listens to, His, and only His, Naam. Waheguru's Naam is sweet Amrit, which one should drink with Guru's Advice in a high spiritual state. Pause. Just like one builds fire from wood with the right technique, the light of Waheguru's Naam is present in everybody, and the technique to acquire His Naam (enshrine in the mind) is to sing His praise with Guru's Advice. 1.
The human body has nine doors, and all of them are ineffective for spiritual enjoyment; the sweet Amrit of Waheguru's Naam trickles down in the tenth door (in a high spiritual state). I pray to Waheguru that He becomes benevolent to me so that I may drink His Naam-Amrit with Guru's Shabad. 2. That city-like human body is spiritually beautiful in which one's evil qualities are traded for Waheguru's Naam. The jewellike priceless, and rarely available noble virtues can be acquired by serving the Guru. 3.
Satguru and Waheguru are inaccessible; however, Guru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) is that sea, which is full of noble qualities, and one can acquire those with the worship of the Guru and Waheguru. I am a humble, needy one like the rainbird; I pray to God that He gives me a drop of His Naam on my tongue (to recite). 4.
Waheguru is the vessel to dye the human mind with His love. I pray to Him that He puts me in the shelter of the Guru to dye my mind with Waheguru's love. Those who are imbued with Waheguru's love, enjoy the sweetness of His Naam, and gulp it down (without any delay) every day (all the time). 5.
If someone extracts all the gold present in the seven continents and in the seven seas of the world and places that before Waheguru's devotees, they do not care for that. They wish only for the sweetness of His Naam, and pray to Him, only for His Naam. 6.
The Maya-worshippers are always hungry for worldly luxuries and show such hunger all the time. They have so much love for wealth that they rush to have it even if it is millions of kilometres away. 7.
Waheguru's devotees are (spiritually) superior to all, so what can we compare their greatness against? There is no other praise higher than Waheguru's Naam. I pray to Waheguru that He gives me His Naam with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 8.1.

MEANING: The Guru is like the elixir stone which purifies even the immoral; so, kindly connect me with Him to be purified to become like Him, oh Waheguru. Pause

Like the burnt and brittle iron, I have no noble quality, and am highly impolite; but I can acquire noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru. Everybody always wishes for paradise and emancipation, but Waheguru's devotees do not care for emancipation; they wish only for Waheguru's Sight (union with Him) and are fully contented to see Him. 1.

Love for Maya is very dominant in everybody's mind, but it stains their mind with its darkness (evil qualities). But the devotees of my Waheguru are fully detached from Maya, and are emancipated from its bonds like the waterfowl whose feathers do not get wet with water (they stay above the surface of water). 2. Like the sandal trees, which are besieged by snakes for their fragrance, (Waheguru's Naam is surrounded by the poisonous attractions of Maya). So, like the sandalwood, which is very difficult to get because of the snakes, Waheguru's Naam is also very difficult to acquire. So, what should one do? Answer: Guru's Advice (Shabad) is that powerful sword which can pierce the poison of the attractions of Maya, and the devotee can enjoy the sweetness of the Naam – Amrit. 3.
Just like huge stacks of wood can be changed into ash in a moment by fire, grave sins, which a Maya-worshipper has committed, can be set on fire (eradicated) in the shelter of the Guru. 4. The devotees of Waheguru who have enshrined His Naam in their hearts have beautiful (pure) minds. One can also become purified in the company of such devotees and have Waheguru's Sight. 5.
Like one cannot set up a warp with a ball of thread that is badly tangled, the mind of a Maya-worshipper is also tangled in Maya-related affairs (and cannot think about Waheguru), so never have friendship with a Maya-worshipper, oh man. 6.
The company (shelter) of the Guru is (spiritually) beautiful (mind purifying), so one should recite Waheguru's Naam in His company. There are jewel-like noble qualities in the shelter of the Guru, and one can acquire them with His grace. 7.
My Lord is very, very high (transcendent), so how can I reach (have union with) Him? Answer: Satguru is Perfect who can connect one with Waheguru, and in whose shelter the devotee also attains perfection (acquire Waheguru-like noble qualities), oh Nanak. 8.2.

Bistheerun Keeyay = disseminated. Sugul Bhuven = all houses = the whole world. Jus(u) = Waheguru's praise (majesty). 4. Preetum = Dear (Waheguru). Julun(g) Jul = only water. Khin(u) = instantly. Atoola Toal = immeasurable weight. Ko = some rare. 7. Tuv = Yours. Julnidh(i) = ocean. Meen = fish. Sung(i) = with. 8.

MEANING: (With His benevolence), recite only Waheguru's Naam, oh my friends. The Guru and the holy saints have spiritually beautiful and pure minds; so, enjoy Waheguru's love in their company. Pause. The minds of all the living beings of the world weaken for the attractions of Maya; please be kind, and connect us with the Guru, which is the support for the weakening minds of the living beings, oh Waheguru. 1.

Like the earth, which is so humble that it is beneath the feet of everybody, and everybody is above (on) it, you become humble too in the shelter of the Guru. Become so high in morality that all the luxuries of the world are under your feet (the luxuries beg you to accept them, but you ignore them), oh my friends. 2.

With the grace of the Guru, the soul of His devotee is also purified, and becomes so much like Waheguru's Soul that even Maya becomes his slave. The wax-like, flimsy teeth of his character are replaced with so strong teeth that he can even chew the iron-like hard character of the mind-captivating Maya, and enjoy the sweet taste of Waheguru's Naam. 3.

With the kindness of Waheguru's Naam, the devotee gets connected with the Guru which disseminates the sweetness of the Waheguru's greatness and His virtues all over the world.4.

Like the fish, which loves water all the time, and explodes (wriggles) to its death without water, the dear Waheguru is always in the mind of the Guru and of the holy saints (they love Him so much that) they cannot survive without seeing Him. 5.

Those who do not serve the Guru are highly unfortunate. They keep burning in the fire of their worldly desires, which is never put out, and they are punished by the Angel of justice. 6. One may perform all the prevalent rituals like pilgrimage, observe some commitments (principles) like fasting, perform yugs (huvuns and serving food to the Brahmans), perform the accepted noble deeds, or even slowly frost their bodies to death, but they cannot find the limits of the immeasurable Waheguru. The worth of Waheguru's Naam is immeasurable; some rare devotee worships Him in the shelter of the Guru, but cannot find His true worth. 7. Only Waheguru knows His own qualities. I simply take His shelter, oh Nanak. You are the ocean, and I am Your fish; kindly keep me in Your shelter, oh, Waheguru. 8.3.

MEANING: Kindly enable me to worship You with love and enjoyment with the Advice and the Knowledge of the Guru, which I wish You to reinforce in my mind, oh, my Waheguru. I wish to offer my body and my mind in Your service. Pause.
Waheguru is the real and the only God to worship, and should be worshipped while enjoying the sweetness of His Naam. Waheguru's Naam is like a tree of which the branches (leaves and flowers) are made of His noble qualities. We should pick the leaves and flowers of His virtues to worship Him. 1. The wisdom to distinguish between the good and the bad is the purest wisdom, and one can enjoy Waheguru's sweet Naam by pondering on the Guru's Shabad with such wisdom. One should offer one's mind to the Guru with whose grace one acquires such wisdom, and Waheguru's Naam. 2.
Waheguru's Naam is like a priceless diamond (of virtues), and one should pierce his mind with the Waheguru-Diamond to become a diamond like Him. One's mind becomes a mine of pearls (noble qualities) with the Guru's Shabad, with which he can verify another devotee with noble qualities. 3.
Just like a plaas tree consumes a peepul tree, one's bad qualities are eaten away (he gets rid of them) in the company of the holy saints, and he becomes very high in morality. The devotee, who enshrines the fragrance of Waheguru's Naam in his heart, becomes supreme (in spirituality) among all other men. 4.
The devotee, who adorns his mind with the fragrance of the leaves and the flowers (noble qualities) of the Waheguru-tree, performs the most noble deeds as he disseminates the fragrance of the leaves and the flowers of the high morality of the Guru's Shabad in the world, and reinforces it in others. 5.
There is only one Light (Waheguru) in the whole universe, which is present in everybody's mind. So, see only the "One" in the whole world. The "One" Waheguru is pervading the whole world, and everybody puts his head under His Feet (obeys His Huqam). 6.
People, without Waheguru's Naam, are disgraced, and their respect (if they had any) erodes slowly. The Maya-worshippers are egoists, and their life is shameful without Waheguru's Naam. 7. As long as one has breath in his body (lives), he should rush to Waheguru's shelter without any delay. I pray to Waheguru to be kind to me, and give me the opportunity to wash the feet of the Guru (to serve Him), oh Nanak. 8.4.

MEANING: Kindly provide me with an opportunity to wash the feet of the Guru (serve Him), because all one's sins are eradicated in His shelter, oh my Lord, Waheguru. Pause.

I am a humble servant of Yours, and waiting on Your Door for Your holy Sight with a great desire; kindly endow me with that donation. I have come to You, begging for Your shelter; kindly reinforce Your Naam in my heart with Guru's Advice (His Shabad), oh Waheguru. 1. Lust and rage are overwhelming me in my body, even though I am always fighting with them courageously and valiantly. Kindly have mercy on me, and protect me from their attacks by putting me in the shelter of the Perfect Guru, as He is the one who can kick them out of my body (rid me of them), oh Waheguru. 2. There is a powerful fire of sensual enjoyments in my body, the Guru (implants) His pacifying Shabad in my mind as a result of which, my body and my mind become completely calm, all my ailments (sufferings due to these demons) are eradicated, and I enjoy peaceful sleep (night of my life). 3.

Just like the sun is present everywhere through its rays, Waheguru is present in every heart. When a devotee gets connected with the Guru (comes to His shelter), he enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in his own heart. 4. A devotee loves the Lord like the ruddy duck, which loves to see the sun (when she gets united with her companion, which gets separated at night). Just the way she waits for the sunrise throughout the night, a devotee waits for the early morning to enjoy Waheguru's Amrit-Naam. 5.

The Maya-worshipper is like a dog which is known for is greed, and gathers a filth of his immoral activities. He talks too much for his selfishness, so who can trust him? 6. One should take shelter of the Guru or of the gatherings of the holy saints, where he can extract (enjoy) the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam. Waheguru gives His worship (Naam) on the tongue of the holy saints, who acquire noble qualities and give advice for the benefit of others. 7. Waheguru is inaccessible, but He is very kind and is the source of mercy, and protects everybody with His kindness. He alone is the soul of the world, and raises and nourishes all living beings, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Puchaiy = burn (suffer) (in the fire of Maya). Ugiyan(u) = ignorance. Punth(u) = path; journey. Bikhrra = difficult. Lud(i) = load up. 7. Rum(u) = recite. Gut(i) Keejaiy = attain high spiritual state. Rulaiy = mix well; become a part of. Milijaiy = get connected. 8. Chhukka = set of six (Shabads).

MEANING: Make me a slave of Your slaves (devotees), oh Waheguru. As long as I have breath in my body, I wish to drink the wash of the feet of the Guru (serve Him with full reverence and affection. Pause.

Even the popular gods and sages like Shiva, Nard, Sheshnaag, and the hermits long for the dust of the Guru's Feet. All the cities and the houses are purified where the Guru sets His foot. 1. Giving up all his worldly shame (embarrassment), his ego, and everything else, one should enjoy the love of God in the shelter of the Guru. By doing so, all accounts of his deeds with the Angel of justice are paid off, and drowning in the sea of Maya, he is pulled out by the Guru. 2. Not taking any steps to take shelter of the Guru, those who suffer spiritual death, come to life when they take the Guru's shelter. For that reason, one should waste no time and rush to drop at the feet of the Guru (surrender to Him). 3. Waheguru's praise, Waheguru's Naam, is such a jewellike invaluable diamond and a sweet thing which can be tasted only in Guru's shelter. The Guru makes Waheguru's Naam available to them, and implants in their mind those who have full faith in His words (Shabads). 4. Listen to the Guru's words, oh holy saints; He is inviting you aloud. If you look for eternal bliss for your mind, take the Guru's shelter, oh my friends. 5.

If one has really good fortune, he reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his mind with Guru's Advice, enjoys the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam in the high spiritual state, and easily swims across the sea of Maya's attractions, which is otherwise very, very difficult to swim across. 6. Those who are very deeply involved in Maya-related affairs burn in the fire of their desires. The path to salvation, which is already very difficult to walk on, is made much more difficult for the Maya-worshippers because of the darkness of their ignorance and by the load of their ego. 7. Recite only Waheguru's Naam to attain the high spiritual state, oh Nanak. When one takes the Guru's shelter, Waheguru's Naam is reinforced in his mind by the Guru, and he gets connected with Waheguru through His Naam. 8.6.

Days = country; estate. Vays = wear expensive clothes. Suday = calls in. Dhill = delay. Koorr(u) = love for the perishable. Koorro = dirt; worthless. 4.

MEANING: Recitation of Your Naam with love and respect is Your true worship, and Your Naam is the ship to ferry us across the world-sea, oh Waheguru. Your Naam is the adornment for my soul, and is the objective of human life. One earns the respect of everyone with Your Naam; and one never earns any respect anywhere without Your Naam, oh Waheguru. 1.

All the noble objectives of the devotee are achieved whom You bestow Your Naam to. All other wisdoms (to show one's religiosity) are just a show off. Pause.

Waheguru's Naam is my power, and my support; it is also the armies, and the reign of some state for me. Waheguru's Naam is an honour for me, and one gets approved in His Court. One gets identification for Your approval with Your benevolence, oh Lord. 2.

One sings Waheguru's praise with His Naam and attains the high spiritual state. Waheguru's Naam is the real Amrit, which destroys the poisonous effects of Maya. One acquires all comforts with Waheguru's Naam, but those who are without His Naam are chained and taken to the court of the Angel of death. 3.

One's wife, his household, his door (where people get help), his estate, and his expensive clothes, because of which he enjoys all the luxuries, are all chains and shackles for him. But he cannot delay his death when the call comes from Waheguru, and all the perishable things he has enjoyed become worthless to him, oh Nanak. 4.1.

Sugul = all (noble qualities). Khoyay = robbed. 1. Bikaar(u) = immorality. Daaroo = medication. Naasut(i) = is not. Kernhaar(u) = the Creator. Apaar(u) = endless. Pause. Pataal = underworlds. Pooriyaan = cities; worlds. Crorr(i) = ten million. Ta = only then. Siraiy = in the other pan of the weighing scale. Hoar(i) = other (Waheguru's Naam; noble qualities). 2. Oojeh(i) = come into being. Bhookh = appetite (for worldly luxuries). 3. Bhulaa = wise. 4.

MEANING: With Waheguru's benevolence, the mind, which has His jewel-like (which glows) Naam in it, and the wisdom to grasp its essence, is the enlightened one. Otherwise, the whole world is in the darkness of its ignorance, and all their noble qualities are taken away (people lose them to their unholy thinking and deeds). 1.
This world is full of the evil of sensual pleasures. There is no other cure than the Naam of the limitless Creator (God) for this grave disease of haumein (selfishness and ego). Pause.
No worldly wealth, even if it were a million times the wealth of all the underworlds and the worlds, can match the worth of Waheguru if weighed against Waheguru's Naam (it cannot be bought for any amount of worldly wealth). It can be acquired only by singing Waheguru's praise and acquiring noble qualities. 2.
One acquires mental comfort by the hard labour (of reciting Waheguru's Naam and by acquiring noble qualities); likewise, one suffers spiritually if he enjoys worldly luxuries. What kind of appetite (for worldly comforts) will one have who has Waheguru's praise (Naam) in his mouth (on his tongue)? (He will have no appetite) 3.
It is only I who is foolish, the rest of the world is noble, oh Nanak. The human body, which does not have Waheguru's Naam sprouting in it, suffers humiliation (in Waheguru's Court), oh Nanak. 4.2.

Perbhati Mehla 1: Jaiy kaarun(i) Bayd Brahmaiy oochray, Shankar(i) chhoadi Maya. Jaiy kaarun(i) Sidh bhuyyay oodaasi, Dayveen merm(u) na paaya. 1. Aitay Goon, aitiyaan chugiyaayiaan, dayay, na puchhotaavaiy. 3. Toodh(u) salaahun(i), tinh Dhun(u) pullaiy, Nanak ka Dhun(u) soyee. Jay ko jeeou kuhhaiy Ohna kuou, Jum kee tulb na hoyee. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Jaiy Kaarun(i) = for the reason. Oochray = spoke. Shankar(i) = Shiva. Oodaasi = detached. Dayveen = goddesses. Merm(u) = secrets. 1. Baba = oh wiseman. Teriyaiy = swim across the world sea. Saacha = pure; like Waheguru. Dooshmun = enemy; the five demons. Koyee = some rare. Pause. Ugun(i) = fire; energy. Bimb = water. Puvnaiy = of air. Bani = creation. Teen(i) = the three effects (qualities) of Maya. Daasa = slaves. Tuskur = thief; sinner. Koat = fort; cave. Punchaasa = of lion. 2. Chungiyaayi = noble performance. Chit(i) = in mind. Bufaavaiy = flaunts; shows off conceit. Aitay = so many. Na Puchhotaavaiy = repents; regrets. 3. Dhun(u) = (true) wealth. Pullaiy = in possession. Jeeou = man. Kuhhaiy = recite; think about. Ohna Kuou = those noble qualities (Waheguru's Naam). Tulb = calling in; questioning. 4.

MEANING: The reason (to know the secrets of God) for which Brahma uttered the Vedas, Shiva renounced the worldly attractions, the Sidh yogis became detached from the world, and the goddesses (who are worshipped), did not result in success for any of them, as none of them ever came to know the secrets of Waheguru. 1.

Only that individual is like Waheguru (knows His secrets) who has Waheguru in his mind, and recites His Naam with his tongue; he also swims across the sea of Maya, oh wise man. But there is a rare individual who acquires the wisdom (thinking) to enshrine Waheguru in his mind; no evil demon or thought even goes near him. Pause.

The human body, which is made up of the five basic elements like energy, water, and air, is prevailed upon by the three effects of Maya (and suffers spiritually); but Maya is a slave of Waheguru's Naam (so one can overcome the effects of Maya with the Naam). The individual, who does not recite Waheguru's Naam, is a sinner and lives in the cave of the lionlike five demons (lust, greed, etc.), where he is easily attacked by them. 2.

If one does just one good thing, he flaunts it to the extreme; Waheguru has countless noble qualities and countless favours He does to the living beings, yet He never stops His favours, and never regrets (even though we are rarely thankful to Him). 3.

Those who are truly wealthy sing Waheguru's praise; that is my wealth too, oh Nanak. If a devotee praises Waheguru and is thankful to Him, the Angel of death never questions him. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Roop(u) = beauty. Jaat(i) = high caste; status in society. Mookh(u) Maasa = good physique. Nirunjun(u) = unaffected by Maya (Waheguru). Nivaasa = dwelling. 1. Aoudhoo = renouncer of worldly attractions. Sehjay = in high spiritual state. Tut(u) = the essence (root) of the universe (God). Ja Tay = because of which. Pause. Kerm(u) = rituals. Dhem(u) = religiosity. Sooch(i) Maala = rosary to show off one's piety. Shiv Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Kunnhou = from. Boodh(i) = wisdom; enlightenment. Rukhvaala = guard. 2. Bert(u) = self-imposed restrictions (principles). Naym(u) = routines (rituals) to follow. Bukbaayi = participation in worthless debates. Gut(i) = state of respect. Uvgut(i) = no respect. Chint = worry. Foormaayi = Words; Advice. 3. Aas = worldly hopes. Niraas = disappointments to renounce the world. Soort(i) = wisdom = Sumjhaayi. Tunt = human soul. Perm Tunt(u) = Waheguru's Soul. Boodh(i) = wisdom.

MEANING: If an individual, who has no physical beauty, no high caste, and no good physique, acquires Waheguru's Naam in his mind in the shelter of the Guru, (it becomes his beauty, high caste, and his strength); and he stays connected with Him. 1.

Ponder over the root of the whole universe, Waheguru, to attain a high spiritual state as a result of which, you will not have to take rebirths, oh, the renouncer of the worldly attractions. Pause. The individual, who does not have (is not allowed) any ritual to perform, has no claim on any religion, and does not have (is not allowed to wear) any rosary to show his religiosity, gets enlightened with Waheguru's Light in the shelter of the Guru (he does not need any of those). 2. The individual who has no self-imposed restrictions, no religious principles to observe, or no meaningless discussions to participate in becomes free of all worries and of a high or low state of societal respect with Satguru's Advice. 3.

The individual, who has no undeserved hopes or disappointments to renounce the world, but has Waheguru always in his mind, acquires the high spiritual wisdom (thinking) whereby his soul merges with the Supreme Soul, oh Nanak. 4.4.

Kuthni, budni, Nanak jul(i) jaayay. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Ta Ka = His Dur(i) Pervaan(u) = approved in Waheguru's Court. Bikh(u) = poison (discomforts). Amrit(u) = good things (comforts). Sum = equal. 1.

Serbay = everywhere. Rujaayay = Will. Pause. Pergut = appears. Jot(i) = Waheguru's Light. Chooka = ends. 2. Jaan(u) = think as. 3. Kehna = recite; narrate. Akuth = the indescribable Waheguru. Kuthni Budni = hollow words of mouth.
MEANING: Whatever is happening in the world happens by Waheguru's Will. So, what can a man say contrary to the Will of the omnipresent Waheguru (he has no power to contradict His Will)? Pause. However, the words of the devotee, who treats (accepts) comforts and discomforts the same way, are approved in Waheguru's Court. 1.
Satguru implants Waheguru's Naam in the heart of such a devotee as a result of which, His Light appears in his heart (his mind is enlightened), and his ego is eradicated. 2.
Only the individual who is honoured in Waheguru's Court is considered to be the true devotee, and only his coming to the world is welcome (successful). 3. The individual, who sings and listens to the praise of the indescribable Waheguru, reaches His home (gets connected with Him), while those who just say His Naam for selfish reasons with no love and respect for Him, burn in the fire of jealousy and worldly desires, oh Nanak. 4.5.

Word Meaning: Neer(u) = water. Giyan = Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam). Munun = bathing. Utth-sutth(i) Teeruth = the 68 holy places of Hindus. Sung(i) Guhhay = accompany; are subsumed. Jawaahur, Maanuk = jewels and pearls (noble qualities). Savay = serves. Khoaj(i) Luhhaiy = acquires by searching. 1. Smaan(i) = equal to. Sur(u) = pool. Suntokh = contentment. Taas(u) = that. Pause. Duriyaaou = river. Doormut(i) = evil wisdom (thinking). Huraiy = is removed. Poora Naavun(u) = perfect bath. Pushoo = animals. Praytoun = from the ghostlike mind. Dayv = gods. 2. Rutta = imbued. Tul Heaul = from bottom to top. Permul(u) = source of fragrance (of noble qualities). Vaas(u) = fragrance. Bunaasput(i) = vegetation. Sauraiy = is adorned. 3. Jea Praan = new spiritual life. Oopjeh(i) = comes into being. Shiv = Waheguru. Nij Pud(u) = the state of oneness (with Waheguru). 4.
MEANING: There is no holy place (on earth) like the Guru, which is the pool of contentment (rather than water as the holy places do). Pause. Guru's Advice (His Shabad) is the pool of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit as its water in which the human mind takes a dip to cleanse it. All the 68 holy places are subsumed in this holy pool of Guru's Shabad, which is full of jewels-and-pearls-like noble qualities; a Sikh, who searches for them with Guru's Advice, acquires them. 1.

The Guru is such a river whose water (Waheguru's Naam) is always pure. All one's filth of evil thinking is washed away on meeting with the Guru (by seeking His advice). Connecting with the Guru (coming to His shelter) is the complete bath for the devotee, transforming the animal-like and ghost-like into godlike individuals. 2.
The Guru, which is imbued with the eternal Naam of Waheguru from toe to top, is the flower-like source which gives its fragrance to everybody. One should focus their mind on the Feet (Shabad) of the Guru who, like the flowers which adorn the rest of the vegetation with their fragrance, disseminates the fragrance of Waheguru's Naam to adorn the lives of people with noble qualities. 3. Guru's Sikh acquires a new spiritual life and goes to the Home of Waheguru (merges into Him). Guru's Sikh attains the spiritual state of oneness with Waheguru, and gets absorbed into Him, oh Nanak. 4.6.

Word Meaning: Vidiya = knowledge. Aapa = self. Mudhay = inside. Pergaasiya = enlightened. 1. Jujmaan(u) = donor; provider. Dukhnaa = donation. Pause. Punch Tuskur = the five thieves (demons). Dhaavut = rushing (attacking) uncontrolled. Chooka = ends. Abhimaan(u) = ego. Disht(i) Bikaari = the Sight seeking vices. Doormut(i) = evil thinking. 2. Jut = control on senses. Sut = high morality. Chaavul = rice. Duyya = mercy. Kunuk = wheat. Praaput(i) Paati = eligibility to connect with God. Dhaan(u) = wealth. Kerm(u) = (noble) deeds. Suntokh = contentment. 3. Khima = forgiveness. Ruvut Ruhhay = keep reciting. 4.

MEANING: A devotee, who ponders on the Divine Knowledge implanted in his mind in the form of the Amrit-like Waheguru's Naam by the grace of the Guru, earns respect everywhere, as his mind is enlightened within. 1.
You are my provider (donor), and I beg You for Your Naam in donation. Pause.
Waheguru's Divine Knowledge is such that the devotee is able to control his five demons (lust, greed, etc.), which attack him from every direction; in addition, his ego is also eradicated. Besides, his vision, which seeks immoral sensual pleasures, and his evil thinking also run away with the Naam. 2. (The Brahman receives donations from his farmer donors in the form of grains, milk, ghee, clothes and occasionally a milk cow as well), But I beg of Waheguru as my provider (donor), to grant me the ability to control my senses, high morality, mercy for others, and the eligibility to connect with Him, which will serve as the rice and the wheat for me. I also beg for the ability to perform noble deeds and for contentment.

They will be the milk and the ghee for me. 3. I also beg for forgiveness for others, and for patience, which will serve as the milk cow for me, of which my calf-like mind will drink the milk of (forgiveness and patience) in the high spiritual state. I beg for the clothes of Waheguru's praise and of hard work (long hours) to recite His Naam, oh Nanak. 4.7.

Word Meaning: Aavut = taking birth. Raakhiya = stopped. Soyee = the same (Waheguru). Jis Tay = from whom (Waheguru). 1. Smaayay = goes back. Vaah(u) = admirable; splendour. Rujaayay = Will. Pur(u) = but; for sure. Pause. Herhut = water well with mechanism to draw water for irrigation. Maala = chain. Tind = a small container to draw water. Sukhnee = empty. Bhert Haiy = is filled. Taiysay Hee = just like that. Khayl(u) = drama. Vudiyaayi = greatness; Will. 2. Soorti = (focus of) mind with spiritual wisdom. Soorti Kaiy Maarug = the path of focusing one's mind on Waheguru. Oolti = reversed; inverted (from attractions of Maya). Pergaasi = enlightened. Girhi = family man. Oodaasi = detached from Maya. 3. Aasa = hopes on (worldly attachments)/ Saunp(i) Kaiy = offer back. Nirbaan = no desires of worldly enjoyments. Pervaan(u) = approved.

MEANING: It is amazing! It is splendid that it is only You, and Your Will, which are prevailing everywhere, oh Waheguru! Only what happens is what you do, and nobody else can do anything about that. Pause. When no one can stop the birth of a man, how can anyone stop him from dying? Only Waheguru, who creates the man, knows about his birth and the time when he is absorbed in Him (his death). 1.

Like the water-drawing (artesian) well, in which a water-container on the continuously revolving chain empties, and another is filled, it is the splendour of Waheguru that He has created the drama of the world, similar to such a well (where one living being dies, and another is born). 2. When a man follows the path of union with Waheguru, his vision (thinking) is reversed (from attractions of Maya to love for Waheguru), and his mind is enlightened. Think, who is a true family man, and who is the renouncer of the world, oh, the self-proclaimed renouncer and the claimer of having Divine Knowledge. 3.

The true renouncer is the man who surrenders all his hopes of Maya, which he had, back to Maya (i.e. he no longer is attracted to Maya). Be it a family man or a renouncer of the world, only that individual is approved in Waheguru's Court who has full faith in Waheguru, who created him, oh Nanak. 4.8.

MEANING: I am a sacrifice (all praise) for the devotee, who controls his vision (mind), which looks for the enjoyment of sensual pleasures. On the other hand, the individual who has no clear concept of sin and noble deeds is misled and wastes his life in vain. 1.

One should say (recite) the Naam of the eternal Waheguru as a result of which, he will not come back to this world (will not be reborn). Pause.

Waheguru can elevate an individual from a high status in society to a low-caste person, and can elevate a low-caste person to a rajah. But only those are approved honourably in Waheguru's Court who make a strong bond with Him in the world. 2.

One can guide a person only if he is misled; but who can advise the infallible Creator (Waheguru), who Himself creates the drama of the whole world. However, some rare individual realizes this fact. 3.

Getting rid of the love for worldly attractions, we should recite Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad before sunrise (if possible, at all, because it is the best time to focus one's mind). I am a slave of Waheguru's devotees, and wish to humbly submit that such devotees conquer the worldly attractions, while the rest of the world loses to them, oh Nanak. 4.9.

Perbhati Mehla 1: Mun(u) Maya, mun(u) dhaaya, mun(u) punkhi akaash(i). Tuskur, Shabad(i) nivaariya, nugur(u) voottha, shabaash(i). Ja Tu raakheh(i), raakh(i) laiyeh(i), saabut(u) hovaiy raas(i). 1. Aiysa Naam(u) ruttan nidh(i) mayraiy. Gurmut(i) dayh(u), lugoun pug(i) Tayraiy. 1. Ruhaou. Mun(u) yogi, mun(u) bhogiya, mun(u) moorukh(u), gavaar(u). Mun(u) daata, mun(u) mungtaa, mun(u) sir(i) Gur(u) Kartar(u). Punch maar(i) sookh(u) paaya, aiysa Braham(u) veechaar(u). 2. Ghut(i), ghut(i) Aik(u) vukhaaniyaiy, kuhoun, na daykhiya jaayay. Sa jaat(i), sa put(i) haiy, jayhay kerm kmaayay. Junum, mern dookh(u) kaatiyaiy, Nanak chhootus(i) Naayayn. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Dhaaya = rushes. Punkhi = bird. Akaash(i) = in the sky. Tuskur = thief (flights of mind under the influence of the five demons). Nivaariya = got rid of. Nugur(u) = human body. Voottha = populated (with noble qualities). Shabaash(i) = accolades; kudos. Saabut(u) = preserved. Raas(i) = wealth (of noble qualities). 1. Nidh(i) = treasure. Pug(i) = feet. Pause. Bhogiya = enjoys luxuries. Gavaar(u) = unrefined. Mungtaa = beggar. Sir(i) = above. Punch = the five demons. Maar(i) = by destroying. Braham(u) = God. Vukhaaniyaiy = is said. Khoto = impure; dishonest. Poottho = upside down (in mother's womb). Raaliyaiy = is humiliated. Put(i) = dignity. Rujaayay = Will. 3. Junum = birth; ancestry. Butaayay = ask for; acquire. Sa = that. Kerm Kmaayay = the kind of deeds performed. Chhootus(i) = is emancipated. 4.

MEANING: Human mind is always engrossed in Maya, and rushes (takes high flights) in every direction like a bird in the sky. Accolades to Guru's Shabad with which the rushing mind, which is overpowered by the five demons, is controlled, and the human body (including the mind) is populated with noble qualities. The devotee, whom Waheguru wants to protect (from the attacks of Maya), gets protected, and the wealth of his noble qualities is preserved. 1. I pray to Waheguru by dropping at His Feet (with full humbleness and sincerity) that He imparts Guru's Advice in my mind so that His jewel-like Naam becomes my treasure. Pause. The human mind is very fickle; sometimes it is like a yogi (detached from worldly attractions), while at other times, it enjoys all worldly luxuries. The mind is foolish and unrefined. Sometimes the mind becomes a big donor, while at other times, it begs for worldly comforts; it can be controlled only by Waheguru and the Guru. One acquires blissfulness by killing (controlling) the five demons by pondering over the Divine Knowledge (Guru's Shabad or Waheguru's Naam). (So, one must recite it). 2.

Even though Waheguru is known to be present in every heart, He cannot be described or seen. One thing is for sure: without Waheguru's Naam, one is always impure in the mind; he loses all his dignity and is humiliated when he is taken through countless cycles of rebirths. But I can make a strong bond with Waheguru when He connects me with Him at His Will. 3.

Nobody asks for his caste or his ancestry when one seeks for (acquires) Waheguru's Naam in the heart. One's caste and his dignity are determined by the kind of deeds he performs (and not by his birth). One attains emancipation only with Waheguru's Naam when all his suffering of rebirths is eradicated, oh Nanak. 4.10.

Word Meaning: Jaagut(u) = aware; smart. Bigsaiy = feels happy. Moottho = is robbed. Undha = blind; unaware. Phaahi = chains (of worldly worries). Dhundha = worldly affairs. Aaavaiy = comes; is born. Munsa = mental thoughts; hopes. Jaayay = leaves; dies. Oojhi Taani = badly tangled warp of loom. Busaayay = control. Jeevun = the life of the world (God). Jaagunhaara = always awake (Waheguru). Pause. Bhoandi Kaar = bad (immoral) business. Kermi = with His benevolence. Vudaayi = respect. 2. Din(u), Din(u) = with every day. Til(u), Til(u) = in small amounts. Cheejaiy = weakens; lessens. Ghutaayi = in the heart. Boodo = drowns (in the world sea). Tthaur = sheler. Jub Lug = as long as. Dooji = (love for) the other (Maya). Raayi = even a small amount. 3. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Poorb(i) Kmaayi = deeds performed in previous lives. Kermheen (u) = unfortunate. Sach = Waheguru (His Naam). Bheekhiya = alms. 4.

MEANING: Making efforts to accumulate wealth to enjoy worldly comforts, the man thinks that he is very smart, and is very happy, but blinded by this desire (to acquire worldly comforts), he is being robbed of his spiritual wealth. The Maya-related worldly affairs become shackles around his neck, and they hit him hard on the head (his spiritual wisdom). The man is born with many hopes, but because of the tangled warp of the loom of his life (his confusion about what is good and what is bad for him), he leaves the world, disappointed (because of his many unfulfilled hopes), as he has no control over his death. 1.

Waheguru, which is the soul of the world, and which is the ocean (source) of all comforts, and a treasure of Amrit (immortalizing liquid, i.e., Waheguru's Naam), is always awake (and knows everything about us). Pause. The man does not understand Guru's Advice, and pursues (spiritually) worthless deeds. (But he cannot be entirely blamed because) Waheguru Himself instills His love in the human mind, and one earns respect because of His benevolence only. 2. Man's span of life slips away slowly with every day, but his love for Maya stays in his mind. As long as one has love for Maya, he drowns in its sea, and has no shelter without the Guru. 3. Waheguru looks after His living beings day and night, but their comforts and sufferings are the result of their previous deeds. But even an unfortunate person who begs Waheguru for His Naam is honoured in His Court, oh Nanak. 4.11.

Word Meaning: Musht(i) = quiet. Adhik = more. Liv = focus on. Bhool Chook = errors (mistakes) and omissions. Aachaar = character; life style. 1. Aiysay = such. Jhootth = fakeness; hypocrisy. Mootthaiy = is robbed. Ninduk(u) = vilifier. Pause. Bidh(i) = ways; means. Neeshaanaiy = identification. Kaarun = the root (creator) of the world; Waheguru. Untargut(i) = inside the soul. Nudr(i) = kind Sight. 2. Maiylau = (mind) filthy (with immoral thoughts). Oojul = clean; pure. Ootum = superior. Oocha = great. Khoohl(i) = openly. Raachaiy = engages in; is imbued in. 3. Undhau = blind. Bolau = deaf. Moogudh = foolish. Heanau = lacking (noble qualities). Neech(u) = ignoble. Boorau Booriyaar(u) = worse among the bad. Nidhun = poor. Dhun(u) = wealth. Saar(u) = supreme. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Chhaar(u) = dust; rubbish. 4. Oostut(i) = praise. Ninda = vilification. Jaiykaar = hailing; acclamation. Kuhaavaiy = makes others say (recite). 5.
MEANING: If I stay quiet, the world calls (considers) me a fool, and if I talk too much, then I lose the focus of my mind on You, oh Waheguru. But You have the account of all my mistakes and my omissions. At the same time, what kind of lifestyle is that which is without Your Naam? (I do not like it), oh Waheguru? 1. The world is being robbed (of its spirituality) because of its hypocrisy. But I love even my vilifiers (because they provide me with an opportunity to improve myself). Pause.
The devotee, who is vilified (does not care because he) knows that Guru's Shabad is his identification for approval in Waheguru's Court. With the Naam of Waheguru, which is the creator of the universe, he analyses himself (for his good or bad deeds). But only that individual realizes this (gets the enlightenment) on whom Waheguru casts His kind Sight. 2.
I have a filthy mind (thinking); only Waheguru is clean (pure). One cannot be high (in morality) by simply calling oneself superior. A Maya-engrossed person openly (shamelessly) enjoys sensual pleasures, but a Guru's Sikh engages (is imbued) in Waheguru's Naam. 3.
A Maya-engrossed person is foolish and unwise as he is blind and deaf (towards Waheguru's Naam). He lacks noble qualities and is worse among the bad. Love for Waheguru's Naam is the wealth of the poor. Waheguru's Naam is the supreme wealth, whereas all other forms of wealth are just poison, and are like rubbish. 4.
But we cannot blame any individual because it is Waheguru who enables one to sing His praise or bad-mouth Him. It is Waheguru, which enables one to ponder on Guru's Shabad, and we should always hail Him (sing His praise). The caste of the individual becomes high, and he earns respect who Waheguru endows with noble qualities to sing His praise. One sings His praise only if He makes him do so, oh Nanak. 5.12.

Word Meaning: Maiyl(u) = filth of vices. Paiyndhaiy = wearing of rich clothes. Haan(i) = loss; disgrace. Buk(i) = meaningless talking. Baad(u) = useless debates. Bikh(u) = poison. Jaan(u) = realize. 1. Bikhum Jaal(u) = strong net (trap). Mun Vaasiya = mind is trapped. Bibul(u) = flood waters which have foam on them (obstacles of Maya). Jhaag(i) = enduring; fighting. Sehj(i) = in the high spiritual state. Pergaasiya = enlightened. Pause. Kaar Kmaayay = labours for; performs deeds. Jumdur(i) = the door of the Angel of death. Baandha = chained; imprisoned. Chhootus(I) = is emancipated. 2. Jiv = the way. Keeya = deeds performed. Mool(u) = the original capital (of spirituality). 3. Khotau = impure; dishonest. Nirmulau = pure. Tay Nur = those men. Virlay = rare. Mooraar(i) = of Waheguru. 4. Ajur = irresistible attractions of Maya. Juraiy = can resist (control). Neejhur Jhuraiy = (the spring of Naam-Amrit) trickles down. Anund-Saroop = in the blissful state. Meen(u) = fish. Saiy = like. Bhaavaiy = as You like. 5.

MEANING: Overeating by man simply adds to his mental filth, and wearing expensive clothes adds to the loss of his spirituality. Without Waheguru's Naam, talking too much just for the sake of discussion is poison for one's spirituality. 1. The human mind is badly trapped in a very strong net of vices (overeating, wearing expensive clothes, and showing off one's knowledge, etc.). One's mind can be enlightened to attain the high spiritual state if one fights against the flood of such vices (sensual enjoyments), oh, wise man. Pause.

The acts of overeating, meaningless talking, and wearing fancy clothes, which one performs in life, become poison for their spirituality. Imprisoned at the door of the Angel of death, such people are punished; one can attain emancipation (from the bonds of Maya) only with Waheguru's Naam. 2. The man leaves the world the same way as he came (empty-handed), but takes the written account of his deeds with him. The follower of his mind loses his original wealth of spirituality and receives punishment in Waheguru's Court. 3.

The world is dishonest, but the truth (Waheguru) is pure; one's mind is purified when one ponders on the Guru's Shabad. There are very few individuals whose minds have been enlightened by Waheguru. 4.

The spring of Naam-Amrit of the eternal Waheguru, which is the source of all bliss, begins to trickle down in the mind of the devotee who can resist the irresistible attractions of Maya. Like fish, which loves more and more water, Your slave, Nanak, longs for Your love. Kindly keep Your love sustained in my mind, if You please. 5.13.

Word Meaning: Naad = music. Herkh = joys. Chuturaayi = cunning; craftiness. Rehus = zestfulness. Rung = worldly enjoyments. Foormaayish(i) = commands. Kaayi = any such thing. Cheet(i) = in mind. 1. Sookhaayi = provides comfort. Pause.
Binod = entertainments; amazing feats. Suvaad = tastes. Aanunda = blissfulness; delight. Sut Bhaayay = with love and respect. Keerut(i) = praise of God. Kerm Kaar = routine performance. Nij Sunda = of mine. Ruvto = is present. Raaj = enlightenment. Ruvunda = is providing. 2. Priyo = of the Dear. Oordhaari = enshrined in heart. Deena Nath = the Lord of the poor. Bunvaari = a name for God. Bertkaari = obeying the principle. Triput = contented. Trung = impulses (about Maya). Tutt(u) = the root of the universe (God). 3. Akuthau = indescribable. Kuthoun = describe. Joar(u) = power; ability. Moar = mine. Mein More = I, mine (selfishness). 4. Rus(u) = sweet taste. Deettha = saw; realized. Poor Pud = the highest spiritual state. Dhuraapiyo = contented.

MEANING: The devotee, who enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his mind, acquires the eternal bliss of a high spiritual state, and does not like any of the songs, music, zestfulness of worldly enjoyments, craftiness, reign of some state, or even eating (of delicious foods), and wearing of (expensive) clothes. 1. I do not know what Waheguru does or makes others do, but nothing gives my body any comfort other than the Naam. Pause.
With the feeling of His presence in my mind, Waheguru is enlightening my mind, and singing His praise with love and reverence has become my daily routine, and I am enjoying the perceived tastes of the amazing feats (supernatural powers) of the yogis, and blissfulness. 2. Dear Waheguru is the Lord of the humble, and I have enshrined love for Waheguru in my heart. Recitation of His Naam, and sharing it with others (motivating them) has become my daily principle (routine). All my impulses (fast wavering mind) are fully satisfied to ponder on Waheguru, which is the root of the whole universe. 3.
What power (ability) do I have to describe the virtues (sing praise) of the indescribable Waheguru? I can worship Him only if He makes me do so. When Waheguru takes up dwelling in someone's heart, all his selfishness disappears. Because there is none other like Him, who else should I worship? 4. Guru's Shabad is full of great sweetness with which I have realized the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam in my mind. Whoever secures (preserves) Guru's Shabad in his heart, attains the highest spiritual state. My mind has been fully contented, and I am enjoying bliss (with Guru's Shabad), oh Nanak. 5.14.

Word Meaning: Untar(i) = inside. Mun(u) Maaniya = mind was convinced. Raangunhaara = dyer (of mind with His love). Jeeyaan = living beings. Smaalay = looks after. Serkaara = rule; control. 1. Raang(i) = affectionate. Ghunau = deep; immensely. Roorrau = beautiful. Munmohun(u) = mind-captivating. Ut(i) = extreme. Rus = source of sweetness. Laal Sugoorrau = of deep red colour (of never fading love). Pause. Oopur Gugun = high in the brain-sky (the tenth door). Koop = well (of Naam-Amrit). Punihaari = who draws water (Naam-Amrit) from the well; devotee. Ruchna = cration. Bidh(i) = means; ways. Gurmukh(i) = Guru's Sikh. Veechaara = ponders on. 2. Pusree Kiran = with the spread of sunlight. Kumul = lotus. Rus(i) = with joy. Bigaasay = blooms. Sus(i) = moon; peaceful mind. Soor(u) = sun; enlightenment. Smaaya = settles in. Kaal(u) = (fear of) death. Bidhoons(i) = by destroying. 3. Chuloolay = in the deep colour. Raati = imbued. Rusaayay = filled with the sweetness.

MEANING: When I saw (realized) Waheguru in my mind with Guru's Shabad, I was convinced that there is no one like Waheguru which can dye one's mind with such love for Him. He loves His living beings so much that He looks after them day and night, and it is His Command that prevails everywhere. 1. My Waheguru is highly affectionate, and is very beautiful. He is very kind to the weak (humble) which captivates the mind of everybody. He dyes the minds of His devotees with deep red colour of His love (which never fades). Pause. There is the well (pool) of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in one's mind-sky (tenth door), which a devotee can access to drink. Only the Creator knows how a person can drink the Naam-Amrit, but a devotee simply ponders on the Divine Knowledge in Guru's shelter (with His Shabad). 2. Like a lotus flower, which blooms with joy with the spread of the light rays, a devotee's mind blooms when his peaceful mind is enlightened with the sun of Guru's Shabad. His fear of death is eradicated, and all his worldly desires are killed as he realizes Waheguru (gets connected with Him) with the grace of the Guru. 3.
No other colour can dye the mind of the devotees whose minds are dyed with the deep colour of Waheguru's love. The devotees, whose tongues are imbued with the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam, see Him everywhere, oh Nanak. 4.15.

Nanak, Satgur milaiy milaaya, dookh puraachhut kaal nussay. 4.16.

Word Meaning: Baarh = (the) twelve (sects of yogis). Raavul = a sect of yogis which has both, the Hindus, and the Muslim as its members. Khup(i) Jaaveh(i) = meet frustration. Chuoun Chhay = four and six = ten (sects of sanyasis). Kaapuurriya = those who wear a robe of rags to cover from top to toe. Sirkhoothay = (the Jains) who pull out their hair. Phaasi = noose of (spiritual death). 1. Baiyraagi = full renouncers. Aouhutth(i) = in the heart. Hust = resting in. Bheekhiya = alms; donation. Jaachi = beg. Bhaay = with love for. Liv Laagi = mind focused on (connected with). Pause. Vaad(u) = debates; arguments. Kur(i) Kirya = from rituals. Kerni = performance; daily routine. Soojhaiy = cannot think of. 2. Soochachaari = of high morality. Maanay = recognized; honoured. Smaanay = are absorbed. 3. Kerm Dherm = religious deeds. Sooch(i) = outward purity. Sunjum = efforts to control senses. Milaaya = connected with the grace of Waheguru. Puraachhut = sins. Kaal = (fear of) death. 4.

MEANING: The twelve sects of the Yogis, and the ten sects of the Sanyasis get frustrated in their respective beliefs (practices) (because they cannot realize God). Without Guru's Shabad, the yogis, the members of the faith who cover their bodies from top to toe with the robes of rags, and the Jains, all get the noose of spiritual death around their necks. 1.

The true renouncers are the devotees who are imbued with the love of Divine Knowledge as contained in the Guru's Shabad. Unlike the yogis, who go begging door to door, the devotees of Waheguru beg for the alms only of His Naam in their own hearts with their minds focused on the Guru's Shabad. Pause.

The Brahmans read the religious books as a ritual to take part in worthless discussions, and performing rituals is their daily routine. They are the followers of their own mind (and are engrossed in Maya). They cannot think of spirituality without realizing (Divine Knowledge), and disconnected from Waheguru, they suffer in life. 2.

(Contrary to the outside purity which the Brahmas try to maintain), Those who get connected with Waheguru with Guru's Shabad are truly pure (have high morals) and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. No matter what the eon is, those who stay connected with Waheguru (focus their mind on His jewel-like Naam), finally merge with Him. 3.

All the religious rituals, external purity, efforts to control the senses, recitation of mantras, self-torturing, and pilgrimage are subsumed in the Guru's Shabad. However, one connects with the Guru only with the grace of Waheguru, when all his discomforts, his sins, and his fear of death run away, oh Nanak. 4.16.

Word Meaning: Rayn(u) = dust of the feet (to serve with love). Tur(u) Taari = swim across (the world-sea). Kuhha = what? Bupura = poor; helpless. Derpaiy = is afraid. Mooraari = Waheguru. 1. Jul(i) Jaaou = suffers badly. Jup(i) Jaap(u) = always recite (Naam). Jupmaali = rosary. Saad(u) = taste; blissfulness. Pause. Saach(u) = eternal. Oopma = praise; greatness. Pudaaruth = (invaluable) things. Khojut = by searching. Luhhiyaiy = acquire. 2. Cheenay = recognizes. Liv (Taarri) Laavaiy = focuses mind; connects with. Niralumbh = without any support. Nirhaar(u) = without food. Nihkayvul (u) = above all worldly attractions. 3. Saayir = seas (pools). Supt = seven (five senses, mind, and wisdom). Oolti = in the opposite direction (to Maya). Naav = boat. Turaavaiy = ferries across (the world sea). Tthaak Ruhaavaiy = controls. 4. Girhi = family man. Oodaasi = detached. Aap(i) = self (realization). Maaniya = convinced. 5.

MEANING: Serve the holy saints with full love and respect, and sing Waheguru's praise in their company; this is how you will be ferried across the world-sea, oh my friends. The helpless Angel of death is afraid of those who, with the grace of the Guru, have Waheguru's Naam in their heart. 1. Without Waheguru's Naam, human life is like a burning kiln (of suffering). I have made Waheguru's Naam my rosary, and recite His Naam all the time, and enjoy the sweetness of the Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Pause.

How can one praise the greatness of the devotee who enjoys the eternal bliss (of Waheguru's Naam) with the Advice of the Guru? One acquires the jewel and pearls like an invaluable thing (God-like qualities) by searching for that in the shelter of the Guru. 2.

When one focuses his mind on the Guru's Shabad in praise of Waheguru, and ponders on the fearless Waheguru, which needs no support, no food, and is above all the worldly desires, he recognizes (gets connected with) Waheguru, and acquires the eternal wealth of His Divine Knowledge. 3. All his seven pools (five senses, mind, and wisdom) are filled with the pure and holy water of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit, and he peddles his boat of life in the direction opposite to the attractions of Maya. He controls his mind, which takes flights in every direction, and gets absorbed in the high spiritual state in the shelter of the Guru. 4.

The devotee, who recognizes himself (knows his good and bad qualities, and that union with Waheguru is the objective of his life) in the shelter of the Guru, is the true family man who is fully detached from the worldly attractions. With the eternal Shabad of the Guru, my mind has been convinced that there is no other power in the world than Waheguru, oh Nanak. 5.17.

Sheengaar = adornment; beauty. Akhoott = inexhaustible. Bhundaar = treasures. Kuday Na = never. Toat(i) = shortage. 3.

MEANING: With Guru's Shabad and in His shelter, a rare devotee realizes that Waheguru is present everywhere. Those who are imbued in the love of Waheguru's Naam stay always connected with Him and enjoy blissfulness. 1.

Recite Waheguru's Naam all the time, oh my devotee brothers. (When you do that) your mind will become stable (will quit doddering) with Guru's grace, and you will always feel contented with the sweetness of the Naam. Pause.

The advantage of being born in the world (as a human being) is that one should worship Waheguru (recite His Naam) day and night everyday. When a man applies his mind to Waheguru's Naam, his thinking becomes pure, and it never gets filthy with evil ideas. 2. The Guru has shown the magnanimity of Waheguru's Naam (that it connects one with Waheguru), and that it is the source of bliss; besides, one also earns great respect with it. The treasures of Waheguru's Naam are always full and never experience any shortage, so one should always recite His Naam and share it with others. 3. Waheguru comes to dwell (appears) in the heart of the devotee whom He gives His Naam. Satguru has shown the importance of Waheguru's Naam; you should recite it all the time, oh Nanak. 4.1

You alone are mine, oh Waheguru. I recite only Your Naam, sing only Your praise, and my high spiritual state and my noble wisdom are because of You. Pause.

Waheguru's Naam is supreme, and most sweet, but only those who enjoy its taste sing His praise in Guru's shelter. Those who ponder on the Naam with the Guru's Shabad find that Waheguru's Naam is always sweet and is never tasteless. 2.

MEANING: I am a sacrifice for Waheguru's Naam, the Amrit of which I drank with Guru's Shabad while enjoying its sweetness. When an individual sings Waheguru's praise with Guru's Advice (Shabad) and enjoys its sweetness, he becomes attached to Waheguru's Naam and attains a high spiritual state. 1.

The Guru gave me the mantra of Waheguru's Naam in my ears (injected the Naam in my mind) as a result of which, I have come to love the supreme Naam of Waheguru, which is the soul of the world, and He has become my life too (I live only by His Naam). Pause.

MEANING: The Sikhs of the Guru (Waheguru's devotees) recite His Naam in the early hours of the morning and remember Him throughout the night. Waheguru has kindly kindled the spark of longing for Him in my heart, too, and now I am searching for Him. 1.

I wish to dust off the feet of the Guru with the brush of my hair (serve Him in the humblest way) who has reinforced the sweet Naam of Waheguru in my mind. Now, my mind has become so humble that I like to put the dust of the Guru's feet on my forehead. Pause.

The worshippers of Maya are trapped in the net of Maya (their love for worldly attractions), and because of that, their nights and days are dark in their ignorance. They do not enshrine Waheguru (His Naam) in their heart even for a short moment, as a result of which, their every body-hair (from top to toe) is trapped in many different ways in the snare of debt (of their bad deeds for which they will be severely punished). 2. But, when one joins the gatherings of holy saints, he acquires the (spiritual) wisdom because of which the nets of his selfishness, his ego, and his worldly attractions are broken (he gets emancipated). Blessed by the Shabad of the Guru, he finds Waheguru's Naam to be very sweet. 3.

We are children (ignorant), but the inaccessible Guru (Waheguru) is the Lord of the world, and He looks after all of us with kindness. I, Nanak, pray to You to pull me out of the poisonous world-sea with Your kindness, oh Waheguru. 4.2.

MEANING: With even a moment's benevolence of Waheguru, a devotee sings His praise while enjoying its sweetness. Both the parties – those who sing Waheguru's praise, and those who listen to that – get emancipated if they drink the Amrit of Waheguru's Naam with full faith, even for a moment, in Guru's shelter. 1.

Enjoy the sweetness of Waheguru's Naam peacefully (with a stable mind), oh my mind. Waheguru's Naam is the source of peacefulness which one acquires from the Guru, and the devotee should drink its sweet essence in a single stretch (without any break). Pause.

The foreheads of those devotees who get deeply attached to Waheguru are anointed with internal purity (are honoured in Waheguru's Court). Such devotees enjoy a distinct shine recognition) like the single moon among countless stars. 2.

The individuals whose hearts are devoid of Waheguru's Naam are like people without noses (ugly and disgraced). All the religious rituals which they perform are (spiritually) worthless, and are like adorning a body which has no nose. 3.

Beautiful Waheguru is present in every heart and solely operates everywhere. Waheguru has been very kind to me, giving me Guru's Shabad in a moment, oh Nanak. 4.3.

Recite the Naam of the omnipresent Waheguru, oh my mind. With the Advice of the Guru, when one sings praise of Waheguru, who is always merciful to the weak (humble), and is the destroyer of all ills, he acquires His invaluable Naam. Pause.

When one recognizes Waheguru (makes a connection with Him) with the Advice of the Guru, Waheguru takes dwelling (appears) in his heart. Waheguru's Naam appears in (enlightens the pool of) the devotee's heart, and he acquires Him in his heart. 2.

The men, who are misled by their misbeliefs, are like in a wilderness where they cannot find the path of righteousness. Such worshippers of Maya are cheated of their spiritual wealth. They are like the musk deer, which does not realize that the fragrance of musk comes from its own navel, and it searches for it in the bushes. 3. You are great, inaccessible, and beyond our comprehension, oh Waheguru; kindly advise us so that we may acquire You in our hearts. The Guru, kindly put His hand on my head (provided His shelter to me), and I realized that Waheguru is present everywhere, and began to recite His Naam, oh Nanak.4.4.

The Sikhs of the Guru are blissful in both worlds – the present and the next; they are ferried across the world-sea, and their faces shine with the purity of their minds (they earn respect). 2. The Guru implanted Waheguru's Naam in my mind in a moment, and now my mind is permanently connected to Him. Waheguru removes the sins of millions of His devotees in a single moment. 3.

(Some self-proclaimed gurus give a mantra in the ear of their devotees so that nobody else would know that) But any such mantra, or any other way of worship (other than the recitation of Waheguru's Naam) cannot enable one anywhere to get connected with Waheguru. Satguru can protect one from such attacks of Maya when He reinforces Waheguru's Naam in his mind. 1. (Without Satguru), one cannot kill (control) his mind and the attractions of Maya. Only Waheguru, who has created Maya, knows about it (how to control it). A devotee controls it by pondering over the Guru's Shabad, and he swims across the world-sea. Pause. The rajahs become conceited by accumulating wealth, but Maya, which is dear to them, does not accompany them (after death). There is no worship (acceptable to Waheguru) without serving the Guru, even if one makes countless other efforts. One gets rid of his ego and selfishness only with Guru's Shabad, as a consequence, Waheguru's holy Naam takes dwelling in his heart. 6.
The supreme performance in life in this world is to enshrine Guru's Shabad in the mind; all other attachments than Guru's Shabad lead to darkness in the mind. With Guru's Shabad, one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, acquires noble wisdom (thinking), attains a high spiritual state, and reaches the door of emancipation. 7.
There is none (other than Waheguru) who creates and looks after the whole world. It is only the limitless Waheguru, with unparalleled beauty, who does so (creates and looks after His creation). (PAGE 1343): Dhaavut raakhay, tthaak(i) ruhaayay. Sacha Naam(u) munn(i) vusaayay. 4. ----------

Word Meaning: Moh(i) = love; attachment. Sugul Jug(u) = the whole world. Chhaaya. = overpowers; overwhelms; affects strongly. Kaamun(i) = women. Kaam(i) = lustful. Loabhaaya = becomes greedy; is attracted. Soot = sons. Kunchun = gold; wealth. Hayt(u) = attachment. Puraaya = stranger. 1. Jupmaali = (like) rosary. Perhur(i) = by pushing away; removing Niraali = fully detached from the world. Pause. Goon-Nidhaan = the source of all virtues. Samaya = get absorbed. Aavagaun = cycle of births and deaths. 2. Nurhur(i) = Waheguru. Nirbaani = who has no worldly desires. Surovar = pools; bodies. Smaani = is present. Aanund-Roop = source of bliss. Vitoun = for. 3. Bhaaou Bhagat(i) = worship with love. Dhaavut = rushing (mind). Tthaak(i) Ruhaayay = controls. Munn(i) Vusaayay = embeds in mind. 4.

MEANING: Like a lustful man who feels greedy (is tempted) to see a woman, the whole world is deeply impacted by its love for Maya. He fosters an ever-growing love for his sons and his wealth. He loves everything he owns but Waheguru, which is stranger to him. 1.

Like the rosary, which has no end, recite Waheguru's Naam continuously so that you forget all your comforts and discomforts, and feel fully detached from the world, oh man. Pause.

Nobody ever finds an end to Your limits, oh the source of all virtues, Waheguru. Your devotees simply merge into You with the Guru's eternal Shabad. You Yourself have created the cycle of birth and death, and only that individual is Your true devotee whose mind is attached to Your Naam (who becomes free from this cycle). 2.

Without taking Guru's shelter, nobody can realize that the desireless Waheguru is the source of all spiritual knowledge, and of the strength to focus one's mind. His Light is present in all bodies; I am a sacrifice for Waheguru, who is the source of all bliss. 3. One acquires Waheguru's worship with love and reverence and the advice of the Guru; his selfishness and his ego are destroyed with the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru's eternal Naam takes dwelling in his heart when he controls his ever-rushing mind (with Guru's Shabad). 4.

Nanak(u) kuhhaiy, muhha rus(u) chaakhiya. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Bism = amazement. Binoad = colourful enjoyments. Ruhhay = left behind; no longer effective. Permaadi = which makes one crazy; intoxicated. Daykh(i) = to see (Waheguru in his mind). Jul = Waheguru's Naam-Amrit. Nivaariya = removed. Aagi = fire (of desires). Boojhaiy = understands; realizes (the Naam). 5. Bherm = misbeliefs. Sookh-Daata = source of all comforts (God). Nirmul(u) = pure. 6. Soort(i) = focus of mind; wisdom. Sunjum(u) = control on senses. Maar(i) = destroy. Ja = if. Reht = life-style 7. Maytunhaara = destroyer. Beeji = other. Soojhus(i) = think of. Kaara = business; deeds. Muhha Rus(u) = the great sweetness. Chaakhiya = tasted. 8.

MEANING: When a devotee's mind is convinced in Guru's shelter, he comes to love Waheguru and stays focused on His Naam. He no longer has any interest in the world's amazing, intoxicating, colourful pleasures. He puts out his fire of desires to see Waheguru in his heart by taking a dip in the holy water of Waheguru's Naam. But only a highly fortunate individual realizes Waheguru's Naam. 5. All his misbeliefs are cleared when one serves the Guru; he stays alert (about the attacks of Maya), and stays connected with Waheguru. He believes only in Waheguru and acknowledges no other power. His mind is purified when he serves Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts. 6.

He kills (gets rid of) his haumein (selfishness and ego) by pondering on the Guru's Shabad, and acquires noble wisdom to serve humanity. He needs no recitation of ritualistic mantras, self-torturing, or any special effort to control his senses. He recites Guru's Shabad for others too (donates Waheguru's Naam), attains everlasting bliss through a pure lifestyle, and attains emancipation while living in the family. 7.

He has full faith in Waheguru, which is the source of all comforts and the destroyer of all suffering, and does not think of any other ritualistic noble deed. When one offers his body, his mind, and his wealth in Waheguru's service, he enjoys the great sweetness of union with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.2.

Word Meaning: Nivlee Kerm = a yogic exercise in which the yogis rotate their stomach veins in a circular motion. Booyungum = a snake-like. spiral-shaped vein which the yogis believe in. It starts at the bottom of the spine and stays dormant. It awakes with yogic exercises and reaches the bottom of the Sukhmana vein which starts at the bottom of the nose and leads to the tenth door in the brain. As it rises, the yogis feel blissful. Bhaatthi = furnace; the tenth door. Raychuk = exhaling. Pooruk = inhaling. Koombh = retain (hold) breath in the Sukhmana vein. Sojhi = understanding. Bood Murraiy = drowns in the world-sea. Bhuriya = full of mental filth. Untar Kee = internal. Mul(u) = filth. Phokut = worthless. Kerma = deeds; rituals. Baajigur(u) = acroabts. Bherm(i) bhoollaiy = misled by misbeliefs. Khut Kerma: the six expected responsibilities of Brahmans and Khatris. Goon_Saagur = sea (source) of virtues Uvgoon = ignoble qualities. Pause. Maya Dhundha = Maya-related tasks. Dhaavni = rush for. Doormut(i) Kaar = labour of evil thinking. Bikaar = useless; of vices. Gunaayaynda = shows himself off. Kaar = the true duty (spirituality). Munsa = impulses of mind. Mohini = mind-captivating. Boal Khooaar = suffers humiliations due to his spoken words. Mujun = bathing at holy places. Jhoottha = fake; hypocritical. Chundaal = wicked. Phokut = worthless. Chaar = beautiful. Sheengaar = adornments. 2. Kerni = performance of deeds. Baad(i) = worthless. Bibaad(u) = of debates. Ahunkern = ego. Khusm = Lord. Saad(u) = taste. Phikka = tasteless. Dooshti Subha = company of the evil. Vigoochiyaiy = suffer humiliation. Bikh(u) = poison. Vaati = in the mouth. 3.

MEANING: The yogi churns (rotates) his stomach to keep it clean, raises his kundalini to the tenth door (their belief) to feel blissful, inhales through his left nostril, exhales through the right nostril, and holds breath in the Sukhmana vein as part of his spiritual exercises. But, without the Guru, he does not realize that such exercises have nothing to do with spirituality. Misled by his misbeliefs, he drowns in the world sea. Full of mental filth, the (spiritually) blind yogi repeatedly cleanses his body, but can never get rid of his internal filth. Like the people who are fooled by the acrobatics of an acrobat as if he has some supernatural powers, the yogi makes a fool of himself by believing that his spiritually worthless rituals will bring him supernatural powers. He does not realize that without Waheguru's Naam, all such rituals are worthless. 1.

Waheguru's Naam subsumes all such rituals, including the six ritualistic deeds which the Brahmans and the Khatris must perform as their prime religious responsibility. You are the ocean of all virtues, while I am full of ignoble qualities, oh Waheguru. Pause.

(Ignoring Waheguru's Naam), People rush to complete their Maya-related tasks, which are spiritually worthless and a display of ignoble thinking. The fool does not recognize his real objective in life and shows himself off. Worldly attractions are mind-captivating, and give rise to impulses of the mind; the follower of his mind becomes their victim, and suffers humiliation because of his boastful words. Such a man is truly a wicked person, and all his religious rituals, like bathing at holy places or adorning his body with religious symbols, are hypocritical 2. His thinking revolves around the perishables only, and his deeds of taking part in debates are (spiritually) worthless. Such hypocrisy is used by him to cover his ego, which the Lord does not like. Any other deeds than Waheguru's Naam are (spiritually) tasteless. One suffers humiliation when he keeps the company of evil people, where they have poison in their mouths (vilifying everyone), and waste away their lives. 3.

Do not suffer spiritual death by getting lost in your misbeliefs, oh folks. You will always enjoy bliss in the shelter of the Guru, and nobody has ever attained emancipation without the Guru. People who do not seek the Guru's shelter keep taking births and dying. 4.

Word Meaning: Traiy-goon Dhaat(u) = Maya with three effects. Viyaapay = happens. Soag = sadness. Suntaap(u) = suffering. Chhkaiy = is removed; ends. Tishna = worldly desires. Aap(u) = selfishness and ego. 5. Jeh, Jeh = wherever. Teh, Teh = there. Soyee = the same (God). Bhaytay = to meet with. Mookut(i) = emancipation. Kerni = performance of deeds (duty). Saar(u) = supreme. Pakhund(u) = phoniness; hypocrisy. Pooj = worship. Khooaar(u) = humiliation. 6. Doobidha = indecisiveness. Maathaiy = on the forehead. Chhaar(u) = ash. 7. Keerut(i) = sing praise. Nudri = who casts kind Sight (Waheguru). Nudr(i) = kind Sight. Puchhaan(u) = recognizes; makes connection with. 8.
MEANING: The human body is born with its attachment to Maya, which has three effects: because of its attachment to Maya, it is bound to experience sadness and suffering. So, serve Waheguru, who has no mother and no father (has no worldly bonds), as a result of which, you will become like him, and your worldly desires, selfishness, and ego will come to an end. 5. One cannot attain emancipation without meeting with (taking shelter of) the Guru. One's supreme duty is to enshrine Waheguru's Naam in his heart. Any other form of worship is nothing but hypocrisy and a cause for humiliation. 6.
One's indecisiveness goes away only when one makes a connection with the Guru's Shabad (obeys it). Then he realizes that it is only Waheguru which is present in his mind, and in the outside world. The only advice for everyone is that Guru's Shabad is supreme, and because of his indecisiveness, one gets ash on his forehead (earns disgrace). 7.
Singing Waheguru's praise with the Guru's Advice is the prime objective of the man. One should ponder on Waheguru's virtues and acquire the knowledge about Him in the company of the holy saints. The devotee who kills his mind (worldly desires) while living in the family, makes connection with Waheguru with His kind Sight, oh Nanak. 8.3.

NOTE: Using stories from the Puranas, Guru Nanak Sahib explains that without Waheguru's Naam, how even the popular gods and rajahs, had made serious misjudgments, and suffered.

Word Meaning: Gautam = the name of a sage. Tupaa = sage. Ahilliya = his devoted wife who was raped by the god Indra when he impersonated to be the sage Gautum. When the sage came to know, he cursed Indra to have thousands of female genitals on his body, and his wife to turn into a rock. Lobhaaya = became greedy (lustful). Sehs = thousands. Chihn = replicas. Bhug = female genitals. Puchhotaaya = repented; regrated. 1. Jaan(i) Na = on purpose. Boojhaiy = understands. Pause. Hari Chand = a rajah, who is believed to have been perfectly honest, and a great philanthropist, who never refused donations to anyone. Because of his honesty and generosity, he was deceived by a sage to the extent that he, along with his wife and son, was sold at a public auction. Prithmi-Put(i) = lord of land (a small kingdom). Kaagud(i) = on paper; in writing. Keem = the worth of his virtues. Aougun = bad quality. Poonn = a virtuous deed. Naykhaas(i) = in open market (public auction). 2. Kuroun = two steps. Adhaayee = two and half (double steps). Baavun-roop = as a midget. Buhaanaiy = misleading cause (to build a hut). Puyyaal(i) = in the underworld (under the sea). Chhuliyaiy = got deceived. Bul(i) = a very generous rajah. He performed 100 yuga, and after completing one last yuga, he would have won the rule of paradise, replacing the god Indra, who rules the paradise. Indra got scared and rushed to Vishnu for help. Vishnu transformed himself into a midget Brahman and went to Rajah Bul, asking for five steps of land to build a hut for himself. Bul's guru warned him that the demand was a complete hoax, and he should not accept it. But, in his pride at being a big philanthropist, Bul asked the midget to go ahead. and measure five steps of land. Vishnu, in the guise of a midget, measured the whole earth in four steps and asked for the remaining step. Bul lied down and asked the midget to measure him. Vishnu, pushed the rajah into the underworld with his knee. Roop = looks. 3. Janmeja = another rajah who was performing a yuga and had invited Brahmans to the feast to atone for a mistake. His guru, Bias, advised him that his wife, who was very fashionable, should wear decent clothes for the performance. Janmeja paid no attention to the advice, and his wife appeared in sheers. Some Brahman guests chuckled at the sight of her. The Rajah was enraged, and he killed 18 of them. Kirt = the result of one's deeds of previous lives. Chullaiy Chulaaya = cannot be avoided even on trying. 4.

MEANING: Indra (god), who was attracted to (and raped) Ahilya, the wife of the sage Gautam (by impersonating Gautam), had to repent when he got thousands of female genitals on his body due to the curse by Gautam. 1.
Nobody makes mistakes on purpose except for those who are misled by Waheguru Himself, and those who get the understanding (noble wisdom) are enlightened by Him. Pause.
Rajah Hari Chand was so famous for his philanthropy that it could not be described in writing. But, had he known the clear distinction between the noble deeds (and sins), he would not have been auctioned publicly (along with his wife and his son). 2.
Had Rajah Bul recognized Vishnu in his midget form, he would not have been deceived and would not have been pushed down into the underworld by Vishnu when the latter asked for only five steps of land from the Rajah. 3. When Rajah Junmeja performed a yuga, he had invited Brahmans for the feast. His guru, Bias, had advised him (to restrain his wife from wearing unsuitable clothes), but the Rajah did not listen to him; he rather killed 18 Brahmans when they could not contain their laughter to see the queen in sheers (transparent clothes). But the effect of his previous deeds cannot be removed (undone). 4.

Word Meaning: Gunut Na Gunee = I keep no account of my good or bad times. . Bhaayay Soobhaayay = with love and respect. Vertaiy = happens. Toodhaiy = You (God). Salaaheen = sing praise. Vudiyaayi = greatness. 5. Aliput(u) = fully detached from worldly attractions. Layp(u) = coating; effect. Shernaayi = in Guru's shelter. Moogudh = foolish. Aagaiy = before hand. Chaytay = remember. 6. Ruchna Ruchiyaiy = has created the world. Abhimaan(u) = conceit. Jeeoun = deep from the heart. Puchiyaiy = suffer. 7. Bhoollun Vich(i) = to make mistakes. Nistaara = salvation. Aghoollaiy = finds emancipation. 8.
MEANING: I do not keep account of my good and bad times, and simply recognize (obey) Waheguru's Huqam, and recite His Naam with love and respect. I praise Waheguru for whatever He causes to happen, and for His greatness. 5.
A Sikh of the Guru always stays in His shelter (obeys His Teachings), and stays fully detached from worldly affairs. The foolish follower of his mind does not remember Waheguru beforehand, and repents when he suffers. 6.
The Creator, who has created the world, does things Himself and makes others do whatever He wishes. Some people cannot overcome the ego, deeply rooted in their minds; then, with Waheguru's Will, they suffer greatly because of it. 7.
Waheguru has created the world so that everyone makes mistakes; only He is perfect and infallible. One is salvaged only with Waheguru's Naam, but there are only a few who find salvation with Guru's grace, oh Nanak. 8.4.

Bin Gur sojhi kisaiy na hoyay. Aapay kuray kuraavaiy soyay. 4. --------

Word Meaning: Adhaar(u) = support; basis. Dhundha = worldly affairs. Chhootuk(i) Guyya = ended. Vaykaar = useless. Jiyoun = like. Doojaiy = other; Maya. Put(i) = respect. Khoyee = loses. Naavaiyn = Naam. Uver(u) = other. 1. Guvaar = unrefined; foolish. Aavut Jaat = (in) coming and going; taking birth, and dying. Boodaiy = drowns (in the world-sea). Baaro, Baar = again, and again. Pause. Binaas(u) = destruction. Dhoor(i) = from Waheguru. Kaas(u) = to whom. Virla Koyee= some rare. Cheenaiy = recognizes; realizes. Bihoona = without; devoid of. Mookut(i) = emancipated. 2. Bherm(i) = misled. Doalaiy = mind wavers. Lukh-Chauraaseh = the 8.4 million life forms. Jum = Angel of death. Phaansi = noose; trap. Khin(u), Khin(u) = every moment. Oobh(i) = (in) high (spirits). Puyyaal(i) = (in) low (spirits). 3. Sudday = calls in. Dhill Na Paayay = cannot delay. Sehla = easily; comfortably. Sojhi = understanding. Soyay = the same (Waheguru). 4.

MEANING: Watching the Maya-worshippers losing their respect everywhere, I have taken Waheguru's shelter, and now, I do not have faith in any other power than Waheguru's Naam. Thinking them to be (spiritually) totally worthless, I have given up all my concerns about worldly affairs now, and reciting and listening to Waheguru's Naam has become the basis (purpose) of my life. 1. Listen to the fact carefully that without the Guru's advice, the man drowns in the sea of Maya, again and again (and continues to stay in the birth-death cycle). So, do not you feel ashamed of taking births and dying repeatedly, oh my foolish and blind mind? Pause.

The human mind (thinking) is destroyed (loses its power) due to its attachment to Maya. But, since it is the Law of God (that all living beings have the natural inclination to be attracted to Maya), to whom can we blame? Some rare devotee realizes this fact with Guru's grace that the man cannot attain emancipation without Waheguru's Naam. 2.

Without taking Guru's shelter, the man fails to realize the importance of Waheguru's Naam and is misled by Maya's illusions. Sometimes, the human mind is in high spirits, and sometimes in very low spirits. As a result, he is caught in the trap of the Angel of death, takes births, and dies again, and again, and is taken through the 8.4 million life forms. The man finds emancipation only in the shelter of the Guru by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3.

When Waheguru calls a man in, he cannot delay His decision. But the devotee, who kills his worldly desires with the Guru's Shabad while living in the family, enjoys his life blissfully, (and is not afraid of death). No one is enlightened without the Guru, but Waheguru controls everything – even union with the Guru. 4.

Word Meaning: Jhugurr(u) = (internal) conflicts. Sehj(i) Smaayay = gets absorbed in the high spiritual state Doalut = wavering; Tuou = only then. Tthehraayay = stabilizes; becomes peaceful. Kerni = worth performing; duty (as per the advice of the Guru) Kaar Kmaavaiy = performs deeds; leads life 5. Joottha = impure. Sooch(i) = pure. Dhovaiy = washes away. Tthaak Ruhaavaiy = puts stop to; ends. 6. Bhuou = fear (of God). Saar(u) = supreme. Paavaiy Paar(u) = swims across; is salvaged. Sach(u) Boalaiy = recites Waheguru's Naam. 7. Kerm = rituals. Put(i) = honour. Bhoonja = burns. Bheeja = is imbued. Prunvut(i) = says respectfully. 8.

MEANING: The wavering human mind becomes peaceful (comes under control) when the man leads his life as per the eternal advice of the Guru. Such a devotee always sings the praises of Waheguru and overcomes his internal conflicts. With the grace of the Perfect Guru, he gets absorbed in (attains) the high spiritual state. 5.

How can the man, who is internally impure, acquire purity (by maintaining external purity)? Some rare devotees lead a life of purity, and wash their internal filth (impurity of mind) with the Guru's Shabad. The rebirths and deaths of such devotees come to an end. 6.

The devotee who leads his life in Waheguru's fear, even while eating and drinking, enjoys supreme bliss, and he swims across the world-sea in the company of the holy saints (the Guru). He recites Waheguru's Naam with love and makes others do the same. Recitation of Guru's Shabad (the Naam) is the supreme performance for the man. 7.

Singing Waheguru's praise subsumes all religious rituals of traditional worship, and all one's lust and rage are destroyed as if they have been burned in fire, and the devotee earns honour in Waheguru's Court. One's mind gets imbued in Waheguru's love when he relishes the sweetness of His Naam with his tongue. I make a humble request that there is no other power like Waheguru, oh Nanak. 8.5.

Word Meaning: Veechaar(i) = ponder; contemplate. 1. Ruv(i) Ruhhiya = is present. Pooj Churrhaayeen = worship. Pause. Jeeurra = life. Paas(i) = with (You). Bhaavaiy = as (You) like. 2. Jihva = Rusn = tongue. Rusaayee = full of sweetness. Chhootus(i) = is emancipated. Shernaayi = in the shelter. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Vudaayi = greatness. Sir(i) Kerma = above (higher than) the rituals. 4. Chaar(i) Pudaaruth = the four coveted things (religiosity, wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and emancipation). Teen Smaayay = the first three are absorbed; no desire remains for them. Aik = the (fourth) one. Kirtaaruth = is successfully achieved. 5. Pud(u) = (high spiritual) state. Cheen(i) = recognize; achieve. Bhuyyay = become. Perdhaana = approved in Waheguru's Court. 6. Seetul(u) = peaceful. Boojh Boojhaayi = gave the understanding; enlightened. Nivaajay = bestows honour. Kinh(i) = who; nobody. 7. Gut(i) = high spiritual state. Kinaiy Na = nobody. 8.

MEANING: When one recites Waheguru's Naam with his tongue by pondering on Guru's Shabad, and not on anything else, he, in fact, is worshipping Him in his mind. 1.
Waheguru alone is present everywhere, and I do not see anyone else like Him whom I may worship. Pause. I have already offered my mind, my body, and my life to Waheguru, and now I pray to Him that He protect me in whatever way He deems appropriate. 2.
My tongue is full of sweetness with Waheguru's eternal Naam. One attains emancipation in Waheguru's shelter with Guru's Advice. 3.
Waheguru has created the religious rituals (the man performs them with Waheguru's Will). However, He has placed the supremacy of the Guru's Shabad above all the deeds. 4.
All four coveted things (religiosity, wealth, fulfilment of wishes, and emancipation) are in the control of Satguru. The devotee, who comes to Satguru's shelter, is left with no desire for the first three (he feels fully contented), and achieves success in the fourth (emancipation). 5.
Satgur enables the devotee to focus on the source of emancipation (Waheguru), thereby attaining a high spiritual state and being honoured in Waheguru's Court. 6.
With Guru's imparted wisdom, one's mind and body become peaceful, and he is honoured by Waheguru. Who can tell the worth (transcendence) of such a devotee? 7.
The Guru gives the understanding that no one can attain a high spiritual state without Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 8.6.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = from the source (Waheguru). Bukhsh Luyyay = forgiven. Bunut = system. Rung(i) Raatay = imbued in love. Saacha = eternal. Bisray = forgotten. Put(i) = honour. 1. Jhootthi = perishable. Doormut(i) = ignoble thinking. Chuturaayi = shrewdness; craftiness. Binsut = to get destroyed. Baar = a short moment. Kaayee = any. Pause. Derd = pain; suffering. Viyaapus(i) = happens; affects. Jaata = recognized; made connection with. 2. Ubh = deep from the heart. Na Hovus(i) = cannot do. Pucheh(i) = suffer. Divaanay = crazy. Munooa = mind. Oobh(i) = in the sky (in high spirits). Puyyaali= in the underworld (in low spirits). Jub Lug(i) = as long as. 3. Bhookh = hunger (for worldly desires). Piyaasa = thirsty. Tipit(i) = contentment. Sehjaiy, Sehj(u) = high spiritual state with peaceful mind. Paiyndha Jaayay = is given the robe of honour. 4. Daana = wise. Beena = know-all. Ikk(u) Appay = Waheguru alone. Nirmul = pure; purifying. Soorta = listener. Veechaarus(i) = ponders on. Boojhaiy = determines. Pud Nirbani = the spiritual state with no desires. 5. Jul(u) Trung = water waves; water. Phoon(i) = then. Bul(u) Chhul(u) = unlimited hidden power. Tthaak(i) Ruhaaya = kept under control. 6. Aiysay = such (knowledgeable). Perkh(i) = with careful examination. Khujaanaiy Paaya = puts them in His treasure (absorbs them in Him). Jaat(i) = subcaste. Vern = the four major castes. Ateeta = detached. Mumta = worldly attachments. Loabh = greed. Chookaaya = ends. 7. Teeruth Say Nirmul = pure like a holy place. Churn Pukhaalaiy = washes their feet (shows full respect). Bhaaya = like; love. 8.

MEANING: Waheguru has created an eternal system in which He forgives some people (of His choice) through the Perfect Guru. Those devotees, who are imbued in Waheguru's love, are always in love with Him (their love for Him never fades); they forget all their sufferings (which disappear), and they earn respect in Waheguru's Court. 1.

One's ignoble wisdom (thinking) keeps him attached to the perishables, which do not take any time to separate (go away). Pause. The individual, who follows his mind (and does not listen to the Guru's Advice), suffers from troubles and discomforts which never go away. One realizes the source of comforts and discomforts, Waheguru, only in the shelter of the Guru who connects him with Waheguru. 2.

The followers of their mind cannot worship Waheguru diligently (with full dedication), and the foolish burn in the fire of their ego. As long as an individual does not recognize (ponder on) the Guru's Shabad, his mind fluctuates between high and low spirits. 3.

The world is hungry and thirsty for worldly desires, and does not find contentment without the Guru. But when one gets connected with the Guru (and Waheguru) with a fully focused mind, he attains the high spiritual state, enjoys blissfulness, and is honoured in Waheguru's Court. 4. Guru's Bani purifies one's mind when he realizes that there is only one wise and know-all Supreme Being (Waheguru) who listens to one's prayers, and ponders on them. He is the one who decides who deserves the high spiritual state, which is above all worldly desires. 5. Waheguru has created the world by combining basic ingredients such as water, fire (energy), and air, and has endowed these elements with unlimited hidden powers. However, He has the final control over them through His laws to prevent them from causing extreme destruction. 6. There are very few people in the world who are above the petty thinking of superiority or inferiority of their main castes and subcastes, and who have gotten rid of their greed and of worldly attractions. Waheguru tests such individuals and places them in His treasure (rewards them by merging them into Him). 7.
The devotees, who are imbued with the love for Waheguru's Naam, are pure like a holy place where others can take dips (serve them with love and respect) to wash away the filth of their selfishness and ego. I would wash the feet of such devotees (serve them) who come to love Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.7.

Dooja Bhaaou = love for the other (Maya). Poojday = worship. Undh = blind. Guvaar = foolish. 5.

MEANING: With Guru's grace, if you look carefully, you will find that the temple of worship of Waheguru is within your body, oh man. You can search for Waheguru's temple with Guru's Shabad, and enshrine His Naam in your heart. 1.

Those whose minds are dyed (imbued) with Guru's Shabad, develop deep love for Waheguru, oh my mind. With true worship of the eternal Waheguru, which is present in every heart, the devotee's eternal fame spreads all over. Pause. The human body is the temple of Waheguru in which the jewel-like Naam of Waheguru appears (is implanted). But the followers of their own mind do not realize at all that the human body indeed is the temple of God. 2. With His Laws, Waheguru has created the human body as His temple, and protects it from the attacks of Maya by adorning it with noble qualities. But not everybody adorns his mind temple with noble qualities, as everybody must perform the kind of deeds which have been prewritten by Waheguru in their fate, and which nobody has the power to erase. 3. When one recognizes the importance of Waheguru's Naam with Guru's Shabad, he comes to love the Naam. With Guru's Shabad inside it, the human mind, which is the temple of Waheguru, becomes like a fort of pure gold with unparalleled beauty. 4. The whole world is the temple of Waheguru, but it (the world) is in deep darkness without the Guru. The foolish followers of their minds are spiritually blind as they worship Maya, rather than Waheguru, with love. 5.

Word Meaning: Jithaiy = where (God's Court). Laykha = account of deeds. Mungiyaiy = demanded. Dayh = body. Ruttay = imbued. Oobray = are salvaged. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love of the other (Maya). 6. Boojheh(i) = understand. Moogudh = Guvaar = foolish. Oordhaar(i) = embedded in heart. 7. Jaati = understands; enshrines. J(i) = if. Puvit Paavun = pure; pious = Nirmul. Smaayay = get absorbed in. 8. Haat(i) = store. Sauda = merchandize. Suvaar(i) = adornment. 9. Lohut(u) = (hard and unclean like) iron. Paarus(i) = elixir stone; touchstone. Bhaytiyain = meeting with; touching. Kunchun = gold. 10. Serb = everywhere. Nituntar = continuously; without any gap. Vunjiyaiy = deal in. Sacha = eternal. 11.

MEANING: Man's body and his caste do not accompany him (his soul) to Waheguru's Court, where the account of his deeds is demanded. Those who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are salvaged (merge into Waheguru), while those who love Maya suffer badly. 6.
The foolish and the unwise man does not understand that the treasure of Waheguru's Naam is present in his body. But those who realize this fact through the Guru's Shabad enshrine the Naam in their hearts. 7. If a devotee gets imbued in the love of Guru's Shabad, he enshrines His Bani (Waheguru's Naam) in his heart with His grace. The devotees, who stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam, are pure and pious. 8.
The human body is the store of Waheguru's Naam, which one adorns with Guru's Shabad. His Naam is the only merchandise in the human body which becomes His temple if the individual adorns it with Guru's Shabad in His shelter. 9. However, the human mind is hard and unclean like iron in Waheguru's temple (his body) because it is captivated by the attractions of Maya, which he loves. But when the human mind comes in contact with the touchstone-like Guru, it becomes pure like gold, the worth of which cannot be described. 10. Like everywhere else, Waheguru resides hidden in the human heart. When a devotee deals in His Naam in the Guru's shelter, his dealings make him eternal, oh Nanak. 11.1.

Word Meaning: Bhaiy Baayay = with love and fear. Jaagay = stay awake (alert). Jaagrun(u) Kueh(i) = stay awake all night (sometimes, the Hindus stay awake all night and sing praise of their goddess. They call this "Jaagrun(u)". Maiyl(u) = filth. Ootaar(i) = get rid of; wash away. Ghur(u) = mind. Raakheh(i) = protect. Punch Tuskur = the five demons (lust, greed etc.). Kaadheh(i) Maar(i) = beat them away. 1. Sayee = the same. Kem Kmaayay = perform deeds. Pause. Sehj Dhoon = the music of the Shabad leading to the high spiritual state. Oopjaiy = is produced. Sehjay = without any special effort. 2. Mookh Sohnay = glowing face due to the purity of mind. Oordhaar(i) = embedded in heart. Aiythaiy Oathaiy = here and there; everywhere. Ghunaa = immense. Ootraiy Paar(i) = land on the other side of (swim across) the sea of Maya. 3.

MEANING: (Some Hindus stay awake all night and sing praise of their goddess, but that is not approved by Waheguru as His worship). Only those devotees are considered truly awake who stay awake in the love of Waheguru, and wash away the filth of their selfishness and ego. They always stay alert and protect their mind against the attacks of the five demons (lust, greed, etc.) and beat them away. 1.
Recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh my mind. But the human mind performs the same kind of deeds which Waheguru has preprogrammed for them. Pause.
The music of the Guru's Shabad leading to the high spiritual state is produced in the minds of the Sikhs of the Guru, by which the suffering caused by their selfishness and ego disappears. Waheguru's Naam is enshrined in their minds, and they sing Waheguru's praise without any special effort. 2. With Guru's Advice, they embed Waheguru's Naam in their heart, and their faces glow because of the purity of their mind. They enjoy immense bliss everywhere and swim across the world sea by reciting Waheguru's Naam. 3.

Word Meaning: Na puvyee Thaayayn = is not rewarded. Dhoyee = shelter. Luhheh(i) = acquire. 4. Dhrig(u) = condemnable; disgraceful. Bishta = feces; filth of Maya. Keerray = worms. Raatay = imbued in; intoxicated with. Khooaar(u) = suffer humiliation. 5. Vitoun = for. Bul(i) Jaaoun = offer to sacrifice. Sach(i) = with the eternal Naam. Smaaoun = merge with. 6. Pooraaiy Bhhag(i) = with perfect fortune. Oopaayay Kitaiy = by any other means. Sehj = peaceful state. 7. Bhuj(u) = rush to the shelter. Kernaiy Joag(u) = fully capable; omnipotent. Veesraiy = forget. Hoag(u) = will happen.
MEANING: Staying awake ritualistically all night to sing songs to please some deity is not worth anything for anyone because it is done for one's ego. Waheguru does not recognize such worship, and they do not get any reward for that. Such people are Maya-worshippers, as they perform deeds only for their love of Maya and do not receive any support in Waheguru's Court. 4. The eating and wearing of expensive clothes of those who love Maya is reprehensible. They are the worms of filth (of Maya), are imbued in the love of such filth, and suffer humiliation because of their repeated births and deaths. 5.
I am a sacrifice for those who worship Waheguru by reciting His Naam. 6.
However, one can connect with the Guru only with his great fortune; there is absolutely no other way to connect with Him. When one connects with Satguru, his selfishness and ego are eradicated by Satguru's Shabad, and he attains a high spiritual state. 7.
Rush to the shelter of Waheguru, which is capable of doing anything (is omnipotent), oh my mind. Only that which Waheguru wishes to do happens. So, (accept His Will), and make sure that you do not forget His Naam, oh Nanak. 8.2.7.2.9.

Word Meaning: Soot(u) = son. Bunita = wife. Choogeh(i) Choag = pick the bait (of Maya) (enjoy luxuries of life). Joogta = with technique; systematically. Oorjh(i) = gets entangled; engrossed. Meetth Mohaara = in the sweet worldly attachments. Goon Gaahuk = the customers (dealers in) Waheguru's virtues (His Naam). 1. Untarjaami = omniscient. Dhur = Tik = support. Vud Purakh = the Great Waheguru. Pause. Chhul = deceitful. Naagin = snake (Maya). Tootun Hoyee = break up. Jhootthi = short-lived. Dhohi = deceptive. Kauraayay = bitter. Aghaayay = fully contented. 2. Loabh = greed. Vikhoat(i) = trust. Chhoat(i) = freedom from. Tthugvaari = deceitful. Gaalay = destroyed. Kirpaalay = kind; merciful. 3. Tthaat(u) = partnership; friendship. Kaani = with ears (carefully). Chundaal = savage. 4.

MEANING: Along with his parents, brothers, sons, and wife, the man enjoys the luxuries of life in a systematic way (in which he gets trapped). He gets entangled in his worldly attachments, which he finds sweet. But the dealers in Waheguru's Naam are the basis of my life. 1. I have faith only in the support of Waheguru, who is omniscient and the great King of kings. Pause. The Guru explained to me that the attractions of Maya are deceitful and are short-lived; they taste sweet, but are bitter when taken (have harmful consequences). So, I have broken all connections with Maya, and my mind is fully contented with the Amrit-like Naam of Waheguru. 2

The kind Satguru has freed me from the bonds of greed and worldly attachments, and I have lost trust in them (they no longer appeal to me). The deceptive Maya has ruined countless homes, but the Guru protected me from its attacks. 3. I listened carefully to the Guru's advice; as a result, I have no friendship with lust or rage either. I find the savage Maya everywhere I look, but my Waheguru-like Guru protected me. 4.

Tu tthaakur, eh(u) greh(u) subh(u) tayra. Kuhhou Nanak, Gur(i) keeya nibayra. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Dus Naari = the ten senses. Doohaagun(i) = window; broke complete connection. Ruseh(i) = sweetness; enjoyments. Bikhaagun = bikh + aagun = poison + fire = fiery poison. Sunbundhi = connection with. Rusaatul(i) = underworld; lowest spiritual level. 5. Ahunmayv = conceit. Muslut(i) = consultation; company. Hoadi = obstinate. Neeghur(u) = homeless; causes the mind to waver, and does not allow it to be peaceful. Liv Laayay = with deep meditation on the Naam. 6. Inn Loagun = these vices. Baiyraayi = enemy. Khutaayo = mix; stay together. Unchur(i) Laag(i) = with the support (of the Guru). Tupaavus(u) = judgment. Serbaag(i) = know-all. 7. Niaayay = justice. Sugul Doot = all senses and the five demons. Tthaakur = lord. Nibayra = final judgement. 8.

MEANING: My Satguru explained to me that the enjoyments of the senses are a fiery (spiritually fatal) poison. So, I have widowed all my ten senses (broke all connections with them). Those who make a connection with them (enjoy them) are reduced to the lowest spiritual level. But my Guru protected me by enabling me to focus on Waheguru's Naam. 5.
My Guru explained to me that one's ego is highly obstinate (persistent) and makes one foolish; it causes the mind to be unstable (to waver continuously) and prevents it from being peaceful. So, I have quit the company of (broken connection with) my ego by focusing my mind on Waheguru's Naam with the grace of the Guru. 6.
I have become enemies with such vices because virtues and vices cannot stay together in one's mind. With the support (blessings) of the Guru, I came to the shelter of the omniscient Waheguru, requesting Him to deliver His judgment (on my changed character). 7.
Waheguru said smilingly that He has delivered His justice, and has put all my senses in my service so that I am the lord (in complete control) of my house (mind). This was the final judgment of the Guru, oh Nanak. 8.1.

Word Meaning: Muhha = huge. Ahunkaara = ego. Bisthaara = sprawl; show off. Chukur = religious symbols. Kub Hee Na = never. 1. It(u) Sunjum(i) = by such means. Bhugauti = of devotion. Moodra = symbols. Mohiya = captivated. Pause. Punchaan = the five demons. Buss(i) = possessed by. Nishunk = without any fear of any reprisal. Jumpur(i) = in the city (court) of the Angel of death. Kaalunk = disgraced (due to his sins). 2. Ghoonghur = small bells. Bujaaveh(i) Taala = dances to the tune. Kupt(u) = deceit. Baytaala = out of step with life-style of high morality. Vermi = the burrow of a snake. Saap = snake. 3. Poon-ur Taap = to build fire (especially on hot days to torture self). Gary Kay Bustra = saffron clothes (of yogis). Upda = tough times. Greh(i) Tay = from home. Perdayseh(i) = foreign lands, Punch Chundaal = the five demons. 4.

MEANING: Many people worship their deities with a big show-off, but they have rage and a big ego in their hearts. They wash their bodies and paint religious symbols on them. But the filth of their minds never goes away. 1.

They do wear all the symbols of a devotee, but their mind is captivated by Maya (worldly attractions); nobody can realize Waheguru by such means. Pause.

Possessed by the five demons, the man commits many sins, but is under the misbelief that they are all washed away by taking a dip at a holy place. With no fear of any reprisal under this severe misbelief, he commits more and more sins, as a result of which he is disgraced and is taken to the court of the Angel of death (justice). 2.

He wears anklets with bells on his feet and dances to the music as his way of idol-worship. But, because of the deceit in his mind, he goes around completely unsynchronized with the life of high morality. It is like destroying a snake's burrow without killing it. He does not realize that Waheguru, who created him, knows everything about him. 3.

Many people wear saffron clothes and build fires around them on hot days to mislead people into thinking they are devoted. But, in reality, beaten by the suffering of some hard times, they run away from their homes as an escape. They leave their homes to go away to distant places, but they take the five demons with them. 4.

Word Meaning: Kaan = ears. Phuraayay = pierced. Hiraayay = looks for. Tooka = roti; food. Triptaavun Tay = from contentment. Chooka = misses; cannot have. Bud Nudr(i) = evil Sight. Pur Naari = other women. Vays(i) = the garb of some sect. Dookhiyaari = sufferer. 5. Moani = mute. Kulp = imaginations. Joani = in different life forms. Unn = food. Tay Rehta = goes without. Sehta = endures. Viyaapiya = overpowered by. Mumta = worldly attachments. 6. Perm Gutay = the highest spiritual state. Simrutay = Simritis. Ajaayeen = useless. Baaloo Ghur = a house of sand. Tthaur Na Tthaayeen = shelter and the like. 7. Baandhiyo Paala = remember always. Koat(i) Mudhay = among millions. Sung(i) = in the company. 8. Bhaag = good fortune. Ta = then. Kootumb(u) = family; associates. Pause 2.

MEANING: They get their ears pierced because of their faith, but look for food for which they go begging from door to door, but never get contentment. They leave their wives behind, but cast evil eyes on other women. One cannot realize Waheguru by wearing religious garb; in fact, he suffers greatly. 5. A hermit decides not to talk for long periods and stays quiet. But his mind never rests, and has countless thoughts; as a result, he is taken through many, many different life forms. He does not eat food, and endures the suffering on his body (by staying hungry). Overpowered by worldly attachments, he does not understand Waheguru's Huqam (Will). 6. You can ask (read in) the Vedas or the Simritis if you will, and you will find that nobody has ever attained a high spiritual state without a Satguru. Like building a house of sand, where one can find no shelter or protection, the Maya-worshipper performs deeds that are (spiritually) useless. 7.
The devotee, whom Waheguru become kind to, enshrines Guru's Words (Shabad) in his heart and remembers them. But only one such holy saint can be seen in millions, in whose company one can swim across the sea of Maya, oh Nanak. 8.
It is only with a great fortune that one has the holy sight of such a saint who swims across the world-sea himself, and ferries all his associates to the other end of the world-sea. Pause 2

Apunaiy Tthaakur(i) nudr(i) nihaaliya. 4. ---------

Word Meaning: Simrut = by reciting. KIlbikh = sins. Kaatay = destroyed. Kaagur = papers (records of accounts). Phaatay = torn. Rid Maah(i) = in the heart. 1. Rumut = remembering (reciting Naam). Pause. Chooka = ended. Gaun = births and deaths. Mookut(i) Dooaara = the door to emancipation. Sud = always. Raata = imbued. Junaaya = explained. Tub Hee = only then. Jaata = understood; made a connection with. Ruvviya = is present. Soyay = the same (Waheguru). Beejo = other. Baiyr = enmity. Biroadh = opposition. Chhayday = pierced; destroyed. Bhaiy = fears. Bherma = misgivings. Poonn(i) Aatmaiy = for purification of the soul. Keenay Dherma = did the noble deed. 3. Muhha Trung = the huge (difficult to swim in) world-sea. Kaandhaiy Laaya = brought to the shore. Toota = disconnected. Gaandha = reconnected. Jup, Tup, Sunjum = the ritualistic deeds. Nihaaliya = saw. 4.

MEANING: All one's sins are eradicated, and the records of the accounts of his deeds maintained by the Angel of justice get shredded when he recites Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. Waheguru's Naam gets enshrined in his heart, and he enjoys its sweet taste (feels blissful). 1. The devotees, who get absorbed in Waheguru's Naam by reciting it, attain blissfulness. Pause. The darkness of ignorance disappears, and the cycle of rebirths ends for such devotees, and they reach the door of emancipation with the grace of the Guru. The devotees recognize Waheguru (get connected with Him) only when the Guru explains it to them (through His Shabad), and their body and mind become imbued with the love for His worship. 2.

Waheguru is present in every heart, and there is none other than Him. All the enmities and disputes of the devotees come to an end, and all their worldly fears and misbeliefs disappear. Waheguru does this noble deed to purify the souls of His devotees. 3.

When the Lord casts a kind Sight on His devotees, they recite His Naam, which subsumes all types of ritualistic worship. They swim across the vast and difficult world-sea and connect with Waheguru, whom they had been disconnected from for many lives. 4.

Word Meaning: Mungul = happiness. Kulyaan = wellbeing. Tithaayeen = there. Jeh = where. Sayvuk = devotee. Soopersunn = overly pleased. Bitaal = (spiritually) unproductive deeds. 5. Hoam = huvuns. Oordh Tup = worship some deity by suspending self upside down. Churn Kumul = the lotus-like Feet of God (Waheguru's Naam). Nimukh = for a moment. Dhaaray = acquire; enshrine. Kaaruj Saaray = objectives achieved. 6. Sehj(i) Dhiyaan = focus mind in the peaceful state. Baanchhoun = long for. Dhoor(i) = dust of feet. Serb-kulaa = all powerful; omnipotent. Bhurpoor(i) = omnipresent. 7. Nayra = close by. Bhervaasa = faith. Ker(u) = hands. Geh(i) = by holding. Laanay = made. Goontaas = treasure of virtues (God). 8.

MEANING: There is happiness, comforts, and wellbeing where Waheguru's devotees are present (sing His praise). Waheguru gets so pleased with them that their spiritually unproductive deeds come to an end. 5. When the devotees enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart - even if it is for a short moment - all their objectives are successfully achieved, and they get the rewards of all huvuns, yugas, worshipping some deity while suspending self upside down, and taking dips at countless holy places. 6.

When a devotee meditates deeply on Waheguru's Naam, he realizes that Waheguru's residence (His transcendence) is higher than the highest. I long for the dust of the feet of (show reverence for) the slaves of the devotees who see the omnipotent Waheguru fully present everywhere. 7.

Dear Waheguru is very close to me, and I have more faith in Him than in my mother, father, friends, and relatives. He made me His own by holding me by the hand, and now I survive only by reciting the Naam the Waheguru, which is the treasure of all virtues, oh Nanak. 8.3.

Word Meaning: Shunka = doubt; fear. Aapun Rung(i) = lost in own thoughts. Sehj = the high spiritual state. Pergaasi = enlightened; attained. 1. Jot(i) = enlightenment. Ruttan(u) = jewel (like). Pause. Anund = bliss. Door(i) Puyyaana = runs away. Maanuk(u) = pearl-like. Tutt(u) = the origin of everything (God). Lookaana = hides; acquires. 2. Bhaana = Will. Ivv = like this. 3. Kilbikh = sins. MEANING: Pondering on Him, I have realized the jewel-like precious God whereby the Divine Light has enlightened my heart, and all darkness of my ignorance has disappeared. Pause. Lost in my own thoughts (about God), I have attained the high spiritual state, and all my fears about birth and death have run away. 1. My mind, which has become pure like a pearl, has acquired God (which was present hidden before); and because of the blissfulness in my mind, all my suffering has gone far away. 2. Word Meaning: Allah(u) = God. Museet(i) = mosque. Bust(u) Haiy = resides. Kis(u) Kayra = whose. Naam = God. Nivaasi = dweller. Tutt(u) = reality (God). Hayra = saw. 1. Mihraamut(i) = mercy. Pause. Dukkhun Days = south India (Jagan Naath, Puri). Hurie = God. Baasa = dwelling. Puchhum(i) = in the west (Qaba in Mecca). Mookaama = residence. Tthaur = shelter; home. 2. Giyaas = the eleventh day after new and full moon. Chaubees = 24 (2 giyaases each month). Meh Rumjaana = the month of Ramadan. Giyaarah = eleven. Paas Kaiy Raakhaiy = leaves aside. Nidhaan = treasure (God). 3. Oodisay = Jugan Nath Puri temple in the state of Oodisa. Kuhhan = so what? What is the use? Mujun(u) = take dip. Sir Naayay = bow down. Kupt(u) = deceit. Nivaaj Goojaaray = offer prayer. 4. Aitay = so many. Roop = forms. Poongra = a small child. 5. Nur = men. Nurvaiy = women. Sherna = shelter. Praani = oh, man. Nihchaiy = for sure. 6.

MEANING: (According to the Muslim belief), if Allah resides only in the Great Mosque in Mecca, then to whom does the rest of the country (world) belong? Similarly, the Hindus believe that God resides in the idol; so, neither of the two has seen (comprehended) the reality (of God). 1. Please, be kind to me so that Your Naam becomes the basis (objective) of my life, oh Lord - Ram, and Allah. Pause.

The Hindus believe that their God resides in southern India (in the Temple of Jagannath in Odisha), while the Muslims believe that their Allah resides in the West (of India) (in the Kaaba in Mecca). Search Him only in your heart, and that is where He resides, oh man. 2.

The Brahman (Hindus) believes that the eleventh day after the new and the full moon is holy (two days a month), so he considers only 24 days as the holy days. On the other hand, the Qazi (Muslims) believes that only the month of Ramadan is holy (and one can realize the treasure, Allah, only in that month); in that case, what about the other eleven months, which he leaves aside. 3. What is the use of taking dips in Odisha, and what is the use of bowing down in a mosque, and what is the use of offering a nivaaj, or going on Hajj in Qaba (Mecca) if one has deceit in his mind? 4.

God has created countless men and women, all of whom are His different forms (as He resides in all of them); I am a small child of Ram and Allah, and all the religious teachers of both religions (if approved by God) are my gurus, oh Kabir. 5.

Kabir suggests to all the men and the women that they take shelter of the “One” and recite His Naam only. That is how you will surely swim across the sea of Maya. 6.2.

Word Meaning: Uvul(i) = first of all. Noor(u) = light; Supreme Soul. Oopaaya = created. Koodrut(i) = nature (God). Bunday = humans. Jug = world. Bhulay = good. Munday = bad. 1. Loaga = hey, folks. Bherm(i) Na Bhoolhou = do not be misled by misbeliefs. Khaalik = Creator. Khuluk = creation. Poor(i) Ruhhiyo = fully present. Serb Tthaayeen = everywhere. Pause. Maati = earth; mud. Anayk = countless. Bhaant(i) = kinds; varieties. Saaji = created. Poach = weakness; fault. Bhaanday = vessels; humans. Koombhaaraiy = in the potter (God). 2. Soyee = the same (God). Bunda = slave; devotee. Alukh(u) = invisible; incomprehensible. Goorr(i) = the sweet (Waheguru's Naam). Serb = in all. Nirunjun(u) = above the effects of Maya (God). Deettha = saw. 4.

MEANING: First of all, Allah created Light (the Supreme Soul) from which the whole world came into being. Since all humans are created from the same Supreme Soul, how can we say that some are good and some are bad? 1.

Do not be misled by your misbeliefs, oh my friends. God is present in His people, and the people are present in the Creator, which is present everywhere. Pause.

Like a potter who makes many different kinds of pots from the same mud (clay), God has created many kinds of human-pots from the same earth (basic ingredients). Although all human pots are different, there is no fault in the pots or in the potter (God). 2.

It is the same eternal God in all of us, as everything has been created by Him. The individual who recognizes Him in everybody is His true devotee. 3.

Allah is incomprehensible, but the Guru has given His sweet Naam by which we can see Him everywhere, oh Kabir. 4.

Word Meaning: Bayd = Vedas. Kutayb = the holy books of the western religions (Quran, Bible, Torah etc.). Mut = do not. Jhootthay = untrue; false. Juou = when. Khoodaayay = God. Moorgi Maaraiy = kill a chicken. Jeaou = the fowl. Aaniya = brought. Binaasi = destroyed; killed. Bismil = in the name of Allah. Jot(i) Sroop = Light-like God. Anaahut = immortal (God). Hulaal = worthy of offering to God. 2. Ooj(u) = washing of hands and feet before offering nivaaj (prayer). Paak(u) = holy; purify. Sir(u) Laaya = put head on the floor. Kupt(u) = deceit. Hujj = the pilgrimage of Qaba. 3. Naapaak = unholy. Paak(u) = holy (God). Soojhiya = think of. Merm(u) = secrets. Bhist(i) = paradise. Chooka = missed. Dojuk = hell. Maaniya = satisfied. 4.3.

MEANING: Do not call the Vedas and the Western holy books to contain lies; the liar (dishonest) is the person who does not ponder on them without any bias. However, why do you kill a chicken as a sacrifice for Allah if, at the same time, you believe that Allah is present in everybody? (Believing that Allah loves sacrifices, Muslims sacrifice an animal in the name of Allah on the last day of Ramadan). You teach justice of Allah to others, but you cannot get rid of your own misbeliefs, oh Moolah. Pause.

You catch the fowl and bring it for sacrifice. You kill its body, which is now lifeless, in the name of Allah; when its soul goes to God, it was already a part of His, so, what is that you have made worthy of offering to Allah? (The body was lifeless, and the soul of the dead fowl was already a part of Allah), So you are simply cheating yourself, oh Moolah. What do you purify by washing your hands, feet, and face when you have deceit in your mind? In that case, what is the use of even putting your head on the floor in the mosque, and of going on Hajj in Qaba (Mecca)? 3. You are unholy, and cannot think of the Holy (Allah), and do not know His secrets (that is what He wishes His devotees to do). You have missed your opportunity to go to paradise, and now you must satisfy yourself to go to hell, oh Kabir. 4.4.

MEANING: Getting absorbed in You (Your Naam) in a high spiritual state (in which no thoughts about Maya arise), is Your true worship three times daily, oh the mine (source) of enlightenment, and the origin of the universe, Lord. The Sidh yogis could not find Your limits even in their deep meditations on You. 1.

Waiting with the hope to see God, Brahma ponders on his Vedas with full focus, but even he cannot comprehend the incomprehensible God. Worshipping Satguru is the only true performance of aarti of God, oh my brothers. Pause.
Using the Divine Knowledge as the oil, and focusing on God's Naam as the wick, I have lit the lamp to enlighten my mind. But some rare enlightened devotee understands this secret to connect with God. 2. This is the aarti I offer to God, who is above the effects of Maya, and all worldly desires. With God in my mind, I am so blissful that I feel as if all five types of musical instruments are playing Divine Music in my mind, oh Kabir. 3.5.

MEANING: My God is present everywhere, and my mind has been stitched to the Lord of the world (I am connected with Him). Only one's mind knows its pain, or he should share it only with God, who already knows our condition. So why should I be afraid of (worry about) anything when I remember the omnipresent God? 1.
My mind has been pierced with my love for God, and I see Him everywhere. Pause.
God resides in Your bazaar-like mind, where He has the store (of His Naam). God, which appears in many forms, is present in everybody's heart, but the Maya-engrossed man is misled by his misbeliefs (and does not understand Him). 2.

My mind is imbued with Guru's Shabad, as a result of which, my indecisiveness has disappeared in my high spiritual state. Realizing that it is His Huqam (Will) which is a manifestation of Him, operates everywhere, and pondering on that, I have become fully unbiased, and view everybody the same way. 3.
With the amazing God in my heart (mind), I have realized Him, who is the Soul of the world. Even the routine conversation of those devotees who sing God's praise by understanding Him includes His virtues, oh Namdev. 4.1.

MEANING: God is described only as being continuously present everywhere, but, from the beginning of the universe, and from the beginning of the eons, nobody has ever been able to find His limits. 1. When a devotee moulds his life according to the Guru's Shabad, God appears in his heart with a roar (clearly showing His presence). From my experience, I can only say that my God is always blissful (a source of bliss). Pause.
Just like all the neighbouring trees in a forest enjoy the fragrance of a sandal tree, and become like that, a devotee, who worships God, which is the source of all sweet fragrances, becomes like Him. 2. You are like the elixir stone, and I am like iron; I have become pure like gold in Your shelter, oh God. You are very kind, and invaluable like a jewel or a ruby, and I have been absorbed in Your Naam, says Namdev. 3.2.

Word Meaning: Akool = having no clan. Purakh = Living Power (God). Chulit = amazing feat. Oopaaya = created. Braham = God. Lookaaya = kept hidden. Jot(i) = God's Light. Maloom(u) = is known. Pause. Pergasiya = is created. Maati Koombhayo = an earthen vessel Beethul Dayo = God. 2. Bundhun(u) = trap. Kerm = deeds. Biyaapaiy = affects. Aapaiy = God, Himself. 3. Prunvut(i) = makes humble request. Chitvaiy = thinks of. Luhhaiy = aquires. Amar(u) = immortal. Akool Ruhhaiy = stay connected with God. 4.3.

MEANING: God, which has no clan, but is present hidden in every heart, has shown an amazing feat in creating the drama of the world. 1.

Nobody among the people knows the Light (Soul) of the hidden God, but He knows everything that you and I do. Pause.

Just like an earthen vessel is created by the potter from earth, the man is also created from earth and a few other elements. But it is God who is the creator. 2.

Man's deeds affect his character and become a trap for him. But the man cannot be blamed entirely, because it is God who is behind his acts (deeds). (He makes the man do the kinds of deeds which are prewritten in his fate by Waheguru). 3.

A devotee, who stays absorbed in God (His Naam), can have any of his wishes fulfilled, and also becomes immortal, submits Namdev humbly. 4.3.

Word Meaning: Tun(i) = on the body. Chundun = ground sandalwood. Paati = leaves. Rid Untar(i) = in mind. Ker Tul = palms of hands. Tthug = deceit. Disht(i) = in eyes. Bugga = (like a) heron (a deceptive bird). Liv Laaga = with the Sight focused. Baishno = a devotee of Vishnu. Praan = breaths. Bhaaga = ran away. Kul(i) = in Kulyug(i); in this world. Bund = (eyes) closed. Chiramun(g) = for a long time. Kuroor Disht(i) = glance with a squinted eye. Nis = night (and day). Baadun(g) = worthless discussions. Pause. Chhoori = knife. Sundhiyaani = aimed. Pur Derb = wealth of others. Hirn = to steal. Baani = habit.

2. Sil = idol. Chukur = symbols. Jaagus = stays up. Pervashin(g) = entering; to perform. Pug Naachis = feet dance. Ukermun(g) = evil deeds (thoughts). Lumput = lusty; lewd. Adhermun(g) = nonreligious. 3. Mirg = Deer (skin). Aasun(u) = seat. Toolsi Maala = rosary of basil. Ker Oojul = clean hands. Tilk(u) = anointment. Kupaala = on the forehead. Koorr(u) = falseness. Kuntth(i) = around the neck. Roodraakhun(u) = (necklace) of the beads of the Roodar tree. Krishan(u) = God. Abhaakhun(u) = not say. 4. Aatum Tuut(u) = the root of the soul (God). Cheeniya = recognized; got connected with. Phokut = useless. Abeeniya = of the blind. Baat = the true path. 5.

MEANING: To show his fake religiosity, the hypocrite Brahman makes religious symbols on his body, and anoints his forehead with the paste of sandalwood leaves; but has a knife in the palm of his mind (to wound people and suck their blood, i.e., to rob them). He has deceit in his eyes, but fakes to be meditating like a heron, which focuses its sight only on one spot (to catch fish). He has the looks of a devotee of Vishnu, and pretends to be so absorbed in his worship as if he were taking his last breath. 1.

He closes his eyes for a long time before the idol to worship him, but has evil sight (thinking), and is lost in the thoughts of useless religious debates. Pause.

He washes his body every day, maintains two dhotis, performs all rituals, and pretends to live on milk only (and not eat any solid food). But it is his routine to rob people, for which he keeps the knife of his thoughts aimed at his prey. 2. He paints the symbols of Ganesh on his body and worships the stone idol. To perform his hypocritical worship, he sometimes stays awake through the night; even though his feet dance in worship, his mind is always plotting evil deeds. Such a dance by the lewd Brahman is not an act of religiosity. 3.

He sits on a deer skin, wears a necklace of basil, and puts a tilak (anointment) on his forehead (all religious symbols). He also wears a necklace of Rudra Tree seeds. But the lustful does not recite the Naam of God. 4. All such deeds of the blind individual, who does not recognize (make a connection with God, which is the basis of all souls, are worthless. One should recite the Naam of God in the Guru's shelter because one cannot follow the path leading to union with God without the Guru, oh, Baiyni. 5.1.

Kaal(u) = time. Taiysay = the same way. Aaj(u) = today; every moment. 2.
MEANING: The comforts of the world are short-lived, and so is the whole creation. So, quit the company of (your involvement with) Maya, and seek Waheguru's shelter. The only worthy task to do is to recite Waheguru's Naam, oh man. Pause.
Recognize the fact that all your wealth is short-lived like a dream, so what are you conceited about? The reign of some state is also short-lived, like the wall of sand. 1.
There are some words of advice from Nanak for you: your body will eventually perish, oh man. With each moment, the time (your life span) has been used up (without reciting Waheguru's Naam) and even today (the remaining time) will end with each moment (so start reciting His Naam), oh man. 2.1.

Word Meaning: Bhuj(u) = worship; recite Naam. Siraat(u) Haiy = is spending (running out). Baar, Baar = again, and again. Guvaar = foolish. Baar = time; moment. Oray Sum = like a small hail. Gaat(u) = body. Pause. Sugul = all. Daar(I) Dayh(i) = drop (from mind); forget them. Sung(i) = with. 1. Bikhiya = poison-like (Maya). Bikh(u) = poison. Bisaar(i) = forget. Jus(u) = praise. Dhaar(i) = acquire. Aousur(u) = opportunity. Bihaat(u) Haiy = is spending (slipping away).

MEANING: How can I explain to you again, and again, that the time of your life is running out (wastefully), so start reciting Waheguru's Naam; but you do not understand, oh the foolish man. Your body is perishable like a small hail which does not take any time to melt away (in warm temperatures), oh man. Pause.

Drop all the misbeliefs (about Maya) from your mind, and recite Waheguru's Naam. This is the only thing that accompanies you at the time of your death. 1.

Forget the killing sensual pleasures (of high morality) like poison, and acquire Waheguru's praise in your heart. I, Nanak, a slave of Waheguru, am warning you aloud that your opportunity (to connect with Waheguru) is slipping away. 2.2.

Word Meaning: Kaun Gut(i) = what condition? Kaan(i) = listen with ears (carefully). Bikhiun Siyoun = with immoral enjoyments. Ut(i) = extremely. Loobhaan(i) = engrossed in. Mut(i) = thinking. Naahin = not. Phayri = turn around. Maanus Ko = of human being. Nimukh = a short moment. Daara = wife. Deen(u) = weak; helpless. Pughoun = on feet. Bayri = shackles. Pookaar(i) = aloud. Pusaar(u) = expanse. Mooraar(i) = Waheguru. Ja Kee = of whom. Chayri = slave. 2.

MEANING: I wonder what your condition will be like, oh man. Waheguru's Naam is the objective of human life in this world, which you have not listened to carefully (or recited). You are so deeply engrossed in the enjoyment of sensual pleasures that your thinking has not turned around (from sensual enjoyments to Waheguru's Naam). Pause.

You were given the human life (to have union with God), but you did not remember Him even for a short moment. Enjoying the comforts of your wife, you have become morally very weak, and your feet have been put in shackles (you cannot walk on the path of morality). 1.

I, Nanak, am telling you aloud that the expanse of the world is like a dream (short-lived). So, why do you not remember (recite the Naam of) Waheguru, of which Maya is the slave (and which are engrossed in), oh man. 2.3.

The body, which you think is everlasting, will turn into ash (any time); so why do you not recite Waheguru's Naam, oh the foolish and shameless man? 1.

Nanak advises you to quit (overcome) your ego, enshrine Waheguru's Naam in your heart, and live with honour, oh man. 2.4.

MEANING: There is only one Supreme being, who has eternal existence. He is the living power and is the creator. He is fearless (as He has no superior), bears no enmity with anyone (as He has no rival); time has no effect on Him, and He never takes any life form. He is self-illuminated and can be realized only with the grace of the Guru.

Word Meaning: Poostuk = (religious) books. Sundhiya = ritualistic prayers. Baadun(g) = religious debates. Sil = rock; idol. Poojus(i) = worships. Bagul Smaadhun(g) = meditate (hypocritically) like a heron (with deceit in mind). Bibhookun = ornaments; beautifies with ornamental wording. Saarun(g) = supreme. Traiypal = the three-lined Gayatri Mantrs. Tihaal = three times a day. Bichaarun(g) = ponders on; recites. Maala = beads – necklace. Rosary. Doyay = two. Kupaatun(g) = on the head. Brahman(g) = about Waheguru. Kermun(u) = deeds. Phokut = worthless. Nischaiy = for sure. Nischau = with full faith. Baat = path (to connect with Waheguru). 1.

MEANING: The Brahman reads his religious books and offers his ritualistic prayers too, but participates in (spiritually worthless debates to boost his ego. He worships idols and meditates like a heron as he has deceit in his mind (the heron focuses his sight, but only to catch its prey). He wears a ritualistic necklace around his neck and anoints his forehead. He also recites the holy Gayatri Mantra three times a day and has two dhotis; he covers his head with one while praying. But tells lies in beautiful, sweet words. Those who know the deeds to perform to please Waheguru know for sure that all such deeds of the Brahman are spiritually worthless. No one can find the true path (to have union with Waheguru) without Satguru; and the path is to recite Waheguru's Naam with full faith, oh Nanak. 1.

MEANING: The life of the individual goes to waste as long as he does not make a connection with Waheguru. The world is a sea of Maya, which many people swim across with the grace of the Guru. If one thinks carefully, they would know that Waheguru, who is fully capable of doing everything, is the creator of the basic ingredients to create the universe, oh Nanak. MEANING: (According to the societal expectations), the primary responsibility (objective) of the yogis is to acquire the knowledge of their faith, while that of the Brahmans is to read the Vedas. Similarly, the primary responsibility of the Khatris is to fight with valour, and that of the lowest classes is to serve others. However, if someone knows the secret (of human responsibility), he knows that the primary responsibility of everyone is to serve Waheguru (by reciting His Naam and living as per the Teachings of the Guru). And where does the love of his beloved brothers, friends, other relatives, and his family go? Where does the mind-captivating but capricious Maya go, who leaves him while he is still watching (under his eyes)? With the precious human body, the man falls into the deep well of

The ignorant man believes it to be immortal, and does not remember (recite the Naam of) Waheguru. The invaluable human body finds salvation only in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. MEANING: The beauty of things is declining (is perishable), and so is the glow of the sun, the moon, and the stars in the sky (they are all perishable). The earth, the mountains, and the trees with tall tops are all perishable. One's love for his wife, his sons, and his brothers is short-lived, and so are the different forms of Maya, including gold and pearls. MEANING: The man with low wisdom gets engrossed in the enjoyment of the love of his wife with passion. He puts effort into maintaining his youthfulness and strength, and adorns himself with golden earrings. He enjoys his beautiful mansions and his expensive, good-looking clothes. This is how Maya affects (captivates) people in life. I bow to the immortal Waheguru, and long for the shelter of His holy saints (to be protected from the attacks of Maya), oh Nanak. 11.

While people enjoy the luxuries of life, ailments follow them. If one flies high at one time, he may drop to earth sometime in the future; similarly, people in low positions may enjoy higher positions. A rajah may be highly conceited of his power, but at some point, he may suffer humiliation (and may lose his power). But everything ends with the person's death. Only Waheguru's worship is everlasting, which accompanies the man even after his death. I wish for the Mental food of Waheguru's worship, oh Nanak. 12.

Such people never achieve success, no matter how many different measures they try; they are taken through the hell of death and births. Reciting Waheguru's Naam in the company of the holy saints purifies the mind. So, sing Waheguru's praise all the time, oh Nanak. 42.

The never-ending griefs change into happy occasions, and the people who have become weak because of their fears become fearless, and a frightening jungle becomes a big residential city. These are the feelings of the highly spiritual devotees, who acquire them with the benevolence of Waheguru. So, recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru and acquire the shelter of the Feet (Naam) of the benevolent Waheguru, oh Nanak. 44.

Manookhyun(g) = humans. Bimohneh = captivate. Kernhaarun(g) = the creator. Numuskaarun(g) = salute; bow to. 45.

You have access to all the humans in the three-layered universe, captivate their minds, and destroy their efforts to have union with Waheguru and their noble nature. For a little enjoyment, you rob them of their spiritual wealth; you do not rest at any one place, and equally overpower the rich and the poor. With the benevolence of Waheguru, one can get rid of one's control on his mind in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 46.

With the network of different attractions of Maya, you cause a break-up between the friends (including one's noble qualities), and make strong bonds with the enemies (including one's evil qualities). The living beings get exhausted as they go through many different life forms because of you, and experience both comforts and suffering. You are an incurable disease, and under your influence, humans are misled by their misbeliefs and feel as if they are wandering through some kind of wilderness (where they cannot find the path of righteousness). Oh, ego. Waheguru is the physician to cure this disease, so always remember Waheguru, oh Nanak. 49.

MEANING: The beauty of nature is everywhere – the sky looks attractive with the moon and the stars, and the earth underneath looks highly attractive with its mountains, rivers, and lovely flowers and vegetation, while the glimmer of lightning shines on my face from every direction (Waheguru enlightens every mind), oh my friend. How attractive the nature of Waheguru is!! But, forgetting the presence of its Creator, Waheguru, I am a foolish person who is looking for Him, far away from my home (heart). I do not realize that if one is fortunate, he can get absorbed in His Sight (can unite with Him), anywhere, oh Lord. 9.

MEANING: I have seen all worldly places, but none is like you (the gathering of holy saints where Waheguru's praise is sung). You are so attractive spiritually because you have been put together by the Creator, Waheguru, Himself (with His blessings). The city of devotees of Waheguru is densely populated with noble qualities and is home to unparalleled spiritual beauty. All one's sins are washed away when he takes a dip in the pool of holy water of Waheguru's Naam recited in the holy gathering. 10.

The rainbird does not care about the large amounts of water in the rivers, lakes, or pools; he searches tirelessly in forests for that first drop of rainwater. I am a sacrifice for the devotee who looks only for Waheguru with the dedication of the rainbird, oh Nanak. 11.

MEANING: If I do not see the Guru, my eyes feel miserable, and my ears feel completely plugged without listening to the Guru's Shabad. I feel like cutting my tongue into small pieces if it does not recite Waheguru's Naam. I feel mentally weak every day when I forget You, oh my Waheguru. 14.

The man is just like the bumblebee, which gets trapped by the attractions of Maya and cannot free itself from its bonds. Is there anyone who can help me break my strong bond with Maya? Answer: There is only Waheguru who can break these bonds and connect the disconnected people with Him, oh Nanak. 15.

The same thing goes for Maya; if it is churned (used) with God's Naam with every breath, it is useful like extracting butter, and that is what the holy saints do. The rest of the world churns (uses) it to enjoy sensual pleasures, so it is drinking the (spiritually) useless buttermilk (wasting away its precious human life), oh Kabir. 18.

MEANING: People are afraid of death, but I feel blissful at the thought of death because it is after death that one attains supreme bliss if he merges with God, oh Kabir. (Even though the supreme devotees are always spiritually connected with God when they are still alive, they are physically distinct, and have to see the suffering of the world; so, they do not enjoy complete bliss. See Kabir Sahib Sloak 181).

Even Kabir Sahib’s mother and his wife complained about his worship of Waheguru (See Bilawal Kabir Ji, Shabad 4, page 856 SGGS).

So, he needs to look for and find the Perfect Guru for emancipation, oh Kabir. 49.

MEANING: Kabir Sahib compares low-caste people to turmeric, which has a yellow colour (which is considered to be less pure), and the high-caste people to quicklime (a chemical), which has a white colour (considered to be pure). Kabir Sahib says that a person who loves God can be "one" with Him only if he loses (rises above) both the colours, i.e., makes no distinction between the high and the low castes. 56.

ਕਬੀਰ ਹਰਦੀ ਪੀਰਤਨੁ ਹਰੈ ਚੂਨ ਚਿਹਨ ਨ ਰਹਾਇ॥ ਬਲਿਹਾਰੀ ਇਹ ਪ੍ਰੀਤਿ ਕਉ ਜਾਤਿ ਬਰਨੁ ਕੁਲੁ ਜਾਇ॥ 57॥

MEANING: The door of emancipation is so narrow that it is like one-tenth the size of a rye seed (has very stringent requirements for approval by Waheguru, and only a few people can go through that); but the man has an inflated ego because of which it feels like a huge elephant; so how can he go through that door, oh Kabir. 58.

ਕਬੀਰ ਐਸਾ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਜੇ ਮਿਲੈ ਤੁਠਾ ਕਰੇ ਪਸਾਉ॥ ਮੁਕਤਿ ਦੁਆਰਾ ਮੋਕਲਾ ਸਹਜੈ ਆਵਉ ਜਾਉ॥ 59॥

Kabir Sahib complains to God that some people suffer many personal hardships, like henna, to be approved by Him, but God does not even pay them any attention. 65.

NOTE: Guru Amar Dass Ji explains in a Sloak on page (947 of SGGS) that hard work (to acquire noble qualities) is certainly a good step in the direction to union with Waheguru, but hard work does not give them the right to unite with Him. It is with His benevolence that one merges into Him.

Word Meaning: Raat Jugaavun = stay awake at night (under the guidance of some unscrupulous guru). Some highly ignorant childless women go to the cremation ground, sit next to a burning pyre, and perform some witchery with two objectives in mind: all the children of the dead man would die, and she would have her own children. After reading some mantra given by the guru, she takes a nude bath, bakes roti, and eats that). Serpun = female snake. Aouturaiy = takes birth. Jaayay = offspring.

It is a risky game, like playing on a tall cross with no support once you fall from it. Once a devotee's mind becomes weak, and he falls for any sensual pleasure, all his previous hard labour to please Waheguru becomes null and void, and it will almost be impossible for him to earn God's trust again. 109.

MEANING: Like the dog, which has barking and rushing to the dead animals for its food in its nature, the man is also greedy by nature, and commits bad deeds. However, if he is fortunate, he seeks the company of Satguru, who frees him from committing such immoral deeds, oh Kabir. 209.

MEANING: The Guru is like the mother earth in terms of His patience, and is a source of all comforts for everybody. When some immoral person comes to his shelter with an honest mind, he leaves no negative impact of his bad character on the Guru, but only benefits in His company, oh Kabir. 210.

ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਕਬੀਰ ਚਾਵਲ ਕਾਰਨੇ ਤੁਖ ਕਉ ਮੁਹਲੀ ਲਾਇ॥ ਸੰਗਿ ਕੁਸੰਗੀ ਬੈਸਤੇ ਤਬ ਪੂਛੈ ਧਰਮਰਾਇ॥ 211॥

MEANING: The company of the rice is very harmful for its shells because the shells are hit hard with a heavy wooden shaft to recover rice. Similarly, the company of the immoral is harmful to good people, and the Angel of justice questions them (punishes them) for the bad company, oh Kabir. 211.

ਨਾਮਾ ਮਾਇਆ ਮੋਹਿਆ ਕਹੈ ਤਿਲੋਚਨੁ ਮੀਤ॥ ਕਾਹੇ ਛੀਪਹੁ ਛਾਇਲੈ ਰਾਮ ਨ ਲਾਵਹੁ ਚੀਤੁ॥ 212॥

Trilochan Ji was expecting Namdev Ji to be meditating at some secluded place, but was highly astonished to see Namdev Ji stamping sheets for quilts. At this, Tirlochun Ji commented that Namdev Ji had been captivated by Maya, to which Namdev Ji responded in the following Sloak. Both Sloaks are written by Kabir Sahib to enlighten people.
MEANING: Namdev Ji has been captivated by Maya; otherwise, why would he stamp sheets, asks Trilochan. 212.

ਨਾਮਾ ਕਹੈ ਤਿਲੋਚਨਾ ਮੁਖ ਤੇ ਰਾਮੁ ਸੰਮ੍ਹਾਲਿ॥

(PAGE 1376): Haath, paaoun kur(i) kaam(u) subh, cheet(u) Nirunjun naal(i). 213.
MEANING: Namdev Ji explained to Trilochan Ji that one should keep God in mind at all times and recite His Naam with the tongue, but he must earn his living by working with his hands and feet while his mind is attached to God. 213.

ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਕਬੀਰਾ ਹਮਰਾ ਕੋ ਨਹੀ ਹਮ ਕਿਸ ਹੂ ਕੇ ਨਾਹਿ॥ ਜਿਨਿ ਇਹੁ ਰਚਨ ਰਚਾਇਆ ਤਿਸ ਹੀ ਮਾਹਿ ਸਮਾਹਿ॥214

Mehla 5: Kabira, humra ko nuhhi, hum kis hoo kay naah(i). Jinh(i) eh(u) ruchun ruchaaya, Tis hee maah(i) smaah(i). 214.
MEANING: Expanding on the above Sloaks of Kabir Sahib, Guru Arjun Dev Ji explains that man is all on his own – nobody belongs to him, and he belongs to nobody- everybody is responsible for his own deeds. So, one must help himself (earn his living honestly and recite Waheguru's Naam), but nobody should get deeply involved in Maya, as the man is perishable, and ultimately gets absorbed in God who created him, oh Kabir. 214.

Word Meaning: Keechurr(i) = in mud. Aata = flour (extra wealth than needed). Aayo Haath = gain something. Peesut = while grinding. Chaabiya = chewed. Nibhiya = lasted.
MEANING: (Continuing with the idea in the above Sloaks, Kabir Sahib advises that) If one eats something (let us say almonds) during grinding, it is only that part of them which was his for sure; if the rest drops into mud, he cannot eat them, and they go to waste. Similarly, the only wealth that is useful to one is that which he uses over his lifetime; the rest goes to waste after his death as far as he is concerned. In other words, one should not be greedy and earn only that much wealth which he needs, oh Kabir. 215.

ਕਬੀਰ ਮਨ ਜਾਨੈ ਸਭ ਬਾਤ ਜਾਨਤ ਹੀ ਅਉਗਨੁ ਕਰੈ॥ ਕਾਹੇ ਕੀ ਕੁਸਲਾਤ ਹਾਥ ਦੀਪ ਕੂਏ ਪਰੈ॥ 216॥

Word Meaning: Chitvoun = think of.

MEANING: God does not do (respond to) whatever I think of, so what is the use of my thoughts (or imagination)? God does whatever He thinks of doing, and I could not have thought of that, oh Kabir. (God does not fulfil all your wishes, so it's no use having too many wishes). 219.

ਮ:3॥ ਚਿੰਤਾ ਭੀ ਆਪਿ ਕਰਾਇਸੀ ਅਚਿੰਤੁ ਭਿ ਆਪੇ ਦੇਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸੋ ਸਾਲਾਹੀ ਜਿ ਸਭਨਾ ਸਾਰ ਕਰੇਇ॥ 220॥

M:3: chinta bhee Aap(i) kuraayaysi, achint(u) bhee Aapay dayay. Nanak so salaaheen, jo subhna saar kuray. 220.

Word Meaning: Chinta = worries. Achint(u) = worry-free. Saar = looks after.

MEANING: (Continuing with the idea in the above Sloaks, the Third Master advises): It is Waheguru that causes worries in man's mind (so that the man may think of Waheguru, and recite His Naam), and bestows him with the worry-free high spiritual state (when he begins to recite His Naam). One should sing praise of Waheguru, who looks after the needs of everybody, oh Nanak. 220.

MEANING: The human body is like a jungle (which has many vices as its trees). The mind in the body is like an uncontrolled elephant intoxicated by its ego. The Divine Knowledge (God's Naam) is the weapon to control the uncontrolled mind-elephant, and a rare saint is the mahout (the man who holds the ankus while seated near his head) to guide the intoxicated elephant-mind. oh Kabir. (One needs some holy saint to guide him in life). 224.

Word Meaning: Kothri = wallet. Paarukh = judge; assessor. Gaahki = customer; devotee. Mehangay Moal(i) = with high price (offer of mind).
MEANING: God's Naam is like a priceless jewel, which must be preserved carefully in the wallet of one's mouth (tongue). One should open the wallet of his tongue only before a judge (who knows its worth). (Reciting God's Naam before a Maya-engrossed person is not appreciated by him). When a devotee, who knows the worth of God's Naam, comes to a holy saint, he offers his most valuable thing (his mind) to the saint to buy (acquire) the Naam, oh Kabir. 225.

ਕਬੀਰ ਰਾਮ ਨਾਮੁ ਜਾਨਿਓ ਨਹੀ ਪਾਲਿਓ ਕਟਕੁ ਕੁਟੰਬੁ॥ ਧੰਧੇ ਹੀ ਮਹਿ ਮਰਿ ਗਇਓ ਬਾਹਰਿ ਭਈ ਨ ਬੰਬ॥ 226॥

(In contrast, everybody feels sad when a devotee of God dies), oh Kabir. 226

MEANING: Like the twinkling of the eye, man's life is spent (goes away) by every moment. The Angel of Death announces his arrival aloud, but the man is still caught in the chains of his worldly affairs, oh Kabir. 227.

Word Meaning: Praapti = acquirement. Likhiya Lilaat = forehead (fortune). Mookut(i) Pudaaruth = matter for emancipation; God's Naam. Uvghut Ghaat = very difficult path.

MEANING: God's Naam, which leads to emancipation, can be acquired only from the Guru, and because of the Naam, there is no impediment in the tough path of life to merge into God.

However, one connects with the Guru only if he has good fortune (by God) prewritten on his forehead, oh Kabir. 231.

Kurrkaayay = twisting; causing discomfort. Chullini = moved. Jindoo = soul. Vuhouti = wife. Mern(u) = death. Vur(u) = husband. Jaasi = will. Pernaayay = by marrying. Joal(i) Kaiy = seeing off. Gul(i) Laagaiy = hug; seek comfort. Vaalhoun Nikki = thinner than hair. Purslaat = the Siraat-named bridge in hell (a Muslim belief). Kirrie = voices (of suffering). Moohaayay = get robbed.

MEANING: The time and date of marriage (with death) of every human bride is prewritten by God, and the Angel of death, about which all of us have heard, appears at that time. The helpless soul is extracted by causing suffering to the bones (body). The Angel explains to the soul that the prewritten time of death cannot be moved (changed). Death, as husband, takes the soul-bride away. Whom can the body rush to hug for comfort (has no one) when it sees off the soul itself? Haven't you heard of the Siraat-named bridge in hell, which is extremely difficult to cross as it is thinner than the hair (i.e., there is very tight scrutiny of one's deeds), oh man? So, listen to the voices of suffering of the people, and do not wait and let yourself be robbed of good qualities (worship Allah), of Farid. 1.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਦਰ ਦਰਵੇਸੀ ਗਾਖੜੀ ਚਲਾ ਦੁਨੀਆ ਭਤਿ॥

MEANING: It is very difficult to reach Allah's Door (by renouncing the world), oh Farid. Like the rest of the world, I am also carrying the burden of my family responsibilities; how (by what means) can I throw it away to be free (to reach Allah's Door)? 2.

ਦੇਖੁ ਫਰੀਦਾ ਜੁ ਥੀਆ ਦਾੜੀ ਹੋਈ ਭੂਰ॥ ਅਗਹੁ ਨੇੜਾ ਆਇਆ ਪਿਛਾ ਰਹਿਆ ਦੂਰਿ॥ 9॥

MEANING: Look, what has happened to you – your beard has become grey!! Your past is left far behind, and your future (death) is approaching fast (and you still haven't started to remember Allah), oh Farid. 9.

ਦੇਖੁ ਫਰੀਦਾ ਜੋ ਥੀਆ ਸਕਰ ਹੋਈ ਵਿਸੁ॥ ਸਾਈ ਬਾਝਹੁ ਆਪਣੇ ਵੇਦਣ ਕਹੀਐ ਕਿਸੁ॥ 10॥
Daykh Farida jo theeya, shukkur hoyee viss(u). Saayeen baajhoun aapnay, vaydun kuhhiyaiy kis(u). 10.
Word Meaning: Shukkur = sugar (the sweet luxuries of life). Viss(u) = poison (for spirituality). Baajhoun = without. Vaydun = pain; agony.
MEANING: Look, what has happened – all the sweet luxuries that you enjoyed in life have turned into poison for your spirituality – oh, Farid. But, other than your own Lord, who else is there whom to tell your agony (only His Naam can treat your suffering). 10.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਅਖੀ ਦੇਖਿ ਪਤੀਣੀਆ ਸੁਣਿ ਸੁਣਿ ਰੀਣੇ ਕੰਨ॥ ਸਾਖ ਪਕੰਦੀ ਆਈਆ ਹੋਰ ਕਰੇਦੀ ਵੰਨ॥ 11॥

Not only these two, but all the other parts of your body have also become weak with the ripening of your age, and they have changed their colour (appearance). (Time is running out for you to worship God), oh Farid. 11.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਕਾਲੀ ਜਿਨੀ ਨ ਰਾਵਿਆ ਧਉਲੀ ਰਾਵੈ ਕੋਇ॥ ਕਰਿ ਸਾਈ ਸਿਉ ਪਿਰਹੜੀ ਰੰਗੁ ਨਵੇਲਾ ਹੋਇ॥12
Farida, kaali jinhi na raaviya, dhauli raavaiy koyay. Kur(i) Saayeen siyoun pirhurri, rung(u) nuvayla hoyay.
Word Meaning: Kaali = when hair is still black; young age. Raaviya = recited God's Naam. Dhauli = grey hair; old age. Pirhurri = Rung = love. Nuvayla = new; fresh.
MEANING: If one does not remember Allah in their youth, there is a rare individual who begins to do so in old age. So, one should start loving God from an early age so that their love is always new (young), oh Farid. 12.

M:3: Farida, kaali, dhauli, Sahib(u) sudaa haiy, jay ko chit(i) kuray. Aapna laaya pirm na lugyee, jay loachaiy subh(u) koyay. Eh(u) pirm(u) piyaala Khusm ka, jaiy bhaavaiy taiyn dayay. 13.

Word Meaning: M:3 = the Third Sikh Guru, Sri Amar Dass Ji. Pirm = love. Loachaiy = yeans for. Bhaavaiy = likes. Taiyn = him.
MEANING: Expanding on Farid Sahib's Sloak above, Gur Amar Dass Ji explains that age does not matter, and one can love Waheguru any time, whether he is young or old, provided he keeps Him in mind. However, one cannot foster love for Waheguru on one's own, although everybody yearns to do so. Love for Waheguru is His benevolence; He bestows the cup (drink) of His love only to those whom He loves. 13.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਥੀਉ ਪਵਾਹੀ ਦਭੁ॥ ਜੈ ਸਾਈ ਲੋੜਹਿ ਸਭੁ॥ ਇਕ ਛਿਜਹਿ ਬਿਆ ਲਤਾੜੀਅਹਿ॥ ਤਾ ਸਾਈ ਦੇ ਦਰਿ ਵਾੜੀਅਹਿ॥ 16॥

MEANING: You need to be very humble (to be approved by Allah), like the tall grass of a trail, some of which is beaten to make it soft, while the rest is crushed before it is taken to its master, oh Farid. 16.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਖਾਕੁ ਨ ਨਿੰਦੀਐ ਖਾਕੂ ਜੇਡੁ ਨ ਕੋਇ॥ ਜੀਵਦਿਆ ਪੈਰਾ ਤਲੈ ਮੁਇਆ ਉਪਰਿ ਹੋਇ॥ 17॥

Word Meaning: Khaak(u) = dust. Nindiyaiy = look down upon. Jayd(u) = as good.
MEANING: One should not look down upon dust, oh, Farid. In fact, nothing is as good as it is because it is under our feet (humble) when we are alive, but we are humbled by it after death, when it goes above us. 17.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਜਾ ਲਬੁ ਤ ਨੇਹੁ ਕਿਆ ਲਬੁ ਤਾ ਕੂੜਾ ਨੇਹੁ॥ ਕਿਚਰੁ ਝਤਿ ਲਘਾਈਐ ਛਪਰਿ ਤੁਟੇ ਮੇਹੁ॥ 18॥

MEANING: What kind of love (for Allah) is that where selfishness is involved; in that case, such love is fake, oh Farid. It is like not taking good care of a thatched hut on regular basis which begins to leak in rain, but how long can one stay in the broken hut without fixing it? (If one is selfish and does not look after the hut, it does not serve him well either). 18.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਜੰਗਲੁ ਜੰਗਲੁ ਕਿਆ ਭਵਹਿ ਵਣਿ ਕੰਡਾ ਮੋੜੇਹਿ॥ ਵਸੀ ਰਬ ਹਿਆਲੀਐ ਜੰਗਲੁ ਕਿਆ ਢੂਢੇਹਿ॥ 19॥

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਇਨੀ ਨਿਕੀ ਜੰਘੀਐ ਥਲ ਡੂੰਗਰ ਭਵਿਓਮਿ॥ ਅਜ ਫਰੀਦੈ ਕੂਜੜਾ ਸੈ ਕੋਹਾ ਥੀਓਮਿ॥ 20॥

(This is how old age takes its toll on the man, so one should start worshipping Allah at a young age). 20.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਰਾਤੀ ਵਡੀਆ ਧੁਖਿ ਧੁਖਿ ਉਠਨਿ ਪਾਸ॥
(ਅੰਗ 1379)॥ ਧਿਗੁ ਤਿਨ੍ਹਾ ਦਾ ਜੀਵਿਆ ਜਿਨ੍ਹਾ ਵਿਡਾਣੀ ਆਸ॥ 21॥

MEANING: The nights are so long (in winter) that one's sides begin to hurt due to tiredness, yet the man keeps lying in bed, and does not sit down to worship Allah. The life of those is reprehensible who have hope in the other (wealth rather than Allah, which they believe can buy them any comfort), oh Farid. 21.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਜੇ ਮੈ ਹੋਦਾ ਵਾਰਿਆ ਮਿਤਾ ਆਇੜਿਆ॥ ਹੇੜਾ ਜਲੈ ਮਜੀਠ ਜਿਉ ਉਪਰਿ ਅੰਗਾਰਾ॥ 22॥

Word Meaning: Guliyain = in streets; in the path. Chikkurr(u) = mud (of worldly attachments, ego, and selfishness, etc.). Piyaray = Dear Allah. Chullaan = if I walk on the path. Bhijjaiy Kumblee = the blanket (of my heart) becomes drenched (heavy) with worldly attachments.
MEANING: The house of my Dear (Allah) is far away (spiritually - and not physically - as He resides in our heart), and the path of union with Him is very difficult as there is the obstacle of the mud of worldly attachments and of sensual pleasures. If I follow the path to connect with Him, the blanket of my heart is drenched with the mud of worldly attachments (and pulls me back), but if I stay, my love for my Dear (Allah) is terminated, oh Farid.

ਭਿਜਉ ਸਿਜਉ ਕੰਬਲੀ ਅਲਹ ਵਰਸੈ ਮੇਹੁ॥ ਜਾਇ ਮਿਲਾ ਤਿਨ੍ਹਾ ਸਜਣਾ ਤੁਟਉ ਨਾਹੀ ਨੇਹੁ॥ 25॥
Bhijjhou, sijjou kumblee, Allah versaiy mayh(u). Jaayay milaan tinha Sujjna, tootaiy naahi nayh(u).
MEANING: I pray to my Dear (Allah) that He causes the rain of His love on my heart, so that blanket of my heart gets fully drenched with His love, and the filth of the mud of worldly attachments, and of sensual pleasures is washed away completely with the result that I may connect with Him, and my love for Him is not terminated, oh Farid. 25.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਮੈ ਭੋਲਾਵਾ ਪਗ ਦਾ ਮਤੁ ਮੈਲੀ ਹੋਇ ਜਾਇ॥ ਗਹਿਲਾ ਰੂਹੁ ਨ ਜਾਣਈ ਸਿਰੁ ਭੀ ਮਿਟੀ ਖਾਇ॥26॥

Those who eat rich foods will suffer immensely (on two fronts – first, usually one has to use dishonest means and commit sins to eat rich foods for which they will be punished in Allah's Court, and second, rich foods usually cause diseases), oh Farid. 28.

MEANING: What kind of woman is that who calls herself "married", but has no support (love) in her husband's home, and has no room (is not welcome) in her parents' home, oh Farid?31.

ਸਾਹੁਰੈ ਪੇਈਐ ਕੰਤੁ ਕੀ ਕੰਤੁ ਅਗੰਮੁ ਅਥਾਹੁ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਸੋ ਸੋਹਾਗਣੀ ਜੁ ਭਾਵੈ ਬੇਪਰਵਾਹੁ॥ 32॥
Sauhuraiy, payiyaiy Kunt(u) kee, Kunt(u) agumm(u) athaah(u). Nanak, so sohaagni, ju bhaavaiy Baypervaah(u). 32.

(So, one should recite Waheguru's Naam with diligence to be respected in both worlds). 32.

NOTE: This Sloak has been written by Guru Nanak Sahib, and is enshrined in Sri Guru Granth Sahib on page 1088.

His efforts become like an object which loses its musk-like pleasant fragrance, and is left with the repulsive smell of asafetida, oh Farid. 33.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਚਿੰਤ ਖਟੋਲਾ ਵਾਨੁ ਦੁਖੁ ਬਿਰਹਿ ਵਿਛਾਵਣ ਲੇਫੁ॥ ਏਹੁ ਹਮਾਰਾ ਜੀਵਣਾ ਤੂ ਸਾਹਿਬ ਸਚੇ ਵੇਖੁ॥35॥

Farid prays to You to look at the pathetic life that he is living without You, oh, the eternal Allah. 35.

ਬਿਰਹਾ ਬਿਰਹਾ ਆਖੀਐ ਬਿਰਹਾ ਤੂ ਸੁਲਤਾਨੁ॥ ਫਰੀਦਾ ਜਿਤੁ ਤਨਿ ਬਿਰਹੁ ਨ ਊਪਜੈ ਸੋ ਤਨੁ ਜਾਣੁ ਮਸਾਨੁ॥ 36॥

MEANING: The attractions of Maya are like a sugar-coated stalk of some poisonous plant. Some get exhausted planting them (earning more and more wealth to enjoy the attractions, but never truly enjoy them), while others destroy (waste away) the wealth saved by their ancestors, oh, Farid. (Some die working hard to earn money, and never get to enjoy, while others use the hard-earned wealth they inherit to enjoy sensual pleasures). 37.

Word Meaning: When a man gets old, his body begins to shake uncontrollably. Even if the man lives for hundreds of years, his body will still turn into dust. Oh, Farid (this is the fate of the human body, and all his enjoyments are left behind. So, worship Allah). 41.

Farida, baar(i) puraayiyain baiysna, Saayeen moojhaiy na dayh(i). Jay tu avaiyn rukhsi, jeeou sureeroun layh(i). 42.

Word Meaning: Baar(i) = door (shelter). Puraayiyaiy = of others. Baiysna = sit; depend upon. Rukhsi = keep. Jeeou = life; soul.

MEANING: Do not leave me to the dependence of others (including spiritual dependence of others than Yours), begs Farid. If You must keep me in that condition, kindly take my soul out of my body, oh Allah. 42.

MEANING: [Using the example of a blacksmith, who feels conceited in the forest (that he can cut down any tree - and the trees in the forest are symbols of humbleness and sacrifice- see Sloak 60 in this section), and contrasting the nature of the two, Farid Sahib explains how one can realize Allah]. With a water pitcher on his head and an axe on his shoulder, the blacksmith feels conceited like a king in the forest, that he can attack any tree. [But, the trees in the forest advise him that with our humbleness and sacrifice (we do not show disdain for you when you cut us; we are rather very useful for humans like you. Not only do we provide wood for you to build houses, furniture, boats, doors, windows, and so on, but we also provide fruit, shade, and shelter from rain and cold, along with many other services. We are hoping to be approved by God)]. But you, on the other hand, are conceited and would use us for your enjoyment and even burn us for fuel. God is not realized by such an attitude and pleasure-seeking; He likes humility like trees, oh Farid. 43.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਇਕਨਾ ਆਟਾ ਅਗਲਾ ਇਕਨਾ ਨਾਹੀ ਲੋਣੁ॥ ਅਗੈ ਗਏ ਸਿੰਞਾਪਸਨ੍ਹਿ ਚੋਟਾ ਖਾਸੀ ਕਉਣੁ॥ 44॥

praise, are eventually buried in the graveyard, and become orphans (powerless), oh Farid. 45.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਕੋਠੇ ਮੰਡਪ ਮਾੜੀਆ ਉਸਾਰੇਦੇ ਭੀ ਗਏ॥ ਕੂੜਾ ਸਉਦਾ ਕਰਿ ਗਏ ਗੋਰੀ ਆਇ ਪਏ॥ 46॥

Farida, koatthay, mundup, maarriyaan, oosaaranday bhee guyyay. Koorra sauda kur(i) guyyay, goareen aayay puyyay. 46.

Word Meaning: Koatthay = houses. Mundup = decorated. Maarriyaan = mansions. Oosaaraynday = building. Koorra Sauda = false deals (of perishables). Goareen = in grave.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਦੁਹੁ ਦੀਵੀ ਬਲੰਦਿਆ ਮਲਕੁ ਬਹਿਠਾ ਆਇ॥ ਗੁੜੁ ਲੀਤਾ ਘਟੁ ਲੁਟਿਆ ਦੀਵੜੇ ਗਇਆ ਬੁਝਾਇ॥

Word Meaning: Doohoun = both. Deeveen = lamps (eyes). Bulundiyaa = lighting. Mulk(u) = Angel of death. Gurrh(u) = fort; body. Leeta = controlled. Ghut(u) = heart.

MEANING: The Angel of death arrives even when both the eyes of the man are still lit (living). He takes possession of his body fort, robs his heart (soul), and shuts down his eyes, oh Farid.

Farida, vaykh(u) kupaahaiy j(i) theeya, j(i) sir(i) theeya tilaahn. Kmaadaiy, ur(u) kaagdaiy, koonnaiy koyiliyaan. Munday uml kurayndiyaan, eh sujaayay tinhaan. 49.

They are punished for their only crime (bad deed) which is that they each hide (contain) things which are very useful to the man. (So, imagine what will your punishment be in Allah's Court, who has committed many bad deeds in hiding), oh Farid. 49.

Word Meaning: Rutee = a miniscule amount. Rutt(u) = blood. Cheeraiy = lacerate; slash. Ruttay = imbued in love.
MEANING: Not even a droplet of blood comes out if someone slashes the body of a devotee of Allah, as the devotees, who are imbued with Allah's love, have no blood in their bodies, oh Farid. 51.

Nanak, tay jun sohnay, j(i) ruttay Hur(i) rung(u) laayay. 52.

With the fear of Waheguru, their bodies become weak (in greed), and the blood of greed leaves the body. Just like fire purifies gold, the fear of Allah, removes the filth of evil thinking. They are beautiful by mind who are imbued in God's love, oh Nanak. 52.

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਸੋਈ ਸਰਵਰ ਢੂਢਿ ਲਹੁ ਜਿਥਹੁ ਲਭੀ ਵਥੁ॥ ਛਪੜਿ ਢੂਢੈ ਕਿਆ ਹੋਵੈ ਚਿਕੜਿ ਡੁਬੈ ਹਥੁ॥ 53॥

ਫਰੀਦਾ ਨੰਢੀ ਕੰਤੁ ਨ ਰਾਵਿਓ ਵਡੀ ਥੀ ਮੁਈਆ ਸੁ॥ ਧਨ ਕੂਕੇਦੀ ਗੋਰ ਮੇ ਤੈ ਸਹ ਨਾ ਮਿਲੀਆ ਸੁ॥ 54॥

Word Meaning: Maiynday = mine. Vays(u) = garb. Goonhee Bhuriya = full of faults.

But when they find the restrictions too tough to follow, they wish they had never made up their mind to accept the conditions; however, they cannot reverse their decision now, thinking they are already closer to their goal and must hang in there to reach paradise. (People who follow the tough path of Allah's worship with the expectation that they will be rewarded in some ways are not true devotees), oh Farid. 63.

Even the full water sources (pools, lakes, etc.) eventually dry up, leaving the lotus flowers behind, which also die without their source (nothing lasts forever in this world). Like the lotus flowers in a dry pool which also die without water, the man dies spiritually without his life-source, God), oh Farid.

MEANING: Like the erosion of the bank of a river by its flow, the limit (time) of the approaching death seems to be getting smaller and smaller, oh, Farid. It is believed that hell is hot like fire in the next world (after death), where the loud screams and cries of suffering are heard. Some people realize that (and begin to worship Allah), while others still wander around carefree. But one's deeds done in the world stand witness for him in Allah's Court. 98.

But when the Angel of death comes by breaking all doors (making all his senses non-functional), he ties the man up in front of his dear brothers. Watch the man leaving the world on the shoulders of four men (who carry his coffin). Man's deeds that he performed in the world are used in favour (or against) him in Allah's Court. 100.

(In other words, Allah is not pleased or displeased with your attire; He is pleased with His praise with a pure mind.) 104.

Suvvuyiyay Sri Mookh Baak Mehla 5

Word Meaning: Suvuyya: A type of lyric. Mookh Baak = words from the mouth of (Mehla 5-Guru Arjun De Ji). There are suvuyyias written by some Bhatts (a caste of Brahmans) in praise of the first five Gurus, including Guru Arjun Dev Ji, with the headings, "Suvuyyiyay Mehla 1,2,3,4, and 5". To avoid confusion, Guru Arjun Dev Ji added "Mookh Baak" before Mehla 5, clarifying that the following 2 sets of suvuyyias are written by Him (in praise of Waheguru and Guru Nanak Sahib), not by the Bhatts. The word "Gur(u) Nanak" has been used only for the First Guru (Guru Nanak) in this set.

Chit Achayt = unaware mind. Kut = where? Dhuou = wandering around lost. Moorut = Chusaa = Pul = short times. Hoachhou = unrewarding. Ulp Sookh = a short-lived comfort. Bundhun = bonds. Bhuou = wander around. Aatum Siyoun Ruou = deep from the heart. 2.

MEANING: Take the shelter of the mind-captivating Waheguru, who is omnipotent, and is the ship to ferry you across the world-sea to sing His praise to destroy the powerful (huge) sins, and to have emancipation for all your associates, oh my friends.

Misled by your worldly attractions, where are you wandering in the dark uselessly? Make connection with (attend) the gatherings of holy saints, (to dispel the darkness of your ignorance), oh, the unaware man. Recite Waheguru's Naam with your tongue, even if it is for a very short period of time. The short-lived comforts of Maya are (spiritually) unrewarding and become chains for you, keeping you bonded to worldly attractions, with the result that you will have to suffer through many life forms. (So, to attain emancipation), recite Waheguru's Naam with love and deep from the core of your heart (with full dedication) with the advice of the holy saints, oh Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Runchuk = a little. Rayt = sand; male sperm. Khayt = field (of mother's womb). Nirmit = initiated; laid foundation. Doorlubh = rarely available. Suvaar(i) = adorned. Paan = drinks (water). Sodhay = mansions. Bhoonchut = to enjoy. Sunkut Kaat(i) = removing the suffering (in the womb). Biput = trouble. Huree = removed. Boojhun Kee = to recognize. Soojh(u) = ability to understand. Berdhmaan = old. Prut(i) Nit = everyday. Nicket(i) = near; close. Bikhum = tough; undesirable. Juree = old age. Re = oh. Goon-heen = lacking all qualities; thankless. Deen = weak. Kirm = worm. Ghuree = a short time. Geh(i) = hold. Kirpa-Nidh(i) = source of kindness. Bherm = misgivings. Bhuree = bale. 3.

MEANING: Like a small amount of sand in a field, a very tiny sperm is implanted in the field of the mother's womb to initiate life, where, with Waheguru's laws, it germinates and results in a rarely available (invaluable) lovely human body. Then Waheguru ends the suffering of the fetus in the mother's womb (when the child is born), and provides food, drinks (water, milk, etc.), and big mansions for the (deserving) man to enjoy. He gives the man the wisdom to recognize (and love) his mother, father, brothers (siblings), and other relatives. However, with every day that passes, the man grows older, and his undesirable old age finally approaches. But the thankless man gets so engrossed in Maya that he becomes its worm and becomes weak in spirituality. He should recite Waheguru's Naam, even if it is for a short while, and pray to Him that the benevolent and the source of kindness, Waheguru, should hold his hand and remove the big bale (package) of his misgivings, advises Nanak. 3.

Word Meaning: Moos = mouse. Bilaa = burrow; hole; mind. Gerbut = egoist. Kertub = deeds. Muhaa Mooghna = of huge foolishness. Sumput = wealth. Doal = swing(n). Jhoolut = swing(v). Mugun = fully absorbed; engrossed. Googhna = (like an) owl. Mirt(u) = death. Munjaar = cat. Moh(i) Budhiyo = increasing love. Ghunaa = immense. Boyo = seeded.

Beej(u) = seed. Uhun = ego and selfishness. Mum = attachment. Unkoor = sprouting. Beetut = spends. Aoudh = life. Ughnaa = sins. Mirt(u) = death Munjaar = cat. Nirkhut = is watching. Bhoonchut = enjoys. Bhookh Bhookhna = appetite of worldly attractions; discontented. 4.

MEANING: Like a mouse in his burrow, you feel proud in your mind but act like a big fool, oh man. Engrossed in worldly affairs, you are misled by the attractions of Maya, and are swinging the swing of wealth like an owl (ignorant). You have an immense attachment to your sons, your wife, your friends, and your relatives, and to the comforts of life, which act as the seed for your ego and selfishness, and they flourish fast; this is how you are spending your life committing sins. The cat-like death is watching you with its mouth wide open as you enjoy the comforts of life, and yet your appetite for more keeps increasing (you do not find contentment). You should recite Waheguru's Naam in a holy gathering, and think of the world only as a dream, oh Nanak. 4.

Word Meaning: Gayh = house. Nayh = affection. Neeta = everyday; always. Kuhaan luou = how long. Gaarhou = be conceited. Chutar = royal canopy. Putar = letter of authority; commands. Chaur = royal whisk. Chaavur = servants to fan the whisk. Behti Jaat = shortening of life span. Ruth = chariots. Ushuv = horses. Guj = elephants. Singhaasun = throne. Chhin = moment. Chhota = can save. Doyoo Ker Jhaarut = empty handed; without any shame (or fear). Kluttar = wife. Sukh = friends. Ooltut Jaat = turn faces away; quit company. Chaarhoun = shade. Agumm = inaccessible. Apaarhou = limitless. Sriput(i) = husband of Maya; God. 5.

MEANING: Your body, houses, affection of your family, royal canopy, commands, royal whisk, and those who fan the whisk, will not stay with you all the time; so how long can you take pride in them? You do not think about the span of your life, which is slipping by the moment (and you still do not remember Waheguru), oh man. You will leave all your chariots, the horses, the elephants, and your throne in a moment, and leave the world barehanded.

You will not see any of your brave soldiers, rajahs, or the wealthy chiefs to support you. You commit immoral acts without any fear of Waheguru, but no fort, shelter, or treasure can save you from death. Like the shifting shade of trees, all your friends, sons, wife, and close friends will turn their faces away from you. Recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is omnipresent, kind to the poor, is inaccessible, and limitless every moment, oh man.

I have come to the shelter of Waheguru, which is the Husband of Maya, and the Lord of the whole world, and pray to Him that He salvages me with His benevolence, oh Nanak. 5.

Nanak, sunt churn sung(i) oodhray, hoar(i) Maya mugun chulay subh(i) daari. 6.

Word Meaning: Maan = pride. Daan = (forced) donations. Mug Johun = watch path (of travellers); rob them. Heet(u) Cheet(u) = love in mind. Paari = accumulated. Saajun Saiyn = close friends. Taahoo Tay = from those. Niraari = separate (hide from). Dhaavun Paavun = rushing to. Koor Kmaavun = short-lived wealth. Bidh(i) = means. Jaari = burn; endure suffering. Kerm Dherm = religious rituals. Sunjum = control on senses. Sooch = external purity (cleanliness). Nayma = observe principles. Chunchul = fickle Maya. Haari = lose to. Pushoo = animals. Usthaavur = immovable (vegetation). Ut(i) Bhaari = extremely heavy burden of. Khin Chusaa = very short times. Deena Nath = the Lord of the humble (Waheguru). Saari = the whole world. Meetth Rus = sweet tasting. Hoat = become. Kut = absolutely; at once. Khaari = bitter. Daari = dropping; leaving behind. 6.

MEANING: People love wealth so much that they risk even their lives and their pride, rob people, or force them to give them donations to accumulate it. Even though they love their relatives, they still hide it from their close friends, their sons, and their brothers. They rush and use many different means to earn short-lived wealth, only to spend their lives in such suffering. Even though wealth is so fickle (short-lived), all the religious rituals, efforts to control the senses, and the principles people observe are lost before the effort to accumulate wealth (people attach much more importance to wealth than to performing noble deeds). As a result, the man suffers a great deal by going through many different life forms - like animals, birds, trees, and vegetation, etc. The whole world (is so busy accumulating Maya) that it does not recite the Naam of Waheguru, which is the Lord of the weak (humble) and of our lives, even for a short moment. All the delicious foods, drinks, and sweet-tasting dishes become bitter at the time of death. One can find salvation only at the feet (in the shelter) of the holy saints; all others, who are engrossed in Maya, leave the world even without any wealth, oh Nanak. 6.

Word Meaning: Chhund = the Vedas. Moonie = hermits; sages. Soor = gods. Rusk(i) = with sweetness. Moonindar = great sages. Gorukh = a respected yogi guru. Dhern(i) = earth. Phoon(i) = again. Dayv = dev = gods. Daanuv = demons. Murm(u) = secret. Tiyaag(i) = giving up; ignoring. Aan = others. Jaacheh(i) = wish for. Dunt = teeth. Rusn = tongue. Ghus(i) Jaavut = wear out; spend their whole life. Moor = foolish.

MEANING: All the gods like Brahma and Shiva, sages, gods, and the Vedas, sing Waheguru's praise, enjoying its sweetness. Gods like Indra, great sages, and Gorakh, search for Him on the ground and in the sky (everywhere). Be it the Sidh yogis, humans, gods, or the demons, none has ever found any secret of Him, not even the size of a sesame seed. However, those who worship Him with deep affection and with the spirit of a dedicated devotee get absorbed in His holy Sight (thoughts). Forgetting Waheguru, those who beg for favours at someone else's door spend their whole lives begging but do not gain anything (Spiritually). I advise my foolish mind to recite the Naam of Waheguru alone, which is the Lord of all comforts, oh Nanak. 7.

Word Meaning: Rung = happiness; enjoyments. Birung = lack of enjoyments; griefs. Koop(i) = deep open well. Goobaar(i) = in the darkness. Gub(u) = conceit. Na Maavut = cannot contain. Bishta = feces. Ust = bones. Kirm = germs. Oodur(i) = belly. Jobun = youth. Ugiyaan = lack of knowledge; ignorance. Huriyo Haiy = has lost to; robbed of. Juraa Roag(i) = old age diseases. Bikhiya = poisonous Maya. Grussiyo = in the grip of. Dunn(u) = Saasun = punishment. Mirt(u) = death. Nerk Sunkut = suffering of the hell. Bhoonchut = experiencing. Hurt(i) Guriyo = fallen in deep pit. Aap(i) = God.

MEANING: Misled by his worldly attachments, the man is trapped in the well of darkness (is blinded by his attachments); and does not realize that if Maya brings him happiness, it can also bring him grief. He is so conceited that even the sky cannot contain it (has a limitless ego), and does not realize that his belly (body) is full of feces, bones, and germs. Robbed by his ignorance, he rushes in every direction to earn more wealth, which is a poison for his spirituality, and snatches it from others. Even when his youth is over, and he is in the grip of old age diseases, (he does not quit making plans to acquire more wealth), as a result, he suffers spiritual death many times, and the punishment by the Angel of justice awaits him. He falls into a deep pit of suffering and goes through the hell of rebirths in many different forms. But those who worship Waheguru with love and dedication are salvaged by the benevolence of Waheguru, who makes them holy saints, oh Nanak. 8.

MEANING: (With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam with love and respect), all my wishes have been fulfilled, and I have achieved my objective of acquiring all the noble qualities. Waheguru's Naam is the mantra and the talisman to cure the diseases of one's lust, rage, intoxication of one's wealth, and other luxuries of life, jealousy of others, and fire of worldly desires. Acquiring Waheguru's lotus-like Feet (His Naam) in the heart, subsumes dips at holy places, donations to Brahmans, self-affliction, and efforts to maintain external purity (one does not need any of those). Waheguru is the source, and the support of our lives, and is our close friend and our relative. I have sought the shelter of the omnipotent Waheguru, and am always a sacrifice for Him (wish to serve Him in any capacity), oh Nanak. 9.

Boar(i) = drown; sink. Punth(i) = path. Pug(i) = with feet. Doakh = blames; vices. Ugh = sins. Chhiday = pierced. Khug(i) = arrow. 10.

MEANING: No weapon can sever the sweetness of one's love with Waheguru's Feet (Naam), and no rope can tie (arrest) the mind which has been pierced with the arrow of Waheguru's love. No fire can burn the bond of one's love for the dust of Waheguru's Feet (His Naam); and no water can drown the feet which walk on the path of union with Waheguru. Thutooaa = adopt different ways (garbs; looks).

MEANING: People make many different efforts to connect with Waheguru, including pondering the six Shastras (Hindu holy books). Many people coat their bodies with ash (to look ugly to women), wear matted hair, and wander at holy places, while others punish themselves and lose too much weight to please their deities. Like the spider, which weaves its web and dies trapped in it, the man suffers (spiritual death) without love for Waheguru as he weaves strong nets of worldly attractions and of his ego around him. Misled by their false beliefs, many others adopt many different means like painting religious symbols on their bodies, cooking meals with their own hands (for the sake of purity), and so on (but fail to please God). 2.11.20.

Note: There are 11 Bhatts whose compositions have been enshrined in Sri Guru Granth Sahib on pages 1389-1409. Bhatts are Brahmans (but not of the high class). At first, Bhikha Ji, who was searching for God, came to the shelter of Guru Amar Dass Ji, and was so impressed with Guru Sahib that he invited his 10 nephews – Kalsahar (aka Kullh, or Tullh), Jaalup, Keerat, Sullh, Bhullh, Nulllh, Gaayind, Mathura, Bullh, and Haribans - to Guru Ji's shelter. All these were poets, and they were so overwhelmed by the high-moral teachings of Guru Sahib and His daily lifestyle that they wrote poetry in praise of all the first five Guru Sahiban, which Guru Arjun Dev Ji kindly enshrined in Guru Granth Sahib.

MEANING: Guru Amar Dass Ji's Sikhs, who get to have His holy Sight (come to His shelter) acquire the spiritual benefits (wealth) of the ritualistic worship (they do not need those), and contentment in a natural way. Disregarding the writings of their deeds by the Angel of justice, they are emancipated by Waheguru. With their hearts full of love and respect, they recite Waheguru's Naam. Guru Amar Dass Ji is the river of pearls (source of virtues and of kindness) and salvages those who are drowning in the world sea. I can serve the Lord, Waheguru, only if I get the stamp of approval in Your command. When the Guru casts a kind look at an individual, he gets to recite Waheguru's Naam as the reward. I can say only those things in Waheguru's praise that Guru Amar Dass Ji, who is a manifestation of the incomprehensible and the creator, Waheguru, makes me say. Guru Amar Dass Ji is the controller of our deeds, and I will gladly lead the life the way He advises me (says poet, Keerat). 4.18.

MEANING: Guru Amar Dass Ji is the source of Divine Knowledge and has practised deep meditations so much so that He can unite the human soul with that of Waheguru. He focuses His mind on the "One" (Waheguru), which can be realized only by reciting His Naam. He has conquered His lust and rage and controlled His wind-like wandering mind so that it does not waver anymore. He resides in the land of the formless Waheguru (stays connected with Him), and makes up His mind only by recognizing Waheguru's Huqam. Guru Amar Dass Ji is a manifestation of Waheguru only, which Waheguru knows about, and only who (Guru Ji) knows what He (Waheguru) does. I have been connected with that Guru (which is a manifestation of Waheguru), and saw Him in that form in my blissful state, and, with love for Him, submits Bhikha (the poet) humbly. 1.19.

All those learned Brahmans and other “gurus” were very sweet in conversation, but none of them impressed me with their Divine Knowledge or with their daily moral living (they did not practise what they preached). What (bad) qualities of those should I mention, because leaving Waheguru’s Naam aside, they were attracted to Maya? Now, Waheguru has connected me with the true Guru (Amar Dass Ji), and I will be very happy in whatever situation He puts me in, submits Bhikha. 2.20.

He is holding the bow of high morality in His hands, and is fighting against his enemies (the five demons) with the arrows of patience and sweet nature which is becoming of (befits) the supreme devotees of Waheguru. With fear of Waheguru in mind, Guru Amar Dass Ji has become fearless and is fully in control of His mind. He has shattered the five demons – lust, rage, greed, worldly attachments, and selfishness and ego – and has declared victory over them with Guru’s Shabad. With the blessings of the King of kings, Guru Nanak Sahib, Tej Bhan’s son, Guru Amar Dass Ji, has Himself, become a great King. Poet Sullh begs to tell the truth that Guru Amar Dass Ji has won the battle against the five demons by fighting in this way. 1.21.

Bhulla = the subcaste (family name) of Guru Amar Dass Ji. Oopma = praise; greatness. Bun(i) Aavaiy = befits.

MEANING: Nobody can count the waterdrops in the rain, the number of plants on the earth, and the number of flowers in spring. Similarly, nobody can find the end to the number of rays of the sun and the moon, the amount of water in the ocean, and the number of waves in the River, Ganga. But suppose, with the meditative ability of Shiva, and with the knowledge imparted by Satguru, one is able to find the above numbers, certainly, nobody can find the end to the virtues of Guru Amar Dass Ji. His greatness befits only Him (only He can match His greatness), oh poet, Bhullh. 1.22.9.11.10.10.62.

NOTE: As you can see above, Guru Arjun Dev Ji (who compiled Guru Granth Sahib) has given a special heading to the Suvvuyiyas of Bhika Ji despite the fact that he wrote only two suvvuyiyas, and that too only in praise of Guru Amar Dass Ji. This clearly proves that Bhikha Ji was the first among all the Bhatts to take shelter under Guru Amar Dass Ji, and his nephews must have joined him much later. They were able to spend a very short time with Guru Amar Dass Ji, and much more time with the Fourth Master, Guru Ram Dass Ji. This fact becomes clearer from the number of Bhatts who wrote in praise of Guru Amar Dass Ji (5) and Guru Ram Dass Ji (7).

I am captivated by Your holy Sight just the way Jushodh was captivated to see Krishna's extremely beautiful looks, and by the pleasant sound of the bells in his waistband when he played. The pen to write the fate of the people is in Your hands. Who can erase those fates? Gods like Shiva and Brahma long to be enlightened by Your Shabad, and enshrine it in their hearts. You are eternal like Waheguru, the dwelling place of Maya (You control it), and, as a manifestation of God, You have been here all the time. You are amazing! amazing! and amazing, oh Guru Ram Dass Ji. 1.6.

NOTE: The poet, (Gayund) does not himself believe in gods like Vishnu, Brahma, Shiva, Krishna etc. See Suvuyyiya 11 in this section. He is just praising Guru Ram Dass Ji using the popularity of these Hindu gods.

The sun and the moon join His army of devotees to enhance His majesty, and the drums of His fame are beating aloud. He (Guru Ram Dass Ji) reiterates Waheguru's Naam in the minds of His devotees, destroys sins, and ensures wellbeing of everybody in the whole world.

He is a manifestation of Waheguru, which has created all the living beings, including the Sheshnaag (the mythical multi-headed serpent) and is the God of all gods. Being a manifestation of Waheguru, Guru Ram Dass took the different incarnations of Vishnu as a fish when he retrieved the Vedas from the ocean, which the demons had hidden them there; as turtle to support the churner when the gods and the demons jointly churned the ocean; and as boar to retrieve the earth from the ocean where again the demons had hidden it. Also, for me (the poet), it was Guru Ram Dass Ji, who, as Krishna, played games with the rubber ball by the banks of the Yamuna. Guru Ram Dass Ji is a manifestation of Waheguru, so enshrine His supreme Shabad in your heart, and quit all the evils, oh Gayund. 4.9.

Meaning: With Waheguru's immortalizing Naam in His mouth (on His tongue), Guru Arjun Dev Ji has the eternal spiritual whisk waving on His Head. Waheguru Himself has given the holy canopy over His head. Like the water of the River Ganga, which the Hindus believe to be very holy, Guru Arjun Dev Ji (His Shabad) is the eternal source of the Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in which all the Sikh devotees take (mental) dip, and Brahma sings Guru Sahib's praise, reading his books - the Vedas, and the Puranas.

With the blessings of Gurus Nanak Dev Ji, Angad Dev Ji, and Amar Dass Ji, Guru Ram Dass Ji merged His soul with the Supreme Soul of Waheguru. His holy fame has spread all over the world, so who can say that Guru Ram Dass Ji has died, oh Haribans 1.

MEANING: With Waheguru's Will, Guru Ram Dass Ji became "one" with Him, and was honoured with the spiritual throne to sit on. The gods felt blissful to sing Guru Ram Dass Ji's praise while the demons, afraid of their sins, ran away. All the sins of the people who took Guru Ram Dass Ji's shelter were destroyed. Guru Ram Dass Ji passed on the spiritual throne of the earth (Guruship) to Guru Arjun Dev Ji. 2.21.9.11.10.10.22.60.122.

MEANING: Human life is very short in this world; let alone the man, I have seen even the mountain-like and the fort-like plastered houses collapse. So, what should a man feel proud of? You are very conceited of your height, and of your masculine beauty like a young and pretty girl who is very conceited of her large breasts so much so that she tells her mother-in-law that due to her large breasts, she cannot kneel down to her to show respect for her (which was highly expected, and its violation could not be forgiven in those days), oh man. So, overcome your conceit, and become thoughtful and earnest (and recite Waheguru's Naam), oh my friend. 1.

Hussun = happiness; satisfaction. Saar(u) = supreme. Nayhou = attachment. Chullunhaar = mortal. Ivv Kur(i) = like this. Vitoun = for.

MEANING: Listen to highly valuable advice, oh, the beautiful young lady with deer-like eyes. Examine the substance thoroughly before you deal in that (choice of friends and/or qualities). Plea to Waheguru to keep the evil people (or qualities) away from you, and to acclaim the noble (saintly) friends (and noble qualities). Think about the pleas you want to make to Waheguru to have noble friends. To attain supreme satisfaction, offer your body and your mind in the service of the holy saints, and do not get attached to short-lived things. I am a sacrifice for those who realize the importance of having friendship with holy saints and noble qualities, oh Nanak. 2.

Jay tu taaroo paan(i), taaho pooch(u) tirrun kul. Taahoo khuray soojaan, vunjaan ehni kuppreen. 3.

MEANING: If you wish to learn swimming (across the unformidable word-sea), ask those who are experts in the field. I will jump into the world sea even if the waves of worldly attractions are rising very high when I have an expert (holy saint) to guide me. 3.

Word Meaning: Jhurr = cloudiness; unfavourable weather. Jhukkurr = storms. Ohaarr = floods. Lehreen = waves. Vehn(i) = blow; rise. Lukhaysri = countless. Aalaayay = pray to.

MEANING: There may be unfavourable weather conditions, storms, flooding (poor health and family conditions), or very high waves (great temptations) in the world sea; the boat of your life will not sink if you pray to Satguru. 4.

Word Meaning: Saaluk Mitt(u) = saint friends. Bhayeen Bundheen = brothers and relatives. Hayt(i) = affection (for Waheguru). Dooniya = worldly attractions. Chookaaya = vanished. Deen(u) = devotion to Waheguru.

MEANING: What has happened to the world, oh Nanak? It does not make friends with holy saints, and its love for God has vanished due to its strong bonds with family and friends. People have lost their spirituality and devotion to Waheguru due to their attachment to worldly relations and attractions, oh Nanak. 5.

Word Meaning: Haiy = Haayay = cry in agony. Gullhaan = cheeks. Pittan(i) = beat. Sir(u) Khohayn = pull hair. Smaayay = submit to (obey) the Will. Bulihaaraiy = sacrifice.

MEANING: Rather than realizing the fact that death is a natural law, and it has to come to everybody, people wail in pain, beat their cheeks, and pull their hair at the death of a relative. I am a sacrifice for those who recite Waheguru's Naam and accept His Will at the death of a relative, oh Nanak.

Word Meaning: Deeng(i) = on the wrong (immoral) path. Doliyaiy = weakening of mind. surrender to worldly attractions. Baagh(u) = wolf (of Maya). Uggun(i) Tulaaou = heat of the womb-pool; rebirths. Sehsaiy = in worries. Uver Na Dhung(u) = no other means. Chhoottiyaiy = get freedom (emancipation).

MEANING: Do not allow your mind to fall for worldly attractions and to follow the path of immorality in the journey of life. Keep following the path of righteousness, oh Nanak. (Without Waheguru's Naam), The journey backwards (returning to the old style of life) is frightening because the wolf of worldly attractions devours one's spirituality, and the journey forward (continuing following the same path of worldly affairs) leads to rebirths. Because of this, my mind is caught in worries, but I have no other choice (either follow the path of righteousness or be caught in the rebirth cycle). One can find emancipation only by getting attached to Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 7.

Word Meaning: Baagh = the wolf of Maya. Mun Maariyaiy = kill worldly desires. Deekhiya = Advice. Aap(i) Puchhaanaiy = self-realization. Buhhourr(i) = again. Keechurr(i) = mud (of Maya). Oobray = salvaged. Paal(i) = shelter.

MEANING: The individual who receives Satguru's advice can kill the wolf of Maya by overcoming his worldly desires. He realizes his self (what the objective of human life is and what he needs to do), connects with Waheguru, and never dies again (as he merges with Waheguru). With the kind sight of Waheguru, he becomes blessed and does not put his hand in the mud of Maya again. The devotees of the Guru attain salvation because the pool of Guru's Advice (Naam-Amrit) is the real shelter (against the attacks of Maya), oh Nanak. 8.

Word Meaning: Ugun(i) = fire (of desires). Loarr(i) Luhhou = is needed. Vin(u) = without. Nidh(i) Jul(u) = ocean (source of the Naam-water). Bhermaayiyaiy = is taken through. Kerm = rituals. Jagaat(i) = the tax collector (who audits your account of deeds). Bhaayay = as per His wishes. Nirmul(u) Amar Pud(u) = highest spiritual state.

MEANING: Just as water is needed to put out fire, one needs the water of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit to kill the fire of desires; and the Guru is the ocean of the Naam. No other deed among millions is capable of quenching the thirst of worldly desires, and the individual is taken through the birth and death cycle again and again. But if one follows the Will of the Guru, no auditor, in the form of the Angel of justice, examines your accounts. The Guru connects His devotees with Waheguru when they attain the pure and the highest spiritual state, oh Nanak.9.

Word Meaning: Kullur Kary Chhupprri = pond of saltpeter (muddy) water; bad company. Kuouaa = crow = an immoral person. Maiyla = filthy. Uvgooni = with bad qualities. Chinj(u) Bhuree = fill the beak; acquires more bad qualities. Gundh Aayay = smells foul. Survur(u) = pool of clean water; holy gathering. Huns(i) = noble man. Kaag = crow. Koopunkhi = bad bird. Sung(i) = in the company. Saakut = Maya-engrossed person. Rung(i) = in love (with God). Sunt Subha = holy gathering. Jaiykaar(u) = acclaiming. Naavun(u) = bathing. Teeruth = holy place.

MEANING: Like a crow which takes dips in a muddy pond to clean its body, a Maya-engrossed person takes advice from other muddy (filthy or immoral) people as a result of which, his mind and body both become filthy with bad qualities, and his mouth (talk) smells awful (he badmouths the good people). The devotee, who loves Waheguru, realizes that the company of a Maya-engrossed (disconnected with Waheguru) person is like a swan (a devotee) in the company of crows and the birds not of its class (immoral people) who fail to recognize the clean pool of water (the Guru). One should acclaim (sing praise of) the gathering of holy saints, and perform noble deeds as per the Advice of the Guru. The Guru is the eternal holy place and the river to take a bath in, which cleanses one's mind, oh Nanak.10.

Word Meaning: Junumay Ka Ful(u) = the reward of taking birth. Bhaaou = love. Paiyndha = wearing. Baad(i) = useless. Dooja Bhaaou = love for others (Maya). Jhootth = ideas about mortal things. Alaaou = saying. Slaah(i) = sing praise.

MEANING: What can be the possible reward of taking birth as a human if there is no worship or love for Waheguru? All one's wearing (of expensive clothes) and eating of (rich foods) is worthless if he has love for the other (Maya). (Without Waheguru's Naam), All one's watching, listening, and talking is about things that are short-lived. One should recite only Waheguru's Naam and sing His praise; everything else is about one's selfishness and ego, which lead to rebirths, oh Nanak. 11.

Word Meaning: Virlay = rare. Ghunay = dense; too many. Faiyl Phukkurr(u) = false show off.
MEANING: But such people (who sing Waheguru's praise) are rare, and not too many. The rest of the world is just a show of lies and falseness. 12.

Word Meaning: Toor(i) = instantly. Muraiy = becomes lifeless towards worldly attractions. Choataiy Sayti = with the strike of (Guru's Shabad). Pervaan(u) = approved. Pirm Paiykaam = arrow of love. Soojaan(i) = the know-all (Waheguru).
MEANING: The arrow of love shot by Waheguru is so sweet and painless that the victim dies instantly as far as worldly desires are concerned, and he is left with no zeal for worldly attractions. Such a victim is approved by Waheguru (as His true devotee). But only that individual is hit with such an arrow who is shot at by Waheguru, and is approved by Him. Such an arrow of love and devotion stays there forever, oh Nanak (one's love and devotion for Waheguru never ceases). 13.

Word Meaning: Bhaanda = vessel; heart. Kucha Saajiya = unbaked earthenware; clay pot. Dhaatu Punj(i) = the five natural elements (earth, water, air, fire, and awareness). Koorra Paajiya = short-lived puppet. Aanug(u) Raas(i) = is successful; is approved. Jaan = when; if. Tis(u) = Waheguru. Perm Jot(i) = the supreme light (Soul). Vaaja Vaavsi = music of bliss (union with God).
MEANING: By putting together the five natural elements, Waheguru has created the puppet-like and short-living human body, which becomes filthy with evil thinking and with evil deeds. Just as an unbaked clay pot cannot be washed, a mind that has become filthy with evil thinking cannot be cleansed. The human mind, which is liked by Waheguru, becomes successful (is approved) by Him. Such a mind is enlightened, and the music of bliss begins to play in that (the devotee achieves union with God). 14.

Word Meaning: Undhay Ghoop = dark blind. Kuhhiyaan = even when told. Bird(u) = obligations. Oondhay Kuvul(i) = inverted hearts (facing away from spirituality). Khuray Kroop = very ugly. Sooghurr = wise. Sroop = beautiful (mind). Naad(i) = music. Bayd(u) = knowledge. Gee = poetry. Rus(u) = interest. Rus(u) Kus(u) = good and bad tastes. Sidh(i) = success. Boodh(i) = wisdom. Ukul(i) Sur = sense of appreciation. Bhayo = secret. Lahunt(i) = obtain; acquire. Khur = donkeys; stupid. Gerb(u) Krunt(i) = feel conceited.
MEANING: Those who have complete darkness in their mind do not recognize their human obligations even when they are told. With blind minds and inverted hearts (facing away from Waheguru), they look very unattractive. There are also some people who know what to say (in praise of Waheguru), and they understand what is said to them; such people are wise and have a beautiful mind. Then, there are some who have no interest in music, knowledge, or poetry, and do not know what is good or bad. There are also some who have no wisdom to achieve success, and no sense of appreciation for the words of wisdom said to them. The people who feel conceited for no good quality in them are the real donkeys (idiots), oh Nanak. 15.

Word Meaning: Bindaiy = recognizes; makes a connection. Braham = God. Jup(u) Tup(u) = worship of God. Sunujum(u) = control on senses. Kerm(u) = deeds. Seel = sweet nature. Bundhun = worldly bonds. Poojun Joogt(u) = worthy of respect.
MEANING: Only that individual deserves to be called a Brahman who realizes Waheguru by putting in big efforts to worship Him, performs noble deeds, and maintains a sweet nature and contentment as his religious duties, and breaks all worldly bonds. Such a Brahman is worthy of our worship. 16.

Khatri so, ju kerma ka soor(u). Poonn daan ka kuraiy sureer(u). Khayt(u) puchhaanaiy, beejaiy daan(u). So khatri Durgeh pervaan(u). Lub(u), loabh(u) jay koorr(u) kmaavaiy. Apna keeta, aapay paavaiy. 17.
Word Meaning: Khatri = warrior. Soor(u) = valiant; hero. Poonn(u) = noble deeds. Khayt(u) = the field of heart. Puchhaanaiy = examines; recognizes. Daan(u) = helping the needy. Lub(u) = gluttony; voraciousness. Loabh(u) = greed. Koorr(u) = bad deeds.
MEANING: Likewise, a warrior is the one who is valiant (great) at doing noble deeds, and helps the needy with his body and resources. He recognizes (does self-analysis) of the field of his heart, and seeds it with compassion, and with Waheguru's Naam. Such a warrior is approved by Waheguru. On the other hand, the individual who pursues spiritually undesirable and perishable things, such as gluttony and greed, reaps the rewards of his own deeds (gets bad results). 17.

Tun(u) na tupaayay tunoor jiyoun, baalun(u) hudd na baal(i). Sir(i), paiyreen kiyya phayrriya, undar(i) Piree smaahl(i). 18.

Word Meaning: Tupaayay = self-torturing. Tunoor = baking hearth. Baalun(u) = fuel wood. Hudd = bones. Phayrriya = bad deeds; crime. Piree = Dear (God).
MEANING: Why torture your body like a baking hearth by building fire around you on hot summer days and burn your bones like firewood, oh God-seeking man? What crime have your head and feet committed for you to punish them? (God is not pleased by torturing your body). He is inside you, remember Him (sing His praise) searching Him in there. 18.

Word Meaning: Ghuteen = hearts. Shuhou = Husband (Waheguru). Sohaagni = loved; fortunate. Pergut(u) = appears (in heart).
MEANING: Waheguru is present in every heart, and no heart is there without Him. But only those are loved by Him in whose hearts He appears in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nank. 19.

ਨਾਲਿ ਕਿਰਾੜਾ ਦੋਸਤੀ ਕੂੜੈ ਕੂੜੀ ਪਾਇ॥ ਮਰਣੁ ਨ ਜਾਪੈ ਮੂਲਿਆ ਆਵੈ ਕਿਤੈ ਥਾਇ॥ 21॥
Naal(i) Kirarraan dosti, koorraiy koori paayayn. Mern(u) na jaapaiy Mooliya, aavaiy kitaiy thaayayn.
Word Meaning: Kiraarr = a strictly business-minded (selfish) person. Koorraiy = undependable. Paayayn = durability; strength. Moola = a kiraarr of Sialkot city, who died while hiding from Guru Sahib (Janam – Sakhi).
MEANING: The friendship with a money-minded and selfish person is not dependable. (Like Mool Chand of Sialkot, who was hiding from Guru Nanak Sahib, fearing that he would suffer loss in his business during the time he would have to spend with Guru Sahib, but who died when a snake bit him at the spot where he was hiding), nobody knows when death will take him away. (So, one must spend some time in holy gatherings). 21.

ਗਿਆਨ ਹੀਣੰ ਅਗਿਆਨ ਪੂਜਾ॥ ਅੰਧ ਵਰਤਾਵਾ ਭਾਉ ਦੂਜਾ॥ 22॥
Giyan heenun(g) ugiyaan pooja. Undh vertaava, bhaaou dooja. 22.
Word Meaning: Heenun(g) = devoid of. Vertaava = dealings. Bhaaou Dooja = selfish reasons.
MEANING: Worship without knowledge is worship of ignorance (and provides no spiritual benefit because it is done for some selfish benefit). Therefore, even the dealings there are discriminatory and of a selfish nature, and hence are of no spiritual benefit. 22.

ਗੁਰ ਬਿਨੁ ਗਿਆਨੁ ਧਰਮ ਬਿਨੁ ਧਿਆਨੁ॥ ਸਚ ਬਿਨੁ ਸਾਖੀ ਮੂਲੋ ਨ ਬਾਕੀ॥ 23॥

Gur bin(u) Giyan(u), dherm bin(u) dhiyan. Sach bin(u) saakhi, mooloan na baaki. 23.
Word Meaning: Sakhi = witness. Mooloan Na Baaki = lead to no benefit at all; are harmful.
MEANING: Spiritual knowledge without the Guru, meditating on something without high morality in mind, and providing evidence without truth, are actually all harmful. (So, we must seek advice from the true Guru, and meditate with noble intentions). 23.

ਮਾਨੂ ਘਲੈ ਉਠੀ ਚਲੈ॥ ਸਾਦੁ ਨਾਹੀ ਇਵੇਹੀ ਗਲੈ॥ 24॥
Maanu ghullay, ootthi chullay. Saad naahi ivayheen gullay. 24.
Word Meaning: Maanu = man. Ghullay = sent (in the world). Saad Naahi = not impressive; disappointing. Ivaheen Gullaiy = with such behaviour.
MEANING: Waheguru sends the man in this world with the objective for him that he will perform noble deeds and sing His praise to be "one with Him". But it becomes very disappointing if he leaves the world like he came, without working towards this objective. 24.

ਰਾਮੁ ਝੁਰੈ ਦਲ ਮੇਲਵੈ ਅੰਤਰਿ ਬਲੁ ਅਧਿਕਾਰ॥ ਬੰਤਰ ਕੀ ਸੈਨਾ ਸੇਵੀਐ ਮਨਿ ਤਨਿ ਜੁਝੁ ਅਪਾਰੁ॥ ਸੀਤਾ ਲੈ ਗਇਆ ਦਹਸਿਰੋ ਲਛਮਣ ਮੂਓ ਸਰਾਪਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਕਰਤਾ ਕਰਣਹਾਰੁ ਕਰਿ ਵੇਖੈ ਥਾਪਿ ਉਥਾਪਿ॥ 25॥
Ram jhooraiy dul maylvaiy, untar bul(u) adhikaar. Buntar kee saiyna sayviyaiy, mun(i), tun(i) joojh(u) apaar(u). Sita laiy guyyo Dehsiro, Luchhman mooyo sraap)i). Nanak, Kerta kernhaar(u), kur(i) vaykhaiy thaap(i) oothaap(i). 25.
Word Meaning: Ram = lord Rama. Jhooraiy = feels sad. Dul Maylvaiy = raising army. Buntar kee Saiyna = army of monkeys (led by Hanuman). Joojh(u) = fight valiantly. Dehsiro = Ravna (the ten-headed demon king of Lanka). Sraap(i) = curse. Thaap(i) = to create. Oothaap(i) = destroy.
MEANING: Only the Creator Waheguru is omnipotent, who watches His creation as He creates and destroys it. He never cries or feels sad. And only He deserves to be worshipped, and nobody else. People worship lord Rama as a manifestation of God, but he cried when Ravana kidnapped Sita, and when his brother Lakshman died (became unconscious when wounded in the battlefield) because of some curse. Rama had raised an army of monkeys for which he had the right to do, and the soldiers had the will to fight for him with their bodies and minds. Yet Rama had to cry and feel sad (so he cannot be compared to Waheguru). 25.

Mun meh(i) jhooraiy Ram Chand(u) Sita Luchhman joag(u). Hunvuntar araadhiya, aaya kur(i) sunjog(u). Bhoola Daiynt(u) na sumujhyee, Tin(i) Prubh keeyay kaam. Nanak vaypervaah(u) So, kirt(u) na mityee Ram. 26.
Word Meaning: Joag(i) = for. Hunvuntar(u) = Hanuman. Araadhiya = remembered. Sunjoag = good fortune. Bhoola Daiynt = the misled demon (Ravna). Kirt(u) = deeds done in the previous lives. Na Mityee = cannot be erased.
MEANING: Waheguru is perfectly carefree (and never feels sad or depressed), and nobody can erase the record of an individual's deeds in his previous lives, oh Nanak. Sri Rama cannot match Waheguru because he cried for Sita and Lakshman. He had called Hanuman, who came to Ram Ji's help as per the predestined union (by God) between them. But the misled demon (Ravana) too, did not realize the amazing feats of Waheguru (and was killed). 26.

ਲਾਹੌਰ ਸਹਰੁ ਜਹਰੁ ਕਹਰੁ ਸਵਾ ਪਹਰੁ॥ 27॥
Lahore shehr(u) jehr(u) kehr(u), suvaa pehr(u). 27.

Word Meaning: Jehr Kehr = poisonous immoral activities. Suvaa Pehr(u) = 4 hours.
NOTE: The city of Lahore was the capital city of Punjab at the time of Guru Nanak Sahib, and the high officials of the government resided there. Being the capital city, high officials from Delhi and foreign dignitaries visited there. It had become the culture of the city to entertain the locals and the guests with immoral activities, like serving liquor, dances by thinly clad women, and even prostitution.
When Guru Nanak Sahib observed all such nefarious activities and found no holy gatherings, He was pained, and He wrote the above Shabad.
MEANING: The city of Lahore has become the centre for spiritually poisonous, immoral activities, which are carried out there for about four hours of the night. 27.

ਮਹਲਾ 3॥ ਲਾਹੌਰ ਸਹਰੁ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤਸਰੁ ਸਿਫਤੀ ਦਾ ਘਰੁ॥ 28॥
Mehla 3: Lahore shehr(u) Amritsar(u), sifti da ghur(u). 28.
Word Meaning: Amritsar(u) = pool of Amrit (source of immortalizing Waheguru's Naam). Sifti Da Ghur = the home of praise for Waheguru.
NOTE 1: When Guru Nanak Sahib visited Lahore, He transformed many individuals of the city into saintly people, which included Bhai Mansukh, Bhai Duni Chand, and Bhai Sahlo and Saiyn, among others, who began to have holy gatherings where Waheguru's praise was sung, and noble qualities preached. So, there was a noticeable change in the city's culture. As you can see, the above holy hymn has been written by the Third Guru, Amar Dass Ji. He praises the efforts of Guru Nanak Sahib to transform the city, and showing His respect for Guru Nanak, He writes:
NOTE 2: The city of Amritsar did not exist at the time of Guru Amar Dass Ji.
MEANING: (Lahore is no longer a city of immorality), (with Your efforts and grace) it has now become the source of the immortalizing Naam of Waheguru, where His praise is sung, oh Guru Nanak Sahib Ji. 28.

Mehla 1: Oodosaahaiy kiyya neeshaani, toat(i) na aavaiy unni. Oodosee ghuray he vootthi, koorryeen runni dhummi. Suteen runni ghuray siyaapa, rovun(i) koorreen kummi. Jo laivay, so dayvaiy naahi, khuttay dumm sehummi. 29.
Word Meaning: Oodosaahaiy = zeal (to accumulate wealth). Neehsaani = signs. Toat(i) = shortage. Unni = food. Ghuray = in the heart. Vootthi = settles; arises. Koorryeen = false; for short-lived enjoyments. Runni = (by the female) senses. Dhummi = wild noise. Suteen Runni = the seven females (five senses + fickleness of the mind + discontentment) (Punjabi grammar). Siyaapa = uninvited trouble; agitation. Khuttay Dumm = earned (acquired) money. Sehummi = worried.
MEANING: (Most people are very enthusiastic about earning more and more money, and not for singing Waheguru's praise). Such people are recognized by the fact that there is never a shortage of food in their homes. (Nobody teaches them such zeal about wealth), It arises naturally in their own heart when their senses raise a big fuss for more and more luxuries of life, which are only short-lived. The seven females (the five senses, the fickleness of mind, and discontentment) cause uninvited trouble, demanding luxuries. However, the man does not share his wealth with others, which causes umbrage. (So, he still does not enjoy peace of mind). 29.

Pubbar tu huriyaavla, kuvlaan kunchun vunn(i). Kaiy doakhrraiy surriyoneh, kaali hoyiya dayhouri; Nanak, mein tun(i) bhung. Jaana paani na luhaan, jaiy sayti mayra sung(u). Jit(u) ditthaiy tun(u) perphoorraiy, churrhaiy chuvgun(i) vunn(u). 30.

Word Meaning: Pubbar = mine (garden) of lotus flowers. Kunchun Vunn(i) = gold-like shine. Kaiy Doakhrraiy = by what suffering? Dayhouri = body. Bhung = breakage; separation. Luhhaan = acquire. Sayti = with. Sung(u) = company. Ditthaiy = on seeing; meeting with. Perphoorraiy = flourishes. Chuvgun(i) = four times.

MEANING: Question: You were lush green all around, and the flowers had the gold-like shine, oh, the garden of lotus flowers. What kind of suffering has caused this damage to you? You seem to have been charred, and your body has become dark.

Answer: I realize that I am experiencing separation from water (not getting it), in whose company I survive and flourish, and that my shine enhances four times, oh Guru Nanak.

ਰਜਿ ਨ ਕੋਈ ਜੀਵਿਆ ਪਹੁਚਿ ਨ ਚਲਿਆ ਕੋਇ॥ ਗਿਆਨੀ ਜੀਵੈ ਸਦਾ ਸਦਾ ਸੁਰਤੀ ਹੀ ਪਤਿ ਹੋਇ॥ ਸਰਫੈ ਸਰਫੈ ਸਦਾ ਸਦਾ ਏਵੈ ਗਈ ਵਿਹਾਇ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਕਿਸ ਨੋ ਆਖੀਐ ਵਿਣੁ ਪੁਛਿਆ ਹੀ ਲੈ ਜਾਇ॥ 31॥

Word Meaning: Rujj(i) = fully satisfied. Puhounch(i) = reach the destination; achieve goals. Giyani = spiritually enlightened (connected with God). Soorti = with the mind connected with Waheguru. Put(i) = respect; honour. Serfaiy = spending every day counting. Vihaayay = spent. Aakhiyaiy = plead with.

MEANING: Nobody has ever lived to his full satisfaction, and nobody achieves all his goals. However, the spiritually enlightened devotee lives forever (by connecting with Waheguru), and only those who stay connected with Waheguru earn respect in His Court (and everywhere else). The life of a common man is spent keeping account of everyday life (under the fear of death). But Waheguru takes life away without telling anyone, oh Nanak. 31.

Doash na dayvou raayay nu, mut(i) chullaiy jaan boodha hovaiy. Gullaan kuray ghunayriyaan, ta unneh puvna khaateen tovaiy. 32.

Word Meaning: Doash = blame. Raayay = wealthy. Mut(i) Chullaiy = loses wisdom. Jaan = when. Ghunayriyaan = too many. Puvna = falls. Khaateen Tovaiy = in pits; ditches.

MEANING: Do not blame a wealthy person (who spent his whole life earning wealth) in his old age when he keeps talking about wealth (and enjoys no peace of mind), because a spiritually ignorant person is caught in petty affairs about wealth like a blind man who falls into pits and ditches. (Such a wealthy person dies in discontentment and is caught in an endless cycle of reincarnations. 32.

ਪੂਰੇ ਕਾ ਕੀਆ ਸਭ ਕਿਛੁ ਪੂਰਾ ਘਟਿ ਵਧਿ ਕਿਛੁ ਨਾਹੀ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਐਸਾ ਜਾਣੈ ਪੂਰੇ ਮਾਹਿ ਸਮਾਹੀ॥ 33॥

Word Meaning: Poora = Perfect (Waheguru). Smaahi = gets absorbed.
MEANING: Everything that the Perfect Waheguru has created is also perfect – nothing less, nothing more. A Guru's Sikh is aware of that, and gets absorbed in Him, oh Nanak. 33.

Word Meaning: Abhiyaagut = guests; people in religious garbs who beg for meals. Bherm(u) = doubts; uncertainty (about the existence of Waheguru, or their own objective).
MEANING: Visitors in religious garb who come to your door, begging for meals, are not holy men if they have doubts about the path of righteousness or even about their own objective of union with Waheguru. Serving them makes even the host share their shaky faith, oh Nanak.1.

Word Meaning: Abhaiy = fearless. Nirunjun = (Waheguru), which is above the effects of Maya. Bheekhuk(u) = beggar. Virla = rare.
MEANING: The true devotee begs for the meal of the supreme spiritual state to unite with the fearless Waheguru. But some rare individual gets the meal he begs for, oh, Nanak. 2.

Word Meaning: Pundit(u) = highly learned person. Jotki = fortune teller. Nuvaan Khundaan = (the Lord of the earth) with nine regions. Chujj Veechaar = character and thinking. 3.
MEANING: I may be a highly learned person who can tell the fortune of others, and may recite all four Vedas from memory (and befool some people), but the Lord of the world, Waheguru, would judge me only by my character and my thinking, no matter where I go in the whole world. 3.

Word Meaning: Kaiyli = cow. Ghaat(u) = killing. Kunjkaan = very young innocent girls. Unchaari = unprincipled. Dhaan(u) = donation. Phituk = condemnable. Koarr(u) = millions. Budiyaan = vices. Abhimaan(u) = conceit of all times. Paah(i) = beating with shoes. Tut(u) Giyan(u) = knowledge about Waheguru (His praise).
MEANING: Killing of a Brahman (a highly learned man), a cow, a young girl (for her gender), donations from an unprincipled man, and conceit of all time are all considered grave vices for which one receives countless condemnations from people. But one gets more punishment than the combined condemnations for all the above vices in Waheguru's Court when he forgets His Naam. All other wisdoms are burned (ignored) in His Court, only His Naam is rewarded. 4.

MEANING: Nobody can obliterate the fortune written on one's forehead by Waheguru and whatever happens, happens according to that; but only that lucky devotee understands it who has the kind Sight of Waheguru on him. 5.

MEANING: The people who forget Waheguru because of their greed for the short-lived attractions of the world are captivated by Maya and have a burning desire to have it. So, they work hard to accumulate it, but such cheats are cheated (of their good qualities) by Maya itself, and are like that vine which bears no fruit. Just like a dog which cannot mix with a herd of cattle, such Maya-engrossed people are pulled apart and taken away, tied in chains. However, they are misled by Waheguru Himself (as a result of their deeds) and are drawn back to Him when He wishes. One attains emancipation only when he leads his life according to the Advice of the Satguru, oh Nanak. 6.

Word Meaning: Jeh Jeh = wherever. Teh = there. Pergut(u) = appears.

Word Meaning: Dookh Visaarun = destroyer of suffering. Kerm = with His benevolence.
MEANING: Satguru's Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) is the destroyer of all suffering; so, one ought to enshrine it in his mind. However, one can enshrine it in his mind only with the grace of the Guru, which stays there with the benevolence of Waheguru. 9.

MEANING: Countless people die in frustration when their selfishness and their ego are not fed. But they can attain salvation with the Shabad (eternal Waheguru's Naam) in the shelter of Satguru. 10.

Word Meaning: Ikk Mun(i) = with full dedication. Laagoun Paayay = touch feet; show respect. Niirmul Oojlay = pure at heart. Paatshaahi = kingship; reign. Ruttay = imbued.
MEANING: I touch the feet (show utmost respect for) of those who serve Satguru with full dedication. Waheguru (His Naam) gets embedded in the heart with Guru's Shabad, and all one's appetite for Maya goes away. Those devotees have pure mind who get absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru. All other kingships are false, but they are true kings who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam. 11.

Word Meaning: Bhugati Naar(i) = devoted wife. Loachaiy = wishes. Bhugati Bhaayay = devotional love. Rus Saalnay = tasty dishes. Suvaardi = prepares with love. Khut = tangy. Meetthay = sweet. Tiyoun = like that. Sir(u) Vaychiya = surrender all wisdom. Loachaan Poor(i) = fulfilling wishes. Vaypervaah(u) = carefree. Tiptaayay = is pleased.
Bhaayay = according to the wishes (advice).

MEANING: Like a devoted wife who serves her husband with full devotion and prepares many tasty, sweet, and salty dishes for him, the devotees of Waheguru sing His praise with full concentration with the Bani (Guru's Shabad). They offer their mind, body, and wealth to the Guru, and sell their head (wisdom) to Him (to acquire His Wisdom). The devotees long for the (respectful) fear and worship of Waheguru, which fulfills all their wishes and connects them with Him. Waheguru is perfectly carefree, so what should one eat (take in) to please Him? (Answer): Waheguru is pleased when the devotee leads his life according to the wishes (advice) of the Guru and sings His praise. (Even though the present eon, Kalyug, is considered to be the worst eon of the four), It is great for the person who obeys the Satguru, oh Nanak. 12.

Word Meaning: Oor Dhaar(i) = enshrined in the heart. Dhig(u) = reprehensible. Kit(u) = for what? Rus(i) = sweetness. Dhoor(i) = by Waheguru.

MEANING: The life of those who do not serve Satguru (obey His Advice) and do not enshrine His Shabad (Waheguru's Naam) in their heart is reprehensible. For what did they come into the world? One begins to enjoy love for Waheguru when he fosters (respectful) fear for Him with Guru's Advice. However, Waheguru's Naam, which ferries one across the world-sea (results in emancipation), can be acquired only if it is written in one's fortune by Waheguru, oh Nanak. 13.

Word Meaning: Bhermiya = misled. Ghur(u) = heart; spiritual wealth. Moossaiy = robbed. Hir(i) Luyya = stole. Loyay = world. Khurrug = sword. Punch Doot = the five demons.

Sunghaaray = killed. Jaagaiy = became aware. Soyay = slept. Pergaasiya = lighted up; appeared. Heen = without. Nuckutay = without nose; insulted.
MEANING: The world is so misled by its attachment to Maya, and is so unaware of the fact that its spiritual wealth is being robbed. Lust and rage steal the mind of the Maya-engrossed person (depriving him of his wisdom), and he becomes spiritually blind in the world. But a devotee is awakened (enlightened) by the advice of the Guru, and kills the five demons with the sword of Divine Knowledge. With the jewel-like Waheguru's Naam enlightening his mind, his mind and body become pure (holy). Those, without Waheguru's Naam, suffer humiliation and cry (repent for their behaviour). However, it is their fate, because whatever Waheguru has written in their fate cannot be erased, oh Nanak. 14.

Word Meaning: Atoott = never running out. Bhundaar = treasures. Oochreh(i) = recite. Kaarun = means; creations. Sirjunhaar(u) = Creator (Waheguru).
MEANING: The Sikhs of the Guru earn the wealth of Waheguru's Naam by pondering over His Shabad. To acquire the invaluable Waheguru's Naam, and their treasures of the Naam never run out (when they share it with others). They recite Guru's Bani (Waheguru's Nam), which is the source of limitless noble qualities. But it is the Creator, Waheguru, who generates all the means for the recitation of His Naam, and then watches the results, oh Nanak. 15.

MEANING: The Sikhs of the Guru have bliss in their mind, which is enlightened by Waheguru's Naam. They enjoy the bliss of Waheguru's Naam, which dwells in their mind, and they never lose their awareness or feel any appetite for worldly comforts. There is no feeling of comfort or suffering in the heart which has been enlightened by Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 16.

MEANING: Everybody's mind is wearing a covering of lust and rage. Many are born (at any given time), while many are destroyed (die); they come and go with Waheguru's Will. As long as a man loves the other (Maya), his birth and death cycle never ends. Bonded by the chains of worldly attractions, they are taken through many lives, and nothing can be said (known) about that. 17.

Word Meaning: Oolti Bhuyyi = reversal of thinking (from Maya to God). Mer(i) Jeeviya = live after killing worldly desires. Sehj(i) Soobhaayay = without any special effort.
MEANING: Those, whom Waheguru is kind to, get connected with Satguru. Their thinking gets reversed (from attachment with Maya to attachment with Waheguru), as a result of which, their worldly desires get killed without any special effort on their part, and they lead life of high spirituality. With their minds imbued with the worship of Waheguru, they get absorbed in His Naam, oh Nanak. 18.

Ikk(u) Til(u) Thaaya Na Paayi = does not get credit – not even the size of a sesame seed. Poonn Daan(u) = donations to undeserving (Brahmans). Dhermraayay = Angel of justice. Jumkaal(u) = Angel of death. Khooaayee = puts to humiliation. Jobun = youth. Jur(u) = old age. Klut(u) = wife. Hayt(u) = love. Bayli = Sukhaayi = friend. Smaayi = get absorbed.
MEANING: The people who are disconnected from Waheguru (and engrossed in Maya) have fickle minds, even though they think that they are very clever. Whatever religious rituals they perform (as a show off for others), go completely unrewarded. Those, who give donations to undeserving Brahmans or perform other "noble" deeds with the expectations that they are sowing these seeds for huge returns in future, are presented before the Angel of justice (and receive huge punishments because such deeds are not approved by Waheguru). Without taking shelter of Satguru, the Angel of justice does not spare them, and humiliates them for their attachment with Maya.

One does not realize how his youth is slipping away, and when old age hits him, and he dies. The man loves his sons, and his wife, but nobody is there to help him at the time of his death. The individual, who serves Satguru, gets Waheguru's Naam embedded in his heart, and enjoys bliss. Those are highly fortunate who stay absorbed in Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 19.

Word Meaning: Chaytni = remember. Aatma Ram(u) = Waheguru.
MEANING: The Maya-engrossed man does not remember Waheguru's Naam, and cries in suffering. How can he enjoy comfort when he does not worship Waheguru? His mind is filthy with his selfishness and ego which he does not wash away with Guru's Shabad. Without Waheguru's Naam, such people die with filthy minds, and miss the invaluable objective of human life, oh Nanak. 20.

Word Meaning: Boalay = deaf. Ugni = fire (of desires). Soort(i) = by applying the mind. Soodh(i) = understanding; self-realization. Visaas(u) = have faith. Giyani = the enlightened. Nit = always. Vigaas(u) = blissful. Taas(u) = Him (God). Daas(u) = slave.
MEANING: The Maya-engrossed people have the fire of worldly desires in their minds and are deaf and blind (towards spirituality). They do not apply their mind to understand the Guru's Shabad to enlighten their mind. They have no self-realization and have no faith in the Guru's Shabad. The enlightened have Guru's Shabad enshrined in their mind, and are always blissful. I am all sacrifice for Waheguru, which protects the enlightened. I am a slave of all those who serve Waheguru in the shelter of the Guru (with His Shabad). 21.

Word Meaning: Bhooyungum = serp(u) = snake. Ghariya = surrounded; under control. Bikh(u) = poison. Maarun(u) = killer. Groorr = a mantra believed to be an antidote for a snake's poison. Poorub(i) Likhiya = prewritten in their fate. Bilaayay = is destroyed. Oojlay = shine with purity of mind. Sobha Paayay = are honoured.

MEANING: Maya is like a snake which has surrounded (besieged) the whole world with its (spiritually) poisonous nature. The antidote to this poison is Waheguru's Naam, which acts like the Groorr mantra to undo the effect of a snake bite. So, one needs to recite the Guru's Shabad and embed it in their mind. He gets purified in the shelter of Satguru, and the poison of his haumein is destroyed. However, only those who have it prewritten in their fate by Waheguru get to meet with (come to the shelter of) Satguru. Guru's Sikhs with purified minds have shiny faces and are honoured in Waheguru's Court. I am always a sacrifice for the Sikhs who lead their lives according to Satguru's Advice, oh Nanak. 22.

Word Meaning: Nirvaiyr = bears no enmity. Nit = always. Liv Laayay = stays connected. Ruchaayaynda = engages. Looki = flame. Bhaunkday = bark; make useless noise. Doojaiy Bhaayay = in the love with the other (Maya). Bhermday = wander around. Put(i) Guvaayay = lose respect. Vichhurray = separated; disconnected.

MEANING: Satguru bears no enmity toward anyone and remains always connected to Waheguru. Those who engage in enmity against the just Satguru apply the flame to their own hearts. They light up the fire of rage and ego in their heart, and burn in that fire and suffer all the time. In their love for poisonous Maya, they tell lies loudly (openly) and talk nonsense about other things. They wander around to acquire the poisonous Maya, and lose respect in every house when and if they go begging. Like the son of a prostitute (who gets no respect for not having his father, they too lose respect without the Waheguru-father. Misled by Waheguru, they do not recite His Naam. However, Waheguru becomes kind to the Sikhs of the Guru and connects the disconnected with Him. I am a sacrifice for those who drop at the feet of (surrender to) Satguru, oh Nanak. 23.

MEANING: The individuals with Waheguru's Naam find salvation, while the ones without the Naam are taken to the court of the Angel of justice. There is no comfort (peace) without Waheguru's Naam; such people take birth, die, and repent as they continue in the birth-death cycle, oh Nanak. 24.

Word Meaning: Chinta Dhaavut = running around in worries. Reh(i) Guyyay = left behind; are over. Sa Dhun = that human being. Nichind(u) = worry-free. Permanund = (source of) eternal bliss (Waheguru).

MEANING: One feels blissful when his running around for Maya is over. Such a person realizes this fact (and attains blissfulness) with the grace of the Guru, and he becomes worry-free. Those who have prewritten their fate are connected to Guru Govind(u) (Waheguru). Satgur sayvun(i) aapna, Gur Shabadi veechaar(i). Satgur ka bhaana munn(i) laiyn(i), Hur(i) Naam(u) rukheh(i) oordhaar(i). Aiythaiy, oathaiy munniun(i), Hur(i) Naam(i) luggay vapaar(i). Gurmukh(i) Shabad sinyaapday, Tit(u) Saachaiy Durbaar(i). Sacha sauda khurch(u) Sach(u), untar(i) Pirm(u) piyaar(u). Jumkaal(u) nayrr(i) na aavyee, Aap(i) bukhshay Kartar(i).

(PAGE 1416): Nanak, Naam ruttay say dhunvunt haiyn(i), nirdhun hoar(i) sunsaar(u). 26.

Word Meaning: Bhaana = Will. Oor Dhaar(i) = enshrine in heart. Aithaiy = here; in this world. Othaiy = there; in the next world. Munniun(i) = are recognized. Vapaar(i) = business. Sinjaapday = recognized. Sacha = Waheguru's Naam. Pirm = Dear. Bukhshay = blessed. Ruttay = imbued. Dhunvunt = wealthy. Nirdhun = poor; pauper.

MEANING: Those who deal in Waheguru's Naam serve their Satguru by pondering on His Shabad (and leading their life based on that). They gladly obey the Will of Satguru and enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart. They find respect in this world and the next. They are recognized (honoured) in the Court of Waheguru because of Satguru's Shabad in their mind. With love for the Dear (Waheguru), they deal in the eternal Naam of Waheguru, and spend it (share it with others). Because they are blessed by Waheguru, they become immortal, and the Angel of Death does not even go near them. Only the ones who are imbued in Waheguru's Naam are wealthy; the rest of the world is (spiritually) poor, oh Nanak. 26.

Word Meaning: Tayk = support. Tthuvur = shelter. Tthaaoun = room; support. Sehjay = easily. Sehj(i) = in the blissful state. Smaaoun = stay absorbed. Ehinis(i) = day and night. Dhoorr(i) = dust of the feet.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is the support for His devotees; without Waheguru's Naam, there is no shelter and no support (in the realm of spirituality). Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in the devotee's heart with the Advice of the Guru, and he easily gets absorbed in the high blissful (spiritual) state. The highly fortunate recite Waheguru's Naam and are in love with Him day and night. I long for the dust of the feet of such devotees, and am always a sacrifice for them. 27.

Vudbhaageen Satgur(u) paaya, boojhiya Brahmam bichaar(u). Tishna ugun(i) subh boojh(i) guyyi, jun Nanak Hur(i) oordhaar(i). 28.

Word Meaning: lakh Chauraaseh = 8.4 million. Maydni = world. Tishna Julti = burning in the fire of worldly desires. Pusriya = spread out. Shaant(i) = peace of mind.

MEANING: All the 8.4 million life forms in the world suffer in the fire of desires (wishes), and pray for their fulfilment. The love for Maya has spread everywhere (to everybody), but no worldly thing accompanies the individuals after death. One gets peace only in the shelter of Waheguru; who else is there to pray to? The highly fortunate realize the importance of the Guru by reflecting on Waheguru (by reciting His Naam with the Guru's Shabad) and by connecting with the Guru (who connects them with Waheguru). All the fire of worldly desires is put out when one acquires Waheguru's Naam in his heart, oh Nanak. 28.

Jinha hur(i), Hur(i) Naam(u) dhiyaaya, jun Nanak, tinhjaiykaar(u). 29.

Word Meaning: Khutay Kmaavnday = make mistakes; blunders. Paaravaar = endless. Goonehgaar(u) = guilty; sinner. Laykhay = account of deeds. Tootthaiy = pleased to be kind. Kilvikh = sins. Vikaar = vices. Jaiykaar(u) = acclaim; sing praise.

MEANING: I am a big sinner and a culprit as I commit countless blunders. Kindly forgive me with Your benevolence, oh Waheguru. Based on my account of my deeds, I have no chance to connect with You, but You are kind and forgive sinners (to connect with You), oh Lord. With His kindness, the pleased Guru destroys all the sins and the vices of the devotees, and connects them with Waheguru. I am their slave and sing praise of all those who recite Waheguru's Naam, oh Nanak. 29.

Word Meaning: Vichhurr(i) = separating; disconnecting. Bhaiy Baayay = love-filled fear. Nihchul = stabilize; come to end. Heeray Ruttan = diamond-and- jewels-like good qualities. Amoalka = priceless. Khoaj(i) = by searching. Lehun(i) = acquire.

MEANING: Even if they were earlier disconnected from Waheguru, the birth-and-death cycle of those who get connected with Him (Waheguru) for their love and fear for Satguru, and when they recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, is terminated. One acquires the noble qualities in the company of the Guru, which are like finding diamonds and jewels. Waheguru's Naam is that ruby which is priceless, and which the devotees acquire by searching for it in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 30.

Satgur savun(i) aapna, huoun sud bulihaari taas(u). Nanak, tinh mukh oojlay, jinh untar(i) Naam(u) pergaas(u). 31.

Word Meaning: Chaytiyo = remembered; recited. Dhig(u) = reprehensible. Vaas(u) = dwelling. Goontaas(u) = treasure of noble qualities (Waheguru). Bhaydiyo = pierced; hit mentally. Ghur(i) = in the heart. Dohaagni = condemned by the Husband (God). Mooyiaas(u) = dies. Munie = the shine of good fortune. Kumul Pergaas(u) = enlightened heart. Taas(u) = (for) them.

MEANING: The life and the living of the followers of their minds (Maya-engrossed individuals) are reprehensible as they never recite Waheguru's Naam, and are disconnected from Him. They do not embed Waheguru in their minds, which is the treasure of all noble qualities and is the provider of all food and clothes. Their minds are never pierced with Guru's Shabad; so how can they enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their hearts? The individuals, disconnected with Waheguru, are like a woman who has been condemned by her husband (and never enjoys His love). After death, they keep taking births and dying. For the devotees of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam is their husband (Lord), and their good fortune is written on their foreheads. They enshrine Waheguru's Naam in their heart, and the lotus of their enlightened hearts stays bloomed. I am a sacrifice for those who serve their Satguru. The faces of those shine (with inner beauty) who have their hearts enlightened with the Naam, oh Nanak. 31.

Word Meaning: muraiy = mind dies towards worldly attractions. Sijhaiy = succedds. Kerm = rituals. Vigootay = suffer humiliation. Perj = public. Loachaiy = yearns for.

MEANING: The individual, who has killed his worldly desires with the Guru's Shabad, achieves success in emancipation. No one can be salvaged without the Guru's Shabad. For their love of Maya, the people wear various religious outfits and perform many rituals, but they suffer humiliation (in Waheguru's Court). No one can acquire Waheguru's Naam without Satguru, even if he longs for it greatly, oh Nanak. 32.

Word Meaning: Oochi Hoon Oocha = higher than the highest. Uppurr(i) = have access. Sunjum = control on senses. Bhaykh = religious garb. Paurri = ladder. Kerm(i) = grace. Praaput(i) = acquirement. Soyay = praise; reputation.

MEANING: Waheguru's Naam is extremely high (in transcendence), and is higher than the highest where no one has access to, even if they yearn for it a hundred times. One's mind cannot be purified by simply saying (preaching) the words of self-control, even if everybody roams around in religious garbs. One can reach Waheguru using the Guru as the ladder, which can be acquired only by the grace of Waheguru (Waheguru Himself connects one with the Guru). One enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart by pondering over the Guru's Shabad. One's mind is convinced only when he kills his worldly desires with Guru's Shabad (which never fails him because). Singing Waheguru's praise with dedication is sure to connect one with the Guru, oh Nanak. 33.

Nanak, Satgur bohithaiy, vudbhaagi churraiy, tay bhuoujul(i) paar(i) lunghaayay. 34.

Word Meaning: Bikh Dootur = the sea of poisonous Maya, which is impossible to cross. Puch(i) = burn (in the fire of desires). Vihaavay = life is spent. Oorvaar(u) = the near side. Paar(u) = the far side. Udh vich(i) = in the middle. Soobhaayay = with love. Bohithaiy = on the ship. Bhuoujul(i) = the world sea.

MEANING: Love for wealth is an ocean (huge source) of troubles because the poisonous sea of Maya is very, very difficult to swim across (to find emancipation). Man's life is spent in selfishness and ego when he tries to have control over everything. The Maya-engrossed people neither stay on the near side of the sea of Maya (not fully engrossed in Maya) nor reach the other end (find emancipation); they stay suspended in the middle. But one cannot do anything to change his behaviour (love for Maya) because one pursues only those things for which he is predestined to do. However, the jewel of Divine Knowledge (Waheguru's Naam) takes dwelling in one's heart only with the Advice of the Guru; and with his love for Waheguru, he sees Him everywhere. Satguru is the ship that ferries devotees across the world-sea, but only the fortunate get to board it, oh Nanak. 34.

Word Meaning: Daata = donor; provider. Adhaar(u) = support. Tishna = (fire of) desires. Tipt(i) = contented.

MEANING: There is none other than Satguru who can impart Waheguru Naam in a devotee's heart as his spiritual support. With the grace of the Guru, Waheguru's Naam takes dwelling in the devotee's heart, and stays there forever. With the recitation of Waheguru's Naam with love and devotion, one's fire of worldly desires is quenched. With Waheguru's grace, one acquires His Naam in the shelter of the Guru, oh Nanak. 35.

Word Meaning: Burliya = insane. Oobray = salvaged. Bunut Bunaayay = creation.

MEANING: The world becomes insane without Guru's Shabad, and there is nothing that can be said (done) about it. Those who meditate on Waheguru's Naam are protected by Waheguru (against the attacks of Maya) and get salvaged. But Waheguru, who has created the whole world, knows its workings. 36.

Word Meaning: Hoam = huvun (burning fire in a ritualistic way). Jug = free food to the Brahmans with some rituals. Puraan = Puranas. Bikh(u) = poison. Mityee = erased. Aavun Jaan(u) = rebirths. Purakh(u) Soojaan(u) = the omniscient Waheguru.

MEANING: The Brahmans have exhausted performing all rituals of huvuns and yugs, and reading the Puranas to the people, but all such deeds cannot rid the people of their attachment with the poisonous Maya, and they keep taking births, and dying due to their haumein (selfishness and ego). But when people recite Waheguru's Naam in the shelter of the Guru, the filth of their haumein is washed away. I am a sacrifice for those who serve Waheguru (obey His Will and recite His Naam). 37.

Word Meaning: Moh(u) = attachment. Chitvday = think about; make plans. Aasa = hopes; wishes. Vikaar = vices. Usthir = stabilize. Binus(i) Jaayay = are destroyed. Khin Vaar = every moment. Tujaiy = give up; get rid of.

MEANING: Due to their attachment to Maya, most people make plans and build hopes of accumulating it, but their greed leads them into vices. The minds of the Maya-engrossed people do not become stable (are not contented), and they suffer spiritual death frequently. The fortunate get connected with Satguru (take His shelter) and get rid of their vices of selfishness and ego. They enjoy bliss by reciting Waheguru's Naam and by pondering on Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 38.

Word Meaning: Vaysaah(u) = trust. Paar Vusaayay = as far as possible. Dhoohaiy = deceives. Huth(u) Na Paayay = finds no support. Sayti = with. Sung(u) = company. Daag(u) = stain. Mul(u) = filth.

MEANING: Do not trust a greedy person as far as possible because, in the end, he deceives you, leaving you no support to escape. If one becomes friends with a Maya-engrossed person, he is bound to get dark stains (of disgrace) on his face. The greedy have dark faces (of disrepute) and leave the world, wasting their precious human lives. One should pray to Waheguru to put him in the company of the holy saints only to enshrine His Naam(u) in his heart. One's filth of many lives is washed away by singing Waheguru's praise, oh Nanak. 40.

Word Meaning: Dhoor(i) = right from the source. Jeeou = soul. Pind(u) = body. Pritpaal(I) = to raise and nurture. Choogal = backbiter; tattler Ninduk = vilifier. Paakhund = hypocrisy. Rool(i) Mooyay = are humiliated to death. Kerm = rituals. Kupt = deceit. Khuloa =stands out; appears.

MEANING: One's soul and his body belong to Waheguru (they are given by Him), and the Royal Waheguru raises and nourishes him, and whatever has Waheguru written in the fate of the individual, cannot be erased by him by any means. The tattles and the vilifiers are humiliated to death for their appetite for worldly comforts, and they find no support to feel contented. The hypocrites perform all outward rituals (to show off their religiosity), but plan deceit at heart. Whatever seeds they sow in the field of their mind, they show (grow) at the end. It is my supplication to Waheguru that He willingly (with His grace) connects me with Him, oh Nanak. 41.

MEANING: The man does not reflect on the cause of his repeated births and deaths, nor does he realize the Court (justice system) of Waheguru. With his mind coated in attachment to Maya, he is completely enveloped in the darkness of ignorance. He wakes from his slumber when he is severely punished (for his evil deeds). The devotees of the Guru have Waheguru's Naam on their fingertips, and they reach the door of emancipation (attain it). Not only do they find salvation for themselves, but they also free their associates, oh Nanak. 42.

With the grace of the Guru, they get fully contented with the sweetness of the Shabad (Waheguru's Naam), and are recognized in Waheguru's Court because of the Naam in their heart. Everybody is spiritually dead without the Guru's Shabad. The Maya-engrossed individual dies spiritually and wastes away his precious human life. He does not recite Waheguru's Naam, and has to cry (repent) at the end. But only that happens that the Creator, Waheguru, does (wishes), oh Nanak. 43.

They see only Waheguru everywhere and recognize Him in everything. 44.

MEANING: The Maya-engrossed individuals are ignorant whether they are young or old, and have no spiritual awareness. All their deeds are rooted in their selfishness and their ego, and all of them are presented before the Angel of justice (to be punished). With love for the Guru's Shabad, the Sikhs are noble and holy. Those who lead their life according to the Advice of the Guru attract no filth of vices at all. (On the other hand) The impurity of the minds of the Maya-engrossed individual never comes off, even if they wash their bodies thousands of times. Absorbed in the Guru's Shabad, the Sikhs of the Guru connect with Waheguru, oh Nanak. 45.

MEANING: What kind of success is that when a man does evil deeds? Actually, he burns in the fire of his own rage. A Maya-engrossed person is unwise who fights and argues for the sake of wealth only. (On the other hand), A Sikh of the Guru understands everything, and he struggles only with his mind (to control its demands), oh Nanak. 46.

MEANING: Those who do not serve Satguru, who is a manifestation of Waheguru, and do not ponder on His Shabad, do not deserve to be called humans; they are foolish, and are more like cattle and animals. They have no love for Waheguru, and do not focus on His Naam, and have no enlightenment. The Maya-engrossed individuals die spiritually in worthless affairs; they die, and take rebirths again, and again. Those who join the company of the spiritually alive (enlightened) people also get enlightened as they enshrine Waheguru (His Naam) in their hearts. Gurrh = fort.

MEANING: The human body, which Waheguru makes His dwelling, becomes a temple where He is worshipped. But only that devotee who embeds Waheguru's Naam in his heart and follows the Guru's Teachings and completely burns away his attachment with Maya. There are countless noble qualities (Waheguru's Naam, which is like the nine treasures) in such a human temple where His Naam is preserved respectfully. Those are great and highly fortunate who realize Waheguru in their heart in the shelter of the Guru. Those people are fortunate who search for Waheguru in the fort of their body and realize Him. 48.

Such a devotee sits where the Guru tells him to sit, and goes where the Guru sends him. There is no other wealth as great as Waheguru's Naam. I, too, sing praise of Waheguru all the time, and stay connected with Him, oh my brothers.

Acquiring noble qualities is the clothes (covering which protects his honour) for the devotee, and he enjoys the sweet taste of his honour that he receives (in Waheguru's Court). I cannot praise such a devotee enough; I am simply a sacrifice for him to have his sight. Satguru has great qualities which one can acquire with His grace. Yet, there are some who do not know how to obey Satguru's Huqam, and roam around (spend their life) in the love for Maya. Such people find no support or shelter in the gathering of holy saints (they do not enjoy themselves there). Only those individuals who obey Satguru's Huqam have acquired Waheguru's Naam with His benevolence. I am always a sacrifice for such devotees, oh my brothers. 51.

With honest dealings, they earn the wealth of Waheguru's eternal Naam and attain the supreme spiritual state. They listen only to Waheguru's praise, have firm faith in Him, and engage in honest dealings. They remain absorbed in the eternal Waheguru and are given room (honoured) in His court. One cannot connect with Waheguru without the shelter of Satguru; the Maya-engrossed individuals spend their lives misled, oh Nanak. 53.

He acquires the Naam-Amrit, which makes him peaceful (blessed) when he meets with the Guru, who is the destroyer of all suffering. (On meeting with the Guru) The fire of all the worldly desires of the devotee is put out; he attains the high spiritual state, and all his cries for help go away. Like a cloud which causes rain by coming close to the earth, the Guru is causing rain of Waheguru's Naam-Amrit in every direction, but only those who love Him in their peaceful state of mind receive the drop of the Naam-Amrit. Like water is the root of all life, and one's thirst does not go away without water, (Waheguru's Naam Amrit) is the root of all spirituality; those who take the Naam-Amrit, never experience thirst (appetite) for the worldly attractions, oh Nanak. 56.

The Naam-Amrit rains softly as a result of which all appetite for one's worldly desires goes away. All his cries for help come to an end, and his soul merges with the Supreme Soul. Such devotees, who enjoy union with Waheguru, spend their life in bliss and stay absorbed in the eternal Naam, oh Nanak. 56.

The rainbird-like devotees enjoy the comfort of body and mind when they take in the drops of Naam-Amrit.

The devotees worship Waheguru continuously while remaining absorbed in the Guru's Shabad. Waheguru, Himself, forgives all their sins with His benevolence and with His Will. The man should sing Waheguru's praise by staying absorbed in the eternal Shabad of the Guru. Rather than adorning one's body with expensive clothes and ornaments, he should adorn his mind with fear for Waheguru in the peaceful mind, (and stay connected with Him with Guru's Shabad). When one enshrines Waheguru's Naam in his heart, he is emancipated in His Court, oh Nanak. 57.

MEANING: (Your thirst for worldly attractions will not go away) even if you wander over the whole earth and (have very high hopes to) reach the sky; one gets the Naam-Amrit only in the shelter of the Guru when all one's thirst and appetite for worldly attractions go away, oh, the waterbird-like man. The human soul and his body belong to Waheguru (are given by Him), and He is the Lord of everything. He knows your needs without you telling Him, so who should one pray to? Waheguru alone operates in every heart, and enlightens it with Guru's Shabad, oh Nanak. 58.

But it does not realize that the Lord is always very close by, and it does not need to make a loud noise for Him to hear. I am a sacrifice for Waheguru, who has created the drama of the world. The evergreen truth is that to get connected with Waheguru, one needs to give up one's selfishness and ego. But because of my selfishness and ego, I am impolite to others, hurt their feelings, and cannot realize the objective of my life. Even the forest, the vegetation, and the whole universe remembers Waheguru, but I spend my everyday without remembering Him. People have exhausted thinking about means to have union with God, but no one can merge into Him without the grace of the Guru. Waheguru Himself, adorns the devotee (with noble qualities) (and connects him with Him) on whom He casts His kind Sight. The devotees, who remember Waheguru (recite His Naam) in the shelter of the Guru, are approved in Waheguru's Court, oh Nanak. 63.

However, it is with the Huqam of Waheguru that an individual's thinking turns away (from Waheguru) and towards Maya, and he wanders about with his fickle mind. One attains peace of mind only when he kills his desires for worldly attractions, which are the root of one's rebirths, oh Nanak. 66.

The Sight of Satguru (surrendering to Him) makes one's life (spiritually) successful, and he gets any (and all) of his desires fulfilled. I touch the feet of (show deep reverence for) the individuals who follow the Advice of Satguru. I am a slave of those who remain focused on Waheguru's Naam at all times, oh Nanak. 6.

Deeply engrossed in Maya, such people are internally impure, and all their "holy" deeds are like the bath of an elephant, which spatters dust after the bath. They do not remember the Creator, so how can they enjoy blissfulness without remembering Him? But (they cannot be blamed entirely) because right from the beginning, the Creator has created the world in such a way that everybody performs deeds which are based on their prewritten fate (which is based on their deeds of previous lives), oh Nanak. 19.

ੴ ਸਤਿਗੁਰ ਪ੍ਰਸਾਦਿ॥ ਮੁੰਦਾਵਣੀ ਮਹਲਾ 5॥

Ek Onkar Satgur Persad(i): Moondaavni Mehla 5:

ਥਾਲ ਵਿਚਿ ਤਿੰਨਿ ਵਸਤੂ ਪਈਓ ਸਤੁ ਸੰਤੋਖੁ ਵੀਚਾਰੋ॥ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤ ਨਾਮੁ ਠਾਕਰੁ ਕਾ ਪਇਓ ਜਿਸ ਕਾ ਸਭਸੁ ਅਧਾਰੋ॥ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਖਾਵੈ ਜੇ ਕੋ ਭੁੰਚੈ ਤਿਸ ਕਾ ਹੋਇ ਉਧਾਰੋ॥ ਏਹ ਵਸਤੁ ਤਜੀ ਨਹ ਜਾਈ ਨਿਤ ਨਿਤ ਰਖੁ ਉਰਿ ਧਾਰੋ॥ ਤਮ ਸੰਸਾਰ ਚਰਨ ਲਗਿ ਤਰੀਐ ਸਭੁ ਨਾਨਕ ਬ੍ਰਹਮ ਪਸਾਰੋ॥ 1॥

Thaal vich(i) tinn(i) vustoo puyyiyo, sat(u), suntokh(u) veechaaro. Amrit Naam(u) Tthaakur(u) la puyyo, Jis ka subhus adhaaro. Jay ko khaavaiy, jay ko bhoonchay, tis ka hoyay oodhaaro. Eh vust(u) tujee neh jaayi, nit, nit rukh(u) oor(i) dhaaro. Tum sunsaar, churn lug(i) turiyaiy, subh(u) Nanak Braham pusaaro. 1.

Word Meaning: Moondaavni = riddle (Bhai Veer Singh Ji); source of blissfulness (Prof Sahib Singh Ji); stamp of certification (Bhai Kahan Singh Ji Nabha).

Thaal = platter (of heart). Vustoo = items. Veechaaro = ability of Divine thinking (enlightenment). Adhaaro = support; basis. Khaavaiy = takes in; digests. Bhoonchaiy = to chew (think deeply). Oodhaaro = emancipation. Tujee = ignore. Tum = dark. Pusaaro = expanse.

MEANING: The individual, who has enshrined the immortalizing Naam of Waheguru, which is the basis of all life, automatically acquires high morality, contentment, and enlightenment in the platter of his heart. Whoever ponders on the Naam and acquires it in his heart attains salvation. This item (Waheguru's Naam) cannot be ignored, and one must enshrine it in his heart. There is darkness of ignorance in the world, and one can attain enlightenment in the shelter of Waheguru, who has created the expanse of the universe, oh Nanak. 1.

NOTE: This holy Shabad has two important implications at this point in Sri Guru Granth Sahib.

1. This explains the deep meaning of the question posed in the form of a Sloak by Guru Amar Dass Ji as a riddle to the Sikhs, which appears on page 645 of Sri Guru Granth Sahib, and is given below:

- ਸਲੋਕ ਮਹਲਾ 3 (645)॥ ਥਾਲੈ ਵਿਚਿ ਤੈ ਵਸਤੂ ਪਈਅਉ ਹਰਿ ਭੋਜਨੁ ਅੰਮ੍ਰਿਤ ਸਾਰੁ॥ ਜਿਤ ਖਾਧੈ ਮਨੁ ਤ੍ਰਿਪਤੀਐ ਪਾਈਅਹਿ ਮੋਖ ਦੁਆਰੁ॥ ਏਹ ਭੋਜਨੁ ਅਲਭੁ ਹੈ ਸੰਤਹੁ ਲਭੈ ਗੁਰ ਵੀਚਾਰਿ॥ ਏਹ ਮੁੰਦਾਵਣੀ ਕਿਉ ਵਿਚਹੁ ਕਢੀਐ ਸਦਾ ਰਖੀਅਹਿ ਉਰਿ ਧਾਰਿ॥ ਏਹ ਮੁੰਦਾਵਣੀ ਸਤਿਗੁਰੂ ਪਾਈ ਗੁਰਸਿਖਾ ਲਧੀ ਭਾਲਿ॥ ਨਾਨਕ ਜਿਸੁ ਬੁਝਾਏ ਸੁ ਬੁਝਸੀ ਹਰਿ ਪਾਇਆ ਗੁਰਮੁਖਿ ਘਾਲਿ॥ 1॥
- Sloak Mehla 3 (645): Thaalaiy vich(i) taiy vustoo puyyiyo, Hur(i) bhojun(u) Amrit saar(u). Jit khaadhaiy mun(u) triptiyaiy, paayieh(i) moakh dooaar(u). Eh bhojun(u) alubh(u) haiy suntou, lubhaiy Gur veechaar(i). Eh moondaavni kiyoun vichoun kuddhiyaiy, sudaa rukhiyeh(i) oor(i) dhaar(i). Eh moondaavni Satguru paayi, Gur Sikhaan ludhi bhaal(i). Nanak, jis(u) boojhaayay, su boojhsi, Hur(i) paaya Gurmukh(i) ghaal(i). 1.

MEANING: The human heart acquires three items of spiritual importance when it acquires the immortalizing and supreme Naam of Waheguru as its mental food. Waheguru's Naam is such a food that one feels fully contented after having it. However, this food is priceless, almost impossible to acquire, and can be obtained only by pondering the Guru's Shabad. Why should one exclude this food (Waheguru's Naam), which is the source of bliss, and should be enshrined in the mind all the time? (The identity of the three items mentioned above in the first line) is posed as a riddle by Satguru to His Sikhs, who can discover them (the three items) in Guru's shelter. Only those will be able to solve this riddle whom Waheguru gives the ability with His grace, and they will acquire Him in their heart by their hard work, oh Nanak.

Clearly, Guru Amar Dass Ji does not reveal the three items. So, the first purpose of this holy Shabad by Guru Arjun Dev Ji, is to identify the three items posed as a riddle to the Sikhs.

2. But, if revealing the three items (high morality, contentment, and enlightenment) was the only purpose of this holy Shabad of Mehla 5, Guru Arjun Sahib would have done that right after the holy Sloak of Guru Amar Dass Ji on page 645 of Sri Guru Granth Sahib as has been done in most other cases (Sloaks of Kabir Sahib and Farid Ji) as it would have done a better job of explaining the meaning of Sloak Mehla 3. But He did not do so there on purpose. Here, the meaning of Moodaavni as given by Bhai Kahn Singh Ji Nabha, is the perfect answer to the question. Here, Guru Arjun Sahib certifies and puts the stamp that this is the end of Guru Granth Sahib, and nothing should follow this holy Shabad. The next Sloak is only the Thanksgiving by Him to Waheguru.

ਮਹਲਾ 5॥ ਤੇਰਾ ਕੀਤਾ ਜਾਤੋ ਨਾਹੀ ਮੈਨੋ ਜੋਗੁ ਕੀਤੋ ਈ॥ ਮੈ ਨਿਰਗੁਣਿਆਰੇ ਕੋ ਗੁਣ ਨਾਹੀ ਆਪੇ ਤਰਸੁ ਪਇਓ ਈ॥ ਤਰਸੁ ਪਇਆ ਮਿਹਰਾਮਤਿ ਹੋਈ ਸਤਿਗੁਰੁ ਸਜਣੁ ਮਿਲਿਆ॥ ਨਾਨਕੁ ਨਾਮੁ ਮਿਲੈ ਤਾ ਜੀਵਾ ਤਨੁ ਮਨੁ ਥੀਵੈ ਹਰਿਆ॥ 1॥

Sloak Mehla 5: Tayra keeta jaato naahi, meinnu joag(u) keeto ee. Mein nirgoonaaray, ko goon naahi, Aapay ters(u) puyyo ee. Ters(u) puyya, mihraamut hoyee, Satgur(u) Sujjun(u) miliya. Nanak(u), Naam(u) milaiy ta jeevaan, tun(u), mun(u) theevaiy huriya. 1.

MEANING: I had no good quality, and did not realize that it is Your benevolence that You took pity on me, and enabled me to achieve many things (including the completion of Sri Guru Granth Sahib) and getting connected with the kind Satguru (who implanted Your Naam in my heart), oh Waheguru. I, Nanak, survive only with Your Naam, which infuses new life in my body and mind, oh Waheguru.

NOTE: Most scholars agree that Raag Maala is NOT a part of the Holy Guru Granth Sahib and has been added by some vested interests. There are many reasons for questioning its authenticity as follows:

- It does not bear the name of any Guru Sahib (if they did write it) anywhere.
- The number “1” appearing every so often, does not make any sense.
- It mentions many raags which are not used in Guru Granth Sahib, and has excluded some, which have been used in Guru Granth Sahib; for example, Majh, Vudhuns, Jaitsari, Maali Gaurra etc.
- It simply mentions some raags and their subcategories, but does not give any information as to the time of day when a particular raag should be sung.
- It makes no mention of the term “Ghur” and its importance.
- It has no spiritual value.

So, it is not necessary to give the meaning of the composition.
